U to Limit Enrollment in Emergency

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The University of Minnesota, struggling with the problem of too many students for existing facilities, will limit enrollment next year.

The move, says President O. Meredith Wilson, will give the university "lead time" in which to prepare for considerably increased enrollments in the years to come.

Next fall the total enrollment will be held to 42,000 students, or 3,500 more than registered this fall.

Dr. Wilson told a news conference Monday the move is required by limitations of classroom and office space.

Even if all legislative requests were granted, he said, the conditions could not be overcome by next fall.

The College of Liberal Arts (CLA) will accept only freshmen with a College Aptitude Rating of 50 per cent or better, Wilson said. The General College will take only 4,000 students next fall.

CLA has been accepting students above the 40th percentile in College Aptitude Rating, a combined measurement of high school class standing and college aptitude test scores.

Wilson said the admission changes would be both "just and efficient." He explained that only one of five students in the 40th to 50th percentile ever finishes four years of college.

At present the only requirement for admission to the two-year General College is graduation from high school. General College had an enrollment this fall of 3,672.

Dr. Wilson said the problem of limited physical facilities has grown in the past five years as the university has continued to enroll more students than it had budgeted for. Currently, he said, there are 2,700 more students than had been predicted in the budget request for this year.

Air Force Keeps Close Eye on Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force apparently is concentrating its aerial reconnaissance on the Laotian region through which men and supplies flow from Communist North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam.

The loss of the American planes last week also may indicate the Communists have beefed up their force of radar-directed antiaircraft guns in this critical area.

The area could be a target for U.S. and South Vietnamese air strikes aimed at choking off that flow. Intensive aerial reconnaissance would be a necessary prelude to any such strikes.

Suggestions that the United States may be approaching a decision on whether to expand the war beyond South Viet Nam's borders have grown as the U.S.-supported drive against the Viet Cong has seemed to flag.

Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to Saigon, said in an interview published by Life magazine that air strikes could contribute to victory "either by making more difficult the infiltration along the routes from North Viet Nam . . . or by striking the infiltration sources, the training and staging area in North Viet Nam itself."

Taylor is due back in Washington later this week for possible critical talks with President Johnson and top advisers.

Two U.S. Air Force jets, one an F100 escorting a photo plane and the other an RF101 reconnaissance ship, were shot down by antiaircraft ground fire last week in an area generally described as in southern to south-central Laos.

U.S. Raises Discount Rate To 4 Percent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States put a higher bank discount rate into effect today as a safeguard against the flow of dollars abroad.

At the same time, the government hopes to keep the domestic economy on course by moderately increasing the funds available to bankers, businessmen and consumers.

The Federal Reserve Board Monday ordered an increase from 3.5 per cent to 4 per cent in the discount rate — the interest bankers must pay when they obtain funds from the Federal Reserve system. The board acted after Britain jumped its bank rate from 5 to 7 per cent earlier in the day.

Today, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, charged that the action would halt the vigorous business expansion that has run 45 months.

Patman has fought fiercely for years for lower interest rates, arguing that only bankers benefit from a tight money policy.

Beside approving the discount rate increase, the Federal Reserve Board raised the ceiling on time deposits from 4 to 4.5 per cent. Rates on savings deposits also were strengthened.

President Johnson, who is at his Texas ranch, talked by telephone with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and with William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, about the U.S. and British actions.

Dillon and Martin sought to allay fears that the board's actions represent a move toward monetary restraint.

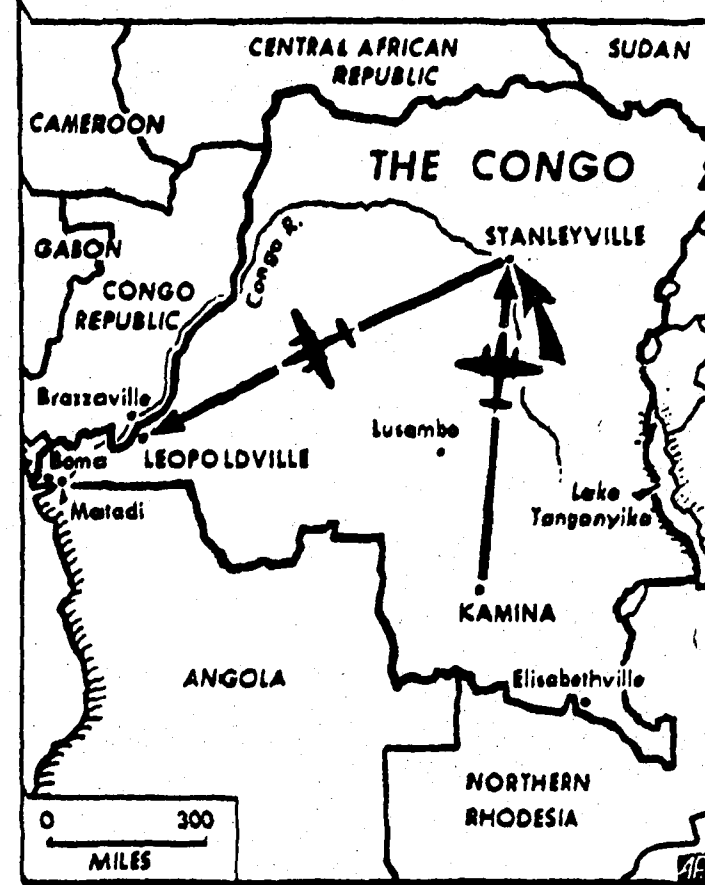

They were taken, Dillon said, "to maintain the strength of the dollar without impairing the steady and healthy advance of the American economy."

Martin said the only reason for the higher discount rate was to make sure there is no excessive flight of dollars to Britain and other European countries which have higher interest rates.

Tshombe Force Begins Taking Over District

BULLETIN WASHINGTON (AP) — An American woman missionary was killed by Congolese rebels in Stanleyville, the State Department reported today. She was Miss Phyllis Rine of Cincinnati, Ohio.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Belgian paratroops swarmed down on Stanleyville today and seized virtual control of the rebel capital, but not before about 50 foreign hostages were killed, including a U.S. missionary doctor, official reports said.

U.S. transport planes flew in the paratroopers, and some of them were shot at and reported damaged.

As the Belgians landed, white-led Congolese government soldiers attacked Stanleyville. The attacking troops moved quickly to free the rest of 1,613 foreigners held as hostages and marked for slaughter by the regime should their capital be attacked.

Refugees flown to Leopoldville from Stanleyville said the rebels had killed Dr. Paul Carlson, medical missionary from Rolling Hills, Calif. He had been condemned as a spy, a charge denied by Washington.

The State Department in Washington said Carlson was among 250 hostages held by the Congolese rebels into Lumumba Square and fired upon. Belgian official reports said 15 hostages were killed and 40 were wounded when the rebels machine gunned them in the square. The State Department notified Carlson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Carlson of Alhambra, Calif., and his brother, Dr. Dwight Carlson of Orange, Calif.

In Brussels, Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak said he was

STATE CRACKS DOWN

Four Dancers at Hurley Arrested

HURLEY, Wis. (AP) — Four "exotic" dancers were arrested on charges of solicitation for prostitution Monday night as state investigators cracked down on reports of alleged vice in Hurley night clubs.

The arrests were directed by State Tax Commissioner George Corning and Deputy Atty. Gen. Walter Cole, who flew into this northern Wisconsin community Monday afternoon.

The four dancers were arrested shortly after 11 p.m. by state investigators. They were taken to the sheriff's office. The Hurley police department did not participate in the arrests.

Asst. Atty. Gen. LeRoy Dalton, who directs the office's criminal investigation division, and four investigators also flew to Hurley.

Corning and Dalton declined to comment on their visit. However, they were expected to confer with city officials and law officers today.

The Milwaukee Sentinel reported Monday that "exotic" dancers imported for the deer hunting season were soliciting drinks and engaging in prostitution. The newspaper added that some strip joints were operating after the 1 a.m. legal closing time.

Iron County Dist. Atty. Alex J. Raineri said he would direct the police and sheriff's departments to enforce the legal closing hour. Hurley Mayor Paul Santini said he would meet with the police department "to straighten this thing out."

In other action Monday, the beer and liquor licenses of three Hurley night spots were revoked for one year and the license of a fourth was suspended for 30 days. However, the legal action won't affect the places until after the deer hunting season as all orders become effective 10 days after they are signed.

The closing orders issued by Circuit Court Judge Lewis J. Charles stem from earlier actions, not from the reported influx of girls.

The licenses of Joseph Vita, operator of the Hi Ho Bar, and Jack Gasbarri, operator of the Club Carnival and the Show Bar, were revoked for one year.

Evidence Released in Kennedy Assassination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mountains of newly disclosed evidence pinned securely today the sole guilt of President John F. Kennedy's assassination on Lee Harvey Oswald, the Marxist who said he hated America but found that the Soviet Union "stunk."

The 26 volumes of Warren

Commission hearing transcript, released Monday, bared in full the charges of those who hold that Oswald was only the triggerman for a conspiracy or — a scapegoat for murderers still uncaught.

The testimony revealed that those witnesses offered only admitted speculation, opinion, or unsupported theory.

Most of it was rebutted by the hard evidence against Oswald, piled up remorselessly in thousands of pages of testimony and still more thousands of exhibits.

There were disagreements even among those at the center of the nightmare events of Nov. 22, 1963. Did the dying president speak? No, said the widow Jacqueline, who was splashed with his gushing life blood. Yes, said the Secret Service agent in the front seat, the president said, "My God, I am hit."

Texas Gov. John B. Connally heard only two shots, his wife heard three. On some other details those closest to the vortex of sudden swirling tragedy disagreed.

But the inexorable thrust of the mass of evidence was that: Lee Oswald, 24, a truant son who once drew a knife on his mother and contemptuously refused to see "a head shrinker or a nut doctor," had the capacity, the opportunity, the means and the will to assassinate a president. And, as Chief Justice Earl Warren and his six investigative colleagues found, did so.

The question asked ever since by shocked Americans — could it have been prevented? — was answered negatively by Secret Service Chief James J. Rowley.

Day Long to Be Remembered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The moment of assassination in Dallas, Tex., 12:30 p.m. by the electric clock on the school deposit, came upon the principals in the motorcade with a terrible suddenness that is forged forever in their memories.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy would never forget that it was hot, "terribly hot, just blinding us all," and that amid the din there was a sound, like motorcycles backfiring.

"There is always noise in a motorcade, and there are always motorcycles beside us, a lot of them backfiring. So I was looking to the left. I guess there was a noise, but it didn't seem like any different noise really because there is so much noise, motorcycles and things."

For a long time afterward, she would torture herself with the thought that if she had been looking the other way when she first heard that noise things might somehow have been different.

"I used to think if only I had been looking to the right I would have seen the first shot hit him, then I could have pulled him down, and then the second shot would not have hit him."

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, riding two cars behind, also heard the noise. She connected it with the tumultuous welcome being accorded the president. "There had been such a gala air that I thought it must be firecrackers or some sort of celebration."

Her husband, seated next to her, heard the noise, too, and (Continued on Page 17 Col. 1)

Estes Finally Gets to Jail

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Convicted farm financier Billie Sol Estes now has spent three days and two hours in jail since FBI agents arrested him more than two and a half years ago.

The three days followed his arrest March 29, 1962. It took that long for lawyers to get his $500,000 bond reduced to $100,000.

Two hours were added Monday when U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes ordered a $10,000 bond forfeited at noon because of travel violations.

She granted him another bond in the same amount and he went free again by mid-afternoon. The bond forfeited at noon because indictment charging that Estes made false statements to the Commodity Credit Corp. The case hasn't been tried.

A flurry of indictments accused Estes of fraud, conspiracy, false swearing and swindling after he was arrested and his grain storage-liquid fertilizer complex collapsed.

Paying Alimony

Paying alimony, says the cynic, is like watching a TV set that has no picture tube.

Most of us wouldn't mind dieting. If we didn't have to give up those big meals and between-meal snacks (says Harold Coffin) . . . We're approaching the Christmas season when people take the milk of human kindness out of the deep freeze . . . If you feel that you ought to be closer to your fellow man, just get on the subway.

Pledge to Flag Wins Court OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has refused to interfere with a New York State school regulation recommending classroom use of a pledge of allegiance to the flag and containing the phrase "Under God."

Two parents of children in schools of Richmond County, N.Y., contended use of the pledge amounted to an unconstitutional religious exercise and interfered with the parents' right to "dictate the religious or irreligious philosophy of children."

The Supreme Court rejected the appeal Monday in one of a long list of orders. The high court made no comment.

Dr. Paul Carlson Missionary Reported Killed informed that "at least 50 non-Africans have been killed."

Spaak said 200 foreigners were held in a Stanleyville hotel, and at least 15 were killed when the soldiers of leftist leader Christophe Gbenye opened fire on the building.

Gbenye, whose regime was backed by Red China, had threatened to set the whole city afire but apparently the swift arrival of the Belgian paratroopers and Congolese troops thwarted the plan.

American C130s that ferried the paratroops to Stanleyville were bringing the European and American refugees to Leopoldville. The first two planes brought more than 100, including about 20 wounded.

One group of refugees said (Continued on Page 15 Col. 7)

Somehow little Jane got everything unfastened and the car rolled ahead some 250 feet, coming to a stop at the counter. No one was hurt, but the building and car suffered a little. (Brye photo)

Thurow to Quit Housing Authority

William J. Thurow

William J. Thurow said Monday he will resign from the Winona Housing and Redevelopment Authority board of commissioners after 15 years of service.

Thurow announced his decision at a WHRA meeting Monday after informing Mayor R. K. Ellings he planned to resign. Forthcoming planning and urban renewal projects will extend over the next several years, Thurow said, and he does not intend to stay on the board that long in any event. A successor should be appointed now so that he can acquire the necessary background and "get in at the beginning," Thurow told his colleagues.

Appointed by Mayor John Druey in 1949, Thurow was one of the original WHRA board members. He was the board's first president. His present term will expire in 1967. A successor will be appointed by Mayor Ellings, subject to City Council ratification.

Dirt Helps City Judge Decide Guilt

Country dirt and city dirt had some importance in the trial today in municipal court of Robert Hill, 73, Lewiston, on a charge of failure to yield the right of way to another vehicle, causing an accident.

The collision in question occurred Nov. 12 at West Broadway and Junction Street. It occurred between Hill's car moving north on Junction Street and a car driven east on Broadway by John E. Hill (no relation), 723 1/2 E. 2nd St.

ACCORDING TO Patrolman Lyle E. Latman, who investigated the accident, fresh dirt he found in the intersection marked the probable point of impact. He said that the different colored dirt was probably shaken off the bottom of John Hill's car (city) and of Robert Hill's car (country).

The defendant testified that the Winona Hill hit him across the center line on the north side of Broadway. John Hill disagreed.

Judge John D. McGill, in finding the Lewiston Hill guilty, said that he had the job of determining what credence could be put in the conflicting testimony. He said that testimony of the only impartial witness, Latman, caused him to find that John Hill was so close to the intersection when Robert Hill started across it, that the latter should have yielded the right of way.

JUDGE MCGILL accordingly fined Robert Hill $25, ordering that the fine be satisfied out of bail. The alternative would be eight days in jail.

City Prosecutor James W. Soderberg represented the state. Attorney Alton E. Bergh, St. Charles, represented the defense.

City Defers OK on Urban Renewal Grant

Execution of a contract for a federal planning grant will be deferred until legal sanction is obtained, the Winona Housing and Redevelopment Authority board decided Monday.

After wading part way through the multi-page contract drawn by the Housing and Home Finance Administration, board members said they would turn it over to the board attorney, C. Stanley McMahon, before acting further.

AT ISSUE was whether signing of the contract commits the city irrevocably to proceed with renewal in the planning area. Language of the contract indicates that it does. Commissioners balked, therefore, recalling that federal officials had specifically stated that acceptance of the planning grant did not mean an automatic go-ahead on renewal. City officials have preceded thus far on the assurance that, once the General Neighborhood Renewal Plan is finished, the city may drop the matter without cost or further commitment if it wishes.

Another source of confusion was a contract provision for interest charges on partial payments in advance from the planning grant. Commissioners said they did not understand the basis for charging interest for such advances since they are presumably part of the grant and not loans.

Executive Director Arthur Gallien said the HHFA expects the contract to be executed by Dec. 5 but that an extension would be granted on request. Today Gallien said A. D. Swartzel, regional urban renewal director at the Chicago HHFA office, had authorized the extension to Jan. 5, 1965.

The board's next regular meeting date is Dec. 15. A REPORT on objectives of the 26-block improvement plan was given by James Klein-schmidt, assistant director in charge of urban renewal. Klein-schmidt said $55,000 of the $77,600 grant would be devoted to a study of land marketability in the area after improvement and to preparation of an overall plan for the designated area. The two studies probably would be conducted separately, by different firms, he noted.

Topics covered by studies would include relocation of any displaced residents, integration of flood works and railroads into land use plans, parking facilities, identification and preservation of historical buildings, preservation of the city's unique river-front characteristics, possible modifications of various city codes and establishment of standards for residential and non-residential buildings.

The City Planning Commission, City Council and Citizens Advisory Committee for Urban Renewal will be invited to send representatives to meetings at which the authority takes up the business of hiring planning firms.

New Christmas Lights Go Up

New Christmas decorations — samples of those proposed for the entire downtown area beginning next year — are going up on Main Street between 3rd and 4th streets today.

The decorations, which are being placed on light poles, are illuminated and include a wreath five feet in diameter and a church window about 10 feet long.

Al Krieger is chairman of the Winona Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of the decorations.

MACHINE AGE . . . Using a tractor-mounted loading machine, workmen take new voting machines off a truck for temporary storage at Central Fire Station. Some of the machines will be set up soon in public places so voters can familiarize themselves with them. The machines will displace paper ballots in Winona, beginning with city elections in February. (Daily News photo)

Santa Plans 59 Hours In Winona

Is it that time of year already?

It must be, because Santa Claus is coming to town at noon Dec. 5.

What's more, he will be here a total of 59 hours — 20 hours more than he spent here last year — and a lot of time away from his workshop just before Christmas.

Santa will have an apple for each child that visits him at his local headquarters, 158 Main St. His hours will be: Dec. 5, noon until 5 p.m.; Dec. 7, 9 and 11, 4 until 8 p.m.; Dec. 12, noon until 5 p.m.; Dec. 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18, 4 until 8 p.m.; Dec. 19, noon until 5 p.m.; Dec. 21, 22 and 23, 4 until 8 p.m.

On Dec. 24 — Christmas Eve — he will be too busy with final preparations for his trip to spend any time at his headquarters here.

He will visit Winona later that night, however — while all good boys and girls are sleeping.

Household Finance Makes $100 Gift

A donation of $100 has been given St. Mary's College by Household Finance Corp., which has an office at 52 1/2 E. 3rd St.

The money, part of $92,050 given to 531 privately-supported liberal arts colleges and universities, will be used for the college's living endowment fund, paying for campus expansion.

Checks given by the firm ranged from $100 to $1,000, based on the full-time enrollment of the colleges.

Brother J. Gregory, college president, expressed the college's thanks to the firm for the donation.

Manager of Household Finance's Winona office is R. P. McFadden.

Police Check 3 Collisions

Three two-car collisions, one a hit-run, were recorded in Winona Monday afternoon and early Tuesday.

A collision at 4th and Lafayette streets Monday at 1:13 p.m. caused more than $200 damage to both cars and left one driver and her passenger bruised.

ROBERT E. Mueller, 313 E. 5th St., was driving south on Lafayette Street when a collision occurred with a car driven east on 4th by Pamela J. Schwalen, 21, Minneapolis. Miss Schwalen and a passenger, Judith D. Stevens, 21, Minneapolis, received bruises in the mishap but were not hospitalized.

Damage was to the right side of the Mueller car and to the front of the Schwalen vehicle. Patrolman Roy J. Nelson investigated.

A collision on icy surfaces at King and Harriet streets today at 12:14 a.m. caused more than $100 damage to both cars and left the drivers complaining of pain.

Bruce G. Clossway, 18, 425 W. Broadway was driving west on King Street when a collision occurred with a car driven south on Harriet Street by Mark T. Jenkins, 20, 1293 Wincrest Dr. A witness to the accident said that both drivers were traveling at a safe rate of speed but that the icy street surfaces kept them from stopping in time. Jenkins' car slid onto the southwest boulevard after impact, and Clossway's vehicle slid to the southwest curb.

Damage was to the front of Clossway's car and to the left side of the Jenkins car. Patrolman Joseph Bronk investigated.

LESTER F. Horton, 277 W. Mark St., reported to police Monday that his car was struck that day while parked facing west in front of 1770 Kraemer Dr. The hit-run driver did more than $100 damage to the left door and side of Horton's car.

The accident was not investigated at the scene by police.

Guard Armory Probably Set For Wincrest

A new armory in the Wincrest area appeared to be a definite possibility following inspection tours and conferences by visiting National Guard officers and property owners Monday afternoon.

Accompanied by city officials and representatives of Owl Realty Co., Brigadier Gen. Leon Hagen, Lt. Col. John Homcke and a state architect inspected a proposed five-acre tract at the junction of CSAH 107 and Conrad Drive. The building site proposed is on high ground about 150 yards northeast of the junction.

Guard officials were on the scene as the result of an offer several weeks ago by Owl Realty to donate a site. Several possibilities have since been examined but discarded. One stumbling block has been the standard Guard requirement that a site be furnished free, including adequate water and sanitary sewage facilities.

City officials have been unwilling to appropriate the sizable outlays that would be needed to serve some previously-considered sites, notably one at Max Conrad Field where costs could have hit an estimated $20,000.

City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. said the armory would be a permitted use in the R-1 area under the city's zoning code.

Although final details are still to be settled, Gen. Hagen's party appeared to be decidedly in favor of the area under consideration said Harold Briesath, City Council president, who accompanied the group.

Also on hand were Mayor R. K. Ellings, Ald. Henry Parks and Harold Thiewes, City Engineer James Baird and Ralph Leininger, engineering assistant, and Capt. David Lueck, commander of Winona's Company B.

69,919 Cars Counted on Prairie Island

Drawing visitors from 24 states and Canada this year, Latsch Prairie Island Park continues to be one of the Midwest's more popular tourist objectives.

A total of 69,919 cars, carrying an estimated 100,000 occupants, entered the park last vacation season, the Park-Recreation Board learned Monday. The figures were part of a report on park activity by M. J. Bambenek, director of parks and recreation.

The park's free facilities were used by 416 camping units — either trailers or tents — Bambenek said. Campers visiting the park numbered 1,835. Registration showed 178 campers were from Minnesota, 59 from Iowa, 50 from Wisconsin and 48 from Illinois. In all, they represented over 400 cities.

A westward expansion of the park's camping area is contemplated next year, Bambenek said. Under consideration by the Latsch Memorial Board, which administers the park, is an enlarged area extending to a point approximately even with the Dam 5A spillway. A bathing beach also will be established at nearby Straight Slough, Bambenek said. It will have some equipment but will not be serviced by lifeguards.

At the southern edges of the city, visitors left $818.86 in Garvin Heights coin-operated binoculars last season, Bambenek said. The department's share of the 8,188 dimes was $320.92, said Bambenek, who did not explain the odd figure. The three binoculars, mounted on swivel stands, are owned and maintained by a private firm which pays a commission for the concession privilege.

Drum Duo Highlights Swing Band's Concert

By MRS. VI BENICKE
Daily News Staff Writer

There's no doubt about it. The highlight of the Sunday evening concert of the Winona State College Swing Band was the drum duo performance of David Heyer, Winona Senior High School senior, and Jay Epstein, Winona State College freshman.

"Crash Landing" by Johnny Thompson was played as it has never been played before, I am sure. Not satisfied with beating the same old drums in the same old way, these two talented artists created different sounds and effects by alternately using sticks, brushes, mallets, fingers and hands. Four hands and feet were kept busy creating the tricky maneuvers and rhythmic sounds while the enthralled audience sat spellbound. The thunderous applause from the near-capacity crowd demanded an encore.

THE WSC SWING Band, directed by Fred Heyer, featured 14 men and 3 women playing five saxophones, four trombones, five trumpets, bass fiddle, piano and drums.

Orrin Hager, first trombonist and soloist, played his jump-style arrangement of "Fools Rush In," a ballad. He also soloed in an animated version of

"Off the Wall," an original by Bob Seibert.

Two bouncy originals written by Tim Dennis, graduate of North Texas State College, entitled "Blue Gasser" and "Clef Dwellers," and two originals by Oliver Nelson called "Miss Fine" and "Emancipation Blues," were played.

The last number has a different kind of rhythm. Emancipate means to set free, and the melody had a peculiar quality that made the listener want to be free of all inhibitions and to be filled with ecstasy.

To prove that all jazz is not fast and loud, the group played a beautiful, dreamy version of a ballad entitled "A Touch of Satin," an original by Bob Bieglar. Various passages started out slow and easy and then were built up into thrilling crescendos.

Linda Heyer, an 11-year-old student at Central Elementary School and daughter of the band leader, sang "An Apple for the Teacher" and "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." Linda possesses the necessary ingredients of a good vocalist: Sweet personality, perfect poise and good intonation.

Heyer, who always has a diversity of original material, played solos on saxophone, flute and trumpet and entertained the audience with his keen wit.

A SMALL COMBO of competent guest artists played Duke Ellington's "Take the A Train." Musicians and instruments they played were: Jerry Lehmeyer, Winona schools music instructor, piano; Gene Steffes, Galesville, music instructor in Trempealeau, trumpet; Ralph Benicke, Stockton, bass; John D. Wood, Winona schools music instructor, valve trombone and trumpet; Robert Schuh, Winona, band leader and teacher at Lewiston, trumpet; David Heyer, drums, and Fred Heyer, saxophone.

Schuh sang "Mac the Knife." The group's final number was an up-tempo version of Woody Herman's "Woodchopper's Ball," featuring Steffes, Schuh, Wood and Fred Heyer on trumpets. Benicke contributed a solid, moving bass solo.

Heyer presented five of his outstanding arrangements to the large nucleus of lay listeners: "Do You Ever Think of Me," an old standard; "Hello Dolly," an instrumental version; "The Girl from Impanema," a bossa nova; "My Funny Valentine," a ballad in a loping version, and "Just for Fun," done in a Court Basic-style arrangement.

THE GRAND FINALE included the entire swing band and all the guests, joining forces to play a mass rendition of "The Preacher," by Horace Silver, which set the place a-jumping. Music for this occasion was provided by a grant from the Recording Industries Trust Fund, obtained through the co-operation of Local 453, American Federation of Musicians.

Badger Official Charges Census Bureau Mistake

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A state official said Monday that the federal census bureau made an error in computing the tax burden of Wisconsin residents and the report "will hurt the state tremendously."

David Wiggins, director of economic development in the Department of Resource Development, said the census bureau comparison of taxes in the 50 states failed to account for 85 million dollars returned to Wisconsin taxpayers under the state's tax credit law.

The census bureau report last week showed that Wisconsin residents pay a greater portion of incomes for state and local taxes than residents of any other state.

"This is grossly in error, but people will go to their graves thinking this is true," Wiggins said. "While we're trying to promote industry in Wisconsin, other states will use the report as ammunition against us."

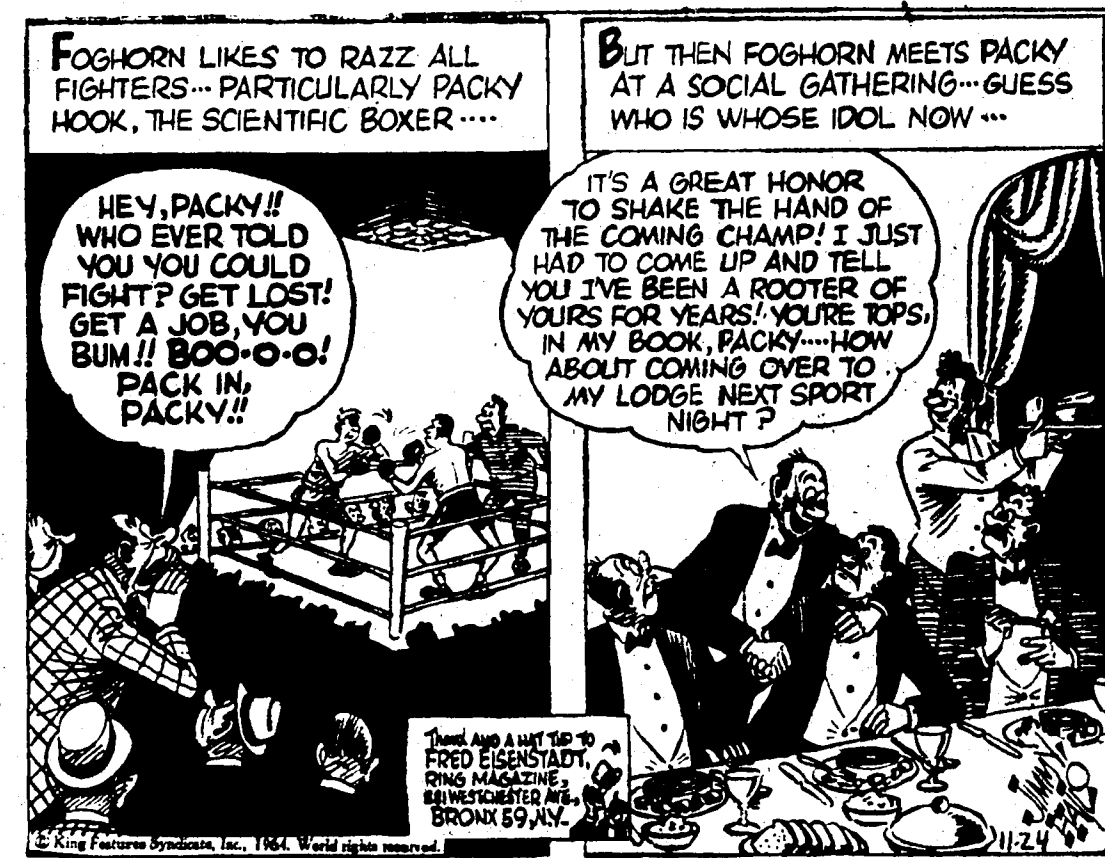

A census bureau spokesman in Washington said it "would be unusual for an error of this magnitude to be made." He said the report was based on information supplied by state and local governments. However, he said the report would be checked.

The report said a total of $120.76 in state and local taxes was collected for every $1,000 of personal income in Wisconsin. Vermont was second in the nation with $114.98. Wiggins said Wisconsin's figure should be closer to $110, still higher than the national average of $96.14.

Connie'll Skip Film Stardom

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Connie Francis is flinging aside her movie star opportunities . . . and maybe millions of $ . . . preferring to have a baby.

Don't misunderstand! It's merely planned motherhood. Connie's set autumn 1965 as the target date, and stepped out of an MGM movie which could conceivably (OOPS) advance her film career.

"I want to have a child and child with a governess while running to Hollywood for four months," Connie told me . . . with husband Dick Kanelis nodding approval.

"Did you manager?" — George Scheck — "O.K. you having a baby?" I asked.

"George wouldn't O.K. it till 1960!" Connie said. "When I told him to take it easy on bookings next fall, he said, 'We'll worry about that when it happens.'"

Connie, who'll be 26 on Dec. 12, will be recording as usual. "But to be a star in pictures is back-breaking," Connie said. "I'd rather forfeit the star billing and get a good small part that takes three weeks and lets me get back to my husband and child."

It's all very iffy, and just planning, at this point. Incidentally, so was the name of the Joe Pasternak picture Connie won't do. It was titled, "The Girl With the Definite Maybe."

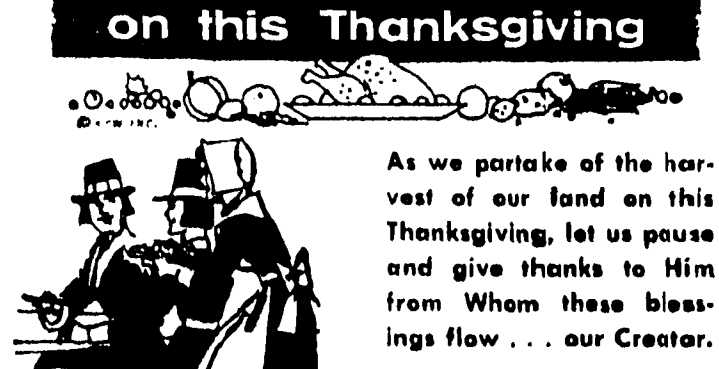

Caroline Kennedy was the greatest celebrity ever in the new Rainbow Room. Visiting there at tea time with a couple of adults (and Secret Service men) she was fascinated with the view and the pastry, and exclaimed, "Next time can I bring my mommy?"

The two stars of still another B'way show, both married, have been having secret suppers together. Bob Hope says that George Murphy'll be a good senator. He's already done something about the smog . . . he moved out of California.

There was this girl rabbit that applied for a secretarial job on Madison Av. and passed every test till the Personnel Director asked why she'd left her last job. She (The Bunny) replied, "The office got tired of taking up a collection every day to buy something for my new baby." Robert Alda's son Alan Alda

Lake City Plant Expanding

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) —The first shovel of soil was turned at ceremonies here Friday to launch the first phase of a multi-stage, million-dollar expansion program at Gould-National Batteries, Inc., branch plant here.

Among company officials present were F. W. Roth, president of the corporation which in 1958 purchased all stock of Gillett & Eaton, Lake City; White Machine Works, Eau Claire, and Arrowhead Steel Products Co., Howell, Mich., following the death of H. A. White.

THE PLANT HERE, is one of four plants known as the Gould Engine Parts Division. The fourth is at Philadelphia, Pa. The divisions manufacture and distribute piston rings, pistons, valves, valve seals, sleeves and sleeve assemblies as original equipment and for replacement markets throughout the U.S. and in foreign countries.

The 96-year-old plant was built by Harrison Gillett in 1868 on Lakeshore Drive across from McCahill play park. First castings included turbine water wheels, stoves, sled runners and farm engines, and repaired steamboat engines.

In 1871 the foundry erected a stone building on the present McCahill park site.

In 1901 Robert Eaton, employee of Gillett Iron Works, purchased James Gillett's interest, and the company became known as Gillett & Eaton.

THE COMPANY incorporated in 1917 and moved to a building on North 8th St. It obtained a contract for iron piston castings from Arrowhead Steel Products, Minneapolis, in 1923.

Five years later a building for machine shop operations was erected. By 1939, the first finished pistons were completed for White Machine Works, Eau Claire.

The foundry burned in 1940. Lake Citizens showed confidence in the company by voting to authorize construction of a warehouse. The foundry leased the warehouse from the city and purchased it in 1941. Following Robert Eaton's death in 1943, H. A. and H. D. White, Eau Claire, purchased controlling interest. In 1945 they constructed an addition to the machine shop; in 1948, they purchased the Arrowhead Steel Products at Howell, and built the present aluminum foundry in 1956.

THE COMPANY served the steamboat industry until 1934, when the last replacement part was made. One aspect of the company's business which has not changed during nearly a century of operation is production of gray iron castings. Mayor Harry Johnson, Mr. Roth and Walter Johnson, assistant business manager for Local 647, International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, wielded the shovel at the new plant stood by to start excavating for the addition to the cast iron foundry.

The program started with a tour of the plant. F. H. Jacobs, operations manager of the plant here, was moderator at the program, introducing W. C. Cheney, retired president. Other officers of Gould-Na-

North Korea Protests Vessels Off East Coast

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea charged today that four U.N. Command naval vessels intruded into its waters off Korea's east coast on 14 occasions between Nov. 16-23.

The charges were made at the 194th meeting of the Military Armistice Commission.

The U.N. Command said the charge would be investigated. But U.S. Rear Adm. Paul P. Blackburn Jr., the senior U.N. member of the commission, said the locations given for the alleged violations indicated the ships were in international waters.

tional Batteries, Inc., present were: A. D. Daggett, chairman of the board; E. I. Whyatt, corporation vice president-administration; J. O. Lutz, vice president and general manager for the division, and R. W. Howard, vice president-operations.

GUESTS FROM Lake City included John Partington, Harold Peters, Wilmer Strickland and Mrs. Mary Maxwell of the city council; B. C. Pool, business manager of Lodge 657, International Brotherhood of Boilermakers; Edwin Selck, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Jerome Schreiber, city attorney; the Rev. A. J. Ward and Glenn Dwell, members of the industrial planning committee, and M. E. Wempner, president of the local union.

Gould Engine Parts Division, the Lake City branch of Gould Batteries, Inc., St. Paul, will have a 10,102 square foot addition when the project is completed. Costing about a quarter million dollars, it is scheduled for completion by March.

Red China Insists on Nuclear Tests

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today its nuclear testing is a sovereign right and that Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato has no right to protest.

Red China's official Peking People's Daily said "China has every right to strengthen its defenses, so long as the U.S. nuclear threat persists. China will never be a party to the partial nuclear test ban treaty."

The paper recalled that Japan once invaded China and said that if war breaks out again "Japan, as an American nuclear base, will bear the brunt and be inevitably involved in a nuclear holocaust."

Commission Opposes Party Designation

THE GOVERNOR'S commission on Minnesota reapportionment has taken a stand against party designation for state legislators as one of its recommendations. While there will be opposition to that position, it is now felt by many the step is a wise one.

Not so many years ago party designation for legislators was given considerable support, but that was before the legislators themselves chose to make their views clear before — rather than after — elections. Now there is little doubt whether a candidate for the state house or state senate is a conservative or a liberal, which seems to be about all the designation that is really needed.

It is equally true that, with some exceptions, the conservatives are normally allied with the GOP, and the liberals with the DFL, so that there is party designation in fact if not in name.

THE GOVERNOR'S commission said it felt the present structure of the Legislature should remain unchanged — 67 senators and 135 house members, comprising one of the largest legislative bodies in the nation. It might well be that future consideration could be given to reducing the size of both chambers.

So far the commission has given no clue on how it stands with regard to proposed increases in legislators' pay, and indeed that subject may not be within the commission's scope of agenda. But the question will bob up, perhaps in the coming session, and deserves some thought. Whether present pay is adequate should be resolved by cold facts.

NO LEGISLATOR should be asked to serve the state at a personal financial sacrifice. Neither should the pay be so great as to make the job a political plum rather than an opportunity to serve.

Extended legislative terms tend to keep out of office some persons whose personal commitments simply prohibit their becoming candidates.

Few business or professional people can afford to leave their posts for four or more months, and the same goes for farmers in whose case spring is one of the most important periods of the year.

IN MAKING legislative adjustments, care must be exercised that the rules we provide for representatives and senators are not such that we limit membership only to the professional politicians. The present strength of our Legislature lies in the fact its membership comprises an equitable cross-section of the people of the state.

Overwhelming Case Against Medicare

PROPOSERS OF the Medicare plan for providing certain medical benefits to people drawing social security payments intimate, if they don't actually state, that next to nothing is being done to meet the medical problems of the needy elderly.

Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Sometime ago, the federal Kerr-Mills law came into being. This is a joint federal-state project, which puts the administrative responsibility where it belongs — at the local instead of the national level. It offers health care to all elderly people who are actually in need. And it is a complete program, encompassing hospital, nursing home, medical, dental, surgical and drug care. In this all-important respect, it offers much more than Medicare.

The taxpayers are meeting the bill for this. If Medicare also became law — and the strongest kind of pressure will be put behind it when Congress next convenes — we'll be paying twice, unnecessarily. And the Medicare bill would be no small one. It would increase the social security tax, borne by employers and employees, to 10.4 percent of the first $5,000 of annual income by 1971. That works out to $582.40 for each covered worker. Many think that even this wouldn't be sufficient to meet the costs, and that Medicare would imperil and undermine the whole social security system.

WE HAVE, in other words, under Kerr-Mills, a well conceived method of aiding the ill and infirm elderly. It can be further broadened and improved if that is found necessary. In addition, there are all manner of public and private welfare plans. The medical profession itself is pledged to provide care for all in need, regardless of the ability to pay. The case against Medicare is overwhelmingly strong.

Hoover, King In Hot Clash

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — On the surface, it may look as if the current controversy between J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, and Martin Luther King Jr., head of a leading Negro organization, merely concerns a question of veracity about incidents in Albany, Ga., in connection with the handling of complaints by Negroes and "civil rights" workers in that city. But the issue goes deeper. It involves the effort of organized groups to pressure governmental agencies into taking action to meet protests based upon passion and emotional feelings, rather than on the rules of law which require substantial evidence before arrests can be made.

The effort to convert the FBI into a political agency is not new. It has been evident in the activities of other pressure groups from time to time. Sooner or later, the FBI will have to be made an agency separate from the Department of Justice, unless the department itself becomes an independent agency.

For when it comes to the operations of the law, the citizens expect enforcement to be fair and impartial. The FBI cannot arrest a person merely on suspicion unless there is evidence to support such action. There are penalties for making false arrests.

A CASE which illustrates the caution that the FBI exercises can be cited in connection with the investigation of the murder of three "civil rights" workers in Mississippi a few months ago. The FBI, according to information which has been given out by high officials, has collected in that case certain information of an incriminating nature. But the making of arrests has been deferred in order to gather data which could make it possible to obtain convictions.

Law enforcement is not merely a matter of using the FBI as a national police force such as is found in totalitarian countries. The federal courts have in recent years, for example, released prisoners on the ground that they were improperly interrogated before they were arraigned.

Under the existing circumstances, the investigative agencies of the government feel that they must be very cautious and careful before they make arrests. But this will not satisfy those who think that certain suspects should be promptly arrested and tried.

IT IS SMALL wonder that J. Edgar Hoover seemed to give vent to impatience when he talked to a group of women reporters this week on the general subject of law enforcement. Mr. Hoover was particularly bitter about some of the activities of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. The FBI chief said that Mr. King had told members of his organization not to report acts of violence to the FBI in Albany, Ga., because the agents there are all southerners and would not do anything about such complaints. Mr. Hoover's reply was that the majority of FBI agents in the South are northerners, and that four of the five agents in Albany were born in the North.

The FBI director conceded that there have been difficulties with local authorities, some of whom, due to their prejudices, are lax in law enforcement involving violators of "civil rights." But the FBI has no authority over the state and local police, and has to depend on their voluntary cooperation. In cases where the local police cannot be relied upon, the FBI may increase its forces. But this does not mean that it can always gather enough evidence to bring a case against all persons suspected of violating "civil rights."

Somewhat the same dilemma confronts the FBI in connection with the measures that might have been taken to protect the late President Kennedy against assassination. It is natural for the FBI director to resent the criticism of his agency made in the report of the Warren Commission. For, as Mr. Hoover told his press conference this week, it is impossible to take out of circulation "every individual who might threaten the safety of the President" when the chief executive makes a public appearance, especially when he rides down city streets in an open automobile. The implication that somehow the FBI was responsible for the failure to prevent Lee Harvey Oswald from shooting Mr. Kennedy is resented by the FBI men who know the facts.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Congressional Chairman May Block LBJ Program

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Lyndon Johnson, who sat at the feet of a great presidential tactician — Franklin D. Roosevelt — during FDR's last eight years in the White House, has been refreshing his memory of history.

The history that interests Johnson is how Roosevelt, re-elected by a landslide vote in 1936, slipped so badly politically in 1938 that he lost 88 congressional seats to the Republicans. Johnson doesn't want that to happen to him.

Yet in one respect he finds himself in somewhat the same position as Roosevelt. After carrying every state except Maine and Vermont in 1936, Roosevelt had the popular support, but found that the Supreme Court had the power. It could and did veto his essential legislation.

TODAY, WITH the biggest electoral margin in history, Johnson has the popular support, but the chairmen of congressional committees — like the Supreme Court in 1936 — have the power over legislation.

At the last congressional session, LBJ, by dint of arm-twisting, cajoling, job-promising, and a record amount of telephoning managed to pass most of his legislation. But at times it almost exhausted him. No other President could have done it. Certainly Kennedy had not been able to do it. And no President should be required to take so much time from the vital duties of conducting foreign and executive affairs to be combined wet-nurse, babysitter, and chaperone for Congress.

Therefore Johnson faces the question of whether to do what FDR did with the Supreme Court and force a showdown over the antiquated seniority system whereby one congressional committee chairman can keep legislation from coming up for a vote by all 435 members of the House; and sometimes — though less easily — do the same thing in the Senate.

WHAT THE President well remembers, is how his mentor, Franklin Roosevelt, took a political beating with his so-called "court-packing" bill and lost the battle. However, he did not lose the war. The Supreme Court, as a direct result of that battle, has been a "Roosevelt court" ever since. It has been the most important body of government to follow FDR's philosophy long after his death.

Johnson, who came to Washington when the Supreme Court fight was still bitterly reverberating, remembers all this. However, he is inclined to be more cautious than FDR, especially when it comes to tangling with one of the sacred cows of Congress — seniority.

After all, Johnson benefited from seniority himself and worked with many southern chairmen who swear by it. Furthermore he can argue, just as Roosevelt could have argued, that under our system of checks and balances, this is something over which the executive branch of government has no jurisdiction. He has a good excuse for ducking a showdown.

BEING A realist, however, he also knows that a few talks with the right congressional leaders could start the Democratic caucus on the road to changing the antiquated seniority system for years to come. He could do this not only for himself, but for other presidents to come. All it takes is a one-vote majority in the Democratic caucus of both the house and senate to change the system. And this should not be difficult for a man with Lyndon's influence, persuasion and vote-getting prestige.

So the question is: Does Lyndon want to make history? Or does he want to play for the short range stakes of passing his presidential program?

The answer is that, in general, Johnson wants to play for history. But he also wants to avoid the sudden dip in popularity and the loss of 88 house seats which FDR suffered in 1938.

This brings up another chapter in FDR's record which Johnson knows about, but which other politicians have forgotten.

The chief reason for Roosevelt's political slump so soon after his 1936 landslide was not the court-packing bill, but a depression. And FDR was largely responsible for applying the economic brakes which caused the depression.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Southeast Asian Eyes on China

By MARQUIS CHILDS

NEW DELHI — The shock wave of the Chinese nuclear explosion is a jarring, shattering force throughout Asia with consequences as yet incalculable. However much it may have been discounted in advance, the mushroom cloud that rose above the distant horizon remains as an ominous specter.

Lal Bahadur Shastri, the smiling dedicated little man who succeeded Jawaharlal Nehru as Prime Minister, has said both in public and in private that India will not follow the Chinese example and build a nuclear bomb but will instead follow the Nehru path of peaceful competition in providing a better life for the Indian people.

India could build a bomb perhaps in as short a time as two years from materials out of India's advanced nuclear project for which Canada provided the principal reactor. Dr. Homi Jehangir Bhabha, director of India's Atomic Energy Commission, has urged an immediate start on a nuclear device to be exploded at the earliest opportunity. He argues that this can be done at a bargain-basement rate although his figures have been challenged. Bhabha's critics call him "The Edward Teller of India," referring to the American physicist who opposed the nuclear test-ban treaty and urged continued weapons testing.

RHABHA IS not alone in pushing for an immediate go-ahead on a nuclear device. The political opposition is making loud noises in Parliament as subtle pressure grows to show that India can keep pace with China. In India's Naval War College a poll taken immediately after the Chinese explosion showed 75 percent against India following China's example and 25 percent for going ahead. When the same question was asked the other day these figures were exactly reversed.

Problems involving time and prestige confront Shastri and his government. Plagued by a serious food shortage and other internal problems, India must show that the way of democracy is at least as successful as the way of China's totalitarianism. At a New Asian-African conference in Algiers in the spring a showdown is likely to come with the stake being whether India can sustain the position of leadership out of the past of Gandhi and Nehru.

IT IS HERE that the unhappy triangle—India, Pakistan, the United States—adds a dimension of extraordinary complexity. A complete and carefully detailed plan to provide India a full range of military assistance—ground, air and naval—was worked out after the immediate crisis of the Chinese attack of two years ago had passed. Approved at one level in Washington the plan was finally frustrated. One reason was the unyielding opposition of Pakistan, fearful that advanced weapons put in Indian hands would be turned against Pakistan in the bitter quarrel over Kashmir.

Most observers agree there can be no real security in the subcontinent until that quarrel is resolved. How to do it is the sticking point as one solution after another fails. The answer today seems farther off than ever as China seems to widen the gap and makes up to Pakistan.

AT THE beginning of his campaign in September, Vice President-elect Hubert Humphrey discussed the need to include India and Pakistan in a counterbalancing force against Communist China rather than concentrating to such a large extent on Viet Nam. Because of his keen interest in the region Humphrey is expected to visit India and Pakistan some time in the next six months, perhaps as early as mid-December. This could well have priority over a Humphrey mission to Europe since the Gulf of fear and distrust ever widening in Asia cannot be ignored.

He would not come as a mediator. That has been tried in the past with a conspicuous lack of success, notably at the time of the beleaguered Indian government got the idea that pressure was being applied in a moment of extreme danger.

Letters to The Editor

Campaign Coverage
Pleased At Quile

To the Editor:

Now that the 1965 political campaign is ended, I want to take this opportunity to thank you, Mr. White, and your associates at the Daily News for the excellent way my campaign activities were reported.

The coverage was outstandingly accurate and well-balanced. You gave both sides an opportunity to fully express their views through your news presentations.

The news media of the First District have done an outstanding job, according to the highest ethical values of journalism. In this way, you have contributed a vital service to the people of the First District, and to the democratic process as a whole, for the smooth operation of democracy is certainly largely dependent on a free and objective presentation of news.

I want to especially thank you for the editorial endorsement, which I certainly appreciated. This expression of confidence in me, made frankly before your readers, inspires me to continue working conscientiously in the best interests of the people of the First District and of the country.

My thanks and admiration for a job well done.

Albert H. Quile
Member of Congress

ger. But he will bring a sympathetic knowledge of the tragic division and an acute awareness of how rapidly time is slipping by.

Events in the immediate future could speed up the tempo. If China were to set off two or three additional explosions, which is considered quite possible, the case of those who want to go ahead with a nuclear bomb in India would be greatly strengthened. Shastri would be hard-pressed to resist the mounting pressure.

AT TIMES it is as though fantasy had supplanted reality in the nightmare of a race for nuclear arms. The Indian papers carry the news from Jakarta of an announcement by the Indonesian government that Indonesia will detonate its first atomic bomb next year and that at the same time ICBMs will be available.

This may be fiction — no one really knows. The story may have been inspired by Peking as part of the cold war against India just as Peking encouraged and aided the Indonesian attack on Malaysia. It may be reality, with a nuclear potential achieved with help from China.

The transition after the passing of Nehru was made with remarkable calm. But it may be that the real test is still to come, and that test calls for steady nerves and a strong sustaining sense of the cooperation of friendly nations.

Conrad Set for 142nd Flight Across Atlantic

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Max Conrad, at 62 a handsome old man of the skies, swore "never again" after his first flight across the Atlantic in 1950 but he now is planning his 142nd ocean crossing.

The flying grandfather, a Winona, Minn., native now living in Prescott, Ariz., spoke to a women's club Monday. His blue eyes sparkled as Conrad, always the romanticist, told in a soft voice about his career as a light plane pilot.

"Out on the ocean all by yourself you get terribly honest," said Conrad. "You see stars up above and you can almost touch them, it seems. You realize they didn't get there themselves."

On that first flight across the Atlantic in 1950, he reminisced, ice formed on the plane and the communications system went out. The aircraft, which normally cruised at about 100 miles per hour, slowed to 60, almost to the stalling point. Conrad started thinking of his wife and their children.

"I had started lowering, getting more and more ice, when I saw a hole in this cloud," he said. "I let the plane down through it and suddenly — under the clouds there — as warm air and the ice peeled off."

"Afterward I crossed my heart: There would never, never be another Atlantic crossing."

The resolution was quickly forgotten, and Conrad continued solo flights across the Atlantic, over the Pacific, and around the world. He said he flies because he gets paid to ferry planes, because he promotes an aircraft company, and because he loves to fly.

Conrad's hair is grey and there are lines in the face of the tall, slender flier. Still there is something boyish about the features of this adventurer who passes much of his time aloft by playing the harmonica and writing poems and music.

As a youngster, athletics and music were everything to Conrad. He won handball titles and a record in high jumping, and became proficient on the violin, cello and banjo. Conrad had no intention of becoming a pilot.

Then, in 1927, Charles Lindbergh flew across the Atlantic and Conrad, a student at the University of Minnesota, was stirred. He learned to fly and soon was barnstorming and teaching flying in Winona.

"It was awfully exciting," he said.

But it was nothing compared with that September night in 1951 when the Conrads' last child, their 10th, was born. Max delivered the baby himself. "My five oldest daughters thought I ought to learn the facts of life," he chuckled. "So we put the younger ones to bed, cleaned up the house and warmed the fireplace. I had tried to read up, but I didn't remember anything."

He sat by his wife, Betty, for a couple hours, holding her hands. Finally, the time came. "I just did what she told me," Conrad recalled. "Then I called in the kids and we looked at the baby and named her 'Annie' right there."

"It was the most wonderful experience of my life."

City Planning Expert Killed in Mountain Mishap

STINSON BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The assistant Marin County coroner said Monday that Catherine Bauer Wurster, 59, a University of California city planning professor, died from exposure after suffering a brain concussion in a fall from a high slope overlooking the Pacific Ocean.

William C. Bradley said an autopsy showed contusions on Mrs. Wurster's forehead that could have been caused by a fall on a flat, blunt rock.

She was found Monday on a 2,000-foot level slope on 2,604-foot Mt. Tamalpais, north of San Francisco's Golden Gate. Mrs. Wurster had been missing since Saturday afternoon.

Oklahoma Teachers Hard Put

WASHINGTON (AP) — Education's problems were easy to solve in Colonial America. If you needed a teacher, you simply went down to the docks and bought one off an incoming ship from Europe.

The day of the indentured servant, working out a term of virtual slavery in the New World, are long gone. But many of today's teachers believe their status has not improved much over the centuries.

And this is the basic cause of the teacher rebellion sweeping the nation — the growing conviction of teachers that they will always be treated as second-class citizens unless they take matters into their own hands.

Oklahoma is a case in point. Last Nov. 3, Oklahoma voters rejected four statewide propositions dealing with education. One would have provided a teacher salary increase.

Oklahoma teachers reacted by taking a one-day "professional holiday," and carrying their protest to the legislature. Unless the state government acts on their behalf, they may strike late this school year, or boycott the classrooms next fall.

The starting salary for a teacher in Oklahoma is $3,800 a year. The average salary is $5,160 — 33rd in the 50 states.

True, this is for a nine-month school year. But teachers point out that they are expected to go to college during the summer months, and better pay depends on advanced preparation.

"How about a young man starting out?" asks Oliver Hodge, state superintendent of schools in Oklahoma.

"How does he pay his rent and his grocery bill on $3,800 a year — before deductions? I just don't see how he can do it."

"I'm afraid we're in for plenty of trouble if something substantial isn't done for our teachers."

Oklahoma also points up the fact that there is a teacher shortage in a nation with an abundant supply of teachers.

"Last year, Oklahoma institutions awarded teaching certificates to 5,098 young men and women," Hodge said in an interview.

"But at most, 1,200 of these young people became teachers in Oklahoma. The others went to other states to teach, or entered some other field."

Ballot Hard To Understand

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school teacher, so you know I am at least as intelligent as the average person, but when I received my sample ballot, I had great difficulty understanding it. The language is so confusing that I actually had to read it four times before I knew whether my YES or NO would mean what I wanted it to mean. For instance, in Proposition 15, which (in Calif.) is the issue dealing with whether or not we want paid television, if we vote YES, it means, "No, don't want it." If we vote NO, it means, "Yes, we DO want it." Is it necessary to word the propositions so that most people vote exactly the opposite of how they intend to vote?

DEAR JUST: No!

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a wonderful man. He is my second husband. I ran into my first husband, who is also married again, and he tells me he still loves me and he KNOWS that one day we will be together again. What does this mean? Now I can't think straight. We were divorced for five years. I thought I loved my second husband until this happened. Do you think we could be married to the wrong people? I need advice.

ABBY
CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: It sounds to me as though your first husband has had second thoughts about his second wife. Leave well enough alone. If you "thought" you loved your present husband, keep right on loving him, and tell Number One to make the best of it with Number Two because that's what you intend to do.

DEAR ABBY: I read about some of the ridiculous wedding customs sent to you from readers. Kidnapping the bride, filling her shoes with money, etc. The one I think takes the cake is when the wedding guests keep hitting their water glasses with silverware until the bride and groom give them a demonstration of a long, passionate kiss. I am going to be married soon and I do not care to put on this kind of performance in front of a bunch of gawking half-tipsy spectators. I have considered kissing the matron of honor as a means of sobering up the sightseers. Have you a better suggestion?

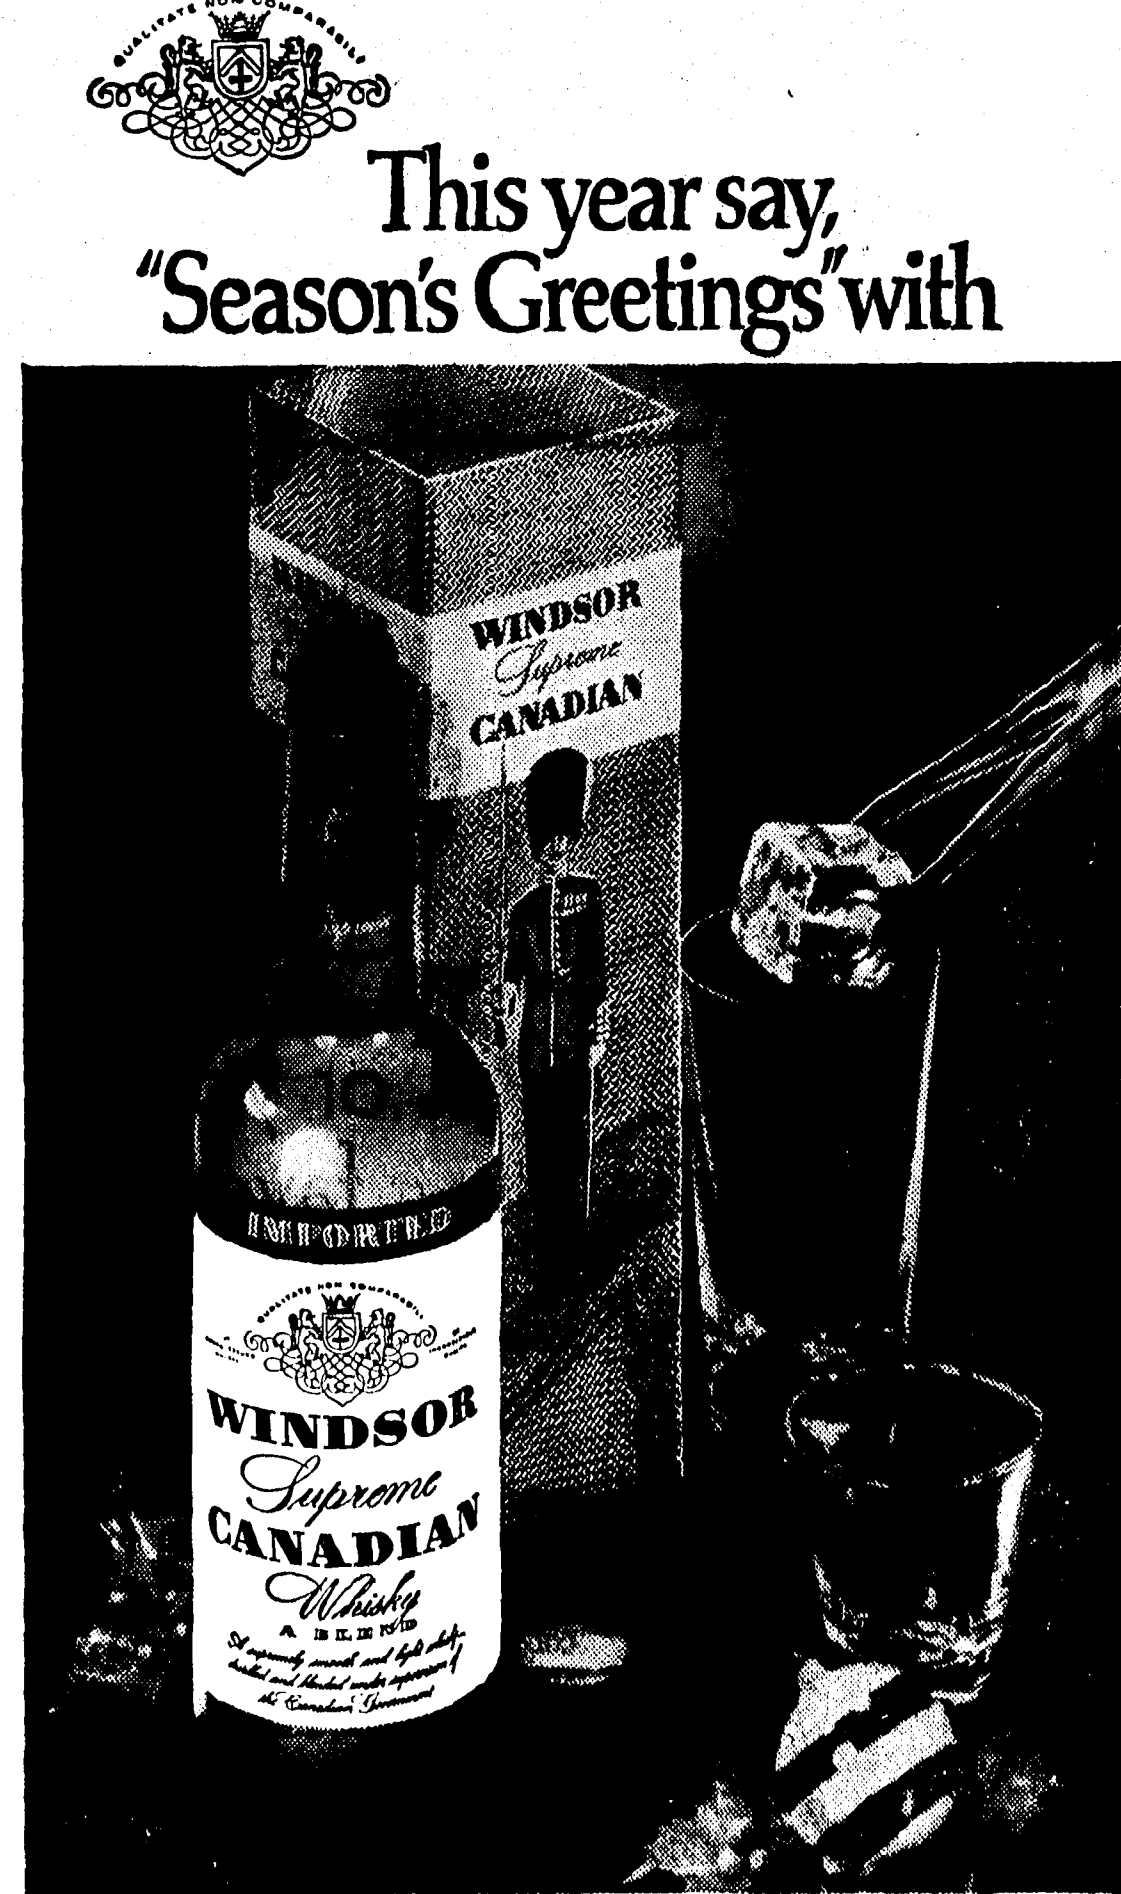

IN LOVE BUT NOT INSANE

DEAR IN LOVE: Yes. If you really want to sober 'em up, kiss the best man!

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for your wonderful answer to "UNENLIGHTENED" — that teenager who had just learned that her parents had not been married quite long enough when she was born. You have answered a question I have wanted answered for four years. Our first was born early as our marriage was late. I've felt guilty and ashamed ever since, and worried so for fear the child would find out about it later. You have helped me a lot. I feel like a weight has been lifted off my shoulders. Thank you. "RELIEVED"

Doctors Watch French Quints

PARIS (AP) — Doctors keeping vigil over the new French quintuplets said today their condition will remain precarious for at least 10 or 12 days.

The three boys and two girls born prematurely Monday to a postman's 27-year-old wife lay in incubators at the pediatric center of the Paris Faculty of Medicine.

The mother, Mrs. Raymond Sambor, gave birth about two months ahead of schedule in a private clinic in suburban Asnieres, where her 35-year-old husband delivers mail. She was reported in excellent health.

The babies, weighing less than three pounds each, arrived at intervals of about 10 minutes. The Sambors also have two sons, Yves, 5, and Jean-Paul, 3. Sambor, who has been making $120 a month as a postman, said he was worried about the future.

Computer Picks Brother as Date

PROVO, Utah (AP) — If a computer can be embarrassed the Brigham Young University electronic brain should be blushing.

Once a year the computer makes matches for a dance, pairing boys and girls with similar interests.

Bonnie Mitchell, 18, Provo, a red-haired freshman, asked for a tall boy with dark hair and blue eyes, who likes entertainment and looks on marriage favorably.

The male picked for her by the computer from BYU's 15,500 students was tall, had asked for a date with a red-haired girl, likes entertainment and looks on marriage favorably.

He was Richard Mitchell, 19, Bonnie's brother. Bonnie went to the weekend dance with Richard and said she had an "interesting" time.

A "Tennessee Walking Horse National Celebration" is held the first week of September each year at Shelbyville, Tenn.

SOMETHING TO LIVE BY

Take Time to Be With Children

By BILL MERRILL

We keep talking about the problem of delinquency, when to a great degree, it can be dealt with directly in the living room, family car, or back yard. Strange, isn't it!

I suspect that many a mother or dad has spent restless hours asking themselves, "What happened, and where," when the kids are going in the wrong direction and become strangers in their own surroundings, family-wise.

A long time ago someone came to the conclusion that it's not juvenile delinquency, but rather, adult delinquency. But why? I question if one can do justice to the subject in a few short moments, but the answer to adult delinquency lies partly in the fact that parents have overlooked some simple everyday opportunities to get next to the inner boy or girl.

That's why the problem can be corrected, in many cases, in the living room, family car, or back yard. I'm referring to "togetherness."

Too often the trouble lies in the fact that Mother and Dad fail to take time to live with the kids. I mean on their level — learning to listen to their ideas, exchanging comments and thoughts. Turn the TV down and try some leading questions like, "Anything new, John?" Or, "What would you like to do this Saturday, Mary?"

Togetherness — that's what many a teenager feels he or she needs, but is so far out of reach with his parents, he can't even express the need — only rebellion.

RECENTLY WE spent an afternoon in our compact. Now, there's togetherness. A drive in the country, chit-chat, and finally, a stop for treats.

Merrill

time. It takes time, humbleness, and sincerity.

PERHAPS THE essence of togetherness is most noted when Dad can suggest a family council. A family council is where each one can talk freely without the danger of reprisal. Subject matter ranges from practicing the music lessons, to the kind of friends the younger set is associating with, to Dad's spending too much time in business. Mom might even come up with some reflections on her end of this adventure of living and togetherness, but in all, it's a healthy condition. Make the family a family project that will prevent delinquency, both adult and juvenile. And remember, someone has said, and it still holds, "...The family that prays together, stays together." Yes, sir, togetherness is one of the best solutions to the threat of waywardness.

Bill Merrill's "Something to Live By" may be heard daily over KWNO at 6:50 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bisping

Ann Waterbach, Gary Bisping Exchange Vows

Miss Ann Marie Waterbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Waterbach, 518 Mankato Ave., and Gary Bisping, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bisping, Dorchester, Iowa, were married Nov. 14 at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church.

THE REV. Milo L. Ernster officiated. Organist was Sister Mary Edward and the Children's Choir sang.

The bride chose her sister, Miss Patricia Waterbach, as maid of honor. Miss Alice Treadle was bridesmaid and Paula Waterbach, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Best man was Gale Bisping, brother of the groom, and groomsmen were Eric Bisping and John Bureau.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of cameo peau de soie. The fitted bodice had a scoop neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves applied with reembroidered lace. The sheath-style skirt had lace appliques and a pleated banding at the hem line. Worn with it was a bouffant, chapel-length train. Her veil of imported English illusion was held by a tailored bow with a cluster of orange blossoms, all dyed to match the cameo color. She carried a bouquet of gardenias.

HER ATTENDANTS were attired in floor-length gowns of dark teal-blue peau de soie. Matching veils were held by teal-blue bows. Their bouquets were of white mums.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece green brocade ensemble and the groom's mother, a beige suit. Both had corsages of pink roses.

A reception and dinner for 300 guests was held at the Teamsters Club. Assisting were the Misses Sharon Malli, Lois Storandt, Janet Sadowski, Pat Wiffler, Nancy Wood and Judie Wicks.

The bride is a graduate of Cotter High School and St. Francis School of Nursing, La Crosse. The groom, a graduate of Waukon (Iowa) High School and St. Francis School of X-ray Technology, is employed at St. Mary's Hospital, Wausau, Wis. They will make their home in Schofield, Wis.

THE BRIDE was honored at pre-nuptial parties at the homes of the Misses Storandt and Treadle, La Crosse, and Miss Sadowski, Winona, and at the Winona Athletic Club.

The groom's parents were hosts at a rehearsal dinner at the Hot Fish Shop.

European Union May Hurt U.S. Exports, Iota Chapter Told

"There will be tremendous repercussions all around the world if the countries of Western Europe which are now working on economic unity succeed in bringing this about," Miss Viva Tansey told members of Iota Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, at a dinner meeting of the organization Monday night.

"THE UNITED STATES has consistently favored some kind of European unity," Miss Tansey said, and pointed out that the United States took one of the first steps, in recent attempts at unity, with the inauguration of the Marshall Plan.

To aid the members in seeing the potentials and implications of a unified Western Europe, Miss Tansey traced the background of unity efforts in the past and at the present time, using charts and graphs to illustrate the discussion. The materials compared the United States, the USSR, and a unified Western Europe in such areas as population, size and gross national products.

She explained that at the present time two European organizations for unity exist: the EEC (European Economic Community) which consists of Belgium, France, Holland, Italy, Luxembourg and West Germany, commonly known as the "Inner Six," and the EFTA (European Free Trade Association) which consists of Austria, Denmark, Great Britain, Norway, Portugal, Sweden and Switzerland. Known and the "Outer Seven."

THE SIX nations of the EEC are united in three "going" organizations, she said. All of which are working together for some specific purpose. These are: the Coal and Steel Community, the Common Market, and the Euratom Committee. The latter is for the pooling of resources and the developing of atomic energy for peaceful purposes.

"One of the important aspects of the unity of Western Europe," she told the group, "is that it would be the greatest bulwark against communism."

A major problem at the present time, Miss Tansey said, is the problem of agreement on common agricultural policy. The ability and inability to arrive at a satisfactory compromise on prices will have serious ramifications for the unity of Western Europe.

THE UNITED STATES is concerned about this problem, she said, because its outcome will greatly affect agriculture exports.

Miss Tansey, an instructor in modern problems at the Winona Senior High School, was introduced to the group by Miss Mildred Arndt.

The business meeting which preceded the dinner and program at Fellowship Hall, Central Lutheran Church was presided over by Miss Ruth Kottschade, Chapter president.

Area Catholic Daughters Attend Plainview Workshop

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special) — St. Joachim's Court of Catholic Daughters, Plainview, was host Sunday afternoon at an area district workshop at St. Joachim's Catholic Church.

The workshop was the first such meeting held in the district under a new arrangement whereby Catholic Daughters meet in their own areas and not in a state-wide workshop. The Plainview event was the sixth and last to be held in the state this season.

THE WOMEN from Winona who attended were Mrs. Ross Nixon, grand regent of Winona Court 191, Catholic Daughters of America, and the Mmes. Theodora Lester, Carl Heiting, William J. Kelberer, Helen Foreman, Michael Sossalla and John Wildenborg and the Misses Esther Thrune, Ceil Grand and Dorothy Thrun.

Among the 90 women present were those also representing courts in Minneapolis, Caledonia, West Concord, Mazeppa and St. Charles, Minn.

The area workshop was held for the purpose of making plans for the coming year, for reviewing the last year's activities and for arranging programs so that the officers can better conduct their business in their regular court meetings.

TEN ROUND-TABLE talks were given by various speakers on a variety of topics.

Mrs. Dorothy Willette, Easton, Minn., state leadership chairman, was in charge of the 12:30 p.m. registration. Mrs. Verna Mabbutt, St. Charles, district deputy, presided.

The grand regent of the Plainview Court, Miss Maxine Williams, extended the welcome to the 60 women representing courts outside of Plainview.

THE REV. S. E. Mulcahy gave the invocation and Miss Williams talked on flag etiquette. The Rev. James Fasnacht, St. Charles, was a special guest.

Refreshments were served during a social hour by Mmes. Arthur Stephan, Vincent Clausen, David Leonard and Miss Josephine Mulligan.

MISS CONSTANCE PAULINE BROWN'S engagement to William John Rehm, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rehm, Preston, Minn., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brown, Lanesboro, Minn. Miss Brown is a 1964 graduate of Lanesboro High School and is attending Winona Secretarial School. Her fiancé is a 1962 graduate of Cresco (Iowa) High School and attended Vocation School at Omaha, Neb. He is employed in Winona. (Ellickson Photo)

Wenzel-Hungerholt Vows Exchanged in St. John's Church

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — Arlene Hungerholt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyer, Rushford, became the bride of Wayne Wenzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wenzel, Lewiston, Minn., Nov. 14 at St. John's Lutheran Church, Hart, Minn.

The Rev. Edwin Friedrich officiated. Mrs. Friedrich played the organ and Miss Sharon Meyer, Rochester, sang.

MISS MARY WENZEL, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Wayne Meyer, brother of the bride, best man. Kenneth Boehmke, Rushford, and Arnold Bartelson, Lewiston, were ushers.

The bride wore a light-blue floor-length gown with fitted lace bodice, three-quarter length sleeves and taffeta bell-shaped skirt with a pleated back panel and waist bow. A blue crown of pearls and crystal held her short matching veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and red carnations.

CAMPUS ADDITION . . . Rising on west Howard Street is Winona State College's combination food service and student union building, part of which is shown above. The row of windows along the bottom of the building opens into the union part, being built half above and half below the ground level. Food service area is above. Shown is part of one such wing, all — along with a kitchen area — that is being built now. An identical wing will be added later on the other side of the kitchen unit.

Student Union Building Runs Ahead of Schedule

Winona State College's first student union, now being built in combination with a food service expansion, is scheduled for completion Aug. 1, 1965.

The student union will occupy the first floor of the two-story building and will be half above and half below grade level. Its floor will be 5½ feet below the ground.

THE FOOD service dining area will occupy all of the second floor, except for two lounges reserved for alumni.

The dining and union wing will measure 120 by 106 feet. At its east end is being built a kitchen area, which will bring the total length of the building to 214 feet.

The kitchen is being built large enough to handle another dining and union wing, the same size as the one now being built, which eventually will be constructed east of the kitchen.

The part of the union now being built will have room for 12 bowling lanes. Six of these will be installed, and the space that would be taken by the other six will be used for ping pong, pool and billiard tables.

The first floor will also have a lounge that will measure 72 by 30 feet, four small meeting rooms for campus organizations and office space.

ECKERT & Carlson is the architectural firm handling plans for the building. Howard Keller is the general contractor, and is also building a new dormitory in the same block as that in which the union and food service building is being constructed.

Total cost of construction of both buildings will be $1.5 million, of which slightly more than half will go for the union and food service. Construction began in September and currently is ahead of schedule.

The boys spend nine months on the farm learning farm methods and three months studying at the University of Minnesota. After this time they either return to Germany or else visit various places in the United States on their own.

The Luehmanns were invited to return sometime in the future and show more films of East and West Berlin.

It was decided to hold the second card party in January. The committee is comprised of Mmes. Lawrence, Jack and John Oevering. ## County Boards Ask for More Local Controls ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — The perennial plug for home rule was voiced by some 350 delegates to the Association of Minnesota Counties convention Monday night.

"We want big government shackles on our boards removed," was the way one commissioner put it as the resolution got overwhelming approval.

Adoption of the home rule provision by the Legislature would permit county boards to settle many of their own matters, said the proposal, adding:

"The association recognizes that the volume of special legislation has always created a problem for the Legislature because of the time needed to process the multitude of requests which come before it each session."

The association also adopted these other suggestions by its county administration committee:

That the Legislature adopt as policy the principle that no special law will be enacted when a general law can be made applicable.

That county boards use

Sen. Knowles Heads National Conference Of State Legislators

NEW RICHMOND, Wis. — Sen. Robert P. Knowles of New Richmond was elected president of the National Conference of State Legislative Leaders Friday at the sixth annual meeting of the group in New Orleans, La.

Sen. Knowles, brother of Wisconsin Governor-elect Warren F. Knowles, is the Senate majority leader in the state legislature.

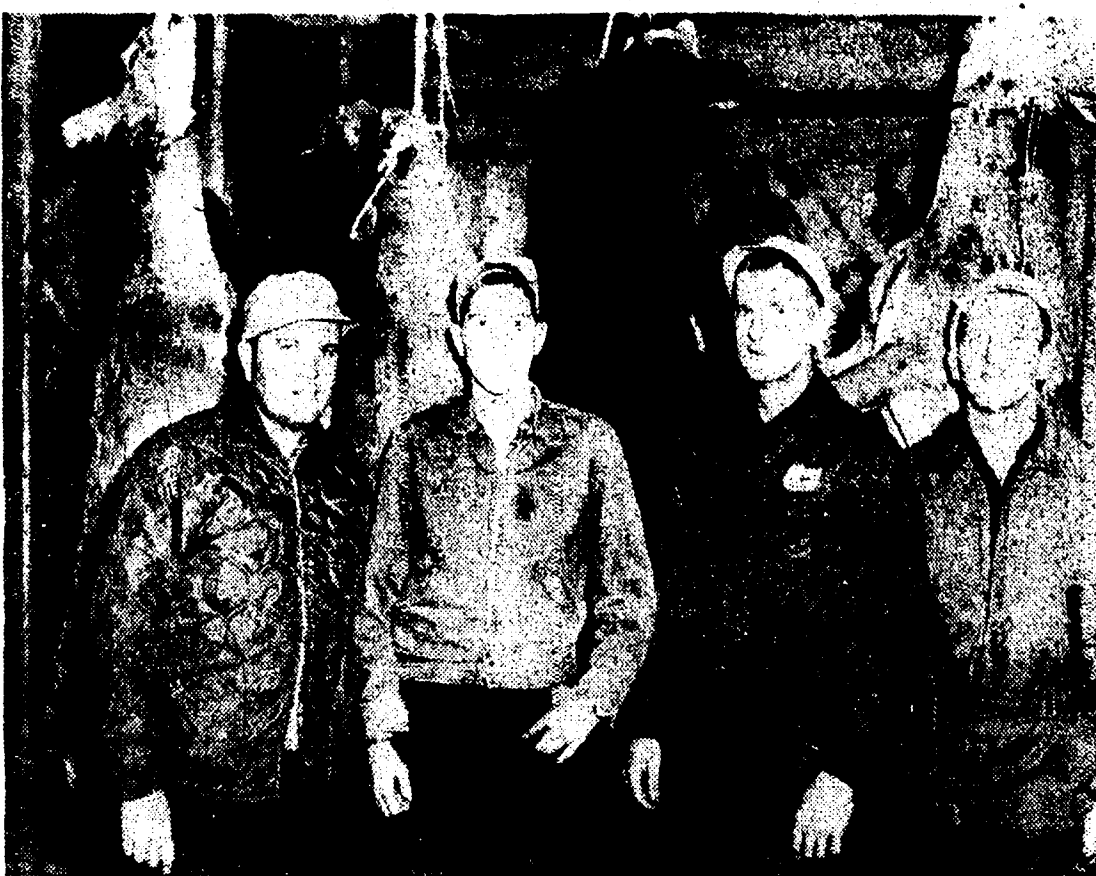

While in New Orleans, Sen. Knowles was the principal speaker at the New Orleans Young Men's Business Club.

restraint in requesting special legislation where general legislation can be enacted.

Delegates also called for eliminating the fee system for compensating county officers; a requirement that coroners be medical doctors, and that the position be made appointive rather than elective; a study of the need for a statewide public defender system, for pre-trial and trial defense of indigent defendants.

In a speech earlier Monday, Hennepin County Attorney George Scott suggested that a regional or state training school should be set up to better acquaint law enforcement officers and prosecutors with current developments in their fields. He said it is needed to help curb the rising crime rate.

Voice of the Outdoors

They Got a Bear

It's no fun to have a wounded 300-pound bear charging down at you, Floyd Baker Jr., St. Charles big game hunter, is ready to admit. In fact, the one pictured above which he wounded kept coming until he pumped two additional slugs into it. It weighed 300 pounds.

It all happened near Carlton, Minn., during the last weekend of the Minnesota deer season. The bear rose up in front of Baker as he moved through the cover. The shooting followed with a nice fat black bear to bring home.

Wisconsin Deer

The high ratio of success among Wisconsin deer hunters, in the any-deer zone of Western Wisconsin over the weekend, should be convincing evidence that the Minnesota Legislature should give its Game and Fish division authority to establish a regulation that would permit at least a later season in Southern Minnesota if not statewide.

It was cold and disagreeable

Saturday, as any hunter would desire. The hardest complained of the cold in the Tiffany Public Hunting Grounds before sunrise Saturday. Their hands were cold. Even with winter fishing attire, the cold crept through and the wind bit sharply.

But by 10 a.m. they were dragging deer through the light snow. Twenty deer already were in Pepin. However, it was Sunday that the slaughter took place. Everyone seemed to have a deer. The registration stations were the busiest places in every river town.

How many deer were taken will not be known until mid-week. The reports were not due at Black River Falls from the two-day any-deer zone until Monday night. There is no question that the total harvest exceeded 1963.

For the rest of this week, through Sunday, the river counties are open to buck hunting with horns in excess of three inches long. In most of these counties, it is shotgun hunting with a single slug which is a pretty heavy handicap when most surviving bucks have been fired at during the first two days. Bowhunters, who have the same arrangement, bucks only, are more handicapped.

EVIDENCE

ner," said Rowley. Laden as it was with hind-sights and might-have-beens, the testimony was also illumined with grisly scenes etched forever on memories.

The widow of John F. Kennedy remembered: "And just as I turned and looked at him, I could see a piece of his skull and I remember it was flesh colored. I remember thinking he just looked as if he had a slight headache . . . and then he sort of did this, put his hand to his forehead, and fell into my lap."

Gov. Connally, conscious despite grave wounds, saw on the pale blue upholstery a "chunk of brain tissue as big as almost my thumbnail." Secret Service agent Clinton Hill, who leaped on the accelerating car as it sped off to Parkland Hospital, thought he knew why Mrs. Kennedy crawled out on the rear deck of the automobile — an episode she said she could not recall.

Hill said he thought she was "reaching for something coming off the rear tail of the car." He grabbed her, put her back in the seat. "The next day we found the portion of the president's head . . . it was found in the street."

The stark fear of a wife waiting alone in a hospital corridor was confessed by Mrs. Connally. "I guess like any other woman, I wondered if all the doctors were in the room on the left and they were not taking too good care of my husband on the right. I shouldn't have worried about that, should I?"

The testimony released Monday was the basis for the commission's findings, issued eight weeks ago. It was scheduled for distribution to newsmen Wednesday and for release in newspapers and for public sale next Monday.

The Associated Press obtained access to some of the volumes and sent out stories Monday after some prior publication elsewhere. A few hours later, the White House released the entire set for publication for public sale.

The testimony dealt at length with the motives of Jack Ruby, the Dallas night club operator convicted of murdering Oswald during a jail transfer two days after the assassination. A curious sentence highlighted that testimony.

"I guess I just had to show the world a Jew has guts," Ruby told Forrest V. Sorrels, Secret Service agent in charge of the Dallas office.

Oswald's mother, the twice-widowed Marguerite Oswald of Fort Worth, insisted to the commission, as she has in paid lecture appearances, that her son might have been a secret agent of the Central Intelligence Agency who was set up to take the blame for the assassination.

She acknowledged she had no supporting evidence, however. Lee's half-brother, John Edward Pic, testified that he believes his mother "is out right now to make as much money as she can on her relationship with Lee Harvey Oswald."

Biggest Deer

Biggest buck taken last season in Wisconsin was shot by Carl Klaven of Herbster in Bayfield County. It had a dressed weight of 244 pounds and an estimated live weight of 308 pounds. The second largest was shot in Price County by Joseph Sukala of Baraboo. It tipped the scales at 230 pounds with a live weight of about 290.

Finest rack in 1963 was a 9-pointer with a spread of 30 3/4 inches. It was bagged in Walworth County by Arlene Grube of Whitewater. Louis Schumaker of Janesville took a 10-pointer in Rock County that measured 27 1/2 inches.

Biggest doe reported last year was a 151-pounder bagged in Price County by Jack W. Beisse of Chicago. It had an estimated live weight of 190 pounds.

Late Minnesota Bowhunt

The Minnesota Conservation Department reminds bow and arrow deer hunters to consult their hunting synopsis before trying their luck during the December bow season which starts Nov. 28.

Only that part of the state south of U.S. Highways 10 and 210 are open during the December season. Within this area there are certain game refuges which are open to hunting. Only by studying the regulations, however, can a hunter be sure he is not attempting to take deer in a closed area.

Hunters were also reminded that only one deer may be taken during the year by a hunter. The purchase of both a firearms license and a bow hunting license does not entitle the hunter to take two deer.

Library Board Appoints Aid

Hiring of Mrs. Muriel Olm as librarian's aid was approved by the Winona Library Board Monday.

Mrs. Olm, former 1st Ward alderman who resigned her city council position to take the job at the Winona Public Library, will receive $350 a month effective Dec. 1.

The board voted also to give two weeks' vacation pay to Miss Arlene Blank, whose resignation from the library staff was accepted at the board's October meeting and becomes effective Dec. 1.

Miss Blank will have worked at the library one year by the time her resignation becomes effective, thus entitling her to a vacation.

Bills totaling $2,014.69 for the general fund and $128.38 for the Bell art fund were approved and ordered paid. The board accepted the monthly report of Miss Alberta Seiz, librarian, and placed it on file.

The library will close at noon Christmas Eve and at 5 p.m. New Year's Eve, the board decided.

Driver Changes Plea to Guilty
David K. Blanchard, 23, 328 W. Howard St., today in municipal court changed his plea to guilty of speeding and paid a fine of $25 imposed by Judge John D. McGill.

Blanchard pleaded not guilty and asked for a trial on the charge Thursday when he was first arraigned. Police said he was clocked driving 60 m.p.h. in a 30 zone on Broadway from McBride to South Baker streets Thursday at 1:09 a.m.

Judge McGill set trial for today, but Blanchard appeared and changed his plea. His fine was satisfied out of $50 bail he posted, and the $25 balance refunded.

City Prosecutor James W. Soderberg, noting that the citation wrongly said Blanchard was speeding on Wednesday, asked Judge McGill to amend the charge to read Nov. 19.

Several abandoned gold mines are on a 10,000-acre tract added to the ranch last year. John Hughes, camping chairman, Sugar Loaf, will announce a promotion meeting for Explorers and older Scouts.

Sunde Plus Banquet Equals Relaxing, Entertaining Time

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

The Bloomington blond, Milt Sunde, came to Winona Monday, carrying royally some grim reminders of a clash with Detroit's 300-pound brute Roger Brown, the fellow even Lion Coach George Wilson rates half animal.

The occasion was the luncheon honoring Winona State College's 1964 Northern Intercollegiate Conference football champions sponsored jointly by the city's four service clubs — Lions, which served as host.

Rotary, Kiwanis and Exchange.

Forehead implanted with several fresh scars and cheek peeled and raw, Sunde made a most impressive speaker, recalling victory and frustration for the some 200 assembled.

The 233-pound Viking offensive guard was cast into the role of speaker when it was learned Monday morning that Tommy Mason was hospitalized with a slight concussion and would be unable to attend.

"Because of the late notice, I really didn't have much time to prepare anything to say," said Sunde, who endeared himself to the audience by setting the stage for the relaxing 45 minutes to follow by telling two laugh-provoking jokes.

"I'll throw this open to questions and answers after a bit."

And the questions came hot and heavy. Sunde equal to the task.

Who was the toughest man he faced?

"Brown has to be without a doubt," he answered. "His best move is to rap you along side the head and slip around you. This I knew. We've got a 260-pounder on the 'taxi squad' and I had him hitting me along the head all week. I figured no one could hit as hard as that. Brown was better."

One question was inevitable. How about Jim Marshall's wrong — way run against the 49ers?

"That was funny," he opened. "Jim is such a cut-up and always giving you heck about doing something wrong. The first thing we did when he took off the wrong way was to look at each other and start laughing. Then we looked at Coach (Norm) Van Brocklin. We stopped laughing."

"Actually, when Jim started running, I think everyone figured he was finally going to circle and go back the other way. It probably worked out well for Jim. He's been on television so much after that run that he'll probably give up football and start acting."

Later, after the festivities were out of the way and the room nearly empty, he had a chance to personally congratulate Winona State's six all-conference choices—Jeff Kremer, Lee Burros, Buzz Walsh, Gary Goodwin, Davis Usgaard and Rog Goerish.

"Fellows, if you get a chance to try pro football, do it!" was his advice. "It's a wonderful experience."

Later still, in the sunlit quiet of a Third Street corner the man who came to the Vikings as an unheralded 20th-round draft choice and fought it out with the best on the club for a first-team berth evaluated his chances of being around next year.

"I'll be going all out to stay with the Vikings," he said. "When you think about it, we're just going to keep going up. We're just a couple of positions away from being a championship club now."

What about the transition from collegiate football to the ranks of a professional?

"There's a great difference. In college you have to put on your game face three days before the game. In pro ball, you have to do the job on Sunday afternoon."

"There's no room for horsing around. Coach Van Brocklin is all business and you'd better be all business too."

The talk swung to the upcoming draft.

"We'll be after a running back," he opened. "Not because Mason, (Bill) Brown and (Tom) Michelle aren't good, but because we need the depth. Once this year when Mason and Michelle were hurt, we only had three left. That's not enough."

Sunde was introduced by Emil Nascak, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce sports committee which coordinated the event.

The meeting was presided over by N. W. Schellhas, Lions Club president.

Also on the program were Dr. Robert Campbell, Winona State athletic director, who introduced football Coach Madoe (Moon) Molinari. He in turn introduced the coaching staff, managers and 1964 footballers.

LET'S TALK SPORTS

COACH NORM VAN BROCKLIN thinks he's got injury problems—and no doubt he has.

But the Viking "medicare department" touched pretty close to Winona Monday morning when a weak-voiced Tommy Mason called from a Twin Cities hospital to report that a rap in the head in Sunday's Detroit game would keep him from attending the noon service club luncheon to honor Winona State's championship football team.

Tommy's doctor said that double-vision wouldn't go well with driving here, so that was that. And quite a blow to the fellow tabbed to secure a speaker, I might add.

Immediately we got all kinds of "help" from the staff as to who not to get.

"Don't get Jim Marshall," said one observer. "He might go the wrong way and wind up in Bemidji."

"Make sure Mason doesn't come," said another office helper. "He'd see two audiences and want twice as much money."

So, thanks to Viking public relations director John Thompson, we got Milt Sunde to speak on Monday.

Lid Comes Off State Cage Parcel Tonight

By ROLLIE WUSSOW
Daily News Sports Writer

The lid comes off the nice, neat little box marked "Do not open until Nov. 24" containing the current edition of Winona State College's basketball team tonight at Wisconsin State University — Stevens Point.

After the game is history, Warrior coach Dr. Robert Campbell will know how he should punctuate his sentences when talking about his cagers for the rest of the season.

"We'll know a lot more after tonight," says Campbell's matter-of-fact statement when asked how he thought his charges would look. "I guess we're as ready as can be for a season opener," remarked Campbell, who is starting his fourth year as head coach.

THE WARRIOR'S main problem seems to be their ever-present height disadvantage, and a worry as to what type of defense will be used.

State will have to wait a game or so to test its height problem for tonight's battle with the Pointers, members of the Wisconsin State University Conference, will be pretty much even height-wise.

"They're pretty much the same as last year (the Pointers clubbed the Warriors 80-66 at Memorial Hall)," says Campbell. "They've got ten lettermen back from last year's squad, and as I remember, they didn't have too much of a height advantage over us then."

"I'm not real sure as to what they'll be up to tonight," continued Campbell. "They'll probably have a few set patterns and will use the fast break whenever they can."

CAMPBELL WILL rely on his bread 'n butter men, that is all those who perform the fast break with ease, to get through tonight's test.

Although no definite starters have been tabbed for the contest, Campbell will probably have 6-5 Dave Rosenau at center, Tom Stallings, 5-11, at forward, and captain Dave Goede, 5-8, at a guard.

The team's two leading scorers of a year ago, Gary Petersen and Dave Meisner, who would ordinarily round the tandem, are questionable starters for tonight. Petersen, who gets the points when they count, is still hobbling on an injured knee incurred in an early practice, and Meisner has an infected blister on his foot. Both will see action, but Campbell does not know if they will start.

IF THEY DON'T start, chances are Jack Kelly, senior forward at 6-3, will fill in for Petersen, and either Dennis Morgan, sophomore from Dodgeville, Wis., or Keith Asleson, snappy 5-3 freshman from Harmony, will replace Meisner.

Rounding out the 11-man traveling squad will be Bill Werner, 6-3 transfer from State College of Iowa, Dallas Diercks, 6-5 center from Goodhue, and Tim Anderson, 6-4 forward from Bangor, Wis.

After tonight, the Warriors will rest until Saturday's home opener against Wisconsin State University — Oshkosh, at Memorial Hall.

Spahn Wants to Win 400 Games

NEW YORK (AP) "I want to win 400 games," Warren Spahn, the newest New York Met and baseball's oldest active player, said today.

The Mets purchased the 43-year-old pitcher from Milwaukee Monday in a move to strengthen their pitching and coaching staffs and push their attendance closer to the two-million mark.

Spahn, who holds the major league record of 356 victories by a southpaw, will also serve as a pitching coach. In that capacity, he succeeds Mel Harder, who caught on with the Chicago Cubs earlier this month.

"The greatest job in baseball is being a starting pitcher and that's what I expect to be next year," Spahn said. He had a 6-13 record with only four complete games in 27 starts last season.

"I wasn't pitching enough last year," he added. "I have to work regularly to be effective. I told Johnny McFall and Bobby Bragan that I wanted to go somewhere else if I didn't fit into their plans."

McFall is Milwaukee's president. Bragan is the Braves' manager.

"I am sound physically," Spahn said, "and I'd like nothing better than to make the comeback of the year as a pitcher next season. You don't go from middle age to old age in one year. My aim is still to win 400 games."

The purchase price and Spahn's salary with the Mets were not disclosed. It was believed, however, that he cost the Mets no more than $25,000. His estimated salary with the Braves last season was around $85,000.

"The most important thing he wanted," said George Weiss, the Mets' general manager, "was to take his regular turn as a pitcher."

The Hartshorne, Okla., resident also holds the major league records for most 20-victory seasons, 13; most strikeouts by a left-hander, 2,493; most years leading league in games won, 8; and most years leading league in complete games, 9. He spent 20 seasons with the Braves.

The Mets last season had a total attendance of 1,732,597 in Shea Stadium, out-drawing the rival Yankees by 427,000. Their figure was topped in the majors only by the Los Angeles Dodgers, who drew 2,228,754 at home.

Walter Williams Shoots 694 for 2nd Wires 275 Into Near Miss at 700

Walter Williams blasted himself into the No. 2 spot in the city's top ten Monday night by rolling six pins shy of a 700 count in Hal-Rod Lanes' City League.

Williams' 694 put him in second place spot behind Dick Niemeyer, who pummeled a 704 in the Westgate Classic Sept. 24. The owner of Williams Upholstery Shop had an outside shot at the coveted 700 count — but he missed it, not intentionally.

Both chances came in the first game, in which Williams totaled 174. He had both a blow and a split in the game, which when looked back on, were the decisive factors leading to his missing the 700.

Williams was not available for comment this morning. He was attending a funeral in Minneapolis.

Hal-Rod manager Rog Biltgen stated that Williams had blasted a 692 several years ago. In that case he probably took his near miss with a sentimental shrug.

In addition to his 174, Williams had a whopping 275 and 245. The 275 game put him into the No. 5 spot in that department.

He also bowls one night a week at Red Men Alleys. He carries a 171 average in the City League.

Williams' team, Merchant's Bank, posted 1,077-3,065. The series was good for sixth place.

Roger Biltgen picked 613, Robert Klage 610, Vince Suchomel, 601 and Earl Kane 563 in other action in the same loop. Suchomel and Kane posted errorless sets.

On the women's side of the ledger, Marianne O'Brien posted 211-583 for Watkins Mary King in the Pin Topplers League at Westgate. She missed tenth place in series by two pins. Her team totaled 2,679, and Main Tavern had 931.

Other highs include Leona Lubinski's 206-583, Shirley Kauphusman's 201-551, Betty Englerth 545, Helen Englerth 543, Isabelle Rozek, Doris Bay 526, Yvonne Carpenter 531, Irene Gostomski 522, Esther Pozane 521, Mary Stalka 508, Irene Trimmer 508 and Betty Schoonover 508.

In the Monday League at Winona Athletic Club, John Cierzan rapped 256-610 for Abrens-Platt Oil Co., which had 1,037. East End Coal Co. totaled 2,868.

WESTGATE BOWL: Community — Jim Benson led Ridge-way Creamery to 2,815 with his 246. Eugene Schueler blasted 597 for Schmidt's which had 987. Ladies — Elaine Neitzke smashed 200 for Winona Typewriter, while teammate Eleanor Loshek had 489. Haddad's shot 915 and Grukowski Beauty Shop picked up 2,563.

Alley Gaters — Jeanette Luhnman blasted 480 for Jeanette's Beauty Salon, which had 2,582. Roseanne Kubicek rolled 181 for Mohan's Window Co., and Curley's Floor Shop counted 902.

HAL-ROD LANES: VFW — Ralph Bambenek paved the way with 243-592 for Wason's Supper Club which had 2,884. Hamm's Beer and Bakken Construction Co. belted 1,018. Norb Thruene hit 540 errorless for Jones & Kroeger. Al Bittner came up with a 137 triplicate.

Boyer Gets MVP Award In National League Poll

BOSTON (AP) — Third baseman Ken Boyer, who sparked the St. Louis Cardinals to the National League pennant and a victory in the World Series, was named today the National League's Most Valuable Player for 1964.

The oldest of the famed brothers from Missouri was an easy victor. He was named first on 14 of the 20 ballots cast by the selection committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Boyer's selection gave third basemen a sweep of the MVP awards. Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles was named the American League winner last week.

Boyer drew a total of 243 points, with ballots counted on the basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second, eight for third, etc. He drew 56 points more than runner-up Johnny Callison, the outfield star of the Philadelphia Phillies, who had 187 points.

Boyer's teammate, first baseman Bill White, was third with 106 1/2 points.

Boyer is the first member of the St. Louis Cardinals to win since Stan Musial in 1948, the last of three such honors for the Cardinal great. Boyer also is the first third baseman to be selected in the NL since Bob Elliott of Boston in 1947. In fact, Elliott was the only other third sacker picked for the award.

The 1963 MVP was Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, whose 1964 season was cut short by injuries. A year ago, Koufax received 237 points. His total this year was 72 for 17th place.

The 1963 runner-up, Dick Groat of St. Louis, did not receive a mention this year.

Boyer, 33, is the ninth St. Louis player to receive the MVP award since the BBWA took over the balloting in 1931. In addition to Musial (1943, 1946 and 1948), other Cardinals honored in the past were Frankie Frisch (1931), Dizzy Dean (1934), Joe Medwick (1937), Mort Cooper (1942) and Marty Marion (1944).

The spectacular fielding Boyer also had a fine year with the bat. He led the major leagues in runs batted in with 119, belted 24 home runs and was among the league leaders in triples with 10. In all, he accounted for 219 Cardinal runs, scoring 100 to go with the 119 RBI.

Recognition was a long time coming for the infielder who has been with the Cardinals since 1955.

At bat, he has been amazingly consistent. His .295 1964 batting average was just .001 below his lifetime mark of .296. For the past four years, he has hit exactly 24 home runs in each year. Since 1957, he has driven in at least 90 runs each season.

Boyer first heard the word of his selection on his return from a hunting trip to Hermon, Mo., about 100 miles from his St. Louis home. Convinced the MVP choice wouldn't be announced until later in the week, Boyer thought at first the official notification was a gag.

Boyer said he was fortunate to have played on a team when so many men had such good years, "guys like White, Groat and Gibson. The good years those boys had meant I could win the award."

CONGO

They were being marched to Stanleyville airport by rebel troops who panicked at the sight of the Belgian paratroopers and fired into the hostages, killing at least 15 including some women. Sharp fighting was reported at the airport but the Belgians quickly brought it under control. The Belgians moved on to seize wide areas of the rebel capital.

The Congolese government announced that the 5th Congo Brigade headed by Maj. Michael Hoare, a South African, had made "a triumphal entry" into the rebel capital.

In Washington, the U.S. State Department said that three hours after the paratroopers made their dawn drop foreign hostages began flocking to Stanleyville airport, but 15 to 20 were known to have been killed. Michael Hoyt, the U.S. consul in Stanleyville, was reported safe. He and four members of his staff had been under house arrest since August.

About 600 paratroopers took part in the dramatic rescue mission ordered after the rebels threatened to kill more than 1,000 whites in the Stanleyville area.

Belgian government sources in Brussels said the jump was made by Belgium's 1st Paratroop Battalion reinforced by a commando company. They had been flown Sunday from Ascension Island to Kamina military base, in the Congo's Katanga Province.

Five U.S. planes dropped about 320 men on Stanleyville airport about 6 a.m., and other planes landed the rest.

An American Embassy spokesman said at least 10 U.S. C130s were used to ferry the paratroopers.

Radio Stanleyville reported about dawn that at least 20 American planes were circling the rebel capital. The broadcast called on the rebel tribesmen to "sharpen your knives, your machetes. Tomorrow we are going to cut up all the white men."

These words were followed by about 20 minutes of dance music, then the radio went dead.

Tshombe said in a letter to U.S. Ambassador McMurtrie Godley that he had asked Belgium to drop the paratroopers because it is necessary to do everything possible to prevent the rebels from carrying out their criminal design against innocent civilians.

Maj. Michael Hoare Leads Congo Attack

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak told a news conference in Brussels: "After the most atrocious tortures and measures which took place in other parts of the Congo . . . it was impossible for the Belgian government not to take its responsibilities."

New Tax Idea, Interesting, Rolvaag Says

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — A recent proposal for sharing federal tax collections with state and local governments was described by Gov. Karl Rolvaag today as an "extremely promising concept" which could help solve financial problems.

The governor spoke at the 55th annual meeting of the Association of Minnesota Counties, addressing the county commissioners who make up the association as a "select group of grass roots politicians."

"You are confronted — as we in state government are confronted — with the incontrovertible fact that local government's responsibilities to provide public services far out-run foreseeable local revenues," he said in his prepared speech.

"Existing methods of taxation must be reviewed carefully in order to eliminate inequities, and to make sure that each person is carrying his fair share."

"At the state level, careful study must be given to providing increased state aid for hard-pressed local governing units. But the fact is that though the nation's economy is growing, state and local revenues are not highly responsible to economic growth. It is also very difficult as you well know, to continue to depend on increases in property taxes. These have already reached an excessive level in many communities."

"Citizens face a serious dilemma. We cannot afford to skimp on needed state-local services, and we should not aggravate existing inequities by placing increased reliance on tax increases and local property taxes."

"It is for these reasons that I am interested in the recent proposal of the president's Task Force on Intergovernmental Fiscal Cooperation, to provide a new kind of tax sharing for state and local government. The task force found that while local and state resources are severely limited, federal government revenues by contrast are increasing due to diminishing national defense expenditures."

"It strongly urges that some of these increased federal receipts be shared with state and local governments. The new proposal would be to distribute the federal revenues to the states solely on the basis of population for use in programs of public interest."

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A classified ad in The Wichita Beacon sought someone to take over the last 11 payments of $3.10 per month on a human hair wig advertised as valued at $210.

HATFIELD AREA DANGEROUS

Student on Way To School Hit

HATFIELD, Wis. (AP) — The hazard of driving through deer hunting area was demonstrated this morning when two young people were en route to classes at Black River Falls.

One of them suffered a slight head wound when the car was struck by an apparent stray bullet.

Jacqueline Bratvold, 17, and her brother, Randy, 12, were about four miles from home and in the Black River State Forest area of Jackson County when a bullet shattered the rear window of the car. A small bit of metal struck Randy in the head.

The two returned home immediately. Their father said he found a bit of metal on the floor of the car. Their mother used a tweezer to remove the metal from Randy's head, applied some disinfectant and sent the children back to school — a bit late for class.

Land Obtained For South St. Paul Swift's Expansion

ST. PAUL — Through an exchange of land with the South St. Paul Stock Yards Company, Swift and Company has acquired land close to its existing plant, enabling the meat packing firm to move ahead with its modernization and expansion program. The land exchange involved a 12-acre tract owned by the Stock Yards Company and a 10-acre tract owned by Swift.

"In the company's long-range planning program at South St. Paul, two major replacement and modernization projects already have been completed," says Noel Dike, plant manager. "A completely new table-ready meats kitchen incorporates the most modern equipment, including continuous, automatic frank manufacturing facilities, with a capacity of 15,000 franks per hour. New beef dressing facilities include the installation of on-the-rail cattle dressing equipment, with a mechanical hide-removing device."

"Decision by Swift and Company to make long-range capital expenditures in South St. Paul is a credit to the production progress of our Northwest livestock farmers and evidence of the continuing importance of the South St. Paul livestock market," states Robert B. McCright, general manager of the South St. Paul Stockyards. "There is no question but what the modernization and expansion program by Swift will be of great benefit to our entire agricultural industry."

The South St. Paul stockyards, serving the livestock and meat industry since 1887, currently ranks as second largest livestock terminal in the nation, handling in excess of five million head annually.

3 Commissioners Named in Land Condemnation Cases

Condemnation commissioners were chosen Monday in District Court by Judge Leo F. Murphy for two cases involving land for I 90 west of Dakota.

Leo M. Rowekamp, Lewiston; Paul J. Kieffer, Altura, and Everett J. Kohner, 365 W. King St., are the commissioners chosen by Judge Murphy for both cases. All but Kohner had indicated by this noon that they would serve.

The case is against Leighton A. Wikie and Arthur J. Kehoe and involve land extending from Dakota village limits 2 1/2 miles west.

Alternates designated by the judge are John W. Fluegel, 1160 W. Broadway, and Floyd Waldo, Winona Rt. 3.

Stocks Drop Sharply in Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed a fairly sharp decline early this afternoon in the wake of the boost in interest rates by the Federal Reserve Board.

Trading was quite active but there was no great selloff on the news.

The market was going through its usual performance after a rise in the discount rate, brokers said. Some analysts noted that such declines are usually temporary.

Some losses were pared as trading entered the afternoon and a few more plus signs appeared.

The trend remained lower among motors, steels, chemicals, utilities, nonferrous metals, electronics and mail order-retails.

Tobaccos, aerospace issues, oils and drugs were mixed, showing improvement from their early trend.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 1.7 at 330.0 with industrials off 2.1, rails off 1.5 and utilities off .7.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.87 at 885.42—cutting its worst loss of 4.97 in mid-morning.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Corporate and U.S. government bonds declined generally in reaction to the boost in interest rates.
