Full Support Behind Scenes

U.S. Fears Castro May Raise Ransom

By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is playing a passive role on stage in the negotiations for the release of 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners, but it is moving with full force behind the scenes. The involvement of the U.S. government in the negotiations can be demonstrated by any check of the statements and activities of negotiators and government officials since negotiations began shortly after the abortive invasion of Cuba in April 1961. Reports from Havana indicate

SANTA MEETS MARY CHRISTMAS.... Santa Claus probably got the surprise of his life in Lubbock this week. He met Mary Christmas, 19, a Texas Tech sophomore from Levelland, Tex., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Christmas, and her family made news in 1958 when they spent three days in a fallout shelter as a civil defense experiment in Houston. Mary and Santa exchanged holiday greetings, and then Santa wanted to know "Is your name really Mary Christmas?" (AP Photofax)

Use of Sabin Vaccine Urged

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans are urged to use the Sabin oral vaccine against polio—but with a warning of a "very small risk" for adults.

The report came Wednesday from U. S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry and his special advisory committee on the vaccine, which for months has been pondering the question of hazard.

Minnesota Traffic Toll for Year 658

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota's 1962 traffic death toll has increased to 658 compared with 713 on this date a year ago.

A 67-year-old Minneapolis man, Olaf Henness, was killed Wednesday night when he was hit by a car as he was crossing a street.

Police identified the driver as Harold M. Hansen, 43, Summit, N.J. He was cited for drunken driving and not having a driver's license in his possession.

Alaskan Air Force Station Hit by Fire

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Fire destroyed part of the Cape Lisburne Air Force station on the Arctic Ocean Wednesday, the Alaska Air Command announced. No casualties were reported and all personnel had adequate survival gear and rations. The amount of damage has not been determined. Cause of the blaze was not known.

Three Hanged for Spying in Israel

CAIRO (AP)—Two Egyptian-born Armenians and an Egyptian were hanged today for spying for Israel.

Jean Leon Thomas, 31, and Krapit Jacob, 32, the Armenians, and Mohammed Ahmed Hassan, 30, were arrested in 1960 and sentenced to death last year.

the chances at a million to one that the vaccine's live viruses might cause paralytic polio in persons of all ages. The odds, they said, were only slightly higher for adults, especially for those over 30.

Terry and the committee urged communities to go on with planned vaccination programs with the three types of Sabin living viruses, with special emphasis on vaccination of children and young adults.

"In the oral Sabin and Salk injected vaccines we have two established weapons against polio, and we can, I believe, look forward to the day when polio is finally eliminated in this country," Terry said in a statement.

"With a total of around 650 cases reported this year, compared to almost 50,000 a decade ago when vaccines were not available, it is clear we are well on our way," he said.

On Sept. 15 and again on Oct. 2, the special panel on the Sabin vaccine reported the problem that some cases of polio appeared to stem from use of the vaccine, specifically from Type III viruses, one of the triumvirate of polio virus types.

There were, they said, 11 cases of polio in question and there was sufficient evidence to indicate "that at least some of these cases have been caused by Type III vaccines."

In Wednesday's report, the panel said there were now 11 cases considered compatible—that is, 11 cases where the circumstantial evidence indicated the vaccine had caused some paralytic polio.

Dr. Joseph E. Smadel, a panel member associated with the U.S. Public Health Service, said paralytic polio was defined as cases where there was some muscular disorder after 60 days.

Of the 11 cases, eight were adults over 30 years old. There was no figure immediately available on the number of adults over 30 who received the vaccine. The report did say that 15 million persons of all ages had received the questionable Type III vaccine in non-epidemic areas in 1962. Most were children.

President Kennedy has tried to disassociate himself from the negotiating committee's efforts. "This is being done by the private committee," he said at his Dec. 12 news conference, "and I am very sympathetic to their efforts."

But the committee, to stage the kind of operation exchange involves, would involve more than sympathy from the President.

The American Red Cross has reported that railroads, airlines and trucking firms are working round-the-clock to push the thousands of pounds of food and medicine into Florida for quick shipment to Cuba in case the deal is completed.

There have been reports that the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, is directing the government operation in support of the committee and its chief negotiator, lawyer James B. Donovan.

In New York, business sources said that Atty. Gen. Kennedy had made the requests for some of the food and drugs being readied for shipment to Cuba.

These sources said Kennedy described himself as acting as a private person, rather than as an administration official. Kennedy told the sources, they said, that the operation had the full support of the President but there were legal objections to his direct participation.

They said the attorney general also told them Castro might raise his price if he believed the government, rather than private parties, was supplying the food and drugs.

Edwin Guthman, public information officer for the Justice Department, acknowledged Wednesday night that it and the Internal Revenue Service made staff members available to advise lawyers working with Donovan on tax questions and similar matters.

"We have been expediting rulings and assisting it in an advisory way, but it is entirely a committee operation," he said.

Titan 2 Off To Good Start

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Titan 2, the United States' most powerful military missile, has recorded its sixth success in nine test launchings.

The 103-foot-tall rocket raced 1,000 miles from Cape Canaveral to the south Atlantic Ocean Wednesday on a flight described by one project official as "the best yet" for Titan 2.

Nuclear Issue Forces Bahamas Talks Extension

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—An overload of nuclear strategy problems centering about the British-American wrangle over the Skybolt missile has forced President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to extend their little summit meeting for an additional day.

The two leaders were reported to have "some prospect of a compromise which will satisfy both sides" in the missile dispute. Their spokesmen said there definitely was no deadlock. But the spokesmen said the original two-day conference timetable had not proved sufficient for discussion of the Skybolt controversy, problems revolving about it and the whole spectrum of cold war issues.

Kennedy and Macmillan added morning and afternoon sessions Friday to their schedule. The President planned to leave about 5 p.m. Friday for Palm Beach. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said a communiqué will be issued after the final session.

The reason for prolonging the conference, Salinger said, was "not just the Skybolt, but it is all of the NATO defense matters as well."

"There is no question that we are making good progress," Salinger said. "The agenda was just too great to be handled in two days."

Still to be discussed were such cold war matters as the aftermath of the Cuban crisis, the Chinese-Indian conflict, Moscow's ideological battle with the Red Chinese and the variety of puzzles it presents, Arab Middle East problems generated by the overthrow of the feudal monarchy in Yemen, and the European economy and the Common Market.

Nuclear problems, Skybolt and the prospects of a new Soviet-sparked crisis in the Congo gobbled up the two leaders' time Wednesday. The most nagging question was Britain's resistance to U. S. plans to scrap Skybolt, the American missile which Britain planned to use as its chief independent nuclear weapon.

Kennedy and Macmillan talked for four and a half hours at scheduled sessions Wednesday and also through a "working lunch." Sitting in were top aides including U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Defense Secretary Peter Thorneycroft.

Nike Zeus Test Termed Success

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP)—Successful firing of a Nike Zeus anti-missile rocket brought the Army's current test series to a conclusion here, officials said.

The launching Wednesday gave the Army 10 successful shots out of 19 efforts. Nine of the rockets were destroyed in flight.

Designed to intercept and destroy missiles at altitudes above 100 miles, the Nike Zeus has been under development since 1957, but Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said he doubts that it is ready for full-scale production.

5 Railroads to Appeal Decision

CHICAGO (AP)—Five railroad operating unions are expected to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court a decision of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals rejecting their request for a rehearing of a suit in which they sought to prevent changes in work rules.

The appeals court rejected Wednesday the request of the unions, representing engineers, conductors, firemen, trainmen and switchmen.

Railroad management wants to change working rules, contending that unnecessary jobs cost the lines $592,062,000 a year. The unions maintain that the rules and the jobs they provide for, are necessary for safe and efficient operation of the trains.

A presidential fact finding board appointed by former President Eisenhower recommended rules changes to bring the industry up to date with modern technology. The companies accepted the commission's report; the unions rejected it.

The unions brought suit in the courts when the railroads sought to enforce the changes. The court of appeals on Nov. 28 upheld a lower court ruling that the companies could change the rules.

U.S. General To Lead U.S. Congo Mission

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Lt. Gen. Louis Truman planned more talks at the United Nations today before leading a U. S. military mission to the Congo to check the needs of U. N. forces.

The Truman mission has been linked with reports, from Washington and President Kennedy's Nassau conference with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, that the United States is concerned over prospects of a new Soviet bid for influence in the Congo.

Truman told reporters Wednesday night, however, after meeting more than an hour with Secretary-General U. Thant, "my mission has nothing to do with that whatsoever."

He said the United States has "no plans that I know of" to send troops to the Congo and that his purpose is to see what useful military equipment "we can give to the Congo."

State Department officials said earlier the mission will assess the ability of the 18,000-man U. N. force to keep order.

Gen. Truman was to confer with Robert K. A. Gardiner, the chief of the U. N. Congo mission, and Ralph J. Bunche, U. N. undersecretary who has had a big advisory role in Congo affairs.

His eight-man mission, made up of specialists in planning, logistics and equipment, expects to remain in the Congo five to seven days.

338 Precincts Rechecked in First Session

ST. PAUL (AP)—Disputed ballots were soaring far above original estimates and widely divergent claims came from the two contesting parties as the Minnesota governorship recount went into its second day today.

With 338 precincts counted as the recount started Wednesday, headquarters of Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen conceded that his lead had slumped to a meager 28, a loss of 114 votes from his victory margin as certified by the State Canvassing Board.

At the same time, the tab center operated by Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag, his DFL challenger, claimed a net gain of 252 votes from 300 precincts in 67 counties, in conceded Rolvaag territory. That would put Rolvaag into a 110-vote lead over Andersen.

The recount covered 91,524 votes with 5,878 of them challenged. Rolvaag reported 2,774 of his ballots disputed by GOP inspectors, and the DFL team questioning 3,104 of Andersen's. The DFL candidate said he was not unduly concerned about what appeared to more than expected challenges.

"That's just naturally the result of the sort of shakedown cruise that marked the first day's operations," Rolvaag told The Associated Press early today.

"I firmly expect that, as teams for both parties perfect their techniques, the recounting will smooth out and run at a much faster pace in the future."

There was no way of determining how much, if any, overlap there was between the GOP- and DFL-reported precincts.

Robert Forsythe, state GOP chairman, said the Andersen forces were challenging 3,777 Rolvaag ballots while the DFL had questioned 4,318 cast for Andersen.

Operator of Minneapolis Tavern Slain

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A Minneapolis tavern operator was fatally shot late Wednesday as he listened to a telephoned warning that "something might happen" to him.

Wilfred H. Folkstad, 39, was hit in the head by a single, small caliber bullet. He fell to the floor from the phone booth in his Big Dipper Bar at 2401 Washington Ave., the receiver still in his hand.

Gordon Gustafson, 29, a former employee of Folkstad's, was held without charge after police said he admitted having fired the fatal shot.

Witnesses quoted him as saying, "I'm sorry, Willie," as he pulled the trigger of a .22 caliber pistol today before leading a U. S. military mission to the Congo to check the needs of U. N. forces.

The Truman mission has been linked with reports, from Washington and President Kennedy's Nassau conference with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, that the United States is concerned over prospects of a new Soviet bid for influence in the Congo.

Truman told reporters Wednesday night, however, after meeting more than an hour with Secretary-General U. Thant, "my mission has nothing to do with that whatsoever."

Free Coffee Awarded N.Y. Union Workers

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Free coffee, marked down from five cents, has been awarded union employees of a Rochester plant by a labor arbitrator.

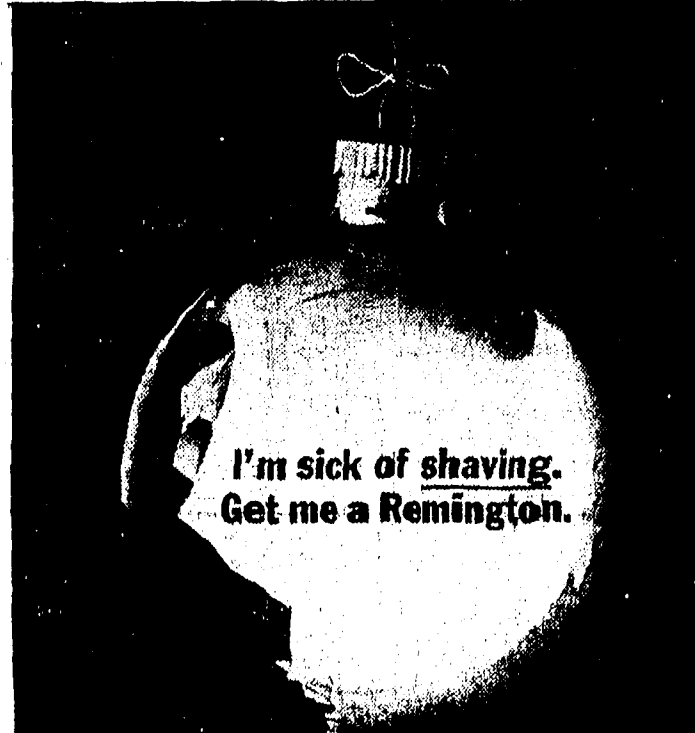

Beech-Nut Cooperative Council, a union representing workers of the Beech-Nut Life Savers, Inc. plant here, filed a grievance when a custom of free coffee at break periods and lunch was discontinued by the company after 20 years. Vending machines were installed, offering coffee for a nickel.

An arbitrator, Dr. Morrison Handsaker of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., ruled free coffee must be provided because it was an established "condition of employment" and had been a factor in contract negotiations.

Fishing Is Relaxing

The word that sunfish and crappies were hitting on the Big River apparently spread rapidly over Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin the past two days. Fishermen coming from as far as Eau Claire, Wis., and Waseca, Minn., were found on the ice in the Merrick State Park or Fountain City Bay area. Most of them were from nearby Wisconsin communities of Hixton, Gilmanston, Ettrick and Mondovi.

Most of them had not mastered the fine know-how of sunfish or bluegill fishing, the number of fish they had on the ice or in their creel-boxes showed. Those who had acquired the knowledge like Robert Haines, a student, residing at 310 Chestnut St., had little difficulty in catching a good mess—many got the limit of "keeper" sunnies.

Those successful sunfish fishermen on the main, were using small red worms on a No. 6 hook, weighted with a small BB shot, on not larger than a 4-pound test line on an ice fishing rod that can be jerked quickly and were fishing shallow in the backwaters, not over two feet below the ice.

With crappie fishermen, it seemed to be small minnows although a few were using the new small ice flies that were brightly colored. Crappie fishing seemed spotty. For instance, no fish were being caught by the fish house colony near the parking lot in the park.

Driving on the ice was quite general. There were several dozen cars scattered around Spring Lake at Buffalo City, in spite of the warning issued by Stanley Apel, local warden, that someone was going through by night. They were driving across Straight Slough ice from Prairie Island to shacks on the other side. There were a few cars on Lake Winona Wednesday morning. With colder weather due, this hazard should be reduced. However, anyone driving on the ice should know what he is doing and where the airholes or soft spots are normally located.

The chair Haines is using in the above picture, is one of the oddities found on the ice. Nearly every fisherman has different equipment although the standard fish box that they carry swung over their shoulder predominates. Fountain City residents seem to prefer hand sleds on which they haul all their tackle, coffee and a fish box, pulling it after them. There are many variations of this equipment on the ice.

At the fish-house colony there they were fishing in 16 to 18 feet of water and fishing deep. On the Prairie Island spot crappies were being caught in shallow, or as one fisherman put it, "just below the ice."

Wilson Takes You to Lawrence of Arabia

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Our dear wives are so wonderful at figuring out whether a party was a social success — if some of the society belles trip over their pumps in a "long dress," then it was!

But if they're quite comfortable in a "short cocktail dress" — then forget it, bud.

I've just survived the greatest "long-dress" most show-offy, jewel-bedecked Celebrity Stampedo of the winter on B'way. It was for Sam Spiegel's "Lawrence of Arabia" premier at the Criterion — and I would point out that this was a Sunday . . . at 7:30 p.m. . . .

That personages like Henry Ford's daughter, Charlotte, and Anne were there . . . that all in all it resembled a well-dressed subway jam . . . that the tickets even said "Seating Punctually" though naturally that was just a little jest.

It so happened that about 6 p.m. I phoned Jason Roberts Jr., about something. His wife, Lauren Be-call, answering, said, "He can't talk now — he's taking a shower, getting ready to go to that movie!"

Probably all the celebrities were showering about 6 p.m. At about 7:30, when the B.W. and I wandered to the theater, Anthony Quinn had the girl ticket-takers so twittery they never cared whether they ever saw another ticket or not, especially mine.

MARGARET LEIGHTON had come in looking like a blue velvet statue. Alec Guinness was with her—wearing a beard, but for another picture — "Poor chap's always about two beards behind himself" somebody mentioned.

"Could I hold your hat for you?" implored a photographer hoping Guinness would get rid of his Russian hat for one picture . . . I can hold my own hat . . . THANK YAW," said Guinness — and did!

My seat—U-2—chanced to be right across from Peter O'Toole, the Irish-born, long-haired blond boy of 29, who plays "Lawrence." Once he leaped out into the aisle to say "hello" to fellow actor Claude Rains.

Quite a human boy, this O'Toole. Sam Spiegel hesitated about hiring him at first because the first time they met, a whisky bottle dropped loudly out of O'Toole's pocket.

Harry Belafonte walked up the aisle. "There's Harry Belafonte," I said to the B.W.

"Oh, really? I was looking at that long fur coat with him" . . . his wife's . . . explained the B.W.

I don't want to tell you too much about the four-hour picture ("The Big Sit," they call it), but at the St. Regis Roof later, I saw Shelley Winters with actor Ken Clark . . . Gloria Vanderbilt with Oliver Smith . . . Joan Collins, in a short dress! and Tony Newley . . . lovely Jill St. John with Walter Wanger . . . and I heard tell the champagne party thrown by Sam Spiegel, just for after-the-movie, cost him, or somebody, $20,000.

Guess it was worth it to prove you can get "long dresses" out Sunday night, to see a lot of sand.

ONLY FAMOUS person not there was Darryl Zanuck who was out at the Voinis with his French gal, Irina Demich, for dinner. Guess he wouldn't really be interested in a picture that could be subtitled "The Longest Night" 'cause he already has "The Longest Day" . . .

Goodness! Forgot to tell you about Sam Spiegel's young wife Betty and her new coat that swept the floor, my dear. "What is that material?" I asked one lady . . . "My dear," she replied, "it's GAWT" to be white-on-white mink!"

Strange story Fat Jack E. Leonard's telling about the scary threatening letter he got when he was supposed to play the Boston Garden.

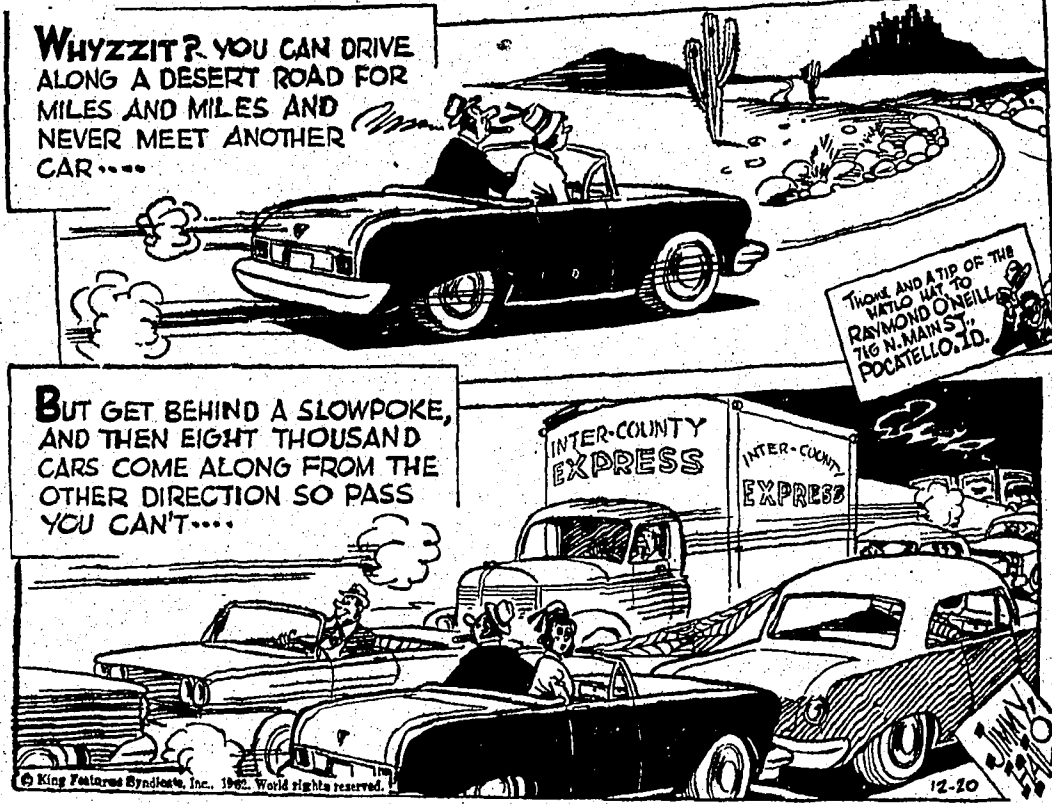

"You insult people," the crank letter said, in effect, "you're a 247-pound (deleted) . . . and if you dare go on stage, you will be hit by a poisoned dart and you'll be dead in three minutes."

"I turned the letter over to police and came home because I didn't care to be a dead hero," Jack E. says. "The police took it seriously. One thing I didn't like was saying I was a 247-pound (deleted). I only weigh 220."

Jack E. has another Boston date soon and will play that despite any threats, he promises. "They'll have plenty of police around . . . TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: An American touring Russia just cabled us "Everybody here in Moscow is dreaming of a Red Christmas."

Parolee Jailed For Theft in Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Gerald George Eckman, 26-year-old parolee, was arrested in St. Louis Wednesday night in connection with the July 13 robbery of a Minneapolis plumbing firm.

Eckman, jailed by the FBI on a fugitive warrant, is charged with the $2,000 holdup of Frank's Sales, 1101 S. Washington Ave.

The FBI in St. Louis said Eckman was implicated in theft of two cars en route from the Twin Cities to San Francisco and St. Louis. A 17-year-old girl with him was charged with interstate transportation of a stolen car.

Eckman was paroled last May from Stillwater Prison, where he had served a sentence for robbery.

3 State Firms Give $885,000 In Foods to Cuba

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Three Minnesota firms are giving $885,000 in foodstuffs toward the cargo being readied in anticipation of barter deal for the more than 1,000 prisoners being held in Cuba as result of an ill-fated invasion attempt.

They are General Mills and the Pillsbury Co. of Minneapolis, and the Green Giant Co., LeSueur. The Geo. A. Hormel Co., Austin, was approached but did not commit itself.

General Mills, largest state donor, is contributing flour, vegetable oil, prepared potato products and a multi-purpose, high protein food to a value of $500,000.

Pillsbury said it would make up its $250,000 gift from the firm's regular line for consumers, but emphasizing staples rather than fancy cake mixes.

Green Giant will ship 53,000 cases of canned sweet corn, valued at $135,000.

General Mills said approximately 20 per cent of its commitment already had been shipped Wednesday. Neither of the other firms has sent any goods as yet.

Paul Willis, national president of the Grocery Manufacturers Association, said that some firms, including those in Minnesota, had committed themselves to supply about $9 million in food products toward the Cuban shipments.

Willis said the list of items ruled as acceptable by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro had been vastly broadened from the original appeal for baby food and medicine.

Youth Admits Killing Girl With Hammer

NOVI, Mich. (AP)—A curly-haired young man with a small goatee, capped a night of beer drinking by invading a neighbor's home today, terrorizing the family and beating a 13-year-old daughter to death with a claw hammer.

He also kidnapped the mother, whom he forced to disrobe, and drove her several miles to Dearborn where he set her free before walking into Dearborn police headquarters with the hammer saying: "I just killed two people."

Only one was dead — Shirley Husted, daughter of Wesley Husted, 40. Both the father and the mother, Rita, 33, had been beaten.

James G. Goslin, 20, of Garder City, Mich., admitted in a state ment, authorities said, that he had gone on the rampage after a night of drinking.

Goslin is married but is separated from his wife, Betty, 17. The couple has a baby son.

Goslin said he ran into the Husted house while trying to escape from his brother, Edmund.

The brother's daughter, Gloria, 11, had accused Goslin of molesting her while she was baby sitting at a friend's home, police said.

When police reached the Husted home they found the father hall conscious. Three other daughters — Carol, 7, Gloria, 4, and Marilyn, 6—were asleep in a bedroom.

Shirley's body was found in the kitchen. Shirley had been struck once, between her eyes.

Drive Slowly On Ice Or Snow

DRIVING SPEEDS must be reduced on ice and snow or costly traffic accidents, tragic deaths and injuries will increase on state streets and highways.

Traffic accident rates are higher during the winter months than in summer and skidding is a factor of major importance. Newly fallen snow is fairly slippery and hard to get through when deep, but the real skidding danger is found in hard-packed snow or underlying ice, the report pointed out.

Braking distance on snow and ice are three to 12 times greater than on dry pavement. Tire chains can reduce passenger car braking distances 40 to 50 percent, while, on heavier vehicles—trucks, buses, and tractor-trailer equipment—use of anti-skid chains on snow or ice cut braking distances 60 to 70 percent.

HERE ARE SOME road safety tips for snow and ice:

1. Turn headlights on low beam during a heavy snowfall, even in daylight.
2. Keep a margin of safety between you and others for evasive action, and be especially cautious when passing other vehicles—if in doubt, don't!
3. Help prevent side skids and maintain directional control by "pumping" the brakes when applying pressure. Be gradual in starting and stopping or changing direction to also prevent side skids.
4. Use snow tires or tire chains to reduce braking distance and to keep a better grip on the road.
5. Stay alert for pedestrians, many of whom do not drive and therefore are not fully appreciative of the limitations of either a motorist or the motor vehicle.

Tactical Victory—But Battle Not Over

IN THE LAST session of Congress, farmers and many congressmen succeeded in narrowly defeating the administration's plan to hoist farm prices and at the same time institute severe controls over the nation's farmers.

Administration spokesmen then vowed that they'd be back before the new Congress and make another attempt to push the program through. Now the word from Washington is that this "must" legislation has had it and Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman will leave matters much as they are now.

This represents a great victory in the farmers' battle for freedom to farm their own land and market their own crops without fear that they will be judged guilty of some infringement and heavily fined or even jailed.

IT ALSO REPRESENTS a victory for taxpayers, who would have had to pay the higher subsidies, and the consumers who would have found their food bills increased.

But one such victory doesn't mean the war is over. For one thing, the present system of farm subsidies is costing $3 billion a year, or about $30 for everyone who files a tax return. And the present system adds to the retail costs of all food and clothing.

The farmer, spared additional restrictions, still hasn't gotten rid of the old restraints. He can stay outside the program if he wishes, but the government has shown that it is not above dumping feed grains on the market to depress the price and force farmers to sign up. This could happen again next year.

Meanwhile, even with export subsidies—an additional expense to the taxpayers—we're losing out in world markets for our crops. Our supported prices are too high.

AMERICAN FARMERS, if free, could produce many crops at lower prices than is possible in less advanced nations, and recapture these lost markets. The new Congress should pass only farm legislation which leads in this direction.

NEW TECHNIQUE

President Gets Views Across

EDITOR'S NOTE — President Kennedy may have inaugurated a new technique for getting his views to the public. Douglas B. Cornell, who has covered the White House for The Associated Press since the early days of the New Deal, compares Kennedy's rocking chair interview with President Roosevelt's fireside chats.

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy may have kindled a new version of the old fireside chat when he let the American people look in and listen to an interview he had Monday night in his White House office.

It was the late Franklin D. Roosevelt who came up with the idea of establishing direct communication with people by the millions. In the 1930s and 1940s his mellow voice and rolling phrases were heard periodically on radio—reports to the nation that became known as fireside chats.

There were some likenesses and differences in comparison with Kennedy's televised interview for three reporters Monday.

One similarity: FDR always used to sit at a desk and talk into microphones; Kennedy sat in a chair—a rocker—and an inconspicuous microphone hung around his neck.

But Roosevelt's addresses were one-man efforts, whereas a four-some was involved in Monday night's program. And television, of course, added the extra dimension of sight lacking in the days of FDR. The Kennedy interview was carried on radio as well.

Roosevelt always spoke from texts. Kennedy had no text whatever, and the White House said he was given no inkling of the specific questions to be put to him.

The fireside chats of Roosevelt enabled the president to talk to the people direct about a special problem at a special time.

Kennedy's session with network newsmen brought such wide-spread expressions of interest and approval that it seems likely the format may be used again, perhaps with variations.

There wouldn't be too much surprise around Washington now if the President substituted the small, televised interview for some of the catch-as-catch-can news conferences he holds in the formal, theatrical setting of the State Department auditorium.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A lecturer who underestimates his audience is not worth listening to. I shall never forget a letter I received after I had spoken to a ladies' club—years ago—in Grand Rapids, Mich. "Thank you for obviously putting your heart into your appearance here," it read, and continued, "I wonder if you knew that the dignified matron in the front row who asked you about the menace of comic books was once the shining star of the Folies Bergere in Paris (without that mink coat, of course). The lady next to her, with the ermine scarf, is an archaeologist who has worked and suffered in the most remote corners of the world. And behind them sat two maiden ladies who have contributed over five million dollars anonymously to charities, and a lady who almost broke the bank at Monte Carlo some years ago. Could an audience at Carnegie Hall top an array like that?"

What would we do without our demon statisticians? One of them, for example, toiling for a great metropolitan daily, compiled all of the following earth-shaking statistics for a single article: 1. Harry Possum, a Hollywood bit-player, has essayed the role of a corpse in 319 films. 2. Freshmen in a Pennsylvania college crammed 58 students, plus a St. Bernard dog, into closet 9 feet long, 6 feet wide, and 8 feet high. 3. Eighteen representative citizens of Brighton, England, succeeded in perching simultaneously on top of a dilapidated garbage can. 4. In an Ohio institution of higher learning, 141 students, possibly because their meals had been inadequate, managed to squeeze into a dormitory room designed for three.

THE UNMERRIEST CHRISTMAS LIST

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

More History Leaking Out Over Cuban Crisis

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—More and more "history" is leaking out regarding the Cuban crisis. Here are two important incidents:

Incident No. 1—During the crucial period when President Kennedy had served his ultimatum on Premier Khrushchev and nobody knew whether Mr. K would reply with missiles or with peace, the civil defense administrator sent official notice to the members of the Supreme Court that, in case of war, a helicopter would pick up individual justices, but could not take their wives.

The justices would be flown to the secret hideaway deep under the Maryland mountains where the Cabinet and top leaders of the government would carry on. But the wives would be left to cope with radioactive flames and fallout on their own.

Incident No. 2—During the crucial part of the showdown over Cuba, Canada failed to man the defense alert in the Far North. These alerts have been worked out by the USA and Canada for use in case of bomber attack over the Arctic. However, for 53 breathless hours, at a time when no one knew whether Khrushchev would reply with missiles or the olive branch, the Canadian government dilly-dallied, thus leaving vast gaps in our air defenses.

DURING THIS same period, the U.S. Air Force was forbidden to send nuclear armed planes to key Canadian bases. Under plans worked out by the Royal Canadian Air Force and the U.S. Air Force, it was understood these bases would be available. But during this crucial period of delay, the U.S. Air Force was forbidden to send nuclear armed planes to key Canadian bases.

Under plans worked out by the Royal Canadian Air Force and the U.S. Air Force, it was understood these bases would be available. But during this crucial period of delay, the U.S. Air Force was forbidden to send nuclear armed planes to key Canadian bases.

U.S. planes were barred.

The Canadian government, which has frowned on U.S. policy in Cuba, was not at all sure, at first, whether it would cooperate.

It is now agreed that President Kennedy won a great victory in his skillful handling of the Cuban crisis. But the power struggle inside the White House is continuing over the basic policy of the future—whether to seize the lull in the Kremlin to negotiate or to continue giving Khrushchev the diplomatic straight-arm.

This power struggle finds Adlai Stevenson, Secretary of State, under Secretary of State Rusk, Under Secretary George Ball, and Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson generally lined up in favor of meeting Khrushchev's conciliatory and unexpected missile withdrawal from Cuba with some American conciliation in return.

THE HARD-NOSED group is led by CIA Director John McCone and includes Dean Acheson and his relative, McGeorge Bundy, the White House advisor on foreign policy. They take a don't-give-an-inch position.

Prime Minister Macmillan in his talks with Kennedy at Nassau is reported lining up with the moderates. He believes we can expect a period of relative calm with the Soviet Union for some time to come.

Secretary of State Rusk has expressed cautious optimism that we are on the verge of "significant and perhaps unpredictable events," while Under Secretary Ball says, "We may, before too long, begin to detect the first faint signs of a change for the better in the cold war."

Some of these moderates argue that we should help Khrushchev with his own power struggle inside the Kremlin by giving him something. If, for instance, we should pull our out-of-date Jupiter missiles out of Turkey and Italy, which missile bases the joint chiefs of staff say are of no value anyway, it would strengthen Khrushchev with his own hard-nosed clique who want to intensify the cold war.

But, to this, CIA Chief McCone and the Acheson group flatly say no.

When the Joint Intelligence Board, composed of experts from the State Department, CIA, Army, Navy and Air Force, informed the President that they believed Russia had embarked on a new policy based on peace, McCone was the lone dissenter. The board, after careful deliberation, predicted there would be no Russian squeeze on Berlin or other retaliation as previously expected. But McCone interpreted this as meaning Russia was trying to lull us to sleep.

SOME advisers have warned Kennedy not to push Khrushchev too hard lest it play into the hands of the tough, pro-war Red army leaders. But, as of today, the President seems to rely on CIA Chief John McCone and the Acheson-Bundy advisers.

J. Edgar Hoover and George Allen, the former White House jester, have been dovish, as the guests of ex-secretary of the treasury George Humphrey in Georgia.

The biggest underground parking lot in Washington will now benefit members of the House of Representatives, long jealous of the underground parking lot of senators. The old George Washington inn will be razed to make way for 2,800 cars. Cost: $8,000,000. Half a dozen different book publishers were afraid to publish the new book, "The Corrupt Judge," by Joseph Borkin. It took the courageous Clarkson Potter Company to put it in the bookstores—a best seller in Washington. Walter Reuther and George Meany will solve their battle over who should be the CIO replacement on the AFL-CIO executive council by nominating Eugene Frazier, president of the Red Caps Union. Frazier will be the second Negro to be admitted to the exclusive council, the other being Philip Randolph of the Sleeping Car Porters. Meany had turned thumbs down on Ralph Heinstein of the United Packinghouse Workers on the ground that his union was too leftist.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Recalls Christmas
Half Century Ago

To the Editor:

As I sit here this pre-Christmas day watching the soft gentle snowflakes silently drifting earthward, I think again of my happy carefree childhood. We were a large family; father, mother and we seven children.

We lived on a farm snugly nestled in a lovely valley between two wooded sloping hills. This was one half of a century ago, so we lived very simply and yet very plentifully. My father raised and produced the food we ate, the golden wheat for our bread, the firm potatoes and vegetables, the beef, the pork and even the deep rich brown sorghum that mother made cookies and cakes with. Mother canned all summer long, the first luscious strawberries until the last ripe apple had fallen. Our cellar was bountifully packed for the long winter months ahead.

We children walked three miles each way to school. On some days our toes were tingling when we got to school and the big old jacketed stove in the schoolroom was like a huge warm friend as the teacher permitted us to huddle near its friendly warmth. In the winter months it was dark by the time we had crunched through the door to the warmth and love of our home.

We had wonderful grandparents that lived four miles away. On Christmas day we were invited there. We drove there with horses and sleigh; with sleigh bells a-jingle. Grandmother had big loaves of spiced bread, cookies and fruit cake and the turkey was stuffed, including sage and celery that she had grown in her garden. That was my first taste of celery and sage.

The tree was resplendent with popcorn and bright plump dark red cranberries and invariably Grandmother gave us a book of wonderful fairy tales or Aesop's fables. I still have the books and in her distinctive handwriting it says, "Merry Christmas" 1912 from Grandma and Grandpa," a treasured book of delightful magic years gone by.

My grandparents sleep beneath the virgin newly fallen snow this Holy season and on into the future their progeny goes forth; minister, major, nurses, many teachers, business people, many fathers, mothers, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren. May each have his own goals of humbleness and greatness to leave for generations yet to be. I would it could be as lovely as mine.

College Professor Discusses Tax Cut

To the Editor:

Almost daily we hear and read about the forthcoming change in our tax system.

A number of different proposals and ideas have injected a degree of confusion into the public with respect to the primary reason for a tax change.

The purpose of this letter is to outline some of the basic issues involved in the present discussion concerning the future of our tax system.

There seems to be three basic proposals as to the kind of change our tax system needs. The first proposal favors a tax reform; the second favors a tax cut, government spending remaining constant; and the third favors a tax cut accompanied with a corresponding decrease in government spending.

Assuming that the goal is to preserve and strengthen our way of life, and, accordingly, to decrease the marginal role of the government, the third proposal would be in order.

However, at this particular moment of time the goal we want to achieve is a full employment output and a higher than present rate of economic growth. In this case a tax cut followed by a decrease in government spending necessary to maintain a balanced budget could have some negative effects on both the level of employment and the rate of growth. Why? The government revenue would decrease by the amount our disposable incomes increase. Since the government tends to spend a hundred cents out of each dollar of its revenue while we save at least a fraction of each extra dollar earned, the volume of total spending would tend to decrease. Unless the government does something the economy will be headed towards a recession.

A tax reform means a change in the distribution of income. And unless we have a good reason to believe that a tax reform will bring about a better and more equitable distribution of income, we should refrain from changing the tax structure.

A change in tax rates would increase our disposable incomes. Larger disposable incomes and the unchanged volume of government spending will call for an upward adjustment in the level of production and the flow of technological innovations. The result will be a full employment output and a higher than present rate of growth.

An increased government deficit will be only a short-run phenomenon. An increase in the volume of output will bring in more revenue and eventually, offset the loss due to a change in the level of tax collections.

If deficit spending is financed by borrowing from the public (by selling bonds) the rate of interest will increase and, consequently, business borrowing from the bank will decrease. A tax cut will, in this case, lead nowhere.

If deficit spending is financed by issuing new money the rate of interest will decline and, consequently, the volume of business borrowing from the banks will increase. A tax cut will, in this case, increase the volume of private investment.

The main disadvantage of a tax cut followed by an increase in the supply of money is that a lower rate of interest may cause further gold outflow from the United States. However, if a tax cut followed by an increase in the money supply results in a fast increase in the volume of output the government will collect enough revenue to balance its expenses and to discontinue any prolonged upward changes in the supply of money. Whether this will be the case depends not so much on the government policies as on the subsequent behavior of some of our trade unions and business groups.

To summarize: Assuming that our goal is a high rate of economic growth, the government can help our economy best through a tax cut followed by a temporary deficit, financed by issuing new money. The full success of a tax cut, however, depends not only on the size of a change in tax rates but on the behavior and cooperation of organized pressure groups. In fact it is their behavior which can make—in the final analysis—a change in tax rates a success or failure.

Guesswork Diagnosis Is Dangerous

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I think I have thyroid trouble. I have been reading a medical book on the subject.

There is a powder or tablet called "thyroid extract" and I wonder if I need a prescription or if I could buy it without one. I don't want to pay a doctor 10 or 15 dollars to tell me I am in good physical condition. —J.M.

Yes, a prescription is required for thyroid extract. There are several strengths involved, and feeling around with a medicine you don't understand could — and doubtless would — result in getting yourself fouled up in great shape.

Maybe you don't want to pay a doctor to tell you that you are in good physical condition, but if your guesswork self-diagnosis is correct and something is wrong with your thyroid, I'd highly recommend that you pay one to tell you that you aren't in good physical condition.

There's an old rule of medicine: "He who treats himself has a fool for a physician." This applies to doctors, too. But it applies doubly to people who try to diagnose themselves on the basis of whatever medical book they happen to lay hands on.

Even doctors are poor judges of their own condition. It's human nature! A smart doctor goes to a fellow physician when he needs diagnosis or treatment.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would it be advisable for a woman of 40, in the skip-and-flood stage of menstruation, to be a blood donor? —D. M.

There's no reason why not, unless the "flooding" is causing some anemia. And this condition would be checked before the blood is drawn anyway.

Hope Drugs Buy Freedom For Prisoners

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Will a mounting stack of American drugs and food buy freedom for 1,113 Cubans held prisoner by Fidel Castro since their 1961 invasion failed to liberate their homeland?

James B. Donovan, the man who may have the answer, plans to return to Havana today after a flight to Miami. Donovan, a New York attorney, is the chief negotiator for the Cuban Prisoner Families Committee. He has said previously he hopes to free the men by Christmas.

He expressed continuing optimism before departing Havana for a quick trip to Miami Wednesday night. Donovan said he had submitted to Castro a preliminary list of medicines and drugs already contributed to the American Red Cross for shipment to Cuba. The Castro government prepared an analysis of the list.

Donovan had that analysis with him when he flew to Miami to obtain the latest list of additional contributions.

Castro has demanded the equivalent of about $53 million in supplies before he will release the prisoners.

Donovan's plane from Havana sidestepped Miami International Airport and landed at a seldom-used air strip a mile distant.

Extra Duty For Highway Patrolmen

ST. PAUL, (AP)—All uniformed men in the Minnesota Highway Patrol, including safety officers and supervisors, will be on duty for the Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, New Years Eve and New Year's Day periods which could be treacherous traffic hours. Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall said Wednesday.

Military Personnel to Get Meningitis Drug

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP)—Ft. Knox medical authorities announced Wednesday all military personnel will be required to take treatment—sulfadiazine—as a precautionary measure against meningitis.

Authorities said incidence of the disease is no greater than in previous years, but they decided to act after a Cuban soldier at Ft. Knox was stricken with spinal meningitis while en route to Miami on Christmas leave.

When reporters and photographers arrived, the plane's occupants had vanished.

A cargo ship, the S.S. African Pilot, approached Port Everglades, Fla., to take on medicines and other supplies being donated to the Red Cross for shipment to Cuba as the price for release of the captives.

Major U.S. air lines flew tons of drugs to south Florida to stock the African Pilot, made available at no cost by the Committee of American Steamship Lines.

SOMEONE CALLED HIM ... Robert Bunke, general manager of Ace Telephone Co., answered in his car. That was a test of new vehicle service. It will be the first in Southern Minnesota.

Ace Co-op Installs Mobile Telephones

HOUSTON, Minn.—Any time now the Winona Daily News is expecting a telephone call from Robert Bunke or Jack McLean of Ace Telephone Co. and it won't originate in the head offices here. It may come from high on the hill above Lanesboro or deep within one of the valleys in that general area.

Bunke, general manager of Ace, and McLean, commercial supervisor, will punch—not dial—O for the operator at Preston and ask for 3324, Winona.

They'll be calling from a car.

ACE BECOMES the first telephone company in Southern Minnesota to furnish telephone service in mobile units. "We're in the communications business," says McLean. "We want to give our customers all kinds of communication service possible."

The 300-foot tower has been erected. Telephones have been installed in Bunke's car and one truck, and testing the new system began Tuesday. In a couple of weeks it'll be available to anyone who wants the service.

The mobile radio tower is located on a hill on the Jaymore Lee farm 1.1 miles west of Preston. A small transmission building at the foot of the tower is connected to the Peterson central office. All mobile unit calls will go through there.

ALL CALLS to Peterson, Lanesboro and Rushford numbers will be toll free, as they are for all desk and wall phones connected to these three exchanges.

The Peterson exchange equipment will connect the mobile phones with the long distance center at Preston for calling anywhere you like.

The new system will provide mobile service to at least 2,000 of Ace's 7,000 subscribers in 16 exchanges. The tower is guaranteed to transmit within a 30-mile radius of the Peterson hill.

Mobile equipment is simple. It consists of a telephone such as you have at your desk or on the wall, but you push numbered and lettered buttons instead of dialing. A short aerial on the car helps transmit the signal to the tower.

THE COMPANY has applied to the Railroad & Warehouse Commission for proposed rates, and will make the service available to customers as soon as testing is completed. Installations will be by present employees. Motorola is furnishing the equipment.

Ace Telephone, a $3½ million organization, started at Ostrander, Minn., in 1932 and has spread east and north across Fillmore and Houston Counties and also serves parts of Winona County and two Iowa counties.

3 Arrested for Attempt to Sell Missile to Cuba

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—City law enforcement authorities arrested three Jackson men today for what they said was an attempt to sell missile blueprints to an agent of the Fidel Castro regime.

Officers said the men were seeking $600,000 for blueprints stolen from the Vickers plant here which manufactures missile parts.

The blueprints and plans, officers said, were concerned with the Nike missile.

The men were identified as Homer Lee Young, 45, and James W. Causey Jr., 22, and Anthony M. Whitehead, 20, a Vickers employee.

They are being held by city authorities on grand larceny charges.

Copter Stops at Highway Gas Station

TARANTO, Italy (AP)—While motorists on a highway screamed to a halt and stared goggle-eyed, a government helicopter touched down on the road and cruised over to a filling station.

"Fill 'er up," said the pilot. The attendant poured in gas and the chopper whirled up and away.

Fat Turkeys With Lean Prices Shown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fat turkeys with lean price tags are a welcome supermarket feature this weekend as housewives do their Christmas dinner shopping.

Prices aren't quite as low as last Christmas' record, but heavy storage stocks and another large crop have kept prices at bargain level.

In the New York area, for example, one national chain is selling 10 to 16 pound birds at 39 cents a pound.

In the Midwest, prices are running about 37 to 40 cents a pound. For those who lean to smaller poultry, baking hens, roasting chickens, ducks and geese are widely featured.

Many markets are also featuring smoked hams for the holidays. One chain is quoting them at 39 cents a pound for butt ends in its New York outlets.

Other pork attractions this weekend include chops, loins, sausage and bacon.

Beef highlights include rib roasts, selling widely at 70-80 cents a pound, round roasts and sirloin and porterhouse steaks.

Eggs, cheese, canned Maine sardines, fish sticks and fish portions are protein items carrying attractive price tags this weekend to help balance budgets depleted by holiday dinners.

Among side dishes, canned cranberries are sale priced in many stores after a large crop. Mushrooms are relatively low, and other vegetables in good supply for the special dinner include

Recreation Swims Begin Jan. 3 at Senior High Pool

Recreation swims for adults will be offered by the Park-Recreation Board at Winona Senior High School pool beginning Jan. 3.

The swims will be held Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. and will continue for 12 weeks. Final swim will be March 21. Lloyd Luke, WSH swimming coach, will supervise the activity.

Winona residents may pay either $1.50 for the full 12-week season or 15 cents per swim. Non-residents are charged $3 for the season or 25 cents per swim.

artichokes, yams and head lettuce. Basic vegetables reasonably priced include potatoes, broccoli, cabbage, carrots and onions.

Prices have begun to climb on some of the more tender vegetables caught by the Florida freeze. These include beans, sweetcorn, peppers, cucumbers and tomatoes.

Fruit prices are also beginning to feel the effect of the Florida weather, but most markets still offer the makings for festive fruit bowls at reasonable prices. Attractions include oranges, apples, limes, avocados, grapes and pears.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Maschka (Camera Art photo)

Lola Rauk Is Bride of Francis Maschka

SPRING GROVE, Minn.—Miss Lola Jeanne Rauk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Rauk, and Francis Maschka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Maschka, Rollingstone, were married Dec. 1 at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart at Winona.

The couple is at home near Minneapolis where the bridegroom is engaged in farming. The bride was employed at Community Memorial Hospital, Winona.

WHITE POMPONS and chrysanthemums decorated the altar for the ceremony performed by the Rev. Joseph La Plante. The children's choir sang.

Attendants were Miss Paulette Rauk, sister of the bride, maid of honor; Miss Cae Osgard, Winona, bridesmaid; David Hengel, Rollingstone, best man; Roge Maschka, Rollingstone, groomsmen; Edward Rauk, Spring Grove, and David Maschka, Rollingstone, brothers of the couple, ushers.

The bride's gown was fashioned of ice blue bouquett tulle with a long sleeve lace bodice had a sabbina neckline embroidered with iridescent sequins and pearls. The full-length skirt had a lace panel front. Her silk illusion veil was held by a Juliet cap of lace trimmed with pearls and sequins. She carried white roses on a white prayer book.

The bride attendants wore a street-length dress of blue satin made with princess style bodice, scoop neckline, elbow-length sleeves and bell skirt. They wore white fur crowns and carried matching muffs.

A dinner for the bridal party and parents was served at 12:30 p.m. and a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. was held at the Oaks. The couple left on a trip to the Twin Cities, St. Cloud and Mankato. The bride is a graduate of Spring Grove Public School and Winona School of Practical Nursing. The bridegroom attended Holy Trinity High School, Rollingstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gilbertson (King's studio)

Arcadia Couple Exchange Vows

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—The marriage of Miss Janice Urbick, Arcadia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Urbick, Minnesota City, Minn., and Larry Gilbertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gilbertson, took place Nov. 24 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Lesile before an altar decorated with varied color pompoms. Traditional music was played by Sister M. Alvin who accompanied St. Aloysius Catholic School children's choir.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor-length gown of Queen Anne lace over tulle with fitted bodice, long sleeves and sabbina neckline embroidered with pearls and sequins. The bouffant skirt was designed with lace tiers. Her silk illusion veil was held by a crown of aurora borealis. She carried red roses and wore a silver necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Josephine Oheiglo, Winona, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Ruth Urbick, Winona, sister of the bride, and Miss Joyce Urbick, Arcadia, cousin of the bride, and Miss Sharon Klink, Arcadia, were bridesmaids. They wore floor-length gowns of lilac colored organza over tulle with fitted bodice, scoop neckline, long sleeves and bustle back. Their headresses were matching crowns trimmed with pearls and crystals holding bluish veils. They carried yellow and white roses and pearl necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Best man was Lloy Biesek, Winona, and groomsmen were LaVerne Borge Jr., cousin of the bride, Richard Joe, cousin of the bridegroom, and Evarist Schock Jr., cousin of the bride.

THE BRIDES aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Trenberg, were breakfast hosts to the bridal party. Mrs. Trenberg and the bride's aunts, Mrs. LaVerne Borge and Mrs. Evarist Schock Sr., served the group.

A noon dinner for 50 and reception for 200 were held at Club 93. Assisting at the reception were the Mrs. Albert Klonecki, Mary Suchla, John Kamrowski, Myron Scow, the Misses Sylvia Shepard, JoWayne Borge, Jeannette Walezko, Susan Kamrowski, Arcadia; Irene Gilbertson, Whitehall; Julie Hanson, Milwaukee; Darlene Biesek, Winona.

The bride attended Winona Schools and the bridegroom, Arcadia High School. He is engaged in farming near Arcadia where the couple is at home.

BEGINNERS SQUARES
The Winona Park Rec Squares beginners class held a Christmas party Tuesday evening at the Roy Lunn home in Gilmore Valley. Dinner was served at 7, followed by dancing and games. The party ended with a late lunch and exchange of gifts.

Janice Kujak, Joseph Wozney Exchange Vows

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Janice Kujak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kujak, Arcadia, and Joseph P. Wozney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wozney, Independence, Wis., Dec. 1 at 9:30 a.m. in St. Stanislaus Catholic Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Raymond Wagner before an altar decorated with vases of red and white pompoms and lighted candles in candelabra. Traditional music was played by Sister Mary Aquila who also accompanied the children's choir as they sang during the high Mass and as the bride placed a bouquet of red roses at the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length sheath of brocade peau de soie fashioned with fitted bodice, modified scoop neckline and dolman sleeves. Self covered buttons trimmed the back bodice to the waistline where open pleats lay under a chapel sweep train. A queen's crown of seed pearls and aurora borealis crystals held her triple-tiered veil of illusion. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and wore a pearl necklace and earrings, gifts of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Bernard Wozney, was matron of honor and the bride's sister, Miss Bonnie Jean Kujak, bridesmaid. They wore a street-length red velvet sheaths styled with three quarter-length sleeves, scoop necklines and marabou fur trimmed waist-length capes. Their headbands and red carnation trimmed muffs were of marabou. Their crystal bracelets were gifts of the bride.

Bernard Wozney, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Alan Kujak, brother of the bride, groomsmen. James Kotlarz, uncle of the bride, and Dennis Maule, Independence, cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A NOON dinner for 75 guests was held at Club 93, near Arcadia, with a reception for 500 following from 2 to 6 p.m. Music for dancing was furnished by Miss Mariette Sluga, Independence. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Rose Kupietz, Mrs. Albert Klonecki and Mrs. Aloysius Slaby Sr., in the kitchen; the brides' cousins the

BUSINESS MIRROR

American Dollar Vs. British Pound

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The health of the American dollar and the British pound will be on the agenda in the Bahamas along with the Skybolt missile and the Congo.

Protection of both currencies is involved in many of the issues that President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will be discussing.

Such things as the European Common Market and its relation to applicant Great Britain and friendly competitor United States, and the upcoming American budget which the President is putting into final form under the anxious eyes of much of Europe—are tied to the protection of the two currencies to which a great part of the world ties its fiscal affairs.

And neither the dollar nor the pound is out of the woods today. The quietness of the free market for gold and the pleasant absence of pressure on these currencies at the moment could change. And both leaders know it.

The dikes which the big financial nations of the West have raised against another flash flood of monetary speculation can hold up to a point. It will be part of the task of the U.S. and British policy makers to see that nothing encourages too high a flood in the months ahead.

The British are interested in American tax-cutting plans. If they spur the U.S. economy, Britain, its Commonwealth partners, and the Common Market countries hope to sell more goods and materials here. If the tax cuts raise the federal budget deficit too high, conservative Britons fear this might weaken the dollar in the world money markets. And any pronounced weakness of the dollar could be a disease that would spread quickly to the British pound.

The Common Market is much on the minds of Kennedy and Macmillan these days. Britain's application to join the trading bloc of six West European nations is hotly debated both on the island and on the Continent.

The United States' involvement is deep. Washington has encouraged the Common Market and would like to see Britain join.

But it is keenly aware of the competition already posed by the trading bloc and the bigger rivalry in the years just ahead. It was mainly because of this rise of an industrial complex and consumer market equal to America's that the Congress gave the President unprecedented powers to bargain on tariffs, quotas and other trade barriers.

This bargaining is likely to cover most of 1963 and easily could go over into 1964. It will be a prime issue both in the United States and in Britain. And if the results are trade gains for both countries that would go a long way toward insuring the health of the dollar and the pound.

New Tax Rules for Expense Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new tax rules curbing "expense account living," which were expected before Christmas, won't be out until late next week, the Internal Revenue Service said Wednesday.

The regulation takes effect on Jan. 1. IRS Commissioner Mortimer Caplin told a New York audience Tuesday it would be issued by Christmas to help taxpayers adjust to the new record-keeping requirements.

But a spokesman said today that Caplin was too optimistic. The regulation now is expected, on or about Friday, Dec. 28, he said.

Ranger Moon Rocket Plans Being Changed

By VERN HAUGLAND
WASHINGTON (AP)—The space agency started a major overhaul of its trouble-plagued Ranger moon rocket program today.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration acknowledged that the action might delay its vital lunar research program—preparatory to manned landings on the moon—by several months.

But NASA said that the change should vastly improve the chances of success in obtaining the first close-at-hand television pictures of the moon, and of depositing on the moon instruments to measure moonquakes and to give clues of the moon's geography.

Information of this type is absolutely essential before the first man can dare venture onto the moon—hopefully by the end of the decade.

The space agency already has let contracts for construction of the three-man Apollo spacecraft that will orbit the moon, and the two-man capsules that will be detached to carry Apollo crews to the moon and back to their orbiting vehicles.

The agency has been increasingly concerned over the continued failure of the multimillion-dollar Ranger program.

Five Ranger vehicles have been launched.

The first two were engineering test vehicles that met with only limited success.

The three others were equipped to photograph the moon with television cameras and to send this data back to earth.

Only one of these hit the moon, and it failed to send back any information. Two others missed the moon and apparently went into orbit around the sun.

The failure to achieve Ranger goals has been charged primarily to the Jet Propulsion Laboratory of the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, which has had major responsibility for this program.

Under the space agency's requirement that its key men produce or get out of positions of responsibility, the agency already has reassigned some of the jet lab scientists. Further changes of top personnel are considered in prospect.

Galesville Firemen Rename Officers

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—Galesville firemen have re-elected all officers, including Russell Jenks, who has been chief 20 years; Harold Williamson, first assistant; Donald McKeeth, second assistant; Carlyle Cory, secretary, and Cecil Boardman, treasurer.

Ray Olson was elected trustee to serve with Roy Poss and George Gardner.

There are 28 active members in the fire department. Up to Dec. 3 there were 18 fire calls this year—five each in Gale and Caladonia towns; one each in Ettrick, and Trempealeau towns and six in the city.

The refreshment committee at the meeting was Cecil Boardman, Howard Barenthin and LeRoy Brown. Oyster stew was prepared by Alton Johnson.

Galesville Youth in Africa, African in Galesville Home

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—Christmas will be different this year for two college students far, far from home and an ocean apart. The only similarity will be that Christmas will be the same Christian celebration in both places.

H. Charles Lyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lyon, Galesville, will be somewhere in Africa and Narcisse Mayetela, Brazzaville, Congo, Africa, will be in Galesville with the Lyon family.

NARCISSE MAYETELA, 20, is a college student at Park College, Parkville, Mo. He visited the Lyon home for a month before school started this fall after coming here through sponsorship of Experiment in International Living, an activity of the Society of Benevolent Individuals with headquarters in Vermont.

When Narcisse was here last fall he spoke only French and Spanish. He could understand English fairly well and wrote it; now he will undoubtedly speak it also. He will ride north with Dr. George Schurr, teacher at the college, who with his wife will spend the holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. Clayton Burgess, Winona.

CHARLES, 20, who had been on the dean's list at Carroll College, Waukesha, as a freshman and sophomore, chose to spend his junior year at the University College of Ibadan, Ibadan, Nigeria, Africa. He is sponsored by the ecumenical missions and relations board of the Presbyterian church.

most any found in the U.S. He is hoping he can stay there through the summer vacation so he can learn more about this vast African country. He likes the small part he has seen already.

Members of Lyon's family were very anxious to hear from Charles after he left on the 6,700 mile trip to Nigeria.

HE SPENT Thanksgiving as guest in the home of the American vice consul and his wife, who served a typical U. S. dinner. He was particularly glad to have butler.

Fruits are easy to obtain there and are inexpensive. Charles wrote that he bought all the fruit he could carry — oranges, huge grapefruit and a pineapple — for 24 cents. If he had had time to bargain he could have bought it cheaper. He picks bananas off the trees on campus.

He has had many thrilling experiences. He has written of one student whose family practiced ju ju sacrifice until converted to Christianity. His barber can't understand why Charles' father has but one wife. He was sure Charles would be rich enough to support six or seven wives.

Charles has spent Sundays at many churches. One morning he went to Methodist Communion and Anglican Baptist and Presbyterian mission services. One Sunday he joined a procession of 200 Witnesses singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers" simultaneously in three languages. Denominations of churches mean very little to the African — to be a Christian is the important thing. Visitors are welcome at any church or mission.

It at a trade fair, but he didn't think the natives were impressed by the display of rockets, fathers and generators. They showed more interest in the U. S. exhibit of consumer goods, food and live television commercials.

Christmas for Narcisse will be all American with the Lyon family. Christmas for Charles will be very different. He is not sure where he will be, for he plans to spend his vacation on a bicycle or hitch-hike trip. He will aim for a friend's home in a fishing village on the coast. He will be accompanied on the trip tour by another American boy.

Narcisse will be disappointed that time will not permit Charles to go to his parents' home for Christmas.

Dale Johnson Case Continued

A continuance was ordered in District Court this morning by Judge Leo F. Murphy in the case of Dale P. Johnson, 20, on a check charge.

Lake City Names Lyman Bringgold Acting Principal

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special)—A member of Lincoln High School faculty 22 years was appointed acting principal by the school board recently. Lyman C. Bringgold fills a post that was vacant the first 14 weeks of the term.

Except for the period 1946-52 when he operated a variety store here, Mr. Bringgold has taught at Lincoln since 1934. He was principal from 1943-46 when M. G. Boock was on military leave.

Bringgold has been history, economic geography, business, speech and social studies teacher, assistant coach and directed 28 class plays. A native of Pine Island, he attended Winona and Moorhead state colleges and did graduate work in speech, dramatics and administration at the University of Colorado, Boulder. He is a member of the City Council and past president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The defendant, who has no listed address, was charged with cashing a $84 check at A&P Food Store here last April 21.

Badger Road Toll Up to 919 For Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The deaths of two women and a man in separate accidents have increased Wisconsin's highway toll for the year to 919, compared with 866 on this date in 1961. Trucks figured in all three deaths. Mrs. Frances Gillingham, 57, of Rural Kenosha died of a skull fracture Wednesday night when a car driven by her husband, Paul, and a milk tank truck collided at the intersection of Highway 31 and Kenosha County Q. Both the husband and wife were thrown from the car and Mrs. Gillingham was pinned under the overturned auto.

Matthew Puzerewski, 45, of Twin Lakes in Kenosha County, died Wednesday evening when his car crashed into the rear of a truck in Walworth County. The collision occurred on Highway 11 about five miles east of Elkhorn. A Sheboygan woman, Mrs. Lorenz Urban, 72, was killed Wednesday afternoon when struck by a panel truck as she crossed a Sheboygan intersection.

WORLD TODAY

Incredible Year Of Stupidity

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This was not one of the splendid years. Neither optimists nor pessimists had much to crow about. It had some horrible moments, some flashing ones.

It was a year of incredible stupidity — when the Russians thought they could get away with putting missiles in Cuba.

It was a year of at least one fierce and stupid decision—when President Kennedy forced the Russians to remove the missiles.

It was a savage and bloody year—war in Viet Nam, the Red Chinese invasion of India, assassinations in Algeria.

It was a year racism wore one of its ugliest faces—when James H. Meredith, a Negro, got into all-white University of Mississippi only after bloody rioting, two men's deaths and use of the full force of government.

It was a year of few solutions—there were none in Viet Nam,

Berlin, the Congo, all major trouble spots for years.

It was, like others, a year of empty jaw-jaw — East and West did nuclear testing while fruitlessly talking disarmament and a ban on testing.

It was even a dull political year — after the November elections the number of Democrats and Republicans in office remained pretty much the same.

It was a year of at least one political disaster—defeated Richard M. Nixon apparently passed into political oblivion.

It was a year of a few brilliant moments—when astronauts, American and Russian, sailed the sky but Russia, with its space twins, stayed ahead.

But it was also a year of unforgettable clash—when Kennedy forced the steel industry to drop its price increase.

It was a year the stock market frightened the nation again — in May a one-day drop was the worst since 1929. Later the market straightened out.

It was the year when the summit slid into the valley—Premier Khrushchev talked it up, but this week Kennedy saw no use in a summit meeting soon.

It was also a year of one great possibility—that Russia, after its horrifying Cuban experience, may be easier to live with. Kennedy doesn't predict it.

Out of Cuba the Russians learned, at least, the United States can be tough to the point of war. This may make them more careful. It doesn't mean it changed them. They may be far tougher in a new crisis closer to home.

The United States couldn't claim much progress in saving, with men and supplies, Viet Nam from the Communists. But the Communists couldn't claim they had made much progress trying to gobble it up.

The Red Chinese invasion of India is still a mystery since they pulled back. It may have been a costly blunder. It would be if it drove India into the Western camp. That hasn't happened yet.

As for the Congo—the trouble that seemed to have quieted down by last year's end is bubbling up at this year's end. This can be real nasty. Russia let the heat on Berlin cool down in 1962. It's still fairly cool.

It's now 17 years since World War II. Russia and the West seem no nearer agreement on disarmament than they did then. As for a ban on nuclear testing — the two sides are still waltzing like a couple of flatfoots.

BOYLE'S COLUMN

Few U.S. Records Make Money

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Some 12,000 to 14,000 new long-playing phonograph recordings are turned out each year in America.

"But only about 500 make any real money," said Enoch Light, the musical millionaire.

Light is managing director of one of 4,000 firms fighting in an overcrowded field for the privilege of reaching the American ear—and the American pocketbook.

A placid-looking, pipe-smoking man of middle age, Light has led a spectacular roller-coaster career in a business in which the unofficial slogan is: "Hold on to your hat at all times."

At 19 he left college to become the pit conductor for a Broadway show in 1926.

By 1940 he had become known as the "Ambassador of Jazz" in Europe, and he was leader of one of the big bands.

Then he was involved in an automobile accident that laid him up for a year and a half.

"When I finally recovered I found that the parade had passed me by. The heyday of the big bands was drawing to a close, and I realized I had to try something new."

Enoch entered the recording field and learned the business from the ground up.

There followed 10 lean, arduous years, then in 1954 Light founded his own firm, and in 1959 sold it for more than $2 million to ABC-Paramount, which retained him as directing head.

"It's all pretty crazy, isn't it?" he asked quietly, puffing on his pipe.

After my accident came the desperate days—week after week when I earned nothing. From the time I was 35 until I was 44 I was in danger of starving.

"Then, in another five years or so, I was a millionaire. It is crazy!"

"But once you go through a bad period in life you never get over the fear. Today I still can't bear to waste money or food."

Light now feels his years of ordeal were well worth all the personal hardship he endured.

"They taught me to work hard and to respect work," he said.

"Success isn't a matter of being cute or clever. It's a matter of worry, integrity, responsibility and doing your very best. It sounds corny, but it's true."

"The only secret lies in believing in what you are trying to do, and then putting more time and effort into doing it than the other fellow does."

Pinball Machine Raids Conducted On Iron Range

ST. PAUL (AP)—Nationwide raids on pinball machines used for gambling brought seizure of 16 such devices from taverns, cafes and bars in six Minnesota Iron Range communities Wednesday.

A squad of 25 special Internal Revenue Service agents swooped on establishments in Hibbing, Grand Rapids, Chisholm, Virginia, Biwabik and Mountain Iron.

Although operators of the 16 places visited were served with warrants, none was placed under arrest. In all cases, they were accused of conducting gambling without possession of the necessary federal stamp.

Money to be used for payoffs was seized in several of the places.

The machines seized will be stored in the federal building in Duluth until there is a decision as to their disposition. Such machines usually are ordered destroyed when they are seized.

Increase Trade Seen Between Cuba, Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—The head of a Cuban trade delegation left Moscow Wednesday, and the Soviet news agency Tass reported agreement was reached with Soviet negotiators on increased trade between the two nations in 1963.

Carlos Rodriguez, head of the delegation, headed for Prague. The Cuban Embassy said some members of his group would go to Communist China for trade talks.

Mona Lisa Reaches Washington

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — In Vault X of the National Gallery of Art, a celebrated lady rested today, waiting for somebody to let her out of a box so she can turn her inscrutable smile on Americans.

Under security guard seldom accorded a queen, the Mona Lisa of Leonardo da Vinci, the world's most famous portrait, arrived Wednesday from the Paris Louvre.

An ambassador of good will, she will be unveiled Jan. 8 by President Kennedy before a throng of notables, including members of the new Congress.

After three weeks in Washington, the 450-year-old painting will move on to the Metropolitan Museum in New York, then possibly to other American cities, before going home to France.

The Mona Lisa made the Atlantic crossing on the liner France. At New York Wednesday, her aluminum and plastic box, airconditioned to duplicate the humidity and temperature of the Louvre, was loaded with ceremony into a small black van.

In a seven-car caravan, the van sped to the capital. Eyes of Secret Service men, assigned by Kennedy, roved right and left. Soldiers turned out to guard the way. In every state en route, state police formed a motorcycle escort. Tunnels were closed to ordinary traffic.

Goldwater Doesn't Want Nomination For Vice President

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona says he will not seek the Republican vice presidential nomination in 1964 because "I don't want to be a big fat zero."

"Neither do I want to be the biggest ant on the hill, but I like the Senate," he said Wednesday night in a speech to the Phoenix Press Club.

Goldwater, chief spokesman for Republican Conservatives, said President Kennedy has proved to be a magician, making vice president Lyndon B. Johnson disappear from the political scene.

In answer to a question, Goldwater said it would be dangerous for Republicans to nominate presidential and vice presidential candidates whose views conflict.

Asked about differences between himself and New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, he said they are not as extreme as those dividing some conservative and liberal Democrats, and said Goldwater, he doesn't think Rockefeller is as liberal as generally believed.

DEAR ABBY:

Let Conscience Be Your Guide

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with Mr. D. for three years. We have both had unsuccessful marriages and agreed not to rush into anything. Until recently I thought I was the only woman in his life, but was shocked to find a letter he had written and addressed, but not mailed. Naturally, I read it. (It was on his bureau.) The girl is a school teacher (probably young and innocent) and lives in a small town nearby. He wrote in his letter that he "loved" her and "missed" her and was very lonely because he was "on the road" a lot. (A lie!) Should I tell him I read the letter and ask him to explain it? Or should I wise up the girl so she won't be hurt the way he hurt me?

HURT AND CONFUSED

DEAR HURT: Don't "wise up" the girl. Your good intentions might be misunderstood. But by all means wise up Mr. D. Confess you read the letter (which you had no right to do) but don't bother to ask him to explain it. It explains itself. Then I suggest you wise up yourself and end the interlude with the devious M. D.

Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who thinks nothing of using a toothpick in public. He says that if they were not supposed to be used they would not be set out on the table in some of the finest restaurants. Please give me your opinion.

DEAR EMBARRASSED: I don't care where toothpicks are "set out." They should not be used in public—ever.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me. I have parent trouble. I am 14 and my boy friend is 19. He is wonderful in every way and I am crazy about him. He is the only person who makes me feel important and wanted and loved.

My parents say he is too old for me and I can't see him any more. I don't want to sneak out but I am so lonely without him and boys my age don't interest me. Do you think it is fair for my parents to make me stop seeing him? I feel so lost.

LOST AND LONELY

DEAR LOST: I agree with your parents. You are much too young for this boy. Trust their judgment and don't sneak out. Furthermore, a 19-year-old boy who would PERMIT you to sneak out to see him is BAD NEWS.

DEAR ABBY: Tell that woman, who offered a mature baby-sitter 25 cents an hour, she should hire a canary to baby-sit for her. And when she returns the bird will say "cheap cheap."

MILWAUKEE

DEAR READERS: If you have sent for the pecan pie recipe I offered and have not as yet received it, please be patient. I have had over 100,000 requests.

ABBY

Russia, France Oppose Paying Congo Expenses

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly has voted to accept a World Court opinion that the U.N. Congo and Middle East peacekeeping operations are expenses that must be shared by all members. The Soviet Union and France were among those opposing the measure.

The assembly vote was 76 to 17 with 8 abstentions in Wednesday's vote.

The action came after the assembly's 110-nation Budgetary Committee approved Secretary-General U Thant's request to extend his spending powers for the Congo and Middle East operations until June 30.

Thant was authorized to spend up to $10 million a month for the U.N. Congo force and $1.58 million a month for the Middle East operations.

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — The Boy Scouts of Rushford are selling Christmas trees again this year. The trees are in the lot adjacent to the Trojan Theater.

Second Ceramics Class Scheduled

The final meeting of a 10-session class in ceramics will be held Friday at 7 p.m. at the East Recreation Center.

Conducted for adults by the Park-Recreation Board, the classes have been held Fridays from 7 to 10 p.m. Miss Joan Modjeski, a Winona State College student majoring in art, is class instructor.

Some openings remain to be filled for the second session which will start Jan. 11, the park-recreation office announced. Interested adults or older youths may register at the City Hall office, recreation directors said. Registration fee is $1.

BALLOTS

DFL inspectors were questioning "nearly every ballot that wasn't marked for Rolvaag." He called this "indiscriminate challenging."

While conceding that challenges were higher than anticipated, George Farr, DFL state chairman, said they were coming from both sides and not just from his party's inspection teams.

Upon completion of the tabulation in county auditors' offices throughout the state, totals plus the disputed ballots will be forwarded to St. Paul for final determination by the panel of three District Judges supervising the recount.

Foraythe said the flood of challenges might well set back the Dec. 29 target date for completion of work in the field. That also would delay start of work on the disputed ballots, now tentatively fixed for Jan. 7.

Farr charged that the GOP counters also were guilty of wholesale challenges. He cited that 78 of 99 Rolvaag votes have been questioned in the town of LA CRESCENT and that in Rice County 30 to 40 percent of Rolvaag ballots were under challenges "for no apparent reason."

(John Breilow of Winona is the Republican-appointed counter in Houston County. Allen Bremseth, Houston, is the neutral and Ernest Peterson, La Crescent, the DFL appointee.)

But the DFL chief said he was not aware of any "indiscriminate challenges" by his teams of 100 inspectors. He said all had attended two or more instructional sessions on what constituted legitimate challenge procedure and were expected to follow that outline.

Lawrence Yetka, 8th District

chairman, said that, according to his sources, Republicans were challenging five times as many ballots there as the DFL. He said "disputes, thus, could burgeon into the hundreds of thousands."

"The Republicans are seeking to so over-burden the courts as to hold off any final decision for two or three months," Yetka charged. As things stand, Andersen remains as the "duly elected and qualified governor" until the recount, with all of its ramifications, is completed. But there will be no swearing-in ceremony, as provided by law, with start of the 1963 legislative session on Jan. 7.

Farr said that no dependable figure could be expected until the field teams have completed checking county totals, including the disputed ballots.

After that the judges — Sidney Kaner, Duluth, J. H. Sylvestre, Crookston, and Leonard Keyes, St. Paul — must consider the challenges in detail.

It was indicated that apparent agreement may have been reached on voting machine totals, representing more than a third of the votes cast on Nov. 6. They came from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Rochester and several other smaller communities and were accepted as not being susceptible to the errors inherent in paper ballots.

The machine totals gave Rolvaag 242,369, Andersen 235,470.

Four Packers 'Out'; Hawk Hopes Low

By AUGIE KARCHER
Daily News Sports Editor

Four members of the Austin High School basketball team, one a starting regular, will not be in uniform Friday night when the Packers entertain Winona's Winhawks in the lone Big Nine Conference game of the week.

The quartet was suspended for one week by Packer Coach Ove Berven for "improper conduct" before last Friday's game with Red Wing.

If the suspension holds, and it is expected to, Dave Hartman, a Packer starter, will not suit up. Neither will top reserves Mike House and Steve Schmitt. Also suspended were student manager Dick Warman and Randy Tigner, a member of the Packer sophomore team which has won 20 consecutive games. The news was greeted in Winona by Winhawk Coach John Kenney with mixed emotions.

Any kind of a victory—against any Austin lineup—would be as welcome as St. Nick on Christmas morning as far as the Winhawks are concerned. They have lost four straight games and a defeat Friday would drop them into a tie for last place with Owatonna (0-3) in the Big Nine standings.

"I'll take any break I can get," said Kenney this morning. "But Hartman's absence won't make too much difference. If it were one of their front-liners, it would help us more."

Hartman is the Packer playmaker and brings the ball up court. He has been averaging about eight points a game, which is all expected of him.

"Their front line is still just as big as ever," Kenney pointed out. The Hawk coach had scout Jim Elliott at the Rochester-Austin game, but has not personally viewed the Packers whose title hopes were deflated temporarily by Red Wing. Kenney this morning revealed possible changes in his starting guard department.

"Right now Dick Kalbrenner and Darrell Foster have the inside track," he said. "I won't know for sure until after today's practice. Marly Farrell and Steve Keller have been scrapping to get back in but they will have to work for it."

Kenney will go with his regular forwards, John Prigge and Wulf Krause and has moved Jim Kasten back into the post.

"No, I won't play against Austin. I can't afford to," said Kenney. That tactic proved fruitless against Minneapolis Southwest in Friday's loss.

The Winhawk guards haven't produced as much as Kenney's style of attack demands and he has had to rely on his more consistent front court to get the points.

Berven has nominated either 5-11 Tom Nelson or 6-0 Harry Musser to start in Hartman's spot at guard. At the other guard will be Tom Grimley, another six-footer.

Bruce Miller, 6-3, will start at center and Al Berg (6-3) and Walter Osterholt (6-0) at forwards.

Around Winona High there is almost more interest in Friday's sophomore clash with Austin. The Little Winhawks are 5-0 and bent on snapping the Packer sophs' long winning streak—which is all Bob Lee, assistant coach, could ask for Christmas. Kenney has dispelled any fears of breaking up the sophomore unit to get added strength on the varsity since the best soph prospects aren't quite ready yet.

Friday's tilt is the last for the Winhawks until Jan. 4 when LeCrosse Logan plays here.

SCHOOL BOY GIANT... William Herrold, left, 15-year-old Shamokin, Pa. H. S. Junior, is shown talking with Robert Torok, Shamokin H. S. assistant football coach. Herrold, who plays tackle, is believed to be the biggest lineman ever to play scholastic football in Pennsylvania. He stands 6 feet, 5 inches in height, weighs 355 pounds and wears a size 19 shirt, 32 pants, and 13 triple-E shoes. (AP Photofax)

Behind the Eight-Ball

WINONA BOXERS are scheduled to make another television appearance Saturday on the amateur card being presented at 1 p.m. over KROC-TV at Rochester.

Ron Puterbaugh, Winona heavy, is booked against Bob Cane of Blue Earth and seeks to avenge an earlier loss to the Blue Earth puncher.

Lee Huwald will go against Jerry McDonald of Rochester and Bruce Volkman (Leviston) against Wayne Ulling of Chatfield.

In another bout, Tom Van Hoof of Winona meets Fred Jimenez of Blue Earth.

Ken Patzner and Bob Kulas are on a standby basis for this card.

Chuck Puterbaugh, director of Winona's Golden Glove program, reports he plans his first amateur show Jan. 7. It will be held at The Oaks which with Country Kitchen holds the Winona Golden Glove franchise.

ANDRE BEAULIEU'S performance against Concordia Tuesday is just another indication that this young St. Mary's skater from Canada is just about the No. 1 all-around performer in the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

And all the time it must be remembered that Beaulieu most times, because of short Redmen personnel, is skating against fresh lines put in by opposing teams.

Winona hockey fans will have a chance to see him against two good teams Jan. 5 (Augsburg) and Jan. 10 (Macalester) in games at Terrace Heights.

Coach Max Molock says the job Augie goalie Rich Kuehne turned in Monday night was tremendous. "Three times Andre was in on him all alone, but he managed to stop the shot," Molock enthused.

St. Mary's, incidentally, is a young team this year. Molock has only one senior on skates, Bob Trytek.

SPEAKING OF hockey, if ice is available, first of two junior hockey clinics will be staged Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the East End rink.

Ken Meinke, Park-Ree hockey supervisor, will assist members of the Winona Hornets in staging the clinics Saturday and Dec. 29.

Meinke is an ardent hockey booster and is so concerned with the youngsters he works with that a year ago he volunteered to contribute his Park-Ree salary (which isn't overly great) to buy uniforms for the Park-Ree hockey team that plays in the state midjet tournament.

GORDON K. GOLDBERG, captain of the Winhawk swimming team while prepping at Winona High, is competing this season on the Yale University varsity in New Haven, Conn.

GENE PELOWSKI, former Westfield Golf Club pro, in singing the praises of the new Hastings Country Club where he has completed his third summer.

Only three years old, the Hastings layout a year ago had four grass greens on its nine holes but today can boast one of the plushiest courses and clubhouse in this area of the midwest.

Among the many features of the course are the new greens, some of which are about the size of airport hangars.

The course has one green which is terraced—three levels, believe it or not. That ought to be good for about nine putts on the hole—three on each level.

Oddly enough, Pelowski isn't sure he will return to Hastings next year. "The Red Wing Country Club which also has developed in recent years has made overtures, and I might go back there," said Pelowski. He formerly was pro at Red Wing and by returning would eliminate a lot of traveling which is a problem for him at Hastings.

Big 10 Splits In Four Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fourth-ranked Loyola of Chicago turned back stubborn Indiana 108-94 with a late charge Wednesday night while highly regarded Wichita scored a convincing 80-69 basketball victory over Michigan State.

Two other Big Ten basketball teams—Wisconsin and Michigan—defeated non conference foes.

Loyola, topping 100 points for the sixth straight time this season, had to pour in 35 points in the last 10 minutes to pull away from a Hoosier team that was trailing by only two points with less than 10 minutes to play.

Indiana, now 4-3 for the season, had an 11-point lead at one point in the first half and was ahead 44-42 at half time.

Wichita never was in trouble in handling Michigan State its third loss of the season against one victory.

The University of Michigan broke through the tight defense of San Jose State College to win their fifth game in six starts by a score of 65-52.

Wisconsin downed previously unbeaten Marquette 76-58 in a hard fought game. Wisconsin, now 4-2, used a ball hawking zone defense and effective rebounding that gave the Warriors four opportunities for second chance shots.

Nationally ranked UCLA meets Northwestern tonight while Minnesota faces Southern Methodist in the only other action by Big Ten teams.

La Crosse Tips Stout 65-53

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

La Crosse remained unscathed in the State College Conference basketball race Wednesday night by taking its second victory with 65-53 decision over Stout, stung with its first loss in three conference games.

La Crosse, streaking off to an early lead, led 29-19 at halftime. The Indians enjoyed great success from the free throw line, making 23 of 34 shots while Stout put in 14 of 19.

Vern Stank of La Crosse set the scoring pace with 20 points, one more than Fred Seggelink who was high for Stout.

The game was the only one involving the state's small colleges, closing up for the Christmas holiday. All of the action will stop for a week after Eau Claire goes outside the SCC Friday night in visiting Macalester.

Two games on tonight's schedule find Wisconsin-Milwaukee at Whitewater while Stevens Point visits Oshkosh. The Pointers are 2-0 in the conference, Oshkosh 1-0.

Whitewater and UWM will both be trying for their first conference victories. Whitewater has lost both league starts, UWM its single game.

GETTING BETTER NAME PLAYERS

Foss: 'AFL Has Turned Corner'

NEW YORK (AP)—American Football League Commissioner Joe Foss, in town to find new backers for the league's sick New York franchise, said Wednesday the AFL "turned the corner this year."

"Everything will get better from here on," Foss predicted. "You can tell that from the rookies we are signing."

"I would like to settle quickly the ownership of the New York Titans, who became a league charge the last half of the season and currently are wallowing in debt and disinterest. Fans Sue to Get Blackout Lifted

NEW YORK (AP)—Three New York men have called a lawyer to get their television sets fixed.

They want to watch the National Football League championship playoff game Dec. 30, between the New York Giants and the Green Bay Packers.

The game will be blacked out on TV for 75 miles from Yankee Stadium.

The three men filed suit in Federal Court Wednesday to get the TV blackout lifted. Judge Weinstein denied their motion for a temporary restraining order, but set a further hearing for next Monday.

The court move was indicative of the wild scrambling in the area for a view of the game. Hundreds of fans waited through a sub-freezing night for the few remaining tickets and snapped them all up Monday.

Metals on the fringe of the blackout are booked solid by fans planning to watch the game on TV sets tuned to stations outside the area.

In their suit, Louis R. Blalock, Thomas O'Connell Jr., and Peter Sibell, all of Manhattan, N. Y., claimed the playoff game was of national interest and the equivalent of the World Series in baseball.

The suit pointed out the game is sold out, and plaintiffs and others similarly situated will be unable to view this event of national interest except on television.

Black Hawks Take NHL Top Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stan Mikita butted in on a private goal-trading battle and with one swipe of his stick took over the National Hockey League scoring lead and sent the Chicago Black Hawks into undisputed first place.

Mikita managed the double feat Wednesday night against the Boston Bruins. His goal with 2 minutes, 40 seconds left gave the Black Hawks a 3-2 victory in the only NHL game scheduled.

Before Mikita's goal, Johnny Bucyk had poured through two goals for the Bruins and Murray Balfour had two for the Black Hawks.

Mikita's goal gave him 12 for the year. He has 18 assists for 30 points, one more than Gordie Howe of Detroit and Andy Bathgate of New York.

HOLIDAY CAGE Pairings Set

Lincoln of Alma Center, Wis., will replace Independence in the four-team holiday basketball tournament Dec. 28-29, according to Ralph Leahy, Cochrane-Pountain City high school principal.

The Friday night games will be played at Alma with C-F.C. meeting Alma Center at 7:30 p.m. and Winona Center tackling Alma High at 8:45 p.m.

Saturday the quintets shift to Cochrane-Pountain City, Alma and Alma Center meet at 7:30 and C-F.C. at 8:45 p.m.

BRUHN SEES PROGRESS

Badger Drills Move Outside

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn hoped to move his Badger football team outside again today for its second last practice before heading for the West Coast to continue preparations for the Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day.

Drills now in their second week were shifted outside for the first time Wednesday as ends and backs joined in a defensive workout. Remaining units continued to labor in the Memorial Building, getting in some more contact.

Bruhn said he was satisfied with the work of the ends and backs and said he would try to get them outside again today. Halfbacks Carl Silvestri and Lou Holland were the standout receivers.

The offensive and defensive linemen of the units working inside brought an admission from Bruhn that results were better than those of the first contact session Tuesday, when he was plainly dissatisfied.

As the training tempo increased so did the temperatures of the Wisconsin students, planning a big sendoff when the team flies to the coast on Saturday.

A pep rally, complete with brass band and cheerleaders, is set for 9 a.m., about an hour before the squad departs. The early leaving is possible because none of the 44 members of the traveling squad has Saturday morning classes. The plane is expected to land at Burbank airport at about 3 p.m.

Laker Depth Downs Hawks To Stretch Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Freddie Schaus wasn't exactly anxious to prove it, but he inadvertently was able to let the National Basketball Association know that his Los Angeles Lakers have the depth that champions are made of.

Schaus' ace backcourt man, Jerry West, was injured and unable to play, and big Rudy LaRusso was hampered by a sore ankle for Wednesday night's game against the St. Louis Hawks.

So... Dick Barnett moved into West's spot and scored 27 points. Jim Krebs started in place of LaRusso and chipped in 18. And with Elgin Baylor firing in 37 and Frank Selvy 18, the Lakers romped to a 135-106 victory—their sixth in a row and one that stretched their Western Division lead to 4½ games over the second-place Hawks.

In other NBA action, Arlen Borchert scored early and Oscar Robertson scored late and the Cincinnati Royals whipped Syracuse 120-120; and Detroit blew a 10-point lead, then rallied to edge Chicago 115-113.

Foss: 'AFL Has Turned Corner'

NEW YORK (AP)—American Football League Commissioner Joe Foss, in town to find new backers for the league's sick New York franchise, said Wednesday the AFL "turned the corner this year."

"Everything will get better from here on," Foss predicted. "You can tell that from the rookies we are signing."

"We're not only getting some of the name players, but solid boys right down the line," Foss admitted. "I would like to settle quickly the ownership of the New York Titans, who became a league charge the last half of the season and currently are wallowing in debt and disinterest. There are several hot prospects," he said, "but if I were to tell you when the deal will be completed I would be all guessing."

Foss said he planned to leave New York on Friday for Houston to be on hand for the AFL's third championship game between the Dallas Texans and the Houston Oilers next Sunday.

"I'd like to settle the Titans situation before I leave," he said. "But I don't feel that I have to. There is no absolute deadline."

Foss said the problem of signing the New York draft choices, which include LSU's All-American halfback Jerry Stovall, has been taken care of. "We're covered," he said. "We're in good shape on that."

The AFL commissioner said that Titan owner Harry Wmmer would be completely out of any new Titan ownership picture.

"The new people would own the club 100 percent," Foss said. "They would keep it in New York, they are all New York people. The franchise has great potential."

The AFL commissioner said he did not think the league—which has been paying player salaries and travel expenses for weeks—would be forced to take over the club officially.

Foss said the AFL television ratings are climbing and "our coverage in other media across the country is growing."

Suchomel, Hopf Crash 600 Circle

A pair of 600s in the Hal-Rod Retail League and seven 500s in the Westgate Bowl Sunsetter's League dominated Winona bowling Wednesday night.

Vince Suchomel fired an errorless 231-621 to spark Behren's Metalware to undisputed first place in the Retail circuit and Cal Hopf hit 611 to pace BTf to undisputed second, breaking up the log-jam for the top positions.

Hopf's total was three pins under the 614 posted by his wife, Ruth, just a week ago. W & S Hopf cracked 1,016 and Behren's 2,936. In the Sunsetters, Audrey Gorenki blasted 567 as Home Furniture pulled 2½ games out in front of the field. The Home five totaled 2,569. Betty Schultz of Schmidt's tumbled 224-538. Virgil Albrecht, a 131-average bowler, fired 223, her first league 200 game.

Colts Pharmacy rapped 928 and gambled into a tie for second place. Other 500s were: Betty Englerth 513, Esther Pozanec 510, Marilyn Peikert 505, Mary Ann Stokla 501 and Helen Englerth 501.

KEGLERS LANES: Merchants—William Beranek of Pool's Tavern socked 597 and Vernon Burke of Rushford Bottling hit a 222 game. Pool's swept team honors with 910-2,587 to start the second round.

ATHLETIC CLUB: Ace—Schmidt's Beer captured the first half championship by three games. Ray Eichman racked 215-585 to lead Merchants Bank to 2-785. Winona Healing stacked a 1-013.

WESTGATE BOWL: Westgate Men's—Tom Riska of Firestone fired an errorless 538 set and Jon Kosidowski hit a 242 game for Goodview Texaco. Maxwell House, league leader, pulled 1,007-2,862.

High School—Duane Fakler stacked 211-564 for Lucky Strikes and the Vikings notched 760-2,131.

Bay State Women's—Eleanor Hanson of Goldwinners registered 462 as her mates totaled 2,514. Wheatnash whipped up a 921 game. Nancy Gappa of Brannette's hit a 180.

Nightshifters—Tom Drazkowski counted 564 for Catfishes and Ray Cyert 237 for Missits which had three-man totals of 674-1,747. Gold Crowns regained the loop lead with a sweep over King Pins.

HAL-ROD LANES: Commercial—Orv Henderson of Orv's Skelly turned in a 557 and Larry Schneider tipped 223 for Springer Sign. Orv's rolled 1,021 and Pappy's 2,774.

Park-Roc Jr. Boys—Mike Weigel of A-Rabs had a two-game 323 set and Bill Bonow of Pin Smashers rolled a 204 game. The Smashers mauled 842-1,501.

RED MEN CLUB: Class A—Olie Davies of Dunn's Blacktop notched 571 and Ervin Dolek had a 227 for Winona Blacktop which fired 1,001-2,841.

Rival Factions Sanction Meet

CHICAGO (AP)—President Kennedy's call for a truce in the battle for amateur sports control apparently bore fruit today when a full field of invited athletes gathered for a track meet mutually sanctioned by the rival groups.

The occasion is the University of Chicago Track Club's 10th Holiday track and field meet. It is the first ever to bear joint sanction of the erstwhile warring AAU and U.S. Track Federation.

Competing in the afternoon and night events are 191 college, high school and "open" track athletes. The field includes former collegiate stars and a number of current college stars home for the Christmas holidays.

The Central AAU has sanctioned the University of Chicago indoor meet since its inception but this is the first time it has had official approval of the NCAA-backed federation.

President Kennedy told a news conference last week that he was alarmed over the 2½-year feud between the AAU and the federation because it might kill U.S. chances in the 1968 Pan-American Games and 1968 Olympics.

Seton Hall Ace Leads in Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—To the surprise of practically no one, Seton Hall's Nick Werkman has grabbed the early lead in the individual scoring race among the nation's major college basketball players.

Werkman has an average of 37.7 points a game in the first rating of the season today by the NCAA Service Bureau, a healthy 5-point-plus margin over Barry Kramer of New York University, second with a 32.0 average. The averages are based on games through Dec. 15.

Werkman, now a 6-foot-3 junior, had a 33-point average last season, finishing third behind the now graduated Bill McGill of Utah and Jack Foley of Holy Cross.

On a team level, Chicago Loyola's Ramblers also took up this season just where they left off, holding a wide margin in team scoring. They're averaging a whopping 100.0 points a game.

HOW DID THAT GET THERE?

PARSONS, Kan. (AP)—Rees Hughes was a heartless 9-year-old when he couldn't find his new basketball shirt before leaving the church gym.

The coach had passed out the uniforms that day and Rees was happy to get one. Adults helped in the search, but the basketball shirt couldn't be found.

Rees went home, undressed to take a bath and found it—under his regular shirt.

Three Braves Lead National In '62 Fielding

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves captured team and individual defensive honors in the National League in 1962, the official averages released Wednesday disclosed.

The Braves had three fielding leaders—first baseman Joe Adcock .997, second baseman Frank Bolling .989 and catcher Del Crandall .984. Other pace-setters were shortstop Jose Pagan of San Francisco .873, third baseman Don Hoak, Pittsburgh .969, outfielder Tony Gonzalez, Philadelphia 1.000 and pitcher Dallas Green, also of the Phillies, 1.000.

Milwaukee had the highest collective average, .980, followed by St. Louis with .979. Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and Cincinnati finished in a four-way deadlock for third at .977.

Gonzalez tied the major league record for the biggest percentage by an outfielder in 100 or more games. He handled 76 chances in 114 games. The perfect mark was set by Danny Litwhiler of the Phillies in 1942 and equaled by Willard Marshall of the Boston Braves in 1951.

A total of 33 pitchers fielded 1,000 with Green handling the most chances, 45.

The closest battle for individual honors was at shortstop, where Leo Cardenas of Cincinnati and Roy McMillan, Milwaukee, each had a .972 average, one point less than the Giants' Pagan.
