Joyful Yule Reunion Inside East Berlin

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP)—A great and joyful Christmas reunion was in full swing today as West Berliners streamed through the Communist wall to meet relatives in East Berlin for the first time in 28 months.

More than 1,000 persons had passed through the five crossing points in the wall some three hours after East German border guards lifted the steel, candy-striped barriers an hour ahead of schedule.

More than 30,000 West Berliners are expected to make the trip today. Officials estimate that as many as 800,000 may visit relatives in the East before midnight Jan. 5, when the Christmas crossings end.

East German guards, who still have orders to shoot to kill if any East Berliner tries to escape to the West, were extremely courteous and West Berliners passed through the controls rapidly.

Contrary to expectations, there were no queues at the grim concrete wall as dawn broke over the snow-covered city.

Clutching the precious one-day permits issued by the Communists after long and tough negotiations with the West Berlin city government, men, women and children passed through to the East.

ADN, the official East German news agency, said vehicles of the East Berlin Rescue Service were stationed at the Sonnenallee crossing to transport the old and infirm to their relatives.

The Communist visiting permits are good for only one day. The West Berliners must return by midnight except on New Year's Eve. Then the time limit is extended to 5 a.m.

About 40 West Berliners jumped the gun and saw their loved ones behind the wall for a few hours Thursday, although today was the official starting day. The early birds put Thursday's date on their applications for permits, and the East German postal officials apparently didn't notice the date in the confusion of handling so many applications.

State Woman Upheld in Jury Duty Refusal

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Minnesota Supreme Court reversed its earlier decision today and acknowledged that a Renville County farm woman had the right to refuse on religious grounds to serve as a juror.

The court said Mrs. Owen Jenison, who had appealed her contempt conviction to the U.S. Supreme Court, "convincingly demonstrated her sincerity by preferring jail to the compromise of her religious faith."

Mrs. Jenison was convicted on Nov. 13, 1962, in Renville County by Judge C.A. Roloff of contempt and sentenced to 30 days in jail. She served seven days before being released on $100 bail.

When the Minnesota Supreme Court affirmed her conviction on March 8, 1963, she appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, which directed the State Supreme Court to give the matter further consideration.

In declining to serve as a juror and render judgments, Mrs. Jenison said: "My Bible tells me 'Judge not so you will not be judged.'"

Asked about her religious affiliation, she said, "I'm a believer in the Bible, but we listen to the Radio Church of God."

"Upon reconsideration," said the Minnesota Supreme Court today, "we have come to the conclusion that there has been an inadequate showing that the state's interest in obtaining competent jurors requires us to override relator's (Mrs. Jenison's) right to the free exercise of her religion."

"Consequently we hold that until and unless further experience indicates that the indiscriminate invoking of the First Amendment (guaranteeing religious freedom) poses a serious threat to the effective functioning of our jury system, any person whose religious convictions prohibit compulsory jury duty shall henceforth be exempt."

But the court added that there still are problems in this area. "What constitutes 'religion' and whether the free exercise of conscience is also entitled to protection, are questions yet to be decided by the United States Supreme Court."

"Nor are we able to suggest future guidelines for ascertaining in particular cases whether the 1st Amendment is being invoked with sincerity."

"Where a juror is a member of a faith which includes as part of its dogma a prohibition against jury duty, the problem is relatively simple."

"It becomes more difficult where a personal religious conviction, unrelated to any sectarian creed, is claimed. Suffice it to say that trial courts will have to determine in each instance, with whatever evidence is at hand, whether the assertion of a belief which is protected by the First Amendment is in fact a spurious claim."

"However, in the instant case relator (Mrs. Jenison) has convincingly demonstrated her sincerity by preferring jail to the compromise of her religious faith."

"Accordingly she is discharged from any further obligation to serve as a petit juror, her conviction for contempt is reversed, and a judgment of acquittal will be entered."

Bitter Cold From Montana to Maine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter arctic cold maintained a stubborn grip across most of the nation from the Rockies to New England today. No immediate relief was in sight.

Western New York plowed out from a crippling snowstorm that marooned hundreds of motorists. Schools and roads were reported open but travel remained hazardous.

The pre-winter siege of cold and heavy snow—a week long in most of the Midwest—was blamed for at least 22 deaths.

The Weather Bureau reported 35 below zero overnight at Bemidji, Minn., and 25 below at International Falls, Minn. In New York's Adirondack Mountains it was 23 below at Wana-kona and 20 below at Boonville, Watertown, N.Y., and Bismarck, N.D., both registered -19.

The freezing weather also clutched northern Florida, at 26 above.

No quick warmup was in prospect, the Weather Bureau said. Buffalo awoke to 3 above. The storm that struck western New York Thursday skipped Buffalo but dumped up to 1½ feet in areas to the south, forced schools to close and blocked traffic for five hours on the 66-mile State Thruway spur between Buffalo and the New York-Pennsylvania line.

The perennial squalls off Lake Erie cut visibility to zero Thursday and Thursday night. Thruway police and maintenance crews organized convoys behind plows to shepherd the hundreds of stranded automobiles.

dropped visibility to zero on the superhighway. Hundreds of motorists were stranded along the road, while others groped perilously to service areas to wait out the storm's fury.

Another blast of icy air moved across the plains and headed into the lower Mississippi Valley.

Weather Bureau officials said no immediate general break in the unseasonable cold weather was indicated. However, they said temperatures were expected to moderate in parts of the Gulf region.

As the icy air dropped deep into the South, the mercury edged near freezing for the second straight morning in Tampa, Fla. It was 29 in Pensacola, Fla., 31 in Mobile, Ala., and near freezing in New Orleans.

Readings were more than 20 below zero in many sections of the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin and it was 15 below at O'Hare International Airport in Chicago. Chicago's 6 below was the eighth straight day of zero or below zero readings in December, an all-time record for the month.

La Crosse Bus Driver, Family Homeless in Fire

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—A city bus driver, his wife and four children ranging from 5 to 14 years, were made homeless Thursday by a fire that destroyed their rural residence in sub-zero weather.

No members of the Harry Peterson family were at home when the fire was discovered about noon. The blaze had a good start on the fire department of the village of Holmen and the one-story structure burned to the ground in two hours. The temperature was four below zero.

The family lost virtually all of its possessions, including Christmas gifts. Neighbors provided shelter.

The storm and strong winds cut visibility to almost zero, forcing a five-hour shutdown of a 66-mile stretch of the Thruway, between Lackawanna and the Pennsylvania line. (AP Photofax)

Youth Says Kennedy Threat Only Joke

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Jailed on a charge of threatening the life of President Kennedy, young Russell W. McLarry insisted he was only joking.

Investigators acknowledged they had found nothing to link him to the assassination.

McLarry, a 21-year-old part-time college student described by his father as a "nice kid who shoots off his mouth too much sometimes," remained in county jail today in lieu of $2,500 bond.

He was arrested Thursday and charged with threatening Kennedy's life prior to the assassination Nov. 22. Secret Service agents quoted him as saying he was "proud—no, glad" that Kennedy was dead.

"So far as we know, there is no connection" between McLarry and the President's death. "We merely charged him with making a threat against the President, a definite violation of the law, but that's as far as it goes."

Sanders pointed out that McLarry apparently had no association with Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of killing the President.

Oswald died two days after the President when night club operator Jack Ruby pumped a bullet into his midsection as officers started to move Oswald from one jail to another. Ruby's murder trial is set for Feb. 3.

The complaint naming McLarry charges:

"On Nov. 21, he made certain threats to take the life of and to inflict bodily harm upon John F. Kennedy, then the President of the United States, by stating in substance that he would be working near the Trade Mart in Dallas, Tex., where the President was supposed to speak, and that he would be waiting with a gun to get the President."

Officers said the statements were made to two women the day before the assassination. McLarry, sullen and poker-faced, recalled making a statement that might have been construed as a threat.

"I don't remember exactly what I said. The statement I made was a joke. If I can be tried for a joke and found guilty—well, that's the extent of it," he said.

U.S. Won't Send
Rusk to Cambodia

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is dropping plans to send former Secretary of State Dean Acheson to Cambodia on a conciliation mission.

Conditions laid down by Cambodian Prince Norodom Sihanouk made the trip impossible, State Department officials said Thursday.

Apparatus was summoned from Fosston and Erskine to help control the blaze, whose cause was undetermined.

The one-story frame structure with a 100-foot concrete block frontage on Main St., formed by U.S. Highway 2, was owned by William Henney and Don Simpson. They could make no immediate loss estimate but said it included a new truck and three new cars.

Flames were discovered shortly before midnight Thursday, and had gained major headway before the alarm could be sounded.

Fire razed the village hall Monday, burning out all civic offices, liquor store and the fire department, as well as destroying the fire siren atop the structure.

Firemen had herded their truck in the garage and first arrivals at the scene barely were able to drive it into service before the gasoline and oil-spreading flames engulfed the area where it had been parked.

The alarm also was delayed as it had to be sounded by tele-

Senate-Passed Foreign Aid Bill In Conference

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate and House conferees will try to settle a difference of $470 million and iron out a dispute over grain sales to the Soviet bloc as they seek agreement today on foreign aid appropriations.

The Senate has voted $3,272,503,000 for foreign aid for the fiscal year that begins July 1. The House $2,801,700,000. It is the conferees' job to find a middle ground acceptable to both branches. The original White House request was for $4.5 billion.

This may prove easier to do than to hurdle the grains obstacle.

The issue was sharply drawn Thursday night when the Senate passed the aid bill 60-25 after deleting, $232, a House amendment to prohibit the export-import bank from guaranteeing credit for trade with Communist countries.

The House adopted the amendment by a vote of 218-69 Monday and Republican leader Charles A. Halleck hinted that if House conferees go along with the Senate in knocking it out, House Republicans will ask that the bill be returned to conference. With the House planning to fold up shop tonight, a deadlock could result in putting the bill over until next year.

The Senate approved deletion of the commodity sale ban after Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield read a letter from President Johnson urging that course.

Johnson said sale of wheat and other commodities to Communist nations on reasonable terms are "good for our farmers and exporters, good for our shipping and railroad industry, good for our balance of payments, and good for the country."

"It makes no sense to jeopardize these possible gains by this legislative rider," Johnson said.

In addition to rejecting the House rider, the Senate turned back by wide bipartisan margins four attempts to make deep slashes in its appropriation. Two minor amendments trimming $27 million from the measure were accepted.

An amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to reduce the bill to $3 billion was rejected 55-31. An effort by Morse to slash supporting economic assistance to defense pact allies from $380 million to $300 million was turned down 55-28.

4 Guardsmen Charged in Campus Blasts

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Four Alabama National Guardsmen have been charged with touching off minor explosions near the University of Alabama while on federal duty to uphold court-ordered desegregation of the school.

Authorities say more arrests are expected.

Three blasts occurred last month—two Nov. 16 and one Nov. 19. All were near a dormitory housing Negro student Vivian Malone, who was admitted under federal court orders along with James A. Hood in June. Hood later withdrew.

The men arrested Thursday were with the last units still on duty after President Kennedy federalized the entire Alabama Guard during a showdown with Gov. George Wallace.

All troops were demobilized Nov. 20, the day after the last explosion. No one was hurt in any of the explosions.

The men were rounded up during the late afternoon and night. The first man arrested was 2nd Lt. James T. Perkins, 27, of Holt, Ala., a suburb of Tuscaloosa. He later posted $5,000 bond.

Police identified two of the others as Sgt. Norman R. Daniel of Fairfield, Ala., a suburb of Birmingham, and Cpl. James T. Maxwell, 27, of Tuscaloosa. Maxwell also posted bond.

The name of the fourth man was not available immediately. Perkins and Maxwell were charged with the first Nov. 16 detonation. The warrant against them said they set off dynamite or some other explosive in or near the home of Revilla Lewis, who lives close to Mary Burke Hall, where Miss Malone lives.

Pension Outlook Poor, WWI Vets Told at Meeting

Pessimism about chances for passage of a pension bill was expressed by Commander R. W. Sparrow Thursday night to members of Winona Barracks, Veterans of World War I.
Sparrow told VWWI members that legislation providing increased benefits for WWI veterans was being held in committee by Cong. Olin Teague, Texas, chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee. Legislative committees of the VWWI will press for action shortly, Sparrow said.
Present at the meeting were two former comrades in arms who had not seen each other for 44 years. They were Edward Mlyneczek, 1064 E. King St., and Reuben Lingdale, Pepin, Wis. The two men had served in France with Battery F, 77th Infantry Division. They returned to the U. S. in July 1919.

Sunday Fatality Investigation Still Continues

Chief of Police George Savord said today that action in Sunday morning's fatal traffic accident still is pending.
Savord said that he was completing the report of investigations into the accident. Whether to charge the driver of the car has not been decided, he added.
Fifteen-year-old Susan Ann Kaehler died shortly after the crash on Lake Boulevard. The car, driven by Norman C. Meska, 32, 110 Winona St., struck a telephone pole.
Miss Kaehler, the late daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Kaehler, 251 E. Wabasha St., was asleep in the front seat of the car, according to Meska.
Meska told police that she decided not to go home and slept in the car while he drove around the area. The girl's boyfriend and another youth were passengers in the car Saturday night and were taken home about midnight.
Meska has told police that he didn't know the girl's name until he was told after she died.

No Indictments In Kenyon Election Case

RED WING, Minn. (AP) — A Goodhue County Grand Jury voted no indictments Thursday after hearing details of alleged irregularities in the Kenyon Village election Nov. 6.
The jury returned a "no bill" decision after deliberating 3 hours and 50 minutes.
Mayor W.A. Bohan was defeated by write-in candidate Glenn Aronson. Bohan charged that literature had been circulated election day, but withdrew the charges after Aronson agreed with them. Aronson refused to accept the mayoralty.
The Kenyon City Council apparently will have to select a mayor from its three members to serve until the next village election next November.

WEATHER FORECAST ... Snow is forecast tonight for the lower Lakes southward through the Ohio and Tennessee valleys and westward through the middle Mississippi valley and parts of the northern and central Plains and northern and central Plateau. Occasional rain is expected in parts of the lower Mississippi valley and west Gulf coast states with light rain mixed with snow in south-central Plateau. It will continue cold, except for the northern Plains and southern Plateau where it will be slightly warmer. (AP Photofax Map)

700,000 Orders Placed For 'The Torch Is Passed'

"The Torch Is Passed," the book on the assassination of President Kennedy is coming out on a crash schedule that bookmakers rarely have to face.
Hundreds of writers, editors, picture experts, printers and others have been working on it for two weeks.
Not only is it unusual to produce a quality, hardcover book on such short notice — actual work began only Dec. 5 — but getting out a million copies, as may very well be the case, is a tremendous job. With nearly 700 Associated Press newspaper members participating, the book orders already total about 700,000.
The printer, Western Printing and Lithographing admitted his conviction but alleged evidence was insufficient to justify it.

SANTA AT LAKE CITY
LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — Santa Claus will visit various stores in Lake City tonight from 7-9 p.m. Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon and 1-5 p.m., and Monday from 10 a.m. to noon and 1-5 and 7-9 p.m. He made an earlier visit to town Saturday, stopping at the Hollywood Theater and distributing gifts to all children present.

Co. of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., expects to deliver the books in January.
The book is a dramatic, carefully researched, highly detailed account of President Kennedy's last day, and the three days that followed. The information was gathered by Associated Press and member newspaper staff members, but the presentation is an altogether original narrative.

It was written on a seven-day, day-and-night schedule by a team under the leadership of Saul Pett and including such men as Hugh Mulligan, Sid Moody and Tom Henshaw.

In addition to the text, the book will include nearly 100 pictures including color portraits of President and Mrs. Kennedy by Karsh of Ottawa, and other color photos.

If you would like to reserve your copy of the book, we suggest you fill out the coupon on Page 13 now and send it as directed with $2.

Top Level Meeting On Air Service Set

A thorough review of the quality of air service to smaller cities will be conducted next week in St. Paul by state and federal officials.
Gov. Karl Rolvaag will call a conference of Department of Aeronautics officials, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Attorney General Walter Mondale and the Metropolitan Airports Commission, according to William Galewski, assistant manager of Max Conrad Field. Galewski and George Kelley, members of the Winona Chamber of Commerce airport committee, met Thursday with Gov. Rolvaag to discuss air service.

Galewski said conference findings would be forwarded to the U. S. Senate and Sen. Mike Monroney, chairman of the Senate Aviation Committee. Representatives of eight Minnesota cities, which are faced with curtailed service, will attend the meeting.

If a Senate inquiry is undertaken, it could ultimately involve more than 200 cities in the United States, Galewski said.

Winona needs 115 more passenger boardings before Dec. 31 to fulfill a forecast made in hearings before Civil Aeronautics Board examiners, Galewski said. In its case for continuation and improvement of air service, the city has projected a figure of about 2,225 departures. If this figure is achieved, Galewski said, it means that air service use here will have increased according to predictions and that better service therefore is justified.
Winona is well ahead of its use it-or-lose it minimum for the year, with 2,100 passenger loadings recorded thus far. The quota is 1,800 for continued CAB certification.

Mover Barred After Complaint By Local Woman

A Winona housewife, who still has $87.75 coming, was instrumental in getting the interstate license of a Lincoln, Neb., moving firm revoked, the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission said this week.

Mrs. Raymond Parsons, 477 Harriet St., formerly of St. Paul, filed a complaint that the Dudley Transfer Co., Lincoln, failed to deliver her household goods to the proper address in St. Paul last spring. She and her husband moved there from Lincoln at that time.

The mover left her furniture at a Minneapolis warehouse instead of delivering it. After Mrs. Parsons discovered what had happened to her furniture, she had to pay storage and local drayage costs totaling $87.75, in addition to the $204 fee charged by Dudley Transfer.

An aunt of Mrs. Parsons, employed by the Railroad and Warehouse Commission, advised her to file the complaint. In its findings, the commission said the company was "unfit to hold a permit because of disregard of the interests of their customers." The company acted in "complete disregard of its duty," the commission ruled.

Mrs. Parsons said the commission in effect ordered the Dudley company to reimburse her for the $87.75 extra expense or lose its permit. The firm elected to relinquish the permit, she said.

Mrs. Parsons and her husband, an optical company employee, moved to Winona this month.

St. Charles Man's Wife Says He Won't Be Home for Christmas

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — Thomas Smith, St. Charles truck driver injured in a truck-train collision Saturday, will not be released from the hospital before Christmas, according to his wife.

Spokesmen for St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, where Smith is a patient, said Thursday that Smith is in satisfactory condition and would be released within two or three days.

Smith received broken ribs and chest injuries Saturday when the bulk milk truck he was driving was struck by a train near Lewistown.

Mrs. Smith said that her husband's chest was opened in an emergency procedure about 5 p.m. Thursday, and that a tube was inserted to drain fluids collecting in the chest cavity.

Remember Lonely People When It's Merry Christmas

By RUTH ROGERS
Daily News Area Editor

Who has some Christmas cards left? There's not much time left before Christmas, but still a few days in which to remember, for instance, a rural teacher in the Galesville area for many years who is now a shut-in. She'd appreciate hearing from old friends, and strangers, too.

Miss Lillian Boardman now lives at 301 Troy Drive, Madison, Wis., 53704.

A caller at the newsroom said today, "I think the card shower is a fine thing." It's for remembering the ill, lonely, and elderly as well as shut-ins. This is the name she gave us:

A. M. Jones, Matteson Rest Home, Eyota, Minn. These are other folks we've heard about:

Mrs. Bertha Fidika, 8906 30th NW, Seattle, Wash., 98107.

Otto Brenengen, Veterans Hospital, Madison, Wis. Mrs. Arthur Hartman, Buffalo City, Wis. Mrs. Emma Laak, Halling Rest Home, Pepin, Wis. Mrs. Maude Ray, Houston, Minn. Oscar Gaustad, Caledonia, Minn. Joseph Hoffman, Blue Star Rest Home, Houston, Minn.

Sorry, we listed a name incorrectly. The correct name is Fred Seeling and his address is St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Wabasha, Minn. He's not a shut-in — the report is he goes fishing everyday, maybe not, however, in this subzero weather.

Mental Health Officers Named For 3 Counties

The two Winona County members of the new tri-county Community Mental Health Board were elected officers at the group's organizational meeting Thursday night.

Dr. Max L. DeBolt, 283 Orrin St., was elected chairman of the nine-member board, and Dr. S. O. Hughes, 727 Winona St., was named as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Charles Theismann, Wabasha, was chosen as vice-chairman.

The board discussed with William P. Werner, director of the Winona County welfare department, the purposes and duties of a community mental health unit. It requested that Werner continue to serve the board in an advisory capacity, and that the Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Richard Feiten, director of Catholic Charities for the Diocese of Winona, also advise the board.

The group's next meeting was set for Jan. 23.

Pepin, Bay City Funds Provided

PEPIN, Wis. — Funds for the $151,000 small boat harbor at Pepin and the $24,000 harbor at Bay City are included in the final version of the fiscal 1964 public works appropriation bill that has passed Congress.

Funds for the harbors are included in the appropriation for the small authorized project program of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Both were authorized by the 1962 omnibus rivers and harbors measure.

Reciprocity Secured On Welfare Cases, County Board Told

William P. Werner, director of the county welfare department, reported to the Winona County Welfare Board Thursday that his department has been successful in making reciprocity arrangements with other states regarding support cases.

Business transacted by the board included granting a new boarding home license, approving five old age assistance applications and cancelling nine others, granting two requests for aid to dependent children (involving 10 children) and denying two applications for such aid.

Werner was directed by the board to secure a replacement for Mrs. Terry Schultz, a welfare department clerk-stenographer who is resigning.

Werner reported that there were six referrals to University of Minnesota hospitals since the board's last meeting two weeks ago.

Boy Hands Class Letter To Pope Paul

A six-year-old Winona boy presented a letter to Pope Paul VI during a procession in Rome recently.

He is Gregory Tarras, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tarras, 426 29th Ave., Goodview.

Gregory, a first grader at St. Stanislaus School, went to Europe with his parents in November. He took with him a letter his class wrote to the Pope.

While in Rome his parents attended a procession. As the Pope drew near Gregory's father lifted Gregory up and Gregory extended the letter to the Pope.

The Pope had the procession stopped, took the letter from the boy and rubbed the boy's crew cut hair. The letter identified the class and assured the Pope of their daily prayers for him and in particular "for the success of your big meeting."

This was the only stop the procession made during its general audience. Tarras' other son, William Jr., attended the audience.

While in Rome for a week Tarras saw the Pope five times.

Houston County Gets $14,756 For Planning

Houston County was one of two Minnesota projects allotted more than $110,000 by the Urban Renewal Administration at Washington, D.C.

The county will receive $14,756 to help finance and prepare a plan of growth for the county. The survey will head a sound land use planning and zoning program to preserve the natural and agriculture area of the county and help adopt land use regulations.

St. Louis county received $98,160 for a same type program.

Stockton Mitten Tree

STOCKTON, Minn. (Special) —The Stockton Grace Lutheran Church has a "mitten tree" this year with the traditional decorated Christmas tree. The ornaments of mittens or gloves are gifts for the mentally retarded at Bethesda, Watertown, Wis., where there are about 585 persons up to the age of 30. The home is supported by the Missouri, Wisconsin, Norwegian, Slovak and National synods of the Lutheran church. The Bethesda home was formerly known as "A House of Mercy."

RUBBISH AT KIDDELAND . . . A 21-year-old Winonan paid a $15 fine in municipal court this morning after he pleaded guilty to throwing the rubbish shown here at the Kiddieland area of Lake Park. Richard L. Yahnke, 67 W. Howard St., arrested at police headquarters at 3:15 p.m. Thursday, told Judge John D. McGill this morning that he dumped the rubbish because he felt it endangered his driving. He said that the large container of rubbish was in the front seat of his car and that he was having difficulty in making turns because of it. Police, who found the rubbish at 7:40 a.m. Thursday, said it was dumped late Wednesday night. Judge McGill said that the offense warranted a $25 fine, but that Yahnke went back to the scene and cleaned up the rubbish. (Police photo)

Police Busy Checking On Collisions

Police were busy investigating traffic accidents today. Three two-car crashes occurred in a 45-minute period before 8 a.m., they said.

In addition, they investigated two two-car accidents and a hit-and-run crash Thursday afternoon. Damage resulting from the six accidents amounted to more than $1,050.

THE MOST recent collision occurred at 8 a.m. at East King and Hamilton streets. It involved cars driven by David A. Johnson, 20, 625 E. Sanborn St., and Karen K. Nowlan, 21, Rushford, Minn.

Police said that Johnson was traveling west on King and Miss Nowlan north on Hamilton when the cars collided. Streets were slippery, they said.

Damage was more than $100 to Miss Nowlan's car and more than $50 to Johnson's.

AT 7:21 A.M. cars driven by Mrs. Howard A. Baumann, 263 Kansas St., and Gerald J. Barnholtz, 276 High Forest St., collided at East Broadway and Laird Street.

Police said that Barnholtz was driving a taxi owned by Vets Cab Co., 160 Walnut St., north on Laird and that Mrs. Baumann was traveling east on Broadway.

Barnholtz's vision was obscured by a bakery truck parked at the southwest corner, said police. He stopped for the stop sign and proceeded across Broadway when the cab struck the right side of Mrs. Baumann's car, police continued.

Damage was more than $100 to each vehicle.

CARS DRIVEN by Gilman V. Glenna, 1177 W. Mark St., and Edmund S. Muras, 565 E. Front St., collided on Gould Street, about 200 feet north of West Howard Street, at 7:15 a.m.

Police explained both were traveling north on Gould. Muras stopped to allow a passenger to get out of his car and Glenna's car struck the rear of his car, said police. Glenna's car skidded 20 feet on the icy street, they said.

Damage was more than $100 to each car.

WEST 5TH and Gould was the scene of one of the Thursday afternoon accidents. The accident, which occurred at 4:13 p.m., resulted in a traffic citation being issued to one driver.

James P. Werra, 218 W. Howard St., was cited for failure to yield the right of way. Involved in the accident with Werra's car was one driven by Larry C. Graves, 24, 80 Lenox St. Graves was traveling west on 5th and his car was struck in the left rear by Werra's car, traveling north on Gould.

Damage was more than $200 to Graves' car and less than $50 to Werra's.

AN EARLIER collision occurred at 3:42 at East 3rd and Hamilton Streets and involved cars driven by Clarence Aueuth, Fountain City, Wis., and Fred E. Tenborg, 673 Huff St.

Police said Aueuth was driving a vehicle owned by Louise's Liquor Store, Fountain City Rt. 2, and that it collided with Tenborg's car in the intersection.

Aueuth was traveling east on 3rd and Tenborg south on Hamilton. Damage was more than $100 to each car.

THE HIT-and-run accident was a minor one. It occurred at 6:05 near the intersection of East 5th Street and Mankato Avenue.

A parked car owned by Aloysius J. Levinski, 950 E. 5th St., was parked facing west on 5th Street when it was struck by an unknown vehicle. Police said the hit-and-run car apparently backed from a parking area into the front of the parked car. Damage to Levinski's car was more than $50.

Cold to Continue Over Christmas

Don't let that bright sunshine fool you. "Baby it's cold out side" and from the looks of things it appears Old Man Scrooge is substituting for the weatherman.

The official Winona thermometer dropped to a bitter -16 this morning, the coldest reading on the weather books since Feb. 21, when the low was the same, -16. The high Thursday was zero and at noon today it still was six below.

Today's -16 was the coldest Dec. 20 since 1901 when the same temperature was recorded. The day also shares the record with Dec. 20, 1872, as the coldest Dec. 20 in the Winona weather record book.

AND IF OLD Scrooge, pardon us, the U.S. Weather Bureau forecaster, persists in his meanness, Winona and vicinity will suffer well into the Christmas week.

Mostly fair and continued very cold tonight and Saturday is his forecast with a low of 15 to 22 below tonight and a high of 5 to 10 below Saturday. Sunday, he forecasts, will see very little change.

And the extended forecast for the next five days indicates temperatures for Winona will average 8 to 16 degrees below normal through Christmas day. Normal daytime highs this time of the year are 24 to 29 above and nighttime lows 5 to 12 above.

Precipitation for the five days is expected to total less than .10 of an inch (melted) in scattered light snow most likely toward the middle of next week.

This is the eighth day when zero or below temperatures prevailed in Winona. The coldest last December was -15 on Dec. 26 and 27.

The record for the past week:

	High	Low
Saturday	9	-3
Sunday	12	0

Monday	8	-10
Tuesday	12	-4
Wednesday	11	-11
Thursday	3	-8
Friday	0	-16

A year ago today the Winona high was 35 and the low 21. The ground was bare of snow. All-time high for Dec. 20 was 54 in 1894. Mean for the past 24 hours was -8. Normal for this time of the year is 19.

AFTER A week of the bitter cold, Winonans seem to be settling down into a regular winter pattern. Although many cars still were giving plenty of starting trouble, most drivers were coaxing their vehicles along with a minimum amount of trouble.

Winona's triple AAA office was getting up to 20 calls an hour for starting help. In addition, all Winona garages were besieged with calls for aid, as well. On a normal winter day with the temperature down to about zero there will only be one or two calls an hour, attendants reported.

With frost penetration to about 2½ feet, a continuance of this kind of weather will begin to give some trouble with exposed water lines and mains, Gerald Harvey, secretary of the Board of Municipal Works, said today.

No report of frozen mains has been received to date, he said.

STATE HIGHWAYS in both Minnesota and Wisconsin were reported in good winter driving condition although slippery spots were reported. Some stretches on secondary roads were icy.

Bemidji was accorded the questionable honor of having the lowest official recorded temperature in the nation, 35 below. It was down to -26 at International Falls, -23 at St. Cloud and -23 at Fargo, N.D.

Rochester posted a low of -19 after a Thursday high of -6 and La Crosse had figures of -18 and 0 for the same times. That gigantic mass of Arctic air hammered temperatures down to record levels for this date in many areas of WISCONSIN, too.

Record lows for any Dec. 20 on record were recorded early today at Beloit, with 15 below, at La Crosse, with -18 and at Madison, with -17. Milwaukee's -12 equalled the record for the date set in 1924.

Coldest place in Wisconsin was Eau Claire where the temperature continued to sag after daylight today and reached a low of -23 at 8 a.m.

MAXIMUM readings Thursday ranged from -6 in the Superior area to 5 above at Green Bay.

Skies were clear throughout Wisconsin today, except in the Hurley area where a few snow flurries were falling.

Highest temperature in the country Thursday was 74 at Thermal, Calif.

MOUNTAINS OF MAIL . . . Post office worker Gilbert Seibert, 456 Olmstead St., sorts through the pile of parcels collected this morning in the Winona post office. Although mail volume as a whole is down this year from the volume during the 1962 holiday rush period, there have been more parcels than ever, Postmaster John W. Dugan reports. (Daily News photo)

Mail Takes Big Spurt

The total volume of mail going through the Winona post office since last Saturday may, by tonight, be nearly 100,000 pieces more than the volume handled during the comparable period last year.

Postmaster John W. Dugan, in making the above estimate, said that the rush here was over as far as outgoing mail was concerned. Incoming mail (mail to be delivered in Winona), however, was still heavy, pushing up the total volume figures.

IN THE Saturday-through-Thursday period this year, a total of 1,305,900 pieces of mail were handled. There were 357,000 machine cancellations (mail canceled at the post office), and 217,500 meter cancellations. The overall figure for outgoing mail — including letters, parcels, magazines, and everything else — was 622,100.

During the same period, there were 594,800 incoming letters and an overall incoming volume of 683,800 pieces.

Last year, the total flow for the comparable period was 1,282,900. There were 375,000 machine cancellations and 240,200 meter cancellations.

Overall outgoing volume was 666,000 pieces, and overall incoming flow was 616,900. There were 537,200 incoming letters.

This period, Dugan said, is the peak of the Christmas rush. From now on, he said, it probably will taper off slightly, although the rate of increase in mail volume in the past few days may be an indication of a continued rise that would make this year's total greater than that for 1962.

DURING THE entire Christmas rush season, which began for the post office on Dec. 7, mail volume is down slightly from that of last year. This reflects a trend throughout the nation, and postal officials are convinced that the death of President Kennedy, which took the minds of many off of Christmas preparations, is the answer.

A comparison of machine cancellations from Saturday through Thursday this year, and during the comparable period last year, follows:

	1962	1963
Saturday	82,100	47,900
Sunday	39,200	29,300
Monday	88,500	75,000
Tuesday	74,900	74,200
Wednesday	65,300	67,700
Thursday	55,000	62,900

Trial Scheduled On Beer Charge

Alvin Ronnenberg, owner and operator of Garvin Brook Tavern, the Arches, pleaded not guilty in municipal court today to a charge of selling beer to a minor.

Sheriff George Fort charges that Ronnenberg sold a six-pack of beer to a 16-year-old rural Utica youth Dec. 10.

Judge John D. McGill set the trial on this matter for next Friday and set bail at $100. Ronnenberg was released on his recognizance on the condition that he post bail later today.

He was arrested at his tavern at 4 p.m. Thursday. The tavern is west of the Arches, between Lewistown and Stockton. Sheriff Fort said that two other youths, 15 and 16, were in the youth's car when he allegedly purchased the beer. The three later were stopped by a Lewistown policeman.

Assistant County Attorney Richard Darby represented the state.

Car Gymkhana On Lake Possible Carnival Event

Tentative plans for a sports car gymkhana on Lake Winona during the Winter Carnival were discussed at Thursday night's Winona Activity Group meeting. President James Heinlen reported.

Heinlen said that most arrangements for the carnival now are set, and that the square dance should be a big event this year. St. Stanislaus School's band will appear at the square dance, which will be held in the school gymnasium.

More carnival buttons have been ordered. Heinlen said. It was decided that any person or business place — whether a member of the activity group or not — selling 50 or more buttons, would be allowed to keep 10 percent of the receipts from the button sales.

Plainview Accident Driver Pays Fine

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special) — A Plainview man pleaded guilty before Justice Leon Ellringer Thursday to failure to yield right of way and was fined $75 and $4 costs. He was involved in a collision on a local street that put two men in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Wabasha.

Ellringer also recommended that Jerome Daly's license be suspended for 90 days.

The Daly car collided with the Bill Johnson vehicle at an intersection at 10:30 p.m. Monday. Thomas Gerber, who received head and chest injuries plus facial cuts, still is in the hospital. Johnson, who was driving the car in which Gerber was a passenger, was hospitalized briefly.

Two Fined for Not Stopping At Crossings

Two students of Winona colleges were found guilty in municipal court trials today of charges of failure to stop for a stop sign.

The students, although arrested on different evenings, were arrested by the same policeman at the same crossing of the Milwaukee Railroad. Both were traveling in the same direction on Gilmore Avenue and turned left onto Sioux Street.

THOMAS A. French, 18, Chatfield, Minn., student at Winona State, and Leonard Timpono, 20, Ever Green Park, Ill., student at St. Mary's, had separate trials. Both admitted that they did not stop for the stop sign.

French was arrested at 5:02 p.m. Dec. 12. He pleaded not guilty Dec. 13 and posted $10 bail. Timpono received his citation at 7:42 p.m. Dec. 9 and pleaded not guilty last Saturday. He also posted $10 bail.

The bail deposits of each were used to pay their fines. Judge John D. McGill sentenced each to pay a fine of $10 or to serve three days.

Patrolman Richard Braithwaite was the only witness for the state in each trial. James Soderberg, city prosecutor, represented the state.

French's trial came first. Braithwaite said he saw the driver traveling east on Gilmore Avenue and that he did not stop for the stop sign.

Thomas Schroeder, another WSC student, said he was with French. "I've never seen a stop sign there," he said. Schroeder said that French did not stop.

FRENCH explained that he did not come to a complete stop, but said that in his opinion he wasn't running the stop sign either.

Braithwaite's testimony in the second trial was similar. He said Timpono, traveling east on Gilmore Avenue, failed to stop for the stop sign.

Timpono said that Braithwaite was telling the truth, but he believes the stop sign isn't legal because it is yellow and black, not red and white. The stop sign should be replaced, he said.

Ettrick Firemen At Creamery Again

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Firemen were called at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, the third time since 7:30 Wednesday, to the creamery building on Highway 53 west of Ettrick. The structure was a total loss in the Wednesday evening fire.

Keep Teener From Drifting

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

Dear Dr. Nason:

Our high school son stays out of trouble, makes average grades, yet seems to be drifting. What can we, as parents, do to help him start working toward something?

Mrs. N.N.,
Long Beach, Calif.

Answer:

No teen-ager has the experience to dominate his own upbringing. Parents must provide not only guidance and direction but insist that he do something about it. He must have his own plans for the future and be working toward them and they must be his plans.

Teen-agers, themselves, often complain to me that their parents allow them to drift! So take a strong hand.

Dear Dr. Nason:

Do you have any suggestions for parents of a 7-year-old boy who does not complete his school work or projects? He was in an "Enrichment Program" during first grade and in the "Advanced Group" in second grade.

He has been a reader and a thinker. Recently he has not listened to the teacher's instructions nor followed through.

Can we help correct him at home.

Mrs. H.D.H.,
Syracuse, N.Y.

Answer:
Have a quiet talk with your son. Place the responsibility for correcting this situation on him. If possible, gain the cooperation of teachers and counselor at school so that all of the adults in his life will present a solid front, emphasizing the importance of listening to instructions and completing assignments.

Dear Dr. Nason:

Somewhere along the line we have failed to make our son realize the importance of reading.

He has always had good reading material available, but if we mention reading he feels that we are forcing him.

Since grade five his teachers have complained "John has good potentials but is just not working up to his ability."

What can we do?

Mrs. W.N.,
Rensselaer, N.Y.

Answer:
John will have to do something about this himself.

If John can be persuaded to give reading a fair chance, if he will not make himself read enough about a topic to gain understanding and knowledge regarding it, interest in the subject and in reading will develop.

Conscious effort on John's part is the easiest, if not the only, solution to the problem.

Minnesotan Gets $230,000 For Resort

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — A Federal Court jury awarded William Zupanzich, Ely, $230,000 for his resort in the wilderness canoe country along the Canadian border.

The Thursday verdict represented a compromise by the panel between Zupanzich's claim the property was worth $1 million and the about $100,000 appraisal put on it by officials.

The resort, known as Curtain Falls fishing camp, is on Crooked Lake with the only access to it by boat. There is a ban on flying into the area, which is about 50 miles from the nearest road.

Appraisers hired by the government testified the property was worth between $95,800 and $105,000. Zupanzich's appraisers said it was worth considerably more.

The owner testified he valued it at $30 a foot for 6,000 feet on Crooked Lake and $500 a foot for 700 feet on Curtain Falls.

The Forest Service's condemnation action calls for buying all privately-owned property in the Quetico - Superior wilderness area.

St. Louis County had an assessed valuation of $12,000 on the property and the real estate taxes were $283.54.

Army Convicts 3 in Death of Airmen in France

EVREUX, France (AP) — A U.S. Army court-martial convicted three American soldiers—two Negroes and a white—today in the death of an airman in a fight between soldiers and airmen at the Evreux Air Force Base.

The Negroes, Pvt. Richard L. Parker Jr. of Eckman, W.Va., and Pfc. Edward Spears of New York, were convicted of unpremeditated murder and assault.

The third soldier, Pfc. Alan L. Gernard of New York, was convicted of involuntary manslaughter and attempted assault.

They were to be sentenced later today.

Airman I.C. Robert Padgett of Woodlawn, Va., was fatally injured Sept. 6 after a group of soldiers invaded an airmen's barracks on the base.

The court was made up of five officers and three enlisted men.

Five Negro soldiers and Gernard, were accused of taking part in the soldiers' attack on the Air Force barracks.

In a previous trial, Pfc. Raymond C. Bost Jr., of Pittsburgh, was convicted of unpremeditated murder and assault and sentenced to 15 years in prison. Pfc. Robert Burrell of Philadelphia was given 12 years on the same charges.

The trial of Pfc. Franklin D. Waddell of Philadelphia on a charge of unpremeditated murder was postponed indefinitely after his attorney requested a separate trial and another pre-trial investigation.

Pepin Co. Taxes Total $313,738

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — Total county taxes on real and personal property of $313,738 and total state taxes on real estate of $5,305 have been apportioned to Pepin County municipalities by Martin Pittman, county clerk, on equalized valuations.

Both figures are higher than last year, when county taxes were $285,243 and state taxes, $4,924.

THESE TOTALS don't include payments on principal and interest on state trust fund loans and other special charges against municipalities and school districts, but the following table gives the total charges against each municipality in the apportionment:

Municipality	1963	1962	Increase
TOWNSHIP
Albany	$19,458	$21,764	$2,306
Durand	17,489	21,079	3,590
Frankfort	18,639	22,634	4,000
Lima	31,223	33,608	2,385
Pepin	33,637	38,752	5,115
Stockholm	10,868	11,877	1,009
Waterville	40,711	52,563	11,852
Waubeek	7,771	8,879	1,108
VILLAGE
Pepin	$21,348	$24,561	$3,213
Stockholm	3,131	3,968	837
CITY
Durand	$89,489	$95,467	$6,178

The total equalized valuation of Pepin County is $26,526,710, an increase of $1,905,300 from last year's $24,621,410.

The greatest valuation increase was in the city of DURAND, which was placed at $8,154,820 this year compared with $7,626,700 last year.

The general county tax increased in the city from $61.820 to $66.150.

A state trust fund loan Durand School District inherited from the Ume district when it joined here costs $953 in the city this year.

TOWN OF WATERVILLE has the least increase in valuation in Pepin County, going from $3,424,300 to $3,441,750, resulting in the least increase in county tax.

The general county tax in Waterville was $27.756 last year and is $27.919 for the coming year.

The greatest increase in total tax of all municipalities for 1964 is in Waterville, however. The $12,742 larger figure is due for the most part to a 20-year state trust fund loan of $195,000 which Arkansasaw High School District received June 28. Principal due is $9,750 and interest for six months, $4,473.

With the valuation of Arkansasaw District at $3,334,900, the amount charged to the valuation totals $10,917, or a mill rate of approximately 3.26.

County aid for bridges is $1,917 for Waterville; county superintendent, $531; and special charges for reassessment and revaluation plus social security penalty, $30.

TOWN OF ALBANY had an increase of $96,000 in valuation, from $1,624,800 to $1,721,500. The general county tax went from $13.170 to $13.964. Albany's share of a state trust fund loan of the Mondovi school district is $591; county aid for bridges, $959; and county superintendent, $220.

The equalized valuation of the TOWN OF DURAND is $1,716,720, increasing $248,290. The general county tax increased $2,023, to $13,926. County aid for bridges is $956 and school district loans, $183.

An increase brings the TOWN OF FRANKFORT's equalized value to $1,637,260. The general county tax climbed to $13.281. County aid for bridges is $912; special charges, $15,63; and school district loans, $3,432.

Valuation of $1,003,000 in the Arkansasaw school district lying in the Town of Frankfort will pay $3,280 toward the trust fund loan. Some areas in the district will pay $152 on valuation in the Pepin district.

TOWN OF LIMA increased $113,450 in valuation, to $2,734,220. The general county tax increased to $22.180. Its share of a school district loan is $327 and county aid for bridges, $1,523.

The TOWN OF PEPIN, with a higher figure by $279,350, had the third greatest increase in valuation in the county. It's now $3,082,430. The general county tax jumped from $21.910 to $25,004. Payment on a district loan for the Pepin school is $744. The town is charged $488 for the county superintendent and $1,717 for bridge aid.

TOWN OF STOCKHOLM increased in valuation from $911,800 to $942,490. The general county tax is $7.645. Other charges are county superintendent, $149; school district loan, $251; and county aid for bridges, $525.

TOWN OF WAUBEK has a valuation of $719,650, an increase of $63,750. The general county tax is $5.837, and charges for the county superintendent are $166; bridges $401; and district loans, $118. Of these, $37.61 is for the Arkansasaw district and the remainder for Durand district.

The village of PEPIN, with the second greatest increase in equalized valuation, jumped from $1,753,200 to $2,045,200. The general county tax increased $2,379, to $16,590. The village will pay $482 toward its school district loan and $324 for the county superintendent.

The village of STOCKHOLM, with an increase of $64,470, now has an equalized valuation of $330,870. The general county tax is $5.24 higher — $2,694. School district loan charges are $73 and county superintendent, $52.

SALARIES of Pepin County assessors varied from a low of $75 paid Milton Lindgren in Stockholm village to a high of $1,000 received by Cecil Barber in the Town of Frankfort.

Roman Bauer, Town of Albany, received $250; Everett Vradenburg, Town of Durand, $200; Victor Bauer, Town of Lima, $350; Clifford Hassel, Town of Stockholm, $180; Wallace Gifford, Waterville, $400; Russell Kirk, Waubeek, $125; Elwin Rundquist, village of Pepin, $350; and Galen Liefiring, city of Durand, $420.

Fischers Plan Quiet Christmas

By LEW FERGUSON

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — The jump from 5 to 10 stockings by the tree will mean a Christmas like never before for the Andrew Fischer family.

This time last year, the family was preparing for a quiet Christmas at its modest home outside town.

There were a few toys for the five children, a Christmas tree, candy and cookies.

Christmas never again will be that simple at the Fischer home.

When Mrs. Mary Ann Fischer gave birth to quintuplets Sept. 14, all the Fischers' lives were changed forever.

About the only things unchanged by the quint's birth are that Andrew Fischer still has his same job and three of the five older children go to school as usual.

This Christmas, the Fischers and their 10 children have an attractive 9-room home in northeast Aberdeen. Three of the quint are home and the other two are expected to go home from the hospital by Christmas.

There are almost more gifts than anyone has time to unwrap.

The altering of the Fischer family routine has been tremendous. Mrs. Fischer has full-time help with the children and housework.

Fischer, $80-a-week billing clerk at a grocery warehouse, has had his fortune increased substantially — although not to the extent many might believe.

A family spokesman says cash and merchandise gifts have totaled less than $10,000, not counting sale of story and picture rights to national publications which reportedly have added another $30,000.

Because of the sale of the story and picture rights, the family won't talk to newsmen about personal matters.

The City of Aberdeen is to build the family a home on a free site. A city official says the site probably will be selected by the end of the year.

The quintuplets themselves have lost none of their appeal in this prairie city of 25,000. Motorists arriving at the city on U.S. 12 and 281 are greeted by new 15 by 30 foot signs saying: "Welcome to Aberdeen, home of the Fischer quint."

The quintuplets have gained weight and strength steadily. James Andrew, the only boy, was well ahead of any of his four sisters in everything—getting into formula, getting out of the isolettes at St. Luke's hospital, and getting out of the hospital.

Mary Magdalene and Mary Margaret went home only last Saturday. Mary Catherine and Mary Ann are due to go home very soon.

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Dwindling levels of the Mississippi River forced more commercial traffic into port today. The Weather Bureau forecast continued freezing and said the river appears destined to be locked by ice in a matter of days.

Without deep, fast-moving water to clear flows from narrow channels, ice jams blocked the river for periods of about a month the last two winters.

Towboats pulling into ports along the 181 miles of river between Cairo and St. Louis reported depths of navigation channels were only 6.5 and 7 feet in many spots. Ice flows were moving slowly and were clustered along shores, crewmen said.

replied, "I'll be in and out of the building, too."

The young man said no more. Heismann says—just walked to his car, carefully pried off all the hubcaps, put them inside, locked the car and walked away with his date.

Elliot said he had received a Soviet autopsy report on the dead student. He said it was still being translated.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Police officer Jack Heismann was on an off-duty job, directing traffic in the North High School parking lot for a school dance.

A student drove in with his date and asked: "Are you going to be in the lot all the time?" "Most of the time," Heismann

Minneapolis Man Indicted

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Auburn Hare, 32, was indicted for first degree murder Thursday in the Sunday night slaying of Minneapolis Patrolman James E. Hendricks.

Hare is recovering at General Hospital from wounds inflicted by Hendricks' partner, Officer Chester Langaard when the two-man squad was answering a call regarding a previous shooting in an apartment at 3025 Portland Ave.

Hare also was indicted for aggravated assault in the wounding of Mrs. Albert Winje, with whom police said he had been living. Mrs. Winje still is in serious condition.

Hennepin County grand jurors heard about three hours of testimony before returning the true bills. A principal witness was Langaard.

Police said that Hare had admitted wounding Mrs. Winje because "she had been nagging me." Mrs. Winje, in turn, gave police and oral statement in which she said she saw Hare shoot Hendricks.

Let's talk about the DIFFERENCE in Fuel Oils

Cal-Rad in Midland INFRA-HEAT absorbs and disperses moisture, prevents rust and sludge. The moisture burns with the fuel. Your burner nozzle stays clean, inside and out. No smoke, soot, fuel waste or lost heat. Uniform fuel atomization like this gives you clean-burning, economical heating comfort.

When you are tempted to say, "oh, all fuel oils are alike" . . . think about those two little pictures. Remember the importance of these differences in fuel oil.

For the finest money saving, clean, home heating fuel, call the Midland cooperative. Only Midland has the Comfort Assurance Plan featuring both Budget Pay and Keep-Fill services and only Midland has petroleum products that are Midland controlled . . . from the oil well to you.

Through Your Purchases You Can Become a Stockholder at the Midland cooperative.

Midland Infra-Heat fuel oil with Cal-Rad looks like most other fuel oils. However, you can't see the differences in the fuel oil that are the result of refining and blending processes. These are the differences that can cost you money and heating comfort.

Many fuel oils contain additives. They, too, are different. Cal-Rad in Midland INFRA-HEAT is a tested and proved additive that overcomes the moisture and sludge problems inherent with heating oils. With ordinary fuel oil in your tank, moisture can cause damaging rust and sludge formation. Let's see what that means.

The opening in your oil burner's nozzle is smaller than the period ending this sentence. That tiny hole must stay open and clean for efficient fuel atomization and combustion.

Here the tiny particle of rust or sludge is lodged near that small opening. Deflected fuel drips away unburned.

Faulty burning makes soot and smoke. Finally the opening is plugged. Fuel is wasted, heat is lost. A service call results.

Wide Income Range Analyzed in Report

HOW THE AMERICAN people share $333 billion in money income is told graphically in a pamphlet published by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

If the third of a trillion dollars had been equally divided it would have meant $5,700 for each of the 45 million families and each of the 13 million unrelated individuals not living as a part of families.

The median income of all families and unrelated individuals was $4,800 in 1959; $5,700 for families and $1,600 for unrelated individuals. That is, one-half received more than the median and one-half received less than the median.

About 14 million families and unrelated individuals, or 23 percent of the 58 million families and unrelated individuals in the nation, received cash incomes of less than $2,000. These units received about four percent of the total income. On the other hand, eight percent of the total income was received by the one-half million families and unrelated individuals with incomes of $25,000 or more.

FAMILY INCOMES are generally much higher than those of unrelated individuals because more than one person in a family may be receiving income, and for other reasons, including the fact that a large proportion of individuals are older persons with diminished incomes.

A fifth of all families had incomes under $2,800 in 1959. This lowest 20 percent of families received only five percent of the nearly $300 billion total family income. The highest one-fifth of the families had incomes over $9,000 and received 44 percent of the total family income.

In the top five percent only one family out of 100 lived entirely on income from interest, dividends, rents, royalties, and the like. The other 99 did paid work and in the great majority of cases were largely dependent on income from their jobs or businesses. These families had incomes above $14,800 and received 18 percent of the total family income in 1959.

AMONG THE 13 million unrelated individuals, even the most productive age group — 25 to 64 — had a median income of only $2,500 in 1959; the one-third who were 65 years or older had a median of $1,000, and the one-tenth who were 14 to 24 years old had a median income of $1,500.

We've Got to Start Somewhere

NEARLY EVERYONE wants economy in government, with one proviso: any cutbacks must be made in someone else's bailiwick.

Need we say more about the hullabaloo over shutting down 35 military bases and paring 75,000 civilian jobs from the federal payroll?

Hardest hit, evidently, is New York State, which stands to lose seven installations and 11,000 jobs. Naturally, New York's congressional delegation is upset.

Similar congressional howls of pain greeted Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's 1961 plan to close 52 military bases. He went ahead nonetheless, and got rid of all but a few on that list. No calamitous results have been recorded in the two years since then.

THE $50 BILLION which Americans are spending annually for defense is more than half of the federal budget. Therefore it necessarily offers the largest field for eliminating waste.

Top defense officials have been saying for some time that they have more bases than they need — that their job could be done better with fewer. They have shied from pruning because of protests from congressmen and from local interests in the communities affected.

Taxpayers want no stinting on the national defense, but have a right to insist on streamlining wherever possible.

As to the swollen federal payroll, we will merely mention that the number of civilian government employees has more than doubled since before World War II. The figure in 1940 was 1,042,420. Last year, in the midst of what passes for peace nowadays, the roster had soared to 2,514,211. All these, we repeat, are civilians, not men in uniform.

THE PROPOSED cutback of 75,000 appears to be merely a modest start toward what ought to be a much larger reduction of Big Government. Every effort should be made to minimize the hardship in the communities to lose these payrolls. But we've got to start somewhere.

News Coverage Of a Tragedy

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

Undoubtedly, the most widely-publicized event of history has been the assassination of President Kennedy and the circumstances which surrounded it.

The news coverage of the tragedy surpassed that of all other historic events for two basic reasons: the importance of the slaying itself, and that it was the first time all major television and radio networks devoted full 24-hour coverage for four days to any single happening.

Newspapers also expanded their coverage in an unprecedented fashion to bring their readers every possible detail relating to the assassination.

With such saturation of all news media, it is no small wonder that every American old enough and capable of reading, watching TV or listening to a radio today knows as much about the brutal shooting of our President as he can possibly absorb.

Unfortunately, much of what was printed, broadcast and telecast was distorted by hysteria because of the intense shock of the assassination itself, the political leanings of some writers and commentators and of the objective reporting by others who simply quoted statements by prominent public figures.

As a result, our people have undergone a certain degree of brainwashing about responsibility for the President's death.

In short, it was just more than the political left-wing could bear to discover that Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin, actually was a professed Communist and claimed membership in the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER word was flashed that President Kennedy had been slain, these were the first to rush into print charging that a rightist must have done it. One high elected official even issued a statement saying that a prominent Texas oil millionaire was as guilty as the actual assassin because he had sponsored a series of radio broadcasts which had criticized the late President's political views. The statement was retracted four hours later, but the retraction, as is usual in such cases, received comparatively little mention.

Almost incessantly since, the tirade against anything to the right of political center has continued in an effort to somehow, in some manner, pin upon the supporters of constitutional government all blame for the act of a madman whose only political philosophy was that our society and its leaders must be destroyed.

THE MOST outspokenly-vicious supporters of the baseless charge against the political right, of course, are the Communists themselves. The Worker, their official newspaper, dated Nov. 26, said of the assassination:

"It is the ultimate depravity of the pro-fascist, ultra-right forces — of the fiendish Dixiecrats and racists — who will stop at nothing to destroy the democratic institutions of the country, to threaten the peace of the world and to turn back the clock of history."

That the killing instead was the act of a man who learned his hatred of our society from Communist literature and not from any "pro-fascist, ultra-right forces" was immaterial.

IRONICALLY, PERHAPS, it was President Kennedy's own brother, the attorney general, who two years earlier had rescinded the ban on subsidized handling of such literature through the U. S. mails.

On the floor of the Senate on Dec. 6, Sen. Milward L. Simpson of Wyoming charged that this campaign of the left threatens us with the "danger of yet another assassination — the assassination of the American character." He continued:

"After nearly two weeks of national demonstration, it seems quite clear why the assault is continuing. There are people who hope to gain political advantage from warping the uncontested truth of the assassination to produce facts which simply do not exist."

How do you stand, sir?

IT'S STILL HEAVY HERE —

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Johnson Expects Cohorts To Get Work Done on Time

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Last Saturday, a day which is a holiday for organized labor and most government officials, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, the Democratic whip, got a call at home.

"What're you doing at home?" asked a familiar voice. "I thought you'd be in Tokyo or Tel Aviv."

It was the President of the United States. "I want your ideas on wheat," President Johnson continued, "and I need 'em by 3:30 tomorrow afternoon."

He went on to give some of his own ideas on wheat legislation, and asked the senator for his. Humphrey had introduced a wheat bill, following the Farm Bureau-reviled revolt of wheat farmers against the Kennedy-Freeman wheat program last May.

Next day was Sunday and, the wheat problem being an intricate one, Sen. Humphrey did not deliver his ideas at the White House by 3:30. Promptly at 3:30 he got another phone call.

"Where's that wheat program of yours?" asked the President of the United States.

Humphrey had worked most of the day and part of the night. Finally he got a wheat program over to the White House. In broad outline his plan calls for voluntary controls and for price supports for farmers accepting these controls.

The new President is operating with deft sureness when it comes to domestic legislation. He watches his old friends in Congress with the efficient concern of a hen piloting an unruly flock of chicks through a tomato patch. He has more legislative know-how than any other President in this century.

ON FOREIGN policy, however, Johnson is inclined to OK position papers too rapidly. Lyndon is accustomed to fast action; so when an adviser puts a policy outline in front of him and it sounds reasonable, he approves it.

This was the inside reason why the new President got himself and the nation in the position of throwing away his ace cards just before he sits down at his Texas ranch after Christmas.

What some State Department advisers proposed was mas with the new chancellor of Germany, Ludwig Erhard.

Johnson, who understands tough Texas poker, is not in the habit of throwing away his aces. But in this case he is reported to have taken the advice of Ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson and his astute relative by marriage, McGeorge Bundy, the White House adviser on foreign affairs. The Acheson policy has been described by some State Department officials as making the United States a satellite of West Germany.

What Johnson did was to OK a pledge to keep six U.S. divisions in Europe chiefly in Germany.

By so doing, Johnson tossed away his power to bargain effectively over German tariffs against U.S. chickens, discrimination against other American farm products, the drain on the dollar, and especially adjustments with Russia to ease the cold war.

THE Germans have been on tenterhooks that the United States would withdraw one or two American divisions ever since operation Big Lift. And the real truth is that President Kennedy and Secretary of Defense McNamara had planned to do so until both Chancellor Adenauer and President De Gaulle began squawking.

What some State Department advisers proposed was that the question of keeping the full quota of American troops in Europe be kept up in the air until after Chancellor Erhard's conversations in Texas, so as to give LBJ a chance to do some bargaining. Johnson had even refused to see German newsmen in order to keep a free hand.

But the Acheson axis which still has great power in the State Department, and which believes that U.S. policy should bow to German policy, had its way.

This put Secretary of State Rusk in the position of urging Germany and our NATO allies to improve relations with the Soviets in order to help Khrushchev in his battle with the Red Chinese, but of having no bargaining power with our NATO allies to induce them to do this.

It also put Secretary of Defense McNamara in the difficult position of urging our NATO allies to fill their quotas of troops for NATO without being able to threaten to withdraw U.S. troops if they didn't.

ONE of the first and most important Latin-American moves by the Johnson administration is to lessen U.S. hate for Haiti. To this end, Ambassador Benson E. L. Timmons, a skilled career diplomat, has gone to Haiti with the aim of keeping that country from becoming a Congo of the Caribbean.

That's very good. People who reduce rapidly almost invariably return to their former eating habits and put the weight back on again.

The person who reduces slowly gradually acquires sounder eating habits—and has no trouble keeping the excess weight off.

A pound a week is 52 pounds a year, and that's a LOT of reducing. You can do very well at an even slower rate.

And yes, you can still reduce and have starchier foods. The point is not to eat too much of them. Some people are fat because they go on occasional "starch binges." Each binge adds poundage and in the course of a year or two this accumulates into quite a lot of excess baggage.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do women sometimes menstruate after becoming pregnant? — C. N.

No. Bleeding, and possibly a regular period, can occur if it is a tubal pregnancy — in which case prompt medical attention is mandatory anyway.

Otherwise, if the pregnancy is normal, bleeding is an ominous sign and should be reported to the doctor at once. Some women may spot for several months in the early part of pregnancy, but this is not a menstrual flow.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can a father, mother and baby have three different blood types? If not, from which parent does the baby obtain its blood type? — M.S.

Yes, they can all have different types. Or they also may all have the same type. The baby gets its blood type from neither parent alone.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes sciatica? Is there treatment to ease the severe pain or provide a cure? — H.S. H.

Sciatica means that the sciatic nerve is causing pain. The causes can be neuritis (from virus infection or some toxic element); the nerve can be pinched, such as from a faulty spinal disc or from arthritic changes in the spine; or there may have been a physical injury. Drugs can give temporary relief. The better course, naturally, is to relieve the condition permanently, which can be done in several of the above conditions, if they are positively identified.

Prostatism Problem of Older Men

By J. G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Are there other ways to treat an enlarged prostate gland besides surgery? When is an operation necessary? — H. S.

Massage of this gland occasionally can control enlargement, but there usually comes a time when surgery is the only answer. Various degrees of enlargement can exist. In general these are the clues indicating that removal is necessary:

Great frequency of urination — six or seven times in the night, disturbing sleep and thus undermining health.

Tests which show that an ounce or more of urine remains in the bladder after urination. This invites irritation and infection.

Greatly diminished force of the urinary stream.

Lumps in the gland, which could mean cancer.

Of course the absolute indication of need for surgery is complete obstruction of urinary flow. One or more of the other symptoms will have occurred before complete obstruction.

Prostatism is primarily a problem of older men, but remember that age no longer is a factor in whether surgery should be performed. Further, there are various surgical approaches which can be adapted to suit the patient's general condition, if other infirmities exist. In short, don't be too insistent on avoiding the operation. Naturally nobody wants to be laid up, but when the time comes you will benefit in both comfort and health by having the surgery, and you'll run risks by postponing it.

Dear Dr. Molner: Will rubbing oil on scars from surgery diminish them? Years ago a doctor in the navy had me apply some oil for a burn from carrying my cigarette lighter. — J. R.

Oil will not alter scar formation. I presume the "burn" you mentioned was irritation from lighter fluid, and the oil was prescribed to soothe it.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible to lose weight and keep it off and still eat a certain amount of starch food? I have a limited income and have to eat government surplus foods, but I measure my food and count calories.

I can't seem to lose weight very fast. It has taken me five weeks to lose five pounds. Is that good or bad? — MRS. E. A.

That's very good. People who reduce rapidly almost invariably return to their former eating habits and put the weight back on again.

The person who reduces slowly gradually acquires sounder eating habits—and has no trouble keeping the excess weight off.

A pound a week is 52 pounds a year, and that's a LOT of reducing. You can do very well at an even slower rate.

And yes, you can still reduce and have starchier foods. The point is not to eat too much of them. Some people are fat because they go on occasional "starch binges." Each binge adds poundage and in the course of a year or two this accumulates into quite a lot of excess baggage.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do women sometimes menstruate after becoming pregnant? — C. N.

No. Bleeding, and possibly a regular period, can occur if it is a tubal pregnancy — in which case prompt medical attention is mandatory anyway.

Otherwise, if the pregnancy is normal, bleeding is an ominous sign and should be reported to the doctor at once. Some women may spot for several months in the early part of pregnancy, but this is not a menstrual flow.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can a father, mother and baby have three different blood types? If not, from which parent does the baby obtain its blood type? — M.S.

Yes, they can all have different types. Or they also may all have the same type. The baby gets its blood type from neither parent alone.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes sciatica? Is there treatment to ease the severe pain or provide a cure? — H.S. H.

Sciatica means that the sciatic nerve is causing pain. The causes can be neuritis (from virus infection or some toxic element); the nerve can be pinched, such as from a faulty spinal disc or from arthritic changes in the spine; or there may have been a physical injury. Drugs can give temporary relief. The better course, naturally, is to relieve the condition permanently, which can be done in several of the above conditions, if they are positively identified.

Great River Road
Gets Amazing Support

To the Editor:
Recently you published my letter asking for the support of individuals and clubs in Winona in writing to our Senators and Congressmen regarding S. F. 1672, appropriating money for the Great River Road. I also wrote to a number of clubs and the three colleges asking for help in the matter.

The response has been amazing. I cannot believe the number of people who have taken the trouble to sign at least three letters, mail them, and send me copies.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for taking such an interest and list some of those who have responded:

Religion Linked To School Aid

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was elated, but he knew better than to crow, when this week he signed bills approving federal aid to education. His troubles in this field are just beginning.

It took Congress all year to pass three pieces, far-reaching but piecemeal, of President John F. Kennedy's broad aid to education program. Johnson inherited the sorest, most sensitive piece which Congress left unpassed.

This part has been a religious issue since Kennedy first offered his program in 1961: Federal aid to public elementary and secondary schools, but not to Catholic schools.

Kennedy excluded Catholic schools on the constitutional grounds of keeping state and church separate. Catholic spokesmen opposed it, unless Catholic schools were included. Non-Catholics opposed it if Catholic schools were included.

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, never got to first base with it. Johnson, a Protestant, is pledged to support the Kennedy programs. The outlook for this one in 1964 looks dismal. This writer found no one optimistic about its chances.

Nevertheless, the Johnson administration is expected to push for it. This isn't the only Kennedy program which Johnson supports, but whose chances also look dismal. There's another: Medical care for the aged.

Time, too, will work against federal aid to education in the elementary and secondary schools in 1964. Johnson is plugging first for a tax cut and a strong civil rights bill.

A filibuster by Southern Democrats against civil rights might take weeks in an election year when Congress wants to quit early. This would gum up the Senate schedule, perhaps squeezing out any action on aid to education which, if it did come up, might also consume more weeks in argument.

These were the three pieces of federal aid to education to pass this year:

1. One to give loans and grants to public and private (including Catholic) colleges and universities to help build classrooms, libraries and laboratories. But this bill forbids use of government money to build divinity schools.

2. One to help finance the building of medical schools and give loans to medical students.

3. One to support vocational education, help school districts jammed because of nearby federal bases, and provide student loan funds.

It's that No. 1 measure which may encourage advocates of federal aid to education to think that Congress now might give similar help to both public and Catholic elementary and secondary schools.

There's a fine distinction in the reasoning about helping Catholic colleges and helping Catholic elementary schools, although it may not be persuasive with everyone.

While a Catholic child below a certain age level may be required by church regulations to attend a Catholic elementary school, there's no compulsion on a college age Catholic student to attend a Catholic college or any college at all.

Much more persuasive in getting that No. 1 bill through this year were probably factors like these:

The great need by all kinds of institutions of higher learning for financial help; the flat ban in No. 1 against the use of federal money for religious purposes; and the increasing population pressure of college-age students.

The root question still remains: Is giving aid to a Catholic college constitutional? There will be no answer unless the Supreme Court gives it, if someone appeals.

This other factor remains a stumbling block to federal aid to Catholic elementary and secondary schools: They do give religious instruction.

Taylor Talks With President Of Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor began talks with President Mohammed Ayub Khan and his military chiefs today in an effort to mend U.S.-Pakistani relations.

The chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff was cordially received by Ayub Khan when he called on the president before their conference and a luncheon.

They were expected to discuss American military aid to India, friendly Pakistani moves toward Red China, American replacement of aging Pakistani military equipment and U.S. plans to send units of its 7th Fleet into the Indian Ocean for periodic cruises.

Pakistan has been angered by increased U.S. aid to strengthen India's defenses against another invasion by Communist China. The Pakistanis are afraid India will use the arms against Pakistan.

Taylor arrived Thursday after three days of talks in India.

McNamara Talks With Viet Nam Military Chiefs

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara met South Viet Nam's ruling military junta today armed with a depressing report on progress of the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

McNamara and top American officials in Viet Nam had an afternoon-long conference with the full junta, including chief of state Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh and Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho.

It was McNamara's concluding meeting of a 36-hour visit which ends with his departure for Hawaii tonight.

McNamara reportedly got a hard appraisal of a deteriorating situation from American advisers in three key provinces this morning. Their provinces, currently the worst hit in Viet Nam, are Long An, on Saigon's southern fringes; Kien Hoa, in the Mekong Delta; and Binh Duong, at the edge of "D" zone north of Saigon.

McNamara peppered the advisers with questions for three hours, taking copious notes.

Although McNamara after a visit three months ago said he believed the Vietnamese could handle the Communists without the present massive U.S. help, U.S. officials here now say the junta is spending too much time on politics at the expense of the war.

"If things don't get moving in 90 days we are lost," said one American official.

U.S. Central Intelligence Agency Chief John A. McConne was present at all of McNamara's discussions.

Drunken Driver Fined at Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — In Trempealeau County Court before Judge A. L. Twesme Wednesday morning, Adolph P. Steller, Independence, pleaded guilty to drunken driving.

He paid a $100 fine and $3 costs in lieu of a 30-day jail sentence. He was arrested at Independence Dec. 16 by Maurice Scow, Whitehall, county traffic officer.

Donald Haug, Blair, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and paid a $10 fine and $3 costs. He was arrested Dec. 12 at Blair by Larry Bradley, city policeman.

Forfeitures: Bernie Marsolek, Independence, charged by Scow with drunken driving on Highway 93 Dec. 3, $100.

Lavern E. Kolbe, Osseo, charged by police officer Clinton Christianson with having no driver's license at Osseo Dec. 8, $13.

Ronald Edmundson, Rt. 1, Ronald Edmundson, Whitehall Rt. 1, charged by patrolman Milo Johnson in the Town of Preston Dec. 13 with failure to have proper lookout and control, $18.

Blair Man to Hang Up Hose After 36 Years

BLAIR, Wis., (Special) — After 36 years as agent for the Standard Oil Co., Carl J. Sexe will retire this month.

He became an agent at Ettrick Nov. 3, 1927, taking over the agency from the late Herman Hovelsrud.

WHEN THE Ettrick & Northern Railroad ceased operation, the Ettrick and Blair stations were combined. Sexe moved here in 1937 to take over the operation.

Sexe has seen many changes. Babies, to whose parents he sold kerosene and gasoline in the early years, have grown up and have children of their own and have become his customers.

He has seen the transition from the old-fashioned mud roads to gravel, blacktop and pavement.

"Ruts were so deep at times I wore out a set of new tires the first winter," Sexe said. He used horses in winter to haul the products to farmers. His first truck could carry only 300 gallons, because of poor road conditions.

For 17 years he filled the kerosene and gasoline barrels with the use of five-gallon cans. The pumping unit was put into use in 1944. Sexe found this innovation much to his liking. He has worn out 11 trucks.

Sexe farmed the home place in North Beaver Creek, Ettrick Town, following his marriage. He also worked one year at the Ettrick elevator before going into business for himself.

HE IS married to the former Gladys Austinson. They have four children: Carroll, Madison, Robert, Whippany, N. J.; Mrs. H. W. (Leona) Goetsch, Manitowoc, and Mrs. Glen (Jean) Smith, Erie, Pa. A daughter, Sonja, died in 1955 at the age of 17. There are 14 grandchildren.

Sexe said his wife has been a great help to him in his business. She has taken many telephone calls for kerosene, gasoline and fuel oil deliveries. "I have seldom been on time for my meals," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Sexe plan to spend much of their leisure time during the summer on Mrs. Sexe's home farm in Ettrick Town, which they purchased a number of years ago.

They are members of Zion Lutheran Church, transferring here from Faith Lutheran Church, North Beaver Creek.

Jerome Strande, who has been a driver salesman 10 1/2 years, will be checked in Jan. 1. Now a resident of Blair, he was formerly of the Taylor area.

New Tiros Firing Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Problems with the safely destruct system today forced a third postponement of an attempt to launch the Tiros 8 weather satellite.

The shot was rescheduled for 4:30 a.m. EST Saturday. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the delay was caused by circuitry troubles in the destruct system—the device the range safety officer would trigger to destroy the Delta booster if it went off course during launching.

The shot was postponed twice earlier this week because of difficulties with the rocket's control system.

Reds in Korea See Christmas

ON THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP)—American soldiers took Christmas to the true line dividing Korea Thursday and showed it to the Communist North Koreans.

Soldiers of the First Cavalry Division stood within 36 inches of the southern border of the true line at an outdoor Mass.

Farther West, in the neutral village of Panmunjom, the Americans decorated a 20-foot Christmas tree.

North Korean troops in Russian-style uniforms and fur hats watched the Mass being celebrated and the Christmas tree being lighted.

Rev. Fenwick Named

LAKE CITY, Minn.—A Lake City native will become the first rector of the new St. Luke's Episcopal Church at Rochester. He is the Rev. Robert D. Fenwick, who has been assistant rector at Calvary Episcopal Church at Rochester 11 1/2 years. Rev. Fenwick received his bachelor of science degree from Winona State College in 1953 and his bachelor

MITTEN TREE . . . A mitten tree has been a favorite Christmas project of the people of First Church of Christ several years. A Christmas tree is placed in the church and then decorated with gifts brought by the congregation. This year mittens, socks, sweaters and knit caps have been put on the tree. Charles Scovil, church elder and Bible school superintendent, left, and the Rev. Eugene Reynolds, pastor, right, hang more mittens on the overflowing tree. After the holidays the clothing is shipped to one of the church's mission fields in the northern part of the country. (Daily News photo) of divinity degree from Bexley Hall, the Divinity School of Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, in 1959.

EAST ZONE FAITH BERLIN, GERMANY (AP)—Methodist services attract larger attendance in Communist East Germany than in the free western sector of the country. Dr. Ernst Scholz, a Methodist official, reported here.

On the holy night, the Christ child was born to an unknown carpenter and his wife in Bethlehem.
No palace physician attended the Prince of Peace — perhaps a mid-wife or a serving maid.
No fine linens were prepared for the mother; no crib for the Babe—just the straw and the manger were theirs.
No royal salute was fired to announce His arrival — only the braying of the animals in their stalls was heard.
Never was royalty greeted with less pomp and circumstance.
Why? Because man could not raise himself to God!
So God sent His Son to light up our hearts and minds with His Divine Presence.
His living Spirit brightened the most ordinary and commonplace tasks of the day.
If He could so hallow that stable, can He not hallow our homes, our places of work, the whole of our lives?
Of course! Consider again and again the miracle of His birth. Be in church on Christmas to welcome anew the Christ child in your heart.

SENATE HOLDS SHORT SESSION
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate met three hours early today only to recess after seven minutes, subject to call of its leaders.

On what most senators hoped would be the final day of this lengthy session, the only business accomplished initially was routine confirmation of a list of postmaster nominations.

The Senate also was notified formally that the House had agreed to a conference of representatives of the two branches of Congress to seek a compromise on the foreign aid appropriation, last major business scheduled for action.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana obtained unanimous consent to suspend action "subject to call of the chair" while that effort went on.

Mrs. Kennedy And Children Have 2 Trees

By KELLY SMITH

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children have two Christmas trees to decorate, her host, Col. C. Michael Paul said today.

The trees have been made available to the former First Lady for her holiday season visit in Florida.

Col. Paul has loaned his ocean front mansion to Mrs. Kennedy for her Christmas stay in Palm Beach. Paul placed his spacious home at the Kennedys' disposal also in 1961 and 1962. The late President had planned to stay there again this year.

A longtime friend of the Kennedy family, Paul said, "I do not consider the Kennedys just my guests, but the guests of the entire community."

The Associated Press reported Wednesday there was no Christmas tree in the mansion. Although there was no decorated tree, Paul said two had been set aside for Mrs. Kennedy and the children to use as they desired.

Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, was in Washington and had no immediate comment on the family's Christmas plans.

In previous years, the Kennedy family decorated a tree together, just prior to Christmas, Paul said.

Several cedars, of the kind usually associated with Christmas, grow on the grounds at the Paul mansion.

Mrs. Kennedy, John Jr., 3; Caroline, 6, and Princess Lee Radziwill, Mrs. Kennedy's sister, arrived Wednesday night from Washington.

Other members of the Kennedy family were expected to arrive this weekend. It has long been traditional for the Kennedys to gather in Palm Beach at Christmas.

Greek Princess Gives Birth to Daughter in Spain
MADRID, Spain (AP) — A palace spokesman said Princess Sophie of Greece, 25, gave birth today to a daughter.

Had the child been a son, he would have been third in line after the father, Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, for the now vacant throne of monarchist Spain.

Waiting at the clinic for the royal birth were the father, Juan Carlos, 25, and Queen Frederika of Greece, mother of the 24-year-old princess.

The new baby was linked by royal bloodlines to many of the former crowned heads of Europe. Experts here said she was the 41st direct descendant of Emperor Charlemagne, the 13th of Queen Mary of Scotland, and the 10th of King Peter the Great of Russia.

Gen. Francisco Franco, the Spanish chief of state, and his wife were informed immediately of the birth and sent congratulations to the young parents.

Durand Debaters High in Tourney
DURAND, Wis. (Special) — In a 15-school debate tournament at Menomonie, Durand High School debaters tied for second in the B team division and took fourth in the A team division.

The B team won five and lost one and the A team won four and lost two.

The Durand B affirmative team, composed of Kenneth Smith and Jackie Buchholz, won all three debates, defeating Barron, Alma and Menomonie.

The negative team of Mary Rutherford and Barbara Forslund defeated Chippewa Falls McDonnell and Menomonie and lost to Chippewa Falls Senior High School.

The A affirmative team, Barbara Morey and Ardy McNaughton, defeated Barron and Eau Claire Memorial, losing only to the champion La Crosse Aquinas debaters. The negative team, Peggy Knight and Janet Notham, defeated Menomonie and Alma, losing to Chippewa Falls McDonnell.

Durand A team, with a total of 256 points, won the top team point score for the tournament, followed by La Crosse Aquinas and Eau Claire Memorial. Peggy Knight was judged the second best individual debater in the tournament, scoring 69 points. Others on the Durand squad scoring high were Jackie Buchholz, 65; Ardy McNaughton, 64; Barbara Morey, 63, and Janet Notham, 60.

Debate activity will be resumed after the holidays with the first of four major college sponsored tournaments at Eau Claire State College Jan. 11.

Many Churches to Hold Special Rites Sunday

Many of the Winona churches will be conducting Christmas services Sunday and the school children will be presenting programs this weekend to usher in the Christmas season.

The sermon Sunday at G R A C E PRESBYTERIAN'S 10:30 a.m. worship by the Rev. William King will be "The Miracle That Proved Nothing," based on Luke 7:18-23.

The theme of the sermon is spelled out in the title, said Rev. King. Christmas, the birth of Jesus, meant nothing apart from our decision to believe in him. It has meaning only to those who have faith.

GOODVIEW TRINITY LUTHERAN will present a concert of sacred Christmas music at 7 p.m. Sunday. Among the hymns will be "O Thou Almighty God" and "O Come All Ye Faithful." The congregation will join the choir in singing. Miss Annette Hagen will be organist and Mrs. Richard Burmeister soloist. The Rev. David Ponath, pastor, is choir director.

ST. MARTIN'S LUTHERAN Sunday school Christmas program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Sunday directed by Robert Wolf, superintendent. Instructors participating in the service will be Miss Diane Erickson, Miss Jacqueline Ames, Miss Jane Sheets, Mrs. James Werra, Miss Joyce Gahbert, Mrs. Robert Krick, Miss Shirleen Holz, Mrs. Don Schaefer, Miss Ruth Braatz and David Sauer.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST will conduct its Christmas worship service at 10:45 a.m. Sunday. The church children will present their program at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. Eugene Reynolds' sermon Sunday is "Jesus, Son of God."

The sermon will begin a series of messages to be preached during the next eight weeks, all dealing with various facets of Jesus' character and purpose. Based on John 1:1-18, Sunday's message calls attention to the unique nature of Jesus' biography.

Children and the congregation of the church will present the Christmas story at 7:30 p.m. This will consist of scripture narration, pantomime and carols. Mrs. Edwin Grant will play an organ prelude.

"The Meaning of Christmas" will be topic of the Rev. LaVern Swanson's sermon at 10:45 a.m. Sunday during his Christmas service at LAKESIDE EVANGELICAL FREE CHURCH. The school children will present a program at 3 p.m. Sunday. The program, "It Came to Pass," will be presented in three parts. A Christmas concert will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The church orchestra and the choir will participate.

The Sunday school children of CENTRAL LUTHERAN will present their Christmas program at 4 p.m. Sunday. The Junior High MYF of CENTRAL METHODIST will go caroling at 5 p.m. The Pilgrim Fellowship of FIRST CONGREGATIONAL will go caroling at 7 p.m. Sunday. The Luther League of FAITH LUTHERAN will go caroling at 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

GRACE BRETHREN will present its Christmas program at 8:15 p.m. Sunday. The young people of WINONA GOSPEL CHURCH will carol to shut-ins at 6:30 p.m. Saturday. The Sunday school Christmas program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The choir will sing.

Sunday school children of CALVARY BIBLE will present their Christmas program at evening worship services at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The public is welcome. UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST FELLOWSHIP will discuss "What Christmas Means to Unitarians" at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

A Christmas program will be presented at ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL during the 10:45 a.m. Service Sunday. The children will bring their white gifts.

A candlelight service, "Shining Candles," will be presented at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at FIRST BAPTIST. The senior choir will accompany the pageant. A supper will be served afterward. The Sunday school of ASSEMBLIES OF GOD will present their Christmas program at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER DAY SAINTS will present its Christmas program "Unto You Is Born a Savior" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The youth choir will sing.

The Sunday school children of CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE will present their Christmas program at 7 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. Phil Williams sermon for the morning service is "The Night Before Christmas." The choir will sing.

Masons Install At St. Charles
ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — Rising Sun Lodge 49, AF & AM, St. Charles, held its 100th installation Thursday night at the temple.

About 75 attended the open ceremony, including wives and friends. The following elected officers were installed:

Malcolm Bailey, worshipful master; Harold Hayes, senior warden; Milton Gleason, junior and George Gordon, secretary; warden; Clint Jensen, treasurer.

Appointed officers installed were: Ray Benedett, senior deacon; William Loppow, junior deacon; William Colgan, senior steward; Dale Hawk, junior steward; Kenneth Millard, chaplain, and Coleman Smith, Tyler.

Officers were elected at the November meeting, when the master mason degree was conferred on Jack Dorey and Darwin Morrill.

The centennial of the lodge is being planned for next October.

Singing Pickets at Dormitory of Lynda Johnson
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Singing pickets paraded with signs in front of the University of Texas dormitory where Lynda Bird Johnson lives, protesting racial segregation in campus housing.

Twenty students, 12 of them Negroes, paced back and forth across a street in drizzling rain Thursday night. They quit after an hour.

Their purpose was "to bring the dormitory situation back to the public eye," said Bill Spearman of Houston, the group's spokesman.

All university facilities and activities except for dormitories were integrated recently.

Spearman said the demonstration was not intended as a personal reflection on the elder daughter of President Johnson. Lynda Bird, 19, is a sophomore at the university but said Thursday she will not return for the spring semester.

As the pickets marched, Secret Service men, city and university police stood by. They took no action.

No Change in U.S. Policy on Summit Talks
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has returned from the NATO ministerial conference in Paris, declaring there is no basic change in U.S. policy on summit meetings and on Communist China.

The United States would encourage a summit conference only if preliminary talks seem to warrant such a meeting, he told newsmen who met him at the airport Thursday night.

Army Will Draft 12,000 in February
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army will draft 12,000 men in February, the smallest monthly quota in six months and 4,000 below the January call, the Defense Department said Thursday.

Program on Von Rohr Family Highlights Christmas Meeting

The Christmas party of the Winona Historical Society at the Society's museum, 125 W. 5th St., Tuesday evening was highlighted with talks by Mrs. Gretchen Lamberton and Dr. Philip Heise and by music given by a group of 15 children from Dakota, Minn. The program was on the pioneer von Rohr family.

Decorations, in keeping with the holiday season, included a display of dolls and other toys used by children of an early period in Winona County's history.

Mrs. Lamberton talked on "Childhood Christmases." She told of her memories of happy holidays with relatives here.

She described the Rev. Philip von Rohr, who had a luxuriant gray beard and wore a formal frock coat for such important family events as Christmas celebrations.

He had eight children as did another von Rohr, "Uncle John," who lived kitty-corner from the Philip von Rohrs.

CHRISTMAS preparations were not made as far in advance in those days, Mrs. Lamberton said. A few days before Christmas, one of the grandfathers of a family would come to the door disguised as St. Nicholas and throw in a bagful of cookies to let the children know St. Nick was checking up on them.

The morning of Christmas Eve was the real time of preparation, Mrs. Lamberton said. The doors to the parlor would be locked after the tree had been smuggled in. Then at 6 p.m. the big doors would be rolled open and the candle-light tree would be revealed as the father of the household would sing "Come All Ye Faithful." There would be a huge tree at the church Christmas Eve, lighted with candles, with the sexton standing beside it holding a long pole, on the end of which was a wet sponge, in case the tree caught fire.

The family usually went to the

Teacher Fired Over Kennedy Incident Appeals

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A teacher, fired as a result of a classroom incident on the day President Kennedy was assassinated, said Thursday she will sue the school board for "irresponsibly attacking my patriotism."

Mrs. Charles Ranous would not say whether she would seek reinstatement or damages from the Middleton School Board which dismissed her Dec. 2.

The board accused Mrs. Ranous of "intemperate behavior" in handling an eighth grade girls physical education class at the time it received word of the President's death, Nov. 22. Specific allegations against the dismissed teacher have not been made public by the board and Mrs. Ranous said her action was planned because "the truth must be brought out into the open."

Mrs. Ranous' decision to start a suit was announced at a conference in the office of her attorney, A. Roy Anderson of Madison. Mrs. Ranous, who is in her fifties, was accompanied by her husband, an associate professor of electrical engineering at the University of Wisconsin.

In a statement, she called her dismissal without cause and said the board "unjustly attacked 18 years of teaching character and teaching capability and irresponsibly attacked my patriotism."

Hospital Board Hears Plans For New Home

A description of the new 100-bed nursing home soon to be built near Winona Community Memorial Hospital was the main topic at the meeting of members of the board of directors of the Women's Auxiliary to Winona Community Hospital Thursday morning.

The meeting was held in the solarium and speaker was Earl Hagberg, administrator. He explained the construction, operation and relation of the auxiliary to the proposed home. Occupational therapy will be the major function of auxiliary volunteers in relation to patients in the home. Architectural plans, drawings and floor plans of the new facility were displayed.

A state of officers to be presented for election to representatives at the annual meeting, Jan. 28, 1964, was read by Mrs. Ward Lucas, nominating chairman. Mrs. D. B. Robinson, president, reminded all members of the auxiliary to plan to attend the annual meeting.

Mrs. R. W. Miller, fund raising chairman, presented the auxiliary with a check for $2,000, raised at the Flea Market and Nearly New Sale.

The hospitality committee, Mrs. Fred Burmeister chairman, was in charge of the coffee time following the meeting.

New officers were installed by Mrs. Olson as follows: Mrs. Elmo Anderson, president; Mrs. King, vice president; Mrs. Gilbertson, secretary, and Mrs. Paul Griesed Sr., treasurer.

Miss Lois Holbrook and Mrs. Griffith were hostesses at the social hour following the meeting.

No More Reports Until U of M Drug Probe Is Finished

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Authorities said today they will make no more reports on their narcotics investigation until they complete their probe.

"There will be no more information revealed until we have completed our investigation," Dist. Atty. William Byrne said. He added he could not estimate how long the investigation by his office and Madison police will take.

The investigation was touched off by the death of Hal Frederick Hellman, 19, former University of Wisconsin student from Jamaica, N.Y., who was found shot to death in a Madison hotel Monday. Authorities said they are satisfied that Hellman shot himself while handling a revolver.

Two witnesses to the shooting face hearings in January. They are Richard Johns, 19, former university student from Green Bay; and William Over, 24, of Chicago. Johns is charged with selling and using marijuana. Over is charged with reckless use of a gun, check forgery and using a forged prescription to obtain narcotics.

Baker's Bank Records Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigators are examining subpoenaed bank records in an attempt to determine how much wealth Robert G. Baker amassed while he was secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

The Rules Committee investigators are also examining statements filed by Baker with the Federal Housing Administration and the Small Business Administration in connection with loan applications, it was revealed Thursday by Lennox P. McLendon, special counsel to the committee.

Girl, 19, Admits Embezzlement

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Diana Witcher, 19, awaited a pre-sentence investigation after pleading guilty Thursday to charges of embezzling $1,900 from the Citizens Bank at Hutchinson where she was a bookkeeper for a year.

Miss Witcher admitted transferring money from other accounts to her own in order to buy a trailer and get married.

Only three weeks ago, Helmut R. Kurth, 73, admitted embezzling $65,000 from the same Hutchinson bank, where he once was president. He, too, is awaiting sentence.

Probably Too Much Christmas Party

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The giant jet airliner roared down the runway at International Airport. Roaring in its wake, like a giant chasing an elephant, came a Volkswagen sedan. Leo Ambrose O'Hearn at the controls.

Police said they ran the little auto to earth after a long chase. Asked how he got onto the runway without being seen, police said he replied: "I don't know, I'm lost. I guess I took the wrong turn."

Police said O'Hearn, 38, was on his way home from a Christmas party. He was booked on a charge of being drunk on airport property, a violation of municipal law.

4-H Activities Help Develop Leadership

By OLIVER STRAND
Winona County Agent

(This is the fifth in a series of six articles on 4-H projects offered in Minnesota. The county agent staff at each county extension office administers the 4-H club program with help from local adult leaders and the University of Minnesota.)

Not only does 4-H offer opportunities to learn about specific subject matter fields in the project area chosen, but it equips boys and girls to be better community leaders.

A well informed and interested citizenry is essential under our democratic form of government if sound community decisions are to be made.

THE PURPOSE of the 4-H junior leadership project is to develop abilities and skills in working with others. To be eligible to take the junior leadership project, the club member should be 14 years old and have completed at least one year of 4-H work.

Junior leaders assist in planning and carrying out the club program in cooperation with the adult leaders, parents and extension agents. The assistance of interested junior leaders is especially valuable in helping younger 4-Hers in conducting effective meetings and in planning recreational and educational club activities. One of the most effective ways of gaining real knowledge is in attempting to share your knowledge and experience with other people.

The 4-H health project is another special project that can challenge boys and girls to ward better living. A basic knowledge of first aid, disease prevention, good posture, health habits and community and mental health, plus consideration for the health and well being of others, are a few of the considerations in this project.

Safety and fire prevention is another special project that 4-Hers can learn to benefit themselves and community. Basic purpose of this project is to make safe living a part of everyday life in the home, at school, at play, at work, on the farm and on the highway.

FOUR-H safety surveys and promotions on an individual or club basis, serve to further local, state and national safety and fire prevention programs and develop better citizens in the home and community by protecting self and others. Educational work in both health and safety through the 4-H program help to train a core of responsible citizens that are more capable in dealing with everyday problems as they arise and also to cope with local and national emergencies that could happen.

Another special project, 4-H photography, is only two years old, but attracted 78 Winona County 4-Hers last year. This project teaches boys and girls an appreciation of photography as an art and as a science, and gives guidance in knowing and using the camera. Photography is taught as a useful hobby or a profession and helps develop in members an appreciation of life and nature and skill to record it in pictures for future reference.

Winona County offers a wealth of scenic splendors to photograph all during the year with its forests, hills, wildlife, crops, livestock, buildings and people.

SPECIAL group workshops and educational project meetings for members and leaders are held in some of these project areas each year with experienced project leaders giving assistance.

Four-Hers learn by doing. With a variety of projects to select from, both learning and doing can be attractive to interested boys and girls in both town and country.

Contact a 4-H club leader or member near you for details, or call your county extension office.

Lewiston Herd Average Listed

LEWISTON, Minn. — The Holstein-Friesian Association of America announces a new lactation average for the registered Holstein herd of C. H. Mueller & Sons, Lewiston, which has 103 completed production records averaging 14,173 pounds of milk and 529 pounds of butterfat.

Lactation averages are calculated on the commonly employed two-milkings a day, 305-day equivalent basis. This provides a uniform basis for comparison and selection in registered Holstein breeding programs.

Basic purpose of this project is to make safe living a part of everyday life in the home, at school, at play, at work, on the farm and on the highway.

Western Corn Rootworm Poses Threat

CALEDONIA, Minn. — The western corn rootworm is present throughout most of southern Minnesota and is firmly established in the southwest corner of the state, Houston County agent Francis Januschka said.

The concern over the western corn rootworm stems from its resistance to the commonly used soil insecticides aldrin and heptachlor. Farmers in this area are encouraged to watch for effects from aldrin and heptachlor.

Poor results may indicate the Western rootworm is present. When the western species establishes itself in a field or a locality, the northern rootworms become less abundant and the western dominates. It is apparently more vigorous and damaging than the northern.

The rootworm is expected to continue thwarting the corn industry and eventually become detrimental to harvest profit. Januschka suggested the following measures may be helpful in minimizing losses due to western and northern rootworm:

- Wherever practical, rotate the badly infested fields to crops other than corn in the following year.
- Avoid late planting dates for fields which are probably infested. As a general rule, other factors being equal, late planted corn is more severely damaged than early planted corn.

When corn is planted in fields likely to be economically infested with western or resistant northern rootworms, certain phosphate insecticides may reduce the severity of the losses if the chemical chosen is properly applied. Chemicals which have label approval for the control of resistant rootworms are granular diazinon, phorate (Thimet), stabilized parathion and compound 4072.

Hope Resting Ailing Eyes

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope, on his doctor's advice, is resting a little longer from treatment for an eye ailment before leaving on his 12th annual tour to entertain American servicemen overseas.

He was packed and ready to leave Thursday morning for Turkey, Crete, Greece, Libya, Cyprus and Italy, but last-minute advice from his physician kept him home for a couple of days.

Rust-Resistant Oats Still Eludes Growers

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Despite the best efforts of plant breeders and the new oats varieties of recent years, oats fields are facing more trouble ahead with rust diseases.

Races of crown rust can build up to high proportions and damage any present recommended varieties, including Minnhaver. One encouraging part of this otherwise gloomy picture is the fact that oats varieties even though susceptible to rust, may vary widely in their tolerance to the disease. That is, two varieties may both be attacked by a given race of crown rust. But one may be damaged severely by the attack whereas the other, growing in the next field, may show only a slight loss of yield.

FOR EXAMPLE, the Portage variety of oats seems to have some degree of tolerance. It is attacked by races of crown rust, but seems to rust more slowly and less severely than many other varieties.

The outlook for stem rust in oats is much the same as for crown rust. For several years, races of stem rust which could attack many of our most resistant varieties have been identified on the North American continent. In 1963, a race designated as 6AF of stem rust was found in a few locations, including some in Minnesota, other areas of the North Central region, and Canada. This race causes a severe rust reaction on all of our most rust-resistant oats varieties.

Much remains to be known about 6AF. Sometimes, a new virulent race of rust will lack something that it would need to become a serious threat.

JUST HOW serious race 6AF will be remains to be seen. But the problem is that we are not as well prepared with resistant varieties as we have been for several years.

Stem rust and crown rust that can attack all recommended oat varieties are in the region. Just how severe the diseases will be depends on other factors. One is weather. If favorable to rust infection in 1964, it could lead to severe damage.

Wadena Votes for New High School

WADENA, Minn. (AP) — A $1,145,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new high school building here was voted Thursday, 640-463.

School officials anticipated work on the school, to serve about 550 students, would start in six months. They hoped the work would be completed by opening of the 1965-66 school year.

UTICA HERD NAMED

UTICA, Minn. — Clayton Ketchum, Utica, will have the exclusive use of the prefix "Ketchum" in naming all registered Holstein animals bred in that herd from now on. Use of this prefix name has been granted by The Holstein-Friesian Association of America. It becomes a permanent part of official breed records at that organization's national headquarters in Brattleboro, Vt.

TURKEY DISAPPEARED

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — There were costumed characters all over the place at the fall festival and Halloween party at West Hopkins High School.

It seemed the spooks and goblins were right busy, too. When it came time to give out the main prize, a turkey, it was gone.

The sheriff's office located the turkey — in the custody of three young men. Two drew five days in jail; the third was turned over to juvenile authorities.

The Christmas Cactus

A house plant that derives its name from the fact that it usually blooms at this time of the year is the Christmas cactus, or crab cactus as it is sometimes called. It is an unusual and attractive plant with many branches that is easily grown indoors and has been quite popular since its introduction about 100 years ago from its native land, Brazil.

The terminal branches are made up of glossy, leaflike flattened joints, each about two inches long and without spines, but usually a group of hair roots at each joint. When in bloom, its drooping branches are tipped with beautiful rosy translucent flowers, sometimes double, about two and one-half inches long. The color may vary from a deep pink to a deep red. Owing to its drooping habit of growth, it is often used in hanging baskets.

The Christmas cactus will stand a lot of abuse, will last for many years increasing in size all the while. It usually blooms at Christmas time, sometimes earlier, sometimes later, even extending into February. It will usually withstand high temperatures, dry atmosphere and negligent watering and still continue to produce its yearly cascade of lovely flowers. It requires more water than other cacti.

OUR PLANT is about fifteen years old with a spread of about two feet and is growing in an eight inch pot. It continues to bloom year after year and at present is in bud and some of the more advanced ones will be open by Christmas Day. It is just a little later in blooming this year than normally.

Sometimes the buds of a plant may drop off in the early stages of development and this, of course, is a matter of great concern to the possessor. We have never experienced this with our plants, but are familiar with the occurrence. An inquiry was received last week from a lady whose cactus was going through this phase and she asked what the cause might be and what could be done about it. Her questions prompted this article.

WE WERE not able to advise her specifically in this case. THE CHRISTMAS cactus should have a rich porous soil for best growth and flowering. It can be grown from cuttings taken when the plant is showing new growth. The cuttings are easily rooted in water.

A county-wide meeting of a feeder pig cooperative in Pepin County will be held soon. GARFIELD STOCK, Pepin County agent, said. The co-op will be a farmer-owned organization which will develop markets for feeder pigs and give farmers an opportunity to join to get the best dollar for each feeder pig sold. Milk production in Wisconsin and Minnesota has increased the past month. Prices received by farmers averaged $3.20 per hundredweight, three cents less than the previous month but three cents above November 1963.

Penn State University horticulturists warn that exhaust fumes from warming up the car may damage nearby shrubs in two ways. Fumes absorbed by the plant may result in scorch-like injury showing up months later with plants looking as if singed by fire. Fumes also may cause plants to break winter dormancy with flower and leaf buds forming only to be winter-killed. A new supply of Minnesota Farm Account books is available at the extension offices, says FRANCIS JANUSCHKA, Houston County agent. The books help analyze the farm business, and aids in making farm and home plans and income tax returns.

This Is 40th Anniversary For Electric Lines to Farms

Forty years ago Christmas Eve the world's first two experimental electrical farm lines were energized by Northern States Power Co.

This Christmas Eve strings of gaily colored electric lights will adorn trees and homes on hundreds of thousands of farms in the United States. While many farm families gather in their living rooms to open gifts, electrically powered equipment will be doing the chores.

FORTY YEARS AGO this would have been possible on very few farms, according to the December issue of NSP/News, an employee publication. Rural electrification was still in the early stages of its development in 1923.

It was then that NSP built the first two experimental farm lines in the world. One of these lines linked fewer than a dozen farms near Red Wing, and the other brought power to fewer than 20 farms near Renner, S.D.

The experimental projects were carried out with the cooperation of NSP, a college, a university, manufacturers of electrical and farm equipment and farmers in the area.

It took a great deal of selling to convince some farmers electricity had something to offer them, NSP reports. The total number of possible customers on the Red Wing line was 19, yet only 10 accepted service.

IT WAS NOT the first time electricity had ever used on a farm. Some farms previously had hooked up to wires running between cities — but the Red Wing experimental line was the first time a real effort had been made to determine what tasks this new form of power could be put to so it could be a profitable wage earner for the farmer.

Previously it had been used for lights, running the washing machine from a line shaft in the back shed, and now then a milking machine. To use an electric iron was considered an extravagant use of electricity as it used four of five kilowatt hours a month. This was a large portion of the 20 or 23 kilowatt hours used on the average farm. The farmer though in terms of an electric bill of about two or three dollars a month—the same as his city friends.

AN OUTDOOR laboratory was needed under actual farm conditions to experiment with all of the uses to which electricity could be put to use so it could increase a farmer's income sufficiently to pay the cost of bringing him this convenient new power.

Thus the experimental 6.2-mile line near Red Wing was built. Each farm was wired to the best of the industry's knowledge at the time. Meters made at that time were not considered satisfactory for use unless they were installed in a place that was always warm usually in the basement of a house.

By the time a circuit was run into the house and out again and to the motor loads at the barn or granary several hundred feet away, the circuit became so long that voltage at the motors was so low that motors labored at low speeds and often burned out.

MANUFACTURERS of electrical equipment in those days were quick to see the possibilities of this kind of a program and willingly loaned all of the equipment for these farms—nearly $25,000 worth. These farms became the best equipped farms of their day.

Individual meters were put on each piece of equipment and records kept of the power used. Many of the items were not satisfactory for farm use. Power speeds of the equipment could not be obtained with out the use of line shafts and many pulleys and belts.

Milking machines required two-horsepower motors in many cases and caused trouble because they started too hard in cold weather and often burned out.

Threshing was first tried out with a 15-horsepower motor; later it was done by equipping a threshing machine with three motors, 10-5 and 1½-horsepower motors.

As the farm tractor was improved, the demand for large motor jobs became less and less until in very recent years some new loads have been developed for larger motors.

RURAL electrification not only was halted but was actually set back by the depression that descended upon the country in the 30s.

Today, the investor-owned power companies and the Rural Electrification Administration have brought electricity to just about every farm in the nation, bringing with it a new way of life for the farmer.

Wheat Yield About Equal To Year Ago

WASHINGTON (AP)—Official predictions of a big overproduction of wheat in 1964 as a result of grower rejection of controls in the referendum last spring were not borne out in an Agriculture Department report Thursday. It indicates the crop may be about equal to demands and thus add nothing to surpluses.

The report forecast the winter-wheat crop to be harvested next spring and summer at 555,056,000 bushels. A crop of this size would be only 6 per cent larger than this year and 6 per cent below the 1958-62 average—a period when controls were in effect.

The report said winter-wheat farmers had planted only 2.3 per cent more acres than for this year's crop.

No forecasts were given for 1964 spring wheat inasmuch as it will not be planted for several months. But assuming a spring crop of 290 million bushels, which would be considerably above average, total wheat production would be about 1,249,000,000 bushels. This would compare with 1,137,000,000 this year and 1,225,000,000 for the 1957-61 average.

A crop of 1,249,000,000 bushels would about equal the average amount of wheat used to meet demands in domestic and export markets during the last four crop years. It would be far below the 1,602,000,000 bushels the department has said may be used from the 1963-crop supply. This latter market figure assumes sales to Soviet bloc countries.

Thursday's report estimates winter-wheat plantings at 43,014,000 acres. Assuming spring-wheat growers increased plantings by the same percentage 2.3 per cent—the total wheat acreage next year would be about 54,274,000 acres.

Last spring, when the Kennedy administration was urging farmers to approve its new wheat control plan in a referendum, officials predicted that defeat of the plan would result in plantings of 65 to 70 million acres and a new addition to surpluses. In the referendum, 52 per cent of the growers voted against the control plan.

The relative conservatism of plantings in the absence of controls may lighten the pressure of some farm groups—as well as the administration—for a new wheat income-boosting program for the 1964 crop.

Western Stages Gets Fare Boost

LA CRESCENT, Minn. — La Crosse & Western Stages, Inc., a bus line operating on Highway 44 between La Crescent and Prosper, has been granted increases in passenger fares of from 5 to 15 cents, according to Ron Anderson, chairman of the state Railroad and Warehouse Commission.

Anderson said the increase will bring the fares charged in Minnesota up to the level of those which the bus company charges in its interstate operations recently approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Reason for the increase, Anderson said, was that the firm suffered a $723 operating loss in 1962 operations, after taxes and interest. Also, the number of passengers carried during the first six months of this year had declined to 6,702 compared with 7,013 during the same period of 1962.

In addition to its increase in regular fares, the firm also was granted some increases in

Germany Opens Concentration Camp Trials

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—West Germany's biggest war crimes trial opened today with 21 men accused of taking part in the murder of millions of Auschwitz concentration camp inmates.

The defendants are 20 former members of the camp's SS (elite guard) administration and an ex-prisoner who became a trustee. They are charged with murder or complicity in an undetermined number of gasings, shootings, hangings or fatal tortures.

Most of the victims were Jewish men, women and children. Many Poles, Soviet prisoners of war and inmates from various other nations also were slain. The camp, built in German-occupied Poland, was Adolf Hitler's biggest death factory.

A capacity audience of 160 persons was on hand for the start of the trial in the plenary hall of the Frankfurt City Parliament.

A 22nd defendant, Dr. Franz Bernhard Lucas, was absent because of illness and the court ruled he would be tried separately. But the court denied the application of another defendant, who sought a separate trial on the ground that he suffered from nervous seizures due to a circulatory ailment.

Former SS Capt. Robert Mülka, 68, is the highest ranking defendant. Mülka was adjutant to Auschwitz Commander Rudolf Hoess, who was hanged in Poland in 1947. Hoess' detailed diary is to be introduced in evidence.

Mülka and 11 others, including a doctor and two dentists, are being tried on charges of complicity. Ten men, among them the chief camp pharmacist, are charged with murder. The maximum sentence any could draw is life imprisonment. Capital punishment was abolished in West Germany in 1949.

It has taken more than four years to prepare the case. Hearings will probably run until next fall. About 250 witnesses, including Auschwitz survivors, are to testify.

A court of three judges and six jurors is headed by Chief Judge Hans Hofmeyer.

A bundle of charred files found on V-E day in the ruins of the Breslau police headquarters sparked the investigation 13 years later that led to the Auschwitz trial.

The documents—execution orders—were found May 8, 1945, by a former concentration camp inmate who kept them as a memento.

In 1958, he turned them over to a German newsman who was writing about anti-Semitism in Germany. The newsman handed them to Fritz Bauer, attorney general of the State of Hesse. The investigation began soon after.

Most of the 22 defendants had settled in civilian life.

Mabel Lumber Interest Sold

MABEL, Minn. (Special)—A change in ownership of Mabel Lumber Co. was announced this week.

Glenn Wold, co-owner with Russell L. Akerman since 1953, now is sole owner. Akerman, native of Williamsburg, Iowa, started in the lumber business at that place in 1918. Prior to coming to Mabel in 1950 he was in the lumber business at Sulphur Springs, Garber, Maynard and Lamont, Iowa, and Kent, Ill.

When he came here, Akerman purchased Arne Engen's interest in the Engen-Wold lumber yard. In 1953 he and Wold, who has been active in the business here since 1946, purchased the Mabel Lumber Co. In 1959 they constructed a new building on Main street.

Young Fire Marshals Cited for Activities

Fifteen awards are being presented by the Winona Fire Fighters Association Local 575 in its junior fire marshal program contest.

Awards being presented are in four classifications: Themes, slogans, posters and poems. Contest entries used fire prevention and home fire safety as their theme.

The junior fire marshal program is more than five years old, but the contest idea is new this year and according to Fireman Bruce Johnstone will be continuing in the future. The program involves fifth graders in Winona schools.

Johnstone explained that the main aim of the program and the contest is the teaching of fire hazard awareness and preparedness. Approximately 250 entries were in the contest. Awards were in the form of cash.

Contest winners, their ad-

Auggies Rip St. Mary's, Stout Surge Buries State

— REDMEN —

Everything Fine For 25 Minutes

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — For 25 minutes at St. Mary's Hall here Thursday night, Coach Ken Wiltgen's strategy of sagging a man behind high-scoring 6-10 Augsburg center Dan Anderson and clogging up the feed line with another worked admirably well.

In the end, it was the St. Mary's offense that broke down along with its defense for an eight-minute stretch in the second half. And when it was all over, Augsburg had its 21st straight victory at home and sixth straight on the season by the score of 84-56.

The Redmen kept the defending champion Auggies rattled in the first 20 minutes, leading throughout before slipping behind at 36-34 at halftime.

And in the first five minutes of the second 20-minute stretch, the Redmen did a respectable job. Augsburg led 49-46 with 15 minutes left. And then the roof fell in.

IN THE next seven-and-a-half-minute stretch, Augsburg hit for 25 points while St. Mary's was counting only on a lone, some free throw by Rog Pytlewski, who wound up with 11 points.

In the late — going, the St. Mary's strategy lost its touch and Anderson built the fire under the attack by leading the Auggies away from a 39-39 second-half tie to set the stage for the whizzing finish.

When it was over the 6-10 center had bagged 31 points, an average night's performance for the conference's most prolific scorer, who in his previous two outings had come through with 44- and 37-point performances.

Gophers Get Lesson From Wichita 71-65

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Minnesota Gophers got another lesson from a Missouri Valley basketball team Thursday night when Wichita opened up a second half throttle to win 71-65.

The Gophers held a 33-32 margin at the half, but the Wheatshockers went on a hot scoring spree to open up a 52-42 margin. Minnesota rallied to make it 56-55 Wichita, and the visitors then took command the rest of the way.

Minnesota's Mel Northway fired 7 field goals and all nine of his free throw attempts to lead both teams in scoring at 23. Bill Davis had 16 for the Gophers. Dave Leach, a keen outside shooter, scored 21 to lead Wichita.

Wichita is 6-2. The Gophers are 4-2 with their next opponent Drake at Minneapolis Saturday night.

St. Cloud roared to its second victory in as many nights in Indiana, downing Indiana Tech 109-76. Jack Harrison of St. Cloud shared scoring honors with Dave Carroll of Tech, each dumping in 27.

Mankato State took the measure of Morrisville, Iowa, 85-75. Les Sonnenbend tallied 28 for State.

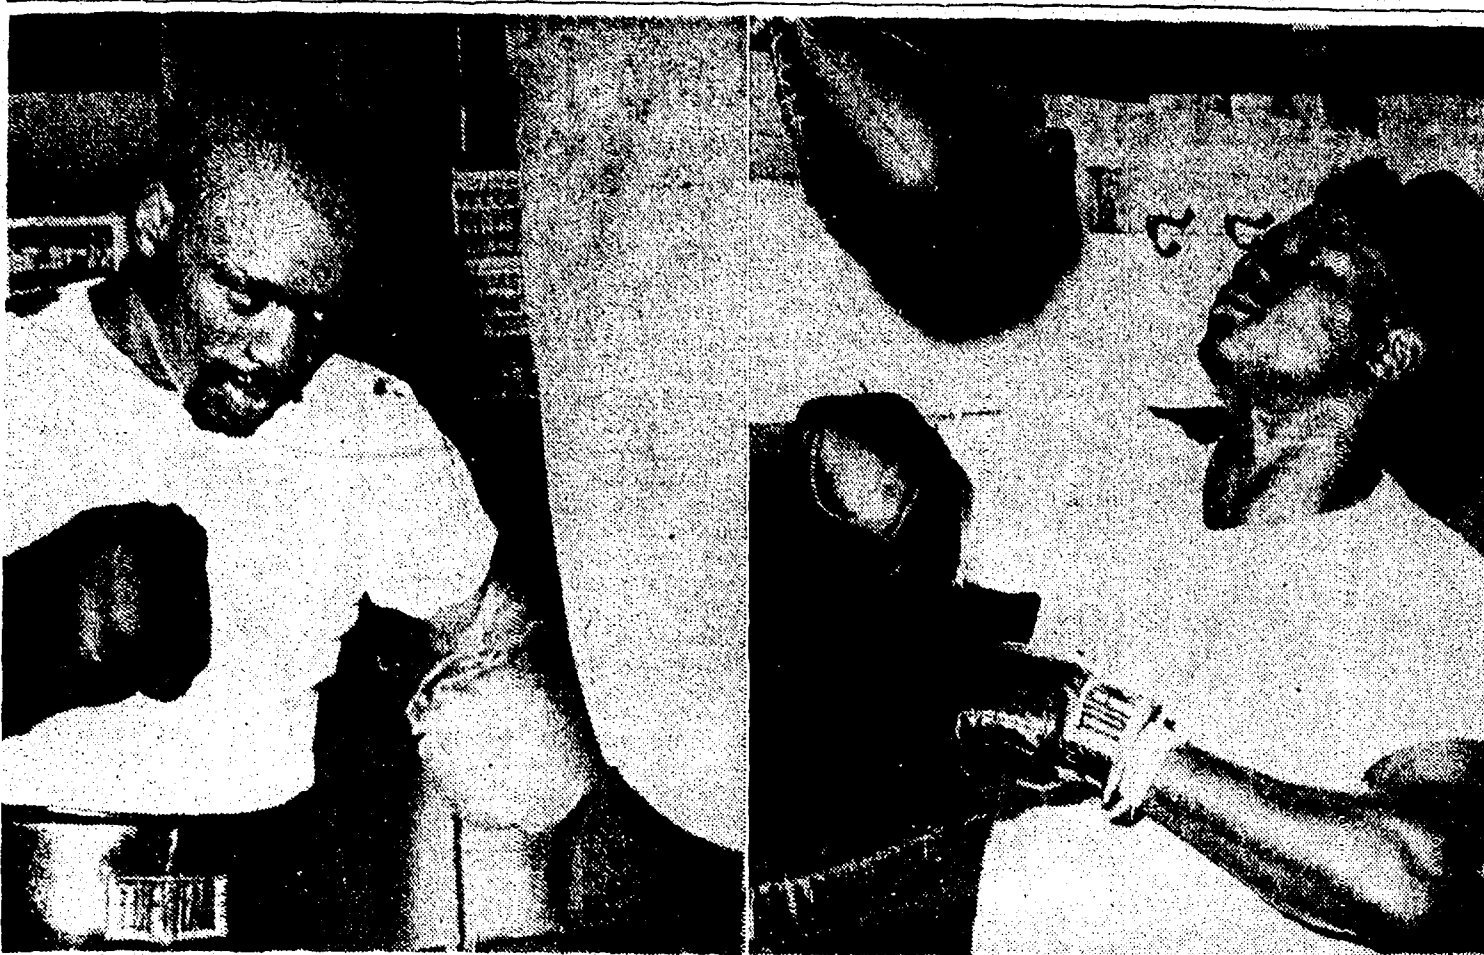

Rookies Credited With Detroit Red Wings' Surge

DETROIT (AP)—Two youngsters have played prominent roles in the Detroit Red Wings' recent surge in the National Hockey League.

Roger Crozier, playing his fifth game as a goalie in the NHL, attained his first shutout Thursday night as the Red Wings beat the Boston Bruins 3-0 in the only league game played.

The victory extended Detroit's unbeaten streak to five games. The Red Wings have won three and tied twice in drawing within eight points of third-place Toronto.

It also marked the fifth time that the Detroit club has skated off the ice with at least a tie with the 21-year-old Crozier in the nets.

RAMBLERS HOST AQUINAS

Has Cotter Improved? Find Answer Tonight

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

About one week ago, Cotter coach John Nett said that his Rambler quintet hadn't improved much since their first game of the season.

That first game was a 73-44 rout of La Crosse Aquinas at La Crosse on Nov. 27. Since that time, Cotter has rolled on to win four of five games to compile a respectable 5-1 season mark.

The Ramblers get another crack at the same Aquinas team tonight in an 8 p.m. tilt at St. Stan's Gym. and Nett says, "We'll find out if we have improved tonight."

COTTER MAY have trouble expanding on the point margin, but a more evenly balanced attack may be in evidence. Along with the Ramblers' regular five, three reserves have come into their own in the last few games.

Dan Pelowski, a 6-3 junior center, and Russ Fisk, 6-4 senior, have shown that they can come off the bench and hit clutch baskets. The leading reserve in the back court is 5-8 sophomore Bob Allaire.

Oddly enough, with six games under their belts, this will be only the third game at home for the Ramblers. Nett will use the same starting lineup that has taken the floor for Cotter all season. Gene Schultz and Rick Starzecki will be at guards, with Bob Judge and John Nett Jr. at forwards, and 6-5 Mike Jerecek at center.

LAST YEAR, Aquinas came to St. Stan's in almost an identical situation. The Ramblers had beaten the La Crosse school at La Crosse, and were riding the crest of a long winning streak. The Blugolds threw a zone at the Ramblers, and walking off with a 41-38 verdict.

"They might do the same thing this year," said Nett. "We haven't worked against a zone very much, so it might take us a little while to get oriented."

After tonight's game, the Ramblers will take a layoff until after Christmas, before hosting a Holiday Tournament at Memorial Hall, Rochester.

Louder, Minnehaha Academy, and St. Paul Cretin will be the visiting schools in the tourney.

Handout: Cotter's record is 5-1. Aquinas is 1-4. Cotter's record is 5-1. Aquinas is 1-4. Cotter's record is 5-1. Aquinas is 1-4.

Eau Claire Unbeaten in Six Contests

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

The doors of Winona High's comfortable little gymnasium will be stretched to the utmost tonight to admit the Old Abes of Eau Claire Memorial High School.

Boasting a front line bigger than any around, the Abes will ride the crest of a six-game victory string into the Winona High Auditorium for an 8 p.m. game.

Manning the center post is 6-9 Mike Loehnis with 6-7 Jeff Ellenson and 6-3 Tom Hansis at forwards.

Jim Elliott, 5-7 speedster, and Bert Smith, 5-11, are the guards.

AND IN COASTING to its six victories the Abes have yet to be seriously challenged in the shooting department. In its 103-87 victory over Moundsview last Saturday, Eau Claire shot at a 58-percent clip.

And while Winona's Hawks will get a certain test at how to cope with the big men, the front line "little fella" for Eau Claire knows what the ball is for. Hansis hit 30 points against Moundsview.

But while Coach John Kenney views this as a big test for his Hawks, he is happy to see it coming.

"This will give us good experience in how to handle the big man," said the coach, thinking ahead, no doubt, to coming games with Rochester, La Crosse Logan and Faribault.

Eau Claire will come into tonight's contest fresh from a 77-61 victory over Superior Central Thursday night.

How does the coach compare the Abes with Rochester and 6-7 center Dave Daugherty after watching the Eau Claire Moundsview tilt?

"THEY'RE TWO different types of teams," he said. "Eau Claire does one or two things and Rochester sets up a lot of different threats. Eau Claire has better threats at the forwards but less at the guards. They always try to get the ball to the big guys for the easy shot."

Kenney's primary worry tonight is stopping the Old Abe front liners. "The guards serve as feeders," he said.

In an attempt to gain victory No. 4 against one loss, Kenney, for the first time this season, will start the same lineup for two consecutive games.

At forwards will be Bill Squires and Denny Duran with Jim Kasten at center and Steve Keller and Pat Boland at guards — the same five who opened against Red Wing last Friday.

ALSO SLATED to see action are Gary Addington and Tony Kreuzer at guards, John Brandt at center and Bob Urness at forward.

"Bruce Holan (a forward) has been out of practice a couple days this week," said Kenney. "I had him been here all week, I might have two-platooned to night."

Following tonight's game, the Hawks will journey to Spring Valley for another non-conference tilt Saturday night.

— WARRIORS —

Defense Tumbles In Second Half

MENOMONIE, Wis. (Special) — "You had to see it to believe it."

Those were the words of Dr. Robert Campbell as he viewed Winona State's 102-66 loss to Stout State College Thursday night.

The Warriors frittered away a 10-point lead midway through the first half, but still went to the dressing room with a 43-42 edge at halftime.

The second half saw the mild Stout come back turn into an avalanche as it buried Winona State with a torrid shooting performance to outscore the visitors 60-23 in the final 20 minutes.

"I don't know. I just don't know," said Campbell. "I can't understand it. The kids can't understand it. Things weren't going bad, we just didn't do anything — offensively or defensively."

"I've never seen anything like it in my life," continued the Warrior coach. "It was just a real poor display of basketball on our part."

Both teams shot around the 50 percent mark for the first half, as Stout connected on 19 of 38 shots, and Winona State hit 16 of 31. But the roof fell in, and the landslide just kept rolling following the toss opening the second half. Stout rifled in 28 of 46 shots for a 60 percent clip, while the Warriors hit at a sub-freezing rate of 15 percent on 6 of 38 shots.

"Most of their scoring was done in about a 25-minute period, while we were doing absolutely nothing," said Campbell.

Winona State found the same recurring problem Thursday night that had been evident throughout its first eight games. A tight man-to-man defense propelled the Warriors to their early 10-point margin, but then the defense fell apart, and the offense along with it.

Even in the crushing defeat, Campbell had praise for sophomore Gary Petersen and freshman Dave Meisner who collected exactly half of the Warriors' 66 points between them.

"They were out there scrapping just like they have been all season," said Campbell. "But nobody else was."

It was the first victory for Stout, which now stands 1-5 on the season. For the Warriors, who don't go back into action until Dec. 27-28 when they participate in a holiday tournament at Beloit, Wis., it was the fifth setback against three victories.

A pair of will-of-the-wisp freshmen guards paced Stout. Ken McBride fired in 22 points, and Willie White was close behind with 20. Jerry Kissman added 11 and Dennis Thompson 14. Petersen had 17 and Meisner 15 for the Warriors. Captain Lyle Papenfuss added 10.

Carter, Griffith Eye Title Bout

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Emile Griffith, the welterweight champion who wants to be middleweight king, steps into the ring tonight against Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, who also has title aspirations.

Griffith, named fighter of the year by the boxing writers association, is a slight favorite in the scheduled 10-round non-title bout, which will be nationally televised.

The winner will be in a strong contending position for a crack at middleweight champion Joey Giardello.

Arkansaw Wins Over Somerset

ARKANSAW, Wis. — Arkansaw High School registered its first Dunn-St. Croix Conference victory Thursday night by bouncing Somerset 73-53.

The Travelers rolled to a 30-20 halftime lead, and then iced the cake by outscoring Somerset 19-3 in the third period.

Bill Yingst hit 22 to lead the parade. Scott Herbst added 17, and Bill Luther 11. Steve Marty had 20 for Somerset.

Arkansaw goes back into action Jan. 7 at Gilmanston.

NO FOOTBALL PROBLEMS

Liberty Bowl Runs Into Deep Trouble

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Liberty Bowl's troubles are legion — ranging from weather to finances to threats of boycott. But the problems don't extend to football.

North Carolina State and Mississippi State, two of the nation's best college teams, will take care of that end of it. They're scheduled to play in Philadelphia's vast, 102,000 seat Philadelphia Stadium Saturday in the fifth and perhaps last Liberty Bowl.

Bowl promoter Bud Dudley predicts a crowd of only 10,000, which entails a personal financial licking of about $20,000 for him. The game is scheduled for national television coverage over NBC as the collegians hit full stride in the post-season activity.

Other Saturday games include the North-South at Miami and Baylor and Louisiana State in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Tex.

The Gator Bowl, Blue-Gray, East-West Shrine game and Tangerine Bowl are scheduled following Saturday, Dec. 20; the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. Dec. 31, and the Cotton, Orange, Sugar and Rose bowls New Year's Day.

Dudley, the Liberty promoter, has taken a financial licking on four of the five bowl games and it's doubtful he'll try again.

In addition to the difficulties he has had trying to sell two Southern teams — even though they're among the best — to Philadelphia, he has had the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in opposition. They've threatened to picket the stadium because of Mississippi State's involvement.

And, too, there's the weather. The U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts temperatures in the 20's at game time. Philadelphia Stadium is ringed with snow.

On the field, however, the attraction is top-notch. North Carolina State, coached by Earle Edwards, came through with an 8-2 record and runner-up in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Couch Paul Davis' Mississippi State team wasn't supposed to have much this season but carved a 6-2 record out of a rough schedule. They beat Auburn of the Orange Bowl and LSU of the Bluebonnet, tied Mississippi and lost by a point to Alabama.

The last two are in the Sugar Bowl.

Because of its rougher schedule, Mississippi State ranks a 6 1/2-point favorite.

Baylor holds a thin edge as a 1 1/2-point choice in the Bluebonnet, primarily because of the passing wizardry of Don Trull. The Bears and LSU each has a 7-3 record and have played four common opponents.

The North-South game, which features the passing of Miami's George Mira vs. the pass-run threat of Boston College's Jack Concannon, also is scheduled for national television coverage, over ABC. A crowd of about 44,000 was expected.

St. Mary's Skaters Face Tough Test

Robustelli Rates Bears, Pitt Offensive Equals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP)—Andy Robustelli, the player-coach responsible for the New York Giants' defense, says the Chicago Bears and the Pittsburgh Steelers rate about the same offensively.

That's a compliment to the Bears, who are noted more for their dynamic defense than for their offensive exploits. The Giants regard the Steelers as a tough team on the attack.

The Steelers trounced the Giants 31-0 in their first meeting when Y.A. Tittle was out with injuries. But the New Yorkers, with the Bald Eagle back in action, whipped the Steelers 33-17 in the Eastern title-deciding game last Sunday. That victory put the Giants against the Bears for the NFL title at Chicago Dec. 29.

After watching movies of the second game with the Steelers and the Bears' last two games Thursday Robustelli said:

"The Steelers and the Bears look about the same to me offensively. Joe Marconi, the fullback, looked awfully strong to me. He's as tough as John Henry Johnson. A fullback right at that point."

In talking about the Bears' quarterbacks, Bill Wade and Rudy Bukich, Robustelli said: "Wade is a big, tall guy with exceptionally quick wrists; he's tall enough to look over almost everybody's head and really snap off the short pass. Bukich has the strongest arm in football for the long bomb when they need him. He's the understudy but Rudy is a good pro quarterback."

It was evident from Robustelli's appraisal and the comments of Coach Alie Sherman that the Giants have no intention of saying anything fiery that would rile up the big Bears.

"The Bears have a lot better offense than a lot of people give them credit for," said Sherman. "They definitely move the ball good and can hurt you if you're not on your toes at all times."

MATMEN AT CHATFIELD

Hawk Swimmers To Meet Austin

Winona High's wrestling and swimming teams will be in action tonight, the tankers host Big Nine Conference rival Austin and the matmen journey to Chatfield.

Lloyd Luke will send his "B" team against the Packer junior varsity at 6 p.m. at the high school pool with the varsity meet getting under way immediately afterwards.

HOPING FOR its second victory and the right to take an above .500 mark into the holiday vacation period, Gene Nardini's wrestlers travel to Chatfield for a 7 p.m. match.

Nardini is cautiously optimistic at this point. "They haven't won," said the coach. "We should get our second victory, but this is the type of team you can't relax against. If you do, you get your ears pinned back."

Also in action today was the wrestling "B" squad, which met Cochrane-Fountain City's varsity at 3:30 o'clock at the High School Auditorium.

Tonight Nardini will have Earl Kreuzer at 95 with Steve Miller at 103, Pat Anderson or Gary Ellis at 112, Ron Fugelstad or Lenny Dienger at 120, Gary Schoening at 127, Larry Pomeroy at 133, Cliff Vierus at 138, Barry Arenz at 145, Bill Roth at 154, Pete Woodworth at 165, Byron Bohnen at 175 and Bob Haeussinger at heavyweight.

JIM DOTZLER, the regular 127-pounder, has been home with the flu and Dienger, also sick early in the week, is having trouble making weight. Bohnen will be at heavyweight because Chatfield's 175-pounder is undefeated. Swimming Coach Luke expects his team's meet with Austin to go right down to the wire.

"Three or four events will be tossups," said the coach. "A little mistake here or there will mean the meet. It's going to take a little luck one way or the other."

Luke stated that his team had looked good this week, but that sickness might hamper the Hawks' chances of gaining their second straight dual meet victory after topping Shattuck last Friday.

GREG GERLACH has been out with a throat infection and Jim Grant has also been sick. Both boys are breast-stroke. Also lost is diver John Edstrom who has infectious mononucleosis.

"If every one of our boys swims well, it's going to be a close meet," prophesied the coach.

Marquette Snaps 3-Tilt Loss String

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Marquette's sputtering offense got off the ground far enough to defeat Iowa State 67-62 Thursday night and snap a three-game losing streak.

The Warriors, hurting for height and a floor general, surged to victory behind the second-half shooting of sophomore forward pushed through five more Tom Flynn. The 6-foot-5 baskets and two free throws after the intermission and finished as the game's high scorer with 20 points.

Meet Toms Tonight After Cobber Win

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY NEWS

ST. PAUL, Minn. — In the words of Keith Hanzel, St. Mary's hockey coach, the Redmen will get their first big test of the season tonight when they run headlong into the Tommies of St. Thomas at Aldrich Arena.

St. Mary's tuned up for the crucial MIAC meeting by taking an easy 10-1 victory over Concordia at Aldrich Thursday morning.

HANZEL'S FORCES put the contest out of reach in the first period, scoring five goals in the frame and then successfully keeping the Cobbers at bay.

The contest was highlighted by three important developments. Bryan Desbien and Don Berrigan each turned in a hat trick and Andre Beaulieu, one of the highest scoring collegians in the country last year, went without a goal.

The team captain, Beaulieu, turned feeder, coming up with four assists in his team's rout and second MIAC victory. The win brought St. Mary's overall record to 4-0.

In the first period, Desbien got two of his three goals. In addition, Berrigan, Phil Riechenbach and Joe Clark each riddled the puck into the nets.

IN THE SECOND period, St. Mary's didn't let up, scoring on a pair of goals by Berrigan, a wing on the veteran line centered by Beaulieu, and a follow-up effort by Dennis Cooney, center on Hanzel's all-freshmen line.

The Cobbers picked up their lone goal of the game in the period as Bob Nelson hit the nets on a deflection off the skate of Redman goalie Jack Scott.

St. Mary's kept the pressure on in the third period and the score mounted. Dick McCormick and Desbien hit to run the score to 10-1.

Hanzel praised Scott for his work in the nets. He made 16 saves.

Hanzel pointed out that St. Mary's did not seem to suffer from the loss of ace defenseman Bob Magnuson, who is out of action due to a knee injury.

Another Pupil, Teacher Battle For AFL Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—The secret of beating Sid Gillman is to work for him first as an assistant coach. Jack Faulkner and Al Davis are 5-0 against their old boss in American Football League competition.

Now it is Faulkner's turn to try again with Gillman's San Diego Chargers needing to win or tie their finale with Denver to clinch the Western Division title.

If Faulkner upsets Gillman again, San Diego will fall right into the same trap. A San Diego defeat and an Oakland victory over Houston in Sunday's final game would set up a tie playoff between Gillman and Davis's Raiders. The name of the game is Beat the Boss.

Faulkner beat Gillman twice last year and thumped his Chargers 50-34 early this season. Davis beat Sid twice 34-33 and 41-27 since he took over as boss man at Oakland.

All of which sets up an interesting final weekend of the AFL season. The National Football League season ended last week but the AFL season carried over an extra week because they did not play on the weekend of President Kennedy's assassination.

Oshkosh Tumbles To Whitewater

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Whitewater edged defending State College Conference champion Oshkosh 75-74 Thursday night when reserve Tom Schwogler tossed in a basket with 15 seconds remaining.

Stevens Point whipped Wisconsin-Milwaukee 80-64 and Eau Claire defeated River Falls 74-65 in other State College Conference games.

In games involving other Wisconsin schools, stout trounced the University of Dubuque, Iowa defeated Plattville 77-52 and Carroll Trimmed Millikin, Ill., 69-67.

Whitewater opened up a nine-point margin in the second half but Oshkosh surged back and score was tied five times in the heated finish.

Duellman Rips 628, Chuchna Tumbles 617

Winona kegglers suffered another slow night Thursday as only a pair of 600s in one league were nailed down.

Merlin Duellman sent the timber tumbling to the tune of 182-214-232-628 for Ruppert's Grocery. Rich Chuchna picked up the other honor count with a 213-223-181-617 for Clark & Clark Ins. The high single game of the night was a 235 belted by Bert Kowalewski for Hot Fish Shop.

Team laurels went to Pozanc Trucking with 1,018 and Ruppert's with 2,933.

RED MEN: Ladies-Luella Duellman clicked for 171-432 for Schmidt's Beer, while Waltz Buck-Olds was registering 874-2,454.

WESTGATE: Keglerette-Judy Strommer sparked Hamm's Beer to 879-2,498 with her 199. Bernice Duellman laced 500 for Sam's D. S.

Jr. Girls-Judy Cada's 154-275 paced Alley Cats to 609-1,196. Pin Drops-Diane Huff toppled 472 for Steve's and Joanne O'Reilly clipped 175 for Pappy's. Randall's counted 880-2,517.

Bay State Men's-Bouncers counted 1,026-2,879 behind Frank Hengel's 599. Dick Percy dumped 223 for Blockbusters.

WINONA AC: K of C-Ed Mrozek scattered 229 for Winona Milk Co., while Bob Swenson was leading Weaver & Sons to 1,038-2,950 with his 574.

A-C League-Marge McGuire banged 213-518 to help Wally's Sweethearts to 2,541. Stein Oil Co. counted 933.

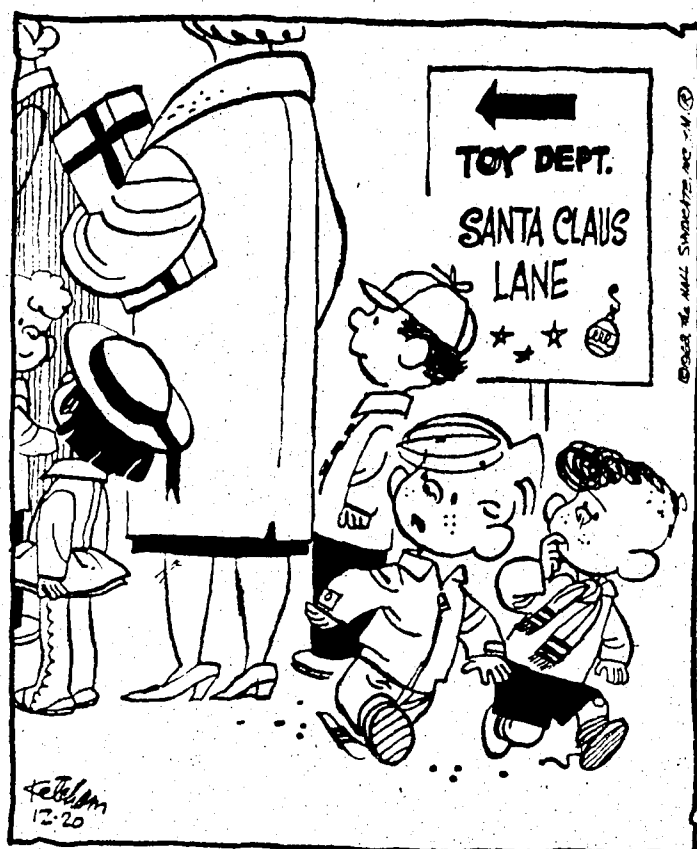

HAL-ROD Eagles - Dick Jaszwski waxed 213-557 for Grain Belt, while Badger Foundry hit 976, and Kewpie Lunch tagged 2,743.

Powder Puff - Helen Nelson zipped to 198-535. Winona Insurance staggered 883, and Hal Leonard Music spilled 2,517.

Dick Badar of Indiana completed 20 of 28 passes for 256 yards against Iowa this season.

Holiday Tournaments Begin Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

College basketball's merry whirl of Christmas tournaments, a holiday delight to followers of the sport, gets started in earnest tonight.

The big one is the UK Invitational at Lexington, Ky. where the host Kentucky Wildcats, second-ranked nationally, meet Wisconsin of the Big Ten. In the other first round game the Ivy League champion, Princeton and its heralded Bill Bradley, tangles with Wake Forest of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Then there is the Sun Devils Classic at Tempe, Ariz., the Virginia Tech Invitational at Blacksburg, Va. and the Arkansas State Invitational at Jonesboro, Ark. which will be Michigan State vs. California and Arizona State vs. Oklahoma. At Blacksburg, Maryland meets Tennessee and Virginia Tech takes on Louisiana State. At Jonesboro, Tulane is paired against Texas Western and William and Mary against Arkansas State.

The Bluebonnet Classic at Houston, actually not a tournament, Duke's 84-73 victory over Virginia, Wichita's 71-65 defeat of Minnesota and New Mexico's 59-54 conquest of Kansas highlighted a comparatively slim national program Thursday night.

Duke's No. 5 Blue Devils was the only team in The Associated Press top ten to see action. Jeff Mullins, who wound up with a total of 30, threw in eight straight points that thwarted a second half Virginia rally that had cut an 18-point Duke lead to three at 49-46.

The Bluebonnet, a two-night doubleheader series, turned out just as if it were a tournament. Houston beat Mississippi State 69-61 and Oklahoma City downed Texas A&M 80-70. Tonight Houston meets Oklahoma City and Miss. State meets Texas A&M, pairings that had been determined some time ago.

A sellout 6,457 at Albuquerque cheered the unbeaten New Mexico Lobos as they turned back Kansas for their seventh straight.

Utah also kept its slate clean with a 102-71 romp against Washington State for its sixth in a row. Marquette whipped Iowa State 67-62. Illinois defeated Butler 74-53. Texas Tech took Auburn 83-71. Texas Western overcame Tennessee Tech 64-48 and New Orleans Loyola humbled Georgetown, D.C. 92-78.

Warriors 4th In Iowa State Quadrangular

AMES, Iowa (Special) — Host Iowa State College won the Iowa State Quadrangular wrestling meet Thursday by piling up 98 points. Winona State finished fourth with 32.

Adams (Colo.) State College was second with 65 points, and Northwestern Missouri State was third with 41 points.

The Warriors did not win any weight division titles, but got second places from Pat Flaherty at 177, and heavyweight Larry Wedemeyer, Larry Marchionda, 115, gained a third position in that bracket.

Coach Bob Gunner had special praise for the three top Warrior finishers, and also for Perry King, 120, Buzz Matson, 147, and Chuck Hoiness, 123.

"Flaherty looked the best he has all year," said Gunner. "But he also faced his best competition. Marchionda and Wedemeyer are also coming around."

The Warrior matmen return to the mats Jan. 15 for their first home meet, a dual affair with La Crosse State College.

Low Wins AFL Comeback Title

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Only Paul Lowe and his coach knew until today that the flashy San Diego Charger halfback fractured a leg in the first regular game of this season.

"But I was determined not to let it keep me out," Lowe declared after making the disclosure in an interview.

He had been asked how he felt about being chosen the American Football League's Comeback Player of the Year by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters.

"It's a pretty inspiring thing," he replied, "as inspiring, I'd say, as being named Player of the Year. I am deeply honored."

He said he was also pleased that his teammate, veteran quarterback Tobin Rote, had been named Player of the Year.

Lowe, who makes great use of his speed and agility, was out of action all last season because of a broken arm that required surgery to mend.

This year it was the leg that threatened to put him on the shelf again.

He said a hairline fracture was discovered in his left leg after the opening game with Buffalo Sept. 3.

"But nobody ever knew about it but me and Sid Gilman," Lowe said. Gilman was the Charger coach and general manager.

Lowe has carried the ball 827 yards in 160 rushing tries and has run for six touchdowns. He has also taken two touchdown passes and in three kickoff returns he has gone 204 yards.

HORNETS OPEN PLAY SUNDAY

The Winona Hornets will compete in what has turned into a four-team Southern Minnesota Hockey League.

Teams entered are Winona, Owatonna, Albert Lea and Austin. Rochester and North Mankato will not be members.

The Hornets will make their league debut Sunday at Owatonna before returning home to host Austin Dec. 29.

Anyone interested in playing for the local team is asked to attend a practice session at the West End Recreation Center at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Celtics Good Minus Russell, Great With Him

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — "The Celtics are a darn good team without Bill Russell and a great one with him."

The sentiments are those of Boston's former National Basketball Association star, Bill Sharman.

The Celtics lived up to it on Thursday night by surviving a 49-point fourth quarter by the Knicks and still beating New York 143-140 without Russell, the perennial NBA Most Valuable Player.

The defending league champs also were operating without injured Frank Ramsey.

Russell watched the Celtics win their ninth straight on the neutral Providence court, confined to street clothes by a pulled thigh muscle suffered on the last play of the victory over the Knicks Wednesday night in Boston. Russell will not be able to play in New York Saturday night.

Lyman Maloney, board of directors president, said this noon no further work will be done on the project now until after the holidays. Attending the bid opening with the Madison men and the directors were representatives of Klingler & Associates, Eau Claire architects, and Mrs. Russell Fried, Whitehall F.H.A. office.

THERE WERE nine general construction bidders. Base bids of the others were: Olbert Construction Co., Mondovi, $36,200; Arnold Construction Co., Arcadia, $36,500; C. J. Woychik, Whitehall, $40,600; Nels Johnson Construction Co., Winona, $39,075; P. Earl Schwab Co., Winona, $48,500; Leon S. Inman, Winona, $39,400; Weaver Construction Co., Arcadia, $38,250; and Kathana & Sons, Onalaska, $46,950.

The other base bids on mechanical sheet metal work were: Utility Sales & Engineering Co., Rochester, $9,950; Howland Sheet Metal, Inc., Eau Claire, $10,200; Home Heating, Inc., Eau Claire, $9,919, and Wally's Electric Service, Arcadia, $10,666.

The other electrical bidder was Sherman Electric Service, Inc., Eau Claire, $5,504.

Motive for Knife Slaying Unestablished

BLACK CREEK, Wis. (AP) — The motive for the savage knife slaying of 28-year-old Mrs. Florence Kilsdonk remained unestablished today as authorities made a public appeal for information on the case.

The young mother, whose brutally slashed body was found Wednesday in the kitchen of her Black Creek home, was not sexually assaulted although she may have been slain fighting off a rape attempt. Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin Spice said.

A pathologist, reporting on an autopsy, said there was no evidence of sexual molestation.

And authorities said the finding of $200 in her wallet on a dresser tended to discount robbery.

Coroner Bernard Kemps called the killing "the most gruesome crime in my 10 years as coroner - it takes a twisted mind to commit a crime like this."

Three men were given lie detector tests at the Brown County Jail in Green Bay Thursday night after being questioned in the case. Sheriff Spice said the tests "more or less absolved" all three.

Mrs. Kilsdonk's body, bearing multiple knife wounds on the head, neck and arms, was found under a table in the blood splattered kitchen of her home Wednesday afternoon by her husband, Marvin, 29, when he returned from work at Menasha dairy. The couple's 2½-month-old son, Jeffrey, was lying on the table, unharmed but screaming.

Kilsdonk agreed to submit to a lie detector test as a routine part of the investigation. He said he had last seen his wife about 4:30 a.m. when he went to work. She was feeding the baby when he left her. Authorities theorized she was slain by someone she knew.

Arcadia Golf Clubhouse Bids Rejected

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — Apparent low base bids totaling $56,985 for a new clubhouse for Arcadia Country Club, Inc., were rejected by the board of directors following the opening of construction bids Thursday night.

Low base general construction bid, $34,950, was submitted by Hehl-Grohn Co., Eau Claire.

There was only one plumbing bidder, Frank C. Kube, Arcadia. His base price was $9,990.

Low on mechanical sheet metal work was Service Sheet Metal Shop, La Crosse, at $9,495. Wally's Electric Service, Arcadia, bid low on electrical work at $3,550.

THE COST would have been $11.47 per square foot for the 64- by 80-foot building, which is higher than the Farmers Home Administration would approve for this type structure, according to Ralph Monroe, Madison, state F.H.A. representative. He and Robert Dudgeon, Madison, F.H.A. engineer, attended the bid opening.

Monroe said the ceiling allowed for clubhouses on any of the golf course projects on which it loans money is from $40,000 to $50,000.

The country club was granted a $91,500 F.H.A. loan this year, to be used not only for the clubhouse but the $13,463 irrigation project completed last fall and purchasing the land. The course previously had been leased from the land owners.

Lyman Maloney, board of directors president, said this noon no further work will be done on the project now until after the holidays. Attending the bid opening with the Madison men and the directors were representatives of Klingler & Associates, Eau Claire architects, and Mrs. Russell Fried, Whitehall F.H.A. office.

THERE WERE nine general construction bidders. Base bids of the others were: Olbert Construction Co., Mondovi, $36,200; Arnold Construction Co., Arcadia, $36,500; C. J. Woychik, Whitehall, $40,600; Nels Johnson Construction Co., Winona, $39,075; P. Earl Schwab Co., Winona, $48,500; Leon S. Inman, Winona, $39,400; Weaver Construction Co., Arcadia, $38,250; and Kathana & Sons, Onalaska, $46,950.

The other base bids on mechanical sheet metal work were: Utility Sales & Engineering Co., Rochester, $9,950; Howland Sheet Metal, Inc., Eau Claire, $10,200; Home Heating, Inc., Eau Claire, $9,919, and Wally's Electric Service, Arcadia, $10,666.

The other electrical bidder was Sherman Electric Service, Inc., Eau Claire, $5,504.

Owl Agency Bids On Wincrest Land

Owl Agency, Inc., holder of a mortgage on Wincrest Addition residential properties, was sole bidder at a foreclosure sale today at 10 a.m. at the Winona County courthouse.

The local investment company bid $140,800, the approximate amount of the mortgage unpaid, plus expenses of the sale. Mortgagee is Residence Unlimited Inc., a Twin City investment firm in which Frank Beddor, Minneapolis, is a principal shareholder. Under foreclosure provisions, Residence Unlimited now has a year to redeem its interest in the defaulted portion of the obligation.

Officials of Owl Agency said the property involved consists of about 200 acres of platted and unplatted land. None of the 25 lots on which houses have been erected and sold were involved in the proceedings, since titles already have passed unencumbered to the purchasers.

Commission Asks Voting At Age 18

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential commission recommended today that all states consider dropping the minimum age for voters to 18 and called for eliminating poll taxes and literacy tests as qualifications for voting.

President Johnson called the 11-member commission to the White House to present its report, ordered in March by John F. Kennedy.

The group, labeled the President's Commission on Registration and Voting Participation, was scathing in its denunciation of what it considered roadblocks to voting.

For example, in recommending that the poll tax be eliminated as a prerequisite for voting, it said:

"No American should have to buy his right to vote in any election."

The commission chairman, Census Director Richard M. Scammon, told reporters the recommendation applied to state and federal elections.

Cited as the major argument for 18-year-old voting was the belief that by the time young people reach 21, they are "so far removed from the stimulation of the educational process that their interest in public affairs has waned."

The report lamented "the low voter participation of the age group from 21 to 30." It surmised that many young people never acquire the voting habit because they fail to start voting right after graduation from high school.

Georgia and Kentucky now are the only states which allow 18-year-olds to vote. The age minimum is 19 in Alaska and 20 in Hawaii and 21 in the other 46 states.

Richfield Girl Killed by Car

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A Richfield girl went shopping at a neighborhood drug store Thursday night for gifts to take to the Christmas party being held today by her 4th grade class at Woodlake School.

But 9-year-old Debra Marie Johnson won't have the pleasure of the gift sharing.

She and her sister, Candice, 10, were only a few doors away from their Lyndale Ave. S. home when a car veered into the snow bank on the shoulder where the girls walked. They were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson.

Debra Marie was killed but Candice escaped injury. And the driver of the death car kept right on going.

Police Capt. Floyd Roman said a radiator ornament ripped from a 1959 Oldsmobile was recovered at the scene. Otherwise, no clues.

Badger County Levies Rise

MADISON, Wis. — All Wisconsin county property tax levies made this fall for 1964 budgets totaled a record $141,221,879, rising $1,847,595 over total county purpose levies for the year, the Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin said after a poll of county clerks.

The reports show, however, this has been the best year since 1957 for Wisconsin counties in holding or reducing property tax rates, with 23 counties levying less for 1964 and another 23 realizing valuation increases which permit the same or lower rates despite higher levies, the survey said.

The survey is a private non-political nonprofit government research and service agency for state-wide and community
