Sky the Limit

Big N.Y. Party Set for Glenn

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—It takes a real American hero to make New York turn handsprings in the way of a celebration. But that's just what it will have Thursday Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. and his fellow astronauts—and that's why the sky will be the limit.

Glenn is preparing for one of his biggest blasts of all times, weather permitting.

As the New York Times put it, "a reception fit for a king is being planned by the city for Glenn."

Stock Exchange Head Quits After Tax Indictment

J. Truman Bidwell
Quits N.Y. Stock Exchange Post

NEW YORK (AP)—J. Truman Bidwell has resigned the powerful post of chairman of the Board of Governors of the New York Stock Exchange following a federal grand jury indictment charging him with evading $55,908 in income taxes.

He claimed persecution from "high places in Washington," and said "neither the investing public nor the stock exchange is involved."

The government, too, took pains to emphasize that the indictment dealt with Bidwell's personal taxes and had nothing to do with his activities at the exchange.

Nevertheless, the indictment added fire to the existent rumors of a widespread tax investigation in the securities field.

The Internal Revenue Service began its tax investigation of Bidwell more than three years ago. Last year, the Securities and Exchange Commission turned an investigative eye on Wall Street that resulted in a shakeup at the American Stock Exchange.

The SEC probe was based on charges of abuse of trading rules and tight domination of the American Exchange. It resulted last month in the resignations of President Edward T. McCormick and Board Chairman Joseph Reilly.

The two-count indictment handed up against Bidwell, 58, Tuesday, accused him of concealing capital gains, and faking expenses for travel, charitable contributions, and entertainment.

The grand jury charged Bidwell with listing joint income with his wife for 1956 and 1957 at $124,404, when the actual income totaled $208,202. It said Bidwell listed taxes for the two years as $55,035, when the figure should have been $110,943.

Conviction could put him in prison for a maximum of 5 years and carries the possibility of a fine up to $10,000.

Khrushchev and Ulbricht Talk About New Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev and East Germany's Communist leader, Walter Ulbricht, have had a two-day talk on a German peace treaty and "normalization of the situation in West Berlin," Tass announced today.

The Soviet news agency said the conference took place here Monday and Tuesday. It added:

"They also discussed questions of cooperation between the U.S.S.R. and the (East) German Democratic Republic. The Soviet Union will grant the German Democratic Republic a supplementary commodity credit."

A communique reported the two had a thorough exchange of opinions "on questions pertaining to the conclusion of a German peace treaty and normalization of the situation in West Berlin, and also on other international questions of concern to the two states."

Winter Floods In Kentucky, 3 Adjoining States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Amazing floodwaters from rain-swollen rivers and streams poured across broad, lowland areas in Kentucky and three adjoining states today, driving hundreds of persons from their homes.

The late winter floods, in the wake of persistent, heavy rains, appeared to have caused the most damage and inconvenience in eastern and southeastern Kentucky.

There was much flooding and evacuation of families in West Virginia and Tennessee. In Ohio, several rivers were above flood stage but the situation did not appear critical immediately.

At least two communities in Kentucky and one in West Virginia were isolated by the rampaging floodwaters. Scores of roads were blocked, including 50 in Kentucky. Some main highways in both Kentucky and West Virginia were impassable because of overflows and mudslides.

Many schools were closed in the water-soaked areas of Kentucky and West Virginia. One death was reported in West Virginia.

Thousands of acres of farmland in the flood-stricken region were inundated.

No immediate estimate of the overall damage was made but it appeared likely property losses might run into the millions of dollars.

Although rains diminished during the night in parts of the soggy areas of western Tennessee and Kentucky, the Weather Bureau forecast rain or rain mixed with snow in most of the eastern half of the nation, including much of the region menaced by the overflows.

However, the Weather Bureau said, colder and drier air headed into western Tennessee and Kentucky and should diminish the rainfall considerably during the day.

The cold air spread from the North Central region which was in the grip of a severe cold snap. It was 36 below zero in Huron, S.D., the lowest reading since February 1965. The subzero cold, with marks around 30 below, clung to areas in North Dakota, Minnesota and Montana.

In Kentucky, the major flood belt appeared to extend from Ashland to Corbin, which is about 120 miles southeast of Louisville. National guard troops were sent to Corbin, Jackson and Ravena. In Salyersville, some 300 persons were evacuated from their homes. The town of 1,173 was isolated, as was Inez, a little community near the West Virginia border.

In southern West Virginia, hundreds of families were evacuated in three counties, including some 2,000 in the Logan area. About 100 families were forced from their homes in the Wayne area, which was isolated after a bridge was washed out. State police reported evacuation of some families in lowland areas near Williamson.

Fishing Tug Caught in Ice

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A fishing tug overdue since late Tuesday followed a car ferry into the Milwaukee Harbor this morning. The Coast Guard said the 45-foot Silver Spray skippered by Roy Nelson of Milwaukee had been stuck in the ice overnight.

FUGITIVES FROM FAILURE

Too Many Children Drop Out of School

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Almost a million lost, bewildered, defeated, hopeless youngsters will leave school before graduation this year and enter a world which has no place for them, an expert on youth problems said today.

Daniel Schreiber, director of the school drop-out project of the National Education Association said of them, "Constantly running from work half-done, from school half-completed, these drop-outs are truly fugitives from failure."

Schreiber said half the drop-outs will be unable to find work. Those that do, he said, will be restricted to such unskilled jobs as filling station attendants, stock clerks and car washers.

Jobs that these youngsters can handle are rapidly disappearing, Schreiber said.

He cited these figures:

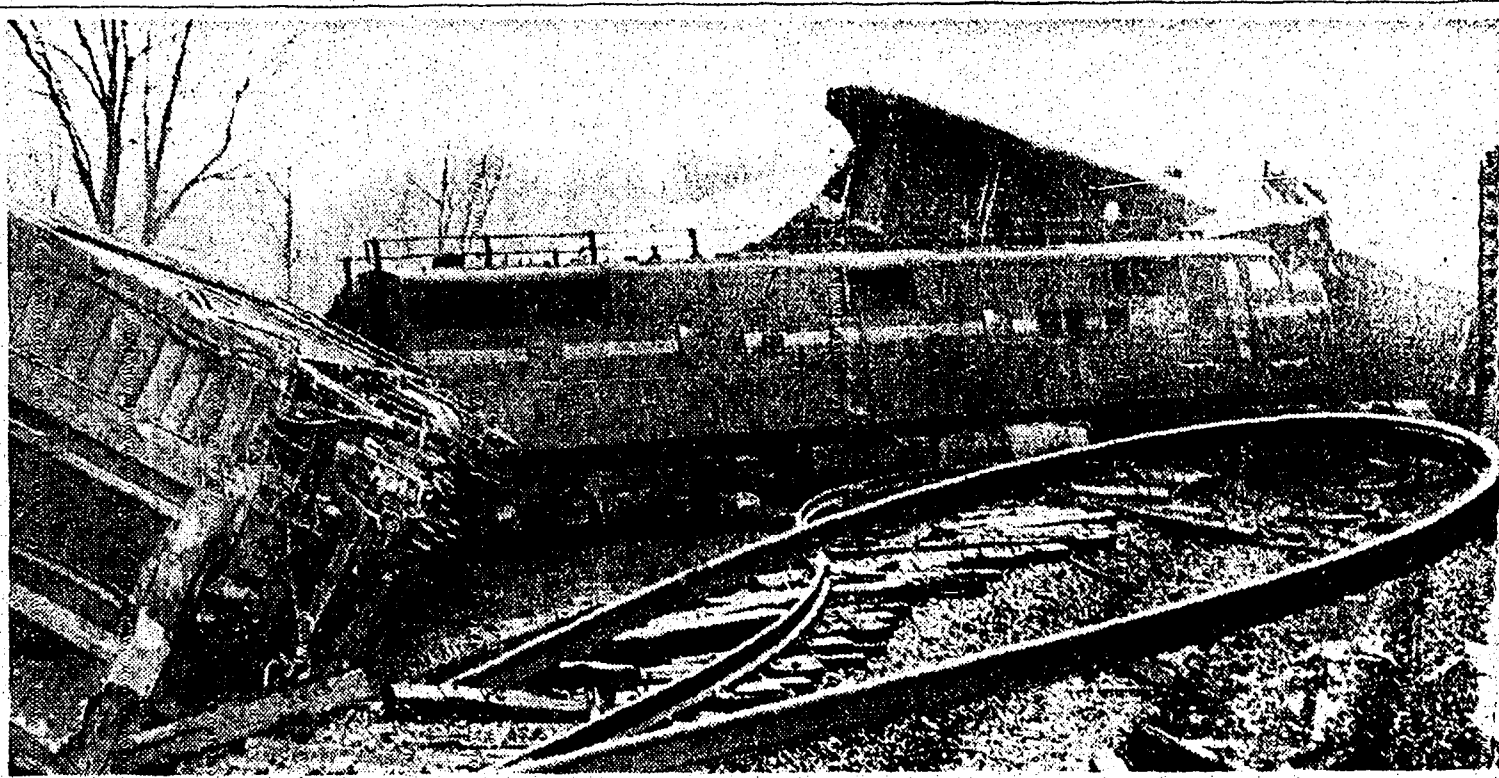

During the past 10 years, 50,000 elevator operator jobs disappeared in New York City alone. 8,000 during the past year.

Six men with modern machinery can lay the same amount of railway track as 100 men did before.

Automated examining equipment for checking transistors permit four men to do the work that 100 did a few years ago.

Schreiber said in a prepared address to the National Association

Kennedy Near Decision on New N-Tests

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—According to his announced timetable, President Kennedy now is in a position to decide whether to go ahead with nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

The White House declined to say whether Kennedy has reached a verdict, as he said he would by the end of February.

Other sources said he has not yet made up his mind, but is expected to announce a decision soon.

Kennedy has indicated he will direct a resumption of atmospheric shots because of Soviet gains in the Russians' 50 atmospheric explosions last fall broke the atomic test moratorium.

The United States followed with underground blasts and Kennedy has ordered preparations for tests in the air, which are more valuable for developing weapons but produce radioactive fallout.

Kennedy ordered a study on the effect of the Soviet series on American security. He told a Feb. 14 news conference that "by the end of the month, we will have concluded our analysis of our relative positions and we will be in a position to make a decision."

The President had told newsmen a week earlier that "before any definite action is taken and the final decision is made, I will comment in detail to the American people on the reason for whatever decision is made."

Nine U2 Planes Lost in Crashes

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—At least nine U2 high altitude jets—like the one Francis Gary Powers flew over Russia in May 1960 or possible crashes in the United States.

The Air Force disclosed this today in reply to a query.

The tally includes only the U2 itself and used for high altitude sampling of fallout, weather surveys and other research, the Air Force said.

It does not count the Powers' plane that went down deep in Soviet Russia in May 1960 or possible others operated by the Central Intelligence Agency.

The Air Force said the reported losses of its U2s have been caused by various factors, including flame-outs, trouble with electrical systems and landing crashes.

Early last month, a U2 pilot flying near Picayune, Miss., ejected from his plane after what he said was a malfunction in the electrical system.

The U2 was built for a highly specialized purpose—to fly at altitudes of 70,000 feet or more, at speeds comparatively slow for a jet and for long distances.

In designing these specialized features into the U2, some built-in problems also came. The U2 is something like a jet-powered glider. It has very low wing loading (the ratio of weight carried to wing area). And, compared with combat jet fighters, it is fragile in turbulent air or rough landings.

The crashes of Air Force U2 aircraft were: Dec. 19, 1956, near Winslow, Ariz., no fatality; six crashes during 1957, 1958 and 1960 at or near Laughlin Air Force base, Del Rio, Tex., where most Air Force U2s have operated or trained, with four fatalities; a fatal crash near Abilene, Tex., in 1958 and the crash in Mississippi Jan. 2 in which the pilot parachuted to safety.

The crew of the San Diego fishing boat Monarch was stranded on Clipperton early this month when the 72-foot craft went down. The men lived on tuna, wild pigs and coconuts until last weekend, when a Mexican fishing boat, the Panita, discovered them.

Word of the castaways was relayed here by radio. The American Tuna Boat Association asked for Coast Guard and Navy assistance.

A Navy guided missile destroyer, the USS Robinson, was diverted to Clipperton. Members of the Tuna Boat association said the Panita was too small to take the crewmen off the island.

The Navy said it will be Thursday morning before the Robinson can reach the island.

"That's a nasty island," said a Coast Guard officer who has seen it. "It's fringed by coral reefs and the sea breaks heavily—sometimes sweeping almost over the whole island."

Clipperton is two miles long, a quarter of a mile wide at the widest point, a few yards wide at its narrowest.

The Monarch, skippered by Manuel Chula, 55, of San Diego, left here Jan. 16 with a five-week fuel supply. Her last reported position, on Feb. 5, was in the vicinity of Clipperton.

9 Shipwrecked Tuna Fishermen Awaiting Rescue

By ELTON C. FAY

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Nine shipwrecked tuna fishermen—most of them injured—are awaiting rescue on a tiny Pacific island where they have been stranded 22 days.

The men are on Clipperton Island, which is so narrow and so low in the water that breakers sometimes sweep almost all the way across it. It lies 1,400 miles south of here and about the same distance off the coast of Central America.

The crew of the San Diego fishing boat Monarch was stranded on Clipperton early this month when the 72-foot craft went down. The men lived on tuna, wild pigs and coconuts until last weekend, when a Mexican fishing boat, the Panita, discovered them.

Fire Sweeps New Ulm Mill

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP)—Firemen working in sub-zero cold controlled a blaze at the International Milling Co. rice plant Tuesday after about 90 minutes work.

The blaze broke out about 1 p.m. in a metal-covered building used for blending operations at the plant, the nation's largest producer of rice flour.

Damage, not estimated, was confined to the blending works although smoke filtered through the main plant.

John Machin, an employee, was treated for smoke inhalation after attempting to go inside to shut off the electric power.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

$70,000 Loss in Cannon Falls Fire

CANNON FALLS, Minn.—Fire caused $60,000 to $70,000 damage to the Munson Implement Co. here Tuesday.

The Cannon Falls fire department battled the blaze for about an hour and a half.

Authorities said the fire started when sparks from an electric grinder ignited gasoline on the floor. The fire extensively damaged the inside of the building.

An attached restaurant was saved by the fire department. No injuries were reported.

Presidential Commission Makes Report

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential commission recommended today that labor unions give the nation's railroads broad leeway to streamline operations and eliminate thousands of jobs found unnecessary to run the trains.

The commission, reporting to President Kennedy conclusions of an exhaustive year-long study, said however the carriers would have to be prepared to ease the blow on displaced workers by providing them with partial pay for periods up to three years as well as schooling for other jobs.

The report agreed with industry complaints that the railroads have been saddled with costly feather-bedding rules and practices, requiring pay for unneeded work. Most locomotive firemen were found to serve no useful purpose and gradual elimination of their jobs was recommended.

But the commission also had much to say about the plight of the rail workers, whose ranks have dwindled from more than two million in 1920 to less than 800,000 today. The study was concerned only with the problems of the 200,000 rail operating employees—those manning the moving trains.

The report brought an angry dissent from the commission's union members who said it may lead to a nationwide strike. It was also disappointing to the rail industry, which had hoped for greater savings than will be immediately possible.

The rail industry quickly accepted the recommendations but the unions flatly rejected them.

The Association of American Railroads, speaking for the industry, said the commission findings represent "an important contribution to the welfare of the country" and when made effective should stabilize employment and enable the carriers to improve service.

The unions said they stood to lose 80,000 jobs by conservative estimate and expressed determination that "the railroad operating employee will not become the 'sacrificial lamb' who must be destroyed in order to subsidize managerial incompetence."

The five unions involved called emergency meetings over the next two weeks to consider strike votes among their members.

Simon H. Rifkind, former New York U.S. District judge and the commission chairman, expressed confidence that if both sides used the report "as a candle to light their way, and not as a radiator to heat them up," early agreement could be reached to help put the rail industry back on its feet.

The commission called on the carriers and unions—the engineers, firemen, trainmen, conductors and switchmen—to begin prompt negotiations on the recommendations with the view of ending what it called 19th century labor practices and launching of a new rail progress.

These are the principal recommendations:

Abolish firemen gradually beginning next July 1 from all freight and yard service locomotive crews. This alone would wipe out some 35,000 jobs within a decade—at eventual savings the carriers have estimated at $250 million a year. Firemen would continue on passenger train locomotives.

Give the railroads "an unlimited right to introduce technological change" subject to the continued pay and other protections provided for employees losing their jobs.

Eliminate crew change requirements at inter-divisional terminals.

Overhaul the complex operating employee pay system, so workers will be paid both for the time and mileage on their runs. The commission found widespread pay disparities and inequities which it recommended be corrected.

Shorten work hours for many workers. The commission found some employees work only four hours for a day's pay, others as much as 15 hours. It said a present 16-hour limit on a work day should be quickly reduced to 14 and eventually to 12.

18 Injured in Pennsylvania Train Wreck

By ELTON C. FAY

THOMPSONSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The 60th car of a freight train leaped the tracks into the path of an oncoming passenger train today causing injury to 18 persons. Three diesel locomotives, 17 of the 18 passenger cars and 13 freight cars were derailed.

A Pennsylvania Railroad spokesman said the 78-car freight, headed east for New York, had a burned-out journal box and the engineer knew it. He was headed for a side track about a mile from the scene when the axle fell off the 55th car, the train buckled and the 60th car jumped the tracks smack into the speeding passenger train. There is a journal box at each end of an axle.

The spokesman said the trains apparently were passing when the freight car jumped onto the adjacent track. Thirteen of the freight cars, including a tank car loaded with liquid ammonia, piled up in a heap, some of them upside down.

All of the passenger cars remained upright, but only the tail-end sleeper remained on the tracks.

The passenger train, the Pennsylvania Limited, No. 55, was bound from New York to Chicago with intermediate stops, when the accident occurred in this eastern Pennsylvania community.

Of the injured, four clerks sorting mail in one of the postal cars were overcame by ammonia fumes and sent to a hospital. Others injured, all on the passenger train, were taken to hospitals in Lewisburg.

One of those hurt, Mrs. Dorothy Schlusberg, 45, Whiteville, Ill., said she was drowsing when "I heard this jar and it all happened so fast. There was no panic."

Spokesmen at the two hospitals where the injured were taken in ambulances said only one appeared to be seriously hurt, the engineer of the passenger train, S. D. Miller of Altoona, Pa., who suffered two fractured legs.

New Battle Group Will Move Into Berlin in March

BERLIN (AP)—A new battle group of 1,500 American soldiers will move into West Berlin early next month, less than two months after arrival in West Germany from the United States, the U.S. Army Command announced today.

The 2nd Battle Group of the 47th Infantry, stationed in Augsburg since it participated in maneuvers in January, will replace the 1st Battle Group of the 19th Infantry as part of the American garrison in the divided city.

The motor movement of 3,000 men is regarded as a new assertion of Western rights to use the 110-mile highway lifeline through Communist-ruled East Germany. It will be the third such major switch of American troops since the Communists built their wall and barbed wire wall around West Berlin.

Government Nearly Through With Powers

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — U2 spy pilot Francis Gary Powers may step out of the deep pocket of secrecy within a few days. But where or when wasn't made clear.

Officials said Tuesday a special inquiry board was winding up its questioning of Powers, 32, and was reported to have decided he had conducted himself about as well as possible under the circumstances when he was downed in the Soviet Union.

Powers, the officials said, would be available by Thursday to appear before any congressional committee that wants to talk to him. He has been tucked away in seclusion since the Russians freed him Feb. 10.

President Kennedy said at his news conference last week that the Powers inquiry would be completed by the middle of this week and the pilot then would be available to Congress and the press.

Informants indicated Tuesday that the flier could talk with the press after he appears before a congressional committee.

So far only one congressional group, the House Foreign Affairs Committee, has said definitely that it plans to question Powers. Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., announced the committee will call Powers at a closed session, probably next week.

The Senate Armed Services Committee will decide whether to hear him after it receives a closed-door briefing on the case Thursday from John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Powers presumably was working for the CIA when his high-flying photo-reconnaissance plane went down in flight over the Soviet Union May 1, 1960. The CIA has never acknowledged publicly Powers was one of its own.

CIA officials, who reportedly felt that Powers had let them down by permitting the Russians to capture him and his plane, now are understood to have changed their minds.

Congressional sources said the CIA was reported to be satisfied that the U2 pilot had given the Russians only minimal information.

At the request of the CIA, the President appointed a board to look into the case. The board was headed by Judge E. Barrett Prettyman, who is retiring to inactive status from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit.

Kennedy said last week the board was examining whether "Mr. Powers completed his contract."

He added that "there is so far no evidence that he did not comply with his contract" but that he thought he could make a "more final judgment" at his next news conference.

Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week. His secretary, Pierre Salinger, said the President may hold one next week.

Powers, whom the Russians sentenced to 30 years imprisonment, was exchanged in Berlin for Soviet spy Rudolf Abel, flown to the United States, and has been under questioning at an undisclosed hideaway.

One of the mysteries officials hoped Powers could clear up was what exactly brought him down. At his Moscow trial, Powers testified he was at 68,000 feet when there was an explosion and a bright glow near his plane. Soviet Premier Khrushchev claimed that a super rocket had done the trick.

Congressional sources said Tuesday—as has been reported before—that Powers has been unable to throw any additional light on what had caused the U2 to fall.

La Crosse State College Offers to Buy Building Site

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—The State Board of College Regents has offered the city of La Crosse $71,200 for a 2½-acre site on which it wants to build a new physical education building for La Crosse College.

City officials said Tuesday the offer is $21,200 more than was offered previously. The city used the land as a parking lot for events at Memorial Stadium. It claims its value is $100,000.

Officials had no immediate comment on the offer.

54 Coal Miners Dead in Blast In Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—At least 54 miners were killed Tuesday in a gas explosion in a coal mine in central Yugoslavia, mining officials said.

Rescue teams saved 120 caught below ground by the blast and were still working hours after the accident looking for the few still unaccounted for, the officials said. Earlier Tuesday, the official news agency, had said 180 were trapped. The explosion struck in the Tito Mine at Banovic, in the eastern region of Bosnia-Herzegovina Province.

The radio said rescue workers have been unable to reach the level where the explosion took place, and the final death toll could not be established.

Scientists Sought For Moon Project

BOSTON (AP)—Recruiting of scientists and engineers for the nation's man-on-the-moon project opened Tuesday in Boston. Space officials said Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s orbital flight gave a big boost to the drive to enlist top brains in the U.S. push to outer space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration began a week-long series of interviews with scientists and engineers. After this week, NASA's recruiting team of 30 scientists will hold separate interviews in many New England cities.

Nationally, NASA is seeking upwards of 2,500 persons holding engineering and science degrees for the Apollo moon project.

Binz Formally Installed In St. Paul Archdiocese

By GERRY NELSON
ST. PAUL (AP) — The Most Rev. Leo Binz assumed office today as Archbishop of St. Paul, spiritual father to the nearly half million Catholics in Minnesota and the Dakotas.

The colorful ceremonies were moved inside the immense St. Paul Cathedral because of the bitter cold that greeted the new archbishop shortly after his arrival. Temperatures dipped to 23 below zero early today but did not stem the throng of clergy and lay people who crowded the Cathedral for the two-hour ceremony.

Archbishop Binz, 61, was given the rights and responsibilities of office by Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, apostolic delegate to the United States.

Archbishop Binz formerly was archbishop of Dubuque, Iowa, and becomes the fifth leader of the St. Paul archdiocese, succeeding the late Archbishop William O. Brady, who died last Oct. 1.

Under the Cathedral's great dome were nearly 700 members of the Catholic clergy, many taking part in the processions and rituals and pledging their loyalty to Archbishop Binz before he celebrated his first mass and delivered his first sermon to his people.

The archbishop, son of German immigrants who farmed near Stockton, Ill., was ordained in Rome in 1924. Among his other assignments was the post of coadjutor bishop of Winona, Minn., from 1942 to 1949. He succeeded to the Dubuque See in 1954.

Nearly 700 members of the clergy were in attendance, including 14 archbishops and 66 bishops, as the installation rites were presided over by Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, apostolic delegate to the United States.

Lin Stevens and Jeffrey Erickson. Roy Geithbrock earned a bobcat pin.

The installation ceremony began with the welcome, a liturgical reception led by Bishop Gerald O'Keefe, rector of the cathedral. The reception group, in the traditional manner, met the new archbishop at the vestibule, offered prayers and escorted him to the sanctuary.

In his first sermon, Archbishop Binz said he approached his new mission with the comforting presence of his family and associates but also the consciousness of personal insignificance.

"The realization derives from no assumed humility nor personal reticence, but rather from an attempt to contemplate in its full significance the meaning of the occasion in which the church gives a new shepherd to an archdiocese."

To his new flock, he said: "As St. Paul called upon the clergy, the consecrated virgins, and the faithful laity of the Church of Ephesus, so do I now call upon each of you, members of this church, of this Archdiocese of St. Paul, in whatever state of life you now find yourselves, to strive to reach 'perfect manhood,' to the mature measure of the fullness of Christ."

Three bulls — the most solemn form of papal letter — from Pope John XXIII were read to the assembly by the Rev. Richard Moudry, vice chancellor. The bulls constituted Archbishop Binz's credentials for his office.

Then followed the installation of the new archbishop on his throne by the apostolic delegate, giving Archbishop Binz formal possession of the chair from which he will teach, administer and dispense the sacraments to Catholics of the diocese.

After the reading of the bulls, Archbishop Vagnozzi stepped from the throne and waited for Archbishop Binz to move forward to receive the crozier — the staff that is the symbol of episcopal authority.

Archbishop Binz, at that moment, gave his first solemn blessing to the priests and people. The clergy, each in turn, came forward to the altar and pledged their homage and obedience to the new archbishop.

This was followed by Archbishop Binz' first pontifical mass — the Mass of the Commemoration of St. Paul — and his first sermon.

The installation was the third in the history of the archdiocese, the first since 1932 when Archbishop John Gregory Murray was enthroned. The other was that of Archbishop Austin Dowling in 1919. Neither Archbishop Brady nor Archbishop John Ireland was installed, as such, since both were coadjutors with the right of succession.

The St. Paul diocese was founded in 1858 from land originally in the Dubuque and Bardonia, Ky., dioceses. St. Paul includes 10 dioceses within its province: Minnesota, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

Archbishop Binz will be "at home" in any church under his jurisdiction, but the cathedral is particularly his and is considered his "parish church."

Archbishop Binz' coat of arms, just revised to incorporate the heraldry of the St. Paul archdiocese, includes alternate silver and blue bands, heraldic symbols for water to represent Minnesota.

SNOW REMOVAL Big Problem For Chatfield

CHATFIELD, Minn. (Special)—The large amount of snow and how to move it was the chief concern of Chatfield City Council Monday night.

Aldermen passed a resolution to haul snow at city expense in the commercial area only, with the following conditions: No charge will be made for removing snow from the center of the street to the property line for business places fronting the highway.

Snow will be loaded and hauled from business places off the highway, the city paying for loader and trucks and one-half hour only. Any additional time loader and trucks are needed must be paid for by the owners.

They will be billed by the city. All snow must be windrowed or piled. The resolution provided for paying $4 per hour for the truck for snow removal and reimbursing Arno Batzel $6.50 per hour for use of his loader.

very cold weather in the beginning of the period and a slow moderation during the weekend. Melted precipitation will average about .25 of an inch, occurring in occasional periods of snow during the early part of next week.

WITH 15 INCHES of snow on the ground and the thermometer reading -13, residents of Winona found it hard to believe today that spring is less than three weeks away. But the World Almanac shows that spring arrives in Winona this year at 8:30 p.m. March 20. And if that groundhog who failed to see his shadow is still out he must have some doubts about winter being over Feb. 2.

The month ending today was one of the coldest Februaries on record with the mean 14.44, contrasted with the normal figure of 18.9. The degree-day count for February was 1,415. Last year the figure was 1,191 and the mean was 22.30.

Today's weather figures are in sharp contrast with those of this day last year when the high was 47 and the low 15. At that time only an inch of snow was on the ground. The all-time high for Feb. 28 was 61 in 1878 and the low -12 in 1897. The mean for the past 24 hours was -2. Normal mean is 21.

Meanwhile roads in both Minnesota and Wisconsin were generally in good winter driving condition with the exception of slippery spots in passing lanes and on shaded hillsides. Considerable drifting was reported in southern Wisconsin following a light snowfall Tuesday afternoon and evenings.

SOME REAL cold spots developed in Minnesota overnight. International Falls took the record with a reading of 36 this morning. Bemidji was close behind with 33 and surprising to many was the Rochester low of -28. The high there Tuesday was only -2.

Other lows in the Northwest included St. Cloud -27, Duluth -24, La Crosse had a low of -14 after a high of 9 above Tuesday. Winnipeg, Canada, had snow and a low of -34. Lowest North Dakota figure was Minot with -31.

One consolation was a general halt in snowfall that had harassed the area in off-and-on fashion for weeks. The only snowfall reported to the Weather Bureau this forenoon was at Huron, S.D.

Team Approach To Rehabilitation Stressed in Talk

A team approach to handling rehabilitation offers great hope for success, Mrs. Katherine Lambert, Winona city welfare commissioner, told the Winona Council of Social Agencies Tuesday night at the YWCA.

She said such a team would include a social worker, psychologist, physician, counselor, placement officer and other workers whose efforts would be coordinated for effective aid.

MRS. LAMBERT cited the case of one handicapped client whose medical history showed severe cerebral palsy, mental retardation and emotional instability. Because of coordinated help from the welfare and medical team, the client has made considerable progress, Mrs. Lambert said. She added:

"To be truly rehabilitative, services must be:

"Comprehensive (covering all problems due to disability);

"Integrated (a team approach with professionally humble people);

"Individualized (the clinical approach)."

WILLIAM P. Werner, director, Winona County Welfare Department, reported on the Winona experiment in the family-centered approach to welfare work. His talk was entitled "New Directions of Public Welfare."

James F. Heinlen, council president, presided and urged members to attend a community health day dinner here March 13. He said the Winona PTA Council would continue work on the Winona Teenage Code. Benjamin Hayezga, new family case worker of the Margaret Simpson Home, urged council members to refer new cases to his agency.

Mrs. Milton Spencer was in charge of the program. The council's next meeting will be April 24.

Houston County Hog-Judging Team Upsets Fillmore

CALEDONIA, Minn.—The Houston County hog-judging team has stopped a two-year winning streak by Fillmore County teams and has taken possession of a traveling trophy, Francis J. Januska, Houston County agent, announced today.

Results of this year's contest, held last Monday and Tuesday at Preston and Caledonia respectively, indicated the contest was extremely close. "It was about as close as you can get and still win," said Januska.

The Fillmore County team would have won permanent possession of a traveling trophy if it had won the annual contest again. It had defeated Houston County teams the last two years.

Net profit on hogs judged by Houston County was $3.44. Hogs judged by Fillmore County team showed a profit of just 31 cents less, or $3.13. Houston bought 12 of 20 hogs judged in separate contests at Preston and Caledonia. Fillmore bought the remaining eight.

Harlan Twesten, Spring Grove, turned in the top hog, it was determined at the carcass show at Hormel & Co., Austin. His animal dressed out with 15.9 percent harn, had 5.84 square inches of loin-eye area and produced 72.63 percent of meat in four primal cuts.

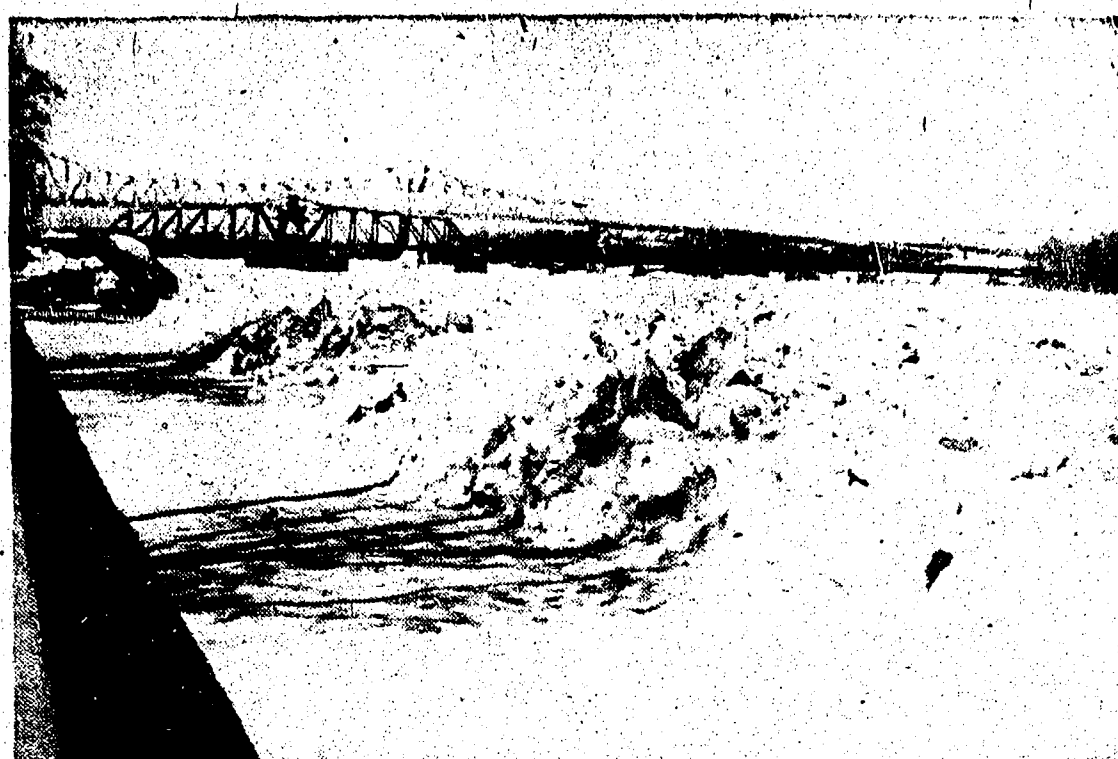

Placing second through tenth in hog competition at the carcass show were the following:

Thomas Twesten, Spring Grove; Harlan Ingvalson, Caledonia; Robert Delors, Elitzen; Michael Ingvalson, Caledonia; Miss Jean Trehus, Caledonia; Mrs. Alfred Albee, Caledonia; Ben Kohlen, Caledonia; Mike Kelly, Houston, and David Peterson, Spring Grove.

Winning producers received total prize money of $50 for their entries. Seventy-five dollars were distributed on the live shows held last week.

ST. CHARLES, Minn.—Two St. Charles High School students placed in the finals in individual events at the Southern Minnesota District National Forensic League debate tournament, Mankato, over the weekend. They were Joan Vanderaar, extemporaneous speaking, and Mary Ann Hynes, original oratory. They placed fourth. Warren C. Magnuson is debate coach at St. Charles.

Snow Over, But Look What We Got

Temperature Dips to -15, May Reach -20 Tonight

Bitter cold blanketed the Winona area today and predictions indicate the coldest night of the winter may be coming up.

The thermometer fell to 15 at 3 a.m. today, lowest Feb. 28 mark on record, and the official forecast is for -20 tonight. The record low for the winter to date was -18 on Jan. 18 and Jan. 20. It was -10 at noon today.

Continued fair and extremely cold tonight and Thursday is what the weatherman says with a high Thursday of around zero. Slowly moderating temperatures with more cloudiness and a chance of light snow is the outlook for Friday.

After a half-inch snowfall Tuesday morning the thermometer rose to 9 above in the afternoon and started dropping sharply under a brisk north-west wind Tuesday evening.

Thermometers at various locations in the city varied as much as eight degrees. The low at Max Conrad Field was -13 while some other thermometers read as low as -19. The airport reported the wind at 10 m.p.h. from the north-west and the barometer 30.61 and rising. No clouds were reported and visibility was 15 miles.

THIS MORNING'S below-zero reading was the 32nd of the winter in contrast with only 19 in 1960-61. Besides the -18 reading on Jan. 18 and 20, the thermometer dropped to -16 on Jan. 17, -15 on Dec. 13 and -13 on Jan. 10 and Feb. 6.

Some of the lower temperatures for the winter follow:

Dec. 13	.....-15
Dec. 15	.....-11
Dec. 28	.....-10
Jan. 9	.....-11
Jan. 10	.....-13
Jan. 11	.....-12
Jan. 17	.....-16
Jan. 18	.....-18
Jan. 20	.....-18
Feb. 6	.....-13
Feb. 28	.....-15

By months the below zero readings were November, none; December 8, January 15 and February 9.

The extended forecast, predictions for the next five days, indicates temperatures will average 12-18 degrees below normal with

Some North Dakota points reported ice fog early today. The Bismarck Weather Bureau said this results at times during intense cold when fumes exhausted from motor vehicles and chimneys freeze in the air.

Williston, in northeastern North Dakota, reported the lowest temperature to the Weather Bureau early today — 44 below zero. Occasionally Weather Bureau cooperative observers, who do not have facilities for reporting by wire, later report lower marks.

THE TWIN CITIES' cold record for Feb. 28 was broken at 3 a.m. today when the mercury slipped to 19 below. The old record for the date was 18 below, set in 1891. Later in the early morning, however, Twin Cities temperature dropped to 23 below.

In South Dakota, Huron reported a cold record for the date broken shortly after 3 a.m. when its temperature was 39 below. The previous low for the date was minus-24, set in 1890. Most South Dakota lows early today ranged from minus-20 to minus-25.

Broken records in North Dakota included that of Bismarck, with a minimum of 32 to displace 30 below, recorded in 1890.

Other Minnesota low readings included 28 below at Alexandria, 27 below at Redwood Falls, 30 below at Hollandale and 28 below at Albert Lea.

In Wisconsin, Eau Claire had minus-18. Wausau got off with only 8 below.

Gunshot Victim's Condition Same

No change was reported today in the condition of 15-year-old Richard Busack, who has been in critical condition at Winona General Hospital since his admittance Friday after he suffered a gunshot wound.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Busack, 672 1/2 Wilson St., Raymond was struck in the head by a bullet from a .22 caliber gun. Police have said the wound was self-inflicted.

Tuesday some improvement had been reported in his condition although he remained critical.

It Happened Last Night George Burns Serves Up Pretty Smoky Act

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — George Burns is singing now, you know, in his night club act . . . and . . . well . . . everybody's talking about his voice.

I saw (and heard) George sing at the Miami Beach Eden Roc, and I have something important to say about his vocal prowess. After all, I have heard great singers from Moscow to Singapore to Hong Kong to the 606 Club in Chicago . . . I have known the top stars from Al Jolson to Frank Sinatra to Paul Anka . . . and there's nobody living who can sing a song more beautifully while smoking a cigar than George Burns.

"What does George do in his act?" I asked one of the Miami Beach characters before catching him.

"He smokes four cigars," the fellow said.

Actually, George Porgie, as Grace Allen calls him, is excellent. He doesn't need that night club look. "I love to sing," he confesses. And that's probably why he's working—so he can hear himself sing. "I'd rather sing than be funny and I get more laughs while I'm singing," he says.

Along about the fourth cigar, George remarked, "I could have been a recording star, except that when I was 17, Thomas Edison was 17." He claims that one night when he was singing, "Booth missed me and hit Lincoln." Then he says he's going to sing, "I'll Be Waiting for You, Bill, When You Come Back From San Juan Hill."

HE MAY HAVE sung it, too, I couldn't be sure.

I liked George's admission that he isn't quite as romantic a singer as Dean Martin.

"That boy'll be a star as long as his liver holds out," George said. "Dean doesn't really drink a lot. He just wants to stay warmed up in case the right part comes

Chicago Show Display
Despite the heavy snow, a White-Craft cruising houseboat was Chicago-bound Tuesday. The picture shows the boat aboard one of the big White-Craft trailers leaving the local boatworks at the foot of Laird street. It will be among 500 other boats on exhibit at McCormick Place at Chicago when the National Boat Show opens at 6 p.m. Friday for a ten-day run.

Many Winona and area boat fans who annually visit this Chicago show will find in the boat section boats ranging from a small folding craft that can be stowed in the trunk of a car, to 65-foot cruisers. There will be plastic, wood, aluminum and steel boats, outboard boats, inboard boats and sailing craft of every description.

Since moving from the Livestock Pavilion to McCormick Place, this show has been greatly expanded. In addition to boats, motors and boating accessories, there are now sections devoted to fishing gear, water skiing and skin diving. More than 100 meetings of organizations will take place there during the ten days.

The Whitecraft on display will be one of the new Commodore series of houseboats. It is 35 feet long with a beam of 11 feet and is powered by a 188-h.p. Gray inboard motor and fully equipped.

In the living room section are Goucho chairs that can be made up into single beds at night. There is also a private bedroom, dining compartment and fully-equipped galley. There are shower and toilet facilities.

Albinism
Every once in a while someone reports seeing a white crow or blackbird or some oddity of the outdoors. Most of these freaks are albinos, and here is an explanation that came to our desk today:

You can count on it. Every hunting season produces one or more reports of a white deer, a white mallard or a white something-else. A couple of the latest are a white shoveler duck at Medicine Lake, Mont., and a white osprey near Indian Lake Reservoir of Yellowstone Park.

Liquor Industry Questions U. S. Edict on Whisky

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A liquor industry group has raised the provocative question of whether the federal government should have a voice in determining the taste of whisky.

The issue bobbed up Tuesday at an Internal Revenue Service hearing on a plan to change regulations that restrict the barreling of whisky for aging.

Under present rules, whisky may not exceed 110 proof at the time it is placed in barrels. IRS is thinking of raising the limit to 125 proof. But two distillers—Publisher Industries Inc. of Philadelphia and Schenley Industries of New York—argued there should be no limit at all.

The taste issue is involved because it has been found that if whisky is barreled at 140 proof, for example, it will not taste the same as a batch stored at 125 proof.

Richard L. Ryan, chief of the Alcohol Tax U.S. laboratory here, testified that if whisky is barreled at 110 proof and 125 proof, there will be no significant difference in taste and aroma. Above 125 proof, Ryan said, there are significant changes in the character of whisky.

The technician said IRS favors the 125-proof limit, rather than a higher ceiling or none at all, because it does not want taste to be affected.

Leo Vernon, secretary of Publisher, said this "represents an attempt to control the flavor of each distiller's whisky on the premise that no distiller should be able to change the flavor of his whisky from what it is at any given time."

He argued there is nothing in the tax laws to give IRS the right to control whisky flavors and said, "Even baby food manufacturers are not subjected to this kind of control."

Publisher and Schenley representatives contended the industry and the drinking public should be allowed to decide questions of taste.

The industry has a strong motive for seeking a higher proof limit. More whisky can be produced from a single barrel if the proof is increased at the time of barreling. Barreled whisky is diluted with distilled water after aging and brought down to the proof level at which it is marketed.

A 125-proof limit, as compared with 110 proof, would increase output per barrel by about 13 per cent.

Regular Deduction Available to You

(This is the eighth in a series of income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

The standard deduction is available to you if you do not itemize your personal deductions which are authorized by law such as real estate taxes, charitable contributions and medical expenses.

These deductions are deductions from a figure which is called "adjusted gross income." Adjusted gross income is defined as gross income less business expense, exclusions such as pay while sick, expenses incurred in connection with property which you hold for the production of rents or royalties, deductions for traveling expenses while away from home on business and those expenses for which you have been reimbursed by your employer.

THE STANDARD deduction amounts generally 10 percent of this adjusted gross income figure. It, however, is limited for all taxpayers to $1,000 where the 10 percent figure exceeds this amount. The standard deduction is a substitute method allowed in lieu of itemized deductions and is given to you whether or not you keep records of deductible expenses or actually have these expenses.

The determination of whether or not you should use the standard deduction must be the result of comparing the net tax which you will pay under both methods of filing your return. The final method used should be based upon a consideration of the amount of tax payable under each method and the relative ease of filing under either method.

A GENERAL rule of thumb is that you will pay less tax by itemizing your deductions where you own your own home and pay substantial real estate taxes and mortgage interest. However, in many other situations the itemization method will also benefit you tax-wise.

Later articles will discuss various types of personal deductions allowable to you in computing your taxable income.

Overuse of Pills Hit By Physician

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The growing popularity of pills, a widespread drive to cut deaths from sudden heart standstill and a warning about little round, white health hazards that will zoom across the nation's golf courses come spring figure in the medical news.

A New Hampshire doctor believes medical personnel in hospitals are over-using tranquilizers, sleeping pills, laxatives—and even X rays.

Dr. Wie L. Bong of Hanover held up this picture for young doctors and medical students:

Apprehensive relatives of injured persons in the emergency room are given "indiscriminate shots of tranquilizers" to calm them even though the patients' injuries are minor in many cases.

At 10 p.m. a nurse makes the rounds of patients who have been sleeping most of the day asking if anyone wants a sleeping pill. Laxatives are "being devoured by the gallons" because patients aren't told that lack of normal action for a day or two won't do any harm.

X-rays are given routinely for sprain injuries that "obviously have no fracture on good clinical examination."

Writing in the New Physician, the journal of the Student American Medical Association, Dr. Bong said, "In my opinion all this misuse can be corrected if we, the doctors, are willing to take out a little time and effort for explanation to those of the public who are willing to listen."

Drowning, electric shock, strangulation, suffocation and severe reactions to anesthesia can cause hearts to stop beating. Many of these patients survive if the heart resumes beating—or is forced to do its work—within 4 to 6 minutes.

Opening the chest wall and squeezing the heart by hand was the only survival aid available until researchers found that external pressure on the breast bone squeezed the heart against the backbone and forced it to pump blood into the arteries.

The technique requires no special equipment and can be used anywhere.

Smith Kline & French Laboratories, in cooperation with the Johns Hopkins medical institutions, has completed a film designed to train physician-directed rescue teams to perform the resuscitation measure safely and effectively.

Spring is just around the corner and so is golf.

The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co. has completed a nationwide study which indicated more than 15,000 golfers, caddies and workmen were injured in golf accidents last year.

Many were victims of swinging clubs, heat prostration and lightning bolts.

But the report, carried in Medical World News, concluded that at least half the golfing injuries were caused by the golf ball itself, striking victims at speeds around 200 miles an hour.

American Ways For Old Britain

LONDON — I was downright sad when the British decided to change their drinking laws to some degree of civilized sense. It seemed to me to do something to the national character — almost as character-weakening as the installation of ice water in one of the never hotels.

Really, shocking things have been happening to the mores of the old country. You can buy a bottle of booze now in the off-hours, when the pubs are closed. You can even buy brandy-filled candy in an ordinary sweetshop. The pubkeeper no longer threatens to clout you with a bungstarter if you persist in dawdling over your drink after the warning shout of "Time, gentlemen!" You're actually allowed to take 10 minutes to finish off your mild-and-bitter.

Any hotel or restaurant that sells food can serve drinks now without a special license. You can shoot the pool as well as play darts in the pubs of a Sunday. You can play and sing in a saloon now without a license, and even go so far as to bring a drummer with you. And, heaven forgive us all,iced drinks, cold beer, and even bourbon whisky are becoming more popular with the masses!

IT SEEMS such a pity. There was an old-world charm about the British drinker sinking his pints with increasing freneticism as the closing hour of 3 p.m. or 10:30 p.m. approached, and then reeling forth into the King's Road.

There was a certain chicness to belonging to off-hour bars, private clubs and sly grogshops—a kind of British discipline to hurrying off to the licensed victualler to buy your supply of Saturday gin in order to beat the weekend curfew on bottled goods.

There was a speakeasy sort of thrill in sneaking into the member's lounge of a private hotel, and a pleasant illicitness about enticing a pubkeeper to open up the bar five minutes early when your last night's nerves were shouting for refurbishment with a pink gin.

THERE SEEMS to be a breakdown of character here. In recent years—possibly since the Yankee invasion in the second World War—I have noticed fewer and fewer Englishmen declining ice with their whisky or that bloody awful standby, brandy and ginger ale. Cold beer is not at all impossible to come by, and the six-to-one dry Martini has almost entirely replaced the old gin-and-French, which was constructed of equal parts of warm gin and vermouth. The old-fashioned, the daiquiri, the Manhattan and even, heaven bless us, the rum-and-Coke raise no eyebrows of disapproval or mirth when they are sought of the bartender in the fussiest of peat-thatched pubs.

However, if the British have betrayed us in the saloons, they are still fighting a magnificent battle on the food fronts.

On Sundays or early closing afternoons, a shopkeeper still can't sell food that has to be prepared. You can buy a can of soup, but you can't buy a cube of bouillon. You can buy meat for yourself, but you can't buy a tin of meat for our dog. Your man can sell you a quick-frozen meat pie but refuses you a raw chop or steak. Plain bread you can buy, but not as a cab on the streets; almost nothing at all was open; and, that apart, the city was seized by a driving snow storm.

QUITE fortunately we have a large icebox with a freeze cabinet, and there is room in the pantry for the extra bottle of booze and a few cartons of cigarettes. It was pleasant to be snowbound and sealed off from the rest of the world, which was in turn sealed off from us.

But I kept thinking at the time that if life in a fallout shelter is anything like Christmas weekend in England, large families had better increase the size of a cave. It takes a power of vittles to make a house a home, and the grog has a way of dwindling in the bottle faster than when you can nip down to the corner for a replacement.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Trans World Airlines has sold its first 25 Constellation airliners, which cost almost $30 million 15 years ago, to Nevada Airmotive Corp. of Las Vegas for $700,000.

There was speculation here that they will be used to shuttle customers to and from the Nevada gambling and resort center. The Constellations have averaged 40,000 hours in the air, in military service and on civilian passenger runs from the West Coast to Egypt.

Piled Snow Brings New Hazards

WINTER DRIVING, because of slick streets and icy or frosted car windows, is always hazardous. But a new hazard has been added this year and motorists must now drive with greater care than ever before.

The very substantial snowfall of this winter has created the new problem. The snow has been plowed, shoveled and blown five and six feet high on embankments at nearly every intersection in the residential areas of the community. As a result, it is almost impossible to spot low silhouette cars approaching at right angles.

In addition to automobiles, the problem involves precious human lives, particularly of toddlers and young scholars who one instant may be hidden by a snow bank but the next instant and next step may be in front of your skidding car.

NOR IS THE NEED for extreme care restricted to urban intersections. Similar conditions exist in suburban and rural areas in Winona and surrounding counties. It is equally as impossible to see automobiles approaching at right angles at numerous town and country intersections. This means that drivers must slow their car to almost a stop before entering these intersections if they wish to be absolutely certain that they are not risking a collision.

Furthermore, we are entering the period when considerable additional snow may fall and add to the already dangerous hazard. In some cases, snow removal can be altered, perhaps, to avoid huge snowbanks which obstruct vision, but in most cases this would prove difficult and costly. The best solution is extreme caution by all vehicle drivers.

IT'S ONLY A matter of three or four weeks, we hope, before spring melting will solve the problem. Why not attempt to be alive and uninjured to enjoy the spring season by exercising the utmost caution for the remainder of winter. Above all, be wary of intersections!

Qualifications for Sheriff Not Rigid Enough

(From Milwaukee Journal)

IF YOU HAVE fought a duel or are behind in your taxes you are not eligible for the office of sheriff of Wisconsin. You don't need to have even a fourth grade education.

You have to be 21, a citizen and a resident of the county, apparently. You don't have to have had even a day's training or experience in law enforcement.

The better sheriffs are getting a little sensitive about the total lack of required professional qualifications. They are aware of more than occasional election of incompetent sheriffs able to win popularity contests at the polls.

The last convention of the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs Association, in Janesville, resolved that sheriffs should be at least 25, have a high school education and five years experience in law enforcement. Even these requirements are so minimal as to be almost valueless.

A MAN OR woman who had barely squeezed through high school, who had never had more "experience" than serving as town constable, would still be eligible. The sheriffs' resolution did proclaim that "experienced career officers and top grade law enforcement are synonymous."

Next time the sheriffs may agree that the "career officers" should have proper professional training, and meet reasonably high standards of physical and intellectual competence. As long as elected sheriffs carry the authority they do, qualifications for the office can hardly be set too high.

MEANWHILE every encouragement should be given to the move, gradually gaining force, to put county law enforcement more directly in the hands of a chief deputy, a trained and experienced career officer selected and serving under civil service.

Maybe the President does think farm programs cost too much, but he is not likely to make his views known until after 1964.

Women workers in an onion plant in England complain that the lingering smell of onions is ruining their sex appeal. It's enough to make one teary-eyed.

God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able, but will with the temptation also make a way of escape, that ye may be able to bear it. 1 Corinthians 10:13.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

Modern Liberal Takes a Stand

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

Dr. Eric Goldman of Princeton University recently appeared on an NBC-TV discussion show armed with a collection of quotations calculated to place all conservatives in the category of extremists.

Dr. Goldman believes that compulsion is necessary if man is to make progress, and I found his statements quite illuminating.

I'm sure Dr. Goldman believes in academic freedom. I don't believe he would contradict me when I say that as a member of the Princeton faculty he believes university professors and all teachers should be adequately compensated, should enjoy tenure and security in their jobs and be permitted to speak freely on any issue.

Now I agree completely with this position. I have great respect for intellectual attainment. I am opposed to censorship in thought or word, and I am opposed to the creation of any power center which renders the individual insignificant.

It seems to me that Prof. Goldman would, in this situation, be arguing for the enlargement of personal freedom and for the inviolability of private property, for when we call for an adequate salary, we are merely suggesting that the laborer is worthy of his hire. Academic freedom really means that the professor must be permitted to voice his own viewpoint without any fear of economic retribution through the loss of his job.

IF MY UNDERSTANDING of the situation is correct, I find myself completely confused when this learned professor, who wants to maximize freedom for himself and his associates, argues that compulsion is necessary for other members of society. Is he not really saying, "I am a competent human being, prominent and prudent and quite capable of recognizing the necessity of providing for my own retirement years. But since so many of my fellow citizens are less competent, less intelligent and less prominent, it is quite proper for me to diminish their freedom by using governmental compulsion to require them to do that which I know is best for them?"

This particular point is the dividing line between the modern liberal and the modern conservative—the former being quite willing to employ governmental coercion or bribery to achieve what he believes is a noble purpose, while the latter recognizes the evil in compulsion and tyranny even though it is employed for a benevolent purpose.

How do you stand, sir?

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Jim Lombard tells about the tender hearted motorist who accidentally ran over a hare, stopped his car, and ran back to see if he could help the poor animal. The hare was hurt but miraculously still alive. The motorist whipped out his pocket flask and gave the hare a swig of its contents. A moment later the hare, seemingly in the pink again, bounded happily off into a thicket.

"Amazing," commented the motorist's companion, "What on earth does that flask of yours contain?"

The motorist answered, "Hare restorer."

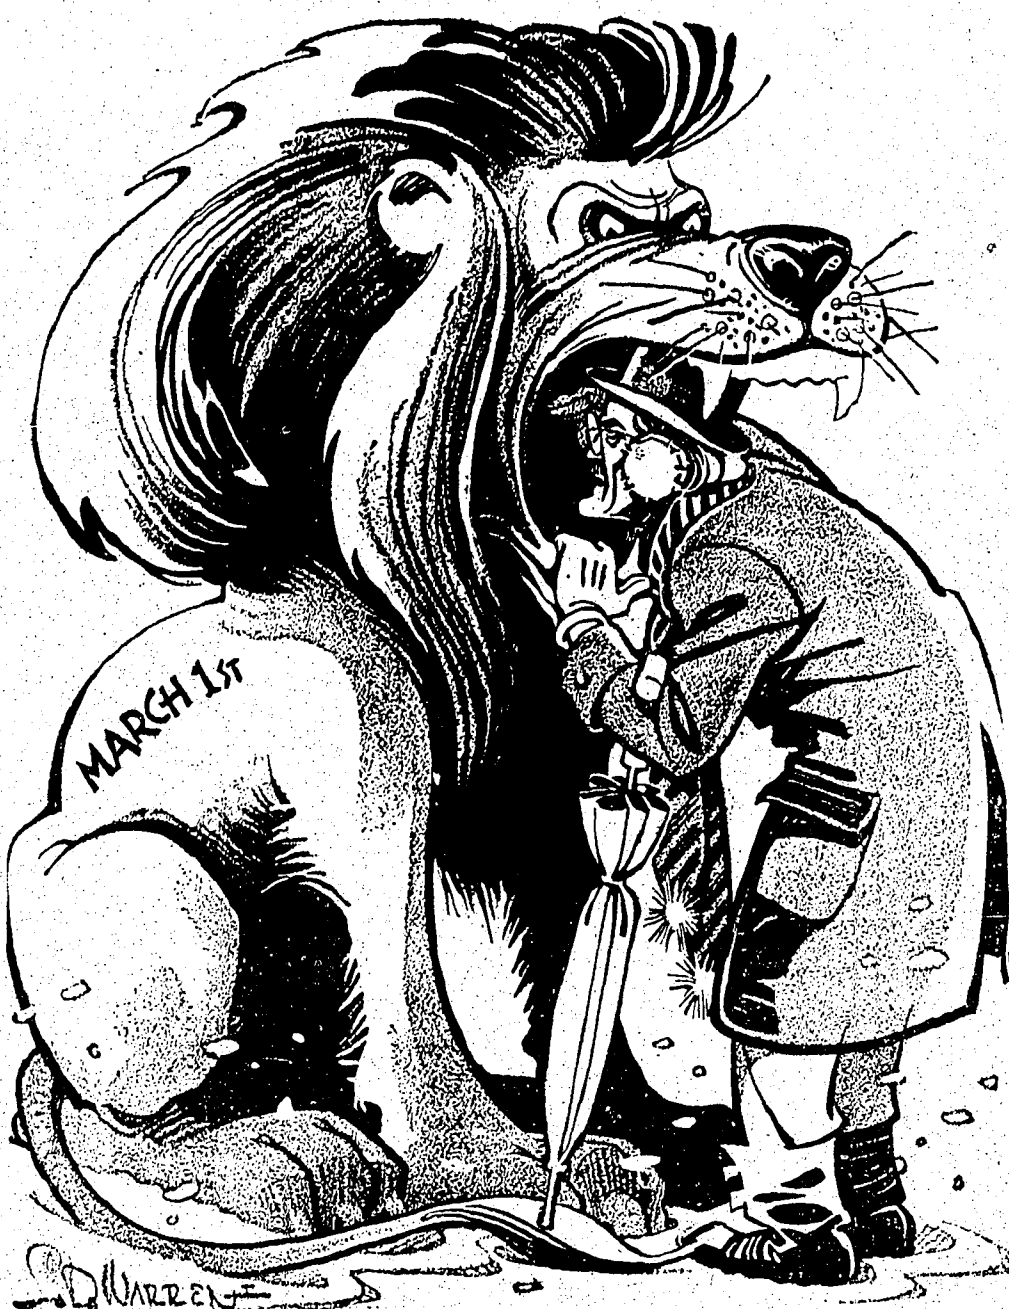

John Straley encountered a volunteer for the Peace Corps who had to sign a statement at the bottom of his entrance exam that he had neither given nor received help in the preparation of same. The volunteer testified, "I ain't received no help, and Lord knows I couldn't have given none."

The older one gets, notes a philosopher in Colorado, the further he had to walk to school when he was a boy, and the colder were the winters. My own dad claimed that he walked across the Brooklyn Bridge in the Blizzard of 1888. Every time he told the story, the snow drifts that he battled were two feet higher.

Two attractive girls sauntered down a Broadway, with a lone sailor dogging their every footstep. Finally one of the girls wheeled round and announced angrily, "You there, Mr. Fresh! Either quit following us this way, or get another sailor!"

Interesting note about the current year: "1961" reads the same turned upside down! Try it on a small piece of paper. This won't happen again until the year 6009—and, personally, we do not intend to wait

I CAN SEE THE END OF WINTER—I THINK!

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Flight Pay for Glenn But Not on Mile Basis

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Gen. David Shoup, the Marine Corps commander, has replied to Col. John Glenn's mischievous request for flight pay for three orbits round the earth that he would approve a voucher for the four and a half hours Glenn spent in orbit but would not approve any payment figured by the mile.

JFK doesn't forget little things, even at times of crisis. It was he who instructed Vice President Johnson, chairman of the space agency, to fly to Grand Turk Island to greet Col. Glenn. Col. Glenn hasn't formally applied, but has hinted he would like to make a second trip into space; James Webb, head of the space agency, has made no final decision but feels Glenn has done enough, will probably keep him down on earth in the future.

Pearson

Webb, who masterminded the great space achievement, was trained under the late, great governor of North Carolina, O. Max Gardner. It took speculators at Cape Canaveral longer to drive through the traffic jam to Coca Beach than it took John Glenn to travel all the way round the earth.

Two secret documents on space flights have disappeared from the Armed Services Technical Intelligence Agency. Security men are frantically searching for them, but some agents believe the documents were hidden by a disgruntled employee to embarrass his boss. They pertained to guidance problems.

Some amazing developments are taking place behind the sugar cane curtain in Cuba. U. S. Intelligence reports that they are closely linked to the ideological battle between China and Russia.

Among other things, Fidel Castro has now abdicated much of his dictatorial power and has promised the Russians to quit his psychopathic bombast which has kept Cuba in a continual state of jitters.

BEHIND THE internal struggle have been two important figures. The first is Ernesto "Che" Guevara, Argentine-trained Communist, who favored the tough Chinese brand of Communism and imported hundreds of Chinese technicians. Chinese have been seen all over Havana and probably outnumbered Russian advisers. Some even held office in the Cuban government.

Opposing Guevara has been Blas Roca, a Communist loyal to Moscow.

In the ideological infighting which has taken place in the Spanish-built fortresses and office buildings of ancient Havana, Roca has now won out. He has become backstage boss of Cuba.

He has even replaced Castro as head of agrarian reform with a trusted henchman, Carlos Rodriguez. Guevara has been eased out of the limelight, and his Chinese friends are being dropped.

The Cuban government now appears to be run from the Russian embassy where Ambassador Sergei Kudriavtsev quietly gives advice.

BLAS ROCA, according to intelligence reports, played two aces in forcing Castro to relinquish his dictatorial powers:

1. Castro's mismanagement has driven Cuba to the brink of economic disaster, and he desperately needed aid. Only Russia could supply that aid.

2. Castro had developed a paranoiac fear of invasion from the USA and assassination at the hands of American agents. The Kremlin promised to protect him. This was the reason

Moscow issued its recent warning against another Cuban invasion. The warning was more to reassure Castro than to frighten the USA.

Result of this dramatic upheaval inside Cuba will be more stability and less anti-Americanism. The Russians have always figured Cuba was a good bargaining weapon with the United States, but never have been fond of Castro. Khrushchev deliberately snubbed Castro's repeated invitation to visit him in Havana when Khrushchev came to the U.N. for his prolonged New York visit in the fall of 1960.

On Washington's birthday last year, enthusiastic young Attorney General Kennedy came down to the Justice Department to work—despite the holiday.

IN THE COURTYARD of the Justice Department he found about 20 cars. Meticulously he jotted down the numbers of the license plates, had his secretary look up the owners, and wrote each a note of thanks for working on the holiday.

What the new attorney general didn't know was that Washington's birthday in the nation's capital is a tremendous bargain day and many of the stores are near the Justice Department's courtyard is an excellent place to park.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader, is furious at his Democratic colleague, John McClellan of Arkansas, for blocking Kennedy's urban affairs department. It was McClellan's parliamentary maneuver which defeated the new urban department to be headed by Robert Weaver, a Negro. Mansfield was also irked at Bobby Kennedy for being in Europe instead of Washington. The attorney general once worked for McClellan, is one of his close friends, probably could have changed his mind. Secretary of the Interior Udall is equally peeved at his brother, Cong. Udall of Arizona, for voting against Kennedy on the urban department.

Cong. W. J. B. Dorn of South Carolina is named for a distinguished Democrat—William Jennings Bryan; but many South Carolinians are wondering whether he hasn't changed his party allegiance. Dorn snubbed the big Democratic rally at Columbia, S.C., but came to the state later with Cong. Howard Smith of Virginia, chief blocker of Democratic policies in the House.

Jackie Kennedy did such a charming job in her televised guided tour of the White House that both India and Pakistan have asked for films to be shown in advance of her visit. The U. S. Information Agency is also preparing 120 films for release to American embassies throughout the world—including Moscow, Warsaw, Prague, Bucharest, Budapest, and other Communist countries. Largest stockholder of Standard Oil of California is R. G. Follis, chairman of the board. Second largest stockholder is John A. McConne, director of Central Intelligence. The Senate permitted him to keep his stock even though his recommendations to the White House regarding the Near East must necessarily involve American oil where Standard of California has heavy investments.

What About Bob, Ted Kennedy?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — A curious kind of "conflict of interest" arises in the cases of Bobby and Ted Kennedy as they tour the world with the aura of their brother's presidency surrounding them wherever they go. Two questions are being asked: are they trading on the position and prestige of a distinguished relative? Should they be disqualified from doing what comes naturally in their respective careers just because they happen to have a brother who is President of the United States?

There is only one instance in which a close relative of a president has later become the chief executive. John Adams, the second president, had been out of office 24 years and was 89 years old when his son John Quincy Adams, was elected the sixth president. But this doesn't mean that relatives of several other presidents haven't tried for the presidency — as, for instance, the sons of Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and William Howard Taft. It was not until 30 years after Mr. Taft became President that his son, Robert A. Taft, was elected United States senator and began his unsuccessful drive for the Republican presidential nomination.

The controversy over the Kennedys differs somewhat from any similar question raised heretofore. No President has ever given his brother a post in the cabinet and then sent him abroad in the role of unofficial envoy or "good will" ambassador. Milton Eisenhower, brother of President Eisenhower, was designated as a special envoy to Latin America, an area about which he had exceptional knowledge, but he volunteered his services without compensation and served a government without relation to any political career. He never was in the cabinet.

When President-Elect Kennedy was reported in December 1960 to be considering his brother for the post of attorney general, this writer said at the time that Robert Kennedy was "an able young man and ought not to be penalized just because he is the brother of the president-elect," and that the real question was whether he was the best-qualified man in the country to direct the Department of Justice.

THE SAME yardstick applies today. Was it in the best interest of the United States in the operation of its foreign policy to send Attorney General Kennedy around the world making contacts with high officials of foreign governments which are involved in major controversies of the day? Naturally, the secretary of state, Dean Rusk, and the under secretary of state, George W. Ball, have risen to defend the President's action in authorizing his brother to deal with foreign governments. What else could these two officials do even if they felt it was an error? A member of the team defends what the captain of the team does, or resigns.

It can be argued that it was a mistake for President Kennedy to take his brother away from his post as head of the Department of Justice, for which duties he is being paid a salary by the taxpayers, and to send him abroad for several weeks. It wasn't a mistake for Bobby Kennedy, on the other hand, to take advantage of the opportunity to get worldwide notice and prestige for use in advancing his own political career.

WHEN THE attorney general wanted to go on the trip, how could his brother turn him down? After all, Bobby Kennedy had performed a remarkable job as a political mentor and political manager in the four years before JFK was elected President. He knew how to line up delegations for the convention. He masterminded the strategy of the whole presidential-election campaign. The President himself happens to have been raised in the school of practical politics where a service like this doesn't go unrewarded.

A related question is: What is a President's brother to do if he has political ambitions? Shall he take himself completely out of the Democratic administration that is in power and wait a few years till after his brother is out of the White

Winona Can Be Proud of Watkins

To the editor:

Winona can be proud of Watkins Products Inc., and especially the personnel that heads it. It's a fact for thought.

The J. R. Watkins Medical Co., as it had been known to us here in Winona for many years, and even today often mentioned by the title above, has not only been an asset to our citizens or just another place to make a living, but something to live by.

This title Watkins is and has been a tradition with Winona citizens and the surrounding community for generations.

Sure is good news to hear that they will remain with us. May they stay here indefinitely.

"Curtalement may have been drastic." No doubt here the management of this firm had Winona at heart in their mind when they made their final decision.

We often hear this word progress. What else can you call this? Welcome to Winona, Minn.

House before embarking on a political career on his own? The question answers itself. Bobby Kennedy is right from his own standpoint to take advantage of every opportunity to become nationally and internationally known.

BUT THE President himself hasn't such an easy out. He must face the judgment of the American people someday as to whether it was right to pick as an unofficial envoy at a critical time in history a younger brother who had no previous experience or special qualifications for the ambassador's role he now adopts.

It is being asked on Capitol Hill why the vice president of the United States, Lyndon Johnson, wasn't given the assignment, since the country had already witnessed his successful missions abroad in the 13 months that the present administration has been in office.

Was it in the public interest not to take advantage of an opportunity to train a vice president for possible emergencies, or was it more important to reward his brother's political service and aid him in his ambition for higher office? That's the "conflict of interest" which President Kennedy faced in this unprecedented case.

Keeping Curiosity Alive Major Task

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON
Professor of Education
University of Southern California

By the very nature of formal education, schools as they are set up in this country stifle curiosity and creativity and reward conformity. Too bad, you say? Of course it is.

But look at the other side of the coin. The teacher has 30 little wigglers in her class. She must see that the lessons are learned. Examination time leaves no room for doubt.

Examinations demand facts. They test the child's understanding of ideas. In most examinations the child can initiate nothing. He must know what the textbook said; he must do as the teacher told him to do.

After examination, the subject is closed, as far as the school is concerned.

But wait a minute! Curiosity leads to knowing more than the teacher says you must know.

No matter how good schools are, children need parents who keep curiosity alive. One of the thrilling things about being a parent is the opportunity to encourage—not squelch—curiosity and creativity.

I know a busy mother of five who provides drawing, model-making materials, etc., and places her children on their own during the hour that she prepares dinner.

A small child brings her a peculiar looking picture. "What a nice picture!" she says. "Tell me about it."

"She never makes the mistake of saying, 'Oh, you drew a horse,' when the child meant it for a ship. If an adult makes the type of mistake too often, the child quits drawing, or at least quits showing his art to adults."

This mother's youngsters are "self-starters." Their curiosities and drives for creative expression are dominant and satisfying.

Not long ago this family went to the desert to a home without children where there were few play-things. The children pounced joy-

Secret Service Asks More Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief of the Secret Service says he wants more men assigned to guard President Kennedy and his family—in Washington and on weekend trips.

"As you know, he is moving back and forth almost every weekend," James J. Rowley told a House Appropriations subcommittee. His testimony, at a closed session Feb. 1, was made public Tuesday.

Rowley said he wants to put a fourth shift on duty at the White House "because of the activities of President Kennedy." When the President travels, Rowley said, Secret Service men must drop other assignments to join the protective detail.

Under the administration's budget, the Secret Service would get 50 new agents.

Gen. Clay Urges Industrial Boom For West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay says West Berlin should be made into "a really international industrial and production area."

In an interview recorded for RIAS, the American broadcasting station in Berlin, President Kennedy's special envoy to Berlin expressed confidence that concessions would be made to get American firms established in West Berlin. He said they would find qualified workers and take satisfaction in working within the European Economic Community.

fully on a pile of odd-shaped blocks of wood left over from cabinet work. They concocted boats, castles, cabins, cars. They liked them so much they took them home!

Children need chances to practice creativity and they need to exercise their imaginations and resources without a parental accompaniment of: "No! No! That's not the way to do it."

Let a child do it his own way unless he asks for help or you realize a suggestion from you will prevent frustration or failure. Encourage him to learn more about each school subject than the teacher requires. This habit will carry over beyond his school years.

If your child has intellectual curiosity, encourage him to ask questions and look up the answers. If he has a project, encourage him, but don't take over. Remember, it is his project.

If he starts woodworking in the garage, don't crowd around and break him down. And don't go downtown and buy him a complete kit of tools. Let him acquire them, a hammer and a saw at a time. You can smother interest as well as stimulate it.

French-fried onion rings are delicious served with curried meat, poultry, eggs or other vegetables.

Car Stuck Until Spring

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP)—Spring can't come any too soon for Paul Andreszuck, 19, of New Ulm.

It may be then — and only then—before he can get his car out of a road ditch near here.

Andreszuck told the sheriff's office Monday afternoon that he lost control of the car about midnight Sunday and it went into the ditch. He walked away uninjured.

But then a deputy sheriff and a wrecker went to the scene and almost didn't find the car.

A fresh snowfall and the wind had conspired to bury the vehicle. Snow was piled up with-in a couple inches of the roof and the wrecker couldn't pull it out.

2 Girls Killed Getting Off Bus

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Two girls were killed Tuesday by an automobile after they alighted from a school bus.

Killed were Wanda Edwards, 9, and Joan Henrie, 7, both of Berwick. The bus driver was Myron Edwards. Joan's father drives the bus in the mornings.

Investigators said the bus had stopped on a side road at an intersection and the girls were struck when they started across the main road toward their homes.

Production records show it costs $110 to $125 a year to feed a cow. If the cow produces only 150 to 175 pounds of butterfat per year, she actually is not paying for her feed.

'Students Targets Of Communists,' Topic of Lecture

"Students Throughout the World—Communist Target" will be discussed at a College of Saint Teresa convocation in the auditorium Thursday by Douglas Hyde, former communist journalist.

He is one of the lecturers in a series sponsored by the Lee and Rose Warner Foundation. The meeting will be at 4:15 P. M. in the College auditorium.

Hyde, a representative of the British Foreign Office, was formerly news editor of the London Daily Worker. He abandoned communism in 1948 and is now a lecturer at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Defense College in Paris and chairman of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Committee for Combating Psychological Subversion.

A study of Catholic literature caused him to abandon communism and become a Catholic.

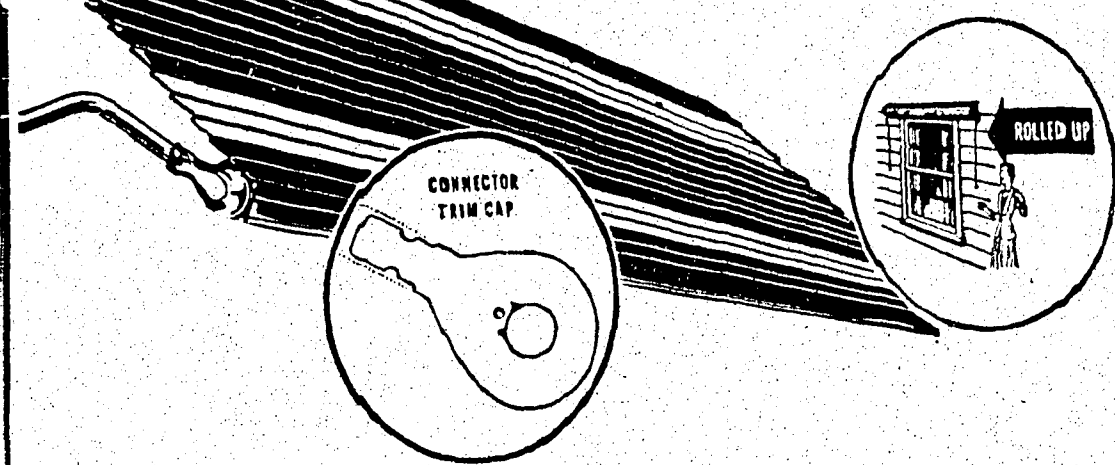

"Catholic thought, gaining entry through my love for medieval literature and art, slowly destroyed my communism—with me resisting each inch of the way," he said.

Miss Mahoney Becomes Bride In Ettrick

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Before the altar of St. Bridget's Catholic Church, Miss Patricia Ann Mahoney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Mahoney, Ettrick Route 2, became the bride of Thomas Dale Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bradshaw, Blair, Feb. 17.

The Rev. James Ennis read the nuptial high Mass. St. Bridget's girls choir sang, with Nancy Bleken as organist.

THE BRIDE was attended by Miss Maureen Peterson and her sister, Miss Mary Mahoney. Betty Mahoney, sister of the bride, was flower girl. The bride wore a white lace over nylon net gown made with fitted bodice, long sleeves and a scalloped neckline. Ruffles of lace trimmed the floor-length bouffant skirt. Her veil fell from a pearl crown and she carried a cascade of red roses and ivy.

The bridegroom was attended by Richard Peterson and Jerry Bradshaw, Ladysmith, Wis., a nephew of the bridegroom. Michael Bradshaw, Ladysmith, nephew of the bridegroom, carried the rings. James Mahoney Jr., brother of the bride, and Ronald Corcoran served at the altar.

A RECEPTION for 300 was held in the church dining room. Tables were decorated with candles and flowers. Serving were Le. Sandra Johnson, Charlotte Canton, Anna Marie Salzwedel, Carole Stellfus, Alice Dick, Eileen Robinson, Mary Lou Brenengen and Patricia Mulheron. The wedding cake, was served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Clayton Walter. In charge of the kitchen were the Misses. Mrs. Mahoney, mother of the bride, was in a navy blue costume with matching accessories, and Mrs. Bradshaw, the bridegroom's mother, was in black. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw left for a wedding trip to points in Southern Wisconsin. For travel the bride chose a blue wool suit with black hat and accessories.

The bridegroom will be employed on the Hollis Bibby farm in Hardies Creek and the couple will live in the Bibby home.

Existing With Communists, Tigers Equally Dangerous: Dr. Schwyzer

"We are learning that we can not coexist peacefully with communism any more than a man can coexist with a man-eating tiger," Dr. Marguerite Schwyzer, St. Paul, told a guest meeting of the Altruism Club at the Hotel Winona Tuesday evening.

"We have the greatest amount of freedom of any time, the flower of Christian religion in the world, and we must learn to appreciate and preserve it," declared this dynamic speaker who served in Italy with MEDICO, founded by the late Dr. Thomas Dooley.

"FREEDOM is right and power," she said. "It means that we have the right to do as we should do."

She declared that the only effective way to fight Communism, who are atheists and insist that everyone else shall be atheists, is with "an atom bomb, an information bomb." She said these people, now rigidly controlling one-third of mankind, believe that man the individual has no value, no dignity, no rights; that man is matter in motion, no more nor less, no different in kind from a stone.

This small group that has penetrated and softened up, in varying degrees, the remaining two-thirds of the world's population, believes that the character of man is determined completely by the economic conditions under which a man lives changes the man, she said.

"THE COMMUNISTS plan and work to overthrow all existing governments, to transform every society into socialism and thus to remake mankind," warned the speaker. They plan the conquest of Europe, Asia, and finally the U. S. she said, and in so doing, a third of all Americans would have to be purged, liquidated, killed—"We call it murder."

"Having remade mankind, Communists believe there will emerge the perfect society, a 'heaven on earth,' a utopia, and the Communist party is destined to accelerate this program.

"This is the basic belief of the Communists. And having no absolute standard of morality, the Communist code is expediency—the end justifies the means."

DR. SCHWYZER pointed out the steps taken by Communists. They begin with the intellectuals, she said, and today their beliefs have even penetrated the grade schools where some of the textbooks downgrade the founders of this country. The Congressional Record shows they have broken 51 of the 53 agreements made with the U. S.

"We must assume moral responsibility for what has happened and realize that the present would have been entirely different if people had known what communism is and how it works and had taken the proper steps to vanquish it," the speaker quoted Dr. Charles Malik, former president of the U. N. general assembly.

"The Communists have been winning by default," she said, "and because we didn't assume our individual responsibility, the Communists are winning World War III.

ONLY BY informing ourselves of their dedication to destroy our freedom and impose on us a quasi-religion, can we win this World War III, declared the speaker. "The struggle between the Communist Party and the free world is the revolution which will culminate in the utter destruction of our society, our culture, and everything that maintains it—its ideas, social and political institutions, and even its habits of mind and emotions, unless we win the victory."

Dr. Schwyzer, who specializes in internal medicine in St. Paul and at the University of Minnesota, was accompanied here by Miss Mary Sweeney, St. Paul Altruism, author of "Handbook for Librarians" and other books.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. E. S. Kjos, chairman of the public affairs committee of the Winona club. Miss Alberta Seiz, vice president, presided in the absence of Miss Marion Griesbach, president.

125 Applaud Performance Of 'Rondo'

Jerry F. Lehmeier acknowledged the sustained applause following the first public performance of his composition "Rondo" at the Winter Concert at Winona State College attended by 125 Tuesday evening.

Mr. Lehmeier played contrabass for "Rondo" and the two other numbers on the program. He is a graduate student at the college and director of instrumental and vocal music at Jefferson Junior High School. Richard McCluer was conductor.

The brief composition played with obvious enjoyment by the orchestra was in sharp contrast to the two classical selections "Symphony No. 104" by Franz Joseph Haydn and "Soirees Musicales, Suite of Five Movements by Rossini" arranged by Benjamin Britten.

"Rondo" which was originally composed for two pianos was specially arranged for the Winona State College orchestra. Its distinctive modern sound was achieved by combining Latin American rhythm and a full sweeping melody displaying the orchestra's ability as a unit with playful pizzicato interludes.

The spontaneity picked up in "Rondo" was continued in the varied rhythms represented in the compositions by Rossini from a litigating march to "Taramella." The orchestra was comprised of students at the college, Winona Senior High School Orchestra members, Emil Guenther, Cochrane-Fountain City High School band director, John D. Wood, Winona Public Schools music instructor, and Milton Davenport, Fred Heyer and Agnes Bard of the college music staff.

Miss Universe Wins Apology At Tampa, Fla.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Beautiful Miss Universe was chased out of Tampa's council chamber at City Hall but the wound up receiving a key to the city anyway.

The man who did the chasing said he didn't know who she was. His action set off a round of apologies.

The blonde beauty queen, Marlene Schmidt, 24, of West Germany and her party had started into the council chamber Tuesday to keep an appointment to see the city fathers at work.

A discussion between council members and a veterans group was in progress over alleged mis-handling of American flags by city prisoners assigned to collect the colors displayed for George Washington's birthday.

Paul O'Hara, a publicist with the veterans group, rushed to the door and told the Miss Universe party to be quiet.

"We're discussing the American flag and Americanism in here and you're making too much noise," O'Hara told the group.

He took Miss Schmidt by the arm and guided her into the hall.

"We're Americans, too," retorted a member of the party accompanying Miss Schmidt.

"I doubt that," the publicist fired back, and slammed the door. Miss Schmidt, said to be near tears, walked out of the building. She later kept her appointment with Mayor Julian Lane and was given the key to the city.

Lane apologized to Miss Schmidt for the incident.

Asked about the encounter as he left the council meeting, O'Hara said: "Miss Universe doesn't interest me. They were making noise like a bunch of kids."

O'Hara said he planned to apologize to Miss Universe but added, "They should apologize to us, too."

New Dictionary Raises Protest

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP)—That big, remodeled word book, "Webster's Third New International Dictionary of the English Language," is stirring up a storm of words. "A scandal," say some critics. "Debased verbal currency," say others. "Accurate," say the book's editors. "The language that is used." Ever since the new, 2,662-page, linguistic tome came out last fall, it has provided a steady tumult of reaction, pro and con. What seems to have produced the main outcry is that the dictionary doesn't classify as slang or colloquial usage a lot of terms that formerly were put in that category.

For instance: on the lam, stick-up, con, softsoap, corny. All these were downgraded in the old dictionary, not in the new.

Many terms not included at all in the old dictionary—such as hotrod, goon, price-wise, jalopy, yeah, gobbledygook, hipster—are elevated to fully respectable English in the new.

So is the beat set's disparaging term, "square," which is defined: "a person who is an outsider or adversary because of the conventionality, conservatism or respectability of his taste, behavior or way of life; one who is not in the know; unsophisticated."

This characterization just about sums up the publisher's view of the critics. Gordon J. Gallan, president of G. & C. Merriam Co., which has put out Webster's dictionaries for more than a century, terms the complaints. "Superficial comments of a few journalists who are reluctant to admit that our language has changed rapidly in the last few decades."

The objections have come heatedly—from a variety of sources, however, ranging from writers and reference book specialists to teachers and a law journal.

"Webster III has thrust upon us a dismaying assortment of the questionable, the perverse, the unworthy and the downright outrageous," says author Wilson Follett, writing in last month's Atlantic Monthly.

"It has gone over bodily to the school that construes traditions as enslaving, the rudimentary principles of syntax as crippling, and taste as irrelevant."

Among other things, he protests the dictionary's approval of the usage of various words in ways widely considered improper before—such as using "like" for "as if" and "due to" for "because of."

The dictionary, the first completely revised, unabridged Webster's in a quarter century, includes 450,000 entries. Among them, the editors say, are 100,000 new words or new meanings.

The New York Times, in an indignant bit of editorial irony, commented, "A passel of double-dorries of the G. & C. Merriam Co. joint in Springfield, Mass., have been confabbing and yakking for 27 years—and have now

Houses Offered 7 Astronauts

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Frank W. Sharp, Houston real estate developer, has disclosed offers of $50,000 homes to the seven U.S. astronauts.

Business firms here will build and furnish the homes, he told Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex. Tuesday night, at a cost to each astronaut of about $10,000.

"We want to show them that we are happy to have them as our neighbors," Sharp said.

The astronauts will train near here after the National Aeronautics and Space Administration completes its $90-million manned space center.

finalized—a new edition of that swell and esteemed book."

The Times said that Webster's for generations had been a "peerless authority" on sound usage, but that the new edition was "bound to cause dismay" to teachers, editors and others interested in good taste in English.

Dr. Philip B. Cove, editor-in-chief of the new dictionary, said the words ridiculed by the Times appear in "serious writing today." He said the dictionary's aim was to "report the language" as it is, not to prescribe what belongs in it.

There also have been objections to the new edition's omission of the biographical and gazetteer sections from the back of the book.

The new dictionary also omits proper names, such as Jesus. Cove said the biographical and gazetteer information now was available from so many other sources that it seemed unnecessary to include it in the new edition.

Russ Farmers Drag on Spring Planning, Charge

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda complained Tuesday that many Russian farmers still are not prepared for spring planting, only a few weeks away.

The Communist party newspaper implied that one reason was passive resistance in some areas to new farming methods proposed by Premier Khrushchev, scheduled to go into effect this year.

The farmers' lackadaisical preparations for spring field work, nothing new in the Soviet Union, is especially serious this year, Pravda explained, because of the sharp increase ordered in crop acreage.

The Soviet Communist party Central Committee will meet next week to adopt a decision pressing into use farm acreage that previously allowed to stand fallow.

The Central Committee decision is expected to cut short an internal party debate over the grassland farming system, which Khrushchev wants to root out of Soviet agriculture. This is a conservation program of keeping some marginal land in grass.

Foreign farm experts and some Soviet specialists believe Khrushchev's plan for intensive cultivation of annual crops by doing away with the grassland system could prove disastrous for Soviet agriculture.

If our population reaches 230 million by 1975, as predicted, 47 billion pounds more of milk a year must be produced if we are to continue to improve our diets at the same rate as in recent years.

Jet Fighters Collide Over California

BORRERO SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Two jet fighters collided in the air with a wing-ripping impact that sent flaming wreckage fluttering down on this desert city.

As their planes fell—"Like a bomb," a witness said—the pilots ejected. Both got out safely.

Escaping injury in the smash-up Tuesday were Navy Lt. (JG) Robert G. Bengston, 24, and Marine Lt. Clifford A. Jackson, 29, both of Miramar Air Station near San Diego.

FDR Foresaw Russ Dominance of Europe Spellman Declares

NEW YORK (AP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt is quoted in a biography of Francis Cardinal Spellman as saying in 1943 that Russia would dominate Europe after World War II—and that he hoped Europe would be able to adjust to the situation.

Roosevelt also is quoted as telling the cardinal in a White House meeting that he planned to make an agreement by which China would get the Far East, the United States the Pacific, and Britain and Russia would divide Europe and Africa.

The biography, to be published by Doubleday and Co. Inc., as "The Cardinal Spellman Story," was written by the Rev. Robert I. Gannon, former president of Fordham University. Excerpts appear in this week's issue of Look magazine.

U.S. Working on Speaking Program For Col. Glenn

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said Tuesday U.S. space officials are working out a program for public appearances by the nation's newest hero, astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said the government had received many requests for Glenn to appear, including invitations from abroad.

As of this time, Salinger said, there is no plan to send Glenn overseas. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is attempting to draw up what Salinger described as "some orderly program" for Glenn to make public appearances.

Salinger said the whole program would be handled by NASA which has been asked to advise the White House what it would consider a proper schedule for Glenn.

President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson reportedly discussed the possibility of allowing Glenn to appear at various places around the United States after they got together last Friday to honor Glenn at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Asked today about Glenn's future, Johnson said the astronaut will have plenty of work to do on Project Mercury after his public appearances this week.

He would not comment directly on possible use of Glenn to promote U.S. space prestige.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Featherbedding U.S. Labor Issue

B. SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Featherbedding becomes a sharper labor issue today because of the current battle for job security.

The question becomes part of union resistance to automation. And what management scorns as featherbedding (paying two or more for doing the work of one) means something else to many workers—sharing the available jobs or assuring safety if something goes wrong with the machine or its lone operator.

In the public mind featherbedding is a term long linked with railroading. But of late management in many other industries have complained that the practice is widespread and growing. This goes all the way from factory production lines to Broadway, where producers complain that union rules call for standby stagehands and musicians, who shift little if any scenery, play few if any notes.

The fight to cut costs by elimination of jobs that management regards as unneeded is likely to be bitter. That was evident when some labor leaders attacked a presidential commission's recommendations on revising railroad labor rules two days before the report was submitted to the President.

They said the report, reaching the White House today, would mean loss of more jobs at a time when rail employment has been shrinking.

It has been declining for a number of reasons: One is the drop in rail business because of increased competition from trucks, buses, autos, barges and planes. Another is that automation and other technical advances let machines and electronic devices perform work in the yards and on the road that men once did.

When workers who once did these jobs are kept on the payroll, management calls it featherbedding. The commission would give the railroads the right to eliminate such jobs gradually and thus further reduce the payroll.

Naturally the men who would lose these jobs don't like it. They thus join the multitude of others who are complaining about the inroads of automation.

Among these are the Steelworkers now hammering out a new contract with management. They contend that mechanization of the steel mills is costing jobs. Among the remedies suggested are a shorter work week, longer vacations, early retirement incentives, more benefits for those laid off, all of which would either share the available jobs or ease the pangs of enforced idleness.

Adding decomposed leaves and other organic matter to the soil changes the soil structure so that it is better aerated and has better water-holding capacity.

941,678 Have Non-Farm Jobs In Minnesota

ST. PAUL (AP) — A total of 941,678 persons were employed in non-farm wage and salary jobs in Minnesota last month, a record for January.

The Department of Employment Security, making that report, said the total was 23,000 — or 2.5 percent — above the January 1961 figure.

The January total, however, represented a seasonal decline of 29,000, or 3 percent, from the December number.

Firms making the strongest gains were engaged in manufacturing durable goods. Some 8,800 more persons held jobs in machinery, ordnance and scientific instrument manufacturing.

Non-durable goods manufacturing added 2,800 workers, with 1,700 of them in canning and sugar refining firms.

Average weekly earning of production workers in Minnesota's manufacturing industries were $102.24 in January, up $4.59 from one year ago but down 80 cents from December. The average work week was 40½ hours, up .7 from a year ago.

State employment service activity accounted for an increase of 1,913 placements last year, as compared with 1960. Non-agricultural placements in 1961 totaled 108,597.

Chances Good for Action on Health Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, in an apparent change of outlook, said Tuesday he thinks chances are good that Congress will enact the administration's medical care program this year.

He stated the new view after the weekly breakfast meeting of Democratic leaders from the Capitol with President Kennedy.

Over the weekend Mansfield had been quoted as saying the odds appeared to be against passage of Kennedy's medical care plan as well as aid to public schools and standby authority to combat recessions.

The White House gathering took place as the chief executive sent to Congress.

In answer to questions, Mansfield said he believes "prospects look quite good" for passage this year. The Senate, he added, is "ready and willing to act at any time." He said he is "quite hopeful" the House Ways and Means Committee, where stiff opposition faces the administration plan, will release medical care legislation for action by the full House.

Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts commented that proponents of the plan would be in excellent shape if they could pick up two Republican votes in the Ways and Means Committee.

McCormack said the Democratic leadership will try to wind up the 1962 session of Congress by late July. Both he and Mansfield forecast a good deal will be accomplished by the time the session ends.

Funny Show Opens in New York

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic
NEW YORK (AP) — A very funny show has come to the Phoenix Theater.

It is called "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad" and was penned by Arthur Kopit, a 24-year-old member of the dramatic avant-garde.

Witty staging and fine acting are prime factors in the antic hilarity exhibited in Monday night's premiere.

Jerome Robbins, tackling his first straight play assignment after long primacy in the dance director ranks, has caught the precise mood of satiric fantasy demanded by the script's Alice-in-Wonderland content.

Crucial portrayals are delivered by Jo Van Fleet, a veteran at emotional intricacy, and Barbara Harris, a saucy recruit from night club revues.

"Oh Dad" actually is another reworking of the pet theme of all of today's young play experimenters. Like Edward Albee, Jack Goller and Jack Richardson, Kopit is mocking life for being devoid of real meaning.

His slant is dashing and his inventiveness beguiling. A young man—Austin Pendleton—is vaguely trying to wrench free of mom—Miss Van Fleet—and venture into the world of "lechery, lies and greed" represented by buxom Miss Harris.

The whole thing is done with a mad mixture of expressionistic symbols and savage humor. The props include such weird items as a cat-eating fish and a lively corpse. Designers William and Jean Eckert deliver the required items with amusing ingenuity.

DEAR ABBY:

Hit the Deck, Sailor Advised

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a sailor in the U. S. Navy. Recently I made plans to marry a 16-year-old girl from my home town. In order to get enough money to get married on, I reenlisted in the Navy for six years. I got a $400 bonus.

When I went home to get married, my girl's father ran me out of the house and refused to let his daughter marry me. She's not old enough to marry without his consent. Now I'm in the Navy for six more years and can't get out. What should I do?

FLEET POST OFFICE

DEAR FLEET: It looks like you're stuck with a six-year hitch and $400. Make the best of it, Mac, and see the world.

DEAR ABBY: My husband died suddenly last November. At a Christmas party I renewed acquaintance with a man I had known for many years. On New Year's Eve he asked me to marry him. My teen-aged daughter became very upset when I told her, and said that out of respect to her father I should wait at least one year. When I told this man I wanted to wait, he cooled off and started seeing another woman in town. The talk around town is that he may marry her. I think I have passed up a good thing and would like to have another chance with this man. How can I revive his interest without having it look like I am chasing him? Should I find an excuse to call him?

MISSED MY CHANCE

DEAR MISSED: Unless you get word to him via a friend in a very subtle way, I am afraid you are out of luck. Don't call him. P.S. Your daughter may have done you a favor. The "love" your renewed acquaintance had for you was not very deeply rooted.

DEAR ABBY: My father is going to kill me when he sees my report card. I got A's and B's in everything except Citizenship, and I got a D in that. This isn't the first time I have been kept off the honor roll for Citizenship. When I asked my teacher exactly what "Citizenship" meant, she said she didn't like my "attitude." Now what does that mean? I don't think it's fair. What should I do?

PICKED ON

DEAR PICKED ON: A good citizen does his share to get along with others. Evidently you don't. Your attitude is not what you do, but the way you go about doing it. Have a talk with your teacher and ask her how you can improve on this score.

Second Saturn Booster Reaches Cape Canaveral

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The second Saturn booster, fore-runner of a mammoth rocket being developed to carry American astronauts to the moon, arrived here Tuesday by barge from Alabama.

The barge, the 450-ton Promise, unloaded the Saturn at a special dock in the Banana River near the launching area. Scientists plan to launch the vehicle on a test flight in about two months after extensive checkout on the pad.

The first stage, 82 feet tall and 22 feet in diameter, had to be transported by rail, air or highway. The Promise traveled a circuitous route from the Saturn plant at Huntsville, Ala., traversing the Tennessee, Ohio and Mississippi rivers, Gulf of Mexico, Florida Straits, Atlantic Ocean and Inland Waterway.

The first Saturn scored a sensational success when launched last Oct. 27. In an eight-minute maiden flight, the 500-ton first stage built up thrust of more than 1.5 million pounds and landed almost precisely on target 241 miles down range.

Only the booster stage was tested then, with dummy upper stages carried to simulate weight of the full vehicle. The second Saturn shot will be very similar.

By late 1953, Saturn should be ready to launch three-man Apollo spaceships into orbit around the earth. More powerful models of the rocket are scheduled to hurl the manned Apollo craft into orbit around the moon in 1966 and start man toward a lunar landing in 1967.

Police Cases Heard at Alma

ALMA, Wis. (Special)—The following cases were heard here Monday in police court for Buffalo County:

Mary Lou Hinrichs, Nelson, forfeited a fine of $35.50 and costs for a hit and run offense, causing damage to a parked vehicle on Highway 35 in Town Nelson Feb. 11. Traffic officer Palmer Peterson made the arrest.

Hjalmer R. Terland, Mondovi, forfeited a $10 fine and costs for having an overloaded school bus. He was arrested Nov. 27, 1961, by State Traffic Officer Sam Young in Mondovi. The case was adjourned to Monday.

Ben Kaminsky, Wabasha, was charged with being an impostor, claiming he was Sheriff Glen Davis' brother, Ed Davis. On Feb. 10 he allegedly came to Nelson from Wabasha wearing a badge and blue jacket, typical of a police officer and said he was a deputy sheriff and constable. He also is said to have stated that he was an auctioneer, had an accordion valued at $600, owned a car and had $16,000 in the Nelson bank plus owning a large farm near Cochrane. He was picked up by Sheriff Davis and placed in the county jail. On Monday Judge Gary B. Schlossstein advised him that he would receive a prison

Let's Look At Good Old Days

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Let's take a look back at the "good old days" some people like to recall—and others can't forget.

You're entitled to membership in the society of backward glances if you can remember when—You had more fun walking on stilts than riding in a small foreign sports car.

The best form of social security was a rich relative.

A child's earliest adventure in public speaking was saying grace at the family dinner table.

Anybody who made a visit to Florida in the winter automatically became a recognized community leader.

One of your greatest thrills at Christmas was finding a fresh orange in your stocking.

The youngest child in a large family never got any new clothing until he was old enough to go away to college. Until then he inherited everything he wore.

Women felt a bit daring when they used a stand-up bathtub shower.

It was considered indecent to mention Sigmund Freud in polite company, but if you did—well, half the ladies present thought he was just another famous foreign pianist, like Paderewski.

The leading neighborhood delinquent was the kid who smoked cubed cigarettes.

A man who let his wife hold a job outside the home was regarded as a failure in life.

When you went to the store with your mother, the grocer didn't give trading stamps. He gave you a big dripping slice of pickle. Pies really tasted "like mother used to bake"—because mother really baked them.

Half the houses in America held embroidered wall mottoes saying "God Bless Our Happy Home," or "Home, Sweet Home."

The rest of the wives in the block thought a woman was a poor organizer if she hung up her washing on Tuesday instead of Monday.

You could tell a family had a daughter of marriageable age when her father bought a new front porch swing—or painted the old one.

term of three years if he did not quit drinking, and he was ordered to stay out of the county. His case was adjourned for a year. Terry and James Caya, Lynxville, brothers, were fined $25 and costs for disorderly conduct in a public place. On Feb. 10 they entered the Kennebec tavern in Town Milton and damaged the telephone by tearing it from the wall. They were confined to the jail for three days and were released when bond was posted. While in jail they broke a water pipe and sprung the bars on the cell door. Besides their fines they are to make restitution of $6.00 for the telephone damage and $19.42 for the jail damage. James Caya is 17.

3 Republican Candidates for Badger Governor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three candidates for the Republican nomination for governor continued on the campaign trail in Wisconsin cities Tuesday.

Wilbur Renk, Sun Prairie farm operator, talked at a meeting in Mauston, Philip G. Kuehn appeared before Republican women at Janesville and Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles spoke at a GOP rally at Green Bay.

Renk said that the state must pay more attention to conservation of its human resources. He said that in many state communities, job opportunities, education and training have not kept pace with the demands of today's world.

Kuehn charged that Democrats have made specific appeals for election to state offices on a self-interest basis. He said the Democrats have made "vote getting appeals to the farm groups and other groups by promising something for nothing."

Knowles said that the state government must work more closely with local communities to develop plans and solutions for problems of urban growth and population expansion. He said the federal government should not handle such problems.

U.N. Group Would Suspend South Africa

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—The U.N. Economic Commission for Africa has approved a recommendation that South Africa be suspended until it abandons its racial segregation policies.

The vote Tuesday was 27 in favor with 5 abstentions—Britain, Belgium, France, Portugal and Spain. South Africa is boycotting the meeting.

Lindsay Crosby Both Hospitalized

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lindsay Crosby and his wife, Barbara, are both hospitalized today—in separate hospitals.

She is in St. Joseph Hospital in suburban Burbank, recovering after the death of a prematurely born son.

Lindsay, youngest of Bing Crosby's four grown sons, is in St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica, 15 miles away, for a physical checkup and treatment of laryngitis.

Kowalewski, Stein Hit 1,251 for 5th

Lambert Kowalewski, pouring in nine straight strikes in a 266 game, teamed with Bob Stein Tuesday night for 1,251 and fifth place in doubles in the Winona City Bowling Tournament at the Winona Athletic Club.

Only other major change in the top ten on the next to last night of the tourney which started Feb. 3 also came in doubles when Mel Loshek and Ev Gora combined for 1,232 and seventh position.

BEST SINGLES effort of the night was a 657 by Heinie Yackel which earned him a tie for ninth place.

The tournament winds up tonight with two squads at 6:30 and 9 p.m.

Kowalewski and Stein hit 1,197 scratch, high actual in the two-man competition.

Kowalewski had opened with 202-164 when he found the range. He buried six in a row and then carried a high hit in the seventh. He came back with two more solid socks. But in the 10th, the burly, by, Stein was high again and left a baby split. He picked off only one.

Stein, meanwhile, was rolling along with a creditable 565. They had 54 pins handicapped.

LOSHEK LACED 579 and Gora 571 in their assault which carried them to seventh. Vic Pelowski hit an errorless 574 and Ed Mrozek 578 for 1,216 good for 11th place.

Yackel, who had 58 pins handicapped, opened with 202 and 223, but ran into three errors in his 174 finish. A sticky seven pin in the eighth frame of his second game interrupted what would have been a string of eight strikes. He rolled 590 scratch.

High singles scratch last night was Jim Bambenek's errorless 617 on 213-219-185. Mrozek fired an even 600, also errorless, on 191-186-223. Jerry Dureske's 585 also was without a blow.

High game in singles was a 233 by Clarence Bell.

Will Tournament Jitters Strike Rambler Sophs?

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Writer

With the count-down to the Minnesota State Catholic Basketball Tournament almost at its end, the one big question left in the minds of Coach John Nett and Cotter boosters is how will the Rambler sophomores react?

For three members of the team, Larry Modjeski, Sam Czaplowski and Art Speck, it will be the second time around but that leaves seven members of the tourney squad still in the dark.

GETTING accustomed to the big St. Paul Auditorium and its large crowd could be a major problem for Rick Starzecki, Gene Schultz, and Bob Judge, all sophomores.

"Of course, I'm a little bit worried about whether the pressure will effect the team," Nett said. "It wasn't the sophomores that were tense during the regional tourney."

Nett was right as Starzecki, Schultz and Judge were cool customers in last weekend's games. Modjeski and Czaplowski seemed tense at the start of the St. Felix game but came through in time to turn the contest into a rout in the second half.

As far as scoring during the region meet was concerned the Rambler showed a balanced attack. Czaplowski took honors for the team with 31 points to 29 for Modjeski. Judge finished with 20 for the two games to run Cotter's front line total to 80.

Mike Wagner of Caledonia Loret was the big gun scoring wise, although he played in three games, with 72 points for a 24 per game average. Mike Pinsonneault, Wabasha St. Felix, was second with 45. He played in only two games, though.

NETT is confident that Czaplowski can do a good job at the State Tourney. "Sam played a lot for us up there last year and did one of the finest jobs a reserve has ever turned in for us. If he can keep out of foul trouble we should be set pretty well."

One thing in the Rambler's favor at this stage of the game is that every member of the team is healthy. The coach has his own opinion on the matter. "Through-out the years I've noticed that if you are going to a state tournament your ball team is always healthy. They want the trip. I remember two years ago we had a kid with an ankle sprained so badly that he could hardly walk on it, when it was time to leave for St. Paul he ran as well as he ever had."

Nett came to Cotter in 1947. Since then the Rambler have missed going to the state once. In 1955 Wabasha St. Felix represented Region 6. Nett is still looking for his first championship though.

"THE ONLY TIME we won it was when I was in the service in 1952. Aussie Loeffler was coaching them. Come to think of it maybe I should let him take the team up there," Nett smiled.

Nett Monday trimmed his squad to ten, the maximum number the MCEA allows for the State Tourney.

Staying behind as the Rambler leave by car at 8:30 a.m. Friday morning will be: Dave Knopick, Joe Koscianski, Wallace Burley, Phil Koprivsky and the coach's son, John, Jr.

"It's especially hard to tell some of the kids that they have to be cut after playing with the varsity most of the year," the coach commented. "All of them have at least one year left though and we hope to go again next year."

THREE OUSTED

Beattie Wins Two in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Beattie joined two other Upper Midwest teammates in tonight's quarter finals of the Golden Gloves Tournamet of Champions after winning his first pair of heavyweight bouts Tuesday night.

Beattie scored a second round TKO over Anderson Epps, Springfield, Ill., in his first fight, took a decision from Wyce Westbrook, Cincinnati, in the second.

Joining Beattie for tonight's program will be flyweight Bobby Rodriguez and Kenny Lockhart in the featherweight division, both of whom took a pair of victories Monday night.

Three more Minneapolis team members fell by the wayside Tuesday night. Welterweight Don O'Brien lost a decision to John Fisher, Toledo, Ohio, and Dennis Dushabek was ousted from Middleweight competition by Louis Broussard, Lafayette, La.

The third, Ray Uselman, fell before a second round TKO administered by Richard Grady of St. Louis.

State Matmen At Cedar Falls In Final Duel

Once again injuries plague the Winona State College wrestling team as the Warriors prepare to travel to State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls Thursday night.

Since Coach Bob Kiestler has taken the reins of the Warrior grapplers injuries have taken their toll, leaving the Statesmen shorthanded for recent meets.

The only sure starter Thursday at this stage is heavyweight Jerry Wedemeier who is undefeated in 15 starts this season.

State has never beaten Iowa State in wrestling, leading Kiestler to say, "We know that they are tough. A victory would be nice though. We want to get that first win over them."

Kiestler feels it was his squad's morale that carried it through the meet with Warburg and that it will have to do it again.

State will be shooting to go above the 500 mark. The Warriors stand 5-5 in dual meets.

This is the finale of the dual meet season for the Warriors. The NSCC meet will be March 10 at Bemidji and the NAIA championships March 16-17 in Winona.

Toms Forfeit Hockey Title

ST. PAUL (AP) — Macalester College is the Minnesota Intercollegiate hockey champion as a result of three forfeited games by St. Thomas College.

Games forfeited were those with Macalester, Concordia and Hamline played the first week of February, giving Macalester a 3-1 conference record.

BOXER ADVANCES

Brad Johnson Hits 279 to Match High

Brad Johnson, shooting in the American League at Westgate Bowl, Tuesday night matched the high single game of the season in Winona when he posted a 279.

In the same loop, Don Lejk lashed 662, 12th highest series in the city this season.

Johnson, rolling for Haugstad's, started his big game with two strikes. He spared in the third frame and then drilled nine in a row. That equaled the 279 fired early in the year by Don Knopick at the Red Men Club.

Johnson finished with a 606 series.

Lejk, bowling for the team carrying his own name, rapped 223-201.

To cap off the high scoring session, Bill Blanchard of Westgate Bowl punched out a 256 game in a 605 series. His mates took team honors with 1,005-2,783.

Sanborn Rips Wabasso by Record 76-14

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota's annual sports extravaganza, the state high school basketball tournament, flared into action Tuesday night with Little Gibbon demolishing defending District 10 finalist Redwood Falls 76-14 in triple overtime.

Mahomed lost his District 14 crown 46-39 to Farmington.

In contrast, rated Sanborn demolished Wabasso 76-14 in probably as unequal a match as the eliminations are likely to see.

Sophomore Jim Hopp, 6-0 projected Gibbon from the unknown into the glare of the prep basketball classic by tying the count at 62-40 with a short jump shot, then hit two free throws in the final overtime to provide a margin that held. Redwood Falls was granted an easy fieldshot after Hopp's gift tosses to avoid a possible three-point play that would have tied the after the first overtime and 72-40 after the second. Hopp had 25 points for the night while team mate Gary Fulkerson had 21. For the losers, Dick Willoughby hit 22.

Sanborn, which now has a 17-0 record, cleared its benches after its regulars assumed a commanding lead over Wabasso in the opening minutes. Puncho Goerlich topped Sanborn scoring with 18 points. Highest total for the losers was 4 points.

Inspection Failed To Reveal Defect, Landlord Declares

A Winona apartment house owner testified in District Court Tuesday morning that his inspection failed to reveal any defect in steps of the house down which a tenant says she fell and was injured last July.

Martin Landro, owner of Landro Apartments, 103 W. Wabasha St., was to return to the witness stand when court was recessed this afternoon following a noon recess.

The $5,500 damage suit brought by Mrs. Joseph E. Conway, occupants of a second floor apartment.

Mrs. Conway seeks $5,000 and her husband $500 for injuries she says were suffered last July 13 when her heel caught on a metal edging on a stair and she fell down the stairway.

The Conways are represented by Leg. E. Murphy Jr., and the Landros by William and Robert Hull. Landro was the second witness called by his attorney after Murphy had rested his case this morning.

Previously, Mr. and Mrs. Landro had been called for cross examination by Murphy. They testified as to their ownership of the house and Mrs. Landro told of cleaning the steps each week. She said that she had noted no defect in the stairs.

MRS. CONWAY testified that she was coming down the stairs from her apartment when her heel caught. She said she was unable to grasp the railing and fell to the bottom.

She said she suffered a fracture of the left wrist and facial injuries, said she suffered pain as a result of the accident and told of treatment for her injuries.

Conway testified regarding his wife's condition and expenses incurred.

Mrs. Conway said that some time after the accident she had inspected the stairway and found that there was a small gap between the metal edge and the tile on one stair.

Dr. P. A. Mattison, Winona physician and surgeon who treated Mrs. Conway was the other witness called by Murphy.

PRECEDING LANDRO on the stand this morning was Robert Haefner, a Winona photographer, who identified photographs he had taken of the stairway on which the accident allegedly occurred.

Landro told of buying the apartment house in 1947 and said that work on the steps from the first to second floor — including installation of tile — was done in 1949.

He gave dimensions of the stairs, described the railing, type of tile covering and lighting and said he made regular inspections of the house. Asked if anyone prior to the accident ever had complained about a defect in the stairway, Landro said no one had. He was asked if he had any prior knowledge of a defect and said he had not.

Landro testified that he visited the house almost every day, sometimes several times a day, and each time he went up or down the stairs inspected them for defects or presence of debris.

Soon after the accident, Landro said, he made an inspection of the stairway and "found nothing unusual."

He was asked by Hull in what condition he found the metal "nosing" at the edge of the step — against which the tile is butted — and said it was "good and solid."

Cars Damaged in Dakota St. Crash

Only one minor accident was reported by Winona today.

Police said William Wenz, 17, 326 W. Wabasha St., slid into the rear of a car driven by Mark T. Jenkins, 17, 720 Johnson St., at 10:45 p.m. Friday on Dakota street near the Milwaukee railroad tracks. Both cars were hoisted.

Neither of the boys was injured. Damage to the Jenkins car was estimated by police to be $103.

Highway Surveyors Working Near Osseo

OSSEO, Wis. — Surveyors are in this area establishing the ground location of proposed Federal 1-94 as determined on the aerial contour maps used for design purposes. From this established ground line for the highway they obtain more detailed information to be used for the final design of the highway. From the design, the right of way requirements are determined.

The surveyors are working about two blocks east of Osseo on a cloverleaf to be built there.

Applications For Microwave Service Filed

The Mississippi Valley Microwave Co. of Winona announced today that applications have been filed with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington to provide two channels of microwave service between Rochester and Winona and between Winona and La Crosse.

Officials of the company stated that the first customers of the new microwave service would be the community antenna systems in Winona and La Crosse, the public schools systems of Winona and La Crosse, and a background music supplier from Rochester.

The applications, as filed, call for the delivery of Educational Channel 2, KTCV-TV, and Channel 11, WTCN-TV, both of Minneapolis.

It is expected that the licenses will be granted by the FCC in about 60 days and that construction of the microwave links will be completed about Sept. 1, said E. M. Allen, vice president of the Winona TV Signal Co.

6 Big Truck Tires Shot Up By Vandals

Six large truck tires were shot up by vandals this past weekend at Biesanz stone quarry near Winona. Sheriff George Fort reported today.

Only one piece of equipment was involved in the vandalism, a stone-hauling truck. It was parked in the quarry located four miles west of Winona.

Investigation of a complaint received from Biesanz Cut Stone Co., Goodview Road, indicated that a high-powered rifle was used to shoot into the tires, said Fort. Each shell exploded after it hit the tire casings, causing large holes.

No indication of who might have caused the damage has turned up as yet, said Fort. Investigation is still continuing.
