Rainy Parade

Capital Hails Space Hero Despite Rain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. rode down the parade route of great heroes today to a ceremonial meeting of both Houses of Congress assembled to honor him for his achievement as the first American orbital flyer.

Just over an hour after President Kennedy had flown Glenn and his family to the capital from Florida for a day of ceremonies, the astronaut set out from the White House in the presidential bubble-top limousine for the run past cheering throngs.

The weather that had beset Glenn's orbital flight itself interfered with the first welcoming ceremony, driving it indoors in a big hangar at Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland. It also shifted plans for a helicopter flight to the executive mansion, requiring a change to an impromptu motorcade.

The rain, however, had virtually stopped by the time the party—this time minus the President, set out down historic Pennsylvania Avenue.

The President's big jet plane, flying from West Palm Beach, Fla., with Glenn and his whole family aboard, landed at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland at 11:16 a.m. EST.

The landing was made under low ceiling short visibility conditions in a pouring rain.

The weather drove the opening ceremonies, planned for outdoors, into the shelter of a big hangar.

As the rain kept pouring down, plans for a helicopter flight to carry the astronaut from the air base were canceled and a motorcade was arranged.

The presidential limousine and a fleet of other cars wheeled into the hangar 15 minutes before the expected touchdown of the President's jet.

Already on hand were Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Casper, Mr. Glenn's parents, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Hoseney of Pittsburgh.

They were flown from Florida, where they had spent the weekend with the Glens, on an Air Force jet identical to the President's.

They took their place in the area of the hangar floor reserved for "distinguished guests."

It was just as wet downtown but the harder ones gathered early along the route of the parade from the White House to the Capitol. A few dozen were on hand behind the ropes at the Capitol Plaza two hours before Glenn was due there to appear at a joint meeting of Congress.

A cab driver on Connecticut Avenue told a reporter en route to the White House:

"It seems like weather plays an important part in that fellow (Glenn) doesn't it?"

"I have seen a lot of women with children around the parade route so far. I wouldn't bring my kids down on a day like this."

Weather had been the cause of some of the several postponed orbital flights which Glenn finally carried out last Tuesday.

A big jet taxied slowly across the field to the hangar where a red carpet had been unrolled. When the plane stopped, the

GREAT FUTURE IN SPACE

Glenn Paints Bright Outlook for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's first orbiting astronaut told Congress today that space flight now poses the bright promise of an expansion of knowledge beyond description.

The spaceman, Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., told of the prospect he sees ahead, in a speech prepared for a joint meeting of the House and Senate.

It is a far greater future than now beckons, he said, than had originally been expected as the result of research in space.

And, as for the worries of some congressmen about the tremendous cost of this research, Glenn said that even at this stage of development, space flight "indicates a much broader potential impact than electricity."

"We are just probing the surface of the greatest advancement of man's knowledge of his surroundings that have ever been made," Glenn said.

"There are benefits to science across the board. Any major effort such as this results in research by so many different specialists that it is hard to even envision the benefits that will accrue in many fields."

Glenn said Project Mercury experiments thus far already have demonstrated that the spacecraft and systems design concept are sound and that man can operate intelligently in space and can adapt rapidly to his new environment.

"Zero G or weightlessness—at least for this period of time—appears to be no problem," Glenn said.

"As a matter of fact, lack of gravity is a rather fascinating feeling."

"Objects within the cockpit can be parked in midair."

"For example, at one time I was using a hand-held camera. Another system needed attention, so it seemed quite natural to let go of the camera, take care of the other chore in the spacecraft, then reach out, grasp the camera and go about my business."

Glenn also described for the legislators his spectacular views of horizon colors and sunsets.

Extending full credit to all the others involved in his great adventure, he said there were far too many to be mentioned individually.

He said the Congress itself deserves credit for its vision "in establishing a national program of space exploration."

Glenn noted that from the original action in Congress to completion of manned orbital flight was a period of just over three years, a fact he said speaks eloquently of hard work and devotion.

Glenn also pointed out that the launch itself was conducted openly, with full news coverage by representatives of nations around the world.

"Complete information is released as it is evaluated and validated," he said.

"This is certainly in sharp contrast with similar programs conducted elsewhere in the world and elevates the peaceful intent of our program," Glenn said.

As was to be expected, he reported, not everything worked perfectly on his flight.

"We may well need to make changes—and these will be tried out on subsequent three-orbit flights later this year, to be followed by 18-orbit, 24-hour flights," he said.

3 Skindivers Die in Quarry, 4th Survives

KINGSTON, N.Y. (AP)—Three skindivers died Sunday when a mud slide trapped them 130 feet under water in an abandoned stone quarry and their air supplies ran out.

A fourth diver, who made a daring attempt to rescue them, was reported in fair condition at a hospital today, suffering from shock. He knew his own breathing apparatus was defective when he made the rescue attempt.

Dean Delbene, treasurer of the 1,000-member Illinois Council of Skin and Scuba Divers, an affiliate of the Underwater Society of America, called the deaths of the three men "definitely the worst tragedy in the history of scuba diving."

Those asphyxiated were: Jack Lepinski, 27, of Wakefield, Mich., a U.S. Air Force man who had been attending courses at an International Business Machines Corp. plant here; David Lasher, 32, and William Mills Sr., 45, both of this city on the Hudson River.

Under treatment at Benedictine Hospital is Gerry Klemm, 27, of Kingston, who attempted the rescue.

Eight members of the Ulster County Skindivers Club went to the quarry, a favorite spot for skindivers because the water—200 feet deep at spots—doesn't freeze in the winter.

Lepinski, Lasher, Mills and Klemm entered a narrow tunnel and made their way to the dark quarry shaft 150 feet inside a hill.

The quarry shaft drops off from the end of the tunnel at about 20 degrees from perpendicular. A number of rooms, more than 100 feet long, lead off the shaft at different levels.

Klemm's oxygen regulator did not operate properly, and he remained at the top to hold ropes tied to each of the others. When they failed to give the customary periodic tugs on their ropes to let him know they were all right, Klemm rushed outside and told the other club members to call police. He then sped back into the tunnel, put on his own defective apparatus and dived into the pool to search for his companions, who had a one-hour air supply.

Coincident with the decision not to sell Watkins Products, Inc., to Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., the board of directors of Watkins has been reorganized and for the first time it includes directors who are not members of the King family. Two of them are from out of the city.

Other changes stemming from the decision to discontinue negotiations on the acquisition—according to the announcement Sunday by Mrs. Grace W. King, secretary, and E. L. King Jr., president and treasurer—involve the election of two new vice presidents and the retirement of another, Ralph G. Bault.

THE ENLARGED BOARD consists of: Mrs. King, Mr. King, E. J. Sievers, senior vice president of finance; Howard F. Williams, vice president of operations; C. Bernard Jacobs, who is a vice president of Continental Illinois National Bank, Chicago, and John Windhorst of the Minneapolis law firm of Dorsey, Owen, Marquart, Windhorst and West.

Previously Mrs. Mariel King, daughter of Mrs. Grace King, had been a vice president and director of Watkins.

Mr. King said there has been no change in stock ownership. Almost all of it is held by Mr. King, his mother and sister. There are two minority stockholders.

THE NEW TWO vice presidents, who are not members of the board, are:

• Clarence C. Currier, who has been general city sales manager, becomes vice president of the city sales division.

• Harry M. Myers, who has been manager of the Watkins branch at Memphis, Tenn., where Watkins has a manufacturing plant, becomes vice president of the rural sales division.

Mr. King said that Mr. Bault's retirement was effective as of Saturday. He had been vice president in charge of farm line research and foreign overseas operations since May 1957.

Earlier in January, Mrs. King had announced the resignation of Director Douglas R. Robinson as vice president-marketing, a post he had held since May 1957.

MR. KING said that Mr. Jacobs and Mr. Windhorst would not have an active part in the management other than serving on the board of directors.

Curtailment Would Have Been 'Drastic'

By ADOLPH BREMER
Daily News City Editor

The intention of Chas. Pfizer & Co. to curtail Watkins Products operations here was involved in the decision announced Sunday not to sell Watkins to Pfizer, E. L. King Jr., Watkins president, said.

He made the comment after his mother, Mrs. Grace W. King, secretary of Watkins, had made the following announcement on behalf of Watkins and Pfizer:

"THE PRINCIPAL shareholders of Watkins Products, Inc., and the management of Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., today jointly announce that negotiations for the possible acquisition by Pfizer of the Watkins companies have been terminated by mutual consent."

Mrs. King had announced on Jan. 26 that the King family was considering selling controlling interest in Watkins to Pfizer. An exchange of stock was to be involved.

Actually, negotiations, although not as intensive as at that time, had been going on for a year or more.

Then on Feb. 6 Mrs. King, with consent of Pfizer management, announced that an "agreement had been reached for the sale of the company to Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., subject to necessary approvals by boards of directors of both companies."

Since the week of the first announcement and subsequently, until about 10 days ago, numerous Pfizer officials, including its president, have been at the Winona headquarters of Watkins and at its far-flung branches.

PRESIDENT King, who returned from Hawaii week before last, briefly, and returned again late last week for Watkins board reorganization meetings in Minneapolis, told the Daily News that he had learned that Pfizer's acquisition of Watkins would have resulted in a "great deal of curtailment here—very drastic. We didn't want to see that happen, to our people or the community."

The president said that the curtailment would have involved both plant and personnel.

FOR EXAMPLE, he explained, Pfizer's general offices in New York City would be duplicating Watkins on numerous accounting and other office functions, making, he indicated, certain Watkins operations unnecessary.

He said that this duplication might also involve some Watkins and Pfizer products.

Mr. King said that Watkins would have been relegated to a division of the giant pharmaceutical firm.

He said that he didn't want to see that happen because of the consequences to the firm and the community.

The decision not to sell, he indicated, was ratified at the board meeting in Minneapolis Friday and Saturday.

THE JAN. 26 announcement had included this statement: "There is absolutely no intention on our part or Pfizer's to move operations of the company out of Winona. The sale will merely involve an exchange of stock and have no effect on personnel or employment in the community. Indeed Pfizer is actually planning an expansion of operations in Winona."

"We feel sure that this action would be in the best interests of the company and the community, and the King family expects to remain closely associated with each."

Watkins has in excess of 300 employees locally and about 1,200 through its United States and overseas operations. That's not counting an estimated 15,000 dealers for its farm and home products.

Plants are located here, Memphis, Tenn.; Montreal and Winnipeg, Canada; Union of South Africa and Australia.

Pfizer HAS about 18,000 employees. Its 1961 sales were about $200 million.

Since Watkins stock is held privately it has revealed little about its financial affairs. Recently the Daily News quoted Chemical Week, an industrial publication, that Watkins sales were $60 to $65 million a year. A Watkins official said Sunday that this was a high estimate.

Mr. King, in discussing the decision not to sell to Pfizer, said that under the newly reorganized board "there's great hope for the future. We expect to go forward. We have definite expansions in mind."

Mrs. Kennedy Delays Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today that, because of a sinus infection, Mrs. John F. Kennedy has been forced to postpone the start of her India-Pakistan trip for a week. She is now due to begin the journey March 12.

The White House said the postponement was decided upon on the advice of the First Lady's physician.

She has been suffering from "a low-grade sinus infection for several months," press secretary Pierre Salinger said. The infection has caused an occasional fever, he added, but the fevers have been low.

The First Lady was at the airport in West Palm Beach, Fla., today to see her husband off on the flight bringing astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. and his family to Washington for a day of honors.

Sunday she went water skiing and took a dunking.

She did not make the trip back to the Capitol today, staying for a few more days in the sun.

Exact details of Mrs. Kennedy's itinerary have yet to be worked out, but the delay will knock out the first eight days of her previously announced schedule. She will start the trip with a visit in New Delhi, India, and carry on from that point as previously determined, ending the tour at Karachi, Pakistan, on March 26.

The body was found by William Carrel, Northfield policeman, at 6:35 a.m., about a half block from the Gravin home. The body lay face down in the snow near the sidewalk and in front of a garage.

The Gravins have several children. Gravin was reported working in California.

Mrs. Gravin told police she awakened about 6:15 a.m. to find the house cold and Stewart missing. She called police.

Patrolman Carrel, who answered the call, found the body, partly covered by fresh snow. The temperature was about 10 above.

New Snow, Sleet Storm in Midwest

Another snow and sleet storm hit sections of the Midwest today, dumping another blanket of white across the snow-covered midlands.

Wet weather also was in prospect for most of the eastern half of the nation, with snow and rain in the Northeast and rain in other areas outside the Midwest snow belt.

Arctic air from Canada spread into Montana, Wyoming and North Dakota. In Montana, temperatures fell to 26 below zero in Butte, -20 in Drummond, -19 in Lewistown and -17 in Cut Bank.

Snow also spread across areas in the central Rockies, Utah, Nevada and northern Arizona.

Showers and thundershowers broke out southeast of the Mid-

Lake Michigan and Lake Superior into Kansas, Nebraska and southern South Dakota. Heavy snow fell in Iowa, with six inches reported in a six-hour period in Des Moines, making a total of 15 inches on the ground. In Waterloo, Iowa, the seven-inch fall increased the total on the ground to 17 inches.

Four to eight inches of snow was indicated in northwest Wisconsin, and two to four inches in the northern half of Illinois.

In the Far West, showers damped scattered sections of California. Two inches of snow fell in the Mount Hamilton area south of San Francisco.

Fizzling rain and sleet slicked highways in northwest and extreme northern Illinois and the narrow icy belt stretched from the Oklahoma Panhandle to lower Michigan. Heavy snow or glaze warnings were posted for much of Kansas, Nebraska, northwest Missouri, Iowa and sections of Illinois and Wisconsin.

U.S. Supreme Court Rules On Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that no state may require racial segregation of transportation facilities.

Its ruling applies both to intrastate facilities, that is wholly within the state, as well as interstate, or travel across state lines.

The court said the question had been settled by its previous decisions and is no longer open to litigation.

It directed the U.S. District Court in Mississippi to rule on protests by Freedom Riders who were arrested in Jackson, Miss.

The Supreme Court told the District Court to dispose of the case expeditiously, "in the light of this (today's) opinion."

Since Watkins stock is held privately it has revealed little about its financial affairs. Recently the Daily News quoted Chemical Week, an industrial publication, that Watkins sales were $60 to $65 million a year. A Watkins official said Sunday that this was a high estimate.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Capital Gains, Losses Explained

(This is the sixth in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

Gain from the sale of a capital asset is given preferential tax treatment on both your Minnesota and federal tax returns. A capital asset can be generally defined as any property held by a taxpayer not in connection with a business and, with reference to the average taxpayer, means stocks, bonds, real estate, and homes.

Normally, when you sell any of the property described, you either sell it at a profit or you sustain a loss, both computations being based upon the difference between the cost you paid for the item sold and the selling price.

ITEMS SOLD by you at a loss which are held for personal use, while capital assets, do not result in a deductible loss. On the other hand, a gain based upon the difference between your cost and the selling price of the item does result in taxable gross income to you to the extent of the difference. The sale of a personal residence and the computation of income thereon will be discussed in the next article in this series. The profit on the sale of a capital asset which you have owned for six months or less is includible in gross income in its entirety. Where, however, you have held the asset for more than six months, only one-half of the net profit (after adding all of your gains and deducting all of your capital losses) is includible in gross income. Furthermore, where the tax upon this addition to gross income is more than one-fourth of the total long-term gain, the federal tax is reduced to this amount of one-fourth of the total long-term gain received. The rule is the same with regard to the Minnesota return and you are therefore allowed to deduct from gross income one-half of the net long-term gain before computing your tax.

LOSSES FROM the sale of capital assets, other than those held for your own benefit, are deductible in the year you sell the capital asset. However, these losses are limited to $1,000 in excess of the capital gains for any one year. Where your capital losses exceed capital gains by more than $1,000, you are allowed to deduct the excess capital losses in the five succeeding years against capital gains realized in those years, subject again, however, to the rule that the net deduction in excess of capital gains cannot exceed $1,000 in any of the following years.

Property used in your business but not held for sale to customers receives a hybrid treatment upon sale. If a profit is made on the sale, it is treated as capital gain. However, if a loss results, the loss is deductible in full in the year of sale. Some of the items in this category are rental property, store buildings and fixtures and farm machinery.

Robert Kennedy Hears Dutch Side of Crisis

By HENDRICK KERSTING

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy discussed the Dutch-Indonesian conflict over West New Guinea with Foreign Minister Joseph M. A. H. Luns today but aides said the U. S. attorney general brought no message from the Indonesian government to the Dutch.

The aides stressed that Kennedy was on a fact-finding tour and would report to his brother, President Kennedy.

Kennedy in his talks with Dutch officials stressed—as he did in Indonesia—that his government is anxious to see the Dutch-Indonesian dispute solved peacefully. Dutch leaders had high hopes that his talks in Indonesia and in the Netherlands would help bring about such a solution.

Kennedy arrived Sunday from Bonn for a busy round of calls before flying this afternoon to Paris, his last stop before flying home.

Soon after his arrival he and his wife had tea with Queen Juliana at Huis Ten Bosch, her palace on the outskirts of The Hague. Sunday night the attorney general dined with top government officials and West New Guinea was the chief topic of after-dinner discussion.

Mrs. Kennedy made a sightseeing tour of The Hague, Delft and Amsterdam.

Before leaving West Germany, the Kennedys drove the 15 miles from Bonn to Cologne to attend Mass at the famous Cologne Cathedral.

In a parting shot at the East German Communist regime, he said in a speech taped for broadcast to East Germany that on his world tour he had gained the impression that East German party chief Walter Ulbricht has "no prestige and no position in any place in the world in which I have been."

Help Your Child

Hobbies Fine If Kept in Line

By LESLIE J. NASON, D.D., Professor of Education, University of Southern California

Do you have a young baseball fan or hot-rodder or skin-diving enthusiast in your household?

Fine—As long as his school grades are kept up.

Hobbies and other extra-curricular activities broaden the lives of children as they do adults. They give a new dimension to life.

If a child loves music and devotes almost all available time to it, if he tears down old cars in the garage and builds them up again, if it's all to the good provided school grades are in keeping with his ability.

If not, parents must take action.

It is possible for a boy or girl to sell the chance for ultimate success in life for a pot of porridge of immediate pleasure. Don't let this happen to your child.

A youngster can participate in outside pursuits, perhaps quite a few of them, and still be good in school.

There is nothing wrong with a consuming interest. A good many youngsters find their forte in this way. It is dangerous only if it causes a prolonged blackout of other activities and grades drop significantly.

Parents who discover this concentrated interest on the part of a child at an early age are fortunate. They can broaden the youngster's interest by encouraging reading and participation in family discussions. If they are successful in school, school subjects can compete for their interest.

Children with many interests are less inclined to concentrate on one at the expense of all others.

Parents who do not discover that their youngsters are centering attention on one talent or hobby until they are in junior or senior high school have more of a problem.

For years I have watched parents use penalties and bribes in an attempt to persuade their children to give up special interests. They hoped that if the youngsters gave up these interests they would become engrossed in other subjects. By this method, the parent becomes an ogre. He refuses the boy or girl the one area in life in which he or she gets real satisfaction.

My own efforts to solve this problem were futile for 10 years. I met with exactly the same results as the frustrated parents.

baseball, but now he had a new interest. I asked a boy to sit down and talk about it. I hoped to get a new approach.

Important Medical Discovery

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch-Relieves Pain

Preparation H®—The Only Hemorrhoidal Remedy In World That Contains New Healing Substance.

Every Claim Verified By Doctors and Proved By 4 Leading Clinics.

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop burning rectal itch and relieve pain — without surgery or painful injections.

In one hemorrhoid case after another prompt relief was reported — also a "striking improvement" in from 2 to 4 days. These reports were verified by a doctor's observations and proved by four leading clinics.

Pain and itching were promptly relieved. And while gently relieving this distress — actual reduction (shrinking) of hemorrhoids took place. Most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astounding statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this was accomplished at home without surgery, injections, narcotics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world famous research institute. This new healing substance is offered in ointment or convenient suppository form called Preparation H. And Preparation H is the only hemorrhoidal remedy in the world containing this truly magical healing substance.

Magic Healing Power Discovered By Accident

Like many great discoveries—the effectiveness of Preparation H was also discovered quite by accident. In the laboratories of a famous research institution in Cincinnati, Ohio—renowned scientists were conducting advanced medical tests.

During an ether-extracting procedure, there was a sudden explosion. An assistant was severely burned. As an emergency measure, large quantities of an ointment (still in an experimental stage) were smeared on. To everyone's amazement, pain ceased immediately and the skin healed remarkably fast without scarring.

Later tests revealed this ointment was full of a new substance which has the astonishing power to heal injured skin. This substance was then scientifically combined with other effective medical ingredients into a product called Preparation H. And here's why this remarkable Hemorrhoid remedy is so successful — Preparation H promptly relieves pain and burning rectal itch. Shrinks hemorrhoids without surgery. Heals injured tissue back to normal and helps prevent infection of hemorrhoids.

Every claim made for Preparation H has been verified by doctors. This is the only hemorrhoidal remedy containing Bio-Dyne. Just ask for Preparation H at any drug counter in ointment or suppository form.

Boy Injured By Bullet Still Critical

The condition of Richard Busack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Busack, 672 1/2 Wilson St., still is unchanged.

Richard, 15 1/2-year-old Winona boy, is unconscious and in critical condition after suffering a bullet wound in his head Friday afternoon.

Richard was shot in the right temple by a bullet from a 22-caliber rifle found near his body, police reported earlier. The bullet passed through the victim's head and emerged on the left side. It lodged between the inner window and storm window of the boy's bedroom.

Police still are investigating the cause of the accident. Mrs. Busack told the Daily News Saturday that the shooting was an accident.

Richard's father called police at 5:20 p.m. to say he had found his son lying on the floor, shot. Police summoned an ambulance which took him to Winona General Hospital.

Police said they were satisfied that the rifle, found on a chair near the boy's unconscious body, was the one from which the bullet was fired. The boy apparently was shot from close range, according to the doctors' police report to police.

Two Utica Men Held for Theft

Wayne Sandrow, 34, and Ernest Smith, 45, both of Utica, Minn., are being held in the county jail on charges of car theft, Sheriff George Fort reported this morning.

The two men were arrested by sheriff's deputies at 4 a.m. today at Utica. He said they had driven the car, stolen from Dale Barth, Utica, only three blocks when they ran into another car owned by Walter Seifert. Damage to the Barth car was estimated at $75, deputies reported. Damage to Seifert's car was slight.

The men probably will be arraigned in Goodview justice court Tuesday, Sheriff Fort said.

Husbands Given Suspended Terms

Two Winona men received suspended sentences for assault when they appeared before Municipal Judge S. D. J. Bruski this morning.

Street Crew Downtown; Five Accidents Sixth Time in Ten Days In City During Weekend Snow

For the sixth night in the past 10 days, the street department will be working in the downtown area tonight.

Street Commissioner Arthur Brom said that the usual area was posted this afternoon, plus the 2nd Street parking lot. Some snow removal was accomplished early this morning.

By late this afternoon he expected that almost all of the long and cross streets would have been plowed. By Tuesday morning everything will have been plowed, although by that time it probably will have snowed again.

Because of the continuing snow, sanding will be done only in very slippery spots, said Brom.

He warned that the street department won't go back to spots where motorists left their cars parked. They'll have to shovel the area out if they want it clean, said Brom. He said that motorists should cooperate and keep cars off the streets during plowing.

Police said that Ellings, son of Mayor and Mrs. R. K. Ellings, was driving east on King Street when he hit the left side of Mrs. Backer's car, headed north on Sioux Street.

Treated for minor injuries were four occupants of the Backer car: Mrs. Backer, her 9-year-old daughter, Mary, Miss Carol Schmidt and Miss Dorothy Felsch.

A physician sewed up Ellings' cut, then he went to classes.

No estimate had been made this morning on damage to the cars.

IN SUNDAY accidents, cars driven by Mrs. Hans Hansen, 1113 W. Mark St., and Larry C. Willis, 20 Des Moines, Iowa, collided at the intersection of West Wabasha and Sioux streets at 10:10 a.m.

Mrs. Hansen was driving east on Wabasha, Willis south on Sioux.

Damage to Hansen's car was estimated by police at $200, to Willis' at $250. Mrs. Hansen complained of pain, but there was no evidence of injury, police said.

Another intersection accident Sunday found Sylvester R. Cieminski, 876 E. 4th St., and Dale R. Brabbi, 496 E. Bellevue St., colliding at Mankato Avenue and East Broadway at 2:15 p.m.

Police estimated Cieminski's car received $100 damage, Brabbi's $75. Neither driver was tagged.

At 4:55 P.M. Sunday, David A. Bess, 20 Fountain City, Wis., ran into the rear end of a car driven by Leo J. Lange, 522 Macemon St., on Gilmore Avenue near South Baker. Both cars were heading east.

Damage was estimated by police at $100 on each car.

Kermit N. Aschem, 462 E. Wabasha St., collided with a car driven by Dennis E. Gebhard, 19, 809 W. Broadway at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of West Broadway and Grand streets.

Aschem's car received $200 damage, police said, Gebhard's $150.

Over the weekend at least 56 persons were killed in what seemed to be indiscriminate attacks by European and Moslem terrorists. The Saturday toll was 30, and 26 were reported killed Sunday.

Sorne 800 Moslem students at the University of Algiers went on strike, protesting that police protection against the secret army terrorists was not adequate. Mail delivery was also continuing a strike for more protection which they demanded after seven postmen on their rounds were shot last week.

Four Moslem dead and one wounded were sprawled over a 100-yard stretch of sidewalk opposite the University of Algiers.

An aged Moslem with a pointed white beard and dressed in a flowing robe lay dead across the street from the U.S. Information Service library. A Moslem youth, badly wounded, huddled by his side. A young man who had passed just before the attack said they had been sitting on the sidewalk watching passersby when they were shot.

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Armored cars and riot troops swarmed into the heart of Algiers today but European terrorists killed 10 more Moslems, virtually under the eyes of police.

The Algerian nationalist rebels' parliament was meeting in Tripoli and was expected to approve a cease-fire with the French before the day is over.

This was expected to touch off another eruption of violence by the secret army, enemy of both the rebels and the French government.

In its campaign to block Algerian independence and keep the territory French, the secret army Sunday staged one of its most daring attacks to date—a bazooka raid on a French military police barracks in the outskirts. At least 10 persons were reported slain and gasoline storage tanks were set afire.

French authorities retaliated by moving armed forces into Algiers from outlying bases, but still the killings went on in the crowded street of Algiers.

Six Moslems were slain on the Rue Michelet. Police arrested a European and said he admitted one of the attacks.

Four Moslem dead and one wounded were sprawled over a 100-yard stretch of sidewalk opposite the University of Algiers.

An aged Moslem with a pointed white beard and dressed in a flowing robe lay dead across the street from the U.S. Information Service library. A Moslem youth, badly wounded, huddled by his side. ## Is This One of Those 'Good Old Winters'?

We don't have winters like the good old days. But there's many a Winonan who would like to trade what we've been getting for one.

ANOTHER FIVE inches of snow fell on the city over the weekend, plugging up streets and driveways again and making it difficult for the motorists.

The weekend snowfall brought the month's total to 29.5 inches and the total for the 1951-52 winter to date 38.4 inches.

This may not be the greatest amount of snowfall in any winter but it compares favorably with the 61.6 inches which fell to Feb. 26 in the winter of 1951-52 which was followed by the highest river on record.

In 1951-52 24 inches followed in March and April to bring the winter's total to 85.7 inches.

A COMPARISON of snowfall this winter with 1951-52 follows:

	1951-52	1951-52
November	6.5	9.5
December	20.4	19.5
January	1.0	19.5
February	29.5	13.1
March	—	16.1
April	—	8.0
Total to Feb. 26	56.4	61.6
Total for year	7	85.7

Morning deliveries from out of town were being made on schedule, despite the heavy snow. Drivers from Wisconsin reported difficult travel east of Winona but all main roads were open, the highway departments of Minnesota and Wisconsin reported.

Today is the 10th day in a row on which snow has fallen in Winona and the 17th of the month. Normal snowfall for February is 8.3 inches.

It Happened Last Night Put Sinatra With Tops of Show Biz

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The burning question today is: "Does Frank Sinatra belong in the All-Time Big Five of Show Business," the Entertainers' Hall of Fame?

"Yes," say I—but I'll listen to the other side if there is one, though I think there isn't.

Frank has been charming the ears of American audiences since the Swinartna period 20 years ago, and how many have had such lasting greatness?

Basic Terms For New Steel Pact Sought

By NORMAN WALKER

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—Labor union sources reported today that steel negotiations in Pittsburgh have not progressed nearly so well as it is generally believed.

The basic terms for a new labor contract simply have not yet been determined, according to informed reports circulated here at the winter meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council. The reports suggest that the friendly atmosphere of the talks has been no more than just that.

Both sides have been aiming informally at a March 1 settlement in response to President Kennedy's repeated urging for an early agreement to replace contracts expiring June 30. It is not now expected the March 1 target will be realized.

The steel labor situation is being watched closely by union leaders in other industries for clues on a nationwide bargaining trend.

Over the weekend, the AFL-CIO council expressed alarm at the continuing high rate of unemployment and called for a combined drive for higher wages, a federal income tax cut and increased public works spending to expand purchasing power and create more jobs.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said in a locally televised interview that organized labor wanted to see the Kennedy recession in the next six months or so.

The AFL-CIO leader said economic recovery has struck a snag and that interest rates again have started climbing. He advocated a flexible work week system that would reduce normal work hours below 40 a week in times of heavy unemployment but return them to the 40-hour level during full employment periods.

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

TUCSON, Ariz.—The first day of my stay here was gray, and the natives complained about the 60 degree cold, which felt marvelous to me after what I had left in Minnesota. The C. A. Choate house is low and irregular and made of beautiful soft-rose adobe bricks. Inside, some of the walls are made of the same adobe brick and some of lovely grayed wood. The rooms are spacious and done in subdued desert colors of off-white, grays, beiges, greens, with sharp slashes of color for accent. The windows are enormous so that the outdoors and indoors merge, and one wall of the living room in glass so that the outdoor patio seems actually part of the living room.

When the Choates bought this house the patio was a patch of green lawn bordered in roses, but they converted it into a typical desert garden with plantings natural to the desert. Both Charles and Adele took great pleasure in working out this beautiful garden. From the long shaded patio porch with its comfortable lawn chairs and outdoor furniture, one walks out onto a narrow irregular strip of emerald green lawn, and beyond that is the gravelled typically desert garden walled in by curving adobe brick walls from the encroaching cactus desert beyond, and the towering Santa Catalina mountains beyond the desert.

As a desert garden it has a background of many exotic varieties of cactus and desert bushes and flowers. There are three adobe-walled circles that enclose handsome palo verde trees which will be a waterfall of yellow bloom soon. Against the brick wall bloom yellow acacia, blue rosemary and tall brilliant coral aloes, and later in the spring the various thorny cactuses will put out blossoms of all colors. Most amazing are the huge saguaro cactus that stand like stiff grenadiers, which later put out on their tops circles of white blossoms that look for all the world like absurd little French hats tilted rakishly.

Noisy flickers and many varieties of woodpeckers sweep in. They like to perch on the tall thorny saguaro cactus and peck away, and as we saw in the Desert Museum they actually do peck holes for dwellings for themselves and other birds. Many kinds of striped sparrows, western wrens and grayish warblers fly in, but I haven't yet identified many. (Though I'm reading Roger Toxy Peterson's "Field Guide to Western Birds.")

But most beguiling of all are the Gambel's quail which come in such numbers that the Choates named their house "Quail Ridge." They are plump chicken-like birds of about 11 inches, gray barred, with russet heads, black face masks and the most absurd and clef-lit black plumes sprouting out of their foreheads in the shape of a forward-turned question mark. The males have a black low-cut vest. Quite tame, they scuffle along the ground giving a 3-note call, and they're real fun to watch. One could watch this astounding bird show in the desert patio with the shadowy mountains beyond all day and never tire of its variety. In fact Mrs. Choate has become what she calls a confirmed mountain-watcher.

Civilians Run U.S., General Says

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, said Saturday that "some of the military started to talk up just to fill a vacuum."

Appearing on a local news panel show Gen. Hershey said every body in the military knows civilians run the country "and that's the way it should be."

Referring to congressional investigations into charges that military men had been murdered in their speeches, Gen. Hershey said he never uses written speeches and doesn't know much about the subject.

Canada's largest city, Montreal, is a manufacturing and rail-rail center and also a busy port.

Patrolman Passes Bar Examination

BALDWIN, N. Y. (AP)—Nassau County patrolman Walter R. Henesy is a devoted father to a family that soon will number a dozen children. But he hasn't had much time to enjoy the role.

For the past six years, he has been grinding away at his studies—going to bed late, arising early for his regular job and doing odd jobs on the weekend to pay for his education.

Now that's all in the past. He recently passed his bar examination and expects to be admitted to the bar in June.

THE Brooklyn-born patrolman, now 42, grew up in Oceanside, N. Y. He had to leave high school to take a job to help support his family, which had 10 children.

After Army service in the China-Burma-India theater, he married his childhood sweetheart, Helen Maloney, and set about having the large family.

His bid to realize the dream of an education came after he joined the police force in 1949. First, he got his high school equivalency diploma, then attended Hofstra College by meshing it into his work schedule. Next he attended St. John's University Law School in New York City, again on a staggered schedule.

"It meant going into a room with the books and shutting yourself off from the world," said Henesy, who earns $7,400-a-year as a patrolman. He has no immediate plans for leaving the police force. He says a law office is the dream of every lawyer "but I've got 11-12 kids to take care of."

The Henesys hope the next child—due in May—will be a boy. That would even things out. Presently, they have six girls and five boys.

Sg. York Has Word for Glenn

FALL MALL, Tenn. (AP)—The man who became an American hero during world war I has joined the nation in paying tribute to its new hero of the space age. "God bless you is my prayer," Sgt. Alvin C. York said over the weekend in a telegram to astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.

"You have done more to achieve peace than two presidents have done in the last 20 years," Sgt. York wrote. "As I watched you on television, my mind went back to the battle of Argonne, and I know what you were going through."

The 70-year-old hero of yesterday was referring to the battle on Oct. 8, 1918, when he was credited with putting a German machine gun battalion out of action, killing 25 Germans and taking 132 prisoners.

French investigators have reported that molds can control sheep hoolworm.

Castro Appears At Ball Game

HAVANA (AP)—Looking happy and healthy Fidel Castro emerged from 12 days of silence and seclusion Sunday for a baseball and television appearance.

The Cuban prime minister lined out two hits—one with two strikes against him—after making an unannounced appearance at a doubleheader in "Latino Americano" stadium.

The crowd of 32,000 cheered and the nation's television audience watched as Castro accepted the challenge of two pitchers to strike him out.

Castro's disappearance from the public eye set a variety of rumors to flying. One was that he had gone to Moscow, another that he had taken asylum in the Mexican Embassy.

The Communist party newspaper Hoy published a long communique over Castro's name charging the United States was plotting an invasion and thanking the Soviet Union for pledging support of Cuba.

DEAR ABBY:

Seeks New Title For Marriage Book

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: I am frequently asked, "Do YOU ever have a problem, Abby?" The answer is yes. And right now I have a dandy and appealing one for my readers for a solution.

I have just written a new book. It's all about marriage, why it fails and how to save it. I titled it, MARRIAGE ON THE ROCKS. (The condensation is presently appearing in McCall's Magazine.)

I have just been informed that the title of my book was so good that someone else used it years ago. This was news to me. Furthermore, if I insisted on using my title, I would have to fight it in court. No, thank you. I decided to change the title instead. It's a serious book (but not without humor) dealing with marriage and "hi infidelity." So, Dear Readers, wherever you are, if you can think of a fitting title for my new book, formerly MARRIAGE ON THE ROCKS, please rush it to me. ABBY, (AUTHOR WITHOUT A TITLE)

Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a fishing bug. During the summer months he fished only on weekends. I didn't mind getting up at four a.m. to fix him a hot breakfast and pack him a good lunch. But recently he has taken up night fishing. He tells me blue fish bite better at night, so he takes off in the evening and returns at dawn, all done in, and with a very small catch. The fish he catches at night do not seem as fresh as the fish he caught in the daytime, and they look more like flounders than blue fish. I want to know if blue fish really bite better at night. FISHERMAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It doesn't matter when the blue fish bite better if you continue to go for his line. Any man who can pass off a couple of fish market flounders for fresh blue fish should spend his time selling, not fishing.

DEAR ABBY: I met a very nice boy at the skating rink. He goes to a different school, but we started liking each other, so I told him I was also in the eighth grade, but I am really in the ninth grade. I was afraid if he knew I was in a higher grade he wouldn't like me any more. Now I am afraid somebody might tell him. Should I tell him myself or do you think it would be the end of his liking me? NINTH GRADER

DEAR NINTH: Tell him yourself. And fast. And don't ever down-grade yourself again.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MAMI MOTHER: If you permit your daughter to "go steady" at 12 and 13 years old, don't wring your hands and moan when she tells you she is old enough to get married at 17 or 18.

Should U.S. Foot Campaign Bills?

THE LARGEST political contributor to the 1964 presidential campaign could well be the federal government.

A prime-time bi-partisan Presidential Commission on Campaign Costs is currently studying methods by which the federal government could aid in financing the heavy costs of a presidential campaign.

In creating the commission last October, President Kennedy said campaign costs have become so high that the success of candidates is often "governed by their success as fund raisers."

The President said he had "long thought that we must either provide a federal share in campaign costs, or reduce the cost of campaign services, or both." He asked the commission to report by April 30 with recommendations that might be considered in the 1962 session of Congress.

The commission, whose chairman is Alexander Heard, dean of the University of North Carolina Graduate School, has been holding private hearings and has solicited the written views of over 500 organizations and persons interested in financing of political campaigns.

ACTING UNDER the President's mandate, the commission is reportedly giving top consideration to actual federal government subsidies to the major parties and their presidential candidates.

A precedent for such involvement is a Puerto Rican law which allows each of the parties receiving 10 percent or more of the vote to draw up to $150,000 for campaign expenses from a special government account in every election year. The law also limited individual contributions to $600 each election year.

In 1960, all three Puerto Rican parties ran out of government funds with six weeks left in the campaign. The parties then launched intensive fund-raising drives aimed at business and government employees, a drive which violated the spirit if not the letter of the election law.

A key task of President Kennedy's commission will be to come up with recommendations that can incorporate the best points of the Puerto Rican law but avoid abuses defeating the purpose of government aid.

OTHER POSSIBILITIES being considered by the commission include:

- Free or reduced-cost radio and television time. President Kennedy said he expected the commission would consider a permanent law similar to the temporary one which permitted the major networks to present 1960 debates between the Republican and Democratic presidential candidates without granting "equal time" to the various minor party candidates.

- Income tax deductions or credits for political contributions. The United Auto Workers presented a proposal to the commission to allow each taxpayer a $10 tax credit for political contributions.

- Allow candidates to make income tax deductions for their own campaign expenses—a practice now forbidden by the Internal Revenue Act.

- Establish more stringent reporting regulations and limitations on political donations, together with effective enforcement machinery.

- Payment by the federal government of a president-elect's staff costs in the "transition period" between election and inauguration.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY gave the commission no specific authority to recommend federal government subsidies or aid for congressional, state, and local campaigns. The small budgets of Senate and House candidates may well make them more susceptible to undue pressure from large contributors than the presidential candidates who operate with multi-million dollar budgets.

It is also doubtful whether the commission is authorized to make recommendations for the payment of campaign costs for would-be-presidential candidates engaged in presidential primaries or wooing of delegates before the nominating conventions. These costs are often very high, and a presidential aspirant might be more tempted to accept gifts from special interest groups before the convention than he would afterwards, when, as a regular nominee, the party's normal sources of funds are open to him.

SOURCES CLOSE to the commission have indicated, however, that even if state and local campaign costs and pre-convention presidential campaign costs are excluded from the report, the document may include implications or precedents which could later be applied in those areas.

O that today you would hearken to his voice! Harden not your hearts. Psalm 95:7-8.

Business With India as Usual

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

"The United States plans to do business as usual with India despite Goa." So says a UPI dispatch by Patrick J. Killen, filed from New Delhi. I regard this as a most illuminating confession.

"Disappointment, yes, but not disenchantment is the word being quietly put out by the American Embassy in New Delhi," the story continues.

Mr. Killen then offers several paragraphs of what he says are embassy views:

"The United States has suggested that in the future India should be more concerned with the American opinion. Goa has made it more difficult for the administration to deal with India."

"At the same time, the United States continues to recognize India's importance as the biggest democracy in Asia. It also realizes that the Indian action has raised Nehru's stature, not diminished it, with a number of African countries and most of the Asian neutrals."

The balance of the dispatch indicates that we are going to continue our aid to India.

Well, well, well. Nehru's action raised his prestige with African and Asian neutrals, did it? What was Nehru's action?

The use of force to take over Portuguese colonies. But I thought the neutrals condemned force. Isn't this why we have permitted Soviet Russia to establish a beachhead in Cuba? Because we were afraid the neutralist nations would condemn the use of force?

IN MR. KILLEN'S dispatch he says that "Portugal had nothing but a colonial claim on the 1,300 square miles which make up Goa, Daman, Diu." What claim does Communist Russia have on Cuba? And yet, in a more destructive sense, Cuba is a colony of Soviet Russia. Its policy, its military posture, its trade tactics are all dictated from the center of communism.

It occurs to me that if Nehru's use of force has earned the respect of "neutralists," would not the United States be entitled to that same respect if our foreign policy took a firm stand against the establishment of a Communist colony in our hemisphere?

IT SEEMS to me that what the State Department through the Embassy in New Delhi is confessing is the truth of the conservative argument that a willingness to act firmly — to employ strength in the national interest — is the one aspect of foreign policy all nations respect. How do you stand, sir?

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CEF

Two college alumni who had roomed together for four years met for the first time since graduation at their fifteenth reunion. One of them sported a beard that made Mitch Miller look clean-shaven. "I'd never have known you with those whiskers," laughed his old pal. "Did you lose a bet or something?"

"I presume that you refer to my beard," said the hairy one loftily. "If you must know, I hate the darn thing."

"Then why don't you shave it off?" asked the friend.

"Because," was the logical reply, "my wife hates it even more than I do."

In one respect, observes Maurice Edelman, a member of England's House of Commons, the expense account seemingly has elevated our moral standards. A business tycoon used to take his secretary on a trip and say she was his wife. Now he takes his wife and says she is his secretary.

According to Juliet Lowell, a big food store chain recently received the following letters:

1. My husband is crazy about alligator pears. Will you please tell me what part of the alligator they come from?

2. A clerk in your poultry department advised me to stuff a chicken he sold me. How can I stuff a bird that seems to be full of stuff before I start?

3. Please stop mailing my husband announcements of your cut-rate liquor sales. He died two months ago—with a lot of help from you.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Harassed Professor Helped Make Space Flight Possible

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It's a great day for Col. John Glenn and his family and the people of the United States as they celebrated in the nation's capital today.

But it's also a great day for an almost forgotten professor in St. Louis who left the government after he was hounded by then Cong. Richard Nixon and his Un-American Activities Committee. The professor, Dr. Edward V. Condon, now sitting in St. Louis without headlines, contributed one of the most important ingredients to Col. Glenn's success—the heat-resistant nose cone.

In 1954 the Navy was trying desperately to find a heat-resistant substance for its missiles' space capsules which would withstand the tremendous heat generated when they re-enter the earth's atmosphere. Glenn's Mercury capsule generated 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit last week.

So the Navy in June '54 asked Dr. Condon of Corning Glass to go to work. Condon had been director of the Bureau of Standards, but got disgusted with government witch-hunting and resigned after Cong. Richard Nixon went after Mrs. Condon on the charge that she was a communist and attended a Yugoslav cocktail party.

But in '54, Dr. Condon, having resigned from government, went back to work for the government, under the auspices of Corning Glass, in developing a heat-resistant nose cone. He succeeded, and in October 1954 drove the nose cone down to the Navy to deliver it.

BUT THE NAVY refused to accept it. For, as a result of a phone call from the vice president, Condon's security clearance had been removed. Nixon, campaigning in Montana, had read in the paper that Condon had been given a security clearance and telephoned to demand that it be revoked.

Three weeks later the Navy got smart and accepted Condon's new invention. And it was a refinement of this formula for heat-resistant material, first developed by Dr. Condon and Corning Glass that went into the Mercury capsule which took Col. Glenn on his history-making orbit.

Having had his security clearance removed, Dr. Condon had to resign from Corning Glass because it was working on government contracts. Corning loyally stuck by him, but thanks to Nixon's protest he left for Washington University, St. Louis, from where he'll be watching on TV the festivities which he helped make possible.

AMERICAN scientists say that the Khrushchev offer of Russian-American space cooperation could lead to great achievements.

Generally they have found Russian scientists quite frank on nonmilitary subjects. The Russians have already exchanged all sorts of important information with American doctors, and even during the U-2 crisis, when Moscow newspapers were blasting the United States, a delegation of American doctors in Moscow was getting excellent cooperation from Russian doctors on children's diseases.

Last summer when I was in Moscow, I accompanied a group of American and Canadian doctors to the Botkin Hospital, where Russian doctors spent the better part of the day giving the most meticulous and frank explanation of all their work. The American doctors said the artificial kidney they had developed was quite new and revolutionary.

This was about ten days after Khrushchev had made a belligerent speech warning what would happen to the olive groves of Greece and the Acropolis if we got into atomic war.

COMMISSIONER of Narcotics Harry Anslinger has paid tribute to Russian support for his vigorous efforts to prevent illegal dope traffic, even when in opposition to their Red Chinese allies who have been the chief opium traders.

Adm. George Dufek, former U. S. naval commander in the Antarctic, told a group of Washington newsmen how Russian scientists had given him complete cooperation in the Antarctic. He even turned over one American observation post to the Russians to operate.

During my interview with Premier Khrushchev at the Black Sea last summer, I recalled some of this past scientific cooperation, and suggested that the United States and Russia ease the cold war by cooperating on a small scale on projects which could be expanded into major understanding.

Khrushchev is a good listener. He listened carefully. He did not make too much comment, except to say as I departed: "Tell President Kennedy that if the United States and the Soviet stand together, no country in the world can ever start atomic war."

PRESIDENT Kennedy today helps celebrate the most kicked-around but one of the most important agencies of government—the Voice of America.

The voice has now been telling the world the story of America since Feb. 24, 1942, when it went on the air two months after Pearl Harbor.

Some distinguished personalities have headed or guided the voice, ranging from Elmer Davis, the first information chief, to Palmer Hottel of the Denver Post, and Milton Eisenhower, to Edward R. Murrow.

But almost every congressman has figured he knows more about what the Voice of America should tell the world than its directors, with the result that it has been advised and preached to, harassed and harried, cut and kicked more than any other agency.

Its darkest days were during the McCarthy era, when he looked under all its beds for alleged Reds.

Despite all this harassment, however, the Voice has done a surprisingly good job selling the USA to the world.

HELPING THE ACTORS NEW YORK (AP)—Jean Erdman provided a special service for actors preparatory to production of her stage adaptation of James Joyce's "Finnegans Wake."

Prior to role auditions, Miss Erdman set a series of readings by a Joyce expert. The open house sessions, she explained, were intended to familiarize players with the Irish author's distinctive qualities and make possible better understanding of roles. The play is planned for presentation in the spring.

SIGN WAS GRIM MEMPHIS (AP)—One of the grimmer facts of life was impressed on a vacationing Memphis family when they saw this road sign:

"Forest Lawn Cemetery, dead ahead."

"Well, I certainly wouldn't mind if the bottom fell out of the market and you suddenly lost THAT shirt!"

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Federal Control Pressure Grows

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Despite the fact that the House of Representatives overwhelmingly defeated the administration's latest reorganization plan, President Kennedy predicts that the establishment of a Department of Urban Affairs, which he unsuccessfully advocated, is an inevitable development.

But the President, unhappily, has not analyzed the real reason for the setback. It wasn't personal. It wasn't based, as he suggests, on opposition from rural areas to giving aid to cities. It wasn't motivated by the ill-advised intersection of racial issue in the announcement that Robert C. Weaver, a Negro, would be appointed to head the new department.

The refusal of Congress to go along was due primarily to a deep-seated revolt against the concept of a centralized government which could conceivably convert the White House into the most powerful political machine this country has ever known.

For if a department of Urban Affairs is needed to work with municipal governments, it is just as logical to ask for the creation of two other departments—one covering all relations between the federal government and state governments, and another to embrace all relations with county governments. Likewise, it can be argued that the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare has too broad a scope, and that it should be separated into two departments, so that one can specialize in education.

But the basic mistake is in the concept that new departments are needed for urban affairs, just because city problems have increased. Fundamentally, if the federal government is to maintain the constitutional principle of state, city and county systems, as separated from the federal system—what is desirable is not several new departments, but one department that specializes in the disbursement of federal funds and the making of contracts with the states, counties and cities.

Also, if the argument that the federal government doesn't intend to control the educational process of the states—when federal funds are furnished to them—is accepted as sincere, then all that is needed is a good business organization to see that federal funds are matched by the states, and that the money is spent for the purposes set forth in the law.

WHILE ROBERT Weaver might be a good man for a cabinet post some day, it would have been much better if the President had turned to the business or financial world and had selected another Robert McNamara to head up the very Department of Urban Affairs which he espoused. For it is not a knowledge of city politics that is so much needed as a familiarity with large business and financial transactions.

Billions of dollars of the taxpayers' money are involved in all these plans for new departments. Thus, the billions that are spent by the federal government in co-operation with the states for highways are in the hands of the Bureau of Public Roads inside the U. S. Department of Commerce.

It could logically be argued that U. S. Department Relations with the States would more properly supervise the work done by the Bureau of Public Roads and other agencies of the federal government that deal with the states.

Counties have too long been neglected. Federal funds are being furnished to "distressed areas" through the Area Redevelopment Administration, which is in the U. S. Department of Commerce. This department today delegates some of the activities of the Area Redevelopment Administration to at least five other departments or agencies of the federal government.

THE FALLACY in the approach heretofore to the problems of administrative reform and reorganization is that broad subjects—agriculture, labor and Commerce—have been confused with simple tasks which are designed to make sure that federal funds are spent for the objectives stipulated in the appropriation laws passed by Congress.

The federal government is growing as population grows. And while the fundamental structure of the government here can be improved and modernized, the basic principles laid down in the constitution are still valid—namely, that self-rule must be maintained, as well as a reliance on the states and cities and counties to exercise full responsibility for their own systems of government.

What is needed in government today is decentralization instead of more centralization. The states and cities are not all equal in financial capacity, and some federal aid becomes essential. The doctrine, however, that the federal government shall extract from taxpayers in New York state, for example, money to pay for the projects of the state of Illinois, which has the resources to finance its own needs, cannot be persuasively defended. The President the other day in his

Aspirin May Help Condition

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has a mild form of osteoarthritis which affects the spine in the neck. It causes frequent and rather severe headaches. We would appreciate knowing of medication and other measures to treat it. —MRS. W. C. T.

People with osteoarthritis of the spine in the neck often slouch—and that's just asking for more trouble. Correction of posture is necessary.

Medication? Aspirin remains one of the best ever discovered for this. Occasionally stronger pain-relievers are needed. To relieve muscle spasm—heat, gentle massage, sometimes muscle-relaxing drugs.

In my experience neck traction has been quite effective. This can be done at home with suitable apparatus, and relief after a series of treatments often lasts for a considerable time.

Dear Dr. Molner: How long do eggs of pinworm remain dormant or alive?

Regardless of boiled bedding and clothes, plus sulphur or gentian violet cures, we have recurring infections after a few months. Could such infections lurk in a diverticulum after the rest of the tract has been cleared?

Do dogs and cats carry the worms?—A. P.

The complete cycle, from swallowed eggs to hatched worms, takes two to three weeks.

Recurrent attacks raise suspicion of (a) incomplete treatment to start with, or (b) reinfection from other members of the household—adults as well as children. There are newer and more effective medications now than the ones you mentioned.

Yes, pinworms are known to lurk in the appendix, for example, so perhaps could infest a diverticulum.

Animals do not carry pinworm.

press conference said that 90 percent of the American people now live in cities, and offered this as a justification for supervision of urban affairs by a department of the federal government—a formula that could make the White House in the future a bigger source of political power and boss rule than a dozen Tammany Halls combined.

Sister Arrives From Ireland at Galesville Convent

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—From Ireland—where spring was already beginning with daffodils and primroses abloom—to Galesville—with more than a foot of snow on the ground and more promised—was the experience last week of Sister Mary Rosari, who has joined nuns in the Angels of the Apostles convent.

She replaces Sister Finbarr who returned to the Provincial House at Cork, Ireland. Sister Rosari also is a teacher and will take up work in religion with pupils of the area.

Sister Finbarr is one of three nuns who opened Galesville's first convent in September 1957. All were from Ireland. En route to Ireland she stopped in New York to visit a brother. She hopes to return here by August. During her absence she'll visit relatives in Cork and Dublin.

Sister Wenceslaus, superior here, visited Ireland last year. The third occupant of the local convent is Sister Fidelis. The three conduct religious instructions here, at Eltrick and at Trempealeau.

House of the Week

Here Are 10 Rooms on One Floor

By JULES LOH
AP Newsfeatures

If you're in the market for a three-bedroom house with two baths, living room, dining room, family room, foyer, plus a few extras like a screened porch and patio, you probably already have resigned yourself to a multi-story home in the 2,500-square-foot category.

That's what makes this handsome ranch worthy of selection as House of the Week. It has only one story and only 1,608 feet of floor space.

ARCHITECT Samuel Paul hasn't sacrificed either good zoning or good traffic circulation to achieve this. It isn't necessary to cross any room in the house to get to any other room; and the floor plan is clearly laid out in formal, informal and sleeping areas.

He has provided not one, but no less than four outdoor terraces, in addition to a 9' by 19' screened porch. The house also has a double garage and a partial cellar. Its overall dimensions are 79'8" by 46' and it is design J-8 in the House of the Week series.

There isn't a square inch of wasted space inside this house. The main key to this design efficiency is an attractive divider, rather than an ordinary wall, which separates the living room, dining room and foyer.

THE DIVIDER is composed of a low planter with a two-way cabinet and decorative grille. It serves as a storage cabinet from the foyer side and a breckfront from the dining room side.

Thus it not only is a functional separator, but it also gives the formal area the much sought after open quality.

The exterior presents a balanced facade of stone piers integrated into a stone planter at their base and contrasted against narrow vertically jointed plywood siding. The rhythmic pattern has the effect of elongating the house, gracefully. Two of the stone piers combine to form a living room bay, and the exposed gable ends are treated similarly, to give the house unity.

UNDoubtedly most home buyers are more interested in the dollars and cents aspects of a house, but it's difficult to describe this one without calling attention also to architect Paul's keen attention to livability.

For example, the simple addition of sliding doors off the master bedroom to its own private patio provides an exquisite touch of luxury. Imagine stepping out there with a cool drink on a warm evening before retiring. Friends, that's living.

These doors, incidentally, constitute one of five exterior entrances to the house; and this patio is only one of four.

The main patio is off the screened porch, and a smaller patio serves as a similar overflow to the family room. A terrace in front provides a graceful entry as well as a place for old-fashioned porch-sitting.

THE INFORMAL and housekeeping areas of this house also deserve a closer look.

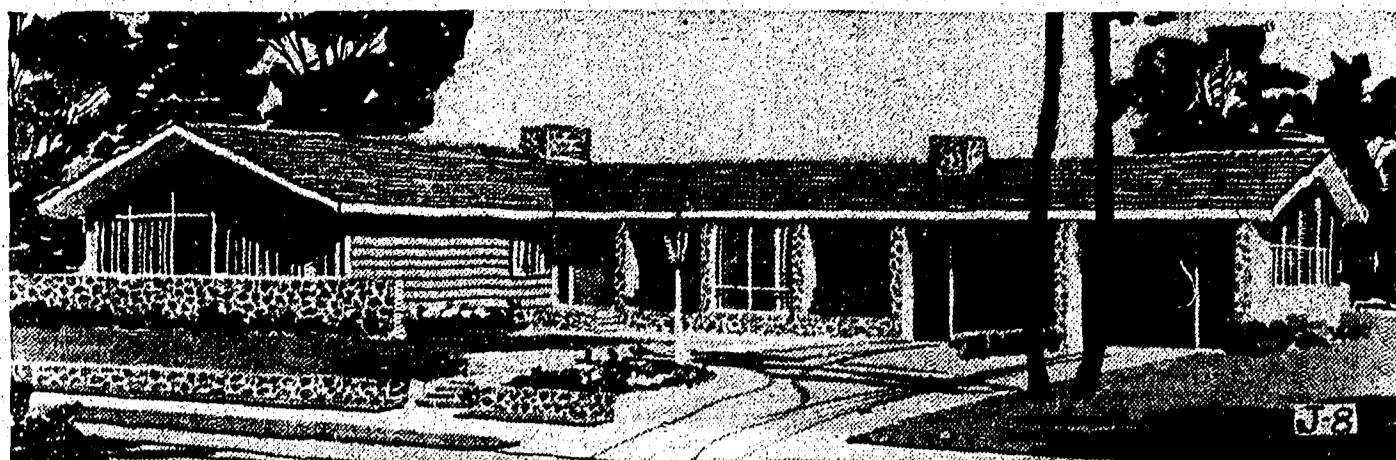

The kitchen is ideally placed adjacent to the dining room, and at the same time is organized as a separate part of the family room; is convenient to the front entry, service entry and cellar stairs; and affords supervision of the backyard play area.

The stone veneer of the family room fireplace is tied into the kitchen, forming a dramatic view from the end of the corridor; and the rear of the stone fireplace is exposed in the kitchen between the counter top and cabinets.

The arrangement of the bathrooms so they both use the same plumbing lines is an obvious economical advantage.

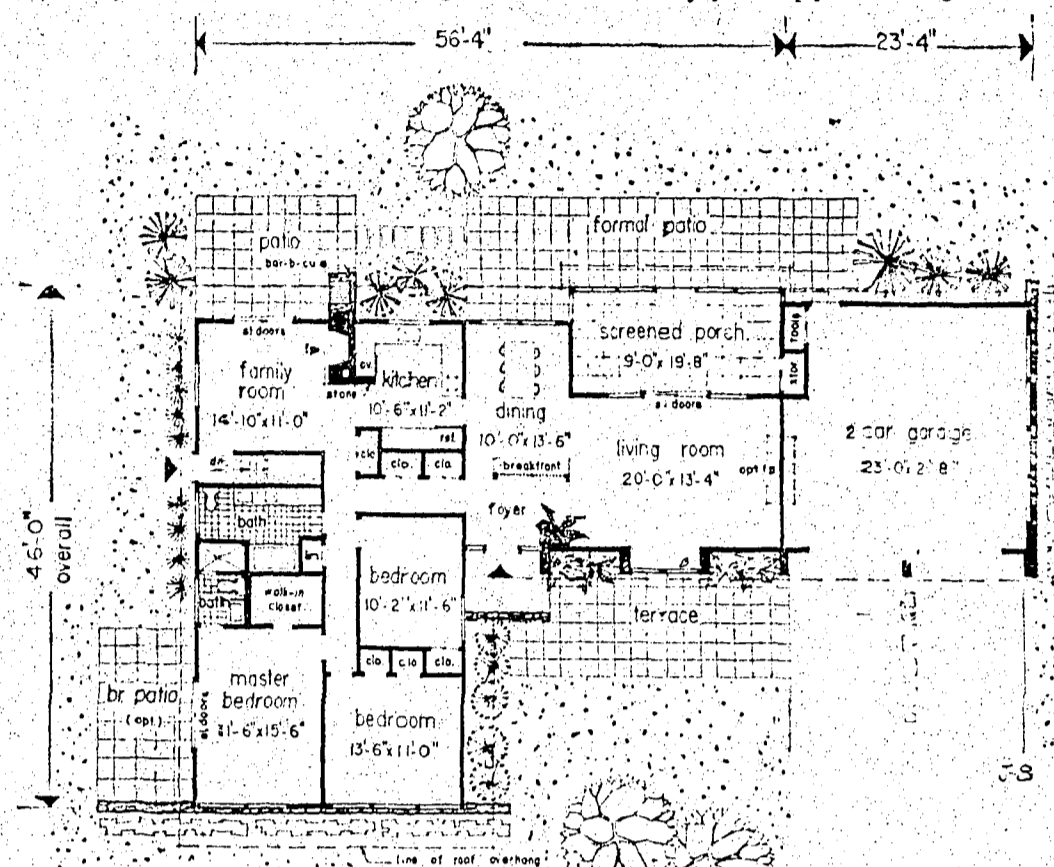

IT SHOULD be mentioned more over that the entire house, including the room sizes, has been planned for stock lumber sizes — an important economy measure that might go unnoticed.

A partial cellar contains abundant storage space plus additional space for a large laundry, hobby room, and a 30-foot-long recreation room.

GLAMOR PLUS ECONOMY . . . Excellent design technique enables this 1,608 sq. ft. ranch to contain three bedrooms, two full baths, foyer, living room, dining room, family room and kitchen, plus screened porch and four outdoor patios. Exterior features stone piers integrated into stone planter at their base and contrasted against narrow vertically jointed plywood siding.

FLOOR PLAN . . . Divider, rather than wall, separates living room, dining room and foyer, thus using every inch of space effectively. Note how no room needs to be crossed to get to any other room in the house; and how formal, informal and sleeping areas are clearly zoned. House contains 1,608 square feet not counting garage, screened porch and partial cellar.

QUESTION: There are two coats of paint over the wallpaper in our bedroom. We want to remove the paper.

We tried a steamer, but could not get the steam to penetrate the paper until we first used rough sandpaper on an electric buffer. We had rented the steamer and it took us six hours to do one side of the wall. Is there any easier way we can get off the wall paper?

ANSWER: When wallpaper has been painted — especially with more than one coat — it is always a nuisance to remove the paper. There simply is no easy way of doing it. The paint creates a seal, and, until you pierce the seal, there is just no way to attack the adhesive that holds the paper to the wall.

While a steamer often is recommended, some persons maintain that it is better to soak the paper again and again with a cloth sopping with warm water or one of the commercial wallpaper removers.

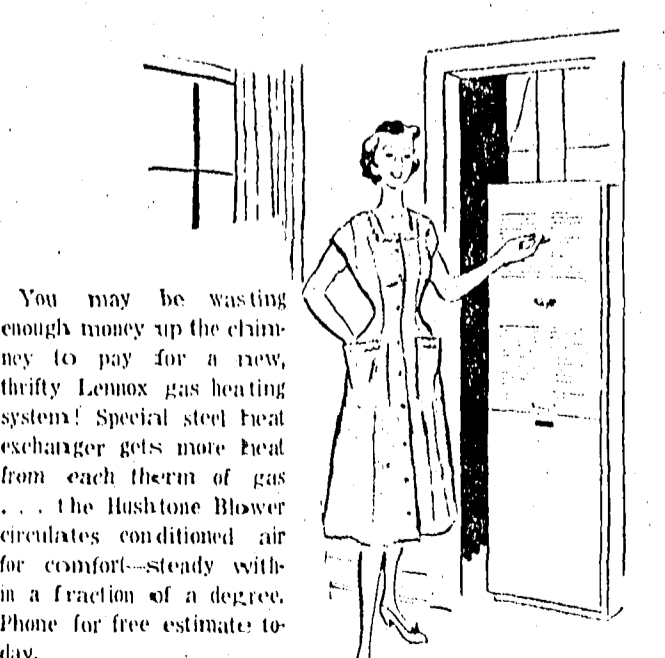

When this has been done, the scraping, with a putty knife or similar tool, should not be delayed too long, otherwise the paper will dry and stiffen up again.

But it can't be done instantly. Either, as some time must be allowed for the water to soak in. Generally, from three to five minutes is about right, but individual cases vary.

This is something you'll have to

Whats New In Building? Metal Enamel

By AP NEWSFEATURES

What's new on the market?

THE PRODUCT—A rust-inhibiting enamel which comes in 15 colors and is designed for use on metal surfaces.

The Manufacturer's Claim—That this enamel primes itself and doubles as a topcoat, thus enabling it to be used directly on rusted surfaces where normal or moderately corrosive conditions exist; that it is especially good for weather-beaten grillwork, gutters, downspouts, trellises and toys; and that it can be used equally well with a brush or as a spray.

THE PRODUCT—An adjustable countersink for making enlargements into which screws and bolts can be sunk beneath the surface of wood or other stock.

The Manufacturer's Claim—That this is the first countersink that adjusts to the exact desired depth with an automatic stop; that it will fit any electric drill or drill press; and that its special design eliminates chatter and assures round, clean cuts.

THE PRODUCT—A blower enclosed in sheet metal housing which is designed to convert a space heater into a central heating system for three or four rooms.

The Manufacturer's Claim—That this new equipment, used with ducts, elbows and heat diffusers, can warm several rooms with the same space heater now used for a smaller area; and that the blower is mounted between ceiling beams and directs rising warm air to as many as four areas through attached ducts.

THE PRODUCT—A floor tile in which hundreds of vinyl chips are separately suspended in translucent vinyl in each tile.

The Manufacturer's Claim—That this method of production gives the tile an unusual marble-chip design; that the tile has no composition and no lamination of any sort; and that the tile can be installed over suspended wood or concrete floors with one special type of adhesive or over existing resilient floor coverings with another special adhesive.

Phone Is Conversation Piece

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

New York furniture gallery owner George Levine has parlayed old European telephones into chic American home accessories.

Although antique telephones have been available in town for many years at many sources, Levine came up with a decorative angle.

He offers the phones completely remodeled in 32 colors and with modern dials.

"I put a couple of colored phones in the window and presto, I was pioneering a new business," Levine says.

HIS ORIGINAL idea was that people would buy the black phones as-is and use them mainly as antique accessories. But soon, because of the interest, he explains, he was equipping the phones with Western Electric transmitters and receivers, new wiring, dials and plugs to fit the phone company wall outlet jacks.

"People are antiques conscious. They want objects that look old in the home, more personalized, and the standard-issue telephone doesn't always fit into the decorative scheme," he says.

The New York Telephone Company frowns upon people using equipment other than that supplied. How does Levine justify his business?

"I checked with the public service commission," he answers, "and found that there is no ruling that says you can't use your own phone equipment if it meets the standards set by the phone company."

But they do have the right to challenge equipment introduced to their lines if it is not up to the standard of performance required for effective communication.

Levine believes he meets those requirements, since Western Electric also makes the innards for the standard issue phone. Customers who buy his phones get a standard phone with jack, remove that and install his.

"But when we put it together again, I was flabbergasted. It looked so terrific that all I could see was more gold phones," he says.

There was one drawback. Gold phones were too expensive for the average person. He tried golden lustre finishes, then got the idea for telephones colored lavender, royal blue, canary yellow, Chinese red.

Transmitter, receiver and bell cradle are gold plated. Styles of phones include Swedish, Danish, German, Italian and French, desk and wall models.

His favorites are the Danish phones, some of which were manufactured in Sweden.

"THEY WERE made of solid brass at the turn of the century when only wealthy Danes had phones. Less expensive materials were used later for the mass market, and the old phones were reclaimed by the Copenhagen Phone Company," he says.

He gets the phones from warehouses abroad where they have been stored, and from other sources. Overseas airline pilots who see the phones in his Sixth Avenue shop window return from aboard with phones from their homes, and from phone companies.

"THERE IS NO limit to the tremendous variety of shells that could be made available in phones, especially now with the availability of small transistor parts," says Levine.

He guarantees maintenance of the phones. "We insist that our patrons remove any phone from the jack if something goes wrong, replacing the phone company equipment. They mail the phone to us for repairs."

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minneapolis business man Wheelock Whitney is a candidate for the Republican lieutenant governor nomination.

Whitney announced his candidacy Sunday, saying he would open his campaign Tuesday night at a suburban Hennepin County GOP meeting.

"If elected, I do not plan to simply preside over the Senate for four months every two years and let it go at that," he said.

"I will devote every possible moment between sessions to promoting Minnesota, its business, industry and agriculture in an effort to help as much as I can the building of our state to the position it should occupy in the nation."

PREVENT PEELING

To prevent new enamel from peeling from bathroom walls and ceilings, they should be washed thoroughly with a good detergent in order to remove the film of oily material usually deposited there. Steam from showering and bathing condenses on these walls and carries with it traces of oils from soaps. These build up in time and may interfere with adhesion of the new enamel. Occasionally, the old enamel may still be so sticky that subsequent coats adhere poorly. This may be avoided by going over glossy areas with sandpaper, steel wool or "liquid sandpaper" before painting.

EGGPLANTS can be grown most any place in the garden, in the early radish rows, or between the cucumber hills, or even in the flower border where the attractive flowers and purple fruits will be highly decorative. The standard variety for this area is Black Beauty. Some gardeners may want to try Early Beauty Hybrid, a first generation hybrid that is new for this year. The fruits are smaller than those of other kinds, but are produced in greater numbers.

No garden would seem to be complete without lettuce. Oak Leaf, Salad Bowl and Slobolt are good varieties of the loose leaf type, since they withstand hot weather rather well. Penlake and Bibb are good varieties of the head lettuce types. Head lettuce is harder to grow and requires cool weather for best development. The plants should be thinned to stand about ten inches apart in the rows.

Some Vegetable Varieties

The several pots of seeds that we planted about ten days ago have sprouted and the little seedlings are making a good growth. When they get their first set of true leaves they will be transplanted to flats.

In about a week we will start some eggplants and sweet peppers. While we are not very partial to eggplants for table use, it is always a pleasure to have a few of them growing in the garden as they are quite ornamental both in flower and fruit and we like to see them.

Continuing with our observations on vegetables, some varieties will be suggested for the information of beginners in gardening as well as for the more experienced ones who might like to try some different kinds this spring. Having previously talked about tomato, sweet corn and cucumber varieties they will not be considered here.

Cotter Faces St. Thomas Friday in State Tournament

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Writer

Cotter's Ramblers will meet St. Thomas Academy of St. Paul at 4 p.m. Friday in the first round of the Minnesota State Catholic High School basketball tournament in the St. Paul Auditorium.

For the Ramblers, it will be their 20th shot at the Catholic championship in 22 years.

To get there, the Ramblers Sunday afternoon captured the Region Six crown at Winona High School with a big defensive effort in beating St. Felix of Wabasha 53-38. That was Cotter's eighth straight triumph giving the Ramblers a 14-8 mark to take to St. Paul.

A victory Friday over St. Thomas, Region Three king, would send Cotter into the semifinals at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. The game is at 3:15 p.m. Sunday.

The win over St. Felix followed form. Cotter had his trouble in the first period but showed much poise for the Yellowjackets in the final 20 minutes in romping to its third win over the Wabasha five this season.

"We'll have to credit this win to our defense; that's what made the difference," Cotter Coach John Nett said. "There was a little doubt in my mind about what we might run up against after the shooting display St. Felix put on Friday. We contained them very well though."

The last comment was an understatement. Over the entire game the Yellowjackets could count only 10 field goals and in the first half they got only two.

Many of their shots were hurried and thus ineffective. They finished with a percentage of 20.7 on 48 tries.

Free throws made the difference in the first half as both teams showed the effects of "fourquity."

After leading 11-7 at the end of the first period Cotter ran into trouble. At the outset of the second quarter the Ramblers pushed the count to 15-9. St. Felix, behind Mike Pinsonneault who scored 23 points, rallied on gift shots to lead 17-16 before Rick Starzecki dropped a pair of free throws to make it 18-17 for Cotter at halftime.

Whatever Nett said at halftime was put to good use in the second half. The Ramblers came back fired-up.

With Larry Modjeski, who scored 14, and Sam Czaplewski, who got 15, spearheading the offensive machine, the Ramblers roared ahead 37-27 heading into the final period.

Once again it was sharp passing that made the difference as Bob Judge started to get the driving shots in the final stanza to run his total for the day to 10 on three layups.

After the trophies had been presented and the All-Tournament team named and the Ramblers were back in the confines of the dressing room they were a group with mixed emotions.

Rich Welch said, "I'm darn happy. Wouldn't you be, if you were going to the state tournament?"

Terry Ketter, Cotter manager, had his own view on the matter. "It's great to be going to the state, but it's a heck of a lot of work. When I think of everything that will have to be done before we leave I almost get heart failure."

Starzecki was more serious. "It's a good thing we got going in the second half or it might have been us congratulating St. Felix instead of the other way around. We'll have to play better at St. Paul."

The younger members of the team, John Nett Jr., Gene Schultz, Phil Koprowski and Tony Heiting, had about the same view on the matter. "It's a day off from school and it's going to be a great experience."

51 REPORT TODAY

Pascual, Ramos Still Missing

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The full 51-man squad of the Minnesota Twins was due to report for spring training today and only two players weren't expected to show up.

Pitchers Camilo Pascual and Pedro Ramos, both involved in salary disputes with President Calvin Griffith, were expected to be the only ones missing.

The Twins aren't expected to waste any time getting down to the business of filling two positions that are wide open. Of the 40

Gophers Face Road Jinx Against Badgers Tonight

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Minnesota's sagging basketball forces, losers of seven straight games away from home, get one last chance to crack an unexplainable road slump tonight when the Gophers challenge Wisconsin's Badgers.

It's Minnesota's last game on a foreign court this season and coach John Kundla is probably glad by this time. The Gophers show only one victory on the road in 12 games.

After tonight, Minnesota returns home to wind up the season against Michigan State Saturday and Michigan next Monday.

The Gophers, fighting to stay out of the Big Ten cellar, lost 94-80 to Purdue and All America Terry Dischinger Saturday night at Lafayette, Ind. That dropped Minnesota's Big Ten record to 3-10.

Wisconsin, meanwhile, ran its second place record to 9-2 with a 65-64 win over Northwestern and kept alive its slim hopes of stopping Ohio State's rush toward its third straight Big Ten championship. The Buckeyes are 11-0.

The Gophers hope they can snap a bewildering pattern of play which sees them frequently blow big first half leads.

Saturday night, they led Purdue 27-15 before faltering. Against Wisconsin at Minneapolis Feb. 3, the Gophers led by 11 points in the first half but couldn't hold it.

"It's the same old story," Kundla said.

Wednesday, Concordia plays at St. Thomas, Gustavus Adolphus is at St. John's and Mankato travels to State College of Iowa.

Winding up the week's action and the season's activity for state teams, Carleton goes to Lawrence in the Midwest Conference and St. Olaf is at Ripon Friday. Carleton and St. Olaf then trade foes Saturday night.

Duluth had a 10-game winning streak broken by non-conference opponent Northern Michigan 72-71 Saturday night, but elsewhere things went pretty much according to form.

St. Cloud mauled Winona 102-55 to wrap up the Northern States crown with a 7-3 league record.

Other games saw Concordia edge Gustavus 76-74, St. Thomas down Macalester 76-63, St. Mary's rip St. John's 45-37, Bemidji clip Mankato 58-55, Moorhead down Michigan Tech 55-50, St. Olaf rip Monmouth 86-83 in overtime, Carleton trample Knox 98-69, and Bethel ease to Milton, Wis. 66-63.

la said of the Purdue loss. "We played wonderful basketball much of the time and then fell apart. I can't explain it."

But Kundla still wasn't conceding anything to the surprising Badgers tonight. "We've got a good chance to knock them off. They've got great speed and they hustle, but they don't have exceptional talent," he said.

Dischinger was just more than the Gophers could handle. He drilled 46 points and three Minnesotans fouled out trying to guard him—Eric Magdanz, Ray Cronk and Eric Magdanz.

Despite drawing the fifth personal, Magdanz scored 30 points himself before leaving the game. Don Lineham added 17 and McGinnis 17 for the Gophers.

In other Big Ten games tonight, Ohio State is at Iowa, Indiana at Michigan and Michigan State at Northwestern.

JIM REISDOFF, who scored 24 points, made a valiant effort to bring Holy Trinity back in the game. With the score 52-49 he drove in was fouled but managed to make the basket. The free shot hit the rim and bounced back and Nic Stadler hit a tip with 10 seconds remaining to sew it up, for Loretto.

Tom Wagner flipped in 12 points for Loretto and Schroeder finished with nine.

The Warhawks, who have a 10-1 record with one loop game remaining, face Carroll at Milwaukee Thursday night in a first round playoff to determine Wisconsin's entry at the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament in Kansas City next month.

Stevens Point clinched second place in the league by defeating Wisconsin-Milwaukee 78-72.

Stout edged Eau Claire 76-75 on Gary Simonson's 25-foot jumper in the final three seconds, and Superior took River Falls 85-70.

On March 10, the nonconference action while La Crosse was idle.

The conference campaign ends tonight.

SWIMMING CHAMPION WAKESHA (AP)—Wakesha won all but two events as it piled up 91 points Saturday night to win the Wisconsin high school swimming championship for the fourth time in the last five years.

Redmen, Hamline Meet Here Tonight in Finale

Tonight marks the end of the college basketball season in Winona. St. Mary's meets Hamline at Terrace Heights at 8 o'clock in the finale.

The game is an MIAC contest but will have little effect on the league standings.

THE PIPERS already have second place sewed up but can finish no better should they win.

Duluth won the league title and will meet St. Cloud of the NSCC in the playoff for the NAIA Tournament.

Hamline brings a 12-3 conference record into the game as opposed to 6-9 for the Redmen.

Tonight's game marks the end of the line for Bob Jansen, Marty Lillig and Tom Ruddy. All three are seniors.

The three will start tonight. Jansen at guard with Al Williams, Lillig at forward and Tom Hall and Ruddy at center.

COACH Ken Wilgen definitely is looking for an upset. "We've been playing excellent basketball of late," he commented. "I'm sorry to see the season come to an end. I definitely think we can win. We are playing a good team but with a little luck we can do it."

St. Mary's, in much the same fashion last year, opened in good form, ran into trouble in the middle of the season and has looked good in the last several games. The Redmen have won four of their last five contests.

IT WAS A disappointed Winona State basketball Coach Bob Canine said this morning. "We were our typical selves at St. Cloud."

"It was right back to the individual performances that we have been trying to get away from all season that made us look so bad (State lost 102-55). As soon as the calls started going the wrong way for us we went completely out of our heads."

"This is the thing I won't stand for next season. I've been fighting it this year and until Saturday had fair success. Either the fellows will change next year or they won't play."

LAU CLAIRE (AP) — Dorothy Le Gras of Green Bay rolled a 501 Sunday to move into first place in Class D singles in the Wisconsin State Women's Bowling Association Tournament.

Floyd Agrees To Fight; May Meet Liston

CHICAGO (AP) — Champion Floyd Patterson said Sunday night he will comply with the National Boxing Association's stern warning to arrange a heavyweight title bout, possibly with Sammy Liston, by the middle of next month.

Liston, the No. 1 contender, said in Detroit that he didn't care where he met the champion, just so he met him.

The NBA's executive committee said Sunday that Patterson must sign to defend his title by March 13, preferably against Liston, or risk losing the crown.

The committee warned that heavyweight champions are required to defend their title once a year, and that Patterson's last defense was March 13, 1961, when he defeated Sweden's Ingemar Johansson.

The NBA does not recognize Patterson's Dec. 4 championship bout against Torn McNeely.

Patterson, contacted in Jackson, Miss., said a championship event would be announced prior to the NBA deadline. He agreed Liston is the logical contender.

Gopher Sextet Fails in Bid For Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota failed in its bid to make the Western Collegiate Hockey Association playoffs by bowing to North Dakota 6-5 in overtime at Grand Forks Saturday night. It was the second straight victory for the Sioux over the Gophers and gave North Dakota a 3-1 edge in the season series with Minnesota.

A split of the weekend series at North Dakota would have given the Gophers a berth in the WCHA playoffs at Ann Arbor, Mich., Thursday, Friday and Saturday because fourth-place Michigan State lost twice to Michigan, including a 10-2 setback Saturday.

Michigan Tech, 5-2 victor over Duluth Saturday, Michigan, Denver, which bounced Colorado College 6-3, and Michigan State will compete in the playoffs.

North Dakota clipped the Gophers Saturday on wing Dan Storsten's goal in the sudden death overtime period. Storsten had two of the Sioux goals and Ron Constansie scored three goals for the Gophers.

The double victory gave North Dakota fifth place in the final WCHA standings with a 7-1 record and dropped Minnesota to sixth at 5-1-1.

Both the Gophers and Sioux wind up their seasons in the games with the Swedes.

Celtics Grab 6th Eastern Division Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's been a short and amazing career for tall and amazing Bill Russell, whose talents have led the Boston Celtics to six consecutive Eastern Division championships in the National Basketball Association.

The 6-foot-10 two-time league most valuable player scored 23 points Sunday as the Celtics whipped the Syracuse Nats 110-106 and wrapped up their sixth division title since the 1956-57 season when Russell joined the club.

Since Russell, who became a two-time All-America at the University of San Francisco, came to Boston the Celtics have gone every year to the final of the NBA playoffs.

The Celtics' win over the Nats gave them an 11-game lead in the last column over the runner-up Philadelphia Warriors, who lost 149-133 to the New York Knicks-erobbers despite Wilt Chamberlain's 67-point performance.

In other games, the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Detroit Pistons 128-99 behind Elgin Baylor's 45 points and Cincinnati used Oscar Robertson's heroics in the final minutes for a 108-105 win over the Chicago Packers.
