Administration Out to Quiet Furor on Cuba

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy Administration, under heavy fire from its political opponents, is striking back at Republican critics of its Cuban policies.

In the face of a fresh assault by GOP congressional leaders on "the inept conduct of our foreign affairs by the Kennedy Administration," Sens. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., have teamed to condemn what they called partisan and irresponsible charges.

Mansfield, the Democratic leader, pointed his guns at New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sens. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa. He told the Senate Monday that "irresponsible public utterances are playing dangerously with the fires of public emotion."

Humphrey called on Republicans to make certain that "a rash of charges that cannot be substantiated by facts do not find their way into this chamber" or into the newspapers.

"The people are worried, concerned and indeed confused because of so many conflicting reports," he said. He added that President Kennedy, the Defense Department and the Central Intelligence Agency "have been frank and candid" in disclosing Soviet military strength in Cuba.

Mansfield said Rockefeller was well informed on Latin American affairs, but "I must confess that I looked in vain for a contribution worthy of him" in the governor's comments on Cuba.

Rockefeller has said the administration's disclosures about Cuba left many unanswered questions. He said that while Soviet soldiers and equipment there may not pose a military threat to the United States, they constitute a propaganda, subversive and possible military threat to other hemisphere nations.

Mansfield flatly denied—as Scott had suggested—that there was any deal between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Kennedy for the removal of American missiles in Europe in exchange for the withdrawal of Soviet missiles in Cuba.

In a barb patently aimed at Keating, one of the most vocal critics of the administration, Mansfield told his colleagues he would be the last to suggest that members of Congress know less about matters pertaining to Cuba than the President, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense.

"But I would suggest most respectfully," he said, "that the responsible course which helps rather than hurts the nation would be for these well-informed members to take their inside, unimpeachable information on Cuba to the appropriate departments at the same time that they take it to the press galleries."

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said he is willing to accept the administration's judgment on Cuba because of its many sources of intelligence.

But he said that if the Soviet Union continues to send troops and weapons to the island and strong diplomatic pressure fails to get them out, he would favor resort to another blockade such as that clamped on last fall.

Mansfield turned angrily on the Senate House Republican leadership for a statement that anti-American sentiment was sweeping England, France and Canada because, the GOP leaders said, the Kennedy administration had bungled its relations with those countries.

Mansfield said he had hoped the Republicans would come up with some statement in which they would "take the side of their own country" instead of criticizing its course.

"The time for politics in our foreign policy is long past," he declared. "The time for backing up our government is long overdue."

Warren Cites Lag in Law in Georgia Talk

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A world hastening to find a link with the future is lagging in efforts to improve the law which must rule these amazing discoveries, Chief Justice Earl Warren said today.

"The law lags behind until crisis stirs it into action," Warren said in an address to an audience of students and faculty at Georgia Tech's Alexander Memorial Coliseum.

He applauded Georgia Tech for the school's progress in science and technology, and said, "I wish that we had made comparable advances in my profession of the law."

Warren spoke at a ceremony commemorating the 75th anniversary of Georgia Tech, which desegregated in 1961. It was Warren's first visit into the Deep South since the U.S. Supreme Court issued its school desegregation ruling of 1954.

The chief justice arrived Monday night and left the airport under heavy security guard as posters calling for his impeachment were raised on private property in some sections of the city.

Warren emphasized the close connection between science and the law. If science is to serve the peaceful purposes of mankind, "it must be given a peaceful setting in both domestic and world law," he declared.

"A society that is governed by law will not permit these great discoveries to be used for destructive purposes," he said. "A world without law is hell-bent for destruction with or without scientific discoveries."

He said the fact is that law has not kept abreast of science. "It is not that science is running away and endangering civilization. The real danger lies in the lack of a lawful world, and the absence of a world ordered under law which will negate the pressures to use scientific knowledge for destructive rather than for peaceful purposes."

A few hours before Warren arrived, an Atlanta physician was assured in state court that he had the constitutional right to display signs calling for Warren's impeachment. Twenty-four such signs, 3½ by 7 feet, were erected on various private sites.

Georgia Tech began desegregation in 1961, as did Atlanta city schools.

The court case was launched by Dr. Henry G. Stelling, member of a group calling itself the Atlanta Committee for the Impeachment of Earl Warren. He asked the court to forbid Atlanta and its police force from removing or defacing the signs.

Stelling's petition was dismissed by Superior Court Judge Danwood T. Pye after an attorney for the city, Newell Edenfield, told the court that the city was in complete agreement that the physician had the right to place the signs on private property with the owners' consent.

Stelling said the committee sent a telegram to the chief justice which read in part: "We feel that you should know that you are not welcome here. We feel that you have not upheld your oath to defend the Constitution of the United States of America."

General Leading Marine March

OFF AND WALKING... Four Marine Corps officers, led by Brig. Gen. R. McC. Tompkins, left, start a 50-mile hike to carry out a request by President Kennedy that Marine officers execute an executive order issued by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1908 stating that Marine officers periodically carry out a fitness test consisting of walking 50 miles in 20 hours. Men Shove Off in Test of Fitness

By ART EDSON
CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (AP)—Marines trying to prove their physical fitness with a 50-mile hike came up with what looked like a real winner today in a fast marching distance runner, Lt. Marty Shimek.

As 34 Marines led by Brig. Gen. A. McC. Tompkins, huffed and puffed around the damp, humid course, it took almost no time at all to discover that Shimek, of Hazen, Ark., who did his running at his state university, was the pick of the lot.

Shimek walked and ran the first 12.1 miles in an hour and 45 minutes, a killing pace.

One problem: Shimek developed a blister on his right heel but it didn't appear to be causing him too much trouble.

Gen. Tompkins, while he wasn't setting any course records, was walking steadily and grimly as a general should.

He finished the first 6.3 miles in creditable time of an hour and 31 minutes.

Although there were numerous red faces and few piteous cries for water as the Marines pulled into the rest stops, at noon today none had fallen by the wet wayside.

It wasn't exactly the day for long-distance walking, assuming there was any interest in hiking at all. It had rained most of the night, a drizzle was falling as the men shoved off, and rain was forecast during the day.

Everything went off with neat military precision.

Maj. George Fox, the official starter, assembled the first group two minutes early. Then as the seconds ran out, he tolled them off, "four, three, two, one, zero!"

"Blast off!" cried an irreverent voice from the rear and the general and five assorted captains and lieutenants, who made up the first group, blasted off for their hike.

The early morning spectacle attracted a covey of watchers headed by Maj. Gen. Frederick L. Wieseman, commanding general of the 2nd Marine Division. Moments before takeoff, he gravely shook hands with Gen. Tompkins, who looked as fit and ready as any man of 51 can.

Curiously, only two wives and one offspring showed up for this great occasion. Carma Hume, the wife of Lt. David Hume of London, Ohio, was there with their 20-month-old son, David Scott Hume. So was Jane Williams, wife of Lt. Ben Williams of Oklahoma City, Okla.

The two wives and David plan to drive along in a station wagon and watch their husbands suffer through their long ordeal. Mrs. Hume even had a motion picture camera to record the event.

But mainly, everything was fairly grim, for this is the day that Marines learn whether they are as physically fit as Boy Scouts, female reporters or Alty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

What began as a lark quickly turned into something decidedly different.

Marine Commandant Gen. David M. Shoup discovered an ancient order by President Teddy Roosevelt that showed how a 1908 Marine was expected to march 50 miles within three days.

Shoup sent the old order to President Kennedy, who wondered whether today's Marines were as fit. So the tests were called for. But horrors! Before the Marines could prove how remarkably trained they are, a parcel of fitness fiefs, from the attorney general on down, had hit the road for 50-mile jaunts.

Walking, an almost forgotten art in this motor-nation, suddenly became as important as goldfish swallowing once was. So the Marine who falters now is in disgrace. And, alas, the guessing here Monday night was that some might fail.

Andersen Orders St. Peter Probe

ST. PAUL (AP)—A full-blown investigation gets under way today into charges that patients are being mistreated in the state security hospital at St. Peter.

Gov. Elmer L. Andersen assigned a three-member investigating team to go to the hospital today following a long conference Monday with state welfare chiefs.

The governor also set in motion a probe of whether some patients in the security ward "should not be there."

Andersen, named William Scott, state public examiner; Robert McCoy of Minneapolis and Mrs. Wright Brooks of Minneapolis to go to the hospital today.

The security hospital is a part of the state mental hospital at St. Peter. The main hospital is not involved in the controversy, which began last weekend.

Meanwhile, there were rumors in St. Paul that the hospital superintendent, Dr. Burton P. Grimes, might be suspended during the investigation.

The security hospital houses dangerously and criminally insane, many of them transferred from Stillwater Prison.

The governor directed Welfare Commissioner Morris Hersh to activate a screening panel provided under present law. The panel can be used to determine if patients should be released or moved to other facilities.

Hersh said he favors transferring functions of the security ward to the prison, where patients can participate in exercise and recreation. He said inactivity is the chief problem at St. Peter.

In legislative developments, Sen. Harold Popp, Hutchinson, said he felt reports of patient abuse were exaggerated. Sen. Fay Child, Maynard, said Dr. Grimes would be asked to comment on charges of abuse next Saturday when he appears before a subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee.

He emphasized at the news conference that his recommendation for distribution of a certain amount of money still stands, that only the formula will have to be changed.

He had suggested this approach earlier in his letter to legislators when he said he was sure many formulas would be checked before a final one was decided upon.

Durante 70 But He's Not Telling It

By GENE FLOWDEN
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Jimmy (the Schnozz) Durante admitted today he had a birthday—his 70th—but I don't want everybody to know about it.

The veteran entertainer, interviewed at a hotel where he is appearing, described it this way: "Thank God I had another birthday. Da party? Sure. It was after

Kennedy, Too, Hails Lincoln

WASHINGTON (AP)—Abraham Lincoln, the first Republican president in the White House, will be honored today by the present Democratic occupants with a birthday party keyed to civil rights.

In advance of the party, President Kennedy will receive a special 250-page historical report on the progress made in civil rights in the 100 years since Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation.

The President and his wife invited some 800 top officials and civil rights leaders from across the country to a buffet reception at the White House tonight, but banned press coverage of the event.

This is the first such major social event at the White House during the Kennedy administration where no reporters have been allowed.

Asked why there was a press ban, except for a brief picture-taking session, presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said some events at the White House were open to coverage and others were not.

Lincoln's birthday traditionally has been a Republican day of celebration with dinners and speeches sponsored by the GOP. There were some grumblings in the capital that Kennedy was trying to take the publicity edge off such events.

As usual, no announcement of the White House guest list was made in advance. It was indicated, however, that a number of Negro leaders of the desegregation fight had been invited, along with state officials and civil rights leaders from across the country.

Reporters were invited, however, to attend a 5 p.m. White House ceremony at which Kennedy will receive the progress report from his Commission on Civil Rights.

Rusk Optimistic Over Outlook for Freedom in World

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk views the Red China-Soviet feuding as a "cause for encouragement about the future of freedom."

But he stressed Monday that Communist threats remain serious and may increase in the months ahead.

Rusk gave his appraisal in an interview on National Educational Television in which three aides joined him in perhaps the State Department's most extensive public examination of the philosophical tug of war in the Communist camp.

The row between Moscow and Peking, Rusk declared, proves that communism—and not capitalism, as the Communists contend—"contains within itself the seeds of its own decay."

With Rusk on the program were U. Alexis Johnson, deputy under-secretary for political affairs; W. Averell Harriman, assistant secretary for Far Eastern affairs; and Roger Hillsman, the department's intelligence director.

Minnesota Instruments On New Test Rocket

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP)—Instruments designed by University of Minnesota physicists were aboard an Argo-D8 rocket launched over the Pacific Ocean Monday night to probe the Van Allen radiation belt.

Prof. John R. Winckler of the Physics Department and Carl Pfeiffer, a research fellow, were here for the launch. They did most of the design work on the instruments.

50,000 BB Guns For the Indians

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK — The finest piece of symbolism to trudge down the pike since the invention of lend-lease, which, Virginia, is another name for Santa Claus, is the news that the Daisy Air Rifle people are mulling a contract to sell 50,000 BB guns to the Indians. These baby-weapons would be used to teach Indian military cadets how to shoot, with the eventual idea of switching over to bigger weaponry say, — the 22 rifle — in order to stave off the Chinese or the Pakistanis.

In a time of scrapping a billion bucks' worth of Skybolt, in a time of moon-shot preparation, in a time of Polaris submarine, I find it fascinating that the Indians are going to start teaching on BB guns. It is completely indicative of what's amiss with the Hindu as a citizen of the world. At a time when he needs astral mechanization, he still can't shoot the sacred cows off the streets in order to let the tanks pass through.

I don't know if this real daisy of a dream has been completed by Daisy, but one of their people, a Mr. C. S. Hough, is just back from India with the following good news: The prime minister says that India's young men don't know anything about guns, when they reach military age. It's part of the country's defense against Communist China.

Ruark: Mr. Hough and the other Daisies have my best wishes, because the contract calls for a factory to be built in the Punjab, with the Indians owning a 51 percent control. This will cost a million bucks, more or less, and I am almost certain that America will find a way to provide the money for the plinking fund. One of the rewards of India's independence has been a complete helplessness when it comes to picking up a tab for its own existence, and the Indians have patented the art of the extended-five-year plan on other people's dough.

THERE IS a magnificent unreality to free India, now bereft of its British masters for many a year. It is a country truly worthy of the BB gun in an atomic age. It is a pacifist country which killed more people in its peace riots than most nations extinguish in a proper war; it is a loud-mouthed neutral country which knocked off Goa more cynically than the Russians quelled Hungary; it is a panhandling nation which owns more gold than the rest of the world, but won't dig it up from under the hearthstones; it is a country which takes on the Chinese in dubious battle when most of its best troops are either in Africa playing mercenary for the United Nations or massed on the Pakistan border.

India is a country which practices variations on prohibition of alcoholic beverages when there is an illegal whisky still in every other back yard, and which owns aboriginal tribes like the Gonds and Baigas who live in a perpetual state of stoned drunkenness off the hand-weenie from the moa blossom. Even the bears get drunk in the Central Province; they dig that moa tree the most.

INDIA IS A country which allows the likes of Krishna Menon to practice international haired with an ambassadorial rank; a country which names him defense ministers and then fires him for incompetence because he sort of forgot to spend any of the defense budget on simple things like guns, shoes, and transportation. Mr. Krishna Menon would make a lovely director for the Daisy people's BB factory. He probably believes that the BB pellet will penetrate a Red Chinese quilted jacket.

India is a country in which there is really no such thing as a confirmed reservation on a train, a plane, or in a hotel—but India is also a country which will take down the number of the tourist's camera and make him fill out six forms for a half-pint of foreign whisky.

INDIA IS A country which warns a visitor not to overcash his travelers' checks, because the rupee is irredeemable even in the Indian-owned bank of Baroda in nearby Nairobi. At last count you were not allowed to reconvert rupees into original currency in Bombay, whose annual bullion handle exceeds our gold balance in Fort Knox.

India, out of sheer inertia, has conquered all its invaders—Moguls, England, everybody. India has always been a country for the birds. It is completely fitting that it is now a country for you should pardon the expression, the BBs.

Moonshot Program Orders 2 Crawlers

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Marion Power Shovel Co., major manufacturer of heavy equipment, has received an order from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to build two giant crawler vehicles to be used in the Apollo moonshot program.

To cost $5 million each, the 5.5-million pound crawlers will be used to carry the Apollo spacecraft and its equipment into launching position.

The crawlers will be so big—130 feet long and 115 feet wide—that Marion Power Shovel will ship them in pieces to the space agency's launching area near Merritt Island, Fla. They will be capable of lifting a load of 12 million pounds.

Volcano Erupts on Alaskan Island

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — A volcano is erupting near Amutka Island about 700 miles southeast of here in the Aleutians, the Kodiak Naval Station reported Monday.

A Navy plane flew near the mountain Sunday and reported it was blowing dark gray and black smoke about 300 feet into the air. Lava was flowing from the cone to the ocean, 3,500 feet below.

The Navy said the volcano was erupting about every 15 minutes.

Boy Scouts to Help Find 300 Library Books

HEWLETT, N.Y. (AP) — The trouble with some people who borrow books from the public library is, they're not trustworthy. They forget to return them.

The Hewlett-Woodmere public library checked recently and found that 200 delinquent borrowers were holding about 300 books. In casting about to find some way of getting the books back, the library hit on an eager group that is trustworthy. Also loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, cheerful and thrifty—the Boy Scouts.

Next Saturday, each member of Woodmere Scout Troop 21, armed with a warrant signed by librarian Elizabeth Thomson, will go to the homes of delinquent borrowers and ask for the books.

The plan for the good deed began when Scoutmaster Robert S. Osgard visited the library and learned of Mrs. Thomson's plight. Osgard canvassed his troop and found them ready to do their duty.

Mrs. Thomson, whose son is in the troop, divided this Long Island community—a New York City suburb—into areas. Osgard drew up tentative assignments for his boys, making sure none would have to stray far from home. The library will bill delinquent borrowers for fines later. Mrs. Thomson said the missing books are worth about $1,000.

30-Cent School Lunch Loses Out by One Vote

A proposal that the price of noon lunches served in the Winona public schools be increased next month by five cents was rejected by a one-vote margin by the Board of Education Monday night.

Reluctant to hike prices this year, directors, however, generally expressed agreement that a price increase may be necessary next fall to put the school lunch program financially on a break-even basis.

THE SUGGESTION that prices of student lunches be upped from 25 to 30 cents was made after Clerk and Business Manager Paul W. Sanders reported that through December the lunch program was running something like $2,700 in the red for the 1962-63 school year. Projected over the entire nine-month year, a deficit of more than $5,000 is anticipated.

After learning that the cost of preparation and serving each meal amounts to 31.8 cents (a per meal subsidy of 3.7 cents in state aid, reduces the local cost to 28.1 cents) and that a loss of 3 cents a lunch is being counted by the present rate schedule, 4th Ward Director Franklin Tillman said he thought the price should be raised to eliminate the anticipated deficit.

Dr. C. W. Rogers, 3rd Ward, said he thought a price increase was needed but suggested holding off until next fall "so we can have a full year's experience to go on. This would eliminate any 'ifs' in the question."

"YOU WANT to sustain a $5,400 loss this year, then?" Tillman asked. Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson noted at this point that if the price were raised there might be a drop in participation which would reduce the anticipated increase in income.

Tillman said he thought there might be some dropouts at first but commented, "I'd bet that within two weeks they'd all be back again. I'm also convinced that you can't serve a lunch to a child at home for 25 cents."

There was a question as to whether some families could afford to have their children eat lunches at the increased price.

"We could make some differential for marginal families," Dr. Rogers noted. "I don't think it's up to the taxpayers of Winona to feed children when their parents can afford it."

NELSON SAID he had only one objection to an increase at this time. "You'll be stirring up a real fuss. If we were to continue through the school year at this rate and then change it in the fall when a new year begins there wouldn't be as much of a problem."

Tillman held that "public relations doesn't enter into this. As a board it's our responsibility when we see we're losing money on our lunch program to let the people know about it and tell them what we have to do about it."

Sanders pointed out that in March the amount of state aid will be increased by one cent a meal. He was asked what the general policy on charges was for other school systems and replied that in most schools lunches cost 30 cents.

Tillman then moved that the charge for lunch be increased to 30 cents at the beginning of next month.

DR. C. R. KOLLOFSKI, 2nd Ward, said he thought a price increase was necessary but would prefer to make the change next fall.

Tillman said he thought the lunch program should be kept on a break-even basis and not wait until next year.

Board President Lawrence Santelman observed, "I think, personally, that it might be best to wait until Sept. 1."

When a rollcall vote was taken on Tillman's motion it was supported by Tillman, Daniel Sadow, 4th Ward, and Ray Gorsuch, 1st Ward. Santelman, Dr. Kollofski, Dr. Rogers and Maurice D. Godsey, 2nd Ward, voted against the increase. Director-at-Large, L. R. Woodworth and Frank J. Allen Jr., 3rd Ward, were absent.

Directors to Take Another Look at Central Food Plan

A preliminary survey to determine the feasibility of establishing a centralized food service program in the Winona public schools was requested Monday by the Board of Education.

The survey will be made by Herbert Wiles Associates, Minneapolis, to provide the board with data from which estimates might be developed as to the cost of converting existing cafeteria facilities at Senior High School to a food service center serving all of the public schools.

Wiles, who met with directors for about 90 minutes Monday night, previously had made a rough estimate that the cost of remodeling the cafeteria and installing new equipment necessary in a centralized program and other costs involved in transportation of food to the outlying schools might run to around $68,000.

HE EMPHASIZED Monday that this was only an estimate and covered a completely centralized operation. The project, he said, could be undertaken in separate phases, probably starting with the work necessary at Senior High School.

Directors Monday first looked at a film showing operation of a modern food service installation, then discussed the Winona project with Wiles.

The consultant has estimated that if Winona were to go to a fully centralized operation a saving of $130,107 could be realized over a 10-year period.

On the other hand, Wiles said, if the existing system were maintained, most equipment would have to be replaced during a 10-year period and he estimated replacement and necessary remodeling costs would come to near $72,000.

WILES BASED his estimate of long-range savings on the present service of 1,587 meals a day on the average. With new, modern equipment and fully centralized service facilities, Wiles said, labor cost per meal could be reduced from a present figure of 11.7 cents to 8 cents, a saving of 3.7 cents a meal. During a 179-day year, he continued, 284,073 meals would be served for a total labor saving of $10,510.70 a year.

Food purchases now come to around $50,000 a year, he pointed out. With the system he's proposing, bulk purchases with improved refrigeration and storage facilities would result in a 5 percent annual saving in food costs, or $2,500 a year.

Combined savings in labor and food purchase over 10 years, he said, would then come to more than $130,000.

IF THE board felt that it wasn't in a position, financially, to undertake the entire conversion project at one time, Wiles said, it could be phased out over several years. If the remodeling and re-equipping of the high school cafeteria were done initially, he said, a total 10-year saving of $65,000 might be realized.

Purchase of a truck to transport food to the outlying schools, service equipment and other items necessary for complete centralization could be made later.

He said that the cost to the board of the preliminary survey he proposed would come to about $1,400.

After discussing the project, directors decided to have Wiles go ahead with the preliminary survey.

No Puppet Show Ticket Sales Allowed

The Winona Board of Education has interpreted its policy of not permitting children in the public schools to be solicited—in schools—for various fund drives to preclude a sale of tickets for a scholarship benefit show.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson, in his monthly report to the board Monday, said that he had been approached by the Winona chapter of the American Association of University Women which is planning presentation of a puppet show, proceeds of which would be used to finance a scholarship program.

The AAUW wishes to sell tickets to children in the schools, Nelson said, and after he'd advised them of the policy the organization asked if the matter could be brought before the board for consideration.

Directors agreed that even though the work was being done to finance a scholarship program it fell within the general prohibition of the policy.

The board Monday night also approved the appointment of Mrs. A. G. Lackore, Glen Haven, as instructor for a course in stenography which is being offered in the vocational-technical school under terms of the federal Manpower Development and Training Act.

Mrs. Lackore will receive a salary of $628 for every four weeks of instruction for a period of up to 32 weeks. Nelson said that the salary was set in accordance with provisions of the fifth step on the teachers' salary schedule.

Districts Added To Arkansaw

ARKANSAW, Wis. (Special)—Two rural school districts in Town of Frankfort, which previously had not been attached to a high school district, were legally attached to Joint District 1, towns of Waterville, Frankfort and Waubeek, by action of the Pepin County school committee at the courthouse at Durand Thursday evening.

Announcement of the action was made by J. Newell Weiss, Menomonie, tri-county superintendent of schools. The joint district operates Arkansaw elementary and high school.

Action was taken under Section 40.035 of the statutes, Weiss said. The attachment includes area in the former Enlarged Porcupine-Sunnybrook School and Enlarged Ella-Oak Center School. Students from the districts have been attending Arkansaw High School on a tuition basis, Weiss said.

The action was taken by the school committee on its own motion.

Shopping Plaza

The site of a shopping plaza proposed for development in the West End is about one-quarter of a mile (approximately 1,300 feet) east of Clark's Lane, not one block east as stated in Sunday's report on progress of the project.

School Board Terminating Four on Staff

Notice of its intent to terminate the contracts of four members of the Winona public schools faculty at the end of the current year in accordance with policy making mandatory retirement of its employees at the age of 65 was drafted Monday night by the Board of Education.

Contract terminations would be effective June 7, although each of the teachers has the right to request a formal hearing on the action.

Covered in the notice prepared Monday were Mrs. Mildred Gilbertsen, Lincoln School; Mrs. Marion Krache, Washington-Kosciusko; Mrs. Herbert Honer, Central Elementary; and Davis Christensen, Senior High School.

Directors also asked that a letter of commendation be sent to Clarence L. Totman, 229 Grand St., who is retiring after longtime service on the public schools vocational agriculture advisory committee.

Appreciation was expressed for Totman's work with the advisory group which assists in the development of the curriculum for the vocational agriculture program.

Payrolls approved for payment were for:

Substitute teachers, $577.50; driver training instruction, $100; homebound instruction, $38.84; attendance teacher, $138.75; noon hour supervisors, $253.50; audio visual assistant, $14.25; cooks, $3; student cafeteria helpers, $123.15; and custodial help during the Christmas holiday season, $51.30. Overtime payments (totaling $294.79) were approved.

Wayne Albrecht was elected to replace Lindley Smith as a director. Officers and directors of the cooperative are: Kenneth Albrecht, president; Walter Jenkinson, vice president; Gregory Abnet, secretary; Garvin Sebo, treasurer; and Everett Larsen, Ervin Boettcher and Wayne Albrecht.

Millard Chab, Winona, State Department of Dairy and Foods, spoke to patrons at the annual meeting.

The creamery has met all requirements for a USDA full status. Walter Ruslad is plant manager; Joseph Mitchell, helper; and Mrs. Harvey Allen, bookkeeper.

Home Burns Near Arcadia

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—The four-room home of John Andre, 83, at North Creek, four miles northeast of Arcadia, was burned out in a fire of unknown origin Monday afternoon.

Loss of furniture and Andre's clothing, plus damage to the house, was estimated by firemen at $8,000. Some insurance was carried.

ANDRE'S favorite rocking chair was dragged from the ruins in hopes of saving it, but it was afire and burned.

Andre, living alone, said he got up from his rocker to go to the pantry about 2:30 p.m. to fill his pipe, walked to the stove to get a light, and the ceiling seemed to be falling in on him.

He rushed out of the house with out wraps. Ed Gaudera, a neighbor, saw the fire and his mother, Mrs. Sophie Gaudera, called Arcadia firemen. It was impossible to save the contents, but the shell of the house remains, although the roof is gone.

At 12:30 a.m. today neighbors saw flames coming from the peak of the residence again and called firemen back, who stayed on the scene until 1:30. Four tanks of water were used on the structure this morning. Firemen took the Town of Glencoe tanker to the scene with their own equipment returning to Arcadia from two more loads.

ANDRE SAID the fire broke out quickly. His grandson, Danny Andre, had just been to his house with the mail. A next door neighbor, Mrs. Oscar Misch, and three farmers driving by in cars and tractors noticed nothing but smoke the ceiling began to fall. Two rooms were located on each of two floors of the residence.

Someone in the neighborhood put a coat and an em on Mr. Andre. He now is staying with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Burt, Arcadia. He had lived alone since his wife died two years ago in March.

WIDER STREET, DRAINAGE

State Offers Aid On Gilmore Avenue

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

State highway department participation in upgrading poorly drained segment of Gilmore Avenue was virtually assured Monday night in a meeting of department and city officials.

Charles E. Burrill, Rochester, district highway engineer, said the state would pay roughly three-fourths of the cost of resurfacing, curb and gutter and storm sewer installation on Gilmore between Sunset Drive and Highway 61.

A QUICK ESTIMATE by city officials put the total cost at about $30,000. The project proposal involves about 1,500 feet of the avenue which serves concurrently as part of U.S. Highway 14.

Burrill said right of way has been acquired for a new Highway 14 cutoff beginning at St. Mary's College and joining Highway 61 at Pelzer street. He gave no date for this construction but said the state is reluctant to improve the present highway and then abandon it for a new route.

Widening of the Gilmore Avenue roadway to 44 feet would not mean displacement of any standing trees, according to the city engineer's office. Previous proposals for street reconstruction have met with residents' objection on the ground that tree removal would be involved.

CITY OFFICIALS expect the proposed construction to control runoff waters which frequently inundate nearby properties and parts of the highway following heavy rains. The Sunset Drive area is the dividing point for the flow of surface water. City Engineer James Baird said, "Drainage east of Sunset is toward the intersection of Highways 14 and 61," he said, "while overflow to the west is carried to Gilmore creek."

Subject to highway department approval, plans will call for a 44-foot bituminous covered roadway with curb, gutters, catch basins and adequate storm sewer capacity.

Burrill hesitated to make firm commitments but agreed with city officials' description of the situation as critical. He did not, however, veto the suggestion that the work could be done this year.

CONSTRUCTION would include excavation on each side of the present concrete roadway and installation of 10-foot-wide base and bituminous strips whose edges would adjoin the curbing. The whole roadway, including the concrete center lanes, would be overlaid with an asphalt wearing course.

The state would pay all costs of the center 24 feet, 75 per cent of the costs of other construction, Burrill said.

Adjoining property owner apparently would be assessed for the city's share of curb and gutter construction. Their cost would be about 75 cents per running foot, according to the city engineer's office, which said present costs of construction total about $3 per foot.

Burrill also hinted at possible future redesigning of the Highway 14-61 intersection and installation of new signals there. He said a new plan, similar to the Mankato Avenue-Highway 61 intersection layout, is needed.

DISCUSSING POSSIBLE improvement of Sarnia Street, from Main Street to Mankato Avenue, Burrill said adequate drainage must be the first consideration. Extensive reconstruction of this part of Highway 43 is at least three years away, he said.

Another project which will get attention this year is the drainage ditch on the west side of the Mankato Avenue dike road. Burrill said state and city steel equipment and personnel could do the job on a cooperative basis this summer.

The ditch, leading from the Hot Fish Shop to the Lake Winona outlet, will be redesigned with gentle slopes and seeded or sodded. Burrill added that this would harmonize with landscaping of the Community Memorial Hospital grounds.

ALDERMEN GOT a sample of Highway Department thinking when they inquired about availability of state aid in rebuilding the Huff Street dike road. Burrill said highway department planners habitually think five years or more in the future almost as if it were tomorrow.

As a state-aid street, he said, Huff Street improvements would be eligible for such funds providing certain standards were met. One of these is a minimum 44-foot width. Present width of the dike road is 24 feet, plus a five-foot sidewalk on each side.

A decision should be made, Burrill said, whether Huff Street or Mankato Avenue will be the main entrance to the city for Highway 43. When Interstate 90 is completed in the early 1970s, there will be marked changes in traffic patterns between Winona and the nearest interchange at Wiscasset, Burrill said.

As now foreseen by the state, major improvements will be needed for Highway 43 to handle heavier flow of traffic. In their musings, highway engineers have even considered tunneling under the Garvin Heights bluffs and rerouting Highway 43 thereby and into the city via Huff Street.

If no changes in routings are made, Burrill said, Mankato Avenue will carry much of the Highway 43-Interstate 90 traffic. In any event, he said, the determination should be made within a year.

TRAFFIC COUNTS should be made continually, he said, and efforts made to think today in terms of 1968 by city officials. Thoroughfare plans should be reviewed to see what is justified, Burrill added.

Noting the obvious need for early repair of the Huff Street dike road, Street Commissioner Arthur Burm asked about future state aid credits if the city did the job itself. Burrill said if the city completed the work satisfactorily without waiting for state programming and planning—a matter of three to four years—state aid could be granted on the municipality on the accepted percentage basis.

IN OTHER business Monday, directors approved a $745 change order in the contract with Best Electric Co. for work done in the Senior High School remodeling project.

The change order covers installation of electrical fixtures and other work in the basement remodeling job.

2 Accidents; Police Cite 3 Drivers

Two minor traffic accidents occurred in Winona Monday afternoon. Three of the four drivers involved received citations.

The first of the two accidents was a two-car collision at East Sarnia and Lafayette streets at 3:35 p.m. Both drivers were cited following the accident.

David E. Rosebraugh, 22, 228 E. Sarnia St., was driving east on Sarnia Street and Alois Simon, 476, Center St., was driving south of Lafayette.

Simon was cited for failure to yield the right of way causing an accident and Rosebraugh was cited for driving with an expired driver's license.

Damage was more than $50 to Rosebraugh's car and less than $50 to Simon's car. Neither driver was injured.

Thirty-five minutes later a car-pickup truck accident occurred on East Sarnia Street about 500 feet west of Hamilton Street.

The pickup was driven by Roy S. McElmury, 602 E. Howard St., and the car was driven by Melvin C. Benter, 23, Sugar Loaf. Both were driving east on Sarnia Street.

McElmury started to turn left into a driveway and was struck on the rear left side by Benter's truck. Benter had started to pass and had not seen the turn signal on the truck, said police.

Damage was about $10 to the truck and more than $200 to Benter's car. Neither driver was injured. McElmury was cited for driving with no chauffeur's license.

DISCUSSING POSSIBLE improvement of Sarnia Street, from Main Street to Mankato Avenue, Burrill said adequate drainage must be the first consideration. Extensive reconstruction of this part of Highway 43 is at least three years away, he said.

Light Snow Will Continue; 25 Wednesday

Light, intermittent snow fell over the Winona area today and additional snow flurries are predicted for tonight and Wednesday.

Variable cloudiness and generally little change in temperature is the outlook with a low of 8 to 15 tonight and a high of 25 Wednesday.

Little change is in the forecast for Thursday.

Winona had a high of 19 Monday afternoon, a low of 4 during the night, 8 at 7 a.m. and 18 at noon.

INTERNATIONAL FALLS and Bemidji again reported below zero readings with lows this morning of -15 and -10, respectively. Rochester had a morning figure of 8 after a Monday high of 13 and La Crosse posted readings of 9 and 20 for the same times.

It was snowing or cloudy at most reporting stations.

Minnesota and Wisconsin traffic officials reported main highways generally in good winter driving condition with the exception of blowing snow and slippery conditions in spots.

A year ago today Winona had a high of 32 and a low of 22. Alltime high for Feb. 12 was 65 in 1882 and the low for the -27 in 1875. Mean for the past 24 hours was 11 with the normal for the day 19.

Today marked the return of an unwelcome guest to the Wisconsin weather scene — below zero temperature. And there also was light snow.

The lowest temperature reported in the state as well as the nation during the night was 18 below at Lone Rock. Other lows included Stevens Point 15 below, Madison 9 below, Green Bay 8 below, Beloit-Rockford 4 below, Milwaukee airport 6 below, Wausau 1 below, Eau Claire zero, Racine 2 above.

Racine had the highest temperature Monday, 23, with 21 at Lone Rock, 20 at Milwaukee airport, Green Bay and Wausau, 19 at Eau Claire and Park Falls, 18 at Madison and Beloit-Rockford area, 15 at Superior-Duluth.

SOME LIGHT snow was reported this morning at Duluth, Wausau, Green Bay, La Crosse, Lone Rock, Madison and Ashland.

The nation's high Monday was 85 at Cleveland and Ocala, Fla.

St. Charles School Board Increases Teacher Salaries

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special)—A new salary schedule was adopted by St. Charles School board at a meeting Monday night.

A decision on extra classrooms outside the school building was deferred to the March meeting. The district now rents eight extra classrooms on account of crowded conditions.

A salary raise of $300 for Superintendent Roy Belsaas was unanimously adopted following a motion by Chairman John Hynes, with second by Frank Koch. This will increase his salary to $10,700 for next year.

Other salaries were raised 4 1/2 percent.

Four-year graduates presently earn between $4,600, the starting salary, and $6,877. Increases are in 11 steps.

Fifty-year teachers start at $4,830 and increase in 11 increments to $7,107. Teachers with master's degrees start at $4,876 and can increase to $7,567.

The schedule was amended to provide for salaries between $4,100 and $5,543 for teachers with three years of college, providing they continue their education at the rate of six credit hours by each June.

Total increases allowed the eight coaches and assistant coaches for the 11 sports in the curriculum were adopted at $475. The two agriculture teachers, music, home economics and driver's training instructors were raised from $400 to $450 for summer work.

Total cost to the district next year of these salary increases will be $15,304.

At 101 He Remembers Having Bad Earache

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—The family of Anton Schuth, rural Wabasha, will gather at his home Wednesday to celebrate his 101st birthday.

Perhaps Anton will receive a congratulatory telegram from President Kennedy this year too. He did on his 100th birthday last year. Schuth is vitally interested in politics, following current events by radio because of blindness. He's never missed voting since he cast his first vote in the U.S. for President Grover Cleveland.

BORN AT Hanover, Germany, Feb. 13, 1862, he came to this country at 16 and worked on several Passé farms in this area. In 1888 he married Caroline Evers and settled on his farm in Greenfield Township, 3 1/2 miles southeast of Wabasha. His wife died in 1943. His daughter, Augusta, takes care of him.

Although blind for 12 years, Schuth vows he enjoys life as much as ever and is in good health. He hasn't been sick a single day since his last birthday, and has never been in a hospital except as a visitor. He has required medical attention only once. It was for anorexia when he was 90.

Of his 12 children, six are living. His four daughters are Mrs. Carl Gohl, Lake City, and Mrs. Chrislana Stamsdore, Mrs. Paul Bohrs and Augusta, Wabasha. His two sons are Nath, who runs his father's farm, and Henry, Waba-sha. Two sons and four daughters have died.

OF HIS 20 grandchildren, two are sons: Sister Mary Katarina of the Franciscan order at Assisi Heights, Rochester, daughter of the Math Schuths, and Sister St. Jerome of St. Mary's Hospital, Minneapolis, daughter of Mrs. Stam-schur.

Schuth has 45 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

Loss of furniture and Andre's clothing, plus damage to the house, was estimated by firemen at $8,000

It Happened Last Night Jackie Kennedy Upsets Broadway

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Don't stop the world for me... I don't want to get off. I love the crazy place.

It's that place where Jackie Kennedy can upset Broadway for a whole night by getting reservations for a show ("Beyond the Fringe") then deciding at 7:30 p.m. to cancel her reservations. What turmoil! What a crowd — for the Jackie that wasn't there.

Photographers waited — curious admirers of Jackie's jammed 45th St. in front of the Golden Theater — extra cops waited around, fretting — young Peter Cook, one of the stars of the show, was enormously disappointed; for Jackie'd asked him to get seats for her party — restaurants were thronged by midnight crowds expecting her.

"Jackie's gone to another show," ran one rumor. "Jackie's gone to the 21 Club." "Jackie's gone to El Morocco to dance," cracked a third.

The true one probably was this: "Jackie's gone to bed."

One more JFK story via Playwright Howard Teichmann: "When anybody in the Kennedy family gets annoyed at the President, they say, 'Jack, what's the matter with you? Are you off your rocker?'"

THE WORLD'S also a place where a comedian like Jackie Gleason (these Jackies stay in the news) can become an authority on extra sensory perception—and poltergeists (ghosts that make their presence known by moving objects about and causing a great clatter).

Gleason's read dozens of books on the supernatural and isn't willing yet to believe that mediums are really magicians.

Jackie discusses it for hours with his aides—one of whom is "Snag" Werris, former president of the Am. Society of Magicians.

"I'm just studying. I haven't decided anything," says Gleason.

One big TV star, with scientific background, is convinced that ghosts move furniture around to disturb him. He has interrupted conferences to shout, "They're at it again! See that lampshade moving!"

HIS FRIENDS don't see the lampshade moving but he does. It gets real spooky.

Young Mr. Sal Mineo's very distinguished-looking in the coal black beard he wears for the part of Uriah in "The Greatest Story Ever Told." Seeing him in his beard at Danny's Hideaway, with the cute blonde Jill Haworth, I asked her, "Does it scratch?" He started to answer. "I'm not asking you—I'm asking her," I said. Jill said: "And I'm not talking!"

"You know what I'm going to do with the money from my tax cut?" asked Dick Gregory. "Pay my taxes."

The U.S. Brewers Ass'n. invited Comedian Alan King to address their convention at the Americana—and he ribbed them. "You guys are just peddling hangover medicine," he said. "Beer's just the stuff you drink in the morning to get over the hard stuff you drank the night before to get over the beer you drank that morning." Continuing his campaign against doctors who are too busy to see patients, he claimed he phoned one medico about an urgent ailment. "How about a week from next Tuesday?" asked the M.D. "Fine," replied King. "I'll have the hearse drop me off."

EARL'S PEARLS: "Reports from New York are that the New York Mets are to be telecast in living color. They might look better that way." (Bill Reddy)

REMEMBERED QUOTES: "The Gaiety Delicatessen is so small that they have to carry the liver-wurst in endways." (Fred Allen)

Successful Contest — Pretty favorable weather put a lot of fishermen on the ice in the various contests held in this area. The Winona Rod and Gun Club event on Straight Slough had the usual good attendance as did the Blair Lions Club and Dodge Sportsmen's Club events.

The usual number of fish were caught and, of course, as at Dodge, nearly everybody got a prize. Dodge introduced a new trick into their contest—a large beer tent where attendance prizes were given and beer and lunch were served. It is shown in the background of the above picture of a section of the contest. "Let the wind blow, let it get cold, we don't care. We are enjoying the fishing contest with the protection of the big tent." The photo is by George Meyers.

Record Northern — A 19-pound, 12-ounce northern, the second big fish of the week, was entered in the Sportsman's Tavern fish contest over the weekend. It was caught by Ralph Pierinton, Rochester.

No details on where or how the fish was caught was recorded at the tavern. However, it ranks as the top northern entered there since the contest was started more than ten years ago.

The big walleye of the weekend was caught by George Peterson, 520 Winona St. It tipped the scales at seven pounds, three ounces. It was caught below the Winona Dam on a jig.

Quite a few walleyes were brought into the tavern for weighing, none of these large fish tipping the scales over seven pounds, although we had reports of a few that went up to nine pounds. Probably fish stories.

Fishing generally was slow over the weekend. There were a few good spots found by a few wandering fishermen. In fact, sunfish limits were common from Bartlett's Lake. The Springs, up near Weaver, also was productive.

Catfish still held the limit light at the lower end of Lake Pepin. They were getting them quite regularly when the big school was located. The fish run about 4 pounds, and were being caught on sonars, ruled a legal bait for this type of fishing in about 40 feet of water.

Coon Club Organized — Forty-three attended the organization meeting of the Hiawatha Valley Coon and Fox Club at Golfview Restaurant, Rushford, Sunday afternoon. Twenty-seven took out memberships. Minnesota, Western Wisconsin and northern Iowa were represented at the gathering.

James Carver, St. Paul, was elected president; Robert Holbeck, Bass Camp, vice president; Mrs. James Carver, St. Paul, secretary; John LaBarre, Winona, treasurer; Richard Schultz, Dakota, first field marshal; Orlow Barrett, La Crosse, second field marshal.

Tentative plans were made for holding the first trial early in April. The place and date was left to the officers of the club. An effort will be made to build the $3 membership up to at least 100 members, so there will be a satisfactory operating fund.

German Immigration Into Winona County To Be Topic for Society — The history of German immigration into Winona County will be discussed at a meeting of the Winona County Historical Society next week Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Speaker at St. Martin's Lutheran School will be the Rev. R. P. Korn, assistant pastor of the church.

He was born in Russia of German parentage and came to America at the age of 3.

WEAVER PATIENT — WEAVER, Minn. (Special)—Mrs. Carrie Olson has returned home from St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Wabasha.

People all over the nation began 50-mile hikes when President Kennedy challenged the Marines to meet a 55-year old fitness standard set in 1908 by President Teddy Roosevelt who said Marine officers should be able to walk 50 miles over a three-day period.

Five Boy Scout who hiked across the southern part of the state, a Marine captain from Milwaukee and an Army ROTC cadet from Milwaukee were others who passed the test in Wisconsin.

DEAR ABBY:

Strike Him Off List for Awhile

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and have been engaged to a boy my age for the past year. He plays in four bowling leagues and besides that he bowls jackpots after league twice a week. He never takes me anywhere except to the bowling alley and sometimes I have sat through 20 games a night. We set our wedding date for April, but the more I think of it the more I think he should settle down before we get married. All he wants to talk about is bowling. I wonder if you think he would be a good guy to marry?

SICK OF BOWLING

DEAR SICK: Marriage has enough problems without adding a 16-pound bowling ball to it. Your young man is much too bowling-happy for marriage at the moment. Marry him only if you plan to start out with plenty of strikes against you.

DEAR ABBY: Suddenly one of my closest girl friends started acting very cool and distant to me. Twice I asked her what the trouble was. After two frigid "nothings" I realized it was ME she was mad at. Her coolness continued so I finally apologized for anything I might have done wrong. I honestly haven't the faintest idea how I offended her. She continues to treat me like a stranger and I can't understand it as she has always been a very thoughtful and understanding person. What can I do to patch things up?

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Nothing! You have overestimated the girl. No truly "thoughtful and understanding" person would suddenly give a friend the cold shoulder without telling her why and giving her a chance to defend herself.

DEAR ABBY: When a girl asks a boy to a party, is she supposed to pick up the boy, or should he pick her up? Or should they just meet there? Many girls would like to know. CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: When a girl invites a boy to a party, she is merely asking HIM to be her escort. The boy always calls for the girl.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd put a few lines in your column about people who say, "My but you look nice TODAY!" I always wonder if I looked a mess yesterday.

BOTHERED

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THINK YOU'RE A PHONY": Sorry, but everyone who has ever written to me and enclosed a self-addressed, stamped envelope for my personal reply has received one.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Austin Man Killed, Truck Hits Bridge

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP)—A rural Austin farmer was killed early today when his pickup truck smashed into a bridge on a county road near Moscow, about 12 miles northeast of Austin.

He was Harold Sioa, 42, driving alone.

The death was Minnesota's 50th highway fatality of the year, compared with 60 a year ago.

600 More May Be Leaving Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—About 600 Cubans are expected to get permission to leave the country aboard the American freighter Santo Cerro, which is unloading medical supplies here, diplomatic sources said today.

The Swiss Embassy had no comment on the report. The em-

The ship arrived here Sunday with another installment of the $3 million ransom for the 1,115 invaders, prisoners, released by Prime Minister Fidel Castro in December.

Kennedy Calls for National Nuclear Test Agreements

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH GENEVA (AP)—President Kennedy called today for the conclusion of a safeguarded nuclear test ban agreement that would promote confidence and trust among the nations.

In a message to the disarmament conference, the President also urged the delegates to adopt measures to reduce the risk of war by accident, miscalculation or failure of communication.

His message was read to the conference by the chief American disarmament negotiator, William C. Foster.

Kennedy said agreement on a test ban treaty "does not lie within easy reach" but declared that "prospects seem somewhat more encouraging."

Shortly before the conference opened after a long recess Britain's chief negotiator said the Western powers may be willing to scale down still further the number of on-site inspections needed to control a nuclear test ban. But there was no indication the United States was ready for such a stand.

Always Free Parking At Mark and Center Streets

Must Be Attractive

WHEN INTERSTATE Highways 90 and 94 are completed in the vicinity of Tomah, Wis., that community will be a hub on the great new highway system. But because traffic will be diverted from the main street, some businessmen there have become worried — just as some Wabasha business places are worried because new four-lane Highway 61 undoubtedly will be relocated west of the Milwaukee Railroad tracks in that area.

But businesses actually have nothing to fear when a new highway bypasses their community, according to Vere Fiedler, secretary of the Wisconsin State Highway Commission. Fiedler, a native of Tomah, talked to 200 members of the Tomah Advancement Association last week. His remarks should be of interest to Wabasha and other communities which will be skirted by modern highways. Said he:

"Make the entrances to Tomah from the Interstate Highway attractive, put forth just a little extra in service, provide adequate facilities for the traveling public and you have nothing to fear in loss of business."

AT TOMAH, Interstate 90 will continue northward to Eau Claire and the Twin Cities via Hudson, Wis., while Interstate 94 cuts off on its westward route to Onalaska, Dresbach, Dakota, Wilson, Austin, Albert Lea and the West Coast.

Fiedler assured his listeners that when congested traffic is relieved, as through traffic bypasses the city, parking facilities will be improved and general traffic will form a normal pattern.

This, he said, will induce more local business. He advocated an expansion of advertising for business offering food, lodging and other facilities patronized by a traveling public.

Fiedler cited the experiences of Sun Prairie, north of Madison, and Faribault, Minn., cities which have been bypassed by interstate highways. He said their gross business volume increased.

TOMAH IS in an enviable position, Fiedler noted, as he pointed to the fact that it forms the hub of the intersection of I-90 from the west and I-94 from the south. He produced a map showing the nation's Interstate system, and on the Wisconsin map only the cities of Milwaukee, Madison and Tomah were indicated.

Speaking of interchanges, Fiedler said three have been planned for the Tomah area, making it easy to stop off at Tomah.

Reviewing the scheduling, Fiedler said that within the next three months $4.6 million in contracts is expected to be let for the stretch from the completed portion at Wisconsin Dells to Tomah through Juneau and Monroe counties. He said the Feb. 19 contracts call for grading and structures on nine projects would be let. The figure is expected to total $2.5 million.

MARCH 29 BIDS will be considered for seven contracts totaling about $1.8 million from Tomah north to STH 21, and April 16 contracts calling for bridges to the north intersection, totaling a quarter million, are to be let.

By the fall of 1963, Fiedler predicted that the highway from Wisconsin Dells to Tomah would be ready for concrete surfacing and that it could be started in May 1964, opening the interstate from Beloit to Tomah.

Fiedler estimated that by the fall of 1964 the half-way point in Wisconsin's Interstate highway system of 452 miles would be completed. If the time table, as set up with the State Highway Commission is met, 289 miles of the highway would be completed in 1964.

Fiedler discussed the progress of I-90 and said the next step would be construction of two bridges across the Black River to connect with old U. S. Highway 16 at La Crosse. He said the highway from Pauver Hill School to the Minnesota line is scheduled for 1965-66 and from Pauver School to Sparta in 1966-67.

He said the I-94 stretch from Eau Claire to Hixton is set for 1966-67.

THE STRETCH from Sparta to Tomah, set for 1969-70, is the tail end of the project, according to Fiedler.

How Would You Answer This One?

NOW AND AGAIN we've all come across a column or overheard a remark that echoed our own thoughts so well that all we could say was, "How true!"

Such a one, in our estimation, is the letter from a La Crescent wife and mother.

Mrs. Sugg tells a little of what it's like to live in one state and work in another in these days, when legislatures spend half their time devising ways to tap the pocket of every passerby.

SHE WONERS about the Wisconsin income tax for a Minnesota resident (and the Wisconsin sales tax, if her family shops in La Crosse); the prospect of a Minnesota sales tax soon; rising property taxes; the steeper Social Security rates.

And she asks about that federal tax "cut" which for many families will be no cut at all after those loopholes are closed.

BUT MOST OF all she wonders about governors and Presidents who seem to be so busy with new "needs" and projects that they lose sight of what the average taxpayer — who must foot these tax bills — faces already.

And she'd like to be told, in understand-

Venezuela's Chief Coming

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—Of all the heads of government who will parade to Washington to sit down with President Kennedy it is safe to say that none will come on a more important mission than the President of Venezuela.

Ostensibly, Romulo Betancourt will be returning to the Kennedy visit, of December 1961. But when he arrives on Feb. 19 it will be far more than the traditional state occasion of pomp and circumstance. For Venezuela is the principal target of communism and Castroism in the hemisphere.

If Betancourt, who has stood up to attempted assassination, sabotage and every other tactic of violence and subversion, should be overthrown, it would be a spectacular triumph. Last month on the fifth anniversary of the overthrow of the dictator, Marcos Perez Jimenez, whom Betancourt succeeded by nationwide election, one of Cuba's old-line Communists spoke with remarkable frankness. Blas Roca, welcoming a Venezuelan delegation and predicting the overthrow of Betancourt, said:

"We will then cease to be the solitary nation in the Caribbean to stand facing the Yankee imperialists and we will have a nation united with us on the continent of South America."

HE EXPRESSED the gratitude of the Castro regime for the "demonstration of solidarity" shown by the acts of sabotage carried out in Venezuela at the time of the Cuban crisis last October. Several of the principal power installations of the Creole Petroleum Company, a Standard Oil subsidiary, on Lake Maracaibo, were blown up at that time.

Venezuela is almost entirely dependent on petroleum for foreign earnings. That is why any change in the import controls regulating the flow of oil into this country is a matter of vital importance. Betancourt was dismayed by a new regulation issued in December which seemed to cut down importation of crude oil. He was later persuaded that Venezuela would be able to maintain its share of the market in this country and expand with the market.

EVEN THOUGH a number of saboteurs and armed Communists belonging to the paramilitary wing of the party known as the National Army of Liberation have been arrested, little evidence has been found of direct help from Cuba. Early in 1962 in the baggage of a Venezuelan leftist returning from Havana a quantity of plastic explosive was found. But this is one of the few instances when evidence of such direct help has come to light.

The thesis preached by the Communists and the National Liberation Army is that good guerrillas do not rely on outside sources. The example of Mao Tse-tung and his revolutionary army living off the land is cited. Stalin and the early Bolsheviks followed the same tactics. So the Venezuelan conspirators are raiding police stations, sporting goods stores, banks and any other center which they believe they can shoot up and get away with arms and money.

FOR MONTHS it was touch-and-go whether Betancourt would survive. The situation has improved since the Kennedy administration's strong stand over the Soviet missiles.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Abe Lincoln Would Talk About Poverty, Wealth

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A lot of people will be writing about Abe Lincoln today and his goal of government of the people by the people, and for the people. They also will be speculating whether all of the people can be fooled how much of the time.

Things haven't changed very much since Abe Lincoln's day. In a dictatorship you have to keep a people quiet.

In a democracy you have to fool at least 51 percent of the people all of the time, or else fool all the people 51 percent of the time. And that's why you have such a giant network of public relations and advertising agencies on Madison Avenue trying to fool the people or, to use a more elegant word, "sell" them. That's also why you have an administration in the White House which watches its public relations almost more than any other in history.

But though Abe Lincoln had his ideas about fooling the people, the main battle he fought was that of wealth vs. poverty. His drive to free the slaves was really a battle against wealth, because the slaves of that era, the poorest people in the nation, nevertheless represented the greatest single property in the nation, the means of wealth for the property owners of the South.

If Lincoln were alive today, and in an ironic mood, he might rephrase one line of his Gettysburg Address to read: "Government of the wealthy, by the wealthy, and for the wealthy."

IF HE WERE alive he would be the first to study the figures of the commerce department and the recent books on poverty showing that about one-fifth of the American people live in poverty. And he would probably rephrase his words at the Illinois Republican convention to read: "A house divided against itself cannot stand. This government cannot endure permanently one-fourth in poverty, three-fourths in wealth."

Michael Harrington, author of "The Other America: poverty in the United States," estimates that 40 to 50 million Americans live in poverty.

"The poor," he says, "are increasingly slipping out of the experience and consciousness of the nation. If the middle class never did like ugliness and poverty, it was at least aware of them. Across the tracks" was not a very long way to go.

Now, the poor still inhabit the miserable housing in the central area, but they are increasingly isolated from contact with or the sight of anybody else. Living out in the suburbs, it is easy to assume that ours is an affluent society.

THE POOR are without lobbies. They put forward no legislative program. They have no face, no voice. Only the social agencies have a really direct involvement with the other America. Forty to 50 million people are becoming increasingly invisible."

Or again, Lincoln would be interested in reading "Wealth and Power in America" by Dr. Gabriel Kolko, in which he summarizes the budget of the average poor family.

"There is no telephone in the house," he writes, "but the family makes three pay calls a week. They buy one book a year and write one letter a week."

"The father buys one heavy suit every two years and one light wool suit every three years; the wife one suit every ten years or one skirt every five years. In 1950 the family spent $80 to $90 on all types of home furnishings, electric appliances, and laundry equipment. The entire family consumes a total of two five-cent ice cream cones, one five-cent candy bar, two bottles of soda, and one bottle of beer a week."

The Girls

"She's terribly piggyish. I eat in here six or seven times a day and she's always here."

Men Pray Together

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — They prayed together — men of all faiths and all parties, men of our government and other governments. The Chief Justice of the United States prayed along with the President and vice president, members of the cabinet and members of the Senate and House. Maybe they didn't utter an "official" prayer in the sense in which the term has been used by the Supreme Court in its recent case banning certain prayers in public schools. But it was a prayer by public men asking the help of God in these troubled times reasserting man's faith in the ever-present God who inspires the minds and hearts of human beings everywhere.

It was an impressive assembly of men and women convened by an organization known as the International Christian Leadership, which has for many years mobilized breakfast groups throughout the country. Designated now as "The Presidential Prayer Breakfast," it has become an annual event. This time it was televised by NBC, and there were coincidentally many similar breakfast meetings held by the governors of 40 states and by the mayors of several cities.

The language of those who spoke was that of the Christian gospel, but the doctrine of belief in a supreme being is embodied in the tenets of the many faiths represented by the 1,000 or more persons in the meeting room. For whether it was the Catholic faith of President Kennedy, or the Jewish faith of Associate Justice Arthur Goldberg of the Supreme Court, or the Protestant faith of Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, who presided, or the Moslem faith of the diplomatic representatives from some of the Asian countries, or the religions of the new African nations whose ambassadors were there, too, the assembly was the nearest thing to a universal brotherhood that could be gathered together in our times. Representatives from the parliaments of Great Britain, France, Sweden, West Germany, and Canada were guests, as well as the ambassador from Liberia, who is chairman of the Afro-Asian committee of the United Nations.

AS THE President sat there, listening intently to Evangelist Billy Graham and Vice President Lyndon Johnson before reading his own message, it was apparent that the chief executive, under strain and tension nowadays, welcomed the chance to relax a few moments in the atmosphere of peace and conciliation reflected in the assembly.

For prayer is not confined to any sect as a mode of articulating inner feeling. It is recognized everywhere as a natural human effort to express dedication to a force above one's self. But rarely, except in the churches, is there occasion for a laymen's meeting like this devoted solely to the idea of prayer. Here was a means of publicizing the significance of prayer and of giving the testimony of men and women of all faiths to its efficacy in everyday life.

"These breakfasts," said the President, "are dedicated to prayer and all of us believe in and need prayer."

"We cannot depend solely on our material wealth, on our military might, or on our intellectual skill or physical courage to see us safely through the seas that we must sail in the months and years to come. Along with all of these we need faith."

When Mr. Kennedy later addressed a separate breakfast meeting of the women attending the assembly, he said:

"I think these breakfasts serve a most useful cause in uniting us all on an occasion when we look not to ourselves but to above for assistance."

Evangelist Billy Graham, in his talk, said that the United States faces crises of such gravity that they might make the recent Cuban affair pale into insignificance. Such crises, he added, will test "the moral and spiritual toughness of this nation as it has not been tested since the Civil War."

WHEN Vice President Johnson spoke, he emphasized that, while church and state are separate in America, there is a union of thought and inspiration under God. He made reference to Gen. Washington's order to his troops at Valley Forge to give "the warmest returns of gratitude and piety to the supreme author." Mr. Johnson then said:

"It is in that spirit that we meet here this morning as members of Congress, the judiciary and the executive branches of the government of the United States. Our Constitution separates church and state. We know that separation is a source of our system's strength, but the conscience of our nation does not call for separation between men of state and faith in a supreme being."

Altogether, this presidential

Will There Be More Daylight Debate?

After spending many days of debate in 1961, our State Legislature decided on a daylight saving time that was about as fair to everyone concerned as possible.

Now we are beginning to hear rumblings that there should be more debate in our 1963 Legislature on daylight time. The argument is, that we should have the same time as Wisconsin. That part of the argument is true enough.

The question then comes, which time is the fairest to all concerned? Some of our headaches in this daylight saving time are our transportation systems, where they have to make schedules to fit all states. Another point is our school bus service.

It does not seem fair, and it surely is not safe to make our first graders meet the school bus in the dark hours of morning.

As far as I am personally concerned it does not make any difference how the hands of the clock are pushed around. I get so much pleasure in meeting the sun in the golden hours of morning, that the hands of the clock make no difference.

To my knowledge there is no law telling an individual when he or she should start or end a day's work; we still have that freedom. And in regard to an industrial plant, I have not heard of a law that prohibits the plant from starting an hour earlier and closing an hour earlier when it is agreeable to both employer and employee.

In these troublesome times of disturbed peace, let's not ask our branches of government to debate on small things that we as a government by the people can settle between ourselves.

prayer breakfast was one of the most impressive of those held annually for the last 11 years. It is heartening to see Republicans and Democrats, representatives of foreign nations as well as our own worshippers in every faith—sitting down together and, through the medium of voluntary prayer, seeking divine guidance in an era of trouble and anxiety involving the fate of all mankind.

Waiting For the Repairman

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—I've yet to test the statement that a watched pot never boils. But I can say with certainty that any delivery man or repair man I start watching for in the morning never appears till the middle of the afternoon.

Surely they show up bright and early at somebody's house, but for far that somebody hasn't happened to be me. No matter how often I change my address, my place on every service man's route seems to remain the same—at the end.

The worst part of it is that because no repair man worthy of his tools will ever commit himself beyond "sometime between 8:30 in the morning and late in the afternoon" I don't dare leave the premises for a moment.

Of course this waiting game never happens to be played on a day that's so unpleasant you wouldn't even want to see the income tax man out in it. No—the day is always the first sunny one of the week, with a big sale on at the supermarket besides.

If I'm expecting a delivery—anything from a small package to a new sofa—I work vigorously getting ready for it. The house gets a better cleaning than if my husband's boss were coming to dinner. I really don't expect the delivery man to insist on a room-by-room inspection, but I want to be sure the quick glance he gets impresses him with my good housekeeping.

It's just as well that none so far has requested a formal tour.

Storm, Rain Halt

Sattelite Launching

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An overnight rain and lightning storm which kept workmen off the launching pad forced a 24-hour postponement—until early Thursday—of an attempt to launch the Syncom communications satellite. The shot had been scheduled for 12:01 a.m. Wednesday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported that the launch crew had been unable to do preliminary work on the rocket and payload because of the danger posed by lightning, which accompanied heavy rain. Officials had expressed doubt earlier that the Wednesday launch date could be met because of predicted high altitude winds which could affect the Delta booster rocket.

News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to hold a news conference at 4 p.m. EST Thursday. He met with newsmen last Thursday.

By the time my neatly uniformed visitor arrives, every room is littered with coats, school books, empty coffee cups, half-eaten peanut butter sandwiches and neighborhood kids.

I guess I should be grateful, though, for the fix-it men who will at least tell me what day I will have the honor of their presence. We recently tried to pin an electronics expert down as to when he might be willing to give our electric organ a checkup. He couldn't name the exact day because he had to wait until he called in our area.

He finally showed up all right—right in the middle of a dinner party we were giving.

School Board OKS Class in Welding

Recruitment of students for a training class in arc welding to be offered by the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School under provisions of the federal Manpower Development and Training Act began today following action by the Board of Education Monday night approving the addition of the course to the vocational-technical school curriculum.

Fourteen will be enrolled in the class to be organized sometime early in March. A. L. Nelson, superintendent of schools, and R. H. Brown, manager of the Winona office of the Minnesota State Employment Service, announced today.

A REQUEST for organization of the arc welding class was submitted to the school board earlier this month after an occupational survey made last fall by the employment service indicated a need in the Winona area for men skilled in this trade. The class will be fully financed by the federal government from funds made available through the manpower development and training act. The program is designed to train unemployed and underemployed persons who wish to improve their skills.

This is the second class organized here under terms of the act. A week ago, students in a class in stenography began a 32-week course.

ASKED BY SCHOOL directors Monday night how long the arc welding course will run, Nelson said that no definite decision had been made but tentative plans called for 24 weeks.

As in the stenography course, there will be no fees charged students. All materials, supplies, tools and equipment, as well as the cost of instruction, will be financed by the federal government.

Recruitment of applicants for the course will be handled by the employment service.

Brown said that there are no age restrictions and any man from the Winona area is eligible to apply. It's expected that most of the applicants will be from the three-county area served by the Winona office—Winona, Houston and Wabasha counties—the Rushford area and persons living in nearby Wisconsin communities.

"INQUIRIES have been received from Red Wing and Rochester," Brown said, "and, because the Winona course will be the only one in arc welding offered in Southern Minnesota, some applicants will be accepted from those communities."

Persons selected for training may be eligible for a training allowance based on the average un-

Navy Set to Keep Rickover

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ten years ago, the Navy was on the verge of ousting Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover. Now it's thinking of keeping him on after retirement age.

Rickover, acclaimed as the father of the nuclear-powered submarine, will reach that age, 64, next January. The Defense Department disclosed Monday that Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth has the question of Rickover's future "under active consideration."

No decision has been made, it added, because the admiral's retirement date is still almost a year off.

Annapolis-graduate Rickover almost got the heave-ho for rocking the boat. By the time he had reached captain he had stepped on enough Navy toes that his promotion to admiral was twice passed over, which would have meant retirement. Congressional pressure saved his career. Rickover got his star and the Navy got its first nuclear sub.

THIS CALLS FOR A GAS WATER HEATER

Kids dirty up clothes and hands and faces and arms and legs and feet so fast it leaves you breathless. It also leaves you without enough hot water to cope with this kind of clean up job, unless you have a new gas hot water heater. You can wash load after load of clothes, scrub boy after girl, and never run out of hot water when you heat it with gas. The reason is a simple one: the moment you turn the tap a searing hot flame strikes the water heater tank to replace the hot water you're using. Nothing has to warm up. You have instant recovery. The direct application of flame also keeps your water really hot. The kind of hot that helps get the grime out of clothes and off of faces. So take a tip from the boy scout motto and "be prepared." Get a new gas water heater. Incidentally, they cost so much less to operate than the other kind you'll save enough money to send the kids to camp.

Minneapolis Man Held In Killing

PASCO, Wash. (AP)—A 35-year-old man was held on a second degree murder charge today in the death of a Minneapolis woman whose body was found in a hotel closet here. She apparently had been strangled.

Police said Walter G. Travis made an oral confession to the slaying of Mrs. Stella Kager, about 45.

Travis was picked up Tuesday on a drunken driving charge north of Titusville. State Patrolman Lloyd G. Danielson said Travis blurted out a confession he had killed Mrs. Kager and left her body in a Pasco hotel.

Danielson said Travis gave no reason for the crime. He was brought to Pasco where police found the woman's body in a hotel closet. They said she apparently had been strangled sometime Monday.

Travis said Mrs. Kager had accompanied him to Pasco from Minneapolis last week. A registration clerk at the Harbortel in Minneapolis confirmed that both Travis and Mrs. Kager, a widow, had been residents of the hotel but had been missing since Friday.

Hot Reception Awaits Powell

Cong. Powell
Colleagues Aroused

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Adam Clayton Powell returns to Washington from sunny Puerto Rico he is liable to find the capital can be just as warm—even in winter.

For the Democratic chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee will have to face the wrath of his committee colleagues, the scorn of a senator and the displeasure of the administration.

Powell, 53, who is equally at home in the pulpit of the Negro Baptist church he heads in New York City, the political clubs of Harlem, and the plush night clubs of two continents, has managed to outrange the sensibilities of an impressive number of people in the past.

A combination of charm, gall and pride has enabled him to act as if he couldn't even hear their angry cries. Now that he has stirred up so many antagonists at once, these traits may not be enough to keep out the rising din of criticism.

The soft voice of Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., rising from the Senate floor, has spoken loudest, calling Powell an authority on "adult delinquency," criticizing his trip abroad with two "lady friends" at government expense and questioning the propriety of several government financial transactions favorable to Powell.

The muttered comments of Education and Labor Committee members, who feel he has now outdone himself in shirking responsibility, could prove far more wounding to the prideful Powell.

Potentially most threatening of all to his continued jaunty progress through the House is the still unspoken feeling of some members that Powell is bringing all Congress into disrepute and must be curbed.

His latest troubles began last week. On Monday everything seemed fine. Powell energetically opened an announced two weeks of hearings on President Kennedy's big education bill fulfilling a promise made to the administration to get right to work on the important measure.

On Tuesday he disappeared. There is no way of knowing if he had learned Williams was going to take the Senate floor that day. However, Powell's favorite method of dealing with such problems has been to make himself unavailable to the press. At any rate, he flew to his home in Puerto Rico, where a spokesman said Sunday night he was just resting and talking to no one.

It may be that Powell deserted the hearings because he has little sympathy for the administration's decision to wrap 24 major education proposals into one super-bill with a $5.3-billion price tag and dump it in his lap with orders to consider it as one measure.

Whatever the reason, his absence caused the badly divided, leaderless committee to come apart at the seams, nearly wrecking the hearings and further diminishing the already slim chances for the bill, much to the administration's distress.

Williams' charges caused little consternation or comment in the House. They were not entirely unfamiliar and they came from what House members sometimes wistfully call "the other body."

One thing Williams complained of was "the loose manner in which the administration has been shoveling the taxpayers' money" to Powell.

The senator noted that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare made a grant of $250,000 to a group headed by Powell for a Harlem project to combat juvenile delinquency. The grant was made under legislation written by Powell's committee.

Williams said Powell and persons associated with him also had received three loans from the Housing and Home Finance Agency totalling $10.8 million for construction of a housing development and purchase of hotels that cost only $8.5 million.

De Gaulle, Cuba Big Problems

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's present dilemmas look gummy and undramatic compared with the hair-raisers of his first two White House years. But some of them may be just as far-reaching and more tortured.

Those two years included the missiles-in-Cuba crisis, the disastrous Cuban invasion by rebels whom this country supported but not enough, and the showdown with the steel industry over price increases.

They had no chance to gang up on him, as the present ones are doing, because each was settled quickly. They just happened to be the kind that could be settled that way. And there were many months between them.

That is not the case now. Because it is not, Kennedy's present problems carry with them the uneasy feeling typical of unfinished business.

The main ones now are French President Charles de Gaulle, the Russian men and weapons still in Cuba, American leadership and participation in the European alliance, and perhaps, some anti-Americanism in Canada.

The problem with De Gaulle and the European allies seems by all odds the most important, the least easy of solution, and the one which may in the end shape the history of the world.

The Canadian problem should be short. When the U.S. government nudged Prime Minister John Diefenbaker for not putting nuclear warheads on American weapons turned over to him, he snapped back that this was interference in Canada's business.

But the American criticism gave other Canadians, including members of his own Cabinet, a chance to show their displeasure with Diefenbaker. His government was overthrown.

In the campaign to choose a new government some anti-Americanism may crop up. This is not likely to be deep or last long, in view of the Canadian criticism that has piled up on Diefenbaker. For this reason a nice question dances in the background:

Did the American government have reason beforehand to believe its complaint against Diefenbaker—once made—would give his critics a springboard and in the end perhaps result in getting the warheads on Canadian weapons?

As for the Soviet men and weapons in Cuba—this is sticky, uncomfortable, and at the moment apparently not critical. Some members of both parties in Congress have stormed about the Russian presence 90 miles from the United States.

They see more danger in the situation than the administration admits to. They want a solution but they do not advocate an invasion of Cuba to effect the solution.

That leaves Kennedy just about only two things he can do and both take time.

Keep a watch on Cuba to be sure the problem does not get worse and, in the meantime, negotiate with Premier Khrushchev, as he is doing now, to get the Soviet troops out.

De Gaulle is the biggest long-range problem. American efforts to create and keep a Western alliance that is not only international but transatlantic have banged straight into the monolithic De Gaulle.

He seems to be thinking in the old terms of a few European alliances, with France, as boss.

Seat Belt Bill Gets Approval of House

ST. PAUL (AP) — Compulsory installation of seat belts in all new cars purchased after Jan. 1, 1964, is provided in a bill given preliminary approval by the Minnesota House Monday.

A companion bill was considered briefly earlier in the Senate but action was deferred.

Attempts to amend the bill to include most trucks was defeated.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Expanded Summer School Considered

Planning of what may be an expanded summer school program for this year was authorized Monday by the Board of Education.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told directors that in the past two types of courses have been offered in the summer at the elementary grade level:

REMEDIAL work in arithmetic and reading and enrichment classes in art, social studies, science and mathematics. In the junior high schools courses have been offered in remedial work in mathematics and the enrichment program and in Senior High School courses for credit in English, social studies, economic geography and typing for students who need additional credits for graduation.

"In order to receive state aid for summer classes," Nelson said, "they have to be in session four hours a day for six weeks. Not all of our courses, especially in the enrichment area, have met this standard."

He said it was the administration's intention this year to arrange a schedule so more of the courses will be available for state aid.

THE BOARD tabled for one month a recommendation of its insurance committee that changes be made in the present formula for distribution of commissions on casualty insurance.

For several years the insurance program has been administered through Winona Insurance Agency which receives 30 percent of the commissions with the remaining 70 percent distributed among other participating local firms.

Amounts to be received by each firm are determined on the basis of the number of fulltime employees.

The committee recommended that the formula be revised to allow Winona Insurance Agency 70 percent of the commissions and the other participating agencies the balance. It would also amend the formula for distribution to place it, on the basis of number of fulltime agents employed, rather than total personnel.

AS CHAIRMAN of the insurance committee, 1st Ward Director Ray Gorsuch said that the committee had drafted the recommendation on distribution of commissions (they amounted to $1,008 in 1961) without any request from Winona Insurance Agency or discussion of the matter with the firm.

"We only felt that since they do the work they're entitled a greater share of the commissions," Gorsuch said.

Other directors questioned how this would be accepted by the other participating firms.

Maurice D. Godsey, 2nd Ward, expressed feelings of other board members that Winona Insurance might be entitled to a greater share but asserted, "If there is to be a change I think it should be instigated by them, not by us, since this has worked so well in the past."

The board agreed that it would be best to table the recommendation for further study and discuss it again next month.

Another highlight of the association during the past year was the new addition built for the unloading of tanks from the trucks.

The new "Cook depth" of 37,782 feet in the Philippine Trench is more than 1,500 feet deeper than the previous record ocean depth reported in 1959 by the Soviet research ship Vityaz in the Pacific Ocean's Mariana Trench.

You can tell this '63 on sight—even at night!

For years now, Pontiacs have been the easiest cars to pick out in a crowd. And the '63's are no exception. At night, with the highway driving beam on, Pontiac identifies itself by its unique over-and-under headlight arrangement.

(It's more than just a nice styling touch—the headlights aim better this way.) By day, of course, a new boldly linear grille design sets Pontiac beautifully apart from the which-car-is-which problem. Another way you can tell the '63 Pontiacs is by looking at the drivers. They're the ones who are smiling. Say—maybe you'd better see your dealer about that. He's smiling about Pontiac too.

Wide-Track Pontiac.

Altar Society Promotes Good Literature

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special)—“The world is out of balance today because people have not given enough thought or understanding to the need for literature. People with all the luxuries of living are letting their minds live in squalor,” stated Mrs. Theodore Bell Jr., speaker on Catholic reading at the meeting of St. Patrick’s Altar Society last week.

Mrs. Bell, libraries and literature chairman, explained why literature is necessary for life. She suggested that the moral or spiritual obligation to improve one’s intellect is a direct command from God to read, understand and teach. As a warning to mothers of young children, Mrs. Bell added, “Not one juvenile court judge in the U.S. has found a good reader among his delinquents. The child who reads finds solutions to his problems. Parents who provide more than adequate basic necessities of life through ignorance, forget that to exist well a child needs literature.”

The Rev. Bernard Kerrigan, pastor and spiritual director, warned parents to be on guard against indecent literature being received through the mail by young persons.

Mrs. J. E. Westrup, president, announced that all money is to be turned in directly to the treasurer, Miss Teresa McCarthy. DOVER, Minn.—The marriage of Miss Kathleen Timmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Timmerman, Dover, Minn., and John Guidinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Guidinger, St. Charles, took place Jan. 19.

The 10 a.m. ceremony was performed at St. Charles Catholic Church by the Rev. James Pasch, before the altar, decorated with bouquets of red and white carnations and chrysanthemums.

Miss Clo Freking, organist, accompanied Mrs. Mary Cook and William Garvey in vocal selections.

THE BRIDE wore a floor-length gown of tulle with a large butterfly bow at the back of the chapel sweep skirt. A small crown of seed pearls held her silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade of red carnations and white roses.

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Miss Lois Timmerman, maid of honor, and Miss Joan Timmerman, bridesmaid. They were dressed in tulle-length frocks of red satin styled with high necklines, three quarter-length sleeves and A shaped skirts with flowing streamers at the back. Dakota PTA Hears Historical Society Talk DAKOTA, Minn.—"Investigating a historical subject is a good deal like detective work," Dr. Lewis I. Younger, president, Winona County Historical Society, told the Dakota PTA Monday night at Dakota School.

"It is also similar to treasure hunting, and there is a thrill that comes when you discover some new information that has not been revealed before."

He told PTA members and Dakota pupils that major changes are being wrought in the Dakota area because of superhighway construction.

"MANY OF the older buildings have been destroyed; others have been moved to new locations. Some landmarks have disappeared, particularly Indian mounds and prehistoric remains. The actual destruction of these earliest historical works, including evidences of French forts and pioneer explorers, were destroyed by the development of the railroad. Many of these early historic findings were along the river bank or quite close to the river. Many of the Indian graves were destroyed by floods, but others remained undisturbed until the railroad and highway developments began."

HE SAID the historical society was again sponsoring a junior history contest for children. Entries can be hand-drawn maps, handicrafts or art work about history; models of covered wagons, steamboats or pioneer farm implements; or books, themes and scrapbooks about Winona County history. Prizes will be awarded. The society plans to establish a department of junior membership.

Redmen Stave Off Gusties 67-60; Cotter Escapes 55-53

— REDMEN — Rebounds Key To Triumph

By BOB JUNGHAUS
Daily News Sports Writer

St. Mary's appeared to have things all its own way but had to overcome some last minute jitters to down Gustavus Adolphus at Terrace Heights Monday night 67-60.

The Redmen were coasting along with a 17-point lead at the three minute mark but when Gustavus caught on fire and outscored St. Mary's 14-4 in the closing minutes.

"WE THREW the ball every place but in the basket," said St. Mary's Coach Ken Willgen with a smile on his face. "Needless to say Willgen was happy about the victory, but said he leaves you with a bad taste in your mouth when you win them that way."

Domination of the boards could be credited with a major share of the triumph, the Redmen against nine rebounds from Rockers and Mike Stallings dominated both boards. Rockers grabbed 11 rebounds and Stallings 10. Overall St. Mary's held a 40-19 edge on the boards.

St. Mary's staked the Gusties to a 2-0 edge on a pair of charity tosses by Wayne Lovemark, but it was the only time the Redmen trailed all night. The Redmen ran in a string of 11 points, seven by Al Williams, before Gustavus could counter. Their nine-point lead slowly dwindled until it was only three, 31-28, at halftime.

IN THE SECOND half the Gusties closed the gap to 31-30 on a driving lay-up by Dennis Hendrickson. At this point Stallings and Rockers took over and steadily stretched the Redmen bulge. With three minutes remaining, and St. Mary's nursing its biggest lead of the night at 63-46, Gustavus Coach Whitney Skoog inserted a full court press that completely baffled the Redmen.

For a stretch of two minutes they could only score two points while the Gusties were pouring in 12. With 37 seconds to play Rockers hit on a three-point play to ice it.

The triumph boosted St. Mary's to a 6-5 record in the MIAC. Gustavus is now 4-7.

IN ADDITION to a standout effort on the boards, Stallings and Rockers carried a major part of the scoring burden. Stallings bagged 19 points, 17 of them in the second half. Rockers hit 14, Williams netted 18 while sitting out part of the game because of foul trouble.

Ken Abram, the Gusties' leading scorer, was held in check most of the game and ended with 14 points. Ron Severson and Andy Hagemann counted 12 and 10 respectively.

Coach Willgen had praise for Rockers. "He's coming on fast," said Willgen. "We looked pretty bad in the first half, but Mike (Stallings) started to hit in the second half and things started to open up."

THE REDMEN shot a torrid 53 percent in the second frame, hitting on 16 of 30 shots from the field. They hit 26 of 58 for the entire game. Gustavus netted 23 of 56 attempts for a 41 percent shooting average.

The Redmen capers travel to Moorhead, Minn., to battle Concordia Saturday night in another MIAC fray.

Badgers Use Stall to Hand Illinois First Loss

MADISON, Wis. — The University of Wisconsin basketball team, setting a pattern of at least one major upset a season, has come up with a big effort, knocking off Big Ten leader Illinois, the nation's fourth-ranked team.

"I'm only sorry we haven't done this more before," said Coach Johnny Erickson after his Badgers defeated Illinois 84-77 in a roaring fieldhouse crowd of 12,088 Monday night.

The turning point in the game came when the first shot hit the rim and five Badgers went up after it," said Erickson. And the figures prove his point, with Wisconsin holding a 65 to 39 edge in rebounds, the best mark from the free throw line and the best field goal shooting average.

Erickson said the victory was the outcome of a "supreme effort" by his Badgers. It was also the result of considerable planning. Four of the five starters went all the way. The only substitution was made after Ken Siebel fouled out midway in the first period.

Erickson said he had planned to use the minimum number of players, as has been his goal all season, "but you can't always do that." Other things the Badgers haven't always been able to make pay off worked against the Illini. A zone defense kept them under control in the first half and a stall held them in check after they had closed their deficit to two points in the final period.

The defeat was the first in seven conference games for the Illini, and only the third victory in seven league starts for the eighth place Badgers who have been trying to regain the form shown in beating mighty Ohio State last year. Illinois now has a 14-3 mark and Wisconsin is 10-7 overall.

Siebel, the Badgers' most valuable player the last two seasons, and Jack Brens were the offensive stars. Siebel pumped in 26 points and Brens was right behind with 25. Tom Gwyn added 14, Mike O'Mella a dozen and Dave Grams seven. Lou Ostrom, who played the last seven minutes for Siebel, failed to score.

Brens grabbed 22 rebounds, Gwyn 19 to give them a total of 41, or two more than the entire Illinois squad.

The Badgers took a 4-3 lead in the early minutes and never trailed. Wisconsin ran its last break offense to a 40-30 lead with two minutes left in the first half, then dropped into a stall that limited each side to two points.

Augsburg Whips Concordia 65-53

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Augsburg continued on its merry path Monday night, whipping upset-minded Concordia 65-53 while Minnesota Duluth moved to uncontested second place in the Minnesota Intercollegiate Conference with a 64-55 overtime win over St. Thomas.

In other MIAC action, St. Mary's downed Gustavus 67-60 and Hamline edged St. John's 66-73 as those two winners remained tied for fourth place with 6-5 marks.

Augsburg plays at Moorhead to night in the only contest on the docket.

Augsburg moved within one victory of clinching a tie for the until Siebel hit a jump shot to throw the Badgers in front 44-32 at the intermission.

With 10 minutes of the final period gone, Illinois had cut Wisconsin's lead to two points at 60-58. Siebel and Brens began to hit again, and the Badgers pulled ahead by seven and nine points margins.

Bill Small, who topped the game's scoring with 29 points, led an Illinois charge that brought the score to 76-73 with a little over four minutes left.

Indian Skiers May Bid for Olympics

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) — Only a papoose sitter and 200 bucks stand between two Indians from Old Crow and a chance to make the Canadian Olympic skiing team.

Reports from the Far North Woods say the pair, one a 23-year-old mother of five little Indians, may be the fastest things on two skis in all Canada.

If they can make their way to Ottawa from Old Crow, an Arctic Circle hamlet, on the Porcupine River in the Yukon, by Thursday, they will get a chance to make the Olympic team.

"I'm not going to pooh pooh anything," said Frank Cooke, the selector of the cross-country Olympic team for the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

Cooke said he had advised the coach of the two Indians, Ben Charlie and Martha Benjamin, that the pair will need a passage to Ottawa and $100 apiece. He will take care of them from here, he said, Martha is expected to leave the children at home.

Ben and Martha are from the Locheux tribe of the Vuntutluchin (People of the Lakes) Indians, who take to skiing as soon as they leave the treacherous tundra.

The next few weeks may turn out to be the most important ones in the promising career of south-paw pitcher Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Koufax, who signed his 1963 contract Saturday, reports to the Dodgers' spring training camp in less than two weeks, anxious to test the condition of his left index finger.

In mid-July last year, Koufax was sidelined with a mysterious circulatory block that rendered him virtually useless the rest of the season. Before the ailment, the 27-year-old speedballer had a 14-5 record, 209 strikeouts and had hurled a no-hitter.

The Dodgers, who were leading the National League race at the time of Koufax' injury, lost the pennant to San Francisco in a playoff.

Koufax tried to come back in late September but his finger still bothered him. He wound up with a 14-7 record with 216 strikeouts and managed to win the earned run title with a 2.54 average.

St. Louis' Sam Rice, who was named to the Hall of Fame last year, said that the condition of Koufax' finger is encouraging and that circulation is normal.

Rayl Scores 32 As Gophers Bow

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota lost an opportunity to move up a notch on pacesetter Illinois Monday night, bowing 89-77 to Indiana's scooter-type Hoosiers in a Big Ten game at Bloomington.

Wisconsin helped the cause of the Gophers and Ohio State by upsetting Illinois 84-77.

All of which left the Illini 6-1, Ohio State 5-2, Minnesota 5-3 and Indiana 4-3 in conference play.

Skinny Jimmy Rayl once more was the Gophers' downfall, gunning home 32 points despite a good defensive effort by Minnesota's Bob Bateman. Rayl canned 11 of 25 field shots and 10 of 11 free throws.

It was a wild and woolly affair with coaches John Kundala of the Gophers and Branch McCracken of the Hoosiers expressing doubts about the quality of the officiating.

Kundala said Minnesota "got some bad calls that hurt," and said he didn't think Bateman got a fair shake in guarding Rayl.

Nonetheless, the Hoosiers' fire engine fastbreak and surprising layup rebounding were more than the Gophers could handle. And Minnesota hurt itself by blowing a number of easy layups.

Minnesota had only one lead, at 12-11. Indiana led by nine points four times in the first half, which ended with the Hoosiers on top 47-41. Indiana built its margin to nine points several times the second half, but Minnesota was still

The University of Cincinnati Bearcats, who have won 37 straight games—including 19 this season—top The Associated Press college basketball poll for the 11th straight week.

Trouble could be ahead when the Bearcats go to Wichita Saturday night. Early last season the Shockers snapped a 27-game Bearcat winning streak, 52-51.

Wichita, a No. 9 last week, slipped out of the rankings because of a defeat by St. Louis and Ohio State regained a spot in the voting by the 42 members of the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Cincinnati got 40 of the 42 first-place votes. Unbeaten Chicago Loyola, 20-0, which continued as runner-up, got one of the other first place votes. The other went to Duke, 17-2, which retained third place.

In Monday's games, which had no bearing on the poll, Wisconsin beat Illinois 84-77, Mississippi State defeated Kentucky 56-52 and Colorado took Oklahoma 71-60.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and points on a 100-0 basis, are based on games through Saturday, Feb. 9.

1. Cincinnati (40) 418
2. Chicago Loyola (1) 302

Wisconsin's Lou Holland had the best one-game scoring mark in the Big Ten last season. He scored four times against Illinois.

— COTTER — Knights Prove Tough Rival

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis. — (Special) — Champion, a team which had won only four games in 16 starts prior to Monday night, extended the Cotter Ramblers to the last inch before yielding a stingy 55-53 victory to the Winona quintet.

A basket by Loran Koprowski with a minute to go broke a 51-51 deadlock and Rich Starzecki dropped in two free throws with 15 seconds remaining to assure the triumph.

"IT WASN'T that we were over-confident," said Coach John Nett after the Ramblers' 15th victory in 19 games. "It's tough to get up for a game with a team you've beaten badly once before."

Champion, a 62-36 loser to Cotter earlier this year, found itself in recent weeks. The Knights have played three overtime games in their last seven and a total of 25 odd points separated them from opponents in those games.

"I was real pleased with the way the boys refused to fold. When Champion got ahead, the kids went to work and bring, got the lead back," said Nett.

HE LAUDED Koprowski for his work in clearing the ball off the boards and Starzecki for his pressure-packed free throw shooting. Rich made five straight.

The Ramblers demonstrated coolness, too, when they stalled with a two-point lead from the 3:15 mark to the final 45 seconds. Champion, playing a zone defense, found the Ramblers' stall almost impenetrable.

Cotter, which hosts Lewiston in its final game Friday night in Winona, led 14-13 at the first quarter stop and was riding a 31-23 lead when Champion reeled off eight straight points to gain a 31-31 halftime tie.

CAMPION CAME out with a full-court press in the second half and the Ramblers solved it easily—but blew the easy baskets that it opened up for them.

Cotter broke from a 42-42 tie to lead 44-43 with 6:05 to play in the fourth quarter but Champion went ahead 46-45 with 5:30 to play. Sam Czaplowski, who was held to six points for the night, got the lead back for Cotter with his only basket of the second half and the Ramblers never trailed again.

Campion, playing control ball, took only 34 shots and hit 15 for 44 percent. Cotter made 19 of 33 for 36 percent.

ON THE BOARDS, Cotter had a 28-25 advantage with the Knights leading 19-17 on the defensive board.

Bob Judge, who turned in one of his best offensive games, led both teams with 18 points. He sat out much of the third period because of fouls and finally went out with 1 1/2 minutes to play. Koprowski collected 12 points, six of those in the first period.

For Champion, Mike Farrell had 15 and Paul Pazdan and Ron Ried had 13 each.

Byers Hails Stiff Term For 'Fixer'

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Molinas, a tall, handsome ex-basketball star who once reportedly boasted he would never be implicated, faces a jail term of 10 to 15 years today for masterminding a $70,000 fix of college basketball games.

"In my opinion, you are a completely immoral person. You are the prime mover of the conspiracy and you were the person most responsible. You callously used your prestige as a former basketball star to corrupt college basketball players and to defraud the public," Judge Joseph A. Sarafite of the State Supreme Court told Molinas, 30, in passing sentence Monday.

The sentencing of the 6-foot-6 former Columbia University star and Fort Wayne professional player, along with two confessed bribers, was hailed by Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"We are indebted to the energies and efficiency of the law enforcement agencies of New York and appreciate of the attitude of the court itself," Byers said.

Byers said the combination of the stiff sentences, the introduction of federal legislation that would make interstate bribery schemes illegal, and action in enforcing bribery laws on a state level "makes us optimistic that we are getting to the core of the problem."

Sentenced with Molinas, who was convicted Jan. 8 on five counts of bribery, were Joseph Hacken, 42, of New York, and Philip LaCort, 39, of Boston. Hacken, described as Molinas' chief lieutenant in the plot to fix 43 games between 1957 and 1961, was sentenced to 7½ to eight years. LaCort, who pleaded guilty to fronting for a Boston gambling group, received 2½ to five years.

Aaron Wegman, 28, of New York, who had pleaded guilty to bribing nine players and making 37 bribe payoffs, received a suspended sentence of three to five years because he spent 23 months in jail as a material witness in testifying against Molinas. He also faces a five-to-10 year term on a Florida conviction for football fixing.

Five other former players, Lou Brown, Charles Tucker, Jerry Vogel, Dan Quindazzi, and Dave Budin, received suspended sentences after cooperating with Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan in his investigation.

Brown, who has moved from his Jersey City home to Greenville, N.C., formerly played at the University of North Carolina; Tucker, of Yonkers, N.Y., at Kalamazoo, Mich.; College: Vogel and Quindazzi, both of Yonkers, N.Y., at the University of Alabama, and Budin at Brooklyn College.

Butts declined comment Monday.

Puterbaugh Scores TKO

MINNEAPOLIS (Special) — Heavyweight Ron Puterbaugh and featherweight Lee Huwald were the only Winona boxers winning in preliminary bouts Monday night, but will be joined by Tom Van Hoof in next Monday's semifinals in the Upper Midwest Golden Glove tournament.

Puterbaugh scored a third-round TKO over Dan Kirchhoffner of Devils Lake, N.D., who fights for Wahpeton, N.D.

Huwald outpointed LeRoy Vandenburg of Slayton, Minn.

VAN HOOF lost a decision to Don Welch of St. Paul in a light-weight match. Welch, however, suffered a back injury in the bout and Van Hoof will substitute for him Monday against Darland Smart, Nashwauk.

Puterbaugh led Kirchhoffner on points going into the third round. He belted him freely and had his Dakota foe out on his feet when the bout was stopped.

Puterbaugh Monday will meet Bob Cone of Blue Earth who holds two decisions over the Winonan. Favored is Minneapolis Charlie Smith who won his first bout on a first round TKO.

HUWALD had too much experience for Vandenburg in posting a clear win. He next faces Mike Brazil of Minneapolis.

Jerry Puterbaugh, light heavyweight, lost a split decision to Terry Weisman of St. Paul, a four-round favorite.

Lewy's Ken Patzner, flyweight, fighting for Winona, was baffled by the left-hand style of Roger LaFreniere of Hibbing and dropped a decision. There was only two points difference in the scoring.

Ron Greeno, Winona bantamweight, was stopped by Duane Mann of Hastings in the first round.

Bob Sullivan of Rochester, welterweight, lost to Jesse Green, St. Paul.

The New York Mets drew 922-330 home fans last year. This was 259,697 more than the Giants drew in 1957, their final year in the Polo Grounds.

Phoenix Open Waits; Rain To Stop Today

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Depending on the weather, front-running Arnold Palmer could win his third straight Phoenix Open Golf Tournament with or without using his clubs.

Rain has forced cancellation of the $35,000 event's final 18 holes for two days in a row.

Tournament sponsors and the Professional Golfers Association were to decide this morning whether the Arizona Country Club's desert course was in condition to play and, if not, what to do about the final round.

The weatherman was cooperative, predicting the rain would let up today.

While waiting to check the course, PGA officials considered the possibility of keeping the tournament in Phoenix until conditions permit playing of the final round.

The PGA has a contract to play in Tucson beginning with a pro-am tournament Wednesday. However, PGA traveling secretary Joe Bick said Tucson may be asked if they would agree to mark time until the Phoenix tournament is completed.

Palmer took the lead in the Phoenix tournament, at 13-under-par 203, when he fired an eagle 4 on the 16th hole Saturday.

This left his two chief rivals, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus, a stroke back at 204. They birdied No. 18 Saturday.

The Celtics handed the Snakes their fifth straight loss, 41-38, and the Guns topped the Hot Shots 30-27 in the YMCA Junior High Basketball League Monday.

Todd Spencer scored 13 points and Jim Blasko 10 to spark the Celtics' victory. John Ahrens took game scoring honors with 19 points for Snakes. Ron Fugstad added 12.

John Walski and Don Hazellon paced Guns' triumph with 12 and 10 tallies respectively. Jeff Featherstone counted 11 for Hot Shots.

There are no games scheduled next week.

Foul Ballers Win In 'Y' Volleyball

Foul Ballers, winners of the first round, got off to a fast second round start Monday night in the men's volleyball league at the Winona YMCA.

The Foul Ballers, captained by N. W. Schellhaus, beat Satan Chasers 12-10, 11-9. In other matches, Setter Uppers whipped Net Hangers 11-7, 11-4 and Sticky Fingers rallied to beat Foul Fighters 11-0, 7-11, 11-3.

Winona Dogs Take Third

Tri Stada Autumn Hugh (Shot), a Golden Retriever, owned by Bud and Jean Safranek and handled by Bud Safranek, placed third in the derby stake at Austin, Minn., Sunday.

The retriever trial was sponsored by the Austin Retriever Club. Bomber, a Chocolate Labrador, owned and handled by Willard Matzke, was awarded a judges certificate of merit in the derby stake.

In the qualifying stake, Tri Stada Bell, a Black Lab, owned by Vets Cab Co., and handled by H. C. Lohse, took third place.

A second place was awarded to Harrovy's King Leir, also a Black Labrador, in the puppy stake. He is owned and handled by Bill O'Reilly.

State Matmen, Redmen Six Busy Tonight

Winona State's wrestlers and St. Mary's College skaters will be in action tonight.

State meets powerful Mankato State at 8 p.m. at Memorial Hall while the Redmen travel to St. Paul to face St. Thomas in a hockey game at Wakota Rink.

The Redmen, who have a final game left Thursday with non-conference St. Olaf, shoot for their 10th MIAC victory tonight against three losses and a tie.

Winona State, idle from the mats since Feb. 1, meets a Mankato team which has not lost a conference duel meet in 10 years. The Indians, however, were tied by St. Cloud State 14-14. St. Cloud holds a 16-10 win over Winon which has lost its last three duals.

Pat Flaherty, State's 177-pounder who has 12 wins and a draw, will go against strong Art Barnes, one of Mankato's six returning veterans.

The Warriors travel to Wartburg Friday final dual meet before the NSCC tourney.

Balfanz Wins Olympic Trial

Duluth, Minn. (AP)—Two Wisconsin entrants, Larry Bergh of Eau Claire and Lyle Swenson of Westby, were among 11 ski jumpers who qualified Sunday for the national Olympic trials set for March 9-10 at Ishpeming, Mich.

Bergh finished third and Swenson fourth in the Central U. S. Ski Association Olympic trials, dominated by John Balfanz of Minneapolis who smashed the Fond du Lac hill record on his first jump.

Balfanz soared 231 feet on his first jump and 233 feet on his second to erase the old mark of 226 feet held jointly by Gene Kotlarek of Duluth and Joe Nowak, Cloquet, Minn.

Bob Keck of Oconomowoc, Wis., representing the U. S. Army, also went over the old record, reaching 230 feet on his second jump. He wound up sixth in the two-day competition.

Balfanz rolled up 229.0 points Sunday and a two-day total of 458.0. Second on jumps of 215 and 225 feet was Kotlarek, whose points were 222.7 and 442.9.

Russell Passes Schayes Officially

NEW YORK (AP)—Officially, Bill Russell of the champion Boston Celtics ousted Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals as the all-time rebound leader in the National Basketball Association last week with a career total of 11,641 to 11,605.

Unofficially the veteran Schayes, now in his 15th NBA season, still leads. Why? Because no rebound records were kept in Schayes' first two seasons—1946-49 and 1949-50. All of Russell's grabs have been officially recorded. He is in his seventh season with the NBA.

League statistics released today show Russell still second in rebounds for the current season with an average of 23.5 per game to 24.1 for Bill Chamberlain of San Francisco. Chamberlain, now in his fourth NBA season, has a career total of 7,586 rebounds.

Chamberlain kept his usual No. 1 spot in scoring with 2,732 points although his average slipped from 46.0 to 45.5.

Parliament Set To Endorse Macmillan Plan

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan appeared certain today to win parliamentary endorsement today of his program to counter the effects of the French veto barring Britain from the Common Market.

The House of Commons, winding up a two-day debate on the country's economic future, was scheduled to vote late in the day on a Labor party motion of no confidence. With the Conservatives holding a 100-vote margin over the combined Labor-Liberal opposition, there was virtually no chance that Macmillan's government would fall on the issue.

Opening the debate Monday, Macmillan roundly denounced President Charles de Gaulle's government for its veto, then outlined a series of emergency actions he is planning to fill the void caused by the collapsed negotiations.

Among them:
A Commonwealth trade ministers' meeting to be held in London in April or May to stimulate business.

Britain will seek closer trading cooperation with the United States, her friends in Europe and other nations.

The government intends to drive for world commodity agreements, a cutback of tariffs and freer trade generally.

Macmillan warned that the policies of the De Gaulle government could threaten the Western Alliance and drive the United States into isolation.

The speech brought the usual chorus of Conservative cheers and Laborite derision from the British press.

In what could be interpreted as a rebuke to De Gaulle, Adenauer also emphatically backed the Kennedy-Macmillan Nassau agreement calling for the establishment of a multinational nuclear force for the North Atlantic Alliance.

Nova Scotian Gets TV Boxing Debut

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
Blair Richardson of Nova Scotia is the latest of boxing's young set to be tapped for a major league debut on American television.

The 22-year-old middleweight from South Bar, N.S., will take on sixth-ranking contender Joey Archer of New York at New York's Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

The 10-rounder will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV starting at 10 p.m. EST.

Richardson hasn't been handed any soft touch for his Garden and video debut. Archer, a tall, fast, punching 160-pounder has a 33-1 record, including only seven knockouts. The former longshoreman doesn't fight like a dock worker. He's clever, fast-handed and has a stinging left jab to upset aggressive opponents.

Richardson has a 36-3-1 record, including 31 knockouts. This indicates he can punch pretty good. Archer, in addition to being a slick boxer, has a strong chin. He never has been stopped.

Favored Royals Win in Playoff

More than 500 fans were on hand for the first round in the Catholic Recreational Center Intramural basketball playoffs held at St. St. Anthony's gymnasium.

The favored Royals romped to a 60-12 win over the Huskies and hand the 24-point performance of Bob Greden. Hans Meier added 16 markers for the Royals.

The Knights overcame an early deficit to rally to a 57-25 win over the Johnnies. Mike Erdmanczyk and Tim Bravone hit 29 and 16 points, respectively, for the winners while Tom Wenzel dumped in 19 points for the Johnnies.

The Falcons surprised the Mustangs 26-22 to gain the semifinals. Greg Schoener hit eight points for the victors who contained the Mustangs scoring. Steve Elmcke dropped in seven points for the losers.

Mike Wiczorek scored six points as the Saints took a 13-12 win from the Rockets.

Playoffs will continue Thursday when the Saints meet the Falcons at 4 p.m. at the Catholic Center gymnasium.

Wright Wins Play-off by 9

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Wright, young long ball hitter from Dallas, continues her domination of women's professional golf.

Miss Wright, who won 10 out of 29 tournaments last year, picked up her second victory out of three tournaments this season Monday with a 69 and an overwhelming nine-stroke victory over Marilyn Smith of Tequesta, Fla., in their playoff for the St. Petersburg Women's Open title.

Jimmie Fox, Joe DiMaggio, Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle have each won the American League's most valuable player award three times. Baseball writers in each league city do the voting.

Tennessee Man Kills 5 Children

KINGSFORD, Tenn. (AP)—A Kingsport man shot and killed five children today and then mortally wounded himself, police said.

Police Sgt. Lorus Allen said D. C. Pierson, a guard at the Tennessee Eastern plant, shot the children and himself with a 12-gauge shotgun.

"We don't have any details of the shooting or the names of the children," Allen said, "but they're all dead."

Officers said the mother was not home at the time.

Fresh Blast Of Winter Hits South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh blast of wintry weather—with snow, sleet, strong winds and freezing temperatures—hit wide areas in the South from Texas to northern Georgia today.

The icy air from the northern Midwest, driven by strong northerly winds, dropped temperatures sharply in the Southern sections. The cold air headed into northern Florida. Readings from 15 to 20 degrees below normal were indicated.

Cold wave warnings were posted for parts of Louisiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

Two inches of snow and sleet, along with winds of 15 to 35 m.p.h., hit many areas in northeast Louisiana and central Mississippi. Up to four to five inches of snow was in prospect. Temperatures dropped to the teens in northern Mississippi and northern Louisiana, with freezing marks expected in the Gulf Coast.

Snow also fell in northern parts of Georgia and Alabama and eastern Tennessee and a narrow band of freezing rain pelted areas from Montgomery, Ala., to the Great Smokies.

In Jacksonville, Fla., the Weather Bureau warned of flooding and further erosion in Jacksonville beach communities from the third storm which struck the northern Florida coast this winter. Beach communities waited for 100 cars and a granite from North Carolina to be used to plug holes in seawalls.

Much of Texas was glazed with ice and snow. Six inches of snow was dumped in the Lubbock area in west Texas, with four inches in Nacogdoches in the eastern section. Schools in many areas were closed.

The zero zone extended from parts of the northern Rockies eastward across the northern tier of states into the upper Great Lakes region. The teens were reported from most of New Mexico eastward into the Ohio Valley.

Town Seeks Funds To Keep Six Orphaned Children

NEW YORK MILLS, Minn. (AP) A local drive for funds, which has mushroomed into nearly a statewide affair, may keep the six Berni children together.

The children, two months to 13 years, were orphaned last Thursday when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Berni, died in an automobile accident near their farm home.

Services for them will be held here Wednesday afternoon.

Barbara Berni, the oldest at 13, told townspeople who assumed the task of caring for the children, "We don't want to leave home and we don't want to be separated."

The Rev. George Wilson, pastor of Apostolic Lutheran Church, who is heading the drive for funds for the children, said "the townspeople resolved right then that the children won't be separated against their will."

Other children are Fred, 2 months; Rosemary, 2½; Alan, 7; Janet, 8; and Patty, 12.

Rev. Wilson said the solicitation of funds had brought in about $600 by Monday night, but a lot of those collecting the money hadn't reported back yet.

"The public certainly has responded wonderfully, and we are deeply appreciative," the pastor said. He and local VFW quartermaster Robert Kampula are accepting donations.

He said his original idea of collecting money for the six was just "to alleviate any financial dilemma that existed. The family didn't have much, and I just thought of collecting some money to tide them over until the welfare folks could take over."

Now, he says, the fund could reach proportions where something permanent, such as a trust fund, could be set up.

The Berni children are living with friends of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Frank, in New York Mills.

This is only a temporary arrangement and where the children will live permanently is yet to be determined. Their grandmother, Mrs. Sophie Berni, lives here but is unprepared to assume the task. Rev. Wilson said the town has already had numerous requests to adopt the children.

"They will have to take all six if the children have their way,"

Criticism of Golf Didn't Bother Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says he paid not the slightest attention to criticism of the time he spent playing golf or going fishing or dabbling with paints.

Appearing Monday night with historian Bruce Catton in an NBC television program recorded at Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., home on the subject of President Lincoln, Eisenhower said: "I think the worst possible president would be one who always just stayed at his desk."

Catton remarked that during the Civil War, Lincoln was criticized for allegedly spending too much time telling funny stories and going to the theater.

Eisenhower, agreed with Catton that Lincoln needed relaxation of some sort.

"The first thing that any man learns when he has to carry heavy responsibilities a long time, he has to learn those points and that type of decision that demand his earnest attention and sometimes preparation," Eisenhower commented.

"And the others he has to learn to avoid. He is no executive until he can delegate those to people and stand behind them."

Referring to criticism of his own leisure pursuits, Eisenhower said: "I paid not the slightest attention to it. As a matter of fact, I stopped reading that kind of thing. It didn't bother me for this simple reason: to be in condition to do the things I needed to do—I just couldn't sit at the desk all the time."

Eisenhower said Gen. Robert E. Lee, commander of the Confederate Army, "had a terrible decision to make early in the war."

"Mr. Lincoln is supposed to have offered the command of the Union forces to him. Certainly there was some mention made about that," Eisenhower said.

"But Eisenhower said, Lee 'felt that his loyalty was to his state,' Virginia."

Asked if Lee had the quality of aggressiveness that Lincoln looked for in his generals, Eisenhower replied: "Oh, all the time. As a matter of fact, the history of the war shows that he'd get so excited in a critical point of a battle that his own men would have to hold him back from getting into the thick of it."

EVERGLADES, Fla. (AP)—Ernst Christensen, chief naturalist for Everglades National Park, said many park visitors don't appreciate what he feels is a top attraction.

Christensen said there are hundreds of varieties of snakes to be found and many are more colorful than the birds.

"People are all wrong about snakes," the naturalist said. "They want to leave you alone just as much as you may want to leave them alone."
