School Dropout Problem in U.S.

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

High on the list of serious social and economic problems which America faces today is that of students dropping out of school.

By 1970, only five percent of available jobs will be of the unskilled variety. And yet, educators predict that 7.5 million American boys and girls will leave school prematurely between 1960 and 1970, without a skill to call their own.

And a large number of high school graduates might almost as well be dropouts because not more than one-fourth of the boy graduates have a saleable skill.

By training students for further learning in college and technical schools, high schools do meet the needs of the majority of their graduates. But schools also have a responsibility to other students.

Some 50 percent of the dropouts give lack of interest as their reason for leaving school. So the solution lies in getting each student interested in his own development.

HERE'S A case that gives us insight into the whole problem: Roy left school in the middle of the 11th grade. Tests showed he was on the sixth grade level in reading, on the fifth grade level in math, and that his handwriting was still childish.

Roy actually was encouraged by authorities to drop out because of his refusal to do school assignments and his erratic attendance.

There he was—belligerent at school, defiant at home, untrained and unemployable.

THEN A FRIEND of the family interviewed Roy for a job in his print shop. He pointed out that to set type Roy would need basic knowledge and skills.

Roy needed a working knowledge of English grammar and speech, so he would have to do better in reading, writing and spelling. While waiting on customers, he would need to improve his speaking ability and attend to his personal appearance.

Even as a stock boy, Roy learned, he would have to know more about arithmetic.

Roy got his chance, purely because of family friendship. But as a condition of employment, he had to accept tutoring in reading, writing and arithmetic. He made rapid gains in each and improved his personal appearance as he gained successes.

A year later Roy started taking evening classes, and this time received special help.

Although Roy has now graduated from high school, it was a struggle. Things would have been much easier if he had been recognized early as a potential dropout.

TO COPE sooner with such problems, at least one city, Cleveland, has established special transition classes for student who are entering junior high school and who are deemed likely to become dropouts. These pupils do all their work in one room. Reading is emphasized including newspaper reading. The initial results are promising.

While most dropouts do not occur until senior high school when students pass the age of compulsory school attendance, lack of interest in school before then sets the stage.

Since earning a living in our technical society depends on the individual's ability to learn and his development of skills, schools and parents must awaken students to the necessity of staying in school until they have gained these skills.

1,000 Times 1,000 for St. Mary's

A Winona member of the St. Mary's College advisory board has proposed a novel way of raising $1 million.

Find 1,000 contributors, each of whom would give $1,000 toward construction of the college's $2 million college union.

Alfred J. Bambenek, Winona, who proposed the idea at the semi-annual meeting of the advisory board Saturday in the college's Cardinal Room, was appointed chairman of the special fund-raising committee by board chairman George Kiener, Chicago. Contributions will be sought from alumni, parents, friends and foundations.

The board recommended that plans be drawn immediately for the gymnasium section of the college union. Bids for this section, the first part of the building to be erected, will be sought in the spring. Architects are Flad, Smith & Associates, Winona. Wayne Smith of the firm attended the meeting.

The college union will be built between Benilde and St. Edward's halls. The new building will be the "living room of the campus," a center for all activities conducted outside the classroom.

Robert O. Massie, Winona, was appointed to a three-year term on the advisory board. Other new members, all of Chicago, are Dr. George M. Andrew, William J. Fowler, Joseph S. Gerber, John J. Hagerty and George H. White.

Pickwick Crash Damages 2 Cars

Two cars collided in a near head-on crash on Little Trout road near Pickwick Sunday morning, according to a sheriff's report.

Neither driver was injured, but their cars each received about $600 damage. The accident occurred about 1 1/2 miles east of Pickwick at 10:45 a.m.

Clyde N. Papenfuss, Lamolite, and Richard R. Hartwick, Lamolite Rt. 1, were the drivers. Papenfuss was driving east on Little Trout road and Hartwick west.

According to the report, Papenfuss was rounding a curve and saw Hartwick's car coming toward him. Both drivers tried to stop to avoid the accident, said deputies, but the cars collided.

Deputies said that both cars were traveling in the south lane of traffic. They said that ice and snow covered the north lane and that drivers were using one lane only. No citations were issued.

Deputies also had more information on a one-car accident which occurred near Elba Saturday night. The accident was at about 6:35 p.m. on County State Aid Highway 26 about 1 1/2 miles west of Elba. Arden R. Adler, 17, Plainview, was the driver.

He was driving west on CSA 26 and lost control on a slight curve. The car rolled over in the left ditch. Neither Adler nor his passenger Melvin C. Adler, 24, Plainview, were injured, although Melvin complained of pain, said deputies. They said that the car was wrecked.

Jet Practices 'Landing' at Airport Here

An apparent practice landing approach by a Northwest Airlines 720-B jet plane Sunday at 4:45 p.m. caused a flurry of excitement and filled both parking lots at Max Conrad Field with sightseers' cars.

After circling the field three times at 3,000 feet, the 90-passenger aircraft lowered landing gear and flaps and made an approach to the southeast end of the main runway. Observers at the airport said the jet was 20 feet above the runway when the pilot pulled up into a climb and departed.

Airport officials said they doubted the existence of an emergency. No radio contact was made by the pilot requesting landing instructions, they said. Nor do they believe a landing was intended, since the 4,000-foot runway could accommodate such an aircraft only with great difficulty if at all.

The simulated approach did not violate any local flight rules, officials said. Since the Winona field is not in a Federal Aviation Agency control zone, no special clearance is necessary for planes to take off or land.

Tighter Boiler Inspection Urged At NAPE Meeting

Recent explosions of boilers have aroused interest in tighter inspection and maintenance practices for low-pressure boilers across the nation, Roy Sommers, St. Paul, told Winona power engineers Saturday night.

Sommers, a member of St. Paul Chapter 7, National Association of Power Engineers, was guest speaker at the annual dinner of Winona Chapter 4 at the Oaks.

He gave a preview of plans for the 54th annual state convention at St. Paul June 17-19 and of other events scheduled for July and August.

James Merrill, president of the Winona chapter, said the group plans a joint meeting with the La Crosse colleagues at the Red Men's Wigwam March 12. The educational session will be conducted by the Boston Gear Co. and the Industrial Supply Co., Minneapolis. Topics will include descriptions of reduction unit practices and of new mechanical devices now in production.

Merrill said NAPE is supporting a campaign to require that an engineer be in direct charge of any school boiler system while children are in school.

A resale sale will be held in mid-March at Lucas Lodge. Students were urged to start collecting items. The date hasn't been set yet. Participating will be elementary, junior high and high school students. Proceeds will go toward remodeling the remaining unfinished room in the lodge. The room will be a Junior Red Cross office and a bloodmobile room.

The elementary group has sent 134 gift boxes to the Washington, D.C., Red Cross warehouse to be relayed abroad. Mrs. V. R. Suchonkel, representing St. John's School, is gift box chairman.

Woman Walks 50 Miles On $75 Bet

WABASHA, Minn. — One of three Wabasha hikers who had started a 50-mile trek Friday afternoon stepped off the last paces of the required distance at Minneka Lake Saturday night.

Mrs. Louis Saas, 48, walked the last 20 1/2 miles of the rerouted trip with her husband after her two companions had dropped out after going nearly 50 miles.

Mrs. Saas, a mother of five children, collected a $75 bet for completing the 50-mile jaunt. She had bet a friend she could walk the 50 miles without taking time out for sleeping. She went 38 1/2 hours without sleep and lost four pounds in the process.

The original starters were Mrs. Saas, Mrs. Richard Carrels, 31, and Albert Loechler, 65. When they left Wabasha Friday they intended to follow a route that would take them down the Wisconsin side of the river to Alma, Cochrane, Fountain City, then cross over to Minnesota at Winona Junction and complete the last miles of the hike in Minnesota.

They reached Fountain City about 9:30 p.m. and Mrs. Carrels and Loechler decided they had enough.

While she was resting there, Mrs. Saas fainted and she was taken back to Wabasha for examination by a physician.

When the doctor found that she apparently was fit for the continuation of the hike, Mrs. Saas and her husband set out for Minneka Lake.

It Happened Last Night Scene Upsets Shirley MacLaine

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—How does a girl look to herself—nude—when she suddenly sees herself naked . . . on a big wide screen?

Shirley MacLaine says it unnerved her so much, she's got to go to Miami Beach, the Bahamas, and to Tokyo for a rest. Shir's in a scene in "Irma, La Douce" in which Jack Lemmon looks at her—in a bathtub—through the wrong end of a telescope. He therefore sees a very small though naked Shirley.

"But when they showed the rushes in Hollywood, the picture was blown up—and there I was, without a thing on, up on the screen. Some of my friends watching were, naturally, flustered. I couldn't tell them—'No, no, they're not going to show that much of me in the picture.' It's going to be real small!"

"Honest," claimed Shirley, "I watched the whole thing with my head turned the other way. And when they showed me the still prints—I made a bonfire of the whole thing."

CONNIE FRANCIS' new house at Essex Falls, N.J., near Caldwell, budgeted originally at $150,000, will wind up costing close to $250,000 . . . but that all right, because when Connie played Las Vegas recently, she gambled like crazy . . . yep, with nickels and dimes . . . and quit when she was out $3.50.

"I'm going to have a luxurious round bed in my new house," Connie revealed.

But Connie still has no marriage plans. "I forgot who said this first," Connie remarked, "but I want a sharp fellow with a square head."

I SAW HORACE ("Naked City") McMahon at Toots Shor's at 2 a.m. and asked why he hadn't gone back to Norwalk, Conn., his home. He's well known for his temperance, for taking the commuter's train home nightly after seven or eight cups of coffee. "I'm staying in town tonight," he said. "All I'd do would be wake my wife up when I get home—then she'd have to get me breakfast early because I have an early call. What would it be—86 miles for a cup of coffee?"

Anybody here old enough to remember "Vas You Dare Charlie?" Jack Pearl? You'd better—because Jackie Gleason got the older (and his partner, Cliff Hall, now in the Charles Boyer show, "Lord Pengo") out to tape a Bar-on-Munchausen spot for Mar. 9.

"The Baron" resuscitated an oldie about the haberdasher groaning about bad business, while talking to a friend, like this:

"Monday was lousy. I only sold one suit," the haberdasher said. "Tuesday was worse. I didn't sell any suits. Wednesday was even worse than Tuesday." "How could Wednesday be worse than Tuesday?" "Wednesday the man who bought the suit Monday returned the suit!"

DEAR ABBY:

Warning to All Teen-Age Lovers

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You hear a lot about teen-agers going wrong. Here's the other side of the story: I am a male, age 20, and I have a four-year-old son to support. I've never been married. I went with a nice 16-year-old girl and we thought we were in love. We got serious and before we knew it we had gone further than we had intended to. I would have married her but I was scared. And I didn't want to be tied down at the age of 16. Annie (not her real name) died nine months later in the delivery room. She left me and her parents with a ten-pound bundle. Her last wish was for me to take care of the baby. Annie was a wonderful girl. I have been running from the idea that I killed her ever since. I joined the Army to forget, but I can't. I haven't dated a girl since. I don't think I ever will. Annie's parents are raising the boy and I still haven't the courage to face them and ask them to forgive me. Abby, please keep preaching to teen-agers that playing with grown-up ideas is asking for trouble.

DEAR FATHER: For every girl who gets "in trouble," there is a boy. But seldom does one have the courage to step forward and take the blame. If your letter makes one boy or girl think twice— it's worth the space in this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY: Tell the woman who can't watch television during the day because her husband takes a tube out of the set before he goes to work in the mornings to take another tube out after he leaves. So when he comes home at night and replaces the tube he took out so HE can watch television, it still won't work.

DEAR SANDY: And what has she gained? Then neither of them will be able to watch it. You remind me of the man who drilled a hole in the bottom of the boat so the other guy would sink.

DEAR ABBY: Be fair and print this for "BACHELOR GIRL, AGE 32." First of all, the assumption that widows and divorcees are "common retracts and warmed over has-beens," and that all 32-year-old bachelor girls are respectable, is the biggest bunch of baloney I've heard yet. My wife was a divorcee when we met. Because of her first experience in marriage she was far more understanding, tolerant and mature than any "single" girl I'd ever gone with. We have been happily married for 12 years and have three beautiful children. I wouldn't trade my wife's discarded fingernail clippings for all the "respectable," never-married, 32-year-old bachelor girls in the world.

Sunday Closing Bill Expected In House Today

ST. PAUL (AP) — Authors in houses plan to introduce a state-wide Sunday closing law in the Minnesota Legislature today. The bill would prohibit the sale of most commodities on Sundays and certain holidays. It contains a provision to allow businesses to remain open on Sundays if they close on Saturdays.

Senate authors were conservatives John L. Olson, Worthington, and Fay George Child, Maynard, and liberal Michael McGuire, Montgomery. In the House, authors were conservatives Robert Kucera, Northfield, August Mueller, Arlington, and Roy Schulz, Mankato, and liberals Joseph Pfeiffer, St. Paul, and E. J. Childgren, Littlefork.

The Minnesota Retail Federation is supporting the legislation. At least one church group, the Seventh Day Adventists, opposes the bill.

Taconite taxes and party designation are issues which will get an airing by lawmakers later this week.

The House Tax Committee will hold its first hearing Thursday on a bill to submit to 1964 voters a taconite tax stabilization amendment. The taconite proposal got a boost last month when the United Steelworkers Union and mining companies agreed on a version both would support.

The bill proposes an amendment with a 20-year guarantee that taxes on taconite shall not be increased in a greater ratio than on manufacturing corporations, generally, through a referendum if 5 percent of the voters sign a petition.

The Senate Elections Committee has scheduled a hearing Tuesday on a bill to compel legislators to run under a party label. Some known opponents of the bill are members of the Senate and House Elections Committee and there has been speculation the bill will never get out of committee. Both the Republican and Democratic-Farmer-Labor parties have been on record in favor of party designation.

Five conservative House members from the Minneapolis area said they will introduce this week a bill requiring registered lobbyists to report the money they spend to influence legislation.

Tractor Trouble In South Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—Spring planting time has come in southern Russia, but Pravda reported today that the virgin lands, just like last year, haven't got their tractors ready.

Last year at this time, Pravda reported, 9,000 tractors, 14,000 plows and 6,000 cultivators—all necessary for spring work—were idle in the virgin lands for lack of repairs.

A House subcommittee is going to take a close look at broadcast ratings. It wants to find out how they are made, how they are used and just how accurate they are.

Firms that provide such ratings claim they indicate how many people around the country are tuned in to a particular radio or television program.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., heads the House Commerce Committee and its special investigating subcommittee that will hold the hearings.

No Mississippi Flood Expected In Dubuque Area

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—The Upper Mississippi River should not overflow its banks this spring, the Weather Bureau said Saturday.

The bureau said a light accumulation of snow this winter and the dry autumn last fall should keep down the spring runoff of water.

U.S. Makes Big Loan To India

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today made the largest development loan in the history of its foreign aid program—$240 million to India.

Its purpose: to help India finance imports of priority goods. No military aid is involved.

The entire amount will be spent in the United States.

The only larger U.S. loan was for $322.7 million. It was to Britain in 1948. It was for reconstruction, not development.

Prince Albert of Belgium is in the capital for a two-day visit. As honorary president of the Belgian Office of Foreign Trade, he is looking over possibilities for more trade with the United States.

The prince, 28, is the younger brother of King Baudouin. He will meet President Kennedy at a White House luncheon Tuesday.

A bipartisan Senate group has urged a clampdown on American aid to Southeast Asia. It wants a solid reassessment of security needs there.

Reporting on a study made at the request of the White House, the group headed by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said $5 billion in economic and military aid has been channeled into Southeast Asia since 1950.

It questioned how much good this money had done and how long present aid policies should be continued.

The Navy may be getting a rival for its Polaris, as a weapon for surface ships. The Air Force apparently is developing a mid-range ballistic missile.

No name for it as yet. It would be mobile, with a projected range of about 3,000 miles—about 200

Galesville Library Circulation Gains

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—A total of 444 more books were taken from the Galesville Public Library last year than in 1961.

Mrs. Fred Huss, librarian 23 years, reported a total circulation of 18,237. The breakdown: Juvenile nonfiction, 1,504; juvenile fiction, 5,707; adult nonfiction, 5,973; and adult fiction, 4,893.

Other statistics: Pictures, clippings and maps, 155; readers in the library, 890; reference questions, 456; new books purchased, 162; and books given, 8.

The total book stock is 6,652 volumes with 1,391 registered borrowers. Two newspapers and 9 magazines are donated and 33 magazines are subscribed for by the library. A total of 114 pieces of material were ordered from the traveling library. Twenty packages were received from the University of Wisconsin Extension Division for use of the Music Study Club.

A gift of $200 from the Caneer Trust Fund was used to purchase reference material and magazines. Fines and rentals totaled $83.88.

Mrs. Huss does not believe television has interfered too much with reading by children. The big change over the years is in the beauty of the books and the ease with which they can be read.

The demand for all types of engineers is reflected in a study showing the number of jobholders in this field nationally jumped 64 percent—from 519,000 to 853,700—in the 1950's.

"WHAT DO YOU MEAN? TWO SIDES TO THE QUESTION?"

Sometimes medicine is hard to take. There was a time when medicine had to taste bad or they were not considered good. Modern medicine not only tastes better, but they almost perform miracles. Not only do they save lives—they are the best investment in history.

It costs less to burn the best!

The Casual Observer

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

LAST year it was the twist, before that it was the hula hoop; this year it's the 50-mile hike. The speed with which a new fad sweeps the nation never fails to astonish me. This new fad started with a casual wondering of President Kennedy if the Marines could still do 50 mile hikes as they did in Theodore Roosevelt's time. Immediately the entire nation wanted to get into the act and show what good Marines they are.

All over America people are doing 50 mile hikes. Here in Winona St. Mary's and Winona State boys are hiking. One group of State College girls were planning to hike to La Crosse and back this last weekend. A St. Paul society editor friend of mine challenged the sports editor to hike from St. Paul to Red Wing and back. An Albert Lea man told me he was going to challenge the older of the Kennedy brothers to a 50-mile hike—"And," he added, "I'll carry his rocking chair all the way!"

Ever since I've lived in this valley I've walked the dogs an hour or more every day, usually up the hills, and for the first time in all these years I feel right in style. All my life I've liked to walk, but only once have I taken a really long walk.

That was years ago at college in New York state when my roommate and I decided to walk the 22 or 23 miles to a little Quaker inn where the girls used to like to spend Saturday and Sunday. There was a bus, but many girls, including me, did it on bicycles—no cars allowed at college.

So my roommate and I started about 9 o'clock one beautiful October Saturday morning and walked. We didn't dawdle nor did we sprint, and we arrived at the inn in good shape, not too tired and with no blisters, in time for 6 o'clock dinner. The next morning we started to walk back to college about 10 o'clock. It had turned cold and windy and the walking went much harder and our shoes seemed to feel much lighter than they had on Saturday.

In fact, by the time we had walked about five miles we had completely lost our enthusiasm, when a big shiny black limousine with a chauffeur drew up beside us and a man in the back seat leaned out of the window and asked where we were bound for.

He was a most distinguished looking man with thick iron-gray hair and mustache, and his manners were beautiful. He said with a smile, "I would deem it a great honor if you young ladies would let me take you as far as the next town. There, unhappily, I have to branch off in order to get to Washington."

With never a qualm we accepted, and the chauffeur opened the door for us and we got in and sat with the nice distinguished man. He was most interested in our walking project and asked us many questions. Then he said, "I'll tell you what—I'll make you a bet—shall we say five dollars—that you can't get back to college by 5 o'clock. Why don't you send me a telegram, collect, as soon as you get back to college. If you make it by 5 o'clock wire me that I owe you five dollars."

Then he said, "I am Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. Just wire me collect at the Senate Office building."

We were very impressed, for Sen. Lodge as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee was much in the news. At the next town we thanked our charming host who bowed in courtly fashion and said it had been his pleasure. Then we got out of the car and continued our walk home. I said, "From the newspaper pictures I could have sworn that Sen. Lodge was older and had a beard. But I guess not."

Anxious to win our bet we started sprinting and practically killed ourselves. Sore of foot and completely exhausted, we got back to college about quarter of 5 and limped into the

COLLECTOR'S ITEM
ST. PETERBURG, Fla. (AP)—The Historical Society Museum has a new exhibit that, in this automobile age, would be a collector's item anywhere but in Florida, is downright rare. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simpson of St. Petersburg recently presented the museum with a set of four snowshoes for horses. The snowshoes are made of wood, a foot long and 9 inches wide, with a gadget mounted on top in which Old Dobbin placed his hoof.

Appraisers For WSC Land Buying Named

Appraisers were appointed in District Court here this morning for the condemnation of property to provide a site for Winona State College dormitory construction. This is across King Street from a block of dormitories.

Commissioners who will make the appraisals are Stanley Hammer, Howard Keller and A. J. McGill, all of Winona.

THEY'LL BE sworn in and receive their instructions Tuesday. David Leslie, a special assistant state attorney general from St. Paul, represented the state at this morning's hearing.

Wage Pattern Reflects Sound, Stable Economy

WINONA'S SOUND, stable economy, its active and continuing interest in the educational and cultural development of its young people and its progressive outlook toward the future are reflected in survey findings published statewide during the past week showing that, collectively, this city's public school teachers are among the best paid in Minnesota.

The real significance of the research report prepared by the Minnesota Education Association is not found in the bald statistical data revealing Winona's median teacher salary to be the third highest in the state but, rather, in the factors responsible for this high standing.

In virtually all school systems, teachers' salaries are scheduled on a scale that takes into account professional training and experience with earnings increasing annually with each additional year of teaching experience, frequently on a 10- to 15-year range.

WINONA'S ENVIABLE position in the statewide teachers' salary picture was realized because a great percentage of our faculty members have remained in the school system for an extended period, enabling them to reach the top of the salary schedule.

This has not happened by chance. It is the result of our ability in attracting to Winona teachers with professional qualifications marking them as people we want to have and keep in our school system. And, these people have been given the teaching tools, enlightened school administration and socio-economic status that have encouraged them to remain in our community.

THE SURVEY report tells the rest of the state that Winona takes pride in the quality of its teaching staff and has been willing to pay the price to keep the best.

There are other communities, perhaps, that offer what would, at first glance, appear to be more attractive salary schedules for their teachers with higher dollar maximums. Frequently, however, an examination of payroll figures shows that few if any of the faculty members have the teaching experience or professional qualifications to realize these maximum benefits. In Winona, on the other hand, our teachers are receiving paychecks that place them, deservedly, in the upper economic level of this community.

AT A TIME when other school systems are caught in the dizzying competition of teacher salary scheduling it's nice to know that Winona has provided a salary structure that fairly rewards the teacher for his professional training and experience.

Federal Spending — Then and Now

JUST A CENTURY ago the federal government was spending a million dollars every 12 and a quarter hours. This was considered stupendous, but we were in the midst of the Civil War.

Under the $92.5 billion budget proposed for the 1962-63 fiscal year, the U. S. Government plans to spend a million dollars every five minutes and 40 seconds during the 12-month period. This is 127 times as fast as a century ago.

In fiscal 1862-63 the federal government spent $715 million, but the final year of the war pushed expenditures up to $1,300 million—a million every six and three-quarter hours, the statisticians calculate.

THAT RECORD stood for over half a century, until fiscal 1917, which saw the U. S. involved in World War I. For that year federal expenditures jumped to $1,978 million, or a million every four and a half hours. At the end of the war, fiscal 1918-19 saw the rate top a million dollars every half hour, for an annual total of $18,515 million, the records show.

The 1918-19 figure stood until World War II. But during fiscal 1941-42 our government spent a million dollars every 15½ minutes, or nearly twice as fast as at the peak of World War I outlays. For fiscal 1944-45 federal expenditures soared to $98,416 million—a million dollars every five minutes and 24 seconds.

THAT WAR-MADE speed record still stands by a narrow margin. But beginning next July 1 we'll be crowding close on its heels.

Diefenbaker says Canadians won't be "pushed around" by the U.S. It would be nothing to the pushing around they might get if they lack nuclear weapons.

HOW DO YOU STAND, SIR?

Some Support For De Gaulle

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

Around Washington these days, it is popular to downgrade French President Charles de Gaulle, not only for his veto of the British application for entry into the European Common Market, but also for his announced desire to establish France as an independent nuclear power.

I certainly don't agree with De Gaulle's adamant opposition to the British petition for Common Market membership. In fact, in this, I believe he is entirely wrong. But I find it very difficult to disagree with his nuclear position in light of the present administration's foreign and defense policies.

It strikes me that President de Gaulle, far from being the fossilized product of early European thinking that the liberal press is trying to make him, is looking far into the future. I believe his attitude is well in advance of that maintained by other European countries. And I believe it is compounded of conclusions reached on the basis of American actions.

To a farsighted man like President de Gaulle, the lack of an independent nuclear force in Europe raises serious questions, particularly in light of the fact that we are now in the process of putting all of our defense eggs in the missile basket. De Gaulle is looking ahead to the day when the United States might pull its troops out of Europe, and he is trying to imagine how, in the future, the United States might react to a Russian attack on Free Europe.

AND WHAT he sees, I suggest, convinces him that France must begin establishing its own nuclear force. He doesn't want his country to be caught defenseless if, at some future time, the United States decides to take its nuclear forces out of Europe for fear their continued presence might lead to a world conflict.

Can we blame De Gaulle, as a patriotic Frenchman, for not wanting to gamble on the future? Without United States nuclear forces, Europe becomes a conventional war area. And in this situation, the East is vastly superior. Russia has 125 divisions against 23 divisions for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. President de Gaulle unquestionably asks himself whether the United States would commit its nuclear weapons to defend Europe if the Soviets began to attack with those 125 conventional divisions.

YOU CAN see the choice such a situation would leave us: To see Europe overrun by the Communists or risk our own survival and the survival of the world by becoming the first of the great powers to utilize nuclear force in a new war.

This would be a difficult choice, and we might not make the one that would prevent the enslavement of Europe. And I believe this is what De Gaulle is thinking when he rejects the terms of the Nassau Pact which Britain accepted.

The whole example of Cuba and our failure to come to grips with the real issue in the Caribbean when we had the chance has done nothing but increase the doubts of men like De Gaulle who worry about the future safety of their nations. In the Cuban situation, we settled for a lot less than we demanded, and we left intact a Communist military base in the Western Hemisphere. The very existence of Soviet military presence 90 miles from the coast of Florida cries aloud to the entire world that our government does not have the will nor the determination to remove it.

IN LIGHT OF this, is it any wonder that nations like France do not want to depend entirely upon the United States to provide the nuclear defense they might need in a future crisis? Is it any wonder that Britain was reluctant to give up the independence of action which the Skybolt would have provided for the dependence it had to accept with the Polaris submarines?

'THE SEASON WILL BE OVER BEFORE SPRING TRAINING STARTS!'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Rockefeller Set to Run Against Kennedy in '64

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—If you want to understand the reasons for the frenzied clamor on Capitol Hill regarding Cuba, you have to know what's going on behind the scenes in Republican politics.

No. 1. It's virtually certain Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York will be the Republican candidate for president. He has made plans to set up a working staff immediately; has told intimates he will definitely enter the primary in New Hampshire, a state in which he went to college and serves on the Dartmouth board of trustees; will also enter the Wisconsin primary.

No. 2. Rockefeller has picked Cuba and foreign affairs as his chief campaign weapon against Kennedy, with civil rights as his second.

This is the real reason why Sen. Jack Javits of New York flabbergasted his civil rights friends in the Senate by ranking a petty gripe against an insignificant ruling by Vice President Johnson to adjourn after the filibustering rules vote. Later, Javits, a fair-minded senator but under obligation to the governor of New York, came to see Johnson privately and apologized.

No apology has come from the other New York senator, Ken Keating of Rochester, for the rabble-rousing speeches he has made on Cuba. Keating is a smart lawyer and, in the past, a decent senator. He was not a McCarthy admirer. However, his inflammatory speeches on Cuba have reminded senatorial colleagues of Joe McCarthy in his heyday.

A minority of Republican senators has joined the Keating wolfpack on Cuba in the same spirit that the late Bob Taft supported McCarthy. When McCarthy was claiming there were "205 card-carrying Communists known to Dean Acheson" in the State Department, every fair-minded Republican knew this could not be true. But Taft told a GOP meeting: "Suppose he finds just one Communist — we'll have Truman on the run."

LIKEWISE, every Republican senator knows today that all offensive Soviet missiles are almost certainly removed from Cuba. But they argue privately: "Suppose Keating finds just one — we'll have Kennedy on the run."

What most people outside Senate cloakrooms don't know, however, is that when Keating speaks, it's Keating's voice but Rockefeller's extremity. The two men are extremely close. They ran together on the same ticket in 1958, when Keating didn't really want to run, didn't really expect to win. Rockefeller support and Rockefeller money helped him win. And the two will probably be running together again in 1964, one for the Senate, the other for president.

Meanwhile, Keating has sent his ghost writer, Ace Newsman Hugh Morrow, formerly of the Saturday Evening Post, to help Rocky in Albany, and the governor is on the phone to Keating more or less every other day.

This is some of the backstage politics the public doesn't know about when it reads the congressional tirades over Cuba.

REAL FACT is that Kennedy has won some amazing victories in Cuba. Few diplomatic observers really expected Khrushchev to start pulling troops out of Cuba. But he did — another victory for Kennedy. But every victory he wins helps to pull the rug out from under Rockefeller's strategy; so the howl from the war clique in Congress becomes more frenzied. It could also become dangerous.

The danger is that too much war mongering in the Senate will heat one of the most important rifts ever to occur in the Communist world — that between Russia and Red China. Or it could knock the props out from under Khrushchev's moderate policy and reinstate the tough tactics of the Red army, which most diplomats believe were responsible for the missile buildup in Cuba in the first place.

These cross currents inside the Communist world can shift rapidly. If they shift for the worse, there could be real danger of war. And if the United States is at war in 1964, Rockefeller won't have a prayer of winning. The United States has never been known to defeat a Democratic war president — especially when he's pushed into war by Republicans.

SEN. JOE CLARK, the Philadelphia Democrat who constantly gets under the skin of Senate Dixiecrats, has compiled an interesting table showing that it doesn't pay to buck the Dixiecrats. His point in compiling the table is that the makeup of the Democratic steering committee should be changed so as to end the balance of Dixiecrat control; inasmuch as the committee pushed northern senators who voted to change the filibustering rules in favor of civil rights.

The table shows that out of 14 non-freshmen Democratic senators who voted against the Dixiecrats, only one, Mike Mansfield, got his committee choice.

On the other hand, seven freshmen Democrats who voted with the Dixiecrats got their first choice of committees: Bartlett, Alaska, Byrd, W. Va., Cannon, Nev., Hayden, Ariz., Jordan, N.C., McGee-Smith, Fla. The only non-freshman who didn't get what he wanted — Thurmond, S.C.

The table, said Joe Clark, speaks for itself.

IT DIDN'T leak out, but the Navy and Air Force had another tug-of-war over that hijacked Venezuelan freighter. The Navy tried to keep the Air Force out of the act during the four-day search.

When the Navy couldn't find the ship, Gen. Curtis LeMay, the Air Force chief, phoned Admiral George Anderson, the Navy chief, and offered to send Air Force planes to join the search.

Admiral Anderson passed the buck. He suggested that LeMay get in touch with Admiral Allen Smith, the Caribbean commander, in charge of the sea hunt. LeMay had his number two man, General Thomas Power, call Smith.

But the Caribbean commander was not at all eager for Air Force help. He told Power that he would not ask the Air Force for assistance, though if the Air Force insisted upon volunteering, he would give it a segment to search—in the middle of the ocean.

General Powell politely declined, and a few days later a Navy Neptune finally located the missing freighter.

Time to Guard U.S. Interests

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Are Nikita Khrushchev's feelings and his possible annoyance over criticism from this country more important than an insistence on the basic principles of America's foreign policy? This question is asked because Adlai Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, has just made a curious comment bearing on that point. He told a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations that he "would not be surprised" if the Soviet Premier took his troops out of Cuba "unless we make it too embarrassing for him to back down again."

What is so "embarrassing" about asking a ruler to fulfill his promises to maintain peace and to remove a military force that constitutes a threat to peace? Isn't it more "embarrassing" for President Kennedy to be confronted with criticism by members of both parties in Congress because the Soviet Premier has dodged the issue and still seems disinclined to take all his troops out of Cuba?

A kind of pussyfoot atmosphere emerges in Washington from time to time. There is manifest worry about the sensitivity of an adversary instead of about the dangers of his policies. Every now and then high level announcements are delayed or certain declarations by the department of state are withheld for fear of offending the Soviet side.

This is a strange course to pursue, and in the long run the firmness of the American position itself can be misconstrued. Sometimes this course has been erroneously called a "soft" policy or an "appeasement."

In the present instance, it is simply a case of bad judgment in international dealings and is largely due to the inexperience of the administration. Some of the experts on Soviet psychology, inside and outside the administration, are reported to have argued that President Kennedy ought not to make Mr. Khrushchev mad or to embarrass him in his domestic situation or in his relations with China. This problem was raised in a question that was asked President Kennedy on Dec. 17 in a television interview with a panel of reporters. Their inquiry was whether Mr. Kennedy agreed with the Russian experts who felt that he should "protect Mr. Khrushchev" because the present Soviet premier might prove to be better than any successor. The President answered:

"NO, I don't think it is our duty to protect Mr. Khrushchev. This argument that his successor would be worse—I don't know what his successor will be like. What I think is our duty is to try to protect our vital interests, protect the security of this free world, and have Mr. Khrushchev understand our intentions clearly enough so that he can proceed about his business in a way which does not threaten our security, and does not bring a war."

This is a well-phrased statement of American policy, but it can be misunderstood when accompanied by a let-down in the demands that the United States has made upon the Soviets in reference to the urban problem.

Originally, for example, President Kennedy called for on-site inspection to verify whether the Soviet armament had been removed from Cuba. But not long afterward—in fact, in the same Dec. 17 interview—Mr. Kennedy showed that he had yielded on the matter of on-site inspection. He explained it in a way that indicated a sensitivity to what might be called the Russian premier's "embarrassing" position in the negotiation. The President was asked if there would have been any "breakthrough" in the effort to bring peace in the world if international inspection of Cuba had been obtained. He replied:

"NO, I DON'T think that would have materially affected it, because I don't think we would have gotten the kind of inspection which really is necessary, because a totalitarian system cannot accept the kind of inspection which really is desirable. What you are saying, really, is that Cuba has opened. The Soviet Union has opened. They are not going to open it, because a totalitarian system must exist only in secrecy."

This implies a kind of acquiescence in the Khrushchev position, and actually may have weakened the United States negotiators on world disarmament in the conferences at Geneva in recent weeks. Was the attainment of on-site inspection blocked because of an acceptance in advance of the assumption that the Kremlin could really not agree to the proposal anyway?

The truth is that all the concern expressed here about offending the Russians through public statements demanding that the Soviets cease their military threats in Cuba and elsewhere is needless.

Causes of Heartburn, Hiccups

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes heartburn and hiccups and what is the cure? I have both troubles — heartburn after eating only one slice of bread. And for hiccups I've tried everything including some old-fashioned superstitions. — H.C.D.

Heartburn? Many causes. Spicy and irritating foods; inflammation of esophagus or gullet; regurgitation of stomach contents back up into the gullet (hiccups could cause that to happen); any disorder of the upper intestinal tract, including ulcer of stomach or duodenum; hiatal hernia, or gall stones. Also excessive alcohol, tobacco or coffee; or hyperacidity, which is an excessive secretion of digestive juices.

The cure? The first rule of health is to find out the cause before choosing a treatment. Medication, diet, cutting down on something you are getting too much of — all of these are good if applied to the right cause.

In some few instances surgery may be required, but that will mean you are correcting more than just the heartburn. If the heartburn is persistent, consult your doctor. Exact diagnosis is worth a lot of guesswork.

Now for hiccups. Causes most frequently are overeating or eating too fast; irritation of the diaphragm; kidney or liver disease; and habit.

MY BEST SUGGESTION is to take this up with your doctor when you see him concerning the heartburn. It is entirely possible that correcting one will correct the other.

I have no pet remedy for hiccups. There are as many so-called hiccup cures as there are "cold cures" and very few of them do any more good. Breathing into a paper bag, or holding your breath are probably as effective as any.

What about getting heartburn from only one slice of bread? Is that literally true? If so, it's rather unusual, because bread is bland and non-irritating.

Let's Get Growing

Deciduous Shrubs For The Home

Shrubs are among the most valuable plants for beautifying the home grounds. If the front yard is small, and there is no room for a large tree, a tall shrub such as a lilac, high bush cranberry, or one of the improved mock oranges such as the Minnesota snowflake, can be used to advantage. They can be of service as specimen plants, or to frame the house.

If there is room between the front of the house and sidewalk for some shrubs to serve as a partial screen, they should be chosen with care. This is especially so, if the home owner desires to see some vegetation when looking out from within, instead of seeing only the street or only the stems of some large trees. It is usually an advantage to select first the locations for the tall shrubs, choose the varieties desired, and then follow with the smaller shrubs.

Considering their great value, shrubs should be used liberally and judiciously with ornamental evergreens as they soften the harsh effect of the latter. Of course, each variety of shrub should be considered on its own merits as well as to the rest of the plantings. Desirable shape and foliage should not be sacrificed for bloom, since the latter is often of only short duration.

NOW, LET US discuss some of the shrubs that are useful about the home taking up first the larger ones: The lilacs which are favored by many persons, are, on the whole, not too desirable for the small yard. They become rather leggy and in the case of the old-fashioned kinds tend to sucker from the roots. Also, the seed heads become unsightly, if not cut off, and this becomes quite a job, if the bushes are quite tall.

The Amurensis is a lilac that can be grown in a tree form by trimming to a single stem, and it will reach a height of 20 feet. The leaves are large and the long, white, loose flower panicles are very attractive. It flowers after all of the other lilacs have bloomed off and this, of course, is a good feature. We have one that flowered last year and like it.

The Persian lilac is our favorite of all of the lilacs and believe it is the best variety for the small yard. In fact, it is one of the finest of all of the flowering shrubs. The flower clusters which are very fragrant are borne on the ends of the branches which arch gracefully. It blooms later than the usual lilac varieties and attains 6 feet in height. It sends up new shoots from the base, but does not sucker.

THE MINNESOTA snowflake is an improvement over the old mock orange, has double fragrant blossoms, and can be used as a specimen, or a background shrub. It grows to about 8 feet and flowers in June and July.

The American high bush cranberry is a tall shrub, about 10 feet, and is suitable for individual planting, or for use as a background. The large white flower clusters are attractive in the spring followed by heads of red berries that hang on well into the winter.

Passing on to the smaller shrubs, there is the new cardinal shrub, a red flowered form of the Weigela. The flowers are trumpet-shaped, deep red in color and very showy. It grows to a height of about 5 feet.

THE BUSH cinquefoil (Potentilla) is a compact shrub growing to about 4 feet. It bears small yellow flowers in early summer and again later in the fall.

Other small shrubs from which the gardener can choose are the white and red spiraea, beauty bush, Eonymus alata for red foliage in the fall, several varie-

Since our last writing, more items have been put in place and we are beginning to find some things that we never knew we had. At a later date we will have the BULL PEN full of real dollar-saving items.

If you are interested in paneling or ceiling tile, we have used about 10 different panelings on our walls and have about a 4'x5' area of different designs of Armstrong ceiling tile, so you can tell what a wall or ceiling would really look like in your own home.

Another item which we used a lot of our displays of hardware, paints, etc., is a new product by Masonite called Presto Pegboard. This is a 1/4" thick pre-finished pegboard which is quite attractive, versatile and strong. The holes are not punched 1" on center as normal but in a different design which still gives the ample amount of holes for fixtures. This costs $6.75 per 4'x8' sheet. Very good for one wall in your boy's room. Get some of that excess off the floor and on the walls.

Another real value for a limited time is design ceiling tile at only 10¢ per tile. These are discontinued patterns, not seconds. Some are a little on the gaudy side, but if you don't like them you can paint them. You'll be surprised when you get them up that they aren't so bad after all. And the price is only 10¢ ea.

In paneling, we have come across a 1/4"x4'x8' light wood panel which is uniform in color, back-sealed and has four coats of finish. A piece that we are proud to sell for only $8.00.

Something to remember on paneling and ceiling tile is to open the cartons at least 24 hours before installation and leave them in the room where it is to be applied. This is extremely important. See you in two weeks.

Good Advice: Do Inside Job Before Spring

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The last call for indoor projects is upon us.

You can increase the optimism that spring is just behind those seed catalogs that have arrived, by examining those indoor work chores before outdoor brush-up time is upon us. The mere thought that another winter chapter is closing may strengthen our paint brush stroke.

IT'S A WASTE of time to do some jobs now. Postpone patching ceilings unless the leak is due to something indoors. If you don't know its source, wait until missing shingles can be checked and gutters inspected.

Jobs that require assistance from floor tilers, carpenters and cabinet makers should be done now. Many people postpone building new counter tops and kitchen cabinets through the winter when workmen are likely to be at ease, and then can't get the jobs done when the experts are in demand.

If you don't want the mess now, at least get on the list of the professional.

• MANY JOBS have been made easier and less costly for do-it-yourselfers, and the installation of shelves has become a simple project. Precut shelves, adjustable metal wall strips and neatly cut many professional carpenters use them.

Shelves are available in all sorts of finished and unfinished woods, some stained, some painted, and in a great variety of lengths and widths that fit brackets designed for them.

Shelves solve the problem in many situations. In the kitchen they are ideal for those seldom-used appliances that take up cupboard space.

In a child's room, they can keep the floor space clear by absorbing games, books, toys, record players. In the bathroom, shelves may be put up to hold the supply of towels, the entire family will need for a week. A spare closet can be lined with shelves to hold cleaning supplies, sports equipment, sewing gizmos.

• NEW FLOOR materials are easier for do-it-yourselfers to install as they do not require fitting pieces together. Cushioned vinyls, bought by the yard, need little trimming if accurate measurements are made in advance.

These may be put down easily by do-it-yourselfers. Some floor tiles are easier to put down than others, but directions have been simplified so that most home workmen can understand them.

• A paint job that is postponed frequently is the stairwell. It requires a little more ingenuity and courage than painting other areas of the home as one does not relish teetering on the brink of a ladder balanced in a precarious position.

But the long attachment that may be put on a paint roller can do the job well. Some painters attach a paint brush first to the attachment, painting the area between ceiling and wall, particularly the corners, then use the roller for the additional work.

Simple Design Leaves Room for Luxuries

By JULES LOH

You'd never know it by glancing at it from the street, or even by inspecting it closely inside and out, but our house today is intended for folks with a problem budget—and that's just about everybody.

Specifically, architect Rudolph A. Matern designed this three-bedroom house for couples who expect both their families and their incomes to get considerably larger as the years go by, but right now have only two or three kids and an equally modest bank balance.

THE HOUSE is constructed essentially around a basic frame using standard lumber lengths and a simple down-the-center main steel girder.

The savings in this elementary type of structure enabled Matern to add features which give it striking curb appeal as the developers refer to an interesting and tasteful exterior as well as (and more important) inside—without taking it out of the economy category.

SOME OF these extra benefits include:

• A 12-foot bow window in the front, adding glamor to the formal entertaining area and charm to the exterior facade.

• A 90-degree curved staircase with an open balcony, which is an unusual and dramatic touch in any home, especially one of this size.

• A curved wall in the kitchen, different enough to prevent any drabness in this important area no matter how else it's furnished.

• A four-foot-wide log-burning fireplace in the living room.

• Recessed front and rear terraces for weather protection.

• A gracious entrance foyer of elaborate proportions and equipped with a damage proof flagstone floor.

BUT CLEARLY the biggest economical advantage of the house is a second floor expansion of 804 square feet, enough room to add two more huge bedrooms and a second full bath.

The extra rooms can be built as they become necessary, and much of the finishing work done by a handy husband.

For all of its luxury-house niceties and abundance of space, the basic area of the home is only 1,316 square feet and its overall dimensions a neat 30 feet 4 inches wide by 27 feet 9 inches deep.

THE EXCEPTIONALLY large upstairs rooms are the result of a 38-foot dormer across the back. The ceilings are full height and flat, not the head-bumping sidewall splay usually found in 1½-story homes.

Both the upstairs rooms have adjoining alcoves for dressing, homework, hobbies or storage. The design of the bathroom—both bathrooms, for that matter—is both different and utilitarian.

They have broad counter tops and plenty of room; upstairs there is an angled tub, and the downstairs bath has twin lavatories.

IF IT'S POSSIBLE for a large family to have an over supply of closets and storage space, this house plainly has it.

No room is lacking, and even the service closets—upstairs and downstairs linen closets and the coat closet in the foyer—are well proportioned. There is additional storage space in the cellar, of course.

Another nice feature of this house is the location of the laundry. It is next to the kitchen, convenient for a busy housewife, and also near the bedroom wing so there's no unnecessary hauling.

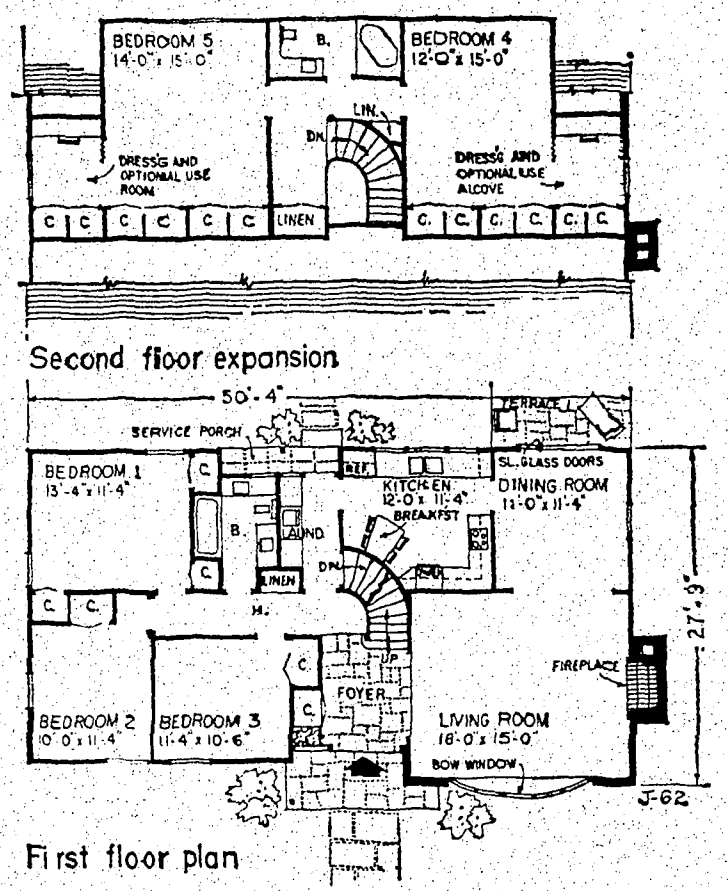

THE FORMAL area of the house stretches 18 feet in one direction and more than 26 feet in the other, a spacious ell with points of interest in every direction—window, fireplace, foyer and sliding doors leading to the rear dining terrace.

The rear service entry is directly opposite the front entrance, which presents an uncomplicated flow of traffic to all parts of the house without any room being used as a passageway.

In short, the house is pleasing to look at as well as to live in, and solves the knotty problem of how to get a large family into a basically small and inexpensive area.

ROOM TO GROW IN: This 1½-story model has three bedrooms on the main floor plus an 804-square-foot expansion which adds two more bedrooms. For all its space and glamorous looks, a basic frame and standard lumber lengths allow it to remain in the economy category.

FLOOR PLANS: A 38-foot dormer across the rear allows the upstairs rooms to be exceptionally large and to have full height, flat ceilings. The upstairs expansion adds 804 square feet to the basic house size of 1,316 square feet. Note the abundance of closets, and the large counter tops in bathrooms and kitchen.

JUST LIKE WOOD

Insulation board, also known as fiberboard or wallboard, is sometimes used in exterior construction and should be painted like any other wood used out of doors. First apply a coat of house paint primer. After this has dried, follow with two coats of standard house paint, preferably made by the same firm that produced the prime coat.

Downtown Remodeling Job Approved

A permit for remodeling of a portion of a building at 120 Center St., which will be used as its new offices was drawn at the city engineer's office last week by Bob Selover Realtor, 110 Exchange Bldg.

The new office quarters will be in a portion of the building now unoccupied. Remodeling of the interior, to be done by Brugger & Nelson contractors, is estimated to cost $700.

After the work is completed the realty company will move to the Center Street location from its Exchange Building quarters.

The only other permit taken last week was by Robert Cole, 1025 W. Wabasha St., for installation of new siding on his house. The job will be done by Harley Williams, Minneapolis, at a cost of $980.

Valuation of building permits issued this year is now $774,665. Last year at this time the total was $181,716.

Permits for gas-fired installations were issued to Quality Sheet Metal Co., for its new offices and shop at 761 E. Broadway and for Earl Blood Sr., 701 Johnson St., and Lawrence Barrett, 311 Washington St., and to Paul A. Meier, Plumbing Co., for Roy Haggen, 336 Oak St.

QUESTION: We bought a house six years ago for $14,000. We decided to sell it recently and went to a real estate office.

One of the men from that office came over to our house, looked it over and said he didn't think we could get more than $12,000 for it. We think it is worth $15,000. Do we have to accept his estimate?

ANSWER: Of course you don't. You can put your house up for sale at any price you choose. The facts of life, however, are that most persons put too high a selling price on their houses and usually settle for less.

It is also true that, occasionally, a home owner will sell his

It showed that the creamery received a total of 21,882,730 pounds of milk and 21,836 pounds of cream during the year. Butter manufacture totaled 964,389 pounds. The association paid patrons $710,998 for milk and 4,769 for cream. The sale of butter netted $556,936.

Thieves Take 60,000 Pennies in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Somewhere there's a thief with 60,000 bright, shiny pennies and an assortment of other loot.

Geneva Chancey, 45, and Betty Sanders, 40, told police that when they returned to their apartment Sunday night they found a burglar had taken luggage, a watch, 100 assorted shares of stock and their coin collection.

They reported 60,000 uncirculated 1961 pennies—a face value of $600—missing. Also gone were 200 proof sets of 1961 coins from U.S. mints with face value of $182.

Korean Police Chief Exiled

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Former Seoul police chief Kim Chong-pil, forced into at least temporary exile, said today he hopes his departure will stabilize South Korea's turbulent political situation.

The once-powerful Kim took an airliner to Tokyo to begin what is officially labeled as 30-day tour abroad as "ambassador at large."

Government Cited In Colombia Clash

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The Confederation of Colombian Workers blamed the government today for a clash between troops and striking cement workers that killed 11 persons and wounded 34 near Medellin Saturday.

The confederation charged the army ignored the strikers' constitutional rights and escorted a caravan delivering cement from the plant.

Cotter Staves Off Fighting St. Felix Five to Triumph 56-50

Region Six Finale Close Down to End

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

PLAINVIEW, Minn.—It's a familiar story.

Winona Cotter will represent Region Six in the Minnesota Catholic basketball tournament March 1-3, but the Ramblers had to fight for their lives against a fired-up Wabasha St. Felix quintet before coming away a 56-50 victor Sunday at Plainview, Minn.

The game was more evenly played than the final score indicates. It was tied at 46-46 with 5:35 to go and could have gone either way until Cotter gained a five-point margin (53-46) with only 23 seconds to play.

IN THE WORDS of St. Felix Coach Duke Loretz, "We had to take a couple of pressure shots toward the end, and they just didn't fall in for us."

The winning margin was Cotter's biggest lead of the afternoon. The Ramblers trailed by an equal six-point deficit midway in the third quarter but behind the shooting of Bob Judge and Sam Czaplewski came back to go in front 42-41 at the end of the third period.

Cotter thus will meet St. Louis Park Berilide at 9 p.m. Friday in the State Catholic meet in the St. Paul Auditorium.

Cotter Coach John Nett was all smiles as he sat quietly during the presentations after the game. "We weren't hitting very well," said Nett. "That's why I put in the stall."

"THE STALL" was inserted with 3:32 remaining to play and Cotter holding a slim one-point edge at 47-46. It was probably the deciding factor as Rick Starzeczki and Sam Czaplewski hit clutch free throws that were set up when St. Felix came out to get the ball.

Another key item was the strong rebounding of the Ramblers five. Cotter held a 48-33 edge off the boards.

"We've been hurting on offensive rebounding all year," said Coach Loretz. The Yellowjackets captured only 11 offensive rebounds while Cotter was garnering 24.

Loran Koprowski did a yeoman's effort under the boards for Cotter. Al Pinsoneault and Ed Hall did a fine job for St. Felix. The Ramblers threatened to break the game open early as they moved to leads of 9-5 and 11-7 in the first quarter. The Yellowjackets closed it to 11-9 as the buzzer sounded ending the first frame.

ST. FELIX opened the second stanza by rolling in eight straight points, four of them by Hall, to gain a 17-11 lead. Cotter roared back with six of its own to tie it 19-19 with 2:31 remaining in the first half. The Ramblers gained a 21-20 lead before St. Felix jumped to a 26-21 margin behind the hot hand of John Kasper.

The Ramblers trailed most of the third quarter as the Yellowjackets failed to play dead for the favored Ramblers.

A lay-up by Czaplewski just as the buzzer sounded ending the third quarter gave Cotter a 41-40 lead, and they were never headed.

"I can't help but feel proud of my team," said Loretz. "I don't think you could ask more from five boys." It was agreed on all sides that the Yellowjackets played inspired basketball.

NEITHER coach went to his bench very often in the tight contest. Cotter used seven players, and St. Felix only six.

The big guns for the Yellowjackets were Kasper and Dick Peters. They repeatedly hit on long jump shots that either kept St. Felix in the lead or within striking distance. Kasper ended the game with 16 points, and Peters followed closely with 15.

Four Ramblers sparked Cotter's evenly balanced scoring attack. Koprowski and Czaplewski paced the scoring parade with 13 points each. Bob Judge added 11 and Gene Schultz 10.

Cotter outscored St. Felix 23-16 from the floor, but had to scramble for every bucket.

SMILE OF CONTENTMENT... John Nett, Winona Cotter coach, isn't hard to identify in this scene after Sunday's Regional Six Catholic finals at Plainview. The Rambler coach is surrounded by his victorious cagers and his assistant, Jon Kosidowski (far right) after edging St. Felix 56-50 to gain a state tournament berth. The Ramblers had a fight on their hands all the way, but posted their 18th win in 22 games. (Daily News Sports Photo by Merrill Kelley)

St. Cloud Shares Crown As Bemidji Trips Tech

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Cloud State, with a giant assist from Bemidji State, returned to the Northern State College Conference throne room Saturday night.

The defending champion Huskies had to share the 1963 NSCC crown with Michigan Tech, but for much of the season it looked like St. Cloud might not even get a piece of the title. So the Huskies probably are more than thankful for what they won.

St. Cloud ripped Winona 79-65 Saturday night, while Bemidji was upsetting Michigan Tech 73-71 at Bemidji to help their Minnesota cousins grab off half the conference crown.

St. Cloud and Tech both wound up 8-2 in NSCC play, while Mankato finished third at 6-4 and Bemidji fourth at 5-5.

The Huskies now represent the NSCC in the District 13 NAIA play-off Friday against Augsburg at Hamline. Tech is a member of the NCAA and under consideration for a berth in the NCAA college division regional tournament at Brookings, S.D.

Augsburg shoots for a perfect Minnesota Intercollegiate Conference season tonight at Minnesota Duluth. The Augies whipped Hamline 58-34 in overtime Saturday for their 15th straight MIAC triumph and 23rd victory in 24 games.

Elsewhere in the MIAC Saturday, Concordia ripped Gustavus Adolphus 77-42. St. Thomas nipped Macalester 54-32 and St. Mary's downed St. John's 63-59. In the Midwestern Conference, Carlton edged Grinnell 73-70 in two overtimes, while Cornell downed St. Olaf 79-66.

Duluth could play the spoiler tonight, but at 10-3 is assured of second place and has nothing else at stake other than the prestige of ending Augsburg's MIAC unbeaten string.

Other games tonight have Concordia hosting North Dakota State, and Macalester entertaining St. John's.

MILWAUKEE — Pitch Lounge of Milwaukee shot a record three-game series in the final block Sunday night to win the seventh annual National women's team Bowling title with a total of 11,324.

The Milwaukee team trailed the Los Angeles No. 2 All-Star team by 116 pins when the final round started. The Pitch Lounge then finished with a 3-84 series, 40 pins more than the tournament record held by the Tournament Bowl of Oxnard, Calif., in 1960.

BALFANZ HITS 356, FALLS

Kotlarek Wins Westby Tourney

WESTBY — A 22-year-old Minnesota jumper leaped farther than any other skier in American competition Sunday, going 3.6 feet in the Snowflake Ski Club's 40th annual tournament but the jump did not count because he fell as he landed.

As a result, John Balfanz of Minneapolis had to settle for fourth place in Class A competition while Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, a member of the 1960 U.S. Olympic team went on to victory. Kotlarek, a Minnesota-Duluth college senior, combined leaps of 237 and 297 feet for a total of 534 points to top Class A. Kotlarek set a new U.S. record of 322 feet, last week at Steamboat Springs, Colo.

Balfanz hit 318 feet on his first attempt and broke the hill record of 317 feet he set last year. It was on his second jump that he went 356 feet, only to fall at the finish. Lyle Swenson of Westby finished second in the meet and Ole Tom Nord, a University of Washington student, took third place.

John Lyons of St. Paul was the Veterans Class event on leaps of 240 and 292 feet. David Hicks of Duluth took junior honors with 310 and 263 foot efforts. The Class B event was won by Dave Norby of Madison who jumped 233 and 270 feet.

MINNESOTA IN SPOILER ROLE

Gophers vs. Illinois Tonight Before 18,000

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A new, unwelcome role has been thrust upon the Minnesota basketball team—that of a Big Ten spoiler—and a near-capacity crowd approaching 18,000 is expected to be in Williams Arena tonight to see if the Gophers can live up to it.

The occasion is the invasion of conference co-leader Illinois, the first of three top contenders for the Big Ten title to appear here in the next week.

Indiana follows Saturday night and Ohio State next Monday.

Minnesota tumbled from the ranks of prime contender Saturday when it bowed 71-66 at Northwestern.

Here's how the race shapes up: Illinois and Ohio State are tied for first at 8-2. Indiana is third at 7-3 and Minnesota fourth at 7-4.

Minnesota still has an outside shot at a title tie, of course, but even if the Gophers win all three of their remaining games they would still need for somebody else to beat both Illinois and Ohio State—an improbability.

"We don't intend to sit back and watch," Coach John Kundla said Sunday of the Gophers' role

now. "We're going into these with the intention of winning them all."

The largest crowd of the season is expected to be on hand for the 8 p.m. tipoff with the Illini.

Illinois, 16-4 for the season, boasts a free-wheeling attack that is averaging 83 points a game, topped by Dave Downey's 19.7 average. Bill Small is averaging 18.0, Bill Burwell 15.0, Bob Starnes 14.4 and Ed Brody 10.0.

Burwell, who stands 6-8½, may be joined on the front line tonight by Skip Thoren, also 6-8½, to combat the Gopher height advantage. Minnesota's starters average 6-5, while Illinois' regular five without Thoren averages 6-4.

The Gophers fell behind Northwestern 40-29 at halftime Saturday night at Evanston, Ill., and could never quite catch up, although they made a fight of it—three times pulling within three points of the Wildcats in the second half.

But when Terry Kunze, who scored all 12 of his points in the second half, and Tom McGrann fouled out in the waning minutes the Gophers lost too much fire-power to overtake the Wildcats.

Northfield Wins Regional Wrestle

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special)—Big Nine Conference schools, headed by champion Northfield, dominated the Regional One wrestling tournament here Saturday.

Northfield grabbed the team title with 51 points, edging Owatonna with 46 and Albert Lea with 44. Faribault, conference king, finished fourth.

NORTHFIELD won one individual title and three second places to qualify four men for next week's state meet at Mankato.

Albert Lea had two champions, Owatonna two and Rochester two. Winona's 154-pounder, Pete Woonworth, won four of five matches Saturday, losing 3-1 in the semifinals to Faribault's Dittmar.

LENVY DIENGER, Winona 120-pounder, lost in the first round to Stewartville's Mullenbach and then in the wrestlingback dropped a referee's decision.

Jackany's Buzz Matson qualified for the state at 138 pounds finishing runner-up.

Hornets vs. Colts Tonight For Crown

Winona's Hornets will meet Rochester's Colts at 8 o'clock tonight on the West End rink at Athletic Park to decide two things:

1 — The Southern Minnesota Hockey League championship.
2 — The SM's entry into the State Amateur Hockey tournament.

The playoff was necessary when a number of postponed games were thawed out.

The Hornets will have Billy Banbenek back in the nets tonight, but Roger Neitzke will be missing from the front line due to a business trip. Tom Moody, a second liner who has been ill with pneumonia, is expected to be ready.

Rochester defeated Winona 5-4 in one meeting this year. Winona holds a forfeit win in the other game.

LANDIS SIGNS

SARASOTA, Fla. — Outfielder Jim Landis agreed to terms Saturday, taking a slight pay cut for 1963 with the Chicago White Sox.

Gustafson's Governors dethroned defending state champion International Falls 4-3 in a one-overtime thunderous finale in St. Paul Auditorium as 8,087 fans, most of them St. Paul backers, roared their approval.

Gustafson, who steps down officially in June, is the only non-Northern Minnesota coach ever to win the high school title. His teams also recomplished the feat in 1947, 1953 and 1955.

Those four Johnson crowns are the only ones won by Twin Cities area schools in the meet's 19-year history.

11th Shattuck fired home Johnson's winning goal 4 minutes, 31 seconds into the overtime after taking a pass from Mike Crupi. The deciding tally came on an 18 foot shot that skipped past Falls goalie Larry Roche.

Only minutes before, International's great Jim Ansdon had given the Broncos new hope when he rammed in the goal that tied it 3-3 with only 42 seconds left in regulation time. Ansdon had skated half the length of the ice to tally an unassisted goal on a 22 foot shot.

State Tankers Lose; Invade Hamline Today

Winona State College swimmers will wind up their regular season this afternoon when the Warriors invade Hamline in St. Paul for a dual meet at 6 o'clock.

The Warriors Saturday suffered a 55-39 defeat at the hands of Gustavus Adolphus in a dual at St. Peter, Minn.

First place points scored by the Warriors were by Dennis Blanchard in the 100-yard freestyle, Bill Kohler in the 500-yard freestyle, and Jim Deets in the diving.

Second place points for the Winona tankers were won by Bill Keenan in the 200-yard freestyle, Rich Rydman in the 60-yard and 100-yard freestyle events, Blanchard in the 160-yard individual medley, Ron Johansson in the 200-yard butterfly, Dave Frank in the 200-yard backstroke and Al Mahlk in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Third place Warriors were Dennis Krizan in the individual medley, George Nash in the backstroke, and Kohler in the 200-yard freestyle.

Seven members of the team will compete in the NAIA meet at Bartlesville, Oklahoma, March 14-16.

Coach Jim Davies said he was not satisfied with the performance of his team against Gustavus Adolphus, remarking that the two week layoff which his team had did more harm than good.

Hockey Title Perfect Gift For Gustafson

ST. PAUL (AP)—St. Paul Johnson gave retiring Coach Ruhe Gustafson the perfect farewell gift Saturday night, his fourth Minnesota High School hockey championship.

Gustafson's Governors dethroned defending state champion International Falls 4-3 in a one-overtime thunderous finale in St. Paul Auditorium as 8,087 fans, most of them St. Paul backers, roared their approval.

Gustafson, who steps down officially in June, is the only non-Northern Minnesota coach ever to win the high school title. His teams also recomplished the feat in 1947, 1953 and 1955.

Neitzel Captures Singles With 711

Charles Neitzel, who makes his home in Arcadia and is employed in Winona, stormed into first place in singles Sunday as the curtain came down on the 1963 Winona men's championship bowling tournament at Kegler's Lanes.

Neitzel, a 169-average bowler from the Winona Classic League at the Athletic Club, tumbled 711 with men's high scratch total with his 659. He parlayed 21 strikes, against two splits and two errors. His biggest run was a five-bagger in his first game and six in his second game.

Neitzel teamed with Joe Loshek for 1,181 in doubles which earned them a tie for 11th place.

Larry Scheidigger and Fred Huff won the doubles with the 1,268 they recorded Saturday night. Their 1,172 scratch is unofficially a tourney mark.

Highest finish Sunday in the two-man race was a 1,200 even posted by Bill Hohmeister and Henry Jackel for seventh place. Joe Stolpa, with a 254, combined with Ray Gabrych for 1,180.

STOLPA TOTALED 619 scratch in double and Yackel 601 in singles. Yackel's 30 pins handicap gave him 631 for an 11th place tie in singles.

Max Kulas set a tourney best when he registered six errorless games, shooting 521 in doubles and 546 in singles. Cal Hoff had an errorless 538 in doubles and Jim Bambenek 540 without a blow in the two-man race.

Lund Wins 500 At Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Big Tiny Lund took the biggest ride of his life Sunday—a $24,600 trip around the Daytona International Speedway. Lund, driving a 1963 Ford to which he had been assigned only 10 days ago, won the fifth annual Daytona 500 late model stock car race in a late-charging dash that carried him to the biggest pay window of his life. He finished the long grind completely out of gas, going the last quarter mile on pure momentum.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.
