Texas Cattleman?

LOOKS CAN BE DECEIVING . . . At a first glance a person might think this gentleman is a Texas cattleman, but a closer look will prove he's West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, who donned a western-type hat at a barbeque in Stonewall, Tex., Sunday. President Lyndon B. Johnson held the barbeque honoring Erhard and presented the West German leader with the hat. (AP Photofax)

Johnson Talks With Erhard Prove Valuable

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's first venture into the deep water of personal diplomacy was a success, according to German and American informants who had a part in his two-day meeting with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

If nothing else, the two new leaders in the West's struggle with the East got to know each other and reached "full agreement and understanding."

The phrase is a stock one in the copy book of diplomats. But this time, said Erhard, "it is not a diplomatic statement. It is just the truth."

A communique issued Sunday after their meetings declared that Johnson and Erhard were agreed "that it is highly important to continue to explore all opportunities for the improvement of East-West relations, the easing of tensions, and the enlargement of the prospects of a peace that can be stable because it is just."

This was qualified, though, with a declaration that there "should be no arrangement" that would perpetuate a divided Germany.

Erhard, holding a news conference at Austin's Bergstrom Air Force Base just before his jet transport left for Bonn, emphasized a willingness to explore "new alleys" that might lead to agreements with the Soviet Union.

The reticent chancellor described his meeting-of-minds with Johnson on this subject as "a step forward in view of the readiness to take new initiatives and to open discussions on possibilities that might exist."

Some question about Erhard's enthusiasm toward East-West talks was raised Saturday night after his press secretary, Karl-Gunther von Hase, said the German leader found Soviet responses to conciliatory Western moves "not very encouraging."

It was said later, however, that Erhard had the Berlin and German problems uppermost in his mind in making the assessment.

The central issues at the conference were trade and related economic questions, rather than East-West problems, informants said.

Rockefeller To Enter Oregon Race

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Writer

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's announcement that he will enter the Oregon presidential preference primary next May 15 is a further unfolding of his strategy.

The New York governor is seeking support from rank-and-file Republicans to bolster his campaign, which has had rough going, and bypass GOP leaders, who have offered him little support.

Polls indicate Rockefeller has a long way to go to overcome the adverse effects of his divorce and remarriage.

An Associated Press survey of Republican county chairmen throughout the country on whom they thought would be the strongest nominee, and the party's likely candidate showed Rockefeller fourth behind Sen. Barry Goldwater, Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Rockefeller hopes victories in primaries will convince key Republicans that developments in his private life have not hampered his ability to win elections.

Rockefeller will run in the New Hampshire primary March 10 and the California primary June 2. He added the Oregon primary to the official list Sunday and is expected to compete in several others.

Oregon will have 18 votes at the Republican National Convention in July, a fraction of the 655 votes needed for nomination. But victories in pre-convention primaries have a psychological impact nationally.

Minneapolis Man Shot in Argument

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Robert A. Johnson, 21, was listed in critical condition today after being shot with a .410 shotgun Sunday night in what police called a domestic argument.

Officers said Johnson pointed a pistol at his former wife, Mrs. Elsie Whittington, and was shot by her husband, Leon.

Pay Increase For Congress Unlikely in '64

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility that Congress might vote itself a pay raise next year seems to be growing weaker.

The chance that Congress will require its members to disclose all their financial sources looks even slimmer—slim to point of no chance in sight.

There has been considerable agitation for a pay raise, from $22,500 a year to $32,500. But congressmen are notoriously nervous about raising their pay during an election year, and that's what 1964 is. Also, Congress' job performance this year has been widely criticized.

Already there has been a revival, on a small scale, of the "Bundles for Congress" campaign that infuriated and alarmed a good many of the senators and representatives in the 1940s.

In that satirical campaign, taxpayers sent packages of second-hand clothes to members of Congress who were complaining about how hard up they were and how much they needed a raise.

Last month a bundle of old clothes from the "Senior Citizens of Tioga County, Sabinsville, Pa.," arrived at the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, which had approved the pay raise bill.

The donors said they hoped the gift "will help tide you over."

A comparative handful of Congress members have voluntarily made statements of their income in addition to salary.

The idea of requiring disclosure of income sources is to discourage conflicts of interest, to guard against official actions for private gain. If a senator was known to hold stock in a certain company, for example, he might hesitate to vote for legislation that would help that company.

But most members aren't eager to bare all. They take the stand that, unless the personal income affairs of every citizen are a matter of public record, there is no sound reason Congress members should be singled out.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., is one of those who has provided a statement of his finances.

But, in saying he would back a bill to require similar disclosures by all members of Congress, Hart pointed to a contradictory situation.

"If a man reveals himself to have much investment wealth, one of two conclusions is possible: He has much personal interest to protect and is therefore suspect, or he will act objectively because he can be independent of moneyed pressure groups."

"If, on the other hand, he reveals that he has little or no wealth, again two contradictory conclusions can be drawn: He will act objectively because he has no personal wealth to protect, or he will be particularly susceptible to moneyed pressure groups."

In the end, Hart said, the decision would still seem to rest on the public's opinion of a man's integrity.

Pope Urged to Call Christians

By EUGENE LEVIN

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Patriarch Athenagoras I, spiritual leader of world orthodoxy, has urged Pope Paul VI to call a meeting of all Christian faiths to make common march against atheism and tyranny.

The announcement by the Vatican press office today came as the patriarch's See in Istanbul reported that Patriarch Athenagoras and the Pope will hold their meeting in the Holy Land next week on the Mount of Olives. It will be the first meeting in five centuries between the leaders of the two religions.

The Eastern patriarch's proposal for a pan-Christian conference made no mention of a date.

Goldwater to Say Friday If He'll Run

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., will announce Friday whether he will seek the Republican presidential nomination in 1964.

Goldwater, unannounced but considered the party's frontrunner, made his plan known today in telegrams to numerous supporters throughout the country.

Goldwater was not available for comment.

The telegram read: "From time to time during the past year, I have discussed with countless Republicans like yourself our two-party system and our individual responsibility to this concept."

"Because we share a mutual belief in this regard, I want you to know that on Jan. 3, I am asking some of the leaders of the Republican party in Arizona to meet with me at noon at my home in Phoenix to hear my decision regarding 1964."

The proposal for such a conference of Catholic, Orthodox, Protestant and Anglican leaders was relayed to the Pope Saturday by Metropolitan Athenagoras of Thiatiron, an official emissary of the patriarch. Roman catholicism and orthodoxy have been in schism for centuries.

Vatican sources said they did not know what Pope Paul's reaction was to the conference proposal.

The Pontiff begins a three-day Palestine pilgrimage Saturday.

Vatican sources said the Pope was pleased at the prospect of taking another step toward Christian unity. Although he and his predecessor, Pope John, had meetings with leading Protestants and Anglicans, no top level Roman Catholic-Orthodox encounter previously had been arranged.

The 66-year-old Roman Catholic ruler received Metropolitan Athenagoras Saturday in a historic audience marking the first official visit to the Vatican by an emissary from the patriarch of Constantinople since the East-West schism of 1472.

Astronauts Make Money On Motel

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The nation's seven original astronauts have sold their interest in a luxury motel near Cape Kennedy, nearly doubling their money, their attorney reported today.

C. Leo Deorsey, the lawyer, said he and the astronauts originally invested more than $100,000 in the $1.6-million Cape Colony Inn and Convention Hall in Cocoa Beach. Each astronaut invested about $7,500 and the remainder was his, Deorsey reported.

He said the eight sold their shares to the motel's majority stockholder, Miami Attorney W. T. Rose, on Dec. 18. He did not disclose the full selling price but said each of the astronauts received $13,500 for their stock.

The motel opened June 1, 1962.

Lakonia Sinks Off Gibraltar

LISBORN, Portugal (AP) — The burned-out shell of the Greek cruise liner Lakonia sank in 13,200 feet of Atlantic water Sunday as she was being towed toward Gibraltar.

Capt. Trygve Gaasoe of the Norwegian tug Herkules, who was directing the attempt to salvage the hulk, said the ship's starboard list increased Saturday night.

4 in Family Die in Fire Near Kenosha

PLEASANT PRAIRIE, Wis. — Four members of one family perished early today when fire struck their spacious, three-level home while they slept.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hansen and their sons, Clarence, III, and Kenneth, two months.

Two daughters, four-year-old Brenda and nine-year-old Renee, and a babysitter, Lorraine Gorski, 15, of Kenosha, escaped unharmed from the home in this Kenosha County community.

Authorities said the blaze broke out about 3 a.m. in the living room. Only the living room was burned and apparently the victims died of smoke inhalation.

Pleasant Prairie firemen battled the fire for about an hour at the home located about a half mile west of the Kenosha city limits.

Mrs. Hansen, 28, reportedly fled the home with one daughter and then returned, but never came out again. Hansen, 27, was found on a living room couch.

Richard Tudjan, a Kenosha County deputy sheriff, was treated for smoke inhalation but returned to duty.

300-Room Place Hit at Jacksonville

By IRISH DONNELLY
Associated Press Writer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Ashes and blackened debris in the Hotel Roosevelt's once-grand ballroom held the secret today to the cause of a fire which left 21 dead and 66 injured.

Flames burst out Sunday morning in or around the main floor ballroom, spewing heavy smoke and deadly gases upward through the 12-story, 300-room hotel, packed with nearly 500 Gator Bowl weekend guests.

Nineteen victims were asphyxiated by smoke and fumes.

Sudden disaster struck on a brisk, calm Sunday morning, handing Jacksonville its worst tragedy in history.

One woman died in a plunge from an upper story window. An assistant fire chief died of a heart attack.

Only the cool efficiency of firemen and dramatic rescues by Navy helicopters of guests who fled to the roof averted a worse tragedy.

Most deaths occurred above the eighth floor, agonizingly out of reach of the city's two 100-foot aerial ladder trucks.

Among those rescued were Miss America of 1964, Donna Axum of El Dorado, Ark. The 21-year-old beauty and her chaperone, Lucile Previtt, were hospitalized overnight, suffering with smoke inhalation.

Miss Axum, smiling prettily from a hospital bed, said all she took with her when she fled in pajamas, slippers and a beaver coat were "two pocketbooks and my crown."

Business executives were among the dead. They included James Jackson Swick, 59, owner-president of Copeland Sausage Co. His wife, Lorena Eaker (Rena) Swick, 47, also was killed.

The Swicks, of Alachua, Fla., had stayed in town after attending the Gator Bowl football game.

Another executive among the dead was Wade Hildinger of Buffalo, N.Y., vice president for sales of National Gypsum Co.

Mayor Haydon Burns, commissioner of the police and fire departments, said city fire marshals inspected the hotel within the past 10 days and found it complied with all fire safety rules.

"There is no negligence involved in this fire in any way," the mayor said. "We know that the origin was in the ceiling of the ballroom, but the cause has not yet been determined."

William H. Johnson, who bought the Roosevelt in 1960 from the Meyer Hotel chain and spent $1 million renovating the 37-year-old structure, said "the hotel was as fireproof as you can get a building. It is a sad thing that those people didn't stay in their rooms."

"The smoke just built up and people panicked," Johnson said. He said he was not at the moment concerned about damage and had no accurate estimate. There is insurance, he said, but that he didn't know the extent of coverage.

A woman who plunged to death when an improvised rope of sheets and blankets broke was identified as Mrs. Marian F. Curry, 43, of Santiago, Chile, and formerly of Greensboro, N.C. A medical examiner said she died of multiple fractures.

Chief Fire Marshal E. C. McDermott said asphyxiation caused most of the deaths. He said evidence indicated the blaze began in or near the Emerald Room, a few steps up from the main lobby. The cause was undetermined.

Flames were confined to below the third floor. Most of the dead were on upper floors where deadly smoke accumulated after rising through the building.

Many of the 479 transient and 20 permanent guests were in night clothing or only partly dressed when the fire was first reported at 7:45 a.m.

Hotel doorman Alton Joseph Crowden said he was in the lobby when "suddenly smoke poured out from everywhere." He called the fire department.

DEAR ABBY:

She's Going To the Dogs

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Can you explain the idiocy in people who own toy poodles? My sister was given one and she has become positively insufferable. She calls this dog, "My baby boy!" She kisses it and spends half the day combing and brushing him. She has a sweet granddaughter who is three years old, and naturally when the little girl wants to get on her grandmother's lap and the poodle is there, she resents it. The child gets no comfort at all. My sister takes the dog for a ride and leaves the grandchild standing on the sidewalk in tears. I have stopped going over there because of her disgusting behavior. What could be the matter with a grown woman who acts like this?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: One hasty curbstone analysis is a good as another. Your sister could be using the dog to punish the child because grandma probably wanted a grandson and she got a granddaughter. The dog is a male, and grandma has transferred all her affections to the dog. Or maybe grandma just likes poodles.

DEAR ABBY: I am five going on six and my mother told me I should write to you and ask this question: Is there a Santa Claus?

Love, HEIDI

Abby

DEAR HEIDI: You bet there is. He's the man who buys your shoes, pays the rent and kisses your mother.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married until recently. I have never been the jealous type because I have never had any reason to be. But things have changed. I wonder if a couple we've been seeing a lot of lately could have anything to do with it. The woman is flirty and aggressive and she never takes her eyes off my husband. My husband and hers have a business relationship, so it wouldn't be easy to drop them, and I can't tell her off. Is there a subtle way to handle this? My husband seems to enjoy her attention, but it is getting on my nerves.

JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: Why look for a clever or subtle way to state a fact? Jealousy under these circumstances is understandable. Tell your husband you are jealous! And don't take your eyes off him, either. Sometimes the bald truth works wonders.

DEAR ABBY: Why don't people who call you on the telephone wait long enough for you to get to the phone to answer it? The telephone company suggests that the caller wait until there have been TEN rings before hanging up. Very few people let the telephone ring more than three times. "I was afraid you were lying down," is no excuse for hanging up after you've awakened the person anyway. If a call is worth making, it is worth giving the person called a chance to answer. I hope you'll use my name as I would like those who call me to be a little more patient. No less than ten rings, please!

HELEN DELAPLANE IN CHEROKEE, IOWA

CONFIDENTIAL TO LENA, ANGIE AND GERT: I have never heard of a man being dragged to a Christmas party, but I've heard that a lot of them had to be carried home.

Get it of your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose, self-addressed envelope.

Blair Firemen Check on Smoke

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — The Blair-Preston volunteer fire department was called Saturday at 4 p.m. to check smoke in three different business establishments on Broadway.

Smoke was emerging from the cold air ducts in Freeman's Bar, Arthur Eiland's barbershop and the Hill Bowling Alleys at the rear of the barber shop. The three business places are heated by one furnace.

Fire Chief Agnus Olson surmised a lighted cigarette had been thrown into the cold air duct, forcing smoke into the three places. No damage resulted. Several reported they smelled smoke for about an hour before the department was called.

Community Chest Still $11,686 Short

Reduced allotments in 1964 for Winona Community Chest agencies were forecast today by G. M. Grabow, Chest campaign chairman.

He said pledges and cash contributions now total $126,014, falling short by $11,686 of the campaign goal of $137,700.

A FEW RETURNS still are expected, Grabow said. Based on last year's giving by the same sources, these should amount to about $4,000, which would put the drive within $7,700 of its quota, he said.

Although the campaign officially ended two months ago, Chest officials have continued to appeal for additional gifts from previous donors to bolster the lagging drive. Grabow said he hoped the profit picture for 1963 has been such that business and industry in the city will review previous pledges with the idea of increasing them.

Some contributors have followed their original gifts with additional donations, Grabow said. He released the text of a letter, received from one of these donors. Addressed to Community Chest officials, the letter said:

"IT GIVES me great pleasure to submit this additional check to you for a most worthy cause. I do not consider this a contribution or a donation but an investment — an investment in the finest town in the world, an investment in an organization of a group of people who have unselfishly given of their time and energies.

"Yes, this, in my estimation, is the finest investment any citizen of the city of Winona could possibly make. For myself, and those of us who could not at first find or take time to participate in this year's solicitation, I want to express our sincere thanks and deep appreciation to the well selected staff who have done such a marvelous and unselfish job in helping to make our wonderful town grow and prosper."

3 Hospitalized After Collision Near Lake City No Change Seen In Smoking Habits

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — Three of six persons involved in a two-car crash three miles south of Oak Center Saturday night received serious injuries and were taken by ambulance to hospitals.

William Arendt, 20, Mazeppa, driving the 1960 car which struck the 1961 convertible driven by Gary Johnson, 19, Rochester, as it was turning left into a town road, received a fracture of the leg in two places.

His passenger, Gerald Schroeder, 16, Zumbro Falls, was X-rayed. He may have a concussion. Both are at Lake City Municipal Hospital.

Johnson received a leg fracture and was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester. His passengers, Gordon Bishop, 23, Rochester, and Larry Peterson, 21, and John Weppner, 20, Zumbro Falls, received cuts and bruises, were treated by a doctor and released.

The accident happened at 9:30 p.m. as both vehicles were proceeding north on Highway 63. Maurice Messer, Red Wing, of the state Highway Patrol and Wabasha Deputy Officer Krohse, said the Arendt car traveled 300-500 feet through the deep snow of the roadside ditch after striking the rear of the Johnson car. Both vehicles were demolished, they said.

It was five degrees below zero but the roads were clear, the officers said. Both drivers had to be carried from the vehicles but were not pinned. No charge has been filed.

Bulgarian Reds Seek to Crush U.S. Popularity

JOHNSON CITY, TEX. (AP) — Administration sources trace the anti-American riot in Bulgaria to the Communist regime's desire to check the growing popularity of the United States.

These sources said the growth in U.S. popularity was due largely to the activities of Mrs. Eugene Anderson of Red Wing Minn., the U.S. minister to Bulgaria.

Mrs. Anderson, an experienced grass roots campaigner, learned the language of the Bulgarians and traveled the country extensively. She addressed Bulgarians in their own language over the state owned radio on July 4 and then after President Kennedy's funeral.

In Winoski, Vt., where Mrs. Anderson was visiting her daughter, she said the attack on the U.S. legation was a surprise to her.

She said when she left Sofia Dec. 13 for her vacation there was no "indication of anything like this."

Woman Jumps From Freeway Overpass

ENCINO, Calif. (AP) — Police said screenwriter Alyce Canfield, 45, committed suicide by jumping from a freeway overpass into the path of two cars Saturday night.

She worked as a writer and executive producer in the television series, "Underground USA," and wrote under the name of Alyce Canfield.

Dancing Restricted In South Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The provisional government is starting to restrict dancing, which was wholly banned in President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime.

A $24 tax was imposed last week on all persons attending public dancing halls. Private dancing parties were ordered restricted to Saturdays and days immediately prior to public holidays.

Winonians may talk about giving up smoking, but not many seem to be doing anything about it.

Reports from cigarette wholesalers, retailers and vending machine operators indicate that recent publicity linking smoking with lung cancer and heart trouble hasn't deterred many persons from consuming their daily tobacco ration.

Asked by the Daily News whether cigarette sales have declined as a result of their alleged health menace, dealers were unanimous in saying that no such thing has happened. "We just haven't noticed it at all," one vending machine operator said. "We haven't noticed any (decline in) our sales," another said.

A retailer said the same thing, then added, "We don't have guts enough to give (smoking) up."

A cigarette wholesaler said that cigarettes have been selling as well as ever, but noted one effect the health hazard scare has had.

"People are more skeptical as to types and brands," he said. Some new brands of cigarettes, supposed to be less harmful than others, have picked up sales recently, he added. Perhaps the whole thing is summed up best by the person who said: "Anyone can give up smoking. It takes a man to face lung cancer."

Jury Cases Set In Wabasha Co.

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — The jury calendar of the fall term of District Court for Wabasha County will reopen next Monday at 10 a.m., Judge Arnold W. Hatfield said this morning.

First case on the calendar will be Eugene M. Schneider against Paul D. Lyons. Both are from Plainview.

This will be followed by six cases against Plainview. Produce Co. The plaintiffs, all of Plainview, are: John DeWitt and Mildred DeWitt, separately in two cases and in one case together, and Floyd K. Nienow and Anna Nienow, separately and together in a third case.

Fire Hydrant Knocked Over In Accident

One of two pickup trucks which collided at East Howard and Hamilton streets at 11:48 a.m. today struck and knocked over a fire hydrant.

Police said that the fire hydrant, located on the northeast corner of the intersection, though knocked over, did not leak. There was no damage estimate for it.

The trucks which collided were driven by George W. Elliott, 306 E. Mark St., and Tendar C. Anderson, 5335 6th St., Goodview.

According to police, Elliott was traveling north on Hamilton Street when his truck was struck in the left rear by Anderson's truck, which was traveling east on Howard Street.

Elliott's truck spun after the crash and hit the fire hydrant. Damage to his truck was more than $100. Anderson was driving a truck owned by Universal Studios, 503 Center St. It had about $50 damage.

Plastics Plant At Cosmos Burns

COSMOS, Minn. (AP) — Fire early Sunday destroyed an old school building housing the Poly-Lite Co., makers of picnic coolers and plastic packing material.

Henry Horns, chief of the Lake Lillian fire department, estimated the loss at $95,000.

Helping to fight the blaze, along with Cosmos and Lake Lillian departments, was the Hector fire department.

North Viet Nam, Albania Sign Pact

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam and Albania have signed a protocol on trade and payments for 1964 in Hanoi, the New China news agency reported Saturday.

Its dispatch from Hanoi said the protocol called for North Viet Nam to supply Albania with cinnamon, groundnut oil, coffee, paper and other goods in exchange for Albanian goods including asphalt, cotton fabrics and tobacco.

Greeks, Turks Agree to Neutral Zone

By HAL MCCLURE.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriot leaders agreed today to a proposal by British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys to set up a neutral zone between their fighting forces in Nicosia.

The factions also agreed to allow British troops to patrol all areas of the capital of Cyprus at the discretion of the British commander.

Sandys told newsmen the agreement accepting his proposals was signed by Archbishop Makarios, the island's Greek Cypriot president, and the Turkish Cypriot vice president, Dr. Fazil Kutchuk.

Sandys said leaders of both sides would meet daily under British chairmanship in an effort to resolve differences that pushed the eastern Mediterranean island to the brink of civil war and heightened international tension last week.

Meanwhile, Kutchuk indicated he believes peace can be assured on Cyprus only if it is partitioned between the Greek Cypriot majority and the Turkish Cypriot minority.

Kutchuk said there is "no possibility" that the two communities can live together after the past week of violence.

"Each country must be master of its own house," he said. The Turkish Cypriots demanded partition of Cyprus during the Greek Cypriot underground campaign that culminated in independence from Britain in 1960. The Greek Cypriots rejected the idea of partition.

The present shooting that began Dec. 21 subsided over the weekend.

Burglars Get Cash, Office Equipment

An undetermined amount of money, a calculating machine and typewriter were taken from Winona Industries, Inc., 602 E. Front St., in a burglary Sunday night.

Police said the money was taken from four vending machines which were piled open. Police were called by Daniel Eichman, 309½ E. 5th St., night watchman, at 10:25 p.m. He said he had gone into the plant to check the boilers when he noticed a door to one of the inner offices had been pried open.

Eichman said he had checked the plant at 7 p.m. A rear window was broken, said police, and entry probably was gained through it.

Chief's Duties As Adviser To Be Limited

Duties of Chief of Police George Savord as adviser to the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners will be confined to police department personnel.

Board President Kenneth McQueen said that Savord will be relieved of his administrative duties as police chief effective Wednesday. He will continue with the department until Feb. 1.

Commissioners accepted Savord's resignation at their regular meeting Friday afternoon. They appointed City Recorder John S. Carter as temporary police chief after relieving Savord of his duties.

McQueen said that no decision has been made regarding appointment of an acting chief. The acting chief will replace Carter.

Commissioners plan to meet early in January to discuss Savord's replacement and to appoint an acting chief. Savord's letter of resignation to the board was slightly different from the one issued to the press earlier Friday.

The first paragraph of the letter read to commissioners was: "I hereby resign from my position as chief of police, city of Winona, effective Feb. 1, 1964."

The letter to the press read: "It is my intention to resign from my position as chief of police, city of Winona, effective Feb. 1, 1964."

Savord will continue with the department during January at the regular rate of pay. He will deal with departmental problems that might arise during the month, McQueen said.

Accident Driver Pleads Not Guilty

Victor R. Vaughn, 19, Rollingstone, Minn., pleaded not guilty in municipal court this morning to a charge of careless driving.

The charge stemmed from a traffic accident on East Sanborn Street, about 60 feet west of Kansas Street, at 1:45 p.m. Sunday.

Police said that Vaughn's car struck the rear of a parked car owned by Mrs. Alice Maier, 274 E. Sanborn St. Damage was more than $100 to each car.

Vaughn was driving west on Sanborn Street when his car struck the Maier car, which was parked facing west. Police explained that Vaughn had made a right turn and failed to drive back into the driving lane.

Judge John D. McGill set the trial for Jan. 7 and set bail at $30. Vaughn posted bail.

It Was Too Cold to Watch

A total eclipse of the moon was visible in Winona this morning but few observers gave it any more than a fleeting glance as the thermometer dropped to a chilling 10 below zero.

The moon was obscured partly to full from 4:28 a.m. to 5:47 a.m., then gradually was restored to full brilliance just before setting at 7:17 a.m.

A COLD New Year's Day is predicted for Winona and vicinity with the chance of a few snow flurries.

Occasional cloudiness is the forecast for tonight and Tuesday with a slight warming trend Tuesday and then cold again for the remainder of the week.

A low of -2 to 8 below is forecast for tonight and a high Tuesday of 15-22 before the new cold movement sets in.

The extended forecast for Tuesday through Saturday indicates temperature for the next five days will average 5 degrees below normal. Normal daytime highs are 20-26 and nighttime lows around zero. Little or no precipitation is indicated.

AFTER REACHING a pleasant high of 45 last Wednesday, winter returned to the area with a vengeance and sent the mercury down to -10 this morning. High Saturday was 19 and Sunday afternoon 4 above. Low Sunday morning was -8. At noon today the reading was 1.

A year ago today the Winona high was 11 and the low 3. Two inches of snow was on the ground. The alltime high for Dec. 30 was 55 in 1875 and the low for the day -18 in 1946. The mean for the past 24 hours was -3. Normal for this day is 17 above.

Bernidji checked in with 28 below early today for the regional low temperature. International Falls had -25 and Grand Forks, N.D., -21.

A warming trend moved into the western Dakotas overnight, bringing light snow and temperatures in the teens, with forecasters promising a rapid eastward movement of the warmer air through Tuesday.

MOST PARTS of Minnesota had clear skies early this morning for the total eclipse of the moon although the early hours probably limited the audience.

Rochester reported a morning low of -10 after a Sunday high of 1 above and La Crosse had figures of -10 and 3 above for the same times.

One of the coldest Decembers on record in WISCONSIN continued to smash weather marks early today.

More severe cold was predicted for tonight but the weatherman promised moderating temperatures by Tuesday.

The 11 below readings at Milwaukee and Beloit set records in both cities for any Dec. 30. For Milwaukee the previous mark was 7 below zero in 1837. Beloit's old record was 9 below in 1909.

Lone Rock, however, was the coldest community in the state early today with 23 below. Eau Claire and Wausau had 18 below, Green Bay 16 below.

Racine reached the high Sunday of 12 degrees, with other maximums ranging down to 4 below at Superior.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., set the low for the nation, except Alaska, with 32 below zero early today and Miramar, Calif., topped the country Sunday with 89.

Change in Listing Stock Prices Asked

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A troublesome question to be faced in the New Year is: Should there be a change in the present system of listing prices of stocks on the largest market of them all?

This is the over-the-counter market (OTC) with dealers all over the country and with 40,000 or more issues available for trading, many times the number of those listed on the nation's formal stock exchanges.

Bit and asked prices of the most active and best known of these unlisted issues are available to newspapers through the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD).

But they are "retail" prices for the public, as distinguished from "wholesale" prices which dealers themselves get and use when buying and selling.

The bid price quoted is the one at which the stock could have been sold. Asked is the price quoted as that at which it could have been purchased.

And there's where the difference lies between the retail, or public, quotation and the wholesale, or insider, quotation. The retail asked price is the whole sale one to which the NASD has added dealers' commissions or markups.

So the range between the bid and asked prices given the public by NASD is usually much larger than that on the insider list. For example, the retail spread on an expensive stock may be as much as six points while the wholesale range is only two points.

Also, it's sometimes possible for a buyer to get a better price from a particular broker than the asked price made available to the public.

In the case of the formal stock exchanges, prices quoted in the newspapers are the actual ones at which the stocks changed hands. But in a sense they are wholesale rather than retail since the buyer of the stock also had to pay his broker a commission — not quoted in the press — and the seller had a commission deducted from the price he is quoted as getting.

Such commissions are fixed by rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the exchanges themselves and brokers must charge the precise sum unless acting for themselves as floor traders or acting for other stock exchange members.

The NASD was created by Congress in 1939 as a self-regulatory agency, to act in cooperation with the SEC in some matters, for the huge OTC market. That market involves some 4,700 dealers with about 91,000 salesmen. And its business grew from $4.9 billion in 1939 of $38.9 billion in 1961 when 2.5 billion shares were traded. The public's shyness in investing in much of 1963 probably has cut trading below that figure.

The NASD has the responsibility of trying to prevent listing of false prices. It also sets standards for companies to be put on lists available to the press.

The greater scope of the OTC market, the absence of many of the rules which restrict listing of stocks on exchanges — such as requiring more information about the companies — and the present methods of reporting bid and asked prices to the general public all have federal regulatory bodies recommending stricter policies. And the problem could reach Congress in requests for wider federal supervision of this biggest securities market.

Good Samaritan Burned in Fire

A Winonan was being held for observation at a Rochester hospital today with injuries he suffered early Sunday morning while helping extinguish a truck fire.

Marlin Decker, 472 Mankato Ave., received a minor burn to his right hand. He is being held in the hospital because he may have lung damage from smoke.

Winona County sheriff's deputies investigated the truck fire which occurred in Olmsted County, two miles west of St. Charles, at 2:35 a.m.

According to deputies, Decker was traveling toward Rochester and stopped to assist the truck driver. Deputies did not find the truck driver when they arrived.

The truck, owned by Nelson Grain Co., Racine, Wis., had some motor damage from the fire. The fire was out when deputies arrived. No injuries were suffered by the truck driver whose name was not learned.

Sheriff George Fort also reported a car fire at Twin Bluffs Motel, 15 miles southeast of Winona, at 8:03 p.m. Saturday. In the fire a car owned by Trane Co., La Crosse, was destroyed. Deputies found that the car was driven by Virgil I. Payton, La Crosse.

Apparently, they said, the car's brakes became overheated and a fire started in a rear brake drum.

The Dakota volunteer fire department had the fire out by 8:27 when deputies arrived. There were no injuries.

Discharged Patrolman Back on Job

ST. PAUL (AP) — Highway Patrolman Anthony P. Gais of Virginia, whose discharge by highway commissioner James C. Marshall was modified by a district judge, was back at his job today.

Gais was dismissed on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer.

His discharge was described as "arbitrary and capricious" by Judge Arthur O. Anselmo of Virginia.

The court changed the discharge to a 60-day suspension, retroactive to Oct. 1, and ordered that Gais be reinstated in his position and that he receive any pay that had been withheld.

Clayton Swanson, assistant highway commissioner, said in Marshall's absence that Gais went back to work last Friday, the day the court's order was received.

Judge Anselmo said in a memorandum that evidence Gais' visit to an apartment house while in uniform and driving a marked patrol car occurred during Gais' lunch hour and that he was on union business. The court held that there was no neglect of duty.

Fountain Citians Ask for Trials

Two Fountain City, Wis., youths, arrested in the same car early Sunday morning, pleaded not guilty to charges in municipal court today.

Charged with careless driving was Henry L. Wiecezorek, 21, Fountain City Rd. 2. Robert J. Neumann, 16, was cited for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

They were arrested by police at East 4th and Vine streets at 1:05 a.m.

Judge John D. McGill set the trial for Wiecezorek for Jan. 7 and set the trial for Neumann for Jan. 8. Wiecezorek posted $30 bail and Neumann $15.

Reynolds Forms Johnson for President Unit

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds announced the formation today of a Wisconsin for Johnson Committee and called it the first voluntary state organization in the nation pledged to support President Lyndon B. Johnson in next year's election.

The Democratic governor is chairman of the 16-member group which includes the state's entire Democratic congressional delegation and three Wisconsin men holding appointive posts in Washington.

Louis Hanson of Mellen, Democratic state chairman, is vice-chairman, and Patrick J. Lucey of Madison, the party's past state chairman, is secretary-treasurer.

Postmaster General John Gronouski, Wisconsin's former tax commissioner, heads the list of appointed Washington officials on the committee. Others are Ivan Nestingen, undersecretary of health, education and welfare, and Norman Clapp, administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Ettrick Co-op Starts Rebuilding

ETTRICK, Wis. — The board of directors of the Ettrick Co-operative Creamery plans to have its building in service again soon, Secretary A. L. Olsdahl, said this morning. Target date is Feb. 1.

The building was heavily damaged Dec. 18 by a fire which started in the boiler room. The boiler itself is intact but gauges and pipes were burned and the room around it was destroyed. Walls are being built up around the boiler room now, Olsdahl said, and a new temporary flat roof has been placed on the two-story building.

Most damage was done to the second floor. Most of the machinery was saved by quick action of Ettrick firemen, who stayed on the scene until early Thursday morning and were called back twice when flames flared up again.

Damages now are being examined for insurance payments and an architect, engaged by President, Melvin Solberg, is preparing rebuilding estimates.

Connie Francis Hits Song Trend

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — Connie Francis at the ripe young age of 25 has become not only a movie star but a blintz-talking babe who doesn't mind telling you her last picture smelled real bad and that what's happening now pop music is "animalistic and criminal."

My B.W. and I have known Connie since she was a teenager and are impressed at how eloquent and forthright she's become. We were lunching with her at the MGM executives' dining room. Joe Pasternak, producer of Connie's new one, "Looking for Love," was surprised that she took time for lunch.

"Usually instead of having lunch, she records an album," Joe said.

"Albums!" cried Connie. "Unfortunately, the songs are getting worse and worse. I think the F.C.C. should bar some of these barbaric things. Like, 'Louie, Louie,' and 'The Bird.' Nobody can understand a word of 'Louie, Louie.' One d.j. offered $100 if any listener could give him the words. All trace of sensitivity, sentimentality and sincerity are gone. Some of these songs are just animalistic grunts."

Connie declared she was going to release a song from the picture, "Whoever You Are, I Love You," regardless of the sale. "I don't care if it sells three copies."

We offered the usual argument — that some songs of merit breakthrough the Wallers' Wall. "But not as much as the public thinks!" Connie exclaimed. "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" and "What Kind of Fool Am I?" only went to 250,000 — about 18th in the charts. They should have done greater than that!"

"THE RECORDING business hasn't developed singers as it's supposed to do, because the singers make one of these songs and they're through. Paul Anka, Bobby Darin and I were lucky. We were able to become big money-earners. But today new singers don't have a chance because of that animalistic approach."

Connie's inability to see anything wrong with her recording of "The Summer of His Years," about the late President Kennedy, already a tremendous seller. Was it not good taste to record it now? Connie's manager's mention that a veteran Kate Smith and several others recorded it. Manager George Shreck points out that they received no money for it.

But Connie's willing to admit — even anxious to admit — that she was thoroughly bored with her movie, "Follow the Boys," which followed her first successful movie appearance in Pasternak's "Where the Boys Are."

"She told everybody not to see it — even said it on the radio," groused her manager.

"I WALKED out on it myself," Connie told me. "Walking out on it was better than sitting there and getting to sleep. Afterward I sat reading the reviews and howled at some of them. The one I laughed at most started out saying, 'MGM's first mistake in filming this picture was when it started rolling the cameras.'"

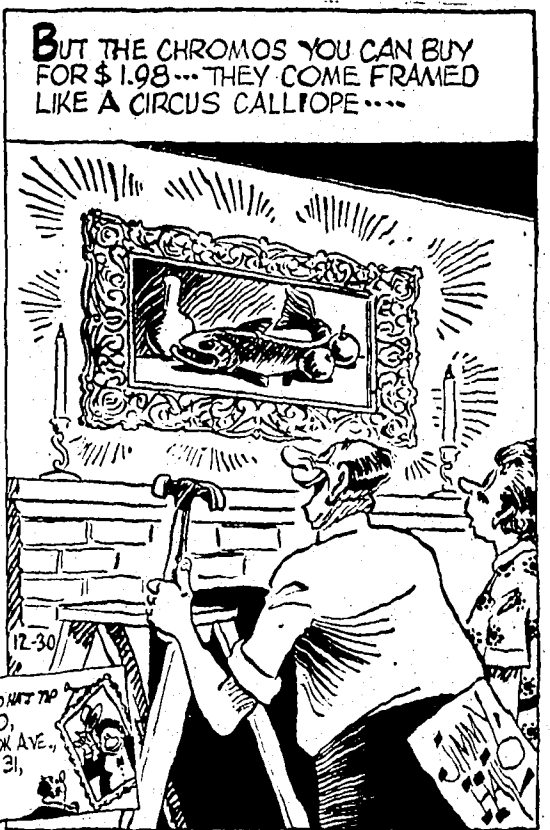

"That was true," smiles Connie. "You see, the studio told me 'We understand the movie business. Leave that part to us.' Maybe the studio was right. The picture made money."

$26 Billion Output Rise In Tax Cut

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—If taxes are cut promptly the national output will rise by $26 billion next year to a record of about $610 billion, the National Planning Association predicted Saturday.

The forecast of a 4½ per cent rise, which compares with a 3½ per cent increase from 1962 to 1963, was made by Gerhard Colm, NPA's chief economist and the former senior economist of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Colm emphasized that the estimate assumes enactment of a tax bill early in 1964, retroactive to Jan. 1. His year — end statement said:

"Should that assumption be wrong, then again we would have to assume a substantially lower increase in the Gross National Product."

The forecast was in terms of dollars having their 1963 purchasing power. If prices continue to rise at their recent gradual rate of about 1½ per cent a year, the GNP in 1964 would be several billions higher in terms of current prices. The GNP is a dollar measurement of the value of all goods and services produced.

The outlook is not wholly satisfying, Colm said, because unemployment will remain high. Despite substantial economic gains during 1963, unemployment held close to 5.6 per cent of the working force.

Holmen Republican Urges Rockefeller Run in Wisconsin

HOLMEN, Wis. (AP)—Anthony Gruzka of Holmen, a former member of the executive committee of the Milwaukee County Republican organization, made public here a letter sent to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, urging him to enter the Wisconsin presidential preference primary next April.

Gruzka, who said he is a supporter of Warren Knowles for governor, was sharply critical of the plan of Republican leaders to run an unopposed favorite son candidate with Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay or Knowles as the likely choice.

"The best chances for the Republican party is to invite an open primary in Wisconsin, so that the people of Wisconsin can make their proper recommendations, and respectfully create a more healthy atmosphere for the vehicle of Republican victory," said Gruzka.

"An all out effort should be made by the people of Wisconsin to preserve the right of the people to make their choice known, instead of having some sort of deal rammed down our throats by the wheelers and dealers in a political organization," Gruzka added.

ing and utilities, production over the 12-month period (ended Nov. 1) increased by 6 per cent while employment rose by less than 1 per cent," he said.

Agriculture showed a slight gain in output but a 2.4 per cent drop in employment, Colm went on, so that the only substantial increases in hiring were in the retail, wholesale and service trades and in local governments.

The planning association, a privately supported organization of persons prominent in business, labor, and education, estimated that the first round of tax reduction scheduled for 1964 would contribute, both directly and by its stimulation of the economy, a $10-billion increase in consumer outlays.

Berlin Wall Opening May Be Extended

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP)—German officials in both parts of this divided city voiced readiness Saturday to discuss extending past the Jan. 5 deadline the agreement permitting West Berliners to visit behind the Communist-built wall.

Both sides expressed the hope they could keep open the checkpoints which allowed Berliners their first Christmas family reunion in two years.

So far 250,000 West Berliners have visited relatives in East Berlin, the official East German news agency, ADN, reported. Altogether 840,000 permits for one-day visits have been issued, the agency said.

The permits are good only for eastward trips as was clear Christmas Day when two East Germans trying to flee to the West were shot by border guards.

Despite the tragedy, a West Berlin spokesman said, "The Senate (West Berlin government) and the federal government of West Germany" hopes that a further easing of the situation for the people in both parts of the city should be achieved."

He was referring to a remark made by East German Deputy Premier Alexander Abusch in an interview with a Communist newspaper that his regime was willing to talk about the extension of the visiting period.

The East-West agreement included only those West Berliners who have close relatives in the Soviet sector.

West Berlin officials indicated that in future talks Western negotiators would try to obtain wall passes for West Berliners who have no relatives in the East.

In the interview, Abusch also said his government was ready to talk about other questions of normalizing the relations with West Berlin, perhaps reopening telephone lines between the two parts of the city cut by the Reas in 1962.

Of course, Abusch said, these talks must be held "in the spirit of a policy of good will."

Western officials interpreted this to mean the Communists may want to extract further political concessions from the West.

So far the East Germans have maneuvered the West Berlin government into direct talks with them, hailed in the East as ### virtual recognition of the Red regime despite Western denials.

In an unprecedented move which could be interpreted by the Communists as further acceptance of their regime, the West Berlin government Friday night protested directly to the East Germans about the killing of a refugee on the wall.

Until then, such protests were made by the Western Allies to the Soviet Union as the ultimate authority in the Communist sector.

You Too Can Be Creative

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern Calif.

Creativeness is golden, yet it is often charged that schools suppress ingenuity and inventiveness, and that conforming students get the best grades.

That schools should encourage creativeness is agreed by all, but I contend there is no necessity to choose between creativity and conformity.

Any student can cultivate skill in creative thinking while carrying out such required tasks as reviewing for examinations, writing essay-type tests, or themes. Authorities on creativity say that it demands the ability to direct mental processes toward an end. The creativity of a scientist is closely related to his work of observing, listening, questioning, reading, collecting data, comparing and analyzing.

STUDENTS CAN proceed in a similar manner. They can defer organization and critical analysis of ideas until quite a number are assembled. They can make the arrangement of ideas, together with their organization and development, a conscious process.

For example, in answering an essay-type examination question, the procedure is simply this:

Step One. A student should question himself, "What points could I make? What things could I say?" Just as the brainstormers do he should let these ideas flow, noting them on a piece of paper as each comes to mind, without judging them as good or bad.

Step Two. As in all effective creative thinking, he must now judge the value of the ideas on his list. Some may be eliminated. Others should be numbered in the order in which they will be discussed.

Step Three. The ideas can now be developed one at a time. The student's mind is no longer burdened with remembering all of the things he plans to say. He can now concentrate on explaining each point with clarity and precision.

SHOULD NEW ideas occur while he is proceeding with step three, he should stop just long enough to add them to the list before continuing. Under my supervision many students have learned to use this planned thinking in developing their themes and term papers, as well as reviewing for, and taking, examinations. In addition to higher grades there are fringe benefits. Even personal letters written according to this system are more interesting. They, too, show the effect of increased skill in organization of thoughts.

Four Dead in Wisconsin Auto Mishaps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four persons were killed in separate automobile accidents in Wisconsin during the week-end and a Waukesha County woman died in a crash early today. The fatalities raised the state's 1963 traffic death toll to 896 compared with 955 one year ago.

Miss Judith Garens, 24, of Brookfield, was killed at 1 a.m. today in a two-car collision on Waukesha County Highway Y, a half mile south of Menomonee Falls. She was one of the drivers.

Miss Mary Diggins, 50, of Racine, was killed Sunday night when struck by a car as she walked along Highway 32 about three miles south of Racine.

Victims listed previously were Peter Netzhammer, 91, and Vernon Leslie Sr., 66, both of West Allis, and John Frederiksen, 16, of Antigo.

Minnesota Man, Plane Missing In California

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol planned to search the coast between Oxnard and Santa Barbara today for a Minnesota man missing in a rented private plane.

Donald Hubert, Duluth, Minn., took off from Oxnard airport Christmas Day in a Cessna 180 he had rented earlier at Las Vegas, Nev.

He hasn't been seen since. The CAP said it was assumed he was making a local flight because he did not file a flight plan. They are hunting along the coast because he had expressed interest earlier in flying over the area.

The CAP searched for him in the Las Vegas area Sunday but found no trace.

HARRIS SURVEY

Extremism Rejected

By LOUIS HARRIS

The death of President Kennedy produced a profound change in the thinking of the American people: A massive rejection of extremism from either the right or the left, accompanied by an individual sense of guilt for not working more for tolerance toward others.

In the loss of the late President, a majority of the people felt as though they had lost a member of their immediate family.

In a survey of a cross-section of the American people just completed, the public was asked:

"As a result of President Kennedy's assassination, do you personally feel (or not feel)

	Total Nation Percent
More against extremist groups	55
Like you'd lost a member of your own family	54
More patriotic	52
More considerate of other people's feelings	39
More religious	34
More against discrimination	30
More guilty about not doing more for tolerance	23
More for Negro rights	21

RUNNING through the replies across the nation, including the South, is a feeling on the part of roughly one in every four people that they should be more tolerant of other people — especially the less privileged in society.

These sentiments were as often as not accompanied by overtones of outright guilt feelings. People now tend to associate the spirit of brotherhood with patriotism than before the late President was killed.

But the most direct impact rests in people's rejection of groups which are spreading hate and which advocate extremism of either the far left or far right. Fully 55 percent feel they have solidified their opposition to these extremist causes. Even here, there are overtones of some public guilt, that the nation all too late came to realize just how great a menace they are. The cross-section was asked:

"Do you feel in the past few years there has been an increase in the number of groups spreading hate against other people and other groups in this country, a decrease in such groups, or are they about the same as before?"

	Total Nation Percent
Increase in such groups	64
Decrease	2
About the same	25
Not sure	9

Nearly two out of every three people feel such hate activity has been on the rise, mainly due to heightened tensions over race relations and the fact that such extremists have been able to gain more attention and publicity in recent years.

When asked to evaluate both the right-wing and left-wing groups, people described both extremes as almost identical menaces. The results:

	Right Wing Percent	Left Wing Percent
Serious danger	25	29
Slight danger	28	25
No real danger	12	10
Not sure	35	36

A majority of just over 50 percent in each case see danger today from the extremes of right and left here at home. The fact that both are viewed as equal menaces to the republic indicates the prevailing mood of moderation and a renewed dedication to tolerance of the views of others. The fact that extremists would wipe out the rights of the individual is deeply resented.

Humphrey, McCarthy as LBJ Running Mate?

PRESIDENT JOHNSON will soon be shopping for a vice presidential nominee to run with him in 1964.

Mr. Johnson doubtless will pause for a close look at the Minnesota counter, where two U.S. senators are ready and willing to run with him.

Hubert H. Humphrey, the senior senator from Minnesota, and Eugene J. McCarthy, the junior senator, both have, in addition to willingness, all the qualifications that Johnson will be looking for in a running mate.

Both men are liberals, emotionally and intellectually. They are authentic representatives of that Middle West populist tradition which is strongest in Minnesota, for some reason.

HUMPHREY AND McCarthy have enjoyed good relationships with Johnson in the past, when the President ran the Senate corral as majority leader between 1955 and 1961.

Johnson, a moderate and a Southerner, whatever his Kennedy-like phrases, will be looking for a warranted liberal as his running mate next year.

Humphrey and McCarthy both answer these specifications. Humphrey is more widely known as the proper liberal, since he is serving his third term in the Senate, and has had great public exposure as a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1960 and the vice presidential spot in 1956.

JOHNSON TENDED to use Humphrey as a bridge to the liberals in the Senate when he was majority leader.

Humphrey was born in Wallace, S. D., 52 years ago. His father ran the town drug store. Humphrey himself was trained as a pharmacist. But his sharpest memories of youth date from the depression which he lived through more than 30 years ago.

Humphrey is a florid faced, highly articulate man, strongly opinionated. Almost always, his political opinions will find roots in his experience as a child of the great depression.

IN RECENT years in the Senate Humphrey has immersed himself in the problems of peace, as chairman of a disarmament subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Some of the great speeches on peace and disarmament have come from Humphrey, and too frequently have been lost in the cave of the winds here in Washington.

As a campaigner, Humphrey is the hard hitting type, who can convince any audience that he bleeds when they get cut.

Eugene McCarthy, the junior senator from Minnesota, has been nourished in the same populist political atmosphere as his colleague, but in personality he is 180 degrees removed from Humphrey.

MCCARTHY, BORN 47 years ago in Watkins, Minn., is reserved, with a quiet sense of humor, and an intellectual background that frequently puts his gentle remarks well over the head of the average audience, who may miss the point McCarthy is making, but who feel instinctively that it's a good point.

McCarthy was a teacher at St. Thomas College in St. Paul when he took his first fling at politics in 1948. He was elected to Congress for five terms, and moved up to the Senate in the election of 1958.

McCarthy emerged as a national figure in the Democratic convention of 1960 at Los Angeles when he made an impassioned plea to the delegates to nominate Adlai E. Stevenson, who had been twice defeated as the Democratic presidential nominee.

THE YOUNG Minnesota senator didn't change any of the minds of the delegates who were then tied up by the late John F. Kennedy. But the television audience saw a brilliant new star rise that night in the person of McCarthy. And the members of the Stevenson cult, which still exists, have an affectionate recollection of the electric moment given to them by McCarthy in that Los Angeles speech.

The question of who's next in line for the presidency worries commentators — and, from a slightly different angle, Republican politicians.

But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ, Ephesians 2:13.

HOW DO YOU STAND, SIR?

Intimate Family Questions Asked

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

As the result of a rather sick bit of parliamentary legerdemain, your children and mine now may be forced to answer questions concerning the most intimate family relationships and other subjects no adult American could now be made to answer, even in court. Even worse, the enormous taxes you already pay to support government bureaucracy will go, in part, to finance this indirect inquisition into your most personal affairs.

All this came about recently during the long and drawn out battle over extension and expansion of the National Defense Education Act (NDEA) of 1958. As finally approved, the measure calls for the expenditure of approximately $1.6 billion through fiscal 1967.

Actually, the cost will be much greater, because the amount called for would cover only vocational education through that period. Other phases of the program are covered only until June 30, 1965.

The legislation concerns federal assistance for individuals, school construction, impacted areas and other related matters. Among these, in practice at least, is student "testing," a word which conceals a shockingly-large variety of evils.

UNDER THIS heading, students have been made to tell their inquisitors whether they have had sexual relations, have ever broken into warehouses, have stolen money, have fought physically with their parents. They also have been asked which of their parents is fairer in meting out punishment and whether they wish their parents had as much money and education as do the parents of their classmates.

Obviously, the replies to many of these questions could be self-incriminating, and any student would be well within his rights in refusing to answer them. But school kids whose parents cannot afford to send them to private schools are not likely to get involved in long and expensive court fights to prove the point.

I long have opposed federal financing of such personal probing and in 1961 unsuccessfully introduced an amendment which would have outlawed expenditure of U.S. funds for these purposes.

IN CONSIDERATION of the NDEA measure this year, an amendment similar to that I had introduced two years ago was approved unanimously by the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare and then passed the Senate.

The amendment provided that no federal funds "shall provide for the conduct of any test, or the asking of any question in connection therewith, which is designed to elicit information dealing with the personality, environment, home life, parental or family relationships, economic status or sociological or psychological problems of the student tested."

Having already passed the House, the bill was sent to conference for the purpose of compromising differences between the two bodies. One of the few areas in which there was no disagreement whatsoever between conferees was the amendment prohibiting expenditure of federal funds on "psychological testing."

IT THEREFORE came as something of a surprise when members of the Senate later learned that the member who headed the group of Senate conferees had, for no apparent reason, voluntarily withdrawn the amendment. As a result, it now is dead, and "psychological testing" may continue — with federal financing — until such time as the restriction again may be written into the law.

In rationalizing his action, the chairman of the Senate conferees said, in effect, that the amendment really did not mean anything because the states themselves could finance such testing out of their own funds if they so chose. The trouble is that they can do it with money they would have to spend on truly educational subjects — except for the largesse our taxes provide.

How do you stand, sir?

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Congressmen Squawk At Johnson Economy

(Editor's Note: The Washington Merry-Go-Round today is written by Drew Pearson's associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The congressional clamor against closing more military bases, like a French fish market in full cry, hasn't died down a decibel.

The loudest squawks, ironically, are coming from champions of economy who are against federal spending everywhere except in their own backyards.

Some of the bases should have been shut down 100 years ago. But the generals who command them have held off the taxpayers more savagely than they once fought off the Indians who attacked those same forts.

Here are some of the aged bases which Johnson wants to close:

Ft. Totten on Long Island, N.Y., was first used at a recruit depot during the Revolutionary War. It stood against the Indians and the French, fell once to the British. But not until President Johnson's determined attack on waste were the taxpayers to defeat it.

MOST FACILITIES at Ft. Totten, including the gun placements, date back to 1868. The buildings are old, inadequate, costly to maintain, expensive to heat.

The Port Washington, N. Y., naval training device center is actually located in a medieval castle, its functions scattered among guest houses, stables, and servants' quarters. Indeed, some functions are located as far away as Mechanicsburg, Pa., Mineola, N. Y., and Garden City, N. Y.

The castle, though of ancient vintage, was built in more modern times by the late railroad tycoon, George Gould. It is as expensive and impractical to maintain, however, as if it had been built for King Arthur's round table.

Result: President Johnson has ordered the Navy to move out of this museum and consolidate its training device activities at nearby Mitchell Air Force Base.

FT. SLOCUM, N. Y. — Another military relic in the same area, was finally closed by the late President Kennedy earlier this year. Located on David's Island in Long Island Sound, it may have been ideal for holding off British sloops. But in its modern role as an Army school, it was not only obsolete but out of the way. The Army was obliged to operate a full-time ferry to haul 450 military men and civilian workers back and forth.

Yet the idea of closing these ancient fortifications has brought screams of anguish from Long Island congressmen more terrible than any Indian war whoops of the past. Such economizers as Steve Derounian, Frank Becker, John Wylder, and Seymour Halpern, all New York Republicans, seem to think our security will be jeopardized by shutting down these defenses against the redcoats and the red men. All of the above, incidentally, opposed Johnson in his recent foreign aid fight. He is not likely to help them now.

Mobile — The President's economy order has also caused dismay in Mobile, whose erstwhile Cong. Frank Boykin is no longer around to fight for federal handouts. He was convicted earlier this year.

Over the objections of Cong. George Grant and other Alabama politicians, who believe economy should begin anywhere but home, the President has ordered the inactivation of Theodore Army Terminal and the Air Force facilities at Bates Field.

The terminal has been maintained to handle ammunition, though the channel isn't deep enough to allow ammunition ships to dock there. It would take frequent and costly dredging to keep the channel open, but safety regulations would prevent the ships from loading or unloading ammunition anyway, because of the civilian construction all around the area.

In other words, the politicians want to keep open an ammunition terminal that is unable to handle any ammunition. As for Bates Field, the Air Force found it was costing 40 percent more to base a reserve squadron there than elsewhere.

CAMP GARY, south of Austin, Tex., not far from the LBJ ranch, is supposed to be used to train Army pilots in case of emergency. But the air traffic over Austin is so heavy that it is no place for student pilots. As a result, Camp Gary not only has no peacetime mission but couldn't even be used for its wartime mission.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

American System Relatively Young

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The American system of government is relatively young — not even two centuries old — but it has rarely shown so conspicuously its lack of maturity as it does today. To realize how little progress has been made in the field of responsible government, all one needs to do is to read about the prospective candidates for the presidency being brought forward to serve, if elected, in the highest office in the land.

Take, for example, the different men being talked about for the Republican presidential nomination. For months, attention centered on two or three possible candidates. Then, as if these men had suddenly become politically ineligible, the search turned to persons relatively unknown — as if it would be easier to elect someone who hasn't become identified with any particular issues or controversial questions in the national field. The fact that such newly discovered persons of prominence have not had any experience in a position of leadership or in a major responsibility in either the executive or the legislative branch of the federal government is regarded as of no importance by their political sponsors. All that seems to count is that the prospective candidate performs well on television or appears to be a man of congenial and pleasing personality. The quest is apparently for someone with no political liabilities. This is not unusual. It has happened before.

Lawrence

Our presidents have not always been the ablest of public servants. Often they have had little background but lots of courage. Once a man is endowed with presidential power, he feels a sense of responsibility to be honest and fair. Mistakes usually come, however, as a result of the special prejudices of anonymous advisers who have no direct responsibility to the people.

AS THE population increases, the problem of government becomes more complex. Can one man be expected to rule effectively in the presidency? Wouldn't it be better to pick from the most capable men inside government the presidential nominees, of their respective parties and to put alongside of them — to be chosen in the same election — a cabinet of ten men also well qualified in national government problems? Wouldn't it be better to organize in this way an elected presidential council? These men then could appoint general managers for the various government departments, so that the cabinet secretaries themselves could sit at the side of the president in the executive office building available for daily conferences, as is the practice in so many successful business enterprises of the country?

Some change is long overdue, and the stories about the process of selecting a Republican presidential candidate emphasize the weakness in the present system. Often the people vote for an incumbent administration because the alternative is no better. This is a reflection on the quality of men brought to the fore under the system that prevails today.

HOW MANY of the men elected to the highest office in the land have turned out really to be great men? Adulation and eulogy afterwards are often emotional, but in the perspective of time the praise is, in fact, for the sincerity of effort and devotion to duty rather than for actual achievement. There is, of course, little time in a four-year term in which to do a good job, when the first few years have to be spent in learning the ropes. The record in a second term is often better than in a first term because a president has acquired experience on the job.

But, it will be asked, what difference does it make since the people elect and re-elect — it's their responsibility. Throughout history, however, some citizens have sought to improve the ways of free and representative government. There is no convincing reason, for instance, why candidates for the presidency should not be selected only from those men who have had substantial experience in leadership posts in either the executive or legislative branch of the government. The constitution can be amended at any time to require this.

IT ISN'T sufficient that a prospective nominee should have merely been a governor or even a member of Congress or the cabinet. He should have risen to the top rank through his work in either the executive or legislative branch of the national government. He will not necessarily make a good president because he has been elected to some office in a state or city or because he is impressive on the stump. Making speeches is one thing but executing policies is quite another. A president must be able to understand the consensus of public opinion in the nation and to further important programs that are practical and can become effective. A president who plays politics may, unfortunately, win an election, but he may fail to serve efficiently the country's economic and sociological requirements within the limits set forth by the people under a written constitution.

What America needs is a system that will insure the selection of a competent president of experience and not just a candidate with personal appeal but without prior training in the national government. These are days when decisions can mean war or national bankruptcy or other catastrophe to the American people.

AS THE population increases, the problem of government becomes more complex. Can one man be expected to rule effectively in the presidency? Wouldn't it be better to pick from the most capable men inside government the presidential nominees, of their respective parties and to put alongside of them — to be chosen in the same election — a cabinet of ten men also well qualified in national government problems? Wouldn't it be better to organize in this way an elected presidential council? These men then could appoint general managers for the various government departments, so that the cabinet secretaries themselves could sit at the side of the president in the executive office building available for daily conferences, as is the practice in so many successful business enterprises of the country?

Some change is long overdue, and the stories about the process of selecting a Republican presidential candidate emphasize the weakness in the present system. Often the people vote for an incumbent administration because the alternative is no better. This is a reflection on the quality of men brought to the fore under the system that prevails today.

Karen Gislason, James Harders Exchange Vows

Miss Karen Gislason, daughter of Victor T. Gislason, 116 E. Broadway, and James H. L. Harders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harders, 574 Wilson St., were married Dec. 21 at First Congregational Church.

The Rev. Harold Rekstad officiated. Miss June Sorlien was organist and Milton Davenport played violin solos.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of peau de soie with a train. It was styled with long sleeves and appliques of the self fabric in the front and on the train. Her veil was caught by a fabric flower worn over the forehead. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, centered with a white orchid.

MISS DONNA Harders, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Miss Joyce Yaecke, Minneapolis, was bridesmaid. They wore street-length frocks of cranberry velveteen, with bell-shaped skirts and three-quarter-length sleeves. Their headpieces were matching velveteen pointstias with small veils. They carried white mums tied with cranberry-red bows, sprayed with iridescents.

Mary Sue Harders was flower girl.

Best man was Steven Wally and groomsmen were William Ferguson, Minneapolis, and Kent Stever, Bloomington, Minn. Ushers were Richard McMahon, Fred Heyer Jr. and Gary Baab.

A RECEPTION was held in the church basement.

The rehearsal dinner had been given the night before at Wally's Supper Club by the groom's parents.

Miss Flesche received a degree in nursing from the College of Saint Teresa in 1961 and had two years of nursing in the contagious ward at Ancker Hospital, St. Paul. She is the first missionary from St. Mary's parish. She says she has been dreaming of being a missionary since she was in fourth grade at McCall school here.

She and Miss Gloria Holko, Warren, Ohio, will travel together to Montreal, Canada, Milan, Italy, and Kano, Nigeria. The hospital is south of the equator in Yelwa via Zingery. Miss Flesche is the daughter of Mrs. B. A. Flesche, Lake City, and the late Dr. Flesche. Miss Beverly Hoot, 1957 Lincoln High School graduate and friend of Miss Flesche, is with the Peace Corps in Africa, 100 miles distant from the Nigerian hospital.

A Peaceful House for Every Season

By JULES LOH

Any homeowner has those two housing problems: How to bring the inside outside in summer and what to do with the children inside in winter.

An imaginative answer is provided by architect Lester Cohen in a versatile, all-weather house, H-9 in the House of the Week series.

WITH AN eye to balmy outdoor living in summer, Cohen has designed the dining room to face out through full-length glass doors onto a patio so in a jiffy mealtime can be moved outside.

He's taken further advantage of the gentle seasons with a living room-size porch that shares the privacy of the backyard.

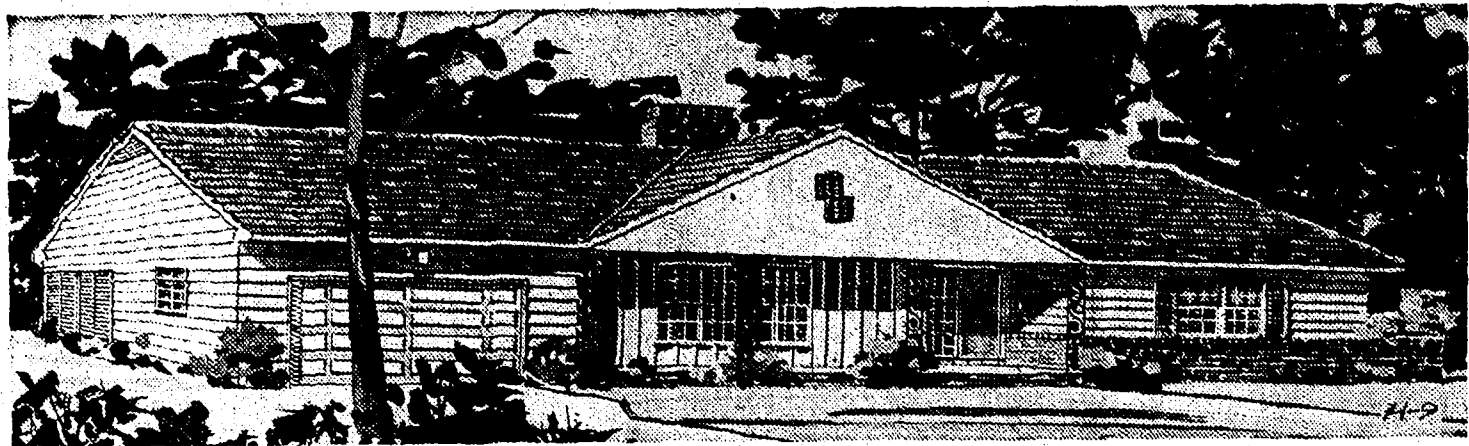

And the porch is the key to more relaxed wintertime living when the children are inside and underfoot. The porch not only can be converted to a family room but its location away from the living and sleeping areas means greater privacy for Mom and Dad when they're entertaining and more peace when they're resting.

ADDING TO the graciousness of the design as well as helping to tone down too much togetherness is the large center hall dividing the bedrooms from the dining-living-play areas.

The living area and basement each measures 1,320 square feet and the family room-porch and laundry room are another 325 square feet. The two-car garage is 421 square feet and the house over-all measures 70' by 32' 4".

By means of the center hall and separate dining room the living room is out of the traffic flow and can be kept company-fresh.

THOUGHTFUL planning continues into the kitchen, handy either to the dining room, patio and porch and is even provided with a hooded barbecue that backs up to the living room fireplace to give smoke-free indoor broiling.

The family room and dining room, however, can be easily converted for outdoor summer enjoyment. Architect is Lester Cohen.

The laundry room not only offers ample space for the washer and dryer but there's room left over for a freezer beneath the built-in cabinets.

Special features abound in the bedroom wing. There's a built-in vanity in the master bedroom plus a stall shower bathroom. Two other bedrooms, another full-size bath and linen closet open conveniently off the core hall.

THE HALL also gives access to the storage attic through a scuttle. There's also that big basement available for fun, work or storage and additional room in the garage for tool storage and a work bench.

Built-in space is generous with 6-foot closets in each bedroom and, for those cold winter nights, there's a TV nook next to the fireplace.

H-9 Statistics

A well-planned ranch house with three bedrooms, two baths, two-car garage, living room, dining room, porch-family room, laundry room, kitchen, patio and center hall.

Main level contains 1,320 square feet as does the basement. The porch-family room and laundry add another 325 square feet. Dimensions are 70' by 32' 4".

HOW MUCH PAINT?

Finish coats of house paint normally can be applied to about 500 square feet of surface per gallon. Primer can be applied to about 450 square feet per gallon.

FLOOR PLANS: The living area covers 1,320 square feet plus an additional 225 square feet for the laundry and porch family room.

The basement lies under the living, dining and sleeping areas. Note the separation of living, sleeping and utility centers.

Another New Year

With the advent of another day we will be face to face with a New Year. It should be a solemn time for self-examination and thought, thorough and penetrating. And, in order to get a proper perspective, this should be done more appropriately after the frivolities and follies of the New Year celebrations have passed and the head has cleared.

To many of us, the end of an old year brings a sense of relief with perhaps mixed feelings of discouragement and defeat. Also, there may be a feeling that our shortcomings and failures can be left behind to some extent as we grasp for the hopes held out by the New Year. There is an old expression that, "Hope springs eternal in the human breast", but realization will not follow with the passing of mere resolutions, soon to be broken and discarded.

Time is the essence of all living things, yet we do not seem to understand its brevity. Time is our life, and its passage is our death. The moment we begin to live, that moment we begin to die, just as the flowers bloom, fade and perish. Death is no respecter of persons.

THE GARDENER is ever a person of faith in the planting, cultivating and the care of plants, and this is as it should be. Accomplishments in the past justify faith in the future. In spite of some failures the gardener can look ahead to another with few regrets, and with no doubt in his mind that flowers will appear under the warm breath of spring, any more than the question will come up as to whether the sun will rise.

The gardener can produce greater results in the new season by devoting more diligence to good cultural practices. It is that simple. If the planted seeds did not germinate as well as desired the past season, better seeds and additional care in planting them will produce greater results in another season.

If the soil did not produce as well as it should have, it can be improved easily for increased returns. Better planting, more intensive cultivation, along with adequate insect and disease control is certain to produce more rewarding results.

Can YOU Identify This House?

Homeward Steps at the entrance of a house immediately exemplify the owner as a person of smart, stylish and practical tastes. These top quality Steps have proven themselves to be a wise investment because they need no ordinary maintenance, even after years and years of wear. They're constructed to a full 2" thick reinforced concrete. This is important to you because there are some "skinny" steps now on the market that are only a little over half as thick (and naturally can't be expected to last as long nor be as strong).

Homeward Steps are easier to install, too, because they are separate sectional construction instead of a cumbersome, awkward entire unit to wrestle into place. It is also important to remember that should a step be damaged (perhaps a truck backs into it or someone drops a heavy object on it) it is practical to replace ONLY the damaged section NOT THE WHOLE EXPENSIVE UNIT!

Through extensive testing and nationwide research it has been found that Homeward 6-inch risers are the best walking and climbing height for elderly people and children with patented non-skid surfaces for increased safety. INSIST ON THE FINEST—insist on Union-Made Homeward Steps. ## Two Children Killed in State Crossing Crash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Great Northern passenger train smashed into a car carrying four suburban Twin Cities children near Melrose Sunday, killing two and — with other weekend fatalities — raising Minnesota's 1963 road toll to 780.

Four other weekend deaths, including a double fatality near Cook, set the toll 89 above one year ago and 56 above the previous high for a single year. Two other Minnesotans died in Kansas.

Officers said Mary Noel Korf, 18, New Brighton, was driving two sisters and a brother in the family car when the train hit at 50 miles an hour.

Mary and Cheryl, 7, were killed. Gary, 13, was listed as serious at Melrose Community Hospital and Kathleen, 10, was transferred to University Hospitals in Minneapolis, where she was listed as critical today.

Officers said they were visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wiechmann.

Residents said the crossing was the scene of fatalities about one and three years ago.

Vincent James Schwartz, 20, and Rosemary Pistilli, 16, both of Hibbing were killed late Saturday night when a car smashed into a rock wall at Minn. 73 and U.S. 53 about eight miles northwest of Cook.

Dr. G. David Dixon, St. Louis County deputy coroner, said the car, going north on 73, failed to stop where the road deadends into 53.

Clayton Doyle Claffey, 28, Kilkenny, died Saturday night when his car ran off Minn. 3 and overturned two miles north of Faribault. A passenger, Kenneth J. Weber, Kilkenny, escaped serious injury.

Verna Peterson, 74, rural Alexandria, was fatally injured when a car driven by her husband, Arthur, 77, collided with one driven by Eddie P. Nelson, 21, Minneapolis, at an Alexandria intersection late Saturday.

Six of the seven occupants of Nelson's car were hospitalized, including Gary Miller, 19, Alexandria, listed as critical.

George Beatty, 79, St. Paul, and his wife, Jessie, died after two cars collided near Pratt, Kan., about 75 miles west of Wichita.

They were riding in a car driven by Helen E. Smith, 46, St. Paul. The Highway Patrol said the auto apparently skidded in attempting to pass another.

Birders Find 37 Species

Twenty six members of the Hiawatha Valley Club of Winona took part in the annual dawn to dusk bird census Sunday despite below zero weather which prevailed most of the day.

They identified 37 species in the 7½ mile radius circle around Winona.

The number of species seen was by no means a record, according to the club's field chairman, Francis Voelker, 416 W. Mill St., who directed the census. Considering the temperature, it was a commendable effort, he said. The local record, established two years ago, is 41 species.

The census taking was followed by a report dinner at the Oaks. Movies on "The Bald Eagle" and "New Brunswick Without Fishing" were shown.

3 Buildings Burn In Manly, Iowa, Fire

MANLY, Iowa (AP) — Three buildings were destroyed and four families routed by a blaze that did an estimated $100,000 damage early Sunday. No one was hurt.

A restaurant, pool hall and tavern were destroyed, along with apartments upstairs. The Oak Hollows Hall was damaged.

The cause was not determined immediately. Mayor M. H. Barker made the damage estimate.

Chief John Barta said the dozen fire departments battling the blaze were hampered by low water pressure in the subzero cold.

Today fewer than 20,000 big-horn sheep range from western Canada to Mexico.

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

HERE it is, two days away from 1964, and how 1963 got to be so short is a complete mystery. One realizes with a pang that as one gets older each succeeding year gets shorter. I think back on those endlessly long leisurely childhood summers on my grandfather's farm, and they have no relation to the brief hectic summers of the past few years. What is this strange foreshortening process that happens to time as one grows older?

Well, last Thursday, the day after Christmas, our day-time grew one minute longer. There were eight "shortest" days, from December 18 to 26 when there were only 9 hours and 6 minutes of daylight. Then on Dec. 27 the sun set one minute later so we had 9 hours and 7 minutes of daylight. By the time you read this there will be 2 extra minutes added to our day.

And so it goes. Each day will be slightly longer until by the end of January our days will be 51 minutes longer, and that's very noticeable. In January I always have the ridiculous feeling that spring is practically here, and when below zero blizzards strike I feel aggrieved as though the weatherman or someone were cheating on us.

Looking back over this brief year, we Winonans were treated to a good stiff winter, a lovely spring, and a diabolically hot summer. In addition to unbearable heat there was a drought that made pastures and hills dry and dusty. During the worst of the sultry heat I simply holed up with my fine one-room air conditioner and practically never emerged for air — hot air. Because of the drought there were very few mushrooms this past fall, and that was a blow to people like me who love to roam the hills and valleys looking for mushrooms.

Then we had a glorious fall, with brilliant coloring and air like wine. It lasted until December when winter arrived, and no matter what kind of winter is visited upon us we should have no gripe because we had more than our share of beautiful autumn weather.

One of the memorable things about 1963 was the wonderful new Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis which many Winonans went to last summer and which many more undoubtedly will attend next summer. Four plays were given — a Shakespearean play, a French play, a Russian play and an American classic — and each one was more fascinating than the last. I saw "Hamlet" three times and should like to have seen it again; a number of Twin Cities people saw it from three to seven times.

Winonans had a special thrill when Winona State College was invited to produce "Ghosts" at the Guthrie Theatre. This they did, and beautifully, with New York actress Judith Evelyn in the lead role. I also saw a very well done rollicking St. Mary's College production of "Taming of the Shrew" and an outstanding Winona High School play "Goodbye, My Fancy". I hope that we can manage a Winona Summer Theatre here next year.

In addition to the trips to the Guthrie Theatre I enjoyed the usual spring more mushroom hunting trip to my son's farm, as well as Thanksgiving there. My sister and I had a wonderful August trip to the Tetons, to Colorado and to Glacier Park. The ancient Mesa Verde Indian cave dwellings were intriguing beyond words, and so were the old silver and gold mining camps set in massive pink, violet and black granite mountains. Glacier Park was a revelation of wild beauty, an unforgettable experience.

And so, a Happy New Year to you all!

Apparently Not Do-It-Yourself A Dying Hobby?

By ANDY LANG AP Newsfeatures

At least once a year, somewhere, somebody makes a speech or writes a magazine article about a diminishing interest in what he calls the do-it-yourself fad.

Don't you believe it! More persons are making or fixing things these days than at any time in the past. And since a fad is something which excites only passing attention, you can hardly call something a fad which began in the 1930s, moved into high gear in the '40s, and has been going strong ever since.

DO-IT-YOURSELF, indulged in by a small percentage of the population as far back as you care to go, really came into its own during the depression. Everybody was searching for a way to economize. And even though help could be obtained in those days for small fees, householders did it themselves solely for the purpose of saving money.

When things began to get prosperous in the '40s, the necessity to cut financial corners was no longer urgent, but another obstacle arose. Most skilled workers were engaged in wartime activities of one sort or another, and it became difficult to get help at any price.

These days, a combination of factors has kept the average home owner doing-it-himself. He has learned the personal satisfaction of creating and fixing things.

And he has discovered, from sad experience, that he can't always get professional help when he needs it.

ALSO it isn't easy to get a plumber or electrician or carpenter for a small job. The professionals may deny it, but you simply cannot get a workman to give you as quick service on a job that will cost $5 as you can on one that will cost $75.

The skilled worker is usually a busy individual these days and he can't spare the time to make a small repair at a small cost. He has to charge for his traveling time, usually referred to as a service charge, and he may feel that you will resent paying for more than just the labor and materials.

IT'S NOT difficult to figure out, therefore, why so many persons are doing so many repair tasks around the house.

Those who think do-it-yourself is slipping haven't talked to the manufacturers of materials and products used by the householders. They will all tell you — and show you figures to prove it — that the curve on the do-it-yourself chart is still going up.

New Mass of Arctic Air Covers State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh mass of arctic air spread across the North Central region today, dropping temperatures to sub-zero levels, with freezing weather in many sections in the East and South.

Snow and sleet pelted deep into Texas. Six inches of snow was reported at Sweetwater while snow mixed with rain spread southward as far as Waco and eastward into the Red River Valley. Highways and streets were ice-coated in the Panhandle region.

Light snow also fell from the Dakotas southward into western Oklahoma and hazardous driving warnings were issued for southern Oklahoma and northwestern Texas.

Clear weather prevailed in the frigid Midwest. Sub-zero marks were reported in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, the Dakotas and Illinois. Low marks ranged from 20 below in International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, to 11 below in suburban areas northwest of Chicago.

Below-zero cold also was reported in sections of northern New England.

Areas outside the freezing belt were the far Southwest, the Pacific Coast states and in most of Deep South.

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: Opinion poll: The U.S. Information Agency says a public

Christians and Moslems Look For Better Times

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A noted Moslem scholar hopes Pope Paul's pilgrimage to the Holy Land next week will promote more sympathetic understanding among Christians and Moslems, linked by many common beliefs but separated by wide gulfs.

Mohammed Zafrullah Khan, a leading authority on Islam, predicts the pontiff will be received by Moslems with deep respect, because sayings of the Prophet Mohammed enjoin his followers to honor those who are honored among their own people.

Zafrullah Khan, former United Nations General Assembly president and former foreign minister of Pakistan, is now a member of the International Court. He believes the great religions gradually are drawing closer and he hopes the papal visit will help that process.

Pope Paul will travel through Israel, which regards itself as the national home of all Jews, and through neighboring Jordan, whose population, while containing many Christians, is predominantly Moslem and ruled by a young king claiming descent from the prophet.

Islam, the religion of the Moslems, comes from the Arabic word Aslama, meaning submit. Moslem comes from the same root, and means one who has submitted. The Koran, Islam's bible, is the body of revelations from God to his prophet, Mohammed. But Mohammed was mortal. Moslems do not consider him divine.

What separates Islam and Christianity, both cradled in the Holy Land? Zafrullah Khan says the greatest difference is in how they regard Jesus Christ.

To Christians, in general, Jesus the Messiah is the Son of God, one of the Holy Trinity of Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

To Moslems, Jesus is an honored prophet, but not the Son of God except in the sense that all men are God's children. To Moslems, belief in a trinity is to imply that there is more than one God.

Both Christians and Moslems revere the Jewish prophets of the Old Testament. Both believe in a judgment day and life after death, both believe Jesus is in heaven and has access to God. But there are differences.

The Moslems have no priesthood. Islam has imams—leaders, and teachers, but it is the most secular of religions.

To Moslems, the emphasis is on a god of power. The idea of a god of love is less evident than in Christianity.

Islam is based on the five pillars: faith, prayer, alms, fasting and pilgrimage to Mecca in Saudi Arabia. These are the duties of a Moslem, and every Moslem hopes to become a hadj, one who has made the pilgrimage.

Chicago Robs Tittle 5 Times, Wins NFL Title for Papa Bear

SHERMAN PRAISES TITTLE

Papa Bear Says: 'Thank You'

CHICAGO (AP) — The old man's twinkling eyes were watering. He raised his arms in gesture of celebration and then hopped around the dressing room congratulating his beloved Chicago Bears.

"It was great boys, thanks a million," shouted 68-year-old George Halas who overcame waves of criticism in recent years and once again led the Bears to another National Football League championship.

The Bears—their splendid defense controlling the game—had, defeated the New York Giants 14-10 for the championship.

Linebacker Larry Morris and end Ed O'Bradovich were among the heroes. Their interceptions set up short plunge touchdowns by quarterback Bill Wade.

"We started the season with the No. 1 defense in the league and ended it with the No. 1 defense," gloated Halas. "I never had any doubts about this team."

"This has to be my biggest personal satisfaction," said Halas.

Spry and cagey, Halas sidestepped questions hurled at him about the possibility of his retiring from the league he helped organize more than 40 years ago.

Morris, who rammed 61 yards with an interception staging the Bears' first touchdown, was by far the club's most valuable player. Not only for his interception but for his harassing charges at Tittle and his deadly tackling of Giant runners.

"Sure I was trying to go all the way with that interception," said Morris. "I'm no halfback but I was afraid of being hit."

Allie Sherman, the youthful Giant coach who has guided his team to three Eastern Division titles, had nothing but praise for his 38-year-old quarterback.

"All this talk about not being able to win the big ones is a lot of bunk," said Sherman. "Tittle has played in more big ones in the last few years than anybody around and he has won more than his share. Most men would not have gone out there in the second half but he did."

Wade Gets Both TDs On Sneaks

CHICAGO (AP) — The cheer-evoking bandits of the Chicago Bears have made their biggest haul.

They made the main contribution in the Chicago Bears 14-10 victory over the New York Giants Sunday for the National Football League championship.

It was the Bears' eighth, but the first for Papa Bear George Halas since 1946, when the Giants again were beaten.

In a daring, daylight caper before 45,801 fans in the deep freeze of Wrigley Field, and many others watching television, the Bears' Jesse James boys robbed big money man Y. A. Tittle blind.

Five times they stole passes from this bald, 38-year-old phenomenon, who crippled a knee in the second quarter but courageously returned after halftime treatment to play the rest of the game.

Two of the interceptions set up Bear touchdowns, in the first and third periods.

Two others were fished in the end zone as Tittle, the NFL's top passer this season, desperately tried to hurl long scoring bombs in the fading minutes of a tense last quarter.

Putting the final clamp on the Giants hopes were the deep interceptions by Bennie McRae as Tittle opened a siege from the Giant 36 and by Rich Pettibon as the master quarterback unleashed a shot from the Bears' 37.

But the best frisking Tittle and the Giants got was by right linebacker Larry Morris, a 230-pounder, and mountainous right end Ed O'Bradovich.

Morris, voted the game's most valuable player, heisted a Tittle flip in the first period and galloped 61 yards before running out of gas on the Giant five.

With eight seconds left before the first quarter ended, Bill Wade went over from the two on a quarterback sneak.

Bob Jencks added the extra point and the game was tied 7-7. The Giants had scored the first time they got the ball. Wade, who played the entire game, was shaken from the ball when Dick Lynch and Sam Huff hit him. Erich Barnes recovered it for the Giants on the Bear 41.

In seven plays, New York scored on a 14-yard pitch from Tittle to Frank Gifford. Don Chandler converted. Early in the second period, Tittle's arm zeroed in on another goalward thrust. The Giants moved 59 yards as the Bald Eagle brought up the blood pressure of 68-year-old Halas with a 36-yard aerial to Aaron Thomas.

But the Bears' defense, the best in the league matched against the No. 1 offense in this shut-out, held.

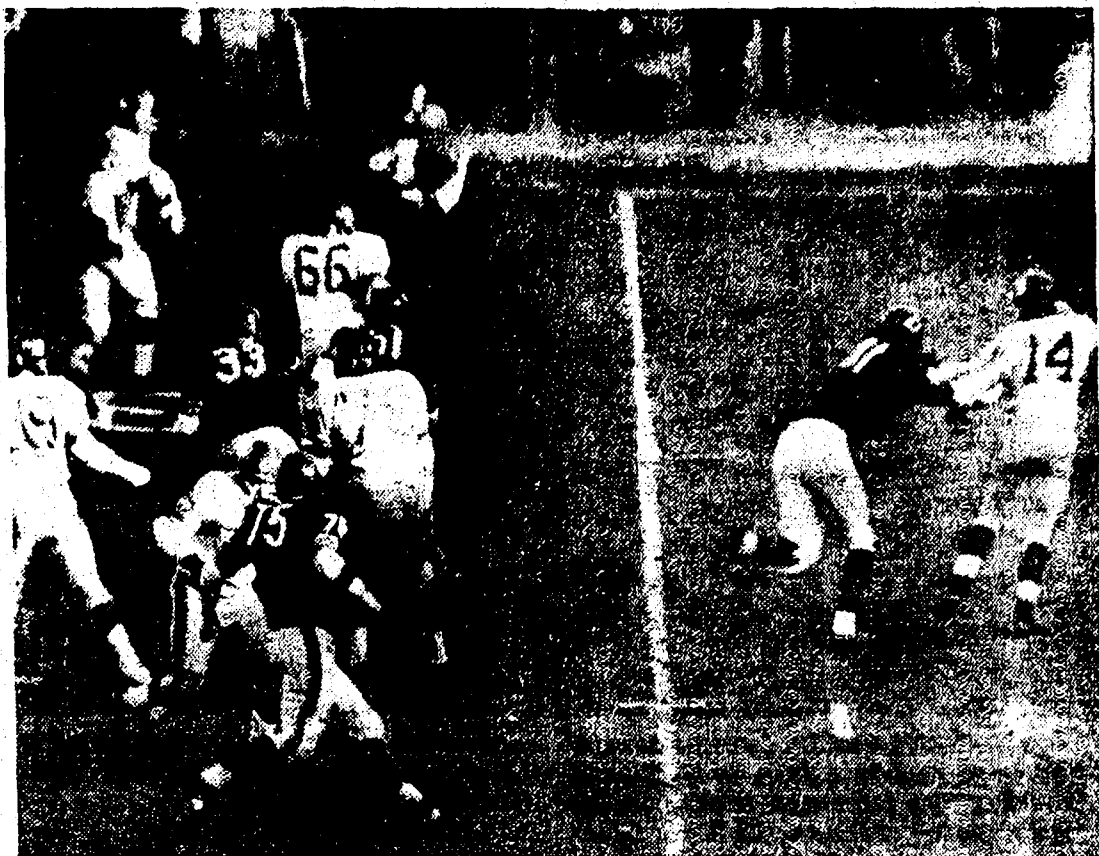

Chandler eventually booted a 13-yard field goal and the Giants clung to a 10-7 edge.

With eight minutes remaining, Tittle slipped going back to pass and was hit by the charging Morris. He limped from the field and Glenn Griffing replaced him.

Tittle returned at the start of the second half. The Giants seemed to be on the move again, as Hugh McElhenny ran back the kickoff 47 yards.

But Davey Whitsett picked off Tittle's pass near the Bear 25 and from there the Bears drove 59 yards.

With 2:12 left in the quarter, Tittle's screen pass was hugged in by the 255-pound O'Bradovich, who rammed 10 yards to the Giant 14. Wade steered Mike Ditka for 12 yards and the decisive TD. Jencks again added the point.

ROBBERS MAKE IT PAY . . . Chicago Bears' defensive end Ed O'Bradovich, top, reaches up to intercept a New York Giants pass in the third quarter Sunday in Chicago. The pass from quarterback Y. A. Tittle

(14, right) was aimed at back Phil King, top left. O'Bradovich ran the ball to the Giants' 14 — and set up the winning touchdown. (AP Photofax)

Winona High Resumes Play

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

With one weekend of holiday tournaments out of the way, three of Winona's basketball teams go back into regular season action while the fourth goes after another tournament this weekend.

Saturday night, Cotter High successfully completed its first annual holiday tourney at Memorial Hall by taking the title with a close fought 32-28 overtime win over Rochester Lourdes, and landing its two stalwart guards on the all-tournament team.

Rick Starzecki and Gene Schultz, who spearheaded the Rambler drive to the trophy, were honored, along with 6-5 Ed Nixon of consolation champion Minnehaha Academy. Classy forward Jim Gillespie of St. Paul Cretin was the fourth man on the squad, while Lourdes' back court ace Jim Galuska was the fifth man on the squad.

COTTER WILL play host to Austin Pacelli in its next encounter at St. Stan's gym Friday night.

Winona State finally broke the ice Saturday, and brought home the consolation title of the Beloit Holiday Tournament. The win boosted the Warriors' record to 4-6 on the season, and it was their first triumph on the road, after losing four previous encounters.

Five cagers went all the way for Winona State and Coach Bob Campbell said, "I think we might have hit upon a combination that wants to get the job done, although we did still have our lapses."

The Staters used a zone for the first time this season, and committed only eight fouls throughout the entire game. This coming weekend, they go back into tournament action at Sheboygan, Wis., in the Lakeland Holiday Tournament. Friday night, the Warriors will battle the Northland College, which they have beaten once 99-83 this season.

Winona High, the only local quietest not in tourney action, gets back to work after a two-week game layoff Friday night when the Winhawks journey to La Crosse for a battle with Central.

Winona High will try to shake off a two-game losing string, which saw it drop two games.

Bustling Bowl Season Hits Zenith Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Texas and Navy ready to battle for college football's unofficial championship, the bustling bowl season reaches its peak this week as fans get the chance to put aside their annual hangovers temporarily in favor of the big four post-season clashes.

The Cotton Bowl has by far the biggest and most interesting attraction for New Year's Day, but it still must share the spotlight with the Rose, Orange and Sugar contests. Four other bowl's help conclude the college season this week.

Another quartet of games had their fling last Saturday. North Carolina walloped Air Force 35-0 in the Gator Bowl, the East and the West fought to a 6-6 tie, the Gray took the Blue 21-14 and Western Kentucky had an easy time with Otto Graham's Coast Guard in the Tangerine Bowl, winning 27-0.

Roger Staubach and his second-ranked Middle mates invaded the fair of the Texas Longhorns, the country's No. 1 team in the regular season, for the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Unbeaten Texas will have to fend off the East's best to remain first in the minds of the nation's fans. Illinois faces a relatively weak West Coast representative, Washington, in the Rose Bowl. Big Eight champion Nebraska meets Auburn in the Orange and Mississippi battles Alabama in a neighborhood get together in the Sugar Bowl.

In a prelude to the big day, Southern Methodist, lone conqueror of Navy, plays Oregon in the Sun Bowl on Tuesday. Finally, three all-star contests—the Senior, the Hula and the Southwest Challenge bowls—round out the schedule Saturday.

North Carolina supplied the biggest surprise last Saturday while the Shrine game in San Francisco provided a picture of utter frustration.

The Tar Heels, considered just a slight favorite, easily trampled Air Force at Jacksonville, Fla. Powerful halfback Ken Willard and quarterbacks Junior Edge and Gary Black sparked the North Carolina offense while the defense stymied Falcon quarterback Terry Isaacson.

The East and the West started their 39th annual contest with an even amount of points scored—455. When it was over, they were still even.

Two missed extra point attempts helped the frustration. Pete Bealhard of Southern California bowed his try wide after Baylor's Don Trull hit Willie Brown of Southern California with a 25-yard scoring pass in the third quarter. Pitt fullback Rick Leeson's kick was blocked following a 10-yard touchdown scout by Michigan State's Sherm Lewis in the final period.

Elliott Tongue-Lashes Lackadaisical Illini

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Coach Pete Elliott gave his Big Ten champion Illinois football team a tongue lashing with time running out before its New Year's Day Rose Bowl game with Washington's Huskies.

The verbal fireworks came during a Sunday drill in which Elliott said he thought the Illini performed "sort of dead and listless."

For about six minutes, Pete peppered his players with a sharp criticism of what he said struck him as a nonchalant attitude toward preparation for the Rose Bowl game.

During his blast off, Elliott suggested pointedly that any player not ready for an all-out effort New Year's Day should stay in his hotel room.

Elliott's outburst appeared to most observers to be mainly a psychological job to keep his Illini from viewing Washington—owning a backluster 64 season record as a soft Rose Bowl touch.

Pete told writers he was keenly aware of the Huskies' giant killer talent in Rose Bowl competition. Elliott was referring to the upset triumph scored by Jim Owens' Huskies in the 1960 Rose Bowl game over Wisconsin and in the 1961 game over national champion Minnesota. Much has been made of the play of All-American center Dick Butkus in the Illini parade to a 7-1 record and No. 3 ranking in the final Associated Press poll.

Elliott scoffed at Illini's seven point favoritism to score the school's third victory in as many starts since Ray Eliot's Illini launched the current Big Ten-Big Six Rose Bowl feud in 1947.

In that series opener, "unwanted" Illini's trumped UCLA 45-11. In the 1952 game, Eliot's Illini belted Stanford 40-7.

Elliott, whose California Bears bowed to Iowa's Hawkeyes 38-12 in the 1959 Rose Bowl game, seems most impressed with quarterback Bill Douglas as chief Washington menace to his Illini.

On defense, Elliott said, the Huskies have "real speed and quickness."

MANKATO WINS CROWN

Gophers Shoot For Tourney Title Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Minnesota basketball team goes after the most important victory bid of its month-long competition tonight — against the Villanova Wildcats in the finals of the Holiday Festival in New York.

The Gophers hope for a better start than they made in gaining victories in the first two games of the tourney. Against St. Joseph's Saturday they dropped back to a 13-7 deficit at the one-quarter mark but rallied sufficiently to take a 31-25 halftime lead.

Sparked by sophomores Don Yates and Lou Hudson and junior Mel Northway, the Gophers built up a 38-28 advantage and seemed to have an offense jelling that would coast to an easy victory. But St. Joe's came back to go ahead at 56-55.

It took another Minnesota streak, with Mel Northway scoring the last six points, to take a commanding lead again. Yates dropped in 20 points to pace Minnesota, while Hudson added 19 and Northway 15—11 of them in the second half.

Villanova sports a diversified offense and a puzzling zone defense, a combination which gave the Wildcats a 82-75 victory over Utah in the other semifinal game.

Villanova is 8-1 for the season and the Gophers, 7-2.

Here were results in other holiday tournaments involving area teams:

St. John's squeezed past Moorhead 61-60 to win the Red River Classic at Moorhead. The Johnnies had a 60-50 margin at the fourth straight year. Miss put reserves in and Moorhead generated a scoring blitz, but it fell one field goal shy.

St. Cloud took third place in the Red River with a 97-92 defeat over Parsons.

A Missouri team, Lincoln University, copied honors in the long competition tonight — Bemidji, defeating North Dakota 78-75. Avista Kelly led the winners with 20 points. North Dakota had a 40-33 halftime lead but Lincoln scored 13 straight points early in the second half.

Augsburg won third place in defeating Bemidji 82-73.

Mankato State whipped defending champion Emporia of Kansas in the title clash of the Hastings, Neb. Invitational, 77-58. Emporia had won the meet in 1961 and 1962.

Four Mankato players scored in double figures, led by Jim Tetzloff's 24.

Durand Falls To Edison

ELLSWORTH, Wis.—Durand dropped its second straight game in the Ellsworth Holiday Tournament Saturday night to Minneapolis Edison 94-35.

The Panthers trailed 43-13 at the half. Durand had 18 and Ashley 16 for the Twin Cities school.
