Worst Storm in Years Hits East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent winter storms slammed across the eastern third of the nation today after leaving most of the central part

"SNOWBOUND TRUCKS" . . . U. S. Highway 24 between El Paso and Eureka, Ill., is blocked and these trucks have been there since midnight Wednesday. Huge snowdrifts have covered the major east-west highways in the area. An estimated 30 vehicles, including a bus, are snowbound and most of the owners spent the night at nearby farms. (AP Photofax)

Interest High In Oscar Race

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Because Audrey Hepburn was scratched before she got to the post, the Hollywood Oscar derby has the whole film colony gabbling today.

Miss Hepburn, star of "My Fair Lady" on the screen, didn't get nominated for the Motion Picture Academy awards. But Julie Andrews — who created Eliza Doolittle on Broadway — did.

Miss Andrews wasn't cast in the Warner Bros. film version. Audrey got the part. But Julie's selection as a best actress candidate resulted from "Mary Poppins," which led the pack with hers and 12 other nominations.

The vote against Audrey — even Warner Bros. admits — is more a vote against Jack L. Warner. The studio boss passed up Julie for the movie although her price was $75,000 compared with Audrey's $1 million.

Then a few weeks ago, when Julie received the Hollywood Foreign Press award, Warner in a speech couldn't remember her name.

"I didn't mean it as a slight," explains Warner. "In this business you're lucky if you remember your own name half the time."

"I'm disappointed she didn't get nominated for an Oscar but I still say I'm right in casting her for the part," says Warner. Audrey rated critical raves for her performance and the picture is headed for box-office records.

When the movie started, Miss Andrews never had made a picture. Walter Disney cast her as "Mary Poppins" and she emerged a box-office movie star. But Disney, whose name alone sells all his pictures, can star an unknown movie name. Warner with an $18-million investment, couldn't afford such a gamble.

The fact remains that it was resentment against Warner's choice that hurt Audrey. Most everybody in Hollywood felt that Julie should have gotten the role in the first place. Only actors vote on nominations, and actors, being emotional people, vote emotionally. Lots of actors hate bosses.

WEATHER

FEDERAL FORECAST
WINONA AND VICINITY — Occasional cloudiness and warmer tonight and Saturday. Low tonight 10-18, high Saturday near 30. Colder Sunday.

Official observations for the 24 hours ending at 12 m. today: Maximum, 20; minimum, -5; noon, 18, precipitation, none.

of the country reeling from the worst weather in years. Gale-force winds — 40 to 55 m.p.h. — lashed much of the northeastern quarter of the nation.

Below - zero temperatures were confined mostly to northern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota, with readings in the teens in the north central region.

The Southeast, including Florida, got a blast of the icy air along with gusty winds up to 50 m.p.h. The freezing line extended into northern Florida.

Deaths attributed to the storms, termed by the Weather Bureau as the most intense of the winter for the entire eastern half of the nation, numbered at least 30, including 8 in the Chicago area and 5 in Kentucky. Many fatalities were attributed to over-exertion while shoveling snow, others from exposure and in traffic accidents on icy and snow-covered highways.

Heavy snow, four inches or more, was indicated along the south shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario and in Vermont, New Hampshire and northeastern New York. More than six inches of snow fell in northern New England Thursday as an intense storm carrying snow, rain and strong winds hit most of the area.

Gale-force winds created giant drifts in the Midwest snow belt isolating some communities, stranding thousands of motorists and closing schools and businesses. Property damage was extensive. Air, rail and highway travel was slowed.

Chicago and Detroit were the two largest cities getting a full blast of the bitter winter elements. The 11-inch snowfall in Detroit was the biggest in 35 years. Chicago dug out from a blanket of more than a foot in some areas.

As the storm swept into New England Thursday, the observatory at Mt. Washington, N.H., recorded wind gusts up to 133 m.p.h. Gusts were clocked up to 110 m.p.h. at Franconia Notch, N.H.

Kentucky and Tennessee, in the line of the heavy snow belt which covered Midwest areas, got the coldest weather of the season with temperatures edging to near zero in some areas.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 16 below zero at International Falls, in northern Minnesota, to 62 at Key West, in southern Florida.

Young Negro Charged in N.Y. Killing

NEW YORK (AP) — Police today charged a 26-year-old Negro they identified as a Black Muslim "enforcer" with homicide in the assassination of Malcolm X, black nationalist leader.

Norman 3X Butler, of the Bronx, was the second to be charged by police since the slaying Sunday of Malcolm X, who bolted from the Black Muslims more than a year ago and formed a rival sect.

Malcolm, 39, was felled by 13 shots from three guns as he started to address a rally of 400 persons in a ballroom in the Washington Heights section of Manhattan.

Talmadge Hayer, 22, a Negro from Paterson, N.J., who was captured outside the ballroom after he had been shot in the leg by one of Malcolm's bodyguards, also has been charged with homicide. Police alleged he used a shotgun, one of three weapons employed in the deadly attack.

Police said Hayer has been uncooperative and has refused to disclose whether he is a Black Muslim.

Butler's identification as a Black Muslim was the first official link of the Chicago-based sect with the slaying.

Asst. Chief Inspector Joseph L. Coyle said Butler was arrested at his residence, did not resist, "but he seemed surprised."

Police believe five men were involved in the assassination.

Their charge against Butler was that he acted in concert with Hayer.

Being Broke

Most college students think that being broke is something to write home about . . . A really henpecked husband is a guy who doesn't raise his voice, except to demand a clean apron . . . As far as we're concerned, the nicest way to serve parsnips is to somebody else . . . You're middle-aged if you want to see how long your car will last, instead of how fast it will go.

Rolvaag Asks Property Tax Relief for Aged

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag asked the legislature today to provide property tax relief of $4 million a year for Minnesota residents over age 65.

He made the proposal in his third special message of the week. Earlier ones dealt with civil rights and unemployment compensation.

"Tax relief is the number one concern of the older citizens of our state," said the governor. "Their ability to remain in their own homes is continually threatened by rising property taxes."

He said the relief should be provided through a system of tax credits and refunds. He did not spell out details, except to say that credits and refunds should be designed so as not to endanger the local government tax base.

Rolvaag said the elderly in Minnesota now number more than 374,000 and constitute 10.7 per cent of our population. He said the average life span has risen in the state from 48 years in 1900 to 72 in 1965.

He also recommended that the $71 a month limit on old age assistance be abolished so grants could be based on actual need. Such a bill has been approved by the Senate Public Welfare Committee.

The governor proposed elimination of the requirement that persons receiving old age assistance give the state a lien on their property for the amount of aid to the aged program are not required to put their property under lien.

PROBLEMS, PROBLEMS, PROBLEMS . . . This study of President Johnson was made as he was briefed on the progress of the Mariner 4 experiment which is in space with the purpose of taking photographs of Mars. With Johnson at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration headquarters is Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. The 575-pound Mariner, launched Nov. 28, is now 23 million miles away and is not scheduled to take pictures of Mars until sometime in July. (AP Photofax)

DST Battle Going Rounds in State

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — It's too early to tell clock-watchers what to expect, but daylight savings time is going the rounds in legislatures in Minnesota and most neighboring states with no promise all confusion would be eliminated if current measures become law.

Bills introduced in Minnesota, Wisconsin and South Dakota call for the last Sunday in April—the eastern seaboard start—as the day to set clocks ahead one hour.

But there would still be time confusion in the fall created by varying terminations of fast clock periods.

Minnesota's fast time proposal got a setback today when the House Committee on General Legislation indefinitely postponed consideration of the measure.

The bill, already on the Senate debate list, would extend daylight saving time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September. The state currently has fast time from Memorial Day through Labor Day.

An intention of the bill's sponsors held that extension would place Minnesota in conformity with Wisconsin.

But the Wisconsin Senate gave approval Wednesday to a bill that would extend the state's daylight period to the last Sunday in October, the same as in the East. The Wisconsin Assembly still has to consider the proposal.

The South Dakota Legislature received a bill Wednesday that would establish daylight time from the last Sunday in April through the last Sunday in September — the same as Minnesota's proposed expanded period.

The Iowa Senate passed a bill Wednesday that would place the state on daylight saving time from the fourth Sunday in April to the day after Labor Day, Minnesota's current cutoff. The bill now goes to the Iowa House.

In North Dakota, where fast time is illegal, no clock-changing bills have been introduced.

Kosygin Asks U.S. to Leave Southeast Asia

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said tonight the war in Viet Nam will spread beyond its present boundaries unless the United States halts its "aggressive actions." He repeated a Soviet demand that U.S. troops be withdrawn to prepare the way for a settlement.

Kosygin also demanded that U.S. troops be withdrawn from South Korea.

The broadcast came as Communist leaders were gathering in Moscow for a Monday meeting which Red China evidently will boycott.

Meany to Ask LBJ Support for $2 Wage Scale

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany disclosed plans today to lead a delegation of top labor leaders to the White House to demand President Johnson's support for a $2 hourly minimum wage.

"The present $1.25 an hour minimum is a poverty wage," Meany said. "We can't lick poverty in America without an increase."

The administration in the past has rejected organized labor's demands for an increase in the minimum wage.

However, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, in an appearance before the AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting here seemed to leave the door open for the first time, while still refusing to commit the administration.

Wirtz said earlier this week that any such decision was up to President Johnson.

Air Liner Circles Tokyo 30 Minutes Before Safe Landing

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese airliner with 130 persons aboard landed safely at Tokyo today after circling the airport for more than 30 minutes with landing gear trouble.

The trouble finally was corrected while the Convair 440 circled the field.

Living Costs Up In January

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose one-tenth of one per cent in January largely because of higher costs for housing, gasoline, and automobile insurance, the Labor Department reported today.

The increase was the fifth monthly rise in a row. It brought the consumer price index to 108.9 per cent of the 1957-58 average.

About 950,000 workers in the auto, farm equipment and aerospace industries will receive a wage increase of one cent an hour under union contracts which link pay rate to the price index.

Dynamite Stolen, Plot To Kill Dr. King Feared

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police tightened security around civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. today, while searching for a man they described as a white racist who may be armed with high explosives.

Detectives said they found boxes of stolen dynamite and other explosives Thursday night in the apartment of Keith D. Gilbert, 27, a gun dealer already awaiting trial on the charge of attempting to kill a man — a Negro — last September.

Two men later were picked up for questioning in connection with the theft. Subsequently, they were booked on suspicion of burglary.

Officers said the boxes found in Gilbert's apartment had been opened, and it was not known whether any dynamite or ammonium nitrate — an unstable chemical which vastly increases explosive potential — was missing.

Fear 8 Men Lost in Bomber, Tanker Crash

NEWINGTON, N.H. (AP) — A B47 jet bomber and a KC135 jet tanker collided today over the Atlantic, Pease Air Force Base announced.

A Pease spokesman said the collision occurred about 700 miles east of Dow Air Force Base in Maine.

It was not known whether there were any survivors. Planes of these types normally carry crews of four men.

The bomber based at Pease Air Force Base was returning to the United States from Spain. The collision occurred during refueling operations, the air base said.

The tanker plane was flying out of Dow Air Force Base at Bangor, Maine, where it is attached to the 71st Air Refueling Squadron.

The bomber had taken part in an air exercise in Spain.

Negro Shot at Marion, Ala., Dies of Wound

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A young Negro shot in the stomach in a bloody night of racial violence at nearby Marion, Ala., died in a Selma hospital today following emergency surgery.

Jimmy Lee Jackson, 26, of Marion, who had shown signs of improvement since the shooting on the night of Feb. 18, took a turn for the worse late Thursday night and underwent a four-hour operation.

Jackson was shot in the stomach after Negroes began a night street demonstration as part of their right-to-vote campaign in neighboring Perry County. Eight persons were beaten, including three newsmen.

Jackson's death is the first resulting from the civil rights campaign which began in Alabama almost six weeks ago.

Jets Hammer Reds 40 Miles From Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B57 jet bombers continued hammering suspected Viet Cong strongpoints 40 miles southeast of Saigon today.

Air Force spokesmen said the twin-jet planes flew 32 sorties in the morning and 15 in the afternoon over jungled Phuoc Tuy Province. Each bomber from Bien Hoa Airbase carried 13 500-pound bombs on each sortie.

There was no immediate indication what success the raids had.

U.S. authorities reported that in heavy fighting in Binh Dinh Province during the past four days, the government casualty toll had risen to at least 160 — 43 killed, 51 wounded and 66 missing.

The heaviest engagements were due west of the mountain town of An Khe, along the main mountain road leading to Pleiku.

American casualties in the Binh Dinh fighting so far were recorded as one killed and 10 wounded. Six of the wounded were helicopter crewmen.

The explosives found, however, were those taken from a powder company magazine early Thursday morning, police reported.

Several hours after the theft an anonymous caller said the dynamite would be used to kill Dr. King.

Police identified the two men booked on suspicion of burglary as Rodney Chesney, 42, and his nephew, Ronald Bartell, 24, both of nearby Sunland.

Rolvaag Asks Increase in Jobless Aid

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag sent to the Minnesota Legislature a special message Wednesday, asking that benefits for unemployed workers be increased. It would be the first raise in benefits since 1957.

The message also carried a thin warning that if the legislators turn out a bill not to the governor's liking he will veto it.

It asked that maximum jobless benefits be raised from $38 a week to $49.

The governor also asked a number of changes in the rates which employers pay into the unemployment compensation fund. He said the fund is dwindling and is so low now that it could not stand the shock of a recession.

The governor asked an increase from $3,000 to $4,800 in the wage "base" of which employers pay and a hike in the maximum payroll tax rate to 4.5 percent of this base. The present rate ranges from .6 to 2.7 percent of the $3,000 base.

Rolvaag referred to his veto of a jobless benefit bill passed in 1963 by noting that it would have excluded 16,000 workers covered by the present law.

"This price was clearly too high and unfair," he said, adding that it also would have weighed too heavily on small employers.

The governor said newspaper accounts of current proposals indicate a bill is in the offing which might disqualify 21,000 persons now covered by jobless benefits.

"I would have to oppose such a provision," he said.

Charge Against Man Dropped

An assault charge against a Utica man was dismissed today in municipal court after the complaining witness withdrew her complaint.

Judge John D. McGill dismissed the charge against Donald W. Burt, 30, Utica, after the supposed victim of the assault, Mrs. Evangeline Wells, no address given appeared in court to withdraw her complaint.

Burt was arrested Thursday at 2:51 p.m. at a tavern at 74 E. 2nd St. and held overnight in city jail.

Legislators Get Booklet Asking Highway 61 Bonds

A booklet arguing the need for improvement of Trunk Highway 61 in this area was placed on the desk of each state legislator in St. Paul this morning.

Prepared and distributed by the Hiawatha Valley Association, the 10-page, two-color booklet will be circulated throughout the state. Copies should arrive here by the end of this week, Donald Stone, Winona Chamber of Commerce manager and association secretary, said today.

THE LOBBYISTS intend to "but-hole" each member of the legislature," Stone said. The bonding plan, which the association contends is necessary if the highway is to be improved before the 1980s, will

Indonesians Attack Auto of U.S. Consul

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A crowd of Indonesians attacked the car of U.S. Consul Theodore Heavner in Medan, North Sumatra, with stones and sticks, the embassy reported today.

The embassy spokesman said the windows of Heavner's car were smashed and the auto body was damaged.

be explained to Winonans next week, probably in a public meeting, Stone said.

The booklet given to the lawmakers this morning emphasizes the hazards of the narrow section of TH 61 between here and Hastings. In some places, the booklet contends, the route does not meet minimum specifications for a county highway.

IT ARGUES that Minnesota is losing tourist business because travelers, afraid to drive on TH 61, are choosing alternate — but less scenic — Wisconsin highways.

The booklet cites a need for improved truck access to such river transportation centers as Winona and Red Wing, and it declares that at improved TH 61 would benefit the northern part of Minnesota as well as this immediate area.

$5,350 Award Made by Jury In Land Case

Twelve District Court jurors came in with a $5,350 verdict for the landowner Thursday afternoon after deliberating 2½ hours in a highway land condemnation case.

Mrs. Ross Nixon, forewoman, delivered the verdict to Judge Arnold Hatfield at 2:45 p.m.

THE JURORS divided their award into damages for land taken away from Paul J. Kronebusch, Rollingstone farmer, and damages to the remainder of the farm.

Although Kronebusch had asked only $800 for damages to the attractiveness of his farm home and to the usefulness of the remaining working land, the jury gave him $1,050.

However, the District Court jury decided the market value of the 22 some acres condemned by the state for use in Highway 248 construction was only $4,300. Kronebusch had claimed $6,600.

THE JURY'S award was considerably more than the $3,150 at which a Highway Department appraiser judged the damages. But it also was lower than the $6,428 awarded by three landed commissioners appointed last fall by District Court.

The state appealed the commissioners' award, so did Kronebusch.

The state also has appealed six other awards made by the commissioners in the Highway 248 condemnation. Judge Arnold Hatfield plans to hear them all in succession.

Next trial — on Monday — will be before the same jury which heard this case. It concerns a separate parcel of Kronebusch's farm valued at $947 by the commissioners. The state holds the land is only worth $255; Kronebusch asks $1,200.

JURORS: Clarence McClymont, Mrs. Marnel Olness, Mrs. Lloyd Hemming, Edwin C. Schuppenhauer, Mrs. Ronald Drees, Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, Mrs. Nixon, Arthur Hohensee, Darrell G. Hoffman, Mrs. Ruth Nelson, Arnold Wendt and George Kistler.

Attorney C. Stanley McMahon represented Kronebusch; Special Assistant Attorney General Winston Ehlmann represented the state.

Lake City Weekly Wins State Honor

LAKE CITY, Minn. — The Lake City Graphic was honored at the Minnesota Press Women's state convention in St. Paul last week when it was awarded the first place certificate in the division, "Newspaper Edited by a Woman."

Dr. Robert Jones, dean of the school of journalism, University of Minnesota, presented the citation to Mrs. Larry Oberg, the Graphic editor, when the women's group met in conjunction with the Minnesota Newspaper Association.

The overall award covers every facet of the newspaper. Mrs. Oberg gives credit to her husband for pictures and hiring top-flight employees, the mechanical staff, the community which made the rating possible, and the advertisers.

There were 232 entries in 15 different categories for either weekly or daily classification. Judges were staff members of the Los Angeles Herald Examiner.

Mrs. Oberg joined the press women's organization last year. Her certificate especially cited a county road projects article and said on the whole, the Graphic was far above the average in country weeklies, whether edited by a man or woman.

Passe Appointed

WARASHA, Minn. — Robert Passe, who was instrumental in organizing the Wahasha County Association for Retarded Children, has been appointed by Gov. Karl Rolvaag to the South-east regional committee of the Mental Retardation Council. It will meet Tuesday at the Rochester State Hospital to assess and evaluate community needs in developing a statewide program. Another meeting is scheduled March 30.

Some Melting Expected, But No Big Warmup

Partly clear skies and warmer weather may give Winona thermometers a chance to break above the freezing mark over the weekend, forecasts for Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin indicate.

The high here Thursday afternoon was 20, followed by a cold spell Thursday night which saw the mercury drop to -5 before rising to 4 above at 7 a.m. and 18 at noon.

A LOW OF 10-18 is forecast for tonight and a high of 25-30 for Saturday afternoon. Scattered light snow is slated to move into the area Sunday and bring cooler temperatures again by Sunday night.

The extended forecast for the next five days indicates temperatures through Wednesday for this area will average 3 to 6 degrees below normal daytime averages of 28-35 and nighttime lows of 8 to 16.

The warmer weather is expected the first of the period, followed by colder weather early next week and warmer again Wednesday. Precipitation is expected to be less than .10 of an inch, mostly in light snow Sunday.

A year ago today the Winona high was 24 and the low 11. The all-time high for Feb. 26 was 60 in 1958 and the low -17 in 1950. Mean for the past 24 hours was 8. Normal for this time of the year is 23.

The temperature slumped to -22 at International Falls this morning, was -13 at Duluth, -10 at Bemidji and -7 at St. Cloud. Rochester had a low of -1 after a Thursday high of 15 and La Crosse posted figures of -1 and 19 for the same times.

The sun came out in WISCONSIN and brought bright promise of improving weather for the weekend.

Temperatures hit near or below zero levels in the state early today.

Superior reached a low of 13 below early today. Park Falls had 8 below, Eau Claire 5 below, Wausau 3 below and Lone Rock zero.

Racine topped Wisconsin readings Thursday with 22. Other highs ranged down to 14 at Park Falls.

COLDEST places in the country early today were Hibbing and International Falls, Minn., with 22 below. Thermal, Calif., and Gila Bend, Ariz., set the national high of 81 Thursday.

King agreed to this increase. However, a total of $140 in other payments were intended strictly as loans, King testified.

The lumber man testified that $120 of this was given to Fort to hire men to complete interior work in the barn in early October. Christie had refused to make further payments to King until the barn was completed, King said.

Fort asked King for $300 extra payment in November or December, 1963, King testified. King refused to pay this. He estimated a reasonable labor charge for the work on the Christie farm at $2,971, King told the court.

UNDER CROSS-examination, King denied that Fort had had difficulty in obtaining money from King to pay the workmen on the Christie job.

King admitted that he had asked Fort to make his men work more efficiently, but he denied having told the St. Charles man to "work the hell out of the men."

In rebuttal, Fort said he didn't recall King ever telling him he had "overdrawn" his labor bid by $50. (King said he had warned Fort of this when he gave him $20 on one occasion.) Fort also denied that King had specified repayment of the $120 given Fort in October, 1963 for completion of the barn.

Judge Hatfield asked Fort why, if he was working for straight time as he said, hadn't he submitted written time slips at the end of each week. Fort answered that King was willing to take Fort's word for the time worked.

PLAINTIFF FORT gave all the evidence for his side of the case in testimony Thursday afternoon.

It is Fort's contention that he gave defendant King an estimate of $2,850 for the labor in building a new barn, shed and

HOUSTON, Minn. — The general manager of Ace Telephone Association, which serves 7,500 telephones in Houston, Rushford, Lanesboro and 13 other exchanges in Southeastern Minnesota and northeastern Iowa, was re-elected to the board of directors of Minnesota Telephone Association, Inc., for a three-year term Wednesday.

Robert W. Bunke was among 1,400 delegates to the 56th annual meeting in Minneapolis of 163 independent telephone companies serving 301,205 of the state's 1,558,700 telephones.

A member of the board four years, Bunke was chairman of the education and insurance committees. He was accompanied to the convention by Elmer Wright, plant superintendent; David Gilman, chief engineer; and Jack MacLean, commercial manager.

The Minnesota convention, largest state convocation of independent telephone companies held anywhere in the nation, was a symposium of technical discussions, panel subjects and special lectures aimed at updating companies on the strides telephony has made as the world's primary communications network. Delegates viewed 60 exhibits of newest and latest equipment.

Dispute Over Labor Costs Goes to Judge

A suit for payment of the alleged balance of labor costs for construction of a barn and shed was taken under advisement today in District Court by Judge Arnold Hatfield.

Judge Hatfield heard testimony this morning by the defendant in the action, Allen J. King, Utica, who does business as the Midler Lumber Co. The judge also heard a brief rebuttal from plaintiff Harold Fort, St. Charles, a carpenter.

KING SAID that he was requested by David Christie, Utica farmer, to prepare a bid for rebuilding a barn on Christie's farm which had burned down in January, 1963.

King told the court that he began to price the materials and labor for the work Christie wanted done. In answer to questions put by his lawyer, J. F. Herrick, Lanesboro, King testified that Fort bid $2,850 for the labor involved in putting up a "pre-fab" barn, a large shed and a feed room.

King said that he added $200 to the labor estimate in quoting Christie a $13,000 figure for the job. Four days later, March 12, Fort came to King and asked assurance that he would still get $2,850, King testified.

King told the court that this was prompted by Christie's having gotten Fort to lower the labor bid by the $200 King had added.

CHRISTIE signed the $12,800 contract with King on March 14. King said that work progressed well at first. He did become concerned that the shed would not be finished by June 15, as called for in the contract, however.

The forming of concrete for stalls in the barn was fairly complete by early September. King testified. Then Fort asked King for $50 additional payment for installment of extra cement curbs.

King agreed to this increase. However, a total of $140 in other payments were intended strictly as loans, King testified.

The lumber man testified that $120 of this was given to Fort to hire men to complete interior work in the barn in early October. Christie had refused to make further payments to King until the barn was completed, King said.

Get Politically Active, Judd Tells Students

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

Dr. Walter Judd, former Minnesota congressman, told students Thursday that government is "more powerful than ever before" and urged them to influence it by getting politically active.

His message, a two-stanza affair, was delivered at Winona Senior High School auditorium and later at the new St. Mary's College gymnasium. Dr. Judd spoke to 150 high school students and observers at a mock legislative session and, following that, to an evening meeting of student Republicans from all three city colleges.

STRESSING morality and tactical discretion, Dr. Judd posed the question for high school legislators of whether a man can be honorable and also in politics. He answered it with an unqualified yes. To the query on whether an honorable man in politics can be successful, he said the answer is yes and no. He cited the defeat of Winston Churchill in an election only a few months after he had led England through the greatest perils it ever faced.

"Those people listened to what they wanted to hear," Judd said. "They didn't want to listen to any more blood, sweat and tears." It demonstrates the truth of a Chinese philosopher's observation that "peace is harder than war," because unity of national purpose seems to fade when danger abates, Judd told students.

Putting private concerns ahead of public interest, often accepted in government, would not be tolerated if practiced by a soldier in Viet Nam, Judd pointed out. The nation should not ask a higher level of patriotism in men who fight than in those who administer government, he argued.

ON THE OTHER hand, Judd advised, it is only stupidity to try to win by meeting all issues head-on. In politics, one should "learn to shoot with a rifle; pick your issues; don't spray the landscape with a shotgun," he cautioned.

It is a great temptation for an officeholder to be a delegate instead of a representative, he said. No official should be in anyone's pocket because he has a mandate to govern in the interest of everyone to the best of his ability, Judd stated.

The former congressman pointed out that clear choices between right and wrong seldom present themselves. He said:

"The greatest difficulty is not to have the courage to do what's right but is in trying to tell what is right. Most issues are neither all good nor all bad. You must vote on whether the good outweighs the bad or vice versa."

Judd said he would not support a person who goes into politics as a career. Rather, he prefers a man willing to go into public service "at the sacrifice of his career and as one who serves." He cautioned the students not to go into government until they can support themselves in other fields. This "shows your competence in managing your affairs and gives you something to fall back on when you have to say: 'Here I stand; this is how I vote and if I am defeated, so be it.'"

AT ST. MARY'S College, his talk was sponsored by the College of Saint Teresa-St. Mary's Young Republican Club. Students from Winona State College, La Crosse State College and Rochester Junior College were guests.

A party affiliation is the most effective way of working for one's principles in government, Judd said. The individual joins the party he believes most nearly agrees with his aims, then, if he disagrees in part, he can work from within to effect changes.

Judd cited his own affiliation with the GOP as the party with which he feels the greatest kinship, one which he said does most to assist people in helping themselves. "If I had lived in Jefferson's day, I would have been a red-hot Democrat," Judd added, "but the only way to work for those principles today is by being a Republican."

Turning to international affairs, Judd said today's high levels of development in many fields promise better life for man but are threatened by international communism. We have let ourselves be soothed by phrases like peaceful co-existence, non-aggression pacts and disarmament, he said, but the time has come to demand tangible actions as proof of the Reds' desire for peace.

SUCH PROOFS of sincerity could include tearing down the Berlin wall, letting the people of Latvia, Lithuania, Poland and East Germany hold free elections, stopping use of Cuba as a base for subversion of the Western Hemisphere and acceptance of disarmament with full inspection, he stated.

Recent conciliatory attitudes by Russia are only tactical and should not be interpreted as a softening of communism, Judd warned. They are similar to the actions of a boxer who goes into a clinch, he said, as a means of stalling for time and regaining strength with which to finish off his opponent later.

Communism, like football, is based on power and deception, Judd said, and we should not be surprised or indignant when Communists deceive us any more than when an opposing quarterback fakes a handoff, then passes. The point is, he said, that this nation cannot and should not trust Communists in the first place.

Bond Bill With Vote Approved By Senate Unit

A bill authorizing a referendum vote on a proposed $5.98 million bond issue for school construction in Winona this morning won quick approval of the Minnesota Senate education committee at a resumed hearing in St. Paul.

Drafted after the committee Tuesday rejected a similar measure that did not contain the referendum provision, the bill introduced by Winona County Sen. Roger Laufenburger, Lewiston, in a matter of minutes this morning was approved by the committee with a recommendation for passage by the Senate. It was understood there was no opposition expressed at the hearing.

WINONA Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson reported at the conclusion of this morning's hearing that there are indications that the way now may be cleared for passage of the bill by the Senate sometime next week.

The amended version of the original bill under the sponsorship of City Rep. Frank Theis also will be called for hearing by the House education committee and local observers contemplate no difficulty in its passage from committee to the House floor.

A Winona delegation which had appeared at Tuesday's hearing on the original bill had been advised at that time that the committee of the Senate would approve the measure today if it contained an amendment calling for a referendum on the bond issue to finance construction of a new Senior High School and building to house the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School.

THERE WAS virtually no discussion, it was reported this morning, on the measure when the hearing was resumed on the amended bill and approval was voted soon after the matter was called for committee action.

The bill was to be introduced in the Senate as a whole shortly before noon today and a vote on the Senate floor is scheduled for next Tuesday. The bill probably will be called for hearing by the House education committee next week.

The referendum vote will be taken at the city's general election April 5.

It Happened Last Night 'They'll Be Singing Garland's Song'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Judy Garland's so cheerful nowadays, romantically and professionally, she laughs at lawsuits.

"They should call me 'Sweet Sue,'" Judy said at her East Side townhouse, "because I'm always being sued. I've been in more courtrooms than I've been on the stage, and I, not Louis Nizer, should have written 'My Life in Court.'"

Her agent David Begelman arrived. He mentioned her phone had been 400; that is, Out of Order.

"I probably missed 35 lawsuits," Judy said, not too regretfully.

Miami Beach'll celebrate her return to night clubs (at the Hotel Fontainebleau March 11) like it's a national holiday, with junkets, speeches, etc. This pleased Judy.

"I'm going to live 800 years!" she said. "I'm going to have the last laugh on all you guys who've been writing about me being sick."

She and actor Mark Herron'll marry as soon as she's free of Sid Luft — "our divorce case is ending, and I have to pay him alimony," she said. "How much? It would make you sick to know!"

SEVERAL BIG TV shows, album recordings and cafe appearances await Judy. She passed up one concert she was to have done in African Cannibal-land.

"I had a premonition there would be an uprising and I would wind up in a pot!" she said. "I didn't go and they didn't sue me. You see, everybody doesn't sue me — it just seems like it!"

My B. W. and I took beautiful Daliah Lavi, the Israeli-born sex symbol who's the first girl to play opposite Peter O'Toole — in "Lord Jim" — to Lame's the other night for a lovely "Carnevale" fiesta. Daliah was escorted by John Sullivan, Dublin ex-stuntman, now a director — and we hear that their romance would make QUOTE a story. After seeing Liza Minnelli, Judy Garland's dir., get crowned queen of the Carnevale, Miss Lavi wanted to see Americans dance the Bostella, as she didn't believe what she'd heard. "People lie down on the floor?" she said. "WHY?"

All I could tell her was, "Because they do it in Europe." Jack Carter says: "When they open the first discotheque in Israel, they should call it, 'The Synago-go'."

CJHS Operetta Thursday, Friday

"The Belle of the West," an operetta by Charles George, has been chosen by Central Junior High School for its annual all-school production.

It will be given Thursday and Friday in the Central Junior High School auditorium, under the direction of John R. Duell of the music department.

Proceeds from the operetta will be used to finance the publication of the school paper, The Spotlight, and for other school activities.

Tickets may be purchased from any Central Junior High School student or at the door the evening of each performance.

The school, churches, branches of local and county government, and organizations have been invited to this meeting.

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — The Galesville City Council decided Tuesday night to drill a new well and construct a building for the pump and facilities.

Estimated cost is $16,823, or $9,900 under the first estimate. A call for bids will be issued.

Osseo and Pepin Choirs to Join In Choral Clinic

OSSEO, Minn. (Special) — Osseo High School's choir, directed by Charles Thomley, will take part Saturday in a choral clinic at Eau Claire State University.

Each school will rehearse two selections in the afternoon, directed by its own instructor, then will spend a half hour with Dr. Robert McCowen, guest director from Iowa State University.

Ames, Osseo will perform at 3 p.m. at Schofield Hall.

During a public concert beginning at 7:30 p.m., each school again will sing under the direction of its own teacher. The finale will be a performance by a festival chorus, made up of college and selected high school singers and directed by Dr. McCowen.

Other participating schools are Pepin, Stanley-Boyd, Medford, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire Memorial, Winter and Baldwin-Woodville.

In St. Mary's Play

The name of a member of the cast of St. Mary's College's production of "The Rivals" was inadvertently omitted from the review which appeared earlier. Douglas Eichten makes a handsome Jack Absolute, and he plays the role with the cocksure swagger the young officer should have.

Don't take your half of the road out of the middle.

Plaintiff Denied Damage by Jury In City Court

A municipal court jury Thursday afternoon found the driver of a car belonging to plaintiffs James and Thomas Pampuch, Bluff Sliding, Wis., guilty of negligence in connection with a collision Jan. 10, 1964.

Thus, the Pampuchs are held liable for the $50 damage to the other car involved in the collision belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Linn B. Florin, 228 E. Bellevue St. David P. Breza, 488 Main St., was driver of the Pampuch car.

THE JURY decided that Breza had been negligent and was a proximate cause of the collision. Mrs. Florin, driver of the other car, had not been negligent, the six-man jury held.

Breza was not a party to the suit, except as a witness. Suit was brought by James Pampuch, with his father Thomas. They had loaded the car to Breza before the accident.

Pampuch alleged negligence on Mrs. Florin's part and asked compensation for an alleged $28 damage to his car. Breza was called as a witness and told how he was backing the Pampuch car out of the driveway of his home when he stepped at the curb line to let three cars, northbound on Main Street, go by.

Mrs. Vincent J. Breza, the boy's mother and a passenger in the Pampuch car, corroborated her son's testimony.

Both Breza and Mrs. Florin agreed that the collision occurred when Mrs. Florin, third in the line of cars northbound on Main, stepped hard on her brakes and slid into the Pampuch car.

MR. FLORIN was the only defendant's witness. He testified concerning the damage inflicted on both vehicles as a result of the collision.

Special Municipal Judge Loren W. Torgerson granted a 10-day stay of entry of judgment, allowing Attorney Dennis A. Challen to appeal the verdict against his client Pampuch if he wishes.

The Florins will be entitled to file for payment of their court costs by the Pampuchs. Attorney Richard B. Bins, Rochester, represented the Florins.

Jurors were: Fayette O. Ehle (foreman), Miss Beverly Olson, Lester J. Klotke, Max Bunn, Mrs. William D. Carter and Mrs. Robert L. Ritter.

Doctors Honor Dr. Charles Mayo

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dr. Edward J. Krol of Chicago was installed as president of the American Society of Abdominal Surgeons Wednesday.

State Hearing on Signals At Fountain City Completed

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. (Special) — A Public Service Commission hearing on the petition of Fountain City to establish a grade crossing over the Burlington Railroad tracks here to a proposed boat harbor in the lower end of the main part of the city was completed at the auditorium here Thursday.

William Peher proposes to trade 40 acres of land he owns in the Fountain City Bay area for 14.53 acres of public lands at the river end of Mill St. where he would provide room for 75-100 boat slips and establish a launching ramp and dock, with a gasoline pump for boats and other facilities. The remaining area could be developed by the city with such facilities as a park and camping area.

TESTIFYING for the railroad were Franklin A. Gray, trainmaster of the La Crosse division, and D. H. Thompson, assistant to the chief signal engineer out of the Chicago office. They questioned the benefit accruing to the public from erecting flashing signals with gates at a cost of $22,081.81, part of which under law would be paid by the railroad, part by the state.

The petitioners asked for a simple grade crossing because visibility at that point is 1 1/2 miles upriver and about three miles downriver to Lock and Dam 55.

Willis Fernholz, La Crosse, district fish manager with the state Conservation Department which is interested in the project on a 50 percent cost-sharing basis, was called on re-direct examination by Marvin L. Fuglia, counsel for the city.

James Scholmeier, alderman, appeared for Mayor W. F. Bohrt, who was ill.

OTHER WITNESSES called for the petitioners were Elmer Gots, owner of the motel on the bluff side of the tracks; Hilbert Duellman, owner of the service station on Highway 35 opposite the proposed harbor, former alderman and member of the Great River Road Commission; Donald V. Gray, head of the Fish & Wildlife Service, Winona; Walter A. Valentine, supper club owner; Robert W. Saka, owner of a meat market here who services river boats; and Gerald E. Duval, Buffalo City resort owner, member of the Indianhead Association and promoter of the resort area of Buffalo County.

Attorney Fuglia produced a letter dated Feb. 8 from B. J. Schaefer, acting regional supervisor of the branch of realty, Department of the Interior, Fish & Wildlife Service, Minneapolis office, stating that satisfactory progress was being made on an agreement for exchange of land. Approval must be secured from the Washington office.

THE 14 ACRES which Peher, Fountain City and the Conservation Department are interested in developing was condemned when the nine-foot channel was built.

At Fountain City, Wally's Supper Club has a boat landing somewhat inaccessible for cars and cruisers. There is a private ramp at Breya Point at Dam 5A, and upriver there are launching areas at Buffalo City. The latter are off-channel, however, and Fountain City's harbor would be on the channel.

The commission hearing was completed by noon.

Highway Engineer Gets Merit Award

Henry C. Kraus, Minnesota Department of Highway's field engineer here, was awarded a certificate of merit at the annual highway engineers conference in Minneapolis this week.

Kraus, who was ill at the time of the meeting, was unable to be present to receive the award.

Also cited at the conference was Leon Joyce Construction Co., Rochester, the firm which had the contract for bituminous paving of Trunk Highway 16 from its junction with TH44 in HOKAH to a point 4.3 miles westward. This is the same project for which Kraus was cited.

Your arm around her may be fun and you may think her hand is won. The families wish you'd never risked it now that you're statistics.

Hixton Water Supply OKed

HIXTON, Wis. (Special) — Hixton residents may now enjoy the benefits of a central water supply.

A letter received Tuesday by Sidney Jensen, village president, from the state Board of Health gave final certification that the water is safe for drinking and that residents may hook up to the system. Hereafter each home has had its own well, which often presented rust problems.

Work began on the $114,000 project last spring. The 85,000 gallon reservoir, well and pump-house are on a hill about one-fourth of a mile north of the village.

Contractors were: Walter Ekern, Westby; Gottschalk Brothers, Edgar; Frank Fisher, Durand; Layne Northwest, Milwaukee, and Scan Construction Co., Minneapolis.

Peter Bieri, Trempealeau County agent, advised county farmers that sheep prices are the best they have been in a decade. Prospects are for a good demand with the reduced supply.

DEAR ABBY:

Forget What He Said

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I went steady with Joe for six months and then we broke up. He has been talking about me something terrible and I don't know what to do. He never got anything more from me than a goodnight kiss at the door, but he has been going around telling everybody that he quit going with me because he got all he wanted.

TALKED ABOUT

DEAR TALKED ABOUT: Maybe that's all he wanted. Forget it.

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think that when a husband and wife eat out he should give her some suggestions as to what to order, or at least some clue as to how much he intends to spend? Example: We had breakfast in a restaurant recently. I asked him what he was going to order, and he said he didn't know. Trying to be thoughtful and considerate I ordered coffee and toast. Then HE ordered juice, bacon and eggs, blueberry muffins and jam and coffee. I would have enjoyed that kind of breakfast, too, but I hesitated to order it because I wasn't sure he was going in for a meal like that. Later he could see I was hurt so he asked me what was wrong, and I told him as nicely as I could that if I had known he was going to order a meal like that, I would have, too. Don't you think it's a man's responsibility to put his wife at ease and give her some kind of a clue as to what kind of meal he had in mind to pay for? He can't understand it.

ONLY HIS WIFE

DEAR ONLY: There is no reason why you, after hearing your husband's order, couldn't have changed your mind and had the same. To have sat there and sulked in silence was childish. This man is not a "date," lady — he's your husband. I suggest you get on more familiar terms with him. You might enjoy it.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is trying to keep busy at work. I work for a small company in a one-girl office. I have a wonderful boss and a nice place to work, and the pay is good, but about three (and sometimes four) days out of the week I have nothing to do. The mail comes in at noon and I spend the rest of the day just sitting around. The phone hardly ever rings. I've read books and magazines, and listened to the radio, but I can't do that all day. I've straightened the desk drawers, files and cupboards and even cleaned and scrubbed the office although we have janitorial service. By boss is out of town most of the time. He knows I don't have enough to keep me busy, but he doesn't mind. I love my job, but I wish you could tell me how to occupy my empty hours.

ABBY

DEAR LENORA: If idleness bugs you and you like to work, get a job where there is work to do. The job you have now, and say you "love," is unlike most jobs worthy of the name.

DEAR ABBY: I was surprised at your answer to the person who asked what you thought of people who offered to take their guests on a "tour" of their home. Maybe YOU think it's all right, but I have another opinion on that.

A home is not a show place, it is a person's private property with all his personal possessions collected there, and I think it is in very poor taste to show them off.

Now I have another question for you: What do you say when someone comes into your home for the first time, looks around and then says, "May I see the rest of your house?"

NO SHOW-OFF

DEAR NO: You have two choices. You may either offend your guest by refusing his request. Or you conduct the guided tour whether you like it or not. I would give him the tour.

St. Mary's Offers Writing Courses For Teachers

The St. Mary's College English department will offer a summer institute for advanced study of composition and the teaching of writing, college officials said today.

The institute, which will be open to 40 high school English teachers, will be supported by a grant from the U.S. Office of Education under provisions of the National Defense Education Act, as amended in 1964. It will continue six weeks, beginning June 28 and concluding Aug. 6.

It is one of six institutes to be offered by Minnesota colleges in the interest of improving the quality of high school teaching.

The St. Mary's NDEA institute will concentrate on composition and the teaching of writing at the high school level. Work will focus on three courses: One in advanced composition, an actual writing course; one in rhetorical theory, with emphasis on "new" rhetoric, and one on methods of teaching writing. The third course will be supplemented by laboratory practice in actual work with high school student writing. The laboratory will also include as much introduction as possible in the use of audio-visual aids and similar devices.

The staff of this institute will include Brother H. Raphael, FSC, director; Brother Leonard, FSC, assistant director; Dr. Augusta Nelson of Winona State College, and Miss Jean V. Williams of Waukesha, Wis. One other instructor will be added later.

The institute is part of the national movement to up-grade the quality of English teaching at the secondary and elementary school levels.

Yugoslavian Trout

An air shipment of 57,500 Ohrid trout eggs from Yugoslavia arrived at the Minnesota trout hatchery at Lanesboro Wednesday. It was half of the 100,000 egg shipment that the Federal Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife obtained from Lake Ohrid, Yugoslavia. It was half of the eggs received at the federal hatchery at Manchester, Iowa by air freight in exchange for 100,000 rainbow trout eggs.

The Lanesboro consignment will be hatched there. Russell Hanson, superintendent, said, and reared in the ponds to fishable size when all but 7,500 will be turned over to the Superior National Forest Service for planting in the isolated cold water lakes along the border.

Actually the Ohrid strain of trout, Hanson said, are a warm water trout adapted to water temperature of 65 to 70 degrees and was formerly abundant in rivers like the Danube. It spawns in lakes and rivers, not running up small streams like American trout do. It grows as large as lake trout.

The fish to be retained in ponds at Lanesboro will be used as brood stock for experimental purposes which will include stocking in water lakes with a good water supply and with deep holes, like Lake Zumbro, Lake Pepin, and those on tributary rivers created by dams. If successful, this imported trout, like the browns that came from Germany and France, may provide trout fishing in some of our large streams as well as local lakes.

The rainbow eggs have been gathered by the federal hatchery at Manchester for export to Yugoslavia. The other 50,000 of the 100,000 imported eggs will be hatched there. In other words, they are not putting all their eggs in one basket.

The Associated Conservation Clubs of Trempealeau County, Wis., are all set to again try to stage their annual fishing contest on Third Lake, Trempealeau, Sunday. This is if we remember right, the third try, and according to Nick Jensen at Arcadia, president of the county-wide group which operates the big pheasant farm at Marshland, the offering in prizes has grown with each attempt.

Fishing will start at 1:30 and run two hours. The ice has

Our Loyal, Faithful Miss Griswold Departs

LOYALTY, faithfulness and untiring effort of the individual are the vital factors upon which any institution depends for its progressive growth and development. These were the attributes possessed in full measure by M. Glee Griswold, who died Thursday after being associated with this newspaper and its predecessors for more than 60 years.

For Miss Griswold, who started working here in 1904 and had served as secretary of Republican & Herald Publishing Co. since 1908, newspapering was not a job but an exciting daily experience. She scorned suggestions of vacations from her duties. To her association with members of the staff, conversation with people visiting her accounting department, the challenges posed by new problems provided the tonic that kept her active and sprightly well beyond the age when most others concern themselves with thoughts of retirement.

IN THE NEWSPAPER world today are scores of men and women, prominent in their profession, who began their careers in Winona and remember how Miss Griswold usually was the first to greet them in the office at the beginning of the day and usually the last to leave at night. For nearly 61 years she kept her hand on the pulse of the business of this newspaper, keeping accounts of receipts and disbursements, personnel records and making precise entries in the journals of the firm's operation — the paper's watchdog. And despite the volume of business that was transacted, her desk was as neat as her ever immaculate personal appearance.

She personally distributed materials used by employees in each department, passing out pencils one at a time, but no matter how busy was her day there was never an occasion when she didn't find time to discuss problems and personal incidents in the lives of the families of employees who came to see her.

ONE VETERAN member of this organization who knew and worked with Miss Griswold longer than any other, pays her this tribute: "We here at the newspaper today can only bow our heads and say that in the passing of Miss Griswold the curtain goes down on a little world she made; a world which was as important to her as the British Empire was to Sir Winston Churchill."

Bond Issue Would Benefit Entire State

A STUDY HAS JUST been released by the Colorado Visitors Bureau showing the financial importance to Colorado of the tourist industry.

It should make all Minnesotans sit up and take notice.

The facts contained should also spur members of the current Minnesota Legislature into approving recommendations for a bond issue to complete four-lane U.S. Highway 61 from Winona to the Twin Cities for it is one of the most important — if not THE most important — tourist entrances to our state to say nothing about its scenic charms.

Members of the Hiawatha Valley Association, promoting such legislation, are disgruntled because some members of the legislature have looked upon the bond issue as a personal move by Upper Mississippi River communities to get the four-lane highway for their own benefit. They should realize that this active tourist group is working for the benefit of the entire state — particularly the northern tourist region.

IN OTHER WORDS, what's good for Minnesota is good for the Hiawatha Valley.

Last year, visitors to Colorado spent directly nearly half a billion dollars! The exact figure is $486,216,000.

This included $132,251,000 on food and meals, $118,637,000 on lodging, $117,664,000 on transportation, $52,998,000 for retail purchases and $38,897,000 for entertainment.

But that was only "first round" spending.

The $486,216,000 that went out of the visitors' pockets supported thousands of Colorado residents.

This is shown in the "second round" breakdown of where the money went: $220,743,008 to farmers, stockmen and wholesalers; $113,288,000 for payrolls; $55,915,000 for rent and depreciation; $48,135,000 for miscellaneous expenses and the same amount of $48,135,000 for profit and other items.

NOT ALL OF the profit from the tourist industry went to individuals and private corporations.

Cities and counties reaped rich returns.

So did the state — to the tune of $27,273,340.

The Colorado official share was broken down into $13,798,000 from gasoline taxes, $3,890,500 from sales, $3,537,400 for game and fish licenses, $2,372,700 from taxes on lodgings, $1,613,940 for income taxes, $874,800 on liquor taxes, $867,700 on pari-mutuel taxes and $317,700 from property tax on $814 million worth of tourist facilities.

Colorado does so well not only because of its natural attractions and its proximity to eastern population centers but because

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

Soft-on-Russia Policy Charged

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — The world is told by Moscow dispatches that Soviet military aid now is on the way to North Viet Nam and that it includes ground-to-air missiles, jet fighters and technical advisers.

The Soviet government claims that the assistance is being given at the invitation of the North Viet Nam regime. The United States justifies its said to South Viet Nam with the argument that military forces and supplies have been sent at the request of the South Viet Nam government.

The Soviet move is aimed directly at an American army of more than 24,000 troops in South Viet Nam which has suffered several hundred casualties in the last two years. Yet there is no sign that the United States government or any of its allies will object to what the Soviets are doing.

If the United States, on the other hand, were to begin furnishing arms and ammunition for the use of underground groups in Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania or any of the other "captive" countries now under Communist control, this would doubtless be called an act of war and an aggression.

BUT IT LOOKS as if what the Soviet government is doing will not be challenged in the court of public opinion or anywhere else by the administration here. For the policy thus far has been one of buttering up the Moscow government with promises of expansion of trade, perhaps more financial credits, and proposals for exchanges of visits between the leaders of Russia and President Johnson.

The root of the whole trouble is that neither South Viet Nam nor North Viet Nam is capable today of self-government. The frequent changes in the top posts in South Viet Nam over the last two years indicate that a group of responsible leaders has not yet emerged.

Theoretically, the United Nations is composed of 114 free and equal nations, but actually most of them are not free and very few of the new members could be regarded as having achieved a position of responsibility or capability in carrying on their own affairs.

The principle of "self-determination" of peoples was widely proclaimed as a new ideal back in 1919 when the League of Nations was founded and undertook to help backward nations by establishing supervisory trusteeships. But this privilege was abused as business interests practically took over some of the smaller countries where the trusteeships prevailed.

THE FACT is that no way has been devised as yet actually to train a nation for self-government. It is often said that British colonial rule did a better job than any other system in preparing backward nations for self-government, and in many respects this is true. In those parts of Africa, however, where the French held sway for many years, most of the former colonies have not turned out to be responsible.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

No Hanoi Plot Behind Pleiku Bombing, Belief

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Shortly after the Viet Cong raid on Pleiku which caused the United States to retaliate with its first definite large-scale bombing raids on North Viet Nam, this column reported that the United States had been mouse-trapped and that the Pleiku attack was the result of a Chinese or North Vietnamese plot deliberately staged while Premier Kosygin was visiting Hanoi.

More complete information, now available from the battlefield, shows this column was in error. The Viet Cong attack was staged by a bedraggled handful of 100 men, or half a company, which was able to achieve success only because of sheer stupidity and lack of alertness by the Americans and the South Vietnamese. The attackers had no idea that they would be able to penetrate to the very center of the American installation as they did.

That is was no Hanoi-conceived plot is obvious from the fact that Hanoi could not have planned to have all South Vietnamese personnel and all Americans asleep.

A little band of Viet Cong passed through two villages before reaching Pleiku. The South Vietnamese in the villages are supposedly friendly to the United States but they sounded no alarm. The attackers cut the barbed wire around Pleiku completely undisturbed, and walked right into the center of the installation to place bombs alongside the barracks where Americans were sleeping and alongside planes which were completely unguarded. They retreated without an American or a South Vietnamese wounding a single one.

THERE WERE some Viet Cong casualties, but only from their own mortar fire. Their commander had never expected them to penetrate so far inside, therefore aimed mortars into the center of the American installation — another indication that there was no Hanoi plot.

Secretary McNamara, one of the most level-headed executives ever to boss the Pentagon, was mouse-trapped when he got out of his sick bed to hold an emergency press conference and defended the American forces as victims of a "sneak attack." Obviously he knew that some of the great military victories of American history have resulted from sneak attacks, as when George Washington sneaked across the Delaware to surprise the Hessians in Trenton. McNamara also knew that his own men were being trained in the art of the sneak attack at the very time he held the press conference.

Only on a few occasions have American troops telegraphed their attacks in advance, as when Gen. Pickett sent a Confederate flag at the head of his troops in the famous charge at Gettysburg — a charge, incidentally, in which his defeat turned the tide of the Civil War.

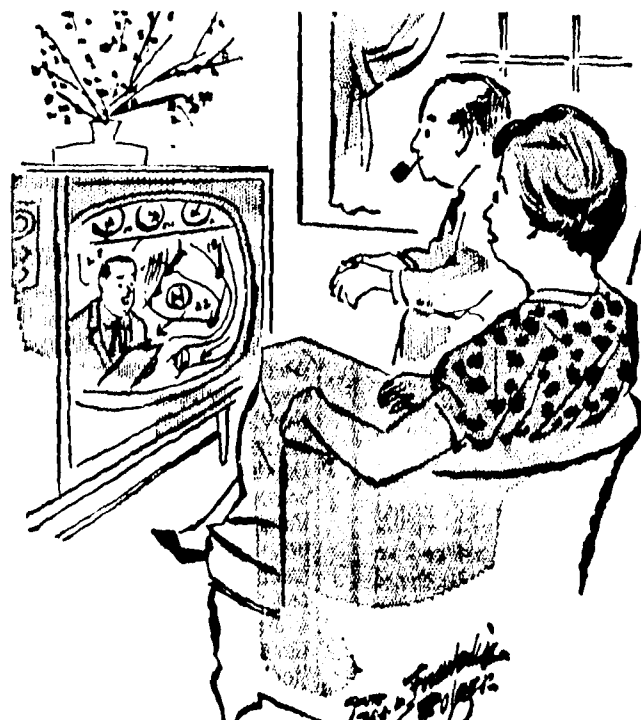

Those who were really mouse-trapped as a result of the Pleiku incident were not only McNamara but President Johnson and, momentarily, the State Department. Since then, Acting Secretary of State George Ball has tried to restore some reason and sanity to our mouse-trapped thinking which could have precipitated nuclear world war.

tated nuclear world war.

WHAT HAPPENED was that Ambassador Taylor, an able but severely harassed man who has seen his hitherto great prestige gradually eroded in Viet Nam, seized this opportunity to recommend retaliatory raids. He sincerely believed this was a Hanoi plot. Ordinarily his recommendation might have been discounted in Washington, but it happened that McGeorge Bundy, White House adviser on security matters, was in Saigon at precisely that time.

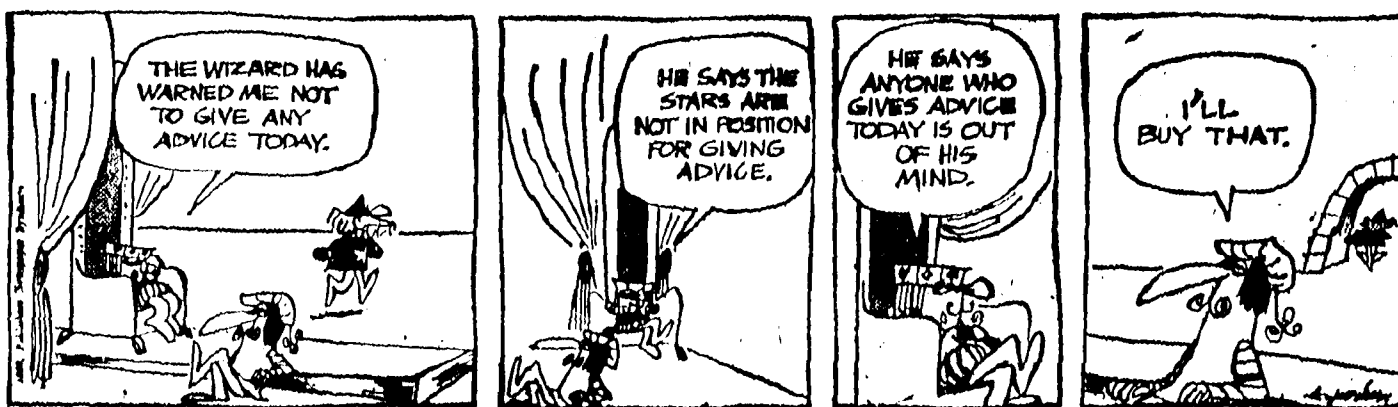

Bundy's brother William is assistant secretary of state for the Far East and has long advocated a stronger hand in Viet Nam, including bombing the north. When McGeorge Bundy, therefore, joined Taylor in rushing back a premature, exaggerated account of the Pleiku raid, the White House finally yielded to advice which has now caused serious loss of American prestige, demonstrations against American embassies around the world, even in pro-West countries, and eroded the better understanding Johnson had personally built up with the new leaders in the Kremlin.

Time To Change To Home Rule

To the Editor:

Winona will always have the potential to be one of the finest cities in Minnesota. It is located in one of the most picturesque parts of the state. Winona has history written all over its face, being one of the first towns established along the lazy Mississippi. A good portion of the houses, churches, and business establishments still bring back a vivid picture of life in that era of horse and buggy, elegant entertainment and a striving to make their town the best in the early saga of Minnesota history.

While Winona can be very proud of their early ancestors and their achievements, it's time now to set our own goals and make Winona a city which will display our pride and success in the modern world. Certainly it is not impossible to show the world that we too are up to date as do many other cities in Minnesota. Take a look at our downtown district, does it reflect the beauty and style of the 1960s? Just how much improving have we done, that is shown, in which a favorable contrast can be made to the days of yesterday?

I believe that our civic leaders are working hard to improve conditions in Winona, yet it is the laws themselves with which they work that are out-dated. How can we expect to move forward successfully if we are hindered by our form of government which was adopted nearly 100 years ago? In 1898 we had a chance to adopt home rule, which simply means we could decide which form of government we wanted and acquire authority to make and enforce local policies without running to the state Legislature in St. Paul and let them decide what's best for us. Certainly since 1897 when Winona became a town we should now be ready to break the ties with St. Paul and begin on our own.

If Winona did work for home rule the citizens could decide if they want to change their form of government or keep the present setup — weak mayor system. The important factor is that they would be the ones to decide and in that respect would partake in local government which is of course our right as well as our duty.

Home rule isn't going to transform the faults of Winona into virtue and perfection overnight. However, it could be a beginning with which we should strive for without fear or suspicion.

Special Teal Season Called "A Lulu"

To the Editor:

I am in favor of starting a Vigilante Committee to eradicate all college men from the Department of Conservation and Fish and Wildlife Service.

We have never had such stupid and asinine regulations until the intellectual set took over. This latest special teal season is really a lulu. If we allow all these gun happy nincompoops out in the mud flats for three weeks prior to the regular onslaught there won't be a living creature left within 20 miles of the river. The only ducks we'll find will be in the Delta marsh.

This suggested 12-day pheasant season by the Minnesota Legislature is also just great. We got rid of Kimball as director and now we have another guy in there who studied agronomy or some such, so now he is a big expert on all things relative to the ways of the great white hunter and pursuit of piscatorial trophies.

The Department of Conservation stated last year that 73 percent of all pheasants bagged are killed the opening day so it doesn't make any difference whether the season is 12 days or 12 weeks. Secondly, it is a proven fact — via college trained personnel — that of all wildlife fatalities only 7 percent are taken by hunter's scatter-guns and rifles.

What the department needs is someone with peripheral vision so they can distinguish the surrounding forest from the tree in front of them.

Diarrhea Can Result From Ameba

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Suddenly I found myself with diarrhea. My doctor said there were ameba. I followed through on a 21-day course of medicine, expecting that that would be all there was to it, but I have had two added courses since.

Will you tell me something about this parasite, or ameba, and can it be controlled?—G.A.S.

The ameba is a parasite that is too small to be seen with the naked eye but can be readily seen through a microscope.

A good deal of diarrhea is taken for granted, and attributed to "something I ate," or "intestinal flu." In both instances, it is a fairly brief episode. (Allergy to certain foods is possible, too.)

But when diarrhea continues, it is time to look for some other cause, and amebiasis (a-mee-BY-ah-sis) is a likely suspect. This is common in the tropics and can break out in epidemics in non-tropical areas if food or water becomes contaminated with the parasite.

THE AMEBA can take from three weeks to three months after exposure before it has multiplied in the intestinal tract. Then come dysentery or diarrhea, not necessarily any fever, but abdominal cramps and sometimes blood in the stool. The ameba can migrate to the liver and cause cysts.

Some people harbor the parasite without themselves being sick — "carriers." In some southern areas as many as 10 to 20 percent of the people have been found harboring the ameba. They can contaminate water supplies, or food, through handling fruit or vegetables which in turn are eaten without being cooked. (Cooking destroys the ameba; if a water supply is of doubtful safety, boiling before drinking will protect one from amebiasis.)

TREATMENT (courses of medications which drive off the parasites) is effective, but more than one course of medication may be required.

Diarrhea is one of the problems which threatens travelers. Typhoid-paratyphoid vaccination will protect against diarrhea from the paratyphoid germ, but there is no vaccination or other preventive for amebiasis, other than avoiding the ameba.

So, particularly in tropical areas, the wise traveler uses boiled or bottled water, and eats cooked rather than fresh fruits or vegetables in areas where the ameba is common.

Regal Court Decorations Spark Annual Hospital Awards Dinner

By JEAN HAGEN
Daily News Women's Editor

Service awards were presented to 134 persons Thursday evening at the annual dinner and awards party at Community Memorial Hospital.

THIS YEAR the event assumed elegant proportions, with regal court decorations and the addition of the medical staff and board members to the roll of those being honored.

The dinner was served at 19 tables arranged the length of the third floor gallery. The 225 guests were served buffet style from a gaily decorated table in the solarium, whose white cloth studded with regal crowns at the front and centered with standing pennants, as were the small tables. A canopy over the serving window was edged with blue scallops and royal insignias.

Huge shields in bright colors, each designed with fanciful court ensembles, such as rampant lions, fleur-de-lis, etc., gold crowns and multi-colored pennants were on the walls and pillars. Chains of bright-colored paper were festooned across the windows of the gallery.

DURING the dinner hour, when nurses and other working personnel at the hospital joined the guests, music was played by Freddie Heyer, pianist, David Heyer, bass, and Douglas Wood, drums.

For the benefit of all the people in the hospital, the party began at 2 p.m. and continued through the afternoon and evening hours.

The awards program was at 7:30 p.m., when Earl W. Hagberg, hospital administrator, was master of ceremonies. He welcomed the guests and commended them for their many years of service to the hospital. Mr. Hagberg announced that new types of awards were being given this year — charm bracelets for the women, with a jeweled charm for each five years of service; diamond studded cuff links for men who had served 25 years; pocket knives for 20 years; tie bars for 15 years; the clasps for 10 years; and lapel buttons for five years. Each was engraved with a tiny emblem of the hospital building and studded with a jewel — ruby, amethyst, emerald or diamond, depending on the years of service.

MR. HAGBERG spoke briefly of the status of the building program. The new Convalescent and Rehabilitation Unit is 40 percent completed, he said, and anticipated that it might be ready for use by November or December. Mr. Hagberg said the previous night the hospital had reached a peak, when 123 adults and 14 babies were patients in the hospital and created a space problem.

"We surely could use the new facilities," he said.

He commended Miss Effie Barnholdt, assistant administrator, who was chairman of the awards dinner and in charge of decorations, for her "ingenuity and talents" in arranging the event.

LEO LaFRANCE, public relations chairman of the executive board of the hospital, talked briefly about the work of his committee and the subsequent building of the beautiful new hospital. He expressed appreciation for the program to reward the many persons who had worked many years to make the hospital what it is.

The awardees were called to the front of the auditorium in groups by Mr. Hagberg and Miss Barnholdt presented each with his gift.

Assisting Miss Barnholdt in general arrangements were Mrs. Vivian Gessell, Mrs. Alice Taylor and the Misses Aleda Boll and Joan Pust. Miss Beverly Olson was foods chairman, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Erickson and Miss Bertha Frydenlund. William Baechler was chairman of entertainment, assisted by John Taylor. Ways and means chairman was Henry Denke, assisted by Lester Johnson and Walter Timm.

Mrs. Jaycees Extend Time For Ordering ID Bracelets

Mrs. Donald Schneider, chairman of Operation Identification, announced today that the deadline for getting order blanks in for the identification bracelets has been extended from Monday to March 6. This is a civil defense project being done by the local Mrs. Jaycees.

THE EXTENSION is due to a change in the method of distribution. Original plans were to send the blanks and letters to parents by mail, but they are now being delivered to families with children ages ten years and under, by the door-to-door method.

Anyone not receiving blanks may pick them up at Ted Maier Drug or Randall's Super Valu. The project will not be repeated again for several years, and is open to anyone interested, including other communities.

The Mrs. Jaycees, in co-operation with George McGuire, head of the local civil defense unit, urge that each man, woman and child wear a permanent type of identification on the wrist for purposes of aiding authorities in times of injury, lost children, etc.

THE BRACELETS sell for 60 cents each, are made of durable stainless steel and carry any information desired, including name, address, phone, religion, medical notes, next of kin, etc.

The order blanks with the correct amount of money due are to be returned to the Mrs. Jaycees by mail to P.O. Box 354 on or by March 6. Bracelets will be mailed to each person directly from the factory.

Anyone desiring additional information may phone Mrs. Donald Schneider or Mrs. Gerald Whetstone.

In all the world no monument is more famous than Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty. Standing on an isle in New York harbor, it is the symbol of a nation that enjoys the ultimate in political and religious freedom. It is our Americanism landmark.

Since 1886, the towering statue has been the first welcoming beacon for countless thousands coming to these shores to find a better life. . . . The life of Liberty, of Freedom, the American way. The inscription on its base carries a potent message of promise as significant as the monument itself:

"Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free.
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, the tempest-tost, to me:
I lift my lamp beside the golden door."
Then, if we have in the past, may we never again take Liberty for granted . . . it wears a price tag.

Farm Boy Now Catholic Bishop

(Editor's note — The following story about the Most Rev. F. William Freking, former chancellor of the Diocese of Winona, who was installed as bishop of the Diocese of La Crosse Wednesday, appeared in the Minneapolis Tribune.)

HERON LAKE, Minn. — A team of horses raced into the Freking family barnyard here on a blizzard day in 1923. Its driver was missing.

A few minutes later, 10-year-old Fritz Freking trudged in after the horses, his face streaked with dust and sweat from hours in the cornfields.

THE HORSES had gotten away from him.

"Fritz didn't look much like a bishop then," brother Leo chuckled the other day. "But that was 42 years ago. He's changed since then."

ELEVEN OF them drove their cars and pickup trucks into town the other day to spend an afternoon at Sacred Heart Catholic Church reminiscing about the bishop.

With them came an in-law or two, an old 4-H buddy and the Sacred Heart pastor who went to college with him.

They called him a "typical child" — though a bit above average — and laughed over some of his antics.

On one point the brothers and sisters were unanimous: Fritz was destined from childhood to be a clergyman.

"WE JUST look it for granted," said brother George, who is postmaster in this town of 380, located about 185 miles southwest of Minneapolis.

"Yes," Mrs. Mary Bauman, a sister, chimed in. "The family always respected him, because we just sensed he would be a priest."

That sense was especially strong in his mother, Rose, "the most devoted member of the family, who would sometimes drag us to church by the ears."

In fact, she prayed so earnestly for Fritz to become a priest that he wrote home from college once begging her not to say (as she often did) that she would be willing to give up her life if God would make him a priest.

"HE MIGHT take you up on it," the bishop-to-be warned. But his mother lived until 1950. She died of a heart attack while staying with the bishop in Salina.

Throughout the reminiscences it became evident that this gathering was purely compared with some of the Freking get-togethers. Besides his 17 brothers and sisters, the bishop has 87 nieces and nephews and 60 grandnieces and nephews.

Twelve of the brothers and sisters still live in Heron Lake, and nine are still farmers.

"ACTUALLY, we're half brothers and sisters," a member of the family said. "Or you might call us three-quarter brothers and sisters."

HE DID the regular chores, dated the banker's daughter, played in the school band, even sneaked into the church and rang its bell on an occasional New Year's Eve.

Fritz's chores on the 1,600-acre farm included shocking grain, harvesting flax, milking cows and caring for 4-H Club calves.

Heron Lake farmer Wilbur Hartberg recalled a demonstration "Fitting and Showing Baby Beef Calves," which he and Fritz put on together during their 4-H days.

They won first place at the county fair, then headed for St. Paul and competition at the State Fair.

"On the way, though, the calf broke a horn and got touchier than the dickens," Hartberg grinned. "When Fritz was doing his part at the fair, the calf suddenly kicked a bucket clear across the grandstand."

"FROM THERE on, we had a different demonstration than we'd planned. You know, if he had stayed with livestock, he'd sure never have been ordained."

Fritz Freking also played basketball in high school, "though he was not a star," brother-in-law Bill Bauman grinned.

He told about Fritz's last game as a player. A billboard in the town barbershop called attention to the fact that this would be his final. Under the notice someone had written: "Thank God."

The ensuing years have not taken away the bishop's rural interests, according to his family.

IN SALINA, when it came time to erect a new cathedral, he had it built to resemble a grain elevator, with outside pillars looking like gleaming white storage bins.

Only recently the bishop was elected national president of the Catholic Rural Life Conference.

Not have the years weakened the bishop's ties with his family. He has attended nearly all the weddings of his nieces and nephews and has promised never to miss a family funeral, even if it is necessary to fly home from Rome.

When he was installed as bishop of Salina, the family chartered a bus and composed a song of tribute, while traveling to Kansas.

One of its verses (set to the tune of "On Top of Old Smoky") went:

"Remember this song then With faith from above We'll never go wrong with God's Bishop of love."

Wednesday, when Father Freking was installed, some 50 Frekings and former Frekings were present.

And what do they see in the future for their brother?

"Ah, we wouldn't venture a guess," brother William said.

"Of course, though," another added hurriedly. "When one of our friends first heard that Fritz was named bishop, she looked out her kitchen window and saw a cardinal."

Wesley Students To Discuss Issues With Teachers

Problems facing the church in the world will be discussed between Winona State Wesleyan Foundation (Methodist) students and college faculty members during several sessions to be scheduled.

The discussion sessions are a result of the spring planning retreat at Stewartville attended by 15 Winona Wesleyan students. Winona State president-elect, Ralph Carter, presided over the retreat at his home.

The students will continue to hold Wednesday morning Communion services and Wednesday evening discussions on the meaning of Communism. The Rev. William Hiebert, assistant at Central Methodist, will lead the discussions.

The group agreed to hold its Sunday night meetings in the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches instead of the Wesley House.

Blair Brotherhood Ends Sponsorship Of Scout Program

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Zion Lutheran Brotherhood has agreed to discontinue sponsoring the Cub and Boy Scout program in Blair.

Robert Scharlau, brotherhood secretary, said there is a lack of cooperation from the Scouts' parents.

He said Cub and Boy Scouting programs in the city require about 25 adults to serve as leaders and planners. The present list of adult workers expires the end of February.

Cub Scouts have adequate leadership and cooperation from den mothers, he said. The problem is trying to find leaders for the Boy Scout program.

Scharlau said there will be no Cub or Boy Scouts in Blair with institutional sponsorship from Zion Lutheran Brotherhood — until someone is able to organize commitment and leaders willing to work with the program.

Leiland Chetoweth has served as Scoutmaster several years.

Starting Seeds Indoors

ALTHOUGH winter is still with us in all of its tightness with cold, ice and snow, February is the last of the winter months and spring will be with us officially in about three weeks.

In going through our records for 1954 we find that the river was open and free of ice on February 28. Today's it is icebound.

Regardless of the present severe winter conditions, when spring opens up in earnest it may come upon us with a rush. In the meantime, we are starting some seeds indoors, as usual, since we like to do this about March 1. This is due in part to cold calculation and part to the spring urge which arises in the breast of the gardener at this time of the year.

To the gardener who has never engaged in this form of indoor gardening, we would suggest that it be given a trial with a few small pots of seeds, even though the principle dependence for started plants in the spring is placed on greenhouses and garden stores. The experienced gardener who makes this a regular practice each spring does not need any urging and usually follows the same procedure from year to year.

WE LIKE to start our own tomato seeds, primarily for the reason that we can have certain varieties that may not be available through the usual market sources as started plants. Some of the annual flower seeds such as petunias, snapdragons, asters and marigolds can be started now for early plants. Later in the spring after the ground has warmed up and danger of frost is over, additional seeds can be planted directly in the ground where they are to grow, for later plants.

For a potting soil, we use a mixture of one part screened garden soil, one part of sand and one part of finely pulverized peat moss. If no peat moss is available, an additional part of sand can be used instead. The soil should be light and porous, but not rich, or the seedlings will be forced too fast and will be inclined to grow spindly.

THE POTS can be filled with the soil mixture up to one-half inch of the tops and soaked thoroughly with water. This can be done in the sink. After the water has soaked away, the moist soil can be smoothed and the seeds scattered thinly over the surface. Then each seed can be pressed into the soil to a depth of about one-fourth inch with a pointed stick, or lead pencil, and the soil smoothed over. With very small seeds such as petunia and snapdragon it is necessary only to press them into the soil.

The pots can then be placed in a warm place to await germination. An examination should be made each day, or so, and if the soil seems a little dry some water should be added. Cellulophane, small panes of glass, or sheets of paper, placed over the pots will retard evaporation.

AS SOON as the first pair of true leaves appear, the little seedlings can be transplanted about two inches apart in larger pots, or in flats. If spring is delayed, the seedlings may have to be transplanted a second time.

THE DISEASE can be largely avoided by heating the soil in the oven, or pouring hot water over it, a day or two before planting the seeds. It will help, also, to scatter a thin layer of sand over the surface of the soil after seeding. There are chemical products on the market for treating the soil to prevent this disease.

Some gardeners prefer to start seeds in pure sand, finely pulverized peat moss, vermiculite, or other such materials, that are sterile and free from disease organisms.

Plant a few pots of seeds indoors this spring for added pleasure.

Dureske Smashes 713 Set To Claim No. 1 Position

Jerry Dureske, wiring 21 strikes and 11 spares, cashed a 713 series into the city's No. 1 bowling series of the season during competition in the Westgate Bowl Classic League Thursday night.

Putting on one of the season's most consistent performances, Dureske plowed 235 in his first game, fell slightly to 232 and then came back with a big 246 to claim the 713 in his third game.

The series featured 30 clean frames.

DURESKE, WHO nearly always finds a spot among the top ten keggers in the city, let nothing bother him Thursday night while competing for Hot Fish Shop.

During a round May 8, 1962, a balky fourth pin cost him a 300 game. He settled for 299, then fell to 169 and 181 for a 649 series.

But it wasn't about to happen Thursday as the 24-year-old

Federal Bakery route salesman nearly equaled the 736 output he built behind a 268 game as a 19-year-old.

After hitting 235 and 232, he opened the 246 with a spare then ran off three strikes, spared again, hit three more strikes, spared in the ninth and struck twice in the tenth.

WHILE DURESKE was on his route and couldn't be reached for comment, league secretary Lee Besek also couldn't be reached.

It is not known what average Dureske is carrying in the Classic League this season. A year ago, he ripped 167.6 in the circuit for ninth place in the city.

It wasn't the only news in

Hawks Will End League Season

RED WING, Minn. — It's been said that the two hardest places at which to win in the Big Nine Conference are Winona and Red Wing.

Tonight John Kenney's Winhawks face the unpleasant proposition of closing their Big Nine Conference campaign here against Pete Petrich's hard-charging Wingers in an 8 o'clock contest at the high school gymnasium.

IT IS A contest which coaches Kenney and Bob Lee have looked on with feelings of apprehension since the Hawks took a 64-62 victory at Winona Dec. 18.

Both Winona and Red Wing, picked as title possibilities in pre-season balloting, are out of the conference race, but the match between traditional rivals promises to be a wild affair.

"They've won six in a row," said Kenney of the Wingers. "They're coming back now."

RED WING cashed its championship hopes early by losing five consecutive conference games. Winona also is out of the race after losses to Rochester twice, Faribault and Owatonna.

"We can't point for this one," said Kenney. "We have to hope that the kids will bounce back after the Rochester (the Rockers won 71-69 last Friday) game. We're planning on winning, but we're not going to go whole hog."

In the veteran coach's estimation, the keys are holding smooth-working guards Mickey Bohmbach and Jeff Doyle in line and handling the Red Wing press.

"THEY'LL PICK us up with two guards," he said. "We have to stay out of trouble there and also keep Bohmbach and Doyle from going crazy. I think we can rebound with them."

Winhawk captain Bill Squires, who dumped in 33 points against Rochester, has an ailing back and missed Wednesday's practice session.

"We'll just have to wait and see whether he's ready tonight," said Kenney. "Right now, we don't anticipate any starting changes."

If Squires is ready for duty at a forward spot, the rest of the starters will be Tony Kreuzer and Gary Addington at guards, John Brandt at center and Larry Larson at the other forward. In the event that Captain Bill can't start either Bruce Holen or Loren Benz will fill in.

AFTER A scrimmage against Alma's unbeaten Rivermen Tuesday, Kenney cited Wednesday's practice as the poorest of the season.

"It was real bad," summed up the coach. "But the kids put out real well against Alma and probably were tired."

Winona, which will wind up its season with a game at St. Paul Monroe next Friday, will carry an 11-5 record here tonight.

Test Ramblers In Semifinals

By GARY EVANS

Daily News Sports Editor

If Rochester Lourdes feels snubbed over 57-56 and 53-52 losses to Winona Cotter, Coach Gene Biewen has no doubts about what could rub out the smudge.

"This one could make up for the other two very nicely," said the coach of the Eagles' Region Six semifinal game slated for St. Mary's field house tonight at 8:45.

In the 7 o'clock opener, Caledonia Loretto opposes Rollingstone Holy Trinity, a 56-53 first-night winner over Hokah St. Peter Tuesday.

Cotter approached the semifinal game by defeating Wahasha St. Felix 76-58 while Lourdes and Loretto drew first-round byes.

"I wouldn't say Cotter will be overconfident," said Biewen coyly. "I think those two one-point victories show just how evenly matched the two teams are. It should be a tight one."

Rambler Coach John Nett expects a close contest also. "Those two one-point victories don't mean a thing," he said. "It will take a good game."

THUS THE STAGE is set, tonight's winners advancing into the finals at St. Mary's Sunday. The consolation game between Hokah and St. Felix will be played at 1:30, the third-place game between tonight's losers at 2:45 and the championship at 4:15.

While Cotter takes a 12-8 record into tonight's game, Lourdes stands 8-11.

The Eagles' mark is misleading, however. Five of those losses came with ace forward and scoring leader Dexter Riesch out of the lineup.

With Riesch, who was bothered for a six-game span of inactivity by a partially collapsed lung, back, Biewen pronounced his team physically ready.

"It's been a long time since we've been 100 percent healthy," he said. "Riesch missed six games. He did see some action in the last Cotter game, but he still wasn't ready."

"It seems we've been shaken up all year. (Jim) Galuska missed all of the pre-season practices and the first game. Last game (Jim) Readon was out with an ankle injury. But now they are all ready."

"WE'RE AS SET as we can be," purred Biewen. "You never know until the ball game whether you are ready enough."

Ready in this case means set to ambush Cotter's fast break attack and sweep the backboards.

Defense and rebounding are vital keys to victory as far as Biewen is concerned.

"They like to get that shot early, it's important to them," he said. "We have to do something about that."

Does this mean another slow-down contest such as the 1963 holiday tournament contest that produced a 32-28 victory for Cotter?

"No, that was a case of being overmatched," said Biewen. "I don't feel we're overmatched this year. That other game was strictly a desperation measure. I don't like to play that way."

THE EAGLES' starting lineup is set with 6-1 Tom Krebsback and 5-10 Galuska at guards, 6-3 Riesch and 6-2 Larry Koshire at forwards and 6-2 Jim Readon at center. Joe Lindberg, 6-3, senior letterman, is the No. 1 replacement.

All the starters are seniors and all are lettermen except Koshire, a junior.

Cotter will keep its starting lineup intact. Mike Twomey, a sophomore, will be at center with Bill Browne and Dan Pelowski at forwards and John Nett Jr. and Bob Allaire at guards.

"It's going to take a good defensive job," said Nett. "We've got to hold down Riesch, Koshire and Galuska if we want to win. We'll have to rebound with them also."

State, Redmen Eye Finales

Warriors to Test Bemidji In Home Tilt

By ROLLIE WUSSOW

Daily News Sports Editor

His worst season of college coaching is a certainty now, but Winona State College cage Coach Bob Campbell isn't giving up this season's ghost until the game with Bemidji State is history Saturday.

The Bemidji game, scheduled for Winona State's Memorial Hall at 8:15, is the season finale for Campbell's Warriors, which has had a less than desirable year with a 6-15 record.

"I'M DISMAYED, sure," said a not-too-cheerful Campbell following Tuesday's loss to Mankato and an awareness of Saturday's game, "but we've still got this one left."

"They bombed us up there (110-65), but I see no reason why we can't give them a ticklish time here. We did it to St. Cloud, so we can do it to them."

The Beavers of Zeke Hogeland are rangy, meaty and rugged, Campbell knows it, and will arrange his tactics accordingly.

"WE'LL TRY AND play 'em somewhat like we played St. Cloud," stated Campbell. "Of course, the big thing that made us look so good against St. Cloud was our hustle and desire. If the boys have it Saturday, we can do the job."

This year's record is Campbell's worst at Winona. He had an 8-16 overall mark in 1962-63. With a win Saturday, the likable coach could boost his four-year coaching record to 37-54.

Campbell will start his four seniors and Dave Meisner, a sophomore, in the finale. The seniors, playing their final contest in Warrior purple, are Dave Goede, the squad's captain, at guard along with Meisner, Jack Kelly and Tom Stallings at forward and Dave Roseau at center.

TIM ANDERSON, J. D. Barnett and Mike Jerešek will be available for key reserve roles.

"We've split with 'em every year since I've been here," said Campbell. "I hope it continues that way for at least one more year."

A preliminary high school game between St. Charles and Rushford will take the court at 6:30 p.m.

Monroe Closes With 17th Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undefeated Monroe, Wisconsin's top-ranked high school basketball team, closed out its regular season Thursday night with its 17th victory, a 96-70 decision over Fort Atkinson.

Two other teams on the Associated Press listings of the Top Ten also added to their records.

Fifth-rated Superior East hosted its slate to 16-2 by crushing Bessemer, Mich., 104-46 and seventh-ranked and undefeated Baraboo made its record 17-0 by defeating Sauk Prairie 91-65.

New Holstein, one of the teams receiving votes but failing to place in the Associated Press poll, won its 14th against a single defeat by beating Burlington 110-94.

Monroe, which took its third straight Badger Conference championship, was led by Keith Burlington with 45 points, including 19 baskets.

State Matmen Host Panthers

State College of Iowa comes to town tonight to test Winona State's creek wrestling team in a dual meet at Memorial Hall. Meet time is slated for 7:30 p.m., with a freshmen preliminary starting at 6:30.

The Warrior swimmers, under head coach John Martin, journeyed to Bemidji State Thursday for the Northern Intercollegiate Conference swimming test which gets under way today and ends Saturday.

Coach Bob Gunner and crew will be gunning for their 12th win of the year against the visiting Panthers. The odds are difficult, however, for Winona has yet to beat SCI in the history of the two schools wrestling competition.

But this seems to be a season for such difficulties. Two weeks ago Winona tripped Mankato State, the nation's No. 1 small college team 17-13. Prior to that, Winona had never beaten a Mankato team.

Similarly, Mankato bounced the SCI grapplers quite handily 29-5 in a dual earlier this year, making Gunner's matmen an on-paper favorite to trip Coach Chuck Patten's Panthers.

"They've had a lot of injuries this year," states Gunner about the Panthers. "They were beaten by Mankato, but they beat Superior, which tied us. I don't know if their injuries came before or after the Mankato meet, but at one time this year, they had six starters out of their lineup."

TONIGHT'S MEET will be the Warriors' final one of the year before journeying to Moorhead for the conference test

—ST. MARY'S—

Auggies Stop At New Gym On Saturday

Augsburg rolls its high-scoring basketball machine into the classy surroundings of St. Mary's new fieldhouse Saturday night to furnish formidable opposition for Ken Wiltgen's Redmen in the season finale.

The game has no bearing on the MIAC standings, as the Auggies stowed away the league title — its second in as many years — two weeks ago, and St. Mary's is in fourth place.

WHY PLAY the game then? Some may ask. First, it's on the schedule, and more important, Wiltgen and his Redmen would like nothing better to cap off a bitter-sweet season than a win over what is rated the state's finest small college quint.

"Our kids'll be up for this one, there's no doubt about it," says Wiltgen, who will see his only two seniors, co-captains Mike Maloney and George Valaika, play their final games. "It's about the only recourse we have left after six losses in seven games after that great start."

Are the Redmen ready to shed all traces of their slithering tactics which saw them tumble from second to fourth in the league in that short span of time?

"I DON'T really know," echoed Wiltgen. "I think we've come out of it a little bit. If we can just hang onto the ball now."

"We'd been averaging nine mechanical errors a game, but at Duluth Monday we just went to pieces. We had 19 altogether. That cost us the game."

The main threat to the Redmen, who will be trying to boost their season mark to 17-8 — the same as a year ago — will be 6-10 Dan Anderson, the league's leading scorer, who ordinarily puts on a one-man show when turned loose with a basketball.

"HE'S THE main threat all right," says Wiltgen, "you've gotta" defense him with two men and we'll do no different." The Redmen will go with Rog Pytlewski and Valaika at forwards, George Hoder at center, and Maloney and Jerry Sausser at guards.

"They're the same bunch that's been starting the last 26 ball games," says Wiltgen. "They've been consistent all year and have done a real good job."

THE WARRIORS trounced all comers a year ago, finishing far ahead of the field, scoring 156 points to second place Michigan Tech's 63.

The Warriors have the best dual meet record going into this year's test, too. Martin's tankers are 8-1 on the year, their only loss being to Macalester.

Winona's chances will rest heavily on the shoulders of Dennis Blanchard, Frank Braun, Dick Childers and Pat Ford.

BE MIDJI IS TABBED to give the Warriors a run for their money. The Beavers of Don Palm are 5-5 on the year, while Mankato has a 6-7 mark and Tech a 3-4 slate.

Preliminaries got under way at 2:30 p.m. today, with 10 a.m. prelims Saturday and finals Saturday at 7 p.m. The only finals scheduled for today are in the one-meter diving event and the 1,650 freestyle.

Howie Schultz Will Coach Piper Cagers

ST. PAUL (AP) — Howie Schultz, former Hamline basketball great and professional baseball and basketball player, was named Thursday as Piper coach to succeed retiring Joe Hutton.

The 42-year-old Schultz, a Little All-American when he played on Hutton's first NAIA championship team in 1942, will be head basketball and baseball coach at Hamline.

Schultz has been cage coach at St. Paul Mechanic Arts High School since 1954.

Hutton, now 66, bows out at the close of the current season as one of America's basketball coaching deans. His Hamline teams were national small college powers for years, winning NAIA championships in 1942, 1949 and 1951 and making 12 appearances in the NAIA tournament the last time in 1960.

Hutton's teams compiled a record of 590 wins and 207 defeats. This year's team was the worst of his career with a current record of 2-21.

BEARS SCORE SURPRISE

Falls Escapes Roseau Upset Bid

ST. PAUL (AP) — International Falls escaped an upset trap, St. Paul Johnson ousted the darkhorse candidate and Bloomington provided the big surprise as the 21st Minnesota High School Hockey tournament opened in the St. Paul Auditorium Thursday.

The Falls, defending champion and riding a 28-game winning streak, had all it could handle in fired-up Roseau for nearly 30 minutes. But the champions tightened up and posted a 5-3 victory.

Johnson, which lost last year in the finals, pelted Alexander Ramsey, 4-2; Bloomington upended Thief River Falls, 4-2; and South St. Paul ripped Minneapolis Southwest, 4-1, to complete the first-round action.

In tonight's semifinals, Johnson takes on Bloomington and the Falls meets South St. Paul. Losers of Thursday's game played this afternoon in the consolation bracket.

Roseau, which had lost 5-1 to International Falls during the regular season, scored twice early in the third period to take a 3-2 lead. But International came back on goals by Keith Bolin, Dan Mahle and Pete Fichuk in the first seven minutes. Jim Nelson made 39 stops for Roseau, while Falls goalie Ron Beck had only 18.

Johnson and Ramsey were tied at 2-2 early in the second period, but Skip Pelletier fired in a deflection shot late in the second stanza to shove the Governors ahead for good. Johnson now is 21-0-2.

Bloomington, with only a 10-5 record this season, trailed Thief River Falls 2-0 after the first six minutes. They tied it

2-2 before the first period ended, and won on goals by Gene Carr and Dave Roddy in the third period. Monte LeMoine and John Olson scored for Thief River.

South St. Paul, now carrying a 21-2-2 record, had little trouble with Southwest. The Packers exploded for three goals in the second period and had a 4-0 lead before Southwest scored late in the game.

Thursday's two sessions attracted 16,920 fans. Finals will be Saturday night.

Hawks Sending 5 to Region 1 Mat Tourney

ALBERT LEA, Minn. — Five Winona High wrestlers will be on hand as competition in the Region One wrestling tournament gets under way here at 6:30 tonight.

Leading the Hawks will be District Three 175-pound champion Paul Erickson.

Other Winhawk wrestlers will be Len Dienger at 120, Ron Fugelstad at 133, Barry Arenz at 145 and Pete Erickson at 165.

The semifinals will be wrestled at 1 p.m. Saturday with the consolation finals getting under way at 7 p.m. and the championship matches following.

How does Dave Morocco view his team's chances?

"It's very difficult to say," he mused. "Once you get this far in tournament competition, you never know how things are going to turn out. The boys are all well-matched. It just depends on who is toughest on a given day."

Morocco rates his group with a fair week of practice. "What we have been doing mostly is wrestling and trying to keep in shape," he said. "There is not much to learn now."

Morocco rates Albert Lea and Rochester with outstanding chances for the team title.

"Harmony also could be tough with nine men in," he said. "Owatonna also could be a sleeper."

Runners-up and champions in each of the 12 weight divisions will advance to the state tournament.

Lanesboro won the preliminary 54-36.

Why It Pays to Insist On Genuine Skelgas

When you buy fuel, it is the amount of heat you get from it that really determines its value. That's why genuine
SKELGAS — the purest LP-
Gas you can buy — gives you the most for your money.

SKELGAS purity is always carefully guarded, but cut-rate, untested gas may contain impurities that prevent efficient burning. Why risk it? See us for genuine SKEL-
GAS now — every cylinder is assured full weight.
