Castro Says Reds Will Sweep Latin America

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP) — Cheered by a vast throng of Cubans and bolstered by a message from the Kremlin, Fidel Castro brushed off Cuba's impending expulsion from the Inter-American system Sunday night and predicted his kind of revolution would sweep Latin America "like a march of giants."

A throng of Cubans jammed Jose Marti Plaza roared approval as the bearded prime minister assailed President Kennedy as hypocritical and impudent for banning imports from Cuba. U.S. officials in Washington said the ban, chiefly affecting tobacco, will deprive Castro's regime of $35 million a year.

Castro shouted his defiance of the Organization of American States for its 14-1 vote at Punta del Este, Uruguay, last week to oust Cuba from the hemisphere family of nations until it breaks its ties with the Communist bloc. Six nations abstained.

The monster crowd cheered each time the prime minister denounced the United States and the 13 Latin American nations which voted against Cuba.

Castro's 2-hour, 40-minute speech came on the eve of a debate in the U.N. political committee on a Communist-sponsored resolution charging the United States is planning aggression against Cuba and meddling in her affairs.

As the crowd gathered for Castro's speech, Soviet Premier Khrushchev messaged a reiteration of Russian support for the Cuban revolution.

"The people of the Soviet Union are always with you, dear Cuban brothers," Khrushchev said. "A growing militant movement of solidarity in all parts of the globe will help the Cuban people frustrate the evil plans of the U.S. imperialists and their hirelings." Castro followed a similar line. "Revolution is inevitable," he said. "It is determined by the conditions of misery in which man lives in Latin America."

"Cuba votes for culture, the United States for ignorance," he declared. "Cuba for industrialization, the United States for underdevelopment. Cuba for truth, the United States for the lie. Cuba for liberation, the United States for oppression. Cuba for socialism, the United States for capitalism."

The United States, he said, took a major beating at the Punta del Este conference of Inter-American foreign ministers which ended last Saturday. He said only the U.S. "ministry of colonies" (meaning the 13 anti-Cuban nations) went along with the Kennedy administration's move to get unanimous Latin-American vote to throw Cuba out of the OAS.

Burlington Policeman Found Slain

BURLINGTON, Wis. (AP)—The battered body of Police Sergeant Anthony Eilers was found in his squad car today in a quarry near Racine and within a few hours authorities had taken a 20-year-old former convict into custody for questioning.

Officers said a license plate from the young Racine man's car was found at the spot where the slaying apparently occurred.

Meanwhile, Coroner Bernard Evenson said an autopsy disclosed that Eilers, 39, had been shot in the back and in an arm. He had said earlier that death was due to a severe beating.

Evenson said the slaying apparently occurred at the junction of State Highway 11 and County W just east of Burlington. Eilers' jacket was located there, along with a large amount of blood, distinct tire and footprints and the license plate.

The coroner said the assailant apparently drove the unmarked squad car to the quarry just west of here with plans to drop the auto into the deep water. However, the auto became entangled in the fence gate at the entrance to the quarry and was abandoned there.

Evenson said someone "familiar with our area" apparently had tried to ram the car through the gate in an effort to drop it into the quarry water.

Search for Eilers began after he failed to answer a call from his radio dispatcher while he was on duty patrolling this community.

Law officers from several adjoining areas were pressed into the search for Eilers, whose body was discovered around 6 a.m.

Eilers was married and had two children in grade school. A sheriff's deputy called him "the most liked man on the force."

Prominent Wall Streeter 1st Target in Tax Drive

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prominent Wall Street figure closely associated with the New York Stock Exchange is expected to be the first target of a federal drive against alleged tax evaders in the securities field.

Informed sources said Sunday the case involves allegations of criminal tax fraud and would produce a sensation in financial and business circles.

If the government adheres to its tentative timetable, it was learned, evidence will be presented to a federal grand jury in New York City later this week. A final decision was being delayed pending a special meeting of federal prosecutors later today.

Informants said at least a dozen tax fraud cases, including this one, were being developed against brokers, underwriters, stock manipulators, "boiler room operators" and Wall Street lawyers.

They said the intensive work in the securities area was similar to past income tax crackdowns which have involved physicians, headwaiters, morticians, lawyers, small businessmen and even tugboat captains.

Some of the investigations have been under way for as long as three years. A large proportion involved Wall Street operators, but several centers in other cities.

A number of the pending cases resulted from recent investigations of the American Stock Exchange and its members by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Some sources said that if the case of the New York Stock Exchange figure reaches the courts, it might well be the most sensational one to involve a Wall Streeter since Richard Whitney, the former president of the "Big Board," was sent to Sing Sing for grand larceny in 1938.

It was understood that the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service have developed allegations that the individual involved understated his income and inflated claimed deductions for contributions to charities and philanthropies.

The original evidence in many of the pending cases was uncovered by the Securities and Exchange Commission. The widely varied inquiries involve allegations that two Wall Street lawyers failed to file tax returns, that a broker did not report his full business and personal income, that an underwriter wrote off large expenses he did not incur, and that several brokers claimed fictitious travel and entertainment expense deductions.

A number of the cases aim at flagrant market swindlers. The managers of two stock manipulations are being investigated for

American Flag Ripped Down By Student Mob

By K. R. RAMANATH

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A student mob stoned the U.S. Embassy and ripped down the American flag today, injuring one employee. The action brought a vigorous American protest.

The students, believed to be pro-Communist, were protesting because a Dutch plane carrying troops to disputed West New Guinea was allowed to refuel on U.S. soil.

The mob action came before reports reached here that the United States had withdrawn permission for Dutch charter planes carrying troops to use U.S. airfields at Anchorage, Alaska; Honolulu and Wake Island.

At the Hague, a communique said Premier Jan de Quay of the Netherlands had expressed his deep disappointment and added that he could not understand the U.S. decision.

The Indonesian news agency Pia said Foreign Minister Subandrio expressed regret about the attack on the embassy although he added he could "well understand the anger and irritation of the Indonesian people caused by the permission granted to Dutch troop-carrying planes to land on American soil."

The agency said several persons had been arrested on suspicion of leading the demonstration. U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones protested the mob attack to the Indonesian Foreign Ministry.

One embassy official, Miss Mary Manchester, a personnel officer, was injured. Several others in the embassy were hit by flying glass.

Shouting and singing, about 100 students believed to be from the student organization dominated by the Communists, hurled stones and sticks at the embassy and smashed windows of automobiles in the compound.

A U.S. decision to close its airfields to the Dutch troop planes was communicated to the Dutch Foreign Ministry by the American ambassador to The Hague, John Rice, a diplomatic source said. He reported that Rice told State Secretary Hans van Houten the U.S. permission was granted only for a flight last Friday and that landing rights would not be extended for a second chartered flight that had been scheduled for today.

A Dutch commercial airliner believed to be carrying 25 Dutch soldiers in civilian clothes landed in Tokyo Sunday and was searched for weapons. None was found. The plane was en route to West New Guinea.

Last week the Japanese government refused to let a chartered airliner carrying Dutch soldiers land in Japan.

Three Families Stranded 17 Hours in Storm

CROOKSTON, Minn. (AP) — Three families were stranded for as long as 17 hours Sunday and early today when their cars stalled in a storm in which gusty winds up to 50 miles an hour cut visibility to zero.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brantl of Crookston and two grand children, Roy Ferris, 10, and his sister, Peggy, 15, were found safe at 5 a.m. today 4 miles west of Crookston.

They had torn strips from seat covers and wrapped themselves in newspapers against the 10 below zero cold.

John Howlett, Fisher constable, and Deputy Sheriff Lyle Eisert who found them said none of the four had suffered any ill effects beyond a sharp chill.

The two men drove as far as they could and found the stranded people by walking about a quarter of a mile. A snowplow completed the rescue.

Art Sankse and his two young daughters pushed seat cushions against the windward side of their car to protect themselves until help reached them six miles west of Crookston early today. They had been stranded through the night.

Reds Shoot Down Plane Over Laos

VIETIANE, Laos (AP) — An American-piloted transport plane was shot down by pro-Communist forces Sunday while flying over the Plaine des Jarres on an air drop to government forces in the area, it was learned today.

The American pilot and copilot and four Lao loaders were killed in the crash in the hill country east of the Plaine des Jarres.

The C46 was operated by Air American, a civilian firm set up by the American government to provide the Laotian army with air transport.

Air American said it was on a normal mission dropping rice and other commodities to refugees and army units.

It was not immediately known whether it has been shot down by Prince Souvanna Phouma's neutralist troops, pro-Communist Pathet Lao or anti-aircraft artillery manned by North Vietnamese soldiers.

Several other American-manned planes have been shot down or crashed in Laos civil war since last year.

Trio Admits Kidnaping In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Police said that three men admitted today kidnaping three members of a South Side family for a reported $8,000 ransom.

Capt. Howard Pierson said at least one of the men held was a former employee of Irving Chanenson, an auto supply dealer whose wife, son and daughter were the hostages.

Pierson said that Robert Hall, 28, who once worked in Chanenson's store; William Evans, 28, and Joseph Dear, 19, had signed statements relating their parts in the incident Friday. All are Negroes.

Chanenson, 43, reported to police that four men entered his house Thursday night after he had opened the door to one posing as a delivery man. During the night, Chanenson's wife, Gloria, 42; his daughter, Eileen, 18; and his son, Lawrence, 14, were forced to lie on the floor of the family station wagon, and were driven to a tenement where they were held.

Apparently notified of the payment by a telephone call, the captors left the tenement apartment, and the three hostages, after realizing they were unguarded, took a taxi home.

Scientists Watch Eclipse

'Doomsday' Passes, No Disaster

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Serpent Rahu had his fun but the world—beset as it may be with earthly troubles—was still intact today.

"Doomsday weekend" passed without the horrible calamities predicted by Hindu soothsayers that sent millions of frightened Indian and Nepalese believers to prayer meetings.

The evil Rahu swallowed the sun as predicted today. But things came back to normal after an eclipse lasting about three minutes.

Hindu astrologers had predicted great calamities when six planets—Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Earth—moved into conjunction with each other and the sun and the moon over the weekend. It happens only every century or two.

For astronomers it was an intriguing scientific phenomenon. But for millions who believe in the influence of the stars it was frightening. Some feared the worst may still come.

Keith Robertson, director of Britain's 1,000-member Aetherius Society, spent a cold and rainy night with scores of his followers atop a mountain praying. The path of the eclipse lay over the South Pacific, and New Guinea was plunged into darkness.

"It was so dark I could not see the numbers of my camera," said Jim Huxley, editor of the New Guinea Times.

Dogs barked, roosters crowed and native papuans on the island hid in their huts until the sun shone again.

Teams of foreign scientists gathered at Lae, on the east coast of New Guinea, and a Japanese team reported complete success in observing the eclipse.

In Ahmedabad, capital of Gujarat State, about 300,000 Hindus attended propitiatory fire sacrifices conducted by 1,200 Brahmin priests.

Indian airlines operated one flight to Bombay without a single passenger. Other planes in the area flew almost empty.

Katmandu, capital of Nepal, looked like a ghost town except around the Hindu temples. All shops were closed and streets deserted. Fearful of earthquakes that would bring their homes tumbling down on them, thousands of Nepalese took shelter in temples.

Wisconsin Man Killed in Arizona

FLORENCE, JUNCTION, Ariz.—Alex J. Pilling, 71, of Marquette, Wis., was killed and three of his passengers critically injured Sunday in a two-car collision near this south-central Arizona highway junction.

In critical condition at a hospital in nearby Florence were Pilling's wife, Minnie, 76; Oscar G. Moehrkke, 81, Chilton, Wis., and William J. Reichwald, 74, of Mesa, Ariz.

Here's How Kennedy Wheat Program Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department gave an illustration today of how the Kennedy administration's new wheat program would operate.

The program, sent to Congress by the President last week, would impose tighter production controls to halt excess output and wipe out surpluses.

The Agriculture Department stressed that figures used were hypothetical and that they were set out merely to illustrate the method of computing price supports under the proposed new program.

The program would have to be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum.

The House Agriculture Committee plans to start hearings on the Kennedy farm legislation Tuesday.

The wheat program would set up three different prices for the grain — one for wheat used for domestic food purposes, another — somewhat lower — for export, and a third — still lower — for wheat used for seed and livestock feed.

Assuming a total wheat demand for all three uses of 1,250 million bushels a year, the program would limit grower production to probably 1,100 million bushels, leaving 150 million to be taken from government surpluses.

The department said it would require between 43 and 46 million acres to produce the growers' share of the demand — compared with 55 million acres allotted under past programs.

The government would calculate the amount that would be needed for each use — domestic food, export, and feed seed.

In 1963 these uses might be divided about as follows: 450 million bushels for domestic food use, 550 million for export and 100 million for feed and seed.

A share of each of these uses would be given each producer, based on the proportion of the total supply designated for each use.

The support rate for wheat for domestic food would probably be around the present rate of $2 a bushel, export support rate at about $1.85 a bushel and the feed and seed at about $1.40 a bushel.

A farmer who had a wheat allotment of 55 acres in 1961 would get an allotment of about 44 acres under the new program.

On his allotted acres, he would be expected to grow about 1,100 bushels, based on average yields. He would be given a share of about 450 bushels in the domestic food market and 550 bushels in the export market, leaving 100 bushels for feed and seed.

This farmer would get from the government certificates covering his shares of each domestic food and export markets.

Durand Council Gets Proposal For Fluorides

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — The Durand Community Council presented a proposal for the addition of fluorides to local water supplies at the City Council meeting Thursday.

The Community Council previously heard two experts in the field of dental health and fluoridation speak on the benefits of fluorides. Dr. Michael Arya, director of the division of dental education, state board of Health, Madison, and an engineer, Eugene Hensel, Sparta, discussed the addition of fluorides to the city water supply as a tooth decay preventive. Fluoridating is an adjustment of the fluoride content of a community's water supply to one part of fluoride to one million parts of water. The Community Council voted to recommend that fluorides be added to Durand's water supply at the February meeting of the city council.

Members of the council discussed the program but felt that further investigation should be made. It again will be considered at the March council meeting.

Mayor Ray Nolan read the official recommendations for the election board: J. C. Koller and Mmes. Brenner, J. C. Smith, Ida Breunig and Emma Spindler, 1st Ward; Mmes. George C. Bauer, Rose Cebe, Linda Hurlburt, Fern Jordan and F. Leonberger, 2nd Ward, and Mmes. Bernard Carlisle, Minnie Latschaw, Grace Heizer, Charles Boehrer and Leonard Knutson, 3rd Ward. Appointments were approved.

Harmony Defers Vote on Hospital

HARMONY, Minn. — Harmony has temporarily deferred a referendum on a proposal to build a 20-22-bed hospital to replace the present hospital.

The reason is that Dr. Melvin Stahl, Peabody, Mass., has decided not to practice here according to Perry Pederson, chairman of the hospital committee. He had indicated last fall that he was interested in coming here.

Preliminary plans estimated the proposed hospital at $300,000-$500,000 and Village Council had agreed to float a bond issue if electors approved.

Watertown Wis., Man Dead in Fire

WATERTOWN, WIS. — A 39-year-old man died early today in the flames of his combination tavern and home when he re-entered the building to search for his son who was sleeping at a neighbor's house two doors away.

The body of Donald Zoellick, who operated the tavern at Richmond six miles northwest of here, was found in the ruins of the structure.

Authorities said Zoellick had arrived home early today and the fire broke out about 4 a.m., apparently in the kitchen on the first floor of the two-story frame structure. Zoellick, his wife, Geraldine, 37, and his daughter, Joy, 12, fled. Zoellick, who did not know that his son, Donald Jr., 14, was staying at the neighbor's, went back into the building and was trapped by the flames.

Cause of the fire and an estimate of the damage were not immediately available.

Pair Divided by War Reunited at St. Peter

ST. PETER, Minn. (AP) — It was 1939 when Stanley Habiak and his wife, Maria, lost each other. Stanley had been in the Polish army and was captured by the Germans.

Maria and her little children, Waleria, 4, and Edward, 7, were terrified by reports of how Ukrainian partisans were ravaging Polish villages. One night, Maria bundled up the little ones and they escaped to Krakow to the north-west.

Over the years, Stanley and Maria had good reason to believe the other was dead. But they clung married.

Their devotion, stretched mile after mile and year after lonely year, was fulfilled last week. Maria arrived by plane to resume the marriage she and Stanley had known for only 10 years before war wrestled them from each other.

They had not seen each other for 22 years.

The two corresponded throughout most of the war, through the Red Cross. But in 1945, Stanley's letters began coming back with "no good address" stamped on the envelopes. Letters from Maria ceased.

Following his liberation, Habiak had no desire to return to Poland and he was swallowed up behind the iron curtain. The Polish government declared him legally dead. "I had been a prisoner for six years," he said. "I didn't want to go back to a prison."

He joined the British army and kept working, through the Red Cross, to locate his family. In 1952 he came to the United States and eventually became a grounds caretaker at Gustavus Adolphus College here.

Habiak kept writing letters and continued contact with the Red Cross in an effort to locate Maria and the children. Finally, in 1959, he received an answer to a letter he had written in 1957.

Maria, Waleria and Edward were alive!

Maria wrote that after the Russian invasion of Poland, she and the children returned to their home village only to be routed again by partisans. They fled once more, settling near the Czechoslovakian border. When the war ended they moved to a small farm. Both children married; but Waleria's marriage ended unhappily.

When Habiak learned his family still lived, he began tireless efforts to bring his wife and children here. His superiors at Gustavus Adolphus helped him fill out papers.

One problem was that while an American resident can obtain visas for a spouse or child, there was no provision for a grandchild. To untie this knot, Waleria came here a year ago leaving her little son, Jerry, with Maria.

Waleria took work as a dormitory matron at Gustavus Adolphus and established residence. Then she was able to obtain a visa for her son, and the last barrier was overcome.

Edward, his wife and four children remained in Poland to take over Maria's farm. The problems of sponsorship and transportation prohibited their coming to the United States at this time.

Habiak and Waleria were at the Twin Cities airport last Thursday to meet Maria and Jerry, 6. It was the first time Habiak had seen his grandson.

They drove to St. Peter for what

Molotov Leaves Moscow Hospital

MOSCOW (AP) — Former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov returned to his Moscow apartment today after spending more than a week in a local hospital with the flu. A hospital attendant said he is now in good condition.

There has been no official word as to his future. Premier Khrushchev denounced him as a member of a so-called anti-party group last October. Subsequently, Molotov returned to Moscow from Vienna, where he was Soviet delegate to the International Atomic Energy Agency, presumably to put up a fight.

Last month the Soviet Foreign Office said Molotov was returning to Vienna but later changed its story and said he was still in Moscow. Reports followed that he had suffered a heart attack but last week reporters located him in a suburban hospital, at which informants said he had the flu.

C47 Transport Crashes, 7 Airmen Killed

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A C47 transport plane crashed and burned Sunday, killing seven Air Force men.

An Air Force board of inquiry today begins the task of examining the charred remains of the plane at the Greensboro-High Point Airport in search of clues to the cause of the crash.

The board was flown here from Pope Air Force Base near Fayetteville, N.C., only hours after the plane smashed into the turl 100 feet from the airport.

There were no survivors. Pope AFB identified the dead as:

Capt. R. J. Rice, 27, the pilot, Fort Walton Beach, Fla.
Capt. David L. Murphy, 30, co-pilot, Bloomfield, Neb.
Capt. Thomas D. Carter, 27, navigator, Helena, Ark.
Sgt. Bernard P. Terrier, 32, engineer, Gillette, Wis.
Lt. D. J. Hughes, 28, a passenger, Fort Walton Beach, Fla.
Capt. Robert H. Sanford, 34, a passenger, Greensboro, N.C.
Sgt. Preston Presley, age unavailable, service address APO 126, en route on emergency leave to Alcoa, Tenn.

The Air Force said the plane was on a routine flight. The C47, a military version of the DC3, left its home base, Hurlburt Field in Florida, last Friday.

It left McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., Sunday, stopped at Philadelphia and flew to Greensboro. The Federal Aviation Flight Service station at Knoxville, Tenn., said the plane was en route to Knoxville.

At Greensboro, the plane paused briefly, stopping just one of the two engines. Witnesses said the pilot took off down the 6,000-foot runway and was some 100 feet off the ground when an engine stalled.

The plane cartwheeled, its right wing scratched the runway, and the C47 burst into flames.

was killed when a car hit her as she walked to church Friday night. Jacqueline Pintarich, 8, of West Allis was injured fatally Sunday when a car driven by her mother struck a light pole in that Milwaukee suburb.

Questions Raised About Withholding Law in Minnesota

ST. PAUL (AP) — Many employers have raised questions about the withholding of income taxes of Minnesota residents employed in Wisconsin. Tax Commissioner Roland F. Hatfield said today.

The inquiries, he said, undoubtedly are precipitated by the fact that the Wisconsin withholding law became effective Feb. 1.

Because on Feb. 1, both Minnesota and Wisconsin require withholding of income taxes on wages at the source, Hatfield explained, "A Minnesota resident employed in Wisconsin may be subjected to withholding in both states."

This double withholding, without appropriate adjustment, could result in substantial over-withholding to Minnesota residents.

The commissioner said a Minnesota resident employed in Wisconsin is entitled, under existing law, to a credit against his Minnesota income tax for the tax he pays in Wisconsin on the same income.

Hatfield urged employers whose employees fall into this category, to submit an application for approval of a revised withholding formula to meet their particular situations.

Galesville Farm Woman Killed in Crash at Holmen

HOLMEN, Wis. (Special)—One woman was killed and seven people were injured in a two-car collision just north of the junction of La Crosse County Highway TT with T in the Town of Holland shortly after 1 p.m. Sunday.

Miss Anna Engen, 61, Galesville, who was sitting in the front seat with her brother, Edwin, 59, died in the collision with a car driven by Eugene Anderson, 18, Holmen.

THE LA CROSSE County Highway police received the call at 1:08 p.m. from Mrs. Alvin Nesler, Holmen R. 1, and dispatched five ambulances to the scene in the Council Bay area 17-18 miles north of the city of La Crosse near the Vern Sack farm. Edward Tabbert, chief of the police, was in charge of the investigation. An Onalaska squad car also was there.

Investigation is continuing to day. Highway police say the left front of both cars were extensively damaged.

Engen also was accompanied by two other sisters, Clara, 56, and Julia, 57. With Anderson were John Gaarder, 20, Francis McCabe and Russell Lee Jr., 19, all of Holmen.

ENGEN RECEIVED a fractured hip, chest injuries and lacerations of the face, the Highway Patrol said. He was unconscious when he, his sister Clara, McCabe and Lee were taken to Lutheran Hospital, La Crosse. Engen was reported in poor condition this morning.

Clara, according to a report from the hospital, received a fractured left leg and a dislocated left hip. Her condition was reported as fair.

Lee received fractures of the left leg and right forearm and is reported in good condition. McCabe, according to the highway police, received a bruised shoulder.

Julia Engen was admitted to St. Francis Hospital, La Crosse, in shock and possibly has a skull fracture. Her condition was reported as fair this morning.

Also at St. Francis are Anderson, with cuts on the legs, and Gaarder, who has minor cuts on the legs and face. They were in satisfactory condition this morning, the hospital said.

THE HIGHWAY police said the Engens had been proceeding southerly on Highway T and were going to turn east to proceed to Mindoro to visit a niece, Mrs. Virgil Roberts.

Highway T turns easterly at that point.

The Anderson car was proceeding north on TT, which ends at the intersection with T. They were reported by the police to have been on their way to visit a friend. There is a slight incline on TT just before the intersection.

Skidmarks indicated Anderson had slammed on his brakes but was apparently unable to avoid the collision. There are no stop signs at the intersection.

THE ENGEL CAR, which had not yet reached the turn, was pushed back. Both vehicles remained on the highway, and no one was thrown. Engen had a 1960 car, Anderson, 1959.

Miss Engen was believed to have died instantly from multiple injuries. Dr. Michael Watyniak, assistant La Crosse County coroner, who investigated, could not be reached this morning at La Crosse Hospital.

The accident was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Evenson, rural Holmen, who were on their way home after visiting Mrs. Evenson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nesler. They returned to the Nesler home, about a mile from the accident scene, and Mrs. Nesler notified the sheriff's department.

THE COLLISION scene is about 1 1/2 miles west of the unincorporated village of Stevenson and 4 1/2 miles southeast of Hunter's Bridge, which is the dividing line between Trempealeau and La Crosse counties.

Anna Engen lived with a brother, Alfred, at the Four Corners near Galesville and Edwin, Julia and Clara live on a farm west of Galesville on Highway 35. They are children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Christ Engen. They have another brother, Albert, and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Evenson, Galesville.

Smith Mortuary, Galesville, is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Goodview Unit Surveys Plans For Water Use

The Citizen's Committee for Goodview Water Study has been asked by Mayor Rex A. Johnson to conduct a survey in the village to determine the number of users that will be ready to connect to the new water system when service is available.

To date it is not known how many villagers in the area to be served want the service.

Johnson said it is important to have a fairly accurate poll of village residents to know the quantity of supplies to be ordered and possible revenues from operation of the water system.

The survey area is the same as the water service area which is practically the same as that served by the sewer system.

The survey will be made by mail with a postcard to be detached, marked and returned. There will be a place on each card for one of three replies: To connect to the water system as soon as service is available; to connect in two or three years, or plans are indefinite.

The water committee urged a prompt return of the cards, to eliminate the need for a personal call to get the information. Ray Wendland and Floyd Farnholtz are respective chairman and secretary of the committee.

Plans go under way last fall for construction of a 40-bed nursing home after residents of the city and area voted for it and the City Council okayed the project. Gavic & Gavic, Spring Valley, was engaged as architects and arrangements had been made with T. G. Evensen & Associates, Minneapolis, to finance it through mortgage revenue bonds.

IN JANUARY Osseo and Strum Commercial Clubs appointed committees to discuss a hospital for the area. Now they're discussing a 40-bed nursing home plus a 30-bed hospital. Rough estimate for the combined building is $600,000.

Original estimates for the nursing home were up to $225,000.

To insure the public's interest, the bonding consultants said the community must raise $25,000 for furnishing the home. Over $20,000 has been contributed.

A site in the center of the city, north of the city hall, had been picked for the nursing home. Should the combination be erected, a larger site with parking area would have to be provided. Two are under consideration, one west and the other east of the city limits.

THE JOINT committee expects also to contact other fiscal consultants relative to the new proposal when it goes to Madison, according to Richard Galstad, Osseo, chairman of the Osseo committee. Galstad indicated the Strum committee would be in favor of the Osseo location. A rural location would not be feasible because of sewer and water connections, he said.

Dr. R. N. Leasum, Osseo physician and surgeon, would remain on the staff at Luther Hospital, Eau Claire, even after the local hospital was completed, Galstad said. The city anticipates securing an additional doctor in the near future.

SO WILL GROUND HOG

Mercury Due to Drop Out of Sight Again

If that weather-predicting ground hog who failed to see his shadow the other day and decided winter was over is still around he may have a second thought about deserting his warm burrow for what's coming tonight.

The Weather Bureau, which described the last couple of days as just a flash in the weather pan, warned Winona and vicinity to prepare for some cold weather tonight. The temperature, the weatherman said, would drop to 5 to 15 below tonight and not get much higher than 5 to 10 above Tuesday.

NORTHWEST winds which reached 18-22 miles per hour at times today are expected to diminish somewhat tonight. Mostly cloudy tonight and Tuesday is the forecast. Partly cloudy and a little warmer is the outlook for Wednesday.

The wind velocity reached a peak of 45 miles per hour at Max Conrad Field Sunday at 9 p.m., according to North-Central Airlines. At noon today the reading was 18 m.p.h.

The extended forecast — predictions for the next five days — indicated temperatures in the area will average near or slightly below normal.

low normal with cold weather at the beginning of the period but generally moderating temperatures thereafter. Precipitation will total generally less than one-tenth of an inch, most likely in midweek and again at the weekend.

PLEASANT weather prevailed in the city over the weekend with the above-freezing temperatures cutting into the remaining on streets and sidewalks. Much of the snow was melted from roofs and rundown spouts were opened in many instances.

The thermometer rose to 42 Saturday afternoon and 47 Sunday. The low Sunday morning was 20 and this morning 10. But by noon it was 9.

A year ago today Winona had a high of 31 and a low of -2. An inch of snow lay on the ground. Alltime high for Feb. 5 was 54 in 1878 and the low -24 in 1895. Mean for the past 24 hours was 28. Normal for this day is 17.

Roads in Minnesota and Wisconsin, which were slippery in some spots over the weekend were reported in good driving condition today.

Although mild weather prevailed in Southeastern Minnesota this morning the cold wave already had clamped a hold on some sections of the state. Bemidji reported a morning reading of -3 with the thermometer skidding and International Falls had -6 at 7 a.m. It was -1 at St. Cloud.

ROCHESTER posted a figure of 5 after a high of 40 Sunday and La Crosse had readings of 12 and 47 for the same times. Winnipeg reported a low of -17 with snow falling at 7 a.m.

Northern sections of North Dakota and Minnesota also got snow with the cold. A two-inch fall in Minnesota drifted to several inches in some places and coated the highways with a slippery surface.

The Weather Bureau predicted the cold would hang on at least through Tuesday and sub-zero readings will grip the Dakotas and Minnesota tonight and parts of Iowa and Wisconsin.

Minimum readings in North Dakota and Minnesota will be about -25.

Spring-like temperatures turned a large portion of WISCONSIN's snow cover into water Sunday but the mild weather was short-lived. A cold front, carried on winds up to 47 miles per hour, began sweeping through the state late in the day.

Some freezing drizzle and snow flurries accompanied the movement of cold air into Wisconsin. In some areas of the western and northern part of the state winds held steady at 35 m.p.h. Gusts of 47 m.p.h. were recorded at La Crosse.

A balmy 53 degrees was noted at Lake Geneva Sunday. Lone Rock had 50, Beloit 49, Milwaukee 48, Madison 46, Eau Claire 38, Green Bay and Park Falls 37, Wausau 36 and Superior 30.

MILWAUKEE's snow cover was reduced from 9 inches to 4 inches during the weekend.

The cold front pushed the mercury to 5 below zero at Superior early today. Eau Claire recorded a low of 5 above, Wausau 7, La Crosse 10, Lone Rock 11, Beloit 12, Madison 13, Green Bay 14 and Milwaukee 19.

At mid-morning today a little light snow was falling at Madison, Lone Rock and Superior.

Cotulla, Tex., was the warmest spot in the country Sunday with 88 degrees, compared with the low of 8 below early today at Bemidji, Minn., and Minot, N.D.

let's get the kinks out of the kids!

It's a shocking fact that many of our youngsters nowadays are so far under par that they can't pass simple physical fitness tests. They're in danger of becoming tomorrow's "soft Americans."

This danger is so real that President Kennedy has called for more emphasis on physical education. And the program of vigorous daily exercise recommended for all schools by the President's Council on Youth Fitness will get the kinks out of the kids. That's been proven in many schools.

See to it that your child gets proper exercise, every day, in his school. Urge your school board to adopt and carry out a vigorous program for physical development.

If it isn't doing so, find out why. Act at your next PTA meeting!

After a 19-gun salute, sounding of trumpets, Ball said in a welcoming address that the United States has "watched with great respect-will admiration in fact—your efforts to bring peace and stability to the Congo."

"We regard the development of an independent and peaceful Congo of greatest importance to the whole free world," Ball said. He pledged continued U.S. support for United Nations endeavors to achieve this.

Student Jobs Detract From College Purpose

"One of the greatest misfortunes today in the private college is the necessity to work full or part-time in order to pay the fees, thus leaving not enough time for leisurely reading," the Rt. Rev. Msgr. James P. Shannon, president, College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, said at St. Mary's College Sunday afternoon.

Msgr. Shannon spoke in St. Thomas More Chapel on the "closing day of dedication ceremonies for the new SMC library."

He said the Greek word for school is scholē meaning leisure.

THE LIBRARY is the point of contact between the greatest minds of the past and people in the present, but this process of understanding our tradition takes time and leisure," Msgr. Shannon said.

He urged undergraduates to find ways to make fuller use of the library, and to preserve, protect, perfect and extend their cultural tradition.

"The printed book gives the student his best opportunity to acquire an understanding of his antecedents," the speaker said. "In this way the library is the center of the campus."

He said SMC students have an opportunity to use a new campus library—an opportunity that will never return. However, if a man knows only tradition, he will add nothing significant to culture, Msgr. Shannon said.

"He is a victim of the past, canonizing tradition," the speaker said.

THE MOST Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, bishop of Winona, officiated at solemn benediction in the chapel and at the blessing of the new library. He was assisted by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. George Speltz, rector of Immaculate Heart of Mary Seminary, and the Rev. Roy Lierski, SMC chaplain. The bishop and clergy then led a procession to the library where the blessing ceremony was completed. Following were a library tour and a reception in the SMC cafeteria.

At a dinner at the Oaks Sunday evening, the bishop reviewed past fund raising drives in the diocese, the latest of which resulted in a $300,000 gift to the new library. He also said there are excellent facilities for the care of the aged at St. Anne Hospice which will open here soon. The bishop commended A. J. Barnbrook and Barnbrook's local business and industry committee which raised $105,000 for the library.

Brother I. Patrick, FSC, SMC director of public relations and development, was toastmaster and introduced the bishop. Brother I. Basil, FSC, college president, thanked the diocese for the library donation. Thanks were also expressed by Douglas J. Ness, Owatonna, Minn., junior class president. Three hundred persons attended the dinner.

BROTHER BASIL thanked alumni for their support at a meeting in the Cardinal Room Saturday afternoon of the national alumni association's board of directors. Brother Patrick asked for nominations of distinguished alumni to be honored at homecoming June 8-10. Paul Voelker, La Crosse, is homecoming chairman.

At the suggestion of Claude W. Mottram, St. Paul, president of the senior class, the board decided to induct graduating seniors into the alumni association at the board's winter meeting instead of at graduation. For the first time, the presidents and vice presidents of college classes were invited to the alumni board meeting so that undergraduates would be informed of alumni activities.

ON MOTION of Paul Liber, Winona, the board urged Brother Basil to employ a full-time liaison director to assist Brother Patrick with alumni affairs. On recommendation of Cy Kramer, Altura, the board will plan for an alumni career day in which alumni will be invited to speak to SMC students about careers. Presiding was Lloyd Kraft, Rochester, alumni president.

It Happened Last Night Grandparents Tell Marriage Secret

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Cute blonde little Yvette Mimieux of Hollywood surely played a slick trick on us so-called journalists when she kept denying she was married — now it turns out her husband has grandparents in Brooklyn.

And the Abraham Goldsteins, of Brooklyn, are like all grandparents — they're proud of the grandchildren.

So while Yvette, who has Greta Garbo's passion for privacy, was keeping her marriage a secret, the grandparents were telling close friends what a beautiful, smart girl their grandson, Evan Harland Enger, had married out in California.

They mentioned it to somebody who mentioned it to Blabbermouth here.

I phoned Mr. Goldstein, a retired insurance underwriter — and he admitted that Yvette is their granddaughter (by marriage) and he added:

"And she's a beautiful, lovely girl."

He and his wife Sylvia spent some time with Yvette and their grandson — "who's in a type of show business" — and Yvette, the charmer, was ecstatic about Grandmother Goldstein's delicious cakes. Well, they're ecstatic about her, and I'm ecstatic about tipping away more of the Mimieux Mystery. So hurry!

ONE OF THE big laughs at the Circus Saints and Sinners' razz for Harry Truman was the spoof of Lend-Lease via a parody by Les Kramer on "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean" like this: "My money lies over the ocean My money lies over the sea and I got a good notion it ain't never comin' back to me."

Walter Winchell Jr.'s father of a son... Dagmar, now down at Miami Beach's Riquet Club, has all those yachtmen crazy about her, for some reason... NBC wants Joey Bishop to sit in on "Tonight" the whole month of April (after Jack Paar leaves).

Horace McMahon's kids saw him on an old, old movie and commented, "Daddy, we saw a man on an old movie using YOUR voice"...

When we were kids we used to steal two school buses and play "Chicken".... Janet Leigh and Laurence Harvey arrive on the same plane for "Manchurian Candidate" — merely an accident of transportation, sorry!... "The Army and Navy both stink!"... Who says so?... "The Air Force"...

Also, "The Secretaries in Washington" are talking too much. Which Secretary? Interior, Defense, Treasury? No, that secretary of Goldmine's!...

For the man who has everything: A high school Prom. Jan Murray, who got an honorary diploma 25 years after he didn't graduate from De Witt Clinton High (he left to go to work) was given a Prom party at the Pepper-Lounge by his wife Toni. Marty Allen told him: "It isn't every father whose son can watch him graduate from high school."

Pretty Paula Stewart says husband Jack Carter "deserves some kind of medal" — he bought his mother-in-law a mink coat... Tony Franciosa's taking singing lessons, is discussing B'way and Broadway musicals... Dick Clark flew to Las Vegas (with girl friend Loretta Martin) to be best man at singer Duane Eddy's wedding... Rita Hayworth's cozy again with Gary Merrill, who's been phoning from Chicago. (She's going to L.A. returns here Aug. 1 to rehearse "Stop On A Crack").

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Taffy Tuttle says she's not worried about the raise in postal rates — she's already sent out her '62 Christmas cards.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A "horn executive" is a fellow whose father owns the factory.

EARL'S PEARLS: Definition of a supermarket: A convenient spot that enables a woman to go broke in one store.

Jerry Joseph of the Colony Record Shop discussed the sexy album photos: "One guy came in a month before and just discovered there was no record in it."

That's earl, brother.

President Kennedy put the heat on both the union and companies for an early start with the aim of getting an early settlement. The President doesn't want a strike, and he doesn't want buyers to stockpile steel in fear of a strike.

There is talk in steel circles that negotiations may get under way soon after the union conference ends, perhaps on an informal basis. March has been mentioned as a possible target date for agreement on a contract.

Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg predicted on a recorded television program in Washington Sunday it appears a better than a 50-50 chance a contract will be signed without a strike.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

THE depths of an African jungle of Ibong, northern Cameroon, is where Miss Marabelle Taylor established her orphanage. Miss Taylor, who is on leave from her African medical missionary work, will spend this coming weekend in Winona with her old friend Mrs. Donald T. Burt, and while here she will also give a talk at the Presbyterian Church on her African experiences. Some of them have been hair-raising for, as you know, most of Africa is in a turmoil of establishing new and unfamiliar governments after being under Colonial rule for centuries. Bands of native terrorists try to drive out all the whites violently, and this results in burning, looting or even murder.

But despite all this violence, Marabelle Taylor goes along serenely taking in little orphan black children whose parents have been killed by terrorists and nursing them back to health. Most of them are starved to the point of death and must be patiently taught to take food and drink. Miss Taylor is on the staff of the Sakbayem (Cameroon) Hospital, training young nurses, working with leper patients and establishing orphanages.

Twice during the recent wave of terrorism her orphanage at Ibong where she lived alone with her orphans was attacked and wrecked by insurgents but both time she was able to escape with her children. In a letter to Mrs. Burt she wrote that while she and some of her nurses were holding a medical clinic 12 miles distant from the Ibong orphanage, terrorists looted Ibong.

By the time Miss Taylor and her staff could maneuver the power-wagon back to Ibong over mud-choked roads, the orphanage had been looted and smashed up but the native nurse and the babies had escaped. So government officials helped Miss Taylor move her babies to a mud and matting hut at Ndon where they would have military protection.

She wrote: "It was a terrific feldown from our former home but we are all very grateful for it. It's on a hill, open, cold, drafty and surrounded by mud; malaria and colds have plagued all of us, but the babies are happy and continue to grow and the staff came willingly and has risen nobly to the emergency. I thank the Lord I am privileged to continue to serve here. There is a constant stream of visitors who are amazed that motherless babies can be so healthy and so happy. Living costs are higher here but I'll trust the Lord for that. If it is true the Lord's will that we bring him honor here in Ndon for the time being then it is O. K. with me — some day things will quiet down, we will repair the house and move back home. Meantime motherless babies will have a home, we take the days one at a time, and are confident it will all work out for good because they are His babies and we His joyful servants."

On Nov. 20 Miss Taylor and her orphans moved back to the repaired home at Ibong (which was built to accommodate six but had always been jammed with 20 children). The Chief of the terrorists called on Miss Taylor and told her the attack on the orphanage was a mistake engineered by a young native drunk on palm wine. He said "We came as soon as we learned you were home so you could work and sleep in peace."

Wrote Miss Taylor: "It may sound crazy to trust my life to a large group of anti-white, anti-American terrorists. Actually I trust the One who died for me. As for the terrorists, I'm honoring their word as I expect them to honor my trust in them."

Such serene and happy faith is rare today, and it will be a privilege to meet Miss Taylor. The friendship of Mrs. Burt and Marabelle Taylor goes back to Mrs. Burt's early schoolteaching days in South Dakota when Marabelle was a student of hers and also took piano lessons from her. Miss Taylor has visited Mrs. Burt here several times when she was on leave from her African Medical Missionary post. Miss Taylor will speak Friday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church.

REPUBLICANS Map Plans for Year

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota state Republican convention will be held here June 7-9 in the Longington Hotel.

The GOP executive committee, meeting here Saturday set the date and site and also approved a site committee resolution recommending that conventions in odd numbered years be held outside the Twin Cities.

District conventions will be held between March 30 and May 5. County conventions, set earlier, will take place between March 1 and 17. Precinct caucuses start Monday and run through Feb. 17.

The state Republican convention will follow the Democratic-Farmer-Labor convention, scheduled May 25-27 in Duluth.

Both conventions will endorse candidates for the primary election Sept. 11. Of chief interest will be endorsements for governor. The man elected will be the first to serve a four-year term under a constitutional revision.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Francisco J. Orlich, a supporter of the U.S. Alliance for Progress program, steadily increased his lead today in returns from Costa Rica's presidential election.

The National Liberation party candidate, who is backed by former President Jose Figueres, was comfortably in front of his old political foe, Republican Rafael Calderon Guardia, and ex-President Otilio Ulate of the National Union party.

Orlich's share of the vote was running nearly 50 per cent, and was sufficient to elect him on the first ballot if the trend was maintained. Unless the high man draws at least 40 per cent of the vote, there must be a runoff in April.

The 200-year-old paintings of Dresden by Bernardo Bellotto are used today as a guide in its reconstruction. The East German city was severely damaged by air raids in World War II.

Cuba Wants Action Against U.S. in U.N.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba pushed today for anti-U.S. action from the 104-member United Nations to overshadow the anti-Castro action taken last week in the 21-member Organization of American States.

Cuban chief delegate Mario Garcia-Inchausti went to open debate in the General Assembly's Political Committee on Cuba's complaint that the United States is planning aggression against her and intervening in her affairs.

He was expected to cite as an example of such intervention President Kennedy's ban on U.S. imports from Cuba, issued Saturday, which is designed to stop the sale of about $35 million worth of Cuban tobacco a year to the United States.

The Cuban delegation was backing a Communist resolution appealing to the United States to end "interference in the internal affairs" of Cuba and "actions directed against the territorial integrity and political independence of Cuba."

The resolution, which Czechoslovakia and Romania introduced, called on the Cuban and U.S. governments to "settle their differences by peaceful means, through negotiations, without recourse to use of force."

U.S. chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson was expected to address the 104-nation committee Tuesday. His delegation contended that the assembly should not take any action on the Cuban complaint.

13 Evacuated From Mission

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) — Thirteen American missionary women and children have been evacuated from the Presbyterian mission at Bibanga, in south Kasai, scene of new military tensions caused by insubordinate Congolese troops, consular officials announced today.

The missionaries were flown out last week after a U.N. rescue plane was seized and its crew held for three hours by Baluba tribal guerrillas loyal to their native chief, Albert Kalonji, now under arrest by the Leopoldville central government.

Husbands of three of the women remained at the mission.

The United Nations said a letter insisting on U.N. freedom of movement in the troubled area had been sent to the Kasai provincial authorities and had been favorably received, but it was not clear how much effective control the provincial government would have over south Kasai, which once claimed to be an autonomous state.

The mission families were flown out of Bibanga last week in their own plane as a precautionary measure in case a U.N.-south Kasai conflict should break out.

The Americans are working under the American Presbyterian Congo Mission.

Their plane also had been seized by the south Kasai troops on suspicion that they were transporting messages and personnel loyal to the Lulua tribe — traditional enemies of the Balubas.

River ferries were flooded out by high waters and roads were blocked by troops who refused to permit traffic in either direction.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynex)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Senate Ready For College, Welfare Bills

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of President Kennedy's important legislative proposals—the college education aid measure and an employee pension-welfare fund regulation bill—come up for Senate action this week.

Senate leaders hope to put both of them through before an informal Lincoln's Birthday recess begins on Thursday. This will continue into the middle of next week to allow Republican orators to make speeches over the country.

The House also plans to pass an identical pension-welfare bill this week.

There is likely to be a wide difference between the House and Senate college measures, however. The final version will have to be worked out in conference.

The House last Tuesday passed a $1.5-billion measure limited to funds for construction of classrooms, laboratories and libraries. The Senate started debate Friday on a much broader $2,674,000,000 bill, with voting scheduled to start today. Amendments are likely to delay a final vote until Tuesday.

The bill contains not only $1.5 billion in construction loan funds, but also $924 million for students scholarships and $250 million for grants to help build public community junior colleges.

The pension-welfare bill seeks to put teeth into enforcement of the 1958 law aimed at prevention of abuses in administration of plans which now contain almost $80 billion of assets.

President Kennedy sent Congress today a message on communications satellites. Tuesday he is scheduled to send to Capitol Hill a message on education. He is expected to follow later in the week with one on defense and civil defense.

Informed sources said the education message will detail programs Kennedy already has mentioned in his State of the Union and budget messages. He is not expected to unveil any new proposals. He reportedly will stress the importance of education to the nation's survival.

The House Government Operations subcommittee opens hearings Tuesday on Kennedy's reorganization plan to set up an urban affairs department.

The special Senate subcommittee conducting hearings on military speech censorship policies is uncertain about its plans for the week. These depend on negotiations with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara over his refusal to make known who censored specific speeches.

2 Young Swiss Mountaineers Climb Matterhorn

ZERMATT, Switzerland (AP) — Braving gales, two young Swiss mountaineers have conquered the icy north face of the Matterhorn in the first-ever winter ascent of "the tall killer."

They won the race Sunday to the summit of the 14,328-foot Alpine peak against five Austrian and German climbers who were swallowed up by storm-swept clouds and still were unreported today.

The five were last seen about 500 feet from the top of the pyramid-shaped summit on the Swiss-Italian border just before darkness fell and a westerly gale turned into a 60-mile-an-hour blizzard.

The two Swiss—Hilti von Alim, 27, and Paul Elter, 23 — reached the top after a two-day climb.

Even though the Matterhorn's north face has been climbed approximately 20 times in the summer, the "ice-glassy" almost vertical front has beaten back all previous attempts to scale it in the winter.

Storms rage frequently around the treacherous peak and there are no real halting places or havens.

Bethany Moravians

BETHANY, Minn. (Special) — Faculty of Bethany Moravian Sunday school discussed plans for the coming year and elected officers at their annual meeting at the William Stephan home at Altura Thursday. Officers are: Mrs. Edwin Howe, superintendent; Miss Alma Wollin, assistant; Miss Amanda Benedict, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Janet Lewis, cradle roll superintendent.

Sun and fog sometimes cause a mountaineer to see a ghostly companion below or beside him. It is his own enormously enlarged shadow which the sun casts on a drifting fog bank.

DEAR ABBY:

Better Enjoy Your Singleness

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I wear a size 12 dress, have silver blonde hair and people don't believe me when I tell them I am 61 years old. I have had five husbands, but don't jump at any conclusions. I was divorced only once and had four husbands die on me. The man who is my problem at the moment is a 50-year-old bachelor. He is well-to-do, refined and hard to get. He can never get away to see me until after his mother has gone to bed, which is about 9:30 p.m. She has him under her thumb, but good. Oh, brother, talk about a mama's boy! How do I land this one?

"THE DUCHESS"

DEAR "DUCHESS": If I told you, you'd only hate me. If you think you'd be happy married to a 50-year-old man who can't leave his mother until she's sleeping, think again. Enjoy your blessed singleness.

DEAR ABBY: I have always been able to make my own decisions, but this time I would like some help. How old should a girl be when her dolls are put away? My 12-year-old daughter raised a terrible fuss because, when she was at school, I rearranged her bedroom and put all her dolls away. I think it helps a girl to grow up and take away all the childish toys of her babyhood. (She has had some of those dolls since she was 4.) I have had several of my friends tell me I am wrong. I would like your opinion.

DEAR ABBY: Your friends are right. Your daughter's dolls should not have been put away until she herself initiated it. Older girls do not actually "play" with dolls, they just like to keep them around for ornamental — and sentimental — reasons.

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my mother-in-law by a previous marriage, my first husband being deceased. She has become "Chief Sitting Bull" in my house. She pops in on me before noon — with no notice — and she sits here until 8 or 9 o'clock at night. Not wanting to offend her, I have something else planned. Not wanting to entertain her, I quietly cancel my plans and attempt to entertain her. She doesn't have many friends, and goes practically nowhere, so she is not very good company. How can I get her to let me know in advance when she's coming? Her visits are becoming more frequent.

SITTING BULL'S VICTIM

DEAR VICTIM: Take "Sitting Bull" by the horns and ask her to let you know when she is coming so you can plan your time. When you "quietly" cancel your plans, you give her the mistaken impression that she can visit any old time because you, too, just sit around doing nothing.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MOLLY: Yes, money talks. But it doesn't always talk cents!

Red China Using Dope in Struggle With West: Judd

BOSTON (AP) — Rep. Walter H. Judd, R-Minn., said Saturday Red China is using dope as a "powerful weapon" in the struggle between East and West.

Speaking at the 71st annual meeting of the Massachusetts Republican Club, Judd said the American Criminal Syndicate purchases large supplies of opium and heroin from Red China.

"But the syndicate leaders little realize," he said, "that with the United States currency, Red China is building up its war factories and machines to further the spread of Communism in the world."

Judd added that the natives of Red China are forbidden by their government to use dope because the Reds exchange it for American currency and to gain an advantage in the cold war by lowering American morale through addiction.

Man, 100, Walks Mile to Town

COLUMBIA, Ky. (AP) — W. J. (Bill) Banks turned 100 years old Sunday and he's feeling fine, thank you.

"I eat good, I sleep good, I feel good and some of the women even say I look good," Banks observed. He walks a mile to town once or twice a week. He says he has smoked a carton of cigarettes a week "ever since they were a nickel a pack."

On March 6, 1898, an avalanche whirled down the Vorder-Glarisch in eastern Switzerland at an estimated 230 miles an hour. It swept across a valley nearly two miles wide and climbed up the opposite slope.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Cheating Students In Need of Help

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

Student cheating has increased as schools have piled on a heavier study load.

Pressure on students and, indirectly, pressure on parents and teachers, is the order of the day. To those students who are already faltering, feelings of pressure build almost to the breaking point. Some lose their sense of values.

The results: Cheating, unhappy students, disappointed parents, frustrated teachers, nervous breakdowns and academic failures.

This is too bad.

Most students who think they have to cheat don't have to at all. An adult friend, now a teacher, told me, "If I had worked as hard studying as I did cheating, I wouldn't have had to cheat."

Preaching to the cheater is no answer. He wouldn't cheat if he felt there were any other way. But if parents and teachers cooperate they can keep young people from feeling that they need to cheat.

CHILDREN OFTEN cheat because they haven't learned some important facts that they have learned. If parents and teachers are alert, they may be able to help the student correct the problem before the situation becomes too serious.

Most children are not lazy. They work hard on a project when they know what to do, how to do it, and can see some hope for success.

Here's a program for them:

- Get the student started trying to improve his academic work, then encourage him by showing him better techniques and skills for reading, writing, and listening.

- Good study techniques are seldom learned through trial and error. Most students need help. A good source for this type of help will be found in my book, "You CAN Get Better Grades."

- Each teacher should instruct students in how to study his course. Many teachers assume that because they stumbled onto good study techniques, everyone knows this. This is not true.

EACH PARENT should strive to instill integrity, loyalty and good morals as well as improved scholarship.

- Each student should be encouraged to work for his own all-around development. Help him to see that getting a good grade through cheating, even if the process is temporarily successful, places a limit on his ultimate attainment.

- Teachers should maintain a situation in the classroom, particularly during tests, in which it is difficult for a student to cheat. It is placing too much temptation in the way of a student for the teacher to leave the room or otherwise make cheating easy. When cheating is easy, the honest student is placed at a disadvantage.

Many adults have told me that they dropped out of school after making their way through cheating and without really learning. They found they could not go on to advanced courses. They found out too late that they really had sufficient ability to pass by fair means. They now know that they are the ones who have been cheated.

VFW Hails Kennedy Embargo Against Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans of Foreign Wars "unanimously commended" President Kennedy for placing a virtually complete embargo on trade with Cuba, Robert E. Hansen, National VFW commander said Sunday.

A statement by Hansen said, "This action by the President received a resounding ovation from the more than 600 state and national leaders attending our annual national midwinter conference here."

U.S. Will Not Neglect Japan, Premier Told

TOKYO (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy assured Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda today that future U.S. economic policy under his brother's direction will not neglect Japan.

Economic issues that have caused some grumbling in Japan came up in the first official call of the U.S. attorney general's six-day visit to Japan.

David Osborn, U.S. Embassy first secretary, said the proposed 8½-cent a pound surcharge on the cotton content of textiles the United States imports was stressed in Kennedy's talk with Ikeda.

Kennedy assured Ikeda that the trend in U.S. policy is definitely toward lowering tariffs, Osborn said.

Kennedy also told Ikeda that President Kennedy's intention to seek closer ties with the European Economic Community does not mean that Japan will be frozen out of the lucrative American market. Kennedy told the Japanese leader the United States is seeking favorable trade treatment of Japan as well as itself in the EEC.

Kennedy, an expert and tireless campaigner, whirled about Tokyo all morning on behalf of his brother's New Frontier program.

In quick succession, Kennedy visited the prime minister, Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka, Justice Minister Koshiro Ueki and both houses of the Diet.

Everywhere Kennedy went he was greeted by crowds of eager young people. At the Justice Ministry office girls dressed in blue frocks jumped up and down and squealed. Kennedy stopped and shook hands with one of the girls.

Kennedy opened his airport arrival statement Sunday night with brief greetings in Japanese but stayed away from the language during his rounds today.

Mrs. Kennedy visited a Catholic English language school and had a reunion with Mother Anne Stoeple, the president of the academy, who taught her at the convent of the Sacred Heart in New York City. She also visited a crippled children's home.

New York Parking Problem Is Rough

NEW YORK (AP) — Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes, brought here to help untangle New York's traffic and parking problems, has found a parking space for his own car—in Baltimore.

Barnes, who supervised traffic in the Maryland city until last month, said Sunday, "I have been thinking about bringing it (the car), but what would I do with it after I got it here?"

The commissioner, who earns $27,500 a year, said he can't afford the rates charged by New York City garages.

Rolvaag and Wozniak Look Like Candidates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag and State Rep. D. D. Wozniak looked and sounded like candidates for governor of Minnesota this weekend, but both passed up opportunities to announce political plans.

The two are considered leading aspirants for the Democratic-Farmer-Labor nomination.

Rolvaag was urged by 7th District DFLers, meeting in Detroit Lakes Sunday, to "make himself available."

The lieutenant governor told delegates he intended to announce his intentions in mid-February. Wozniak, of St. Paul, said at Nashua that he's thinking about running for governor, but added that it's too early to make any formal announcement of his plans.

Old women once held curative powers—or so folks believed. Their wrinkled hands laid on feverish brows were thought to cool the fever. Now, in this golden era of modern medicine, we have more reliable methods of reducing temperatures. But, remember, a temperature is only a symptom... not an illness in itself. Fevers have many causes... some minor... some serious. So, be sensible. When you or a member of your family is ill, let your doctor do the diagnosing and prescribing. ## Single Unit Housing Leveling Off

MULTIPLE HOUSING unit construction continues to lead residential building activity in the Ninth district although total outlays for private dwellings in the latter half of 1961 were well below the level in the first six months of last year the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis reports.

In its Monthly Review the Bank said even though the building of apartment houses is expanding while single unit housing construction has leveled off, the vacancies in rental units are high. In the third quarter of 1961 8.4 percent of the total number of apartment units were vacant in the north central states. Builders, however, see an expanding market for apartments with an increasing number of newly married couples and retired persons.

Brisk activity in the field of commercial construction in the district since 1959 reflects loop redevelopment and suburban shopping center construction in the larger metropolitan areas. Outlays for industrial construction, as authorized by permits, have been relatively low since the first of 1959 with the exception of brief periods in the late summers of 1960 and 1961.

THE CONSTRUCTION industry has benefited by the prompt turn-around in capital expenditures made by businessmen near the beginning of the present recovery and by the moderate rise in expenditures made by consumers for new homes, repair and modernization throughout 1961.

The low point in expenditures for housing nationally occurred in February, 1961, the same month as the trough of the business cycle. Since that time, however, these expenditures have expanded at a moderate rate, and surveys on anticipated capital expenditures indicate a continuation of the rise in 1962. If the anticipated expenditures for the first quarter of 1962 are realized, they will be up eight percent from the first quarter of 1961.

National demand for new housing continues to rise slowly, and the effects of the World War II population increase are now beginning to be felt in the increase of new household formations. Almost a million households may be added annually after 1962. Replacement needs in the housing field are also rising significantly.

THESE TWO demand factors are now quite comparable to those existing in the early 50s, but other demand factors are not present today. Although slum conditions still persist in urban centers, the American people on the whole are better housed today than ever before so no great demand for upgrading in housing facilities can be expected in this decade, the Bank concluded.

Perhaps Mr. Macy Misunderstands?

WASHINGTON is staffed, generally, with two classes of officials. There are Presidential appointees, whose allegiance to their party and its programs is right and proper, and helps make for the principle of party responsibility. And there are career officials, who hold their jobs under civil service and are supposed to be non-partisan.

John Macy, civil service commissioner (a political appointee) has taken a step which blurs the difference. He has told career officials that they not only have a right, but a duty, to speak out in favor of the Administration's pending legislation.

Mr. Macy, himself, cites the regulations which forbid such officials from spending the government's time and money to beat the drum for political proposals and pending legislation. He gets around this by saying it will be all right if the officials just "explain" the Administration's arguments for the programs.

NATURALLY, Mr. Macy didn't suggest that these civil servants have any right or obligation to explain the arguments against the proposals, or even to acknowledge that there may be any such arguments.

It is suggested that these officials accept speaking engagements before interested public groups.

If Mr. Macy's ruling is unchallenged, a great deal will have been done toward converting our government into a massive propaganda machine for its own enlargement. The order isn't likely to be ignored by many bureaucrats, most of whom would like nothing better than to see their own departments given more funds and more personnel.

Civil Service was created to take such officials out of politics. Perhaps Mr. Macy misunderstands the requirements of his job?

A farmer bought a painting, took it home and hung it first one way and then another. Each time the effect was confusing. Finally his wife asked, "What in the world is that supposed to be?" "Why," said the farmer, "it's a realistic picture of the farm situation. No matter how you look at it, it just don't make sense."

Hopeful thought: The so-called adult Westerns on television may get so adult they'll have to be retired because of old age.

He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy. Proverbs 28:13.

Admiration for True Scholar

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

I have long held great admiration for the true scholar. This is because I recognize my own limitations. Academicians generally find me in their audience, but I sometimes have difficulty keeping pace with their logic.

When Arthur Schlesinger Jr. suggested that the welfare state was the best defense against communism, I found it difficult to understand how, by adopting the Communist's materialistic concept. And when such a distinguished scholar as Prof. Theodore M. Newcomb, of the University of Michigan, offers the following in U. S. News & World Report, I am completely undone.

"Q. Is it likely that many politicians, rich or poor, feel they must espouse 'liberal' causes to get elected?"

"A. That is certainly the case."

It seems to me the distinguished commentator is engaging in a rather dangerous speculation.

Men who will espouse a cause or adopt a program or give their allegiance to a set of principles merely to "get elected" constitute what I regard as a rather grave threat to the future of the Republic.

Because I'm on the opposite side of the fence, I would argue that men who espouse this kind of "liberal cause" are guilty of an error in judgment. But I would not do them the miserable disservice of suggesting that they were motivated entirely by a compulsive desire to "get elected."

JACK KENNEDY is a fine young man. I disagree with him. But I deny that any observer has the right to say that his mind is so shallow, his conscience so adaptable that he would espouse a program presented by the "liberals" merely because he thought this was a way of "getting elected."

If Professor Newcomb's appraisal is valid, then I would suggest the Republic is indeed in grave danger. And we have reached that point predicted by Alexis de Tocqueville: When the people discover they can vote themselves benefits out of the public Treasury, self-government by responsible men will become an impossibility.

PROF. NEWCOMB speaks of sincerity in that article, but what kind of sincerity is he contemplating? Merely a sincere desire to get elected? It seems to me what this nation needs at this moment is a crop of candidates who will say, upon announcing for a particular office: "I don't have to get elected. Therefore, I have no intention of compromising my principles or my concept of truth as I see it. If, so be it, the majority of the electorate can find merit in my principles and my concepts, then I will appreciate their support, but I have not yet reached that pitiful condition where I will sacrifice my soul for public approval at the ballot box."

How do you stand, sir?

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Kennedy Enjoys Joke on His Secretary of Labor

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy, who has a contagious sense of humor, tells this story on his secretary of labor.

Recently, when Secretary Arthur Goldberg went mountain climbing, he was gone for some time and the people at the inn at the base of the mountain became worried and summoned help from the Red Cross. The Red Cross flew a helicopter to the mountain in a helicopter, calling from a loudspeaker:

"Arthur Goldberg, this is the Red Cross. Arthur Goldberg, this is the Red Cross."

For a long time there was no answer. Finally a faint voice replied from down below:

"This is Goldberg. I gave through the office this year." Jockeying for committee position in the U. S. Senate may not mean much to the outsider. But insiders know it can affect U. S. policy and laws which the American people have to live under.

During five congresses the late Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire rose to his feet at the opening session to announce that he wished to step aside as ranking member of the Senate armed services committee in favor of his Republican colleague from Massachusetts, Leverett Saltonstall.

INSIDE FACT was Saltonstall had pestered and badgered Bridges with the argument that since Bridges was ranking Republican on both Appropriations and Armed Services, he should relinquish one of these posts to his colleague from Massachusetts. Bridges did so.

Now the shoe is on the other foot and the tall blueblood from Boston, Lev Saltonstall, is the top Republican on the same two committees—Appropriations and Armed Services. But so far he has not been as gallant as he asked the late Sen. Bridges to be.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, also Republican is number two on the Armed Services Committee. Sen. Saltonstall, who can trace his ancestry back to the early days of the Pilgrim fathers, prides himself on being a courtly man. But he has not done for Mrs. Smith what he asked Bridges to do for him.

TEN YEARS ago, Sen. Smith was a member of the McCarthy Investigating Committee. Being a lady of both courage and principle, she didn't like McCarthy's ruthless tactics and said so. Finally in the investigating methods of the U. S. Senate.

McCarthy promptly bounced Mrs. Smith off his investigating committee. Last week, Sen. Smith again showed courage. She challenged John McCone as unqualified to be head of Central Intelligence. Central Intelligence hitherto has reported, intermittently and not very satisfactorily, to a subcommittee of armed services on which the top two ranking Republicans are members.

Mrs. Smith, whether Saltonstall bows or not, is among the top two Republicans. But it's reported in Senate cloakrooms that she will now be penalized for her opposition and denied a position on the subcommittee which is supposed to check on CIA.

Note—For a long time some senators have been demanding a watchdog committee to scrutinize CIA, similar to the Joint Atomic Energy Committee which checks on the AEC. The Armed Services Subcommittee is a rather unsatisfactory makeshift until a permanent watchdog committee is established—if ever.

TAX FRAUD—the Justice

Department is about to crack down hard on a prominent New Yorker for income tax fraud. In figuring his tax return, he added up travel and entertainment expenses to $7,600. For good measure, he put a "one" in front of the seven—making it $77,000 for travel and entertainment. Internal Revenue service says this case will be prosecuted not only as a flagrant violation of the law, but as a warning to other taxpayers against abuses of entertainment and business expense allowances.

New Lobbyists—among the lobbyists who have turned up on Capitol Hill at this session of Congress so far are two former aides to President Eisenhower: Clyde Wheeler, representing the Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Company, and Bryce Harlow, representing Proctor and Gamble, the giant soap manufacturers, whose president, Neil McElroy, used to be Ike's secretary of Defense. Ike's former chief assistant, Wilton Persons, has also been in touch with congressmen on real estate matters in behalf of the First Mortgage Investors.

RED CARPET for Congo—President Kennedy is all set to give a red-carpet welcome to Premier Adoula of the central Congo government when he arrives for a surprise official visit. Adoula has been invited mainly to demonstrate to Sen. Tom Dodd and congressional critics that Congo developments have now quieted down enough to make it safe for him to leave the country. Adoula is very pro-American and his comments are expected to prove that American policy has worked out successfully after months of turmoil.

Personal diplomacy—President Kennedy got on the phone to Adlai Stevenson and Secretary of State Rusk personally the other day to urge, almost command, them to get President Sukarno of Indonesia and the prime minister of Holland to come to New York and talk together in order to head off war. "Get those two fellows over here and sit them down in New York and keep them there until they get some sense," the President told Ambassador Stevenson on the phone. Rusk and Stevenson are still trying to produce.

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

Helter-Skelter Image Created

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy administration may not realize it but an image of helter-skelter is being created by its own publicity apparatus. The idea is being conveyed that what is good for the political machine is also good for America.

Several things have caused a raising of eyebrows here, and a feeling of concern is beginning to spread throughout the country. Questions like these are being asked:

1. Why is the administration seeking to tighten its control of all the political organizations in the larger cities of the country by building up a department of urban affairs that could conceivably dictate to municipal governments and take from the local authorities the control of their own cities?

2. Why is the President bypassing the Department of State and the U. S. Information Agency, for which Congress expends annually a lot of money on the theory that the conduct of foreign relations and the carrying on of information programs, respectively, are the direct responsibilities of those two executive agencies in the government?

3. Why did the President recently conduct a series of inner government conferences, including 52 of the top policy-making officials, and set forth the policies of the government in the cold war without making any explanation to the American people or to Congress of the important decisions he has reached on foreign policy?

The newspapers were given background information on these inside conferences, and naturally such dispatches were read with considerable curiosity in Congress and by allied governments abroad, if not by the Moscow government as well.

Subjects like our preparations for limited and conventional war and counter-guerrilla operations have certain aspects that need not be publicized, but it would have been helpful to the understanding of American policies throughout the world if the firm words attributed to the President during his conferences with high officers of the government had been put in some official form for the rest of the world to read.

The by-passing of the Department of State and the U. S. Information Agency has been revealed in the announcement that the President's press secretary, who doesn't speak Russian and who has had no experience in the foreign service, is suddenly to undertake a high-level negotiation with a top Soviet personality on the matter of exchanging television and other information programs. Why isn't a task like this performed by Edward R. Murrow, director of the U. S. Information Agency through the American embassy in Moscow?

Rep. Bruce Alger of Texas, Republican, in a speech in the House of Representatives on Wednesday charged that the President is "indulging in more secret diplomacy with the Soviets," and added:

"We cannot take a chance that a young and inexperienced White House publicity man will be able to deal successfully with the tough representatives of the Kremlin."

Mr. Alger said he is concerned about the meeting between Khrushchev's son-in-law, who is editor of Izvestia, and the press secretary of President Kennedy. The Texas representative declared that the United States needs "experienced negotiators, a sound policy based on American self-interest, and honesty with Congress and the American people as to just what is going on and what the President hopes to accomplish."

There is a tendency at the White House to by-pass the Cabinet officers charged by law with certain responsibilities. There is also a tendency to conduct conversations with high officials of other governments through intermediaries who have not been trained to overcome the language difficulties and who may not know how to avoid the pitfalls of an interchange of views on policy questions.

The Kennedy administration, in violating the customary rules of international intercourse, is taking chances. Sooner or later the allied governments will be hearing indirectly through Soviet ambassadors that the United States is ready to concede on this or that point. This will not, of course, be accurate, but the Soviets will not worry about this as they see how much mischief they can perpetrate out of information obtained in confidential conversations between the President or his press secretary and various Soviet spokesmen. Not a single deviation from Khrushchev's policies, it may be confidently assumed, will ever be made by the Communist emissaries who are wining and dining at the White House. But what the President says in polite

To Your Good Health

Sprain May Heal Slowly

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What about sprains? Some people say to soak it in hot water, others advise ice water.—Mrs. B. B."

Some people have said optimistically after an injury, "It isn't a break; it's just a sprain." And others, having had experience with a bad sprain, have said, "A sprain is worse than a break."

The word sprain comes from the root meaning "to press out." It is a wrenching and twisting of a joint. The bone doesn't break, but ligaments or cartilage can be torn; ligaments can be pulled loose from the bones to which they are attached; the joint capsules, consisting of fibrous tissue, can be stretched.

Such an injury may not heal as rapidly as a broken bone. Besides, there invariably is some inner bleeding at the injured place, and hence swelling and pain.

The degree of sprain makes a difference, of course. It also makes a difference whether the joint is one which is under pressure. A sprained ankle, which has to hold up the weight of the body, may thus be more serious than a sprained wrist, which doesn't have to bear such weight.

From a surface examination it is often hard to tell whether a case is a fracture or a sprain, but it's important to know, and if there is the slightest doubt, an X-ray will show the answer. Indeed, I'd say that if there is any swelling, tenderness or black and blue mark under the skin, it's wise to X-ray.

TREATMENT of a sprain is more than just heat or cold. With an ankle, a light cast may be needed to carry the weight while letting the sprain heal.

conversations will be twisted to mean that he is getting ready to make concessions to the Soviet viewpoint.

Care in dealing with the Soviet government is essential and when the President has anything to say to Moscow, it is better that it be said through a man like Llewellyn Thompson, the American ambassador, who not only speaks Russian fluently but knows the Soviet premier's personality and can deal with him effectively in the interest of the United States.

Welch Warns U.S. on Road To Destruction

By DION HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The American Republic is bound to follow the same classic course to destruction as did ancient Rome, the founder of the John Birch Society says. But he objects to having it pushed.

The pushing, founder Robert Welch of the conservative and militantly anti-Communist organization said, started with the importation of Fabian socialism into the country in the early years of the century, got a good start under the Wilson administration and reached high gear under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

And the drive, he says, "to convert the American Republic into a Democracy and to make the American people accept the change without even knowing there has been one," has been kept in high gear ever since.

Welch detailed his views in a generally scholarly address on "Republics and Democracies" before some 800 persons who jammed the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Schroeder Saturday night. The speech, an aide said, was not wholly new, but full coverage by the press — which Welch frequently finds occasion to criticize — was unusual.

His audience paid $5 a plate to attend what was billed as the Lincoln Day Dinner of the Wisconsin Federated G.O.P. Clubs Inc., which is involved in a still-unresolved dispute with the Wisconsin Women's GOP club over which group has a better right to the Republican label in Milwaukee County.

Welch made an oblique reference to the dispute by congratulating the diners on Wisconsin "having so many good Republicans that you have two Lincoln Day dinners."

The regular Republican version is next Saturday night, with Rep. Katharine St. George, R-N.Y., as the speaker.

Later, Welch told a newsman that he did not want to appear critics contended borrowed heavily from Welch's writings.

Welch began by telling his audience that it would be disappointed if it expected fireworks, and paraphrased the proverb that "the important will not be new and the new will not be important."

For one thing, he said, many of his views had been well-stated by the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, and "I am grateful for all the recorded opinions of which I am the fortunate heir."

Jay Connor, owner of a Marshall field furniture firm who introduced Welch, also cited McCarthy as "the junior senator who was a senior patriot."

The two references drew some of the evening's heaviest applause.

Welch said he suspected some of his listeners had come to see whether, "as Wisconsin's most famous, or — I am told — most notorious newspaper has told you, I do have horns."

He said that under the circumstances he would admit that he did, but that they were retractable, "and at times I can make them completely disappear."

In the same vein, he announced that he has six armed bodyguards he has heard are supposed to accompany him "all got mumps at the same time yesterday and I had to come without them." And, he said, his wife "forgot to pack my brown shirts with the black arm bands in my suitcase, so I had to wear a white shirt."

With the pleasanties out of the way, the man who has said he wants to enlist in his society a million persons dedicated to Americanism, sketched the rise of republics from the laws of Solon, which in the sixth century before Christ set forth the axiom that a state is well-governed "when the people obey the rulers and the rulers obey the laws."

Earth Getting Fatter

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Our earth is getting fatter, but the sun is losing weight. Each day the earth gathers about 2,000 tons of meteoritic dust but our giant flaming sun loses 4.2 million tons of matter each burning second.

Communication Message Reset For Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy postponed his message to Congress today on the government's communications satellite policy. He rescheduled it for Wednesday.

The White House gave no explanation for the delay.

In the message, Kennedy is expected to ask for the collaboration of several firms in developing a worldwide communications system.

The President was prepared to register his opposition to domination of the proposed system by any one company, informed sources said.

Kennedy's special message on communications satellites was expected to clarify the government's position on ownership and participation in the proposed system.

In his State of the Union message Kennedy said he would "soon send to the Congress a measure to govern the financing and operation of an international communications satellite system in a manner consistent with the public interest and our foreign policy."

Kennedy had proposed last year that the United States launch such a system and make its facilities available to the world. He also suggested that private enterprise own the U.S. share and that other countries be invited to invest in the system.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr, chairman of the Senate Space Committee, introduced a bill last month proposing establishment of a $500 million corporation to push development of global space communications.

Kerr, an Oklahoma Democrat, said the corporation would own the U.S. part of the system with 5,000 shares for sale at $100,000 each. Aides to Kerr said the proposal was his own rather than an administration measure.

The Federal Communications Commission, has under consideration a plan to let a nonprofit firm develop and operate the system for international telephone calls and eventually for international television.

This has involved a hot dispute with the communications industry and the government over whether such a system should be a private enterprise or a public undertaking.

House of the Week

Modern Bi-Level Retains Charm

By JULES LOH

Alexander Pope's sound advice about being neither the first to try the new nor the last to discard the old seems to have special application in the field of home architecture.

The economical bi-level design—home architecture's latest advance, but by now a respectable member of the family—combines with a more traditional exterior in this modern house to produce a three-bedroom home which has both modernity and warmth. It is design J-5 in the House of the Week series.

"THE BOX-LIKE appearance of most bi-levels struck me as the only drawback to the excellent idea," said architect Lester Cohen. "My aim in this house was to avoid that fault by substituting a type of exterior that already has stood the test of time and will be popular for years to come."

To help accomplish this, Cohen developed his plan from front to back rather than the more customary side-to-side bi-level design with the living area on one side and the sleeping area on the other.

The sleeping wing of this house is in the rear; and the width of the house is only 49'2" which means it will fit comfortably on an 80' lot. Depth of the house is 50'9" and its ground cover is 1,393 square feet.

ANOTHER innovation in this design is that the living room is

MODERNITY AND WARMTH. . . . Because of its charming exterior, this three-bedroom home retains the warmth often sacrificed in other bi-level designs. The L-shaped floor plan makes the house appear a good deal larger than its 1,393 square feet. Dimensions are 49 feet 2 inches wide by 50 feet 9 inches deep.

dropped one step below the foyer. The rest of the living level is four steps above the foyer. If you wanted to be literal about it, this "bi-level" house actually is on three levels.

The basement extends beneath all the house except the living room and garage, and is raised out of the ground slightly to permit ample light and ventilation within the foundation walls—the hallmark of bi-level construction.

Taken as a unit, the front portion of this house—living room, dining room and foyer—presents a spacious expanse unusual in homes of this size.

THE DINING room looks out over a balcony to the foyer and living room in an unbroken view spanning the entire width of the house. The living room, with a large fireplace on one side complemented by a large picture window on the other, also extends through sliding glass doors to a patio which in pleasant weather almost becomes part of the room.

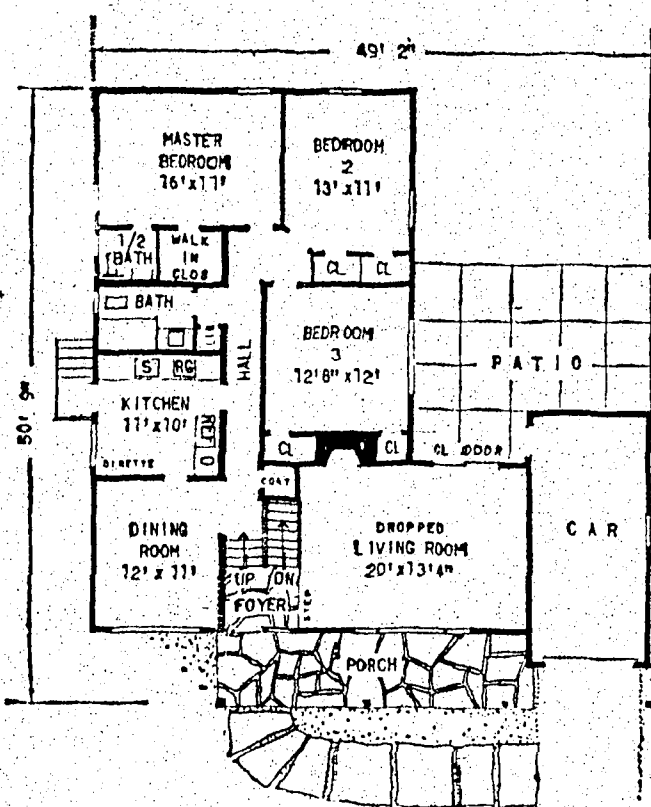

The foyer, too, is a continuation of the flagstone construction of the covered front porch, thus integrating indoor and outdoor living in another respect.

The kitchen, with its own outdoor entrance (one of four exterior entrances), is located nicely between the living and sleeping areas, handy to both.

BATHROOM facilities are more than adequate in this three-bedroom home. Besides the main bath, there is a half-bath adjoining the master bedroom and a lavatory on the lower level. All the plumbing, incidentally, is on the same line—a mark of economical planning.

The lower level features a recreation room of about 400 square feet across the entire rear of the house. Double pairs of sliding glass doors open onto a sunken backyard terrace.

The remainder of the lower level contains a laundry with plenty of space for a workbench or hobby

FLOOR PLANS. . . . Front to back plan of this house distinguishes it from customary side-to-side bi-level design. Note that no room has to be crossed to get to another room, a characteristic of good home architecture. Ground cover of this house is 1,393 square feet.

1961 Building Sets Record

A surging wave of construction contracts in December helped to boost the total for 1961 to an all-time record for the United States, F. W. Dodge Corp. reported today.

Although December contracts at $2,712,090,000 were just a fraction below December 1960, on a seasonally adjusted basis they reached the second highest peak ever reported for any month. The December 1961 index stood at 301; the all-time high index of 302 had been recorded in December 1960. This was the fourth successive month of increase in the index, from 261 in September to 289 in October, 293 in November, and 301 in December.

Dr. Gordon W. McKinley, Dodge vice president and chief economist, commenting on 1961 as a whole, declared that "its strength was concentrated in the residential building sector. Apartment building soared far above previous record levels, with contracts rising 32 percent above 1960. Single-family houses, which began the year slowly, finished ahead of 1960 and contributed substantially to the total gain."

Residential contracts in 1961 amounted to $16,123,436,000 up 7 percent compared with the previous year. Dwelling units represented by the residential contracts numbered 1,169,361, up 4 percent from 1960.

FURTHER BIRD OBSERVATIONS

It seems as though the winter feeding of birds is always full of surprises just as a new day often brings some unusual and unexpected experiences.

One of the intriguing things about bird feeding is the directness, or informality, of the birds themselves. They do not force their attentions upon us and disport themselves in their natural way without fear, unless something unexpected alarms them when they may take off for a time. With a little patience a chickadee may become so tame that it will alight on the fingers and pick a sunflower seed from the palm of the hand.

Becoming acquainted with the birds, both as to species and individual characteristics, is in itself sufficient justification for attracting them to the home not losing sight, of course, of the main objective, that of supplying additional food for their well being. It will be observed that some are more timid than others, some more quarrelsome, often more so with individuals of their own kind. If two or three downy woodpeckers come to the feeders at the same time, one will usually show that it is the boss, and the same applies to the chickadees. The demure little titmouse seem to get along very well together, and appear to enjoy the companionship.

MR. AND MRS. J. Milton Dahm, 357 E. 5th St., Winona, have had numerous pleasant experiences during the seven years they have been feeding birds. They have been favored this winter with two rather unusual visitors, a brown creeper and a red-breasted nuthatch. These dainty little birds are rather shy and timid, and the brown creeper, especially, is quite retiring in its disposition as it quietly works over tree trunks and limbs seeking out insect food.

Yet, Mrs. Dahm states that, during the sub-zero temperatures, the brown creeper cast off its timidity and came to the feeder for suet. It has been seen feeding, also, on the peanut butter spread on the tree trunks, as well as on the bits of suet tucked into the bark crevices. This is an effective way of putting out feed for such birds as the woodpeckers, chickadees and nuthatches that work over the trees so diligently.

THE DAHMS are firm believers in starting the feeding program early, at least by the middle of October. They put suet on the trees near the house and believe this early feeding was the attraction that brought the brown creeper and red-breasted nuthatch to their home as regular guests.

The evening grosbeaks moved into their yard late in December to the number of six or more. Being close observers of the birds, they are looking forward with anticipation to the possible appearance of crossbills, pine siskins and possibly some other winter migrants.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Goth, 480 Glenview, Winona, have had a number of evening grosbeaks at their feeder for some time, along with a number of cardinals and various other birds. Like other bird lovers they greatly enjoy bird-feeding.

THE RED-WINGED blackbird that came to the Leo Brom home in Goodview still frequents their feeders and will probably remain there near the food supply until the spring weather calls it to the marshes, where it will meet with its fellows from the south. One that frequented our feeder for a few days took off and we have not seen it since.

A large flock of Bohemian waxwings have been feeding on the old apples still hanging on a tree located on old highway 61 near Minnewah. We had been wondering when these birds would find them.

The wide reports that we have received on the evening grosbeaks this winter indicate that they have been present in greater numbers than in any recent year. The same may be said of the large numbers of Bohemian and cedar waxwings in Winona and the area.

Foreclosures Up; VA, FHA Loans Often Involved

During the past three years the rise in the number of foreclosures of mortgages on home property has reached "significant" proportions, according to the latest quarterly economic report of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America.

From a low of 10,453 in 1946, foreclosures rose to 18,135 in 1952, and then followed "a steepening trend" until in 1961 the number reached 72,000, the highest since 1940. Put another way, from 132 foreclosures per 1,000 outstanding mortgages in 1952, the rate rose to an estimated 330 foreclosures per 1,000 mortgages in 1961.

It is estimated that the foreclosure rate for FHA-insured mortgages reached 6.2 per 1,000 in 1961, with the rate of settlement of VA claims around 4.2 compared with the 3.3 of all mortgages. (Available data does not permit a precise figure for conventional mortgages separately.)

BUSINESS MIRROR

Stock Market
Game Popular

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Guessing what the stock market will do is a whole-time job for thousands and a part-time job for millions.

And if you feel that all the professional guessing just now on the course of the market is loaded with more than the usual quota of hedging—well, you aren't alone. The experts are all predicting like mad—and sometimes it takes another expert to interpret their predictions.

Out in Phoenix, Ariz., a vice president of the Valley National Bank, Herbert A. Leggett, puts tongue in cheek and looks at the market and the economy in terms he says a lot of the experts use. "Stock market acting up but will always fluctuate, brokers contend. If it doesn't there won't be any brokers," he says.

In the monthly economic letter he writes for the bank, he gets down to fundamentals:

"What about people? Frankly, the outlook isn't good. However, statisticians figure differently. More people mean more marriages, more divorces, more statistics.
"Baby crop to exceed expectations, sources anticipate. More babies mean more parents, more tax deductions, more everything."

Blizzard Hits
North Dakota

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — Hotels, motels and cafes did a booming business Sunday in towns of eastern North Dakota and western Minnesota, socked in by a sudden blizzard for several hours.

Between 80 and 90 members of the St. Olaf College band, scheduled to play a concert in Fargo, stayed at Barnesville, Minn., Sunday night. They were to present the concert today, instead.

Members of the band were taken into private residences.

Hotels and motels at Barnesville, Hawley, Mahanomen and Detroit Lakes, Minn., were all filled to capacity Sunday night, and motorists were taken into private homes in all towns.

Clay Jorgenson, who operates a diner on U.S. 10 near Hawley, Minn., said he had at least 100 persons in his establishment at one time. He and his waitress, Judy Thompson, worked about 14 hours when other employees couldn't get to work.

Upwards of 200 people were stranded at Hillsboro during the storm, with motorists taking refuge at the American Legion hall, the Viking cafe, city auditorium, a bowling alley and even the jail.

Among those who sat out the worst of the wind at Hillsboro were Coach Louis Hogan and the University of North Dakota basketball team, enroute back to Grand Forks from a game at Vermillion, S.D., Saturday night. Many UND students returning after the semester break also were stranded at Hillsboro.

Judge Rules
Ingham Able To Stand Trial

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — Judge Milton D. Mason ruled today, on the basis of a psychiatric examination, that Charles L. Ingham is competent to stand trial for the murder of a Rochester salesman.

Ingham, 28, has been held since the Oct. 10 shooting of Dan Stoll, 24, outside a Mankato motel. Police said Stoll was lured from the room by a telephone call and killed with two shots.

Mason set no date for Ingham's arraignment in district court but said the case will be called during the term of court beginning next Monday.

Police have said Ingham has orally admitted the slaying but has not signed a statement to that effect. Police have refused to divulge a suspected motive.

Party Factions
Hard to Control

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — American political parties are like popular fronts that let factions gang up under one tent and one label and, in public, gloss over their differences.

This doesn't solve the problem of how to achieve unity on the issues—so the public can know what to expect when they proclaim a party program—but it keeps them in business.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower had his hands full with his own divided Republicans when he was in office. President Kennedy is having the same trouble with his Democrats.

Kennedy ignored the desertion from his ranks when the House Rules Committee—where Democrats outnumber Republicans 10 to 5—voted to kill his idea for a new department of urban affairs and housing.

It was wrecked because four Southern Democrats joined the five Republicans to vote against it. Kennedy ignored what the Democrats did, blistered the Republicans and promptly proposed establishment of the urban department through his Reorganization Act powers.

Likewise last week the Republicans, whose only real unity is in trying to beat the Democrats, blithely skipped over their own divisions to criticize the opposition.

Speakers at the dinners which both parties hold are usually long on generalities and short on specifics.

Eisenhower pointed out, rather ruefully it seemed, that in the past 30 years the Republicans have held the presidency only eight years and control of Congress only four.

"Why, with so much to offer that is logical and sound does the electorate choose to buy the inferior product of the opposition?" he asked. The main answer lay in faulty "sales tactics" by the Republicans, he contended.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller accused Kennedy of fakery in blaming the Republicans for killing the department of urban affairs instead of pointing a finger at the Democrats who broke ranks to block him in the House Rules Committee.

Rockefeller said it was a subterfuge to bypass the states and "gain direct political control over the nation's big cities." Democrats answered Rockefeller on this in a hurry, saying that when he was President Eisenhower's chairman of an advisory committee on governmental organization, Rockefeller had recommended creating a similar department of urban affairs.

It was Rockefeller himself who best illustrated division among Republicans.

When he started to speak at a fund raising dinner in Des Moines over a closed TV circuit—some Republicans at a dinner in Washington booed him. They later applauded when he attacked Kennedy.

Last week Kennedy wondered out loud about who is "giving the leadership direction" to the Republicans.

It's not Rockefeller, who some Republicans think is too liberal. It's not Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Some Republicans think he's too reactionary.

It's hardly former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who has taken himself out of the 1964 presidential race, and is busy running for the governorship of California. At this point it would seem, after the fund-raising dinners, if the Republicans have a leader it must be Eisenhower.

Laughter Builds
$6 Million Hospital

By BILL CRIDER

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A $6-million hospital that laughter built settles back to medical routine today after a gala opening sprinkled with tears.

St. Jude Research Hospital for Children was formally dedicated Sunday by the man who founded it—television comedian Danny Thomas.

After four years of playing benefit performances and sparking fund drives for St. Jude's, Danny figures there is still a long way to go.

Thomas said he and his wife, Rosemary, will fly from here to Tampa, Fla., where he plans to help set up a teen-agers march to raise more cash for his pet projects.

The American Lebanese Syrian Associated Charities, founded by Thomas to pay the hospital's annual expenses, hopes to have teen-agers marches in nearly 100 cities before the year is out.

The comedian, an American of Lebanese extraction and a devout Roman Catholic, said marches would be held in Tampa, St. Petersburg and Miami Beach during February.

St. Jude's, a star-shaped structure, cost $3.5 million to build. Land, equipment and other costs added $2.5 million. It is non-sectarian.

The hospital's research will aim at finding a cure for leukemia and catastrophic children's diseases. Treatment will be free.

'We Made Hard Work Of Winning It', Says Nett

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Writer

A spurring and spluttering Cotter offensive machine rolled past Wabasha St. Felix 59-42 before 1,000 fans at St. Stan's Sunday afternoon to even the Ramblers' record at 8-8.

"We certainly made hard work of winning it," Cotter Coach John Nett said after the game. "We looked good defensively but our offense definitely needs some work."

THE OFFENSE chalked up its points by spurts all afternoon. In the first quarter the Ramblers jumped to an early 8-2 lead as Larry Modjeski, who scored 22 points, Sam Czaplewski, Bob Judge and Gene Schultz, who finished with 12, all dumped in field goals.

Then the attack started to splutter and St. Felix closed the gap to 11-10 behind Dick Peters' two long jump shots.

In the second period St. Felix managed a 20-17 lead with five minutes to play in the first half as Mike Pinnoneault, who scored 14 points, hit on three driving shots.

COTTER SPURTED ahead 26-20 at the end of the half and St. Felix was never to lead again. Czaplewski got back into his foul routing again as he accumulated his five with seven minutes left in the half.

"Doggone, I told him if he wanted to foul I was going to let him in there," Nett said. "I did and they really ate him up. He's real aggressive, and he can help us a great deal if he can cut down the fouls."

Cotter built a 40-32 margin heading into the final period but the issue was still in doubt as the Yellowjackets, behind Peters, who fired in 12 points, and Pinnoneault, started to close the gap in the third quarter.

MODJESKI took care of that as he fired in three long jump shots to go with a field goal each by Schultz and Loren Koprowski, who scored 10, as Cotter ran off 10 straight markers to lead 50-34 with half the period gone.

The strong defense of the Ramblers limited St. Felix to only 38 shots for the entire game and only six field goals in the second half.

Judge and Modjeski were the standouts as time after time they blocked shots and pulled down rebounds to hold the Yellowjacket scorers under control.

THE RAMBLERS shot 35.3 percent on 24 of 68 while St. Felix upped its percentage to 36.8 on 14 for 38.

And now for Cotter it's on to the Ravoux Conference wars as the Ramblers invade Owatonna Marian Tuesday night.

MAYER WINS $50,000

Palmer Rally Beats Littler

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The recent oft-repeated query, "What's wrong with Arnold Palmer's golf game?" seems pretty well squelched.

Palmer, playing like the Palmer of National Open and Masters fame in 1960, put on a dazzling birdie hunt to win the $50,000 Palm Springs Classic Sunday.

He climaxed the 5-round 90-hole marathon with a 3-under par 69 for a total score of 342, 17 blows under par for the final haul at the plush par 72 Bermuda Dunes Country Club and four other courses used in the tournament.

Palmer started the round three strokes behind the leader, Gene Littler. He ran off a string of five successive birdies starting on the fifth hole, caught Littler on the eighth and went two ahead of Gene on the ninth.

Did he think he had it sewed up at that point?

"You never have anything sewed up in this game," said Palmer. "I learned that lesson in the Masters."

Arnold referred to his double-bogey six in the 1961 Masters on the 18th when he lost to Gary Player.

This was Palmer's second win in the three $50,000 desert classics and his first victory since the British Open last July.

Palmer leads the tournament gypsies to the $35,000 Phoenix, Ariz., Open. Then he will vacation until the Baton Rouge, La., Open, which he won last year.

Player left Sunday night for his Johannesburg, South Africa, home where he'll rest about five weeks. Player's 71 for 352 netted $25. Littler wound up with a 75 and

Warriors, Redmen On Road Tonight

Situations are much the same at both St. Mary's and Winona State as the two college basketball teams take to the road to meet non-conference opponents tonight.

The Redmen will try to shake off the effects of a seven-game losing streak while the Statesmen have been defeated in four consecutive contests.

BOTH BOB Campbell of Winona State and Ken Wiltgen of St. Mary's will be throwing all caution to the wind tonight as they experiment with various combinations and patterns in an attempt to find the best ones to work with.

State's game will be a makeup of the first contest on the Warrior docket this season that was reset because of some difficulty in getting a playing floor at Menomonie.

St. Mary's owns victories over both Stout and Loras this season. The Redmen downed the Blue Devils 79-76 in the first game of the season and then beat Loras 96-85 two weeks later.

CAMPBELL hasn't decided on his starting lineup for tonight as both Dick Papenfuss and Gerry Goetz were injured in the Warrior's disastrous road-trip last weekend.

"If Goetz and Papenfuss can't play tonight we'll just have to go with whomever shows up," the coach said. "I think we are going to work out for a while before leaving."

Wiltgen will probably stick with Tom Ruddy at center, Denny Burman and Tom Hall at forwards and Marty Lillig and Bob Jansen at guards although Al Williams could move in at either a forward or guard spot.

St. Mary's dropped one contest this week-end as Augsburg avenged an early season loss by dropping the Redmen 86-66.

STATE dropped both its games, losing to Moorhead 68-43 and then bowing to Bemidji 81-74.

"We looked real bad on the trip," Campbell said. "One little thing would go wrong, and we'd fold up right away."

State now stands 7-9 for the season and gets back into NSCC action Saturday when Bemidji State invades.

St. Mary's is 5-12 for the season and will see its next action at Hamline Wednesday before returning home to take on Macalester Saturday.

Redmen Six Faces Bemidji Tuesday

St. Mary's College's hockey team idle Saturday, returns to the Terrace Heights rink Tuesday to meet Bemidji State in a non-conference game at 3 p.m.

The contest, originally scheduled for today, was postponed 24 hours to give Bemidji travel time, said

Redmen Coach Max Molock. The Redmen were slated to play St. John's Saturday but first warm weather forced shifting of the game from afternoon to night and then it was postponed when St. John's bus broke down en route to Winona.

St. Mary's is scheduled at Augsburg Wednesday and Gustavus Adolphus plays here Saturday afternoon.

Games with St. Thomas and St. John's will be rescheduled.

Wauwatosa Rink Takes Women's Curling Title

ST. PAUL (AP)—A Wauwatosa, Wis., rink skipped by Mrs. Stuart Tray captured the U.S. women's curling championship Sunday by edging the rink of Mrs. Norman Richards, Skokie, Ill., 19-17 in an extra end match.

Mrs. Sulo Ojakangas, Hibbing, Minn., defeated Mrs. Edward Caferty, St. Paul, 17-4, to win the second event. Mrs. Harvey Marshall, Duluth, downed Mrs. E. L. Roth, Milwaukee, 11-7, for the third event title.

TIME RUNNING OUT

Pipers Best Bet To Stop Bulldogs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Time is running out on the rest of the Minnesota Intercollegiate Conference and it anyone is going to stop Minnesota Duluth's drive toward the championship they'd better start making their move. Hamline (7-2) appears to be in the best position to challenge the Bulldogs (10-0) and the Pipers must face two of the league's better teams this week.

Hamline has three conference games this week, playing at Concordia (5-4) tonight, hosting St. Mary's (2-7) Wednesday night and traveling to St. Thomas (5-3) Saturday night.

Duluth sees conference action twice, going to Gustavus Adolphus (4-5) tonight and then entertaining Concordia Saturday night.

Other games this week: Tonight, Augsburg at Macalester, St. Mary's at Loras, St. Cloud at River Falls.

Wednesday: St. Thomas at St. John's.

Friday: Bethel at Lakeland, Mankato at Moorhead.

Saturday: Gustavus at Augsburg, Macalester at St. Mary's, St. John's at Northland, Bemidji at Winona, St. Cloud at Moorhead.

Duluth ran its MIAC record to 10-0 Saturday night by blasting Macalester 100-66. Concordia trimmed St. John's 71-62. Augsburg dropped St. Mary's 86-68. St. Thomas bowed to Superior 67-64. St. Cloud downed Mankato 81-61 and Bemidji turned back Winona 81-74.

Duluth came within six points of a school scoring record with its total against Macalester. The Bulldogs hit 63 per cent of their shots and were led by Bill Mattson's 25 points.

Augsburg's Lloyd Raymond was top scorer in Saturday games with 27.

Gophers vs. Tough Illini In Bid to End Loss String

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Still hoping to shake a losing streak that now extends through six Big Ten games, Minnesota's Gophers face another stiff assignment tonight at Illinois.

The Gophers absorbed their sixth straight setback here Saturday afternoon, succumbing to Wisconsin's eager young Badgers 94-88 in a regionally televised game.

At the same time, Illinois was whipping Indiana 96-85 to move into a tie for third in the Big Ten with a 3-2 record.

That means the Gophers not only face the prospect of battling a round jump which has brought eight defeats in nine games away from home and a six-game losing skid, but also a formidable Illini team which is on the upswing. Minnesota, now 2-5, seventh in the Big Ten and 6-11 for the season, looked for a time Saturday like it was going to shake out of its slump against surprising Wisconsin.

But the hustling sophomore-Linden Badgers wouldn't stay down and rallied from 11 points behind to chill Gopher hopes once again.

Center Tom McGrath, suddenly blossoming into Minnesota's No. 1 scoring threat, was high for both teams with 24 points, while four other Gopher starters hit in double figures. Ailing Ray Cronk and Eric Magdanz each netted 17, Bob Baleson 13 and Don Lincham 11.

The good scoring balance didn't soothe the sting of defeat for Coach John Kundla, however. "It doesn't mean a thing," he said.

"Some of them shouldn't even have their names mentioned."

Kundla said his team seemed to tire in the late stages and blamed that and poor defense for the defeat.

He planned to start Jim Gilbertson in place of Baleson at guard. Cronk, the team's top rebounder, played with a bad cold and bad tooth and wasn't up to par. The result was a 38-29 whipping on the boards by Wisconsin's shorter youngsters.

Sophomore Don Hearden led the Badgers with 18 points, and another soph, Bob O'Melia, and veteran Ken Siebel each added 17. Tonight's biggest problem at Illinois will be Bill Small. He scored 29 points in the Illini win over Indiana and held high-scoring Jimmy Ray of the Hoosiers to only 18.

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their teeth dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETEX, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Don't sour, check "plain odor" (denture breath). RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — Mild weather was perfect for an estimated 1,000 spectators Sunday but slowed the speed of skiers competing in the Region Two junior championships of the Central United States Ski Association here.

KORY ARNESON of Wisconsin, won the Class Four with 131.6 points and set a new hill record for the 18-meter hill with a leap of 59 feet, three feet better than the old mark.

A total of 111 jumpers competed. Longest jumps of the day were posted by Bill Bakke, Black Hawk Ski Club of Madison. He went 103 and 98 feet to win Class Two with 137.5 points. He also was named most graceful jumper in the competition.

NEEDED 1,500,000 FANS

Braves Lose Money;
First Since Shift

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Braves lost money last year for the first time since they moved to Milwaukee from Boston nine years ago, president John McHale said. But he didn't say how much.

"We needed about 1,500,000 people to break even, and we drew only 1,100,000," McHale said. "If it hadn't been for the expansion effort, we would have lost a lot more."

The Braves collected $425,000 for players taken by the new Houston and New York clubs which will join National League play this season.

McHale said that the Braves had spent $800,000 signing "free agent talent" and another $500,000 operating their 11-club farm system. And as to the regular payroll, McHale said, "we definitely had the highest priced club in the National League."

"You can't break even on any minor club these days," he added. "But we can't continue to spend as much as we did last year on young players. When we were drawing two million fans a year, we were spending tax dollars for players. Now that we're down to one million, we're spending operational dollars."

Based on figures from Milwaukee County on its share of the Braves' profits, the club took in approximately $1.7 million in gate receipts and grossed $725,000 from concessions. In addition, the club received about $275,000 for radio broadcast rights.

The Braves never have released a financial statement of the baseball operation, although it is included in the general statements of the Perini Corp. of Boston, headed by Braves Chairman Lou Perini.

Specials at the Stores 74

Did you hear about the sprinkling can WITHOUT A BOTTOM for people who have artificial flowers? Well, we don't stock those but we do have many unusual values in our basement store and we'd like to tell you about a few of them.

Even if your husband sweats he isn't INTERESTED IN BLONDES

we have one he must mind having around the house. We're warning you it's quite shapely (exact measurements not available), has nice legs (all four of them), and will give you both a great deal of pleasure.

If you haven't guessed by now we are talking about a lovely blond corner table that will certainly be an attractive addition to any room as will this walnut cocktail table. Sorry, does not come.

FULLY EQUIPPED but has been road-tested. Hic, excuse me! And in this corner we have a slightly used gossip bench. Slightly used???? You'd never believe the things it's heard but try as we might we couldn't get it to spill a thing. For the collector we have this genuine antique Deacon's Bench just waiting for some nice, intelligent condition. In fact, it looks so good if you'd like we'll be happy to bang it up a little for you.

We can assure you lots of PLEASANT DREAMS in this Hollywood bed ensemble, complete with headboard, box spring, and mattress. All in very good condition. Also have 34 and twin size rollaway beds, one each, in excellent condition. We have a crib, with mattress, just waiting for a SWEET BABY to make use of it. And now we come to two pole lamps we have. As you know they are the very latest thing in space-saving versatility, the decorator's dream, the look of the future, and I'll be hanged if they didn't even remember to put sockets in for the bulbs. What'll they think of next!!

For the food department in your home we have four used refrigerators. Three with ACROSS THE TOP freezing compartments and all four guaranteed in working condition. Come in assorted sizes, stop now while you have a choice. Did you know that the mercury falls than 40 below zero? That is the point at which your skin nerves stop distinguishing difference in temperature. Some consolation!! Our suggestion is that at 40 below you get your kicks beside this used oil burner.

COMES WITH FAN to distribute the heat, or this small white oil burner that might be just what you need for that extra touch of comfort in your home. For the living room we have 3 two-piece living room sets and 1 three-piece sectional for just $10 each, cash 'n' carry. Each one is a distinctive color, one of them sure to fit in with your scheme of things. Tucked away in the corner we discovered a real old time ice cream freezer, the kind that puts muscle in the arm and made you think you had

ROCKS IN YOUR HEAD for going through all the bother but when you tasted the delicious flavor of that home-made ice cream you knew it was worth it. If the "good old days" are really good, this is one of the things that made them so. One last item on our list of goodies for today, we want to remind you that we usually have a good selection of used bookcases. Protect your investment in the printed word from dust and wear and tear by choosing one of these now... and so taking our MINI-FLAVORED SHOES (for people who keep putting their foot in their mouth) in hand we'll tip-toe back to our basement corner and wait for all you nice folks to drop in...
