First of 3,500 American Paratroopers Arrive in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The advance unit for 3,500 American paratroopers arrived in Saigon today. The balance of the three airborne battalions was expected within a few days.

The paratroopers are the first U.S. Army combat ground unit assigned to Viet Nam. U.S. and Vietnamese officials said they would "increase security at key installations and press the war more effectively."

Sixty men were in the advance unit. U.S. officials declined on security grounds to say when the main force would arrive. But they said they would be stationed at Bien Hoa, a big air base 12 miles northeast of Saigon, and at Vung Tau, a coastal city 40 miles southeast of Saigon.

The new arrivals comprise most of the 173rd Airborne Brigade stationed on Okinawa.

U.S. officials said the airborne contingent would bring the total U.S. strength in South Viet Nam to around 36,000 men. There already are 8,500 U.S. combat Marines in South Viet Nam.

Commanded by Brig. Gen. Ellis W. Williamson, the airborne contingent includes two infantry battalions, one artillery battalion and the equivalent of one battalion of various support units.

Stationed in "defensive roles at these installations," a U.S. spokesman said, the American paratroopers "will free Vietnamese combat troops for offensive operations."

U.S. officials announced that three new Army helicopter companies of 250 men and 25 helicopters arrived over the weekend. There are now 12 Army helicopter companies in Viet Nam, two Marine squadrons and several Vietnamese squadrons.

After being idled Saturday by unfavorable weather, U.S. jets Sunday resumed air strikes against Communist North Viet Nam.

U.S. Navy jets blasted a railroad siding and three boxcars 100 miles south of Hanoi. Groundfire was light and all the planes returned safely to their carrier.

Other American aircraft bombed suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam, including a heavy attack on a Communist-infested zone north of Saigon.

A U.S. official said there were no air raids over North Viet Nam today, presumably because of bad weather.

U.S. officials said Air Force Capt. Ronald E. Storz of Portsmouth, N.H., disappeared in a light observation plane last Wednesday and a search for him has been abandoned.

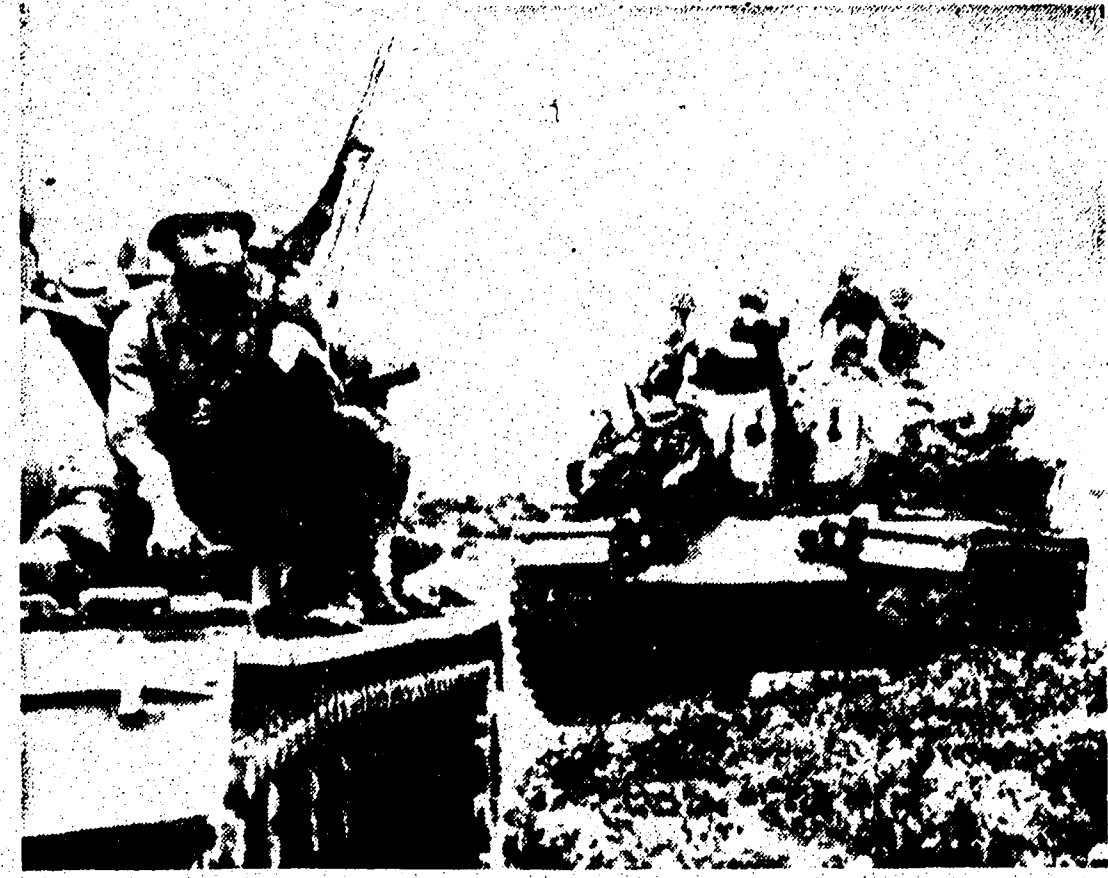

Storz took off from Dong Ha, close to the border with North Viet Nam, on a flight of about six miles. U.S. officials did not rule out the possibility that he went down in North Viet Nam.

U.S. Marine medium tanks went on their first patrol Sunday. The 52-ton M48 tanks, with Marines clinging to their sides, encountered only scattered Viet Cong fire. There were no casualties.

More U.S. Troops Sent to Dominicans

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The United States began rushing another 4,500 troops to the Dominican Republic today after President Johnson said the rebel uprising had been taken over by Communist conspirators directed from abroad.

The President's declaration that a military buildup was necessary for security on the Caribbean island, came as rebel fighters made a new attack Sunday night on U.S. troops despite the declared cease-fire.

Rebels hurled grenades at American positions and hampered away with fire from automatic weapons. The outburst lasted about an hour.

No new casualties were reported on the American side. It was uncertain whether answering fire by U.S. forces caught any of the rebels.

The Defense Department in Washington has reported two Marines and two paratroopers killed, and 21 Marines and 21 paratroopers wounded since American forces began landing last Wednesday.

Addition of the 4,500 fighting men ordered in by the President will bring the total of U.S. Marines and Army men to 14,000.

Rebel groups broke the cease-fire after American units took over the front lines from weary troops loyal to the new military junta.

Dominican Gen. Jesus de los Santos said his forces were pulled back because they were exhausted after a week of skirmishes.

The rebels charged the American troops actually were moving in on them slowly.

A U.S. spokesman said American forces were maintaining a strictly impartial attitude. He said they are safeguarding an international zone of refuge and in that sense they are in the "front line."

U.S. Marines held positions to the west of the rebel stronghold. They moved into the strongpoints from their original positions at the seaside Embajador Hotel and a neighboring polo field which has been used for evacuating refugees.

U.S. paratroopers are east of the rebels, with a defense perimeter at San Isidro air base and defenses at the Duarte Bridge, the only means of reaching the air base from the capital.

The rebels are entrenched between the two American forces in a low-income residential section called Ciudad Nueva in the southeast section of Santo Domingo. This area was the center of insurgent movements against the Rafael L. Trujillo regime and was a stronghold of extreme left-wing agitators.

The area of rebel operations reportedly covers about 15 blocks, a zone which constitutes the entire commercial section of the capital.

Among the most frequently mentioned known Dominican Communist said to be operating with the rebels are Fidelio Despradel, a leading figure in the old 14th of June Movement, a Castroite organization, and Asdrubal Dominguez, former president of the University of Santo Domingo student body.

President Johnson said in a radio address Sunday night the rebellion "took a tragic turn. Communist leaders, many of them trained in Cuba, seeing a chance to increase disorder, to gain a foothold, joined the revolution. They took increasing control, and what began as a popular democratic revolution, committed to democracy and social justice, was shorted and moved and was taken over and really seized and placed into the hands of a band of Communist conspirators."

The army leaders of the rebellion said they were fighting to return ousted President Juan Bosch to power. But former U.S. Ambassador John Hartwig Martin, in Santo Domingo in a semi-official capacity, told newsmen that he was convinced the uprising had been completely taken over by Castroite Communists.

Martin said Bosch would be heartbroken to see what the rebellion had turned into.

President Johnson emphasized that other factors were involved in the dispatch of more forces. He said food must be distributed to people who haven't eaten for days, sick and wounded must be given medical attention, and steps must be taken to avoid an epidemic because hundreds of dead have lain in the streets for days.

Anthony M. Solomon, assistant secretary for economic affairs, left Washington Sunday to coordinate U.S. emergency relief and economic efforts here.

President Johnson also sent roving ambassador W. Averell Harriman on a tour of Latin America as part of a diplomatic drive to win support for his move to prevent the Dominican Republic from turning into a second Cuba.

Johnson Warns: Don't Want Another Cuba

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — With 4,500 U.S. troop reinforcements pouring into the Dominican Republic, President Johnson pressed a diplomatic drive today to win Latin-American support for his newly announced determination to prevent "Communist conspirators" from turning the embattled Caribbean island country into a second Cuba.

"Our goal, in keeping with the great principles of the inter-American system, is to help prevent another Communist state in this hemisphere," the President told the nation Sunday night in a historic policy pronouncement.

"And we would like to do this without bloodshed or without large-scale fighting."

He declared that Communist leaders, "many of them trained in Cuba," had captured the rebel movement that began "as a popular democratic revolution."

Even as the President spoke, two special envoys were meeting with officials in Latin capitals. Other American representatives here and in Santo Domingo, center of the civil war, were working with the Organization of American States for an end to bloodshed and a Dominican future which would, in Johnson's words, be free of "Communist dictatorship."

No official here would say how long U.S. forces would remain in the Dominican Republic. The United States has told Latin-American leaders it would welcome troops from their countries. Such contingents, internationalizing the force, might mean early withdrawal of some U.S. units.

But the U.S. action in sending Marines into a Latin country for the first time in a generation has drawn sharp criticism elsewhere in this hemisphere. Johnson's special emissaries, roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and former Alliance for Progress chief Teodoro Moscoso, faced tough problems on their missions.

Johnson said the Marines initially had been sent into the Dominican Republic late Wednesday in response to an urgent cable from Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett at Santo Domingo calling for immediate landing of U.S. forces to save the lives of thousands of Americans and citizens of other countries.

Bar on U.S. Travel in Cuba Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today the secretary of state has the constitutional power to bar American citizens from traveling to Cuba.

Chief Justice Earl Warren delivered the 6-3 decision. There were three separate dissents.

Said Warren for the majority: "The questions for decision are whether the secretary of state is statutorily authorized to refuse to validate the passports of U.S. citizens for travel to Cuba, and, if he is, whether the exercise of that authority is constitutionally permissible."

"We answer both questions in the affirmative."

The court ruled on an appeal by Louis Zemel, a Middlefield, Conn., ski resort operator. He wanted to go to Cuba, he said, to become a better-informed citizen.

The State Department refused permission for the trip under a travel ban imposed in January 1961. Zemel sued, but a special U.S. District Court in New Haven ruled against him in a 2-1 vote.

Miss Kansas, 3 Others Die In Accident

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP) — The reigning Miss Kansas, her mother and two other persons were killed Sunday in a highway accident nine miles east of Emporia.

The dead: Margene Savage, 20, of Florence, the Miss Kansas of 1964; her mother, Marguerite Savage, 47; James Kaminski, 45, of Emporia, and his wife, Gloria, 43.

Injured seriously were Ray Blasche, 60, of Emporia, and his wife, Doris.

The Kaminskis were riding in the Blasche car.

Miss Savage was in a convertible driven by her mother. John Ramsey of the highway patrol said Mrs. Savage was unable to stop when another car made a left turn off U.S. 50 in front of her.

Mrs. Savage's car ran off a shoulder and skidded head-on into the Blasche car.

Spring Fever

Some doctors say spring fever is curable. Trouble is, it's impossible to find a patient who wants to get well.

European travel will broaden more than 8,000,000 American tourists this year. It will also flatten them.

Modern medicine hasn't discovered whether it's harder for a middle-aged man to mow his lawn or coax his teenage son to do it.

When a fellow says he's been wiped out and broke, he isn't necessarily referring to the market — he might mean the supermarket.

Soggy Dikes Under Pressure at Quincy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Soggy dikes held back the powerful thrust of the swollen Mississippi River in the Hannibal, Mo.-Quincy, Ill., area today as residents of other communities up and down the river waited for the worst spring flood in history to run its course.

"A flood of this magnitude is calculated to occur only once in 100 years," the Interior Department reported, confirming that the flood was the biggest on record.

The flood, which began in Minnesota and Wisconsin during March when snow began to melt, has taken 14 lives and caused $150 million damage in five states.

In the Hannibal-Quincy area, the river is on the rise again toward a predicted crest Tuesday.

Only 23 families have been evacuated from low-lying areas in Hannibal. About 100 persons have fled their homes in Quincy.

Hannibal has no levee protecting its population of 20,000. The water had begun falling in a 15-block industrial area which has been flooded for about a week and most of the streets are passable.

A broken levee Saturday night five miles south of Quincy, a city of 45,000, took some of the pressure off the Hannibal area.

After the levee break, floodwaters ran 15 feet deep across 7,700 acres of farmland. It increased the amount of land under water in Adams County, Ill., to 25,000 acres. More than 20,000 acres were covered upstream in Henderson County, 70 miles to the north.

When the levee broke, the river began receding.

The Mississippi dropped Saturday night at Quincy from Wednesday's record high of 24.8 feet to 23.5 feet. The high in Hannibal was 24.6 Friday, but it fell to 23.6 early Sunday.

The river began rising again, however, and the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a crest Tuesday of 24.7 feet in Quincy and 24.5 feet in Hannibal.

The Mississippi has been over flood stage — which is 16 feet — since April 6.

Upriver from the Quincy-Hannibal area, several small towns were hammered by the floods.

Officials feared that battered levees would not hold in the Illinois towns of Keokuk, with 963 residents, and in Hull, population 535. Most of Hull's residents have been evacuated.

Gulfport, Ill., was marked only by the peaks of roofs and treetops. The 250 residents fled two weeks ago.

Water receded at the rate of three inches an hour in the Quad Cities area of Davenport, Iowa, and Moline, Rock Island and East Moline, Ill.

Cambodia Breaks Ties With U.S.

PARIS (AP) — The French Radio said today in a broadcast from a correspondent in Phnom Penh that Cambodia has broken off diplomatic relations with the United States.

The correspondent said no official reasons were given. He speculated, however, that they included a series of frontier incidents along the South Vietnamese border which Cambodia blames largely on the United States.

The French correspondent said he understands that despite the diplomatic break consular relations would be maintained.

14 Freight Cars Derailed at Camp Douglas

CAMP DOUGLAS, Wis. (AP) — Fourteen cars of an eastbound Milwaukee Road freight train were derailed at Camp Douglas today. There were no injuries.

Two of the cars crashed into the Camp Douglas passenger-freight depot, causing heavy damage.

The derailment blocked the Milwaukee road tracks and adjacent tracks of a Chicago and North Western Railway freight line.

Cause of the derailment was not immediately determined. Crews and equipment were sent from La Crosse and Milwaukee to clear the tracks.

Lodge Visits Pope, Peace Move Hinted

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge, President Johnson's envoy on the Viet Nam question, conferred today with Pope Paul VI in a surprise papal audience that may have involved major diplomatic action.

It also was clearly more than a courtesy visit. Lodge's wife came to Rome with him from New Delhi Saturday, but she did not attend the audience, as she probably would have if business diplomacy had not been involved.

Officials declined to give details of the talks.

There had been no advance word of Lodge's visit.

Informants said Lodge and the Pope met for 20 minutes in the Apostolic Palace.

It seemed possible the Vatican's decision to impose silence about the audience indicated a diplomatic move in Viet Nam or the Dominican Republic.

Byrnes Backs Viet Strikes

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes supports President Johnson's policy of air strikes against North Viet Nam but opposes his proposal to provide $1 billion in aid to Southeast Asia.

A former member of the House and Senate, a former Supreme Court justice, an "assistant president" to Franklin D. Roosevelt, secretary of state under Harry S. Truman and a former governor of his own state, Byrnes marked his 88th birthday here Sunday. It was also his 55th wedding anniversary.

In an interview with The Associated Press he:

— Recalled some of his own difficulties in dealing with Russian leaders but counseled continued talks with them.

— Said the Supreme Court is invading the field of legislation, usurping the powers of Congress and changing the Constitution improperly.

— Called Johnson's voting rights bill "terrible" and said the eventual ruling on it would show how far the court is willing to go "in attempting to dictate the policies of government."

Here are some questions put to Byrnes and his answers on international issues:

Q. Do you support Johnson's Viet Nam policies?

A. I heartily support his statements as to his willingness to discuss the cessation of hostilities and settlement of our controversies. I am sorry that he added his willingness to have the United States contribute a billion dollars to the rehabilitation of Southeast Asia.

Q. Do you support the air strikes against North Viet Nam?

A. I enthusiastically support the air strikes. The only way we can hope to convince the war lords of North Viet Nam is by a demonstration of our power.

State DFL Opposes Sales Tax

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag said it again: He doesn't like a sales tax.

The state Democratic-Farmer-Labor convention, meeting here Saturday and Sunday, put it even stronger. A resolution asked Rolvaag, the party's leader, to veto any of the sales tax bills now before the Legislature if they are passed.

Rolvaag, addressing the convention Saturday, said he stood behind the traditional DFL position of opposition to any sales tax that is merely a "replacement" for existing taxes.

The resolution, adopted Sunday without dissent, endorsed Rolvaag's "courageous leadership" in presenting the Conservative-controlled Legislature a "responsible" budget calling for appropriations of $911 million, about $145 million more than the 1963 Legislature voted.

The resolution added that increased revenue was needed and urged enactment of the tax program Rolvaag recommended to the Legislature. It would raise $148 million in additional money, largely through increases in state income taxes and a 3 percent excise levy on new cars and trucks.

Rolvaag said his proposed tax on cars and trucks was not desirable. "Call it a sales tax, if you will," he said, adding that it was the "least regressive" of any major excise levy.

3 Escape From East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Three East German teen-agers escaped to West Berlin during the weekend, but a fourth man was shot in his bid for freedom.

West Berlin police said the youths, 15 and 16, tore through the barbed-wire obstacles in northern Berlin late Saturday.

The shooting of an East German man, estimated to be about 30, also occurred Saturday night.

DEAR ABBY:

She's Tired of Getting Advice

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am tired of reading articles on how women should "treat" men. The women are told to diet, get new hairdos, wear feminine clothes, get interested in sports, always smell fresh and sweet, and flatter a man's ego. Baloney! We women have pride, too, you know. I am a lot more attractive in many ways than most of my married friends, and I have a lot of love to give. But here I sit — starving for affection. Men are the dumbest animals in the world. PROUD IN LOUISVILLE.

DEAR PROUD: The only way to get love is to give it, and pride has nothing to do with who makes the first move. The dumbest animal in the world is the one who has a bale of hay in front of him, but starves to death because he's too proud to eat it.

DEAR ABBY: I had better prepare you for a problem you never had before. Our 19-year-old daughter is getting married next month and we are giving her a church wedding with all the trimmings. I hope you won't think we are terrible, but my husband and I have never been married legally. We have lived together common law, but no one knows this. I know I will feel guilty in that church when my daughter is being married if my husband and I don't get married before she does. My husband says I should forget it as this state recognizes common law marriage and, besides, it is too much red tape. I'd like your opinion. NOT MARRIED

ABBY

DEAR NOT: It will be worth the "red tape" which, in reality, is "mending" tape. Talk to your clergyman about a quiet ceremony for you and your husband. And don't worry about shocking him. He's heard everything.

DEAR ABBY: I recently flew from Florida to New York just to see "HELLO, DOLLY." I had purchased my tickets six months in advance. The play was everything I had anticipated, but a man sitting behind me knew the entire score and he sang along with every number. It was maddening.

The next evening I paid $5 to see "MY FAIR LADY." I had never spent that much on a movie in my life. Would you believe it, Abby, again a man sitting behind me sang all the numbers with the cast. That this happened two nights in a row was really too much. Won't you please say something in your column to silence such songbirds? MARION

DEAR MARION: With pleasure. Now will everyone who knows the score please refrain from voicing it?

CONFIDENTIAL TO BETTE S.: You are right. I have yet to come across a "new" problem. All the problems people face today can be found in the Bible, complete with their solutions — if only people were wise enough to read and heed.

WHS Cast Putting Finishing Touches On Class Play

Cast and crews are completing final preparations for the Winona Senior High School senior class play, "Lily, the Felon's Daughter."

The melodrama, originally scheduled for this weekend but postponed because of the flood, will be staged May 10 and 11 in the school auditorium. All tickets bearing the original dates will be honored, however.

The play will be presented in the broad style of the old-time melodrama, according to Warren C. Magnuson, director.

Members of the cast are as follows: Jane Sheets as Lily Fairweather; Linda Burstein as Betsy Fairweather; John Hoelt as Compton, Betsy's son; John Hueblich as Jonas Fairweather;

The appointment was made by Prime Minister Harold Wilson and made public in a special announcement from No. 10 Downing Street, the prime minister's residence.

The appointment is for life and cannot be inherited by any member of her family.

Bullets Hit Parked Car; Shed Entered

Vandalism to a car and a tool shed break-in were under investigation today by Sheriff George L. Fort, he reported.

The vandalism occurred Saturday night to a car owned by Donald Frisch, rural Minniska. He reported to Sheriff Fort Sunday at 8:43 p.m. that he had parked his car Saturday night about a mile south of Minniska on U.S. 61.

When he returned to the car, Frisch reported, he found three bullet holes in the windshield, the right door glass shattered and damage to the seat covers. He set no damage estimate on the vandalism. Frisch said the car was unlocked when he returned to it and its engine wouldn't run.

The break-in was reported today at 9 a.m. by Edward Blattie, foreman for Joyce Construction Co., Rochester. Blattie said that a tool shed belonging to his company, on Highway 248 at the foot of Straight Valley Hill, was broken into over the weekend.

The burglar took an acetylene tank, an oxygen tank, cutting torches and regulators, a 7/2-inch porter cable, electric saw with case, a box of carpenter's tools and an engineer's level. No values estimate was made on the stolen articles.

Sheriff Checks Two Crashes

Two one-car accidents Sunday in the county caused $350 damage but no injuries, Sheriff George L. Fort reported today.

The most costly accident occurred Sunday at 12:30 p.m. on U.S. 61 at Dresbach. Joseph P. Monahan, 1069 Gale St., was driving north on U.S. 61 when he came suddenly to the cross-over from the two-lane to a new four-lane section of the highway.

Monahan applied his brakes and skidded 120 feet, turning completely around, before rolling backward to a stop in the divider ditch of the four-lane segment. A tire on the Winona man's car blew out, causing a further loss of control, according to the report written by investigating deputies Elroy Balk and Vern Spitzer.

Damage was $250 to the front end and undercarriage of the Monahan car. It was the second accident in four days at the Dresbach site under similar circumstances.

The second Sunday accident occurred at 2:15 a.m. at the intersection of U. S. 14 and County 118.

Lawrence W. Hilfinger, 22, Chicago, was driving east on the highway when he lost control on a curve to the north. Hilfinger's car traveled 66 feet on the east shoulder of the curve, 52 feet in the east ditch and came to rest against the guard railings along County 118 at its intersection with the highway.

Deputies Balk and Spitzer investigated. Damage was $100 to the left side of the car.

Youth Charged After Deputies Break Up Party

Sheriff's deputies broke up a beer party on Brook's Hill Saturday night and charged one youth with being a minor with beer in possession, Sheriff George L. Fort reported today.

Three juveniles were apprehended among the eight youths involved, according to the sheriff's report. Paul L. Stoltz, 18, 265 Vine St., was charged with buying the beer for the party, thus violating the state law against minors having beer in their possession.

Stoltz pleaded guilty to the charge today at noon in Goodview Justice Court and paid a $25 fine and $5 costs imposed by Justice Lewis E. Albert.

Sheriff Fort explained that only one individual can be charged when a group is caught in the circumstances of last Saturday night. Deputies Vern Spitzer and Elroy Balk apprehended the youths.

Hail Stones Cause Isolated Damage

By RUTH ROGERS
Daily News Area Editor

Hail falling in a wide area of Winona and Fillmore counties this morning inaugurated the spring storm of the season. Hailstones ranged from "bigger than baseballs" at Elba, to "golf-ball" and "egg size" at Lanesboro, Rollingstone and Altura, down to "big marbles" at Plainview.

Rushford and area got some "walnut" size; Dakota had hail, too.

The first report came from ROLLINGSTONE about 8:15 a.m. DST. On the Archie Melcher farm the golf-ball size stones broke 10 window lights on the west side of the residence. Melcher lives on Oak Ridge about 18 miles west of Rollingstone.

The storm struck at Elba about 7 a.m. CST. Hail fell just a few minutes, followed by light rain, wind and thunder and lightning. No windows were reported broken in residences, but glass over hotbeds was shattered and tulips were pounded into the ground. The hail came from a "yellow cloud" moving in from the southwest and the wind and rain from a black cloud moving swiftly overhead.

The stones were described as "ragged and hard." Cars moved under trees to escape denting.

Hail fell about 10 minutes in the area of the Melcher farm and from there to the Francis Speltz place 1 1/2 miles west of Rollingstone and easterly toward the village. Hail as golf balls broke windows on the Speltz farm but apparently didn't hurt the livestock outside. Melcher described the hailstones as soft.

Five storm windows were reported broken on the Raymond Lehnertz residence, Rollingstone.

In LANESBORO hail started falling about 7:05 CST and continued about 10 minutes. They were hard, pelting geese and other birds. They ran back and forth, frightened.

The golf-ball size hail fell for 10 or 15 minutes at ALTURA between 7:30 a.m. but there was no report of damage, although home owners were checking their roofs.

The sky at PLAINVIEW early this morning was described as "awfully black," which was general throughout the area, even where hail didn't fall. The hailstones, coming from a yellow cloud that headed toward town, were the size of marbles and fell for about 10 minutes beginning at 6:40 a.m. They covered the ground. Hail also was reported to have fallen north of Plainview.

Heavy rain and an electrical storm followed the hail.

The wind was so strong that a squirrel, chasing a leaf in a back yard, was caught in it and pushed around until the blast subsided.

RUSHFORD apparently didn't suffer from the storm of short duration, even tender petunia plants weren't damaged. Later in the forenoon, Rushford expected the brief electrical storm and rain that hit Winona about 10 a.m.

Some of the hail which fell at Dakota and on North Ridge today at 8:45 a.m. DST was still on the ground at noon.

Damage appeared to be slight, with a few early gardens getting the brunt. Apple trees, just beginning to bud, are apparently unharmed. Hailstones were about the size of hickory nuts, observers said.

A few television antenna guy wires were snapped by high winds accompanying a heavy rain. The major weather disturbance lasted about 20 minutes.

The storms appear to have covered a comparatively small area. The HIGHLAND area near Rushford had no hail at all, and Lanesboro was struck by only the one storm while Winona had two heavy rains.

At ST. CHARLES clouds looked threatening but only a good rain fell.

LEWISTON escaped hail but some fell south of FIREMONT. The Lewiston area from several miles of town to west of Utica seldom gets hail, residents said.

Melcher said, "If I had had screens on my windows, but I leave storm windows on all summer; they keep my house 15 degrees cooler."

He said no crops were hurt; many have been seeded but nothing is up because of the late spring.

He predicted another dry summer; he says they come in cycles. The rain this morning was needed, he added.

A L I T H O U G H TREMPER, LEAU and BUFFALO counties were warned of thunderstorms by the Weather Bureau, they got nothing severe. Rain fell in a light thunderstorm.

Rochester Youths Face Theft Count

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — Two young Rochester men were to be arraigned in Wabasha this afternoon on charges of purse snatching.

The Wabasha County sheriff's office said Richard Wegman, 18, and Duane Adler, 19, were seen taking the purse of Miss Eileen Mertan, Rochester, which she left on a table at the American Legion Club dance at Millville Saturday at 10:30 p.m. Jerome Ryan, deputy in charge of the dance, said he saw the act and took Wegman to the Wabasha County Jail. Adler was to be apprehended at Rochester this morning by Everett Lorenz, Wabasha County deputy.

Donald Singer Trial Postponed

The scheduled trial of Donald Singer, 21, Minnesota City, on a charge of burglary with a tool was delayed today in District Court.

County Attorney S. A. Sawyer said that the youth might appear Monday afternoon in the court. His trial had been scheduled to begin today at 9:30 a.m. CDT before a District Court jury.

Singer pleaded not guilty to the charge April 19 on his arraignment in District Court. He is accused of attempting to burglarize the vending machines at Fibertite Corp., 515 W. 3rd St., Feb. 28. He was bound over to District Court on the charge after a municipal court hearing and is held in county jail in lieu of $3,000 bond.

Attorney Dennis A. Challen is Singer's court-appointed attorney. A conviction could bring Singer the maximum penalty of 20 years in prison or a $20,000 fine, or both.

The Wabasha County sheriff's office was notified Sunday at 9 a.m. by Melvin Domke, Hammond. Deputy Robert Laechler investigated.

Pekrul died instantly of a crushed chest, according to Dr. B. J. Houquet, coroner.

Mr. Pekrul was born Oct. 10, 1904, at Rice Lake, Wis. He married Louise Robison Egan

Car Rolls Away At Wabasha; Children Hurt

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — Two small children of Mr. and Mrs. Larry McGraw of White Bear Lake were injured Sunday while visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGraw, Wabasha.

At 9:30 a.m. Peter, 3, was in the car belonging to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry McGraw, which was parked in the driveway. The emergency brake was set. The McGraws were preparing to go to 10 a.m. church.

Peter somehow released the brake. The car started moving. He jumped out and got behind the car. A front wheel ran over his left shoulder and arm, and he received facial cuts.

His brother, Chuck, 5, playing ball in the yard, saw what happened. He tried to hold the car back by grabbing the door. It opened and struck him. He was shaken and bruised.

Mrs. Dan Foley and son, living nearby, took them to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where their condition is satisfactory.

The car traveled backward about 100 feet and almost into the Mississippi River. It had been parked off Lawrence Avenue.

In November 1927 she died in 1947. He had lived previously at Waterloo, Iowa, and had been here and in this area the last seven or eight years.

Survivors are: One son, Arthur A. Waterloo, Iowa, one stepson, Harry W. Egan, Menomonie, Wis., one stepdaughter, Mrs. Arnold Jensen, Barron, Wis., three half-sisters, Katharine and Mrs. Charles Bell, Racine, Wis., and Mrs. Robert Klaus, Downers Grove, Ill., and six half-brothers, Theodore and John, Racine, Arnold, Barron, Raymond, Elk Mound, Wis., Orville, Rice Lake, and LeRoy of the U.S. Army.

Sweazey Lake Pump Handles Seepage Flow

A 10-inch pump, operating at Sweazey Lake since Friday, is becoming increasingly effective, the city engineering department said today.

Its effectiveness will be raised as the level of the Prairie Island ponding area to the north continues to fall below that of the lake. At present, they are approximately equal. The Prairie Island pond was recorded at 16.23 today and was draining rapidly into the river whose elevation was 15.75 at the dike gate.

OTHER INTERIOR pumping has slackened as the overall situation continues to ease. Capacity of pumps at Harvester Street and Crooked Slough levee is well above the collection rate of seepage and runoff water at this point.

At Lake Winona, the elevation reading today was 1 of a foot lower than that of Saturday. Today's level was 7.73 feet. Three pumps were running today at the outlet, where water still was four feet above the lake height at 11.9 feet.

Cropping up again was the problem of sewer collapses. A sanitary main on Howard Street, just east of Lafayette Street, gave way Saturday afternoon. A hole about two feet in diameter appeared in the bituminous pavement while beneath that was a pit about four feet deep and about seven feet in diameter.

Emergency pumping was begun, in which the sanitary main's flow was lifted to the adjacent storm sewer main. Engineers are expected to build a bypass arrangement shortly which will return the flow to the sanitary system rather than conducting it to storm sewers where it will discharge in Lake Winona.

A SIMILAR situation exists on West Bellevue Street, between Sioux and Dakota streets, where a sanitary main collapsed three weeks ago.

Engineers said high seepage content could have contributed to the collapses, either through hydrostatic pressure or by dissolving the subsoil base and allowing pipe sections to drop out of alignment.

Radio Stolen From Car on Prairie Island

The theft of a portable radio worth $50, dogs running loose in the weekend's summery weather and a reported theft of two $500 lighting units that turned out to be no theft at all occupied city police over the weekend, Chief James W. McCabe reported today.

William Wissman, 4430 8th St., Goodview, complained to city police that his 10-transistor radio with brown leather case was taken from his car Saturday between 8:30 and 9 p.m. while the vehicle was parked on a road near the Dam 5A spillway. Police are investigating.

Chief McCabe said that his department had caught four or five dogs running loose Sunday and had received many other complaints of dogs at large. The city ordinance providing that dogs must be kept on a leash or confined in a fenced yard will be enforced, the chief said.

Joyce Construction Co., Rochester, entered a complaint that two of their portable outdoor lighting units had been stolen from outside the Chicago & North Western Railway roundhouse sometime between Saturday and Sunday night. The 750- and 1,000-watt units were valued at $500 apiece.

A police investigation showed that the units had been picked up by patrolling police, who feared they might be stolen if left in the open. The lighting units were returned to Joyce at the city garage.

Galesville Well Project to Cost Total of $116,000

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — Papers have been signed and work will proceed on a new city well, equipment and extension of mains at a cost of $116,000.

The well and pump house will be on land purchased by the city from Leon and Douglas Sack. The concrete block building will be about 200 feet from Highway 35 in the vicinity of Schilling Electric plant. The structure will include a meter testing room.

FIRE NEAR GALESVILLE. GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — Some five or six acres of grassland on the Emil Lisowski farm in Fox Carlee of the Big Tamarack Valley burned Saturday. Galesville firemen were called at 5:35 p.m. to put out the blaze, which crept dangerously close to the woods.

STREET CRATER . . . Reuben Bolderman, 111 E. Howard St., looks at a hole that opened in the street in front of his house Saturday. A collapsed sanitary sewer main was at fault. The pit was about four feet deep and seven feet across at the bottom. (Daily News photo)

The club presented a gavel to its auxiliary, the Lioness Club. Accepting it for the Lionesses was Mrs. Lawrenz, president.

English was master of ceremonies.

One-Party Service Asked in Northfield; Hearing on May 20

WHITEHALL, Wis. — The Public Service Commission of Wisconsin will conduct a hearing at the courthouse here May 20 at 9 a.m. on application of Tri-County Telephone Cooperative, Inc., Strum, to provide-attended automatic, one-party service in the Town of Northfield.

The estimated cost is $197,400. The exchange now is magneto and was purchased from Northfield Farmers Telephone Co. under commission approval.

The commission believes this exchange will be the first in Wisconsin to have all one-party service.

More Showers Seen for Week

The hailstorm that pounced on areas around Winona early today missed the city but left 24 of an inch of rain.

The storm broke an early May heat wave which saw a new record of 90 set Sunday.

Private Water Test to Resume Next Monday

Testing of private water supplies, discontinued during the flood emergency, will be resumed next Monday, the Winona department of health said today.

The department's facilities have been occupied to the limit in testing city water supplies, officials said. During this time no additional tests were possible.

Private supplies in the city's lower areas should be tested, the department advises, but certain procedures should be followed.

Before a private well is tested, it must be disinfected according to instructions available at the department's City Hall office. Well owners may pick up bottles for water samples at the office beginning Thursday, but samples will not be accepted until Monday and then only after chlorination of the supply has been done.

A $1 fee will be charged for each test of a source within the city limits. Each source tested outside the city will require a $5 fee.

Hearing June 7 On Melrose Plan To Purchase Dam

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. — A Public Service Commission hearing will be held at the Jackson County courthouse here June 7 at 1:30 p.m. on application of Lutz Feed Mills, Inc., to sell the Melrose dam on Douglas Creek to the village of Melrose.

On April 9 a hearing was conducted on application to abandon the dam, but was held open to study the effect improvements in the upstream watershed would have on the proposal.

The estimated cost is $197,400. The exchange now is magneto and was purchased from Northfield Farmers Telephone Co. under commission approval.

The commission believes this exchange will be the first in Wisconsin to have all one-party service.

Garland-Herron Marrying May 16

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — People are always asking me how I get all my scoops . . . I guess it's some kind of genius I was born with.

Judy Garland was at a party at The Brown Jug with her beau Mark Herron . . . I congratulated her on being booked back in New York after four years, at the Forest Hills Music Festival . . . then I said, just like mentioning the weather:

"Do you have any interesting new law suits?" "I'm getting my divorce May 14," Judy brightened. "I'm finally getting rid of him" (that would be Sid Luft).

"So when are you getting married to Mark?" I asked. "Depends on the gentleman," Judy jerked a thumb at her escort.

Several drinks later, while leaving this gay party, I said to Mark Herron, just a stab in the dark, and remembering the May 14 divorce date, "I hear you and Judy are getting married May 15."

"May 16," he corrected me. "It takes a couple of days."

"Here in New York, I suppose?" I said. "I thing in Juarez," he said. I just hope they remember they gave me this exclusive story!

NOEL COWARD and Sir John Gielgud were at this party — for Vivien Leigh — the guest who wasn't there — because she was in England — after a screening of "The Ship of Fools" — and I asked Noel how he was — a ridiculous question, I admit. "Me," he twinkled. "Oh, I'm as merry as a grave."

Jane Russell's here for the WAIF National Leadership Conference at the Summit — but hurries back to LA for a dinner honoring her football-hero husband Bob Waterfield. . . . Roger Smith bought Swedish cuties at a 5th Av. store for Ann-

Margret's birthday — he canceled a TV show here Sunday to join her back on the coast since she found she couldn't visit him here. . . . Les Crane and his divorced wife Eve met at the new discotheque, "Our Place," which he's sponsoring and she's decorating. They kissed. . . . That was quite a celebration for "The Subject Was Roses" at Sardi's (winning the Dramatists' award). Jack Albertson and Irene Dailey recalled that the show had a $162 advance — EW was the only B'way columnist who attended the opening. Miss Dailey, Dan's sister, had been in 13 flops before, and had worked most of her life as a waitress trying to sustain herself as an actress. Bravo!

LUCINE AMARA, the opera star, is plagued by telephone pests who don't talk to her — they only breathe heavily. Paychecks bounced — and the whole cast of a highly experimental new Show Biz idea is protesting to the union. . . . Connie Francis will remake "Girl Crazy" in Hollywood. . . . A recent murder victim may have been killed by spies. He did World War sleuthing for his government.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bobby Goldsboro lives so far out in the suburbs he has to take a bus to get a cop.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A sure way to insult your wife is to say you love her cooking — because it makes it easy for you to fight the temptation to overeat. — Hugh Allen.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "If you have charm, you don't need anything else. And if you don't have it, it doesn't matter what else you have." — Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: Marriage, claims Milt Kamen, is when a guy gets billed for the times he coed.

A fellow complained that he was married 15 years ago by a Justice of the Peace: "And I've had neither justice nor peace ever since." . . . That's earl brother.

Independence Begins Salvation Army Drive

INDEPENDENCE, Wis. (Special) — The annual Salvation Army drive opened Saturday and will continue through May 22, Mrs. Inga Jahr, chairman, said.

The Independence committee consists of Mrs. Otto Sprecher, treasurer, and Mrs. Jahr. The committee may help in emergency relief of disaster victims; provide clothing, food, fuel, meals and lodging for transients; give aid for minor hospitalizations; provide nutritional aid for school children, and perform other humanitarian services.

Cease-Fire in Rann of Kutch

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — An unofficial cease-fire prevailed in the Rann of Kutch today, but India and Pakistan had more than 100,000 troops stretched along their frontiers.

No formal truce has been announced. It appeared, however, that both sides were content to let the guns remain silent until monsoon rains flood the barren desert a couple of weeks from now, making further fighting impossible.

India and Pakistan have been hostile neighbors since gaining their independence from Britain eight years ago.

Prince Came Near To Getting 'Tight'

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II's husband says he came very close to getting tight during his eight week tour of Asia and Australia.

In a radio interview Sunday, Prince Philip told of attending a banquet in Borneo and being offered a harmless-looking drink.

"It tasted very good," said the prince. "I had two tumblers of it."

"I could hardly walk afterwards."

The spectacle gave his hosts "immense pleasure," he added.

TB Unit Cites Mrs. Spencer

Mrs. Milton L. Spencer, 649 Clark's Lane, an active member of the Winona County Tuberculosis and Health Association since 1920, received the Southeast regional award from the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health Association at its annual meeting in Rochester Saturday.

Members of the Southeast regional advisory council of the state TB and health association nominated Mrs. Spencer for this award because of her many years of volunteer service to the Christmas Seal organization. She pioneered in tuberculosis control and health programs in Winona county, the group pointed out.

Mrs. Spencer was one of three Christmas Seal volunteers in the state nominated to represent their counties in the state contest for the title of Minnesota's outstanding senior citizen. She is both president of the Winona County TB and health council and a member of the Southeast regional advisory council.

Mrs. Spencer is one of seven volunteers in the state who received regional awards at meetings Saturday.

Mark Twain published a successful book that contained, according to a biographer, "not a single word that critics could praise or condemn." His brainchild was a "self-pasting scrapbook" with gum-coated blank pages.

Monitor Story Praises City Flood Fight

WINONA received nationwide recognition for its fight against the rampaging Mississippi but one of the best stories to come out of the flood was written by Howard James, staff correspondent for The Christian Science Monitor, published in Boston.

That widely-circulated and highly respected newspaper carried the Winona story under an 8-column headline which read "How a City Won Its Fight to Hold Back the Flood." When Reporter James visited Winona to cover the flood-story, he was taken on a tour of our defenses by Roger Brosnahan. Pictures taken by James were used on the front page of his newspaper. Here is the Monitor's story which appeared April 23:

WINONA, MINN.—This is a city that fought hard — and won.

Day after day, night after night Winona has been struggling against the Mississippi River. Now the water is going down, inch by inch.

The battle began on April 8, when the City Council voted to try to hold the river back. Four local contractors were called in — one that builds houses; two plumbing firms; and one with experience in road building. Each was assigned a section of the river.

The Minnesota State Employment Service found men. The contractors hired trucks and heavy equipment from as far as 100 miles away. An Army Engineer training film was brought in from St. Paul to show them how to build dikes with sandbags.

IN TEN DAYS the workers threw up an eight-mile barrier and kept the water out. Had they failed, two-thirds of this city of 25,000 would now be under water.

The cost? No one knows. But it must be small compared with the flood loss that might have been. For the Mississippi climbed nearly eight feet above flood stage.

Mayor Rudy Ellings, who went home for the first time Tuesday night since the fight began, said the city may spend $2.5 million. But the loss could have been ten, even 20 times that amount.

This is the first city to really hold the muddy river back as it hits all-time highs in its rush southward. The people are proud of their efforts.

They have good reason to be.

BOUNCING ALONG the top of the dike with Capt. David Lueck in a National Guard jeep you can see this is one of the best efforts so far. Perhaps the best.

On one side the river, swirling; filled with debris collected upstream as it ran through cities and farms unchecked. On the other, the town, several feet below.

Trucks still roll by, for the danger will last for days. Dikes must be reinforced.

Floodlights have been spotted every few feet for the nightwatch. National guardsmen and civil defense communication lines provide instant contact with the emergency headquarters in the basement of City Hall.

The dikes are measured off in numbered sections like a football field, men are responsible for various sections. Should help be needed, the number can be radioed or phoned in, and trucks and men dispatched in minutes.

City Engineer James W. Baird has the entire system carefully mapped.

WHEN THE RIVER backed up through the storm drains, pressure tossed off a manhole cover and sent water spurting higher than house-tops. It was quickly capped. Then Goodyear Tire Company flew in a crew from Akron, Ohio.

A call went out on the local radio station, KWNQ, and in minutes a deep sea diver was found. He worked his way into the manhole in a diving rig and inflated a large balloon-like rubber bag. It held the water back.

In spite of this, a thousand persons were asked to leave their homes — just in case.

When the Mississippi began backing up into Lake Winona, where some of the city's finest homes are found, Mr. Baird quickly devised a flood lock and pumping station system. This, coupled with a dike, lowered the lake level to normal height — 11 feet below the river.

Roger Brosnahan, assistant city attorney, said the city hopes to get back most of the money it is spending, now that it has been declared a federal disaster area.

If we don't, we're in trouble, he said.

Red Influence On the Campus

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Communist influence on the campus in American universities and colleges has increased so substantially in recent months that it now has become an important factor in the organizing of student demonstrations.

The Communists have actually profited by the "free speech" doctrine which, through Supreme Court decisions, has been given preference over the right of the American people to be protected against speeches on the campus inspired by members of alien organizations that are financed directly or indirectly by the Soviet government or its agents in this country.

The most outspoken comment on the whole subject from the educational world has just come from Dr. James M. Nabrit Jr., president of Howard University here, which is one of the leading Negro institutions in the country. He explicitly blamed on "external disruptive forces" the recent unrest at the Howard campus. He said in a statement:

"They are people who cloak themselves in the mantle of civil rights and plot and plan in secret to disrupt our fight for justice and full citizenship. They must be unmasked for the frauds they are. They must be fought in every arena, and they must not be permitted to prevail."

AT A NEWS conference later, Dr. Nabrit said he was referring to an organization which had backed a campus demonstration. Dr. Nabrit stated that on one occasion he saw two known Communists in the student group's picket lines. He noted that the demonstrations thus far have been within university regulations, but he warned that he would not "sit idly by and see the university become a place of lawlessness and disorder."

It is surprising that the House Committee on Un-American Activities has not exposed Communist participation in various demonstrations. Maybe this is due to sensitivity about possible criticism that the committee was perhaps trying to discredit the movement for civil rights. Actually, it is fully understood that the Communists are by no means the originators of the civil rights controversy or of the use of street demonstrations of protest. Yet there have been instances in which these same demonstrations have been pushed to extremes through communist influence. And it is this which can hurt the cause of civil rights, especially when idealistic students are brainwashed by Communist organizers.

THE COMMUNIST party in this country is beginning to work more and more out in the open. Originally its members were ordered to register with the attorney general under the internal security act of 1950, but court decisions during 1964 on some sections of the law were considered so favorable by the communist party that its leaders now feel there is a good possibility that all the provisions of this act will be nullified. For this reason, the Communists are optimistic of the future of their party and are beginning to speak out with the same defiance that was characteristic of them in the past.

Although the Communist party has for years been trying to hide its connection with the Soviet Union, it nevertheless announced that it would send a delegation this year to Moscow to participate in an editorial conference there on the international Communist movement.

Leading members of the Communist party are encouraged by the vast number of invitations they are receiving to speak at universities and colleges throughout the country. These give them the opportunity to spread the party line, obtain recruits, and promote their claim that the communist party is just another political party on the American scene. The Communist leaders say they are receiving from colleges more requests to speak than they can possibly fulfill.

CONGRESS CAN, of course, revise the existing statute and make it more specific, as certainly a legal distinction can be drawn between political parties which operate solely within this country without aid from abroad and those which have a direct connection with a foreign government.

Senators Cut Down Cigarette Warnings

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — On the same day that Ed Murrow, famed CBS broadcaster, died of lung cancer, the Senate Commerce Committee finally okayed a watered-down bill to require a health warning on cigarettes, thereby preventing others from dying of lung cancer.

Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., whose husband died of cancer, authored the bill. It was trimmed down a bit by Sen. Warren Magnuson, from the rival state of Washington, who smokes cigars, not cigarettes.

Magnuson's changes were love pats, however, compared with the strange roadblock proposed by a congressman from the Panhandle of Texas, Walter Rogers of Pampa, Rogers has introduced a bill which would prevent the Federal Trade Commission from exercising its duties under the law of regulating cigarette advertising.

Just as Ed Murrow was dying, the gentleman from Pampa, Tex., was pushing his bill to prevent the Trade Commission from trying to keep others from dying.

THE PUBLIC don't know it, but Rogers has a strange record for a congressman who lives so far away from Madison Avenue. When the big advertising agencies on Madison Avenue want a job done in Congress they seem to gravitate not to a Manhattan congressman but all the way down to Pampa, Tex., where Rep. Rogers dutifully goes to bat for them.

Once before when the Federal Communications Commission got aroused over misleading, distasteful TV commercials used by Madison Avenue and was about to regulate the vast unregulated television industry, Madison Avenue reached down to Pampa, and Rep. Rogers rallied to its defense. He introduced a bill forbidding the FCC from regulating TV commercials.

Another interesting sideline of Rep. Rogers is preventing recreation areas, far distant from Texas, from being developed.

LAST WEEK, Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, plus Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., led an army of outdoor enthusiasts along the Chesapeake and Ohio canal to emphasize that this waterway, originally proposed by George Washington, be preserved.

They would better have marched to the office of Rep. Rogers of Pampa, because he is the man who has blocked a bill to make the C & O Canal a national park.

Another Texan, now in the White House, has been the big promoter of canals all the way from Texas to the Mekong River in Viet Nam. As president, he has ordered the restoration of the C & O Canal. But the other Texan from Pampa has done his best to block its becoming a park.

With President Johnson turning off unnecessary lights in the White House, the taxpayers will be happy to learn that military light bulbs are now under the "consolidated management" of the Navy. This leaked out when Rep. Dan Flood, D-Pa., demanded to know at a closed-door appropriations meeting if the military had "stabilized the problem" on light fixtures and lamps.

"TWO YEARS ago somebody bought enough light bulbs for 1,000 years," declared Flood. "What do you do about bulbs of different wattages? And what about the bulbs of all wattages and all colors? Are they bought like hamburgers?"

"I remember the case you speak of," replied Vice Admiral J. M. Lyle. "I presume the transfer to us for integrated or consolidated management was the result of that criticism by the General Accounting Office. Yes, we have the bulbs. We have them under consolidated management. I hope by the time we check the next time there will not be 41 years supply."

"I hope you get your hopes," observed the congressmen from Pennsylvania.

Behind the refusal of President Johnson to join some of his cabinet in taking an indirect potshot at Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon for being critical of LBJ's Vietnamese policy is an ancient understanding between the onetime senator from Texas and the present senator from Oregon.

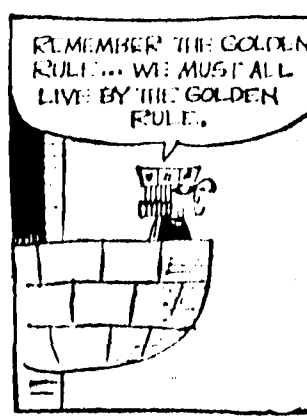

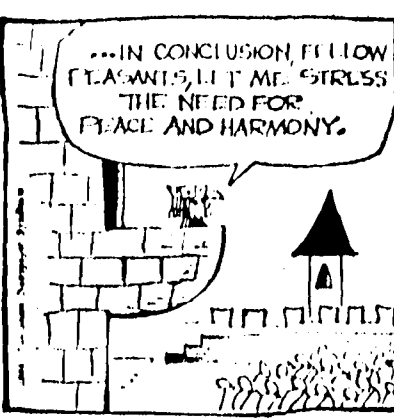

They have battled vigorously in the past, still do, but have a genuine respect for each other's convictions.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Star Performers Promise Drama

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Two of Washington's star performers promise a drama that could be a spectacular. It has money, politics, status and above all, the clash of conflicting personalities so seldom seen in Lyndon Johnson's consensus corral.

Adam Clayton Powell, Harlem's sensational gift to politics, and R. Sargent Shriver of the Peace Corps, the war on poverty in all its ramifications, the Neighborhood Youth Corps, Vista, Community Action, etc., have already played one scene. It was a great success. Cracking humor of the Broadway variety enlivened a hearing of Powell's House Education and Labor Committee on the poverty war.

Powell had mounted an attack on the Community Action of the poverty program. He dropped in a headline phrase — this was "fiesta politics." And he marched his own supers, witnesses from several cities who complained that they had been left out of the operation while old-line pals were taking over, across the stage.

But something went wrong with the supporting cast. Members of his committee who had done the spade work of investigation in a series of fast forces around the country gave favorable reports on the program.

REP. SAM M. GIBBONS (D., Fla.) said he had taken soundings at Atlanta, Durham, N. C., and Miami. He found progress being made in each instance without undue interference by political grabbers. A similar report came from Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins (D., Calif.), the second Negro on the committee, who had looked into the operation in West Coast cities. While Republican members of the committee are not happy with the program, they gave Powell little aid and comfort.

As Shriver, runner-up for hardest-working man in government, noted the funny thing was that while Powell complained of "political fiestas," he argued that the program was puny and should be doubled at least. This raises the question of motive. The flamboyant Powell is not a performer who believes in art for art's sake.

It happens that in his own bailiwick of Harlem there is a going anti-poverty program known as Haryou-Act. The charge is that Powell exercises political control over Haryou-Act, putting his own people in key spots and subjecting them to his orders. Although both Powell and the Haryou-Act people deny the charge, reports persist of a close communion between the Powell office in Washington and the agency that with a small Federal grant has made a gallant initial attack on Harlem's desperate poverty.

NEW YORK is one of the few metropolitan areas that has not come up with a list of those ready to form a Community Action group. Without such a list approved by Shriver's office the city can get no funds for this phase of the program. Obviously, a new program would be a rival to Haryou-Act. It might indirectly enhance the political power of others and put Haryou-Act in the shade.

This might be motive enough for Powell to try to throw a spanner in the works. But a more subtle motive has been suggested by Dr. Kenneth B. Clark, professor of psychology at the City College of New York in his forthcoming book, "The Dark Ghetto." Clark, who also came out of Harlem, broke with Powell and left Haryou-Act over political interference.

He gives him high marks for his part in the past fighting for civil rights. But then to explain the hold he exerts over the poor jammed into the Harlem ghetto he writes:

"IN HIS flamboyant personal behavior Powell has been to the Negroes a symbol of all that life has denied them. The Negro can in fantasy journey with Adam to the Riviera, enjoy a home in Puerto Rico, have

What to Do for Bad Feet

By J. G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner, I read a letter in your column from a woman thanking you for what to do for aching feet.

If you have the time to read this, my feet would cramp after wearing high heels all day at the office. For some years I did not work, and had little occasion to wear high heels and had no foot problems. Now I wear mid-heels to the office, changing to low heels at night. This helps some, but not much.

Here are some psychological experiences which I cannot understand but they might interest you. When I retire at night (my feet never cause trouble during the day) usually the first thought that enters my mind is whether my feet will cramp. Immediately when the thought occurs, my toes start curling up. Some nights the thought does not occur and I have no pain at all.

Now this is really an idiotic experience, but two or three years ago a friend told me, "If you put your shoes under the bed upside down, your feet won't cramp." I scoffed but tried it. Believe it or not, it worked for several weeks — until I began forgetting to put the shoes upside down. Then I started again, but it never worked so well after that. — MRS. L. E.

Physiologically a cramp is a spasm of the muscles. High heels do, indeed, put day-long strain on the muscles. When you go to bed you abruptly alter the pattern of strain. It is THEN that the tired muscles rebel and go into spasm.

If you think about it — expect a cramp — you become more tense, hence more chance of the cramp. It's a striking example of "mind over matter," and many of us have our own peculiar forms of tension. Some people blush, some stammer, some are "all thumbs" if they try to hurry, some get tension headaches. To each his own odd troubles!

The locus-pocus of the upside down shoes evidently worked because you hoped it would work, and for a time it succeeded in relaxing you. It relaxed you for as long as you half-way expected it to do so.

Massage of foot and calf muscles before retiring may do much to avoid the cramps.

beautiful girls at his beck and call, changes wives "like rich folks." Powell plays the role the Hollywood star may for whites but even more powerfully, for added to the magic and glamour of personal fame is the excitement and virtue of defiant racial protest.

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — A total of 97 graduates of the former St. Charles High School Teachers Training Department, plus guests honored the founder of the department at a luncheon April 24 and presented her a plaque on the 50th anniversary of the opening of the school.

Miss Hattie Boyd started the training school in 1915, and continued as head of it until it was discontinued in the late 1940s. The annual reunion of the alumni of this school was held in the activity room of the high school, women of Faith Lutheran Church serving.

Among the guests were four 1915 graduates — Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. Eugene Barr, Mrs. Leon Persons and Mrs. Stewart Clarkson. There were greetings from others, including Mrs. P. Knoblock, the former Madge Foster, now of Birney, Mont., who sent a tape recording, and Mrs. Darwin Morrill, Mrs. Wendell Colson and Mrs. Lloyd Heim.

Original poems from the first class were read. Miss Alice Hanson, chosen this year as one of the 10 outstanding teachers in the state, former instructor here, was among the honored guests, plus Harold Hayes, St. Charles, former superintendent here, and Winona County Supt. ## Mondovi Council Names President MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — Two new members were seated on the Mondovi City Council at the reorganization meeting Tuesday night. James Lightfoot, 1st ward, and Harold Zittel, 2nd, were elected April 6.

Frank J. Bauer Jr. was elected president of the council.

Re-appointments by Mayor Gaylord Schultz, approved by council, were C. R. Nelson, park board, five years; Fred Dillon, zoning board of appeals, three years; Wesley Holden, planning commission, five years and Dr. David B. Johnson, health officer, with Charles Brenner and City Clerk Joseph Peterson serving on the board of health.

Charles Giese, civil defense director, reported approximately 185 men from this area helped control the flooding Mississippi River. They responded to a call for help with diking at Fountain City. A busload of volunteers went to help save the streets.

Giese asked council for assistance in getting men to take the CD shelter manager's training course. This is an important part of the CD program, he said. The council decided taverns may remain open an additional hour, until 1 a.m., during Daylight Saving Time.

George Weiss received a contract to handle police and fire calls. The telephone company will transfer equipment from Colby Funeral Home.

Mrs. Harold Doerge, president; Mrs. Orville Erickson of Chatfield, vice president, and Mrs. James Goodrich, secretary-treasurer.

SURPRISE, CHARLEY! ... One of Osseo's senior citizens, Charley Amundson, didn't now he was the subject of an oil painting until Mrs. James Pettis put the finishing touches on his portrait while recuperating at Osseo Area Hospital. Copied from a newspaper picture, it is an excellent likeness of a man who is an artist himself, noted for making violins and church furniture. (Mrs. Jann Peterson photo)

Surgery Patient Paints Oil Portrait During Recovery

OSSEO, Wis. (Special) — While recuperating from surgery in the Osseo Area Hospital, Mrs. James Pettis put the finishing touches on an oil portrait of a well-known senior citizen here, Charley Amundson. She had started the portrait from a newspaper clipping. The likeness was so great her painting caused quite a stir among hospital employees.

SINCE TAKING a few hours training in an adult art course offered a year ago at Augusta High School, she's done seven portraits — six in oil and one, water colors.

Portraits have been painted from pictures only so far, but she has live subjects when she gets around to them — two sons, Joel, 5, and Jeff, 10; two daughters, Jane, 17, and Mrs. David (Judy) Hageness, 20, Strum, and a 3½-month-old granddaughter, Kaylynn. Mother, housewife and artist seems like a busy schedule for anyone, but this is only part of Mrs. Pettis' routine.

EIGHT YEARS ago she started working at Sacred Heart Hospital, Eau Claire, as a nurse's aid on the nightshift, 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. This allows her to be with her family until they go to bed. She sleeps from the time she arrives home until 2 p.m., then gets her work and hobbies under way.

Lovlien and Briggs were dressed in appropriate costumes. The response for the guests was given by Mrs. Iver B. Olson. The committee in charge of the party included the Mmes. William A. ## Eleva PTC Elects Officers, Hears Talk on Delinquency ELEVA, Wis. (Special) — New officers for the 1965-66 school year were elected at the last meeting of the Eleva Parent-Teachers Club Monday night. A talk was heard on juvenile delinquency.

THOSE WHO will serve are: Emil Matson, president; Keith Anderson, vice president; Mrs. Richard Palmer, treasurer; Mrs. Chester Knudsen, secretary. Mrs. Everett Walde will act as program chairman for the September meeting.

During a short business meeting, members voted to have Room Mothers for each grade, to be appointed in the fall. The annual school picnic will be May 29.

Mrs. Viola Lauterbach gave a report on the gym equipment purchased with PTC funds. A chinning bar, balancing beam, and a pommel horse have been added to the gym.

THE STRUM Strivers 4-H Club presented two numbers in a novelty act. This club won a blue ribbon in both county and district competition. Mrs. Noble Kleven is director of the group.

Pupils from the fifth and sixth grades also entertained with square dances.

Miss Virginia Thompson, probation and parole officer from the State Department of Public Welfare, spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency — Its Prevention."

MISS THOMPSON has been with the district office at Eau Claire for the past year. She told of specific examples of three types of juvenile delinquents with whom she had worked; the neurotic delinquent, the social delinquent and the accidental delinquent. The neurotic delinquent is aggressive, always striking out at people and circumstances. It is the most difficult type to deal with, she said. Help usually must be obtained from a pastor or priest, a social worker or the Guidance Clinic, she said.

The second type of juvenile delinquent, social, is usually pushed into delinquency, Miss Thompson said. The parent says, "You're going to get into trouble," and the child usually does. To some, especially boys, it seems a mark of prestige to have been in a reformatory, Miss Thompson believes.

These juvenile delinquents affect the same set of values as the gang or group with whom they travel. This type of delinquency is easier to treat as the problem is solved when the juvenile finds someone he can respect to identify himself with.

dren; lack of respect for parents, over-emphasis on money, and inconsistency of parents (parents threatening children and then not carrying out their threats.)

"If you are concerned about any problems with your children, don't be afraid to seek outside help," she said.

Legislature Has 3 Weeks Of Work Left

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Legislature, under attack today from an outspoken college president, moved into the last three weeks of the 120-day session today with a sales tax discussion set for an evening committee hearing.

Meanwhile, the president of St. Cloud State College directed barbs at both the Legislature and Gov. Karl Rolvaag.

Dr. George Budd, addressing a parents' day convocation at St. Cloud State Sunday, said not nearly enough of the state's wealth is being invested in higher education. He urged parents of the students to do some lobbying on behalf of their children.

"Our only hope at this late hour," Budd said, "is that public opinion will be so strong in supporting the state colleges that further cuts will not be made in our budgets."

Dr. Budd expressed disappointment in Gov. Rolvaag's budget. The budget, Budd said, doesn't include nearly enough to accomplish goals set by the governor.

Budd said enrollment at St. Cloud State is nearly as high this year as the total enrollment for all five-state colleges—10 years ago.

The Senate made a big push Saturday to clear its decks for the major legislation coming up for attention in the final weeks of the session. The upper house passed 26 bills Saturday and gave preliminary approval to a dozen measures which are up for final vote this week.

Counting bills reported in from committees Saturday, this still left the Senate with a backlog of 79 measures ready for debate. Included on the list were such debate-provoking proposals as a bill to grant school districts permanent immunity from negligence suits, to revise the unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation laws and two Sunday closing proposals.

Sen. John Zwach of Walnut Grove, the Senate majority leader, said after the session that he was confident the Legislature would be able to finish its work and go home on time.

Final day of the 120-day session under the law is May 24. The House was not in session Saturday.

Among bills sent to the Senate from committee Saturday was a proposal to create a new air and water pollution control

Refunding the bonds saved the school district $48,000 over a period of 22 years. The original bond issue in 1957 was for $600,000 at $3.67 percent interest.

First National Bank, Minneapolis, is escrow agent. Financial consultants are Ehler-Mann & Associates, Inc., Minneapolis.

The other two bids: J. M. Dain & Co., Inc., Minneapolis, and First National Bank, St. Paul.

agency to replace the present Water Pollution Control Commission.

Sen. Gordon Rosenmeier of Little Falls called the present commission impotent and said that without a change Minnesota may not be able to share in a new $380 million federal fund for water pollution control.

The commission was defended by George Scott of LeSueur, a commission member, who said it has done a good job with appropriations available to it. Among bills sent to the governor was one to appropriate $50,000 to the State Executive Council for use in connection with recent floods.

Bills passed and sent to the House included two to broaden the aid to the disabled program so as to make an additional 18,000 persons eligible and make it possible for the state to receive an added $8 million in federal funds.

Included among proposals given preliminary approval were proposals to make it possible for some business men—who must do business with school boards—to serve on such boards, and authorizing a turkey promotion and research program to be financed by turkey growers.

3 Jail Escapees Caught in Church

OSHKOSH, Wis. (AP) — Three jail escapees were captured in a church balcony Sunday night. A fourth was seized walking nearby only 24 hours after the group used a smuggled hacksaw blade to flee the Winnebago County Jail.

Sheriff's deputies burst in on the three in the church as they were sitting down to a supper of potato chips.

Sheriff Marvin Peppeler said the men had apparently selected the Lutheran Church at Zion, a hamlet seven miles west of here, as an overnight hiding place.

A tavern owner's tip led to the capture shortly before midnight. None of the four resisted the officers.

Seized were Roy W. Holland, 23, and Thomas Hoppe, 22, both of Oshkosh, and Thomas A. Zimmerman, 21, Appleton.

Millville Woman Hurt

She was approaching a curve on County Road 81 four miles west of Kellogg when she met a car approaching in the center of the highway. In trying to avoid the other vehicle she lost control and went off the right side of the highway, hitting two trees. Damage to the front and left of her 1963 car was estimated at $300. She was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, treated and released.

She was a member of Grace Lutheran Church. He never married.

Survivors are: His father, Winona; his mother, Mrs. Leon Brownell, Peplin, and one sister, Mrs. Henry (Thyllis) Meier, Prairie du Chien.

Friends may call at St. John Lutheran Home, Alma, this afternoon and evening and at the church Tuesday after 1 p.m.

SEATO Talks Begin, Peace Route Sought

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson opened the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's ministerial conference today with a call for "an honorably negotiated settlement" of the war in South Vietnam.

He appealed for the same sort of settlement of the explosive Indonesian-Malaysian dispute.

"Both situations constitute a serious threat to peace and both urgently need to be ended," the British leader said.

Wilson said the countries of Southeast Asia, once colonial but now independent, "should be left alone to follow their own path toward peace and freedom."

"Independence means more than freedom from British rule or from the rule of any other former colonial power," said Wilson. "It means freedom from aggressive outside interference."

Britain is supporting the new Federation of Malaysia against Indonesia. Wilson pointed out that the British government has more soldiers in Southeast Asia today than any other non-Asian country.

Grain Terminal Suit Ends With Default Judgment

A default judgment was entered in one civil case, another was passed to the foot of the jury calendar and a third was scheduled for trial today at 1:30 p.m. as Judge Arnold Hatfield instructed the petit jury panel today in District Court on their general duties as jurors.

Clerk Joseph C. Page said that judgment was ordered in favor of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association, plaintiff in a suit for collection of a $1,152.60 debt allegedly owed them by Francis Eustermann, Uica.

PAGE reported today that Eustermann had withdrawn his answer in the case and that Judge Hatfield ordered a default judgment entered after Farmers Union proved up their claim with the testimony of Lester L. Olsen, Roseville, Minn., their credit manager.

The law firm of Kaner & Devitt represented Farmers Union. Eustermann was not represented by counsel.

The $15,000 damage suit of Andrew Blasko, 470 W. Broadway, on behalf of his son Daniel, was scheduled for trial by a jury today at 1:30 p.m. (COT) in District Court.

The suit arises out of an accident on Broadway at Grand Street July 2, 1963, in which the Blasko youth allegedly received a skull fracture when his bicycle collided with a car driven by defendant John A. Schuth, 706 Gilmore Ave. The owner of the car, Herman A. Schuth, is co-defendant.

The law firm of Bremher & McMahon represents the Blaskos; the firm of Moonan & Senn, Waseca, Minn., represents the Schuths.

THE CASE of Warren Betsinger, La Crescent, against Marigold Dairies, Inc., 121 E. 4th St., was passed to the foot of the jury calendar. This means that the case will be tried late in the present term of court, if it is tried this term at all. The April term ends about the middle of September.

Youths Fined For Wire Theft

Three Winona youths pleaded guilty in Goodview justice court to charges of petty larceny in connection with the theft of barbed wire from an Altura store April 24, Sheriff George L. Fort said today.

The sheriff said that he apprehended David Wagner, 25, 427 E. 4th St.; Richard Vondrasek, 21, 716 E. 4th St., and Clarence Hemmelmeyer Jr., 20, 467 Grand St., late last week and charged them with the theft of two spools of barbed wire worth $20 from Altura Hardware April 24.

The three youths paid $25 fines and $5 costs imposed by Goodview Justice Lewis E. Albert.

The wire was taken from a platform outside the store about 11 p.m., according to a Wednesday report from the store's operator, Kermit Gatzlaff.

The youths put it in the trunk of Vondrasek's car where it remained until Tuesday, according to the sheriff's report.

Then they took it out to Wagner's uncle, who operates a farm south of Minneapolis, and offered it to him. The uncle, Harvey Wiskow, told the sheriff that the youths told him they had bought the wire for $5 a roll (Gatzlaff valued it at $10 a roll) and would give it to him free. They left the wire at the farm.

Highway Heads In Western Wisconsin Cited

MADISON, Wis. — The Wisconsin Highway Commission has sent letters to highway commissioners of 15 western counties in commendation of their extra efforts during the flood.

Each highway department is specifically praised by C. E. Aten, chief maintenance engineer, "for the commendable job done in your county in attempts to preserve our state highways and to minimize serious water damage wherever possible."

"The willingness of your labor force to spend long hours in dike construction, traffic direction, immediate repairs of damage and continuous surveillance of threatened structures is recognized and deeply appreciated."

Further, the cooperation extended to Highway Commission personnel "in all phases of the current flood situation" is cited by Aten as "an example of how effectively our state-county relationship can and does work."

The letters were sent to the commissioners of Barron, Buffalo, Burnett, Crawford, Dunn, Grant, La Crosse, Pepin, Pierce, Polk, Rusk, St. Croix, Trempealeau, Vernon and Washburn counties.

G. H. Bakke, commission chairman, briefly summarized the situation in one short sentence: "The winter and spring of 1964-65 will go down in history as the most disastrous highway year on record to date."

Counties and communities are requested "to keep the most complete and accurate records of all related costs on which to base claims for damage assistance." Bakke noted later that pictures of damaged areas will be particularly helpful in substantiating claims.

Trempealeau Co. Cancer Unit Maps Plans for Activity

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — At a meeting of the Trempealeau County Cancer Society Thursday night at the courthouse in Whitehall, it was reported that $1,008.94 is available in the expense account.

The sum of $761.80 has been received in the current fund campaign.

A total of 1,500 place mats was printed and distributed to night clubs and churches in the area, bearing information about the society. The envelope system of soliciting funds was discussed. It was decided that the better way is to have a responsible person take the envelopes from house to house rather than to have them passed neighbor-to-neighbor. Crusade chairmen are to be reimbursed for the money they spend for gasoline for travel.

MRS. JOHN Skroch, Arcadia, reported on the educational projects. The projector owned by the county unit has been repaired, she said, and response to cancer films shown throughout the county has been good. The projector and cancer films are available for county schools and organizations. The textbook, "Biology Experiments," will be ordered for each school in the county. Mrs. Ernest Sobotta, Independence, will be education chairman.

Mrs. J. O. Gilbertson, Whitehall, service chairman, reported 1,000 cancer dressings have been distributed. Anyone needing cancer dressings may have them free of charge. Colostomy bags will not be provided cancer patients. Mattresses for cancer patients are being purchased.

Prosper Schank read the certificate of authorization for the county chapter.

The budget committee will meet June 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. William Thomas, Frenchville, county fund campaign chairman.

Mrs. Robert McGorty, Chippewa Falls, field representative, said a budget must be set up for each department of the society. She said a booklet is available answering the question why the American Cancer Society will not participate in united funds.

A NOMINATING committee appointed to choose officers for the coming year is comprised of Bernard Wood, Frenchville, and Judge A. T. Twesme and Dr. C. B. Moen, Galesville.

Next society meeting will be a picnic, with husbands and wives and guests, at the home of Mrs. G. M. Wiley, chairman of volunteer workers, Ettrick.

Mrs. C. A. Brye, Ettrick, is publicity director for the southern party of the county, with Mrs. Kathleen Knudson, Whitehall, for the northern part.

Modern Ranch With Cape Cod Look

By ANDY LANG

The quaint charm of a Cape Cod has endured through the years. While some changes in interior design have taken place in this style of house during the last decade, the exterior has remained basically the same, since any radical alteration in its outward appearance would destroy its traditional appeal. The latest House of the Week seems to be a typical Cape Cod. A covered portico with graceful arches, small dormers, red cedar shingles and low, open fences are among the visible features which give it that look.

BUT IT'S not a Cape Cod at all. On the inside, it's actually a ranch house! Here's how this distinctive arrangement came about:

Architect William B. Chirgottis was told by a husband and wife that they wanted to buy a Cape Cod house, but soon discovered that they couldn't find one with all the rooms on the first floor. They wanted at least three and preferably four bedrooms, with a laundry area that could be entered from the side or rear. Their plight sparked Chirgottis into the creation of Design H-81, a house with a ranch interior and a Cape Cod exterior.

Instead of a second floor, this house has a low attic of the kind that can be utilized for storage, if necessary. In that event, one of those disappearing stairways could be easily be located in the bedroom hallway to the left of the foyer.

THIS WOULD be optional, because the plans call for a full basement suitable for all the storage any family might need. Incidentally, a two-car underground garage is located next to the basement and would be entered either from the side or the rear of the house, depending on the size of the lot and personal preference.

All the conveniences of modern ranch design are included

DECEIVING FACADE: Don't be misled by those dormers and the over-all structural appearance of this elegant house. It's not a two-story Cape Cod, but a ranch with all the rooms on one floor. (P.S.—those are false dormers.)

FLOOR PLANS: A good traffic pattern here. Note, for example, how the family room can be entered from the living room, dining room combination, from the kitchen-dinette, from the side entrance and from the rear patio.

Permit Drawn After 2 Weeks

The first building permit to be issued here in more than two weeks was drawn at the city engineer's office last week for a home remodeling job.

It was taken by Jerry Brang, 525 Laird St., for interior remodeling to be done by Bruce McNally at an estimated cost of $1,100.

Also issued was a permit to Robert Pellowski, 1206 W. Mark St., for dismantling a frame building.

The total valuation of permits taken this year is $1,167,080, compared with $1,289,174 at the same date a year ago.

Last year at this time there had been 18 permits for new houses written. Three have been drawn through April this year.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Keeping Crabgrass Under Control

AFTER the lawn has been renovated and fertilized, the attention of the home owner can well be directed to the control of crabgrass. This noxious grass, or weed as it may be called, when present in considerable numbers greatly detracts from the appearance of the lawn, especially if viewed closeup. There is nothing that will set a home off to such good advantage as a fine looking lawn blended in, of course, with attractive trees, shrubs and flowers.

Once the trees and other plants are established, they usually do not require a lot of attention, except for cultivation and some fertilization, some pruning to keep them within bounds, and spraying, or dusting, as may be necessary. Such work can generally be done at opportune time at the convenience of the gardener.

On the other hand, the lawn requires considerable attention throughout the growing season, much of which is demanding. There are several things that can mar the beauty of a lawn such as lack of proper mowing, insufficient water and fertilizer, and the presence of crabgrass and other weeds as dandelions, dock and plantain. Of these weeds crabgrass is often the most troublesome, since through its seeds it is so insidious and persistent in its growth.

CRABGRASS is a rather broadleafed annual grass, the seeds of which may lie dormant in the ground for several years. The seeds are usually present in more or less numbers in practically every lawn and when the conditions are right they will sprout. Therefore, several treatments with proper chemicals may be necessary to rid a lawn, in large part, if the infestation is heavy.

The seeds do not usually germinate in quantities until the arrival of settled warm weather, but some may sprout much earlier, if the conditions are right. The crabgrass plants grow fast during hot dry weather while the good grasses are handicapped by the heat. Each plant will form a tough spreading growth that will crowd out nearby grasses. The old plants which bear the seeds in the summer and fall die when the cold weather arrives in the fall, since they are annuals.

ASIDE FROM hand digging, there are two methods of controlling this lawn pest by the use of modern chemical compounds. First, the practice known as pre-emergence control which means the application of chemicals that kill the seeds as they germinate. The second is the post-emergence plan involving the use of chemicals that will kill the plants after they appear in the lawn.

Since the pre-emergence chemicals should be applied in the spring, we will take up this method only at this time. The chemicals are applied to the surface of the soil early in the season so the crabgrass seeds will be killed as they sprout. These chemicals must come in contact with the soil and are best used as dry materials. These chemicals are largely based on arsenical, or chloro-dane, compounds.

THERE ARE a number of pre-emergence crabgrass killers on the market under various trade names that will do a good job of control. They are scarcely 100 per cent effective, but will greatly reduce this pest. A treatment now and another one about the middle of June should give good control for the season.

The directions on the container should be read carefully so you will know what the contents are supposed to do. Some of them will kill the desirable grass seeds as they sprout, as the crabgrass.

Since the chemicals that kill crabgrass are all poisonous, the directions on the container should be followed very carefully, and the contents kept out of the reach of children.

The control of some other lawn weeds will be taken up later on.

Blair Firemen Save Farm Home

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Blair-Preston firemen were called Wednesday at 5:15 p.m. to the Jerome Magnusson farm, two miles west of here, to extinguish a chimney fire. The firemen arrived just in time, Fire Chief Agnus Olson said, because the blaze had reached the attic. Several damaged beams will have to be replaced. In a matter of minutes, the whole structure would have been on fire, he said.

Milk Strike Ends, Others In Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minneapolis milk strike ended today, but a strike began against a farm implement manufacturer, and a walkout was threatened against Minneapolis area new car dealers.

An official of Teamsters Local 471, which struck at midnight Friday to cut off milk processing and deliveries to more than 20 creameries, announced settlement of the wage dispute early today.

Secretary-Treasurer Len Fahlin said the agreement followed an eight-hour session with Vernon Buck, assistant state labor conciliator. Details of the pact will be disclosed after a membership ratification meeting Tuesday night, Fahlin said. Meanwhile, pickets were pulled from the creameries and the union urged members to return to work this morning.

The union negotiating committee unanimously voted to recommend acceptance of the new contract, Fahlin said. Milk supplies were becoming scarce in Minneapolis stores as the strike ended. Some restaurants ran out too.

The strike had begun when Local 471 rejected the creameries' offer of a base pay of $125 a week for drivers. The walkout involved 700 retail milk truck drivers, 150 wholesale drivers and 300 inside production workers.

At 11 p.m. Sunday, 1,350 members of four United Auto Workers locals struck the Minneapolis and suburban Hopkins plants of Minneapolis Moline. Union officials said production, maintenance and clerical workers were involved.

Representatives of labor and management indicated, meanwhile, that a strike of Minneapolis area new car dealers could result Tuesday. Negotiations between Teamsters Local 974, representing 1,250 mechanics, and the Minneapolis Auto Dealers Association have continued for months over the contract which expires tonight.

Howard Fortier, local secretary-treasurer, said the main union demands were for a substantial across-the-board increase in hourly pay, 10 cents an hour for pension and hospitalization fringe benefits and an increase in the flat-rate incentive system.

Building permits for two new houses and two additions to existing structures have been issued by Goodview Village Clerk Henry C. Elmcke.

House permits went to Al Vatter or NBC Homes, Winona, for a new frame house at 4145 7th St., and Robert Young or NBC Homes for a house at 650 46th Ave. Estimated cost of each is $9,500.

A permit to construct a concrete block addition to an existing structure went to Donald Kohner, 5242 6th St., and Duncan Green, 830 4th St., obtained a permit to build a frame addition and enclose a porch at that address. Estimated cost of Kohner's addition is $1,400, while that of Green's is $2,050.

BILL MERRILL'S
Something to Live By

With the newspapers and airwaves filled with the talk of astronauts, moon shots, and next the stars, it seems we are in a make-believe world and direct descendants of a comic strip at that.

When I was a boy, I used to read a comic strip called "Buck Rogers." There was a plot — the good guys and the bad guys — but the fascinating thing was a very futuristic aspect of air ships, faraway places and at that time, at least the layman in the field of air travel figured it was all for kicks, and few people took it seriously. It just didn't seem realistic, and as far as we knew, it wasn't.

THE CHARACTERS in this funny paper strip would travel from place to place by rockets strapped to their shoulders. Now one wonders if in time for one's birthday, say at the age of 14, it won't be considered proper to give an individual his own personal set of rockets. Which, I'm sure, will open a whole new world of activity and problems as folks blast off from place to place.

Young minds seem to be kept alert to the times of space as they learn the terminology through such present-day comic strips as Chris Welkin, Planet. Fascination is built on speculation as to what will be found in the far-off places that today are considered actual targets, such as the moon. Comic strip writers produce strange creatures from their heads, pointed ears, and some weird faces.

I've been thinking, Buck Rogers, it seemed, back in the 30's wasn't so far wrong. I'd hate to think that our present-day comic strip writers were calling the punches on the kind of people if any, are to be found in the great unknown. However, it isn't likely that any humans found on other planets could be so weird. For all that we don't understand how all of the far-away planets are established, peoplewise, if there are people, our God put them there, and in that we were created in His image, I question that other people would get less of a break from the Creator.

DO YOU suppose the reason the author of Buck Rogers wrote as he did in a comic strip could have been just to serve as an outlet? I'll bet if the truth were known, he really believed these things were possible, for the most part, but probably was hesitant to forward such ideas publicly in a serious vein. People would have thought he was off his rocker, as the saying goes. So, perhaps he just contented himself in writing in these veins for the amusement of his readers. Whatever the case, it's no joke.

People expect to go to the moon, and it seems once again it's a case of the good guys and the bad guys, as we are in a race to get there first, as it is now believed those that rule the moon will rule the earth unless, of course, the good Lord comes first.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Success Without College Difficult

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., University of Southern California

Not planning to go to college? If you are one of the many of this year's high school graduates who feels that college is not for him, my advice to you begins with a simple statement — Get started at something. You don't have to wait until you have your whole life planned and have decided what you ultimately wish to become. You may never reach such a decision if you just sit and wait for it.

Get some kind of job. Don't be too fussy. On any job, you will be getting some all-important experience.

Whatever you do, prove yourself to be a dependable worker. And look around to find ways of preparing yourself for a better job.

Don't get the idea that teenagers are being discriminated against just because it is hard to find the right kind of an opening. The problem is that there are just more of you than ever before.

AT THE SAME TIME, there are also more training programs available. These are what you must look for.

While the college student headed for a profession has his plans laid out for him for the next four to seven years, you must make your own plans. It is just as important that you continue to learn as it is that the college student continues to learn.

Success in today's competitive labor market hinges directly on your willingness to keep learning something new and thus be ready to make the necessary adjustments as job requirements change. Keep studying, whether at home, on the job, or in night school.

TOP-RANKING commercial artists, machine operators, photographers, secretaries, plumbers and over-the-road truck drivers make salaries ranging up to $8,000 or $9,000 with no college training.

Apprenticeship is one of the surest ways to get the background training that will carry you to the top. While apprenticeship training is associated with electricians, machine workers, plumbers and carpenters, such training is also available in service fields, for autos, industrial machinery, office equipment and on and on into such fields as the theatre.

For information about apprenticeships, write to the Department of Labor, Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, Washington, D.C. 20210.

If you are interested in business or secretarial fields, you can help your chances and at the same time improve your background of skills by taking a course in these fields in a junior college or a business school.

FOR INFORMATION regarding business schools, write to United Business Schools Association, 1518 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005 for their current directory.

Although college training does prepare a person for professional jobs with more security and, sometimes, higher pay, it no more guarantees success on a job than does a high school diploma.

Always, success depends upon the individual's own planning and effort.

Twins One Baby Short of Doubleheader Chisox Sweep

CHICAGO (AP)—The Minnesota Twins were one baby short of a doubleheader sweep over the Chicago White Sox Sunday, and you can blame Mrs. Killebrew.

Sunday was the day Mrs. Killebrew's husband, Harmon, was hitting one home run for each new addition to his family, and by some misfortune, there was only one.

It was Killebrew's first home run of the season and Mrs. Killebrew's fifth trip to the maternity ward.

The home run, plus a 10th inning double by the slugger, gave the Twins a 3-2 win over the White Sox in the first game of the twin bill. The Twins could have used another four-bagger in the second contest, which they dropped by a score of 5-4.

Killebrew said the homer was for "my new baby daughter, Erni Elaine." The baby was born Saturday at Ontario, Ore.

While the Killebrews were contributing to the population explosion, manager Sam Mele was combing his bull pen for someone to get the White Sox out. He sent five hurlers to the mound before the Twins pulled the first game out of the fire, and used three more in the second outing.

Jim Kaat pitched creditably in the first contest, but was trailing 2-0 when he was lifted in the seventh. He was followed by Gerry Fosnow, Mel Nelson, Johnny Klippstein and Bill Pleis, with Pleis getting credit for the win.

Johnny Romano and Ron Hansen hit solo homers to give the Sox their early lead. Killebrew's circuit clout came in the eighth after Rich Rollins beat out a single. Zoile Versailles started the 10th with a single off reliever Bob Locker, and Killebrew brought him across with a double to left field.

A huge crowd of 42,367 saw the Sox come back for the nightcap victory on homers by Floyd Robinson and Don Buford. Robinson belted his in the first inning and Buford slammed his two-run shot off starter Dave Boswell in the third to give the Sox a 4-1 lead.

The Twins chipped away but never caught up. Killebrew's sacrifice fly in the eighth plated Tony Oliva with the final Minnesota run.

Chicago's decisive run came in the seventh, when Ken Berry doubled and came home on a single by Danny Cater. The Sox outlived the Twins, 10-6, in the second game.

Sox starter Bruce Howard got credit for the second game win, even though he was lifted in the seventh inning because of a blistered finger.

The split left the Twins in second place, still a half game back of the Sox.

Minnesota opens a home stand against Baltimore Tuesday night. Jim Grant, Camilo Pascual and Kaat are scheduled to pitch in the three-game series.

LONG, LONG DAY FOR BRAGAN

Phillies Sweep Two From Erring Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee Manager Bobby Bragan summed up the feelings of the Braves and their fans: "It was a long, long day."

The Braves wilted in the heat wave, which pushed the temperature into the mid 80s, and were humbled by the Philadelphia Phillies 6-0 and 10-7 Sunday before a doubleheader crowd of 8,880, the largest County Stadium turnout since opening day.

Bragan and his charges had little to be happy about when the twinbill ended near dusk, nearly six hours after the day's first pitch. The Braves wasted scoring chances and handed the Phils' the opener, then performed sloppily in dropping the nightcap.

Southpaw Denny Lemaster was the victim of poor support and suffered the loss in the first game. Billy O'Dell, the fourth of five Milwaukee hurlers in the second game, took the other defeat as reliever Jack Badschub stopped the Braves on one hit and struck out five in the last four innings.

Lemaster, whose record dropped to 1-2, deserved a better fate. In top form, he struck out nine, but had to leave for a pinchhitter in the seventh, an inning after the Phils provided left-hander Chris Short a 4-0 lead.

Cookie Rojas opened the sixth by beating out a hit behind second base. The Braves argued vainly over umpire Tom Gorman's call at first base. Lemaster struck out Johnny Callison, then walked Richie Allen, who had five hits in seven times at bat in the twinbill.

Alex Johnson rapped a hit off Lemaster's leg to fill the bases, but former Brave Frank Thomas fled to short right. Then Tony Taylor lined a ball directly at Hank Aaron and Lemaster appeared out of the inning. However, Aaron misjudged the ball, slipped and then dropped the liner. Taylor was credited with a single as three runs scored. Gus Triandos then doubled home Taylor.

The Phils added two more runs on Allen's homer off Dan Osinski in the eighth. The Braves, who left two runners on base in the second, and fourth innings, stranded three in the eighth as Short posted his fourth victory in five decisions.

Philadelphia shelled Milwaukee starter Hank Fischer with a four-run uprising in the second inning of the nightcap. However, the Braves came right back to tie the count in their half on doubles by Eddie Mathews and Joe Torre, a fielder's choice, a single by Frank Bolling, a walk and a double by Felipe Alou.

The Phils scored a run in each of the next three innings, while the Braves picked up one in the third on an error and Rico Carty's single and two in the fifth on homers by Alou and Aaron.

ROBERTS WINS FOR ORIOLES

Pinch Hitter, 32, Is RBI Ace for Senators

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim King hit the pop that enabled the Washington Senators to edge Cleveland 3-2 in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday. The feat so exhilarated the 32-year-old pinch hitter that he drove in the decisive run with a single in the Senators' 4-2 second-game triumph.

Now in his ninth major league season, the last five with Washington, King hadn't had much success this season. Before Sunday's doubleheader, he had only two hits in 20 trips to the plate for an .071 average.

But Manager Gil Hodges selected the outfielder to bat for Ken Hamlin with one out and the bases loaded in a 2-2 game in the eighth inning. King quickly became involved with another original Senator, Cleveland first baseman Chuck Hinton.

He lofted a pop fly into foul territory just beyond the Indians' dugout near the stands. Hinton caught the pop but fumbled when it came to keeping Ed Brinkman from scoring from third with the winning run.

Brinkman made it, and King had his fifth run-batted-in of the season. It was in the eighth inning of the second game that he got his sixth, again being called to the plate as a pinch hitter with the bases loaded and one out.

This time, batting for Joe McCabe, he popped a single to center field that scored Don Lock with the run that snapped a 2-2 tie.

Elsewhere in the AL, Minnesota edged Chicago 3-2 in 10 innings before losing 5-4, Baltimore swept New York 4-2 in 10 and 5-3, Boston took two from Detroit 2-1 and 10-3 and Kansas City defeated Los Angeles 9-5 after losing 10-8.

Only a few minutes before King's winning pop in the opener, Max Alvis tied the game for the Indians with a two-run homer. McCabe had homered for the Senators.

Ken McMullen's two-run blast gave Washington a 2-1 lead in the nightcap, but Cleveland tied it in the seventh on Vic Davalillo's single and a pinch hit double by Al Luplow.

Veteran Robin Roberts stymied the Yankees on six hits for his third victory against no defeats. He allowed only one Yankee to reach third while the Orioles wrapped up the second game on Paul Blair's homer in the third and Luis Aparicio's run-scoring triple and a balk in the fifth.

Run-producing singles by John Orsino and Jerry Adair in the 10th inning won the first game for Baltimore. New York, stung by Curt Blefary's two-run homer in the second, had caught up in the ninth on doubles by Joe Pepitone and Tony Kubek.

Comeback Bid On Schedule For Jay Luck

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—For a man who hadn't run competitively since last fall's Olympic Games at Tokyo, Jay Luck had to admit his comeback effort was at least on schedule—maybe even ahead.

The 24-year-old former Yale captain, who finished fifth in the 400-meter hurdles at Tokyo, had just placed second in the invitational 100-yard dash of the ninth annual Quantico Relays Saturday.

He was beaten only by Ed Roberts, the North Carolina College star who was voted the meet's outstanding performer, and had a meet record 51.3-second clocking Friday in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles.

Wisconsin kept the Buckeyes hopes alive as they remained only a game off the pace with a 5-1 record. The Buckeyes are placing a large share of their title hopes on hurler Steve Artin who notched his third conference win in the Saturday nightcap which the Bucks won 4-3. Ohio State took the opener 6-2.

The win was the second in two days for Artin, who struck out 14 Wildcats Friday in a 10-2 win over Northwestern Friday. He has an over-all 7-1 season record.

Also tied with Indiana for third are defending champion Minnesota, Illinois and Michigan State, all with 3-3 records, and Iowa with a 2-2 mark.

Iowa took two of three weekend games with Minnesota dropping the Gophers out of contention for the time being, but Minnesota gets a chance to tighten the race Friday when it meets Michigan in Ann Arbor.

The Wolves edged the day with a one game edge on the Illini, who could have taken the conference lead with a sweep. A sweep by Ohio State over

HAWKS-RED WING HERE TUESDAY

Almost 1964 for Redmen

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

NAIA hall of famer, Max Molock, beamed his approval today of a season that has begun with qualities reminiscent of 1964.

Molock saw his St. Mary's baseball team complete a double-header sweep from Gustavus 4-2 in Saturday's twilight contest to make its MIAC record 3-1. It also gave the Redmen a 3-4 season slate.

A YEAR AGO, when the Redmen won the MIAC title, they dropped their first four conference games, including the league opener, before coming back on a 10-game win streak that carried them past the struggling pack.

"Naturally I'm happy we won," said Molock. "I'm happy for the kids. Everytime we win, they develop confidence."

The Redmen have a heavy four-game week ahead. They meet Macalester in two games at Terrace Heights beginning at 1 p.m. Wednesday and then entertain Concordia in two beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday.

THE CITY sports week began today when Winona High traveled to Lake City for a golf match.

Tuesday, Ed Spencer's powerful baseball team makes its Big Nine Conference opener at Jefferson Field by entertaining Red Wing. La Crosse Logan is at Cotter in other diamond activity.

Also on Tuesday's slate are a triangular track meet at Jeff featuring La Crosse Logan, Lake City and Winona High, a golf match between Winona High and Red Wing at Westfield and a tennis meet between the Wingers and Hawks at Jefferson.

Thursday Spencer's team travels to Owatonna along with the Winhawk tennis team and St. Mary's. Stout and Winona State golf teams have a triangular scheduled.

FRIDAY, DR. L. A. McCown's Winona State baseball team, which holds a 2-1 record after a second at Moorhead last weekend, will entertain St. Cloud at Loughrey Field at 3 p.m. before tackling the Huskies in a doubleheader beginning at 12 noon Saturday. Winona High is scheduled to run in the Faribault Relays Saturday and Winona State's track team will be at Platteville.

Spencer Tuesday will start John Ahrens, who ranks 1-0 after a relief win over La Crosse Central.

The Hawks will be seeking the same type performance as a year ago when Red Wing fell 4-0 to begin an eight-game streak that carried the Hawks to the finals of the Region One tournament against subsequent state champion Austin.

SPENCER WILL have Bob Urness behind the plate, Gary Addington at first, R. D. Boschulte at second, Todd Spencer at short and Jim Doyle at third. The outfield will have Loren Benz in left, Gary Curran in center and Wayne Morris in right. Game time is 4:30 p.m.

Back at St. Mary's, Molock is more than pleased with the play of seminarian Matt Kolodziej at shortstop. He got his first chance to start Saturday.

"He gives us added speed and strength with the bat," said Max. "I'm still disappointed with the fact that we aren't getting any hitting from (Bob) Paradise and (Dennis) Ludden. (Jim) Buffo came through with a few hits. We hope that he's ready for a rampage."

AGAINST Macalester, Paradise will pitch the first game. The second is a question mark with Bill Knoeder, who was hit on his pitching hand while batting Saturday, slated to go if he is able.

Kolodziej will remain a fixture at short and form the infield with Buffo at first, Steve Granzky at second and a much-improved Viv Fischer at third. Bob Magnuson is the catcher.

Team Efforts Displease Warmath, Gopher Staff

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Halfback Dave Colburn, end Aaron Brown, fullback Jerry Newsum and a pair of sophomore quarterbacks gave the Gophers a solid effort, but there was little satisfaction with the team effort, following Minnesota's spring intrasquad football game Saturday.

The Maroons blanked the Whites, 20-0, but Coach Murray Warmath commented, "The team play, as a whole, left a lot to be desired."

Colburn, sidelined with a leg injury after a sparkling freshman showing, raced for 111 yards and two touchdowns. He brushed off several tacklers and scored on a four-yard run in the third quarter, and tallied on an eight-yard spring in the fourth. Quarterback John Hankinson was held out of the action because of an injury, but sophomore Curtis Wilson and Dave Baldridge showed promise of giving the Gophers depth in the signal-calling spot.

Wilson passed for two touchdowns, both of them going to Brown. Baldridge also hit on several passes and displayed some deft ball handling.

Newsum, a defensive specialist in the roving linebacker spot, also showed the Gophers some hard running. He picked up 60 yards on 12 carries.

Another encouraging factor was the defensive secondary play of Stewart Maples and Gene Halford, who have the tough jobs of trying to make Minnesota fans forget Kraig Lofquist and Stan Skjel, last year's great defensive duo. Maples intercepted one pass and returned it 54 yards.

The Gophers also looked strong at the linebacker positions, with Tim Wheeler, Gary Peterson and sophomore Randy Rajala standouts.

Warmath was pleased with the punting of Bruce Van DeWalker and Baldridge, calling their efforts "the best I've seen in a long time."

Brown scored the first touchdown for the Maroons five minutes after the game started, completing an 11-yard pass play from Wilson. The team scored for a 32-yard scoring pass in the second period.

Tackle Don Rosen got two more points for the Maroons when he brought down the halfback Hubie Bryant in the White end zone for a safety.

State Fares Well in Luther Relays

DECORAH, Iowa — Winona State, despite the permanent loss of two of its top four stars and the temporary loss of still two others, made a respectable showing in the first annual Luther College Relays here Saturday.

While team totals were not kept, the Warriors would have finished behind Luther, Gustavus and Augsburg.

Bob Keister's team saw its top point getter, Terry Woolley, a transfer student, forced out of action because he began competition one week early. Bob Muras, the fourth leading pointgetter, has been dropped from the squad because he is not carrying 12 quarter hours.

In addition, Bob Stone and Bill Anderson, the top hurdler and second leading pointgetter respectively, are out with muscle pulls.

Keister had praise for Bob Safe and Mike Anderson in the Luther meet. Safe was second in the pole vault with his best height of the year and both ran outstanding legs during the relay events.
