54-Mile Gale Delays Glenn Another Day

By BEM PRICE
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Weather-plagued scientists prepared today for another attempt Friday to rocket astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into orbit but the odds still were heavily against them.

A 54-mile-an-hour gale sweeping across the central Atlantic forced the United States to cancel the effort early today. It was the ninth postponement.

ASTRONAUT NOT FRETTER

Glenn Able to Bear Setbacks

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Today's new delay in his space voyage doesn't find John H. Glenn Jr. "sitting on his hands, fretting."

For this astronaut, headed eventually for a great venture, is a man "remarkably able to bear frustration," says Dr. Robert Voas, a psychologist who is training officer for America's seven astronauts.

Furthermore, Glenn is busier than most people realize, and the activity helps him handle the long waits and last-minute postponements, Dr. Voas said.

To many people, the idea of riding into space is frightening. To come close to the moment of pushing the button—and having that moment stayed again and again—could seem an unbearable strain.

Partly it is because of training, the psychologist explains. Space flight is more like an ordinary event to them, much as it is the sight of blood to a surgeon.

"I'm sure John is aware, in fact more than most of us, of the dangers in his mission," Voas said. "But I've seen no evidence with John that concern for his personal safety is a very important item. I think that is typical of all the astronauts—men who have lived with danger all their lives and learned to live with it."

To the experienced test pilot of aircraft, the step into space is a next logical development. He's prepared to accept delays because of "bugs" developing in complex craft. But he's also familiar with all aspects of his plane—or his spacecraft—and repeatedly flies pretend missions.

The delays, if they have had any effects, have "generally been beneficial," Dr. Voas believes. Even if he is encased in his capsule on the launching pad—and the trip is called off—Glenn can regard it as another bit of practice to sharpen up.

When weather or a mechanical problem says "No go," Glenn is soon occupied with meetings and continued training. That helps combat frustration, Dr. Voas said. At the same time, "to those close to him, he sometimes expresses impatience at what he considers unnecessary demands on his time."

In the pretend flights, experts can confront him suddenly with emergency problems—something is supposed to have gone wrong. "And we can see if he is still alert and ready. John Glenn can tell, too, and is one of the best judges of his own condition."

Dr. Voas said that "there's no evidence he's building up any frustrations or annoyances" over the delays. "He's taking it very well."

erations director, Walter C. Williams, would take another close look at the weather at midnight tonight and make a decision then on whether to go ahead with the Friday launch attempt.

In discussing the status of the project at morning briefing, space officials held out the possibility of an extended delay if Glenn's mission does not come off Friday.

Postponements through Saturday, they said, would allow the rocket and capsule crews to "go back for detailed checks on the system beyond those allowable during the day-to-day delays."

The central Atlantic storm today, covering 27,000 square miles, was driving 18-foot waves through the area where Glenn would have had to land in event of an emergency during the first few minutes after liftoff. It was centered 950 miles east of Bermuda.

A 30 per cent weather improvement was forecast for that area Friday, leaving conditions still undesirable for a launch.

Indications were, the weather men said, that conditions in the recovery areas after one, two or three orbits probably would be satisfactory if not good.

A big problem looming is the expected weather in the Cape Canaveral area. It has been good all week except for early morning fog and low clouds which disappeared before mid-morning.

This same condition is expected Friday, but a new front also is moving in which would bring high cloud cover.

The problem will be to get the shot away after the low clouds dissipate and before the high cover moves in.

A cloud cover over the cape launching area forced a postponement Jan. 27 after Glenn had been in his capsule five hours and 13 minutes.

Paul Haney, NASA news director, announced today's scrub at 1:18 a.m.

As it did Wednesday, the "scrub" came after a special weather briefing for Project Mercury Director Walter C. Williams at the Cape Canaveral control center. The briefing began at midnight.

Immediately after the decision was made, the White House was advised of the further delay in the planned launch which was first scheduled for Dec. 20.

Glenn was awakened at 1:05 a.m. by his doctor, William Douglas, and advised of postponement. Subsequently Douglas said that Glenn appeared to be somewhat disappointed and the doctor quoted Glenn as saying:

"Everything is still go but the weather. When we get weather we will go." The doctor said Glenn then went back to bed.

Earlier in the day Glenn's psychologist, Dr. Robert Voas, said the astronaut had heard of inquiries by newsmen on the subject of how he relaxed after these repeated postponements.

Voas said Glenn asked him to "tell the press my relaxation consists of sleeping." The doctor said Glenn did not take sleeping pills or tranquilizers.

At a post-midnight weather briefing for newsmen, Haney said: "Unsatisfactory weather in the central and eastern Atlantic caused postponement of the launch attempt for at least 24 hours."

That would mean sometime between 7:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Friday.

Two Feet of Snow Piles Up In Northeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A snowstorm which outguessed forecasters heaped up to 2 feet of snow on parts of the Northeast Wednesday and today.

The area of heaviest snow was in eastern New York State, western Massachusetts, northern Rhode Island and southern New Hampshire and Vermont.

The storm began with lightning and sleet on the anniversary of the big St. Valentine's day storm of 1940. There were power failures as ice-laden wires snapped.

Schools closed and roads were left slippery and hazardous. Plane and train travel were disrupted.

In coastal New England and northern sections, the accumulation was less, but Cape Cod received 6 to 10 inches. The weather bureau said 24 inches fell near Tannersville, N.Y., in the Catskills.

At least eight deaths in New York State were attributed to exertion of snow-shovelers. Kingston, N.Y., on the Hudson River, also had 2 feet of snow.

Glens Falls, N.Y., reported 18 inches, Albany 16 inches, and Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Watertown, all in Eastern New York, 11 inches or more.

Snow slowed off today, leaving 24 inches on the ground at Worcester, Mass. Boston's suburbs received a 15-inch coating, and the city itself caught 8 to 10 inches.

At Somerset, Vt., the new snow depth was 17 inches, and at Providence, R.I., 16. Portland, Me., received 3 inches.

Farther south along the Atlantic Coast, weather was mild but a paralyzing fog hampered land, sea and air travel along Florida's east coast during the morning.

Some flights to Miami were diverted to Key West. Some plane departures from Miami were delayed several hours.

New rain hit the West where heavy downpours have caused extensive damage. At Point Arguello, Calif., 1.08 inches fell in 6 hours. Rain and showers fell from California and Nevada into Oregon and Washington.

In Idaho, Nevada and Wyoming, severe flooding which followed a thaw of mountain snows, receded a bit. But many communities and thousands of acres of farmland were still inundated as residents began the cleanup work.

2 Fire Chiefs Killed in Collapse Of Flaming Roof
CHICAGO (AP)—Two Chicago fire chiefs were killed Wednesday when the roof of a flaming three-story apartment building collapsed and buried them amid tons of cascading rubble in the basement.

Division Marshal Robert J. O'Brien, 52, and Battalion Chief Thomas A. Hoff, 44, were on the third floor building directing efforts of firemen at the extralarge blaze when the roof suddenly gave way. The two men fell from the third floor to the basement and were buried under the debris.

Fireman James L. Conley, 30, also fell with the two chiefs but he was rescued by firemen who worked 45 minutes sawing through charred timbers and pulling away rubble. Conley was hospitalized suffering from bruises and shock.

The fire started near an oil heater in the room next to that in which the boys slept, firemen reported.

West Protests On Russ Planes

MYSTERY CHILDREN . . . Frank DiMarco, left, about four-years-old, and Celia DiMarco, about two-and-a-half, were left in the care of a babysitter in a hotel room here a year ago by their mother who has not been seen since. The mother who gave the name Lisa DiMarco checked into the hotel and engaged a sitter so she could visit a bus station to pick up their luggage. She returned and left again and has not been seen since. Eventually the children were placed in a foster home as wards of the county. But their future is uncertain. They can't be adopted until the mystery of their mother's disappearance is cleared up. (AP Photofax)

Interference With Berlin Routes Cited

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States, Britain and France today protested against Soviet interference with Allied air corridors to Berlin.

The three Western embassies said in a terse statement that they had made written protests to the Soviet Foreign Ministry. No details were given.

Earlier, the three Allied occupying powers of West Berlin had rejected another Soviet request to restrict their air corridors between Berlin and Hanover and Hamburg to certain altitude levels.

Communist jets were heard breaking the sound barrier over Berlin today.

Passengers flying on a Berlin-Frankfurt airliner said that jets believed to be Soviet or East German flew close to their plane today. This air corridor is one of three assigned to the Western Allies for flights to and from the West to Berlin.

Wednesday Soviet MIGs buzzed several Western planes, including a light Royal Air Force transport carrying Sir Christopher Steele, British ambassador to West Germany.

Four times during the past week the Soviets have sought to reserve portions of the three air corridors to West Berlin for maneuvers. Each time the Western Allies have rejected the Soviet move, emphasizing that by four-power agreement every plane in the corridors must be separately announced and cleared by the four-power air safety center in West Berlin.

2 From Anoka Killed in 3-Car Pileup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two persons from Anoka were killed and six others injured shortly before midnight Wednesday in a three vehicle pileup in the north Minneapolis suburb of Coon Rapids.

Three of the injured were in critical condition.

Killed were Jerry Peterson, 22, and Mrs. Margaret deLong, about 40, both of Anoka.

Peterson was a passenger in a car driven by Paul O. Cady, 21, Osseo, one of the injured.

Mrs. deLong and the five other injured persons were in a vehicle driven by Mrs. Helen M. Cutter, 43, Anoka.

The Highway Patrol said the two cars and a semi-trailer truck were involved in the crash on U.S. Highway 10 about 11 p.m.

The truck driver was not injured.

Listed in critical condition in a hospital were Mrs. Betty Schmidt, Mrs. Gladys B. Thurston, 50, and Lewis Cutter, 29, all of Anoka.

Lewis is the son of one of the drivers.

In serious condition were Cady, Mrs. Cutter and Mrs. Phyllis Jablonski, about 40, Anoka.

The two deaths raised the Minnesota highway toll for the year to 59, thirty fewer than in the corresponding period of 1961.

2 Small Boys Dead in Fire At Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Two small boys perished Wednesday night in a fire which heavily damaged their parents' home at suburban Shorewood.

Bodies of Donald Chinander, 6, and his brother, Mark, 4, were recovered from a closet in their basement bedroom, where they apparently had sought to escape the flames and smoke.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Chinander, fled safely with another child, Chris, their year-old daughter.

The Chinanders were on the first floor watching television when the father said he smelled smoke about 9 p.m. Investigating, he opened a door into the basement only to be driven back by fire and smoke.

Mark Knowlton, Excelsior fireman wearing a gas mask, recovered the bodies a half hour later from under clothing in the closet. He said they apparently had suffocated.

Chinander, bus driver for the Twin City Rapid Transit Co., said he himself had built the bedroom addition where his boys died.

Two other firemen from the Lake Minnetonka suburb were treated for smoke inhalation. Le-bahn Morse and Harvey Holmes were reported in good condition.

The fire started near an oil heater in the room next to that in which the boys slept, firemen reported.

Naftalin Raps Sunday Closing

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Mayor Arthur Naftalin vetoed the City Council's Sunday closing ordinance today, calling it an "unwarranted interference with the personal freedom of our citizens."

Naftalin said it has the effect of discriminating against persons who observe days other than Sunday as their Sabbath and has been widely misunderstood.

The Council passed the ordinance 10-1 last week. Before passage, an alternate closing day clause was deleted. As it stands, the ordinance would require most retail businesses to close on Sunday.

Naftalin said the real aim of the ordinance was to protect "certain businesses" against the competition of suburban discount houses, many of which remain open on Sundays.

But, said the mayor, the ordinance has been understood by the public as either aimed at enhancing Sunday as a day of rest and worship or at protecting individuals from working seven days a week.

Naftalin said it sought to impose by law a pattern of social and economic behavior that should be shaped by free choice of the people.

Fire in New Embassy at Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Fire swept through the partially completed new U.S. Embassy building here Wednesday night. Flames shot as high as 250 feet, causing steel girder work to collapse and destroying wooden scaffolding. No one was hurt.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined. A Mexican official estimated damage at $160,000.

Officials feared the fire may have set back completion of the $4 million structure from six months to a year past the original target date of August 1963. Only the foundation, basement and first two floors had been completed before the fire. The building was designed to be the largest U.S. Embassy in Latin America and one of the three largest embassies in the world.

7 Children Die in Fire

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Six young brothers and a neighbor girl perished Wednesday night in a fire which destroyed their small frame house in nearby St. Anne Woods. The victims ranged in age from 1 1/2 to 12 years.

The mother of the six boys, Gwendolyn Mallory, 40, a widow, was at a neighbor's home, about a mile away in Pembroke Township, when the fire broke out about 11:30 p.m.

Fire Chief Robert Hayes said the fire was caused by defective wiring. The five-room house burned to the ground.

Police said Mrs. Mallory had left home about 10 p.m. and the children presumably had gone to bed. The mother had left the children in charge of her oldest son, Michael, 12.

In the home with him were his brothers, Harold, 8; Bruce, 7; Claude, 5; Robert, 2; and Mark, 1 1/2; and Barbara, 10, a daughter of Thelma Ewing, a neighbor who is ill in a hospital in nearby Clifton.

The Council passed the ordinance 10-1 last week. Before passage, an alternate closing day clause was deleted. As it stands, the ordinance would require most retail businesses to close on Sunday.

Naftalin said the real aim of the ordinance was to protect "certain businesses" against the competition of suburban discount houses, many of which remain open on Sundays.

But, said the mayor, the ordinance has been understood by the public as either aimed at enhancing Sunday as a day of rest and worship or at protecting individuals from working seven days a week.

Naftalin said it sought to impose by law a pattern of social and economic behavior that should be shaped by free choice of the people.

Car Rams Truck, Two Killed at Black River Falls

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis.—Mrs. Mary McKevitt, 23, rural Black River Falls, and her year-old daughter Luanne were killed last night when the family car crashed into the rear of a semi-trailer truck.

Mrs. McKevitt's husband, Berrie, 23, who is caretaker at Castle Mound State Park, was in serious condition in a Marshfield hospital. The couple's son, Danny, 4, was not injured. McKevitt was transferred from Black River Falls to Marshfield for emergency surgery.

The crash occurred on Highway 12, half a mile north of Black River Falls.

Jackson County Coroner John Noble said the McKevitt car was not equipped with safety belts.

Two others have been killed in Wisconsin traffic accidents, pushing the state's 1962 traffic toll to 66, compared with 92 on this date a year ago.

Edward Alderman, 5, Okauchee, was killed Wednesday evening when an auto driven by his 17-year-old sister was involved in a head-on collision at the intersection of Waukesha County Highways P and C, about two miles north of Oconomowoc. The boy's sister, Sharon, was in critical condition.

$20,000 Loss In Fire at Loading Dock

ST. PAUL (AP)—Fire at a loading dock caused about $20,000 damage at the Northwestern Refining company's St. Paul Park plant early today.

Arnold Niemeyer, a spokesman for the firm, said the damaged portion of the refinery would be back in operation by noon.

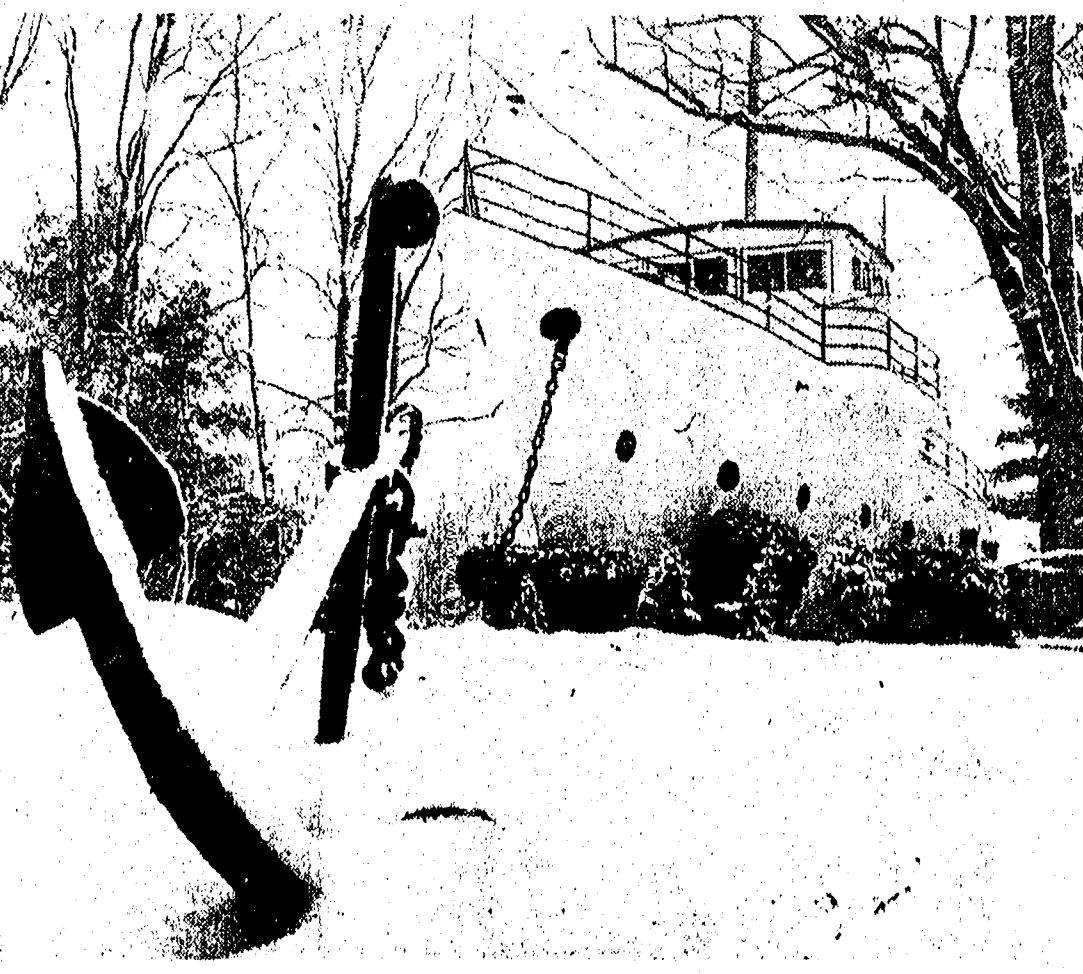

He said the blaze was touched off by a spark of unknown origin. Damage was limited to the loading dock, a system of pipes used to fill tank trucks.

Three trucks loading heating oil at the docks were damaged.

Hansen said his earliest recollection is that a motorist gave him a lift from Elgin, Ill., to Rockford sometime in 1955. He was wearing a business suit. He had a few dollars, but no personal identification except an empty briefcase with the initials V.H. on it.

He said he decided to call himself Verne Hansen.

The professor's wife, Dorothy, moved to California with her three sons—Carl, 13, Lee, 11, and Richard, 9—and divorced Holmberg two years ago. Last year she married Gordon Babcock, a consulting electronics engineer, and the family lives in Menlo Park.

YACHT HOME . . . This is the 80-foot yacht home of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hanson and their three children at North Reading, Mass. In its 22-year history the vessel has never pitched or yawed in a storm, never been lost in a fog and on which no one ever has been seasick. It has never been within miles of the water. It was built on a landscaped lot in the landlocked town and has never moved an inch. Originally it was a showpiece for an adjacent seafood restaurant. (AP Photofax)

Hospital Group

At Spring Grove Donating Assets
SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special)—Stockholders of Spring Grove Hospital, Inc., Tuesday took initial steps toward turning over certain of their assets to the village in preparation for construction of the $540,000 hospital-nursing home for which the council recently sold a $350,000 bond issue at 3.742 percent interest.
Construction bids on the new 20-bed hospital and 31-bed nursing home, which will be in the new Myrah addition on the east side of town, will be let in April. Fasth, Hilstrom & Horty, Minneapolis, architects, are completing working plans. Total estimated figure includes furnishings and equipment.
Stockholders voted to assign funds to the village to assure completion of the hospital in return for a lease from the village to operate the hospital.
They voted to deed to the village the four-acre plot of ground where the hospital will be constructed and dedicate the streets surrounding the site.
Hollis Onsgard, Raymond Rauk, Arnold Morken and the Rev. Rolf G. Hanson were re-elected directors. Following the stockholders meeting, held in the parlors of Trinity Lutheran Church, the board re-elected the following officers: N. Thor Kjomoe, president; Clarence Jolson, vice president; Rev. Hanson, secretary, and Owen Foss, treasurer.

Hospital Kickoff Set at Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Vincent F. Otis, director of the division of hospital and related services for the Wisconsin State Board of Health, will be the principal speaker at the Tri-County Memorial Hospital building fund kickoff next Wednesday at Whitehall High School gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

In his present position since 1945, Otis administers the federal grants-in-aid program for hospital and medical facilities, involving the annual approval of some $10 to $15 million in construction projects throughout Wisconsin. He also administers the licensure of 160 maternity hospitals and approval of 170 general hospitals and related institutions.
Otis has appeared in one or more of the principal cities, villages or towns of every county in the state helping communities to help themselves in providing needed health care facilities.
The general teams phase of the campaign will swing into high gear at this meeting, which will signal the beginning of the solicitation of over 4,000 area families by campaign workers.

A special program is being planned in addition to the address by Otis. The 100-voice high school folk singers, directed by William Dahl, will sing and the High School Band under the direction of Sheridan Johnson, will be heard.
The meeting is open to the general public.

Houston County Board Approves Bridge Contract

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—The Houston County Board of Commissioners let a bridge contract, appropriated $2,200 for Root River soil conservation this year, and heard reports at the monthly meeting Wednesday.

Bids will be opened at the March 14 meeting on furnishing calcium chloride and road salt and furnishing rental equipment.

The contract for constructing a state aid bridge a mile southwest of Brownsville was let to the low bidder, Brennan Construction Co., Lansing, Iowa, for $27,430.70. Other bidders were H. S. Dresser & Son, Winona, $27,799; George H. Griffith, Caledonia, $28,551.15; and J. F. Brennan Co., La Crosse, $34,098.55.

The public examiner's report on financial affairs of the Houston County welfare board, fees and emoluments of the various officials, and Root River SWCD were heard. The annual financial statement of Miss Dolores Hauge, county auditor, was approved.

A total of $1,557 in claims of the department of corrections against Houston County in the last six months of 1961 were approved. The names of Mrs. Paul Guenther, Hokah; Mrs. John Blair, Brownsville; and Mrs. O. J. Strand, Caledonia, were submitted to the state Department of Welfare as nominees for the welfare board.

Store Entered At Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—About $100 in merchandise was taken Wednesday evening from a Plainview sporting goods store.
Ed Lager, Wabasha County deputy sheriff, said this morning that "local juveniles probably were responsible for the theft at Bartz' Specialty Shop, since the store was not in display and 25 to 30 new shotguns on display were not taken.
Articles lost were air pistols, 22 caliber shells, hunting knives, sling shots, hand saws, BB's for air-rifles and other small items.
Authorities believed that the burglary took place late Wednesday evening or early this morning.
Joseph Gates, who owns a shoe store adjacent to Bartz, sat near a window in his shop about 15 feet from the rear door of the sporting goods shop, the one apparently used by the thieves until 10 p.m. Wednesday. He observed nothing unusual.

Winonan Heads Hiawatha Valley Promotion Unit

Ray Meyer, past chairman of the Winona Chamber of Commerce's tourist committee, was elected president of the Hiawatha Valley Association at a dinner meeting Wednesday at the Williams Hotel.

Meyer, succeeds Kenneth Jacobson, Red Wing. Leonard G. Anderson, La Crosse, was elected first vice president, and Clyde B. Merrill, Lake City, second vice president. A. J. Anderson, secretary-manager of the Winona Chamber of Commerce, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the tourist promotion group.

Revenue pledged for 1962 promotion totaled $3,450-$2,200 dues from chambers and $1,250 from member firms. This year's expenses were estimated at $3,300.

The promotional program will include display ads in metropolitan newspapers, publication and distribution of 25,000 brochures to 285 tourist bureaus and automobile clubs in 24 states, entertainment of tourist editors and writers, and billboards on these Wisconsin highways—12 and 16 south of Tomah, and 14, 16 and 35 south of La Crosse, to divert traffic to the Hiawatha Valley.

Cities represented at the dinner were La Crosse, La Crescent, Winona, Lake City and Red Wing. Jacobson presided.

Pepin County Board Appoints New Official

DURAND, Wis. (Special)—The Pepin County Board of Supervisors hired one out of nine applicants Wednesday to serve both as civil defense director and veterans officer.

The new official is Robert L. Blair, Durand, who is currently an oil distributor. The salary was fixed at $300, plus necessary travel expense. He will have an office in the courthouse and work fulltime.

The board, adjourning Wednesday after a two-day session, reduced the applicants to three Tuesday and selected Blair Wednesday after personal interviews with him, Everett Biles, Durand, and George Goble, Pepin.

Glenn and Mary Graham had resigned as head of civil defense because of poor health. Ryan Laue resigned as veterans service officer after being appointed county judge and taking office Jan. 2.

PEPIN COUNTY doesn't have a public welfare director following the death of Claude Langlois, but Mrs. Madeleine Loeffler, a case worker, is acting director. The board was told this week by the district director that a county welfare director must have a bachelor of science degree in social work and two years of experience as a caseworker. No applications have been received.

A report from the county traffic department showed $5,265 were collected in fines and costs last year. The two traffic officers traveled 53,217 miles, made 226 arrests and investigated 90 accidents.

The county judge's annual report showed 73 city of Durand traffic cases handled in his court in 1961, plus 21 criminal and 305 other cases. One adoption was handled, 39 guardians were appointed, 34 people were committed to hospitals, and 60 estates were active.

THE COUNTY agent and 4-H agent participated in 94 training sessions attended by 3,686. Local leaders held 82 meetings, with 1,062 attendees. There are 14 Home-maker clubs. Pepin County Farm Management Club held seven all-day instruction and training meetings.

The county nurse traveled 9,272 miles on official duty last year. She administered 699 polio injections and 49 lockjaw and 239 small-pox vaccinations.

Of the 1,362 students screened for vision, 272 showed defects. Tests for tuberculosis were given to 81.4 percent of enrollment. Twelve students and six adults rejected.

A high percentage of students needed dental care, her survey showed.

PEPIN LIBRARY reported 451 borrowers and 31 new books purchased last year. A Durand library report was received after adjournment of the board. The county board annually appropriates $600 to the Pepin and $1,200 to the Durand library.

Action was delayed until the November session on possible purchase of a new automatic addressing machine for the tax roll and welfare department. Decision on purchasing a new mimeograph was left with the property committee.

CORRECTION

An accident report in Tuesday's paper incorrectly said a car owned by Mrs. Frank J. Mertes was moving west on Howard Street when Arthur Thompson, 1062 W. Howard St., backed into it Saturday at 3:30 p.m. He backed out of his driveway.

Mrs. Mertes' car was parked across the street. The rear of the Thompson car struck the left front door of the Mertes vehicle, causing $60 damage.

January Payrolls At 5-Year High

Winona employment at mid-January was 9,752—511 under December but the highest January total for the past five years. Ray H. Brown, local manager, State Employment Service, reported.

Construction and other outdoor activities experienced their usual midwinter declines in January. Retail trade declined after the high Christmas level. Manufacturing declined because of off-season slowdowns. Government employment declined because of the layoff of temporary Christmas workers at the post office.

MANUFACTURING declined from peak levels in late 1961 but was at a five-year high for January. Textile and wood products workers were laid off because of off-season production slowdowns. Metalworking declined slightly because of layoffs in electrical equipment. Manufacturing employers expect further declines this winter.

Layoffs of Christmas extras accounted for much of the decline in retail trade. The biggest declines were in general merchandise and apparel stores.

Construction employment showed the effects of extreme cold weather. Layoffs were general.

Labor demand during January was low but there's continued strong need for experienced stenographers and other office workers.

Labor supply increased to 1,300 job-seekers at the end of January. Of this number, 550 were women. About 150 persons sought part-time jobs.

Here's a five-year roundup of mid-January employment totals:

	Dec. 1961	Jan. 1962	Jan. 1961
Manufacturing	4,099	3,556	3,635
Wholesale trade	339	343	371

Four to Assess At Independence

INDEPENDENCE, Wis. (Special)—At its February meeting, Independence City Council approved appointment of Joseph Jaszewski and a committee to assess city property for 1962, as recommended by the taxation and finance committee. Until this year, the assessing has been done by one man, appointed by the council.

Jaszewski has not chosen the three who will work with him. They must be approved by the taxation committee, whose members are Edward Wolfe, Walter Reich, Alfred Szepanski and Coddie Gamroth.

Appointment of the following election officials by the mayor was approved by council: August Mish, Miss Alice Wiener and the Mrs. Pelchic Hotchkiss, Edna Cooke, Inga Jahr, Mary Pason and Susan Wozney.

AT ST. MARY'S COLLEGE:

Britisher Says Admit Red Chinese to U.N.

If the United States signed an atomic weapons inspection pact with Russia, this would not assure peace because the potential atomic power of Red China would be ignored, Anthony Wedgwood Benn, member of the British Parliament, said at St. Mary's College convocation Wednesday night.

Benn, who spoke in the SMC upper gymnasium to 800 faculty and students said the Chinese would eventually develop atomic bombs. He urged admission of Red China to the United Nations.

"IT'S OUR ONLY hope of finding out what's going on in China," he said of his U.N. proposal. Benn described the Chinese as millions of people on the march who couldn't be contained by another power.

"We must try to bring them around to reason," he said. "If not there will be anarchy."

Weatherman Predicts Snow; Four Inches?

A late afternoon snowfall which could bring up to four inches before ending tonight was moving on Winona and vicinity today.

At noon snow was falling in Minneapolis and in the Mankato area and was closing in on Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin. Shortly afterward snow began falling here.

The snowfall was to be followed by partial clearing tonight and Friday with no important change in temperature.

A low of 20-25 is expected tonight and a high of 30-35 Friday.

ALTHOUGH THE predicted rain or snow failed to appear Wednesday night, the weatherman repeated the forecast for today. The thermometer rose to 35 Wednesday afternoon and dropped to 22 during the night. The 7 a.m. reading was 26 and by noon the thermometer said 33.

A year ago today Winona had a high of 44 and a low of 21. All-time high for Feb. 15 was 65 in 1921 and the low -16 in 1875 and 1907. Mean for the past 24 hours was 28. Normal for this day is 19.

Bemidji reported a drop in temperature to 14 this morning for the lowest reading in the state. Duluth had 19 and International Falls 24.

At Rochester the low today was 23 after a high of 31 Wednesday. La Crosse posted figures of 25 and 33 for the same times.

Minot and Fargo, N. D., reported snow as did Winnipeg, Canada.

WISCONSIN received a valentine of rather mild temperatures Wednesday with an added mixture of widely scattered light snow.

High readings varied from 37 at Milwaukee, Racine, Beloit-Rockford and Lone Rock to 27 at Superior-Duluth. Other highs were Green Bay 36, Madison, Wausau 35, Eau Claire 34 and Park Falls 30. Green Bay had the nighttime low of 5 degrees, compared with 26 at Beloit-Rockford. In between were Wausau 10, Eau Claire 13, Superior-Duluth, Park Falls and Racine 19, Milwaukee 20, Madison and Lone Rock 22.

Snow was falling in western Wisconsin at midmorning today and the State Highway Department called attention to a forecast of snow, freezing rain and sleet.

MELTED precipitation amounts Wednesday were topped by .02 of an inch at Park Falls and Superior-Duluth.

Tallahassee, Fla., had Wednesday's national high of 85 while Pellston, Mich., recorded this morning's low of 8 below.

Fire Damages Farm Building

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special)—Part of a 25-by-50-foot hog barn, two sows and 27 small pigs were destroyed in a fire Wednesday night on the Wilton Bunke farm two miles west of the Hart Store.

The blaze is thought by the Bunkes to have started in an improper use of electricity in the master switch. After the fuse had been removed, the circuit remained energized, hampering the work of Rushford fire department, which was called at 11:45 p.m.

Firemen could not remove the sows because they were lying in electrified water and firemen noted electric energy in the metal siding when they put their ladders against it.

Heat lamps were being used in the building, where there were about 200 pigs including 12 sows that had farrowed, and feeder pigs. Smoke suffocated the animals that died.

Robert Bunke, brother of Wilton, was first Rushford fireman on the scene. The Bunkes held the fire down somewhat with garden hose until the department arrived.

The east end of the building was burned out. The surviving pigs were chased into the remaining part of the building. Some of the animals were groggy from smoke.

Bunke could give no estimate on the loss and said he carried some insurance.

City Council Asks School Board Why It Boosts Wages

By C. GORDON HOLTE
Daily News Staff Writer

The City Council last fall adopted a hold-the-line policy (with some exceptions) on wages for its employees this year.

Aldermen sent copies of this resolution to other boards and city departments telling them that, in the interest of economy, they thought the various boards should adopt similar policies. One of the boards that received a copy of the resolution was the Board of Education which employs around 250.

The past month there's been some talk but no action, yet, about the school board raising the salaries of some of its employees; specifically, its teachers and custodians.

WEDNESDAY afternoon seven of the nine Councilmen met with the school board salary committee and administrative officials to ask about this.

School Board President Lawrence Santelman told the Council delegation that the salary committee had recommended to the board that the top and bottom of the 13-step teachers' salary schedule for 1962-63 be raised—the top by $100, the bottom by $200 ($300 for beginning teachers with master's degrees).

The committee, Santelman said, also has recommended a $5 increase in the monthly wages of its custodians.

THE COUNCIL reaction:

On teachers salaries: The delegation agreed that the school board was in the best position to determine what teachers salaries should be and, on the basis of statements made by the board committee, the upward revision of the salary schedule appeared to be justified.

On custodians salaries: Aldermen were in general agreement that there were circumstances which justified raises for the school custodians, too. One thing that impressed the Council was the statement by Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson that in the past three years the custodial staff has been reduced by two. Another factor: Salary increases for both teachers and custodians were taken into consideration by the board in the draft of its 1962-63 tax budget last summer so the raises going into effect this year won't cause any additional budget burden.

After an hour or so of this kind of talk the Council delegation said it appreciated the opportunity of meeting with the board and felt it had learned a great deal about school operation and school problems. The board committee said it was happy the aldermen had shown an interest in school matters, and had come to the meeting.

TODAY AT 5 P.M. the board committee will meet with the teachers to outline its contemplated salary action and a special board meeting will be called in the near future to take final action on new schedules.

Yesterday's meeting was called in consideration of a Council request that, when the school board had arrived at a decision on salaries it have the opportunity of talking over the details with the board. After Monday night's school board meeting at which general agreement was reached on salary issues for its employees, Santelman called Council President Harold Briesath and arranged for the meeting.

Attending from the Council, in addition to Briesath were Ald. Howard Baumann, Daniel Barmenck, Mrs. Muriel Oltom, Mrs. Mary Massey, Clarence Tribell and Lloyd Deike. Santelman and his committee members—Frank J. Allen Jr., Dr. C. R. Kollowski and Franklin Tylman—Superintendent Nelson and Paul W. Sanders, board clerk and business manager, represented the schools.

BAUMANN STARTED the discussion by saying that aldermen became concerned when, in the light of the hold-the-line policy, they'd read a story in the Daily News last month that the teachers had submitted a proposal on a 1962-63 salary schedule that in some instances would result in increases of $500 for some employees.

Santelman said that that was the teachers' proposal but that was substantially higher than the schedule on which the board is now considering action.

This year, teachers are being paid on the basis of a schedule that runs from $4,400 to $7,100 for teachers with bachelor's degrees and from none to $3 years' experience and $4,600 to $7,700 for those with master's degrees along the same range of experience.

THE BOARD is proposing a new schedule that increases the minimum at the bachelor's level to $4,600 and for master's degree holders, $4,900, with a $100 increase in the maximum for each category. Teachers are paid for a 39-week year and receive additional money for time put in beyond that, for extracurricular assignments and other duties.

The teachers' proposal called for, among other things, a range for teachers with bachelor's degrees of $4,500 to $7,500 and for master's degrees, $4,700 to $8,100. Nelson told the Council that during the past four years there have been no appreciable changes in the bulk of the salary schedule except for a raising of the minimum amounts paid beginning teachers. Those at the top of the schedule didn't get a raise last year.

THE BOARD feels that it must raise the bottom step, Santelman said, to keep it in a competitive position with other schools in the employment of beginning teachers. "There's one suburban Twin Cities school that has maximums of $8,500 and $9,500," Santelman noted. "We can't possibly compete with this schedule at the top but, on the other hand, this is a new school (the suburban one) and it has very few teachers at the top of the schedule. But we do have to be in a position to attract new teachers."

Nelson said that the new schedule, he was sure, if adopted, would still be one of the lowest in the Southeastern Minnesota Big Nine high school conference.

DEIKE COMMENTED after hearing these statements, "I don't think any of us have any intention of passing judgment on the professional salaries you pay your people. You are in the position of knowing what they should be and we must accept your determination."

The Council's main concern, Deike continued, "is in the area of custodial employees. We have a comparable group to whom no wage increases were granted. We'd be concerned if you do anything for your non-professional employees that would be in conflict with our hold-the-line policy."

Santelman said the committee was recommending a $5 monthly increase that would raise the salary of custodians on regular full-time status to $263.

"WE FEEL that in our schools we must have custodial employees, who'll be in constant contact with our children; of the very highest caliber. We think this should be reflected in what we pay them," Santelman said.

"Moreover, our administration," he continued, "makes every effort to keep the staff at a minimum and still maintain a high level of efficiency and work."

Asked how many custodians there are on the staff, the board committee replied, 22. In answer to another question they said that in comparison with salaries paid custodians in other Big Nine schools Winona ranked about in the middle.

A $5 increase for the custodians, as well as the teachers' salary increases, have been accommodated for in the budget adopted last summer, aldermen were told. (The Council approved that budget unanimously.)

IN THAT case, the Council delegation acknowledged, this was a somewhat different situation.

When and if you take formal action on these raises for the custodians," Deike said, "I hope you'll make every effort to convey to the public the facts that you've given us here tonight. I think that your explanation justifies these raises and the people who are now objecting, I think, would feel different if they knew about them."

"These wage adjustment panels that are now at work," Deike added, "are certainly going to bring the custodians' salary increase up. I think you've explained to us why they're necessary. I hope the public knows, too."

"WE CERTAINLY didn't do anything with the intention of getting you over a barrel," Santelman replied. "Our action is being taken in what we consider a matter of necessity in the best interest of the schools."

"I'm convinced that what you have done is justified," Deike said. "I also think that if there is anyone here in this room who doesn't feel the same way he should speak up and get it off his chest now."

Briesath wanted to know about overtime paid custodians. He was told that the overtime payments at the rate of $2 an hour run to a total for the entire staff of about $3,400 a year and that some of this is reimbursed in rentals charged for school facilities.

MRS. MASZYGA said, "That $5 for the custodians still bothers me. There are a lot of other city employees who probably are worth $5 a month more, too. I wish you'd held the line."

Briesath added, "We realize you have to fight people. We have excellent people, too, and we want to keep them as much as you want to keep yours."

"Our situation is a little different," Allen said. "We were concerned with holding down the budget and still protecting ourselves in maintaining a good staff. If we'd pierced the budget or sky-rocketed it there'd be every right for criticism. But we've kept our budget at the minimum."

AT THIS point the Council was told that Winona's 72.36 mill levy for school purposes is the lowest in the Big Nine where levies range up to 163.04 at Northfield.

The reason, Aldermen asked, a big factor the answer was, that Winona is one of the few if not the only large school system in the state with a debt-free plant.

There were comments on the high standards of education maintained in Winona and the meeting was adjourned.

Mabel Telephone Vote Indicates Independent Role

MABEL, Minn. (Special)—Within two or three weeks, stockholders of Mabel Telephone Cooperative will be asked in a referendum if they approve applying for an REA loan and going dial.

Total estimated cost is $347,885. A loan could be secured for a 35-year period at 2 percent.

Although dial rates would increase over the present ones—stockholders were told at the second annual meeting at Legion Hall Wednesday afternoon—that if manual improvements were made to bring the system to good service, the cost would be even higher.

STOCKHOLDERS in a straw vote Wednesday favored 5-1 remaining an independent company and going dial, but a referendum is required before action can be taken.

Before taking the straw vote, stockholders were asked to state if they wished the company to remain as at present; repair rural lines for good service; sell out to another company, or convert to dial.

There were two speakers at the meeting. C. E. Peterson, Iowa City, Iowa, engineer, discussed the cost of a dial system, and R. W. Bunke, Houston, manager of Ace Telephone Co.

At a meeting of directors Monday, Peterson also was present, with Lewis Seawell, Eau Claire, Wis., representative of the telephone loans division of REA.

Peterson pointed out that Mabel Cooperative would eventually go dial whether it does so at this time or not, and to change to dial now would eliminate the huge manual improvement program necessary for quality service. Buried cable is cheaper than aerial cable, he said.

DONALD W. JOHNSON, Alton Spande, Dr. Vernon Karli and George Elstedt were re-elected directors. Marilyn Dahlen was elected succeeding E. R. Antrim, 80, who wished to retire.

Following the regular meeting, Dahlen was elected secretary and the following were re-elected: Johnson, president; Elstedt, treasurer, and Spande, vice president.

Ervin Inglet, Irvin Sterlie, Norman Castertori and LeRoy Street are holdover directors.

Driver, 17, Convicted for Eighth Time

Dennis E. Johnson, 17, 1740 W. Wabasha St., pleaded guilty to a charge of driving after suspension of his driver's license and was sentenced to a fine of $30 or 10 days in county jail this morning in municipal court.

Johnson paid the fine. He was arrested by the Highway Patrol Feb. 4 at 2:55 p.m. on Highway 61 at Winona.

Johnson, a minor, appeared before juvenile authorities who bound him over to municipal court. He appeared before Municipal Judge S. D. J. Brusk.

Johnson's traffic record includes seven convictions in two years. On Aug. 4, 1960, he was charged with an open bottle violation. He was convicted of driving with no driver's license Feb. 20, 1960, and May 29, 1961. He was arrested Nov. 1, 1960, at Preston and convicted of speeding, driving over the center line, no driver's license, open bottle violation and drunken driving.

It Happened Last Night Friends Honor Modest Millionaire

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Danny Thomas was the hero of the great testimonial given by the Jewish Theatrical Guild — and Joey Bishop arose and remarked, "He sits there in all his modesty under a picture bigger than my living room."

The "humility" of the former Toledo newsboy who got disgracefully rich was a good theme for his kidding.

"He's one of the few businessmen who owns his own chain of comedians," Joey Bishop went on.

"I want to thank you, Danny, for getting me my own television show, and ruining my life. DANNY, CAN'T YOU STAY AWAKE? I'M TALKING TO YOU!"

Milton Berle leaped up. "When I first saw him in Chicago, I knew he had something — and I wrote it down," he said.

Jan Murray swore that Danny's dimples are painted on, that he's allergic to comedians, and that he signs them up for their own TV series in his company to get them out of the way. George Jessel told Molly Picon she'd told some funny stories — but why hadn't she mentioned Danny Thomas?

George chided everybody for talking too long about Danny.

"ABRAHAM Lincoln couldn't have taken more than two minutes, even if he stuttered, to deliver the Gettysburg Address, and I'm sure he's as important as this Lebanese comedian!" George scolded.

Then they got mellow. Milton Berle told Danny, "You are 'Mr. Television' and Danny said back, 'No one will ever be 'Mr. Television' but Milton Berle.'"

It was one of the biggest, warmest tributes in my years around B'way. Danny himself brought out that maybe it wouldn't have happened if he'd had his long nose bobbed. He mentioned that several years ago when he had a $1,200,000 MGM movie offer, contingent upon a nose-chop, his friend and agent, Abe Lastfogel, said, "I don't want you to touch that beautiful face of yours!"

Canadian Conditions

Whether there will be an open season for ducks this fall depends to a great extent on the snowfall in Western Canada this winter, and spring rains. If the three-year drought is broken and the shallow lakes and potholes of the prairies are filled again with water, canvasbacks will rise at dawn like pictured in Roger Preuss' painting reproduced above.

Ducks Unlimited, as well as the Fish and Wildlife Service, are watching snowfall there with eagle eyes. River duck hunters thus should be interested in a Ducks Unlimited wire report received here. It reads in part:

"Snow conditions are generally improved on the Canadian prairies over a similar date last year though in some instances precipitation is still below normal. Central Alberta shows the greatest improvement. Conditions are improved in Saskatchewan. Eight inches of snow blanketed east and south-east Saskatchewan where the deficiencies were the greatest. Manitoba snow cover is normal or slightly below."

Mississippi Flyway

The Fish and Wildlife Service is currently releasing summaries of the annual continental waterfowl survey made in mid-January. This is an annual event, thus providing comparative figures. As far as possible the same individuals make the survey in the same given area each year, covering the same allotted area. Here is part of the Mississippi flyway report:

"The annual winter waterfowl cooperative survey shows a decrease in ducks and geese wintering in the 14 Mississippi Flyway states. Compared with a year ago, water fowl numbers—including ducks, geese, coots and swans—were down about 14 percent.

There were 13 percent fewer ducks, about 19 percent fewer geese and swans, but a percent more coots. The mallard population, which normally provides at least half the duck shooting in this flyway, was 38 percent below that of January 1961 and 43 percent below the 12-year average. Four years ago, more than twice as many mallards were recorded.

"Another popular duck, the canvasback, made a slight gain this year, but remains at levels 46 percent below long-term averages. Excellent food conditions in southwestern Louisiana again attracted and held large numbers of ducks which normally winter south of the United States. As a result of Hurricane Audrey in 1959, the coastal marshes of Louisiana have vegetative conditions that are ideal for ducks.

"Bolstered by one ad a half million scaup which chanced to be inshore when the counts were made, Louisiana this year had 70 percent of the entire flyway duck population at the time of the survey. In marked contrast with the favorable conditions at the south end of the flyway, most of the north end was snow- and ice-bound, explaining in part the low duck numbers recorded there.

"Canada geese came through the hunting season at population levels similar to those of a year ago. Blue and snow geese, which had a disastrous nesting season last summer along with other arctic nesters, were considerably reduced in numbers when compared with the high populations of the previous year.

"Coots also had a poor breeding season due to the drought, but their numbers in the Mississippi Flyway increased anyway, apparently because excellent food conditions at attracted and held birds which usually winter farther south.

"In the Mississippi flyway study, 740 people participated. They covered 61,000 miles in 50 aircraft, 603 automobiles and 20 boats. The extensive coverage was made possible because of the excellent cooperation of state conservation departments and the Department of Defense with the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Department of the Interior, which coordinates the survey."

GOP Caucuses At Rushford OK 3 Resolutions

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — Three resolutions were passed at a Republican caucus held by four precincts in the REA building Monday evening. Delegates and alternates to the Fillmore County convention in Preston March 1 were elected.

The resolutions favored a 3 percent state sales tax to replace personal property taxes; commended Gov. Elmer H. Andersen for "the excellent job he has done in getting the Legislature in a special brief session to pass a re-districting bill," and commended Rep. Clint Hall "for the fine job he has done in representing Fillmore County in the Legislature."

Elections were: Rushford city—Clint Hall, "Eno Morkin and Robert Betz, delegates; Ben Niggle and Mmes. Clint Hall and Robert Betz, alternates. Arendahl town—Art Molstein and Herbert Highum, delegates; and Gerhard and Arvid Kjos, alternates.

Rushford village—Styrk Isberg Jr. and Robert Highum, delegates; and Kermit Italger and Clifford Kjos, alternates. Peterson — Paul Benson and Stanley Agimison, delegates; and Clifford Benson and Oscar B. Hanson, alternates.

Following the four-precinct meeting, Rushford city delegates passed a resolution against the operation of an "on-sale" beer establishment here. A referendum on the question will be held Feb. 23.

ADM Acquires Grain Elevators In Four States

Archer Daniels Midland Co., processor of agricultural and chemical products, announced Wednesday it has acquired 11 terminal grain elevators from Norris Grain Co., Chicago, Ill.

ADM said it was a multi-million-dollar transaction, effective April 2.

The elevators are located in four states with a total capacity of 12 million bushels.

John H. Daniels, ADM president, said the move was "extremely significant" in the firm's program of shifting its grain operations from storage to worldwide merchandising.

The terminals are located in grain growing areas on rivers leading to the Gulf of Mexico, consistent with the decision to build an export terminal on the gulf, ADM said.

ADM now has a company-wide grain capacity of about 97 million bushels.

SPRING GROVE MEETING

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special)—The Spring Grove Commercial Club will meet Monday at 7 p.m. at the Legion clubrooms.

Hokah, La Crescent Cars in Collision

LA CRESCENT, Minn. — Hokah and La Crescent cars collided on Highway 14, 16 and 61 between here and La Crosse Wednesday morning and a La Crescent woman was hospitalized in La Crosse as a result.

She is Mrs. Lillian Mae Faas, 36, Her St. Francis Hospital physician said that her injuries were minor but that she would be kept in the hospital for a while for observation.

The car she was driving and another driven by Norman Feuerhelm, 21, Hokah, collided on the slippery highway, a Minnesota Highway Patrol officer said.

He said that Mrs. Faas lost control of her car on the slippery road and that it slid across the island which divides the highway. The two cars struck broadside, the officer said.

89TH BIRTHDAY

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special)—The 89th birthday of Mrs. Dena Holven was observed Feb. 13, at her home here. She was born in 1873 on the present Davis farm in Washington Coulee, North Beaver Creek area. She married Torkel Holven, a native of Norway, June 12, 1895, and until 1922 the couple farmed on the Holven homestead in Washington Coulee. They then bought a home on North Main Street in the village of Ettrick, where Mrs. Holven still lives with her daughter, Mrs. Rose Myrland. Mr. Holven died March 23, 1937. Mrs. Holven has another daughter, Mrs. Merle Lynn, La Crosse; three grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. A son, Lawrence, died in 1938.

Mabel Man Buys West End Hotel

The West End Hotel at Mechanic and West 5th streets has been sold to Emil Anderson of Mabel, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Reglin have owned and operated the hotel since coming here from Sparta, Wis., in 1944. He is retiring because of ill health. They will remain in Winona.

The operation will remain the same, catering primarily to transient railroad employees.

The Anderson family will occupy the hotel before March 1.

Scouters at Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Scout leaders from Whitehall, Taylor, Blair, Black River Falls, Osseo, Independence and Pigeon Falls attended the Scoutmaster's roundtables at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church Tuesday evening despite bad weather conditions.

Robert Deetz, Whitehall, was in charge. Discussed were the Scout O-Rama at Whitehall High School gymnasium March 31; a winter camp-out, and summer camping.

Romney Gives Views On Major Issues

WHAT ARE the political views of American Motors president George Romney, the newly-announced candidate for governor of Michigan and already a potential dark horse candidate for the 1964 Republican Presidential nomination?

A review of his stands on important issues over the years shows that he defies easy classification as a "liberal" or "conservative." But in his own words, a picture of the unorthodox Romney philosophy takes some shape:

Economic Power—"The growth of excessive power is a fundamental and imminent danger in our society. . . . I am vigorously opposed to our present swollen forms of union and employer power."

Economic Growth—"I haven't considered the policies of the Kennedy Administration, or the previous Administration as satisfactory to business or the economic growth of America. . . . (Our) labor laws are premised on the principle of monopoly and the anti-trust laws are premised on the principle of competition. That conflict in national economic policy must be resolved before we can again resume the type of economic progress of which we are capable."

Businessmen in Politics—"It is 'wrong' for businessmen to organize 'as businessmen' to fight union power. 'We need greater citizen participation in meeting our political and economic problems.' Such participation should be 'as citizens, and not as businessmen or union members or any other designation of an economic or other special interest character.'"

States Rights—"I don't talk about states rights, I talk about states responsibilities and the states have got to step up and discharge their responsibilities or they are going to lose more of them." Romney has been critical of President Kennedy's Urban Affairs Department proposal, which he believes would make cities more dependent on Washington.

Federal Power—"If businessmen, unions and farmers continue to join the parade to Washington for special favors, how can we expect to curb the further intrusion of government into economic affairs?"

Political Parties—"The Republican image needs improvement. . . . I think the Republican party has been identified too much as a business party. . . . This is unfortunate and wrong. I think the Democratic party, on the other hand, has been identified too much as a union party and that actually union influence is too great."

Citizen Action—"I do not favor three parties, but either one of our major parties must become a genuine citizens' party, freed from minority group domination, or a separate political instrument must provide the political means for citizens to put the issues ahead of mere winning of political office for its candidates."

Racial Discrimination—"The elimination of racial discrimination is imperative if we are to be true to our own principles and lead the world through example and persuasion to liberty and brotherhood."

John Birch Society—"It is 'of a reprehensible character and an unfortunate thing. . . . I want nothing to do with them.'"

Agriculture—"We can 'enlarge our world food markets and strengthen our economy by cutting agriculture loose from present federal controls.'"

Foreign Trade and Aid—"Romney generally favors the Kennedy Administration tariff reduction program. He favors a more 'meaningful' approach to foreign aid with private organizations encouraged to play a greater part in aiding the underdeveloped nations."

A Lot of New Things Happening

A KIND OF footnote to Minnesota's iron ore situation turned up recently at nearby Black River Falls, Wis. The Jackson County Board granted subsidiaries of two big steel companies—Inland Steel and United States Steel—the right to explore 29,000 acres of county-owned land with options to lease any portions that turns out to have usable iron ore.

Inland's subsidiary, Jackson County Iron Co., has a history of minor operations going back 21 years in the county governed from Black River Falls. It already owns some 3,500 acres. Oliver Mining Co., owned by U. S. Steel, is a newcomer in Jackson County, but it seems equally interested.

Furthermore, this revival of interest in Jackson County ore doesn't seem to involve just mining it and shipping it out. New ore-treating processes have quickened the mining firms' interest, and they spoke in Black River Falls of possible processing plants located right there. In fact, an Inland Steel geologist told county board members that the smallest plant that might be built would require 1,000 gallons of water per minute and that, "We have studied the idea of a six or seven-mile pipeline from Black River Falls."

A LOT OF new things seem to be happening in the iron mining business these days—and not only in Minnesota.—Red Wing Republican Eagle.

Washington Calling

Can Nuclear Race Be Ended?

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—We should soon know whether there can be any end to what President Kennedy called the deadly business of the nuclear arms race. If the response of the Soviet Union to the proposal for further negotiation is in the negative, and that response may be known even before these words are in print, a new cycle of the "we're ahead," "They're ahead" will have become inevitable.

The confusion over what the President meant to say at his press conference on the subject of nuclear testing and his approach to the Soviets on a nuclear test agreement illustrates the pitiful inadequacy of ordinary language to encompass the terrible dilemma of our time. First, it seems to this observer, it is important to try to look at the problem from the perspective of the chief executive with the responsibility for taking the decision on whether to test or not to test.

Last August the Soviets abruptly ended the moratorium and began a series of nuclear tests in the atmosphere. The President was under immediate pressure to follow suit, as it became evident with progress of the series that secret preparations had gone on in the Soviet Union for a long time.

Childs

MR. KENNEDY stood his ground, refusing to be stampeded into hasty action. Nearly six months have gone by. The pressures have been building up ever since. The Joint Chiefs of Staff, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, the establishment humped under the catch-all word Pentagon, most of the Atomic Energy Commission, the Congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, John McCone, the new head of the CIA—all this presumably "expert" opinion was on the side of testing. The fundamental argument was that national security required testing of technological breakthroughs and an exploration of the possibilities of developing an anti-missile missile.

To this must be added the weight of the political opposition. To most Republicans it appears far easier to take what seems the obvious patriotic stand rather than to suggest that the risk of not testing be weighed against the hope that a pause in the arms race might be negotiated. One of the first to demand a resumption of testing was Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

AGAINST THIS body of opinion the President has the counsel of his science adviser, Dr. Jerome Wiesner, and other distinguished scientists convinced that little or nothing of significance can come out of further tests. They urged that this little should be measured against the hope of damping down the arms race. Certain of his advisers also leaned in this direction.

As the analysis of the Soviet tests progressed, the demand of the military-political bloc grew more emphatic. For the results of the analysis, as given to the President, showed some very sophisticated developments, suggesting that the Soviets might with a little more effort take the lead in certain vital areas.

The President came to his press conference convinced that he must speak out against another prolonged and untested moratorium that would give the Soviets an opportunity, after they had extracted all the benefit they could from their September series, to begin preparing in secret for another round. What, in his calculation, gave this special urgency was the fact that on Sept. 3 he had joined with Prime Minister MacMillan in a telegram to Premier Khrushchev saying that the United States and Britain would be willing to enter an immediate agreement to ban atmospheric tests. It was after this, incidentally, that the highly sophisticated weapons testing occurred.

WHAT WOULD be the effect in world opinion, the President asked himself, if Khrushchev were now to say that he would take the West up on this offer? To back out would be to suffer a grave loss of prestige. To go into such an agreement would be to risk repeating what happened last summer.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Right Wing Putting Pressure on California

By DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES — The strangest aspect of the right-wing movement in the Far West is the marriage between certain big advertisers and certain right-wing groups. The impact of television advertising by these sponsors, plus the carefully organized letter-writing campaign of the John Birchites, has now made a very definite and somewhat lopsided impact on Southern California.

It will make Kennedy's legislative program much more difficult to pass and will cause trouble for certain congressmen who support Kennedy's liberal measures.

Of more immediate importance, the alliances between the right wing and potent advertisers has already caused violence, may cause more. As Rev. John Simmons, the Lutheran preacher whose home was bombed, pointed out to Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles, "when you endorse meetings which preach hate, someone is likely to start throwing bombs."

The manner in which advertising is used as a political weapon to aid the right wing, is illustrated by a letter sent to one California daily paper by the Lewis Food Co., manufacturer of "Dr. Ross's Dog Food," which supports the so-called Christian anti-Communist crusade.

The letter, canceled all advertising in the newspaper, with this explanation: "Mr. Lewis is spending so much money promoting conservative causes that he doesn't want to dilute his effort."

The paper which lost the Dr. Ross dog food account had criticized the right wing, defended the United Nations, and championed some of the liberal features of the Kennedy program.

Another warning to newspapers to side with the right wing came from Hamilton Stone Associates, which recommends advertising media for food processors — the largest group of newspaper advertisers.

Sterling Klinear, merchandising manager of Hamilton Stone, gave this warning to a meeting of Los Angeles newspaper advertising representatives:

"We as brokers, want the most mileage from each ad campaign. In making our recommendations, we use the usual gauges, but recently have added one of our own."

Rinear then outlined his views on the constitution and the American system of free enterprise, adding: "We as certain the editorial philosophy of newspapers to see that they believe in these principles and that their editorials mirror this belief."

The newspaper ad men present got the point. They knew that it wasn't really the constitution Hamilton Stone Associates was worried about, but rather editorials which ran counter to the right wing.

Most California newspapers have ignored this warning — and some have suffered as a result.

While right-wing advertisers have cracked down on liberal newspapers on the one hand, other right-wing advertisers have been buying radio-TV time to sell their ideas to the public. This tends toward a one-sided presentation to the public.

One heavy right-wing advertiser is Joe Crail of West Coast Federal Savings and Loan, who hires Rev. James W. Fields, director of the Freedom Clubs, to pour out a daily radio diatribe on freedom. Crail also sponsors the free enterprise bureau of Coast Federal Savings which circulated thousands of copies of Cong. John Russell's championship of the John Birch Society. Russell is one of only two congressmen who are Birch members.

So operates the new alliance of certain business groups, certain church groups, and the right wing which is having such impact on Southern California.

When Dr. Fred Schwarz booked the Hollywood sports arena last summer for his alleged "school of anti-communism," full-page ads began to appear in Los Angeles newspapers signed by Eversharp and Technicolor, promoting the Schwarz rally.

Later, when a larger Schwarz rally was held in the Hollywood Bowl, the TV time to carry the program over 34 TV stations in six western states was paid for by Richfield Oil, Eversharp, Schick Safety Razors, and Technicolor at an estimated cost of $60,000.

Patrick Frawley is board chairman of Eversharp, Schick, and Technicolor, while the head of Richfield Oil is Alton W. Jones, close friend of ex-president Eisenhower and one of three men who made up the deficit on Ike's farm at Gettysburg.

Mr. Eisenhower has denounced right-wing groups in vigorous language, but his friend Jones either doesn't read what the ex-President says or else doesn't agree with him.

A tip-off regarding the further alignment of business with the extreme right was contained in a supplement to the Tidings, official weekly publication of Cardinal McIntyre's Los Angeles archdiocese, which on one page urged support of the following "patriotic business firms": Schick Razor, Richfield Oil, Coast Federal Savings, Knott's Berry Farm, Dr. Ross's Dog Food, Durand Door Supply, and Metropolitan Hardware, the latter two companies owned by Gilbert Durand, the man who sponsored the list of patriotic business firms.

So operates the new alliance of certain business groups, certain church groups, and the right wing which is having such impact on Southern California.

BRITTONS ON BROADWAY

NEW YORK (AP)—English actors have leading roles in 11 of Broadway's current attractions.

The productions include "A Man for All Seasons" (Paul Scofield and George Rose); "Camelot" (Julie Andrews and William Squire); "The Caretaker" (Donald Pleasence, Robert Shaw and Alex Davison); "Gideon" (Douglas Campbell); "Rass" (John Mills); "Mary, Mary" (Edward Mulhare); "Also, 'Write Me a Murder' (James Donald, Denholm Elliott, Ethel Griffies); "A Passage to India" (Felicie Portman, Gladys Cooper); "Romulus" (Cyril Ritchard); "My Fair Lady" (Michael Alington); "The Aspern Papers" (Wendy Hiller).

WHOLLY BE BILKO?

NEW YORK (AP)—The popular television series "Sergeant Bilko" is scheduled for reincarnation as a Broadway musical.

Leland Hayward, currently involved as co-producer of "The Sound of Music" and "A Shot in the Dark," has added the undertaking to his schedule for next season. Financing is to be by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Composer, lyricist and star have yet to be selected.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Avoids Image Of Autocracy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The last thing in the world that President Kennedy probably wants to do is to create the image of an autocracy. Unwittingly that's the impression conveyed by some of his messages to Congress calling for a concentration of power in the executive in everything from the fixing of agricultural prices to the raising or lowering of taxes by the White House. Also, without consulting Congress, the president has used the "executive order" authority to go beyond the written law.

His subordinates have taken a cue from him and have stretched their activities beyond the principles of the constitution itself. Here are some examples:

1. The chairman of the Federal Communications Commission speaks out with the President's approval and threatens all radio and television stations with a possible refusal to renew their licenses if they don't furnish programs according to the taste or judgment of the administration. It is denied that this is "censorship" but it certainly is a form of coercion.

2. The President's press secretary assembles in a private meeting the secretaries of members of Congress of the Democratic party and urges them to get their constituents to write letters to the TV stations, particularly in the West, which are not carrying presidential press conferences on the air. When constituents start writing to stations and telling them they have been advised by the offices of their congressmen or senators to demand that the President be given more space on television, it begins to look less like an ordinary publicity maneuver and more like a form of coercion, for the TV stations may come to feel their licenses will not be renewed if they don't play ball with the administration.

3. THE PRESS has published in recent days many dispatches from Washington telling how "censorship" operates inside the government with respect to public speeches not merely by military personnel but by civilians. The President has a legal right to withhold information as to the identity of the individual censors but the fact is that when censorship is applied the public feels that a kind of "party line" is being handed out.

4. President Kennedy has come out in favor of organizing federal employees in labor unions and has issued an executive order requiring formal recognition of such unions. While the document discreetly points out that a federal employee can refrain from joining if he wishes, and still keep his job—a sort of "right to work" doctrine—it also provides an elaborate machinery to encourage union organization. Surprisingly enough, a task force of administration officials, headed by Secretary of Labor Goldberg, has proposed—and the President has accepted its recommendations—that the "Check-off" of union dues be instituted. An individual may refrain, of course, from giving permission to deduct his dues from his pay check, but the main purpose is to make dues collection easier.

5. AT PRESENT, only 13 percent of the 2,300,000 federal employees are unionized. By making it possible to collect dues from a bigger percentage of federal employees not only do the unions get more revenue, but an organization is established through which political pressure can be exerted in behalf of the administration. It could become a powerful political body. These employees, including postal workers, are located in every community in the country.

6. By executive order of the president and without authority from Congress, a company which bids for any government contract now must, in effect, give assurances to the executive departments that it will hire an as yet undetermined number of persons from every race or creed or color. This policy was adopted to a limited extent under the preceding administration, but it has been carried even further under the present administration. An official questionnaire has been sent to 38,000 companies—each of which has contracts with the government in excess of $50,000—asking them to list how many Negroes they employ. Will they next be asked how many of each religion they employ? How many of the 15,000,000 workers involved who have earned their place by merit will be deprived of their jobs to make way for the others?

THIS IS obviously a political move in the "civil rights" controversy, but it is also a form of coercion in which the people's money that should be spent only by the award of government contracts to the lowest bidder, could conceivably be spent among contractors who are subservient to the government on political issues but who charge higher prices.

The whole theory seems to be that "the end justifies the

To Your Good Health

Contacts Matter of Preference

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 30-year-old mother and have worn glasses since grade school. Now I want contact lenses, for vanity's sake.

Should I consult an optometrist or an oculist? Will a future pregnancy affect vision to the extent of creating a problem if I invest in these lenses? What other things should I consider before I switch? —Mrs. D. M.

If you have a strong hankering for contact lenses, and can afford them, why not try them?

A small proportion of people who begin wearing contact lenses find that they can get along with them—"can't abide 'em." But most people can. You run a modest risk of being one of the people whose eyes will be unduly irritated. I warn you of this so you'll know the truth, I'm not trying to keep you from trying them if you are so minded.

In the majority of cases, contact lenses work very satisfactorily. It's a matter of balancing the cost against the desire.

As a personal opinion, I say that an attractive pair of glasses on an attractive woman can enhance her appearance. However, quite a few years ago (before contact lenses were invented) a very clever author composed the couplet about "men never make passes at girls who wear glasses." This was brilliant poetry; it was lousy psychology. It's clever but untrue.

ONLY THIS winter a highly experienced eye specialist told an American Medical Association meeting of his experience: On repeated occasions he has fitted contact lenses only to have patients return and say that, although the contacts were wholly satisfactory, they'd decided they would go back to ordinary glasses.

It's a matter of preference! Contacts should be removed when you go to sleep—or should be slid to a different position to rest the eyeball. Some people simply don't like the process of putting the lenses in or taking them out. Again, personal preference.

It's possible to lose a contact lens—diving into a swimming pool, skiing or even walking. Such a nuisance, if it happens.

On the other hand, contacts have been developed to the point at which they do an excellent job from the standpoint of vision and health, and in the case of athletes, actors, etc., they are virtually a necessity.

I've tried to give you both sides of the argument. A future pregnancy should have no influence whatsoever.

means." It's a doctrine which political bossism has always followed, but in these days when America is boasting abroad about the freedom of the individual in our midst, some of these goings-on seem more suitable for a "police state" than a democracy.

Nuclear Plant Taxes Help Build School

ROWE, Mass. (AP)—In this sleepy mountain village, population scarcely 300, a two-room village schoolhouse with 37 pupils will be abandoned March 1 for a new half-million-dollar structure.

This boost to education was made possible by taxes, a great hunk of taxes. Money may not grow on trees, but it multiplies with fission—as Rowe found out when Yankee Atomic Electric Co. was added to the tax list.

New England's first nuclear power plant, built a year ago on the shores of the Deerfield River at a cost of about $50 million, now pays 93 per cent of the town's taxes, says Wendell Bjork, postmaster and owner and operator of Rowe's only store.

With the advent of the atomic age in Rowe the tax rate has dropped from $68 to about $30 per $1,000.

As prosperity dawned, arguments on "to spend or not to spend" waxed hot when the new school was first proposed last year. The need was dire. Two grades were meeting in Town Hall for lack of space in the little schoolhouse which accommodates only four grades. Grades 7 and 8 are farmed out in neighboring Charlemont. The new school for Rowe is on a hill.

Perched on a knoll with a view of rolling hills and lovely Pelham Lake, the new one-story brick veneer building, 132 feet long, is large enough to accommodate 125 children in its five ultramodern colorful classrooms. The actual number attending will be 43 when grades 7 and 8 are brought back from Charlemont.

Besides classrooms, a 50 by 60-foot assembly room that doubles as a gym, a large stainless steel kitchen and cafeteria, tile plumbing, a health room, an activity room where dabbles can let the finger-paint fly, and administration offices are a far cry from the century-old schoolhouse of yesterday.

Come summer there will be a baseball diamond and athletic field.

Total cost—$565,000, financed by a 20-year bond issue with a small part to come from the state.

Escaping Steam Fatal to Child

NEW YORK (AP)—Steam escaping from a bedroom radiator took the life of one-year-old Shawn Lambie, lying in his crib.

The child died Wednesday while his mother, Marian, was doing housework in another room of her Manhattan apartment.

Police believe a broken radiator valve caused the steam to gush out.

Serving in Armed Forces

The Winona County SELECTIVE SERVICE induction call for next month has been set at two, Mrs. Gladys Duxbury, clerk, has announced. Reporting dates is March 20. Both places will be filled by volunteers, she said. No one is scheduled to report for pre-induction examinations during March.

One man was scheduled to leave today as the February quota.

★ Lt. Col. Murley A. Reep, state director of SELECTIVE SERVICE, has called attention to the fact that all young men (including those who are or who become members of a reserve component, including the national Guard, and aliens) must register with their local Selective Service board when they attain the age of 18 years or within five days thereafter, or in the case of a alien, within six months after entrance into the United States, and that failure to register is a violation of the law and makes the delinquent liable to penalty.

Col. Reep also said the Selective Service regulations provide that every registrant must have in his personal possession his registration certificate prepared by his local board which has not been altered or changed in any manner after its preparation by the local board, and a registrant who has in his possession an altered registration certificate may be declared a delinquent and ordered for induction ahead of other registrants by reason of the delinquency.

Registration for those in Winona County may be accomplished at one of the following places: Local Board 129, Mrs. Gladys Duxbury, clerk, Room 209, Winona Post Office; Brother J. Leo, St. Mary's College; John Donehower, Dakota; E. D. Ellison, Lewiston, and First National Bank, St. Charles.

Rockefeller Buys 1933 Chrysler

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Nostalgia nearly induced a Little Rock man to purchase a 1933 Chrysler Imperial—but Winthrop Rockefeller took it.

A red 1935 Stanley Steamer, which was also auctioned, and the beige and brown Chrysler formerly belonged to the late James Melton, noted singer.

A. R. Simonds, curator of Rockefeller's Museum of Early Americana at Petit Jean State Park, paid $3,700 for the Stanley and $2,700 for the Chrysler.

J. W. Strawn Jr. dropped out when the bidding reached $2,600 on the Chrysler.

"I'm only nostalgic about $2,600 worth," he said later. "But they were classic cars."

AMA Sets Up Medical School Loan Program

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Medical Association announced Wednesday a medical education loan program that would advance students up to $10,000 over a seven-year period and defer the payment-date until they are ready to start practicing.

The loan program is designed to assist needy students at any stage of their medical education—from the start of their first year of medical school to physicians in residency and training.

The loans, to be offered at 5½ per cent simple interest, will be guaranteed against default by the AMA Education and Research Foundation. Guarantee funds will be solicited from physicians and other private sources.

The AMA announcement said the loans will be available to full-time students in good academic standing who are United States citizens, providing they attend a medical school approved by the AMA's Council on Medical Education or are in residency or internship training in a hospital approved by the council. Applications can be made sometime after March 1.

Under the plan, borrowers will be limited to $1,500 plus interest in any single 12-month period and a $10,000 total in seven years. Borrowers may not be indebted for more than $15,000 for educational purposes from all sources.

Prosecutor Notices Stolen Garment

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The prosecutor suddenly stopped court proceedings and started at the defendant, Raymond Roberts, on trial Wednesday for burglary.

Turning to Judge Riley Graham the prosecutor said: "The coat this man is wearing is mine. It was stolen from my home a few weeks ago."

Roberts, 34, was held for a grand jury on the case which sent him to City Court—and later was charged with burglarizing the home of prosecutor Joe Dirisio.

Bank in Georgia Robbed of $24,000

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Two armed men, their faces heavily smeared with makeup, spent less than five minutes in robbing the five points branch of First National Bank of $24,000.

They walked into the bank at 1:40 p.m. Wednesday, and ran out when one robber shouted, "Time."

One man held the bank employees at bay and acted as timekeeper; the other moved from cage to cage cleaning out the teller's receipts.

"Time" came while the collection bandit was still gathering up money. He stopped immediately, turned, and ran out the door with his companion. They fled by car.

New low-cost luxury in two just-out Chevy II Nova sedans

• Luxury and low cost have never been more beautifully blended than in these two newest additions to the Chevy II line! Like their running mates—the Nova 400 Sport Coupe, Convertible and Station Wagon—they have the same features that have made Chevy II the winner of Car Life magazine's Engineering Excellence Award for 1962. Soft-riding new Mono-Plate rear springs, proved in the equivalent of 2,000,000-plus test miles. Thrifty 6-cylinder engine that gets more "gil" out of a gallon of regular. Body by

Portia Club Names Sixth Round Winners

Total scores in the Portia Club Bridge Marathon were reported at the Portia Club meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Jack Miller.

Ahead in bridge at the end of the sixth round of play were: Team 1, tie, Mrs. Rollie Tust and Mrs. E. D. Whiting—18,090 and Mrs. Howard Bielefeld and Mrs. W. D. Angst—18,090; Team 2, Mrs. Joseph Knopp and Mrs. Evar Beynon—20,740; Team 3, Mrs. Elmer Anderson and Mrs. Van Kahl—18,680; Team 4, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Kollofski—13,350; Team 5, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Glensinski, 17,880; Team 6, Dr. and Mrs. Roger Hartwich—19,490, and Team 7, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Frank—17,480.

Mrs. Ted Biesanz presented the first program of the evening "Long Vocal Forms: Sacred and Secular." She presented the principle, "The Tremendous scope of a work of art demands a compound plan." The opera and oratorio were explained reviewing the elements of rhythm, melody and harmony. Examples of vocal music played were: Bach, St. Matthew Passion aria sung by Ferrier, "Grief for Sin," Verdi, Last Act of "Aida," (A libretto accompanied the playing of the latter recording.) and Bernstein, "What is Jazz." Another art form, painting, was brought into the discussion by viewing prints of Michelangelo's "Sixth Ceiling" and considering its compound organization.

Mrs. S. O. Hughes led the group in the second program of the evening, "Long Instrumental Forms: Symphony and Concerto. The compound organization in instrumental music was illustrated by the interrelation of themes and melodies. The group followed a skeleton score as Mrs. Hughes played Beethoven's first movement of the "Fifth Symphony." Prokofiev's

Mike Majeruses Wed 50 Years Valentine's Day

ELBA, Minn.—Mr. and Mrs. Mike Majeruses Sr., Elba, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Elba.

The former Miss Loretta Siebenaler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Siebenaler, Elba, and Mr. Majeruses son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Majeruses were married in the old St. Aloysius Church on Valentine's Day, 1912. The late Rev. C. Kaegal performed the ceremony. John Mayer Sr. sang a solo and Mrs. Lucy Ellringer played the organ at the ceremony.

They have four children, Arnold, Winona; Kenneth, Dover; Mrs. Kenneth (Marcella) Sawyer and Vincent, both of Rochester, Minn.; ten grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Majeruses have farmed near Elba all their lives and raised turkeys 13 years. They will take their family to the Tower House for dinner and have an open house at the church parlors from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday. No formal invitations have been issued.

Root River ALCW Plans May Convention

HARMONY, Minn.—Plans for the Root River Conference convention of the ALCW scheduled for May 1 at the Houston Lutheran Church were made by the general board at the Greenfield Lutheran Church, Harmony, Monday. Thirty-five congregations were represented by their ALCW presidents.

The executive board met at 9:30 a.m. After the dinner served by the Greenfield ALCW, Mrs. Ralph D. Johnson, Lanesboro, called the general session to order at 1 p.m. Mrs. Merle Johnson, Caledonia, gave the devotion.

Short reports were given by Mrs. Byron White, conference educational secretary, and Mrs. Roy Erickson, Harmony, conference stewardship secretary. Mrs. Merle Johnson, conference treasurer, discussed conference allocations and specific questions on finance from the members.

Mrs. Ralph Johnson, president, explained budget policies of the ALCW and the responsibilities of the conference and individual auxiliaries. A general discussion followed covering convention plans and topics pertinent to local auxiliaries. She also announced Oct. 2 to 4 as the dates for the annual retreat at Lutherhaven.

A skit, "Fashions of 1962," was presented by Mrs. Merle Johnson, Mrs. Francis Jensen, Harmony, Mrs. Erickson, and Mrs. White.

In the closing prayer Mrs. Alvin Humble, Rushford, suggested that each meeting be a prayer; the prayer beginning when the meeting opens and closing with its adjournment. Coffee was served at the close of the session.

MR. AND MRS. Arlen Jessens are at home at 1714 Windschesser St., Madison, Wis., after their marriage Jan. 10 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Arcadia, Wis. The bride is the former Miss Dianne Salwey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Salwey, Arcadia, and Mr. Jessens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jessen, Tulare, S. D. (Kings photo)

Arlen Jessens Make Home In Madison

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Red and white split carnations decorated the altar of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church here Saturday at 9:30 a.m. for the wedding of Miss Dianne Salwey and A.C. Arlen Jessen, Tulare, S.D.

Miss Salwey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Salwey, Arcadia, and A.C. Jessen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jessen, Tulare, S.D. The double-ring ceremony was read by the assistant pastor, the Rev. Charles Leiste.

THE BRIDE who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white silk tulle with a sweetheart neckline which dipped to a scalloped V in the back and a Chantilly lace insertion in the front bodice and around the neckline. A double border of lace detailed the skirt made with a double bustle butterfly bow centered with a rose puff.

A crown of crushed nylon tulle held her silk veil embroidered with sequins. She carried red roses and wore pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride's sister, Miss Gloria Salwey, Arcadia, was maid of honor and the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Jack Salwey, Trempealeau, attended as bridesmaid.

Both wore street-length sheaths of velveteen fashioned with scooped necklines which dipped into deep V's in the back, three-quarter length sleeves and overskirts of matching nylon tulle which extended from velveteen belts centered with a small bow in the front. Their headresses were matching clip hands with face veils. Miss Salwey's dress was in Kelly green and Mrs. Salwey's in rust plaid. Both wore pearl earrings, gifts of the bride, and carried nosegays of yellow and white feathered carnations.

ATTENDING the bridegroom as best man was the bride's brother, Jack Salwey, Trempealeau. Tony Pehler, Arcadia, and the bride's cousin, Victor Sydio, Arcadia, ushered.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue velveteen sheath with black accessories and a matching velvet hat. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy suit with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations and pink garnet roses.

A dinner was served to the immediate families at noon at Club B3, near Arcadia, with a

The engagement and coming marriage of Miss Joann Mundt and Edward J. Mueller is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Mundt, St. Charles. Mr. Mueller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alois Mueller, Elba. Miss Mundt is a graduate of St. Charles High School and is employed at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn. Mr. Mueller is employed at Murphy Sales, Inc., Plainview. A May wedding is planned.

PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER

ALMA, Wis. (Special)—Miss Virginia Mann, Minneapolis, was honored at a pre-nuptial shower Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Kay Vollmer, Alma. Miss Mann and Charles Vaughan, Winona, will be married March 3. Mr. Vaughan is a member of Alma high school faculty.

80TH BIRTHDAY

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—Mrs. Nettie Anderson observed her 80th birthday Monday. Mrs. Anderson is still confined to a wheelchair after fracturing a hip in August. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Otterson, 99, moved to Minneapolis to live with another daughter, following Mrs. Anderson's mishap.

wedding cake made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Frank George, Arcadia, centering the bridal table. A reception for 360 was held at Club B3 at 2 p.m. with music furnished for dancing by Marlette Shiga, Independence.

In charge of the kitchen for the reception was Mrs. Rose Kupietz and Mrs. Albert Klonecki. Serving were Miss Carmen Sydio, Arcadia, cousin of the bride, and Miss Sharon Kokott, Arcadia. Miss Margaret Sorsalla, Arcadia, poured, and Miss Joyce Rehahn, Arcadia, cut the wedding cake. The bride's sister, Mrs. Bruno Weaver, Arcadia, registered the guests and Miss Louise Sydio, Winona, displayed the wedding gifts.

The bride is a graduate of the Arcadia High School and has been employed in the office of the Wisconsin Life Insurance Co., Madison. The bridegroom is stationed at Truxax AFB, Madison. The couple will make their home at 1714 Windschesser St., Madison.

Legion Auxiliary Sets Food Sale

EYOTA, Minn. (Special)—Eyota American Legion Auxiliary met Monday evening at the Legion Hall. Mrs. Harry Armstrong, president, conducted the meeting.

It was decided to hold a food sale March 3 at the Eyota Cafe. A donation was voted to be given to the First District's broadcasting project for the state hospital. Reports on the Veterans party at Rochester State Hospital were given by Mrs. Duane Bierbaum and Mrs. Donald Keller.

A birthday party for the Eyota Legion was planned for March 10 at the Legion Hall. All legionnaires, auxiliary members and their families are invited.

Mrs. Donald Keller, chairman, presented a program on Americanism. She gave a talk on Lincoln. Mrs. Duane Bierbaum conducted an oral quiz on flag etiquette. Mrs. Lawrence Vrieze, Mrs. Walter Lund, Mrs. Kenneth Bolstad and Mrs. Donald Keller presented a skit entitled "Little Drops of Water." Hostesses for lunch and games which followed the meeting were Mrs. Leo Fix, Mrs. Harold Boyson and Mrs. Clarence Lahnners.

Circle A Saddle Club Plans Show

Circle A Saddle Club plans to sponsor an approved quarter horse show at the meeting Feb. 7, presided over by Owen Hegg, president.

Elected to the general show committee were Mr. Hegg, chairman; Donald Flatten, Mrs. Hegg, Merrill Burmeister, James Erickson, Lowell Vatland and Frank Holty.

The officers are to announce a sleigh ride when they find the weather fit. Baskets were auctioned after the meeting.

Juniors, Parents Plan May Prom

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special)—Prom night activities were discussed Thursday evening when parents of junior class members met. The prom will be given May 4. Parents of last year's junior class members with members of the present class offered suggestions. It was decided that a dinner would be served and prepared by parents with members of the class doing the decorating. Parents will assume most of the cost of the dinner by making an assessment for each family of a class member. Committees and further plans for prom night will be announced at a later date.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special)—Twenty-seven intermediate Girl Scouts under the direction of their leaders, Mrs. Ben Erickson and Mrs. Del Fraust of Hegg, are working on requirements for sewing badges. The girls, who are making a "crazy quilt," to be given away when completed, must learn seven varied stitches. On Monday they were instructed by Mrs. J. A. Kamprad at a local store in the use of needles, threads, embroidery hoops, tape measures and thimbles. At the meeting Monday, the girls are to bring materials and embroidery needles for making the quilt blocks. Gretchen Erickson, working for a cooks badge, served cookies she made.

MR. AND MRS. John Rumstiek, 1319 Gilmore Ave., announce the engagement of their daughter, Sheron, to Robert Farley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Farley, Des Moines, Iowa. The wedding will take place at St. Mary's Catholic Church March 3. (Edstrom Studio)

Legion Auxiliary Introduces Two Girl Staters

Girls State representatives sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary were introduced when the auxiliary met at the American Legion Memorial Club Tuesday evening.

Virginia Holty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holty, 371 W. Mill St., was chosen from Winona Senior High School and Judy Rozek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome C. Rozek, 576 E. Wabasha St., Cotter High School. Helen Stoa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stoa, 305 Winona St., and Kathy Mosser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Mosser, 220 E. Wabasha St., are alternates.

Donna Gordon and Mary Carroll, Girls Staters from last year, gave their reports. The group voted to donate toward a movie projector for the genetic ward at Rochester State Hospital.

The March meeting will be a joint meeting with the Legion Post with a dinner preceding the meeting. Department president, Mrs. Merrill K. Smith, Elmore, Minn., will be present.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Carl Hengel and Mrs. Arthur Bard.

14TH ANNIVERSARY

A group of friends gave a surprise party on Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Schosow, 1203 W. 5th St., Saturday evening in honor of their 14th wedding anniversary. Cards were played with the following prizes awarded: Ladies high, Mrs. Donald Shones; mens high, James Gander; nine prize, James Gander; booby, Dennis Lichtblau, and door prize, Mrs. Betty Johnson. Lunch was served. The anniversary cake was baked by Mrs. Ben Volkman. Mr. and Mrs. Schosow were presented a gift.

Five Science Winners From One School

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas G. Lawrence wrote poetry as a young man, but he gave it up when he joined the Erasmus Hall High School faculty in 1933.

"Whatever creativity I have comes out in the teaching," he says.

Erasmus Hall is not a special school. No entrance examination is required. It is a high school like thousands of others in the country, a neighborhood school attended by kids in Brooklyn.

Yet, Erasmus Hall recently became the first school in the 21-year history of the Westinghouse science talent search to produce five winners in one year. Erasmus students are regular award winners in the Science Fair, Future Scientists and other science competitions.

As noted in an article in today's New York Times, all of this shows the creative talent of Lawrence, who is chairman of the school's biology department.

As coordinator of talent searches for the school, Lawrence has sponsored 21 of the 23 students who have placed among the winners. Another 85 Erasmus students have placed with honors in the science talent search.

What makes a man a good

Man Found Dead On Bar Stool

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"Send somebody over to the one-eleven, she whispered, 'some man just keeps staring at me.'"

Miami police received that telephone call Wednesday from Amelia Madelis, a barmaid.

She called again: "Hurry please."

The man sat on a bar stool. He was hunched over slightly and stared at Mrs. Madelis without saying a word.

A medical examiner said Norman Peterson, 46, of Miami, died of natural causes.

His curiosity hasn't abated. To this day, the window ledges of his school office are crowded with plants growing under experimental conditions.

Lawrence's knack with students, his associates agree, lies in his ability to infect them with his own curiosity. For eight years he has been conducting college-level courses in zoology at the high school. The hard, elective courses are so popular that students have to be turned away each term.

B-Girl Law Survives Test

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Florida's 1961 B-girl law has survived its first court test.

Circuit court Judge Ben Willis upheld legality of the law Wednesday and refused to halt its enforcement. However, he sent the case to the State Supreme Court for a ruling on the constitutionality question.

The law, prohibiting night club

Boy Shoots Self After Accident

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Apparently remorseful after accidentally wounding his younger brother

Semian, 14, in the leg with a rifle, William Frazier, 15, turned the weapon on himself and sent a bullet through his leg.

Both boys were admitted to Tampa General Hospital Wednesday in good condition.

DEAR ABBY:

Take Him to Head-Shrinker

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I could write a book about what I've been through these past three years, but what good would it do? We've been married 29 years. I am, and have always been 100% loyal to my husband and I know he has been the same to me. Yet he has accused me of infidelities with the janitor, the plumber or any other man who comes to the house on business. When we walk down the street I have to keep my eyes on the ground or else I am "flirting" with every man I pass. I have to take a bath with the lights out because my "shadow" might be seen from the outside. I am so nervous I am ready for an institution. Should I see a doctor?

NERVOUS WRECK

DEAR NERVOUS: By all means see a doctor and take your husband with you. From your description of him, he needs a doctor worse than you. His behavior is far from normal. Make an appointment for two without delay.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem boy named Gilbert. I like him very much but I know he doesn't care a thing about me. He comes over and we make out, but he tells me not to take it to heart because he only kisses me because he needs the practice for the real thing when the right girl comes along. I try to stay away from him but I can't do it because I really like him a lot. Can you help me?

HELPLESS

DEAR HELPLESS: No one can help a girl who refuses to help herself. Your only hope is to gather your willpower and refuse to have anything more to do with him. Practice makes perfect, but this kind of "practice" is making a fool of you.

DEAR ABBY: Two months ago we buried a very close relative. We received many baskets and bouquets of flowers. The cards were left on the flowers, so I picked them up and gave them to one of the daughters. This caused a lot of trouble. I was told I should have left the cards ON the flowers. I want to know, was I wrong in taking the cards off the flowers or should I have left them on?

RIGHT OR WRONG

DEAR RIGHT: You were wrong. After the services are over, the funeral parlor furnishes the family with a list of people who have sent flowers. The cards should have been left on the flowers.

Mississippi Would Outlaw Communists

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Rep. George Carruth introduced a bill in the Mississippi House Wednesday to outlaw the Communist party in the state. His bill would set up a $5,000 fine and a 5-10 years imprisonment for membership in the party.

Pigeons Killed In Police Drive

SANDERSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Two policemen using shotguns killed more than 100 pigeons roosting on the courthouse and other buildings in this central Georgia town. Merchants had complained the pigeons were a nuisance.

About 100 persons watched Police Chief Tom Wiggins and his assistant, Ray King, as they bagged the birds one after another Wednesday. They gave the dead birds to anyone who wanted to cook them.

FHA DELEGATES

DOVER-EYOTA, Minn. (Special) — Three girls from Dover-Eyota High School have been selected to attend the state FHA convention in Minneapolis March 8-9. Those selected are Janet Radatz, Maureen Halloran and Diane Ferguson, with Nora Becker and Ardith Hammett as alternates.

Ham 'n Eggs, Bacon Among Menu Bargains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives can pretty well let the prices of specials this weekend do their menu planning for them.

Bacon and ham are lower in most stores, and so are eggs many places, so that takes care of breakfast.

Cuts of chuck—roasts and steak—are featured. So are potatoes, green beans and, for slow, cabbage. That takes care of dinner.

For lunch, slice that cheap ham for sandwiches, serve some of the dairy products which are cheaper in many places, and match it up with a shiny apple, since that's about the best buy among fruits.

One national food chain is featuring smoked hams at 29 cents a pound for shank halves, 49 cents for whole hams in the New York area. Across the nation, hams are heavily featured.

Broilers-fryers and small turkeys are another good main course offering over the country.

With potatoes and cabbage, other vegetables that will be economy prices in most of the nation's markets include carrots, onions, radishes, spinach, lettuce, sweet potatoes, and tomatoes.

Apples, thanks to good cold storage stocks, probably will continue as a star attraction on fruit counters. But grapefruit, oranges, bananas and lemons are also featured this week.

Church Architects To Speak Here

"Sacred Space in Architecture" will be discussed Wednesday at St. Mary's College by Robert Rambusch, New York, and Frank Kacmarcik, St. Paul, artists and Church consultants.

They will address a convocation at 10:20 a.m. Rambusch will open the meeting with a lecture. Then Kacmarcik will show slides and give comment. At 8 that evening Rambusch will give a convocation lecture on "The Contemporary Artist's Image of Man."

The two speakers were formerly classmates in Paris at the Sacred Art Center for artists and Dominican theologians. Rambusch is also associated with his family's firm, Rambusch Designers and Decorators, New York.

Rambusch studied art at the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, and at the University of Toronto. He did graduate work under the G. I. Bill at the Sacred Art Center. He is an executive member of the Stained Glass Association of America, and a member of the Liturgical Arts group, the Benedictine Academy and Jubilee magazine's advisory board.

Kacmarcik studied four years at the Minneapolis Art Institute and three years at Paris—one year at the Academie de la Grande Chaumiere and two years at the Sacred Art Center. He was professor of art five years at St. John's University, Collegeville, Minn., and for the past 11 years has been staff artist for Worship magazine.

He has been art consultant on design and decoration of churches including St. John's Abbey, Collegeville, and Queen of the Angels Church, Austin. He has received 34 national and international awards in the graphic arts. He has a studio at St. Paul.

Fish Bone in Heart Kills Eau Claire Girl

Eau Claire, Wis. (AP)—A 10-year-old girl rushed to Luther Hospital shortly after 4 a.m. Wednesday died, an autopsy surgeon reported, of a fish bone that she had swallowed. The autopsy report said the bone had penetrated a blood vessel, then entered her heart.

The victim was Connie Jean Lowry, who roused her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Lowry, by collapsing in the hallway of the family home. They applied mouth-to-mouth respiration and called an ambulance, but Connie Jean was pronounced dead at the hospital.

Lecture on X-ray Slated Saturday

"Fifty Years of X-Ray Diffraction" and "The Determination of Crystal and Molecular Structures by X-Ray Diffraction" will be discussed by Dr. Harold P. Klug, assistant director of research, Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh, at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at Winona State College's Pasteur Hall.

This will be the sixth intercollegiate science faculty seminar supported by the Louis H. and Maud Hill Family Foundation and sponsored by WSC. St. Mary's College and the College of Saint Teresa.

The speaker will discuss the discovery of X-ray diffraction in 1912 by Max Von Laue, an event that will be commemorated by an international meeting in Munich in July. X-ray diffraction is the most important tool for investigating the structure of solids. Dr. Klug will also discuss how to determine the structures of crystalline materials made up of molecules or ions.

Farms as We Know Them May Disappear, Belief

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—Arden Burbidge, Park River, N.D., was elected president of the Northwest Farm Managers Association at the group's annual meeting here Wednesday.

He succeeds Robert Schroeder, Glyndon, Minn., who was named executive chairman. Richard Canning, Hendrum, Minn., was named first vice president and Royal Berstler, Mapleton, N.D., second vice president.

Main speaker was Arlon G. Hazen, dean of the college of agriculture at North Dakota State University, who discussed "Tomorrow's Agriculture."

"It is possible there may not be any farms at all as we know them today," Hazen said. "Our food and fiber may come from laboratories which make use of the photosynthetic phenomena, and from the oceans which are known to contain untold stores of food."

"All of the land area may be used for homes, factories, highways, airports and recreational areas," he added.

U.S. Embassy Military Attache Slain in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A Congolese shot and killed the American Embassy's assistant military attache, Lt. Col. Hulen Dorris Stogner, in his home Wednesday night, the embassy announced today.

The United Nations and Congolese army headquarters sent 500 troops to encircle the Parc Hem-bise residential section of Leopoldville where Stogner lived. A Congolese worker was seized for questioning early today.

Embassy officials could give no explanation for the attack. The house was not robbed and the assailant apparently made no attempt even to enter the house.

Stogner was lying on his bed reading about 9:30 p.m. Without warning a shot through a window struck him.

After the shooting an immediate alarm was raised by an embassy secretary who was in the house at the time. Stogner was rushed to the United Nations hospital and died shortly after.

Col. Stogner Career Military Man

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Lt. Col. Hulen Dorris Stogner, 39, who was shot to death in the Congo Wednesday night, was a native El Pasoan and a career military man.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Stogner, he graduated from Austin High School, where he played football, and attended The Citadel until he entered the Army in 1943.

During World War II he was a paratrooper and was stationed in Japan from 1945-48. He was with the 7th Army headquarters in Germany from 1951 until 1954 when he was assigned as an instructor at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Stogner graduated from the Army Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., in 1960, then returned to El Paso and received his bachelor of arts degree in history from Texas Western College.

Mrs. Stogner, who lives in El Paso with their six children, is the former Marion Frisbie, daughter of Walter E. Frisbie of Springfield, Mass.

Friendship Parkway Name Suggested for Road Around Superior

ST. PAUL (AP)—International Friendship Parkway, the name suggested by Gov. Elmer L. Andersen for the highway ringing Lake Superior, will be pushed by a tourist directors' committee from four states.

Thomas Swain, state business development commissioner, himself a member, said the group would approach both the Canadian Parliament and the U.S. Congress to make the name official.

Other tourist leaders on the committee are Robert Furlong of Michigan; Harry Thoma, Wisconsin, and the Hon. Bryan Cathcart, Ontario, through whose territories the route runs.

Farmer Suffocates In Pile of Silage

FAIRMONT, Minn. (AP)—A farmer suffocated under a pile of frozen silage which toppled on him Tuesday evening. The victim was Delbert Anders, 35.

Geneva Talks In Trouble Before Start

by JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Diplomatic Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The big new disarmament conference set for Geneva March 14 appears to be in serious trouble a month before it opens.

Just how serious the trouble is should be determined in the next week or so by Soviet Premier Khrushchev's next move in his campaign for a summit level meeting.

If Khrushchev insists on going personally to Geneva for the opening sessions, U. S. officials said today, his action will be taken here and in other Western capitals as evidence that he is concerned only with propaganda aims.

If, however, he is prepared to put off his summit proposal until some later stage of the negotiations, officials said that his action could be taken as an indication that he is interested in making a serious start on disarmament, even at the cost of some small concession to Western views.

In view of the speed with which the situation has developed during the past week, the expectation in government quarters here is that a new Khrushchev message to President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and other leaders involved in making preparations for the Geneva talks should be forthcoming in a few days.

At the moment, top officials believe there is a better than 50 per cent chance that Khrushchev will go to Geneva, even though Macmillan and Kennedy have argued against starting the talks at the summit, and Kennedy is reported to be personally determined not to go under any circumstances. This estimate of Khrushchev's probable action is based, among other things, on a belief that he probably wants a forum of international importance in which to sound off against the prospective new series of atmospheric nuclear weapons tests by the United States.

Kennedy made clear at his news conference Wednesday that he intends to make the final decision on atmospheric tests around the end of the month. It is widely expected that he will decide in favor of testing and that the first shots will be fired in early March, prior to the Geneva conference opening.

Boyle's Column

Women, What's Right?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What's right with women?

Men, who usually fell inferior in the presence of superior beings, spend considerable time knocking women and saying what's wrong with them.

The usual way is: "Women are illogical, capricious and unreasonable. They act like the world was made just for them. They just don't have any brains, and if they did they wouldn't know what to do with them."

There is, it must be admitted, some validity to these criticisms, however tinged they may be with masculine vanity and downright envy.

It is probably true also that most women lack what men call "plain ordinary common house sense." On the other hand, why do they need house sense? What is the fate of even the most sensible horse in this world, compared to that of the average woman?

If a man is honest enough to drop his prejudices, he has no trouble picturing the so-called mystery of women. He has no trouble figuring out why women outlive men, get to spend most of the money, men earn, and generally are better adjusted to life and its problems.

The answer is simple: Women are born lucky—and believe in luck all their days. Men aren't—and don't.

It is this magic difference that makes men doubt themselves and wilt under the buffets of time. Hardship may bend a woman, but they rarely break her. For she dwells in sublime grand expectations. She knows her natal gift of good luck will surely change the situation for the better.

Luck is illogical, capricious, unpredictable and unreasonable. That is why women are too. And it is their blind belief in their luck that gives them the supreme self-confidence which men mistake for arrogance.

Isn't their intuition that saves them. It's just that unfair advantage of having been born lucky.

Any man who has had any experience at all with women can, if he looks back, find many instances to prove this theory.

A man is crazy to look for a wife who is merely intelligent, clever, or blatantly beautiful. The thing to do is to look around and marry the one who has the best knack of beating the laws of chance.

Then trust to luck—hers! Maybe some of it will rub off on you.

MANEUVER WINDUP . . . U. S. soldiers of the 1st Battle Group moved C-130 military jet transport plane at Frankfurt, Germany, for nonstop flight to McChord Air Force Base, near Tacoma, Wash. It was the first contingent of GIs returning to the United States in windup of ocean-spanning maneuvers testing American troop mobility. The soldiers were flown to Germany last month as part of a 5,300-man airlift to take part in Operation Long Thrust II. They participated in 10-day maneuvers at the U. S. Talks Progress On New Steel Labor Contract

By NORMAN KALKER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Top negotiators met today in steel labor contract talks that seem to be following right along the course set by President Kennedy.

Key bargaining teams headed by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper of U. S. Steel, chief industry negotiator, were to meet in their first formal session.

It seemed clear, however, they had gotten together beforehand, not once but frequently, and already have pretty well worked out their area of differences toward early new agreements to succeed the industry labor pacts expiring June 30.

Cooper, for example, told news- men Wednesday that the industry-union human relations committee, which has been meeting regularly for some time, has worked out certain joint recommendations. Just what, he would not say. Nor would McDonald.

Both men expressed high hope—as 1962 steel bargaining got underway in an unprecedented early and amicable start Wednesday—that they could achieve the quick, non-inflationary deal with little or no price boost that White House has been urging.

Wednesday's bargaining opened brought together about 500 steel mill managers and an equal number of local union officials divided into 11 sessions representing the major steel companies.

These were "sound off" meetings designed to let local people let off steam and relate views built up since the 1959 contract was negotiated after a record 116-day strike.

Some degree of heat was expected as the natural thing, but industry men said they were surprised at the intensity of some of the "heeds" expressed by union men at the meetings. This especially related to grievance and seniority problems.

Reports persisted, however, that even before the formal bargaining started the principals had pretty much agreed on what they had in mind in the way of a settlement.

This was reported to be 10 or 12 cents an hour in pay and job security gains for the union, annually over a three-year period, and probable federal tax relief, through more generous depreciation concessions, for the industry, thereby avoiding price increases.

Second Set of Twins For Pittsburgh Family

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Armetta Pittcarrell is home from the hospital with her second set of twins. "I was very shocked," Mrs. McCarrell, 25, of Pittsburgh said Wednesday. "We weren't expecting this."

Mrs. McCarrell referred to her new twin boys, Darrell and Daniel, born Feb. 5. They came just ten months after Mrs. McCarrell had twin girls, Kimberly and Karen, on April 2, 1961.

The McCarrells have three other children, aged 3, 5 and 6.

All's Well With Old Vic Again

Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — All's well with Old Vic again.

The acting company from London has come up with an outstanding theatrical treat in the "Romeo and Juliet" inserted Tuesday night into its repertoire at City Center.

Glowing and vibrant, the production makes amends for a "Macbeth" that drew critical scowls a week ago.

Topping the honor list in this enactment of star-crossed love are Joanna Dunham, John Stride and Franco Zeffirelli.

Petite, blonde Miss Dunham and boyishly handsome Stride are the romantic principals. Zeffirelli is a director-designer from Italy who, in a program note, confesses initial timidity at daring to stage the classic for English and American audiences.

What the 37-year-old innovator has happily done is free a familiar setpiece from its stage frame and make it throb with realistic vitality. Familiar plot creaks have been oiled out with action, atmosphere and meticulous attention to detail.

Miss Dunham really enacts Juliet-like a girl of 14. Stride is also what Shakespeare created, the reckless son of a tempestuous age.

With them are Edward Alenza, as Mercutio; Rosalind Atkinson, the nurse; and Gerald James, Friar Laurence. Each manages to be fresh and original in episodes that make for comparison with predecessors. Surrounding roles are handled with collective skill.

Zeffirelli's settings include interiors of muted Renaissance opulence and exteriors evocative of a venerable Italian town.

"Romeo and Juliet" is full-bodied entertainment, handsomely done.

Girl Has Black Eye For Class Picture

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—It wasn't the bus crash that horrified 12-year-old Cleo Fratus, it was the effect on her looks.

"I'm going to have a black eye tomorrow and we're going to have our class pictures taken," said Cleo, a student at St. Mary's School.

The girl was among more than a score of youngsters bruised and shaken Wednesday when a school bus skidded and hit a pole. None of the children was injured seriously.

California Bank Bucks Big Giants

by LEIF ERICKSON

PACIFIC GROVE, Calif. (AP)—Pacific Grove has a pint-sized maverick bank doing country style battle against the conforming giants of California's banking industry.

The bank, Security State, is operated by William A. Burkett in this Monterey Peninsula town of 20,000. Burkett was state superintendent of banking from 1955 to 1960.

Pacific Grove's Security State is the only banking office in California open to customers on Saturdays—From 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

On weekdays it is open to customers on the East light schedule of 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

"We're interested in keeping the little banks surviving," declared Burkett.

"We have the old-fashioned idea that the independent small bank can survive if you give your customers the kind of service they want."

Security State is one of only 57 one-office independent banks remaining in California, the nation's biggest branch banking state.

The 64 other nationally and state chartered banks in the state operate more than 1,700 branches.

All these are open to customers from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Most remain open until 6 p.m. Friday.

The banking industry is not happy with Burkett's style. The California Bankers Association strongly supported in the legislature a 1957 law declaring Saturday a legal holiday in banking.

Security State's extended banking hours were put in effect Nov. 1, and the bank's staff has been doubled since.

Security State has $4 million in deposits. The Bank of America, operating 733 offices throughout California at the close of 1961, had $11,475,436,000.

Stackowitz Raps 265 in 640 Set

Jack Stackowitz, who 38 years ago bowled a 700 series, Wednesday night was headed toward another one in the Retail League at Hal-Rod Lanes.

Stackowitz, now 64 years old, blasted a 265 opener and 226 middle game. That gave him 491 going into his last 10 frames.

But the veteran pin-toppler, who only recently resumed bowling following an illness, had to settle for a 640 series when he finished with 149.

STACKOWITZ was plagued by three splits in the last game and

State Matmen Duel Mankato There Tonight

Coach Bob Kiestler sends his Winona State matmen against tough Mankato State at Mankato tonight.

The Warriors are fresh from two decisive wins over Michigan Tech and South Dakota State and have hopes of dethroning Mankato.

"I know that we have the ability to win," Kiestler said. "Now it's up to each member of the team to do his best."

According to Kiestler the team put on its best performance of the season against South Dakota State which was riding the crest of a five dual meet win streak.

The wrestlers in the lower weights have gained a strength through the performances of Gordy Marcionda, 125; Jerry Willis, 130 and Jerry Williams at 137.

Dave Moracco, who competed last season but was not on the team this year, has returned and won his first match at 147 pounds Saturday and may be the spark the Statesmen need.

Also in action tonight will be Stan Gridley, 157; Pat Flaherty, 167; Al Maussner, 177, and Jerry Wedemeier, heavyweight.

NIGHT TOURNEY GAMES SOLD OUT

MADISON (AP)—Evening games of the 1962 Wisconsin High School Basketball Tournament have been sold out, but tickets remain for the afternoon contests, it was announced Wednesday.

The tournament, sponsored by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association, will be played in the University of Wisconsin Fieldhouse March 15-17. The fieldhouse seats 13,800 for basketball.

Ferrierhilm Wins Fishing Contest

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special)—More than 500 persons attended the fishing derby sponsored by Glenside Post 505, American Legion, La Crescent, in Brownsville Bay Sunday. Many fish were caught during the three hours.

Winners in the largest fish division were Jim Ferrierhilm, $30, largest fish: northern pike, 2-pound 3 ounces; Jim Senly, $25, largest sunfish, 4 ounces; Bob Elsen, $25, largest perch, 5½ ounces; Oscar Austin, $25, largest crappie, 1 pound 6½ ounces.

Max Richard, Brownsville, took first place in the spudding contest with M. Monson, La Crosse, and Pat Kulcinski, La Crosse, taking second and third places.

The oldest man present was John Roroff, 80, and the oldest woman was M. Rutter, 74. The youngest fisherman was Terry Niebeling, 5, and the youngest fisherwoman Joan Hanson, 3. The fisherman from the greatest distance was Terry Virotek, Sarnia, Canada.

The grand prize winners were: First, half a beef, Jimmy Loehrer, La Crescent; second, half a hog, Jeff Monsoor, La Crosse, Wis.; and third, half a hog, Roger Happel, Houston, Minn.

Lincoln, Niagara Top Badger Preps

MADISON (AP)—Milwaukee Lincoln took consecutive victory number 38 and retained its iron grip on first place in the Big Sixteen while Niagara closed out a perfect 18-0 season to remain atop Little Sixteen in weekly high school basketball ratings announced today by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association.

Lincoln, which has compiled its victory string over two seasons, blasted Milwaukee Juneau 87-52 last week. On the Comets' schedule this week are Milwaukee South and Milwaukee Boy's Tech.

Niagara, in its last game of the season, edged Goodman 49-47 to maintain the ranking it gained on Jan. 24 by beating Crivitz and jumping from 5th to first place.

It's Really Not That Long 'TILL SPRING

Let's Get Started
Buying That Farm Now!

ONE OF WINONA counties finest 155 acre farm all tillable. All buildings but the house have been built by present owner. Barn is equipped with a barn cleaner and has room for 30 cows. If you're looking for a place you can be proud of, this is it.

320 ACRE FARM, 95 acres tillable. Located 6 miles southwest of La Crescent. This farm has lots of good permanent pasture, available itself well to a good dairy or beef herd. The barn has stanchion room for 28 cows, barn cleaner, and a good attached milk house. All modern recently remodeled home.

OUTSTANDING 2-family farm with 2 very nice homes, 40x60 dairy barn with 46 stanchions and large milk house attached. Two large hog barns, 14x200 and 20x40. One large chicken coop, 18x100. Large loading shed. This farmstead is situated on 439 acres with 334 acres of excellent No. 1 and No. 2 land. Located 6 miles south of Lewiston.

NEAR MONEY CREEK, 199 acre farm with 80 acres under cultivation. 25 acres of permanent pasture. 30-stanchion barn, new silo, milk house, improved house with bathroom and new roof. Very reasonably priced.

THREE STALL Surge milking parlor on this 160 acre farm. 120 acres of excellent cropland. Located between St. Charles and Chalfield.

COUNTRY LIVING at its best. This 90 acre level farm is located just outside St. Charles city limits on good blacktop road. All modern 2-bath home. Buildings are quite new. Very attractive home and farmstead.

VERY NICE 112 acre farm with 90 acres tillable. Very good buildings. 20 stanchion barn. 4 1/2 miles north of Lewiston. Excellent buy.

330 ACRE FARM—in Stockton Valley. 119 acres of exceptional bottomland. No flood problems. This land can raise outstanding corn year after year. Ideal for beef or dairy. Modern house. 36x116 ft. barn.

227 ACRE FARM—155 acres tillable. 4 miles northwest of St. Charles. Excellent buildings. Very neat farmstead.

200 ACRES—All tillable farm. One of Winona County's finest farms. Located 2 miles southwest of Lewiston, 1 mile off U.S. Highway 14. Large barn, complete set of buildings. Modern home. All soil tested and farm has followed complete fertilizer and crop rotation plan.

220 ACRE FARM—160 acres tillable, located 3 1/2 miles S.E. of Lewiston. Very good soil. Fair buildings. Reasonably priced.

174 ACRE FARM—100 acres tillable located 9 miles southeast of St. Charles. A good set of farm buildings. This is an ideal beef or dairy setup. Most of the tillable land is No. 1 land and the balance makes excellent grazing land.

118 ACRE FARM—100 acres tillable. All modern Grade A dairy farm. Recently remodeled with 30 new stanchions and new barn cleaner. Outstanding set of buildings Located 4 1/2 miles southwest of Winona.

80 ACRES—76 acres of excellent soil. Located on Highway 14 near Lewiston.

160 ACRE FARM with 90 acres workland and enough pasture to feed 40 head of cattle. Located 3 1/2 miles north-east of Rushford. A fine set of buildings including a beautiful nine room home.

NO ARMS, BUT LOVING CARE... Mrs. Helen McNab of Brewster, Minn., was born without arms. By courageous work she made her way through high school and college, held a job and married a Navy man who helped her entertain children in a hospital where she worked. When a son, Marc, as born she quickly learned to use her agile feet to replace a mother's arms in caring for him. Here, she tucks Marc in for his nap and the contented baby shows there's no handicap involved for him. (AP Photofax)

BUSINESS MIRROR

Little Privacy in Life of Banker

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The bright light of curiosity always plays around the man who handles your money.

Your banker's ethics, how much he prospers personally, the manner in which he operates and the rules that bind him, even his off-hour habits, have borne a bit more scrutiny from the neighbors perhaps than have the private lives of men in many other lines of endeavor.

And now, of all places, banking and bankers are getting the once-over in a musical comedy. The scene is New York of 1837 and 1837. But the audience, rightly or wrongly, seems to connect many of the farcical jibes with 1962 headlines.

The musical comedy is "The Banker's Daughter." It is a free adaptation of a melodrama, "The Streets of New York," written by Dion Boucicault, a prolific playwright of 100 years ago. The original show had a long run, thanks in part to that ageless curiosity about those who handle other people's money.

The opening scene of "The Banker's Daughter" seems like pure farce today. It is laid in 1837, a quarter of a century before the passage of the National Banking Act and 76 years before the setting up of the Federal Reserve System.

In the first scene a bank president is busy stuffing the bank's money into a valise and even putting some of it into his baby daughter's bassinet. He is in trouble and heading for Peru. His employees accept this as the thing to do.

But a sea captain arrives, turns over his life's savings for investment—and the banker doesn't have to leave. He's in business again. Instead, he shanghai's the clerk who knows too much, and also the captain's money.

The audience laughs at all the shenanigans—not because it thinks for a minute that's a common practice now, but because it remembers the exceptions: Those headlines about the respectable lady embezzlers in Iowa and Virginia, and the once high flyers in the financial world who went to jail or took refuge overseas.

The play switches to 1857, but banking practices haven't changed in the 20 years. The banker has prospered. He is blackmailing his way into an exclusive club, running for governor in the accepted alliance of business and politics, and buying a society husband for his daughter, who has been snubbed by the Ladies Aid Society because her money is too new.

The banker is exposed again, although he has warded off as abhorrent the idea any one could examine his books. He is packing his valise again with the bank's money, when once more he is saved by the bell.

It's all farce, but the kind that some persons think may go on in the mysterious world of high finance.

The jibes that the audience love may be unfair to today's banking and investing system as a whole. But what the musical comedy adaptation seems to be saying—although probably it doesn't intend to prove anything—is that laws may change, but men don't.

And the musical is playing to laughing audiences in a small theater in Manhattan's East 70s, a fashionable and expensive area where many of today's bankers live.

Special Award For Ernie Kovacs

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Ernie Kovacs had been named posthumously as the best television director of 1961 for a show which had no dialogue.

The Hungarian funny-man was killed last month when his car hit a power pole.

His widow, actress Edie Adams, accepted the award Saturday from the Directors Guild of America.

Higher Tuitions for Hamline, Macalester

ST. PAUL (AP) — Students attending Hamline University and Macalester College will have to pay higher tuition fees starting with the term next fall.

Hamline is raising instruction costs by $200 to a total of $900 annually, while Macalester will ask $925, a boost of $100. Macalester also indicated that similar increases of $100 would be made in 1963 and 1964.

Russians Expected To Release Student

By CHARLES L. WEST

NEW YORK (AP) — The only American known to be still behind bars in the Soviet Union may soon be released, says the Brooklyn lawyer who negotiated the U.S. Soviet spy swap.

But, he added, it is contingent upon an improvement in relations between the two countries.

The prospect of freedom for Marvin Makinen, 22, a Fulbright scholar serving in the Soviet Union for eight years on spy charges, was expressed Sunday night by James Britt Donovan.

"This is very great news," said William Makinen of Ashburnham, Mass., the student's father. "I hope and pray our boy will be back sooner than we anticipated."

Donovan said the subject of Makinen's release came up during his talks with Ivan Shishkin, second secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Communist East Germany.

The negotiations resulted in the United States freeing Col. Rudolf Abel, a Soviet master spy serving 30 years in prison; the Soviet Union freeing Francis Gary Powers, the American U2 pilot serving 10 years, and East Germany freeing Frederick L. Pryor, an American student who had been held without trial since Aug. 25.

Donovan, who was Abel's court-appointed American lawyer in the colonel's 1957 trial for espionage, said he viewed the Soviet and East German actions as "a genuine attempt to secure better relations."

He added: "I have what I believe to be assurance that if the better relations contemplated by this exchange should develop, the Soviet Union would contemplate extending clemency to Makinen."

This may be expected "in the regard the negotiations as concluded."

in Moscow said they had no information about the possibility of Makinen's release.

Makinen, who was studying at the Free University in West Berlin, was seized last July 27 and accused of photographing military installations in Hungary, Czechoslovakia and the Ukraine. He was convicted of espionage, and is in prison at Kiev.

"Isn't it wonderful!" exclaimed Makinen's half-sister, Mrs. Jacob Hayrynen of Garden City, Mich., when told of Donovan's statement. "I was hoping that Mr. Donovan could work on his release. I was hoping that we'd hear something soon. We've heard nothing officially."

Donovan met with newsmen shortly after returning to his apartment in Brooklyn from the mission behind the Iron Curtain.

Powers' first words as he stepped into West Berlin Saturday, Donovan recalled, were "Gee, I'm glad to see you!"

Donovan said Powers was astounded by his release. "He told me that as of Tuesday he had concluded he would never be released early," Donovan said.

"Until Powers got into the car to go with me, he had never heard my name, Pryor's name, or Makinen's name."

Donovan, an Air Force colonel and a flight surgeon flew back across the Atlantic with Powers. The lawyer said the plane landed at an East Coast location he declined to identify and Powers got out there, Donovan and the colonel flew on to Washington.

British Freighter Burns in North Sea

HULL, England (AP) — The 1,197-ton British freighter Fountain Abbey caught fire in the North Sea Monday night. Two seamen were reported killed in a lifeboat accident when the crew abandoned ship.

The 132-ton John O'Hough, stood by and picked up crewmen who took to a lifeboat and life raft.

U.S. Steel Union Negotiators Meet

PITTSBURGH (AP) — More than 200 negotiators of the United Steelworkers Union meet here today to smooth out their approach to the formal steel contract talks which begin Wednesday.

The union drew up its contract proposals in talks last week. It indicated it will seek improvements in job security and unemployment benefits.

The present wage scale for 430,000 steel workers ranges from $2.28 1/2 to $4.38 1/2 an hour.

Special Election In South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Good weather was predicted in South Carolina's 2nd Congressional District today as Democrats cast their primary ballots for one of two women candidates for the seat in Congress.

Mrs. John J. Riley, widow of the congressman whose death Jan. 2 created the vacancy, is opposing Martha Thomas Fitzgerald.

Mrs. Riley, of Sumter, has said she would seek only to serve the remainder of Riley's term, through this calendar year. Mrs. Fitzgerald, a state legislator, says she also plans to run for the full term in the June Democratic primary.

The winner today will run in a

May 8 special election. Republi- cans have not decided if they will oppose the Democratic nominee.

Ike Anxious To Help Youth In GOP Drive

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is reported to have told Republicans he has no intention of campaigning for "old men" in this year's elections.

Eisenhower, who is 71, was represented as pressing party members to work for the nomination of young candidates for governor and Senate and House seats. Some confidantes quoted him as saying he wanted no "gray-haired old men" running on the GOP ticket if it could be helped.

This serve-the-youth movement apparently led the former president into some difficulties in his adopted state of Pennsylvania. He convinced Sen. Hugh Scott in a telephone conversation that Scott ought to make himself available for the party nomination for governor.

Scott reported that Eisenhower said he could support actively a ticket on which Scott was a member but could not campaign for a ticket on which Judge Robert E. Woodside of the State Superior Court would run for governor and Rep. James E. Van Zandt would oppose Sen. Joseph S. Clark, a Democrat for the Senate seat. Somehow the word got out that Eisenhower considered this a "miserable ticket."

What was reported was that Eisenhower said privately that he thought the Woodside-Van Zandt ticket "too old. Woodside is 57; Scott is 61 but looks younger. Subsequently Eisenhower felt constrained to say in a telegram to Van Zandt, who is 63, that what he had said was not "in any way intended as personally derogatory to you."

Whatever happens in Pennsylvania, Eisenhower has some comparatively youthful candidates going for him in several states. He didn't have to urge Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is 63, to seek re-election in New York. But he encouraged Fred A. Seator, 52, his former secretary of interior, to seek the Nebraska governorship.

The former president was one of those who helped convince former Vice President Richard M.

Nixon, who is 48, that he ought to run for the Republican nomination for governor in California.

Eisenhower also had a potential influence on the decision of George Romney, American Motors president, to run for the GOP nomination for governor in Michigan. Romney is 54.

Politicians generally think that Nixon, Romney and Scott might figure in the 1964 scramble for the Republican presidential nomination—provided they can get elected to state office, along with Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who is 53.

Christian Faith Of U.S. Wearing Thin, Board Told

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—America's tough Christian faith has been worn thin by secular influences and the nation is moving toward an age of self-indulgence and artificiality exemplified by the "flowering cancer" of Las Vegas, Nev., says a leading churchman.

The Rev. Dr. Robert W. Spike of New York, general secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the United Church of Christ, spoke at a symposium at the National Council of Churches' division of education annual meeting Monday.

"There are times when I see the city of Las Vegas as a preview of the future of civilization—and if that isn't horrifying, I don't know what is," Dr. Spike said.

"Las Vegas could be the vision of the horrible future of a nation that owes its existence to self-indulgence—which can only survive by spending more and more to pamper itself."

Dr. Spike made it clear his distaste wasn't based on an abhorrence to gambling, legal in Las Vegas, "or a puritanical objection to people having a good time." His revulsion, he said, stems from the desperation of people intent upon triviality.

He said thinness of feeling plagues the nation, resulting in religiously instead of religion. "The much-touted increase in church membership, the feverish (church) building is a cover-up for a real loss of faith," he said.

The old cry of Christians, "Find God and you will find yourself," has been replaced by the unspoken assumption of the contemporary psychology and sociology, "Find yourself and you won't need God," Dr. Spike said.

Dr. Spike said the threat of ultimate secularization may be the best that could happen to Christianity because it may force the church to shake off its complacency and face the world as it is.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Department of Commerce predicts that 1962 will be another billion-dollar construction year for new churches and other religious buildings. The department estimates church construction completed in 1961 at $985,000,000, slightly less than the $1,013,000,000 in 1960.

Forsythe Sees DFL in Frenzy Over Taconite

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican State Chairman Bob Forsythe calls latest Democratic-Farm-Labor moves in connection with taconite an indication that the DFLs are in a frenzy and have pushed the panic button in an attempt to muzzle Gov. Elmer L. Andersen in his efforts to help northeastern Minnesota.

"There is no question but that the visit to the Range last week by high DFL party officials coupled with the latest proposal by Fred Cina as a substitute for the taconite amendment were designed to accomplish certain political ends," said Forsythe at a news conference today.

Sena, Hubert H. Humphrey and Eugene McCarthy, along with Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag and Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale visited the range last week about the time Rep. Fred Cina, Aurora, liberal majority leader of the House, proposed a state law to guarantee taconite tax equality for 25 years.

Forsythe said the DFL has lost the confidence of the people of the Iron Range and these actions were an attempt to stem the tide of adverse public opinion.

He called the Cina proposal and the visit of the senators "a political power play to bury the taconite amendment," but insisted the majority of Minnesotans favor the amendment, which would write tax guarantees into the Constitution.

At the same time, a former legislator, W.S. Moore, Duluth mining man, said the Cina proposal would not necessarily be an iron-clad guarantee.

Moore said he did not wish to deprecate "Cina's sincere effort," but added that he did not see how there could be an assurance that future law makers would uphold such a law.

Cuban Pilot Asks Asylum in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—While fellow crewmen stocked up on goods in the airport drug store, a Cuban Airlines pilot slipped into asylum in Mexico Monday.

Capt. Carlos Cordero Lugo, 45, told the other crewmen that he was going to the washroom, then climbed through a window and requested asylum. Police granted his request.

Earlier in the day the first officer of the Cuban ship Fundador, Gerardo Arrechea Becquer, defected and requested asylum.

Mixed Reaction To Kennedy's Farm Program

By RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's new farm program is getting a mixed reaction from Minnesota House members.

The nub of the Kennedy proposal is that the farmers must accept much tougher production controls on surplus products or face elimination of most price supports.

Rep. Archer Nelson, R, said he doubts the House Agriculture Committee will approve it as written.

Nelson said he doesn't believe that, if enacted, it would produce the results which Kennedy said would follow.

Nelson said some modifications can be made in the current feed grain program. He said he would be happy to go along on a more moderate bill. And, he added, he realizes that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman does not have an easy job.

Rep. John A. Blatnik, D, said he wants to make a full study of the complicated program before taking any positive stand.

Many questions must be answered Rep. H. Carl Andersen, R, says before any firm determination can be made.

"I want to listen to what the administration proposes and I also hope the administration will listen to some of us," Andersen said.

Regarding the proposal to cut milk production by use of quotas, with 1961 to be used as a base period to determine the individual farm quota, Andersen asked "How could a young man who is starting farming go into milk production?"

Andersen said he does not believe Congress will accept the entire program, but will accept some features of it.

Rep. Odin Langeri, R, also said he doubts Congress will pass the bill as proposed. He said Congress probably will make some revisions in the present wheat and feed grain programs.

As to the proposal for dairying, Langeri said "every caution should be used before getting into that."

Rep. Clark MacGregor, R, said: "President Kennedy's farm proposal seeks to extend complete government domination over our country's family farm system. Under the guise of a free choice, it gives the farmer a chance to either accept rigid Washington control or else be put at the Mercy of a gigantic market disruption." Rep. Joseph E. Karth, D, said the principle of the Kennedy farm program deserves serious consideration. After facts are produced at full committee hearings, Karth said, a proper determination could be made.

Rep. Walter H. Judd, R, said he had not studied the proposal in detail yet and added "but I am not impressed from what I read about it."

Canada leads in world nickel production and is a major producer of gold and platinum.

Son of Gangster Charged in Holdup

CHICAGO (AP)—Roger Touhy, 36, son of prohibition era gangster Roger Touhy, has been charged with a $3,100 grocery store robbery Jan. 26 on Chicago's South Side.

Touhy was arrested Monday after the store manager and a stockboy picked his photograph from police files. He was identified under the name of Roger S. Turner but told police he is the main gangster's son.

Detectives said Touhy, who lives in nearby Yorkville, and another man pulled the stickup. Touhy is on three years federal probation for illegally cashing money orders.

REVIVED RETRIEVER
CUTLER, Maine (AP)—As a Coast Guardsman, Chief Boatwain's Mate Ken Ashby knows how to apply artificial respiration on human beings. He had never tried it on a dog, but he thought it was worth a try when his pet Labrador retriever fell into the water and apparently drowned.

Ashby placed the dog's body in an oil barrel and gently rolled the barrel back and forth. The dog was fully revived in an hour.

LACTEAL EXPERT
LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—It's the age of the specialist, so the Niagara County Farm Bureau used an announcement of an approaching farm meeting in step with the times. A picture of a cow was labeled: "milk producing specialist."

Mergers Taking On a New Look

NEW YORK (AP) — Mergers are taking on a new look. Corporate marriages command bigger headlines. Some seem more urgent-like shotgun weddings—set up, housekeeping together or die. To many these mergers are more frightening to labor, to various communities, to government agencies the proposals appear to threaten loss of jobs, of services, of plant payrolls, of free competition.

The new look in mergers comes after a long postwar wave of marriages—the third such in the nation's history. The big interest has been on combination proposals in the railroad, airline and banking industries. But the urgency is being felt in many other lines, such as electronics, chemicals, retail and wholesale firms.

New pressure for companies to get together piles up because competition grows more deadly at home and abroad and because profit margins shrink under mounting operation costs. Small companies today often need more credit than they can get separately if they're to buy the costly machines and hire the expensive technicians they need to compete with the big boys.

Communities are growing more anxious. Some fear that the manufacturing mergers mean that the more efficient surviving company will be closing unneeded or obsolete plants, cutting off the community's biggest payroll, increasing its relief rolls.

And government's role looks different, although many persons aren't sure what the new role is. One federal agency may seem to favor mergers as lifesavers for a faltering industry. Another agency may frown on the same corporate marriage because it might lessen competition.

The antitrust laws bar mergers that might lead to monopoly with the consumer the fall guy. But some now charge that government of late shows a dislike of business itself. Critics contend that everything about our economy is bigger today—so why not bigger business firms?

Also the government stresses the need for economic growth. Many proponents of mergers hold that this is one sure road to corporate growth. They contend that the goal of greater general economic growth can be obtained more easily by big and expanding corporations than by a multitude of small separate ones.

But the fears of some detractors of the hefty postwar merger trend go much deeper than the immediate loss of jobs or the cutting off of services to some communities. They contend that the merger spree could end with only a few companies in a field. They say this could make it much easier for big government to move in, if at some future date it should want to, and socialize these industries.

All of this is why today's merger proposals are taking on new significance. This could affect you far beyond the results of the big getting bigger or of yesterday's small or medium sized company becoming tomorrow's division of a huge parent corporation.

Hangover Brings Him Ocean Trip

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—A night on the town brought George Reynolds a hangover that lasted clear across the Atlantic and back.

Reeling happily through the streets one night last month he stumbled aboard the banana boat Camito and fell asleep. On waking he found the ship at sea bound for the West Indies. When the ship got back to Southampton, Reynolds, 25, was convicted of slowing away. He was jailed for 28 days in default of a fine.

The black bear has the peculiar habit of treading in the same path which becomes, in time, an easily recognizable trail, often leading to its destruction.

Red Lake Indians Held Entitled to Minnesota Relief

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Red Lake reservation Indians have legal settlement in Minnesota and are entitled to the benefits of poor relief laws in Beltrami County, authorities of Hennepin County contended Monday in a brief filed in a state Supreme Court case.

The 71-page brief, prepared by George M. Scott, Hennepin County attorney, was part of the county's appeal to the Supreme Court of a Beltrami County district court finding that Red Lake Indians are not properly entitled to relief payments there.

The case involves four children, born out of wedlock to an Indian woman who lived on the reservation with her parents.

The woman and children moved to Minneapolis in 1955. A year later the mother was adjudged incompetent and committed to a state hospital. Beltrami County continued aid to dependent (ADC) payments until July 1956 when the children were transferred to Minneapolis ADC supervision.

Hennepin County denied responsibility a year later and had the children transferred to Beltrami County juvenile court jurisdiction. When that court also denied responsibility, Morris Hursh, state welfare commissioner, ruled that Beltrami officials were responsible and they appealed to the court.

District Judge Arnold Forbes ruled in 1958 that Hennepin county was responsible, a ruling Hennepin County appealed to the Supreme Court last May.

Scott in his brief contends that Indians living on a reservation are residents of the state and county in which the reservation is located.

West Warned on Arms Conference

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Time and the Red Chinese are fine sedatives for anyone getting optimistic about next month's disarmament conference which Premier Khrushchev wanted to turn into a summit conference.
Disarmament meetings in one form or another—whether it was just two or three big nations talking or many more—have been going on almost since the end of World War II without agreement. This history alone should be a restraining influence on expectations that 18-nation conference which starts March 14 in Geneva will turn out differently.
If it should, the time element involved in bringing about any kind of general disarmament is immense.

The problem much more immediate than general disarmament is getting agreement to ban nuclear tests. If this kind of agreement were achieved at Geneva it could be put into operation faster than general disarmament.
But it isn't clear that the Russians will even agree to discuss a nuclear ban at the Geneva disarmament discussions. The United Nations, which approved the conference, left the nuclear test ban question vague.
The West now and in the past has insisted on an inspection system—which means, for instance, that the United States and Russia would place inspectors in each other's country—to prevent cheating.

The Russians, balking at this in the past, have called it a spy system.
Granted, however, that East and West finally agreed on it, general disarmament would not happen all at once. It would be phased out by stages, as the experts say, meaning it would be carried out a step at a time.
The obvious purpose would be to give the participating nations time to be sure the first stage was being carried out honestly before they went on to dismantle some more of their armaments in the second stage.
So general disarmament, even with agreement to go through with it, would be spread out over some years.
Under the Soviet dictatorship, Premier Khrushchev, once he said "yes," could pretty well make his agreement an order.
In this country Congress would certainly have to consider any agreement. President Kennedy made, or wanted to make. The congressional hassle over a step as monumental as disarmament can be imagined.

Yet, even if all the agreements were made and the United States and Russia felt confident each other would fully carry out the bargain, there would still be a frightening element missing. That is Red China.
It is not among the 18 nations which the United Nations decided should take part in the conference. All 18 are U. N. members and Red China is not. The conference will start without China, the world's biggest nation.
The Red Chinese, so far as is known, do not yet have nuclear power and so do not have nuclear weapons. But they're working on it and in time should have their own arsenal.
Any 18-nation agreement on disarmament would be ludicrous without agreement by Red China. If the 18 should make real progress toward agreement, Red China probably would be called in. But the answer to whether Red China would agree is something the Western statesmen must look for in a crystal ball at this moment.

It's possible Red China—not recognized as a legitimate government by the United States and not a member of the so-called family of nations because it is kept out of the United Nations by this country—might want to agree for prestige and to have a voice in the United Nations.
But that's sheer guessing. If relations between Red China and Russia are as bad as sometimes reported, the Chinese Communists might want no part of a disarmament deal with the Soviets.
In short, this disarmament conference will start its March meeting in a hazy way with no more reason to expect it to be successful than any of its predecessors except that mankind is getting more fearful of war every day.

Ford Motor Co.
Profits Announced
DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. Monday announced a 1961 profit of $409.5 million, equal to $7.45 a share. This compared with $427.9 million, or $7.80 a share in 1960. Ford's record year was 1955 when it made $454.2 million. Dollar sales were $8.71 billion compared with $6.79 in 1960. Previously General Motors had announced earnings of $893 million for 1961 and Chrysler reported a profit of $11.1 million.

Ribicoff Asks Scouts to Enlist Needy Children

NEW YORK (AP)—Welfare Secretary Abraham A. Ribicoff called on the Boy Scout movement today to seek out the children of families on relief and get them into scouting.

He spoke at the annual Boy Scout Construction Industry "lunch-o-ree."

"We have encouraged the states to give these children and their mothers the wherewithal to buy scout uniforms or to pay carfare to scout meetings or the special fees needed to enjoy the fun of camping and trips," Ribicoff said.

"We have done this because we know that boys and girls need to go camping, need to fish and play and learn with others. Now you must reach out into the slums and deprived areas of this and other cities and find the children who need you. This is your job. Find these boys and girls. Search them out eagerly. Help us renew their spirits; help us open the doors of opportunity. Rid them of at least part of the terrible deprivations of the slums. See that they have the chance to participate—to take part—in society."

Wautoma Man Charged With Killing Wife

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP)—Harold Hazen, 59, was charged Monday with first degree murder in the death of his wife, whose death bed statement named her husband as the man who shot her in the stomach.

Hazen, who insisted he didn't recall what happened, was taken to the State Crime Laboratory at Madison for a lie detector test. Hazen's wife, Agnes, 52, dying of a 22 caliber bullet wound, told Waupaca County Dist. Atty. Earl F. Kileen, Undersheriff Arthur Schley and a physician that her husband shot her in a drunken rage Saturday night.

Hazen stumbled to the home of a neighbor Saturday night and asked that a physician be called. He said his wife had suffered a heart attack. Her wound was discovered at a hospital.

Mrs. Hazen worked in a pickle factory to provide most of the support for the couple's three children—boys 15 and 8 and a girl 13. Authorities said the children left the house when the father began to argue with his wife. The children were found near the home, on the outskirts of Wautoma.

The murder warrant was issued by Kileen. Arraignment was delayed because the courthouse was closed in observance of Lincoln's birthday anniversary Monday.

Rockford Church Damaged by Fire

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Portions of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, a 76-year-old Rockford landmark, were destroyed Monday night by fire which caused an estimated $150,000 damage.

Fire Chief Wayne Swanson, who estimated the loss, said flames destroyed the facade of the brick structure and also burned out the interior of the steeple.

No cause for the blaze was determined immediately, Swanson said.

The Most Rev. Loras T. Lane, bishop of Rockford, said the church will be restored. The church is located on the southwest edge of Rockford's business district.

Pearls were used as legal currency for more than a century in colonial Venezuela.

Pravda Says Russ Will Reject Any Inspection System

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist party paper Pravda followed up Premier Khrushchev's proposal for a summit disarmament conference with a declaration today that the Soviet Union will reject any proposals for a nuclear inspection system.

A commentary in the paper said the 18-nation disarmament conference opening in Geneva next month can only succeed if the Western powers come up with new proposals.

Bong Problem Biggest for Federal Agency

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson said Monday he had been told the abandoned Bong Air Force Base in southeast Wisconsin was the biggest problem ever to confront the federal government's General Services Administration.

"They claim it's the largest tract of cleared land in an industrial section in all the United States," Nelson said at a meeting of the State Recreation Committee.

The committee approved using $200,000 in Conservation Department funds should the state be given a chance to purchase some 1,700 acres of the base, located in Racine and Kenosha counties near Kansasville.

The state has asked that 2,400 acres, or almost half of the 5,500-acre site, be donated for use as a wildlife and recreation area. But the governor told the committee that to be in line for such a donation, the state would have to purchase the separate 1,700 tract at full appraised value.

In another action, the committee gave the go-ahead to plans for the construction of five lakes in southwestern Wisconsin in a project costing about $400,000.

Three of the lakes would result from impoundments on the Bad Axe River near the Vernon County communities of Sidie Valley, Springfield and Esosca. The others would be located in the Twin Parks watershed of Gov. Dodge State Park in Iowa County.

Henry L. Ahlgren, chairman of the State Soil Conservation Committee and a member of the recreation body, said he expected a minimum of trouble in making necessary land purchases, but offered no estimate of when construction could begin.

The estimated $400,000 cost will

Military Secrets Available for $1

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., said today U. S. enemies can purchase for $1—the price of the official budget—military secrets given to senators behind locked doors.

Cannon, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, accused the Pentagon of "political fakery" in the hush-hush disclosure of military plans he said are barred for all to read in a House document detailing armed services purchase plans and strength.

Cannon said he doesn't believe anyone would contend that in an open society such as that in the United States, information about defense efforts should be withheld from the public.

"I would go a step further," he said, "I think public debate is useful in informing Americans about our readiness and about what is being done with their tax dollars. But, I personally cannot see why we must disclose everything in our inventory, the purpose and performance of our hardware, and our plans for future military strength."

German Mine Death Toll Rises to 290

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP)—The official death toll in last Wednesday's Lusenath mine disaster rose to 290 today with the death of two injured miners.

In addition, another miner fell to his death in a shaft while working in a team clearing the disaster site 1,800 feet underground.

he shared by the federal government and the state, with the state's share coming from cigarette taxes collected under the resources development plan.

The committee was told in a report from the Department of Administration that the tax collections are running ahead of estimates. Monthly collections for the 10-year, $50 million program are averaging $17,000, or about $20,000 more than anticipated.

ROBERT C. RUARK

U.S. Swing to Right Doubted

By ROBERT C. RUARK

LONDON—From time to time I am asked, as the boys gather round in the pub, to explain the significance of America's swing to the wild-eyed right after having played it so long from left to left center. I confess to not having either a ready, and certainly not a glib, answer.

For a start, say I, I do not believe the John Birchers and kindred groups are any more representative of the basic American political feeling than the Ku Klux Klan, the W.C.T.U., or the D.A.R. I do not think there has been what is described as an enormous rightward trend.

They cite me all of this rightist activity among the young folk, the students, and I reply that a student will swing anywhere, at peculiar seasons of the year, and that the alleged conservative tendency of the book-lottery has about as much significance as the epidemics of goldfish consumption and pantie raids of the past.

Ruark In my youth it was popular for the campus intellectuals to be avowed Communists, although I doubt many of them ever pushed it to the point of carrying a card. That was depression time, and hungry time, and dirty-shirt time. "Capitalist" was an epithet, and then as had any money at all were frowned on by the straitened pocketbook bearers.

Yet only minuscule number of my group ever become anything more than talkatively left-liberal, and as soon as they got the wrinkles out of their bellies and perhaps a car in the garage, they quit preaching Marxist doctrine and started to fret about ways to acquire the second car. I would take no student seriously, especially on football weekends and during the spring frolics.

IF THERE be actually a tremendous swing toward the right among responsible people in America, particularly among the young adults who have grown up since the end of World War Two, I can put it down only to unparalleled prosperity.

It is my thought that the average American never did feel keenly about leading the world at least not in the manner of the average Briton's worship of the Empire, and certainly not in the manner of imperialist Germany or passionately acquisitive Russia.

I don't believe the individual American ever gave many positive thoughts to world leadership, and the fact that it has been thrust upon him both angers, frightens, and bores him. The American may be a passionate tourist, but I think that with few exceptions life abroad holds little charm for him—and I think that he does not and has no wish to understand foreign complication as it affects his life in America.

IT IS INDICATIVE of this disinterest that the Peace Corps has been madly advertising for more young people to work abroad, and is having difficulty doubling its quota of star-eyed zealots who wish to concern themselves with the dingy problems of others, even though it is interesting work in slummy romantic places.

But mostly I think that America's alleged right swing among the young, in particular, is caused by fear that complication in a vast and impossible brotherhood of man will cost him security, luxury, and even life if carried to a much more heavy degree of personal participation.

Any man of mild intelligence who can read a newspaper, or even listen to the radio, can realize that our involvement in One World over the past 30 years has led us to nothing but a chaotic world revolution for which America has paid with lives and money, and has gained nothing whatsoever but varying degrees of suspicion and dislike from the people we have "liberated" and then financially supported.

WE HAVE seen a remarkable lack of interest, not to say even medium rare patriotism, in young America's reaction to the draft and the military reserve. We have recently seen a semi-revolution among recalled reservists, and we have seen the government back down. We have seen failure of our various foreign policies on nearly all fronts—and we have seen a steady expansion of our tax liabilities as we ladle out funds to support people who revile us.

Bureaucracy today entangles us all in business which the average American feels is too far from home base to be any true concern. Even the cloddiest of wage earners has watched the value of his dollar dwindle and the cost of his living soar. This, he is bound to feel, is the direct result of becoming overly involved with a few score million people he will never meet, not even on a battlefield.

THE PURE selfishness and the fast fright of the American citizen was lavishly observed in last year's panic over fallout shelters, when the advisability of shooting invading neighbors was seriously discussed, and assorted supplies of canned goods were being conserved against a frightful, if intangible, future.

If that fear, that disenchantment with the world, that policy of recent years which has led us into that fear and that disenchantment, can be construed as a swing to the right, then perhaps we are swerving in our national sentiment. But not enough, I'll wager, to make a great deal of difference in this year's elections, or to beat Jack Kennedy's party when he comes out in 1964.

Good Neighbors Pay Medical Bills Of Scalded Girl

ST. CLAIR SHORES, Mich. (AP)—It took 9,000 pounds of assorted chocolates, but the medical bills for Karen Dodge are paid. Karen, 2, was scalded two days before Christmas when she pulled a coffee pot off the kitchen stove.

Her father, Herbert Dodge, a teacher at Brownell Junior High School in Grosse Pointe, had let his hospitalization insurance lapse.

Karen needed blood transfusions, round-the-clock nursing and skin grafts. Students and teachers at Brownell went from door to door selling chocolates—9,000 boxes.

The profits came to $3,700. Student committees went to doctors, the hospitals, the laboratories Monday paying the bills.

Senator Charges Books Juggled to Show Farm Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., charged Monday the Kennedy administration's books were "juggled" to create the "false impression" of a $1.5 billion reduction in farm surpluses.

He told the Senate that the President's claim of cutting such stocks from $9,228,604,000 on Dec. 31, 1960 to $7,747,236,000 on Nov. 30, 1961 was "just as unrealistic as was Mr. Kennedy's campaign dream about a missile shortage."

He called the claim "fantastic."

"Instead of a $1.5 billion reduction there have actually been increases in the government's stockpile of practically all commodities except cotton," Williams declared.

Last year, Williams said, the administration spent nearly $700 million paying farmers to reduce their acreage of corn, sorghum and other feed grains.

Instead of eliminating 20 million acres of corn, the 1961 corn acreage was cut only 15.4 acres, he said.

The administration paid over $150 million to remove production from "4½ million phantom acres, acreage which never would have been put in feed grains anyway," Williams said.

On Nov. 30, 1961, he continued, the administration had a corn inventory of 1,472,845,439 bushels,

Cuba May Get Soviet Buses

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Santiago de Cuba's deficient city bus service may be bolstered soon by 20 Soviet-made buses, Radio Havana says.

The Cuban broadcast, monitored here, said 20 buses arrived Monday from the Soviet Union. The announcement said the buses were driven through the city "amid the applause of the people who were appreciative of this new help of the friendly Socialist countries."

Mrs. Lindsay Crosby In Hollywood Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lindsay Crosby's wife Barbara remains in a coma at a Burbank hospital, ill from what Crosby said was a complication of pregnancy.

The former Las Vegas, Nev. showgirl, daughter-in-law of Bing Crosby, is expecting her second child in June. Dr. Abner Moss said Monday night that she was a little better but declined to state the nature of her ailment.

Mrs. Crosby, 23, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday night.

an increase of 1,568,494 bushels over the year before.

He said the books were "juggled" to provide an imaginary reduction of $566,530,432.38 in the government's investment by reducing the valuation of the larger inventory from $2,444,716,557.76 to $1,878,186,125.28.

The administration followed the same procedure "in juggling values of their inventories of wheat," Williams said.

Kid Cann, Four Associates Plan Appeal in Fraud

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Isadore "Kid Cann" Blumenfeld and four other members of his now defunct Minneapolis liquor syndicate are appealing their federal court convictions last year on fraud and conspiracy counts.

Briefs in the appeals were filed Monday and March 23 and was set for arguments before the 8th Circuit Court at St. Louis.

Convicted with Cann on charges arising from multiple ownership of several liquor outlets were his brothers, Yiddy and Harry Bloom, Abe Brownstein and Edward Berman. All were given three year prison terms and $20,000 fines apiece.

All except Blumenfeld are free on bond. He is serving a five-year term at the government medical center in Springfield, Mo., for additional convictions of attempting to bribe a juror and white slavery.

Four persons were acquitted and two women associates were placed on probation by Judge Edward J. Devitt. Still pending

Nixon Lincoln Day Speaker

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If Abraham Lincoln were alive today, he would be most concerned with the doctrine of individual responsibility in a republic, says former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon told a Lincoln's birthday dinner Monday that this question cuts across the activities of government, business, labor, farmers and every citizen.

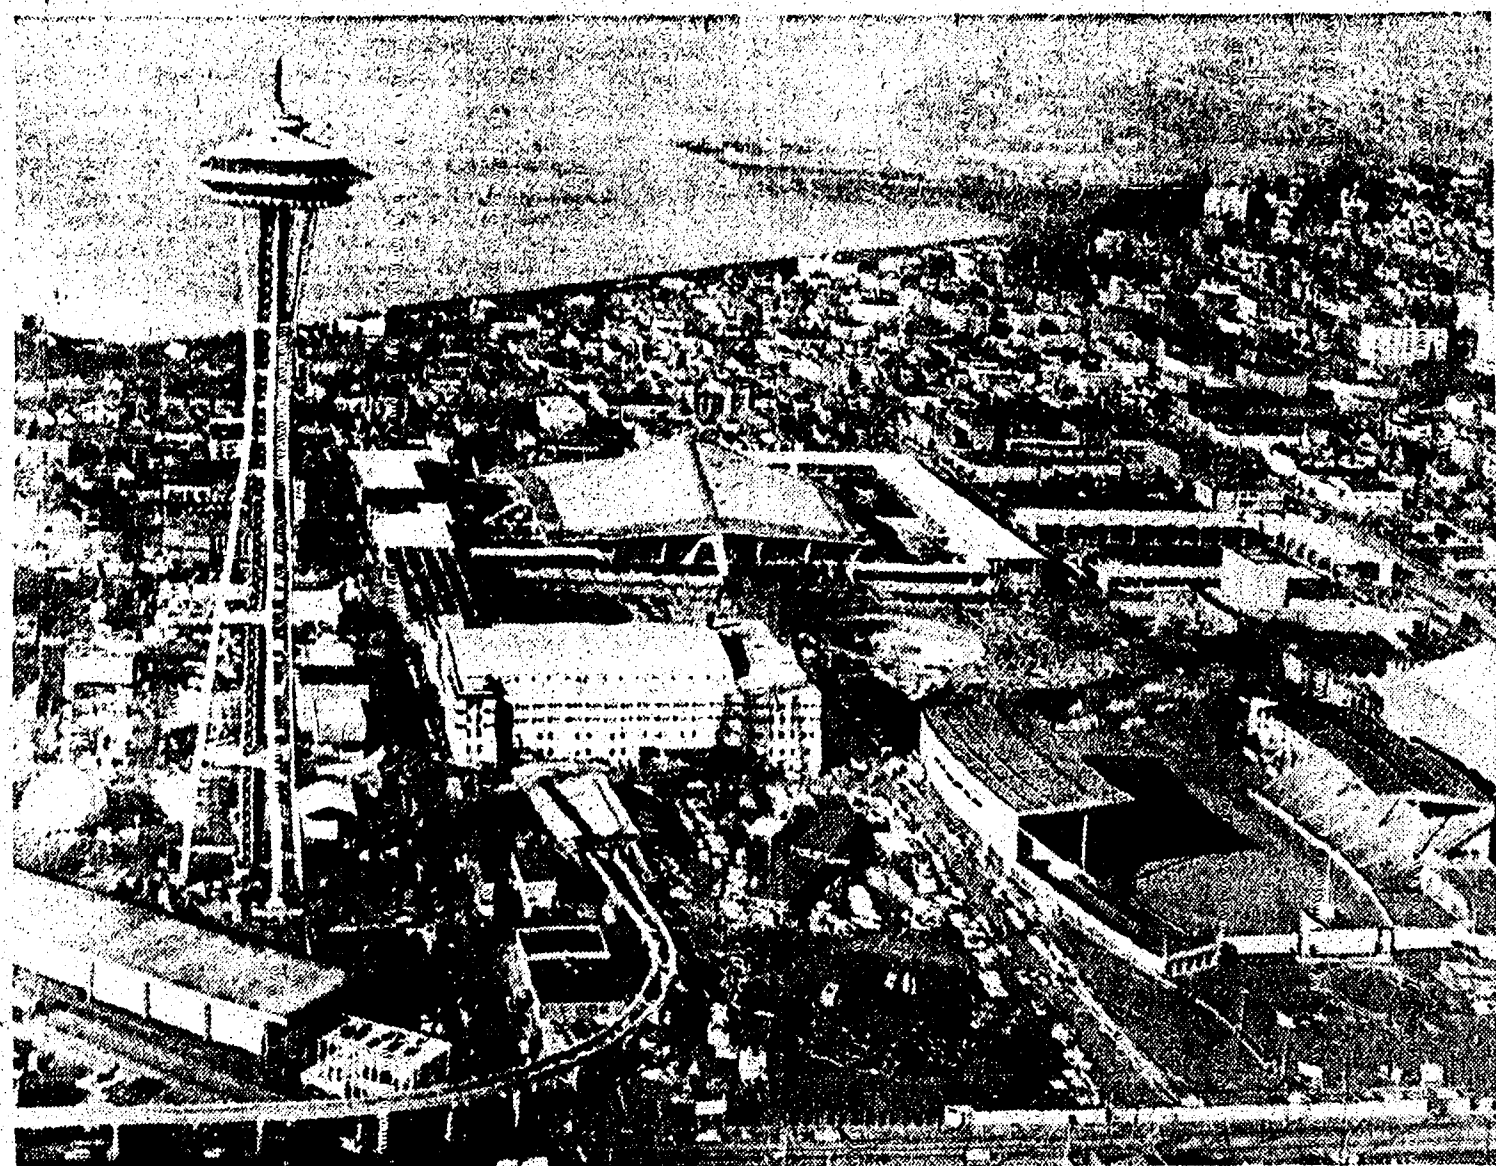

Nixon said Lincoln would ask: "What happens to the individual and his own initiative when the government assumes more and more responsibility for getting things done?"

Answered Nixon: "He (Lincoln) certainly would question and, I think, oppose statism or centralization in any form."

are the cases of Mrs. Brownstein and Carol Perkins.

The government contended during the syndicate trial that the members split average profits of $500,000 a year from seven bars and liquor stores.

The defendants' appeal briefs attack Devitt's instructions to the jury, the indictment and the testimony of some witnesses. The Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis will hear the appeals.

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—Renovators cleaning the ceiling of the "gold room" in the mansion of old-time railroad tycoon Frederick W. Vanderbilt stumbled across a "family skeleton," half a century old.

It is a 20-by-30-foot mural showing a group of gay, bare-breasted women in diaphanous Grecian skirts gathered about an elderly man who has his head in his hands.

Caretakers there since shortly after the mansion was built in 1890 recall that when Vanderbilt had the mural executed, his wife objected.

The railroad tycoon, son of railroad empire builder Cornelius Vanderbilt, gave in to Mrs. Vanderbilt's objections and had the mural painted over.

In 1940, Margaret Louise Van Allen, a Vanderbilt niece, turned the big marble mansion over to the federal government, which made it a national historical site.

More than a million tourists have visited the ornate mansion.

Now the U.S. Interior Department has the problem of deciding whether to cover the mural again.

IT REALLY SMELLED
HUMBOLDT, Iowa (AP)—After several patrons told theater operator Fred Mayer that the movie short entitled "Speedway" was so realistic they could smell rubber burning, he checked up.

He found that a rubber belt in the theater's heating equipment was smoldering.

Yale Looks for Bamboo Shoots

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Surely somewhere in this country there is somebody who has more bamboo shoots than he can use himself.

If he does, Yale's zoology department needs them desperately—for two sad-eyed little lemurs recently arrived in this country who can't adjust to the local cuisine. Their favorite food is bamboo shoots.

They arrived Friday and since then, according to Asst. Prof. Richard J. Andrew, they've only eaten "a little celery, a little milk, hardly enough to keep them alive."

A kind of monkey, the two animals are a rare species from Madagascar from whence all lemurs come.

If you've ever looked into the dark, soulful eyes of a lemur, particularly a hungry one, you can understand why department staff members have been making fast trips to the Bronx Zoo in New York which has its own special patch of bamboo shoots.

A steady, substantial supply is needed, however, for the hungry ones.

Bodies of Eight Airmen Recovered
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The bodies of eight U.S. Army and Air Force men killed in the crash of a Vietnamese transport plane Sunday have been recovered.

A spokesman said today the bodies were sent to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines for identification.

The Americans were advisers to South Viet Nam's armed forces fighting the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Two Vietnamese were also aboard the C-47 which crashed and burned in mountainous guerrilla country 80 miles northeast of Saigon on a leaflet dropping mission.

2 Killed in Crash At Fox Lake, Wis.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The collision of two cars returning from a funeral has taken two lives, boosting Wisconsin's highway toll for the year to 61, compared with 90 on this day last year.

Alfred Long, 51, and his wife, Elva, about 50, of Ripon were killed and four other persons injured Monday in a head-on crash on a Dodge County road about five miles north of Fox Lake.

The Longs and Charles, 43, and Hazel Redman, 42, of Waupun, were passengers in a car driven by Colby Porter, 62, of Fox Lake as the party returned from a funeral at Green Lake.

Police said the second car was driven by Lawrence Wackett, 18, of Fox Lake. He was employed by a funeral home connected with the funeral and had taken another route home, authorities said.

Wackett and Porter were in critical condition in a Waupun hospital.

Debbie Reynolds

Expecting in September

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Debbie Reynolds, wife of shoe magnate Harry Karl, is expecting a baby next September, her press agent says.

Miss Reynolds, 29, went to a hospital Feb. 2 for treatment of a flu attack, and tests there disclosed her pregnancy Monday, the spokesman said. Karl, 47, is in New York on a business trip.
