HAPPY ENDING . . . Frank Sinatra Jr., 19, hugs his mother, Nancy, right, and sister, Tina, as he meets newsmen for the first time since he was released by his abductors. At the news conference outside his mother's Bel-Air mansion he had this reaction to being kidnaped: "I was scared." Although young Sinatra described his emotions, he declined any details of the ordeal, saying he couldn't discuss it until the FBI completes questioning him. (AP Photofax)

"The David Rabinovitz appointment will perish with this session of Congress," said Sen. Samuel J. Ervin, D-N.C., whose Senate Judiciary subcommittee had had the nomination for two months without taking action.

Other sources indicated that Rabinovitz, a Sheboygan, Wis., attorney, still has a chance for the judgeship if President Johnson intervenes. There was no indication of what action he might take on the appointment by the late President Kennedy.

Johnson Asks New Look at U.S. Budgets

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has directed all federal departments and agencies to take another look at their budgets to determine what cuts can be made for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This was disclosed today by press secretary Pierre Salinger. Salinger said Johnson directed that reports on possible cuts be made to Budget Director Kermit Gordon by 6 p.m. Friday.

Salinger repeated earlier statements that Johnson hopes to keep the budget somewhere between $98 and $103 billion. All departments and agency heads were directed to reexamine the appropriations, expenditures and employment figures contained in their tentative proposals for the new fiscal year. In addition, they were told to specify possible further cuts in appropriations and personnel, along with steps that might be taken to tighten up management policies to save money.

Vast Storm Spreads Over Northern U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A vast snow storm spread a blanket of white across wide areas in the northern half of the nation today from the Rockies into the Northeast.

Subzero cold added misery to the pre-winter storm in many parts of the Midwest. No immediate general break in the wintry weather was indicated in the snow-covered North Central region and heavy snow headed into Northeast sections. Blizzard conditions were indicated in the Dakotas, Minnesota and parts of eastern Montana.

The storm, striking 10 days before the start of the winter season, swept eastward from the midlands. Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings were issued for northeastern New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and northern New England, with amounts ranging up to a half-foot.

The current storm, which developed in the southern Rockies, was blamed for at least 11 traffic deaths, including four in Oklahoma which was hit hard by heavy snow and gusty winds. Five persons were killed in traffic accidents in Illinois and two in Iowa.

Bill Expanding Peace Corps Goes To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today and sent to the White House a bill authorizing a major expansion of the Peace Corps.

The action was taken by voice vote, and without debate, on a routine call of the calendar of unopposed measures. The bill authorizes an appropriation of $102 million for the corps for the current fiscal year.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver testified last week that plans call for having some 11,300 volunteers in service by the end of next August. Congress appropriated $59 million for the corps last year. Funds for the corps will be included in a catch-all appropriation bill, which also will provide appropriations for the foreign aid program.

The Peace Corps is operating in 46 countries, and has turned down or postponed requests from about 30 other nations, Shriver said at the time.

Lack of Plan For Clean River Charged

RED WING, Minn. (AP) — A privately organized group pushing for a cleaner Mississippi River said today there is an "appalling lack of program" in state agencies charged with curtailing pollution.

The Upper Mississippi Pollution Control Committee made the charge in a summary of a conference at Wabasha, Minn., Nov. 2. State officials were invited to the meeting to tell about river plans.

"We invited them to Wabasha to hear their plans for cleaning up the Mississippi, and instead they offered us a long list of excuses and explanations," said the committee.

"From nobody did we hear a clear, coherent statement of how a clean Mississippi should be achieved."

The committee outlined a three-pronged line of attack it said is necessary to end pollution on the river:

1. A state pollution control agency with a full-time staff of "crusaders" for clean water.
2. A policy statement by a state pollution group, setting a goal of having all waste treatment aimed at leaving river waters as near their original state of cleanliness as possible.
3. State action to set specific standards on the entire river that will be high enough to maintain normal recreational activities and healthful conditions.

Houston Board Moves Ahead On Shed Plan

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — The Houston County Board of Commissioners Wednesday passed a resolution to petition the board of managers of the Crooked Creek Watershed to proceed to establish floodwater retarding and stream bank control structures as provided by the watershed law.

After receipt of the petition, the managers will hire appraisers to view property damaged by floodwater and expected benefits from a watershed project to establish the ratio of cost to benefit.

A PUBLIC hearing will be held following the report of the appraisers. The estimate of construction costs is $626,000.

A one-mile tax will be placed on property owners in the watershed for administrative purposes.

Wilfred Pohlman, chairman of the watershed, and Clarence Eikens were re-appointed to the board of managers for three years.

The watershed committee met this afternoon to discuss progress of the program.

Most Highway Work Stops

This area's unusually long highway construction season finally is coming to a close with the arrival of snow and lower temperatures.

Henry C. Kraus, resident engineer here for the Minnesota Highway Department, said this morning that only limited operations are in progress on Interstate 90 in the southern end of the county. Sandrock excavation is still going on, he said, but will have to stop when the ground freezes completely. He said he expected the work to continue only another week or two.

North of Winona, work on two projects — a total of 8.4 miles of roadwork — is shutting down today. Kraus said. The construction zones are on Trunk Highway 61 from Minnesota City to Minneapolis.

S. J. Groves & Sons Co., Minneapolis is the prime contractor on the 8.6-mile stretch south of here. Johnson Brothers Highway and Heavy Construction, Inc., also of Minneapolis, is prime contractor on the two Minnesota City-Minneapolis projects.

He was arrested by Sheriff George Port July 28 at his home. The alleged incident occurred on the morning of July 27 in the rural Dakota area.

Ziemer has been free on $1,000 bail since shortly after his arrest. S. A. Sawyer, county attorney, represented the state Wednesday.

Blizzard-like NW Wind To Blow Light Snow Tonight

A major snowstorm moving across the central states kept a predicted cold wave from the north from reaching Winona Wednesday night but in its stead dumped nearly five inches of snow on the city.

And for tonight the Weather Bureau predicts blizzard conditions as northwest winds of 20 to 40 miles an hour pass through Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin, causing considerable drifting.

A LOW OF ZERO to 10 above is foreseen for tonight and a high of 10-15 with partly cloudy conditions Friday. No precipitation of any consequence and a little warmer is the outlook for Saturday.

The Old Farmer's Almanac was on the nose with its prediction for Dec. 10-13 with two words: "Big storm." Possibly stormy is its forecast for Dec. 15-18.

Last night's snowfall was the first of any consequence this fall and the greatest since 7.5 inches fell last March 6.

Instead of the below zero weather predicted for the area, Winona escaped with a nighttime low of 12 after a Wednesday afternoon high of 24. At noon today the reading was 15.

MAIN HIGHWAYS in Minnesota and Wisconsin were snow-packed and slippery today, highway departments of both states reported.

Even the big interstate highways were reported snow-packed and hazardous in the passing lane with scattered slippery spots in the driving lane. Hills and curves were being sanded today.

Only six Wisconsin counties failed to report snow this morning. Fog prevailed on some highways, especially Interstate 94 in the vicinity of Hudson, Wis.

The Lady Linda, the last towboat of the season headed for Winona, departed from Lock 9 at Linksview, Wis., at 11:20 this morning, about 80 miles from Winona. The tow is expected to arrive here sometime Friday.

Cold weather gripped the Winona area a year ago today when the high was zero and the low 9 below. The alltime high for Dec. 12 was 54 in 1913 and the low -11 in 1903. The mean temperature for the past 24 hours was 18. Normal for this day is 21.

BLIZZARD conditions were expected in much of Minnesota late today and tonight as harsh northerly winds whipped up fresh snow.

Snow amounts were expected to be small, but temperatures will continue at some of the lowest levels of the season over the entire area.

Duluth and Bemidji, Minn., reported 6 below early today.

Blowing snow had advanced over much of North Dakota this forenoon.

Winds of 30 to 45 miles per hour were forecast for Minnesota, with low temperatures tonight of 10 below to 10 above.

The South Dakota Highway Department advised against travel in the Black Hills because of poor visibility.

In Saskatchewan, winds up to 70 miles an hour roared across the prairies in the worst storm of the season.

Nearby Rochester reported a morning reading of zero after a high of 19 Wednesday and La Crosse had figures of 12 and 22 for the same times.

The weatherman set a Christmas mood for WISCONSIN today with a snowfall that ranged up to eight inches or more. The mood of motorists wasn't quite so good.

Driving was hazardous, especially in the southern part of the state, early today, but conditions were improving during the morning.

Looming beyond the horizon, however, were blizzard conditions that were expected to move into the western part of Wisconsin by tonight. The entire state was expected to get more snow.

The Milwaukee area received the heaviest snow in the 24-hour period ending at daybreak today. The suburb of Shorewood had 8.2 inches, Mequon seven inches, and General Mitchell Field six.

THE SOUTHWESTERN corner of the state and Beloit had five inches, Burlington and Racine four, La Crosse three, Superior and Madison two and Green Bay one. No new snow was reported at Eau Claire, Wausau and Park Falls.

Corpus Christi, Tex., the warmest spot in the nation Wednesday with 90 and Craig, Colo., the coldest early today with 13 below.

The Case for Putting 5-Cent Stamp on Card

Persons pining for an old-fashioned Christmas can have their wish come true just as quick as a lick — simply by putting 5-cent stamps on their Christmas cards.

"People sending Christmas cards today at the 5-cent first class rate pay the same to mail Christmas greetings as Americans did well over a century ago," Winona Postmaster John Dugan said.

"Research shows that in 1847 the post office department issued its first stamps, including a nickel stamp for the basic prepaid letter rate," he continued.

Dugan pointed out that a nickel was worth considerably more in 1847 than it is now. Just since 1932, he said, living costs have gone up more than 100 percent, while the cost of mailing a first class letter has increased by only 2 cents.

The moral to the story? Use 5-cent stamps on your Christmas cards. This permits forwarding or return of the mail when necessary and allows a handwritten message on the card. It also speeds delivery, Dugan said.

Kellogg Driver Charged After Highway Crash

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — A 68-year-old Kellogg man is scheduled to appear before R. C. Schurhammer, Wabasha justice of the peace, on or before Monday on a charge of failure to yield right of way.

John F. McNary had just been at a Kellogg service station to have liquid spray applied to his windshield, which was covered with frost. He was crossing Highway 61 to park his vehicle. He didn't notice Robert H. Buettner, 26, Milwaukee, who was driving south on the highway.

Buettner attempted to avoid a collision by turning left but the front fenders of the two cars hit. Neither man was injured but damage to the vehicles was between $150 and $200, according to Dale Roehrich, Wabasha, of the Highway Patrol. The accident happened at 9:30 a.m.

Car Skids Passing Bus on Highway 43

An Evanston, Ill., youth lost control of his car on Highway 43, about three miles west of here, at 4:35 p.m. Wednesday as he was passing a school bus.

Sheriff George Fort said that Bradley G. Fossler, 19, was not injured, but that his car had about $300 damage.

Sheriff Fort said that Fossler was driving east on the highway, speeded up to pass the bus and lost control of the car. The car slid around in the opposite direction and skidded along the south guardrail.

Downtown Parking Prohibited Tonight After 11 O'clock

Downtown streets will be posted tonight for snow removal, Street Commissioner Arthur Brom said today. Crews will work from 11 p.m. until 7 a.m.

In addition to the downtown grid, both municipal parking lots will be posted. Cars left standing in the areas will be towed away at owners' expense, Brom said.

Work will cover 2nd and 4th streets, from Huff to Franklin Street; 3rd Street, Huff to Liberty; all north-south streets, Huff to Franklin inclusive, between 4th Street and the Mississippi River; Main and Center streets, between 4th and 5th.

Motor patrols were out today at 3 a.m., Brom said, plowing a five-inch snowfall off arterial streets. The balance of department equipment went out at 4 a.m. Brom said special efforts were made to clear downtown metered areas for the convenience of shoppers.

Crews will continue working today and through the night, Brom said. Their operations will be speeded considerably and a more thorough job can be done if motorists will keep cars off streets as much as possible, the commissioner said.

Glasgow Township Farm Land Sold At County Auction

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — Most of the forfeited tax lands sold at auction here Wednesday represented right of way of the old Midland Division of the Milwaukee Railroad, Wilbur Koelme, Wabasha County auditor, said this morning.

The branch ran from Wabasha to Faribault and was known as the "Bug Line." Located west in Glasgow Township, the land was purchased by adjacent farmers.

The 25 small parcels ranged from 2/10 of an acre to nine acres. All but eight were sold. The land went at $5 an acre, as appraised by the county commissioners.

After that, he'll have to hop in his sleigh and head back for the North Pole. After all, who has more last-minute preparations to make than Santa Claus?

Vehicles Collide At Intersection

West Howard and Harriet streets was the scene of a car-station wagon collision which occurred at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday.

The station wagon, driven by Dr. Sidney O. Hughes, 550 W. Wabasha St., was traveling south on Harriet Street and the car was driven by Perry E. King, 21, Owatonna, Minn., west on Howard Street, according to police.

Damage was more than $100 to each vehicle. Both vehicles skidded on ice and snow before the collision, police said.

Husband Does 'Free' Singing

By EARL WILLSON

NEW YORK — The Beautiful Wife and I went to a Sunday night Broadway opening — very rare in our town — and my, oh, my, the things we saw.

Rosemary Clooney was enormously proud of her husband Jose Ferrer's singing in "The Girl Who Came To Supper" — she spoke of it at a first-nighters' party afterward at the Hotel Plaza.

"Joe's studied hard . . . he's a true singer . . . a wonderful singer!" Miss Clooney, quite a singer herself, said.

"So which one of you sings at home?" I asked.

"Joe does!" she exclaimed.

"You know I never sang a note in my life for nothing. I'm so commercial, I wouldn't even sing in the bath unless I'm paid for it."

While Ferrer's in the show, Miss Clooney's still living in Hollywood, but, she said, "I'll get the troops together and come here 10 strong for Christmas."

"Ten strong?" I said. "Who are the 10?"

"Well, first there are the five children . . .

THERE WAS just no doubt about it, in our mind, that lovely Florence Henderson is the Mary Martin of tomorrow. What a lovely doll (mother of two!)

Right at the beginning, things didn't go off well.

The orchestra finished playing the overture — and we waited — but the curtain didn't go up. There was a dreadful pause . . . there was talking heard on stage behind the curtain. Somebody even said there was swearing heard there.

It could have been.

Because just at the precise second the curtain was supposed to go up, there was a power failure . . . perhaps a fuse blown out, something of that kind . . . Maybe 40 seconds later . . . it was o.k., and the curtain rose. "You die a thousand deaths in those few seconds," Noel Coward the author, with Harry Kurnitz, said. "Still I had something worse in another show. 'Cavalcade' . . . There was a nine-minute wait while a lift was repaired that had been broken. And that show ran two years. I regard it as some sort of a good omen . . .

IT RAINS, of course, on the famous, just as on the non-famous and the infamous . . . and there was a cloudburst that hit Celebrity Corner, at 53d & Broadway, just as the dressy Sunday night crowd was getting out of the Broadway Theater where "The Girl Who Came to Supper" opened.

Before the rain, I heard two people behind me in the lobby exclaiming about the celebs . . . Mary Martin, Joan Fontaine, Lena Horne, Claudette Colbert, Lisa Kirk, Peggy Cass, and Tammy Grimes.

"I don't see Tammy Grimes!" exclaimed one voice. "Where is she? How does she look?"

"Frowzled," replied the other voice . . . and as I say, that was BEFORE the rain when things were dry and orderly.

Bernard Baruch often keeps his overcoat on in a theater — to help an ailing shoulder which needs be kept warm . . . Democratic Forecast: Richard Nixon can run against President Johnson and then join Gov. Dewey's law firm . . . The Hawaiian Room's Waikiki beauties are pushing a new dance from Tahiti called "Tamure" which Paris loves already and is supposed to replace the Twist.

Bob Orben suspects a tinge of commercialism has crept into Christmas: "I got a greeting card from my building superintendent — and there was a business reply envelope in it." That's earl, brother.

Buddhist Burns Self to Death

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A 22-year-old Buddhist monk burned himself to death on the grounds of a religious pagoda in coastal Binh Dinh Province Monday, the official Viet Nam Presse reported today.

The report said the suicide was an "oblation," an offering for religious or charitable purposes. It did not explain further.

Viet Nam Presse said the monk, whose name was not given, poured gasoline over his robes and set them afire.

It was the 11th suicide by fire in South Viet Nam this year.

They'll Do It Every Time

Voice of the Outdoors

Seven Deer. — 21 Hunters. An outstanding record for archery was established at the Necedah National Wildlife Refuge last Saturday when 21 members of the Winona Bowhunters Club bagged seven deer, or one deer for every three bowhunters. They drove down Saturday morning, returning the same evening with their deer.

One of the animals, a 200-pound buck, had a trophy rack of antlers. The ten pointer was bagged early in the day by Robert Fratzke, 1077 E. Wabasha St., who is holding the head of the deer in the above picture.

Another unusual feature of the hunt was that Carl Fratzke, 878 E. Broadway, Bob's father, also got a deer, a nice doe which he is back of in the picture. The Fratzke father and son team of bowhunters have been active members of the club for a number of years. Bob has shot seven deer in five years and Carl three deer in the same number of years bowhunting.

Others in the party Saturday who bagged deer were Stanley Ledebuhr, Gilmore Ave., Edward Jerowski, 315 E. 2nd St., Dick Weinmann, 515 E. 3rd St., John Heasler, Goodview, and Lyle Haney, 617 E. Mark St. They all bagged does.

It is needless to say that the group found hunting conditions for bowhunting nearly perfect, deer plentiful, and the weather good. Those bowhunters going to Camp Mc Coy on Sunday found deer very wary. The area apparently had been heavily hunted during the recent rifle season.

Water Temperature. There is something new under the sun each day. Today we received a release from an outboard motor company giving the results of winter fishing studies by a group of fishing experts. The release states:

"If the temperatures below the surface of the water got as much attention as the wintry weather above, more anglers would catch more fish.

Assassination Broke Indians Into Tears

THE GRAVE concern and sense of loss which the citizens of India felt at the assassination of President Kennedy has been sharply revealed in a letter received by Brother Gregory, president of St. Mary's College, from the father of a St. Mary's student. Dated at Thodupuzha, Kerala, India, Dec. 2, it was as follows:

"THE FRONT page news in our morning papers on 23-11-63 broke us into tears. President Kennedy was a great friend and benefactor to the whole world particularly to India. The sweet memories of the unprecedented jubilation of the visit last year of Mrs. Kennedy are still fresh in our minds and the unconfirmed reports in the Indian press indicating the possibility of President Kennedy visiting our country early next year had already generated in our minds the thrill of a great event when the sad news bolted in, shocking the whole nation.

"His death is regarded as a national calamity in India as much as it is to you. 'Kennedy' is a familiar name in every household and no foreign personality has endeared himself so much to the people of India collectively and individually.

"PRESIDENT KENNEDY, like many great men of history has fallen a martyr to a noble cause. A great man who held so admirably the reins of administration of a great country that holds the key to the peace and prosperity of the whole world, he has left us at a time when we can least afford to suffer the same.

"In the pantheon of American Presidents, he will be placed in the same niche as Abraham Lincoln; but in the galaxy of American Presidents, acknowledgedly attaining such eminence in so short a period at so young an age, he is without a parallel.

"MY SON Cyriac has written to me his deep sense of grief which he shares with you all and also sent me cuttings of press photos from American papers, many of which have already appeared in the Indian press. Prayers were offered in our parish church as also in other churches for the soul of the departed President.

"His death has been mourned at public meetings held under various auspices not only in important cities in India but also in towns and villages throughout our country. As a beneficiary of the hospitality of your country where my son is receiving his education and my daughter had a short career, I have deep sense of personal sorrow and I associate myself with you and St. Mary's in your grief and join with you in your prayers that God might vouchsafe President Kennedy eternal bliss.

"Yours sincerely,
"C. Devasia Kappan."

Succession Reform Demands Attention

ONE MIGHT casually suppose that President Johnson's agreement with Speaker McCormack regarding succession in case of presidential disability had pretty much settled the matter for the time being. The fact is that this agreement, though laudable as far as it goes, does not get at the root of the succession problem.

Several factors make the agreement, which follows the line established by the Eisenhower-Nixon agreement and continued between President Kennedy and the then vice president, less than adequate. One of these factors is the stature of McCormack himself. The speaker, soon to be 72 years old, would not rank high on any list of say the dozen ablest men in Washington.

TWO OTHER important factors have to do with the conditions of the agreement, rather than with personalities. Since the Constitution bars a member of Congress from holding any other office, if the President were disabled the speaker could take over as acting president only after resigning irrevocably from Congress. This would add to the burden of deciding when to step in, and if the disability turned out to be brief the speaker would be paying a big price for doing his duty.

Also significant is the fact that, though next in line, the speaker cannot work as closely with the President as the potential successor should. The separation of the legislative and executive branches of government makes this impossible. The practical result is that the speaker cannot be as well informed about administration policy as a vice president working closely with the President could be.

THESE CONSIDERATIONS, and others, point to the need for reform in our system of presidential succession. The matter should not be dropped again, but should be pursued while it is fresh in the public mind.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Mrs. Loomis read aloud a newspaper item about a movie patron who arose from his seat while viewing a picture and shot himself. "Hmm," mused Mr. Loomis. "I believe I saw that picture!"

A hen observed the undisciplined behavior of her youngest chick with obvious disapproval. "If your father could see you now," she cackled disgustedly, "he'd turn over in his grave."

What manner of child shall this be? Blessed be the Lord God of Israel: for he hath visited and redeemed his people. Luke 1:68, 69.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Speaker Given Secret Reports

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's action to bring the next man in line for the presidency, Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, into the highly secret National Security Council puts a Speaker of the House for the first time into the most intimate war-and-peace deliberations of this government.

It will do a great deal more, however, than this. It enormously increases Speaker McCormack's real power base outside Congress, and most notably within it. There, a quietly gathering "revolt" by a handful of ultra-liberal Democrats against McCormack's authority had been signaled several weeks ago by some of those directly involved.

THIS WHISPERED COMING palace revolution — or, more exactly, this potential putsch of good intentions and disorderly implications for responsible operation of the House — may now be said to be doubly dead before it started. Its chances had in any event been thin in the extreme, since a very considerable number of those counted upon to be eager to "go out against John" were in fact always loyal to his elected leadership and meant to remain so.

Now, however, the substantial certainty that the Speaker could not be effectively challenged by small rump movements within his own party has become an absolute certainty. For power is power, and while McCormack is in no way short of that commodity simply as Speaker of the House, he is now amply reaped by the fact that in human truth as well as in law he is the next man to the Presidency of the United States.

THAT OFFICIAL who is truly next to the President — this or any other President — is not lightly rebelled against. Even less is he successfully rebelled against.

All this aborted and minor cloak-and-dagger stuff is only accidental and incidental, however, to the true meaning of Speaker McCormack's elevation into a second hierarchy, that of the executive branch. The genuine and lasting significance of what has been done is this: The United States has made certain before history that there cannot again be such a situation as occurred when Franklin Roosevelt died in 1945 and left his successor without any real knowledge of what had been going on in the White House.

OF COURSE, there was then an elected and sitting vice president, Harry S. Truman. But Mr. Truman had to assume the presidency at a moment's notice in almost total ignorance of what his late chief had been doing and thinking and planning and promising. Because he had not been taken into Mr. Roosevelt's confidence — perhaps because of the cruel pressures of a two-front war — Harry Truman had not even been aware that something called an atomic bomb had been made.

The failure was one of liaison. All the same, it could have been catastrophically costly to this nation had not Mr. Truman shown an almost incredible capacity to bring himself abreast of the state of affairs all around the world. He soon pointed out that he had no vice president at his side and that as matters then stood, the presidency would pass to a non-elected official, the secretary of state, should he himself suddenly become incapacitated.

Rather expensive riding at that rate, we should judge.

Oppenheimer Gets the Surprise of His Life

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, the atomic scientist, got the surprise of his life during a recent White House reception when he saw his old foe and critic, Dr. Edward Teller, waiting to greet him.

It was Teller who helped drive Oppenheimer out of the atomic energy program on the ground that he was a security risk. He was the most damaging witness at the long and dramatic hearings conducted under Admiral Lewis Strauss, then AEC chairman, regarding the loyalty of the man who built the first atomic bomb.

That testimony and the findings of the commission began a long ordeal for Oppenheimer. He retired to Princeton, remained in obscurity, was considered by many dishonored and disgraced.

But shortly before President Kennedy was killed, he moved to restore Oppenheimer's name. As a senator, Kennedy had been opposed to the witch hunt. He felt that the nation needed a gesture to help end the decade of hate and suspicion. So, as one of his last acts, he nominated Oppenheimer for the highest nuclear honor in the nation, the Enrico Fermi medal.

One of President Johnson's first acts was to present the award to Oppenheimer.

Scientist friends of Oppenheimer at the White House reception never dreamed Dr. Teller would be present. He was automatically invited as a previous Fermi Award winner and stood for a time at the end of the refreshment table munching hors d'oeuvres. Suddenly, seeing the news photographers unlimbering their cameras, he bolted toward Oppenheimer, elbowing his way through a knot of well-wishers. Teller grabbed Oppenheimer's hand just as the flash bulbs started popping.

The startled Oppenheimer stared in disbelief as the man who had helped drive him from government offered his congratulations.

IT'S BEGINNING to look as if Congress's most notable accomplishment this year may be to raise the salaries of its members from $22,500 to $35,000 per year.

This would seem a poor time for them to vote themselves a pay raise, as they wind up the lengthiest but least productive session in history. Furthermore, their present pay may seem ample to most voters. However, it is less than most congressmen could command in law, industry, or commerce, and their responsibilities are greater than men who are paid far more.

This column must report, in all fairness, that congressmen have special expenses, must maintain residences both at home and in Washington, shuttling constantly back and forth. Only three round trips a year are paid for by the taxpayers.

MEMBERS OF Congress are also expected to donate generously to charities, to entertain frequently, and face the ever pressing need of financing the next campaign.

The truth is that an honest congressman has a tough time meeting his bills on $22,500 a year. Since most are honest, they are forced by their low pay to seek outside revenue from law firms and business investments.

Not all are as Spartan as Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., who has set a $2.50 limit on gifts he will accept or allow his staff to accept.

On his few official trips abroad, he insists on traveling tourist class. He caused a flap in the State Department, for instance, by demanding to stay in a modest hotel in Munich. The diplomats wanted him to stay in the best hotel, as befitting his standing. But Douglas got his way.

FEW ARE as frugal as Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., who rides to work on a bus, eats in the cut-rate senate cafeteria, and scrimps in order to make ends meet.

He is forced to draw on his savings, accumulated from his former law practice, in order to stay in the Senate.

What Made Oswald Kill?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The search continues in a distraught world for clues to the terrible behavior of Lee Harvey Oswald. The effort to pin the blame on this or that trend in modern life befalls the truth. For this case is like tens of thousands of others, and never would have attracted worldwide attention if the crime had not taken the life of a president of the United States.

Indeed the medical books are full of histories of illnesses with similar climaxes that have resulted in suicide or homicide after a life of seeming helplessness and frustration. To attribute Oswald's act to the atmosphere created by a "right wing" or "left wing" movement or to a "hate" group or to some foreign ideology or country is to fail to see the forest for the trees. Too often there is a tendency to blame society as a whole for the sins of omission which characterize the lives of individuals as opportunities to help troubled and distressed persons in the community are lost by many of us.

The evidence gathered thus far shows that Oswald had an unhappy life. Family unity was broken before his birth with the death of his father. The young man seemed to lead a purposeless existence. He enlisted in the Marine Corps. He was guilty of misdeeds and twice court-martialed. He was finally discharged in 1959 with dishonor.

All this left a tragic mark on him. He started to read books about Communism.

He went to Russia, denounced his own country and asked the Soviet government for citizenship, which was refused. He married a Russian girl, Lawrence there and then asked for money so he could get passage back to America. In pity, he was helped by the American embassy. But after this he seems to have been abandoned. He tried to find a job. He didn't seem to fit into anything. He was short in stature, too, and probably had an inferiority complex about this.

THE BOOKS Oswald read when he came back to America were critical of Communism. But he also read a book on the assassination of Gov. Huey Long in Louisiana. Oswald now was living in New Orleans. He sought prominence. He wanted to be conspicuous. He distributed in public places some pro-Castro literature. He imagined he could start a "Fair Play for Cuba" committee by himself. All this was perhaps a manifestation of a feeling of inferiority. Even as a prisoner last Sunday as he was being moved from one jail to the other he wanted his picture taken — to be televised — and said so.

A confused mind certainly must have led Oswald to try to return to Russia. He went to Mexico City a few weeks ago to seek a passport via Cuba. But this was refused. Possible he wanted to isolate himself in Russia, where his wife's family lived. He returned to Dallas more frustrated than before and perhaps even more desperate about his future. He got an unimportant job in a warehouse. He was bitter about his fate. The rifle which he purchased by mail may not have been immediately connected with a plot to kill anyone. His service in the Marine Corps undoubtedly made him yearn for opportunities to practice his marksmanship.

AT WHAT moment the decision came to commit murder will never be known. His pent-up resentment against the Navy Department because the Marine Corps gave him a dishonorable discharge may have made him resentful at Gov. Connally, a former secretary of the Navy, and against the President, too, as the head of the government that he felt had grievously injured him.

What is the moral which such a record so familiar in psychiatric cases presents to us? Can guilt be transferred to a society as a whole? Of what avail is it to cry out that public controversies with their bitterness gave rise to this crime which shocked the whole world? The absence of impassioned debates on public questions could hardly have changed the long history of this mentally disturbed man.

Oswald, to be sure, read not only the pro-Communist literature but also the books critical of Communism. He was a confused man, and neither American nor foreign political issues produced that confusion in the first place. He was the victim of an unhappy life. He was a man deserted and isolated. It's a familiar story of what brings on mental depression. Friends can be helpful, as the medical books tell us. But in our self-centered lives, where time is so precious, there is a tendency to pass by the broken-down human beings who need every day the warmth of human love and understanding and finally, if all else fails, the benefits of psychiatric treatment and even hospital care.

THE STORIES of the tragic end of disordered minds have been told many times. Similar incidents are happening all around us every day, even within families as husbands or wives commit murder and sons or daughters resort to the weapons of death.

Maybe since the assassination of President Kennedy has aroused such worldwide sorrow, it will also focus attention on the case of the madman and bring about intensive studies of these crimes. In our other wise busy and preoccupied society, constructive help to prevent such tragedies might be extended by friends and neighbors as they come to learn more about the potential dangers in these cases. Maybe a wider knowledge of such matters by people generally might have saved President Kennedy's life and also the life of Oswald, whose wife and children now face a dismal future.

DODGED DODGE CITY

DODGE, CITY, Kan. (AP) — A group of Japanese officials touring Kansas were presented souvenirs at a civic luncheon here.

The souvenirs — statuettes of a Dodge City cowboy — carried the inscription, "Dodge City, Cowboy Capital of the World."

On the back of each was the inscription, "Made in Japan."

INAUSPICIOUS BEGINNING

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — John A. Johnson is director of health, physical education and athletics for the Des Moines Public Schools.

He had been asked to appear before a meeting of the school board. His first words before he presented a report on the progress of the physical fitness program in the schools were:

"You folks don't mind if I sit down, do you?"

1,000 Visit New Lake City Plant

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special)—Despite stormy weather Sunday and chilly temperatures Monday, about 1,000 stockholders and guests attended the open house held by the B. W. Harris Manufacturing Co. on its first anniversary in the new building constructed by the Lake City Industrial Development Corp.

The manufacturers of Zero King sportswear occupy a 240-by-125-foot building constructed for them at a cost of about $200,000. Some 65-80 work here; most of them women.

Tours were conducted through the plant by Herman Illions, manager and superintendent. Visitors saw the various procedures from arrival of the material, spreading it on tables, cutting, sewing, pressing, final inspection, and packing in boxes or on hangers for shipment. Summer wear is being manufactured now.

Sherman Surdin, company vice president and head designer in the St. Paul plant, was here for the open house. Mrs. Clara Flug is local factory supervisor.

Employees of the factory were hostesses at the buffet supper served to guests. Mrs. Julia Anderson and Mrs. Mary Behrens served punch. Mrs. Edward Fetter was in charge of the guest book.

The development corporation, Chamber of Commerce, the bank and other business establishments sent flowers. The building is being leased by the development group to the company.

LAKE CITY INDUSTRY . . . The B. W. Harris Co. came to Lake City from St. Paul in 1949 to make sportswear. Last year the local development corporation constructed this 240- by 125-foot, $200,000 building for it. Cars of some of the 65-80 employees are in the parking lot. (Mrs. Corleus photos)

Fischer Quints Will All Be Home Christmas

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—The Fischer quintuplets, three months old next Saturday, probably will all be home for Christmas.

Arrangements are being made for two of the four girls to go home Saturday noon. James Andrew, the only boy, went home Nov. 30. The other girls should go home soon, too.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer, are acquiring more domestic help for their rented home in northeast Aberdeen.

James Andrew went home when he weighed 10 pounds, 5 ounces. He has been described by the family as "a very good baby." Fischer has said there have been no problems at the Fischer home since the boy left St. Luke's Hospital.

The Fischers have five older children, so if the girls make it home by Christmas it should be a lively holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fischer recently picked out $100 in toys donated by a chain store.

The four girls, still in the hospital nursery, are growing. Latest hospital reports list Mary Ann's weight at 6 pounds, 13 ounces; Mary Magdalene 8-3; Mary Catherine 7-13 and Mary Margaret 8-1.

All are reported doing fine. The quint's father has returned to his job as a shipping clerk in a wholesale grocery warehouse here and at the same pay.

Rhodes Scholarship Candidates Chosen

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota's two candidates for Rhodes scholarships were named Wednesday by a six-member selection board.

They are Arthur H. Ogle, 21, Mankato, senior at Macalester College, and David R. Minge, 21, Worthington, a St. Olaf College senior.

Ogle and Minge will go to Des Moines Saturday to compete with 10 other candidates for the four scholarships available to the Midwest. They provide for two and, perhaps, three years of study at Oxford College in England.

State Grants Water Permit for Taconite Plant

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Final obstacle to construction of a multi-million dollar taconite plant near Eveleth was cleared Wednesday with the granting of a water permit by the state.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag, here for a government procurement conference, said the license would allow Oglebay - Norton Co. of Cleveland, designing the facility, to build a dam and reservoir for use of the waters of the St. Louis River.

Rolvaag said this provided the builders with all essential elements necessary to proceed with construction plans. He cited that the land exchange commission and state water pollution control agencies already had granted requests previously made by the Cleveland firm.

Estimates of cost for a plant expected to produce in excess of two million tons of taconite pellets annually have run between $75 million and $100 million. Basic customer for the production will be the Ford Motor Co., with Oglebay - Norton expected to sell on the open market any surplus beyond the auto maker's needs.

Rolvaag said the new permit would allow the firm to draw 17 cubic feet of water per second from the river through means of a reservoir to be created by a dam near the plant. He said this withdrawal would not materially affect the stream flow.

The license also requires that Oglebay - Norton release from the reservoir 20 cubic feet of water per second, when there is that amount available.

The governor explained that the storage area would be large enough to insure that, even if water entering the reservoir was reduced to a trickle by drought, the minimum outflow still could be maintained for a considerable time.

The permit provides that the company must prevent the trapping of fish in isolated pools near the reservoir by insuring that such areas are connected to the reservoir, or main stream of the river, by ditches.

✓ 1963 Box Score: FORD'S TOTAL PERFORMANCE TOUGHNESS DOMINATES THE COMPETITION WORLD!

Ford has chosen the most rugged testing program cars have ever faced . . . full-scale open competition on the rally and racing circuits of the world. This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed . . . and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing. Changed? Just look at the record:

STOCK CAR RACING:

2-to-1 margin for Ford Ford is king of NASCAR competition and Ford Motor Company has the NASCAR Achievement Award to prove it. In the '63 season, special Ford entries won every single race of 500 miles or longer, scored nearly twice as many points as any other make. 500 mile races are the ultimate test of inherent durability and dependability. In two other major stock car racing associations IMCA and MARC, Ford drivers have wrapped up the 1963 championships.

SPORTS CAR ROAD RACING:

Ford V-8 power is the new king Here the Cobra with its special Fairlane engine emerged as the overwhelming leader in one short year. Cobra won the coveted Manufacturer's Trophy in SCCA Class A Production competition by so wide a margin no other cars—U.S. or foreign—were even in sight. And in the two major tests this fall, the Laguna Seca and Riverside races, the new King Cobras dusted off the top "unlimited" cars from all over the world.

RALLY COMPETITION:

Manufacturer's Championship Products of Ford Motor Company and its world-wide affiliates won the 1963 Manufacturer's World Rally Championship. Ford's rally year began when two specially equipped Falcon V-8's startled the automotive world in the brutal 2500-mile Monte Carlo Rally. Other special Falcon V-8's triumphed in Holland's famed Tulip Rally, and ran away with the Manufacturer's Team Frite in the 4000-mile Trans-Canada Rally.

INDIANAPOLIS:

Ford ends an era Advanced Ford engineering smashed precedent in the classic Indianapolis "500." The first time out, a light alloy version of the Fairlane V-8 design in a Lotus chassis finished second. And the next time, in the Milwaukee "200" it ended the reign of the traditional "indy" racing car by leading every foot of the way from start to finish.

PERFORMANCE & ECONOMY:

New laurels for Ford The Mobil Economy Run underscored Falcon's year-long reputation for thrift—a Falcon scored first in Class B (medium-engined compacts). And the Pure Oil Performance Trials brought laurels to the big Fords, which walked off with overall wins in Classes 1 and 11 for total performance (economy, acceleration and braking).

✓ 1964 Result: TOTAL PERFORMANCE INSPIRES THE TOUGHEST, SMARTEST CARS FORD EVER BUILT!

Fords have changed—and that's the real reason behind Ford's racing successes. We're now making the longest lasting, best handling cars in our history. The things we've learned from the specially equipped cars we enter in open competition have helped make them that way.

The inherent qualities that make the victorious racing car—road-holding, braking, durability, precision control, resistance to vibration—also make a car safer, stronger, and smoother for highway use.

But prove it to yourself. Take the wheel of any new Ford. Five minutes on the road will show you the kind of total performance no one else can match.

Fillmore Co. Board Asks Printing Bids

PRESTON, Minn. — The Fillmore County Board of Commissioners Tuesday authorized Auditor Charles Michener to advertise for bids for printing in 1964 and handled other annual business.

Bids will be received until 2 p.m. Jan. 7 for the official publication of the commissioner proceedings and other notices, printing the financial statement, delinquent tax list, etc.

THE AUDITOR also will advertise for gasoline, diesel fuel and furnace oil needs for next year, most of it for the highway department. The courthouse here is heated by gas, with standby oil furnace. The highway department has eight patrol buildings in this largest county south of the Minnesota River.

Ardell Helland, Whalan, was hired as a skilled laborer with the highway department effective Dec. 1. He will be on six months probation. There are about 40 employees in the highway department, including the engineer and office staff. The county has 400 miles of county roads to maintain, much of it over hilly terrain.

Reuben Elton, Harmony, was reappointed county weed and seed inspector for next year at $10 per diem and 7½ cents a mile.

OSTERUD Agency, Inc., Spring Valley, was authorized to renew the workmen's compensation insurance policy for next year. It covers all county officers and employees.

The county treasurer was authorized to reinvest $60,000 of highway bond money in 90-day U.S. certificates of indebtedness. The money will go toward construction of the new 200-foot, $136,756 bridge on CSAH 8 across the Root River at Lanesboro, work on which will be started after the first of the year.

The highway funds to be invested are from the $350,000 bond issue sold by the county last year for construction of the Lanesboro bridge and the Peterson bridge completed over the Root River this year at a cost of more than $200,000.

A DELEGATION from the Fillmore County Town Officers Association, headed by Lester Gatzke, Wykoff, president, and J. Steven Jones, secretary, Harmony, requested a gas tax allotment to the townships. The county, however, has been instructed by the state not to make gas tax allocations to townships as long as it owes money on past highway work. The $200,000 debt, being paid off over a three-year period, will be retired next year.

The board of auditors will meet at the county auditor's office Dec. 31 at 1 p.m. to receive proposals from banks wishing to become depositories of funds.

Divorce Granted; Criminal Cases Heard by Judge

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) —A divorce was granted and three criminal cases were heard by Judge Leo F. Murphy at the special term of District Court for Houston County here Tuesday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mae Stoddard, 34, La Crescent, was granted a default divorce from Paul Daniel Stoddard, 37, on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. She was given custody of their eight children ranging in age from 2-18, the household goods, attorney fees, and $50 a week support money, to be increased to $60 after certain debts are paid.

JOHN McDonald of Edwards, Halner & McDonald, Ltd., La Crosse, called the plaintiff and two other witnesses. Mrs. Stoddard testified her husband deserted her over a year ago. Marilyn, the plaintiff's daughter, and Mrs. Ruth Stigen, a neighbor, were corroborating witnesses. Mrs. Stigen said she saw Stoddard slapping his wife once.

The couple were married at Black River Falls, Wis., Feb. 8, 1945.

William R. Knee, a minor, 213 Chatfield St., Winona, who previously had pleaded not guilty to a charge of indecent assault, not amounting to rape, changed his plea to guilty. He was released on $1,000 cash bond pending sentencing following a pre-sentence investigation ordered by Judge Murphy. L. L. Roerkohl, Houston County attorney, said Knee had accosted a Houston girl on the highway near Money Creek but was interrupted by two Houston men who came by. The defendant was represented by L. L. Duxbury, Caledonia.

ON MOTION of Robert E. Lee, assistant county attorney, the charges against Jerome Weida and George Wilcox, Houston County, were reduced from indecent assault to contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Weida, represented by Thomas A. Flynn, Houston, will make his plea Jan. 2 and Wilcox will be sentenced that date.

According to information furnished the court, Weida and Wilcox, with two Iowa boys, picked up three Spring Grove girls in that village and took them to a quarry.

The assistant attorney said the two Iowa boys, who had relations with two of the girls, have been sentenced in their home state.

LEE SAID according to information furnished him, Weida had participated in drinking beer with the party and had suggested relations with one of the girls but when she refused, he didn't persist.

Wilcox, 21, the only one of the party not a minor, had purchased beer for the party and driven the car, the prosecutor said. William G. Von Arx, Caledonia, represented Wilcox.

Woman to Mark 93rd Birthday

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special) — Mrs. Maria Kleven, one of 20 residents of the new Tween Convallescent Home, will be 93 Thursday.

Once a midwife in Black Hammer Township where she lived and was a helper in neighboring homes in time of illness, she has been confined to her bed five years following a hip fracture. Time passed more quickly for her when she could read, but a short while ago her eyesight began to fail. She especially enjoyed her Norwegian newspaper, the Decorah Posten.

The former Mrs. Kleven Maria Hoff, she came to Spring Grove from Toten, Norway, making the trip alone at age 17. She was married to Gunder Kleven and they farmed in Black Hammer.

She has two children, Alvin, a bachelor farming on the home place, and a daughter, Mrs. Minnie Baklund, Montevideo, Minn. She has 12 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Mr. Kleven died in 1938 and her older daughter is dead.

Santa Claus Returns Wallet

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When Mrs. Caroline Cogburn answered the telephone today, Santa Claus was on the line.

He had found her wallet and the $43 she had saved to buy gifts for her five youngsters.

An hour later Walter Cooley, 19, showed up with the money. He explained he had spotted the wallet in a shopping center parking lot, where he is working as Santa Claus. Cooley refused a reward.

Despite Suit

TV Tower Base Work Under Way

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — Channel 8's 1,629-foot TV tower at Galesville is approaching reality, although current winter weather will delay erection of the steel tower portion until spring or early summer.

Howard Dahl, manager of the La Crosse station, said WKBT is not a party to the suit brought earlier this year by four Eau Claire flyers against the Wisconsin Aeronautics Commission, Madison, for granting permission for a tower of this height.

IT WILL BE the fifth highest man-made structure in the world. The world's tallest is a 2,063-foot TV tower at Blanchard, N.D.; second is the 1,751-foot structure at Knoxville, Tenn., and third the 1,749-foot TV tower at Columbus, Ga. There's still another tall tower in this country, a 1,676-foot structure at Cape Girardeau, Mo. The Empire State building, New York, is a mere 1,472 feet by comparison, including a 222-foot TV tower.

The Federal Aviation Agency also has granted permission for this tower.

It will soar over Eastside farm, the first farm north of Galesville on Highway 53, east from Gale-Eitrick High School.

Crews are busy pouring concrete for guywire anchors and working on the transmission building. Two groups of workmen are at the site — Peter Nelson Construction Co., La Crosse, and Keller Construction Co., Winona.

Winfel Maswicz is foreman of the La Crosse company which is working a million pounds of cement into nine concrete and steel bases for the guywires and the tower. The anchors are 120 degrees from each other, Al Leeman, La Crosse engineer said.

NO ANCHOR is more than 1,200 feet from the tower base. The depth of the anchors varies some — 10 feet in one location.

Mickey Schewe is foreman for the Winona company that is building the transmitter station on the base of the tower. This work has progressed to the point where workmen are protected from sharp winter winds on the hill where the base is constructed.

The Winona crew is pouring cement, laying blocks in the basement for partitions, and building the north wall, protected from the weather by billowing canvas where the south wall will be constructed.

The one-story structure, 58 by 70 feet, will house equipment. The basement will be for storage, blowers, etc.

The two crews have had from 10-15 men on the job every day, missing only a little time because of rain.

Pope Willing To Meet Leader Of Orthodoxy

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Vatican official said Wednesday Pope Paul VI has indicated a willingness to meet Patriarch Athenagoras I, spiritual leader of world Orthodoxy, during the Roman Catholic leader's trip to the Holy Land Jan. 4-6.

The official said the Pope informed Athenagoras about the purpose of his Holy Land trip and in doing so indicated a willingness to meet the patriarch in Palestine if Athenagoras decides to go there.

In announcing his unprecedented trip a week ago, Pope Paul said he hoped it would serve the cause of Christian unity.

Athenagoras, spiritual leader of 150 million Orthodox Christians, proposed last Friday that a Christian summit meeting be held in the Holy Land during the Pope's visit there.

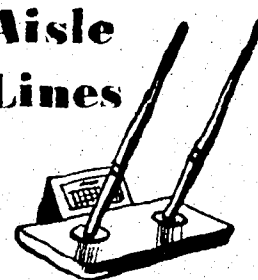

The official said the Pope made no mention in his letter of Athagoras' proposal for a conference of Christian leaders.

No Roman Catholic pontiff and Orthodox patriarch have met since the East-West schism of 1054.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of go-6 or V8—you'd expect from one of Chevy's great highway performers. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of fresh styling—inside and out—that makes it the year's smartest surprise. Come down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps. And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's ... and so's the driving.

See five entirely different kinds of cars at your Chevrolet Showroom—CHEVROLET, CHEVELLE, CHEVY II, CORVAIR & CORVETTE

DEAR ABBY:

He's Always In the Drink

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow who has recently been shown a lot of attention by a doctor. (He has never been married, and is considered quite a catch.) I enjoy his company and am flattered with the attention he's been giving me; but here is the problem. When we are out socially, he drinks like a fish. You can't tell a 56-year-old man that you refuse to ride with him when he's been drinking, so I just close my eyes and go. Is there a diplomatic way to handle this, Abby? LUCKY

Abby

DEAR LUCKY: Lucky is right! If you like his company and he drinks like a fish, tell him you would be glad to swim with him, but you don't want to ride with him. Suggest he call a taxi when he's had a few. If he refuses, let some other "lucky" lady have him.

DEAR ABBY: This may seem like a silly question, but I am 15 and would like to know if a girl is supposed to say thank you when a boy or a man opens a door for her. Or should she just accept it as something they are supposed to do? JUST ME

DEAR ME: Even though a courtesy is expected, it should always be acknowledged with thanks.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I had a double-ring ceremony when we were married, only he never wears his ring. Once he said he lost it, and as soon as I told him I'd buy him another one he found it somewhere. Another time he came home with his ring in his wallet. He is always making up some excuse for not wearing his wedding ring. I don't believe a word he says. I got mad and told him if he wasn't going to wear his wedding ring, I wasn't wearing mine, either. I took mine off and haven't worn it in a week. We have two children and I know it doesn't look right, but do you blame me? NO RING

DEAR NO: Two wrongs don't make a right. Put your wedding ring back on and find out what there is about your married life that makes your husband like to pretend he is single.

CONFIDENTIAL TO VIV: If you thought your boss was out of line, you should have either put him in his place, or given him your notice. What did you expect your husband to do? Go to the office and knock his block off?

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Cars Collide Near Crossing

A traffic accident resulting in more than $50 damage to each of two cars occurred at 5:20 p.m. Wednesday at West Mark and Huff streets.

Cars driven by Mrs. Evelyn Dabelstein, 1061 W. Howard St., and Mrs. Thomas Lindquist, 1359 Glen View Rd., collided in the intersection.

According to police, Mrs. Dabelstein was traveling west on Mark Street, stopped for the stop sign at the intersection and proceeded slowly across the intersection.

Cars had been lined up to stop for a Milwaukee Railroad train. Mrs. Lindquist continued north on Huff Street after the train passed and southbound cars blocked her vision, police said. Mrs. Dabelstein's vision also was blocked.

BLAIR WRESTLER HURT

After 45 Years WWI Buddies Find Each Other 25 Miles Away

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—Forty-five years and 25 miles were spanned recently by two World War I buddies, who last had seen each other in France in 1918.

The election of Dan Foley of Wabasha as national American Legion commander brought about the reunion. Dr. Eugene Lund, Wabasha, had received publicity for nominating Foley at the local level. Frank C. Russ, cashier of the Bay City, Wis., bank had seen his name in newspaper accounts.

SO RUSS WROTE Dr. Lund about as follows: "This may prove to be just a shot in the dark. If it is, throw this letter in the nearest wastebasket."

"In connection with the candidacy and election of Commander Foley, I noticed your name in the Red Wing paper. And it struck me as being the name of a sergeant in my old 101st Mobile Hospital Unit back in France 45 years ago. I recall that this sergeant was a dental student at the University of Minnesota and a fellow member of Alpha Tau Omega. I had been at Iowa City the year before."

"If you should be my man, I would be glad to get a line from you, with any word or news of the old outfit which you might have."

THE OVERJOYED Wabasha dentist was his "man," called Russ the same morning he received the letter, and last week paid a surprise visit to the Bay City bank.

Recognition was instantaneous — almost — and the two soldiers of long ago adjourned to the attractive pink rambler Russ home on a hill overlooking Lake Pepin to reminisce over coffee.

Rapport was obvious, with Russ calling the dentist "sarge," and the response with "Cec," the name Russ was known by 45 years ago.

"Whatever happened to Bates, Bucklin, Singer, etc., etc.," ran the questions from Russ, with Lund, who had been in contact with many of the men through the years, supplying most of the information. Russ' only contact had been in the early 20s when his Model T broke down in Billings, Mont., and the repair mechanic was "a boy from the outfit from Ladysmith, Wis."

THE TWO last saw each other in Joinville, France, where their unit was stationed and where they drilled in the field where Attila the Hun met defeat in 584. When the company left for home, Russ was in the hospital with pneumonia.

In the interim, Russ came back from France to find his parents had moved from Iowa Falls to Mason City, Iowa, and later to Blue Earth, Minn., where his father was a physician many years. He was graduated from pre-law at Ellsworth College, Iowa Falls, worked for a lumber company in Chicago, spent 10 years as manager of logging camps at Park Falls, Wis., and later operated a silver blue fox farm at Bruce, Wis., 10 years.

Twenty years ago he came to Bay City and has lived there since. His wife is assistant director of the Pierce County welfare department and a former school teacher.

Two sons saw service in World War II, the oldest, Peter, was a sergeant in the Marines and lives in Memphis, Tenn., where he is in the personnel department of Kimberly Clark. The younger, John, a former paratrooper, is at home and employed at the Foote Tannery in Red Wing. A daughter, Mrs. Audrey Gilbertson, a registered nurse, is a St. Paul housewife. Proudly Russ displays pictures of five grandchildren.

AFTER 1918, Dr. Lund served as dentist at St. Peter State Hospital seven years, returning to the University of Minnesota, where he received his degree in 1929. Since that time he has practiced dentistry in his home town of Wabasha. He is married with no children. His wife is a newspaperwoman and former state representative. His biggest thrill before the recent reunion, was being awarded the Carnegie medal for bravery, having rescued a college classmate from drowning in the Mississippi at Wabasha.

Both men are active Legionnaires in their respective towns and grateful to Wabasha's most renowned Legionnaire, National Commander Foley, for inadvertently opening the door to a friendship of long ago.

Air Above North Pole to Be Studied

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Equipment lofted by more than a score of huge, unmanned balloons will be used to study the upper atmosphere and cosmic rays above the North Pole in a 1964-65 project to be carried out by University of Minnesota physicists.

The aerial exploration will be financed by a $393,000 grant from the National Science Foundation, announced Tuesday night.

The balloons, each carrying a million and a half cubic feet of helium, will circle the polar area in air currents whose existence was confirmed during the International Geophysical Year in 1958.

The balloons will fly at an altitude of about 100,000 feet, at the top of that part of the atmosphere physicists say is most important in determining weather on the earth. Each balloon will be kept in flight for about a week, traveling in a circle of about 5,000 miles in circumference.

Prof. John R. Winckler, space physicist and project director, has invited scientists from the United States and other nations to put experiments aboard the balloons. Each bag will carry a payload of 450 pounds.

The equipment will study cosmic rays entering the upper atmosphere from outer space, the earth's magnetic fields, the aurora borealis (northern lights) and the Van Allen radiation belts—areas of trapped radiation more than 700 miles above the earth.

Altrusa Club Hears Talk On Employment

Altrusa Club dinner meeting was held Tuesday at Hotel Winona. Two new members were initiated and a talk was given on employment. Mrs. R. H. Hervey, Choate & Co. advertising manager, and Mrs. A. L. Nelson were welcomed into the club by Mrs. Royal Thern, president, and Miss Effie Barnholdt, chairman of Altrusa information committee.

Each member of the Altrusa clubs is classified with a major and a minor as to her profession. Mrs. Hervey is classified with a major in advertising and Mrs. Nelson has a major in homemaking.

Thomas W. Raine, director of the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School, was the speaker. He was introduced by Mrs. Alice Taylor, Mr. Raine described courses offered in Minnesota's 16 vocational-technical schools. He stressed the need for such training if men and women, especially younger persons are to find jobs to provide income adequate for a comfortable standard of living.

At present many young, unskilled workers are unable to find employment, even at the lowest income level, he said. The number of youths reaching employable age is increasing so rapidly that the nation must move quickly in vocational-technical training if it is to avoid serious unemployment and the problems that go with it.

Mr. Raine stated that Winona's greatest present need is adequate facilities, primarily housing. This matter is receiving attention, he said.

Holiday Safety Tip Given by Home Economists

Homes can be made more safe during the holiday season with the use of a homemade flame-resistant solution, according to home economists at the University of Minnesota extension division.

Costumes, centerpieces and other home decorations can be dipped or sprayed with a solution of nine ounces of borax and four ounces of boric acid, dissolved in one gallon of water. The articles can be wrung out or drip-dried. Garments to be treated effectively must be redipped each time they are laundered.

Although the treatment makes the articles flame-resistant, it does not make them entirely flame-proof, the home economists caution.

LET'S TALK SPORTS

with Gary Evans

EVIDENTLY THIS IS the year of record bowling scores. We were aware of the fact that the Winona kegglers were ripping off high totals with amazing consistency, but already two area establishments have reported new records in the men's series department.

It was midway in November that Jim Baecker, who set a Cochrane record a season or so ago with a 289 game, pummeled a 689 series to set a new mark for the Cochrane Hotel and Bowling Alleys.

That 689 represented the best score hit in the 17-year history of the lanes.

And this week there comes a letter from our friend Alice Ruehmann of the Wabasha, Minn., Lanes.

Alice writes that Ronald Nihart, who rolls for Cafe 61 in the Major League at Wabasha, Dec. 5 set a new series record.

Nihart smashed games of 213, 240 and 222 on his way to a 675.

"According to Jay Wild, previous owner of the Lanes," writes Alice, "this is the highest actual count scored in 11 years at the local lanes."

Ron, a twice-a-week bowler, carries a 177 average.

WE KNEW THAT with action in the mixed doubles bowling leagues increasing, sooner or later someone with a name used for both men and women was going to become mixed.

It happened Monday as Carol Fenske's 245-565 was credited to the men's side of the ledger because her first name was misspelled on the bowling sheet turned in to the Daily News.

We can well understand that she was a bit upset with the mixup, especially since that 245 game placed her third in that top ten category for the women.

That count wouldn't have placed her in the men's top game category as 258 is their cutoff point.

But while we're dwelling on the subject, may we caution you secretaries to make sure of the spellings you turn in. Each week, we must make more trips through the city directory to check on spellings.

TUESDAY WAS A great night for the Ol' Swami. The crystal ball, warming up in the cold weather, hit 10 of 12 games correctly to run our string to 94 of 145 right for a .641 percentage — lofty heights for a dilapidated crystal ball and a Swami who is supposed to be over the hump.

We missed two in the handicap department — one by one point and one by two — to give us 81 of 145 correct for a .558 percentage.

But we can't afford to rest on our laurels, for there is a big cage weekend on tap.

On the local level this weekend, it should be: St. Mary's over Loras by 9, Winona High over Red Wing by 4 (John Kenney's forces should be ready to roll); Cotter over Wabasha St. Felix by 11, Loras over Winona State by 2, St. Mary's over Macalester by 3, Cotter over St. Paul Hill by 4 and Winona State over Superior by 6.

In the area, we see: Lanesboro over Wykoff by 2, Spring Valley over Preston by 3 (strictly on the basis of the Wolves' home floor advantage), Harmony over Chatfield by 3 (Tom Meulemans' team should be rolling after its upset of Lanesboro last Friday), Peterson over Caledonia by 6 (Bernie Benson's team should have too much all-around strength for Caledonia and Mike Perucchio), Rushford over Mabel by 7, Houston over Canton by 9, Kasson-Mantorville over St. Charles by 8, Kenyon over Lake City by 12, Cannon Falls over Plainville by 1 (this could go either way), Stewartville over Zumbrota by 3, Wabasha over Elgin by 1 (another toughie), Randolph over Mazeppa by 8, Goodhue over Faribault Deaf by 13, Gilman over Pepin by 3 (we may be wrong here for Jim Noel's team got a taste of winning Tuesday, but the crystal demon says Gilman), Taylor over Fairchild (the Trojans have too much experience), Trempealeau over Mindoro by 2 (we're picking an upset of epic proportions), Gale-Eitrick over Onalaska by 9, Bangor over Holmen by 7, West Salem over Melrose by 12, Independence over Augusta by 9, Blair over Whitehall by 3 (this one should be close), Eleva-Strum over Osseo by 10, Alma Center over Cochrane-Fountain City by 4, Caledonia Loretto over Hokah St. Peter by 6, Rollingstone Holy Trinity over Lewiston by 1 (the home floor again gets the edge), Durand over Alma by 1, West Concord over Dover-Eyota by 3, Rushford over Spring Grove by 4, Dover-Eyota over Pine Island by 6, Rollingstone over Caledonia Loretto by 6, Rochester over Austin by 1, Albert Lea over Mankato by 2 and Faribault over Owatonna by 5.

Flatley NFL's Top Rookie

NBW YORK (AP)—Paul Flatley, rangy split end of the Minnesota Vikings, was named Rookie of the Year in the National Football League Thursday by an Associated Press panel from 14 league cities.

The 6-foot-1, 187-pound former Northwestern star, ranked eighth among the top pass receivers in the league in the latest statistics. He had caught 51 passes for 867 yards and four touchdowns and was the only newcomer among the leaders.

Louisville Cager Suffers Injury

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Louisville basketball player John Reuther was in University of Pennsylvania Hospital today for observation after hitting his head on the floor in a fall in Wednesday night's game with LaSalle.

A physician said Thursday morning the nature of Reuther's injury was not immediately determined. The physician said Reuther was not regarded as in serious condition.

San Francisco 49ers

"We've got to win. This is a must game," declares Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi adding there is no possible chance his Packers will take the last place San Francisco 49ers lightly.

Lombardi and the Packers find themselves in an unenviable position. First they must beat the 49ers and then they must wait 22 hours or so to see if they win the National Football League's Western Division title.

Going into the nationally televised contest Saturday at Kezar Stadium, the Packers stand 10-2-1 compared with 10-1-2 for the division leading Chicago Bears who host Detroit on Sunday.

A Green Bay victory coupled with a Chicago defeat would mean a fourth consecutive division title for the Packers. A Green Bay loss combined with a Chicago loss would force a playoff.

A Green Bay loss or a Chicago victory would give the title to the Bears.

"There is just no taking the 49ers lightly," declared Lombardi. "And there is no indication any of our players do."

The 49ers, in their worst NFL season, stand 2-11 but strangely enough one of the triumphs was a 20-14 count over Chicago the only defeat suffered by the Bears this year.

Lombardi says quarterback Bart Starr has returned to his peak only this week. He missed four games with a broken bone in his passing hand and returned to action on Nov. 25 when Green Bay beat the 49ers 28-10.

Starr last week hit on 14 of 26 passes as the Packers rallied for 21 points in the second half to beat Los Angeles 31-14. In practice this week, Starr has shown continual improvement.

"He's been getting better each day," said Lombardi who scheduled the concluding practice session for today.

Halfback Tom Moore also was reported in top shape again and ready for full service and fullback Jim Taylor needs only 41 yards rushing to hit 1,000 a fourth straight season. He gained 119 against the 49ers the first time they met this year.

State Rolls Past Northland

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

You might compare it to watching a marathon race, or possibly a fast tennis match, but regardless, there were quite a few neck weary fans, and 30 very tired basketball players when the final horn sounded at the Winona State-Northland College game Wednesday night at Memorial Hall.

The Warriors employed fast break tactics to keep the game rolling at a rapid pace, and although Northland didn't use the same method, it didn't waste much time getting off a shot once it got to the attacking end of the floor. Winona's run-and-shoot tactics paid off as the State, squad registered its second victory in five outings 99-89.

"I'M REAL pleased with the boys," commented Coach Bob Campbell after the game. Campbell had special praise for Dave Rosenau, 6-4 pivot man who picked up a pair of buckets as the leading wing on the break, and also set the run-run-run machine in motion several times after coming down with a defensive rebound.

There were other things that made Dr. Campbell smile also. Among them were fine play of guard Darrell Schuster, who fired in 14 points for the night, and the return of Dave Goede. Goede saw only limited action, but his injured wrist is apparently healed enough to enable him to handle the ball adeptly, although it does hamper his shooting ability. Campbell also played all 15 men on the squad, as did Northland.

On the deficit side, Jack Kelly is still bothered by an ankle injury. Also leaving something to be desired was the sudden collapse of the Warrior defense midway through the first half. Winona looked ferocious when Northland had the ball for the first 12 minutes, as the Warriors rolled to a 35-18 lead, but at this point, Northland started to pick holes in the defense.

Had it not been for the accuracy of sophomore Bob Hammen, Winona might have led 35-5 at that point, but Hammen connected for 13 points in that stretch, mostly on long jump shots. The State quintet rolled to a 54-35 halftime margin with Gary Peterson pushing in 18 points in the first 20 minutes. Hammen also had 18 for Northland in the first span.

THE WARRIORS came out in the second half, bent on running the legs off the visiting five, but a series of bad passes and dribbling violations, kept the margin bouncing between 13 and 18 points. Northland closed within nine points at 96-87, but that was with only a minute left to play and the outcome already decided.

"I'm set on this starting lineup for the next game," commented Campbell. "And we'll run Goede in and out the way we did tonight."

The State starting five accounted well for themselves. Captain Lyle Papenfuss tallied 12, Peterson 28, Rosenau nine, Dave Meisner 17, and Schuster 14. Sparkplug guard Mark Dille also chipped in with 11. Winona State travels to Loras Saturday night in an attempt to even its season record.

For Northland, Hammen finished with 29 points and evening honors. Robert E. Lee added 13, Jim Bussey 12, and Dennis Triziani 10.

"I'M REAL pleased with the boys," commented Coach Bob Campbell after the game. Campbell had special praise for Dave Rosenau, 6-4 pivot man who picked up a pair of buckets as the leading wing on the break, and also set the run-run-run machine in motion several times after coming down with a defensive rebound.

There were other things that made Dr. Campbell smile also. Among them were fine play of guard Darrell Schuster, who fired in 14 points for the night, and the return of Dave Goede. Goede saw only limited action, but his injured wrist is apparently healed enough to enable him to handle the ball adeptly, although it does hamper his shooting ability. Campbell also played all 15 men on the squad, as did Northland.

On the deficit side, Jack Kelly is still bothered by an ankle injury. Also leaving something to be desired was the sudden collapse of the Warrior defense midway through the first half. Winona looked ferocious when Northland had the ball for the first 12 minutes, as the Warriors rolled to a 35-18 lead, but at this point, Northland started to pick holes in the defense.

Had it not been for the accuracy of sophomore Bob Hammen, Winona might have led 35-5 at that point, but Hammen connected for 13 points in that stretch, mostly on long jump shots. The State quintet rolled to a 54-35 halftime margin with Gary Peterson pushing in 18 points in the first 20 minutes. Hammen also had 18 for Northland in the first span.

THE WARRIORS came out in the second half, bent on running the legs off the visiting five, but a series of bad passes and dribbling violations, kept the margin bouncing between 13 and 18 points. Northland closed within nine points at 96-87, but that was with only a minute left to play and the outcome already decided.

"I'm set on this starting lineup for the next game," commented Campbell. "And we'll run Goede in and out the way we did tonight."

The State starting five accounted well for themselves. Captain Lyle Papenfuss tallied 12, Peterson 28, Rosenau nine, Dave Meisner 17, and Schuster 14. Sparkplug guard Mark Dille also chipped in with 11. Winona State travels to Loras Saturday night in an attempt to even its season record.

For Northland, Hammen finished with 29 points and evening honors. Robert E. Lee added 13, Jim Bussey 12, and Dennis Triziani 10.

SALUTES PLAYERS

Halas Selected Coach of Year

CHICAGO (AP) — George Halas, the frisky, 68-year-old Papa Bear, has won one title, but would like another.

He's working on it. In the midst of Halas' preparations for a likely door-to-door final against the Detroit Lions Sunday for the Western Division title, Papa Bear was voted Coach of the Year in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters from the 14 NFL cities.

If the Bears defeat the Lions they will clinch the Western crown with an 11-1-2 record and be host to the NFL championship game at Wrigley Field against the Eastern champions, New York or Pittsburgh-Dec. 29.

If the Bears lose, and Green Bay wins Saturday at San Francisco, the Packers will snatch the Western title from the Bears, who have held or shared first place since the season started Sept. 15.

"Let's not talk about Sunday at the moment," said Halas when informed of his selection. "This is a great tribute which I sincerely appreciate," continued the NFL pioneer and pro Hall of Fame member. "But I am custodian of the honor only because of the splendid job done by our players and coaching staff."

"Particularly, this honor reflects the tremendous performance by our defense which, I believe, now leads in 10 of the league's 13 defensive categories."

Would a sectional championship the Bears' first since 1956 or even a league title first since 1946 lead Halas into retirement?

"Let's cross that bridge when we come to it," said Halas, who has been associated with the Bears for 44 seasons.

Rotating committees of four firemen will serve one month at a time as the village reserve and housekeeping unit, during their tours of duty, the committees will be responsible for minor maintenance and servicing of equipment.

In his report for 1962, Carlyle Cory, secretary, listed 22 alarms received: 11 in the Town of Gale, eight in Trempealeau and one in the Town of Dodge. Average number of firemen answering alarms was 15.

One member, George Gardner, died during the year. His replacement is Ray Quail. Officers for 1964 are: Russell Jenks, chief; Harold Williamson, first assistant; Donald McKeeth, second assistant; Cecil Boardman, treasurer; Carlyle Cory, secretary; and Roy Poss, trustee.

In five of the last seven World Series the losing team scored more runs than the champions.

Lions Have Wisconsin Fan Club

MANITOWOC — The National Football League Detroit Lions suddenly have a vocal Wisconsin rooting section, but there are ulterior motives.

The Optimist Club Wednesday dispatched a telegram to Detroit urging, "Go-Go Lions. Beat the Bears. We are pulling for you."

The club members really are pulling for the Green Bay Packers. If the Lions beat the Bears Sunday and the Packers defeat the San Francisco 49ers Saturday, Green Bay will take the Western Division title and get a chance at a third straight league crown.

At least four firemen will hereafter remain in the city as a safety measure during all rural calls, according to a new revision in the volunteer fire company's constitution. The change was voted by 27 department members at the annual meeting Monday night.

Telstar Two Misses Belt, Rotarians Told

The hazard of radiation that interfered with the performance of Telstar One has been removed by orbiting Telstar Two, outside or along the edge of the hazardous radiation belt that encircles the earth, Gerald C. Ramsdell, Telstar engineer of Bell Telephone Co. told the Rotary Club at Hotel Winona Wednesday noon.

With the aid of a scale model of Telstar One, Ramsdell told of its construction, launching and testing. He explained also the radiation trouble experienced last year when Telstar One became inoperative in space and how it was directed to repair itself.

USING OTHER demonstration material, he explained the operation of the ground tracking station at Andover, Maine, which tracks, controls, receives and transmits information to the satellite in its 160-minute trips around the world.

He also demonstrated another of the newest breakthroughs in modern research — the Gaseous Optical Maser — and told of its future revolutionary use in transmitting communications by light. The available capacity of a single beam generated by a maser is capable of carrying all phone conversations, data, telegraph and television now carried over the nationwide telephone network.

Tracing the evolution of the Bell System's experimental Telstar, he explained how its components were developed by telephone research over a period of years and then fused into a 170-pound sphere capable of receiving and transmitting conversations, television, pictures and data as well as reporting on the hostile environment in which it is traveling.

Telstar was a natural development of the search for more ways to transmit communications across the oceans. Radio and undersea cables have been extended for some time, but overseas communications have grown so fast that more circuits are needed — circuits capable of carrying any type of transmission, including television.

ON LAND, thousands of additional circuits have been provided by relaying communications by radio via microwave towers spaced 25 to 30 miles apart. With the successful launching of Telstar, the satellite became, in effect, a microwave tower in the heavens.

Ramsdell traced the steps taken to solving the many problems associated with the giant undertaking. Because Telstar was to be an experimental model, it was equipped to be a traveling electronics laboratory with much of its equipment used to test its thousands of components and the environment in which it would live so that future communications satellites could be designed to perform effectively over a period of years.

He also said testing and experience must be gained in operating the ground stations and explained the construction and operation of the huge complex at Andover. When a commercial satellite communications system is established, tracking stations will be needed in many locations throughout the world.

"THE BELL System has spent over one billion dollars for research in fields closely allied with satellite communications development and well over $50 million on Telstar directly, which includes the $3 million paid to the government to launch Telstar," he said. "It is the first satellite to be built and launched at private industry's expense."

Two new members of the Rotary Club were introduced. They are Dr. Orest N. Filipovich and Dr. M. R. Raymond, the latter of Winona State College.

Arcadia Unit Approves Long Building Lease

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — Stockholders of Arcadia Projects, Inc., have approved a proposed 15-year lease of its factory building here.

Action was taken at the annual meeting Monday at Trempealeau Electric building, when all directors and officers whose terms were expiring were re-elected.

RE-ELECTED to three-year terms were Morris English, O. W. Schroeder and Harold Maloney. Officers re-elected by the board were: Laurence (Nic) Jensen, president; A. C. Schultz, vice president, and O. W. Schroeder, secretary-treasurer. Holdover directors are C. E. Fugina and Harry Trowbridge. Mrs. William Sagen is assistant secretary.

Certificate holders authorized the board to proceed with negotiations with Abel & Bach, Inc., Milwaukee, who sought the 15-year lease for rental of substantially all real estate of Arcadia Projects, Inc., consisting of the Arcadia Industries, Inc., factory building and property.

The lease also provides an option granting the Milwaukee firm the right to purchase the property at the end of the period. The building has been leased to Abel & Bach, subsidiary of Walco American Corp., New York City, on a five-year basis since it was constructed in 1956.

No payments on the principal of Class A certificates will be made this year because of improvements and additions made to the building during 1963. These include a warehouse and new heating plant, with expenses totalling $6,991.41. All holders of Class A and B certificates have received a 4 percent interest payments for 1963.

CLASS A certificate holders have received 60 percent of their original investment to date, thirty percent was declared Nov. 30, 1962, and another 30 percent was paid off in 1961.

Issuance of Class B certificates will be discontinued immediately. Up to this time, employees of Arcadia Industries, Inc., were able to invest as much as $500, paying at the rate of 5 percent of their wages toward the certificates and were issued stock for each $100 investment. Those with partial certificates may make arrangements to complete the balance with Mrs. Sagen.

St. Charles Gets 5-Year Program

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — William Agneberg, Rochester, city engineer for St. Charles, presented a five-year plan for curb, gutters and permanent improvements of certain streets at the City Council meeting Tuesday night.

The engineer proposed expenditures of $30,000 to $40,000 a year for improvements on the most traveled city streets of the two highways going through town, U.S. 14 and No. 74. The proposal would include all or parts of Richland, Bluff, Church, St. Charles and Wabasha streets.

The council will study the proposal. According to city records, a motion was made in 1962 to zone Highway 14 through town as commercial. It was never legalized with a hearing. A public hearing on the proposal will be held Dec. 27 at 8 p.m.

Three salary raises were granted. Louis Wilkins was given a $25 per month raise for keeping the municipal dispensary books. His salary is now $410.

The city policemen were raised, James Hewitt $15 a month to $390, and Fritz Wilson, $25 a month to $375.

State Tax Form Go to 1,250,000

ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota individual income tax forms will go into the mail day after Christmas, State Tax Commissioner Roland Hatfield said.

Forms will go out to 1,250,000 taxpayers. Hatfield called attention to changes in the law which he said will require more people to submit returns. The law now provides that gross income for a business concern means total sales, less cost of goods sold; for rental property gross rental income before deduction of expenses, and for farmers gross receipts from the sale of produce.

Previously, gross income in all three cases was net income after all deductions.

Income tax returns must be filed by April 15, 1964.

Wall Street Shrugs Off Economy Move

NEW YORK (AP) —, Ralls continued to bolster the stock market which was slightly higher on balance early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The ability of the rails to top their previous 1963 high in the Dow Jones average Wednesday was looked upon by theorists as a "confirmation" of the previous high in the industrials.
