Backing Castro Demands, Mikoyan Says

U.S. Arms Going From Germany to Help India

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An American arms airlift got underway from Germany today to give India's hard-pressed Himalayan army better weapons to use against invaders from Red China.

The first of 10 U.S. Air Force C-130 jet transports lifted off the runway at the big Rhein-Main air base near Frankfurt and flew off into heavily overcast skies. It was due in Calcutta Saturday.

A round-the-clock airlift was planned, and relief crews were flown to Calcutta to take the big planes back to Germany for re-loading.

The airlift is bringing fast-firing light infantry weapons, including mountain artillery, sorely needed to counter the Communists' superior firepower.

U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith warned the Indians against expecting American arms alone to "work magic" against the Chinese invaders.

"The great task remains with the Indian army," he declared. "We are happy to help with equipment to stop aggression but equipment is only part of the problem."

Galbraith said no American military instructors were coming with the arms, which he described as "standard stuff." He also emphasized there were no plans for U.S. military personnel to go to the frontier.

The ambassador told newsmen the United States is considering supplying the emergency arms shipments on a long loan basis but said the terms have not been worked out.

He said American economic aid to India would not be affected by the arms airlift—including recently announced loans of $24.4 million for thermal power development.

The first arms shipments were assembled from American stocks in Europe. Besides artillery, the first planes were bringing communications and transportation equipment, the State Department said in Washington.

India's request for Western military aid marked a sharp departure from a long-standing policy of cash purchases, to maintain India's determined neutrality. Initial shipments of new British weapons have already arrived here. Terms under which the aid is being furnished are still being negotiated.

Heavier U.S. weapons are expected to be sent next.

Prime Minister Nehru called for calm in the face of the Chinese aggression and chided thousands of university students whose anti-Chinese demonstrations Thursday he called "the acts of a weak people."

"This is not the time for these manifestations," he declared, urging his countrymen "to keep your heads cool and not be carried away by anger or emotion."

Police estimated 10,000 people—most of them university men and women—marched through the streets of the capital all day Thursday, destroying signs marking Chinese business houses and shouting for expulsion of the Red Chinese forces on the border.

Police guarded all Chinese business houses and the headquarters of the Indian Communist party, which a mob looted on Wednesday.

Nehru said the demonstrations exceeded the limits of decency. "By these acts you are not strengthening the government's hands in defeating Chinese aggression but only weakening it," he said.

As the mobs demonstrated outside Communist party headquarters, the party council concluded two days of heated debate with a strong pro-Nehru resolution denouncing the Chinese Reds as aggressors and calling on all party members to support the government during the national emergency.

Photos Confirm Missile Bases Being Removed

NEW YORK (AP)—Anastas I. Mikoyan, first deputy Soviet premier, said today that Russia is backing proposals of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro in the attempt to settle the crisis over missile installations in Cuba.

In a statement, Mikoyan referred to "the proposals of Premier Fidel Castro which comprise five well-known points."

Mikoyan did not cite the points. However, Castro has demanded that the United States withdraw its naval blockade of Cuba, give up the naval base at Guantanamo and halt Cuban exile attacks against Cuba.

Bases Being Removed, New Photos Reveal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Preliminary analysis of photographs made Thursday shows clear indications that dismantling of missile bases in Cuba is proceeding, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today.

A Defense Department spokesman told newsmen that the pictures show that missile launcher erectors have been removed from the sites.

Much of the associated launch equipment has been removed, the spokesman said, and cable conduits between control points and launching pads have been broken up.

The concrete pads for the launch erectors appear to have been broken up with an air hammer.

Certain areas of the sites have been plowed and bulldozed, the spokesman said.

Aerial reconnaissance over the island was resumed Thursday after a two-day recess for the visit of U. Thant, acting Secretary-General of the United Nations, in efforts to arrange for U.N. inspection of the dismantling promised by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester read this statement by McNamara:

"The secretary of defense announced today that preliminary analyses of the aerial photographs collected by yesterday's reconnaissance mission provides clear indications that work is proceeding on dismantling of the missiles."

Asked whether a blockade is still in force to prevent more offensive weapons from being shipped into Cuba, a Pentagon spokesman said the Navy ships continue on station.

Authoritative sources disclosed Thursday night that high altitude U2 flights over Cuba have been halted and the watch is being kept through low level photographic missions.

These government sources said there has been no scaling down in the degree of aerial surveillance. The U2 missions over Cuba were scrubbed after one of the planes and its pilot were lost last week-end, according to informants.

Low flying reconnaissance planes—coming in swiftly below radar and exploiting surprise—are considered less vulnerable than the U2s which go into a slow glide when they are taking pictures.

Officials are virtually certain that the U2 piloted by Air Force Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., Greenville, S.C., was knocked down by a Soviet anti-aircraft rocket.

And they believe the rocket was launched by Soviet missilemen manning the 22 anti-aircraft rocket bases known to be operational in Cuba.

57 Cars, Trucks Smash Up on L.A. Freeway

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A stream of fast-moving traffic rushed down the Santa Ana Freeway into a bank of thick fog. There was a crash. Then another. Then another. Then dozens more. By the time all traffic had crashed to a halt, 57 cars and trucks had been smashed up, 16 persons hurt, one critically, and 28 miles of freeway paralyzed.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Flay Slowness In Recognizing Cuban Hazards

(Editor's Note: Here is the second article of the behind-the-scenes story of the Cuban crisis. Relman Morin, Associated Press special correspondent and twice a Pulitzer Prize winner, tells of the backstage happenings in Washington during the critical days. Today's story digs into the controversial question: Was President Kennedy slow to recognize the Soviet nuclear buildup in Cuba?)

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Controversy swirls today around the question: Was President Kennedy slow to recognize that the Soviets were molding Cuba into a powerful nuclear gun, aimed straight at the heart of the United States?

"Those missile bases were there a long, long time before the President spoke," says Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., referring to Kennedy's statement of Oct. 22, when he proclaimed the "quarantine" on offensive weapons to Cuba.

In mid-September, Scott said, the Republicans had "very hard information" about Soviet missile sites in Cuba. The same facts were available to the administration, he says.

Before that, on Sept. 8, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said he thought a blockade of Cuba to screen ships for incoming war material might be necessary.

This is what administration authorities say in reply:

"In late August, we began receiving reports from Cuban refugees and other sources of missile sites being built in Cuba. We think this is the same information Keating was getting."

"Every one of those reports were carefully checked."

"And in every case, they turned out to be reports of 'Samsites' or 'cruise sites.'"

"Samsite" is military shorthand for "surface-to-air missile site." In other words, a form of anti-aircraft. "Cruise site" is a type of coastal defense. Neither has the range to reach the United States. Technically, they could be considered in the category of defense weapons.

The Soviet government had repeatedly told Kennedy that defensive weapons were the only type being installed in Cuba. "He received a stream of assurances, publicly and in private to this effect," an authority says.

It was not until the week of Oct. 15, when reconnaissance spotted definite evidence of a rapid buildup that, figuratively, the alarm-bell rang, administration officers say.

In all versions of the story, officials stress the speed of the Soviet construction work—sometimes almost with grudging admiration. A man who participated in all the decision-making conferences says "only four or five days" elapsed between evidence of the first bulldozer scars and the rise of installations that sever a missile site. "They couldn't have been detected earlier," he says.

Kennedy said in his statement of Oct. 22, "Within the past week, unmistakable evidence has established the fact that a series of Continued on Page 8, Col. 6)

Dave Beck Wins Another Court Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Dave Beck, the former laundry truck driver who was a millionaire by the time he stepped out as head of the Teamsters Union, won another court fight Thursday night.

A federal court jury acquitted him of charges that he illegally borrowed $200,000 from trucking concerns. Acquitted also were the two trucking executives and three corporations charged with him as a result of the 1954 transaction.

But prison still awaits the 68-year-old former labor leader who preceded James R. Hoffa as boss of the vast Teamsters organization. Beck was temporarily released from a federal prison near Seattle to stand trial here.

The jury, seven men and five women, had tried to report itself deadlocked in considering the loan case. U.S. Dist. Judge Wilfred Feinberg sent them back into deliberation, and 45 minutes later the acquittals were announced.

A scattering of applause followed the announcement. Scores of Beck's relatives and friends had waited in the courtroom through the afternoon and early evening hours that the jury debated the case after a trial which began Oct. 1.

Acquitted with Beck were Roy Fruehauf of Birmingham, Mich., and the firm he formerly headed, Fruehauf Trailer Co. of Detroit; Burge Seymour of Washington, Conn., and the company he heads, Associated Transport, Inc., of New York; and the Brown Equipment and Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary of Associated Transport.

Castro Rejects Inspection Plan

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro Thursday night rejected outright foreign supervision of the dismantling of Soviet missile bases in Cuba and again called for the United States to give up its naval base at Guantanamo.

The Cuban prime minister said "strategic arms," presumably the missiles, were being removed by the Soviets from Cuba, "but the rest of the weapons stay in our country."

Castro addressed a radio-television audience as Anastas I. Mikoyan, the Soviet Union's first deputy premier, discussed the Cuban crisis with U.S. and U.N. officials in New York prior to flying here late today. His mission apparently was to try to remove the road-block Castro threw up after being excluded from U.S.-Soviet arrangements for removal of the missiles under U.N. supervision.

Castro acknowledged that "we have some motive for discontent with the Soviet Union. But he reminded his people of all the Soviets had done for them and asserted, "We are friends of the Soviet Union."

Castro said U. N. inspection on Cuban soil would be "one more attempt to humiliate our country" and would violate Cuban sovereignty.

Sources at U.N. headquarters felt that Castro either would soften his stand or would announce the Soviet Union had completed dismantling its bases and U.N. inspection therefore no longer was necessary.

Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said after his conferences Tuesday and Wednesday with Castro he had been informed the dismantling of the bases would be completed by today. U.S. aerial observation, resumed Thursday along with the naval blockade, was expected to shed light on the dismantling progress.

Castro, in a two-hour speech taken up largely by reading a transcript of his talks with Thant, revealed that the Soviet Union had proposed that the International

Troops With Fixed Bayonets Guard Meredith

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Normal sounds of campus life—rallying cries for a football team—returned to the University of Mississippi in the wake of a stern warning by Chancellor J. D. Williams against rowdiness.

More than 1,000 students gleefully yelled insults Thursday night, but this time they were not directed at James H. Meredith, the Air Force veteran who became the first Negro ever knowingly admitted to Ole Miss.

Instead, the students aimed their yells against Louisiana State University, the Ole Miss football rival Saturday night.

A short distance away Meredith, 29, remained in his two-room apartment in Baxter Hall where combat-ready military police guard all entrances with fixed bayonets.

"Swift and drastic disciplinary action, including expulsion was promised by the chancellor in two speeches Thursday to nearly all of the male students."

"The university could lose its accreditation if there are further breakdowns in student behavior," Williams said. "An institution can retain its accreditation only so long as it maintains on its campus a climate that is conducive to study and learning, an atmosphere favorable to intellectual pursuits."

"The threat," he said, "is not just to accreditation, but also to the very survival of the university."

"If there are any who cannot support the establishment of peaceful and orderly conditions, be advised that I am prepared to see you part company."

The talk drew ringing applause. The chancellor's talk came less than 24 hours after a raid by MP's on a dormitory Wednesday night. The search, under supervision of university officials, turned up a small cache of weapons. University officials said disciplinary action against eight to 10 students would be considered today by the Student Judicial Council.

Earlier this week, protests against Meredith reached their highest peak since the bloody rioting of Sept. 30 which left two dead and scores injured. Monday and Tuesday night a barrage of firecrackers—mostly the loud-sounding ones called cherry bombs—were hurled at Meredith's room.

During the height of Monday night's demonstrations, an MP fired his rifle and the bullet went through the third-floor window of a dormitory across from his post outside Meredith's hall.

An official Army statement said only that MPs were investigating "the firing into the air by one soldier," but the place where a bullet gouged into a wall of Mayes Hall was viewed by newsmen and students for three days. University maintenance crews put fresh plaster on the deep hole Thursday.

Russ Satellite Nations Put On Pressure

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Apathy among the Soviet satellite regimes in Eastern Europe apparently was a factor in Premier Khrushchev's agreement to ship his missiles home from Cuba.

Many diplomats think Poland's Communist government for example, straddled the fence as much as it dared during last week's crisis.

There wasn't even a "hands off Cuba" demonstration outside the American Embassy in Warsaw such as occurred before the embassies in Moscow, London, Copenhagen, Tokyo and Prague.

U.S. diplomatic notes about the arms quarantine were fired back by the Kremlin. Similar notes got only polite oral rebuttals here.

Many a Pole privately abhorred the idea that the Soviet Union might fight over Cuba. "If there is war over Cuba, I have two requests of America," a Polish writer told this reporter. "First, don't use nuclear weapons. Second, win it."

Despite the sustained propaganda buildup, Castro and his bearded cohorts are not regarded as comrades in arms by many East Europeans.

About one-third of Poland's trade is with the West, and the country exchanges mail with perhaps 8 million people of Polish stock in America and Western Europe. These are ties local Communist leaders cannot ignore when they consider a showdown over such a remote place as Cuba.

Barnett Will Not Interfere With School

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett says he has given written assurance to the Southern collegiate accrediting agency that he will not interfere with the State College Board.

Barnett confirmed Thursday that he gave that assurance in a letter to Dr. Henry King Stanford, president of the executive council of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The association had threatened withdrawal of accreditation of all state institutions during the state's desegregation crisis over admission of Negro James H. Meredith to the University of Mississippi.

Vault Completed For Georgia Bank

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A 73,500-cubic-foot underground record vault has been completed at La Grange for the Citizens & Southern National Bank.

The bank presidents, Mills B. Lane Jr., said Thursday the vault, known as Ft. Georgia, is designed to protect important records on business, government and individuals in case of a nuclear attack on Atlanta.

The vault's walls are 14 inches thick, the top is concrete, covered by a minimum of three feet of earth. It also is equipped with its own power and water supply, living quarters, air filtration system and humidity and temperature control.

La Grange is 60 air miles from Atlanta.

Wladislaw Gornulka is thought to have considerable influence with Khrushchev. Presumably he counseled caution on Cuba.

Many Polish officials have indicated they had no advance knowledge of Soviet missiles in Cuba. The secret buildup is now being interpreted in two ways.

Marie McDonald Files for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Marie McDonald filed a divorce cross-complaint Thursday against stockbroker Edward T. Callahan, accusing him of adultery. He filed for divorce Sept. 17 and said they lived together only two days after their wedding last Aug. 8.

Miss McDonald charged in her complaint that Callahan, 41, her fourth husband, borrowed $2,600 from her to finance their wedding in Las Vegas, Nev., and their honeymoon.

Surprised Widow Gets Check for $5,970

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—When Pelham F. Davenport Jr. died last May, the Negro porter at the State Highway Patrol Station in Chattanooga left little in the way of worldly goods to his wife, Minnie.

Recently, when a state trooper died, a notice went out to all patrol divisions. The notice was a reminder that the trooper was one of about 600 safety department employees who signed a voluntary pledge in 1954 to give $10 to the beneficiary of any employee who died.

That notice jogged memories. Chattanooga troopers recalled that Davenport, too, had made such a pledge.

Capt. P. D. Garland notified proper authorities and 597 employees paid into the fund.

A certified check for $5,970 was sent to Garland Thursday, and he delivered it to Davenport's surprised widow.

Heileman Buys Fox Head Brewery

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)—G. Heileman Brewing Co. of La Crosse paid $450,000—with $50,000 contingent on future sales—for the Fox-Head brewery property in Waukesha, the company disclosed Wednesday in protesting a Waukesha tax assessment.

The price was a closely guarded secret when the transaction was completed last June.

Waukesha city assessor James Brown assessed the real estate and buildings at $143,750 and the personal property at $152,700, indicating a market value of appraisal of $296,450.

NEW YORK (AP)—Norina del Pra and her 3-year-old daughter, Clorinda, boarded a plane for Italy Thursday night and a return trip to their 8,000 good neighbors in the town of Poggio Rusco. The town's residents raised the money to send the mother and child to this country so that Clorinda could undergo an eye operation. The child, who suffers from congenital glaucoma, was operated on by Dr. Vito Larocca at New York Eye and Ear Infirmary.

WHAT KELLER'S RE-ELECTION MEANS TO YOU

- Winona County will continue to have representation on 10 Major Senate Committees. (This is not humanly possible if a new man is sent to the State Capitol).
- The Seniority enjoyed by Senator Keller will be continued making it easier to get the legislation desired for the benefit of Winona County and the state of Minnesota.
- The highway bills authored by Senator Keller (of which Winona County has been an important recipient) will not be lost by default to other areas of the state.
- The people of Winona County will profit from future legislation which Senator Keller has championed but which is still on the "unfinished" business agenda.
- Highway safety legislation which Senator Keller continued to work for in every Senate session will not be relaxed and allow Minnesota to slip from the 3rd ranked state in the nation in highway safety.
- That State College funds will not be lost by Winona County to other areas because the seniority of Senator Keller has been lost in the State Capitol.

County FB Rejects Resolution on Oleo

LEWISTON, Minn.—A resolution opposing the sale of yellow-colored oleomargarine was not adopted by the Winona County Farm Bureau Association at its annual meeting here Tuesday evening.

It was the only one of 15 resolutions submitted that did not pass.

A local resolution, favoring an automatic flashing railroad crossing signal at Lewiston's east crossing, was adopted.

OTHER resolutions favored by the association on a state basis include:

- Tax reform in the state with a sales tax as a replacement for the personal property tax, however, only if the local governments receive a share as a replacement.

- The taconite industry should not be taxed more than other industries because the more industries in the state, the broader the tax base holding down farm property taxes.

- Driving training instruction in all high school curriculums with the financing of the instruction at a local level.

Amendment No. 2 should be defeated. A new amendment for a debt limit to be based on a percentage of the property valuation of the state was suggested.

- Local, state and federal government budgets should be balanced.
- Farmers should have protection against secondary boycotts, picketing and interference with delivery of perishable products.

River Season Ends No Later Than Dec. 5

Neareness of winter was emphasized for the Winona area today by a navigation notice from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at St. Paul that the Mississippi River lock at Hastings would be closed to traffic on Dec. 5 to permit repairs to the structure during the winter months.

Meanwhile, the federal Weather Bureau predicted considerable cloudiness tonight and Saturday with somewhat cooler weather to night and temperatures Saturday about the same as today.

A LOW OF 25-32 is forecast for tonight and a high of 40-45 for Saturday. Little change is seen in the outlook for Sunday.

The extended forecast, for the next five days indicates temperatures will be 4-10 degrees below seasonal normals with minor day-to-day changes. Normal daytime high will range from 45-51 and nighttime lows from 26-32.

Precipitation averaging .03 of an inch is forecast, in occasional rain or snow early next week.

In connection with the closing of the Hastings lock, shipping interests were asked to notify the Army Engineers by Nov. 15 of any ships that might require lockage after Nov. 20.

THE TEMPERATURE rose to 45 in Winona Thursday afternoon and dropped to 38 during the night. At noon today the reading was 44.

A year ago today the city had a high of 63 and a low of 30 with 26 of an inch of rain. All-time high for Nov. 2 was 75 in 1938 and the low for the day 11 in 1951. Mean for the past 24 hours here was 41. Normal for this day is 42.

Alexandria reported snow this morning and other Minnesota communities had drizzle and rain. Lowest temperature was Bemidji's 28. It was 31 at Duluth.

A combination of light rain mixed with snow gave WISCONSIN a typical dismal November day today.

Slightly colder weather also moved into the state.

Temperatures early today ranged from a low of 22 at Madison to 39 at Milwaukee and Racine. Lone Rock had 22, Park Falls and Beloit 30, Superior, Wausau and Eau Claire 31 and Green Bay and La Crosse 36.

A few sprinkles of rain were falling in the southeastern corner of the state and a few snow flurries were coming down in the extreme northern portion.

ALL OFFICIAL TEMPERATURE maximums Thursday were in the 40s, topped by Green Bay's 46.

Watertown, N. Y., set the national low mark of 21 degrees early today, compared with the high of 98 Thursday at Thermal, Calif.

Accident Disrupts Power Briefly

Street lights in the vicinity of East 5th and Chaffield streets were out of service briefly early today when a car involved in a two-car collision rebounded into a power pole and knocked down a wire.

Service was restored shortly after the accident by Northern States Power Co.

Police said cars driven by Clarence A. Chuchna, 21, 828 E. 3rd St., and Ralph Palubicki, 568 E. 5th St., collided at 1:42 a.m. at East 5th and Chaffield. Chuchna was driving north on Chaffield. The impact caused the Chuchna car to strike the pole which was not knocked over. The pole is on the northwest corner of the intersection.

There was $400 damage to both sides of the Chuchna car and $150 damage to the front end of the Palubicki car.

Municipal Judge Donald T. Barbeau and a Minneapolis attorney, William L. Phillips, said they would file by petition. Barbeau said he already had three times the 1,000 signatures required.

Opening Fails to Stop Road Row

HINCKLEY, Minn. (AP) — Ribbon-cutting ceremonies Thursday for a new stretch of Interstate Highway 35 failed to stem the outpouring of verbal exchanges over alleged construction irregularities in the road.

"It is regrettable that people wanting to win an election have injured the State of Minnesota," said Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen in officially opening the 13-mile route.

He referred to Karl Rolvaag, his DFL opponent in Tuesday's election, the prime mover of charges that certain materials used on the highway had failed to meet specifications. Rolvaag also said the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads would hold up payments for the road as a result.

James C. Marshall, highway commissioner who accompanied the governor at the dedication said Rolvaag's story of the fund withholding was "built out of thin air."

"I have been told by Washington that there is no reason thus far why the state should not be reimbursed for this project," said Marshall.

Using king-sized shears, Andersen snipped ribbons at Hinckley, Askov and Sandstone to the accompaniment of hand-clapping from area residents.

Echo of the applause hardly had subsided before Rolvaag resumed the attack by demanding that Andersen oust the highway commissioner.

"I believe it is time for the governor to swallow his pride and demand the immediate resignation of Gen. Marshall," Rolvaag said.

call on the governor to lay down his political ambitions for one day to remove this black page from the highway department.

Andersen, showing anger, also launched an attack on Rep. John Blatnik, D-Minn., to whose administrative aide a highway inspector was supposed to have first reported the construction irregularities. Blatnik had planned to attend the dedication but, when the charges appeared, withdrew.

"The reason why Congressman Blatnik is not here," Andersen told his audience, "is because he knows I would be shaking my finger right in his face and asking questions he doesn't want to answer."

The governor said he would ask Blatnik just who was present when the state inspector, Robert O'Donnell, made his charges of material deficiencies in a Duluth hotel room.

"We want to know who attended this irregular meeting, what went on in that hotel and who was there," the governor declared.

"For Blatnik to induce agents to come to Minnesota and to use his office and his staff for this kind of procedure at election time is despicable."

The highway department said O'Donnell would face suspension for having not reported to work for a three-day period. He was said to be under a doctor's care.

Andersen said the highway in question was a good one and had been built under careful supervision. Marshall agreed, saying the road "will be here long after those of us at this dedication are somewhere else."

With his face flushed and in a near-shouting voice, Gov. Andersen said:

"I deeply resent the cheap, dirty politicians who, to get a few votes, have besmirched Minnesota's name all over the country."

Answered Rolvaag:

"For the first time in history, the proud name of the highway department has been dragged into the spotlight by a scandal which grows with each passing day. Instead of trying to obstruct the investigation, the governor should offer the fullest cooperation in trying to get to the bottom of this mess."

In Duluth, Blatnik's Republican opponent, Jerry Kotela, Virginia, Thursday charged the congressman with "playing tricks with the truth."

Kotela said an affidavit from J. T. Pawlak, assistant highway department engineer for the Hinckley district, says O'Donnell was pressured "over and over again to come up with something wrong."

Kotela called on Blatnik's administrative aide, Lud Andolsek, to say whether or not he pressured O'Donnell.

O'Donnell, 33, of Knife River, Minn., meanwhile told a newsman, "I wish it hadn't happened exactly the way it did. I thought it would be a quiet thing. I didn't mean to get involved in politics."

He said he wasn't sorry the Highway 35 matter became known. "I didn't do myself any good," the inspector said. "I know I didn't, but I felt I had a responsibility. What am I doing out there as an inspector, if I'm supposed to overlook violations and throw the specifications out the window?"

O'Donnell said that on Sept. 19, while working as an inspector at a blacktop plant near Hinckley, he noticed failures in the grade of blacktop he was testing. He said he informed his superior but the falling material went into the highway.

About a week later, O'Donnell recalled, he was at a relative's home in Mound and complained about the incident. Among those there who heard the story was his brother, Michael, a member of the Rolvaag campaign staff.

Another week later, the inspector said, his brother asked him to tell the story to someone else and Robert agreed. Michael then arranged for his brother to come to Minneapolis and talk to Syd Berde, a research man on Rolvaag's

Case Settled In Houston Court

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — Settlement of the case brought by Horton Fraenkron against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Amelia Wolff, La Crescent, Houston County and the state of Minnesota was settled in District Court here Thursday, Judge Arnold W. Hatfield presiding.

Fraenkron charged that Mrs. Wolff had agreed to leave him her home for care she received, and that instead Mrs. Wolff had assigned her residence to county and state welfare departments.

An agreement between the welfare department and Fraenkron was reached in which Fraenkron will receive the residence. A sum to be determined by a formula agreed upon by the parties will be entered in judgment against Fraenkron representing the welfare department's interest in the property.

L. L. Roerkohl, Caledonia, county attorney, represented the county and state. Fraenkron was represented by C. Stanley McMahon, Winona, and Thomas Flynn, Houston.

The regular term of District Court will resume Nov. 13.

New Directory Lists 15,127 County Adults

Weighing three pounds and containing 15,127 names, the 1962 edition of the Winona city and county directory is now being distributed by the publishers, R. L. Polk & Co., St. Paul.

Arranged alphabetically from Aakre to Zywicki, are the names, addresses, phone numbers, occupations and marital status of 12,562 city residents, of age 18 or over. Also listed are 2,565 adult inhabitants of Winona County's rural areas and its 12 villages.

THE NUMBER of business classifications is 523 and extends from abstractors to yeast manufacturers and embraces such categories, auctioneers, masseurs, premium stores and a rare one headed "Flower Mills."

Seekers after public office would do well to corral the votes of the city's Johnsons (99), Andersons (72) and Millers (65), the three most numerous surnames listed. Smiths are a close fourth with 64, the Browns number 59, Nelsons 56 and the Schultzes appear 44 times. Variations of the names would add a few in each of these groups.

Also to be found are such pairs of names as: Cain and Abel, Baker and Cook, Betts and Gambles, Cummings and Wendt, Day and Knight, Fischer and Hunter, High and Lowe, Reed and Wright, and Robb and Steele.

FARM LISTINGS seem to be declining. This year's directory has 111 pages of names compared with 120 pages in the 1961 edition.

Six major departments are represented in the directory: A buyers' guide with alphabetical business listings, a list of Winona residents, a directory by street numbers of city households, a numerical list of city telephone numbers, a directory of Winona County villages, and a list of farmers in the county.

DEler Charges Highway Fraud Near Rochester

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Democratic - Farmer - Labor candidate for state treasurer Thursday said there had been gross negligence in construction of a highway south of Rochester, between the southern end of the new four-lane section of Highway 63 and the outskirts of Stewartville.

Clyde Olson said a former employee of the Minnesota Highway Department revealed to him "deliberate violations of procedures and specifications" on the job.

In St. Paul today, Highway Commissioner James Marshall said the road in question was a section of Highway 63 used as a detour during construction of Interstate 90. The route was subject to extremely heavy traffic and the first paving didn't stand up, Marshall said. He said a seal coat was put on and the road then handled the load satisfactorily.

Olson's informant, the commissioner said, was a college youth serving as a summer Highway Department employee. Marshall said the young man probably didn't understand the nature of the project.

"Within a few hours after the road was open, the bituminous surfacing started to deteriorate," Olson said. "And within 10 days the material had deteriorated to the point that it no longer served as a useful wearing course."

Olson added, in a press statement, it cost between $10,000 and $15,000 to resurface the highway in August.

Olson said his unidentified informant, now a college senior in St. Paul, alleged gravel too coarse and too fine was used, that a supervisor gave orders to disregard samples and to destroy an inspection report, that a considerable amount of clay was found in almost every sample, and that gravel samples sent to the state Highway Department were taken from pre-inspected material and not selected at random.

Rotarians Hear District Governor

"This year we are urged by Nilish C. Laharry, Calcutta, India, international president, to develop to the fullest our personal capacities for world fellowship and for personal service."

Utica May Elect School Board After Nov. 15

UTICA, Minn.—It appears today that Utica school district will have a school board election after Nov. 15, the date on which the district may not have a board at all.

Alvin Schneider, clerk, said this morning that he and Kenneth Babcock, the two remaining members on the board, may delay appointment of a new board member to succeed David Christie, chairman, who resigned Tuesday effective Thursday.

JESSE JESTUS, Winona County superintendent of schools, says they have a "seasonable" time in which to make an appointment, and the two weeks until Nov. 15 would be considered a "reasonable" time.

Schneider and Babcock submitted their resignations Oct. 23, effective Nov. 15.

Schneider said he and Babcock didn't know about the petition circulated in the district asking the commissioners to delay action on their vote to dissolve and attach to Lewiston until after the advisory vote Tuesday. Chairman Christie had signed the petition. Schneider said he and Babcock resigned because they felt the petition, circulated without their knowledge, expressed lack of confidence in the board, hence their resignations.

A school board election may be called by petition of five resident freeholders or by the county superintendent. It could be held by Nov. 25 or soon thereafter, an election requiring 10 days' notice.

CONTROVERSY over a proposed central high school for St. Charles and Lewiston independent districts triggered the indecision in the Utica district even after its original vote to dissolve and join Lewiston. Testimony at the County Board hearing brought this out, resulting in a vote by mail and subsequent refusal by the board to dissolve the district.

The advisory ballot Tuesday, asking for placing the proposed central high school at Utica, was voted down 890-643 in official voting in the two districts and 1,261-973 in total votes cast, including voting in the unattached common school districts.

Car Hits Bicycle; Boy Breaks Nose

Donald Schmanski, 10, Glen Mary, was in good condition at Community Memorial Hospital today where he is undergoing treatment for a fractured nose suffered when his bicycle was struck by a car Thursday.

Police said the car was driven by William J. Doerger, 22, 219 E. Wabasha St. The accident occurred at West 5th and Winona streets at 5:05 p.m. The car was going east on 5th and the boy was bicycling south on Winona. He was taken to the hospital by ambulance. No charges were filed.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Schmanski.

Only One New TB Reactor

Only one new child of 1,959 rural pupils participating in this year's Mantoux testing program in Winona County showed a positive reaction to the tuberculosis test, a record low percentage for positive reactions.

This was announced by Miss Susan Steiner, county public health nurse.

PARTICIPATING pupils in public and parochial schools outside Winona city represented 82 percent of the 2,386 pupils to whom the test was offered. The program, which is virtually completed, the U.S. Navy stood guard over the shipping lanes into Communist Cuba.

If there have been any ship intercepts since the arms blockade was clamped on again Thursday, they have not been announced.

The Defense Department said late Thursday that a reconnaissance mission had been conducted over Cuba earlier in the day and that "the planes returned without incident." There was no elaboration.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense, said no analysis of the pictures was expected before today—but he did not promise to disclose what the analysis may show about any progress in dismantling bases for deep-striking Soviet missiles.

The Pentagon has yet to disclose the results of reconnaissance photos taken last Monday, before the two-day suspension in the blockade and aerial surveillance operations.

Informants said all reconnaissance was conducted at high altitude, presumably by U2s, before Oct. 14—the date the government says it received the first firm photographic evidence that the Soviets were emplacing 1,200-mile-range mobile missiles and 2,500-mile intermediate range missiles in Cuba.

After that date, with reconnaissance intensified on President Kennedy's orders, both high altitude and low level surveillance missions were flown.

If, as is now believed, Andersen's U2 was shot down by a Soviet missile, this could indicate that U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers also was bagged by an anti-aircraft rocket.

The cause of Powers' mishap over Soviet territory in May 1960 has never been listed officially.

U2s operate at about 70,000 feet and the Soviets are known to have at least two anti-aircraft missiles that can reach that altitude. Both travel at better than 1,200 miles an hour.

About 32 reconnaissance photographs made public by the Pentagon are dated Aug. 29, Sept. 5—and then jump to Oct. 14 and later.

This tends to support reports that the United States may have gathered few, if any, clear photographs of Cuba between Sept. 5 and Oct. 14—a span of more than five weeks.

It is possible the Defense Department has good pictures which were taken during that period, but is not releasing them.

Unconfirmed reports have attributed an alleged lack of clear reconnaissance photos during that span in part to weather conditions.

In other developments: Officials still have not given a clear answer to the significant question of what is to happen to more than 20 Soviet jet bombers known to have been sent into Cuba.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara authorized the Air Force to freeze enlistments and appointments of 14,214 reservists in troop carrier squadrons called to duty at the climax of the Cuban crisis last weekend.

It Happened Last Night Show Customers To Get Stamps

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Stamp, Stamp, Stamp, the Girls Are Pasting..." A big Broadway producer, not to be confused with David Merrick, says quite seriously that he's going to give trading stamps with his next show. What stamps to use? "King Korn"? Hardly. That might suggest a corny show.

Suspecting this may spread to every business, I asked my barber for stamps with my haircut. Not only did he refuse, he very wetly insulted me. And out there in Detroit with the Fords and the other millionaire auto builders... what about trading stamps? What an argument to buy a new Cadillac! You buy only two more Cadillacs and you get yourself a free toaster.

Jackie Kennedy's influence is clearly seen in smart spots where now so many women wear sheaths (straight up and down instead of full skirts). As Mrs. Beldon Kauffman says, "Women who don't dress that way look very unshaded." John Daly's lovely wife Virginia Warren is mother of a 6-11, 11-oz. red-haired son (after a Caesarian) at Harkness Pavilion. Her mother, wife of the Chief Justice, as well as the ecstatic father John, were with her. Asked what the son'll be named, Daly exclaimed, "I don't know—I haven't talked to the boss yet."

WHAT A ROW that is between Darryl Zanuck and Joe Manckiewicz, director of "Cleopatra"! He says he can't get DZ on the phone—DZ says he has three secretaries, even works weekends, and has never had any call from Joe since their bustup... Manckiewicz phoned Liz in Europe to deny he ever said SHE caused the huge overcost.

Republicans Will Hold Senate In Wisconsin

By FRANK CREPEAU

Associated Press Staff Writer MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Republicans will maintain their long-standing control of the State Senate in Tuesday's general election.

By all odds, balloting in 19 senatorial districts will determine only whether the 20-13 GOP majority of the last two years will be strengthened or weakened.

Republicans are hoping voters will provide them a 23-10 majority and Democrats will have achieved a token victory if the GOP edge in the Senate is sliced to 18-15.

There are 14 holdover senators ready to begin the second half of four-year terms in the 33-member house. A dozen of them are Republicans and only two are Democrats.

Of the 19 Senate contests, eight of the seats now are held by Republicans and 11 by Democrats.

Six of the eight Republican seats at issue Tuesday are held by veteran senators who appear to have solid standing with their constituents.

Sen. Jesse Miller of Richland Center, at 76 the oldest man in the Senate, is a candidate for a seventh term. Sen. Earl Leverich of Sparta is 71 and has won reelection since 1942.

Sen. Frank Panter of Brownsville, is seeking a sixth term at 71, and Sen. Peter Carr of Janesville is running for his third term in the 15th District. He is 73.

The others are Sen. Chester Dempsey of Hartland, seeking a fifth consecutive term, and Sen. William Draheim of Neenah, bidding for a fourth term.

If the GOP wins only those six contests a Senate majority of 18-15 is assured.

If the GOP wins only those six contests a Senate majority of 18-15 is assured.

Voice of the Outdoors

Weekend Prospect

If Jimmy Robinson is right in his report on waterfowl migration and a storm out of the north does not come in the next couple of days, Upper Mississippi River duck hunters are going to be cut off from the big flight of the season by the early closing of the season. The last day for Minnesota and Wisconsin duck hunters is Nov. 6.

Here is Jimmy's letter from Portage La Prairie, Manitoba dated Oct. 31, setting forth his observations and those of the game directors of the areas from which flyway waterfowl come.

"Last fall we reported the earliest migration in years, due to extreme cold weather and snow. This year the Canadian provinces have enjoyed mild weather, and the migration is late. More than 50 percent of the ducks are still here. Jack Barry, RCMP wildlife officer, reported 400,000 ducks in his survey of Lake Winnipegosis last week.

"Our first freeze here came Thursday with 20-above weather. The bluebirds came into Lake Frances and the Delta marshes Thursday, the latest since 1955. There are still a lot of ducks around. The Pas in northern Manitoba, but some have been pulling out day by day. Blue-winged teal and baldpates have enjoyed an exceptional hatch in Manitoba—gadwall and mallards have been good. Redheads and canvasbacks are up from last year.

"Angus Gavin, manager of Ducks Unlimited, estimated 440,000 canvasbacks and 100,000 redheads on Lake Winnipegosis last week. Their 1961 estimate on both species was 80,000. There has been very little hunting pressure in Canada this fall, due to small bag limits and bluebird weather. The water table in Manitoba, 21 inches of rain this summer, is much higher than last year and any snow will give us a good run-off next year.

"Ernie Paynter, game director of Manitoba, reports mild weather and a late season. He told me they were having good duck and goose shooting in the Quill Lake and Last Mountain Lake area and good goose shooting in the Kerrobert region, but the birds will work south gradually."

Reports of rangers showed that the weekend of Oct. 27 was the best duck period so far on the Upper Mississippi River Wild Life and Fish Refuge. The population of puddlers was up over the entire 300 miles, but the drift southward has been noticeable this week.

Divers are still down, and probably will ride in on the wind of a storm from the north. The weather map shows that such a storm is a possibility before sunset next Tuesday. Otherwise, the ducks will find a haven where they can linger on the refuge.

The goose season still continues another month or into December. More hunters are getting Geese. Within the past week we have had a dozen reports of a goose being harvested. Gary Bartsch, Houston, Minn., Route 2, got two Canadian Honkers from a Root River pot-hole the other morning. They weighed eight and one-half pounds and ten-pounds.

The pheasant season is still on in the two states. Minnesota's season runs through Nov. 25 and Wisconsin closes Nov. 13. Minnesota limit is now three and six, while Wisconsin has a two and four limit.

A lot of progress has been made during the past week in corn harvesting. It will be easier getting around and the birds may be easier to flush. Some Winona hunting parties left today for Nebraska.

Halloween Candy Explodes in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The "candy" exploded. Three-year-old Meredith Miles of Detroit reached into her Halloween bag and took out an inch-long, yellow "treat" Thursday, police said. She bit into what was apparently a firecracker-like explosive called a "torpedo." The "candy" burned the inside of Meredith's mouth and chipped a tooth. Police began check of the neighborhood where the girl had gone begging to see if other youngsters might have been given similar Halloween treats.

Aerial Bombs Found in Beloit

BELOIT, Wis. (AP)—Four pre-World War II aerial bombs found in Beloit were duds, Capt. Fred Puckett of the Ft. Sheridan, Ill., disposal unit said Thursday night. "The bombs had been inert," Puckett said. "They were inactive and would not have exploded." An earlier report said two of the bombs, found Tuesday by workmen razing a building, had to be deactivated.

Capt. Puckett said the three British and one American bombs had been painted and apparently had been used for display purposes some time ago.

Kennedys to Have New Ranch House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy are building a ranch-style house on Rattlesnake Mountain in the Virginia hunt country.

There's a splendid view of the Blue Ridge range from their 39-acre site 40 miles west of Washington—midway between Middleburg and Upperville.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the one-story masonry and stucco house will have seven bedrooms (two of them for servants), 5½ baths, living room, dining room and kitchen. He said it is expected to cost around $45,000.

The zoning permit filed in Virginia's Fauquier County estimated the cost for a house and stable at $50,000. Usually such estimates come to about one-third or one-half the actual cost, local people say. Salinger would not comment on reports that revenue stamps involved in the land purchase indicate the Kennedys paid $25,000 for the site.

And Salinger said he didn't know anything about a stable, which it was presumed might be needed for Mrs. Kennedy's thoroughbred horse, and for Caroline Kennedy's ponies.

The whole deal for purchase of the site amid a 1,000-acre cattle breeding farm in the heart of the hunt country was kept a close secret and the sale was made in the name of the Kennedy's Midleburg neighbor and friend, Paul Fout.

Only two days ago, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, Pamela Turnure, was saying the recurring rumors about the new house were "absolutely untrue."

The scenic mountaintop tract was bought from Hubert B. Phipps of Marshall, Va., publisher of the Fauquier Democrat newspaper and the Loudoun Times. He raises beef cattle on his big farm surrounding the Kennedys place. He said he was delighted to have the Kennedys as neighbors and added that Mrs. Kennedy first looked over the property last June.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Students Need Faith for Grades

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

One of the sorriest tragedies for any parent or teacher is the sight of a student losing belief in his own ability.

Far more often than not such a belief has no real basis of fact. But even if founded on insufficient or incorrect evidence, it can still do a world of harm unless steps are taken promptly. Such a case was presented to me in the following letter:

Dear Dr. Nason:

My nephew is 21 years old. After graduating from high school he made two tries at junior colleges, dropping out each time due to lack of success. He now has a menial job and appears to have lost interest in bettering himself. What can you suggest?
H. E., Long Beach, Calif.

Answer:

At this point your nephew undoubtedly considers himself too stupid to learn. This, of course, is not the true picture. He needs to renew his faith in his own ability.

I have known young men in similar situations who have gained confidence by starting over with a very elementary course in a subject like math. In some cases it has taken as long as one or two years. But eventually, they were not only successful in the one course but successful in re-establishing their own ego.

Dear Dr. Nason:

I have a child entering high school who reads well and enjoys it, but cannot spell worth a dime. In a test she does all right, but don't ask her the same words a few weeks later. I have had this same problem all my life and so am at a loss to know how to help her. (Signed) "Two peas in a pod"

Answer:

When spelling words are learned for the sole purpose of passing a test this knowledge does not become a part of one's permanent working knowledge.

Have your daughter practice writing sentences including those words which she intends to remember. She should correct written exercises and letters for spelling, then if necessary, rewrite them.

Dear Dr. Nason:

I have thoroughly enjoyed your articles. Now I would be very grateful if you could answer an important question. How can I learn to want to study?

C. P., Salt Lake City

Answer:

Setting aside a time and place for study is not enough. Students who plan how they are going to study each course and have in mind what they are going to do at the start of a study period are more likely to actually study than those who wait until the study hour to make these decisions.

You may have to consciously make such plans for every study period for quite a long time.

Castro Increases Ransom Price for Prisoners He Holds

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro has increased the price for release of the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners and imposed certain new conditions, the Miami News said Thursday.

Retail value of medicines, drugs, medical supplies and other goods demanded is estimated by Castro at $100 million, the News said.

James Donovan, the New York attorney negotiating for release of the prisoners, said earlier Castro had demanded $52 million worth of drugs, medical supplies and baby foods.

Hal Hendrix, News Latin-American editor, said Castro had sent the following conditions to Donovan for release of the prisoners:

1. One year's supply of blood plasma.
2. Detention of Capt. Manuel Artime Buesa, commander of the invasion brigade.
3. A pledge that the United States will not participate in any repetition of the Bay of Pigs landing.

PAID ADVERTISEMENT — Prepared by Winona County Volunteer Committee for Amendment No. 2, W. E. Morse, Sec'y., 1573 W. King St., and inserted at regular general advertising rate.

By The Hon. Elmer L. Andersen, Governor of Minnesota

"The importance of Amendment No. 2 is underscored by this dramatic fact: Not a single building can be improved or constructed at a Minnesota institution if this measure is not approved.

"Amendment No. 2 is a sound, necessary step when viewed from every aspect. By providing for legal financing of state buildings through a 60% favorable vote in both houses of the Legislature it guarantees adequate protection as to spending levels established.

"Minnesotans cannot afford to ignore Amendment No. 2 on the ballot. Failure to vote on the amendment is an automatic vote against it. Leaving the ballot blank is the same as voting 'No' and going on record as opposing any improvements in state buildings.

"I urge all Minnesotans to support Amendment No. 2 as a measure of vital importance to our state."

By Mrs. Charles Hymes, Co-Chairman
Minnesota Citizens Committee for Amendment No. 2

"A slogan for our State has been that Minnesota's best resource is its people. Much of the credit for our outstanding citizens in civic life, the professions, government, business, industry, and labor must be given to our excellent Minnesota institutions of higher learning.

"The University of Minnesota and the state colleges have made it possible for higher education to be readily available to all, regardless of their economic status. The steadily increasing enrollment in our institutions of higher learning is testimony to Minnesota citizens' recognition that to meet the crises of the space age new knowledge must be acquired, more education is essential.

"In order to meet these important demands we must pass Amendment No. 2. For, unless this amendment to Minnesota's State Constitution is passed, not a brick, nor stick, nor stone can be added to any state educational institution for expansion, remodeling, or rehabilitation of building."

By Charles W. Mayo, M.D., Chairman
Minnesota Citizens' Committee for Amendment No. 2

"There is nothing more important to the citizens of Minnesota than that they be informed about Amendment No. 2, and the dependence of the progress of the state upon its passage. It must have the support of all. It is bipartisan in character and above other than minor controversy. The limitation of state debt to conditions which prevailed 100 years ago is ridiculous.

"To set another ceiling at this time which would limit those who follow us is equally wrong. I have faith in the majority rulings of our Legislature and its committees, as representing the best interest of our people in keeping spending within just and equitable limits.

"As a doctor, I would not accept a patient whose care was limited by the cash he could lay on the barrel head. Just as with a patient there is no cash limitation as concerns his welfare, so it is with the health of our state, where commitments and plans cannot wait until the year 1965. You can be proud to support Amendment No. 2."

WHY AMENDMENT NO. 2 IS SO WIDELY SUPPORTED!

Minnesota's building program at state institutions came to a complete halt through a Supreme Court decision on April 1, 1960. The reason for this restrictive decision goes back to 1857 when our State Constitution was written. Its authors included a provision which says the State cannot borrow more than $250,000 for all State building purposes.

Since then, of course, our State has borrowed money for important building needs, in amounts far beyond this unrealistic limit set over 100 years ago. Our legislators simply found methods of evading the restriction.

But now Minnesota is in trouble. Our State Supreme Court has challenged these borrowing methods which were used to evade the constitutional debt provision. In its most recent decision on the subject the Court has said it could never again approve this evasion of the Constitution. This ruling now has halted all State borrowing for needed programs.

Building programs in progress at any state institutions at the present time are left over odds and ends from authorizations approved in 1957 and 1959. The 1961 Legislature authorized a building program, designed to meet minimum immediate needs, at a figure of $33,400,000. But the State can't finance a dime of that. The authorization is worthless unless approval is given by the voters to Amendment No. 2, at the November 6th election.

Unless this amendment is passed, all State building programs will stop... including educational institutions, State hospitals for the mentally ill, State prison institutions, facilities of youthful offenders, and State Park system. The needs in all these areas are great. Take education for example. By 1970 enrollments in our State University and colleges are expected to almost double. Without steady growth and expansion of these institutions, there could be no room for many of our Minnesota children to attend their own State colleges and university.

The only way these vital State building needs can be met is by passage of Amendment No. 2. Failure to pass it this November means that we cannot even consider the question again until the next General Election in the fall of 1964, because our Constitution prohibits voting on amendments at any earlier time. This means that important building programs would be held up until at least 1965 — a delay far too great to catch up with even the current needs, not to mention the pressing needs of the near future.

Built-in safeguards and benefits. Instead of substituting a new and rigid limit on the State's right to borrow, Amendment No. 2 provides this: The state could incur debt only with the approval of three-fifths (60%) of the members of each house in the State Legislature. When the Legislature incurred debt in the past, it did so by a simple majority vote.

And, since Amendment No. 2 would make our State's right to borrow clearly constitutional, our credit rating would improve and we would enjoy lower interest costs. Our interest costs would be less, too, because we could sell our State bonds on the open market. In the past we've had to borrow from our State trust and retirement funds — an expensive procedure, because the State loses the benefit which it otherwise obtains from its ability to sell tax exempt bonds.

Support of Amendment No. 2 is widespread. Amendment No. 2 has the backing of both major political parties. Leading citizens throughout the State endorse it. So do scores of organizations representing a wide range of occupational, professional, civic, and educational activities.

But your "yes" vote is needed, too. This is because the passage of any amendment requires a majority of all votes cast in the election, not just a majority of votes cast on the amendment. If you fail to vote on Amendment No. 2, you are actually voting against it.

How Senators Voted On Key Issues of 1962

THE LONG 1962 session of Congress produced at least 11 key votes on which stands of Senators were clearly delineated on important issues. In all, the Senate had 224 roll-call votes in 1962.

The Key Votes are listed chronologically below, along with the votes cast by Sens. Humphrey and McCarthy of Minnesota and Proxmire and Wiley of Wisconsin.

1. Supporters of the President's effort to set up an Urban Affairs and Housing Department at Cabinet level were repulsed when the Senate Feb. 20 refused, 42-58, to discharge from committee the resolution to consider the reorganization. Vote to consider the plan:

Sens. Humphrey, McCarthy and Proxmire yes; Wiley no.

2. Efforts to invoke cloture and limit debate on an Administration civil rights bill to require that anyone with sixth-grade education must be passed in a literacy test for voting in federal elections did not even get majority support, much less the required two-thirds majority, failing on the second try, May 14, 42-52. Vote on limiting debate, which would have facilitated passage of this civil rights bill:

Sens. Humphrey, McCarthy and Proxmire yes; Wiley no.

3. The Administration May 24 gained a victory, later reversed by House action, when the Senate adopted an amendment to put into the farm bill a permanent supply management program for feed grains, 46-37.

Sens. Humphrey and McCarthy yes; Proxmire no; Wiley paired against.

4. Another Administration request won the day in the Senate, only to be reversed later, when an amendment to provide the President with standby public works authority was accepted 37-36 on May 28.

Sens. Humphrey, McCarthy yes; Proxmire, Wiley no.

5. Taken by surprise by a Lausche (D Ohio) Amendment, the Administration suffered a setback when the Senate June 6 agreed, 57-24, to bar all foreign aid, including farm surpluses under PL 480, to any Communist- or Marxist-dominated country.

Sen. Humphrey voted present; McCarthy no; Proxmire, Wiley yes.

6. This action was modified the next day when the Senate June 7 agreed, 56-34, that the President could, under certain circumstances, sell or give surplus food under PL 480 to Communist countries such as Yugoslavia and Poland.

Sens. Humphrey, McCarthy, Wiley yes; Proxmire no.

7. The Senate July 1 killed, 52-48, an amendment to the welfare revision bill that would have provided medical care to the aged under Social Security. Vote to kill medicare:

Sens. Humphrey, McCarthy, Proxmire no; Wiley yes.

8. With two-thirds majority needed, the Senate for the first time since 1927 invoked cloture, 63-27, and stopped a filibuster of liberal Senators on the Communications Satellite Bill. The liberals, usually on the other side of the cloture issue, claimed the bill was a "give-away" to special interests. On the Aug. 14 cloture vote:

Sens. Humphrey, McCarthy, Proxmire, Wiley yes.

9. The President lost an important part of his tax revision program when the Senate Aug. 29 adopted an amendment, 66-20, to delete from the tax bill a provision to withhold 20 percent of dividends and most forms of interest at their source and substitute a provision to require corporations and financial institutions to report such payments in excess of $10 per person per year.

Sen. Humphrey paired against; McCarthy yes; Proxmire no; Wiley voted present.

10. An attempt to limit the President's authority to cut tariffs was defeated, 38-40, when the Senate Sept. 18 rejected an amendment to restore the "peril point" procedure of the expiring Trade Agreements Act. On the vote to restore "peril points":

Sen. Humphrey paired against; McCarthy, Proxmire no; Wiley yes.

11. Amendments to provide a substantial increase in foreign aid funds — $785 million more than the $3,430,000,000 provided by the House—were adopted Oct. 1 by the Senate, 47-28.

Sens. Humphrey, McCarthy, Wiley yes; Proxmire no.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

Hail 13-Man 'Inner Cabinet'

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

It is encouraging to note that President Kennedy has named a 13-man "Inner Cabinet" to pass on the grave decisions which confront the nation in the Cuban crisis. For this development will greatly lessen the chance of one or two timid and poorly-equipped advisers bringing pressure to bear for the wrong kind of decisions.

In effect, the 13 Americans named by Mr. Kennedy as a sort of "crisis board" will have the fate of the United States, and quite possibly the entire free world, in their hands. Because of this, it is important for the American people to know to whom the President has entrusted this vital responsibility.

Members of the "Inner Cabinet" are as follows:

Vice President Lyndon Johnson, who always seems to be excluded from the White House inner circle except in times of crisis or emergency.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, who long has been suspected of favoring a much stronger line against communism than the administration had taken until the Cuban blockade.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who enjoys the complete confidence of the President in the handling of difficult diplomatic negotiations.

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, who has spent most of his time at the White House since the Cuban crisis arose and who is believed to be the man closest to the President.

GEN. MAXWELL TAYLOR, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and a highly-experienced military man.

Central Intelligence Agency director John McCone, the man in charge of supplying the President and the rest of the special board with the best-possible intelligence information on the Cuban crisis.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, a Republican and a banker, who formerly served in the administration of President Eisenhower.

McGeorge Bundy, the President's personal adviser on national security affairs and a former Harvard professor.

Llewellyn Thompson, former ambassador to Moscow and a reputed student of the Communist mind.

GEORGE W. BALL, Undersecretary of State and an important presidential adviser on trade matters and Western Europe.

Roswell Gilpatrick, Deputy Secretary of Defense and close assistant to Defense Secretary McNamara.

Theodore M. Sorenson, 34-year-old former professor and President Kennedy's number one speech writer.

It should be particularly noted that the list includes only two members of the White House inner circle—Bundy and Sorenson—and very few of the administration spokesmen who argued most vehemently against taking action against Cuba. Conspicuous by its absence, for example, is Walter Rostow, State Department planning chief and author of a highly-controversial policy paper, which is said to have pictured the Soviet Union as "mellowing" in its attitude toward the West.

ALSO MISSING is Chester Bowles, special presidential adviser who told a Pittsburgh audience late in September that a blockade of Cuba would result in a diplomatic debacle for the United States. Nor does the list include United Nations Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, who is said to have had a hand in convincing the President to withhold an air cover for the abortive invasion at the Bay of Pigs.

Whether these omissions indicate that President Kennedy is now ready to dispense with the advice of those who counseled "watchful waiting" at a time when the Soviets were moving boldly only the future will tell. But I suggest that now would be a good time for the President to clean house of those who cling to the concept of possible accommodation with Russia long after this policy had begun to cost America dearly.

How do you stand, sir?

Faked Photos Playing Role in California Races

By DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES—Joe McCarthy, who first invented the faked photograph for electioneering, may be turning in his grave at what's happening in California. The faked photos used by Nixon supporters against Gov. Pat Brown make McCarthy a piker.

One faked photo, authorized by Karl Prussion and circulated by 12 Republicans headquarters, was so shocking that it has now been banned by California courts until after the election. It showed Gov. Pat Brown bowing apologetically before Premier Khrushchev.

Pearson

Actually, the photo of the bowing Brown was clipped from a snapshot of him welcoming a Laotian girl in the prayerful custom of the Laotians.

What Brown and the people of California don't know, however, is that Richard Nixon, when he visited Russia, is the man who actually apologized to Khrushchev for the action of the American Congress, according to Khrushchev.

Khrushchev told me this story. He said that Nixon had mentioned to him the fact that Congress had just passed a "Captive Nations Week" resolution calling for the liberation of Poland, Czechoslovakia and the Soviet's satellite states.

"Naturally I knew about the resolution," Khrushchev said, "but did not plan to mention it since Nixon was our guest. However, much to my surprise, Nixon mentioned it himself and said that Congress was foolish to have passed the resolution."

"Do you mean to say that members of Congress are fools?" Khrushchev said he asked Nixon.

"Oh, this is just a private conversation between us," Nixon said quickly.

Howard Hughes and the Hughes Tool Company, which lent Vice President Nixon's brother $205,000 with meager security, has just made an amazing secret settlement in order to keep details of the loan and its negotiators quiet.

Hughes has agreed to pay $145,000 to Philip Reiner, the man who acted as dummy for the loan so the public would not know that either Hughes or Nixon were involved.

REINER is the Los Angeles accountant who was made a dummy owner of the Whittier lot which the Nixon family put up as collateral for the loan and which was later forfeited. Under the forfeit, the land went to the dummy owner, Reiner, who didn't know what to do with it and kept sending Hughes the $800 monthly rental checks from a Union Oil filling station.

Hughes, who didn't want his name mixed up with the deal, kept sending the checks back to Reiner. Finally, Reiner got tired acting as the dummy and sued Hughes. If the suit had gone to trial, some interesting facts would have come out showing that Nixon, despite denials, knew all about the $205,000 loan, according to Reiner.

Reiner then got an amazing settlement — $145,000 payable over five years — provided Reiner, in turn, keeps his mouth shut. But things like this have a way of leaking out anyway.

Note—Nixon stated recently that he did not participate in the $205,000 loan negotiation. A lot of Californians are asking — "If not, why all the secrecy?"

TWO OF THE hottest congressional battles in California are against the John Birch congressman, John Roussot, and another congressman who follows the John Birch line, Rep. James Utt of Santa Ana.

Utt is being opposed by a hard-working young Democrat, Burton Shamsky, of Solana Beach, without much financial support from anyone. Utt, who has had his wife on the government payroll for $224 a month, seems to be well supplied with campaign funds from California's militant right wing.

Utt is known in Washington as the "flag-wrapping" congressman because of his numerous speeches wrapping the flag around him. He proposed making Gen. Edwin Walker, currently accused of stirring up riots in Mississippi, an adviser to Kennedy on psychological warfare, describes membership in the United Nations as "analogous to having a rattlesnake in the bedroom, the Girl Scouts," and has introduced a bill to make Andrea Artukovic, Yugoslav war criminal, an American citizen.

Artukovic, Yugoslav war criminal, is charged with the murder of 600,000 Jews and Serbs.

ROUSSELOT, the admitted John Birch congressman, is getting the political smear race of his life from Ronald Cameron, Democrat of Whittier, who is being subjected to the same kind of smear tactics that defeated Rep. Jerry Voorhis in Nixon's first race for Congress. In fact Roy O'Day, Nixon's manager against Voorhis, is now managing Roussot, an order has been placed for 100 phones to be ready a few days before election day. Presumably they will be used as in the Nixon-Voorhis campaign, to circulate anonymous reports that Cameron is a Communist.

Meanwhile John Birch-type letters are being written to editors attacking Cameron, though editors who have checked the signatures find they are unregistered to vote in Los Angeles County.

Cameron's office has been painted with the hammer and sickle of Russia; and the word "communist" has been painted under his campaign posters in one of the roughest campaigns Southern California has seen.

The nearest move Cameron ever made to what some doctors consider "socialism" was when he sponsored a bill in the California legislature forcing medical insurance companies to disclose the quality of their medical treatment. California has quite a few hospitals owned by doctors and Cameron maintained they had a conflict of interest as between earning a medical fee or a hospital fee.

Cameron, who is a California legislator, passed the only anti-doctor bill in California history. The doctors admitted spending $30,000 to defeat him two years ago and they are spending more money in the race against him today.

Says Sheriff's Contest Has Created Issues

To the Editor:

Unlike elections that amount to mere popularity contests, the contest for sheriff has created some real issues that should be of interest to voters of Winona County. Recently Donald F. Berg, candidate for sheriff, stated that if he were elected he would,

1. Ask the County Commissioners to abolish the present travel allowance of 10 cents a mile and instead provide the sheriff's department with publicly owned vehicles. Mr. Berg cites the travel cost to the county for 1960 at $12,600.98 as compared to $11,700 for 246,206 miles driven in City of Winona police cars, an average cost to the city of only 4 1/2 cents per mile.

2. Ask that the fee of $2.50 for providing prisoner meals be abolished and that the county provide the meals which currently cost approximately $1.70 per day.

3. Ask that the jail matron be paid only when a female prisoner is confined. Presently she is being paid an annual salary of $840.

The compensation costs of the sheriff's department have risen from $28,983 in 1956 to $41,241 in 1961. It is refreshing to learn there are debatable issues and I would like to hear from Sheriff Fort as to his position in these matters. Evan J. Henry

Candidate Plugs For 3 Amendments

To the Editor:

In the past couple of months I have talked until hoarse urging the adoption of the three pending amendments. I hope Winona will show a high percentage in their favor, thereby indicating we are well-informed citizens.

Amendment No. 1 makes us money, which will go into school funds, meaning that much less will be raised in taxes. It allows investment in various securities other than government bonds. It is estimated approximately 3 million dollars yearly can be added to state revenue if this amendment passes.

Amendment No. 2 saves us money, in that we will then be getting money by the issuance of bonds at a low rate of interest, rather than certificates of indebtedness at a high rate. Also, the bonds will have to state the purpose for which they are issued and be approved by 60 percent of the Senate and 60 percent of the House of Representatives. Until now, the certificates of indebtedness have been approved by a simple majority and, being of slightly dubious validity, have commanded a high rate of interest for lenders. This amendment is by far the most important, and has been approved by over 75 important organizations, including the Democratic and Republican parties.

Amendment No. 3 is a bargain. You get legislators for 120 days instead of 90 days, at the same salary. In the past, after 90 days the Legislature frequently had to have a special session to finish its work, and the legislators are paid $25 a day expenses during a special session. When the limitation of 90 days was inserted in the Constitution in 1857 there were few bills to consider, but over a thousand bills were introduced in the last session. There is also a provision that no bills shall be introduced in the last 30 days (instead of 20 days) which may help stop some of the log jams at the end of the session. This is the least important of the amendments but it will add a sharper tool and more time for those who really want to work.

Please vote for the three amendments if you can. A failure to vote counts as "No." Good government requires informed voters and informed voters demand good government.

Don't Stunt Growth of Big Boy

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: We have an adopted son, not blood related. He is 13 years old, six feet tall and weighs 160 pounds.

Do you think something should be done to check his growth, or do you consider it wise to tamper with nature? I don't want him to be enormous. It seems that overly-tall people are weak and unhealthy.

He is a nice looking and intelligent boy but not particularly sports minded. He would rather read or watch TV.

His mother was five feet 11 inches and we were told his father was tall.—Mrs. T.B.

He's going to be big, all right.

But no, don't try to stunt his growth. You can't do it without wrecking his health, and probably even then you couldn't control his height.

I don't arbitrarily object to "tampering with nature." Plastic surgery such as repairing a cleft palate, could be considered "tampering." So could many things we do. But we do them only when we can see sure benefit and no harm.

I'm glad you called him "son." It's a sign of an adoption working out the way it should. Anyway, boys can have growing spurts at somewhat different ages.

At 13, he's sure to grow some more, but perhaps not as much as you think. Put out of your mind, though, the idea that height implies being "weak and unhealthy." That isn't true.

For a few examples, how about professional basketball players? I know an artist who is only an inch less than seven feet. And a couple of radio and TV announcers who have to duck their heads getting out of the elevator, but are personable, healthy and earning excellent livings.

If your big son isn't especially interested in sports, that's all right. Reading is fine. But I hope he'll grow up knowing that a certain amount of daily exercise all his life is going to make him healthier and happier, and probably longer-lived.

With a mother who was five-eleven, it's entirely expectable that he should be several inches taller than that.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read recently that it is healthful to drink vinegar before meals, but have never tried it. What do you think?—Mrs. C.M.

If you had tried it, I don't think it would have hurt you. If you haven't tried it, I don't think you've missed anything. Medically, it has no more (and probably no less) effect than painting your toenails green. Or howling at a full moon. Or giving the tribal witch doctor 12 clam shells. In short, vinegar isn't a medicine. It's a condiment. Appreciate its flavor. Remember that as an acid (dilute acetic acid) it can irritate membranes.

DEAR ABBY:

His Philosophy Is Very Strange

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband asks my advice about money matters, then he does as he pleases and we end up in a financial mess. I am ashamed to admit that we have been married 29 years and don't own a thing. He spends every quarter before he makes it and buys things on time. I keep telling him we need security for our old age and he says, "Let the state bury us." I even tried to get him to start a little savings account and he says that's the trouble with our economy today. Everyone is saving, which causes a depression. Money should be kept in circulation at all times. I'm too old to work and he's too sweet to leave. Now what?

TRAPPED

DEAR TRAPPED: The state will "bury you." But if your husband's thinking ever becomes universal, the state (and the people) will be digging its own grave.

DEAR ABBY: I have read your column for years and have never seen a problem like mine. I am a secretary and an excellent one. I am bored to death with my job. My boss travels most of the time and there is nothing for me to do in his absence. Sometimes the phone doesn't ring for weeks. I spend my time reading and writing personal letters. I have even brought knitting to work. I like working for this man when I WORK, but I feel useless 75% of the time. I have told him to get a part-time girl because I am not earning my salary. He says, "You let ME worry about that!" What would you do?

BORED TO DEATH

DEAR BORED: Resign with a letter explaining why. And carry a carbon copy of it when you apply for a more challenging position. You won't be "bored" or jobless long.

DEAR ABBY: My brother-in-law is under the impression that you may take home from a night club, restaurant or hotel, ash trays or anything else that has the establishment's name on it. He claims it is their form of advertising and they expect people to take things. I say it is stealing. I would like to have your opinion on the subject.

M.

DEAR M.: No one has the right to assume he may help himself. A person who would slip items into his pocket (or purse) and rationalize it with the excuse that it's "expected" — or "it's a form of advertising" — is a petty thief or a cheapskate. Or both.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "PUZZLED WAITRESS": I think the reason most people sit down at a cluttered table before it is cleared off is so they can get to the tip before the waitress does.

Goldwater Charges Kennedy 'Buying' Massachusetts Votes

PARADISE VALLEY, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says the Kennedy administration is using contracts to buy votes in Massachusetts, California, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and some Southern states.

"Naked force is being used and all the power of the executive is going into this election," he told a meeting of electronic company owners Thursday night. "Every defense contract goes through the White House now."

In Texas, Goldwater said space contracts are involved. He said Kennedy virtually ordered California aerospace industries to accept "a rigged fact-finding committee's recommendation of closed union shops."

In other states, Goldwater said, highway contracts have "the or else tag."

Students Back Amendment No. 2 In Relay Race

ST. PAUL (AP)—Running in relay, a group of St. Cloud State College students will carry a scroll supporting Amendment No. 2 to the State Capitol Saturday.

The scroll will contain signatures of more than 5,000 persons in the St. Cloud area favoring the amendment which would remove the present state debt limit of $250,000. The amendment is on the ballot for next Tuesday's election. Gov. Elmer L. Andersen and other state officials are planning to meet the students on the Capitol steps when they arrive about 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

An Open Letter From YOUR Sheriff

George L. Fort

TO THE VOTERS OF WINONA COUNTY:

I am again asking you to re-elect me as your sheriff on Nov. 6. I only ask you to examine my record as your sheriff. I or my deputies are on duty or on call 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. We maintain a constant night patrol which has had a definite effect on reducing the crime rate. I believe it is more important for the good of the county and much less expensive to take the necessary steps to prevent crime instead of waiting for it to occur. Winona County's reputation for a low crime rate is not just an accident but the result of planning, long hours and hard work.

The office of sheriff is an important and responsible position and requires not only experience, but integrity and fairness. My opponent in this election is circulating a "message" which contains statements and inferences that are neither responsible nor fair, and I want to deal with them specifically and give you the facts.

No. 1: The "message" refers to an article in a Twin City newspaper that I "earned" over $30,000 in 1960. As my opponent well knows, this was not true and on September 8, 1962, both the Minneapolis Star, the St. Paul Dispatch and the Associated Press carried articles admitting their error. They explained that the figure included all reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses for operating all the sheriff's automobiles (which I have to personally purchase) and boarding prisoners that were not earnings. Repeating this erroneous statement is not fair even in a campaign.

No. 2: The "message" infers that the cost to the County of Winona for operating the sheriff's office and jail was $85,723.97 for 1960. This is not true. The figures he used included fees and reimbursement of travel expenses for service of civil papers which the people who requested that service paid for, and is definitely not a county expense.

No. 3: My opponent says he will exercise "closer supervision" over expenses and "will cut the costs of operation for the sheriff's office" and uses the Winona Police Department of which he is a member, for comparison. Let's look at the facts of the cost of law enforcement in Winona County, both the sheriff's office and the Winona Police Department. The following figures are from the annual financial statement of the county and the annual report of the City of Winona and are matters of public record:

	Total cost to County of operating Sheriff's office including salaries of sheriff, deputies, special deputies, travel expense, sheriff-police radio	Total cost to county of operating county jail including janitor and matron salaries, feeding and care of prisoners, supplies and repairs	Total cost of law enforcement for county	Total cost of operating police dept. of City of Winona (doesn't include maintenance of city prison which is part of City Hall)
1957	$48,987.33	$13,446.06	$62,433.39	$158,752.53
1958	48,926.53	17,718.57	66,644.10	168,382.47
1959	51,994.88	16,695.00	68,689.88	185,162.35
1960	62,143.44	15,694.26	77,837.70	208,762.26
1961	63,916.09	15,728.30	79,644.39	235,439.55

In 1960 new radio installations and equipment were purchased, the county's share for radio for 1960 and 1961 was $13,820.78, an increase of $7,608.29 over the preceding two years.

Admittedly, the cost of law enforcement and crime prevention, like everything else, has gone up in the past 5 years, BUT excluding a difference of $4,034.00 for the County's cost of radio equipment and service between 1957 and 1961, there was an increase of only 21% in the total cost to the county for law enforcement over that 5-year period. Over the same period the cost of operating the Winona Police Department increased to a whopping 48% or $76,687.02 more per year than 5 years ago. This increase is about as much as the whole budget for law enforcement for Winona County. My opponent is a member of that police department. The city of Winona is the same size as it was 5 years ago; the population growth has not been in the city but in the suburban areas which add to the sheriff's duties and problems. There are 42 police officers in Winona to police a population of 25,000 or about 1 officer to every 600 people. By contrast, to police the rest of the county of almost 17,000 people, living in an area of more than 600 square miles, I have only 7 deputies — a ratio of more than 2,000 people per man. I maintain that my office is being operated as economically and as efficiently as it can be to accomplish the work that needs to be done, and it will continue to be operated that way.

No. 4: Contrary to what my opponent says, my office does considerable work in and for the people of the City of Winona such as investigations, serving orders and citations of the courts, and transporting and care of mentally ill and juvenile offenders.

No. 5: My opponent's "message" says that he will "request a tenure of employment for the deputy sheriffs" and will "request publicly" that he be placed on a salary; and that I never made such requests. As my opponent knows — or should know — this would require a special act of the State Legislature. Olmsted County is the only county that has obtained such a special law. On February 2 of this year I wrote to each judge in the county asking them to request the county board to sponsor legislation setting up a civil service commission for deputy sheriffs as Olmsted County has done. The minutes of the County Board of March 6 show that one judge did make such a recommendation. I also spoke to the Board members urging this, and that I had no objection to being on a salary. The Board took no action and there the matter stands. For my opponent to say he will make these public requests is a meaningless statement for until the Legislature acts, the Winona County sheriff's office must continue to operate under the same general laws as other counties.

No. 6: My opponent says he will inaugurate a modern record-keeping system. The present system was installed by a member of the State Crime Bureau who has installed similar systems in most of the sheriff's and police offices in the state, including the Winona Police Department.

No. 7: My deputies are experienced law enforcement officers and most have had the same special courses in law enforcement conducted by members of the State Crime Bureau, F.B.I. and Highway Patrol as have other law enforcement officers in the area. My office has always enjoyed the best of cooperation with other law enforcement agencies. I challenge my opponent's statement that he could do "better."

As a voter, ask yourself these questions:

HAS MY RECORD FOR FAIR AND EFFICIENT LAW ENFORCEMENT BEEN A GOOD ONE?

IS MY RECORD FOR CRIME PREVENTION IN WINONA COUNTY A GOOD ONE?

HAS MY OPPONENT BEEN FAIR AND RESPONSIBLE IN HIS STATEMENTS, OR IS HE JUST MAKING CAMPAIGN PROMISES?

Your cooperation and support in the past is deeply appreciated and it is my sincere hope that you will continue this support with your vote Nov. 6.

offensive missiles sites is now in preparation.

"He (Kennedy) was confronted with a set of new facts that required a new decision," an administration officer says.

Thursday, Oct. 18, is a critical point in the story.

On that day, after some 72 hours of intensive conferences, more new reconnaissance evidence from Cuba, and continual briefings based on it, the President was very close to making his decision—an arms blockade on Cuba. The die was not yet cast, but Kennedy was close to it.

And on that same day, he met in the White House with the Soviet Foreign Minister, Andrei A. Gromyko. Most of their conversation was about Berlin. Then Kennedy came around to Cuba.

He suddenly rose from his rocking chair, walked out of his office, and returned with copies of his statements in September on Cuba. He read them to Gromyko.

On Sept. 13, he had said: "But let me make this clear once again. If at any time the Communist buildup in Cuba were to endanger or interfere with our security in any way or become a 'censative military base of significant capacity for the Soviet Union, then this country will do whatever must be done to protect its own security and that of its allies."

Gromyko repeated the assurances that Soviet actions in Cuba were solely for "the purpose of contributing to the defense capabilities of Cuba."

Meanwhile, the conferences designed to hammer out a course of action were going on, full blast.

Should the U.S. call on the United Nations to issue a kind of cease-and-desist order to the Soviet Union?

Very early, that was ruled out. "It would only have meant discussions and prolonged delays, talking while the Russians rushed ahead with the work in Cuba," an official said.

There were various military alternatives: a sudden air strike, invasion, a blockade. Each had its proponents. The arguments were hot and heavy. The President did not participate in them.

The quick air strike, some felt, would destroy the sites in a few minutes. Should it be preceded by a warning to the Soviets and other workers to get well away from the regions to come under attack?

"I'll put it this way," says a participant in the discussions. "The President never let the argument get away from the fact that that isn't the way the U.S. operates. Our traditions and morals would preclude a miniature Pearl Harbor in Cuba."

Gradually, the consensus seemed to be veering toward the blockade as the best course.

Those in the conferences recognized, however, that the blockade would only stop the inflow of weapons. It would not by itself dismantle the missile sites.

"So if the quarantine didn't work, there was always the possibility of taking a secondary course of action," an authority says.

Top officials of the White House and the Departments of Defense, State and Justice participated in the conferences. Later, two experts on Communist operations were called in. They were Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen and Llewellyn E. Thompson. Both have served as ambassadors to Moscow and have long experience in Soviet affairs.

Their advice was sought on two questions: "What are the Rus-

Military Tempo Increases at Fort Lauderdale

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—The tempo of military activity increased here Thursday with the arrival of four landing ships, imposition of strict security at Port Everglades, and a request by the Army for use of Yankee Stadium for two months.

A number of troops, apparently light infantry units, were bivouaced at the stadium. Patrols circled the area.

The city manager's office said the City Commission would be asked at its Tuesday meeting to approve a two month lease of the stadium to the Army. The stadium is used by the New York Yankees during spring baseball training.

Fort Lauderdale is about 30 miles north of Miami.

Four Navy LSTs, a number of patrol craft, minesweepers and seagoing tugs were reported at Port Everglades by the Fort Lauderdale News.

Three of the LSTs were beached with bow doors open. The fourth rode at anchor, just out of the port channel. The news said there was no evidence of troops aboard the ships.

Armed soldiers manned guard positions at Port Everglades and patrols roamed outer limits of the port.

Rear Adm. R.J. Stephens, commander of the 7th Coast Guard District, said at Miami that security at the port was increased "in accordance with increased port security throughout the United States under the present international situation."

Coast Guard boats patrolled the harbor to block entry to the restricted part of the waterfront area.

Don Trickett, Port Everglades harbor master, said a supertanker, the Esso Gettysburg, arrived today with 8 1/2 million gallons of petroleum, the largest single petroleum shipment ever to reach the port.

Trickett said the petroleum, bunker fuel, would take 24 hours to unload. Neither Trickett, nor other port and military officials would comment whether the shipment was related to the heightened military activity.

Hidden Dreams Of Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—As long as a man breathes he cherishes some hidden dreams of glory.

When young he usually daydreams about unlikely things—such as finding a million dollars in the street, becoming a baseball idol, or having a famous movie star fall in love with him.

Some of these unattainable goals gleam hidden in his secret heart as long as he lives, although he comes to realize how childish they are. But ordinarily as a man advances his way through middle age, most of his daydreams become almost wishfully practical rather than extravagant.

Here is one middle-aged man's catalog of unachieved ambitions: To climb to the top of the Statue of Liberty.

Find a reasonably-priced hair tonic that really would make a fellow irresistible to the ladies.

Be able to tie his shoelaces in the morning without breathing hard.

Listen to two symphonies, and then be able to tell one from the other.

Win at least one argument sometime in his life with a traffic cop, a bus driver and his boss.

Find a necktie that can't be stained—even if you dip it in a gravy bowl.

Learn to identify on sight all the flowers, trees and birds a fellow meets during a woodland walk.

Read the novel "War and Peace" all the way through.

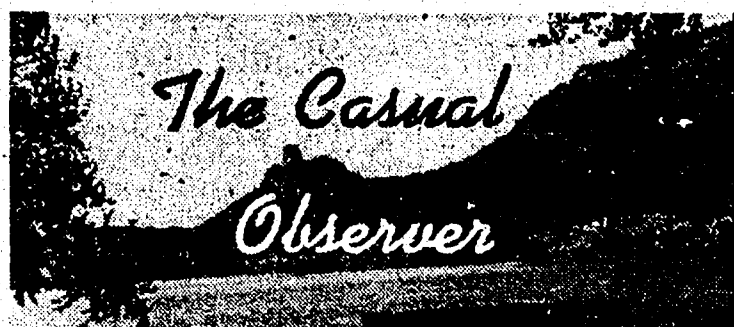

Visit a nudist colony—purely on a scientific research basis, of course.

Be able to help a teen-age daughter with her home work in algebra.

ARTICLES are beginning to flow in for the Saddle and Bridle Club fabulous rummage sale, the "Nearly New" Sale, to be held on Friday, Nov. 9 at the old Walz Motor Company building, corner 2nd and Main. When I dropped in the other day a truck backed up and unloaded a handsome mahogany card table with four matching upholstered chairs, and an upholstered rattan couch with matching lounge chairs.

Also noted was a completely new Hoover electric floor washer, folding card chairs, boat chairs, and some stunning candelabra. One woman sent a beautiful matching set of blue print drapes (extra long), bedspreads, vanity table skirt and chair covers for a little girl's room. There were rugs, and I noticed one stunning hand-woven Navajo rug.

The most unusual item I saw was a pair of antique spectacles with curious raised magnifying lenses; these had belonged to one of the town's first pioneers. Also noted were genuine Indian and Japanese dolls, several punching bags, skates, tennis rackets and innumerable games, some brand new. There were many animal toys and books, some exquisite imported German Christmas decorations, cashmere sweaters, suits and cocktail dresses. Be sure to mark Friday, Nov. 9th on your calendar for this

Nearly New Sale.

Then, while you're at it, just put another red mark on your calendar for Saturday, Dec. 10, when the YWCA will sponsor a Smorgasbord Supper and Import Sale in their gym. The traditional Scandinavian smorgasbord will include spiced fruit soup, Swedish meat balls, Norwegian flat breads, home-made limp rye bread, rice pudding and other Old Country dishes. Many articles imported from the Scandinavian countries will be sold, including Swedish glassware, Christmas decorations and other items.

As I take my late afternoon walk with the dogs the hills are still green but most of the trees are bare. While it was wonderfully exhilarating to walk through tunnels of red leaves early in October, it's almost as much fun shuffling through deep dry leaves. And the bare outlines of trees against the autumn sky are pure and beautiful.

The summer birds have been withdrawing since mid-August when the swallows and then the wrens, left. The next to leave were the red-winged blackbirds, then the goldfinches and last of all the bluebirds. And now the winter birds are back. The gay little chickadees who hid in the deep woods up the hill all summer and raised their families, are back, and so are the five different kinds of woodpeckers, the nuthatches and a few juncos.

When I visited my sister and brother-in-law at their Cedar Lake, Minneapolis, home I found that George, the mourning dove that has spent the past five winters in their garage (by choice — he refuses to leave with the rest of the doves), was back in his fancy coop in the garage. One afternoon about two weeks ago, said my sister, they noticed that there didn't seem to be any more mourning doves around the lake shore.

About 6 o'clock as she and her husband turned on the lights and sat in the living room, George flew down from a tree and perched on the window sill. He began to flutter his wings violently and make loud cooing sounds, plainly asking for attention. He kept this up so persistently that they were made to understand that he wanted to come in. So my brother-in-law went out, George perched on his arm and showed great contentment when he was taken into the house and put into the cage he's occupied all these winters. This past summer George and his mate-of-the-summer raised three families in trees near my sister's yard.

State Supreme Court Upholds Annexed Town

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Supreme Court ruled today that the Town of Burnsville has a right to challenge in court the validity of an annexation by the City of Bloomington.

The matter involves Bloomington's attempt in late 1961 to annex a portion of Burnsville containing the Black Dog plant of Northern States Power Co. The utility firm had requested that its plant be annexed to Bloomington.

The Supreme Court did not rule on the merits of the case, but said Burnsville had proceeded properly in its court action. The high court said the district court had properly granted an injunction to freeze the annexation until the main action had been argued out.

Bloomington had appealed the granting of an injunction halting the annexation. Today's ruling clears the way for the case to return to district court where Burnsville can argue its contention that the annexation is not valid.

The high court held that the outcome of such a suit brought by Burnsville will be a controlling factor, and thus avoid a series of suits by private citizens seeking to challenge the annexation.

In other cases, the Supreme Court:

Reversed a Crow Wing County District Court award of damages to Mrs. Frank W. Brown, injured in a sidewalk fall at Brainerd. The court held improper instructions were given the jury regarding the liability of the city and the sidewalk contractor.

Dismissed an action by Fourth Northwestern National Bank, Minneapolis against Hillson Industries, Inc., an Ohio firm from which the bank sought to collect three promissory notes. The court held the suit should have been brought in Ohio, not Minnesota.

South Florida Seething With Military Moves

By JIM BECKER

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—South Florida seethed with military activity today as the United States maintained its blockade and aerial checkup of Cuba, and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro insisted his nation would not accept inspection of the removal of Soviet missile bases.

Florida Gov. Farris Bryant toured the buildup in the Key West area, 90 miles from Havana, late Thursday.

The governor told pilots who are hanging an aerial umbrella over the Florida Straits that he had a great feeling of well being after watching their operations.

The governor later spoke at a seafront restaurant only 30 feet from an Army radar installation ringed with sandbags and barbed wire.

Armed jet fighters blasted overhead as he spoke.

Elsewhere in south Florida, a 400-bed naval hospital at Opa-Locka near Miami was painted and stocked for any eventuality. Nearby, 35 emergency field hospitals stood ready for use, along with 50 ambulances.

The troop concentration in the area was so heavy that hundreds of soldiers were sleeping in tents along the road to the base.

At Port Everglades, 30 miles north of Miami, four landing ships were beached, with their bow doors open. There was no evidence of troops aboard.

Security at the port was increased.

At Fort Lauderdale, city officials say 250 soldiers will use Yankee Stadium, the spring training base of the baseball champions for sleeping quarters, while working at Port Everglades. A two-month lease was to be signed.

Extensive ship movements were reported at St. Petersburg.

The Miami Herald said black-out shutters were up at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station near Key West, for the first time since World War II.

An aide to Bryant said he was briefed for more than an hour at Boca Chica, the heart of air operations over the Florida Straits. The base is closed to newsmen.

Equipment and a few fresh troops arrived in Key West Thursday. Among the new arrivals were Navy and Air Force pilots. The fliers who have been pounding out missions steadily since the crisis began, have reported they are very tired, but there has been no letup.

Suspects Quizzed In Mondovi Implement Theft

MONDOVI, Wis. — Investigation is continuing into the theft of $2,000 from the Jackson Implement Co. safe here over the weekend. Chief of Police Carl Swain said Thursday.

He and Buffalo County Sheriff Glen Davis expected to question two suspects today.

Eau Claire authorities, called in for help, took fingerprints which are being checked in Washington, D.C.

Jackson Implement Co., located on the west side of town, reportedly has been entered eight or nine times by burglars but this was the first time the safe was opened. This is the third burglary in the past four years.

The safe in the office, which fronts Highway 10, was demolished. George Jackson, owner, said $1,200 in cash and around $800 in checks were missing. The thieves also raided a cigarette machine and found keys to soft drink and candy machines.

ELMER'S SECRET TAX INCREASE

Why Don't You Tell The Truth, Elmer?

- ★ You promised your tax study report last June!
- ★ Word has leaked that it recommends a 3% general retail family sales tax!

Elmer Andersen, you just can't spend $300 million more and tax less, and you know it!

Tell the truth, Elmer. The people demand that you reveal your secret budget, the budget that the law says you should have revealed by October 1, 1962. Where is it, Elmer? Why are you hiding it? A Letter From a Candidate

Dear Voter:

I have publicly stated that if I am elected Sheriff of Winona County I intend to: Provide a much needed training and educational program for the Deputy Sheriffs. Create rapport and better cooperation between the Winona County Sheriff's department and other law enforcement agencies. Request a tenure of employment for the Deputy Sheriffs. Request publicly that I be placed on a straight salary commensurate with the position. I shall request the removal of the fee system for prisoners' meals. I will consent to and ask the County Commissioner to provide all of the automobiles used for the county business for the Sheriff's office. Remove the yearly salary of $840.00 for the jail matron. Retain those deputies who wish to work with me and provide allegiance to the public.

The incumbent has attempted to defend and justify the fee system used in the Winona County Sheriff's Office by comparisons and because the Minnesota State Law permits certain fees. The fee system is an extravagant use of the taxpayers money, and when we realize the cost of operation for one department, the Winona County Sheriff's Office has been in excess of $85,000.00, we know it is time for a change.

The taxpayer in the rural area is concerned about the constant increase in other taxes. The taxpayer in the City of Winona has approximately 59% of the real estate taxes earmarked for county expenditure. The residents of the City of Winona depend on little or no law enforcement service from the Winona County Sheriff's Office.

I will compare my law enforcement accomplishments with anyone. I can give you, the taxpayer, the best in qualifications, training, experience and education in law enforcement procedure and administration. I will dedicate myself to the interest of the public.

Cordially,

Donald Berg

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—

The popularity of the Norwegian style lutefisk dinner served annually at First Lutheran Church, North Beaver Creek, was proven again Sunday, when a record 1,513 were served a dinner and supper by the Men's Club and LCW. The "lutefisk belt," as this area is known, has been threatened to become a thing of the past, as more and more area churches have abandoned the dinners. Consumed Sunday were 1,680 lefse; 60 pounds of cranberries; 28 quarts of pickles; 650 pounds of lutefisk; 380 pounds of meatballs; 570 pounds of potatoes; 470 pounds of rutabagas; 33 pounds of coffee and 125 pounds of butter. A total of 141 pies were eaten. Serving began at 11 a.m. and continued until 8:30 p.m. Toward the end, cakes were substituted for pie and peas for rutabagas. But there still was enough food left for an auction. U. S. Marshal and Mrs. Keith Hardie, Sun Prairie, were guests, as well as people from Independence, Whitehall, Arcadia, Hixton, Winona, La Crosse and Rockford, Ill.

Mayville Man Gets Root River Soil Citation

CALEDONIA, Minn.—Glen Meier, who farms in Mayville Township, is this year's award winner in the Root River Soil and Water Conservation District.

The award is based on the amount of soil conservation practices on the farm and the completeness of the conservation farm plan.

Glen tilled the last of his farm this year. He now has more than 105 acres and a total of more than six miles of field terraces and diversions. On most of his land there is a rotation of corn, soybean grain and hay. On the rest of the farm, which is mostly pasture, he has a rotation of corn, soybean grain and hay. His farming operation consists of dairy, hogs and beef feeders.

Other conservation practices on the farm are one livestock pond, one livestock water pit and several acres of grass waterways. Glen became a cooper with the Root River SWCD in October 1959. Since then, with the technical assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, he has applied complete soil conservation plan to his farm.

Other farms considered for the award were Donald & Martin Schroeder, Paul Wilhelm and Sidney Myhre. Albert Oitzman was last year's winner.

Judges for the contest were the district supervisors. They are: Kory Olson, chairman; Harold Davy, secretary; Clarence Eikens, treasurer; Arnold Ostad, reporter; and Ed Albrecht, member. Also present for the judging was Harold Dineen, work unit conservationist.

Forage Show Planned Here November 20

Entries for the annual Winona Vo-ag Forage Show must be made by Friday noon, Nov. 9. The show will be at 8:15 p.m. Nov. 20 at the Lincoln School gymnasium, Huff and West Sarnia streets.

The samples can be taken to the Winona vo-ag department; Schmidt's Feed Mill, Rollingstone; Walch Feed Mill, Altura; or Hackbarth Feed Mill, Ridgeway. They will be analyzed by a Minneapolis laboratory.

According to John Januschka, adult vo-ag instructor, there is a large variation between one sample of roughage and another and only by testing these forages can feeding rations be adjusted accordingly. "A farmer can save from $500 to $1,500 by feeding according to a properly balanced ration," he said.

The way to take one of these samples is to cut a 2-4-inch slice through the middle of a representative bale of hay or its equivalent in loose or chopped hay. This should be placed in a cardboard box and left at one of the four places listed above. An entry fee is required.

"A quart sample of silage or haylage sealed in an airtight plastic bag or jar will be a sufficient quantity for the show and analysis."

The entry fee covers the cost of having the samples tested. A protein and moisture test costs $2, a protein, moisture and fiber test (to be used in figuring total digestible nutrients) costs $3.25 and a protein, moisture, fiber and Vitamin A test is $5.75.

Prizes will be given at the show to persons who come closest to getting the percentage of protein in a few samples. A panel discussion on the production of quality forages will also be on the program. The show is being sponsored by the Winona vo-ag department and the Winona Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee.

Winona SWCD Banquet Nov. 13

Two awards will be announced. Robert Wessel will be the master of ceremonies. Howard Anderson is the program chairman. The Ladies Guild will serve.

Law Makes Wheat Program Similar To Vote Results

An amendment to the recently enacted Agricultural Act of 1962 in effect makes the provisions of the 1963 wheat quota program relating to wheat acreages of 15 or less the same as the provisions farmers voted on in the quota referendum last August, according to chairman of area Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committees.

This means that marketing quotas for 1963-crop wheat will not apply to farmers who plant 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest in 1963. The amendment applies only to the 1963 crop. It does not change quota provisions relating to farms with more than 15 acres of wheat in 1963.

Chairmen emphasized that this new provision relates only to wheat marketing quotas for 1963 and differs from the acreage provisions for participation in the 1963 voluntary wheat-diversion (stabilization) program.

MEETING AT LAKE CITY LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special)—Eighteen leaders attended the leaders' training meeting on "New Ways with Salads" held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Arnold Peters. Salads made included vegetable, tuna, waldorf and cranberry salad.

Soil Speaking Contest Planned

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—The Trempealeau County Soil and Water District Supervisors, Odell Schansberg, Whitehall, chairman, will sponsor the Soil and Water Conservation speaking contest in this county.

There will be four classes, junior or elementary, youth or secondary, college and adult. Several areas of conservation, such as soil, water, wildlife, forestry, land use, etc., may be discussed by the contestants. Emphasis should be placed on the soil and water conservation aspects of the selected subject.

Winners of the district contest will compete in person in an area contest. Area contest winning speeches will be taped and a panel of judges will select the four winning state contestants. The four winners will be taken to the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors at Stevens Point March 4-5.

Sister and Brother Awarded Trips to 4-H Club Congress

CALEDONIA, Minn.—Barbara and Gordon Sylling, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sylling, Caledonia, have been selected as National 4-H Club Congress trip winners, according to Francis J. Januschka, Houston County agent.

Barbara won her trip in 4-H leadership and Gordon won his in the poultry project field. Each will represent Minnesota in their respective classification.

The congress will be in Chicago Nov. 25-29.

Kathy Albee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albee, Caledonia, won a $50 bond for her outstanding work in the 4-H bread project. She was one of the top six in Minnesota competition.

Additional awards will be announced at the Houston County 4-H achievement party Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. at Caledonia Auditorium.

Shorn Wool Price Same

A shorn wool incentive price of 62 cents per pound has been announced for the period beginning in April, chairman of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committees have announced.

The mohair support price will be 76 cents per pound. The incentive price for shorn wool is the same as for the first eight years of the program; the mohair price is up 2 cents from the level for the 1962 marketing year.

The chairman also explained that, beginning next April, the marketing year under the wool program is being changed from April 1-March 31 period to a calendar year basis, in line with recommendations from producers. In making this transition, the 1963 marketing year will be 9-month year—from April 1 through Dec. 31. After 1965, the marketing year will be on a 12-month calendar year basis.

Payments to producers for the 1963 marketing year will follow the same methods employed for the current 1962 year. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool up to the incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

Support for pulled wool is provided by means of payments to producers who sell 1 a m b s that have never been shorn. The payments will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on them on a basis comparable to the national average incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

With the marketing year ending Dec. 31, payments for the 1963 and later marketing years will be made beginning in April following the close of the year rather than beginning in July, as in the past.

Miss Elizabeth Davies, Madison, assistant state 4-H club leader, who also is the leader of this district, will speak to the group.

County 4-H leaders were urged to attend these meetings by Shanklin.

Soil Conservation Work Completed In Winona County

LEWISTON, Minn. — October was a productive month in Winona County with many soil and water conservation practices being applied and completed, according to William Sillman, SCS work unit conservator.

Two miles of parallel terraces were constructed on cropland of the Paul & Roger Baer farm in Fremont Township. John Waldo completed construction of 1,200 feet of terracing on the north end of his farm.

Layout of contour strips totaling 260 acres on 11 county farms was completed and a total of eight water holding structures were built on farms owned by Lavaine Stinson, Ross Papenfuss, Clarence Mundt, Henry Neumann, Wayne Dabelstein, Howard and Albert Volkart, Joseph Speltz and Ray Schell.

In addition, Winona city and county highway departments each constructed a flood retaining structure. The county highway structure was the usual road fill, designed to provide both roadway and flood control said Sillman.

A half-mile of diversion terraces also were built on four farms.

Winona Co. Corn Support $1.13

LEWISTON, Minn.—The final support rate for 1962 crop corn in Winona County will remain at $1.13 per bushel, according to Marvin Wiskow, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee.

This is the same as the minimum rate set in advance of the season to help growers plan their operations.

How does fertilizer affect protein content of farm crops?

A few answers to this question have come from a series of studies by soil researchers at the University of Minnesota.

In alfalfa, the major effect from phosphate and potash treatments is in producing more forage and therefore more crude protein per acre. However, this fertilizer has little effect on percent of crude protein, or on the balance between different amino acids that make up the protein.

In corn, nitrogen fertilizer, while increasing yields, also results in higher concentrations of protein in the grain as well as in more protein per acre. A problem, though, is that the increase isn't uniform for all amino acids. Levels of some of the most important ones often show little or no change, while level of the less important amino acids increases.

J. M. MacGregor, L. T. Taskovitch and W. P. Martin compared different fertilizer treatments on alfalfa and corn, followed by a laboratory analysis of the plants to determine protein content.

PROTEIN IS MADE up of many individual amino acids. Some are more essential for livestock growth than others. Therefore, there is often a question of amino acid balance; a plant might be high in total crude protein, but the protein is low in quality if it's made up mostly of nonessential amino acids.

The soils men compared alfalfa without fertilizer with other alfalfa receiving as much as a ton of fertilizer per acre during a five-year period. They found no apparent differences in levels of different amino acids at different fertility or yield levels. This is important to growers: it means that an increase in alfalfa yield means a real increase in protein nutritional value.

In corn, the same wasn't true. Several amino acids which are most important, nutritionally, together made up less than 10 percent of the total. These amino acids included lysine, methionine, and tryptophan. Nitrogen fertilization apparently didn't stimulate increased production of these protein components.

The soils men say more research is needed to determine effect of fertilizer nutrient elements, in addition to nitrogen, which stimulate a more uniform increase in the less abundant but more important amino acids.

Here's a measurement of the increasing public interest in tree planting on private lands!

By six weeks after Sept. 1, when applications were accepted, more than 15 million evergreen and hardwood seedlings were ordered from Minnesota State Forestry nurseries. These orders account for more than one-third of the trees which these nurseries will have available.

This means that if you plan to order any trees for 1963 planting, you better do it now! You can get more information and applications blanks from your county agent or local forester.

Why the increased interest in tree planting? Oliver Strand, Winona County agricultural agent, suggests four of the main reasons:

- First, last year was an excellent year for survival of newly planted trees and there's no stimulus like success.
- Second, quality of seedlings produced by state nurseries continues to improve, thus encouraging persons thinking of planting.
- Third, word is getting around that trees are available and that there are tree planting programs.
- Fourth, tree planting is getting a boost from public cost-sharing programs.

Strand points out that opinions may differ as to the economics of investing money in tree planting which might bring higher returns from other ventures. There are, however, values from trees which can't be measured in dollars.

Among these are forest areas for wildlife cover, wind and snow control, prevention of soil erosion, water retention, recreation and landscape attractiveness.

University of Wisconsin farm specialist Orrin Berge warns farmers, "never poke a stalk out of the snapping rolls with a stick while your picker is running."

It's easy to forget some of the dangers in working with pickers during the thick of harvest, but no corn field is worth the loss of an arm or hand.

ATWELVE-FOOT stick will go through the picker in just one second and natural instinct is to hang onto the stick rather than release it.

The farm engineer also reminds farmers to wear tight clothing and keep picker shields in place, using a metal or heat resistant glass fuel bowl on the tractor, and a fire extinguisher on the picker or tractor is also a wise investment.

Legislation authorizing the 1962 feed grain program for the 1962 crop provided that support for corn could be set at a level not less than 65 percent of parity.

Since the national support price of $1.20 per bushel set last January is 74.5 percent of the October corn parity price—above the legal minimum level, no change is being made in the 1962 crop corn support as previously announced.

The chairman reminded farmers that cooperators in the 1962 feed grain program are eligible for price support on their share of the farm's normal production of corn. Producers who have not been notified of the normal production figure for their farms may obtain the figure from the ASC county committee.

To be in compliance with the 1962 program, cooperators must have diverted at least 20 percent of their feed grain base acreage to conserving uses.

"Oppose production quotas."

"Oppose the use of dehydrated and ground up fish for protein in bread instead of nonfat dry milk."

"THE FARM Bureau should study the effect on a farmer's income if the U.S. would join the common market. We feel it would be a loss of income."

"Since agricultural exports make a large contribution to the economic and employment opportunities for the nation as a whole, we ask that Farm Bureau stand guard to make sure that any trade agreements (with the Common Market nations) and our country include assurance for sale of U.S. agricultural products."

"All able-bodied people on welfare should be required to perform some service for the benefits received."

"Support a county zoning and planning commission."

"We urge more uniform signs, signals and traffic regulations in all states, especially in the routing of state and federal highways through towns and cities."

"Since financing and control of public elementary and secondary education is quite properly a state and local responsibility, we oppose any additional federal aid because of the danger of diminishing local initiative and the danger of increased federal control."

"WE FAVOR use of hundred-weight instead of bushels in transactions involving farm crops."

"Since many of the early evening TV programs are viewed by children, we request that the Federal Communications Commission review the shows and eliminate those that are morally offensive. We should encourage educational and other desirable programs."

"Oppose socialized medicine."

"Oppose to any additional aids under the social security program such as Medicare."

"A distinguishing colored light should be adopted for slow moving vehicles."

"We favor a sales tax."

"Expand the small watershed program."

"The county should provide signs on county roads directing traffic and giving mileage to towns of the county."

"The federal government should delay projects to drain, irrigate or otherwise reclaim lands for farming until such production is needed."

THE POSSIBILITY of a county office was discussed and the date of the annual FB program planning meeting was announced for 11 a.m. Dec. 5 at the Fritz Sprenger home, Zumbro Falls.

Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Fritz Sprenger, Mrs. Ernest Siehr and Arthur Graff.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Some Garden Comments

After pruning our grape vines a few days ago, we laid them on the ground and covered them with several inches of soil.

This is done with the good table varieties such as the Concord, Niagara, Fredonia, Concord, Golden Muscat and others. While listed as being hardy, they are not always dependably so in our area of severe winters. After once becoming established, any of these varieties might go through an average winter safely without such protection, but the gardener is taking a risk.

The University of Minnesota has developed several varieties of grapes that will survive our winters without any covering, but they are not as large or as flavorful as some of the above mentioned kinds. The Alpha and Beta varieties, also, are hardy without winter protection, but they are inferior in size and shape.

When pruning grape vines the long canes of the past season's growth which bore fruit should be cut back to four or five joints. From the buds at these joints new growth will start in the spring that will produce the succeeding crop of grapes. By cutting back the long growth of the past season, the new spring shoots will be stronger and a superior crop of fruit produced than if left untrimmed.

WE PROTECTED our young fruit trees for winter against mice and rabbits by enclosing the stems with cylinders of hardware cloth and poultry netting of small mesh. The cylinders were inserted about two inches in the ground and extended about two feet above it, or up to the lower branches. The little trees which are the dwarf type will be examined from time to time during the winter. If the snow drifts up against them, it will be cramped down, otherwise the rabbits might be able to reach the lower branches that extend above the wire enclosures.

For a small yard, or even for a large one, we are very partial to dwarf fruit trees which can now be obtained in apples, plums, pears, apricots and cherries. The little trees are easier to care for, can be planted closer together, bear earlier, and the fruit is as large as that on the standard trees.

OUR GERANIUMS were taken indoors a few days ago. There are several ways in which they can be handled. First, if they are in pots they can be carried on as house plants. If it is not desired to do this, they can be taken to the basement and kept in a rather dry condition with just an occasional watering.

If the geraniums are in the open ground, they can be dug up with some soil about the roots and pressed close together in a flat, or shallow box, with sand or soil packed in between and over the roots. Then, they can be stored in a cool corner of the basement where there is some light. A watering should be given when they appear to be somewhat dry.

When taking them indoors, we usually take some slips to grow on as "cuttings." Shoots are cut off in three or five inch lengths, all leaves are removed except at the tips and the slips rooted in glasses of water. When well rooted they are potted up in small pots to grow on as blooming plants for the spring. The potting mixture can be composed of two parts of good garden soil, one part sand, and one part of finely pulverized peat moss.

NEWLY PLANTED trees should have some protection during the first winter. This can be done by spirally wrapping the trunk loosely with a strip of heavy paper, or burlap, up to the first branches. Also a mulch of leaves, straw, or marsh hay, at the base will be beneficial. Trees in rather windy locations should be well braced.

We still have some transplanting to do, if the favorable weather still holds. Any garden work of whatever nature that can be done in the fall to advantage lessens the pressure of spring.

No Veterans Day Dinner in Blair

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—No Veterans Day dinner will be served in Blair this year.

For many years it has been customary to serve dinner to veterans and their families and anyone who wished to attend. It was served following a worship service. The two Lutheran churches have alternated in having worship and serving the meal.

Richard Toraason, commander of the Blair Legion post, said that since Nov. 11 falls on a Sunday this year it would be fitting for each member to attend the church of his choice with his family.

Toraason said the deadline for payment of dues is Nov. 9. After that date dues will be increased to $5, an increase of 75 cents. He also urged members to remember Education Week Nov. 11-17 by expressing their thanks to the faculty and board of education. Knudson-Mattison post will meet Tuesday at 8:15 p.m.

ROBERT C. RUARK

New Boom in Bomb Shelters

WASHINGTON — If memory falters no worse than usual, something over a year ago the bomb-shelter business comprised the biggest boom since the invention of the yo-yo. The heat was on in Washington; all the planters and flacks of the Office of Civil Defense began to beaver around to justify their jobs at top administrative level salaries and it was a seldom publication indeed which did not cry doom and exhort the reader to build himself an immediate bomb shelter against immediate extinction.

A thriving trade which reached scandalous proportions in prefabricated bomb shelters mushroomed. Suburbanite playrooms were speedily converted into bastions against atomic fallout, and the Scotch on the shelf was replaced by iron rations.
Seminars raged around the land about whether it was ethical to shoot your neighbor—and indeed some high-caliber dominies of assorted faiths came up on both sides of the fence—if he attempted to threaten the sanctity of your private burrow.

People spoke of little else but fast erasure by a sudden atomic attack, and something akin to wholesale panic raged around the land for a good three months. It achieved ridiculous proportions because there actually were pictures of bomb shelters complete with TV sets and the natural question arose as to who was going to be operating the TV transmitter if he occupied the shelter. The answer came suddenly and became necessary.

As with most fads, this Washington-dictated charge of hysteria—which had received the lavish personal endorsement of President Kennedy—died as swiftly as it was born. The bureaucrats settled back content with having saturated the market with propaganda, and whisky once again replaced the iron rations on the fallout shelter shelves. Junior parked his busted bicycle in the first-aid room which rapidly became over-stuffed with Sister's decapitated doll babies.

Now, at the first hint of a nuclear shell being lobbed at the mainland from the Russian bases in Cuba frantic and footless activity has resumed, exactly as in the early days of World War II when one gentleman I know in Washington stocked his cellar with 125 bottles of tomato catsup. For the past week Washington stores have been jammed with people laying in vast supplies of fruit juices, cigarettes, candy and confections—one lady being quotable as saying she wanted the fruit juice to ease her last days as she died horribly from exposure to radiation. A heartless friend pointed out that she would hardly be able to operate the automatic can opener, but it didn't deter her from her mad assault on the supermarket.

IT IS IRONIC to note that on the day following President Kennedy's hard-nosed announcement of the Cuban blockade a panic-stricken descent on Washington's Civil Defense offices took place, and that the capital's preparation for sudden onslaught was as sketchy as in the early World War II days when Mrs. Roosevelt and Mayriss Chaney were advocating folk dancing to keep up morale.

Washington's Civil Defense Office's switchboards were clogged with calls for information about

Russ Ship on Way to Mars

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP)—An unmanned Soviet space ship was estimated early today to be 140,000 miles on its way to Mars, Moscow Radio reported. The one-ton spacecraft was launched from a sputnik whirled into orbit Thursday.

The Tass news agency said all systems were functioning normally after the first few hours of the flight. The Soviets calculate the vehicle, called Mars 1, will pass close to the planet in something over seven months.

The ship is equipped with a camera and radio transmitters which—if all goes well—will send photographs of Mars and other data back to earth, giving scientists valuable clues to the old question of whether or not life exists on the planet.

Cotter Students Selling Candy To Buy Equipment

A candy sales drive to raise funds for the purchase of equipment for the new addition to Cotter High School was launched today by Cotter freshmen and sophomores.

Proceeds of the citywide sale will be directed to a fund for the purchase of audio-visual and library equipment for the new addition.
The addition, housing classrooms, science laboratory and library facilities, is being constructed on a site adjoining and east of the main Cotter building and will be ready for occupancy next fall.

Spring Grove Student Honored at Rochester

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special)—Mrs. Theodore (Patty) Tweito has been selected by the Rochester Business and Professional Women's Club as its October Student of the Month.

Mrs. Tweito, a student at Daniel O'Brien School of Hair Design and Cosmetology, Rochester, was chosen because she operates a home and takes care of her family of three children. Her husband is employed by the Argus firm here.

Like flighty children, are more easily self-brainwashed by a fresh passing fancy than any other well-meaning folk around the globe.

In the case of preparation for atomic attack involving the fever of bomb-shelter construction and public indoctrination on survival kits, we might just as well have spent the money on a gigantic barbecue with free booze and belly dancers for all.

An American ship is now headed toward Venus—the earth's closest neighbor after the moon—with a rendezvous expected next month. The Venus flight takes about two months.
Because of navigation difficulties the American ship will miss Venus by about 20,000 miles, scientists estimate. But they say it will still be able to scan the planet and relay valuable information.

America's National Aeronautics and Space Administration made no immediate comment on the Soviet achievement.
The United States does not plan to try for Mars until late in the autumn of 1964 when the planet will once again be in a favorable position relative to the earth, American officials said.

Warriors (6-1) at River Falls (3-5) in Final Contest

Coach Moon Molinari's Winona State Warriors seek to cap their most successful football season in recent years when they invade River Falls Saturday night for a season-ending game with the Falcons of River Falls State.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. The Warriors, winner of six games in seven and wearing their second undisputed conference championship in 27 years, will be facing an up-and-down Falcon team that has lost five of eight outings. Yet the Falcons, until last week's 28-13 loss to La Crosse State, had allowed only one opponent more than two touchdowns in a single game.

"They'll be tough defensively; they always are," said Molinari this morning.

Molinari isn't anticipating any letdown after last week's 29-14 spurge over Moorhead State. "We haven't had a breather all year, and we don't consider this one either," he said.

The Warriors, however, do have a flock of nuisance injuries that hit them late in last week's game. Linebacker Ben Johnson, for one, sprained an ankle and is a doubtful starter Saturday.

Fullback Ralph Leistikow, who sat out with the Moorhead contest with a bad knee, is still ailing and probably will not start.

Molinari named freshman Lee Burros as a possible replacement for Johnson to back up the line with Davis' Usgaard and Glen Schneider.

DuWayne Rauen, who did a Herculean job at fullback against the Dragons, will start for Leistikow. Duane Mutschler at quarterback and Doug Konop and Mike Henry at halfbacks complete the mail-carrying corps.

Ten Warriors will be closing out their collegiate careers Saturday. Oddly enough, eight of them are linemen: Gerry Demars, Arley Ihke, Jerry Wedemeier, Paul Quam, Capt. Gary Pahl, Merle Groth, Gaven Grob and John Lautiger.

The other two are linebacker Schneider and halfback Marv Cunningham.

Pahl, Groth, Lautiger and Quam comprise the heart of Molinari's offensive and defensive end corps. Demars, Wedemeier and Ihke bulwark the interior line.

"We have had good depth this year," Molinari said. "In some cases lettermen of last year haven't even played much. It's sometimes hard to do, but you can't help but use boys who are averaging 6 and 7 yards a carry."

State will also be trying to uphold the prestige of the Northern States College Conference in Saturday's tilt.

"For some reason, schools in our league never do well against Wisconsin colleges, although we have in the seven years I've been here," said the Warrior coach.

Three sophomores are slated to start in River Falls' backfield. They are quarterback Tom Evansson, 175 pounds; fullback

The Falcons also are heavy on underclassmen in the front line where the only senior is 200-pound center John Doyle. Junior guard Pete Bronson at 225 is the heaviest.

Molinari will take a 52-man squad as a "reward" for the work put in by many of his Warriors who have not seen much service this season.

BADGERS CONSIDERED TOUGH

Winless Michigan Meets Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The University of Wisconsin football team meets Michigan Saturday and it could be a soft-touch for the Badgers, still contenders for the Big Ten title.

However, the Wolverines are as hungry as they are battered and that could mean a brisk battle for the Badgers, who will be seeking their third conference victory in four games.

The Wolverines are without a triumph, and what's worse, without a point, in three Big Ten games. They were whipped 28-0 by Michigan State, 37-0 by Purdue and last week took a 17-0 thumping from Minnesota.

Badger Coach Milt Bruhn wasn't taking anything for granted.

"He told his charges this week, 'Forget about the Ohio State loss, we can't afford a shade of letdown. Michigan has played hard and well a couple of times against the best and is capable of doing it again.'"

Michigan Coach Bump Elliott has been driving his Wolverines hard this week, trying to set a trap for the Badgers. Drills have included three days of scrimmage. "We need better timing and more hard blocking and tackling," said the determined Elliott. He also said he was as concerned about Wisconsin's defense as much as he was Minnesota, owner of the nation's best defense against rushing.

"The Badgers are bigger than the Gophers and we think just as good," Elliott said. He also said he hadn't been able to determine which phase of the Badger attack, rushing or passing, would give his team the most trouble.

"If we go out to stop Pat Richter and hold down Ron Vander-Kelen's passing, they've got enough backs to run all day."

The Badgers were scheduled to leave for Ann Arbor this morning and work out there this afternoon. Bruhn said it probably would be close to plane time before he decided on the makeup of the 38-man squad.

Injuries left the status of four players uncertain Thursday evening. Included in the group were defensive end Elmar Ezerins, guards Ron Hohman and Ron Parr and center Joe Heckl. Kicking specialist Gary Kroner is expected to be ready.

Elliott has been trying everything to get some points. Against Minnesota he used two quarterbacks.

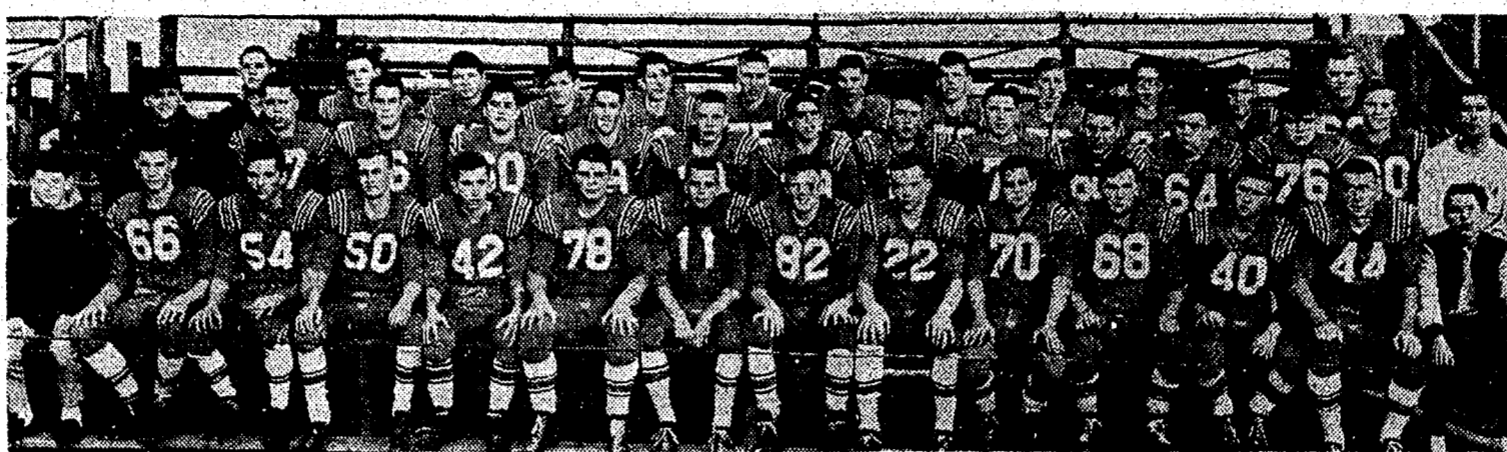

Frosty Evashevski, son of the former Michigan blocking star and now athletic director at Iowa, continued to call the signals. Bob Timberlake was used at halfback, putting two passers in the lineup at once.

Timberlake was used for shot jump passes on fake drives into the line and had some modest success. But the closest the Wolverines came to scoring was when Bob Chandler moved into the line-up late in the game.

A Chandler pass moved the Wolverines to the Minnesota 16, and he then tossed to flanker back Harvey Chapman who made a fine catch but came down just over the sideline strip.

The Badgers probably will see the duo in action Saturday.

Monsrud Has Big Nine Point Title in Bag

Kit Monsrud of Rochester's Rockets has already put the Big Nine individual scoring crown in orbit but faces a up-hill struggle in his bid to crack the conference record and Rochester's hool record for points on one season.

Monsrud carries 78 Big Nine points going into tonight's 7:30 p.m. game against Winona at Jefferson Stadium. He has 84 for the over-all season.

The conference record is 106 and is held by Dick Brown of Winona who set the mark in 1953. Thus Monsrud would need 28 points tonight to tie the mark.

By the game taken, the Rochester record is 113 for a nine-game season and Monsrud, only a junior, is 28 shy. The Rocket mark for points in eight Big Nine games is 97, set by T. Y.

Moore in 1956 when he scored 112 over-all.

Closest rival to the Rocket star in the league scoring race is teammate Rich Field who has 48. Red Wing's Bob Walsh has 45 and Craig Strom of the Wings 36 along with Austin's Mike Rudzick.

Bob Grausnick, Winhawk fullback last year, scored all 19 points in a 19-0 win to finish as scoring champion with 91 points.

Eleven Winhawks will be in WHS grid uniforms for the last time tonight. Two others, Gary Hazelton and John Burros, suffered mid-season injuries and will not be suited up. Another two seniors, Marty Farrell and Dan Scharmer, suffered injuries before the campaign started and sat out the entire season.

The 11 are Gary Nissalke, Chuck Deedrick, John Bernadot, Doug Blanchard, Dave Reed, Jerry Foster, Jay Bowman, Ron Puterbaugh, Calmer Wood, Dick Glauert, and Chuck Bambenek. Puterbaugh is a junior but has used up his eligibility. The others are seniors.

Jim Elliott, Winhawk coach, learned this morning he may be able to use sophomore end Bill Squires tonight, but the services of injured center Chuck Bambenek are extremely doubtful. Squires hurt an ankle playing basketball at the YMCA, but the injury is not as serious as was first believed.

Rochester on the other hand, will put its usual backfield of Dave Nelson (QB), Monsrud (HB), Chuck Field (HB) and Rich Field (FB) on the gridiron and only one, C. Field is a senior.

The linemen, ends Dale Owens and Tom Tervo, tackle Frank Borg and Roy Sutherland, guards Chuck Eaton and Bill Scholer and center Craig Hoffman, are all seniors.

Jerry Bundy, a guard, and linebacker Ron Cady, who move in on defense for Eaton and Monsrud, are juniors. Jim Corfits, defensive back and safety man, who spells Nelson, is a senior.

Coach John Drews molded the Rockets from a squad which included nine lettermen but only one fulltime regular, Capt. Sutherland. He was all-conference in 1961 as a guard and linebacker.

Against Rochester's 8-0 record and No. 2 rating in the state, Winona puts a 1-4-1 mark, the poorest Winhawk record since 1947 when they lost seven and tied one in an eight-game card and 1950 when they lost eight and tied one.

MAYS DUE OUT OF HOSPITAL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The baseball world learns today what, if anything, is ailing Willie Mays.

Baseball's highest paid player was expected to be released from Mount Zion Hospital where for the past two days he has undergone an intensive series of medical tests.

The San Francisco Giants' $90,000-a-year star center fielder entered the hospital Tuesday for what doctors said would be a complete physical examination. Mays' health has been an issue since he collapsed Sept. 12 in Cincinnati.

Attendance Up In Minor Circuits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eleven of 20 minor baseball leagues, and 74 of 134 clubs, showed an attendance increase this year over 1961. George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, said today.

The minor league chief credited "intensified promotional efforts, better quality of play, and a comparative improvement in weather in most sections" for the boost. Trautman revealed total paid attendance of 10,047,568 for 20 leagues this season, against 10,100,986 for 22 last year.

"That represents," he said, "a token decline of 53,418 which actually is not a loss considering that three leagues which did not operate this year had a total attendance of 1,129,472 a year ago."

SPARTAN 5 HOST MINNESOTA

Nation's No. 1 Offense Faces Top Defense

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Once before this football season a Minnesota game was billed as a classic unstoppable offense vs. an impenetrable defense showdown and the Gophers would just as soon forget that one.

Saturday the situation will be decidedly similar when the Gophers challenge Michigan State in a Big Ten game here.

The last time was the third game of the season when Minnesota hosted Northwestern. The Wildcats won that one 34-22.

However, the circumstances are different Saturday in one key respect. Northwestern bombed the Gophers with passing. Michigan State is basically a running team with the pass used only incidentally to keep the defense loose.

The Spartan-Gopher collision here Saturday will be even more to the point than the Northwestern-Minnesota battle. The Spartans lead the nation in rushing offense; the Gophers lead the country in rushing defense.

So this time it will truly be a classic offense vs. defense, with none of that passing jazz expected to clutter the issue.

Michigan State has averaged 338 yards a game on the ground—best in the U.S.—and is third in total offense with an average of 404.6 yards in five outings.

Minnesota has held five foes to an average of only 244 yards on the ground and has blanked four opponents. Only Northwestern has broken through the Gopher fortress.

Michigan State, ranked 7th in this week's Associated Press poll, is generally rated the favorite, from one touchdown to somewhat less.

The Spartans have reeled off four straight victories since bowing 16-13 to Stanford in their opener. Only common foe is Michigan, which Michigan State racked 28-0 and Minnesota handled 17-0.

Both teams are reported in good physical condition. The Gophers will be without kicker Mike Reid, who broke an arm three weeks ago, guard Larry Hartse, broken hand, and halfback Bill McMillan, who twisted an ankle in practice this week.

However, the Gophers have got along without Reid and Hartse all right and have two capable replacements for McMillan in Bill Crockett and Al Fischer.

A Spartan homecoming crowd of around 70,000 is expected to view the battle in Spartan Stadium.

POP WARNER BOYS TO PLAY AT HALF

Some 50 boys who participate in the YMCA Pop Warner football program will play an abbreviated game tonight between halves of the Winona-Rochester game at Jefferson Stadium.

The boys are aged 10 through 12 years.

They will be guests at a bean feed at the "Y" next Wednesday at 5:45 p.m. at which time each will receive his Pop Warner emblem.

Wings Win Despite Howe's Scoring Slump

DETROIT (AP)—The surprising Detroit Red Wings, off to their greatest start in the National Hockey League, keep on winning—without much scoring help from Gordie Howe.

This is like the New York Yankees rampaging through a long winning streak with Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris in heavy slumps.

Howe, who carried the Red Wings—sometimes single-handedly—for more than 16 years, went through another scoreless game Thursday night. But the unbeaten Red Wings won again, 4-0 over the New York Rangers.

It was the sixth victory for the Wings, who also have two ties in their first eight games of the new season.

Howe, dominant figure in the Red Wings' long championship reign in the 1950s, has scored only three times. He has assisted on only three other goals and is far from his accustomed spot among the NHL's scoring leaders.

Sure, this is a slow start for me," said the 34-year-old veteran, highest point-producer in NHL history. "But I've always been pretty much of a slow starter."

The victory enabled the Wings to retain their first place hold by one point over the Chicago Black Hawks, who beat the Boston Bruins 4-2. The Toronto Maple Leafs beat the Montreal Canadiens 3-1 in Thursday's other game.

Braves Drop Louisville From Farm Club List

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves trimmed the number of farm clubs they own to one Thursday by returning the Louisville Colonels' franchise to the American Association.

The Braves had eight minor league affiliations last season, owning the Louisville Triple A franchise and the one of Waycross in the Class D Georgia-Florida State League. They had working agreements with the other six clubs.

The Braves' decision left the future of organized baseball in Louisville most shaky.

Acting Mayor Kenneth Schmidt said the Braves, who had owned the Colonels since 1958, made the move after he told them a drive for $100,000 to operate the team as a charitable foundation had raised only about $65,000 in pledges.

"I think we could raise the rest," Schmidt said, "but we had to let Milwaukee know by the end of October."

The Colonels finished fourth in the six-team league last season, then won the post-season playoff but lost the Junior World Series in seven games to Atlanta. Home attendance for the season was only 70,550.

GAME SOLD OUT

MADISON (AP)—The University of Wisconsin football game with Northwestern at Camp Randall Stadium Nov. 10 is a complete sell-out, athletic ticket director Oscar Danman said Thursday night.

Behind the Eight-Ball

By AUGIE KARCHER

MIKE ANDERSON at Mondovi has concluded an unbeaten season as coach of the Buffaloes, first for Mondovi High in 10 years. Only blemish was a 14-14 deadlock with Black River Falls this year.

In the past three years, Anderson-coached teams have won 21, lost 2 and tied 1. They shared the 1960 and 1961 Mississippi Valley Conference titles with BRF and this year took the undisputed crown. A matter of 12 points was the difference in the two defeats.

Anderson has a 38-17-1 coaching record for seven years at Mondovi. He had 6-2 seasons his first two years, then 1-7 and 4-4 before building up to 7-1, 7-1, and 7-0 the last three times out.

Jim Lehman was Anderson's top scorer with 60 points but seven Buffaloes contributed to Mondovi's 165 tallies. Fullback Lawrence Martin bagged 30 and Mike Fiedie, a kicking specialist, picked up 27, 15 on kicks.

Keith Holden was a key man in the Mondovi drive to the title. Lacking a quarterback at the start of the season, Anderson uncovered young Holden to run his offense and make things jell.

ROCHESTER'S ROCKETS, in amassing their 8-0 record, have been essentially a ground-game team.

They have piled up 1,974 yards rushing against only 307 in the air.

But Coach John Drews may have tipped his hat in last week's win at La Crosse Logan. In that game, two John Marshall touchdowns came in the air. One was a pass from Dave Nelson, the other from Paul Klipsic.

JOHN GOODMANSON, who gained 119 yards in seven carries against Winona, was named Albert Lea "Offensive Player of the Week."

He is one of 12 Tiger seniors who will be playing their final game tonight.

Fullback Mike McGowan of Mankato averaged 5.3 yards a carry this season on 513 yards in 96 attempts. He was topped by halfback John Cumminskey who had 5.4 for 332 in 61 carries.

OFF THE CUSHION: The Los Angeles Lakers paid $35,000 for Dick Barnett of Syracuse, highest price ever hung on an NBA player. . . . Clarence Ronnenberg was a pretty red-faced bowler in the Retail League at Hal-Rod Wednesday. A pin flew out of the pit halfway up the right gutter and he sent a ball down to push it back. Each school swims a certain race in its own pool each date and alternates the times to Davies who computes the winners. . . . Despite Winona's poor record this season, Coach Jim Elliott hasn't had a single candidate drop out of football after the season got under way. . . . Rodriguez Killed In Trial Run

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Bold and brazen Ricardo Rodriguez, who chased fame with the gas pedal of his racing car pushed flat to the floor, was killed Thursday when his sleek Lotus careened off the track in a practice session at the Mexico Autodrome.

The younger and more daring of Mexico's auto racing brothers, Ricardo was 21.

Brother Pedro, 23, and Ricardo's father, mother and wife of less than a year, Sara, were in the pit area when Ricardo's auto swerved off the concrete track at a U-curve, overturned and caught fire during a trial run for the Grand Prix of Mexico Sunday.

Ricardo, still alive, was lifted from near the wreck as his father raced to his side. At the sight of his son, Pedro sat, fainted. He recovered as Ricardo was placed in an ambulance and was with his son when he died en route to a hospital.

Ricardo's death unofficially was the 19th in all types of auto racing this year. Eleven fatal accidents have occurred in the United States, eight throughout the rest of the world.

Elliott Gets Backing From Illini Board

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Rumors that Pete Elliott is on the ropes as Illinois football coach were spiked today when he was given a vote of confidence by the university's Athletic Association Board of Directors.

The board, made up of four faculty men and three alumni, met in a regularly scheduled session Thursday night. The group, with power to hire and fire athletic staff members, unanimously voted for re-appointment of the 34-year-old Elliott for another year.

This means Elliott will be offered a new contract when his current one expires July 1, 1963. He is on a year-to-year basis.

Rumors that he may not be rehired spread on a 15-game Illinois losing streak, including a winless 1961 campaign, the first in the university's history. This season, the Illini have lost to Washington, Northwestern, Ohio State, Minnesota and Southern California. They have scored only 38 points while yielding 168. They play Purdue Saturday.

Elliott replaced Ray Eliot as Illinois coach in 1960 after coaching three years at California. He had a 5-4 record in his first season.

AAU Defends Off-Season Cage Series

NEW YORK (AP)—A high ranking AAU official today defended the off-season scheduling of an eight-game tour by a Soviet basketball team and accused the NCAA of dragging in a "red herring."

The AAU and the NCAA are, in the middle of a feud to decide which organization should control basketball—plus track and gymnastics—in the United States.

The NCAA has been openly critical of the AAU for scheduling the Soviet tour before the start of the college season. It refused to permit some of the nation's top collegians to join the AAU squad.

"Let's get this straight," said Don Hull, the AAU's executive director. "Under terms of the agreement, the visiting team has the right to decide when the games will be held."

"The Russians gave us two dates. One was in May. Obviously we couldn't play them right in the middle of the baseball season. The other date they gave us was in November when they were to be on the way to the world championships in Manila."

As it turned out, the Soviets pulled out of the world championships after a political hassle. The eight-game tour starts in Madison Square Garden next Thursday. Six games will be against an AAU team composed of former collegians, and two games will be against an NAIA all-star squad. The Soviet women's team also will play a series against United States women's teams.

Winger, Gajda Lead Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — A couple of nonregulars on the PGA tour — veteran Bo Winger and Bob Gajda — led the $20,000 Beaumont Invitational Golf Tournament into its second round today.

Winger, a public relations official for an oil company at Odessa, Tex., and Gajda each had a 5-under-par 67 in the opening 18 holes Thursday and it gave them a 3-stroke bulge over the field of 113.

Gajda, the young man from Detroit, got his fine round with a sharp putter. He needed only 26 putts over the 6,656-yard Tyrrell Park Municipal Course.

Eight players were tied for third at 2-under-par 70 and there were eight more at 71. Thus 18 bettered regulation figures in the opening round.

Doug Sanders and Lionel Hebert who started out as co-favorites, didn't find the course to their liking. Sanders had a 73 to fall seven strokes back. Hebert did better. He had a 71 but still was four strokes in arrears.

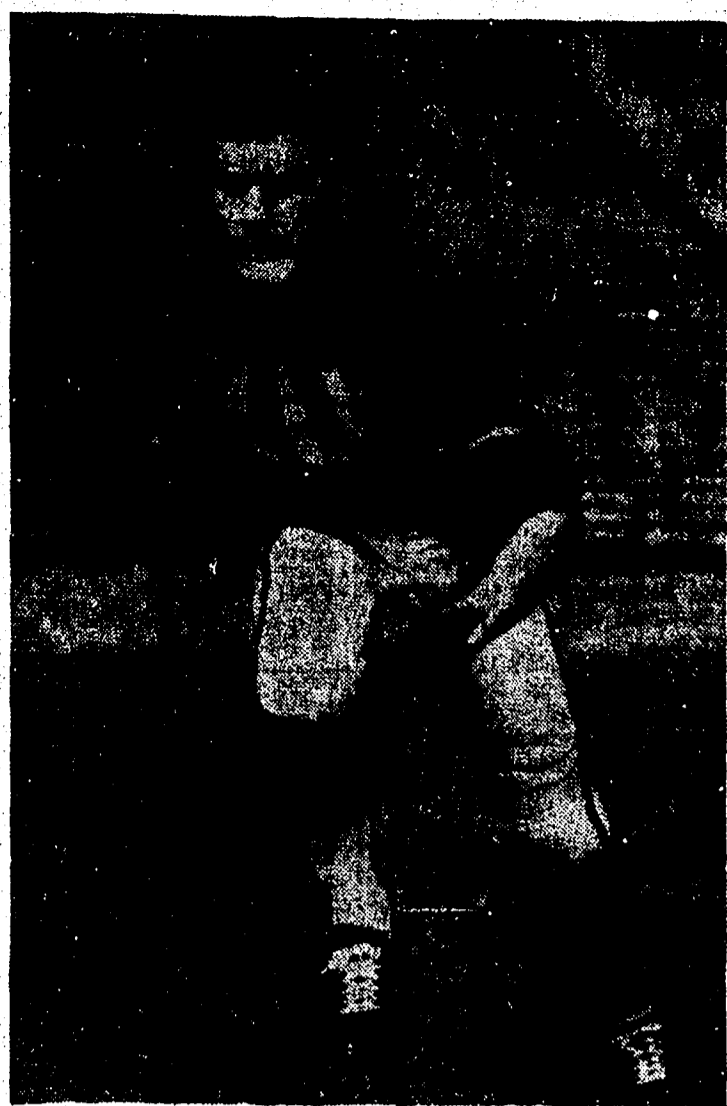

Wright Seeks New Win Record

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Mickey Wright seeks to get a winning record for a single year of the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) circuit here this weekend.

When the long-hitting Californian tees off today in the Civitan Open $7,500 tournament at the Canyon Creek Country Club, she will be shooting for her 11th tournament victory this year.

The present record of success is 10, jointly held by Miss Wright and Betsy Rawls.

The 54-hole Civitan Open became the last tournament of the 1962 agenda when the Houston Ladies Open, scheduled next week, was suddenly postponed on Thursday until 1963. This left it up to Miss Wright to win here or miss a chance at the record.

Key Conference Clashes Dot Saturday's Grid Map

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Key conference clashes dot Saturday's football map with Los Angeles, Baton Rouge, La., and Lincoln, Neb., among the assorted spots marking the crossroads for a host of high-ranking major college teams marching toward post-season bowl berths.

Among the many eye-catching attractions are two games involving teams ranked in The Associated Press Top Ten and a Big Eight conference blue plate special.

At Los Angeles, third-ranked Southern California meets invading Washington, No. 9, in a Big Six showdown that should match the Trojans' aerial strikes of Pete Beathard and Bill Nelson against the Huskies' ground forays, led by Charlie Mitchell.

At Baton Rouge, sixth-ranked Mississippi and prize passer Glynn Griffing will tackle fourth-ranked Louisiana State and All-America halfback candidate Jerry Slovall in a Southeastern Conference meeting.

And at Lincoln, Big Eight co-leaders Nebraska and Missouri, both unbeaten and both knocking at the Top Ten door, come together for a test of strength in which the Cornhuskers' quarterback, Dennis Claxide, will be trying to dent the solid defense of once-tied Missouri.

The USC-Washington and Nebraska-Missouri games will be regionally televised as will the Navy-Notre Dame encounter at Philadelphia, where the four-times beaten Irish will have to remain awake against a potent Middles' offense sparked by sophomore quarterback Roger Staubach.

The weekend program gets underway tonight with two games—Richmond at George Washington and Kentucky at Miami, Fla.—then heads into a Saturday program that also features conference games for Northwestern and Alabama—currently ranked the nation's top two teams.

The Wildcats, leading the Big Ten race, tangle with conference foe Indiana in an effort to remain ahead of pursuing Purdue and Michigan State. Alabama is at Mississippi State for a SEC meeting, trying to stay in front of Mississippi, LSU and Auburn.

Michigan State, seventh-ranked, will rely on speedy George Saimes at Minnesota in a Big Ten game while Northwestern counts on the passing of Tommy (Gun) Myers against the Hoosiers. Purdue tries to keep pace against Illinois.

Auburn, whose stiff defense has contributed heavily to the Tigers' 10th ranked position is at Florida. In other games involving Top Ten members, No. 5 Texas plays Southern Methodist, and No. 8 Arkansas is at Texas A&M.

The Longhorns, who dropped out of the No. 1 spot last week when they were tied by Rice, will be looking to regain lost prestige in a Southwest Conference clash that will determine the league leader. SMU is out front at 2-0, Texas next at 2-1-1.

While Nebraska and Missouri battle for top honors in the Big Eight, resurgent Oklahoma, just a notch behind, will be at Colorado. Oregon State takes on Big Six co-leader Washington State, which is hoping to benefit from the USC-Washington tangle.

If You Can Aim This Camera You've Got It Made!

Fully Automatic—Costs Less Than $90 — Simplest Land Camera Ever — No Focusing — Nothing to Set — 10-Second Pictures!

This is the new Polaroid J66 — the simplest Land Camera ever made — and it actually costs less than the first Land Camera model introduced more than 12 years ago!

It takes the same large pictures — but with what a difference. It's fully automatic. There are no settings you have to make. An electric eye chooses the exposure. You don't even have to focus. You don't need an expensive light meter. The flash gun is built in too. And your picture is ready in just 10 seconds.

There are 12 years of improvements, refinements and brand new ideas in this camera. And yet it actually costs less than the first Land Camera on the market.

If you've always wanted a Polaroid Land Camera — and who hasn't — this is your chance. Come in for a free 10-second demonstration this week.

The New Polaroid J66

NOTE: A small amount down will hold this camera on layby for Christmas giving!
