President Asks Power to Start Works Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today sent to Congress legislation to give him power to trigger up to $2 billion of public works projects in the early stage of any business slump.

In an accompanying letter Kennedy said the standby authority would be "an invaluable anti-recession tool."

It would permit a speedup of authorized federal projects and provide grant and loan funds for the states to activate their own high-priority improvements, Kennedy said, without the necessity of waiting for congressional action which "may be too late."

The standby, plan, part of the three-point program urged by Kennedy in his economic message Jan. 22, has been hailed by most Democrats but attacked by Republicans as a potential invasion of congressional authority.

The other requested measures were standby powers to reduce income taxes subject to veto by Congress and permanently enlarged unemployment benefits. The three, Kennedy said, would permit the government to act "more promptly, more flexibly and more forcefully to stabilize the economy."

The $2-billion emergency plan would permit:

- A $750-million increase in federal outlays on resource, conservation and other public works projects previously authorized by Congress;

- Granting of up to $750 million to state and local governments for capital improvement programs;

- Loans of up to $250 million to state and local governments which might otherwise be unable to carry their share of the cost of projects for which federal grants were authorized; and

- Allocation of another $250 million to any of the three preceding programs, as might be necessary.

Timed the "Standby Capital Improvements Act of 1962," the measure is designed to overcome the objection frequently raised against public works as an anti-recession tool—the fact that the remedy is so slow-starting that its effects come too late and sometimes only reinforce an inflation which follows the business recovery.

Kennedy said the present recovery is "proceeding in a satisfactory manner" despite continued high joblessness. "This is an appropriate time, therefore, to build defenses against future recessions," Kennedy said.

Sioux Falls Digging Out After 31-Inch Snowfall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eastern South Dakota and Southwest Minnesota tugged and hauled over a monumental snow removal job today to get things rolling again after 31 inches of snow over the weekend, most of it Sunday.

Some schools were closed this morning while plowing crews, favored by abated winds, tackled the heavy fall.

Main roads were opened to limited traffic, allowing buses to resume operations. Airlines began regular service out of Sioux Falls this morning.

Snow was pushed into mounds higher than the trucks that were hauling it away from downtown Sioux Falls, community of about 70,000.

Householders started driveway shoveling Sunday night. Two Sioux Falls men died of exertion in their heavy shoveling tasks.

Worthington, Minn., 60 miles east of Sioux Falls, had practically no snow on the ground when the fall, biggest since 1908, came. An estimated 100 travelers stranded over the weekend were able to start out today over partially cleared roads, some pinched down to one-lane travel.

Only one emergency was reported in the Worthington area during the height of Sunday's storm. A snowplow cleared the way for an ambulance to Round Lake, Minn., 11 miles south of Worthington, to carry a man stricken with a gall bladder attack.

Some 200 schools in central and southern Minnesota were closed because blocked secondary roads made school bus travel impossible.

The Minnesota Highway department reported travel possible, however, on all main roads in the worst snow area.

In Minneapolis where six inches fell, city officials estimated it would take four days to dig out the downtown area. City plowing began Sunday night with 260 men working through the night on 115 plows and 25 graders.

The latest storm brought the total for the year in the Twin Cities to 40 inches, highest since 1951.

"Dig" was the order of the day today. Persons who sat out the snow Sunday, watching it from their windows, had to clear driveways of deep drifts this morning before they could drive to work.

Winds of up to 20 miles per hour piled the snow into car-high drifts and created near blizzard conditions in southeastern South Dakota Saturday night and Sunday.

Law officers in Sioux Falls shoveled through drifts Sunday to get four expectant mothers to hospitals in time for delivery of their babies.

The Augustana College basketball team from Sioux Falls and about 45 fans, returning home from a game at Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa, got as far as Beresford, S.D., Saturday night.

The highway was clogged with drifts and stalled cars. The 57 persons slept on the wooden pews (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

West Defies Russian Edict On Air Routes

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP)—Allied aircraft flew through the north corridor from Berlin today to counter renewed Soviet pressure on the vital air lanes, informed sources said.

Military and commercial transports thrust through the Berlin-Hamburg corridor over Communist East German territory, the informants said.

The Western operation was designed to assert Allied rights in face of the renewal of harrassing tactics by the Red air force.

Western commanders gave orders for the transports to fly deliberately below the level the Soviets want for their exclusive use for a three-hour period.

For the seventh time since it started harassing Western air links to Berlin on Feb. 7, the Soviet air force told the Berlin Air Safety Center Sunday night it was reserving air space up to 7,500 feet in the north corridor leading to Berlin from Hamburg.

Allied control officers rejected the Soviet flight plan and ordered military transports to stand by.

The Soviet move came after a weekend pause in the Berlin air crisis. Sunday morning, Moscow announced it had rejected a three-power protest that maneuvers of the Red air force in the corridors were dangerous and illegal.

The Allies insist that air safety rules, in force for 17 years, require notification of each individual flight through the three 20-mile wide corridors linking Berlin with Frankfurt, Hannover and Hamburg.

The Western powers charged the Russians were trying to change the rules by making "block bookings" for the Red air force. The Allies do not dispute Soviet contentions the Red air force has equal rights in the corridors but they insist on carrying out the safety rules.

The Allies complained to the Kremlin that Soviet jet fighters buzzed Western aircraft in the corridors last week.

Glenn May Go Tuesday

Weather at Cape Canaveral Looking Up

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

—A brightening weather picture buoyed hopes today that astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. will be launched toward a round-the-earth orbit Tuesday after months of delays.

At a morning briefing, Project Mercury officials reported "generally improved conditions" in the Atlantic recovery areas where Marine Lt. Col. Glenn's capsule would descend.

The first half of a split two-day countdown was started at 2:30 a.m. The precount was finished at 6 a.m., with both the Atlas booster rocket and Friendship 7 spacecraft described as in "go" condition.

Officials were shooting for a launch between 7:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The weather outlook in the Cape Canaveral vicinity gave officials some concern. A cold front preceded by a squall line was advancing into northern Florida this morning. This could leave lingering cloudiness in the cape area, possibly delaying the shot for the 11th time.

However, officials were hopeful holes could be found in the clouds through which the rocket could be fired.

A complete check of the weather was due for about midnight tonight, after which officials were to make a preliminary decision.

"We feel a lot more optimistic today than we did yesterday," said Lt. Col. John A. Flowers, spokesman for the astronauts. "Conservatively I would say the odds are at least 60-40 in our favor."

Powers said one change had been made in the lineup of ships poised to recover Glenn. The aircraft carrier Forrestal has replaced the carrier Constellation in the area—500 miles east of Bermuda—where Glenn would come down if he made only one orbit, instead of the hoped-for three.

"Relaxed as he can be," Glenn planned to phone his wife and parents tonight before going to bed about 7 or 8 o'clock.

If he completes three orbits, as planned, Glenn will land in the Atlantic about 800 miles southeast of the Cape.

Some cloudiness was predicted in the Cape Canaveral area by Tuesday morning. But NASA weather watchers were rooting for it to thin out so Glenn can blast off about 7:30 a.m. EST. Good visibility is a must to permit filming the rocket during the critical early phases of its flight.

Project Mercury officials will make their final go-or-no-go decision, based on the latest weather, at a midnight briefing Monday. There were three postponements last week after such eleventh-hour weather checks.

Technical crews planned to complete the first half of the 14-hour prelaunch countdown today, then pick up the count again after midnight—if the decision is made to try for a launch.

FISHERMEN STRANDED... More than 300 sturgeon spears and ice fishermen were taken off the ice of Lake Poygan near Oshkosh, Wis., during a blinding snowstorm Sunday. ## 700 Trapped Ice Fishermen Rescued

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wind-driven snow storm lashed Wisconsin Sunday, hitting hardest in the south, temporarily trapping an estimated 700 ice fishermen and stranding several hundred motorists in one small area.

The storm pounded at an area south of a line from Green Bay to Eau Claire before easing off about midnight after dumping 10 inches of snow in the Milwaukee area. Visibility was reduced to almost nothing as the snow was blown out of the east by winds gusting at more than 30 m. p. h.

Many of the major north-south roads in the south were closed by drifts of six feet and better. Most county routes were closed. Some counties, after fighting the storm during the day, pulled in removal equipment at night to wait for the storm to end. Emergency crews to help stranded motorists were kept on in some areas.

The ice fishermen were caught on Lake Poygan, about 15 miles northwest of Oshkosh, when nightfall and the swirling snow reduced visibility to 10 feet or less.

The state traffic patrol said about 200 motorists were marooned along a 20-mile stretch of Highway 141 south of Sheboygan when 100 to 150 cars stalled in the deep drifts.

Occupants of the cars were given refuge in hotels, motels, and the area's farm homes, which officials said were "filled to capacity."

Others were taken to the city hall at Port Washington where the Red Cross was helping establish emergency facilities.

The Sheboygan County sheriff's department said the stranded were plucked from their cars by snow plow crews and officers and taken to the nearest public facilities or farm homes. Then the crews and officers returned to the areas to repeat the process until all the cars had been emptied.

Hundreds of fishermen, including women and children, poured on to Lake Poygan Sunday for the wind-up of a two-day special sturgeon spearing season.

They made the trip despite steadily falling snow and a warning of as much as five inches to come. At mid-afternoon Dick Harris, a fisheries employee of the State Conservation Department said about 700 of the fishermen were trapped on the lake by drifts up to 15 feet and swirling snow that cut visibility to the length of a long fishing pole.

"This is a serious situation," he said.

Winnebago County Deputy Sheriff Douglas Meyer said a snow plow had made one pass across the 10 by 3 mile lake before giving up and that it would be morning before help could get to the fishermen to get them off the ice.

However, the conservation employees and volunteers stayed and battled the blinding snow until 9 p.m. to lead, low and haul the fishermen to shore.

"We are reasonably sure everybody got off," said Meyer. "There may be a few oldtimers left out there, but they know how to take care of themselves and we are not worried."

Emergency crews repairing broken dikes were assisted by German and British army engineers.

Hamburg police warned they would shoot plunderers on sight.

West German President Heinrich Lübke surveyed the disaster area by helicopter, as the Bonn government offered federal aid.

American and British residents joined Germans in the nationwide relief campaign for flood victims. The U.S. Army made available 50,000 blankets and articles of clothing.

Uncertain Peace In British Guiana

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — An uncertain peace settled on this tropical capital today after a siege of rioting, looting and burning. Labor leaders called off their general strike against leftist Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan, but his East Indian followers were reported plotting reprisals in the hinterlands.

British armed forces, hurriedly flown from Jamaica and London on appeal from Jagan, were braced for trouble, although fire-blackened Georgetown was quiet.

Racial tensions between Negroes and East Indians ran high after rioting Negro mobs burned a half-mile square of Georgetown's business center and its East Indian stores last Friday. The rioting left six dead, scores injured and $11 million property damage.

Jagan, an East Indian himself, gets most of his support from East Indian farmers and workers outside Georgetown. Negroes generally support Forbes Burnham, leader of the People's National Congress party, whom Jagan defeated in last August's election.

Tensions relaxed somewhat Sunday night, with the announcement of labor leaders that they had called off their week-long strike.

The back-to-work call came after the union leaders met three and a half hours with Jagan. One negotiator said Jagan agreed to a series of demands.

A terse radio announcement said the unions, grouping civil servants, government employees and primary schoolteachers, had asked them to return to work with the Trade Union Council also recommending its 12,000 strikers to resume work.

Civil servants and teachers struck for higher wages. The Trades Union Council protested Jagan's plans for higher import taxes and a compulsory savings scheme which the council claimed hurt workers more than the rich.

A Trades Union Council announcement said Jagan promised to impose price controls to prevent importers from passing on duties to consumers and to consider the replacement of the compulsory savings program with a voluntary savings scheme.

Rifle Shot Kills Minnesota Woman

LITTLE FALLS, Minn. (AP) — A Lincoln, Minn., woman was killed Sunday in an accidental shooting.

Mrs. Ann Bothat, 47, died when a bullet from a .30-06 deer rifle went into her back.

Dr. E. C. Goblirsch, Morrison County coroner, said Bothat was believed to have been cleaning the deer rifle when the weapon discharged. Bothat was in shock.

Church, Roller Skating Rink Swept by Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fires in Wisconsin Sunday swept a church and a combination roller skating rink and bowling alley, causing total damage estimated at $125,000.

A blaze in the Calvary United Brethren church at Germantown caused $20,000 damage, according to fire chief Harold Schaezel, who said it was started by a defective oil furnace. The blaze broke out after morning services. Embers were all that remained after a blaze of undetermined origin roared through the Silver Lake roller rink and bowling alley four miles south of Oconomowoc. The loss was estimated at $105,000 by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick DeCicco.

A 275-gallon fuel oil tank exploded during the fire and was hurled 400 feet into the side of the DeCicco home, but no one was injured.

All main highways were open but snow packed and slippery, the department said. It added that secondary roads have more packed snow and slippery stretches and that some areas provide only one-way traffic.

"Continuing snow fall and drifting from high winds will cause a continuation of slippery conditions and restrict visibility considerably," the department warned.

Only Necessary Trips Urged

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Confine your driving to necessary trips only, the Wisconsin Highway Department advised at midday today in the wake of the weekend storm.

All main highways were open but snow packed and slippery, the department said. It added that secondary roads have more packed snow and slippery stretches and that some areas provide only one-way traffic.

"Continuing snow fall and drifting from high winds will cause a continuation of slippery conditions and restrict visibility considerably," the department warned.

Help Your Child

Parents Can Help Teachers

(Editor's Note: Parents are every bit as important as teachers in the education of their children. This is the first in a series of 15 articles by an educational authority detailing what you can do to help your child succeed in school.)

By LESLIE J. NASON, D.Ed.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

"How can I get my child to want to learn?"
That question is uppermost in the minds of good parents; a question most frequently asked when parents and teachers meet to discuss education.

The problem is not one for teachers alone to solve. Parents themselves have an important—perhaps the most important—role in stimulating their child's thirst for knowledge.

In this series of articles we are going to outline some of the ways in which you can help your child to succeed in school by creating and enhancing his desire to learn.

Parents are the most important people on earth to children. Father's political party or mother's choice of car is likely to be Junior's choice, too. Mother's way of cooking or cleaning will become little Susie's way of doing things.

CHILDREN ALSO tend to share their parents' views about school. If daddy says "I always liked school. Things I learned in school help me with my job," Junior decides that he likes school. If Mother says "From the time I was a little girl, I knew I would go to college," Susie decides that college is for her, too.

But if Daddy says, "I hated school. I couldn't wait for the time to quit," Junior rates school as a bore. And if Mother says, "Don't bother me with your homework. I have more important things to do," Susie looks at homework as of little or no importance.

First and foremost in a child's education needs is family approval of learning. With it, he is off to a flying start. Without it, he is under a serious handicap. The youngster who knows that his parents stand behind him in getting an education, studies harder and does better than a child who thinks his parents do not care. Be sure your child knows you care.

A successful college student told me the other day:

"My parents always encouraged questions. They made it clear that there was no such thing as a foolish question. If they didn't know the answer, they helped me find it."

IT ISN'T always easy to manage the activities of a family so each member can fill all his needs without becoming a problem to someone else. It is possible, however, for the family to plan activities so each member knows that others are considering his needs and desires.

When television, recreation and the dozens of other activities of the home are regulated to provide time for homework and family discussion, school is given its proper place of importance.

Parents set the attitude toward learning that children adopt as their own.

Provide your children with a place and time to study. Have reference books handy. Encourage them to look up words in the dictionary and places in the atlas. Encourage them to study each subject, not just do homework assignments.

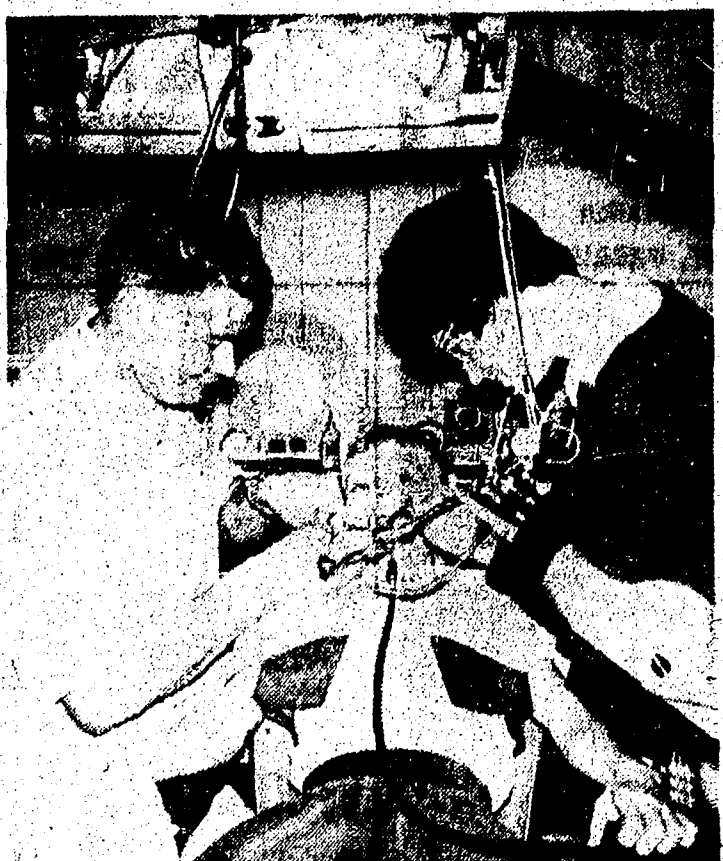

Let them enter family discussions about current events. Listen to good music together. Read good books with them. Go to libraries, museums, zoos, art galleries with your children.

Always consider school and education important, thus creating family approval of learning.

Canadian Goose, 4 Wild Ducks Disturb Peace

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP)—Folks complained about the honking so the Humane Society picked up the culprits—a Canadian goose and four wild ducks.

The fowls were jailed, so to speak, under the city leash law for pets.

A bird lover anonymously hired attorney Ramon Poitevin to go to bat for the goose.

The lawyer told police his client's detention violated the U.S. Migratory Bird Act. They were ahead of him.

"Mr. Poitevin," he says they told him Saturday, "We're gonna loose your goose."

"That's ducky," he replied.

The goose soared off where the wild goose goes.

But his four feathered buddies, without a friend at court, are still jailed birds.

Said a sympathizer: "It's a fowl blow."

Legion at Hokah Host to County

HOKAH, Minn. (Special)—When the Houston County Council of the American Legion and Auxiliary met in the municipal hall social rooms Thursday evening, about 40 attended.

Separate business sessions were held. Charles Gavin, La Crescent, 1st District vice commander, reported that the county was the first to go over top in membership in the district. The county now has 883 members.

Arlo Abraham, county veterans service officer, talked on his duties. Next meeting will be La Crescent in April.

Mrs. Robert Boehm, La Crescent, led the auxiliary meeting, assisted by her secretary, Mrs. A. Jensen. She appointed Mrs. Buri Kellogg, Hokah and herself as a nominating committee. April is election month.

A second Girls Stater tea will be held. Mrs. Olson announced that the 1961 Girls Stater from Houston will be counselor this year. She reported 401 pints of blood were given in December when the Red Cross blood unit was in the county. April 28 is the date for the Junior Auxiliary conference at Rochester. An educational film, "Stars and Stripes," was shown to both groups, and lunch was served. The local unit held a short session before the county meeting, voting to send a donation to the Veterans Hospital in Minneapolis. The refreshment committee for March includes Mmes. Lowell Pogatchnik, Clarence Harmer and Mrs. Sadie Miller.

That Third Weekend In February Bad

By C. GORDON HOLTE
Daily News Staff Writer

Today's Tip: Have that snow shovel ready for use Feb. 16 and 17, 1963.

If it snows at all next winter the odds are pretty good that the heaviest fall of the season will come on that weekend, give or take a couple of days.

LAST WEEKEND'S seven-inch fall in Winona was the heaviest of the winter. The same weekend last year the city was buried under 13 inches of wet, heavy snow and, going back even farther, for more than a decade the third weekend in February has produced the heaviest snowfall of the season to that date: Five inches in 1860, four in 1959, etc.

Snow that began to fall about 10 p.m. Saturday continued to sweep across the area most of Sunday before tapering off in intermittent flurries this morning.

Brisk winds caused extensive drifting that plugged some highways Sunday and reduced visibility to near zero by nightfall.

THE MINNESOTA Department of Highways district office in Rochester reported at mid-morning that all primary highways in Southeastern Minnesota were open, although some were made slippery by ice and compacted snow.

Trouble spots were reported on several secondary roads but—barring unforeseen developments—all roads were expected to be open for traffic by this afternoon.

Both state and county highway maintenance crews were called in Sunday evening when drifting snow made continued operations hazardous. State clearance units returned to the highways at about 8 a.m. when the wind and snowfall subsided.

Most difficult were conditions on Highways 76 and 43 in the extreme Southeastern part of the state, especially in the area around Caledonia, Rushford, Spring Grove and Houston.

Downtown Parking Prohibited Tonight

A parking prohibition while snow removal is in progress tonight in the downtown business district was announced this morning by Street Commissioner Arthur Brom.

Brom said that no parking will be permitted from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. in the area from Washington to Franklin on 2nd and 4th streets, Huff to Chestnut on 3rd and all cross streets from Washington to Franklin from 4th Street to the river.

Three more streets will be posted for snow removal this time. They are Main, Center and Lafayette, from 4th to 5th where meters have been installed and are now covered by the snow removal parking ordinance.

Any vehicles left in the snow removal zone in violation of the parking prohibition will be towed away at the owner's expense and tagged for a parking violation.

Nelson Expects Ruling on Bus Measure by Fall

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson said today he expects the attorney general to test constitutionality of a new school bus law in time to settle the issue before another school year starts.

Nelson signed the bill Jan. 26 and immediately asked Atty. Gen. John Reynolds to test its constitutionality before the State Supreme Court. The new act would extend public bus transportation to private and parochial school children, effective July 1.

"If I didn't think we could get a quick test of the bill's constitutionality, I wouldn't have signed it," Nelson told a news conference. Reynolds said last week his office was experiencing difficulty in determining how a high court test case could be started before the law went into effect.

On a more personal subject, Nelson said he had reached no decision on whether to run for reelection or try for a U.S. Senate seat in the fall election.

But the Democratic chief executive would give no inkling of a decision or say when it would be announced.

Louisiana Act On Schools Held Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today rejected another of the numerous acts of the Louisiana Legislature designed to aid in the state's fight against racial integration of its schools.

In a brief and unanimous order, the high court affirmed a lower court decision that the state act conflicted with the Constitution.

The action was the seventh since Dec. 12, 1960 in which the Supreme Court ruled against Louisiana moves to block integration.

The act struck down by the special court, known as Act 2, was passed in February, 1961 by the second extraordinary session of the legislature. The special court said "the sub-surface purpose of Act 2 is to provide a means by which public schools under desegregation orders may be changed to 'private' schools operated in the same ways as the public schools."

"It is a transparent artifice," the special court said, "designed to deny Negroes their declared constitutional right to attend desegregated public schools."

PLAINVIEW DIMES $493
PLAINVIEW, Minn. — Receipts of March of Dimes projects in Plainview village total $493.25, according to Mrs. Nick Schriver. Envelope collections were $338.25, a basketball game netted $109, and the balance was from organizations and containers. Assisting the chairman were Ray Timm and Mmes. Frank Mracek, Harold Olverson, George A. Holter, Ralph Stolz and Donovan Timm. Organizations wishing to contribute may send their gift to Walter Kulawski, county campaign chairman.

Arcadia Co-op Names Three New Officers

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Three new directors, all of whom were later named officers, were elected Saturday at the annual meeting of A-G Cooperative, Arcadia.

About 800 attended the meeting in the local High School.

The new directors are Bensil Haines and Wilfred Breska, Arcadia, and Norbert Lescher, Fountain City.

Haines was named president to succeed Gerhart Nelesten, Arcadia; Breska, treasurer, to replace John Newcomb, Arcadia, and Lescher, director, to succeed Henry Ernst, Fountain City.

One Dead in Weekend Fires In Minnesota

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fires in Minnesota this weekend claimed one life and destroyed a manufacturing plant, a grain elevator, a poultry building and three rural dwellings.

Twenty-five persons were made homeless by two house fires in the Fergus Falls area Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Lorzel and their 14 children fled safely when flames broke out in their home, about 17 miles northeast of Fergus Falls.

Also destroyed Sunday was the Harvick Olen home, 10 miles north of Fergus Falls. Olen, his wife and seven children were away from home when the flames broke out.

Fire leveled the 25,000-bushels capacity Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association's elevator at Hampton Sunday. Destroyed along with the elevator were the firm's office and about 13,000 bushels of grain. Manager Paul Tix estimated loss would exceed $50,000.

One wing of the L-shaped poultry building at Hilltop experimental farm in West Anoka was destroyed Sunday. Loss was estimated at $7,000.

Jacob Hermanson, 79, retired bachelor farmer, died in flames that destroyed his two-room home west of Alexandria Saturday.

Loss was set at upward of $200,000 in a spectacular blaze that destroyed the Brooks Upholstering Co. plant in northeast Minneapolis late Saturday.

Cars Damaged at Minnesota City

A woman backing out of her driveway and a passing motorist collided Sunday at 9:50 a.m. on the old Winona road a quarter mile east of Minnesota City.

Mrs. James O. Winkelman, Minnesota City, R. 1, was backing from her driveway as Miss Charlotte McElmury, 19, Minnesota City, R. 1, was going west on the old Winona road.

Miss McElmury told Deputy Hermer Weimann she thought Mrs. Winkelman was not going to stop, so she braked herself. Because of the slippery road conditions, her car skidded. It crossed the road to the left and hit the left rear of the Winkelman car.

There was $50 damage to the grille of the McElmury car and $25 damage to the left rear fender of the Winkelman car.

Mrs. Winkelman was arrested on a charge of failing to change the address on her driver's license. Her former residence was 4230 7th St., Goodview. She was scheduled to appear before Goodview Justice Lewis Albert at 4:45 p.m. today.

THE LONG range forecast calls for temperatures 10 to 15 degrees below normal through Saturday and precipitation ranging from .2 to .5 of an inch in snow about midweek. Normal temperature high in this part of the state is 31, normal low, 12 above.

Hights recorded here over the weekend were 30 on Saturday and 25 Sunday; a low of 17 was reached Sunday and this morning's low was 17.

CONTEST AT OSSEO
OSSEO, Wis. — Approximately 40 Osseo High School students will compete in a forensics contest at the school Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The league contest will be at Independence March 5 and the district event at Eau Claire March 24.

CORRECTION
Vernon Boltz, 5½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon P. Boltz Sr., 1510 W. Howard St., was incorrectly reported in Sunday's paper as having been discharged from Winona General Hospital. He received a fractured right leg below the knee when he was hit by a car Friday morning and is expected to be in traction at the hospital for six to eight weeks. Mrs. Boltz said.

PLAINVIEW TEACHER
PLAINVIEW, Minn. — A new social studies teacher has been engaged to teach the balance of this school year succeeding Stanley Paterson, resigned. John Kunz, Fargo, N. D., began teaching last Monday. He's formerly from the Enderly, N. D., school system. A substitute has been engaged to teach the junior high mathematics classes for S. L. Johnson, who is at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester.

WASHINGTON FLAG . . . Lt. Col. Joseph Emanuel, left, commanding officer of the 419th Civil Affairs Company, USAR, accepts a new flag from Rep. Albert H. Quie, at the units multiple drill Sunday. Rep. Quie, accompanied by his father, drove from Northfield to make the presentation.

He had dinner with the unit and spoke on his recent trip to the Soviet Union. The flag presented by Rep. Quie has been flown over the Capitol at Washington, D. C., and will be flown at the Reserve center here. (Daily News Photo)

Personal Property Tax Deadline Near

The office of Mrs. Teresa M. Curbow, Winona County treasurer, will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. through the noon hour from this Wednesday through the following Wednesday, Feb. 28, for the convenience of taxpayers.

Feb. 28 is the deadline for paying personal property taxes without an 8 percent penalty. The special hours include Saturday. The office will be closed Thursday for Washington's Birthday.

If your personal property tax exceeds $10, you can pay the first half by Feb. 28 and the second half by June 30 without penalty. If you fail to pay the first half by Feb. 28, you must pay the full amount with penalty.

Woman Injured In 2-Car Crash

A Winona woman involved in a two-car collision on slippery streets Sunday morning was still hospitalized this noon with back and rib pains.

Mrs. John Wheeler, 56, 132 E. King St., was listed in good condition today at Winona General Hospital. Results of X-ray examination were not determined.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband. Their car collided with one driven by Conrad Schewe, 315 Wilsie St. Sunday at 10:19 a.m. at King and Lafayette streets.

Snowy, slippery streets were blamed in part for the accident, police said. Wheeler was driving west on King and Schewe was going south on Lafayette.

The front and right side of the Wheeler car had $300 damage, the front and left side of the Schewe car, $400 damage.

No citations were issued.

Plainview Council Orders Revaluation Of Village Property

PLAINVIEW, Minn. — The Village Council has authorized the village assessor to remeasure and revalue property here.

William Fisk, village assessor, was authorized to retain such help as he considers necessary. He and Herbert Schwantz, county assessor, appeared before council last Monday.

Leonard Nelson, engineer, reported on progress of the street improvement program: Installing storm sewers where needed and cutting 125 trees for street widening. Bids for the balance of the program, costing about $670,000 probably will be opened in March.

Jerome Eckstein and Wallace Richardson again will be in charge of the summer recreation program.

TOGETHERNESS . . . Three-year-old Joseph Goodrich Jr., decked out in neat, but scanty pajamas, and his fur-coated buddy caused Boston Patrolman John Kefeyan to do a double take as they strolled down the street during the wee hours of the morning with the temperature a chilly 20 degrees. After a brief attempt at conversation, the three wound up at a nearby police station where young Joe and his canine pal shared a breakfast of warm milk, doughnuts, and lollipops. The young lad played with the police for about two hours until Joe Sr. arrived to report the boy missing — actually junior wasn't missing anything. (AP Photofax)

Bank Debits Here Show 14% Increase

Winona bank debits were $29,424,000 in January — a 14 percent increase over the $25,776,000 total for January 1961, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis reported.

There were 26 business days in January this year compared with 25 last year. Statewide, debits were up 15 percent in Minnesota and 14 percent in Wisconsin. Debits for area cities follow:

Road Revenues $477,000 for Pepin County

DURAND, Wis. (Special)—Revenues of the Pepin County highway department during 1961, including funds due from the state, accounts receivable and cash, totaled $477,112. Commissioner Elwood Myers reported to the County Board of Commissioners last week.

Expenditures were $442,067, leaving $35,045 available Dec. 31.

General property taxes yielded $106,715 of the highway revenue last year, and state aids to county trunks and federal aid system highways totaled $78,502 of which the regular county trunk allotment was $22,369.

AMONG OTHER revenues were $29,736 from crushed rock sold from quarries, $78,995 for sale of material and supplies and book-keeping revenues such as $142,572 in machinery revenue.

Among expenditures were $11,286 for administration; $31,302 for operation of quarries; $79,179 for operation of equipment; $2,834 for construction of salt storage sheds; materials and supplies, $77,577, and $56,535 for machinery, which involved $19,205 in trade-ins.

Expenditures for county trunk road work included: $88,044, maintenance; $18,400, winter maintenance; $39,719, road construction, and $19,596, bridge construction.

Sundry accounts receivable at the end of the year amounted to $24,190.

The highway department purchased land for $200 and constructed a salt building for $2,834 last year. Both expenditures were in Pepin.

AMONG administration expenditures were $5,100 as the highway Commissioner's salary; $3,900 highway clerk, and $1,019, committee per diem.

County aid construction was spent in the towns of Albany, Frankfort and Lima and the city of Durand.

Chatfield Rotarians Hear India Report

CHATFIELD, Minn. — Guest speaker at a meeting of Chatfield Rotarians at which they entertained and the American Association of Education at Chicago last week.

Edward R. Morrow, director of the U. S. Information Agency, addressed a joint session of the NABTE and the American Association of Education at Chicago last week.

Mrs. Gray talked on her recent trip to India, the object of which was to establish an "associate" city for Rochester. A section of New Delhi has been established as the associate city. Greater friendships and understanding is the goal of the "people to people" relationship fostered by the project.

Mrs. Gray was introduced by George Haven, who was on the program committee with Elmore Olson and Harold Matten. Arrangements were in charge of Mmes. Clarence Perkins, Elmore Olson and Harold Matten.

Deposits Forfeited In Municipal Court

James L. Wiczek, 41, 471 Winona St., forfeited $30 this morning in municipal court on a charge of careless driving.

Wiczek was arrested by police today at 12:30 a.m. at Wabasha and Winona streets.

Chester A. Mathison, 635 45th Ave., Goodview, forfeited a $30 deposit on a charge of using a license issued to another vehicle. He was arrested by police Saturday.

Nodine Fire Meeting

NODINE, Minn. — The Nodine volunteer fire department will have its annual meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. An oyster supper will be served by Mmes. Roy Schroeder, Francis Drake and Howard Bartz.

Unclaimed Tax Refund Checks Total $54,458

The U. S. Internal Revenue Service has over $54,000 in undelivered refund checks awaiting taxpayers who file their returns in the St. Paul District.

Last year the St. Paul District refunded $29,901,937 to the 63,949 taxpayers in Minnesota. Due to errors in addresses, unclear writing and failure to report new addresses, the St. Paul District office has on hand 817 checks, totaling $54,458. These checks range from $4,445 to 96 cents. The average amount of these checks is $66.65. According to George O. Lethert, District Director, the service has tried to find these taxpayers but to date efforts have proved fruitless.

Again this year the taxpayers are being cautioned to write clearly, be sure name and address are entered correctly, and in cases where refunds are due, be sure to notify the Internal Revenue Service office when they move.

Following are area taxpayers whose refund checks have not been delivered:

Winona—John and Peggy Blank, 161 Mankato Ave.; H. C. and S. E. Gerhardtson, 1656 W. Service Dr.; A. K. and A. J. Laiky, Winona R. 3, and Charles Vellon, address not given.

Albion—Walter Benek, Rr. 1, Lewisville—Lawrence Daley, Spring Grove—T. A. Filander, and O. and M. Omdot, Rt. 2, Lake City—C. L. and M. L. Francis, Rt. 2, Henry W. Sprinkle, Rt. 3, and J. A. and A. B. Watson, 607 N. Lakeshore Dr., Wabasha—Glynn J. Freese, Caledonia—Sylvan J. Hauser, 214 W. Grove St.

Whalan—Johnnie E. Johnson, Fountain—John W. Palmer, Witoka—Vern and Helen Papenfuss, St. Charles—James S. Rolles, Houston—R. C. P. L. Schmaltz, Chatfield—Mary M. Taylor, Rt. 1, and Alice Zinke, South Main Street.

274 Teachers in 3-County Setup

DURAND, Wis. (Special)—A total of 167 elementary and 107 high school teachers are under his supervision in Pepin, Dunn and St. Croix counties, according to the report for 1961 submitted to the Pepin County Board last week by J. Newell Weiss, Menomonie, superintendent.

The total teaching force includes four supervisors and special teachers with individual systems. The other schools have their own supervisory systems.

In the three counties there are 1,037 children in one-room and state graded schools; 3,123 elementary children and 1,553 high school children under supervision of Weiss and his two supervising teachers.

Salary and expenses of the supervisors are paid entirely by the state. Weiss receives $9,500, of which $1,800 is anticipated from the state.

Of total cost of $19,341 for the county superintendent's office, 37.8 percent or $7,310 is paid by Dunn County; 12.4 percent or $2,398, by Pepin County; and 49.8 percent or $9,631, by St. Croix.

Pepin County schools under supervision of this system are the 109 students at Arkansas Union Free High School and the 238 elementary and 144 students in Pepin school.

The three counties joined under one superintendent last year. Weiss was elected 3-county superintendent last April.

Girls Sell Candy for March of Dimes Fund

Five teenage girls grossed $74.90 in a downtown candy sale Saturday for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

The project was arranged by Vince Paul.

Selling were Diane Dopp, Dorothy Deye and Helen Tulare of Winona Senior High School and Sally Wiczek and Polly Borzyskowsky of Catter High School.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If your symptoms indicate that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this novel trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are 18 scalp disorders that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. If you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them information to help them analyze your problem. This information should include how long your hair has been thinning, and whether or not you now have or ever had any of the following conditions: Do you have dandruff? Is it dry or oily? Whether your scalp erupts in pimples or other irritations, does your forehead become oily or greasy? Does your scalp itch and how often? Even if you have no information you feel might be helpful. All letters will be answered promptly. Send the above information, and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Box 66001, Houston 6, Texas.

It Happened Last Night She Bought Ring For Three Months

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Beautiful Capucine, the French movie star and model, now very big in Hollywood, has been wearing a wedding ring around N. Y. — and you know what that means — OH, NO, YOU DON'T.

It means somebody's been married? Oh, don't be so squarish! When I saw this ring on Capucine, I almost wired her longtime Hollywood beau, Charlie Feldman, for the when and where, but she spoke up:

"I'm not married and never have been married."

That cleared it right up, of course! Speaking of clearing things up, I didn't even know what you call her: Miss Capucine, Mlle. Capucine, Mme. Capucine, just plain Capucine, Cap — or maybe Miss Cap.

"You see, in Africa, in this picture with Bill Holden, I was supposed to be a wife," Miss Cap said.

"So I went shopping. In a Nairobi jewelry store. The jeweler showed me some very thin rings. He didn't know who or what I was. I said, 'I'll be fine. I only plan to wear it 3 months.'"

"HE SAID, 'You only plan to be married 3 months.' He gave me a look of such shock till I explained."

But the strange thing is that Miss Cap still wears said ring long after said picture. She's here exploiting a movie about old New Orleans, "Walk on the Wild Side," in which she's very, very naughty.

"Does the wedding ring stop men from making advances?" I asked.

"A wedding ring does not stop a man from doing anything—that includes the wedding ring he's wearing," she said. Goodness, she's so CYNICAL!

Toots Shor phoned his dtr. Kerri on the rainy night of the Kerri-Daughter dance at school, hoping, like all fathers do, there'd be an escape. "It's raining and I thought it might be called off," he said. "DADDY," exclaimed his daughter, "this is a DANCE, not a BALL GAME!"

THE PULITZER Prize show favorites: "Iguana," "Success," "Gideon" and "Purle Victories." Max Asinas is going to Texas to write a book titled "How to Be Rich Without Money." We asked him, "Where in Texas?" and he said, "Someplace called Oklahoma."

Burt Lancaster's 7-year-old daughter Sighe will perform in his picture, "The Child Is Waiting." Susan Robinson, 19-year-old singing waitress at the Strollers, whispers she's secretly engaged to English stage star Denholm Elliott of "Write Me a Murder."

Silly from Chester Otto, Principal Lincoln Clerk, Columbus, O.: "If a bee would sting you on top of a mosquito bite, what would you have? You would Sling Along With Itch."

Dave Barry at the Latin Quarter mentions the Income Tax Twist: You wriggle and wriggle and twist and twist—but pay anyway.

The American Society of Girl Watchers added an oath of membership: "I will not let work in."

Peace Between Feuding Union Groups Sticks

By NORMAN WALKER

Associated Press Labor Writer

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders opening their winter meeting said today the two-month-old armistice between feuding union groups appears to be holding up well.

Rival wings of the 12.5-million member union federation, representing the building trades and industrial union departments, reached a peace pact at a convention here in December.

Union leaders attending the AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting said the comparative harmony has led to agreement to push joint legislative drives in Congress for measures on which there had been differing enthusiasm before.

Industrial unions reportedly have agreed to back the building trades in supporting amendments to the Davis-Bacon Act to include fringe benefits, such as pensions and welfare funds, along with pay rates in calculating prevailing wages on federal construction projects.

The government requires contractors working on such projects to meet the prevailing wages for the particular areas as determined by the government. Inclusion of fringe benefits would raise the prevailing wage determination and thus make it more certain nonunion contractors must match union-type labor costs.

The industrial unions also have agreed to help push another building trades goal, tightening overtime pay requirements on federal aid construction projects. Here again the aim primarily is to stiffen overtime pay obligations of nonunion contractors.

The industrial and building trades unions are nearing agreement on still another legislative proposal. This seeks to legalize picketing at construction projects and factor gates where such picketing is now prohibited by the ban on secondary boycotts.

Russ Take Over
Luxury Apartment
House in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union has taken over a luxury apartment house on the East Side for its new United Nations mission headquarters, it was disclosed Sunday.

The Russians had been negotiating for the East 67th Street building for some time, but the deal was delayed for settlement of claims by prospective tenants of the building, originally built as a cooperative apartment house.

Papers filed with the attorney general's office showed the Russians paid $3,550,000 for the building.

The Republican National Committee interpreted this as "another startling example of the Kennedy administration's obsession with catering to 'neutralist' opinion."

Texans of both parties howled protests. Some amused Democrats in Congress said that for Kennedy to take on Texas was like taking on the U.S. Marines; you couldn't win. But they didn't regard the matter as more than an incident.

While they can only guess about such developments, the Republicans have shown that they are assuming the line by saying the attorney general says for some major bon-bon that goes beyond the attorney general's statement in Jakarta that the 1946-48 war with Mexico was unjustified and not a very bright

The Casual Observer

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

YESTERDAY I had a visit with Charles D. Stephens (who had the Sugar Loaf monument erected to him) and got from him a few details about the big AFS benefit show the Senior High youngsters are putting on at the High School auditorium on Saturday night, March 10. It seems that the High School students next year they're putting on a big minstrel show on March 10. They are working up the acts by themselves in small groups and are being helped by Mr. Stephens and advised by Norman Indall.

Here are some of the features that will appear on the program:

INTERLOCUTOR — Jack Nelson.
End Men — John Van Winkle, George Tweedy, Berge Lang, Gary Blumentritt, Robert Althoff, Nick Steffen, Cliff Warnken, Don Schoening.

Specialty Acts — Dorothy Deye, Linda Johnson, Mary Kane.
Tap Dance — Jack and Jill Shuminski.
Nickelodeons — Tony Schima, Ron Schmidt, David Schultz, Gene Bauer, Bob Mowatt, Mike Jacobsen, Vinton Geistfeld, Bill Forrester.

Soft Shoe — Pat Rian and Margaret Shaw.
Organ — Steve Edstrom and David Heyer.
Dance Chorus — Judy Fugelstad, Nancy Mangen, Sandra Boyum, Dawn Hoveland, Dorothy Lano, Liz Rogers, Barbara Sawyer, Judy Ronnenberg, Sandra Homola, Roxanne Sweazey.

Dixieland Band — Tom Edstrom, James Poljack, Steve Edstrom, Dave Heyer, Dick Rydman, John Edstrom.
Pantomime — Jenny Sheets and Nancy Schultz.

A 30-piece male chorus is also being organized.
On the student committee are Cliff Warnken, chairman, Jack Nelson, Roger Slover, Berge Lang, Tom Edstrom and David Nelson.

The whole show promises to be lively, refreshing and full of gay young talent. The two-hour show is sponsored by the Student Council. If 800 tickets are sold for the Saturday night performance then a special matinee will be put on Friday afternoon, March 9, for Junior and Senior High students. So be sure to keep Saturday night, March 10, open for the big high school talent show "Minstrel Memories."

An event of statewide interest recently was the retirement of the well-known Twin Cities newspaper woman Amy Birdsall at the end of 48 years of service with the St. Paul newspaper. What makes it of special interest to us is that Mrs. E. W. Seldon, the former Geraldine Leveille of Winona, was chosen to give the main speech or narrative on the life and career of Mrs. Birdsall, the popular retiring editor, at the banquet honoring her.

By interviewing many people, Mrs. Seldon gathered together an interesting potpourri of incidents about Amy Birdsall.

Particularly moving and quotable was the tribute from the Ursulan Nuns of Villa Maria Academy: "Because the only tangible measurement we have are words and because words are the medium which bespeak the genius of the brilliant journalist, she will understand the depth of our sincerity when we pray 'May the Divine Word multiply with a million blessings all the words she has written during the 40 years of service to Him and for His people.' ... Known by thousands, loved by more, may she have sweet days in store."

Mrs. Seldon came down from St. Paul last spring to narrate Winona's very successful benefit Show held at the Country Club.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

The population explosion is creating this paradox: As a nation we're growing both older and younger. By 1970, if the high birth rate and low death rate continue, half our people will be under 20 or over 65.

Liz Taylor Hospitalized; Food Poisoning

By BENNET BOLTON

ROME (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor was reported making a rapid recovery today after being rushed to the hospital with a mysterious ailment that turned out to be food poisoning.

Doctors said the frail 29-year-old beauty, star of the movie spectacle Cleopatra now being filmed in Rome, should be able to leave the hospital by Tuesday.

Attendants at Salvador Mundi International Hospital said Miss Taylor slept peacefully Sunday night after an hour's visit by her husband Eddie Fisher and a busy round of telephone calls to friends.

"She slept well and had breakfast this morning," an attendant at Salvador Mundi Hospital said.

The actress' husband, Eddie Fisher, spent an hour at his wife's bedside Sunday night.

Fisher interrupted a singing engagement in Lisbon, Portugal, to hurry to his wife's bedside. He arrived in Rome early Sunday afternoon but complied with the doctor's wish that his wife not be disturbed and did not go to the hospital until evening.

Miss Taylor was sped by ambulance to the hospital Saturday night from her luxurious villa.

A family spokesman and officials of 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. in Rome denied at first that the actress was sick. This only led to a flood of speculation that she was gravely ill for there was an emergency call for an ambulance to her home here.

Miss Taylor's personal physician said later she was stricken with food poisoning, apparently from eating tainted oysters.

Walter Wanger, 67, producer of Cleopatra, who had been a dinner guest at the Taylor-Fisher villa Saturday, was also taken ill. He was able to treat himself at his Rome hotel suite.

Miss Taylor, still somewhat weakened from an almost fatal pneumonia in London last year and under heavy filming pressures here, fainted from a more severe attack and was hospitalized.

Lanesboro Speech
Winners Named;

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special)—Winners in the Lanesboro High School speech contest Wednesday night were:

Barbara Egge and David Bornflo, original oratory; Katharine Bell and Linda Kuehnast, extemporaneous reading; Linda Shanahan, extemporaneous speaking; Gary Haugen and Mario Holtan, humorous interpretation; Pam Kocher and Sherry Zeller, story telling; Katharine Johnson and Margaret Kocher, serious interpretation; and Donna Thompson, Kenneth Olson and Peter Rein, non-original oratory.

The sub-district contest will be held at Houston Wednesday. Participants in the discussion on Minnesota taxes will be Elaine Vignes and Linda Thompson. In the one-act play, "The Flattering Word," are David Ask, Margaret Kocher, Diane Haugen, Verne Halderson and Ted Redalen. Sydney Roppe is director.

Syria Opposes

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A Foreign Ministry spokesman said Sunday Syria is prepared to "go to the farthest end" to bar Israel from diverting water from the Jordan River.

The spokesman said Syria has called other members of the Arab League to confer on "joint measures to prevent Israel from realizing this dangerous project."

Syrian Premier Marouf Dawlady recently charged that Israel was massing troops along the border for a showdown on the issue.

DEAR ABBY:
An Old Angle
To New Twist

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband refuses to twist with me. He says if I want to make a fool of myself in public, he isn't going to help me. I have seen many women older and fatter than myself twisting in public and I admit it looks terrible, but I am only 42 and have a nice figure. Please say something in your column to convince my husband that the Twist is just another modern dance and he should learn it as he learned the rumba and cha cha.

LOVES TO TWIST
DEAR LOVES: If your husband is over 45 and overweight, maybe his insurance policy doesn't cover the Twist. His thinking is straight. Don't try to twist it.

DEAR ABBY: The lady next door is pulling some funny business on her husband and I am quite certain a man is involved. She gets all dolled up and pulls out of her driveway a little before noon. And she doesn't get home until 6 p.m. She tells her husband she has been to a "PTA meeting." She does this three and four times a week, and he is so dumb he believes her. Don't you think somebody should tell her husband?

WIDE AWAKE NEIGHBOR
DEAR WIDE AWAKE: Perhaps your neighbor's definition of PTA is "Pretty Terrific Afternoon." Don't tell anybody. You could be mistaken.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I decided to quit smoking several weeks ago. I have always said that if you make up your mind, that's all there is to it. Within a week we were both smoking again. I had no idea of the mental and physical discomfort involved. I thought some of your readers who have licked the problem might have some helpful suggestions. HEAVY SMOKER

BUSINESS MIRROR
Bad Weather Puts
Chill on Early '62

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Weather rather than tired blood may have put the chill on the economy reported in the first seven weeks of 1962.

With the first half of the first quarter of the year behind us, the performance so far of some key sectors of industry admittedly hasn't been as inspiring as many had hoped. January figures on industrial production, retail sales, personal income, housing starts, shipments by durable goods makers, employment and work weeks slipped below the December levels.

But most of the experts are warning against jumping to conclusions from the slight dips in the statistics.

They could give way to a renewal of the upward push that made 1962 prospects look so bright—while we were still back in 1961. And the majority of the guesses is that they will.

Blaming the weather for a less glowing result than expected is an old American custom. But this time the weather has been so bad, and in many important places—the industrial sectors of the Northeast, Midwest and Pacific Coast—that it's hard even for the pessimists to read any conclusive proof of an economic setback into the official statistics.

Thailand, U.S. In Accord on Efforts in Laos

By TONY ESCODA

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Thailand and the United States are "in accord" on efforts to settle the Laos crisis peacefully, U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today.

Kennedy, here on a whirlwind 22½ hour visit during his world tour, spent more than an hour in private conversation with Thai Prime Minister Marshal Sarit Thanarat, with Laos as one of their major topics.

In brief comments to newsmen after the meeting in Sarit's office, Kennedy said, "We are hoping—Thailand and the United States—that the matter can be resolved in Laos in a satisfactory manner. We are both in accord on efforts being made" (to reach a settlement).

He declined, however, to be pinned down on whether his reference to efforts meant a U.S.-supported move to form a coalition government for Laos under neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

Thailand is opposed to such a government, fearful that the pro-Communist Pathet Lao led by Souvanna's half brother, Prince Souphanouvong, would eventually gain control of the neighboring Southeast Asia kingdom bringing a threat to Thai security. U.S. aid to Thailand—which has

NEW YORK (AP)—Italy's Blue team edged out a North American team 331 to 305 Sunday night to win the world bridge championship for the fifth consecutive time.

Italy began its romp in 1957 with the team's revolutionary bidding styles and accurate play. There was no tournament in 1960. The 26-point margin by which the Italians took the 1962 title was their narrowest.

The North American team, composed of five Americans and a Canadian, made a valiant effort to overcome the Italian lead in the final 20 deals, outscoring Italy 44-32, but it wasn't enough.

A Report to Our Customers

These facts are important to Every Person Who uses Electricity

NSP is making this report to our customers because they deserve to know the facts about a remarkable plan that is little-known, but is vitally important to them and to all other taxpayers.

The plan—a culmination of studies that have been carried on since 1957—is remarkable because it will accomplish 7 major benefits:

- 1 It will save the government millions of dollars.
- 2 It guarantees plenty of electricity to the REA co-operatives, municipalities and other government "preference" customers served from Uncle Sam's Missouri River dams in North and South Dakota.
- 3 The plan helps prevent waste of electricity generated at these dams, and will permit full use of Missouri River water for navigation.
- 4 It will add to government revenue from its electric sales
- 5 The plan doesn't cost NSP customers—nor its shareholder-owners—one penny.
- 6 In fact, it will contribute to greater efficiency than ever in the year-round operation of the electric generating plants operated by NSP and 13 other power suppliers.
- 7 It will help the 14 suppliers, working together, to give their own customers the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

Here is what the plan is all about...

NSP IS ONE OF 14 power suppliers in this area which have made a joint offer to the U. S. Department of the Interior to increase by 50% the electricity which the government can guarantee to deliver from its water power plants on the Missouri River.

THE GOVERNMENT'S "PREFERENCE" customers—chiefly REA's and municipalities—already need more electricity than the government can guarantee from its Missouri dams. (Such a guarantee, known as "firm" power, means electricity that can be provided without fail, summer or winter, no matter what the water level.)

THE OFFER by the 14 power suppliers will relieve the federal government of the necessity of building steam-operated generating plants to provide the extra electricity needed to "firm up" its year-round supply from water power.

WITH LONG EXPERIENCE in balancing power supplies from both steam-operated generating plants and those operated by water power, the 14 power suppliers have proposed a plan to "swap" electricity with the government.

THEY OFFER TO PROVIDE the necessary electricity to make it possible for the government to sell an additional 650,000 kilowatts of "firm" power to the "preference" customers. Such a need usually will be greatest during the winter, when water power is at low ebb. Later, when high water creates a huge surplus of electricity beyond the needs of government customers, Uncle Sam would swap back some of its surplus.

THE 14 POWER SUPPLIERS can therefore provide the required electricity to the government without anyone spending 1 penny for extra plants or transmission lines.

THEIR TOTAL CAPACITY is 5½ million KW (soon to be 8 million KW) from a total of 260 electric generating plants, most of which are steam-operated.

AS YOU CAN SEE, 650,000 KW is only a small fraction of the generating capacity of these 14 suppliers—yet it is about equivalent to the total electric demand of every electric customer in North and South Dakota.

ELECTRICITY supplied by them can be transmitted to the government's customers at times of day when the demand for electricity on their own systems is not at its peak. This enables a more efficient operation, by smoothing out the peaks and valleys in the amount of electricity they must generate around the clock.

It should be pointed out that the offer made by the 14 power suppliers is in keeping with the spirit of the statement made last fall by Stewart Udall, Secretary of the Interior, at ground-breaking ceremonies for Yellowstone Dam in Montana when he said:

"The public and private utilities with their combined thermal and hydro capacity can so work together that all the power capacity in the area can be made more valuable and economical."

This statement spurred renewed efforts to complete a plan that would benefit all concerned.

When the 14-company proposal was presented to Secretary Udall in Washington on January 29, he described the offer as a "challenging proposal worthy of careful consideration."

THESE ARE THE 14 POWER SUPPLIERS WHICH HAVE OFFERED TO "FIRM UP" THE ELECTRIC SUPPLY FROM MISSOURI RIVER DAMS:

Black Hills Power and Light Company, Dairyland Power Cooperative, Interstate Power Company, Iowa Electric Light and Power Company, Iowa-Illinois Gas & Electric Company, Iowa Power and Light Company, Iowa Public Service Company, Iowa Southern Utilities Company, Minnesota Power & Light Company, Montana-Dakota Utilities Company, Northern States Power Company, Northwestern Public Service Company, Omaha Public Power District, and Otter Tail Power Company.

The 14 power suppliers can transmit electricity from one place to another with great ease because they are all inter-connected with each other's transmission lines. They also are connected to the government's power lines at 42 different places, because for years they have permitted the government to transmit electricity to many of its "preference" customers over their lines.

This, of course, also saves the government a great deal of money because it avoids costly and wasteful duplication of power lines.

We feel that as a user of electricity, you will appreciate knowing details of the 14-company proposal and its 7 major benefits—benefits to the government, to the government's preference customers, to the 14 power suppliers, and to the public in general.

Time for City to Again Take 'Blood Test'

IT'S TIME for Winona to take a "blood test" again.

The test will be of its willingness to continue being a good neighbor through giving blood in the life-saving visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile Feb. 26 to March 2.

The blood collected here will literally save lives somewhere in the Red Cross 76 county blood region and our own citizens will be assured of a continuing supply of blood if they need it.

TO KEEP AHEAD of the blood used in the county and to stay on the credit side in the Red Cross blood program, there must be a sustained effort to replace blood used in the period prior to the bloodmobile visit.

Those whose relatives have used blood in a participating hospital have the first obligation to replace it. For the Red Cross blood program has for them saved or prolonged the life of a loved one.

The rest of us who want to be sure there will be blood available for us and our families, cannot afford to miss the opportunity to help keep this "blood insurance" from expiring through lack of interest.

EVERY ABLE-BODIED citizen should help keep this great "blanket coverage" Red Cross policy in force. Let's all give blood.

Austin Residents Should Visit Winona

THERE ARE two ways of looking at buildings. One is in the light of whether they are attractive, functional and in keeping with the times. The other is whether the building has attained a sufficiently ripe age to classify it in the historical dimensions of an antique.

Over at Winona, the local historical society called in an expert on historical matters to view some of the town's old buildings. The building housing the Hurry Back Billiard Parlors was, in his opinion, the most "charming" in the downtown business district.

The Winona Daily News dissented editorially in these words:

"In our opinion, it is one of the shabbiest—and certainly needs a face lifting or modernization if we expect our downtown area to be attractive to shoppers. The entire block is shabby, for that matter, and most of the structures are soot-stained to the point where they have a filthy appearance."

THIS CLASH between progress and the preservation of old buildings which people consider sacred to the memory of the past, often occurs in modernization programs. But we often wonder whether oldtimers, if they could return from the grave, would look at the old structures and be thrilled, or whether they would instead say: "How did they ever let that old thing stand?"

Obviously, if a building in a business area is of sufficient historical value for preservation, the best thing is to move it out of the business area to a different atmosphere. For if it stands among modern buildings, it is as out of place and unappreciated as would be the situation if you furnished an ultra modern room with antiques.

MAYBE WINONA would be interested in what is being done at the Mower County fairgrounds which has acquired a school, a church, farm house and railroad steam engine, all of the early days, and which are in a setting that gives them a historical link with the past—Austin, Minn., Herald.

(Editor's Note: For the information of Jay Dume, author of the Paul Parrot column in the Austin Herald, the Winona County Historical Society has for years operated the Little Red Schoolhouse at the county fairgrounds in St. Charles. In addition the society owns the Hummel House at Homer. The home is more than 100 years old and had been the residence of the pioneer Willard Hummel family. The society also operates a museum featuring lumbering at the society's headquarters as well as the Steamer Julius C. Wilkie at Levee Park, an outstanding museum of Upper Mississippi River lore.)

(And we do have historic railroad equipment. A non-profit local organization, Younger Christensen Steam Engine Enterprises, has acquired a 10-wheeler steam engine and a lounge car with the hope of establishing a Winona County museum of early day railroading. Austin residents should visit Winona's excellent historical facilities.)

These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. John 15:11.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

How Reds Set Up 'Cold War'

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

It is necessary to understand the cold war before we can fight it.

We must realize once and for all that our enemy is not a nation but a political movement made up of ideologically possessed people who have organized themselves as an armed force and secured control over entire countries.

The Communists have cadres in every country and use Moscow as their command post. We miss the point if we see our opponents merely as aggressor nations or potential aggressor nations.

A Communist occupying a position of power in the Congo is just as much our enemy as the power clique ruling Soviet Russia or Communist China, because he is an agent of that power clique.

We subvert our own cause when we exert military and monetary pressure on pro-Western leaders to make them submit to coalition arrangements with Communists.

We have made this mistake in Katanga by supporting military action to force Tshombe to join a government which includes the Communist Gizenga.

WE ARE also making this mistake in Laos where pressure is being brought on the anti-Communist Prince Boun Oum to force him into a coalition with the Communist leader and a pro-Communist neutral. This amounts to making book with the enemy, for such coalitions are at the very best merely way stations on the road to Communist domination. Every time we insist on a coalition government with a Communist, a pro-Westerner and a neutral, we automatically set up a two-to-one situation against freedom.

Victory in the cold war demands we recognize that we are in a deadly life-and-death struggle with the worldwide Communist movement as such.

We must know this movement for what it is—a destructive, irrational, totalitarian force which seeks the eradication of freedom in any shape or variety.

OUR OBJECTIVE must be the destruction of the enemy as an ideological force possessing the means of power.

Our purpose must be the worldwide defense of human society against an annihilist force. When the Communists seek to destroy the live tissue of social order, we must seek to destroy the decomposing virus, and our effort calls for a basic commitment in the name of victory which says we will never reconcile ourselves to the Communist possession of power of any kind in any part of the world.

How do you stand, sir?

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

An enterprising New York youngster, with infinite faith in the Lord, wrote Him this note recently. "I would like to give my mother, who takes such good care of me and my four sisters, a nice birthday present but I have no money at all, so won't you please send me $100 right away." He addressed the envelope simply, "For God."

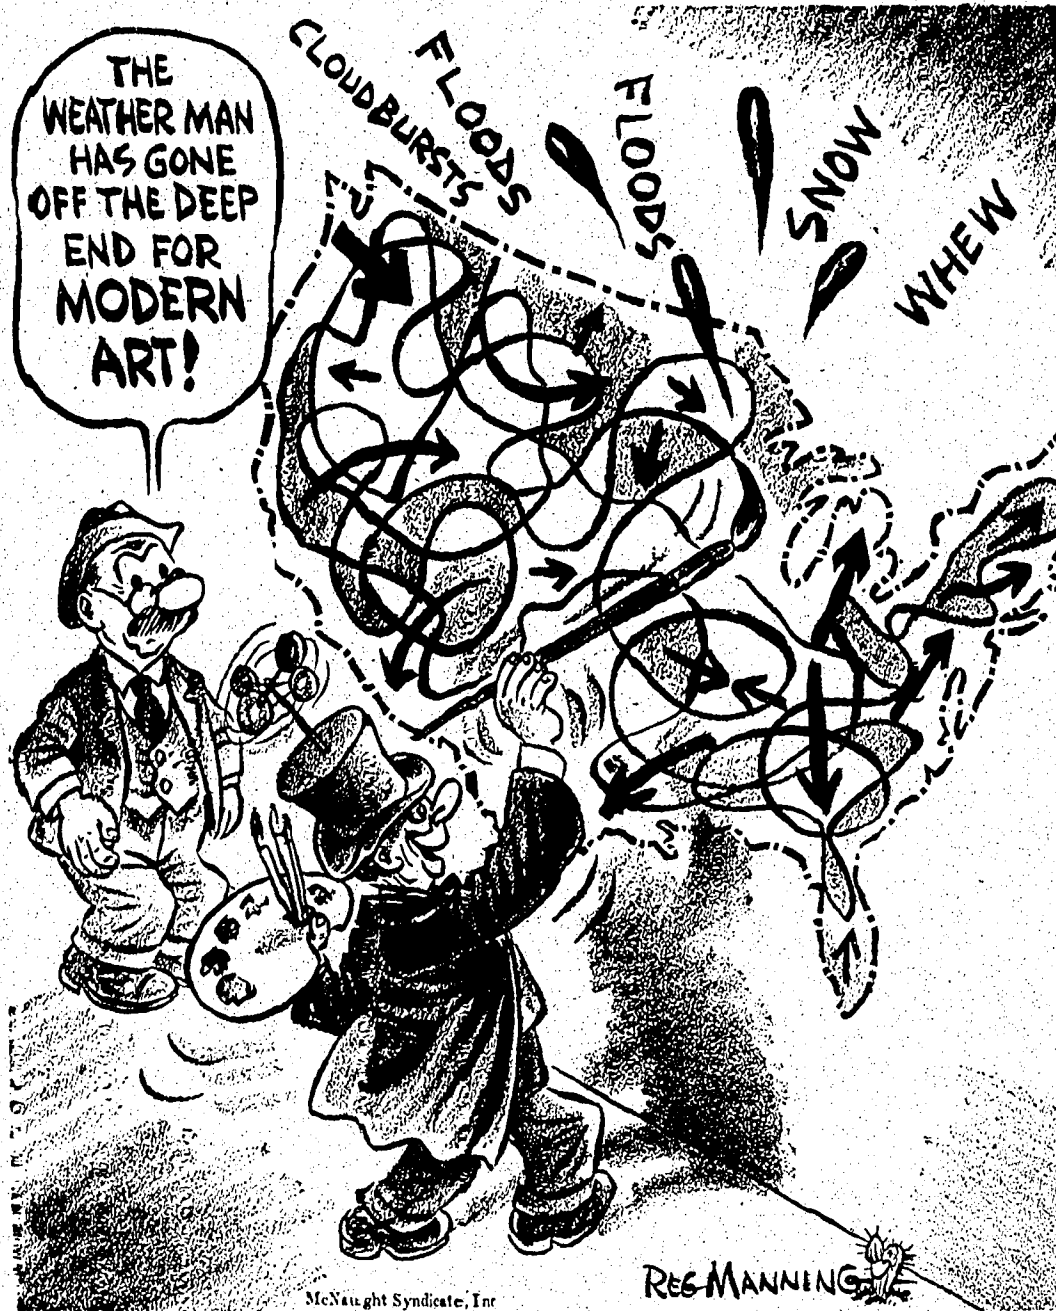

Somebody in the New York Post Office was intrigued by the note and impulsively readdressed it to the White House, where it duly reached the attention of the President. The President promptly sent the youngster a check for five dollars with a cheery greeting clipped thereto.

Three days later the youngster wrote another note addressed to God. "It was wonderful of You," ran this one, "to send me the hundred dollars I asked for. But why did you send it through Washington? As usual those birds down there deducted 95 percent of it!"

"True humor," wrote Thomas Carlyle, "springs more from the heart than from the head. It is not contempt, its essence is love. It issues not in laughter, but in still smiles, which lie far deeper. It is a sort of inverse sublimity, exalting into our affections what is below us, whereas sublimity draws down into our affections what is above us."

Then there was the pig who playfully jumped on top of another pig and announced, "I won't let you up till you say oink!"

Lobbyists Invade Capitol To Protect Pocketbooks

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Nothing brings out the lobbyists on Capitol Hill like tax reforms which might hit the pocketbook interests.

Once President Kennedy showed he was serious about tightening tax loopholes, lobbyists began swarming through the Capitol corridors like tourists at the cherry-blossom time.

The savings and loan people, for instance, called a convention in Washington on the same time their tax privileges came up for review by the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

The delegates were "turned loose on Capitol Hill to bring pressure on their home-state congressmen."

Adopting the same tactics, more than 1,000 restaurateurs marched upon Washington to protest against cutting down expense-account deductions. They cried to their congressmen that this proposal would put the champagne-and-caviar joints out of business.

Pickle-Producer H. J. Heinz organized a task force of 19 big companies to fight a proposed tax on their overseas subsidiaries. They hired public relations expert Anna Rosenberg, who has important Democratic connections, to mastermind their protest.

Other captains of industry, afraid to trust such an important matter to their personal lobbyists, have made personal pilgrimages to Capitol Hill to bring their influence to bear on the tax writers.

In fact, businessmen, bankers, industrialists, oilmen, and spokesmen for other special interests have been pouring into Washington to take up the cudgels against the tax changes.

Actually, President Kennedy wants to give businessmen a tax break in order to stimulate the economy. He has proposed an 8 percent tax credit on new plant machinery, which would encourage modernization to meet European competition.

HE WOULD also like to step up the depreciation rate by basing it upon the economic, rather than physical, life of manufacturing equipment.

These two measures would reduce tax revenue an estimated $2,000,000,000 a year. To make up for the anticipated loss, the President has asked Congress to close certain tax loopholes.

The most gaping is the tax exemption granted to savings and loan associations on 12 percent of their reserves. If they were taxed the same as banks, the treasury figures they should have paid $800,000,000 in taxes last year. Instead, they paid less than $6,000,000.

The 44 savings and loan companies in the Greater Washington area, for example, paid less than $500 in taxes for the year.

To block Congress from increasing their tax load, the savings and loan boys have mounted a lobbying campaign that surpasses all others. They have wired and dined congressmen, organized a nationwide letter-writing campaign.

GLEN TROOP, chief lobbyist for the U. S. Savings and Loan League, has told treasury men bluntly: "We intend to beat your brains out."

The restaurateurs have been almost as active in opposing the proposed 50 percent cut in entertainment expenses that can be written off by businessmen.

They have invited the congressmen, on whom they have been calling, to dine at their luxury eating places—on the house, of course.

Both groups have found a champion in Cong. Eugene Keogh, a power on the Ways and Means Committee, who has made a career out of representing the special interests.

This column discovered he had accepted checks from gas lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark after advocating beneficial legislation for the natural gas interests. Clark claimed the checks were legal fees.

A dapper Democrat who represents a "rough and tumble" Brooklyn district, Keogh actually lives outside his district, in the same swank apartment house in which the President's father, old Joe Kennedy, sometimes resides. But Keogh is more than a neighbor. He has close political ties to the Kennedys.

THE PRESIDENT has sent word to him, however, through White House legislative chief Larry O'Brien to stop representing the special interests and start working for the public interest.

"You've had your fun," O'Brien told him. "Now the President would like you to help him put across his tax reforms."

Meanwhile, almost every company which has an overseas subsidiary has screamed to Congress against the President's plan to tax American companies at home on the profits they make abroad.

By equalizing the tax imbalance, Kennedy hopes to stop American companies from moving their operations overseas and taking jobs away from American workers.

Despite the big business pressure, many congressmen are worried about this threat to employment. Even Senate Finance Chairman Harry Byrd of Virginia, who usually sides with big business, is cautious about opposing the President's plan.

"There is only one thing that terrifies the Congress—unemployment," he declared privately. "Congress will not tolerate unemployment."

EVEN THE PRESIDENT'S proposal to grant tax credits to manufacturers for modernizing their equipment is opposed by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers. However, they are losing the support of corporations they represent. The railroad, coal, textile, electronics, and machine-tool industries have already endorsed the plan in defiance of C of C and NAM.

Walter Heller, the President's chief economic adviser, suggested to aides that the two business groups are so accustomed to opposing Democratic proposals their attack is probably a reflex action. He said he was reminded of the parents who wheeled their baby around Central Park, stopped at a bench to read the newspapers. The wife glanced into the buggy and screamed, "My God, we've got the wrong baby!" The husband shrugged her. "Don't yell so loud. We've got a better buggy."

The C of C and NAM, he said, won't have anything to do with a Democratic ally. However, the public, which has no lobbyists on Capitol Hill, is taking increased interest in reforming the tax laws.

New Guinea is the world's second largest island. The largest is Greenland.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Mass Meetings Espouse Cause

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Mass meetings to espouse a cause are not only legitimate as an expression of the "free speech" idea in America, but they give a chance to publicize movements that sometimes have a hard time getting attention.

Last autumn, the "Young Americans for Freedom" started planning for a rally to be held on March 1 in Madison Square Garden in New York City. It was planned as a manifestation of the interest of the younger generation in the cause of anti-Communism. But lately it has been getting some unfavorable publicity because some of the persons designated to receive awards have not accepted the invitations.

As with some other new organizations venturing into the domain of public rallies, mistakes have been made in the planning of such events. In the first place, only one Democrat and several Republicans in Congress were invited to speak. This caused Sen. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut, a Democrat, to withdraw his acceptance. He said:

"I regard the anti-Communist cause as one which, if it is to succeed, must function as a bipartisan movement which is neither dominated by nor identified with any political party or any political faction."

When I received your initial invitation, I had the expectation that the award presentation was to be a nonpartisan meeting for the purpose of honoring a diverse group of Americans for contributions to freedom and anti-Communism."

Then Sen. John G. Tower of Texas, Republican, who had also been invited to speak, wrote that it would be politically embarrassing for him to be there. He said this was because Gen. Edwin A. Walker — who had been announced as a speaker — is a candidate in the Democratic primary for Governor of Texas. So the invitation to the general was withdrawn.

Another unfortunate episode occurred. The organization invited Moise Tshombe, the leader of the secessionist movement in the Congo, to appear and receive a citation. But the Congolese leader hasn't been able to get a visa from the U. S. Department of State for his passport. The State Department said Thursday that a visit by Tshombe at this time would "interrupt and jeopardize" efforts to unify the Congo.

Where the planners of the mass meeting of the "Young Americans for Freedom" made their error was in combining a controversial rally in behalf of Tshombe with an award-giving ceremony to Americans, among them persons prominent in party politics. Those invited to accept awards may look askance at possible misinterpretations that could ensue from their presence at such ceremonies.

This writer, for example, doesn't participate in rallies of this kind and about two months ago declined an invitation to accept an award at the Madison Square Garden meeting of March 7. Although he had never authorized the use of his name, it appeared by mistake on the literature first announcing the rally.

Conservative organizations have sprung up in various parts of the country. Some are conscientiously trying to promote worthy causes. There have been organizations on the radical side which have done effective work for their causes on college campuses. Others, however, have hurt a cause by their unfounded and slanderous statements. The John Birch Society, for instance, might have made more headway had not its leader attacked men like Gen. Eisenhower as allegedly being pro-Communist.

Also, there's another organization out west which in recent months has kept up a letter campaign against the council on foreign relations in New York City. The cry is that the latter association has Communist leanings. This is an absurd charge. The council is an organization of 1,800 members who meet privately as a seminar group and listen periodically to lectures from prominent persons in the field of foreign affairs. Secretaries of state, other government officials and prominent visitors from abroad have been among its many speakers.

This writer has answered scores of letters from readers who have been misled by such propaganda, and has defended the Council on Foreign Relations.

A vast amount of literature on public affairs has been circulated by various organizations in recent months—ranging in subject matter all the way from partisan politics to attacks on religious denominations. Perhaps the persons who have engaged in this kind of warfare have themselves been misled either by impassioned lecturers or through leaflets of an irresponsible kind.

Pregnancy Impossible In This Case

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have heard of tubal pregnancy, but do not understand it. I had a hysterectomy. The doctor removed the uterus, and an ovary, leaving one good ovary and tube. Is it possible for me to become pregnant in this tube? — MRS. C. M.

No, you can stop worrying about it.

First, let's explain a tubal (or ectopic) pregnancy.

The uterus must be present for pregnancy to occur. The male sperm must move up through cervix and uterus to meet the ovum (or egg) as it descends from the ovary through the Fallopian tube. The egg, then fertilized, moves down into the uterus to grow.

In some instances, fortunately rather rare, the ovum halts, or is in some way stopped, in the Fallopian tube. When this happens, there is no room for the ovum to grow, but it tries to. Presently great pressure develops, the tube may rupture, and surgery is urgent at once.

However, after a hysterectomy, the uterus has been removed. There is no way for the sperm to reach the Fallopian tube. It cannot come in contact with an ovum—and hence pregnancy, even a tubal pregnancy, is impossible.

I MIGHT ADD that leaving one ovary, if it is healthy, is often done, indeed, I would say is usually done if possible, when the patient is fairly young, because it will continue to provide hormones which are normal for the body to have at such an age.

Removing both ovaries does approximately the same thing that happens when, at menopause, the ovaries cease producing hormones in quantity. The result is like having a woman go through menopause earlier than she normally would. This situation is known technically as "surgical menopause."

"Dear Dr. Molner: I wonder if the lady who wears sensible shoes and still has bunions might be wearing stockings that are too small?" — J. D. S.

Could be. You sound as though maybe you found out the hard way that this can be the trouble.

They Don't Bleed As Thee and Me

NEW YORK — I forgot what the formal figure was this time last year, when Mr. Kennedy was going to do away with the expense-account boondoggle entirely, and Mr. Douglas Dillon of the Treasury was loudly agreeing that any businessman could make it bravely on an allowance of $25 or $30 a day. I think I pointed out at the time that neither Mr. Kennedy nor Mr. Dillon had ever been unduly hampered by an acute case of what the gamblers call the "shorts."

This is to say that they are millionaires, and have always been millionaires, and millionaires, believe it or not, do not bleed as thee and me. You just call up Papa, and he sends the money on his own plane.

Mr. Kennedy, in an outburst of boyish enthusiasm which generally comes from running for public office after you've been elected, was going to kill off expense-account deductions from the liable list, and pick up some $250,000,000 extra in the process of eliminating what he referred to as "widespread abuses."

I would not like to stick that back in his teeth in terms of what it cost Joe to elect our President, but surely could surely call it something in the way of widespread abuse of personal patrimony for a trip that was not really necessary.

It seems to me we reminded Mr. Kennedy at the time that if he off-knocked expense deductions to any marked degree he would also off-knock the hotel business, the entertainment business, the automotive industry, the airlines, the booze trusts—old Joe could tell him about this, since imported booze is one of the ways the senior Kennedy made his money, as well as in the moving-picture racket—and in all the other bits of sordid trade which provide employment for poor people.

This assassination of deductible expenditure would indeed do strange things to the national economy, which would quite possibly make it necessary to raise taxes some more to pay off unemployed saloon keepers, workless hotel magnates, airlines employees, waiters, bus boys, ticket scalpers, professional dancers, athletes, and even call girls, all of whom would soon be seeking the due to lack of decent reimbursement for rendered services.

THE NATIONAL brow would indeed be grievously smitten, since if our unemployment soars at home there will be less money to spend on the undeserving poor in Laos and Ghana, less money to finance the United Nations in the Congo; less money for radio commercials to hustle new employees for the Peace Corps. (terrible. As goes "Toots Shor" and the "21 Club," so goes the nation. Not to mention the Colony and Pavillon and that de-luxe hotel in which the President spends his time and money when he is in New York.

I truly, sincerely wish the President would quit kidding us with the business entertainment nonsense which seems to be rather a foolish fixation with him. He knows it's not going anywhere—the House Ways and Means Committee keeps backing farther and farther away from the whole impossible, impractical, downright idiotic concept of chopping off the businessman's buckshee entertainment at the hip.

THE LATEST foolishness, still up for grabs, is that some business expenses will be fully deductible if specified; others, less tangible, would be only 50 percent deductible. In this case you would certainly need a Daniel come to judgment with a Solomon and the disputed baby laid on, in order to determine who was on first base and for what reasons.

It is a big country, and our leader keeps talking about burgeoning the national product until we fairly ooze with milk and honey. Certainly he tilts the ante on the giveaways to the underserving many as time goes by. It would seem to me that the increase of the national product, and the upped charity to the clamoring multitudes must depend on one thing—the health of business and the American businessman.

The American businessman, with his pitiful little deductible wastage, is a spender second only to the congregation he hustles to buy his goods so that he may pay his taxes to keep the government fed, stabilized and watered in its snoring sluggishness.

IT SEEMS to me that any government which practices loose-limbed, big-time spending might allow a little leeway to the man who makes the Saturday night possible—the American businessman with his tiny little license to steal just a teensy little before taxes.

Sometimes it seems to me we continually couple the cart before the steed. If you are hustling bonds in a busted flush like the United Nations; if you are shilling for the milk trust from a presidential rostrum in that big white barn on Pennsylvania Avenue; if you are feeding out the millions and billions to everybody everywhere, what is so wrong with letting the harassed man who provides the dough steal a little on the side with some reasonably justified business expense? I mean to say, who knows when the theater tickets and the free booze and the cute chick might not provide the impetus to the deal that makes the money to pay the Treasury so they can give it to Kwame Nkrumah or pay the village police force in Laos?

I GRIND no personal ax here, since I am in the wrong kind of racket for yachts and country clubs as a business expense, but I can see the necessity. I do not want the yacht makers and country club managers to go hungry for want of patronage. Call it a kind of colonialism, if you will, but I think that the relief which is good enough for the bums is also good enough for the hard-working people who make the bums possible, and humbly a rather pleasant way of life so long as the actual workers pay.

Edward Kennedy Visits Poland

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the U.S. President, arrived here today from a two-day visit to Communist Poland and said he was "tremendously impressed by the friendship of the Polish people toward the American people."

"The Poles are extremely friendly and hospitable, with a great reservoir of good will toward the United States, my brother and me as an individual," Kennedy told reporters.

Kennedy, whose visit to Poland was part of a European tour, said he had talks with Deputy Foreign Minister Jozef Winiewicz in Warsaw and also met a number of leading officials and newsmen. He said his talks with Winiewicz concentrated on "mutual problems of foreign policy of Poland and the United States."

Rites for Bruno Walter Tuesday

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Conductor Bruno Walter, a perfectionist with a gentle temperament, is dead of a heart attack at the age of 85.

Funeral services for the famed interpreter of Mozart, Beethoven and Mahler symphonies will be held Tuesday. Cremation will follow.

The German-born Walter, who wielded his baton for 68 years, died suddenly Saturday in his Beverly Hills home.

Walter's wife, Elsa, died in 1945. He lived with his daughter, Lilli, and her husband, actor Carl Ludwig Lindt.

Early O.K. of Kennedy Urban Plan Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects were dim for early approval of President Kennedy's urban affairs proposal as Congress resumed a regular work schedule today.

The administration apparently faces at least a week's delay in a Senate test of the controversial plan to create a Cabinet-level urban department.

In the House, the situation was even gloomier for supporters of the plan. Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., acknowledged Sunday in a television interview that the administration does not have sufficient votes at this time to approve it.

Administration leaders feel the Senate eventually will approve the reorganization proposal, but plans to begin debate today apparently have gone by the boards.

Congress mostly marked time last week while many Republican members were away extolling Abraham Lincoln in traditional party rallies. Swinging back into action, the House plans to take up two administration-backed measures Tuesday.

One would permit a $2-billion temporary increase in the national debt ceiling. The other calls for a program of retraining workers displaced by automation.

The House Agriculture Committee hears today from Secretary Orville L. Freeman on the administration's sweeping new farm program and House tax writers begin a last round of discussions of Kennedy's tax revision proposals.

On the Senate side, a special Armed Services subcommittee resumes its investigation of government censorship practices. The Foreign Relations Committee may conclude today its public hearings on Kennedy's call for U.S. purchase of half a $200-million U.N. bond issue.

Farmers Getting Questionnaire on Planting Intentions

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Several thousand Minnesota farmers will take part this week in the annual survey of farmers' planting intentions, made by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

F. J. Graham said he is sending an official survey card to a random sample of farmers throughout the state, asking each farmer to report the number of acres that he expects to plant to each major crop this year, and the number of acres planted to the same crops last year.

Sen. Hayden In Congress 50 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Carl Hayden, who swapped his Western sheriff's badge for a seat in Congress five days after Arizona became a state, today becomes the first man to serve as a member of Congress for 50 years.

The 84-year-old Democrat, third in line of succession to the presidency, was sworn into the House of Representatives Feb. 15, 1912. After 15 years as Arizona's only representative in the House, Hayden moved to the Senate in 1927.

Today he is dean of the Senate and the Congress. However, he is little known outside Washington because he resolutely shuns publicity and rarely speaks in public.

Hayden was asked in a recent interview to name his greatest accomplishment.

"I just can't do it," he said. "A man does one piece of work one time, another piece of work, and then another. To look back 50 years and say one thing is more important than another is something I can't do."

Last November, at a testimonial dinner in Phoenix, President Kennedy paid tribute to Hayden.

"Every federal program which has contributed to the West—irrigation, power and reclamation—bears his mark. And the great federal highway program which binds this country together, which permits this state to be competitive East and West, North and South—this in large measure is his creation," Kennedy said.

Hayden, an expected candidate this year for his seventh six-year Senate term, hasn't denied this. He attributes his contribution to Western development to "a theory I had when Arizona was still a territory."

"When I got here, the territory had just become a state and it had many problems and needs," he said. "I asked for committees that could be most helpful in that regard, and I got them because there was little demand from others for them."

Hayden, a tall, lean, bald man who smokes cigars, is president pro tempore of the Senate, a position that goes to the member of the majority party who has served longest. This puts him third in line to the presidency, behind Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker of the House John McCormack.

When Hayden moved to the Senate in 1927, he was assigned to the Committee on Appropriations—he became its chairman in 1955—and the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads.

Specializing in roads, Hayden deplored the lack of a definite plan for a network of roads covering the whole United States. He recalls that he told state highway commissioners meeting in Washington to go home and work out plans for a national system.

"They did that," Hayden said. "And the result is the fine system we have today."

Hayden was educated in the public schools of Tempe and Stanford University, where he met his future wife, Nan Downing, whom he married in 1908. Mrs. Hayden died in June.

He was elected treasurer of Maricopa County in 1904 and was sheriff from 1907 to 1912.

ers will become part of a nationwide report on farmers' intentions to plant, to be issued by the Statistical Reporting Service of USDA on March 19.

Another survey on acres actually planted will be made about June 1.

Tickets may be purchased from any Central Junior High student or at the door.

Rail Worker Killed by Train At La Crosse

LA CROSSE, Wis. — A railroad maintenance man was killed Sunday night when he was hit by a Burlington Zephyr passenger train while clearing track switches of snow and ice.

The victim was Leo Outcell, 40, La Crosse.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Severson of La Crosse County said Outcell was working on the track near Onalaska, Wis., about 7:15 p.m. when the train hit him and threw him 150 feet down an embankment and into a swamp.

Severson said it was snowing at the time of the accident and visibility was down to less than a mile. Onalaska is four miles north of La Crosse.

The seven-car passenger train left Minneapolis at 4:40 p.m. yesterday and was bound for Chicago, Ill. Railroad officials said the train usually averaged about 60 miles an hour on the run.

Outcell is survived by his widow and three children.

Sister to Discuss Role of State's Fur in History

"The Importance of Minnesota Furs in World History" will be discussed by Sister M. David, O.S.F., chairman of the College of Saint Teresa's history department, at a meeting of the Winona County Historical Society Tuesday.

This was announced by Dr. Lewis T. Younger, society president, who said the public is invited to the meeting at 8 p.m. in the Lumbermen's Building, 125 W. 3rd St. The speaker is a member of the society's board.

Sister David's talk will include a report on Francois LaBathe, early fur trader in the Winona area. He married Wapashaw III, daughter of Chief Wapashaw.

Caledonia Area GOP Precincts Favor Sales Tax

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — Republicans caucusing here Saturday evening voted to support a 3 percent sales tax as a 100 percent replacement for the personal property tax.

Seven precincts, including Caledonia village, caucused at the Hector Construction Co. office with Al Huesmann Jr. presiding. He is county chairman. Mrs. B. L. Erwin was caucus secretary.

Three other resolutions were passed. One opposes socialized medicine and "further liberalization of the social security system."

Another opposes federal aid to education "because we believe local government should finance and govern their own school system."

The other resolution proposes a farm program. The resolution says "we favor a voluntary farm program with allotments based on total crop acres on the farm, requiring a certain percent to be retired to be eligible for price supports on any crop, allowing the farmers to plant the remaining acres to crops best adapted to their particular farm with payments sufficiently high to attract desired acreage into retirement. Farmers would voluntarily put all or any part of their farm into the farm program or could ignore the program if there was no desire to qualify for price support. We believe that any farm program based on pounds or bushels would stifle individual initiative."

The county convention will be at the courthouse here March 10.

Top-Level Talks Work Towards New Steel Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Formal top-level negotiations resume today in efforts to work out a new contract for basic steelworkers.

Bargaining teams, headed by President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union and R. Conrad Cooper of U.S. Steel Corp., recessed Saturday after their conferences.

Union negotiators met Sunday to review the three days of work and map plans for the reopening of talks.

The present 30-month pact for some 430,000 basic steelworkers expires June 30. The USW has indicated it is seeking higher wages and improvements in fringe benefits and job security provisions.

Steelworkers average $3.28 an hour under the current pact.

Many Changes In State Law

(This is the first in a series of informative articles prepared under the supervision of the Minnesota State Bar Association to assist you in preparing your 1961 Minnesota and Federal income tax returns.)

The 1961 Minnesota Legislature made numerous changes in the Minnesota tax law, some of the more important of which will be pointed out in this and later articles.

To begin with, the withholding of Minnesota income tax at the source is required of all employers with respect to wages paid to their employees on or after Oct. 1, 1961. Many of the features of the federal withholding provisions are embodied in the new Minnesota withholding law. The due dates for filing reports and for remitting the taxes collected coincide with the federal due dates, and definitions of many of the terms used conform to the federal law. In general, the Minnesota Department of Taxation will follow the rules and policies established for federal withholding where practical. However, the Minnesota and federal withholding provisions differ in certain respects, and these differences may create problems unless the helpful instructions and tables contained in Circular MW-B and issued by the Minnesota Department of Taxation are specifically followed.

MOST INDIVIDUAL taxpayers will be allowed a credit equal to 75 percent of their 1961 Minnesota income tax liability as otherwise determined after deduction of personal and dependent credits, plus surtaxes (except for a new 5 percent surtax). The new law provides that the 75 percent credit will be available only to the taxpayers who have filed Minnesota income tax returns required to be filed for taxable years beginning Jan. 1, 1955, and who have timely paid all taxes and interest shown to be due on such returns for all such taxable years. The Department of Taxation has indicated, although it has not formally issued pertinent regulations, that the harshness of this requirement may be lessened by administrative or legislative action. Nonetheless, the 75 percent credit will probably still be unavailable to taxpayers whose failure to file timely returns and to pay the taxes and interest due thereon was intentional or attributable to willful neglect.

FINALLY, THE Minnesota tax law now requires certain taxpayers to file declarations of their estimated Minnesota income taxes for 1961 and subsequent years. A declaration of estimated 1961 Minnesota income tax must be filed if you expect your estimated 1961 Minnesota income tax (taking into account the 75 percent "forgiveness" provision) to exceed Minnesota income taxes withheld by $20 or more, and if (a) your 1961 Minnesota gross income is expected to include more than $200 from sources other than wages from which Minnesota income taxes are withheld, and (b) you are single and your gross income exceeds $750, or you are married and your combined gross income exceeds $1,500. If you are required to file a declaration of estimated 1961 Minnesota tax, your declaration must be filed on or before Dec. 15, 1961, on Form M-14, and must be accompanied by the full amount of the estimated tax. Individuals who receive at least two-thirds of their gross income from farming may elect to wait until Jan. 15, 1962, to file their declaration of estimated Minnesota tax. At that time, the entire estimated income tax will be due. If, however, a farmer prefers, he may file his final 1961 Minnesota return on or before Feb. 15, 1962, and pay his entire tax due at that time instead of filing a declaration on or before Jan. 15, 1962. Declarations of 1962 federal and Minnesota taxes will be discussed in a later article.

(This column is written to inform, not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of a trained expert who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Mrs. Khrushchev Asks Complete Disarmament

NEW YORK (AP)—Speaking English that came through clearly, Nina Khrushchev appealed in a special broadcast to American women for international understanding and complete disarmament.

The Soviet premier's wife, whose words were easily understandable despite her accent, called on Americans Sunday night to lay down their arms and be friends with the Soviet Union.

"War must not be allowed to break out," she said in her 10-minute broadcast beamed by Moscow radio at 2:30 a.m. Monday, Moscow time. "This can be done through general disarmament under strict international control."

Mrs. Khrushchev said she was replying to American women who had written expressing their concern about the danger of war, especially a nuclear conflict.

Echoing her husband's line, she said governments should dump "all weapons into the ocean."

She also echoed the Soviet premier's call for opening the 18-nation disarmament conference in Geneva March 14 at the summit level.

Educator Expects Catholic Majority Within 50 Years

By G. K. HODENFIELD
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A Catholic educator predicted today that within half a century Roman Catholics will be in the majority in this country.

And then, said the Very Rev. John P. Leary, president of Gonzaga University in Spokane, Wash., the question of federal aid to private and parochial schools will be settled by "the strange accident of numbers and time."

In an interview at the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators, Father Leary said, "I realize that my belief that there should be support for private schools is a minority viewpoint. But the views I hold are numerically on the rise."

He cited these figures: "In the last five years, one-third of all the children born in this country were Catholic, although the Catholic population is only about one-sixth of the total."

"In 20 years, when this one-third have grown up, they probably will have half of all the children born."

"Within half a century, the Catholics will be a majority in this country."

Father Leary said he believes the government should pay a subsidy to the family of any child in a qualified and recognized private school. "Something akin to the GI bill of rights."

Father Leary said there was always a hazard that extremist organizations such as the John Birch Society might try to establish such a private school but that "basically, this is strictly a Catholic problem, a problem that is going to disappear within 50 years, although there probably will be a strong minority opposed to federal aid for private and parochial schools."

Fillmore, Houston Farmers Compete In Judging Meets

PRESTON, Minn.—Fillmore and Houston County hog judging teams competed today at the ninth annual Spring Market Hog Show at Fillmore County fairgrounds.

They compete again Tuesday at Houston County Spring Market Hog show at Caledonia.

Fillmore teams have won the last two consecutive years. If they win in these two contests, they will gain permanent possession of a traveling trophy.

An exhibit Tuesday will consist of three market hogs (either sex) in two weight divisions: 180-210 and 211-250 pounds.

Pepin County Welfare Costs Hit $226,618

DURAND, Wis. (Special)—A total of $226,618 was spent in federal, state and county funds by the Pepin County welfare department in 1961, according to the annual report presented at the county board meeting last week.

On the average 151.33 received old-age assistance each month. For the year they got a total of $145,717, of which reimbursement of state and federal funds amounted to $126,805. Collected from 13 estates was $11,518. State and federal participation was 87 percent.

ONE PERSON on blind aid received $729, of which the county paid $486—state and federal participation is 99.3 percent.

The average of 18.8 cases involving 46.8 children in aid-dependent children cases benefited by $30,335, of which the county's cost was $4,699, state and federal participation being 83.9 percent.

The average of 16.4 persons on aid to disabled rolls received $18,581, the county's share being $4,640, or 25 percent.

During the year the department received 19 applications for old-age assistance; 11 for aid to dependent children; 2 for aid to dependent children in foster homes; and 16 for aid to the disabled.

COURT ACTION on nonsupport was taken in four cases where divorced husbands are now making contributions toward care of children.

During 1961, 106 child welfare cases received service from the welfare department in addition to the children on ADC.

Sixty-four persons called at the welfare office in regard to need for general relief, which is administered by town chairmen.

Fifty people also applied to the welfare office for medical relief, which has no authority to authorize such care, but they are passed on to the county poor committee for study.

Administration cost of the department last year was $25,269 of which the county's share was $9,403, or 37.2 percent.

MRS. MADELINE Liefing is acting director of the department since the death of Claude Langlois. She and Arvilla Everson are caseworkers, and Mary Elita Williamson and Carol Konsela are clerks.

William Weiss, Walter Hartman and Paul Schlosser comprise the public welfare board and Merton Gates, Wayne Kosok and Joseph Brenner the poor committee.

Sailors Wile Away Time in Nuclear Shelter

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hundred Navy men wiled away the time as best they could in cramped underground quarters today on the third day of a two-week test to determine what happens to people in a long stay in a nuclear fallout shelter.

The test group—two officers and 98 enlisted men including two medical corpsmen—went underground Saturday in a $70,000 shelter of concrete, steel and wood in a hillside on the grounds of the naval medical center in suburban Bethesda, Md. The 25-by-48 foot structure gives each man about a tenth of the space allotted each man on a submarine.

There is plenty of food—of a rather monotonous survival-only sort—plus games and reading material. But there is no outside communication except a radio receiver, and there are no major jobs to keep minds occupied.

Throughout the trial the men will be under observation through a TV monitoring camera.

The basic aim is to check physical rather than psychological reactions but each man is directed to maintain a diary, and when they emerge there will be two days of medical examinations and questioning.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New tonic-tablet laxative acts on colonic muscles... de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body. But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

Relief, doctors say, lies in the non-irritating, de-constipating principle of a new tonic-tablet called COLONALIN. Of all lead-in laxatives, only COLONALIN

THE SILENT EPIDEMIC

Doctors call it hypokinesia. It simply means soft, flabby, weak muscles caused by lack of activity or exercise.

And hypokinesia is spreading like a silent epidemic among our children. Increasingly large numbers of them now live such inactive lives that they can't perform simple tests requiring a minimum of strength and stamina.

A basic program of physical education—such as the one developed by the President's Council on Youth Fitness—will help put a stop to our children's physical weakness.

Does your child's school have such a program? If not, find out why. It's easy to carry out. It costs your school very little. Act at your next PTA meeting!

The President's Council on Youth Fitness

Permits Add $7,200 to City's Total

Four remodeling and improvement jobs for which permits were issued at the city engineer's office last week added $7,200 to Winona's 1962 building total.

The dollar valuation of this year's permits now totals $111,566 compared with $138,705 at this time a year ago. There haven't been any new house permits issued this year; one had been taken last year.

THE LARGEST of last week's permits was drawn by James Hauser, 217 W. 4th St., for interior remodeling at 1171 Mankato Ave., the former Sugar Loaf Feed Store building.

George Karsten is contractor for the $2,500 project which will provide Hauser Art Glass Co. with storage and office facilities.

Two offices will be constructed and two restrooms built. Office areas are planned to accommodate possible future construction of a new building front.

GEORGE JUMBECK, 1050 E. Sanborn St., received a permit for construction of a basement under his home at an estimated cost of $2,400. A-1 Contracting Co. will do the work.

Arthur Stiever, 279 Sioux St., was issued a permit for enclosure of a front porch. Bruce McNally is the contractor and the estimated cost is $300.

The Library Board received a permit for interior remodeling at the public library.

A basement area will be converted to work rooms. Conversion of the portion of the basement for this use will free rooms upstairs for other purposes. The job is expected to cost $2,000.

PERMITS for gas-fired installations went to Winona Sales & Engineering for St. Mary's College library; Quality Sheet Metal Works for Frank Maroushek; 110 E. Sarnia St., and Frank O'Laughlin Plumbing & Heating Co. for Max Kulas, 1888 Gilmore Ave.

How to Throw Paint Around And Do Good Job

Every housewife dreams of a colorful floor that does not show dirt, scuff marks, spilled foods and beverages, and which requires a minimum of maintenance.

Spatter finishes, sometimes called spatterdash, provide an easy way to fulfill this dream.

This finish consists of a coat of tough quality floor enamel in the color of your choice, which is spattered at random with one or more other colors of this durable finish.

If your present painted floor is in good condition, and the colors bright and true, there is no need to repaint. But be sure that it is free of dirt, wax, polish and grease. Mop it clean and let it dry before proceeding. If the floor has not been painted previously or if the old paint is in poor condition, then apply floor enamel in this manner:

House Loaded With Moisture? Some Solutions

By AP Newsfeatures

Along about this time every year, the mailbox is laden with questions about excessive moisture in the home. For the letter writers, as well as the thousands of silent sufferers, here are some facts and figures about the humidity problem.

Moisture condensation results when the water vapor in warm air comes in contact with a cold surface. It is this condensation which causes paint to peel and wood to rot. (This is entirely aside from the health hazards of a continually damp living area.)

THE MOST visible evidence of the condition is the formation of drops or streams of water on the inside of a window. When the water vapor escapes through inside walls, it is not always apparent at first, but shows up later in such things as blister formations on outside paint surfaces.

In older houses, where there was a great leakage of air, excessive humidity was seldom a problem.

Today, with such things as insulation, storm sash, weatherstripping and other measures designed to tighten the construction of a house, the water vapor can not escape and so condenses on the inside. The situation is made worse by the multiplicity of modern appliances which give off moisture.

THE PRINCIPLE to be remembered in attempting to correct the humidity problem is that the moisture must be permitted to escape but not through the walls.

Where possible, this can sometimes be done merely by opening a window or two. But more often it is necessary to use exhaust fans in high-moisture areas, such as the kitchen, bathroom and laundry room.

In areas where furnaces are in operation all winter, a check should be made to determine whether there is a humidifier attached to the heating plant. If so, it should be shut off, since it is merely adding moisture to the air inside the home.

IN MANY CASES, the installation of double windows, the insulation of walls where there is none and the use of vapor barriers may be necessary. There is no one solution to all high humidity problems.

In a basement, for instance, good results usually can be obtained with the use of a dehumidifier, either the self-contained units or the simple arrangements utilizing calcium chloride.

The owners of new homes should exercise patience as well as take precautions to eliminate moisture. New plaster and concrete throw off moisture for several months.

New homes often have an excessive humidity condition for five or six months and then never have it again.

dot effect. Holding the brush in your right hand with the bristles pointed up, strike the metal band that holds the bristles—the technical name is ferrule—against a stick held in the other hand.

For small spatters, the brush should not be fully loaded and the stick against which it is struck should be held about a foot from the floor. For larger spatters, fill the brush fully and hold the floor three feet or so above the floor.

Be sure to protect the walls and baseboard with newspaper held in place with masking tape.

If you want the spatters to consist of several colors, wait until each color has dried before going ahead to the next one. You may want the spots of the first color to be large and those of the second to be small, so vary the height accordingly.

IF IT IS necessary to enamel the entire floor because it is unpainted or in poor condition, here's the way to go about it after making sure that it is completely clean. Where paint has worn away, sand surrounding edges so that the spot priming will not raise the level of the finish. Then apply the enamel to these bare spots thinned in accordance with label instructions. Thin the enamel the same way if you are doing the entire floor. After the first coat has dried, apply one or two coats of the chosen color.

House of the Week

Four-Level Split Improves 'Zoning'

By JULES LOH

A hallmark of good home design, in the parlance of the architects, is "proper integration" of the living area.

In everyday terms this simply means that formal, informal and housekeeping areas should be clearly defined—but not be the point where they resemble separate structures. This is a chief advantage of split level design: It zones a house more distinctly than a ranch, but more subtly than a two-story.

IN THIS STRIKING three-bedroom model, J-7 in the House of the Week series, architect Rudolph A. Matern has carried "integration" a step further.

The mid-level of the side-to-side split, containing the living room, dining room and kitchen, itself is divided into two levels.

Thus the living room is two steps above the foyer and family room, and the dining room-kitchen area is two steps above the living room.

"What this does," says Matern, "is allow the informal family into the living room, but at the same time remain distinct; and for the formal living room and dining room to be similarly separate, but joined in a 30-foot expanse."

ANOTHER innovation in this approach to split level architecture is location of the front entrance (and rear, too, for that matter) on the slab level. This can be done since the foyer is only two steps down from the living room.

The bedroom level is reached, not from the mid-level, but via a staircase from the grade level. This way it is kept, as it should be, plainly separate from the rest of the house—the only area that doesn't have to be "integrated."

This level contains three bedrooms, two baths (a third full bath is on the lower level), and an excellent storage area for out-of-season clothes, suitcases and so forth.

THE HOUSE contains 1,203 square feet on the bedroom and living levels in dimensions of 44 feet, 11 inches wide by 29 feet, 5 inches deep. The slab level, not counting the garage, is 355 square feet.

This intermediate level design of the living room creates a balcony effect both at the stair and the dining room. Use of crisp, airy wrought iron gives a certain richness to the entire formal area.

Incidentally, note how the handsome curving staircase stops at a long platform and turns to two more steps up; an effect which makes it seem like a shorter climb.

Another unusual feature of this split is the way the breakfast room and a small portion of the kitchen project beneath the bedroom level.

ONE RESULT is better use of the space on the slab level, but an equally important by-product is the storage area above, four steps up from the bedroom level. Architect Matern suggests lining the room with cedar.

Less cleaning and wear and tear is bound to result from the arrangement of both front and back entrances on the family room level. Traffic through the house is kept to a minimum.

Children, delivery men, rain-soaked housewives and husbands who have just mowed the grass, for example, can get to the kitchen from either entrance or from the garage without tramping through the living room.

Location of the full bath near the rear entrance also shows good planning; it's convenient not only to the family room and kitchen but also to the rear terrace.

THIS REAR terrace, which is accessible through sliding glass doors from both the kitchen and dining room, is only one of two outdoor living areas in this house. The other is an unusual and cozy arbor off the family room, a truly dramatic design feature.

The arbor has a sliding glass wall which can be opened for a party overflow or merely as a cool and secluded hideaway on warm evenings. Roof openings admit the sunlight—or moonlight, if you want to get downright romantic.

A WORD should be said about the excellent layout of the kitchen-breakfast room.

Large windows over the double sink permit fine view of the entire backyard; and the remodeled kitchen is of equally efficient design with plenty of counter space and no less than 40 feet equal to almost the entire width of the house of base and wall cabinets.

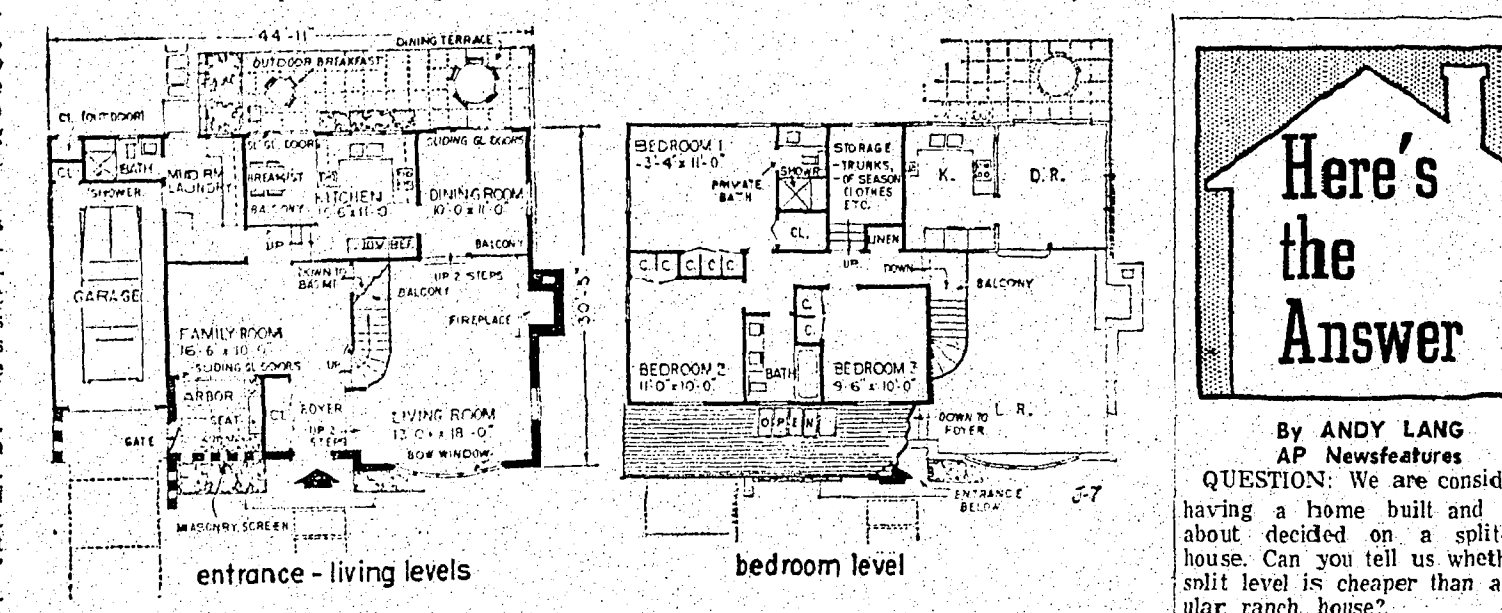

The breakfast area, with its glass wall on one side and balcony on the other, likewise is a bright and airy spot—one of many in this attractive, efficient and modest-sized home.

SPLIT-LEVEL DISTINCTION . . . Intermediate level feature of the living room in this attractive model represents an improvement in side-to-side split level design. House contains three bedrooms, three full baths, in 1,203 sq. ft. on bedroom and living levels and 355 sq. ft. on slab level. Opening in roof admits sunlight to dramatic arbor off family room.

FLOOR PLANS . . . Both front and rear entrances, as well as garage, are on family room level of this house, eliminating traffic through formal area. Entrance and living levels, excluding garage and arbor, contain 960 square feet; bedroom level contains 683 square feet.

KEEPING PLANTS 'DRY'
Keep your house plants from getting "wet feet" by placing each flower pot on an inch or so of pebbles in a deep saucer or tray; and pouring water into the saucer to the top of the pebble layer. Evaporation and capillary action of porous clay pots will give plants the moisture they need without soaking roots.

COLORS FOR BLONDES
Paint colors should be selected like fashion colors to complement the coloring of the lady of the house. Hues that provide a background for a blonde include yellow, pink, copper, platinum gray, blue, olive, beige and tan. None of these colors is particularly flattering to a redhead, who will look her best when the walls are painted in green-blue, red-hued browns, mauve, sea-green, olive green, coral or yellow.

J-7 Statistics

A three-bedroom side-to-side split with three full baths, interior garage, full basement. Entry and living levels contain 960 square feet excluding garage and arbor. Bedroom level contains 683 square feet. Dimensions are 44 feet 11 inches wide by 29 feet 5 inches deep.

SHOW OFF FURNITURE

The proper wall colors can help you show off your furniture for your own enjoyment and possible envy of your guests. With dark woods, paint the walls in light colors and use bright upholstery. Light wood will look its best if the walls behind are painted in dark colors and shades, which are made by adding black to the paint. Upholstery should also be dark.

Painted in green-blue, red-hued browns, mauve, sea-green, olive green, coral or yellow.

Build Home Style YOU Like

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

When it comes to houses, men can be an enigma. Whereas they like tailored furniture as a rule, they often like a fussy gingerbread-style house.

And women who often go in for rococo-style furniture are likely to prefer simple ranch-style or Colonial houses. It is difficult to fathom the reasons as this letter indicates:

"WE WERE just about to build a good solid Colonial house in New England when my husband visited a New Orleans-style house down South. He is determined to have one, and his only description is that it has grille work and balconies. Is it a good house for the North? Is it a woman's house? Why aren't there more of them in the North?"

The New Orleans or Louisiana-style house is a romantic looking house with balcony that runs along the second floor with decorative open-work iron railing, arches and posts. The walls are usually painted white or pastel, and are of stone or blocks. There are large French windows on the balcony, and in summer the house can be enchanting.

There are some drawbacks to this house in the North because of the long winter. Cold climate may increase upkeep and heating costs, one reason why perhaps there aren't more of them in the North. But one who likes the style probably will not let that stand in the way.

MANY WOMEN have discovered that they can do jobs formerly considered to be only in the man's ballgame. Plastering is one job that many women eye as a task within their scope, but often they are afraid to tackle it, letters indicate.

One woman writes: "Do you think a woman who has had no experience in home repairs could repair cracked walls with plaster if she followed directions? We have several cracked walls, but no repair man. It looks simple enough, but I don't want to get into a mess."

I think if you just tried to fill up the cracks and sand them, you would not get into trouble. But the zaniest story I know concerns a woman who attempted to remove some of the cracked plaster. The crack grew until finally she had a large hole.

She decided to remove the entire wall, 6 by 10 feet, she was in such a frenzy, fearing her husband's wrath. She bought enormous quantities of patching plaster which was an expensive way to do it but the only method she knew. She did such a superb job her husband invited the incredulous storekeeper who sold her the patching plaster to observe the results.

The most important point, she said, was accurate sanding, necessary to a smooth job. She used an electric sander.

HERE IS SOME advice from a woman who has three cats and two dogs. She writes: "We had furnished our home on the theory that dark flooring and dark furniture fabric would hide cat hairs and the black hairs of our Scotties. But we never quite rid the dark floor of the hairs because they were hard to spot."

"I have now found a white linoleum with a simple thread-like pattern running through it. The floor covering is not only more cheerful in the kitchen but the hairs cannot be noticed by visitors, although they are easy to spot when you mop the floor."

Many people are not as disturbed by finding animal hair on hard-surface floor as they are by the almost impossible task of removing hair from rugs and carpet. Vacuum cleaners are inadequate for the job usually, and the trusty old broom or even fire-place sweeper offers better pickup.

"IS IT A good idea to build your house high? We'd like to do so as we have bought a large piece of land and would like to build our house behind a lovely wooded section."

It's a good idea providing you've considered the expense of road grading, etc. There is also the winter problem of snow removal. If the road that leads to your house is long and steep, snow removal could be costly.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Start Some Seeds Indoors

We are not trying to hurry spring along and any attempt, of course, would be fruitless. Yet, with a new fall of snow on the ground and winter still holding sway, we have started some seeds indoors for spring planting. We usually do this about March 1, but decided to get some of them going now.

Perhaps it is the early urge due to fancied signs of spring, or the innate longing for spring that arises in the heart at this time of the year. Yet, in a little over a week February will be gone and March, the first of the spring months will be with us. It is too early, of course, to think about digging in the soil, but it will not take many bright, warm days to make great inroads in the snow cover.

Several small pots were planted to various varieties of tomato, petunia, snapdragon and marigold seeds. We used as a potting soil a mixture of one part screened garden soil, one part finely pulverized peat moss and one part sand. If no peat moss is at hand, an additional part of sand can be used. The soil should be light and porous, but not rich, or the young seedlings will be forced too rapidly and will be inclined to grow too spindly.

THE POTS should be filled with soil mixture up to within one-half inch of the tops and soaked thoroughly with water. This can be done in the sink. After the water has soaked away, the moist soil can be smoothed and the seeds scattered thinly over the surface. Then each seed can be pressed into the soil to a depth of about one-fourth inch with a pointed stick, or lead pencil, and the soil smoothed over. With very small seeds such as petunias, it is necessary only to press them into the soil.

The pots, or flats, can then be placed in a warm place near a window to await germination. An examination should be made each day, or so, and, if the soil is a little dry, some water should be added. Cellophane, or sheets of paper, placed over the containers will serve to retard the evaporation until the little plants appear. As soon as the first pair of true leaves appear, the little seedlings can be transplanted about two inches apart in larger pots, or flats. If spring is delayed, the seedlings may have to be transplanted a second, or a third, time in order to get good sturdy plants.

THE DANGER to which all seedlings which are started in garden soil are subjected is what is known as "damping off". Soon after they appear above ground, the seedlings may wilt, fall over and die. This disease, as it may be called, is caused by fungi that live in the soil at, or near, the surface. There is no remedy once it has made its appearance, but it will be helpful to pull out the wilted plants, thin out the remaining ones, and allow the soil to become quite dry before adding water again.

This disease can be guarded against in large part by heating the soil in the oven, or pouring hot water over it, a day or two before planting the seeds. It will help, also, to scatter a thin layer of sand over the surface of the soil after seeding.

Some gardeners prefer to start the seeds in pure sand, finely pulverized peat moss, vermiculite, perlite, or some other materials recommended for this purpose. Vermiculite and some of the other materials have the advantage of being sterile and free from disease producing organisms. However, since they contain no nutrients, the seedlings must be watered regularly with a liquid plant food.

If you have never started seeds indoors, try it this spring, if only a pot, or two. We believe you will find the experience rewarding and there is always a certain pride derived from growing some of your own plants.

Policeman Slain, Young Man Wounded

THIEF RIVER FALLS, Minn. (AP) — A policeman was dead and a young man, the son of a Thief River Falls minister, was in serious condition today with bullet wounds suffered in a gun battle on a snowy northwestern Minnesota road.

Sgt. Donald D. Myers, 33, was shot to death Saturday night after he and Patrolman Benny Miramontes pursued a car from here to a point about 15 miles north.

Paul Wangberg, 19, was wounded in the chest and leg. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ruben Wangberg. The clergyman is pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, largest Lutheran parish in the city.

Pastor Wangberg described his son as confused.

The minister said the young man became angry Saturday night when it was suggested he seek psychiatric aid. Paul scuffled with his father, the pastor said, then grabbed a rifle and two boxes of cartridges and prepared to leave in the family car. The elder Wangberg called police.

Myers and Miramontes drove to the parsonage and Myers radioed headquarters that young Wangberg, in backing out of the garage, had rammed and slightly damaged the squad car. Chief Elmer Cummings instructed the officers to pursue the car but to use caution and not follow too closely.

The policemen chased the youth north on highway 32. At one point the unarmed Myers took Miramontes' revolver and fired two warning shots into the air. Wangberg didn't stop and the chase continued, through the Marshall County village of Holt, and north to the Newelltown turnoff.

The Wangberg car went off the side of the road and became stuck in a four-foot snowbank.

The officers leaped from the squad car and planned to approach Wangberg's car from opposite sides. As they left their car, Miramontes said, Wangberg waved his rifle at both men. The patrolman separated and Wangberg then aimed at Myers, Miramontes said.

The patrolman said he heard two shots, almost simultaneous, and then another blast. Two shots came from the rifle and one from the revolver.

Miramontes said Wangberg fell and Myers toppled on top of the youth. The patrolman kicked both weapons away, then rolled Myers off Wangberg.

A motorist came along and Myers was put into his car and sent to a Thief River Falls hospital. The officer was dead on arrival. The bullet grazed the inside of his arm, entered the chest and broke up with three fragments piercing the heart.

Young Wangberg was shot twice. One bullet broke his right leg and the other pierced his left forearm, then entered his body above the hip and lodged near his spine.

Officers had taken no statement from Wangberg, the underwent surgery here after being wounded and was placed under sedation. No charges have been filed. Doctors said Wangberg is expected to recover.

Last summer young Wangberg was arrested after a scuffle with Policeman Raymond Bren at the Pennington County Fair here. Police had been called after the youth got into an argument with another man over his attentions to a girl with whom Wangberg formerly had kept company.

Wangberg, charged with simple assault, forfeited bail and did not appear in court.

Last fall he entered Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn. He dropped out in January.

Schoolgirl Killed In Crossing Crash

BARTON, N.D. (AP) — One schoolgirl was killed and five other persons injured today when their car collided with a Great Northern mixed train at the east edge of Barton.

St. Mary's Faces Tommies Tonight

By AUGIE KARCHER
Daily News Sports Editor

St. Mary's College invades St. Thomas tonight and Winona State travels to Northern Illinois Tuesday night to get the basketball action started this week for Winona's four schools.

On the high school front, it's Winona High against La Crosse Central Tuesday night on the WHS floor and Colter prep for the Regional basketball tournament Friday, Saturday and Sunday at St. Stan's.

The Redmen tonight try to extend a winning streak to four straight games, something that pleases Coach Ken Wiltgen.

"We have really been playing good ball these last three games," he beamed.

"I think we have scored more layup baskets in those three than we have in the last seven years."

That can mean only that the Redmen are playing as a unit — off the patterns Wiltgen has devised. An ever greater tribute to St. Mary's success is the fact that the Redmen are without regular forward Mike Stallings who carried much of the scoring punch until running into scholastic difficulties.

St. Mary's, 5-8 in Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference play, lost to St. Thomas 61-59 at Terrace Heights Jan. 13 after leading 34-28 at the half.

The Redmen come home Saturday to host St. John's and win on Monday with a date against Hamline here.

Winona State also will carry a three-game win string into Tuesday's game at Northern Illinois. The Warriors close out their schedule Saturday night against St. Cloud State in a road test.

The meet was marked by good scoring in all departments.

In singles, Ches Lilla rolled 618 scratch on 194-212-212 to go into second place with 660.

John Drazkowski hit 611 scratch and 659 with handicap for third.

Bill Gates ripped an even 600, getting a 268 game and the strike and spare and then seven straight strikes.

STANTON'S 682, in which he had only one error and one split, is the highest three-game series of the tourney and ties as third highest rolled in Winona this season.

Only other 600 in doubles was a 619 by Ches Pozanc, who with John Schreiber has 1,228 for third in doubles. No. 2 spot is held by Jerry Serva and George Serva with 1,254.

The tourney continues through Feb. 23 with nightly squads at 8:30 and 9 p.m.

Morken Leads in Singles; Stanton-Podjaski Top Duo

Sam Morken, a 157-average bowler, stormed into the singles lead and Bruce Stanton and Bob Podjaski grabbed the top spot in doubles on the opening weekend of the individual events in the Winona Men's City Bowling tournament at Winona Athletic Club.

Morken totaled 662 pins with handicap. His scratch scores were 226, 180 and 180. He committed only two errors and had three splits, of which he converted one.

STANTON and PODJASKI pounded 1,293 as Stanton, a 169-shooter, reeled off 225-202-255 for 682 scratch.

Hamline, Duluth Tangle Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hamline's threadbare hopes of gaining a share of the Minnesota Intercollegiate Conference basketball championship hang in the balance tonight when the Pipers play at Minnesota Duluth.

If Duluth wins, the Bulldogs claim the title outright. If Hamline wins, the Pipers still harbor a chance of tying for the crown.

Duluth enters the game boasting a perfect 14-0 MIAC record, while Hamline is 11-2.

Also on tap tonight are games sending Augsburg to St. John's, Macalester to Concordia and St. Mary's to St. Thomas in the MIAC. Moorhead is at Superior in another state game.

Other games this week include: Tuesday — Winona at Northern Illinois.

Wednesday — Northwestern (Minn.) at Bethel.

Thursday — St. Thomas at Gustavus Adolphus, Hamline at Augsburg.

Friday — Bethel at Northwestern (Wis.), Knox at St. Olaf, Moorhead at Carleton.

Saturday — Concordia at Gustavus Adolphus, St. Thomas at Macalester, St. John's at St. Mary's, Bethel at Milton, Northern Michigan at Duluth, Moorhead at St. Olaf, Knox at Carleton, Mankato at Bemidji, Winona at St. Cloud and Moorhead at Michigan Tech.

Duluth rolled to its 14th straight MIAC victory Saturday night by edging St. John's 67-65. That win clinched at least a tie for the championship for the Bulldogs, who have only two conference games left.

Elsewhere in the MIAC Saturday, St. Thomas downed Augsburg 56-52. St. Mary's dropped Concordia 95-84. Macalester clipped Gustavus Adolphus 77-74 in overtime and Hamline routed Stout, Wis., 85-60.

In other action, Mankato defeated Michigan Tech 82-76. Bemidji edged St. Cloud 62-60 in overtime. St. Olaf lost to Grinnell 81-61 and Carleton bowed to Coe 67-65 in overtime.

City Women To Bid for Pin Tourney

The Winona Women's Bowling Association, holding its annual banquet meeting Sunday at the Legion Club, will bid for the 1964 Minnesota Women's tournament.

The bid will be entered at the annual meeting of the state association later this spring. Two bowling establishments would be used to hold the tournament.

Named as delegates to the state convention were Margaret Hiltner, Irene Gostomski, Dorothy Beynon, Eleanor Stahl, and Esther Pozanc.

IN OTHER ACTION Sunday the WWSA elected Lois Lilla treasurer. A former association secretary, she succeeds Esther Schmidt who served four years and was not a candidate for re-election.

Margie Poblocki was re-elected secretary for a two-year term.

The association voted unanimously to publish all tournament scores next year and to schedule two bowlers per lane in the individual events, instead of three.

Trophies and prize money for the 1962 event were distributed.

Altaire Leads Saints Victory

Bob Altaire scored a field goal and sank an extra point in the first overtime to give the Saints a 42-39 win over the Johnnies in the finals of the Catholic Rec Intramural basketball league Sunday.

The Saints jumped to an early lead and held a 20-13 half time edge and at the start of the fourth quarter were leading the Johnnies 34-26, but the Johnnies roared back with a big fourth quarter to knot the score at the end of regular play.

Altaire totaled 16 points in the win for the playoff title. Rich Loriecki dumped in 19 points for the Johnnies, six of these coming in the fourth quarter.

Two More Twins Sign Contracts

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Two more Minnesota Twins players have signed their contracts, leaving only five outside the fold.

Catchers Hal Naragon and Jerry Zimmerman showed up at the Orlando, Fla., training camp Saturday with their signed contracts.

Now only pitchers Camilo Pascual, Pedro Ramos and Ray Moore, infielder Jose Valdivia and slugger Harmon Killebrew are unsigned.

The Twins' camp opened officially Saturday with pitchers and catchers working out three hours. The session included some batting practice, mainly for catchers Earl Battey, Naragon and Zimmerman.

The Twins' full squad reports next Sunday.

Indoor Softball Tilt Postponed

The semifinal indoor softball contest between the Sunshine Bar and Watkins Products originally scheduled for Tuesday evening has been postponed.

The Catholic Recreational Center gymnasium will be the site of the Cotter Mardis Gras on that evening. The game will be reset at the convenience of the teams involved.

The Detroit Tigers' roster lists pitcher Sam Jones as being 36 years old.
