Jury Shown Model of Thompson Home

BIGGER THAN BARRY . . . Suzanne Galvin of Lima, Ohio, poses beside a bigger-than-life photo which the national "Draft Goldwater" headquarters in Washington is selling to line up dollars and delegates for Sen. Barry Goldwater. "At the headquarters, a Goldwater button costs a penny, and three bucks makes you the owner of a seven-by-nine foot picture of the Arizona senator. It's one of our biggest bargains," said Miss Galvin. (AP Photofax)

MISSIONARY FOR ROCKEFELLER . . . Alexander M. Lankier poses in his law office where he has set up a Washington political stronghold for the presidential cause of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Lankier, a transplanted New Yorker who was deputy manager of Rockefeller's 1962 gubernatorial campaign, described the setup as "a missionary station" with the "mother church in New York." "We're in the political liaison business, not in the hoopla and headquarters business," he added. (AP Photofax)

Goldwater, Rockefeller Command Posts Near

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — From command posts a few doors apart, men who want Sen. Barry Goldwater to run for president and lieutenants of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller have drawn their battle lines.

Their tactics differ, but their goals are the same: Top spot on the Republican presidential ticket and a run for the White House—three blocks down the street, but millions of votes away. A self-style missionary for the Rockefeller presidential cause is out to spread the New York governor's gospel in Washington—and "not just for the exercise."

Half a block up Connecticut Avenue, a high-powered draft Goldwater movement is looking for dollars and delegates to pledge to the Arizona senator. Alexander M. Lankier, a tall, 34-year-old Washington lawyer, presides over Rockefeller's political office. Actually, it's Lankier's law office, with a stack of Rockefeller posters and pamphlets in the corner.

"This is a missionary station," says Lankier. "The mother church is in New York."

"We're in the political liaison business, not in the hoopla and headquarters business," he adds. Lankier, a transplanted New Yorker, was deputy manager of Rockefeller's gubernatorial campaign in 1962.

Once again, he has put aside his law practice for politics. "The governor is in this thing to stay, and so am I," he says. "And not just for the exercise. We think we can win."

Down the street, you can buy a Goldwater button for a penny or a bigger-than-life picture of the senator for $3. "It's one of our biggest bargains," says a Goldwater girl of the seven-by-nine foot picture.

In the half-dozen rooms of national draft Goldwater headquarters, a staff of 15 is quarterbacking the drive to try to make the Arizona senator next year's Republican presidential nominee.

Rockefeller has declared himself in the race, Goldwater has not.

"We're in this draft movement to demonstrate that Goldwater has a fighting chance on delegates and funds," says finance chairman Frank J. Kovac.

Kovac, former executive director of the Republican National Finance Committee, adds the draft Goldwater people "envision the establishment of a moving vehicle for the senator so that when he announces, he doesn't start from a standing position."

Another 16 miles of 1-94 between Madison and Milwaukee will be completed late in 1964.

Major projects scheduled for completion on the rural state trunk system include the Highway 78 Portage relief route; the U.S. 51 Mosinee-Wausau relocation; Highway 20 to U.S. 41 at Racine; dual roadways for U.S. 12-16 at Tomah; Highway 28 improvement in Chippewa County; U.S. 53 relocation at Solon Springs; U.S. 151 Beaver Dam bypass.

Projects in progress will include a 9-mile section of U.S. 41 near DePere to complete roadways between Milwaukee and Green Bay; Highway 30 between 1-90 and 94 and U.S. 151 in Madison; Merrill-Irma reconstruction of state trunk Highway 35 near Stockholm and continuing development of the new U.S. 12 freeway in Walworth County.

U.S. Convoy Clears Russ Checkpoint

BERLIN (AP)—A U.S. Army convoy rolled down the Berlin Autobahn toward West Germany today after the Russians cleared it for passage without asking the troops to dismount for a head count.

The convoy of 13 vehicles and 54 men still had to clear the Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn, at the western end of the 110-mile superhighway. It was due there about 1:30 p.m. (7:30 a.m. EST).

The convoy was the third sent onto the Autobahn by the Western allies since the Russians held up a U.S. Army group of 12 vehicles and 44 men for 41 hours last week at Marienborn when the Americans refused to dismount to be counted.

All three convoys were of the size for which the allies refuse to permit a Soviet head count, carrying less than 30 men in addition to the driver and co-driver of each vehicle.

The Swobodas were included on the list of witnesses that the prosecutor, William Randall, furnished Judge Rolf Fosseen at the start of Thompson's trial.

The state claims Thompson hired another man to kill the attorney's wife for $1 million in insurance and the love of another woman. In testimony last week, insurance men told of the policies Thompson took out on Mrs. Thompson's life in the year before the March 6 slaying.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Air Force started flying the men of Operation Big Lift home today.

The first C-135 jet returning troops of the 2nd Armored Division to the United States took off from Rhein-Main Air Force Base just before noon. Aboard were 73 men commanded by 1st Lt. Alden L. Haswell of White Plains, N.Y. Capt. Robert K. Potter of Salt Lake City was the pilot.

The C-135 was scheduled to stop briefly at McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., and to reach Bergstrom Air Force Base in Texas at midafternoon (CST).

Approximately 222 flights are planned for the return of the 16,000 troops flown to Europe in the Big Lift maneuver.

Unlike the airlift to Europe—which began Oct. 22 and lasted only 63 hours and 20 minutes—the redeployment will take 10 days. The troops were rushed over in a demonstration of U.S. ability to ferry large quantities of men to overseas trouble spots quickly. After their arrival they engaged in maneuvers with the 3rd Armored Division, which is stationed in Germany.

The final airlift activity will take place Dec. 16-18, when the 2nd Armored's rear echelons are flown back.

Location of House Related By Witnesses

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A model of T. Eugene Thompson's spacious St. Paul home was brought into the courtroom today as the 35-year-old attorney's first degree murder trial began its third week.

The model, built like a child's doll house with a removable roof, was placed at the foot of the jury box.

The state has charged Thompson with hiring a killer to lay in wait in the basement of the home to perpetrate a planned murder of Mrs. Thompson, 34.

Today's early witnesses called by Prosecutor William Randall dwelt briefly on a series of maps and charts showing location of the home at 1720 Hillcrest Ave., in the Highland Park section of St. Paul.

Defense attorney Hyam Segell objected at times, once calling the routine testimony "a waste of time."

Trial proceedings began 45 minutes after the scheduled hour as attorneys conferred with Judge Rolf Fosseen, possibly over admissibility of the model of the Thompson house.

Thompson relaxed with his children over the three-day weekend and said he did some planning about the trial.

A reporter who called at the Thompson home Monday found the attorney relaxing in a comfortable living room, a room decorated in shades of blue and green.

"She did it just before it happened," Thompson said. Behind him, atop a piece of furniture, was a portrait of his dead wife.

Thompson napped Monday and took his daughter downtown so she could do some shopping. Over the weekend, he said, he had played touch football with his youngsters and had dined out with his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Swoboda.

The Swobodas were included on the list of witnesses that the prosecutor, William Randall, furnished Judge Rolf Fosseen at the start of Thompson's trial.

The state claims Thompson hired another man to kill the attorney's wife for $1 million in insurance and the love of another woman. In testimony last week, insurance men told of the policies Thompson took out on Mrs. Thompson's life in the year before the March 6 slaying.

Late Bulletins

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — The steamship Hercules Victory reported today one of her boilers had exploded and the other was afire. She asked ships in the area, 330 miles northeast of Bermuda, to stand by.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi Supreme Court today blocked further mental tests for Byron de la Beckwith and ordered him transferred back to jail here to stand trial for the murder of civil rights leader Medgar Evers. Beckwith was charged in the ambush slaying of Evers last June.

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — The longest strike in Oak Ridge labor history has ended at two atomic plants operated here for the Atomic Energy Commission. Strikers began returning to their jobs after voting to accept a 3-percent wage increase and end a 28-day walkout.

Plea to Soften Policy Seen to Red Wing Board

RED WING, Minn. (AP) — The Red Wing School Board may be asked tonight to soften its decision erasing all religious overtones in the city's public schools.

The meeting tonight will be the board's first since the controversial policy statement was adopted, 5-1, on Oct. 29.

The policy outlined at that meeting would permit no religious or semi-religious functions as part of the school program.

While no move was announced, townspeople indicated they wouldn't be surprised if the board is asked to soften its much-criticized policy.

The policy ousted baccalaureate services, would change the character of Christmas, Easter concerts, and forbids free distribution of Bibles in the schools.

The board said its new policy was based on recent decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court.

In its most widely quoted decision, the high court banned an official school prayer — composed and decreed by a local board — in a New York case.

The policy is not on the board's formal agenda tonight, but the group regularly sets aside part of its meeting for questions from citizens.

"We would certainly be willing to hear what any person or group has to say," said Gordon Lee, president of the board.

Lee, a businessman, is an elder in the Presbyterian church, superintendent of its Sunday school and a longtime Sunday school teacher.

Lone disenter when the policy was enacted was Wayne Loomis, also a businessman. He criticized the board action as unnecessary since no one had raised a question of injecting religion into schools.

Loomis said Monday he did not know if the subject will be brought up tonight.

The board has seven members. Absent from the Oct. 29 meeting was Dr. C.W. Wasmund. In the past he has indicated approval of a policy of strict separation of school-church activities.

U.S. Embassy Staff Denied Access to Him

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW (AP)—A Yale professor who wrote books critical of the Soviet Union has been arrested on a charge of spying, the Foreign Ministry notified the U.S. Embassy today.

The arrest of Prof. Fred C. Barghoorn was the first such case involving an American since the thaw in the cold war. A relative in America expressed belief his arrest was in retaliation for the recent arrest of Soviet citizens in the United States for spying.

The U.S. Embassy got the news from the Foreign Office, which refused to give any information on where he is being held. The embassy was pressing for details of the charge against him.

The author of several books on the Soviet Union, the 52-year-old professor formerly was on the staff of the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. He arrived in the Soviet Union about Oct. 1 on a month's tourist visa. The Foreign Ministry said he was arrested several days ago.

(In Washington the State De-

Prof. Fred C. Barghoorn
Arrested as Spy in Russia

partment said it had no report on Barghoorn from the embassy in Moscow.

(There was no formal comment immediately but one official expressed some surprise that Barghoorn had obtained a Soviet visa in view of his critical assessments of that country.)

(In New Haven, Conn., his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Barghoorn, said the professor always was careful on trips beyond the Iron Curtain and never carried a camera.

"They have it in for him on account of his books," she said. "The books have been very critical."

(She also thought it possible his arrest was retaliation for arrests of Russians in the United States.)

Barghoorn went to Alma Ata, capital of the Central Asian republic of Kazakhstan at the time of an exhibition of American graphic arts there early in October.

An embassy official said he last saw Barghoorn Oct. 12 at Tbilisi (Tiflis), capital of the Georgian republic. That is the last time he was reported seen by any Westerner.

If the charge follows the usual pattern in cases of foreign tourists accused of espionage, a camera might have gotten Barghoorn in trouble. The usual charge is photographing military installations, and in the Soviet Union that can mean almost anything, such as a bridge.

Barghoorn is a resident of New Haven, Conn. He is a brother of Prof. Elso Sterenberg Barghoorn, a Harvard biologist.

He is a professor in the Political Science Department at Yale.

He was on the staff of the American Embassy in Moscow from 1942 to 1947, with the State Department in Germany from 1949 to 1951, and has been a lecturer at several universities.

The arrest of Barghoorn was the first Soviet spy charge involving an American since the signing last July of the limited treaty on banning nuclear tests.

The signing was followed by an easing of international tensions—and the release of two Americans imprisoned in the Soviet Union.

Reynolds Maps Road Program

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds has announced a $96 million road building program in 60 Wisconsin counties in 1964.

The chief executive said Monday that $64.4 million will be used for improvements on state trunks and county and urban projects and $31.9 million for continued development of the interstate system.

Reynolds said that the present rate of financing roads was about one half of what it should be. He said he had drafted a building plan which would accelerate the program. This is Project 66 which now is before the Legislature.

The 1964 program includes $71.7 million for construction, $14.6 million for engineering and right-of-way and $5 million in federal matching funds for county road projects.

Interstate construction designated includes $18.5 million for Milwaukee County expressways and $9.3 million for the interstate system in Dane, Jefferson, Waukesha, Juneau, Monroe, and La Crosse counties. One of the projects will be completion and opening of the 45-mile Wisconsin Dells-Tomah extension of I-90-94 in Juneau and Monroe counties.

Another 16 miles of I-94 between Madison and Milwaukee will be completed late in 1964.

Major projects scheduled for completion on the rural state trunk system include the Highway 78 Portage relief route; the U.S. 51 Mosinee-Wausau relocation; Highway 20 to U.S. 41 at Racine; dual roadways for U.S. 12-16 at Tomah; Highway 28 improvement in Chippewa County; U.S. 53 relocation at Solon Springs; U.S. 151 Beaver Dam bypass.

Projects in progress will include a 9-mile section of U.S. 41 near DePere to complete roadways between Milwaukee and Green Bay; Highway 30 between 1-90 and 94 and U.S. 151 in Madison; Merrill-Irma reconstruction of state trunk Highway 35 near Stockholm and continuing development of the new U.S. 12 freeway in Walworth County.

Senate Speed Asked on Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders talked of cracking down today to spur the battered foreign aid bill toward passage by Thursday.

The measure's foes are getting "redundant and repetitious" and are "beating the devil around the same old stump, over and over again," declared Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen as debate lurched into its third week.

He promised to whip things along by moving to table a score of amendments as soon as they are proposed by an insurgent Democratic group led by Sens. Wayne Morse of Oregon and Ernest Gruening of Alaska.

"We are going to try to finish passage of this bill by Thursday, if we can," said Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader.

Foreign aid, always swimming against the tide in Congress, is experiencing even more trials and tribulations this year.

Nixon Has Not Eliminated Self

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has stopped far short of eliminating himself from consideration as the Republican party's choice for the presidential nomination.

He could do it in one, simple, positive sentence: "I am not a candidate for the presidential nomination and I will not accept it if the convention offers it to me or tries to draft me."

Instead, he has limited himself to saying he is not a candidate for the nomination, which can be interpreted as saying he will not actively campaign for it between now and the 1964 convention.

That's a long way from saying he could not accept the nomination or like to have it. Last month in an interview the magazine U.S. News & World Report asked him the question directly: Would he accept the nomination if drafted?

He said, "I shall not be a candidate in '64—and that answers all questions of that type...there can be no draft unless a man stimulates or encourages it...my statement that I shall not be a candidate means there can be no draft."

It does not necessarily mean any such thing. The fact that he did not actively seek the nomination does not prevent the convention, if deadlocked, on others, from seeking a way out by turning to him.

While he said he is not a candidate, he has been urging Republicans in all sections of the country not to commit themselves yet to any would-be candidates. His reason is said to be: It's too soon to know what will happen.

As of now there are only two candidates in sight: New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater. Rockefeller has already announced his candidacy. Goldwater is expected to in January.

And — both men have said they thought Nixon was acting like a candidate.

One month ago Nixon said he hoped there would be nothing on the record between then and the convention to indicate he favored one candidate over another.

While such reticence would avoid adding splits in the Republican party, it would also avoid making enemies for him among the followers of the candidate in case the convention finally did turn to him.

Monday in Miami editors representing a cross-section of the nation's daily newspapers said they feel Nixon will be the Republican candidate against President Kennedy, but that Kennedy will beat him again as he did in 1960.

Fifty editors in Miami for the annual Associated Press managing editors meeting today, were quizzed by the Miami Herald and 26 of them picked Nixon as the Republicans' choice.

Goldwater got 12 votes. The rest went to Rockefeller and Michigan's Gov. George Romney. The editors stressed that their selections were based on judgment and not on their political preference.

Former President Eisenhower, in a Sunday television interview, said Nixon would be one of those definitely considered for the nomination if the convention deadlocks.

Nixon, asked about this, said he could conceive of "no circumstances whatever" under which he would be a candidate for the nomination. This was just repeating what he had said before.

But Eisenhower didn't say Nixon would be a candidate, but that a deadlocked convention might turn to him.

But, for a man not seeking the nomination, Nixon has been talking a lot. He explains that, too:

"At this time I believe I can best serve both the Republican party and the nation as an independent, constructive critic of the (Kennedy) administration policies rather than as a candidate."

This does have some advantages, of course, just in case the party in the end wanted to pick him.

In speeches against the administration he would be talking pretty much on the same issues as the candidate, thus providing a chance for comparison between him and them.

And it's a very excellent way to stay in the public eye, particularly the Republican eye.

Venezuela is going to build a city, Santo Tome de Guayana, for production of steel, chemicals and heavy equipment. It is to house a half a million inhabitants.

Mrs. Nhu Delays Flight to Rome To Get Children

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, battling exhaustion, has delayed a flight to Rome and a reunion with her three younger children.

Mrs. Nhu had planned to leave today for Rome, then either return to South Viet Nam directly or via Los Angeles, an informed source said.

South Viet Nam's former First Lady had said in private that she believes many of the ruling junta which overthrew her family's regime are still on her side, according to a source close to her.

She believes if she can return to Saigon before the first general election under the new regime she can regain support, the source said.

Mrs. Nhu had been vacillating for days over whether to bring the children, ages 15, 11 and 4 to Los Angeles or to meet them in Rome, said an aide.

A doctor said she was suffering from excessive fatigue, according to the aide.

An informed source said Mrs. Nhu, who had been planning to remain for at least six months in Los Angeles, may now settle her younger children in Rome and Le Thuy in medical school in Paris and return only briefly to the United States.

Acceleration Asked At All Junior Highs

The opportunity for academically talented students in the city's two outlying public junior high schools to enroll in classes geared to accelerated instruction should be made available on the same basis as for students at Central Junior High School, a member of the Board of Education asserted Monday night.

Fourth Ward Director Franklin Tillman said that he's received complaints from parents that children of superior ability at Washington - Kosciusko School and Jefferson School had no chance to participate in an accelerated program such as that provided at Central.

School Board

HE SAID HE thought the administration should investigate ways and means of affording accelerated instruction for these students.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson said that the problem involved stemmed from comparative enrollments at the three schools.

With nearly 450 students enrolled at Central, he said, there are enough sections to allow for one section to be given the accelerated instruction in sciences and mathematics.

The substantially smaller enrollments at each of the other two junior high schools, however, don't allow for this many sections and the organization of a single section for academically talented.

The superintendent said that one possibility would be to screen students at each of the two junior high schools, determine which should be enrolled in an accelerated class and, with parents' permission, have them attend class at Central.

Tillman and Nelson agreed that the problem cited by the board members reflected another difficulty encountered in having in the system three junior high schools, two with comparatively small enrollments.

A REQUEST was received from the Park - Recreation Board for use of public school facilities for basketball and swimming programs during the winter season.

The request for use of Senior High School gymnasium, Central Elementary and Lincoln school gymnasiums and the Senior High swimming pool was granted, subject to clearance of dates to determine there are no conflicts in use.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told directors Monday that the state Employment Service, which makes surveys of the seven-county area served by the school to determine need for employees before organization of the class is authorized, had encountered difficulty in establishing need in this area for graduates of classes in cosmetology and auto body work.

The superintendent asked whether the board felt that, in view of the fact that there would be a sufficient number of prospective enrollees in the area, the two courses should be added to the curriculum independently of MDT support.

Directors said that since the employment service had had difficulty in establishing need, further studies should be made to obtain data on probable enrollment and placement before any action is taken.

Nelson said such a study would be made and findings reported back to the board.

HE ALSO asked whether the board felt that some special recognition should be given students who are graduated from post-high school vocational courses, many of them after two year's work.

The superintendent thought that it might be proper for some sort of certificate to be awarded these students in conjunction with the regular high school commencement exercises.

The post-high school graduates could be seated in a special section, he said, and, as they are introduced, be identified as to what course they completed.

Board members said that if the superintendent decided after further study that such a program would be feasible he should make arrangements for it.

Road Equipment Taken From Site On Highway 61

Sheriff George Fort is investigating the theft of about $400 worth of equipment from the S. J. Groves Co. construction site on Highway 14-61.

Equipment was taken from the site, located between Dakota and Dresbach, on two nights last week: Monday and Tuesday.

The missing items include two 50-foot suction hoses valued at $250, two five-ton jacks valued at $70, a speed coupling worth $45, two barrel pumps valued at $14 and six grease guns worth $27.

Cloudy, Cool Weather Due To Continue

A little cooler tonight and continued partly cloudy is the weather fare predicted for Winona and vicinity.

A low of 26-30 is the temperature forecast for the area with a high of near 40 expected Wednesday. Temperatures are expected to be near normal Thursday with no precipitation.

Several Minnesota points reported temperatures below the freezing point this morning with a 28 at Bemidji and the same at International Falls with additional snow. Rochester had a morning reading of 30 after a high of 43 Monday afternoon. At La Crosse figures for the same times were 35 and 45.

Lowest temperature reported in the Northwest today was 15 at Dickinson, N.D., and 17 at Lemmon, S.D.

Snow flurries whipped through the upper part of WISCONSIN on brisk chill winds.

Cold as it seemed, however, temperatures in most of Wisconsin still were near or slightly above normal for the season.

At mid-morning today snow flurries were reported at Wausau, Green Bay, Stevens Point and Ashland. Light snow was falling in the Hurley area.

Park Falls had .19 of an inch of precipitation, mostly in the form of snow, in the period ending at daybreak today, but most of it melted as it fell.

Beloit set the high temperature of 51 degrees Monday.

Husband Receives Suspended Sentence

A 25-year-old Winonan received a suspended sentence in municipal court today after he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault.

Wayne J. King, 507 E. King St., was sentenced by Judge John D. McGill to pay a fine of $25 or to serve eight days. Judge McGill suspended the sentence on condition that King is not guilty of a similar offense during the next six months.

James Soderberg, city prosecutor, made a motion for the King was arrested by police at his home at 3:05 p.m. Sunday on his wife's complaint. He had posted $25 bail and it was refunded.

School Survey Ordered

A detailed inventory and evaluation of Winona public school facilities and an areawide survey of school population and growth trends will be made by a University of Minnesota field studies team during the current year to assist the Board of Education in drafting a long-range program to meet anticipated future school needs.

The decision to spend an estimated $9,000 for the survey was made by directors Monday night after Dr. Clifford P. Hooker, associate director of the university's bureau of field studies and surveys, had discussed what data would be obtained in the survey and how this could be used by the board in any possible future plant expansion and improvement planning.

HOOKER SAID that all data obtained by the bureau will be made available to the board for publication of a complete report on the survey and noted that frequently school districts wish to prepare a less lengthy summary for distribution to interested persons in the community.

Although no definite decision has been made, the Winona survey probably will be directed by Dr. Otto Domian, director of the bureau, who was an associate in the study made here 15 years ago. Dr. Domian returned during the past week after a leave of absence during which he conducted a study for the government of Brazil to determine the feasibility of establishing a program of public education in that nation.

In explaining the direction the survey probably will take, Hooker said, "We'll look at your educational program and study the services you wish to offer, determine the scope, equipment and program you will need. We'll analyze your enrollments, make projections of the probable future school population in various areas of your city and attempt to predict enrollments you may expect 10 years in the future."

THE SURVEY team, he said, will inspect school buildings, consider them in the light of capacity and utilization and submit recommendations on necessary remodeling and building additions or on possible sites for new construction if this is indicated for the future.

"We'll check the financial capacity of your district," Hooker continued, "and translate our recommendations into terms of millage in any cases where construction is deemed necessary so that you can see what impact this would have on your tax structure."

He emphasized that the survey findings would be "tested for reasonableness as we seek to solve any problems encountered. Our position has been that immediate problems should be solved first and then formulate plans that will make the solution of future problems easier for you."

BOARD MEMBERS and Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told Hooker that there were several specific areas in which the district was especially hopeful of obtaining recommendations for future action.

One has to do with rural school district consolidation and the effect on Winona's situation if the Legislature in 1965 or at a subsequent session should make it mandatory for every district in the state to be in a district offering a 12-year educational program.

Noting that there are more than 50 districts in the immediate area without a high school, Nelson explained that if consolidation measures which have been considered by the Legis-

Driver Found Guilty in Citizen Arrest

John F. Hamann, 1741 W. Broadway, was found guilty this morning in a municipal court trial of the charge of failure to stop for a stop sign. The trial lasted about 30 minutes.

Judge John D. McGill sentenced Hamann to pay a fine of $10 or to serve three days after hearing testimony from two Red Wing men, who made the citizen's arrest, and from Hamann. A $10 bail deposit was used to pay the fine.

HAMANN, who pleaded not guilty to the charge Wednesday, was arrested by Patrick J. Donley, Red Wing, at the Westgate Shopping Center parking lot at 11:50 a.m. last Tuesday.

Donley testified that Hamann was driving south on Orrin Street and that he (Donley) was driving west on Highway 61.

He said that Hamann did not stop for the stop sign and crossed the four-lane highway in front of his car. Donley said he stopped quickly, his car went sideways and that a collision nearly occurred.

"He did not notice me at all," Donley said even though he had tooted his horn. Donley said Hamann later admitted not seeing the oncoming car.

Earl Cutlip, Red Wing, Donley's passenger, said, "He came right straight across the highway." He said Donley hit the brakes and the car skidded sideways to a stop.

HAMANN testified he came to the stop sign on Orrin Street, stopped and the motor of his car died. He said he started the engine and drove across the highway at a slow speed.

He said that when the car stalled he looked to the west and saw Donley's car about one mile away. Donley was driving fast, said Hamann.

When All Else Fails, Grab Tail

Two Winona policemen turned cowboy for about half-an-hour here Monday afternoon as they chased a runaway steer on city streets.

Their attempts to capture the animal, which included a try at steer-roping from the window of the squad car, ended on Gilmore Avenue, west of Vila Street, when one patrolman grabbed the steer's tail while the other applied a rope.

The 500-pound steer had given the patrolmen a merry chase all the way from Mankato Avenue. Lyle Lattman caught the tail while Paul Kapustik placed the rope on the neck of the steer.

They tied the runaway to a post in the area where it was caught and left it for Swift & Co. personnel.

Police first received a call about the steer running loose at 3:45 p.m. They went to Mankato and Sarnia and followed it west on Howard Street. They lost it, then found it again at Sarnia and Sioux streets. Then it ran to Gilmore and Vila Street where with the help of a sheriff's deputy and another policeman, they cornered it.

But the steer again got away and continued west. Kapustik drove the squad car, while Lattman tried to rope the steer. His attempt failed.

Finally Lattman jumped from the squad car and grabbed the animal's tail.

Swift & Co. personnel said today that a man from Kujak Trucking Co. had brought the animal to the plant earlier in the afternoon.

The animal, owned by Midwest Livestock Corp., was not sold because the price was not high enough, said a Swift & Co. spokesman. While it was being hauled away it broke loose and ran away.

Labor Award Speaker Set For Nov. 21

Ray Brown, manager of the Winona office of the State Employment Service, will be the main speaker at the fifth annual Labor Man or Woman of the Year banquet Nov. 21 at the Labor Temple.

The banquet, sponsored by the Central Labor Union, will honor the man or woman member of organized labor judged to have given most outstanding service to labor, church, and community during the past year.

Last year's winner, Mrs. Ann Lynch, 410 Mankato Ave., is general chairman of the event.

Master of ceremonies at the banquet will be John D. McGill, city representative in the state legislature. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Roy Literski, lay students' chaplain at St. Mary's College. The Rev. Harold Rekstad of First Congregational Church will give the benediction.

The identity of the person to be honored this year will not be announced until the night of the banquet. A five-man committee has been appointed to evaluate nominees and make the selection.

The evening will begin with a reception for guests at 5:30 p.m. The banquet will follow.

Other award winners, in addition to Mrs. Lynch, have been Kenneth McCready, William C. Mueller and Roman Wiczek.

Each year the name of the winner is inscribed on a permanent plaque.

Thompson Trial Delays Case in Wabasha County

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—Arraignment in one of the four cases on the criminal calendar in District Court for Wabasha County was postponed this morning because the defendant's attorney has been subpoenaed as a witness in the Eugene T. Thompson murder trial in Minneapolis.

Gerald Banick, Mazeppa, charged with indecent assault, is represented by Donald Kelly, Minneapolis, who couldn't be present because of the Thompson trial.

THE BANICK case was added to the calendar. Arraignments in the three other cases also were postponed. The state's case against Earl D. Schultz, Minniska, failing to stop at a stop sign, is a matter for the court. Defendant's attorneys, Willis E. Donley and Harry H. Peterson, Menomonie, are in Milwaukee on a case.

The state's case against Patrick L. Riley, Zumbro Falls, careless driving, was continued by Judge Arnold Hatfield, presiding, until the defendant is available. He's now in the U.S. Air Force at Lakeland, Tex.

Kenneth Bigelow Jr., Plainview, charged with assault, couldn't be arraigned because his attorney, Warren Eustis, Rochester, was in Hibbing, Minn., on a trial.

BIGELOW and Banick will be arraigned in Rochester later, Judge Hatfield said. He also presides in district court there.

Two paternity cases on the civil calendar were continued to Nov. 18. Defendants are Donald Becker, Plainview, and James Duncan. The case against Duncan, out on $300 bond, is scheduled for 10 a.m.

The state's case against Laverne Witt, paternity, was continued to Feb. 17 because the child hasn't been born yet.

ROBERT Alexander, 22, Faribault, admitted in court this morning paternity of a child born May 1, 1963, in Minneapolis. The judge asked the Wabasha County Welfare Board to investigate the needs of the child and report Dec. 1. The mother will appear in court Dec. 16 when settlement and support will be fixed.

County Attorney John McHardy, Plainview, prosecuted.

An informal call of the calendar closed at noon. Judge Hatfield couldn't set any trial dates for certain because he was to sit in District Court for Winona starting this afternoon.

Fillmore County GOP Urges Hall For U.S. Senate

RUSHFORD, Minn. — A campaign has been started by Fillmore County Republican leaders to support State Rep. Clinton Hall, Rushford, as the GOP nominee to oppose Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Minnesota Democrat, in the 1964 elections.

Support for Hall is sought in a letter sent to all Republican county chairwomen and chairmen by Walter Eichinger, Spring Valley, Fillmore County Republican chairman, and Mrs. L. J. Wilson, Rushford, county chairwoman.

THE LETTER says Hall "has caught the attention of political and government observers throughout the state in just two terms of the state Legislature."

In the nonpartisan Legislature, not all candidates make their party affiliations known, they note. Hall always has run as a Republican, the letter says, "and is dedicated to work for cohesion among the differing active Republicans statewide."

The Fillmore Rep. Hall County leaders ask other county chairmen to indicate their willingness "to work for a grassroots, young, capable Republican candidate."

HALL, born in North Dakota in 1926, was graduated from Carrington, N. D., public schools, received his bachelor of science in law at the University of Minnesota and his law degree at the St. Paul College of Law. He is a veteran of the Korean conflict, serving with the Viking Division. He is married and has two children. He was elected to the House in 1960.

Hall has served on the appropriations, reapportionment, towns and counties, dairy products and livestock, temperance and liquor control, and other committees.

He has served on the education appropriations subcommittee which concerns itself with state school aids to local districts.

Hall attends Rushford Lutheran Church and is a member of Murphy-Johnson American Legion post.

County School Officers to Meet

Two representatives of the State Department of Education will speak at the annual school officers' meeting for Winona County, starting at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at the Red Men's Wigwam in Winona.

The speakers will be Eugene Meyer, director of rural education for the department, and Roy H. Larson, director of elementary education. They will discuss proposed legislation and other topics of interest to school board members.

An afternoon session Thursday will begin at 1:30 p.m.

A school bus clinic will be held Friday at LEWISTON High School. Michael J. Haggerty, supervisor of transportation for the department, will be in charge. All vehicles that transport school pupils are required to be at the meeting for inspection. Buses are to follow their regular morning route, then come directly to the clinic site.

Winona Co. FU Event Wednesday To Attract 250

LEWISTON, Minn.—Ed Christianson, president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, will be the featured speaker at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday at the farmers-businessmen's banquet sponsored by the Winona County Farmers Union.

More than 250 persons are expected to attend the fifth annual event at St. John's Lutheran School here. A turkey dinner will be served.

More Evidence Of Need for Courses Asked

Additional evidence of a need for trained workers in auto body work and cosmetology before adding courses in these areas to the curriculum of the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School was requested Monday night by the Board of Education.

Earlier this year there had been thought given to the possibility that these two courses might be added under provisions of the federal Manpower Development and Training Act.

WITH MDT authorization, the vocational-technical school would be eligible for federal aids to finance equipment and instruction for the course.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told directors Monday that the state Employment Service, which makes surveys of the seven-county area served by the school to determine need for employees before organization of the class is authorized, had encountered difficulty in establishing need in this area for graduates of classes in cosmetology and auto body work.

The superintendent asked whether the board felt that, in view of the fact that there would be a sufficient number of prospective enrollees in the area, the two courses should be added to the curriculum independently of MDT support.

Directors said that since the employment service had had difficulty in establishing need, further studies should be made to obtain data on probable enrollment and placement before any action is taken.

Nelson said such a study would be made and findings reported back to the board.

HE ALSO asked whether the board felt that some special recognition should be given students who are graduated from post-high school vocational courses, many of them after two year's work.

The superintendent thought that it might be proper for some sort of certificate to be awarded these students in conjunction with the regular high school commencement exercises.

The post-high school graduates could be seated in a special section, he said, and, as they are introduced, be identified as to what course they completed.

Board members said that if the superintendent decided after further study that such a program would be feasible he should make arrangements for it.

Dean Martin Explains Why

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Some jokes are unfair and I want to apologize for this one, and then I'll tell it. "Why do you drink?" somebody asked Dean Martin. "Because when I'm sober," replied Dean, "I think I'm Eddie Fisher." Eddie, by the way, is involved here in meetings contemplating a $10 million face-lift, expansion and new building program at Grossinger's where he got his start. "I have a sentimental feeling for Grossinger's, I've been identified with it for 18 years," he says. 'Twas there that he was discovered by Eddie Cantor in 1949, there that he married Debbie Reynolds in 1955, there that he was revealed to be Liz Taylor's inamorata in 1958. Eddie doesn't need to go to fortune-tellers. He just calls up Grossinger's and says "What's new with me?"

They actually went at Ethel Merman's classic Plaza Persian Room black-tie opening . . . the cafe event of the year. Toots Shor, Russel Crouse, Lucille Ball, Lena Horne and Johnny Johnston got teary-eyed when she belted the old songs mentioning "Girl Crazy," "Panama Hattie," the late "Rags" Ragland. "Too bad Cole Porter's too sick to hear her singing 'I Get a Kick Out of You,'" somebody said.

ETHEL HERSELF kept it light. "Anything I missed hasn't been invented yet!" she shouted. "I want to thank my good friend Lucy for coming all the way from California . . . I want to introduce my mom and dad." (They wanted her to be a school teacher.)

In satin Hong Kong pajamas, Ethel entertained afterward — and Lucille Ball and Gary Morton (who have their 2nd anniversary Nov. 18) discussed a big deal with her. "Looks like The Merm's gonna make it," somebody mentioned.

Joe Levine's rumored going to Hollywood to become its new "Barnum, DeMille, Mayer and Mike Todd" because of his showmanship—in a top spot at Paramount—but he denies it's even been discussed. . . . Bugle heads are bigger than ever in dames' gowns; expensive, too! . . . Gloria Vanderbilt's beau smooched her publicly at Ethel's opening. Across the room, Lena Horne . . . Cassius Clay's station wagon bears a sign, "The World's Greatest."

John Ford just won a battle with Warners over Carroll Baker taking her clothes off again in a film. It happened in Kayenta, Ariz., where they're making "Cheyenne Autumn." To take advantage of Carroll's fame for going nude in "Carpetbaggers," the writers added a scene in which Carroll and some Indian gals bathe nude in a river. "No!" said Ford. "They have to wear bathing suits—of the period." The wardrobe people smiled villainously. They made the swim suits long—but also transparent, and when wet, clingy and tight-fitting. Seeing this result, Ford threw the swim scene out entirely. "One naked scene a year is

North Dakotan Cleared in Hunter's Death

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn. (AP) — A North Dakota man was cleared of criminal guilt in the fatal shooting of another hunter Monday but he was sentenced to 90 days in jail for recklessly handling a loaded firearm.

Richard Zwirn, 31, appeared before Justice of the Peace George E. Eaton here. The Rockford, N.D., man pleaded guilty to the charge of recklessly handling a gun.

The charge was filed by Sheriff John P. Muhar after a coroner's jury exonerated Zwirn of guilt in the shooting death Saturday of Norman Isaksen, 31, Minnetonka, Minn.

The coroner's jury ruled Isaksen was the victim of an accidental shooting. "The jury commented . . . that the negligence of Zwirn was not of a criminal degree that could justify a manslaughter charge," said County Atty. Ben Grunsdorf. "It apparently reflects the opinion of the community that there was no intent or negligence of a criminal nature involved. The sheriff's office considers the case closed, and no further action is planned."

Meanwhile, a seventh hunter died of a heart attack. Harry Myrom, 67, Thief River Falls, was found dead in his pickup truck after a hunting trip near his home.

Fish of the Year

Unquestionably, the walleye pictured above will stand up as the walleye of the year taken from this sector of the Upper Mississippi. It tipped the scales at the Sportsman's Tavern at exactly 12 pounds, eight ounces several hours after it was caught at Alma.

Ernest Johnson, Arcadia, fishing off the Jones Float there, got it on a red sonar casting into the heavy current below the dam. It beat the big walleyes up to Sunday entered in the contest there by nearly two pounds. Eugene Berk entered on May 18 a ten-pound, 11-ounce walleye.

Other big fish entered during the week included a 14-pound, seven-ounce northern, caught by Paul Koprowski, 216 Wilson St., and a two-pound, two-ounce crappie taken by L. A. Quinn, Fountain City. Two bigger crappies have been entered in the Sportsman's contest this season. Harry Chichos got a two-pound, five-ounce one and Richard Konkel, a two-pound, 11-ounce crappie.

Charter Member Night Old-timers in the Izaak Walton League will have an opportunity to tell tall "I-remember-Will-Dill" tales at a charter member night Thursday evening. It will be at 8 p.m. at the cabin on Prairie Island.

Wayne H. Olson, Minnesota Commissioner of Conservation, will make his first appearance in Winona as commissioner and probably will try to explain the poor hunting experienced this fall over the state, plus the flowery forecasts given out in advance, such as 25 percent more deer.

Cliff Murray and Willard Matzke, in charge of the kitchen committee, have a treat in store in a free wild game lunch, a contribution of the mighty hunters of the chapter.

Mule Deer Data Wanted The Conservation Department is interested in getting any information on mule deer killed in the state. It will be recalled that a couple were harvested in the Houston area a year ago. It is a legal deer in Minnesota. Here is part of the department's press release:

"Principal differences between the white-tail and the mule deer are in the antlers and tail. The main beams of the white-tail's antlers arch forward over the head and each of the points or tines arises from the main beam. The antler of the typical mule deer branches into two main beams, which are again divided or forked.

"The tail of the white-tail is much more conspicuous, being broad at the base and dark above with a white fringe and entirely white on the under side. The tail of the mule deer is considerably smaller and much more cylindrical in shape. It is generally white, except for a black tip. The small size of the tail adds to the conspicuousness of the white rump patch in the mule deer. The mule deer also has larger ears and larger musk glands along the outside of the hind legs than does the white-tail.

"Those who believe they have seen or shot a mule deer are asked to notify a local representative of the Game and Fish Division. Hunters should save the antlers if they shoot a buck and retain the entire tail and lower portion of a hind leg to permit verification of a possible mule deer record."

Women Get Deer Several women deer hunters bagged deer on the opening day over the area. Near Crystal Springs we ran into the Wilbur Batzel family eating lunch along the highway. They had no deer with them.

"But Mother," an attractive teenager all dolled out in red said, "got a nice one early this morning, probably the first in this area."

An inquiry was to where Mother might be drew the reply, "Oh, she put the deer on the car and has gone to town to show it off." We tried to find Mrs. Batzel in town to get a picture without results although every one in Altura knew that she had shot a deer.

We have not, for the past several years, published a list of hunters who bagged a deer. It has become too common. In fact, probably 300 deer were killed by Winona hunters. We are interested, however, in unusual deer—buck with exceptional big racks for example.

Information on the success ratio as compared with other years awaits the data collected by wardens from cold storage plants. Minnesota has no registration system such as that in Wisconsin where the total take is known daily.

Why College Presidents Get Gray

By G. K. HODENFIELD

AP Education Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Why college presidents get gray:

There will be 40 per cent more high school graduates in 1965 than there were in 1963.

A larger percentage of those graduates will go on to college. Ninety percent of the American public believes all boys should go to college, 77 per cent believes all girls should.

National defense and space science threaten to dominate the campus scene, at the expense of the humanities and arts.

These facts, figures and opinions are being discussed at the annual meeting of the Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. The 97 institutions represented enroll 27 per cent of all the nation's college and university students.

William C. Eckerman of the University of Michigan told the meeting Sunday night a national survey indicates 96 per cent of the public believes a college education is more important now than it was 30 years ago. But, he said, 72 per cent believe the most important thing about such an education is "training for a good job." The next most often quoted reasons for going to college were "social acceptance" and "getting to know the right people."

The survey, by Michigan's Survey Research Center is still under way. Final tabulations will be reported next summer.

Even those who approve of college education in general had some criticisms, Eckerman said.

The criticisms most often heard are that college education may create snobs, make youngsters think they are getting something for nothing and may tend to make them adopt radical ideas or break down their standards of morality.

Civic Association Elects Thursday

A slate of officers will be presented by the nominating committee and the election will be held. Members of the nominating committee are Henry Muras, chairman; Robert Prondzinski, Jule Gernes, Franklin Tillman, James Mauszycki, William Galewski and Charles Kulias.

A lunch prepared by John Janikowski, Gernes, Prondzinski and Kulias will be served.

DEAR ABBY:

Her Husband Fussy Eater

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is one of those fussy eaters who likes to complain about my cooking, but he never tells me what is wrong with it, or what he would prefer. He just says, "It's lousy!" I have even gone to cooking school to learn nutrition, balanced meals and the art of interesting cooking. People tell me I am a good cook, and I think I am. But what can I do with a husband who keeps telling me the dinner is lousy? CAN'T WIN

DEAR CAN'T: When your husband comes home for dinner, greet him with, "Don't take your hat off, Honey—we're eating out. And if the food is lousy you can complain to the manager."

DEAR ABBY: I am a G.I. serving in the Army very far from home. Why is it that I do not need my parents' consent to marry, but I need my Commanding Officer's consent? He refused to give it to me, and if I go ahead and marry this girl (she is a Korean) it will cost me my stripes. I don't think this is fair. I love this girl. What should I do? G.I. JACK

DEAR G.I.: Hang on to your stripes. You've got G.I. fever. If your temperature doesn't return to normal after you get home, write me another letter. In the meantime, let your chaplain mediate.

DEAR ABBY: Happiness is knowing your parents won't almost kill you if you come home a little late. Happiness is having your own bedroom. Happiness is having your parents trust you. Happiness is getting the telephone call you've been praying for. Happiness is getting good grades and making your parents proud of you. Happiness is being included in the popular circle. Happiness is having parents who don't fight. Happiness is knowing you are as well-dressed as anybody. Happiness is something I don't have.

FIFTEEN AND UNHAPPY

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LITTLE LU": Don't go back to him unless he promises to treat you like a human being. From your description of his past behavior, I think he'd be just as happy with a dog for companionship on the weekends.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Nixon Doubts He'll Be in Race in 1964

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says he can conceive of "no circumstances whatever" under which he would be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

The former vice president says that if his name comes up as a possible candidate in the New Hampshire or Oregon primaries he will "do everything I can legally to get my name out."

Nixon told a news conference Monday night those primary races should be between New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, an announced candidate for the nomination, and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who is expected to oppose Rockefeller. Nixon said he appreciates the remarks made about him by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on a television program Sunday, but he believes he can "best serve my party and my country as a constructive critic." He said he plans about one speech a month and will continue to write articles on current events but "there is no devious conspiratorial plan thereby to become a candidate."

Home Asks British Industry Be Modernized

By TOM OCHILTREE
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home's new Conservative government embarked today on a crucial struggle for victory in next year's general election with a call for modernization of British industry to get the full productive benefits of the age of automation.

The government, in Queen Elizabeth's speech, from the throne opening the new session of Parliament, also announced plans for sweeping improvements in social services.

The speech, written by Sir Alec's Cabinet, promised to strive for world peace and "to support the freedom of West Berlin."

The queen's speech was read to a joint session of the House of Lords and the House of Commons by the lord chancellor, Lord Dilhorne. The queen has canceled public appearances because she is expecting her fourth child.

As Parliament reopened, political expectancy was higher than at any time since the 1959 general election. A classic contest seemed in the making between Douglas-Home, a 60-year-old Scottish aristocrat who shed an earldom to succeed Harold Macmillan, and the Labor party's rapier-tongued, 47-year-old leader, Harold Wilson.

Recent special elections and public opinion polls indicate strongly that if national elections were held today, the Conservatives would suffer a humiliating defeat and Britain would have a Labor government for the first time since 1954.

Douglas-Home is relying on a lavish program of housing and educational expansion and industrial reform to reverse the anti-Conservative trend. Wilson contends the government can't raise the money to make good on its promises.

In advance of the throne speech, Education Minister Sir Edward Boyle Monday night announced a four-year expanded program of school construction costing 80 million pounds ($224 million a year).

Barry Invites Criticism on Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. Barry Goldwater pitches his expected Republican presidential nomination campaign on a 1962 statement of GOP principles, he may invite fresh attacks on his civil rights stand.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, an announced candidate for the nomination, recently said he could support the Arizona senator as the party's standard bearer only "if he ran on a party platform like the one in 1960."

Goldwater, who has advocated that the Republicans go before the voters in 1964 with a general statement of principles instead of a detailed platform, replied that the 1962 statement superseded the 1960 platform. He indicated it was more to his liking.

In a 1,500-word summary of views hammered out by a 12-member Senate-House committee headed by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., the stand on civil rights was put this way:

"We believe that government must act to help establish conditions of equal opportunity for all people and to help assure that no one is denied the requisites for a life of dignity."

The broad declaration approached the type of statement Goldwater has been advocating that the Republicans make in 1964—one that could be interpreted by each individual candidate as he chose.

This kind of statement could be extolled in the North as a forthright civil rights declaration. It could be dismissed in the South as little more than a platitude.

The Arizona senator has said he thinks there are adequate laws on the books to take care of voting abuses. He thought another proposal to give the President authority to withhold aid funds from states which fail to desegregate was interesting, but doubted that it was "either constitutionally correct or morally correct."

Americans Buying More Food Products

WASHINGTON — (AP) Expenditures for food by Americans has risen to a record high per capita average of $399 a year.

Agriculture Department studies said this average reflected spending for food in the second quarter of this year. Last year's average was $394. Ten years ago the amount was $355. In 1933, the per capita average was $86. But most of the increase reflects rises in the costs of food over earlier years.

Want to Think About Winter Weather?

Tuesday, November 12, 1963 WINONA DAILY NEWS 7

By GEORGE MCCORMICK
Daily News Staff Writer
You may not need your woolies this winter... at least not if the Old Farmer's Almanac is right.
Abe Weatherwise, genial 172-year-old weather prophet for the publication (which, coincidentally, also is 172 years old) says the coming winter will average three degrees warmer than last year's. That, Old Abe adds, is 2.5 degrees warmer than the average over the last 70 years, and it's 1.6 degrees above the normal over the past 20 years.

That may not sound like much to you, but Abe—ever a practical man—points out that, if fuel prices are the same as last year's, you could save 10 percent on your home heating bill.

DECEMBER, according to the almanac, which was released just over a week ago, won't be such a bad month at all. A cold spell along about the second week of the month is called for, and that's supposed to be followed by a "big storm" and some more cold weather.

But, shucks, that's nothing when you look at JANUARY. The rhyming predictions for the first month of 1964 make it sound like a good time to go south, hibernate, or just plain hide under the bed. "In this moon phase comes to be followed by a 'big snow and hard ice glaze,' Abe begins cheerfully. "Winter gusts make woolies musts," he continues, following with "Clear and fair means travelers beware," and "Cold and raw, this January thaw."

Thaw?
If we've managed to live through all this, we should be in good condition for what the almanac tells us the end of January will be like: "Alas, no luck, another storm to buck." Remember — this winter is supposed to save you 10 percent on your fuel bill.

After the big storm at the end of January, we turn to FEBRUARY and find Old Abe ready with another happy note. "Helter-skelter, three big storms almost together," he chirps. That's to be followed with "a real cold spell," in which, as if we need to be told, "fuel bills swell."
When it finally is supposed to warm up, along about the end of February, there's even comfort. "Milder but even wilder," the almanac says.
After all this, MARCH looks as if it will provide comparative balminess. All we'll have to contend with will be: "Hail on the tail of a snowy gale."
"Rainy and wet, spring is not yet,"
"Drivers beware, bad spring glare," and
"Snows again, that's plain."
The only really worrisome bit is a cryptic note for the middle of the month: "Ill bodes any storm riding the Ides."
Does that mean that there will be a storm, or just that if there would be one it would be bad? Or is Abe saying that there might be a storm?
That prediction is contributing to the anxiety of an already anxious nation. C'mon, Abe,

Editors Will Hear Rocky at Florida Rally

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—Top news executives from throughout the country will question Nelson A. Rockefeller when the New York governor addresses The Associated Press Managing Editors convention Wednesday.
About 500 editors are expected to participate in the five-day APME meeting starting Tuesday at the Americana Hotel.
(Gordon R. Cloway, executive editor of the Winona Daily and Sunday News and president of the Minnesota Newspaper Association, is attending the convention.)
Rockefeller, who will address a luncheon, has agreed to submit to questions from the floor. The governor is a candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Florida Associated Press newspapers will be convention hosts. Aside from the Rockefeller appearance, the convention will concentrate on the newspaper industry itself and how to improve it.
The agenda includes more than 40 speakers and panelists, all specialists in various phases of newspapering.

Among them are Mason Walsh of the Phoenix Gazette, APME president, and Wes Gallagher, Associated Press general manager.

APME citations to 42 newspapers, radio and television stations for outstanding coverage in various fields of news reporting will be presented by Paul V. Miner of the Kansas City Star, chairman of the member citations committee.

No Racy Goings-On

Northwest Colleges Given Clean Slates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
As the dispute rages over racy goings-on in Harvard dormitory rooms, Northwest college officials are unanimous in giving a clean slate to students in these parts.

Harvard Dean John U. Munro said last week that university regulations permitting men students to entertain women in their rooms had resulted in wild parties and sexual promiscuity. The University of Minnesota has two co-educational dormitories on its Minneapolis campus without undue problems.

Girls and boys are housed in separate wings of Bailey and Pioneer Halls, but have common dining and lounge rooms. Open houses are held a couple of times a year, with supervision. Main rule on such occasion: doors open.

Campus officials say they have had no major problems and that the open houses have been very successful.

However, a spokesman for the student branch of the Minnesota Civil Liberties Union complained recently that university officials have barged into rooms "in search of liquor and girls."

At the University of North Dakota students have had a voice in setting up co-educational visiting hours. Dorm visits are usually confined to the lounge and recreational hours during noon and evening dinner periods.

"In my seven years in student personnel work, to my knowledge, there hasn't been a single violation of these rules of conduct," says Gerald Hammerlik, dean of men at the University of North Dakota.

Mrs. Henry Linde, operator of a privately owned dormitory that serves Rochester Junior College, says men are permitted in rooms only on special open house occasions. Otherwise partying is confined to the main floor lounge area where parties often last until 1 a.m.

"Nothing out of line so far, not a bit of trouble," Mrs. Linde said.

Her main puzzle, she said, is trying to figure out the 25 hours a week in which Harvard permits female visitors in male students' rooms.

"That's an average of 3½ hours a day — when on earth do they get their studying done?"

At Duluth, University of Minnesota men's dorm rooms are open to women from 2 to 5 p.m. Sundays, with infrequent use of the privilege. Liquor is forbidden on the campus, as at most others.

A student judiciary board which deals with visiting or liquor violations hasn't had a major case in more than 18 months.

"We have no scandals here, thank goodness," said Mrs. Grace Evans, chief housemother at UMD. She feels there is less trouble by being lenient.

UMD women over 21 have dorm keys, others must be in by midnight Sunday through Thursday and by 2 a.m. on weekends. Violators are confined to their rooms one night. Men's hours are not regulated.

Youth Killed in Hoffman Accident

HOFFMAN, Minn. (AP) — James Hagedorn, 20, Evansville, Minn., died in an accident Monday while he was helping to dismantle a gas station grease pit.

The pit was to be moved to another location here and Hagedorn was in the hole, handing cement blocks up to other workmen. Apparently blocks piled along the edge of the pit fell and the pit caved in, burying Hagedorn.

Other workmen uncovered Hagedorn quickly but he was dead. A doctor said death was due to a skull fracture, which apparently resulted from being hit by one of the heavy blocks.

Survivors include his son Wayne, a long-time Republican leader. Funeral services were held this morning at Christ Episcopal church.

New Law Is Tough on Jury

NEW YORK — This new law, which makes determination of both guilt and choice of execution the duty of the jury is, to my mind a bad law, and much too rough on the citizen who did not sign articles to become a professional Solomon. The law, in effect this year for the first time, calls for the jury first to vote for guilt or innocence in capital crimes, and then to vote again for life or death for the condemned.

Nobody I ever heard wants jury duty of any sort. It is, of course, the citizen's duty to heed the call: it is not the citizen's duty to afflict his sleep with the knowledge that he and 11 other good men and true sent a man off to fry. It is too much a burden on the nonprofessional.

In the case of Francis Bloeth, convicted of first degree murder in the slaying of a Long Island woman, and also suspected of killing two Long Island businessmen in 1959, the killer sneered at the panel as he left the courtroom.

"Have fun," he said. "You called me a killer. Sleep tight, gents."

This gibe from a killer is cheap enough, but it is more than sufficient to haunt a pillow. More in point was the recent conviction and sentencing of two killers, Henry Dusablon and Emanuel Samperi, who were convicted of gunning down two liquor store attendants in a stick-up.

FIRST THE jury deadlocked over Samperi, while ordering the death penalty for Dusablon. The judge sent the jurors out again, and this time they came back with the death penalty for Samperi as well. The shadow of doubt in the measure of guilt was there, or there would have been no deadlock in the first place.

I have never sat on a murder jury, but I have talked with people who have, and the strain of handing in a decision which can influence the sentence of life or death is fantastic. To compound this strain with the responsibility of becoming executioner, as well, must be quadruply harrowing.

At least it would get to me to such point that I would hesitate to vote for guilt in the first place, if I had to decide fate in the second place. On this premise I surmise that many fully accredited murderers will beat a guilty verdict if only because of the jury's disinclination to be parcel to the pronouncement of sentence.

IT IS ALL very well for the judge, like Judge George M. Carney in the Bloeth case, to comfort the jurors with: "I think your verdict was proper. Under the old law I would not have given any other sentence."

But Judge Carney is an officer of the law, trained in the law, sworn to uphold and administer the law, while deriving his living and his social status because of his position in and before the law. He signed on for the full cruise, and if the jury says the man's guilty, his duty is to pronounce sentence, no matter how it rides his chest of nights.

The poor civilian slob that gets picked off a list, hauled off his job, quizzed by defense and prosecution, warned against prejudice, warned not to discuss, warned not to read newspapers, warned, almost, not to breathe until all the evidence is in—this poor slob is a slob like you and me.

HE DOESN'T know jurisprudence from jujitsu. He doesn't know a tort from a tart, apple or Keelerwise. All he knows is that the bench is hard, the task is harder, and the prosecution shouts louder than the defense. Out of the general confusion he and the other poor handcuff volunteers must poll each other in the back room until they come up with a Yes or No. That, God knows, alone is enough to weigh on a simple man's conscience forever, particularly if the prisoner in the dock eventually gets strapped into the hot chair with his head shaved.

I think it vastly unfair of the state to saddle its responsibility onto Sam Smith and Mamie Jones, who would rather be home cutting the grass or mak-

Badger Income Tax Filing Fee Taken Off Books

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin's $2 income tax filing fee law, designed to raise $6.8 million in new revenue, has been wiped from the law books.

Gov. John W. Reynolds signed a bill Monday repealing the controversial measure before it was generally collected. He said he was "delighted" to sign the bill which went through both houses of the Legislature last week by a almost unanimous vote.

The $2 fee was made part of the budget-tax compromise enacted last August. At that time it was described by the governor as a last ditch move to balance anticipated revenues with budget spending in the 1963-65 biennium.

Since August, however, tax experts have revised upwards

Reynolds said with the anticipated $25 million surplus, the $2 filing fee and some other new taxes could be eliminated safely.

'Holiday on Ice' Touring Company Back in Action

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The Holiday on Ice touring company, shaken by disaster in Indianapolis 13 days ago, was back on its blades here today as a crowd-pleasing, professional entertainment unit.

A test-of-mettle performance Monday night went off without a hitch before a near-capacity crowd of 3,200 persons at Civic Auditorium.

It was the first time for the unit to appear in public since Oct. 31, when a gas-triggered explosion ripped the Indianapolis Fairgrounds Coliseum. The explosion killed 71 spectators, the latest victim dying in a hospital Monday, and injured about 380 others.

It took guts, but we made it," a girl skater commented in the wings after the Mardi Gras "pinwheel" finale.

Phil Scheckel Anchor Placed In Pepin Park

PEPIN, Wis. — The anchor from the "Phil Scheckel," steamboat which plied the Chippewa River many years during the last half of the 19th century, has been presented to the village of Pepin by Mrs. Fred Milliren, Durand.

It has been placed in the Pepin park, with a plaque identifying it.

The Phil Scheckel was built in 1880. After its service on the Chippewa it was sold to Standard Oil Co. and used off Florida's coast.

Phil Scheckel was said to be the oldest and best known pilot on the Chippewa. He was born in Luxemburg in 1834 and came to this area in October 1855, when it was a wilderness and Durand was swampland. He was the first to build brush wing dams to aid navigation in low water.

In 1861 Scheckel built the "Golden Star," another Chippewa River boat. His daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Brisson, lives at Chippewa Falls. Ben Anderson was engineer on the "Phil Scheckel."

Home Economics Class at Thurley Homes Discussed

A suggestion that an evening class in general homemaking be organized for women in the area of Arthur C. Thurley Homes was taken under consideration Monday night by the Winona Board of Education. Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson said that the recommendation had been made by the public schools advisory council for home economics on grounds that class meetings at the development site would be more convenient for residents than sessions at one of the schools.

School Board

NELSON SAID the advisory committee indicated that there was interest at Thurley for such a course. Some prospective enrollees, it was felt, found it inconvenient, or impossible, to attend evening homemaking sessions in night school classes at Central Junior High and Senior High School buildings.

The course would be offered on a tuition basis and meetings could be held in the community room at the housing site.

The first reaction of board members was concern over a possible break in policy which provides that, generally speaking, all classes sponsored by the public schools in regular or evening sessions be held in one of the school buildings.

Some members questioned whether, if a class were to be organized in a specific area such as Thurley, other requests for classes outside school buildings might be received.

Nelson was asked to confer with the committee and ask the advisory group if it might determine whether women from Thurley might be able to make arrangements for enrollment in a general homemaking class if it were to be organized in one of the school buildings.

AT THE recommendation of the superintendent, the payment for school census takers in their count of handicapped children was raised from $12 to $15 a day.

Census takers are paid at the rate of 10 cents a name for all names recorded except those of the handicapped. Because of the additional work involved in taking the census of the handicapped, a day's payment is allowed for every 24 names.

French Course May Be Offered At High School

The possibility of adding instruction in French to the Senior High School curriculum in a cooperative program with the College of Saint Teresa is being explored by the Winona public school administration.

Authorization to investigate the proposed arrangement was given by the Board of Education Monday night after hearing a report from Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson.

Nelson said that enrollment at the high school has become large enough to warrant addition of an additional language to the curriculum. The College of Saint Teresa, he said, has offered to provide an instructor who would organize an afternoon or evening class for both Cotter High and Senior High School students on a credit basis.

The course could be offered either at Senior High or Cotter — probably at the latter school — and students enrolled during the next semester (if the class were to be organized) could attend a summer language workshop at Saint Teresa to complete a unit equivalent to two years of high school French.

If the course were to be held at Cotter, tuition would have to be paid for Senior High students attending. If the class were to be incorporated in the public schools evening program, arrangements could be made for Cotter students to attend.

Board members agreed with the superintendent that an arrangement such as this would provide the board with an indication of interest in French among high school students. If the interest were sufficient, a regular class could be organized next year.

Responsive Audience Hears Burke Family Sing Concert

Musicality, freshness and perfect coordination characterized the Saturday evening performance of the Burke Family Singers at the College of Saint Teresa. A capacity audience of over 600 was in attendance.

This unique choral ensemble consists of the 10 Burke children ranging from 8 to 21 years and their father and mother. The father, Walter J. Burke, directed the ensemble with skill and precision and succeeded in establishing a gracious and easy informal rapport with the audience.

Holy Family Altar Society Holds Meeting

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—The Holy Family Altar Society of St. John the Baptist Church held its monthly meeting recently in the St. Mary clubroom with the president, Mrs. Genevieve Jahn, presiding. Miss Ella Murphy reported on the sick committee.

The Rev. Thaddeus Derezinski talked on the mission that will be held Nov. 12-16. The Rev. Lawrence Gavin will conduct the mission. The closing Saturday afternoon will be a Holy hour. He asked for volunteers to sell religious articles before and after the services.

Father Derezinski announced the annual clothing drive for the needy and war-stricken areas overseas would take place Thanksgiving week. All clothing is to be brought to the winter chapel in the church to be packed early the following week, he said.

Plans were made to hold a Christmas auction for the December meeting with Vincent Strub as auctioneer.

Following the meeting games were played for prizes. St. Margaret's Circle was in charge of the lunch. Mrs. Le Roy Frank is the circle leader.

A comprehensive repertoire which ranged from sacred music through the classics, Madrigals and folk-songs was sung a capella. The audience reaction was sympathetic and enthusiastic.

THE POLYPHONIC selections included "Ave Maris Stella" by Thomas Luis de Victoria, who is considered one of the greats in the 16th century school of polyphonists; Thomas Morley's "Sing We and Chant It," a 15th century medieval classic; "I Sing Of A Maiden," and Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Christmas carols were warmly received and included the Ukrainian "Carol of the Bells," the Czech "Shepherds Hearing Angels Sing," the 16th Century "Greensleeves," two French carols, and three Christmas spirituals.

A Russian composition, "Hospodi Pomilui" was unusual and startling. Folk songs, and Irish songs were well received by the audience. The wide range of the repertoire displayed the unusually high musicianship and ensemble of the group.

Portia Club Hears Talk on Israel

Dr. Jean Talbot Addresses PTA On Education

A short business meeting, a talk by Dr. Jean Talbot, former instructor at Winona State College, an invitation to visit the school library, and a coffee hour marked the meeting of the Washington-Kosciusko School PTA Monday evening.

At the business meeting Charles Beckman, principal, announced the appointment of Jack Taylor as PTA president. Mrs. Helen Whiting introduced members of the library club who acted as guides during the tour of the library.

Dr. Talbot presented a panoramic view of the development of education in America and likened it to a series of bridges on the road to civilization.

Hostesses who assisted Miss Carolyn Grundahl, home economist, were Mmes. Charles Anderson, Richard Walters, and Rodney Marey.

Hong Kong Talk Given at Ruskin Club Meeting

Miss Kathryn Sheehan was the featured speaker at the Monday afternoon meeting of the Ruskin Club. It was attended by 14 members at the home of Mrs. R. J. Scarborough. Miss Francis Blanchard presided.

Hong Kong was the subject of Miss Sheehan's talk, in which she traced the history of the British Crown Colony and told something about its strategic position at the crossroads of the world and its geography.

MISS SHEEHAN described the industrial importance of Hong Kong, where she said, "Anything that man would want is available."

She told something about the banking and economy of the Crown Colony and its politics. "It lies in the shadow of Communism," she said. She described the contrasts in wealth and poverty among its varied peoples, which she called "a happy and successful blend of the West and East — of old China's skills and new Asia's energy."

She ended her talk with the words of an ancient Chinese prophecy, "Across these waters when 'tis dark a million lights shall glow, and in their paths 10,000 ships go passing to and fro."

MRS. BERNARD Kelly, secretary, read a letter from Rep. Virginia Torgerson, urging members to write to senators or representative in Congress in support of the passage of Bill S-1672.

The bill, introduced and sponsored by Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Eugene McCarthy, with a companion bill sponsored by Rep. Albert H. Quie, would grant $2 million in 1964, and a like amount in 1965, to help in the completion of the Great River Road, now 71 percent complete. Thirty percent of this will lie within, or contiguous to the state of Minnesota, it was pointed out. The club voted to write individually and as a group to the sponsors of the bill in its support.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the Misses Ella and Gertrude Seiditz, with Mrs. McKendee Petty pouring.

MISSION BAZAAR STRUM, Wis. (Special)—The Mission Society Bazaar will be held at Strum Lutheran Church Thursday at 7:30 p.m. There will be baked goods and handwork auctioned off. Lunch will be served. The event is open to the public.

"OH, I WANT THIS BOOK" . . . Those were the words of James Malanaphy Jr., foreground, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Malanaphy, Houston, Minn., Route 1, as he perused one of the delightful books at the Cathedral School PTA Book Fair. Other eager children are seen visiting the fair to browse through the books their parents and friends are buying for the school library and for gifts. The fair, which opened Sunday in the school basement, will continue through Friday. Hours for the display are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Not only the children and their parents, but the general public is invited to visit the fair, said members of the Book Fair committee, who are PTA officers. They are Mrs. James E. Burke, Eugene Malay and Mrs. Joseph Richardson, who is chairman. Sister M. Conna, school principal, is adviser and coordinator. They planned the fair to enable parents and friends to make cash donations or purchase specific books to donate to the school library and to provide an opportunity to buy books for gifts and personal libraries. A new feature this year are paperbacks for adults which children may purchase as gifts for their parents as well as adults making their own purchases from this group.

Robert E. Oram to Play Lead In 'Ring Around the Moon'

Carrying the lead role in the College of Saint Teresa production of Anouilh's, "Ring Around the Moon" is Robert E. Oram of the College Speech and Drama department. Mr. Oram will play the part of the twin brothers, Hugo-Frederic. The comedy will open Nov. 22 and play for four nights at the Teresian Theatre.

A seasoned trouper and professional actor, Oram has been on the Teresian faculty since 1959. He served as actor and stage manager for Players Incorporated and traveled and played in 33 states and Europe. The Teresian actor was assistant stage manager for the world premiere of "The Little World of Don Camillo" and stage manager for "Everyman" both at the Catholic University.

AT THE COLLEGE of Saint Teresa, Oram directed "Night Must Fall," "Tartuffe" and "The Sea Gull." He played roles in "Night Must Fall," "Tartuffe," "As You Like It" and "Under Milkwood."

Mr. Oram is program associate for all television programs given by the College over KTCV-TV, Channel 2 and program director of the Teresian programs originating at KROC-TV, Rochester.

Supporting cast for Mr. Oram who assumed the lead role this week because of an emergency in the cast will be Miss Gayle Viehman, Owatonna freshman, as the dowager aunt of the twins, "Madame Desmorte's." The wheel chair has arranged a ball and invited a unique group of guests.

GUESTS AT THE hall include Ronald Schmidt, 1173 West 4th St., as "Messerschmann," who in the course of the evening discovers that money cannot buy everything, Miss Catherine Kasper Fairmont, who is cast as Messerschmann's daughter, "Diana," the object of one twin's pursuit but the fiancée of the other; Ann Joyce, Rochester senior who plays the "Lady India" and who is in love with Messerschmann's secretary; "Patrice Bombelles" played by Alfred A. E. Wolfram, Minnesota City.

The intrigue of the evening for "Madame Desmorte's" and her companion "Capulet," Miss Marcia Mullins, Hopkins, Minn., is heightened by the arrival of "Isabelle," a ballet dancer, Gretchen Gronstal, Carrol, Iowa and her mother, a piano teacher, Kathleen MacKrell, Forest City, Iowa. As the evening goes on through a series of gay, witty and often hilarious scenes, lives are radically changed in this sprightly and entertaining comedy.

AT WHITEHALL

28 Senior Citizens' Apartments Planned

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Within days Brookside Apartments, Inc., a nonprofit group of 40 Whitehall residents, expects to hear that Farmers Home Administration has approved its application for a $200,000 loan to build 28 apartments for senior citizens. Application was made in early summer.

It's a Chamber of Commerce "Senior Citizens Retirement Project," not an old folks home. It will be operated by the corporation, of which Keil Blank is president and Floren Hegge, secretary.

Folks will need to be 62 years old to apply for and receive an apartment, either in the 24-apartment building, or in one of the two apartments in two duplexes that will be built in the same area. Rental is expected to be as low as $60 a month.

THE CORPORATION has taken an option on the Nels Fredrickson farm and plans to erect the apartment building where his barn now stands. This is adjacent to Irvin Creek. It will be about a block south of Highway 53 and Ervin Street in the south portion of town.

The duplexes will be in the same area.

Each apartment in the apartment building will contain a living and dining room combination of about 14 by 20 feet, kitchen, one bedroom, and bath.

WABASHA, Lake City to Get Gas

WABASHA, Minn. — Natural gas will be available in Wabasha and Lake City by mid-summer next year, according to Northern States Power Co.

The Federal Power Commission has issued to NSP's pipeline gas supplier, Northern Natural Gas Co., the certificate required before construction can begin on the pipeline that will serve this area.

Construction will start early next year on a lateral extending from Northern's pipeline system at Plainview. It will be about 26 miles long: 18 miles of line to place natural gas in Lake City and eight miles to Wabasha. The line will be built by the gas company and NSP will build the distribution systems — 15.9 miles in Lake City and 10.4 miles in Wabasha.

Officials said the extension was planned from Plainview rather than Red Wing — which is closer to Lake City — because lines now serving Red Wing do not have enough capacity to furnish the additional service.

A. E. Freeberg, manager of NSP's Red Wing division, made the announcement.

17 Units Support Jackson County Superintendent

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. (Special) — Thirteen townships and four villages contribute toward the cost of the Jackson County superintendent of schools, according to an annual report presented to the County Board of Supervisors last week.

Three high school districts are serviced by the county superintendent: Alma Center, Melrose and Taylor. The Black River Falls district has its own supervisory system.

Mrs. Cora Helbling is the superintendent.

JUDGE Richard Lawton reported an increase of 832 actions and special proceedings before him in the year from last Nov. 1 to Nov. 1 this year. A total of 2,215 actions has gone through his court this year.

Fees, costs, fines and forfeitures have been correspondingly higher, increasing $5,361.68 to $30,256.

Judge Lawton said they involved 183 probate matters; 169 civil; 228 misdemeanors and felonies; 1,443 traffic cases; seven adoptions; 95 juvenile cases; 5 accident settlements; 3 illegitimacy proceedings; 42 University Hospital cases; 26 Mendota mental hospital cases; 2 tuberculosis sanatorium cases, and 5 marriages.

AT THE request of Highway Commissioner Edgar Olson, the board transferred $15,000 from the machinery to the highway building fund.

This is toward construction of a new highway department garage in the Northfield area, which the commissioner feels will be necessary as work progresses on Interstate 94 which will cut through Jackson County.

Olson said about 10 acres of land will be required. He estimates cost of land and building at $35,000. The garage will be needed in a few years when I-94 construction starts.

Student Fined For Shoplifting

Gerald J. Vagts, 18, Harmony, Minn., student at Winona State College, pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning to a charge of shoplifting.

He was arrested by police at F. W. Woolworth Co., 62 E. 3rd St., at 4:15 p.m. Monday. Vagts took a ballpoint pen, according to police.

Football Field Sodding OKed

Sodding of approximately 1,000 square yards of the football field at Jefferson Stadium was approved Monday night by the Winona Board of Education.

On the recommendation of the administration, the portion between the 20-yard lines and the side markers will be renovated with a new type of sod referred to as "cultured sod."

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson explained that this is a Kentucky blue grass grown on peat soil that produces a very dense growth.

This sod, he said, provides a better playing surface because it does not become as hard as pasture sod but, on the other hand, it is not as tough as natural sod.

THE CULTURED sod will be purchased for an estimated 22 cents a square yard and will be laid by school personnel. The work is expected to be done next spring.

Directors approved payrolls for substitute teachers amounting to $1,507.55; attendance teachers, $199.75; homebound instructors, $1,022; noon hour cafeteria supervisors, $522; substitute secretaries, $115.13; survival preparedness instruction, $60; study hall supervision and substitute teaching, $221.62; audio-visual assistant, $18.75, and student cafeteria workers, $316.85.

Attending the meeting were Board President Lawrence Santelman, Frank J. Allen Jr., Franklin Tillman, Dr. C. R. Kolofski, Daniel Sadowski, Ray Gorsuch, Dr. C. W. Rogers and Dr. L. L. Korda.

Chatfield to Vote On $240,000 School Program

CHATFIELD, Minn. — The Chatfield school district will vote Nov. 22 on a $240,000 bond issue to finance a two-story, nine-classroom addition to the elementary building.

Two kindergarten rooms also would be included in the structure.

AT PRESENT, all available classrooms are filled and the school is without music and sick rooms. If the addition were built, part of the present building would be remodeled for these purposes.

A shortage of classrooms is expected by next year. Principal and interest of the proposed bond issue can be retired by a mill levy of approximately 6 1/2. That would mean about $3.15 for each $100 total real and personal property taxes paid this year, exclusive of assessments.

Matson & Wegleitner, Minneapolis, are the architects and Springfield, Inc., St. Paul, the bonding consultants.

The board decided on the addition because constructing in a new location would cost about $100,000 more for new heating, library, lunch and kitchen facilities. The estimated cost includes architect fees and most of the equipment.

THE ADDITION would include terrazzo floors in the corridors, representing a savings over a period of years, the board says, and lockers, except for the kindergarten rooms, which would save glazed tile in the corridors.

The building won't be ready until next fall. Next spring it will be necessary to rent facilities outside the school for spring primary, if the space is available, because the only room in the present building is under the balcony in the auditorium.

Terms of all offices are two years except trustee, which is three years.

The election will be in the bank basement from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.

At a special meeting Oct. 20, the council levied $6,000 for general government purposes for next year.

Members of the council whose terms will hold over into next year are Lawrence Hudson, clerk, and Vane Snyder and Norman Halverson, trustees.

Talk on Adolescence By Sister Jonathan Heard at Cotter HSA

Sister M. Jonathan, OSF, teacher at the College of St. Teresa, talked at the Monday evening meeting of the Cotter Home School Association at Cotter High School.

Sister Jonathan presented a brief insight into the psychology of adolescence. It is during the period of early adolescence, which usually is reached at the age of sixteen, that the child experiences the most changes, both physical and mental, she said.

"We should be concerned with accepting the child as he is. The adolescents' emotions are changing and parents can guide the child but they should not try to remake him," the educator stated.

The Rev. James McCauley, principal, explained the marking system of the school. Report cards were distributed by home room teachers.

Board Accepts Resignation

Formal acceptance of the resignation of Senior High School football coach James Elliott was voted Monday night by the Board of Education.

Elliott, who had asked to be relieved of his coaching assignment effective at the end of the recently completed season, will remain on the public schools faculty as a mathematics instructor at Central Junior High School.

Directors took no action Monday on appointment of a new head football coach. In informal discussion of the resignation last week it was the general consensus of the board that no immediate action should be taken and that consideration of a successor should be deferred until it's known what teaching vacancies there'll be on the staff next year.

The board agreed with 1st Ward Director Ray Gorsuch's suggestion that a letter be sent to Elliott commending him for his work with athletic teams during the four years he held the post.

Texas Remains No. 1, Navy Skips Into 2nd

NEW YORK (AP) — As the only major college team still unbeaten and untied, despite the slender margins of victory, Texas retained its spot as the nation's No. 1 football team this week.

The Longhorns were first on 48 of 53 ballots and took the top spot for the fifth straight week by a comfortable margin.

The panel of sports writers and broadcasters voting in the weekly Associated Press poll also meted out recognition as due to other winners and losers. Navy, Michigan State, Oklahoma and Pitt rose in the rankings while Illinois, Auburn and Ohio State went down.

Texas, winning its eighth straight game, had to go all out to win a squeaker from Baylor 7-0. That was the fourth in a row won by no more than a touchdown. Instead of discounting those margins, the experts gave them a whopping total of 526 points on the scoring basis of 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc. That came on 48 firsts, four seconds and one vote for fifth.

Navy moved up from fourth to second with 446 points, replacing Illinois, which skidded far down the list after a 14-8 loss to Michigan. The voters obviously were impressed by the ease with which the Midshipmen massacred Maryland 42-7. Mississippi, an easy 41-0 winner over Tampa, a minor opponent, remained in third. Michigan State climbed from ninth to fourth after trimming Purdue 23-0 and taking the Big Ten lead.

Behind them in the Top Ten came Oklahoma, Pitt, Alabama, Illinois, Auburn and Nebraska.

Oklahoma, a 24-14 winner over Iowa State, just nosed out Pitt for fifth in the point scoring, 284-281. Pitt's decisive 27-7 victory over Notre Dame lifted the Panthers from eighth place. Alabama, idle last Saturday, remained in seventh.

Auburn dropped from fifth to ninth after being edged by Mississippi State 13-10. Nebraska, holding its Big Eight lead with a 23-9 decision over Kansas, replaced Ohio State, a 10-7 loser to Penn State, as the ninth team.

The top ten teams with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

	Pts.
1. Texas (48)	526
2. Navy (4)	446
3. Mississippi	393
4. Michigan State (1)	383
5. Oklahoma	284
6. Pittsburgh	281
7. Alabama	253
8. Illinois	153
9. Auburn	91
10. Nebraska	84

GOPHERS FINISH THIRD

LET'S TALK SPORTS

MONDAY'S DAILY NEWS carried a sports item stating that the Golden Gloves boxing program was in need of a sponsor.

With the program off on the right foot, it would seem a shame to see it die for lack of backing.

Jim Mullen, the man in charge, has taken steps to assure the city of a group of boys it can be proud of.

"We feel that when such a program is run correctly, it has a useful place in the community," said Mullen.

After seeing such a program run both ways at Albert Lea, we agree. All too often, Golden Gloves is connected with a group of ne'er-do-wells interested mainly in picking up tips that may serve them well in coming alley brawls.

"We won't stand for that sort of thing," said Mullen. "Once a boy gets in a street fight, he's out of the program. Also, if he can't pass his subjects in school, we don't want him out. If he's failing, he belongs at home studying."

If the program is run in this way, and we're confident it will be, boxing has its place in Winona. James Heinlen, probation officer, feels the same way.

"I think it is an important program for our youth and the city of Winona," he says.

The major item needed now is a sponsor. Getting a ring is no problem. Ben Sternberg, Rochester fight promoter, has offered to let the Winona group use his for local bouts and the Catholic Rec, which is already furnishing gym facilities has a floor ring that may be used for practice sessions.

"We need equipment mainly," says Mullen. "We have had real good attendance at our workouts, but unless we get gloves and things for the younger fellows, they may decide to drop out."

Mullen estimates that $200 would cover the cost of the needed equipment. An additional $125 is needed for a boxing license should the group sponsor a Winona card.

WINONA STATE College unveils its winter sports teams in a demonstration open to the public Friday night.

At 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, John Martin, new Warrior swimming coach, will show his tankers in an inter-squad meet.

Bob Campbell's cagers will meet the freshmen team at 7 p.m. and Bob Gunner's wrestlers will stage an inter-squad meet following the basketball game.

Campbell states that the session will be open to all area coaches and that the athletic staff will be on hand following the demonstrations. "We'll be happy to answer any questions they might have," he said.

A NOTE FROM Bill Hargesheimer, dean of Southern Minnesota basketball officials who elected to hang up his whistle last spring, states that he has remained firm in his decision to quit.

"Am going to miss calling them this season," says Bill. "Have been contacted for games, but have remained firm and said no."

Although out of officiating, Bill won't be out of contact with the round ball and hoop.

He once again will be directing Park Rec Bantam Leaguers and working with the St. Mary's grade school team.

A YEAR AGO, Holmen High School's basketball tournament surge amazed area cage fans. The Vikings missed a trip to the state tournament by losing to Eau Claire's Old Abes in the La Crosse Sectional finals.

A glance at the pre-season prospectus submitted by Viking coach Dean Uhlis shows that once again Holmen will be a subject of amazement, but for a totally different reason.

Performing for the Vikings this year will be a cager by the name of Eino Hendrickson, a junior who scales 7-0!

Eino, a tuition student at Holmen who wasn't eligible a year ago, will be the key to the Viking season — and without a doubt, the tallest area performer.

Speaking of pre-season outlooks, coaches, your Daily News forms are due!!

Crying Bears Getting Big Lift for Sunday's Tilt

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner-coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears is crying that the Green Bay Packers will have all of the psychological advantages when the two teams clash in their showdown battle Sunday.

But an unexpected morale-building series of events has unfolded in the short time since the Bears edged Los Angeles 6-0 Sunday and this could give Chicago the necessary impetus needed against the Packers.

"The Packers will be out to prove our 10-3 victory over them in the season opener was a mistake," says Halas. "They have been champions for two years. They have all the overall strength and they've beaten us four times in our last five games."

The Bears can more than match Green Bay on defense. But it's a different story on offense and that's where the Bears might wind up getting their psychological lift.

While they could muster only two field goals by Roger LeClerc in defeating the Rams, the offensive players constantly were booed everytime they left the field by the crowd of 48,312. And everytime the defensive team came off, cheers rocked the ball park.

The Bear offense hasn't done much scoring but the players have ears.

And as expected, Chicago newspapers Monday hailed the defense and such banner lines graced the sports pages as "Bears offense is sick, confused... defense 'normal'..." and "Bear defense set for Green Bay."

No, the Bear offense hasn't been great, but the players can read such items as "The proud defensive players joke and smile, dress briskly and go home, knowing full well that the victory belongs to them. The offense sits and sighs a little sheepishly like a young boy who has just been bailed out of a scrape by his rich old man."

If the Bear offense is at all capable, what more is needed to get the team into a psychological orbit?

Referring to his offense after the Ram game, Halas said "We can't play that way against Green Bay and expect to win. That much I know."

But 24 hours later, the crafty National Football League pioneer said "Over-all I think our offense is doing a good job. It is unrealistic to expect our offense to romp over other teams. After all, our opponents aren't doing much romping against our defense."

And Bear backfield coach Chuck Mather summed it up this way: "How can anyone say our offense is fouled up when all we're doing is winning?"

Central Cops Grid Crown

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Siebers' four extra point kicks meant the difference Monday as Minneapolis Central nipped St. Paul Humboldt 28-26 to capture the Twin Cities high school football championship before some 10,000 fans in Memorial Stadium.

The St. Paul school lost when Dick Mendez had one of his extra point kicks blocked and missed another. Butch Davis ran 28 and 53 yards for Central touchdowns. Central wound up 8-0, Humboldt 8-1.

New York Backers Like Griffing

NEW YORK (AP) — A year ago the All-America scouts watched every move of Glynn Griffing, quarterback of the University of Mississippi. Now he sits on the New York Giants' bench every Sunday afternoon, manning the phone from the scout in the press box, until Y. A. Tittle puts the game beyond reach.

Sunday was one of those days when Y. A. was picking the Philadelphia Eagles to pieces and the Giants' line and exuberant defensive unit was making the Eagles wish there was an early bus home.

With about three minutes to go in the third period and the Giants leading 35-7, Allie Sherman took Griffing off the telephone and had him warm up on the sidelines. The big crowd of 62,936 at Yankee Stadium, warmed by the number on the scoreboard and word of an imminent defeat for Cleveland, cheered for "the kid."

THAT'S A PROBLEM

Gophers Aren't Aerial Threat

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Gophers have gained nearly twice as much yardage on the ground as they have through the air this season, and therein lies much of the answer to the question, "What's wrong with the Gophers?"

Minnesota has crunched for 1,006 infantry yards, but has netted only 516 in passes. Opponents learned this early this season, and concentrated on stopping the Gophers on the ground because they knew the Minnesota aerial game was incapable of hurting them.

As a comparison, the Gophers' seven opponents have gained 1,051 yards by rushing and 698 by passing—the more normal Big Ten balance.

The opposition has out first-downed the Gophers 91-83. Fullback Mike Reid is still Minnesota's top rusher, with 234 yards in 63 carries for a 3.7 average. Jerry Pelletier has 183 yards on 37 carries—a 4.9 average—and Jay Sharp has 149 for 43 tries—a 3.5 average.

Bob Sadek's passing figures show 44 completions in 101 attempts for 43.6 per cent, 441 yards and two touchdowns. He's had six interceptions. Larry Peterson has connected on only 5 of 19 for 26 yards.

Myron Rognlie is the top receiver with six catches for 42 yards, while Bob Bruggers, Pelletier and Al Harris each have snared five aerials for 89, 81 and 25 yards, respectively.

Sadek leads the scoring with 18 points, while Reid has 14 and Pelletier 12. The Gophers have been outscored 105-70.

Coach Murray Warmath did some more Monday shuffling of his first team. He put Peterson back at No. 1 quarterback ahead of Sadek, sent Pelletier back to the first team at left half in place of Harris, replaced Fred Farthing at right half with Dick Harren and moved Bruggers back to the top unit ahead of Rognlie at left end.

Second-team tackle Fred Nord was probably lost for this week's game at Purdue when he turned up with a bad ankle from the Iowa game.

No Solution Seen In Split Between AAU and Colleges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Olympic Committee has ended its last session before the 1964 Olympics with no permanent solution in sight for the split between the Amateur Athletic Union and the colleges.

Neither the AAU nor the National Collegiate Athletic Association showed any letup during the two-day biennial meeting of the hostilities that once threatened to wreck America's hopes next year in Tokyo. The meeting ended Monday.

After mediation by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, both sides agreed earlier this year to a truce in their conflict until after the 1964 Olympics.

However, this didn't stop both sides from maneuvering for more power on the Olympic Committee. They kept up a running battle throughout the two days.

Just before final adjournment, committee president Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson commented:

"I leave here with a heavy heart... I was sincere in my plea that we should not have bloc voting, that we should consider each issue on its merits."

The conflict began Sunday when AAU forces reversed the committee's board of directors on the question of granting a newly formed federation sanction to represent the United States on the International Federation for Baseball.

The NCAA backed the high schools and junior colleges in seeking more votes in the new organization. The AAU opposed and it was voted down.

The NCAA wanted President Kennedy given authority to name three members of the board of directors to represent the public and help mediate the dispute. The AAU, which once favored this, opposed it and it was beaten.

As adopted by the committee, the armed forces membership was increased from one to four on the board of directors, and President Kennedy will name one non-voting member to represent the inter-agency committee on international sports.

The AAU remained in complete command throughout the session, winning every vote. And the net effect of the voting realignment is to give it further strength.

Beliveau Remains NHL's Top Scorer

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Jean Beliveau maintained his National Hockey League scoring lead last week, but Chicago's Bobby Hull made the biggest gain and vaulted into a tie for the runner-up spot.

Beliveau accounted for one goal and two assists last week and now has six goals and a league-leading 17 assists for 23 points, according to league statistics released today.

Auburn Turning Out Muscular Coeds

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — "I'm old-fashioned," complained Athletic Director Jeff Beard. "I still say I don't like to see muscles on pretty girls."

All the same, Auburn, whose once-beaten football tigers are among the nation's best, is turning out female athletes, too, while rugged guys like Beard moan in dismay.

Thirty-eight shapely coeds spend an hour a day, five days a week, running the dashes, broad jumping, high jumping, putting the shot, throwing the discus, as part of their academic work.

It's an experimental class in physical education under the smiling direction of Auburn's newly appointed varsity track coach, Mel Rosen.

It all started several months ago when more than two score girl students suggested track classes as something new in the physical fitness kick. When the fall quarter started in September, it was added to the curriculum—purely on a voluntary basis.

Only four of the 38 girls who volunteered for the initial experiment are physical education majors. And only one, freshman Marilyn Jo Smelko of Crystal Springs, Miss., has had previous experience.

"She ran track in high school," says Rosen, "and she's one of our best performers." To prove that, the demure Marilyn, who wouldn't weigh over about 110 pounds with a full meal, got off a practice broad jump of 15 feet 9 inches. She's an art major.

Surprisingly, the coach says the coeds are easier to teach in some events than the men are. "They're more graceful."

But Beard the athletic director, still isn't convinced. "I'm having a hard time getting used to it," he protested.

For the moment, though, he needn't fret too much about muscles. If the girls have them, they're in the right places.

Short: 'Rumor Is Ridiculous'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Los Angeles Lakers owner Bob Short labeled as ridiculous rumors that his club's star players, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, were possible trade bait with the Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association.

"The only way you can answer such a ridiculous rumor is with an equally ridiculous reply," Short said when contacted Monday night at the Lakers.

Detroit Pistons game here. "Everybody knows that Baylor and West are not for sale or trade regardless of the offer," he added. "I'm sure the management of the Baltimore ball club knows that."

He acknowledged that he had heard rumors of the trades. One proposed Baylor going to the Bullets even up for Walt Bellamy. The other had West, Jim Krebs and Frank Selvy being swapped for Bellamy.

Pitchers Stan Williams and Hal Reniff of the New York Yankees are California residents. Williams was born in Enfield, N.H., and Reniff in Warren, Ohio.

Irv Praxel Belts 257-678 For 3rd High Series Score

Winona keglers broke loose from their doldrums Monday night. The men snapped their drought with five 600 series, and the women barged into the top 10 listings in five different positions.

The City circuit at Hal-Rod Lanes produced all five men's honor counts. Irv Praxel had his ball working as he cracked a 219-257-202-678 errorless for Graham & McGuire. The series was third high of the season in town.

The Graham & McGuire team bounced 1,089-2,964. The seventh spot in team games succumbed to the Sports team's total.

Jim Konkel walloped a 615 errorless. Other honor totals were 615 by Luther Myhro, a 604 by Mitch Schewe, and Ross Kurth's 603.

Wally's took the first-half title.

The Pin Topplers league at Westgate Bowl bounced the pins around with wreckless abandon to top the women's side of the kegling scene. The Watkins

Mary King team blasted 1,035-2,718 for team laurels. The group game was a season high and the series fourth. Irene Trimmer's 233-555 for the Watkins team topped individual efforts. Her single game moved her into the seventh position on the year.

Other 500 bowlers were: Betty Englerth 550, Marge Moravec 539, Lucille Jackson 534, Sylvia Hassinger 539, Audrey Gorecki 522, Vivian E. Brown 510, Eleanor Stahl 516, Irene Gostomski 512, Esther Pozanc 507, Larry Donahue 504, and Olga Stever 500.

Mary Serwa also gained a position on the coveted list as she tagged 231-511 for Tausche's in the Westgate Ladies loop. The single was good for a ninth-place tie. Steve's Lounge plastered 874, and The Oaks counted 2,501.

RED MEN: Class B — Henry Pegre topped 476 to lead Doers to 2,705. Jerry Anderson's 199 paced Schmidt's to 990.

WINONA AC: Go Getters — E. B.'s Corner took group honors with 890-2,516 behind Orville Cisewski's 440. Maxine Gabrych clipped 186 for Graham & McGuire.

Monday—First National Bank swept to all the honors. Leroy Kanz socked 232, and Al Bam-benek hit 581. The Bankers combined for 1,023-2,957.

WESTGATE: Junior Girls — Nancy Smith tumbled a 179-299 two-game set to boost High Balls to 683. Alley Gators totaled 1,276.

Alley Gators—Shirley Squires' 189-510 sparked Curley's Floor Shop to 865. Winona Daily News registered 2,499.

Community — Mark Warren laced 209-536 for Sunbeam Bread's 955. Tom Riska matched the 536 for Schmidt's Beer, while Hackbarth Feed Mill was blasting 2,721.

HAL-ROD: Park Rec Jr. Girls — Suzanne Laak led All Stars to 690-1,293 with her 164-284 two-game set.

VFW—Joe Stolpa tagged 596 in leading Wason's Supper Club to 2,837. Hank Paskewicz blasted 237 for Hamm's Beer, and 7-Up flattened 990. Blancher Tavern took the first-half title.

ST. MARTIN'S: Ladies—Irene Bronk tapped 179-484 for Coca-Cola. Deep Rock Rockettes tipped 866 and Winona Typewriter Service 2,504.

CAGE LEAGUES HAVE OPENINGS

Vern Smelser of the Park Rec Department said this morning that there were player openings in the Midget (12-14-year-olds) and Pee Wee (8-9-year-olds) Leagues.

"We have room for about a dozen boys in the Midget League and eight or nine in the Pee Wee League," said Smelser.

Pee Wee League members are to pick up their suits this week at the Park Rec office in the City Building. Midget and Bantam members will pick up their suits next week. League schedules will be distributed then.

Openings for State Bowling Meet Slated

Jim Schneider, president of the Winona Bowling Association, today announced reserved dates and openings for the 1964 Minnesota State Bowling Tournament to be held at Donovan's Lanes on Highway 100 in Edina. Donovan's is the new name of what used to be the Biltmore Lanes.

The tournament will get underway Feb. 8 and run through March 22.

Fees for the meet are $5 per man per event except all-events which is $1. Reservations must be paid by Jan. 5 with entries closing on Jan. 12.

For those who want to bowl doubles and singles and team event on the same day, Schneider has a top arrangement.

On March 1, doubles and singles may be rolled by Winona bowlers at 1 or 3 p.m. with four spots for teams reserved for 7:30 p.m. Already five sets of doubles are set for the 1 p.m. shift with nine sets in competition at 3 p.m.

On March 14 at 6:30 p.m. there is room for 20 teams. March 15 at 11 a.m. there is room for 17 sets of doubles and singles. At 1 p.m. the same day there is also room for 17 sets.

Schneider also calls attention to the fact that the 1965 ABC tourney will be held in St. Paul.

'Big O' Tops NBA Scorers

NEW YORK (AP)—Big O—Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals—held the National Basketball Association lead in both scoring and assists in the latest figures released today, but the NBA news continued to be the new accent on defense.

Robertson hit 29 points in each of three games during the week to run his total to 333 points in 13 games. He added 22 assists to make it 122 in that department.

Over-all, the nine clubs were averaging 108.9 points per game, compared to 116.0 at the same point last year. Shooting percentage were off from .432 to .426, as well.

The San Francisco Warriors, with a new image under Coach Alex Hannum, are holding their opponents to 97.3 points a game, nearly seven points less than the next stingiest team, the Boston Celtics.

Wilt Chamberlain of the Warriors continued to lead the league in scoring percentage, 30.6 per game, but well off his normal pace as he concentrates on defense.

Charlie Vaughn of the St. Louis Hawks retained the field goal percentage lead with a .524 average, and Cliff Hagan of the Hawks moved into the lead in free throw percentage with a .914 average.

Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati held his rebound lead with 224. Bill Russell of the Celtics had the top average, 24.4 a game.

CITY CAGE LOOP WILL ORGANIZE

The City Basketball League will organize at a meeting at 7:15 p.m. Nov. 19 at the Park Rec office in the City Building.

Teams interested in competing in the six-member league are asked to register now.

Bruhn Feels Team May Be Ready to Roll

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin football Coach Milt Bruhn believes his Badgers still have their big game ahead. The defending Big Ten champions couldn't pick a better day than Saturday when Illinois invades Camp Randall Stadium.

"Maybe we can roll now," Bruhn said, "if we keep up at the head of steam we had at the end against Northwestern."

Wisconsin stopped Northwestern 17-14 last Saturday to boost its conference record to 3-2.

"It was a tough game from a lot of standpoints," Bruhn said. "We made mistakes and lost the ball eight times."

"Maybe some of it was due to me and the staff," he continued. "We left no stone unturned in an effort to get our boys high and it appeared we had them so high they were strung tighter than a drum."

That's when mistakes happen." Wisconsin held only a brief drill Monday in preparation for Saturday's meeting with the Illini who have a 3-1 league mark.

Vikings Pile Up Statistics, Not TDs

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Coach Norm V Brocklin's sarcastic comment following Sunday's 28-7 defeat by Green Bay that "our offense piles up statistics, not points" would appear to be verified by the figures this week.

The Vikings' nine opponents have outscored Minnesota by 40 per cent, 251 points to 180, but have out-gained the Vikings by only 18 per cent rushing and passing, 3,085 yards to 2,612.

In other words, the foes are getting more scoring mileage out of their yardage than the Vikings.

The Vikings have chalked up 150 first downs to 167 by the opposition.

Tommy Mason, who has put together two good games in a row running, has taken a big lead in the Viking rushing derby over Bill Brown.

Mason had his best day yet Sunday, carrying 15 times for 78 yards, and now has totaled 443 yards on 108 carries for a 4.1 average. Brown has 328 yards on 97 tries for a 3.4 mark.

Fran Tarkenton has completed 129 of 230 passes for 1,698 yards and 11 touchdowns—a completion percentage of 56.1. He has had 12 aeriels intercepted.

Mason latched onto a team record 10 passes Sunday to boost his season total in pass receptions to 31 for 303 yards. But he still trails rookie Paul Flatley in this department. Flatley has caught 35 for 488 yards and three touchdowns. Jerry Reichow is third with 26 catches for 392 yards and three touchdowns.

Brown and kicker Fred Cox are tied for the team scoring lead, each with 36 points. Mason has 30 and Reichow and Flatley 18 apiece.

PRESTON, Minn.—A delegation of Minnesota Twins will speak at a testimonial dinner in the Preston Town Hall Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The group includes shortstop Zoilo Versalles, centerfielder Lenny Green, promotions manager Don Cassidy, and ticket manager Charles Lavender. In addition to talks by all four, movies will be shown of highlights of 1963 games.

Tickets may be purchased from Moppy Anderson, Clayton Fishbaugh, Al Christensen, Robert Hanson, Don Storhoff, Lyle Simonson, Waldo Bunge, Paul Karels and Murph Gartner.

PALMER STILL AHEAD DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—America's top ten professional golfers have won $617,609 so far this year, led by Arnold Palmer with $128,230, according to a report from the Professional Golfers' Association.

MARINES TO BATTLE ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The fourth annual Missile Bowl football game here Dec. 7 will be an All-Marine Corps affair.

Quantico Marines accepted an invitation Monday to meet the San Diego Marines in the annual game.

Hi, there
gosh, i sure feel a lot better today than i did yesterday.
that wonderful gang of people from Kwno moved over here this morning and started broadcasting from our offices, and things have really started to happen.
a lot of people are signing up for tv signal to get that free month of service that Kwno is offering — and they are all stopping by the front desk to register for the big free drawing.
i think old hard nosed boss is softening and maybe ill get daime back after all. be sure to listen all day tomorrow happily,

Subject: Your Love Life

You sure are a lucky little rodent to have such friends from KWN0!

Mainly, I don't want to be bothered with all of the details of your unhappy love life. But, if people keep signing up for the TV SIGNAL service tomorrow like they did today I may have to take a fresh look at the situation.

Those people from KWN0 are working mighty hard to bring you and Dafne back together — so I'll make a deal with you.

If as many new subscribers sign up for TV SIGNAL during your broadcast tomorrow as signed up today — you get the split level mouse house, the extra cheese ration, and I'll put a bell on Oswald, the landlord's cat. Everything you and Dafne asked for!

But, I'm going to count the new subscribers NIGHTY CLOSBLY — mouse!
