MASS ARRAIGNMENT POSTPONED . . . Hundreds of University of California sit-in demonstrators leave the Berkeley Community Theater, after the mass arraignment was continued until next Monday to allow for defense preparation.

Judge Rupert Crittenden warned the students that were arrested during the sit-in demonstration at Sproul Hall Thursday, that the charges against them "may seriously affect you in the future." (AP Photofax)

California Students Refuse Peace Bid

Demonstrations Will Continue At Berkeley

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A peace offer spurned by the University of California's rebel student group comes under the scrutiny of 1,200 faculty members on the Berkeley campus today with a return to order of continued demonstrations for unrestricted politico-social campaigning in the balance.

The Academic Senate — all faculty members with tenure — set a meeting for 3 p.m. to review the squelched peace proposal, listen to alternative plans and announce their opinion.

Insurgent students temporarily suspended until 8 a.m. Wednesday their strike and picketing of university entrances and classroom buildings in an effort to promote a general strike. They said whether or not they resume depends on the Academic Senate's report on the peace plan turned down Monday.

Rebel student leaders went to Sacramento saying they would place their protests before Gov. Edmund G. Brown today.

A minority of the 27,400-member student body is demanding the right to recruit volunteers and solicit funds anywhere on campus for off-campus politico-social activities, including civil rights work.

Their protests led to a loosening of regulations by the university Board of Regents last month. The regents gave permission for on-campus solicitation and recruitment in three designated areas for lawful off-campus activity.

A spokesman for the insurgent group, called Free Speech Movement, said the movement's prime demand is for removal of the word "lawful" from the regulations. He said students want to participate in such activities as civil rights demonstrations in the South because they feel they are worthy though unlawful.

Only the regents can change the regulations.

Free Speech Movement demonstrators, protest rallies and picketing have produced turmoil on the campus over the past two months.

ON VIEW IN THE RED ROOM . . . President Johnson directs British Prime Minister Harold Wilson to place beside a painting of President Woodrow Wilson in the Red Room at the White House. The painting,

Johnson and Wilson Continue NATO Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Prime Minister Harold Wilson continue their talks today with two main subjects expected on the agenda: the nuclear future of the Atlantic Alliance and the situation in Southeast Asia.

Wilson began to spell out his ideas on how to organize a nuclear weapons force within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at a mid-afternoon session with Johnson Monday, their second of the day. The prime minister will conclude his presentation today and then, presumably, Johnson will present a defense of the multilateral force as conceived by the United States.

Wilson is cool to the idea. Instead, the Labor government is understood to propose the formation of a new NATO nuclear command, to include Britain's nuclear bombers and submarines and all or most of the nuclear tactical weapons already in Europe.

The U.S.-suggested nuclear fleet, drastically reduced from the proposed 25 ships with 200 Polaris missiles, also would be part of the new command.

The two leaders will seek no decisions on this delicate and complex issue, observers on both sides cautioned Monday night. The word that no blueprint will emerge from the two-day conference was stressed repeatedly, with American and British officials using the same word.

Family Farm In Danger, Leader Says

PHILADELPHIA — A national farm leader said here Monday that if the family farm is to survive, there must be a change in the direction of government farm policy.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, issued this warning in his annual address to the 46th annual meeting of the Federation at the Academy of Music auditorium here.

"The Federation is the nation's largest general farm organization in the nation, with a membership of more than 1,600,000 farm and ranch families."

"A government-directed agriculture inevitably favors the big-scale operators who can afford to employ the legal talent to find loopholes in the law and the funds to buy influence and protection," Shuman said.

The farm leader said he was convinced that "government intervention in the agricultural price and production decisions has materially reduced farm income."

"Government payments and subsidies have been only a partial offset to the tremendous losses in price and income suffered by the producers of wheat, feed grains, cotton, and other crops as a result of the government price-depressing surplus disposal operations and the displacement of farm crops by substitute products."

BESET BY CRITICS

Burch Puts Future Up to GOP Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch, beset by critics within his party, plans to take his case to the GOP National Committee with a letter spelling out his views on leadership and party issues.

Burch said in an interview Monday night that he would draft a detailed summary of his own views and send it to the 132 National Committee members who meet in Chicago Jan. 22 and 23 to decide, among other things, whether to retain Burch, chosen last July for his post by GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Earlier, Burch said both he and Goldwater could accept and endorse a policy statement issued Saturday at Denver by Republican governors calling for GOP "leadership which clearly represents a broad view of Republicanism." Some governors described the statement as a call for Burch's ouster.

Burch commented after he announced the resignation of John Grenier, his right-hand man since July, as executive director of the National Committee.

The national chairman's statement brought an immediate response from Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie, chairman of the GOP governors group, who denounced it as "a hollow and shallow promise" and "a desperate reaction to the very apparent fact that the Republican National Committee is swinging heavily against him and his leadership."

Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon said he thought "it would be very difficult to carry on in a more inclusive manner . . . until some very specific acts have been made which would demonstrate more than just words — actions as well as words." He declined to specify what actions he meant.

But Colorado Gov. John A. Love, who expressed the hope last week that Burch would be replaced, said he was "more than pleased" with the national chairman's statement. "I hope this will lead the way toward a greater unification of the party than we presently have," he said.

Burch said he expects to send his letter to the members of the National Committee on Thursday.

"It will deal with my attitude toward this squabble that has broken out," he said. "I want to put this whole thing into perspective."

The 36-year-old party chairman said he will also take up questions that will face the National Committee at its Chicago meeting. "I want to outline what I think the real issues are," he said.

In their resolution the governors said:

"We strongly recommend to the National Committee that in determining its leadership at the forthcoming meeting in January it adopt leadership which clearly represents a broad view of Republicanism and practices, a policy of inclusion rather than exclusion."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate probe of Bobby Baker's financial dealings and his role in an alleged political payoff appeared headed today for a climactic decision on its future.

The Senate Rules Committee, resuming the inquiry after a weekend recess, called a Washington lobbyist friend of Baker for questioning about a $5,000 payment from a California bank.

The committee planned to ask lobbyist Wayne Bromley what he did for the Redwood National Bank of San Rafael, Calif., to earn the money and whether Baker received any of it.

The Bank contends Bromley was paid only a "perfectly normal" fee as an attorney for services performed in 1962-63. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., has pictured it as a payment for lobbying activities.

Williams told the Senate in a speech last July 27 that the $5,000 check from the bank was cashed by Baker at the Senate disbursing office after Bromley endorsed it but that he did not know what was done with the money. Baker at the time was secretary to the Senate Democratic majority. He resigned later under fire.

Indonesian Mob Storms U.S. Library

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A mob protesting America's policies toward the Congo and Malaysia stormed the U.S. Information Service library in the East Java capital of Surabaya Monday night, burning books, furniture, a mobile unit and a car.

It was the second U.S. library attacked by Indonesian demonstrators in four days. A mob stoned and sacked the American cultural center in Jakarta and its library last Friday, destroying about a fourth of the library's 15,000 books.

The Communist-led demonstrators are protesting America's participation with Belgium in the rescue of white hostages from Congolese rebels and U.S. support of Malaysia, which Indonesian President Sukarno has threatened to crush.

USIS Director Paul Neilson told a news conference a mob of about 1,000 banner-waving demonstrators smashed windows to enter the Surabaya library, which had been closed and locked in anticipation of trouble.

Conrad, at Dakar, Flying To Capetown

DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — Max Conrad, the 62-year-old flying grandfather from Winona, Minn., landed here Monday after a 3,200-mile flight from Puerto Rico.

It was Conrad's 142nd ocean crossing in a light plane.

He took off today on a non-stop flight to Capetown, South Africa, and from there he will attempt a world record light plane flight. He intends to fly 8,500 miles nonstop from Capetown to New Orleans, La.

Conrad said he expects to send his letter to the members of the National Committee on Thursday.

"It will deal with my attitude toward this squabble that has broken out," he said. "I want to put this whole thing into perspective."

The 36-year-old party chairman said he will also take up questions that will face the National Committee at its Chicago meeting. "I want to outline what I think the real issues are," he said.

VIET REDS OVERRUN OUTPOST

3 More U.S. Soldiers Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas overran a small outpost at the southern tip of Viet Nam today, killing three American soldiers and nine South Vietnamese.

Ten Vietnamese soldiers were wounded in the surprise attack by about 50 Communists.

The casualties brought the total of Americans killed in action in South Viet Nam to 229 since December 1961.

Two of the Americans killed today were infantry officers and the third was an enlisted man. Their outpost 125 miles from Saigon apparently was being used as the command post in an operation. The Viet Cong force, small by usual standards, probably infiltrated the post before opening fire, a U.S. source said.

In the An Lao mountain valley, 30 miles northeast of Saigon, Viet Cong guerrillas were making a determined attempt to overrun a district headquarters. The battle was still going on tonight, a U.S. spokesman said.

American helicopter pilots reported the Viet Cong moving openly across the valley.

"We have been shooting at them in the open and running across roads and at automatic weapons positions in the trees," said Maj. Clement A. Wyllie, of Chattanooga, Tenn., commander of an armed helicopter unit.

The Viet Cong blew up the only bridge leading to the tiny valley. Military sources reported three armored personnel carriers moving to the battle area were hit and were in flames.

Vehicles around the barbed-wire fort at the district headquarters were burning, Wyllie reported. He said there were many dead and wounded Vietnamese inside the fort.

A relentless fire from Communist heavy weapons poured into the fort, and helicopters were being continually fired on.

One helicopter piloted by Capt. Peter R. Coggins of Manchester, N.H., made a hazardous flight into the fort to pick up nine wounded. It was hit by mortar fragments on the way out.

Troops airlifted into the area were being dropped on a 2,000-foot mountain because all other areas were under heavy fire, Wyllie said.

Dismissed Cuban Minister Shoots Self in Head

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban Labor Minister Augusto Martinez Sanchez, notified that he was being dismissed from his post, shot himself in the head today, Havana Radio said.

A broadcast heard in Miami said his condition was reported as serious. The shooting occurred at 1 a.m., the radio said, but gave no further details.

Spot on Reuther's Lung is Removed

DETROIT (AP) — The condition of President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers Union was reported satisfactory at Henry Ford Hospital today.

Reuther, 57, was operated on Monday for removal of what was described as a "small spot" on his right lung.

An official statement from the UAW reported that the lung spot was "successfully removed." The statement gave no further details except to term the operation a "conservative surgical procedure" and report Reuther's condition satisfactory.

A union spokesman, saying the statement spoke for itself, declined to answer a question whether malignancy had been found.

Two Appointed To City Boards

Steve Morgan

James M. Foster

Two appointments to city boards were made Monday night by Mayor R. K. Ellings to fill vacancies created by resignations.

Approved by the City Council were Steve Morgan, downtown retail jeweler, appointed to the Winona Housing and Redevelopment Authority board, and James M. Foster, Central Labor Union president, to the City Planning Commission.

Morgan replaces William J. Thurov. Foster succeeds Hollis Larsen, former labor delegate to the planning group.

A former alderman and Board of Education member, MORGAN is no stranger to city government. Elected 2nd Ward alderman in April 1963, he resigned a year later, citing possible conflicts of interest posed by downtown renewal planning. In 1955 he was appointed to a school board post and served the last two years of an unexpired term. His term on the WHRA expires in 1967.

Morgan, 51, is a native of Winona, a graduate of Winona Senior High School and attended Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla. He has been in the jewelry business since 1941 and bought out his father's interest in the family-operated store in 1955. The store has been a Winona fixture at 70 W. 3rd St. since its founding in 1886 by Morgan's grandfather, S. W. Morgan.

He is a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Winona Elks Club and the Winona Area Shrine Club of which he is a past president. He and his wife, who live at 258 W. Wabasha St., have three sons and one daughter. Two sons are married and living elsewhere.

FOSTER, 43, a native of Force, Pa., has lived in Winona since 1945. He served in the Army from 1941 to 1945, one year and two months of which service was with the 30th and 76th Infantry divisions in the European Theater of Operations.

After his discharge he and his wife, the former Ruth McDonald of Winona, moved here to live. He was employed as a building laborer. He is a member of Local 1316, International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers Union. He was recording secretary for the local from 1957 to 1960 and has been its president since 1960.

He was elected Central Labor Union president in 1963 and re-elected in January 1964. He is a member of Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Winona Rose Society, Winona Flower and Garden Club and the Minnesota AFL-CIO Interim Committee on Civil Rights. He and his wife live at 617 Harriet St.

The term to which Foster was appointed expires in 1966.

Higher Land Values Seen With Dikes

The value of marginal lands on the city's easterly limits may rise considerably if flood protection is furnished, the City Council was told Monday night.

Aldermen learned of this possibility in an appraisal report which will be turned over to the Army Corps of Engineers. Appraisers, hired by the city, were John Steffen and Clarence Gerecke. Their bill of $300 for services was quickly approved by the council.

THE APPRAISAL covered 416 acres of land south and east of the old city dumping grounds. Its evaluation was requested by the corps after the council asked amendment of the new flood control plan to establish an eastern dike along the old Chicago Great Western right of way. Because this would embrace more land than the projected area outlined in the original plan, the corps position was that potential improvement in value must be sufficient to justify the change and added expense.

Steffen and Gerecke placed present value of the land at $372,000. Much of it is swampy ground in the Shive Road area but northern portions include the site of Swift & Co. plant. The City Planning Commission and council believe the area has industrial potential.

If flood protection is provided, the appraisers reported, the land's value could be expected to rise to about $473,000.

An independent appraisal also will be made by the corps before a decision is made. Work is expected to start on the eastern portion of the project by midsummer next year. Work on Phase 1, the western and larger portion, will begin early next spring.

IN A RELATED action, aldermen voted to provide a temporary crossing of Chicago and North Western Railway tracks at Stone Street for Park Construction Co., prime contractor for Phase I of the control program.

The company informed the council it has insured itself against liability to the railroad company in the event of any damage or accidents arising out of the crossing's use.

Tools Stolen From Garage at Minnesota City

Allen Tschumper, Minnesota City, Monday told Sheriff George Fort of the theft from his garage last week of a large number of shop tools.

Tools worth $57 and a camera valued at $10 were taken from Tschumper's garage, which has no door.

Tschumper listed these tools missing: A ball peen hammer, a 6- and 8-inch crescent wrench, side pliers, diagonal pliers, Phillips screw driver, regular screw driver, 10-inch Phillips screwdriver, box end set, box end open, combination box end, ratchet and speed set, small electrical socket set, large socket set, plug socket, rubber hammer, files and a dark green tool box.

Tschumper discovered the theft Friday. He reported it Monday at 1:45 p.m. Sheriff Fort said an investigation had turned up no trace of the tools.

Council, Housing Authority Plan Dec. 15 Meeting

City Council members will meet jointly with the Winona Housing and Redevelopment Authority Dec. 15, at 7 p.m. at the Arthur C. Thurley Homes community room.

Topic of the meeting will be the city's request for a planning grant for a 26-block downtown renewal area. The authority's attorney will present an opinion on whether terms of the contract for the grant also commit the city irrevocably to involvement in a renewal program.

The authority board declined to sign the contract last week, pending receipt of their attorney's opinion. Board members and aldermen had been told that no such commitment would be included in the grant request but were uncertain about the question because of some contract language.

In federally financed renewal projects, the WHRA acts as executing authority for the city, according to Minnesota state law which sets forth procedures in such cases.

Will Armory Go to Airport After All?

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

Still another chapter in the cliff-hanging armory story was played out in Monday night's City Council meeting, leaving the audience eagerly awaiting the next installment.

In last month's episode, the Minnesota National Guard and Owl Realty Co., owners of most of Wincrest Addition, had agreed on a site. It was to be near the junction of Hilltop Drive and CSAH 107. Sewer and water connections would be arranged without cost to the state and at minimum expense to the city. The land, some five acres, was to be donated by Owl Realty.

BUT TROUBLE entered in the form of restrictive covenants incorporated in deeds of homeowners who already have purchased land in the subdivision. Neighboring residents protested that they want to look out their picture windows at the Hiawatha Valley, not an armory, rows of jeeps, trucks and other military paraphernalia. Covenants call for preservation of scenic values, they pointed out.

The military and the developers executed a strategic withdrawal.

Last week, the developers made another try at giving away five acres of free land. This time they suggested a site on Starlight Drive, just west of the entrance street, lying near the water tower.

Capt. David Lueck, local Guard company commander, appeared at Monday night's council session to suggest that the whole Wincrest idea be called off. The time is late, he warned, and the 47th Division's command echelon now needs a quick decision on a site. It could, he hinted, mean that no armory at all would be built if arrangements were not forthcoming.

CAPT. LUECK asked the council to again consider the once-discarded site at Max Conrad Field. His superiors do not relish the thought of more civilian uprisings and would like to settle on some city-owned land, namely the airport. Sewer leads to the existing drainfield could be furnished, he suggested, thereby keeping the city's costs relatively low.

Council President Harold Briesath attempted to calm the Guard's misgivings. There would be absolutely no strings on the new site, he said. The city could extend sewers for about $6,000, a reasonable price, and water already was available, he said. The airport drainfield, he continued, is already at saturation point, accommodating the Warner-Swasey plant and airport buildings.

Turning to the city engineer, James Baird, Capt. Lueck asked about facilities at the airport. Baird said he believes nothing short of another treatment plant would be needed, the estimated cost of which is $50,000.

ANSWERING a question by Ald. Clarence Tribell, Capt. Lueck said the city's share of armory costs on a Wincrest site would be about $30,000, spread over 10 years. The standard requirement for an armory is that the site be furnished without cost to the state, fully serviced by water and sewer connections. This is in addition to the above share of building and maintenance costs.

Ald. James Stoltman asked if Capt. Lueck thought his superiors would approve the latest site if the council "guaranteed" it free of problems. The captain declined to say flatly the Guard would object or agree but called it "questionable." In his opinion, he said, terrain features would raise problems in locating the building and superior officers might well decide against the area.

Capt. Lueck agreed to ask general officers to return once again to view the new site. He would forward the message promptly, he said, and let the council know this week if possible.

WOULD THE council have alternates in mind if the newest plan is vetoed? Lueck asked. Noting that "we're in a bind, too," President Briesath appealed to Capt. Lueck to explain the council's position carefully and see if the guard officers would agree.

Aldermen agreed to call a special meeting whenever necessary to take up forthcoming developments. Capt. Lueck said Gens. Leon Hagen and Chester Moeglein are out of the country but will be back in a few days. They will then be notified, he said.

City Council

City Gets Gasoline At 14.08 a Gallon

Two bids for a year's supply of gasoline - estimated at 55,000 gallons - were opened by the City Council Monday night with only a small fractional difference in proposed prices.

Successful bidder was the Mobil Oil Co., with a proposal of 14.08 cents per gallon, net, or a total of $7,744.

The other bidder was the Standard Oil Co., at 14.15 cents per gallon, for a total of $7,782.

Other council business:

- Action on a Fire and Police Board request for four-way stop signs at 2nd and Franklin streets was deferred. The chief of police will be asked to study the intersection and its traffic. Ald. Daniel Bambenek said trucks and other Bay State Milling Co. traffic have difficulty getting across the intersection, which now makes 2nd Street a thoroughfare.

Meeting Called On Cooperative Teaching Plan

A meeting of the Winona Board of Education with representatives of the Cotter High School Advisory Board on the possibility of arranging a program of cooperative instruction if a new Senior High School building is constructed has been called for Dec. 17.

Earlier this fall board members had heard informally a suggestion from a Cotter advisory board member that consideration be given to a shared time program if a new high school is built.

As outlined then, this would involve enrollment of Cotter students at Senior High for certain elective courses and instruction for Senior High students at Cotter in courses that aren't offered in the public school.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told school board members Monday that the Rev. James McCauley, Cotter principal, had suggested a meeting to discuss the matter in more detail and that 11 members of the Cotter board planned to attend.

tract for the grant also commit the city irrevocably to involvement in a renewal program.

The authority board declined to sign the contract last week, pending receipt of their attorney's opinion. Board members and aldermen had been told that no such commitment would be included in the grant request but were uncertain about the question because of some contract language.

vision. Neighboring residents protested that they want to look out their picture windows at the Hiawatha Valley, not an armory, rows of jeeps, trucks and other military paraphernalia. Covenants call for preservation of scenic values, they pointed out.

The military and the developers executed a strategic withdrawal.

Last week, the developers made another try at giving away five acres of free land. This time they suggested a site on Starlight Drive, just west of the entrance street, lying near the water tower.

Capt. David Lueck, local Guard company commander, appeared at Monday night's council session to suggest that the whole Wincrest idea be called off. The time is late, he warned, and the 47th Division's command echelon now needs a quick decision on a site. It could, he hinted, mean that no armory at all would be built if arrangements were not forthcoming.

CAPT. LUECK asked the council to again consider the once-discarded site at Max Conrad Field. His superiors do not relish the thought of more civilian uprisings and would like to settle on some city-owned land, namely the airport. Sewer leads to the existing drainfield could be furnished, he suggested, thereby keeping the city's costs relatively low.

Council President Harold Briesath attempted to calm the Guard's misgivings. There would be absolutely no strings on the new site, he said. The city could extend sewers for about $6,000, a reasonable price, and water already was available, he said. The airport drainfield, he continued, is already at saturation point, accommodating the Warner-Swasey plant and airport buildings.

Turning to the city engineer, James Baird, Capt. Lueck asked about facilities at the airport. Baird said he believes nothing short of another treatment plant would be needed, the estimated cost of which is $50,000.

ANSWERING a question by Ald. Clarence Tribell, Capt. Lueck said the city's share of armory costs on a Wincrest site would be about $30,000, spread over 10 years. The standard requirement for an armory is that the site be furnished without cost to the state, fully serviced by water and sewer connections. This is in addition to the above share of building and maintenance costs.

Ald. James Stoltman asked if Capt. Lueck thought his superiors would approve the latest site if the council "guaranteed" it free of problems. The captain declined to say flatly the Guard would object or agree but called it "questionable." In his opinion, he said, terrain features would raise problems in locating the building and superior officers might well decide against the area.

Capt. Lueck agreed to ask general officers to return once again to view the new site. He would forward the message promptly, he said, and let the council know this week if possible.

WOULD THE council have alternates in mind if the newest plan is vetoed? Lueck asked. Noting that "we're in a bind, too," President Briesath appealed to Capt. Lueck to explain the council's position carefully and see if the guard officers would agree.

Aldermen agreed to call a special meeting whenever necessary to take up forthcoming developments. Capt. Lueck said Gens. Leon Hagen and Chester Moeglein are out of the country but will be back in a few days. They will then be notified, he said.

Holden Returns To City Council

The City Council used written ballots Monday night to appoint William F. Holden interim 1st Ward alderman until next April.

Holden, a former alderman, replaces Mrs. Muriel Ollom who resigned last month to accept employment with the city library.

PLACED IN nomination were three names: Holden, Mrs. Mary Masysa, former alderman at large, and David L. Johnson, radio announcer who said he would file for the position in upcoming elections. Each of the three had written a letter asking for the appointment. Holden's letter stated that he would serve the unexpired term but would not file for election, thus giving all aspiring candidates an equal chance, since none would have the advantage of incumbency.

Balloting in the committee of the whole session gave Holden seven, Mrs. Masysa one, and Johnson none. In the later formal motion to appoint Holden, the vote was unanimous. Ald. Clarence Tribell announced he had voted for Mrs. Masysa in the committee balloting.

Arriving at about 10:20 p.m. in response to a telephone call, Holden sat in on the balance of the meeting. He was mildly surprised when City Recorder John Carter called his name in a subsequent roll call vote.

Ald. Daniel Bambenek, commenting on the flurry of balloting, said: "We should have brought up one of the new voting machines and used it for the practice."

Mrs. Ollom was replaced as finance chairman by Ald. Henry Parks, vice chairman of the committee. Ald. Parks is expected to serve in the chairmanship until about the end of December, after which Council President Harold Briesath will be forced to find another chairman for the rest of the term which ends in April.

HOLDEN, 51, is a native of Winona. He was graduated from Winona Senior High School, attended St. Mary's College and was graduated from the University of Minnesota school of pharmacy in 1938. He worked in pharmacies in Albert Lea and La Crosse before returning to Winona in the early 1940s.

Holden and his brother, Harlen, bought their present business in 1943 from the estate of their father, the late J. F. Holden.

He served two consecutive terms as 1st Ward alderman, beginning in 1949 and ending with his voluntary retirement in

Winter Sets In All Along St. Lawrence

MONTREAL (AP) — Winter closed the Montreal end of the St. Lawrence Seaway Monday, trapping four ocean ships in Lake Ontario, where they will have to spend the winter.

Ice, six inches thick in Montreal's St. Lambert lock, ended the biggest shipping year in the seaway's six-season history.

Until the end of November, some 38.5 million tons of cargo was carried through the system this year, an increase from 31 million in 1963.

One vessel, the Jean Lafitte, cleared St. Lambert locks at 6:47 a.m. Monday, ending the season. Seaway authorities said the four ships still in Lake Ontario are the general cargo vessels Orient Merchant of Greece, Vanu of Nationalist China, the Flying Independent, U.S. registry, and the Olav Gorm, a Danish flour carrier. Last year's closing was on Dec. 15.

Soviet Women Want More Time With Families

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet working women are asking for less hours on the job and more time for household chores. Trud, the Soviet labor paper, said today they should have their way.

Trud said living standards here have improved, making the housewife's job easier. "But we have to do immeasurably more," it added.

The newspaper implied that until housewives have more equipment to help with the home chores, they should be allowed to spend less time at the office or plant.

Prairie Island Group Objects To Flood Plan

County commissioners Monday expressed sympathy for an embattled group of Prairie Island residents who are opposed to Winona's present flood control plans, but said they could do nothing for them.

S. A. Sawyer, Winona County attorney, told Orval C. Rhoades, representing the 51 islanders, that county property was not involved in the dispute. The county has no authority to enter into the matter, Sawyer explained, unless its rights or property would be involved.

RHODES appeared at Monday's session of the Winona County Board of Commissioners to ask for help in preventing the city and the Army Corps of Engineers from going ahead with their plans to build a dike along the route of the existing road on Prairie Island.

The 51 residents objecting to the proposal, Rhoades explained, live between the river and the road. They are residents of Winona Township. Were the dike to be built along the road, the residents contend, natural runoff from the Mississippi River to Airport Lake and Crooked Slough would be blocked, and any high water would be channeled onto their property.

The result of this would be a drop in the value of their properties, the residents assert. Rhoades said Monday that one resident of the area already lost a sale of his property because of the flood control plan.

IF THE DIKE is built according to present plans, Rhoades said, he and the other islanders affected would ask for at least a 75 percent reduction in property taxes.

He said that when the dike project first was brought up, a dike along the river bank was proposed. Such a dike would protect all the property on the island, but the 51 residents on the river side of the road objected to the kind of dike they were told was proposed — a sand bank and concrete wall.

The kind that is to be built now would be constructed of dirt and would have sloping, seeded sides. Rhoades said no one would have objected to such a dike along the river, but contended that he and his neighbors were misinformed about the kind of dike planned.

When he confronted a Corps of Engineers representative with this charge, Rhoades said, he was told it was "unfortunate."

RHODES TOLD the board that the dike project is going ahead even though he and three other residents have not signed easements permitting use of their properties.

He asserted that no government official will even discuss the issue with the island residents now. Letters sent the Corps of Engineers have gone unanswered, he said.

Commissioner Leo Borkowski, Goodview — whose 2nd District comprises the Prairie Island area involved — told Rhoades he would try to get the city's side of the issue during a meeting of board and City Council members Thursday night.

Engineers Complete New Flood Plan for Rushford

RUSHFORD, Minn. — Plans of the U. S. Corps of Engineers for flood control in Rushford will be in the city clerk's office by late December for inspection, Mayor Arthur J. Miller and Stanley Holland of the Rushford Area Drainage and Conservancy district said.

The project may cost in excess of $1½ million. Benefits to Rushford are expected to run considerably in excess of that, Miller said.

THE PLANS propose a dike on the west side of Rush Creek from high ground near the old Tews Mill behind all the houses on the west side of the creek down to its junction with the Root River, and up the Root River to the present dike above the bridge. The dike and highway would be raised and the project continued across the highway and railroad to high ground near the Isberg Sr. property.

On the east side of the creek the plan provides for a short section of diking protecting North Rushford, and another section of dike protecting Brooklyn, starting at high ground along the dry run, down on the north side of Brooklyn, and running continuously down past the ball park, then north of the railroad tracks and cutting over to high ground near the former Harry Larson property.

Water accumulating inside dikes — from rainfall and seepage — would be removed by a large capacity storm sewer running inside the dikes to ponding areas, where it would be pumped out. This storm sewer would be large enough to serve other branch storm sewers which might be connected to it later.

THE PLANS also propose cutting off river curves above and below the Root River bridge and below the entrance of Rush Creek into the Root.

The federal government would pay for all diking, including hauling in fill, riprapping, grading, labor and materials for the diking program; two new sewage and storm sewer lift stations, one for North Rushford and the other serving Brooklyn; the storm sewer system for carrying off water in the area protected by the dikes, and high capacity pumps for removal of water accumulating within the dikes through rainfall or seepage.

According to present plans, the state Highway Department would raise the Highway 43 bridge across Rush Creek and provide a footbridge on the upstream side; raise the Highway 16-43 bridge across the Root; raise Highway 16 to make a ramp over the proposed dike across the highway; pay for right of way for Root River cut-offs, and in another project, construct a new Brooklyn bridge. This is planned for 1966 by Fillmore County with assistance of state-aid funds, Miller said.

The Conservancy District and/or the city would provide right of way easements for the dikes along both sides of Rush Creek; pay for water and sewer line relocated to North Rushford and for relocating the sewer line to Brooklyn; and as the sponsoring organization, hold the U. S. free from damages and liability which might result from the diking and maintain the works after completed and turned over to the city by the engineers.

MILLER SAID it is thought telephone, gas and electric lines needing relocation would be paid for by the utilities. The lift stations, costing about $25,000 each and paid for by the government, would be a distinct benefit to the city in themselves, the mayor said. The conservancy district has been organized since 1952. Previously it sponsored sand control in the upper part of the Rush Creek watershed and a diking program carried out by the state Highway Department from the Root River bridge upstream to Highway 16, protecting the city from floods formerly coming over Highway 16. The present proposal is to protect the city by diking Rush Creek.

Fiberite Sales Increase 12%

The Fiberite Corp. of Winona today reported consolidated sales of $14,200,000 for fiscal 1964, up 12 percent from sales of $12,600,000 a year earlier.

The firm has been known as Universal Manufacturing Co. several years; it now has returned to the former name.

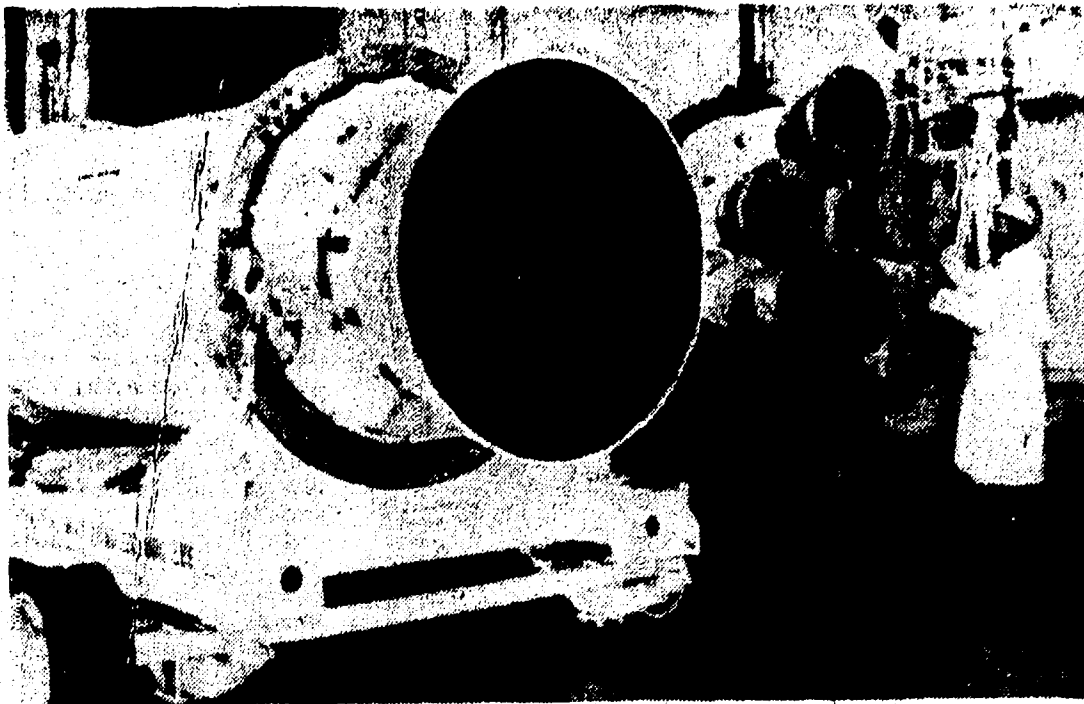

NET EARNINGS for the year, which ended Aug. 31, amounted to $839,000, or 94 cents per share. This compares with 1963 net earnings of $796,000, or 90 cents per share after adjustment for a two-for-three reverse stock split in July.

In its annual report to shareholders, the company attributed a major part of its sales gains to the development and production of new commercial molding materials.

Fiberite, which formulates and manufactures special thermosetting plastics and molding compounds for commercial applications, also is a large supplier of materials for the nation's aerospace and missile programs.

Among its achievements for the year, Fiberite reported the development of an exclusive new method for the production of phenolic, epoxy and melamine compounds in a variety of high density, preformed shapes designed to improve the efficiency and product quality of high-volume, automated molding processes.

The company is building a three-story office and laboratory building to add more than 50,000 square feet to its production facilities in Winona.

FIBERITE also made its first geographic expansion during the year with acquisition of Resco of California, in Orange. The subsidiary, which manufactures plastic materials for both consumer and industrial markets, has been renamed the Fiberite West Coast Corp. It has one other operating subsidiary—Melamine Plastics Corp. There are two other wholly owned subsidiaries: Unit Holding Co. and Unit West Coast Holding Co. A substantial portion of warehouse and factory space here is leased from Miller Waste Mills.

R. W. Miller, board chairman, and B. A. Miller, president, report to their 350 stockholders that "approximately 50 percent of Fiberite sales during the past year came from products that were developed or improved in our laboratories during the past three years."

"Expenditures for new product research . . . were $956,000 during the past year, up from $737,000 in the previous 12 months."

Substantial increases — totaling 50 percent — in industrial and commercial sales are anticipated this year. In addition the acquisition of Fiberite West Coast "has opened by a broad new area of sales opportunities through the use of Fiberite compounds in the decorative and laminating fields," the report says.

Fiberite has branch offices in Danbury, Conn.; Somerset, N.J.; Whitehouse, Ohio; Chicago; Irving, Tex. Orange, Calif.; Los Altos, Calif.; and Washington, D.C.

Former St. Mary's Student Returns As Guest Lecturer

An anatomy professor from Milwaukee's Marquette University medical school is a guest lecturer at the College of Saint Teresa today.

Dr. Clement Fox, who is associate chairman of the medical school's anatomy department, will spend Wednesday and Thursday lecturing at St. Mary's College.

He is lecturing on neuroanatomy in the two colleges' biology departments. As part of his visit, he will demonstrate electron microscopy technique, and there will be a display of electron micrographs.

Dr. Fox began his collegiate career at St. Mary's in 1925. He received his doctorate in neuroanatomy from the University of Michigan.

He was one of the lecturers here recently for a symposium on "The Ultrastructure of the Cell."

Chicago Woman, 103, Dead of Burns

CHICAGO (AP)—A 103-year-old Chicago woman who was born at Watertown, Wis., in the first year of the Civil War has died of burns suffered in a kitchen fire last week.

Mrs. Jessie Smith was believed to be the oldest resident of the Chicago area. She was born July 4, 1861, in Watertown and came to Chicago in 1882, 11 years after the great Chicago fire. Her husband, John, a steelworker, died when she was 91.

Sales Taxes in a Balanced Revenue Plan

GENERALLY SPEAKING, the more a state can diversify its tax sources, the better will be its prospects of enjoying a stable and satisfactory flow of revenues to pay for public services. The danger of putting an undue burden on any segment of the economy will be lessened.

Thirty-seven of the 50 states have found by experience that a sales tax is an efficient and desirable part of the general tax structure. Among these 37, all but seven got most of their revenues in the past fiscal year from sales taxes. Wisconsin, Colorado, Maryland and North Carolina had larger receipts from income taxes than from sales levies. Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana got more money from petroleum products than from any other source, reflecting the special importance of oil fields in their economies.

IT CAN BE ARGUED that some sales tax states, especially those without income taxes, put too much reliance on consumer goods levies. More diversification might give them a more equitable tax structure. It can also be reasonably argued that the 13 states without sales taxes, (of which Minnesota is one), are putting too much burden on property and income. Diversifying by adding a sales tax would tend to even out and balance the revenue sources.

Charles P. Stone, executive director of the Minnesota Taxpayers' Association, states the case well in saying: "Most states have found that the sales tax... eases the impact of taxation by spreading the cost of government equitably over what people spend as well as what they earn and own. Real and personal property taxes particularly have reached burdensome levels in Minnesota. We could improve our tax structure materially, with less dependence on taxation of income and property, if we were to join the sales tax states."

MODERN SALES tax laws can be so drawn as to reduce or eliminate regressive effect and unfairness to those in lower income brackets.

A surprising recent development in this connection was the statement before DFL women in St. Paul last Saturday by Rep. Donald Fraser of Minneapolis, long an opponent of a sales tax. He said that enactment of such a tax would be preferable to any drastic slash in state services... and would likewise be preferable to any further boost in real estate taxes.

WE'RE GLAD TO see Mr. Fraser coming around to a sensible conclusion after years of dodging the issue. As liberal minority leader in the Minnesota Senate before being elected to Congress, he always had voiced opposition to any form of sales tax while in the legislature.

Most Expensive Roads the Cheapest

JUST ABOUT everywhere you travel these days the construction gangs are at work building or rebuilding our highways. This is true in Minnesota, in neighboring states and across the border in Canada.

And it seems like the bigger the highway, the more used the thoroughfare, the more it is torn up.

The Michigan State Highway Department recently explained some of the why's of all this roadbuilding and just how much a road "costs."

The most expensive roads in Michigan cost about 150 times as much as the least expensive. A two-lane highway out in the country will cost about $100,000 per mile. A freeway through downtown Detroit will cost up to $15 million per mile.

BUT IN TERMS of moving people, the most expensive roads are usually the cheapest.

As an example, the Lodge Freeway in Detroit cost around $15 million per mile. Every day it carries about 125,000 vehicles. That figures to about $122 per mile for each car that uses it.

Applying the same yardstick to the rural two-lane highway that carries about 200 cars per day, the cost-use ratio figures to about $500.

In general, it is estimated that the dollar spent on a heavily traveled freeway gives four times the service as a dollar spent on a lightly-used rural highway.

OUR PROBLEM these days is to move great masses of traffic — from suburb into town, from everywhere to everywhere else on vacations and trips. It is not surprising, then, that the roads with the most cars are also the most torn up with new construction.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

LBJ Called Conservative

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Maybe some of the Republican governors and the so-called "moderates" will wake up sooner or later to the fact that the American people elected a conservative as President of the United States last month.

The theory expounded by the "moderates" that the country repudiated conservatism doesn't seem to have been accepted by President Johnson himself. For, in his speech on Wednesday to the business advisory council, he made one of the best expositions of conservative doctrine that has come from the lips of a chief executive in many years.

Mr. Johnson endeavored to make it clear that the government and business are really partners in the all-important task of preserving an equilibrium in wages and prices. He emphasized the need for healthy investment of funds and the creation of job opportunities for a growing population.

The President, in listing "the foremost economic problems" of the day, used, of course, generalities, but he did specify the obligations of business and government and stressed the fact that both are important. He said:

"I believe the federal government's role is to create a climate conducive to prosperity."

THE PRESIDENT spoke of what he called "primary obligations" of the government. These included a tax system "that does not overburden businessmen or consumers" but maintains incentives for productive effort, "expenditure programs that promote development of human and natural resources," and "keeping a clear field for private initiative in the wide range of activities where competitive enterprise is the most efficient way of getting things done."

Mr. Johnson spoke of the importance of "an over-all budget policy that promotes balance between purchasing power and productive capacity," and he stressed the need for "monetary and credit policies that provide funds to nourish an expanding economy without overfeeding it." Finally, the President listed the necessity for "an alertness and a willingness to act promptly and decisively when the nation is threatened by either recession or inflation."

THESE SAME principles have been expressed again and again by presidents who have been confronted with uncertain economic conditions, and there is no doubt that most businessmen feel — as Mr. Johnson does — that, while general business conditions today are good, there is no certainty that this will continue unless a policy of caution and prudence is followed.

Mr. Johnson did not delve into labor-management relations very deeply, though these contain the seeds of much trouble in the future. He said:

"I believe, also, that through wage-price guideposts government can offer leadership on the kind of voluntary private wage and price policies that are consistent with achieving sustained prosperity, full employment and price stability."

Unfortunately, the Johnson administration did not offer this leadership in the autumn of this year when it stood by without making any real effort to change the policies of major labor unions, particularly in the automobile industry. The country is not yet aware of the far-reaching consequences of the labor contracts which were apparently geared only to the idea that, because the automobile companies were doing a profitable business, this was the time for labor to get whatever benefits it could, irrespective of "guideposts."

THE IMPACT upon individual businesses which are related to the automobile industry in the making of parts and equipment has not been good. For these suppliers are not as well off as are the leading automobile companies themselves. That's why there is trouble ahead for many of the businesses which will be confronted with labor demands from some of the same unions. Also, in the steel industry, there is a temptation for the unions to try to get at least what was won by labor in the automobile settlements. This is plainly indicated in the latest demands of the steel union.

The industries and the unions in America have grown so large that governmental intervention has frequently occurred. The Kennedy administration offered certain "guideposts" and expressed the hope that they would be adhered to by both labor and management. Regrettably this did not materialize in the recent automobile negotiations, when the "guideposts" were completely disregarded by labor.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Steelworkers' Internal Feud Affects Economy

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A bitter battle is raging inside the Steelworkers' Union which may affect the entire economy of the nation. President Johnson is watching it carefully. Some advisers would like to have him intervene in order to prevent a serious round of inflation.

The battle is between his friend David McDonald, now president of the Steelworkers' Union, and I. W. Abel, the union's secretary-treasurer, who is challenging Dave for the presidency.

Both sides are doing some colorful name-calling. The opposition to McDonald is calling the handsome, silver-haired Steelworkers' president a "frustrated actor" who enjoys glamor more than the grime of the rolling mills. They assert Dave spends more time in Palm Springs, Calif., or the "21" Club in New York than in Pittsburgh or South Chicago.

They also point to McDonald's $50,000 salary plus expenses last year of $30,126.37 — total $80,126.37. They also point to his brother Joe's union salary of $13,219.50 plus expenses of $14,465.26, for a total of $27,684.76.

FINALLY, THEY point out that Dave's chief lobbyist, ex-Notre Dame football star Frank "Nurdy" Hoffman, gets an expense account of $48,808.22 plus his salary of $16,000. Hoffman's job is to entertain members of Congress and get legislation passed in Washington.

On the other hand, McDonald's supporters accuse Abel of drawing expenses of $20,584.21 plus a salary of $35,000, for a total of $55,584.21.

Incidentally, the union last year paid its top officials the rather generous total of $9,051,320 in salaries, plus personal expenses of $4,141,240.38.

What McDonald's critics overlook is that he has done one of the most outstanding jobs in the trade union movement by setting up the Human Relations Council which has ironed out labor disputes without strikes.

HOWEVER, THIS type of bargaining has taken McDonald out of the rolling mills and into the Duquesne Club, the sacred inner sanctum of the steel executives.

OPINION-WISE

World Today

GOP Governors Self-Confident

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Republican governors are the most self-confident branch of their party at the moment, as they showed in a statement issued after their weekend meeting in Denver.

They got some reason for their confidence from the 1964 elections which were a disaster for the rest of the party. While Republicans lost out on the presidency in the elections and in Congress dropped 38 House seats and two in the Senate, the party registered a net gain of one in governorships.

But in the very statement which they intended as a chart for the Republicans' future, the governors revealed the party's dilemma in national politics. They wound up sounding like a lot of Democrats.

Although they didn't say so there was another good reason for their willingness to tell the party what it ought to do.

In the 1968 presidential race the Republican candidate will probably come from the ranks of the governors. No Republican in Congress at this time looks like a presidential prospect.

The statement left little doubt that it was critical of Dean Burch, handpicked by Sen. Barry Goldwater to be chairman of the Republican National Committee.

But it named no names. Therefore, it was so ambiguous that some of the governors, who supported Goldwater, could say it wasn't aimed at Burch while others could say it was.

The governors covered a lot of ground in the statement:

1. They sketched an outline of principles they think the party should follow after the 1964 disasters.

2. They suggested the National Committee take steps to include from now on Republican governors and members of Congress — who they said should be included in a GOP leadership conference next year.

3. They didn't mention Goldwater but so worded what they said that he'd have to be obtuse not to take it as a rebuke.

4. They suggested the National Committee "adopt leadership" that represents a "broad view of Republicanism and practices a policy of inclusion rather than exclusion."

Govs. George Romney of Michigan, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said No. 4 was a clear call for throwing Burch out of the committee chairmanship.

The thrust at Goldwater was contained in this paragraph calling for Republican party support of civil rights:

"We feel it pertinent to remind our fellow citizens that most Republicans in Congress this year supported the federal Civil Rights Act," Goldwater voted against it.

The principles, which the governors unanimously said the party should follow, turned out to be very moderate, indeed, and are hardly distinguishable from those Republicans and Democrats had followed in the past.

Example: Support for old-age security, hospital and medical care, decent living standards, public education, mental health, and the needs of youth.

It's just because the Democrats talk the same way that the two parties for years have looked like twins, and sounded like them.

Goldwater and his followers were less enthusiastic about welfare programs. For this reason, among others, his candidacy symbolized a break with pre-1964 Republicanism.

The governors' statement, therefore, can be interpreted as an attempt to get away from Goldwater's views and resume the party's previous positions. The governors ruled out "radicalism" of left or right.

But for the greater part of the past 32 years those

Time We Did Something About Taxes

To the Editor:

Where is it going to end? Taxes, taxes, and now more rising taxes! Minnesota is talking about more taxes again in 1965. Just how are we supposed to support our families?

It's no wonder there are millions on relief. At the rate taxes, (and other prices) rise we haven't a chance. It takes away any initiative you might have, then goes on to grab everything else you had.

It's time we wake up and realized that all these "benefits" we receive from the government (state and federal) are nice. But who's paying for them? We are, and through the nose!

Time we woke up and did a few things for ourselves again, thereby getting the government back in the hands of the people.

Right after the election the theme of two succeeding days headlines were "Budget up 27 percent," and "Tax cut foreseen." Make sense? Then the news of the closing of our military bases, (throwing thousands out of work) supposedly to save tax money, and a few days later the small item of how our President's personal protection was raised by 75 men and at a cost of $650,000 (a year) from our tax dollars.

What are we going to do, and when are we going to care enough to start?

Mrs. Wesley Pierce
Lewistown, Minn.

FLOATED AROUND

BALDWIN, N.Y. — The announcement of the impending closing of the Brooklyn Navy Yard produced the newspaper headline, "Navy Yard Lost," to which one newsstand customer responded aloud:

"You mean they can't even find the damn thing?"

previous Republican positions had failed to win the presidency or control of Congress. But these are the positions the governors say are necessary.

So the party's dilemma is how to win with them in the future if it fared so poorly in the past. And Goldwater's views can hardly be considered the answer, after what happened to him.

BILL MERRILL'S Something to Live By

What kind of a disposition do you have? Is it congenial, well-mannered, and in general, pleasant? Or, do you number with the grouchy set who, for the most part, find people annoying and feel justified in fostering an anti-social attitude?

Someone was the author of a pretty cute statement with teeth in it when that someone wrote, "Why be difficult, when with a little effort you can be impossible?"

The impact of the statement is the suggestion. You think about it and try a little, and you can even be nastier than you are now, with implication that if you would really think about it, you would see yourself as others see you and any effort to change would likely run in the other direction.

DO YOU know what I think makes a person grouchy? Selfishness. These are they that think the world owes them a living, or that the other guy's out to get them for all they're worth. In either case, self becomes the primary concern and survival of the fittest is interpreted as a rat race, and those that come out on top are they that trust no one. The result? Such a person becomes disatisfied, feeling he or she is not getting his share, and no matter what he gets, he suspects he should have more. To cooperate or share with others is to him a sign of weakness. Remove self from the scene, and it opens up a whole new world. The confirmed grouch is pretty hard to get through to, but perhaps some reading this now have felt themselves falling in to the rut of being difficult. To openly admit it is to lose face. Not to do something about it is to become the kind of a person nobody likes. You can't even like yourself when you are difficult to be around. So, what to do?

May I suggest something. Look about you, extend yourself just a little, and do something nice for someone else. Find someone that you can benefit. Make a practice doing for others. A kind word, a helping hand, or an occasional sincere compliment can do much for those you bestow these niceties on, but much more for you.

SOMETHING ELSE. If you're becoming a grouch, you most likely haven't done your best on the job either. Make up your mind to do your best at work, and even this will start you back on to the road of happiness as you think in terms of that which is about you, and not just of self.

It's true that some people are difficult as the result of internal problems. Ill health is not an excuse for a nasty disposition, and yet it may well be a cause. Most folks allow for another's discomforts, giving them the benefit of the doubt. But when a nasty disposition persists, one has a tendency to suspect that the cause is yet selfishness, making the possessor of such a disposition a little hard to take. So, before you pollute the atmosphere about you, re-evaluate the worth and the cause of a nasty disposition and then be rid of it, and see the difference it will make.

Bill Merrill's "Something to Live By" may be heard daily over KWNW at 6:50 a.m.

Wabasha Co. to Open Bids on Depositories

WABASHA, Minn. — Proposals for Wabasha County depositories for the next two years will be opened by the board of auditors at the office of Luke C. Beaver, clerk of District Court, at the courthouse here Dec. 30 at 10 a.m. The proposals should include what security will be given for county funds, and what interest will be allowed on monthly balances on condition such funds with accrued interest will be held subject to draft and payment at all times on demand.

The board of auditors includes Ralph Warthesen, Plainview, chairman of the County Board of Commissioners, Beaver and Wilbur Koelmel, county auditor.

Junior College, Conservation Funds Asked

ST. PAUL (AP) — The pleas for more men and more money continued in budget hearings before Gov. Karl Rolvaag Monday. Latest in line were the new State Junior College Board and the Department of Conservation.

The Junior College Board asked for an outlay of $8.5 million for the next two years, to operate 11 existing junior colleges and four new ones — one in northwestern Minnesota and three in the Twin Cities area.

Phillip Helland, director of the board, asked for a $200,000 contingency fund and money for a student loan program in his request.

Helland said the 11 colleges now have 5,000 students and that this will grow to 6,100 by 1966. With 3,700 students at the new schools, Helland said, there will be some 9,800 in junior colleges a year hence.

The Junior College Board meets in its St. Paul offices today and some reports indicated the board might change signals and ask for five metropolitan area colleges instead of three, with a statewide system of 18.

It's been suggested that one of the new schools be in Thief River Falls, another in vacant space in Minneapolis Central High School.

Wayne Olson, state conservation commissioner, told the governor his main need is more manpower.

"We have about the same number of employees now as we had 10 years ago, despite the increase in operations and addition of programs such as natural resources," Olson said.

His office proposes to add 100 employees to its present complement of about 1,000. The conservation budget is pegged at $26.7 million, a boost of $7.5 million over the present outlay.

Tomah Votes for New High School

TOMAH, Wis. (AP) — The Tomah school district, voting on its financing, balloted 840-816 Monday night in favor of authorizing an additional $400,000.

The program covers a new senior high school building on a new site, remodeling the present high school for junior high use and improvements to elementary school buildings.

Total funds, with the additional to the program, amount to $2.3 million.

Bloodmobile Set At Durand Monday

DURAND, Wis. — The Red Cross bloodmobile will be at St. Mary's Church, Durand, Monday from 1 to 7 p.m.

Arrangements for donations are in charge of Mrs. R. J. Bryant and Mrs. Roderick R. Stenzel. A total of 125 pints is the goal. Gray Ladies will help at the registration desk and tables occupied by donors. Pepin County Homemakers will be in charge of the light lunch.

Yule Tree Erected On Rushford Bluff

RUSHFORD, Minn. — First National Bank of Rushford has erected a giant tree on the east slope of Magelsen's Bluff.

Folks say on a dark night the tree appears to be suspended by sky-hooks and hanging in space.

Elvin Humble, president of the bank, says it is 55 feet tall and the tower, 60 feet tall, with an additional eight feet to the clear light at the extreme top. Twenty cables from top to bottom hold 500 colored lights.

In 1900 the average work week was 60 hours long.

Whitehall Telephone Hearing on Tuesday

WHITEHALL, Wis. — The Public Service Commission hearing at the Trempealeau County courthouse here will be Monday at 11 a.m. instead of the date previously announced. Seventeen subscribers of General Telephone Co. of Wisconsin, formerly of Beef River Valley Telephone Co., Osseo, are petitioning for service from Tri-County Telephone Co-op, Inc., Independence.

Council OKs Full Program On CD Shelter

A full shelter survey program by the local civil defense unit was authorized Monday night by the City Council.
Civil Defense Director George McGuire said construction of several new buildings makes necessary a night-and-day survey of each block. Following this, all persons in the city will be assigned appropriate shelters either for day or night protection against possible enemy attack or nuclear fallout.
Cost of the survey will be $3,000, McGuire said. Half will be paid by federal funds and half will come from the local unit's current budget.
A three-day institute in Chicago next February will be attended by two medical representatives of Community Memorial Hospital, McGuire said. Each will receive $100 for expenses of attending the conferences on hospital planning and administration, McGuire said.

City Council

Hit-Run Driver Fined at Alma

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — Before Buffalo County Judge Gary B. Schlosstein Monday, William E. Volkman was fined $50 plus $5 costs for pulling away from the Bright Spot Tavern at Marshland Nov. 22 at 5:15 p.m., striking a 1965 cat traveling west on Highway 35-54, and failing to stop.
The owner of the other vehicle, with the aid of a squad car, followed Volkman about five miles into Winona and stopped him.
About $150 damage was done to the Volkman vehicle and $100 to the new car.
THE LICENSE of John Stohr, Alma, a juvenile, was suspended for 45 days on a charge of speeding at the junction of Highway 35 and 95 in Fountain City Nov. 24. He was assessed $3 costs.
Larry W. Hedberg was fined $35 plus costs for driving without a Wisconsin license in Alma Oct. 24.
Ralph Pyka, Caduay, was fined $50 plus costs for hunting deer within 200 feet of a county highway.
Michael Roland Bolland, Town of Waumandee, was fined $35 plus costs for hitting a bridge Nov. 22 at 2:30 a.m. He claimed he fell asleep while coming from Waumandee south on Highway 88.
The $50 fine against John Konkel, Arcadia Rt. 1, was suspended. He was charged with killing a doe in buck season. He was placed on probation for one year to Elliott Peterson, Mondovi, conservation warden. Konkel explained to the court he thought he shot a buck. He was unsuccessful in contacting Fred Gardner, Whitehall, Trempealeau County conservation warden, but reported to Stanley Apel, Buffalo City, Buffalo County warden.
FORFEITURES on charges listed:
Glen Tamke, Verona, transporting gun in auto, Nov. 21, $15.
Ray Kruger, Eleva, $15, having an antlerless deer not registered by 5 p.m. the first day following the close of the doe season. In court with Attorney John Ward, Osseo, he changed his plea from not guilty to guilty.
Marilyn Allison, Eleva Rt. 2, and Barbara Kothbauer, Mondovi Rt. 4, $15 each for having antlerless deer not registered by 5 p.m. the day following the doe season.
Lee Zastrow, Arcadia, $20 transporting an uncased gun, Nov. 21.

Part of Old Dump Land Yields $3,000

Satisfying itself the price was fair, the City Council voted Monday night to sell 5.15 acres of land in the old city dump for $3,000. That's a little more than two blocks.
The purchaser is the Gorman Foundry Co., which will build a 20,000-square-foot building next year on the site.

City Council

THE INITIAL recommendation was made by the Winona Athletic Board, charged with administration of the land which was decided to the city by the late John Latsch. The board based the asking price on an appraisal it has ordered.
Appearing at the council meeting to supply details was R. F. Forsythe, general manager for the concern.

Council President Harold Briesath, noting that city land usually brings $1,000 an acre, asked whether the offer was high enough. Forsythe outlined cost factors which he said would raise the final expense for the company to about $18,998, or $3,689 per acre.
Because the area is abandoned fill, with unstable subsurface characteristics, much excavating and refilling must be done, Forsythe explained. A 460-foot rail siding would require a new grade costing $2,200. Wires would have to be raised for clearance at a cost of $1,223. Extra costs for building foundation and footings would reach $8,500 and another $1,500 worth of fill would be needed within the walled space, he said.
The only other practical site, a Goodview location, was available at about $3,500 an acre, completely furnished with utilities, Forsythe told aldermen. Soil conditions there were adequate for construction, he said. There was little difference, economically speaking, Forsythe continued, but the company's first preference was Winona.

ALDERMEN and Mayor R. K. Ellings were impressed and

Ald. James Stoltman proposed that the company be formally thanked for its decision.
Approximately $125,000 will be invested in building and equipment, Forsythe revealed, and taxes of about $5,000 a year would be paid on this. The company, locally owned, hopes to double production and raise its present payrolls by another $100,000, he added. All but four or five of the 32 employees live in Winona or Goodview.

Temperatures Get Back Near Melting Range

Another snow, less than half an inch, brightened Winona up a bit for the holiday season last night and the weatherman cooperated with a pleasant prediction of "Partly cloudy to night and Wednesday; little temperature change tonight, warmer Wednesday. Low tonight 10-20, high Wednesday 35."

Mild temperatures and a chance of snow flurries is the outlook for Thursday.

THE WINONA temperature rose to 29 Monday afternoon, dropped to 22 overnight and was 25 at noon today. Snowfall measured .3 of an inch, leaving about an inch and a half on the ground.

Temperatures were slightly less than a year ago today when the high was 46 and the low 28. All-time high for this time of the year was 55 in 1946 and the low -16 in 1876. Mean for the past 24 hours was 25, near the normal figure of 23.

An exception to generally mild temperatures in Minnesota today was Duluth with a morning low of -7. At International Falls, usually a cold spot, the low was 11 above.

Rochester posted a high of 25 Monday and a low of 20 today while La Crosse had figures of 27 and 23 for the same times. Light snowfalls were reported at most Minnesota communities.

Light snow also fell early today in scattered areas of WISCONSIN and generally cloudy conditions prevailed in the rest of the state with slightly warmer temperatures.

Snowfall amounts were all less than a half-inch, with only .02 inch in the Milwaukee area. Parts of the state also received some freezing drizzle Monday with Lone Rock and Green Bay recording .01, and Madison, Beloit, La Crosse, Wausau, Eau Claire and Superior all receiving a trace.

Meanwhile, high temperatures Monday ranged from 28 at Beloit to 20 in Superior.

Wabasha Co. FU Votes To Study NFO Union

KELLOGG, Minn. — By a one-vote margin the Wabasha County Farmers Union adopted a resolution to appoint a committee to study possible unity of action between the Farmers Union and the Wabasha County NFO.

The resolution was adopted at the FU's annual meeting here Friday evening. Logan Pettit of Plainview presented the resolution which read, "Because of the very serious lack of organization among farmers, we members of the Wabasha County Farmers Union direct our county president to appoint a committee of not less than three members within 10 days for the purpose of making possible unity of action between the Farmers Union of Wabasha County and the NFO of Wabasha County."

SPEAKING IN FAVOR of the resolution were State Rep. Charles Miller and Paul Files of Kellogg. Opponents said the committee should appoint only Farmers Union members and not NFO members. Many farmers belong to both organizations, including Pettit.

Several women spoke out in opposition of the resolution saying the two organizations should not be pushed together. They also objected to stopping livestock trucks.

Harold Hall, Kellogg, was re-elected chairman for his fourth term. Pettit was re-elected vice chairman defeating Stephen Taubel, Theilman. Mrs. Jerome Majerus, Plainview, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Auto Body Repair Course Started

The second of five classes to be organized this fall and winter in the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School under provisions of the federal Manpower Development & Training Act met for its first session Monday.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told members of the Board of Education Monday night that $54,500 worth of equipment has been purchased for the courses. Equipment is financed by the federal government through the MDT program and will become the property of the school system when the courses are completed.

ARRANGEMENTS for the courses of instruction have been made by Thomas W. Raine, director of the vocational-technical school, and his assistant, Warren Macemon.

Students are enrolled in the course in auto body repair for which instruction is being given in rented quarters at the Schamer Warehouse building, 1552 W. Broadway.

LAST MONTH a class of 20 began work in a course for high-way technicians offered at the armory and three other classes are to begin sessions within the month.

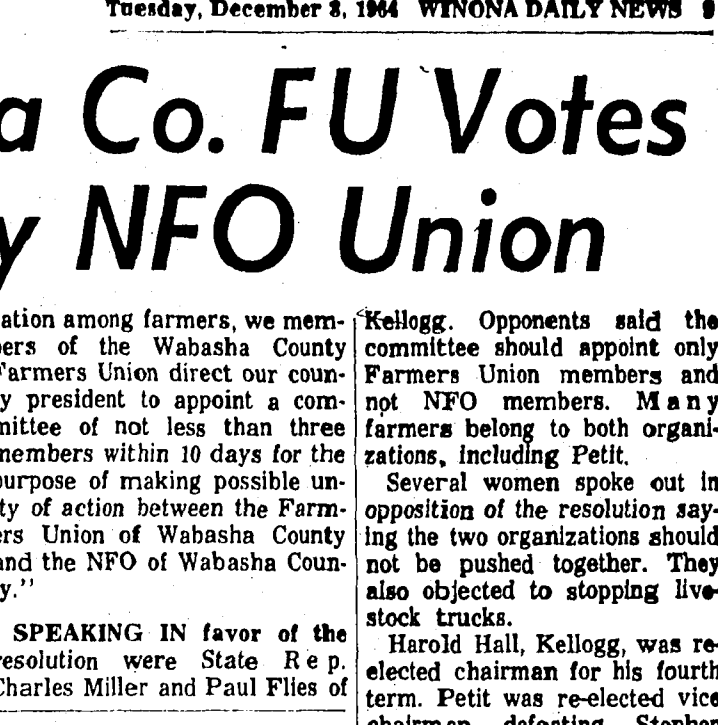

First meetings of classes in stenography and general office clerical work are scheduled for next Monday and a course in welding is to begin Jan. 4.

Each of the classes will have an enrollment of 20.

Students were selected through screening of applicants by the Winona office of the Minnesota Employment Service under the direction of Ray H.

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Clinton Sumrall, 36, a San Jose, Calif., plumber, has been held to answer a murder charge in Superior Court Dec. 17 in connection with the slaying of Marvin W. Clark, 34, Austin, Minn.

Sumrall is charged with shooting Clark last Nov. 10 in a Ventura bar. Until preliminary hearing Friday, Sumrall has remained in jail since Nov. 11.

Sweet Voices of Children Highlight Family Program

A large silver star shining brightly from the choir loft above the manger scene; myriads of tiny lights twinkling on evergreen trees on either side of the manger area; spot lights directed to the place where Mary (Janika Eckert) and Joseph (Wayne Hammer) would watch over the manger; a spirit of awe and reverence — these things greeted parents and friends of the children of the church school at the traditional Christmas program in the sanctuary of the First Congregational Church Sunday afternoon.

TO THE singing of "O Come, All Ye Faithful," the procession entered the church led by the "curtain" angels holding lighted candles and followed by the littlest angels, the small shepherds, the stately kings and the junior choir.

Miss Patricia Rekstad read the Christmas story as the scenes were acted out and carols were sung. Mrs. S. A. Sawyer, director of the pageant, chose as her theme, "For while the Law was given Moses, love and truth came through Jesus Christ." (John 1:17).

The "curtain" angels in their white robes and shiny halos (30 boys and girls in the third through seventh grades) formed a living curtain which covered the manger scene and opened and closed as the story scenes developed.

"IN THE beginning": Carol Wynne presented a solo, "O Come, O Come, Immanuel." "And it came to pass in those days": The littlest angels in their tiny robes and round halos (30 pre-schoolers and kindergartners led by Mrs. Robert Becker) solemnly sang "Away in the Manger" and the 30-voice choir (children from grades two to six) directed by Mrs. T. P. Morris and Mrs. C. R. Stephenson, caroled "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and "The First Noel."

"And there were in the same country shepherds": 20 children from the primary department (taught by Mrs. E. O. Eckert and Mrs. Robert Dunn) in shepherd dress and carrying staffs stood in groups about the manger scene as they sang "Silent Night."

THE A CAPPELLA singing of the little angels and shepherds was sweet to hear and the young choir members, accompanied by Miss June Sorlien, organist, sang with sincerity and dignity. "Behold, there came wise men from the east": The three king (David Seitter, John Becker, John Neidig) presented their gifts to the Christ child. Each sang a solo part of "We Three Kings" assisted by the choir. Looking as if they had just stepped out of a Christmas card, with their lifted faces and eyes turned to the beautiful rose window in the sanctuary, the five Morris girls (Martha, Margaret, Karen, Donna and Carol — daughters of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Morris) sang "O Holy Night."

A POEM, "Love Came Down at Christmas" by Christina G. Rossett, was read by Miss Rekstad to close the pageant. The benediction was given by the minister, the Rev. Harold Rekstad. "Joy to the World" was sung during the recessional.

Assisting Mrs. Sawyer with costumes were Mmes. Robert Lembeck, Robert Miller and David Wynne. The staging was done by Mrs. Sawyer. The Christmas trees, which will be lighted throughout the Christmas season at church services, were decorated by Mrs. Richard Callender, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Glenn.

Mrs. Frank Allen was chairman of the church-family supper served to 250 in the fellowship room following the pageant. She was assisted by members of the Women's Fellowship and young people from the Pilgrim Fellowship.

THE CHRISTMAS trees flanking the fireplace in the fellowship room were decorated by Mrs. E. M. Allen, Mrs. Morris and the Young Mother's Group with the mittens, scarves and toys given by the church school children. These gifts will be sent to Indian children at Congregational Missions at Wood and Eagle Butte, S.D.

Christmas Skit Featured at Club

A Christmas skit, arranged by Mrs. H. R. Munson, was presented to Chautauqua Club members at a meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Stanley J. Pettersen.

Taking part in the skit were Mmes. L. W. Osborn, S. J. Kryzsko, R. D. Cox and A. E. Schleider. The program also included the reading of poems, which are not too well-known, but which reflect the general attitude and meaning of the times in which they were written.

LEDEBUHR OPEN HOUSE STOCKTON, Minn. — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ledebuhr, Stockton, will be honored on their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday at an open house at Jack's Place, 767 E. 5th St., Winona. Hours will be from 2 to 5 p.m. No invitations are being sent.

Local 633 Sets Yule Parties For Saturday

The annual Christmas party of Local 633, United Auto Workers, will be held Saturday at the Red Men's Wigwam.

Children from 1 to 12 years of age are being invited in the afternoon, from 2 to 3:30 o'clock, when Santa Claus will make his appearance with gifts of candy and goodies and cartoon movies will be shown.

In the evening the adults will take over, with a social hour, starting at 6 p.m. The group-ups will have dinner from 6:30 to 8 p.m. after which there will be dancing to an orchestra until 1 a.m.

All retired members and their wives are also invited to attend, according to Edmund Frasch, party chairman.

Catholic Women Plan Yule Party

INDEPENDENCE, Wis. (Special) — The St. Peter and Paul women's organization will meet Thursday evening at the school auditorium for their Christmas party.

The Rosary will be recited in the church before the meeting at 8 p.m. The exchange of $1 gifts is optional. Carols will be sung, after which a social hour will be held.

The society has also received the calendars which will be available at the meeting. Reports will be given on the dinner served at the Independence High School for the football banquet and the bake sale that was held Sunday.

In the past the St. Elizabeth Society sponsored a food shower for the Sisters of St. Peter and Paul School during this time. It was decided to continue this practice. Each member is asked to bring some canned goods or frozen meats which will be presented to the Sisters.

Bethany Moravian Aid Will Meet

BETHANY, Minn. (Special) — Bethany Moravian Ladies Aid will have its December meeting and Christmas party at the parsonage Thursday. There will be a potluck dinner at noon, followed by a Christmas worship program, Bible and mission studies, entertainment, exchange of gifts and a lunch.

The Bible Study is based on Job 42 with the theme "Jobs Restoration." Mission study will be the last chapter of "On the Roof of the World" entitled "A Time of Uncertainty." All women of the congregation are invited to attend.

ROSARY SOCIETY TEA GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — A silver tea will be given by St. Mary's Altar Society Saturday from 2 to 4:30 p.m. in the Isaac Clark room of the Bank of Galesville. The public is invited.

AUXILIARY PARTY LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — Gittens Leidel Unit 595, American Legion Auxiliary, will hold its meeting and Christmas party today at 8 p.m. in the Legion Clubrooms. Members are asked to bring gifts for exchange and items to be sent to the VA Hospital to be used for tray favors.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hargesheimer

Hargesheimer, Werner Vows Are Exchanged

Miss Mary Elizabeth Werner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Werner, 629 Main St., became the bride of William D. Hargesheimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hargesheimer, 916 Gilmore Ave., Nov. 28.

The wedding was in the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Harold J. Dittman officiating. The Children's Choir sang.

THE BRIDE wore a floor-length gown of candelight peau de soie. It was styled with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. A trimming of seed pearls accented the waistline of the skirt, which had a controlled paneled front and a walking train. Her veil was held by a cabbage rose, encrusted with pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of candlelight roses.

Miss Ann Werner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Ann Hargesheimer, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore floor-length gowns of cranberry-red peau de soie, fashioned with bell-shaped skirts, elbow-length sleeves and scoop necklines. Their headpieces were matching bows and long face veils. Each carried a giant white mum.

David Keller was best man and Tom Thaldorf was groomsman. Ushers were Daniel Sullivan and David Sutton, the latter from Minneapolis.

A BRIDAL dinner was given at noon at Hotel Winona and the reception in the afternoon was at Westfield Golf Club.

After a short wedding trip, the couple is now at home at 515 Huff St.

Both young persons attended Winona Senior High School and Winona State College. The bride is a dental assistant for Dr. L. L. Korda. The groom, who is still a student at WSC, is employed at Wilkisons Clothing Store.

The rehearsal dinner was given at the Golden Frog Supper Club, Fountain City, Wis., by the groom's parents. The bride was honored at a pre-nuptial shower, given by Misses JoAnne Tambornino and Mary Horton at the Robert Horton home.

Persons Growing Old Loved Most Bishop Tells 100 Senior Citizens

About 100 Senior Citizens attended the annual Christmas party in Holy Family Hall at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart Sunday afternoon.

Dessert was served, after which the Most Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, bishop of Winona, was introduced by Mrs. Robert Horton.

HE opened his remarks by quoting the psalmist, "Seventy are the allotted years, but 80 if you are strong."

"Now," he said, "you have time to think of God and His works, to think of people who need help and to pray either in church or at home."

"No one," he continued, "is loved more than the person growing old, except a baby beginning life."

The bishop made reference to the Ecumenical Council he recently attended in Rome, where bishops were assembled from all over the world, some from places where people are miserable with poverty, others from the Iron Curtain countries, where religious freedom is restricted.

BISHOP Fitzgerald extended the greetings of Pope Paul VI to the people of the diocese. The Pope, he said, commended them for their great charity to the poor of the world.

Introduced by Mrs. Hubert Weir, entertainment chairman, were Mmes. Joseph Orzechowski, Eugene Young, Bernard Kostuck and Mr. Anton Guenther, a former parishoner. They entertained the guests with songs, including Christmas carols. Mrs. Joseph Orzechowski played organ selections while dessert was served.

The tables were decorated with white candles and ceramic angels, made by Hilary Friedeck and Edward Klingner of St. Anne Hospice. The angels were presented to the guests and sent to shut-ins not able to be present. Miss Margaret Driscoll is parish chairman of the latter group.

THE DINING room and hospitality committee in charge of the party included Mmes. Hannibal Choate, Jack Leaf, H. K. Robinson and the Misses Alma Kemp, Mary Lingl, Margaret Schummers, Margaret Stevenson and Lorena Walsh.

Dessert was prepared by Mrs. Severt Tindal, assisted by Gil Scouts, Janet and Mary Tindal, Jessica Gerlach and Roxanne Losinski.

THE ENGAGEMENT OF MISS JUDITH ANN DeFRANG to Stanley J. Czaplowski is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy DeFrang, Millville, Minn. Mr. Czaplowski is the son of Mrs. Stanley Czaplowski Sr., 872 E. Broadway, and the late Mr. Czaplowski. The wedding will be Feb. 6 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, West Albany, Minn. Miss DeFrang is a nurse at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, and her fiance is employed at IBM, Rochester.

Second Christmas Gala Sale At Hospice Set for Saturday

Plans are being completed for the second Christmas Gala Sale at the St. Anne Hospice Saturday.

The sale, which is being sponsored by the St. Anne Hospice Auxiliary, will combine the culinary talents of the members of the auxiliary who will provide a variety of baked goods for the sale, and the artistic talents of the guests at the Hospice, working under the Occupational Therapy program.

A SELECTION of beautiful Christmas cookies, cakes, nut breads, and exceptional candies will be offered for sale by the auxiliary women.

Articles suggested for Christmas gifts made by the nimble fingers of the elderly will include toys, ceramics, rugs, hand-knit articles, candles, and a complete selection of figurines symbolic of the birth of Christ. Many other items of Christmas decor will be available for indoor and outdoor use for holiday-guy decorations.

A special feature of the day will be guided tours of the Hospice building for those interested in becoming better acquainted with the purpose of the Hospice, or for those interested in seeing the arrangement and furnishings of the building.

Refreshments will be served during the afternoon for the enjoyment of the holiday shoppers in the recreation room where the sale will be held.

MRS. LEROY Bachus and Mrs. John Quintan are general chairmen for the Christmas Gala Sale and will act as chairmen for the Christmas bake sale. They will be assisted by the following chairmen: Mmes. Ray Kulaszewicz and Charles Smith, Occupational Therapy sale; Mrs. Frank Murlinger, tea table; Mmes. Hubert Weir and Earl J. Helting, tours.

The sale will be in progress from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., with refreshments being served from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend, the chairmen said.

Tear Gas Ends School Classes

MANDAN, N.D. (AP)—There were no classes Monday in Mandan Junior High School or Central grade school.

It's the tear gas, you know. Police uncorked tear gas in the junior high school's ventilation system Monday afternoon in an effort to flush out a burglar thought to be hiding in the building.

The gas didn't produce any burglar, but it did persuade school authorities to declare a holiday until the junior high school and adjoining elementary school could air out.

SATURDAY STUDY CLUB—The Saturday Study Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Tillman, 710 Main St., at 12:30 p.m. Saturday for the annual Christmas party. Members may invite guests.

Naming of Architect May Be Wednesday

The possibility that a decision may be made Wednesday by the Board of Education on selection of an architect for the projected construction of a new Senior High School here emerged during Monday night's school board meeting.

For more than two months board members have been meeting with architects interested in the project and Monday spent about half of a four-hour session reviewing these interviews and discussing school buildings visited in this area, the Twin Cities and Chicago which had been designed by several of the firms.

AFTER A detailed discussion of qualifications of some nine of the firms board members agreed Monday that at least one more meeting should be held for discussion of specific points involved in architectural services for the project.

The meeting was scheduled tentatively for Wednesday night and may involve additional interviews with representatives of two interested firms.

Directors felt that it may be possible to arrive at a decision after this meeting although they held the question open for additional meetings if this becomes necessary.

Retaining of an architect in the near future is necessary so that preliminary drawings may be prepared to provide cost estimates necessary in the contemplated request for authorization by the state legislature of a bond issue to finance school construction.

Wisconsin Truck Driver of Year Green Bay Man

GREEN BAY, Wis. (U-P)—Paul Younger, 45, of Green Bay was selected as Wisconsin's "truck driver of the year" Saturday night.

He received an award from the Wisconsin Motor Carriers Association "for 19 years of no-accident driving and his life saving rescue of an accident victim."

The association said Younger, driving a petroleum truck along the tip of Green Bay on the night of Aug. 8, saw an overturned car in a ditch, waded out and found the dazed driver hanging by a seat belt with his head at water level. Younger pulled the man to safety and summoned help.

Educational Research Plan To Be Checked

A proposed plan for an extensive and continuing educational research program involving school systems throughout the state was outlined in brief to members of the Board of Education by Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson Monday night.

The superintendent explained that a reorganization of the University of Minnesota's College of Education currently in progress involves creation of a department of administration which is expected to provide additional services to schools throughout the state.

ONE PROJECT is the establishment of the Educational Research and Development Council which has done a great deal of research for schools in the Twin Cities metropolitan area on school expenditures, staffing and financing. The council is now considering expansion of its activities to include other systems outside the metropolitan area.

Nelson said that superintendents of the Big Nine high school conference, of which Winona is a member, has discussed participation in the research program which would mean a pooling of resources for studies in curriculum, staff and financial aspects of school operation. The superintendent said that the director of the council, Dr. Donald Davis, has said he'd be willing to visit Winona to discuss all aspects of the program with the board.

DIRECTORS suggested that Nelson make arrangements for such a meeting.

Attending Monday's meeting were President Lawrence Santelman and Ray Gorsuch, 1st Ward; Dr. L. L. Korda and Dr. C. R. Kollofski, 2nd Ward; Dr. C. W. Rogers and Frank J. Allen Jr., 3rd Ward; Daniel Sadowski and Franklin Tillman, 4th Ward, and Director-at-Large David F. Wynne.

3 Road Project Estimates Paid

Payment of final estimates on three road projects was approved by the Winona County Board of Commissioners this morning.

Projects included county-wide bituminous work done by Dunn Blacktop Co., Winona; county-wide crushed rock work done by N. A. Roverud Co., Winona, and work on County Road 105, done by Patterson & McDougall, St. Charles.

The bituminous work cost a total of $49,218.70, of which $33,424.49 has been paid. The final estimate amounted to $15,794.21. Cost of the crushed rock work was $5,241.51. A total of $3,878.20 has been paid, leaving $1,363.31 for the final estimate.

The CR 105 project cost a total of $21,123.01, of which $15,242.41 has been paid, leaving $5,880.60 for the final estimate.

State Official's View:

For Safe Driver Law Not Enough

MADISON, Wis. — "Compliance with the letter of the law is not always enough to avoid accidents," said James L. Karns, commissioner of the state Motor Vehicle Department, in his monthly report.

"Take the matter of right of way rules, for example," he explains. "In the average traffic situation, there isn't time for each driver to figure out the details of the right of way regulations. One driver will have a little different idea of what the regulations mean than another driver. Arguing about who had the right of way, after an accident, does nothing to avoid trouble; it only is engaged in to try settling who is more to blame."

"EVEN THE stop sign can be misused by a driver who thinks he is legally within his rights. The law on stop signs declares that the driver must come to a stop at the sign and remain stopped until the way is clear and he can go ahead safely. The law cannot spell out at length how a driver is to determine if and when the way is clear."

"In some locations, two stops may be necessary for complete safety of the driver. The first stop is made near the stop sign. Then the driver pulls up cautiously and makes a second stop to see if the way is clear for him to proceed through the intersection."

"At many Y-intersections in rural areas, a driver is left largely to his own discretion as to how he maneuvers his vehicle so he can see that the way is clear for him to proceed.

"There also is the doctrine of the last clear chance which places upon a driver the basic responsibility for taking such evasive action as may be necessary to avoid an accident."

"It's important to know traffic laws, but it's of equal importance to be constantly ready to do more than the law demands to keep out of accidents. Common courtesy toward fellow highway users will go a long way toward alleviating traffic problems and reducing accidents."

THE TRAFFIC TOLL in Wisconsin through October was 885, 20 percent higher than the same period in 1963. Pedestrians killed in motor vehicle accidents through October totaled 123. Vehicle miles traveled in October totaled 1,471,213,291, an increase of 13.5 percent over the previous October.

Jackson County had five traffic fatalities in three accidents in October; Trempealeau and La Crosse counties, each two, and Eau Claire County, one. Buffalo and Pepin counties had none.

Both fatalities in Jackson County were rural and both were drivers. The driver of a car drove left of center and collided with another car on Highway 35 in Trempealeau County.

Buffalo County had five fatalities in four fatal accidents through October this year compared with four fatalities in 1963.

Jackson County's fatalities through October climbed to 10, compared with two the previous year. They occurred in six accidents.

Pepin County had two fatalities through October, two less than through October last year. Fatalities through October in Trempealeau County totaled 11 — three more than during the same period last year. They occurred in 10 accidents.

Eau Claire County had nine fatalities through October, and La Crosse County, 15.

3 Durand High Teams Compete

DURAND, Wis. — Three Durand High School debate teams participated in the Chippewa High Invitational tournament Saturday.

In the varsity division the A team won and lost 3. The affirmative team won 1 and lost 2. The negative team won 2 and lost 1.

A freshmen team won 5 and lost 1 and finished in second place in the B division. The third team entered, won and lost 3 in the B division.

John Hess led the Durand debaters with 41 points and placed second in the tournament. Other leading Durand speakers were Jackie Buchholz, 33, Kathy Forslund, 36, and Nancy Morey and Gary Weckin with 35 points each.

This Saturday the Durand squad will split up, sending two teams to the Menominee invitational and two teams to the Hastings, Minn. tournament.

Burma exported 1,600,000 tons of wheat in 1963.

CLU Request On Teachers' Salaries Filed

A recommendation by the Winona Central Labor Union that the Board of Education reconsider its action of last spring on public school teachers' salaries for the 1964-65 contract year was acknowledged Monday by the school board which, however, declined to review the salary issue.

The CLU had adopted last month by unanimous vote the resolution asking board reopening of the salary discussion in the light of findings by a three-member adjustment panel which had recommended certain adjustments in the teachers' salary schedule.

Last month the board had agreed in principle to various recommendations made by the panel on procedures to be followed in future discussions by board members and teacher representatives on matters involving wages and other professional matters but decided against any changes in the schedule now in effect.

The resolution submitted to the board by the labor group held that the board had "chosen to ignore the major recommendations of the arbitration committee."

After the resolution had been brought before the board for discussion Monday, President Lawrence Santelman asked if any director wished to have the salary issue reviewed.

There was no expression favoring such action from directors and the board went on with other business on the agenda.

The board was advised that the 1965 convention of the National School Boards Association will be in Boston April 3-6. Board members interested in attending the national convention were asked to make reservations as early as possible.

Plainview Milk Products Sales Up $600,000

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special) — Total gross sales at the Plainview Milk Products Association (formerly the Plainview Cooperative Creamery) were $4½ million during the past fiscal year, it was revealed here at the association's annual meeting Saturday.

This is an increase of nearly $600,000. Net profits were $92,532.

The association received 77,361,568 pounds of milk compared with 66 million the previous year. A total of 152,098 pounds of cream was received, 80,000 more than the past year.

A NEW HIGH in butter production was reached. A total of 3,172,031 pounds was churned, almost 300,000 more than the past year. Powdered manufactured milk totaled 12,649,795 pounds, an increase of a million and a half pounds.

John Sloane, Ambrose Somon, Sidney Stoltz and Ernest Stoehr were re-elected to the Board of directors. Stoehr had been appointed by the board to succeed the late Milton Schwartz, to fill his unexpired term, which now has ended.

The board elected William Rahrman, president; Simon, vice president; and Sloane, secretary-treasurer. Other board members are Herbert Weis and Ralph Tiedemann. Glen Haase is the manager and operator. No changes were made in the by-laws.

Matt Metz, Wabasha County agent, discussed the progress made by dairymen, from milking by hand, using cream separators and cooling milk in the cisterns, to the methods used now.

BUTTER AND dried milk sold were the top sources of income during the past fiscal year. Butter sales totaled $1,860,105 while dried milk sales reached $2,032,102.

Among the top expenses were: Plant salaries, $111,214, and supplies, $118,953. A total of $3,650,356 was paid to patrons and creameries.

A total of 20 percent of the profits was distributed as cash to patrons with the balance distributed as patrons capital credits.

'Tis the Season for Unordered Merchandise

MADISON, Wis. — "Wisconsin residents are again being plagued by shipments, deliveries and COD packages of unordered merchandise," Ray Pytel, supervisor of the Consumer and Trade Practice section of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, warned today.

"The arrival of the Christmas shopping season is expected to accelerate the complaints."

Many persons are receiving unordered trinkets, neckties, Christmas cards, toys and many other items with subsequent demands for payment, Pytel said. He listed six variations of the unordered merchandise schemes.

The most common involves the mailing of a package of toys, neckties or Christmas cards, together with a demand for payment. While the recipient has no obligation to pay for the merchandise or to ship it back, many people are "scared" into paying through threats to destroy the recipient's credit rating or through collection letters from "fake" collection agencies.

The undelivered package scheme is another, Pytel stated. Here a telephone call is made to a neighbor to ascertain if anyone is at home. The call is made from a nearby phone and no time is wasted in delivering the merchandise to the person's address if an unanswered phone indicates absence.

After the deliveryman attempts his "phony" delivery, he will approach the next door neighbor with the story that the merchandise was ordered and that the resident for whom the package is intended is not at home. If the victim agrees to take the package for his neighbor, he is asked to sign a receipt which usually turns out to be a contract obligating the victim to pay for the merchandise.

Another vicious target is deceased persons. This scheme involves checking obituary columns in newspapers. The widow or widower is approached shortly after the funeral with a Bible that was purportedly ordered by the deceased. The pitch is that with the name of the deceased engraved on the cover of the Bible, the company would stand to lose if the merchandise was refused. To further gain sympathy, the company will suggest reducing the price by $10. The victim usually winds up paying $39.95 for a Bible that sells for $10 and under in the local bookstores.

The free toy gimmick involves circulating coupons among school children. Free toys are offered for filling out a simple puzzle. All of the entrants receive the toy by return mail along with a dozen or two of the promoter's products. The firm offers larger prizes if the merchandise is sold within the neighborhood. If the youngster fails to sell the product or fails to forward the amount involved to the promoter, a series of collection letters and threats follows.

The unordered COD racket is another, Pytel warned. This involves the shipping of unordered merchandise in connection with other purchases. The firm will contend that the shipping department made a mistake, but since the merchandise was used it cannot be returned for a refund. This scheme is never used by reputable firms, but only by fly-by-night operators, Pytel noted.

"The package being held for you" racket is another. This differs in that no merchandise is involved. Instead confidential information about the victim is sought by the promoter. A ruse of a package being held by the called pending identification is used to obtain the information for future sales promotions or collection purposes.

Hardwood Forest Fence—Who Pays to Keep It Up?

By GEORGE McCORMICK
Daily News Staff Writer

Who pays for maintenance of a fence between farm land and state property included in the Minnesota Memorial Hardwood Forest?

This was the question discussed this morning by the Winona County Board of Commissioners and representatives of the Conservation Department's forestry division.

THE ANSWER to it was not too clear, but it appears that for the present, at least, the farmer pays.

Commissioner James Papenfuss, Dakota, brought up the problem during a meeting scheduled by the foresters as an opportunity for them to explain progress of the memorial forest program in the county.

It arises because the state is not obliged to observe the usual line fence law farmers must obey — and because the conservation department does not have funds for fence maintenance.

Farmers, on the other hand, are required to keep their stock out of the forest preserve area. The only solutions to the problem, the foresters agreed, would be for the Legislature to appropriate a fund for taking care of such matters, or for a farmer to maintain the fence at his own expense, then send a bill to the Legislature for the state's share.

THE LATTER solution seems to be the only one available now, the foresters said, and the Conservation Department will help by recommending payment of any bill for fencing submitted by a farmer.

Present at the meeting were Clifford Carlson, Brainerd, assistant regional forester; George Hammer, Faribault, area forester; Larry Ritter and Ed Iverson, area land appraisers; Robert Schutz, Lewiston, forester, and Roger Camerer, forester trainee.

Schutz explained that the state — over a 50-year period — wants to acquire 42,000 acres of forest land in Winona County. This represents about 36 percent of the county's total forest land.

TO DATE, he said, 2,179 acres have been appraised in Winona County, and the state has options on 1,355 acres. Cost of land on which options have been exercised has been about $27,000.

Research Shows Mayflies Avoid Polluted Waters

Those hordes of big mayflies which bother residents along most parts of the upper Mississippi River in the summer may be a nuisance but they're an indication the river is fairly clean.

A Winona State College biologist has been charting the nasty mayfly since 1957. He has concluded its presence indicates that "the river is more river-like than sewer-like in a given area."

IRONICALLY, this may mean that if cities don't expand sewage treatment facilities to keep pace with growing population, the mayfly problem may be largely resolved.

Dr. Calvin R. Fremling, the WSC biologist, has reported on his research in the November 27 issue of Science, the magazine of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. It has the largest circulation of any scientific publication in the United States.

In his research, Dr. Fremling has for the first time documented distribution of insect species as an indication of pollution conditions over an extremely large segment of a river system, in this instance 1,000 miles.

MAYFLIES are known by different names along the upper Mississippi River, such as fish-flies, river bugs, willow bugs, Green Bay flies, Canadian soldiers, Mormonflies, shadflies and June bugs.

Since 1957 Dr. Fremling has been providing — the latter years with National Science Foundation grants — collection kits for mayflies to towboat captains and to lockmasters at each of the 27 locks. A total of 576 collections were made of three mayfly species between Lake Itasca, the source of the Mississippi, and Cairo, Ill., at the confluence of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers.

When the results were analyzed and plotted mile for mile, Dr. Fremling says it's apparent there are two areas which fail to produce substantial numbers of mayflies.

They're the areas just below the Twin Cities and St. Louis; both river areas are seriously polluted at present, according to Dr. Fremling.

FOR 30 MILES below Minneapolis, he says, there is no recorded mass emergence of any of the three mayfly species studied. Mass emergences above Minneapolis, however, are common. Only one mass emergence below St. Louis has been recorded.

The life of a mayfly, as river residents know, is brief but annoying. During a brief aerial flight near the end of their lives they mate. Then the female comes back to the water and lays about 8,000 eggs. When these hatch in about 12 days, the tiny offspring go into the mud, which is their home for most of their lives.

A year later the survivors rise to the top of the water, usually at night, where they moult and become winged. Their flight range ordinarily is quite short, and their remaining life after mating is measured in hours.

DURING MASS emergences, the falling and dead bugs have, on occasion, become so thick on lighted roads and bridges that snowplows were required to remove the slippery mess. Bright downtown lights in river towns attract the bugs by the millions; shoppers go home after trying to beat off the large clumsy insects. Trees bend under the load of their weight. The piles of insects smell.

On the river itself the rising mayflies are a hazard to navigation. Powerful navigation lights of towboats are obscured by the swirling masses of mayflies.

But, as Dr. Fremling writes in Science, the mayfly "can provide a reliable and economical method for determining the state of well-being of a river."

Unfortunately the mayfly seems to prefer unpolluted water.

Two Firemen Badly Burned At La Crosse

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — Two firemen were burned, one of them extensively, when one stepped into a pool of scalding water and the second went to his aid while they checked for a leak in an underground hot water heating system.

Asst. Chief Edward Sciborski, 54, was listed in "guarded" condition in St. Francis Hospital.

Fireman Robert A. White, 36, who stepped into the water after Sciborski called for help, was in good condition in the same hospital.

Sciborski was pulled from the six-foot deep pool of water by other firemen.

The fire department crew had gone down an alley early Sunday to investigate complaints of a leak in the Northern States Power Co. hot water heating system that serves several hundred La Crosse homes and business places.

Scalding water escaping from the underground system had formed the pool.

Northern States had been seeking State Public Service Commission authority to abandon the system because of diminishing patronage.

Osseo Addition Ready In June

OSSEO, Wis. — Completion of the $571,000 addition to Osseo High School, started last summer, is expected by June, the school board has been told.

A change order amounting to $248, involving monitoring the music practice rooms, was favored at a recent meeting.

Bids will be opened Dec. 28 for equipment in the industrial arts department and language laboratory. Superintendent Gordon Rodeen, Leonard Person and Charles Rongstad will visit schools at Chetek, Rice Lake and the Twin Cities to view such equipment.

Ralph Seig was appointed official delegate and Edward Zemple alternate to the Wisconsin Association of School Boards convention at Milwaukee Jan. 20-22.

The board passed a resolution praising Louis Thoma for serving the district 25 years as prime bus contractor and helping the district establish operation of the school-owned fleet this year.

The board moved to pay Thoma $3,000 now and $3,500 in three equal payments in January 1965, 1966 and 1967 for the 12 buses secured from him.

Caledonia School Costs $805,958

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Cost of operating the Caledonia public school during the 1963-64 year was $805,958, according to the published report of Clerk George E. Vandere.

Receipts were $767,964. Balance on hand at the beginning of the year was $222,470 and at the close of the year, $184,476. Disbursements included $239,748 for instruction and $401,842 for capital outlay in its building program. Debt service cost $48,332.

The receipts included $300,000 from the sale of bonds for building purposes.

Among tax receipts were $125,777, maintenance tax; $13,585 capital outlay tax; $50,337, school district bond fund levy; county apportionment, $3,189; income tax distribution, $9,060; $85,772, special state aids and special appropriations, plus federal aids, mobile tax, etc.

Film on Behavior Of Small Children To Be Shown at 'YM'

Films on the behavior of small children will be shown to interested mothers at the YMCA Thursday at 10 a.m.

Coffee will be served at the showing to which all mothers are invited, whether or not their children are YMCA members, said Larry Schiller, youth director.

Normal behavior patterns of youngsters 6 to 10 years old will be shown in the one-hour session.

Civic Association To Adopt By-Laws

New by-laws for Winona Civic Association, Inc., will be proposed for adoption at the group's meeting Thursday.

The association incorporated last month, and former by-laws were reviewed. Some changes have been proposed for the new by-laws.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will be held at the Winona Athletic Club. Lunch and refreshments will be served after the meeting.

DEAR ABBY:

See a Doctor And Lawyer, Too

DEAR ABBY: After 15 years of marriage, my husband and I separated because of his interest in another woman. We lived apart for two months and then he asked to come home again, so I let him. Although we are living together, he is not the same any more. We are married in name only and I think the only reason he came back was because it is cheaper than living separately. He comes and goes as he pleases and I'm alone most of the time anyway. I think he still has this woman on his mind. I am depressed and upset all the time. Do I have to put up with this? Don't advise me to see a lawyer because my husband is one.

expensive (emotionally) for the wife.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend who was widowed after 18 years of marriage to a truly wonderful man. He was loved and respected in the community. He provided well for his wife during his lifetime and left her with no money worries. She recently married again. She claims her second husband is "her age," but he looks younger. She tells everyone she meets that her second husband is soooooo much better than her first, this is the first time she has ever really been "in love," she never dreamed such happiness could be hers, and on and on and on. It is so unbecoming, Abby. How can I, her oldest and dearest friend, let her know how foolish she sounds?

DEAR NAUSEATED: You probably can't. But if you are willing to test your friendship, go ahead and try.

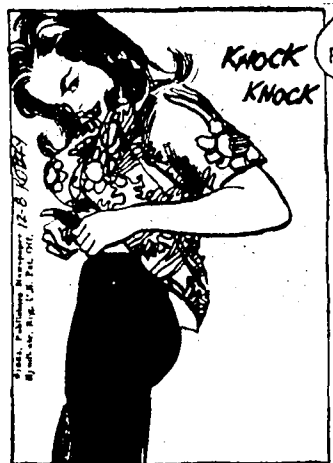

DEAR ABBY: Why do people who are honest in every other respect think nothing of cheating the telephone company? I refer to those person-to-person calls to signal someone that you have arrived safely. I was recently visiting a friend when her son, who had driven himself to college, telephoned and asked for "Fritz" McGuire person-to-person. ("Fritz is the DOG!") She laughed and said he always did that to let them know he got there all right. Isn't there some way the telephone company can put a stop to that?

DEAR DISGUSTED: If there were, they would have put a stop to it long ago. But if you (or anyone else) can come up with a solution, I am sure the telephone company would like your number.

One String to End At St. Mary's Gym

BY GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Tonight at Terrace Heights, something is going to have to give.

St. Norbert College of De Pere, Wis., rolls into Winona fresh from three victories, the latest a 106-68 mauling of Northland.

St. Mary's, meanwhile, also is enjoying the prosperity of a three-game victory string. After a first-game loss at Stout, the Redmen have rolled past Stevens Point, Loras and St. Ambrose.

ONE STREAK, needless to say, has to come to an end tonight. Game time is 8 p.m.

Represented by the contest is St. Mary's final tuneup before the run for MIAC roses. The Redmen, who are coached by Ken Wiltgen, travel to Macalester for a Saturday night skrimish to get their conference season under way.

A tough man-to-man defense and balanced scoring have been the formula for victory in St. Mary's past three games. More of the same will be needed for a victory over St. Norbert.

Coach Romie Kosnar, entering his seventh year at the helm of the Green Knights, has eight returning lettermen including his "first six" from 1963-64 when the Redmen capped a 92-77 win.

ST. NORBERT, although the Knights' totals in the first three games wouldn't prove it, had been concentrating on defense, the effort paying off in the 106-68 victory.

The top six players include Leroy Weyenberg, last year's most valuable player and leading scorer; John Patterson, second leading scorer; and Dick Rankin, leading rebounder. The trio will form the front line. All stand 6-5.

The Green Knights' three interchangeable guards are 6-0 captain Dave Minten, a starter, with either 6-1 Ken Smith or 5-11 Dave Gagermeier.

The front line is a most prolific scoring group with Weyenberg averaging 18.1 points a year ago and Patterson scoring at a 15.1 per game clip. Patterson ranked 30th in the nation in field goal shooting by hitting 57.0 percent of his shots.

TO COUNTER the threat, Wiltgen will start 6-4 sophomore George Hoder at center, 6-4 senior George Valaika and 6-5 junior Roger Pytlewski at forwards and 6-1 sophomore Jerry Sausser and 6-4 senior Mike Maloney at guards.

After four games, Pytlewski owns the team scoring lead with 65 points. He is followed by Maloney, last year's No. 1 man in point production, with 44 and Sausser with 58.

"From what I understand, this should be a good test," Wiltgen said this morning. "They like to run and shoot, and if they're hitting they'll really be tough."

"We have had real good practice so far," he went on. "We've hit a little bit of everything."

Southern Minny Rejects College Baseball Circuit

OWATONNA, Minn.—Officials of the Southern Minnesota Baseball League rejected a proposal to form a summer collegiate baseball league under the auspices of the major leagues at a meeting here Monday night.

Dr. Robert McGill, Winona representative at the meeting, said the main reason the officials rejected the proposed plan was that the majors probably would dictate their way of operating the system, and wouldn't give the league itself a free hand in operating procedure.

It was decided that the league would start play June 13 with six teams. Each team will play a 20-game schedule. If two additional cities join the loop to expand it to eight teams a 28-game schedule is in order.

Faribault, Mankato and Waseca are the cities being approached as possible members.

GINO SCORES MORE

NEW YORK (AP) — Gino Cappelletti, Boston's top pass catcher and field-goal kicker, has belted his own American Football League scoring record with 135 points. He set the old mark of 147 in 1961.

IRISH FILE SUIT

NEW YORK (AP) — The University of Notre Dame has filed suit to block showing of a film it says depicts its football players as "undisciplined gluttons and drunks."

Persons noting 29 points, whipped South Dakota State 88-73. In other non-conference games, Gustavus Adolphus downed Augustana of South Dakota 66-50, and St. John's beat Minnesota - Morris 75-68, but Hamline bowed to River Falls, Wis., State 77-59.

Northern Intercollegiate Conference teams won two of three with Bemidji routing Valley City, N.D., 102-84, and Moorhead downing Mayville, N.D., 74-64. Winona State bowed to Platteville, Wis., State 89-86.

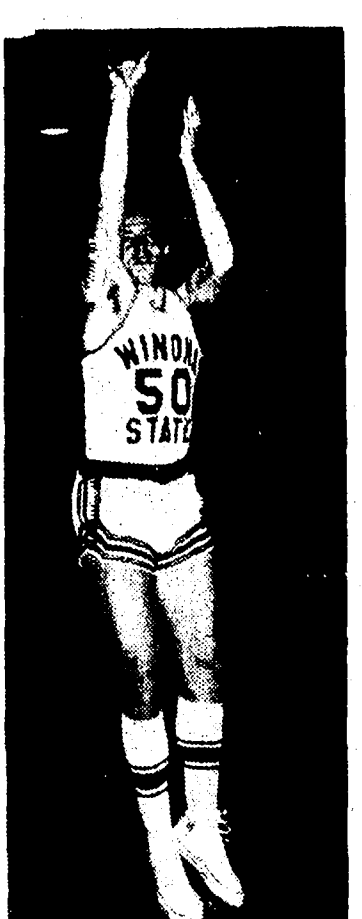

Five games are on tap tonight. Macalester travels to Iowa State, St. Norbert's plays at St. Mary's, Morris is at St. Thomas, Mankato visits Morrisville and St. Cloud State goes to Ball State.

Chance Posts Lowest ERA in 21 Years

BOSTON (AP) — Dean Chance, 23-year-old Los Angeles Angels' right-hander, posted the lowest average in 21 years in winning the American League's earned-run championship last season, the official figures disclosed today.

Chance yielded only 51 earned runs in 278 innings for a 1.65 mark, the best since Spud Chandler of the New York Yankees finished with 1.64 in 1943. The Chance was named winner of the Cy Young Award as the majors' outstanding pitcher in 1964 last month.

Angsburg, with big Dan Anderson notching 29 points, whipped South Dakota State 88-73. In other non-conference games, Gustavus Adolphus downed Augustana of South Dakota 66-50, and St. John's beat Minnesota - Morris 75-68, but Hamline bowed to River Falls, Wis., State 77-59.

TOM STALLINGS Hits 22 for Warriors

STATE LOSES FOURTH AS PLATTEVILLE COPS 89-86

Ball Takes A Funny Bounce

PLATTEVILLE, Wis. — The basketball took a funny bounce in the second half for Dr. Bob Campbell's Winona State Warriors here Monday night.

The Warriors, in search of their first win of the year, blistered the nets at a well-earned 53 percent shooting percentage in the first half then watched helplessly as the sphere fell short of its mark repeatedly in the second half for a meager 27 percent as host Platteville State University pulled out an 89-86 victory over Winona State.

"The ball just didn't drop in the hoop in the second half," lamented Campbell. "It was just one of those things; we took darn near the same shots, and they didn't change their defense radically in the second half, but we just couldn't hit."

Even though his charges dropped their fourth straight contest without a win, Campbell wasn't too dismayed.

"Despite it all, we really did do a good job," said Campbell. "We played good ball and really hustled. If we keep this up, we're going to win some ball games."

"We were just a little bit short last night. We battled all the way. We're ready for anything now, mostly a win."

Campbell will get a shot at win No. 1 Wednesday night when the Warriors host Loras at Memorial Hall in a 7:30 p.m. contest.

The Warrior chief had special praise for several of his players — among them Tom Stallings, the 5-11 jumping jack who wound up as the night's high scorer with 22 points from his forward position; captain Dave Goede, who contributed 18 points; Gary Petersen, who had 17, and Tim Anderson, who meshed ten points after filling in for Jack Kelly, who severely sprained an ankle. Kelly will not play against Loras or South Dakota State Saturday, said Campbell.

Dave Rosenau, the Warriors' "big man" was cited for doing a fine job in addition to collecting eight points.

All five of the Platteville starters finished in double figures. Ken Sprague led the way with 21. Erv Henderson had 17, Mike Schroeder 14, John Shelton 13 and John Delany 12.

"Sprague and Shelton just killed us with their long jump shots," recalled Campbell. "I don't know why we can't do it to someone else."

Campbell said Gene Schultz, former Cotter star and now a freshman on the Pioneer cage roster, played briefly in the first half, scoring two points.

LET'S TALK SPORTS

with Gary Evans

FIRST OF ALL, we'd like to throw this open to a letter from Tom Biesanz. Our alibi later.

Says Tom:

"Re your inference that I am a defeated Winona pugilist on page 15 of your Dec. 1 paper.

"First, I am at present affiliated with the institution known as the Immaculate Heart of Mary Seminary and have at least 50 witnesses that I was pursuing higher goals on Saturday (Nov. 28) last.

"Second although I am from Winona, I have not been through the growing burg of Chaffield within the last month.

"Third, I have not had the pleasure of sporting boxing gloves since Bob Judge gave me a bloody nose in the eighth grade."

Tom signs himself "peacefully yours" and includes a post script that thanks us for the "flattery of putting me in the welterweight division."

The letter refers to a story in a previous edition on the Winona Golden Glovers, stating Tom Biesanz was one of the Winona fighters beaten.

While our informer told us it was Tom, obviously that isn't a fact. Now we find it is Mark Biesanz.

Then, too, we were told Tom Van Hoof was beaten in his middleweight bout with Rochester's Rusty Clark. Once again we had a communications breakdown. Van Hoof won.

Our apologies to both boys.

IT'S ABOUT THIS TIME that news from the local athletes at surrounding colleges begins to filter in and 1964 is no exception.

First of all, a University of Minnesota release calls attention to the fact that Arcadia's Chuck Killian has been awarded a varsity football letter at the University of Minnesota.

A total of 37 freshmen have been awarded Gopher numerals, among them Roy Tanner of Mondovi, Wis., and Wayne King of Chaffield, Minn.

Also, Tom Edstrom of Winona has been awarded a football letter from Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis.

HAD A CHANCE to look at Faribault and particularly 6-8 center Tom Weaver in the Falcons' 69-48 victory over Moundsview Saturday night.

There's more of Weaver on the scene this year—one inch and quite a few pounds.

The way Faribault looked Saturday night, the Falcons definitely will have to be reckoned with. Weaver is using his size more effectively. Todd Andrews is a sweet sophomore forward, Paul Dragsten a good under-the-basket "hatchet man" and Jim Ohnstad a good outside threat. Lefthanded guard Fred Zahn is no slouch either.

GENERALLY SPEAKING, the Swami is invariably under heavy fire, somewhat shellshocked and completely dazed. But once in a great while, someone takes the old boy's side.

Just when all appeared lost and the Swami ready to run for cover, good friend Gordon H. Heuer, Durand, Wis., superintendent of schools, dashed off the following note:

"On Tuesday, Dec. 1, 1964, in your 'Let's Talk Sports,' you predicted Durand over Stanley by one point. Knowing the frustration that comes from being in error, I would like to offer you this salve of condolence. Even though you missed the winner and the result of the game by two points, you were O.K. up to the last five seconds of play in the fourth quarter. Such accuracy is to be highly commended and certainly the Swami's feelings should not sting under the bitter lash of criticism over this pique."

Thanks much, Gordon. If it were not for you, the Swami would be ready for retirement in the cave he's buying on contract-for-deed.

He's back for tonight, standing with 96 of 143 and .671 without handicaps and 83 of 143 with handicaps for .580.

For Tuesday:

St. Norbert over ST. MARY'S by 4. "The Green Knights are red hot, coming off three straight victories and a 100-point performance Saturday night."

Onalaska Luther over Iokah St. Peter by 18; Houston over Spring Grove by 11; Peterson over Mabel by 6; Caledonia over Canton by 13; Trempealeau over Taylor by 5; Lima Sacred Heart over Chippewa Falls McDonnell by 2; Lewiston over Rollingstone Holy Trinity by 7; Independence over Arcadia by 12; Fairchild over Osseo by 4; Eleva-Strum over Fall Creek by 7; LeSueur over Northfield by 3.

Cotter Overtime Win Pleases Nett

JOHN NETT

Nett Pleased With All-State Grid Selection

John Nett Jr., Cotter High's all-around athlete, was named to the All-State Catholic football team announced this week by a Minneapolis newspaper.

Nett, a senior at Cotter and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nett Sr., of Rollingstone, was placed at a first-team end position by the annual selection committee.

THREE RAMBLERS from the squad coached by Bob Welch also were picked as honorable mention. Don Kukowski, Mike Erdmanzyk and Steve Wiczorek were honored.

Fifteen players made up the first team.

The 6-0, 190-pound Nett played only two games a year ago due to recurring injuries. He was hampered by injuries this season also, but was instrumental in leading the Ramblers to a 3-5 rebuilding season record.

In one of his best games of the year against Rushford, Nett carried the ball 26 times—more than one half of Cotter's 49 total carries — for 124 yards—an average of 4.8 yards. Cotter won the game 6-3.

In Cotter's 14-7 final game win over St. Louis Park Reindeer, Nett rambled in for one touchdown and set up another. In the Rambler's homecoming game, he put the skids to a four-game Cotter loss streak as he picked up 148 yards on the ground and scored a touchdown in the 19-13 win over St. Felix.

"I FOUND out about the selection Sunday," said young John. "I was real pleased."

Welch has called him "one of the finest I've ever coached."

Fans agree with him.

PRAIRIE du CHIEN, Wis. — Cotter High gave Coach John Nett his second victory of the year here Monday night as the Ramblers scored eight points in an overtime period to take a 64-58 decision over Campion.

As it turned out, free throws decided the contest, with the Ramblers dropping in 28 of 42, compared to Campion's ten of 19.

Four free throws by senior guard Bill Browne plus a pair by center Dan Pelowski and a field goal by the same assured the win in overtime. Campion scored only two points in the extra three minutes.

After trailing 11-8 at the end of the first quarter, Cotter rammed in a flurry of points in the second to take a 31-26 halftime lead. The Ramblers then hung on for a slim 44-41 margin at the end of three periods before allowing Campion to catch up and tie the contest at 56-56 at the end of regulation play.

Bill Lochner, a 6-1 junior forward, flipped in a basket in the early seconds of the overtime period to give Campion its brief lead.

Pelowski then hit on his field goal, tying the game. Browne was fouled and meshed two shots, shoving the Ramblers ahead 60-58.

Later Browne and Pelowski hit on their free tosses, giving the Ramblers the winning margin.

"It was a good ball game to win," said Nett. "We kind of blew our lead in the fourth quarter, but I'm real pleased with the way the kids came out of it."

"They all did a fine job," continued Nett. "Browne, and Pelowski kept the pressure on in the overtime. Things are looking pretty good right now. I think as the season progresses, we'll be tougher."

The Ramblers hit on 66 percent of their free throws against Campion. From the floor, Cotter hit 29 percent in the first half and 37 in the second.

Five men scored in double figures for the Ramblers, who meet Wabasha St. Felix Friday. John Nett Jr. led the list with 15, Pelowski meshed 12, Browne 11 and Jim Holmoy and Dave Pelowski ten each.

Lochner hit 18 for Campion, while L. G. Friedrich had 12 and John Shinnars ten.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Outfielder Joe Nosssek, property of the Minnesota Twins, wound up the leading hitter in the Florida Instructional League with a .359 average.

"My advice, sir-get DE-ICER!"

Gas line freeze can happen to anybody, but when you're young and in a hurry, it's a disaster. Here's what gas line freeze is. Moisture collects in a gas line. It freezes. The flow of fuel to the engine of the car is choked off, frozen tight. You're stopped cold. Luckily, there's a simple solution to this wintertime worry. Be a steady user of either American Regular Gasoline or American Super-Premium. They contain the real thing—DE-ICER—to prevent gas line freeze. No extra cost. No wonder Standard Oil Dealers say: "My advice, sir-get DE-ICER!"

Cobbers Wither Duluth Chances

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota - Duluth's hopes for a quick getaway in the Minnesota Intercollegiate Conference basketball race withered in the face of a determined Concordia rebounding effort Monday night, while power-laden Augsburg College rolled to its third straight non-conference triumph.

The UMD Bulldogs, who had won their first two tests, fell behind twice-beaten Concordia by 15 points in the second half and a late rally couldn't make up the difference. The Cobbers won the opening MIAC game, 79-76 at Moorhead. Tom Dalen topped Concordia with 20 points while Roger Hanson bagged 23 for UMD.

Augsburg, with big Dan Anderson notching 29 points, whipped South Dakota State 88-73. In other non-conference games, Gustavus Adolphus downed Augustana of South Dakota 66-50, and St. John's beat Minnesota - Morris 75-68, but Hamline bowed to River Falls, Wis., State 77-59.

Fenske's Shoots Into 7th With 989 Pin Game

Winona's women bowlers did some pin blasting Monday night that realigned one top ten department and threatened to upset two more.

With Carol Fenske leading the way, Fenske Body Shop of the Westgate Alley Gaters circuit moved into seventh place in team game with 989 and then continued on to 2,675.

CAROL WAS her team's big runner with 231-572. The 231 missed the top ten by one pin and the 572 was 13 pins off the pace.

Ruth Hinton socked 506. The high women's series of the evening — one that missed tenth by five pins — was registered by Betty Englerth of Main Tavern in the Pin Topplers League at Westgate Bowl. She pushed over 207-580 in leading her team to 934. Just a step behind was Yvonne Carpenter with 213-567 for Lincoln Insurance which bowed over 2,623.

VIVIAN H. BROWN recorded

536, Marianne O'Brien 520, Isabelle Rozek 518, Irene Trimmer 514 and Vivian E. Brown 514.

The lone men's honor count came out of the Hal-Rod City League where Clarence Rivera ripped 606 for Linahan's. Jim Konkol spilled 224 for KWNO Radio, which toppled 1,034 Wally's of Fountain City spiked 2,946.

Gophers Shoot For 4th Win

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota guns for its fourth straight victory tonight, taking 6-5 at center; Marty Holmes 6-5 at forward; and Bob Wolf, 6-2, and Dane Mathews, 6-3, at guards.

Kundla plans to start his regular five of Terry Kunze and Lou Hudson at forwards, Mel Northway at center and Don Yates and Archie Clark at guards.

Hudson tops the Gopher scoring after three games with a 17.0 average but all five regulars are in double figures. Yates is hitting at a 12.3 clip, Clark 11.7 and Northway and Kunze 10.0 each.

Reserve Dennis Dvoracek is the Gophers' top field goal shooter with a 62 per cent mark (8 of 13) and has a 6.3 average. Hudson is shooting 53 per cent for the field and Clark 52 per cent.

Press weekly ratings, released today with Kentucky in the No. 9 spot and Villanova barely outside the top ten. A shuffle on the next go-round is likely, however, with Villanova assuming the role of top 'Cat.

Top-ranked Michigan, meanwhile, cleared its bench early while brushing off Missouri 91-61 and Kansas State, knocked out of the top ten by Indiana last Saturday, rebounded against Southern Illinois 61-48.

Indiana whipped Oklahoma 87-79; Ohio State beat Houston 177-69; Bradley edged Murray State 76-74; Tennessee topped Georgia Tech 66-52; Utah State thumped Pacific 98-74 and Arizona surprised Texas Tech 83-75 in other games involving national powers.

Tonight's top games match third-ranked Vanderbilt against Western Kentucky; San Francisco, No. 5, vs. San Francisco State; Minnesota, No. 6, vs. Marquette, and St. John's, No. 10, vs. Holy Cross.

Meichionni outscored Bill Bradley, Princeton's All-American sharpshooter, 24-23 as Villanova ran its record to 3-0. The Wildcats' junior star fired the winning two-pointer after Bill Kingston's layup had put Princeton ahead with one-half minute left in the extra session. The Tigers froze the ball for the last two minutes of regulation play but Bradley missed a jump shot with two seconds remaining and the teams went into overtime deadlocked at 64-64.

The tall Tar Heels poured in 20 points in the last 5-1/2 minutes to pull away from Kentucky. Sophomore Bob Lewis led the winners with 23 points, one more than teammate Billy Cunningham, who played the last 17 minutes with four personal fouls. North Carolina has won three of four starts. The Wildcats are 1-1.

Michigan, sweeping both

backboards, raced to a 46-26

halftime lead over the visitors from the Big Eight Conference and breezed to its third straight victory with reserves seeing more action than regulars. Bill Buntin led Wolverine scorers with 14 points.

Is Age Catching Up to World's Greatest Golfer?

HONOLULU (AP)—Has Arnold Palmer lost his faded finishing kick? Is age catching up with the world's greatest money-winning golfer? Is the developing a Jack Nicklaus complex?

"Ridiculous," says Palmer himself to such suggestions raised after he blew the Canada Cup Individual Trophy last Sunday in one of the most unbelievable collapses in bigtime golf.

"I just had a miserable round — I played lousy. It's as simple as that. That's all there is to it."

Palmer, after firing successive rounds of 65-66-67 with the first of these in the preliminary pro-am, wilted to a 78 on the final day and allowed his teammate, Nicklaus, to walk away with his second successive individual crown.

The American team of Palmer and Nicklaus won easily the fifth triumph in a row for the United States.

The individual duel between Palmer and Nicklaus, recognized as the world's two best pro golfers, overshadowed the one-sided team competition, although both Jack and Arnie resented the emphasis on the individual play.

Palmer led through the first two days. After 36 holes, he had an eight-stroke bulge on his partner. After 54 holes, although Nicklaus fired a record-tying 65 in the third round, Arnie still led Jack by six shots.

Even with his record for fabulous comebacks, Nicklaus wasn't conceded a chance of making up six strokes on the redhot Palmer.

But Sunday evening, there was Nicklaus the champion with a 72-hole score of 276. Palmer was second with 278. Jack had gained eight strokes in 18 holes.

Was he beginning to feel the weight of his 34 years? Nicklaus is 10 years younger.

"Not at all. I felt better for this tournament than I have in a long time," Palmer said. "There can't be an excuse there."

Were the greens bumpy?

"They were the same greens that I was one-putting the three days before," he said.

Is Nicklaus' success beginning to wear on his nerves and perhaps jar his confidence?

"Jack is young and strong, a fine golfer," Arnold said. "He's going to win a lot of tournaments. I hope I win a lot more."

"It's true I'm not as young as I was, and I plan to cut down on my tournament schedule — maybe 15 a year — but I'm not ready for the old people's home yet."

Palmer, who lost out to Nicklaus in the money-winning race and who finished second five times in a row this past season, showed no sign of discouragement.

It seemed a bit strange to see the charger, who has built up a reputation for miracle finishes, go into reverse and blow a tournament on the last day.

"For three days I played as good a golf as I've ever played in my life," he explained. "It happens I had a bad one. The law of averages. I don't intend to let it bug me. A new year is coming up."

Michigan Is First Choice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan's powerful, veteran Wolverines, who have romped through three games without major difficulty, dominated The Associated Press' first regular season basketball poll today and confirmed their pre-season selection as the nation's best collegiate crew.

The Wolverines, who lost only one regular from the team that finished third in the nation last year, gained 32 of the 34 first place votes cast and had a whopping 100-point margin over second place Wichita.

Michigan, which already has survived two major tests, gained 337 points in the balloting on the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second, 8 for third etc. Wichita, winner of its only start this season, moved up from third in the pre-season poll to second with 236 points.

A flock of upsets and surprises in the first week prompted a major shuffling of the first weekly ratings from the pre-season poll, with only top-ranking Michigan and 10th ranked St. John's of New York holding on to the same spots.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points:

1. Michigan (32)	337
2. Wichita	236
3. Vanderbilt	189
4. St. Louis	179
5. San Francisco	160
6. Minnesota (1)	153
7. UCLA	146
8. Duke	81
9. Kentucky	47

Another Draft Choice Escapes Green Bay Club

GREEN BAY (AP)—The Green Bay Packers of the National Football League continue to have bad luck with their college draft choices. Their two top selections have signed with rival American Football League clubs.

Last week, Larry Elkins of Baylor, their No. 1 selection, signed with the Houston Oilers of the AFL. Elkins is a flanker back and was picked on the 1964 Associated Press All-American team.

And on Monday, the AFL's Kansas City Chiefs announced the signing of tackle Alphonse Dotson of Grambling, La., College. The big lineman was the second regular draft choice of the Packers. He also was the Chief's No. 1 future draftee.

Jack Steadman, Chiefs' general manager, said Dotson has another year of college eligibility but decided to turn pro now. Dotson, 21, of Houston Tex., is 6-foot-4 and weighs 262 pounds. He was picked on the 1964 Associated Press Little All-American.

Badgers Meet Pitt in Tuneup

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Wisconsin Badgers, tuning up for their Big Ten basketball opener against Illinois a week hence, meet the Pittsburgh Panthers tonight in an intersectional clash.

Wisconsin, winner over Houston in its opener, still has one more pre-conference game after tonight's game. The Badgers will take on Bowling Green at Madison Saturday.

While Wisconsin has made only one start, Pitt has won two and lost one. The Panthers, who lost four of last year's five starters, downed Carnegie Tech 85-83 and Virginia Tech 74-69 before dropping an 85-71 game to Miami last Saturday in the finals of the Steel Bowl tournament.

The Plattville freshmen team downed Dick Papenfuss' Winona State freshmen 84-62 in a preliminary to the varsity tilt at Plattville Monday night.

The Warrior freshmen are now 0-2 on the season and will meet the Loras freshmen in a 5:30 preliminary Wednesday night at Memorial Hall.

"At the Sign of the Street Clock"

Brown Breaks Mason's Mark

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — When Bill Brown sliced through the New York Giants for 103 yards in 18 carries Sunday, he broke Tommy Mason's team ground yardage record for one season. The performance raised Brown's season rushing total to 769 yards, wiping out Mason's record of 763 set only last year.

Brown also has carried the ball 203 times this year to erase Mason's record of 167 carries in 1962.

Mason still holds the club one-game record, however, 146 yards against Baltimore on Nov. 17, 1963.

It will take some tall stepping by Mason in the season finale at Chicago next Sunday to overtake Brown for the Viking rushing leadership. Tommy has gained 628 yards on 152 carries so far to trail Bounding Billy by 135 yards.

The Vikings announced Monday the signing of two more free agents — 205-pound St. John's halfback Joe Hartle and 204-pound Central Michigan back Bruce Wyman.

Rochester Dairy Members Vote Levy of 2 Cents

ROCHESTER, Minn.—Stockholders of Rochester Dairy Co. have voted a 2 cent per hundredweight levy to be withheld from their milk checks with the understanding the money will be used to buy up the cooperative's outstanding preferred stock.

Nearly $2.5 million in preferred stock is now outstanding. Certificates were issued between 1942 and 1954, the last year the cooperative issued stock. Many of the original stockholders now are retired or are no longer in dairy farming. Some of the stocks had been sold at one time to other than milk producers.

The 2-cent retainers will be returned, according to the measure passed Saturday, at the patron's death or retirement—either in lump payment or periodic payments.

Dairy officials said the retainer would cost each of the 987 patrons about $50 a year. Monday's story of the annual meeting said $248,324 was refunded to shareholders, employees and participating creamery operators. The checks issued were "equalization" prices paid for milk to certain producers and the $248,000 was added to the firm's working capital.

Beatty Asks New System

Advice on the conduct of its meetings, proffered by its severest critic, was received by the City Council Monday night. Martin Beatty, local attorney, admitted he authored a list of 10 procedural recommendations which Ald. Clarence Tribble demanded be read into the record. Beatty, who alleges he has been abused and criticized for attending meetings, told the council citizens do not have enough advance information about meetings of various public bodies.

Council President Harold Briesath, taking vigorous exception to the allegation that "secret meetings" had been held by aldermen, told Beatty the communication would not be read because every alderman had been given a copy. Briesath told Beatty rules of procedure are prescribed by the city code, that the council adheres to these, and that Beatty's suggested "rules" were therefore out of order and uncalled for.

The list included recommendations that all public meetings be held in public buildings, open at all times to the public, continuously in the same rooms, with "reasonable amount of seating space" provided. He further demanded that one city officer be fully informed in advance of all meetings and that suitable advance publicity be distributed to news media. Upon motion by Ald. Daniel Bambenek, the list of suggestions was received and placed on file by the council.

2 Contractors' Estimates Paid

Contractors' estimates on two city street projects were ordered paid by the City Council Monday night.

Officially closing out this year's segment of the projected Mankato Avenue upgrading, the council authorized payment of $19,109 to the Doyle Construction Co., Rochester, prime contractor. It was the sixth and final estimate on the six-block project which cost was $154,166. Costs included an extensive remodeling of storm sewers and drainage for the area.

City Engineer James Baird said the contractor had not only met, but exceeded, specifications for the job. This included application of concrete-treating oil and extra-heavy application of bituminous surfacing at some intersections, he said.

The first estimate of H. J. Dunn Blacktop Co. for Gilmore Avenue improvement was allowed. The estimate was $14,122. The total contract cost is $16,614. The state of Minnesota will reimburse the city for approximately three-fourths of street improvement, except for curb and gutter which is assessable.

Minnesota Tax Forms to Be Mailed Dec. 26

ST. PAUL (AP)—Minnesota individual income tax forms will be mailed to 1,300,000 Minnesotans the day after Christmas, Rolland F. Hatfield, state tax commissioner, said Monday.

The 1964 form is a one-sheet affair, similar to that used last year. It has been revised, however, so that a taxpayer need only enter the income listed on his federal return. This eliminates eight lines that were required on the 1963 form.

The deadline for filing individual tax returns does not come until April 15, 1965, but Hatfield urged taxpayers to prepare their returns as early as possible so they can be processed early and refund checks mailed.

District Court Case Settled

Findings were ordered for a default divorce and a suit for civil damages was settled out of court Monday in District Court, Clerk Joseph C. Page said today.

Wilfred A. Henning, 43, 519 Wall St., won the default divorce from his wife, Helen A. Henning, 39, after a hearing before Judge Arnold Hatfield Monday morning.

AN APPEAL from a jury verdict given in municipal court March 13, 1963, was dropped Monday by the losers of the lower court trial after a settlement was reached over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. O'Reilly, Minnesota City, had been ordered to pay a total of some $430 to two contractors for work done on their home after the two-day trial in municipal court.

The couple decided to appeal the jury verdict to District Court. However, a settlement was reached with Jack N. Squires, 909 Gilmore Ave., and Edward P. Whitten, 206 Whitten St., the contractors.

Squires had won a $306 verdict for work done on the O'Reillys' basement, and Whitten had been awarded $123.50 for work on the building's footings.

Attorney for the contractors was Roger P. Brosnahan, for the O'Reillys, Dennis A. Challean.

MRS. HENNING withdrew her answer to her husband's complaint alleging cruel and inhuman treatment and did not appear at Monday's hearing. Henning appeared with his attorney, S. A. Sawyer.

Custody of the couple's two daughters, aged 16 and 11, was awarded to Mr. Henning as was the Hennings' house and household furnishings. In return, Mrs. Henning received a cash payment. The couple was married in Winona Jan. 24, 1946.

Elks Service Pays Tribute To 10 Members

Ten Elks who have died during the past year were honored during the annual memorial service of Lodge 327, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Sunday afternoon.

Joseph C. Page read the eulogy for the deceased members: Edward L. Fakler, John L. Ollom, Earle W. Toye, Judge G. L. Pattison, E. J. Carland, James J. Schneider, William A. Galewski, George J. White, John B. Lauer and John W. Dugan.

"One of the sad things about growing old is the departure, one after another, of our relatives and friends," Page said. "We shall miss these brothers. But they have left us a legacy of good examples."

"These departed brothers were all true and faithful members of our lodge, bearing public testimony during their journey through life of the four cardinal principles of our order: namely, charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity."

In his address Leo C. LaFrance said, "The purpose of this service is not so much to grieve about our departed brothers or to weep tears of bitterness or pity that they have been taken from us, but rather to kindly think the heart strings of tenderness by gently referring to those who have been our associates and to bring back the memories of them to us."

"An Elk is never forgotten, never forsaken and as the last solemn chime of the eleven strokes upon the bell of time quickens the heart beat and arouses our thought of absent brothers, we recall the many dear friends and companions of days that are gone who have answered the summons of the Father and entered the valley of shadows."

Karl Grabner, exalted ruler, gave the opening address.

Voice of the Outdoors

Dodge Bear Hunters
The highlight of a deer hunting party by a group of Dodge, Wis., residents was the killing of the 265-pound bear shown in the above picture. They were hunting out of Winter, Wis., on the final weekend of the winter Wisconsin season when Frank "Vic" Tuschner, standing next to bear's back, confronted the bear. The bear did not like him, and came rushing at him. He dropped it too close to be comfortable.

Among the deer harvested by the group was a 150-pound eight-point buck. There were lots of hunters in the woods still looking for a deer on the final afternoon.

Speaking of deer, there is nothing to the rumor that Wisconsin is going to have another gun season this fall.

Both of these contests are annual events to raise funds for the extensive pheasant raising projects operated in the county and by the individual clubs.

Wise Fish
The following article that came to our desk probably explains why those curious fishermen who lie on their stomachs on the ice, cover their heads, and peek down through the fishing hole in the ice, or fish from fish houses, see a fish come up to a lure, look it over and they see it back away. There is another reason also. Fish can smell and a tin lure doesn't smell like something good to eat. Here's the article:

Do game fish really "wise up" to fishermen?
You can get a lot of opinions — pro and con — on a fish's ability to outfox the angler. And there's considerable evidence to support both views.

Generally, however, it's conceded by experts that a bass, despite its pea-sized brain, has the discrimination to deliberately shun a fisherman's artificial offerings. And proof of "educated" fish is readily available.

Take waters subject to heavy fishing pressures, for instance. These contain the smartest fish. Though worked hard, results are poor, and the common complaint is "fished out." Yet draining invariably reveals a healthy population with a surprising number of lunkers.

Even hatchery trout — those surviving the first few hours after being dumped from a truck — learn to avoid phony foods with hidden baits. In "put and take" waters it is not uncommon for large fish, six to eight years old, to show up in early season catches.

Incidentally, this indicates fish may suffer from lapse of memory over the winter months, forgetting the previous year's lessons and making them easier to catch when spring fishing resumes.

You can bet your bait bucket that by the time a trout or bass graduates into the grandpa category, he's learned plenty about fishing and fishermen. And you'll have to do your homework well to catch up.

Area Chairman Appointed for DFL Affair

County chairmen and chairwomen have been designated honorary co-chairmen of the DFL victory ball Friday at Leamington Hotel, Minneapolis.

Those from this area are Jerome Gunderson, Mabel, and Mrs. Alice Johnson, Harmony, Fillmore County; Paul Flies, Kellogg, and Mrs. Shila Young, Wabasha, representing Wabasha County, and Duane Peterson, Winona, and Mrs. William O'Reilly, Minnesota City, Winona County.

The ball will begin at 8 p.m. with a reception for Senator-designate Walter Mondale hosted by Gov. Karl Rolvaag, according to DFL Chairman George Farr.

The evening will be climaxed by a midnight champagne breakfast.

Farr said tickets for the ball are $15 per couple. Special reserved tables which will accommodate five couples are available at $100.

"One of the sad things about growing old is the departure, one after another, of our relatives and friends," Page said. "We shall miss these brothers. But they have left us a legacy of good examples."

Stock Market Rise Erased, Trade Active

NEW YORK (AP)—An early stock market rise was erased this afternoon and the market showed a mixed and weaker trend in fairly active trading.

In the morning, continued strength by a scattering of blue chips kept the averages a little in plus territory but these key stocks trimmed their prices as the session continued.

Almost from the start, steel and rails were lower but the selected gainers kept the market indicators higher.

Rails were depressed by a breakdown of Washington talks in the nationwide rail wage dispute. Steels were unsettled by the prospect of going into formal union contract negotiations soon.

Big Three motors, except for Chrysler—which was a full point higher—were down.

DuPont, in early trading up more than a point, stumbled to a net fractional loss, thus removing an important prop from the averages.

A slightly higher trend continued among nonferrous metals, aerospace issues, oils and electrical equipments. Airlines and electronics declined. Most others mixed to irregularly lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 325.8 with industrials up .6, rails off .8 and utilities up .4.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down .48 at 873.51.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds traded in a narrow price range with dealings light.

Such organizations provide recreation and educational projects under adult supervision. A representative from the Chicago office offered to come to La Crosse and help organize a club or provide information on Boys Clubs.

Robert Kies submitted his resignation as treasurer and collector of water bills.

It was reported the village received $58,950 in federal funds for construction of the sewage treatment plant.

Card of Thanks

HOFFMAN
My sincere thanks to all who visited me, sent flowers and cards and gifts while I was in the hospital. Special thanks to Drs. Hughes and Fenske and the nurses on West 2nd for their wonderful care.
Mrs. Hattie M. Hoffman

LEISEN
I wish to say thank you to my many friends, neighbors and relatives for getting cards, letters and visits I received while in the Veterans Hospital at Minneapolis. Also since my return home.
John Leisen

NEON
We wish to thank friends, relatives and neighbors for their acts of love and sympathy during our recent bereavement. The loss of our beloved husband, father, and brother. We also extend our grateful thanks for the beautiful floral tributes sent to our loved one during his illness and at death. We especially thank Mrs. N. Grulkowski for her comforting words and all the Rev. Fathers at St. Stanislaus, and Father Robert Kulas of Albert Lea, Minn., the choir, the pallbearers, those who contributed cars, the drivers and those who sent food.
Mrs. Harold Nelson & Family
