4,000 Hear Goldwater

By ADOLPH JOHNSON
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesotans like Barry Goldwater. At least the nearly 4,000 who turned out to hear the Arizona senator on his whirlwind one-day visit to the Twin Cities Monday in his drive to win support for the Republican presidential nomination indicated they do.

They gave him a rising ovation when he got up to speak at noon at the Pick-Nic Hotel. There the crowd overflowed the main ballroom, which seats 1,200, and filled two other smaller rooms.

The second crowd, numbering more than 1,500, gathered in the afternoon in the Macalester College gymnasium.

There was a generous sprinkling of young people in his noon audience and the Macalester crowd was predominantly college-aged although many faculty members were present.

The Arizona senator's listeners applauded his conservative philosophy and his belief that progress must be based "upon the proven values of the past."

They also applauded his criticism of Medicare and federal aid to elementary education, two programs he said would weaken if not destroy "our concept of family responsibility."

They laughed with Goldwater as he replied, "I'd be happy with a woman anytime," when asked if he would accept a woman candidate for vice president.

Laughter and applause was mixed when he said, as lights went out briefly, "The opposition is in the dark all of the time."

And listeners nodded agreement when Bill Hoies, leader of Minnesotans for Goldwater, urged them to attend their Republican precinct caucuses and elect Goldwater delegates to their county conventions.

The county meetings will prepare for district conventions at which 16 of the state's 26 national convention delegates will be chosen, with the balance named at-large at the state convention.

Actual selection of delegates will demonstrate finally just how well Minnesotans do like Goldwater.

Goldwater himself said he expected to win more than half the state's national delegation. He rejected an appeal that he back the favorite-son candidacy of former Congressman Walter Judd in the interest of party unity, remarking that he had seen no evidence of disunity.

"I'm looking for delegates," Goldwater said Monday as he sought presidential backing in Minneapolis and St. Paul. "I can't stop people who want to support me."

"There's plenty of party unity and a campaign properly run will not disunite the party," the Arizona senator said in spruiking the proposal of the Judd-for-President Volunteer Committee.

Goldwater drew crowds, cheers and optimistic forecasts from his supporters during a six-hour campaign swing in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Minnesota will have 26 votes at the convention, and Goldwater's strategists said they figured at least 10 of them are already in the senator's column.

Goldwater told newsmen he figures he had 450-500 delegates' votes lined up now.

A total of 655 votes will be needed to nominate the GOP's presidential candidate.

Senate Rejects Tax Credits For Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today narrowly beat down, 48-45, a proposal to allow a special income tax credit for parents putting their children through college.

The vote was a major victory for the Johnson administration, which had marshaled all its forces to try to defeat the proposal as an amendment to the $11.6-billion tax cut bill.

Democratic leaders said the cost of the college tax credit would be so great that, if it were adopted, it probably would be necessary to cut back on the individual income tax rate reductions in the bill. It could amount to $750 million the first year, they said.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., who sponsored the proposal, argued that the credit should be allowed to give a break to middle income families.

Opponents of the plan said it would not benefit the poor families needing help the most.

Baker Paid By Both Haiti Buyer, Seller

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators disclosed testimony today that Bobby Baker is raking in money both from the seller and the buyer in a Haitian meat deal.

The testimony pictured Baker as helping to engineer the deal, which in the beginning involved Jose Benitez, who was identified as Puerto Rico's Democratic national committee man.

The complex transaction was described by Francis E. Law and Thomas Webb Jr., Washington business partners, who said they also get a cut of the two-way profit.

Law and Webb testified at closed hearings last week of the Senate Rules Committee. The Senate group is investigating the outside business operations of Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Sen. Albert D. Gore, D-Tenn., promised meanwhile to introduce a resolution to widen the Rules Committee's authority in investigating all the ins and outs of the case.

One issue has been whether the group has authority to investigate senators and aides to senators — as distinguished from employees of the Senate itself — concerning their dealings with Baker. Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., insists it lacks such powers and is "not investigating senators."

The committee is investigating whether Baker's outside business dealings involved conflict of interest or other improprieties, and whether any other Senate employees were involved. Baker resigned Oct. 7 as secretary to the Democratic Senate majority.

The testimony to be made public today was taken at a closed session last week from Thomas Webb Jr. and Francis Law, Washington lawyers who have been linked with Baker in connection with a Haitian meat deal.

Evers, 37, state secretary for the Advancement of Colored People, was shot in the back by a sniper when he stepped from his car at his Jackson home shortly after midnight June 12. Beckwith, 43, is on trial in circuit court for murder.

Miss O'Brien said she could not identify the man she saw driving the car and, since she got off at midnight, did not know how long it remained.

She said she identified the Beckwith's company assigned while auto for her inspection. The car had a distinctive radio antenna installed for two-way radio communications.

Dist. Atty. William L. Waller also called another teen-ager, Robert Pittman, 16, who lived near the drive-in. He testified he saw a white car cruising back and forth in the area four nights before the shooting and on the night of the shooting.

Pittman testified the white car had a long communications antenna mounted on it. A similar auto was assigned to Beckwith for his use as a salesman for a fertilizer firm located at Greenville, Miss.

More information is expected at a news conference later in the day.

Already, the Navy scientists reported, the satellite has determined that the sun is fast approaching its "minimum of activity" in its 11-year cycle of sunspot activity.

This period of relative calm should last about two years, thus the 1964-1965 period was given the scientific designation of the international years of the quiet sun.

New York Boycott Called Success

NEW YORK (AP) — A "whoopie success," said a leader of the boycott for full integration of New York City's schools.

"Mostly a fizzle," said the school board president.

Both were talking about the 464,362 pupils who stayed away from school for one day Monday.

President James B. Donovan of the Board of Education said:

Beckwith's Car At Murder Scene, Car Hop Testifies

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A nervous 17-year-old car hop testified today Byron De La Beckwith's car was parked within a few hundred feet of the murder scene on the night integration leader Medgar Evers was shot.

Martha Jean O'Brien said the car was left in a corner of the lot at a drive-in where she worked.

The parking area overlooks the vacant lot where the killer stood hidden in a clump of trees waiting for Evers to come home.

Possibly it feels more confident since the recognition extended by France. Turning Nikita Khrushchev's own words against him, Peking implies the Soviet premier and his European Communists should let Red China lead the revolution in Asia and Africa.

Khrushchev, who once promised to bury the West's social system, himself is going to be buried by the revolutionary movement, said Peking in its latest broadside.

The attack accused Khrushchev of encouraging an "anti-party group" inside the Chinese party. The use of this phrase—coined by Khrushchev—is tinged with sarcasm.

The Chinese party never had a violent purge in the old Soviet style. If it had purges it avoided advertising them. But there is a hint in the use of the term "anti-party" that Mao Tse-tung and others outside the schools. Children also marched on picket lines.

There are 3,733 Negro and Puerto Rican teachers in the system.

The absent teachers face penalties ranging from loss of one day's pay to possible dismissal for neglect of duty unless they can give valid reasons for being absent, Board of Education officials said.

Civil rights groups that spearheaded the boycott had said they would retaliate if the board punishes teachers with anything more than loss of a day's pay.

What a Platform, What a Candidate

Mrs. Luce Would Please Everyone

By STAN SWINTON
NEW YORK (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce took dead aim at the 1964 crop of presidential candidates today and unleashed a platform to end presidential platforms.

It was strictly tongue in cheek—or dagger in cheek.

The former Republican congresswoman and one-time ambassador to Italy said in an interview: "I'd enter the New Hampshire primary in a minute if I had a campaign manager, an organization and a political base. I've certainly got the program."

The program?
"I am for the 35-hour week without any increase in labor costs.

"I favor a college education for everyone regardless of race, creed or pre-entrance intelligence quotas.

"I am for lifting everyone off the social bottom. In fact, I am for doing away with the social bottom altogether.

"I am for victory in Viet Nam without any increase in U.S. casualties or expenditures. I am also for neutralization of Viet Nam as soon as Gen. de Gaulle apologizes for having suggested it.

"I am for raising living standards of the world by deep and judicious pruning of U.S. aid.

"I am for licking the stuffing out of Khrushchev while relaxing U.S.-U.S.S.R. tensions.

"I am for supporting the European Common Market as an outlet for more American chickens and British agricultural products.

"I am for doing away with all military juntas except those we bring into power.

"I am for the independence and sovereignty of the young, immature African nations and the abandonment of the independence and sovereignty of all the old, mature European nations.

"I am for a vigorous two-party system in which my party will control the White House, all the governorships and over 75 per cent of Congress."

BUSINESS MIRROR

Public Back in Stock Market

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Return of the public to the stock market after its fright back in the 1962 crash is seen by many in the rise in speculative activity. But is it the same kind of individual who bought stocks a few years back?
Some glamour stocks have been getting a big ride reminiscent of the flush days of 1961. Trading volume has been heavy on many days this month.
But whether the activity of individuals, traders, as distinct from the many institutions that play an ever more important role in the market, is for in-and-out speculation or for relatively long term investment is a question.
The big jump in the number of individual Americans who own stocks that marked the previous four years seems to have slowed markedly in 1963. The role of the institutions' as owners goes on increasing.
Some top-name corporations, traditional choice of the long-term investor, have seen the number of individual stockholders decline in the last 12 or 18 months. Others have seen the long advance in numbers slacken.
Many of the stock splits announced in recent weeks have frankly named as a reason the desire to bring shareprices into the reach of more people to widen the ownership. The move to make stock acquisition easy and attractive for employees also is spreading among corporations.

Stockholders are potential customers for and advertisers of a company's products. Also, wide ownership makes for stability, narrows the opportunity for a take-over raid by one clique or an outsider. Large shareowner rolls tend to make future corporate financing easier.
Corporate executives usually deny domination by the institutions—pension funds, bank trustees, insurance companies, mutual funds—whose ever swelling piles of cash to invest have spurred their stock purchasing.
But the role of institutional traders in the stock market itself is closely watched by federal regulatory agencies and exchange officials alike. And the part they play or could play in corporate affairs is also of interest to individual stockowners, big and little, and to corporate management.
Sampling surveys have indicated that the number of individual stockholders swelled since World War II to as high as 17 million.

Naked Eye Enough for Space Spies

By HOWARD BENEDICT
BROOKS AIR FORCE BASE, Tex. (AP)—An orbiting astronaut can spy effectively on enemy territory with the unaided eye, a team of Air Force ophthalmologists reported today.
The group, from the Aerospace Medical Division, told a space medicine conference here that the finding was based on studies of visual reports of six American astronauts who rocketed into space.
The paper, presented by Maj. William B. Clark, said that with proper reconnaissance training, military space pilots could readily spot missile bases, encampments, troop movements and "unsuspected targets of opportunity" from their 100-mile-high outposts.
"Specific definition of man's maximum visual capabilities in space will be one of the most militarily significant achievements in future orbital flights," the paper said.
The report leaned heavily on the remarkable accounts given by Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. after his 22-orbit flight last May.
Cooper said he clearly saw houses and streets in the Himalaya mountains, on the plains of Tibet and in the southwest United States. He said he sighted a vehicle moving on a road, a boat on a river and a steam locomotive on a track.
Mechanical toys are not new. Before the Christian era, ancient Greeks made a wooden pigeon that flew. Air escaping from an animal bladder as from a balloon propelled the toy.

City Teachers Asked To Reduce Demands

Winona's public school teachers will be asked to scale down their proposal for salary schedule increases for the 1964-65 contract year on grounds that their original recommendation submitted to a Board of Education salary study committee is not realistic.

Fourth Ward school director Franklin Tillman said today that a letter was being prepared to a joint committee of the Winona Education Association and the Winona Federation of Teachers advising the teachers that the board committee feels it can't consider the faculty request for an increase of $400 in the maximums of the current salary schedule.

THE JOINT teachers committee had asked for the schedule change — together with revision of sick leave policy and more liberal payments for teachers with advanced degrees, those in the summer school, vocational agriculture and evening school programs — at a meeting with the board salary committee last month.

Tillman's committee met Monday night to discuss the overall teachers proposal and came to a conclusion, he said, that the request was "totally unrealistic from a cost standpoint."

TILLMAN SAID that a letter was being drafted today and would be sent to the teachers' committee explaining that the board committee felt that the faculty recommendation was "unsubstantiated except for the implication that taxwise the city of Winona seems to be able to bear the increased cost."

Tillman said the teachers will be invited to submit another proposal if they wish and that the board committee will be willing to meet with them at their convenience.

Salary issues have not come before the school board as a matter for action yet and the board as a whole is awaiting a recommendation from its salary study committee before considering the issues.

The board committee chairman said his group felt that the teachers, if they review their proposal, would agree that the original recommendation was not a satisfactory basis on which to begin salary discussions.

NO DETERMINATION of the total cost of the teachers' proposed schedule could be made because there was no recommendation on how the increase would be spread over the 13 steps of the schedule.

Tillman said that content of the letter to be sent to the teachers' group would be revealed after the letter is drafted.

No date has been set for another meeting of the two committees.

Financing for Dropout Class To Be Studied

By C. GORDON HOLTE
Daily News Staff Writer
Additional study was authorized Monday night for a proposed program of evening class instruction for high school dropouts who want to complete requirements for high school diplomas.

Suggested some time ago by Superintendent of School A. L. Nelson, the plan envisions organization of classes in the evening school program that would provide persons who have dropped out of high school the opportunity to earn credits toward diplomas over periods perhaps ranging up to three years or so.

NELSON SAID Monday that an exploratory meeting to determine interest in the community for such a program was held last week and attended by 41, all of whom expressed "sincere interest" in the proposal.

"It means that some of them would have to attend night classes two nights a week for three years but that didn't seem to discourage them," Nelson said. "We believe we can do a real service to the Winona community if we can bring these people back to school and raise their educational level to a point of high school graduation."

Asked about the ages of those interested in enrolling in such a program, Nelson said they ranged from 19 to 55, with a median age of about 30. A questionnaire had been submitted to those interested to determine areas in which instruction is wanted and these questionnaires are now being tabulated as a preliminary to determining course content.

INSTRUCTORS, other than regular members of the teaching staff, would be required to staff such a program, Nelson explained, because the load would be too heavy for those with regular teaching assignments.

"The problem that now presents itself," he continued, "is that of financing. Most of these people are working in very low-paying jobs or are unemployed and are not in a position to make a large financial contribution. We believe the economic impact that a successful program of this type would have on the community would justify the Board of Education in investing some money in it."

The superintendent estimated that it would cost about $10 a month per student and that indications now are that there would be between 30 and 35 enrolled in classes. On this basis the total cost would be around $3,000 a year.

"IF WE ASK the student to furnish one-half the cost, the board would be asked to furnish about $1,500," Nelson said. "It's my feeling that if for $1,500 we could get even 10 of these people high school diplomas, the impact on the economic life of the community would be terrific and well worth the investment."

FARMERS MORE EFFICIENT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers are outpacing industry in efficiency. On the farm, the gain in output per man-hour for agriculture was more than double the figure for industry. From 1950 to 1960, farmers gained 5.1 percent in labor efficiency, while non-farm workers gained 2.2 percent.

It is up for six hours at 200 degrees temperature.

WSC Moving Toward Superblock Concept

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer
The first step toward adopting a "superblock" land use concept at Winona State College was taken Monday night by the City Council.

After listening to proposals by state and college officials, aldermen ordered hearings March 2 on proposed vacation of a portion of alley and one block of Winona Street.

THE ALLEY segment is the south 120 feet of north-south alley linking Wabasha and Sanborn streets, between Johnson and Washington streets. Its closure would permit expansion eastward of M & X well Library, planned as a single continuous unit, from its present location to the corner of Sanborn and Johnson streets.

The south half of the block, including land on both sides of the alley, has been acquired by the college. Residents of the north part of the block still would have access to the remaining 180 feet of alley not included in the petition for vacation. Persons now living in the library extension area will move before June this year.

IMPLIED CONSENT, subject to the hearing, was given by aldermen for vacation of Winona Street, from King to Howard Street. Explaining the proposal and outlining the superblock idea was A. J. Nelson, state architect.

Nelson said plans for the next 10 years call for construction of a new food service building, student union and three dormitories in the four blocks bounded east and west by Washington and Huff streets and north and south by King and Mark streets.

This plan will unify the four present blocks into a single block. Streets now going through the area would be eliminated, to the Minnesota border and west to Rochester.

Nelson said that a member of the faculty might be assigned to the program on a half-time basis for whatever period the organizational work continued. The person selected would assist in surveying the area served by the vocational school to determine the needs of the area as far as employment is concerned.

He'd also prepare courses of study for courses that might be offered, arrange for rental of space needed for instruction, assist in purchase of equipment, supervise courses as they're established and be responsible for all reports necessary in conducting the courses.

FOURTH WARD Director Franklin Tillman questioned the advisability of removing an instructor, even on a half-time basis, from an established program for such an assignment.

He and several other board members wondered if the program might not warrant additional study before making a decision on the proposal and the suggestion was held over for further study.

INSTRUCTION is offered through the Winona Area Vocational - Technical School with the cooperation of the Winona office of the state Employment Service which determines need for instruction in various work areas, screens applicants and selects students for classes.

The area served extends, roughly from Red Wing south

to the Minnesota border and west to Rochester.

Nelson said that a member of the faculty might be assigned to the program on a half-time basis for whatever period the organizational work continued.

The person selected would assist in surveying the area served by the vocational school to determine the needs of the area as far as employment is concerned.

He'd also prepare courses of study for courses that might be offered, arrange for rental of space needed for instruction, assist in purchase of equipment, supervise courses as they're established and be responsible for all reports necessary in conducting the courses.

FOURTH WARD Director Franklin Tillman questioned the advisability of removing an instructor, even on a half-time basis, from an established program for such an assignment.

He and several other board members wondered if the program might not warrant additional study before making a decision on the proposal and the suggestion was held over for further study.

INSTRUCTION is offered through the Winona Area Vocational - Technical School with the cooperation of the Winona office of the state Employment Service which determines need for instruction in various work areas, screens applicants and selects students for classes.

The area served extends, roughly from Red Wing south

to the Minnesota border and west to Rochester.

Nelson said that a member of the faculty might be assigned to the program on a half-time basis for whatever period the organizational work continued.

He'd also prepare courses of study for courses that might be offered, arrange for rental of space needed for instruction, assist in purchase of equipment, supervise courses as they're established and be responsible for all reports necessary in conducting the courses.

Nelson said. The state's preliminary request, however, is for closure of the single block of Winona Street, he said.

Vacation of the street would take effect when construction begins next summer on the new food service building. A development plan displayed by E. O. Eckert, Winona architect, shows the new building — and, later on, a student union — lying directly astride Winona street, parallel to King Street.

ALD. HENRY Parks asked whether clearance had been sought from the state Highway Department. Would its future plans, he asked, designate Winona Street as a thoroughfare to the interstate bridge? Eckert said inquiries were made and the Highway Department had disclaimed any interest in this idea.

Long range programs call for use of leftover areas as parking spaces, Eckert said. Under the superblock plan, existing area can be used more efficiently because the elimination of smaller blocks cuts the total amount of required setback space for buildings, he said.

A good deal of aldermanic opposition melted when Eckert said adoption of the superblock plan would increase parking space fivefold. There are now about 60 parking spaces in the four blocks of streets within the proposed superblock. When the big unit is developed, 300 cars can be accommodated in off-street lots, he told aldermen.

FURTHER impressing aldermen was a statement by Dr. Nels Minne, WSC president, that the new food service building would be staffed by 33 full-time employees. Dr. Minne told the Council $4½ million of construction is under way or planned for the campus in 1964 and 1965.

Replying to Ald. Parks, Eckert said full consideration would be given to fire protection aspects of the proposed development. In addition, he said, clearance would be obtained from the city engineer, city attorney, Board of Municipal Works and Department of Health.

Eckert said the plan would benefit taxpayers because it would furnish the maximum amount of building space while taking the least possible amount of land off city tax rolls.

City liability insurance coverage will be both broadened and raised, City Council members voted Monday night following a report by City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. on new state legislation.

The old legal principle of governmental immunity from liability to claims for injuries or damages has just about gone out the window, Robertson said.

In recent sessions legislators also have opened the door to possible claims against public employees for damages caused by them while in pursuit of their normal duties.

STATUTORY limits on compensation for deaths by accidents, injuries and aggregate damages were raised by the 1963 Legislature, James Schain, insurance broker, told aldermen. They now are: $25,000 for accidental death, $50,000 for individual injured and $300,000 total damages from one accident or occurrence.

The city now is insured for $25,000 and $100,000 limits. To bring the city's coverage up to the new limits would mean a premium of $1,185 annually, Schain said.

Robertson said governmental immunity has not applied to the city since by its purchase of insurance it has waived immunity from liability. On the other hand, he said, when a city carries such insurance, it is liable only to the limit of its insurance coverage in cases where the insurance applies.

RECENT legislation seems to have broadened liability of such public employees as police, firemen, jailors and inspectors, Schain said. In some cases, these persons may be held personally liable for incidents occurring where they have some discretionary authority. Department heads are protected, Schain said, but individuals are not, under present policies. He said coverage could be furnished for individuals in these cases for another $325, bringing the total proposed premium to $1,510.

County Fair Gets $7,500 Appropriation

The Winona County Board of Commissioners voted Monday to give $7,500 to the Winona County Agricultural and Industrial Fair Association board, the amount the fair group originally requested from the commissioners.

This action reversed earlier indications that the commissioners would give the fair only $5,000. The county board had taken no action on the request before Monday, but commissioners expressed an unwillingness to grant the fair the full $7,500.

Last year the board appropriated $10,000 to the fair, $500 less than was asked. All but about $1,000 of this amount was used to pay the fair's debts. This year's appropriation will pay for capital improvements.

In a somewhat related action, the county board granted $75 for Winona County's exhibit at the Minnesota State Fair. This is the same amount as was given last year.

Harry Pearce, vocational agricultural instructor at Winona Senior High School, who is in charge of the county's state fair exhibit, appeared before the board to request the grant. He told the commissioners that the county's booth won a blue ribbon at the 1963 fair, the first such award for the county. The county's blue ribbon was one of only six given in its class at the 1963 state fair, Pearce said.

Another grant voted by the county board Monday was an allocation of $500 for miscellaneous expenses involved in setting up the newly organized Hiawatha Valley Mental Health Board. Wabasha and Houston counties, the other two counties involved, will give similar amounts and the state will match the money given by the counties. This will give the board a total of $3,000 operating expenses.

THE BOARD this morning approved payment of a final estimate on a road construction project done by Funke Construction Co., Thief-Haven, Minn. The work involved grading and surfacing of County Road 125, eight-tenths of a mile north from County State Aid Highway 5. Total cost was $35,811.43. Of this, $29,209.69 already has been paid.

The balance, payment of which was approved this morning, amounted to $6,601.74.

Other action by the board was approval of payment of routine monthly bills.

City Sidewalk Contract Asked

A wholesale rejuvenation of sidewalks is in prospect for the city this year.

Ald. Daniel Bambenek told the City Council Monday night it should set the wheels in motion for a general sidewalk contract letting soon. And, he added, property owners who want their sidewalks included should contact the city engineer's office.

City Engineer James Baird said his office would make a check of all known defective sidewalks for inclusion in the contract. The city did not have a sidewalk contract last year.

Aviation Consultant For City Appointed

The City Council acquired a new $1-a-year consultant on aviation Monday night as it first created the post, then filled it.

George E. Kelley, longtime supporter of increased commercial air service for the city, was appointed to the position. Kelley, who served for many years on the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, had volunteered his services to the city. Aldermen voted promptly and unanimously to accept the offer.

Children Start Playhouse Fire; Real Home Saved

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — Preschool children playing with matches caused a fire at the John Fuchsel farm residence near here Monday.

La Crescent volunteer firemen were called to the blaze at 4 p.m. The fire was discovered by Gregory Abnet, who was passing in his car. He alerted Fuchsel, who was in the barn.

The fire was started in the playhouse near the residence. Mrs. Fuchsel pulled the small building away from the residence. The playhouse was destroyed, but firemen, arriving at the scene six miles west of La Crescent on the South Ridge Road within 12 minutes after the alarm, saved the residence. There was only slight damage to the frame structure.

Chief Don Leochler said the loss was covered by insurance. The children weren't injured.

Birders to Hear Museum Head

Dr. Walter J. Breckenridge, director of the University of Minnesota Museum of Natural History and one of the nation's leading ornithologists, will address the Hiawatha Valley Bird Club of Winona at a meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Roger Bacon Center lecture hall on the College of Saint Teresa campus.

An authority on birds, particularly those in Minnesota, the Upper Midwest and Canada, Dr. Breckenridge also is a well known artist on bird subjects. He has been his own illustrator for several books on bird life.

In his talk to the bird club, Dr. Breckenridge will show a film, "Island Treasure," produced for the most part on Casey's Island in the Mississippi River near the Breckenridge home in Brooklyn Park north of Minneapolis. The film is a record of observations of birds and other wildlife made over a period of years by Dr. Breckenridge and members of his family. The movie has been adopted by the National Audubon Society as one of its wildlife film series.

A display of Dr. Breckenridge's bird paintings and drawings will be shown at the meeting. Guests will be welcome.

Earlier Wednesday Dr. Breckenridge will speak to members of biology classes and others at Senior High School.

OTHER BUSINESS:

Appointed temporarily to the post of city dogcatcher was Lynn Foster, Homer Road. Applications for the job were received from Kermit Richmond, 567 E. Sanborn St., and Victor Johnson, 1500 Service Dr. A permanent appointee will be named at the next Council meeting, Feb. 17.

On recommendation of the city attorney, John Gierok, 1069 E. Broadway, will be paid $733.95 for damages, labor and materials in connection with faulty sewer main installations. Gierok's claim has been pending for several months.

Aldermen voted a supplementary appropriation for Ralph Scharrer, general contractor on last year's Broadway widening project. Scharrer's bill for $105 was for removal of seven trees at $15 each. They had been overlooked in original job specifications.

When sidewalks are repaired this year, the city also should investigate costs of a machine to remove tree roots which push blocks out of line, Ald. Clarence Tribell told the council.

He spoke from unhappy personal experience, he said. A root-displaced sidewalk block had once caused him to take a nasty fall while taking a bowl of soup to a sick neighbor, he told his colleagues, citing this as an example of the need for a vigorous anti-root program.

A letter will be written to the Milwaukee Railroad Co., informing it that the city will repair Front Street at its expense as soon as Milwaukee tracks are removed therefrom. The council adopted Ald. James Stoltman's motion and suggested that the letter request early action.

There will be curb and gutter on Gilmore Avenue from Orrin Street to the Highway 61-12 intersection, City Engineer James Baird told Council President Harold Briesath. When the intersection is rebuilt this year, Baird said, the curb and gutter will be laid to join the new construction.

Suspension Given In Check Case

A Winonan received a suspended jail sentence in municipal court this morning after he pleaded guilty to a charge of writing a check with insufficient funds.

He was Wayne Richer, 22, 461 Wilsie St., who was arrested by city police Monday at Sam's Pizza Palace, on a warrant issued by Virgil Stiecher, Red Top Trailer Court.

Richer had issued a check for $16.25 drawn on the Winona National & Savings Bank payable to Stiecher.

Judge John McGill sentenced Richer to 20 days in the county jail, but suspended the sentence if Richer would make restitution of the check within 20 days.

Lucy Reported in Bed With Cold

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's youngest daughter, Lucy Baines, 16, was reported in bed with a cold Monday.

A White House spokesman said Lucy, a student at National Cathedral School, was confined to her room while other members of her family greeted 400 college editors at an afternoon White House reception.

Garbage Collection Issue in Campaign

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — G.E. Carlson, running for city safety commissioner, can spot a crowd and an issue anytime. Nice weather brought dozens of citizens to the city dump Sunday with loads of trash in a pre-spring cleanup. Waiting at the dump to buttonhole voters was candidate Carlson. He's opposed to compulsory garbage collection.

Wabasha Board Asked to Expand Plainview District

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — A petition to expand the Plainview school district was received when the Wabasha County Board of Commissioners held a short meeting Monday.

They met Monday instead of the regular first Tuesday of the month meeting because County Auditor Wilbur Koelme leaves today to attend the state convention for auditors in Minneapolis. Koelme is on the resolutions committee of the state association.

A petition was received for the dissolution of District 2394, South Troy, between Hammond and Mazepa, to be set into the Plainview district. A hearing on the petition will be held March 3 at 2 p.m.

Awarding of contracts for county materials bid at the meeting was postponed to Feb. 17. County Engineer B. J. Pinsonneault is studying the bids on five tractor combinations, with loader and mower attachments, a suburban type auto, one-half ton pickup, one-ton truck, rental or road building equipment and two-way radio for the highway department, which will be new here.

The board also opened bids on two washing machines and an extractor for Buena Vista Nursing Home.

RICE INSTANTLY AGED

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A process providing "instant aging" for rice has been invented by a U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist here. Compared with six to ten months for natural aging it takes only a few hours. The process is to seal rice in airtight bags and heat them up for six hours at 200 degrees temperature.

Alley Becomes One-Way Again

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

City traffic patterns got a major share of attention at Monday night's City Council meeting.

Aldermen voted to:

- Reinstate one-way traffic in a controversial alley — for good, they hoped;
- Consider making 2nd Street a through street;
- Install electric flashers at Huff and Sarnia streets;
- Delay action on proposed through-city routes.

TWO WEEKS ago, aldermen had opened the north-south alley between Sanborn and King, Main and Center streets to two-way traffic. They acted in response to a petition bearing 19 signatures, of which only 10 were found later to be those of neighboring residents.

The alley had been restricted to northbound traffic only by council action last year. Monday night, a new petition, signed by 19 adjacent residents, asked for restoration of the northbound-only rule. Aldermen voted unanimously for Ald. Clair ence Tribell's motion to this effect.

TRAFFIC ON 2nd Street may soon have right of way over that on Franklin Street instead of vice versa, aldermen decided after some extended discussion.

City Engineer James Baird, whose department recently acquired additional counters, said traffic surveys showed much more traffic on 2nd than on Franklin Street. Ald. Daniel Bambenek said stop signs should be posted on Franklin Street to conform to state laws requiring railroad grade crossing stops. Motorists now may drive unhindered over Milwaukee tracks which cross Franklin Street and follow 2nd Street, he pointed out.

Ald. Tribell objected to the change, saying people would be unable to adjust their driving habits to another system. Ald. Henry Parks reiterated an old demand that 2nd Street be made a one-way thoroughfare for east-bound traffic. Ald. Mrs. Muriel Ollom reminded him that this would require designation of another street — probably 3rd — as a one-way return route. This point had been the downfall of previous proposals.

The discussion, carried on in

It Happened Last Night

Automatic Girls Wait for Guys

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I helicoptered out to the World's Fair . . . in 12 minutes . . . we made our landing 130 feet up in the air . . . on the roof of "the Top of the Fair" . . . then I set out to interview some "animatronic actresses" . . . girls made of steel . . . real steel.

They're life-sized automatons that walk, talk, and kiss, but that's about as loving as they can get. Walt Disney created them; they're artificial Hollywood gals (but what girls aren't) who are coming to our Fair.

"Unlike Liz Taylor, these actresses can be controlled," said a chap at the General Electric exhibit. "They'll never fall for Richard Burton — unless we tell them to."

Thirty-eight of these "computer actors" including several "men" and a glamorous grandmother will give a show in a theater that moves from stage to stage as on a carousel while you're sitting in it.

NO SOONER had New York Airways Capt. Vincent Ciriello set his 3-passenger Bell Sightseeing whirlybird down on the roof after a beautiful flight than I cried out excitedly:

"Bring on the . . . uh . . . automatic girls!"

"You should feel honored," Captain Ciriello was saying. "First landing we made on this roof."

"We didn't come to discover roofs . . . but girls. What are their figures like?" I asked, wondering if I'd brought my tape measure.

"A BIT metallic," the G. E. man admitted. "They're still at Walt Disney's in Los Angeles but will be here in a week or two. These girls," he added, confidentially, "can be insulted . . . and can't answer you back."

"Pinched, you mean?" I leered. "Anything, Buster!" he chorled. "They're 'programmed.' They're given a speech to say and an act to do on a tape. That's all they'll do and say — just what's been 'programmed.'"

Automatic babes that can be turned on and off — that can be turned "hot" and "cold" — WOW! What'll they think of next? We rode around the whole Fair — we were especially enthralled by the beautiful Terrace Club ($1,250 for membership), the Mormon Tabernacle, the IBM exhibit which looks like an egg, and the real-fur non-electronic moon that happened to come up over the Unisphere, just at that hour.

"THAT MOON," remarked somebody looking out the Terrace Club windows, "is the most beautiful thing out here. And yet it's not animatronic, it's not automation, it's not electronic, it's just always been here."

"Yeah," another looker-outer replied. "God does some nice things, too."

DEAR ABBY:

Too Late for Wedding Shower

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A year ago last November my daughter was married in Las Vegas. She was four months along then, but, to save face, we told everybody she had been secretly married in June, right after her high school graduation. Her husband was in the Army but was able to get a 10-day emergency leave at that time. Now he won't be able to come home again until he is discharged in October, when our grandson will be a year and a half old. Everything happened so fast there wasn't time for showers or even a wedding reception. The kids will have to start housekeeping from scratch and they don't have a thing. Would it be proper to give them a big shower-type wedding reception when her husband gets back?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: You may honor the couple with a "party," but I wouldn't recommend a "shower-type wedding reception" for parents of a one-and-a-half-year-old child.

DEAR ABBY: Recently our son brought a girl to our home so we could meet her. He is probably serious about her because he never brought a girl home for us to meet before. Well, that boy could not sit down without this girl plopping herself on his lap. She always had to be holding his hand, smoothing his hair and she would not let him out of her sight for one minute. We tried hard to like her, Abby, but she was disgusting! Our son is a college junior and so is she. If you were us, would you tell your son what you thought of such a brazen girl?

Abby

DEAR MOTHER: Only if he asked me.

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me why the brides who never found time to get out their thank-you notes always find the time to get out birth announcements?

MISSISSIPPI MRS.

DEAR MRS.: That's not always the case. It just seems that way.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BERT: You expect too much. The nearest most people come to perfection is when they are filling out an employment application.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Burton May Lose Visa

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Michael A. Feighan, D-Ohio, said Monday that the government is considering revocation of the visa of British actor Richard Burton.

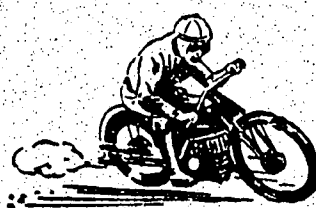

Feighan reported this to newsmen after a House subcommittee on immigration questioned officials of the State Department and the Immigration and Naturalization Service in a closed meeting. Feighan is chairman of the subcommittee.

Feighan said the matter was handled in closed session because he wanted "to protect the public from all this discussion of morals."

Burton has been traveling throughout the world with actress Elizabeth Taylor. They have said they will marry as soon as she is divorced from singer Eddie Fisher.

Winona did pretty well on the widely advertised David Brinkley Journal, "Our Man on the Mississippi" in that it won mention as the most beautiful section of the river, although the several thousand feet of film taken by the NBC crew here and at Red Wing and other up-river communities did not get past the film editor.

New Look At Moon Flight

THERE IS IN Washington these days a healthy, though not yet widespread, tendency toward reappraisal of our program for sending a manned space capsule to the moon. Although former President Eisenhower has expressed doubts as to the wisdom of pouring out so many billions for this project, the matter cannot be considered—not sensibly, at any rate—as a partisan controversy. Leading scientists without strong partisan orientation have raised questions most persistently.

It also is significant that Senator Fulbright, a Democrat whose position as head of the Foreign Relations Committee gives his opinion special weight, is among those concerned about the relative importance of a moon landing and such other things as full employment, better education, an improved transportation system, and so on. He feels that we are paying too much for the lunar race with Russia, and that even if we win the race the boost to our prestige will not be worth the price. As one commentator put it, Fulbright "believes the nation's prestige will never be greater than its ability to house, transport, educate and employ its own people."

THERE IS no simple, ready answer. How much money and energy we put into the moon venture is a matter of judgment based on many factors. But sober second thought may now suggest that we have gone overboard, that the national interest might be better served by using some of the moon billions for earthly benefits. It is a question that should be fully examined, and preferably in a non-partisan light.

Big Shoes To Fill

CARL T. ROWAN, our ambassador to Finland, and a former Twin Cities newsman, is going to step into some mighty big professional shoes when he becomes director of the United States Information Office. Those most familiar with this young man's swift rise in the professions of journalism and diplomacy are confident that he will ably meet what he describes as "the challenge of trying to tell the world what the United States really is."

It will not be easy, as was suggested above, to fill Edward R. Murrow's shoes. When the latter was brought in to head the USIO at the start of the Kennedy administration, he stood virtually unchallenged as the best known and most able TV and radio commentator on political and international affairs. Rowan is considerably younger, one reason he does not have Murrow's stature in the communications world.

ONCE THIS has been noted, however, it must be said that the new director is in some ways exceptionally well qualified. As a reporter and author of books he dealt perceptively with the racial issue at home and with vital developments in Asia. He enjoyed great success, also, as a lecturer.

Rowan gravitated naturally to a career in diplomacy. While still a very young man he served as a special State Department emissary in India. Before becoming ambassador to Finland he was deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs, and alternate U.S. representative to the United Nations. This aspect of his training will stand him in good stead as director of our world voice.

ED MURROW deserves a resounding "well done!" Carl Rowan has earned the right to warm support as he carries on the work Murrow performed so capably.

GM Rolls Along — Earnings at New High

HOW TO SUCCEED in business has been well illustrated by General Motors Corp. The number one auto maker reports earnings of $1,592,000,000 on sales of $16.5 billion last year. General Motors dominates the automobile field year after year. In 1963 it accounted for 53.4 percent of U.S. car production.

There are those who feel that General Motors leadership is too pronounced. Periodically there is talk of breaking up the corporation. It might be better, however, for other companies to borrow more of GM's aggressive and imaginative promotional and sales techniques and strive to compete more successfully.

Such efforts are now evident. In fact, all of which is to the general good. It appears that 1964 may be the biggest car-sales year on record, with allied industries and the economy as a whole accordingly stimulated.

HOW DO YOU STAND, SIR?

Barry Tells Why He Stops Column

(Editor's Note: Although the Winona Daily News stopped the Sen. Barry Goldwater column last week, the following article by the senator announcing that he is discontinuing the column is published as a service to our readers.)

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

In a sense, this is my valedictory as a newspaper columnist.

For the time being — at least until after this year's election — I shall suspend my activities as a working writer for American newspapers.

This, then, is my final column. I write it with great reluctance, for the decision to suspend was not an easy one.

In the first place, I thoroughly enjoyed the endeavor. I won't pretend that turning out three columns a week, even with the help of my staff, was not something of a chore. And it has become more difficult since my announcement that I intend to seek the Republican presidential nomination.

But it was great fun, and I have mixed feelings about my decision. My first inclination was to let it be made in the open market place through the operation of the law of supply and demand.

In other words, I would continue writing the column under the auspices of the Los Angeles Times Syndicate as long as a substantial number of newspapers wanted to subscribe. In this, I want to say that I was highly gratified that less than 25 cancellations and suspensions were received out of a total of 140 newspapers which took this column.

BUT ON DEEPER reflection it struck me that a moral question was involved. For example, was it fair to expect newspapers, no matter how friendly nor how closely oriented they might be to my conservative views, to continue publishing the work of an active candidate for the nation's highest office?

Did this give me an advantage over other aspirants for the Republican nomination? Weren't the newspapers putting themselves in a position where other candidates for the office I seek could legitimately demand "equal time," or I should say "equal space"?

All of these questions and many more were weighed carefully before I decided that the time had come to terminate "How Do You Stand, Sir?"

ORIGINALLY MY column was designed to give an editorial page airing to the views of a growing group of American conservatives. I approached the whole project like a salesman peddling a product. My objective was to make the word "conservatism" first acceptable and ultimately popular. And this purpose has held throughout the four years I have been writing my column.

I believe it has helped, over the long run, to create a better climate throughout the country for the conservative viewpoint. At least the many thousands of letters and other communications I have received since the column began appearing would seem to support this conclusion.

But I'm sure the reader will realize how even this becomes a reason for suspending the column. During the period when I was functioning in the role of "salesman for conservatism," the operation was strictly one of principle. I had no desire to exalt my own position or status. I felt as though I was merely toiling in the vineyard for conservatism. I felt my efforts helped fill the gap left on many editorial pages because of a preponderance of columnists and interpretive writers oriented in the liberal direction.

NOW, HOWEVER, I am a candidate. I am seeking a national political office. No matter what I write, or how carefully I couch my phrases, my column will be viewed as a self-seeking endeavor. Because of its very nature, substance is lent to this argument. For it is impossible for a man of my convictions not to try to advance them at every given opportunity.

So, in bringing this happy and satisfying project to a close, let me thank the many newspapers who published my faulty prose and the many Americans who read it.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Greek Restaurateur Is Close to Johnson

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It isn't often a guest at a formal White House luncheon gets up, wanders around the room, and drops his arm around the President of the United States as if the President were his son.

But this is what happened at the recent White House luncheon for the Queen of Greece. Members of the cabinet, leading senators, distinguished diplomats were present.

Suddenly they noted John G. Poulos, a 45-year-old owner of a restaurant on the Potomac, ambling up to the head table. Protocol officers looked a bit askance, but things have been more informal around the White House since the Johnsons took over, and nobody got up to ask Mr. Poulos to sit down.

In fact, the only move was a very quiet one by President Johnson himself when Mr. Poulos leaned over and started to be as affectionate toward the Queen of Greece as he was toward the President. At this point, Johnson discreetly placed a protective arm over the queen's chair. Finally Mr. Poulos returned to his own table and the guests soon learned why he occupied a privileged position in the heart of L.B.J.

Queen Frederika revealed the secret. She said that a former citizen of Greece, now living in Texas, had once predicted to Lyndon Johnson when he was a little boy that he would become President of the United States. It was only right, therefore, that the man who had made that prediction should come to Washington and embrace the onetime little boy who had fulfilled his prediction.

Senators draw an allowance from the taxpayers for their round trip home between congressional sessions. Despite this, three Senate leaders wangled a free trip back to Washington for the opening session.

All three went to Florida for their Christmas holiday. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield on a fishing trip, Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen to his winter home in De Bary, and Florida Sen.

Spessard Holland to his home in Bartow.

Mansfield and Dirksen asked the Defense Department to give them a jet ride back to Washington. Supposedly, it is against Defense Department policy to furnish planes for senators and congressmen except for official business.

But the brass hats discreetly decided that the two Senate leaders were too influential to offend. The Air Force not only cranked up a Lockheed Jetstar for them but sent Gen. C. R. Roderick to Orlando, Fla., to escort them.

The three powerful senators, coming from different directions, met at McCoy Air Force Base for the hour-and-45-minute flight back to the nation's capital.

The United States has a relatively simple way of preventing war on Cyprus, and not a single Marine would have to be sent to that strife-torn island to do it.

All the United States had to do is start curtailing American aid to Turkey. At present, there are approximately 10,000 U. S. Air Force personnel in Turkey. These, together with the aid we give the Turkish army and the Turkish civilian economy, keep the country on its feet. Greece gets no aid from us, but if American aid to Turkey were withdrawn, the country would collapse.

There was a time when Turkey was considered essential to American defenses. But modern missiles have made the United States much more important to Turkey than Turkey is to the United States. We have withdrawn our missile bases, some of our bombers, and are considering the withdrawal of more.

On Cyprus Turks have refused to integrate with Greek population. On the Greek island of Rhodes, there are proportionately more Turks than on Cyprus, but on this island there is harmony.

Greeks and Turks mingle. On the divided island of Cyprus, however, as long as the Turks figure they are essential to the United States, they act as if they have the whip hand. It should be fairly easy for the Johnson administration to demonstrate otherwise.

All the facts about the downing of the U.S. jet trainer over East Germany have been sifted by the Air Force. There can no longer be any dispute that the incident, as stated in the official report, was "a callous and inexcusably brutal act of violence against an unarmed aircraft that accidentally strayed over the demarcation line."

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

Panama Crisis Runs Deep

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — It may seem easy to conclude that the dispute between the United States and the Republic of Panama is merely a case of excessive emotionalism about flying national flags — but the controversy goes deeper. The basic cause is a feeling of discouragement among Panamanians who see no economic future for themselves except as it is related to potential income from the use of the canal.

When national pride, moreover, complicates an international problem, there are always opportunities for provocative action and the intensification of bitterness.

The people of Panama originally leased their territory for an interoceanic canal. The United States built the waterway and has been collecting tolls from the ships of all nations. But the Republic of Panama gets less than $2 million a year rent. It used to be only $250,000. Surely in the 50 years since the canal has been operating it would seem that the United States could afford to increase considerably more its annual payment, especially in these days of "foreign aid" to many countries which do not furnish any facility to the United States as useful as the Panama Canal has been, including its military value in World War I and World War II.

There are economic improvements which can be made after proper negotiation. But since there's an election campaign going on inside the Republic of Panama, it is customary for national sensitiveness to be expressed in the political arena. On top of this, the Americans who live in the canal zone have families with teen-age students who naturally have a feeling of patriotism about flying the American flag.

FOR MANY years, only the American flag was flown inside the Canal Zone which is leased permanently to the United States. Then the demand was made that the Panamanian flag should also be flown, and in January 1963 it was agreed that the Panamanian flag would fly side by side wherever the U.S. flag was flown by civilian authorities in the zone. In the first week of this year, the U.S. flag was hauled down from a number of sites — including the high schools — which had not been designated for the joint flying of the two flags. For some strange reason, no explanation of this order — that no flag be flown — was made to the zone residents. The whole squabble was mishandled.

It was inevitable that there would be disturbances about the flying of the flags. What was surprising, however, was the action of the Panamanian president in ordering diplomatic relations severed. This gave an opportunity to the Castro agents, Communists and other disturbers of the peace to capitalize on the disorders and bring about an international furor.

THE UNITED STATES was disposed to go along and open the whole controversy to diplomatic discussion. Then a snag was reached as the Panamanians said the United States had agreed to "negotiate," whereas the Washington officials said it was an agreement only to "discuss," not to negotiate. This led to bad feeling, too. For a readiness to discuss is, of course, an obvious forerunner of negotiation—though not necessarily of concession. The flare-up and threats of a continued suspension thereupon didn't make things any easier inside the United States, where public opinion also happens to have some sensitiveness, especially as a political campaign is under way here, too.

Letters to The Editor

Misconceptions About
Judd's Position
To the Editor:

There have been many misconceptions about the "favorite son" candidacy of Dr. Walter Judd. As Chairwoman for Dr. Judd in the First Congressional District, I should like to explain the real purpose of the movement.

The Judd program is not an "anti" movement in any sense of the word. We feel that our course is compatible with the candidacies of any and all of those being considered by Minnesota Republicans.

Our purpose is to elect as delegates from Minnesota to the Republican national convention men and women who will be pledged to vote for Dr. Judd on the first ballot. Thereafter, these 26 delegates will be free to cast their ballots using their own good judgment in the light of developments that transpire between now and July 13.

The Minnesota for Judd movement stands as a rallying point of strength and unity for the unseen challenges and opportunities that lie ahead.

What will the Judd program do? First, it will give well deserved recognition to Dr. Judd for the outstanding service he has rendered to our state and nation. Second, it will give Minnesota a unified and therefore a far more influential delegation at the convention. Third, it will preserve party unity. We Republicans must remember that there are other important contests at state — senatorial, congressional and state legislative races. The purpose of any political party organization is to win elections and this can be accomplished only when a party is unified.

We believe, with our four Republican congressmen, Al Quie, Ancher Nelsen, Clark MacGregor, and Odin Langen, who have endorsed the Judd movement, that it can truly reflect the will of the great majority of the Republicans who wish to have time for adequate discussion of candidates before making a choice. In the unusual situation in which we find ourselves today we should with great faith elect our representatives to county and district conventions who will do their utmost to reflect the sentiments of the voters in the district.

When the Republicans caucus on Feb. 5, it is our hope that they will think of party unity, party strength and what we might achieve by putting Walter Judd into the national limelight once again with a Minnesota delegation solidly behind him.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth P. Marshall

Senator Urges Wisconsin Ice Age Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill calling for the formation of an Ice Age national scientific reserve in Wisconsin was offered in the Senate Monday by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., who said he was amazed by the "short-sighted obstructionism" of Rep. William Van Pelt, R-Wis.

Nelson said he acted at the request of Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., whose similar bill was stalled in the House by Van Pelt.

The Ice Age bill was placed on the House unanimous consent calendar and called up for expected quick action last month. However, Van Pelt objected, forcing the return of the proposal to the Rules Committee, where it may stay for some months. Van Pelt said the reserve was opposed by some residents in his district because it would remove valuable Washington County farm properties from the tax lists.

The proposal was scheduled for House action again Monday, but action was delayed until Feb. 17. Van Pelt said he would oppose the plan again when it is reconsidered, and has the two more votes necessary to require that it advance through regular procedures.

Nelson said he offered his proposal in hopes of advancing it to the Senate while the plan is stalled in the House.

Drug-Alcohol Combination Killed Ladd

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Actor Alan Ladd died accidentally from the combined impact of a "high level of alcohol" and three drugs on his central nervous system, the Riverside County, Calif., coroner ruled Monday.

Ladd, 50, was found dead in his Palm Springs home last Wednesday.

Coroner James Bird flatly ruled out any possibility of suicide.

He explained the autopsy found a combination of alcohol, seconal, librium (a tranquilizer), and sparine. Sparine is a drug used to forestall delirium tremens.

156 Protestants Meet at Harmony

HARMONY, Minn. — The Methodist Church here was host to 156 youth and adults representing 11 Protestant churches of Fillmore County Sunday in a cooperative Youth Emphasis Sunday.

Denominations represented include Methodist, Evangelical United Brethren, United Church of Christ, Christian Reformed and the Church of the Brethren.

After singing and recreation, the group considered the Youth Week theme, "The Peculiar Ones," by observing a skit portraying a real life situation in which "Christian peculiarity" was evident. Small group discussions followed.

The day's activities were concluded with worship. The Rev. Carlton Bauer discussed "Peculiarity With a Purpose." Youth and adults from six different churches participated in the program. Attendance this year represented a 25 percent increase over 1963.

Ayrshire Cattle Group Honors Wykoff Farmer

SPRING VALLEY, Minn. — A Wykoff dairy farmer was one of three who received production certificates at the recent Southeast Ayrshire Club meeting here.

He was Norman Peterson, who had a cow that produced 619 pounds of butterfat. Dr. R. B. Groves, Red Wing, and Forest Muetzel, Owatonna, received production awards. Groves had the state champion cow with 779 pounds of butterfat.

Peterson also was elected director for a three-year term. Other directors elected were Linus Ernster, Caledonia, and William Broadwater, Preston.

Other area members on the board are Wayne Dabelstein, St. Charles, and Kenneth Wald, Alma, Wis. Broadwater was elected secretary-treasurer of the board.

The club includes Houston, Winona, Fillmore and Mower counties and sections of Freeborn, Steele and Olmsted counties.

The annual dispersal sale will be held March 21 at the Austin fair grounds. The annual picnic will be held June 28 at Grand Meadow. The state picnic will be held June 14 at the Peterson home near Wykoff.

Death of Sheboygan Woman Brings Badger Traffic Toll to 89

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Wisconsin's highway toll for 1964 has reached 89 with the death of a Sheboygan woman. The total on this date a year ago was 50.

Miss Gladys Zastrcw, 25, of Sheboygan, was killed and her sister injured critically Monday evening in the collision of their car and a pickup truck on Highway 141 in northern Ozaukee County. The victim's sister is Mrs. Mildred Wendt, 24, also of Sheboygan. A spokesman for the sheriff's department said it was believed Mrs. Wendt was the Sheboygan County nurse. Authorities were unable to learn which of the sisters was driving.

Lutherans Meet At Silo, Elgin

SILLO, Minn. (Special)—Dr. Arnold Meyer, St. Paul, counselor of the Minnesota District South of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, was a leader of one of three discussion groups when members of nine area churches met Sunday evening at Silo Immanuel Church. In his stewardship topic, he said, "If your income is small or large, pledge to God a generous portion 'off the top'."

A BELIEVER has the sincere desire to bring an average week by week gift and he asks God for the power and strength to help him make this desire a reality, Dr. Meyer said.

He was assisted by Erwin Richter, Silo, who asked the question, "Now that you've got it, what are you going to do with it?"

The individual Christian has a responsibility before God in the use of his money, said Richter.

An apple tree bears apples not because people need or want apples but because it is the very nature of an apple tree to do so, he added; likewise it is the nature of a Christian to bring offerings to God.

The Rev. Eldor Richter, Bethany Lutheran Church, Lake City, discussed church extension, which is the lending of money to the church for building of new churches, schools or additions.

The Rev. Clarence R. Witte, Silo, and teacher, Douglas Burron, Plainview, led the education and recruitment discussion group. This concerned recruiting for the ministry and teaching field with the emphasis on the training of teachers for adult Bible classes. It is the Minnesota south district's goal to recruit 2,000 lay teachers in all the combined congregations by fall. This program is entitled "train-two teachers."

THE REV. Rodney Riese, Immanuel, Plainview, and the Rev. Oscar Dorn, Trinity, Elgin, led the discussion group on evangelism and social welfare and defined social welfare as love in action.

The Rev. A. U. Deye, St. Martin's, Winona, counselor of the Whitewater circuit, conducted the opening and closing devotions.

Other churches represented were Grace, Stockton; Redeemer, Winona; St. Mark, Rushford; St. John's, Hart, and St. Matthew, St. Charles.

The balance of the churches in this southern group met at Elgin Sunday afternoon with about 33 in attendance. They are Immanuel, Potsdam, St. John's, Hammond, Bethlehem, Elba, St. Peter, Belvidere and Trinity, Elgin.

It's Too Expensive To Turn Lights Off

It's cheaper to leave lights on all night at the new municipal parking lot than to rewire and turn them off at 11 p.m., Ald. Henry Parks said Monday night.

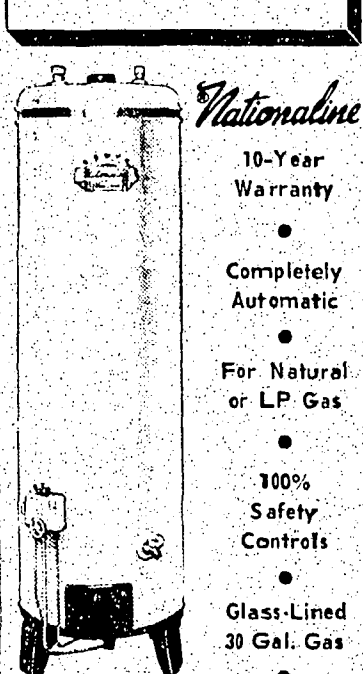

Ald. Parks said economy minded citizens had questioned the wisdom of leaving 12 fluorescent lights on all night operation at the 2nd and Center Street lot.

The lights are connected directly to the street lighting system. If they were connected to a separate circuit and operated for part of each night, the cost of making changes would pay the present bill for 10 years or more, Parks said. Northern States Power Co. charges the city $55 per year to operate and maintain each light, the same rate as that for downtown ornamental units on 3rd and 4th streets.

It takes a gas water heater to keep up with the Joneses.

Keeping up with the Joneses is a tough job for a water heater. That's why dependable gas does the job.

Every night the Joneses bathe away about 75 gallons of hot water. All in about an hour. (Sometime try heating 75 gallons of water yourself by pan or kettle and see what a job it is.)

Yet the Joneses never have been known to have a frosty father, a chilled child or a mad mom because their water heater couldn't keep up with the crowd.

That's because gas delivers hot water in gallons. Not trickles and dribbles or drips and drops.

The moment you turn on the tap, the little blue flame is ready to go to work immediately. It replaces the hot water you're using as fast as you can use it.

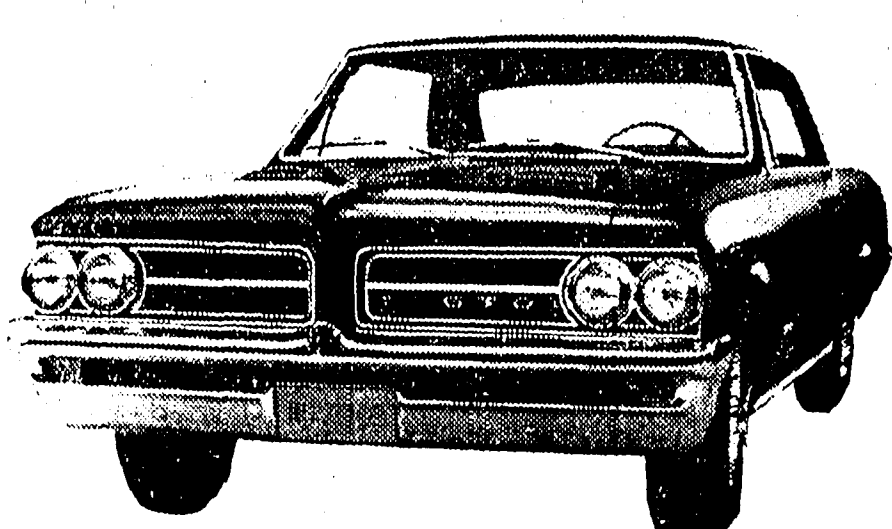

In addition to being speedy, the automatic gas water heater performs best for much less.

In fact, a gas water heater will save you so much the Joneses may have trouble keeping up with you. See your plumber or gas appliance dealer and learn how you can live modern for less—with gas.

WEATHER FORECAST . . . Rain and thundershowers are predicted for tonight for parts of the southern Plains while rain will extend into the lower Mississippi valley and the southern Gulf states. Scattered snow flurries are expected in the northern Rockies.

It will be colder in parts of the Northwest, the southern Plains and parts of the Northwest. Warmer temperatures are likely over the Plateau and upper and mid Mississippi valley with little change elsewhere. (AP Photofax Map)

Where Did Winter Go?

The weatherman's forecast was music in the ears of Winonians today.

"Mostly fair and continued mild tonight and Wednesday" was the good word for this vicinity.

A LOW IN THE 20s was predicted for tonight and a high of 36-42 Wednesday. Thursday, he said, would see temperatures continuing above normal with no significant precipitation likely.

The Winona temperature was up to a mild 38 Monday afternoon, dropped to 22 during the night and was back up to 42 at noon today.

The sky was clear and the warm sunshine had melted all but a trace of the three inches of snow—except on north slopes where it remains—which covered the area on Jan. 14.

TODAY'S weather was not much like a year ago today when the high was 27 and the low -8. Four inches of snow lay on the ground at that time. All-time high for the day was 53 in 1890 and the low for Feb. 4 was -26 in 1893. Mean for the past 24 hours was 30, in contrast with the normal for this time of the year of 17.

All main Minnesota and Wisconsin roads were reported in good winter driving condition, all but a few spots were entirely clear of snow and ice.

Mild temperatures prevailed across the Northwest with an 18 at St. Cloud, Minnesota's lowest. Rochester had a low of 24 after a Monday high of 37 and La Crosse posted figures of 24 and 37 for the same times.

WISCONSIN, TOO, continued to enjoy unseasonable warm weather along with sunshine today.

The skies were partly cloudy to cloudy Monday with a trace of snow in Green Bay and Wausau areas. The skies cleared over most of the state during the night.

The highest temperature reported in Wisconsin Monday was 37 degrees at Rockford, Beloit, Lone Rock and La Crosse. The lowest temperature reported Monday night was 23 degrees at Green Bay and Wausau.

THE NATION'S HIGH Monday was 76 at Key West, Fla. The low early today was 17 below at Craig, Colo.

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Olmsted County sheriff's detectives said Norman Kujuth, 55, in the real estate business here 10 years, was killed late Monday by the apparent accidental discharge of a .303 caliber rifle he had removed from its case at a shooting club southeast of Rochester.

Investigators said Kujuth was the only person at the club where he had gone for target practice. They said indications were the rifle had slipped and discharged. The bullet struck him in the head.

His body was seen by a passing motorist, who called off ficers.

Student Found Guilty of Careless Driving

A jury found a Winona State College student guilty of careless driving in municipal court this morning.

He was Gerald E. Curran, 21, a student from Cloquet, Minn., who paid a $30 fine. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of careless driving after city police arrested him at 2:36 a.m. Saturday on Service Drive and requested a jury trial.

THE STATE called as its witness the arresting officer, John Holubar, 180 E. Mark St.

Under questioning by City Prosecutor James Soderberg, Officer Holubar said he observed a vehicle headed south on Pelzer Street, come to the intersection, slow down, but not stop for a stop sign and continue across the Highway 61 intersection. It entered Service Drive.

Holubar said he followed Curran, who was going east on Service Drive. While following, Holubar said, Curran was driving east in the westbound traffic lane. Holubar said he checked Curran's speed. The police car's speedometer indicated 50 miles per hour but Curran was pulling away, Holubar related.

Holubar said he stopped Curran and charged him with careless driving. Holubar said it was windy and the snow was blowing.

CURRAN, in cross-examination of Holubar, asked about the weather. Holubar said visibility was about one-fourth mile. Curran asked the officer why he was not charged with the stop sign violation.

Holubar said he was going to at first until Curran drove in the wrong lane of traffic and was clocked at 50 miles an hour. Under law this constitutes careless driving, Holubar said.

Under questioning Holubar said the dividing line of Service Drive could not be seen because of the snow and the snow packed conditions.

Curran called Sharon Louise Klebs as a witness. She was in the car with him when he was arrested.

Miss Klebs said snow was blown across the road and only a section of the highway was clear. She said Curran was driving on the clear section of the highway.

Fun Fest At Cotter Is Today

Cotter High School's annual Fun Fest is being held today at the Catholic Recreation Center and at Cathedral Hall.

An innovation this year is a Fun Fest dinner to be served from 5 to 7 p.m. in the hall, with Mmes. Elaine Maloney and John Leaf as chairmen. Other events are in the Center.

Decorations are in a Valentine Fiesta motif and special attractions include a disguise salon, fish pond, candy valentines, gifts, a valentine cafe, a western jail and games for all ages.

Mmes. Paul Koprowski and Ray Kulawiczewski are co-chairmen of a sloppy joe lunch served to the students at noon.

The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of Fun Fest royalty by Winona Winter Carnival royalty at 8 p.m.

Class representatives competing for king and queen of the Fest are: Roger Przybylski and Paula Gappa, seniors; Dennis Woychek and Anne Losinski, juniors; Jim Blank and Carol Kohner, sophomores, and Mike Hoepfner and Susan Mitchell, freshmen.

Each home room is in charge of a booth. Chairmen of various committees are: Ronald Kohner, Patrick Thompson, Kathy Walsh, Ronald Ganey, Sue Lund, Ellen Casper, Thomas Joswick, Kathy Huelskamp, Robert Sawyer, Thomas Van Hoof, Robert Roekamp, Kathy Greden, Mary Sue Van Hoof, James Przytarski, Mike Lee, Anne Losinski and Kathy Quinlan.

High School Concert Program Is Announced

The program for the mid-winter concert of Winona Senior High School Choir and Orchestra at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the school auditorium has been announced.

Meryl Nichols will direct the singing group and Milton Daventport is conductor of the orchestra.

The program follows:

Ink Spots Sing To Small But Good Crowd

By Michael O'Hearn
St. Mary's College played host to the well-known Ink Spots at the Winona Senior High School Auditorium Monday night.

The only disappointing thing about the evening was the size of the audience. About 300 persons witnessed a well-rounded musical evening. The Ink Spots sang their past hits such as "If I Didn't Care" and "You Always Hurt the One You Love"; they sang blues in the Ray Charles vein — "I Can't Stop Loving You"; folk songs like "Wolverine Mountain"; musical show tunes such as "So in Love" from "Kiss Me Kate" and even rock and roll like "Kansas City."

THE AUDIENCE was enthusiastic and receptive and even sang along on several numbers including "Rambler Rose." Those who attended were treated to an hour and 45 minutes of good music and variety. Master of ceremonies Jerry Hicks introduced the Ink Spots and did a comedy routine. Miss Nebraska also got into the show with a couple of tap-dance numbers.

From the young point of view, probably the high spots came with the rendition of "Mack the Knife" or "I Left My Heart in San Francisco." The older group appreciated the skillful blend of voices in numbers like "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire" or "We Three."

Summing it up, it was an evening well worth-while.

Sister M. Eymard To Speak Before Three Auxiliaries

Sister M. Eymard, supervisor of the home nursing program of St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, will be the guest speaker at the third quarterly meeting of St. Anne Hospice Auxiliary at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Hospice. She will show slides and talk on her experiences with Sister Mary Jude, administrator of the Hospice, when they toured the Scandinavian countries on a study tour on the care of the aged.

Members of Winona Community Memorial Hospital and a Watkins Methodist Home auxiliaries are being invited to attend. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the meeting and program.

Third Democratic District to Meet At La Crosse Sunday

A caucus for the 3rd Congressional District, to elect delegates to the Democratic national convention in Atlantic City, N.J., will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at Stoddard Hotel, La Crosse.

Persons wishing to be delegate candidates and to vote for the four delegates from the district must be paid-up members of the party. Additional delegates-at-large will be selected by the administrative committee. Alternate delegates will be chosen by the state central committee.

Wisconsin will be represented by 46 votes at the national convention, which will open Aug. 24.

Godsey Proposes New Plan for Tourney Tickets

A suggestion for a change in the method of distribution of Winona's allotment of tickets for the state high school basketball tournament was received Monday night by the Board of Education.

Maurice D. Godsey, 702 Grand St., a former school director from the 2nd Ward, sought approval by the board of a plan for giving Senior High School basketball team members and their parents, rather than school personnel, priority in ticket purchases.

THE MINNESOTA State High School League allocates state tournament tickets to schools throughout the state on the basis of enrollment. Winona now is entitled to 16 tickets which, in years past, have been offered to members of the coaching staff and other school personnel.

Godsey proposed that he be allowed to purchase the entire allotment of tickets, two of which would be reserved for purchase by the head football coach and his top assistant.

If Winona were to win the regional tournament, Godsey's plan calls for making the quota of tickets first available to players' parents, with the players themselves to determine the order of priority.

Should Winona enter the regional tournament and lose, players would have first chance at the tickets — on their own priority basis. Any tickets remaining in the event players were unable to attend the tournament would be made available to the school representing this region in the tournament.

GODSEY emphasized that under no condition would he or anyone else outside the groups he'd mentioned be authorized to purchase one of the tickets.

Board President Lawrence Santelman said he thought the school system should retain the authority to distribute the tickets.

Director Frank J. Allen Jr., commented, "It seems to me the high school league has in mind a certain intent in its program for the distribution of tickets and I question whether it's up to us to change this. I'd think that this is a matter Mr. Godsey should bring before the league rather than this board of education."

Directors took no action on the proposal.

County Asked For Yield Sign At Valley Road

County commissioners declined to approve a yield sign on CSAH 17 at its Pleasant Valley intersection with old trunk Highway 61.

Amending an earlier request for a stop sign change at the junction, the City Council Monday night said the new plan would accomplish the desired effect but be less restrictive.

Traffic counts indicate much greater volume on the old highway than on the county road, City Engineer James Baird told the council.

He said state highway Department traffic engineers recommended that right of way be given to cars on the old highway as against northbound CSAH 17 traffic. At present, the opposite situation prevails.

County commissioners will be asked to approve a stop sign for northbound traffic at the junction.

But Ann-Margret hit Ward with the butt end of the bottle. Next on her schedule: Lessons in how to hit with the bottle.

Chief of Naval Personnel Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rear Adm. Benedict J. Semmes Jr., has been selected by President Johnson for chief of naval personnel.

Johnson sent Semmes' nomination to the rank of vice admiral to the Senate Monday for confirmation.

Semmes is a native of Memphis, Tenn.

Food Stamp Plan Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Agriculture Committee voted today to shelve a bill to expand and make permanent the food stamp plan — a key part of President Johnson's farm plan sent to Congress last week.

The food stamp plan, started on a pilot basis in 1961, enables needy families to buy more food at regular grocery stores by means of coupons. It is still on a pilot basis, operating in 39 counties and three cities.

Johnson coupled his request to expand the food stamp plan with a request for a five-year extension of the Food for Peace program, under which more than $12 billion in farm surpluses have been sent to underdeveloped countries.

The committee vote was to table the food stamp measure, dropping it from consideration.

The action did not affect the Food for Peace program, which is generally popular in Congress.

The food stamp bill can be revived in committee if some member on the winning side in today's vote moves for reconsideration. Administration pressure for that can be expected.

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — For an extra $50—if the Senate goes along with a House-approved bill — Alaskan motorists will be able to get personalized vehicle license plates.

The fee, added to the usual license tax, would get you any combination of seven letters or numbers, to form names, initials or slogans. The possibilities are staggering.

Mrs. Oswald's Report May Not Be Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretly given testimony of Mrs. Marina Oswald on events preceding the assassination of President John F. Kennedy "may not be released in your lifetime," Chief Justice Earl Warren has disclosed.

Warren said the presidential investigating commission which he heads will issue a statement — perhaps Wednesday — when it finishes questioning its first witness, the slim and pretty widow of Lee Harvey Oswald.

She goes before the commission again today. "I don't know how newsworthy" the commission's statement will be, Warren told reporters. He added that if it contains information affecting national security, it may be suppressed for decades — "and I say that seriously."

This suggested that the commission intends to explore as thoroughly as possible, through Mrs. Oswald and other witnesses, delicate subjects such as Oswald's 1959 visit to Russia, his unsuccessful efforts to defect to the Soviet Union and his attempts, on a Mexican visit last September, to obtain visas for Russia or Cuba.

But Monday's day-long questioning of the Russian-born, 22-year-old Mrs. Oswald—who believes her Marxist husband assassinated Kennedy — dealt with Oswald's activity and movements in the United States, after he brought his bride here.

This was reported by the commission's general counsel, J. Lee Rankin, during a break in the laborious testimony-taking through a State Department interpreter.

"Mrs. Oswald told us some things we hadn't heard before—some new things, new evidence," Rankin told questioners. He said she was "a very cooperative witness."

U.S. Ambassador Will Stay On

WASHINGTON (AP) — William E. Stevenson has been asked to continue as U.S. ambassador to the Philippines because of the unstable situation in Southeast Asia.

The White House announced Monday that Stevenson had agreed to stay on at President Johnson's request.

Stevenson submitted his resignation last month.

CENTER DISCUSSED

Why Not Now, Mental Health Worker Asks

"Sooner or later every county in the state will provide help for the mentally ill. Why not do it now?" Garth T. Harrison, psychiatric social worker at the South Central Mental Health Center, Owatonna, Minn., asked about 60 attending a meeting of the Winona County Mental Health Association Monday night at the YMCA.

Announcement was made that the Winona County Board of Commissioners had taken another step toward providing such help for this area by voting $500 earlier in the day for organizational expenses.

Each of the three counties aiming toward the Hiawatha

Valley Mental Health Center will be asked to contribute $500. This will be matched by $1,500 in state funds.

HARRISON, whose mental health center serves Dodge, Rice, Steele and Waseca counties, said that about 85 percent of the state now provides facilities for the treatment of the mentally ill. After reviewing the history of treatment of the mentally ill, he emphasized a need for a mental health center rather than clinic.

A center, he explained, embraced many professional and interested citizens in the community who are available and willing to help.

MISS PAULINE Uttinger, education chairwoman, announced that all clergymen from Winona, Houston and Wabasha counties will be invited to a mental health workshop March 9 at the Winona YMCA. Dr. Fredrik Midelfort, psychiatrist at Gunderson Clinic, La Crosse, will discuss the nature of man and individual clinical cases.

Community Mental Health Center board members are: George Schauble, Caledonia; Mrs. Kathleen Flesche, Lake City; James Papenfuss, Dakota; William Dumond, La Crosse; Mrs. Marie Theisman, Wabasha; Dr. M. L. De Bolt, Winona; Grant Lapham, Caledonia; Theodore J. Zabel, Plainview; and Dr. S. O. Hughes, Winona.

State Income Tax Asked in New Jersey

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Richard J. Hughes proposed a state income tax Monday in his annual budget message to the New Jersey Legislature.

Asked what they thought of Hughes' proposal, 13 private citizens here said they didn't know anything about it, 3 declined comment, 3 said they lived in New York and weren't concerned, and a man asked: "Who's Hughes?"

Street Vacation Issue Delayed At La Crescent

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — The public hearing on the petition of Mr. and Mrs. Al Moore to vacate a portion of the North side of F Street was set for March 3 at 9 p.m. at the Monday meeting of the La Crescent Village Council.

The hearing was scheduled this month but because of failure of the petitioners' lawyer to publish notices of the hearing the new date was set.

THE SEWAGE use and connection ordinance was passed by the council. It establishes fees for property not assessed which will be connected to the sewer.

The ordinance also establishes sewage use charges at a $4.50 flat fee payable quarterly for each single family residence. For larger units, the charge will be 80 percent of the water bill or a minimum of $4.50 quarterly. The charges will be effective the second quarter, which starts April 1.

A sample of the discolored water will be sent to the state Health Department for analysis. Mayor William Mishler said there have been many scattered reports of dirty water. The water mains on North 3rd Street were flushed Saturday after complaints from residents in that area. Harold Vetsch of the maintenance department said the unusual amount of discoloration came from a switch failure at one of the pumping stations Friday morning.

The council rejected a state proposal to install 14 lights at the new intersection at the village if the village would pay the operating costs of $770 a year plus maintenance.

A Northern State Power Co. representative from Winona explained the proposal. He also suggested the village install a 10,000 lumen light at the new sewage disposal plant. He said the cost would be $50 a year installed. The council voted to withhold action until the sewage treatment plant is completed. Construction is in the final stages.

THE COUNCIL will enter into an agreement with La Crescent Township for fire protection at the rate of $75 for the first hour and $35 for each additional hour, payable on a year. Chief Donald Loechler said Drexbach Township has asked for an agreement too. L. L. Duxbury, village attorney, is to draw a contract.

The proposed advertisement for dump site specifications on a leased basis include description and location of site; open dump or sanitary landfill; monthly rental for each type of dump; days and hours the dump is to be open, and how many times a sanitary landfill is to be covered, the lessor providing all covering material.

The length of the lease is to be 10 years which may be terminated by the village within a 60-day notice. The lessor must provide public liability insurance with a $100,000 to $300,000 limit. The bids will be opened March 2 at 8 p.m.

The council voted down a proposal by Mishler that an ordinance be established stating that all liquor licenses be applied for and fees paid one month previous to the issuance of the licenses, or 30 days before the licenses expire. Aldermen also voted down his proposal that all liquor license owners be residents of Minnesota.

A PETITION was read by Independent School District 300 for annexation of a portion of the school site which is to be used for the building of a new high school. The board asked that a water line, sewer trunk line and water hydrant be installed and a new public street be opened on the west side of the site.

The council will meet with the village engineers at 7 p.m. Feb. 17 and attend the regular meeting of the school board which follows to consider the requests.

Village maintenance men were authorized to buy necessary equipment for flushing water mains. Up to this time equipment from the fire department has been used.

Donald Bateman, building committee chairman, asked the council to consider the committee's new building code. A special public information meeting on it will be held Feb. 17 at 7 p.m. in the village hall.

Taxes Down for Two

Funds Transferred; St. Charles Bill Paid

Transfers of funds from one county fund to another were voted Monday by the Winona County Board of Commissioners.

The transfers are bookkeeping procedures adopted to straighten out the county's financial records for 1963.

THE LARGEST such action transferred $1,684 from the road and bridge fund to the incidental fund for bills paid from the latter fund during 1963. Of the total amount, $95 was for postage, $844.63 for telephone, $65.23 for water, $575.67 for lights and gas, $61.11 for freight, $31.36 for express, $5 for boiler certificates and $6 for tax-exempt license plates.

Another transfer took $571.32 from the county revenue fund and deposited it in the road and bridge fund. The money was paid from the latter fund for labor and materials for the following county units during 1963: $214.68 for the courthouse and $356.65 for the jail.

Another transfer to the road and bridge fund involved $310 from the county ditch fund. The money was paid for material used in work on County Ditch No. 3 (near the College of Saint Teresa) during 1963.

IN TWO SEPARATE actions, the commissioners voted homestead classification for a county resident for real estate tax purposes and approved a reduction in another resident's personal property tax. Both actions were recommended by David V. Sauer, county supervisor of assessments.

The first action was taken at the request of Joseph C. Peltz, who lives near Dakota in Richmond Township. He asked homestead classification for his taxes payable in 1964, contending that he had lived on his property since April 23, 1963.

This would mean that he was living there at the time of the assessment for taxes payable this year — May 1, 1963. A reduction in his taxes from $220 to $165 was involved.

The reduction in personal property taxes was taken at the request of Reuben K. Olson, a resident of Saratoga Township near Utica. He stated that he had sold his farm machinery before the May 1, 1963, assessment, but that the 1962 values were inadvertently entered for the current tax year. The reduction granted was from $1,475 to $438.

IN OTHER action, the board: Voted to pay its share of the 1963 poor relief bill for the city of St. Charles. The amount the county paid was $1,459.40. This amount was determined by taking the total bill ($2,704.72), subtracting one mill and paying 75 percent of the remainder.

Received contracts and bonds from firms awarded contracts at the board's January meeting.

Granted an on and off-sale beer license to John E. Heath, proprietor of Big John's Hilltop Tavern in Hillsdale Township. The license request was approved by the town board and the Winona County Sheriff.

Received a letter from the Winona County Historical Society, asking the commissioners to be present at the courthouse Saturday when a group from the society tours the building to determine its architectural and historic value. The tour is being made as part of the society's evaluation of buildings in the proposed downtown urban renewal project area.

Clarence A. Dahlen, operator of a jewelry store, was appointed Monday night by the village council.

Last November, Glen Aronson defeated Mayor W.A. Bohan on write-in votes, but Aronson refused to accept the office when charges of irregularities were made.

A Goodhue County grand jury checked into the matter, but returned a no bill, and then both men rejected the office.

It's Dahlen's first municipal office.

Rockefeller Expected To Say He Won't Run in Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, an announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will mail a letter soon saying he will not enter Wisconsin's April 7 primary, an aide said Monday.

All the other announced or potential GOP candidates who were contacted have written that they will defer to the favorite son plan of the state Republican party.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., who will head the favorite son delegate slate, said last week only Rockefeller had not replied.

Two Cases Set For Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Two Circuit court cases are scheduled in Trempealeau County beginning Monday at 9:30 a.m.

Jurors drawn to serve the fall term have been notified to report at that time. Judge Merrill Farr will preside.

The cases are the result of an automobile accident one mile south of Eleva April 21, 1962. Richard Kulig and Wyllis Espeseth, both of rural Independence, were passengers in a car driven by Warren Nelson, Eleva, Minn. All three were fatally injured.

Mrs. Julia Kulig, administratrix of the Kulig estate, and Mrs. Stella Espeseth, administratrix of the Espeseth estate are plaintiffs. Each is asking damages of $20,000. Economy Fire and Casualty Co. is defendant.

Russian Scientist Gets Out of Hospital

MOSCOW (AP) — Lev Davidovich Landau, winner of the 1962 Nobel Prize for physics, has been released from a Moscow hospital, two years after he was injured in a highway accident.

A spokesman for the hospital said Landau has been at his home in Moscow since Jan. 25. There was no word on whether Landau 55, had recovered enough to resume his work.

The scientist is believed to have played a leading role in planning the Soviet space program. He suffered severe brain damage.

Four Cuban Fishing Boats Held in Florida

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Four Cuban fishing boats and their crews were held here today while Cuba and the United States prepared protests about the Cubans' disputed position. Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa contended the fishing boats were detained on the high seas and forced into U.S. territorial waters by armed U.S. Coast Guard patrol craft, a Havana broadcast said.

Roa said protests would be made to the U.S. State Department and the United Nations, and ordered an energetic demand for release of the boats and 38 crewmen.

A State Department official said the United States planned to protest violation of U.S. territorial waters by Fidel Castro's commercial fishermen.

The four fishing boats were intercepted off Dry Tortugas Sunday and escorted 65 miles east to Key West where crews were questioned.

U. S. officials sought to learn what brought the Cuban fishing vessels to the spot where they were intercepted.

Ships passing through Panama Canal locks are towed by electric "mules" — locomotive engines running on rails atop the lock walls. Towing or braking, the engines never go more than 2 miles an hour and are guided by signals from the ship's pilot.

HARRIS SURVEY

Barry Slips in New Hampshire

By LOUIS HARRIS

A major reason for Sen. Barry Goldwater's recent slippage in the New Hampshire Republican primary—as reported yesterday—can be traced to growing disagreement with his positions on the issues.

When presented with 11 recent stands taken by the Arizona senator, voters in the Granite state part company with Goldwater on the majority. Agreement with Goldwater has been dropping on nearly every issue since he began campaigning actively for the Presidency.

By contrast, the same voters say they go along with seven out of 10 stands drawn from the record of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Rockefeller, who has cut Goldwater's lead in half during the past two months, has never been convinced most New Hampshire voters that he is much closer to their "middle-of-the-road" position on the political spectrum than his more conservative opponent.

Here is the extent to which a carefully-drawn cross-section of likely voters in New Hampshire's March 10 primary say they agree with Goldwater on 11 recent campaign stands:

Goldwater Support on Issues		Today Nov.
Agree with Goldwater:	%	%
No tax cut until budget balanced	67	76
Allow state right-to-work laws	61	X
Sell TVA to private companies	59	X
Do away with farm subsidies	57	61
Oppose wheat sale to Russia	57	52
Federal government going too fast on civil rights	48	56
Leave Medicare to private companies	46	59
Oppose atom test ban treaty	39	47
U.S. missiles undependable	23	X
U.S. consider leaving U.N.	16	17
NATO commander use nuclear weapons	12	X
(X—Not asked in November)

On domestic issues, Goldwater meets with a fair amount of agreement among his fellow Republicans in New Hampshire. But on most military and foreign policy stands he has taken, he has been greeted with rather solid disagreement.

His criticisms of the United Nations, the missile program and the test ban treaty have not been helpful to the Goldwater cause. On the other hand, his positions on right-to-work laws, TVA, farm subsidies and the tax cut have been helpful—in this part of the country. The balance for Rockefeller on the issues is more favorable:

Rockefeller Support On Issues		Today Nov.
Agree with Rockefeller:	%	%
Keep Portsmouth Naval Base	91	X
U.S. should support U.N.	86	93
Support test ban agreement	65	59
GOP repudiate Birchers, right wing	63	82
Go all out for Negro rights	59	59
Pass optional Medicare plan	57	51
Revamp farm price supports	52	54
Negotiate wheat sale to Russia	45	50
Right-to-work laws wrong	37	X
Pass big tax cut this year	37	X
(X—Not asked in November)

Rockefeller finds agreement among New Hampshire GOP voters for his strong support of the United Nations and civil rights as well as his urging that the Republican Party repudiate right-wing influence. Only on his backing of the wheat deal with Russia has the New York governor tended to lose ground.

But he has obviously hit pay dirt among local voters with his plea that the Portsmouth Naval Yard not be closed down, as suggested in Washington.

Despite Rockefeller's clear advantage on the issues in New Hampshire—and the recent drop in Goldwater's lead over him in a two-way race from 14 to 8 percentage points—many GOP voters there show a distinct coolness now to both the New York governor and the Arizona senator.

One of the roots of this discomfort rests in the fact that Republicans of New Hampshire see themselves essentially as a "middle-of-the-road" lot. Goldwater is looked on as too "conservative," Rockefeller as too "liberal."

Political Spectrum		Conservative
GOP Voters	Liberal Road	Classified	Classified
Themselves	12	61	27
Goldwater	8	12	80
Rockefeller	69	21	10

Rockefeller is thought to be 57 percentage points more "liberal" on the political spectrum than these voters consider themselves to be. On the other hand, Goldwater is believed to be 53 percentage points more "conservative" than the voters see themselves.

In his pronouncements to date, Rockefeller has not been as outspokenly liberal as some voters had expected. Goldwater has been more extreme, especially on world affairs, than many imagined. The senator has thus lost ground.

But there are two hidden factors in this primary which are more powerful than campaign GOP talk on specific policy issues. The next report will cover these deepest of all dimensions in the New Hampshire situation.

Poland to Buy U.S. Products

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department Monday announced an agreement with Poland to sell that country $90 million worth of farm products this year. Two-thirds of the products would move under a Food-for-Peace program.

The agreement provides for shipment this year of $30 million worth of wheat, edible oil, cotton and tobacco under the Food-for-Peace program this year.

An additional $30 million worth of wheat, rice and cotton will be shipped to Poland under a Food-for-Peace plan with payment in dollars over a three-year period.

In addition, Poland will buy $30 million worth of undesignated farm products this year on commercial terms.

The Agriculture Department said the commercial purchases probably will be feed grains, wheat, cotton, rice and other farm products.

Operation for Queen Mother, 63

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth underwent a successful emergency appendectomy today which forced her to cancel a 30,000-mile trip to Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Sir Arthur Porritt, the royal surgeon, said the operation on the 63-year-old mother of Britain's reigning queen, lasted about half an hour.

"The queen mother is very well," Porritt told newsmen, "but she will not receive any visitors today."

Stricken with acute pain after church Sunday, the queen mother was taken to the King Edward Hospital for Officers in London Monday night. She had been scheduled to leave on her six-week tour Friday.

A woman of maternal charm, the queen mother holds a high place in the British public's affection.

Trainer Shot Down by Russ Is Examined

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — The U.S. Air Force has begun a piece-by-piece examination of the wreckage of an Air Force jet trainer shot down over Communist East Germany last Tuesday.

The remaining parts are being laid out in a hangar at the Wiesbaden air base to reconstruct as far as possible the plane's original shape. An Air Force spokesman said there would be no statement until the study is completed.

Three U.S. officers were killed when the plane was downed 26 miles inside East Germany.

U.S. Will Ask De Gaulle to Clarify Views

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are expected to seek clarification from Paris in the next few days as to what President Charles de Gaulle means in proposing a neutrality treaty for Southeast Asia and what he intends to do about it.

Along with De Gaulle's recognition of Red China, the neutralization plan is a source of deep concern at the highest levels of U.S. government.

From President Johnson down, U.S. leaders are worried about the impact of French moves in the Far East and especially in Viet Nam, where this country has more than 15,000 men engaged in a fight against Communist expansion.

Uncertainty over De Gaulle's proposal was evident in President Johnson's news conference Saturday when, discussing the neutralization plan, Johnson told reporters "you will have to ask Gen. De Gaulle about the details of his proposal."

From other high officials it was learned that the United States does not know precisely what, if any, action De Gaulle has in mind to carry out his proposition. If he is talking about a vague, ultimate goal, perhaps years off, they see no great difficulty. But if he intends now to wage a campaign for neutralization of South Viet Nam, they see serious trouble ahead.

Following up his recognition of Red China last Monday, De Gaulle told a Paris conference Friday that he could not conceive of "a neutrality treaty... concerning the states of Southeast Asia" without the participation of Red China. He went on to say what neutrality would mean in the area—such things as ending "foreign intervention"—but did not spell out the countries to which it would apply.

Johnson said that if Communist North Viet Nam and U.S.-supported South Viet Nam could be neutralized "I am sure that would be considered sympathetically."

But he added that he does not see any indication that the Communist forces are willing "to let their neighbors live in peace" and therefore he sees no alternative except to press the war as vigorously as possible.

With obvious satisfaction, Johnson announced he had received assurances from the new military leader of South Viet Nam, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, that the operations against the Communist Viet Cong forces will be stepped up immediately.

To some authorities in Washington it appeared that if De Gaulle presses his neutralization proposal to the extent that it threatens to upset the anti-Communist war effort in South Viet Nam, Washington - Paris tensions could become much greater.

Johnson said that as he understood De Gaulle's proposals "the neutralization talk has been applied only to South Viet Nam and not to the whole area of the world."

"I think," he continued, "that the only thing we need to do to have complete peace in that area of the world now is to stop the invasion of South Viet Nam by some of its neighbors and supporters."

In other words, by contrast with De Gaulle's apparent design, Johnson sees no possibility of arriving at a peaceful solution for South Viet Nam except through carrying the present war to a successful conclusion.

U. of Wisconsin Gets $387,000 Carnegie Grant

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The University of Wisconsin said Monday it had been awarded a grant of $387,000 by the Carnegie Corp. to help finance a new approach to higher education.

The announcement said the grant by the New York organization will be formally presented to university regents at a meeting in Milwaukee Friday.

"The program aims to bring university work within the reach of the educationally disadvantaged by eliminating the cost of lengthy periods of campus residence and by introducing flexible forms and time of instruction," said Dr. Fred H. Harrington, the university president.

3 CAP Members Assist in Search

Three members of the Winona squadron of the Civil Air Patrol took part in a search for a missing plane over the weekend.

The men, along with other CAP members from throughout the state, were searching for a plane missing from the Clitherall, Minn., airport since Saturday afternoon, when two Clitherall men took off on a fox hunting trip.

The planes and the bodies of the two hunters were found Sunday on a farm near Henning, Minn., about 40 miles east of Fergus Falls.

Taking part in the search from the Winona unit were CAP Sgt. Iver Odegaard Jr., pilot of the Winona aircraft, and Sgt. Warner Buswell, who acted as an observer.

Donald Bauer, commander of the Winona squadron, acted as a radio operator, coordinating the work of the Winona men with that of CAP groups from other points.

Negro Youths Stage Riot in Jackson, Miss.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A traffic injury to a Negro pedestrian has touched off this Mississippi capital city's first racial demonstrations in more than six months.

Police used tear gas and warning blasts from shotguns to break up a protest Monday night involving about 1,000 Negroes — many of them high school and college students. Earlier officers had quelled a protest march by barking commands to disperse through bullhorns.

Three Negroes received treatment for superficial gunshot wounds following the second flareup on the campus of Jackson State College, a state-supported all-Negro institution. Last summer more than 1,000 Negroes were arrested during a month of demonstrations climaxed by the assassination of a Negro leader.

Mamie Balard, 20, of Flora, Miss., a Jackson State coed suffered a fractured leg late Monday when she was struck by a car while crossing Lynch Street, a busy thoroughfare which cuts through the campus. Witnesses said the driver was a white person.

Officers said later they had arrested the motorist, who was ticketed for failure to yield to a pedestrian. Police declined to identify the motorist.

Small groups of students began to protest speeding on Lynch Street, which has a 35-mile an hour speed limit. As the crowd grew they began marching in the street, shouting and singing "freedom songs."

The milling students blocked traffic but dispersed when police arrived.

MARVIN GUNDERSON
Recommendation Unanimously Approved

Ex-Harmony Coach Headed for Hawk Grid Job

Thirty-two-year-old Marvin Gunderson, who laid the foundation for an all-time state record for high school football coaching successes at Harmony five years ago, Monday night won unanimous endorsement of the Winona Board of Education for appointment as head football coach at Winona Senior High School.

Gunderson, whose teams at Harmony and St. James — where he's now a member of the faculty — went 43 games without a defeat, was recommended by Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson to fill the vacancy created on the coaching staff last fall with the resignation of James Elliott.

The board was meeting Monday informally as a committee of the whole and could take no formal action on the appointment but indicated that it would approve the recommendation at its regular meeting next Monday night. Nelson said that about 25 persons had indicated an interest in the Winona post and that four had come in for personal interviews by the administration. Only one member of the Winona staff had applied for the job. He is Eugene Nardini, a football coaching assistant for four years and head wrestling coach this year.

Board members felt that it would be advisable to secure someone with more extensive head football coaching experience. Gunderson, who has indicated he would accept appointment here, would be hired on the sixth step of the teachers' salary schedule. The 1964-65 schedule hasn't been drafted yet nor has final action been taken on increments to be paid for coaching assignments next year.

This year's schedule provides a base salary of $6,050 for instructors on the sixth step and an $800 payment for the head football coaching assignment.

Nelson said that although a definite teaching assignment has not been made, Gunderson is qualified to teach biology, physical education or general.

Run League Mark to 5-4

ST. PAUL, Minn. (Special)—St. Mary's roared back from a 10-1 deficit early in the game and then found enough reserve strength to go to its fifth MIAC victory against four losses.

Using a superb first-half performance by Denny Burman and a stall in the waning minutes of the contest to good advantage, St. Mary's posted a 55-51 victory over Macalester at Mac Field House here.

The Redmen watched the Scouts jump off to a 10-1 lead as the host team canned five of its first six shots.

With Burman replacing Jim Rockers, the Redmen started the long trail back. The rally was climaxed as two free throws by George Valaika dropped through with just over eight minutes left to make it 16-15 for St. Mary's.

THE TWO TEAMS battled on even terms through the remainder of the first half, and the score at intermission wound up deadlocked at 29-29.

Had it not been for Burman, St. Mary's might have suffered a disastrous 20 minutes. The reserve pivotman dumped through 16 of his 22 points to keep the Redmen in contention.

Another reserve, Valaika, figured heavily in the last half drive to victory. Sweeping the boards on both ends of the court, he let his teammates do the scoring.

Midway in the half, St. Mary's took command with an eight-point lead and then was content to let the Scots chase the ball.

This they did with a verve that brought them within two points at 53-51 late in the contest.

Guard Jerry Sauter then hit two crucial free throws to make it 55-51 and the cat-and-mouse game lasted it out.

ST. MARY'S hit an even 50 percent for the game. The Redmen shot at a torrid 20-for-40 pace from the field and hit a cool 15 of 30 from the charity stripe.

Coach Ken Wilgen was a dissatisfied individual after Monday's battle, but this morning had a different outlook on the contest.

"I guess you're never satisfied when you play a team like that," he said. "There was so much physical contact that it makes it impossible to play basketball."

"We didn't play real well, but I'm just glad we got out with the win."

Nearly all the Redmen are nursing bruises as the result of the Macs' pushing and shoving, but Tom Hall is the only question mark.

HALL MADE a diving trip into the bleachers to retrieve an errant pass and wound up injuring his hip.

Win Over Concordia

St. Mary's hockey team won its eighth straight MIAC test Monday night in St. Paul's Aldrich Arena, topping Concordia 8-1.

The Redmen now hold a two and a half game lead over Macalester with four games remaining. Coach Keith Hanzel's charges got their next test against Augsburg Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at Terrace Heights.

AGAINST CONCORDIA, St. Mary's was led by the swift skating of captain Andre Beaulieu, who scored five goals.

Phil Reichenbach got the St. Mary's scoring started early in the first period. He scored 40 seconds after the opening face-off on a double assist from Dennis Cooney and Brian Desbiens. Shortly thereafter, Dick McCormick made it 2-0 with an unassisted goal.

Beaulieu got rolling midway in the second period, scoring unassisted to make the score 3-0 in favor of the Redmen. Concordia couldn't penetrate the St. Mary's defense until early in the third stanza when player-coach Bruce Unfried scored on an assist by Dornwart at 1:46.

FROM THIS POINT ON Beaulieu and Reichenbach took charge. Beaulieu hit successive goals at 5:16 and 9:06 to up the Redmen advantage to 5-1. Reichenbach then scored his second, this one unassisted at 11:17, and Beaulieu rapped in two more to finish the scoring at 13:29 and 13:43. McCormick and Reichenbach each had an assist while Desbiens and Bob Paradise each had two assists.

St. Mary's goalie Jack Scott had 14 stops and Tom Halversen of Concordia finished with 25.

Hanzel said after the game, "The score definitely is not indicative of the game. They pushed us pretty hard up until the third period." "Beaulieu took the pressure off in the last period. If it wouldn't have been for that, the score would have been tighter."

DENNIS COONEY injured his knee in the tilt and will probably miss the Augsburg clash, reported Hanzel. Another lineup change will have Jerry Archambeau in the nets replacing Scott.

The rematch with Macalester is tentatively slated for Terrace Heights ice Feb. 15, but right now Hanzel is concerned with taking them one at a time, starting with Augsburg Wednesday night. "I'd sure like to go undefeated in the MIAC," said the Redmen coach. "It looks good right now, but you never can tell, you never can tell."

Barber Shaves Skate Record

ONLY COOK, AMERICAN IN WAY

France Threatens To Sweep Alpine

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Terry McDermott, a barber from Essexville, Mich., cracked the Soviet Union's long-time speed skating monopoly and won the first gold medal for the United States with a 500-meter victory today in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

The 23-year-old former Michigan Tech student, who clips hair and shaves customers in his dad's barber shop, trimmed one-tenth of a second off the Olympic record by flashing the 546.8 yards in 40.1 seconds.

The record had been set at Cortina, Italy, in 1956 by the Soviet Union's Eugene Grishin, who finished in a triple tie for second with another Russian, Vladimir Orlov, and Alvgjesteing of Norway, all clocked in 40.6.

McDermott outsped 43 skaters from 19 countries in giving the United States its first speed skating medal since 1952, when Ken Henry won the 500.

The medal was the third for the United States, with a silver and a bronze won previously by spunky Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., in the ladies' giant slalom and slalom on the skiing slopes of Lizum Valley.

Earlier, a skiing marksman from the Soviet Union, Vladimir Melanin, won the tough biathlon test and Germans dominated both the men's and women's individual events in tobogganing, a new Olympic event.

Also, Scotty Allen, the 15-year-old schoolboy from Smoke Rise, N.J., held fourth place in the men's figure skating competition, still being contested, and Monty Hoyt of Denver remained among the leading contenders.

The Russians, with two medals in the biathlon and two silvers in the 500-meter speed skating tie, boosted their total to 19 — more than twice that of second place Germany, with 8. Just when it seemed as if the United States would be shut out of any first places in the Games, McDermott uncorked a superb race to overtake the three leaders.

Eddie Rudolph of Northbrook, Ill., knowing he had to do 40.6 or better to stand any chance of a medal — only just missed it. He was clocked in 40.9.

Tom Gray of Bloomington, the other American entrant, did 41.5.

The Germans finished 1-2-3 in the men's tobogganing — known as luge in Europe — and 1-2 in the women's, with the bronze medal going to Austria.

The luge is a small sled, little more than a wooden plank and two iron runners, on which European children slide down snow banks.

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—An Austrian cook and a sturdy American girl are almost all that stand in the way of France in cleaning up the Alpine events in the ninth winter Olympic Games.

The Austrian, Egon Zimmermann, won the men's downhill and will be a strong contender Saturday in the slalom.

The American girl, Jean Saubert, added the silver medal in the women's giant slalom Monday to the bronze she won previously in the special slalom. The Oregon State University co-ed is a favorite in the women's downhill Thursday.

France went right on winning glory in the Alpine events — so distinguished by the Nordic events because they are swift descents of mountain trails rather than cross country races or jumps.

It was Gotschel again Monday in the women's giant slalom, only this time it was Marielle, 18, instead of her older sister, Christine, 19.

Marielle, who along with her sister received a telegram of congratulations from President De Gaulle, took the giant slalom gold medal with the sensational time of 1:52.24.

She was almost a second faster than her sister, Christine, and Jean Saubert, who tied for second at 1:54.11 — a tie without precedent in Olympic annals and seemingly impossible now that electric clocks measuring in hundredths of a second are used.

The Gotschel sisters are also without precedent as a one-two punch in the Olympics. Christine won the special slalom with Marielle second and Jean Saubert third.

Never before has a sister combination won both the gold and silver medals in an event, let alone doing it twice.

Under Olympic rules both Miss Saubert and Miss Christine received silver medals.

A Frenchman, Francois Bonlieu, won the men's giant slalom gold medal Sunday, giving France three out of the four Alpine gold medals contested.

It has been a stunning performance for a country that will next host the Winter Olympics. And France may well go into the 1968 Olympics at Grenoble as the defending Alpine champion.

She was almost a second faster than her sister, Christine, and Jean Saubert, who tied for second at 1:54.11 — a tie without precedent in Olympic annals and seem-

LET'S TALK SPORTS

SINCE THE LAST time this column hit the sports page, there have been some changes made.

Bob Junghans, who until Monday helped fill the spaces for this department, has departed for Mankato and the sports editor's job on the Free Press.

The new hired hand is Rollie Wussow, a sophomore at Winona State College and the sports editor of that school's Winonan.

We know Winona High Coach John Kenney and Rollie will have their fun talking over old times.

Wussow was a freshman at Shawano, Wis., High School when Kenney was piloting the Marty Gharitty and John Cantwell-led Indians to the Badger state championship for the second straight year in 1957.

Junghans WE'VE BEEN TAKING our share of kidding from Bob Warren of KWNO, but now a story of the pudgy disk jockey's athletic endeavors comes to light — one that threatens to throw him into the infamous limelight with Stanford's Roy Reigels.

Warren, at North Branch High School, is held in the same esteem as Reigels at Stanford.

It was Bob, a back, who lost a homecoming game for his team. As a senior, he raced the wrong way, wound up in the wrong end zone and saw North Branch, Minn., High School, bow.

IF LYLE PAVEK's theory comes true, the population as well as bowling at Whitehall is about to undergo an explosion.

It seems that Mrs. Jim (Georgia) Hughes is expecting a visit from the stork shortly. Saturday night she broke the women's record at Pavek's Whitehall Lanes with a sizzling 669.

Sometime over a year ago, she set the previous record with a 609. The Hughes then were expecting their second child. "I suppose," chuckled Pavek Saturday morning, "that now all the ladies will decide they have to have a baby to boost their bowling scores."

Dr. McCown is a member of the first base panel for the January issue of "Coaching Clinic," a magazine in which coaches of the 1963 track and baseball championships bring the reader tips, ideas and techniques for championship coaching.

Serving with McCown on the panel were Albert D. (Hop) Riopel of Holy Cross, Julian Mock of Atlanta, Ga., High School, George Cullen of Sanborn, N.H., Seminary and James Coming of Benson Union High School, the 1963 Arizona Class "B" state champion.

Selections for the magazine are based on past records, and McCown's is the topper with 243 wins and 107 losses in baseball at Winona State.

WILDCATS TOP GEORGIA TO GIVE COACH 700TH WIN

Rupp Sees South Rise—in Basketball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Like any good Kentucky colonel, Adolph Rupp had a couple of kind words to say about the South.

"One of my greatest satisfactions is seeing the South — once the laughing stock of the nation in basketball — now respectable and with teams rated among the top ten nationally."

Rupp made the observation Monday night after his Kentucky Wildcats knocked off Georgia 103-83 and, 1, took over sole possession of the Southeastern Conference lead; 2, provided Rupp with his 700th coaching victory and 3, prompted him to do a bit of reflecting.

Southern basketball was, as Rupp observed in pretty sad shape when he took over the Kentucky reins as a 29-year-old coach.

But that was some 33 years, four national championships and 700 victories ago.

In that time, under the leadership of Rupp and Kentucky, the Southland has emerged as one of the nation's strongest basketball arenas.

Proof? Look at the national rankings. Four of the nation's top ten come from the South; No. 3 Kentucky, No. 5 Davidson, No. 7 Duke and No. 8 Vanderbilt.

Both Kentucky and Vanderbilt protected those high ratings Monday, Vandy with a 111-73 romp over Alabama but second-ranked Michigan had its troubles.

The Wolverines, the only other ranked team in action, was edged out by Ohio State 86-85. It was Michigan's first loss in the Big Ten and only the second defeat in 17 starts for the Wolverines.

Ohio State trailed by nine points three times in the first half but rallied for an 81-73 lead with three minutes to go. The Wolverines closed to within one before time ran out.

The Buckeyes' Gary Braddis sparked their upset effort with 42 points.

In Athens, Ga., site of Rupp's first loss as a Kentucky coach Feb. 13, 1931, Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken led the charge for No. 700. Nash tossed in 33 points and Deeken added 29 as the Wildcats moved to a 16-2 overall record.

Vanderbilt, upset by Auburn over the weekend, bounced back against Alabama. The Commodores had eight players scoring in double figures, led by Clyde Lee with 15. The 111-point total represented the most points ever scored against an Alabama team.

In some of the other major games, Kansas State had to go to overtime to beat Nebraska 73-66, Nick Werkman scored 41 points and led Seton Hall to a 110-86 romp over Wagner, Colorado upset Oklahoma State 63-59 and gained a share of the Big Eight lead, while Washington of St. Louis put on a fantastic second half shooting show, hitting 16 of 21 attempts from the floor, in a 75-68 conquest of Drake.

Canada Tops In Hockey

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—A fast, young Canadian team was perched firmly atop the Olympic hockey standings today after destroying the United States' faint hopes of retaining the championship.

The Canadians, with a record of four victories and no defeats, had today off while Russia, their main rival, tangled with Finland.

Buffalo Valley Loan Goes to Washington

FIRST BUFFALO MEETING — Organized a year ago, the group promoting the golf-ski-marina area between Cochrane and Alma had its first annual meeting Monday night. These are some of the people who worked hard on the $1 million project on which tentative approval is expected shortly.

By RUTH ROGERS
Daily News Area Editor

ALMA, Wis. — The docket applying for an $850,000 FHA loan for development of a comprehensive Buffalo County recreation area has been approved by the state and was sent to the national office at Washington, D.C., today.

As soon as tentative approval of the plans for the combination golf course - ski hill - marina area is completed the board of directors of Buffalo Valley, Inc., may contract for work on the 700-acre project, according to Seward M. Nielson, county FHA supervisor.

"WE HAVE no reason to believe we won't receive tentative approval," Nielson said. "The actual loan will come when the money is available."

FHA arranges for such loans through private financing and insures them.

Buffalo Valley applied for the

$1 million limit for recreational FHA loans. "We cut back to $850,000 so we can arrange for a supplemental loan to help you over the hump in the final stages of construction if necessary," Nielson said.

The docket as revised estimates the total project at $1,237,040. This doesn't include the cost of two water conserving dams provided under Public Law 566 — an approved project as an extension of the Rose Valley watershed which would be paid by the government — and funds that would become available from Rural Electrification Administration amounting to 80 percent of electrical installation costs.

MONIES BEYOND the $850,000 loan and aside from the REA watershed law funds would be raised for the project by Buffalo Valley, Inc.

Actual expenditures on the area total $910,000 in the plans.

They include $100,000 for land; $5,000 rejuvenation and remodeling; $250,000 ski area; $240,000 golf courses; $85,000 related recreational areas; $55,000 marina; $50,000 site development, and $115,000 clubhouse-chapel.

For promotion, organization, programming, legal, corporate and other fees, $20,000 has been allowed, plus $5,000 for preliminary planning.

Fixed expenses the first two years have been estimated at $199,190, including interest at 5 percent, operating loss the first year, and area promotion, figured at $25,000.

The $1,237,040 also includes $102,850 as a contingency fund including architect's and engineering fees at 6 percent, estimated at $56,100, and other fixed fees.

ANNOUNCEMENT that the plans would go to Washington today was made at the first annual meeting of stockholders in the nonprofit organization, Buffalo Valley, Inc., held at the American Legion Club, Alma, Monday night.

Jake Zeches, Cochrane, board chairman, said he hoped tentative approval of the plans would be received within two weeks.

Nielson said Sen. Gaylord Nelson has been watching the project closely and calling the Madison FIA office to see what was holding the plans up. As governor of Wisconsin he promoted conservation extensively throughout the state.

The same board of directors and same officers were elected. Chosen for two-year terms were Zeches; O. H. Scheweide, Buffalo City, secretary; Dr. M. O. Baehubler, Alma; La Croix Johnson, Cochrane, treasurer, and Dr. John Platt, Wabasha, Minn.

Re-elected for one-year terms were William Kotlarz, Buffalo City; Belmont Krause and Cyril Reitz, Alma; Warren Roettiger, Fountain City, and C. E. Pingle, Buffalo City, vice president.

Herbert Stahr and Clem Herold, Alma, and Robert Grebe, formerly of Buffalo City, first chairman of the board, were the nominating committee.

JOHNSON reported that 176 $25 memberships in the nonprofit organization were paid in full, with 94 others pledged, with some pledges partly paid.

He reported receipts of $4,699.50 to 5 p.m. Monday, with some memberships paid just prior to the meeting. Promotional expenses left a $67.05 balance in the treasury.

Dr. Platt, who described himself as a "recreational" skier, said Telemark, a popular ski area in northern Wisconsin, has 2,000 skiers a day over weekends and pointed out the possibilities of this part of the overall program, plus the golf courses, marina and other recreational programs planned.

John Schaeffgen of R. C. Greaves & Associates, architects employed on the plan, was present. About 50 attended.

Juveniles Admit Two Breakins

Two Saturday morning breakins at Winona were solved by city police Monday.

The Winona Potato Market, 118 Market St., breakin was discovered at 8:50 a.m. Saturday. The second breakin was at the Red Men's Club. It was discovered at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Winona police said two juveniles had been apprehended and admitted the breakins Monday. They were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Apparently nothing was taken from either place.

Truck Overturns, Driver Not Hurt

A rural Winonan escaped injury Monday when his pickup rolled over on a service road near Homer.

He was Ronald Bie, 23, Winona Rt. 3. He was driving a vehicle owned by Watkins Experimental Farm, Winona Rt. 3.

According to the Winona sheriff's office, Bie was going in a northwesterly direction down a service road to the south of Emil Liers place in Homer Township at 10:15 a.m. when he slowed down for a dip in the road.

In accelerating, his vehicle started to slide and the front hooked a rock. The vehicle rolled over on its top and came to rest facing the bluff. Damage was estimated at $673.

Want Differential Upped

Principals Asking For Pay Increase

Noting that the ratio of Winona public school principals' salaries to maximums paid teaching personnel has declined in recent years, a delegation of principals Monday requested that the Board of Education give consideration to an upward adjustment in their relative salary position.

The principals had no specific salary proposal but only asked that "some progress be made in bringing us up to something more equitable in terms of past experience."

MEETING WITH directors Monday was Thomas Raine, director of the Area Vocational-Technical School; Sherman Mitchell, principal at Jefferson School; and Verdi F. Elles, principal at Central Elementary and Madison schools.

They pointed out that in 1950-51 when the teacher maximum was $3,900, junior high school and elementary school principals were receiving $5,200 for a ratio of 1.33 and the Senior High School principal $5,500 for a 1.41 ratio.

This year, they continued, classroom teachers are receiving a top salary on the schedule of $8,335, compared with the Senior High principal's salary of $11,100, $10,000 for junior high and $9,500 for elementary principals.

The ratio has dropped, Raine pointed out, to 1.33 for Senior High, 1.19 in the junior high schools and 1.14 in the elementary schools.

Hit With Penny, Man Brings Assault Charge

A 20-year-old Winonan pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault in municipal court this morning.

He was James Ramm, 826 E. 5th St., arrested on complaint of John M. Rozek, 875 E. 4th St. Rozek said Ramm threw a penny at his face and hit him near the eye. City police arrested Ramm at 7:55 p.m. Monday at Broadway and Mankato Avenue.

Ramm's trial was set for 9:30 a.m. Feb. 13. He posted bail of $5.

THE VOCATIONAL director in 1955-56 was receiving $7,050 while the teacher maximum was $5,150 for a ratio of 1.36. This year, at $10,000, the vocational director's salary, in ratio to the teaching maximum, is 1.19.

The average ratio for the period from 1950 to 1956 was 1.37 for the Senior High principal, the delegation stated, 1.31 for junior high and elementary principals and 1.36 for the vocational director. These have dropped, respectively, in the years from 1956 to 1964 to 1.29, 1.21, 1.20 and 1.24.

Mitchell said that in some school systems some sort of index, based on maximums for teaching personnel, is used in arriving at salaries for principals.

"We're not asking for this," he said, "but only saying that in some systems this is done."

Elles added, "If you should see fit to establish some sort of a ratio like this, a change in the pattern of teachers' salaries automatically would take care of the principals' salaries and you'd settle both at one time."

Board members said they'd take the presentation under consideration and Raine concluded the session with the observation that although no specific request was being made, the principals hoped "you'll make the picture more equitable than it is now."

BOARD PRESIDENT Lawrence Santelman reviewed briefly progress made in discussions with teachers on 1964-65 salary schedule issues.

He said that one joint meeting had been held at which the teachers' request for a $403 increase in the maximums of the present salary schedule, in addition to other miscellaneous benefits, had been made to a board salary study committee by a joint committee representing members of the Winona Education Association and the Winona Federation of Teachers.

Santelman said that the board salary committee, headed by 4th Ward Director Franklin Tillman, was planning another joint meeting with the teachers' group.

Dr. C. W. Rogers, 3rd Ward director, said he recalled from reports on the joint committee meeting that the teachers had recommended appointment of a cross country coach, another basketball coaching assistant and certain other extensions in the athletic program.

"I CAN'T see," Dr. Rogers said, "where these things have anything to do with a discussion of a teachers' salary schedule. These are matters for the administration to determine."

"It wouldn't seem any more appropriate, to me, for them to tell us what subjects to teach. That's something for the board to decide."

Santelman and several other members of the board agreed that such issues were outside the scope of consideration of salary issues.

At the conclusion of the board meeting, Tillman's salary study committee met for an informal discussion of the teachers' request.
