Asian Flu Sweeps Eastern Seaboard, Jumps Inland

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—A shock wave of Asian flu—a wintry friend of death—is hitting the Eastern Seaboard and leaping inland as far as Kansas. U.S. Public Health Service officials can't say for sure, but the odds are it will spread in local outbreaks across the country.

In a sampling of 108 cities, the Public Health Service reports that pneumonia-influenza deaths have been running over the epidemic threshold for four weeks. Especially vulnerable are the elderly, the chronically ill and pregnant women. Asian flu has been confirmed in Maryland, Kansas, Illinois, North Carolina and the District of Columbia. It is suspected strongly but not yet confirmed in Vermont, Maine, Delaware, Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia. Confirmation is made by laboratory tests of blood specimens from victims to detect the high level of protective antibodies against the virus, and by spotting the virus in throat swabs. The Public Health Service warned earlier this year that following the normal cycle Asian flu likely would strike the nation hard this winter. For a while it looked as though the warning was wrong. Then, in mid-January, the pattern of Asian flu appeared. Now it is expected to stay until mid-March when it generally declines.

Asian influenza is one of the "A" type influenza viruses which seem to strike every two or three years. It was first seen in the winter of 1957-58. There was some forewarning when it was identified in Japan and named. Vaccines were hurriedly made against the virus and distributed widely across the United States. Officials believe that the vaccines took the top off of the epidemic that year—but it still was of great proportions. A wave of the disease in the fall of 1957 was associated with 39,300 excess deaths above the normal death rate. The winter has left 20,000 excess deaths.

It struck the United States again in 1960 and there were 26,700 excess deaths. From those epidemics experts have determined that people over 45 are in the risk category—with those over 65 in the area of greatest risk.

Somewhat Asian flu leaves the body vulnerable to pneumonia—generally, bacteria-caused pneumonia. That seems to account for about one-third the excess deaths. Two-thirds of the excess deaths seem to occur among those with chronic conditions—and largely among persons with heart conditions and circulatory and kidney disorders.

In its weekly summary of disease and death incidence, the Public Health Service reported on some of the 10 states and the District of Columbia where flu or flu-like outbreaks have been noted.

MARYLAND—Influenza in Baltimore continues to be epidemic, but the peak may be passed. The Baltimore Police department had over 300 absenteees from a force of 3,740 men in January.

GEORGIA—An outbreak of an acute disease involving fever and respiratory symptoms began at the University of Georgia around Jan. 22-24. The epidemic reached its height some six days later with 150 new cases reported each day.

VIRGINIA—Thirty-nine of Virginia's 97 counties reported outbreaks of influenza-like disease for the week ending Feb. 2. There were 4,335 cases that week, against 1,000 for the previous week. School absentee rates as high as 50 per cent are reported from several rural counties bordering North Carolina.

NORTH CAROLINA—Epidemic influenza has continued to spread and most of the state is involved.

SOUTH CAROLINA—From the North Carolina border area there are reports of increased school absenteeism due to an acute disease involving fever and respiratory symptoms. State health officials are running laboratory tests to track down the respiratory ailment that has taken more than 13 lives.

VERMONT—Suspicious flu-like symptoms have been reported.

MAINE—In late January a similar illness was reported at Colby College. There is no evidence of spread outside the school.

Bob Kennedy Joins 50-Mile U.S. Walkers

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a vigorous weekend on the New Frontier. President Kennedy took his wife on three short hikes and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy walked 50 miles in 17 hours—all in the cause of physical fitness.

Ethel Kennedy, the attorney general's wife, added to the aura of vitality by declaring she'd welcome twins to the busy routine of her family of seven. But Ethel, who is expecting her eighth child in June, added there is no medical evidence to indicate twins are in the offing.

The one discordant note was sounded by Joan Kennedy, wife of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. Joan wrote in Look magazine that the President, because of persistent back trouble, can barely pick up his 2-year-old son, Jr.

Reporting that young John now weighs about 35 pounds, the White House said "the President's back is improving but his son is getting heavier." If President Kennedy's back is slowing him down, this wasn't evident Sunday during his three walks with the first lady.

Kennedy set such a brisk pace that it almost seemed he was training for a 50-mile hike of his own.

Fifty miles became a magic number on the New Frontier after Kennedy learned about a 1908 executive order in which President Theodore Roosevelt proclaimed this distance an appropriate fitness test for Marine officers.

At the President's suggestion, 20 Marines will take the Roosevelt test at Camp Lejeune Tuesday. On Friday, volunteers from the White House staff and press corps will embark on a similar expedition.

Robert Kennedy jumped the gun on these endeavors Saturday by walking 50 miles from Washington toward Thurmont, Md. The 37-year-old attorney general was accompanied by four aides who faltered before the finish line.

The attorney general reached his destination at 11 p.m., attended a 9 a.m. Roman Catholic Mass the next morning, and then went ice skating.

President Kennedy and the first lady started their walking binge in New York, where they spent a weekend of theater-going, fancy eating and partying.

After attending a 12:30 p.m. Mass in uptown Manhattan, the Kennedys and her sister, Lee Radziwill, hiked three blocks down Park Avenue to a fashionable French restaurant, Voisin. Lee had to trot at one point to keep up.

The President had a training-table portion of steak at the restaurant and Mrs. Kennedy dined on eggs benedict. Then the threesome set out again, this time walking five blocks up Park Avenue.

$2 Million Ransom Cargo Arrives in Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—The American freighter Santo Cerro steamed into Havana harbor Sunday with a $2-million ransom cargo of medicines.

Three American Red Cross officials aboard the freighter supervised the unloading of the third major installment payment to Fidel Castro for releasing the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners.

May Be in Cuba

Still No Word Of Missing Ship

NEW YORK (AP)—The mystery of the disappearance of the sulphur-carrying tanker Marine Sulphur Queen continued to deepen over the weekend.

The 524-foot ship sank in the severe Atlantic storm that lashed the southeast coast with 40 m.p.h. winds, churning up 14-foot waves. Are the tanker and her crew of 39 in Cuba? If so, was she hijacked or did she become disabled and drift into Cuban waters?

Six search planes were ordered to scan the southeast Atlantic from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to Fort Pierce, Fla., covering an area roughly 250 miles offshore. The Coast Guard cutter Sweetgum, last reported 200 miles off Jacksonville, Fla., also was ordered to take part. Sunday 13 planes searched the area between Fort Pierce and Norfolk, Va., where the Sulphur Queen was scheduled to arrive last Thursday.

A report from one aircraft of a yellowish substance in the ocean about 100 miles east of St. Augustine, Fla., sent a small Navy ship, the USS Hoist, to the scene. The Hoist reported the yellow substance was floating seaward.

The Coast Guard reported Sunday it is investigating the possibility that the Sulphur Queen is in Cuba. A spokesman said that the probe concerned the possibility of a hijacking, but then said the ship might have drifted into Cuban waters.

Other Coast Guard sources said the Swiss Embassy in Havana, on a request from the U.S. State Department, presumably is trying to check out speculation that the Marine Transport Lines tanker is in Cuba.

The Sulphur Queen left Beaumont, Tex., Feb. 2. Its course through the Gulf of Mexico would not have been too far from Cuban waters.

Although her route would have taken her through regular sea lanes, no other vessel definitely has reported sighting her.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Attorneys for 18 Minnesota banks, a holding company and a clearing house today entered pleas of innocent to charges by the federal government that they fixed banking rates and committed other alleged violations of antitrust law.

The pleas came at the firms' arraignments before Judge Edward J. Devitt in Minneapolis Federal Court.

The charges had been brought by the government last week in indictments returned by a federal grand jury. They are the first criminal cases ever brought against commercial banks under the federal antitrust laws.

The government today also filed civil cases in St. Paul and Duluth asking the courts to restrain the companies from engaging in the alleged illegal acts. A similar case was filed in Minneapolis Federal Court Friday.

Judge Devitt gave the defendants until March 14 to reply. Four Minneapolis banks, four St. Paul banks, two Duluth banks, and one South St. Paul bank are accused of illegally conspiring since 1957 to fix loan terms and interest rates to their correspondent banks in smaller communities.

Seven St. Paul banks and the First Bank Stock Corporation of St. Paul, a large holding firm, are charged with illegally conspiring since 1957 to fix bank checking account and other service charges.

Four Duluth banks and the Duluth Clearing House Association are accused of illegally conspiring since 1957 to fix artificially high interest rates for loans.

All of the firms were represented in court by their attorneys and high company officials.

Miles Lord, U.S. Attorney for Minnesota, represented the government and, in turn, asked each of the attorneys for the firms to admit receipt of summons and enter their companies' pleas.

5 Deaths Laid To Slippery Highways

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California went more than 300 days without a real storm. Then, with thunder, lightning, torrents of rain and snow in the mountains, it got one which:

Caused five traffic deaths Sunday on rain-slick roads and freeways.

Brought up to 8 inches of rain in suburban foothills.

Flooded hundreds of intersections and temporarily blocked many major arteries.

Sent angry seas surging against the beaches. At Venice the sea devoured the 100-foot-wide strand and undermined a parking lot beyond. "The beach is gone," a lifeguard dispatcher said.

In Glendale a wire-mesh check dam failed in a steep canyon and a tide of mud and debris spilled across streets and lawns. Police said 50 cars were trapped in the mud.

Water ran knee-deep in scores of homes in the low-lying southern part of Los Angeles, and sheriff's deputies used boats to evacuate many. The Red Cross put a number of the families in hotels.

The storm was fiercest in the southern part of the state, although 8 of an inch fell at San Francisco. Two weekend traffic fatalities were blamed on the storm in the Northern California area.

The rain was expected to ease off into light showers and sprinkles in most of Los Angeles today, although it was still raining in the southern counties. Another storm is moving in from the Pacific and the forecaster predicted heavy rains again Tuesday.

Los Angeles has had 2.58 inches of rain, along the beaches there was more than 4 inches, and it was even greater in the hills. Snow fell above 5,000 feet.

Winter sports fans were jubilant. It was the first snow of the winter, and 12 inches fell at Mt. Baldy, east of Los Angeles, and 18 inches at Big Bear Lake, to the northeast.

Farmers were happy, too, although the heaviest rain fell in coastal areas, where agricultural acreage is least. In the Antelope Valley on the edge of the Mojave Desert, where ranchers needed rain urgently, only half an inch fell.

Snow and rain covered broad sections in the eastern half of the nation and in some other western areas.

Another surge of arctic air moved southward through the central part of the country. Temperatures dropped to near zero in parts of the northern Plains and the eastern slopes of the northern Rockies. Freezing weather advanced into northern Texas.

Light snow continued over most areas from the upper Mississippi Valley eastward through the Great Lakes region and most of Pennsylvania and southward into northern sections of the Ohio Valley.

More rain splashed Tennessee, Mississippi and northwestern Alabama, while thunderstorms rumbled across northwest Florida. Rain changed to snow in parts of northern Arkansas and northwestern Tennessee with the arrival of colder air.

AFTER 50 MILES . . . Four weary Dubuque, Iowa, Boy Scouts waded to a crowd from atop a car after completing a 50-mile hike Saturday. On top of car are Bobbie Hoffman, 14; Dave Beck, 14. Three Strikers Killed in Canadian Clash KAPUSKASING, Ont. (AP)—A smoldering feud between striking lumber workers and independent loggers erupted in gunfire today. Police said three strikers were killed and nine wounded.

The gunplay came without warning at Heesbrook, 20 miles west of here. Nineteen independent loggers were arrested and 10 rifles, two shotguns and a revolver were seized.

Police said the trouble began when about 500 members of striking Local 2895 of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union approached a pile of pulpwood cut by the independents. The wood was to be delivered to the Spruce Falls Power & Paper Co., struck by the union Jan. 14.

Staff Inspector Ralph Taylor said about 12 police tried to hold back the strikers but were brushed aside.

Then the settlers—the independent loggers—opened fire with rifles and shotguns, he said. "We didn't know they had guns. We never expected anything like this."

Taylor said the strikers were not armed. Threats of violence have hung over the area since the strike began.

A special unit of 25 police officers has been patrolling the district.

The union woodcutters and haulers from eight camps have been running roads in the area, and spokesmen for the Spruce Falls firm have charged they were terrorizing the small operators.

Everybody Getting Into Hiking Act

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Marine, an Army ROTC cadet and five Boy Scouts, trudged Wisconsin highways during the weekend over the 50-mile distance inspired by President Kennedy's physical fitness challenge. And two men from La Crosse were trying to get into the act today.

Bill Mann and Don Lewis, both 29 years old, set out at 6 a.m. today on what they hoped would be a 50-mile jaunt. Their route consisted of 25 miles to Galesville in Trempealeau County and returned.

The Boy Scouts from Dubuque, Ill., started the procession Saturday. The five boys walked from Dodgeville, Wis., to Dubuque, 50 miles, in a little over 13 hours, outlasting several adult leaders who tried to keep up.

Then a Marine from Milwaukee, Capt. Samuel J. Marfia, 33, joined the hunkin' derby. Starting Saturday afternoon from the steps of the State Capitol in Madison, he hiked 50.3 miles across southern Wisconsin in 14 hours and 54 minutes. He stopped at 3:35 a.m. Sunday at the intersection of Highway 30 and 183 in Waubesa County. En route, he took out 41 minutes to rest.

Not to be outdone by a Marine, two Army ROTC cadets from Marquette University set out Sunday morning on a matching walk-athon. Only one completed the prescribed 50 miles, however.

Heading west on U.S. Highway 30, Charles Littman, 22, and Anthony Rozga, 20, began their trek at the Safety Building in downtown Milwaukee. They were paced over the snowy road by Littman's father, driving his car.

Both of the cadets suffered leg cramps. Rozga's became so severe that he was forced to halt after 40 miles. But Littman continued until the speedometer on his dad's car showed 50.5 miles. That took him to the bridge over the Crawfish River between Johnson Creek and Lake Mills.

"I had a cramp, too," said Littman, "but as long as I kept moving it wasn't too bad. But Tony's was real rough. I've got classes today but, man, I'm tired and I might not make them all."

All of the walking was the result of the President's challenge to the Marines to measure up to the standards set by President Teddy Roosevelt in 1908 when he said Marine officers should be able to hike 50 miles in 20 hours over a three-day period.

County Tax Delinquency Up Slightly

Winona County's annual tax delinquency rate was 1.086 percent of the 1961 levy of personal and real estate taxes payable in 1962, a slight increase from the previous year's rate of 1.081.

This was announced by Mrs. Teresa M. Curbow, county treasurer. The total 1961 levy was $4,839,178 with an unpaid balance of $52,574.57. Of this total, Winona city's levy was $3,200,523 with an unpaid balance of $28,093 or .877 percent. The rural part of the county had a levy of $1,638,655 with an unpaid balance of $24,480 or 1.493 percent.

THE PREVIOUS year's total levy (1960 taxes payable in 1961) was $4,529,663 with delinquency of $49,007. Of this total, the city levy was $3,025,129 with delinquency of $28,021 or .924 percent. The rural levy was $1,504,534 with delinquency of $20,986 or 1.394 percent.

A comparison of the two years shows that the total county delinquency rate rose slightly for taxes payable in 1962, while the city rate declined and the rural rate rose.

Two municipalities had no delinquency—Hart Township and Minneapolis village.

Stockton village had the highest delinquency rate among cities, villages and townships—6.67 percent, delinquency $839 unpaid of a total levy of $12,570. The lowest rate was 12.10 percent in Fremont Township ($100 unpaid of a total levy of $81,580).

MRS. CURBOW said 1961 taxes payable in 1962 have been delinquent at an 8 percent penalty after last Oct. 31. Starting Jan. 7 the penalty jumped to 10 percent. The treasurer plans to start mailing tax statements in March for 1962 taxes payable in 1963. Personal property taxes must be paid by Feb. 28. An 8 percent penalty starts after that date. If your personal property tax is at least $10, you can pay the first half by this deadline. The second half is due by June 30.

The first half of real estate taxes is due by May 31 and the second half by Oct. 31.

Following is a detailed report (cents omitted) of delinquency for 1961 taxes payable in 1962 by township, village and city:

STOUT GUARDRAIL POST — Buffalo County Traffic Officer Henry Zeichert examines a car which struck a guardrail post off Highway 35. (Daily News photo)

Car Hits Post Off Highway 35; Driver Injured

The driver of a car which went out of control on the slippery highway near Bluff siding and struck a post was X-rayed at Community Memorial Hospital, Winona, this morning for a possible back fracture.

Bernard Placchetti, 32, 461 St. Charles St., Winona, was en route to Galesville on Highway 35 when his vehicle swerved left into the shallow ditch. In trying to right his car, he lost control on the concrete, made slippery by intermittent snow, and struck a guardrail post. That prevented the car from sliding down onto the Chicago & North Western Railway tracks.

Placchetti told officers he was struck from the rear by another car, causing the accident. The vehicle was out of control about 300 feet, according to Henry Zeichert, Buffalo County traffic officer. The accident happened Sunday at 3:40 p.m. about 2 1/2 miles east of the Y. Placchetti was proceeding east toward Galesville to watch his father, Paul, and brother, Paul Jr., who were participating in a bowling tournament.

Winona Police Officer James L. Brook was first officer at the scene, remaining until the arrival of Zeichert. Placchetti was moved to the hospital by ambulance. He was admitted at 5:15 p.m. He had chest bruises and complained of back pain.

Zeichert estimated damage to his car at about $350.

Police Charge Crash Driver

Two traffic accidents occurred in Winona Sunday morning, according to police. One involved a car hitting a guardrail on the interstate bridge, the other was a bus-pickup truck collision.

John Prosser, 113 1/2 E. Sarnia St., was driving south across the interstate bridge when his car struck a guardrail about 600 feet north of 4th Street at 1:19 a.m., said police.

After hitting the guard rail, the car skidded sideways for 122 feet and straightened out facing south again, police said. Prosser told police that he was trying to avoid another car, causing him to strike the railing.

Neither Prosser nor his wife, a passenger, was hurt. Damage to the car was more than $200 and damage to the guardrail was about $150.

Prosser was charged with careless driving and forfeited $30 bail in municipal court today.

Vernon P. Holtz, Sr., 1516 W. Howard St., was driving a Winona Transit Co. bus east on Sarnia Street and Alvin R. Johnson, 23, 462 St. Charles St., was driving the pickup south on St. Charles Street.

The bus and the pickup collided in the intersection, said police. There were two passengers in the bus, they said. No one was injured.

Damage was more than $200 to each vehicle. No citations were issued.

School Children Get Forms for Oral Vaccine

Pre-registration forms for next Sunday's mass polio clinic are being distributed today to city school children by the public health nursing service.

Explanatory letters are being sent with the forms urging parents to have all family members immunized at the clinic. Sabin oral vaccine will be administered Sunday at Jefferson, Washington-Roosevelt and Central Elementary schools. The clinic is open to the Winona trading area public.

School children outside the city are receiving forms from the county nursing service.

Sponsoring the clinic is the Winona County Medical Society which is being assisted by nursing volunteers from the area and from the Community Memorial Hospital staff. Mrs. Mary Crane, city public health nursing head, said nurses wishing to volunteer services may do so by calling her City Hall office.

The clinic's sponsors hope to give the vaccine to all pre-school and school children in the area. This group has been shown by statistics to be the most likely to contract the disease, the medical society said.

Two more clinics will be held at approximately six-week intervals. For complete immunity to all three major strains of polio it is necessary to attend all three clinics, physicians said. A 25-cent donation being asked for each person receiving the vaccine.

Federal agencies will officially observe the birthday of the man who fathered the Union but not that of the man who saved it. Employees of federal branches will keep regular hours Tuesday but will have a holiday on Washington's birthday, Friday of next week.

Sheriff Checks Depot Breakin Lake City Crash Driver Charged; One in Hospital

Someone broke into the Chicago & North Western Railway depot at Minnesota City between Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, Sheriff George Fort reported today.

The inside of the depot was ransacked and most of the windows were broken, he said. "The stove was tipped over, papers were thrown all over the place and drawers and chairs were thrown and broken."

The depot was entered by kicking in the front door, he said. The depot is used about two hours every day. Nothing was taken, but quite a bit of damage was done.

The office at Winona Ready Mixed Concrete, 5775 6th St., Goodview, also was broken into, said the sheriff. The entry occurred sometime between Sunday and this morning.

"The office was heated and someone may have just wanted to get out of the cold," said Fort. Nothing was taken and nothing was disturbed inside the office.

BLAIR FISHERMEN fail to capture Wily 'Old Henry'.

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Old Henry, a taggart northern pike for which a special $25 prize has been offered, spurned the lures of more than 300 fishermen who competed in Sunday's fifth annual ice fishing contest on Lake Henry, sponsored by the Blair Lions Club.

The contest was in progress from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. with all proceeds to be used by the club to help finance construction of a shelter house at Riverside Memorial Park here.

Winner of the 7 1/2-horsepower outboard motor for catching the largest game fish was Peter Karlinsky, Blair, while David Severson, Galesville, Wis., was awarded a transistor radio for the largest panfish.

Car Goes Off Highway 44; Man Critical

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — A 29-year-old Canton businessman who also drives a semi for Retiring Service, Inc., Winona, remains in critical condition today at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, following a traffic accident.

Lowell Ladsten, proprietor of Sportsmen's Bar and Restaurant, Canton, apparently was en route home when he lost control on a slight curve on Highway 44 about two miles south of Caledonia and careened into the right ditch. His vehicle traveled 260 feet before coming to a stop on its wheels. Part of that distance was in the air, officers concluded.

THE CAR left the highway about 2 1/2 miles east of the intersection with the Elzen road.

The accident happened at 2:15 a.m. Sunday when it was snowing lightly. The Highway Patrol, Caledonia, and the sheriff's department received a call five or 10 minutes later. Lenzie Turmeyer and Gerald Nelson discovered the wrecked car. Ladsten was lying a little to the front and right of the car. His passenger, John Konkil, 19, Caledonia, still was in the vehicle.

The car traveled several feet along the ditch. Then it rolled sideways and ended over. For 35 feet there were no signs in the snow, indicating that it had hurtled through the air. It hit a service road to a field and again went through the air a short distance before landing on its wheels, officers said.

Unconscious when found, Ladsten received a fracture of the jaw, concussion, compound fracture of the left arm and multiple facial wounds. He was taken to Caledonia Community Hospital and transferred to Rochester.

Konkil was treated for a bad cut at the hairline of his forehead, and released from the Caledonia hospital Sunday forenoon.

MRS. LADSTEN is in Rochester with her husband. Their children are being cared for by a neighbor. Ladsten is a son of Mrs. Betty Ladsten, a daughter of the late Ladsten, Mabel, and his wife is formerly of Caledonia.

Ladsten had been seen in Caledonia earlier Saturday evening, officers said.

There were seat belts in the car, but neither was in use, the Highway Patrol said.

Winona 'Mounties' Catch Young Thief

Winona police turned "Indiana trackers" to capture a juvenile burglar who had burglarized the Westgate Bowl near Clark's Lane and Highway 14-61 early Sunday morning.

Police tracked the 13-year-old Winona boy about 2 1/2 miles, arriving at the boy's home just as he was shutting off his lights and going to bed, said Chief of Police George Savord.

ONE OF two patrolmen followed the boy's footprints in the snow while the other drove the squad car. They switched off, trading positions when one became tired of running. The boy tried to elude the police by walking in old tire tracks, said Savord.

The patrolmen had found the window of a door on the west side of the bowling alley broken at 3:40 a.m. and noticed that the tracks leading from the building were fresh, so they started in hot pursuit.

They had checked the building about one hour before and had found nothing at that time, said Savord. The building was closed about 3:30 a.m.

Police followed the footprints to a home in a residential area of the city and saw the lights turned off. They entered the home and found the boy in bed. He denied any connection with the burglary.

POLICE investigated further and found snow on the boy's overshoes, then found a bank money bag with papers or receipts inside in the boy's room. They took the boy into custody and to the city jail.

It was found that approximately $150 was taken from the office at the bowling alley. Entrance to the office had been gained by kicking up the locked office door, said police.

Later Sunday morning the boy admitted the burglary while being questioned by a juvenile officer. The boy told where he had hidden the money and officers found $179.90 there.

The boy will be turned over to juvenile authorities, said Savord.

Senate Will Check Work of State Lawyers

ST. PAUL (AP) — Sen. John Swach, majority leader of the Senate, said today the Senate will undertake a careful check of the relationship between assistant attorneys general and the department they serve.

"I am satisfied that any attorney put into a department answerable to the attorney general and not to the department head will create a bad situation," he said.

The situation was brought to attention by the dispute between Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale and Highway Commissioner James Marshall.

Marshall has described Mondale's office as overstuffed and overpaid. Mondale has retorted that the reverse is true.

"The Senate will check into the situation," Sen. Swach said today, "and if it is too bad we must take steps to correct it."

"The trouble is not only in the highway departments," Committees both in the Senate and House are scheduled to begin inquiries into the problem this week.

Sen. Swach, speaking generally, said he was very pleased with the progress of the legislature this far.

"I don't think a legislature was ever in better shape at this stage," he said. "We are getting along well despite having a day-to-day governor."

"Committees are moving at full speed to handle the bills referred to them."

The Walnut Grove Senator said his only concern was for delays resulting from liberal treaties regarding appointments. Each attempt to deal with an appointment in the Senate has resulted in a long debate.

"Maybe these debates have not yet reached the state where they would be called a filibuster," said Sen. Swach, "but if this keeps on they will."

He said he expects this week will see the end of what he called an historic dispute growing out of the efforts of osteopaths to win the right to practice medicine in Minnesota.

"I believe the Senate this week will pass the compromise bill ending many years of legislative effort," he said.

The measure, which has moved in the point of passage in the Senate without opposition, would permit osteopaths to practice general medicine if they pass the same examinations required of doctors of medicine. The measure also has a provision for appointment of osteopaths to the State Board of Medical Examiners.

One of the special joys of driving a Chevrolet is the vitality of the car itself. Even when you're soft-pedaling it, in no special hurry to get anywhere in particular, the feeling is unmistakably there. Comes a hill, a slow moving truck you want to pass or a real chips-down emergency—you've got surefired reserve power that gives you an extra margin of safety. A choice of engines with up to 425 horsepower sees to that. Short-stroke advanced-design engines that respond with smooth free-breathing efficiency unknown in the auto industry a few brief years ago. And coupled with that power is the kind of precise even-keel handling that puts you in complete control every self-assured instant you're at the wheel. Where do you get your hands on that wheel? Lincoln's Noble Aim: Unity of Our Country

PERHAPS NEVER since Abraham Lincoln was forced by an assassin's bullet to leave the scene of his heroic work in restoring the unity of our country, have Americans stood in greater need to pursue the aim he stated so simply and nobly at Gettysburg:

"It is for us... to be dedicated here to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion. . . that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

We celebrate the 154th anniversary of Lincoln's birth Tuesday. We do so in an atmosphere of universal doubt and fear that the conflict between tyranny and freedom is in delicate balance, that we may be called again to defend humanity from despotism.

LINCOLN REFERRED to a civil war within one nation. Today this same nation is the bastion of liberty in a civil war that encompasses the whole world.

The enemy now takes on many forms, names and disguises. He is not bound by the chivalrous rules of honorable war, but prefers the devices of treason, brainwashing, espionage and artful propaganda. He observes no scruples nor principles, he wants only to rule, no matter by what means.

Since Lincoln's time, our country has made untold contributions to the cause of freedom: In lives, suffering and substance.

AMERICA SURVIVED these trials because it was united. Regardless of political, social or material considerations, it met the challenge as one people with one will.

In the turmoil of crises, alarms, clashing philosophies and ulterior motives, it is only natural that America may seem at times to have lost the united resolution that twice saved the world from brutal despotism.

But when the naked issues confronted the American people, the increased devotion of which Lincoln spoke arose unhesitatingly to the task.

We should not need that extremity to stimulate a new sense of unity between Americans.

IT SHOULD BE made crystal clear to the enemies of liberty at once, not only by asserting the right to differ from each other but by affirming the "new birth of freedom" that arises from "government of the people, by the people and for the people"—of the entire world.

Lincoln Never Said That

IT NOW APPEARS that Lincoln never said "You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift."

But he did say on March 21, 1864: "Prosperity is the fruit of labor—is desirable—is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich, shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise."

Lincoln didn't say: "You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong."

THE MARTYRED President's version was in 1854: "We proposed to give all a chance; and we expected the weak to grow stronger; the ignorant wiser; and all better, and happier together." And in 1861, Lincoln said: "Capital has its rights, which are as worthy of protection as any other rights."

Another quotation erroneously attributed to Lincoln: "You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

But Lincoln really said in 1854: "The legitimate object of government is to do for the people what needs to be done, but which they can not, by individual effort do at all, or do so well, for themselves."

THERE ARE MANY other widely circulated but spurious quotations credited to Abraham Lincoln. They do bear some resemblance to his expressed sentiments.

It is reported from Florence, Italy, that the "kangaroo look" is the new fashion. The thought of it gives us the jumps.

My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments; for length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee. Prov. 3:1, 2.

HOW DO YOU STAND, SIR?

Exiles Charge U.S. 'Reneged'

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

Dozens of telegrams, letters and telephone calls have come to me from Cuban exiles living in this country since I called for an investigation of the Bay of Pigs invasion attempt. Many of them were from men who participated in the abortive invasion attempt in April of 1961. Many others were from persons in positions to know what the understanding was among the Cubans prior to the invasion.

These people all insist that the United States promised air and naval support for the invading force. Some of those who took part insisted that they wouldn't have dreamed of going ashore on Castro's Cuban bastion if they hadn't expected this kind of support.

Now against this, we have statements by President Kennedy and his brother, the Attorney General, claiming that no air support was ever planned or promised for the invasion attempt at the Bay of Pigs. The President explains that the United States might as well have gone ahead and conducted the whole invasion with American forces if it was going to supply United States air support.

In his account, the Attorney General claims that the invasion plans — without provision for air cover — were approved by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Central Intelligence Agency as well as the President.

THIS CONTENTION brings up what I believe is one of the most important reasons why a thorough-going investigation of the Bay of Pigs fiasco is needed right away. It is that the Congress and the people of the United States must find out once and for all just how much influence inexperienced civilian officials are wielding in military matters which affect the security of the United States and the cause of freedom throughout the world.

I say very frankly that the plan for the invasion of Cuba — as described by the Attorney General — looks exclusively like the work of some civilian strategists who have never faced up to the realities of a rigid military situation. It certainly looks like the last type of military operation that would ever gain the approval of men who drew their experience from World War II or the Korean War.

WHY IS IT, for example, that in 1961 the administration thought we could invade Cuba with 1,500 men without benefit of air cover or naval support, but in 1962, when it was thought we might have to invade Cuba to force removal of Russian missiles, a force of more than 300,000 men and every kind of air and naval support possible was mobilized?

It is true that in the interim the Castro government had obtained heavy supplies and manpower from the Soviet bloc nations. But he certainly didn't receive enough to make this kind of a difference in our plans for invasion.

Regardless of what was planned by the United States in connection with the Bay of Pigs operation, it is fully apparent that many of the men who engaged in that disastrous adventure — men who died or suffered through imprisonment — thought the American government intended to give them air support.

IN OTHER words, if we accept the administration's present explanation, many men lost their lives or risked their lives on the basis of a false impression. This, by itself, argues strongly for an investigation to show who in authority with the United States government gave substance to this false impression — if, indeed, that is what it was.

As I have said on the Senate floor, I believe the Senate Committee on Armed Services should conduct a full and impartial inquiry into these unhappy events so the American people will have the full facts.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Puerto Rico Seized Beach Property for Cong. Powell

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—When Cong. Adam Clayton Powell opened the aid-to-education hearings last week, then immediately sneaked off to Puerto Rico, the wrangling congressmen he left behind had no idea where to reach him.

This column can reveal, however, that he has been lounging on the seashore in his own two-acre Garden of Eden near Cerro Gordo, Dorado.

He wangled the paradisiacal plot from the Puerto Rican government which expropriated it from a 65-year-old farmer to accommodate the handsome Harlem congressman.

Ordinarily, private property isn't supposed to be condemned except for public use. Yet the territorial government seized a small grapefruit farm of Jacinto Nevares Cordova, and turned two of the five acres over to Powell.

The old farmer and his family had lived on the farm for 45 years, selling their fruit to a grapefruit juice plant in nearby Bayamon. He was told that the government needed his land for a resort and was paid an arbitrary $27,000 price set by an appraiser.

Now the choicest stretch of seashore has been sold to Powell for a reported $10,000 as his private resort. In Farmer Nevares Cordova's grapefruit patch, the playboy congressman has now built a $30,000 winter home.

HE HAS told neighbors that he intends to retire from Congress next year and settle down permanently under the Caribbean sun. His glamorous wife already spends her full time in Puerto Rico, although she draws a $12,000 salary from the taxpayers as Powell's secretary.

While he relaxes in his private paradise among the palms, his colleagues on the House Education and Labor Committee are floundering in a parliamentary muddle without their chairman.

As for hapless Nevares Cordova, he has complained to the government about what has happened to his land farm and has demanded at least a higher expropriation price.

I asked Puerto Rico's progressive governor Luis Munoz Marin how Cong. Powell happened to get two acres of valuable seashore property that had been seized by the government from someone else. I got no comment.

SOMETIMES senators, like other people, can't see the trees for the leaves. Perhaps Senators Ken Keating, R-N.Y., Henry Jackson, D-Wash., and Stuart Symington, D-Mo., leaders of the preventive war school regarding Cuba, should take a look at some of the trees instead of the leaves around Cuba. The trees consist of hard figures readily available at the Pentagon.

They are not classified and would give an interesting comparison of U.S. strength against the fairly accurately measured strength of Russian forces on Cuba. Here they are:

Russian manpower on Cuba is reported by the Pentagon at 17,000 men. By Sen. Keating at 22,000. U.S. armed manpower is 952,573 in the Army; 189,134 in the Marines; 682,370 in the Navy; and 864,000 in the Air Force. Total 2,767,977.

Russian naval strength in Cuba is ten patrol boats. U.S. naval strength is a total of 868 combat ships.

Russian air strength in Cuba is 100 MIG fighters. U.S. air strength is 13,000 combat planes; plus 4,000 non-combat planes for transport and jet-fighter congressmen; plus 6,000 Army planes; plus 6,000 Navy planes. Total: 30,000 planes.

IN REGARD to missile strength, Pentagon estimates are that Cuba has no offensive missiles. The United States has approximately 35,000 megatons of atomic and hydrogen bombs. One megaton is equivalent to all the explosive power on both sides in World War II. One megaton would pretty well put Cuba out of commission and wouldn't even be missed from the U.S. arsenal.

That's why some senators can't see the trees for the leaves. Both the State Department and the White House are keeping very mum about the U.S. statement which touched off the big debate in the Canadian parliament and the downfall of the Canadian government.

It was one of the major diplomatic snafus of the Kennedy administration, and the President was quite upset about it.

Despite the secrecy, here is the inside story of what happened.

U.S. AMBASSADOR Walter Butterworth in Ottawa sent a message to Washington recommending that a strong stand be taken to force the Diefenbaker government to put nuclear weapons on its recently-purchased planes from the United States. Since this was a military matter, it came to the attention of McGeorge Bundy, White House assistant on security matters.

Between him and the Defense Department, a strong statement was drafted and sent to the State Department. At state, some diplomats thought it was too tough, but since it came direct from the White House, no one had the courage to tell the President, "You're making a mistake."

So the statement was handed to the Canadian embassy and made public 30 minutes later. Such a quick release to the press is unprecedented in diplomacy, and was one reason the Canadians saw red.

Next morning, President Kennedy phoned the State Department to ask who had been responsible for the statement. He was not happy. The answer was: "It came from you."

Note—Bundy is the man reported to be JFK's choice eventually to succeed Dean Rusk as secretary of state.

SECURITY VS. SINGING

NEW YORK (AP) — Alfred Coda is finally getting a chance to sing in a theater production. The baritone gave up a budding vocal career 10 years ago for the greater financial security of a butcher shop in Holoken, N. J. The father of seven has since kept in musical practice with appearances at banquets and conventions.

Coda recently tried out for a part in "Lady of Mexico," an opera staged by the Diefenbaker Guild, an off-Broadway organization. As a Franciscan friar, Coda opens each performance with an aria that is one of the production's most impressive numbers.

ALWAYS A LION

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Cassius Marcellus Clay, Civil War abolitionist, once owned a 2,000-acre estate on the Kentucky River. Known as Whitehall, the house still stands and has 40 rooms. A farm family lives in part of it.

Clay later became known as the "lion of Whitehall." In one of his last battles at the age of 40, he killed two of three intruders who broke into his home.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

These Favors Not for Whites

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — "Equal opportunity" now has given way here to "preferential opportunity." A Negro congressman who is chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor is apparently being given favors that white citizens generally do not get.

Sen. John J. Williams, Republican of Delaware, has just made a comprehensive report on the situation which was published in the Congressional Record.

He charges that agencies of the government are "shoveling out the taxpayers' dollars" to Adam Clayton Powell, chairman of the all-important House Committee on Education and Labor, while Mr. Powell himself is "delinquent" in his federal income taxes for the years 1949 through 1955. The Delaware senator made public a letter he had received from the commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service listing a total of $13,000 as a "fraud penalty" imposed on Mr. Powell. Mr. Williams added:

"While the Treasury Department states that, as yet, it has not accepted a compromise for the settling of these taxes, I find no evidence where the department is really trying to collect the money."

Sen. Williams pointed out in his speech other favors or preferential opportunities allegedly given Rep. Powell, and said:

"Notwithstanding this tax delinquency, three agencies of the government were vying with each other as to which could curry the most favor with Mr. Powell by opening the doors of the federal treasury."

"The State Department, with no strings attached, freely financed Mr. Powell's tour of the nightclubs in Europe."

"The Department of Health, Education and Welfare tapped a fund which had been approved by the Congress for the control of juvenile delinquency, and made an outright grant of $250,000 to a foundation which Mr. Powell and his administrative assistant, Mr. Wingate, had organized just eight days before the receipt of the gift."

"The officials of this agency were not quite clear as to whether they thought Mr. Powell would spend this money in studying the juvenile delinquency problem or whether he would use it to organize a domestic Peace Corps in Harlem. There is one point on which they did agree — that the money would be spent at Mr. Powell's discretion, and apparently without any exercise of control by the federal government."

"The Housing and Home Finance Agency, the third government agency, was equally generous; it approved three loans totaling nearly $11 million on property which was being purchased for approximately $8.5 million, and, as further evidence of the administration's philanthropy, it endorsed a bill which would provide complete exemption from all real estate taxes on one of these properties as long as it was owned and controlled by Mr. Powell's outfit."

THE question that is being asked here now is whether anybody else has gotten or could still get such favors from the Kennedy administration, and whether the rule of "equal opportunity" will be followed hereafter. It will be interesting to see whether the House of Representatives institutes a full investigation of the whole series of charges made by a member of the upper house. While each house is the sole judge of the behavior of its own members, either house has a right to investigate just what the federal agencies did and what pressures, if any, were brought to bear and by whom to grant Mr. Powell the requests that he made for federal funds.

Before making his speech, Sen. Williams wrote to all the federal agencies involved and received general information concerning the grants. In his address, Mr. Williams made this further comment:

"During the past 12 months various agencies of the government have been scrambling around to see who could give Mr. Powell the most favorable deal."

"I cite an example of Mr. Powell's influence with this administration under the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Long-term loans totaling nearly $11 million at interest rates as low as three and one-eighth percent have been approved by Mr. Powell and his associates."

"NOT ONLY were these loans sufficient to cover 100 percent of the acquisition cost of the properties in question, but in one instance the loan approved was for exactly double the acquisition price."

This is something which will certainly cause an arching of eyebrows among those citizens who have applied for loans but have not been given more than the acquisition price. The real point is not whether any fault lies with an applicant who seeks to get all he can, but whether the federal agencies — anxious to "curry favor" — with Chairman Powell, for instance, as Sen. Williams describes it, have overstepped the bounds of propriety. Political scandals in past administrations have proved injurious at the polls to the party in power.

Answers To Your Questions

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it O.K. to soak a wool blanket in ice water and place on a person's bare chest to reduce fever?—W. D.

I'd call it a rather drastic method, a shock to the patient, and messy besides. Sponging with tepid water; cold cloths on the forehead; and immersing the wrists in cool water are simpler and easier methods.

Dear Dr. Molner: We are having a dispute. What is the difference between dying from a heart attack and from suffocation? I say the cause of death can be determined. Others say both act as a heart attack. —Mrs. T. J. W.

Of course the heart stops in death, regardless of cause, but there is a distinct difference between suffocation and a heart attack. With suffocation, the victim dies because air cannot reach the lungs, and the blood, in turn, cannot rid itself of carbon dioxide and pick up fresh oxygen. The heart keeps on pumping as long as it can, but the victim turns blue because the blood is unable to clear away its waste products.

In a heart attack, there is plenty of air in the lungs but the heart is unable to pump the blood rapidly enough, or in some instances cannot operate at all. In this case, too, there will be some blueness, but it is because the blood does not move through the lungs rapidly enough.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is uremic poisoning?—Mrs. S. J.

It results from faulty functioning of the kidneys. Uric acid and certain nitrogen compounds are wastes which the kidneys filter out and normally discharge in urine. When something prevents removal of these toxic materials, uremic poisoning results.

City Representative Briefs AAUW Branch on Legislature

Mrs. Virginia Torgerson, city representative to the legislature, addressed the Winona branch of AAUW Saturday at the Hotel Winona. One hundred members and friends heard Mrs. Torgerson discuss her initial reaction as a freshman legislator and legislative proceedings.

In response to a question asked by Miss Margaret Driscoll in introducing her, Mrs. Torgerson said that she had first come to Minnesota from Texas on a two-week vacation. Impressed by the lakes and trees, she became a resident. Visiting Winona in 1942, Mrs. Torgerson decided to make this city her home. Now, Mrs. Torgerson is pleased to be promoting her adopted city on a state level.

USING A bill concerning the election laws as an example, Mrs.

Torgerson clarified the routine necessary to bring a bill out of committee. Intrigued by her education in legislative proceedings, Mrs. Torgerson has learned that "there is a time and place not to push too hard. Knowing when to speak and act, come with experience."

Her first accomplishment was the passage of an enabling act which will allow the expenditure of up to $2,500 to advertise Winona. Previous amount allowed was $1,700.

Surveying the bills to come before the legislature this session, Mrs. Torgerson cited the following bills as worthy of statewide concern:

State colleges now may give higher degrees if they are equipped to do so. $32,000 has been appropriated to match federal funds for national defense loan program for students; a provision, which states that the governor and his cabinet will be of the same political party, has been returned to the rules committee for clarification; $2,000 has been appropriated for the commission promoting the Great River Road; a compromise agreement has been reached on the taxicab question. Mrs. Torgerson approves the compromise.

MRS. TORGERSON listed bills concerning Winona which she will introduce. They deal with firemen's pensions, increased fees for jurors in municipal court, sliding scale provided for filing fees for plaintiff in conciliation court, bill dealing with salaries for municipal judges, funds provided for tree planting and maintenance, levies for the public library.

Topics discussed through questions from the floor included Mrs. Torgerson's opinions on the school immunity question, registration of lobbyists and composition of the legislature. Mrs. Torgerson commented that the variety of occupations of the legislators lends itself to a more complete representation of the people.

Questions on the recount prompted Mrs. Torgerson to say, "Citizens must be educated to realize that voting is a serious responsibility. Improper marks on the ballots have contributed to the confusion now existing."

MRS. TORGERSON's state service has necessitated hotel living. Speaking of a woman legislator who must commute, Mrs. Torgerson quipped, "When she goes home after the session, she sees the dirt. I can't." As one of three women legislators in the house, Mrs. Torgerson has been treated kindly by the male contingent.

Concluding, Rep. Torgerson invited letters from individual citizens, stating opinions on bills. "I can reach boards and large groups, but not the voice of the average citizen."

Mrs. Robert Horton presided at a short business meeting preceding the talk. Hostesses were Mrs. Elmer Boller and Mrs. Edward Jacobson, members of the AAUW legislative committee. In keeping with the month of February, a patriotic motif added to this legislative meeting. Miss Inez Adams and Mrs. John Fuller were in charge of arrangements.

House of the Week

Here's a House That's for Fun

By JULES LOH

Everybody has heard about today's ever increasing amount of leisure time, but how many are doing anything about it? In the design of their homes, that is.

Longer vacations notwithstanding, a family's own home still is the place where it spends nearly all its spare time.

SO TO BE IN step with modern living, a home should provide for relaxing—not formal entertaining, necessarily, but just sitting around with your shoes off—to the same extent it provides for other family necessities such as eating and sleeping.

In today's House of the Week, a modest three-bedroom ranch, architect Herbert W. Neumann has shown he clearly is in tune with the times. The house is design J-60 in the weekly series.

The emphasis is, plainly, on the STURDY AND INFORMAL: This delightful three-bedroom ranch was designed for the modern family who likes to relax. A spacious family room is its noteworthy feature, plus covered porches in both front and rear. Exterior materials are brick veneer and wood shingles with vertical board accents.

family room, a spacious 17 foot 3 inches by 12 foot area built as a separate room—not an extension to the kitchen.

ITS KEY feature is a sturdy corner fireplace, which architect Neumann intended to be used. "If it was merely decorative," he said, "I would have put it in the living room." Even as a decorative fixture, which it surely is, it will be enjoyed more in the family room than in the lesser-used living room.

A covered front loggia and a covered rear porch (which could be screened, or enclosed with jalousies) are two more relaxing areas designed into the house.

To complete the picture, a terrace for lounging and play could stretch across the entire rear yard. It would be approachable from the porch, kitchen and family room through three separate entries.

THE BEDROOM wing is a well-ordered layout of three rooms, two full baths and spacious closets. The master bedroom has two wall closets, one of them extra large. In addition to a walk-in closet.

From the outside, the house is uncluttered and has a durable, early American tone with a pleasing blend of brick veneer, wood shingles and vertical siding accentuating the porch area. Curved arches frame the living room picture window.

Not counting the garage and porch areas, the house contains 1,879 square feet of living area in over-all dimensions of 76 feet 6 inches wide by 38 feet deep.

ONE outstanding feature of this house is the liberal use of glass, an asset especially in warmer climates.

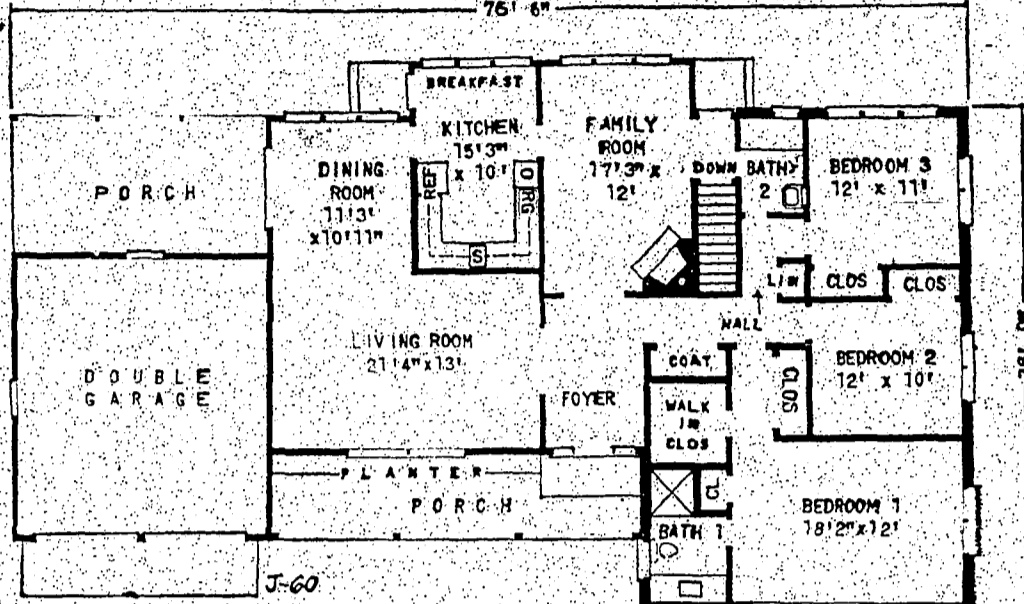

The living room, kitchen-breakfast room, family room, dining room and two of the bedrooms have triple banks of windows, and the dining room has sliding glass doors leading to the porch.

The large windows in the kitchen assure excellent backyard supervision as well as plenty of light and air. The rear bedroom and the master bedroom has double exposures, in fact, the master bedroom has triple exposure, if you leave the bathroom door open.

While the emphasis is on informality in this house, the formal features are by no means neglected.

THE LIVING room-dining room ell is a handsome expanse stretching well over 20 feet in both directions and overlooking both the front porch and the rear terrace, and flowing onto the rear porch.

The kitchen is designed with the housewife in mind; U-shaped work area with sink, refrigerator and stove all within easy reach, and plenty of counter space and cabinets. The breakfast area is completely out of the way of the work

FLOOR PLAN: Note the liberal use of glass—large windows in all the rooms, and sliding glass doors in the dining room leading to the porch. Double entry to main bathroom makes it accessible to kitchen, family room and backyard as well as the bedrooms. Master Bedroom has its own bathroom with shower.

Another well-designed feature is the family bathroom. It has two doors, which double its usefulness. Though it is definitely in the bedroom wing where it belongs, it also is convenient to the family room, kitchen and backyard.

THE HOUSE has a full basement, with its stairs located conveniently near the rear service entry.

The basement could be laid out into laundry, utility, recreation and storage areas according to the owner's needs.

J-60 Statistics

A three-bedroom ranch with living room, dining room, family room, kitchen-breakfast room, two bedrooms, double garage, full basement, front and rear covered porches.

Overall dimensions are 76'6" wide by 38' deep. Total living area, not counting porches and garage, is 1,879 square feet.

Construction Sets Record

Boosted by a year-end surge in contracts for apartments, streets and highways, and electric, light and power systems, construction climbed to a new record level in 1962, according to F. W. Dodge Corp.

Registering one of the greatest gains in the past decade, total construction contracts amounted to $41,303,454,000, up 11 percent compared with the previous record set in 1961.

Significantly, all three major construction categories, namely, nonresidential, residential and engineering construction posted gains in 1962.

Dr. Gordon W. McKinley, vice president and chief economist of F. W. Dodge, stated, "The rise in construction expenditures during 1962 was a major factor in buoying an otherwise hesitant economy. Between the first and the fourth quarter of 1962, national output of all goods and services rose by $17 billion. Of this gain, the construction industry alone contributed about $4 billion."

City Issues Lone Permit

The only building permit issued last week by the city engineer's office was for a house remodeling job estimated to cost $50.

The permit was drawn by Vincent Breza, 468 Main St., for construction of a closet.

The total valuation of permits written here this year is $795,025, compared with $104,366 at the same date a year ago. There has been one new house permit issued. There were none recorded at this time last year.

Permits for gas-fired installations were taken by Winona Heating & Ventilating Co. for Effie Gates estate, 216 E. Wabasha St.; Kendall Lumber Co., 115 Franklin St.; and for a house occupied by Harold Kaiser, 815 W. Wabasha St., and by Frank O'Laughlin Plumbing & Heating Co. for Winona Knitting Mills, 802 E. 2nd St.

Painters Dressed In White

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Well, they have come and gone—those men dressed in white.

But they didn't take me away. I wish they had. They were the painters.

With hard work, patience and persistence I may be able to get the place in order just about the time it needs painting again.

Anyhow, it is nice and clean. I can't say the same for me. I am sort of rainbow-striped, with shades of sandalwood in my hair.

In normal times I am able to walk through a doorway without touching either side. But smear the facings with a little paint and I can't manage to get past without the door and me leaving lasting impressions on each other.

I've been informed that it's fast-drying paint, but apparently they forgot to notify the walls of this fact. They smudge me and smudge them whenever we chance to meet.

I've decided the best thing to do is just sit motionless in a chair until the stuff dries. On second thought, after looking at the mess around here, I may just sit motionless in a chair forever.

Somewhere in all that debris are dishes, and while I may be able to latch on to a couple of restaurant meals on this deal, the time will eventually come when I'll have to find them and start using them again.

Even so, I'll be operating under a handicap. The can opener may not come into view for weeks.

I thought I had emptied the cabinets in a scientific sort of way—putting the contents of each one in a separate box. But they must have played fruitbasket turnover while my back was turned. The measuring cups are now in with the shoe polish and the pancake mix is chumming it up with the detergent.

I tried to fix a hamburger, but I couldn't find the salt. We have a whole carton of it, dozens of shakers full, garlic salt, onion salt, seasoning salt, and even a 10-pound bag of it we got when we visited a salt factory. But not a grain in sight.

I thought the hard part was getting ready for the painters. Now it looks as though the worst is yet to come.

Anybody got a nice, uncluttered apartment I can move into? (Hal Boyle is ill).

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New laxative acts on colonic muscles...de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body. But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits.

Your colon muscles impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

The most effective relief, many doctors say, comes from a bulking action combined with a colonic nerve stimulating action. Of all leading laxatives

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Garden Club Is Growing Up

The meeting of the Winona Flower and Garden Club last Thursday evening at Lake Park Lodge amid festive decorations marked the seventh anniversary of the founding of this fine organization. Seven years are not old as organizations go, but they mark certain accomplishments and, also, definite steps toward further goals.

Talks on flowers and spring gardening preparations were given by several members in anticipation of the planting and growing season just ahead. Then the "Sweet Adelines Four" took over with a number of compositions sung with pleasing harmony and expressive feeling, a most fitting close to the garden party.

During the seven years of its eventful activities the garden club has established itself as one of the prominent groups in the cultural and social life of the city. The aesthetic culture, or the cultivation of the mind, as we may call it, can be considered as a refinement of the intellect as it broadens to encompass the many good influences that are brought to bear upon it. Surely, the beauty of growing flowers, or their delightful colors and various forms displayed in the show room, contributes to this in no small degree.

GARDENING, like most other human activities, is often taken up for purely selfish reasons; to have a beautiful and attractive yard, delectable vegetables for the table, and lovely flowers to add status in the neighborhood. These desires are laudable, of course, as the initial objectives, but unless accompanied by an understanding love for growing things, the ultimate benefits may be largely lost.

There is no reason for literature, music, or art, if it does not inspire and point to better things. To be effective it must delve deeply into the inner recesses of the heart. The same applies to gardening. If we do not derive special benefits in a physical, mental, or spiritual way, from our cultural efforts in the garden and about the yard, why pursue them.

HOWEVER, there are few who ply the hoe and rake, but who get infinite pleasure and inspiration from gardening. This is evident everywhere, but not to the extent that it is observed among the friendly members of a flower or garden club.

Flower and garden clubs were originated and organized by individuals who were interested in growing flowers and others plants some years ago when much of the cultural practices had to be passed on from one grower to another. Under this impetus they have continued to grow with increased momentum.

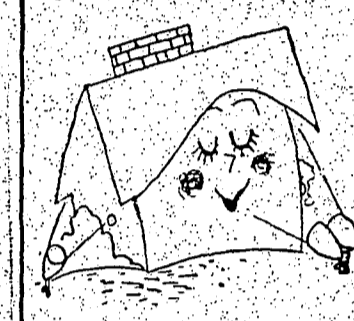

This has been helped along, of course, by a gardener's innate desire to impart information in regard to practices that have proved to be very successful with little thought of receiving anything in return. Information is generously offered; plant materials and seed are given freely, or exchanged, all in the spirit of friendly help and cooperation.

THE LOVE of gardening, of course, is more intensely developed in some persons than others. Not everyone has the consuming desire to grow things. To some, them to state and national organizations. Gardening is one of the most popular of hobbies, if one desires to term it thus.

Of all the various methods of brewing coffee, percolating is the favorite, a manufacturer of coffee-making equipment asserts.

You Can Learn to Think by Doing

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

"Education should teach students to think!" is a well-worn precept. However, you cannot teach a person to think. He must learn to think.

That is, he must learn to control his thoughts. He must learn how to keep his thoughts centered on an activity.

How students control their thinking is the most important and essential element in success at school, and indeed, throughout life.

SCHOOLS HAVE always tried to make students think.

Educators have varied their approach from requiring difficult subjects such as Latin and geometry under the theory that it would force students to think, to the other extreme of trying to make school work so interesting that the student would automatically form the habit of thinking.

Neither of these approaches has worked for the majority. Better results are obtained when the student himself is trying consciously to improve this ability. I have been successful in getting students to think by showing them how to control their thoughts. School is a wonderful opportunity for them to practice.

MY ADVICE to students is that they strive to control their thoughts in all activities involved in learning. Here are some suggestions that bring good results:

Think while you read. Study what you are reading. Discover what is said. Test your success by resetting the ideas in your own words.

Think while you listen. Fit what is being said into what you already know. (Read ahead before a lecture to prepare yourself for this type of study.)

Think while you study. Strive to understand rather than memorize.

Think while you are doing your mathematics or accounting. Understand what you are doing in words. Figure out what makes the problem at hand different from the other problems.

Think while you are studying life science. Picture in your mind the things being described.

Think while you are studying history. Relate new dates to dates you already know. Picture the event where it happened—see it on the map in your mind—and dramatize the happening by seeing it in full costume and regalia.

Think while you are studying philosophy. What sort of personality is described? Who do you know that is somewhat like that described? Make philosophy live. It is useless to memorize in words.

Students need not wait for schools to "teach" these ideas. They can and should begin on their own.

Wisconsin Has Eight Deaths Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of eight persons in weekend crashes have pushed Wisconsin's highway toll past the rate for 1963 to 64, or one more than on this date a year ago.

Mrs. Edith A. Plante, 63, of Oshkosh, died Sunday when her car skidded on icy Highway 41 just west of Neenah, crossed the dividing strip and crashed into a car in the other lane. Mrs. Plante was thrown from her car. She was alone.

Robert Bailey, 22, of Madison, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision at the intersection of Highway 30 and Dane County Highway T east of Madison. He suffered multiple head injuries.

Hugh Bruce Foy, 18, of Chicago, died early Sunday when the car in which he was riding lost control, struck a tree and overturned.

Mrs. Clara Schmidt, 82, of Whitewater died Saturday in a Waukesha hospital about an hour after the car in which she was riding was involved in a collision with another auto on a county road near Waukesha.

A two-car crash on the Wisconsin-Minnesota state line bridge near Hudson, Saturday took the lives of two women and a child and injured seven others. Killed in the crash on the bridge over the St. Croix River were Mrs. Delores Weber, 29, of St. Paul, Minn., and her daughter, Robin, 24, of Eau Claire. Police said the Peeney sports car spun on the slippery bridge surface, crossed the center line and hit the Weber auto broadside.

Edgar Zwieg, 42, of Clintonville, died early Saturday in the collision of his car and a semi-trailer truck on Highway 45 about three miles south of Tigerton in Shawano County.

Also reported during the weekend were the deaths of Allen G. Bain, 55, of Brule and Raymond Kiltz, 32, of rural Franksville in Racine County, who were injured in earlier accidents.

More Teachers Needed for Junior Colleges

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The University of Minnesota board of regents Friday urged the school to take a more active role in preparing teachers and administrators for junior colleges.

The regents looked over and commended a study which says that new junior colleges are the key to meeting mushrooming demands for education beyond high school.

The report by a six-man task force dealt mainly with the seven-county metropolitan area. It said the university and 10 private colleges within the area will not be able to handle the increasing numbers of young people seeking education.

The study suggested that new junior colleges be located in strategic areas rather than an indefinite expansion of lower divisions of the university.

The report urged the university to support the State Board of Education in stimulating growth of other junior colleges around the state.

New Talks Set In New York Paper Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 18 hours of newspaper strike negotiations ended this morning without agreement and with mixed feelings on chances of settling the 65-day blackout.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, acting as mediator, recessed the talks at 8:30 a.m., pending a report from both sides by Tuesday at the latest.

Wagner said substantial differences still exist between the publishers and the striking printers of Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union.

Walter N. Thayer, spokesman for publishers of the papers involved, left City Hall about half an hour before Wagner made his statement. He looked haggard and weary and was visibly disappointed.

He said the publishers would meet later today. "We cannot say what will happen after that."

However, he would not say that negotiations had broken down. Neither would Bertram A. Powers, Local 6 president, who said his union has never lost hope and that it would remain at the mayor's call.

ITU President Elmer Brown, who came here from Colorado Springs, Colo., last week, declared: "I am not happy. I would like to have seen some agreement and the resumption of publication."

In Cleveland, Ohio, union strikes that shut down that city's two dailies went into the 74th day. Just before the New York session got under way, Thayer, president of the Herald Tribune and spokesman for the publishers, said: "There is no reason why it can't be wrapped up today if the parties really want to."

Most of those publishers who attended the meetings had left City Hall by 6 a.m. None had a comment for newsmen.

Man Carried to Death Over Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—An unidentified man, about 55 years old, was carried to his death over the Horseshoe Falls Sunday.

He climbed over the wall in front of Tablerock House and plunged into the icy waters of the Niagara River before hundreds of winter scenic spectators.
Dr. Thomas Stin of Buffalo, N.Y., reported the incident to Niagara Park provincial police.

The eminent plant explorer, Dr. Joseph P. Rock, was the first to photograph, map and sketch the little-known gorges of the upper Yangtze, Mekong and Salween rivers.

Fairly agreeable winter weather, a little colder and some snow Thursday and Friday, is predicted for Winona and vicinity this week.

Occasional cloudiness tonight and Tuesday with little temperature change tonight and a little warmer Tuesday is the immediate outlook. A low of 5-10 above is predicted for tonight and a high of 23 for Tuesday afternoon.

Colder with snow flurries is the forecast for Wednesday.

THE extended forecast for the next five days indicates temperatures will average 10-18 degrees below seasonal normals. The normal readings for this time of the year are 20-30 in the daytime and 1 to 11 at night.

Precipitation is slated to average about .10 of an inch in occasional light snow mostly about Thursday and Friday.

Temperatures dropped to near the zero mark this morning after a weekend in which an inch and a half of snow fell and temperatures remained generally mild.

The thermometer got up to 23 Saturday afternoon and 26 on Sunday. Low Sunday morning was 13 and this morning 5. At noon today it was 14.

MINNESOTA AND Wisconsin highways generally were slippery today from the weekend snowfall.

Snow flurries were scattered in Minnesota overnight, but were due to end during the day with the southward movement of a low pressure area which the Weather Bureau said set off the precipitation.

A little warming appeared in store tonight, but meteorologists said another low pressure area, moving southward out of Canada, would bring somewhat lower temperatures along with more snow flurries in North Dakota Tuesday.

Minnesota low temperatures tonight are expected to range from zero to 10 above. The latest reported in the state overnight was 2 at St. Cloud.

A fresh cover of snow, generally about 2 inches deep, blanketed the snow, light but steady, fell in most areas throughout the week. The heaviest amount was 3 1/2 inches in Mequon north of Milwaukee.

TEMPERATURES ranged from 1 above zero at Lone Rock and Superior to 13 at Milwaukee. Park Falls had 2, Madison, Wausau and Eau Claire 4, Green Bay 8, Beloit 10.

Racine hit the state high of 29 Sunday, with other maximums ranging down to 16 at Superior. McAllen, Tex., topped the country Sunday at 93 degrees and Moorcroft, Wyo., was the low today with 10 below zero.

Next Sunday, Feb. 17, the Hillcrest Ski Club will be host to the District Junior Ski Meet. There will be jumping on both ski slopes. There will be 125 or more skiers in competition with entries from Eau Claire, Viroqua, Westby and the Hillcrest Ski Club. Maximum age for the junior meet is 17.

Wilgen said he will go with the same starting five that helped beat Macalester 68-57. That will have Tom Hall and Mike Stallings at forwards, Jim Rockers at center, and Al Williams and Jim Clarkin at guards. Williams hit 24 points against the Gusties in the first game.

SKOOG'S PROBABLES are Ken Abram, 6-3 captain and leading scorer at one forward with Ron Severson, 6-3; Wayne Lovemark, 6-5, center; Andy Hagmann, 6-3, at one guard, and either Phil Rogosheske, 5-11, or Jack Fearing, 5-10, at the other. Fearing, Lovemark and Rogosheske are freshmen.

Coach John Nett will go with Loren Koprowski and Sam Czaplewski at forwards, Bob Judge at center, and Gene Schultz and Rich Starzecki at guards.

THIS WEEKEND winds up the regular season for the Ramblers. They head into Region 3 tournament play Feb. 22-23 at Plainview. Host for the meet is St. Felix of Wabasha.

Russell, Pettit At Milestones In NBA Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics and Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks passed milestones over the weekend in their National Basketball Association careers.

Russell became the NBA all-time leader in rebounds with a total of 11,041 to 11,005 for Dolph Schayes of Syracuse. Pettit crossed the 17,000-point plateau with 36 against the Detroit Pistons Sunday. Schayes still is the all-time scorer with more than 20,000 points.

"The record is a big thrill, but we're pros and the pros pay off on championships," Russell said after he had ousted Schayes with 28 rebounds against San Francisco Saturday and 19 against New York Sunday. The champion Celtics won both games at home, 118-112 over the Warriors and 129-123 over the Knicks.

Syracuse, the hottest club in the league right now, had beaten New York 122-116 in the first half of a doubleheader at Boston Saturday. The Nats moved back home Sunday and whipped San Francisco 130-115 for their fifth straight and 10th triumph in their last 12 games.

The defeat dropped San Francisco again to fourth in the Western Division. Detroit ended a six-game losing streak and regained third with a 102-95 victory at St. Louis despite Pettit's 36 points. Cincinnati, playing at home, beat the Los Angeles Lakers 124-107 in the other NBA game Sunday.

Johnny Kerr and Hal Greer, each with 26 points, led the Syracuse attack. In addition Kerr helped Len Chappell hold Wilt Chamberlain to 29 points, 15 below his league leading average. Bailey Howell, with 22 points, led Detroit as the Pistons broke a 79-79 tie with the Hawks in the last quarter.

Los Angeles wiped out a 21-point deficit on the hot shooting of Elgin Baylor and Dick Barnett to lead Cincinnati 73-72 before the Royals rallied themselves. Oscar Robertson, with 29 points, 12 in the last period, sparked the Royals. Baylor finished with 42 and Barnett with 27 for the Lakers.

No games are scheduled to night.

Adams led almost all of the way, holding a 22-17 halftime lead. In the fourth quarter they lost high scoring forward Don Juliff on fouls and Dover-Eyota came out to win. Don Lyke topped the Eagle scoring with 14 points. Gary Daniels added 12.

Juliff tallied 14 counters for Adams and Joe Retherath 12.

BLAIR 78, HOLMEN 66

Blair parlayed a 28-point second quarter and some fine defensive rebounding to trip Holmen of the Coulee Conference 78-66.

The Cardinal defense kept Holmen from getting many close shots, and when the Vikings did fire from the outside John Wojcik, 6-3 1/2 junior center, and Don Nansand controlled the boards for Blair.

Blair hit 30 of 40 free throw attempts.

Dennis Dale tallied 22 points and Carl Aubert 20 to top Blair. Other double figure scorers were Jim Rawson and John Wojcik with 17 and 12 respectively.

Galen Granum topped Holmen with 23 markers. Dennis Knutson was close behind with 21. Ken Bide added 11.
