Congress Gets Amendments To Override Prayer Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of Congress, still firing salvos of criticism at the Supreme Court's ruling against public school prayers, have introduced amendments to the Constitution to override the decision.

But congressional leaders—and the long, tedious mechanics involved—cast doubt on the move's success.

Charges of atheism and giving aid to communism were hurled across Capitol Hill at the white marble court building by members of the legislative branch.

some of whom contended the justices had taken God out of the law of the land.

While amendments to legalize classroom praying were introduced in both House and Senate, there were also demands for stronger action, including amendments to require Supreme Court justices to stand for election and giving Congress the power to overrule the court's decisions.

The possibility was seen as remote, however, that any of the suggested constitutional changes could win the needed two-thirds majority in both houses and ratification by three-fourths of the states.

In the Senate, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he didn't think the proposals to put classroom prayers in the constitution could be passed.

"The proposition of church and state is so ingrained into our people that I doubt that such an amendment would be adopted," Dirksen said.

A similar view was expressed in the House by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, who declared the court had no other choice.

"The First Amendment is well grounded in history and has served to save the United States from civil religious strife," Celler said.

The court held 6 to 1 Monday that a prayer drafted by New York's Board of Regents and recommended for recital at the beginning of each school day was "an establishment of religion" forbidden by the First Amendment. It is a non-denominational prayer and pupils whose parents objected could be excused from reciting it.

Justice Hugo L. Black, who wrote the majority opinion, said that placing "the power, prestige and financial support of government" behind a particular form of religious observance tends to coerce religious minorities to conform.

Even those who remained non-committal about the court itself, however, expressed concern that the ruling, underscoring as it does the doctrine of separation of church and state, casts a cloud of uncertainty over a wide range of federal programs of assistance to church-supported institutions, such as hospitals, libraries and colleges.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said, "I always thought that this nation was essentially a religious one."

Defenders of Quemoy Face 400,000 Reds

By FORREST EDWARDS

QUEMOY (AP) — Nationalist Chinese defenders on this bit of gun-bristling rock are taking the massive Communist buildup on the China mainland only five miles away a lot more calmly than most of the rest of the world.

In the last three weeks, a top Nationalist commander reports, the Reds have boosted their military might to about 400,000 infantry and more than 300 jet fighters in the mainland crescent that rings three sides of the Quemoy complex.

That is 50 per cent above the pre-June 1 estimates of Communist strength in the area.

The Nationalists have an estimated 70,000 soldiers on this 50 square miles of island. The only planes here are a few tiny single-engine artillery spotters. Jet defense for the Quemoy complex would have to come from Formosa airbases 150 to 200 miles away—or possibly from U.S. Navy carriers operating in the shallow Formosa Strait.

American jets would defend Quemoy only if the Communists attacked and then only if President Kennedy decided that the Red attack was the prelude to an attack against Formosa itself.

Despite the disparity of Communist and Nationalist strength, there is little apparent worry on this island whose mountains and cliffs are honeycombed with tunnels and gun positions carved out of solid rock.

Quemoy knows it can withstand any artillery bombardment the Reds can hurl at it. Its defenders express confidence that they can throw back any invasion the Reds might attempt with what landing craft the Communists are known to have.

In October 1949, the Nationalists virtually wiped out two Red divisions that tried an invasion. The Reds tried again the following July, and again the Nationalists killed or captured almost all of the invaders. Quemoy stood up under an intensive artillery bombardment in September 1954, another in June-July 1957, and a six-week artillery pounding in the fall of 1958.

During the 1958 attack, the Red guns pounded the Quemoy complex with half a million high explosive shells.

Quemoy today is in far better position to withstand an artillery attack and an invasion than four years ago.

The whole thing started Monday afternoon when inmate Robert Payne, 29, formerly of Washington, D.C., climbed the tower, protesting the treatment of prisoners in solitary confinement.

He said he wouldn't come down until he was assured a chance to speak with a state official.

On the tower, the 13 prisoners displayed some bed sheets sewed together with this message written on it: "We are protesting brutality. Our presents (presence) is to support Payne's allegations and dispute the claim of the warden."

Warden James Maroney said that three guards fired two shot-gun volleys into the air when the second group of six dashed for the tower. He said the shots were intended only as a warning.

13 Prisoners Flee To Water Tower

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Thirteen inmates are perched on a water tower at Western State Penitentiary today in a protest over conditions at the institution.

It was anyone's guess how long they would stay there. Prison officials decided to wait them out. They are on a catwalk about 100 feet above the ground.

Six prisoners scrambled up the tower shortly after dinner Tuesday night to join a convict who had been on the tower since Monday. They had stuffed their pockets with food.

Then, with buckshot flying, six more prisoners dashed across the prison yard and up the tower a short time later.

The whole thing started Monday afternoon when inmate Robert Payne, 29, formerly of Washington, D.C., climbed the tower, protesting the treatment of prisoners in solitary confinement.

He said he wouldn't come down until he was assured a chance to speak with a state official.

On the tower, the 13 prisoners displayed some bed sheets sewed together with this message written on it: "We are protesting brutality. Our presents (presence) is to support Payne's allegations and dispute the claim of the warden."

Warden James Maroney said that three guards fired two shot-gun volleys into the air when the second group of six dashed for the tower. He said the shots were intended only as a warning.

Because of that, Mondale said he would continue Lucas in the berth, paying Lucas' salary out of emergency funds of the attorney general's office. "I feel that adequate legal representation be maintained for the tax department," he said.

Mondale pointed out that five attorneys have been assigned to the division for many years and that recently their work has tended to increase, principally in the income tax field.

Walter Schirra Picked for Fall Attempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today that the next manned orbital flight will be planned for as many as six orbits, sometime later this summer, with astronaut Walter M. Schirra as the pilot.

D. Braimer Holmes, manned space flight director of the civilian space agency, said the decision as to the specific mission—that is, how many orbits will actually be made—will depend upon many technical factors which will be evaluated constantly up to the time of flight and even during the first turns around the earth.

If the mission goes to six orbits it would involve a nine-hour flight, compared with the 4½ hours of three-orbit missions. The two U.S. orbital flights so far have been for three turns.

The flight plan will call for considerable drifting flight to conserve fuel for re-entry maneuvering.

If the flight goes to five or six orbits it would mean landing about 300 miles northeast of Midway Island in the Pacific Ocean, although the space craft would be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. That is because of the rotation of the earth during the extra flight time.

A four-orbit mission would bring the craft down about 200 miles east of Midway.

Landing points for one, two or three orbits would remain the same as in earlier Mercury-Atlas missions, off the southeastern coast of the United States.

In making the announcement, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration official said:

"We believe that another three orbit mission will increase considerably our growing knowledge of space flight. Anything more than three orbits should be considered a bonus."

The NASA official said astronaut L. Gordon Cooper will serve as backup pilot to Schirra.

Schirra, a Navy lieutenant commander, is a graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, is married and has two children. He is a native of New Jersey.

The selection of Schirra and the planning for six orbits had been reported earlier by the San Diego Union in a copyrighted story from Washington for Wednesday editions.

Selection of the primary and secondary astronauts and the decision to extend the mission followed nearly a month's study by NASA on the Malcolm Scott Carpenter flight, the Union said.

Million-Ton N-Shot Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States fired a nuclear test shot, equal to a million tons or more of TNT near Christmas Island in the Pacific today.

The announcement from the Atomic Energy Commission and the Department of Defense said the device was dropped from an airplane.

It was the 23rd shot of Operation Dominic, the atmospheric test series in the Pacific.

6th District Rally

Eyes of State on Willmar Tonight

By ADOLPH JOHNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Political interest in Minnesota—and especially Republican political interest—centers tonight in Willmar.

Delegates to the 6th District GOP convention will meet for the second time to endorse a candidate for Congress.

The decisions of the 182 delegates will do much to shape the course of the coming campaign in the district and may have an important bearing on the comeback attempt of former Gov. C. Elmer Anderson.

At their first session the delegates endorsed Rep. H. Carl Anderson who has represented the old 7th District since 1938. Part of the old 7th and part of the old 6th were joined in the 1961 redistricting to form the new 6th District. However, Anderson, whose name has been mentioned in the Billie Sol Estes case, decided he would not be a candidate in the primary but would seek re-election in November as an independent.

While the purpose of tonight's meeting is to endorse another candidate, the delegates could decide there should be an open primary.

This course is advocated by former Gov. Anderson, who has already filed as a candidate, saying he prefers endorsement by the people. Such an action by the convention could also be interpreted as support for Anderson's candidacy.

Also pushing for no endorsement is Charles Cooper, Montevideo salesman, who has indicated he will file for the nomination whether there is an endorsement or not.

Two other announced candidates, State Rep. Robert J. Odegard of Princeton, who has served one term in the House, and State Rep. Aubrey Dirlam, a House member since 1941, have indicated by their active campaigns right up to convention time that they hope and expect the delegates will endorse.

Supporters of each issued optimistic forecasts on the eve of the convention.

Where no endorsement might be viewed by some as strengthening the candidacy of former Gov. Anderson, there are some who would interpret endorsement of another as a rejection of his stand and his candidacy.

As always, just before an important political meeting, the air is full of guesses, reports and rumors.

A man close to one of the other candidates said he did not regard the former governor as a serious contender. Others said they believed he would be an odd-on favorite to win the primary, whatever the action of the convention. Some said they have found strong sentiment for endorsement. Others were equally emphatic that the delegates would decide for an open primary.

Senate Opens Investigation Of Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators were told today the Agriculture Department had advanced warning Billie Sol Estes' get-rich-quick deals in cotton acreage allotments were outside the law.

Paul E. Kammerick, assistant counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, testified he has learned that the warning was given as far back as Dec. 20, 1960, and that every one of Estes' disputed cotton acreage deals was sanctioned at later dates by farm aid officials in Texas with no one in Washington calling a halt.

He said H. L. Manwaring, Agriculture Department deputy administrator of production adjustment, ruled on that date in 1960 that the complex deals under which Estes was to sell land to farmers, then lease back the cotton acreage allotments on these acres, appeared to constitute a scheme or device which should not be approved.

Kammerick, a former FBI agent, said he found the Agriculture Department to be a sort of bureaucratic jungle that needs an overhaul. But he said he considers it inconceivable that inefficiency or carelessness alone could explain all that happened in the Estes case.

With Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman a scheduled witness, Kammerick's testimony opened the Senate subcommittee's massive investigation of the scandals flowing from the collapse of Estes' Texas financial empire.

Freeman once said the Estes affair was being hushed out of all proportion but later he was quoted by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., as saying he regretted the remark.

North St. Paul Mother of Two Drowns in Lake

ST. PAUL (AP) — Mrs. Mary Ann Smith, 23, mother of two children, drowned at Silver Lake in North St. Paul Tuesday night about an hour after the lifeguard went off duty.

Police said Mrs. Smith was with companions and was swimming toward a raft when she went under. James Courtman recovered the body in five feet of water. Attempts to revive Mrs. Smith failed.

A CHECK FOR RIDING FORM . . . Caroline Kennedy, a rider in the Apple Barrel Pony Rally a few weeks ago at Halfway, Va., shows her mother, First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy, a correct seat and hands before "bending barrels"—weaving in and out—in one of the classes at the meet. Mrs. Kennedy holds a lead line on Caroline's pony, Macaroni. The youngster wore the jodphurs and cowboy boot dress for children. Her mother wore jodphurs and boots with shirttail out, dressed casually for the day in the Virginia hunt country. These are two of a series of photographs distributed exclusively today by the Associated Press.

National Wheat Marketing Quota Vote Is July 24

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wheat marketing quota referendum is set for July 24.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman set the date Tuesday when he announced a 1963 wheat allotment of 55 million acres.

Freeman said he was making the announcement with the greatest reluctance and only to comply with the 1958 law which he criticized sharply.

A temporary wheat and feed grains program which superseded that law expires at the end of this year, and the House killed last week the tight controls program the Kennedy administration asked for next year.

Freeman said there was slight hope Congress still will enact a new law affecting the 1963 wheat crop. If that happens, he said, "the announcement made today can be vacated."

Approval of marketing quotas for the 1963 crop would set the national average support price for wheat at not less than $1.82 per bushel. That would be 75 per cent of the estimated parity price for wheat as of the beginning of the 1963-64 marketing year.

The national average support price of 1962 crop wheat was set at $2 a bushel.

Savings Bond Sales Decline In SE Counties

A gradual decline in sales of U.S. Savings Bonds in Minnesota is reflected in a drop recorded for Winona County in the June summary of bond transactions.

Sales of Series E and H bonds are 47.4 percent lower for the county than last year at this time. Bond sales for the state as a whole are off 20.2 percent. In the 9th Federal Reserve District, the rate of sales is 26 percent lower than a year ago.

D. T. Winder, Winona County bond chairman, said lagging sales of bonds reflect the economic pace of the county as well as trends in personal finances. Installment buying, easy credit, investment in mutual funds, and resentment against foreign aid all contribute to the slower rate of bond buying, Winder feels.

Bond purchases last year were lower than those in 1960, the chairman said, following what appears to be a long-term downward trend.

Winder said that although the county shows a fairly high percentage of decline, Winona County is assigned the highest quota in the area, including Olmsted County, which has 24,000 more population.

Other area county chairmen: Fillmore, M. P. Anderson; Houston, G. J. Strand; Olmsted, S. F. Drips; and Wabasha, A. J. Doffing.

The following table shows standings of local counties relative to last year. The Freedom Bond Drive is a special two-month campaign being conducted May 1 through June 30.

Sale of Canadian Wheat To China Draws Senate Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration spokesmen asking Senate ratification of a new three-year international wheat agreement ran into questions Tuesday about Canadian grain shipments to Red China.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., complained that U.S. taxpayers pay big subsidies to this country's growers while American wheat piles up in government bins and the Canadians sell theirs to the Red Chinese at price levels this country helps maintain.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, questioned how Soviet Russia, a signatory to the agreement for the first time, could reconcile its exporting obligations to other members with its obligations to "provide food to Red China."

After the public hearing, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee postponed action on the agreement to permit members absent Tuesday to seek additional information.

LIBRARY BOARD BILLS

The board of Winona Free Public Library approved bills of $3,293.30 for a meeting Monday afternoon. The board is interviewing candidates for a vacancy on the staff.

CONVENTION BOUND . . . Members of the Winona Shrine patrol Tuesday prepared their imported motorcycles for loading on a train that will take them to the Imperial Shrine convention in Canada. The Shriners who leave Saturday, will do precision drills on the machines in two parades at the convention. At work at the Burlington Road freight dock are, left to right, R. K. ## Shrine Patrol Going to Canada

The Winona Shrine Patrol, a 23-man unit which does close order drill maneuvers on motorcycles, will leave Saturday for Canada, where they'll participate in two parades at the Imperial Shrine convention.

An affiliate of the Shieks of St. Paul's Osman Temple, the Winona patrol is sending its 13 imported motorcycles by rail. Shriners will board a train Saturday morning for a trip to the convention.

They'll be among more than 100,000 Shriners from the United States and Canada at the convention and will appear in exhibitions at both the day and night parades.

Jerry Berline, 259 Olmstead St., is president of the patrol and Allyn S. Morgan Jr., 258 W. Wabasha St., is patrol captain.

The patrol also is scheduled to appear at the Midwest Shrine convention this year at Sioux Falls, S.D., and will be seen immediately after its return in the 1962 Winona Steamboat Days parade.

Participation in the parades will mark the first appearance of the unit in their new uniforms. The colorful outfits consist of bolero jackets, silk shirts embroidered with rhinestones, fez and pants.

Driver Found Guilty in Court

Steve Caracatsanis, 22, 458 Winona St., was found guilty by Municipal Judge S. D. J. Bruski today on a charge of driving through a stoplight.

Caracatsanis was arrested by police at 11:59 p.m. Thursday at Broadway and Huff Street. He pleaded not guilty to the charge when he was arraigned Saturday.

Sgt. Gordon M. Cooper testified that he and Patrolman George M. Liebsch were in a patrol car Thursday night. He said they were driving west on Broadway and were near the intersection of Winona Street when he observed a car about a block away traveling south through the intersection of Huff and Broadway.

The light, which would affect travel on Broadway, was green. Cooper said the light stayed green while they drove to the intersection. It then turned yellow as they turned left to follow Caracatsanis' car south on Huff Street.

Liebsch concurred with Cooper's testimony. He added that the signal light at Huff and Broadway is controlled by a trip for Huff Street traffic. He explained that the light would be green only to Broadway traffic until a car drove over the trip (metal plate in the street) and reversed the signal.

Liebsch also said that no other cars were driving on either Broadway or Winona Street at the time the incident occurred.

CARACATSANIS took the stand and testified that the light was green as he approached the intersection. He estimated his speed at about 15-20 miles an hour. When he saw that the light was still green about 15 feet from the intersection, he said, he increased his speed to about 25 miles an hour to be sure he did not run a red light.

There is a barricade on Broadway to the west of the intersection, he said. He looked carefully for traffic on the east side of the intersection, but there were no cars near, he maintained.

Caracatsanis argued the light was still yellow when he was in the center of the intersection. He believed he had made it through the intersection before it turned red.

CARACATSANIS also contended that the officers may have been tired that night, since they were confused about whether or not he wore glasses during his interview with them the night of the arrest.

Judge Bruski sentenced Caracatsanis to pay a $10 fine or serve three days in city jail. He paid the fine.

BUY HOME AT BLAIR
BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson have purchased a residence on Broadway from the Lokken estate.

Old Post Office Offered for Sale

First steps toward disposal of the present Winona post office building were taken today by the federal government, which listed the structure as surplus and asked for bids from prospective buyers.

Postmaster John W. Dugan said local governmental units, school and public agencies would get bidding priority for 15 days, effective today. After July 12, if no bids have been received from these agencies, the bidding will be thrown open to private buyers.

Specifications for bidding on the property, Dugan said, are posted in the post office lobby and buyers desiring further information may contact him personally.

The property consists of 5785 acres of land and the building thereon containing 25,145 square feet of floor space. Occupancy rights are reserved by the Post Office Department until March 1, 1963, without cost, after which time it is expected the new post office building in Central Park will be occupied.

Bids for purchase of the property are to be filed with the General Services Administration, 2306 E. Barnister Rd., Kansas City 31, Mo.

Present occupants of the building in addition to the post office include the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Selective Service, Internal Revenue Bureau, postal inspectors and armed forces recruiting personnel.

Stockton Names Woman to Board

STOCKTON, Minn. (Special)—For the first time in history, a woman was elected to the Stockton school board Tuesday night.

Mrs. Paul Drazkowski, who had filed to succeed John Van Winkle, clerk, who did not seek re-election, received 43 of the 92-votes cast.

Edwin Erickson Jr., a sickler candidate, polled 42 ballots. Van Winkle received two write-ins and Paul Gehres, one.

Last year 87 votes were cast. The terms of Lyle Ladewig, chairman, and Harold Meyer, treasurer, hold over.

Mrs. Hilary Jozwick, Vince Daniel and Frank Johnson Jr., were election judges.

Voters favored a local levy of $4,500 for the coming 9-month school term.

According to the financial report given by Van Winkle, balance on hand at the beginning of the year just closed was $12,813 and income totaled $24,172 for a $36,985 total. Disbursements were $16,420, leaving a balance of $20,565.

The district has an indebtedness of $47,000 for the construction of its school.

The board has received two applications for one vacant teaching position. Mrs. William Jacobs, Winona, will return. Two teachers are engaged for the 50-pupil school.

There were 1,265,000 'M' cows of milking age in Minnesota in 1962.

Winonans will receive a miniature United Nations delegation this weekend.

Twenty-three Winona families have volunteered to open their homes to 35 American Field Service (AFS) students from Asia, Africa, Europe and Latin America.

These foreign students, making a tour of the United States after studying in Washington, Oregon and Alaska this year, will arrive by bus Friday at 5 p.m. Friday evening they'll join their host families for a party at the YMCA.

A RIVER excursion and picnic on the Winona Belle Saturday afternoon will be followed by a lawn party at Harold Edstrom's, 216 Lake Park Dr., for students and youngsters of host families.

A boy from Uganda, Africa, and a girl from the Philippines will arrive in August to spend the school year with the Earl T. Fleming family, 526 Lake, and the Earl Kane family, 206 Wilson St., respectively.

Eight Children In Car as It Rolls on Slope

TREMPEALEAU, Wis. (Special)—Eight children took an unplanned ride backward in a car parked in the parking lot east of the IGA store here about 5 p.m. Tuesday, and although badly frightened, escaped with only slight bruises.

No one knows exactly how it happened, but it probably was this way:

Mrs. Gerald McDonah, Town of Caledonia farm woman, left her six children, 3 to 11 years old, and their guests, Karen and Mary Beck, children of Donald Beck, 1020 W. King St., Winona, in the car when she went into the store. They believe one of the children turned on the ignition and 3-year-old Jeff, twin of John McDonah, who was on the floor in the front seat, put his hand on the accelerator. Mrs. McDonah had left it in reverse, so the car started to back up.

It angled into the 1960 car of LaVern Buchholz, Trempealeau, also in the parking lot, striking it in the rear and pushing it about 10 feet onto the lawn at the Andrew Maleskycki home.

The 1956 McDonah car continued in reverse along the gutter on Highway 93 until stopped by a tree in front of the Dominic Jesseski residence.

The car traveled about 250 feet, and the rear of the vehicle was badly bent. Some damage was done to the Buchholz car.

A doctor was called from Galesville to examine the children but they were more scared than hurt. Besides the twins, Jerry, Bonnie, Beverly and Barbara McDonah were in the car. The accident was investigated by Maurice Scow, Whitehall, Trempealeau County traffic officer.

Fillmore Co. Board Approves Two Road Jobs

PRESTON, Minn. (Special)—The Fillmore County Board of Commissioners let contracts on two road jobs and for the purchase of a panel truck Tuesday and adjourned to the semi-annual meeting July 9 when tax levies will be set.

Freeman Construction Co., Spring Valley, received the contract for grading and crushed rock about 3.4 miles on CSAH 17 from CSAH 26 to CSAH 22 beginning at the Arthur Hahn farm, about five miles south of Preston, to the Bristol Center road.

FREEMAN'S BID was $46,791.20. Other bidders were Leo Joyce Construction Co., Rochester, $48,807.50, and Tripp Construction Co., Mabel, $50,686.25.

Kap & Sons Construction Co., Spring Valley, was awarded the contract for blacktopping 4 of a mile on CSAH 28 on Maple Street in Mabel. His bid was $7,113. Other bidders were H. J. Dunn Black Top Surfacing Inc., Winona, $10,884.50; Rochester Sand & Gravel, $9,774.50; and Hovrud Construction, Spring Grove, $9,520.

Contract for the panel truck to be used by the survey crew of the engineering department was let to Red Wing Bros., Mabel, whose bid for a Chevrolet was $2,072.30. Gunderson Motors, Preston, bid $2,320.07 on a GMC and Marchant, Spring Valley, $2,060 on a Dodge.

AERIAL SURVEY of the Irish Ridge road west of Lanesboro for the purpose of rebuilding the road leading from Lanesboro toward Fountain is in progress. Charles V. Michener, county auditor, said today. The contract was let to Clark Hurd Aerial Surveys, Inc., Minneapolis, in February for $1,350. The ridge road approach will be rebuilt prior to construction of a new bridge at Lanesboro planned for next year.

Grading for construction of the new bridge from Highway 16 across Root River to Peterson was started Tuesday by H. S. Dresser & Son, Winona.

The building is of frame construction with gas heating. May Laubach and son are the building contractors. The foundation mason work was done by Imman & Imman, Winona, and the other contractors are: Lewiston Hardware, heating and plumbing, and Warren Moe, electrical work.

The office of the company has been in the home of G. Robert Randall, secretary, the past nine years but will be moved to the new building when completed. Vernon Zander, assistant secretary, and Randall operate the agency.

Spring Kindergarten Class Discussed For Gilmore Valley
Introduction of a spring kindergarten was discussed at the Gilmore Valley school district (2610) meeting Tuesday evening, but the decision was left to the board in consultation with the new teacher.

New teacher there is Mrs. George Alitz, Goodview.

The district voted to increase its levy from $2,500 to $3,000 toward a total budget of $6,450. Actual expenditures last year were $5,968. Average daily attendance in the six grades was 25.6, including pupils from closed district 2623.

Arthur Thelen was elected secretary to succeed Ryan Henry. Henry presided in the absence of Albert Eddy, chairman. Mrs. Leo Voelker is the third member of the board.

UCT Council Wins 3rd in National
Winona Council 69, United Commercial Travelers, took third place for youth activity, it was announced at the national convention at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Male A. Slow of Winona is attending.

15 Steamboat Days Candidates Listed

Names of the 15 Steamboat Days queen candidates were announced today by the Junior Chamber of Commerce queen committee, headed by Daniel Schmidt, chairman.

The new Steamboat Days queen will be chosen Friday evening, July 6, and will reign over the weekend event. She also will represent Winona in other communities about the state and will be entered in the 1963 Miss Minnesota contest.

CANDIDATES and sponsors:

She is a 1961 graduate of Winona Senior High School and plans to enter nursing training this fall. Her hair and eyes are brown and she is 5 foot 2. Water skiing is the sport she enjoys most, sewing is her hobby.

by office training and typing were favorite school subjects and she will demonstrate talent on the accordion.

Consolidation Plan For Minnesota City Area Schools Aired
The Minnesota City school district is considering a minimum and a more elaborate school expansion plan. The choice will depend largely on whether the district can be enlarged.

A spokesman for district 2363 said today that a report on building and consolidation plans was made at the annual meeting at the school Tuesday evening.

IT WAS NOTED that at a meeting Monday, the Minnesota City school district, which is considering a minimum and a more elaborate school expansion plan, was held in Wabasha County, Felsch (2629) and Hillsdale (2616) districts had been represented. Hillsdale and Felsch are closed districts; Minneka has 21 in six grades but reportedly has only a year left in its rented school.

At the Minnesota City annual meeting last night, when only seven were present, it was decided to call a special meeting after the Winona County superintendent of schools has prepared a proposed consolidation plan.

However, that office said today that no request for such a plan has yet been received.

MINNEKA's school was sold to the State Highway Department for highway purposes several years ago for $15,000; the district is renting it back on a temporary basis at $500 a year.

The Minnesota City district has about 85 pupils in six grades in its three-teacher school, with an auditorium and hot lunch facilities in the basement.

Eckert & Carlson, architects, have prepared two tentative plans, one for just adding three classrooms, one for adding the classrooms, a library, auditorium and kindergarten. Land was acquired for $2,000 a year or so ago.

A consolidation would require a graded system, plus other changes, it was indicated; a dissolution and merger, not necessarily.

This levy, same as last year, includes $2,000 for reimbursement for the land acquisition cost. Total budget is about $38,000, representing no change. Balance is about $10,000.

At the Minneka meeting the levy was kept the same, $4,000, toward the unchanged budget of about $7,700. Sidney was re-elected chairman, beginning his 10th year. Mrs. Ralph Pelofsky is clerk and Ed Heaser is the third board member.

Minneka is contiguous to the Minnesota City district for a short distance near the Whitman Dam. Mr. Vernon is generally between the two districts. It has about 17 pupils.

Goodview Levy For Schools Upped $16,000

The Goodview school district (2806) levy will be up about $16,000 next year. The increase is from about $24,000 to $40,000.

Clerk Frank Tuttle explained that several factors are involved in the 66 percent boost. The total budget also is up about $16,000, to about $70,000-$72,000.

For one thing the district under-budgeted last year because of failure to anticipate an increased school attendance of about 35. Next year another increase of 30 is anticipated. Enrollment will be about as follows: 194 in first six grades at Phelps School, Winona State College, and 118 in junior and senior high school, for a total of 302.

Another estimated 150-170 attend parochial schools.

Tuition for the Phelps elementary pupils will be up from $286 to $314 each next year, said Tuttle. High school tuition is paid out of the county fund, for which a levy is made in non high school districts by the county.

Tuttle said that transportation and activity fee costs also will be up.

The annual district meeting was held in the Goodview village hall. Mrs. Arne Odegaard was re-elected to a three-year term as chairman. Joseph Knapp is the third member of the board.

The district boundaries are not exactly those of the village.

Buffalo County Rejects Plan for Joint CD Head
ALMA, Wis. (Special)—The Buffalo County Board of Supervisors in special meeting Tuesday voted 16-12 against joining with Trempealeau County to engage Howard Mohnk, Cochrane, as joint civil defense director.

In discussion preceding the vote it was pointed out that the board had hired Mohnk as full-time CD director last November on recommendation of the state office. Although the county would save $1,000 to $1,100 annually by splitting the expenses, they would have only half of Mohnk's services.

BUFFALO County hired Mohnk at a salary of $300 per month plus $20 per month secretarial allowance. The plan proposed by the Trempealeau County Board last week in special session when Ernest S. Sobotta, Independence, resigned as CD director there, was that Mohnk's salary for the two counties would be $5,600, with Trempealeau County paying 40 percent of it the first year and half thereafter.

The resolution to turn down Trempealeau County's proposal was presented by Elmer Brenn, Town of Naples, board chairman; Ed Servais, Town of Glencoe; Charles Zepp, 1st Ward, Alma; John Falkner, Town of Canton; and Earl Blank, Cochrane, CD committee.

The meeting was called to take action on furnishing the new courthouse annex, which is scheduled for completion by Sept. 15. The board authorized two committees to handle purchasing and equipment: The purchasing committee consisting of Brenn; O. D. Florin, 1st Ward, Fountain City; and Alvin Borgwardt, Town of Alma; and the building committee: Blank; Elmer Steiner, Town of Belvidere; Christ Branner, 3rd Ward, Mondak, and Brenn.

No other meetings are planned by the board until October, according to Gale Hoch, county clerk.

City Tax Review Board Hears 44
About 44 protesting property owners had been heard by the city tax review board at noon today, with half a day of the two-day session remaining.

With the exception of three, all involved protests about real estate valuations and almost all of them on homes, said City recorder Roy G. Wildgrabe.

Other members, meeting in Assessor Donald O'Dea's office, are Mayor R. K. Ellings and Council President Harold Briseth.

2 Plats Filed For Hokah
CALEDONIA, Minn.—Two proposed plats of consolidation of Hokah school district have been filed with the state Department of Education, according to Miss Gladys Lapham, Houston County superintendent of schools.

The first proposal, filed in May by Houston school board proposing consolidation with Winona school district, has been acknowledged by the state department. A 45-day waiting period must ensue before the state approves or disapproves the plan.

Acknowledgment has not been received yet on a later filing by Hokah school board asking consolidation with Caledonia Public School.

Children from Hokah Elementary School have been attending Houston High School over 33 years.

Earl's Pearls Make You Wit of the Party

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — If you want to be the wit of the party, just tuck these way in your memory . . .

"When people don't want to go to ball games, there's just nothing you can do to stop 'em" (Yogi Berra) . . . Ann Corio, star of "This Was Burlesque," telling of the speed with which Hollywood used to make pictures, said, "They didn't want the pictures good. They wanted them Thursday."

"One of my chief regrets during my years in the theatre is that I couldn't sit in the audience and watch me act" (John Barrymore).

Groucho Marx turned to a toastmaster and said: "Thanks for your warm introduction of me. I've heard Nixon speak with more enthusiasm of the three Kennedy brothers." Praising Spyros Skouras, Groucho said, "He spoke the immortal words that changed the motion picture industry. He said, 'Gentlemen: (at that time there were a few in the business) from now on we will put 2c worth of melted butter on the popcorn and charge an extra dime.'" "The trouble with rock 'n' roll is that you can't tell when the record's worn out" (Irish Digest).

ATTENTION LIZ Taylor and Richard Burton: Sir Cedric Hardwicke relates that when George Bernard Shaw observed a leading man and leading lady desperately trying to upstage each other, he snapped, "Please! I call this play 'Caesar AND Cleopatra,' not 'Caesar VERSUS Cleopatra!'"

An old-timer is one who can remember when there was some criticism of the Gov't for extravagance in giving away free seeds" (Ohio State Journal).

Henry Morgan once said on the air he wouldn't be caught dead in his sponsor's elevator heels, but apologized and said: "I would be caught dead, but that's the only place I'd be caught."

"I got a wrong number, why did you answer the phone?" (James Thurber) . . . Casey Stengel's modest comment upon winning a pennant: "I could never do it without the team."

Boat Safety Week

The number of persons in court at Alma, La Crosse and other Wisconsin communities along the river facing charges of violating Wisconsin's safe boating law, is concrete evidence that there is a need along the river for full observance of National Safe Boating Week, July 1 to July 7, or over the Fourth of July, top boating week.

At right is one of the Safe Boating Week poster girls who this week are gracing many of the marinas and docks of boats throughout the nation. It is the official poster of the Outboard Boating Clubs of America, one of the more than a score of national organizations backing the observation of the week.

Last year, and we presume again this year, most of the tow-boats on the river carried long banners, calling attention to boat safety. President John F. Kennedy has issued a safe boating week proclamation. The week of the Fourth of July was established as National Safe Boating Week by a resolution of Congress in 1958 and the United States Coast Guard was appointed an agency to sponsor the week.

We are one of those individuals who believe that more than publicity is needed to make boating safe on the river. Boating laws — both Minnesota and Wisconsin have an excellent set — must be enforced. Boaters should not be allowed to run "hog-wild" on the river. Every time one goes on the river apparent violations loom up like a sore thumb.

Buffalo County Warden Stanley Appel, an important figure in river law enforcement in this area, tells us Wisconsin has cut the drownings from boat accidents more than 50 percent since the wardens took over the boating law enforcement. Michigan reports similar results. The Winona sheriff's new patrol boat probably will be here for Steamboat Days.

The St. Louis district office of United States Coast Guard has issued an order covering the Mississippi River waters here during Steamboat Days. Here is the full text of the order:

Special Local Regulations
Pursuant to the provisions of 46 U.S.C. 464-457 and the regulations contained in 33 C.F.R. 100, I deem

It necessary to promulgate the following special local regulations to insure the safety of life during the Winona Steamboat Days celebration. These regulations will be effective on all navigable waters between Mile 725.0 and 726.0 of the Upper Mississippi River from an hour before the scheduled commencement of the regatta to an hour after scheduled ending of the regatta.

1. Movement of all boats and vessels on waters defined immediately above, including participating craft, patrol craft, and committee boats, will be regulated by the patrol commander during the time specified.

2. Passage of commercial vessel

3. Anchorage of boats and vessels on the race course is prohibited. Vessels anchoring outside the race course are prohibited from anchoring in such a position that any portion of the hull or rigging extends into the race course.

4. Boats and vessels anchored shall shift anchorages when, in the opinion of the patrol commander, their present anchorage impedes river commerce or regatta events.

For violation of these regulations the following penalties shall be incurred:

a. A licensed officer shall be liable to suspension or revocation of license in the manner now prescribed by law for incompetency or misconduct.

b. Any person in charge of the navigation of a vessel other than a licensed officer shall be liable to a penalty of $500.

c. The owner of a vessel (including any corporate officer of a corporation owning the vessel) actually on board shall be liable to a penalty of $500, unless the violation of regulations shall have occurred without his knowledge.

d. Any other person shall be liable to a penalty of $250. In addition to the above special local regulations, 33 USC 407 makes it unlawful to throw, discharge or deposit refuse in the navigable waters of the United States. For violation of this statute, offenders shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,500 nor less than $500, or by imprisonment for not less than 30 days nor more than 1 year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Petitioners Want More Peace, Quiet

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Petitioners who call themselves a captive audience would like a little more peace and quiet.

About 20 residents asked the county commissioners Tuesday to reduce ringing of the Overpeck Memorial Carillon atop the county's new courthouse.

The carillon rings every quarter hour, 13 hours a day, every day, the petitioners said, and "it becomes highly distracting and even nerve-wracking."

They asked that it ring only on half hours, be stopped at 5 p.m. instead of 9 p.m. and ring only in the morning on Sundays.

The commissioners, who can't hear the bells inside the courthouse, took the petition under advisement.

Children Organize To Help Parents

EDITOR'S NOTE — The tragedy of the alcoholic is not restricted to the one person who cannot control his thirst for a drink. A life shattered, wrecks fearful damage on those close by. In this second in a five-part series, an Associated Press writer reports the new avenues of help being opened for the mates and children of alcoholics.

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press Writer

How terrible it is to hate someone you should love; how hard it is to love someone who is so hateful.

Love and hate for the same person make a strange combination. But to the child or wife of an alcoholic, intermingling love and hate are familiar, twisting threads in a painful, constant emotional crisis.

"I hated him, despised him, wished he'd die," admits the gentle-looking, gray-haired grandmother.

Her companions in Al-Anon nod in understanding. They, too, have suffered from an alcoholic mate.

"Sometimes I loved my father and mother, sometimes I hated them," says the 16-year-old beauty. "I hated them more than I loved them. I couldn't understand why they were doing this to me."

Her companions in Alateens—nine boys and nine other girls who have an alcoholic parent or parents—recognize her torture.

Their feelings are important. They must be expressed—not in horror stories recounting the alcoholics' misdeeds—but in terms of their own reaction, their feeling. By exploring these feelings, they hope to reach understanding.

Al-Anon and Alateens are adjuncts to Alcoholics Anonymous, the fellowship of alcoholics that is widely credited with doing inestimable work in helping persons with drinking problems. The only requirement for membership in AA is a desire to stop drinking. It is nonsectarian.

After more than 25 years of service, AA has a proven record: At least 300,000 persons who have stayed sober after long histories of problem drinking.

The chasm between the alcoholic and his—or her—family has been described many times. But few have told it so guilelessly and pathetically as the women at an AA group meeting.

"My name is _____, I am an alcoholic," she said, and related a background of church and PTA and civic activity—and the shyness that seemed to vanish under drink; and then the drinking that got out of hand.

"I couldn't eat. I had to have a morning drink. And then one day I overheard my three children. They were having a family conference. And they decided, 'Mommy doesn't love us any more.'"

That was when she went to AA. But while AA seeks to dry out the drunk and keep him sober, what about the other wreckage?

There's plenty for the alcoholic leaves in his wake: debt and disorder, and pains that need long soothing. And he, too, needs something from those he's hurt: an understanding of what they may have done to make him the way he was, or to keep him from recovering.

Al-Anon grew informally from the AA group, its name is merely an enlarged abbreviation of Alcoholics Anonymous. Mates of alcoholics sometimes acted as unofficial hostesses at AA meetings, passing out soft drinks and coffee and cake. They began discussing mutual problems and eventually this turned into concrete soul-searching. Soon little groups were founded, usually wives but occasionally including the husband of a woman alcoholic, and an organization was formally incorporated in 1954. Now there are 2,000 Al-Anon groups in the U.S., Canada and 20 foreign countries. Members are not solely mates of those in AA. In a good many groups, the members are mates of drinking alcoholics.

Three years later, in 1957, Alateens arose. It specifically geared itself toward helping children of alcoholics and was started by a teen-ager in California. There are 200 such groups today.

The goal for both is the same: to lead them to sufficient understanding so that they can live with the alcoholic.

At an Alateen meeting in a New York suburb recently, a girl of 18 opened the meeting with the "serenity prayer":

"God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can, and wisdom to know the difference."

Then she asked, "Is your unhappiness at home affecting your school work?"

Around the table the teen-agers answered. Some hesitantly, some in gushes of words.

"I'd fight with my father," said a handsome crewcut lad of 17. "I'd be upset and then take it out on my teachers. I just didn't care. I got bad grades, flunking grades, and I thought I was hurting him by doing it. I've learned here that I've hurt myself."

The questions go on, striking at the heart, digging deep, and leading to conversation that would strongly impress any psychiatrist.

All told of experimenting with drink; some confessed drinking to get drunk.

"I drank to escape," said the young girl with waist-length hair. "I tried to commit suicide five or six times. I couldn't do anything I wanted, not even lay down to die."

"If you wanted to kill yourself, you would have," said a boy. "You just wanted sympathy. You wanted to say to them, 'Look what you made me do. Now you'll be sorry.' Isn't that it?"

They talked realistically of what they've suffered—and what they have learned.

Should School Year Be Extended?

WITH SCHOOL vacations here, many parents, a few students and many more educators are analyzing the possibility of shorter vacations and a longer school year.

Although a growing number of school systems are adopting voluntary summer courses, still others are lengthening the school year and the school day. In Switzerland, for example, a student completes his precollege study in nine years, compared to the average 12 years for Americans.

Where the staggered quarter plan has been adopted here in the States, actual practice often negates theory. Although fuller use of buildings is accomplished, and four years condensed into three, the fact is that wherever this system has been tried, it has been abandoned.

IN PRACTICE, operating costs have gone up; repairs are difficult when schools are in constant use; and students object to assigned vacations in winter, spring or fall.

In high schools where the 48-week program was adopted, graduating students were often too young to get regular jobs and not mature enough to enter college. In colleges, a longer school year and shorter vacation might prove feasible. The University of Pittsburgh, for example, graduated 53 students last April who completed a regular four-year course in two and two-thirds years by using an 11-month academic year. It should be noted, however, that all had high scholastic averages.

BY FAR THE MOST popular method is the voluntary summer session. Here students may take makeup courses or courses they would not be able to fit into their programs during the regular term. As Grace S. Wright, a secondary education specialist in the United States Office of Education says, "An extra summer quarter is not unlike camp for children. The group is flexible and the results rewarding in many cases."

Harbo's Ability as Educator Sought

THE ABILITY OF L. S. Harbo as an educator and administrator, appears to be both appreciated and very much in demand.

Though he is not scheduled to retire as Austin school superintendent until July 1, he has received several offers in the educational field and additional inquiries as to whether he would be interested in other educational posts.

The latest offer, which he has accepted, is to serve as interim president of Augsburg College, an obvious distinction for a school superintendent.

It is not unusual for an excellent educator and administrator to have some critics in a community. And Mr. Harbo did have some—some who were probably even more vocal than in most communities.

ONE CRITIC WHO kept up a running attack on Harbo, implied that he was trying to "finagle" with the school policy of retirement at age 65, so he could retain his post as superintendent. This was an absolute untruth, as were many other things said. Harbo had no reason to be concerned about becoming an unemployed educator.

However, we are certain that the vast majority of Austin people who had direct relations with him, fully recognized and admired his ability, conscientiousness and performance—just as those qualities are being recognized by other schools which have been seeking his services, even though he has reached retirement age.

We believe, too, they will feel a measure of debt for his contributions to education in Austin—and for the high rating Austin holds among Minnesota schools. For it is doubtful that any school can be better than the administration of its superintendent.

THEY WILL ALSO wish him well in his new educational post, hoping he will have the same meaningful success he has had at Austin in building education, but perhaps without the problems that have made his job very difficult during the past year.—Austin Daily Herald.

The dropping away of Syria and Yemen has ended the United Arab States. There are plenty of Arab states, but no good cement to hold them together.

If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you. John 15:7.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

Talk About U.S. Future

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

We hear a great deal of talk these days about America's future. When we talk of that future, I believe we must tie it irrevocably to the future of freedom throughout the world.

The United States is today the undisputed leader of the anti-slavery forces in the world, and her conduct has ramifications which stretch far beyond our borders.

And because of this role, I believe the future hope for America lies in political conservatism.

The world being what it is, in this year 1962, I don't think we have a choice. I believe the nature of the enemy has decided this question for us—as reluctant as some adherents to benevolent collectivism seem to be to accept this reality.

In fact, I believe that the job of conservatism today is every American's job. We are faced with a world-wide threat from totalitarian, leftist forces. Whether we like it or not, Communist-inspired events around the world have necessarily placed this nation in a conservative position. We find ourselves pitted against the total regimented society.

WE FIND ourselves contending with the all-powerful state. We find ourselves in the role of guardian and defender of a just social system and a decent civil order. We find ourselves cast as the world's foremost possessor of the blessings that flow naturally from a governmental system founded on freedom for the individual.

In other words, we find ourselves—more than ever before in our history—in a conservative position defending individual freedom against the threat of collectivist slavery.

NOW HOW well are we equipped to take this position? How deeply dedicated are we, in and out of government, to our sacred cause? How well equipped are we to meet and defeat an enemy which brings against us the ultimate in zeal and fanaticism?

These are questions which more and more concerned Americans are asking themselves and their national leaders today. The evidence is strong and growing stronger that there is something wrong with the orientation given us by the American liberals for the struggle ahead. There is reason to question whether these liberals fully and accurately understand exactly what it is that threatens our survival and the cause of freedom.

There is strong cause to wonder whether those with a long history of tolerance for what once was referred to as "the great experiment in Russia" are philosophically and ideologically capable of coming to grips with communism now that communism has become our proven mortal enemy.

WE HAVE reason to ask whether dedicated American liberals really have the heart for the kind of effort it will take to win over the forces which are sworn to bury us.

Why is it, for example, that American liberals don't bring the same militancy and determination to the fight against communism that they once brought to the battle against the Nazis of Hitler's Germany? Do they honestly believe that communism, with its well-advanced program of world domination, is any less threatening? Or that life in a concentration camp is any less comfortable merely because the camp is located in Siberia rather than Germany?

I SUGGEST that the growing realization that our position in today's world is a conservative position and that it takes more than appeasement to defend that position is one of the root causes for the phenomenal rise of conservative thought in America. To that, of course, must be added the nation-wide disenchantment with economic policies of extravagance and high taxes, policies which have cost the American people billions of dollars and still have left us with a high rate of unemployment and a slow rate of economic growth.

But basically, I think an increasing number of the American people are turning to conservative answers in the battle to defeat a collectivist enemy. They are beginning to understand that "peaceful coexistence" is impossible except on the enemy's terms.

How do you stand, sir?

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Clowning Termed Factor In Defeat of Farm Bill

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The New York Herald Tribune went even with JFK last week. Just before the crucial farm vote, it plastered on page one with photos, the story of a glamorous swimming pool party staged by the Robert F. Kennedy at which the hostess and some of the guests got dunked.

Not all the details were reported, even by the Herald Trib, but it was the kind of party which doesn't go down well with Congress or a country worried over the stock market, farm surpluses, and unemployment. Southern congressmen were especially interested in the fact that Ethel Kennedy, sister-in-law of the president, twisted with Harry Belafonte, well-known Negro singer.

The swimming pool story, together with other factors, was enough to switch the narrow margin of votes which administration leaders thought were lined up for the farm bill.

At a previous party, Teddy Kennedy, now a candidate for the Senate in Massachusetts, got dunked in his brother Bobby's pool, then, dripping like a wet collie dog, proceeded to invite the ladies to dance.

At last week's swimming pool party, Ethel Kennedy balanced a table on a plank over one end of the pool and invited Col. John Glenn, the astronaut, and "Whizzer" White, newly appointed Supreme Court justice, to sit at the table with her. Justice White wisely and politely declined. Col. Glenn did not, but escaped a dunking. Arthur Schlesinger, Mrs. Kennedy, and Mrs. Spencer Davis all landed in the water. Other factors contributed to the Herald Tribune swimming pool story.

THE TECHNIQUES of democracy are sometimes helter-skelter. And the public, which must obey the laws that Congress passes, never knows how last-minute may be the margins or how important the personalities which decide and influence the voting.

In the case of the farm bill it was not only the attorney general's party, but the personality of Rep. Harold Cooley, the North Carolina Democrat who heads the House Agriculture Committee, which partly influenced the farm vote. Some called "Aye" against the bill in resentment against Cooley. ("Aye" killed the bill by sending it back to committee.) They were especially resentful when Cooley allotted only one minute and a half to venerable Rep. Howard Smith of Virginia to speak on an amendment.

Growled Rep. Burr Harrison of Virginia afterward: "Limiting Howard Smith to only a minute and a half was too much to take."

Five of the Virginia Democrats voted against the administration. If they had voted the other way, it would have tied the vote and let Speaker McCormack break the tie in favor of Kennedy.

THERE WERE other quirks of fate which decided the voting on one of the key bills of this Congress.

Neal Smith, highly respected Democrat from the Iowa corn belt, got mad at some of the amendments and cast his vote against the administration. He faces a tough re-election battle with a good-looking Republican lady running against him.

Alvin O'Konsky of Wisconsin was one of the few Republicans who had been counted on as favoring the farm bill. But though he had been instrumental in getting the Agriculture Department to extend feed grain support prices to Wisconsin, the Agriculture Department, let Sen. Bill Proxmire, who had opposed the administration on parts of the farm bill, make the announcement. Naturally, O'Konsky got mad. He voted against the administration.

A vote on the bill was expected at 6 p.m. but as debate continued, and as amendment after amendment was read by the clerk, tempers got frayed and the constructive legislative process became impossible. Amendments were read by the clerk and voted on without discussion.

ONE AMENDMENT by Robert Griffin, Republican of Traverse City, the cherry capital of Michigan, provided that the number of personnel in the Agriculture Department should not be larger than the number of farmers in the United States. With a roar the House accepted it. Even Chairman Cooley, floor manager for the bill, concurred.

Then Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the Democratic leader, got sore. He demanded a division vote. The amendment was defeated.

Some of the debate was equally silly, as the House of Representatives, arm of the most important free legislature in the world, considered a bill which was to eliminate stockpiles and regulate one of the most important industries in the nation.

After the vote, Kenneth Birkhead, assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, phoned to break the news to the man who had worked a solid year to formulate the bill.

"It was the hardest phone call," said Birkhead, "I've ever made, except when I phoned mother to say that father had died."

Kennedy School Aid Stand Hit

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has just come under severe attack for supposedly having allowed political considerations to influence him in discriminating against the parents of 7,000,000 children who attend Catholic and other church-related schools in America. He is blasted as being a "politician," not a constitutionalist.

This criticism is published in "Our Sunday Visitor," a Roman Catholic national weekly. Its editor, the Right Rev. Monsignor Joseph R. Crowley, made available over the weekend a lengthy article written by the Rev. Virgil Blum, S. J., chairman of the Department of Political Science at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis. Father Blum makes an extensive analysis of pending legislation and cites authorities to support his contention that federal aid to all schools for the teaching of nonreligious subjects is constitutional.

"Why then," asks Father Blum, "does the Kennedy administration insist on discriminating against the nation's independent school children? Why then do most congressmen refuse publicly to support equality of treatment and freedom of religion for all children in a federal aid-to-education bill?"

"The answer," it seems to me, is simple. President Kennedy, like the congressmen, is a politician. Politics is his basis of action. He is a political realist. Hence, political considerations, not constitutional, are the decisive factors in his education policy.

"POLITICS is the art of the possible. Kennedy fully realizes this. He could not have been elected on a platform which promised freedom of religion in education. So he ran on a platform which promised to discriminate against church-related schoolchildren. Assuming Kennedy believes in equality and freedom of religion in education, an unequivocal statement in support of these civil rights would have been political suicide.

"A large proportion of congressmen are faced by the same dilemma. They may be profoundly dedicated to freedom of religion in education, but feel they cannot openly support the civil rights of church-related schoolchildren. If they do, the opponents of freedom in education will shoot them down in the next election."

FATHER BLUM discusses the "practicalities of politics" and points out that the present movement for "civil rights for colored schoolchildren" is stimulated by pressure groups who influence the voting. He calls, therefore, for the organization of pressure groups throughout the country to get behind what he calls the "civil rights of independent children" numbering about 7,000,000. He writes:

"Equal federal aid for every child! The U. S. Constitution permits it. . . . So say the nation's best constitutional lawyers. Among them, Professors Paul Kauper of Michigan, Wilbur Katz of Wisconsin, Arthur Sutherland of Harvard, Philip Kurland of Chicago, William Ball of Villanova, and Harry Jones of Columbia universities.

"There are more than 40 precedents for federal grants to parents for tuition payments in church-related schools. Each of these programs is valid, and each was adopted by a Congress and President sworn to uphold the constitution.

"The GI bill of rights is, of course, the best known precedent for federal aid for church-related schoolchildren. More than a million veterans paid tuition in 474 Protestant, 265 Catholic and five Jewish institutions of higher education with federal grants. These veterans enjoyed freedom of choice: They were free to choose any college and to study any subject. Many veterans chose to study theology. More than 37,000 studied for the ministry with GI grants.

"THE WAR orphans educational assistance act is another precedent. Today, tens of thousands of war orphans are paying tuition in the nation's federal educational colleges with federal education grants.

"President Kennedy recently strongly urged the adoption of a vast federal scholarship program that would provide direct grants to hundreds of thousands of college students."

Fighting Asthma Allergy

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Our 5-year-old son has asthma. Does climate have anything to do with this? We live where the humidity is high most of the time. How much do emotions have to do with asthma? Are there many people who have abdominal cramps when they have an attack—MRS. D. W.

A dry climate may—may, I repeat—help an asthma case, but it is by no means certain, and I would not think of moving without doing two things first: Try the known methods of easing it; and try a different climate on a temporary basis before doing anything as drastic as uprooting a family—job, friends and all.

Opinions vary on the importance of emotions in asthma. I doubt that a general rule is possible. However, there is no question in my mind that emotional tensions are a real strong factor in triggering many attacks. But I am not convinced this is important in all cases.

Each must be judged by its own characteristics. I have never observed an asthma case in a child in which allergy was not a basic factor.

After all, what is asthma? A constriction of the air passages. Allergy, one of the commonest of all human ailments, has varied manifestations: Rash, itching, sneezing, swelling, cramps, vomiting; effects on eyes, nose, digestion, respiratory passages. And on and on.

Asthma is one of the several serious consequences. The air passages swell and constrict, the unhappy victim wheezes and gasps for breath.

TOO OFTEN people still think some single medicine will "cure" asthma. What needs curing—well, you don't "cure" it but you may control it—is the allergy.

It can be something breathless: House dust, pollen, animal danders and many other things. Skin tests are helpful in identifying these.

Foods can do it—and skin tests are as definite in this regard. Eggs, wheat and milk are relatively common offenders, and all are usual ingredients in a child's diet.

However, abdominal cramps along with asthma attacks are a strong hint that food allergy may be present. (No, not all asthma sufferers have such cramps.)

IT IS POSSIBLE for a germ (as from chronically infected tonsils or sinuses) to be the "substance" that touches off allergy attacks.

It is notable that some youngsters, asthmatic at first, outgrow the trouble, but the more severe the case, the less chance of doing this completely. For a rule of thumb, the case that is outgrown by about age 12 is fortunate; asthma that continues later is something that will have to be fought constantly.

If you can find out what things touch off the allergy, then you have a tremendously valuable and fundamental fact to work with. A "food diary," from which you can check back to see what foods always precede an attack (and in today's case the abdominal cramps) can be most valuable. And it's something only you can do; the doctor can't.

"When selecting a swim suit, 2 things are important to keep in mind!"

In Cassini's "Reflections in a Fashion Mirror," he tells of the two vital points to remember when picking out your bathing suit:

1. You must try many on to see really which one does something for you. It must minimize your waist and maximize your bosom... don't settle for less.
2. Bikinis are good for all sizes... up to size 10... and good for all ages — between 17 and 19.

DEAR ABBY:

Now Time to Show Respect

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We went to the cemetery on Decoration Day and in the chapel they had an item from your column framed, and on display. I copied it and beg of you to print it again. It gave me something to think about.

DEAR JUST: The item you wish me to run again was the one for which I have had the most requests for reprints. And here it is:

"DEAR ABBY: I am the most heartbroken person on earth. I always found time to go everywhere else but to see my old gray-haired parents. They sat at home alone loving me just the same. It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was too selfish and too busy to give, and now when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass above them I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the headaches I must have caused them. I pray that you will print this, Abby, to tell those who still have their parents to visit them and show their love and respect while there is still time. For it is later than you think."

DEAR ABBY: My daughter received as a shower gift a copy of your DEAR ABBY ON MARRIAGE. I read it and want you to know that it's the only book I've ever started that I could not put down until I finished it. It should be required reading for every married couple as well as those anticipating marriage. Thank you for writing it.

DEAR MRS. F. W. D.: You're welcome. The pleasure was mine.

DEAR ABBY: I think it is wrong for a bowling league to set a rule about pregnant bowlers. When I was pregnant with my fourth child, I bowled until 10 p.m. and my baby was born at midnight. The baby was fine and so was I. I kept an average of 145 so I figured I held my end up.

DEAR LADY BOWLER: If it was all right with your doctor, it's all right with me. I'm sure it wasn't easy to hold up your end under those conditions, but I think you're wonderful.

DEAR ABBY: The more I think of this, the madder I get. My husband went to a class reunion and didn't take me. It was for wives too, I am no slob, Abby, so there's no excuse along that line. Here's the way he "invited" me: "You don't want to go, do you?"

DEAR MAD: No wonder you're mad. You gave him the wrong answer.

Dead Germs Studied in Chicago Test

CHICAGO (AP)—Verdict: death from a dose of antibiotic.

The victims: some common germs.

But exactly how did they die? Why do some bacteria become resistant to the same antibiotic so they can still sicken or kill humans?

A young medical scientist is performing autopsies on germs to get at the answers. He slices the dead germs into pieces about 1,000th of an inch thick and studies them under an electron microscope which can magnify objects 25,000 to 30,000 times their natural size.

Dr. George B. Chapman of Cornell University Medical College, New York City, finds that in two types of bacteria he has examined, the antibiotic gets inside the organism and destroys the nucleus. His pictures show holes inside the germs. Germs not treated with the drug are still intact.

Dr. Chapman described the changes in an exhibit today to the American Medical Association's annual convention.

A next step is to study strains of germs which resist the very antibiotics that kill their cousins. Do the resistant germs keep the antibiotic from penetrating their skins? Or does the drug get inside and still somehow fail to destroy the nucleus? The germ autopsies promise to give such answers.

By learning how the drug works or fails to work, it could become possible chemically to design antibiotics that kill resistant germs. Such resistance to antibiotics is dangerous bacteria.

Whitehall Beef Feed

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—The Whitehall Packing Co. will donate the beef for the free beef sandwiches served during Beef and Dairy Day Aug. 25.

Two animals to be purchased from area farms will be selected by a judging team. The firm will pay 10 cents a hundred above the current market price for the top beef selected and 5 cents a hundred above the current market price for the second beef. Any area farmer having a beef he would like to have judged should notify either Harold Everson, general chairman of the event, or Whitehall Packing.

U.S., Canada Have Fiscal Problems

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Canada's fiscal belt-tightening comes just as the United States starts its big debate as to whether it should loosen its own.

Canada is raising interest rates, cutting imports seeking outside financial support for its weakened dollar, which it already had devalued. Its austerity program is due to outside pressure on its currency and lack of confidence in its domestic economy.

The United States at midyear also is worrying about a domestic economy that isn't growing as fast as earlier hoped, about a deficit in its international payments that puts some pressure on the dollar, about a sharp drop in stock prices that weakens confidence in the U.S. economy both here and abroad.

But in the United States today's debate is over whether to increase the Treasury deficit by raising government spending, or cutting taxes, or both. The aim is to get the economy rolling faster, to cut the rate of unemployment—or to head off a possible recession.

Canada's fiscal problem differs from the American one largely in this: Canada's imports have been running well ahead of its exports for some time. This didn't matter much until Americans stopped pouring investment dollars across the border. The United States has been running a surplus of exports over imports for years.

Meal Packer Measure Runs Into Senate Snag

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department request that meat packers be required to post bonds to assure payments to livestock producers and other agencies ran into sharp opposition Tuesday at a Senate hearing. Farm groups, however, backed it. Spokesmen for the American Meat Institute and two independent packer groups urged a Senate Agriculture subcommittee to kill the measure.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, agreed with the packer spokesmen and asked if the bill had been promoted by insurance and bonding interests.

In a rare display of unity both the American Farm Bureau Federation, largest farm organization, and the National Farmers Union, also a major farm group, both urged passage of the measure. Usually they are on opposite sides of farm legislation.

But neither farm organization nor Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., who introduced the measure, was present to testify. Apparently they had believed there would be no opposition.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Vacation Time For Learning Too

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

Summer vacation can mean a lot more than just a chance to loaf at the beach or earn money at a summer job. For the slower students, it can mean a chance to catch up in an atmosphere, free of classroom pressure.

Medical schools discovered the desirability of vacations during World War II when they were operating three semesters a year in order to provide more doctors. The armed forces found that medical students, they discovered, did better work after they were given a semester off from regular classes to restudy their courses and lay the groundwork for their return.

—PRACTICE WRITING the language for five or ten minutes a day. Write the same sentences over and over. Check how you are writing. Review spelling, word meanings, accents.

—Review one rule of grammar every day. Find a sentence that illustrates the rule and repeat it over and over until the words roll off your tongue and they feel right to you.

—Get some suitable books in the language from the library and read them for enjoyment. Or listen to language records. Or, better still, find someone skilled in the language and speak it with him.

This particular summer study plan is designed to overcome language problems but, with only minor variations, it can be applied to any subject—mathematics, history, English, etc.

In a few minutes a day of summer study you can raise yourself from a C to a B, a student struggling by making sure that you have caught up before you go on to a more advanced course.

Wabasha Co. Board To Purchase Equipment; Bid Opening July 9

WABASHA, Minn.—The Wabasha County Board of Commissioners will open proposals July 9 for a tandem drive, diesel powered motor grader equipped with mechanical controls, snowplow, grading and other accessories listed in special provisions on file at the office of the county engineer.

The board will trade in two major graders.

On the same date the commissioners will open bids on a bulldozer, tractor and scrapers, rubber-tired motor graders, and motor graders and sheepfoot rollers at hourly rental rates.

Estes Asks Indefinite Delay in Trial

ECOS, Tex. (AP)—The immediate trial which Billie Sol Estes requested came to a temporary halt today as a judge studied a surprise defense motion for indefinite delay of the case.

The 37-year-old West Texas politician is being tried on a charge that he bilked $162,144 from a Fort Worth County farmer who contracted to buy 200,000 pounds of fertilizer for cattle.

John Coffey, an Estes attorney, asked the continuance Tuesday night.

Coffey told the court examination of prospective jurors had demonstrated that they had read and heard things about Estes' activities that would be prejudicial to him. He argued that many of the things that have been written or broadcast about Estes have no relation to the case at trial and would not be admissible as evidence.

Badger GOP Kills Democratic Plan For Redistricting

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The Republican-controlled Senate killed the first Democratic amendment aimed at making the GOP reapportionment measure more acceptable to the state's members of the Legislature.

By a straight party vote, the Senate defeated Tuesday night an amendment that would have taken a county, predominantly Republican, out of the 1st Congressional District.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Lynn Silberman, D-Racine, would shift Green County from the 1st District to the 3rd. The Republican reapportionment bill does not alter the present setup of the 1st District which now is composed of Racine, Koshong and Green counties.

The 1st District seat has been held by a Republican for many years but Democrats have won in the 1st occasionally because of the strong Democratic vote in Racine and Kenosha counties.

Banker at Houston Completes 50th Year in Business

HOUSTON, Minn.—Wallace McMillan, president of Houston State Bank, has been inducted into the Past Presidents and Pioneer Club of the Minnesota Bankers Association.

He was recognized recently for 50 years of service in the banking industry, joining over 100 other Minnesotans.

Houston Co. Board Opens Bids July 17 On 4 Road Projects

CALEDONIA, Minn.—The Houston County Board of Commissioners will open bids July 17 on the following road projects:

—Sealing of CSAH 20 from the east village limits of Eden to 2.75 miles south.

—Grading and crushed rock surfacing of CSAH 20 from the west corner, one-half mile east of Richford to 1.3 miles east.

—Bituminous seal coating of CSAH 1 from the Iowa line to the junction of TTH 44, 2.7 miles west of Spring Grove.

Badger Counties Get Basic Aid

MADISON, Wis. — Basic highway aids amounting to $4,754,357 in cash and at least $8,072,995 in potential credit have been distributed or allotted to each of Wisconsin's 72 counties by the state Highway Commission under statutory provisions for improvements to county and state trunk highways.

Payments were mailed Monday for use on county trunk highways, including statutory allotments and an additional $65 for each mile of county trunks, rural and urban. Counties also were notified that certain sums are available for improvements to state trunk highways and connecting streets.

WISCONSIN LAW provides that each county must have at least $40,000 for the improvement of state trunk highways within its boundaries, or an amount sufficient to pay the principal on outstanding highway bonds.

Among three counties credited with funds exceeding the statutory formula in order to reach the $40,000 minimum was Pepin, a $10,642 credit.

Four counties were credited with additional funds to meet principal obligations on state trunk highway bonds outstanding. They were Buffalo County, $4,301 additional, and Trempealeau, $7,977.

Payments for county trunks and state trunks to counties in this area were as follows, respectively:

BUFFALO, $19,605 and $70,000; JACKSON, $53,123 and $88,928; PEPIN, $22,355 and $40,000; TREMPÉALEAU, $57,138 and $96,000; Eau Claire, $74,229 and $107,267; and La Crosse, $60,030 and $94,143.

The basic highway aids for county trunks are the second of three major allotments made to counties during the year and altogether amounting to an excess of $15 million. First installment of supplemental aids was distributed in April and final installment will be in July. These funds do not include federal monies which may be allocated on certain specified jobs.

Names Fat People Tire Of Hearing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks fat people get tired of hearing: "Hi, skinny!" "Been putting a little on lately, haven't you?" "Did you ever hear that inside every fat man there's a thin man trying to get out?" "I'd watch that weight if I were you, old boy."

"George, would you mind trying this chair? That one you're sitting in is an antique, and—"

"I used to have that problem myself. Then I started eating six prunes for breakfast, a dried apple for lunch, and—"

"All you need is a little more regular exercise. Why don't you start by pushing yourself away from the table three times a day?"

"Grace hates revolving doors ever since she got stuck in one at that department store, and they had to call out the fire department to pry her loose."

"They say his wife has to tie his shoelaces for him every morning."

"How many years has it been since you were able to see your toes, George?"

"I guess everything he eats simply turns to fat."

"I'm sorry, sir, we can't let out the pants any more. You'll have to take a larger size."

"You know how I did it? A piece of rye toast for breakfast, a hard-boiled egg for lunch, and—"

"Just one more flight of stairs, George. Come on, you can make it."

"Here comes Grace. Better put away that box of chocolates. You know they make her nervous."

"Hi, Fatso!"

"I know how we can close the trunk. Ask George to sit on it."

"Hey, Jimmy, I know how we can cool off. Just stand in that fat man's shadow."

"They can kid you all they like George. I still think you're a fine body of men."

"I wouldn't mind if you had a little fire around your middle, dear—but does it have to be a truck fire?"

"It's ridiculously easy. When you get up you drink the juice of a lemon in a glass of lukewarm water. At lunch you have three carrots, and for dinner you really splurge—all the boiled grapefruit you want."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scott

Bonnie Northrup, Richard Schott Exchange Vows

LA CRESCENT, Minn. — Miss Bonnie Louise Northrup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Northrup, La Crescent, became the bride of Richard G. Schott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Scott, La Crosse June 16.

The Rev. W. J. Kuisle, performed the double-ring ceremony at 10:30 a.m. at the parsonage of Crucifixion Catholic Church, La Crescent.

THE BRIDE wore a ballerina-length frock of white. Chantilly lace and tulle over tulle and a short veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses with a shower of sweetheart roses. Her pearl necklace was a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Mary Northrup was her sister's only attendant. She wore a street-length dress of lilac, rayon sheer over tulle with matching veil and carried a bouquet of white and yellow carnations. Duane Kearns, Dakota, Minn., was best man.

Mrs. Northrup, mother of the bride, wore a navy dress with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a flowered pink dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of pink and white carnations.

A wedding dinner was served to members of the immediate family at the DeJarlas Club following the ceremony. The bride's parents were hosts at a reception at their home from 2 to 5 p.m. Mrs.

Fred Knaut, St. Charles, Minn., poured coffee and Mrs. Wilfred Mattison, Winona, aunts of the bride, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Leslie Johnson, Winona, and Mrs. Robert Smith, La Crescent, were hostesses. The Misses Kay Nisselke, Winona, and Toni Henthorne were in charge of gifts.

For their trip to Wisconsin Dells the bride wore a black and white dress with white accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Logan High School, La Crosse, and the bridegroom attended high school in La Crosse. The couple is at home in Minneapolis where the bridegroom is stationed with the Army Defense Command.

SORORITY CONVENTION Miss Susan Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Roth, South St. Paul, attended the Delta Zeta sorority national convention in Hot Springs, Ark., last week. She was a delegate from Delta Zeta chapter at Winona State College where she is president. Miss Roth is a senior majoring in elementary education. Mrs. Ruth Hopf, 477 Collegeview, is chapter director.

WCS OFFICERS — FOUNTAIN, Minn. (Special) — During church services Sunday the following Woman's Society of Christian Service officers were installed: President, Mrs. F. P. Winslow; vice president, Mrs. Howard Gillespie; recording secretary, Mrs. Burdette Vrieze; treasurer, Mrs. Loren Graskamp; secretaries: Youth work, Mrs. Charles Arnold; supply work, Mrs. James Earley; student work, Mrs. Clifford Bacon; Christian social relation, Mrs. Orley Grindland; missionary education, Mrs. Laurel McFarland; spiritual life, Mrs. Hiram Johnson; literature and publications, Mrs. Hiram Johnson; promotion, Mrs. Edward Graskamp.

Former City Residents Take Rose Honors

Former Winona residents took top honors at the National Rose Show of the American Rose Society Thursday in Minneapolis.

Archie McGill Jr., Minneapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McGill, 166 E. Sarnia St., was awarded "Queen" for the best hybrid tea of the show, "Eclipse." Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, Minneapolis, son and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thompson, 625 Clark Lane, won "Duchess," third best hybrid tea, with "Kordes Perfecta."

Among members of the Winona Rose Society attending the National Convention of the American Rose Society and winning awards at the rose show were: Mrs. Shirley Callahan, St. Charles; Robert Danielson, Mrs. Syrus Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Leicht, Mrs. A. H. Maze, Mr. and Mrs. McGill, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Modjeski, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Rohrer, Ben Saltrank and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

The Winona Rose Society exhibit of Lake Winona Rose Gardens was one of the special displays at the show. The national court of honor table was highlighted with a cloth loaned by Mrs. Newton Wilkinson and Mrs. Arthur Kern, who had made it for the Winona Rose Show.

There will be a tour of rose gardens of Winona Rose Society members in St. Charles Saturday afternoon. Persons interested in going are to meet at 1:30 p.m. at Westgate parking area to combine rides to the gardens of Mrs.

Callahan, Mrs. Andrew Kieffer and Clarence Budnik Demonstrations on proper cutting of roses and summer care will be given in the gardens. Mrs. Johnson is chairman of the garden visitation committee.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD SIEBENALER, Rollingstone, Minn., announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Irene Catherine, to Thomas D. Holan, Elba, Minn., son of Mrs. Viasta Holan, St. Charles, Minn., and the late Joseph Holan. Miss Siebenaler is employed by the Ted Maier Drug Co. and her fiancé is employed by IBM, general products division, Rochester, Minn. An October wedding is planned. (Edstrom Studio)

JUNGHANS ANNIVERSARY TREMPERALEAU, Wis. (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. William Jungmans Jr. celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday at Federated Church with open house. Mrs. Jungmans is the former Olga Appleby, Beaver, Minn. They were married June 22, 1937, at Beaver and came to Trempealeau about 14 years ago. They have two daughters and three sons, Sally, Robert and Philip and twins Michael and Mary. The reception was attended by 100. Mr. and Mrs. Jungmans renewed their wedding vows with the Rev. Donald Riley officiating.

GOSSMAN REUNION CANTON, Minn. (Special) — The Gossman family held its annual reunion Sunday in the A. C. Hall in Canton with 125 attending the picnic dinner and program. Leo Gossman, Minneapolis, was master of ceremonies and his son, Richard Gossman, read a paper on the history of the family, from the time Frederick Gossman came to the U.S. from Germany. Mrs. Rose Gossman is 1963 president and Mrs. Paul Halloran is secretary-treasurer. Mr. and Mrs. William Gossman were honored at a reception following the program in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary. Their daughter, Mrs. Sanford Elstead, Mabel, baked the anniversary cake.

Carry complexion care wherever you go — soft travellets saturated with antiseptic 100% sealed in ever fresh foil packs — Helps clear your skin with healing medication — soothes with emollients — tear open — unfold — use as a washcloth — made by Bonnie Bell — very compact — carry each day's needs in your purse — wonderful to freshen up when traveling by car — You will find these at BROWN DRUG.

My what sunburns we've seen this week! Terrible! Girls, remember an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure! We at Brown's can surely help you get out in the sun and enjoy it, but not be ill from it — With the Fourth of July next week, it will be a temptation to stay out too long at one time — BE CAREFUL!

Sorry, we did not have enough of the Lanvin Spanish Geranium $2.00 Soap special, but we have reordered, and it should be in by the weekend. If you care to call 482, we will be glad to hold some of these for you — makes wonderful gifts — looks pretty, smells good, and is a wonderful hand-milled soap — We are keeping a record of purchases this year, and by next year when the special is on we will notify you of it by mail, as we do on our other specials.

Yes, we have shower caps large enough to cover all of the large rollers when used in the hair — pretty and not expensive — a shower cap is almost a must on a trip, as you find so many motels equipped only with showers.

Do you carry First Aid Kits in your car, your boat, and keep one at home in a handy place? We carry the Johnson and Johnson Kits in all sizes at BROWNS — plus the refill supplies — Have you looked at yours recently to see that it contains all of the necessities? We will help you with a check list — Be sure you are carrying something for sunburn! With all of the picnics and summer outings, the chances for accidents seem to increase — BE PREPARED.

Have a good Fourth of July Holiday — remember BROWN DRUG for your summer needs and for the finest in Cosmetics.

Watch for this column every Wednesday.

Judith Kessler, Roger Fort Wed At St. Martin's

St. Martin's Lutheran Church was the scene June 16 for the marriage of Miss Judith M. Kessler, daughter of Mrs. Ray Smith, Lewiston, Minn., and Roger Allen Fort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fort Sr., Winona Rt. 1.

Japanese iris, mock orange blossoms and peonies decorated the church for the ceremony performed by the Rev. Armin Deye. Harold Kiese, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love" and the "Lord's Prayer." A. J. Kiebusch was organist.

MRS. SHELDON Drake, Mosinee, Wis., sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Carol Kessler, Lewiston, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Best man was Jon Fort, Winona Rt. 1, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsman was Robert Erickson, Winona, nephew of the bridegroom. Joseph Nienow, Winona, and Alden Cook, Evansdale, Iowa, ushered.

The bride chose a Chantilly lace and silk organza over taffeta gown fashioned with long-sleeved lace bodice and sabrina neckline embroidered with iridescent sequins. The bouffant skirt of silk organza extended into a chapel-length train. A wide insert of lace accented with fabric roses looped the skirt. A Danish queen crown of seed pearls and sequins held her bouffant veil and she carried lavender orchid with stephanotis on a white Bible.

The bridal attendants wore blue and white sleeveless dresses styled with scoop necklines and blue satin belts. Their blue headbands held tulle veils and they carried blue and white carnations.

A RECEPTION was held in the church hall. Following a one week trip to Northern Minnesota the couple is at home at 359 E. 5th St. For traveling the bride wore

Kujak-George Vows Exchanged At Arcadia

ARCADIA, Wis. — Blue and white chrysanthemums formed the background for the wedding of Miss Jo Ann Marie George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman George Sr., Arcadia, and Marcel A. Kujak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton M. Kujak, Arcadia. The double-ring ceremony was performed at the Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Arcadia, June 23, by the Rev. John P. Trant.

The children's choir sang, accompanied by Sister M. Alvin. They sang a hymn to the Blessed Virgin while the bride placed a bouquet of American beauty red roses at the altar of Our Lady.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of organza fashioned with a scalloped neckline of embroidered alencon lace and long sleeves. The lace trim was repeated in the center back of the skirt. Her bridal veil of silk illusion had a pearl detailed scalloped edge and was caught to a crystal crown. Her gift from the bridegroom was a set of crystal earrings. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty red roses.

Miss Mary Kay George, Arcadia, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Rose Marie Patner, Minneapolis, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Ronald Matchey, Independence, Wis., sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore blue nylon organza street dresses. Their scoop necklines and short cap sleeves highlighted by embroidery, accented their fitted bodices. A taffeta cummerbund with long streamers in back complimented bouffant skirts which were also fashioned with embroidery. They wore matching crystal crowns holding veils and crystal earrings and drop crystal necklaces, gifts of the bride. They carried bouquets of blue and white carnations. Cheyanne George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman George Jr., as flower girl and wore a long white dress of organza with a bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Richard J. Kujak, brother of the bridegroom, La Crosse, was best man. Ernest P. Rossa, cousin of the bridegroom, Arcadia, and Ronald Matchey brother-in-law of the bride, Arcadia, and Frank Klimek, cousin of the bridegroom, Arcadia, ushered. Anthony George, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

THE BRIDE'S mother wore a blue silk dress with white accessories. Her corsage was made up of white carnations with red rose buds. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose lace dress with white accessories. Her corsage was made of white carnations with pink rose buds.

A dinner was served at the Arcadia Country Club for the immediate families, followed by reception for 300 guests. The wedding cake centered the bridal table. Waitresses were Misses Rita and Ruth Rippley, Miss Rose Marie Hundt and Miss Theresa Neitzel, Mrs. Jim King, cousin of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Miss Joyce Micek, cousin of the bridegroom, poured. Mrs. Norman George Jr. was in charge of the guest book. Cooks were the Meses. Rose Kupietz, Al Slaby and Albert Klonecki. Music for dancing was provided by Charles Rippley.

For the wedding trip to the World's Fair and Canada the bride wore a beige suit with a red rose corsage. The bride is a graduate of Arcadia High school and the St. Francis School of Nursing, La Crosse, and had been a registered nurse at University Hospital, Madison, Wis. The bridegroom is a graduate of Arcadia High School and La Crosse State College. After completion of the bridegroom's current tour of duty with the 32nd Division at Fort Lewis, the couple will reside at Spring Green, Wis., where he will resume teaching at River Valley High School.

Former Winonan To Attend Cornell After Marriage.

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn. — Harvey J. Jensen, former Winonan, and Miss Susan Stone, Boston, Mass., were married June 16. He will attend Cornell College, Ithaca, N. Y., on a fellowship grant in English literature this fall.

The bride, a graduate of Colby College, Waterville, Maine, did graduate work at Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., and has been employed at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Jensen, was graduated from Winona Senior High School, studied at the University of Minnesota under the NROTC program and served for three and a half years in the Naval Air Force. Following his tour of duty he returned to the university where he completed work for his master's degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Jensen, Winona residents during the time Mr. Jensen was superintendent of schools, left here in 1957.

Lois Wiebke, Kenneth Erickson Exchange Vows

PROSPER, Minn. — Miss Lois Ann Wiebke, Prosper, and Kenneth Erickson, Rush City, Minn., were married June 16 in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Bruce Boyce at Mabel First Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wiebke, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Erickson.

The bridal gown, in silk organza and taffeta, had a long-sleeved bodice with scoop neckline trimmed in sequin and pearl embroidered Alencon lace. Lace appliques were scattered on a panel from the bodice to the hemline. A diamond-shaped panel on the chapel train was topped with fabric roses. Her bouffant veil of English illusion was caught by a princess crown of seed pearls and borealis crystals. She carried red happiness roses and Stephanotis.

MISS HAZEL SHIRVEN, Mabel, played traditional music and accompanied Karl Erickson, Rush City, who sang "Wedding Blessing" and "Before Thine Altar."

Maid of honor was Miss Mary Lou Wiebke, Prosper, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Miss Janice Gubbranson, Spring Grove, and Miss Joyce Bjornstad, Casson, Wis. They wore pink nylon organza and daron and cotton dresses styled with scoop neckline, short sleeves and a diamond-shaped panel topped with fabric roses as back trim. They wore picture hats of swiss braid and carried feathered carnations and pink roses.

The mother of the bride wore a navy shantung dress with white accessories and the mother of the bridegroom wore a light blue lace dress with matching hat. Their corsages were white feathered carnations and red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Erickson

KARLE ERICKSON, Rush City, was best man and Bronson and Blaine Erickson, Rush City, were groomsmen. All are brothers of the bridegroom. Earl Russet, Harmony, and Fred Grote Jr., Mabel, Minn., ushered.

Pink and white peonies decorated the church basement for the reception. Mrs. Leonard Hegdahl, Prosper, was hostess; Mrs. Martin Schroeder, Caledonia, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Casey Zehn, Prosper, poured; Miss Helen Larson, Spring Grove, served punch; Mrs. Lawrence Wagner, Caledonia, and Miss Arlene Hanlan, Rochester, Minn., cut the cake; Mrs. Earl Russet, Harmony, was in charge of the guest books. The bride chose a beige linen sheath with green and brown accessories for travel. She wore a corsage of pink feathered carnations and sweetheart roses. Following a two-week trip to the west the couple will be at home in West Concord, Minn.

The bride, a graduate of Canton High School and Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, teaches business and German in West Concord. The bridegroom is a graduate of Rush City High School and St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., and teaches mathematics and physics in West Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Erickson were hosts at the bridal dinner at the Skyline Supper Club, Spring Grove, Minn., following the rehearsal on Friday night.

Forecaster Sees A Wet Weekend

Normal temperatures for the rest of the week with scattered thunderstorms near the weekend is the prediction for Winona and vicinity.

The cool nights and comfortably warm days continued over the area Tuesday and today with temperatures rising to a pleasant 80 Tuesday afternoon and dropping to 54 during the night. The 7 a.m. reading today was 60 and by noon the thermometer was up to 83.

MOSTLY FAIR tonight with a low of 62-68 is the forecast. Thursday will be slightly warmer with a high of 84-92 and possibly a few widely scattered thunderstorms. Little or no rain and temperatures a little above normal is the outlook for Friday.

Saturday and Sunday may see up to an inch of rain in scattered thunderstorms in some sections of Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin.

Temperatures were similar to those of a year ago today when the high was 85 and the low 52. The alltime high for June 27 was 99 in 1933 and the low 46 in 1926. The mean for the past 24 hours was 69. Normal for this day is 72.

No rain appeared on the Northwest weather report today but temperatures rose as high as 85 at Redwood Falls. The low for the 24 hours was Duluth's 46.

Rochester posted a high of 82 and a low of 58. At La Crosse the figures were 80 and 60.

A normal stage in the Mississippi river at Winona (5.5) was forecast for Saturday. The stage was 5.9 today and falling.

Sunny and comparatively cool weather continued in most of Wisconsin today, but higher temperatures began pushing into the northwestern and western parts of the state.

The warm weather was expected to bring scattered thundershowers to the state by Thursday. Temperatures early today ranged from a low of 46 at Superior to 60 at La Crosse.

Red Wing Girl Dies in Crash Near Lake City

LAKE CITY, Minn.—An 18-year-old Red Wing, Minn., girl was injured fatally Tuesday afternoon when the car in which she was riding went out of control on a county road 2 1/2 miles west of here.

Connie Horst, one of three passengers in the car driven by Luke Nelson Jr., 20, also of Red Wing, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Lake City Hospital shortly after the accident at 3 p.m.

Her sister, Kathy, 15, was treated by a Lake City doctor for apparently minor injuries and released.

Nash and Lawrence Nelson, 21, Red Wing, escaped injury.

The accident occurred on the Goodhue-Wabasha County line road. The road has a gravel surface and the car, after skidding out of control, overturned in the ditch.

Miss Horst's death raised the 1962 Minnesota traffic toll to 252, 47 fewer than on the same date a year ago.

June Is Dairy Month

How Evaporated Milk Came About

The year was 1795, and on the battlefields of Europe the armies of Napoleon simultaneously fought, for the emperor and the greatest enemy of mankind: hunger.

With each military advance, the French legions removed themselves farther and farther from their sources of fresh food. The emperor, concerned for the health and morale of his men, offered a prize of 12,000 francs to anyone who could find a satisfactory method of preserving food.

THE NEED for money and the call to patriotism stirred Nicholas Appert, an obscure Paris confectioner, toiling in a tiny kitchen in the back of his shop, patiently cooking first one food and then another. Appert discovered that he could keep foods for long periods by cooking them, sealing them airtight and then cooking them again. After 15 years of experimenting he announced his results and on Jan. 30, 1810, was awarded the prize.

Although Appert's evaporated milk in no way resembled that of today, he had demonstrated that concentrated milk was practical.

IT REMAINED for a group of Swiss-born dairymen to bring about the perfection of the machinery and techniques for processing evaporated milk as we now know it. It was 1885 when, in a small plant near Highland, Ill., they completed their work and opened the way for a new and valuable addition to the dairy food family.

Modern evaporated milk is produced by pasteurizing whole milk, then concentrating it to half its original volume by evaporation of part of the natural water content. The concentrated milk is then homogenized, fortified with vitamin D, sealed in cans and sterilized by heat so that it keeps without refrigeration.

Versatile evaporated milk is a shelf-handly item, ideal for breads, sauces, molded salads, casseroles, soups, pie fillings, candies, custards and frozen desserts.

A pinata is a fragile earthen jar stuffed with sweets and toys. It is gaudily embellished and at Christmas time is suspended in a large room. Each guest is blindfolded, spun around and allowed a whack or two at the pinata with a stick. When the pinata is broken, everyone scrambles for the goodies.

WILSON FIRES NO-HITTER... Earl Wilson, Boston Red Sox pitcher, receives congratulations, after becoming the first Negro in history to pitch an American League no-hitter, from his opposing pitcher Bo Belinsky of Los Angeles after

NO-HIT BELINSKY LOSER

Ex-Catcher, Wilson, Throws 2-0 No-Hitter at Angels

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With thunderbolt swiftness matching the speed of his blazing fastball, Earl Wilson has zoomed to glittering stardom from the ranks of baseball's lesser known performers.

Tuesday night at Boston's Fenway Park, the Red Sox right-hander pitched the second no-hitter of the American League season—a 2-0 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels. Ironically, his defeated opponent was the year's other no-hit pitcher, future southpaw Bo Belinsky, who rocketed to fame with his masterpiece over Baltimore May 5.

Wilson, a strong-armed ex-catcher from Ponchatoula, La., allowed four men to reach base on walks and struck out five as he "just threw as hard as I could all the way."

He also gave himself all the support he needed with his second home run of the year.

Although his record in seven previous seasons as a professional has been far from sensational, Wilson has been highly regarded as a potential star by the Red Sox brass. Now the tall, 220-pound Negro has shed the "potential."

Pitching also sparked elsewhere in the league. Cleveland salvaged a one-game lead in the standings, beating Detroit 3-1 on a combined four-hitter by Bob Hartman and Gary Bell and Al Llop's 12th-inning homer after being blanked on six hits by Jim Bunning in the opener of the doubleheader, 6-0. Camilo Pascual struck out 12 and Rich Rollins did some heavy slugging as runnerup Minnesota trimmed New York 5-0. Milt Pappas of Baltimore fired a four-hit, 1-0 victory over Chicago. Kansas City rookie Dan Pflaster won his first in the big time, edging Washington 2-1 with a six-hit performance.

All told, just 21 runs in six games—and four shutouts.

Like Belinsky, Wilson was an unlikely candidate for pitching stardom at season's start. He had been unimpressive in two previous short stays with the Red Sox—in 1959 and 1960—and was no better than 9-14 with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League last year.

This season the strapping, 26-year-old Louisiana had failed to go the distance in nine starts, although he had done well enough to win five of seven decisions.

Los Angeles' only real threat of a hit came in the ninth when lead-off man Billy Moran lifted a pop fly to short left which Eddie Bresnahan snared with a running, one-shoulder catch. Two Angels managed to reach second base after walks.

Belinsky allowed just three hits in his seven innings but a three-cost him. Wilson slugged his homer in the third, then singled by Pete Runnels and Carroll Hardy after an error gave Boston its second run.

Hartman made his first appearance for Cleveland since being brought up from the minors and held Detroit to three hits—including a homer and single by Bubba Morton—through 10 innings, then Bell won it by allowing a harmless single over the last two. Sam Jones was the hard-luck loser, lasting until the 12th when he gave way to Ron Nischwitz after a single by Ty Cline. Llop's promptly broke the long-standing tie with his fourth hit of the game and fifth of the night—the two-run homer.

Bunning also had a duel with Pedro Ramos in the first game until the seventh, when Dick Mullen homered with one on for the second hit off the Indian right-hander. Rocky Colavito made a Tiger rout with a grand slam against Ramos in the eighth. Bunning struck out 10.

Baltimore won it in the last of the ninth against the White Sox and John Burdett when John Powell's single and two bunts loaded the bases and Charley Lau's 30-foot dribbler went for a hit. Pappas, now 8-3, pitched his fourth straight complete game.

Pflaster turned in a neat six-hitter and the lone Washington run was unearned. Manny Jimenez, the league's top batter at .346, drove in the A's deciding run with a third inning double off loser Tom Cheney.

Moffitt Upsets Aussies' Star

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Billie Jean Moffitt, 18, who dances the twist to keep her weight down, may not win the Wimbledon women's tennis championship—but she'll still have a place in the record books of the hallowed tournament.

Billie Jean—bespectacled and outspoken—pulled off the biggest shocker in the history of the women's division at Wimbledon Tuesday when she eliminated top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia in the first round, 1-6, 6-3, 7-5. It was the first time the top-seeded woman has been eliminated in the first round.

"Sometime," the 5-6 Billie admitted today, "my weight gets up to 135 pounds. Then I've got to do something about it. The twist is a pretty good way to keep it down."

Miss Smith practically blasted Billie Jean off the court in the first set, but the Long Beach, Calif., girl came back with an inspired spell which took her to a 5-0 lead in the second. After closing it out, she promptly ran into trouble.

Miss Smith raised her service power and won the first game of the final set at love. She raced to a 3-0 lead and then led 5-3 and 30-15 on her service.

It looked all over, but at this point with the Australian rushing the net, Billie Jean pulled out an incredible backhand winner which scorched the sidelines.

She took the game, held her service for 5-5 and then reeled off two more games for the great upset; while Miss Smith struggled hopelessly with her confidence shattered.

Miss Moffitt started playing tennis in the public parks at the age of 11. Since then, such greats as Alice Marble have had hand in her coaching. She is the only daughter of a California engineer. In the next round Billie Jean meets Carole Caldwell from Santa Monica, Calif., who she describes as "my best friend and the girl who did a great deal to help me beat Margaret Smith."

Miss Caldwell is the only other woman to defeat the Australian, Italian and French titleholder in the last 10 months.

Miss Caldwell defeated Florence de la Courtie of France, 4-6, 6-2, 8-6.

Darlene Hard and Karen Hanitz Sussman, the two American seeds, both stroled through their first-round matches.

Miss Hard (No. 2) defeated Ruth Illingworth of Britain 6-0, 6-2. Mrs. Sussman (No. 8) cruised into the second round with a 6-2, 6-1 win over Spain's Maria Estalella.

Braves Tip Dodgers 2-1 Behind Burdette

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves made it two straight over the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night as Lew Burdette pitched a live hit to gain his sixth straight victory, 2-1.

The skidding Dodgers dropped their fifth game in the last six starts, despite the fact that Sandy Koufax allowed only one earned run and struck out 13 men. Koufax, who was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth, sustained his second straight loss and now is 10-4 for the season.

Burdette, who hasn't lost since May 19, is 6-4. He held the Dodgers to three hits until the ninth inning when he got an infield single, a double and an infield out that gave them their only run.

The Braves scored their first run in the second inning. Del Crandall opened with a single. Bob Shaw, who leads the Braves' mound staff with a 5-3 record, will hurl for Milwaukee tonight, going against Don Drysdale who has a 12-4 record.

Los Angeles' only real threat of a hit came in the ninth when lead-off man Billy Moran lifted a pop fly to short left which Eddie Bresnahan snared with a running, one-shoulder catch. Two Angels managed to reach second base after walks.

Rich Smashes Two Home Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—Rolling Rich Rollins broke out of an eight-game batting slump with a vengeance and ace right-hander Camilo Pascual silenced New York's attack on nine scattered hits as the Minnesota Twins beat the Yankees 5-0 Tuesday night in Yankee Stadium.

Rollins pelted Yank starter Roll and Sheldon for a pair of two-run home runs in his first two trips to the plate in the first and third innings to stake Pascual to a 4-0 lead and the Twins coasted to within a game of league-leading Cleveland.

The Indians split a doubleheader with Detroit Tuesday.

Minnesota hoped another fine pitching performance this afternoon would keep them in the thick of the dogfight for the top rung. The Twins sent southpaw Jim Kaat (8-4), who has won seven straight, to the mound against the Yankees' Ralph Terry (8-7) in the second game of the three-game series here.

Rollins also had two singles in a 4-for-5 performance, scored twice and drove in four runs. The showing raised his average from .328 to .336 as he passed Boston's Pete Runnels (.335) and moved back into second place in the American League batting race. Kansas City's Manny Jimenez still leads at .346.

Both of Rollins' homers followed walks to Lenny Green. The other Twins run came in the fifth when Harmon Killebrew plated Green from third with a sacrifice fly. Green and Rollins had singled.

Pascual, running his record to 11-4, hurled his 11th complete game and his second shutout. He struck out 12, his personal high of the season, to run his league-leading whiff total to 102. He didn't walk a batter.

In the process, Pascual lowered his earned run average from 3.93 to 3.61.

He had home run king Roger Maris eating out of his hand. Maris hit into a doubleplay and struck out three times.

Sheldon (4-4) retired after pitching five innings and relievers Bob Turley, Luis Arroyo and Bud Daley kept the Twins from doing further damage.

The Twins lost a golden scoring bid in the seventh when they loaded the bases with none out and Earl Batley worked the count to three balls and no strikes. But Turley bore down to get Batley on pop and Bernie Allen then lined into an inning-ending doubleplay. Allen singled twice in other appearances at the plate.

The defeat was New York's 11th in its last 16 games and dropped the Yankees two full games behind the Twins.

Mickey Mantle didn't play center field because the grass made running on his vulnerable legs treacherous. Mantle pinch-hit in the last of the ninth and Pascual struck him out with the bases loaded.
