Idaho Expects More Flooding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southeastern Idaho braced for more flooding today as damage estimates reached the $5-million mark. Thousands were homeless. Southern California cleaned up after a devastating six-day rain-storm which left a sea of mud and debris, property damage estimated by officials at nearly $1.5 million and 26 storm-related deaths.

Democrat Wins Race In Michigan

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Ryan
He's New Michigan Congressman

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic State Sen. Harold M. Ryan barely squeaked through to victory in special election in Michigan's 14th Congressional District.

So thin was Ryan's margin in a district which Democrats have called their own for the better part of a quarter century that the loser, Republican Robert E. Waldron, also a state legislator, was considering a demand for a recount.

parts of Pocatello, a city of 27,000 in southeastern Idaho. In northern Nevada, U.S. Highway 40 was washed out near Elko. Tracks of the Western Pacific Railroad were flooded. At Battle Mountain, Nev., Southern Pacific Railroad officials refused permission to dynamite the line's tracks, claiming that it was U.S. 40 that was backing up Reese River flood waters. Some citizens dynamited the tracks anyway.

When the flooding Big Horn River in north central Wyoming roared down the town of Greybull, 2,286 residents fled to the hills. However, the crest—caused by two ice jams upstream—was held in check by dikes and the refugees returned to their homes Tuesday night.

High water and ice flows threatened to rip out a bridge across the Green River between Green River, Wyo., and the Flaming Gorge dam construction town of Dutch John in northeastern Utah.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie asked President Kennedy to declare southeastern Idaho a disaster area and provide $250,000 in immediate aid. He put the damage at $5 million.

In Pocatello, thousands joined in the fight to hold back the Portneuf River, which was six feet over flood stage. Fifty thousand sandbags were flown to Pocatello from an Army depot at Stockton, Calif.

At Blackfoot, Civil Defense Director Maynard Taylor said the huge body of water heading toward the city came from the Sand Creek area. It was from that region that water poured down upon Idaho Falls Monday.

A spokesman for the Army Engineers said three streams of water were moving through lowlands between mountain ranges and would empty into the already full Blackfoot River.

J. Col. James S. Keel, Idaho's civil defense director, said that at least 450 homes in Pocatello were awash; 600 were flooded to some degree in Idaho Falls; most of the homes of the 500 persons in Bancroft and 680 in Sugar City, also were flooded. Keel said the major trouble spots were Pocatello and, potentially, Blackfoot.

No severe cold weather was reported in the country but rain, sleet and snow hit sections of the Midwest and East. Up to six inches of snow fell in a six-hour period in Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

The snow-rain-sleet belt extended from the upper Mississippi Valley into much of the Great Lakes region, eastern Pennsylvania, western New York State and northern Maryland.

Secret French Army Bombs Oran Moslems

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—The Secret Army Organization today staged its biggest plastic bomb attack to date in the Moslem quarter of Oran, touching off angry Moslem demonstrations. About 40 bombs exploded, starting several fires which firemen brought under control.

There was no immediate word of casualties, although there were unconfirmed reports that some Moslems had been trapped in bomb-wrecked homes.

Riot police and troops sealed off the quarter and hurled concussion and tear gas grenades at the demonstrators.

Several hours after the bombs went off, grenade explosions and shouts of demonstrators could still be heard. But the riot forces were able to keep the angry Moslems out of European quarters of the city.

Moslems streamed into the streets, some of them panicked. Some were half-dressed and ran shouting through the streets.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie asked President Kennedy to declare southeastern Idaho a disaster area and provide $250,000 in immediate aid. He put the damage at $5 million.

Bad Weather Again Delays Glenn Flight

By BEM PRICE
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A new storm in the eastern Atlantic today threatened to force a ninth postponement of the orbital flight of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., now very tentatively set for Thursday morning.

Glenn, Marine lieutenant colonel, had hoped to get off on his long-delayed triple whirl about the world this morning, but a heavy overcast drifting over the boiling Atlantic forced Project Mercury officials to put it off until 7:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, at the earliest.

A weather advisory issued shortly before 10 a.m. today by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration made it highly uncertain that the historic flight would go Thursday. It was being freely predicted here that it would probably go over until Friday at the earliest.

Officials won't push the button for Glenn's Atlas to rise skyward until assured that weather conditions in the recovery areas won't be too foul. Otherwise there would be danger that the astronaut and his data-filled capsule would be lost in rough seas.

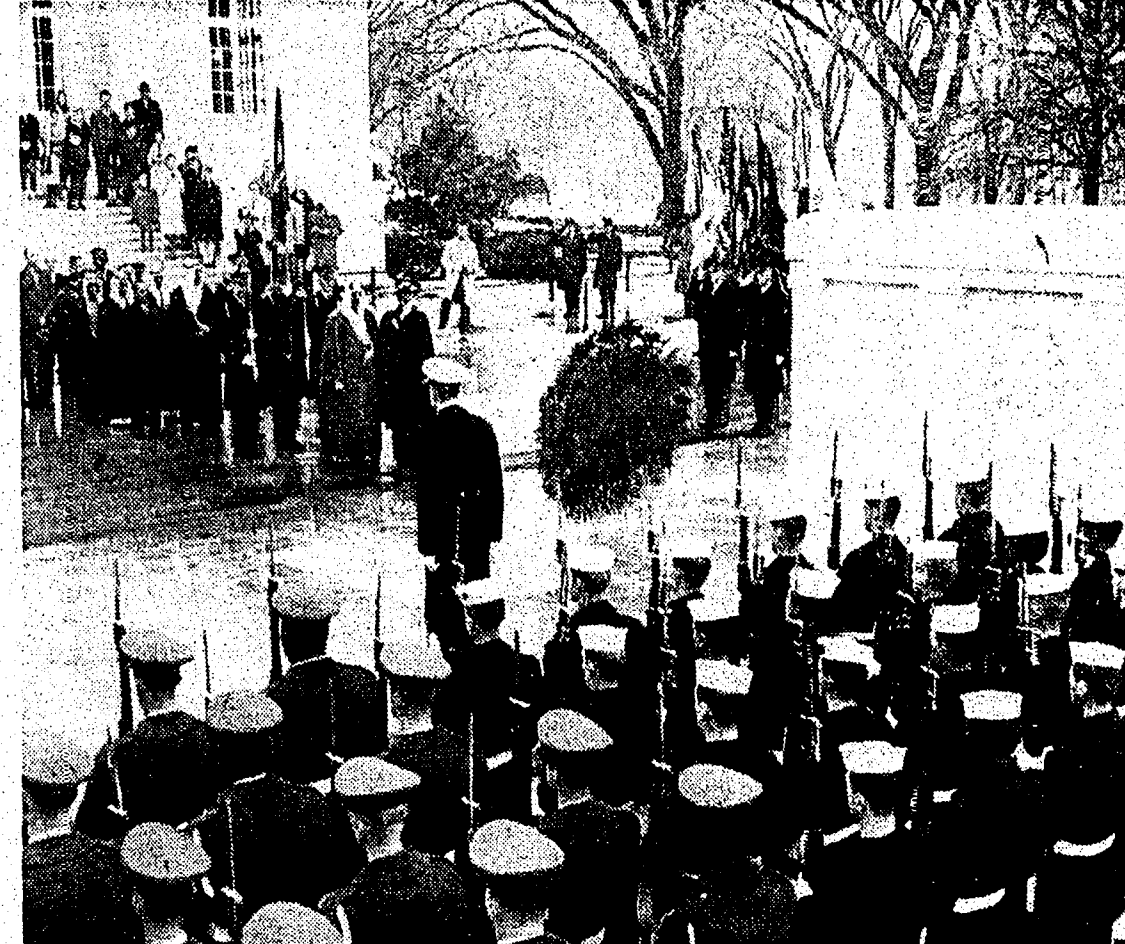

The NASA weather advisory today said: "The intense low pressure trough located just east of Bermuda is still active."

"A new storm center is moving off Cape Hatteras, N.C., this morning, and is forecast to be near Bermuda Thursday morning, with strong winds and rough seas covering much of the area to the east and west of Bermuda."

If Glenn completed only one orbit he probably would be brought down about 500 miles east of Bermuda. After two orbits the plans are for him to alight about 500 miles south of Bermuda, and after three orbits, about 800 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

If the bad weather forecast continues unchanged, the ninth postponement might be announced officially about mid-afternoon today.

The eighth postponement was made known to newsmen shortly after 2 a.m. today.

Bob Kennedy Ducks Egg In Indonesia

By PETER ARNETT
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy talked some more with President Sukarno about Dutch-held West New Guinea today after ducking a fried egg in the first incident of trouble on his visit to Indonesia.

After his talk with Sukarno, the U.S. attorney general and his wife started on a three-day tour of Indonesian hinterlands, including the fabled island of Bali, in a Soviet-built Ilyushin transport plane.

Kennedy was egged as he mounted the stage to address a student assembly at the University of Indonesia. The cold fried egg sailed out of the crowd. He ducked and the missile plopped behind him.

Three students grabbed the youthful thrower and hustled him out to police. Later a spokesman said the youth was not a student and had infiltrated into the hall. His identity was not announced.

The brief incident was missed by most of the assemblage and did not appear to bother Kennedy.

He displayed anger later, however, when students persisted with questions about what the United States would do if negotiations over West New Guinea were broken off.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said today U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers is cooperating voluntarily with government interviewers and eventually will be free to testify to congressional committees and appear at a news conference.

Kennedy opened a news conference with a statement on the case of Powers, who was freed by the Russians Saturday in exchange for U.S. release of Soviet spy Rudolf Abel.

The President declined to say how Powers was brought down while flying a high-altitude U.S. reconnaissance photo plane over Russia on May 1, 1960. He said an answer must await the end of questioning by appropriate government authorities.

In his opening statement, the President said he knew there have been many questions about the release of Abel and of Powers.

He said he is happy Powers is back and that he can add only that Powers is cooperating voluntarily with the government in discussions of important information.

Powers will be free to testify to Congress after the official interrogation and will be made available to the press "at the earliest possible moment," the President promised. There have been numerous demands in Congress for committee interrogation of the pilot.

The President was asked what Powers' status would be after the quizzing. Kennedy said Powers would be a free agent, able to carry on any activity he chose.

Powers and his high-altitude U2 reconnaissance plane crashed 1,200 miles inside Russia. Powers was seized, tried on espionage charges, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to 30 years in prison.

After months of secret negotiations, he was exchanged for Abel, a Soviet master spy, who was convicted in 1957 of stealing U.S. military and atomic secrets and given a 30-year prison sentence.

The trade took place Saturday in the center of a bridge dividing West Berlin from Communist East Germany shortly after dawn.

Clarifying Work Needed, He Tells Nikita

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Soviet Premier Khrushchev today that "much clarifying work" toward disarmament will have to be completed before a summit meeting is possible.

But Kennedy added in a message to the Soviet leader: "This may be necessary in any case before June 1 when a report is to be filed on the progress achieved."

Kennedy told Khrushchev he does not question the usefulness "or perhaps even the necessity of a meeting of heads of government."

He added: "Indeed, I am quite ready to participate personally at the heads of government level at any stage of the conference when it appears that such participation could positively affect the chances of success."

Kennedy referred to the 18 nation disarmament conference scheduled to open in Geneva on March 14.

The U.S. message was delivered to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow today and the British quickly followed with their own answer to Khrushchev's proposal that a summit session of 18 nations start the disarmament negotiations opening in Geneva March 14.

The British proposal was that a summit meeting be held after some progress has been made at a lower level.

The reply from British Prime Minister Macmillan said further that "meetings at the foreign ministers level would be the best instrument for achieving progress at the opening stages" of the Geneva session.

A Western proposal to start at the foreign ministers level was the trigger for Khrushchev's counter suggestion of a summit meeting.

Kennedy's message said that the question is one of timing. He repeated the U.S.-British proposal that the conference open at the foreign minister level.

"I feel that until there have been systematic negotiations—until the main problems have been clarified and progress has been made, intervention by heads of government would involve merely a general exchange of governmental positions which might set back, rather than advance, the prospects for disarmament," Kennedy said.

Kennedy said he was gratified to learn that Khrushchev agreed with the U.S.-British conclusion that heads of government should assume personal responsibility for the success of the forthcoming disarmament negotiations. The question, he said, is how to discharge most usefully that responsibility.

In their original proposal to start the negotiations at the foreign minister level, Kennedy and Macmillan had urged that the chiefs of government assume a personal responsibility for directing the course to be followed by their negotiators. They suggested further that if they agreed in advance to keep the negotiators in session until positive results have been achieved.

"I do not believe that the attendance by the heads of government at the outset of an 18-nation conference is the best way to move forward," Kennedy said today.

The President said he agreed with Khrushchev's observation that a better basis exists now than previously for success of the conference, although substantial differences between the East and West linger on.

As an example, Kennedy cited Soviet unwillingness to consent to allow a disarmament control agency to verify that agreed levels of manpower and armament are not exceeded.

Kennedy said the conference must search for means for overcoming differences by specific disarmament measures.

This does not mean sticking to routine procedures or that heads of government should not take interest in negotiations from the very start, he said.

"It does mean that much clarifying work will have to be done (Continued on Page 19, Column 6) KENNEDY

Cuba Walks Out of OAS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba walked out of the organization of American States today, saying it was not interested in remaining in the Inter-American system.

The Cuban walkout came moments after the president of the OAS council, Alberto Zuleta Angel of Colombia, had recommended that the Punta del Este resolution ousting Cuba from the system be sent to the council's general committee for urgent study.

The foreign ministers of the 21 member states, meeting last month at Punta del Este, Uruguay, adopted a resolution saying that the Cuban regime is incompatible with the Inter-American system and, "This incompatibility excludes the present government of Cuba from participation in the Inter-American system."

Soon after today's OAS meeting opened, Cuban delegate Carlos M. Lechuga walked out. He said the Punta del Este resolution was illegal and that, "We are going to retire anyway, we don't want to remain in this organization."

Powers May Be With Family at U.S. Hideaway

BELLEVUE, Md. (AP)—U2 spy pilot Francis Gary Powers, who dropped out of sight last Saturday, may be holding a reunion with his family at a Chesapeake Bay hideaway owned by the U.S. government.

The 32-year-old Virginian has not been seen since he arrived in the United States after spending 21 months in a Soviet prison. The next day, Sunday, his wife and parents also vanished from the public eye.

The only official word as to their whereabouts was a terse White House statement that Powers "was meeting with members of his family."

There were indications that the reunion was taking place at Ashford Farms, a 150-acre estate overlooking the Choptank River about five miles south of here. Bellevue is a tiny community on Maryland's Eastern Shore about eight miles southwest of Easton, Md.

A blue Chevrolet station wagon, which a reporter saw parked near the luxurious brick mansion on the estate, fits the description of one which met Mrs. Powers at the Ocean City, Md., airport Sunday.

A photograph of Powers released by the White House the day of his return showed two doors in the background. The doors—and their colonial hinges and latches—resembled those of the $75,000 colonial mansion as described Tuesday night by the former owner, who said the government bought the property 10 years ago.

A strong earthquake was recorded today at 1:45 a.m. EST in the area of Concepcion-Temuco, 300 miles south of Santiago.

An official statement said telegraph lines south of Temuco were broken and few details were known.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Junior High System Hit

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

If students seem confused after entering junior high school, don't be too quick to blame growing pains. It may be the system.

Too often our elementary schools are so out of touch with junior high schools that they fail to report on the actual performance of individual students.

The students often are "pigeon-holed" according to I. Q. while a great many actually work at either a higher or lower level than their I.Q. indicate.

Many teachers and administrators have long recognized that something should be done about this.

The town of Issaquah, Wash., for one, is doing something. Issaquah's approach based on the actual performance of students, has breathed new life into its school and is opening the way for real progress by students.

The performance level of students entering Issaquah Junior High is based on such tests as the Iowa Tests of Educational Development and the California Achievement Tests. Entering students are grouped on the basis of these tests in arithmetic, reading and English. Promotion is based on progress in performance as determined by further tests.

There are five levels in each of the grouped subjects. A student can be in a high group in one, a low group in another, and a middle group in the third, if those are the levels at which he performs satisfactorily in the subject.

By making their performance grouping flexible enough to make progress from one group to another possible through better performance, the Issaquah faculty expected increased improvement from many students, and got it.

Over a two-year period, the number below grade level in reading was reduced from 13 percent to 5 percent, in arithmetic from 9 percent to 6 percent, and in English from 20 percent to 2 percent. At the same time, the number above grade level in reading increased from 23 percent to 41 percent, in arithmetic from 17 percent to 32 percent, and in English from 20 percent to 46 percent.

This kind of program sounds both simple and logical, but it is far different from the programs in many junior high schools.

Most students entering the seventh grade are ready and able to do the work expected of them. Many can do more. But far too many can't measure up to expectations.

Again, far too many junior high school administrators and teachers design their academic courses for the lower group. They review everything taught from third grade through sixth grade and spend a year running everyone through it.

For those working at grade level, this is extremely dull. For the

Nothing Above Knee Will Be Permitted

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Women entering the City Association's first annual bowling tournament were taken aback over a rule on proper attire.

Defining proper clothing the rule said: "nothing above the knee will be permitted."

Tournament officials explained hastily that the rule referred to shorts. They must be at least knee length.

minority working above grade level, it is a tragic waste of time. The system used in Issaquah is only one of the many ways of solving these problems. All, however, require something "extra" more teamwork, more effort, and more thought.

It is always easier to continue using a system, even though it doesn't work very well, than to develop a new one that does. What is the system in your school?

Factory Work Decline Noted In January

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department reported today the factory work week declined in January because of a sharp cutback in overtime in the auto industry and less work time in a number of other industries.

The work week declined by seven-tenths of an hour—nearly 45 minutes—to 39.9 hours. The department said the decline was more than seasonal but undoubtedly was largely due to stormy winter weather.

Today's job report elaborated on figures released Jan. 31 showing that employment declined by 14 million to 65 million during January while unemployment rose 572,000 to 4.7 million.

These changes, being not so bad as expected in wintry January, resulted in a decline from 6 to 5.8 per cent in the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate.

If the 5.8 per cent rate continues, officials said, the unemployed total will continue at 4.7 million in February and March and drop to 4.1 million in April and to 4 million in May, then rise again in the summer months as youngsters quit school and look for temporary jobs.

Baby Kinkajou At Bronx Zoo

NEW YORK (AP)—A pair of kinkajous fooled by the Bronx Zoo into thinking day is night have, in turn, presented their keepers with an unexpected surprise. They produced a baby kinkajou.

The kinkajous, gentle little nocturnal animals from south of the border, don't normally breed in captivity. For the sake of visitors who wanted to see nocturnal animals awake, they were placed in a special animal house that has red lights on during the day.

The animals, who can't see red, think night has arrived and go about their normal activities. At night, when the visitors have gone home, the zoo turns on bright white lights so the animals can sleep.

Zoo officials speculate that the arrangements mixed up the kinkajous so much they thought they were at home, and reproduced.

They Play Bingo In Latin at 9th Roman Banquet

Is it permissible to eat dinner with your fingers?

Yes, when you're a guest at the Roman banquet at Winona Senior High School cafeteria sponsored by the Junior Classical League.

Miss Margaret Schummers, Latin teacher at Central Junior High and Winona Senior High, planned the ninth annual banquet Tuesday night and informed guests they'd have to eat most of the dinner with their fingers. That's because the only silver used by the Romans was spoons.

The menu featured Pullus Gallinaceus and Fabae (chicken and beans). The cafeteria was decorated to represent the triclinium or dining room of a Roman house. Kent Gage and Judy Goldberg were the Pater Cenae (host) and wife.

Latin poems were recited describing Roman gods portrayed by the students. When Cheryl Mueller and William Tews, portraying two young children, begged for a bedtime story, Clifford Wankmen, the sun-god Apollo, read "Gallina Parva," the Latin version of "Henly Penny."

Entertainment concluded with the game Clamo (I shout), a Latin version of bingo. Just for fun, of course — no gambling.

Miss Schummers is faculty adviser to the Junior Classical League whose officers follow: Consul Prius (president), Kent Gage; Consul Secundus (vice president), Roger Stover; Scriptor (secretary), Jonelle Millam; and Quaestor (treasurer), Karen Meyers. Program co-chairmen were Judy Goldberg, Michael McMahon and Cheryl Wos.

Guests included James C. Ulum and Charles C. Beckman, respective principals of the Senior and Junior high schools, and their wives.

The family does not know why the 3-year-old police dog, previously a gentle pet, attacked her unless he got excited because of the other children and the sliding, or he thought he was observing her. The dog is under observation.

Diane was brought to the hospital at 4:30 p.m.

He Knows How To Out-Fox 'em

"They're awful inquisitive and that's their downfall," Winona County's champion fox trapper said today in discussing the habits of his fur-coated adversary.

Milton Pfeiffer, Winona, R. 1, collected $732 during 1941 in fox bounties, as reported in the county's annual financial statement published elsewhere in today's Daily News.

IT WAS HIS best year as a fox trapper, but Pfeiffer emphasized that there's little money in trapping. He said the bounty is too low and the expense of operating a car too high to make a profit.

The bounty is $2 for adult foxes and $1 for cubs. Pfeiffer trapped only adult foxes last year—376 of them.

"They're smart," he said of foxes. "If anything is not quite

YOUTH FOUND GUILTY Of Driving Over Line on Street

A youth who admitted making a wide turn because his vision was obscured by a fogged-up windshield was found guilty of driving over the center line this morning in municipal court.

John M. Lepo, 21, Evanston, Ill., was sentenced to a fine of $15 or five days in city jail. He paid the fine.

Municipal Judge S. D. J. Bruski found Lepo guilty when it appeared the arresting officer's testimony was uncontradicted by Lepo's testimony.

Officer Paul Michalowski testified that he arrested Lepo Feb. 11 at 12:05 a.m. for driving over the center line and issued him a warning ticket for driving with obscured vision.

Michalowski said Lepo was going south on Main Street and made a wide right turn to go west on Broadway, driving in the east-bound lane for nearly half a block.

Most of the car's windows, except directly in front of the driver and on the passenger's side, were fogged over, Lepo admitted. He said he made the wide turn because he was afraid he might hit some cars parked along Broadway. Lepo said he did not think he crossed the center line of Broadway.

Assistant City Attorney Roger P. Brosnahan represented the state.

DRIVING WAS made difficult by the coating of ice under the snow and poor visibility.

Above normal temperatures with little or no precipitation is the outlook for Friday.

The Winona temperature rose to 36 Tuesday afternoon before the storm and dropped to 28 during the night. The 7 a.m. reading was 30. Precipitation, including the rain, drizzle and snow, amounted to .12 of an inch. It was 33 at noon today.

Judge Hears Suit Over $1,100 Note

District Judge Arnold Hatfield, Rochester, Tuesday afternoon took under advisement an action by Harold J. Doerer, Winona petroleum products distributor, to recover the balance due on a note for a loan to assist a service station operator establish a station on Service Drive.

At Tuesday's hearing Doerer said that some time ago he loaned Harris C. Gerhardsen $1,500 to start a Phillips 66 station. Doerer is a local Phillips distributor.

When bills and payment on the note became overdue, Doerer alleges, he notified Phillips that he would no longer extend credit to Gerhardsen. The oil firm then hired Gerhardsen as an operator, provided him with an advance to meet obligations and a salary, part of which allegedly was to be used to retire the note.

DOERER HOLDS that a Phillips representative at this time guaranteed repayment of the Gerhardsen note.

Later Gerhardsen left Winona and Doerer is now seeking to recover to balance due—about $1,100—from Phillips.

Phillips contends that it made no arrangements to assume the obligation of Gerhardsen's note.

The firm denies that its representative made the repayment guarantee, says there is no written document to support this allegation and, moreover, if the representative had made such a statement he was not authorized to do so.

Witnesses, in addition to Doerer, were William Feldmeier and Howard Richmond, Minneapolis, and William Chisholm, Rochester, Phillips representatives.

Doerer was represented at Tuesday's hearing by Richard Darby and Phillips by C. Stanley McMahon.

JUDGE HATFIELD Tuesday also heard two quiet title actions.

Both went by default and in each judgments are being entered. The first was brought by Winona National & Savings Bank, as administrator for the estate of Samuel Miller, against St. Charles Creamery and others. The bank was represented by Roger Brosnahan.

The other action was by Leonard Slagge, Winona, against Herman Felds and others. Slagge, too, was represented by Brosnahan.

2 Municipalities Make Complete Tax Payments

If you want a good credit rating, move to Elba Township or Minneapolis.

Mrs. Teresa M. Curbow, Winona County treasurer, has reported those two municipalities are the only ones in the county that have no delinquency on 1940 taxes.

Every other municipality owes the county some money—ranging from a paltry $1.80 in Mt. Vernon Township (.04 percent of the township's $53,325.76 levy) to $28,021.51 or 9 percent of Winona city's $3,025,129.21 levy.

County-wide, only 1.1 percent or $49,007.90 was unpaid on a total levy of $4,529,663.61.

The municipality with the highest percentage of delinquency was Richmond Township where 5.7 percent or $1,493.06 of the $26,310.46 1940 tax levy was unpaid. For rural Winona County, the delinquency was 1.4 percent—$20,986.39 unpaid of a $1,504,534.40 levy.

There's a 10 percent penalty on these unpaid taxes.

Here's the report in detail (cents omitted):

Mayor Lester Brennon's re-appointments to the election board for a two-year period were approved as follows: Paul Van Horn, Benjie Peterson, Alfred Ellikson and Mrs. Argot Bessend, Omer Olson, Paul Lovlien and Allen Knutson.

Fred Elliott, Madison, representing seven area oil companies, protested an ordinance which prohibits transporting oil in more than 1,500-gallon truck capacity. With Wisconsin Petroleum Council, Elliott represented Standard Oil, Ruft represented Standard Oil, Buell represented D-X, Pure, Skelly, Mobil and Shell.

Assistant City Attorney Roger P. Brosnahan represented the state.

THE EXTENDED forecast indicates temperatures for the period of Thursday-through-Monday will average 6-12 degrees above seasonal normals with minor day-to-day changes. Precipitation will average less than .10 of an inch, occurring as occasional brief periods of rain or snow.

County Board Says It Had Wrong Date

The County Board of Commissioners has acknowledged that it made an error in indicating that its new county garage is scheduled for completion next Feb. 1. City Council Harold Briesath said today.

Commissioner Leonard Merchle told him, said President Briesath, that the board's contracts customarily involve working days rather than calendar days; consequently they figured the garage contract's 250 days the same way.

Actually the contract says 250 calendar days, so completion date is about Oct. 1. Merchlewitz said, however, that a steel strike might delay completion.

President Briesath said that the commissioner had indicated a willingness to meet with the aldermen again to discuss the availability and suitability of the present county garage as a garage for Winona Transit Co.

The president said that he had told the commissioner that he feels that at least the two city commissioners on the board should have some interest in helping solve city problems.

The president believes that the county should consider renting its present garage. He added that he would ask the city engineer to make an estimate on the probable cost of any building changes that would be required for Winona Transit use.

Hearing Waived In Theft Case

A St. Paul youth charged with auto theft waived preliminary hearing this morning in municipal court and was bound over to District Court for further proceedings under $500 bail.

David A. Clemens, 21, was taken to county jail to await his next court appearance after failing to post bond.

Clemens was represented by a District Court-appointed attorney, John D. McGill. Assistant County Attorney Richard Darby represented the state. Municipal Judge S. D. J. Bruski presided.

Police arrested Clemens Feb. 5 at 6:31 p.m. at Wabasha Street and Drury Court after officers spotted him driving a car reported stolen from C. Paul Venables, Inc., car lot, 2nd and Washington streets, only 36 minutes earlier.

The youth appeared in municipal court last Wednesday and asked the court to appoint an attorney because he has no funds.

Buffalo Co. Cancer Quota Up to $3,335

MONDOVI, Wis.—Buffalo County's 1942 Cancer Crusade quota has been set at $3,335, which is higher than last year.

The Wisconsin quota is $300,000, or $300,000 more than last year. Because of the cancer research center in Madison, more money is spent in Wisconsin than is raised here.

Allen Duncanson, Mondovi postmaster, has been re-named county chairman of the crusade, which is conducted in April throughout the county.

It Happened Last Night He Believed Jayne Mansfield Story

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Rita Hayworth was seeing N. Y. night life with agent George Wood. A friend suggested, "Why don't you take her to the Copacabana to see Dick Haynes open with his wife Fran Jeffries?"

Shelley Green, opening brilliantly at Basin St. East with great star Billy Daniels, told of a golfer who arrived home explaining to his wife that a fellow golfer, Elmer, had died on the course of a heart attack.

"And it was hit the ball and drag Elmer, hit the ball and drag Elmer, all afternoon."

I was one who believed the Jayne Mansfield story. But Corbett Monica was funny at the Copacabana. "Everybody says it's a publicity stunt just because she was in a boat with a mink coat over her bikini." She swam two miles, she's got a fabulous breast stroke. Monica also asked, "What's the excitement about Frank Sinatra getting engaged? A Gary Morton he's not!"

Also, "In Hollywood you have to study diction. You have to be able to ask a guy to dinner and to mean it."

Sabrina's "fiance," Sonny King, claims he may not even see her any more since her "engagement announcement," but she won't want for guys. Rita Gam was looking soulfully at a good-looking guy at the Copacabana. Frank Sinatra, movie-making at Jilly's bar, chanced to see a 6-foot blowup of ex-Miss Tennessee, Micky Wayland next door at "New Faces"—and he said, "She looks like Ava Gardner"—just what Producer Leonard Silberman's been saying.

JACK WARNER went to a party of comedians at Buddy Hackett's at Palisades, N. Y., and met Comedian Marty Allen. "I'm with Warner Brothers," the Hollywood tycoon said. "Yeah?" said Allen. "What kind of an act do you and your brothers do?" Warner, amused, reached into his pockets for proof of his position and couldn't find any. Allen and partner Steve Rossi are bringing out a hilarious ABC-Paramount album, "Hullo, Dere!"

The American Society of Girl Watchers is putting out an "official compliment card" which members can hand to beautiful and shapely strangers on subways, buses, etc. On the card are the words: "You have the most beautiful. I have ever seen—along with a drawing of a girl, and places to mark X. The member then signs the card, hoping the girl will smile instead of slapping him."

CHARLTON Heston—in Wash'n to present a replica of an "El Cid" sword to Lyndon Johnson—happened to mention JFK. He was immediately driven in the Veep's limousine to the White House, where JFK greeted him and picture publicist Al Tamarkin in the Cabinet Room and flabbergasted them with his detailed knowledge of Show Biz. JFK even mentioned an ad for the picture he'd seen in a woman's magazine. "Biggest smash since Mary Martin," they're saying in Philly of Anita Gillette who sings a wicked, sexy song in "All-American."

Valentine's Day Time to Change Your Marriage

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Lady, has your marriage become dull, routine and—let's admit it—a bit boring?

Does your husband turn an obedient and absent-minded cheek toward you when you kiss him goodbye as he starts off to work in the morning?

Well, lady, maybe it isn't altogether his fault that your life together is something less than one long glad sweet song. Maybe you're at fault, too—staring at the thought may be.

Valentine's Day is a good time to change all that.

The way to change this dreary situation, lady, is not to ask yourself what your husband ought to do for you on Valentine's Day—but to see what you can do for him.

What can a wife do at Valentine's time to bring back that old love-light in her husband's eyes? How can she woo him to a new appreciation of her timeless charms?

Well, there are many ways. Give him an extra dime for lunch.

Surprise him with a present. He has probably hidden in the back of the closet that rainbow-colored necktie you gave him for Christmas. Dig it out, wrap it in a fancy box, and give it to him all over again. He won't remember you gave it to him before. Every man tries to forget the Christmas ties he receives. Anyway, it isn't the value of a gift that counts—it's the spirit behind it.

Send him a mushy Valentine, but don't ruin it by signing it with your own name. Sign the name of the girl that jilted your husband in high school. That'll send the old boy's blood pressure up 40 points.

Best of all, dress up in your slinkiest dress. Cook your husband's favorite meal, toast him with champagne.

After dinner, adjourn to the living room. Light a log fire—or, if you don't have a fireplace, turn up the thermostat. Sit your husband in a comfortable sofa, turn down the lights, stick a four-bit cigar in his mouth, and run your fingers lovingly through his hair—if he has any left.

Now cuddle up at his feet and softly read to him from a book of love poems. When he begins to snore, cover him with a blanket and let him sleep on the sofa all night.

When your husband goes to his office next morning he'll tell everybody, "Guess what happened last night? My wife went out of her ever-loving mind!"

But he'll remember your romantic Valentine evening together—and brag about it—as long as he lives.

Drain canned peaches and put a spoonful of maple syrup in each cavity. Heat in the oven and serve with vanilla ice cream.

English Kennel Purchased

An English kennel containing 24 retrievers, mostly Black Labradors like the one pictured above, was purchased and transported to St. Paul by Mrs. Grace Lambert, Princeton, N. J., last week. Bill Wunderlich, former local trainer, met the consignment of retrievers when the Queen Elizabeth docked in New York and the dogs are now housed in North Oaks Kennels, one of the largest kennels in the Northwest which Wunderlich now manages.

Mrs. Lambert, internationally-known in retriever circles, has entered dogs in many of the trials here and has attended several of them. She had three open-age dogs in the last July trials of the Tri-State Hunting Dog Association.

Wunderlich has a string of 12 retrievers in the big West Coast retriever circuit at the present time. He joined an assistant there for the trials weekends.

Bill became manager of the kennels last fall, taking over from Robert Speer who was kennel director there for the last six years. Speer retired and moved to Red Wing. Bill gave up the management of the Rockbend Kennels, Fredonia, Wis., to take the new directorship.

Wunderlich's life is one of the great success stories in dogdom. It all started when Ralph G. Boalt gave him a pup to train when he was 14 years old. Ralph drilled him on how to train a dog on the old Watkins chicken farm along Sarnia Street. In a year or two he had a string of dogs in training in a makeshift kennel on Prairie Island. Residents complained about the dogs barking at night, and the City Council chased him off the island. He later built a modern kennel, still in use, on the old Minnesota City road.

Wunderlich, now 42, has trained national champions and also has the enviable record of handling 23 different champions in AKC-sanctioned field trials. He was a K-9 instructor during World War II.

For several years after the war he operated the Wallace Kennels at St. Louis owned by the man whose dog he handled to the national championship. He moved to Fredonia in 1960.

During his career he has handled dogs owned by many celebrities of the entertainment and industrial world, including such screen stars as Andy Devine, Dale Evans and Roy Roberts, Robert Taylor, Jerome Mayo (a Warner Bros. Studio director), and Mrs. Lambert of the pharmaceutical firm.

While at Fredonia he began handling Cherokee, a black Labrador owned by Charles C. Cook of White Bear Lake, which has already won two field trial championships. When Cook heard that Speer was planning to retire, he urged Wunderlich to move to Minnesota and take over the North Oaks Kennels, which is considered to have one of the finest dog-training facilities and grounds in the Midwest.

To head up his bird dog and retriever training work, Wunderlich has brought in Richard Boyce, 29, Oshkosh, Wis., who was with him at Fredonia. Boyce, who has been handling dogs for 11 years and already has had field trial winners in both pointing breeds and retrievers in New York state and southern Illinois, will have direct charge of this segment of the kennel operation.

He and Mrs. Wunderlich and their three children have moved into the ranch-type home adjoining the kennel property, previously occupied by the Speers. The kennels is located at 500 West County Road 1, about a block east of TIF 49. The kennel property adjoins North Oaks Farms and the North Oaks residential community.

Iowa Fishing
Fishing regulations effective March 1 was announced this week by the Iowa Conservation Department. The basic regulations remain unchanged, such as a continuous open season in boundary waters and year-around trout fishing. Iowa is one of the few states still operating on seasons such as March 1 to March 1, instead of the end of year schedule like Minnesota and Wisconsin or Jan. 1 to Jan. 1.

DEAR ABBY:

Hubby Talks In His Sleep

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Is a person responsible for what he says in his sleep? My husband talks in his sleep. A few times he has mentioned women's names, but when I say anything to him he says he doesn't remember dreaming about any women. He says he is not responsible for what he says in his sleep. Is he right? I don't believe he is. I believe he is responsible for what he says in his sleep. I believe he is responsible for what he says in his sleep. I believe he is responsible for what he says in his sleep.

THOUGHTLESS: If your husband behaves well when he is awake, don't worry about what he says in his sleep.

DEAR ABBY: In 1959 I sent a necktie to an elderly uncle for Christmas. I had this tie around the house for some time (still in its original plain white box and tissue), and had forgotten where it came from. It looked like an old man's tie and my husband wouldn't wear it.

Well, for Christmas, 1960, this old uncle sent the tie to my husband saying it was the same tie he had given him for Christmas in 1958. I guess it must have LOOKED like my uncle because I thoughtlessly sent it back to him for Christmas, 1961! I know it was a foolish mistake, but we send about 100 gifts every year and I honestly forgot the history of this tie. We haven't heard from this uncle and I wonder if we shouldn't write and apologize? He must think we're crazy.

Abby

DEAR THOUGHTLESS: I hope you and your uncle have a sense of humor. If I were you I would send him a box of matches and tell him to burn up the tie to put it out of circulation.

DEAR ABBY: A few boys came over unexpectedly last night. It was about nine o'clock and I had on my flannel pajamas and a woolen bathrobe, so I didn't see anything wrong with appearing before them in what I was wearing. They only stayed about an hour and we just sat around and talked. After they left my mother gave me the dickens. She said no respectable girl would entertain boys in her night-clothes. Abby, I was wearing ten times as much as I would have been had I been on a swimming party with them. Will you please help me explain this to my mother?

FIFTEEN AND RESPECTABLE

Scouts Honored At Spring Grove

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special) — A record number of parents and members of the Men's Lutheran Brotherhood of Trinity Lutheran Church were at a Boy Scout court of honor at the church Monday evening. The Brotherhood sponsors the troop. There are 37 boys in the troop, one of the all-time highs. Scoutmaster Harold Wright recognized Scouts Jeff Roverud, John Foss and Roger Lansverk for their assistance. Larry Johnson spoke about summer camp.

THE COURT OF Honor opened with Larry Johnson leading the pledge of allegiance. Owen Foss was master of ceremonies for the candlelight services.

John Foss escorted the Scouts who received their tenderfoot badges. He and Wright presented them to Bruce Solie, Gary Ingvalson and Mark Omsgard. Leonard Skaalen presented second class awards to Dennis Onstad, Ronald Oster, Craig Lansverk, Gary Solie, Bruce Oster and Bruce Anderson. Wilhelm Oster presented first class awards to Charles Sylling, Dennis Onstad, Gaylord Anderson and John Dooley.

Ivan Dahle presented the Star award to Larry Johnson. Ernest Schmidt presented the Life Scout award to Eric Evenson. James Evenson presented the Gold Palm award to Eagle Scout Jeff Roverud. Alfred Sylling presented a special award to Eagle Scout John Foss for attending an Eagle Scout camp on forestry in Wisconsin last year.

Merit badges were presented to Eric Evenson, Larry Johnson, Rolf Hanson, John Dooley, Ronald Oster, Tony Elton and Charles Sylling.

For citizenship month, a mock election was held at the previous meeting. Results were: Eric Evenson, mayor; Larry Johnson, Rolf Hanson and Steven Thorson, trustees; Alan Thorson, clerk; Peter Skaalen, treasurer; John Dooley and Steven Blegen, constables; Craig Lansverk and Greg Roverud, justices of the peace; and Bruce Oster, assessor. They will attend a village council meeting.

Miniature Scout badges were presented to mothers present. Charles Roverud and Ernest MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — Juliana Renee Wood, 4½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph O. Wood, Mondovi, will undergo open-heart surgery at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, June 22 to correct a condition of Tetralogy of Fallot.

That's what is commonly known as "blue baby." Its four major characteristics are:

An opening in the wall between the ventricles, which permits the blood of the two sides to mix; a shifting of the aorta to the right so that instead of rising out of the left ventricle alone, its openings are placed over part of both ventricles and it takes blood from both; a narrowing of the pulmonary artery, which hampers the flow of blood toward the lungs for aeration and an enlargement of the right ventricle.

The completion of the operation will bring an end to the tinge of blue found around her lips which has been present since birth.

Although Julie has heart disease since birth, she remains active.

Her day usually begins around 8 a.m. when she starts playing with her two younger sisters, Kristen and Elizabeth. Although she is at times out of breath and is forced to rest in a squatting position, she still manages to keep ahead of the girls.

When she was 4 she entered her Sunday School class and manages to attend as often as possible with no apparent difficulty.

Julie is looking forward to the time when she can enter into full-time play with the neighborhood children and is eagerly writing to enter kindergarten in the next school term.

Julie's operation is one of the many being done throughout the U.S. Research financed by contributions to the Heart Fund has made such surgery possible.

Pastors Asked To Support Watkins Home

Methodist ministers from Southeastern Minnesota agreed here Monday afternoon to support the Paul Watkins Memorial Methodist Home by inviting prospective residents from their congregations to dine at the home and inspect facilities.

Sixty-four ministers and wives met at the home's Manor House during the morning for a report on operation of the home. Then they toured Florence Hall, the new wing, lunched in the dining room and completed plans to have prospective residents visit the home.

THE REV. Horace A. Graubner, home administrator, told the clergymen there's a total of 20 residents in the Manor House and Florence Hall—only 24 percent of the home's maximum capacity of 95. The Rev. Mr. Graubner said to operate in the black the home would need a minimum residency of 87 percent or 72 persons.

"We are not a hospital—neither are we a nursing home," the Rev. Mr. Graubner said. "We accept people who are well for their age. They can be in a wheelchair, or have other disabilities but they should not have a communicable disease or be in need of immediate hospitalization. They should be able to care for themselves."

"We want people who are interested in life—interested in arts and crafts, for example. We start at the young age of 62. The average age among our 20 residents is 81 and the age range is from 62 to 88."

HARRY M. Reynolds, Winona, former president of the home and now second vice president, said:

"A resident can enter the home just by paying the monthly charge. There are no entrance fees or other charges."

"People shouldn't regard this as a haven in time of physical disability. People say they can now take care of themselves so they're not interested in coming here. But they may be unable to care for themselves later and then they won't be admitted."

Lloyd E. Deilke, Winona, secretary, said:

"This is a nice home but it's not a luxury or de luxe home as some people think."

Dr. George Butters, Rochester, Southeastern District superintendent for the Methodist church, said: "People think of this as a district home but it's a conference home. We even have a resident from Washington state."

The regional Methodist Conference consists of Minnesota. Dr. Butters presided at the meeting.

WILLIAM M. Hull, Winona, first vice president, said:

"As Methodists I'm sure you will be extremely proud that this is your home."

The Rev. Mr. Graubner introduced his secretary, Mrs. Sue Blumberg, who helped conduct the ministers' tours of the new wing.

Florence Hall has four two-room apartments and 79 single apartments of varying size. Each apart-

Ace Telephone Installs 7,000th Phone at Canton

CANTON, Minn. (Special) — Rowly Erickson, manager of Canton exchange, installed Ace Telephone Association's 7,000th telephone in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sexton on their farm south of Canton.

Mr. and Mrs. Sexton have occupied the farm 21 years, and this is their first telephone. Neighbors to the east have manual service from Burr Oak, Iowa, and to the west from Cresco, Iowa. The Sextons were between and between until they joined the neighbors and petitioned Ace Telephone to provide them with modern dial telephone service from Canton.

To commemorate the occasion the Sextons were presented with a telephone in the color of their choice and two 5-minute long distance calls to anywhere in the United States.

"This is another milestone in the growth of our association," commented R. W. Bunke, manager of Ace Telephone. "Eleven years ago we owned one exchange with 104 telephones; now we own 16 with 7,000 telephones. However, rest assured that we have no intention of resting on our laurels. A day doesn't go by that something isn't being done or planned to make our service better. Our future lies with people like the Sextons, like Canton and all our other exchanges, and we intend to do everything possible to make that future bright."

Pepin Man Planning Flying Club, Airstrip

PEPIN, Wis. — The owner of a four-place Piper Tri-Pacer airplane, delivered here recently and kept on Lake Pepin ice temporarily, has plans for a flying club. Lyman Manor, a licensed pilot, has owned planes previously and supervised flying at the old airport owned by Loren Seifert. Manor will move his plane there in the spring. Plans are being made to reopen the airstrip.

Manor, pointing out there is no landing field between Winona and Twin Cities, says the strip will give air travelers a place to stop and relax at the Recreation Center or go fishing or hunting.

Shell dealers suggest 10 ways to cut car repair bills

Your car is probably the second biggest single investment you'll ever make. Here are 10 pointers from Shell that can help you protect that investment. They're easy to follow. And they might well save you a lot of trouble, as well as needless expense.

- 1. Check your cooling system hose for weak spots. Inspect all of the rubber hoses that interconnect your cooling system. If they are cracked, cut or swollen, they could give way at any time and cause engine temperature to soar. The result: a troublesome breakdown. Less serious, but a potential cause of overheating, is a debris-clogged radiator. Ask your Shell dealer to use his air hose to clear away clutter on the outside of your radiator.
- 2. Touch up scratches before rust sets in. You can discourage the spread of rust by using touch-up paint on body scratches. Rust also likes to plug drainage holes on the underside of car doors and body panels. Keep those holes open (a screwdriver or any pointed instrument works fine) and you may well prevent a rusted-through door or body section.
- 3. Avoid 100-foot trips. It's a mean trick to start a cold car, drive it just a few feet, then turn it off. Yet people often park in front of their homes, then drive into the garage later on. This can increase engine wear, dilute your oil with unburned fuel and give sludge more chance to form. If at all possible, drive right into the garage when you arrive home.
- 4. Look for oil streaks on inner walls of tires. It may take a bit of back-bending, but it's well worth the effort to check the side of your tires you seldom see—the side facing in. If there's any sign of leaking fluid on tire walls, tell your Shell dealer. A leaking brake cylinder or rear axle oil seals could be at fault. Either can lead to extensive repairs if not corrected right away.
- 5. Obey the cardinal rule of car care. A professional lubrication job is still the best way to keep your car in good health. But it should be done on a regular basis—not "every so often." For safety's sake, Shelllubricate every 1000 miles. If your car has an automatic transmission, your transmission fluid level should be checked regularly. Your Shell serviceman can do this for you during Shelllubrication.
- 6. Never "gun" your car to warm up your engine. It doesn't help a bit. Matter of fact, it can do more harm than good, even increase engine wear. Many drivers also think it's worthwhile to idle their cars on a cold morning. But, with today's modern engines, it isn't necessary. It just wastes gasoline. Far better to start your engine, wait a few seconds until it's running smoothly—then be on your way, but at moderate speed.
- 7. Check a terribly neglected little accessory. People seldom give their windshield wipers a second thought—except when it rains. But wipers wear out too. Instead of wiping your windshield, they can smear and scratch it. Wiper blades are easy to replace—but windshields aren't. Ask your Shell dealer to check your blades and wiper arms next time you see him.

8. Get a midwinter anti-freeze check.

If you've had to add water to your radiator in the last few months, you may have less anti-freeze protection than you think. Let your Shell dealer check your coolant with a hydrometer—to make sure an extra cold night won't cause trouble. Reminder: If you got a Shellzone anti-freeze guarantee this winter, you're entitled to free refills, if necessary, until April 1, 1962.

9. Don't let front wheels hit the curb.

Banging front wheels against the curb is tough on wheel alignment—and tires too. So, approach the curb carefully when you park. This sounds like a small thing, but it can help prevent costly front end problems. Suggestion: look at the tread on your front wheels right now. If they show uneven wear, your front wheel alignment may need attention.

10. Give your car an occasional change of scenery.

A steady diet of city driving adds to the combustion deposits inside your engine. This deposit buildup can reduce your car's power and, eventually, may cause trouble. But many of the deposits that come with city driving will fly out the exhaust when you hit the open road. So, take your car for a turnpike drive this weekend. It can be good exercise for it. And a pleasant afternoon for you.

McNamara Right In Upholding Principle

SENATOR THURMOND has sought to give the impression that there is something improper and underhanded about Defense Secretary McNamara's refusal to tell which Pentagon speech reviewers "censored" this or that speech. He is mistaken. McNamara is upholding a principle that has been a fundamental bulwark for the United States system of government since the government was established.

This principle is that the separate branches of our government are equal in importance, and that a general balance of power should be maintained. It is implicit in this concept that one branch must not usurp the prerogatives of another. Such a usurpation would take place if the executive branch, in which McNamara plays a key role, were to accede to Thurmond's insistence.

THERE HAS BEEN some confusion as to the precise nature of the controversy. Casual readers of news accounts may have concluded that there is a security question involved, that the loyalty of some of the speech reviewers is under fire. Thurmond himself admits that this is not the case. Nor is it true that the subcommittee has been denied the names of the speech reviewers; they have been named, and a number of them have been examined by the Senate group in executive sessions.

What Thurmond wanted to know was which individual reviewer had made this or that change in an officer's speech. It was on this point that McNamara—or rather the President—invoked executive privilege. By doing so, the Secretary of Defense himself assumed full responsibility for any changes that were made in speeches.

THIS IS AS IT should be. If there is to be congressional pressure to change policy on speeches by military officers, that pressure should be applied to the responsible officials and not to their underlings who merely carry out policy.

Let's Do Something About 'Conflicting Claims'

THE NEW FEDERAL budget is the biggest in peacetime history, and beats all but one of the wartime ones. It is described as a budget for economic growth, and certainly there is unanimous agreement that economic growth must improve if we are to have full employment, a rising standard of living, and cold war strength.

Yet, a close examination of the document fails to turn up any budget proposal that would do anything for economic growth. Quite the contrary. Once more the federal government proposes to drain away more of the people's income to be devoted to a variety of projects to serve the interests of many special groups of our citizens at the expense of all the others.

Federal spending, it is clear to the experts, is not an addition to our national income. The government draws the money from the resources of the taxpayers, before it can spend them. If the taxpayers, who earned the money, were allowed to keep more of it, the money would be spent anyway.

PART OF IT, the taxpayers would spend for the things their families want and need more than they want and need government programs. The rest they would save. What they save would be invested, and invested money is spent for new productive facilities—which constitute economic growth. These new facilities require new workers, and this is the most direct approach to the unemployment problem.

Largely because of government tax and spend policies, investment has been skidding in America while other countries have been stepping up their own.

From 1957 through the first half of 1961 this is what happened:

Our gross national product increased 15 percent. Wages and salaries in cash and benefits increased 16 percent. Government spending at all levels increased by a hefty 23 percent.

But corporate profits declined 4 percent. And investment declined by nine percent.

THIS IS A serious national problem—one that does not require a new bureau, but cries out for income tax rate reform. President Kennedy, in his budget message, spoke of the "conflicting claims on our national resources." Investment is one of those claims, and should take precedence over more spending programs.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

Argues for Cold War Victory

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

I was not advocating the immediate inauguration of a shooting war in my proposals to the Air War College in 1960 and again in 1962.

I'm confident the military men in my audiences understood that.

Those of us who argue for a policy of victory in the cold war argue for the only policy that can insure against war and the only policy that can guarantee the future of freedom.

Our very failure to proclaim victory as our purpose is of and by itself a defeat for the side of freedom. It amounts to an open admission that we do not know what we are doing, that we believe communism is something less than a Godless conspiracy of force and violence and terror.

This singular lack in our policy stance denotes timidity and reluctance to make the proper use of our power in a world where strength is the one recognized common denominator.

We are the world's most powerful nation, both economically and militarily, yet we feel exposed, insecure and unsure. With the other leading free nations we have formed alliances which are capable of almost any endeavor, but we find ourselves losing one position after another throughout the world. Free men everywhere have shown repeatedly through word and deed that they do not want to live under communism. And yet the Communist forces have engulfed hundreds of millions of human beings.

WHY HAS this happened? Why are we losing? Why are we paralyzed in a posture of global ineffectiveness?

The answer is that we've prepared our defense and offense for one kind of war while the enemy is fighting a totally different kind of war—a war for which we as yet have devised no over-all design or strategy.

Our wars in the past have all sprung from clashes of interest between nations. They've involved international power rivalries and have concerned all the ingredients of such power—things like boundaries, territories, armaments and prestige. In these conflicts, military war became the ultimate ratio of power. A shooting war was meant to lead ultimately to peace, that is, to the re-establishment of normal relations with the enemy countries. Consequently, these wars were never total in the sense they aimed at relative power and not at the enemy's actual existence.

WE'VE DONE all the conventional things. We've strengthened our military system, evolved alliances with our friends, sought to contain the enemy and to out-manuever him at the conference table. We've done everything but understand how to use our power in a new kind of war.

We are losing the struggle today because we are mistaking both the enemy and the cold war for something they are not. The conflict in which we are engaged is not limited to a dispute between great nations over boundaries and territories. The Communists aim their war at the social, economic, political and military fiber of all non-Communist societies. It is their intention to overwhelm and destroy Western civilization.

How do you stand, sir?

'HEY! ANYBODY WANT TO WATCH ME SHOOT AN ARROW?'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Nikita Wants Friendship With U.S., Fears Red China

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When I talked to Premier Khrushchev on the shore of the Black Sea last summer, I asked him when he would invite President Kennedy to Moscow. He replied: "After Berlin is settled. Then we will invite President Kennedy to Moscow and give him the greatest reception in history."

When I reported this, plus my belief that in the person of Nikita Khrushchev the United States had an important potential friend, a storm of abuse was heaped on my head from right-wing quarters. I had also reported that Khrushchev might have more problems with the Red Chinese than with the U. S. A.

About six months have now passed, and recent events in Moscow, Peking and Washington are worth diagnosing to see just what has been happening along this line.

The walk-out of the Red Chinese from the 22nd Communist Party Congress last October is one well-known significant event. Not so well known, but equally significant, has been the withdrawal of Soviet technical advisers from China. This is a mass evacuation of some 3,000 experts who had been training the Chinese to operate factories, science laboratories, and state farms. Along with their exit has been cut off technical aid hitherto totaling several millions annually.

ALSO IMPORTANT have been the cartoons and editorials in Peking newspapers depicting Khrushchev as a buffoon and referring to him in veiled terms as a "revisionist"—the Communist jargon for traitor. He has also been referred to indirectly as "imperialistic and reactionary," the same phrases used against the West.

At first Kennedy's conservative advisers inside the State Department were inclined to minimize the Chinese-Russian split. Some even described it as an attempt to fool the West.

As events have progressed, however, even these heads-in-sand ostriches have admitted that vital revolutionary changes are taking place inside the Communist world and that a power struggle is on between Khrushchev and Red China which would be disastrous for the United States if Khrushchev lost.

THE BATTLE is not unlike that inside the U. S. A. which finds the American right wing viciously attacking the liberal-moderate lineup behind the Kennedy administration. The right wing in the U. S. A. believes in preventive war. The right wing in the Communist world believes in the inevitability of war between capitalism and communism. It violently disagrees with Khrushchev regarding coexistence.

The cleavage inside the Communist world has cut deep. On the side of the Red Chinese in favor of war are the North Koreans, the North Vietnamese, the Indonesian Communists, and, it's reported, some of the East Germans. Inside the Kremlin, Khrushchev is reported having trouble from the diehard Stalinists of which Molotov was the leader; possibly also a segment of the Red Army.

On the more moderate side, the satellite countries, plus the Communist parties in France and Italy, all support Khrushchev.

AT ONE POINT the controversy was so hot that the American embassy in Warsaw received a suggestion from Polish leaders that a gesture of Kennedy support for Khrushchev's policy of coexistence would be appreciated. The implication, reading between the lines, was that, without some such gesture, Khrushchev might be in trouble.

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

Relations Back To 'Normal'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The American people were not fooled by the self-righteous attitude assumed by Premier Khrushchev as he demanded an "apology" from the President of the United States when Francis Gary Power was forced down in his U-2 plane in May 1960. The Soviet premier used the incident as an excuse to break up the "summit" meeting in Paris and to cause a further estrangement in the relations of the two countries as he added tension to an already serious crisis in world affairs.

But now, as the Soviet government officially exchanges its own master spy, Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel, for the American pilot, the question may well be asked: "Who has apologized to whom?"

It will be recalled that the then senator from Massachusetts, John F. Kennedy, as he campaigned for the presidential nomination in the spring of 1960, said that he would have expressed "regret." This was construed by many as the equivalent of an apology. Few people could have foreseen that it would become Mr. Kennedy's function as President about 21 months later to approve the exchange of two prisoners in what now is being interpreted in Moscow at least as a move toward the betterment of relations between the two countries.

The case of Col. Abel was not emphasized very much at the time of the crash of the U-2. It was not generally realized that he began his spying in 1958 at just about the same time that the secret U-2 flights were begun. Abel was arrested in the summer of 1957 after one of his aides defected. He was convicted and sentenced to 30 years in prison. The Soviet government said it was "having nothing to do with the case." From that day to this, it has not acknowledged that he even worked for the Russian government. Today, however, the Soviet government is put in the position of officially acknowledging its own spy who actually stole American defense and atomic secrets. The deception hasn't worked.

FOR, DURING the entire time that the Soviet premier was renouncing Powers as a spy — though he never did more than photograph from the air as the Russians have been doing — the Soviet government was maintaining a comprehensive spy system on the ground in this and other Western countries.

It is interesting to note that the negotiations for the release of the American pilot began in June 1960, when his father wrote to Abel and the latter suggested that contact be made with a lawyer in East Germany. This was the forerunner of the now successful negotiations.

Some embarrassments may flow from the whole affair. Pilot Powers will be interrogated intensively and in secrecy as to why he didn't destroy his own plane and give his life so as to prevent capture. He may have a good explanation. He will be asked whether it is true, as the Russians claim, that he was shot down at a height of 13 miles by a Soviet rocket and, if so, how it happened that his plane was virtually intact and exhibited later by the Russians. The CIA has insisted that the plane encountered mechanical trouble and was flying at a height of only two or three miles when forced down. The biggest risk the Russians knew they would incur was that Powers, if released, would tell the whole truth. But they evidently so much wanted Col. Abel released that they were willing to pay the price.

THE NEW development, incidentally, makes a certain report by the majority of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee filed on June 25, 1960, look somewhat embarrassing. In a speech by its chairman, Sen. Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, Mr. Eisenhower was pilloried for taking public responsibility for the U-2 flights being conducted by the CIA. Mr. Fulbright said:

"The gravest mistake was made when the President assumed responsibility for the flight. It seems clear to me that, if chiefs of state begin the practice of personally admitting the violation of each other's sovereignty the orderly conduct of international affairs will quickly become impossible — as, indeed, it did become in Paris last month."

But in June 1960 it wasn't known that the Democratic party's presidential candidate would be elected president in November and that within a few months thereafter he would be assuming personally the complete responsibility for "invasion" of the "sovereignty" of Cuba in another secret operation with which the CIA was identified.

THERE REMAINS, moreover, the broader and more significant question which the majority of the Senate Foreign

Letters To The Editor

"Soak the Rich" Pure Political Malarkey

To the Editor:

I feel compelled to reply to the letter of Gerald F. Swanson in which he criticized W. F. W.'s editorial comments on government finance.

First, Mr. Swanson seems to be laboring under the impression that corporations are inanimate things that somehow spout out taxes. He should realize that corporations do not pay taxes. They merely act as tax collectors for the Internal Revenue Service. Taxes are one of the largest costs of production. These taxes must be, and are included in all prices. The public pays the prices which include the taxes. Then the corporation merely delivers the money to the Internal Revenue Service. We, the public, pay every penny.

Mr. Swanson uses the law of diminishing utility to support his faith in the progressive income tax. His example of this law is a person with a $100 a week income who spends $50 a week on necessities. He then maintains that should this person receive another $50 a week, this second $50 would have less utility value to him.

While this is true, I fail to understand how this law justifies the government's confiscation of the extra $50. Whatever the taxpayer does with this extra money, short of stuffing it in a mattress, it will be fed back into the economy. If the government takes it from him, it will also be fed into the economy, but minus a 47 percent bureaucratic brokerage fee. Personally, I'd rather have the taxpayer satisfy a whim with the money than allow the government to buy airplanes for Tito with it.

Soak the rich Mr. Swanson? This is pure political malarkey! The Kennedy administration has been running in the red at the rate of about $100,000,000 a week ever since it took office. If Kennedy confiscated every penny earned by everybody making more than $50,000 a year, it wouldn't be enough to feed the spending more than a few weeks.

The administration is currently seeking to raise the legal limit on the national debt to $308 billion. Just the interest on the current debt runs to $9,000,000,000 annually, or, one out of every ten tax dollars collected. Does Mr. Swanson realize that every American works from Jan. 1 to April 15 each year just to pay his federal taxes? He points out that the government spends all the taxes it collects. This is not the whole story. The government spends a great deal more than it collects, $5,000,000,000 more each year. Just how long can this continue before national bankruptcy makes Khrushchev's predictions of our future come true?

Mr. Swanson ought to relegate his Keynesian theories to the circular file. They just don't work. I offer $308 billion worth of evidence as proof of this economic idiocy.

Stephen H. Beal,

553 1/2 E. Broadway

Relations Committee unfortunately ignored — namely, the position taken by many legal experts on space questions who declare that it is not a violation of a nation's sovereignty to fly above it in outer space and that to fly 13 miles above ground can be considered lawful.

Certainly the new satellites which America and the Soviet Union have launched can take photographs from great distances in outer space. Russia has publicly boasted it had cameras aboard the planes of both Gagarin and Titov. Moscow press dispatches have claimed these were good enough to make photographs showing the difference between plowed and unplowed fields on earth.

Maybe "the orderly conduct of international affairs" now can be resumed since espionage on the ground by Abel — which was far worse than just taking pictures in outer space — has resulted in a mere exchange of two individuals who took big risks for their respective governments but now are once more free men.

Red Fleet May Be After Diamonds

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A new theory has been advanced about the activities of Soviet fishing fleets which have for months been reported off of South Africa and neighboring South West Africa. They may be fishing for diamonds.

That is the suspicion of Cmdr. Peter Keeble, director of English-American companies that are prospecting for diamonds on the sea bed.
Keeble said he suspected the ships were taking samples of di-amond-bearing gravel in the same area as his companies' boats.

Bandit Who Took Family on Holdup Caught

DULUTH (AP) — A bandit who took his wife and two baby chil-dren along on a holdup was cap-tured Tuesday night after a 15-mile chase over slippery high-ways.

Pursuing police had fired shots at the fugitive's car even though he had his year-old boy along. However, neither was injured.

Duluth police identified the man as Ronald T. Wrazidlo, 26, who surrendered about four miles south of Fond du Lac, Minn. The holdup man had pushed aside his wife who hurried into the coffee shop to persuade him not to carry out the robbery, authorities said.

Then the fugitive hustled his girl, 2 1/2, out of the car before he fled.

Police said it happened this way: The man came into Vern's Coffee Shop in suburban Duluth and held a pointed object in his pocket against the back of a customer.

He ordered the others into the rear of the shop, including the waitress and four other customers.

While staging the holdup, the man's wife came in and pleaded with him to call it off. He brushed her off, took $60 to $70 from the cash register and fled with one of his babies.

Meantime the waitress had called police.

At least two shots from pursuing officers hit the rear of the car. Wrazidlo gave up when a squad car forced him to the side of Min-nesota Highway 23 four miles south of suburban Fond du Lac.

Nelson Endorses Reports on Use Of Seat Belts

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—An As-sociated Press project to include in-formation on whether automobiles equipped with seat belts, and whether the seat belts were in use, won the personal endorsement of Gov. Gaylord Nelson Tuesday.

Installation of seat belts in all 1962 and later model cars sold in Wisconsin now is required by law, but the law does not require that the belts be used, nor order in-stallation on older cars. Uniform accident reports used by most of-ficers do not provide space for seat belt information.

In a letter to The Associated Press, the governor said that The AP's plan to determine seat belt use "can in the long run do much to convince people that they stand to improve their chances of sur-viving an accident without serious injury if they use this inexpen-sive and convenient device."

"The tremendous effect seat belts can have in cutting down both the number and the severity of injuries is well documented in some of the best research done in the traffic safety field," Nelson said. "Unfortunately, this re-search is neither widely known nor accepted among the general public."

Colonialism Not Bad as Painted

LONDON — The recent rape of white women in the Congo; the more recent slaughter of the innocent Italian aviators; the even more recent murder of the 18 Belgian priests by the same bloody-handed irregulars of Antoine Gizenga's armed thugs — in fact, all of the recent bloody history of the last 18 months in the Congo point to a single suspicion that occasionally a few kind words may be said for the old colonialism.

This is not a popular stand to take today, with the Russians, the greatest enslavers of other people in the history of the world and the greatest colonial power in the world today, ceaselessly clamoring for the deliverance of other peoples' possessions. It is not popular in terms of the United Nations' approval of an Asian-African resolution last fall, demanding a speedy end to colonialism.

It certainly would not be popular with the Egyptians or the Arabs—the Egyptians who at-tempted to knock off Palestine and did, for a time, seize Syria, and the Iraqis who immediately tried to grab Kuwait. Down the line the Russians, the Chinese, the Red Chinese, the Indians, and all the little African states would not admit that colonialism ever entertained certain beneficial aspects.

But I am wonder-ing if free-dom from the colonial brutes does not demand a certain obligation to keep the peace, to pay your own way, to knock off aggression against your neighbor, to cease attempting to overthrow your internal opposition, to discourage military rule, and, in a measure, to stop maligning the powers that brought you out of the jungle and made this so-called freedom pos-sible.

Colonialism in its worst sense was never so bad as some of the means that have been used to pro-cure a freedom of whose tenets the mass is not conscious and whose benefits it will not taste in its current lifetime, if such benefits ever occur. So-called independence has been fine for a precious few—the politicians, a few businessmen and military men—but the masses have reaped more hardship and death at the hands of their deliverers (and a sight more social injustice) than they ever tasted at the hands of the allegedly enslaving powers.

FREEDOM would be a nice thing for the Hungarians or the Pole is capable of enjoying it. Freedom is a great thing for the Israelis, who by hard work and self-appreciation have made it a proud and shining thing.

But, at the risk of being stoned, I would say that a good 80 per-cent of the more recently emerg-ing African nations never knew they were being enslaved, exploit-ed, or held down by the white colonialists. Certainly they never met as much death, destruction, starvation or cruelty directly at the hands of their last masters as they have recently received from their own dissenting deliverers.

It will take a hundred years to wipe out the stench of endless, senseless slaughter on both sides in Algeria, and I would guess that even when the shooting stops there—if it ever does—the aver-age Arab will be no better off under his new masters of his own race than he was under the French government. And certainly the Congo, which has been tech-nically "free" since July of 1960, is closer to savage tribalism and jungle living than it has been for three-quarters of a century.

THIS REVERSION to tribalism and darkness as a reversion against the old white masters can only resolve itself in one fashion — an easy invitation for the Rus-sians or the Red Chinese to re-col-onize, re-subjugate, the warring little nations and factions within nations. The new tribes, I wager, will not find their new masters as benevolent as even, say, the Belgians, in terms of mass mis-treatment and elimination.

If the average savage, sudden-ly faced with a freedom he can-not either define or administer, was to receive any benefit from his suddenly acquired "self-deter-minism," you might say that all the bloodshed that bought it was worthwhile. But the gains of the lowly individual of the mob have been negligible, while his losses from administrative justice and certain practical bones of master rule have been considerable. He has swapped one set of masters

Peace Corps, AFS BPW Dinner Topics

Miss Edna Nelson and Miss Verlie Sather, members of the Winona Business and Professional Women's Club, spoke on the Peace Corps and the American Field Service at the February dinner meeting of the club on Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. in the parlors of the First Congregational Church.

"Greater understanding of the peoples of the world is needed to achieve world peace," said Miss Nelson in talking of the work of the President's Peace Corps. "If progress and freedom are the goals, someone must guide and break down the barriers of ignorance. No amount of aid will save those who do not want to be saved, but education will aid all of us and we must have good representatives of our country to give the world a good picture of our ideals."

MISS NELSON spoke of the beginnings of the Peace Corps, stating that anyone from age 18 with no upper age limit, may volunteer. Volunteers are carefully screened and then undergo a strenuous training period, which includes training in United States history and government, as well as that of the country they will be assigned to. A tour of duty is two years and does not exempt from the draft for military service. There are more than 700 members of the Peace Corps serving in 14 countries. The corps was made permanent by an Act of Congress on Sept. 21, 1961. Teachers, supervisors, directors and workers are needed, and various projects are worked upon at present.

Miss Sather presented a color film showing the daily life of an American Field Service foreign student in their own country and then after they come to this country to live with an American family. The foreign student exchange was started some 15 years ago by a group of wartime ambulance drivers who banded together as the American Field Service to try to prevent future wars. They agreed that the best way to prevent war was to exchange students with foreign countries and they raised money enough that first year to send 50 students to the United States to take their senior year of high school here.

Today there are about 2,000 students in 1,500 communities. Miss Sather said that in 1954 Winona began the program and had six students here. In that year, 400 students came to this country and of the 400, 100 of them were in Minnesota. Since that time Winona has had more than 20 such exchange students and eight Winona students have gone to foreign countries for the summer.

Mr. William Markle plan to attend Mrs. Gertrude M. Wilson, St. Paul, state president, will preside at the sessions. Special workshops will be conducted on the changes in the state federation by-laws by Miss Natalie Nelson, Rochester. At the dinner Saturday Miss Olivia Johnson, St. Paul BPW member who is well known to the Winona club members, will speak on "International Relations." Miss Johnson recently attended the International Federation Convention in Rhodesia.

Miss Sara Potter, chairman of the health and safety committee, reported on the plans for the "Community Health Day" program for the open meeting March 13. Dr. Robert Barr, director of the state board of health, will be guest speaker. Dinner will be at 6 p.m. at the YMCA. A limited number of tickets will be sold to other interested persons in the community for this meeting. Miss Potter announced that Mrs. Douglas Erickson is in charge of the program for that meeting and will be assisted by Mrs. Marie Fjelstad and others in preparing for the program. Members of the various health organizations and persons interested in home nursing are invited to attend this program.

Channel Work Under Way at 5A Lock, Dam

Modernization of equipment and facilities at Lock and Dam 5-A here is being done by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers before the navigation season starts in the spring, Col. W. B. Strandberg, St. Paul District engineer, announced.

Improvements include dredging the river channel on the north entrance to the lock, using the dredged material as fill upon which to place three merged weirs and removal of the outer ends of three wing dams.

"The weirs will improve the current conditions to allow for safer and easier entrance of navigation to the lock. Removal of the ends of the wing dams will also tend to improve the current conditions," Col. Strandberg said.

Plant and equipment used in the work include the Dredge William A. Thompson, a derrickboat, three tenders and eight barges. About 25 men are working on the project, headed by A. J. Giverson, foreman, Fountain City, Wis.

Another Fountain City foreman, R. J. Thorman, is supervising work at Lock & Dam 3, Red Wing.

YOUTH-ADULT CONFERENCE
RIVER FALLS, Wis.—The Western Regional Youth-Adult Conference will be held June 8-10 on River Falls State College campus, according to Bruce Carter, director of young adult work at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. It is open to young people 18-30 years. Delegations will come from the north central and western states.

Bridge Rising At Lanesboro

LANESBORO, Minn.—One new bridge is under construction near Lanesboro and another old-timer will be replaced in 1963, according to Fillmore County highway department plans. Both old structures were built for the horse and buggy days.

The bridge under construction is on Highway 250, two miles north of Lanesboro, spanning the North Branch of Root River. When it is completed by the state, the old bridge, built in 1890, will be dismantled. The new one is the same type that replaced an old wagon bridge at the north village limits about a year ago when the old structure collapsed under an overloaded semitrailer of feed.

The other new bridge will replace an 1893 structure on County Road 8 at the west end of Lanesboro.

There will be social skill event competition, variety and talent shows and a band and glee club. Also appearing will be the Lennon Sisters and Shelley Fabares of the Donna Reed television show. Shelley has been chosen as sweetheart of the Explorers. Nearly 4,500 boys from all over the United States are expected.

Legislator Explains Tax On Taconite

HIBBING, Minn. (AP)—Legislative guarantees that future taconite taxes would not exceed those imposed on other Minnesota industries would be as firm as a constitutional amendment on the subject, says Rep. Fred Cina.

"I don't believe this legislature or any future one would be so dishonorable as to break a faith that has been pledged," Cina told the Hibbing Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Cina, House liberal majority leader, proposed last week that the legislature approve a 25-year pact on taconite taxes in lieu of the constitutional change.

He said also that he did not believe the amendment could win voter approval because "it is the history of such proposals that, where there is organized opposition, they fail."

Proposed submission of the amendment at this year's elections was knocked out when the liberal (DFL) dominated House Tax Committee turned down the proposal at the 1961 session.

Even as Cina spoke, the St. Louis County Board, meeting in Duluth, called for adoption of a suggestion by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., that Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen and DFL Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag get together a bipartisan group to solve the taconite question.

Korean Veterans Can Convert GI Term Insurance

Korean veterans now are able to convert or exchange their non-participating U. S. government term insurance policy for a permanent policy or a term renewable to age 50 and receive a special dividend.

John R. Murphy, manager, Veterans Administration Center, St. Paul, said the average dividend paid on those policies already converted under the new law is slightly under $100. He said some veterans are entitled to as much as $500.

Murphy pointed out that this is a one-time dividend and will not be available after Sept. 14, 1963. Veterans carrying five-year term policies are confronted with a premium rate increase every five years.

There are six permanent plans to choose from: Ordinary Life, 30-Payment Life, 20-Payment Life, 20-Year Endowment, Endowment at 60 and Endowment at Age 65. The premiums for these permanent plans are higher than the present five-year term premium but they remain the same for the life of the contract, whereas term premiums increase every five years.

If the veteran is unable to convert at this time, he may exchange his policy for the limited convertible five-year term policy with renewal privilege up to age 50 and still receive the dividend now.

Murphy said all veterans serviced by the insurance department at the St. Paul Center have received applications for conversion but that anyone who desires further information may either write the VA Center at St. Paul, or see a county veterans service officer.

Pierz Ordered To End Use of Parochial Rooms

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Pierz school district is being ordered to terminate the contract it has for rental of public schoolroom space from two local parochial schools.

"There would seem to be no expediency or emergency in your district that would warrant the State Board of Education approving rental of outside space," Erling O. Johnson, state education commissioner, said in a letter sent to Pierz officials Tuesday.

The district has 126 pupils in a public building at Harding but cares for 230 more in rooms rented from Catholic schools at Buckman and Pierz.

With minor adjustments, Johnson said the Harding building could accommodate more than 100 more pupils. The state board also is offering to help Pierz in providing permanent quarters.

The action came as an echo of 10 years ago when the board denied state school aids to both Pierz and Buckman on grounds that religion was being taught in public classes. The action became the subject of a lengthy legal battle and, upon appeal, was rescinded.

M.J. Haggerty, state director of school transportation, told the state group Tuesday he felt certain that the public district, with 301 pupils, was paying most bus costs for the area's 550 Catholic pupils.

The board ordered an investigation into that aspect of the case.

Africa's Upper Nile is so badly clogged with the tawny water hyacinth that natives can walk on top of the river.

Blair-Preston Fire Department Upped With New Equipment

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—The Blair-Preston volunteer fire department has been advanced to a Class B rating.

Early last summer, due to anti-inflation equipment, the area was in danger of being placed on Olson said.

higher insurance rates. Through the combined efforts of the Common Council, town board and firemen, a 1962 heavy duty chassis and new, modern, streamlined equipment, pumper and larger tank were purchased. A used fire truck would have been sufficient to maintain the department's previous rating.

The higher rating will mean a saving of up to 3 percent on insurance premiums. Chief Agnus Olson said.

A six-man Winona NATIONAL GUARD rifle team won second place honors in a 135th Infantry championship rifle match at New Ulm, Minn., recently. Units from Stillwater and Red Wing also took part. Five highest scores in prone, kneeling and standing positions were counted to determine team score. Participating from the Winona unit were Capt. Allan L. Osborne, commanding officer; Lt. John A. Erickson, Sgt. Clarence A. Loer, Sgt. John A. Starzecki, Sgt. Roland J. Loitz and Sgt. Jesse J. Dorman.

U. S. MARINE CORPS RESERVE has announced new openings in the six-month program. Capt. James L. Bennett, commanding officer, 94th Rifle Company, USMCR, La Crosse, said the unit has openings available for young men between the ages of 17 and 26 who are physically, mentally and morally qualified. High school seniors and juniors may enlist in the Marine Corps Reserve while still in school and not go on six months of active duty until after graduation.

To obtain further information, young men may visit the Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, Locust Boulevard and Green Bay Street, La Crosse, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Information also may be obtained by mailing a self-addressed card which may be picked up at the Winona Post Office near the Marine recruiting office.

Farmer's Share Of Food Dollar Set at 38 Cents

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The farmer's share of the consumer food dollar dipped to 38 cents last year, down one cent from 1960 to match 1959. The decline came in spite of a 9 per cent increase in farm income.

The farmer's share has been slipping since 1951 when it was 49 cents.

An Agriculture Department marketing report showed today that the reduced farm share reflected a 2 per cent increase in charges for processing and marketing farm products. Farm prices for food products declined 1 per cent.

Hourly earnings of food marketing employees averaged about 10 per cent higher than in 1960. The department said, however, that labor costs per unit of product marketed did not go up as much because output per man hour increased.

The department said construction costs of food processing and marketing concerns went up again. State and local taxes continued to rise, but for the third consecutive year, freight decreases moderately outweighed increases.

Food manufacturing firms' profits as a percentage of sales were said to have gone down from 1960 levels in the first three quarters of 1961.

The report said another increase is expected in marketing charges this year, but added that it probably will not be greater than 1 or 2 per cent.

The Greek Statesman, Pericles, selected the architect, Ictinus, and the sculptor, Phidias, to design and raise the Parthenon.

Captain Who Said He Hated Sea Was Only Joking

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A British sea captain making his last voyage after 46 years at sea explains he was only joking when he supplied newsmen with their story about a sailor who hated the sea.

"Really, I'm very proud of the sea—of being a sailor, and proud of my job," Capt. Geoffrey M. Fletcher of the liner Andes said Tuesday after talking with his company, the Royal Mail Line in London. "Otherwise, I wouldn't have followed the sea for 46 years."

Capt. Fletcher, who sails Thursday for Los Angeles, the next stop on his retirement voyage, said the company was unhappy that his humor had been taken seriously.

Reporters after what the captain described as a joking press conference had reported that Capt. Fletcher followed a profession he disliked.

Truman Takes Rap At Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington, says former President Harry S. Truman, is "full of chicken coops and crackerboxes."

Truman, chatting with a reporter about Washington's new buildings, added: "I'm no architect, but some day they are going to have hailstones here — and we'll find out about these crackerboxes."

Cornell College Considers Fulbright

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., probably is among those being considered to succeed Deane W. Malott as president of Cornell University, a college spokesman said Tuesday night.

The spokesman would not confirm or deny that Fulbright had been nominated for the post.

"It is possible, even likely, that Fulbright has been nominated,"

Wabasha Receives $3,786 From Boat Harbor Operations

WABASHA, Minn. — Wabasha received $3,786 from harbor operations during the past year — $2,896.45 from the Minnetonka Boat Works for the city's share of harbor operation and $890 from launching fees.

City bills for harbor operation last year were $4,204 for dredging; $139.88 for lights, and $36.48, miscellaneous items. With previous receipts, the harbor fund still shows a balance of $6,617, according to City Clerk Agnes Meyer, despite the big dredging bill.

the spokesman said. "We are still receiving nominations, but no one is talking about them."

At his home in Fayetteville, Ark., Fulbright said he had not been contacted by Cornell officials, but considered the possible nomination "very flattering."

Wabasha Commission Considering Plan

WABASHA, Minn. — A comprehensive city plan for physical development, public buildings, street arrangements and improvements, public utility services, parks, playgrounds, use of property, density of population and other problems come under the scope of a new Planning Commission created by an ordinance passed by the City Council recently.

The commission will make recommendations to the council, which will conduct hearings on it. All plans for construction and improvements by the park, utility, harbor and other committees will be cleared through the commission, which consists of Joseph Trichter, Donald E. Larson, Kenneth Nelson, James Abbott, Harry Schmidt, Kathryn McGraw and Gilbert Gramer.

They're Totaling Your Earnings for Social Security

"Earnings records of more than 140,000,000 workers are on file in social security headquarters at Baltimore," according to Albert J. D'Amour, district manager of the Winona social security office, 356 E. Sarnia St.

"There is a record for every person who has been issued a social security account number card in the 26 years since social security started," D'Amour said.

He explained that each dollar shown on each of 140 million accounts had to be reported before it could be put in the worker's account.

"For every dollar that hasn't been reported, or was reported incorrectly, someone is short one dollar in his account," he said. "Those dollars will be very important one day because each worker's record of earnings is used to figure the amount of his retirement or disability benefits, or the benefits payable to his family in case of his death."

He said self-employed people, reporting their earning for social security purposes at the same time they file their annual income tax return, should be sure that Schedule SE at the bottom of page 1 of their Schedule C-1 or Schedule F-1 is completely and correctly filled in. It is only from Schedule SE that the social security people can make a record of self-employment earnings.

George Erickson, internal revenue agent, Winona, urged each worker to make sure his earnings record is correctly kept by always putting his name on the Schedule SE even though it is also shown in other places.

"Be sure," Erickson said, "that your social security number is entered on this form, as well as the earnings on which you are paying social security tax."

D'Amour recommended that social security records be checked every three years to see if all earnings are properly credited. The local social security office, which can provide a postcard to be used for this purpose, can also help straighten out the account if all earnings are not shown on the statement received.

"Self-employment earnings for the last full year may not yet be shown because of the time needed in processing and posting the earnings," D'Amour said.

Man Wanted for Albert Lea Holdup Caught in Missouri

BETHANY, Mo. (AP) — Melvin Marston Thompson, 24, charged with armed robbery in Albert Lea, Minn., was arrested on a bus here Tuesday.

Sheriff Don Stockwell had been tipped that Thompson was aboard a bus bound from Mason City, Iowa, to Tulsa, Okla., and met the bus when it stopped here.

Thompson waived extradition and was held for Minnesota officers.

Stockwell said Thompson was charged with robbing a liquor store at knife point Monday night, taking $183.

Company Robbed For Second Time

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A young gunman robbed R. D. Head of Dixie Finance Co. for the second time within a month.

"He told me I need not worry about him any more," Head told police Tuesday. "He told me he was leaving town this time."

The robber fled with a small amount of cash, Head said. Last time he got $232.

Ailing Warriors Face Loras Five

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Writer

"It's a good thing we're playing a non-conference game tonight," Winona State Coach Bob Campbell said this morning.

What is the reason for Campbell's comment as his Warriors prepare to travel to Loras College of Dubuque, Iowa, tonight? Evidently, as the coach sat reviewing his starting lineup in his office yesterday, he came to the conclusion after recounting these unhappy circumstances:

• Ken Stelpflug pulled a muscle in a phy-ed course Tuesday and may not be ready to play.

• Dick Papenfuss is still able to go only half speed. His right leg is hampered by a Charley-horse.

D. Papenfuss L. Papenfuss

• Lyle Papenfuss has a bad bruise as the result of a spill he took in the Bemidji game Saturday. In a battle for a rebound he fell hard on his back.

• Gerry Goetz is still having trouble with the ankle he sprained several weeks ago.

This may be enough to make many coaches hair turn gray but not Campbell.

"I have every bit of confidence in our bench," the coach said. "That five really hustles and I wouldn't hesitate for a minute to go with them."

The starting five now could be one of two combinations. Bruce Zellmer and Bob James could start at forwards; Lyle Papenfuss at center and Goetz and Arlen Klinder, the only player of the original starting five still healthy, at guards.

Or State could start with Stelpflug and James at forwards, Jim Vinar at center and Bob Lietzau and Klinder at guards.

State now stands 9-9 for the season and 3-5 in the NSCC.

Following tonight's game the Warriors will host loop foe Michigan Tech at Memorial Hall Friday.

ELSIE DORSCH
Pin shy of 600 series

12 BETTER 500

Elsie Dorsch Hits Torrid 599 Total

Veteran bowler Elsie Dorsch, shooting in the Ladies City League at Hal-Rod Lanes, stacked a 599 series Tuesday night to pace one of the hottest sessions in Winona bowling this season.

No less than 12 women bettered 500 in that league and elsewhere in the city two men's 600s were posted plus a 265 single game.

MRS. DORSCH, rolling for Haddad's, turned in games of 186-246-165. She had only one error, that in her third game, and drew four splits, one of which she converted.

Her 599 is the fourth highest woman's count this season and her 248 the fourth highest single game.

Already owner of coveted 600s, Mrs. Dorsch in her middle game opened with a split, strike and spare and then uncorked seven straight strikes, capping it with a spare.

She needed a double strike in the 10th frame of her last game for a 600, but had to settle for a strike and spare.

HELEN NELSON, bowling for Poot's in the City loop, belted 585 last night in 198-207-180. She had five splits and only a single error. She converted one split.

Other 500s were: Betty Biltgen 564, Esther Ezanec 546, Helen Selke 536; Irene Trimmer 530, Jan Wiczorek 523, Geri Suchomel 514, Irene Gostorski 514, Winnie Tust 508, Phyllis Thurlay 503 and Cornelia Podjaski 501.

Poot's totaled 2,643 and Golden Frog 926.

IN THE HAL-ROD Four-City League John Schroeder blasted 614 with a 222 for Skelly Oilers. Miller High Life hit 948 and Darby's DX 2,611. At Westgate Bowl, Rocky Andre Beaulieu shoved in four goals, two on spectacular solo drives, to lead St. Mary's College to a 5-3 victory over Hamline in a Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Association Hockey game in St. Paul Tuesday.

The first two periods of the contest, St. Mary's 10th win in 14 starts were played as heavy snow fell.

THE REDMEN are 3-2 in MIAC play and hold the key to the MIAC championship when they entertain St. Thomas at Terrace Heights at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The Tommies (6-0) need a victory for a clear championship. But a St. Mary's win would let Macalester (6-1) tie for the crown.

"The boys played good hockey yesterday," said Redmen Coach Max Molock. "Our defense was especially good, though we had some lapses because we got tired." The Redmen had played 20-minute periods in Monday's game at Bemidji.

Beaulieu, after nursing a shoulder injury, is coming back fast and provided St. Mary's offensive punch yesterday.

HE SCORED the first goal of the game at 10:57 and Bob Magnusson was credited with the next at 12:35 when the puck went into the net as it was being cleared by a Piper skater.

After Hamline's Owens scored in the second period to tie the score at 2-2, Beaulieu connected with an assist from Bob Trytek at 8:33.

Then in the final period, Beaulieu skated through the entire Piper team to score at 1:30 and came back at 7:23 with another drive through the Hamline defense to fake out the goalie and chalk up No. 4.

The Redmen Saturday afternoon meet St. John's at 3:30 p.m. at Terrace Heights, a feature of the St. Mary's Winter Festival.

That marks the Redmen's final game of the season.

ST. CHARLES, Minn.—St. Charles' wrestling team continued its winning ways in the Hiawatha Valley Conference by taking the championship in the mat tournament at Kasson-Mantorville.

Going into the tourney the Saints already had the trophy tucked away. The win was just added glory for the grapplers who went through the loop season undefeated in eight dual meets.

The only loss the Saints sustained this season was at the hands of the Winona High Winhawks.

In Saturday's meet St. Charles nudged out runnerup Kasson-Mantorville 88-81. Cannon Falls was third with 62 points. Stewartville took fourth with 58 and Lake City fifth with 45.

Dick Heim was the 95-pound champion, Jack Heim, 138, and Doug Furst, 145.

Lake City captured two championships. Bruce Wohlers won at 133 and Lee Wimmer took the heavyweight crown.

HOPE 1962 WILL BE BETTER
Sherry, Broglio Sign Pacts

By SHELTON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitchers Ernie Broglio and Larry Sherry, disappointments last year after excellent seasons in 1960, have signed their 1962 baseball contracts hopeful of regaining their effectiveness.

Broglio, 25, agreed to terms with the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday and took a substantial pay cut after getting more than $20,000 a year ago. The right-hander, beset by arm trouble, wound up with a 9-12 record and a 4.11 earned-run average in 1961.

The previous season his 2.74 ERA was second best in the National League when he won 21 games while losing 9.

Sherry received a token boost in pay of about $1,000 and okayed his pact with the Los Angeles Dodgers, calling for a reported $25,000.

The relief specialist missed three weeks last season with a sprained ankle and compiled a 4-4 record, although being credited with 15 saves. In 1960 Sherry posted a 14-10 record while appearing in 57 games.

The signings' front was brisk Tuesday as the teams continued their tasks of getting the players signed before the advent of spring training. The Cards also corralled pitchers Bob Duhon and Johnny Kucks to run their signees to 26. Second baseman Ken Aspromonte became the 33rd player in the Cleveland Indians' fold.

Only outfielder Bob Skinner and pitcher Larry Foss remained unsigned after pitcher Joe Gibbon came to terms with the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Pirates have 38 players under contract. The New York Mets completed the signing of their battery staff of 13 pitchers and 4 catchers when pitcher Bob Botz indicated he was satisfied with his pact.

Three rookies — shortstop Tom Tresh, second baseman Pedro Gonzales and outfielder Don Lock — agreed to terms with the New York Yankees. The Baltimore Orioles secured signed contracts by four pitchers: Billy Short, David Knowles, Steve Cosgrave, and Dave McNally, giving them 28 players in the fold.

Three members of the Boston Red Sox okayed contract terms. They are third baseman Frank Malzone, catcher Russ Nixon and pitcher Billy MacLeod. Rookie infielder Dick Phillips signed his contract with the San Francisco Giants.

Pitchers Jack Spring, Bob Belinsky and George Conrad came to terms with the Los Angeles Angels, leaving only outfielder Leon Wagner and infielder Felix Torres among the unsigned.

Outfielder Al Kaline, who reportedly is asking for $45,000, arrived at the Detroit Tigers' training camp site at Lakeland, Fla. Kaline, along with first baseman Norm Cash and outfielder Rocky Colavito, are among five unsigned Tiger regulars.

Indees Upset Eleva-Strum In Dairyland

Independence pulled a big surprise in the Dairyland Conference Tuesday night as it upset league leading Eleva-Strum 52-50. In the other loop game Augusta squeezed past Osseo 57-53 in overtime.

Eleva-Strum led 18-15, 31-29 and 42-35 at the quarter turns before falling victim to an Independence rally in the final period.

Jerome Halverson fired in 20 points and Connie Marsolek 12 for the Indees. Dale Olson matched Halverson's output and Duane Schultz got 16 for the losers which won the "B" game 20-16.

Augusta led 12-6 at the end of the first period and 26-22 at half-time. Osseo whittled at the lead and finally drew even at 49-49 at the end of regulation time. In the extra period Augusta outscored the Chiefs 8-4.

Jim Thompson banged home 24 points to go with a fine defensive game for the winners. Jim Osborn got 12. Dan Olson paced Osseo with 12. Steve Vold got 11 and Ed Norris 10.

Abts Totals 183; Lee Short by 25

With all but one game completed in the Mississippi Valley schedule, Larry Abts of Cochrane-Fountain City leads the scorers with 183 points on 70 field goals and 43 free throws.

The only game left is a make-up between Arcadia and Durand. Threatening is Ken Lee of Durand who has 159. This means that to win the scoring crown Lee would have to score 25 points in the last contest.

In second place at the present time is Dick Meunich of Chippewa Falls with 165. Black River Falls' Lee Larkin is third with 161 and Ely fourth.

The Arcadia-Durand game will be played Feb. 23.

Speed Wash Takes Pin Tourney Lead

Sub Bowler Fires 583

By AUGIE KARCHER
Daily News Sports Editor

Speed Wash, a quintet of Rushford-based bowlers who were without two regulars, Tuesday night stormed into the lead in the Winona Men's City Bowling championship tournament at the Winona Athletic Club.

The Laundrymen blasted 3,085 to go 29 pins ahead of Lantern Cafe of the AC. That was the only change in the standings on last night's two squads.

SPEED WASH, an entry from the Hal-Rod City League, was minus Karol Jaastad and Wally Dubbs who are on vacation. So they picked up Bob Rola from the Westgate Lakeside League. He is a native of Rushford.

And Rola was the near-perfect choice. He led the team with a 583 as the fivesome shot 919-930-984.

Temar Benson added 578, Alfred Cordes 571, Red Christopherson 562 and Luther Myro an errorless 539.

The team had 252 pins handicapped.

Ohio State No. 1 for Ninth Week

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the ninth straight week of the regular season, mighty Ohio State prevailed as the nation's No. 1 major college basketball team.

The unbeaten Buckeyes, winners of 18 straight games through last Saturday night, once again were a unanimous choice in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters. The Ohioans received all 43 first-place votes for 430 points.

Only in the first week of the regular season poll did the Buckeyes fail to achieve a unanimous vote. That week they drew 39 first-place choices. One selector voted for Cincinnati as the top team.

The Buckeyes defeated Michigan 72-57 Monday night and have five more regular season games left—all Big Ten contests. Their only other game this week is at Michigan State on Saturday.

Kentucky (No. 2), Cincinnati (No. 3) and Kansas State (No. 4) retained their rankings of a week ago. All were victorious last week. Kentucky, however, lost to eighth-ranked Mississippi State 49-44 Monday night, snapping its 16-game winning streak. Cincinnati downed George Washington 83-43 Monday night.

The rest of the rankings underwent a shuffling of positions, but none of the top ten teams of a week ago dropped out of the elite. The top team with first-place votes in parentheses (points on a 10, 9, 8, etc. basis):

1. Ohio State (43) 430
2. Kentucky 375
3. Cincinnati 345
4. Kansas State 280
5. Bradley 234
6. Oregon State 145
7. Duke 144
8. Mississippi State 123
9. Duquesne 77
10. Bowling Green 77

Others receiving votes (not necessarily in order of points): West Virginia, Colorado, Ohio Loyola, U.C.L.A., Southern California, Villanova, St. Louis, Virginia Tech, Utah State, Louisville, Arizona State, Wisconsin, Centenary, Colorado State and Arkansas.

Cager Sets Mark On 22 Free Throws

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ron Warner, Gettysburg's basketball star, may have set a national record for consecutive free throws made in one game but it still must be verified by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Warner made 22 out of 22 Tuesday night as his team lost 80-90 to St. Joseph's of Philadelphia in double overtime. Warner, a 5-10 senior from York, Pa., finished with 34 points.

York Laresse, formerly of North Carolina and now with the Philadelphia Warriors, tied the national free throw record of 21 in a row during the 1959-60 season against Duke in the Dixie Classic. The 21 mark first was established in 1956-57 by Johnny Lee of Yale against Oregon State.

The car is owned by Norman C. Denker, Niagara Falls, N.Y. It was stopped by mechanical trouble last year.

Wilt Collects 65 But Philly Bows

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics don't scare easily and their Eastern Division supremacy seems virtually assured for another National Basketball Association season.

The Philadelphia Warriors had crept to within 5 1/2 games of the Celtics over the weekend and if Boston was due to fade, this was the time. But the Celtics won Tuesday night and the Warriors lost, and Boston's first place lead over Philadelphia was back to 6 1/2 games.

The Celtics crushed the Chicago Packers 138-117 in Providence while the Royals were walloping the Warriors 152-132 in Cincinnati despite Wilt Chamberlain's 65 points. No other games were played.

State Swimmers Edge Gustavus

Winona State squeezed through in the final event to down Gustavus Adolphus 54-41 in a swimming meet at Memorial Hall Tuesday afternoon.

Going into the 400-yard free-style relay the score was 47-41 in State's favor. A first for the Gusties would have given them a 46-47 win.

Foran bettered the record he already held in diving. The old record was 218 points. His series of dives netted him 220.2 points.

Schleicher also registered a first in the 200-yard backstroke and Hauser in the 100-yard free-style.

New Groups In Track, Gym Are Endorsed

CHICAGO (AP)—The breach between the NCAA and AAU doesn't appear to be closing although it is being filled up with meetings.

Official organization of federations in track and field and gymnastics will come at March 4-5 meetings in Chicago. Walt Myers, NCAA executive director, announced Tuesday.

A basketball federation already has been launched. A prompt move forward for organizing federations in track and field and gymnastics was endorsed Tuesday by forces of the NCAA and the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations. The association is represented in every state except Texas.

The action, coming a day after a peace parley between leaders of the NCAA and AAU ended in failure, was interpreted as additional NCAA pressure in its battle over control of U.S. amateur athletics and for international recognition.

The AAU is recognized as the nation's international representative, setting policy and exercising jurisdiction. The NCAA feels the AAU has done a poor job and has initiated formation of federations.

Pepin Triumphs; Alma Bows 52-46 To St. Felix Five

West Central teams engaging in non-conference games Tuesday night dropped two of three games. Pepin was the only winner as it defeated Arkansas 7-59 while Alma was losing to Wabasha St. Felix 52-46 and Holcombe was tipping Gilman 64-49.

"WE'RE REALLY started to jell in the last few ball games," Pepin Coach Glenn Senstad said after Tuesday's win. "This makes seven in a row for us and runs our season record to 12-4."

The Lakers were never in trouble as they led 15-11, 34-21 and 53-31 at the quarter turns. Eugene Bock netted 25 points for the winners. Dan Kirchner 18, Jim Westberg 14 and Jerry Merritt 11. Steve Fiedle got 18 of his 22 points for Arkansas in the last quarter. Bob Erickson hit 11 for the losers. Pepin won the preliminary 52-41.

St. Felix built a 26-18 halftime margin and then outscored the Rivermen 36-28 the rest of the way for its win.

DICK PETERS flipped in 22 points, Mike Pinsonneault 13 and Tom Busch 11 for the Yellowjackets. Mike Ebersold got 13 and Orlyn Hokschi 11 for Alma.

The Rivermen "B" squad kept its record unblemished with a 35-32 win.

"Holcombe ran us to death," Gilman Coach Ron Mraček commented after the contest. "Several of our players really looked out of shape. With the tournaments coming up I can promise you that we are going to have some stiff workouts."

Gene Hatfield, who scored 18 points, paced Holcombe to its win. The Panthers had led 17-12, at the quarter before falling victim to Holcombe's running tactics in the final three periods. Heading into the final quarter the score was 48-47 in Holcombe's favor.

Jerry Gates hit 23 points, Merlin Hanson 16 and Tom Marum 14 for Gilman, which won the "B" game 42-20.

Watkins Faces Sunshine Next

Watkins Products will meet Sunshine at 7 p.m. next Tuesday in the semifinals of the Catholic Rec Indoor Softball Tournament. The winner will meet Shorly's for the championship.

Ed Jerowski hurled Sunshine to a 9-7 win over Langs Tuesday while Watkins overcame a two run deficit in the ninth inning to win 10-9.

Jerowski gave up only five singles but 11 walks kept him in trouble throughout the game. Shorly's and Watkins battled to a 7-7 deadlock at the end of seven innings. In the ninth inning Shorly's pushed across two runs only to see Watkins score three times in the last half of the frame.

Bob Matejka and Gene Thrune clouted homers in the contest. Losing pitcher Jim Langowski gave up 18 hits. Norb Thrune got credit for the win.

LOSING IS NORMAL

SHERMAN, N.Y. (AP)—Sherman Central School marked the 1962 basketball season with its first victory in two years, breaking a 28-game losing streak. Even so, it wasn't Sherman's worst stretch. Back in 1950-52, the school went 36 games without winning.

These other matters came up in the news conference.

Sparkman Expects Report on Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said today he expects a report within 10 days on Francis Gary Powers' ill-fated U-2 spy flight over the Soviet Union.

Sparkman is acting chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which is resuming its high-flying reconnaissance plane.

Labor Fears Mergers May Reduce Jobs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor is taking a particularly jaundiced view of 1962's merger proposals. It has never liked corporate get-togethers that might mean fewer jobs through elimination of duplicated work or closing less profitable plants.

But today the subject is doubly touchy.

Unemployment is higher than anyone likes. Mergers, running at around a thousand in each of the last three years, is blamed by labor for some of this.

Automation—mechanization of plants that let machines do much of the work formerly done by men—is blamed even more for drying up job opportunities. Labor thinks mergers favor automation, both by keeping the automated plant running and closing the less modern one, and by making the resulting unit company big enough to afford the price of more automation.

And finally, many of today's proposed mergers are aimed at cutting costly competition and duplication even more than at just making one big company prosper where two or more smaller ones struggled along before. Labor translates this, rightly or wrongly, into the loss of jobs wherever the duplication is eliminated.

Take the railroads. When the Pennsylvania and the New York Central said they wanted to merge, the Transport Workers Union immediately threatened to strike unless a guarantee that every present job would be preserved.

That threat was turned over to the federal courts. And now a union-sponsored study urges an immediate moratorium on railroad mergers until a broad national transportation policy can be worked out.

Management's reply is that the merger would be in the interests of the employees because the resulting giant railway would prosper, assuring jobs. Without the merger, the roads contend, they face continuing loss of business and perhaps even bankruptcy. Less business would mean fewer jobs.

Whenever a corporate merger, in whatever field, threatens job piling, management tries to convince workers they should look beyond the immediate personal loss to the opportunity for long-term gains. The argument is that a merger by making the resulting company larger and stronger increases available funds for new plants, equipment, sales activity. All of this, management says, means sooner or later more jobs in factory, in the office, in the sales and distribution activities.

Management uses the same arguments about automation, which in many workers' minds is linked with the strong trend toward merging, either as a cause or an effect. And in all events, automation is linked in workers' minds with the loss of jobs to machines and with the high and still stubborn volume of unemployment.

White collar workers and the executive class often fear mergers as much as do the factory, mill or rail and airline workers. After a corporate marriage it's often hard to find places for two executives who have been doing the same line of work, or for two clerical workers when one piece of paper may now take the place of the two when the companies were separate.

It's all very well to tell workers—sometimes even to show them—that in the long run there'll be more work, not less. It's the short run that the worker sees. And he doesn't like to contemplate it from the line at the employment office.

David Brinkley, NBC correspondent, said in a broadcast from Washington Tuesday night that he had learned that Powers did have mechanical trouble and was forced to descend to a much lower altitude where the U-2 was in reach of Russian groundfire and that for more than three months before his Moscow trial, Powers was kept in isolation, given "psychological conditioning," including drugs, before he was put on the stand.

Sparkman told a reporter he has been assured of the cooperation of the State Department in the closed inquiry into the Powers case. He asked Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday for "a full report" on the questioning of the pilot by State and Defense department officials as well as by the CIA.

Sparkman did not rule out the possibility Powers himself might be asked to testify, but added that "my present thinking is his testimony will not be necessary."

Most members of the committee have indicated a reluctance to question Powers unless they consider his personal testimony vital to the story.

Two of its members complained Tuesday that Congress has been led in the dark over what occurred when the plane was brought down May 1, 1960.

"I am frank to say that, except for rumors and reports, I don't know anything about Capt. Powers' venture at all," Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said. "One thing I want to know is why the plane was not destroyed."

Symington said he would "go along" if the committee decided to question Powers if his information is vital.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he would support such a decision "if we need him to get full information."

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Two men escaped injury when a private twin-engine plane skidded on a runway and slammed into a snow bank Tuesday night at Austin Airport.

Barry said the plane was on a test flight and was carrying only the two men.

Prisoners Hope To Build Chapel With Trade Stamps

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NAPANOCCHI, N.Y. (AP) — Convicts at the prison here want a place to worship. And they've got a novel plan for getting it. The convicts are collecting trading stamps.

"It's an unusual procedure," said the Rev. Matthew Killian, Roman Catholic Chaplain at the prison. "But the usual methods of raising funds are not available here."

So the men behind bars, with an assist from the outside, began gathering the stamps—to be redeemed in cash or materials for construction of a prison chapel.

It'll be called "St. Jude's Within the Walls." St. Jude is the patron saint of the forlorn.

Through the Knights of Columbus, religious and fraternal organization, a call has gone out to Catholic men in bonds, individually or in books, to implement the project.

"It's a wonderful opportunity," said John Symonds of the New York City, state deputy of the K. of C. "I'm quite confident that we can get sufficient stamps within a few months to defray the expense of this chapel."

There are about 1,100 inmates in the prison here, the Eastern State Correctional Institution. Some are mental defectives, serving indeterminate terms. Many are young men, serving three to five years.

At present, Father Killian said, services have to be held in the gymnasium, with a portable altar. About 250 to 300 go to Mass each Sunday.

"It's a very makeshift situation. We're trying to instill in these men the values that they should have learned before but didn't, and we need an appropriate setting to attract and inspire them," he said.

"With a chapel, set aside for the worship of God and nothing else," the services should make a far more vivid impression in the lives of our men, and have more lasting effects."

He worked out the stamp idea, obtaining agreements from various concerns that issue trading stamps to redeem them in money, or in building materials, instead of the usual merchandise.

Father Killian figures 65,000 books of stamps of any kind will do the job. They would be worth, in cash, about $130,000.

"If each Knight were to collect one book, the drive would be a success and no other help would be needed," he said in a letter, asking their help.

Both the New York chapter of the K. of C., headed by James E. Foley, and the state office, coordinating the work of 345 councils throughout the state, promptly sent out notices urging support.

The stamps are to be mailed to committee officials, Joseph L. J. Borgatti, of 2316 Belmont Ave., New York City 58, or Lawrence M. Cote, Box 271, Champlain, N.Y.

Inmates use spare time to sort them and paste them in books.

11 in Narcotics Ring Sentenced

NEW YORK (AP) — Pledging "no mercy from the courts," a federal judge Tuesday sentenced 11 members of an international narcotics ring to prison for from 5 to 25 years for smuggling $150 million worth of dope into the country.

In the case of three other men alleged to have been members of the ring, Judge William B. Hoffman set bail of $350,000 each.

The 11 men sentenced were convicted Dec. 27 after a two-month trial. The heaviest sentence, 25 years, was given Charles Schiffman, 59, described in court as "one of the main sources of supply for narcotics in Chicago."

Others sentenced were Joseph Valachi, Robert Gippioni and Matthew Palmieri, 20 years each; Charles Tandler Anthony Parceli, Michael Maello, Vito Agueri and Luigi La Bue, 15 years each; Romeo Sompelliti, 10 years; and Filippo Catoine, 5 years.

The huge haul was required of Frank Caruso, 50; Salvatore Maneri, 49, and Vincent Mauro, 45.
