Things Taken From Home, Thompson Says

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — T. Eugene Thompson, ending his testimony at his murder trial, said today several items were missing from his home following the slaying of his wife, Carol.

The defense has contended that Mrs. Thompson was slain March 6 by a burglar. Thompson's testimony today appeared to focus on that theme.

The prosecution has said Thompson arranged to have a hired assassin kill the attractive young St. Paul matron.

Cross-examination of Thompson by Prosecutor William Randall ended at 9:40 a.m. today. The defendant left the stand at 10:08, following re-direct examination and Randall's closing cross examination.

Thompson testified some crystal, a choker necklace and a "peacock" pin were missing from the family's fashionable home following the attack on Mrs. Thompson.

"I know there's a lot of little things," he added, "but I can't say how much."

Thompson said he reported the thefts on March 8, two days following the slaying. To Detective Lt. George Barkley, he talked to Barkley again about the theft on March 29, Thompson said, but the detective "didn't seem to care about it."

Following Thompson's testimony, defense counsel called Thompson's two sisters and a brother-in-law. Their testimony preceded a noon recess, and the defendant's lawyers indicated they had one more witness to present in the afternoon.

Mrs. Geraldine Gesch, a sister from Blue Earth, Minn., told of hearing on the radio March 6 the news of Carol Thompson's death. The grey-haired, middle-aged witness said she went to St. Paul to be with her brother for several days.

What was Thompson's condition, asked William Fallon, assistant defense counsel.

"Deep sorrow and shock," she said. "At times, he tried to eat and he couldn't even tell me what happened. He was at the point of collapse."

Sometimes, she said, Thompson "sobbed so hard he shook." Thompson wept in court as his sister told of the Thompsons' family relationship. Mrs. Gesch said the couple had a warm family life.

She testified, too, that the Thompsons appeared to be accident-prone and she was not surprised to learn of the large amount of insurance they carried.

"If it had been anyone else, but Gene I would have been," she said. "But he's always done things in a big way."

Connally Making Good Progress

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Gov. John Connally continued to make good progress today from gunshot wounds received when President Kennedy was assassinated.

Connally, who will be in Parkland Hospital about another week, has had the stitches removed from his leg.

The bullet hit Connally in the back, collapsed a lung, went through his right wrist and embedded in his thigh.

Pope Gives More Power to Bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI reduced the dependence of Roman Catholic bishops on the Vatican Curia today, extending them certain limited powers on a permanent basis.

The Roman Catholic pontiff, appearing in person before the Vatican Ecumenical Council, promulgated a decree which apparently put him on the side of progressive bishops of collegiality—the concept that the bishops as a whole share with the Pope in authority over the Church.

The main power granted by the Pope was the right for the bishops to exercise on their own 40 faculties, or powers, they previously could use only on application to the Curia.

Pope Paul also granted eight privileges, or concessions. One is entirely new for bishops. It is the privilege, previously possessed only by cardinals, to preach and hear confessions anywhere in the world, and not in their own dioceses alone.

The other seven privileges—like the faculties—were previously allowed on application.

One of the most important grants is the right of bishops to decide marriage cases involving "The Pauline Privilege," without consulting the Vatican. These are marriages involving two unbaptized persons, one of whom decides after marriage to become a Catholic. If the other objects, "The Pauline Privilege" allows their marriage to be dissolved after the one is converted. The converted Catholic is free to marry again. The privilege is named after St. Paul because the concept is derived from his letter to the Corinthians.

Another faculty permits bishops to allow illegitimate youths to enter the priesthood.

Bishops are also allowed to grant permission to Catholics to read books on the index of reading matter forbidden by the Church when the books are used for research or study purposes.

Most of the powers, including the one concerning the index, previously were obtained by bishops for 5 and 10-year periods on application to the Vatican. The applications usually were approved and renewed as a matter of course.

Pope Paul's decree means the bishops will have the powers on a permanent basis, eliminating even the formality of Vatican administrative control.

His decree included permission to bishops to:

Allow a priest to say Mass twice on a weekday.

Allow a priest to say Mass outside of a church in special circumstances.

Permit a sick priest to say Mass in his residence and, if necessary, sitting down.

Grant the privilege to priests of saying Mass at any time of the day.

Dispense "for a just and reasonable cause with all minor matrimonial impediments even in the case of mixed marriages."

Allow marriages between Catholics and non-Catholics.

Permit the celebration of Masses on shipboard.

Permit priests to say three Masses on Sundays.

Pope Paul did not read his apostolic letter, or Motu Proprio, himself. Instead he remained seated on his throne in St. Peter's Basilica as Archbishop Pericle Felici, the council secretary general, read it in Latin to the 2,200 council fathers.

When the archbishop had finished, the Pope indicated his approval and gave his blessing to the assembled cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops and bishops.

A council spokesman, briefing newsmen on the Motu Proprio, said:

"The idea behind it was the argument that bishops already have these faculties by full right of their office, not by any concession from the Vatican, and therefore why should a bishop have to go through a process of application?"

In council debate, progressive prelates had presented this argument in asking revision of a council schema on Church government.

Many progressive bishops demanded that the curia's powers be reduced. The Curia is largely staffed by Italians and Church conservatives.

Pope Paul's action tends to decentralize Church administration and therefore reduces Curia authority. But technically the bishops never obtained the powers from the Curia itself. They worked through the Curia, but the powers could come only from the pontiff.

Pope Paul chose the next to last day of the council session to make his views known. The council begins a nine-month recess Wednesday, until next September.

The Motu Proprio, dated Nov. 30, becomes effective Dec. 8.

5 Rail Unions To Test Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five rail unions announce today their strategy for a court attack on a federal arbitration ruling that would wipe out thousands of railroad jobs.

The unions representing the men who run the trains—engineers, firemen, brakemen, switchmen and conductors—indicated they were committed to some kind of court action after a meeting Monday night.

But a spokesman said there were these questions to be decided:

Whether they would join in a concerted attack and how many suits to file. Whether they would attack the ruling itself, aim at the emergency legislation that set up the arbitration panel, or shoot at both.

Congress set up the panel to head off a nationwide rail strike last August.

The planned legal action added a few more knots to the snarled, four-year-old work rules dispute that has so far defied settlement efforts under the Railway Labor Act, the Labor Department, a special presidential emergency board and Congress.

Nearly 200 railroads are involved.

The unions refuse to accept last week's ruling of the arbitration board to eliminate slowly 90 per cent of some 32,000 firemen's jobs.

4 Killed in Mishaps, 98 Ahead of '62

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ice-slicked streets and highways brought traffic crashes Monday and Monday night that killed four persons and carried the Minnesota toll to 740.

This is 98 ahead of last year and 15 above the all-time record for an entire 12 months, set in both 1960 and 1961.

Latest victim was Mrs. Ida Mann, 78, St. Paul, killed when a car collided with a Milwaukee Road train at a crossing near Ancker Hospital in that city.

John Kaye, 53, South St. Paul, the driver, was thrown out and escaped with minor injuries. But police had to call wreckers to recover Mrs. Mann's body and remove the other two injured, Mann, 78, and Mrs. Kaye, 52, from the rear seat. Mann was hospitalized in critical condition, Mrs. Kaye in less serious condition.

Earlier, two Alexandria men died when their car slammed into a truck on U.S. 52 at that city's eastern outskirts.

Killed were Olaf P. Steen, 56, and Robert Aiton, 53. The truck driver, Daniel Paske, 59, Little Falls, was only shaken up.

Highway patrolmen said Paske had put on the brakes to slow down for cars ahead of him when the truck skidded into the opposite lane and was hit broadside by the car in which the two victims rode.

Mrs. Norman Evans, 39, Wolford, N.D., the fourth fatality, died when two cars came together on slippery U.S. 10 about six miles east of Perham. Three others, none believed in serious condition, were injured.

Ships Catch Fire After Collision

MONTREAL (AP)—Two salt-water freighters caught fire early today after colliding under a full moon in the St. Lawrence River off Montreal.

Tugs working in the glare of searchlights plucked 28 seamen from the 4,490-ton Norwegian freighter Lionel while flames shot into the air and smoke curled over the harbor. The fire was extinguished after three hours.

The fire aboard the 9,790-ton British ship Manchester Merchant was doused in less than two hours. The ship was towed to a berth with her crew of 35 still aboard. The Lionel was anchored in midstream but the Transport Department said she would not interfere with shipping.

The ships collided just east of the Jacques Cartier Bridge between Montreal Island and the south shore of the river.

There was no immediate information on the circumstances of the collision.

Secret Service Agent Goes to Lynda's Classes

By TOM JOHNSON

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Secret Service agents assigned to protect President Johnson's 19-year-old daughter at the University of Texas may find the duty more rewarding than expected.

A friend of Lynda Bird Johnson's quoted her as saying Monday in her dormitory room with reference to the agent who accompanied her to classes:

"He sits in the class and seems very interested. He's learning things too."

Lynda Bird is taking a 19-hour class load of English, Latin, history, government, chemistry and Bible.

A sophomore in the School of Arts and Sciences, Miss Johnson returned to classes Monday with more than 20,000 other students at the university.

She was taken from her dormitory by Secret Service agents Nov. 22 immediately after the President was shot in Dallas. Agents took her to the governor's mansion in Austin for protection. She attended the funeral services in Washington with her family and returned to Austin Sunday.

Smashing Victory For Raul Leoni

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Raul Leoni, soft-spoken former labor lawyer pledged to carry on President Romulo Betancourt's opposition to Fidel Castro, won a smashing victory today in Venezuela's presidential election.

Leoni, Betancourt's candidate, led his nearest rival in the seven-man race by more than 200,000 votes, according to unofficial tabulations based on 70 per cent of the vote.

Defying threats, bullets and bombs from Communist terrorists, 95 per cent of Venezuela's eligible voters balloted Sunday. Violence subsided in Caracas Monday. There was no sign of the outlawed pro-Castro Armed Forces for National Liberation (FALN), whose campaign of terror had resulted in an almost daily loss of life for months.

In second place in the presidential race was Rafael Caldera, a Social Christian member of Betancourt's government coalition. Unofficial returns today showed: Leoni, 692,206; Caldera, 470,174.

Exhausted from the strenuous campaign, Leoni went to bed in the early evening, confident that he would govern the oil-rich nation for the next five years.

Venezuela's constitution prevented Betancourt from succeeding himself. He will turn over the presidency in March.

Meanwhile, U.S. Embassy officials maintained a vigil most of the night for the release of Lt. Col. James K. Cheneault, deputy chief of the U.S. military mission in Venezuela. He had not been released early today, however.

Two Faribault Youths Will Be Tried as Adults

FARIBAULT, Minn. (AP)—Two 17-year-old Faribault boys will be tried as adults for their alleged parts in the strangling of Rolene Madison, also 17, and their schoolmate.

Judge Robert Martin so ruled Monday in ordering the cases of Ray Van Straten and Leslie Hammond handed up to Rice County District Court.

There will be a coroner's inquest before a grand jury is impaneled on Dec. 16 to consider evidence in the case.

Wisconsin Legislature Called Dec. 10

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds announced today he will call a special session of the Wisconsin Legislature Dec. 10.

The governor said the main purpose of the session will be to consider his accelerated highway construction program.

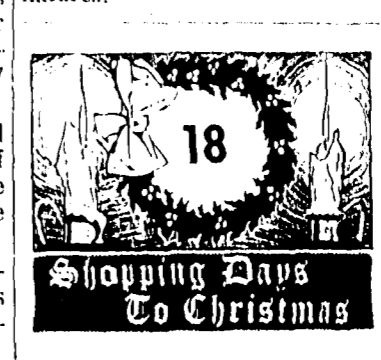

"If we are going to have an accelerated highway program," Reynolds said, "it is essential that the decision be made in December."

He explained that a quick decision is needed so that any highway program could get under way in the 1964 construction season. The governor has proposed a program called Project 66 that would utilize bonding and a penny a gallon gasoline tax increase to speed construction of Wisconsin's interstate and freeway system.

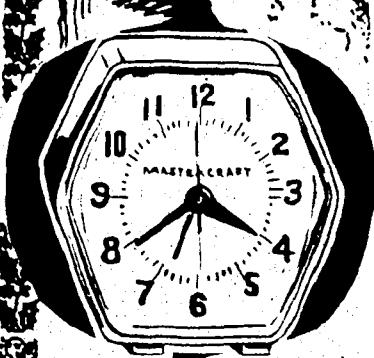

House Leaders Seek to Force Civil Rights Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker John W. McCormack said today an effort will be made to blast the civil rights bill out of the House Rules Committee. Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., of that group says he has no plans to seek action this year.

McCormack said after he and other Democratic congressional leaders met with President Johnson in their weekly White House session that Chairman Emanuel Celler of the House Judiciary Committee will file next Monday a petition to take the bill to the House floor. This is known as a discharge petition, and would require 218 signatures.

Drivers Find Highways in Good Condition

Motorists today found city streets and area roads in good driving condition despite the slippiness that developed during Monday's snowfall.

WINONA street department sanding crews worked throughout the night. All streets in the downtown area have received a complete application of salt and calcium chloride. By late this afternoon all intersections in the city will be sanded.

There are a few slippery spots in the middle of blocks caused by compacted snow. All arterial streets were salted and sanded Monday night and were in good driving condition, said commissioner Arthur Brom.

The WINONA COUNTY highway department said Garvin Heights, Pleasant Valley and Witoka Hill were sanded and plowed and are in good driving condition. Cars were stalled in these areas Monday after the snowfall.

All county roads have been plowed and intersections, hills and curves have been sanded. Motorists were urged to drive with caution on the county's roads as there are still some slippery spots from compacted snow.

Stockton Hill and Highway 14 to St. Charles is in good condition, the MINNESOTA HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT reported. Stockton Hill and the Interstate Bridge have been sanded and is clear. Highway 61 to La Crosse was quite slippery Monday night. Crews have been working on it today but a few slippery spots still existed at noon. Highway 43 to Rushford had several slippery spots but should be in good driving condition by late afternoon. Motorists were urged to use caution.

The AAA office reported the highways in the western section of Minnesota are clear, while those in the eastern part have frequent slippery spots. Highway 61 from Winona to the Twin Cities was clear this noon. All roads in the state are passable.

Police Captain Refires at 53

Cap. George R. Meyers, a veteran of more than 25 years with the Winona police department, resigned Monday, effective next Tuesday.

Meyers, 53, 827 E. Mark St., has been head of the juvenile division since May 1. Previously he was with the identification division.

Meyers said that he plans to take a position with Winona State College, but declined to say in what capacity.

He entered the police department May 1, 1938, and was promoted to captain from detective Oct. 1, 1959, when he took over the identification division. Meyers had become a detective May 1, 1948.

Chief George Savord said Sgt. Martin Prigge will be temporary supervisor of the juvenile division. Prigge has been in that division since April 1961.

Savord said that he will advertise for a new patrolman and will promote a member of the staff to fill the vacancy.

Rushford Youth Charged Twice

Rollie H. Dubbs, 20, Rushford, Minn., arrested by police near Sugar Loaf early this morning, has been charged by police and by Sheriff George Fort.

Dubbs has posted $25 bail on a charge of discharging a firearm on the public highway. This charge was brought against him by Sheriff Fort.

He is charged with being a minor with beer in his possession. The charge, brought by police, stems from the arrest. He will appear in municipal court Wednesday.

Dubbs was scheduled to appear in Goodview justice court at 3 p.m. today on the firearms charge. Sheriff Fort said he did not expect Dubbs to appear.

Fort said that a call was received at his office about 12:30 a.m. today in connection with youths in a car shooting guns near Money Creek.

A squad car was sent to the area to investigate the incident and the car was seen on Highway 76 about two miles south of Witoka.

Deputies called Winona police by radio and asked that they stop the youths' car. Police said they found three shotguns in the car and held the youths for the sheriff.

Salary Negotiation Procedures Discussed

By C. GORDON HOLTE
Daily News Staff Writer

Resumption early next month of meetings with the Board of Education to discuss salary requests of Winona's public school teachers for the 1964-65 contract year was requested Monday night by a joint salary committee representing the two teacher organizations.

Last summer, prior to school board action on a new budget for the fiscal year beginning next April 1, a delegation from the Winona Education Association and Winona Federation of Teachers had met with directors to submit a proposal that included a $403 increase in maximum annual salaries at both the bachelor and master degree levels in the current salary schedule.

THE TEACHERS' proposal was made at the suggestion of the board which felt that some knowledge of faculty attitudes on salary issues would be helpful in drafting the budget from which any wage increases would be drawn.

The joint teachers' salary committee told directors Monday it was concerned with resuming "discussions not completed last spring as soon as possible." The teachers suggested an early January meeting at which their salary proposal would be reviewed and "substantiating material" considered by the board.

Although the board took no definite action Monday on setting a date for a meeting with the teachers, the request prompted an extended discussion among board members of procedures to be followed in resolving salary issues with the staff.

Several directors recalled that at the time this year's salary schedule was adopted last spring it appeared that teachers weren't too dissatisfied with the salary schedule as such but were somewhat disappointed with the procedure followed by the board in its adoption.

While there had been several preliminary meetings of the board and teachers salary committees, teachers indicated they felt there should have been at least one more meeting before formal action was taken on adoption of the schedule.

BOARD President Lawrence Santelman wondered whether it might be advisable to consult with other boards in the Big Nine conference, of which Winona is a member, to determine what policies other schools follow in their salary discussions with teachers.

"We confer with them on other school issues and I can see no reason why it wouldn't be feasible to talk to them about a matter that's so important to all of us as salaries," Santelman commented. "If we were to find that some school in the conference has come up with a procedure in salary discussions that's been proved very acceptable I think it would be helpful for us to know about it."

Emphasizing that he was "only throwing this out as a suggestion" and didn't expect the board would necessarily agree with it, Santelman also thought that maybe other boards in the conference cities might be sounded out on their thoughts on general salary matters.

A possible objection to this, Director Frank J. Allen said, might be that the board historically has objected to references to comparative wage schedules in conference schools during salary discussions, preferring, rather, to consider requests of Winona teachers in the light of local conditions.

Directors agreed to take Santelman's suggestions under consideration.

WHEN THE board adopted its budget last summer it allocated funds for salaries for all school employees but made no specific provision for definite dollar increases. The actual schedule of salaries to go into effect at the beginning of the next contract year will be developed by the board prior to the deadline for signing of contracts April 1.

Directors noted Monday night that two developments since approval of the budget will have an effect on funds available in the next fiscal year.

One involves the order by Gov. Karl Rolvaag for reduction by 5 percent in state aid appropriations in 1964.

The second involves the order by Schools A. L. Nelson said, would reduce anticipated state aid receipts by approximately $15,000. Although it will be a factor in next year's fiscal picture, it won't be a considerable one since this amounts to only about three-quarters of 1 percent of the total school budget.

ALSO NOT contemplated at the time the budget was drafted was the recent decision to retain a survey team from the University of Minnesota Bureau of Field Studies to make a study of Winona's school facilities, enrollments and other factors and submit recommendations on long-range expansion of the school plant and other matters.

The cost of the survey will come to between $8,000 and $9,000 and will be paid from the new budget which contains no provision for survey work.

The next step in the discussions with the teachers probably will be the appointment by Santelman of a committee to represent the board in meetings with the joint teachers' salary committee.

Board members were in agreement that the two teacher groups should be asked to send a somewhat smaller delegation than has been constituted in the past. It was thought that consideration of salary issues could be expedited by having smaller numbers at the conferences.

THE REQUEST filed with the board last summer by the teachers calls for an increase of $403 in maximum base salaries for faculty members. This would bring the amount to be paid a teacher with a four year degree and 13 or more years of teaching experience to $8,028 and for a holder of a master's degree and the same amount of experience, $8,628.

The teachers' proposal also calls for additional increments for instructors supervising the girls physical education program of extra-curricular activities, additional pay for members of the vocational agriculture staff who work during the summer months and for summer school and adult education instructors, extended increments for work beyond the master's degree and changes in the present sick leave policy to allow for the existing 90-day sick leave accumulation to be retroactive and credited to each teacher at the rate of 10 days a year, reduced by periods previously used.

St. Mary's Gets Two Federal Science Grants

Two science grants totaling $102,597 have been awarded to St. Mary's College for its 1964 summer institutes in radiation biology and ecology.

The National Science Foundation has given the college $65,312 for its ecology institute. Of the total, $47,500 will be used to cover participants' travel expenses, living costs, and dependents' care during the institute; $17,812 will go for staff stipends, supplies and field trips.

THE RADIATION biology institute has received $37,285 from the National Science Foundation and the Atomic Energy Commission. The NSF gave $19,000 of the amount, and the AEC furnished the remaining $18,285. The first sum will go to the participants, while the rest will be used for operating expenses.

Seventy high school biology teachers will participate in the two programs, which will last from June 22 to Aug. 14, 1964. The institutes are designed to improve subject-matter competence of the participants.

Fifty teachers will take part in the ecology institute, 35 of them in a basic program and 14 doing advanced work.

The faculty will include Brother H. Charles, FSC; Dr. Eugene McArdle; Ramon Swisher; Brother John Paul, FSC; Dr. Clarence McNabb; Sister Julia Marie; Dr. Harold Arneam; Marius Morse; and Dr. David French.

TWENTY TEACHERS will take part in the eight-week radiation biology institute. The faculty will include Brother L. George, FSC; Oscar Horner; Brother L. Edward, FSC; Brother J. Leo, FSC; Dr. Albert Linck; and Dr. Theodore Sudia.

This is the third year that a grant for the radiation biology institute has been received from the National Science Foundation and the Atomic Energy Commission. It is the second year that the NSF has given a grant for the ecology institute.

Mental Hospital Gifts Requested

A renewed appeal for Christmas gifts for patients at the Rochester and St. Peter State hospitals was made at Monday's meeting of the Winona County Association for Mental Health at the YMCA.

Gifts, which must be received by Dec. 10, may be left either at the city welfare office at City Hall or at Red Cross headquarters at Lucas Lodge. Gifts are being solicited from association members and the general public.

Three reports were presented at Monday's meeting.

One was by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Richard Feiten on the recent annual meeting of the Minnesota Association for Mental Health. He called attention to a mental health workshop, scheduled for early next year, for clergymen from Winona, Houston and Wabasha counties. The workshop will be similar to one conducted previously for public and parochial school teachers in the area.

BATH, Maine (AP) — The guided missile frigate Josephus Daniels, named for the North Carolina newspaperman who served as secretary of the Navy from 1913-1921, was launched Monday at the Bath Iron Works.

Temporary Head Of Redevelopment Committee Named

Judson D. Scott, Winona National and Savings Bank officer, will serve as temporary chairman for the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Downtown Redevelopment, the City Council was told Monday night.

Scott's appointment to the post by Mayor R. K. Ellings was announced by Ald. Steve Morgan, chairman of the council committee for new projects and industrial development. The committee, composed of 20 members, had previously been named by Mayor Ellings.

Scott said today no plans have been made for a formal organization meeting of the committee. This will await the compiling of some additional agenda, he said.

Scott, who lives at 426 Dakota St., is assistant vice president and trust officer of the Winona National and Savings Bank.

Council OKs Option For Site of Motel

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

After heated rounds of unscheduled controversy, the City Council voted Monday night to grant a 150-day option on land sought by builders of a proposed Holiday Inn motel.

If the option is exercised, the price will be $7,500 to the purchasers, Perry-Phillips and Sidney Neate, Columbia, Mo., holders of the Holiday Inn franchise for this region. It will be drawn by the city attorney and presented for approval at the Dec. 16 meeting. The proposed site, just west of the junction of Highway 61 and Huff Street, contains 4.4 acres.

SHARPLY OPPOSING viewpoints were expressed by spectators, aldermen and the developers' attorney, accompanied by an all-around exchange of credentials relating to length of residence and tax-paying status.

Gilbert Hoesley, Winona Senior High School biology teacher, expressed concern over possible sale of the land because of what he termed its biological and scenic value. Buyers are interested in commercialization rather than preservation of shoreline, scenery and clean water in Lake Winona, he charged.

He asked whether precedents would be created leading to eventual sale of such areas as Prairie Island and other public recreation grounds. Hoesley said he has been a taxpayer for 15 years, is tax conscious but aware of the value of unspoiled outdoor areas. Aldermen should solicit public opinion before acting, he said. Much of the Wisconsin land along Highway 35, from Prairie du Chien to Alma, is scientifically protected, he said, but Minnesota is lagging thus far.

TWO LAKE Boulevard residents, A. H. Shaxted and Miss Marion Davis, a Winona State College instructor, also spoke against the sale proposal. Shaxted asked about costs of sewer connections and how payment would be made. He questioned whether the parcel was large enough and maintained that some filling would necessarily project into the lake. He saw such a sale as the beginning of occupation of the entire shore line by similar installations, because "if you do land have timber value, and Schutz explained that, while the land would be taken off the tax rolls, it would be managed by the Conservation Department, and half of all gross receipts from the land would go to the county.

The board, however, refused to sell at assessed valuation the three parcels in St. Charles Township. Commissioner Adolph Spitzer, St. Charles, said that he believed the land would bring a higher price in a public sale.

THE BOARD offered to sell the land near Dakota, and Schutz this morning informed the commissioners that his department had approved purchase of the four parcels.

None of the four have any timber value, but their ownership by the state would guarantee maintenance of their scenic value. All of them adjoin Trunk Highway 61, the route of the Great River Road.

Officials of the Mississippi River Parkway Commission have recommended maintenance of a 300-foot scenic border on each side of the new river route.

"I REPRESENT the commercialists," he said, "and I'm proud to do so." He commented ironically on what he called the city's "astounding growth—from 20,000 in 1940 to 24,980, 20 years later. We can't all sit back and say 'leave everything as it is and people will come.' That's baloney."

Streater said the balance of shoreline west of the site is within Highway 61 right of way and therefore inaccessible to commerce. The proposed sale would be conditional, he said, to prevent any speculation on the land value and to assure fulfillment of developers' promises.

Recalling his experience as city attorney, Streater said: "How many times haven't we heard the cry of 'whatever it is, we're against it' right in this room. It takes capital to develop these things and capital doesn't come from squawking."

Ald. Clarence Tribell suggested locating the motel in Wincrest.

IN SUBSEQUENT discussion by the council committee of the whole, Ald. Jim Mohan asked whether the appraised price of $7,500 was high enough. Mayor R. K. Ellings said he thought the price a fair one, compared to amounts received in previous sales of city land for similar purposes.

Casting the lone opposition vote against Ald. Stoltman's motion to grant the option was Ald. Tribell. Ald. A. Det Schneider was not present at the meeting.

Warrant Issued For Motorist

A bench warrant for the arrest of Howard M. Strain, 38, 264 Mankato Ave., was issued after he failed to appear in municipal court today.

Judge John D. McGill ordered that the warrant be issued. Strain was to appear on a charge of driving with no valid driver's license.

He appeared in court Nov. 23 on the license charge and on a drunken driving charge. Strain told Judge McGill then that he had lost his license and was to receive a duplicate. Action was postponed for 10 days.

Strain was arrested by police at East Broadway and Mankato Avenue at 1:37 a.m. Nov. 23. He has paid the fine on the drunken driving conviction.

Residents' alarm was understandable, Baird said, but the alterations would not remove causes for complaint and would also permit better engineering.

Several drawbacks to the idea of moving the dike landward were outlined by the engineer. Considerably more fill would have been needed, Baird said, and the city would have had to stand the expense of any such departure from the Corps' de-others." Miss Davis told aldermen they would not be representing people of the city properly if the property is sold. "You shouldn't value something worth $750,000 at $7,500," she said. The lakeshore is the city's particular pride, she said, and a delight to residents and visitors alike.

W. G. FRANZEN, a St. Mary's College instructor, said such development is inconsistent with the city's Master Plan, adopted in 1959. The plan's sections on land use specifically recommend location of motels and other enterprises in specially reserved areas, he said. It also would be counter to the central idea of the Great River Road, Franzen said, for which congressional appropriations now are asked to preserve natural scenic features.

Ald. James Stoltman, observing he was a lifelong resident of the city, said the council has many aspects to consider, not the least of which is that of raising necessary revenues through taxes. Industry had located on the banks of the Mississippi River, he said, without ruining its recreational value. He described the city's need for new business and payrolls as more important than preservation of "this piece of swamp land."

Miss Davis replied "It's sacrilege to spoil the lake. How far out into the lake will this extend?"

STREATER, who said he did not expect discussion of this issue, nevertheless rose in rebuttal.

The 150-day option to purchase is the only way in which all the facts can be presented to proper city authorities, he said. It also provides the best basis for discussion, he continued, because only when it is granted will detailed plans be worked out by developers. When this is done, Streater said, all parties will have the answers to questions of cost, utilities, size of construction and access. These will furnish the basis for informed discussion in legally required public hearings, he said.

Streater reminded listeners that the Park-Recreation Board had studied the question and agreed to the transfer. Nor is it a question of relinquishing scarce park facilities, he said, because the city has literally hundreds of acres of both swamp land and high ground, all protected by deeds from commercial use.

"I REPRESENT the commercialists," he said, "and I'm proud to do so." He commented ironically on what he called the city's "astounding growth—from 20,000 in 1940 to 24,980, 20 years later. We can't all sit back and say 'leave everything as it is and people will come.' That's baloney."

Older Albert H. Quie, to whom Prairie Island residents appealed, had suggested moving the proposed dike landward. The affected section would be about 1,200 feet long.

Baird pointed out that new permanent easement lines would not now reach the ends of short driveway ramps the Engineers will build to each residential lot. The ramps, with 10 percent inclines, would connect properties with the road atop the new dike.

Also specified in the construction plan is the application of four inches of topsoil to both sides of the dike, which will be completely seeded with grass.

It Happened Last Night

Lawford Helps In Easing Grief

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I hope when this reaches print that the indescribable melancholia that settled over Broadway in the days after the funeral of John F. Kennedy will have begun to lift.

The late President liked a story, attributed to Abraham Lincoln, which seems to apply to the present situation.

A country traveler, so the story went, was attacked by a wild, ferocious boar.

Picking up a pitchfork, the traveler killed the boar. Whereupon the farmer threatened to sue the traveler, and demanded, "Why didn't you go after him with the blunt end of your fork?"

The traveler retorted: "Why didn't he come after me with his blunt end?"

Maybe we need some front-end-of-the-fork technique in recovering from our mental depression.

And when Peter Lawford returned to work on a night club stage at Harrah's, at Lake Tahoe, Nev., the second night after the funeral, he may have taken the lead in helping Show Business pull out of its despondency.

He wasn't hoping to attract any notice — he would have preferred not to discuss it — but he felt he owed it to his partner, Jimmy Durante, to return to the act. And he felt it might take his mind off his and his family's grief.

AT THE same time, however,

Milton Berle canceled plans to go to London for the European premiere of "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World."

"I'm afraid I don't feel much like being funny just now," said Berle, a close friend of Lawford's. Berle and his wife Ruth were ardent Kennedy workers in Hollywood.

"It's not concerned at all with the show-must-go-on tradition," Peter Lawford said when I reached him at Lake Tahoe soon after his arrival there from the White House.

"I talked it over with Pat," he referred to his wife, sister of the late President — "and I have a feeling that Jack would have done it the same way."

Lawford had already been absent from the Durante act for four nights.

"I felt I had an obligation to Jimmy," he said. "Although I'd like to emphasize that neither he nor the club urged me to hasten back."

SOME Broadwayites believed that since Lawford was a close friend of the President — closer than to any member of the Kennedy family except his wife — his resumption of normal activity might rouse others from the worst melancholia that's remembered here.

Berle's attitude was a sample. "Doing all those London premiere things don't seem so important to him now," his wife said.

The chin-up spirit of Jackie Kennedy won praise everywhere. Gen. "Rosie" O'Donnell told Toots Shor, "Jackie Kennedy should be chosen the Man of the Year."

TODAY'S WORST PUN: Rodger G. Nordell has come up with a new invention, a sieve without holes. It's for housewives who don't want to strain themselves.

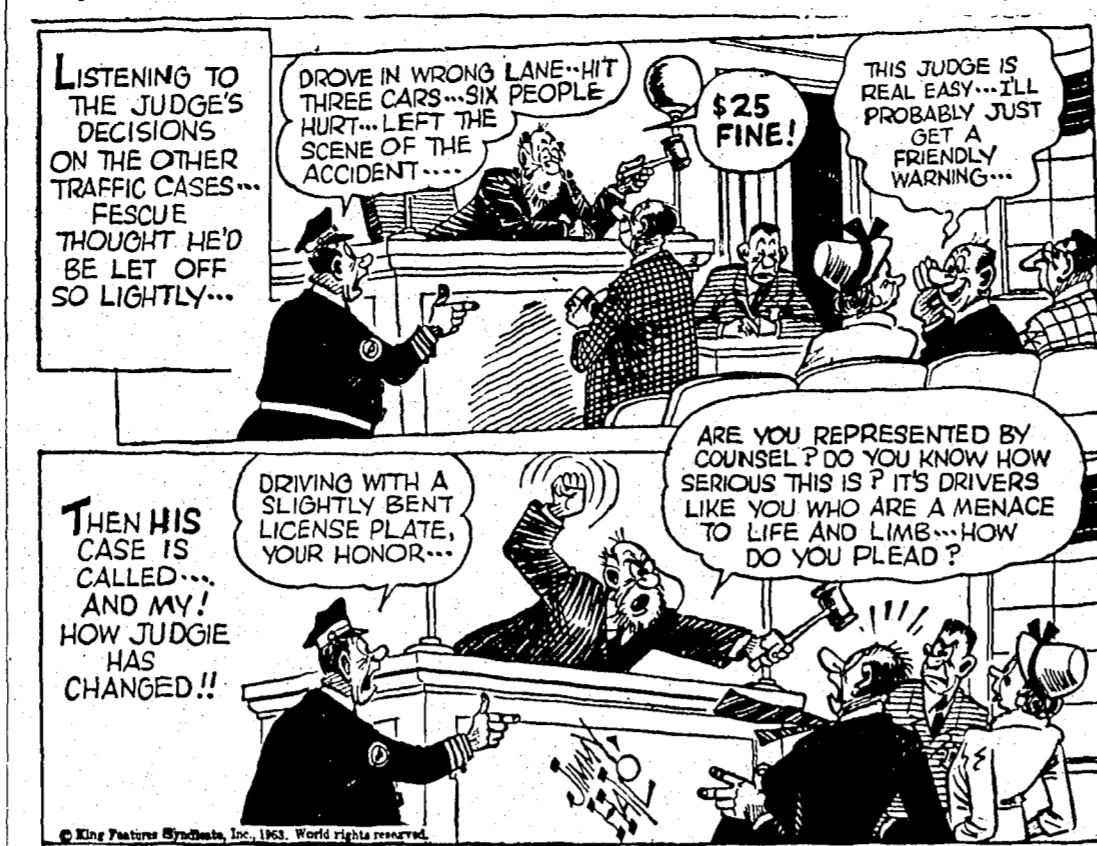

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Rip Taylor described a famous comic: "He can't ad lib — he couldn't even have an argument with his wife without a Teleprompter."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Why is there seldom time to do a job right, but always enough time to do it over?" —Ernest L. Henes, Wellington (Ohio) Enterprise.

EARL'S PEARLS: Once you get a mouthful of very hot coffee, whatever you do next is going to be wrong. —Wilfred E. Beaver.

Sen. Maurine Neuberger's new book discusses the dangers of cigarette smoking (reports Les Carpenter). She got one letter saying, "Your book made me so nervous I'm smoking twice as much." That's earl, brother.

Successful Coon Hunter
Fifty-five raccoons, even in an excellent coon year like it was this fall, is pretty fair hunting and proof that the hunter has a pretty fair pair of hands.

Blue Tick and Redbone, shown with Don Lakey, Trempealeau, Wis., are exactly that.

Don, who hunts mainly in the Black River bottomlands and those of the lower Trempealeau, has had his dogs tree as many as nine on one night. Some of the larger ones are displayed in the photo by Lee Dahlgren, Galesville.

Coon hunting has been good most of the fall. Several hunting groups in the Elba area bagged in excess of 100 animals. Winona hunters have done equally as well. Coon feeds have been common over the area.

Ice Fishing
With Lake Winona white today, and most of the sloughs and backwaters covered with at least a thin coating of ice, the vast array of river fishermen are giving thoughts to the coming ice fishing season. The season in Minnesota and the Mississippi River zone (between the tracks) remains open to all fishing until mid-February. The river zone remains open until March 1. Wisconsin inland waters close Feb. 15.

In both states and the river zone, of course, there is no closed season on the more popular winter fish — crappies, sunfish, white bass, bluegills and all rough fish. There is a 25-day limit in the river zone. There is a 15-crappies-a-day limit on Minnesota inland waters which includes Lake Winona. But a fisherman can take 30 sunfish, five more than in the river zone. There is no creel limit for panfish taken from Wisconsin inland waters.

Minnesota has increased its fish house license from $1 to $2, effective this season. If the license is for a fish house that is rented, the fee is $3. Renting houses is big business in the resort areas of Minnesota, especially large lakes within easy driving distance of the Twin Cities.

Locally there are few if any rental houses available even on Lake Pepin. In fact, the use of fishing shacks has been on the decline on Lake Pepin the last couple of years. The colonies, however, at backwaters at Merrick State Park, Spring Lake and Straight Slough continue to be about the same size each winter.

A few of the portable shelters like those made by the Harmony Industries, made an appearance on the ice last winter and will probably increase in popularity. They weigh around 15 pounds, are easy to carry and can be set up quickly. The advantage of the shelter is a windbreak that can be moved to where the fish may be hitting. Some use a portable light to heat the shelter. It is put under a fish box. A few carry chairs, but that is deluxe.

2 Boys, 7, Hitch Ride On Airplane
BOSTON (AP) — Two 7-year-old boys used two subway tokens and a lot of nerve to get a round trip flight to New York. Back in Boston, Billy Alther and Steve Murray told authorities they rode the subway from their homes to Logan Airport Monday night, then nonchalantly strolled with other passengers aboard an Eastern Air Lines plane.

The shuttle plane was airborne before a stewardess selling tickets came to the boys and discovered they were alone and broke.

New York police put the boys on the first Eastern flight back to Boston.

Supreme Court Upholds State School Closings

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Virginia Supreme Court said Monday Prince Edward County had the right to close its public schools to avoid racial integration.

In a 6-1 decision, the majority said the Virginia constitution gives its localities the option of operating or not operating public schools.

The dissenting judge was Chief Justice John Eggleston, who held that the State Legislature was obliged to provide public education in the county which abandoned it four years ago.

The final adjudication in the long-fought school case hinged in part on the action of the Virginia high court. The case is already before the U.S. Supreme Court on its latest trip and Eggleston's dissent offered this forecast:

"The refusal of the highest court of this state to recognize here the rights of the citizens of Prince Edward County guaranteed to them under the Constitution of the United States is a clear invitation to the federal courts to step in and enforce such rights. I am sure that invitation will be promptly accepted. We shall see."

Prince Edward abandoned its public school system in 1959 in the face of court-ordered integration. It took the move by refusing to appropriate local matching school funds.

House Votes Secretarial Help For Mrs. Kennedy
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed Monday a bill to provide temporary secretarial help and Secret Service protection for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

The bill, sent by voice vote to the Senate, also would authorize payment of expenses of President Kennedy's funeral and would grant his widow free mailing privileges for life.

The bill would provide office space and secretarial help for six months, with total salaries limited to $50,000.

The Secret Service protection for Mrs. Kennedy and her children would be authorized for a year with no fewer than two agents assigned.

House Votes Secretarial Help For Mrs. Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed Monday a bill to provide temporary secretarial help and Secret Service protection for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

The bill, sent by voice vote to the Senate, also would authorize payment of expenses of President Kennedy's funeral and would grant his widow free mailing privileges for life.

The bill would provide office space and secretarial help for six months, with total salaries limited to $50,000.

The Secret Service protection for Mrs. Kennedy and her children would be authorized for a year with no fewer than two agents assigned.

Former Envoy to Ireland Dead in Fall
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Grant Stockdale, former U.S. ambassador to Ireland and a close personal friend of the late President Kennedy, dropped to his death Monday from the 13th floor of the Du Pont Building in mid-town Miami.

The body of the 48-year-old Miami real estate executive landed on a fifth floor ledge.

Police called it an "apparent suicide." Stockdale's office is on the 13th floor.

More Counseling Needed: Nelson

Expansion of the Senior High School guidance department is one of the more critical needs facing the Winona public school system today, Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told members of the Board of Education Monday night.

There are now two counselors serving more than 1,000 students at the high school. Nelson said, and the staff is not adequate to serve all of the guidance and counseling needs of the student body.

"THE enrollment at Senior High has grown from 750 to more than 1,000 since we made any additions to our guidance staff," Nelson noted. "The ratio of counselors to students ideally should be one to 250. At

Houston County Forestry Tours Set for Friday

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Two farm forestry tours will be conducted Friday in Houston County. Joe Hudspeth, state forester, said.

The tours will be headed by Hudspeth and Harlie Larson, soils extension agent.

The morning tour will start at 10 a.m. on the Rachel Heublein tract in section 4 of Money Creek Township. The afternoon tour will be at the Lawrence Gras farm in Brownsville Township.

Hudspeth says the tours in the woods are designed to make the farmer more aware of his woodland as a resource and asset. Persons interested in the tours should meet at the tour sites.

Hokah Motorcyclist Hurt at La Crosse

LA CROSSE, Wis. — A Hokah youth was injured here Saturday.

Conrad Tschumper, 20, injured his eye, nose and leg when his motorcycle and a car driven by John Vick, 66, La Crosse, collided at 5:20 p.m. at 20th Street and Ward Avenue. Tschumper was taken by police ambulance to St. Francis Hospital. He was charged with driving without a license.

2nd Stenography Course to Begin At Area School

The second course in stenography to be offered in the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School under provisions of the federal Manpower Development & Training Act will begin next Monday, members of the Board of Education were informed Monday night.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told directors that the class will meet at a room provided in Central Elementary School so as not to interfere with the regular program of business education at Senior High School.

THE FIRST MDT course in stenography ended last September with the graduation of 15 students. The program is organized in conjunction with the Winona office of the state Employment Service which screens applicants and selects students for the training program.

Because the class will have its own equipment at Central daytime hours can be arranged. MDT classes at Senior High have to be arranged at hours when classrooms and equipment are not being used by students enrolled in the regular day school program.

Tom Raine, director of vocational education, has tentatively arranged a schedule calling for the Central stenography students to meet for six hours a day beginning at 9 a.m. The course will run for 32 weeks.

Nelson told directors that furniture and office machines to be used in the new course have been purchased and will be paid for under the MDT program. When the course is completed, the federally financed equipment will be retained as property of the school system.

RAY H. BROWN, manager of the Winona office of the Employment Service, said today that final enrollment data will be available later this week.

He said that all 15 graduates of the first course have been placed in jobs.

Nelson reported, too, that all of the students graduated earlier this year in the area vocational school's course in practical nursing have passed the State Board examinations and are fully qualified practical nurses.

County Closes Its TB Fund

A county fund which is no longer in existence finally was wiped from the books Monday by the Winona County Board of Commissioners.

The commissioners authorized transfer of $126.30 from the TB sanitarium fund to the county revenue fund.

The TB sanitarium fund has not existed as a separate entity for some time, and its function was included in the welfare fund. The money in it, however, was from delinquent taxes, and had accumulated over a number of years.

The time for renewal of the county's workmen's compensation insurance is at hand, so the commissioners have been hearing proposals from insurance agents.

Even Santa Has Rules To Follow

LOS ANGELES (AP)—They tell us this is the age of regimentation. And bless us, even Santa Claus has to follow rules these days.

Some of Santa's rules, of course, are self-imposed — such as: don't make scary faces at the kiddies.

But there are others. Lt. Col. Paul H. Nolte of the Volunteers of America spelled them out Friday in graduation exercises for 25 sidewalk Santa Clauses who'll ring bells for donations to make Christmas merrier for the less fortunate.

Among the rules were: Don't smoke on duty. (You might go up in flames if your beard ignites.)

Don't lean on your chimney. (You might fall in head-first.)

Don't make promises. (Who do you think you are, a millionaire?)

Keep a clean breath—avoid garlic and onions. (Ever hear of a Santa with halitosis?)

Ring your bells but don't be a nuisance. (Jingle 'em mer-

64 Pontiac

Here's why you'll like it

Here's why you'll tell other people you like it.

Some people think it's a bit frivolous to like a car just because it looks so nice. So what you'll have to do is hone up a little on all the other things that make a Pontiac a Pontiac.

Wide-Track, for instance. Wide-Track is what does away with tilting your way around turns. Pontiac's smoother, quieter ride is another thing you might point out.

Be careful, though. One ride in this car and everybody's going to think you're made of money. You can solve that problem by telling what you paid. Or you might just say, "You'd sure think this car cost a lot, wouldn't you?"

Or you could take everybody's mind off it entirely by giving your Pontiac some throttle. A big 389-cubic-inch Trophy V-8 is standard in each and every Pontiac. And you get to choose from 34 engine/transmission teams. (Happy choosing.)

Now then—on to more of the things that make the '64 Pontiac so thoroughly likeable. Frankly, we couldn't think of anything radical to do with this car. Oh, we made the styling even more stylish, as you can plainly see. We lavished even more care on the interiors. We even improved the light bulbs. But as for more vital things, why change? Improve, refine, sharpen—yes. Change—no. And you can tell that to your friends.

Really, though, you can buy a Pontiac solely because you like its looks. We don't think you'll find many people who'll ask you for more practical reasons.

What they'll be asking for is a ride—and the name of the man you bought your '64 Pontiac from.

President Always In Constant Danger

THE DEADLY HAZARD of his office forms part of the constant background of the President of the United States, who as a matter of routine is accompanied by secret service guards wherever he goes. Thousands of uneventful exposures in crowded public places may dull general awareness of the danger, but the record of violent attempts on the life of the country's chief executive is a substantial one.

On Nov. 1, 1950, Griselio Torresola and Oscar Collazo, Puerto Rican terrorists, tried unsuccessfully to shoot their way into Blair House, where President Truman was living while the White House underwent renovation. In Miami, shortly before his inauguration in 1933, President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt was fired on by Giuseppe Zangara; the assassin's bullet missed and killed Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago instead.

In Milwaukee, on Oct. 14, 1912, an attempt was made on the life of former President and current Bull Moose nominee Theodore Roosevelt, as he was entering a car to go to the site of a public address. His resolution and his wound were such that he gave his address as scheduled, and received medical attention only an hour and a half after he was shot.

UNTIL THE TRAGIC event in Dallas, however, no President has been killed while in office since William McKinley died Sept. 14, 1901, more than a week after Leon Czolgosz fired on him at a public reception at Buffalo. Hopes had been high for his recovery from the abdominal wound when President McKinley suffered a relapse.

Twenty years before, President James A. Garfield succumbed on Sept. 19, 1881, to a bullet wound inflicted July 2 by Charles J. Guiteau at the Washington railroad station, as the President was about to leave to attend a Williams College commencement.

First in the sad record of presidential assassinations, of course, was John Wilkes Booth's shooting of Abraham Lincoln in the Ford theater in Washington, April 14, 1865. President Lincoln fell unconscious, but lingered until the next morning.

OF ALL PRESIDENTIAL victims, only the youngest President in history died almost immediately after the fatal shot was fired.

Now 62 years, 2 months, and 19 days after President McKinley died, the ever present possibility has again become an actuality. Whoever he is, wherever he is, the President of the United States lives with danger. All too often, he has died because of the attraction his high office has for insane violence. That the highest office within the gift of the American people should carry with it deadly peril is a grievous shame and sorrow.

Senator Humphrey For Vice President?

IF HE WERE a resident of New York or Illinois, or possibly even California, Hubert H. Humphrey probably would stand a good chance of being the only man mentioned for the Democratic vice presidential nomination in 1964. The senator from Minnesota appears at this time to have all the qualifications except that of residence. He comes from a state that is not growing as rapidly as the rest of the country and has a relatively small number of electoral votes.

Humphrey's personal qualifications complement those of President Johnson rather well. He is generally associated with the liberal wing of the party, whereas Johnson has a reputation as a conservative. Humphrey is from the north, Johnson from the south. Humphrey is a strong exponent of civil rights, which ought to remove any doubt, if indeed it exists, that the administration wouldn't push hard for racial equality. Humphrey has experience in foreign policy which would serve the administration well. He is a dynamic personality who has great influence among his fellow senators.

WHETHER HIS being from Minnesota will prove to be a handicap that the President considers of a serious nature is a question which remains to be answered. Except for that, he appears to have all of the requisites the Democratic vice presidential choice in 1964 will need. Moreover, as far as Minnesota is concerned, he will not be up for re-election to the Senate next year. This fact along with the four-year governor term which will keep DFL governor Karl Rolvaag in office through 1966, will cause that party in this state no worries as to whether it might lose the senior senator's seat in 1964. WASHINGTON CALLING

Johnson Faces Great Challenge

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — If President Johnson faces a challenge almost unparalleled in scope he also has an opportunity such as few men in our history have been given.

That opportunity is to convert the shock, horror and humiliation of the events of the past few days into a swift, constructive forward movement. The nation in a state of shame and shock over this unspeakable blow is surely ready to accept a powerful initiative.

The stagnant, foot-dragging Congress has been an expression of the frustration and bafflement in the country. It has seemed impossible to bring about any resolution of the deep and embittering divisions. President Kennedy had become reconciled, outwardly at least, to postponing the key pieces of his legislative program — the tax cut and the civil rights bill. This is all that remained of a bold and comprehensive series of proposals the youngest President ever to serve in the office had advanced, beginning with his first State of the Union message.

At the last press conference he held Kennedy spoke of an "18-month delivery" for the two pieces of legislation which were imperative before the start of the presidential campaign. But there was no assurance in view of the sit-down strike of Southern committee chairmen and the certainty of a filibuster conducted with all the resourcefulness of such an implacable enemy as Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia that action could come by March or April.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON in his years as majority leader was a master of the legislative process. The protégé and close ally of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, he knew as well as anyone in this century how Congress worked and how and why it failed to work. While his methods were sometimes rough and he often left bruised feelings in his wake, he got results.

That is his great advantage at a critical moment in the nation's history. Already there is talk in Congress that since the two major pieces of legislation are stalled in committee it might be well to get on with neglected house-keeping such as the long-delayed appropriation bills for most of the government departments and then go home. Before Kennedy's assassination Congress had been scheduled to stay until Dec. 20 and break up for Christmas recess. The logic of the situation may dictate an interval in which the new President pulls together the many tangled threads of the incredibly difficult task he has inherited. But the danger is that such an interval will efface the memory of what the country has just been through. The partisan passions, for the moment stilled, will revive and the same fractious pieces frozen into the old immobility.

THIS IMMOBILITY was in part concealed from the world by the vigor, the outward confidence, the high style and good humor of the late President. Those aware in other capitals, however, of the heavy responsibility America carries have long been disturbed and uneasy at the prospect of an unresolved dilemma carried into a presidential campaign stretching out for a full year.

Absorbed as we are in our own concerns, our own political entanglements, it is hard for most Americans to realize how closely everything that happens here is followed and analyzed. The shock of the President's assassination, climaxed by the fantastic lawlessness of the murder in the police station of the accused assassin, has been very great. Twenty-four hours after Kennedy's death was flashed to the world this reporter spent an hour and a half in a telephone link with London, Paris and Hamburg, Germany, discussing the late President and the new President with informed observers in each country, both journalists and high-ranking political figures.

THE QUESTIONS to the American participant came thick and fast. Who is this man Lyndon Johnson? Will he alter the foreign policy of President Kennedy? Is this a crushing blow to American liberalism? Will the fact that the accused assassin was a Marxist touch off a new and more virulent extremism of the right wing? A new and more dangerous test in Soviet-American relations?

Lobbies Killed Bill Which Might Have Saved JFK

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — If hate groups had not pressured Congress against passage of an arms registration act, President Kennedy might still be alive today.

Early in 1962, Rep. Victor Anusko, the Brooklyn Democrat, introduced a bill requiring private individuals to register firearms with the FBI. Anusko's bill was aimed at preventing juvenile delinquency, combating the increasing crime wave in big cities, and at the "Minutemen." The Minutemen are self-appointed volunteers or "grassroots guerrillas," chiefly located in California, who claimed at one time that the United States was in grave danger of invasion by Chinese troops from Mexico. They also claimed that 800 of their members in Los Angeles have their own machine-guns and that each has a rifle with 100 rounds of ammunition.

Pearson

So when Anusko introduced his arms registration bill there was a storm of criticism from the right wing and a flood of letters to Congress. It's significant that part of the opposition came from Dallas where Dan Smoot, the former booster of the late Sen. Joe McCarthy, conducts a rightwing radio program and sends a newsletter to gullible readers.

Another opponent was Merwin K. Hart, president of the so-called "National Economic Council" and once described by Justice Robert Jackson as well known for his pro-Fascist leanings. Rep. Frank Buchanan, D-Pa., when investigating lobbying found that the DuPonts had poured money into Hart's hate lobby.

In a "council letter" dated April 1, Hart ranted:

"Any senator or congressman who votes for the Anusko bill knowing its real purpose would disqualify himself from ever again expecting to be called an American."

WHAT MOTIVE, ulterior or otherwise, the pro-Fascists had in opposing the registering of firearms with the FBI is not known. At any rate, the pressure on Congress was so great that the Anusko bill did not pass.

Johnson Wins Wide Support

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — It was not just the eloquent words but the firm resolve and spirit of dedication manifested by President Johnson which enabled the American people and the peoples of the world to derive from his first address to Congress a feeling of continuity in the high purposes of our national and international policies.

The frequent applause that came spontaneously from all sides was an answer to those persons who had worried about the impact of change itself. Confidence comes now because the new president interprets so accurately the basic desires of the American people.

Mr. Johnson reflected a universal view when he said that "we must be ready to defend the national interest and to negotiate the common interest." Reiteration of America's objectives in supporting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Alliance for Progress was not unexpected. Nor was it surprising that the new President said: "This nation will keep its commitments from South Vietnam to West Berlin."

They had arisen abroad in the last few days a fear that a change of policy might be in the offing. This can only be attributed to a lack of knowledge of how deeply Americans, irrespective of party, feel about the need for resolution and firmness, yet open-mindedness toward those who differ with us in international policy.

With respect to the highly controversial domestic issues, Mr. Johnson said "The ideas and the ideals which he (President Kennedy) so nobly represented must and will be translated into effective action." These of course are broad principles and necessarily will have to be defined by Congress in the coming weeks and months. While urging the passage of the tax bill and the "civil rights" bill, the President realizes that Congress must find ways to secure agreement on many points of dispute in trying to achieve the basic goals of these measures.

THIS MEANS that a spirit of compromise will doubtless develop. Mr. Johnson pointed the way to it as he said:

"As one who has long served in both houses of the Congress, I firmly believe in the independence and the integrity of the legislative branch. And I promise you that I shall always respect this. It is deep in the marrow of my bones. With equal firmness, I believe in the ability of the Congress, despite the divisions of opinions which characterize our nation, to act — to act wisely, to act vigorously, to act speedily when the need arises."

There will be much discussion about the implicit phrases of Mr. Johnson's address, for they were indeed significant. He spoke of the need for "tolerance and mutual understanding." The following paragraph especially will long be quoted:

"THE TIME has come for Americans of all races and creeds and political beliefs to understand and to respect one another. So let us put an end to the teaching and the preaching of hate and evil and violence. Let us turn away from the fanatics of the far left and the far right, from the apostles of bitterness and bigotry, from those defiant of law, and those who pour venom into our nation's bloodstream."

This is but another way of saying that in America the voice of reason can be triumphant over violence and that debate and discussion — and even vehement expressions of opinion — can be phrased to reflect the sincere beliefs of conscientious citizens. But, even in saying this, there is need for self-restraint among those who have become impatient with the slow moving processes of the law and threaten arbitrary steps to force action.

Secretary Thanks All Who Helped

To the Editor:

In behalf of the Winona Central Labor Union I would like to thank all who helped to make the "Winona Union Man of the Year Banquet" such a huge success. I would like especially to thank the Winona Daily News, KWNQ and KAGE for the fine coverage given this event and also Senator Laufenburger for the new 50 star flag and the flag of the state of Minnesota, which he presented to the Winona Central Labor Union.

Thanks to all of you.

passionate mood, he made no reference to the motives of the assassin who took Mr. Kennedy's life. But nobody can logically infer that the mentally unbalanced or deranged individuals who were inflamed by some personal grievance to seek vengeance and assassinate four of our presidents could be in any way considered typical of the manhood of this or of any other country.

Our nation was waiting for words from the new President which would bring confidence and quiet the emotions arising out of our controversies in domestic and foreign issues. Mr. Johnson met the test. He gave the country and the world assurance that the government of the United States continues to reflect the ideals and high purposes of the American people unmarred by the tragedies of the past few days.

From That Awful Day in Dallas To After Funeral in Washington

(In the following story, Frances Lewine, AP reporter who covered the activities of Mrs. John F. Kennedy during her White House years, including a trip around the world, recreates in step-by-step detail the former First Lady's ordeal, from the start of the day on which the 35th President was assassinated in Dallas, through the funeral services in Washington.)

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — She chose a gay pink suit that day and was late getting started. Her husband explained her absence to several thousand cheering Texans.

"Mrs. Kennedy is busy organizing herself," he confided in an 8:45 a.m. (CST), politicking appearance. "It takes a little longer, you know, but then she looks so much better than we do."

There was the inevitable bouquet of red roses as President and Mrs. Kennedy arrived in Dallas, Tex., that fair Friday of Nov. 22. The red clashed with the pink of her wool suit and pillbox hat.

They stepped into the big dark blue convertible they had shared on so many state occasions and the winding 11-mile motorcade began.

The crowds stood 10 to 12 deep on sidewalks and cheered them. They sat there smiling—President Kennedy, Gov. John Connally of Texas and their wives—saying what a fine welcome the Kennedys had been given after all.

Mrs. Kennedy, just resuming official activities after the death of her infant son three months ago, had not been on a speech-making tour since 1960. It was her first visit to Texas. She shook hands freely in the crowds, won cheers with a 73-word speech in Spanish, and admitted she was enjoying campaigning.

They had expected trouble in Republican Dallas, a center of political conservatism, but their reception was being described as "magnificent."

"Mr. President, they can't make you believe now that there are not some in Dallas who love and appreciate you," said Gov. Connally's wife, Nellie.

"You should know, you sure can't," said the President as the big car, taking them to luncheon at the trade mart, approached the six-story Texas School Depository building at 12:30 p.m.

Suddenly, there were those three sharp cracks that sounded more like fireworks.

Mrs. Kennedy cried out "Oh, no!" as her husband fell back, face down on the back seat, blood spurting from wounds in his head and neck.

She tried to lift him and cradle his head in her lap. "Oh, my God! They've killed my husband," she cried.

"Jack, Jack," she called the name of the handsome, 46-year-old man who had been smiling beside her moments before. But John F. Kennedy, the man she had married 10 years ago, never regained consciousness.

The Secret Service man, who had been with her for three years, came leaping over the back of the car to throw himself spread-eagled over them. Mrs. Kennedy reached a hand to help him.

The four in the car feared they might all be shot. As a bullet slammed into his back, Connally shouted:

"My God, they're going to kill us all."

"Get this car out of here," snapped an agent. And, the limousine made a breakneck dash for Parkland Hospital.

Mrs. Kennedy cradled her husband's head and wept. When she walked with his stretcher to the hospital emergency room, the blood stained her pink suit and soaked one stocking. The red roses lay crushed on the floor of the car.

As she waited outside the emergency room while doctors made their futile efforts, Mrs. Kennedy seemed to know her husband was dying.

She was dazed and shocked. A priest administered last rites. Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, friends and associates hovered about.

A medical student later described Mrs. Kennedy:

"The look in her eyes was like an animal that had been trapped, like a little rabbit—brave, but fear was in her eyes."

But in her grief, Mrs. Kennedy remembered others. She thanked the priest who administered last rites. "Pray for him (Kennedy)," she begged.

Her voice was clear and audible as she said responses to prayers with others. There were no hysterics.

Kennedy was declared dead at 1 p.m. The chief neurosurgeon, Dr. Kemp Clark, gently told Mrs. Kennedy the news she had guessed.

"She, like everyone else around there had a paralyzed look. We just couldn't believe this could happen," the priest said.

The events of that day and the ordeal that followed for Mrs. Kennedy were like a Greek tragedy.

There was hardly time to think. And there was to be no privacy for this widow. She had lost an infant son three months ago and now her husband, just at a time when the family was preparing to observe the birthdays of their two children, Caroline, now 6, and John Jr., 3, and to spend a happy Thanksgiving with the Kennedy family at Cape Cod.

In the 75 hours from Kennedy's death until his coffin was lowered into a grave at Arlington National Cemetery Monday, Nov. 25, Mrs. Kennedy was spared little.

The death and funeral of John Fitzgerald Kennedy and his widow's grief were a public display.

The world knew of the private and touching moment at the hospital when Mrs. Kennedy had tearfully kissed her husband's lifeless lips and put her wedding ring on his finger. Then the bronze coffin was closed, never to be opened again in public.

Mrs. Kennedy had started to show the determination to carry on in her husband's tradition of personal courage.

In contrast to the many happy occasions, it was an eerie sight at Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland, where a great outpouring of reporters, cameramen and officials had gathered in the floodlighted 6 p.m. darkness.

The Kennedys had walked gaily aboard the Air Force One jet two days before. Mrs. Kennedy had turned to wave to son John, who took the helicopter ride from the White House to see them off.

Now a great, ungainly yellow cargo lift lowered Kennedy's casket, with Mrs. Kennedy standing beside it, holding tightly to the hand of her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Her face showed her anguish, but she retained composure.

A grey Navy ambulance waited. With so many there to help her, Mrs. Kennedy somehow reached out to open the ambulance door herself.

They went to Bethesda Naval Hospital. For almost 10 hours Mrs. Kennedy waited there while doctors performed an autopsy and the President's body was prepared for burial.

Mrs. Kennedy stayed there because she did not want to leave the body, aides said. She took no sedatives.

With courage rarely seen, she began almost at once to plan the funeral. She wanted it to be "as distinguished a tribute as possible," the White House said.

She approved the burial in a site among Arlington National Cemetery's 126,000 dead. She requested an eternal flame in his memory, she started discussing plans for a monument.

Mrs. Kennedy chose to pattern Kennedy's funeral after that of Abraham Lincoln, similarly martyred almost 100 years ago.

At 4:25 a.m.—16 hours after he was shot—Mrs. Kennedy brought her husband home to the White House. Mrs. Kennedy would not change her clothes and the bloodstained badge was there as she followed the casket into the White House.

Once home, Mrs. Kennedy had to face her children, and make plans for a future home she quickly decided would be in Washington.

The next day, Mrs. Kennedy took her children to pray at the casket in the East room. Then more than 4,000 friends, officials, congressmen, diplomats, staff members and newsmen came to pay respects in a day-long downpour of rain that seemed to symbolize the tragedy.

Mrs. Kennedy stayed in seclusion and the new President left the White House to the grieving Kennedys.

In the next two days, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, 34, a former debutante and product of elegant schools, became a dramatic figure.

A London newspaper said she gave the American people "the one thing they always lacked—majesty."

While the greats of the world—kings, queens, princes, presidents, premiers—looked on, and nationwide television focused on her every heart-rending moment, Mrs. Kennedy spared herself nothing.

The funeral of John F. Kennedy came on Monday, Nov. 25—three endless days after his assassination and on the third birthday of John Jr. The rites lasted five hours and Mrs. Kennedy stood unflinching through most of the long pageantry. But twice tears filled her eyes.

Twelve hundred persons had been invited to St. Matthews Cathedral, including Kennedy's distant Irish cousin, Mary Ann Ryan, who had entertained the President at his ancestral home in County Wexford in June.

This time with a long black veil shielding her face, Mrs. Kennedy led the eight-block march from the White House to the church with world leaders following her and the caisson.

Richard Cardinal Cushing, who had married the Kennedys, baptized their children and said the funeral mass for infant Patrick, officiated at Kennedy's funeral.

Tears came when Mrs. Kennedy had to wait halfway down the cathedral aisle while the body was placed on the caisson for the last ride to Arlington.

Six-year-old Caroline wept, too. John Jr., hardly able to grasp the significance of it all, saluted as the coffin left the cathedral.

At Arlington, after the Taps sounded and she had lighted the eternal flame, Mrs. Kennedy suddenly turned to Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chief of the joint chiefs of staff, embraced him and pressed her veiled cheek against his, her eyes filling.

But she walked firmly out of the cemetery, clutching the flag which had covered the coffin.

Five times, Mrs. Kennedy returned to the grave in the next three days, once late at night. She took Caroline once.

She urged President Johnson to rename Cape Canaveral to Cape Kennedy in memory of her late husband's interest in space exploration—and it was done.

Then, she left for seclusion and a Thanksgiving reunion with the Kennedy family at Cape Cod.

Many memorials have been suggested the world over for Kennedy. But what could match the one his wife gave him?

Setoff OKed For Ridgeway

After a public hearing Monday, the Winona County Board of Commissioners approved a school district setoff that removes an obstacle to a proposed consolidation in the area.

The board approved a setoff of a 160-acre parcel of land from Common School District 2555 to CSD 2614. Its action came after a petition for the setoff had been submitted by Rudy H. Sebo and eight other heirs owning the unoccupied land.

County Board

A plat for the Ridgeway area consolidation of eight districts had been rejected by the state commissioner of education in October because all land included in the merger was not contiguous, as state law requires.

THE STUMBLING block was the 160-acre tract affected by yesterday's setoff. It is situated at the end of a valley, and is an island of CSD 2555 surrounded by CSD 2614. CSD 2555 is not included in the consolidation proposal, but CSD 2614 is.

During the public hearing, three members of the CSD 2555 school board appeared in opposition to the setoff, contending that removal of the tract from their district would cause a loss of tax revenue, thus making taxes on the rest of the district's land higher.

Taxes on the 160-acre parcel, which has an assessed valuation of $1,060, are $96 a year.

The three board members—Robert Pittelko, George Koenig and Adolph Mueller—also said that removal of the tract would leave only one farm in the valley within their district. This, they said, would mean that school buses would have to make a special trip into the valley for the school children in one family.

APPEARING FOR the setoff were Donald Buege, member of the CSD 2614 school board, and Jesse Jesus. Winona County superintendent of schools. They explained that unless the setoff were granted, CSD 2614 could not be included in the consolidation proposal.

The board's action Monday means that a new plat for the area to be included in the consolidation can be drawn up and re-submitted to the state commissioner of education.

If he approves it, petitions calling for a special election will be circulated among the resident freeholders of each of the eight districts included in the merger. These petitions must be signed by at least 25 resident freeholders in each district.

If the required number of signatures is obtained, elections on the proposal will be held, and—if a majority favors the merger—the consolidation will go through.

Hart-Rushford Pastor Honored On Anniversary

RUSHFORD, Minn. — The Rev. Edwin A. Friedrich, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Hart, and St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Rushford, was honored at St. John's Sunday on the 25th anniversary of his ordination into the ministry and on his 10th anniversary of serving the two churches.

The services were preceded by a joint dinner and a social hour. The observance was planned by Melvin Brand, Wilton Heiden, Wilton Bunkke and Martin Boehmke of Hart and Harry Dubbs and Henry Tveien of Rushford. Rev. Friedrich and former members of both congregations attended, as well as members of a former congregation and family.

PASTOR Friedrich was ordained into the ministry Dec. 11, 1938, at Doniphan, Neb., a year after his graduation from Concordia Seminary at St. Louis. Before his ordination he taught parochial school one year at Atwater, Minn., and during his vicar year at Watertown, Minn.

A native of Glencoe, Minn., he attended Concordia College at St. Paul. Pastor Friedrich is married to the former Ellet Meyer of Merrill, Iowa. They have seven children — Gustav at the University of Minnesota; Miriam, teaching at Columbus, Neb.; Margaret and Mary, at Concordia, and Muriel, Marilyn and Martha, at Hart.

Other congregations Rev. Friedrich served were Wood River, with Doniphan, and Pleasant Dale, Neb., and Fergus Falls (Fiberg), and Brewster, Minn.

The Rev. Armin Deye, St. Martin's Church, Winona, was master of ceremonies at the program at which the Rev. Carl Friedrich of Westington Springs, S.D., twin brother of Pastor Friedrich, spoke.

THE AFTERNOON service was in charge of the Rev. Clarence Witte, Lewiston, who was liturgist and read letters from the ordaining pastor, the Rev. F. W. Schulze; St. Paul's Congregation at Doniphan, and the Rev. Norbert Reinke of St. Charles.

Speaker for the anniversary service was the Rev. Louis Bittner of Redeemer Church of Winona. His text was Psalm 34:1-3.

Numerous cards and gifts were received. Rev. Deye was organist, and Betty Heiden, a student at Hamline of St. Paul, sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd." Gifts were presented to Pastor Friedrich by Melvin Brand, congregation president.

Hospital Site Hearing Set

Public hearings on zoning ordinance amendments to allow apartment construction on the old general hospital site will be held Dec. 16, the City Council voted Monday night.

The council moved unanimously to adopt a recommendation submitted last month by the City Planning Commission. Under the proposed change, the community development section of the ordinance would be modified.

City Council

Harold Streater, attorney for Robert Gisselbeck and Samuel Schneider, Minneapolis, purchasers of the hospital property, explained the proposed change. It would be essentially a reduction in minimum area requirements from five acres to one acre for community development projects within R-2 zones. The tract is just over one acre in size.

The community development section of the zoning code permits owners of certain tracts to

Russ Prepare Reply on Joint Moon Hop Bid

By TOM HOGE

Associated Press Staff Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet delegates to the United Nations awaited instructions from the Kremlin today before replying to a renewed U.S. offer to attempt a joint moon flight.

President Kennedy's dramatic invitation to the Russians before the U.N. General Assembly Sept. 20 was revived Monday by the chief U.S. delegate, Adlai E. Stevenson. He told the assembly's main political committee he was speaking for President Johnson.

Stevenson suggested the two nations cooperate in preliminary engineering and scientific endeavors related to the massive undertaking, even if they cannot reach an over-all agreement.

There was no immediate reaction from the Russian delegation, but this was not considered significant. Soviet representatives abroad almost never respond to unexpected Western overtures until they get instructions from the Kremlin.

When the joint moon project was first proposed to the Soviets, their response was lukewarm. A month ago Premier Khrushchev said he wasn't against a joint expedition, but he indicated it would have to await further easing of international tensions.

Most Western diplomats at the U.N. feel there must be a great improvement in confidence and trust between the two powers before such a joint venture is feasible.

Judge Convicted Of Slapping Girl Appeals Decision

MANTORVILLE, Minn.

Dodge County's probate and juvenile judge has appealed to district court of slapping an 11-year-old girl.

Judge Luther A. Paulsruide, found guilty Nov. 19 on a simple assault charge, filed papers asking that his case be heard in the April session of district court.

Paulsruide was sentenced, pending appeal, to 10 days in jail or a $50 fine in Kasson, Minn., Municipal Court. Minneapolis Municipal Judge Bruce Stone heard the case after Paulsruide said he could not get a fair trial from the local judge.

The 52-year-old Paulsruide was charged after an Oct. 25 incident involving Jenny Kabage. He admitted slapping Jenny after seeing her explode fireworks on a sidewalk explaining he was "holding court in the street." The girl's father, Lawrence Kabage, filed the complaint.

DEAR ABBY:

His Signals Are Crossed

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a girl who buys her own engagement ring? Her boy friend told her he couldn't afford to buy her a ring because he is paying off his car, so she went out and bought herself one and paid for it. She says lots of girls do it. Her boy friend said if it makes her happy, he doesn't see anything wrong with it. Am I old-fashioned or isn't this fellow a poor excuse for a man?

BYSTANDER

DEAR BYSTANDER: Apparently the girl is calling the signals. She should have bought TWO rings — one for his nose.

DEAR ABBY: A friend I grew up with but haven't seen in years, called me long distance and said she was coming to this city to visit for a few days. I told her I'd be glad to see her, but I didn't have room enough in my apartment to have her stay with us. She said, "Oh, the floor will be good enough for me." I told her I wouldn't think of it, but she argued and argued and I couldn't talk her out of it. Now my husband is having a fit, and says he can't have a woman sleeping on the floor while he is sleeping on a bed. He says he'll go stay with friends and give HER his bed. Abby, I can't let him do that. I am so mad at myself for letting her win the argument. What should I do when she comes?

KICKING MYSELF

DEAR KICKING: Beg, borrow, or rent a mattress or sleeping bag and let her sleep on the floor. She's 90% brass and won't feel a thing!

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and I guess I should know when I am sick and when I am not sick. My mother calls me a "little hypochondriac." Whenever I complain about a headache or a pain in the leg or the arm she says it's only growing pains and if I didn't pay so much attention to myself I wouldn't notice them. I want to see a doctor but every time I mention it, my mother says, "Oh, it's nothing, you don't need a doctor." How can I convince my mother that I do?

NO HYPOCHONDRIAC

DEAR NO: If you really think you need to see a doctor, ask your teacher or school nurse to persuade your mother. Perhaps you have complained too much in the past about minor ailments to be taken seriously now. But don't ignore your pains.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Majority Fails To Recognize Johnson, General

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The

Trenton Evening Times sent out a reporter Monday to see whether the man in the street could recognize two men in a news picture — French President Charles de Gaulle and President Lyndon B. Johnson of the United States.

The reporter checked 30 people.

Eleven recognized both men. Four others recognized both men but couldn't think of Johnson's name.

Seven knew Johnson but not De Gaulle — four of them identified De Gaulle as Nikita Khrushchev.

One man said, "That's De Gaulle. This is the president of one of those European countries but I don't remember which."

One woman said she knew De Gaulle was famous and asked "Is he the Pope or something?"

A luncheonette proprietor identified one man as his grandfather and the other as his uncle.

Five others recognized neither man.

Men More Successful In Reducing

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON

Associated Press Science Writer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The circus fat lady can reduce, but she'll have a lifelong job holding the weight loss, says a New York physician.

He adds that men seem more successful in reducing.

Dr. S. K. Fineberg of Harlem Hospital's metabolism service told the American Medical Association today of 12 patients who weighed at least twice what they should.

The heaviest weighed 640 pounds at the start of treatment. In nine weeks he lost 97 pounds, almost 11 pounds a week. But he failed to continue treatment.

Two patients, a woman scaling 406 pounds to start and a man weighing 363, each lost 130 pounds in 51 and 27 weeks, respectively, Fineberg said.

His treatment consists of two phases. The first is intensive with a diet of 900 calories a day, drugs to curb appetite, and drugs to get rid of excess water. The treatment lasts two to 12 months.

Man Who Bought Anti-Kennedy Ad Goes Into Hiding

DALLAS (AP) — The man whose advertisement — "Welcome Mr. Kennedy" — in a Dallas newspaper has brought demands from congressmen for an FBI investigation has dropped from sight.

The ad appeared in the Dallas Morning News on Friday, Nov. 22 — the day President Kennedy came here and was assassinated. It was placed by a man who identified himself as Bernard Weissman for "The American Fact-Finding Committee."

The ad asked the President 12 questions and said the committee demanded "answers to these questions and we want them now."

Typical questions: "Why do you say we have built a 'wall of freedom' around Cuba when there is no freedom in Cuba today? Because of your policy, thousands of Cubans have been imprisoned, are starving and are persecuted — with thousands already murdered and thousands more awaiting execution and, in addition, the entire population of almost 7 million Cubans are living in slavery."

"Have you ordered or permitted your brother Bobby, the attorney general, to go soft on Communists, fellow travelers, and ultra-leftists in America, while permitting him to persecute loyal Americans who criticize you, your administration and your leadership?"

Jury Will Ponder Words of 2 Men In Thompson Case

By JOHN LUNDQUIST
Associated Press Staff Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — When a murder trial jury retires behind closed doors, probably this week, their thoughts will dwell on the words they have heard from two 36-year-old men.

One is T. Eugene Thompson, a lawyer charged with instigating the killing of his pretty wife last March 6.

The other is Dick W. C. Anderson, an ex-Marine who wound up the state's case against Thompson by admitting he killed the woman.

They are the same age, somewhat similar in rather small stature. Both dress well and speak clearly. There the similarity ends.

Yet, fate has directed that their lives come together in the court-room where Thompson's murder goes into its sixth week today.

Thompson's lawyer has told the jury he "was incapable of committing a horrendous crime of this nature."

Anderson, also charged with murder, not only admitted in detail how he carried out the crime but says he was given instructions that came from Thompson.

Although the jurors will have heard thousands of words from dozens of other witnesses, their decision may well come from the weight they attach to the words of these two men.

Anderson was born in Alden,

Mich., served as a Marine in the Korean conflict and was twice wounded by enemy fire. He has been described as quiet and unassuming but high strung. He has a minor police record.

He was divorced by a wife in Michigan and has jumped from job to job. Since coming to Minneapolis two years ago, he found a job as a salesman for a home improvement firm and covered a six-state region.

His boss says Anderson was a good salesman; yet, Anderson said he was short of money when he accepted a "contract" to kill 34-year-old Mrs. Thompson.

Thompson's 36 years carried him from Elmore, Minn., to Macalester College, the Navy, and finally into a comfortable although not spectacular law practice.

He was one of seven children, nicknamed "Cotton," a name still used by his family and friends. Some call him "Gene."

He met Carol Swoboda at Macalester and married her in 1948. Otto Swoboda, well-to-do plumbing contractor, helped the young couple get established, and employed Thompson, first as a general aide, later as attorney for a firm which Swoboda controlled.

In recent years, Thompson was active in lawyers' organizations. He was chairman of the criminal law committee of the Minnesota State Bar Association.

He was an elder in the Presbyterian church, active in neighborhood gatherings and — says the defense — happily married.

But, agrees the defense, there was "one slip" in Thompson's life — a romance with twice-married Jackie Olesen, onetime secretary in his law office. She says he asked for "one more year" before they would be married; Thompson denies it.

The defendant, under friendly questioning virtually all day last Friday, told of comfortable finances — a gross income of $46,000 last year, a net worth of $170,000 last March.

He readily admitted the $1,055,000 insurance on Carol's life. And he volunteered that he carried $460,000 on himself. The $159 monthly premiums were easily met, says Thompson.

His testimony also was matter-of-fact, precise, articulate. There were few objections from Prosecutor William Randall. His turn comes today, when Thompson will undergo cross-examination.

Then, after last-minute witnesses and closing arguments, the jury will hear a charge from Judge Rolf Fosseen that will send the six men and six women behind a locked door.

Atlanta Board Asks For Desegregation

ATLANTA (AP)—The Board of Aldermen adopted Monday a resolution calling for voluntary desegregation of public places.

The resolution, passed 10-4, urges all public and private businesses, agencies, organizations and institutions to give immediate consideration to the removal of racial barriers. It does not have the force of law.

W. John Peterson Weds Jean Fogal At Rushford Church

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — Miss Jean Marlene Fogal, Rushford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fogal, became the bride of W. John Peterson, Peterson, Minn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Peterson on Nov. 23 at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Rushford.

The Rev. Edwin Friedrich officiated.

Mrs. Edwin Friedrich was organist and accompanied Mrs. William Peterson, soloist.

Miss Dianne Tudahl was maid of honor and Norine Solberg, bridesmaid. The groom's brother, Steven Peterson was his best man and the bride's brother, Gerald Fogal, was groomsmen. Ushers were Gerald Schmidt and William Peterson.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned of lace and tulle over taffeta. The long sleeved lace bodice had a scoop neckline embroidered with iridescent sequins. The bouffant floor-length skirt had tiers of lace-edged tulle ruffles cascading down the front with a plain lace paneled back over a single hemline ruffle. The veil of silk illusion was held by a petite princess crown of seed pearls. The bride carried white roses, pink baby roses, carn-lias and carnations in a cascade arrangement.

Her attendants wore identical street-length dresses of royal-blue velvet, with sleeveless bodices and a scoop neckline. The balloon skirts were smocked. Their headresses were of royal-blue veiling attached to royal blue velvet roses. They carried colonial bouquets of pink chrysanthemus and white carnations.

A reception for 150 persons was held at the VFW Hall in Rushford following the wedding.

THE BRIDE'S mother wore a black brocade sheath dress with matching jacket and the groom's mother a dark green sheath. Each had a corsage of two white orchids.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Randall Lehmann, Mrs. Robert Marpe, Mrs. Leona Fogal, Misses Mary Lou Taylor, Patsy Bunke, June Fogal, Mrs. Robert Jonsgard, Mrs. Ronnie Mierau, Misses JoAnn Schmidt and Anita Tudahl. The couple took a trip to South Dakota and Nebraska. They are now at home in Rochester.

The bride is a graduate of Rushford High School and the groom attended Rushford High School. The bride is employed at the Methodist Hospital, Rochester; the groom works for Bakken Construction Co., Rushford.

A prenuptial shower was given by Miss Walker and Mrs. Collins at the former's home in Rochester.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID Johannes, Elgin, Minn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Carole Frances Johannes, to Luther Roger Glenna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theron Glenna, Rushford, Minn. Miss Johannes teaches English and Spanish at the LeRoy High School and her fiancé is engaged in farming near Rushford.

Flower-Garden Club To Have Yule Party

A Christmas party for members will highlight the Thursday meeting of the Winona Flower and Garden Club at 7:30 p.m. in Lake Park Lodge.

Baroness Maria von Trapp To Lecture at WSC Monday

The mother and the leader of the world-famous Trapp Family Singers — no longer in existence — will lecture at Winona State College's Somsen Auditorium at 10 a.m. Monday.

There is no charge and the public is invited.

Baroness Maria von Trapp, her husband and the 10 Trapp children fled Austria before the Nazis, organized a singing group and toured the world for 20 years, winning acclaim in more than 2,000 concerts. The baroness wrote four books about her family's adventures.

The baron has died and the children are scattered over the world.

TODAY THE baroness is the only one of the family left in the farmhouse bought in 1942 at Stowe, Vt. She's the inkeeper of the Alpine-styled Trapp Family Lodge in the vacationland of Vermont.

To be published in the near future is a fifth book about her present experience in the South Sea Islands.

At the invitation of the papal delegate for the South Pacific, the baroness undertook a unique reconnaissance trip in that area.

"The territory is rough," she recalls, "half savage and filled with cannibals and head hunters. When we arrived one village had just eaten another. You have to have a good stomach to live with it — but you get used to it.

"THEY NEED people there—nurses, teachers, priests, doctors, anyone to live with the natives to pitch in and help. Christianity is starting from scratch there now. And if we don't hurry, it will be too late. The baroness has organized Cor Unum, Inc., a nonprofit organization endeavoring to raise money throughout the United States for the operation of a Catholic mission station at Naisereiland on the island of Vitti Lvv in the Fiji group, where an American priest and a native priest already are at work building the primitive structures that will be the headquarters of the missionary training program.

The Broadway production of "The Sound of Music" was based on the baroness' life.

Board Fails to Answer 5-Year Teacher Costs

ST. PAUL (AP)—Would the proposed requirement that Minnesota school teachers be required to have five years of training raise general educational costs for the state's taxpayers?

Although that question was asked, it went without any specific answer Monday as the Minnesota School Boards Association pondered the problem at a meeting.

The question was asked of Erling O. Johnson, state education commissioner, after he had outlined the proposal of five years of college for all teachers instead of the present four.

John Hoepner, Redwood Falls, asked Johnson whether the cost to the taxpayer in a five-year plan had been examined.

Hoepner noted that if teachers in Redwood Falls today were to be moved to the fifth year category in the salary schedule, that it would increase salary costs $21,000 a year.

Johnson, who took no stand for or against the five-year idea, conceded there would be additional costs in any five-year plan, but said no estimate has yet been made.

Wisconsin Tavernkeepers Discuss Gambling Warning

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—The Trempealeau County Tavern League met at Alton Johnson's tavern here Monday night to discuss a new Tavern League of Wisconsin bulletin hitting hard at playing cards and shaking dice in taverns.

Osseo Phone Meeting Slated

OSSEO, Wis.—A meeting between officials of General and Beef River Valley Telephone companies is scheduled at To-mah Wednesday at 2 p.m.

On order of the Public Service Commission, the officials will consider buying or leasing from each other, working co-operatively, or selling to a third party. The deadline for reaching an agreement will expire Thursday. The companies were given 20 days.

JOHN WARD, attorney for Beef River Valley company, said this morning the Osseo City Council took offense at a statement made by H. R. Anger, district commercial manager, Black River Falls, in a newspaper account Sunday.

Anger said the legal department of his company was investigating whether the law permitted a city to acquire a telephone utility in Wisconsin.

"There has never been a city owned telephone operation in Wisconsin," Anger said. "A communications system today is a very complicated operation, and I do not believe that the public interest would be served by having the city engage in the telephone business."

Ward said Beef River expects to make "a big issue" of this at the meeting Wednesday. He will be there with Clarence Gore, Osseo, president and manager, and Robert Prosser, Turtle Lake, vice president.

THE OSSEO City Council has voted to meet with officials of both firms and discuss feasibility of municipal acquisition. The Public Service Commission was apprised of this in a letter from Mayor J. H. Smith.

The people of Osseo and area attempted in 1961 to purchase the two companies. They sent a petition to General Telephone Co. in New York City. No reply was received.

The commission says Wisconsin has municipally owned utilities but not in the communications field.

The item, entitled "Gambling Means Revocation of License," states:

THE WISCONSIN statutes prohibit any gambling or having gambling devices on any Class B intoxicating liquor licensed tavern premises.

Lawrence Tollefsruds At Home in Prosper

MABEL, Minn. (Special)—At home in Prosper, Minn., following their wedding Oct. 27 and a honeymoon trip through Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa, are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tollefsruds. They were married by the Rev. Roy Lockhart at the Mabel Methodist Church.

The bride is the former Miss Rhea Rongley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Rongley, Prosper. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Truman Tollefsruds, Decorah, Iowa.

Attendants were Miss Ruby Rongley, sister of the bride, as maid of honor and James Tollefsruds as best man.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the wedding.

The Maya Indians of Chichen Itza played a ball game in which the ball had to be driven into goals. These were ornately carved stone rings with 18-inch holes set into the walls 24 feet above the court.

Mrs. Frank S. Grupa, (she and her husband operate Jackson Riverview restaurant, Trempealeau) said this morning that dice boxes and cards have been eliminated from their place of business, and Trempealeau County tavernkeepers have read the article and are cognizant of what they must do.

"There's always been a law against gambling in Wisconsin," Mrs. Grupa said. "But they let us have dice — inspectors have seen them and done nothing about it. Now, apparently, they are enforcing the law."

Grupa is president of the Trempealeau County league.

JERRY DUVAL of the Mississippi, Buffalo City, also pointed out that the law always has existed. He said he never has heard of any taverns being arrested for having dice boxes, but he has heard of arrests for taverns allowing poker playing, slot machines and punch boards.

"We are prohibited from having any games of chance in taverns," he said, "or even betting on football games. We aren't allowed to entice anyone to buy a drink or gamble."

Arrests usually come after complaints, he said, complaints for example, from a woman in whose husband spends money for drinks that she says should be used for care of the children.

Delmar Berg, Alma, is president of the Buffalo County Tavern League.

THE ARTICLE further states: "In addition to the regular penalty of either a fine or imprisonment, the statutes provide that the Class B intoxicating liquor license shall be revoked either by the licensing authority or the court whenever there is a conviction for a gambling violation."

"Special attention is called to the fact that it is illegal to shake dice or to play cards in the tavern along with having any gambling devices. Local law enforcement officials in some areas have sent out warnings to tavern owners that they will be prosecuted if they find shaking of dice or card playing for drinks or for money in the taverns in their area."

"Regardless of whether you receive such a letter or not, don't take a chance on having your Class B intoxicating liquor license revoked merely because there has been shaking of dice or card playing for drinks in your tavern."

The bulletin is the official publication of the Tavern League of Wisconsin. It's published at 420 7th St., Racine.

False Arrest Charged by South Dakotan

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Municipal Judge Crane Winton today had under advisement a motion by attorneys for William J. Curran, Vermillion, S.D., that he had been falsely arrested Oct. 30 on charges of pandering and false hotel registration.

At the Monday hearing, Mrs. Marsha Johnson, Bloomington policewoman, testified that she had gone to the Guest House Motel that night with Curran, had been handed $40 after Curran had propositioned her and immediately notified him that he was under arrest.

Curran, comptroller for the University of South Dakota, took the stand to testify that he was not put under arrest until two members of the Minneapolis police morals squad had knocked on the motel room door and he had let them into the room.

Both charges cover misdemeanors which, the law says, must be committed within view of the arresting officers.

Mrs. Johnson said Curran earlier, in making the date, had offered to set her up as a "40 a night call girl."

Judge Winton did not indicate when he would make a decision on the motion.

Oswald Signature At Milwaukee Inn Not Accused Killer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation said Monday that the entry "Lee Oswald, Dallas," found in the registry of a Milwaukee area restaurant last week was not written by the accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Richard Baker, agent in charge of the FBI office in Milwaukee, said the signature on the Fox and Hounds Inn register was not that of Lee Harvey Oswald who was killed in Dallas two days after the assassination of the President. He said this was established by FBI laboratory tests in Washington.

WEATHER FORECAST . . . Snow and snow flurries are forecast for Tuesday night for the northern tier of states from the upper Mississippi valley eastward, with light snow in the Ohio valley and Appalachians and light rain in the southern parts of the middle Atlantic states. It will be generally fair elsewhere, on the cold side in the East, but with little temperature change elsewhere. (AP Photofax Map)

Mercury Hits 9; Auto Burning
It's Warming Up

After dipping to only 9 above, following a storm which left two inches of light, fluffy snow across the area, the thermometer began rising today and was up to 25 at noon.

No more snow is in the immediate future. Occasional cloudiness and warmer is the forecast for tonight and Wednesday. A low of 8-20 is indicated for tonight and a high of 35 for Wednesday afternoon.

Thursday, says the weatherman, will see little change.

DURING THE storm Monday afternoon, the reading got up to 27 before dropping to 9 during the night. At 7 a.m. today the mercury stood at 18.

Drivers reported streets and area roads slippery in spots today.

Southeastern Minnesota was the coldest area in the state this morning with Rochester reporting a low of only 4 above. International Falls had 8 and Bemidji 9. The low at La Crosse was 13.

A week ago today the Winona temperature was up to 51.

Freezing weather has prevailed in the city since the temperature dropped from 40 last Friday to a high of 31 Saturday.

Most of WISCONSIN has had the first measurable snow of the season.

At daybreak today there were two inches of snow on the ground at La Crosse, Park Falls and Superior. Madison, Lone Rock, Green Bay, Wausau and Eau Claire had 1 inch. Milwaukee and Beloit recorded a trace of snow.

The snow fell during the day and early evening in most of the state Monday, ending in the late evening hours.

THE MERCURY, meanwhile, skidded all the way to zero at Madison, Green Bay and Wausau during the night. Lone Rock recorded a low of 6, Park Falls 7, Eau Claire 8, Beloit 10, Superior 12, Racine 16 and Milwaukee 17.

Racine set the state high of 32 Monday, with other maximums ranging down to 15 at Green Bay.

Marquette County Airport in Northern Michigan was the coldest spot in the nation early today with 3 below zero.

Thermal, Calif., and Brownsville, Tex., set the national high of 79 Monday.

SINCE THE work for most employees begins in July or August, this means that payroll really are spread over two budgets. The same situation exists in other areas of spending.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told board members today that he had bought a change to July 1 in the effective date of the new fiscal year would bring financing and operations more closely into step.

Any change in the fiscal year, however, would require a revision in the charter for Winona's special school district and this would have to be done by action of the state Legislature which doesn't meet again until 1965.

Several directors wondered whether there would be any difficulties with city government since the city also operates on an April 1-March 31 fiscal year and the city treasurer also serves as treasurer of the school district.

Board Business Manager Paul W. Sanders said he could see no conflict there because, although the city and schools are served by the same treasurer, there is a complete separation of funds.

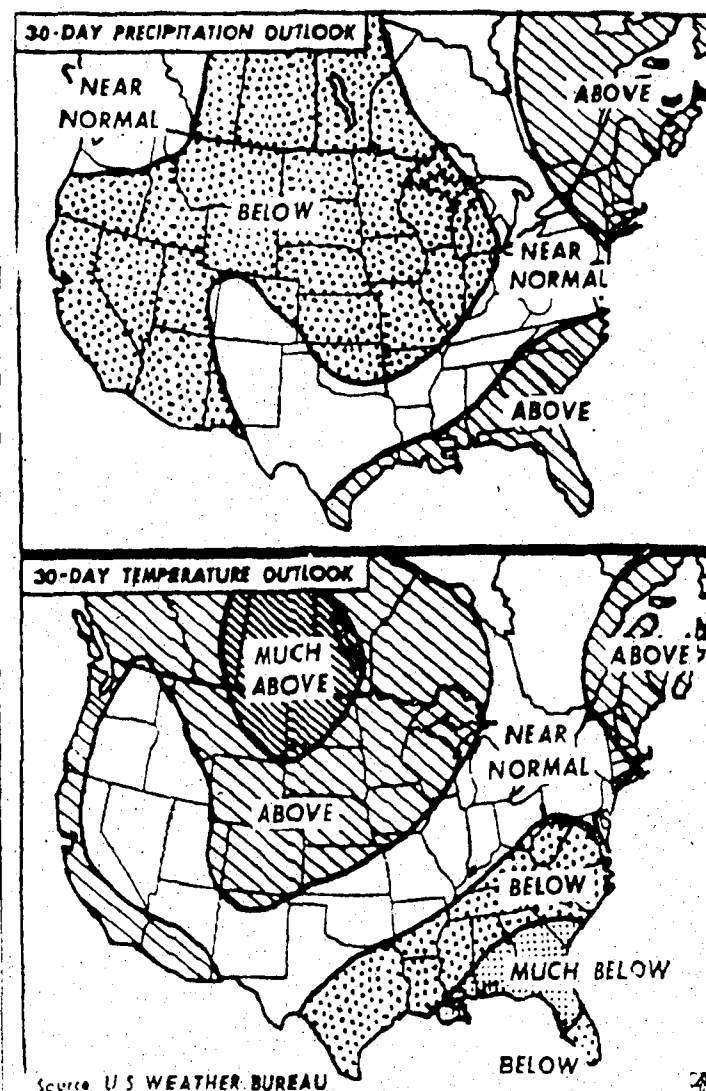

DIRECTORS agreed that it would be advisable to investigate all aspects of the proposed change. They felt that the school administration should confer with the city treasurer and other city officials and determine if there would be any objection to the change.

The feasibility of the change also could be considered by a University of Minnesota survey group which this winter will be making a study of school facilities and operations, board members felt.

If a decision were made to seek the change, legislation would be drafted for presentation to the Legislature at its next session.

HOUSTON, Minn. (Special)—Houston Sportsmen will serve oysters, coffee and cake in the Community Room of the village hall Thursday after the 8 p.m. meeting. Jack MacLean will show slides of his trip to Scotland. All sportsmen and their wives are invited. New members are welcome.

30-DAY WEATHER OUTLOOK . . . Below normal precipitation and above normal temperatures during the next 30 days are forecast for this region in these maps, based on those supplied by the United States Weather Bureau. (AP Photofax Map)

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

We've got a sporty proposition for you

If you're after a little more action than you've been accustomed to getting in the low price field, look what we've got for you. The '64 Dodge Polara 2 door hardtop, a quick moving automobile that doesn't look, ride, or feel like any low priced car you've ever tried before. Luxury is standard equipment on this one. The interior, for instance, is all vinyl. The front seat has extra deep foam padding and features a comfort providing flip down center armrest at no extra cost. The floor is completely carpeted. And under the hood? A standard V8 (318 cu. in.) with more muscle than is common in other low-price cars.

Price? Right with cars like Ford and Chevy. Here's our proposition—why buy just any low-priced car, when you can step up to Dodge and a lot more automobile. Are people taking us up on it? Dodge's sales increase is more than four times that of the industry. People know a good thing when they see it. See it at your Dodge Dealers.

NFL Lions Draft Warriors' Defensive Ace Bruce Zellmer

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

"I just can't believe it," said Bruce Zellmer, Winona State College defensive back, after being informed that the National Football League Detroit Lions had claimed him on the 19th round of the annual player draft in Chicago today.

It was 9 o'clock this morning that the phone in Zellmer's apartment at 126 W. Wabasha St. rang.

It was the Daily News

sports department calling to ask him to stop over.

"Sure thing," answered Bruce. "Just as soon as I stop at the college and pay my fees for winter quarter."

At 10:45, Zellmer made his way through the news room, receiving congratulations as he went, but completely oblivious to what people seemed so happy about.

FINALLY THE Associated Press story containing the news concerning Winona was thrust in front of him.

"I still can't believe it," he said a few minutes later. "I thought everyone was congratulating me because I had made the all-conference team. I really didn't expect this."

"I had hoped to be drafted," he said. "I filled out physical reports for five professional teams, but I hadn't heard from any of them."

"I was hoping to get a chance at professional football. It really didn't make any difference which club it was. I just wanted a chance to be able to play."

Zellmer filled out questionnaires from four National Football League Clubs and one from the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

NFL TEAMS interested in him included, in addition to Detroit, the Minnesota Vikings, Chicago Bears and Los Angeles Rams.

"I thought maybe the Rams would draft me," said Zellmer. "They had a scout stop in to talk to Coach (Madoe) Molinari, and they watched some of our films."

"The Broncos wrote me a letter, but that's about as much as I heard."

Was he considering trying it as a free agent if he hadn't been drafted?

"Not really," he answered.

"I hoped that I would be drafted."

ZELLMER, A three-year veteran of the Northern Inter-collegiate All-Conference team and a four-year Warrior letterman, is interested also in a career as criminologist with the Federal Bureau of Investigation after graduating from Winona State June 6.

"I wanted a try at professional football first," he said. "But I still hope to go with the FBI."

When Zellmer graduates in June he will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in chemistry and a minor in mathematics.

Zellmer becomes the second Winona State player to be drafted by Detroit in three years.

Gale Sprute, standout line-backer from Farmington, was claimed by the Lions on the 12th round in 1961, but released before the start of the 1962 campaign.

Jerry Wedemeier, stalwart tackle on the 1962 Warrior team, went into the Viking camp at Bemidji as a free agent this summer, but was released.

Does Zellmer feel he is big enough to play professional football?

"WELL, I GO ABOUT 180 now," he stated, "but I want to get up to 195. I'll need that extra weight."

Zellmer, who captained Molinari's 1963 team, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Zellmer of Tomah, Wis. The 1960 graduate of Tomah High School will be 22 Jan. 2. He has three brothers and one sister.

How does Molinari feel about having another of his players drafted?

"I'm glad for Bruce," he said. "He's been a fine boy for us and I'm glad to see him get the chance. We expected him to do about 65 things for us this year, and he did."

It was Molinari who persuaded Zellmer to come to Winona State.

"Coach Molinari talked to me," said Bruce. "Other schools talked to me, too, but I wanted to come up here. I'm glad I did."

Vikings Ink First Two Draft Picks

CHICAGO (AP) — Signed, sealed and delivered was the word from the Minnesota Viking camp early today as their first pair of choices, picked in the drawn-out National Football League draft, both inked contracts.

Carl Eller, tagged in the first round, came to terms in New York with Tom McCormick of the Viking coaching staff within hours of his selection.

The 245-pound Minnesota star tackle, candidate for All-American honors, said he was happy to have the opportunity to continue to play football in that state.

Coach Norm Van Brocklin said he expected to use Eller as a defensive end. Eller also had been a first round choice of the Buffalo Bills in the American Football League draft on Saturday.

Pass-catching end Hal Bedsole of Southern California, the Vikings' No. 2 pick, also was on deck to fill out his contract. He too, had been an early choice of Buffalo in the AFL draft.

Bedsole, 6-foot-5 and 225 pounds, said in Chicago that he was signing up because the Vikings are a young club "with a lot of potential and I feel I'll have more opportunity there."

It was revealed that the Viking management, taking calculated risk, had flown Bedsole to Chicago Saturday, gambling they could draft him and also get a contract signed.

Eller signed for two years. Bedsole for one. In neither case were salaries made public.

The Vikings got George Rose, 5-foot-11 and 190-pound Auburn halfback, in the third round, which was not completed until midnight Monday.

A speedy pass receiver, Rose clicks off 100 yards in 9.8. He is 21 and, as Eller and Bedsole, was the Buffalo choice in the AFL.

But, in line with NFL rules, the Vikings cannot sign Rose until after he plays later this month in the Sugar Bowl.

After Rose, the Vikings selected Tom Keating, Michigan tackle, and then John Kirby, Nebraska linebacker, to round out their top five picks.

Taken on the sixth round by Minnesota was Bob Lacy, North Carolina end. Then came Wesley Bryant, Arkansas tackle; Bill McWaters, North Texas State halfback; and Darrell Lester, McNeese (La.) back.

The Vikings had traded their 10th selection to the Los Angeles Rams.

In picks 11 through 15, the Vikings took H.O. Eastes, East Central Oklahoma guard; Walter Sams, Texas end; Russ Vollmer, Memphis State back; Tom Michel, East Carolina College back; and Monte Kiffin, Nebraska tackle.

Indiana's Nowatzke Wins Big 10 Scoring

CHICAGO (AP) — Tom Nowatzke, Indiana's 220-pound junior fullback, won the 1963 Big Ten all-games football scoring championship.

Nowatzke scored 58 points on 6 touchdowns, 5 field goals and 7 conversions to outdistance Sherman Lewis of Michigan State by 10 points. Lou Holland of Wisconsin and Roger Lopes of Michigan State tied for third with 42 points each.

Third base coach Jimmie Dykes of the Kansas City Athletics has managed the White Sox, Philadelphia Athletics, Orioles, Reds, Tigers and Indians.

Ragged Loyola Belts North Dakota 92-54

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's not particularly unusual or disturbing when a college basketball team looks a little on the ragged side in its season opener.

But when a team looks ragged throughout and still rips its opponent by a margin of 38 points, that's both unusual and disturbing.

Coach George Ireland's Chicago Loyola Ramblers opened their season Monday night with a firm declaration that they're dead serious about repeating as national champions.

With four starters returning from the team that upset Cincinnati in the NCAA final and compiled a 29-2 record last season, the Ramblers romped over

North Dakota 92-54 and, according to the game report "looked ragged throughout."

The Ramblers, ranked at the top of The Associated Press pre-season poll, simply overwhelmed the visitors in the feature game on a heavy program.

Otherwise, the favorites had things pretty much their own way. Fifth-ranked Wichita beat Colorado 71-61. No. 7 Ohio State pulled out a tough 74-68 decision over Butler. No. 8 Michigan romped 73-47 against Tulane. No. 9 Kentucky ran up its highest total in four years in a 107-91 crushing of Texas Tech and No. 10 Oregon State ripped Washington State 80-66 in a game that had been postponed from the weekend. Big seven-foot Mel Counts tossed in 28 points for the Bears.

'Mr. Hustle' Missing, State Loses Opener to Pointers

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Winona State had all its starters present for Monday night's opening clash with Stevens Point, but in the words of Dr. Bob Campbell, the sixth man — and the fellow the Warriors needed most — was missing.

"Mr. Hustle is the fellow we didn't have tonight," said Campbell. "We always seem to go in streaks."

Stevens Point took advantage of the Warriors' hot-and-cold spells to take an 80-66 victory. "We just didn't put the ball in the basket," said Campbell. "I expected us to do that."

WITH THE exception of two players, the Warriors failed to put together a consistent offensive attack.

Forward Lyle Papenfuss, who has started all but one game in his three-year career, and freshman Dave Meisner, making his first start as a college performer, flipped in 47 of State's 66 points.

Papenfuss, scoring on a variety of hooks, drives and jumpers, wound up as high man in the game with 26. Right behind was Meisner, a 5-9 guard, with 21 points.

After a 12-12 tie midway in the first half, Stevens Point took the lead, never again to be headed.

The Pointers opened a 20-13 gap behind Grant White, who hit 19 points to lead the visitors, and then kept rolling to a 37-25 lead with 1:25 remaining in the half.

THROUGH THE last half of the first 20 minutes, White was the big gun, hitting field goals and two charity tosses for 12 of his 19 points.

The score at halftime favored the Pointers by 29-29. Things got no better for the Statesmen in the second half although Meisner, relying mainly on a long jump shot, fired home 14 points.

Papenfuss also was on target after intermission, hitting 15.

After State cut the margin to 42-33 in the early going, Stevens Point cruised out in front by 49-35 with 15:00 left to play.

THE MARGIN stayed at 13 points most of the way, but State did cut it to 35-48 midway in the half.

With 12:55 left, the score stood at 53-40, but Meisner dumped in a pair of free throws, Papenfuss counted on a hook and Meisner came back with two long jump shots, while the Pointers were able to pick up only a pair of free throws.

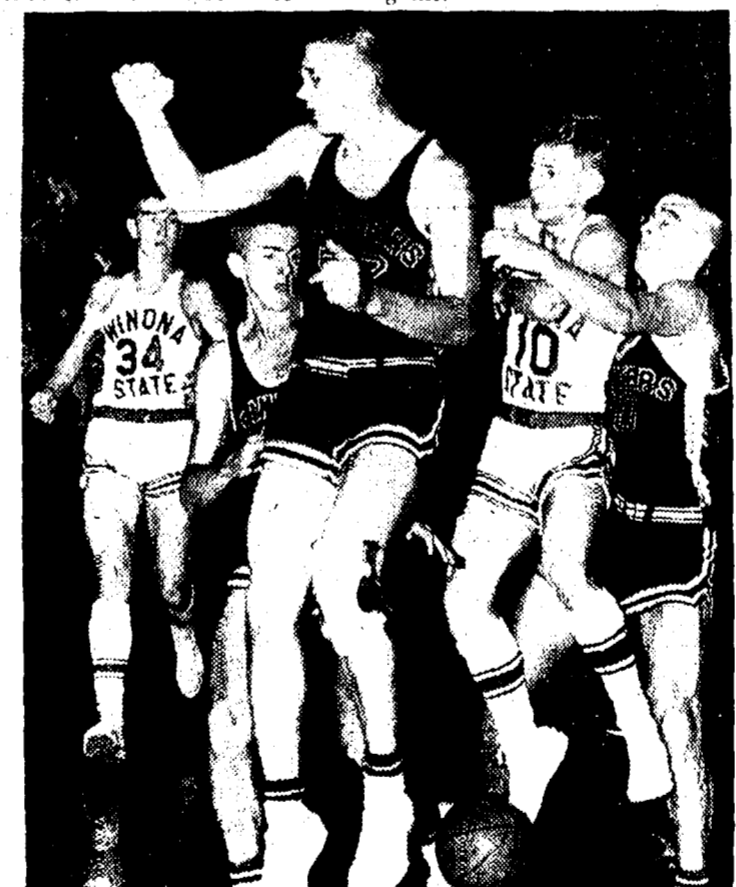

Mike Fortune and Wes Zuege quickly got the Pointers back on track, hitting on a driving shot each to make it 59-48.

Another Meisner jump shot brought State within 59-50, but two free throws by George Poubba, one by Bill Borchardt and a driving shot by Fortune gave Point an insurmountable 64-50 lead with 7:00 left.

Campbell went to his reserves through the last few minutes.

"THE OTHER NIGHT we scrimmaged St. Mary's and we hustled all through the practice," said Campbell. "We didn't do that tonight."

And now for the Warriors it's out of the frying pan and into the fire. A strong State College of Iowa team will be in town Friday night for an 8 p.m. game.

WHERE DID IT GO? . . . With nearly everyone looking elsewhere, the basketball made a trip of its own in the Winona State-Stevens Point game at Memorial Hall Monday night. Struggling for what was a rebound are Pointers George Poubba (52), Grant White (behind Poubba) and Bill Borchardt (30). The Winona Statesman in the midst of the melee is Dave Goede (10) while Dave Rosenau (34) comes up to assist. (Daily News Sports Photo)

ON FIRST-ROUND DRAFT CHOICE

Packer Book Like Security Report

CHICAGO (AP) — There was a time when football players were dubbed with such descriptive names as "the seven blocks of granite," but in Monday's National Football League draft the Green Bay Packers' book on their first choice read like the security report on a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The first Green Bay selection, after a 6½-hour wait to announce his name, was Lloyd Voss, a 245-pound tackle on Nebraska's Orange Bowl-bound team.

The Packer report said of

"Excellent desire, good speed, excellent character and very intelligent."

Lombardi said, "He could be either an offensive or defensive lineman. He's a very trim 245 pounds. He should be able to go 265 for us. Four of our coaches have seen him in action and rated him as the best offensive tackle available."

In the second round, the Packers took Jon Morris, a 6-foot-3, 238-pound center from Holy Cross.

Green Bay scooped up three players in the third round, making their own choice and drawing in the places of the Baltimore Colts and the New York Giants in the payoff on trades.

The choices were Ode Burrell, a halfback from Mississippi State; Joe O'Donnell, Michigan guard, and Tommy Crutcher, Texas Christian back. Crutcher is 6-foot-3, 221 pounds and O'Donnell, a 245-pounder in addition to being a left-footed punter.

In the fourth round, concluded about 1:30 a.m. today, the Packers drew twice, getting the Philadelphia Eagles turn on another trade. The picks were Bob Long, an end from Wichita; and Paul Costa, a Notre Dame back.

When the choices in the current draft show up in camp next summer, they will be joined by eight collegians selected by the Packers in 1962 as "future choices."

They are Dennis Claridge, Nebraska quarterback; Jack Cvercko, Northwestern guard; John Simons, Tulsa end; Turnley Todd, Virginia center; Bill Freeman, Mississippi Southern tackle; Bill Kellum, Tulane tackle; Joe Breen, Virginia Polytech tackle, and Herman Hamp, Fresno State halfback.

FACES RANGY DE LA SALLE SQUAD TONIGHT

Cotter Eyes No. 2

With almost a week of rest under its belt, and one mark chalked up in the win column, Cotter's basketball team travels to Minneapolis tonight for a battle with traditionally tough De La Salle.

Cotter came out of its opening clash against La Crosse Aquinas last Wednesday with bolstered confidence. The Ramblers subdued the Bluegolds 73-44, and the ease with which they did it surprised even the most optimistic of Cotter fans.

DE LA SALLE will provide tougher competition however, and Coach John Nett should get a better idea of where his strength lies after tonight's tilt. Perennial champion of the Central Catholic Conference, De La Salle has seven lettermen returning from an 18-2 season last year. Six of the seven lettermen meet or top the six-foot mark, giving the Islanders a decided height advantage over Cotter.

Tallest of the Islanders is Mike Skelly, a 6-6 senior center, but he is followed closely by Mike Rengel and Glen Evans, both 6-4. Ken Glotzbach scales 6-2. The back court will be made up of a trio of veterans. Tom Finnegan is the midjet of the squad at 5-9. Both Joe Cronin and Tim Holker are seniors who hit 6-0.

From this rangy group Coach Dick Reinhart will pick his starting five. Cotter mentor Nett is expected to go with the same lineup that he used against Aquinas. Gene Schultz and Rick Starzecki will start at guards. Bob Judge and John Nett Jr. will be the wings in the front line, while 6-5 Mike Jeresek will start at center.

EXCEPT FOR Jeresek, Cotter will give away at least two to three inches per man, and control of the boards will probably be a deciding factor. The Ramblers showed their best offensive display when they were on the fast break, but controlling — or at least holding their own — on the boards is a necessity to make the shoot and run game go.

But even without the fast break, Cotter isn't punchless. Both Schultz and Nett are accurate outside shots, and a smothering pressing defense may keep the Islanders at bay.

Braves Name Sadowski Top 1963 Rookie

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bob Sadowski, a bargain pitcher obtained in a deal which sent Lew Burdette to St. Louis last June, was named the Braves' 1963 "Rookie of the Year" today by the Milwaukee baseball writers.

The 25-year-old Sadowski hurled brilliantly after joining the Braves with Gene Oliver as Burdette went to the Cards. His record was only 5-7, but he lost four games by one run. He had an earned run average of 2.62.

Sadowski will receive the Tom Andrews award at the baseball writers 11th annual Diamond Dinner Jan. 19. Previous winners of the rookie award were Billy Bruton, Henry Aaron, Chuck Tanner, Taylor Phillips, Bob Hazle, Carl Willey and Joe Torre. There was no rookie award in 1959 or '60.

FOR A GAME BILLED as the best small college offense against the best small college defense, St. John's certainly made shambles of the Emporia, Kan., attack that had averaged over 500 yards per game.

Getting an on-the-field look at the awesome Johnnie football team was Winona High baseball coach Ed Spencer, who officiated the game along with a group of other area men.

"Boy, they were big," stated Spencer in reference to St. John's. "I guess maybe Emporia didn't like the cold weather."

The contest was played in Bloomington's Metropolitan Stadium in sub-freezing temperatures.

Working the contest along with Spencer were Len Ellison of Whitehall, Sam Young of Black River Falls, George Sladky of La Crescent and Bob Batchelder of La Crosse.

NO DOUBT VIEWING the Johnnies' victory in a different light was Ken Wiltgen, St. Mary's College basketball coach.

Four of five St. John's basketball starters will be on the plane that carries the team to the Camellia Bowl and the NAIA national championship game Dec. 14. The group won't return until Dec. 16.

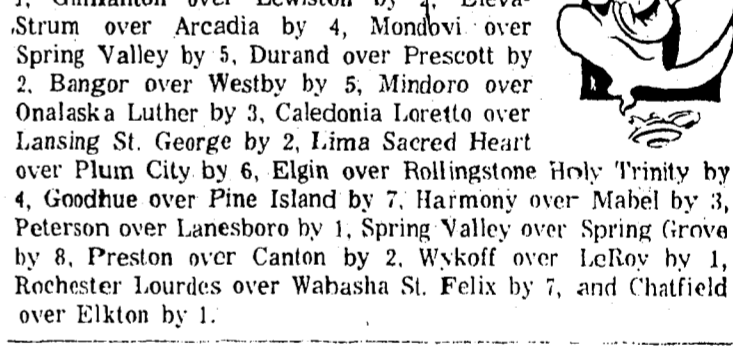

By that time, the four boys will have little time to adapt to the court sport before the holiday vacation period rolls around.

Although St. Mary's doesn't meet the Johnnies until Jan. 11, the team still may be showing the after effects of football season.

WITH THE FIRST two weeks of basketball season behind us, we have picked 45 of 74 games correctly for a .608 percentage (39 of 74 with handicaps for .527).

If it hadn't been for a shot by Lou Kaiser of St. Ambrose with three seconds left Sunday night, we'd have hit that game on the nose.

For tonight we see: Cotter over Minneapolis De La Salle by 1, Kenyon over Kasson-Mantorville by 2, Lake City over Zumbrota by 4, Alma over Pepin by 5, Fall Creek over Fairchild by 3, Alma Center over Taylor by 1, Gilmanton over Lewistown by 1, Eleva-Strum over Arcadia by 4, Mondovi over Spring Valley by 5, Durand over Prescott by 2, Bangor over Westby by 5, Mindoro over Onalaska Luther by 3, Caledonia Loretto over Lansing St. George by 2, Lima Sacred Heart over Plum City by 6, Elgin over Rollingstone Holy Trinity by 4, Goodhue over Pine Island by 7, Harmony over Mabel by 3, Peterson over Lanesboro by 1, Spring Valley over Spring Grove by 8, Preston over Canton by 2, Wykoff over LeRoy by 1, Rochester Lourdes over Wabasha St. Felix by 7, and Chatfield over Elkton by 1.

Gophers Win Second, Nip Houston 60-58

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's basketball Gophers returned to the friendly confines of Williams Arena tonight to take on Iowa State in their home opener of the new season. The Gophers will be shooting for their third straight triumph after squeezing past the University of Houston's Cougars at Houston Monday night, 60-58.

The Gophers won that one on senior co-captain Bill Davis' hit a short jump shot from the side with only 10 seconds left on the clock. The victory followed up a 76-66 win at Kansas State Saturday night.

Tonight, the Gophers meet a team which had one of the season's first major upsets sprung on it Monday night. Iowa State bowed 59-54 to State College of Iowa in a shocker, since the Cyclones had been considered one of the Big Eight Conference's better teams.

The Gophers once led Houston 13-7 early in the game, but fell behind 31-27 at halftime because of cold shooting and frequent ball handling mistakes.

But Minnesota, employing as pressing defense which forced the young Houston team into numerous mistakes, got hot midway through the second half to once boom in front 54-46. However, the Cougars rallied to tie it 58-58 on Don Schverak's layup with only 40 seconds left. Then came Davis' winning goal.

Houston had one more chance drawing a foul by Mel Northway with one second remaining. The Cougars' Jim Jones intentionally missed the charity hoping for a tip-in basket, but the Gophers got the rebound.

Sophomore forward Louis Hudson led the Gophers with 22 points, while Northway counted 18 and Terry Kunze, Archie Clark, Don Yates and Davis each got five. Schverak had 18 for Houston.

ASSISTANT COACH

CHICAGO (AP)—Charles (Rut) Walters of the University of Wisconsin was named Monday to serve as an assistant coach of the 1964 U. S. Olympic men's track team. Robert Gigengack of Yale was chosen to head the squad.

Seven From Area on Badger All-State

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Seven Winona area gridders were picked as honorable mention choices on the Wisconsin All-State High School football squad as announced Monday by The Associated Press.

Coulee Conference champions Gale-Eitrick placed two on the list, as did Mississippi Valley co-champs Mondovi. The Redmen to be named were 205-pound guard John Sacka, and hard-charging full-back Doug Nichols. The pair of Mondovi gridders to be honored were towering end Roy Tanner, and ground-eating scatback Jim Lehman. Larry Hertzfeldt, who was a one-man gang on a winless Melrose squad, was named, along with Jim Osborn, Augusta's sharp-shooting quarterback. The seventh member was 245-pound tackle Connie Marsolek of Independence.

A high-scoring backfield built around slick-passing Luther Selbo of Stoughton and a huge line averaging better than 205 pounds per man feature the first team.

Joining Selbo in the backfield were Rocky Bleier of Appleton Xavier, an all-state choice as a junior last year, Al Kuehl of Wausau and Pete Kramer of Manitowoc.

The hard-hitting, speedy linemen voted top honors were ends Dan Mooser of Stoughton and Rick Brown of Dodgeville; tackles Walt Palubinski of Beloit and Sandy Smith of Shorewood; guards Randy Becker of Sheboygan North and Larry Donovan of Marinette Central, and center Mark Farrell of Prairie du Chien Campion.

Players in all Wisconsin high schools, public and private, were considered. Nominations were studied carefully before final secret balloting by a special committee of the Wisconsin AP Sports Writers Association.

The 6-foot Selbo completed

99 of 168 passes for 1,807 yards and 24 touchdowns while pacing his mates to the Badger Conference title. He kept the ball 53 times for a net of 220 yards and scored four touchdowns. He also played safely on defense and came up with three interceptions.

Bleier, a 180-pound pile-driver with tricky speed, and Kuehl, a 201-pound swivel-necked back, compared favorably with former Wausau great Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch, were unanimous choices while Kramer had the edge on other first team nominees.

Staubach Drafted By Both Leagues

CHICAGO (AP)—Roger Staubach, Heisman Award winner, was drafted by both professional football leagues, although he still has a Naval Academy and least three years in service ahead of him.

Staubach was taken by the Dallas Cowboys in the 10th round of the National Football League draft today and by the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League in the 16th round Saturday.

Sandy Koufax, with a 1.88 earned run average for nine innings in 1963, won the National League ERA crown for the second straight season.

3 Wisconsin College Teams Win, 2 Lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three State College Conference basketball teams whipped non-league opponents Monday night but two others suffered defeats in warm-up contests. La Crosse shattered the century mark by rolling over Luther College 118-100 in a high fouling game at Decorah, Iowa. In other games Whitewater defeated Northern Illinois 63-50, Stevens Point dropped Winona, Minn., 80-66, the University of Dubuque, Iowa, defeated Plattville 72-56 and St. Cloud, Minn., edged Stout 74-66.

LA Angels Trade Wagner in Move To Help Pitching

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Convinced their future lies in defense and pitching, the Los Angeles Angels made their first move in that direction by trading power hitter Leon Wagner to the Cleveland Indians for pitcher Barry Latman and another player to be named at a later date.

It was the first major trade completed at the annual winter baseball meetings which got under way Monday when the majors drafted a record 63 players at a cost of $691,000.

In the only other transaction, the New York Mets purchased Bob Taylor from Milwaukee. The 23-year-old catcher-outfielder was paid a $100,000 bonus by the Braves when he signed his first professional contract in 1957.

Wagner, 29, hit 63 home runs for the Angels in the last two years, batting .291 in 1963. Latman, 27, was 7-12 with the Indians last season.

The Angels were the busiest club in the draft business. They shelled out $99,000 for six players, three veterans at $25,000 each and three first year players at $8,000 apiece. Three of the six were pitchers including Danny Rivas, a left-hander who won 13 and lost seven at Tacoma and Bill Kelso, 12-7 at Salem. Despite the record number of players drafted—eleven $25,000 four-year veterans and fifty-two $8,000 first year kids — there were few names easily recognizable to fans.

PRAXEL RAPS 636 TOPPER

City Leaguers Hit Four 600s

There was a lot of fine bowling in Winona Monday night, but only once were the local kegglers able to sneak into the top 10, and then just barely.

Four 600s were registered in the heavy action, and they all came from the City circuit at Hal-Rod Lanes. Irv Praxel came up with the topper, tagging a 636 errorless to spark Linahan's to 2,955. Jack Critchfield hammered 619. Chuck Williams a 605 errorless, and Bud Steinhoff 600. John Schreiber hit the single-high of the evening, slapping 253 for KWNO Radio. The mass media boys knicked a 1,064 team single game to squeeze into the 10th position on this year's listings.

Shirley Squires came up with the best women's series of the evening, rapping 192-565 for Curley's in the Alley Gators league at Westgate Bowl. Nash's powered 908, and Montgomery Wards hit 2,606.

A total of nine women topped the 500 mark in the Pin Toppers loop at Westgate. Isabelle Rozek slammed 543 to lead them all for Main Tavern. Una Mathison blitzed 224 for Lincoln Insurance, while Lakeside Cities Service pounded 932-2,631. Other topping 500 were: Betty Schoonover 537, Una Mathison 534, Irene Gostornski 532, Carol Mlynzack 524, Helen Englerth 511, Lucille Jackson 511, Leona Lubinski 505, and Irene Trimmer 504.

WINONA AC: Monday — Bill Chuchna socked 225-590 for Phillips 66. Cabinets by Pabst rocked 1,024, and Schlitz Beer topped 2,798.

Go Getters — Carolyn Prenot socked 161-437 for Winona Plumbing, but Tew's Garage captured team laurels with 844-2,492.

HAL-ROD: Park Rec Jr. Girls — Bev Biltgen spanked 142-270 for All Stars, while Diamonds were cracking 647-1,277.

GEORGE BORK
Rewrote Record Book

Bork Chosen QB On Big, Talented Little All-America

NEW YORK (AP) — George Bork, Northern Illinois' fantastic passer, and 10 other seniors make up the Associated Press Little All-America football team for 1963.

Bork, the human howitzer who rewrote the record book with his tosses, is the only repeater from a year ago. The 1963 all-star aggregation is one of the few during the 30-year history of the Little All-America to be made up entirely of seniors.

Bracketed in the backfield with Bork are Mike Brown, wheel-horse of Delaware's unbeaten team; Sid Banks of Texas A&I, and Martin Luther Agnew, the 198-pound avalanche from Sewanee who soon will enter the ministry.

In front of them is the biggest and most agile line in the history of the Little All-America, restricted to teams whose competition is defined as minor or at the college level by the NCAA as contrasted with the university level where such headline hunters as Alabama, Texas, and Washington prowl. It is the colleges' schedules that are minor, not their athletes.

The players on the forward wall average 6-1, weigh 208 pounds to the man and are just over 21 years of age.

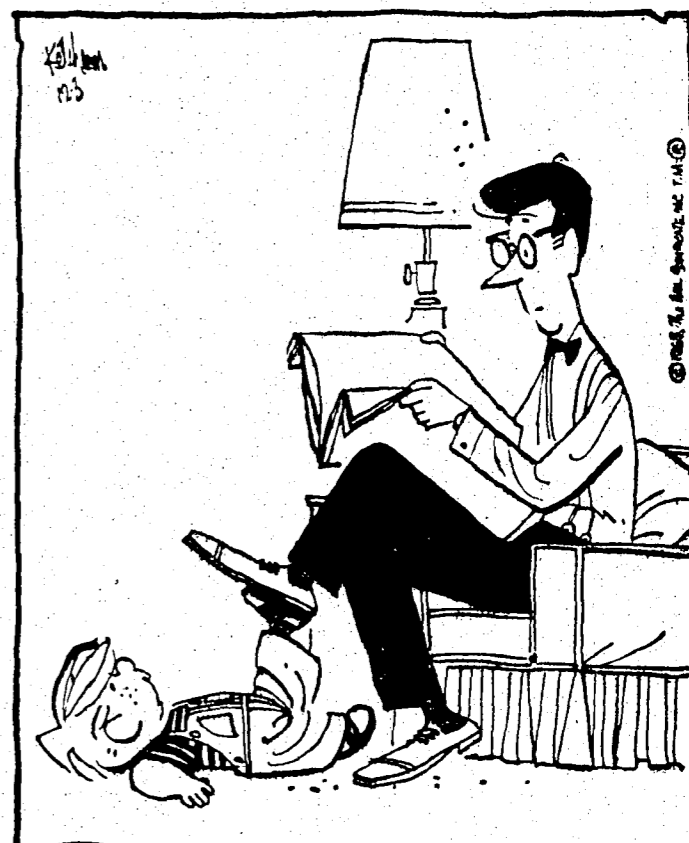

The backfield also averages 6 and 21 years of age but displaces only 192 pounds on the average.

Bork completed his collegiate career holding 14 national passing records and responsible for two team marks. During Northern Illinois' nine straight victories during the regular season he completed 344 of 374 aerial attempts for 32 touchdowns and 3,077 yards, an average of 341.9 yards a game. All are records.

During his career he threw 902 times and hit his target on 577 of those occasions. These also are records.

Ron Perranoski of the Dodgers appeared in 69 National League games last season. In 50 of the games he gave up no runs.

Nonconference Tilts Dominate Area Play

Most Winona area prep cage teams get back into action after the holiday tonight, but many of the games will have no bearing on conference races.

Only two leagues are in action. In Wisconsin, Alma, pre-season favorite of the West Central loop but loser of its first three games, goes up against Pepin in the only league contest.

The Hiawatha Valley Conference of Minnesota has two games on tap. Conference pick Kenyon hosts Kasson-Manitouville in its first loop game, and Lake City travels to Zumbrota — both teams sport 1-0 league marks.

The top game of the night will see two conference choices going against each other. Powerful Peterson of the Root River circuit travels to once-beaten Lanesboro, favorite in the Maple Lea. Conference. In other games involving teams from the two circuits, Mabel is at Harmony, Spring Grove travels to Spring Valley, Preston hosts Canton, Wykoff travels outside the two conferences to Le Roy and Chatfield entertains Elkton. Several West Central teams are in non-conference action. Fairchild, which boasts a surprisingly high scoring offense, entertains Fall Creek. Alma Central goes to Taylor, and Gilman tries for its first win when Lewiston invades.

In other Wisconsin games, Eleva-Strum and Arcadia vie at the Raiders' home court. Mondovi tries to gain revenge at Spring Valley. Prescott hosts Durand. Bangor tries for its third in a row at Westby, and Mindoro will go for the same against Onalaska Luther.

Caledonia Loretto journeys to the corn state of Iowa for a fray with Lansing St. George. Lima Sacred Heart will face Plum City on the Redmen's home court, and Wabasha St. Felix takes on Rochester Lourdes. Rollingstone Holy Trinity is at Elgin in another game involving a Bi-State team.

The lone other contest in the area has Centennial loop defending champion Goodhue at Pine Island.
