More Tornadoes in State, 12 Killed

Urgency and Confusion

Legislators Baffled by Daylight Saving Issue

ST. PAUL (AP) — A statewide April to October daylight saving bill got over its first legislative hurdle today.

Such a bill by Sen. Raphael Salmore of Stillwater was recommended to pass by the Senate General Legislation Committee by a voice vote.

The House General Legislation Committee, which also got views Thursday of a group of Minneapolis civic leaders and businessmen pleading for concerted action, set no schedule for consideration of any DST changes.

Rep. L. J. Lee of Bagley, a longtime foe of fast time, called the daylight saving time vs standard time issue "planned confusion."

But Rep. Peter Fugina of Virginia said "we need a scientific poll" of areas interested in daylight time.

St. Paul joined the ranks of communities that defied state law and voted to go on fast time in advance of the legal May 23 change. Some two dozen other communities now are under fast time or plan to go on DST this weekend. Minnesota ends DST the day after Labor Day.

The Minneapolis delegation, headed by Mayor Arthur Naftalin, went before the general legislation committees of the House and Senate, but none in the delegation was given a chance to speak.

Sen. Raphael Salmore of Stillwater made an abortive attempt to receive committee approval of his bill amending the present law to provide for DST from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October.

He said there is urgency in the situation because Minnesota is now in a state of confusion.

Even while the bickering was going on, two more communities—Stillwater and St. Croix Beach—announced Thursday they will adopt the fast time at 2 a.m. Sunday, the same time St. Paul and many of its suburbs will advance their clocks.

Chairman Dwight Swanstrom of Duluth said the House General Legislation Committee would hold a special meeting to take up the DST bills once more. In the back of bills is one to give extended DST to metropolitan areas only.

Two Dozen Minneapolis Suburbs Hit

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The death toll rose to at least 12 today from a string of tornadoes that spewed death and destruction over this heavily populated area, injuring more than 300 and causing millions of dollars in damage.

Police said two more bodies were found in the suburb of Mounds View as coroner's aides began the grim task of searching the rubble where dozens of homes stood before Thursday night's twisters hit. Several of the dead remained unidentified.

More than two dozen suburbs lay in the path of satanic winds that skipped to the ground and lifted, only to come down again over southwestern, western and northern suburbs during the supper hour.

Heavy rain and two-inch hailstones preceded the twisters.

Utility lines were downed, many crossing highways lined with homeward-bound workers. Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., which sent six mobile units out for emergency use by residents today, estimated 27,000 telephones were out of service.

Hundreds of homes were damaged and many were destroyed.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag appealed to President Johnson to expand flood disaster designations already in effect for the area to include wind damage. The governor, who made an inspection tour after the storm, called the situation "Utter, sheer, total disaster."

He called out National Guard units to help police and Civil Defense volunteers to maintain order.

Tornado sightings were reported over at least 25 small towns.

The heaviest damage was reported to communities around Lake Minnetonka, some 15 miles west of Minneapolis and Spring Lake Park and Mounds View, 15 miles north of the city.

Four persons died at Mound, a residential community on Lake Minnetonka's west shore, where dozens of homes were hard hit, and many destroyed. Island Park and Navarre also on the lake's west side, received heavy property damage and reported many injured.

Four persons died at Spring Lake Park, one at Mounds View and one at Norwood.

The injured in twisters that hit Fridley, Spring Lake Park and Mounds View were brought to Mercy Hospital at Coon Rapids in a continuous stream. After two hours, the hospital's administrator, Robert Van Hauer, pleaded with ambulance drivers and motorists to take their injured to other nearby hospitals.

Van Hauer estimated that upward of 100 persons had been treated at Mercy Hospital. Nearly 30 of those treated were in serious condition.

The storm hit Norwood, a town of about 1,000 persons, some 38 miles southwest of Minneapolis. After demolishing about 15 residences and between 30 and 40 farm buildings, the twister moved northeast, striking with devastating force at the exclusive sections of Shorewood-Excelsior. About a dozen homes were damaged and several persons injured.

Then it circled around Lake Minnetonka's west side and moved over the lake to the east side. Dozens of lakeside cabins and residences were smashed and scores of residents were injured.

The tornado then traveled northward hitting Fridley, Spring Lake Park and Mounds View before it left the area.

The Minneapolis Weather Bureau had alerted Twin Cities residents around 6:30 p.m. Minutes later, a heavy rain and hail hit.

Bill to Put Tax On New Cars Killed

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Senate Tax Committee killed one of Gov. Karl Rolvaag's tax bills Thursday. By a vote of 12-3 the committee recommended indefinite postponement of a proposal for a three per cent tax on new automobiles.

U.S. Set to Begin Dominican Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today the United States hopes to begin withdrawing some of its 20,000 troops from the Dominican Republic within a few days as contingents from other American nations move in.

Final decisions on the timing and number of withdrawals are yet to be made by President Johnson. Officials indicated they would be shaped in considerable degree by the speed and size of forces contributed by other countries to the peace-keeping operations of the Organization of American States.

The OAS voted early Thursday to set up an inter-American military force in the Dominican Republic. Two countries, Paraguay and Venezuela, announced they were ready to contribute military units. The Costa Rican Security Ministry said later Thursday that country would send 10 to 20 men from its police organization, since it has no regular army. Brazil and Argentina were reported considering contributing military units.

There was a report in diplomatic quarters here that three prominent political figures of the Caribbean area might be asked by the OAS to play an important role in helping solve the political problems involved in creating a democratic regime in the Dominican Republic.

They are former Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico, former President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela and former President Jose Figueres of Costa Rica. The three have long been identified with what is known in Latin-American political circles as the democratic left. All are strongly anti-Communist and anticommunism.

The three have been in Washington for several days and have been in touch with Johnson as well as the Organization of American States.

The rebel movement in the Dominican Republic—a movement which the United States asserts was captured by Communist and Castroite leaders—has produced a regime under the leadership of Col. Francisco Caamaño Deno, but it has not won U.S. or other American recognition. U.S. authorities are reported deeply suspicious of Caamaño's association with the rebel movement after it allegedly was taken over by the Communists.

Chippewa Falls Soldier Missing In Dominicans

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis. (AP)—Pvt. Ronald F. Kincaid, 19, is reported missing in action in the strife-torn Dominican Republic, his parents said they were notified Wednesday.

Kincaid, a paratrooper, arrived in Santo Domingo Monday with the 82nd Airborne Division, the parents said. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kincaid quoted a telegram from Fort Bragg, N.C., as saying their son has been missing since then.

Ship Reported Sunk in Straits Of Mackinac

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP)—Two ships collided in the fog-shrouded straits of Mackinac today and one reportedly sank.

The limestone carrier Cedarville and the Norwegian freighter Topdalsfjord collided about two miles west of the Mackinaw bridge.

A resident, E.C. Dagwell, said he was listening to Marine radio and "I haven't heard anything from the Cedarville since about 10:24 a.m."

The radio operator said the Norwegian freighter radioed reports of "hearing fellows in the water calling for help."

He said he had no immediate reports of injuries or loss of life. He said apparently at least one small craft sent to the scene had picked up some survivors.

Committee OKs 18 as Driving Age

ST. PAUL (AP)—A bill raising the Minnesota minimum driving age from 16 to 18 unless a youth has had driver training was approved by the Senate Highway Committee Thursday.

Jury Deadlocked In Liuzzo Trial

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A deadlocked jury was called back into court today to try again for a verdict in the civil rights murder trial of a Ku Klux Klansman.

The 12 jurors deliberated four hours and 20 minutes Thursday evening before Circuit Judge T. Worth Thagard ordered them locked up for the night.

He told the jurors, all white men, to resume their deliberations at 9 a.m. (Central Standard Time) in hope of reaching the unanimous agreement necessary to convict or acquit Col. Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield, Ala., of the slaying of Viola Gregg Liuzzo, a white civil rights worker from Detroit, Mich.

Thagard handed the first-degree murder case to the jury at 3:40 p.m. Thursday and 75 minutes later a rap on the door of the high-ceilinged jury room appeared to herald a verdict.

But the jurors only wanted further instructions from the court. They asked whether they could convict the paunchy, crewcut defendant of a lesser offense than first-degree murder.

The judge, repeating his earlier charge, explained they had a choice of first-degree murder, second-degree murder, manslaughter or acquittal.

Two hours later, Thagard called the jurors back to the courtroom and gave them the choice of taking time out for dinner then or — if they still hadn't agreed on the fate of the accused — to wait and "get a steak when you get to Montgomery."

Each night since the trial began, the jury has been taken 25 miles to Montgomery where quarters were made available in the modern air conditioned court house.

The jury in a murder trial must be kept together day and night and neither the 133-year-old Lowndes County Courthouse nor the small town of Hayneville has the facilities to house the 12 men.

At 8 p.m., the judge summoned the jurors again and inquired, "What do you say now?"

"We don't appear to be near a verdict," replied Clifford McMurphee, a Burkville, Ala., farmer who apparently was chosen jury foreman.

Thagard then called off deliberations for the night.

Seabees to Build Airfield

More Marines Land in Viet Nam

By HAL BOYLE
CHU LAI, South Viet Nam (AP) — Three thousand more U.S. Marines and 3,000 Seabees landed on a desolate coastal plain in South Viet Nam today and immediately began building a 4,000-foot air strip.

Not a shot was fired. Six Vietnamese battalions scoured the landing area for 48 hours earlier and killed eight Viet Cong and captured 13. Two of the government troops were killed and six wounded.

The Seabees—the U.S. Navy's construction and engineering specialists — estimated they would have the aluminum-base airstrip completed within 72 hours after all equipment had been unloaded from the ships anchored off the beach 52 miles south of the big Da Nang Air Base.

Today's landing brought the total number of U.S. servicemen in South Viet Nam to about 45,000.

The landing was described by the commander of the task force, Rear Adm. Donald Wulzen of Hamilton, Ohio, as "the largest amphibious landing in the Far East since the Inchon, Korea, landing in 1950."

The Marines began moving at 8 a.m. and the first wave was on the beach at 8:13 a.m.

There was no contact with the Viet Cong in the initial stages of the landing. But six battalions of Vietnamese troops had been operating in the area for the past two days to prepare the way for the landing.

The landing increased the number of Marines in the northern part of South Viet Nam to approximately 13,000. The others are stationed in the Da Nang-Pu Bai-Hue area.

Some 60 Vietnamese schoolgirls were on the beach with local authorities to greet the arriving Marines with garlands of flowers.

"I could learn to love this country," said one flower-decked Marine as he moved inland with a backward look at the girls.

The landing was made in perfect weather, and there was almost a picnic atmosphere on the beach. The landing boats came through the calm sea like giant, floating beetles. They were waved in by a team of 20 underwater demolition experts.

"Come on, boys, you'll be late to the party," yelled Jerry Bush, 30, of St. Louis, Mo.

Few of the Marines even got their feet wet. Waiting on the sand was a group of high-ranking officers who had arrived moments before by helicopter. They included Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton, deputy U.S. commander in Viet Nam.

"It looks fine," he said. "They are good-looking troops."

Congress Resents Whiplash

$700 Million Funds For Viet War Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a special $700-million appropriation to finance the war in Viet Nam and said it was a message of American determination to resist aggression in Southeast Asia.

Johnson signed the bill in the East Room of the White House just three days after he asked Congress for the funds.

"It is not the money but the message that matters. And that message is simple — that message is clear," he said.

"We will do whatever must be done to ensure the safety of South Viet Nam from aggression. We will use our power with restraint and with all the wisdom we can command. But we will use it."

Johnson said that "once this message is clearly understood by all there will be greater hope for peace."

The money bill sped through the Senate Thursday, completing congressional action in almost unprecedented time, but some thunderbolts were hurled at the White House.

Congress should "resent being led around like a dog on a leash and given 48 hours to pass bills which the administration seeks to gird up its shaky policies," stormed Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, one of three senators who voted against the appropriation.

And Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., mirrored the concern of several who voted for the bill when he said:

"I hope the President will not let this vote go to his head. We are voting to uphold the President in this particular action, but we are not voting for the President to do everything in violation of our consciences and full consent."

Still, the President got the swift and overwhelming approval he sought, and he plans to sign the appropriation into law today.

Thursday's 88-3 Senate vote was nearly as lopsided as Wednesday's 400-7 vote in the House.

The President had told Congress in a special message Tuesday that the $700 million is needed to meet mounting military requirements in Viet Nam. He said, in effect, congressional approval would mean endorsement of the administration's policy.

If what he got was an endorsement, it was a qualified one.

Sens. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., joined Gruening in voting against the bill.

Credit Union Ruled Insolvent

ST. PAUL (AP) — The State Capitol Credit Union, biggest in Minnesota, has been declared insolvent.

State Banking Commissioner John Chisholm, whose office shut down the $20 million institution March 29, said Thursday he has asked that a receiver be appointed for State Capitol.

Chisholm said State Capitol, which has 21,000 shareholders and 5,500 depositors, had nearly $5 million in assets he classified as substandard, doubtful or lost.

His examination of the credit union's books, Chisholm said, also showed that "the interests of its members are in serious jeopardy."

Chisholm said he has asked State Atty. Gen. Robert Mattson to start proceedings immediately for appointment of a receiver. He said the receiver's appointment would be the first step in reopening the credit union.

He said in a statement about one-fourth of the credit union's share capital was impaired, and added:

The district convention begins at 10 a.m. at Austin's Holiday Inn. Goetz and Mrs. Marshall Torrey, Red Wing, will be placed in nomination by the nominating committee. Goetz was succeeded this year as Winona County chairman by Robert Olson, Winona. He is currently district first vice chairman.

Keynote addresses will be given by Cong. Albert Quie and Thomas Houser, an aide to Charles Percy, 1964 candidate for governor of Illinois.
Challen at first said he would not call his other witness because the man was to testify to the previous incident, too. After conferring with both attorneys, Judge McGill said he would hear the evidence of Bernard Boettcher, St. Charles, but would disregard any testimony not showing mitigating circumstances.
Boettcher testified that he and Pellowski had encountered Ham April 17 and that the special deputy had "raised his finger" at them and called "you" as he got in his car to drive away.
SAWYER DID NOT cross-examine either Pellowski or Boettcher. He argued that harsh language might not be unusual among truckers, but he added that in the angry circumstances of April 20 Ham had a right to be angry and resentful at Pellowski's language.
Challen argued that the "fight" between Ham and Pellowski went deeper than the exchange of words at the lumber yard. Pellowski's words are part of the everyday language of his circle, and the charge against the Dover man was a case of malicious prosecution, Challen maintained.
Judge McGill found Pellowski guilty as charged but allowed that he might have had cause for losing his temper.

After conferring with both attorneys, Judge McGill said he would hear the evidence of Bernard Boettcher, St. Charles, but would disregard any testimony not showing mitigating circumstances.
Boettcher testified that he and Pellowski had encountered Ham April 17 and that the special deputy had "raised his finger" at them and called "you" as he got in his car to drive away.
SAWYER DID NOT cross-examine either Pellowski or Boettcher. He argued that harsh language might not be unusual among truckers, but he added that in the angry circumstances of April 20 Ham had a right to be angry and resentful at Pellowski's language.
Challen argued that the "fight" between Ham and Pellowski went deeper than the exchange of words at the lumber yard. Pellowski's words are part of the everyday language of his circle, and the charge against the Dover man was a case of malicious prosecution, Challen maintained.
Judge McGill found Pellowski guilty as charged but allowed that he might have had cause for losing his temper.

Veteran School Patrol Boys Visit Governor

Twelve Winona school patrol boys saw the governor, their state senator and representative, the Twins and assorted other Twin Cities attractions Thursday — and probably came home almost as tired out as the three city policemen who chaperoned them.

The boys left Winona Thursday at 6 a.m. with Sgts. Martin H. Prigge and Sylvan A. Duellman and Patrolman John A. Erickson. They had to leave early to make sure they would get to the governor's office on time — the governor's Central Standard Time.

THEY ATE breakfast along the way, stopped off for a tour of the Minnesota Highway Department building and then filed into the office of Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag to receive five-year service awards in recognition of their time on the city's school patrols.

Winona County Sen. Roger Laufenburger and City Rep. Frank Theis brought the boys to the governor's office, and Theis gave them a tour of the Capitol before lunch.

After a stop at the Minnesota Historical Society museum, the group headed across the river to watch the Minnesota Twins play the Baltimore Orioles. It was a "beautiful day for a ball game," but the Twins lost, 5-1.

After the game, Prigge herded his charges into the three cars of their "caravan," and, not far ahead of Thursday night's destructive winds, the boys and policemen headed for Winona, eating supper on the way.

BOYS ON the trip were: (from Central Junior High School) Michael Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Farrell, 607 Olmstead St.; Neil Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Brown, 911 E. King St.; Philip Blasko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. Blasko, 470 W. Broadway; Michael Forsythe, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Forsythe, 610 W. Bellevue St.; and Steven Bachler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin F. Bachler, 412 Wilson St.

(From Washington-Kosciusko School) Glen Burkhalter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Burkhalter, 768 E. 4th St.; and Bruce Nottelman, son of Karl Nottelman, Lamolite, (from St. Matthew's School) Paul Hille, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hille, 1678 W. Broadway, and Loyal Krause, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Krause, 362 Elm St.

(From Jefferson School) Jon Elman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Elman, 980 W. 5th St.; Joseph Helgersom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Helgersom, 1511 W. Howard St.; and Carl Muhlke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Muhlke, 1227 W. 5th St.

School Board Stays With Gilmore Site

By C. GORDON HOLTE
Daily News Staff Writer

Satisfied that the projected city dike system will provide as great a measure of flood protection to a 38-acre area near the west end of Lake Winona as is practically necessary, the Board of Education Thursday agreed to adhere to its original plan to use the tract as a site for construction of a $4,630,000 Senior High School building.

Only one dissenting expression was heard in a poll of members after an evaluation of the site from the standpoint of flood potential had been made by engineers and architects.

THIS WAS from 4th Ward Director Franklin A. Tillman whose concern over the site's elevation and location earlier this week — when he suggested that the board review its tentative action on site selection and consider an alternate site in the far east section of the city — prompted the board to be called into informal session to analyze flood factors affecting the site.

Figuring principally in Thursday's discussion were James J. Kleinschmidt, a former city engineer who now operates a firm here for engineering services and surveying, and Edwin O. Eckert, a partner in the firm of Eckert & Carlson, Winona, associated with Caudill, Rowlett & Scott, Houston, Tex., as architects for the school project.

City Engineer James Baird was at another conference on city business when the school board meeting was convened and was unable to come to the board room until after the decision to go ahead with planning at the lake site had been made. He was in contact with the board and architect by telephone during the meeting, however.

AT MONDAY night's school board meeting Tillman recalled the recent flood emergency and noted that although the school site south of Gilmore Avenue and west of an extension of Wilcox Street had remained dry during the period of record river levels it had been estimated that a substantial amount of water would have covered the area if a major break in dike structures had occurred.

Stating that he was reluctant to approve the lake property as a school site if there was a danger of future flooding, Tillman called attention to another area near Siebrecht's greenhouses, between old and new Highway 61, which he asserted with a relatively small raise in elevation would be safe from flooding at this year's river crest even without dike structure.

He thought that board members should give consideration to this as a site for the new school.

A better part of the meeting Thursday was devoted to a study of city maps showing elevations throughout the city and delineating dike structures, both primary and secondary.

ECKERT TOLD directors at the outset that he had been unable to obtain any new information from the Corps of Engineers, which has planned the new permanent dike system for the city, that would be permanent to the school building matter because the corps is still collecting and evaluating data from the recent high water period. Eckert said that he had invited Kleinschmidt and Baird to the meeting to answer questions that might arise from an engineering standpoint.

Explaining that he wasn't "taking any pot-shots at the Corps of Engineers," Tillman asked whether, in view of the fact that no permanent dike structure had been erected between the last major flood threat to the city in 1952 and this spring's record level, there was any assurance that action on an adequate protective system could be anticipated in the near future.

KLEINSCHMIDT and Eckert pointed out that contracts have been awarded for construction of a permanent flood dike from Huff Street to Minnesota City with work scheduled to begin this year. They also observed that the delay in construction had resulted, for the most part, in the time involved in obtaining authorization and fund allocations from Congress.

When Kleinschmidt had completed his detailed analysis of the dike system erected for the recent emergency, 3rd Ward Director Frank J. Allen Jr. asked whether the secondary dikes constructed near Westfield Golf Course and along 5th Street east of John Street would have reasonably been expected to have protected a major portion of the city from flooding in the event of a break in the primary dikes.

KLEINSCHMIDT said that in his opinion they would have. Eckert said that present plans call for the new school to be erected at an elevation of 655 feet, to be accomplished by some excavation and filling of the building site.

"In other words," Allen said, "we would have had to have had a crest of around 22 feet or have two dike systems fail before we would have expected to have any water on this school site?"

Kleinschmidt said that it was his personal opinion that that, generally, was correct.

Board President Lawrence

Santelman had said earlier in the meeting that the session had been called because "the board is concerned over the possibility of making a mistake in selecting a site that might be endangered should another flood threat occur like the one we just experienced. If the dike picture changes, we should exercise our good judgment in deciding on the site."

AFTER HEARING Kleinschmidt's and Eckert's comments, Santelman remarked, "After hearing this explanation and the statements about the temporary dikes (Kleinschmidt had mentioned that temporary protective measures could be erected within a brief period of time at locations where they might be needed) I get an entirely different feeling about this."

"I feel now," he continued, "that this site is even more desirable, as far as I'm concerned, than I considered it before. It seems to me to be an excellent site."

Santelman then went around the table for comments from other directors.

Tillman said he was still opposed to building on the lake front property.

DR. C. R. KOLLOFSKI, 2nd Ward, said he was still in favor of the original site, adding, "If there should ever be serious flooding 80 per cent of the children wouldn't be going to school, anyway. Besides, I have faith that with so many houses and our hospital in the city involved measures will be taken in construction of the permanent dike to give the greatest degree of protection possible."

Daniel Sadowski, 4th Ward, said he felt the lake site "is adequate." 1st Ward Director Ray Gorsuch said he was in favor of building on the property and Dr. L. L. Korda, 2nd Ward, said he thought the board should proceed with its original plan. Allen repeated his earlier statement that he was in favor of staying with the original plan.

Since this was an informal meeting there was no formal vote taken but on the basis of the majority opinion expressed in the voice poll, Santelman told Eckert that architects should continue with their planning for the school on the lake site.

Supreme Court Decision Could Permit New Motel

By TERRY BORMANN
Daily News Staff Writer

The Minnesota Supreme Court in effect told Winona today that it had gone about making 4½ acres of land on Lake Winona available for development as a Holiday Inn in the wrong way.

Associate Justice Walter Rogosheske wrote that the city does not hold an interest in the disputed land which can be sold to a private party. This is so because the statute authorizing Winona to condemn land for park purposes enables the taking of an easement only.

FEE SIMPLE title to land under an easement for park purposes remains with the original landowner, the justice ruled. To make the land available for private development, the city must vacate its easement, the court ruled. Thus, the 4½-acre tract on Lake Winona at the intersection of Huff Street and U.S. 61-14 would revert to the ownership of its original private owner, or his heirs.

Justice Rogosheske noted that both the city and the prospective Holiday Inn developers claim that the developers had acquired underlying title to the land by obtaining quit-claim deeds from the heirs.

Attorney Leo F. Murphy Jr., who represented the developers, A. Perry Phillips and Sidney Neate, Columbia, Mo., in the Holiday Inn litigation, said today that as far as he is concerned his clients become owners of the land if the city vacates its park easement.

THE SUPREME Court held that the city's procedure in holding hearings to determine whether the land was needed for park purposes, rezoning the land for commercial use and finally offering to sell their "title" to Phillips and Neate is not authorized by the city charter. The city should have instituted proceedings to vacate the park easement, Justice Rogosheske wrote. This could be done, he pointed out, on the initiative of a petition, followed by notice and hearings and a two-thirds vote of the City Council in favor of vacation.

Mayor R. K. Ellings and Council President Harold E. Briesath would not comment today on what action the city might take in light of the Supreme Court decision. City Attorney George Robertson Jr. was in St. Paul today before the legislature and could not be reached for comment.

JUSTICE Rogosheske, in his opinion, wrote: "As the case comes to us, the determinative question presented is a question of law based upon only a part of the unchallenged findings of the trial court."

The justice wrote that the District Court findings (by Judge O. Russell Olson) that the land is not needed for park purposes, that the proposed sale price of $7,500 was fair, that the land was not suitable for residential purposes, that no public or private nuisance to adjoining landowners would be created and that the best interest of the public would be served by the proposed sale were unchallenged and presumed to be correct.

However, the justice continued, the basic question in any sale is whether the seller holds an interest in the land capable of being sold. This question was not brought up until after the trial of the case, Justice Rogosheske wrote; and the District Court was "quite likely" misled by plaintiff's emphasis on the other questions mentioned above.

(In other words, if a man offers to sell you the Brooklyn Bridge, you ask to see the deed before haggling over the price or determining whether the sale would serve the public interest.)

AS A sidelight, Justice Rogosheske warned that the court's opinion did not necessarily mean that the Winona City Charter forbids sale of any real estate acquired by condemnation for park purposes.

The court specifically denied plaintiffs' contention that the city's attempt to sell title to the land was "motivated by bad faith or a desire to serve private interests."

Attorney Murphy said today that speculation about what Phillips and Neate might do about constructing their proposed $400,000 motel and filling station would be "putting the cart before the horse." The city must act first, Murphy said.

SO THE plaintiffs, a group of Winona landowners who claimed last June that the Holiday Inn would spoil their enjoyment of their homes (all on Lake Winona), won their appeal. The attempted sale of the land to Phillips and Neate is thwarted by the Supreme Court decision.

However, the two Missouri developers may wind up with title to the land anyway—if the city vacates its park easement. Then, presumably, Phillips and Neate would be free to build their motel.

IN DECEMBER an Eau Claire, Wis., couple brought suit for fraud in connection with their sale, for $100, of a quit claim deed to the 4½-acre tract.

Mrs. Edgar F. Witzig, daughter and heir of the man from whom a park easement on the land was obtained in 1906, claimed that Attorney Roger P. Brosnahan had misrepresented the value of the land to her in asking for a quit claim deed.

The quit claim deed is a document by which a person with a possible interest in a parcel of land renounces his claims in return for a money payment by the person trying to remove "clouds" from the land's title.

MR. AND MRS. Witzig claimed that they held fee simple title to the land underlying the city's park easement. Their title would be worth about $50,000, they alleged, if the city vacated the easement and a Holiday Inn were built.

Brosnahan defrauded them by offering only $100 for their quit claim deed, which they ignorantly accepted, the Witzigs alleged.

Judge Arnold Hatfield dismissed the suit when the Witzigs' testimony was all in, ruling that Brosnahan had given them all proper information and had offered to have the transaction witnessed by the Witzigs' lawyer.

Storm Damage Reports Continue

Reports of area damage in the tornado Wednesday continue.

A barn, 35 by 60 feet, one-half mile east of FREMONT, which belonged to Mrs. Harold Cady, Lewiston, was damaged. The hip roof on the building split down the middle and dropped on the windmill.

Not a shingle on an old, unoccupied house on the farm was touched. A new foundation was placed under the barn last year. The structure is ruined. Mrs. Cady planned to put beef cattle in the barn Wednesday, but had postponed the move.

The Joe Boehm trailer house on the Henry Boehm farm near LA CRESCENT was ruined. The trailer, a gift to Mrs. Boehm from her husband, was to be placed on blocks and occupied Thursday by the family, which includes three children. Mrs. Boehm said she had a premonition about the trailer house, that she would never live in it. Some of the farmers who lost buildings in this area carried no wind insurance.

The Rev. Charles Nettleton, native of Lewiston, and his wife took refuge in the basement when a tornado hit Slifer, Iowa, the same night. His church, parsonage and garage were demolished.

WINONA COUNTY DAIRY LEWISTON, Minn. — Winona County dairy committee will meet at 8:30 p.m. DST Monday at the City-Mar Bowl meeting room.

Hageinan was accompanied by Mrs. Clayton Pfeiffer, Mazepa, who was elected a state director. Mrs. Pfeiffer who won the Republicans Care award in Wabasha County this year, is disaster chairman for the Red Cross, and works in other service organizations.

Officers of the Wabasha County chapter are: Arthur G. Graff, Kellogg, vice president; Mrs. Glen Snider, Kellogg, secretary; Mrs. Hans Peters, Lake City, treasurer, and Mrs. Paul Chaffee, Plainview, legislative chairman.

Simultaneous sessions will be held at 10 a.m. at Washington-Kosciusko and Madison schools and another will be held at Lincoln at 1:30 p.m.

At each of these Circle K members will inspect bicycles for safety and each bicyclist will ride through an obstacle course to test his riding ability.

First, second and third prizes will be awarded at each school. In addition a grand championship trophy will be awarded.

After the Lincoln competition, racing contests will be held in Lake Park, around the circle starting at the lodge. Riders will compete in one of two levels, sixth through ninth grade and fifth grade and under. Lights, horns and mirrors will be awarded to winners.

In charge of the day are Circle K members, headed by Douglas Furst, Rochester, outgoing president; Ed Roth, Wayzata, chairman, and Roy Wilsey, Houston, new president.

Inch Expected

Precipitation may range up to an inch or more in rain during the weekend or early next week.

The temperature ran up to 85 Thursday afternoon, dropped to 65 overnight and was 83 at noon under partly cloudy skies.

THE HIGH a year ago today was 82 and the low 54. All-time high for May 7 was 86 in 1896 and 1926 and the low for the day 29 in 1890. Mean for the past 24 hours was 75 with normal for this time of the year 56.

The stage of the Mississippi, continuing to fall despite the rain, was at 11.78 today, down 5 of a foot since Thursday and slated to go to 11.4 Saturday, 10.9 Sunday and 10.5 Monday.

Nearly an inch and a half of rain fell at St. Cloud in the past 24 hours and lesser amounts were recorded at other Minnesota points. Rainfall at Redwood Falls amounted to 22 of an inch while Duluth got only .09.

The high for the past 24 hours at Rochester was 75 and the low 62. At La Crosse extremes of 80 and 66 were posted.

Thunderstorms raked parts of northern WISCONSIN today while the southern part of the state basked in sunny, almost summer-like weather.

It was the second straight day of turbulent activity in the northern area, which escaped the damaging tornadoes that lashed eastern Minnesota. The Hurley region had hail one inch in diameter during one of the storms Thursday night.

Skies were expected to continue stormy in most of Wisconsin tonight and Saturday, with partial clearing and cooling weather by Sunday.

Temperature highs reported Thursday ranged from 84 at Pewaukee to 67 in the Superior region. Racine was the coolest place at night with 47 degrees and La Crosse was the warmest with 66. Park Falls reported a low of 46. Eau Claire 59, Beloit, Madison and Burlington 60, Lone Rock 61, Green Bay 63 and Wausau 65.

Bears Observed In Durand Area

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — The story of the three bears at Durand still is being investigated.

Mrs. Harvey King thought she was seeing things when she spotted what she thought was a mother bear and two cubs Thursday. They were across the Chippewa River. The King home is near the Hayland Feed Mill, in the southern part of town.

Her children looked, and agreed with her, Chief of Police Lester Sweeney was called. Some thought they were dogs, but a neighbor looking through field glasses said, "Dogs don't weight 300 pounds."

The bears disappeared Thursday evening. James Kinnannon, Pepin County game warden living at Pepin village, is continuing the investigation. Bears previously have been seen in the Durand area.

Thunderstorms Due To Continue Saturday

Storm warnings continue for Winona and vicinity tonight and Saturday.

Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, says the forecast, with scattered thunderstorms mostly evenings and nights, some locally heavy and no important change in temperature.

A low of 56-62 is predicted for tonight and a high of 78-85, for Saturday. Cooler with scattered showers is the outlook for Saturday.

THE EXTENDED forecast for the next five days indicates temperatures will average 3 to 7 degrees below normal daytime highs of 62-68 and nighttime lows in the 40s. It is expected to be colder during the weekend but warmer again by midweek.

It Happened Last Night Feuding Producer Won't Even Talk

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Producer Ross Hunter made it eminently clear when we lunched at 21 that he wouldn't comment about his battle with Lana Turner over their movie, "Madame X."

"No comment!" The way-haired, spectacled young Hollywood genius, who has a $75,000,000 drawing account from Universal Pictures, pointed a forbidding finger at Big Mouth Me. "I'm not talking!" — he glared through his glasses into my glasses — "about Lana calling up the press, claiming I was mean, that I wouldn't talk to her. I'm known for treating my leading ladies well."

"Just because she says you're a tyrant who overworked her shouldn't cause you to comment," I commented.

"Wouldn't even dignify her statements!" With a sweeping gesture, he brushed Lana from his thoughts.

"We'll just talk about 'The Art of Love,' shall we..."

"That could make a good column," I nodded.

"That's the name of my Elke Sommer-Dick Van Dyke picture. She sharply reminded me. 'Ethel Merman's going to tour the country singing the melody,'" Lana said.

"No comment!" Hunter exclaimed. "I made Lana a millionaire. She was a bad girl! The one who acted like a star in 'Madame X' was Connie Bennett. But I'm not commenting."

"Perfectly right, too," I said.

"When other producers had trouble with her, I said, 'It's their fault. They can't control her. I can.' I proved how wrong I was."

New Air Force Chief Wants to Keep Bombers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, says he is convinced of the continuing need for manned bombers and other aircraft.

"We must guard against making the missile a military 'status symbol,'" he declared.

In an address prepared for the National Press Club, McConnell agreed with the views of his predecessor, retired Gen. Curtis E. LeMay. LeMay's views on manned bombers did not coincide completely with those of secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Discussing the need for exploring new possibilities for weapon systems, McConnell said there also is the reverse side to that.

"We should not make the mistake of dismissing proven principles and systems as obsolete just because they have been in existence for some time," he said.

"This is true, for instance, for the manned bomber which some students of strategy feel has become obsolete because of the missile and should be phased out entirely. I think we must guard against making the missile a military 'status symbol' and relegating the manned system to a 'status quo symbol'."

"I am convinced that, for the foreseeable future there will be continued need for a considerable number of bombers and for a variety of other manned systems, and that it is necessary to replace the obsolescent types with newer and better ones."

"For this reason, I am highly gratified to see such aircraft as the F111 and the SR71 and the C141 transport coming into our inventory. Also, I am hopeful that current studies for the advancement of manned strategic aircraft will lead to a suitable replacement for our B52s sometime in the 1970s."

LEGION AT GALESVILLE
GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special). — Plans for Memorial Day will be made by Rowles-McBride American Legion Post 103 Wednesday night in the Curling Clubrooms. Ned Danuser, commander, said. The group also will plan to attend the 10th District spring conference at Osseo May 22-23.

Voice of the Outdoors

A Ten-Pounder

Big walleyes in the five-to-eight-pound class seem common in the fast waters below the dams since the season opened May 1. Many of the fish are females still full of spawn. Most of these have been taken on golden sonar off the Alma float.

Tops among the catch was the 10-pound, 10-ounce beauty caught by Fred Klingseisen, Winona Dam area, which he is holding in the picture. Fred, an ardent fisherman and retired owner of the Golden Frog at Fountain City, was fishing off the Banta float at Alma Tuesday when the big fish hit.

"I thought it was a carp at first," he said, "and tried to shake it off the lure but some one yelled 'pike' and sure enough it was the biggest walleye I ever caught." He was using a sonar.

Joe Stanek, Rollingstone, another Alma float fisherman, got the limit Tuesday. The biggest in his string was an eight-pounder. Several other fishermen got nice catches.

Just before the storm Wednesday, it was shoulder-to-shoulder fishing below the Winona Dam, down near the trees. Most of the score or more of fishermen that crowded together got fish, most of them under five pounds. A few big northerns were caught.

It was tough fishing. The water was rough with white caps breaking and a powerful flood current prevailing. It took a half ounce jig to sink down to where the fish were feeding.

Conditions should improve for the weekend with the continuous drop in the water level. However, it will be hard to locate good fishing spots as many areas are still flooded.

The Wisconsin general fishing season opens tomorrow, May 8, for walleye, sauger, northerns and trout statewide. The two zones system have been eliminated this year for these fish as well as for muskellunge. The bass season also opens south of Highway 64. The northern zone bass season remains closed until June 5.

The Mississippi River zone opened May 1 for all these fish, including bass. There is a continuous open season for white bass, crappies, sunfish, bullheads, catfish and all rough fish.

Big Duck Crackdown

Federal game management agents, assisted by state conservation officers and United States marshals, moved in at daybreak May 3 to arrest or summon 77 persons in 11 states on charges of selling migratory game birds in violation of the migratory bird treaty act. Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall announced.

The charges, which consist of 245 counts of violating the migratory bird regulations, were based on evidence gathered over a 2½-year period by a team of undercover agents from the Fish and Wildlife Service's Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife. During the investigations, the agents made 141 waterfowl "buys," each involving from 2 to 110 birds. In addition, numerous deer, quail and other types of resident game were purchased.

In announcing the early morning operation, Secretary Udall said the bureau has stepped up its undercover work because "killing and selling game for profit is a vicious form of game law violation and particularly damaging to wildlife resources." "The bureau now has several undercover investigators working in various parts of the country and this type of enforcement work is expected to continue," Secretary Udall said.

Although there is apparently no "ring," or connection, among the cases in the various states, simultaneous raids were conducted to prevent any possible advance warning. The states involved include: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, North Carolina, and Virginia. In many cases, state personnel supplied the leads that "tipped off" the federal agents. The charges were processed by the United States attorneys in the various states.

Green Bay Tracks Still Out; Trains Running on NW

Rudolph Hagen, Wisconsin Rapids, superintendent of the Green Bay & Western Railroad, said Tuesday he doubts his company's tracks will be ready for use before the end of May.

About 3,000 feet of track were washed out from Marshland toward Winona during the flooding of the Mississippi River.

The Green Bay sent its last train into Winona April 14. Since then, trains have been traveling westerly to Arcadia and turning around and returning easterly across Wisconsin to Green Bay, connecting with trains going west over the North Western Railway System lines at Merrill Junction.

Saturday night Green Bay brought its first train into Winona in 17 days via the North Western tracks from Marshland.

Legion Study Opposes Taking Viet Veterans

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — An "American Legion special committee has advised against making U.S. veterans of Viet Nam fighting eligible for membership."

In a report to the organization's executive committee, now meeting at national headquarters here, the committee said it recognized that "combat conditions now existing in Viet Nam are creating war veterans."

It added, however, that basing membership eligibility on place of service would violate one of the cardinal principles of the American Legion.

The report said to grant general admission to present members of the armed forces would be letting in many "peacetime veterans."

WHITEHALL, STAND LEASED
WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special). — The A & W root beer stand has been leased by Ray Hagen to Mr. and Mrs. John Giebel and Mr. and Mrs. William Giebel. They will open it Saturday.

De Gaulle Continues To Lose Friends

OF ALL the world's regional groups dedicated to preserving the peace, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization is closest to the grave threat of war.

But SEATO, put together so hopefully on Sept. 8, 1954 as a dike against encroaching communism, was never weaker than it is in the face of the Vietnamese crisis.

When its ministerial conference is held in London this month, France, one of the Big Three members, will not even send an official delegate. The only French on hand will be observers.

President De Gaulle, according to Paris sources, may pull France out of SEATO entirely if the United States asks for a commitment of support in Viet Nam from its fellow members.

It is another step in De Gaulle's continuing drive to win prestige for France at the expense of its closest friends. This time, however, alarm is spreading in two areas of East-West confrontation.

IN SOUTHEAST ASIA other SEATO members fear French efforts for a negotiated settlement favorable to the Communists would write off Thailand, Burma, Malaysia and other small independent countries to the Reds.

In Europe De Gaulle's moves for closer relations with the Soviet Union raised the possibility that he may accept an independent East Germany. This would be a cruel repudiation of the pact of friendship with West Germany. It would be another deadly blow at NATO.

President Johnson's still-standing offer of unconditional discussions in Southeast Asia, once the attacks on South Viet Nam cease, has drawn a line between those who want peace and those who insist on fighting.

It also indicates a course that must be followed to a showdown, no matter what it costs.

IN THAT EVENT France, pursuing its unilateral path, seems certain to be hurt whether the U.S. prevails without French support or the Reds win and take over Southeast Asia.

Police Brutality Charges Answered

THE NATIONAL Conference of Police Associations apparently is planning a nationwide drive to fight back against widespread charges of "police brutality." The significance of this, and its possible ramifications, should be carefully considered not only by law enforcement authorities but by all citizens.

The matter is not at all a simple one. The right is not all on one side or the other. The fact that civil rights demonstrations have touched off many of the instances of alleged brutality and improper conduct by the police in communities scattered over the nation further complicates an already complex situation.

In many places, especially in big cities, the police have been having a hard time of it. There has been increasing lawlessness, and heated defiance of those charged with enforcing the law. Often defiance has become outright violence directed against the police. Sometimes this hoodlumism seems to have infected those ostensibly demonstrating against deprivation of civil rights. And it is demonstrations of this kind, especially, that have given rise to the cry of "police brutality."

Without doubt, this cry is not always sincere nor accurate. Sometimes the line between a peaceful demonstration and a mob out for blood is rather narrow, and a mob cannot be controlled by soft words. It is not "police brutality" every time a policeman swings his club in the heat of a street battle.

BUT WHEN all this has been noted, the fact remains that there has been far too much unquestionable brutality and aggression on the part of police here and there about the nation. Before it lets its sense of outrage get out of hand, the National Conference of Police Associations should think about that. Loose charges of "police brutality" cannot be condoned. But neither can the brutality that has been seen in recent months. There is a heavy responsibility on both sides.

A rash of sexy films is a reminder that space scientists and movie producers have one thing in common: They're both trying to see how far they can go.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Price, Wage Fixing Sought

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — While the Socialist Labor party in Great Britain is trying to "nationalize" the steel industry, right here in Washington the federal government has undertaken to tell both labor and management in the steel business how it thinks prices and wages should be fixed in the next three years.

Congress has passed no law authorizing the executive to set wages or prices, as happens in wartime, but so powerful is the effect of wage and price stability or instability on the national economy that the president, through his Council of Economic Advisers, has decided to "advise" both labor and management in the steel industry what they are to do.

THE ADVICE is centered upon what are called "guideposts," and the theory is that if an industry increases its productivity through new plants or increased efficiency of its workers, then it is in a position to absorb wage increases without increasing prices. The big question is how much the rate of productivity has gone up and how much of a wage increase is consequently permissible.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers has just issued its report, pursuant to a request made by the White House last January. The council, in its official findings, declares that the rate of productivity has advanced in the steel industry about three percent after adjustments for various steel-making operations. It is stated that this is approximately equal to conditions prevalent in the national economy.

When a three percent increase in productivity is conceded, it means that a three percent wage increase in steel is classified as "non-inflationary" and as well within the realm of reasonableness.

THE NATIONAL steel union, on the other hand, may feel that it needs more than a three percent increase per year, and the negotiations which are about to start will find both sides arguing as to whether the productivity rate is as high as the government says it is or higher. Thus, the steel companies are already declaring that their analysis shows productivity has gone up only two percent, indicating that any pay raise larger than that figure would necessitate higher steel prices in order to maintain present profits.

The President's council argues against any increase in steel prices and points out that this could lead to increased steel imports, push up other industrial costs, and perhaps reduce the steel industry's share of the market as compared with substitute materials, such as aluminum, plastics and concrete.

The council's report declares that steel price and costs have followed the general pattern of the "guideposts" in the last five years, and that labor costs have been stable because they are said to have followed a rate of increase comparable to the gain in productivity.

SINCE A three-year contract is what the steel companies are going to be asked to grant to the union, this means a total increase of approximately 13 cents an hour per year, or 39 cents in three years.

The average hourly pay of a steelworker, including the cost of "fringe" benefits, was $4.36 in 1964, and, with a three percent increase, in three years this would amount to $4.75. There is no provision made for any decrease in wages in case business conditions become adverse. The industry would be bound by the contract, and presumably the smaller companies would have to pay the same rates as the larger companies, even though their methods might not be as efficient or their plants as productive.

It is not explained in the council's report just how the steel industry in the next three years is going to be assured of a gain in productivity equal to three percent every year, for nobody knows what business conditions are going to be or what the impact of world markets will be on steel. Nor is there any certainty as to what the demand for steel products will be if business generally should suffer a downturn.

WHAT THE council, in effect, advises is that the steel industry take a chance and grant wage increases on the assumption that business will be just as good in the next three years as it has been in the past three years.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Church Separation, U.S. Oil Behind Dominican Row

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — My first interest in the Dominican Republic came about when my friend, Angel Morales, duly elected vice president of that beleaguered country, was shaving in a New York apartment and had the mirror shot out from in front of him by an assassin sent by a former U.S. Marine sergeant, Rafael Trujillo.

Trujillo exiled Morales and the only elected government Santo Domingo had experienced in 20 years, then ruled the country himself for 31 years.

In 1931, I wrote a series of articles describing him in print as a cattle thief, forger, and convicted mail thief, following which he invited me to stop in and see him while I was en route to the Virgin Islands. I did so.

WE DRANK a bottle of champagne together in the old Faust Hotel, but the visit did not change my opinion of Trujillo, nor the belief that the country over which he ruled was and is troubled by the power of the military, the Catholic clergy, and American oil.

This triumvirate is all mixed up in the revolution now convulsing the Dominican Republic. President Johnson has landed almost twice as many U.S. troops in this small country than the Dominican Republic has in its entire fighting force — for the avowed purpose of suppressing Communism.

There is on file in the Pentagon a list of about 50 Communists participating in the revolt. Some Latin ambassadors in Washington refer to the list as the 57 varieties of Communist pickles. They ask why the United States needs 14,000 troops to combat 57 men.

REGARDLESS of this argument, the background of President Bosch's original troubles dates back to the church and American oil.

Former U.S. Ambassador John Bartlow Martin explained the situation to a closed-door meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee when President Bosch was first ousted. Bosch had just put through a law separating church and state. Hitherto, the church had received direct government funds to pay priests' salaries, and the priests had supervised instruction in all schools.

Bosch, however, followed the same church reform as the 1910 Mexican revolution which separated church and state. Thereafter the church in the Dominican Republic lined up with Bosch's military foes.

Leader of the present military group against him is Gen. Elias Wessen Y Wessen, determined, devout Catholic, who had the all-out support of U.S. Ambassador Tapley Bennett. The ambassador's statement, "perseverance will prove you are right," indicated that the American embassy was in on the ground floor in conspiring against the Bosch forces.

THIRD FACTOR operating against Bosch, when he was kicked out in September, 1963, was the Texas Oil Co. Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., in hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, developed the fact that Duane D. Luther, of Texaco, a former member of the cloak-and-dagger OSS, had contributed $2,500 to Bosch's opponent, Viriavio Fiallo, and was reported to have plotted the anti-Bosch revolt.

When I telephoned Bosch

in San Juan to ask about this, he said he had canceled a contract signed by Trujillo with Shell, the Texas Company, and Esso-Standard Oil to build a local oil refinery.

"Standard retired from the contract in a very gallant way with no demand for indemnification," said the ex-president. "But, the Texas people were very angry. I don't know whether they worked against me or not. I was very busy."

"My estimates showed that in 20 years the refinery contract would have meant a profit of $300 million for Standard, Texaco and Shell. I wanted this to go to the Dominican people, not to foreign companies."

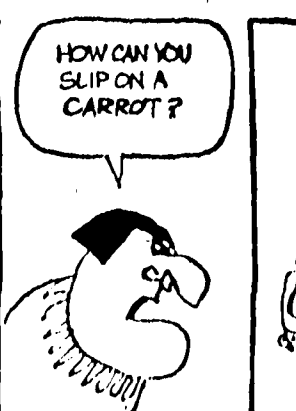

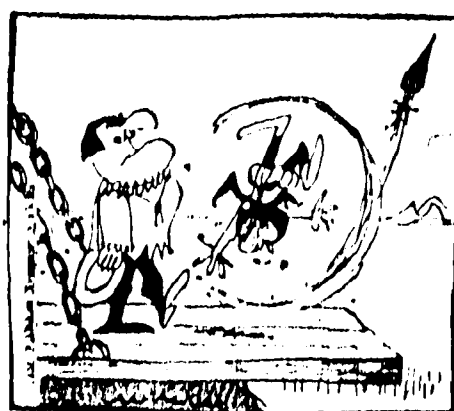

WHEN I telephoned Mr. Luther to get his side of the story, the overseas operator reported that he would not take the call.

Unquestionably there are pro-Castro Communist elements in the ranks of the Dominican rebels. Unquestionably also the Castro forces in Cuba plus the Chinese in Peking would like nothing better than to take over this little country where Christopher Columbus landed over 400 years ago.

"It seemed like so much fun going through the seed catalog imagining it."

Asks Action on Gilmore Petition To the Editor:

Your report in Tuesday's paper of the meeting with the county commissioners to present the petition signed by 20 local residents for the construction of an improved Gilmore Valley Road was substantially accurate. One point, however, should be clarified. The writer did not say at the hearing nor did he intend to imply that the road should be resurfaced without providing adequate drainage or that he presumed to know all that would be necessary to rebuild the road. However, recent correspondence which he recently had with the Asphalt Institute, College Park, Maryland, had led him to believe that the continually deteriorating condition of the Gilmore Valley Road is attributable to "a thin mat or surface treatment of some kind, over a base that is not adequate for the traffic it now carries" rather than from the melting of snow as stated at the hearing by one of the commissioners. Also that the present roadbed should be quite economically converted to a substantial base. And further that a hot-rolled asphalt carpet is one of the most economical and durable of pavements available for the resurfacing of roads.

The county provides reasonably prompt attention to needed repairs which we appreciate. However, neither the continuous repairing nor the county plan for 1967 complies with the wishes of the petitioners, a fact our elected representatives should seriously consider. The petition deserves attention and action, not filing.

Daylight Time and Respect for Law To the Editor:

There has been much said relative to the change to Daylight Time. I should like to call to your attention one phase of this procedure I've not seen discussed so far, namely just how does this effect young people in their respect to law and order? When cities take the reins in their own hands, flaunting state law, just what kind of example are they to young citizens?

How to you expect obedience to your city laws when you do not show like respect and obedience to our own state laws? Why have a state governing body?

After the crisis Winona has just been through, how dare you "thumb your nose," as it were at the law of the proud state of Minnesota?

Senator Praises Flood Efforts To the Editor:

Now that the crisis of the 1965 flood has passed our City of Winona's doorstep, I want to express at this time my intense pride and my most sincere gratitude to the thousands of citizens of Winona and area who have demonstrated their remarkable fortitude, courage, and generosity during this flood emergency.

It would be utterly impossible to personally thank each organization, each volunteer, each unit of government that had anything to do with the flood prevention work in the City of Winona, so I am taking this opportunity to say to all the people involved a very heartfelt thanks for the saving of the great City of Winona. The job which you have done is remarkable testimony to the quality of the people of Winona and all surrounding areas.

I would be remiss if I did not give a word of special commendation to all the news media, specifically the WINONA DAILY NEWS, Radio Station KWNQ and

Techniques Of Surgery Improving

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 90 and have a serious case of prostate gland trouble. Can anything be done without an operation? Do you think surgery is safe for a man my age? — W. A. C.

This question is raised rather often, because severe prostate trouble usually, although not always, tends to develop around middle age or later.

Operations for removal of the prostate are performed successfully on men your age.

In milder cases of prostate enlargement, ordinarily occurring earlier in life, massage and sometimes other treatments often get the organ back into adequate behavior.

BUT WHEN the enlargement is severe and threatens to obstruct urine flow, there is no way of reducing it other than by surgery.

I have always pointed out that no operation is wholly without possible risk. Even the anesthesia may be dangerous for some people; however, this may be true in only a fraction of one per cent. The care and skill of modern anesthesiologists keep this risk at a very small figure.

In addition, techniques of surgery have constantly improved — little by little the safest methods have been developed.

Use of blood transfusions, if needed, prevent shock; antibiotics and sterile operating — room techniques keep the risk of infection low; a whole new art of post-operative nursing and medical care has developed.

SURGERY today is vastly safer than it was only a generation ago. And still another factor is that we have learned more about preparing a patient for surgery beforehand. All of these improvements added together show why men and women in their 90's safely undergo operations which would have been less safe 25 years ago for patients who were far younger.

So much for the operation. Now, what might happen if you don't have the operation? The danger, with an enlarged prostate, can be great. First is complete obstruction of urinary flow — which means that surgery then is absolutely necessary, and it must be done at once, and the danger is much greater because even an interruption for a short time of urine flow weakens you by allowing impurities to accumulate through kidney damage. Second, there is a continued danger of infection developing in the prostate as well as in the kidneys. And third, even if neither of these dangers develops, there is the interruption in your rest at night because the enlarged prostate does not let you empty the bladder adequately, so you have to keep getting up.

City Honor Students Hear Real Good Talk on Speech

By GEORGE McCORMICK
Daily News Staff Writer
English-wise, Bjorn Bjornson gave a real good talk at the Winona Chamber of Commerce education committee's honor student luncheon Thursday.

He said he could anticipate hearing a whole lot of poor English, then he continued on to list some of the errors that are real common.

"He said we should try and avoid these errors and learn to talk good, like educated people should."

Bjornson made his points so clearly and forcefully, in fact, that anyone who heard him Thursday is by now shuddering at the above three paragraphs.

A former newspaperman who is currently public information manager for Northern States Power Co., Bjornson confessed at the outset of his speech that he is a purist — "an ancient order that has been with us since the beginning of language."

He explained that Webster defines a purist as one who is concerned — or, more particularly, overly concerned — with the niceties of language.

"That is I," he declared.

BEING a purist, Bjornson went on to say, is a hobby that is less strenuous than bird-watching, more enlightening than clockwatching but not as much fun as girlwatching.

It is, nonetheless, a "habit hard to break," he said.

The true purist, Bjornson asserted, goes through life looking for examples of the misuse of language and trying to correct them. It is a frustrating task, he said, and — if it does not always make one unpopular — it generally results in one's being taken as another harmless crank.

The purpose of writing — a means of communication with which it is especially familiar — is to convey an idea, Bjornson, a former foreign and Washington correspondent, said. The writer's aim, he said, should be to convey information as accurately and as clearly as possible.

He was critical of writers who begin without first organizing their thoughts.

"Organization is necessary for coherence, and coherence is necessary for clarity," he said.

"When you know what you want to say, say it," Bjornson advised his audience of students and businessmen.

Turning his attention to examples of the "flagrant misuse of words," the speaker said the purist deplores the using of one word in place of another that does not mean precisely the same thing.

HE ILLUSTRATED this by retelling the probably-apocryphal story of Dr. Samuel Johnson ("patron saint of purists"), the 18th-century author and lexicographer, being caught by his wife in the act of kissing the family maid.

"Samuel, I am surprised," Mrs. Johnson was said to exclaim.

"On the contrary, madame," Johnson replied, "I am surprised; you are astonished."

Anyone who fails to get the point of the story should consult a dictionary, Bjornson seemed to imply. (The speaker implies; the listener infers, Bjornson had explained earlier.)

Redundancy — using words that repeat each other — is another common error, the speaker asserted. The habit of redundancy is, he maintained, "the mark of a man who doesn't trust himself" and feels he has to say everything twice.

HE CITED such examples as hot water heater (Why the heater if the water is already hot?), both alike (Can just one of a pair be alike?), free gift (Would it be a gift if it were not free?) and happy bliss (There's another kind?).

He declared the habit businessmen have of filling their letters with "bureaucratic gobbledygook."

"Say what you mean in the simplest way possible," he told his audience.

"I do not mean to imply that English should be static," Bjornson said, but he went on to caution his listeners against changes that are not made sparingly and logically.

He charged his listeners to "cherish your linguistic heritage, and pass it on to succeeding generations with undiminished vigor."

6 Leaving Staff Of Blair School

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — There will be at least six changes in the teaching staff here next term, according to the school board.

Miss Joan Boehmer, physical education teacher, will accept a position in Terre Haute, Ind. It includes a fellowship. John Richert head football and basketball coach this year, has resigned.

Kenneth Stetzer, junior high school instructor this semester, will teach at Wausau. Mrs. J. O. Beadle, Galesville, French and English instructor, is retiring.

Mrs. Richard Fredrickson, who teaches grades 2 and 3, is moving to Arcadia where her husband is a teacher.

Robert Johnson, junior high school instructor several years, will teach at La Crosse and study at La Crosse State University.

Emanuel to Attend New York Session

Joseph P. Emanuel, chairman, division of science and mathematics, Winona State College, will attend a meeting for directors of National Science Foundation Institutes in New York May 17-19.

Responsibilities of institutions which have NSF Institutes in 1965-66 will be discussed.

Winona State has been awarded an NSF in-service institute for biology teachers starting in September 1965. The course will be called "The Collection, Preservation and Identification of Founa of the Upper Midwest." Thirty participants will be selected. Applications may be made to the director of the in-service institute, Winona State.

with "bureaucratic gobbledygook."

"Say what you mean in the simplest way possible," he told his audience.

"I do not mean to imply that English should be static," Bjornson said, but he went on to caution his listeners against changes that are not made sparingly and logically.

He charged his listeners to "cherish your linguistic heritage, and pass it on to succeeding generations with undiminished vigor."

A NATIVE (native-born is redundant, he said) of Minnesota, Minn., Bjornson said he learned to be a purist because he had difficulty speaking Icelandic, his family's native tongue and a common language in his home community.

He is currently the Icelandic consul in Minneapolis. His brother is Val Bjornson, state treasurer.

Bjornson was introduced by Harry C. Hanson, NSP sales manager here. Others at the head table were Richard Alf, education committee chairman; Steve Sadowski, a member of the committee's advisory board, and Harvey Ganong, president of the Kiwanis Club, host group for the luncheon.

CERTIFICATES were distributed to 12 honor students from each of Winona's colleges and high schools. Faculty representatives introduced the students, who came from Winona State and St. Mary's colleges, the College of Saint Teresa and Winona Senior and Carter high schools.

Cooperating with the chamber's education committee, and the Kiwanis Club in sponsoring the luncheon were the American Association of University Women and the Altruist Exchange, Rotary and Lions clubs.

ABBY: to the networks. If enough people express disgust, something will be done. But all one mother can do in the meantime is turn off her set.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the manager of a gas company. We have been married four years and all that time my husband has been trying to persuade my mother to buy a gas stove for cooking. My mother has cooked on an electric stove all her life, and as much as she would like to please my husband, she doesn't think she would be happy with a gas stove. Mother is having her kitchen completely remodeled, and she is putting in a new built-in electric stove. Needless to say, my husband is mad. Do you think he is justified in feeling this way? After all, my mother is the one who has to cook on it.

DEAR DISGUSTED: Yes. You can write to the sponsors of such programs and complain. You can also complain to your local television station and ask them to pass your complaint along and ask them to pass your complaint along and ask them to pass your complaint along.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, have a good job and I am still a good girl. Three years ago I fell in love with a married man. I didn't know he was married at the time. He said he didn't tell me because he was afraid he would lose me. When I found out about his wife I quit seeing him, but I never really completely got over loving him. He saw a friend of mine one day last week and told her to tell me that he was now divorced and he wanted to see me again. How can I find out if he is really divorced this time? Can you help me?

DEAR ONCE: Do not walk — RUN in the other direction. Don't bother to find out if he's really divorced or not. It won't make any difference in his behavior. He could be "free" now, but if you married him he could "forget" to tell the next girl who looked good to him that he is married to you. Lose him.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend who has been the best friend I've ever had for many, many years, and I wouldn't chance hurting her feelings for the world. But here is my problem: She has a dog. And this dog doesn't look too clean or healthy to me. He is old and very devoted to my friend and he doesn't leave her heels for one minute. When I am at this woman's home which she is preparing supper for the two of us, she will reach down and pat the dog's head, and scratch his neck and ears. Then he rolls over and she scratches his stomach. Then she goes right on peeling vegetables and setting the table. Finally she sits down to eat without ever having washed her hands. I have a rather weak stomach and this doesn't set too well with me. I could never tell her, for I do love her a lot, but if you put this in the paper, she might get the hint, as she never misses your column. Thank you.

about My MOTHER

Most all other things come by twos, threes, or even by dozens. See the roses, the stars, the sunsets.

Ah, there's brothers and sisters, too, and uncles and aunts and cousins a plenty. But in all the whole big world there's just one mother. There's much more about my mother and good it all must be. In fact she's as good as goodness is, and that's enough for me. Her words are kind, her faith is strong, and her hope as high as the highest tree. You can see from here that she is a dear, — she means everything to me. Not one single emotion comes nearer the divine than my mother's love for me. She is the soaring cloud of radiant rapture that lifts me to new attempts and the strength I need to see me through. I'm taking my mother to church this Mother's Day — what about you???

Jury Finds Man Not Guilty of Speeding Charge

A municipal court jury deliberated more than 90 minutes before returning a verdict of not guilty in the speeding trial of Scott G. Gerson Thursday.

Gerson, 24, 355 Mark St., was charged Nov. 21, 1964, with careless driving. The charge was reduced to speeding 45 m.p.h. in a 30 zone in March. Gerson pleaded not guilty to the original complaint Dec. 2.

The trial had been set for Dec. 16, Jan. 12 and April 8 before finally taking place Thursday. Gerson's $30 bail was refunded after the jury had given its verdict to Judge John D. McGill.

City Prosecutor James W. Soderberg represented the state in the case. Attorney Dennis A. Challen represented Gerson.

PATROLMAN William J. Gordon, the state's only witness, told how he arrested Gerson Nov. 21 at 1:48 a.m. on Pelzer Street, just north of U.S. 61.

Gordon told the court he was driving west on U.S. 61 just west of the intersection with U.S. 14 when he noted the Gerson car "swerve" out of the Country Kitchen parking lot and head west on the South Service Drive.

The patrolman said that he drove onto Service Drive and followed Gerson, obtaining a clock in the roughly eight-block stretch of Service Drive between Orrin Street and Pelzer Street, where Gerson turned north.

He clocked Gerson at 45 m.p.h. in the 30 zone, Gordon testified; and Gerson did not stop, although the patrol car's red light was on, until he smashed into a parked car on Pelzer Street, just north of U.S. 61.

GERSON testified in his own defense that he was sure he was moving about 20 m.p.h. on the Service Drive. Miss Barbara Glende, 1741 W. Wabasha St., a passenger in Gerson's car, told the court that they had been moving about 20 m.p.h. at the time Gordon said they were moving twice as fast.

Judge McGill instructed the jury — before they began deliberations — that they would be the judges of the credibility of the witnesses. They must decide whom to believe and to what extent they could be believed, the judge said.

Judge McGill warned that the jury should consider only the testimony of the witnesses. Any statements made by the attorneys in the form of questions should be disregarded, Judge McGill instructed.

Jurors were: Harold Hoepfner, 266 1/2 E. Sanborn St.; Mrs. Charles V. Stahmann, 965 W. Howard St.; Edmond Cleminski, 700 E. Broadway; Mrs. Ralph J. Palibicki, 968 E. 5th St.; Norton Cocker, 166 Gould St.; and Mrs. Michael Pampuch, 1024 W. King St.

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — Four cousins of the bride served as acolytes for the wedding of Miss Mary Alice Shankey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Shankey, Arcadia, and Donald Feldner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Feldner, Milwaukee.

The bride's two sisters, Pamela and Clare Shankey, were junior bridesmaids.

All attendants wore spring-blue-colored floor-length gowns of peau de soie. The princess-style gowns had empire waistlines, scoop necklines and short sleeves. They wore circular veils of matching colors fastened by open high crowns of net leaves centered with silver breads and pearls. They wore wristlets and carried balls of daisy mums fastened by ribbons.

Nancy Guza, miniature bride, wore a gown like the bride's. The miniature groom was Mark Feldner, Colgate, Wis.

Girl Scouts Bird Watch At Whitewater

Winona girls were with a group of 150 Girl Scouts Saturday at Whitewater State Park who experienced a special thrill when an uncommon yellow-orange warbler flew in their midst. It was the highlight of their day.

The River Trails Cadettes and Senior Scouts had gathered at the park for a nature workshop of two sessions, one to recognize birds and the other plants.

Mrs. L. E. Brynstad and Mrs. E. S. Kjos accompanied the group who went. They were Cadettes of Troop 600, Central Lutheran Church.

Each girl had the opportunity to watch and practice identifying birds. The alternate session took the girls through the park's Indian Trail, where they studied trees and flowers.

The nature workshop helped girls and their leaders become more familiar with identifications needed for badge work and stimulated their interest in conservation and nature service projects.

Girl Scouts attending were from Albert Lea, Austin, Elgin, Ilkiah, Kasson, Plainville, Rochester, Spring Valley, West Concord and Winona.

Day Lily Culture Outlined for Flower-Garden Club

Mrs. Fred Arett of Albert Lea was the main speaker at the May meeting of the Winona Flower and Garden Club Thursday evening. Her topic was "The Raising of Day Lilies."

Mrs. Arett told the club that some of the things to look for in choosing a good day lily are: Good clean foliage, heavy bud count, good branching, clear color of flowers, and a heavy enough stem to hold up the flower above the foliage.

A good place to plant the day lily is along a north fence as the lily will always turn to face the light, she said. The plant prefers a rich, porous, well drained soil.

Slides were shown of many new varieties of day lilies. The colors ranged from pale pink, pale yellow to melon and dark reds. There are no true blue or purple lilies on the market, the club was told.

A film on "The Flowering Desert" was also shown. The club has scheduled a bus trip for May 22 to The House on the Rocks at Spring Green, Wis.

Soil Untested? Here's Rule Of Thumb

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Dollar-wise it pays to fertilize, according to soil tests, said Harlie Larson, Houston County extension soils agent.

But now it is too late to have soil samples tested for corn plantings as it takes two-to-three weeks to get the result of test and the fertilizer recommendation.

Larson suggests using a general fertilizer of 100 to 150 pounds of 0-0-60 broadcast besides a starter for fields deficient in potash. Potash helps build heavier stalks as well as finishing off a full-size well tipped ear.

Nitrogen is needed on most all fields as a side dressing or broadcast where corn follows corn.

Hay fields and pasture areas need to be included in a good fertilizer management program. If fertilizer is not applied this spring, take soil samples. Fertilize after first cutting, or on pasture land, after first round of grazing. Rotation grazing will give a chance to fertilize on areas which have just been pastured and cattle are fenced out to give it a chance to regrow. Mid-summer fertilizing does need sufficient moisture, Larson said.

Emergency Forage To Be Discussed At Alma Meeting

ALMA, Wis. — A meeting on emergency forage alternatives for Buffalo County farmers will be held at the old courthouse here next Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

Items discussed by Archie Brovold, county agent, and Carl Synstad, ASOS office manager, will be: Evaluation of alfalfa crop; emergency hay crop; green chop alternatives; forage production for winter feeding; fertilization for maximum production; and possible government programs.

108,000 Trees Planted in Houston County

CALEDONIA, Minn. — This spring 108,000 trees are being planted on private and public land in Houston County, Harlie Larson, Houston County soils agent, said.

Of this total, 63,000 were purchased from the state nursery at Willow River by farmers and clubs. Forty-five thousand will be planted on state owned land, according to Philip Vieth, district forester for Houston County.

Tree planting is only one of the important parts of woodland management. Protecting natural stands from fire and grazing, pruning, thinning and selective cutting are other phases of the program.

Marketing may be the cream of the crop, or it may be just skim milk. Consult your district forester for advice in a complete woodland program.

Winona, Area FB Members Attend Sales Tax Rally

Several Winona County and area Farm Bureau members attended a sales tax rally at St. Paul last week sponsored by the Farm Bureau Federation.

They included Elmer Ploetz, Ulica; Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Olson and Clarence Mundt, St. Charles; Lester Ladewig, Stockton; Fred Leitch, Winona; Martin Bakken, Chatfield; and Halvor Lacher, Rushford.

Mundt, Winona County Farm Bureau president, said the all-out effort is "essential if property tax reform is to be passed by this session of the legislature."

"Farm Bureau doesn't like the idea of having a sales tax any more than a lot of other people," he said. "But it is the only method of taxation left to us which will raise enough revenue to replace personal property taxes and give any significant reduction in real estate taxes."

Nitrogen Helps Get Grass Early

ALMA, Wis. — Nitrogen fertilizer on bluegrass pastures is tailor-made for the farmer who is running short of feed and wants early grazing, Archie Brovold, Buffalo County agent, said.

Apply nitrogen early in the spring. Studies have shown that 60 pounds of nitrogen can increase yields by 1½ to two times. A good recommendation would be to apply about 375 pounds of 16-8-8 to the acre.

Grass starts to grow when the soil and air temperature reaches 40 to 42 degrees. But soil organisms do not release enough nitrogen and phosphorus from organic matter until the soil temperature reaches about 50 degrees. Thus there may be a two-to-three-week period when the nitrogen and phosphorus levels aren't sufficient for active growth.

You can stimulate early growth and graze seven to 10 days earlier if you fertilize your pastures with nitrogen, he said.

RURAL ROUNDUP
By FRANK BRUESKE
Daily News Farm Editor

They say a teacher is judged by the accomplishments of his students after graduation. But how would you judge the following situation? Harry Peirce, vo-agriculture instructor at Winona Senior High School, took his FFA boys to the Minnesota FFA convention at St. Paul last week. There his dairy products judging team placed third in state competition and a member of the chapter, Ken Bergmann, was second high individually. But the winner of the event was Osakis High School whose vo-ag adviser is Norman Bohmbach, a former student of Peirce's at Akeley, Minn. We'll keep a keen watch on Peirce's dairy products team next year.

More FFA news: At the district FFA banquet at Adams, Minn., recently Robert Sim, Lewiston, father of retiring district FFA president Gene Sim, and the Lewiston school superintendent, Robert Mohler, received honorary district farmer degrees. Trophies were awarded to the Lewiston chapter for public speaking and dairy products. . . . Lewiston had five FFA members who received state farmer degrees at the state convention. They are Gerald Simon, Larry Rupprecht, Lowell Mueller, Jerry Mueller, and Lyle Kiral. . . . James Rowekamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rowekamp, has qualified for junior membership in the Holstein-Friesian Association.

Area Wisconsin and Minnesota farmers are from 10 days to three weeks behind schedule with field work. Spring plowing is only about one-tenth completed, according to the Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Last year at this time most of the spring plowing was completed. . . . It appears the winter has been very hard on area alfalfa crops. With the shortage of hay last year, many farmers face a more severe hardship this year for feed. . . . A home town product greeted Blair High School seniors as they toured the Museum of Science and Industry at Chicago recently. At the "Food for Life" exhibit, the class saw eggs hatching—eggs which were shipped from Swift & Co. Hatchery at Blair. The hatchery makes weekly shipments of hatching eggs to the museum.

Notice to all french fry lovers: Now USDA has developed new color standards for french fries. By learning the color chart, you will know the quality of the french fries you purchase. . . . Something new in smoked-precoked hams has been developed by USDA. A ham is ready to warm and serve 15 hours after the hog is slaughtered. It can be done with an experimental fast-processing method that may rank as one of the outstanding meat marketing developments of the decade. Scientists cut hog carcasses immediately after slaughter instead of chilling the meat 24 hours before it's cut. After processing, cuts are rapidly chilled in a compartment with temperatures as low as -80 degrees. Hams are pumped with a cold brine solution, defatted, boned and inserted in fibrous casings. They are then held in metal molds eight hours in a smokehouse. Cooling then follows in a quick chilling chamber. If this process is successful as tests indicate, it could mean a savings of millions of dollars to the meat industry.

Winter Kill Heavy In Alfalfa Stands

By OLIVER STRAND
Winona County Agent

LEWISTON, Minn. — Winona County's dairy, beef and sheep producers were dealt another telling blow this spring when many of the alfalfa stands in the country are found to have suffered extensive winter kill.

Much of the new seeding has been killed due to weakening by last summer's drought and the open and icy conditions of the winter months.

OLD ESTABLISHED fields of alfalfa also are badly killed out: Many from 50 to 100 percent due to the ice sheets, late cutting, the lack of winter cover and protection from the cold, or a combination of weakening effects, including the limited subsoil moisture reserve.

The loss of these alfalfa stands, coupled with the serious shortage of hay and feed grain due to last summer's drought, and the lack of pasture due to the lateness of the spring season, has worked a serious hardship on many of Winona County's dairy and beef farmers.

Several possible ALTERNATIVES are suggested:

• If the alfalfa stand contains at least half a stand and some brome grass, timothy or quack, it would be best to leave for hay or pasture for this season. The growth of grasses could be stimulated by application of 50-100 pounds of actual nitrogen or a complete fertilizer containing at least 50 pounds of actual nitrogen.

• If the alfalfa stand is more than 50 percent killed out and no grasses are in evidence, it may be possible to reseed part or all of the field by digging or discing and then drilling in a mixture of legumes and grasses plus some oats for a nurse crop. (The field could then be harvested for hay or pastured on a rotational basis).

• Killed out hay fields, (or substitute fields which were in corn last year) can still be plowed up and seeded to a normal mixture of legumes and grasses with 3-4 bushel of oats per acre. The oats can be harvested early as emergency hay, pasture, silage or green chop and the seeding allowed to develop for next year's hay crop. (An alternative to this would be to seed down this spring with a plowdown or fast growing alfalfa with 3-4 bushel of oats for this year's hay and pasture only.)

• Part of the killed out acreage can be planted to an emergency hay and forage crop such as sudan or a sorghum-sudan cross. This material produces a heavy tonnage of feed during July and August and into September — which is palatable and nutritious if properly handled.

• Many farmers may have to plan for extra acres in corn silage for winter feed for next year. Pit, bunker or stack silos may be necessary to meet this temporary need.

• Any area of permanent bluegrass on the farm should be fertilized with 50-100 pounds of actual nitrogen plus 30-40 pounds of phosphate and potash (or needs as determined by soil test) to insure maximum growth of pasture on these acres — if moisture supplies are adequate.

• Another possibility which has not been fully proven is the establishment this spring of a Flemish type or southern (non-hardy) alfalfa without a companion crop by the use of weed control chemicals such as Eptam or 4 (2, 4-DB). This seeding will become established more quickly without the competition of a companion crop and may permit one or two cuttings of hay under favorable conditions.

WITH THE recent spring rains — and the advent of a few warm days — alfalfa that is alive should now be sending up new growth. Any plants that have black or discolored areas in the crown or root, and which appear stringy and dry with no buds or new shoots, can be presumed to be dead.

Fact sheets on "Sorghum-Sudan Hybrids" and on "Emergency Crops" are available at the county extension office in Lewiston.

Does Farmwife Help Run Place?

MADISON, Wis. — The farmwife who helps with chores and drives the tractor is likely to have a bigger voice in buying equipment for the farm than her house-bound counterpart, says E. A. Wilkening, rural sociologist at the University of Wisconsin.

He based this conclusion on interviews with more than 500 operators and their wives around the state of Wisconsin. Some characteristics of the farm, the husband, and the wife make it possible to predict how much voice the farm wife will have in management and financial decisions.

THE FARMER who has had education and agricultural training, who operates a large farm and who married a girl from town is more likely to make the big decisions by himself on buying land and equipment.

The farmer with a lot of experience, higher education and a higher farm income also is likely to make the farm decisions though he may discuss them with his wife.

But when you consider a farmer who works off the farm at a town job, road work or custom work, the wife is more likely to have a bigger say in the operation of the home farm.

Farm wives' involvement in management depends on how big the family is, how many children are at home, and the stage of the family life cycle. Wives who have a number of young children at home are less likely to be involved in the big farm operation and farm credit decisions.

When the farm wife is the main record-keeper and bill-payer for the farm, who also has more say in land and equipment buying and farm operating decisions.

WILKENING also found out how husbands and wives make household and family decisions. The more educated wife on a big farm with good income is more likely to make independent ent decisions about food and family entertainment.

The husband who works off the farm often becomes less involved in making household decisions as well as farm decisions. But if the wife works off the farm, she is likely to make the main decisions about home furnishings, maintenance, food and entertainment.

The more social activity the farm wife has the more likely she is to take the initiative at home on her family food and entertainment decisions.

This study is a part of a long range one to find out how the farm family is involved in various decisions and duties on the farm and in the home. Wilkening has found that farm wives are involved in many farm operations and that farm children start helping with farm chores at an early age.

Appraisal Set For New High School Tract

Action is expected to be taken Monday night by the Board of Education for the retaining of an appraiser to provide the board with opinions on a valuation of properties to be taken for construction of a new Senior High School here.

Board members met informally Thursday with John Steffen, a Winona real estate man and appraiser during a discussion of school site land acquisition in a 38-acre area south of Gilmore Avenue and west of an extension of Wilkie Street.

STEFFEN, who has been engaged in extensive appraisal work for the state of Minnesota and other agencies, said that he would be willing to make appraisals of the school site properties which will be involved in condemnation proceedings.

His date would be submitted to the board for its consideration in the measurement of damages to property owners in the area. Steffen suggested that it might be a good idea to have another appraiser work with him and said that he could arrange for this if the board felt this should be done.

Directors will be meeting in regular session Monday night and plan to take formal action on retaining appraisers at that time.

Some 17 privately owned parcels are in the area considered as a school site and several acres are park property under the jurisdiction of the Park-Recreation Board which has indicated its willingness to make the tract available for school purposes.

AFTER appraisals have been received the board plans to negotiate with the owners in an effort to come to satisfactory terms. In cases where this can't be realized, parcels would go into formal condemnation proceedings in the District Court where court-appointed appraisers would make assessments of damages.

Even if satisfactory agreements can be reached with all of the property owners, present plans still call for an overall formal condemnation proceeding to insure that clear title is secured for all properties.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told board members that he had contacted the law firm of Streeter & Murphy, as he had been instructed by the board, and the firm would provide opinions on title for each parcel.

JAMES J. Kleinschmidt, a civil engineer and surveyor, attended Thursday's meeting and said that in accordance with instructions from the board he has begun making topographic and site surveys of the area to be used as a school site.

It has been estimated that this phase of the work probably will require about two weeks.

Spring Is Unfolding

OUR fern peonies pushed up through the ground several days ago and the terminal buds are already showing on stems that are only a few inches long. As it breaks through the soil crust in the very early spring, the terminal bud on each stem is protected by the fine fern-like foliage that enfolds it. But just as it emerges above the surface, the leafy foliage opens up and exposes the bud.

The fern peony is the only garden plant that is so precocious, although the buds do not open into blooms until the stems are a foot, or so, in height. The buds of other herbaceous peonies develop only after the stems have attained considerable length and then each stem will produce several lateral buds in addition to the terminal one. The exception to this are the Officialis varieties which have terminal blossoms only, the same as the fern peonies.

Just why there are not more fern peonies in this area we do not know. Along with the tree peonies, we consider them the gems of the peony world. Some years ago a nurseryman stated that they were not reliably hardy in this area, yet we have grown them for many years with practically no winter mulch, dividing and transplanting them as desired.

THE FERN peonies are the first to bloom in the spring, closely followed by the Officialis. Then come the beautiful tree peonies, the earliest of which will often overlap the blooming period of the latter. Some of the earliest varieties of the later herbaceous kinds will start to blossom about the time the tree peonies are at an end. An extended peony season can be had by planting the above types, and a beautiful panorama of color can be obtained.

This is a good time to make a second planting of lettuce and radish seeds for a later supply, as well as onion sets. By making an additional planting, the season for these table delicacies can be greatly extended.

If you left the clematis vines up on the trellises over winter without cutting them down, now is the time to examine them for new growth shooting out on

Welfare Board Tours Watkins Memorial Home

The Winona County Welfare Board, trying to get a first-hand look at a nursing home in operation, toured Paul Watkins Memorial Home Thursday.

They were conducted on their tour by William Werner, county welfare director, who arranged the tour through the courtesy of the Rev. Eugene Meyers, administrator of the home.

The board will tour another nursing home in the future, Werner said.

IN ITS business meeting, the board authorized Werner to write to Rep. Aubrey W. Dirlam, Redwood Falls, chairman of the state House of Representatives committee on rules.

Rep. Dirlam's committee is considering a bill (HF 1738) which would establish a legislative interim commission to study the state's divorce laws and recommend possible changes to the next legislature.

Welfare agencies are interested in passage of the bill, Werner explained, because they are now affected by abuses of present divorce laws.

For example, Werner said, if a divorced mother has no money to pay for the services of a private attorney, she has no way of making her former husband comply with a court order to provide support payments for his children.

This is directly reflected in welfare agencies' caseloads, he contended, because if her former husband will not support the children, the mother must seek aid to dependent children or child welfare grants.

IN OTHER action during the meeting, Werner told the board that his department had participated in a hearing on termination of parental rights this week.

The board discussed plans for a May 18 meeting at which foster parents will be recognized for the services they are providing for the county. It also approved monthly bills.

Present at the meeting was Miss Pauline McNamera, St. Paul, a Minnesota Department of Public Welfare field representative. State law requires that field representatives periodically attend county welfare board meetings, Werner said.

the old stems. New shoots are showing on two of our vines six to eight feet above the ground. The old stems can be cut off just above the top-most new growth. Also, watch for the new sprouts that may appear at the base of the vines and see that they are trained to the trellis.

OUR PLUM trees are full of blossom buds and they will soon be showing on the other fruit trees as well. Unlike apple trees, the plum buds do not grow from a cluster of leaves and thus show up very early. This is a reminder to get the sprayer and spray materials in readiness. It is impossible to have good, clean fruit without adequate spraying.

With ample moisture in the ground and cool weather prevailing in general, the conditions are ideal now for planting trees, shrubs, roses and the perennials that are best planted in the spring such as phlox, mums, delphiniums, coral bells and such. If you have any large bushes of Hills-of-Snow hydrangeas and red spiraea that you would like to dig up and divide, it can be done now even though new leaves are now showing.

Peonies are making good growth and a feeding now will make for sturdier stems and larger blooms. A handful of a complete fertilizer can be scattered in a shallow furrow around each plant about six inches from the base, lightly hoed in and then watered.

Time Differential Affects Alert Of Military Unit

Winona's 419th Civil Affairs Company, Army Reserve, assembled 84 percent of its men within three hours of a practice alert called out of divisional headquarters in Des Moines, Iowa, Thursday evening.

The company's executive officer, Maj. A. J. Kiebusch called it a "low" percentage but explained that the difference in time zones between Wisconsin, Iowa and the various places in Minnesota from which the unit draws its men had had an adverse effect on the exercise.

About 90 percent of the unit's 81 officers and men were notified of the practice alert by telephone or by broadcast notices.

The two Winona radio stations, La Crosse television and radio stations and Rochester television all broadcast the alert about 6:30 p.m. (CDT). The alert reached people at home, in shops and literally walking out of their homes to planned civilian meetings.

At the 419th's armory, 302 E. Sarnia St., incoming reservists were checked to make sure they had brought identification, immunization records and dog tags. Security guards were established at entrances to the armory, and some supply items were checked.

Members of the unit drove in from as far as Cresco, Iowa, La Crosse, Wis., Red Wing, Wabasha, Plainview and Spring Valley, Minn. Next scheduled drill for members of the 419th will be held Monday at 7:40 p.m. CST.

Mele, Griffith Speak of Trades Following 5-1 Loss to Baltimore

ST. PAUL — Calvin Griffith and Sam Mele talked trades for the Minnesota Twins Thursday following the 5-1 defeat by Baltimore and ageless Robin Roberts.

Nothing concrete came out of the session, but Mele confirmed that the pair discussed a variety of trade possibilities.

"We talked about second basemen," Mele said. "We discussed what's available, and we went over a number of names in other departments."

"It all depends upon what's available, and Calvin thinks we'll have a better knowledge of that when outdowntime comes."

Mele said no decisions were made concerning who the Twins may trade, sell or farm out.

when outdowntime comes next Wednesday. The club must get down to 25 players. They currently list 27 on the major league roster and when second baseman Bernie Allen is sent to the disabled list the Twins will have to lop off three players.

Despite the loss to Roberts on his masterful four-hitter—blighted only by Harmon Killebrew's second homer of the season in the fourth inning—Mele assessed the Twins' 1965 start as "looking pretty good."

"Out of the 16 games we've played," Mele said, "we've had only two bad defensive games. The defense has been much better than I thought it would be."

"I say that because of the way Zoilo Versalles and Rich Rollins have played, and because the move of Killebrew to first base is very surprising. I thought it would take him a lot longer to adjust.

"As far as second base goes, it's only a problem because late in the game you've got to hit for Jerry Kindall. We knew from the start that he wouldn't hit a heck of a lot, but he's a decided asset defensively."

"The pitching has been good, and I expect it to get better. I have a heck of a lot more confidence in the relief pitching than I did at this time last year."

"If there has been a disappointment, I guess you'd have to say it's been Tony Oliva's hitting. He should be hitting a lot better. I wonder if his missing winter ball affected him."

Oliva, who got one of the four hits off Roberts Thursday, is batting .347 compared with his American-League-leading .323 last year. Bob Allison and pinch hitter Sandy Valdespino got the Twins' only other hits off Roberts.

Roberts? "He's a master," Mele said.

The Twins and Chicago White Sox open a four-game series with first place at stake in Metropolitan Stadium tonight.

The Sox, leading the Twins by 1½ games, will pitch Tommy John (1-0) against Dick Stigman (0-0). Saturday afternoon, Gary Peters (2-1) goes against Jim Grant (2-0).

OWATONNA, Minn. — Ed Spencer was smiling today after his Winona High baseball team had tumbled up for its District Three tournament debut with its second consecutive Big Nine Conference victory.

The smile was there for more than just the 3-1 victory. There were three other major reasons.

• Todd Spencer, the coach's son and an ace pitcher who has been troubled by a sore arm, worked through seven innings of a four-hitter without apparent pain. He struck out 13.

• With the advent of warm weather, Spencer has been able to see the rapid improvement of his team.

• The infield, a source of concern because of its lackluster attitude, came to life Thursday and pepped it up as the Hawks won.

Winona's next test — the Hawks are 3-2 overall and 2-0 in the Big Nine — will come Monday at Jefferson Field in the District Three tournament.

In addition to the Lewiston at Winona High tournament game Monday, Rochester will make its debut Saturday by hosting Lake City at 2 p.m.

Wabasha will open Tuesday by meeting Kasson-Mantorville at Mazeppa. Dover-Eyota was to host Plainville in another first-round game today.

Spencer's team will meet Lewiston in a game scheduled to get under way at 4:15 p.m. Originally scheduled for 4:45, the game was moved up because the Lewiston Village Council voted to go on fast time Sunday.

AGAINST Owatonna, the Hawks pushed across two runs the first time they were up. "Pepper pot" R. D. Boschulte led off with a single and went to third as Gary Addington singled. Spencer then singled home Boschulte, but Addington was out trying to make third.

After Loren Benz struck out,

Gary Curran walked and John Ahrens hit a one-run single.

IT WENT TO 3-0 in the top of the second as Boschulte was hit by a pitch and stole second. The throw there was high and into the outfield. Boschulte took third, making a wide turn. He wasn't faking as he beat the throw home.

Owatonna touched Spencer for a single run in the fifth. Anderson singled and went to second on a fielder's choice. Losing pitcher Larson pushed him in with a single.

In addition to striking out 13, Spencer walked three.

Boise Flower Fancier to Hear From Cubs' Jackson

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There is a flower fancier in Boise, Idaho, who had better start prettying up his pansies and tidying up his tulips. Larry Jackson is ready to collect on an 11-year-old promise.

Jackson, who won 24 games for the Chicago Cubs last season, was trotting out the first home run in his 11-year major league career Thursday when he thought about his friend back home in Boise.

"My good friend in Boise who promised me a $100 present if I ever hit a homer finally will have to pay off," Jackson mused after his two-run shot helped the Cubs to a 5-3 victory over Pittsburgh.

"He raises flowers, so I might take it out in a hundred bucks worth of poseys."

The homer was one of three hits Jackson collected for a perfect day at the plate. It came off Pirate starter Don Cardwell.

"When I hit that Cardwell pitch, I knew it was gone," Jackson said. "It was quite a thrill."

In the only other National League game Thursday, Los Angeles won its sixth game in the last seven, beating Cincinnati 4-3.

In the American League, Rob in Roberts' fourth straight complete game beat Minnesota for Baltimore 5-1 and the Los Angeles Angels edged Kansas City 5-4.

Jackson, who evened his record at 2-2, yielded three home runs, two to Willie Stargell and one to Jim Pagliaroni. When he walked Bill Virdon with two out in the ninth, Bob Kennedy, the Cubs' head coach, brought in Ted Abernathy. The Pirates loaded the bases before Abernathy retired Manny Mota to end it.

The Dodgers ran their string to four victories in five games since losing slugging left fielder Tommy Davis with a broken ankle.

Dwight Gooden, called up from Spokane two days ago to replace the injured Davis, homered breaking a 2-2 tie in the fourth and Ron Fairly homered in the fifth. Frank Robinson connected for the Reds.

Johnny Podres started for the Dodgers and got credit for his second victory but needed help from Bob Miller when his arm stiffened in the sixth.

Gophers Will Tangle With Michigan '9'

CHICAGO (P)—Michigan, unbeaten in Big Ten action, faces defending champion Minnesota today and meets Iowa in a Saturday doubleheader as the conference baseball pennant race picks up steam.

The Wolverines, playing at home both days, have won their first six starts. Minnesota is 3-3 while Iowa is 2-2.

Michigan's chief threat at this stage is Ohio State. The Buckeyes take a 5-1 mark against visiting Purdue (1-3) Friday, and entertain Illinois (3-3) in a pair Saturday.

Rounding out the weekend slate: Friday's single games— Iowa at Michigan State (3-3), Illinois at Indiana (3-3) and Wisconsin (2-4) at Northwestern (0-6). Saturday's doubleheaders — Minnesota at Michigan State, Purdue at Indiana and Wisconsin at Northwestern.

Wisconsin catcher Grant Beise leads the batters with .615 with shortstop Bo Rein of Ohio State second with .435. They are followed by Joe Romary, Wisconsin, .429; Tom Pugh, Purdue, and Jerry Walker, MSU, each .412; Dick Schryer, Michigan, .407; Bob Maniere, MSU, .391; John Biedenbach, MSU, .385, and Fred Nori, Indiana, and Gary Pinnow, Wisconsin, each .375.

Tops in team batting is Michigan State with .269 while Indiana has .263 and Wisconsin .262. Illinois is No. 1 in team fielding with .964, followed by Ohio State .961 and Minnesota .959.

Steve Arlin of Ohio State is the winningest pitcher with 3-0 and leads in strikeouts with 30.

Will Crowds Bother Braves?

NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves will open a four game stand against the New York Mets in good health tonight except for the possibility of crowd claustrophobia.

Lee Maye, the Braves' leading hitter who was hobbled by a sprained ankle for a week, is slated to start in center field. Rico Carty, sidelined by an ailing back, will also be ready for outfield duty.

The Braves, who drew only 2,404 fans in taking the last two games of a home stand from Houston, will be on the road until May 18. Milwaukee is in fourth place; the Mets, who have attracted throngs by their ingenuity in losing, are tied for last.

Denny Lemaster, 1-2, will start for the Braves tonight against Jack Fisher, 0-3. Tony Cloninger was named to pitch Saturday and Bob Sadowski, idled by a twisted knee, will return to action in Sunday's doubleheader. Wade Blasingame, 14-inning hero for the Braves against Houston, will hurl the other half.

The Braves trimmed their roster to the 25-man limit Thursday by deciding to cut Hank Aaron's younger brother, Tommie, and pitcher Federico Chi Chi Olivo.

Tommie Aaron was optioned to Atlanta of the International League, subject to 24-hour recall. It was the last option allowed for the first baseman.

Olivo accompanied the club to New York, pending assignment. The 25-man deadline is Tuesday.

Meanwhile, a Braves official expressed optimism that crowds would increase when the club returns home.

Assistant General Manager Jim Fahning blamed the sagging attendance, which hit an all-time low Tuesday night with only 913 paying to watch the Braves, on the chilly weather.

"It wasn't too pleasant an evening for the fan in the stands," said Fahning. "Still, being honest, this April has been no different than any other April."

He added, "I'm looking for the club to really start rolling on the road," and predicted this might relieve the box office boycott.

Roberts Looks For Snake Oil

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

How long can Robin Roberts go on?

That just might depend on his supply of snake oil.

"I hear Satchel Paige found some snake oil in Venezuela. He rubs on his arm to keep it young," Roberts said recently. "If I can find some, I just might pitch 'til I'm 56."

With 18 years to go, Roberts should have little difficulty reaching the 300-victory circle.

The 38-year-old Baltimore right-hander stepped up to still another plateau Thursday when he posted the 275th victory of his 18-year career by subduing the Minnesota Twins 5-1 on four hits.

It was Roberts' fourth victory without a loss this season, lowered his earned-run average to a sparkling 2.37 and revived the questioning about his chances of joining the select group of 14 pitchers who have won 300 or more major league games.

"Getting 25 more doesn't seem so big right now," Roberts said after he had handoutted the Twins. "The way I'm going, it should come right now. I'm not thinking too much about it. I imagine it will mean most after I'm through playing."

Then the modest pitcher who started out as a Whiz Kid with Philadelphia and eventually came to the Orioles in 1962 after getting his release from the New York Yankees had an after thought about his climb up the victory ladder past some of the game's greats.

Brown Speaks to Champs At Alma Athletic Fete

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — Dave Brown, assistant basketball coach at the University of Wisconsin, spoke briefly and deftly to athletes and guests at the annual athletic banquet here Thursday night.

After assuring his guests that the Badger staff was, indeed, aware of Alma's 1964-65 athletic accomplishments (8-1 football record, 23-1 basketball mark), the muscular graduate student swung into his address, which dealt with the word champs.

After dwelling briefly on the fact that the Rivermen won 23 straight basketball games on their way to the West Central Conference title and a second-place finish (they missed the state tournament by a single game) in the La Crosse Logan Sectional, Brown pursued his angle — speaking to the champs.

"C, is for courage," he said. "Just simply having guts enough to do something."

He carried through, each letter having a meaning such as honesty, ambition, manliness, patience and sacrifice.

"Remember, the only difference between champ and chump is 'U' (you)," he finished.

Brown was introduced by master of ceremonies, the Rev. Gene E. Krueger, pastor of the Alma Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Rev. Krueger called on coaches Lynn Iverson (football and track) and Greg Green (basketball and baseball). Each introduced members of their teams as well as assistant coaches Lance Carroll and Bob Wemette, who spoke.

Marshall Seymour, football co-captain, and Larry Kreibich, football co-captain and honorary basketball captain, reviewed their seasons and thanked the fans for their support.

Dave Antrim then presented basketball coaches Green and Wemette with gifts. Seymour explained that the football coaches had received gifts at a parents' night prior to the season.

Rev. Krueger also introduced Mrs. Arlie Everson, director of cheerleaders. She spoke and then was presented with a gift by Barbara Bauteh.

Rev. Krueger, who speeded the evening by awarding numerous gifts to the people he called on, was introduced by Superintendent of Schools Vernon Martzke. Martzke also called on Wilfred Hetrick, who welcomed the guests on behalf of the Alma Booster Club, which sponsored the event.

A John Harmon chicken dinner was served by members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Wealthy Bride Of Judge Lost On Yacht Trip

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Coast Guard planned to widen its search today for Eileen Jeffers Yager, wealthy bride of a Los Angeles judge. She is believed to have fallen overboard Thursday from the couple's chartered honeymoon yacht.

Superior Court Judge Thomas C. Yager, 47, said his wife vanished while he was below deck. "It was my recollection," he said, "that she was behind the wheel."

He called her disappearance "the most tragic thing that has ever happened to me."

Mrs. Yager, 61, heiress to a railroad fortune, married the jurist last Monday in the private chapel of James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles. Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight was best man.

It was the first marriage for each.

The couple was returning from Santa Catalina Island aboard the yacht "Care Free" when Mrs. Yager presumably fell overboard.

Mrs. Yager, the adopted daughter of the late William M. Jeffers, retired president of the Union Pacific Railroad, was his chief beneficiary when he died in 1963.
