Kennedy Tries to Close Stevenson Cuba Book

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy tried again to close the book on the Adlai Stevenson chapter in the Cuban crisis. He said it should be left to history "when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

But he said he thought that after having read various statements of the past 10 days "any historian—and I think this matter should be left to historians—who walks through this mine field of charges and countercharges, should proceed with some care."

The President in his news conference Wednesday touched on many subjects — including the Mona Lisa and a record spoofing the First Family. But the questions kept returning to Cuba and Stevenson.

The President again endorsed the U.N. ambassador saying: "The fact of the matter is that Gov. Stevenson renders very distinguished service. He has done an excellent job at the United Nations."

But the President left up in the air who in the administration may have given two reporters information portraying Stevenson as urging appeasement during Cuban crisis conferences of the National Security Council's executive committee.

The President said "It is my judgment that this statement of interpretation of Gov. Stevenson's position did not come from a member of the National Security Council. I satisfied myself on that. I never heard anyone characterize Stevenson's position in that way and I am satisfied myself that no one did."

He added there were other people who might have. But that, he said, is a matter for reporters. "A matter that, as I say, I think can much better be left to history when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

Kennedy was asked: "You don't know, then, who leaked it?" "No, I don't know who," he replied, "and I think it is unfortunate if anybody discusses any matter that comes before the National Security Council because I think it lessens its effectiveness."

As for Cuba, he said, U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and his associate in the negotiations, John J. McCloy, had been discussing Cuban problems with Soviet representatives in New York for some weeks, covering such questions as weapons, inspection, aerial observation and invasion.

Lacking an inspection arrangement in Cuba, the United States, Kennedy made clear, will continue its reconnaissance flights over the island and use any other available means to make sure Soviet nuclear weapons do not show up there again.

Insulated Underwear Stolen in Tennessee
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Somebody broke into a parked car as the temperature neared zero and stole two pairs of insulated underwear.

Relay, a more sophisticated brother of the highly successful Telstar, was designed as another step in the process of developing a spatial communications network to take the load off overtaxed land lines and ocean cables.

It is equipped to relay telephone, teletype, radio and television signals between the United States, Europe and—except for television—South America. Officials emphasize that it is purely experimental.

Relay will be carried aloft on the nose of a Thor-Delta rocket, Robert Gray, project manager for NASA said the rocket has chalked up 13 straight successes.

Three persons were killed in Minnesota traffic accidents late Wednesday, including a woman in a pickup truck which collided with a Great Northern passenger train at Melrose.

The truck-train mishap occurred at a crossing near the depot in Melrose, where the train does not stop. A second woman in the truck was critically injured.

Dead at the scene was Adele Aikinson, 53, Avon. Taken to a Melrose hospital was Ann Margaret Schlettgen, 48. Both women were employed at a poultry processing plant near the accident scene and were homeward bound when it occurred.

Witnesses said flashing red signals were operating at the crossing. It was not immediately determined which woman was driving. Officers said the driver's vision may have been obscured by windshield frost.

The train, bound from Minot, N.D. to the Twin Cities was delayed a half hour. Melrose is about 30 miles northwest of St. Cloud.

In a second mishap, George L. Hendrickson, 37, Albert Lea, died when his car went out of control on a curve in Highway 13 near New Richland and struck a farm culvert. He was thrown out and killed.

John Gwiazdon, 88, Crystal, was walking along Highway 52 near his suburban Minneapolis home shortly after dusk when he was struck from behind by a car.

The driver, identified by police as Warren L. Mosal, 34, Crystal, told authorities he did not see the victim.

The deaths raised the state's traffic toll for the year to 644 compared with 702 at this time one year ago.

There is, of course, the possibility that Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara may reconsider what seems to be the present intention to drop the program.

McNamara's talk with British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft in London reportedly got nowhere.

British experts don't believe the Skybolt is a flop. They feel the initial troubles can be overcome. Kennedy noted that Britain has a "very important equity in the matter."

When asked about the Skybolt dispute at his news conference yesterday, Kennedy spoke cautiously.

1. He was sure it would be discussed when he meets with Macmillan in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20. The United States is now reviewing its budget for the new fiscal year. No final decision will be made until these matters have been completed.

2. The United States has put a half-billion dollars into the program so far. To complete it and buy the missiles might require $2.5 billion more. Five tests of the 1,100-mile range ballistic missile for launching from bombers have not been successful.

"So—there really is the question of how much it is worth to the British and ourselves to put in that kind of money 'when we have competing claims for our available funds,'" the President said.

Kennedy characterized the Skybolt as "the most sophisticated weapon imaginable. To fire a missile from a plane moving at high speed to hit a target 1,000 miles away requires the most advanced engineering and, of course, it has been really, in a sense, the kind of engineering that's been beyond us."

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—and this country's military budget.

Tentative American plans to give up the expensive missile—around which Britain has shaped its nuclear strategy—has brought a sharp reaction from Britain and put a strain on the alliance.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of the Skybolt missile program, subject of the hottest U.S.-British argument in years, hangs precariously on next week's meeting between President Kennedy and

It's a Seasonal Business

By HAROLD KNOLL
Daily News Staff Writer

A Cadillac limousine cruised through the proposed industrial park near the airport this morning.

Peering through the window was a fat and jolly passenger, a chauffeur with a red nose, red suit and a twinkling eye. Behind the wheel, sitting on three mail order catalogs, was a little chap with pointy ears and steady eyes.

"This is the place," said the fat man. "Stop right here, Cecil."

"It looks pretty cold to me, Mr. Claus," Cecil said, accelerating instead of stopping. "Let's go back to the North Pole. I'm needed on the assembly line."

"Ho-ho-ho," said the fat man, tapping the driver's head with the butt of a reindeer whip. "Stop here, you rascal."

THE LIMOUSINE stopped and they got out. The fat man clambered to the top of a mound of empty beer cans and surveyed the terrain.

"A great place to establish a toy factory, Cecil. Much nearer to the market. Excellent transportation facilities. Why, we can get those disintegrator guns, atomic bomb kits, brass knuckles and other Christmas gifts into the hands of the kiddies without delay. I don't dig that reindeer and sleigh for transportation any more. Too slow."

"The gnomes won't like moving from the Pole," Cecil said. "They've just about finished paying for their igloos. And they've almost finished building Gnomes' and Nomads' Central High School. Just a fat Lapp to go and—"

THE FAT MAN got down from the mound and rubbed the dusty tips of his shiny black simulated leather boots on Cecil's trousers. The fat man stuck a cigar in his mouth, accepted a light from Cecil and blew smoke in the gnome's face.

"I didn't say anything about moving gnomes to Winona," the fat man said. "I'm talking about disassembling the factory and moving it here. You gnomes can stay at the North Pole and hunt walrus for all I care."

A small boy pedaled up on a tricycle.

"Hi Santa," he said. "Will I get the booby-trap kit I wrote you for?"

"We got your order, sonny, but with the kind of labor I have to rely on up at the Pole I can't promise nothing to nobody," the fat man said. "I'm moving the factory to Winona where the business climate is balmy. They welcome new business here. In Winona the workers work."

AT THE POLE the gnomes spend most of their time griping. They want a five-day week, time and a half after 40 hours, a pension plan and a paid vacation. And now they're organizing a Gnomes Guild. That's the last straw. I'm not going to share my pot of gold with the likes of them."

Meanwhile, the disgruntled Cecil had slipped behind the wheel of the limousine. The big car slipped away quietly in the general direction of the North Pole.

The fat man flung his cigar and reindeer whip at the departing car and muttered in his nylon whiskers.

"I guess you need a lift, Santa," the boy said.

THE FAT MAN balanced himself precariously at the rear of the tricycle as the boy gripped the handlebars.

"Where to, Santa?" the boy said.

"Take me to the Winona Industrial Development Association," the fat man said wearily.

June Accident Involved in City Court Case

A municipal court case involving two traffic charges against George B. Griffith, 24, Caledonia, Minn., was to continue this afternoon before Judge S. D. J. Brusk.

The case was transferred from Goodview justice court.

This morning Richard Darby, assistant county attorney, called three witnesses. He rested his case shortly before noon and defense attorney Roger Brosnahan called the defendant.

RAYMOND S. WIPF, Ellsworth Air Force Base, Rapid City, S.D., was the driver of a car that collided with a truck driven by Griffith June 25 on Highway 14-61 a mile south of Winona. Griffith is charged with making an improper turn and with having faulty equipment on his truck.

Wipf said that he and three passengers, Mrs. Eva Barry and her two children, Mt. Holly, N.J., were going toward Winona. Wipf said that he was driving and that he pulled into the left lane of the divided four-lane highway to pass the truck.

He said that he was 100 to 150 feet behind the truck and that the truck turned from the right lane across the highway to cross into the southbound lane. He said that he tried to stop, but could not. His car hit the truck.

He, Mrs. Barry and one of the children were injured.

Sheriff George Ford said that he was first on the scene and that he helped the injured persons to get out of the car. He said that he waited for the Highway Patrol to arrive. When Patrolman Allison J. Heister arrived, the two of them checked the scene and the turn signals on Griffith's truck. He said that the signals were not visible from 50 feet behind the truck.

HEISLER TESTIFIED that it appeared to him that the defendant had turned from the wrong lane and that the defendant's turn signal could not be seen from 50 feet, because it was covered with dirt and dust. He said that the law states that the turn signal must be visible from 100 feet.

Jury members are Ralph Bamberg, 603 E. 5th St.; William S. Frank, 673 E. Wabasha St.; Mrs. Stephen S. Sadowski, 520 Glen View Ct.; Roy Andersen, 1300 Lakeview Ave.; Mrs. Albert M. Peterman, 228 1/2 E. 4th St.; and Mrs. Frederick G. Wild, 711 E. Howard St.

WABASHA CONVENT Open house will be held Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the recently completed convent, attached to St. Elizabeth's Hospital here.

The Rev. David Ryzka, hospital chaplain, will bless the convent in a private ceremony Tuesday afternoon, and then it will be opened to the public.

The convent, completing the $2.1 building program started by the hospital in 1961, has 29 sleeping rooms. There are 23 Sisters of the Sorrowful Mother at the hospital at present, with Sister M. Leonida as superior.

There's a recreation room in the basement under the two-story convent that will be used not only by the sisters but senior citizens residing in one wing of the hospital and other patients. It can be reached by elevator and stairs.

Principal structure in the building program is the 45-bed hospital, 280 by 45 feet, which was opened last December.

Count Cricket Chirps For Right Temperature

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A committee which has just completed a year's study says you can tell the temperature by counting the number of times a cricket chirps in 15 seconds and adding 37.

This and other tidbits are contained in a science guide prepared by the Committee for Elementary School Teachers in Arizona. The purpose is to pep up the study of science.

NOT COUNTING PORCHES

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—J. N. Waugh of Batesville, a house mover, says he's moved 3,000 houses in 22 years without an accident. Some of the houses went as far as 130 miles, he said, and often the occupants remained in them for the ride. The only trouble he had in 22 years, he said, was losing a front porch now and then.

HE ALSO mentioned these precautions for offices and other public buildings:

- The Christmas tree never should be placed near an elevator or stairway which would provide an upper draft.
- Trees should not be near doors or placed in any way so that they might block an exit. All doors leading to other parts of the building—particularly upper stairways—should be kept closed if the doors are anywhere near the tree.
- An inspection should be made each morning by someone in authority to determine whether the tree may be left up for a longer time or be lighted again.

RIVER FROZEN OVER . . . The Mississippi River went into cold storage Wednesday with a general freezing over. Ice existed from shore to shore with few exceptions in the Winona area. The closing date is about average. Earliest freeze ever on record was Nov. 20, 1880, and the latest general closing Jan. 21, 1953. In this view of the Mississippi along the levee only a small patch of open water remains. (Daily News photo)

Weather Puts Cover on River

The Mississippi River is in winter storage with a general ice in from La Crosse northward.

The near 10-below weather this week was too much for the open water and all but areas of extremely active current are frozen over.

The Dec. 12 date for the freeze-over is about average, a survey of the records reveal. The earliest date on which the Mississippi was frozen over was Nov. 20, 1880, and the latest in this area was Jan. 21, 1953. The closing last year was on the same day.

The river has been closed to navigation for some time, the last commercial tow passing through the Winona Lock, being the Carleis with eight barges downstream on Dec. 3.

A table of the closings since 1855 follows:

Slightly Colder Readings Friday

The respite from cold weather may be short-lived in the Winona area but nothing like the below zero spell the city suffered the first of the week is destined to return.

Today's variable cloudiness is expected to give way to mostly fair weather tonight and slightly cooler temperatures. A low of 5-12 is predicted for tonight and a high of 15-20 Friday. A little warmer with a chance of scattered light snow is the outlook for Saturday.

After dropping to a low of -9 Wednesday morning, the thermometer worked up to 17 Wednesday afternoon and remained mild overnight with a reading of 15 this morning and 19 at noon.

A year ago today Winona was in the depth of winter with 11 inches of snow on the ground and the thermometer down to -15. The high for the day was 16 above.

All-time high for Dec. 13 was 56 in 1891 and the low -21 in 1903. Mean for the past 24 hours was 8. Normal for the day is 21.

AND IF frost-bitten ears and tingling fingers and toes, sputtering cars and a general numbness that comes with a severe cold wave wasn't enough to convince you that Winona was getting a taste of winter, a check of the degree days will confirm your feelings.

Degree days, fuel men explain, are used to measure the amount of cold on a given day and are obtained by taking the average temperature for any 24-hour period and subtracting it from 65. In other words if the high for the day is zero and the low -10, then the degree days count would be 70.

Adding up the figures for the past seven days the degree day count comes to 343. Compare this with a total of 846 for all of November.

ever on record was Nov. 20, 1880, and the latest general closing Jan. 21, 1953. In this view of the Mississippi along the levee only a small patch of open water remains. (Daily News photo)

AS THE warmer weather moved into Minnesota today several communities, including Rochester, reported snow falling. The morning temperature at Rochester today was 14. La Crosse had a figure of 16.

While a low pressure system was moving over the region with a cloud cover in most areas and scattering light snow, forecasters said another cold front was on the way in from the northwest. However, this one won't be as intense as the one that invaded the five states Tuesday and Wednesday.

WISCONSIN'S sub-zero weather passed out of the picture today, but light snow moved in with climbing temperatures.

The snow was concentrated generally in the southeastern and northwestern parts of the state. Heaviest amounts were at Milwaukee, Green Bay, Racine, Park Falls, Superior, Wausau, Madison, Beloit and Rockford.

The early morning snowfall resulted in slippery conditions especially at intersections and in sheltered areas. Amounts of snow ranged from 1/4 to 1 inch.

Crossville, Tenn., set the nation's low temperature of 18 below zero early today. Thermal, Calif., topped the country Wednesday with 83.

Two Parties Name Recount Inspectors

State Republican and Democratic-Farmer-Labor heads released names today of their parties' selections for inspectors and alternates for the forthcoming recount of state gubernatorial ballots.

Each party was directed by a three-member panel of district judges Tuesday to file with the Ramsey County District Court clerk the names of 100 inspectors and 30 alternates by Wednesday. Friday is the deadline by which the two parties are to submit a mutually agreeable list of 100 neutral inspectors and 30 alternates.

ONE HUNDRED TEAMS, each composed of a GOP, a DFL and a neutral member, will receive instructions Monday and will begin the actual work of recounting Wednesday.

The state canvassing board ruled Republican Governor Elmer L. Andersen re-elected by 142 votes over the DFL candidate, Lt.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag. At the appellate, Rolvaag has posted a bond of $21,750 to guarantee expenses of the recount, although both parties agree the legislature should be asked to provide funds for the vast recapitulation which involves 3,785 precincts.

Arthur Swan, Rochester, 1st District GOP chairman, said the team personnel were asked to volunteer as much time as possible but that the possibility of the recount extending into January or February would make it necessary to pay salaries and expenses. The original court order, he said, set a pay maximum of $25 per day for persons doing the counting.

WINONA COUNTY DFL Chairman Duane Peterson and County GOP Chairman William P. Theurer were to meet this afternoon to pick neutral persons for the recount teams. Peterson said his party's choice was Hollis Larsen, business agent for Building Laborers Local 1316. John R. Breitlow will be the Republican member, according to Theurer.

Peterson said there was a possibility that two teams will be named from the county. In that event, he said, he would be the DFL representative on the second group. This would make it necessary for the chairmen to name two neutral members instead of one. Theurer could not be reached for comment on this possibility.

First District DFL nominees are: Peterson and Larsen, Winona; David Neiswanger and Lyle W. Heilman, Austin; Mrs. Guy Whitehead, Rochester; Demetrius Jettis, Red Wing; Leo D. Collins, Owatonna; Marian B. Clausen, Northfield; Ernest Petersen, La Crescent; Len Zawacki, Chalfield, and Robert Olson, Kasson.

DFL alternates are: Ardell Nemitz and Charles A. Lee, Austin; Guy Whitehead, Rochester; Lewis Klein, Zumbrota; John B. Friedrich, Red Wing; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Fredrickson, Hayfield; and Lillian Collins, Rose M. Olson and Victor E. Olson, Owatonna.

Special advisers for the DFL team will be: Mrs. Margaret Thompson and Mrs. E. C. Clark, Rochester; Douglas St. Angelo, Northfield; Mrs. Helen Duncan, Faribault; Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Gunderson, Mabel.

Republicans appointed from the First District: Breitlow; David Bishop, Rochester; Vance Granis Jr., South St. Paul; Ken Hotchkiss, Albert Lea; Norbert McCrady, Owatonna; J. Robert Stassen, South St. Paul, Arthur Swan and William Young, Rochester.

The GOP list, which was not assembled on a county-by-county basis, did not differentiate between inspectors and alternates.

Woman Injured In Collision

Mrs. Bernard Garrison, 51, 107 E. Howard St., is in satisfactory condition at Community Memorial Hospital today following an accident Wednesday in which she was thrown from a car.

The accident involved two cars and a parked car. It occurred at 2nd and Market streets at 12:05 p.m.

Mrs. Garrison was riding in the back seat of a car driven by her son, Roger A. Garrison, 23, 516 Franklin St. He was driving east on 2nd Street.

Mark D. Pellowski, 411 Hamilton St., was driving south on Market Street and hit the Garrison car on the left side. The Garrison car continued east on 2nd Street and struck a parked car owned by Donald J. Doerr, Winona Rt. 1. At this point Mrs. Garrison was thrown from the car.

She suffered several rib fractures in the accident. Damage to Pellowski's car was not reported by police, damage to Garrison's car was more than $200 and damage to Doerr's car was more than $50. Police issued no traffic citations.

Earlier in the day a panel truck and a 1 1/2-ton garbage truck collided at the junction of Highways 14 and 61. The accident occurred at 9:39 a.m. One driver was slightly injured and a passenger in the garbage truck complained of pain. Neither was taken to the hospital.

The panel truck was driven by Daniel L. Bronk, 17, 3677 6th St., Goodview, and the garbage truck was driven by Clarence A. Schewe, 55, W. 4th St. He was slightly hurt.

Bronk was driving east on Highway 61 and tried to turn left onto Gilmore Avenue. He did not see the other truck going west on Highway 14-61, according to police. Schewe told police that he did not see the panel truck either. Damage was more than $200 to each truck.

Lewiston Board Asking Informal Reaction to Plan

LEWISTON, Minn. — Lewiston Board of Education, at the suggestion of the state advisory committee on School District Reorganization, is asking voters if their decision to build their own high school stands, or if they would like to reconsider their decision on the central school question.

The board has completed a survey of the proposed site for the new school and will meet with the architects soon to approve tentative plans. At present the board plans to pick up its option on the proposed site, barring a sudden change of mind by voters, the board plans to proceed with the new structure.

Voters have until Dec. 22 to make known their feelings if they have reconsidered their vote and wish any changes.

Third Physician At Arcadia Clinic

ARCADIA, Wis.—A third doctor has been added to the staff of Arcadia Medical Clinic.

Dr. Hugo Schlagintweit, 44, Goodsoil, Sask., Canada, arrived Saturday to occupy the third unit in the community-built clinic.

A native of Germany, Dr. Schlagintweit attended medical colleges in Berlin and Heidelberg. After graduation in 1947 he practiced medicine at Heidelberg University Hospital and in other hospitals there. He spent one year at the 135th U. S. Army Hospital in that city.

He came to Canada in 1951 and practiced 10 years at Goodsoil. A Canadian citizen, he is married and has five children. Until housing can be arranged and his family can join him, he is staying temporarily at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Illegal Rum Blows Up in Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—A vat in an illegal rum distillation plant exploded Wednesday at nearby Carolinas, killing two men. Police said antiquated equipment probably caused the blast.

Voter Checks Show Interest in Sunday Closing

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A spot check of voter opinion indicates there may be some lively debate if a statewide Sunday closing law is introduced in the 1963 legislature.

A question on this subject in a Mood of Minnesota survey by The Associated Press drew responses ranging from wholehearted approval to steadfast opposition.

A Fergus Falls businessman says the situation is becoming critical. "A statewide law is the only solution."

At Willmar, Dick Gaspar, a druggist, told a reporter: "No, next they will be telling you what to sell."

Concern over Sunday closing has generally followed closely the activity of discount department stores, particularly in the Twin Cities area, where many are open on Sundays.

Some communities have enacted local-option laws prohibiting most commercial activity on Sunday. "Kicking the Sabbath around is immoral, but not illegal," noted a college librarian at St. Cloud. He's against a statewide law.

A Duluth attorney says there's no question that the state can regulate Sunday hours. "But I think the policy must be closely drawn so as not to interfere with the public convenience and necessity."

"The more laws we have, the less of a free country this becomes," said Mrs. Harold Flata, a Winona secretary.

A Red Wing man: "We should be able to set aside at least one day of the week when business ceases. Nobody would be the worse for it."

Many persons said a statewide law would infringe on rights of religious groups, such as Seventh Day Adventists.

"I consider it a real violation of civil liberties," said a Minneapolis attorney. He said it might work if all businesses were required to close one day a week, with no specification of which day.

Many citizens wanted no curtailment at all of Sunday selling. Others said local option is the best answer, with each community deciding on its own if stores should be open or closed.

Alabama Streets Slick With Ice

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The Mobile street cleaning department went about its usual duties of washing down the streets, disregarding the thermometer's slide to a low of 19 degrees Tuesday night.

The result: a slick sheet of ice on some streets in this city near the Gulf of Mexico.

Wisconsin Group Inspects Homes

City officials and civic leaders from Platteville, Wis., took a 1 1/2-hour tour Thursday of the Schaffner Homes for elderly persons here under the direction of Arthur A. Gallien, executive director of the Winona Housing and Redevelopment Authority.

The six-man delegation was here at the suggestion of U. S. Public Housing Authority officials in Chicago, Gallien said. They had visited a similar project in La Crosse and were on their way to Menomonie, Wis.

Members of the party were: L. C. Kindschil, mayor of Platteville; Clayton Henning and Frank Burg, aldermen; Dillon Baker, manager, Consumers Gas Co.; Marvin Rie, insurance broker; Dr. Walter, dentist; and Robert Bodden, manager of a radio station.

Gallien said all 39 units of the Schaffner Homes project have been occupied since Nov. 9.

THE TREE, he said, should not be set up until shortly before Christmas and then placed in the coolest part of the house. If it is necessary to place the tree near a radiator the radiator should be shut off.

"Under no circumstances use cotton or paper for decoration of the tree or around the tree," Stendman emphasized, "and electric trains should not be operated near the tree."

Before trimming, strings of electric lights should be inspected to make sure they're in good condition and that cords aren't frayed. Lights bearing the fire Underwriter's Laboratories inspection seal should be used.

Tree lights shouldn't be left burning when no one is in the house. From time to time the tree should be inspected to determine whether any of the needles have turned brown. If lights are near brown needles, location of the lights should be changed.

THE TREE should be taken down, Stendman said, when needles start to fall. If the tree is left up for a few days longer, lights should not be kept on for longer than a half hour at a time.

"If any decorations are used around the house," Stendman continued, "they should never be placed near chairs or other places where people may smoke. Decorations preferably should be placed near the ceiling, well above the head of anyone standing up."

If lights are used in windows (candles should never be used) they should be at least six inches away from curtains or other flammable materials.

HE ALSO mentioned these precautions for offices and other public buildings:

- The Christmas tree never should be placed near an elevator or stairway which would provide an upper draft.
- Trees should not be near doors or placed in any way so that they might block an exit. All doors leading to other parts of the building—particularly upper stairways—should be kept closed if the doors are anywhere near the tree.
- An inspection should be made each morning by someone in authority to determine whether the tree may be left up for a longer time or be lighted again.

U.S. Urges Khrushchev, Kennedy Phone

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP) — The United States proposed Wednesday the installation of a direct telephone connecting President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev as part of a detailed system for preventing war by miscommunication or accident.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean urged the 17-nation disarmament conference to give careful consideration to ways of keeping the world from blundering into war.

He introduced a six-point program for building up confidence between nations and insuring them against surprise attack or blows delivered by accident.

This whole field, Dean said, "offers opportunities for early agreement which should not be passed by."

He did not mention the recent Cuban crisis, but the proposals which he advanced would reduce the chance of a repetition of such a threat to peace.

The American document contained these major points:

1-The nations would give advance notice of major military movements to allay any fears of an aggression.

2-Installation of permanent observation posts at railway junctions, ports, key highway intersections and large airfields, plus observation by aircraft, mobile ground teams or overlapping radar systems to guard against sneak mobilization.

3-Exchange of military missions by the major powers as a confidence-building measure.

4-Communications links between major capitals to prevent war by miscommunication. A hot telephone between Washington and Moscow—or "purple line" as it is sometimes called—would fall in this category.

5-Studies of the ways in which modern weapons themselves might tend to touch off a war.

6-The various countries would make public the steps they were taking individually to prevent war by accident.

Dean stressed that all the proposals were subject to informal discussions and study to fill in details. He proposed that technical groups be established to do some of this work.

Oh No--Not the Loon

Cars of a lot of visitors plus those of residents of the loony state of Minnesota will be advertising Minnesota's state bird in 1963. It has been selected to grace the 1963 Minnesota $2 park sticker that rides around for a full year somewhere on the windshield of the park visitor's automobile or truck.

Maybe the selection of the crazy loon, as it is known through the resort area of the state, as park sticker is good advertising, but we can hear the guides say "Here comes another of those crazy loons that never fished in his life and wants to catch the limit the first morning and learn all about fishing." Probably the taverns up north will put up signs "Crazy Loons Welcome."

Park stickers, however, regardless of the picture on the sticker, have done a lot to improve Minnesota parks. The additional funds have given the state clean, wholesome parks with some improvements. More, of course, are needed to meet the growing use—probably the result of the sticker or the improvements. Park camping has increased tremendously in the last ten years.

Spring Is Coming Here is cheering news from the Minnesota Conservation Department—a definite assurance that Spring is just around the corner. May 4 may seem a long time away, but that is the date for the river opening in 1963. Here are the other fishing details as announced today:

They include a Saturday, May 18 opener, for walleyed and northern pike in inland waters. The season on large and smallmouth bass starts June 1 in the northeastern part of the state and June 8 in inland waters elsewhere.

Department Fisheries Supervisor Hjalmar Swenson said the synopsis of fishing laws and regulations are being printed and will be available shortly before the first of the year. Length of the various seasons will be released at that time. Most daily and possession limits will be the same as in 1962.

Opening dates include the following:

Walleyes and northern: Inland and Minnesota-Canadian boundary waters, May 18; Minnesota and Wisconsin, North and South Dakota boundary waters, May 4; Minnesota-Iowa boundary waters, May 11.

Bass: Northeast inland waters north and east of U.S. 53, Duluth to International Falls, June 1; other inland waters June 8; Minnesota-Canadian boundary waters May 18; Mississippi and St. Croix rivers below Stillwater bridge, May 4; St. Croix River above Stillwater, June 8.

Muskies: Inland waters, May 18; Minnesota-Canadian boundary, June 22.

Panfish and rough fish: Inland and boundary, continuous season.

Trout, brook, brown and rainbow: General season, May 4; special season on 23 North Shore streams, March 31.

Permanent Feed Grain Plan Urged

ST. PAUL (AP) — Congress should enact a permanent feed grain program, says the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association.

Closing their 25th annual meeting here Wednesday, FUTA delegates said a resolution that the 1963 congressional act on the subject is "completely inadequate."

"The law as it now stands would reduce prices and income of growers sharply and would endanger the stability of the livestock production and price pattern as a consequence."

The resolution asked that an improved program for 1964 and subsequent years be one into which the farmers would enter on a voluntary basis.

The convention further suggested that the program make it possible for producers, who in most instances produce both wheat and feed grains, to plant wheat on plant feed grains on wheat allotted acres to assist in flexibility and contribute to good farm management.

Delegates commended Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman for his efforts on behalf of constructive farm legislation and praised him for trying to improve the crop insurance program.

Other resolutions asked for an expanded REA program, strengthening the Soil Conservation Service, and more favorable freight rates for farm crop transportation.

Four directors were re-elected for three year terms. They are A. M. Larson, Beltrami, Minn.; Lloyd J. Michels, Medicine Lake, Mont.; Fred Ehlers, Hettlinger, N. D., and Harold Skaar, New Town, N. D.

Danny Kaye Has Appendix Out

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Stage and television actor Danny Kaye was reported in excellent condition after a Wednesday operation for acute appendicitis at St. Mary's Hospital here.

A spokesman for Mayo Clinic said the operation had been completely successful. There was no indication how long Kaye would remain in Rochester.

The spokesman said Kaye had developed a pain in his side during a stop of his private plane on a flight from Hollywood to Washington and decided to consult his physician at the clinic.

Kaye has undergone examinations here several times previously.

GOP Eyes 1964 Race Against Sen. McCarthy

By ADOLPH JOHNSON

Associated Press Staff Writer

Even before the results of the Nov. 6 election are complete, Republicans are beginning to talk about the 1964 election.

Search already is under way for a candidate to oppose Sen. Eugene McCarthy, whose first six year term will end in 1965.

The question of a Republican candidate is not officially on the agenda of a meeting scheduled this weekend, but it could come up, partly because five of those expected for the meeting will be regarded as possibilities.

Attending the meeting to lay plans for a cooperative Republican effort will be GOP National Committee member George Elzell and Mrs. Russell T. Lund, national committee woman; Robert Forsythe, state chairman and Mrs. H.G. Dillingham, state chairwoman; and the four Minnesota GOP members of the national House of Representatives.

Reps. Albert Quie, 1st District; Ancher Nelson, 2nd District; Clark MacGregor, 3rd District; and Odin Langen, 7th District, all would almost certainly be regarded as strong senatorial possibilities.

Also being mentioned as possibilities are Forsythe, Gov. Elmer L. Andersen, whether or not the recount shows him re-elected; and State Treasurer Val Bjornson.

Forsythe, as a former administrative assistance to Sen. Edward J. Thye and former assistant secretary of health, welfare and education knows his way around Washington. Both Andersen, if he is re-elected, and Bjornson would be in the middle of four year terms when the next election comes around.

A new national committeeman may be among those who will speak at a DFL dinner in Minneapolis Dec. 22 variously known as a "cliff-hanger" or victory dinner. It will be a victory dinner for DFL candidates who won offices, a cliff hanger affair for Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag who will not know whether or not he had been elected governor until after the recount is complete.

The DFL State Central Committee is expected to meet just before the dinner to name a national committeeman to replace Ray Hemenway, who resigned when he was named U. S. marshal. While a number of names have been mentioned, top DFL leaders say Rep. John Blumik appears to be the front runner at this point.

Defeated candidates for political office spend a good deal of time explaining why they lost. Here are a few of the reasons cited by defeated candidates for the legislature: last minute attacks that it was impossible to answer before election, use of union funds by opponent, a false accusation by opponent that defeated candidate favored a sales tax, wholesale destruction of lawn signs, and use of names of persons from outside the district in endorsing advertisements.

Fire Destroys Church, Home

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP) — Fires in Douglas County Tuesday destroyed the Cloverland Covenant Church and a Parkland home. A fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $40,000 damage to the church.

Firemen said they were hampered by four-inch-thick plank and cement siding in fighting a $2,000 fire at the Roy Winters home in Parkland.

Entertainment for Berlin Guards Set

BERLIN (AP) — Neues Deutschland, official organ of the East German Communists, told its readers Tuesday that families, factories and schools are planning to entertain guards from the Berlin wall on Christmas.

Most of the 12,000-man "people's police" estimated to be stationed directly on West Berlin's border are youngsters drawn from other parts of East Germany.

Minnesota Army Head Coming

Col. Clifford G. Simenson, Fort Snelling, Minnesota Sector Commander of the XIV Army Corps, will attend the monthly multiple training assembly here Sunday of the 419th Civil Affairs Company.

Col. Simenson is commanding officer of all Army reserve units in Minnesota.

Before his assignment as sector commander last fall, Col. Simenson was U.S. military attaché at Bonn, Germany, and was recently decorated with the Commander's Cross by the German government.

Also attending Sunday's assembly will be Maj. Harry J. Hymen, Rochester, former unit adviser, who will be leaving shortly for an assignment in Thailand.

Capt. Marvin D. Christensen, new unit adviser to units in the Southeast sub sector of the Minnesota command, will accompany the major.

All personnel at the training assembly will be served the traditional Army Christmas dinner—turkey and all the trimmings. The 419th mess personnel will prepare the dinner under Sgt. Don Younger, Winona, the unit's mess steward.

FIRST DIALING . . . Mrs. Evelyn Raymond, Trempealeau village clerk, makes the first dial telephone call at Trempealeau.

Trempealeau Gets Dial Telephones

TREMPEALEAU, Wis. (Special) — General Telephone Co. of Wisconsin converted the Trempealeau exchange to dial service Tuesday at 7 a.m.

The new modern dial equipment was installed in a new masonry type building here. Total cost of the conversion was $154,000, including the rebuilding of outside plant and new equipment. Trempealeau has now joined with many villages and cities throughout the United States that have all-number telephone numbers, the first step toward direct distance dialing which is the latest telephone advancement.

The dial conversion was preceded by a pre-dial information meeting at Memorial High School here Dec. 5. About 155 attended the meeting which consisted of demonstration of how to dial, displays of new equipment and a lunch.

$200,000 Damage At Gem Store

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Fire struck the GEM discount store in suburban Bloomington Wednesday night causing heavy smoke damage. One fireman was overcome by smoke and three others suffered minor injuries, two when a hose coupling separated. James Morgan, store manager, estimated damage at $200,000.

KENNEDY

article in the Saturday Evening Post, written by Washington newsmen Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, which gave an account of the council's deliberations during the crisis and the positions various members took.

Stevenson has denounced the account of his position as untrue and Kennedy made public a letter expressing his confidence in the U.N. ambassador. Because Bartlett is an old and close friend of the President, rumors immediately shot through the capital that someone in the administration was "out to get Adlai." Fears were expressed that an attempt was being made to undermine him at the United Nations.

Kennedy said: "I am surprised that anyone would possibly think that it would be in the interest of the country, or the administration, or the White House that any lessening of his influence would be provided."

The President assumed full responsibility for decisions of the National Security Council but declined to discuss positions taken by advisers in advance of his decision to wrap an arms blockade around Cuba.

The President reiterated, without specifications, his proposal to cut income taxes next year. He contended he and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, are not as far apart as a cursory reading of a recent interview with Mills might indicate. Mills, who conferred privately with Kennedy after the news conference, said in the interview that he opposed a "quickie" tax cut or reduction that would balloon the government's debt.

Kennedy said he would detail his tax program at a speech before the Economic Club of New York Friday night.

Kennedy touched on these other topics in the nationally televised and broadcast conference:

SPOOFS — Kennedy chuckled when asked what he thought of "The First Family" record in which Kennedy's voice is mimicked. His audience roared when he said, "I thought it sounded more like Teddy than it did me—so he's annoyed." Teddy is his youngest brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

COMMUNICATIONS — Relatively "instantaneous communication" with the Kremlin is desirable to eliminate delays such as occurred in exchanging messages with Khrushchev during the Cuban emergency.

BOYCOTTS — Persons who boycott stores selling goods imported from behind the Iron Curtain aren't waging much of a fight against the spread of communism.

NUCLEAR ROCKET — Not until tests are completed next July will the government decide whether to put more money into the Rover project to develop a nuclear-powered vehicle for deep space exploration.

VIET NAM — After pouring men and equipment into Viet Nam to counter Communist aggression, Kennedy said, "We don't see the end of the tunnel, but I must say I don't think it is darker than it was a year ago, and in some ways lighter." ALLIANCE FOR PROGRESS — Kennedy said the United States is deeply concerned over inflation in Latin America lest it "be disaffected and go to the radical left."

Commercial Truck License Increase?

MOST THINKING about how to provide more money for Minnesota highway construction points to an increase in our comparatively low state tax on gasoline. But the next Legislature might also consider upping the annual motor vehicle license fees which the big commercial trucks pay for the privilege of hauling freight over the public highways.

The State Highway Department's new report on 1961 travel over rural trunk highways points in this direction. The highway department weighs trucks around the state, finds where these trucks have come from and where they are going, gets truck operators' estimates on annual travel and average miles per gallon, and calculates what each truck pays the state in fuel taxes and license fees each year.

The results are interesting. The highway department calculates that the average single-unit farm truck (T plates) has a gross weight of 5.83 tons, travels 19,396 miles per year, and pays $87.21 in fuel tax and $22.81 for its license. Average revenue per ton-mile of gross weight works out to $0.0011.

THE AVERAGE single-unit non-farm truck (Y plates) weighs 5.60 tons gross, drives 28,358 miles, and pays $147.78 in fuel tax and $71.14 in license fees. Average revenue per ton-mile of gross weight is $0.0018—more than half again as much as the farm truck.

But the average tractor semi-trailer combination (Y-YZ plates) carries a gross weight of 21.56 tons, drives 78,470 miles per year, and pays $747.17 in fuel tax and $692.77 in license fees. Average revenue to the state per ton-mile of gross weight is only $0.0009—almost a fifth less than the average farm truck and only half the average single-unit Y plate truck.

"THE MOST significant item of interest," the highway department report remarks, "is that tractor semi-trailers, with the greatest gross weight and traveling the greatest number of miles annually, have the lowest rate of revenue per ton-mile." And yet it is these maximum highway loads for which all new highways must be designed and which add materially to the cost of base and surfacing required.

Are County Fairs At the Crossroads?

INDIVIDUAL COUNTY fairs, as such, may well be at the crossroads insofar as their future is concerned.

With most fairs dependent on volunteer, contributed labor, planning and thought, they are having an increasingly rough time of it to come out on top financially.

When a county fair—such as the Martin County fair—attracts a purported attendance of 100,000 people, yet manages to extract less than $3,500 from them, there must be something wrong. That is less than a nickel apiece. Yet that is the amount realized from admittances to the grandstand, the only direct contribution fair-goers make to the county fair.

THE CONCESSIONS do almost three times as well toward financing the fair, even though they contribute but a small percentage of what they take in. Concessions paid the Martin County Agriculture Society totaled over $9,000 this year, compared to the paltry sum taken in at the grandstand.

Assuming the "100,000" attendance is at least 50 percent correct, it would appear—if the fair board could get away with it—that it would be more profitable to provide something for which adults would willingly, gladly pay 50 cents admission to the fair on a "go anywhere, see everything for the price of admittance." Food, refreshments and rides, understandably, would not be included.

THAT THERE IS a certain amount of entertainment necessary is beyond dispute. But, the question is whether the concessions exchanging baubles for hard cash can be considered in that light. And some, we know, are not beyond indulging in a bit of gambling on the side. Not, of course, with the approval of the fair board or the fair grounds police. But, they get away with it.

The question is critical for the fair board with heavy emphasis on one particular angle: Would the public pay a 50-cent—or even a 25-cent admittance charge in return for a good, clean fair—with Grand-A grandstand attractions, perhaps a whopping fireworks program—and with the grounds entirely free of "clip joints"?

THERE ARE MANY who believe the public would welcome and patronize such a fair. There are others who feel—and really believe—that "you've gotta have a certain amount of (clip joints, girlie shows) if you want to get the crowd." Fairmont, Minn., Sentinel.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERP

With nary one fish to show for his day with rod and reel, an amateur fisherman stopped at a market on the way home and thoughtfully bought a dozen trout. He then ordered the fish man to throw them to him one at a time. "When I tell my wife," he explained to the mystified fish man, "that I catch fish—I CATCH THEM!"

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: The testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. (Psalms 119:7)

ROBERT C. RUARK

Much Business Done at Bars

NEW YORK—It is no secret that most of the business deals in certain areas of activity are put together in saloons, certainly the ephemeral operations that need a lot of talk-talk until somebody says: "That's it; call the girl with the pad and rustle up the lawyers." Possibly the best-rubbed quote in metropolitan business is: "Meet me at Jack's or Charlie's or Pete's for a booze, and let's kick it around."

Tavern atmosphere, whether it is for lunch, dinner, or just a slap of unvarnished hooch, is generally more conducive to inventive or creative thought than the usually austere and, most often, uncomfortable office. The grog plus atmosphere lubricates the tongue and shakes up the brain, and certainly an air of simpatico fellowship is established.

Weekends in the country similarly apply to a relaxed meeting of minds which may pay off in contract. Hunting trips, fishing trips—anything to get you away from paper clips, telephones, plate glass and the sterile atmosphere of an office, with its guardian array of secretarial watchdogs.

One of the best deals I ever made—it lasted 10 years, produced a rough 150 magazine articles, at least two books and bits and pieces of more—was handshake in a rowboat on a bourbon-and-branch weekend in the lake country. The money man and I, surrounded by peace and absolutely no activity from the fish, finally sorted out and "finalized," as they say in the ad business, what had been kicking around but wasn't quite jelled after more than a year of meetings.

AT EACH prior time the components of that deal had been juggled over a drink or lunch or a dinner in my home or in the homes of two or three other people. But it took a summer lake and a rowboat and an absence of hungry fish to finally whip the whole thing together. I suppose that, except for the final payoff, which resulted in bought-and-paid-for-copy, the exploratory meetings might all have been called frivolous.

In the agent business—I mean literary, involving magazine pieces, movie contracts, books of all sorts, any kind of new writing idea or contract—an interminable amount of time between agent and client, agent and customer, is spent in a series of lunches or cocktail conferences. In some cases days, weeks or even months in the house of the author, the purchaser, and the go-between are frequently contributive—and most people in this category take their work home with them.

HEAVEN ALONE knows how many goings-and-comings which pertain to a finished product can be recorded as absolute necessities. One deal might involve two or three trips to Europe, Africa or Asia—and I know some people who really commute in the name of true business from East Coast to West Coast and from Canada to Florida. A great deal of this could not be justified except by an end result. And sometimes, if the deal falls through, there is no justification in eventual payoff for time and money spent on the hustle. That's known as eating your work.

Even the cultivation of a favorable climate in the quarry-client's thinking can be a delicate thing, involving flowers to his wife or a series of thoughtful invitations to play. This is not advance payola—it is not even a fast hustle. It is a careful laying of foundation which might result someday in a building. These things cannot be easily determined by men who work for a fixed salary, go strictly by the book, and whose business expenses are established by a minimum per diem. But a good piece of the national economy depends on early intangibles.

'VENUS? I'M JUST AROUND THE CORNER! ARE YOU ALONE?'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Post Article May Hurt Stevenson's U.N. Work

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It has been only about a week since the Saturday Evening Post stood official Washington on its head, but the question of whether the President did or did not use his close friend, Newsman Charley Bartlett, as a means of meat-axing Adlai Stevenson is going to affect U.S. diplomacy for a long time to come.

It will be in the minds of United Nations delegates every time Stevenson makes an important motion; and in the minds of congressmen every time the State Department asks for a U.N. appropriation. They will be wondering whether, in each move, Stevenson has the full support of the President of the United States.

It's important therefore to know some of the still unpublished facts regarding what is now described as "The Saturday Evening Post Flap."

The phase of the Cuban discussion involving Adlai Stevenson began on Tuesday, Oct. 16, when he had luncheon with the President. Kennedy had just received the U2 photos showing clearly that Russian missile bases were being established in Cuba, and told him he had better have some clothes sent from New York and be prepared to spend the next few days in Washington.

STEVENSON did so. He went back to New York on Friday to make the "argument against admission of Red China into the U.N." but aside from that remained in Washington. The Saturday evening Post editors had him arriving in Washington only on Saturday, Oct. 20, but he was there most of the week. During the crucial debates of that week most of the national security members were hell-bent for an air strike to knock the Soviet missiles off the island of Cuba immediately. The Joint Chiefs of Staff were for this; so was John McCone, the militant chief of Central Intelligence who has become one of Kennedy's most important advisers; also Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon; and M. George Bundy, the White House adviser who is related by marriage to Dean Acheson.

Stevenson was easily the most vigorous opponent of the air strike. He argued that a strike would have to be followed by an invasion, and that once we sent troops into Cuba we couldn't get them out; it had taken us 14 years to get the marines out of Haiti.

HE POINTED to the effect on world opinion and the American image abroad if we perpetrated a Pearl Harbor, argued that we would look terrible in the eyes of the world if we took military action against Cuba without working through the organization of the American States which we had set up, and the United Nations which we had inspired and organized.

At first, Secretary of State Rusk did not take a firm position against an air strike. Stevenson was almost alone. He was eloquent and persistent. In the end it was Attorney General Robert Kennedy who turned the tide of argument.

"My brother," he said, "will never be a party to another Pearl Harbor."

THAT LED to the decision of a blockade against offensive weapons, later called a quarantine, which Stevenson had favored. Some participants believe that if it had not been for his argument, there might have been an air strike and almost certain war.

Former Secretary of State

Acheson, generally tagged as the "nonadmirer" of Adlai's who said he wanted a Munich, was not present during the debates of the crisis cabinet. Stevenson was.

Note—Stevenson proposed a negotiation of our Jupiter bases in Turkey and Italy, but only after Khrushchev had agreed to remove his missiles from Cuba. Our missiles in Turkey, Italy and England had already been declared out of date by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and a decision had been made to remove them.

Several public relations quirks contributed to the headlines rolled up around the world by the Saturday Evening Post. One was the fact that the magazine's enterprising publicity department sent out a letter to newspapers calling attention to the article and branding Stevenson's operations as "Neville Chamberlain type diplomacy." The letter, though later withdrawn, helped to direct emphasis in the stories that followed.

ON THE Monday that the first story broke, Stevenson flew to Washington, not because of the story, but to attend the meeting of the Security Council at which Averell Harriman was to report on his trip to India.

Concentrating on this important report, Stevenson did not raise the question of the Post article at the council meeting, nor did the President. But afterward, Kennedy saw Stevenson privately, was very apologetic, and read him the statement he proposed issuing through Pierre Salinger.

The statement subsequently was interpreted as weak. But Stevenson, giving it a hasty once-over, did not find it so. What neither he nor the President realized was that the press would give Salinger the most savage grilling of his career largely because the working press has long seethed at the privileged position occupied by Post-Author Charley Bartlett. For months they have watched him sail through the anteroom where they have to cool their heels and go directly to the President.

The manner in which they tore both the statement and the explanations of Pierre Salinger to pieces flowed from the practice, seldom indulged in by other recent presidents, of playing press favorites.

MEMORIES OF PROBLEMS

NEW YORK (U)—The handling of subscriber woes in the Theatre Guild ticket office for 40 years is giving Addie Williams plenty to remember during retirement.

Miss Williams, who recently stepped out of office, handled requests from 500,000 show fans during her career. Among problems she developed a knack for solving were: finding aisle seats for the lame, down-front locations for the estranged couples in widely hard of hearing and putting separated seats.

GRADUATES ARE WORKING

CHICAGO (U)—The U.S. Department of Labor reports, through Commerce Clearing House, that the national unemployment rate as of October 1961 among high school graduates was 16 percent; among high school dropouts 30 percent.

Today In World Affairs

Britain Has Role to Play

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Great Britain's special position in the world has lately been the subject of a controversy unwittingly provoked by Dean Acheson, former secretary of state of the United States. In a speech before a student conference on U. S. affairs at West Point a week ago, he said:

"Great Britain has lost an empire and has not yet found a role. The attempt to play a separate power role . . . based on a 'special relationship' with the United States, a role based on being the head of a 'commonwealth' which has no political structure, or unity, or strength . . . this role is about played out."

Now, Mr. Acheson's whole speech has to be read to get the true meaning he tried to convey. For, in a military sense, Britain is no longer a world leader and has no special position. But this is true of almost every nation except the Soviet Union and the United States, who alone possess great nuclear power.

Mr. Acheson did not and could not downgrade the influence of Great Britain in the world. For if there were a time when the decades of skillful experience in diplomacy developed in Britain were needed, it is today.

The British newspapers naturally reacted unfavorably to Mr. Acheson's speech. Some thought that maybe this was an expression of the viewpoint of the Kennedy administration, with which the former secretary of state has been identified recently as a spokesman at meetings of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The government here has made it plain that the speech at West Point was not an official expression but a personal view.

BUT WHY should it be necessary to speak of the role of Great Britain in the world as having undergone a climactic change? While Britain no longer has a vast empire, her influence is deeply imbedded in every commonwealth country. She lost her biggest colony in this hemisphere in 1776, and this did not mean the end of British influence in America. Throughout the years that have passed since then, Britain and the United States have often stood together to shape the policies of the free world.

But are military power and a large population really necessary for a nation in order to play a prominent role in world affairs? In a period of nuclear stalemate, it is more than ever the spirit and resoluteness of a nation in the councils of the world that can play an influential role in shaping the destinies of mankind.

BRITAIN HAS made mistakes in national policy and what nation, including the United States, hasn't? A young senior in Harvard in 1940 wrote a book called "Why England Slept." Now, 22 years later, he happens to be president of the United States and is confronted with criticisms that he, too, slept for a while as Russia built up a powerful offensive base for missiles in Cuba, only 90 miles away from the United States.

Mr. Kennedy is a realist, and, as he said in his book, World War II found us all unprepared militarily. He wrote: "We can't escape the fact that democracy in America, like democracy in England, has been asleep at the switch."

Just recently, however, the President in a speech was able to point with pride to the record of the United States in the last 17 years. "In the maintenance of freedom in the world," it is a record based not merely on military power but also on financial and economic strength, as well as moral force.

INDEED, as Mr. Kennedy pointed out over the weekend, it is the "will and courage" of a nation that are all-important. Nobody can ever forget the will and courage of the British people as the Nazi rockets fell upon their country day after day in the fateful years of World War II. Winston Churchill in 1938 wrote a book about the pre-war period entitled "While England Slept." And it was he, as prime minister, who was able to immortalize the British spirit with his famous speech on "Britain's Finest Hour." His address was delivered in Parliament even as the bombs were falling on London.

However stubborn British statesmen may be in their opposition at times to American proposals and however mistaken they may have been during the 1930's in carrying a sincere desire to avoid war to a point that is often called "appeasement," the fact remains that more than ever today restraint and resourcefulness of mediation-diplomacy are necessary to avoid a nuclear war. Many people still think that military threats and counter-threats will prevent the next war. There is also vehement criticism of the persons who advise caution and who are accused of going "soft" in a crisis.

To Your Good Health

What Age to Tell Facts Of Life?

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: When should parents tell their daughters the "facts of life"? I'm 13 and have not been told yet. What should I do?—M. C.

Good question, M. C. And a good, terse, sensible note.

By the age of 13, girls (or boys) have acquired some knowledge of the "facts of life." If they happen to live on a farm, they know a lot of them. However, the youngsters in cities, far in the majority, don't have that advantage. On the other hand, maybe they hear more (both correct and incorrect) from their schoolmates.

Now parents are sometimes quite a bit in the dark. (Believe me, I know what I'm talking about. I'm a parent, too!) We're never quite sure what our children know or don't know. Nor do we know what they are curious about, unless they ask us.

There are all kinds of parents. Some are too shy to talk much; some are too intent on telling their children everything they can think of, regardless of whether the youngsters are ready for such information. And nearly all of us are a bit afraid, frankly, that if we start talking about some of these things, our children will say, "Aw, Pop (or, Gee, Mother) I already knew THAT!" So we tend to put off our discussions. Not that we are unwilling, but we don't want to sound like dopes.

"WE'D RATHER (I think this is true of most of us) have our youngsters ask specific questions whenever they are puzzled or curious. "What's venereal disease?" "Why is petting dangerous?" "What's wrong with it going steady?" "How long does it take for the baby to grow before it is born?"

I recall, from some years back, a nice lady explaining (in the manner of her day) that "The stork is going to bring you a baby brother." And I remember, with satisfaction, that the little girl, then about 3, tactfully whispered to her mother, "Shouldn't you tell Auntie that babies really grow in mamas' stomachs?"

IF I WERE 13, I'd wait until one of my parents had a bit of spare time, and then ask something that I really wanted to know.

Anti-Santas Irk Kennedy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here's President Kennedy, getting set for his Florida holidays and may be hoping Santa Claus will be nice to him, when up pop Rep. Wilbur Mills and Sen. Harry Byrd, both of them anti-Santa Claus.

Just a few months ago Kennedy promised a 1963 tax cut for people and corporations to perk up the economy. This week Mills said he can't see any excuse for it and doesn't think the economy has been deteriorating.

For Mills to say this was almost like shooting the old gentleman in the red suit just as he got one foot down the chimney. It also created a problem for Kennedy which he didn't solve in 1962 and may not solve next year.

Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, is chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee which originates all tax legislation.

It was this group, where Democrats outnumber Republicans 15 to 10, which this year bottled up Kennedy's program of medical care for the aged. Mills was against it. He, more than any man, frustrated Kennedy on this one.

And Byrd, Virginia Democrat and chairman of the Senate's Finance Committee, says he is against a tax cut so long as government spending exceeds its income. A tax cut might make the deficit greater, at least for a while.

Byrd, who didn't support Kennedy in the 1960 presidential campaign, has opposed many of his programs. Because of his position as chairman of the Finance Committee he is a formidable opponent.

Yet, Kennedy has treated both Mills and Byrd very gently. His gentleness, however, has not been particularly persuasive, although Mills did help him out on other programs.

Kennedy has received a lot of support for his tax-cut proposal, inside and outside his administration. He was backed quickly by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Walter Heller, chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers.

The AFL-CIO wants a tax cut next year, just as it did this year. And the highly conservative U.S. Chamber of Commerce wants a cut. So did Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

Kennedy, unless he decides on an entirely new political strategy, will probably handle Mills and Byrd next year just as he did in the past: no visible arm-twisting, no name-calling.

This all seems to fit in with either the President's way of life or his idea of running the presidency: Avoid making individual enemies or group enemies, if at all possible.

There is a limit to how much this nice and delicate approach to politics will pay off if pursued indefinitely. Kennedy, from all appearances, plans to run for reelection in 1964.

He's going to have to go to the voters with some solid legislative performances, particularly those he made the most to-do about, like medical care and a tax cut.

If he gets neither before the 1964 elections he can't complain to the voters that the Republicans blocked him. His Democrats so outnumber the Republicans in Congress they could push anything through if they stuck together.

But they haven't stuck together. Mills and Byrd are prime examples of that. If Kennedy does not get rough with either of them in 1963 or 1964, he probably can expect from them what he got in 1962.

There is no evidence that he'd get more if he did get rough. Yet, since the gentle touch hasn't worked, the rough one might. So far Kennedy has shown no inclination to try it.

Guilty of Tax Evasion, Mayor of Hammond Resigns

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — Mayor George Chacharis of Gary, Ind., pleaded guilty Wednesday to a charge of conspiracy to evade federal income tax, then resigned as mayor.

The developments came near the end of a four-week trial of Chacharis and five associates.

U.S. Dist. Judge Robert A. Grant promptly accepted a government request that conspiracy charges be dropped against Sheriff Peter Mandich of Lake County; Chacharis' brother, Peter; and J. Diamond, the resigned mayor's chauffeur and manager of the Lake County automobile license branches.

That left two defendants in the prolonged trial. The jury is to return from a weekend recess to hear final arguments.

Judge Grant said the defense had informed him it would present no evidence in behalf of the remaining defendants — Willmar Chulock, Gary accountant; and Harold Zweig, Gary city engineer.

Chulock is charged with preparing the income tax returns in which Chacharis, 54, admitted he failed to report $225,686 in kickbacks from contractors doing business with the city.

Prisoners Riot At Dartmoor

PRINCETOWN, England (AP) — A riot involving 85 prisoners broke out in Dartmoor Prison Tuesday.

Before it was brought under control at least two guards were hurt, one seriously from cuts and head injuries inflicted with a pair of heavy shears.

The rioting occurred in the shop where prisoners make mail bags.

Telegraphers to 'Work by Book'

LONDON (AP) — The National Association of Overseas Telegraphists said Tuesday its members had been instructed to work strictly according to rules from Dec. 19 to 26 in a jurisdictional dispute with the Post Office, which controls the telegraph system.

By complying minutely with every rule in the book laid down by the General Post Office, the association's 1,500 members would cause heavy delays in overseas cables moving in and out of Britain, said an association spokesman.

The association issued the order because, it said, the General Post Office refused to recognize the association and give it negotiating rights.

3 Girls Take Sleeping Pills to Avoid Test

VERONA, Italy (AP) — A teacher found three little girls asleep in her fifth-grade class this week and couldn't waken them. An ambulance took them to the hospital. The children confessed they had taken sleeping pills to escape a test they feared they couldn't pass.

Barking Dog Saves Lives of Nine

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — A barking dog was credited with probably saving the lives of nine members of three Butler families Tuesday after carbon monoxide fumes seeped through their apartment building.

The dog's barking aroused its owners in a third-floor apartment. Firemen were summoned and awakened two other families on the second floor.

Mrs. Florence Bobbert, 46, was admitted to a hospital in fair condition. Her husband and a daughter were treated at the scene. They own the dog.

Detroit Firm Plans Taconite Plant in State

ST. PAUL (AP) — A liberal leader in the Minnesota Legislature said today prospects are good that a Detroit steel firm will spend up to $85 million on a new taconite plant in Minnesota. The plant would have an annual capacity of 1½ to 2½ million tons of taconite pellets.

Rep. D.D. Wozniak of St. Paul, assistant majority leader and chairman of the House Tax Committee last session, said he conferred in Chicago Wednesday about the matter with C. Thorne Murphy, vice president and assistant secretary of McLouth Steel Corp., 11th largest steel firm in the nation.

Wozniak said he conferred with Murphy, whom he met several years ago on a trip to Labrador with the Iron Ore Tax Study Commission, in his capacity as a member of the legislature.

"This company is interested in a joint venture looking toward building a taconite plant," said Wozniak. "They have been approached by firms now putting together blocks of taconite land."

Girl Gives Up Sight to Save Life

NEW YORK (AP) — A little Scottish girl has embarked on a lonely journey into eternal darkness. Surgeons Wednesday removed her one remaining eye, leaving her blind.

Fair-haired Margaret McKewen, 19 months old, spent 40 minutes on the operating table at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center while Dr. Algernon B. Reese performed the operation. It tentatively was termed a success.

The alternative to Margaret was death from cancer.

Her parents wavered uncertainly over their poignant dilemma. But eventually, spurred by the plea of a Good Samaritan, an American woman, they decided to give their child her chance at life, at the sacrifice of her sight.

Little Margaret is suffering from retinoblastoma, cancer of her eyes. She lost her left eye some time ago when she fell in the garden of her Glasgow home. It was in this operation that the cancer was disclosed.

Her father lost the sight of one eye as a child because of the disease.

Last month, Margaret's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew McKewen, flew the child to New York to see if her right eye could be saved. The trip was paid for by Mrs. Joseph Gales Ramsay III, wife of a retired Nevada financier. The American woman was touched by newspaper accounts of Margaret's plight which she read while a patient at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

Legislators Favor More School Aids

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota legislators generally favor increased state aids for elementary and high schools and for junior colleges, on the basis of their replies in an Associated Press survey, but not all of those who favor increases would be willing to raise income tax rates to provide the money.

Proposals have been put out by school groups to increase state aid distribution by as much as $130 million over the next two years.

Forty-nine of the 84 senators and representatives who sent replies said without qualification that they would favor increased aids. Only seven listed themselves as definitely opposed.

Two said "maybe," four said "a little," and four tied their approval to availability of money. Four more said aids should be increased "if we possibly can."

Three said they felt aids should be increased for grade and high schools, but not necessarily for junior colleges, and one favored more aid for junior colleges but not for grade and high schools.

The division on the question of raising income tax rates was 36 for to 27 against. Four others said they would vote to increase tax rates "only as a last resort."

There were suggestions from a substantial number of lawmakers that the money now being collected in income taxes would be ample to cover school aid increases "if it were properly apportioned" or "if there were no diversions."

In recent years considerable sums have been taken from the income tax school fund for educational purposes not connected with grade and high schools and some income tax money has been used for general revenue fund purposes.

Such diversions, though they have been resisted by educators and education groups, are within the discretion of the legislature, since the dedication of income tax receipts to school aids was by legislative act rather than constitutional amendment.

One legislator said he felt there should be more local effort before state tax rates are raised to provide school aid money.

Husband Admits Slaying of 3

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — A young husband confessed to police that he shot and killed his estranged wife and her parents in Arizona and then fled to California.

He left his year-old baby alive with the bodies.

"I was going to shoot myself in front of them," Raymond J. Hudgens, 22, recounted slowly after his capture here Wednesday. "Then I thought, 'Why not take them with me?'"

Hudgens unfolded the tale for detectives of how he fired at his wife Grace Mary, 20; and her parents, Myron Young, 67, and Dorothy Young, 55, until his pistol was empty.

Hudgens said he put his gun to his head after shooting the three victims but could not bring himself to pull the trigger.

The men were only half an hour from pouring the last concrete on the roof of the reservoir when scaffolding gave way.

Tito Supports Khrushchev on Cuban Situation

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia addressed the Soviet Parliament today and approved Soviet Premier Khrushchev's handling of the Cuban crisis. This seemed certain to increase Communist Chinese anger at the Soviet leadership.

The Yugoslav leader, expelled from the Communist fold as a "deviationist" by Stalin in 1948, told the Supreme Soviet that Kremlin and Yugoslav points of view "on all major international questions coincide or are close to each other."

34 Africans Killed In Earth Cave-in

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Thirty-four Africans were killed and 20 injured in a huge earth cave-in that swallowed a three-story plant Wednesday at the world's richest gold mine, West Driefontein.

Bodies of five workers were recovered. The mine management announced that attempts to recover any of the other 29 from the huge flooded sinkhole had been abandoned.

PRIORY USES BUILDINGS

AUBURN, Ky. (AP) — Buildings built by the Shakers, a religious sect which operated a settlement near here until 1925, are still in use. They are now part of the Priory of St. Maur, a Benedictine Catholic seminary. Relics from the settlement, called South Union, are displayed at the Auburn museum.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Kennedy Turns to Business Leaders

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy appears set today to turn to business leaders for aid. And the help he wants from these largely conservative men is in dealing with conservative leaders of Congress who are getting their backs up over any tax cutting while the Treasury is running a deficit.

Business and the President have had their well-publicized differences this year. So he will have some underlying suspicions to allay when he talks here Friday night to the Economic Club of New York.

Many of the most important industrial and financial leaders of the nation will be in the audience. And many are critical of what they regard as the administration's less-than-ardent love for Big Business.

But on the question of tax cutting—if he talks about it as most of his prospective audience now think he will—President Kennedy can count on considerable support. At the same time there will be a lot of sympathy for the position of the conservatives in the new Congress who think that government spending should be cut right along with taxes, if not first.

The President's task then will be to persuade conservative businessmen to urge conservative congressional leaders to vote for the tax cuts he has promised to submit early in the coming session.

It will be a neat trick. Businessmen in general feel that taxes are too high and are holding back the economic growth desired to create jobs for everyone who really wants to work. They also feel that a balanced federal budget over the long pull is needed to keep the dollar healthy.

At the same time, many of them are well aware of how their own companies prosper when they get government orders. And some know to their sorrow how plants can be closed and men laid off when a government contract is lost or canceled.

So cuts in government spending are fine in principal when the aim is to balance the budget without piling the tax burden even higher. But the cuts can be pretty tough to take when a particular producer or worker is involved. Few in the Friday night audience are likely to be very hopeful of any significant cut in total government spending, much as they will applaud any promise of efforts to economize.

And most are likely to favor any lightening of the tax burden on business and individuals—up to a point. That point is the highly debatable one of just how high a Treasury deficit can go before it becomes dangerous.

Father Officiates At Lake City Girl's Wedding

LAKE CITY, Minn.—Miss Elizabeth Marvel Schwertfeger, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Schwertfeger, and Jon Thomas Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hall, Arlington, Va., were married Dec. 8 at Trinity Lutheran Church. The bride's father performed the double-ring ceremony. Palm, white snapdragons and red carnations were decorations. Joan Schneider sang "Song of Ruth" and "Wedding Prayer" and Mrs. Ferdinand Weyland, Minneapolis, was organist.

MISS JUDI Anderson, St. Paul, was maid of honor and James Hall, Arlington, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Donald Jacobson, St. Paul, and Robert Rundquist, Red Wing.

The bride who was given in marriage by her cousin, Gary Schwertfeger, wore a peau-faced taffeta floor-length gown made with chapel train, sabrina neckline, three-quarter length sleeves, basque bodice, skirt trimmed with seed pearls and crystals. Her silk illusion veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and crystals. She wore an opal gift of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor wore a red brocade dress and matching veil. She carried white carnations. A reception for 300 was held in the church parlors. Both attended Bethany Lutheran High School, Mankato, Minn., and the bridegroom is stationed at Long Beach, Calif., on the USS Kearsage. The couple will be at home at Long Beach.

MR. AND MRS. LEVERNE HOLLAND, Spring Grove, Minn., announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Rita Marie, to Dean Odell Gjere, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gjere, Highlandville, Iowa. The wedding will take place Feb. 2, at Trinity Lutheran Church in Spring Grove.

Nancy Younger, William Jambois Exchange Vows

The marriage of Miss Nancy Kay Younger, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Younger, Fair Oaks, and William L. Jambois, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jambois, Genoa, Wis., took place Dec. 1 at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart.

The Rev. Donald F. Connelly officiated at the 12 m. nuptial high Mass. Bouquets of white pompons, chrysanthemums and huckleberry were used on the altar with candles in candelabra. Francis Guy sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus" and the Cathedral Girls Choir sang the Mass.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of ivory satin brocade fashioned on princess lines with fitted bodice, portrait neckline and three quarter-length sleeves. The bell shaped skirt was banded with satin. A paneled train, caught at the back waistline with a cabbage rose extended into a full cathedral train. Her tiered ivory silk illusion veil fell from a French cap of pearlized orange blossoms and studded lilies of the valley. She carried a colonial bouquet of red and white roses.

Miss Gayle Goetzman, Winona, was maid of honor and the Misses Edith Jambois, Genoa, and Charlotte Horihan, La Crosse, bridesmaids. They wore street-length dresses of American Beauty peau de soie styled with fitted bodices, bracelet-length sleeves and scoop necklines. Side panels were draped over their bell shaped skirts. Their headresses were matching circles of net held by small pillbox crowns. They carried colonial bouquets of white pompons. Patricia Topp, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length embroidered silk organza frock with white headress similar to the other attendants and carried a miniature colonial bouquet of red and white roses.

Frank Jambois, Genoa, was his brother's best man, Donald Younger, brother of the bride, and Norman Jambois, brother of the bridegroom were groomsmen and Jerry Gratke and Donald Flottmeier, La Crosse, ushered.

MRS. YOUNGER, mother of the bride, wore a midnight blue street-length jacket dress of Canton crepe trimmed with matching satin and a white feather hat. Her corsage was of white roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Jambois, wore a cocoa brown silk suit with a pale beige velvet toque and corsage of white roses.

White chrysanthemums and red and white candles were used to decorate the Flannings Room of Hotel Winona for the buffet luncheon and reception from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Mrs. Robert E. Miles, Mankato, Mrs. Hannibal Choate, Winona, and Mrs. Stebbins Younger,

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jambois

Chicago, presided at the tea table. Mrs. Joseph Orłowski played a program of organ music; Mrs. Frank Cunningham and Mrs. Culliton DeZell were in charge of gifts and Mrs. Jerry Gratke, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride, a graduate of Winona Senior High School, attended Hamline University, St. Paul, and is a graduate of Merced School of Nursing, Marshalltown, Iowa. She has been a nurse of the staff at La Crosse County Hospital, La Crosse. The bridegroom attended Aquinas High School, La Crosse, and Northrup Aeronautical Institute, Inglewood, Calif. He is a U.S. Army Ordnance inspector at the U.S. Ordnance Plant, Waukesha, Wis.

For travel the bride wore a blue wool sheath with leopard accessories. The couple will reside in Waukesha at 519 Glenwood Drive.

Parties were given for the bride-elect at Stewartville, Minn., by Mrs. M. L. Hansen and Mrs. Cloyd Lisk, Rochester, at the home of the former; by Mrs. John Topp, La Crosse; and by the Misses Choate, DeZell, Cunningham and Torkel Sunde at Mrs. Choate's home.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY MARKS, Mondovi, Wis., announce the engagement of their daughter, Melitta Meurige, to Edwin M. Schaffner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Schaffner, Fountain City, Wis. No wedding date has been chosen. (Wehrenberg Studio)

Lutheran Women Hold Program At Spring Grove

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special)—Christmas decorations on the tables in Spring Grove Lutheran Church parlors made the setting for the December meeting of the Lutheran Church Women Tuesday afternoon.

A Christmas playlet, "A Family Festival of Life," given by Mrs. Iver Gulbranson and her daughter, Cheryl, and Mrs. Palmer Bergsgaard and Susan Osgard included group singing of familiar Christmas songs. Mrs. Milton Howard played the piano accompaniment.

Anna and Elsa circles provided the program and decorated the tables. Officers of the circles are the Mmes. Bennie Kolsrud, Milford Landson, Palmer Bergsgaard, R. A. Wilhelmson, Leslie Solie and Melbourn Forde. The Christmas story was read for devotion by Mrs. Marland Bjork. Mrs. Orville Wermager emphasized the American Lutheran Church in the stewardship meditation.

Stewardship secretary, Mrs. Almer Sylling, introduced committee chairmen who reported work done in 1962. These were Mrs. Alphy Solberg who told of 15 boxes of clothing packed at Thanksgiving; Mrs. Hans Tveeten who reported on new women visited during the year; Mrs. Arnold Morken who told of the organization of the Altar Guild and its activities and Mrs. Ernest Gaustad whose committee has kept in touch with servicemen of the congregation and packed Christmas cookies. Mrs. Sylling reported on the bi-monthly birthday parties held at Pine Grove Rest Home with Mrs. Owen Osgard, chairman. Mrs. Albert Holm, Christmas cheer chairman, thanked members for their gifts.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 2 in the church sanctuary. Mrs. William Kiehne, conference president, will be guest speaker. Education and stewardship secretaries and chairmen of the circles will have separate meetings at 7:15 p.m. prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Glennys Tollefsrud was chairman of the hostess committee and Eunice Circle was in charge of the nursery.

Spring Grove Legion, Auxiliary to Furnish Hospital Room

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special)—A Christmas tree and holiday table decorations were the setting for the Legion Auxiliary meeting in the clubrooms Tuesday.

Mrs. Mervin Dvergsten presided at the business meeting at which it was voted to furnish a room at the new hospital to be completed here in the spring. They will do this with the Legion, at an expenditure of about $300 over a period of three years. A $5 gift for items for hospitalized veterans was allowed. Mrs. Dvergsten and Mrs. Wilhelm Ostern reported on highlights of the fall conference which they attended.

Mrs. Dvergsten stated that $22 was cleared by the Auxiliary on the lunch project at the Jewel Box open house. The auxiliary will serve refreshments for the Osgard State Bank's annual open house Saturday. Mrs. Vernon Bratland and Mrs. Irvin Kemp are chairmen.

Gifts were exchanged during the social hour. Mrs. O. G. Ellingson and Mrs. Arnold Houker were chairmen assisted by the Mmes. Arnold Flatin, Harold Ellingson, Vernon Eddy, Odell Ganrud and Ernest Ellingson.

Junior Auxiliary members had a Christmas party and prepared Christmas gifts for their mothers. Gold Star Auxiliary members and the hospital rest home Tuesday afternoon. Supper was served by the Mmes. Verdel Benson, Wilhelm Ostern, Oren Lansverk and Doris Lansverk.

LIBRARY CLUB PARTY

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. (Special)—The Library Club held its annual Christmas party at the Golden Frog Supper Club Dec. 5. Cards were played and gifts were exchanged. Nine members and a guest, Mrs. Ruth Hedberg, were present. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Frieda Joos Jan. 29 at 7 p.m.

Eyota Legion Auxiliary Assembles Christmas Baskets

EYOTA, Minn. (Special)—Christmas baskets to be distributed to the needy were assembled Monday evening by Eyota American Legion Auxiliary. The baskets will be delivered next week.

During the business meeting reports on the fall conference were given by Mrs. Gordon Hardtke and Mrs. Harry Armstrong. Mrs. Leo Fix resigned as treasurer. A magazine subscription to St. Cloud Hospital will be sent this month from the group.

Mrs. James Hermes, 1st District president, Winona, and her daughter were special guests. Mrs. Hermes talked on membership. A discussion on establishing a junior group followed.

Anyone interested in hearing the first tape on communism will be welcomed to the Jan. 3 meeting of the auxiliary at the Harry Armstrong home.

Hostesses Monday were Mrs. Sylvester Ellringer, Mrs. Lucy Branch and Mrs. Russell Jensen. Christmas songs were sung by the group and games were played during the social hour.

DES MOINES (AP)—Oren Lee Staley, Rea, Mo., received $6,765 as president of the National Farmers Organization NFO for the year ended last Sept. 30.

Staley's salary and the pay of other national NFO officers and directors was announced today at the organization's annual convention.

Delegates voted not to reveal the NFO's financial report but they approved an amendment calling for immediate disclosure of the salaries of officers.

The report showed $73,607 was paid to officers and directors in the past year.

Bob Casper, Winterset, Iowa, vice president, received $4,540; Treasurer William Ryner, Winterset, received $607; and Secretary Hal Noland, Adair, Iowa, received $887.

Salaries paid to directors included Alfred Morris, Kasson, Minn., $3,015; Clarence Ewart, Mountain Lake, Minn., $2,920; and Kenneth Stofferahn, Humboldt, S. D., $1,127.

Ettrick Firemen Rename Officers

ETRICK, Wis. (Special)—All officers were re-elected at the 33rd annual business meeting of the Ettrick volunteer fire department Tuesday evening.

They are: Albert Gunderson, chief; Henry Knutson, captain; E. O. Runnstrand, secretary; John Sorenson, assistant secretary and Robert Olsdal, assistant chief and treasurer.

Four members, still active, have served continuously for 33 years. They are Julius Johnson, James Wall, E. O. Runnstrand and Albert Gunderson.

Wives of the firemen were entertained at a banquet at Ettrick Community Hall Monday evening. The dinner was served by the Erickson Cafe.

The annual firemen's ball will be Jan. 11.

Lions at Lewiston Hold Yule Party

LEWISTON, Minn. (Special)—Dinner for 28 was served by Cly-Mar Lanes restaurant for Lewiston Lions Club and wives Wednesday night.

A progress report on the project of the month, the fruit cake sale, was made. The committee for youth activities contacted the Village Council for final arrangements for the warming house at the skating rink.

Lewiston chapter, FFA, led by Steve Nahrgang, president, demonstrated "Parliamentary Procedure and the Model Meeting." Ten boys and their adviser took part.

Roger Laufenburger led the audience in Christmas carols.

Linda Bunge Plans June Wedding

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Byron Bunge, Caledonia, announce the engagement of their daughter Linda Marie, Minneapolis, to Roger Sorum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sorum, Northrup, Minn. A June wedding is planned.

Ettrick Area Youth Pinned Against House After Truck Rolls Back

ETRICK, Wis. (Special)—Neal Lewison, 16, is in serious condition at the Black River Falls hospital with a fractured leg and pelvis. Neal was crushed Sunday between a milk truck and a house at the Hans Morken farm near Taylor. The truck, driven by Leonard Lentelman, stalled at the Morken home and rolled backward, pinning Lewison between the house and vehicle. Lewison was taken to the hospital by an Ettrick ambulance. Both Lewison and Lentelman live in Shake Hollow between Ettrick and Melrose.

Red Wing Businessmen Check Winona Industries

Full operation by Winona Industries' new branch plant in Red Wing is set for early spring, a group of visiting Red Wing business leaders was told here Monday.

The Red Wing businessmen toured the Winona plant and were shown the various phases of production, most of which will be duplicated at the Red Wing plant. The firm will occupy a building recently vacated by a fiberglass fabricator in the Red Wing industrial park. The branch there will be known as Red Wing Industries, Inc.

By PHIL DUFF
Daily Republican-Eagle
Winona Industries is an alert, production-minded firm that knows how to convert sheet plywood and hardboard into complex wooden cabinets with a maximum of economy and efficiency.

Only three years old, the company has an aggressive management and is oriented toward growth.

For employees, it makes a congenial place to work with virtually all pay rates based on an incentive system that rewards production teams for their performance.

THESE WERE the impressions that a group of Red Wing businessmen obtained on a visit Monday to the home plant of what will soon be Red Wing's newest manufacturer.

Winona Industries will take over the vacated Red Wing Fiberglass building in Industrial Park next month and will begin manufacture of cabinets for portable phonographs early next spring. The firm will operate here as Red Wing Industries, Inc.

Winona Industries is now nearing the end of its third year in the old, three-story plant of the former Pepia Pickle Company in east Winona.

PRODUCTION is organized around three basic departments—saw room, "box shop," and assembly.

The first has a series of wood-working drills, routers, and saws to cut the basic cabinet pieces out of plywood sheets. Hardboard pieces are stamped out on big punch presses, one of which will be installed in Red Wing.

Saw room operations provide the basic for unique corner designs on Winona Industries' cabinets. The end of one piece is sawed into a series of square pegs, while corresponding round holes are drilled into the matching cabinet side.

Later, after a dipping in glue, these square pegs are driven into the round holes, and the corner is tightly locked. This design also provides the corner lip that many phonograph cabinets feature.

THE "BOX SHOP" is where sawed pieces are put together into completed but unfinished cabinets. Five parallel production lines can be put into operation, and the department has turned out as many as three thousand cabinets in a day.

Cabinets go next to the assembly department, where they are covered with a plastic-coated paper embossed to put a grain into the surface. Here the cabinets change from neat, wooden boxes to the attractive cabinets that you see on sale in retail stores housing portable phonographs.

Winona Industries' saw room is manned entirely by men. The "box shop" production lines are about evenly divided between the sexes with perhaps a few more women. And the assembly department is all women, except for cutting the covering materials and packing at the end.

Overall, the Winona plant has two-thirds three-fourths women workers. About the same proportion will prevail in Red Wing.

UP UNTIL a few weeks ago, Winona Industries had 325 people at work, but the number is less now as the season tapers off. July to November is the busiest time of year, pointing toward Christmas trade, but production starts picking up in March. December until March is the year's slowest time.

In Red Wing, the firm expects to employ up to 150 people. First workers will be hired along with installation of machinery early in January, but production hiring won't come until late February or March.

Winona Industries — and now Red Wing Industries — are the joint creation of three men who were all working for a firm producing similar cabinets and then left to go into business for themselves.

These three are William C. Wernz, president and general manager of Winona Industries; Leif Holan, vice president and chief engineer; and Rudy Meisbauer, treasurer and the man in charge of sales and purchasing.

THE FOUR men chose Winona for their operations because Waters-Conley in Rochester was to be—and still is—a prime customer and because the big, old 60,000-square-foot pickle plant was available.

Eugene (Bud) Vogel, the man with nine children who will manage the Red Wing plant, joined Winona Industries only recently but he's known its principals for some time.

Vogel was president of the Arcadia, Wis., Lions club when the company with which Wernz, Holan, and Meisbauer were once associated was looking around for a cabinet factory plant site.

They chose Arcadia, and Vogel was subsequently head of the Arcadia industrial development group which raised funds and erected a building to lease to the new manufacturer.

The man who first tipped off Winona Industries about the 40,000 square-foot building available in Red Wing Industrial Park was former Red Wing Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Morse. Morse is now in charge of Winona's industrial development group.

In addition to phonograph cab-

No Cutback Here, President Says

No cutbacks in production or employment are planned for the Winona plant of Winona Industries, President William Wernz said today.

If anything, Wernz said, addition of a branch at Red Wing will mean stepping up some operations here. Preliminary work on most of the firm's products will be done here with materials transported to Red Wing for joining and finishing. The Red Wing plant will be used chiefly for assembly, Wernz said.

The expansion move reflects an increase in total business for the company, Wernz said.

Winona Industries also manufactures a shoe shine kit box with a foot rest on top and shoe polishing equipment inside.

CASTING about for diversification, the firm also has fastened a covered seat and back rest to the metal frame of folding chairs.

Officers of Winona Industries say they are well pleased with the large, one-floor building which Paul Lawrence is leasing them in Red Wing Industrial Park. In fact, if they'd set out to design a building for their expansion plans, they would hardly have made it any different.

Winona Industries already has sketched detailed blueprints of how its production will be organized in the Red Wing plant. Some machinery already has been purchased for shipment to Red Wing, and other pieces are being made in the Winona plant's maintenance department.

Freeman Cites Problems of Farm Controls

CHICAGO (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said Wednesday that supply management, or government control of farm production, is tied to both domestic and world problems.

The secretary, in a speech before the agricultural policy forum of the Chicago Board of Trade, also said he is concerned about increasing evidence that Europe's Common Market is leaning toward a highly protectionist, trade restrictive policy where agriculture is concerned.

Defending his supply management policy for the American farm, Freeman said management of this country's abundance cannot be done by "allowing the so-called laws of supply and demand to determine production and prices of farm products."

Freeman again threw his support behind the two-price wheat certificate program Congress passed for the 1964 wheat crop which will go before wheat farmers next spring in a referendum.

"If the program is not approved in the referendum, it will be disastrous for the great majority of farmers and will lead to chaos in both domestic and world markets," Freeman said.

HOUSTON LEGION PARTY

Computer Workshop Set at St. Teresa Saturday Afternoon

A two-hour workshop on teaching programming of arithmetical problems for computers will be conducted at 1 p.m. Saturday at the College of Saint Teresa's Roger Bacon Center by Miss Joan Tanzer, White Bear Lake, Minn., teacher.

This is the first workshop in the Teresian mathematics department's new program of instruction in computer operation and programming. Miss Tanzer has demonstrated programming to eighth graders at University High School. It is at this level that the workshop will be conducted.

The workshop is part of the college's effort to inform mathematicians in education and industry about computer operation and programming. All area mathematics faculty members and other interested persons have been invited to the workshop. Faculty members of the Teresian mathematics department are Sister M. Thomas a Kempis, OSF, Sister M. Leontius, OSF, A. C. Nydegger and Miss Margaret Roth.

George E. Sokolsky Dead in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—George E. Sokolsky, 69, veteran Hearst publications columnist, died Wednesday of a heart attack. Sokolsky was a spokesman for conservatism in the United States for a generation, both as a New York Herald Tribune columnist in the 1930s and since 1944 as a Hearst writer. His column was carried in 299 newspapers. He was born in Utica, N.Y.

Sokolsky's daily article appeared on the Editorial page of the Winona Daily News for years.

Pork, Beef Featured As Best Buys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
That sharp nip in the air means quickened Christmas shopping, heartier season cheer and, alas, higher produce prices.
Housewives may not see too many signs of change at supermarkets this weekend, but there are several indications of seasonal jumps.

An unusual cold snap in Florida this week damaged thousands of acres of peppers, celery, eggplant, tomatoes, beans and sweet corn. This may well be translated later into higher prices in stores over the nation.

The heavy budget items of meats and poultry, however, have not risen and many good bargains are available.

Pork is especially attractive in many stores. Loin roasts, chops, smoked picnics, smoked hams and bacon are special attractions.

Beef bargains include chuck roasts, sirloin and round steaks, ground beef, stew beef, and short ribs.

Turkeys are flowing into the market from cold storage and many markets reported lower prices. Broiler-fryers continue a good buy.

At vegetable counters currently, best buys are in cabbage, carrots, sweet potatoes, squash, potatoes, onions and lettuce. Regional attractions include broccoli, kale, mushrooms, spinach, collards, radishes, eggplant and rutabagas.

Fruit features include apples, avocados, grapefruit, oranges, bananas, tangerines and tangelos.

Farmer Watches Barn Burn Down

LITTLE FALLS, Minn. (AP)—Lawrence Allen and his family were watching television Wednesday night about 10 p.m. when he looked out a window, saw a red glow in the sky.

Investigating, Allen discovered his large barn in flames. He called firemen from Little Falls and Randall, who devoted efforts to saving the house and other buildings.

Allen said he could make no immediate loss estimate. It included 17 cattle, 3 sows and several hundred bales of hay.

House Shingles Off At Wrong Address

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—M. B. Sewell returned from a fishing trip and found all the shingles ripped off one end of his house.
An investigation revealed that an aluminum-siding firm had contracted for a job at 108 West Stadium Drive. Sewell lives at 108 East Stadium Drive.
The company agreed to replace his shingles.

Teachers in Minneapolis Get Raises

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A two-step salary boost for 2,800 teachers, estimated to cost the city more than $1 million next year, was approved Tuesday by the Minneapolis School Board.
Beginning instructors, now at a $4,700 rate, would go to $4,800 on Jan. 1 and $4,900 July 1. Starters with masters' degrees would rise to $5,250 and $5,400 from their present $5,100 level, and with their maximum now $8,275, raised to $8,575 and $8,875.

Belgian Major Will Head NATO's Force

Widow Dies in Royalton Fire

ROYALTON, Minn. (AP)—An elderly widow was killed early today in a fire that destroyed her home about two miles north of Royalton.
Mrs. George Campbell, 75, lived alone in the house near Highway 10. Her body was found in bed after firemen extinguished the blaze.
A neighbor some distance away spotted flames leaping from the house about 1 a.m. Firemen were unable to enter the house because of the intense heat, according to Tom Cairns, Royalton police chief.

New Telephone Building Started At St. Charles

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — Construction has started by Walter Lumber Co. on a 1,312-square-foot building which will house dial equipment for improved telephone service here.

Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. announced that the building is part of a $280,000 project that will bring dial service to St. Charles by August.

THE BUILDING is being constructed on the back portion of the lot where the present building is located. Northwestern Bell purchased the telephone company in 1937.

The present switchboard is in a building which first served as a bank. It was two stories high until 1903, when the top floor was destroyed in a tornado. Later it was used as a jail until taken over by People's Telephone Co. W. E. Gordon, now about 86 and living in Chatfield, was manager 24 years.

Among mementos of early telephone service here is a telephone book printed in 1913 which warns the reader not to use the instrument during a thunderstorm, not to use it between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. except in emergencies, and "ring off when you are through talking."

Profane or obscene language was strictly forbidden over the telephone.

Telephone service in 1923 cost $2.75 on business lines, $1.75 on private lines, and clubs and lodges were charged $1.50.

Subscribers grew from 630 in 1946 to 1,510 in 1962, with almost the same number of operators, according to John Hynes, present

Is Your Bottle Warm, Aunt Brenda?

WITOKA, Minn. (Special) — Unscramble this one: Brenda Jean Budnick, Winona, was born Nov. 29, 1962. Her aunt, Shelly Rene Fabian, Witoka, was born Dec. 6, 1962.

Brenda's brother, Brian, celebrated his first birthday on the day she was born.

Brenda's uncle, Scott Fabian, Witoka, celebrated his second birthday Dec. 6.

Brenda's and Brian's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Budnick, 87½ E. Wabasha St., Winona. Shelly's and Scott's folks are Mr. and Mrs. Emil Fabian, Witoka. Mrs. Fabian and her daughter, Mrs. Budnick, were in the same room at Community Memorial Hospital, Winona, when their last babies were born, a week apart.

manager. He said there were six operators in 1916 and eight now.

In 1951 the office handled 3,269 long distance calls, compared with 6,833 this year so far.

In 1961 the company changed from magneto to common battery telephones.

ST. CHARLES people are beginning to wonder if dial telephones will adequately take the place of present "telephone girl" service, which gives information regarding train times, etc.

This year Mr. Hynes and Mrs. Joyce Heim were cited for saving the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kemp in an emergency, a service that dial phones could not do.

"What will happen when we can't call and ask, 'Is the school bus going today?' 'Where is the fire?' or 'Who won the game?'" one subscriber asked. "While it drives the operators wild, they are still courteous."

Working with Hynes on the present staff are William Glover, lineman; Miss Violet Moore, chief operator, and Mrs. Robert Calahan, service representative.

It's Different In Sweden, Girl Tells Rotary Club

Laundry once a month, big formal dinners with wine or beer with every course and young men who put you on a street car to find your own way home are a few of the things that an American girl in Sweden has difficulty fitting into her way of life, Karin Lundholm, Hopkins, told the Rotary club at its luncheon at Hotel Winona Wednesday.

Miss Lundholm, the Rotary exchange student from this district, spent a year as a graduate student at the University of Stockholm and enrolled in that college's international group, consisting of 160 students from throughout the world.

Her scholarship, she pointed out, was financed by a $2,300 grant from the $2 million Rotary International Foundation. The scholarship goes to 134 students annually.

Unable to find suitable housing, Miss Lundholm took a room with a private family. It took time to get into the family circle. Swedes live in small family groups and do not mix generally.

Sweden is much like Minnesota — scenery, forest and lakes. Landscapers and reindeer are a problem, since they move freely in the three northernmost counties.

The unionized society, with its free medical care, impressed her favorably as did the abundance of American products everywhere. Her impression was that half of the products sold in the stores were made in America.

Swedish Rotarians entertained her royally. She was a weekend guest in many of their homes. On one visit, she stepped from a dance at midnight to find it daylight outdoors with a big sun in the sky—the midnight sun.

Military preparedness is very important and everyone seems to have some military assignment, she said.

Defendant Wins Affections Suit

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — After about seven hours of deliberation a Wabasha County jury returned a verdict Wednesday night in favor of the defendant in an alienation of affections case.

Ed Haeser Jr., Minneka, was foreman of the jury, which deliberated from 12:40 to 7:50 p.m. on Charles S. Hofschulte's case against Harold VonBergen. The former Mrs. Hofschulte now is Mrs. VonBergen.

Hofschulte was represented by Thomas Wolf of O'Brien, Erick & Wolf, Rochester, and VonBergen by Robert R. Dunlap of Burkhardt & Dunlap, Plainview. Parties to the case are both of Mazeppa.

Judge Leo F. Murphy, presiding, ordered the jury to return for duty Monday at 9:30 a.m.

'Tiger' Talk Wins Special Award at Toastmasters Dinner

Duane Peterson won the Spark-plug award at the dinner meeting of the Hiawatha Toastmasters Club Tuesday night at Hotel Winona.

His topic was "Hold That Tiger." He explained what meeting stress people's actions in time of stress. Peterson said that man holds two tigers, one inside of him and one loose chasing him. He said the stress is caused by man's trying to escape from the loose tiger.

Robert Collins discussed "Man Is By Nature a Social Animal." He explained how man cannot live without friends. George Meyers spoke on "The Good Sign," dealing with fingerprints.

Clarence Bell was toastmaster and Mel Becker was topicsmaster. Ervin Laufenburger was general evaluator.

Quie to Visit Schools, Colleges

Rep. Albert H. Quie will be in Winona Friday to visit educational institutions and discuss possible legislation affecting higher education.

He will visit the Winona Area Vocational Technical School at 9 a.m. at the invitation of Thomas W. Raine, vocational director. Raine said Quie will tour the school to acquaint himself with the facilities and types of instruction offered.

At 10 a.m. the congressman will meet with Dr. Nels Minne, president of Winona State College; Brother I. Basil, FSC, president of St. Mary's College, and Sister Camille, president of the College of Saint Teresa. The meeting will be in Sister Camille's office.

The meetings will be part of a series of conferences Quie is holding with 1st District educators this week. Quie is a member of the House Education and Labor Committee and recently completed a series of subcommittee hearings on higher education.

Quie Criticizes Reductions Made In Farm Program

RED WING, Minn. — "Secretary Freeman is making a major mistake in administering next year's feed grains program," Cong. Albert H. Quie (R-Minn.) said here this noon.

Quie said that he expected the Secretary of Agriculture to make a 50 percent diversion payment as was done in 1961 and 1962. The diversion payment is figured at the county price support rate times 50 percent of a farmer's normal production. Instead of 50 percent the secretary in 1963 will pay only 20 percent on the first 20 percent of a farmer's feed grain acres which he idles as prerequisite to price supports.

According to Quie, this means that if a farmer received $35 per acre in diversion payments in 1962 his payment will be cut to $14 in 1963.

The congressman stated that Freeman's actions will cause a second major change in the intent of the Congress.

"In order to quickly bring an end to the surplus of feed grains which has been stored at great cost to the taxpayer, we intended to permit a farmer to idle up to 50 percent of his feed grain acres if he elected to do so," Quie said. Quie explained that under such a program the farmer would make the choice of idling between 20 percent and 50 percent of his land in the event he wanted to take part in the program.

"Secretary Freeman now only permits a farmer to idle up to 40 percent of his acres," Quie added.

Quie admitted that there have been some faults in the feed grains programs of the past two years but he also expressed belief that basically the programs have worked satisfactorily.

Houston Board Asking Bids

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — Miss Dolores Hauge, Houston County auditor, was authorized by the County Board of Commissioners Wednesday to advertise for bids for fuel oil, diesel fuel, gasoline and county printing.

Bids will be opened at the first regular meeting of the new year, Jan. 8.

The commissioners also will meet when all county officers elected Nov. 6 will take their oath of office and bonds will be fixed. Bernard Orr, Houston, will take office as a new commissioner.

The board Wednesday purchased a $35,000 bond for Treasurer. F. W. Deters. Low bidder was Wagner Insurance Agency at $394.39 for a four-year period. Murphy Agency and Strand and Reno agencies bid $561 each. All are of Caledonia.

Board heard the reports of Dan Schlabach, La Crescent, weed inspector, who is holding weed clinics in vocational agriculture departments of the schools, and Arlow Abraham, Houston, veterans service officer.

The board authorized payment of $1,660.58 to the state for six months salary and expenses for the probation officer hired jointly by Houston and Fillmore counties. A new probation officer, Clarence Quanrud, Preston, has been hired from the civil service list provided by the Youth Conservation Commission.

At the request of the Houston County Bar Association, Judge Arnold W. Hatfield of the District Court ordered creation of a separate fund for establishment of a law library for use of the county. Law books previously have been purchased out of county revenue.

DEAR ABBY:

Why Not Go Along Fishing?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am married to an outdoor man. In the summer it's fishing and in the winter it's hunting. Don't get me wrong. I want him to enjoy life, but is it asking too much of him to spend ONE Sunday a month with me and the children? I would like him to take us to a movie and have dinner out once a month. He leaves every Saturday at sun-up and doesn't come back until late on Sunday. Then he hands me the car keys and says, "Here — take the kids to a show so I can sleep? Am I being unreasonable?"

SPORTSMAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Not in my opinion. How about this approach: "Look, Dear, if you don't want to waste any of your spare time on me, that's O.K. I'll always be around, both wiser and sadder. But the kids are growing up and away from you. Soon they'll be gone. You'll have memories of hunting and fishing, but none of your family. That'll be an open space in your life that you won't like. Thing it over before it's too late."

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a woman who works out when she has 4 children at home under the age of 5?

DEAR WONDERING: She is either desperately and unfortunately eager to get out of the house, or she desperately and unfortunately needs the income.

DEAR ABBY: A few years after my marriage I came down with polio. I was left with a slight disability which slowed me down a little. I can still do my own housework, although somewhat awkwardly. For years my mother-in-law (who was a fast worker) would come in and, if I was sweeping, she would take the broom from my hands and say, "Let's get this done!" Not wanting to hurt her feelings because I knew she meant well, I said nothing but I felt like crying.

Now I see the same thing happening to a friend who has another kind of crippling disease. Only it's her mother who tries to help her. My friend was drying her dishes and broke a cup. Her mother sat her down, took the towel and said, "Let me do it or you won't have any dishes left!" I know how it must have hurt. Please print this, Abby. There are so many who mean well but don't know better.

Abby
WONDERING

DEAR ABBY: We have a 7-year-old daughter who is a very lonely and quiet child. She has no friends. I am unable to have any more children and want to adopt a little girl the same age as our own. My husband thinks it would be better to adopt a child a few years younger. And a boy! I can't see where this would provide our daughter with the companionship she needs. Can you advise me? Or perhaps some of your readers have some helpful opinions on the subject.

MRS. F.

DEAR MRS. F.: I agree with your husband. To force a "twin" on your daughter at her age could create problems of jealousy, rivalry and continual competition for both girls. Try for a younger child. And a boy might be just what the doctor ordered.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Break Taken In New York Strike Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations in this city's newspaper strike have been called off until next week by federal mediators in the face of a solid deadlock that caused one negotiator to comment: "We are in a state of siege."

The action late Wednesday meant that eight million persons would have to do without their nine major dailies for at least five more days. Also doing without are the hundreds of businesses that depend on the papers to advertise their wares during the Christmas shopping season.

The strike of printers represented by Local 6 of the International Typographical Union is already in its sixth day. Nearly 20,000 employees of the papers have been idled.

Director William E. Simkin of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Services said after the talks were recessed that he would return to Washington and would remain there subject to call.

Federal mediators said the printers and the Publishers Association of New York were simply too far apart for productive sessions.

BOYLE'S COLUMN

Cats Like Kids at Christmas

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — They say Christmas is for kids.

But it is also a great time for cats.

In our house the cat we belong to seems to get more downright enjoyment out of Christmas than people.

During most of the year I have a secret guilty feeling that our cat, Lady Dottie is somewhat cheated by life. She spends her time, except for a brief stroll in the corridor early in the morning and late at night, cooped up in our apartment.

It is a big deal for her when a daring, high-flying sparrow lights on the window ledge of our eighth-floor apartment, and flirts its wings saucily. Then Lady Dottie is suddenly transformed from a sedate old maid into a maddened beatnik.

She loses all her ordinary poise and aplomb and beats at the window wildly until the sparrow shrugs its feathers as if to say: "Well it takes all kinds to make a world" — and flies away.

Outside of these occasional adventures with sparrows, Lady Dottie derives her greatest thrill from Christmas.

It turns her from a cool, plush sophisticate into a gawky, wide-eyed kitten.

Like a child at Christmas, she won't let you hide anything from her. She is into everything.

She races to the door when the mailman or delivery man comes. She snoops and sniffs at every package. She tries to undo the strings with busy paws.

"Why don't you grow up, Lady Dottie?" I tell her. "After all, you're getting along in years. Why don't you act your age?"

Lady Dottie pays no attention at all. Christmas makes her feel young, and she has an idea that the whole worldwide yuletide pageant is put on exclusively for her benefit.

One of her great joys when we open a box. She leaps into it, bats the crinkly paper around to hear the sound, then lies down and turns on the inside motor of her delight and emits a mighty purr.

But her happiness reaches a zenith when we put up our two Christmas trees, and turn on the lights. We usually decorate two trees, a tall live one green with needles, and a small artificial tree with aluminum branches that someone gave us years ago.

Lady Dottie watches gravely as we put each ornament into place, interrupting us now and then to nibble tentatively at a green branch or an aluminum needle. When the job is finally completed and the children down the hall come in to inspect it, Lady Dottie leads them on proud feet from one tree to the other, as if to say:

"See what I did?"

At the end of the season, as I take down the decorations, Lady Dottie watches me with sad, reproachful eyes, and I have the weird feeling that I am in some way hurting the idealism of a small child.

Goodhue Appoints County Assessor

RED WING, Minn. — The Goodhue County Board of Commissioners has switched from the county supervisor of assessments system to county assessor because this would provide centralized control over local assessments.

Robert L. Jefferson, Mantorville, who has been Dodge County supervisor of assessments since 1960, was appointed county assessor by the board Tuesday on recommendation of Irving J. Olson, director, property tax division, State Department of Taxation. Olson and the board had interviewed seven applicants for the assessor's job.

On Jan. 1 Jefferson will succeed Russell Tanner, Red Wing, who will become Goodhue County auditor.

County boards have the option of adopting the county supervisor of assessments or county assessor systems. The supervisor's role is advisory. However, if he disagrees with actions of local assessment officials, he can recommend changes to the county board of equalization. The Goodhue County assessor will have authority to make changes in the local assessments made in townships, cities and villages by local assessors.

Jefferson's annual salary will be $6,500. His predecessor had been receiving $6,956.

A majority of the counties in Minnesota have the county assessor system. In Southeastern Minnesota, Houston, Olmsted, Wabasha and Fillmore counties have county assessors. Winona County has a county supervisor of assessments.

Buffalo County Cancer Society Names Directors

ALMA, Wis. — Three board members were accepted on the board of the Buffalo County Unit, American Cancer Society, at this month's meeting, held at Alma. They are Mrs. Melvin Ziegler, Fountain City; Mrs. Frank Radle, Nelson, and the Rev. Edward Phillips, Mondovi.

Mrs. Stanley Bond, president, appointed the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Ziegler, education; Mrs. John Burg, Alma, service; Mrs. Wilfred Hetrick, Alma, loan closet; Mrs. John Erickson, Waumanee, publicity; Mrs. Eugene Linse Sr., Mondovi, bulletin mailing; Rev. Phillips, crusade; Mrs. Edward Linse, Mondovi, memorial program, and Mrs. James Groves, Fountain City, finance.

Mrs. Henry Mulhaupt, Fountain City, was appointed on the service committee in the Fountain City area to replace Mrs. Stanley Bond. Mrs. Marvin Fugina, Fountain City, representing the county at the state meeting of the American Cancer Society at Wisconsin Rapids in October, reported.

As second vice president Mrs. Fugina presented an orientation program for all new officers, committee chairmen and board members.

Next county board meeting will be March 6.

TRINITY GUILD PARTY

The Christmas party of Goodview Trinity Guild was held Tuesday evening at the church beginning with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. Games were played and a film strip of the first Christmas shown. Carols were sung and an offering was collected for the East Fork Lutheran Nursery.

VFW Post Sets Yuletide Parties

Dates for Neville-Lien Post 1287 Christmas parties were set at a meeting Wednesday night at the VFW Club.

The post's Christmas party will be held at 9 p.m. Dec. 21, while the post's and auxiliary's annual party for children will be held at 2 p.m. Dec. 22. Their regular party will be held from 9 a.m. to noon Christmas Day. Floyd Kuhlman and John Curtis were named party chairmen.

The annual New Year's Eve party will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Dec. 31.

The post voted a donation to the Goodfellows. Henry E. Gibbs was accepted into membership and Chester Tarras reported on the 1st District bowling tournament at Albert Lea last Sunday.

Checking into and out of veterans hospitals were George Brandes, Adolph Hicks, William Moore, Harry Vick and Harry Glubka. Attendance prizes were awarded to Clayton Fosburgh, Elmer Hamman, Bernard Sheridan and William Teske. Frank Took, Earl Brugger, Robert Beeman, Kenneth Meinke and Anton Bambenek served lunch.

Spring Grove Party

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special) — Onsgard State Bank will hold its annual Christmas party for the public Saturday from 2 to 5:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served by the American Legion Auxiliary. Door prizes will be given and Mrs. Carl Peterson of Harmony will play Christmas music on the organ. Santa Claus will be there. A free movie is being sponsored at the high school auditorium.

Mariner II Comes
Near Venus Friday

By JOHN BARBOUR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mariner II now approaches its magic moment in space. The frail, bug-like explorer—seared by the nearness of the sun—is ready for a first, close look at a neighbor planet, earth's cloud-veiled sister Venus.
At 3:10 p.m. (EST) Friday Mariner is to pass some 20,000 miles from Venus—give or take a few thousand miles.
For half an hour its instruments will measure radio and heat radiations from below the dense clouds that hide the planet from sight.

It is an historic moment in man's probing farther and farther into his solar system. Even now a Soviet space probe is pushing toward Mars for a closer look at that planet.
Mariner has weathered a series of troubles, but with one of its solar panels out of operation, it is about to complete its mission.
Mariner is already holder of all records for long distance radio communication through space. When it reports back from Venus, it will set a new record—radio signals from a man-made device 36 million miles away.

This all began on Aug. 27 when an Atlas-Agena B rocket complex boosted Mariner into space. Its predecessor Mariner I had failed little more than a month before when the range safety officer destroyed it 290 seconds after blast-off because of an erratic flight path.
Mariner II got off as planned, but when the time came for it to fire its mid-course motor and get a better aim on Venus, the rocket ran into trouble.

Mariner's eyes seemed to get too dim a view of earth. Data radioed back indicated earth was appearing 1-150th as bright as it should have been. Scientists worried that Mariner's eyes were really seeing the moon.

They checked and checked again, finally decided, despite the dim-light report, that Mariner was locked on to the earth. On Sept. 4 they fired the mid-course motor.

On Sept. 8, the gyroscopes went on—indicating that Mariner had lost its view of the earth and sun. Then the gyros went off again. Space technicians chalked it up to mystery, nearly two million miles from earth.

On Sept. 29, the same thing happened. Again no good explanation. Suddenly the eyes of Mariner reported the earth was now as bright as it should have been. This too is unexplained, more than five million miles from earth.

On Oct. 31, almost 12 million miles from earth, Mariner radiated that its power production had dropped. Technicians guessed that one of the solar panels, which convert sunlight into electricity, had developed a short circuit. They commanded Mariner to cease its electricity-consuming science experiments while they pondered the problem.

On Nov. 7, they decided to renew the experiments, since they seemed to be getting enough power from the remaining solar panel. Suddenly the short-circuit began operating again, and technicians decided the short-circuit had corrected itself. The next day they turned the experiments on again.

On Nov. 15, a solar panel went out again. Mariner continues on one solar panel.

Toward the end of November, temperatures on the sunward face of the solar panels were up to 200 degrees Fahrenheit, with spacecraft temperatures 100 degrees on the shady side. By Friday, experts estimate temperatures on the solar panels will reach 250 degrees.

Arcadia Projects Names Directors

ARCADIA, Wis.—Two directors of Arcadia Projects, Inc., were elected and one was re-elected at the annual meeting at the city hall here Monday night.

Lawrence Jensen was re-elected. R. F. English was chosen to succeed Joseph Kokott, whose term expired, and Harold Maloney was elected to a one-year term succeeding Eugene Vogel, who resigned because he is leaving the city.

Officers elected following the meeting were: Jensen, president, succeeding Vogel; A. C. Schultz, vice president succeeding Jensen, and O. W. Schroeder, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Verna Sagen, assistant secretary, who were re-elected.

Holdover directors are C. E. Fugina, Schultz, Schroeder, and Morris English.
Arcadia Projects is owner of Arcadia Industries and the Medical Clinic buildings. Stockholders are local.

Blair Driver
Hurt in Crash

BLAIR, Wis.—The proprietor of the Holiday Inn here is a patient at Lutheran Hospital, La Crosse, today with internal injuries and a cut on top of the head received when his small truck went out of control on a curve Wednesday night.

Richard Clark, about 40, was returning to Blair in a Corvan about 11:20 p.m. He failed to make the curve in Highway 53 just north of Beaches Corner. The vehicle went off to the right. In attempting to get back onto the highway, he veered left across the highway and into a concrete bridge.

Trempealeau County Traffic Officer Milo Johnson, Strum, who investigated, said there were skid marks for about 20 feet south of the bridge.

The concrete came into contact with the car on the left side just back of the driver's seat. Clark was still in the seat when the car came to rest.

Man Charged With Watching TV While Trying to Drive

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A Miami man has been charged with watching television while driving on the Florida Turnpike.

Jack S. Minster, 26, was arrested by state trooper Joe Bowen, who said he gave chase when Minster's car ran off the highway, pulled back on, then continued, astride the center lane.
Bowen said he found a portable television set, in operation, on Minster's dashboard. A 1951 law outlaws television which distracts an automobile driver, and carries a possible penalty of six months in jail or a $500 fine.

Augsburg Downs Redmen 75-64

MINNEAPOLIS (Special) — St. Mary's College got its 1962-63 MIAC basketball campaign off to a disastrous start here Wednesday night as undefeated Augsburg handed the Redmen a 75-64 lacing in St. Melby Hall.

The Redmen now 3-3, return to action Friday night against St. Norbert in the Terrace Heights gym.

THE AUGGIES HAD little trouble in posting their fifth straight triumph of the young season in their league debut. Freshman forward Doug Pautz tossed in 20 points to head the Augsburg offense, and guards Steve Strommen and Lloyd Raymond, and center Dan Anderson all joined in the balanced attack. Strommen notched 13 and Raymond and Anderson had 11 each.

Guard Al Williams topped the meager Redman output with 14 points. Roger Pylewski added 11 and Mike Maloney had 10. St. Mary's found the points few and far between against the pesky Auggie man-to-man defense.

For the Redmen, it was just one of those nights. St. Mary's could do nothing right, while the Auggies did very little wrong. After Williams opened scoring on a layup in the first 22 seconds of the game, Augsburg came back to take a 3-2 lead. Williams sank a free throw and Pylewski notched a basket to give the Redmen a 5-3 lead with a little over 17 minutes left in the half. For all practical purposes, that was the end of the game for St. Mary's.

WITH PAUTZ, Anderson, and Strommen setting the pace, the Auggies reeled off 19 points while the Redmen scraped up three in the next seven minutes. When the smoke cleared, Augsburg led 28-8 with 10 minutes left.

St. Mary's showed signs of life, pulling within six points, 28-22, with 3:46 remaining in the half, but Raymond and Pautz hit quick buckets to spur the Auggies to a 39-26 halftime lead.

The second half followed the same pattern as the first; the Redmen missed three shots, including two layups, and threw the ball away three times before Maloney dropped a free throw with 17:02 left for the first St. Mary's point of the half.

Meanwhile the Auggies were off to the races, scoring five points for an 18-point margin. The Redmen narrowed it to 44-33 with 15:42 to play, the closest they came for the rest of the game, but Augsburg turned on the steam, pushed to a 60-39 bulge with six minutes left, and tucked away its first MIAC victory.

THE REDMEN OFFENSE sputtered to a 37 percent mark from the floor, making 22 out of 59 shots, while the Auggies clicked at a 45 percent figure, canning 29 fielders in 65 attempts. St. Mary's wasn't much better at the free throw line, sinking only 10 of 22 offerings, while Augsburg tallied 17 of 27 gift shots.

The Redmen were listless on defense as well. The Auggies, particularly Pautz, drove around Redmen as though they were fence posts, while Strommen and Raymond had plenty of opportunity to set for medium-range one-handed push shots from out in front.

The Auggies also dominated both backboards behind Anderson, 6-3, and Ron Hanson, 6-7, in the easy win.

"It's hard to believe that this is the same team that beat St. Ambrose," Redman Coach Ken Wilgen said in appraising his charges' unimpressive showing.

"We had nothing out there—no organization, no defense, no rebounding. I feel we're definitely a better basketball team than we appeared to be last night—we've proven it before. Last night was one of those games when we'd have been better off not to have left Winona at all."

IN MENTAL HOSPITAL

Machen Detained For Suicide Try

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Machen, top-ranked heavyweight contender, was detained in a mental hospital Wednesday after a highway patrolman said he found him apparently contemplating suicide.

The patrolman said Machen told him he planned to kill himself because he was broke, couldn't get any more fights and "everything was all wrong."

The 30-year-old boxer was admitted to Napa State Hospital for observation.

Patrol Traffic Officer Bill McCluskey said he found Machen parked off U.S. Highway 40 near Vallejo, Calif., "a loaded gun next to him on the seat. He was writing a farewell letter."

A physician at the hospital said Wednesday night Machen was in "satisfactory condition and has no apparent injuries."

Dr. B. J. Qhelan of the hospital staff would not discuss Machen's confinement but said he would be examined today.

Machen is managed by Sid Flaherty of Portland. Ranked No. 1 by the World Boxing Association and No. 2 behind former champion Floyd Patterson by Ring Magazine, Machen has won 42 fights, lost 4, had 2 draws and has scored 24 knockouts.

He has been mentioned as a possible opponent for heavyweight champion Sonny Liston and an imminent opponent for fast rising Cassius Clay.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, Green Bay's crashing fullback who is noted for his great second effort, was voted Player of the Year in the National Football League today by an Associated Press committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities.

Taylor, a 27-year-old former Louisiana State ace in his fifth year of pro ball, grabbed the award won last year by Paul Hornung, the Packers' glamorous triple threat halfback who has been crippled by a knee injury this season.

Y. A. Tittle, the old "bald eagle" who has thrown 27 touchdowns passes for the New York Giants, finished a strong second to Taylor in the voting. Taylor drew 19 ballots, Tittle had 13 and Bobby Mitchell, Washington flanker back, had four. Roger Brown, huge defensive tackle of the Detroit Lions, had two votes and Joe Schmidt, veteran Detroit linebacker, and Lou Michaels, Pittsburgh field goal kicker and defensive end, each had one. Two of the 42-man panel did not vote in this category.

A head-on meeting of the two top vote getters appears to be in the making for the Dec. 30 championship game at Yankee Stadium. Tittle with 179 completions in 333 passes for 2,883 yards has pitched the Giants into the total offense and passing leadership.

Taylor is a key to Coach Vince Lombardi's system of ball control that has seen the Packers score 38 of their 50 touchdowns on the ground and only 12 through the air.

"Taylor may not be as big as some fullbacks but he has balance and determination," said Lombardi earlier. "He is hard to knock off his feet and he fights for every yard."

Tittle, 36, has been tremendous in his second year with the Giants. He threw seven touchdowns, when the Giants ruined Washington's winning streak in midseason. A canny play caller, adept at the automatic, Tittle also can run when necessary. He ran for an important touchdown against Detroit although he was hit so hard that he had to sit out the rest of the first half.

Three City Teams Play Here Friday

By AUGIE KARCHER
Daily News Sports Editor

All four Winona high school and college basketball teams will be in action Friday night, three of them in non-conference tests on Winona courts.

On the road will be Winona

BATTEY SIGNS TWINS CONTRACT

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota's pennant-aimed Twins were assured, at least, of a battery for next year's team as catcher Earl Battey became the second player to sign a 1963 contract. Pitcher Jim Kaat had signed earlier.

Battey, picked as the backstop for both All-Star games this year, signed for an undisclosed sum. Battey caught 148 contests in the regular season, hit .290 and had 57 RBIs, 11 homers.

State, which opens its Northern States College Conference season at St. Cloud Friday. The Warriors then return home Saturday to host St. Norbert Saturday in the only game involving a Winona team.

Winona High Friday entertains Southwest of Minnesota on the WHS floor. Cotter has St. Felix of Wabasha as its guest at St. Stan's and St. Mary's is host to St. Norbert at Terrace Heights. All three start at 8 p.m.

Winona High's swimmers meet Shattuck here Friday at 4 p.m. and the Winhawk wrestlers host Chatfield Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

Winona High

Coach John Kenney who has seen the Winhawks suffer three straight defeats after an opening game victory, may go to the two-platoon system as an experiment against Southwest.

Kenney split his squad on a senior-junior basis and ran them through a hard 1½-hour scrimmage both Tuesday and Wednesday under game conditions. The seniors finished four points on top in the Tuesday drill.

The senior five consists of Dan Schärmer at Center, John Prigge and Wulfe Krause at forwards, and Marty Farrell and Dick Kalbrenner at guards. Darrell Foster also saw guard service.

The junior unit had Pat Boland and John Duet at forward, Jim Kasten at center, and Steve Keller and Bob Haefner at guards. Jim Evanson alternated with Haefner.

Prime result was some startling scoring. Krause, for example, scored 31 points Tuesday, Keller 28 and Boland 18.

"The senior unit had the best offense, but the juniors played the best defense," said Kenney who is at the stage he is willing to try anything exclusive of putting cheerleaders into basketball uniforms.

"I won't decide until Friday which unit will start," said Kenney. A flu epidemic around WEHS may also have a bearing on his plans. Several Hawks have missed various sessions of classes.

Kasten, who sat out last week's loss to Red Wing, is back and pronounced fit to play. He had been suffering from blood poisoning in his leg, caused by an infected toe.

The Hawk point production of 35 meager tallies against Red Wing is a nightmare Kenney would like to forget. Winona is 0-2 in the Big Nine conference and travels to Austin next Friday.

Cotter
Coach John Nett at Cotter eased up on his Ramblers after their impressive showing in clobbering Rochester Lourdes last Friday.

"I haven't pushed them as hard in drills this week," said Nett, "but they haven't looked overly sharp." It may be an omen. The Ramblers sparkled in workouts before the Eau Claire Regis game and then got themselves bumped off.

The Ramblers are healthy and so far have avoided winter colds and flu of any serious nature.

Nett said he plans no changes in his starting lineup.

Thus Bob Judge will go at center, Sam Czaplewski and Loran Koprowski at forwards and Gene Schultz and Rich Starzecki at guards.

St. Felix, piloted by Duke Loretz, shares the Bi-State Conference lead with Lima Sacred Heart, each with 2-0 records. The Yellowjackets, however, suffered defeats at the hands of Lake City and Alma in non-loop games.

Winona State

Winona State carries a 3-2 record into Friday's game at St. Cloud, but has not been able to win away from home this year.

The Huskies, defending NSCC champions, are probably the most offensive-minded team in the conference. They ran up over 100 points against State last year, after losing the first meeting here, and already this season have battered Eau Claire 112-75.

St. Cloud's 21-game home victory string is another jinx Coach Bob Campbell and the Warriors must face.

Winona rapped River Falls 83-72 here Monday night without the services of starting guard Mark Dilley who has a bad knee. Freshman Gary Petersen filled in for him doing a credible job both on offense and defense.

Badger Finals Set March 14-16

STEVENS POINT (AP)—The 1963 State High School Basketball Tournament will be held in the University of Wisconsin Fieldhouse on March 14-16.

The date was announced Wednesday by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association as it established host teams and team assignments for the 427 schools that will participate in elimination play.

Sub-regional competition will begin Feb. 28, followed by the regional tournaments March 1-2. The winners will go to the eight sectional meets set for March 8-9.

The winners of the sectional meets will go to Madison for the championship tournament. Tournament assignments will be made by the WIAA Board of Control at a meeting Feb. 8-9.

in his starting lineup.

Thus Bob Judge will go at center, Sam Czaplewski and Loran Koprowski at forwards and Gene Schultz and Rich Starzecki at guards.

St. Felix, piloted by Duke Loretz, shares the Bi-State Conference lead with Lima Sacred Heart, each with 2-0 records. The Yellowjackets, however, suffered defeats at the hands of Lake City and Alma in non-loop games.

Behind the Eight-Ball

By AUGIE KARCHER

THE ON-AGAIN, off-again Ravoux Conference is sort of "off-again," the latest available information indicates.

It appears now that Owatonna Marian and Waseca Sacred Heart don't want to be considered as "members" of the league with Winona Cotter, Austin Pacelli and Rochester Lourdes.

The Rev. Robert Stamschror, Rambler athletic director, says Cotter will be willing to count its four games, knowing it would have to win them all to take the title, since other members of the league play from eight to six games with league members.

Jake Lynch, Owatonna Marian coach, flatly says "the league doesn't exist as far as we're concerned. With only 100 boys in school, it makes it awfully difficult for us to compete with most schools in the league."

Pat Sullivan of Waseca Sacred Heart says: "It (the conference) doesn't exist. We're independent this season, but I wouldn't be against it (the Ravoux loop) if some effort is made to reorganize the league."

In a conversation with Rochester Post-Bulletin sports editor Gail Anderson, it appears that in order to keep up interest, the press in the respective three largest cities will consider the Ravoux a three-team league and compute standings accordingly.

Unless someone wants to argue about it.

BOWLING BITS: Man, the membership of the Daily News "300" Club begins to get more and more elite every day.

Erv Schewe, the guy who said "it can never happen here," heads the list of five new members which also includes Bernice Williams, secretary of the Winona Women's Bowling Association.

Schewe, better known as "Spinner," spun right out of orbit with 395 Friday in the Legion League at Hal-Rod. His average was 173.

Mrs. Williams, a 152-average shooter, clipped 390 at Westgate where Mary Serva (154) also qualified with a 394. The welcome mat also goes out to Joan Wiczek (157) with a 391 at Hal-Rod and Buzz Dean (164) with a 394 at Westgate.

Two veteran city bowlers have been sidelined for health reasons. Jim Barnbenek, nursing an injured back, is idled at the Athletic Club. Bill Gates from the H-R, Kettall is under doctor's orders to lay off bowling for awhile. . . . First reported pick-up of the Big Four split is by Mrs. Hilda Halvorson in the H-R Powder Puff.

AFTER RED WING turned back the Winona Winhawks Friday, Winger Coach Pete Petrich lauded the play of Mickey Bohmbach, Neut Strandemo and Mike Reier.

Of Bohmbach, Petrich said: "He still has a lot to learn, but he is the type of boy who will."

"HE'S THE BEST I've seen," said Ken Wilgen, St. Mary's basketball coach, after watching Walt Jones of St. Ambrose score 34 points against his Redmen Monday night.

"He looks like a bag of bones—but what a ball player," Wilgen exclaimed.

Jones, only married player on the St. Ambrose team, has a son, Walt Jones III. Denny Burgman of the Redmen, who had the unpleasant duty of guarding Jones, broke the monotony of his chores by keeping Walt busy with questions about his youngster.

BOB BOARD, new Winona High Wrestling coach, has arranged for publication of a pamphlet explaining the sport which is given to spectators attending Winhawk mat meets.

Kahoun's 632 Leads Four 600 Bowlers

Four Winona bowlers cracked the 600 barrier Wednesday night, two of them in the Retail League at Hal-Rod Lanes.

Topper in the city was a 632 by Dick Kahoun of Swift Brookfields in the American League at Westgate Bowl. He had a 257 single in the top 10. Bub's Beer fired 1,031-2,869 for team honors.

Harry (Bud) Johnson jolted 629 for Lincoln Insurance and Vince Suchornel rapped 246-618 for Behrens in the Retail circuit. Their teams share the lead in the second round race. Lincoln posted 1,015 and Grainbelt Beer 2,909.

IN THE Nitehief's League at Westgate, Glen Dopp registered an even 600 total for the Handicappers with a 216 single. Frank Chichowski tumbled 216 also and led Mississ 616-1,682 in the three-man league. The Odd Balls swept to take over first place by a half game.

On the women's side, Dianne Hardtke smashed 561 for Mankato Bar in the Sunsets League at Westgate and Audrey Gorecki tagged 221-544 for first-place Home Furniture. Winona Tooleites hit 905 and Sunbeam Sweets 2,383. Other 500 shooters were: Marilyn Peikert 545, Helen Engler 543, Lenore Klinge 518, Esther Pozanc 512 and Betty Schoonover 501.

WINONA AC: Ace-Bob Cyert rapped 590 for Schmidt's Beer which shot 998. Ken Poblocki's 243 game helped Merchants Bank to a 2,837 total.

ST. MARTIN'S: Wednesday — Weldon Neitzke tagged 219-346 for Springdale Dairy. Team honors went to Western Koal Kids with 942-2,676. The Koal crew captured the first half championship by two games.

KEGLERS LANES: Merchants—Alfred Cordes of Rushford Bottling and Bob Klaggie of Poot's hit identical high games of 212 and identical high series of 563. Poot's totaled 2,674 and Schmidt's Beer 556. Weaver & Son won the first half crown by one game.

WESTGATE BOWL: Men's — George Robbe rocked 590 for Winona Cleaners and David Wnuk 224 for Goodview Texaco. Maxwell House posted 1,027 and Haase DeKalb 2,835. Phil McBrien registered a 154-triplicate.

High School—Mike Dean notched 206-354 for Playboys and the 300 Club had 739-2,290.

Bay State Women—Mary Douglas and Olive Puck each posted 495 for BSM-Co-Eds which swept team honors with 914-2,615. Douglas also had high game, a 192.

HAL-ROD LANES: Commercial —Bert Jumbuck socked 578 for Springer Signs and teammate Larry Scheidegger added a 223 game. Springer's took team honors with 1,046-2,858.

Park-Re Jr. Boys—Kirk Brandmire of 4 Young Bucks posted 380-340 while Sons of the Legion chalked 740-1,429.

St. Mary's Hockey Team Opens Season Tonight

By CHARLIE WHEELER
Daily News Sports Writer

Six returning lettermen form the nucleus for the 1962-63 St. Mary's College hockey team which opens its season against St. Olaf tonight at 7 p.m. on the Redman ice.

The Redmen pucksters downed the Oles 3-2 and 4-2 last year en route to a 12-4 season, the finest posted by a St. Mary's hockey squad since the sport was revived at the school in 1958.

REDMAN Coach Max Molock has five letter winners back from that club, including leading scorer Andre Beaulieu. Don Trytek, Dick McCormick, Bob Berrigan, and Bob Magnuson all are '61-62 holdovers, while Dave English, a letterman in 1960-61, returns to the hockey scene after laying off last season.

Four of the veterans will start in the contest with St. Olaf. Beaulieu, who scored 30 goals in 11 assists in 14 contests last year, will open at center. He will be flanked by Berrigan, whose nine MIAC goals led the league in that department, and English at wings.

Bob Magnuson will be at one defense post, and Mike Bishop, a highly-rated freshman prospect from St. Paul Monroe's Region Four champions, will be at the other.

Freshman Jack Scott, from Loyola Academy in Chicago, will get the opening nod at goalie.

Dick Caldwell, a four-year standout in the nets for the Redmen, was one of Molock's two graduation casualties. The veteran Redmen coach is counting on either Scott or Fritz Kokesh, last year's reserve goalie, to take over for Caldwell.

MCCORMICK WILL center the second Redman line with Trytek and Bob Paradise, another freshman fireball, and an eight-letterman at St. Paul Cretin. At the wings, Freshman Tom Fitzgerald from Chicago St. Patrick is slated for relief work on defense.

Lack of experienced manpower will be the biggest problem for the Redmen. Beyond the six letter-winners, and sophomores Kokesh, defenseman Joe Fidler, and forward John Ulrich, Molock will have to depend on freshmen for help.

Thus the St. Mary's bench strength will be questionable until some of the new men develop. Molock intends to utilize several of his men both ways, as wings and defensemen, to get the most out of the Redman experience.

Beaulieu, Berrigan, McCormick, and Paradise all will probably serve a stint or two on defense as well as their regular line chores.

Jim Fesch and Tom Stoffel, a pair of freshmen, are slated for substitute wing duties.

THE REDMEN, pegged as a strong contender in the MIAC, inaugurate their league slate here Saturday at 1:30 p.m. against St. John's. This year the conference has expanded to a 14-game loop slate with the majority of the games scheduled with the Twin Cities schools set indoors.

St. Mary's has six games on the inside ice, four at Aldrich Arena in North St. Paul and two at the Wakota Rink in South St. Paul.

Molock feels his present crew has a stronger first unit than last year's, but much of the season's success depends on the performance of the newcomers.

"We're hoping for a good season. If we get the breaks and our rookies develop, we could be all right," Molock commented. "We might also be at a disadvantage playing indoors for the first time. The ice is quicker and the conditions are warmer, with no wind. This could affect the players' stamina and passing. Since we practice outside, we're more used to open-air rinks. We'll have to learn to adjust."

Keith Hanzel, an alumnus of St. Mary's, will serve as assistant coach this year after teaching at St. Paul Cretin.

Sherman Named Coach of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Sherman, winner of a second term as Coach of the Year in the National Football League, rates his 1962 New York Giants a better club than last year's Eastern Conference champs.

Sherman outpointed four contenders in the voting of an Associated Press committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities today.

The committee gave Sherman 13 votes to 10 for Bill McPeak of Washington, seven each for Vince Lombardi of Green Bay and Tom Landry of Dallas and four for George Wilson of Detroit.

"I am grateful for this honor," said Sherman in his office at Yankee Stadium, where he is preparing the Giants for Sunday's game with Dallas. "I didn't know anybody ever repeated. I want to thank all the players and my staff."

Olson, Lebakken Win Pin Meet

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—The Scotch bowling tournament held at the Galesville Lanes attracted 144 entries.

Winners were Mrs. LaVerne Olson and Ralph Lebakken, Galesville. Mrs. Frank Dahlgren, Galesville, and Jim Brynildson, Erick, tied for second place with Mrs. Carlyle Cory, Galesville, and Don Mahlum, Erick. Mrs. Claude Nelson, Holmen, and Robert Jenks, Galesville, were fourth and S. Hildebrandt, Winona, and Calvin Anderson, fifth.

Erna Olson, Erick, 516, and Betty Wall, Erick, 523, have posted the only women's 500s.

Punchless Rens In Seventh Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pittsburgh's pooped and punchless Rens can't shake the losing habit on the wearying American Basketball League trail.

Playing their seventh game on the road in as many nights and with scoring ace Connie Hawkins still out with an eye injury, the Rens were overwhelmed by the Kansas City Steers 132-87 Wednesday night.

In the only other ABL action, Long Beach's first-place Chief held their one-half game edge on Kansas City with a 99-89 victory over the Philadelphia Tapers.

Sooners Capture Postal Freestyle

The University of Oklahoma placed first in the 500-yard freestyle, second event held in the national college postal swim meet.

Of the 30 boys competing from six different schools, Oklahoma swimmers finished first, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh, and completed 23 points. (Low point score wins).

GIVEN AWAY EACH WEEK
FOR THREE BEST CHUCKLE SENTENCES
1st—$10.00 2nd—$3.00 3rd—$2.00
FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES—

- 1. Read the Gift Advertisements and select one phrase from four or more advertisements. Combine the lines into one humorous sentence.
- 2. Name the advertisers where lines are taken from. Only advertisements from this feature are eligible.
- 3. For the best "Chuckle Sentences" each week, we will award three prizes—Trade Certificates redeemable only at the advertisers using this "Pick Up A Present" feature.
- 4. All "Chuckle Sentences" must be received by 5 o'clock Friday of each week during the contest. Those received after that time will be judged in following week. Prizes will be mailed to winners. Decision of judges is final. Use postcard for your entry and address: Chuckle Contest, Winona Daily & Sunday News, Winona, Minn. CHUCKLE EXAMPLE: "The husky lad can look slim if there's a camera man on your Rembrandt—the family's word for a personalized lighting rod."

ALSO good selection of other farms. William Cornforth Realty, La Crescent, Minn. Tel. TW 52106.

IF YOU ARE PLANNING TO BUY A FARM FOR SPRING POSSESSION, LOOK IT OVER NOW.
Located 3 miles from Winona. One of Winona County's most elaborate set-ups. Was used for turkeys, beef and sheep. The large brooder house, 350x32, could be used to farrow sows. Inbuilt sewage system and lagoon. Pole barn, 250x50, could be used as a feeding out operation. Two modern homes. This place has tremendous possibilities and is priced at less than half its value.

80 ACRE FARM, all tillable, located 6 1/2 miles southeast of Lewiston. Mostly all tamar soil, very fertile. Land is level to gently rolling. Six room house. Barn, 36x60, with 12 stanchions. Also has shed and granary and corner.

356 ACRE FARM, 150 acres tillable, 60 acres permanent pasture, balance good timber land, located south of Winona. All modern 8 room house. Barn, 86x36, with 32 stanchions, room for 9 more. Milkhouse, 14x18, bulk tank and hot water heater to remain on farm. 3-car garage. Calf shed and corner. Machine shed, work shop and chicken coop combination.

268 ACRES, with 160 acres tillable, located west of Altona. Newly remodeled barn with 37 stanchions. New 40x80 pole shed. Modern home with new furnace.

200 ACRES, all under cultivation, located northwest of Lewiston on all weather road. All level land in real good condition. Good out buildings. Large all modern home.

227 ACRE FARM, located 4 miles northeast of Dover. 155 acres tillable. Has a pasture with spring. Excellent farm for either beef or dairy. Very neat farmstead.

200 ACRES, with 178 acres tillable. Large barn, modern home, located near Rushford.

386 ACRES, with 94 acres tillable, located 3 1/2 miles north of Highway 14 just east of Lewiston. Modern home with kitchen cupboards and bathroom. Out buildings include barn, corn crib, granary, hog house and chicken coop. Reasonably priced.

340 ACRES, with 188 acres tillable, highly productive soil, located 7 miles northeast of Lewiston in Hilldale township. Complete set of buildings including 44x84 foot barn, large modern home. Located on good black top road.

323 ACRES, with 275 acres tillable, located 4 1/2 miles south of Dover. Outstanding large farm, with mostly level land. Fine set of buildings. Must be seen to be appreciated.

120 ACRES, with 53 acres tillable, balance permanent pasture, located southeast of St. Charles. Very reasonably priced.

80 ACRES, with 53 acres tillable, balance good pasture, located near Chatfield. Large 4-bedroom home. Good out buildings. Reasonably priced.
