Heroism, Panic On Stricken Ship

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
LONDON (AP) — England bundled up against a cold snap as the 20,314-ton Greek liner Lakonia slipped out of Southampton, headed for Madeira, the Canary Islands—and sunshine—on a Christmas cruise.

An atmosphere of calm gentility and folksy cheer pervaded the ship as the 658 passengers—most of them British—and 369 crew, set out Dec. 18. Half the passengers had signed for the full 5-week voyage, paying up to $1,055. The rest were going to the islands.

It was to be a lazy, sunny Christmas. Breakfast in bed, tea in a tapestry-hung lounge. In the evening, they dressed for dinner.

On Friday, Dec. 20, the first day out, there was a boat drill. No one seems to remember exactly how it was conducted. The crew had been through a boat drill before sailing. Capt. Daniel Jones of the British Sea Transport Department was told by his inspectors that it was "very satisfactory." They did not conduct a formal inspection of the ship. It carried a Greek certificate of seaworthiness.

Sunday, in one lounge the ship's social director had organized a party for young people—they came dressed as hobos. There was carol singing in another lounge, a movie in the third. Most older passengers had retired. Monday was to be a big day of sightseeing in Madeira.

Just before 11 p.m. a steward spotted smoke seeping under the doors of the ship's barber shop. He flung open the doors and fell back before flames.

The fire raced through passageways toward the state-rooms.

Capt. Mathios Zarbis, a veteran of 15 years with the Greek Line, was sitting in the main saloon. He raced toward the door.

Ivor S. Buchanan, an American, and his wife Dorothy had retired early. He pulled a suit over his pajamas. She put his coat over her slip. "What a hell of a time to have a fire drill," he thought.

In the radio room, operator Alexis Kalogridis switched to the automatic emergency transmitter and began tapping out: "Fire spreading up. Prepare evacuation on ship." It was 11:30 p.m.

At 22 minutes after midnight Kalogridis sent out the final, anguished call: "SOS from Lakonia last time. I cannot stay any more in the wireless station. We are leaving the ship. Please immediate assistance. Please help."

Then he dashed to the lifeboat deck, already crowded with passengers and crew milling about in pajamas and anything they had thrown on. Some

President Has Gay and Busy Christmas Day

By FRANCES LEWINE

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's Texas Christmas was a gay and busy day that included inspecting his cattle, delivering poinsettias to his neighbors, entertaining kin-folk, eating a big turkey dinner and taking a speedboat spin on a nearby lake.

He did it all in relaxed fashion, dressed in sporty khaki range pants, green and brown checked sports jacket and orange cowboy boots.

He even had time to lease another 40 acres "more stonping ground" to add to the Johnson holdings of 400 acres adjoining the placid Pedernales River.

Johnson kept the family's turkey dinner waiting while he hobnobbed with the press, whom he invited to take holiday pictures of the family. And he conducted the crowd of some 50 reporters and photographers on a tour of the 12-room stone and frame ranch house where the Johnsons' Christmas presents waited under an eight-foot cedar tree in his comfortable ground-floor office.

The weather was in the balmy 70s, but a heated outdoor swimming pool, covered with blue plastic "to keep the leaves out," was not used.

Twenty-seven Johnson kinfolk gathered for Christmas dinner, with more of Mrs. Johnson's relatives due in time for New Year's. An added guest was 19-year-old Lynda Bird Johnson's fiancé, Bernard Rosenbach of nearby Comfort, Tex., newly elevated to the rank of Navy lieutenant, junior grade. He's soon to be sent to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, Johnson revealed.

The President introduced all of his family as they gathered to be photographed.

It was late afternoon before the Johnsons got to their presents and then sat down to the table to feast on roast turkey with corn bread stuffing and glibet gray, sweet potato pie with marshmallow topping, string beans, salad and hot rolls. The dessert was fruit cake, "traditional in my country," Mrs. Johnson said, plus a family favorite, ambrosia—orange and pineapple topped with finely grated coconut.

The President, his wife and daughters have been dieting, but they forgot about it for the holiday and added egg nog to the evening gaiety.

Among the Christmas gifts were dresses Johnson bought for his wife and his eldest daughter, Lynda Bird.

After the family dinner ended at 4:30 p.m., the President called for his helicopter and took a 17-minute ride to visit Haywood Ranch, the 4,561-acre spread he owns in partnership with his friend and attorney, A. W. Moursund. Then he switched to a speedboat to ride around one of the highland lakes along the Pedernales River.

Jacob Shubert Dead at 83

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacob J. Shubert, 83, theatrical entrepreneur known as the man who produced a thousand shows, died in his Manhattan apartment today of a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was a brother and business partner of Lee Shubert, also a theatrical business figure, who died on Christmas Day, 1953.

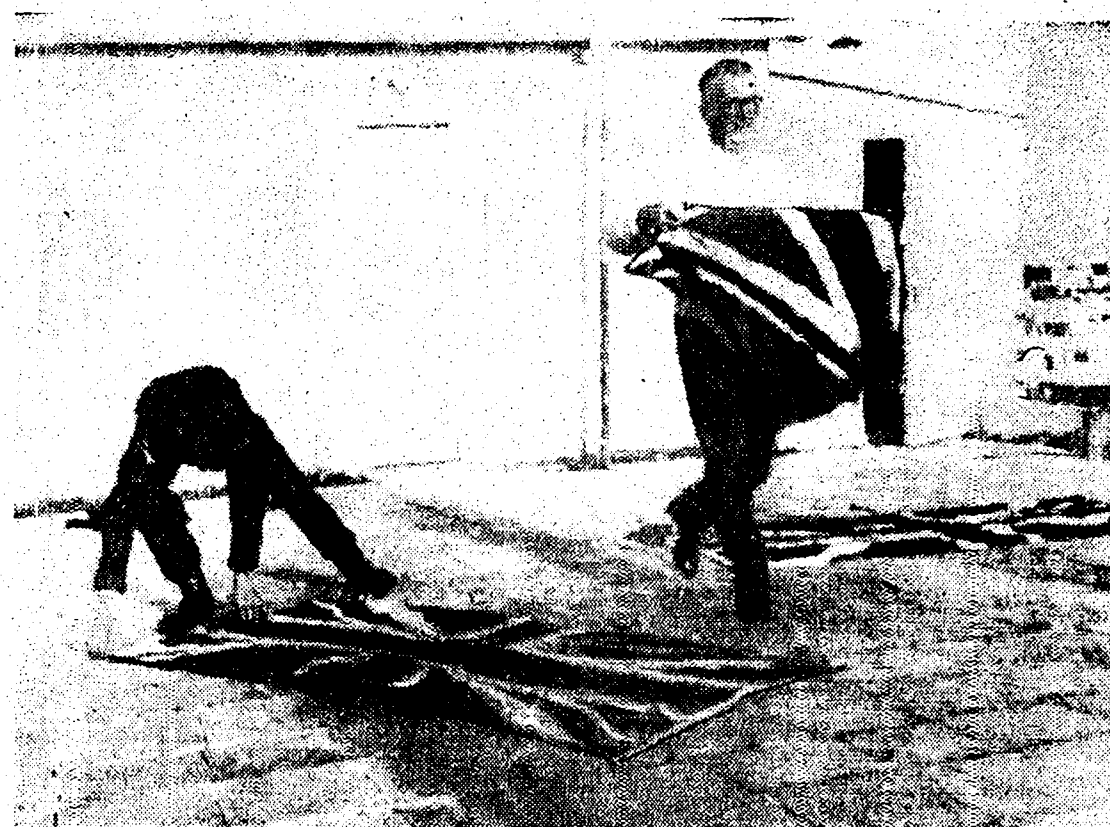

The federal government only two days ago had brought suit for $15,705,387 in estate taxes against the estate of Lee Shubert. The government placed the value of the estate at $25 million, the bulk of it a half interest in the partnership.

Other Kennedy dogs included Charlie, a Welsh terrier; an Irish wolfhound, various cockers, a German shepherd and some pups born to Pushinka and Charlie.

Dogs have always been the most popular presidential pets, beginning with George Washington. An exception to the dog-loving line was President Harry S. Truman, but his friends were always quick to point out that he had nothing against dogs.

A White House dog that figured in politics was Fala, a lively Scottie belonging to President Franklin D. Roosevelt. In the 1944 presidential campaign, some critics of FDR charged that a destroyer was sent to the Aleutian Islands at heavy expense to the taxpayers after Fala allegedly had been left behind in one of the President's trips.

East German Slain In Break for Freedom

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN (AP) — More thousands of West Berliners crossed into East Berlin today despite the Christmas Day killing of a young East German who tried to escape over the Berlin wall.

In the first hour after the five crossing points opened for one-day visits by the West Berliners, nearly 13,000 had crossed by foot, car or elevated railroad to see relatives in the Communist sector of the city.

There was no change in the friendly attitude of East German guards, reported under orders to "keep smiling" when the 16-day visiting period began last week by agreement between the West Berlin city government and East Germany's Red regime.

"But now you see their real face," a young Red Cross worker on duty at a crossing point said. "Here they smile and there they shoot."

Less than a mile from the Oberbaum Bridge control point an East German guard shot Paul Schulz, 18, in the back Wednesday as he sat entangled in barbed wire atop the concrete wall.

As loudspeakers blared Christmas music from the East German radio, the wounded youth toppled from the 9-foot wall into the arms of a West Berlin policeman. A companion, also 18, made it safely to the West, but Schulz died six hours later in a West Berlin hospital.

In allowing visits by West Berliners to their relatives in the East, the Communists made no relaxation in their ban on East Berliners going the other way.

Christmas Day traffic through the wall Wednesday was a record. Officials estimated more than 65,000 West Berliners crossed over.

U.S. Traffic Death Toll Over 300

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's heavy Christmas holiday traffic killed more than 300 persons.

The toll was 301 for the 48-hour period from midnight Monday to midnight Christmas Day (local time).

Fatalities were heaviest during the actual holiday, Wednesday, Tuesday's toll at midnight, EST, had reached 83, and by midnight on the West Coast it was 100. More than two-thirds of the deaths were counted on Christmas Day.

Adverse driving conditions in many localities apparently contributed to the high number of deaths.

The number of fatalities Christmas Day was far above the average of traffic deaths during the first 10 months this year and during last year's record toll of 40,900. The 10-month total was 35,170, an average of about 115 deaths daily compared to last year's daily average of 112.

The holiday deaths compared with a total of 170 highway fatalities counted by The Associated Press during a 48-hour non-holiday period from 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 10, to 12:01 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 12.

The last time Christmas occurred on a Wednesday, in 1957, there were 225 traffic deaths in a 30-hour period, from 6 p.m. Christmas Eve to midnight Christmas.

U.S. Has 1,700 Citizens On Island

By ALEX EFTY
Associated Press Writer

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Britain ordered more troops to Cyprus today as a conflict between the Greek Cypriot and Turkish minority threatened to embroil NATO allies Greece and Turkey in open conflict.

Greece asked for an extraordinary session in Paris of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's permanent council to discuss the crisis. Informed sources in Paris said the council met secretly Wednesday. The Cyprus government already has sent a complaint to the United Nations.

The Turkish government ordered two jet fighters to make warning flights over Cyprus Christmas Day after accusing Greek Cypriots of massacring Turkish Cypriots in communal fighting that has been raging since last Saturday.

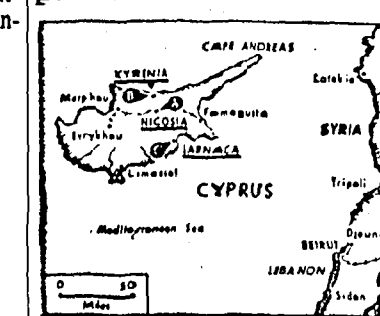

Then as the fighting died down to sporadic firing, the office of President Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriot community, asserted six Turkish navy vessels had taken up positions off Cyprus.

President Cemal Gursel of Turkey also expressed grave concern, accused the Greek Cypriots of a massacre, and appealed to President Johnson and other world leaders to intervene.

The situation was being watched closely in both London and Washington. Greece and Turkey, long at odds over Cyprus, guard the Far Eastern flank of the Atlantic Alliance. Johnson was watching developments from his Texas ranch. Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home of Britain interrupted a Christmas vacation to return to London.

What prompted Makarios to send a complaint to the U. N. Security Council was the flight of the Turkish jets and the movement of some of Turkey's 65,000-man garrison on Cyprus into the Turkish Cypriot quarter of this capital.

The Greeks promptly moved part of their 850 soldiers stationed on Cyprus into the Greek Cypriot section, thus setting the stage for a possible confrontation.

In an attempt to head off trouble, the diplomats of Britain, Greece and Turkey met with Makarios and decided to put British, Greek and Turkish forces in Cyprus under a unified command headed by a Briton, a communicable announced.

There are about 10,000 British servicemen on Cyprus, stationed here as in the case of the Greek and Turkish garrisons under the treaty of 1960 making Cyprus an independent member of the British Commonwealth.

Johnson told newsmen at his Texas ranch he had conferred by telephone with Secretary of State Dean Rusk two or three times on the situation.

"We have a situation developing there and we are watching it very carefully," Johnson said. "We have 1,700 citizens on that island."

State Department sources said in Washington no evacuation orders have been issued to U.S. citizens, but Americans in outlying areas have been advised to move to more centrally located points in case evacuation is deemed advisable.

The fighting arose from Turkish opposition to Makarios' proposals to amend the Cyprus constitution. The Turks claim the amendments would weaken their rights.

UP ON FASHIONS, TOO . . . President Lyndon B. Johnson turns his daughter Lynda Bird, 19, so that visiting newsmen at the LBJ Ranch at Johnson City, Tex., can get a good look at the dress she is wearing. The President proved he's up on college fashions as well as world affairs when he bought the red Marimekko dress for Lynda when he was in Finland recently. The casual frock, like a loose shift type, is popular on American campuses. Lynda Bird is a sophomore at the University of Texas. (AP Photofax)

Johnson Settles Down at Ranch

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) —

President Johnson was up before dawn today and with former Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee went deer hunting, planning also to get in some talk on national problems.

Johnson and Ellington, a guest at the LBJ Ranch, had an early breakfast in the ranch kitchen, read the morning newspapers, then boarded a helicopter and flew to the home of a longtime Johnson friend, Atty. A. W. Moursund.

The three men went out in search of deer, which abound in the area of the Moursund ranch. It was on that property that Johnson saw scores of deer Tuesday but decided against shooting any, because he could only draw a bead on does.

Johnson told newsmen Wednesday he hoped he and Ellington would be able to discuss national problems "over the carcass of a deer." There was speculation Ellington might be in line for a federal post.

Ellington was Johnson's floor manager at the 1960 Democratic convention when Johnson sought his party's presidential nomination but wound up as candidate for vice president.

The President said he wanted to get Ellington's "counsel on a number of national problems" that were not specified.

Johnson also was keeping in touch with the explosive situation in Cyprus, where fighting has erupted between Turks and Greeks. Developments on the island prompted two or three telephone conferences Wednesday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The pressure of official business during the holiday stay at the LBJ ranch was evidenced, too, by a new directive in which Johnson ordered a cutback in federal jobs within the next 18 months.

Johnson Asks Nation to Send Gifts to Needy

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, a dog lover but still a man of prudence, has done the sensible thing again.

He has asked that Americans not flood the White House with gifts of dogs and other animals. Specifically, the President accepted the gift of a white collie from a 9-year-old Illinois girl, but asked at the same time that others who want to send animal gifts to give them instead to children or institutions in their own communities.

The first family already had two Beagles and two Beagles just by themselves are a lot of dogs.

Every first family has been deluged with gifts, some of them probably to the point of embarrassment. No one likes to return a gift, or to refuse one that is well-meant, even if it is not particularly wanted and has to be fed.

The John F. Kennedys, having two small children, were particularly showered with pets, but they always seemed to have room for one more.

In addition to three ponies, the Kennedys were honored with dogs galore, the most famous being Pushinka, the offspring of a Soviet space dog. She was a gift from Premier Khrushchev.

Other Kennedy dogs included Charlie, a Welsh terrier; an Irish wolfhound, various cockers, a German shepherd and some pups born to Pushinka and Charlie.

Dogs have always been the most popular presidential pets, beginning with George Washington. An exception to the dog-loving line was President Harry S. Truman, but his friends were always quick to point out that he had nothing against dogs.

A White House dog that figured in politics was Fala, a lively Scottie belonging to President Franklin D. Roosevelt. In the 1944 presidential campaign, some critics of FDR charged that a destroyer was sent to the Aleutian Islands at heavy expense to the taxpayers after Fala allegedly had been left behind in one of the President's trips.

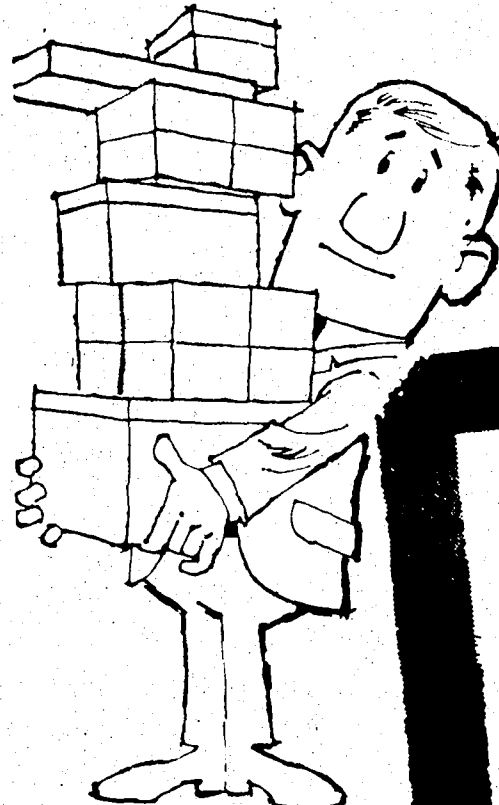

The dog was killed, the lawn so badly injured it had to be destroyed.

Cox estimated damage to the car at around $40.

5 Dead in Area Traffic Accidents At Beginning of Holiday Period

Jackson Co. Records 3 Deaths

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. (Special) — A father and son from Eau Claire and an Eleva, Wis., man became Jackson County's fourth, fifth and sixth traffic fatalities of 1963 when they died following a Christmas Eve accident near here. The accident occurred at 6:30 Christmas Eve, one mile south of Black River Falls on U.S. Highway 12, in front of Castle Mound State Park entrance.

The Dodge Dart driven by Kenneth Severson, 46, Eau Claire, Rt. 3, was going north on the highway when it skidded on icy pavement, went off the side of the road, then back onto the highway and was crosswise in the road. It was hit broadside by a Chevrolet traveling south driven by Griffin Baker, Minneapolis.

BAKER, HIS wife and two daughters, Diane, 15, and Cynthia, 11, were en route to Chicago for a Christmas visit.

Wednesday Mrs. Baker was transferred to Minneapolis Methodist Hospital for treatment of severe back injuries.

Donald Ayres, state highway patrolman, New Lisbon, was a witness. He said he had been following the Severson auto and had clocked it at 64 miles an hour. When the accident occurred, Ayres was forced off the highway but his patrol car was not damaged and he was not injured. He radioed the sheriff's office at Black River Falls at 6:50 p.m., immediately after the crash.

Kenneth Severson was pinned in the car by the impact and died at the scene. His son, Elroy, 23, Eau Claire Rt. 3, was rushed by the Langlois ambulance to the Krohn Hospital, Black River Falls, where Dr. Gene Krohn performed emergency surgery on his throat. He died about 9 p.m.

The Severson car was owned by the son, Kenneth Severson was born Feb. 12, 1917. His son was born May 30, 1940.

A PASSENGER in the Severson car, Louis O. Nichols, 61, received fatal head injuries. He was transferred from the Black River Falls to St. Mary's Hospital, Wausau, where brain surgery was to be performed. He died at 4:30 p.m. Christmas Day.

Mr. Nichols was born Dec. 31, 1901, in the Town of Drammen, Eau Claire County, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Nichols. He had lived in Cleghorn 35 years, where he was self-employed as a blacksmith and recently had been cutting logs for Andrew Amahl, Cleghorn. He was a member of Zion Lutheran Church, Cleghorn.

He was married Sept. 18, 1926, to Anna Thalacker at Plum City.

Survivors are: His wife; six sons, Gordon, Baldwin, Park, Calif.; Richard and Alfred, Eleva; Gustave, Kenosha; Loren, with the U.S. Army in Germany, and Roger at home; seven daughters, Mrs. George (Josephine) Wendt, Eau Claire; Mrs. 3, Mrs. Ole (Elvera) Myhre, Chasaburg, Wis.; Mrs. LaVerne (Elizabeth) Franson, Rt. 4, Eau Claire; and Leona, Bettina, Maxine and Marjorie at home; 15 grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. Mollie Nichols, Mondovi; four brothers, Harry and George, Mondovi; William, Gilman, and Raymond, Eau Claire; and five sisters, Mrs. Paul (Hattie) Thalacker, Mrs. August (Marion) Thalacker and Mrs. Julius (Agnes) Johnson, all of Eau Claire; Grace, Wauwatosa, Wis., and Mrs. Marvin (Mabel) Bastian, Richfield, Wis.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church, Cleghorn, the Rev. Jerome Newton officiating. Burial will be in Oak Park Cemetery, Mondovi.

Friends may call Monday afternoon and evening and until 11 a.m. Tuesday at Kjevent & San Funeral Home, Eleva, and at the church from noon.

These three deaths brought Jackson County's traffic toll to five this year. There were 10 traffic fatalities in 1962 and none until Sept. 12 this year.

Winonan Hurt When Auto Hits Boxcar

A 57-year-old Winonan, injured early Christmas morning when his car was struck by a boxcar, was released from Community Memorial Hospital later that morning.

Henry L. Pietsch, 515 W. 5th St., was admitted to the hospital for injuries after his car was pushed 97 feet by the boxcar, which was involved in switching operations at the Chicago & North Western Railroad's Johnson Street crossing.

Police said that accident occurred at 12:08 a.m. when Pietsch drove north across the tracks. His car was struck by the eastbound boxcar, they said.

Engineer of the switch engine was Richard Beranek, 529 Lafayette St. The boxcar was being pushed across the crossing.

Police said that Pietsch's 1953 model car was demolished.

MARCEL S. Herrick, 269 Chaffield St., forfeited $50 bail in municipal court this morning on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Police said that charge stemmed from a traffic accident at East 3rd and Lafayette streets at 6 p.m. Christmas Day. The accident was not investigated at the scene.

Rita Frisch, 22, Minneiska, Minn., was the driver of the older car involved in the accident. She told police that she was making a right turn onto Lafayette Street from 3rd Street when her car was struck by Herrick's. He left the scene, she said.

Damage was more than $50 to each vehicle.

CHIEF OF Police George Savord this morning said that police allege that Fred Pagenkopf, 361 Laird St., was the driver of a car which struck a parked truck near East Broadway and Laird Street at 6:47 p.m. Tuesday.

A possible charge of leaving the scene of an accident is pending against Pagenkopf, Savord said.

Police said that a parked truck owned by Julius W. Gernes, 473 E. Broadway, was struck by Pagenkopf's car.

Icy Drizzle, Colder

An icy drizzle, some rain, changing to occasional light snow and much colder weather is moving on Winona and vicinity tonight.

A low of 4 to 10 is forecast for the area after one of the most pleasant Christmases, weather-wise, in years. Variable cloudiness is the outlook for tonight and partly cloudy weather with a few snow flurries is in store for Friday. The high then is expected to be 8 to 12. Continued cold with no significant precipitation is the outlook for Saturday.

THE TEMPERATURE over the holiday rose to a pleasant 43 Tuesday afternoon and 45 on Christmas Day. The low Wednesday morning was 23 and this morning 29. At noon today the reading still was 29.

This was far different from a year ago today when the high was 20 and the low 15. The all-time high for Dec. 26 was 54 in 1936 and the low -24 in 1914. The mean for the past 24 hours was 37, a far cry from the normal figure of 18.

Response 'Generous'

Renew Appeal For Fire Victims

Winonans have been responding generously to appeals to help the victims of Monday's fire at Reinarts Art Glass Studios. Art Steffes, coordinator of the aid drive, said this morning.

Steffes reported that he made several trips Christmas morning to deliver cash and merchandise donated by business firms, organizations and individuals in the city to Mrs. Lillie Moore Burleson, who lived in the apartment at 150 1/2 High Forest St.

The donations were taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Gavin, 750 E. 3rd St.

MRS. BURLESON, her 13-year-old twin sons, Johnny and Tommy, and 2 1/2-year-old Timmy Morris escaped from the burning apartment when fire broke out around 3 a.m. Monday. Mrs. Burleson, however, was injured when she re-entered the burning building to save Timmy, whom she thought to be still inside.

Johnny, unknown to her, already had brought the boy out of the building. The Morris boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Morris, 360 Pelzer St., was staying with the Burleson family Monday night.

STEFFES SAID this morning that about $250 in cash has been collected thus far, and merchandise including food, clothing and Christmas games for the twins has been donated.

More is needed to help the family get started again. Steffes pointed out. He said that contributions still are being accepted at KWN and at West-gate stores.

Man Sentenced On Check Charges

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — A Tomah man pleaded guilty to bogus check writing in Trempealeau County Court before Judge A. L. Twesme Monday morning.

Michael W. Keller, 22, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail on each count, the sentences to run concurrently. He also was ordered to pay the court costs. He will be in jail under the Huber Law.

Keller was arrested Friday night and was in the custody of Sheriff Orris Klundby until his arraignment. He used the name A. H. Johnson when issuing checks Dec. 18 to three Blair business places — Herried Hardware for $15, Gamble Store for $25, and Coast-to-Coast store, $5.

Damage was more than $200 to each vehicle, they said.

The truck was parked at the east end of Laird Street and was struck in the right front, said police. They claim that Pagenkopf was driving south on Laird Street and crossed Broadway on the wrong side of the street, then hit the truck.

The accident scene was about 25 feet south of Broadway on Laird Street.

There was light snow this morning at Rhineland, Ashland and the Hurley-Ironwood area, freezing drizzle at Clintonville, Manitowish, Wausau, Green Bay, La Crosse and Madison, and a mixing of freezing drizzle and snow at Eau Claire. Skies were cloudy over the entire state.

In mid-morning, the State Highway Department reported slippery roads due to freezing rain north of a line from Prairie du Chien to Port Washington.

But there could be few complaints about the Christmas weather. The temperatures were abnormally mild, ranging from a remarkable 41 degrees at Whitehall Park, southwest of Milwaukee, to 27 degrees at Superior-Duluth in the northwest corner of the state.

Overnight temperatures ranged from 16 degrees in the Milwaukee area to 29 at Racine.

Junction, Tex., had 76 degrees for the warmest temperature in the nation Wednesday. The coldest during the night was 6 below at Newport, Vt.

The weather was almost perfect in Wisconsin on Christmas Day but showed some signs of deteriorating today.

Two Women Victims in One Crash

STRUM, Wis. — A rural Strum resident and a La Crosse woman died as the result of a head-on collision of two cars on slippery Highway 53 about two blocks north of Foster, in Eau Claire County, at 5:48 p.m. Christmas Eve.

Mrs. Edmond J. Drost, 38, 2110 Mississippi St., La Crosse, died at the scene and Miss Helen J. Scheuermann, 31, who lived with her parents on a farm between Brackett and Allen, Eau Claire County, died early Christmas morning at Luther Hospital, Eau Claire, of head and chest injuries.

None of the occupants was thrown from the car.

MR. DROST, 40, who was driving, and his daughters, Diane L., 16, and Theresa A., 11, were taken to Sacred Heart Hospital, Eau Claire, where, according to the Eau Claire County sheriff's department, they were reported in good condition this morning.

Miss Scheuermann, driving a 1957 Chevrolet, was proceeding south alone in her car. She was delivering a Christmas present. In rounding a right hand curve she lost control on the icy concrete and slid across the highway into the left lane, into the path of the northbound Drost 1958 Chevrolet.

Miss Scheuermann was born Aug. 30, 1932, in the Town of Clear Creek. She attended Osseo High School and was employed at Peters Meat Products, Eau Claire. She was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Survivors are: Her parents; four brothers, Melvin, Larry and Dale, Eau Claire, and Philip, Chippewa Falls; four sisters, Mrs. Grace Olia, Eau Claire, and Jane, Janet and Karen at home, and both grandmothers, Mrs. Anna Scheuermann, Strum, Rt. 1, and Mrs. Laura Otto, Osseo.

The funeral will be Friday at 10 a.m. at Holy Guardian Angel Catholic Church, Brackett, the Rev. John Rossier officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Golden Funeral Home, Eau Claire, is in charge of arrangements.

LONG DISTANCE . . . Mrs. Harry Kukowski talks with her son, who is stationed at San Pablo Air Force Base near Seville, Spain. The call was arranged and paid for by the Winona local of the Communications Workers of America. Mr. Kukowski looks on.

Gift of Local Union

Mother Gets to Talk With Son in Spain

A Winona mother talked with her Air Force son this morning, thanks to a Christmas gift from the Winona local of the Communications Workers of America.

Mrs. Harry Kukowski, 173 North Baker St., heard for the first time in a year the voice of her son, S. Sgt. John P. Kukowski, who is stationed at San Pablo Air Force Base near Seville, Spain.

Her call was the gift of the communication workers here, who sponsored it as part of a nationwide program put on by the CWA. The project was arranged by Harold Schuppenhauser, vice president of the Winona local. Mrs. Kukowski was selected through the Red Cross.

MRS. KUKOWSKI was notified of the gift before Christmas. Norman Nelson, president of the local, explained. She wrote to her son and arranged the time and date for placing the call, then the communications workers scheduled the call so that it would go through with the least possible delay.

She called her son at 9 a.m. "We're all thrilled by it," she told the Daily News.

A daytime call from Winona to Spain costs $12 for the first three minutes and $4 for each additional minute, according to Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. spokesmen here.

SGT. KUKOWSKI has been in Spain almost a year, and last saw his family here before he left this country. His wife and children—two boys and two girls—are with him, his mother said.

During his 18 years in service, he has seen duty with three branches of the armed forces. He enlisted in the Navy and served with it for two years during World War II. He next spent two years on occupation duty in Germany with the Army.

While still with the Army, he fought in Korea. He was injured there, his mother said, and was hospitalized in Japan. Following his release from the Army, he returned home and enlisted in the Air Force in 1952.

Since joining that branch of service, he has been stationed in England, Turkey and now Spain. He has two more years to serve there, Mrs. Kukowski said.

The commission ordered the road to maintain full-time resident agency assignments at Lac du Flambeau, Lake Tomahawk and Three Lakes between May 15 and Sept. 15 each year.

Passenger service has been eliminated from all stations except at Lac du Flambeau, Lake Tomahawk, Three Lakes, Cedar Grove, Manitowish, Maribel, Pelican Lake, Summit Lake, Eden, Green Lake and Neshkoro.

The commission ordered discontinuance of less than carload freight service to all agency stations except Ridgeway.

The road was authorized to remove depot buildings at Cedar Grove, Lac du Flambeau, Lake Tomahawk, Manitowish, Pelican Lake, Ridgeway, Summit Lake and Three Lakes. It also was told to install passenger shelters in Cedar Grove, Manitowish, Pelican Lake and Summit Lake.

All service was ordered abandoned in Bangor, Ellsworth, Fall Creek, Humbird, Knapp, Livingston, Midway, and 71 other Wisconsin towns.

Police arrested LaVerne L. Rothering, 28, and Edgar K. Dutch, 25, at West Sarina Street and Gilmore Avenue at 1:44 a.m. Neither of the two lists a permanent address.

Rothering pleaded guilty to a charge of non-support and is being held in jail five days. Dutch pleaded guilty to two traffic violations.

THE ARREST of Rothering was made on a complaint by his wife, Patricia, 607 1/2 W. 4th St. She claimed that he hasn't paid support for their seven minor children since Dec. 1.

Judge McGill gave Rothering a five-day jail term and said that an attempt would be made to straighten out Rothering's problems during that time.

Rothering, after entering the guilty plea, said that he has been having financial difficulties and had left the state to seek employment. He said he last was in Baton Rouge, La.

DUTCH pleaded guilty to charges of driving after suspension of his driver's license and failure to stop for a stop sign.

Police had issued a warrant for Dutch after he failed to appear in court late last month. He was arrested by police originally at East 3rd and Lafayette streets at 11:15 p.m. Nov. 28.

Dutch was sentenced to pay a fine of $35 or to serve 12 days on the first charge and a fine of $10 or to serve three days on the second. He was making arrangements to pay the fines.

Girl Injured In Collision 'Satisfactory'

Darlene Habeck, 38, Winona Rt. 1, was in satisfactory condition at Community Memorial Hospital this morning with injuries she suffered in a near head-on crash Tuesday afternoon.

Sheriff George Fort said that her car and a car driven by Anton Patzner, Lewiston Rt. 1, crashed at Highway 43 and Township Road 17 at 3:25 p.m. Tuesday.

Miss Habeck suffered multiple injuries in the accident, according to her Winona physician. The worst of the injuries was a compound fracture of the right arm. Other injuries were bruises and abrasions.

Patzner also was injured in the accident. He was taken to the hospital, treated and released. His injuries were not serious.

Sheriff Fort said that the accident scene is located about eight miles south of Winona.

MISS HABECK was traveling southwest on Highway 43 and Patzner in the opposite direction when Miss Habeck started to make a left turn onto the township road.

Damage was about $1,000 to Miss Habeck's car and about $1,500 to Patzner's.

Sheriff Fort said that another expensive accident occurred Christmas morning.

In this accident a milk truck skidded off Haase Township Road, about two miles east of Wilson, at 10:30 a.m.

Damage to the truck, owned by Don Valentine, Mimosota City, was about $5,000. It was driven by Russell W. Nowlan, 24, Minnesota City.

DEPUTIES SAID that Nowlan was traveling east on Haase Road, came to a curve, skidded on the slippery road and went off the north shoulder.

The truck turned over once and came to rest on its side in the north ditch, deputies said. Nowlan was not injured.

Raymond E. Erickson, 25, 429 1/2 Huff St., reported $100 damage to his car after it was involved in an accident at Dakota at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The accident was not investigated by deputies or the sheriff. It occurred at the south edge of Dakota on Highway 14-61.

Erickson said that he was rounding a slight curve, hit an icy spot and lost control of his car. The car then struck guard rail posts.

It Happened Last Night Americans Called Humorless, Pompous

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Adrienne Corri, wife of Raymond Massey's son Dan, has given us Americans a nice Christmas present — she says we've lost our sense of humor and have become as pompous as the British used to be.

"You're a very worried people," Miss Corri, who's English, went swiftly on. "You're worried about our love lives. A man can't say he'd like to have a love affair with a certain girl. He's got to worry about it and say, 'Why do I want to have a love affair with her?'"

12 Children Of One Family Dead in Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fire killed 12 children in the Walter Johnson family in Charleston, S.C.—the worst of the nation's Christmas fires.

A family of six died in a house fire in Spring Lake, Mich.

A Christmas tree caught fire in a Muncie, Ind., home, killing two sisters, Michelle Johnson, 5, and Joretta, 3.

An exploding oil heater was blamed for the deaths of the 12 in Charleston, eight boys and four girls, aged 8 months to 20 years and all Negroes.

The victims were all in one bedroom at the top of the stairs. Johnson, 51, was critically burned trying to save them. Mrs. Johnson, 47, and a son, Nathaniel, 16, escaped.

Nine of the victims were her children, three her grandchildren.

Authorities said Johnson and a friend were brightening the frame house for the holiday with a new linoleum floor and apparently spilled oil from the heater by accidentally tipping it. The explosion followed.

1964 Duck Stamp
A watercolor drawing showing a pair of Nene geese on the volcanic slopes of Hawaii will be the design for the 1964-65 migratory bird hunting stamp. The Department of the Interior has announced.

Stanley Stearns of Stevensville, Md., drew the winning design which was selected from among 158 entries. Stearns also drew the design for the 1955-56 stamp. A total of 87 artists entered this 15th annual Federal "Duck Stamp" contest which is conducted in Washington, D.C., by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Second and third places in the contest went to Leslie C. Kouba of Minneapolis. His two drawings featured old squaw ducks and emperor geese.

The Nene goose (pronounced "nay-nay"), one of the rarest species of waterfowl in the world, is seriously threatened with extinction. The birds are native only to the Hawaiian Islands and in 1965 became Hawaii's official bird. The Nene is a protected species and though it will appear on the duck stamp, it may nowhere be hunted. A specialized cousin of the Canada goose, the Nene in the wild lives only at an elevation of between 5,000 and 8,000 feet. It has been away from the water so long that its feet are only partly webbed.

This year artists were urged to submit designs showing various species of waterfowl that have not appeared on the 30 previous issues of stamps.

Contest entries this year came from 32 states, the District of Columbia, and Canada. Pennsylvania led with 9 artists submitting 17 entries. Virginia was second with 15 and Minnesota third with 13.

A new $1 duck stamp is issued each year by the Post Office Department. The 1964-65 stamp will go on sale July 1, 1964, and expires June 30, 1965. Each migratory waterfowl hunter 16 years of age is required to purchase a stamp, in addition to a regular state hunting license.

Revenue from the sale of the stamps is used in development of migratory bird refuges and habitat. Normally more than two million stamps are sold annually.

$352 Average Cost of One Year In School

By G. K. HODENFIELD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average cost of educating a child in the public schools this school year is $352, an increase of $17 or 5 per cent over last year, the magazine School Management reported today.

The magazine said only $7 of the increase will be spent for better education, with the other $10 being used simply to offset the effects of inflation.

The magazine's annual survey is directed by Dr. Orlando F. Furno, director of research for Baltimore city schools.

Furno estimates that public schools across the country will spend $20.3 billion this school year, including the costs of school transportation, building and equipping new schools, and paying off old school debts.

The average cost per student for bus transportation is $16, and Furno said the school districts will spend $47 per student for new school construction this school year. These costs are in addition to the $352 per-pupil expenditure.

School debts, mostly long-term bonds for school construction, totaled $388 per student in the average school district as of last Sept. 1. Almost 10 per cent of the country's school districts were in debt $1,000 for each pupil enrolled.

The magazine said New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania are spending the top per-pupil figure, $482. This is about 42 per cent above the national average.

The magazine said only 10 per cent of the nation's school districts have salary scales which make it possible for classroom teachers to earn more than $9,500 a year.

The average teacher will earn $5,837 this school year, school management said. The average starting salary was listed as $4,600 and the average maximum salary, $7,307.

DEAR ABBY:

The Truth Will 'Out'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of an employee who arrives at her job promptly at 9 a.m., but spends the first half hour of her working day fixing herself coffee? (She sends out for donuts or rolls because she hasn't as yet had her breakfast.) There is a coffee-break at ten in which she participates. No one has the nerve to report her to the office manager because she is a nice person otherwise and we don't want to start trouble.

DEAR CO-WORKERS: If she's so naive that she doesn't know she is chiseling the company, and incurring the resentment of her co-workers to boot, somebody should tell her. If she knows and doesn't care, it's only a matter of time before the office manager finds out. All offices have a little birdie, which sings occasionally.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is right for my mother-in-law to walk into our bedroom when we are in bed? She has done this several times. We live in a house trailer in our in-law's yard, and she does my washing for me. I don't have a place to wash so I offered to take my things to her place and do it myself, but my mother-in-law insists on doing it herself. It is really a big help to me because I have a pair of twins two years old who take a lot of my time. Well, she walks into our bedroom to get the clothes and I want to know if I should tell her not to, or should my husband tell her, since it's his mother?

DEAR WALKED: It isn't necessary for anyone to tell her. Gather the clothes together the night before wash day and take them to your mother-in-law's house.

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced man of 44. I have been practically married for the past two years (all but the legal formalities) to a very wonderful woman who is 29, and is also a divorcee. Neither of us has children. Abby, I love this woman and have been begging her to marry me for almost as long as I have known her, but she insists that she does not want the responsibilities of marriage. She says she loves me, and wishes to continue our relationship as it is, free of legal commitments. I want a conventional life, complete with wife and family. She does not. How can I get her to change her mind?

DEAR WANTS: I doubt if you can. Start looking for a conventional woman -- this time in a more conventional way.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Three Adopted Children Moved Out of Home

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Three 6-year-old adopted children were moved out of their home here for Christmas after a health officer said some 60 animals were being kept inside the dwelling and it was too dirty to live in.

Juvenile Judge Stanley D. Kane ordered Mark and Cheri-geno Hall taken to the Hennepin County Receiving Center for Children in nearby Minneapolis. Michael, discovered to have chicken pox, was taken to a hospital.

Sanitarian Robert A. Mood said the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle K. Hall, were keeping 22 dogs, more than 20 rabbits, an assortment of parakeets, myna birds and love birds, and a great horned owl.

He said that, when officers visited the home, they found food for the animals but only dry cereal, bread and peanut butter for the children.

Mood said there was no evidence that the house had been cleaned in some time. He said neighbors were unaware of the situation because all the animals were inside.

Mood quoted Hall as saying his wife had worked for a humane society several years ago and had been trying to save stray animals independently recently.

Mood said Hall asked officers to come to the home while his wife was away.

Cambodia, Viet Nam Ministers Confer

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The foreign ministers of Cambodia and South Viet Nam have opened talks in Saigon aimed at restoring diplomatic relations between the neighboring countries.

Neutralist Cambodia broke relations with South Viet Nam last August after President Ngo Dinh Diem's government raided Buddhist pagodas throughout Viet Nam. Cambodia's ruler, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, is a Buddhist.

Cambodian Foreign Minister Huot Sambath arrived Tuesday heading a diplomatic team. The Vietnamese foreign minister, Pham Dang Lam, is expected to go to Cambodia later.

Judd Bandwagon Getting Riders

THE MORATORIUM on politics during the period of mourning for President Kennedy is over and many Republicans in Minnesota, realizing that the Republicans nationally are in quite a mess, are jumping on the Dr. Walter Judd "favorite son" bandwagon.

A Minneapolis public relations firm, which is working in the interests of the Judd candidacy, has this to say:

The ramifications of President Kennedy's assassination will be hard to measure and interpret on either side of the political fence for some time. But one fact is certain, and that is that President Johnson need only worry about who is going to be his running mate. The situation becomes a bit more complex on the Republican side of the ledger.

DR. JUDD, we feel, could provide that "vital link" in the position of power the Minnesota delegation could wield at the Republican National Convention in the ultimate selection of the Republican ticket in 1964.

Most important, however, is the fact that the Minnesota delegation must go to the convention united on at least the first ballot. Then, and only then, will they be able to effectively show their hand on succeeding ballots.

Judd has proved his popularity across the land and abroad. It has often been stated that — had Kennedy had him around for his foreign aid bill — he would have fared far better than he did. A recent Minnesota poll also pointed up the esteemed respect Minnesota Republicans have for Judd when it revealed that 72 percent of them responded "yes" to the question, "Would you like to have Judd be the Minnesota Republicans' favorite son candidate in 1964, or not?"

IN OUR book, Judd is more than worthy of thoughtful consideration by all Minnesota Republicans, and Republicans across the land, as an excellent candidate for the highest office in the land.

It Was Too Good To Be True

IT SEEMED too good to be true, some months ago, when we learned that Washington's new cultural center, once it had accepted a site owned by the government, would be financed entirely by voluntary contributions. And it was — too good to be true.

Now the Congress is being asked to authorize $15.5 million in federal grants to the project.

Originally, the idea was that anyone who wanted to foster culture in Washington could contribute to the center. Now, as tax money will be used, it means that everyone will be required to contribute, whether he has the slightest interest in culture or Washington.

There isn't any question that Washington could use an opera house, a symphony hall and another theater. Opera used to play at the Capitol Theater, a gaudy movie palace, but the wreckers got it. The local symphony orchestra now plays in enormous Constitution Hall, which was not designed for the purpose. All legitimate theaters but one have vanished.

THERE ISN'T even any question that the people who go to the new cultural center will need parking space, for which $11,000,000 is to be spent — a figure that works out to about three times the worth of the average car parked in each space.

The question is, should all taxpayers everywhere be taxed for entertainment facilities for Washingtonians? Residents of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit and other cities support theaters, opera houses and symphony halls through ticket purchases and philanthropy. Washington, our wealthiest city in terms of personal income, certainly could do the same.

The residents probably would be happier, in the long run, if they did. If the government is a major sponsor, they may expect congressmen to be the most vociferous critics and fill the pages of the Congressional Record with their personal ideas as to cultural or non-cultural values of the performers.

HE WHO pays the piper calls the tune.

A new machine automatically dials phone numbers and delivers commercial messages — which many an irate recipient will make a point of ignoring.

HOW DO YOU STAND, SIR?

House Reflects People's Fears

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

The House of Representatives, in its action on the administration's foreign aid appropriation, accurately reflected the American people's deep-rooted disgust with the way the government has been squandering public money overseas.

No matter what the Senate may do to restore the cuts made in the executive requests, the performance of the House of Representatives on Dec. 16 will stand as a genuine monument to truly representative government.

Sometimes we don't give enough thought to the fact that members of the House are much closer to the people than almost any other elected officials. The reason for this is that every House member must seek re-election every two years. This requirement keeps the members acutely sensitive to the thinking and the desires of the people back home. Consequently, House action on a question of national importance always mirrors the desires of a majority of the members' constituents.

The House action constituted the biggest foreign aid cut to be voted in Congress for more than 10 years. And it came in the face of a warning from President Johnson that the cut would weaken America's free world leadership and put U.S. foreign policy in a strait-jacket. It carried by a vote of 249 to 135.

So strong was the sentiment for heavy economy in foreign aid spending that Democratic leaders in the House gave up hope of increasing the amount even before debate began. What finally emerged after the series of House votes was a bill appropriating $2.8 billion for economic and military assistance in 100 nations.

THE AMOUNT covers expenditures for the fiscal year which began last July 1 and was $1.7 billion less than what the late President John F. Kennedy claimed was urgently needed to bolster the free world against international communism. It also was far less than the amount authorized for foreign aid appropriation in earlier congressional action.

Not only did the House rebel against administration foreign aid demands, but it also went against the government's expressed desires for underwriting part of the proposed American wheat sale to Russia.

The House tacked a rider on the foreign aid bill which would prohibit loan guarantees by the Export-Import Bank in the current wheat sales to Russia. The vote on this important amendment carried by a vote of 218 to 169, despite administration warnings that this could wreck the entire wheat sale to the Communist bloc.

PERHAPS THE most significant fact pertaining to the House action was apparent widespread belief among the congressmen that foreign aid is not the vital adjunct to American foreign policy that the administration insists. To hear some State Department officials explain it, foreign aid is almost the only important factor involved in this nation's foreign policy. The argument is used by White House spokesmen every time the Congress has the temerity to reduce amounts demanded by the executive branch.

I suggest that it is a weak foreign policy instrument that is used at one and the same time to strengthen nations against the inroads of international communism and to strengthen nations already dominated by communism.

How, for example, can we find foreign policy value in spending billions of dollars to aid Yugoslavia and Poland? We know beyond any question of doubt that in a showdown between East and West these nations would throw in their lot with the Communist bloc. Merely because Tito doesn't subscribe to everything the Kremlin puts out is no reason for us to believe that he is something less than a dedicated Communist.

IF WE FOLLOW this line of reasoning far enough, we might someday find ourselves heaping foreign aid on Red China simply because Mao Tse Tung disagrees with Nikita Khrushchev.

How do you stand, sir?

The remarkably pleasant weather and good roads give our farmer friends a fine chance to bring their produce forward to market and they appear to improve it to good advantage. Tactics Used Against Another Johnson Back

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Most people don't know it, and Charlie Halleck doesn't list it in his own who's who biography, but his middle name is "Abraham." For his father, Abraham Halleck, who in turn was named for the patron saint of the Republican party, Lincoln.

The fact that Charlie Halleck wants to forget his middle name may have some Freudian connection with the fact that as a Republican leader of the House, he is now engaging in the tactics which sent this nation into a tailspin after the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

After Lincoln's death, the Congress, already backbiting and sniping at Lincoln, proceeded to hammer at his successor, Vice President Andrew Johnson, with such savage ferocity that the progress of the nation was set back by a generation.

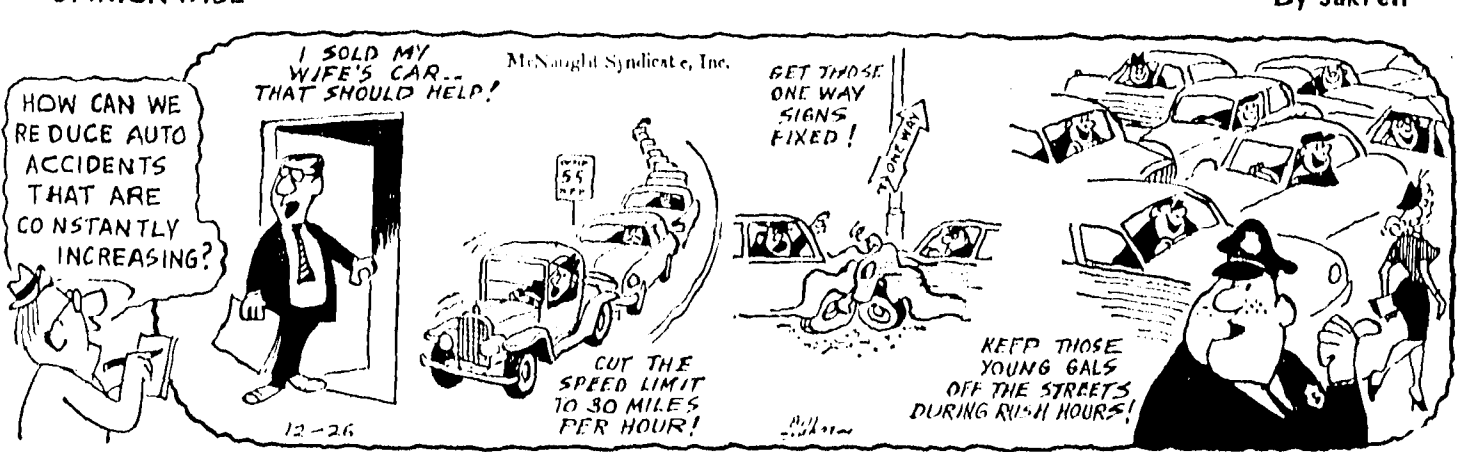

Today Halleck is trying to do the same thing to another Johnson in the White House.

This is essentially what the in-fighting and double-crossing were about in the House of Representatives during the hectic days when Congress was supposed to adjourn but didn't.

To understand it, you have to understand Charlie Halleck. You have to go back to the bitter battle inside Republican ranks when the Nixon forces on Capitol Hill pulled wires to replace GOP Leader Joe Martin of Massachusetts with the shrewd and ruthless Charles Abraham Halleck of Indiana.

CHARLIE HAD come to Washington an ambitious but unaffluent young attorney from northern Indiana in 1935. If Charlie had much more money in his pocket than enough to pay his carfare to Washington he didn't show it. But ten years later, right after the war when cars were almost impossible to buy, Charlie showed up with two Cadillacs, while his son, who attended the not inexpensive St. Albans school, used to drive a Cadillac convertible.

OPINION-WISE

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Opposition Will Bring Opponents

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Overnight a whole government changes its leadership, but sometimes it takes several weeks or months for the political consequences to be fully appraised.

Based on past experience, the mood after the inauguration of a President is usually one of virtual unanimity, and it takes a few months — sometimes a year or two — before the so-called "honeymoon" is over. This doesn't mean that a President himself then suddenly loses popularity. It merely means that, when a President has had to make decisions, he finds that those who don't agree with him become vocal opponents.

Back in 1923, when Vice President Coolidge had succeeded to the presidency, the country hailed the new President as entirely different from his predecessor — Warren Harding. Mr. Coolidge was elected President in his own right in 1924. This correspondent recalls sitting alone one day in 1927 with President Coolidge, and the conversation turned to the number of subjects on which he was encountering opposition. He said somewhat ruefully:

"When a man is a successful candidate and has as yet had no responsibility for the making of decisions on public policy, he is strongest with voters. When he comes into office, however, he has to decide things. There are always two sides — sometimes three. But the moment you make a decision, you find yourself with opposition. The sum total of these grievances has its effect by the time you run for office again."

The foregoing line of thought may have been influential in Mr. Coolidge's announcement not long afterwards that he didn't "choose to run" for reelection in 1928.

TODAY, President Johnson enjoys a popularity equal to that which is often bestowed on a new President. He has not yet made any fundamental decisions that could develop opposition of the sort that plagued his predecessor. Mr. Johnson is cautious and will not invite unnecessary controversy nor cross any bridges just yet that he doesn't have to cross. But there inevitably will come a time when decisions on major issues will have to be made.

The "civil rights" problem is a case in point. There has been a lot of surmise lately with respect to the hitherto anti-administration attitude of the South. Some reports have said that the South has already changed its view because a "southern" is in the White House. Some political writers have gone so far as to say that Sen. Goldwater's expectation of carrying the South, if nominated, has been wiped out altogether by the change in the White House.

This is to oversimplify American politics. The Southern citizen knows that integration isn't an easy problem to solve, but he has been taught for generations that community life is a matter within state and local jurisdiction. Forced integration is a relatively new experience. Some of the people in the South are prepared to accept certain changes, but the vast majority retain deep-seated objections.

WHAT WILL President Johnson do about it all? Will he retreat from President Kennedy's position and thus alienate many people in northern districts where the Negro vote and the "liberal" vote could perhaps be mobilized against him in the presidential election just a few months away? If he adopts the Kennedy policies, will the South abruptly forget its feelings and support him anyway? Human nature doesn't change so rapidly. It sometimes requires a longer period of evolution. Once it is known where

By Sakren

President Johnson is to stand, there is sure to be opposition. This merely means that when a decision is made, division naturally arises.

It has been suggested that President Johnson, who is skillful in handling delicate situations in legislative affairs, may develop a compromise that will seem to delay a painful decision while not really changing fundamentals. Adroit political strategy sometimes can make it appear to both sides that each is gaining some points. Opposing politicians, including the next Republican presidential nominee, will, however, emphasize in their speeches the insufficiency of compromise programs.

Then there's the economy dilemma. President Johnson has made a good approach. He has approved the closing of some military installations that appear to have outlived their usefulness. Naturally, senators and representatives from areas affected shout loudly against the creation of more unemployment. They feel compelled to do so to placate their own constituents. But the amount of saving involved so far is relatively small. The big items, like the $30 billion to be spent in trying to get to the moon in the next few years, are not yet slashed. Token economy, like token integration, doesn't solve fundamental issues.

SO, IN A few months, if the American people find it looks like big deficits in the treasury for the next few years as their dollars buy less and less, they will divide again at the polls and give strong support to candidates who are courageous enough to do whatever is necessary to restore the government to a sound fiscal position.

Will the American people know definitely by next spring on which side of the two big issues — "civil rights" and economy, respectively — the President has really taken his stand? Will they know before the democratic national convention in August? Lots of things can happen in the months between now and the November election of 1964.

To date, few real decisions on the major controversies in the political arena have been made by the Johnson administration. There hasn't been time.

ALICE TO MUSIC NEW YORK — Looking ahead a season, producers Harold Prince and Fred Coe have lined up Jerome Robbins to stage and choreograph a musical based on Sholem Aleichem's stories, "Tevye's Daughter," and "The Old Country."

The show will be the first Prince-Coe collaboration but will mark reunion of Prince and Robbins, who worked together in "West Side Story." The new musical is being composed by Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick, with libretto by Joe Stein. Rehearsals are scheduled to start in June, and Broadway premiere is penciled in for September.

SEVERAL PLAYS LINED UP NEW YORK — A new off-Broadway producing group called the Aldana Theater is launching a long-term project at the One Sheridan Square playhouse. Aldo Bruzichelli, formerly associated with Le Theatre Nouveau in Paris, is directing and has lined up a schedule of works by Jean Genet, Eugene Ionesco and Isaac Babel.

Universal Peace An Elusive Goal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians observed their 19th Christmas since World War II with prayers and rejoicing despite fresh signs that universal peace remains an elusive goal.

Communist border guards shot and killed an East German youth trying to escape over the Berlin wall while Red loudspeakers played Christmas music for more than 65,000 West Berliners pouring through the barrier into East Berlin.

Less than 200 miles from the land of Christ's birth, Greeks and Turks threatened to renew their civil war on the Mediterranean island of Cyprus. Two Turkish jet fighters buzzed the island providing additional fuel for what appeared to be an international crisis in the making.

In Cairo, the Egyptian press and radio reported the Arab world had warmly received President Gamal Abdel Nasser's plans for an Arab summit meeting to consider ways of preventing Israel from diverting waters of the Jordan River.

In South Viet Nam, fighting continued despite Communist proclamation of a 24-hour Christmas cease-fire.

Yet Christians still dreamed of peace as they marked the birth of the Prince of Peace.

In an act symbolic of Christ's concern for the humble, Pope Paul VI of the Roman Catholic Church celebrated Mass in a poor workers' section of Rome, heavily populated by Communists, and prayed at the bedside of a paralyzed woman. Thousands cheered when he accepted the gift of a lamb, itself an offering of peace.

More than 10,000 pilgrims flocked to Bethlehem to worship the Christ who was born there Wednesday when he had been target shooting with the rifle, a Christmas present.

Russ Bomb Contaminated Big Carrier

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Radioactive fallout from Russia's 1961 nuclear tests in the atmosphere contaminated the giant U.S. aircraft carrier Enterprise, it was disclosed today.

The radiation persisted for about a month but did not endanger the health of those on the 86,000-ton nuclear-powered carrier.

The disclosure was made in a current publication of the Navy's Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.

Written by Lt. Comdr. Lewis H. Seaton, the article deals with radiation control aboard the Enterprise.

Seaton, a medical officer formerly stationed on the Enterprise, did not say just where or when the contamination occurred.

The Navy did not say immediately whether other ships were affected similarly.

As Seaton told it, rainstorms washed fallout from the sky to contaminate the carrier's outside areas "on the order of 10 to 20 times that allowable for the nuclear plant area."

This, he said, set in motion concerted efforts to prevent the fallout from entering the ship through the ventilation system or on the feet of the men. He added:

"There was no real danger to health, as levels of contamination were still within tolerable levels, averaged over a period of time."

BUSINESS MIRROR

New Year Starting With Confidence

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The strong fiber of confidence is the hallmark of this year's Christmas-New Year's observance.

Rising above national tragedy the nation is showing confidence in its political institutions, in the strength of its economy, in the prospects for continuing prosperity.

This fundamentally unshaken confidence shows up in many ways.

Following a drop immediately after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the stock market rose to record highs, as expressed in the popular-stock averages. Its current movements are the normal ones of switching stocks for year-end income tax purposes, for profit-taking, for establishing losses.

Many leading business firms have predicted that 1964 will see them scaling new heights in sales and profits. More to the point, perhaps, many have announced plans for extensive spending for expanded activities—a dollar and cents translation of their faith in economic strength.

Consumer confidence, after only momentary hesitancy at the time of the tragedy, has shown up in freer spending in the stores for holiday goods, and in the continued impressive spending for big ticket items like autos. Home builders insist that prospects for 1964 are undimmed.

Surveys of consumer attitudes also show most Americans still convinced that good times will continue for awhile at least.

And one survey in progress at the time reports the President's assassination made a few of those questioned uncertain of the future but left the majority unshaken in the belief that economic development would be favorable.

The Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan reports its latest testing of consumer opinion shows a trend toward greater confidence and optimism than last spring when many expressed uneasiness about the basic health of the business upswing.

Only one out of five recently questioned now look for a recession in the next two years.

"The findings on the reaction to the assassination of President Kennedy," the Center concludes, "are particularly reassuring because unfavorable events often are generalized and thus may cast a shadow over quite unrelated expectations. Furthermore, uncertainty about the future may induce consumers to postpone some of their plans. It appears that the recent tragic news has not shaken people's confidence in the favorable trend of economic developments."

5 Milwaukee Firemen Injured in Collision

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Five firemen, including a battalion chief, were injured Wednesday night as a fire truck and the chief's car collided while responding to what turned out to be a false alarm.

The collision occurred at an intersection on the Northwest Side. The alarm had been sounded from a street corner call box not far from the scene of the crash.

Eighth Battalion Chief George J. Stippick suffered cuts and a fractured leg. Injuries received by the others apparently were not too serious.

President Up on College Fashions

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson proved he's well up on college fashions.

He bought his daughter, Lynda Bird, 19, University of Texas sophomore, a red Marimekko dress from Finland for Christmas. The style is popular on American campuses.

A casual dress, it is like a loose shift type with a high yoke.

The President told reporters he had been foresighted enough to buy it while on his recent visit to the Scandinavian countries.

Rockefeller Won't Attack Goldwater

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is abandoning attacks on Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in his GOP presidential nomination drive.

The New York governor, only announced candidate for the nomination, resumes campaigning with a Jan. 3 Portsmouth, N.H., speech after a month's political moratorium following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The sweeping political changes brought about by the probability that President Johnson will head the 1964 Democratic ticket are expected to be reflected in altered campaign tactics by Rockefeller.

In the period preceding Kennedy's death, Rockefeller gave about equal time to attacking Goldwater for his conservative views and to lambasting Kennedy for what the governor said was the President's failure to live up to his 1960 promises on civil rights, action to end unemployment and to get the country moving faster economically.

Rockefeller was said by associates to be planning in the Portsmouth speech to lay down in broad terms the reasons he is running for the nomination and what he would hope to do if he were elected president.

The decision to abandon attacks on Goldwater apparently stems from the belief in the Rockefeller camp that the Arizona senator has become a less attractive candidate against Johnson than he would have been against Kennedy.

The Rockefeller people are making no claims that the governor has passed Goldwater in popular support among Republicans. But they think the field is now wide open and there would not be much profit in continuing to single out one man as a target among many who may be contenders for the nomination.

This could change, of course, if the March 30 New Hampshire primary narrows to a Rockefeller-Goldwater contest.

Rockefeller's associates don't believe there's as much political mileage in attacking Johnson at at this point. That can come later, after the new President has begun to make his own record. But there would be little to peg such attacks on in the New Hampshire campaigning.

Anti-Israeli Meeting Set

CAIRO (AP) — An Arab League spokesman says nine of the league's 13 members have accepted President Gamal Abdel Nasser's call for an anti-Israeli summit meeting in Cairo. Nasser called for the meeting to consider the possibility of military action if Israel carries out its long-pending plan to divert waters of the Jordan River to irrigate the Negev Desert. Nasser suggested the meeting be held Jan. 6, but a spokesman said the date had not been decided.

Farm Interest Still High in Brannan Plan

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation says congressional interest in the so-called Brannan plan payments to farmers as a device for boosting farm income and controlling production is perhaps higher now than ever.

The plan was advanced nearly 15 years ago by Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture under President Truman. It was not accepted at the time.

In its magazine, The Nation's Agriculture, the Farm Bureau says of the present situation: "Rejection of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman's compulsory supply - management scheme by farmers in last May's wheat referendum has caused advocates of government intervention in agriculture to look around for a more politically expedient means of accomplishing their goal."

"The congressional controllers took a good look at the 'voluntary, emergency' feed grain program now in operation and decided, with a few changes, it would serve their needs."

The feed grain program employs payments to encourage reduction in feed grain acreages. Payments are being proposed for wheat, dairy products and cotton as well.

The Farm Bureau has opposed farm payments since they first were proposed by Brannan.

The magazine says most farmers regard direct payments as a "trap."

"They don't want to be dependent on congressional appropriations for a substantial part of their income," it states. A number of other farm organizations favor use of payments. They include the National Farmers' Union, the National Grange, the National Farmers Organization and a number of specialty farm organizations representing wheat and cotton. Secretary Freeman also favors their use.

Russ Family Visiting Ohio Going Home

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Nina Pozdnev is spending her last full day in the United States today, a little fearful of Friday's trip that will take her home to Moscow.

But her fears have nothing to do with politics or economics or any of the "ics" or "isms" that separate two nations.

Mrs. Pozdnev gets airsick, and, as she says, Moscow is a long way from Portsmouth.

Mrs. Pozdnev, a shyly pleasant teacher, her husband, Victor, and their two children have been spending the Christmas holidays as guests of Mr. and Mrs. James McKenzie and the city of Portsmouth. Their trip was sponsored by the Portsmouth Junior Chamber of Commerce as a project they call "Operation Peace on Earth."

Awaiting the Pozdnevs at their return home are days of wrapping packages, setting up and decorating a fir tree, visiting friends and celebrating a time of good cheer.

It will be the celebration of the new year, much in the same way Americans carry out the nonreligious aspects of Christmas.

But this year, the Pozdnev children, especially Olga, 6, also were paid a visit from Santa Claus. Beneath the large Christmas tree in the McKenzie's living room Christmas morning, Olga found three dolls, doll clothes and two pairs of shoes.

For Anatoly, 16, there was an American football and a miniature auto racing set. Pozdnev, an automotive engineer in Moscow, received shirts and ties. Presents for Mrs. Pozdnev included shoes, a coat and sweater.

For the McKenzie family there were records, caviar, books and toys.

Expressing her joy for the trip and how grateful she was for the friendliness of the people of Portsmouth, Mrs. Pozdnev also indicated a bit of homesickness.

"We Russians have a saying," she said. "To be guests, good; to go home, better."

Baboon Kidneys Working in Man

DENVER (AP) — One week after he received the kidneys of a baboon in a transplant operation, a 40-year-old man was listed in satisfactory condition today.

The man, whom hospital officials declined to identify, underwent the first such operation in medical history.

A team of surgeons from the U.S. Veterans Hospital here and Colorado Medical Center performed the transplant.

Stamp Collection Sold for Million

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The stamp collection of the late Philip H. Ward Jr., has been sold to a New Orleans dealer for $1 million.

Roger Weill, partner in the Raymond H. Weill Co., philatelists, said the collection, which had been appraised as high as $1.6 million, would be broken up and sold.

Ward, former president of Ward Electric Co., died last August at the age of 76. He left the electrical business to pursue stamp collecting full time in 1930.

All Kinds of Weapons Tried on Starlings

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia's Secretary of State Ben W. Fortson, who has been conducting an all-out war on thousands of starlings which infest the State Capitol grounds, admits to a reluctant admiration for the pesky creatures.

In fact, he said the birds, imported from England during the last century to chase the sparrows from Central Park in New York City, remind him of Britain's dauntless spirit.

Fortson has been trying all kinds of weapons but the birds still hold the fort.

EX-PLAINVIEW MAN

PLAINVIEW, Minn. — A former Plainview man participated in a panel discussion at a meeting of the International Association of Amusement Parks at Chicago and now is in Tampa, Fla., preparing equipment for the 1964 state fair season. Dwayne Steck discussed "What We Can Expect in Future Ride Design" at the 45th annual meeting. He represented the carnival operators on future riding devices for both park and transient operation. Before leaving for the south they visited his mother, Mrs. Hazel Steck, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kruger, Plainview.

HEROES

women still wore their jewels and evening gowns.

Whether the confusion merited the name of panic—as some passengers claimed—was a matter of dispute. There were contrasting reports of heroism and hectic scrambling.

The swimming pool attendant tied a rope to his feet, had himself lowered head downward and pulled several children from smoke-filled cabins.

Buchanan and his wife got into a boat; another was almost lowered on top of it. Pressed against the windward side of the ship by swells, those aboard pushed the boat aft and rowed for the open sea.

Communication between passengers and the Greek and German crew broke down because of language difficulties. To M.

R. Lovat of London the babbling was disgraceful — "the crew screamed their heads off for five solid hours."

Smoke prevented the lowering of four boats. Others swamped in the swells. When the last boat was away, about 80 passengers and 40 crew members were still aboard. They huddled on the after deck all night, but as flames spread aft, they were ordered over the side. Gerd Punkrope, a purser, was in this group. He said most of those who perished probably were in it, too.

Last to leave was the captain. One passenger said she saw him wandering around with tears streaming down his face. The master of a Belgian freighter saw the captain pacing alone on the tilting deck and sent a boat to pick him up.

The flames that killed the Lakonia saved her passengers.

Said Capt. Jose Barrere of the Argentine freighter Salta: "We got the wrong position and could have missed the Lakonia. But the fire guided us in like a lighthouse."

The Salta was the heroine of the sea drama. First on the scene, she picked up 475 survivors.

As dawn broke Monday, the Atlantic waters were crowded with rescue ships. The Lakonia was a drifting, burning ghost ship, a magnet for salvage tugs. The British aircraft carrier Centaur put an engineer aboard by helicopter. He found the quarterdeck and two decks below burned away, and the superstructure caved in amidship. But the hull seemed sound and the ship ready for a refit.

Thursday, December 26, 1963 WINONA DAILY NEWS 13

The Lakonia's owners announced today that 896 persons were known to have been saved from the disaster, 89 were known dead and 42 still were not accounted for. This added to 1,027, in contrast to previous reports that said 1,036 were aboard the ship.

A spokesman for the line said some crew members had not turned up for the sailing from Southampton Dec. 19.

Kennedy Assassination Year's Top AP Story

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"President Kennedy died at 1 p.m." The flash on the Associated Press wire told the incredible news.

The 35th President of the United States, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, had been assassinated while riding through Dallas, Tex., in a motorcade. He was 46 and had been President two years, 10 months and two days.

Editors of AP member newspapers and radio and TV stations agreed that the swift tragedy of Friday, Nov. 22, and its aftermath obviously was the No. 1 story of 1963.

Gov. John B. Connally Jr., of Texas, riding in the President's car, was shot and injured by the assassin. Kennedy, hit twice in the head, was pronounced dead at Parkland Hospital. At 2:30 p.m. Lyndon Baines Johnson was sworn in as President, on the presidential jet at Love Field, Dallas. The late President's body and his widow were aboard for the trip back to Washington.

Stunned Americans, stricken as at a death in their own families, wept, filled the churches, read newspapers, marvelled at the composure of Jacqueline Kennedy and watched TV as the flag-draped, closed coffin solemnly was moved from the East Room of the White House to lie in state in the Capitol, from there to St. Matthew's Cathedral for Requiem Mass, finally for burial to Arlington National Cemetery.

Television watchers on Sunday also saw Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, accused killer of the President and of a policeman who had confronted him, fatally shot by a Dallas nightclub owner, Jack Ruby.

Americans, joined by citizens of many other countries, observed Monday, Nov. 25, as a day of mourning for JFK.

The editors voted the Civil Rights crisis the second biggest story of the year.

There was violence. Medgar Evers, Mississippi field secretary for the NAACP was shot in the back and killed outside his home. Four Negro girls died and 23 were injured when Birmingham's 16th Street Baptist Church was dynamited on a Sunday morning. Before the day was over, more violence erupted and two more persons were dead and three injured. Six white persons were shot and several white-operated stores burned in nights of disorder in Cambridge, Md.

And nonviolence. Negroes staged sit-ins, wade-ins and picket lines, North and South, to dramatize their demand for equal treatment. More than 200,000 Negro and white, joined the orderly Aug. 28 March on Washington.

And the schools. James Meredith was graduated from the University of Mississippi; Cleve McDowell became the first Negro in the Ole Miss law school, without the federal marshals who had accompanied Meredith's arrival a year before.

Gov. George Wallace of Alabama twice resisted school integration, then gave in when President Kennedy nationalized the state National Guard, and the University of Alabama and elementary schools in four Alabama cities enrolled their first Negro students. Parochial schools completed integration throughout Georgia: 800 Negro children in Prince Edward County, Va., without any schooling since 1953, began classes in four privately financed schools; 120 southern school districts announced desegregation this fall, compared with 46 in 1962.

No. 3 story of 1963 is a scandal which rocked Britain and nearly toppled the government. War Minister John Profumo, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan by his side, denied before the House of Commons on March 22 all rumors that he had had an improper relationship with 22-year-old Christine Keeler. However, on June 5, Profumo resigned and admitted that he had lied. Investigation revealed that Christine also had been sharing her favors with a Soviet spy, Evgeny Ivanov. In a storm of public disapproval, Macmillan's opposition and some members of his own Conservative Party accused him of negligence and insisted that he resign at once. Macmillan resisted these pressures.

But the biggest scandal in the party's 11 years in power was not over Society osteopath Dr. Stephen Ward was tried in June on charges of living on the immoral earnings of Christine Keeler and Mandy Rice-Davies. Dr. Ward swallowed an overdose of drugs on the last day of the trial and died without learning he had been convicted. Christine Keeler received a nine-month sentence in December for perjury in another court case involving another of her lovers.

Viet Nam claimed the editors' votes for story No. 4. The United States, with a big troop and money commitment in South Viet Nam, remained vitally interested in the progress of the war against the Communist Viet Cong. Vietnamese Buddhists demanded religious and social freedom from the country's Catholic president, Ngo Dinh Diem. Diem declared martial law and attempted to break Buddhist opposition, a move attributed to his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu. Some Buddhist monks responded by publicly burning themselves to death.

Sharp-tongued Mme. Nhu, considered by many the power behind the power behind the throne, was on a three-week speaking tour of the United States when the military coup took place which overthrew the Diem regime and resulted in the deaths of the president and his brother. Nguyen Ngoc Tho, vice president under Diem, became premier.

The editors' other choices for top 10:

5. The atomic submarine Thresher, rated the world's fastest and deepest diving sub, disappeared April 10 after a steep test dive, with 129 men on board. Search for the Thresher was abandoned Sept. 5, after the recovery of a single bit of copper tubing from the Thresher's hull in the Atlantic 220 miles east of Boston.

6. Pope Paul VI, the first cardinal created by Pope John XXIII and head of Italy's largest diocese, was elected Pope June 21. He announced he would follow the policies of his liberal predecessor and work for peace and keep open the pathways of friendly dealings with all Christian denominations. On Sept. 29 Pope Paul opened the second session of the Ecumenical Council, convened and recessed in 1962 by Pope John.

7. After years of negotiation, a test ban treaty was initiated July 25 by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union, pledging an end to nuclear testing in the atmosphere, outer space and under water. All three countries hailed it as a breakthrough in easing Cold War tension. The U. S. Senate approved the treaty Sept. 24, by an 80 to 19 vote.

8. The Supreme Court, ruling on cases from Maryland and Pennsylvania, on June 17 declared unconstitutional Bible reading and recital of the Lord's Prayer in public schools as part of required classroom exercises. Justice Potter Stewart was the lone dissenter.

9. David Fellin, 58, and Henry Thorne, 28, trapped in a Hazleton, Pa., mine for 14 days, were rescued Aug. 27. First contacted after they had been trapped six days and given up by many for dead, rescuers began drilling and finally pulled the two men to the surface in safety harnesses, through an 18-inch shaft more than 300 feet deep. Rescuers were not able to locate a third miner, Louis Bova, who was separated from Fellin and Thorne by fallen debris.

10. In a sharp exchange of letters last spring, the Soviet Union and Red China exposed deep policy disagreement and competition for leadership of world Communism. Mao Tse-tung called for violence and subversive penetration of non-Communist countries while Khrushchev favored peaceful coexistence and drew the line at nuclear war. U. S. analysts consider that a de facto split exists between Russia and Red China.

Airman Given Leave Arrested At La Crosse

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — Air Force Sgt. Wayne Conley, 29, given Christmas leave even though facing a murder charge at Fairbanks, Alaska, in the death of his wife, was arrested for nonsupport of his five children when he returned home Tuesday.

Arraigned in La Crosse County Court, Conley pleaded innocent. He told the court he needed all his money to pay the costs of his defense on the first degree murder charge. His German-born wife, Erika, 23, was killed by a shotgun blast last February in the family apartment.

Conley's five children have been living with his mother on the outskirts of La Crosse. He was released without bond and ordered to trial on the non-support charge Jan. 2.

Conley is free under $20,000 bond in the murder charge. A special court order cleared the way for his Christmas visit to Wisconsin.

Conley's attorney said he sought permission for the visit "because I knew he would be having a rough go of it here and I wanted him to be with his family."

NASON ON EDUCATION

Check Student Between Grades

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education,
U. of Southern California

IS YOUR child headed up or down?

In the intermediate grades pupils who start off in the middle or upper part of their classes gain steadily. Those who start out below average sink lower and lower, unless something is done about it.

In the third grade, the achievement gap is apt to be three years; by the sixth grade it will be six years. Thus, the start of the intermediate grades is crucial in a child's school life.

At this time, parents and teachers should make an occasional inventory of each child's assets and handicaps.

Children at this point are entering a period of change, a period that calls for the development of new skills. How well they develop these skills determines their success from here on.

HERE ARE points to check:
• Is the child adjusting to the reading of materials in smaller print? Is he able to read for information? Does he study as he reads?

• Is he making the transition from lettering to longhand or cursive writing successfully? Is he able to write legibly and, at the same time, without strained and cramped hands?

• Is he gaining enough self-discipline to keep his attention on a school task long enough to complete it?

• Does he understand the work he is doing in arithmetic? Can he explain how and why he solved the problem as he did? Can he write out the steps he took to solve it? Has he the memorized time tables, etc?

These are skills upon which his work will depend throughout the intermediate grades.

Time allotted in school for development and practice of these skills is necessarily about the same for all students. Consequently, those who develop the skills early have a tremendous advantage — they learn faster and faster.

THOSE WHO lack these skills lose ground year after year. The key question for parents, therefore, is "Where does my child stand in the matter of skills?"

Whenever the transition from printing to cursive writing is called for in school, parents can make sure it actually takes place. (Most children who later develop problems with their schoolwork have failed to make this transition completely.)

If additional practice is called for, parents can see that it is done. Always working in cooperation with the teacher, they can insist upon their child practicing handwriting until he is proficient.

The skill of reading for information develops rapidly when an interested parent takes time to discuss meanings, paragraph by paragraph, as a child reads.

The more difficult a child has with his reading skill the more individual help he needs. Teachers can provide materials and suggestions, someone else must provide the extra time and patience.

Don't be afraid to insist. Your child will thank you for it later!

Two Arrested After Breakin

GRANTSBURG, Wis. (AP) — Two men, identified by Burnett County sheriff's officers as Homer and Roger Schack of Kokato, Minn., were arrested early today after an 80 mile an hour chase and brought in for questioning about a hardware store breakin at Falun, a village east of Grantsburg.

Gene Granlund, proprietor of the Gamble Store at Falun, awakened by the burglar alarm in the store, hurried there and found two men ransacking it. He said they had taken a pistol from the stock and about $30 from the cash register. They fled after ordering Granlund to lie on the floor.

Deputy Sheriff Al Gill of Sire, east of Falun, alerted by radio, chased the men as they went through that area and followed the car south into adjacent Polk County, then back into Burnett County. When the car crashed into a ditch southeast of Grantsburg, he arrested the brothers, who were not injured.

The Highway Patrol said the cars crashed early Wednesday on frost-covered, foggy U.S. 30 about 25 miles west of here.

Mrs. Kennedy Keeps Christmas for Children

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy kept Christmas for her children then went by automobile to the home of her father-in-law for private Mass, said by the Rev. John Cavanaugh, a close friend.

Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, did not come out with their mother when a small crowd and news photographers gathered at the Joseph P. Kennedy home.

The children exchanged gifts in the morning and again in the evening after a family gathering at their grandfather's home.

DENVER (AP) — While Mr. and Mrs. John Albi were out Wednesday a man walked into their first-floor apartment carrying a suitcase. A few minutes later, a neighbor saw him leave. Spring Pig Production May Be Down

MADISON, Wis. — Farmers in Wisconsin and the nation as a whole expect to raise fewer pigs this coming spring than were raised in the spring of 1963, according to Federal-State Crop Reporting Service for Wisconsin.

If present intentions of Wisconsin farmers are carried out, the number of sows bred for spring farrowing will be the smallest for any December through May period since 1937. Farmers in both Wisconsin and the nation expect to breed six percent fewer sows for farrowing during December through May than farrowed in the same period a year ago. If these intentions are carried out there will be 253,000 sows farrowing on Wisconsin farms this spring compared with 269,000 a year ago and the 1957-61 average of 292,000. More than 6 1/2 million sows will be bred to farrow in the nation this spring.

Wisconsin's 1963 pig crop is estimated at 3,685,000 head, which is about the same number as reported for 1962, but otherwise the smallest since 1957. Of the total pigs raised on Wisconsin farms, 1,981,000 head came from spring farrowings and 1,704,000 from fall farrowings. The increase of one percent over 1962 in the number of spring pigs was offset by a reduction of two percent in the number of fall pigs.

The nation's 1963 pig crop is estimated at nearly 93 million head or one percent below 1962. The December through May 1963 pig crop was one percent larger than a year earlier, but this gain was more than offset by a decline of four percent in fall pigs. Total pig production on the nation's farms was above the 1957-61 average.

Over 100 Different Types of Insects Found on Apple Trees

MADISON, Wis. — Orchardists may have been underestimating the size of their insect populations, according to University of Wisconsin research.

Most insect control references have referred to less than 25 different species of insects which attack apple trees in Wisconsin. Earl Oatman's recent research shows that it's more like 100 different types.

He has been keeping track of insects and mites in an abandoned orchard, parts of which got no insecticide sprays. His counts show between 600 and 700 different species of insects are present on the fruit or foliage of apples. In addition, there were over 30 species of mites.

The insects belonged to 160 families in 13 different "orders," Oatman found.

Deadline Near For Plainview Farmer Award

PLAINVIEW, Minn. — Next Tuesday is the deadline for persons in the Plainview area to nominate the "Outstanding Young Farmer" of the year.

The winner will be recognized at the Jaycees community awards banquet Jan. 22. He will be eligible for competition at the state program at Faribault Feb. 29. The winner in state competition will be eligible for national recognition at Madison, Wis., April 12-14.

All farmers 21-35, not becoming 36 before April 14, are eligible. They must be landowners or renters and receive two-thirds of their income from farming. The program is aimed at honoring the community's agriculturists who have made exceptional career progress without neglecting good conservation practices or responsible roles in community life.

Nominations should be sent to Melvin F. Walters, Plainview.

Wool Program Year Ending

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Producers were reminded again that the 1963 marketing year under the national wool program ends Dec. 31.

William Leary, Houston County chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee, says this means payments for the current 1963 year will depend on completing all details of marketing either wool or lambs by that date. Marketings completed after Dec. 31, 1963, will be eligible for payments for the 1964 marketing year.

The chairman explains the 1963 marketing year under the wool program has been shortened to nine months to shift the wool marketing year to a calendar year basis, beginning in 1964. Because this is a change from previous programs, some producers may let the deadline slip by, thinking they have several more months before the current program's end.

He urges producers to make sure that all details of the 1963 sales are completed not later than Dec. 31. This includes passing title to the buyer, delivering the wool to the buyer either physically or through documents transferring control to the buyer, and having available all the information needed to determine the buyer's total purchase price.

Applications for 1963 marketing under the National Wool Act may be filed with ASCS county offices up until Jan. 31, 1964. The chairman points out since the program year will end earlier than usual the 1963 payments will likely begin in April of next year instead of late summer, as under previous programs.

Dry Weather Reduces Some Badger Crops

MADISON, Wis. — Total production of Wisconsin crops was large again this year although output of some crops was reduced by dry weather, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service for Wisconsin.

The crop season was off with a good start this spring when farmers were able to begin field work ahead of schedule. Dry weather during much of the crop season reduced yields and pasture feed supplies. However, unusually warm and dry days this fall were good for harvesting late crops but slowed fall plowing.

Wisconsin's crop of corn for grain this year is estimated at 105 million bushels. Yields per acre averaged 70 bushels or the same as last year. However, with 2 percent less harvested acreage the 1963 corn crop was two percent below last year. A somewhat larger acreage of corn harvested for silage this year than in 1962 raised silage production to one percent above last year.

Both the yield and harvested acreage of oats this year were below 1962. Oat production Wisconsin farms is estimated at 120 million bushels or 6 percent below the 1962 crop.

Tame hay production this year is estimated at almost 9 1/2 million tons. This is about 1 1/2 million tons below the record 1962 crop. The 1963 tame hay crop was harvested from 2 percent more acres than in the previous year but yields per acre averaged lower.

Wisconsin potato and tobacco crops are smaller than a year ago. The potato crop is now estimated at 9 1/2 million hundredweight. Potato yields for both the late summer and fall crops were lower than last year, and tobacco yields were down for both Wisconsin type 54 and Wisconsin type 55. Tobacco production in 1963 includes 8 million pounds of type 54 and almost 9 million pounds of type 55.

Durand Businessman New State Implement Dealers Director

DURAND, Wis. — A Durand businessman, resident of Eau Claire, was elected a director of the Wisconsin Implement Dealers Association at Milwaukee recently.

Dennis Schlosser, who operates the Durand Implement Co., was elected to a one-year term at the annual convention and trade show. He purchased the business here a few years ago from Mrs. Adeline Will. He came to Durand from Mondovi, where he was in the same line of work.

At Rochester

Area Dairy Farmers To Meet Jan. 9

ROCHESTER, Minn. — Dairy men from eight Southeastern Minnesota counties will hold their annual American Dairy Association Region X business meeting here Jan. 9.

The session is open to all dairy farmers, dairy plant managers and personnel, and others interested in the dairy industry of Wabasha, Dodge, Olmsted, Winona, Mower, Fillmore, Houston and Goodhue counties. It will begin at 8 p.m. in the 4-H Building on the Olmsted county fairgrounds. Refreshments will be served.

SPECIAL REPORTS will be made by Manager L. H. (Lew) Conlon of the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee and Wayne Churchill, Chicago, ADA merchandising specialist. Included in the reports on the dairy farmer-financed activities of ADA during the past year will be a "first look" at results of a month-long pilot promotion on Dairy Sour Cream held in the Twin Cities market.

"We've met some startling success in this just-completed promotion which are meaningful to every man and woman who earn a living in the dairy industry — milking cows, operating a creamery or selling a product," Conlon said.

HE ALSO noted that the Twin Cities market test on the "promotability" of Dairy Sour Cream, a cultured product containing 20 percent butterfat, has gained national attention and doubtless will be adapted to other markets.

Plans for the 1964 Southeast Minnesota Dairy Day also will be discussed at the Region X business meeting.

Common Mart Gives Erhard Strong Hand

By JOHN WEYLAND
Associated Press Writer

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard heads for his meeting with President Johnson bolstered by a stronger voice in world affairs, thanks to a solution of the Common Market crisis. This was his first big test as West Germany's new leader.

Erhard is flying from Bonn Friday for a weekend at the Johnson ranch in Texas and the first full-scale talks since the chancellor and the President took office.

Long famous as the author of West Germany's post-war economic boom, Erhard, 66, succeeded former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Oct. 16 under a cloud of doubt. Adenauer called his former economic minister naive politically.

But Erhard made a strong start in foreign affairs by standing up to the formidable French president, Charles de Gaulle, on the eve of the West German leader's trip to the United States.

De Gaulle's stand imperiled the Common Market experiment for West Germany and the four other member nations — Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

Erhard stubbornly refused to accept a unified agricultural policy De Gaulle wants until the French president made concessions. Erhard pressured De Gaulle into supporting a U.S.-favored liberal approach on the coming international tariff negotiations in Geneva.

Although De Gaulle warned that the Common Market might break up, Erhard remained unruffled. Puffing slowly on a big, black cigar, his trademark, Erhard predicted a solution would be found.

It was Monday, after a prolonged foreign ministers' conference in Brussels. De Gaulle agreed to the joint tariff stand. Erhard made concessions in farm policy.

The result, enthusiastically received in Bonn, boosted Erhard's chances for re-election in 1965, and strengthened his hand in dealing with Johnson.

Holiday Snack Ingredients In Good Supply

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ingredients for holiday snacks and entertaining are plentiful at the nation's supermarkets this weekend.

For housewives looking for something to space out Christmas dinner leftovers, there are good supplies of peanut butter and ground beef for sandwiches and bacon and eggs.

For the rounds of holiday guests, peanuts, filberts and walnuts are widely featured. For fruit bowls, there are plenty of apples, including colorful red and golden delicious varieties. Citrus fruit prices are a little lower than a year ago — when freeze damage pushed prices skyward.

Supplies of both beef and pork are greater than a year ago, and marketing pressure is expected to continue strong for several weeks. This has spurred a rash of bargain "specials."

There should be some post-holiday bargains at stores that overbought hams or turkeys, but even without close-out pressures these two features have been attractively priced.

Vegetable offerings include mushrooms, onions, parsley, cucumbers, celery and lettuce.

Somali Students in Moscow Protesting

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass reported today that Somali students in Moscow had met to protest a demonstration last week by Ghanaian students and Western news reports of the demonstration.

Tass said the Somalis, at a meeting Wednesday, said the Ghanaian demonstration was carried out by "a small group of African students who made themselves obnoxiously notorious."

The Somalis, Tass continued, adopted a resolution saying that reports of the demonstration by Western newsmen were "designed to divert the attention of the peoples from the brutalities committed by the imperialists."

DIVERSION HEARING

DURAND, Wis. — The Public Service Commission of Wisconsin will conduct a hearing at the Eau Claire County courthouse Jan. 23 at 9 a.m. on the application of Elwyn C. Hubbard, Durand Rt. 1, for permission to divert up to 450 gallons of water per minute from April 20 to Sept. 20 annually from the Chipewa River to irrigate land in the Town of Waubeek, Pepin County.

Finley May Move A's From Stadium

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley's man Friday says he is going hunting today for a cow pasture to convert into a baseball field for the Kansas City Athletics.

And said Pat Friday, general manager for A's owner Finley, movers' vans will be moving the tangible assets of the baseball club out of Municipal Stadium and into a bank building.

These startling developments, if they occur, are an outgrowth of an impasse over rent between the controversial but never dull Finley and the city administration. The A's lease expires Dec. 31.

Mayor Irl Davis and the city council have responded less spectacularly than Finley but they say it is only practical, if a new lease is not negotiated, that the club pay rent on this city property at the present rate.

The move out of the stadium, said Finley from his Chicago home, is to keep the city from getting him into a negotiating corner.

"I have been advised," said Finley, "that if we are in the stadium on Jan. 1 we will have committed ourselves to maybe another four-year lease or at least a one-year lease."

The principal bone of contention in the proposed lease is an escape clause that Finley insists on—that the A's could get the stadium for $1 a year after the first four years—if the attendance doesn't go over 900,000. He says the city gave the Kansas City Chiefs American Football League club a comparable deal when they moved here from Dallas this season.

trans, prompting Dr. Campbell to say, "We don't know what the other teams will be like. We just hope that we will be able to put into practice some of the things we have not been doing too well through the first part of the season. If we can accomplish this, I think these holiday tournaments will serve their purpose."

An away-from-home bugaboo will follow the Warriors to Beloit. The Winona team has failed to win on the road, posting a 3-2 mark at Memorial Hall.

In the Buccaneers of Beloit State will find an opponent of equal size and experience. Only three seniors dot the roster, two of them lettermen, along with a pair of numeral winning juniors.

Top scorer of the season, however, is a 6-3 sophomore forward, Bob Rudolph. Rudolph has averaged 18.4 points per game in the first five tilts. The lettermen are 5-10 senior Dave Hendricks, 6-3 senior Tom Moran, 5-11 junior Bill Offill, and 6-5 junior Bob Jacobsen. The biggest man on the team is 6-7 sophomore Bill Prugh.

Will History Help Gophers In Tourney?

NEW YORK (AP)—Utah and Dayton have the unbeaten records but Minnesota has the history going into today's openers in the 12th Madison Square Garden Holiday Basketball Festival.

Utah at 8-0 and Dayton at 7-0 each are gunning for national rankings and each must be considered a major factor. Mighty Minnesota, however, has a Big Ten history of success behind it that makes it the team to beat despite a 5-2 record.

Big Ten teams have been in each of the last four tourneys and have never finished worse than second. Illinois and Ohio State won in 1962 and 1960, Wisconsin and Iowa were second in 1961 and 1959.

Further, Dayton and Utah are in the same half of the bracket, along with Villanova, 6-1, the top Eastern squad in the eight-team bracket. Minnesota, of the four top teams, is alone in its half of the draw.

Others entered are St. John's, N.Y., 2-4, Cornell, 4-2; Providence, 4-2, and St. Joseph's, Pa., 4-3.

Afternoon openers pit St. John's against Utah and Dayton against Villanova. Tonight, it will be Cornell vs. Minnesota and Providence vs. St. Joseph's.

Friday is a day off. The semifinals are scheduled Saturday night and the finals, a triple header, are set for Monday.

Hawks Up Lead In NHL Chase

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Chicago Black Hawks' success formula this season has been to beat their closest pursuers and build up a lead in the National Hockey League.

The pursuers, in this case, have been the Montreal Canadiens, and the Black Hawks have done an efficient job in turning them back when the occasion warranted.

Chicago whipped Montreal 3-1 Wednesday night for the fifth time this season and opened up a six-point lead over the runner-up Canadiens. Montreal has defeated the Hawks only once and two games have ended in ties.

In other games Wednesday night, the Toronto Maple Leafs trimmed the Boston Bruins 5-1 and the Detroit Red Wings edged the New York Rangers 4-3.

COACHES PICKED
HONOLULU (AP)—Oregon's Len Casanova and Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue will coach the North team this year in Honolulu's Hula Bowl football game at Honolulu Stadium on Jan. 4, the game committee announced today.

OUTSTANDING WOMAN
TORONTO (AP)—Marlene Stewart Streit, winner of three major women's golf tournaments in a 1963 comeback, was selected today as Canada's outstanding woman athlete for the year.

Harvard swimmers have won 35 of their 39 meets the last three seasons under Coach William Brooks.

Vince Gets New Contract For Christmas

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Vince Lombardi, who took over the Green Bay Packers five years ago when they were in the National Football League cellar and led them to three straight western conference titles before finishing second by a half-game this year, got a new contract for a Christmas present.

President Dominic Olejniczak of the community corporation that owns the Packers announced today that Lombardi's new contract as head coach and general manager will run until Jan. 31, 1969.

For Lombardi, who left the New York Giants to take command of a club that wallowed to a 1-10-1 record under Ray McLean in the 1958 season, the new signing continued an old tradition. His original two-year contract was torn up in July of 1961, to be replaced with a five-year document running through 1965. That, in turn, gave way to the new pact.

The Packers, as usual, declined to discuss salary figures, but Lombardi probably was in the 65,000 class before the current signing.

Gator Bowl Should Insure Thrills Aplenty

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Picture this possibility in the Gator Bowl football game Saturday: North Carolina leading by two points with two minutes left to play.

None of the 50,000 spectators better leave his seat and head for the parking lot. Nor is it a good time for a television viewer to go to the kitchen for another beer.

Terry Isaacson is perfectly capable of driving the Air Force Falcons the length of the field in two minutes and change the whole perspective.

He did it this season against Washington, Nebraska and Colorado. Suppose the situation were the other way around and Air Force leads by two points with two minutes to play.

Same conclusion. Junior Edge quarterbacked the Tar Heels to a late-minute 16-14 victory over Duke.

Coach Jim Hickey of North Carolina teaches a special stop-the-clock offense for just such a situation.

"We call ours the two-minute offense, for obvious reasons," Hickey said. "We simulate there being but two minutes left to play, a long way to go and only one time out remaining."

Pounds Will Come Off in Workout Today

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Alabama's football players will lose any extra poundage put on by Christmas turkey today as they resume workouts for their Jan. 1 Sugar Bowl date with Mississippi.

Coach Paul Bryant has warned the clash could be the "greatest mismatch in bowl history" if team play doesn't improve.

Bryant said a lot of time will be spent on "learning how to block people," and other heavy contract work. This will knock out any kinks left in the Tigers from their four-day Christmas holiday break.

The Bama squad leaves Mobile Monday morning for New Orleans for an afternoon workout at the Sugar Bowl.

BACK TO WORK
OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's football team returns to practice today after a five-day holiday break. The Rebels meet Alabama in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Day.

Dick Donovan and Jack Kralick both turned in three shut-outs for the Cleveland Indians last season.

Court Order Awaits Return Of Marshall

ST. PAUL (AP)—A Highway Department spokesman said today action on a court order modifying Commissioner James Marshall's discharge of a highway patrolman would await the commissioner's return to his office after a holiday trip.

The order was issued in Virginia, Minn., by District Judge Arthur O. Anselmo in the case of Anthony P. Gais.

It described Marshall's dismissal of Gais on Nov. 27 as "arbitrary and capricious." It directed that instead of being discharged Gais be suspended for 60 days, retroactive to Oct. 1, that he be reinstated in his position and that he receive any pay which has been withheld.

The department spokesman said no official word of Judge Anselmo's order has been received thus far.

Gais was dismissed after a hearing on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer.

In a memorandum, Judge Anselmo said evidence was that a visit to an apartment house while in uniform and driving a marked patrol car was during Gais' lunch hour and on union business, which he was reluctant to disclose to his superiors. This visit figured in the charges against Gais.

Judge Anselmo said there was no evidence of neglect of duty by Gais.

"It is the opinion of the court that the action of the commissioner was arbitrary and capricious, that the state of the record does not justify the punishment imposed," said the court.

Body of Missing Hunter Found

SISSETON, S.D. (AP)—The body of Keith Cooper, 40, Huron, missing since he was on a hunting trip in a Dec. 7 blizzard, was found Christmas afternoon in his car four miles north of Fort Sisseton.

The body was in a sleeping bag and death was due to asphyxiation, officials said.

Several searches had been made for Cooper but failed because the car was buried under snow. Recent warm period brought the car to light.

Jim Maloney of the Cincinnati Reds pitched a one-hitter, a two-hitter and a three-hitter last season in posting 23 victories.
