McNamara Silent On Goldwater

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is absorbing in silence Sen. Barry Goldwater's increasingly sharp slings and arrows. McNamara is not counter-punching in public—and the defense secretary's associates indicate he's unlikely to do so. McNamara is not normally a man to turn the other cheek, or avoid a scrap. But he is said to feel that making any new public statements in reply to Goldwater would only give the Arizona Republican another peg on which to hang his attack. There were those among McNamara's associates who reportedly advised against issuing a biting statement he put out on Jan. 9.

That statement came several hours after Goldwater said for the first time in his campaign for the GOP presidential nomination that U.S. missiles are not dependable. The Pentagon chief was said to have felt that that was the time to challenge Goldwater's allegations — before they became accepted by the public. McNamara called those Goldwater remarks, made at a New Hampshire news conference, "completely misleading, politically irresponsible and damaging to the national security."

U.S. to Base Eight Polaris Subs in Spain

MADRID (AP) — The United States is going to base eight Polaris submarines at the U.S.-Spanish naval base at Rota, on Spain's southern Atlantic Coast, within easy reach of the Mediterranean.

The submarine tender Proteus is expected to arrive Monday at Rota from Holy Loch, Scotland, only other U.S. Polaris submarine base in Europe, to become mother ship to the new squadron.

The pending assignment of the nuclear submarines to Rota had been an open secret in the area for weeks. There was no formal announcement in Madrid, but the commander of the Polaris squadron at Holy Loch, Capt. David Bell, confirmed the reports Thursday in disclosing the departure of the Proteus.

The United States has had Polaris submarines on patrol in the Mediterranean almost a year. With a range of 17,250 miles, their missiles are capable of penetrating deep into the Soviet Union.

A tactical reason for the assignment of the submarines is the withdrawal of obsolete intermediate-range ballistic missiles from Turkey and Italy. Groups in both countries had objected to the presence of the U.S. missiles on the ground they made Italian and Turkish soil targets for Soviet attack. Spanish sources considered the U.S. decision a compliment to Spain's political stability and its relations with the United States.

However, a problem is visible in Spain's growing trade with Cuba. On Tuesday, the U.S. State Department said Spain will get no new U.S. aid until it replies to an inquiry on what steps it is taking to curtail this trade.

Fire Damages Swift Plant At St. Paul

ST. PAUL (AP) — A fire described as the plant's worst in 30 years damaged Swift Co. packing plant facilities Thursday.

Company officials said today they were unable to give a loss estimate. The blaze was blamed on an explosion in the storage area of the plant.

Fire was confined to a storage area containing lard, oleomargarine, canned goods and other material.

One South St. Paul fireman suffered a back injury and another was treated for smoke inhalation.

Causey, 35, holds a master's degree in education. Under questioning, he said he was familiar with the names of some prominent psychiatrists, mentioned by Belli, and knew about

Rolvaa Raps Hatfield Tax Withholding

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag is charging that Tax Commissioner Rolland Hatfield seeks to levy an illegal collection of income taxes against Minnesotans.

At a news conference late Thursday, the governor said Hatfield has prepared new withholding schedules to upgrade the state take from payroll checks immediately when the cut in federal income taxes is voted.

Congressional sources estimate the cut in federal withholding would become effective about March 8. But Rolvaag said state law provides that higher state rates cannot be instituted for at least 90 days after new withholding tables have been provided to employers.

The governor said Hatfield had been either "deliberate or ignorant" in seeking to institute the higher rates, adding that he would not stand "for this illegal collection of taxes before they are due."

The withholding tables tell employers how much to withhold from each worker's paycheck. When federal taxes are cut, the amount of income taxable by the state will be slightly higher.

Hatfield told The Associated Press last week he planned to send out the new tables and assumed most employers would be glad to put the new rates into effect, even before the 90-day period.

He reaffirmed this Thursday at a news conference of his own in reply to Rolvaag's.

Hatfield denied his department had done anything illegal. He said the new tables had been prepared in answer to many requests from employers.

5 N.Y. Firemen Suspended in Morals Inquiry

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson, blazing mad over reports that women "allegedly of ill repute" have frequented a Manhattan firehouse, has suspended five firemen, including the company captain.

"The reputation of the department could be at stake," Thompson said.

He said an investigation begun last month showed that more than once "unauthorized civilians, both male and female," had visited the firehouse of Engine Co. 35 on East 119th St.

Thompson said the women were in the firehouse more than once, but he declined to give further details. The third floor quarters of the firehouse reportedly was involved.

Half of the company's 30 firemen have been quizzed thus far, Thompson said, adding: "All of the men in this company are not evil men, but they will all be questioned."

The suspended fire captain Joseph J. Sosa, 45, of Floral Park, N.Y., is a 22-year veteran with two heroism awards.

Also suspended were: Martin Buchalter, 33, of Staten Island; Alfred W. Cordes, 35, and John J. McHugh, 27, both of the Bronx; and William Allen, 31, of Richmond Hill, Queens.

President in Los Angeles Meets Mateos

By FRANK CORMIER
LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Johnson, shaking a finger at Communist China, said today that outsiders supporting Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam are "playing a deeply dangerous game."

At the same time, Johnson argued that communism's troubles around the globe actually are more acute than those facing the United States. He said U.S. problems are eclipsed by "the spreading civil war among Communists" — a reference to the policy gulf between the Soviet Union and Communist China.

The President gave his foreign policy views in an address prepared for an outdoor convocation at the University of California at Los Angeles, held to honor Johnson and visiting President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico.

This was the prelude to two days of Mexican-American good will talks at the desert resort of Palm Springs, 90 miles away.

Lopez Mateos, in remarks prepared for the campus ceremony, called on educators and scholars to help "abolish the cold war, wipe out the origins of international tension and to increase understanding among peoples and governments."

The Mexican leader said some may think it Utopian to "completely do away with the ominous atmosphere that already seems to be dissolving." But he contended that "it is realistic to consider such goals as being imminent."

Johnson reaffirmed American determination to support the independence of South Viet Nam. He described this as a 10-year-old commitment "we will continue to honor." But he said the Vietnamese war "is first and foremost a contest to be won by the government and people of that country for themselves."

The President did not name Communist China in his discussion of Viet Nam. But his meaning was clear in saying that "those engaged in external direction and supply (of the guerrilla war) would do well to remember that this type of aggression is a deeply dangerous game."

Johnson said that "in our foreign policy today there is room neither for complacency nor for alarm."

And, after citing difficulties in Viet Nam, Cyprus, Panama and Cuba, he said:

"Larger than the troubles I have noted is the spreading civil war among Communists."

He did not elaborate on this statement.

Declaring that "there is no panic on our agenda," Johnson said that if the nation's adversaries offer deeds of peace, "our own response will be swift."

He said "our undeviating policy is to do all that strengthens the hope for peace." And he said "nothing will make us weary in these tasks."

"Ticking off trouble spots one by one, Johnson first cited Viet Nam, then Cyprus where strife between Greeks and Turks threatens to erupt in an Eastern Mediterranean war."

Johnson pledged anew that the United States, though not directly involved, "will do all we can to find a solution" to the Cyprus problem.

"I appeal for an end to bloodshed, before it is too late," he said.

City Manager Plan Rejected In St. Cloud

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — A proposed new city charter was turned down by a 3-2 margin by St. Cloud voters at a special election Thursday.

The charter, which would have substituted a city manager for the present mayor — council form of government lost, 3,347-1,904. The same proposal also had been turned down in a 1952 election.

Using 50 voting machines for the first time in the city's 21 precincts, St. Cloud residents had the election results 36 minutes after the polls closed.

John "Bud" Streitz, city clerk, said the counting of that number of votes manually previously had taken about 2½ hours.

Streitz said the total vote cast Thursday, 5,251, represented only about a third of the city's 15,692 registration.

Rail Unions Lose Round

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four railroad unions have lost another round in their court battle to up-set an arbitration board's ruling that would allow the eventual elimination of more than 30,000 jobs.

The U.S. Court of Appeals Thursday upheld a district court ruling that the emergency law enacted by Congress ordering the arbitration to head off a nationwide strike last August was constitutional and that the special arbitration panel acted within its legal authority.

The four operating unions have said they would carry their fight to the Supreme Court.

Dr. O. J. Seifert Of New Ulm Dead

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP) — Dr. O. J. Seifert, 76, prominent New Ulm physician and surgeon and prominent Catholic layman, died Wednesday while vacationing at Santa Monica, Calif.

The reminiscence came from Marshal Vassily I. Chukov, former Soviet commander in Berlin.

Chukov's version, as reported by Tass, disagreed with that accepted over the years in the West. Most informants have agreed that Hitler's body was burned, along with that of Eva Braun, the girl he married just before their suicide pact, and the ashes scattered in the Reich Chancellery garden.

Chukov's article did not say what the Russians did with the body after they discovered it May 2, 1945.

Russ Has New Story

LONDON (AP) — A Russian marshal whose armies stormed into Berlin gave new version today of how Adolf Hitler died.

He insisted his men found the Nazi dictator's body wrapped in a charred rug inside the Chancellery.

The reminiscence came from Marshal Vassily I. Chukov, former Soviet commander in Berlin.

Inonu was not wounded, police said.

The would-be assassin, identified as Misut, was arrested immediately.

Police said as he fired his pistol he shouted, "I hope I kill him. It would be for the good of our country."

HARDT'S MUSIC STORE

116-118 East 3rd St.

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

NEW YORK, N. Y. — One sunny morning last week in his New York apartment in the East Fifties I had a visit with George Grizzard who played the lead in the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre production of "Hamlet" last year and will play the title role in "Henry V" at the Guthrie Theatre this year. When I walked in, Mr. Grizzard who celebrated his 30th birthday in Minneapolis last year, looked for all the world like a college student in his gray flannel slacks, navy wool pullover sweater and moccasins.

The apartment on the 11th floor is both comfortable and smartly colorful, with its huge sunny living room leading out on a terrace. There are deep comfortable chairs, lots of books and some striking modern paintings, with a beautiful modern walnut screen dividing the room.

Mr. Grizzard said that when he returned to New York last October at the close of the Guthrie season he felt so drained and bone-weary that he couldn't bring himself to go out and see any plays although the theater is his life. "It wasn't until I flew to London in November that I got around to seeing any plays," he said.

Getting home to his New York apartment in time for Christmas he gave a Christmas party and invited those of his old Tyrone Guthrie Theatre fellow actors who were around New York. "Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn came, and Rita Gam and several others," he said. "And my mother and father came up from North Carolina for the party. It was a good party. I see Rita and Jessica and Hume around town every once in a while. Hume is playing Polonius in the John Gielgud production of "Hamlet" this year, and he's also going to direct a couple of plays he's adapting."

He lit a cigarette and said with a grin, "I'm snatching a little last-minute enjoyment. In four days I leave for Minneapolis and meet Sir Tyrone Guthrie for preliminary work on "Henry V," and that's the end of the cigarette smoking."

I asked, "Can you really notice that it makes a difference?"

"Oh heavens, yes," he said. "It makes all the difference in your voice and

George Grizzard is eager to get back to work with Sir Tyrone Guthrie whom he considers a superb director. In fact, he is back in Minneapolis a week before the rest of the cast and is hard at work right now on the three roles he will play during the coming season of the Tyrone Guthrie repertory theater. His main role, of course, will be the lead in Henry V. He will also play the important part of the Dauphin of France in Shaw's "St. Joan," and Mosca in "Volpone."

Winonans are beginning to make their ticket reservations for the four plays to be given by the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre between May and October. If you want to look over the play schedule in order to make reservations for any future plays you may obtain play schedules by calling Mrs. Ward Lucas or Mrs. William F. White. They will be glad to see that you get a season schedule of the plays.

New Values Needed, Says Lent Speaker

"The Forgotten Water Pot," was the topic by Dr. Arnold T. Olson at his final sermon concluding the United Lenten services at First Congregational Church Thursday evening.

Confining his messages to the story of Jesus and the woman at the well Dr. Olson said, "The Samaritan woman in meeting Jesus abandoned her water pot and hurried back to the village to inform the people she had met the Christ."

"In meeting Jesus, she had a new standard of values, was willing to break her routine, had a revised list of priorities and left that which might hinder her in the urgent business of bringing men into contact with Christ."

"THE CHURCH and the community need men and women who will break the routine which has made us degenerate into a rut," Dr. Olson stated. "They will attend church if it doesn't interfere with the golf game or fishing trip. The wife will assist in the work of the missionary society if it doesn't come on the day the bridge club meets."

"Both will assist if the work among the boys and girls doesn't come on club night. They participate in the PTA if the meetings could be changed to some night other than bowling night."

"UNLESS CHRISTIANS are willing to put the cause of Christ first, we cannot expect others to become interested," Dr. Olson warned. "The Samaritan woman introduced Christ to the entire village, yet she was no theologian, no scholar, no woman of wealth, had no organization, no building, and no social standing."

"Winona has yet to see what would really happen if a few individuals would be so fond to Christ they would abandon their water pots to share enthusiastically and sincerely the news that they met Christ," Dr. Olson concluded.

The Rev. Phil Williams, Church of the Nazarene, was Thursday's pre-service hymn leader; the Rev. Wilmer Frieseth, Central Lutheran Church, presided. The Rev. Walter Meyer, St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Lewiston, read scripture and prayer. The Central Lutheran Church choir sang.

The five Lenten services were sponsored by the Winona Ministerial Association.

Most Government Offices to Be Closed Saturday

You can get arrested in Winona Saturday, but that's about the only contact you can have with any government office.

Because Washington's birthday falls on a Saturday this year, the schedules of some offices already are altered to-day. Federal offices, normally closed on Saturdays, are closed today to give their staffs a holiday.

The Internal Revenue Service's taxpayers' assistance office in the Exchange Building, usually open Friday afternoons only, was open Thursday this week and is closed today.

The post office will provide only special delivery and box service Saturday. No counter service or home deliveries will be in operation. Postmaster John W. Dugan said.

City and county offices, including municipal court, will be closed all day Saturday.

The police and sheriff's department, however, will be on the job, as always.

Three-Week Drive

Pedestrian Safety Campaign Slated

"Next month the police department and the Winona Automobile Safety Committee will begin the most intensive pedestrian safety campaign in Winona's history," Sgt. George McGuire told an organizational meeting at the Hotel Winona this noon.

McGuire told the group that the three-week campaign to end pedestrian and driver carelessness on 92 miles of Winona streets at 585 Winona intersections will begin March 14.

THE POLICE department and safety committee aim their attack at the jay-walker and at the driver who refuses to yield to pedestrians at crosswalks. They hope to reduce the record of three pedestrian deaths and 64 pedestrian injured Winona tallied in the last four years, according to McGuire.

This noon's meeting was organizational. It began the first phase of the pedestrian safety campaign — education.

Representatives from schools, colleges, churches, Boy Scouts, industry and the news media were invited, and educational committees were formed. When this month's educational phase is complete, the police department will take over the second phase — enforcement.

THE GROUP also discussed possible incentives to encourage safety. One such proposition was an offer from the American Automobile Association to deliberately plant a jay-walker in downtown Winona. The AAA would offer a $25 prize to the first citizen who spots and apprehends the "dummy."

James McCabe, acting chief of police, and the Rev. Armin Deye, chairman of the Winona Automobile Safety Committee, are in charge of the campaign.

Miracle Mall Plan Approved

City Planning Commission members Thursday night conducted a 2½-hour wrangle over legal points then decided a plan submitted by Miracle Mall Shopping Center developers appeared to meet conditions imposed by the city.

Commission action on the plan last week was forestalled by lack of a quorum of four commissioners. Thursday night's meeting opened with five members present: Commissioners E. J. Sievers, M. A. Goldberg, Phil Baumann, James Kleinschmidt and William F. White. Another member, E. O. Eckert, appeared about 10 p.m., a factor of some importance to the proceedings.

Attorney Duane Peterson, representing owners of the site leased to Western Land Corp., said the developers now are committed by firm lease to build the center. He said the agreement with the Gamble Co. for a Tempo store is binding and that completion date is to be sometime next fall.

COMMISSIONER M. A. Goldberg raised two legal points in objection to planning commission approval of the final plan:

1. That prescribed procedure for rezoning had not been followed, placing legality of the classification in doubt. The developers should first have brought the preliminary plan, he maintained, then the commission and City Council actions would have followed. However, he said, the Council had rezoned the area, adding conditions that a plan would be shown and substantial occupancy guaranteed within definite time limits. This was an unjustified reversal of proper procedure, he said.

2. That a public hearing should have been held by the Council last September before extending time limits imposed in the original ordinance which changed the area from residential to a business zone. All ordinances or amendments to ordinances, he argued, must be preceded by public hearings. Goldberg held that, since the original six-month time limit for submitting final plans had expired and had not been legally extended, in his opinion, the area had now automatically reverted to its previous zone category under terms of the original ordinance.

GOLDBERG SAID his opposition was based on the contention that the proposed development is not good for the city as a whole. It's construction could jeopardize urban renewal programs the city may undertake in coming months and years, he said.

Speaking as an observer, James Carlson, architect, called the site the city's last and best residential development area. As such, its tax value would be higher than if the shopping center is built, he said. Carlson said construction of the center would mean more empty buildings in downtown areas.

City Council President Harold Briesath, another spectator, rose to defend council actions. The city could not, he said, deny entry to new business which meets legal requirements, as the applicants apparently had. Briesath challenged Carlson's claim that the land could be developed for homesites for $1,000 a lot. The figure would be nearer to $5,000, he said.

COMM. WILLIAM F. White called the discussion interesting but irrelevant. He said he would move to adopt the findings of the commission's committee which had reported all requirements had been examined and satisfied. The committee, composed of Eckert, Commission Secretary James Baird and City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr., was appointed last month to confer with developers and advise them on requirements for preparation of a final development plan. A letter from Eckert, read at the meeting, said all conditions were met to the satisfaction of the committee.

Robertson said confidential information given him by Peterson furnished definite confirmation of occupancy by lessees other than the Tempo store.

Seconding White's move was Comm. Kleinschmidt. Their votes in favor were joined by that of Sievers, while Baumann and Goldberg opposed. Under established commission procedure, the issue could not carry with less than four affirmative votes. Chairman Sievers ruled, so the move was lost.

GOLDBERG THEN proposed that developers be advised to start over, strictly following procedures defined by the ordinance. Robertson asked Baumann and Goldberg to explain what requirements they thought the company had not met, in order to justify negative votes. Goldberg cited the legal points previously raised.

Specifically asked to give his opinion on validity of the ordinance extension by the council, Robertson said he believed all requirements had been met within their legal powers.

Eckert entered the room at this point, reviewed the situation briefly and said he would cast an affirmative vote. Sievers asked for withdrawal of the motion by White and Eckert moved for a finding by the commission that requirements were met by Western Land. With Goldberg abstaining, the other five commissioners cast affirmative votes.

The matter now goes to the city council for final action.

County Shows Increase in Fund Balance

Considerable sums of money are handled by Winona County government agencies in the course of a year.

The truth of the above statement is attested to by the annual financial report compiled by county Auditor Richard Schoonover, appearing elsewhere in this newspaper.

County funds received a total of $7,830,096 during 1963. After disbursements, all the funds retained a total of $840,196 at the end of the year. This was $24,600 more than the auditor's balance of $815,595 at the beginning of the year.

The county's fixed assets amount to $1,148,181. This includes $331,038 invested in the courthouse, $280,796 in the jail and jail garage and $257,637 in the county garage. Another $182,658 is invested in road equipment.

Courthouse supplies came to $1,853 during 1963. This was $661 more than the $1,191 it cost the county to repair the building during the same year.

Those interested in the fox bounty — and that seems to be just about everyone in the county — will note that $2,909 was paid to successful fox destroyers in 1963. One individual received $434.

Bounties for crows, gophers, woodchucks and rattlesnakes cost the county $15,598 last year. Six persons received more than $1,000 in bounties on these animals.

Dedication of School Sunday At Caledonia

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Three former superintendents of Caledonia's public school system have been invited to attend the dedication of the new high school building here Sunday at 2 p.m. Invitations were issued also to 54 former teachers who have been on the faculty since Victor Rupp came here as superintendent in 1951.

Daniel Coffman, New Arlington, Iowa, was superintendent here for four years preceding Rupp. Previous to that John Longstreet, now superintendent at Northfield, Minn., was here and before that, C. E. Hovendon, who retired last year after completing his career at Byron.

The speaker will be William Wettergren, St. Peter, executive secretary of the state School Board Association the last 12 years. Wettergren is a former dairy farmer and athlete. He is former chairman of the St. Peter School Board and now is president of the National School Board Association Secretaries. A former newspaper columnist, he is editor of the Minnesota School Board Journal.

The high school band will play, directed by Robert Stroetz. The chorus will sing under the direction of Paul Spjut.

Open house will be held in the new building planned to adequately house more than the present enrollment of 365, with special departments designed to handle double or triple this number in future years.

Mothers of the senior class and the faculty will serve coffee.

Zoning Board Approves Two Petitions

Two petitions heard by the Board of Zoning Appeals Thursday night at City Hall were approved by unanimous vote of the members present.

Official consent of the board was given to the request of Donald Thompson, Mankato, for permission to erect a carryout restaurant at 155B Service Dr. The proposed building will be about 150 feet east of the Bunko Apo Station, set back 35 feet from the south lot line and will have space for 15 cars.

The single-story concrete block structure will be topped by a decorative "butterfly" roof. A single sign, 19 feet high, will be erected. Nearby residents had appeared before the board last week to say their objections had been met and therefore were withdrawn.

A proposed carport at the Paul Watkins Memorial Home was permitted, although a technical violation of the five-foot setback regulation. The home's building and grounds committee asked permission to roof over an existing semi-permanent parking area which accommodates six cars. The area is bounded on the south by a 9-foot brick wall, next to the sidewalk on Sanborn Street.

The board approved the request on the grounds that the proposed overhead cover would not be higher than the present wall and could not be seen from the street.

We'll Win the Last War

NFO Official Says Farmer Not Getting His Fair Share

By FRANK BRUESKE
Daily News Farm Editor

"The farmers are the most belly-hoed, the most propagandized people in the country," Erhard Pfingsten, Sargent Bluff, Iowa, National Farmers Organization vice president, told the 1,000 people who attended the first Winona County NFO annual banquet Thursday evening.

"We have been told we produce too much. Yet we must get more efficient to produce more. We go in circles. Somebody is giving the farmers a beating. Maybe it's the processors who should become more efficient," he asserted.

Pfingsten, an Iowa farmer active in NFO did not mince words as he told the audience the NFO approach to the farm problems.

Earlier in the evening Pfingsten attended "whole hog" sausage feed in the Winona Senior High School cafeteria attended by almost 800.

PFINGSTEN WARNED the audience that an NFO meeting was different than a farm clinic. "I always come away with a sick feeling after attending the clinics and hearing all about our problems," he said.

"We are the smallest number of farmers since 1879. Yet we owe more money than any other number of farmers in history. If our credit was cut off today, three-fourths of us wouldn't be farming March 1. Today the nation has the highest income in history. But the farmer will be taking a 5 percent cut in income while expenses rise 3 percent. He is going backward.

"While paying better than 7 percent interest on his investment, the farmer in 1964 will earn only 5 percent interest on his investment and not one blessed cent for his work. If a person cannot see something rotten about this, he should see a psychiatrist."

"Last year I lost $5,000 on cattle. But the Iowa NFO president, a big operator, lost $49,000."

"What is our problem? The farmer doesn't understand the situation. He says 'I'm lucky, I don't have to pay income tax; this year.'"

"IN THE last 15 to 20 years the farmers have changed everything in the way of producing and have outstripped all other industry. But our marketing hasn't changed since our great grandfather's time," Pfingsten told his audience. "In fact we have slipped. Our great-grandfather probably had more bargaining power than we do now."

"Our method of selling is like using a wood plow and oxen to plow our fields."

"Farmers don't have any idea what it costs to produce. Then they don't know what price they want for their product. Transform this into a store where all the price tags have been removed. The guy running the place doesn't have any idea what his products cost... or what he should have for it. The customers pay what they want."

"Isn't that a mess?" Pfingsten asked the people. "A merchant couldn't operate 30 days like this. How can a farmer? The farmers' biggest problem is 'whatta ya give me?' The farmer has to establish a price that will return cost plus profit.

"We have been told supply and demand would give good prices. During our recent holding action prices went up slightly. But when holding action stopped farmers' prices dropped 25 percent. They gave us a line of excessive run in livestock. This was proven false by our commodity board and the university at Ames, Iowa. At that time runs were not even up to normal."

"DURING 1962 when there was a record consumption of meat, prices were good. But when the farmers' prices went down, the price of pork in the stores stayed the same and beef went up. The processor made a profit increase of 54 percent while the livestock producer was taking the biggest beating in history," Pfingsten stated.

"Now they say imports are hurting us. Two years ago we asked all farm groups to help limit imports of meat. We couldn't get any help. Now these same groups are squealing like pigs under a gate."

"The only time supply and demand will do the job is when the seller has the same bargaining power as the buyer."

"A large percentage of the meat produced is produced by 15 chain stores. Today the chain stores offer the packer so much per pound for a certain amount of meat delivered on a certain day. The packer can take it or leave it. Then the packer has to go and stick the farmer." "Continuing his attack on the chain stores Pfingsten produced a clipping from a Colorado newspaper with a story that a chain of grocery stores was making $165 profit per animal at the same time the farmer was losing $70 per animal. "They don't ask their customers what prices they'll pay for the meat," he stated.

"Some people say that collective bargaining isn't legal and holding is un-American. There is holding action in any business except farming. The doctor, the dentist and the banker all sell on contract. In some places banks squawk the loudest at a holding action."

"Try and get a loan from a bank and then offer them only 4 percent interest. They'll throw you out... and they should."

"FARMERS have got to get the guts and the backbone to run their own business," Pfingsten demanded. "Collective bargaining hasn't failed for anyone who has used it. West Coast fruit growers are using it. And Maryland dairy farmers are getting $6 a hundredweight for milk by using it. Here we sell milk for $64 a ton and buy hog feed back for $120 a ton."

"The milk plant in town isn't worth a cent if it doesn't have milk. I hear they don't operate too well on water. The packing plant isn't worth a cent without hogs. The farmer has the food first."

"The farmers are holding themselves up," Pfingsten asserted. "During the holding action it was the farmers who saw to it the processors are now paying us the lousy prices we are getting. The farmers gave the processors the power not to sign the contracts."

"Look in the mirror for the reason for our lousy prices. Then laugh. A gas war is when filling station operators start acting like farmers and cut each other's throats."

"Some people say a farmer will be penalized if he doesn't withhold with NFO. This is baloney," Pfingsten stated. "When we get larger all the opposition can do is sit back, watch, and lie about us. And anyone who will lie about us will steal from us."

"If milk sold for $6 a hundredweight, this would mean $5 million more for Main Street. But when the farmers get busted in the country we don't need Main Street. There won't be any business in town."

ATTACKING cooperatives the NFO vice president said, "We thought cooperatives would be with us for better prices because they are supposed to be farmer owned. But the cooperatives oppose fair prices to farmers. They aren't big enough to give us a good price and not big enough to stop us from getting it."

"At the current prices your children don't have a chance to make a living on the farm," he said. "If you fail, you won't have a chance to recover. Our nation is at stake."

"The NFO has lost some small wars but we're going to win the last war and make it stick," Pfingsten said.

Residential Plat Voted Approval By Commission

City Planning Commission members voted to recommend the original plat of eight residential lots submitted last month by David Squires, Eyota. The lots are south of Gilmore Avenue, opposite the intersection with South Baker Street.

The petition had been returned to Squires with the request that he re-design his proposed subdivision to place the access street in line with and make it an extension of South Baker Street. Squires had brought in his original proposal last week to the commission, which did not act because of lack of a quorum.

Squires contended the suggested change would penalize him and other property owners financially and that Baker Street was not considered a cross-town thoroughfare anyway. The new street would intersect with Gilmore Avenue about 25 feet west of the Baker Street junction. No objections had been raised to the original proposal by neighbors, he contended.

The commission, adopting the viewpoint that the new street would serve local traffic only, voted to grant approval of the plat.

This Star Won't Be Tied Down

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — You will probably not see Stathis Giallelis, the 23-year-old Greek movie star, wearing a tie, or a nice suit, if you run into him, around Broadway.

"In Greece," he says, "a tie means getting dressed up. I never wore a tie till my father died when I was 17."

"It's the same with a nice suit," says Stathis, who's the star of "America, America," the much-acclaimed Elia Kazan movie.

"When they get to be actors, they change. They get nice suits. But you don't see any human beings any more — you just see nice suits."

And so Stathis Giallelis wears sweaters and open-throated shirts except on 23d birthdays and such but he resents even that.

For we American tourists go to Greece to see the Acropolis and the new Hilton but we don't see the people, he says.

"I had just 30 cents when I got here from Greece," he says. "Ees a mawst strange feeling, having 30 cents. I a mtryng to call the Kazan office. I decide to take a bus. But it is $1.50."

"A girl information clerk, Judith Levine, at the American Airlines, says she will give me a lift. She is finishing work."

KAZAN, seeing him at his Broadway office later that day, was impressed that he'd come on a 100,000-to-1 chance.

"You have the guts. But I don't know if you have talent, or if you can learn English..."

Stathis began studying English six hours a day, and washing pots in the basement of the Three 6's at 666 Fifth Ave., while "slipping four hours a day" in a room at the East Village, 5th St. between 1st and 2d Avenues.

"After 20 days, Kazan says

Fishing Contest

Spring Lake, Buffalo City, where fishermen still were driving on the ice in the mid-week period, is the scene of the annual Fountain City American Legion Fishing Contest, the only contest on our fishing calendar this weekend. It will run from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. with a fine group of prizes.

It will be legal to take walleye, northern and bass in the river or boundary water zone. The season on these species stays open through March 1. The area, however, is a panfish spot, on which the season remains open throughout the year.

Car Kill

Car kill of deer on the Wisconsin highways during 1963 reached the staggering total of 5,995 animals, a jump from 4,483 in 1962, according to a detailed summary of car-deer accidents in 1963 released today by Jim Taylor, Conservation Department publicity man. Jackson County with a total of 237 was top deer slaughter county. Last fall it was top deer hunting county also.

Ten years ago, the total car kill for the state was only 790 animals. There are, of course, several reasons advanced, such as high speed cars, better and faster highways and more deer. Better reporting to wardens of deer killed and to the state by the wardens can also be a factor.

River counties had a proportionally heavy kill. Buffalo County reported 88 deer killed by cars, Crawford 20, Grant 25, La Crosse 48, Pepin 17, St. Croix 95 and Trempealeau County 83.

Of the 5,995, wardens were able to sell for resale 1,443 of the deer. The remaining 4,552 were not usable and had to be buried or otherwise disposed of in the field.

No attempt was made to estimate the wildlife value of the deer killed but it would be large. The damage to cars likewise would be heavy. Probably a low figure of damage to each would be $50. At that rate the total would be $300,000. With cost involved probably a million dollars would be a low estimate of car-deer accidents in Wisconsin in 1963.

Nothing much had been done to prevent such accident. On a heavy traveled interstate highway in California we observed that cat proof fences were used, high enough so a big buck would find the fence difficult to clear.

Along Highway 61 well up in the north woods area on the North Shore, where a very heavy deer kill takes place each fall and winter, the Minnesota division of game and fish has launched a long range experiment with shelter plantings back from the highway, with food patches to hold deer or remove the reasons for crossing the highway. Whether it will work or not is yet to be found out.

There also is the possibility that deer will, through the law of survival, learn to stop and look each way before crossing a highway. Cats have attained this ability as well as many dogs. There still is hope for deer.

Mental Pictures Help Vocabulary

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D., University of Southern Cal.

Some Questions and Answers:

Dear Dr. Nason:

I am a junior in high school. During the past school year I have taken several vocabulary tests. From the results it is apparent to me that I need more vocabulary knowledge as I plan to go on to college.

Will you please give me some tips or comments on improving my vocabulary?

J. B., Greencastle, Ind.

Answer:

You can add new words to your vocabulary, and it can even be fun if you go about it systematically. Understand the meaning of each new word you encounter, so thoroughly that the word brings up a mental picture both when it is seen and when it is heard. It is easier to remember the word "aardvark" if you can mentally picture an aardvark (ant-eater). Pronounce the new word aloud as you picture its meaning. Repeat until the word slides easily off your tongue. Use the word correctly in a short sentence. Say this over and over until it seems natural to express yourself using the new word.

Dear Dr. Nason:

I have a son in junior high. He did very well in elementary school, skipping the third grade. On entering junior high, he was placed in a Special Progress class for the superior student. Although he finished each grade with decent marks the work was difficult for him. Now, in the 9th grade he is doing poorly in math and Spanish and is just passing in science. Evidently pushing him so fast was a mistake. What can I do to rectify my error?

Mrs. Q. R. — N. Y.

Answer:

Skipping the third grade may have affected your son's ability in reading as well as in handwriting. Seek a teacher or other capable person to guide him as he works to improve his skill in fundamentals and also establish more effective study procedures.

Dear Dr. Nason:

I am terribly concerned about my son and hope you can help me.

He is in the 7th grade and has just received three flunk notices, one in history, art and math. He likes school but doesn't seem to be able to study and to absorb. His concentration span is short. He doesn't like to write. He likes books, but scans them rather than reads.

What steps do you think I should take to find out whether he lacks the ability to do 7th grade work or just needs more background?

Mrs. G. A. L., Annandale, Va.

Answer:

Causes of failure such as that of your son are many and complex. However, the school should be able to recommend an experienced person to work directly and individually with your son. Such a person can find the source of trouble.

At this stage, failing and discouraged, he probably cannot respond to anything except specific help in solving specific problems.

New Anti-Tank Missile Tested

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — Details of a "slaved" anti-tank missile called TOW were disclosed Thursday by Hughes Aircraft Co., which is developing the infantry weapon for the Army.

The missile, carried on ground vehicles or helicopters, unreeled two hair-thin wires as it speeds through the air. The wires carry signals to correct its course and steer it to the target.

A Hughes spokesman said that in recent tests the missile hit within a foot of dead center on a tank-sized target more than a mile away.

DEAR ABBY:

Lose Him and Quickly, Girl

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 24, attractive (I'm told) and work in a large plant. I am supporting a three-year-old son by a former marriage. A man I work with took a liking to me. He is in his late 40's, nothing to look at, but he has been wonderful to me. He paid up most of my bills and gives me cash when I need it. He is married, but his wife treats him rotten. Abby, this man says he thinks of me as his daughter and he wants nothing from me. My mother has an evil mind. She says it looks "bad" and could lead to his divorce. I need his friendship. How can I get my mother off my back? I have to live with her because she takes care of my child while I work.

Abby

MOTHER ON MY BACK

DEAR GIRL: Your mother's judgment is better than yours. You have no business accepting favors from a married man. There isn't any Santa Claus, and it could be rough sledding on the snow job he's giving you.

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old and my best friend is without a boy friend. My boy friend has a best friend that is without a girl friend. Should I ask my boy friend if his best friend would like to have a girl friend? Or should I keep my mouth shut? HESITATING

DEAR HESITATING: Ask your boy friend to bring his best friend around some time when your best friend is there. Then let his friend make up his own mind.

DEAR ABBY: My wife has engaged in heated arguments on numerous occasions, and she is usually wrong. She makes some idiotic statement, then proceeds to defend it. When we get home I am told, "If you loved me, you would have stuck up for me!" I told her I will stick up for her only when she is right. She says I should stick up for her, right or wrong, or else I should change the subject and get her off the hook. Comment? AL

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

It's Time to Start Some Seeds

THIS is the time when gardeners have the urge to plant some seeds indoors and we have had several inquiries in regard to this. One lady stated that she usually purchased started plants of some annual flowers and vegetables, but desired to raise some of her own this spring.

This is understandable, since it gives one a feeling of pleasure and worthwhile accomplishment to set out in the garden plants of one's own growing. Also, one cannot always procure the varieties desired in markets.

We always start some seeds indoors about March 1, and have now prepared several small pots of a soil mixture for this purpose. Perhaps it is due to the innate longing for spring that arises in the heart at this season of the year.

This article on starting seeds indoors is directed primarily to the gardener who has never practiced this interesting phase of gardening. The experienced grower who has made this a regular habit each spring is in need of no urging and generally follows the same procedure that has proved successful in the past.

It is suggested to the beginner that the seeds be planted on a small scale at the start, limiting them to a few pots that can be handled easily in the home. As a potting soil, a mixture can be used that comprises one part of screened garden soil, one part finely pulverized peat moss and one part sand. A small bag of peat moss can be purchased at a garden store. If none is on hand, the soil should be light and porous, but not rich, or the young seedlings will be forced to grow rapidly and grow spindly.

THE POTS should be scrubbed thoroughly and a few coarse pebbles, or pieces of broken pot, placed in the bottom over the drainage hole. The pots should then be filled with the soil mixture to within one-half inch of the top, firmed and soaked with water. This can be done in the kitchen sink. After the water has soaked away, the moist soil can be smoothed and the seeds scattered thinly over the surface. Then each seed can be pressed into the soil to a depth of about one-fourth inch with a pointed stick, or lead pencil, and the soil smoothed over. In the case of very small seeds such as petunias, it is necessary only to press them into the soil. The pots can then be placed in a warm place near a window to await germination.

AN EXAMINATION should be made each day, or so, and, if the soil is a little dry, some water should be added. A sheet of cellophane, paper, or pane of glass, placed over the pots will serve to retard evaporation until the little plants appear, when they can be removed.

As soon as the first pair of true leaves appear, the little seedlings can be transplanted about two inches apart in larger pots, or flats. If spring is delayed, they may have to be transplanted a second, or third,

Injured Man Ordered to Accept $375,000

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Hennepin County District Judge Leslie L. Anderson has ordered one of the largest personal injury damage awards in state history reduced by more than a quarter of a million dollars.

Anderson said Edward L. Thill, 34, of Arden Hills, must accept a settlement of $375,000 from the Modern Erecting Co. and Johnson, Drake and Piper, Inc. or face a new trial in his damage suit.

Thill was awarded $624,460 by a jury last June. His spinal cord was severed when a crane being operated at International Airport fell on him. He is paralyzed from the waist down.

Man Throws Bottles Through Shop Windows

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — Lewis McClung walked along a shopping center mall Thursday, throwing a soft drink bottle through each of the 10 plate-glass windows.

McClung, 46, was still there when sheriff's officers arrested him on a charge of malicious mischief. "He said he doesn't like shopping centers," one officer said.

There is a danger to which all seedlings that are started in garden soil are subjected. This is what is known as "damping off" when the little plants may wilt, fall over, and die, soon after appearing above ground. This is caused by fungi that live in the soil at, or near, the surface. There is no remedy, but it will be helpful to pull out the wilted plants, thin out the remaining ones, and allow the soil to become quite dry before adding water again.

THIS DISEASE can be guarded against in large part by pouring hot water over the soil and allowing it to cool before planting the seeds. It will help, also, to sprinkle a thin layer of sand over the surface of the soil after the seeds are planted.

Ability of Ads to Inform, Convince

A SMALL TOWN merchant of a generation ago is said to have used a single advertising medium and message during his 40 years in business: A two-column advertisement in the local weekly newspaper stating simply, "John Jones Sells Salt."

Even today many would say that John Jones was accomplishing what advertising is supposed to do: "Keep your name before the public."

But the thousands and thousands of firms that are now spending an estimated $12½ billion yearly in advertising would quickly point out that "keeping their names before the public" is a very small part of what they expect advertising to do for them.

Their view of advertising's role is quite different from that of the normal householder on the receiving end of seemingly limitless advertising messages.

THE FACT IS THAT, regardless of our likes or dislikes about particular advertisements, most of us are dependent on advertising for a lot of information in our daily lives. And, whether consciously or unconsciously aware of its impact, advertising has the power to influence many of our decisions.

To millions of women advertising is news, more important than the news under a Washington or Moscow dateline — bargains at the supermarket, a new style in women's shoes, what's playing at the theater tonight.

To millions of men it's news of a sale on golf clubs, a new improvement in razor blades, the latest model in sports cars, or where to get tickets for the hockey game. It's news — and in fact most news media today could not exist without advertising.

BUT STILL ALL TOO many people have a vague notion about advertising exerting some strange hypnotic influence on the public, a sort of huge vacuum cleaner that sucks the money right out of the pockets of unwilling customers. Some advertisers might wish it were that simple!

In contrast to the public's view of advertising as a glamorous adjunct to business man sees it as a way to reduce the cost of selling. And advertising's bill for its services still amounts to only two percent of the gross national product.

It's a valuable member of the whole marketing team... salesman, package design, market research, merchandising, sales promotion, publicity, point-of-purchase display, and the ever-present element, price.

ADVERTISING'S JOB is never done. The man who is sold on a firm's products today may be gone tomorrow. A McGraw-Hill survey reveals that each year, out of 1,000 subscribers to their business publications, about half stayed on their jobs. Of the rest 56 changed titles, 141 transferred to a different location, 304 were replaced as a result of resignation, death, or for other reasons. So it is necessary to continually present the advertising message.

Even the Soviet Union has belatedly discovered the economic importance of advertising. After many years of sad experiences with unbranded goods they have now begun using brand names and advertising to stimulate quality control, on the theory that consumers will choose those products that give the best service.

Professor Neil H. Borden of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration says in his classic book "Economic Effects on Advertising in Our Economy":

"SINCE advertising has in large part been associated with the promotion of new and differentiated merchandise, a substantial part of advertising costs should be looked upon economically as growth costs... So long as an individual enterprise flourishes and a dynamic economy continues, advertising and aggressive selling will play a significant social role."

Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

Mississippi's Governor Barnett says voting is "a privilege, not a right." Depending, that is, on the color of the would-be Mississippi voter's skin.

The Australians are strengthening their defenses. They've decided that the Chinese Big Brother peering down from the north may not be very brotherly.

A railroad spokesman says union-management talks have reached a "positive stalemate." The union says that's negative thinking.

ROBERT C. RUARK

Tennessee Is Coming Back

LONDON—After a long and dreary spate of Tennessee Williams, entertainment is finally creeping back into the lively arts.

Briefly, the spoof is alive once more and doing marvelously well. It's almost like being young again, when you got Bing Crosby and the Ritz Brothers in a package deal in a picture.

There's a new thing out, called "The Pink Panther," which is about the wildest piece of sheer fun I've seen lately. David Niven is funny, Peter Sellers is always hilarious, but "Panther" is such a gorgeous piece of nonsense that the ordinarily cool and often dour Capucine comes out as a magnificent comedienne.

The titles alone on "Panther" are worth the trip, but a chap named Blake Edwards, who produced, directed and cowrote for Mirisch Co., has kept the kidding tone of the titles right through the entire picture. And his job on Cappy, in conversion from Grecian freeze to slapstick, is the miracle of the year. She's funnier than Bea Lillie.

Going crazy at the box office also are some other spoofs, notably including the Ian Fleming properties. Cubby Broccoli and Harry Saltzman, the producers, are doing the James Bond series — "Doctor No," "From Russia, with Love" and "Goldfinger" — with a tongue so far back in cheek that the laugh becomes a lovely leer. You can take it seriously if you want to, but the genial spoof of international spying plus private-eyeing is built in, and on production order.

AS A RESULT, Mr. Sean Connery, who plays Bond, has become hotter than his own pistol as a commodity, and is so good at kidding himself as the unconquerable 007 that he is almost convincing as the man who can stake most of the world and all of the women in it. It's just that the methods which he employs to unhorse the wicked and undress the ladies are generally so outlandish that James Bond becomes as funny as Peter Sellers in anything, which is a pretty good job of work.

Broccoli is my neighbor, when I am in London, and I was talking to him about the trend toward the light touch. He is deliberately playing the Bond stories for what he calls "bumps" — the shock episode followed by an almost non sequitur — and has so revived an old technique which could give you Crosby and W. C. Fields in the same show and still make the theme believable. The word is spoof, again — not quite so broad as the Crosby and Hope "Road" series, but almost.

"THIS TREATMENT was admirably illustrated by the screaming success of 'Tom Jones,' which is one long running gag, admirably acted and mounted, but spoof, nonetheless. 'Tom Jones' kidded the satiric pants off the Fielding era, as Fielding meant it to do, but in the modern movie there is even audience participation in the joke. The box-office success of the picture makes the technique stand up, forgetting all the awards it's won.

One of the most delightful plays in London at the moment is called 'The Severed Head,' which has little story and unexceptional writing, but which is so full of spoof of the infidelity theme that it becomes finally a serious morality play. The acting is superb, but the actors themselves are conscious of the lightness of intent, and bring off the frailty of the construction by sheer timing and wondrous old-fashioned mugging.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Fear of War Between Greeks, Turks Grows

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas Home talked very frankly to President Johnson about the weak strength of British troops on Cyprus and warned that Britain could only send 2,000 additional troops to that strifetorn island.

This was one reason why Undersecretary George Ball rushed off to the Mediterranean to head off war.

Home explained to Johnson and to others in Washington that there are now between 5,000 and 6,000 British troops on Cyprus and that the additional battalion would not be able to prevent civil war.

In fact the prime minister's aides confided that in case of civil war, British troops would be pulled into their compounds away from any fighting and would let the Greeks and Turks kill each other off.

"We have no pleasure in remaining in Cyprus to be shot down by both sides," the prime minister remarked during his stay in Washington. The extra battalion, he explained, would mean moving 2,000 troops from one side of NATO in Germany, to the other side in the Mediterranean, therefore would not be welching on Britain's NATO commitment.

Note—The Greeks meanwhile had warned the United States and Britain in no uncertain terms that if the Turks sent troops to Cyprus, as they have a right under the treaty to protect their nationals, Greece would consider it an act of war. This meant that Greece would probably invade European Turkey through Thrace.

WHAT BOTHERED the Johnson administration about Prime Minister Home's determination to sell buses plus factories to Cuba, was that his announcement came on the same day the Organization of American States had officially found Cuba guilty of invading Democratic Venezuela.

Thus a great pillar of democracy, England, put itself in the position of supporting a dictatorship which had tried to overthrow another democracy by violence and sabotage.

The United States had finally persuaded Canada to cut off its shipments of auto truck and bus parts to bolster Castro's decrepit transportation system, which depends on old worn out American automotive products. The sale of British buses, plus the proposed sale of French trucks, will not only rescue Castro but will mean that Cuba is lost to the American auto industry for years to come.

THE BACKSTAGE objection to Carl Rowan, able Negro diplomat and former newsman, as director of the U.S. Information Service, arises in part from the distribution of a 30-minute documentary on last summer's freedom march on Washington.

Showing of this graphic civil rights demonstration by USIA to foreign audiences aroused the unanimous objection of the U.S. Information Advisory Committee, on which Clark Mollenhoff of the Des Moines Register is one of the most vocal and important members.

"It was not against film clips of the march being distributed abroad because I think USIA should cover the news," says Mollenhoff, "but I do oppose foreign distribution of a long documentary without proper news to explain the picture. To an American audience it was a fine dramatic picture. But foreign audiences are not sophisticated and we should not advertise our problems. We are not showing tobacco road or the grapes of wrath abroad and we should not have shown this."

CARL ROWAN, chosen by Johnson to be the new USIA director, is not being blamed for making this decision. He was serving with credit as ambassador to Finland at the time. But Mollenhoff says he does question Rowan's judgment on matters pertaining to race relations. While not enthusiastic over Rowan's appointment, Mollenhoff is not conducting a crusade against him.

Note—Rowan is certain to be confirmed by the Senate with no great opposition.

Lt. Gen. Julian Smith, commander of the Battle of Tarawa landing in World War II, is working hard to block a law to register firearms, such as that used in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Speaking before the Frances Wallace chapter of the DAR in Alexandria, Va., the doubtful general declared that if guns were registered, the Communists could find where every gun is located when and if they took over the United States.

OPINION-WISE

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Isolationism In England, Too

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Isolationism rather than internationalism seems to have emerged as the basis for national policy in Great Britain and France, respectively, as well as in some of the smaller countries of Europe.

The United States, for many years the practitioner of isolationism, now faces a crucial decision — whether to continue to pour out billions to other countries in the world, or to copy both France and Britain and give priority to the interests of the United States as a single power rather than as a partner.

The phrase "Western Alliance" has a hollow sound today. The United Nations, moreover, as the theoretical savior of national sovereignties, is now almost bankrupt, financially as well as morally.

In the face of this situation, it would not be surprising if the American people were asked to debate in the coming presidential campaign whether they favor letting billions of dollars of their tax money continue to flow all around the world, and whether they wish to maintain standing armies in Europe indefinitely.

More than 120 Americans have been killed in Viet Nam. American Marines were suddenly ordered a few days ago to be ready, if necessary, to fight in Cyprus, but mostly to help the British out of a dilemma there.

The Chinese Communists are getting a stronger hold in southeast Asia as well as in Africa, primarily because Great Britain, the United States and France do not stand together.

THE BIGGEST shock in diplomacy that the United States has experienced for a long time came on Wednesday after the president of the United States and the British prime minister had conferred for two days amid much social entertainment. They issued a carefully worded communique which implied that the two governments, while having differences of opinion, were nevertheless closely knit in friendship and partnership.

But the reporters had only had this communique in their hands a few minutes when they went to the British embassy for a news conference at which the prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, announced that Great Britain would not only continue its transactions with Castro in Cuba for trucks and other items of trade, but would also arrange government guarantees of long-term credits for private companies in their business dealings with the Soviet Union.

THIS ACTION was a humiliating experience for the American government, because, when sharp differences in policy like this happen, there is usually at least a wait of a few days until the visiting dignitary gets home and announces his policies, presumably after consultation with his associates.

The impression here, however, is that the British government had made up its mind beforehand to ignore American protests about trading with Cuba and had decided to go ahead with its policy of financing economic recovery in the Soviet Union. In fact, negotiations for a $256-million deal were going on in London between British firms and Soviet emissaries while President Johnson and Sir Alec Douglas-Home were meeting in Washington. The British are planning to build chemical plants in Russia which could indirectly be helpful to a war economy. Another $280-million deal to erect more factories in Russia now is under discussion in London.

THE PRIME minister perceived that there was opposition in the United States to the British policy, and while in Washington explained that the British believe that "comfortable" Communists are less dangerous than hungry ones. After several days of polite and perfunctory statements, Secretary of State Rusk finally said in a statement broadcast overseas by the "Voice of America":

"I think the principal problem we see in that (the prime minister's statement) is that we cannot guarantee that the Communists will use the resources that are available to them to make themselves comfortable and fat. They may keep themselves lean and use the resources available to them for armaments, and for the support of subversive activities in other countries, and for pursuing the objectives of the world revolution."

Secretary Rusk hinted that the American people might decide to boycott some of the British firms which sell goods here if those same firms continue to help the Soviet Union.

CONCURRENTLY, the leaders of the maritime unions of the AFL-CIO denounced the sale of American wheat to Russia and called on President Johnson to halt what they termed a "dangerous program." The AFL-CIO maritime trades department adopted a resolution urging the 29 unions to obey an order to refuse to load wheat on ships destined for the Soviet Union.

The deal by which the United States sold wheat to the Soviets was immoral on its face, but it was supposed to offer an economic benefit to our farm states. The British and French were quick to take advantage of the readiness of the United States to sell wheat to the Soviet Union. They, along with Spain, Italy, Belgium and Sweden, are shipping goods to Cuba.

It's everybody for himself. Certainly the time is at hand for an "agonizing reappraisal" of foreign policy as a whole by the American people.

Opening Night of 'Hamlet' At St. Mary's Is Spectacular

By GEORGE MCCORMICK
Daily News Staff Writer

St. Mary's College's "Hamlet" is a carefully thought-out production that provides a satisfying evening of entertainment of which any collegiate group could be proud.

Opening Thursday night in the college auditorium, the play was swift, skillful and powerful. Stark sets and professionally controlled lighting combined with always competent acting to make the play — as it should be — at once a stirring spectacle and an intimate portrait of the human spirit.

DIRECTOR Gerald Sullivan was in firm control of his players almost without exception from beginning to end. The result was that admirable restraint which Hamlet himself so eloquently espouses in his advice to the players.

In all fairness to the cast as a whole, it must be said that

MR. AND MRS. HENRY Meyer, Wilson, Minn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ardele Marie Meyer, to William Earl Doering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Doering, Wykoff, Minn. A June wedding is planned. Miss Meyer is a teacher in Wykoff and her fiancé is a livestock buyer.

Survey Shows Lake City Hotel Feasible

LAKE CITY, Minn. — A 40-page report issued by Horwath & Horwath, national accounting and auditing firm in Minneapolis, has found feasible the erection of a resort type motor hotel on City Point, now used as a trailer court.

Instigated by the Waterfront Development Commission, the report suggests a lodge or main building two or three stories high with horizontal wings not over two stories; floor-to-ceiling window space for a view of Lake Pepin in the dining rooms; restaurant and bar accommodations to attract small convention groups and private parties; lobby with fireplace for lounging winter and summer guests; 40-60 air-conditioned guest rooms; cigar and newsstand; barber and beauty shops; gift shop, etc.

Cost would have to be underwritten by a qualified and well-known hotel chain or operator.

Because of Lake City's proximity to the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, the plan also suggested health club facilities including sun room, steam bath, exercise room and swimming pool for convalescents and executives who visit the clinic on annual checkups.

The study was financed largely by private capital and involved no tax money. The writers checked existing hotel and motel accommodations and dining facilities in the area, plus the general business picture.

The report emphasized development of more winter sports with ice boating on the lake and skiing on the Mississippi bluffs, and a more varied summer vacation program.

The report described City Point as "a picturesque arrowhead pointed at the heart of Lake Pepin." It gives Lake City an overall picture of its resort potential and highlights means of making the town more attractive to vacationers and resort-minded people.

DAIRY MEETING

PRESTON, Minn. — The Fillmore County American Dairy Association will hold its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the Preston Town Hall. All county dairy farmers and creamery operators are urged to attend. Lunch will be served.

the play Thursday night was Ronald Wietecha's. If there is a more demanding role in English drama than that of Hamlet it does not come to mind readily. Wietecha, however, was more than equal to the challenge.

His Hamlet was all that he should be — a coldly reasoning but hotly feeling man driven by the full gamut of emotions but never giving way to mere ranting. His voice and appearance were superb for the part, and his performance was always controlled.

ABOUT THE only places where improvement could have been wished for from Wietecha were in the first two soliloquies. He gave some signs of uneasiness there, and occasionally seemed on the verge of bombast, but this danger was gone once he had gotten his teeth into the role.

Of course a good Hamlet would be ineffective without the foil of a good cast. This Wietecha had. Most notable were John Mikulski's stalwart Horatio, Patrick McHugh's comic but believable Polonius and Patricia Travin's Gertrude, a portrait of the queen successful because it made her a complete woman.

Special mention must be made of Ann Joyce's lovely Ophelia, able to feel much better than she could reason. The beautiful understatement with which Miss Joyce placed the mad scenes made them all the more compelling, and would make many a seasoned professional actress envious.

Thomas Gannon was a trifle stiff as Claudius, but not so much that one was conscious of it, often.

DANIEL Papenfuss and Michael Lowery restrained themselves nicely in the frequently overdone parts of the gravediggers, and Susan Wedel contributed some delicious humor as one of the company of rag-tag players.

Incidentally, the entrance of the players really gave the play a sense of timelessness. The bored and showmanly glamor of the company would enable it to make a convincing early-morning entrance at any third-rate hotel frequented by third-rate theatrical groups.

The chief reason for the sense of timelessness given by the play last night — aside from Shakespeare's perception of human beings of every age and place — was, of course, the use of military costumes of no particular era instead of the more usual period costumes.

This idea, borrowed from Maurice Evans, was most successfully applied in Hamlet's simple black and the unadorned maroon of others of the men. It was least successfully used in the bright uniform worn by Claudius, which had a rather comic opera look to it.

THOMAS Gannon's settings were simple and functional, and their simplicity allowed the play to move swiftly. There were times, however, when we could have done without some of the backdrops, especially when the primitive equipment of the St. Mary's auditorium stage makes dropping even a curtain a risky business.

Brother Damian's lighting was imaginative and well-handled. Properties (except for one tonette passed off as a real recorder), make-up and costumes were well-planned and carefully executed.

A military snare drum played by a soldier in Fortinbras' army (William Federbusch) added to the impact of the end of the play. It would be even more effective if the latter head of the drum were tightened.

Civil Defense Shelter Oked For Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Members of the Trempealeau County Board of Supervisors in Wednesday afternoon session, unanimously approved that the balance of an appropriation made previously for court house repairs be used to finance necessary work in converting the old coal bin in the sheriff's office into a Civil Defense shelter. The shelter will be large enough to accommodate 100 people.

The law enforcement committee was authorized to purchase necessary equipment for the county game warden's car so he can contact the county sheriff's office by radio.

James Steen, Trempealeau County highway commissioner, presented his report for 1963, which was adopted. During the 1963 oiling season, the highway department purchased 207 transports and 21 tank cars of bituminous material. The blade mixing crew used 376,203 gallons and the hot mix plant the remaining 1,036,519 gallons.

THE HOT MIX plant operated at a location one mile southeast of Strum the entire season. The plant went into operation May 20, and the last day of operation was Nov. 8. It produced a total of 46,959.42 cubic yards of hot mix material. Production costs varied from a low of $5.29 per cubic yard for the week ending May 31 to a high of $6.29 per cubic yard for the week ending Nov. 2.

The paver laid a total of 36,689.17 cubic yards on 59.1 miles of road.

Also adopted was the Trempealeau County financial report of highway operations for 1963, the Trempealeau County Hospital report, and the report of the clerk of courts.

A resolution from the delinquent tax committee was adopted authorizing the county to take tax deeds on $6,240.73 in delinquent property for 1958.

The report of the county treasurer for the 1963 year was approved. The report showed a cash balance of $577,594.35 Jan. 1, 1963; receipts for the year at $3,817,718.09; disbursements at $3,754,883.76; and a cash balance Dec. 31, 1963, $640,428.68. The balance is deposited as follows: John O. Melby Bank, Whitehall, $102,141.02; Union Bank, Blair, $196,773.13; State Bank, Arcadia, $126,014.53; Etrick State Bank, Pigeon Falls State Bank, Bank of Osseo, Bank of Galesville, State Bank of Independence, $40,000 each, and Citizens State Bank, Trempealeau, $13,500.

THE LAW enforcement committee's report on claims, which was adopted, allowed County Sheriff Orris Klundby $492 for meals and $247.56 for travel expenses, and the county coroner, James Garaghan, $53.80 for services. The report from the committee on schools and printing allowed the sum of $497.83 to the Whitehall Times for printing.

A total of $243 in dog damage claims was approved. Also approved was a total of $433.04 in claims of members for services.

Because of the extra expenses in tax deed procedures it was unanimously approved that $100 be transferred from the general fund to the tax deed account.

The board also approved transfer of $100 from the general fund to the Mississippi River Access site fund.

A report from the salary committee was approved, providing that the salaries of the elective offices of county clerk, clerk of court, district attorney and sheriff remain the same from Jan. 1, 1965 through Dec. 1966 as now established.

A resolution from the school committee authorizing the hiring of the two county supervising teachers for the coming year was approved.

Also approved was a total of $274.73 for poor relief.

Fire Breaks Out In Freight Car

TREMPEALEAU, Wis. (Special) — Volunteer firemen were called out at 8 p.m. Thursday to extinguish a blaze in a freight car of potatoes on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad.

The fire had been noted by railroad officials at East Winona, who notified the La Crosse office. Trempealeau firemen were called from there.

It was believed a charcoal heater in the bunkers on the end of the car to keep the potatoes from freezing had started the blaze. Firemen soaked the car down from the outside but were not permitted by the conductor to go into the sealed car.

Extinguishing the fire took more than half an hour and held up a westbound freight on the other track. Firemen concluded the potatoes were either baked or boiled by the time the car reached La Crosse.

The department fought the fire unriver from Trempealeau near the old brewery.

The Istanbul bazaar, in existence for 500 years, has 3,000 shops selling anything from saddles to hippopotamus shields.

Former Resident Defends Blair's Java Reputation

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Mrs. Archie Buckmiller, formerly of Blair, takes exception to a claim by her now home town of Stoughton, Wis., that it has the highest per capita consumption of coffee of any U.S. city. She doesn't disagree with Stoughton's claim that the coffee break originated there, but feels that Blair must use as much coffee, and it's better coffee, to her recollection. She and her family lived here 12 years while Buckmiller was supervisor of the school district.

Buckmiller went from here to accept a position in a suburban Madison school district and now is with the state Department of Public Instruction.

all clear

In the "railroad" business the brakeman's lantern means everything. His "signal lantern" preceded the driver's stop and go light. It must be obeyed. The brakeman, like God, must give us the "all clear." It is the only way we may know the track is clear, the switch in place, for us to move with confidence. How reassuring when we know that God is clearing the way ahead of us.

If you were ever in a business a righteous God could not bless, then, you well know how it hurts not to be able to get His "all clear." But He warned us, "There is a way that seemeth right, but the end is death." If one's destination is Heaven, it is important that he get on the main line and keep on going. Let us take the church as our "brakeman." It will not signal us wrong. Let us worship God in her pews every week and support her many programs of service.

Many Unusual Buffalo Co. Welfare Accidents In Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — An 8-year-old boy used a friend's bike, drove out of a driveway into the path of a car and was killed.

A car, driven by a 19-year-old boy went out of control, skidded, spun and bounced a total of 286 feet and a passenger was killed.

A driver with diabetes, lacking insulin, went into a coma that caused a road crash in which two died.

Three volunteer firemen were killed when two trucks rushing them to a grass fire figured in a crash — one vehicle slowed for a turn and the other slammed into it.

These were some of the unusual highway fatalities recorded in Wisconsin in 1963. The toll for the year was 904.

In reviewing the out of the ordinary mishaps, Dan Schutz, director of the State Motor Vehicle Department's safety division, said:

"While occasionally there is an unusual accident which appears to be completely unavoidable, the great majority of the accidents are in the 'run of the mill' category."

"Such factors as speed too fast for conditions, failure to yield right of way, inattentiveness, following too closely, deviating from proper lane and influence of intoxicants crop up so often as major contributing factors that we cannot hold drivers blameless."

KNOW YOUR BIBLE

The Bible is God's revelation to man. Christ promised to guide the apostles into all truth. He did this through the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, John 16:13. This work began on the first Pentecost after the ascension of Christ, Acts 2:42. The word revealed by these inspired men is the seed of the kingdom, Luke 8:11 and by it men are begotten, 1 Cor. 4:15. Christ guided the Apostles and prophets into all the doctrine we need, 1 Tim. 3:16-17; and the organization of the church, Eph. 4:11, 1 Tim. 3. Through the Spirit the principles of Christian living were made known with the warning that men must not accept any other teachings, Gal. 1:8-9. Send your question to Know Your Bible.

Buffalo Co. Welfare Costs at $523,096

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — Expenditures of the Buffalo County Department of Public Welfare totaled $523,096 in 1963, according to the annual report distributed to members of the County Board of Supervisors this week.

Of the total, the cost to the county was $217,973, state and federal reimbursements plus $12,252.69 in refunds paying the remainder.

Appropriations for the coming year rose to $114,500, partly because on Jan. 1, general relief was turned over by the municipalities to the department. The appropriation for general relief was $17,500. Last year general relief and child welfare activities cost $2,938.82.

Old age assistance cost $310,347.40; aid to dependent children, $92,491.36; disabled aid, $67,445.19; blind aid, $262.25, and administration, $49,611.71.

ADMINISTRATION costs included $36,558.39 in salaries; $3,765.58 in mileage and meals, and the remainder in telephone and postage and other costs. The county's share was $15,370.80. There are eight on the staff. The director is Jerome W. Benson.

The department was authorized to hire an additional caseworker and a casework supervisor Jan. 1. The latter position has not been filled.

The largest number on old age assistance was in January 1963, when there were 241. Of total payments for the year, $103,536.50 was in direct aid and $206,810.90 in medical, hospital and burial costs. Refunds totaled $4,388.03. Cost to the county was $51,854.29.

Average money grant per person per month was $36.63 and average medical cost per person per month was $73.10 for a monthly average of $109.70.

THE NUMBER on old age assistance had decreased to 227 in December. Mr. Benson pointed out that while the number of recipients is declining gradually, a trend expected to continue, total cost of the program continues to mount.

"While expenditures for everyday living expenses are decreasing, medical costs continue to rise and now constitute approximately two-thirds of the total program cost," Benson said.

"There is not much the agency can do toward rehabilitation of the aged with present facilities. More needs to be done for this group. In view of the high cost of hospitalization and nursing home care, every effort must be made to maintain the aged in their own homes."

Aid to dependent children money payments were $64,021.87 and medical, hospital and burial, $23,473.78.

The heaviest caseload was in April when benefits went to 169 children in 41 cases. By December the load was 144 children in 36 families. Average grant per person per month was $33.03 and average medical payment per person per month was $14.63 for a total of $47.72.

"Nationally and in Wisconsin the ADC program is growing rapidly," Benson said, "caused by frequent divorce, abandonment and non-support. We have recognized this same trend occurring in Buffalo County."

"THERE HAS BEEN an increase in the number of children receiving ADC in foster homes. Because of neglect and parental inadequacies we have had to remove children from their homes. We believe if these children can be placed in good foster homes their chances of becoming stable, self-supporting adults is measurably increased. We continue to work with the families in such situations with the goal of eventually returning the child to his own home. Look for the numbers of children receiving assistance in foster homes to increase."

Benson continued, "The disabled aid program continues to be the fastest growing. The number of persons qualifying for this program in Buffalo County is just short of amazing when the caseload is compared with counties of similar population."

He listed several reasons, including liberalization of eligibility requirements in 1959; mental retardation; early return of inmates of mental institutions; and transfers from general relief and the ADC program.

There were 60 persons receiving disabled aid at a total of $27,180.25 in money payments and $40,264.94 in medical, hospital and burial last year. Average money grants were $39.80 and average medical payments, $59.95, for a total of $99.75.

"Medical costs in this program are high," Benson pointed out, "comparably, however, not as high as in the OAA program."

The county has only one blind aid case. Total assistance granted was $262.24.

The department took care of general relief cases in the county where persons had legal settlement and residence in the county but had not attained legal settlement in any community. The highest number of cases was three in February and May. Total cost was $2,793.35. Of the total expenditure, almost half, $1,205, was spent on medical care for one child.

In its child welfare program, the department completed six foster home studies, re-evaluated three, had eight foster homes in use on Dec. 31, and had 14 children in them.

The department handled six cases of unmarried mothers; one adoptive study; conducted 108 juvenile court investigations; had 63 children under supervision during the year; gave child welfare service to 43 families, and was giving child welfare services to 119 on Dec. 31—35 in ADC families and 84 others.

Benson commented, "As we observe the number of high school dropouts in the face of the ever increasing importance of education, the rise in delinquency and teenage drinking, the rate of illegitimacy, frequency of early marriage, and lack of life goals, it is not difficult to see the neglected or delinquent child of today becoming the parent of tomorrow who has neither the skill nor the emotional stability to function in our increasingly complex society. He is the public assistance case of the future."

A drastic change in administration of county welfare departments came with passage of the 1962 service amendments to the Social Security Act, Benson said.

DESIGNED TO prevent or reduce dependency, encourage self-care and maintain and restore family life, the following services are now required of the administrators, he said: "Arranging work training and job finding; counseling on home and money management, personal and family problems; planning for medical care; reconciling separated parents and families; and arranging foster home care."

Some of these services are directed toward adult recipients who because of mental or physical disability are unable to handle their own affairs, are being exploited, or are in unsafe environments, Benson said.

The service program must be completed by 1967. By July 1, a social study and plan must be completed for every child re-

U.S. Economy Near Boom Rate, Belief

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the U. S. economy didn't boom in 1963, it did show a lot of flash, according to government figures.

As expected, the economy hit the $600-billion mark in the final months of the year and appeared to be still rising.

A production increase of 4 percent was above the long-term average and slightly higher than official predictions. With price inflation figured in, the gain was 5.5 percent.

There were substantial increases reported in corporate profits in 1963 and both private and government pay rolls showed considerable gains. However, the incomes gains were less pronounced for small businessmen and professional men, and farm income skidded to the 1961 level.

All told, the Commerce Department said Thursday that the gross national product, the sum of all goods and services, reached an annual rate of $600.1 billion in the final three months of 1963. For the entire year the figure was $585.1 billion, against $554.9 billion for 1962.

Minneapolis Held for Bilking Store Clerk

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — A Minneapolis man, wanted on a bench warrant in his home city and on a theft charge in Eau Claire, will be arraigned in Trempealeau County Court here Monday for admittedly so confusing a clerk in the Pigeon Store, Inc., Pigeon Falls, that he got back the $10 which he handed her in payment for a 10-cent handkerchief.

James Stein purchased the handkerchief from Mrs. Wendell Hagen at 1:30 p.m. Thursday. The driver of a Nelson truck from La Crosse, waiting to be paid for his freight charge, noticed the man's line of chatter aimed at confusing the clerk.

He glanced outside, saw a car with Minnesota plates, got a description of the car and took the license.

HELMER NEPERUD, one of the store proprietors, returned from lunch just after the man left. He heard the trucker's story, checked the till, found $10 missing, and called Trempealeau County Sheriff Orris Klundby, Whitehall, at 1:38.

The radio operator at the jail here broadcast a description of the car and license. About 3:30 p.m. Willard Knutson, Blair county highway patrolman, saw the car at the intersection of Highways 53 and 95 about two miles west of Blair.

Knutson apprehended the man. At the jail in Whitehall Stein reportedly admitted the theft.

A CALL TO the Minneapolis police revealed that in that city Stein had been arrested four times since Dec. 10, for drunkenness, possession of narcotics, equipment, petty theft, and on a charge on which he was released after investigation.

Raymond Francis Breffle, Minneapolis, who was with him, also has a record of four charges in Minneapolis. He is not being held in Trempealeau County.

Eight Cabins To Be Auctioned

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — Eight cabins still unsold on Tourist Point, Lake City, will be sold at public auction Feb. 29 at 12:30 p.m., with their contents.

Seven are 10 by 24 feet and one, Hiawatha Lodge, is a double cabin. They must be moved by April 1. No cabin may be placed within the city limits for living quarters.

Three cabins were sold by the waterfront commission Feb. 3 on bid. The bids on the remaining cabins were rejected. The City Council gave the waterfront board permission to sell the cabins as the beginning of its program to improve waterfront facilities.

receiving ADC and social studies must be done for all adult recipients with a defined problem. Caseloads are limited to a maximum of 60 service cases per worker. Federal matching of administrative costs has increased to 75 percent for the larger program.

Also beginning July 1, county welfare departments will have the responsibility of administering the Wisconsin Health Assistance Payments Act, more popularly known as the Kerr-Mills Act, the medical program for those over 65 who don't qualify for OAA and don't have resources to meet today's high medical care costs.

"On the basis of 80 percent of all persons over 65 qualifying for the program," Benson said, "approximately 1,453 persons in Buffalo County will be eligible to receive benefits." No county funds will be involved. It is financed from state and federal funds.

LANESBORO BRIDGE... Construction is ahead of schedule because of the fine weather. It's across the Root River on Fillmore County Road 8 in the village and is the second of two large structures in two years. The Peterson bridge was erected last year. (Vienna Drake photo)

Bridge Ahead Of Schedule At Lanesboro

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — Construction of the new bridge spanning the Root River at Lanesboro is progressing ahead of schedule due to favorable weather conditions.

The two main supporting columns and the east buttment have been completed and piling is now being driven for the west buttment. When completed the bridge will connect Fillmore County Road 8 with Minnesota State Highway 250. The project is a county, state and federal project costing $136,756. Contracting Co., Rochester, is doing the work.

The new structure will replace the old wagon bridge built in 1893. This is one block north of the new location and is now restricted to eight tons gross weight load.

After the bridge is completed the county intends to rebuild Highway 8 from the west approach to the top of the west hill, which has been a narrow, curving and steep route called "the grade" for nearly 100 years.

10 Suspected TB Cases Revealed by X-Ray

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — The county nurse's report to the Buffalo County Board of Supervisors this week stated that the state's mobile X-ray unit in the county last year found 10 suspected cases of tuberculosis.

Five apparent tuberculosis patients were discovered as a result of the 2,760 X-rays given, the report said. One of these later entered a sanatorium as the result of the follow-up examinations by a local doctor.

The X-rays also disclosed 73 cases of cardiac enlargement; 23 cases of abnormal cardiac contour; 58 with pathological conditions of undetermined cause; eight abnormal aortas; 274 cases of hypertension; and two possible cancer cases. One proved to be cancer, unknown until the X-ray and after a follow-up by a doctor.

A total of 377 persons were referred for further study.

There were 196 persons with heart and/or hypertension abnormalities who were not referred for public health follow-up because they indicated previous knowledge of the condition. The abnormalities in these persons, however, were reported to the family physician for his information and use.

Of the 2,065 diabetic tests given at the same time, 54 were referred to their family doctors for suspicion of diabetes.

Racine Hospitals Changing Policies

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — The Racine County Medical Society adopted a policy Wednesday under which St. Luke's and St. Mary's hospitals will handle "strictly diagnostic cases" on an outpatient basis only.

Dr. Frank Scheible, president of the county society, said that only patients requiring care will be admitted in an effort to ease the bed shortage in the two hospitals.

"We have had trouble getting cardiac, pneumonia, hemorrhage and other emergency patients into the hospital," Dr. Scheible said. "We have had waiting lists of patients to enter a hospital here for the last two years."

Garry Moore May Give Up Broadcasting

NEW YORK (AP) — Garry Moore, whose Tuesday night television variety show will not be renewed next season, says he's quitting his other two Columbia Broadcasting System shows and may not return to broadcasting.

Moore, after a 30-year career in radio and TV, announced Thursday he will resign as moderator of the TV show "I've Got a Secret" and give up his daytime radio show.

CBS recently had announced it was dropping the variety hour at the end of this season.

"I have a very active mind and I just couldn't face a broadcasting future which requires only eight working hours a week," said Moore.

Whether he works or not, Moore, whose contract with CBS has 11 years to go, will be paid more than $100,000 annually.

Masonic Essay Winner Named

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — The Masonic Lodge at Lake City has chosen this year's essay contest winner.

Gertrude Coogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Coogan, received the $50 award for writing on why she was completing her high school education.

The winning essay from each high school where sponsored will be judged in a state-wide contest at St. Paul, where the grand lodge will award $500 and $250 prizes.

Gertrude's essay will be read as a feature of the Washington's birthday party program in the lodge rooms Feb. 29. Fay Krogh, last year's winner, is an honor student at Winona State College.

14 Presumed Dead in Sinking

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard cutter Coos Bay headed toward its base at Portland, Maine, today with 11 of the 20 survivors from the British freighter Ambassador. The search for 14 other crewmen ended Thursday night and they are presumed to have drowned in the stormy North Atlantic.

Nine crewmen from the storm-wrecked Ambassador, who were picked up by the Norwegian ore carrier Fruen, are en route to Rotterdam.

The Coos Bay, due in Portland Monday, also carries the body of Capt. Harry Strickland, master of the Ambassador which was wrecked by Tuesday's storm.

Civil Suit
Over Accident
Damage Opens

A civil law suit to determine property damage resulting from a traffic accident Aug. 29, 1963, at Sarnia and Hamilton streets, opened this morning in municipal court.

James Pampuch, 19, rural Fountain City, asks $330 as the result of that accident. Pampuch is represented in court by Dennis Challeen, of Plunkett and Peterson. John Oevering, 503 E. Mark St., the defendant, is represented by Robert Hull. He claims $212 damage.

Oevering appeared as cross-examination witness for the plaintiff. He testified that he was returning at noon from work driving a 1960 model car which he had owned for two months.

HE SAID that he was turning left from Sarnia onto Hamilton. Oevering testified there were no cars in front of him, that he had his turn signals on for a block and that he did not turn sharply. He said the plaintiff's car did not stop for the sign but sailed into the intersection striking his car. He said he left the accident scene and went home three blocks to call police.

Pampuch told the court that he was headed to the Root Beer stand on Sarnia street during his noon break. He said he was traveling south on Hamilton and waited at the stop sign about two minutes for east-west traffic to clear before turning left. He testified that he ventured out a few feet when traffic started to clear and kept his eye on the Oevering car which was the last in a string of east-bound automobiles.

PAMPUCH SAID Oevering did not have his turn signals on, that he cut his turn too sharply and that Oevering hit his car while he was at a standstill. Pampuch testified that he told Oevering to stay at the accident but Oevering left for almost 25 minutes.

Officer John Erickson, who investigated the accident, also took the stand this morning.

There were no witnesses to the accident. The jury trial re-opened at 1:30 p.m. Jurors are Albert Miller, 321 E. Sanborn St.; George Hartner, Jr., 126 W. Sarnia St.; John Hendrickson, 1336 W. Broadway; Henry Brom, 921 W. Broadway; William Fischen, 70½ W. 3rd St.; and Patricia McGuire, 328 W. 5th St.

Damage $75
In Collision

A collision at the intersection of Johnson and 5th streets Wednesday night caused no injury but resulted in about $75 damage to the two cars.

Lorrie Kunda, 917 E. 4th St., was driving her 1951 model car south on Johnson Street. She told officers she had stopped for the sign at 5th Street and proceeded into the intersection.

She struck a 1962 model car driven by Jeffrey Kremer, Houston, Minn., in the left side. He was traveling east on 5th St. About $25 damage was on the front bumper of the Kunda car, and the Kremer car received more than $50 damage to both left doors.

Woman Knocked
Down by Youth
Much Improved

Mrs. Katherine Lelwica, 86, 556 E. 2nd St., who was knocked down and robbed on her way to church Wednesday night, is reported much improved today in Community Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Lelwica was walking on Vine St. between 2nd and 3rd streets about 7:15 p.m. when a young man asked for the time. She could only tell officers she seemed to be quite young — about 14-years-old. He grabbed her black crocheted purse, breaking its strap in the struggle.

Mrs. Lelwica was knocked to the ground. She crawled to a neighbor's home and was taken to Community Memorial when she complained of pain at the back of her head and her hip. Thursday her physician was concerned about her state of shock and was unable to determine the extent of injuries. Due to the shock, Mrs. Lelwica was considered in critical condition Thursday noon.

Her physician reported today that her condition is fair and that there appear to be no fractured bones.

Police still are looking for clues to identify her assailant. In the crocheted purse were a Rosary, a house key and 35 cents in a small coin purse.

Ethiopia's population of about 20 million is mainly a mixture of Hamites, Semites and Negroes.

Driver Hurt in Car-Truck Crash

One driver received possible injuries and his car about $150 damage when the air brakes on a semi-truck apparently failed at the intersection of Highways 14 and 61 at 3:40 p.m. Thursday.

Lawrence James Kane, 30, Minneapolis, told officers that he was just starting his 1962 model car after stopping for traffic signals. Kane, a federal narcotics agent, was driving a car owned by the U.S. Treasury Department.

Harvey D. Stockpleth, Rochester, Minn., came up behind Kane. He said he was shifting into low gear when the air brakes failed on his 1948 green semi-truck. The truck was owned by Herb Schultz, Rochester.

This, said Stockpleth, caused him to hit the rear of the Kane automobile. Kane complained of shoulder pain and was treated by a private physician.

Will Ramblers' Poor Rehearsal Make for Good Opening Night?

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

In the glittery gold-spangled world of life upon the wicked stage, no Broadway producer would banish a cast for failure to stage a flawless dress rehearsal.

And while thoughts of "Kismet," "Pygmalion," and "South Pacific" today probably won't occupy so much as a fleeting instant of the time Cotter Coach John Nett puts into thought — the veteran Rambler mentor is hoping the old adage "a poor dress rehearsal brings a perfect opening night" proves true once again.

After a spirited workout Wednesday, Thursday's practice session disturbed Nett.

"We were a little lackadaisical out there at times last night," he recalled. "Maybe it's just the usual night-before-the-big-game jitters."

Rambler fans — and there will be a host of them on hand as the Cotter Booster Club has chartered a bus — will find out as Cotter opens defense of its Region Six Catholic title by tangling with Rochester Lourdes in tonight's finale at the Mayo Civic Auditorium.

The contest is scheduled for an 8:45 p.m. start. Setting the stage and determining who one of Sunday's finalists will be, is the scrap between Caledonia Loretto and Wabasha St. Felix, booked for 7 p.m.

And while tonight's Cotter-Lourdes game will feature strategy of two St. Mary's College graduates, Eagle mentor, Gene Biewen, is hoping for a bit of help from the law of averages.

"It should be on our side this time," said Biewen, who has seen his Eagles lose to Cotter on three occasions this year.

"It's tough to say just what might happen."

"Aha," you say, "an undercurrent of mystery?"

Yes, says Nett.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see them try something new against us," he stated. "I'd really like to know what it might be, but I guess we'll just have to wait and see."

Cotter says the coach, will be going with the same type of game that has brought it 18 victories and only two losses (one to St. Louis Park Benilde, the other to Minneapolis De La Salle) this year.

Will Cotter's three victories over the Eagles — (62-49, 32-28 in overtime and 76-55 last time around) cause the Ramblers to look ahead to Sunday's final round?

"It might, but I certainly don't know why it should," said Nett. "One thing we have in our favor, is that the kids will remember that overtime game with them during the holidays."

Says Biewen: "Cotter has a good club. There is no noticeable weakness. The big thing we have to do is get a better start. Both time we got clobbered by them we got off to poor starts. We have to do a better job on Jeresek also."

While Cotter will go with the same five that have occupied starting positions all season long, Biewen's lineup will have a new look from a previous Eagle appearance at St. Stan's.

Bob Curry (6-3 senior) will be at center with Jim Marshall (6-1 senior) and Dexter Reisch (6-2 junior) at forwards and Jim Galuska (5-10 junior) and Tom Mason (5-8 senior) at guards.

For Cotter, Bob Judge and John Nett Jr. will operate at the front line wings with Jeresek in the pivot. The guards will be playmaker Rick Starzecki, the captain, and top scorer Gene Schultz.

Nett, who is in his 16th year as Cotter coach, will be shooting for his 15th trip to the state tournament.

What does he think of the No. 1 rating bestowed upon his team by "Sportslight," a weekly state sports newspaper, this week?

"Like I said before," he began, "it's nice to have that rating, but we still have to prove that we belong there by winning ball games."

State Closes Home Slate With Tech

Winona State closes out its home basketball season against Michigan Tech Saturday night at 8:30 p.m.

The Warriors have one game remaining after Saturday's encounter, that also with Tech at Houghton, Mich., the following Friday.

Two seniors will end their home careers when the Warriors take the floor against the Huskies.

Captain Lyle Papenfuss will culminate a brilliant collegiate career. Papenfuss has been a Warrior mainstay for Coach Bob Campbell since 1961, when Campbell took over the coaching helm from Joe Gerlach. Papenfuss played his freshman year under Gerlach.

He has played 81 games as a Warrior, starting all but one of them. Last year he was an All-Conference selection at forward in the Northern States College Conference (now Northern Intercollegiate Conference) and this year is third in team scoring with 265 points in 22 games for a 12.1 average.

The other senior to play his last home game is Roger Kijome, a Spring Grove High School grad.

Kijome played two years of ball at Luther College before transferring to Winona State. He was a reserve for Campbell much of last year and part of this season, but has been improving in recent games and will start Saturday.

Other Warrior starters will be Gary Petersen, the team's leading scorer with 392 points for an 18.6 clip, Darrell Schuster and Dave Goede.

"We've had good, sharp practices all week," smiled Campbell, "we're looking for a third place finish in the NIC with a 5-5 record. The kids want it too, so I look for a good ball game against Tech." The Warriors are now 3-5 in the NIC and 10-12 overall.

Saturday will be a real sports day at Winona State. The swimming team kicks off with a dual against Gustavus at 1 p.m. At 3 p.m. the wrestling team meets Wartburg in Memorial Hall, and a preliminary game between Lewiston and Peterson will precede the Warrior-Tech game at 7 p.m.

Dienger Out, Hawks Enter Region One

Misfortune has struck Winona High's wrestling crew as it gets set to trek westward to Owatonna and the Region One meet which opens there tonight at 6:30.

Len Dienger, one of four Hawk District Three champions, suffered a broken finger and will be unable to compete.

"He broke it just below the knuckle," said Coach Nardini and then, added the obvious: "this makes our hopes for regional contention dim."

Dienger, classed as a tournament wrestler, picked up 14 of a possible 15 team points as he swept through District Three competition a week ago.

But ready to go are the other six Hawks who won their ways into the tournament. Rounding out the District Three champions are Pete Woodworth at 165, Byron Bohnen at 175 and Bob Haeussinger at heavyweight. Also competing will be Barry Arenz, who was second at 145, Cliff Vierus, who was second at 130, and Larry Pomeroy, who was third at 133.

"I still feel that several of our boys have good chances of going to the state meet," said Nardini. "It depends how the seedings go."

The Hawk coach looks for a Big Nine Conference-dominated tournament with Albert Lea — the loop champion—Owatonna and Northfield rating favorite tags.

Another strong regional entry could be Dick Maher's Harmony Cardinals, who advanced out of District One with booming success.

The Cards will have ten competitors at the Region One meet. The finals will be Saturday night.

Hawks After 3rd-Place Tie Here Tonight

By ROLLIE WUSSOW
Daily News Sports Writer

The Winona High Winhawks have their sights set on a third-place tie in the Big Nine when Red Wing rolls into the senior high gym tonight at 8 p.m. in the conference finale for both teams.

For the Hawks to place third, Rochester would have to beat Austin, currently in third place with a 6-3 record. If this should happen, and the Hawks win over Red Wing, then John Kenney would be a happy man.

"At the beginning of the year," commented Coach Kenney, "there were four or five teams that were supposed to be in the thick of it, and I guess you can say that the estimates came pretty close."

"I thought we should have won a few more than we have so far, but then I didn't think we'd beat Red Wing up there either."

Kenney was well satisfied with his team's showing Tuesday night against La Crosse Central. He will start the same lineup he used against the Raiders.

Gary Addington and Steve Keller will be at the guards, Bill Squires and Pat Boland at forwards and Jim Kasten at center.

Red Wing will have an all-junior lineup at the tip-off circle. The team will be led by Mickey Bohmbach, the kid with the slingshot arm on the gridiron and the accurate eye in the cage game.

Bohmbach led the Wingers in scoring in the first meeting between the two schools. He had 19 markers, while Squires also hit 19 for Winona.

"We'll have our work cut out for us," concluded Kenney, "they've been improving steadily since our first meeting. They'll probably throw the full-court press against us from the start. It should be a good game."

The Hawks have one game remaining after the Winger clash, that against St. Paul Monroe at home next Friday, before meeting Rochester March 3 in the semifinals of District Three tournament play at Winona State's Memorial Hall.

WARRIOR MAT, TANK TEAMS HOME SATURDAY

The Winona High swimmers are at Rochester today in the Big Nine Conference meet.

Schools entered with Winona include Rochester, Austin and Mankato.

Coach Lloyd Luke has aspirations of a third or possibly second-place finish, but feels that whoever is in this spot will be behind Rochester. "They should sweep all the events with the exception of diving," stated Luke of the Rockets, "we'll have to rely on third, fourth and fifth place finishes to pile up points."

In other swimming action this weekend, the Winona State tankers are at home against Gustavus at 1 p.m. Saturday.

The Warriors have won ten in a row against strong competition, and are 11-1 overall, their only loss coming at the hands of Macalester early in Winona State's matmen host Wartburg College at Memorial Hall at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Berry's Topple Erickson's 46-43

In the only game played in the YMCA Basketball League Thursday night, Berry's defeated Erickson's 46-43 after holding a halftime edge of 25-21.

For the winners, Lynn Berry hit 17 points and Joe Peters 11. John Prigge got 26 for Erickson's and Gary Nissalke 10.

Worra received a forfeit victory over Burros.

Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants ended the 1963 football season with 202 touchdown passes for his 14 seasons in the National Football League.

Warrior Mat Team Tumbles

MANKATO, Minn. — Winona State College's wrestling team hit a snag here Thursday night as Mankato shut out the Warriors 33-0.

The Indians amassed their total on three pins and five decisions.

Included was a 6-5 loss on riding time by star Warrior 177-pounder Pat Flaherty.

The Warriors will attempt to get back on the winning track at Memorial Hall against Luther College at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Tuff's Racer To Hold Pole

DAYTONA, Fla. (Special) — After being forced out of 1963 competition by a smashup, it appears that Ernie Tuff, the Rushford, Minn., mechanic, might be heading for racing fame this year.

Driven by Glenn (Fireball) Roberts, a name synonymous with racing, Tuff's car, a 1961 racing body powered by a '63 fuel injection Ford engine, will hold the pole position for Saturday's 250-mile championship sportsman race at the International Speedway here.

With Roberts at the helm Wednesday, the 525-horse Ford pushed around the track at a record-setting 170.740 miles per hour clip.

Tuff, who assembled the auto from parts purchased nationwide, is sponsoring the car along with the Nels Johnson Construction Co. of Winona.

Redmen Will Meet Pipers

Fred Schmiesing is a 6-9 240-pound giant who is as accustomed to a basketball court as Paul Bunyan must have been stalking through the forest.

Schmiesing comes from a line of "skyscraping" basketball stars. And when college beckoned, he chose Hamline, the home of veteran coach Joe Hutson and basketball tradition.

In the past couple of years as Schmiesing went, so went Hamline.

Now he's injured.

IT SEEMS that the coach of a team scheduled to meet Hamline—in this case St. Mary's Ken Wiltgen who sends his team against the Pipers at St. Paul Saturday night — would be only too happy to have Schmiesing absent.

Not so.

This is the way Wiltgen looks at it.

"They beat us down here by two points and they had Schmiesing," he says. "We should have beaten them. We feel we can win even if he plays."

Wiltgen, dismayed by a loss to St. John's Monday, sent his team through an extensive drill Thursday and was scheduled to do the same today.

"WE DIDN'T WORK out Tuesday," he said. "And Wednesday we shot around for a while and watched some movies. Two days of hard work is enough time to get ready when you're at this stage of the season."

Wiltgen plans no change in his starting alignment. Denny Burghman will be at center with Tom Hall and Rog Pytlewski at forwards and Al Williams and Mike Maloney at guards.

The Redmen will be shooting for one of their finest seasons, and a victory Saturday could turn the trick.

"THESE KIDS haven't been on a team that won more than 15 games," said the coach. St. Mary's now is 15-8.

AT ILLINOIS SATURDAY

Gophers Facing Sternest Test

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's hopeful basketball team flew this afternoon to Champaign, Ill., where Saturday night the Gophers lay their Big Ten championship aspirations clearly on the line.

Illinois at Champaign is the Gophers' sternest test the remainder of the season. A victory Saturday would send Minnesota hopes soaring for a sweep of the last four conference games.

A defeat eliminates the Gophers from title contention.

Minnesota, 7-3 in the Big Ten, trails Michigan and Ohio State, both 8-2.

After Illinois, the Gophers play at Indiana and Wisconsin and are home against Iowa.

The Illini will be seeking revenge for a 92-81 setback at the hands of the Gophers here last Saturday night. Illinois also is smarting from five straight losses, four away from home.

Couch John Kundla plans no change in the Minnesota lineup.

Guard Terry Kunze staved off the challenge of Don Yates to take his starting berth. Kunze scored 19 points in the 89-75 upset victory over Michigan Tuesday.

Louis Hudson continues to lead Gopher scoring with an 18.6 season average and a 20.2 Big Ten average. For the year, Mel Northway is next at 14.4, then come Bill Davis 12.1, Kunze 10.2

Clark 10.1 and Yates 9.7.

Tal Brody is the top Illini scorer with a 21.0 Big Ten average.

Other games will have Ohio State (8-2) at Northwestern (5-4) and Michigan (8-2) at Wisconsin (2-7) for afternoon engagements. The Buckeye-Wildcat will be regionally televised.

Another afternoon game will have Purdue (4-4) at Indiana (2-7) and Michigan State (5-6) plays at Iowa (2-6) at night.

Turner Takes Singles Lead

Jerry Turner fired a 625 scratch total, built it up to 655 with a 40-pin handicap and today holds the singles lead in the Winona Men's Bowling Association City Tournament.

Turner warmed up for his first-place effort with a 186 game and then smartly rifled over 232 his second game and 207 his third for the 625.

Both of the final sets were featured by game-ending strike strings. He strung five in his

Hengel Tops Keglers With 235-624

All top ten departments went unchallenged Thursday night as a pair of 600 scores were the best the men could do.

The topper came from the Bay State Men's loop at Westgate Bowl where Frank Hengel was topping 180-209-235 - 624 for Bouncers. Top Scores powered 978 and Big Yields 2,850.

In the Classic League at the same alleys, Rich Chuchina was at it for Clark & Clark, waxing 161-218-243 - 622 while Dale's Standard was just missing in team game with 1,037 and then continuing on to 2,823.

HAL-ROD LANES: Junior Boys - Joe Albrecht punched 203-371 and Mark Weigel 203 to lead A-Rabs to 790-1,483.

WESTGATE BOWL: Keglerettes - Marcie Brugger rifled 190 for Winona Plumbing and Palma Stanislawski 498 for Lawn Furniture. Hamm's Beer topped 914 and Sammy's Pizza 2,576.

Anybody After Author-Pitcher?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Brosnan right now is worth about the price of his two books—in paperback editions.

The 34-year-old right-handed pitcher and author of some notes was put up for sale Thursday by the Chicago White Sox for $1. It was understood that the deal is contingent upon the purchaser also taking his type-writer, at no extra charge.

Stocks Hit New High 3rd Week in Row

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP) - A cautious stock market this week nudged the averages to record highs again and ran its series of weekly gains to three straight.

The market had the advantage of continued good news from business and the economic front as a whole. While the record highs in the averages prompted some analysts to say that a "correction" was at hand, others said that the averages were deceptive - that a great many issues were far below their peaks.

In the four-day trading week just ended - shortened by a market holiday on Friday in advance of Washington's birthday - stocks put on a dawdling performance much of the time. But underneath the surface, interest rotated from group to group while the averages did little.

The Dow Jones industrial average made a small gain of 2.43 to close at an historic high of 796.99 - still shy of the significant 800-level which it has been approaching very gingerly.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks made a trifling rise of 9 to 295.6, also a record peak.

Volume for the shortened week totaled 18,454,510 shares compared with 22,026,010 for the previous week, of five trading days.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Continental Airlines, up 1 1/4 at 19 1/2 on 273,600 shares; Helene Curtis, off 6 at 31 1/4; General Motors, up 1 1/2 at 79 1/2; Chrysler, off
