the Northern Pacific Railway tracks. Station wagon in which the five victims and three survivors were riding is shown at left, while the train is stopped in the upper right corner. Two covered bodies of victims lie on the tracks. Men in center of photo are not identified. (AP Photofax)

Episcopal Bishop, 4 Others Dead in N.D. Crossing Crash

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — A passenger train ramed a station wagon Sunday, killing five persons — the Episcopal bishop of North Dakota, a university chaplain, the latter's wife and small daughter and a young Sunday School teacher. The other three occupants of the car, children, were injured critically. They had been at morning services at a country mission near Oslo, Minn., about 20 miles north of here, and were driving to Grand Forks for another service when the tragedy occurred at the north edge of the city. Killed were the Rt. Rev. Richard R. Emery, 53, Fargo, N.D. the bishop; the Rev. Edwin L. Bigelow, 39, Grand Forks, chaplain to Episcopalian students at the University of North Dakota here; Bigelow's wife, Phyllis, 34, their daughter, Pamela, 9, and Sharrell Simons, 19, a university freshman and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Simons, Mandan, N.D. Joe Christensen, a Northern Pacific Railroad policeman and a passenger on the train, said the train was going 30 to 35 miles per hour when the crash occurred. The engineer sounded the warning horn, Christensen added.

Apparently the eight occupants of the station wagon saw the train too late to stop. The car left skid marks only about a foot long.

Bodies of the dead and injured were hurled from the car by the impact. One was thrown 40 yards. Lauren Clayman, Wadena, Minn., newspaperman and a passenger on the train, was among the first persons to reach the victims. As Clayman approached little Christopher Bigelow, 5, lying among the broken bodies, let out a cry and it became known not all were dead.

The others injured were Kimberly Schick, 7, and her sister Bethanie, 6, daughters of Mrs. Lowell Meier of Grand Forks. All three were severely injured and Bethanie was rushed to a Fargo hospital for neurosurgery. Dr. G. G. Thorgensen, county coroner, said there was no flashing signal at the crossing. Clayman speculated it was possible the driver's view might have been obstructed by a grain elevator and another large building.

Thorgensen said it was very cold at the time and the car windows were tightly closed. "Maybe they couldn't hear the train whistle," the coroner added.

William Norman, engineer on the Winnipeg to Minneapolis NP passenger train, and fireman Thomas N. McMahon, both of East Grand Forks, Minn., were hospitalized and placed under sedation following the accident.

A native of Pine Island, Minn., Emery moved to St. Paul as a boy and received part of his education at the University of Minnesota. He served churches in Windom, Worthington, Jackson, and Albert Lea, Minn., before becoming rector of St. Paul's Church in Minneapolis in 1948. He was consecrated bishop in 1951.

Survivors include the widow and two children, John, 19, and Margaret, 15.

Ruby Trial Recessed for New Appeal

BULLETIN DALLAS (AP) — The third juror, a woman, was sworn in today in Jack Ruby's murder trial. The newest juror is Mrs. Mildred McCollum, mother of six and a secretary for a building contractor.

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby's defense lawyers prepared to file a petition for a writ of mandamus before the state Supreme Court.

The mandamus would involve a ruling on whether persons who viewed on television the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby could serve as jurors.

A mandamus is an order by the Supreme Court directing certain actions.

The defense claims those who saw the shooting by Ruby of the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy are witnesses and therefore ineligible under Texas law to be jurors in the case.

Joe Tonahill, a defense attorney, talked by telephone with George Templin, clerk of the Texas Supreme Court, in Austin, the capital. He told Templin that he and other defense attorneys would leave Dallas today by private plane.

Judge Joe B. Brown, hearing the Ruby trial, called a recess in the trial shortly after it opened today. He and attorneys for both sides conferred in Brown's chambers.

Chief defense counsel Melvin Belli came out of the judge's chambers and talked with newsmen. He said, "The question is quite simple: Can a witness be a juror?"

He said that technically, if the Texas Supreme Court upholds the defense argument, he could subpoena as witnesses anyone who saw the television scenes of the shooting.

He said that the legal maneuver is connected with his petition for transferring the trial away from Dallas. "I'm sure we could find people who hadn't seen this on television if we could try the case in some other city," Belli said. He added:

"This is wearing Ruby down and wearing all of us down."

23 Hindus Missing In Kashmir Dispute

By ALAN M. KENNEDY NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Twenty-three Indian policemen are missing after a new outbreak of violence between Pakistan and India in the troubled state of Kashmir.

The Indian Defense Ministry lodged a protest with U.N. observers, charging that troops from the Pakistani sector of Kashmir crossed the cease-fire line dividing the Himalayan state and attacked the Indian patrol Friday. Indian officials were able to account for only one member of the patrol.

The ambush occurred near

Keran, about 70 miles west of Srinagar, Kashmir's summer capital, the ministry said. Pakistani troops crossed the cease-fire line along the Krishen Ganga River and fired on the patrol while other Pakistanis opened a barrage from the opposite bank, the ministry said.

A spokesman for Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party said Pakistan may have deliberately staged the ambush to impress Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, currently visiting Pakistan.

Indian officials expressed no surprise over a joint communiqué by Chou and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan Sunday pledging Red China's support of Pakistan in the Kashmir dispute.

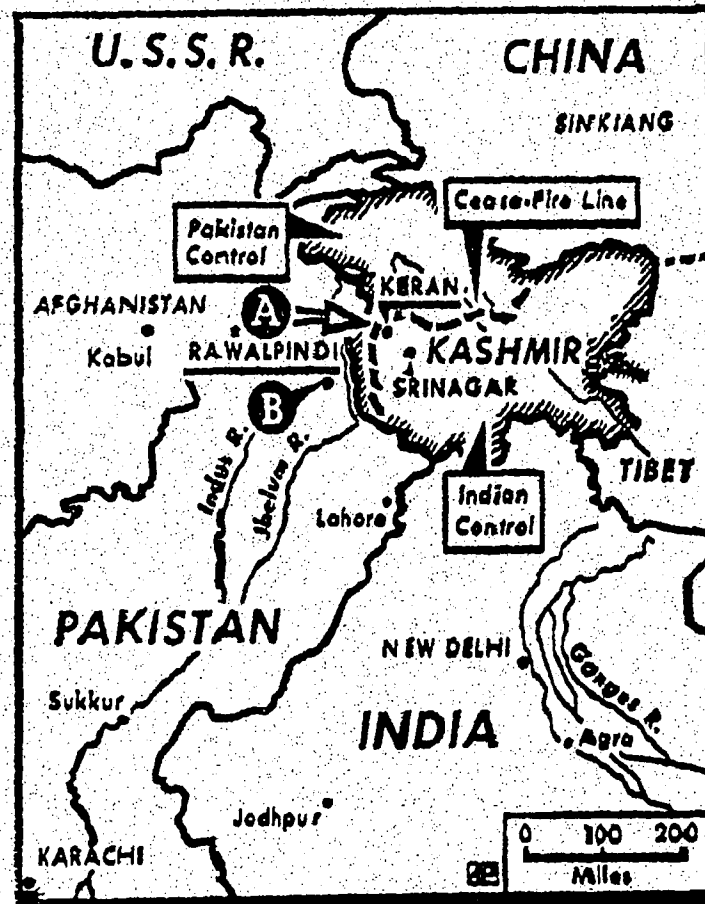

A government spokesman said nothing startling could have emerged from a meeting of "the government leaders whose common denominator is dislike of India."

Ayub, who has always pictured himself as a strong friend of the West, held three days of talks with Chou in the old Punjab city of Rawalpindi, 60 miles west of the Kashmir frontier.

In the communiqué, Ayub promised "friendly cooperation" with his Communist neighbor to the north and said he would return Chou's visit with a trip to Peking.

Although Pakistan has received more than $3 billion in economic and military assistance from the United States, the communiqué contained implicit swipes at Washington for the $60 million in U.S. military aid to India following the 1962 Chinese border attacks.

Pakistan regards India as its chief threat, with the Kashmir dispute as the principal issue between them, and fears India will use the U.S. military aid against Pakistan.

WHERE INDIA CHARGES ATTACK . . . The Indian defense ministry today charged that Pakistani troops attacked an Indian patrol near Keran (A) after crossing cease-fire line dividing Kashmir. At Rawalpindi (B), Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Kahn held three days of talks with visiting Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai. (AP Photofax Map)

Barn Burns At Rochester, Loss $100,000

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Fire swept a large stable on the Priebe farm near Rochester today causing damage estimated by the owners at $100,000. Twenty-four head of riding and show horses and ponies were destroyed.

Some of the animals lost were valued up to $3,000 each. Several animals were saved.

Cause of the blaze was not known, but it was believed to have started in the vicinity of an oil heater.

The farm, known as the Mayo Priebe farm, is on Highway 52, 4 1/2 miles south of Rochester.

Five Dead in State Mishaps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Five persons died in as many traffic accidents in Minnesota over the weekend. The deaths raised the state's 1964 highway toll to 88, or 10 more than through this date last year.

Douglas Means, 18, named most valuable player on the Montevideo High School football team last fall, was killed Sunday when his car was struck by a freight train east of Montevideo.

Mrs. Russell Witzel, 34, Rushmore, Minn., and mother of four, died Sunday when her car left Highway 16 near Adrian and overturned.

Mrs. Clara Norrgard, 77, Cloquet, died late Saturday. The car driven by her husband, Andrew, went out of control on snow-slick Highway 33 south of Cloquet. The machine went into a ditch and overturned, throwing the woman out. Her husband escaped with a hand cut.

Gail Froehleche, 18, was the victim of an unusual car-truck accident near her hometown of St. Clair, Minn., late Saturday. The car she was driving was struck by the rear wheel section which came off a logging truck. Two companions, also Bemidji State College coeds, were seriously injured. They were Karen Glava, 18, and Janet Rosten, 20, both of International Falls.

Roger W. Aarnes, 21, Minneapolis, died Saturday when his sports car struck a tree in suburban Richfield. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Aarnes, Grand Forks, N.D.

Union Boycott Of Wheat to Russia Holds

By NEIL GILBRIDE MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A union boycott blocking multi-million-dollar shipments of U.S. wheat to Russia continued today after the collapse of negotiations between labor leaders and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Not one bushel of wheat will be loaded in U.S. ports until federal officials guarantee at least half of all grain shipments to Soviet bloc countries will go in American vessels, said President Thomas W. Gleason of the International Longshoremen's Union.

Eight ships are tied up by the boycott at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports. Wirtz left for Washington after four futile days of talks, saying the union's demand raised urgent problems affecting U.S. foreign policy, balance of payments and trade policy that could only be solved in highest level conferences in Washington.

Wirtz failed in a last-minute plea to union officials to lift the boycott until such conferences could be arranged.

President Johnson's personal appeals to labor leaders also failed to budge the adamant stand of the unions.

The longshoremen and other maritime unions had the full backing of the AFL-CIO in resisting the Johnson administration's request to load the wheat for Russia. "They are just fighting for bread and butter for their people," said AFL-CIO President George Meany in backing the boycott.

THEY'LL JAIL BACHELORS

Wacky Leap Year Day

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — For residents of Ottawa, the next and wackiest holiday this year is Leap Year day when a man may be jailed for being unmarried.

It's Saturday, Feb. 29, and even the victims — the bachelors — are excited.

The single ladies will take over this northern Illinois city of nearly 20,000 persons for the once-in-a-quadrillion event.

Miss Joyce Hayne, a secretary in the accounting department of Ottawa Silica Co., will be inaugurated mayor for a day. The role falls to her as president of the Ottawa Junior Women's Club.

Then, other girls will take the other city jobs — police chief, judge, fire chief, city prosecutor, and the City Council posts.

After that, the mere male population must watch its step — and, incidentally, its pocketbook.

This year, the girls are raising funds for a new mobile rescue unit which will go either to the fire department or the river rescue unit that patrols the Illinois River.

Dorothy Bender, who was mayor four years ago, said the money will come from the men — or else.

Contributions are collected in open court from men who are summoned by the daily arrest notices of the day — and the City Council chamber specially decorated for the occasion will be the courtroom.

"Oh my!" says Miss Hayne. "We couldn't hold court in a stuffy ordinary courtroom. I think we'll do it over in red and white — at least as much as we can with lots of gay plastic ornaments and ribbons."

Nancy Hilton is police magistrate for the day. She said all's fair, as far as the girls are concerned. But, she said, already, there is bribery afoot.

"Some men have sent flowers to some of our prospective city officials," she said. "We'll deal with those fellows."

If there is one man who's apt to get off lightly, it is Phil Bailey, two-time mayor now out of office. It was Bailey who thought up the leap year doing 12 years ago.

There has been some talk of a move to organize bachelor resistance. Bailey's advice to men with such outlandish ideas: "Don't do it, fellows. You just can't win."

South Viet Nam Losing Despite Help From U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's becoming more of a puzzle than a war.

Nobody in this government, past or present, has given the American people a cold, factual report on what's happening or what's in store in South Viet Nam. Various official statements create confusion.

South Viet Nam, after eight years of help from the United States in its war with the Red guerrillas of North Viet Nam, apparently is losing ground. This country has over 15,000 troops there, supposedly as advisers although some have been killed in the front lines, and has pumped in over $5 billion in aid.

Here are some points that puzzle Americans and probably Vietnamese, too:

Why haven't the latter done more to win? Can they ever do better? Is this country just going to go on rocking along with them? Will it finally give up and pull out? Or will it try to step up the war?

South Viet Nam has had three governments since October but the situation is worse now than before.

President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was in charge eight years but not successfully, was killed when a military junta took over in a coup. The junta was thrown out in a new coup by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

Last Jan. 27 Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress the situation was "grave." The next day he said "I am encouraged by the progress of the past two weeks."

Last week Congress released more of what he said. That even if the war does not go well we should still withdraw most American troops by 1965. He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war.

Over the weekend one report from Washington said there was division between the Defense Department and the State Department on what to do. It said some State Department officials felt McNamara's statement on pulling out was bad public relations because it might encourage the Communists.

Also last week Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democrats' Senate leader, applauded McNamara's pull-out idea and urged consideration of French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Viet Nam.

Neutralization has hazards, too. It could be interpreted simply as an American face-saving device for pulling out of a tough situation. Neutralization, once the Americans were gone, might open the door for a Communist take-over of all Viet Nam.

Nominations for Oscars Announced

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Tom Jones," Henry Fielding's bawdy tale of 18th century England, won top honors in Motion Picture Academy Award nominations today, scoring in 10 categories.

"Cleopatra," the most expensive movie of all time, placed second with nine nominations for "Oscars."

The epic western, "How the West Was Won," followed with eight, and a modern western,

"Hud," scored seven.

A decidedly British race shaped up for best performance by an actor. The contenders included three Britons — Albert Finney for "Tom Jones," Richard Harris for "This Sporting Life," and Rex Harrison for "Cleopatra."

Also in the race were two Americans: Paul Newman for "Hud," and Sidney Poitier for "Lilies of the Field."

THEY'RE DRIVING HER CRAZY

Sonic Booms Tested

By CARL ROGAN OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An Oklahoma City woman says her furniture is shrinking.

Another person chides: "You think you're driving us nuts with those booms? Well, we're gonna drive you crazy with calls."

An average of 30 telephone calls, frequently along these lines, has jammed a special switchboard within minutes after a faster-than-sound Air Force jet plane breaks the sound barrier.

Sonic booms from F104 jets split the center of Oklahoma City eight times a day for one purpose: to determine public reaction to the sudden bursts. The tests began Feb. 3 and apparently most of the affected 750,000 Oklahoma City and surrounding area residents seem to be adjusting rapidly to the joint Federal Aviation Agency and Air Force project.

"There's a definite decrease in the number of telephone calls we're getting now," and FAA official said recently about the reaction on the scheduled 26-week test.

Oklahoma City, home of the FAA's aeronautical center, is the first heavily populated area to become a testing laboratory to determine if public operations might restrict or stop future use of commercial jet cargo planes.

Four homes, all less than 10 years old, also are equipped by the FAA with highly sensitive devices which measure the stresses created by sonic booms on the structures.

CITIZEN REACTION . . . Diagram illustrates how thunder-like booms caused by supersonic jet aircraft breaking the sound barrier occur. Shock waves are created by the high speed of the jet as it breaks the barrier. As the waves hit the earth they are registered as loud booms. The U.S. Air Force is purposely creating sonic booms in Oklahoma City to test the reaction of the citizenry. (AP Photofax Drawing)

HARRIS SURVEY

Johnson Support

By LOUIS HARRIS

The reason for President Lyndon Johnson's incredible strong showing in the polls is now abundantly clear: For the moment, at least, he has eliminated the hitherto common belief that a Democrat in the White House means a higher rate of government spending.

Today—by 81 to 19 percent—people give the President a favorable rating on his ability to keep spending under control. This contrasts sharply with the unfavorable score on spending—35 to 65 percent—registered by the late President Kennedy just before his death in November.

Significantly, Mr. Johnson's economy measures have impressed Republicans far more than Democrats. The political significance of the Johnson record on spending—if it sticks—is that it bids fair to present him with handsome political returns next November. For spending is the one campaign issue which traditionally is most central in its appeal to Republicans.

Here is the current rating of the President on spending:

Johnson Rating on Spending	Total Voters
Positive	81
1960 Kennedy voters	89
1960 Nixon voters	76
Negative	19
1960 Kennedy voters	11
1960 Nixon voters	24

By almost 9 to 1, voters who cast their ballots for John F. Kennedy in 1960 rate Mr. Johnson favorably on the spending issue. Even those who voted for Richard M. Nixon acknowledge by over 3 to 1 that the new Democratic President has done a good job on economy in government.

This public reaction contrasts sharply with that accorded Mr. Johnson's predecessor, measured last November:

Kennedy Rating on Spending	Total Voters
Positive	35
1960 Kennedy voters	51
1960 Nixon voters	14
Negative	65
1960 Kennedy voters	49
1960 Nixon voters	86

People who voted for Nixon in 1960 have dramatically shifted from their 86-14 percent negative views about the way Mr. Kennedy handled government finances to their 76-24 percent favorable attitudes in assessing President Johnson on the same issue.

The latest survey of a cross-section of the public asked voters directly if they felt Mr. Johnson was doing a better job than Mr. Kennedy in handling government spending, or not as good:

Johnson vs. Kennedy on Spending	Total Voters
Nationwide	%
Johnson better	32
Johnson not as good	6
Not much difference	62
1960 Kennedy Voters
Johnson better	25
Johnson not as good	8
Not much difference	67
1960 Nixon Voters
Johnson better	46
Johnson not as good	3
Not much difference	51

It is immediately apparent that the group of voters most sensitive to the President's economy drive are not normal Democrats, but rather those who might be expected to make up the hard-core of the Republican Party base in 1964.

Tied closely to this pattern of reaction to the new President is another dimension: Friendliness toward business. People were asked to contrast the last two men in the White House on this issue:

Johnson vs. Kennedy on Business	Total Voters
Nationwide	%
L.B.J. friendlier	18
L.B.J. less friendly	6
Not much different	76
1960 Kennedy Voters
L.B.J. friendlier	10
L.B.J. less friendly	8
Not much different	82
1960 Nixon Voters
L.B.J. friendlier	33
L.B.J. less friendly	4
Not much different	63

Lyndon Johnson got his start in politics during the New Deal era of 30 years ago. But up to now, at least, he has accomplished what Democrats Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and John F. Kennedy never achieved: To convince large numbers of Republican voters that a Democrat in the White House is not necessarily unfriendly toward business, nor a spender.

Manx cats have a peculiar hopping gait caused by their short forelegs and unusually long hind legs.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Why Children Don't Listen

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Educators sometimes look for someone to blame rather than for the source of trouble.

They search only for personal and social situations outside the control of the school, instead of looking within the school itself.

Such was the situation in a California Elementary School District where efforts to find out why children didn't listen effectively led to bitter arguments.

No one objected to their manner of selection of "good" and "poor" listeners from grades five, six and seven for comparison. Scores on the Sequential Tests of Educational Progress were used, but their proposed search for causes (or scapegoats) brought angry protests from the community.

The researchers' plan was to assess the intelligence, personal and social adjustment, physical maturation, hearing ability, acceptance by peers and teachers, and socio-economic background of the selected children.

Once test scores were available, they would be correlated with listening ability to determine what relationship, if any, existed between them.

OF THE SEVEN proposed tests only one, hearing ability, is a direct investigation of a child's listening. No wonder the researchers should have been looking first to themselves and the schools, for the sources of failure.

It is the teachers' responsibility to help students develop listening techniques. The study should have been on the pupils' habits of listening, the teachers' procedures in developing good listening habits, and the understanding of both pupils and teachers of efficient learning procedures.

Such an investigation could have led to improvement! Listening skills are learning skills—and important ones. Some estimates place listening, inefficient as it may be, as the source of 75 per cent of the knowledge gained by high school and college students.

Since it takes only one tenth of his thinking power to hear the words, how a pupil uses the remaining nine tenths of his thinking to study what is being said, is the important element.

Where did the school programs miss in developing listening skills? What provisions have been made to repair the damage?

CLOSELY associated with listening ability is the knowledge of precise meanings of words.

A third closely associated factor is the training the pupil has had in bringing up mental pictures from spoken stimuli.

Pupils do not develop these skills automatically. Good teachers instruct their pupils in what to think about while listening, in such a way that they develop skill in learning through listening.

No one would be critical of investigation in these areas.

When the several avenues of search for the causes of poor listening have been exhausted, that for these, parents seek professional help regarding possible social or personality problems so severe as to interfere with learning.

Weaver Girl Wins District 4-H Contest

Louise Rollins, Weaver, winner of the Wabasha County 4-H speaking contest, won the district contest at Winona Saturday. She was incorrectly listed as runner-up.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rollins.

Olmsted County's 4-H speaker was second. She is Margaret Tuohy, Chatfield. She was incorrectly named the district winner.

Louise, discussing "What Is My Responsibility in Bettering Inter-racial and Inter-religious Understanding?" said everyone is created equal, yet they are individual. It should be everybody's purpose to work together to make the world a better place to live in. No one should pass this task off to someone else, she said.

Louise will compete in the state 4-H contest at St. Paul in March.

Judges for the district contest were Ronald Kruse, Winona Boy Scout executive; the Rev. Phil Williams, Church of the Nazarene; and Wayne Valentine, news director of KAGE.

Strand Winner Of Weed Award

The Winona County agent has been named winner of the North Central Weed Control Conference Award for the best weed control program in 1963.

He is Oliver Strand, who competed with entrants from 14 states and three Canadian provinces.

Strand will receive an expense-paid trip to the 1964 conference meeting in Michigan.

The award is an annual award presented to the county agent in the region who has done the most work on weed control in his area.

Broadway Crash Driver Charged

About $250 damage resulted from a collision on West Broadway Saturday at 6:12 p.m.

One driver was tagged for making an improper turn.

Both drivers were going west on Broadway. Raymond Urness, 523 W. Mill St., was traveling in the right lane. Walter H. Karnath, 776 Terrace Lane, was driving in the inside lane.

Officer William King reported that the Urness car started to turn left onto Main Street crossing the inside traffic lane.

The Karnath car hit the rear of the Urness car. The Karnath car received more than $200 damage and the Urness car about $50 damage.

Urness was tagged for making an improper turn.

3 Dairy Meetings Slated at Alma

ALMA, Wis. — The first of a series of three dairy management meetings will be held at the old courthouse here Thursday at 1 p.m.

Discussed will be dairy production records. At the March 5 meeting farmers should bring hay or silage samples. Dairy cattle feeding will be discussed.

At the final meeting March 12 Dr. Burch will discuss dairy cattle diseases.

Progress on the Festival of Coins, a coin convention sponsored by the Winona Coin Club, will be discussed at the club's meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the VFW Club. The Festival of Coins will be held May 23-24 at Hotel Winona. About 25 coin dealers from the Midwest will have exhibits at the show.

Old Settler Officer

The name of H. M. Johnson inadvertently was omitted from the list of officers of the Winona County Old Settlers' Association, which appeared in the Sunday News. He was re-elected secretary and general chairman.

Cold Week Seen; In 20s Tuesday

A cold week, 5 to 12 degrees below normal for this time of the year, is predicted for Winona and vicinity.

The extended forecast indicates colder weather at the beginning of the five-day period, brief warming up near the middle of the week and then quite cold again until additional warming up for the weekend.

CONSIDERABLE cloudiness with scattered light snow is predicted for tonight with a low of zero to 12 above. Colder is the outlook for Tuesday with an afternoon high of 22-25. A little warmer weather is expected Wednesday and then colder again for the rest of the week.

River Open In Vicinity; Lake Solid

Although "scuffed over" with thin ice after a cold night, the Mississippi River in this vicinity generally is fairly clear of thick ice.

The stiff breeze and high temperatures of the past week broke up the ice fields above the dams and permitted the chunks of ice to pass through.

SUNDAY afternoon the main channel was open, although some chunk ice was gathering below the dams.

Unless unusually severe weather returns, no difficulty is expected when the first traffic begins early in March.

Lake Pepin ice is solid and cars still are crossing. It was reported today the ice was 21 inches thick in most places.

The river in front of the Winona levee has been open most of the winter as is true in all but the most severe weather.

Although Fountain City Bay was open Sunday, most sloughs and backwaters remain frozen. Lake Winona is frozen with no sign of a breakup.

ALTHOUGH March is the most common month for opening of the river, many February openings appear on the record of ice departures.

Last year the river was open on March 24 as also was the case in 1962. In 1961 the opening date was Feb. 12. Latest opening on record was April 9, 1899.

Driver Charged After Accident Near Driveway

A mother driving her three children and a neighbor to school this morning backed out of her driveway and into a policeman's car. The collision caused more than $150 damage. There were no injuries.

Mrs. Joseph Conway, 747 W. Broadway, was backing her 1961 car out of her driveway at 7:51 a.m. when she struck a car driven by Carol A. Allobell, 24, 1212 W. Howard St.

Miss Allobell, a policeman, was driving a 1960 model car east on Broadway. Her car received more than $100 damage to the right rear side, and the Conway car had more than $50 damage to the right rear.

Mrs. Conway was tagged for failing to yield the right of way. She is scheduled to appear in municipal court Tuesday morning.

City Court Collects $534 In Single Day

Sixteen drivers were fined or forfeited a total of $534 in municipal court this morning. All who appeared pleaded guilty.

Four others were in court to plead not guilty or on other matters.

Elden S. Dahl, 726 Gilmore Ave., paid $10 on a charge of not displaying his license plates. He was arrested by police Saturday at 3:20 p.m. at Main and King streets.

Mrs. Ruth H. Dorsch, 37, 173 Mankato Ave., paid $100 on a charge of drunken driving. She was arrested by police Friday at 5:39 p.m. west of Laird on 3rd Street. Her license plates and car registration were impounded.

WILLIAM F. Bedtko, 37, 475 W. Bellevue St., arrested by police Friday at 10:36 p.m. at 420 W. Sarnia St., was fined $100 for drunken driving and $50 for leaving the scene of an accident. His license plates and car registration were also impounded.

Paul Speltz, 47, Owatonna, Minn., forfeited $15 on a charge of driving without a valid license. He was arrested by the state Highway Patrol Feb. 2 at 9:50 p.m. on U.S. Highway 14-61 northbound in Winona.

Mitchell J. Knauf, 32, Utica, Minn., forfeited $10 on a charge of driving at night without car lights on. He was arrested by police on West Service Drive Sunday at 8:50 p.m.

Raymond J. Urness, 523 W. Mill St., forfeited $15 on a charge of making an improper turn from the right lane. He was arrested at West Broadway and Main Street Saturday at 6:10 p.m.

George E. Tropple, 34, 558 E. 3rd St., pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was fined $50. He was arrested by police Sunday at 6:55 p.m. at 263 Franklin St.

Esper N. Deep, 635 45th Ave., Goodview, was arrested Friday at 1:20 a.m. and charged with driving 42 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone. He was clocked from West 5th and Fairfax streets to the city limits. He forfeited $25.

LEONARD W. Crandall, Sparla, Wis., forfeited $15 on a charge of traveling over the center line. He was arrested by police Sunday at 2:15 a.m. while driving on Mankato Avenue.

Anton W. Falch, 1103 Gilmore Ave., forfeited $25 on a charge of disobeying a traffic signal and thus causing an accident. He was arrested Friday at 4:05 p.m. at Broadway and Huff Street.

Charles Deedrick, 18, 1161 W. 4th St., paid $15 on a charge of driving without car lights on at night. He was arrested Saturday at 7:40 p.m. on East Sarnia near the Mankato Avenue dike.

Neil Fredericksen, 19, 420 Main St., was arrested Sunday at 1:10 a.m. at 54th and Johnson streets and charged with making an improper start. He forfeited $15.

James E. Annis, 21, 175½ E. 3rd St., was arrested Saturday at 12:05 a.m. on Highway 43 near the Community Memorial Hospital by the state Highway Patrol. He was charged with driving after suspension of his license and with careless driving. He was fined $35 on the first charge and $30 on the second.

WILLIAM PICKART, 21, 527½ E. 4th St., was charged with driving 45 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone. He was arrested by the patrol Thursday at 11:10 p.m. at U.S. Highway 14 and Gilmore Avenue. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and his trial was set for March 10. He was making arrangements to pay the $25 bail.

Robert G. Thilmany, 43, 700½ E. Sanborn St., was granted permission to postpone making a plea on charges of drunken driving until March 5 when he can consult an attorney. He posted bail of $150. Thilmany was arrested Feb. 2 at 2:30 p.m. on 3rd and Kansas streets.

Donald J. Doerr, 20, Winona Rt. 1, pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving 42 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone. He was arrested on Gilmore Avenue Friday at 12:15 a.m. No specific trial date was set.

Richard Wayne, 22, 461 Wilshire St., asked Judge John McGill for another day to make restitution on an invalid check. He pleaded guilty Feb. 4 to a charge of writing a check with insufficient funds and was sentenced to 20 days in jail. The sentence was suspended upon condition he make restitution of the check in 20 days. The one-day extension was granted.

Home Entered On West Fourth

Mrs. Sherman Mitchell, 369 W. 4th St., reported to police today that someone entered her home while the family was gone Saturday. She reported that they left at 8 a.m. and returned at 7:49 p.m.

Entrance was gained through a window. As yet, police detectives have not determined the amount stolen nor the details of entry.

Two Youths, 18, Admit Gas Theft

Two 18-year-old boys pleaded guilty today in Goodview justice court to a charge of stealing gasoline.

Justice Lewis Albert fined each youth $100 and suspended $50 of the fine for six months. They each were given an alternative of 90 days in jail.

Frank Kunda Jr., 1028 E. Sanborn St., and David C. Malewicki, 1056 E. King St., were arrested Sunday by sheriff's deputies at 8:58 p.m. in East Burns Valley. They had four five-gallon tanks in their possession and had filled two of the tanks from a truck belonging to Fred Fakler, contractor. Sheriff George Ford said.

Fakler had registered several earlier complaints with the sheriff's office about the breakage of locks on the tanks in recent months. Sunday the sheriff had a car planted to watch the tanks.

A 15-year-old girl who accompanied the boys on Sunday's expedition is being referred to juvenile authorities.

Car Overturns, Seven Uninjured

A 1959 station wagon with seven young occupants skidded on an icy road Saturday night and flipped over into the ditch. The car received more than $400 damage. There were no injuries.

Gerald A. Turner, 19, driving a vehicle owned by his father, Gerald Turner, 666 W. Sarnia St., was driving down a slight incline a half mile west of Pleasant Valley School on the Wilson Town road when his car skidded off the bridge. It landed upside down in a dry run ditch. All seven passengers managed to climb out of the wreckage unhurt.

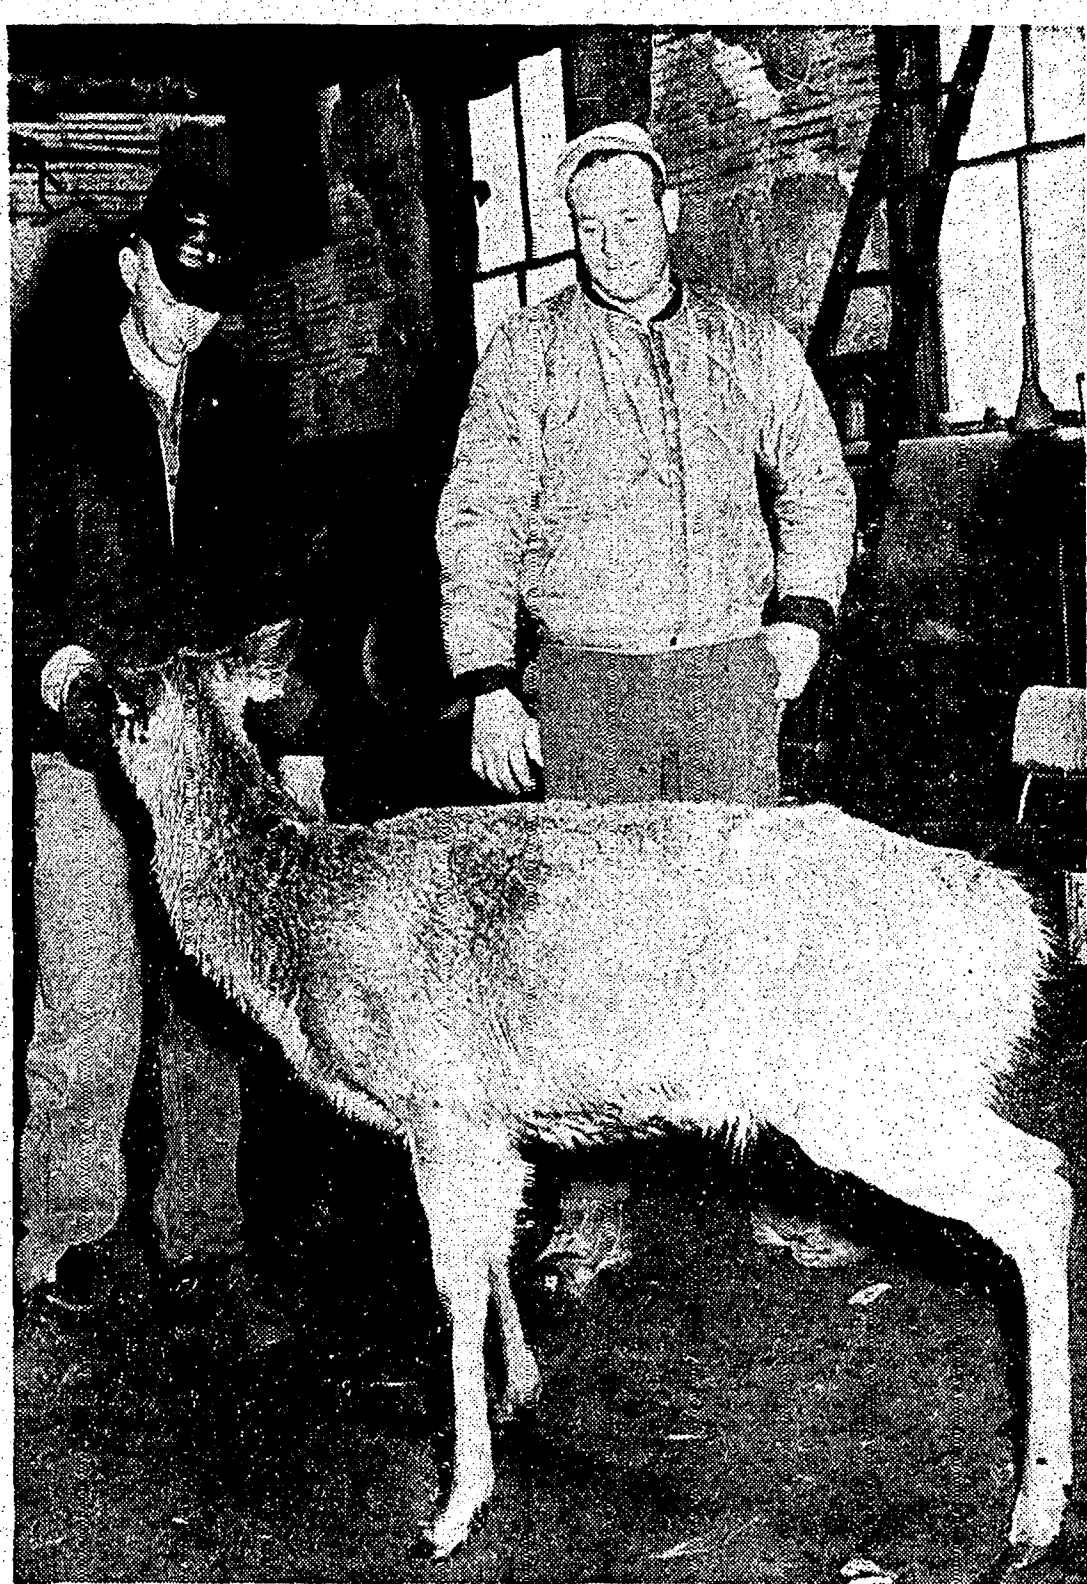

The sheriff's office investigated.

Terms of Three Taylor Officials Expire in April

TAYLOR, Wis. (Special) — The terms of three trustees in Taylor village will expire this spring. They are Lee Casper, Arthur Haraldrud and Deyo Relyea.

A caucus to nominate candidates for these offices will be held March 9 at 8 p.m. The election will be April 7.

Terms of other village officers won't expire until next year. They are: Chester Lund, president; Wesley Berg, Vernon Olson and Francis Gonia, trustees; Basil Osegard, clerk; Morris Casper, treasurer, and Sam Lippert, assessor.

OUT OF THE DEPTHS . . . A shivering doe warms up in a Dakota service station garage after being fished out of the icy Mississippi River. With her, left to right, are two of her rescuers, Gary Trynowski and Roland Wilson, both of Dakota. These two, along with Elmer Trocinski, Dakota, pushed a boat out to the open water in the main channel where the deer was swimming, hauled the animal into the boat and brought it to the garage. It took them about half an hour, Wilson said. Roy Swett, proprietor of the service station, was one of the first persons who first noticed the deer in the water. Only the animal's head was visible. Swett related, and at first he thought it was a crow. Looking through field glasses, he saw that it was a deer. He then notified Trocinski. (Daily News photo)

College Board OKs Ban on Poor Students

ST. PAUL (AP) — The state College Board today approved a plan for Moorhead State College to accept only those students who meet certain academic requirements.

The plan was submitted by Dr. John Neumaier, college president. The plan goes into effect next fall.

Under the new policy, admission would be denied to a student who ranked below the 38 percentile of his high school graduating class or who had a composite score of under 16 on the American College Test Battery.

Objecting to the plan was Herbert E. Olson of Bemidji, a board member. He contended there should be a legal opinion by the attorney general on the matter of denying a student admission to a public institution.

At an earlier meeting, the college board approved a similar plan for St. Cloud State College. That plan, however, deferred rather than rejected students not meeting specific standards.

Dr. Neumaier said that had the plan been in effect the past year, 12½ per cent of the applicants would have been denied admission at Moorhead.

If a person rejected were later accepted on an appeal, he would be granted a one quarter trial probation period. However, he would have to carry a normal program of at least 12 credits and earn a certain minimum grade point average.

The plan also provides that transfer students must have a C average or better in all college work completed at other accredited institutions to be admitted.

The plan also provides that freshmen and transfer applications will not be accepted for full quarter after Aug. 14, 1964. For the winter quarter of 1965, the deadline is Dec. 11, 1964 and for the 1965 spring quarter the last date for admission is March 1.

Dr. Neumaier said a recent study at Moorhead College showed that only 55 per cent of students who were admitted without the selective policy were still enrolled one year later.

The board also approved summer sessions by the five colleges at St. Cloud, Winona, Bemidji, Mankato and Moorhead subject to approval by the executive director.

Hit-Run Charged After Collision

One driver was tagged for leaving the scene of an accident after he hit a parked car on Franklin Street near Broadway Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

George E. Tropple, 558 E. 3rd St., was driving south on Franklin street in the west traffic lane. He told police later he backed into a parked car owned by Dominic A. Walski, 263 Franklin St.

The front end of the Walski car received more than $100 damage and the rear of the Tropple car more than $50 damage.

Police tagged Tropple for leaving the scene of the accident without identifying himself.

Two girls driving behind Tropple saw the accident, took down the license number and gave it to Walski who telephoned police. It took police officers five minutes to locate the car.

ECONOMY AREA SNEAKED IN

When a prisoner was released from the Minnesota Penitentiary after 31 years behind the walls, his first comment was: "Hey look at the cars; they look like they were made for middle-aged." His last look was in 1932, when cars had 30-inch wheels and room inside for a top hat.

Cash Reward Offered in Island Fire

A $50 cash reward was offered today for information leading to the arrest of whoever caused the fire that roared over Prairie Island north of the Madison Silo Co. Saturday evening.

Fire Chief John L. Steadman guessed today that the fire probably was started by youngsters.

Frank Breza, 700 W. 5th St., who has been active in the Izaak Walton League more than five years offered the reward. He purchased 100 pheasants which he released into the marsh before hunting season. He believes the fire may have wiped out the brood stock in the area and destroyed all protective covering needed for nesting next spring. He's offering the reward.

The fire department received the first report of the fire at 6:12 p.m. Saturday.

About 200 automobiles lined the Prairie Island road as the flames leaped 100 feet into the darkness fanned by 20-mile-an-hour winds.

The first tank truck sent to the blaze was reinforced by a truck from the West End station at 7:12 p.m. By 9:30 the firemen considered the fire well under control. Most of the land is owned by the city and the fire department kept the blaze from reaching the Madison Silo plant.

About 40 acres—mostly tall weeds—were burned.

2,716 of 6,344 At State Mental Hospitals Work

ST. PAUL (AP)—A study by the State Public Welfare Department at four institutions for the mentally retarded shows that, of 6,344 patients, 2,716 are assigned to jobs. Commissioner Morris Hursh said over the weekend.

If they were replaced by employees, his report said, it would require $24 new positions at an annual cost of $2.4 million.

"Modern treatment and training programs in these institutions," Hursh said, "have increased the expectancy that many mentally retarded persons will be returned to normal lives in their communities and homes."

The study, started in September 1962, shows that more than 40 per cent of all patients residing in institutions are assigned to some type of organized productive work.

At the Brainerd State School and Hospital, 370 patients do 37 per cent of all the work. It would take about 130 new positions to replace the work patients there at a minimum cost of $379,140 a year, the report said.

At the Cambridge State School and Hospital, 763 patients are doing 27 per cent of all the work; at Faribault, 1,432 patients do 43 per cent of the work, and at the Owatonna State School, 151 students do 18 per cent.

Passenger Hurt In 2-Car Crash

One passenger was injured and more than $400 damage resulted when two out-of-town drivers' cars collided at East 4th and Market streets Sunday afternoon.

Earl A. Vining, Wheatland, N.D., told police he was driving his 1958 car east on 4th street at 2:45 p.m. He said a 1962 model car, driven by Dale N. Schossow, 19, Dakota Rt. 1, Minn., came north on Market and into the intersection.

Both drivers said vision was partially blocked by a building on the southwest corner.

Mrs. Vining was injured when the car owned by Schossow's father, Norman Schossow, struck their right side. The Vining car received more than $200 damage to the right side, and the Schossow car more than $200 damage to the front.

Mrs. Vining, 56, was taken to Community Memorial Hospital where she is reported in good condition today. She received injuries to the right side of her body, but there were no fractures, according to her physician.

'64 Big Year For Sue Oliver

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—It's only fair that I notify you that Susan Oliver, the girl who got a man away from Liz Taylor—the man was Eddie Fisher and it was in "Butterfield 8"—becomes a great big star in 1964.

"Honey"—a prominent Hollywood astrologer told her—"This is going to be a year of major emergence for you." Then the astrologer kissed her.

Which was all right, as the astrologer was one of the tops in America, and her mother, Ruth Hale Oliver.

Susan often says "Phooey, mother, on your astrology," but she told me when she was here doing a TV role for "The Defenders" that she couldn't say phooey to that. Further, the stars forecast marriage, but her mother told her "Please don't tell anybody about that."

"It put me off if they think you know all about them and what's going to happen. They run like thieves."

Susan's major emergence may be in the Joe Pasternak picture with Connie Francis, "Looking for Love," due out in June.

SO REMEMBER you heard it here that Susan's going to be a blockbuster. And gee, if she took Eddie Fisher away from Liz maybe she could take Richard Burton away from her and... WOW...

"Don't give me assignments," Susan told me, when I mentioned that.

"That was a very happy time doing 'Butterfield 8'—after the actors' strike," she remembered.

"THEY USED to tease me because I was the only one in the cast and company who wasn't Jewish. Elizabeth Taylor was practicing saying 'Lachaim' and Eddie would be singing, 'Oh Mein Papa.' The cameramen and the director discussed the script in Jewish. Finally I went to my new dealer and asked him to teach me a popular Jewish folk term translated 'Oh, go bake bagels.' When I said that, they threw their arms around me and shouted, 'Susalah!'"

For old time's sake, Susalah won't take Burton away from Elizabeth... and that's definite and final.

Good Deed Catches Wichita Falls Man

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—A good deed performed last year has caught up with C. C. Green of Wichita Falls.

When Green found a wallet containing $1,100 in Brownwood, Tex., he handed it over to police for return to the owner.

In turn he received a telephone call from Wichita Falls police headquarters Saturday. Somebody had found Green's wallet and turned it in.

Green didn't even know he'd lost it. It contained $430.

They'll Do It Every Time

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Some Annuals For Starting Indoors

IN a previous article directed primarily to those gardeners who have never started seeds indoors, we gave some suggestions for doing this. Now, suppose we take up some of the annual flowers that the novice can easily start indoors, with little chance of failure.

First, let us answer the question, "What is an annual?" An annual is a plant produced from seed that grows, blooms, produces seeds to perpetuate its kind and dies, all in one season. In growing them the gardener has the pleasure of observing a complete life-cycle in one season.

The petunia is perhaps the most popular of all annuals. It will do well in most any type of soil under varying conditions, but should have well-enriched, porous soil, if possible. Planting in full sun is advisable, but they will do well in partial shade.

As is the case with most annuals, the hybridizers have done some very wonderful work and the new first-generation hybrids are a great improvement over the older varieties. These new hybrids are produced under heavy expense as they must be pollinated by hand each year, since they will not come true from seed the second year. As a result they cost more and the novice should remember this in buying seed. The same is true of first-generation hybrids of other annual flowers, as well as vegetables.

PETUNIAS COME in a good variety of colors, types and sizes. The dwarf kinds form low rounded plants while the large flowered bedding petunias grow up to 18 inches in height. The flowers may be plain, single, ruffled, fringed and fully double. It should be emphasized that petunias are a little harder to grow from seed than is the case with some other annuals. In view of this, the novice should perhaps start with the seeds of the smaller flowered petunias rather than the large-flowered ruffled and double kinds.

Next, let us take a look at the zinnia which has been rated next to the petunia as the second most popular annual flower. It has graduated from the class of a common flower to that of an aristocrat that is worthy to grace any garden, all due to the great work of the hybridizers. There is no standard classification for zinnias and perhaps the best way for a novice to select the kinds desired is on the basis of height.

THE TALLEST ones will grow up to three feet in height and the size of the flowers will be in relation to the size of the plants. Some of the taller kinds will have blooms up to six inches across. Then, there are the little dwarf forms that grow only about one foot in height with small pom-pom-like flowers about one inch across.

In form of the flowers, we find some with ruffled, curled, or quilled petals, as well as the dahlia types. In view of this great improvement, zinnias are becoming increasingly popular as cut flowers for indoor bouquets and arrangements.

The marigold has been ranked next to the petunia and zinnia in popularity as a garden flower. This is understandable in view of the remarkable im-

NICE WORK IF YOU CAN GET IT... Robert Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Stephens, Rushford, Minn., has the "task" of directing the music for this chorus line in "Fiorello" at Carleton College Northfield, Minn., this weekend. Mr. Stephens, a graduate of Rushford High School, is pictured with the show's choreographer as they put the opera into final rehearsal.

OUT-OF-TOWN COLLEGES

Two Area Students In Cast for Play

Two area students will appear in the play, "The Madwoman of Chaillot," next weekend at the Southern School of Agriculture, Waseca, Minn.

Steven Ellinghuysen, son of Alvin Ellinghuysen, rural Winona, and Richard Beyer, son of Wesley Beyer, UTICA, Minn., will appear in the play Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. The senior class play is a two-act comedy by Jean Giraudoux which involves four eccentric countesses and their struggle to rid the world of evil.

CAROL LEE WIGGINS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wiggins, 477 Hiawatha Blvd., is on the first semester dean's list at La Crosse State College. Miss Wiggins is a senior majoring in Spanish and English.

Another Winona girl has been named to the dean's list at her college. BONNIE BOLL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boll, 1074 W. Mark St., was named to the dean's first semester honor roll at Augsburg College, Minneapolis. Miss Boll is a junior at the college studying to be a medical technologist.

HELEN STOA, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stoa, 305 Winona St., is one of 37 students chosen for Northwestern University's Wildcat Council.

More than 400 students applied and were interviewed for this university service and public relations organization. Miss Stoa is a freshman at Northwestern.

The Wildcat Council sponsors two main activities each year: a day at Northwestern for prospective students and New Student Week.

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—Helen Hoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Hoff, rural Blair, will give a recital at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa Friday at 4:30 p.m.

Miss Hoff, a junior, will be playing in a series of solo recitals given by the music education majors at Luther.

She is a member of the orchestra and concert band. Miss Hoff plays the bassoon.

MONDOVI, Wis. (Special)—Mary Erickson, a senior at Mondovi High School, played with the Wisconsin State College symphony orchestra at Eau Claire Sunday afternoon. She was part of the ninth annual Young People's concert at Schiefel auditorium.

Miss Erickson won the advanced wind section of the annual Young Artists' contest Jan. 11 at the college. Sunday she played the first movement of the Clarinet Concerto No. 1 by Karl Maria von Weber.

The 17-year-old girl is a pupil of Robert Bauer, Mondovi High School band instructor and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newell Erickson Sr.

WHITEHALL, Wis. — Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ellison are both on the dean's list at La Crosse State College for the first semester. They maintained a B average or better and are two of the 226 women and 149 men who earned this honor.

GALESVILLE, Wis. — Arlen Anderson

Barge Traffic Growing

Low Cost Transportation Is Important to Industry

(Editor's Note: The following is another in a series of stories of statewide interest written by Albert Marshall, former editor-publisher of the Red Wing Daily Republican-Eagle.)

By ALBERT MARSHALL

Barge traffic on the Mississippi river, a vital factor in the economy of southern Minnesota, is growing bigger every year as the value of low cost transportation provided by this waterway becomes of increasing importance to industry.

The 1963 tonnage moved by barge on the upper Mississippi was the highest in the history of the nine foot channel, and the 1964 shipping season is expected to show another sizable gain.

L. A. Hauser, Jr., chief of operations of the St. Paul Army Engineers district, sees major traffic increases with the construction of more terminals in Minneapolis and on the Minnesota at and near Savage.

Locks bypassing St. Anthony Falls were put in operation late in the 1963 season and navigation has consequently been extended into the heart of the Minneapolis business district.

WABASHA, Minn. — Two Wabasha women have been named to the dean's list at Viterbo College, La Crosse, Wis.

Kathryn Rivers, sophomore, and Carol McNellan, freshmen, are both graduates of St. Felix High School. Both girls are majoring in medical technology.

Terry O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. George O'Brien, has been named to the dean's list at St. Thomas College, St. Paul. He is majoring in economics and minoring in mathematics.

RUSHFORD DFL

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special)—The Rushford City DFL caucus will be held in the REA basement March 3, and the Rushford Village caucus in the town hall the same date. Both meetings are scheduled between 8-9 p.m.

LEGION AT ARCADIA

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—The Tickler-Erickson American Legion Post will meet Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

Over forty-one percent of the upbound tonnage was unloaded at seventeen coal docks in the area. Fuel oil, gasoline, and other petroleum derivatives handled at twenty installations equipped for this operation accounted for twenty-nine percent of the total.

The balance of the tonnage moving upstream consisted of sand and gravel, fertilizers and phosphates, molasses, asphalt, and a few other bulk commodities of lesser importance. Some 2,175,274 tons of these items were unloaded during the 1963 season.

TRAFFIC BOUND down the river showed an even greater increase over past years, in 1963. Altogether 2,897,934 tons were loaded on barges — a 74 percent increase over 1962. And, incidentally, a volume twenty-one times greater than that shipped in 1950.

As in the past years, grain shipments made up most of this traffic. Twelve grain elevators on the upper Mississippi accounted for 91 percent of the total downbound tonnage.

Two aspects of the gradual evolution marking the increase in waterborne freight are encouraging to those who view progress on the Mississippi waterway with keen relish.

For one thing, the Mississippi is fast becoming a real rival to the Great Lakes as Minnesota's major commercial highway to the outside world.

LAST YEAR, it should be noted, coal receipts at river ports totaled 2,866,272 tons, a tonnage within four percentage points of the 2,981,305 tons unloaded in the Duluth harbor. In 1960, river coal receipts were only two-thirds of lake port receipts.

Similarly, grain shipments on the Mississippi last year were roughly 56 percent of lake port shipments. In 1960, grain tonnage moving on the river was less than a third of that shipped from elevators at the lake head.

Another favorable aspect is the trend towards a more even balance between upbound and downbound river traffic, which should affect barge operating economies in the long run. For the towing of empty barges can

The Draft: Necessity or Waste?

EVERY DAY this year, more than 1,000 young Americans will receive a copy of a classic letter that begins "Greetings..." High rejection rates and last minute enlistments will cut the number, but from each group of 1,000 an average of 275 will be drafted into the Army under the nation's universal military training and service act.

Actually, the term universal military training is misleading. Strictly speaking, there is almost nothing universal about the draft except the requirement that all men register with the selective service when they become 18.

Universal military training is becoming steadily less universal as the nation's military manpower need remains constant at about 2.7 million, while the pool of draft age men grows.

DEFENSE AUTHORITIES readily admit that it is not so much a program for conscription as it is one for spurring them to enlist because they feel they will be drafted anyway. By enlisting, men become qualified for better, but longer, assignments.

The draft liable age runs from 18½ to 26 and the liability is for two years of service.

Most of today's draftees are between 22 and 23. This age level is the result of a selection system that spurs high school graduates to enlist, pulls eligibles from the top of the below 26 list and gives liberal deferments to college students, married men and men in certain "critical" occupations connected with defense.

About 550,000 men a year leave the armed service, some 80 to 85 percent of them volunteers. The remaining 90,000 to 100,000 men are draftees for the Army, the only service unable to fill its needs with enlistees.

THE NATION'S pool of draft age men is growing. Between now and 1970, the number of 18 year olds entering this pool each year will average about 1.7 million, some 36 percent more than for the 1957-64 period.

Military manpower need is expected to stay about level. It follows, quite naturally, that a smaller percentage of eligible men will be called.

What is likely to happen? From past experience, it seems probable that the size of the pool of eligible men will be reduced by allowing the more liberal deferments.

This is what happened last fall when President Kennedy exempted married men. Before the order, about three of every 10 draftees were married. By exempting them, the manpower pool, in effect, was reduced almost a third and brought again near balance with demand.

IT WOULD seem worthwhile to keep in mind that the percentage of men eventually serving is steadily falling. In 1959, for example, 7 of every 10 men 26 years old or more had served or were then serving in the armed forces. That ratio has fallen to 6 of 10—and it is still falling.

Defense authorities are firmly in favor of the conscription program. They say that United States military manpower would have to be cut one-third if it were abandoned. They point to Defense Department studies which show that four of every 10 volunteers now enlist with the fear of being drafted in their minds.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the selective service, also contends that the draft channels men into the "critical" defense fields, which must be filled.

OPPOSERS OF the draft want 100 percent volunteer service branches and say this can be achieved if pay scales and fringe benefits are raised sufficiently. And if certain "housekeeping" tasks, now done by servicemen are taken over by civilians. Only 20 percent of men in uniform see action in time of war, they say.

The entire system of conscription is costly and wasteful, its opponents charge. They say that draftees are forced into uniform against their will, are trained for two years at great cost and then, just as they become really useful, they are released.

They view the entire system of deferments as discriminatory.

Instances are recalled in which lives and jobs were interrupted unnecessarily, it is said — by draft notices and incidents cited in which jobs were never obtained because the draft obligation remained — and with it the law that draftees may reclaim their old jobs after discharge. Employers shy away from hiring men with unfulfilled military obligations, draft opponents argue.

ONE OF the disturbing things in the draft situation is the number of young men found unfit. If every American male who turns 18 today were examined for induction into the armed forces this afternoon, one of every three would be rejected — about half for medical reasons and the rest for mental or educational shortcomings.

After studying a report of these facts, President Johnson ordered a counseling program set up for the voluntary rehabilitation of all men who fail the tests for entering armed services.

Current estimates are that slightly less than a third of the rejectees offered counseling and aid in the coming year will accept. It is likely that a more than proportionate number of these will be nonwhites. The task force, studying the situation found evidence that this group appears more anxious to better its lot than the white men rejected.

IT SHOULD be noted, however, that rejection rates reflect more than the mere mental and physical health of the nation's youth. They also reflect the requirements of today's defense establishment — in which there are now more electronic specialists than infantrymen.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Pressure on Johnson Up

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Like patience on a monument President Johnson is trying to hold his nonpolitical posture. For a naturally impatient man this is not easy and in the pulling and hauling over his California trip he discovered how difficult a role it is.

When it became known Johnson would go to Los Angeles to meet President Lopez Mateos of Mexico, where both would receive honorary degrees from the University of California, immediate pressure was exerted on the White House to put a political stop on the schedule. The California Democratic Council, made up of California's Democratic clubs, would be holding a statewide convention that same weekend in Long Beach.

That is 15 minutes away by helicopter from the Sports Arena where President Johnson would be the guest of President Lopez Mateos at a Mexican fiesta. What could be simpler than to put in an appearance when the Mexican-American amity talks ended?

The steadfast answer from the White House has been no. That would give a political look to what was meant to be a high-level exchange between the heads of state of the two neighboring nations.

WHAT IS MORE, as the Johnson advisers were fully aware, the CDC is oriented around a left-of-center leadership that has often alarmed conservatives in the party. Pragmatic organization types such as Jesse Unruh look with a jaundiced eye on the clubs.

On their part, the CDC leaders are suspicious of the President's close California ally, Edwin W. Pauley. A wealthy independent oil operator, Pauley has given the President devoted loyalty over the years of the emerging Johnson career. Twenty-four hours after the assassination of President Kennedy he was in the White House to be at the side of his good friend in his time of trial.

Pauley is credited with being the prime mover in initiating the honorary degree for the President at the UCLA ceremony. He has been a regent of the university since 1959 and while he is no longer chairman he let it be known that he should have the privilege of personally presenting the degree to President Johnson. This would have put him beside the President with the flashlight bulbs popping.

ACCORDING TO CDC sources, Pauley's insistence touched off a heated exchange within the Board of Regents. The President of the University with all its many branches is Clark Kerr, a distinguished educator. He told the board that if this traditional function of presenting degrees were not observed then he saw no reason to be present at the Johnson-Lopez Mateos ceremony. In the end the board took a vote and Kerr was upheld.

Pauley is no stranger to controversy. In 1946 President Truman nominated him under secretary of the Navy. He had served as Democratic national treasurer and had strongly opposed the position of Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes who favored federal ownership and control of the vast tidelands oil wealth. Texas and California stood to gain most from successful prosecution of the states' claim to this great wealth.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Background of Pair Fighting for World Title

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Regardless of the strength, speed, and stamina of the two giant Negroes who battle it out tomorrow for the heavyweight championship of the world, Charles "Sonny" Liston and Cassius Clay present an interesting contrast.

The first is the son of an Arkansas cotton picker who sired 25 children. He can not read or write and, after the family moved to St. Louis, went the way or so many products of the city streets—to a reformatory and jail. The second is the son of a respected Louisville Negro family, reasonably well educated by a strict, God-fearing mother, and named for his thrice-great grandfather, a slave, who in turn was named for Lincoln's minister to Russia, Cassius Marcellus Clay.

Liston is a man of few words, looks morose as if nursing a grudge against the world. Clay bubbles with verbiage. "I'm gonna drive down Walnut Street in a Caddy on Derby Day," Clay said last year. "Pretty girls'll be there, I'm cool, man. I'm wanting to know them worse than they want to know me — only they don't know it. But next Derby Day I'll be the heavyweight boxing champion of the world!"

Said facetious Sonny Liston during a drive around Washington last year: "I wouldn't want to live in the White House — too far to carry your garbage to the street." Again, passing the Senate: "That's the Seagram building. Everyone who goes in there takes the Fifth."

CASSIUS CLAY has had the paternal backing of 11 Louisville men, ranging from Worth Bingham of the Louisville Courier-Journal, to William Faversham, Jr., son of the famed actor, to W. L. Lyons, distiller of Jack Daniel and Old Forester Bourbon.

Sonny Liston originally had the backing of underworld leaders. As a result, he was investigated by the late Sen. Estes Kefauver and warned to clean himself up. Three years ago, Ray Cole, investigator for the Kefauver committee, told Liston: "You see that brief case over there? It's all bad." But last month he had probed Liston's current connections and found them clean.

And on April 11 last year, after I had taken Sonny to call on Sen. Kefauver, the late senator wrote me: "I was glad to see Sonny Liston. I think he has improved a great deal. I saw the other day that he'd gone out to the penitentiary where he had served in the early 50's and sat down with some of the inmates and had a talk with them. I thought that was very good."

COMING FROM different backgrounds, with different educations and different backers, it is understandable that Clay and Liston should have different interests. But it is unusual that one should take up the cult of the Black Muslims, the other the Big Brothers and the problems of juvenile delinquency.

"I was born a Muslim, I'm told," Clay recently informed Dave Brady of the Washington Post. "My race is descended from the people of Egypt . . . Africa . . . Whose religion has always made them Muslims. The Masons . . . the Shriners imitate the dress of the Muslims. The Muslims don't believe in drinking, smoking, taking dope, committing crimes. They teach you to be clean."

"Chubby Checkers and Sammy Davis married white women," Clay continued. "The Muslims don't believe in intermarriage of the races. The white people don't like it either. There's some terrible things going on in this country. A lot of them are happening to the Negro . . . you don't know what the Negro in America is thinking about, and that's why a lot of you are scared. Liston mixes, and I get criticised for associating with my own kind. And that's all right with me."

ASKED WHETHER President Lincoln and President Kennedy were wrong in trying to bring the two races together, Clay replied: "They were both shot, weren't they?"

Clay's secretary is named "N." Clay has attended Black Muslim meetings in New York, is reported planning to give part of his proceeds from the fight tomorrow to the Muslims.

Liston is giving half of his TV take from the Washington area to Big Brothers.

Churches, Too, Know Politics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Churchmen are not supposed to be politicians or lobbyists, but a recent meeting described as "the first national study conference on church and state" produced some findings which show that churchmen at least know their way around in the political world and also in the phrasing of statements to publicize their objectives. Like the politicians who write sentences that often can be interpreted two ways, the churchmen have steered clear of antagonism to any group with which they differ.

There is more than meets the eye, however, in the carefully worded statements, known as the "general findings," of a group of 400 churchmen — delegated to represent 24 "Protestant and orthodox communions" throughout the country—which met recently under the auspices of the National Council of Churches. The "general findings" said in part:

"While the functions of church and state are distinct, they often overlap. At times they lead in separate directions and at other times they clash. In this country there has been both separation and interaction, harmony and tension. The nation which adopted the first amendment at the same time considered itself both Christian and Protestant and saw no contradiction in passing laws which required Sunday observance, prayer and bible reading in the public schools. Its actions attested to historical interaction as well as to separation of church and state."

But the conference dismissed this early attitude as no longer valid because, due in part to the "enrichment of immigration, a predominantly Protestant society developed into a pluralistic society." In other words, the churchmen took the point of view that times have changed and that constitutional principles now must be interpreted differently.

THE "FINDINGS" of the conference are specific in their approval or disapproval of certain points which have recently been the subject of wide discussion. The conference agreed, for instance, on the following proposition:

"Acceptance and support of supreme court decisions insofar as they prohibit officially prescribed prayers and required devotional reading of the Bible in public schools."

But in the summary of the reports of the 32 special study groups at the conference, issued through the national council, one excerpt said:

"Referring to religious observances of religious festivals, the group stated they had become so much part of American culture that the public schools cannot ignore them."

Yet in the "general findings" this statement appears:

"STILL LESS can we or should we attempt to turn the clock backward by an effort to give constitutional sanction to theirs."

The conference as a whole recommended further study of the following:

- "1. The role of the state in promoting programs affected with a religious interest.
- "2. The ways in which the state exercises its responsibility to advance religious liberty.
- "3. Whether and under what conditions the church may legitimately accept public monies in church related programs on health and welfare.
- "4. Whether and under what conditions the church may legitimately accept public monies in church related programs in elementary, secondary and higher education."

IN THE MATTER of defining the proper authority of the government in relation to church, the "findings" are very significant—as, for instance, the following statement:

"Government exceeds its proper authority if it shows hostility or even indifference to religion. It may appropriately recognize in its public practice and in its publicly supported educational programs the role of religion in American history and life."

In the realm of parochial elementary and secondary schools the report reaffirms positions previously held, but these take on new importance because of the controversy in Congress on federal aid to education. The report said:

"Since parochial elementary and secondary schools are maintained by churches so that 'religion permeates the entire atmosphere' of the school, government funds should not be authorized or appropriated for over-all support of such schools as distinguished from aid in support of specific health and welfare programs conducted by such institutions to meet particular public needs. While we acknowledge the right of parental choice of schools, we do not admit that a choice by parents of parochial or private schools imposes on the state any obligation to support such choice through the granting of public funds in over-all support of such schools. In recognition of the seriousness of the financial problem of the parochial schools, we propose shared time as the most creative measure for solving this problem and are willing to explore other legal methods for solving it."

THE REPORT does not answer the question often raised as to why government financial aid to church-related institutions of higher education is thought to be constitutional and legal, while federal funds for elementary and secondary parochial schools are considered unconstitutional by the same churchmen.

Obviously, the whole subject is in a state of evolution, and church groups are taking more and more part in public affairs and in politics. Whether such a course reflects the viewpoint of individual citizens who are members of these churches or whether they feel their representatives have gone too far is something that remains yet to be clearly determined.

Earle W. Toye
Succumbs at 73

Earle W. Toye

Earle W. Toye, 73, 933 W. Mark St., died this morning at his home after an illness of several years.

He was in the plumbing and heating business here about 44 years, retiring in 1953. His father, Michael, had founded the business, now known as the Toye Plumbing and Heating Supply Co., in 1868. It was the first plumbing and heating business west of the Mississippi River and north of St. Louis, Mo.

The business now is operated by a son, Robert.

Mr. Toye, a veteran of World War I, was a post commander of Leon J. Wetzel Post 9, American Legion, and had been a member of the selective service board for Winona County. He also was a member of the Elks; Winona Lodge 18, AF & AM, its York Rite and the Osman Temple of the Shrine, and of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

He was born here Sept. 6, 1890, to Michael and Ella Toye and was a lifelong resident.

Survivors are: His wife, Hannah; a son, Robert, Winona, and five grandchildren. A brother has died.

Fawcett Funeral Home is completing arrangements.

'Clean Sweep
For Nelson' at Fond du Lac

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The selection of national Democratic convention delegate candidates at the 10th District caucus Sunday was described by one spokesman as "a clean sweep for the Nelson faction of the party."

The caucus, at Ladysmith, was the last of the meetings held in each of the state's 10 congressional districts. The selection of delegate candidates has developed in a test of strength between the disputing Democratic factions.

The line-up has United States Sen. Gaylord Nelson and state party chairman J. Louis Hanson on one side and Gov. John W. Reynolds and national committee man Patrick Lucey on the other.

An unofficial tally of the caucus convention delegate candidate choices indicated a narrow triumph for the Nelson-Hanson forces. Nelson's backers claim delegate candidates representing 15 1/2 votes, or one more than

Congress Set
For Final OK
Of Tax Cuts

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress plans to send to President Johnson the $11.5-billion tax cut bill this week before the opening round of the Senate's civil rights battle gets under way.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana intercepted the House-passed 11-point rights measure when it arrived at the Senate last Monday to prevent it from being sent to the Judiciary Committee—long a graveyard for civil rights proposals.

As soon as Mansfield moves to bring the bill up for consideration, probably late this week, Southern opponents are expected to start their filibuster.

Before that, Senate Democratic leaders hope to bring up a cotton-wheat bill, which some Republicans blocked from debate Friday.

Quick approval is expected in both houses of the compromise tax bill, agreed on Wednesday by Senate-House conferees.

The timetable calls for House action on the compromise Tuesday, with the Senate poised to consider it the following day. The reductions, largest in history, will be reflected in more take-home pay starting in mid-March for taxpayers subject to withholding, from wages and salaries.

Otherwise, the floor programs for the week include House consideration of some relatively minor measures and a bill dealing with the length and frequency of broadcast commercials.

Reynolds and Lucey attended the 10th District meeting, arriving about 45 minutes after the caucus began. In a move to ease the party rift, Hanson makes his home in the 10th District, urged Democrats in the 17 counties making up the district to "help put Gov. Reynolds back in the east wing of the Capitol building in Madison."

Selected as delegate candidates were Elizabeth Hawks, a Washburn attorney; Karl Anderson, a political science instructor at Eau Claire State College; William McDonough, a Superior labor attorney, and Martin Hanson of Mellen, the chairman of the caucus.

Rep. Lester Johnson, D-Wis., whose 9th District was eliminated in a reapportionment plan approved last year, indicated in a telegram read at the caucus that he would be a candidate for re-election, opposing one of two Republicans—Alvin O'Konski, the 10th District incumbent, or Vernon W. Thomson, 3rd District incumbent.

$197,400 ON CONSTRUCTION

Buffalo Co. Spends
$982,437 on Roads

ALMA, Wis. (Special)—Expenditures of the Buffalo County highway department last year totaled $982,437, according to the annual report received by the County Board of Supervisors last week.

Largest expenditures were $197,400 for road construction; $168,218 for county trunk maintenance; $141,134, operation of equipment; $70,000, retirement of construction bonds; $106,384, purchase of materials and equipment; $69,492, machinery and equipment; and $51,694, advances refunded for roads and bridges.

SNOW REMOVAL cost $53,232; county aid bridge construction, $20,789; county bridge construction, $14,810, and administration, $20,090.

Interest on bonds was $2,187, and there were small amounts for federal aid secondary construction and uncollectable bills; they totaled only $95.

Funds available in the department Dec. 31, 1963, were $238,882. Funds available a year previous were $210,023.

Revenues during the year totaled $1,011,296. They included $198,023 in general property taxes; $246,058, revenue from the state, including the basic allotment of $49,561, supplemental aid of $124,121, bond redemption, $70,000, and records and reports; $235,006, revenue from machinery, and from incidental labor, miscellaneous, advances from districts and $108,672 in sale and transfer of materials and supplies.

ACCOUNTS receivable Dec. 31 were $924 from townships; $1,051 from villages and cities, and $6,051 from individuals and concerns.

County appropriations for this year total $280,978. This includes $164,782 for road construction; $21,614, county bridges; $9,716, county aid bridges; $16,500, administration; $10,000, maintenance; $55,000, snow removal; $1,312, interest on bonds, and $2,053 toward federal aid secondary roads.

County aid bridge appropriations are for the Yenny and Wittig bridges in Canton; Steink and Klop culverts in Dover; Weltzien bridge in Glencoe; Balk and Langeneger in Lincoln; Brunner in Maxville; Brommer in Modena; Wood and Brovold in Naples, and Ole's bridge in Waumandee.

County aid road construction appropriations are for the following county trunks: F in Alma Township; M in Buffalo; V, J, and JJ in Canton; D and NN in Gilmanston; C in Glencoe; EE and XX in Lincoln; V in Maxville; AFE in Modena; A and HH in Mondovi; X and AFE in Montana; HH in Naples; I, AA and KK in Nelson, and U and E in Waumandee.

THE BOOK value of buildings and attached fixtures is $45,680. They include old highway shops at Alma and Mondovi and new highway shops at these places; highway shops at Fountain City and Modena; a highway garage at Urne, and a salt storage shed.

The book value of machinery and equipment inventory Dec. 31 was $303,054, and material and supplies, $63,582.

so eager to get at him that one woman broke her leg in the crush.

Although Johnson has always shared the politician's hand-shaking proclivities, never before did he go at it with such enthusiasm.

At Los Angeles International Airport, after saying farewell to Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, Johnson was so anxious to personally greet onlookers that he was undeterred by the fact that they were kept behind a wire fence seven feet high.

Climbing over a rope barrier, Johnson made a beeline for the fenced-in spectators and began touching fingers through the wire mesh. When some members of the crowd stretched their hands over the top of the fence, the President reached to grab them—even though strands of barbed wire atop the fence presented a hazard.

Gay Spring Colors Spark Soroptimists Bonnet Party

By JEAN HAGEN
Daily News Women's Editor

Although spring wasn't outside the big glass windows at Richards Hall on the campus of Winona State College late Sunday afternoon, it bloomed within.

The Soroptimists Club's fifth annual Bonnet Boutique created a bower of colorful spring blossoms for the crowd of about 180 women who attended. Lovely colors were prevalent, not only in the bright decorations and displays of spring millinery, but also in the spring hats that most of the guests wore to the party.

MISS HARRIET Kelley, president of Soroptimists, welcomed the guests, who were seated at small tables about the room, after they had toured the displays. She announced that a style show would climax the party.

A buffet supper was served from a table centered with an arrangement of yellow and white mums and aqua-tinted carnations, flanked by candelabras holding pastel-colored tapers set in little colored crystal cups.

Individual tables were colorful with nylon net pompons and other gift favors. A simulated tree in one corner of the room was hung with gay net butterflies, which also were suspended at the windows with baskets of var-colored flowers, such as pansies, daisies and sweet peas, supplied by F. W. Woolworth Co.

ADDING THE most color to the scene were the hat displays from H. Choate and Co., Stevensons and Dotty Dunn. These were arranged on decorated tables bordering the hall. Many of the lovely hats were flower trimmed, some of them a mass of blossoms, others with only one large flower or a wreath. There were cloches and turbans swathed in pastel tulle, some shiny straws in tailored shapes and still others made of printed silk in soft folds.

Highlight of the party was the awarding of the prizes for outstanding hats worn by the guests.

Mrs. Loren (Virginia) Torgerson, who wore a towering pastel blue tulle turban, won the award for "a woman in public service who consistently through annual award from Millinery Institute of America went to Mrs. Lenore Wilkinson, whose striking hat was a wide-brimmed sailor of white with a high polka dot crown and a red band.

Twelve women, chosen among the crowd for the outstanding hats they wore, were called up to the stage and interviewed by Mrs. William Lindquist, who was mistress of ceremonies for the contest and the style show.

Mrs. E. M. McLaughlin's hat was judged the best and she won a $10 gift certificate. It was a smooth, shiny straw in a bulb shape. Others were Misses Fern Ellison, Margaret Stevenson and Laura Schwab and Mmes. F. M. McShane, Norman Rorud, Rueben Clinkscales, Rollinson, Minn., Vernon Angst, Wilkinson, Henry Polachek, Maud Johnson and Jean Hagen.

JUDGES who selected the prize winners were Mrs. Howard Dinkler, Mrs. Torgerson and Miss Christine Hansen.

The climax of the party was the "What Price Fashion" style show in which spring outfits from Choates and Stevensons were modeled. It was a take-off on a panel-guessing TV show, set up on the stage with cameras and other paraphernalia.

Mrs. Lindquist selected panelists from the audience. They were Mmes. George Vondrashek, Carl Thompson, Fountain City, Wis., Cyrus Kohner and Mrs. G. M. Grabow, who won the prize as the most expert panelist in guessing the prices of the clothes worn by the models. Manning the cameras were Mmes. Marie Fjelstad and Sude Blumberg.

DELIGHTFUL spring fashions in the show, included many of the new sleeveless coats worn over printed shift dresses. There were several handsome suits, some in summer wools and others in silk.

One outstanding suit was black and white hounds-tooth check, worn with a high-crowned patent leather to match the bag and shoes. Another gay spring ensemble was a cotton sleeveless pink coat over a red skirt and white blouse.

There were some bright spring coats, including one of

Marlene Ann Larson Becomes Bride of Wayne Everett Meyer

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) —Miss Marlene Ann Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Larson, Rushford, became the bride of Wayne Everett Meyer, Rushford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyer, Feb. 15.

The wedding was in the Rushford Lutheran Church, where the Rev. M. Eugene Fochringer officiated. Miss Sharon Meyer was soloist and Miss Sybil Betz, organist.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of lace and taffeta, with a full overskirt of lace and tulle ruffles. The fitted bodice had a scoop neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves and a chignon bow at the waistline. Her nylon tulle veil was held by a queen's crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses, ivy and crystal jewels.

Mrs. Ralph Pruika, Rockford, Ill., was matron of honor and Mrs. Arlene Hungerholt, Rushford, was bridesmaid. They wore identical street-length dresses of mint green and yellow lace over taffeta, styled with long sleeves and overskirts of chiffon. They had matching veils and carried cascade bouquets of white carnations with crystal jewels.

Best man was Wayne Wenzel, Lewiston, Minn., and groomsman was Gerald Larson, Winona. Ushers were Ronald Bremseth and Duane Jonsgaard.

A RECEPTION WAS held in the church parlors. The mother of the bride received the guests in a beige three-piece suit and the groom's mother wore a green brocade dress. Both had corsages of white carnations.

Mrs. Edward Peterson had made the wedding cake, which was cut by Mrs. Leo Olson, Winona, and Mrs. Roy Jonsgaard, Dover, Minn. Others who assisted were Mmes. Raymond Benson, Otto Brand, Dennis Kinsler and Duane Jonsgaard and Misses Margaret Bartelson, Brenda Larson, Karen and Nancy Olson, Karen and Beverly Jonsgaard, Beverly and Carol Meyer, Rose Marie Hundorf, Ruth and Mary Ann Elide.

The couple is now at home on a farm near Rushford. Both are graduates of Rushford High School.

Retarded Unit To Hear Teacher Wednesday Night

How education can help retarded children live happier and fuller lives will be discussed Wednesday at the meeting of the Winona County Association for Retarded Children.

The speaker will be Gordon W. Ness, sixth grade teacher at Madison School, who wrote his master's thesis on the social status of a group of former educable pupils in special classes. The thesis resulted from a study made locally.

Starting time for the meeting has been set for 8:30 p.m. because of Lenten services in many Winona churches. It will be at Lucas Lodge. Parents of retarded children are urged to attend.

Wisconsin to End County School Superintendent Plan

DURAND, Wis. (Special) —The development of cooperative educational service agencies to succeed county superintendents July 1, 1965, was discussed by J. Newell Weiss, superintendent of schools for Pepin, Pierce and St. Croix counties, before the Pepin County Board of Supervisors last week.

By 1963 law, the office of county superintendent will be discontinued, Weiss said. In 1965 the state-supported agencies will become the service units between local school districts and the state superintendent level for the purpose of cooperatively providing special education services to teachers, students, school boards and administrators.

A STATE cooperative service committee is developing plans for creation of the service areas. Hearings will be held on appeals relative to establishing boundaries for agency services. The final plan will be published by Dec. 1.

Members of the committee are the state superintendent of public instruction; chairman of the senate and assembly education committee; member of the minority party of each of the legislative education committees; a citizen appointed by the governor; a member from the Wisconsin Education Association, state Association of County Superintendents, Association of School District Administrators, Association of School Boards and state County Boards Association; one each from the faculty of the University of Wisconsin and the faculty of state colleges, and an appointee by the state Board of Vocational and Adult Education.

THE GOVERNING body of each service agency will include one delegate from each school district, with a limit of 11 members. The delegate from the school district with the largest full valuation will be temporary chairman.

The board of control will appoint a qualified agency coordinator, handle finances, carry out other provisions of the law, and meet monthly.

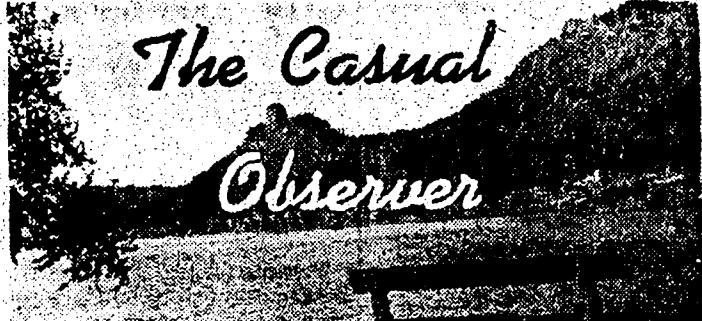

State aid will be available for each service agency beginning July 1, 1965, based on detailed certified statements of expenses for the prior year and indicating the monies were expended as provided by the new law.

The state committee setting up the educational agencies will remain active until Dec. 31, 1966.

WEISS REPORTED A $515 reduction in the 1964 budget compared with last year.

Of the $15,367 levied, Pepin County pays 12.2 percent, $2,030; Dunn County, 30.4 percent, $5,000; and St. Croix, 48.4 percent, $7,437.

Expenses of the office include the superintendent's salary, $9,000, which will remain the same as last year, and office rent, $1,750.

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

NEW YORK, N.Y. — One of the Seven Wonders of the modern world will surely be New York's great Lincoln Memorial Center for the Performing Arts, and people will come from all over the world to see it. Vaguely I had known that the Lincoln Center was in the process of being built and that it was a cultural center. But I never dreamed of its scope, size and magnificence. There has never been anything like it in the world. It is unique.

One morning Bob Schuler and one of the business managers of Lincoln Center took me through it, and I was dumfounded. It is to be, when finished in two years' time, a group of five utterly magnificent buildings, each of them dedicated to one of the performing arts. Completed and in use is the stunning Philharmonic Hall devoted to orchestral music. Like the other four buildings it is of the finest Italian travertine stone and marble, and it is set on a vast plaza which is to have the most beautiful trees, gardens, pools and fountains.

This completed building is a dream of pale cream travertine, pure gold leaf and blue and gold velvet orchestra seats and carpets. The opening last year was so stunning that no one will ever forget the gorgeous gowns and jewels of the women, the ambassadors and great men present, the marvelous Leonard Bernstein concert, Jacqueline Kennedy in regal white satin and diamonds escorted to her gold stage box by Leonard Bernstein and Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

Building number 2 which is to be finished this summer will be the New York State Theater, and that will be even more elegant and beautiful. Even in its unfinished state it seemed to me the most beautiful and elegant building I'd ever seen. There is a great circular amphitheater sloping gently and done in gold leaf, soft red velvet and filagree gold lattice of modern design. The stage is incredible with all its modern gadgets and machinery. The floor is built of five layers of wood so that ballet dancers will have a resilient floor to dance on. Everything, of course, is air-conditioned, and there are many huge rehearsal rooms. Looking from the stage out over the great amphitheater one gets such a feeling of embracing warmth because of the perfection of rounded shaping, the warm reds and the subdued golds of the pure gold leaf (every bit of which must be applied by hand by skilled artisans).

This stunning New York Theater will be opened with a gala night of foreign ballet. Next comes a week of the musical, "The King and I," and next, in August, several weeks of "The Merry Widow" with Patrice Munsel singing the lead. Patrice says it's the most exciting engagement of her life.

In this same New York State Theater is a vast and superbly beautiful hall, again of Italian travertine and gold leaf, which will be the official reception hall and dining hall of the city of New York, and all visiting dignitaries will be greeted and fêted in this magnificent room instead of dingy old City Hall. It's so beautiful that I can't describe it satisfactorily. One thing that both impressed and entertained me was the fact that we Winonians walk on sidewalks of the exact kind of travertine stone that is being used in the walls and floors of the world's most beautiful building!

Building number 3, half finished, is to be the great Metropolitan Opera House for our opera. The fourth building is to be the Repertory Theater with its library of the Drama, (finished soon), and the fifth building will be the famed Juilliard School of Music which will train and prepare the nation's promising young musicians and singers. The whole ensemble of five buildings and plaza will cost well over 200 million dollars and will be the most fabulous cultural center on earth.

By this summer three of the five buildings will be in use — the Philharmonic Hall for orchestra, the New York State Theater for ballet, opera and musical comedy, and the Repertory Theater for drama. Great classical music and drama will be given during the summer as well as the winter, and the whole project is bound to be a mecca for lovers of music, drama and dance all over the world. An astounding accomplishment, and worth a visit to New York if you don't see another thing!

3 Bridge Bids Rejected in Trempealeau Co.

WHITEHALL, Wis. — The Trempealeau County highway committee rejected three bids Friday for removal of the old County Trunk Highway Q bridge over the Trempealeau River a half-mile southeast of Independence.

The bids received were from George Smelja, $350; Tom Bisek, $161.25; and Peter Pientok, $156. All are Independence men.

Considering the bids inadequate, the committee decided to have the highway department bridge crew raise the bridge for salvage. The bridge was replaced by a new structure last year.

The bids were opened by Russell Paulson, Chimney Rock, Irvin Hodgen, Elrick, and Noble Thronson, Unity, members of the committee, and James Steen, county highway commissioner.

Mondovi-Modena Equity Elects New Director

House of the Week

Comfortable Ranch for Small Family

In its headlong rush to shelter today's "average family," the housing industry seems to have turned its back on almost every one who simply doesn't need three bedrooms plus expansion, or a stadium-size rumpus room, or storage space for six tri-cycles.

Architect Samuel Paul set out to remedy this oversight when he designed today's House of the Week.

IT IS an elegant little ranch tailored to the needs of a couple with one child, for example, or an elderly couple with no children at home, or even—because Paul said particular attention to resale value—a young couple who want to start with a small home they can afford and graduate later to a larger one.

This house, design H-17 in the weekly series, contains a basic living area of only 1,043 square feet in over-all dimensions of 53'6" wide by 33'3" deep, which means it would fit comfortably on a 70' by 85' lot.

Yet it is so efficiently designed that for all its snug dimensions it has the charm and liveability of a much larger house—features such as an entrance foyer, screened porch, front porch, attached garage and workshop.

and space consuming excesses which small families neither need nor want, architect Paul was able to devote as much space to the essentials as you likely would find only in a much larger home.

Living room, dining room, kitchen and master bedroom all are handsomely proportioned, and there is a 10' by 10' room large enough to use as a second bedroom if needed, or a study, sewing room or what have you.

The gracious exterior of the house has a covered portico, box planters, stone front and redwood gables — features of long standing popularity which protect future resale value.

THE INTERIOR floor plan, too, is straightforward and without gimmicks, thus certain to remain desirable for years to come.

It revolves around a central entrance foyer which reduces to a minimum the number of steps to every part of the house. The foyer leads directly into the attractive rear living room with its handsome fireplace and large bay window overlooking the rear patio. From the living room there is direct access both

FLOOR PLAN: The basic living area of the house is 1,043 square feet which does not include the screened porch, portico, garage workshop or storage bins. Overall dimensions are 53 ft. 6 in. wide by 33 ft. 3 in. deep.

City Issues Permits for Two Houses

Permits for two new dwellings headed the list of building permits issued last week at the city engineer's office.

Both were received by Sather Winona Homes, 120 Center St., for houses it plans to build on Edgewood Road in a subdivision south of Gilmore Avenue.

The larger of the two is an $18,500 structure that will be built at 1641 Edgewood Rd. The other, valued at $14,000, will rise at 1606 Edgewood Rd. The owner is the contractor for both of these frame houses.

Gilman Glenne, 1177 W. Mark St., drew a permit for interior remodeling to be done at 1002 W. 2nd St. Cost will be $250.

The only other permit issued went to James Otis, 656 E. Sanborn St., who plans to move a small frame structure on his lot. Estimate of the cost was $30.

A permit for a GAS-FIRED heating installation was issued to Kraning Sales and Service for an installation to be made for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railroad Co. at 51 W. Mark St.

Sinatra Trial In Final Stages

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecution's case against three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. goes into its final stages today with about eight FBI agents scheduled to testify.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan said the testimony would concern events leading to the capture of John Irwin, 42; Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23; and Barry W. Keenan, also 23. Young Sinatra allegedly was abducted from a Stateline, Calif., motel last Dec. 8.

The FBI said at least 26 agents were involved in the capture of the three men and recovery of the $240,000 ransom paid for Sinatra's release.

Job Getting Duck Unstuck From Ice

NEW YORK (AP)—The duck was stuck.

Park department employees tried to free it from the ice of Central Park Lake Sunday. They threw a ladder onto the ice, hoping to break it and dislodge the quacker. The ice stayed firm. So did the duck.

Then someone shoveled a boat out of ice and snow and rowed out, breaking the ice around the duck with an oar.

Unstuck came the duck.

It's Really Woman's House

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Men are just being "good sports" about our present mode of living, a couple of trapped husbands indicated recently.

A man's idea of a home is completely different from a woman's they volunteered, as if women didn't know.

It seems a man likes comfort, conveniences and outlets for recreation with a more casual attitude all around than his wife. Women look for coziness, utilitarian features and even shopping centers when they settle down. A man couldn't care less.

AS IT DEVELOPED, a man's dream house would appall women, but to the stronger sex, it would be real livin'.

"If I could design my own house," said one man, drooling at the thought, "I'd have a few features strictly for men."

"The way it is now, a house is designed strictly for women. They have everything they want or nearly everything they want."

But a workshop is about the only indoor feature ever suggested for a man. And if he can get one in the little cramped dwellings designed today, it's just work. You start out making a coaster for fun, and wind up building kitchen chairs.

Why not a billiard room or a bowling alley for men? Why not an outdoor ramp that leads to a roof where he can do some skeet shooting? Why not his very own fish-stocked pond or stream where he can cast a line once in a while? If it's not there, why not create it?

WHY DO HOUSES have to be so darn permanent? Why can't they make them on some sort of umbrella principle? When the weather is warm, you could pull a couple of levers and your roof would fold up like an umbrella, pull another switch and your walls would slide into the ground.

And most men work hard enough outside of the home without taking on full-time gardening and hoe work, too, they say. Time was when people who tried to grow an estate full of flowers and bushes had gardeners to help them. But nowadays even the couple with a tiny ranch house tries to live in a hodgepodge, with plants and flowers that are a full-time operation.

Why not use some of that lawn for a putting green? Or turn it into a tennis court?

WHY HAVEN'T we found something in this scientific age, they ask, that will melt snow instantaneously? And why, asks the suburban snow shoveler, can't we find some kind of hose contraption that would blow leaves into a neat pile for burning?

The gentlemen take it for granted that this house would be run with push buttons with a solar system permitting full-time sun all the year 'round, air conditioning, and buttons that would be pushed to spread fertilizer seed and irrigate a parched garden, and even an automatic pruning of bushes.

A swimming pool should be part of every house, but instead of being outdoors, it should be built Roman style, like an atrium with a glass roof, indoors, and take the place of the inadequate bathtub.

THERE'S ONLY one thing wrong with the plan, observed a woman who was present: Women won't go for it.

Imagine cleaning the ring around a swimming pool every day! And who is going to pick up all those shotgun shells after a skeet shoot? And what happens when a sudden shower looms and the cotton pickin' walls won't go up? There's the small unsettled business, too, of who is going to pick worms for guests who decide they'd like to cast a line in the homemade trout stream. And all that polishing of billiard tables and bowling balls!

DEAR ABBY:

Whole Column On Smoking

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago you had a whole column of letters on how to quit smoking. Would you please consider running it again?

DEAR "NEEDS IT": With pleasure!

DEAR ABBY: My man smoked three packs of cigarettes a day and used up a whole box of snuff, too. He said that his mouth felt like the bottom of a bird cage. He got a prescription from his doctor for something that was guaranteed to curb his desire for smoking. I don't know what it was, but I know I saw a miracle happen because my husband hasn't smoked in four years. OLLIE'S WIFE

Abby
NO JERK

DEAR ABBY: After having the cigarette habit for 40 years, I took my cigarettes out of my pocket and said, "You have been bossing me around for 40 years, now I am going to boss YOU around." I put away the pack and never smoked again. That was 15 years ago. I'm now 82 and feel fine.

H. H. E. (Ontario)

DEAR ABBY: When I had to have a cigarette before I could open my eyes fully in the morning, I knew I had better quit. I tried to taper off, but that never works. I finally walked into a church one morning (it wasn't even of my own denomination), got down on my knees and prayed to God to deliver me of the habit. And do you know, I haven't smoked or even had the desire to since? When everything else fails, try prayer.

AN ORDINARY GUY

DEAR ABBY: My husband smoked like a chimney. He had a lung X-ray taken at the suggestion of his physician. A dark shadow was discovered on his lung. Fortunately it was NOT cancer, but my husband snipped off that part of the X-ray and taped it to a package of cigarettes. He carries it with him constantly and now every time he is tempted to smoke, he looks at that X-ray and takes a peppermint drop instead.

GRATEFUL

DEAR ABBY: Here is a proven method for overcoming the cigarette habit. If a person smokes 40 cigarettes a day, he should cut down to 39 the first day, 38 the second, 37 the third and so forth. It takes a lot of willpower, but if I could do it (I was a four-pack-a-day smoker for 32 years) anybody can.

WILLPOWER WILL

DEAR ABBY: A psychologist once told me that in order to break a habit, substitute another one. So, instead of reaching for a cigarette, reach for a piece of gum, a carrot stick or a piece of licorice. It really works. When you finally get your sense of taste and smell back again, you will never go back to smoking. It happened to me after 30 years.

SUBSTITUTE

DEAR ABBY: I sat down one day, at the age of 48, and started to add up the amount of money I had spent for cigars since I started smoking them at the age of 24. When I realized that $5,000 had gone up in smoke, I lost my appetite for smoking.

SMART TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: I was a chain smoker for over 40 years. I started to get pains in my chest and I had a dry cough that came and went, but I didn't worry about it too much. I went to the doctor and he examined me thoroughly. He shook his head and said, "Either give up smoking—or else I will not be responsible for your condition." I took the cigarettes out of my shirt pocket, tossed them in the waste basket and made up my mind that I had had my last one. And I have. I am 77 years old and no amount of money could make me smoke another cigarette. The answer: WILLPOWER.

NO GIMMICKS

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rocky Castellani Has Beatle Wig

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—About 100 bartenders and bar owners, many of them wearing aprons, strode along this resort's famed Boardwalk Sunday to raise money for the 1964 Heart Fund.

Among them was former middleweight boxer Rocky Castellani, wearing a Beatle wig and gym attire. He operates a resort bar.

The 4½-hour, 16-mile march in 33-degree weather netted $2,000 for the Heart Fund.

Floor Shifts Becoming More Popular Again

By CHARLES C. CAIN
Associated Press Auto Writer
DETROIT (AP)—One of the surprising things in the auto industry this year is the heavy demand for four-speed, floor-mounted synchromesh transmission systems.

Some sources predict that over 400,000 of these will be marketed during the 1964 model run. This would compare with 284,000 in the 1963 model year and 188,000 in the '62 run.

Measured in terms of percentage of total U.S. cars built, the four-speed market is not great.

The surprising thing is that at a time when motorists are demanding more and more conveniences and luxury items, ranging from bucket seats to air conditioners, they show such willingness to give up the automatic transmission.

Auto sources figure much of the demand comes from the so-called youth market, the young drivers who literally like to shift for themselves.

Queen of Greece Has Pneumonia

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Queen Frederika of Greece was bedridden with a light case of pneumonia today, four days after her husband, King Paul, underwent emergency surgery for stomach ulcers.

Palace doctors announced the king, 62, is showing continued improvement and is in good condition. Then they disclosed that the queen, 46, is ill. The queen had spent nearly all her waking hours at her husband's bedside since his four-hour operation last Friday.

Cyprus Talks At U.N. in Crucial Stage

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reached a crucial stage today in diplomatic talks on his plan to ease the crisis on the smoldering island of Cyprus.

Thant brought British delegate Sir Patrick Dean and Cypriot Foreign Minister Spiros Kyprianou together for the first time at a 90-minute Sunday conference in his office. He expressed belief "the picture will be clearer" today.

One U.N. diplomat said Thant had reached a "difficult stage" in his effort to get agreement on an international peace force for Cyprus buttoned up before the Security Council resumes debate Tuesday on the crisis. Thant's efforts were reported snagged by a dispute over whether any Cyprus resolution submitted to the 11-nation council should mention the 1960 treaty of guarantee that accompanied the island's grant of independence from Britain.

The treaty says Britain, Turkey and Greece can intervene independently in Cyprus to preserve constitutional arrangements between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The United States, Britain and Turkey interpret this as an authorization for military intervention and want the treaty mentioned.

Greece and the Cypriot government, which is in the hands of the Greek Cypriot majority, oppose any mention of the treaty. They fear it will be used to justify a Turkish invasion to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority. The Greek Cypriot majority wants to end the minority's constitutional rights of veto over various types of legislation.

Dispatches from Cyprus said the Mediterranean island is turning into a vast armed camp as thousands of young men and some women on both sides receive weapons training.

The Greek Cypriots said they were preparing to repel threatened invasion from Turkey, 40 miles off the island's north coast.

Turkish Cypriots said they were getting ready to repel a Greek attack.

Beautification Of Minnesota River Valley Urged

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP)—A beautiful Minnesota River Valley could mean much to communities along the stream and to the state in attracting tourists, a legislative group was told here Saturday.

More than 300 persons attended a meeting called by the Minnesota River Development Legislative Interim Commission and the Minnesota River Development Association.

"Clean up the valley wherever it is a mess," advised Prof. John Borchert of the University of Minnesota geology department. "Steadily the flow and develop the valley road. The route along the spectacular valley of the Minnesota River should be continuous and paved."

ETTRICK FARM FIRE

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special)—The fire department was called at 12:30 p.m. Saturday to extinguish a fire in a lumber pile at the Henry Crogan farm at Frenchville, about three miles southwest of the village. Cause of the blaze was unknown unless the wind had blown sparks from burning rubbish nearby.

Freeman Delays Soybean Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has indicated he may wait until Congress acts on pending wheat and cotton legislation before setting the price support for 1964-crop soybeans. There has been much speculation that he will increase the support from the present rate of $2.25 a bushel.

Freeman told newsmen that the cotton legislation, if enacted, could well result in an increase in soybean plantings.

Fires in 3 Minnesota Communities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A St. Paul building housing stores and apartments and dwellings in Dilworth and Madelia, Minn., were destroyed by fire Sunday.

The St. Paul blaze began in the basement of the two-story brick building. Half a dozen apartment residents fled safely.

At Dilworth, in extreme western Minnesota, a family of six was made homeless. Fleeing in their nightclothing were Neil Bjorndahl, his wife, Elsie, and their four children, Debbie, 6, Richard, 4, Kevin, 3, and Lori, 1. Moorhead firemen helped Dilworth's Fire Department battle the flames.

The 10 members of the Mike Daley family, escaped injury when fire destroyed their home near Madelia and all personal belongings. Three years ago, eight outbuildings on the farm burned.

Legend says that when Turkish soldiers successfully stormed the walls of Constantinople in 1453, the Byzantine leaders were busy arguing whether angels were male or female.

CNW Suspends Veteran for Fighting Cuts

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Chicago and North Western Railway has suspended a veteran conductor who drew up a petition opposing the line's plans to drop four trains and obtained signatures from passengers.

J. C. Black, superintendent of the Lake Shore Division in Green Bay, said that Harvey E. Bestor of Fond du Lac was suspended after a hearing Friday for "acts detrimental to the business of the railroad."

Black said that Bestor violated a recent North Western ruling which prohibits employees from sitting with or talking unnecessarily with passengers.

Bestor, employed by the railroad for 18 years, said he obtained more than 2,000 signatures on his petition. He works on the run between Fond du Lac and Green Bay.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has scheduled hearings for next month on North Western's proposal to drop four trains operating between Green Bay, Milwaukee, Ashland and Chicago.

Four Killed in Crash on Bridge

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—An automobile went across three lanes of the Benjamin Franklin Bridge and collided with a Philadelphia-bound car carrying three persons Sunday. All four persons in the cars died.

Police said the driver of the first car, Gordon Martorano, 20, of Camden, may have fallen asleep at the wheel as he came downhill toward the toll booths on the New Jersey side of the eight-lane bridge that links Camden and Philadelphia.

In the Philadelphia-bound car were Craven L. Goodman Sr., 39, a tailor from Camden; his wife, Maxine, 33; and Mrs. Carmel F. Gardner, 33.

Cotter to Meet Lismore St. Anthony in State Tournament

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Winona Cotter's awesome basketball machine will make another trip to St. Paul this year, in full bloom after a two-year growth period that has resulted in a 20-2 record to this point during the season. A No. 2 ranking among Minnesota's Catholic schools and the Region Six championship.

The latter achievement was made at Rochester's Mayo Civic Auditorium Sunday afternoon as the Ramblers turned on a second-half burst of speed to outgun Wabasha St. Felix 74-47 in the tournament finals.

An estimated 1,500 fans watched as Cotter stopped St. Felix bid for a State Catholic tournament berth for the fourth straight year.

Cotter now makes a whirlwind tour to St. Paul this weekend for a round with the state's remaining seven elite Catholic quintets.

The Ramblers will tangle with Lismore St. Anthony, a 51-45 winner over St. Adrian in the Region Eight finals Sunday, at the St. Paul Auditorium at 4 p.m. Friday.

It took the Ramblers time to adapt to the St. Felix style of play Sunday, but once they did the outcome was never in doubt.

Following Coach Duke Loretz' pre-game strategy to the letter, St. Felix posed a serious threat for the first quarter and remained in contention, but behind, 32-21 at halftime.

With the Yellowjackets shaking Dick Peters loose for field goal attempts from the lane and a tough zone defense limiting the Ramblers to an ineffective outside attack, St. Felix never led, but stayed close in the first quarter.

Cotter jumped to a 4-0 lead on field goals by Mike Jerecek and John Nett Jr. before St. Felix hit the board on a long jumper by hot-shooting Dick Peters.

The Ramblers held seven-point margins at 12-5 and 14-7 before a long one-hander from Gene Schultz gave Cotter an 18-10 lead at the buzzer.

The offense began to roll in the second period thanks to two quick switches in the Rambler pattern.

Stymied in its first two trips down the floor, Cotter saw St. Felix cut the margin to 18-14 on two shots by Peters.

Suddenly Gene Schultz moved into the void spot in the Yellowjacket zone and was cannonading shots through the nets from long range. Meanwhile,

Nett, ineffective from the corner, ranged to the top of the key and found his scoring eye.

As twinkling-eyed captain Rick Starzecki put it: "We had to have time to tell."

Jerecek started the drive with a tip in, Nett followed with a looping one-hander, Jerecek tipped again, Schultz counted from the corner and it was Nett again from the key with the jumper. Just that quickly, Cotter had doubled the score on St. Felix at 28-14.

Field goals in the final minute of the first half by Bill Glomski and Peters brought the Yellowjackets back in contention at 32-21.

But the second half was no contest, as Cotter poured it on, Nett going to his reserves in the final period.

Three field goals by Bob Judge, Jerecek and Nett gave Cotter a quick post-halftime lead of 38-21 before Peters added two to the St. Felix total with 5:46 left in the period.

With three minutes left, a long jumper by Judge gave Cotter a 46-27 lead and it was 53-33 heading into the final quarter.

"We got beat by one heck of a good team," summed up Loretz, "but I'm very pleased with our boys. We had things figured out so we got the good shots, but they just wouldn't go in (Cotter hit 32 of 69 from the field for a 46.4 percentage, St. Felix 19 of 61 for a 31.2 percentage)."

"That team (Cotter) has everything," Loretz went on. "They can beat you offensively and they can beat you defensively. And they adapt well to anything you try against them."

This would have to be the best team John (Nett) has had since I've been here."

Jerecek, Cotter's 6-5 center, wound up with 19 points, eight coming in the third period, when St. Felix tried to bottle up the Ramblers' outside attack. Schultz got 17 points, Nett 13 and reserve center Russ Fisk 10, all in the final period.

Peters finished with 25, the only St. Felix player in double figures.

Lourdes Crushes Loretto for 3rd

Rochester Lourdes, smarting after a defeat at the hands of Winona Cotter in the semifinals of the Region Six tournament, cinched third place and hit season and career highs in team scoring by bombing Caledonia Loretto 103-60.

With the entire Lourdes cheering section screaming for the century mark, Larry Tarrara, reserve forward, brought the Eagles just one point away with 1:20 left in the game and a free throw by Rick Schmelzer with 57 seconds remaining made the scoreboard jump down to 00, signifying that the 100-point mark had been reached. That Schmelzer made his second free throw and two more followed later, mattered little to the ecstatic Eagle cheering section.

The Eagles, fully recovered from an attack of cold shooting which plagued them against the Ramblers, scored 25 points or more in each of the three periods.

Caledonia battled bravely in Stanza No. 1, but wound up on the short end of a 25-17 count, before falling behind 50-29 at halftime.

WITH EIGHT minutes left to play it was 78-45, and the Eagle section began its persistent pleading. Loretto tried to keep the Eagles at bay with a brief stall midway in the final quarter, but several stolen balls and mechanical errors then made the difference.

Three Loretto players went to the bench with five personals, in the free-rolling affair. Joe Keefe led the Bluejays with 17 points before leaving with his fifth personal. Dave Augedahl helped out with 13.

For Lourdes, Dexter Reisch paved the way with 20 points. John Van Cuyk hit 16, Jim Galuska and Tom Christopherson 13 each.

Caledonia ended its season with a 2-18 record.

COTTER SPURTED AND SPATTERED... It took Cotter a time to get warmed up Sunday in the Region Six finals, but once the Ramblers did, another state tournament trip was in the offing. At left, John Leisen (44) of St. Felix battles with Mike Jerecek and John Nett Jr. (41) of Cotter for a rebound. The center photo, catches Gene Schultz on the way to two of his 17 points while Dick Peters of St. Felix defends. At right, Gene Wodele steals a Cotter pass and begins to pass to teammate Jerry Arens (30). The Cotter player is John Nett Jr. (Daily News Sports Photos)

Rockets Garner Consolation Title

Rollingstone Holy Trinity got 55 points from its front line and went on to sew up the Region Six consolation title with a 67-56 victory over the Indians of Hokah St. Peter.

With Ed and Bill Schell and Jim Reisdorf hitting from all angles, the Rockets forged into a 15-9 lead at the quarter, and were never headed in driving to their 11th victory against 12 defeats on the season.

For Rollie Tust's Indians, who broke the state's longest losing streak with a win over Caledonia Loretto early in the campaign, it was the 16th loss in 18 games — both victories coming over the Loretto Bluejays.

Rollingstone and the Indians battled on even terms during the second period, and the six-point lead remained at 30-24 at intermission. A rocket spurt propelled the winners out front 51-38 with eight minutes left, and for practical purposes the tilt was over.

St. Peter cut the gap to eight points midway in the final quarter, but fell victim to two quick buckets by Reisdorf, making a comeback impossible.

Ed Schell and Reisdorf each hit 19 points for Rollingstone and Bill Schell got 17. The only other players to score were Jack Schell with eight and Jim Kramer with four.

For St. Peter, Dave Feuerhelm was high with 16 points. Ed Horihan and Francis Stempel each collected 12.

VICTORY LEAVES COTTER FANS ECSTATIC

Steve Nett Knew the Team to Back—His Daddy's

By ROLLIE WUSSOW
Daily News Sports Writer

Four-year-old Steve Nett, with two huge Cotter booster buttons pinned on his shirt, exemplified the Cotter fan spirit at Mayo Civic Auditorium in Rochester Sunday.

Young Steve backed the right team. Of course, he didn't have much choice in rooting for the highly touted Ramblers, since his father, John, is the coach. But he did back the right team.

Cotter hammered Waba-sha St. Felix for the right to represent Region Six in the Catholic State Tournament next weekend in St. Paul. The score was 74-47.

Coach Nett will be making his 15th trip in 16 tries to the annual Catholic classic next Friday. He has never won all the marbles, although the 1952 squad won the state championship after Nett was recalled into the service. Austin Loeffler piloted the team to the crown that year.

Things were nothing but sweet for Rambler fans Sunday afternoon. Their team had won 20 and lost 2 during the year, and a goodly number of Winonans and alumni turned up in the massive Rochester arena to give their support.

Each time Gene Schultz, Mike Jerecek or Bob Judge scored, two trumpets and a monotone trombone played a brief stanza of the Cotter school song.

When it was all over and Cotter had won its 20th game of the season, happiness prevailed.

"It's wonderful!" "Oh, I'm so happy," screamed Cotter cheerleaders Janice Siegel, Sue Moody, Betty Haack, Anita Keller, Rochelle Bundy and Jean Dorsch.

Although the Rambler cheerleaders performed more than ably, the cheerleading trophy went to the Rollingstone Holy Trinity group. Trinity cheerleaders included Margaret Rinn, Mary Jo Ries, Jeri Sue Batzel, Nora Speltz, Sue Welch and Judy Anderson.

Rich Starzecki made two trips to the center of the floor when the game was over. The senior captain accepted the championship trophy and moments later repeated the trek to mid-court when he was named to the all-tourney team along with three other Ramblers.

Nett retained his usual calmness in reviewing the game. "They weren't moving as well as they should have," he said, with a wry smile on his face, "we really didn't get our 'all' into the ball game."

The Rev. Robert Stamschror, Cotter athletic director, felt that the Ramblers "should make a good representative at the state tourney. If they play the type of deliberate ball they played Friday against Lourdes, they should do all right."

Prauds for the Rambler machine came from Dick Peters, the Yellowjacket who proved to be the main thorn in Cotter's side Sunday with 25 points. "They're a good team and they should go all the way,"

In the St. Felix locker room, the scene was one of sadness and disappointment as the Yellowjackets packed their belongings. "Maybe next year," was the cry. The Rambler dressing room wasn't exactly reminiscent of a team just landing a berth in the state tournament either. But that can be explained. This year isn't over yet.

... And Yell They Certainly Did

International Falls Trucks State Hockey Trophy Home

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The state hockey trophy is back up north and the basketball floodgates are open.

That about sums up today's Minnesota high school sports picture, following the weekend windup of the state hockey tournament in St. Paul that saw powerhouse International Falls swamp St. Paul Johnson 7-3 in the title game.

Coach Larry Ross loses only three seniors and might as well settle back and consider himself the pre-tournament favorite for the next 11 months.

It was the third title in eight years for International Falls, which put four boys on the all-tournament team. The victory averaged a 4-3 overtime loss to Johnson in the 1963 finals.

Gritty Pete Fichuk of International Falls returned to action after losing two teeth in a semifinal game and fired in a goal for each gap to get the new champs off and winging. A three-goal spurt in the second period put the game out of reach for International Falls.

Minnesota Patrick Henry downed Richfield 3-1 for third place and Roseau edged Alexander Ramsey of St. Paul 2-1 for fifth place honors.

All-tournament team selections included Tim Sheehy, Fichuk, Gary Wood and goalie Larry Roche of International Falls; Johnson's first line of Greg Hughes, Rob Shatuck and Mike Crupi; Barry Bloomgren of Richfield, Rick Wickre of Alexander Ramsey; John McKay of Duluth East, Bill Ersko and Rich Subject of Patrick Henry; Tim Bergstrom of Bloomington, Carson Hedlund of Roseau and Kip Myre of Richfield.

The four-week campaign for berths in the state basketball tournament roars into action in 20 gymnasiums tonight. Most of them are sub-district games but District 1 and District 10 start at tournament level.

The elimination process continues through district and regional tournaments to choose the eight entries for the state basketball tournament at Williams Arena March 19-21.

Main action tonight includes:

District 1—Wykoff vs. Harmony; Houston vs. Spring

Grove. District 10 — Franklin vs. Sleepy Eye; Morgan vs. Lambert; Morton vs. Belview.
