Crowded Calendar for State Voters, Politicians

By ADOLPH JOHNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Minnesota voters and politicians face a crowded calendar in this presidential election year.

The long process leading to the national party conventions and to the Nov. 3 general election begins with precinct caucuses.

The Republican version of these neighborhood meetings where everyone gets a chance to speak his mind will be Feb. 3-11. All Democratic - Farmer - Labor caucuses are scheduled March 3.

The precinct caucuses will choose delegates for county conventions and begin discussions which will culminate in drawing up state and national platforms. GOP county conventions are scheduled March 2-21 with the DFL meetings spread over three weekends — April 11-12, 18-19, and 25-26.

The county gatherings will lay the groundwork for the eight district conventions — one in each congressional district — to be held by Republicans in the April 6-25 period and by Democratic - Farmer - Laborites May 9-10 and 16-17.

The district conventions get into the important business of nominating national convention delegates.

Minnesota will have 26 delegates at the Republican national convention. The state's voting strength at the Democratic national convention has not yet been determined, but is expected to be around 30.

Each of the GOP district meetings will choose two delegates and two alternates with the remaining 10 to be chosen at the state convention in St. Paul June 11-13. The GOP national convention is in San Francisco beginning July 13.

If the DFL pattern is not changed from previous years, delegates having two votes will be nominated at each district convention and delegates for the remaining votes will be chosen at the state convention.

The DFLs customarily split their votes to enable more people to go to the national convention. The DFL state convention will be in St. Paul June 26-28 and the national Democratic convention will open in Atlantic City Aug. 24.

District conventions also will endorse candidates for Congress and recommend persons for appointments to state convention committees.

Here are other important dates on the calendar:

June 10—Filings open for U.S. senator, Congress, state House of Representatives, Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner, and Supreme Court.

July 14 — Filings close.

Aug. 18 — Last day to register to vote in the primary.

Sept. 8 — State primary election.

Sept. 22 — State canvassing board meets.

Oct. 13 — Last date to register for the general election.

Nov. 3 — General election.

Nov. 17 — State Canvassing board meets.

Romney Makes Self Available For a 'Draft'

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan Gov. George Romney's sudden availability for a draft for the Republican presidential nomination may be more of a strategic political move than a tactical one.

In announcing to a National Press Club audience Tuesday that he would have a duty to accept a genuine draft, Romney—in the view of some observers—could well have been making a calculated power play.

Recent statements by the governor indicate he wants to play a more important role in national politics.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Romney said: "What happens nationally has an important bearing on what happens to Michigan, and I certainly hope to pursue a course of activities that would permit me to have some influence on what might happen nationally in 1964."

If it had not been a certainty before, Romney assuredly will be placed in nomination on the first ballot at the San Francisco convention next July — probably as Michigan's "favorite son."

Since he can be expected to draw a number of votes from other state delegations, the governor may find himself playing an important role in deciding who gets the nomination.

Johnson Announces $97.9 Billion Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told Congress today he is cutting the budget below current levels, to $97.9 billion. And he disclosed he will slash output of weapon-making uranium by 25 per cent — a move he challenged the Soviets to match.

He asked the Congress to enact the long-pending $11-billion tax cut bill by Feb. 1.

"The new budget clearly allows it," he said. "Our taxpayers surely deserve it. Our economy strongly demands it."

The President put the billion-dollar price tag on his anti-poverty package at an unprecedented session with newsmen at the White House rose garden in advance of his appearance in the dignitary-packed House chamber.

Tight security measures were in force for Johnson's visit to the Capitol. Uniformed police were stationed atop the capitol and the adjoining congressional office buildings.

The Johnson message was unusually significant because it was his first and set the tone for his administration, outlining his specific policy ideas for the first time since he became President seven weeks ago on the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

In Johnson's immediate audience in the House chamber were foreign diplomats, Cabinet officers and members of the Supreme Court as well as the members of the Senate and House. The galleries were packed.

Mrs. Johnson received a standing ovation when she took her place in the gallery. She was accompanied by her daughter, Lucy Baines.

The smiling President was greeted with a 60-second standing ovation when he strode down the center aisle of the chamber.

Johnson was interrupted by applause for the first time when he called, at the outset of his address, for the Congress members to "work together to make this year's session the best in history."

After that, Democrats applauded almost every Johnson sentence. But Republican applause was notably lacking until the President suggested that Congress can complete its work this summer, and added that all he proposed "can be done without any increase in spending."

Johnson's proposals — many requiring action by Congress — were aimed at problems ranging from the depths of poverty to the height of the moon.

For most taxpayers, the biggest surprise probably lay in the budget disclosures. At $97.9 billion, the first Johnson spending plan would be $500 million smaller than the latest estimate of spending under Kennedy's final, record-setting budget.

Johnson described his budget as "efficient, honest and frugal." And he said it will maintain "the full strength of our defenses" while providing "the most federal support in history for education, for health, for retraining the unemployed, and for helping the economically and physically handicapped."

Johnson called newsmen into the White House rose garden before he went to the Capitol to deliver his nationally televised and broadcast speech and added a few points that were not specified in the message.

For one thing, he estimated that about $1 billion will be set aside for the anti-poverty program. He said $300 million of this will be spent in fiscal 1965 starting next July 1, some additional amounts will be spent from existing programs and $200 million will be requested for use in future years.

The President also disclosed that he met during the morning with Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, to discuss the message.

Asked to assess the reaction of economy-minded Byrd to the budget figures, Johnson said Byrd seemed to register "pleased surprise."

Sitting in on the sessions were the ranking Republican members of the two committees, Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware and Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin.

Johnson said the budget has

Basic Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—In his State of the Union speech today, President Johnson said his budget and legislative program are designed to help every American fulfill these basic hopes:

"His hopes for a fair chance to make good;

"His hopes for fair play from the law;

"His hopes for a full-time job on full-time pay;

"His hopes for a decent home for his family in a decent community;

"His hopes for a good school for his children with good teachers;

"And his hopes for security when faced with sickness, unemployment, or old age."

been growing at the rate of $5 billion a year, and suggested that had he produced a "normal" budget it would have amounted to $103.8 billion.

He said he whittled down the total by trying to "cut away all fat and waste" and stop needless activities.

He described the defense budget, which is sharing in the cuts, as being in "lean, hard shape, with the fat eliminated."

Endorsing some two dozen proposals in about 2,900 words, the chief executive urged Congress to bring his programs "to a fair and final vote." He called for the strongest civil rights bill in 100 years, enactment of a massive tax cut by Feb. 1, new steps toward disarmament and selective increases in overtime pay rates.

Other Johnson programs — many inherited from Kennedy — included broader minimum wage coverage, hospital insurance for the aged, an end to discriminatory immigration quotas, a bigger housing program, and a determined effort — preferably in cooperation with the Soviet Union — to put a man on the moon by 1970.

Prosperity at home and peace in the world were the broad goals cited by the President, who sought to balance conciliation and determination in discussing cold war problems.

"We intend to bury no one — and we do not intend to be buried. We can fight, if we must, as we have fought before — but we pray we will never have to fight again," the President said.

Late Bulletins

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Police arrested Franco Grasi, 45, today and said he claimed to have arranged to bomb the Milan cathedral to protest the pilgrimage of Pope Paul VI to the Holy Land. The Gothic cathedral was searched before dawn but no bomb was found.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., served notice today he will not back any new federal farm programs that would break the spending limits set by President Johnson for other governmental activities. "I will not support any farm legislation which would cost more than that now on the statute books," Ellender said.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A police car carrying an accident victim to a hospital collided with another car on the Des Moines outskirts today and all five occupants of the two vehicles were killed. Two of the victims were Mrs. Bonnie M. Harrington, 73, of rural Sioux Falls, S. D., and her son, Edward, 54, of Sioux Falls. Dead in the second vehicle, an Ankeny, Iowa, police car, were Patrolman Laverne Haurbert, 37, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Love of Ankeny.

Freeman Urges New Wheat Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman Tuesday urged quick congressional action on a voluntary wheat acreage control plan.

Unless such a program is voted quickly, he told a House wheat subcommittee, farmers will suffer a $600 million a year cut in income.

Freeman's plea on the opening day of the 88th Congress' second session has been in the office since President Johnson took office.

Last year wheat farmers were asked in a referendum to choose between mandatory acreage and production controls on wheat, strongly backed by Freeman, or no program at all.

The farmers voted against controls unless a substitute plan is enacted, they can plant as much wheat as they want but without price supports.

Rep. Paul C. Jones, D-Mo., told Freeman, "I think you are being . . . charitable . . . the farmers made their bed and . . . should be allowed to lie in it."

Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., chairman of the parent Agriculture Committee, shared that viewpoint, saying "I am not willing to help farmers who are not willing to help themselves."

Johnson reportedly has urged a quick solution to the problem.

Freeman backs no specific bill among those before the committee, but said any program should incorporate a certificate system. He said this would be the least costly to the taxpayer.

Johnson Backs JFK Program

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — For better or worse, President Johnson ties himself today to his predecessor's political formula of trying to weld liberal, labor and minority support into a winning combination.

In a State of the Union message calling for congressional action on a wide range of social welfare legislation, the President links himself to the programs of the late John F. Kennedy while adding some of his own.

This is designed to demonstrate to the citizens of the large industrial states plagued by slums, poverty and unemployment that the President is vitally concerned with doing something about their problems.

It is not coincidental that these states will cast heavy electoral votes in November.

At the same time, Johnson has displayed an intention to keep a foot in the middle of the political road by spotlighting executive efforts to hold down on federal spending. This is regarded as sure-fire in its appeal to the more conservative South and Midwest.

As he starts the first critical months of 1964, Johnson obviously has a reservoir of political good will in Congress and the country.

Nobody has yet had time to get really angry with him. Democrats of all shades of opinion know that he is going to be their presidential nominee and naturally are gravitating toward him.

Goldwater Says He's Encouraged

By WALTER R. MEARS

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater — saying he was encouraged and surprised by his reception in the nation's first primary state—hits the hand-shaking trail across southern New Hampshire today to press his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I'm very, very pleasantly surprised," Goldwater said Tuesday night as he completed the first day of his New Hampshire campaign.

"This is one of the most encouraging turnouts, one of the most encouraging experiences I've ever had," Goldwater told a standing-room-only crowd of campaign workers at the Concord Hotel.

The hotel also houses the headquarters of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, only other avowed candidate for the GOP nomination.

Goldwater told reporters he expects other Republicans—perhaps former Vice President Richard M. Nixon; Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam; and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine — also will be on the ballot for the March 10 New Hampshire primary.

State to Act For County on Road Contract

The state commissioner of highways was named as agent for Winona County by the county board of commissioners Tuesday.

The board's resolution authorizes the commissioner to act as the county's agent in letting contracts for construction of a portion of County State Aid Highway 8. The portion extends 1.57 miles east from CSAH 11, 1.5 miles southeast of Ridge-way.

COUNTY commissioners decided to raise the limits for property damage coverage in its liability insurance. James Schain of Winona Insurance Agency pointed out to the board that the policy it took out with his company set a limit of $25,000 on occurrence on property damage pay-ments.

State statutes, however, declare that counties can be sued for a limit of $50,000 a claimant, or $300,000 aggregate for each occurrence. Schain said that the county could raise its coverage to this legal limit for an additional annual premium of about $75.

The annual premium for the coverage the board had contracted for up to now is $2,780.

THE BOARD also heard a plea from Leon A. Bronk, Minnesota City, to raise bounty on foxes to $6 a fox. The bounty now is $2 apiece for adult foxes and $1 apiece for cubs.

Bronk contended that the present bounty is too low, and no one is interesting in killing foxes. A higher bounty, he told the board, would motivate more hunters and trappers to go after the animals.

Foxes are no good, Bronk told the commissioners. They have driven game from his land but have allowed pocket gophers to live in peace.

The board, after commenting on the difficulty of keeping nonresident foxes out of the bounty lineup, took no action.

2 Huge Dams Planned in Crooked Creek

CALEDONIA, Minn. — The managers of Crooked Creek Watershed accepted a petition for a watershed from the Houston County commissioners Saturday calling for two detention dams and 5,400 feet of stream bank control in the county.

One dam would be constructed on the Leonard Wohlers farm near Caledonia in Section 8 of Mayville Township. The second dam would be on the farms of James Scanlan, Evelyn Knudson and Milton Mellick, near Caledonia in Sections 15 and 16 of Mayville Township.

THE DAMS, costing about $150,000 for both, would create two ponds about 6-7 acres in size and about 11-13 feet deep, said Harold Dineen, Houston County conservationist.

Estimated cost of the stream bank improvement would be about $8,000. The federal government would pay all but $3,000 of the entire watershed improvement, said Dineen.

Crooked Creek starts at Caledonia and flows east to the Mississippi River. There are about 44,400 acres and 200 farms involved in the watershed area. The watershed managers have appointed Clarence Nielsen, a Caledonia engineer, to appraise benefits from a watershed and to estimate damage caused by flooding waters.

HE WILL make this report at a managers' meeting. After his report is accepted a date for a public hearing on the program will be announced. Wilfred Pohlman is chairman of the watershed.

Commissioners Pay Poor Bills, Open Road Bids

The Winona County Board of Commissioners this morning voted to pay township and village poor relief bills for 1963.

In a separate resolution, the board approved payment of $30,000 to the city of Winona for the county's share of the city's 1962 poor relief expenditures. A balance of $10,000 is still owed to the city for 1962.

BILLS FOR 1963 ordered paid this morning are as follows: Homer Township, $1,517.60; Richmond Township, $1,124.63; Rollingstone Township, $349.97; village of Rollingstone, $1,973.24; village of Altura, $538.54.

The board designated the Winona Daily News as the newspaper in which the list of taxes delinquent as of the first Monday in January of 1964 would be published, as required by law.

It awarded contracts for printing and publishing to the Lewiston Journal and the Daily News. The Journal will print the auditor's statement at a rate of $1.50 per folio for straight copy, plus an additional 50 cents per folio for tabulated matter.

The Daily News also will print this report at the same rate. It will publish the proceedings of the board and of the board of equalization at this rate; financial statements at the same rate; miscellaneous notices at the same rate plus 75 cents per folio for each subsequent insertion; sample ballots at $1.50 per folio, and the delinquent tax list at $1.50 per folio for the first insertion, 75 cents for each subsequent insertion, plus an additional 50 cents per folio for tabulated matter on the first insertion only.

THE BOARD opened bids on five base and bituminous surfacing jobs. Specifications allowed a bidder to submit two bids, one of them an alternate based on costs using a different grade of crushed rock base than that called for in the original specifications.

No action was taken on the bids this morning to allow County Engineer Gordon Fay a chance to examine the bids and determine whether alternate bids should be accepted.

The jobs projects, bidders and amounts of their bids (cents omitted) follow (alternate bids given in parentheses):

Youth Tries to Catch Falling Baby

NEW YORK (AP) — "I thought of my own baby," said Alfred Salerno, 19, explaining why he tried to catch a baby who tumbled from a fifth floor apartment.

The child, David Fisher, 1½, bounced off Salerno's chest and struck a sidewalk Tuesday. He died at a hospital.

Salerno, a utility workman, was in an excavation when he saw the baby tottering on a ledge. He got under the ledge just as the baby fell.

Fountain Cifian Found Guilty

ROBERT J. NEUMANN, 18, Fountain City, Wis., paid a $15 fine today after being found guilty in municipal court of allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

Neumann appeared before Municipal Judge John D. McGill and was not represented by counsel. He had been arrested Dec. 29 on Vine Street near 4th Street. Testimony in the case was given by Officer Joseph Kryzer, who made the arrest. No defense witnesses were called.

KRYZER said two cars, one of them Neumann's, were observed about 1 a.m. Dec. 29, rounding the corner from 4th Street, heading north on Vine. Both were driven in careless fashion, he said. Driver of the other car, Henry L. Wiczorek, Fountain City, was fined $30 in municipal court Tuesday for careless driving.

The officer said when he approached Neumann's car, stopped sideways in the street, the occupants of the front seat switched places. They were Neumann and a 16-year-old Bluff Siding youth. The juvenile had been driving and was found to be without a valid driving permit.

Neumann said the youth was a close friend who had driven his car many times. The youth told Neumann he was eligible to drive and Neumann said he didn't check further.

Neumann was asked by City Prosecutor James Soderberg why the front seat switch occurred. He said it was to protect the youth who said if he got a ticket he would be unable to obtain a driver's license.

Judge McGill, finding Neumann guilty, said it is the duty of a car owner to be sure that anyone driving is qualified to do so.

ALSO APPEARING in court was Charles E. Collins, 20, St. Mary's College. He was charged with driving 40 miles an hour in the 30-mile zone on Gilmore Avenue, between Highway 61 and Sunset Drive. He was arrested Tuesday at 4:55 p.m.

Upon Collins' plea of guilty, Judge McGill sentenced him to pay a fine of $25 or eight days in jail. He paid the fine.

County Board Names Spitzer As Chairman

The Winona County Board of Commissioners started out its new year Tuesday with a turn-about of officers and a new table in its meeting chamber.

The board elected Adolph Spitzer, St. Charles, chairman and James Papenfuss, Dakota, vice chairman after being sworn-in by Rolfe Tust, county register of deeds. Spitzer was vice chairman last year, and Papenfuss held the post of chairman.

Spitzer, in his third term on the board, has served as chairman previously. He represents the 3rd district and farms northeast of St. Charles.

The new table replaces one which had been in use for years but which recently had been causing a county official to be isolated from his fellows.

County Attorney S. A. Sawyer found that he was unable to work at his usual place because a cross-brace prevented him from putting his feet under the table.

Sawyer had been working at a small table at the side of the meeting room, causing commissioners to complain because they frequently found themselves talking to the back of the attorney's head.

Now the board has a new table, one on which the under-structure is set back from the table ends.

Sawyer, however, was still at the side of the room Tuesday.

Marksman Disrupts Telephone Lines

Shooters who use telephone line connections for targets are menacing local communications, Sheriff George Fort said today, and will be prosecuted if caught.

Fort said cables near Homer were damaged on two occasions recently, causing short circuits on some rural lines in the area. Shotgun pellets hit plastic cable covers near the E. L. King residence and at Cedar Creek Dec. 21 and again Sunday, he said.

Cooperation of citizens in apprehending shooters guilty of damaging lines was urged by Sheriff Fort. He asked anyone witnessing such acts to make an effort to obtain car license numbers or other identification, then report the information to his office.

Game wardens also have been alerted, Fort said.

It Happened Last Night Shelley Berman Has New Fund

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "The Damn Fool Fund" is off and running... its slogan is "Stamp Out Damn Foolishness by 2064 A.D." Comedian Shelley Berman is founder of this unique charity. He wrote a check to start it... "Pay to the Order of the Damn Fool Fund... $200" he hopes all damn fools will contribute so that help can be given to (who else?) other damn fools. "To people in or near Show Business with a deep need... who will confess their own damn foolishness," he says.

His remorse over an incident at Basin St. East inspired Berman. He'd lost his temper with some ringleaders earlier. He was waiting in the back to explain his side to me.

My Beautiful Wife approached to compliment him. "Get lost, lady!" he snapped. "I'm waiting to talk to Earl Wilson!"

Berman later decided he should assess a fine against himself for that rash act, but for somebody's good.

"Contributors should confess what their damn foolishness was in writing. It might help us all get some sense," he says.

ARLENE FRANCIS, Harry Herschfield, Variety Editor Abel Green, Commentator Ed Fitzgerald, and Postmaster Bob Christenberry, solid citizens all, will be asked to sit on the Damn Fool Fund board. The Community Trust, 230 Park Ave., will be asked to administer the fund.

My B.W. says Berman already owes the Damn Fool Fund another contribution. He appointed me corresponding secretary — and treasurer.

(Incidentally, Shelley is giving up New York to move to Hollywood IMMEDIATELY. No remarks, please.)

County Funds Set Aside

Routine budgeting chores occupied the Winona County Board of Commissioners as it opened its annual meeting Tuesday afternoon.

It passed resolutions allocating $5,000 for County Auditor Richard Schoonover's incidental fund and setting aside $2,000 for County Attorney S. A. Sawyer's contingent fund.

It authorized payment of expenses incurred by persons appointed to committees by the county board chairman in attending meetings requiring their presence. The same resolution also authorized payment of county officials' expenses incurred in attending meetings of their state organizations.

A payment totaling $420 for deputy sheriffs' clothing allowances during the last half of 1963 was approved by the commissioners. The deputies receive an allowance of $10 a month. That figure was multiplied by six months and seven deputies to reach the total.

Schoonover read the auditor's statement of the condition of the county as of Dec. 31, 1963, and the document was approved and placed on file. His report was as follows (cents omitted):

Fund	County revenue	Levy	Balance
County revenue	$ 39,658	$187.2	$187.2

Rabinovitz Starts Work As Judge

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP)—David Rabinovitz, recipient of an interim appointment as U.S. district judge for Western Wisconsin started work today on a huge backlog of cases that have piled up in the last year.

Rabinovitz, a 55-year-old attorney, was named Tuesday by President Johnson in a dramatic last-minute move before the Senate officially convened.

"I will begin reading the files of cases... and laying out my work, calling in lawyers for pretrial conferences and similar matters," said Rabinovitz as he made plans to go to Madison today. "I am sure I will do the job and the lawyers will be satisfied."

The controversial Sheboygan labor specialist resigned his post as Democratic national committeeman for Wisconsin and said he also would resign as a member of the party.

Rabinovitz was in the middle of a hearing at Sheboygan when a call from the White House advised him of the appointment and told him he had 15 minutes to be sworn in before the Senate officially convened at noon.

Mrs. Emily Dodge, a State Industrial Commission examiner who was presiding over the hearing, administered the oath to Rabinovitz who will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Patrick T. Stone of Wausau a year ago.

Rabinovitz first was nominated to the western district bench last year by the late President Kennedy, but the appointment stalled before a Senate committee in the face of broad opposition.

An unprecedented poll of members of the State Bar of Wisconsin showed an overwhelming majority of state lawyers considered Rabinovitz unqualified. The American Bar Association also asserted that he was not qualified for the job.

The idea of the interim appointment, which will enable Rabinovitz to take the bench and draw the $22,500 salary pending either Senate action or adjournment, was advanced by Democratic leaders in the state.

Gov. John W. Reynolds met with a Johnson adviser last Saturday to press the proposal, which also was supported by Democratic State Chairman J. Louis Hanson and former Chairman Patrick J. Lucey.

Nonconforming Formula Changed

Some clarification in the amount of repair permitted on a nonconforming building in the city will be permitted by an ordinance amendment passed Monday by the City Council.

Recommended by the City Planning Commission for passage, the amendment will use market value, rather than assessed value, as the base for calculation.

Under the new amendment to the zoning code, the total amount of repairs and maintenance work needed to keep a nonconforming structure in sound condition may equal 50 percent of the market value of the structure at the time it first became a nonconforming use. Market value will be determined from the city assessor's records.

Previous provisions based the permissible total repairs on 50 percent of "assessed value." Planning commission members said it was not clear whether this language meant "valuation" or "value." Assessed valuation is an arbitrarily designated percentage of full and true market value.

Farmers Ask
New Plainview
Bus Policy

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special) — The Plainview Board of Education, which has been discussing and changing its school bus policies, has another proposal to consider now.

A delegation of farmers, represented by LaVerne Clausen, presented this proposed policy to the board.

"Bus service is to be provided each rural patron as close to the patron's driveway as possible. For driveways of the regular route the following provision shall apply: Pupils will be expected to walk to the bus stop if the distance from the patron's house to the bus stop is not more than one-half mile. If the distance is more the driver will go into the patron's yard provided it is safe to do so and provided that an all-weather turn-around is available.

"In each case where the bus is not visible from the patron's house the decision whether or not to enter the patron's yard will be made by the bus supervisor. He shall consider the age of the pupils, distance from the road, condition of the driveway and adequacy of turn-around."

With Clausen were, Paul Chaffee, Gary Seibert, Raymond Thompson, Marcus Dittich, James Erickson, Blake Graner, Robert Kless, Albert Staeger, Frances Kotschade, Edwin Graner, Earl Herman and Mr. ad Mrs. Alfred Rolfe.

A decision will be made at the next meeting.

A GROUP of youths was given permission to use the old gym for independent basketball on Sunday. A few, including the cost to provide a school representative, will be established.

The board took no action on a request of Don E. Klassen to hold teenage dances in the old gym. Jaycees were permitted to hold a donkey basketball game.

The board was advised that the case involving whether the John Wolf children will pay tuition will be taken to higher courts.

Expenses were authorized for Superintendent Ray Pearson to attend a conference at Kansas City, Mo., April 19-21 and for members of the board to attend a state school board convention at St. Paul Jan. 13-15.

According to a new board policy, uncertified employees will be retired at age 65; employment after that will be on a personal, month-to-month basis.

THE 1964-65 school year will begin with a workshop Aug. 27. Classes will begin Aug. 30 and end May 28. The superintendent said that a new honor diploma may be awarded to graduates maintaining A and B averages.

The athletic policy was reviewed. Students not participating in a game are to buy their own ticket instead of the school doing it.

Discussion of the proposed nongraded school was continued. It may be put into operation next year. Pearson said that he will present the plan to the state in March. I approved Plainview might be the largest nongraded operation in the state. The plan would begin with English and social studies.

The board approved investment of surplus; about $5,600 in the building fund was invested.

Miles Cagley presided at the meeting in the absence of John Boehlke.

Hospital Suit
In Third Day
At Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — The $2,600 collection case brought by St. Francis Hospital, La Crosse, against Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ritter, Trempealeau, went into its third day this morning before a Trempealeau County Circuit Court jury.

Judge Merrill Farr, Eau Claire, presiding.

Dr. John Sevenants, La Crosse dermatologist, impleaded defendant, was to go on the stand this morning on direct examination by La Vern G. Kostner, Arcadia, attorney associated on the case with Richard Hollern, Madison.

THE CASE involves alleged nonpayment by the Ritters for care of Mrs. Ritter from Nov. 25, 1960, to Jan. 2, 1961, and Feb. 11 to March 31, 1961, for an ulcerous leg condition.

The dermatologist also was first on the witness stand Tuesday. On adverse examination by Robert Johns, La Crosse hospital attorney, he testified that treatments ordered for Mrs. Christine Ritter, 57, during her hospitalization were carried out and the charges made for care were fair and reasonable.

When she left the hospital both times he prescribed gentian violet ointment for application to the affected parts.

On cross-examination by Thomas Skemp, La Crosse, attorney for Mrs. Ritter, Dr. Sevenants said he knew Mrs. Ritter had diabetes when she first came to him Nov. 25, 1960, the day she was admitted to the hospital and the fact was entered on her record within the first 24 or 48 hours she was there.

HE SAID a person with diabetes is more susceptible to aggravations of an ulcerous condition and because of this, hospital attendants must be very careful in the care of a patient.

He stated that on her first admittance to the hospital, Mrs. Ritter had an ulcer many times larger than a silver dollar on the forepart of her left leg, and it was badly infected. He said the bacteriological study made Dec. 28 showed a bacteria known as pseudomonas, and he knew of this when she was admitted.

He also stated he knew sterile gauze was used in the bandages because he had watched the nurses apply them, and he knew only sterile gauze was kept on the floor of the hospital for this kind of treatment.

Upon direct examination by his attorney, Richard Hollern, Madison, Dr. Sevenants said on his first examination Mrs. Ritter had one ulcer, but during her stay in the hospital, developed subsequent ulcers which were not infected. He stated that she had come to him a second time at which time she had an ulcer which was infected.

Attorney Johns read adverse examination of Mr. Ritter taken Nov. 5, 1963, which stated that he had received two bills from the hospital totalling $2,600.18.

FINAL plaintiff's witness was Sister Regula, administrator of St. Francis since 1955.

On direct examination by Johns she said the hospital had received patients in 1961 who couldn't pay their bills in full, and the hospital was engaged in training nurses. Because of these facts, the hospital incurred some deficits.

Sister Regula said the hospital method of caring for Mrs. Ritter had been the same on both occasions she was there.

Quoting from an audit report for the year ending June 30, 1963, Sister Regula admitted that the hospital had a net gain of $180,000, when cross examined by Skemp, attorney for the defendant Ritters.

She also acquiesced in his statement from the audit report, received in evidence, that the net gain for the year ending June 30, 1962, was $229,245.

OTHER FIGURES from the report for 1963 showed that charges to patients totaled $1,239,138; general fund assets were $380,891, and plant fund assets were $7,073,816.70.

The administrator said the hospital had 265 patient beds, and operated on a sound economic basis. She said in 1963, charity work cost the hospital $16,696, and courtesy discounts to Catholic charities, $250.25.

On re-direct examination, Johns brought out that had debts in the 1963 fiscal year totaled $145,585.60; that the general fund had a liability of $712,573.56; the temporary fund, a $63,587.82 liability, and the plant fund liability was $802,071.97.

MRS. RITTER, first witness for the defense, said she no longer can do the housework or help in the barn on their farm three miles from Trempealeau, cannot garden or do the church work she was accustomed to. She said her husband and son have taken over the housework.

She said she received a cut in the leg when wind blew the car door shut as she was carrying a bag of groceries from a Winona store. The ulcer developed from the cut.

She said the pain in her leg became so terrific Dec. 21 at the hospital that she cried. Then the attendants removed the rubber covered pillow under her leg and placed it in a boehler frame which raised it and left the area affected by ulcers free of contact.

Cross-examination was scheduled to start today.

Detectors May Spot Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is reported to have supersensitive monitors operating near the Iron Curtain that record the take-offs of Soviet missiles and rockets and can trace changes in Soviet launching sites.

Space Business Daily, a trade publication, said Tuesday that the instruments, part of a project called Headbone, record the movements of all objects, even automobiles at close range.

It added a method has been found for telling which are missiles or spacecraft.

The Defense Department had no comment.

Blue Earth County Gets Redistricting Plans

THE LAW REQUIRES that Winona County be redistricted but our county commissioners have consistently refused to move on the matter.

Not so, however, in Blue Earth County of which Mankato is the county seat. There four plans for redistricting have been presented to the county board and at a meeting the other day in the district courtroom, some 100 Blue Earth County residents, many of them township officers, discussed the urgency of action.

The first plan presented was that of Walter Lehnert of Mankato township which had been adopted for recommendation by the Blue Earth County Township Officers Association.

However, two plans presented by William Noy of Vernon Center drew away some of that support. A fourth plan, similar to Lehnert's plan was presented by C. Ernest Johnson, LeRay township clerk.

ALL THE PLANS recognized two complete districts for the city of Mankato. Skyline village was bounced around a little from plan to plan, but representatives from there made it clear they didn't want to be lumped together with Mankato.

The big differences were in how to divide up the rest of the county, now in four districts, into three. Lehnert's plan, roughly, split the county into thirds, grouping them generally by geographic location — east and northeast third, northwest third, and southwest and extreme southern third.

SPEAKING TO allay any balance of power fears was Clarence Pohl, county planning board chairman and former county commissioner, who reminded the audience that commissioners, once elected, represent the whole county, not only their own district, regardless of where they reside.

Under the arrangement of four rural commissioners and one city commissioner, he said, the commissioners have "bent over backwards" to see that the city was treated fairly.

HE SAW NO REASON for the rural areas to feel they would not be treated the same, as the urban areas get more representation on the county board.

Body Faltering? Get New Parts

THE AMERICAN MEDICAL Association, in its review of medical advances in 1963, calls this the most exciting story of the year.

The amazing strides in the transplantation of organs in the human body.

Doctors have long possessed the surgical skill to carry out transplants, but have been frustrated by the "immunological mechanism" — the reaction which enables the body to fight off invading bacteria, viruses and foreign tissues.

Without this reaction, we would be prey to the first germ that attacked. But, because of it, the idea of organ transplantation was unthinkable.

Kidney transplants between identical twins had been possible for a decade because they were genetically the same. Transplants between other persons, though, even if they were related, were considered only as a last, desperate gamble in the face of certain death.

NOW, THANKS to new drugs that suppress the immunological mechanism, six successful liver transplants and the first two lung transplants were carried out in 1963. In other cases, a spleen, aortic valve of the heart and small intestine were transplanted.

Most amazing of all, toward the end of the year, the first successful transplant of an animal's organs — the kidneys of a monkey — to the body of a human was performed. Until it was done, this was even more unthinkable than human-to-human transplants.

The word "successful" must be qualified, of course. All patients except the last one died within a few weeks, though they lived longer than they would have without the operations. One of the lung patients died from an unrelated ailment.

But in science success is measured in a slow accumulation of small victories over the unknown.

THOUGH AN immense amount of work remains to be done, the implications for mankind are staggering, and read like something out of science fiction.

The day is coming when organ transplantation will be a medical commonplace. There will be organ banks all over the country, just as there are now blood banks. These spare parts, of course, must be taken from other humans (whose deaths leave undamaged the particular organ).

For a source of supply, many scientists point to the 40,000 people needlessly slaughtered by the automobile every year. Many of them are young and most are healthy when they go.

Here medicine treads on the province of the law, and it will fall to the states to re-examine laws which make it difficult or impossible for a donor or his next of kin to bequeath organs.

EVENTUALLY, completely artificial organs may solve this problem by dispensing with it. Artificial hearts — small, air-powered plastic pumps — have been implanted in animals. Plastic valves have been stitched into human hearts.

Facts Fail to Support Cuts

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

There is one weapon in a great nation's arsenal that we seldom give the consideration it deserves. That's the defense budget itself. The impression it makes upon a possible enemy, or upon your own morale, is quite important, along with the actual weapons that are bought.

Take the announcement of the latest Soviet defense budget. Just that simple public announcement may rack up victories for the Soviets every bit as important as victories it has won in battle or through subversion. The announcement was that the Soviet defense budget would be trimmed by almost 4.5%, or more than a half-billion dollars out of an announced total defense budget of less than $15 billion.

What happens when figures like that start to sink in around the world?

The first result is new support for every politician whose platform has included appeasement of, compromise with or accommodation of the Soviets. "See," they can say, "The Soviets really want to reduce tensions after all."

The second result, which we are already experiencing in this country, is to help justify trimming of our own and possibly other free world defense budgets.

Those results are clear triumphs for sheer propaganda. The facts simply do not support them.

IN THE FIRST place, Soviet defense budgets are admittedly double-entry bookkeeping on a massive scale. If the Soviets kept honest books on the subject, books that had to be opened up to the sort of scrutiny our defense budget gets, the figure for their defense budget probably would exceed $50 billion — an amount equal to our budget, but actually more impressive because it represents a considerably larger slice of the Soviet national pocketbook than our defense spending does of ours.

On that basis, the half-billion dollars that are getting so much attention melt down to something on the order of 1%. And a lot of that may well be accounted for by the shift of considerable numbers of military-age men to farming to make up a food shortage that must be overcome to permit future military planning. The big point here is simply that sending soldiers out to plow fields is not necessarily the same as beating your swords into plowshares; it's just putting your sword aside long enough to fill your army's granaries.

FAR MORE important than any such token cut in Soviet war spending is what is being done with the vast sums that still are going into war material. A look at some of their projects gives us no cause for comfort. In general, the picture is one of holding down conventional expenditures while still pouring considerable time and talent and money into a search for the sort of advanced weapons that could give a decided edge to their possessor.

Space weaponry is a field of high interest in the Soviet Union. It is scarcely even of academic interest to our civilian defense policy planners. And our foreign policy planners are far more interested in assuring the world that we won't put weapons into space than in questioning whether we need them or not.

How do you stand, sir?

NEWER FRONTIER

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

GOP Congressmen Hold Best Attendance Mark

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — If the Republicans wanted to make an issue of it, they could really embarrass the Democrats by proposing that congressmen be paid on piece-work basis, in other words on the number of days they work.

Inside fact is that the roll call of congressional absentees shows the Democrats easily the worst hooky-players, and this includes one of the intimate friends of the late President.

Champion absentee of the Senate in 1963 was Sen. Ed Long of Missouri, a Democrat. If it is true that absence makes the heart grow fonder, Long should be madly in love with Washington for he missed 46 per cent of Senate roll calls.

Long is the man whom the late Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee helped get appointed to the Senate Anti-Monopoly Subcommittee where Long promptly turned against his friend and pulled the rug out from under him on the investigation of high priced drugs in Latin America. It was one of the big disappointments Kefauver suffered shortly before his death.

No. 2 Senate absentee during the last session of Congress was "Georgious George" Smathers, the Florida Democrat, who missed 35 percent of major Senate roll calls.

"Georgious George" was given that name by the bevy of beautiful females on his office staff, one of them having been Miss Mary A. Martin, who occupied Bobby Baker's Washington Townhouse.

Smathers was a close friend of President Kennedy, but his absenteeism was not because of trips with the President, but rather his commuting back and forth to Miami.

IN THE HOUSE of Representatives, the champion absentee was Charlie Buckley, one time head of Tammany Hall and the man who master-minded John F. Kennedy's nomination in New York. During 1963 Buckley missed 67 percent of House roll calls which was just about par for the course as compared with other years.

Running almost a tie with Buckley was Harlem's No. 1 globe trotter, Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., whose absenteeism has been reported in these columns before. Adam not only likes to travel, but also commutes back and forth to Puerto Rico where his wife lives, and is paid $12,000 supposedly to answer Puerto Rican mail.

Powell missed 41 out of 119 roll calls and 124 out of 136 quorum calls. One of the roll calls Powell missed, incidentally, was on a bill to limit foreign travel by congressmen.

One reason for the better attendance record of Republicans over Democrats is better Republican discipline. Another is the large number of Democrats living in the big cities of New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Baltimore, many of whom conduct law practices on the side and spend about half the week at home in their law offices. They usually turn up for work in Congress Tuesday noon and leave Thursday afternoon, which gives them less than three days in Washington.

HOWEVER, two well-known Republicans would get drastic salary cuts if Congress should decide to pay on a piece work basis. Sen. Barry Goldwater, newly announced candidate for President, missed 28 percent of Senate roll calls last year; while Sen. Thurston Morton, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, didn't set a very good record by missing 29 percent. He was tied by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., and Sen. Russell Long, D-La.

If members of Congress were docked for the days they didn't work, the two senators who draw the highest salaries would be Margaret Chase Smith, R-Me., and Bill Proxmire, D-Wis. Both had 100 percent attendance records when it came to major roll calls.

Other senators who would be paid high salaries are Lister Hill, D-Ala., with a 97 percent score; John Williams, R-Del., 96 percent; Mike Monroney, D-Okla., and Calhoun Boggs, D-Del., both with 95 percent; Stephen Young, D-Ohio, and Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., both with 94 percent.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Commissioners Clamp Down

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Maybe the news ought to be hushed up, though Moscow would soon learn the truth anyhow — namely, that within the last three days a form of "police state" has been established in the District of Columbia.

The capital of the United States is supposed to be governed by laws passed by Congress. The three commissioners are appointed by the President, but they have no authority to write laws. They nevertheless have just promulgated a "law" which imposes fines and jail sentences on any citizen — whether he be a property-owner or a real-estate salesman or in the real-estate business — who refuses or fails to sell or rent housing accommodations to "any person because of the race, color, religion or national origin of such person."

Almost all of the states of the union, have not gone that far. Indeed, the Supreme Court of the United States in 1948 upheld the right of citizens not only collectively but individually to dispose of their property to whomever they pleased and to select a purchaser by any process of choice they cared to exercise.

The Supreme Court, in this case — known as Hurd v. Hodge — declared that, while a group of citizens in Washington, D.C., might enter into an agreement not to sell their property to certain purchasers, such an agreement could not be enforced in the courts on any dissenting signatory. But nowhere in the case is there any prohibition against the right of an individual to sell to whomever he wishes.

THE commissioners of the District of Columbia are local officials, but they rarely do anything of great importance without the guidance of the White House. The late President Kennedy favored the issuance of an order forbidding any racial discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing in the district, but the order was held in abeyance. Congressional committees expressed their disapproval and warned against action by the commissioners. There is no information available as to whether President Johnson was consulted by the commissioners before they announced that on Jan. 20 the new "law" will become effective.

The net effect of this development is to give support to the argument that "the end justifies the means." In the absence of action by Congress, the district commissioners went ahead anyhow. President Johnson will soon have to disclose whether he is in favor of the step taken by the district officials.

The text of the order issued by the commissioners says that "the police regulations of the District of Columbia" are to be considered as amended and that the action has been rendered necessary because, among other things, there is a "clear relationship between poor housing conditions and the health and comfort of the occupants, and the effects of such conditions also constitute a danger to the property of both whites and Negroes." Congress 72 years ago gave the commissioners here the right to make "police regulations" primarily to preserve order but nothing was said about the right of individuals under the constitution to dispose of their property in any way they wish.

THE WASHINGTON Star says editorially: "Finally, the mere existence of the district ordinance is bound to affect thinking in the suburbs to some extent. And in the final analysis, this may be the most important effect of all. For despite the injustices which no doubt exist within the district, the goal of providing more and better housing for Negroes will not be fully realized until the barriers also are relaxed to a greater degree beyond the city limits."

But the nearby states of Maryland and Virginia have not passed any law interfering with the right of citizens to use their own discretion in whatever sales of their property they may wish to make, nor is there any statute before Congress which goes that far.

The Washington Post in an editorial says: "No one can expect this new law to have a sudden and radical effect upon Washington's overpriced housing market for Negroes. The uniformly white neighborhoods in the city are usually the expensive ones, and the ordinance cannot reach economic segregation."

But such a prediction now is surrounded by doubt. For if the district commissioners can pass a "law" as an amendment to "police regulations" demanding that citizens dispose of their property in accordance with the dictates of the commissioners, then there is no reason why economic help cannot be demanded by citizens who cannot afford "adequate" housing and who would be assisted through taxpayers' money made available for that purpose.

THE DISTRICT commissioners cannot, of course, disburse public funds on their own initiative. They must have a law of Congress behind them, and it seems unlikely that Congress would appropriate money to subsidize residents of the district so that individuals with low incomes may enjoy more adequate housing in the better sections of the city, where most of the government officials reside.

A majority of the residents in the city of Washington now are Negroes, and there are demands for "home rule." If this comes, the district officials would then have control of the disbursement of all tax receipts and would be in a position to bring about "economic integration" — which, theoretically at least, it might be argued, would be just another form of "equal rights."

To Your Good Health

Frigidity Can Be Helped

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What can be done to help overcome frigidity? This condition has persisted for 10 years. — Mrs. M. D.

Since the cause of frigidity is usually psychological, the answer might be "consult a psychiatrist." However, if one is not readily available what other approach is there?

Sex is a basic biological drive, and when it is absent (or rather when it is thwarted or suppressed) the point is to figure out why.

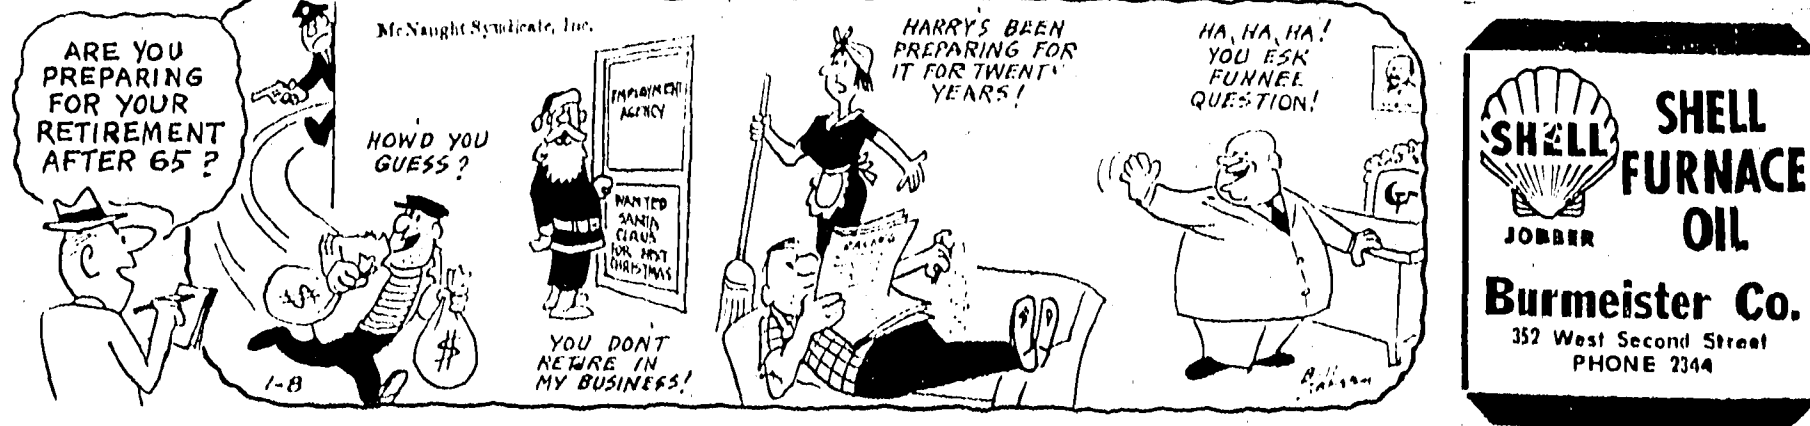

Quite a few factors can be involved. Leading among them are: Early training concerning sex activity — the imparting of an attitude is "training"; a distorted moral viewpoint; distaste for the physical aspects; overwhelming modesty; lack of love for or subtle resentment of your mate; fear of pregnancy.

Physical factors may be present. Infection or other disorders of the genital tract can be a cause, not necessarily recognized by the patient.

So, with this in mind, a woman should see a gynecologist (specialist in feminine diseases) or alternatively her personal physician.

Be prepared to discuss the subject frankly. If you approach the interview with restraint and reservations, and don't expose the facts, there will be no solution.

Ed Buck Says—

INSTRUCTIONESE SPOKEN HERE

So someone presented you with that new camera or projector for Christmas. Great!

But what's that you say? The hieroglyphics in the instruction book about "Shutter Speed Ring (Q)" or "Film Index Dial (71)" are just too much?

Don't call Berlitz! We're old hands at translating instruction book jargon into clear, comprehensible American. And if you'll bring that new camera or projector down to the store along with the instruction manual, a few on-the-spot demonstrations with the equipment itself sure beats diagrams with "key" letters splashed all over them like alphabet soup. We'll be glad to fill you in on the accessory items too—such as flash attachments and carrying cases—that are available to make your photo-gift even more enjoyable.

Whether your holiday picture-taking was done with a new camera or old, we'd like to suggest that the time to get your film in to us for expert processing is right now.

A snapshot of junior with the new chemistry set the folks sent him, or of your little girl with the new doll from Aunt Clara, makes a wonderful enclosure with post-Christmas thank-you notes.

Women in White House Topic at Chautauqua Club

"Women in the White House" by Mary Ann Means and "The White House and its Thirty-Three Families" by Amy La Follette Jensen were books used by Mrs. Rupert Cox in preparing her paper presented to members of the Chautauqua Club on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. V. Robb Sr.

Beginning in 1800, when John and Abigail moved into the White House as its first occupants, Mrs. Cox traced its history to the present time. Each president and his family has left some of their personalities and memories, she said. Famed Pennsylvania Avenue was only a dirt road leading a mile and a half to the Capitol Bldg. when Adams was President.

DOLLY MADISON'S hats were the "talk of Washington" and she set a pace and timetable that has rarely, if ever, been matched, said Mrs. Cox. At the age of 80 Mrs. Madison still was acting as adviser to presidents, their wives, or official hostesses.

The White House, as we know it, said Mrs. Cox, has undergone many changes over the years. It was rebuilt after the British burned it in 1814. The North Portico was finally built when Jackson was president and $10,000 spent to furnish the East Room.

Gas lights were installed when Tyler was president. New kitchens and electricity came during the Harrison regime. Roof repair and extra rooms were added when Coolidge was president, but it was during the Truman years when a really major job of rebuilding and repair had to be done to make the White House safe to live in, Mrs. Cox pointed out.

PRESIDENT Tyler's wife, Julia, was the first one to have "Hail to the Chief" played whenever the President appeared, said Mrs. Cox. No dancing or card playing was permitted during the Polk Administration.

Mrs. Fillmore was responsible for the first library in the White House and Mrs. Hayes was the first president's wife who was a college graduate. Mrs. Harrison began to collect the china from previous administrations and put it on display. The corner stone on the White

Society Postpones Anniversary Event

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — When the Rosary Society of the St. Stanislaus Catholic Church met Sunday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Adrian Lisowski, announced that the 50th anniversary banquet for the society would be postponed indefinitely, because of the illness of the pastor, the Very Rev. Joseph J. Andrzejewski.

The society is starting a Spiritual Bouquet for the pastor's recovery. It began Sunday and will continue until his birthday, Feb. 6. Also the society will have a Mass said for the pastor's recovery.

The president read an article entitled "Ten Sure Ways to Smash a Church Organization." Following the meeting a social hour was held, with Mrs. Albert Slaby winning the attendance prize and Group 4 with Mrs. John Motosko, as chairman, serving the lunch.

House reads: "Pray Heaven to Bestow the Best of Blessings on this House and all that shall hereafter inhabit it may none but honest and wise men ever rule under this Roof," quoted Mrs. Cox.

SHE CONCLUDED, "We must never minimize what the White House, just as a building, means to America. Strong men come into that building with tears on their cheeks I think the White House should never be overshadowed by anything nor ill-treated."

Mrs. William Zilliox assisted Mrs. Robb during the social hour.

Rival Farm Groups Set For Battles

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rival farm groups are rounding up enforcements for battles over farm legislation in this presidential election year.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has deployed its top leaders to meetings in agricultural areas to enlist support for its policies which seek a gradual withdrawal of government from agriculture. By early February, the organization expects to have held rallies in virtually every state.

It's rival organizations hold meetings here this week to win backing for stronger farm programs expected to be recommended by the Johnson administration for cotton, wheat, dairy products and possibly some other commodities. Active in these meetings are the National Grange, the National Farmers Union, the Missouri Farmers Association and the National Farm Organization.

The Farm Bureau expects a broadened use of government compensatory payments to be the most important single issue in the consideration of new legislation and possibly the major farm issue in the presidential campaign. It opposes such payments, but most of the other

Greek Migrant Is Luck in Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Peter Pangas, who came to Australia 52 years ago as a poor Greek migrant, won the $224,000 first prize in a government lottery today.

Pangas, 65, said that two years ago he had saved enough money to buy a cafe in Sydney, then won $13,440 in another government lottery.

"Now the first thing I want to do is to sell the business," he said.

farm groups look with favor on them.

Payments are now made under existing programs for wool, feed grain and wheat.

The administration itself is not idle in the effort to enlist public support for its proposals which it says are designed to strengthen farm income. It summoned a number of livestock industry representatives as well as farm organization leaders to meet with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman Wednesday and to discuss ways of limiting imports of beef. Many cattlemen blame increasing imports for last year's drop in cattle prices — a drop from which the industry has not yet recovered.

Machines Have Had Men Worried Since Late '70s

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Machines that put men out of jobs are a growing worry to American labor. They have been a worry since John Henry, the legendary steel driver of the 1870s, tried to outwork a new-fangled steam drill and died with a hammer in his hand.

Today, rising concern over the problem of automation appears to be nearing something of a climax in the highest reaches of government, labor and industry.

Rep. William Fitts Ryan, D-N.Y., calling for a congressional study, warns of an approaching "economic revolution" as even more men give way to automated production lines and electronic brains.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers chief, warn of the specter of a chronic mass army of the unemployed they claim would make today's jobless total of 3.5 million look like a corporal's guard.

John I. Snyder Jr., head of a multimillion-dollar company that makes automation equipment, says machines are replacing men at the rate of 40,000 jobs a week.

Meanwhile, the labor force grows at the rate of more than one million workers a year, the Labor Department says.

No one, in short, disagrees that the problem is there. Just how bad it is, and what to do about it, is something else again.

John Henry took the most direct approach, according to folklore, wielding a 20-pound hammer in each hand to drill two seven-foot holes in solid rock faster than the rudimentary steam drill.

"A man ain't nothing but a man," John Henry told his foreman in the words of one folk song, "but before I let that steam drill beat me in the ground, I'll die with a hammer in my hand."

John Henry won but he died in the effort.

Men no longer risk their lives trying to compete physically with machines that threaten their jobs, but their economic survival is at stake.

Take the railroads of today, facing a crisis that has been building up for more than four years after diesel engines replaced virtually all the old coal burners.

The railroads served notice they intended to eliminate some 50,000 jobs as unnecessary, bringing the long dispute to a head. Congress finally stepped in with an emergency law to avert a nationwide train strike with compulsory arbitration.

The railroad problem could be a harbinger of a long series of future labor disputes over automation.

The AFL-CIO says unemployment and automation are the most vital problems facing U.S. labor. It has begun a political drive to elect throughout the nation men pledged to find a solution.

The problem, says Reuther, is beyond the power of collective bargaining alone.

He sees it this way: "When you sit at the bargaining table—and you represent two workers and there is only one job, there is no magic in the bargaining process that can solve the problem."

What, then, would organized labor do to solve it?

Shorter hours, a bigger share for workers of the productivity increases from automation, broad government programs to educate the young and care for the elderly are some of the demands.

Reuther, quoting educator James B. Conant, says the approximately one million young persons who don't go to school and can't get a job are "social dynamite on America's doorstep."

The nation, Reuther says, will need 41 million new jobs in the next 10 years to take care of new young workers and offset job displacement by automation.

But "that's only the beginning," he said. "This is a whole new revolution because it's built around the electronic brain."

The computer of today, with an impulse cycle of three-tenths of a millionth of a second, is already as obsolete as the Model T Ford he said.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz calls the proposed $11-billion tax cut the best short-term solution to unemployment. He says it would spur activity.

For the long term, he favors a broad range of educational legislation to teach the young and unskilled how to compete in an increasingly technological job market.

But both solutions are bogged down in Congress and organized labor is becoming impatient.

The problem worries industry too, for if jobs disappear, who will buy the rising flood of goods from the cornucopia of foundation is focusing its primary attention."

But, he adds the problem "is too large, too all-encompassing, too serious a responsibility not to be everyone's."

Sparta General to Direct Missile Range

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Leighton I. Davis, a native of Sparta, Wis., was selected Monday to direct a new missile range division which will have control of both the Atlantic and Pacific missile ranges.

Davis has been commander of the missile test center at Cape Kennedy, and the Pacific Ocean Range off Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

Wouldn't Inform, MacArthur Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur says he once faced the threat of dismissal from West Point because he wouldn't inform on upper classmen.

He told the story in the first of seven installments of his memoirs, printed in the Jan. 10 issue of Life magazine.

MacArthur said that shortly after he entered the U.S. Military Academy in 1899, he was called as a witness against cadets after a hazing.

He recalled, "I explained fully all circumstances of the matter but refused to divulge the names of the upper classmen involved. My mother and father had taught me two immutable principles — never to lie, never to tattle."

"But if the court insisted and ordered me to reveal the names and I then refused to obey the order, it would in all likelihood mean my dismissal and the end of my hopes and dreams."

MacArthur said that today, 60 years later, he could still "feel the beads of sweat on my brow."

You can count on a one-pound jar or can of small boiled onions serving at least four persons.

Beilfuss Takes Oath as New Badger Justice

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A new chief justice and justice were installed in ceremonies in Wisconsin's Supreme Court chamber Monday.

George R. Currie, 63, was elevated to chief justice, the 17th man to hold the high position in the state's history. Bruce Beilfuss of Neillsville was given the oath as the court's newest member. The 48-year-old Circuit judge was elected in April to a 10-year term on the Supreme Court.

Wednesday, January 8, 1964 WINONA DAILY NEWS 13

Currie, the court's senior member, succeeds Timothy Brown, 73, who has retired. Brown has been on the seven-member court 14 years, serving as chief justice since May, 1962.

The oath elevating Currie was administered by Justice Thomas E. Fairchild. The oath for Beilfuss was given by Justice Horace Wilkie.

The State Bar handled arrangements for the ceremony and as part of it, newly-sworn Justice Beilfuss gave the oath to Lowell Schoengarth as judge of the 17th Circuit where Beilfuss presided. Schoengarth also was elected in April. Currie's annual salary goes from $17,500 to $25,000. Beilfuss will receive $24,000.

2 Milwaukee Men Die in Car Fire

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Two Milwaukee area men were killed Monday when their car burst into flames after striking the concrete supports of a highway bridge.

Pronounced dead upon arrival at a hospital were Jeffery A. Hivley, 23, and David A. Harter, 21, both of the Milwaukee suburb of Glendale. They were returning from a trip to California.

Close Watch On Kidney Transplants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kidneys from a monkey, a chimpanzee and two baboons have been transplanted in four humans since last October. Physicians at Tulane University Charity Hospital in New Orleans and Colorado General and the Veterans Administration hospitals in Denver who performed the operations have said that without the transplants the four recipients had no chance of survival.

A 32-year-old woman, who was not identified, received the first transplant of a primate's kidneys—a monkey—last October at Tulane. She later died of the disease that prompted the transplant.

Jefferson Davis, 44, a New Orleans dock worker, was believed to have been the second person to undergo such a transplant. He received the kidneys of a chimpanzee Nov. 5.

Davis died Monday at Charity Hospitals in New Orleans.

Dr. Brian McCracken, an internist, said the kidneys were functioning at the time of death. A chest infection followed by pneumonia was listed as the cause of death.

The transplants using the kidneys of baboons were both recorded at Colorado General Hospital. The first occurred Dec. 20 and the recipient was a 40-year-old man who is reported in good condition today.

The second transplant was reported Monday. Spokesmen said a 45-year-old man received two kidneys from a baboon in a 5½-hour operation. His condition was termed satisfactory.

Leap Year Chance For Millions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Here it is Leap Year again, and millions of maidens are scheming against the peace of mind of millions of bachelors.

Many will land a man, but a lot of them won't.

What is the difference between those who will succeed and those who will fail?

The difference is between good and bad feminine psychology.

Some girls look at the crop of unmarried males and are dismayed at the start.

"It's hopeless," say these girls. "All the best men are already married."

As a married man myself I can subscribe to the partial accuracy of this observation. But it reflects a defeatist attitude.

Certainly it is true that on the whole married men are more attractive than bachelors. But they weren't born more attractive. They were made more attractive by the civilizing influence of the women they married.

A wise girl realizes that this is the real challenge of matrimony — to take a mediocre, scrubby, forlorn bachelor and build him into the better man only she can help him become.

It is bad psychology for a girl to let a marital prospect suspect that she is looking for a walk to the altar chiefly in order to escape the long daily trek to her job in the office. No man likes to feel that his main function in life is to buy pork chops and pin curls for a Lazy Jane.

What are some examples of good feminine psychology?

Well, first of all, don't overdo that "woman mystery" act, girls. Don't be too unapproachable. Let your fellow know pretty quickly that you're fond of him.

Remember that while no man wants to be smothered, they all hanker to be mothered a bit.

As the average employer is too busy to spend his entire day patting an employee on the back, the employee looks forward to getting at home the petting he doesn't get at the office.

He wants from a potential wife the security, encouragement and approval he doesn't receive from his boss on the job.

Bachelors are wild things, and must be tamed with care.

The way to win a bachelor is to wine him and dine him and treat him with kindness and give him the feeling that life with you will be better and safer and — above all — more comfortable, than life is without you.

If you do this, he'll eat out of your hand, never miss his lost freedom, let you mold him as you will. Then in some future Leap Year other single girls in his office will look at your husband and say:

"Gee, what chance have I got? All the best men are already married."

UP AND AWAY . . . Robert Dunn of Winona Aviation Service, Inc., stands beside his firm's new twin-engine Piper Comanche at Max Conrad Field. The plane, which will be used in charter service, carries three passengers in addition to a pilot.

It's average air speed is 185 miles per hour. Dunn says, and it can land at almost any air field at which a single-engine plane can land. (Daily News photo)

13 Americans Bitten by Cat In Peru Survive

LIMA, Peru (AP) — All 13 Americans being treated after being bitten by a rabid cat are feeling well, Rolland Rich, acting director of the Linguists headquarters here said Tuesday.

He said a military plane carried enough antirabies serum to the victims at Yarinacacha, 300 miles northeast of here, where the advance base of the Linguist institute's summer bases is located.

The victims are women and children of missionaries. Usually referred to as Bible translators, the missionaries teach Christianity to the primitive Indian tribes.

The serum was lent by the U.S. Peace Corps in Lima. Rich said this would be replaced by a shipment of serum from the Civil Air Medical Research Institute at Oklahoma City.

Ribicoff Says He's Not V.P. Candidate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, often mentioned in speculation about the Democratic vice presidential nominee, says he's not a candidate.

Family Happy to Welcome Single Son

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — Only one child was born to Mrs. Louis Krutz last weekend, and "I'm real happy," says the father.

After welcoming one set of triplets and three sets of twins, the Krutzes again expected triplets or twins. Krutz said he was glad this time it was "just Dennis William," the new son.

Anti-Castro Group Will Continue Fight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An anti-Castro organization headed by Manuel Artime, 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion leader, said today it "possesses the means to carry to Cuba a freedom war in 1964."

Cesar Baro, second in command of the Revolutionary Recovery Movement, said, "We have found the needed support."

There have been reports that the movement has military units in Central America.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Six Schools In 2 Years

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

Special efforts are being made in many localities to educate disadvantaged children to a level where they will become employable.

Local school people often find, however, that these children too often slip through their fingers before they can be given adequate help. The problem is aggravated by families moving about in search of work—usually the unskilled types of jobs which are so rapidly disappearing.

Jane is a case in point. She was labelled by school authorities as a "disadvantaged child." She was new in the school and her second-grade teacher discovered that her lack of knowledge of words and inexperience with books handicapped her in learning to read.

A visit to Jane's home revealed some of the reasons. No books or other reading material were in sight.

ENTERING a new school was "old hat" to Jane. This was her sixth school. But up to now no one had paid much attention to her home life and lack of background.

In the previous schools teachers held the attitude that only teachers knew enough of the mysteries to impart knowledge such as learning to read. Parents were not only not asked to help they were, in fact, requested not to try to help.

Now, in the new school, with a special study of disadvantaged children in progress all of the aspects of Jane's life were being considered—with the school making special provisions, costly ones in some cases.

Teacher-loads were reduced from 30 to 20. After-school classes were provided for extra individual help. Supplementary books were available for pupils such as Jane to carry home where, it was hoped, parents would spend some time in helping their children gain an interest in reading.

WHETHER JANE'S parents had a "carry-over" from the previous school situation in which they were forbidden to help, or whether they merely had the attitude that "school doesn't matter—it isn't important," they showed no interest in helping Jane.

Regardless of the reason, before the problem could be solved and the cooperation of the parents gained, Jane and her parents moved on!

The family of disadvantaged children must, somehow, become interested in a good education for their children. The family is the one continuous influence on children such as Jane as they are moved from place to place.

Without cooperation of the family, teachers are finding the work discouraging. Children accept only those things as worthwhile that their parents consider important.

Consequently, an approach through the family of disadvantaged children must be added to the many-pronged approach already being made in the schools to correct this problem.

To reach migrant families, the approach should be nationwide.

Wash parsley and drain; pack lightly in a wide-mouth screw-top jar and refrigerate for good storage.

1,272,000 Visit Mount Rushmore

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — Visits to Mount Rushmore National Memorial soared to a record 1,272,000 during 1963, Supt. W. Leon Evans said Tuesday.

The figure represents an increase of 63,000 visitors over the previous record established in 1962.

Pope Puts New Stress on Christian Unity

By EUGENE LEVIN
Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI during his pilgrimage to the Holy Land put a new stress on the search for Christian unity, suggesting that his Roman Catholic Church and other churches draw closer in a spirit of understanding while working to achieve a united church.

The 66-year-old pontiff has not put aside his vision of a single Christian church with the bishop of Rome at its head. But two momentous acts of his pilgrimage indicate a willingness to accept a sort of coexistence for the present.

In a moving message from Bethlehem, the Pope committed his church anew to "every possibility by which mutual understanding, respect and charity may be fostered so as to smooth the way to a future — and, please God, not too distant — meeting with our Christian brothers still separated from us."

Later the Pope and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras of Constantinople (Istanbul) told their 800 million followers they must work and pray for a united church.

Clearly Pope Paul was seeking to take the emphasis away from talk of eventual Christian unity, which many religious scholars believe may be centuries away, to talk of closer cooperation now.

Three basic elements emerged from his speeches in Palestine: That the "will of Christ is pressing" on all Christians to attain "the supreme blessing and honor of a united church."

That the Roman Catholic Church continues to consider itself the one church "already within the safety of the fold of Christ," and that unity must signify a return of other Christians for whom "the door is open."

That for the present Roman Catholics and other Christians must have as their objective a desire "that every step toward reunion and interchange of views should be inspired by love of Christ and the church."

No Tax Hike In Rockefeller N.Y. Budget

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today handed the Legislature a 1964 program that promised no tax increases, urged a few specific new programs but shied away from major political, home-front controversy that might damage his presidential hopes.

He proposed revisions and modifications in several specialized areas but recommended no sweeping new programs in matters of public interest and application.

The Republican governor's annual message to the opening session of the legislature advocated:

Repeal of the state's 51-year-old laws that specify that minimum size of railroad train crews.

A pay raise for state employees.

Authorization for grand jury presentments — reports that criticize public officials although no criminal charges are made.

A single, June primary in this presidential election year.

Shooting Just Natural to These Texas Families

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Henry Brown Jr., 40, believes in returning favors, even when it involves an assault to murder charge.

He told attorneys Tuesday he won't press charges against Myrtle Ross, 44, even though he said she shot him.

The reason: Brown said he shot Myrtle's sister last year. "They forgave me and now I wish to do the same for her family."

Dist. Atty. James Barlow wasn't in an equally forgiving mood. He said he will submit the case to the grand jury.

Polaris A3 Missile Tested

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. — The POLARIS A3 missile designed to bring all land areas within its range, has scored another successful launching, its 16th in 18 launchings.

The land-pat firing Tuesday night achieved all objectives, according to preliminary data, the Navy said.

ETTRICK MAN ILL

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Ed Beirne was taken to a La Crosse hospital by ambulance early Tuesday morning.

DEAR ABBY:

Return Booze, Doctor Advised

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an M.D. who has recently moved to a new, medium-sized town. In times past I have received gifts of liquor at Christmas from both colleagues and patients. I do not drink, nor do I serve liquor in my home. Neither do I want to give liquor to another person. I do not want to be identified with the drinking crowd, and yet to refuse such a gift may create bad feelings. How do you advise I handle this?

DEAR "TEETOTALING": Return the liquor with the following note:

"Dear _____: Thanks for the Christmas 'spirits'. You were thoughtful and generous, but I don't use alcohol. And while I pass no judgment on those who do, I cannot bring myself to give it to them. I am just peculiar that way. I hope you understand."

DEAR ABBY: My husband doesn't approve of my writing to a stranger with a personal problem, so please put your answer in the paper and use a phony name. We have one child and my sister has three. Every Christmas we spend five dollars on a gift for each one of her children. She spends five dollars on a gift for our child. My husband says that either we should spend a total of FIVE dollars on all her children, or else she should spend $15 on a gift for our one. Maybe this will help you. My sister's husband makes more than mine does. What do you think?

DEAR "C. H.": In making up your Christmas gift budget, allow "X" number of dollars for each family. Then divvy it up to provide a gift for each one. Naturally, the family with 12 children can't expect to be remembered as the family with one child. This is the fairest system I know.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me as I can't quit thinking about it and my school work is suffering. A boy called me up and asked if I remembered him. I got flustered and couldn't think, so I foolishly told him I didn't remember him. I guess he was embarrassed, because he said goodbye in rather a hurry. After he hung up, I remembered who he was. He is a doll from school and I do remember him now. Well, when he sees me at school he just looks right through me. I want to let him know I do remember him and want him to call me again, but I don't know how. Should I call him up? Help!

DEAR MADE: Don't call him. Ask a friend of yours to tell a friend of his that you do remember him, and regret the boo boo on the phone, and hope he'll call you again. Then, start hoping.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PATTI: When in Rome — watch out.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Intense Year For Johnson

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — For President Johnson 1964, which will be the most intense year of his life, is like being condemned to a gymnasium. It is going to be an endless workout. That seems to be the way he wants it.

Johnson was 46 and President Dwight D. Eisenhower 64 when they had their heart attacks in 1955. It laid them both up for months. Thereafter Eisenhower carefully paced himself through six more years of the presidency.

Johnson did the opposite. Starting the day after he left the hospital, he invited newspaper reporters to his home. He gave the impression of a man raring to go, which is probably the exact impression he wanted to give.

At any rate, he seemed to take his heart attack as an invitation to pitch harder.

After some months of rest, that year Johnson returned to his job as Democratic majority leader in the Senate and resumed his hectic pace. Then in 1960, when he had to campaign for the vice presidency, he outdid even his Senate energy.

Johnson, in his almost three years under President John F. Kennedy, continued to spread his physical effort like jam over days and nights as he whipped around making speeches and on foreign trips assigned him by Kennedy.

In all this, since Johnson was a completely secondary figure in the Kennedy administration, he was not under severe tension. Kennedy was the one who had to endure that. He was the one who had to make decisions and do the struggling.

Now Johnson gets the full load of the physical and mental activity which go with the presidency, plus its tensions. In short, 1964 will be the greatest year of strain in his life. Just the physical part of it is a kind of physical torture: the handshaking, the reception lines, the speechmaking, the banquets, the trips abroad, the battles with Congress, the need to stay in camera focus.

On top of it all, will come the campaign for election.

In less than two months in office he has put a far heavier physical strain on himself than even the very active Kennedy.

Johnson seems unable to sit quietly and, so far as newsmen are concerned, to stop talking. He bounces in and out, up and down, consults with advisers, holds instant news conferences, meets with his Cabinet, hunts deer, gives personally conducted tours of his Texas ranch, keeps talking, has barbecues, strolls the streets, makes pronouncements, orders people around — he's noted for that — and keeps talking.

There's no reason to think this won't be his routine for the rest of the year. How does all this set with a man who had a truly bad heart attack eight years ago? So far it seems to have worked all right.

Just a month ago one of his doctors, looking back over Johnson's eight years since the attack, says, "He has done beautifully. I don't know of anyone who gets up earlier, goes to bed later, works harder, and gets more done without any trouble than the President. He tolerates stresses that most people can't."

An egg nog is an excellent pick-up and if you have an electric blender you can make the beverage easily. For an orange nog, blend an egg with a half cup of orange juice and a dash of salt.

Nehru Reported Feeling Better After Good Rest

BHUBANESWAR, India (AP) — Ailing Prime Minister Nehru was reported feeling better today after a restful night, and an associate said he might be back on the job in another day.

The Indian leader, 74, here for the annual meeting of his ruling Congress party, canceled all engagements Tuesday. Doctors ordered him to bed, saying he was suffering from weakness and high blood pressure.

Doctors summoned from New Delhi advised Nehru to take a complete rest and accept no engagements for two weeks, the first announcement. Later "two weeks" was changed to "for the present."

But Kumarawami Kamaraj, Congress party president, visited Nehru today and reported to the party session that the prime minister was "in excellent health and excellent spirits."

Nehru wanted to attend today's session, Kamaraj said, but the doctors advised "at least one more day's rest."

Since March, 1962, when he stepped down from office, Nehru has appeared to age by 10 or 20 years. Although officials insist there is nothing vitally wrong with him, outside medical men have speculated that he suffers from hardening of the arteries, common in men his age. His own doctors have declined to comment.

Alaskan Dealer Has His Troubles

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — To Alaskans there's no place like home, but even they sometimes get the feeling the 49th state is pretty remote.

George F. Merz, Anchorage auto dealer, said Tuesday he placed an order with a Chicago firm for new auto contract forms.

The company's return letter said: "We wish to inform you that we only do business in the continental United States and we have no facilities for printing in a foreign language."

Another Ghost Rises From Dempsey Past

NEW YORK (AP) — Another ghost from the past has risen to haunt Jack Dempsey. Now they are claiming he used loaded gloves in 1919 when he won the world heavyweight boxing title from Jess Willard.

The story is revealed in the memoirs of the late Jack (Doc) Kearns, his manager at the time, as published Wednesday in a copyrighted feature in Sports Illustrated. Dempsey denied it in the same article. Kearns claimed he used plaster of paris and water in bandaging Dempsey's hands to insure a 10-1 bet of $10,000 that Dempsey would win it in one round. Kearns lost, for due to a comedy of errors Dempsey won in three rounds.

Dempsey's ex-manager said the fighter was "entirely innocent of what happened."

The article quoted Dempsey as commenting, "Ridiculous! I could take an oath. In fact

I will. I hope to God I die right now, and my wife and children, too, if there is any truth in what Kearns said."

Dempsey was out of town and couldn't be reached immediately for further comment.

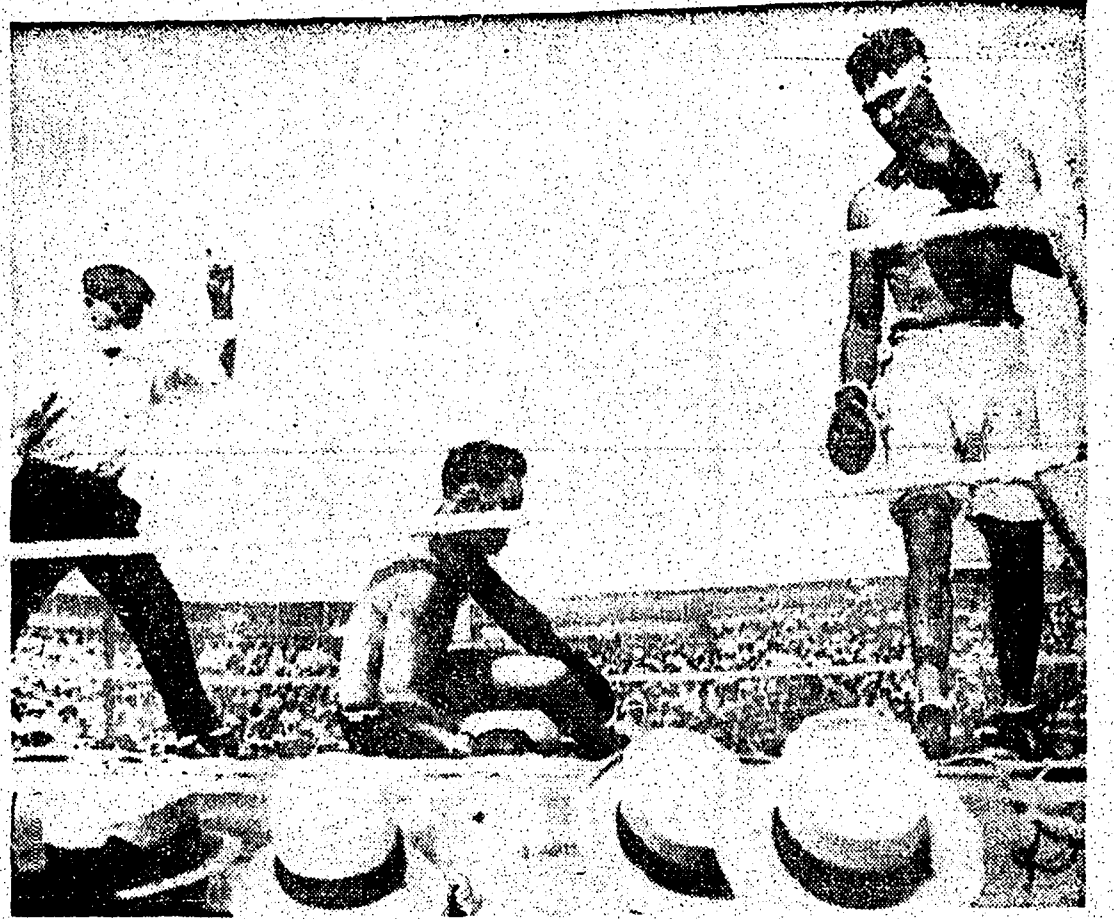

A month ago Benny Marshall of the Birmingham News wrote that Dempsey had been doped before his first fight with Gene Tunney in Philadelphia. At the time, Dempsey said he was not sick the day of the fight but added, "a doctor told me the next day, I'd probably been given a Mickey Finn and I probably was ill for three or four days after that."

In reference to the 1919 bout, Willard, now 82, told Sports Illustrated.

"I'm glad that Kearns finally was man enough to admit it. First time Dempsey hit me, I knew the gloves were loaded. He knocked me down seven times, maybe eight. I don't recall exactly now. But every time he hit me, I could feel another bone or two breaking. I got robbed by the king of the robbers. I guess we could say that Kearns. As long as I got robbed, I'm glad I got robbed by the best man in the country at stealing.... Nobody ever knocked me out. But I was blind. I was dazed from getting clobbered by those chunks of cement. My face was all broken, and my head was, too."

HE DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED? Heavyweight champion Jess Willard takes one of his many counts in his championship match with Jack Dempsey in Toledo, Ohio, in 1919. In memoirs published today, Jack (Doc) Kearns, Dempsey's manager at the time, claims Dempsey fought with loaded gloves. Willard was down seven times in the first round and did not come out for the fourth. (AP Photofax)

St. Mary's Spurs to Win, Hawks Trip

Redmen Even MIAC Record

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

It only took 4½ minutes Tuesday night at Terrace Heights for St. Mary's to notch its eighth win of the season, and second of the MIAC campaign over St. Thomas 68-52.

For the first five minutes of the game, both teams seemed intent on throwing the ball away. The rest of the first half was spent mainly in watching the sphere miss the basket. The Redmen finally got untracked with a minute gone in the second half, and in those deciding 4½ minutes, reeled off 13 straight points to put the game out of reach.

"I WAS REAL pleased that we stayed calm and waited for them to make their move," said St. Mary's Coach Ken Willgen. "At least we didn't go out and throw the ball away trying to get the basket."

Willgen also had special praise for freshman guard Dennis Ludden, who hit a pair of clutch buckets in the second half. "It was just a matter of waiting it out," said Willgen. "I know that Ludden could shoot, but it took time for him to find the range. It's the first real chance he has had to play, and he looked real good."

The game started in typical fashion of games played 30 years ago. With nearly 5½ minutes gone in the game, the score read 3-1 in favor of St. Mary's. Jim Rockers hit a free throw, and the Redmen stretched their lead to 8-1 before St. Thomas started its scoring machine rolling. Bruce Heidtke hit a long jumper with 12:04 showing on the clock for the Toms' first field goal of the game.

THEIR NEXT two-pointer didn't come until five minutes later, but two quick buckets cut the Redmen's margin to 17-15. This was as close as the Toms were to come as St. Mary's finished the half resting on a four-point margin at 24-20. The Redmen shot a miserly 28 percent for the first half, but still topped the Toms, who managed only five field goals for 18 percent.

It didn't take St. Mary's long to get untracked in the second half. Mike Maloney led the way on the 13-point spurge to move the count to 38-22. It was just a matter of time from that point on. St. Thomas cut the gap to eight on two different occasions, but the Redmen pulled away in the final seconds.

"I know we can shoot better than that," said Willgen after the game. "The boys are hesitating just enough to upset their rhythm, and the shots missed."

ST. MARY'S played the game without the services of the ailing Roger Pytlewski, rated the best outside shot on the Redmen squad. "Pytlewski knows he's a good shot, and doesn't hesitate when he shoots," said Willgen. "The rest of the boys are good shots too, but they don't seem to be sure of themselves when they get out on the floor."

Maloney paced the Redmen, who now stand 2-2 in the loop, with 21 points. Al Williams showed some of his old form in firing in 15 points. For the Toms, who stand 0-5 in the MIAC and 4-8 overall, reserve Tom Rauh bagged 11 points, and ace forward Tom Randall was held to 10.

St. Mary's Wins 9th Straight

St. Mary's Junior High School cashed in on its ninth straight victory Tuesday by crushing Elks Club 84-39.

A torrid second half saw Coach Bill Hargeshner's crew break from a 26-16 halftime lead to make it 53-20 by the end of three quarters.

Hans Meiers bagged 31 points, and Bob Gredin was close behind with 30. Pat Willgen added 11. Chris Bubblitz and Joe Helgeson had 11 each for Elks.

THE BIG LEAP... Jim Brown (22) of Georgetown University, the smallest man on either team, leaps shoulder high to push in a basket against Canisius College in the Georgetown Gymnasium at Washington Tuesday night. Tim O'Mara of Canisius, on whose shoulder Brown seems to be sitting, had a foul called on him during the shot, and Brown also made good on the free throw. The other player is John Brennan (31) of Canisius. Georgetown won 87-78. (AP Photofax)

High Stepping Chiefs Improving With Height

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At Oklahoma City University, more than at any other college in the country, everyone looks up to the basketball players.

Most of them are as high as an elephant's eye. Kneeling.

The Chiefs claim the tallest starting team in the country at an average of 6-foot-7 2½. The previous record was 6-7 1½, set by Oklahoma City University last year.

The 6-7 1½ Chiefs were 19-10 last year. The 6-7 2½ Chiefs are 10-3 this year, and apparently improving with height.

A leading independent year in and year out, the Chiefs continued their bid for a national ranking Tuesday night by overcoming a 16-point deficit and whipping Loyola of New Orleans 91-86 in overtime behind a tall, talented trio who produced 70 points.

Eddie Jackson, a 7-footer, led the Chiefs with 25 points, 6-2 Jerry Wells contributed 25 and 6-6 Bud Koper added 21, the three turning the tide in overtime after Loyola's Gene Turner sent the game into an extra period with a jump shot in the final minute.

While Oklahoma City was bidding for national honors, fifth-ranked Davidson and ninth-ranked Villanova breezed to easy victories. Undeclared Davidson downed VMI 70-58 for its 11th victory and Villanova won its sixth straight by walloping St. Francis, N.Y., 84-48.

Elsewhere, sophomore Ernie Thompson scored 25 points as Bradley crushed Centenary 91-69. Billy Foster connected for 29 points in Drake's 93-68 thumping of Purdue. Gene Elmore scored 23 points and collected 17 rebounds as SMU defeated Baylor 85-65 and Barry Rodriguez lay-up with 24 seconds left gave Rice a 61-60 decision over Texas Tech.

Taylor Whips Melrose 67-43

MELROSE, Wis. — Taylor rolled off to an early margin and never was threatened as the visiting Trojans downed Melrose 67-43.

The Trojans led 16-5 at the end of the first quarter, and stretched it to 36-14 at the half. Arlyn Steien topped all scorers with 25 points, and Jerry Chrisinger added 23. Larry Hertzfeldt and Tom Blaken had 10 and 11 respectively for Melrose.

Taylor won its first "B" game of the season 34-31.

A DRIVING layup by Addington marked the Hawks' final field goal for a seemingly endless stretch. That came with about four and a half minutes remaining in the first period and stretched Winona's lead to 9-4.

But Koeller and Addis took charge. A driving shot by Koeller with 1:35 remaining gave the Rangers a 10-9 lead, and the beginning of the end was at hand.

The Hawks closed the gap to 41-36 on a long set shot by Addington midway in the third period, but for the greatest part of the final half, the margin hovered between eight and 11 points.

Squires, who warmed up slowly but became a scoring demon by the time the fourth quarter rolled around, wound up with 23 points for game honors. Addington totaled 11.

"WE JUST didn't shoot well," said Coach John Kenney, who made the trip with the team after being absent for a game after suffering an asthma attack. "One forward is a problem. Denny (Duran) hasn't been feeling well. We might have to move Tony (Kreuzer), who didn't play because of a finger injury or Gary (Addington) into that spot. We'll have to kick it around this week."

Winona Friday night gets a major conference test when the unbeaten Big Nine leader, Austin, makes an appearance at the senior high auditorium.

"A win in that one would make up for the ones we've lost lately," mused the coach.

Duke University gained 67 first downs passing, one more than their opponents, during the 1963 football season.

Winona High In 5th Loss

LA CROSSE, Wis. (Special) — There are times when good things come much too quickly.

At least that is how it appeared as La Crosse Logan thrust aside a 7-0 Winona lead to defeat the Winhawks 67-58 here Tuesday night.

The Rangers appeared unawed by Winona's immediate show of scoring power, pushed three men into double figures and gained their fifth victory of the season against three losses.

The defeat marked Winona's fourth straight and left the Hawks with a 3-5 record.

LOGAN USED the skyscraping height of 6-9 Gary Addis, lightning drives by Harold Blank and a little bit of everything from Dick Koeller to post its win.

Addis, despite fouling out of the free wheeling affair with 2:30 left, wound up with 19 points to pace the Rangers. Brandt, going on a scoring rampage that netted him 12 points in the final eight minutes, finished with 18 and Koeller of 16.

Winona opened the tilt in fighting fashion, scoring seven straight points before the Logan man-to-man could get prepared.

Gary Addington notched a free throw, Bill Squires tipped in a field goal, Jim Kasten hit a lay-up and Squires came back with a driving shot. All that came with less than two minutes expired.

But in the next six-minute stretch, Logan outscored the Hawks 15-3 to take a 15-10 lead at the end of the first quarter—a lead it never relinquished.

A DRIVING layup by Addington marked the Hawks' final field goal for a seemingly endless stretch. That came with about four and a half minutes remaining in the first period and stretched Winona's lead to 9-4.

Meanwhile, two of the nation's leading coaches, Darrell Royal of Texas and Pete Elliott of Illinois, found themselves on opposite sides of the fence on the

Finley Certain Move Is Correct

KANSAS CITY (AP) — For the next eight days, until owners of American League teams meet in New York, the question of whether Kansas City or Louisville has a baseball team named the Athletics will be subject to conjecture. And words.

Owner Charles O. Finley, who signed a two-year contract Monday to shift the A's franchise to Louisville, says he is confident the owners "will approve my move when they have had an opportunity to analyze the true facts."

A majority of owners have indicated otherwise.

"He isn't going to Louisville." Chicago White Sox Owner Arthur Allyn said Tuesday. "Mr. Finley's action is absolutely inexcusable. He has an obligation to Kansas City and I'm going to see that he lives up to it."

It was reported Finley might charge the other owners with restraint of trade if they thwart his move.

Finley called the report "another perfect example of a manufactured lie," and added: "If the owners veto the move I will face that when it happens. But I am very confident nothing like that will occur."

DAIRYLAND	W	L
Independence	4	1
Blair	4	1
Whitehall	3	2
Alma Center	3	2

After the dust cleared from a full slate of action in the Dairyland Conference Tuesday night, Independence and Blair were on top of the heap.

Independence knocked Whitehall from a share of the top 54-48, and Blair trounced Cochran-Pontiac City 92-74. Alma Center nudged Osseo 66-65, and Augusta out-bombed Eleva-Strum 66-47.

INDEPENDENCE 54
WHITEHALL 48

Independence jumped to a 14-5 first quarter lead, and were never threatened in pounding Whitehall 54-48.

Paul Kulig pushed in 20 points, and Jack Bisek added 12 for the winners. Don Hanson's 23 topped the Norsemen. Lee Buker added 16.

Whitehall salvaged the "B" game 31-26.

BLAIR 92
CFC 74

Blair fired the ball through the hoop with reckless abandon for three quarters, and defeated Cochran-Pontiac City 92-74.

The Cardinals swept to a 78-51 three-quarter lead and then coasted in.

Four players from each team hit in double figures. David Florin had 24 for the Pirates. Dan Dietrich netted 14, Dave Kennebeck 13 and John Wolfe 12.

Jim Rawson and Dennis Thompson had 22 each for Blair. John Wyckoff fired in 17 and Carl Aubert added 16.

Cochran-Pontiac City coped the "B" tilt 43-34.

AUGUSTA 66
ELEVA-STRUM 47

Augusta outscored visiting Eleva-Strum in every quarter to gain victory No. 3, 66-47.

Ron Honadel pushed in 18 points, and Jim Osborn bagged 17 for the Beavers' twin attack. Tom Kunes had 13 for the Cardinals, and Jeff Havenor added 11.

Eleva-Strum won the preliminary tilt 29-25.

ALMA CENTER 66
OSSEO 65

Vince Ruzic scored 18 to top the winners. Dave Hayden had 14, Bob Czarnik 13 and Norm Seguin 10. Ken Anderson's 20 points took evening scoring honors. Dave Higley hit 15, Bruce Brecklin 14 and Lyle Fell 10 in a losing effort.

TREMPEALEAU WINS

Bangor Stops Brookwood String

Bangor ended Brookwood's unbeaten string at six Tuesday night by gaining a 78-74 decision that highlighted Western Wisconsin non-conference action.

Trempealeau kept rolling by stopping Arcadia 75-69, Mondovi crushed Eau Claire North 79-56, and Arkansas outlasted Gilman 63-61.

BANGOR 78
BROOKWOOD 74

Bangor used big first and third quarters to tumble Brookwood 78-74. The Cardinals led 20-13 at the end of the first period before Brookwood tied it 33-33 at halftime. Bangor led 53-34 at the end of three periods.

Lee Friell paced Bangor with 21, Mike Olson got 16 and Bud Fiet and Terry Muenzenberger 13 each. Ron Graewin hit 23 for Brookwood and John Crevison 20.

Bub's Hits 1,100 Game, Emil's 1,052 Errorless

Second position in the team single game seemed to be the goal on Winona's bowling scene Tuesday night. Both the men and the women came up with a score that settled them in that position for the year.

The Classic loop at the Winona Athletic Club was the place for the men. Bub's Beer blasted a 1,100 game that was just one pin shy of the season's best fired by Midland in the Hiawatha League at Westgate Bowl Dec. 10.

The only two 600s of the evening also came in this loop. Bill Bell smashed 621 for Hamm's Beer, and Jerry Dureske counted 611. Jim Weimerskirch had high single of 243 for Buck's Camera. Emil's Menswear registered 2,933, sparked by a rare errorless team game of 1,052. Mark Joswick counted a 535 errorless.

Bob Weisbrod's 224 led the 1,100 Bub's game. Phil Bambeek had 202. Vic Pelowski 201, Jack Chuchel 200 and Frank Mancel 190.

In Emil's errorless game, Ralph Palicki led the way with 223. Bob Bell socked 213, Stan Wiczorek laced 201 and Joe Loshek tagged 197. Paul Plait Jr. had a bad game, coming up with three of the five team splits in the game and ending with a 148.

Law of Averages To Help Gophers?

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Coach John Kundla isn't placing much stock in it, but the law of averages should favor his Minnesota Gopher basketball team when they play at Ohio State Saturday.

Minnesota hasn't beaten the Buckeyes on the hardwood in seven lean years — since Ozzie Cowles' quintet did it back in 1957.

Kundla's teams have lost six straight to the Bucks, five of them by lopsided margins. Closest a Kundla-coached team has come was a 78-76 defeat last year at Columbus. But OSU came back after that one to belt the Gophers 85-65 in the return match here.

"How well we play Saturday will have a lot more to do with whether we can break the jinx than the odds," Kundla said.
