Kennedy Urges Tax Cut of $13.5 Billion

Highlights of Tax Program

INDIVIDUAL — Reduction in rates from present 20 to 91 percent to 14 to 64 percent, resulting in $11 billion annual cut.

CORPORATE — Reduction from present 52 percent to pre-Korean 47 percent of corporate profits, resulting in $2.5 billion annual tax cut.

REFORM — To offset revenue losses by $3.5 billion, reform of present tax law to broaden the tax base, effective in 1964.

First Reduction Of $6 Billion Set for 1963

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy proposed today the biggest income tax cut in history—a $13.5 billion slash to take effect in three annual steps between now and 1965.

At the same time the President called for tax reforms to recoup $3.5 billion for a net reduction of $10 billion in revenues.

Individual taxpayers eventually would save about $11 billion a year under the top priority program which Kennedy unveiled in his State of the Union Message to Congress. The rest of the benefits would go to corporations.

First-stage rate cuts proposed for 1963 would total $6 billion—roughly equivalent to the biggest tax reductions of the past.

Kennedy said he wants individual tax rates whacked from the present range of 20 to 91 per cent to a more sensible range of 14 to 65 per cent. He asked Congress to lower the top corporate rate from 52 per cent to the pre-Korean level of 47 per cent.

About one-fourth of the resulting revenue losses would be recouped through tax reforms, Kennedy said.

This lifting of the wraps from the long-awaited tax package was the high spot of the 4,500-word message, broadcast live on all national television and radio networks, in which Kennedy also:

—Implied the United States and its allies are winning the cold war at a time when Sino-Soviet frictions reveal "the seeds of internal disintegration" in the Communist camp.

—Challenged the Soviet Union to make a choice between continued conflict with the West and "the path to peace." The United States is ready for either eventuality, he declared.

—Revealed the bare bones of a legislative program which, apart from taxes, ranges from the proposed creation of a domestic peace corps to enactment of the medicare plan.

Congress arranged a special joint session in the House chamber to hear the President deliver the address.

Kennedy described his tax package as "a fiscally responsible program—the surest and soundest way of achieving in time a balanced budget in a balanced full employment economy."

Although precise details won't be revealed until later this month, it was apparent the tax bill has been carefully tailored in an effort to meet anticipated opposition from congressional conservatives.

Besides calling for gradual rate cuts, to lessen the adverse impact on federal finances, Kennedy advanced two companion proposals that would aim in the same direction:

1. The enactment of tax reforms recouping $3.5 billion of the revenues that would be lost.

Mill Fire Loss $70,000

Old Galesville Landmark Lost

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—An early Sunday morning fire here destroyed the contents of an old landmark—the Davis Mill—leaving only the shell of this stone building which was started in 1855.

Ray F. M. Andersen, owner of the building, who had changed the name to Lutz Mill after purchasing it several years ago, this morning estimated the loss at between $70,000 and $80,000.

A FLAME IN the mill area was noticed about midnight Saturday by Vernal Lebakken, who was riding with Mr. Andersen's son, Charles, 19, and James Hanson, the trio were driving north on the bridge over Beaver Creek just north of the business section of town.

Lebakken happened to glance back and saw a flame which the boys thought was outside the mill.

They went to investigate and found the fire inside. They quickly moved a bulk truck out of the building and put in the fire alarm.

Galesville, Trempealeau and Erick volunteer departments responded, but the interior was all aflame and firemen could do nothing to save it. Within 15 or 20 minutes after the fire was discovered, it had reached the roof and crumbled.

Firemen were able, in the sub-zero weather, to save the Orville Erickson machine and welding shop and Roy Poss Produce about 75 feet from the mill.

IT WAS 13 below. Firemen stayed through the night to keep the fire from spreading. Fortunately the wind was blowing from the southwest, sweeping the flames straight up High Cliff just to the north of the mill. The bluff rises to a height of about 100 feet above the town. Two trees at the edge of the cemetery on top of the hill caught fire from the intense heat rising from the mill far below.

The structure is only about a block from the business section of town, which would have been endangered with a turn of the wind.

Andersen said his inventory of feed and grain was low at this time—between $15,000 and $20,000—so the greatest loss is in machinery and equipment. Some insurance was carried, he said.

RUSSELL Jenks, Galesville fire chief the past 20 years, said the fire may have started in a small motor in the basement and traveled rapidly up the shafts to the explosive mill dust.

This was one of the most spectacular fires ever witnessed by Galesville people, who shivered as they watched even dressed in their warmest clothing. Jenks recalled there have been two other fires of similar magnitude here. One burned the Hall mill before he became chief and the other was at Schilling Electric factory, which he helped fight.

The company safe was hauled from the charred building by wrecker. Mrs. Norman Gelder, bookkeeper for 14 years, said the combination was so badly damaged she would be uncertain of the condition of books and records until the safe can be opened.

MR. GELDER is one of the seven employees in the mill, in addition to Andersen and his son, Charles, who worked there when not attending Winona State College.

The owner—whose friends call him "Ray Feed Mill" Andersen—because of his initials, said until he decides what to do about rebuilding, he will conduct a feed store across the street from the mill in the old Lutz poultry house, adjacent to the Erickson machine shop. All that will be lacking will be grinding service. Some feed was stored here, and it was used as a garage.

Firemen, who stayed around until 8 a.m. Sunday, were served coffee at the hospitality room of the Galesville Curling rink.

WILSON DAVIS built the first mill here after coming from Pickwick, Minn., where he had constructed a similar mill. According to Galesville historians, a flood tore out the dam in 1866, ruining the mill, but Davis rebuilt it in 1867. It was about 100 feet from the water wheel to the top. The

Rolvaag Asks Office Space In Capitol

ST. PAUL (AP)—Karl F. Rolvaag today asked Gov. Elmer L. Andersen for space in the State Capitol so that he may be adequately prepared to present his budget message to the legislature should he be declared the gubernatorial winner.

Rolvaag had suggested earlier that the two agree with him to abide with a decision of a three-judge panel supervising the recount, without appealing to the Supreme Court. Andersen declined and Rolvaag commented in his letter, "It is regrettable indeed."

"It can only unduly delay the final decision as to who is the legally constituted and elected governor of our state," Rolvaag wrote.

Rolvaag explained that available space in the Capitol was not necessary while he served as lieutenant governor and recalled that Andersen had offered Nov. 13 his cooperation and that of Administration Commissioner William Stevenson in the matter of state budgeting.

Rolvaag, who was succeeded by DEL. L. Gay A. M. Keith, said he would now like the space so that he "may be adequately prepared when the election contest is finally resolved."

Board OKs 5-Year Teacher Training Plan

ST. PAUL (AP)—The state Board of Education gave initial approval today to a plan to require five years of training for grade and high school teachers after Sept. 1965.

There was only one dissenting vote, that of Frank Petrich, South St. Paul. The regulation cannot go into effect until hearings are held and the plan re-approved by the board.

The new program will allow granting of provisional certificates to teachers with 4-year college degrees. These will be renewable for seven years, during which the teacher may take additional college work.

A full "professional" certificate will require five years of college plus two years of classroom experience. Teachers with four years of college will need 30 semester-hour credits tied to some particular field of teaching.

It would not effect teachers now holding certificates.

The plan, under study for some time, was opposed by the Minnesota Federation of Teachers. Henry Winkles, assistant executive secretary, asked that the proposal be submitted again to an advisory committee and said classroom teachers should be represented on the study group.

Dr. Arnold Holtz, head of teacher training at Macalester College, also opposed the plan.

Fire Destroys Farm Home at Spring Valley

SPRING VALLEY, Minn. (AP)—An overtaxed coal and wood furnace was blamed for a fire that destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Krull and their four children this forenoon.

Krull said the furnace gave out a puff of flame, touching off a fire so hot he was unable to save any belongings.

The farm is owned by Dr. Herbert Fisch, Spring Valley.

Landslide Wrecks Village in Greece

MIKRO CHORIO, Greece (AP)—A huge landslide tore into this village of 625 residents Sunday night and wrecked or buried 60 of the 100 houses.

One body was recovered. At least 12 persons were missing. Five persons were hurt.

U.N. Set to Attack

Surrender Kolwezi, Order to Tshombe

By DENNIS NEEDL

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—The United Nations prepared today to send a special emissary to Katanga to demand that President Moise Tshombe surrender his stronghold or face U.N. attack.

Diplomatic informants said they believed the Katanga president was rallying his followers for a last-ditch stand to try to hold what remained of his secessionist domain.

The emissary was to warn Tshombe that if he did not peacefully surrender Katanga—center of Katanga's mining industry—the United Nations would fly in a Gurkha battalion to take it by force.

Tshombe also was to get notice that if his followers carried out threats to blow up the mining installations and electric power dam in the area, he might be sent to Leopoldville for trial by the central Congo government as a war criminal and saboteur.

Last reports said a U.N. ground force had advanced from Jadotville to within 50 miles of Kolwezi.

Sources at U.N. headquarters in New York reported that Indian U.N. troops have taken over Shinkolobwe, once Katanga's biggest military base, 15 miles southwest of Jadotville and about 90 miles southeast of Kolwezi.

The base, which once accommodated 2,000 to 3,000 men, was reported almost deserted. The sources said "enormous quantities of arms and ammunition" were found.

Rail service was reported restored between Elisabethville and Mookambwa near the border of Northern Rhodesia, and trains began moving over it Sunday with badly needed food supplies from Rhodesia to the Katanga capital.

The United Nations occupied Mookambwa Thursday after Tshombe drove ahead of advancing U.N. troops calling on his tattered forces not to resist. The United Nations went on Saturday to Sakania on the Rhodesian border.

Tshombe slipped back into Kolwezi Saturday night after a one-day visit to Northern Rhodesia. Some sources believed he had returned to try to dissuade diehard members of his Cabinet from dynamiting the city. Others felt that Tshombe was convinced a unified Congo would doom any political future he might have and was determined to make a final stand.

No Immediate Break Seen in Cold Wave

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter's icy blasts enveloped the major part of the nation today. No immediate break in the severe cold weather was indicated.

The effects of the frigid weather and snow, which swept into the Rockies last weekend and snowbailed across most of the country by the weekend, were widespread.

Deaths blamed on the wintry weather—exposure, fires and traffic accidents on ice and snow-covered highways—passed the 40 mark.

Property damage, including heavy loss by a rash of fires, mounted into the millions of dollars.

The unseasonable cold in Southern Texas, southern California and Arizona threatened damage to citrus and vegetable crops. Farmers started their smudge pots.

Wide areas felt the sting of the frigid weather which inconvenienced millions and brought misery to thousands. Stiff winds added to the discomfort. Driving conditions were hazardous in many areas. Travel was halted in some sections.

The Weather Bureau in Chicago said that only a few parts of the nation were not hit by freezing or lower temperatures. Included were areas of the Carolinas southward through southeastern Georgia and most of Florida. Also above freezing, but not much higher than 32 degrees, were areas near the Pacific Coast from Oregon southward through western California.

The below-zero zone extended from the upper Great Lakes through the northern plains into the northern Rockies. Temperatures plunged to nearly 60 below in Montana over the weekend. Scores of cities reported record low readings for mid-January as the arctic air fanned out from the northern Rockies across the mid-continent.

A howling snowstorm off Lake Erie battered sections of western New York. The wind-blown snow pounded Erie County and to a lesser degree, Niagara and Orleans counties to the north.

The storm dumped six inches of snow on Buffalo and up to a foot in rural areas.

Iowa Girl Dies At Rochester Of Crash Injuries

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Sandra Jay, 17, McIntire, Iowa, died Saturday night in a Rochester hospital of injuries suffered Jan. 2 in a county road collision in Mower County.

George A. Vogelsang, 81, Dexter, Minn., was killed in the crash. He was riding in a pickup truck which collided with a car carrying the girl and several other persons. Driver of the car was Joseph McGee, Adams, Minn.

Sergeants of Togo Revolt

LOME, Togo (AP)—A struggle for leadership of this tiny West African country appeared to be developing today in the wake of a sergeants' revolt and the assassination of President Sylvanus Olympio.

Two men emerged as possible heads of a new government—former Premier Nicolas Grunitsky 49, and Idrissou Antoine Meatchi, 27, a former opposition leader in the Togo Assembly.

A military revolutionary committee that engineered the Sunday coup reportedly appealed to Grunitsky, a brother-in-law of the slain president to return from exile in neighboring Dahomey to form a government.

Rumors spread that Meatchi was already back in Lome from exile in Ghana, which also borders Togo. He had been accused by the Olympio government of aiding exiled political conspirators.

Meatchi, a French-educated Moslem and former civil servant, had been arrested in 1960 for conspiracy. He went to Ghana after his release in mid-1961.

Gunned down on the street outside the U.S. Embassy early Sunday, Olympio apparently was the only casualty of the fast-paced revolt. Gunfire was heard in the streets around 2 a.m. The 60-year-old president's bullet-riddled body was found outside the unlocked embassy gate at dawn.

The body was taken into the embassy. Later Olympio's family removed it.

Most of the other members of his government were arrested. They were reported unarmed and held at a military camp outside Lome.

Olympio visited the United States on an aid-seeking mission last March and President Kennedy praised him as "an exceptional figure on the world scene."

The London-educated Olympio was the only African head of state with a command of both English and French, and he also knew some German. His language skills earned him an influential position in African councils.

Togo, a country of 1½ million people, is about the size of West Virginia. It was a French U.N. protectorate when it gained independence in 1960. Before World War I it was a German colony.

Castro Closes Iron Gate on Cuban Refugees

By JOE MCGOWAN JR.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The aerial exodus of refugees from Fidel Castro's Cuba has halted, following an airlift of 89 Cubans and Cuban-Americans to Miami Sunday. At present there are no plans for resuming it.

Red Cross officials announced there will be no more flights carrying ransom supplies to Cuba. Pan American World Airways, which suspended its twice-daily Miami-Havana flights at the onset of the Cuban crisis last October, is not anxious to resume the unprofitable service.

The Pan Am DCB that made Sunday's refugee flight had taken 15,000 pounds of medicines to Cuba as another installment on the $30-million ransom guaranteed Castro for release of the 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners.

The American Red Cross said all future shipments of ransom supplies will be made by ocean freighter. The steamship Shirley Lykes presently is being loaded at Baltimore with 6,500 tons of food, drugs and medical supplies for delivery in Havana.

The Shirley Lykes will stop at Port Everglades, Fla., to load an additional 1,000 tons of supplies. She is expected to reach Cuba no earlier than Jan. 18.

A tearful, yet joyous scene unfolded at Miami International Airport when the 89 refugees arrived at 5:20 p.m. Sixty-eight of the group were Cubans possessing American citizenship. The other 21 were Cuban nationals but either the husband or wife had U.S. citizenship or their children were born in this country.

The U.S. Immigration Service refused to release names of arrivals.

Reads Landing Father Announces Wedding of Son

READS LANDING, Minn.—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sarazin, Reads Landing, today announced the marriage of their son, William Louis, to Delores M. Fick, Lake City, at Little Falls, Minn., Nov. 21, 1962, and that the couple moved to Freeport, Ill.

The Wabasha County sheriff's office said this morning that the county attorney had contacted Little Falls, Morrison County seat, to see if a marriage license had been secured there and, if so, if the couple had given their correct ages. The inquiry was made at the request of the girl's father, Clarence Fick.

Sarazin, 18, and the 16-year-old girl were returned to Wabasha County Thursday from Rockford, where they had been apprehended by the FBI.

Sarazin was arraigned in municipal court at Wabasha Friday afternoon on a charge of abduction. A preliminary hearing was set for March and he was released on $1,000 bond. The girl was retained in jail, and a petition will be filed in juvenile court at Wabasha this week on a complaint of breaking probation.

Collision Kills 3 in Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A single collision was responsible for the three deaths recorded on Wisconsin highways during the weekend. With the death of a man hurt in an earlier crash, the state's toll for the year reached 18, compared with 35 on this day a year ago.

Arthur Gnewuch, 55, of DePere died in a Port Washington hospital Saturday night. He was the third victim of a two-car head-on collision on snow-swept Highway 57 about two miles north of Saukville Friday night. Killed in the crash were William J. Uike, 66, of Milwaukee and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Alma Schmidt, 64, of rural Random Lake.

Paul Greisner, 21, of Racine died Saturday night of injuries received Jan. 6 in a two-car crash on Highway 31 in Racine County.

New Law Firm Formed at Durand

DURAND, Wis.—A new law firm has been organized here known as Willis E. Donley & Associates.

Members besides Donley are Robert Muza, and his wife, Donna Donley Muza, and David C. Williams, Menomonie, and William E. Thurston, Durand.

The firm has opened offices in the former Moose hotel building. Thurston, a former Durand city attorney and Pepin County district attorney, has moved his office from above the Durand Hardware. He served many years on the state board of appeals and now is circuit court commissioner and a director of Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Donley, a native of Pepin County, was reared in the Porcupine community. He attended Durand High School; served in the state legislature where he authored a law on mortgage moratoriums; was counselor to a Wisconsin governor; is a member of the National Association of Claim and Compensation Attorneys, and has practiced at Menomonie for years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Muza are graduates of Marquette University, Milwaukee, and have been practicing in Menomonie since 1949. Muza attended St. Mary's College, Winona, and his wife, the College of Saint Teresa, Winona.

Williams has been with Hardward Mutual Insurance Co., U.S. Employees Compensation Board, Civil Service Commission and Veterans Administration in New York City, Albany, N.Y., Detroit, Mich., and Manila, Philippine Islands, besides practicing with Donley at Menomonie.

Ryan H. Laue, upon retiring as Pepin County judge to which he had been appointed a year ago, rejoined his former law partner, Karl Goethel, who came to Durand from Eau Claire in late 1961.

Arrested at Wabasha

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—An employee of a rest home here was arrested Saturday at 10 p.m. on a disorderly conduct charge and is scheduled to be arraigned before Judge Kenneth Kalbrenner in municipal court today. Kenneth Hammer, 34, Green Bay, Wis., came to Wabasha in October, according to Sheriff Ed Lager, and was arrested by Roger Berg, city policeman, while working at the home.

Stamp Firm Building New Center Here

An area redemption center is being established in Winona by Gold Bond trading stamps. The new outlet serving Southeastern Minnesota will be at 1473 Service Dr., immediately adjacent to Randall's Super Valu store in Westgate Shopping Center. The building housing the redemption center is being constructed by Second Consolidated Investment Funds, Inc., Huron, S.D., which recently acquired the Westgate commercial development property. The 20 by 125-foot, one story building will be erected at an estimated cost of $8,000 on the south side of Randall's store. Keller Construction Co. is the contractor. James F. Hogue, Randall's manager, said that the new redemption center will serve several area counties in Southeastern Minnesota. Gold Bond premiums will be displayed and patrons may redeem stamp books for premiums by bringing or mailing them to the center.

St. Mary's Gets Gift of $5,000

The Wilkie Brothers Foundation, Des Plaines, Ill., has made a $5,000 contribution to St. Mary's College, Brother I. Patrick, FSC, vice president in charge of public relations and development, announced. The unrestricted gift will be earmarked for the college union building, construction of which will start this year. Brother Patrick said. Leighton A. Wilkie, native Winonan and director of the foundation, sent the check to Brother Patrick. Wilkie received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the college last June. In his letter he cited the college's progress and the faculty's dedication to education.

Alma to Elect Three Aldermen

ALMA, Wis. (Special)—Three aldermen will be elected here April 2. Terms of John Burg, 1st Ward, B. J. Neumeister, 2nd, and Mrs. Julia Schilling, 3rd, expire. Candidates have until 5 p.m. Jan. 29 to file nomination papers. Holdover aldermen are: Charles Zepp, one year, and Alan Kirchner, two years, 1st Ward; Gerald Schreiber, one year, and L. W. Ambuehl, two years, 2nd, and Jerome Baeker, one year, and Alvin Vollmer, two years, 3rd. Other city officers were chosen last spring for two-year terms, including Edmund Hill, mayor; Louis Noll, clerk; Mrs. Alvin Kirsch, treasurer, and Charles Zepp, L. W. Ambuehl and Kenneth Jackelen, county board supervisors from the three wards respectively. The assessor is appointed by the mayor at the reorganization meeting each April, with confirmation by the council. Willis Capp was appointed last year. For a number of years no one has filed for constable, but there is a place on the ballot to write a name. Edmund was Justice of the Peace, but the office has been abolished although some communities have elected municipal justices. Buehler now is a resident of an Alma rest home.

Former Winonan To Be Charged With Forgery

Archie Packer, former Winonan, present address unknown, will be arraigned in municipal court Tuesday on a charge of forgery, according to Sheriff George Fort. Packer was arrested by sheriff's deputies near Sugar Loaf at 2 a.m. Sunday. Fort said that he has been looking for Packer for some time. According to Fort, Packer reportedly took a check for about $200 from the farm home of Leon Henderson, rural Ridgeway, Nov. 20. Packer then reportedly cashed the check at Broadway Super Saver, 724 E. Broadway, the same day by signing Henderson's name, said Fort.

One-Cent Stamp Still Too Popular

By gum, the Winona post office has been unable to lick a stamp problem that hinges on the recent one-cent rise in postal rates. Assistant Postmaster C. Lewis Wood reported that after the post office was sold out of one-cent stamps there was a run on half-centers which are now sold out too. Anticipating the demand for one-centers as supplemental postage, the post office ordered 20,000 one-centers before last Monday's postal rate increase started. Half the order arrived Tuesday morning. The 40,000 one-cent stamps were sold out that evening. The second half of the order hasn't arrived yet and Wood doesn't know when it will arrive. Winonans who are determined

Bitter Cold Expected To Last Entire Week

A bitter cold spell on the heels of a 7-inch snowfall settled down on Winona and vicinity today and promised to be here for the next five days at least. The thermometer dropped to -13 this morning and may hit in the 15-25 below bracket tonight and remain 14-22 degrees below normal through Saturday.

AT LEAST, that's what the official weather predictions for the area indicate. Fair and a little colder tonight and fair and continued cold Tuesday is the immediate forecast. A low of -15 to -25 is slated for tonight and a high of zero to -10 for Tuesday. Fair skies are indicated. Mostly fair and continued cold is the outlook for Wednesday.

Carnival Queen List Increases to Eight

Two Winona State College students have entered the Winona Winter Carnival queen contest, making eight contestants so far, Robert A. Wiczorek, queen contest chairman, announced. MISS NANCY MANGEN, 18, 126 Fairfax St., is a Winona State freshman taking a secretarial course. She is sponsored by Ed Buck's Camera Shop. She is 5 feet 4, weighs 110, wears a size seven dress, has brown hair and blue eyes. She is a graduate of Winona Senior High School and is the daughter of Mrs. Ramona Mangen. The contestant's hobbies are water skiing and reading. She hopes to be a stewardess.

MISS KATHY STORK, 20, 619 Main St., is a Winona State junior majoring in physical education and biology. She is sponsored by H. Cheate & Co. She is 5 feet 5, weighs 117, wears a size nine dress, has brown hair and brown eyes. She is a graduate of Harmony, Minn., High School and is the daughter of Miss. June Stork, Harmony. The contestant hopes to teach. She enjoys the ukulele and dancing. Wiczorek said queen contestants will be introduced at the carnival wrestling matches Friday evening at Winona State's Memorial Hall. The queen will be crowned Saturday night at the Oaks coronation ball.

Assessor Opposes Household Tax

Because of a typographical error, an essential word was omitted from the last paragraph of Sunday's report on a proposed boat tax considered by the Winona County Board of Commissioners. Supervisor of Assessments David V. Sauer emphasized that his only concern was that the household goods tax NOT be restored.

Manager Named At Durand Co-op

DURAND, Wis.—A new manager of Durand Cooperatives has been hired to succeed Ben Sneed, who died in November. He is Elmer Knoepke, native of Colfax, Wis., who worked with Sneed here from 1949 to 1954 and while here attended a management school conducted by Farmers Union Central Exchange, St. Paul. The past nine years he's been managing the Farmers Union at Sturum. Durand Cooperatives has branches at Arkansaw, Pepin and Rock Falls.

$30 Careless Driving Deposit Forfeited

Robert C. Keller, 39, 369 W. Broadway, was sentenced in municipal court today to pay a fine of $30 or to serve 30 days for pleading guilty to a charge of careless driving. He was arrested by police at Wabasha and Harriet streets at 1:30 a.m. Sunday. He has paid the fine.

10 New Homes Built At Buffalo City in '62

BUFFALO CITY, Minn.—Twelve building permits were issued in Buffalo City during 1962. Ten were for new homes and two for basement homes.

Old Mill Burns At Galesville

(Continued from Page One) walls, two or three feet thick, were built of native stone, with heavy timbers for interior construction. Water power from Beaver Creek was used by the mill until two years ago, when turbines were put into use. The old mill was very useful to the pioneers of the area, for the nearest mill to Galesville then was at Prairie du Chien, 70 miles south. The mill once made "Cock of the Walk" flour. The late Charles Klein, one of the 20 coopers working at Davis mill, used to tell about the time Tom Davis, succeeding his father, Wilson Davis, as proprietor, who would enter their shop and say, "Boys, we want some nice smooth barrels with 12 hoops on each, to send some flour to Queen Victoria." The mill then ran around the clock, with two shifts of men each working 12 hours. The name later was changed to "Peach Blossom." A sign advertising it was removed only a few years ago from High Cliff overlooking the mill. AN OLDER citizen, watching the flames, was heard to say how sorry he was to see the old mill go. As a boy he had driven 20 miles by team and wagon with his father to have their wheat ground into flour here. Since discontinuing flour, the mill has been grinding and mixing feed. Seeds and fertilizer also were available.

Durand Council Names Notham Works Director

DURAND, Wis.—R. J. Notham, former Durand mayor, has been appointed director of public works by the City Council. His work will include coordination of water, street and sewerage departments; control of the city inventory, etc. Notham will attend city council meetings; bring utility maps up to date; prepare a detailed estimate of annual street maintenance and construction needs for budget consideration; work with property owners on complaints dealing with streets, water and sewers; supervise street, sewer, sidewalk and other grades as furnished by the city engineer; provide the city clerk with time sheets for outside labor; and provide for replacement of the water and sewerage superintendent during vacation and sick leave. He was authorized to sign purchase orders no larger than $50, and a top of $100 was placed on emergency machinery repair, with larger amounts to be considered by committees.

FIRE AT ITS HEIGHT . . . This was the blaze that burned out Lutz Feed Mill in sub-zero weather early Sunday morning. Three fire

Normal daytime highs for this time of the year are 18 to 24 and nighttime lows 1 to 6 above. Precipitation averaging .10 of an inch or less in scattered snow flurries is expected mostly in the latter part of the week. Highways in the area remained slippery in places and some drifting was reported but county snowplows were attacking the drifts, and roads were passable.

THE STATE highway departments of Minnesota and Wisconsin reported all highways in good winter driving condition but urged caution on icy and snow-covered stretches. After rising to 18 Saturday the temperature dropped to -12 Sunday morning. It rose to 4 Sunday afternoon and was down to -13 this morning. At noon today the reading was -8.

The temperatures were far under those of the same day last year when the high was 35 and the low 21. At that time five inches of snow lay on the ground, contrasting with six to seven today. The all-time high for Jan. 14 was 47 in 1914 and the low -27 in 1881. Mean for the past 24 hours was -5, contrasting with the normal mean of 16.

THE WEATHERMEN blame the frigid snap on a high pressure area now centered in the vicinity of the North Pole.

International Falls, Minn., had the lowest overnight temperature on the Weather Bureau's countryside list—30 below. Hibbing, Minn., was runner-up—or down—with minus 28.

Lows tonight in Minnesota are expected to range from 15 to 30 below. North Dakota likely will have lows tonight of 15 to 20 below in the east and 10 to 20 below in the west. For South Dakota, minimums are expected to be 5 to 20 below.

Rochester had a low of -17 this morning and La Crosse reported -14. It was clear at both places. The mercury went on the skids in WISCONSIN again early today and there was little likelihood of a warmup until later in the week. The Superior area had 28 below, zero early this morning, close to the nation's low of 30 below at International Falls, Minn. Park Falls recorded a low of 23 below. Eau Claire and Wausau 18 below. Lone Rock 17 below, Madison 14 below, Green Bay 12 below, Milwaukee 6 below, Racine 5 below and Beloit 3 below.

THE COLD weather was intensified by southwesterly winds that reached gusts of 35 miles per hour Sunday. Skies were clear in most areas today except near Lake Superior and along the Wisconsin-Michigan border. Orlando, Vero Beach and Cocoa, Fla., set the nation's high temperature of 84 degrees Sunday.

Probate Judge E. D. Libera presented the Bierce memorial, prepared by M. A. Goldberg, John D. McGill, Richard Darby and Judge Libera.

AT THE CLOSE of the service Judge Murphy spoke in tribute to the two lawyers. He referred to Mr. Bierce's longtime service as a referee in bankruptcy with a comment that to Judge Murphy "his image is that of a judge" and of Mr. Lambertson, "his image is of a trial lawyer. . . . Every client's cause he made his own."

Four names were added to the term calendar on motion of attorneys this morning. They are actions brought by: Leonard Hohman against Martha Nelson; Edward Langowski against George W. Goetzman; Garland Polus, doing business as A-1 Contracting Co., against Mr. and Mrs. John Curtis and Dr. William W. Heise, in one case, and against Mrs. Curtis, Adel Heise and Mrs. Ruth Campbell in a second.

Royalty Selected At Arkansaw High

ARKANSAW, Wis.—Frank Girard and Linda Kelton have been chosen king and queen for homecoming at Arkansaw High School Friday. Because Arkansaw doesn't have a football team, homecoming will be observed when Boyceville comes here for a Dunn-St. Croix conference basketball game. A dance from 10 to 12:30 will follow. Music will be by the Rainbow Nightingales. Girard was elected by the senior class and chose Linda as queen.

Wabasha Co. Soldier Killed In Viet Nam

MILLVILLE, Minn.—A 34-year-old soldier from this Wabasha County community was one of seven officers and enlisted men killed Friday in the crash of a helicopter in South Viet Nam, the Army reported today. Millville is 25 miles southwest of Wabasha.

Dead is CWO Raymond C. Wilde, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wilde. The Army reported the helicopter "crashed due to malfunctioning of aircraft controls."

Wilde, who had been in the Army 17 years, had been in South Viet Nam two months. Among the survivors is his wife, Kathleen, Deleville, Ala.

Two Attorneys Memorialized

Two veteran Winona attorneys who died during the past year were memorialized this morning by the Winona County Bar Association at the opening of the winter term of District Court here. Memorials to H. M. Bierce and H. M. Lambertson Jr. were read into the minutes of this morning's proceedings and copies will be sent, at the suggestion of Judge Leo F. Murphy, to members of their families.

AFTER the presentation of the memorials, there was a call of the court calendar by Judge Murphy. Of new cases on the calendar for the January term, 12 were designated for trial before the court and 13 by jury. The court announced that the order of trial for jury cases will be determined after he has consulted with attorneys.

This morning's memorial service began after William A. Lindquist, president of the county bar association, asked that memorials prepared by two committees be heard.

Municipal Judge S. D. J. Briski read the memorial to Mr. Lambertson prepared by a committee that included Joseph Moonan, Waseca, and Judge Briski, Duane Peterson and Leo F. Murphy Jr., Winona. Moonan also read remarks memorializing Mr. Lambertson.

Probate Judge E. D. Libera presented the Bierce memorial, prepared by M. A. Goldberg, John D. McGill, Richard Darby and Judge Libera.

AT THE CLOSE of the service Judge Murphy spoke in tribute to the two lawyers. He referred to Mr. Bierce's longtime service as a referee in bankruptcy with a comment that to Judge Murphy "his image is that of a judge" and of Mr. Lambertson, "his image is of a trial lawyer. . . . AT WINTER CARNIVAL

Don McNeill Club Star to Sing Here

Mary Anne Luckett, star of the Don McNeill Breakfast Club radio show, will arrive here Friday to be a special Winter Carnival week-end guest.

Miss Luckett will make her first appearance Friday at 10:45 p.m. at the teen dance at the armory. She will be a special guest at the queen candidates' luncheon Saturday at the Winona Hotel and will be featured in the parade starting at 2 p.m.

Saturday night the ABC network singing star will appear as featured vocalist in a musical show at the Winona Senior High auditorium. Other events on this program are drum and bugle corps competition, barbershop quartet songs, folk singing and a display of precision marching.

Ed Karow, KWNO announcer, will be master of ceremonies. Musical accompaniment for Miss Luckett will be furnished by the Fred Meyer band.

At 9:15 p.m. the vocalist will make a guest appearance at the Sno-Ball and queen coronation at the Oaks.

Miss Luckett is heard five mornings a week on the Breakfast Club program originating in Chicago and carried over the ABC network. The program, a longtime radio show, is broadcast from the Sherman Hotel and is heard locally on KWNO.

She gained initial training singing in choral groups in her home town, Louisville, Ky., and by appearances in amateur stage productions. She began her professional career singing with orchestras in the Louisville area. Weekdays, she was a fulltime private secretary.

In 1958 she became regular staff vocalist for Radio Station WLAS, appearing daily for more than two years. In 1959 she sang on the Lawrence Welk television show and later appeared with the Welk orchestra at the Aragon Ballroom, Chicago.

After winning over 200 girls in a competitive audition, she became the featured singer on the McNeil show two years ago and has occupied that position ever since.

William F. Walter is chairman of the Winter Carnival entertainment committee. He is assisted by G. O. Brems, Bernie Wagmild and Ed Karow.

$100 WAITING

Treasure Hunt

Get set and ready to go for the 1963 Winona Daily News Winter Carnival treasure hunt. This year, as in past years, you will be looking for a treasure certificate which is redeemable for a $100 check at the Daily News accounting office.

The treasure certificate will not be put in its hiding place until just before the last clue is announced on the 6 o'clock news broadcast Saturday on KWNO, so there is no point in looking for it before then.

The first five clues will be published on this page. The final clue will be broadcast rather than published to provide all treasure hunters with the vital path to the treasure at the same time. You won't have to leave your home until the final clue has been announced to solve this contest. You probably will find that a good dictionary and the map in your last year's telephone book will be helpful.

The treasure certificate will be located on property accessible to the public, but not necessarily publicly owned property.

You'll find that the clues are reasonably easy, and everyone has an equal chance to win. Today's clue describes a location in Winona and each subsequent clue will lead you to a different location—all within the city limits. Good hunting!

Deadline Tonight For Registration

Voters who are not registered to vote in the city primary Feb. 4 will have until 9 p.m. today to get on the list says City Recorder Roy Wildgrube. They may register at his office in City Hall.

Registration is required for voting eligibility if a city resident has changed addresses or names since a previous registration. A new voter who will be 21 years old on or before election day should register ahead of today's deadline, Wildgrube adds.

Once a name is on the registration list, the voter retains eligibility to vote by going to the polls at least once every four years.

Attorneys in Recount Case Set Procedure

ST. PAUL, (AP)—Attorneys for both sides in the governor recount case met in a closed pre-trial session with the three-judge panel today to work out procedures for trial of the case.

The recount is being conducted on petition of former Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag, DFL, who asked for the recount after the state canvassing board declared Gov. Elmer L. Andersen, GOP, re-elected by 142 votes.

Recounting of ballots has been finished, with both sides claiming victory, and special teams of attorneys are at work screening some 95,000 disputed ballots.

Ballots from about 40 counties have been screened thus far. It is the hope of attorneys that the disputed ballots can be reduced to around 10,000 for consideration by the court.

Ballots still in dispute after screening have been divided into about 52 categories. When trial gets under way the three-judge panel will listen to arguments about these classes of disputed ballots and render decisions which, in the aggregate, will determine which candidate is the victor.

Recent officials hope screening can be completed next week.

In addition to setting up procedures, today's pre-trial session will set a date for starting the trial. Attorneys said they expected the pre-trial meeting to take all day and possibly longer.

Youths Charged After Fight

Police said a wedding reception at Jack's Place, 707 E. 3rd St., was interrupted by a fight Saturday night.

An off-duty police officer had just entered the bar to purchase a package of cigarettes about 8 p.m. and a fight between Donald Berg, 19, 607 E. 2nd St., and Donald R. Singer, 19, 3050 5th Ave., Goodview, broke out, said police.

The owner-bartender asked the police officer to stop the fight and then called police headquarters. The officer began to stop the fight, but not without more trouble, according to police. The two were brought under control and three uniformed policemen arrived to take them to headquarters.

In municipal court today both Singer and Berg were charged with disorderly conduct by fighting and with resisting arrest. Both pleaded guilty to the first charge and not guilty to the second charge.

Judge S. D. J. Briski sentenced each to pay a fine of $25 or to serve eight days on the disorderly conduct charges. On the resisting arrest charge he set trial for Wednesday and set bail at $30 for each.

Singer paid the fine on the first charge, but Berg did not. Both remain in jail, because they have not posted bail.

The wedding reception went back to normal and the off-duty police officer went home following the interruption.

Suspended Highway Engineer Plans Return to Work

ST. PAUL, (AP)—A spokesman in the Minnesota Highway Department said today a suspended project engineer in the Rochester area plans to return to work Wednesday.

A five-day suspension without pay has been imposed on J. Irving Robine, project engineer on U.S. 63 allegedly over sub standard work.

Meanwhile, Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall said that the case is still pending, that a final report has not been completed.

DURAND, Wis.—Purchase of the Val Huser residence here for a Methodist parsonage is the first step in an overall plan to replace the existing church and parsonage. The Rev. Arvid Morey and family will move into the new house Feb. 1.

Children Can Begin Their Hunt

The first of six requirements for children entering the Winter Carnival Treasure Hunt was announced today by the Winona Activity Group and the park-recreation department.

Open to all youngsters 12 or under in Winona and its trade area, the contest ends Saturday. The winner will receive a $25 savings bond. All entrants must register at the park-recreation office in City Hall, either in person or by telephone. Registrations must be made before Saturday morning, officials said.

As the first Treasure Hunt requirement, each contestant must secure a clean empty milk carton or similar container. Awards also will be given Saturday for the best-decorated container although such decorations are not required. The carton will be used by the contestant to hold the other items which must be found and it must be kept throughout the contest.

All Treasure Hunt items must be brought by entering youngsters to Lake Park Lodge Saturday at 10 a.m. The winner will be the one who finds the final item, the clue to which will be given at that time.

Crash on Goodview Road Causes Damage Of More Than $300

Two cars collided on the old Goodview Road about one-half mile north of St. Mary's College at 12:20 a.m. Sunday, according to sheriff's deputies.

Involved were cars driven by John Burros, 18, Winona R. 19, and Francis E. Nelson, 20, Cannon Falls, Minn. Neither of the drivers was injured.

Burros was driving south on the road and Nelson north. Burros was partially in the ditch on the west when the cars collided. Deputies blamed the accident on slippery conditions and snow on the road.

Damage was about $200 to Burros' car and about $100 to Nelson's car.

It Happened Last Night What About Back-Scrubbing?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Should an American wife be willing to bathe her husband's back—as the Japanese wives do so cheerfully?

Miss Martha Hyer, once of Fort Worth and Dallas, now of Hollywood and the world, says they should. Furthermore, the American wives should also be like the European wives—they should not be "over-possessive," and when a husband stays out late at night, they should not even ask, "Where have you been until this hour, darling?"

"American wives," says Miss Hyer, "should absorb some of the finer qualities of wives in other parts of the world."

"Neither the Japanese nor the European wives are too inquisitive," she maintains. "They have found that you hold the tightest control with the loosest rein. If a husband must prove to you that you're not going to control him, he will!"

Miss Hyer, who's traveled around the world making films, is embarking on a campaign. She learned about the Japanese back-washing while doing "A Girl Named Tamiko" in Tokyo and Nikko.

"I'm looking for just the right man," she says. "I haven't found one—but I'm having a lot of fun looking."

"And the type of man you are looking for..."

"I like my wines foreign and my men domestic," she said.

"Domestic?" I inquired.

"Not domestic in the sense that they wash the dishes for you," she shouted. "From this country—ALL-AMERICAN!"

The Casual Observer

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

THE other night I couldn't help feeling how rewarding an experience it is to be a "foster parent" to a foreign student. Over the weekend former American Field Service student Jean-Jacques Rey of Liege, Belgium, came back to visit his foster parents Dr. and Mrs. Judd Frederiksen who invited a few of his old friends in for a visit. Back in 1953 Jean-Jacques or John, as everyone called him, was one of the six American Field Service foreign students to take his senior high school work at Winona High School, and a more interesting and promising group of young people one couldn't find anywhere.

One felt instinctively that each young person was destined to be not only a lifelong friend of the U.S. but a leader in his own country. John is carrying out that prophecy. John's father is a Brussels banker, former Minister of Economics for Belgium and a member of the European Common Market Commission. John who wanted to go into diplomacy speaks many languages, took a degree in economics and also a degree in law at the University of Brussels. He was preparing to go into banking when last fall he was invited by the University of Chicago to teach a semester of French Law, which is what he is doing now.

In February he will fly back to Belgium and take up his career as a banker in the state bank of Belgium which deals in international finance. During his stay in Chicago John visited the Frederiksens several times, and it is evident that he retains a deep affection for Winona and his foster parents here. Two years ago during one of his trips to America, John's father visited the Frederiksens. In Chicago John has been living at International House which he finds most stimulating with its many foreign scholars from all over the world. For relaxation he goes to lectures and classical concerts which he thinks are unusually fine in Chicago. During the Christmas holidays he drove to California to visit his sister who is married to a UCLA professor. As a banker-lawyer, economist, John is extremely interested in the Common Market and feels that it will be even a more potent force for world peace than the United Nations. An interesting isn't-it-a-small-world sidelight: When I told John about my New York son Jim's being a member of the firm headed by George Ball who is now Assistant Secretary of State in charge of U.S. Common Market dealings I asked if he knew of George Ball. He said, "Oh, yes, my father brought him home for lunch in Brussels recently and I had a nice visit with him." John thinks President Kennedy is doing a fine vigorous job. He thinks England will join the Common Market profitably.

In Europe John has visited with other of the foreign AFS students who attended Winona High School. Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Kryzsko brought with them to show John some colored snapshots of the AFS student who spent the year with them, Mary Carmen Crespo, a perfectly beautiful Spanish girl who is now married to a handsome Spaniard and travels a great deal with him and their little girl.

All Winona foster parents have remained in close touch by mail with their "children," and many have received visits from their "children" or from their parents and other relatives. Many Winonians who have gone abroad during these last years have looked up former Winona AFS students and had fine social times. The foster parents all agree that this adopting a chosen AFS student for the school year is one of the most rewarding experiences of their lives.

Plans are now being shaped by Winona's American Field Service committee to bring two more foreign students to Winona for the coming school year, and homes will be needed for them. The housing committee will go into action this week, so if you would like more information on the subject please contact Mrs. Lloyd Gilbert or Mrs. R. D. Cornwell who are co-chairmen of this committee.

Leopard Kills Zoo Keeper

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A zoo keeper was killed Saturday when a leopard attacked him in the feeding compound. He was James Tuttle, 35.

Zoo officials said the 125-pound black leopard swiped Tuttle's face with its paw—ripping into the jugular vein.

Several visitors to the world-famed San Diego Zoo witnessed the attack.

Zoo officials said the leopard apparently escaped its cage and got into the feeding compound after someone pulled a wrong lever. Angie Campos said he and other attendants managed to force the 8-year-old leopard back into its cage with a bamboo pole.

Senators Take Up Need for Filibuster Curb

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators start battling today over proposals to put a tighter curb on filibusters.

The fight was to have broken out last week at the opening of the new Congress. But all sides agreed on a truce until President Kennedy delivered his State of the Union message.

The battle is a three-cornered one.

A bipartisan bloc of liberals will offer a new rule that would permit a majority of the members—51 of the 100 senators—to halt a filibuster 15 days after the filing of a debate-limitation petition.

Heading a middle-ground group, Sens. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., and Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., will propose a rule under which a time limit could be clamped on debates by three-fifths of the senators voting.

Tightly organized to resist any change in the present rule requiring a two-thirds majority of senators voting to limit debate are 19 Southern senators under the leadership of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

In what may be a promise to use the filibuster itself in the rules fight, Russell says: "We will take advantage of every opportunity to expose the inequity of gag rule in the Senate."

The issue is ticked for discussion at a morning conference of Republican senators, but they are not expected to take any party stand on it.

Senators calling for a tighter curb on filibusters contend it is necessary for the passage of meaningful civil rights legislation over Southern opposition. Russell called this "just a smoke screen" for efforts to pass big money bills.

Proponents also argue that under the present rule threatened filibusters have forced the watering down of other controversial legislation or stymied it altogether.

Dr. Hilleboe has just resigned as state commissioner of health in New York after serving 15 years under three governors of both major political parties. His yearly salary was $23,875.

He gave up his heavy responsibilities because of concern for his own health.

Dr. Hilleboe, 57, was a rural general practitioner in Swanville, Minn., in Morrison County, after he received his medical degree from the University of Minnesota in 1923. Several of his sisters and brothers still reside in Minnesota communities. He is a native of Westhope, N.D.

After he left Swanville, he accepted appointment in the state Welfare Department. He has returned to Minnesota many times for appearances before public health groups.

As medical consultant, Dr. Hilleboe is expected to play an important role in the governor's proposed medical program, should Rockefeller become the Republican candidate for president. He is a close personal friend of Gov. Rockefeller.

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Minnesota legislature moves into its second week today after a weekend break of nearly four days.

The House of Representatives convenes at 4:30 p.m., with the Senate meeting at 7:30.

The House gets back to work in an atmosphere of bipartisan support for a proposal to have the state assume costs of the governor election recount.

Conservative leader, Rep. Roy Dunn of Pelican Rapids said Saturday he believes the state is obligated to pay the cost of the recount.

Dunn, who heads the House tax committee, predicted the House will approve efforts to reform election laws and to have the state pay recount costs.

On the Liberal side, Rep. D. D. Wozniak of St. Paul, assistant minority leader, said he believes the state should agree to pay for the recount "quickly, before we find out who is governor and it gets into politics."

Wozniak said he believes there will be some action to amend election laws, possibly including the addition of a team of ballot counters and some clarification of election appeal procedures.

In the Senate, however, prospects for a recount payment bill seem somewhat less bright.

Senate Majority Leader John Zwach, Walnut Grove, and Finance Committee Chairman Val Imm, Mankato, said they are reluctant to have the state pay for the recount.

However, another conservative, Sen. Gordon Rosenmeier, and Minority Leader Paul Thuet, a South St. Paul Liberal, said they favor state payments.

WHITEHALL, Wis.—The Trempealeau County Highway committee will open bids Jan. 22 at 10 a.m. at its office in Whitehall for furnishing four new trucks, chassis only. Specifications call for trading in old equipment.

At the same time bids will be opened on a new three-quarter-ton pickup truck; an automobile, and a dump body. Bids will be opened by James Steen, highway commissioner.

Former State Doctor Will Be Rockefeller Aid

By JACK MACKAY
Associated Press Correspondent

ST. PAUL (AP) — A former Minnesota country doctor, who won national and international renown in the field of public health, will become chief consultant on medical affairs to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York. The Associated Press learned today.

He is Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, who also served as medical director in the Minnesota Department of Public Health under the late Farmer-Labor governor, Floyd Olson, and GOP Gov. Harold E. Stassen.

Dr. Hilleboe has just resigned as state commissioner of health in New York after serving 15 years under three governors of both major political parties. His yearly salary was $23,875.

Gulf Coast Dock Strike In 23rd Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The Atlantic and Gulf Coast dock strike entered its 23rd day today with federal mediators hopeful of resuming joint negotiations.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and federal mediators stood by during the weekend, to be on hand if any change came in the positions of the ship owners or the Longshoremen's Union.

The strike by 60,000 longshoremen has idled an additional 20,000 non-striking seamen and truckers in ports from Maine to Texas.

Federal mediators held separate meetings with both parties Saturday.

Two Years Out of Office, Ike Reflects

TWO YEARS' reflection after leaving the White House have given Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower some ideas on how to lighten the growing burden of federal government. The presidency may be the most powerful office in the world today, but Gen. Eisenhower found his powers insufficient to prevent a $20 billion annual increase in the budget during his eight years in office.

The former President's plan would require some Constitutional amendments, which would prevent Congress from appropriating more than the presidential budget called for except by a two-thirds majority of both houses, a new method of submitting the budget, and presidential power to veto separate items in any appropriations bill without having to veto the entire bill.

But Gen. Eisenhower realizes that such procedural methods alone can't stem the growth of government. The citizens must do that, the citizens have been somewhat disinterested in doing it, and the general wants to build a fire under them.

HE PROPOSES TO put the pain back into paying income taxes. Most personal income taxes today are slipped out of pay envelopes before the earner ever sees the money. The earner thinks in terms of "take home pay," and seldom thinks about the money he earned but never received. Under these circumstances, he is not aware of the huge burden he is bearing.

So, Gen. Eisenhower suggests that the government be allowed to collect no more than half the taxes due through withholding. It would be up to the individual to put his money away, and to dispatch it to Washington once a quarter or once a year. There would be a national cry of "ouch."

Pain serves a purpose by warning us of ailments that need attention. Painless taxpaying has masked what President Eisenhower and others have recognized as a serious ailment of our nation—a government grown too vast, which saps the vigor of the nation by draining away too much of its life blood.

PAINED TAXPAYERS would not be complacent about proposals to enlarge the government's tax appetite, and might even insist that present tax levels be cut back progressively.

Are Seeds of Fascism Being Sown?

SOME THOUGHTFUL people have expressed a fear that a form of fascism may, in time, reach power in this country. If it ever does, it will be the evolutionary consummation of a trend which has been subtly and insidiously undermining free institutions for many years.

The matter is not an easy one to discuss with any precision. For one thing, the meaning of words often tends to blur, and the problems and situations they are intended to describe often lose contrast. One totalitarian state—whether it be called Fascist, Communist, or anything else—is very much like another in its fundamentals.

That aside, the causes of fascism, and the tools which are used to create it, are spotlighted by history. The technique is to bring about a marriage of the instruments of power in a nation—its government, its industries, and its labor in cases where the unions are strong and wield vast influence. The ambitious leader uses these instruments with the utmost care—and the utmost cynicism—to achieve his purposes. He woos industry, by convincing it that by going along with him it will achieve an advantage over labor. And he woos labor with precisely the same siren song in reverse.

THE STAGE IS set for fascism—or totalitarianism of any kind—when the resources of a nation become overly dependent on its government. And, certainly, we have moved far in that direction. The government is the principal customer of many huge companies. Beyond that, government, by its laws and regulations, its bureaucracies, its thousand and one departments and agencies, and its own business operations, plays a dominant role in the life of the nation that would have seemed both impossible and intolerable even half a century ago.

Wars—hot and cold—past, present and possible—have been enormous forces in producing this trend. A fifty-odd billion dollar defense budget alone is a continuing threat to fundamental liberties. All we can do about this is to minimize that threat in every way possible, by working to prevent government domination of our lives in every area where the national security does not clearly demand it.

Beyond this, the Fascist danger lies in areas which have no connection with our safety in a chaotic world. These areas we describe with a general term—the Welfare State. This, carried to its logical conclusion, is a state in which government is all things to all men, offering a dubious cradle-to-the-grave security. The cost in dollars—tax dollars—is exceeded only by the costs in loss of liberty, self-reliance, and individual pride and responsibility.

SO THE SEEDS of totalitarianism exist. Only an informed and determined public, dedicated like its forebears to the principles of freedom, can make sure that they will not sprout into choking weeds.

When a man's ways please the Lord, he multiplies his enemies to be at peace with him, Prov. 16:8.

HOW DO YOU STAND, SIR?

Drag in Space Work Charged

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER
America's military space program—or lack of it—has become a major source of concern for the members of Congress who understand that an important breakthrough by the enemy in this field could, overnight, spell defeat for the forces of freedom in the world.

And their concern was underscored heavily in a newly-released report by the Republican Advisory Committee for Space and Aeronautics. The group, made up of scientists and technicians, has been conducting a thorough examination of the government's efforts in the space field as they affect the nation's military posture. The results were not encouraging.

For example, among the major conclusions reached by the GOP space advisors were the following:

"1. The Kennedy administration's failure to build a strong military space capability is perhaps the most disastrous blunder by any government since the last world war. Russian officials recently confirmed that the Soviet Union is preparing a military space capability. This confirmation was made public to the entire world on Sept. 21, 1962.

"2. In spite of the Soviets' many advancements in the space field in the last two years, the Kennedy administration has refused to invest adequately in our own military space efforts and has caused serious damage to the military morale and military effectiveness as far as our own Air Force is concerned.

"3. WHEN CRITICIZED for its lack of enthusiasm for a military space program, the Kennedy administration has replied that the current booster program for the National Aeronautics and Space Agency will serve the military 'if needed.' But the fact remains that the Air Force has NO program to develop manned space vehicles to cope with an enemy space attack—or space vehicles to be launched with boosters. By 1965, we will have the big Saturn boosters in production, but there will be no military vehicles for these boosters to carry aloft.

"4. The current Air Force budget includes somewhat more than $1 billion for so-called space work. The fact is, however, that very little of this money is allocated for manned space vehicles, such as satellite inspectors and manned space stations which the Air Force needs and consistently has begged Congress and the administration for. Most of the money goes for small communications and reconnaissance satellites. Defensive-military, unmanned satellites are being developed at a seemingly satisfactory pace. These systems are designed to give the military adequate surveillance, warning, navigation, weather information and communications and geodetic data for mapping. Nevertheless, no Air Force offensive systems are being pushed. These include manned vehicles and space stations.

"5. VERY LITTLE hardware developed by or for NASA can be used militarily. But the Kennedy administration tends to lead the public to believe that the opposite is true. The Mercury and Apollo programs have no interest to the Air Force. They could no more be converted to competitive military space systems than could a liberty ship be converted to an aircraft carrier."

The committee went on to point out that many top experts have warned that we must consider space as a fourth environment in which military battles may be fought.

Senate Probes Contract For General Dynamics

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Senate rackets chairman John McClellan, who has been investigating labor racketeers, has turned to the probe of a $62,000,000 research contract to General Dynamics. He has even asked the Defense Department to hold up the contract until his investigators can lay their cards on the table.

At stake is far more than the original $62,000,000 outlay. The contract calls for the development of a supersonic fighter, both the Navy and Air Force can use, and in the end should lead to contracts worth more than $5,000,000,000 to General Dynamics.

This column, which has done its own investigating of the General Dynamics deal, can describe the cards McClellan holds:

Card No. 1 — For the first time, the civilian chiefs ignored the recommendations of their military boards on a major contract. Secretary of Defense McNamara, Secretary of the Navy Korth, and Secretary of the Air Force Zuckert spent less than three weeks reviewing the intricate paperwork, then arbitrarily overruled the findings of an elaborate evaluation process which had taken 18 months.

Card No. 2 — Their decision will rescue General Dynamics from the financial rocks where it has been floundering for two years as the result of a $425,000,000 blunder. The loss has been blamed upon mismanagement. This is not reassuring to the taxpayers, who will have to pay the bill on any further mismanagement.

CARD NO. 3 — General Dynamics' biggest stockholder, Chicago financier Henry Crown, who took charge of an emergency committee to save the ailing corporation, pulled political strings in Washington. Effective in the back rooms, Crown is credited with hooking the desperately needed contract.

McClellan may never play his last card, which might embarrass his friend, Vice President Lyndon Johnson. For Crown made a pitch to Johnson, who obligingly checked on the contract negotiations at the Pentagon.

Crown is an astute businessman who has always dealt out his political contributions, where they would do the most good. He donated heavily to the Republicans when Eisenhower appeared a certain winner, then hedged his bets in 1960.

Unsure whether Nixon or Kennedy would triumph, Crown contributed to both camps. He took care to channel $1,000 of his Democratic donation to Johnson's campaign.

Designs came in from most of the big manufacturers and were processed through the Air Force's procurement machinery. However, Navy representatives sat on all the boards to make sure the best plane was selected for carrier operations.

The first joint evaluation board, headed by Col. Charles Gayle, concluded after four months that Boeing had submitted the best design. Boeing had been the first, for instance, to develop the variable wing, which could be pulled in for supersonic flight and spread out for slow landings on carriers.

BUT THE Navy was not satisfied with the Boeing model. The studies went through the Air Force source selection board, where they backed up to the Air Council, Rear Adm. F. L. Ashworth, who represented the Navy on the board, and Vice Adm. Robert Pirie, who sat on the council, objected to the Boeing design.

As a result, Secretary McNamara decided to ask the top two competitors, Boeing and General Dynamics, to go back to their drawing boards. Each company was given a million-dollar grant to redesign a plane that would satisfy the Navy.

Both companies came back with blueprints and cost studies that were processed through the same machinery. Again, the joint evaluation board recommended the Boeing plane.

The selection board and the Air Council, after their own painstaking reviews, also selected Boeing. But this time, the Navy representatives went along with the decision.

What was handed up to secretary of the Air Force Zuckert was a unanimous recommendation, based upon 18 months of careful study, that Boeing should get the contract. This was then reversed at the very top.

What part Crown's political vice-pulling played in the final decision, is the $62,000,000 question.

gemony committee which shook up the management and sought a financial transfusion.

THE BIGGEST transfusion, more than enough to save the stockholders from additional losses, is coming from Uncle Sam.

How General Dynamics got this contract, potentially the biggest ever offered by the Kennedy Administration, is a story of high-powered negotiations.

The details aren't supposed to be known outside the Pentagon, but this column can summarize what transpired.

Early in 1961, Secretary of Defense McNamara invited airplane manufacturers to submit proposals for a supersonic fighter that could be used by both the Navy and the Air Force.

Ray of Light On Integration

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — A ray of light has come at last into the controversy over "integration" in the public schools. It came as a result of the Thanksgiving Day race riot here when the football teams from two high schools — one almost entirely white and the other predominantly colored — met in an all-city championship game.

In keeping with the sincere efforts of many people to find some human solution of the friction over school integration, the local superintendent of schools, Carl F. Hansen, appointed a special commission of prominent men and women, Negro and white, to investigate what happened and to make recommendations.

The report is a lengthy one and deserves national attention. It should be widely publicized, at least among educators who are grappling with the problem of enforced integration in the public schools. Dr. Shane McCarthy, who was a prime mover in the national program for youth fitness under President Eisenhower, headed the commission. In his letter submitting the report, he says in part:

"Integration is a most complicated undertaking. It is not accomplished simply by opening classroom doors. It is not brought about by a paper decision to recognize the rights of fellow citizens. It is not achieved by an emotional urge that follows the prod of the heart rather than the leadership of the head. We do a grave disservice to boys and girls of both races when we direct them to integrate and thrust them into indiscriminate mingling without the thorough preparation which is a mandate for success in any undertaking."

Some of the teachers in the city's schools declined to testify at the commission's hearings. Some did so privately. Dr. McCarthy adds:

"No single teacher to whom I have spoken in the past few weeks was surprised that the outbreak on Thanksgiving Day took place. Uniformly came the response, 'Why should we be? We live with this brand of conduct every day in the schools.'"

THE STATEMENT by Dr. McCarthy also declares that teachers are reluctant to report to the police misconduct in everyday life at the schools, and that crime goes unpunished.

The main report of the committee, rendered after five weeks of investigation, speaks of an "atmosphere of lawlessness" in the public schools. The report says in part on this point:

"Testimony before the full committee developed an awareness of administrative lack of control over hoodlum elements in the school system and a deteriorating condition in mass audience events outside of the school buildings. 'Violence, assaults, disrespect of teachers are acts of an undesirable element of students. An atmosphere of 'permissiveness' has discouraged the personnel of many schools and caused a citywide lessening of discipline standards. Fear rages through many school buildings which have become tramping grounds for outside influences, including thugs, hoodlums, and persons of the lowest character."

"THE SCHOOL administration has difficulty in coping with this situation. The morale of many teachers has suffered and the percentage of resignations and transfers has increased. Nevertheless, school officials fail to cooperate with police and report violations of the law nor do they maintain a citywide reporting system of incidents of misconduct. With such a climate in the school system, students receive little discipline, little guidance and little incentive to develop strong citizenship qualities in far too many cases and the result has been a steadily worsening misconduct problem in the public schools."

The report gives details of the injuries and property damage. It tells of the interviews with as many eyewitnesses as could be persuaded to cooperate.

The fact stands out that conditions in the schools produced the tragic episode, almost unparalleled in the history of the country, as mob violence erupted during and after a game between teams from an almost all-white Catholic high school and an almost all-Negro public high school. There were 50,000 people in the stands. Officially listed at the time as injured and requiring medical treatment were 33 white persons and 7 Negroes. The new report confirms that several hundred other individuals were attacked and sustained injuries of one kind or another.

THE LESSON which all this teaches, of course, is that federal troops occupying the campus of the University of Mississippi do not furnish the answer to the integration problem. Nor do the constant stories in the press about the students' jeering of James Mere-

To Your Good Health

Varicose Vein Surgery

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have two large varicose veins the length of my leg. If I have these veins stripped, how great are the chances of new ones forming? Is this operation dangerous?—E. D.

Once the veins are stripped (removed surgically) they are gone for good. This does not mean that other veins cannot become varicose later, but it doesn't mean that they will either. Sometimes removal of the faulty veins ends the trouble.

As to the operation, there is some risk involved in any surgery, however slight, but this ranks among the ones.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would the discharge called trichomonas cause a itch of 21 to have pimples?—M. F. G.

No, I can't see the slightest connection.

With touch any more than the superficial aspects of the controversy. The crusade for votes by the politicians who wish to capitalize on "integration" has ignored the fundamental human aspects.

In the public schools in Washington 83 percent of the students are colored. Integration of the races here is no different in its obstacles than those faced in the south.

The problems of human relationship will certainly never be solved by bayonets or by sit-in demonstrations or "freedom rides" or other agitation of that kind. Conformity by coercion will never succeed. An adjustment of race relations will come only when both sides determine what is the practicable and human thing to do, irrespective of the legal phraseology of federal court orders.

First Art Center Is Converted Rod&Gun Club, Former Church

An art gallery and classroom and workshop for art became more than wishful thinking for the Winona Art Group when members voted unanimously last week to purchase the Rod and Gun Club at 5th and Lafayette Streets.

Final steps were taken for the purchase which is being financed by sale of members' paintings at the spring auction. Maintenance and improvements on the building will be financed through commission from sale of paintings, dues which will remain the same and fees for art instruction. While there will be no solicitations, donations will be accepted by the group which was recently incorporated as a non-profit organization.

MEMBERS PLAN to paint what once was the German Presbyterian Church to transform it into the first art center in the city. The art gallery will be made out of the section of the building in which services were held. The church basement will be used for a workshop and classes.

The art group will move from Lake Park Lodge to its new center in mid February. The six-year-old group which has grown from six to 76 members expects to display its own and guest artists' works in the gallery. Purpose of the group is to promote art including paintings, sculpture, drawings, ceramics and other graphic arts and allied activities; encourage production of art among members; review completed work of members; employ lecturers and artists for help and advice and hold exhibits open to the public.

Activities at Lake Park Lodge are largely limited to painting; the new building will provide space for the other arts. A group of 20 paintings by art group members will be displayed at St. Mary's College during February. Paintings will be selected by James Heinlen from St. Mary's old group which has grown from six to 76 members expects to display its own and guest artists' works in the gallery. Two Crashes on Slippery Streets

Slippery conditions caused two traffic accidents Sunday afternoon, according to police.

The first accident was at Wabasha and Winona streets at 12:45 p.m. Involved were Lester W. Jonsgaard, 20, Winona Rt. 1, and Julius J. Schneider, 737 W. Wabasha St.

Both were driving east on Wabasha Street. Jonsgaard stopped at the Winona Street intersection for another car which was going south on Winona Street. Schneider was unable to stop because of slippery conditions and hit the rear of Jonsgaard's car, according to police.

Damage was more than $50 to each car. Both drivers were slightly shaken up. No citations were issued.

Harry L. Freier, Sewickley, Pa., and Maxwell Carpenter, Homer, were involved in the second accident which occurred at the junction of highways 14-61 and 43 at 3:33 p.m.

Freier was driving east on Highway 14-61 and Carpenter west on the highway. Carpenter started to turn left onto Highway 43 and Freier was unable to stop because of the slippery conditions, said police.

Damage was more than $200 to each car. No one was injured and police issued no citations.

$35,000 Rochester Airport Well Test Case Set Jan. 28

ROCHESTER, Minn.—District Judge Arnold Hatfield has scheduled for Jan. 28 the trial of a $35,000 suit which stems from difficulties encountered in construction of a well at the Municipal Airport.

The trial "is expected to require at least three weeks to try," Judge Hatfield said.

Co-defendants are the City of Rochester and Ellerbe and Co., St. Paul and Rochester architectural firm, which drew up plans for the well.

The suit was brought by Max Renner Well Co., of Minneapolis, which received the original contract for construction of the well. The city filed a counterclaim of $33,715 against the well company, claiming the firm failed to fulfill its contract.

The Renner firm charges material breach of warranty and, of contract by the city, negligence and delay by the city and the Ellerbe firm, "malicious interference of contractual relations between Renner and the city by Ellerbe, all of which, the well company added, caused extra work, material and equipment.

The Renner company claims it encountered a sandstone condition which none of the parties had "contemplated." The plans for the well did not make provision for a well lining which, Renner said, was required in the sandstone.

Food School Slated Tuesday

Food handlers for religious, private and commercial food servers will attend classes on "Techniques of Food Service in Winona" Tuesday at the YMCA.

Two identical sessions will be held, according to Willard A. Swanson, city food inspector. The first begins at 2:30 p.m. An evening class starting at 7:30 will be conducted for those unable to attend the afternoon discussions.

A variety of topics will be covered under the general headings of prevention of food-borne disease and the techniques of dispensing food to the public.

Class leaders will discuss bacteriology, types of diseases and links in the chain of transmission. A film of an actual case history will be shown. Other topics will include food sources, personal health and hygiene, storage, refrigeration, dishwashing, general sanitation, waste disposal, rodent control, ventilation and lighting.

Robert E. Hunt, chief of the state Health Department's hotel, restaurant and resort section, will direct the classes. He will be assisted by Charles E. Schneider, sanitarian with the department's division of environmental sanitation, Dr. W. W. Haesly, city health officer, and Swanson.

It will be the first such conference held here since May 17, 1960. The classes are conducted periodically around the state by the department as part of a constant campaign to control spread of food-borne diseases.

A driver must reduce speed to 15 miles an hour on ice and 30 m.p.h. on packed snow to be able to stop within the same distance normally traveled on a clear road at 50 m.p.h.

Are you risking RUIN with inadequate business insurance?

You may be unless your business is insured through an independent insurance agent. Only an independent agent can make sure all your insurable risks are covered by insurance. No single company can do this because no one company offers every type of business insurance. If you buy insurance directly from a company, it's likely you'll hear only about the policy or policies that company offers. An independent insurance agent, however, is free to choose the best business insurance policy from hundreds offered by different, competing companies. The big difference in car, home, and business insurance is the continuing, personal attention of your independent insurance agent.

House of the Week

4 Bedrooms in Only 1,300 Square Feet

By JULES LOH

In the vernacular of the times, this is a house for the "emerging family" — one whose population and economic development, shall we say, hasn't reached its full potential.

In a basic space of only 1,300 square feet, architect Samuel Paul has packaged seven rooms, including four bedrooms, and 2½ baths. Yet nothing is crowded; there is plenty of elbow room, plenty of space for modest entertaining, plenty of romping room for youngsters.

IN OTHER WORDS, it's the type house a young and growing family with a young and growing income should study closely.

The reason there is so much house in so little basic space is because it is a 1½ story model, though from the street it looks like a ranch.

In this type house the roof has a sharper pitch so that simply by including a dormer the space that normally would be an attic becomes a perfectly habitable second story.

This means the second story, which contains two large bedrooms and a full bath, doesn't have to be finished until somebody comes along to occupy them.

IT AMOUNTS to 548 square feet of extra space at extremely low cost, since it doesn't require what could be called structural building costs, with the added benefit that it can be provided bit by bit.

Just as the formal area is enlarged functionally by combining living and dining rooms, the family room-kitchen combination provides a spacious 231-square-foot informal area.

ATTRACTIVE AND ECONOMICAL: With its stone veneer, stucco and a dash of redwood siding, the rustic colonial flavor of this house likely will be charming and tasteful for decades to come.

It is a 1½-story model containing seven rooms, including four large bedrooms, and 2½ baths in surprisingly little basic area.

Plenty of windows assure lots of natural light and fresh air, and make supervision easy whether the kids are on the flagstone play patio or covered front verandah.

Architect Paul has provided a high degree of privacy for the downstairs bedrooms. Not only are they zoned away from the living area with sound buffers between, but a sliding door completely closes off the sleeping wing.

A LARGE bathroom with a dual vanity serves both bedrooms, and the nearby lavatory is perfectly placed for emergency family service.

Upstairs, the expansion bedrooms are even larger than those below, and the second floor bathroom also has a dual vanity. All four bedrooms are characterized by an enormous amount of closet space.

Speaking of closets, don't overlook the three under the balcony; two for coats and one for kitchen and utility storage.

THE HOUSE contains a partial cellar, located under the foyer and bedroom wing, with ample space for recreation, utility and storage space. The 441-square-foot garage also is oversized for extra storage room.

Another plus feature of the house is its durable exterior — not only in materials but also in styling. Its rustic colonial flavor, with stone veneer, stucco and a dash of redwood siding, has been charming and tasteful for decades and likely will remain so.

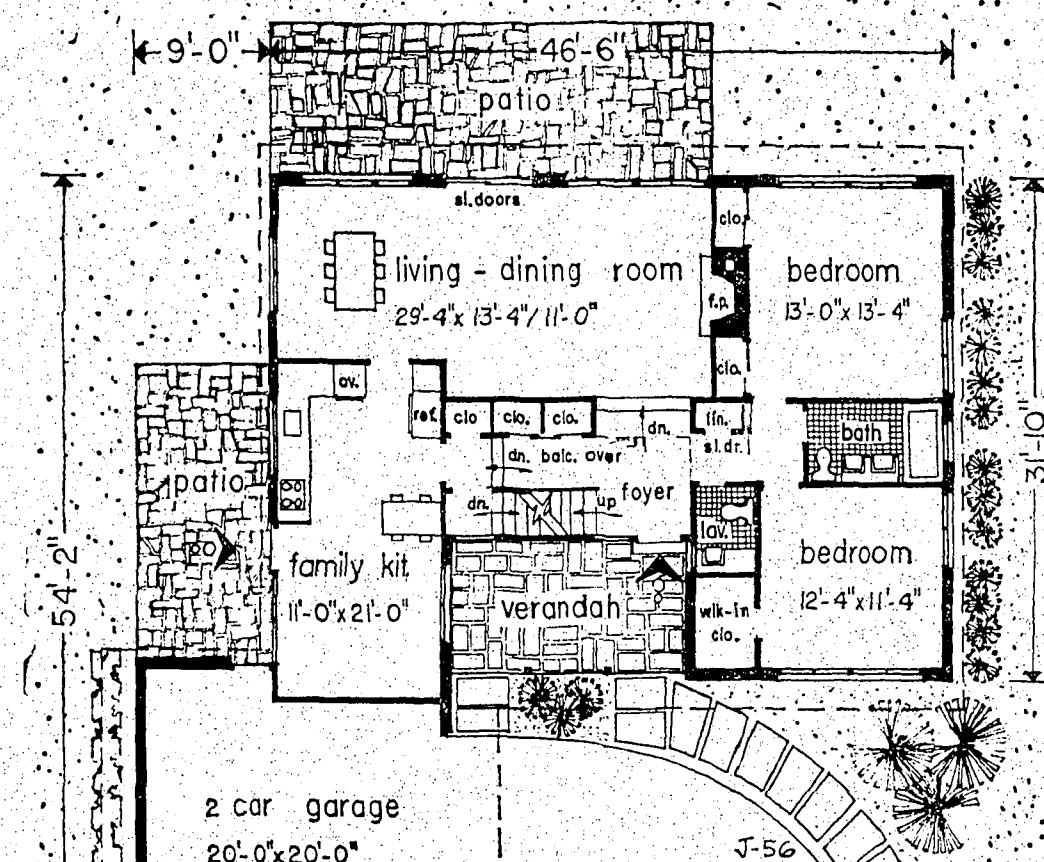

The house itself is 46 feet, 6 inches wide by 31 feet, 10 inches deep, but the garage protrusion makes its overall dimensions fifty-five feet, six inches wide by fifty-four feet, two inches deep and architect Paul suggests a plot of 70 feet by 100 feet to take full advantage of its looks and outdoor features.

FLOOR PLANS which have the living room in the rear always are interesting, and this one is especially so.

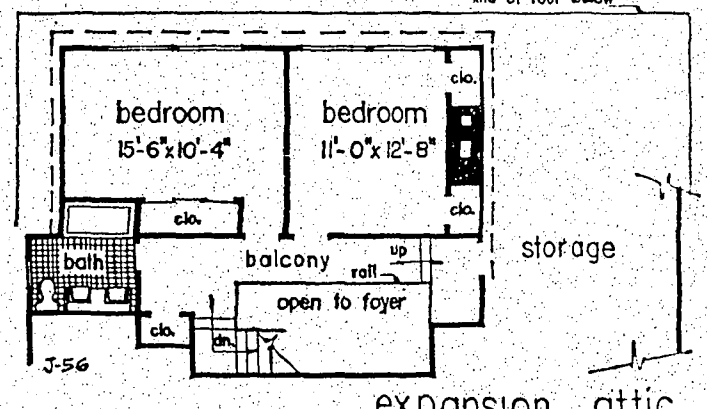

Because of an indentation for the front verandah (which provides a homey touch as well as a covered entry) the front foyer can lead directly to the rear living room with nothing intervening.

The foyer has a high cathedral ceiling and an open staircase to the second floor balcony, creating an atmosphere of grandeur.

THE LIVING - dining room stretches nearly 30 feet across the back, with broad expanses of glass flanking sliding glass doors which lead to the patio. A handsome brick fireplace with a stone hearth catches the eye immediately on entering from the foyer.

FLOOR PLANS: All this living area is packaged in only 1,300 square feet of basic space. The upstairs expansion adds 548 square feet inexpensively. A partial cellar, beneath the foyer and bedrooms, provides another 676 square feet.

BOTTOM FIRST

The correct way to paint wood siding is first to apply the paint to the bottom edge of the clapboard and then to the face, brushing the paint out fully.

CEILING FIRST

Always paint the ceiling before doing the walls, because any splatters will land on the old walls not the freshly painted ones. You'll find the job goes quicker if you place a sturdy plank between two firmly placed step ladders, or if you use a roller with an extension handle. Keep the paint can behind you so you don't accidentally kick it over.

The country of Lebanon occupies an area about four-fifths the size of Connecticut.

In Decorating, Take Courage And Go Ahead

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The big ingredient necessary in decorating your home this season is courage. If you have that, you may not even need money, as illustrated in a recent interior design show.

A visit to your cellar attic or to relatives may round up just the objects necessary to do the trick. Anything from a Victorian chandelier to a Louis XVI salon suite of furniture will do if it appeals to you. Nobody else counts this year when you are decorating your home.

GATHER UP cans of paint from the workshop, search the home remnant bag for fabric and you may be on the way to realizing that enchanted cottage you've always wanted.

Some rooms at this design show were equipped with banquettes and murals, just like fancy restaurants. Other rooms with shocking pink carpets or brilliant orange chairs may have resembled posh beauty salon waiting rooms.

But that's the general idea in this "live and let live year." You can get away with any home furnishing plan, no matter how different are your ideas. Anything goes and anything goes together. If you like it.

If you are blessed with imagination, there is no end to what you can do to dress up your home. If you want to splurge and do something different, you can do that, too.

HERE ARE some ideas from the show that may put you in the mood to experiment:

Fabric was laminated to venetian blinds.

A beat-up dresser was covered with a blue and white striped Avisco rayon and cotton fabric, secured with wallpaper paste.

Blemished tables were covered with floor-length skirts in gay fabrics.

Strips of felt were used to accent a wall of ceramic tile.

A filing cabinet was covered with a tapestry fabric that had been trimmed with strong glue.

Black and white tweed cushions were used on dining room chairs that had been painted dark red.

PLAID FABRIC used in cushions was also used as the border of white curtains and as a lamp shade.

A music room was nothing more than a piano with many, many, colored pillows for floor seating.

Decorative window shades were used with every imaginable twist.

A pine-paneled room gave a sun-bleached appearance accomplished by rubbing the boards as soon as they were painted in flat white.

Pheasant feathers under glass for the top of an occasional table.

Fabric used on upholstered pieces and on wall panels for a unifying effect in a monochromatic room scheme.

Long interesting tables used as desks for the home office.

MIRRORS used in the corners of rooms to suggest space and to brighten the room by reflection.

A folding-bed in a fabric-lined niche that becomes part of a wall, revealing a collection of prints and paintings when folded back.

Toile prints used in bed linens, an innovation.

A lilac and white bathroom including lilac bathtub, wash basins and other fixtures.

Vinyl travertine covering a window wall to give an Italian villa effect.

Planning Second Honeymoon Cottage?

AP Newsfeatures Writer.
Furnishing a second-honeymoon cottage can be a lot of fun. It comes usually when couples have celebrated their silver wedding anniversary and married off their children, and have taken a long look in the mirror to discover they aren't old. They're in the mood for the kind of home they've always wanted.

YOU CAN GET through a major home rejuvenation program without scars, providing you are merciful in carving the new niche, whether you are just remodeling the old homestead or moving into a new one.

It means discarding a lot of things that have served you a long while, but have been retained merely because of sentimental ties that have long gone. A hideous lamp from the old office crew or one won at bridge should be earmarked for the junk pile if it doesn't help your home to achieve its goal of unity.

If you can afford it, hire a decorator. It often is cheaper in the long run, and a painless way to have yourself separated from some objects that should be relegated to the ash can.

BUT IF YOU can't afford a decorator, here's a plan that has worked for do-it-yourself types who know their way around a paint can. Whether the house is your old one or a new one, it should help you get a new look without spending more than you can afford.

• Decide on colors you both like. Chances are they will be gayer than ones you now live with because there are more brilliant colors available in lower-priced fabrics. Then try to find these colors in a pattern that will go into the room—fabric, wall covering, rug or a painting.

• Move everything out of each room to be decorated, and don't try to rush it because it's a mess. Do one room at a time. You'll want to refinish or paint your floors and paper or paint your walls. You can see everything in better perspective without clutter.

• Consider whether you want to cover a sofa and two chairs in a gaily patterned fabric with walls painted in one of the colors in the pattern (as many decorators do in their own homes) or whether you want to use wallcovering in a design and keep sofa and chair fabrics plain. Some people like to match wall background, rug and lamp bases.

• If furniture is being bought, the second time around, lessons have no doubt been learned—such as comfort is as important as styling. Old pieces can be refinished if the wood is good, pickled or antiqued for new effects.

Lacquers can transform old furniture, bringing up to date odd tables, chairs and benches. These objects lend themselves to the primary colors and gay shades such as orange when a single piece or two is used as accent. Needlepoint chair covers may be made for a personal touch.

• If there is no further use for a family room, consider making it a library-music room or even a workshop. If it has lots of glass and opens on a terrace, it can be transformed into an indoor garden, so that in winter it has an outdoors feeling.

Such things as small pool arrangements with rocks, pebbles and a little fountain, Japanese or American style, a cage full of birds, and a bit of statuary can turn the family room into an outdoor room all the year round.

• The unemployment problem, both present and potential, touches many citizens. Those out of work and their families are hit the hardest. But many others worry lest they be next—in spite of the high totals of employment.

This worry underlies most of the management-labor strife now under way, or threatening to break out later this year. Where unemployment is concentrated, whole communities suffer.

And many parents, although feeling secure in their own jobs, wonder what is in store for their children. The flood of teen-agers and of those who will be finishing their education in their early twenties will grow steadily heavier in the next few years.

The question is how to assure jobs for all as they swell the labor force.

Right now the teen-agers are showing up worse in the unemployment statistics. The latest Labor Department figures show that 12.7 per cent of those under 20, either boys or girls, who want to work can't find jobs. This compares with 4.7 per cent of adult men hunting work in vain and 5.2 per cent of adult women.

The chief reason is that increasingly the jobs to be filled call for high skills, long training or experience. The teen-ager who drops out of school often finds himself out of luck.

Many of the adults out of work also find that the demand is for skills they do not have. The age of space and electronic automation promises the trend will continue.

All of this will add to the pressure to do something to combat the sticky hard core of unemployment. Labor has advanced its schemes aimed at spreading the available work among more people and increasing the purchasing power of those in the lower income brackets. Business has put in its pitch for more profits to be used for investment — to come from higher prices or lower production costs and tax cuts and less government regulation.

The administration has its own program for spurring economic growth to make more jobs for a growing labor force. And even before Congress convened the President warned:

"If we do not take action, those who have most reason to be dissatisfied with our present rate of growth will be tempted to seek short-sighted and narrow solutions—to resist automation, to reduce the work week, to shut out imports or to raise prices in a vain effort to obtain full capacity profits in an undercapacity operations."

Duluth Woman Killed in Traffic Mishap
DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Mrs. Hulda Swanson, 61, Duluth, was killed in an automobile collision Sunday on Highway 23 near Kerrick, Minn., about 40 miles southwest of Duluth.

Mrs. Swanson was a passenger in the car driven by her son-in-law, Richard Dahl, 35, Proctor. The second car was driven by Maurice Keyport, 26, of Kerrick.

The death raised Minnesota's 1963 traffic toll to 16, compared with 20 through this date last year.

Elmer E. Nordberg, 64, Little Falls, Minn., was killed Saturday in a two-car crash on U.S. 10, about 23 miles east of Bismarck, N.D. Nordberg's wife Catherine, 61, was in serious condition in a Bismarck hospital.

Civilian Captures 2 Escaped Marines
MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Two Marine reservists escaped from the enemy during war maneuvers only to be captured by a shotgun-carrying civilian.

Police said Willie E. Brabner of Mobile and Artie Davis of Birmingham fled from the enemy camp Sunday and sought a hiding place in a nearby residence.

A neighbor took a dim view of the situation and held them at bay with a shotgun while police were called.

Police returned the pair to their commanding officer.

Arrange for Wedding, Not Chorus Lineup
ARMTHORPE, England (AP) — The Rev. Charles Grace, 38, urges brides to pass up planning necklines when they pick their wedding gowns.

"The person who gets the benefit of your décolleté is the minister — and he doesn't want it," the Church of England parson wrote in his parish magazine today.

"Bear in mind that it is a wedding you are arranging, not a chorus lineup."

Unemployment Fund Drops In Minnesota

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy could picture a happier State of the Union to Congress and the nation today if unemployment would just come unstuck.

What to do about it will play a large part, expressed or under cover, in many of the proposals to come before this session of Congress—tax cuts, youth corps, trade relations with foreign countries, government spending to spur the economy, worker retraining programs, labor and business regulatory laws.

The unemployment problem, both present and potential, touches many citizens. Those out of work and their families are hit the hardest. But many others worry lest they be next—in spite of the high totals of employment.

This worry underlies most of the management-labor strife now under way, or threatening to break out later this year. Where unemployment is concentrated, whole communities suffer.

Fire Destroys Cleaners Shop At Worthington
WORTHINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Fire destroyed an old frame building housing the Exclusive Cleaners Shop early today and did some damage to two adjoining firms.

Firemen estimated damage to the three places at around $35,000. The blaze broke out in the cleaning plant about 1 a.m. and firemen remained at the scene until dawn.

Cause of the fire was not determined. Also damaged were the adjoining Ace Hardware, about $5,000, and the Worthington Federal Savings and Loan, which had minor smoke effects.

Crash on Freeway Fatal to Seven
POMONA, Calif. (AP) — A three-car freeway smashup killed seven persons and injured two early Sunday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The dead included four members of one family, two of them visitors from Rhode Island.

Patrolmen said a west-bound car jumped the divider on the San Bernardino Freeway at 1:10 a.m. and collided head-on with another car, which caromed into a third.

The scene of the crash was about 30 miles east of Los Angeles.

Patrolmen identified the dead as: King Edward Johns, 50, of near-by Covina, alone in the westbound auto.

Capt. Lowell D. Sousa, 29, a doctor at Norton Air Force Base, San Bernardino, driver of the second car.

His daughter, Cynthia, 1, Capt. Sousa's parents, Manuel F. Sousa, 58, and Albertina Sousa, 55, visiting from Portsmouth, N.H. Sully Gutierrez, 20, of nearby Ontario, driver of the third car, and her passenger, Mona Navarro, 24, Upland, Calif.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA
1963 All-America Glads
Having considered some of the new annual flowers for this year in a previous article, suppose that we look at the award-winning glads for 1963. Along with other flowers, new gladiolus hybrids are being developed from year to year that in beauty of form, color, vigor and general appearance, greatly supersede many of the older varieties.

Of special note are the ones that merit the prize awards of the All-America Gladiolus Selections, Inc., as outstanding varieties. This organization is the recognized non-profit testing group for the glads. New varieties, under number only, are thoroughly tested throughout the United States and Canada in very exacting trial grounds under every type of soil and climatic conditions.

The award winners for 1963, four in number, are as follows: Morning Sun, a large yellow; Victory, a huge scarlet; Goldilocks, a yellow miniature; and Frisky, a scarlet miniature. Our readers will be much interested to know that the first three are the originations of the Noweta Gardens, St. Charles, Minn.

SINCE THE start of the testings some years ago, All-America Gladiolus Selections has been looking for a good yellow glad, one that would hold up and merit award winning honors. It looks as though just such a glad has now been found in Morning Sun which is a beautiful deep yellow. The color is deeply intense and the texture very smooth giving a carved appearance to the delightfully ruffled florets. It is a wonderful glad, strong and robust, and will delight the heart of the most fastidious glad fancier.

The second standard award winner is Victory, a vivid, brilliant, new scarlet with deep intense radiance. The spikes are tall, strong-growing, with many open, large, saucer-like florets of glowing scarlet. This is not only a wonderful glad to beautify the garden, but is fine for cutting and should prove to be a winner on the show table.

GOLDLOCKS, as the name implies, is a lovely golden yellow, a very charming little miniature glad that will enhance the plantings in the garden like a jewel. The spikes are well proportioned and the waxy, sculptured florets are most beautiful. Goldilocks is as beguiling as its story book namesake and it should greatly please the most ardent flower arranger.

Frisky, the fourth award winner, is a miniature glad, fine for exhibition, attractive for cutting and most appealing in floral arrangements. The florets are a deep, velvety scarlet in color with seven or eight open at once on straight, slender well-proportioned spikes. During the time that this lively little glad was being tested by number only, it won many awards at flower shows.

GLADS ARE unsurpassed as cut flowers and are the arranger's dream. The florets range in size from the delightful little miniatures to the giant ones six inches across borne on tall sturdy spikes. Some are plain petaled, while others are frilled or ruffled. The color range is wide from solid colors to delightful combinations of varying tints, shades and hues.

Like all hybrid flowers, these new glads are the results of most painstaking efforts on the part of the hybridizers and, of course, cost more. Each of the All-America gladiolus is patented and the bulbs are packaged under proper labels for the protection of the purchasers.

These bulbs will be available from most catalogs and garden stores. When buying them look for the AAGS trademark on each package.

Judge Stone, 73, Dead at Wausau
WAUSAU, Wis. (AP) — U.S. District Judge Patrick T. Stone, 73, who served nearly 30 years as a federal judge, died Sunday of cancer.

Judge Stone was confined to his home last month after returning from a 10-day visit to a Rochester, Minn., hospital. Few persons realized the seriousness of his illness.

Judge Stone, the first federal judge appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933, presided over the Western District of Wisconsin.

He was born in Pembroke, Ont., and when he was two moved with his parents to Tomahawk, Wis. Judge Stone attended Marquette University and passed his bar examination while still a student in 1912.

Judge Stone is survived by two sons, Patrick of Minocqua, and Louis O., of Wausau; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Lou Yeschek, Lac du Flambeau; three sisters and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the residence of the late Louis Dessert, Wausau, and at 11 a.m. in St. James Roman Catholic Church.

LA CRESCENT, Minn. — Al Overhouse, grocery store operator here, has purchased Ed's Superette store, Hokah, and will have a grand opening soon. Mrs. LaVern Sheehan will be manager.

BUYS BUILDING
INDEPENDENCE, Wis. — A. J. Symick, Whitehall implement dealer, has purchased the former Baeker garage which will be used by his implement company here to give better service to customers in this area.

Senators to Offer Milk Sanitary Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators Gaylord Nelson and William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, all Democrats, said they planned to introduce a national milk sanitation bill today.

A similar measure was introduced in the House last week by Rep. Lester Johnson, D-Wis. Humphrey said the measure was designed to "protect the public from unsanitary milk and milk products shipped in interstate commerce without unduly hindering such commerce."

Ex-Alma Man Gets Patent
ALMA, Wis. — Your automobile engine will operate more efficiently in the future, thanks to a patent recently awarded to a former resident and graduate of Alma High School.

He is Dr. Alai E. Michaels, who is associate professor of chemistry at Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa. He patented "Gasolines Containing Polymeric Additive Agents."

IT IS the second patent awarded to Dr. Michaels in 1962 and the fifth since joining the W & J staff 3½ years ago.

Studies made by Dr. Michaels showed that high boiling compounds normally found in gasolines are only partly burned under normal operating conditions.

The partly burned products lead to the formation of harmful sludge and varnish deposits which settle in the engine. The deposits produce serious losses in engine power, increase maintenance expense and shorten the life of the engine.

Dr. Michaels' invention provides a class of new and improved gasolines which are less susceptible to the formation of engine deposits, sludge and varnish.

HE FOUND that the use of certain chemical compounds, when added to gas, greatly improves engine cleanliness and permits better engine economies. It also will eliminate the need for certain costly refining steps which were often necessary in the past to produce gasolines with the same cleanliness. The same properties may be employed in aviation gasolines.

Dr. Michaels came to W & J College from Esso Research and Engineering Co. which he joined in 1943. He received a bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin and his doctor's degree from Ohio University.

Holy Name Society Elects Officers At St. Casimir's
Eugene F. Zeches was elected president of the Holy Name Society of St. Casimir's Catholic Church Sunday. He succeeds James Cisewski.

Dr. Robert F. Datta was elected vice president, succeeding William Start. The new secretary-treasurer is Michael Kleinschmidt, replacing Ernest G. Brose. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Julius W. Haun, pastor of St. Casimir's, is the spiritual director.

Meetings will be held on the second Sunday of each month after the 8 a.m. Mass. The society offered to handle the sale and distribution of tickets for the "Feast of St. Casimir" parish dinner March 4.

Bucket Seats Stolen From Sports Car
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — William Zachmeier told police he entered his sports car parked in front of a Peabody College dormitory and discovered thieves had taken the two front bucket seats.

Supreme Court Strikes Down Virginia Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today a Virginia law which the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said had curbed its participation in litigation over racial discrimination.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., writing the court's main opinion, said that while the case was brought by NAACP, the high tribunal was not deciding it with any consideration of race or racial discrimination.

Rather, Brennan said, the court condemned the state statute as a violation of the federal Constitution's guarantee of free speech.

NAACP contended the law barred it from underwriting the costs and providing counsel in suits begun to test validity of state-imposed discrimination. The statute calls such activity unlawful fomenting and solicitation of legal business. Lawyers taking part in such cases are declared guilty of malpractice.

DEAR ABBY:

Good Teachers Are Worth More

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I, too, am "Irritated" with school teachers who punish the entire class when she doesn't know who is guilty. It's time we investigated our school teachers. What other job starts at 9 A.M. and ends at 3 P.M. five days a week? Who else gets a week's Easter vacation and two weeks at Christmas? No wonder everyone wants to go into the teaching profession.

I. M. Wise

DEAR WISE: Sorry, but you are not "wise"—you are otherwise. A good teacher's working day starts well before the first bell and lasts long after her pupils (and often their parents) are snoozing. Most are required to use their summer months for added study (at considerable expense). And many teachers (of both sexes) have financial responsibilities few know about. A good teacher is worth more than she earns. And the really poor ones don't last long at any price. You're down on what you're not up on, Friend.

DEAR ABBY: Why do people charge so much for baby-sitting? It's not hard work and doesn't require any brains. I offer to baby-sit free for some young couples who can barely scrape up enough money to go out, let alone pay a sitter. What happened to the spirit of giving?

DEAR SITTER: That's a good question. I think it vanished about 23 years ago. That's the last time our milkman gave me a calendar for Christmas.

DEAR ABBY: After ten years of marriage and four children we were divorced. My ex-husband wanted me and the children back so I went back to him and we raised the children together. They are all married with families of their own now. No one knows that the Mister and I never renewed our marriage vows. So where does that leave me legally? Everything is in both names (property and insurance) but I have not been his legal Mrs. for 25 years. We can't get married again because a public notice would be disgraceful, as everyone took us to be married all along. Can you give me some advice? DIVORCED BUT "MARRIED"

DEAR DIVORCED: Your clergyman can marry you privately and quietly, and file it in the church records. This is a LEGAL marriage and no one need know that you have not been legally wed all along. Good luck and God bless you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ATHENS": A man does not usually look behind a door unless he has stood there himself.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Police Probe Disappearance Of Kenosha

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police investigating the week-old disappearance of Kenosha juke box distributor Anthony J. Biernat are beginning to consider that he may have been the object of gang-land action.

"We have reports that one man tried to buy an interest in Biernat's business," Kenosha Police Capt. Arthur Riley said here Sunday night. "We are investigating any possible tieups with a Milwaukee or Minneapolis — St. Paul gang which may be trying to move into Kenosha."

Riley said officials were "tending to lean in the direction in the investigation" that Biernat was the victim of a gangland slaying. The 46-year-old Biernat was seen last week ago tonight when he picked up a newspaper at a Kenosha railroad station. Police said several witnesses told of seeing a struggle in the station parking lot, where Biernat's blood-stained car and coat were found the next day. Police said earlier his disappearance probably stemmed from a robbery and was not connected with his business activities in Kenosha County and Lake County in Illinois.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Peppy Children Need Exercise

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D. Professor of Education, University of Southern California

Some children arrive at school just bubbling over with too much physical energy.

Jim was such a boy. He was so overactive in the classroom he became a real problem for his teacher. Jim found it difficult to concentrate even on things in which he was interested.

Even one or two children can cause the teacher no end of trouble. Often in desperation teachers send them to the counselor's office so they can get on with teaching the rest of the class. I have known boys and girls who have spent hours sitting in the outer office of vice principals.

IN JIM'S case the counselor thought Jim might have a physical problem irritating him and making it difficult for him to go quietly about his work. Following the counselor's suggestion, Jim's mother took him to the family doctor. But the doctor found nothing wrong, so the problem was still there.

Jim was a behavior problem in school and getting more difficult for his teacher to handle.

Actually teachers are not in a position to solve this situation. Parents can do more than anyone else to correct such a problem. After all, it is the parent's responsibility to teach children courtesy, industry, and respect for authority, and to send the children off to school ready to learn.

I SUGGEST that a child like Jim be required to get up an hour earlier each day and spend the time in some physical activity. Have him punch a bag, work out on bars, chin himself a dozen times, or run around the block — anything that lets him work off his excess energy.

With a little experimenting, parents can determine what is an acceptable amount of strenuous activity. Then let him get cleaned up and send him off to school. He should arrive with sufficient calm to better control his own actions.

Also, in talking with the child emphasize that he is responsible for behaving properly. If he misbehaves he will have to take the consequences.

Irresponsibility is a habit of behavior and tends to persist unless firm action is taken. Breaking such a habit comes when the child wants to substitute acceptable behavior and makes a conscious effort toward that end.

INSTEAD OF trying to control a child like Jim, we have to help him control himself. Sometimes a quiet talk with the child will make an impression. The change probably will come about more readily if accompanied by changing his pattern of activity to include early morning exercise, as I have suggested.

The results are worth working toward for the child will be happier.

Any child who grows up knowing that he is responsible for his own actions will have a healthier outlook as an adult.

Tripucka Leads West's 21-14 All-Star Win

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Old pro Frank Tripucka came off the bench Sunday and passed the team to a 21-14 victory in the second annual American Football League All-Star game—then said it was his final game.

The 35-year-old quarterback relieved Len Dawson of Dallas in the final quarter with the score 14-14. He cranked up the faltering West players and guided them 89 yards in seven plays to the winning touchdown.

The score was set up on a 49-yard toss to Tripucka's Denver Broncos teammate Leland Taylor. The same Tripucka-Taylor combination worked on a 20-yarder two plays later for the touchdown.

A crowd of more than 27,000 fans at Balboa Stadium watched the West jump off to a 14-0 half-time lead.

West scores came on a 64-yard run by Curtis McClinton of Dallas and an 11-yard pass play from Dawson to San Diego end Dave Kocourek.

McClinton, AFL rookie of the year, was also named outstanding back of the game. The 230-pound fullback was the leading rusher with 92 yards.

The sputtering East offense—plagued by five intercepted passes—caught hold late in the third period. Quarterback George Blanda of Houston used only four plays to move the Easterners 68 yards to a score.

Tripucka took the helm at the start of the final period. He threw two incomplete passes during his first series of downs. After an exchange of punts he got another chance.

This time the former Notre Dame star was on target with his next four passes—including the one that won the game.

Tripucka told newsmen it was his final game.

"It would take a fantastic amount of money to get me back next year," he said. The 14-year performer in two United States and one Canadian League said he plans to retire and manage his store in Bloomfield, N.J.

West defensive end Earl Faison of San Diego was named outstanding lineman of the game.

North Dakota Hands Gopher Six 3-2 Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The balance of power in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association has shifted to the west this season.

Last year, Michigan Tech won the championship and Michigan was close behind—with nobody else close. Denver was third; five games off Tech's pace, and North Dakota was a distant fifth.

That was last year. Today, North Dakota and Denver share the WCHA lead, each with a .750 winning percentage, and both look like they plan to stay right where they are.

North Dakota's Sioux swept past Minnesota 6-4 and 3-2 over the weekend to bolster their stock tremendously. It is unlikely any other conference team can perform that feat this year in the Gophers' own backyard. The Sioux raised their league record to 4-1-1.

Denver bested Colorado College twice, 8-7 and 6-1, to up its WCHA mark to 6-2-0.

They'll remain tied through this weekend, because neither of the leaders has a conference game this week. Then the following weekend, Jan. 25-26, they meet at Grand Forks, N.D., in a showdown for the leadership. The Sioux host the St. Boniface Canadians Thursday.

In other weekend activity, Michigan Tech swept Michigan 5-1 and 4-3, while Minnesota Duluth and Michigan State split the Spartans winning 5-4 and the Bulldogs coming back to claim a 4-3 triumph Saturday.

Minnesota topped all the way to fifth place in the double loss to North Dakota. The Gophers, who host Tech this weekend in two games, are now 2-3-1 in WCHA play.

North Dakota clipped the Gophers Saturday night, 3-2 on Pete Stasiuk's goal with three minutes left in the game. It was Stasiuk's first goal of the year. Al McLean got the other two Sioux goals, while Craig Falkman and Gary Schmalzbauer counted for Minnesota.

Duluth's star was goalie Tom Deluca, who made 52 stops—28 of them in the final period. Mike Tok hit the Bulldogs' winning goal, Duluth is now 3-4-1 for the season and plays at Denver Thursday and Friday and at Colorado College Saturday.

Spaulding Rink Wins in Bonspiel

CENTERVILLE, Wis. (Special)—Thirty-seven rinks competed in the annual Centerville Men's Bonspiel which wound up a four-day affair Sunday.

Represented were Mankato, St. Paul and Mapleton, Minn., and La Crosse, Galesville and Centerville, Wis.

Play was on the Galesville and Centerville ice with finals at Centerville Sunday.

The Allen Spaulding rink of Centerville won the first event. Defending champion Robert DeLaney of La Crosse was defeated in the first draw Thursday night. Norval Bortle was the winning skip.

Second was Vern Vleet rink of Centerville, followed by Bohin, Galesville, and French, Galesville. The Richard Peterson rink of La Crosse won the second event, followed by Bert Trimm, Galesville; Haug, Galesville; and Laird Hunter, Centerville. Hunter was bonspiel chairman.

Taking the third event was the LeRoy Howell rink of Centerville followed by Stenberg, La Crosse; Dunlop, St. Paul, and Harlan Hunter, Galesville.

A banquet was served Saturday to 200 persons at the Centerville town hall.

Dazzling Putt On 18th Wins For Player

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Golf star Gary Player is a positive thinker and proud of it.

So today, as the American PGA Champion from South Africa led the golfing romads to the uncertainties of the Bing Crosby tournament at Pebble Beach, he could reflect on a putt he sank. It won the $25,000 San Diego Open Sunday.

The putt measured 18 feet from the edge of the 18th green and Gary had to make it or go into a sudden death playoff with Tony Lema.

"You know," Gary said later, "I had a feeling I was going to make the putt. I had hit about five real solid putts which just missed the hole."

"I told myself I was due for one. That last one made up for all the ones I missed."

Player collected $3,500 for his rounds of 65-68-70-70-270 and missed Mike Souchak's tournament record by one stroke.

He won by one stroke over Lema, with Bill Casper Jr. and Charlie Sifford tied for third at 272.

Wills Honored As Athlete of Year in Poll

NEW YORK (AP)—If all the awards received by Maury Wills this fall were lined up side by side they probably would match the 104 bases the fleetfooted Los Angeles star stole last season.

The latest—and most important—to Wills—is the Athlete of the Year for 1962 award which was voted him by a wide margin Saturday in the annual Associated Press poll.

"I've received many awards," said Wills today, "but this is perhaps the daddy of 'em all. I'm real happy about the honor."

"Everyone has been wonderful to me," said Wills. "My main aim now on is to try and make myself worthy of all these honors. I have been trying to do it and I can pay back all these nice people."

Wills captured 72 first place votes and 338 points on a 3-2-1 basis from a national panel of 302 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll.

Gofer Jack Nicklaus was second with 28 first place votes and 208 points. Y.A. Title of the New York Football Giants, golfer Arnold Palmer, Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers, and quarterback Terry Baker of the University of Southern California rounded out the first six.

Jefferson Wins Fourth in Row

Jefferson posted his fourth straight win in the heavyweight division of the Winona Junior High basketball league by stopping Central Blues 39-20.

Todd Spencer and John Ahrens each scored 13 for the winners. Doug Emanuel had 10 for the losers.

Central Blues beat Phelps 34-33 behind Paul Plachecki's 14 and John Walski's 11. Don Hazelton had 16 for Phelps.

Three State Matmen Own Clean Marks

Three Winona State College wrestlers will seek to extend undefeated strings tonight when the Warriors meet Bemidji State at 7 o'clock at Memorial Hall.

The meet is the Warriors' first home test under Bob Gunner, new mat coach, and marks their second NSCC dual. They whipped Michigan Tech Saturday 21-3.

Pat Flaherty, 177 pounds, goes after his eighth straight win. Leo Simon, 167, and Dave Moracco, 147, shoot for their fourth straight. Simon registered four of his victories in a tournament at the State College of Iowa. The latter two did not compete in that meet.

Bemidji, considered a strong team, is bulwarked by 167-pound Bailey, NSCC champion two years ago and runnerup last season, and Hanlin, a 157-pounder, conference runnerup last year.

Gunner named these boys to wrestle in the other weights: 123—Larry Marchand; 130—Larry Willis; 137—Gordy Machiancho; 157—George Burnickie; and heavyweight, Al Mausner.

Dick Bell's 544 Tops Prep Loop

Dick Bell, newest and fastest-growing member of Winona's bowling Bell family, rocketed a 544 series Saturday in the Senior High League at Hal-Rod Lanes.

Bell had a 190 single game in his effort to lead Pin Smashers to 750-2,184 four-man totals. Dave Bernadot had a 504 series.

In the Westgate Bowl Junior League, Bill Vogel notched 205 in a 505 series as Strikers rapped 705-1,945.

Carole Helgemoe hit 156-396 to lead the Winhawks to 652-1,909 in the Westgate Girls Junior League.

Patty Weigel shot 448 to pace the Hal-Rod Senior High Girls loop. Martha Heise's 178 led Pin ups to 673-1,777.

Report Collier To Cleveland

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Blanton Collier was offered the job as head coach of the Cleveland Browns Sunday and is leaning toward acceptance, the Louisville Courier-Journal quoted a reliable source as saying.

The newspaper added that Paul Brown, fired as Browns' head coach last week, "is reported" to be going to the U.S. Naval Academy as head coach to succeed Wayne Hardin, whom the newspaper said reportedly is going to Stanford to replace the ousted Jack Curtice.

Collier, a Browns' assistant coach, returned to the professional team last year after his contract was bought up by the University of Kentucky, where he was head coach eight years.
