Russians Trying for 'Soft' Moon Landing

MOSCOW (AP) — The unmanned Soviet spaceship Lunik 5 hurtled toward a rendezvous with the moon tonight. The Russians hoped it would land gently and start sending back information needed for a manned flight to the moon.

The 3,250-pound spacecraft, launched Sunday from an orbiting earth satellite, was expected to come down gently near the moon's south pole on a plain known as the Sea of Clouds.

The official news agency Tass said that at 2 a.m. Moscow time — 6 p.m. EST Tuesday — Lunik 5 was 2,900 miles from the moon and 206,250 miles from the earth. Tass said it would reach the moon about 10:15 p.m. — 2:15 p.m. EST.

The United States does not plan to soft-land an instrument package on the moon until 1966. If Lunik 5 succeeds in letting itself down gently on the moon's surface, it will take two big steps forward in the space race.

1. It can sit on the surface and radio back to earth data, of a kind that it has not been possible to obtain from photographs made by craft that crashed into the moon.

2. It will show whether a man can land on the moon with presently available types of space systems.

Tass said that "elements of the system of soft landing on the moon are being tried out for the first time on the automatic station Lunik 5."

An earlier version of this announcement said only that the spacecraft carried equipment for a soft landing.

Previous Soviet and American moon shots have either crashed into the moon, stopping the flow of radioed information, or missed it.

New Military Pay Increase Asked by LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to give pay increases costing $553 million a year to military personnel and federal white-collar workers.

Johnson, in a special message, proposed a three per cent across-the-board pay raise for all civil service workers, postal employees and members of the foreign service.

The only ones within the executive branch excluded from the proposed increase would be the top policymaking officials and some 600,000 blue-collar workers whose pay already is geared to prevailing wages in the communities where they are based.

For military personnel who have had at least two years of service, an average increase of 4.8 per cent in total compensation — base pay plus allowances and fringe benefits — was proposed. Enlisted men who have served less than two years would get an increase averaging 2.7 per cent.

In another major proposal, Johnson asked Congress to authorize a government wide salary review every four years that would compare federal pay with compensation offered by private industry.

Caamano, however, in an address over the rebel-held Radio Santo Domingo said: "I will not take a step backward in spite of the enormous U.S. force."

He derided the junta as "an inept force" and charged anew that President Johnson sent 20,000 soldiers and Marines to the Dominican Republic on the false assumption that the country was threatened by a Communist takeover.

Caamano has refused to meet with Imbert until he purges several leading officers from the armed forces. His chief foe is Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, commander of the San Isidro training base, who directed the forces that opposed Caamano's rebel forces.

U.S. Embassy officials said Monday that Wessin had agreed to resign but later changed his mind. Imbert said Tuesday he would accept Wessin's resignation "if it is his wish."

Liberals Fight White House on Poll Tax Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican led the charge today as the Johnson administration fought to have the House Judiciary Committee strike an outright ban on state and local poll taxes from the voting-rights bill.

Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, senior Judiciary Republican, was fronting for the Democratic administration for a good reason: the Democratic chairmen wouldn't.

Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York is siding with other liberals — and fighting the White House — on this issue.

President Johnson needed plenty of Republican help Tuesday to keep liberals from attaching a poll-tax ban to the bill in the Senate. He got it on a 49-45 vote, largely because GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen supported him as he has consistently on civil rights legislation.

Twenty-five Republicans joined 24 Democrats to defeat the ban, proposed as an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. The late President John F. Kennedy's brother was backed by 38 other Democrats and 6 Republicans, including the assistant GOP leader, Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California.

Celler predicts the poll-tax amendment will be kept in the bill by the committee. As chairman he has considerable influence.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach contends a flat legislative ban on the poll tax would be of doubtful constitutionality.

Mississippi Voters Back To Democrats

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Democratic candidates smashed the Mississippi Republican party's first efforts to win voters in municipal primaries and today turned toward completing their victory in the general election.

The GOP staged its first primaries in three cities Tuesday, but its candidates drew little more than token votes. Unopposed Republicans in 15 other municipalities will join GOP primary winners in facing Democrats in the general election June 8.

Republicans had primary elections for mayor in Hattiesburg and Laurel and for city council posts in Pascagoula. In each case, the Democrats outpolled the Republicans by 9-1 margins.

Wisconsin Flier Killed in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy Cmdr. James D. La Haye, 42, a native of Green Bay, Wis., was killed in North Viet Nam Saturday, the Pentagon confirmed Tuesday.

La Haye graduated from West Green Bay High School and from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. He is survived by his wife, Gloria, La Jolla, Calif.

The Oklahoma Education Association board of directors appeared more reluctant to go along with the vote Tuesday at a statewide meeting. The parent National Education Association agreed to apply nationwide sanctions against the Oklahoma school system.

House Debating Income Tax Hike

ST. PAUL (AP) — Both houses of Minnesota's Legislature were deep in proposals today that raise money to finance operations of the state's many departments.

Slated for debate today by the full House was a $50 million revenue bill based exclusively on income tax changes.

In action late Tuesday, the Senate passed its first spending bill, setting aside $83 million to operate state departments.

The House also passed an appropriations bill for state departments, calling for an expenditure of $80.8 million.

The Senate passed its own version of a welfare money bill, that carries a price tag of $170.2 million, while the House passed a welfare bill called for an appropriation of $172.6 million, with 600 new jobs in state hospitals for the mentally retarded.

By a vote of 60-0, the Senate passed its $23.3 million Highway Department administration, safety plant and equipment bill, and voted 48-12 in passing its $2.7 million semi-state activities bill.

The Senate Finance Committee approved the largest appropriation bill in Minnesota history Tuesday. It sets aside $537.6 million for education in the next two years. The figure is $102.9 million more than the 1963 appropriation and $1.8 million less than recommended by the governor. The House Appropriations Committee bill totals $498.6 million.

The House Tax Committee's $50 million revenue bill was a disappointment to backers of sales taxes and other measures billed as "tax reform."

Its main features are a 1 per cent increase in income tax rates for all individuals, elimination of the present 15 per cent surtax on individual taxes, increased tax credits and a corporate tax "speedup."

"This is a bill which will balance the budget," said Rep. R. W. Johnson of St. Paul, vice chairman of the tax committee.

He said it is based on a need for about $100 million in new revenue, of which $50 million will come from economic growth and resulting higher yields from existing taxes.

It makes no provision for tax relief for the elderly, a subject covered in more than a dozen bills and asked by Gov. Karl Rolvaag. But Chairman Roy Dunn said the bill "does not preclude" later action in this field.

He and Johnson noted that any attempts at tax relief would require more revenue to pay for them.

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee has approved the largest single appropriations bill in Minnesota history.

The bill, calling for $517.6 million for education in the next two years, was approved Tuesday.

It is $102.9 million higher than the current biennium appropriation, and nearly $19 million higher than the funds approved by the House Appropriations Committee.

Conference committees of the two houses now will meet in an attempt to reconcile the differences.

The big difference between the Senate and House bills is in the amount set aside for school aids. The Senate version is $16.5 million higher than the House appropriation.

The Senate bill provides $347.7 million for school aids, which is $67.4 million above two years ago; $98.4 million for the University of Minnesota, up $22 million; $26.9 million for state colleges, up $7.9 million; and $7.5 million for junior colleges, up $4.1 million.

The proposal provides for 427 new faculty positions at the five state colleges, 427 at the University of Minnesota and 267 at the junior colleges. It provides for faculty pay increases of six per cent each of the next two years.

The measure proposes tuition increases of 75 cents per credit hour at state and junior colleges. Sen. Robert Dunlap of Rochester, chairman of the Education subcommittee, said this would bring tuition costs to $5 per credit hour at state and junior colleges compared with $8 at the university.

A supplementary appropriation of $40,000 per year is provided to buy library books for Bemidji, Moorhead and Winona and the new southwest college and $60,000 per year for Mankato and St. Cloud State colleges.

Provision is made for 97 new civil service positions at the state colleges, 300 at the university and 44 at the junior colleges. Civil service employees in the schools would be granted the same pay raise as other state employees under civil service, about four to five per cent.

The junior colleges allotment provides for staffing and maintaining the present 11 junior colleges. Money is also provided for the proposed new Northwestern Minnesota junior college and one new junior college in the metropolitan area in 1966, and for two new junior colleges in the metropolitan area in 1967.

The House bill contains a section creating an 18-member Minnesota liaison and facilities commission to replace two present commissions and prepare a long range plan for public higher education.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Nearly 1,000 U.S. Army paratroopers and another combat battalion of 1,400 U.S. Marines landed in South Viet Nam today.

The paratroopers are members of the 173rd Airborne Brigade who came by boat from Okinawa to join about 2,000 members of the brigade already in Viet Nam. A U.S. spokesman said they would help defend American installations at the Bien Hoa air base 20 miles north of Saigon.

The Marines landed at Chu Lai, 52 miles southeast of the strategic U.S.-Vietnamese air base at Da Nang. They boosted to 14,000 the force of leathernecks thrown into the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

The Marine landing lacked the usual fanfare of pretty girls with flowers and official welcoming parties. A spokesman called it a "routine administrative affair."

The new arrivals raised the total U.S. military force in Viet Nam to about 46,500 men.

The paratroopers included an artillery battalion which its commander, Lt. Col. Lee E. Surut, 40, of New York City, said would be the Army's "largest single concentration of firepower in the country." He said it is the first Army artillery sent to Viet Nam.

The landing heightened speculation that the entire 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa eventually would be committed to the fight against the Viet Cong.

To the south, the battle for the provincial capital of Song Be appeared over as an estimated 1,500 Communist guerrillas pulled back into the hills after a fierce day-long struggle that cost the lives of five American military advisers and 27 of the Vietnamese defenders.

The Viet Cong overran Song Be, 74 miles north of Saigon, early Tuesday and held it for seven hours until U.S. air strikes opened the way for Vietnamese troops to retake the town of 15,000 people. Thirteen Americans and 60 Vietnamese were wounded. Viet Cong losses were estimated at up to 170 killed.

Campaign for Christ

- In this day of despair philosophy one of the philosophical problems that man faces is his estrangement from any certain spiritual values. The scriptures teach that man is inadequate to meet by his own wisdom the real issues of life. As the apostle Paul would put it, we are not sufficient of ourselves for our sufficiency is from God. No victorious, triumphant, confident life can be lived without His power and strength.

Area Highway Men Check on Uniform Signs

The Winona County highway department is host today to 35 city, county and state traffic officials attending a conference on uniformity in traffic signs.

Persons taking part in the program represent six counties, three cities and the Minnesota Department of Highways. The conference will end tonight with a demonstration of reflective signs in a test area, which probably will be set up along 6th Street in Goodview (County State Aid Highway 32).

PURPOSE OF this conference, which began at 2:30 p.m., is the ultimate standardization of all road signs throughout the state, according to Gordon M. Fay, county highway engineer and coordinator of the event.

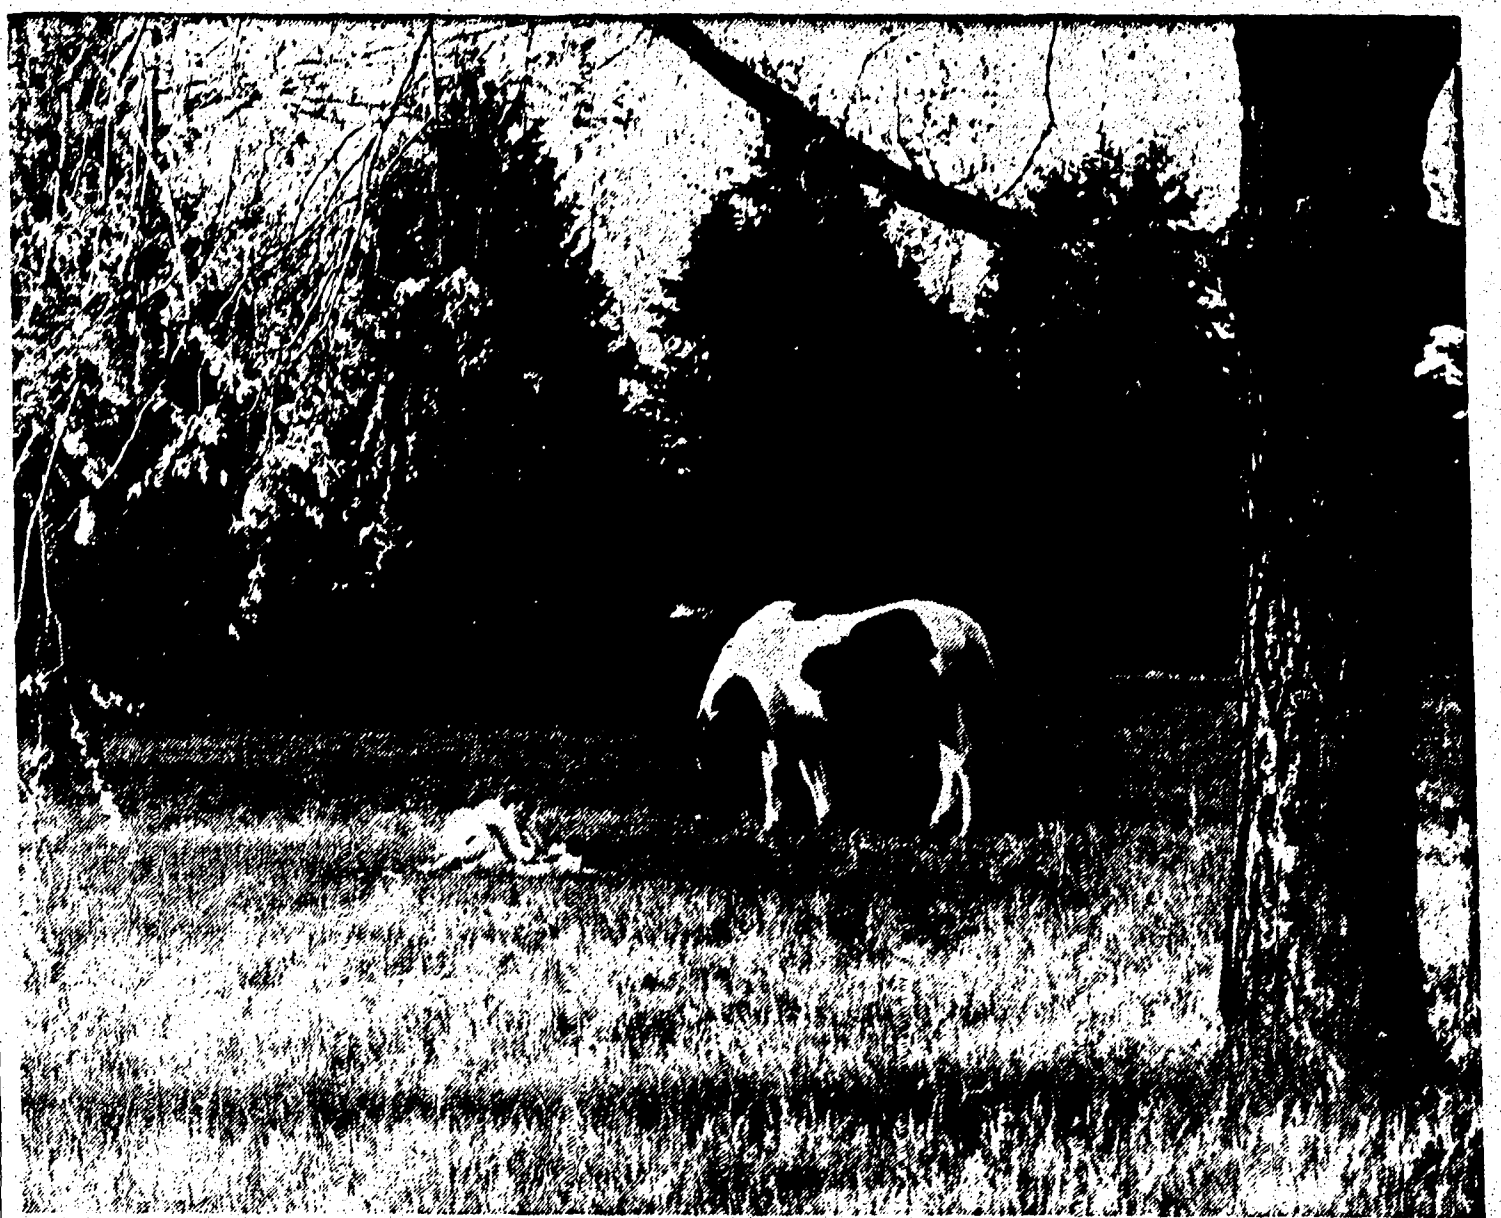

Currently, he said, many localities, including large metropolitan areas in the nation, use signs which no longer conform to standards prescribed by the federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Size, shape, color and placement of the signs vary with individual preferences of those responsible for them in different communities, he pointed out. This could result, he said, in a motorist from one town being confused by traffic signs in another community.

Fay said the sign clinic was being offered to bring city, county and state officials together to discuss mutual problems and to promote national standards in traffic signs.

NEW PRODUCTS and techniques in sign-making were demonstrated by Charles Wold, St. Paul, a representative of Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co., which makes several traffic-control products.

The conference is being attended by engineers and commissioners from Goodhue, Wabasha, Olmstead, Houston, Fillmore and Winona counties; the cities of Winona, Rochester and Red Wing, and state aid and traffic groups from the state highway department.

Case Settled; Jury Drawn For New Case

Another case was settled today in District Court; and the jury panel, except for 12 drawn Tuesday, was dismissed until Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. CST.

The case settled was Abts Agency, Inc., 159 Walnut St., against William Schott Jr., Lewiston. The agency claimed that Schott owed it $603.69 on various insurance policies. Schott had made no answer to the complaint before the beginning of the spring term, April 19.

Attorney Martin A. Beatty represented the agency. Attorney S. A. Sawyer represented Schott. Terms of the settlement were not revealed.

TWELVE jurors were drawn Tuesday morning to try the case of Miss Carol J. Halverson, Fountain City, Wis., against Martin Lubben, Kenosha, Wis. The case is scheduled to begin Thursday at 8:30 a.m. CST.

Miss Halverson charges negligence on the part of Lubben, who was driving the car on U.S. 61 at La Crescent, Minn., in which Miss Halverson rode when an accident occurred July 29, 1963. The Lubben car went off the road, and Miss Halverson claims $15,000 damages for the injuries she allegedly suffered.

Lubben has answered that he was not negligent and that Miss Halverson assumed voluntarily any risk involved in riding in his car. Lubben adds that if the girl received any injuries it was through her own negligence or through the negligence of others over whom he had no control.

Attorney Roger P. Brosnahan represents the plaintiff. Attorney Robert G. Hull represents the defendant.

THE 12 JURORS selected to hear the case are: Dana Borowski, Mrs. John Brand, George R. Goudge, Miss Helen M. Knapikowski, David J. Koubas, Howard Lee, Frank Stork, Mrs. John L. Steadman, Mrs. LaVane Stinson, Floyd Wood Jr., Willis Tulare and Mrs. Richmond H. McCluer.

When the full panel returns Tuesday, a jury will be selected to hear the case of Phyllis C. Holliday, no address given, against Anita Johnson, no address given, and General Accident, Fire and Life Assurance Co. The suit, for $80,000 damages, arises from a traffic accident July 29, 1963, near Lexington, Ky.

School Overtime Work for Flood Gets Board OK

The recent flood emergency, members of the Board of Education learned Monday night, resulted in a considerable amount of overtime work for members of the public schools custodial staff but wages paid for emergency work probably will be reimbursed as an emergency flood expense.

Of the total of $1,742 in overtime claims by custodians for the month, $1,392 were incurred during the emergency period.

THIS INCLUDED time put in over the Easter weekend when custodians were called in after water backed up in the faculty dining room in the basement of Senior High School, work performed on the dike system in response to a city request that any available personnel in the community be made available for the flood-fighting effort, and custodians on duty during the time the high school building was used as an evacuation center.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson said that he had talked to custodial personnel at the outset of the emergency and they agreed that all overtime work put in because of emergency conditions would be paid for on a straight time basis.

OTHER Payrolls approved were:

Homebound teachers, $1,110; substitute teachers, $562; remedial reading instruction, $230; miscellaneous instruction and services, $1,791; noon hour supervisors, $531; student cafeteria helpers, $325; and relief custodial work, $267.

River Dragging Resumed for Drowning Victim

Dragging operations resumed today under better conditions at a washout on the Burlington Railroad line, two miles east of Winona Junction, where a construction worker drowned Friday night.

Buffalo County Sheriff Myron Hoch, with other county officials and members of the state Conservation Department, resumed his dragging this morning for the body of Gilbert Erickson, about 55, Lindstrom, Minn. Conditions were improved over Tuesday because the washout has been closed by an earth-dike.

The closure cut off the swift current which had hampered dragging operations since Friday and which had carried Erickson to his death.

The dead man's body had not been found by noon. Erickson was an employee of Markham Bros., a St. Paul construction company, which is a subcontractor on the job of restoring breaks in the Burlington line in this area.

Firemen Called To Durand Farm

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — Durand firemen were called to the Ronald Helmueller farm, rural Arkansas, at 8:55 p.m. Tuesday, but when they got there, the blaze had been controlled.

Helmueller had been working his tractor hard in the field, getting his crops in. He stopped at a gasoline barrel in the area of the barn to fill the tank, spilled a bit of gasoline, and the heated tractor ignited the fuel. He called firemen in case flames should get out of hand and reach the barn. Only paint damage resulted.

$848,000 Building Program for WSC

The building program of the Senate Finance Committee has retained the program recommended for Winona State College, although the entire statewide, two-year plan is $8 million less than that recommended by the State Building Commission.

In St. Paul Tuesday the Senate Finance Committee approved a bill which apparently includes the following projects for Winona State:

- $736,000 for a music-speech-drama classroom building.
- $82,000 for Somsen Hall remodeling.
- $30,000 for the heating plant expansion.

Total is $848,000.

IN ADDITION it was believed that a $43,000 item for preventive maintenance would be included in an overall $1.6 million program of building repairs recommended by the committee for financing out of the general revenue fund. In addition, the college would share in the $1.5 million item for land acquisition.

Consequently, the Winona State building program for the next two years, as contained in the senate committee's report is virtually identical to that recommended by the commission.

Also part of the committee's recommendation is an appropriation to the State College Board as the state's share of a revenue bonding program to finance student housing and food facilities.

Under this proposed program Winona State is slated to get a 400-bed residence hall, double the size of the two recently built on West King Street.

THE SENATE committee made only one substantial reduction in programs for the state colleges from the recommendations of the building commission. Mankato State is cut from $2.2 million to $1.3 million. Major allocation is to start building the new southwestern campus at Marshall; $5 million.

Although the senate committee now has followed the commission's recommendations, relative to Winona State, the commission itself last year cut back sharply requests of most of the state colleges. For example, Winona State asked for a field-house and for a theater in conjunction with the music-speech-drama building. With that included the estimated cost was $1,395,000.

STOCKTON, Minn. (Special) — Time marches on!

Only it marches a little slower in the village of Stockton, which is a state island. It is completely surrounded by towns on DST.

"I am definitely opposed to changing to DST at this time because it is against the state law," says Mayor George Hinton.

The committee also approved a $1.6 million program of building repairs to be financed out of the general revenue fund.

Of the total building program, $20 million would go to the University of Minnesota, with $11.8 million for the Minneapolis campus, $4.4 million for the St. Paul Campus, $1.8 million for Duluth and $1.5 million for Morris.

Other allocations would include: Junior colleges, $6.9 million; Rochester, $1.8 million; Virginia-Evelth, $1 million; Fergus Falls, $500,000; Hibbing, $1 million; Itasca, $250,000; and Brainerd, $270,000.

It Happened Last Night

Chow Mein and Champagne Feed

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There was a royally a go go (that means "in abundance," or galore, in French) at El Morocco the other morning, when Princess Grace of Monaco met Princess Benedikte of Denmark. A Danish diplomat took Princess Benedikte, who was being given a party by New York City with Deputy Mayor Cavanagh as host, over to Princess Grace's table. Princess Grace arose, and the Princesses shook hands and "conversed." "I was delighted to meet her," Princess Grace said later. If there was anything significant to their meeting, it was that Princess Grace's supper was chicken chow mein and champagne. Unless Grace is careful, she will find herself the inventor of a chicken chow mein and champagne diet, which Joe E. Lewis would find so convenient — because you could order your diet by the magnum.

Johnny Rivers, the 24-year-old guitar-plucker from Louisiana, is a big hit at the Copacabana (along with Pat Morita, the Japanese comedian) — Johnny's most sentimental love ballad, I suppose, is "Shake It, Baby." In acknowledging that this rock music was unusual for the Copa, boss Jules Podell boasted, "I change with the times." Ella Fitzgerald who opened at Basin St. was swaddled in a gown of electric blue with brilliant on the sleeves and around the waist. It was an unforgettable effect. Happy Fishermen

These two youngsters are mighty proud of their trout, William, 8, and James, 12, are sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson, 233 W. Howard St. and grandsons of the late Harold A. Nelson, Daily News employee.

The two boys were taught the knack of getting trout by their grandfather, an ardent Whitewater trout fisherman, who always carried a trout rod in his truck on the newspaper route and stopped occasionally to get a few trout at a favorite spot on the Whitewater.

The fish, part of a creel of 14 ranging from one-quarter to three pounds, were caught in the South Branch of the Whitewater opening day. Their grandmother, Mrs. Florence Nelson, lives at 729 E. 4th St.

River Boating Boating has come back to the river. Speedboats were out in force over the weekend on most of the pools. Many of them were out-of-town craft hauled to the big river on trailers. They were having fun cutting circles below the dams and in the pools.

Few large pleasure boats have yet appeared, most of them are in port since the harbor facilities have not generally been restored since the flood. By next weekend, the river should be down to near a normal stage and pleasure boating will be having its warm-up for the Memorial Day holiday.

With the big roller gates at the dams high up, small boats are not waiting to be locked through but are running under the rollers. This is illegal and hazardous, according to Army Engineers locking instructions. It is done mostly by local boats. Inland owners follow instructions and lock through properly.

A weekend tour of the Austin Boat Club was told not to come last weekend because of the lack of launching facilities here. Many of the local boats were launched from the landing near the bathhouse.

No fishing boats have yet tried fishing in the strong current below the dams. It is mainly off shore fishing and from boats hugging the lock walls or shore line. "These fishermen have been getting fish about on par with the shore fishermen."

Musky Cross The first attempt in Iowa to cross a muskellunge with a silver northern pike has apparently been successful, the State Conservation Commission fisheries personnel has announced.

A report from the Spirit Lake Fish Hatchery where the experiment is taking place indicated that eggs striped from a silver northern and fertilized with muskie milt have begun to hatch. The hybrid fish looked normal according to hatchery personnel, and it is estimated that 10,000 fry may be obtained, if the survival rate is comparable to that of the parent species.

The experiment began nearly two weeks ago when a "ripe" male muskie was captured in Emerson Bay in West Okoboji. It was decided to attempt the muskie-northern cross. The silver northern is a color phase subspecies of the northern pike. It was netted in Spirit Lake.

When all the hybrid eggs hatch and become "normie" fry, the fish will be placed in rearing ponds at various fish hatcheries in Iowa until they reach a size suitable for stocking. If enough fry are raised successfully, they will be stocked in several Iowa lakes which would provide varied habitat and on which annual surveys are made so progress by the fish can be checked.

The fish will be identifiable as northern pike and fishermen can legally take them. There is a closed season on muskies which are present only in West Okoboji and Clear Lake as a result of stocking.

Meeting Movies and slides of the flood on Prairie Island and the Izaak Walton League deer park will be shown by Gil Hoesley at the May meeting of the local Ikes chapter at their cabin Thursday evening. There will be lunch and refreshments.

Federal Aid Request Set At La Crescent

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — La Crescent Village Council will apply for federal funds for help in rebuilding area roads damaged by the flood.

Robert Kies will gather reports and prepare documents.

MYRON WALDOW, village engineer, said about 2,000 yards of fill will be needed to repair the break in the Shore Acres road. He said blacktop on the south branch is ruined and shoulders undermined. Harold Vetsch, head of the maintenance crew, said big holes have been filled in.

Street Commissioner Roger Ulrich said full damage to the main Shore Acres Road is being determined now; all water didn't leave the roadway until Tuesday. He reported about 100 loads of shale was obtained from the La Crescent pike diking and stockpiled near the sewage disposal plant for filling in the Acres road and new dump site road, also inundated.

Mayor William Mishler said special thanks should be given all persons helping in flood control, including crews working day and night an entire weekend to protect the new disposal plant; Minnesota Highway Department and S. J. Groves & Sons; contractors; auxiliary police, and persons who cooperated in staying away from problem areas.

AT A SPECIAL meeting Monday at 7 p.m. DST applications will be received for water meter reading. Persons interested may apply to clerk Kies. Robert Rybold will continue working until June 1 at $1.50 an hour.

Bids for redeveloping Well 2 will be opened at a special meeting May 24 at 7 p.m. DST. The council will act on them May 27 at 6 p.m.

Also on May 27, public hearings will be held on three rezoning requests. Involving building permits, they were turned down by Zoning Administrator John Scanlon.

At 7 p.m. the council will hear the request of Robert Reihl for zoning change for a confectionery in Fay's Golden Acres. The board of appeals OKed it 3-2.

The board unanimously recommended a zoning change to allow Mrs. Mary Storandt to build multiple family dwellings; four residents say they weren't notified of the first hearing.

The engineer will ask the Houston County commissioners about plans for the North Ridge road.

WALDOW asked the council to move completion date of sanitary sewer and roadway at the high school up to June 10.

La Crescent Township will be charged $50 a month for dumping privileges, starting June 1.

Fire Chief Kies asked an ordinance allowing inspection of public buildings by firemen or state fire inspectors.

A new water ordinance was adopted 4-1. Kies voted against it because of a clause fixing a minimum charge for availability of water although the property owner doesn't use the village water system. Building

St. Charles Area to Discuss School Bond Issue Tonight

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — An open meeting for residents of St. Charles school district will be held at the school today at 8 p.m. DST to hear a discussion of the proposed $1,285,000 bond issue.

When electors go to the polls Tuesday, they will determine future school policy by the people they elect to the school board, and will have an opportunity to set the stage for a new junior-senior high school to close the classrooms scattered all around town.

The selection of a seventh board member for the first time will provide a clear-cut majority on controversial matters which might come before any future board, the community voted last year to add another member.

Three will be chosen from a slate of eight who filed for the board with John Nintemann Jr., clerk.

THE INCUMBENTS whose terms will expire June 30, Delvin Ruhberg and Gerald Wegman, are seeking re-election. The other six candidates are Dr. James B. Flannery, veterinarian, and Robert Wolter, third generation owner of Wolter Lumber Co., both natives here; James Morcomb, manager of Great Plains Gas Co. who came to St. Charles several years ago, and Stanley Harcey, Frank Hille and Marvin Wiskow, all residing in the former Saratoga district recently attaching to St. Charles.

When the present board sought approval for a bond issue for $1,100,000 in December to provide a partial and temporary solution to the district's space shortage, the proposal was voted down 475-426.

The larger bond issue will provide what the school architect, H. V. Matson, describes as adequate facilities for up to 600 high school students. Anticipated 1965-66 enrollment is in excess of 500.

The proposed building, endorsed by the present staff, would include 31 teacher stations; 13 academic classrooms and eight departments with two and three rooms each.

THE STRUCTURE planned for the sloping site east of the present ball field, is essentially L-shaped with the long arm paralleling Highway 14. This would be a two-story classroom wing and would include administration offices, library, home ec, audio-visual, study hall and counseling testing areas on the first floor.

The upper floor would include six classrooms, three-room commercial department, and three science rooms plus two laboratories.

The gymnasium-stage area plan can be divided to provide two standard size gym floors. When opened to its fullest, it will hold bleachers on either side of the basketball court to accommodate 1,600 spectators. Under the stage at the west end will be storage area for 800 chairs for play audiences.

Beyond the gym in the south wing are the shop areas, art department and music rooms. All shops and band room will be accessible from the special shop parking lot south of the building. The art room is in the center of the building across the main corridor from the gym.

Below the gym are kitchen, lunchroom, locker rooms, showers and a health classroom, arranged so part can be used for public functions.

GEORGE OLSON of T. G. Evensen Associates, Minneapolis, fiscal agents, described two alternative plans for bond retirement. He recommended a 30-year issue, with first principal of $35,000 due in 1963 and for three succeeding years; $40,000 annually for seven years, and $50,000 annually from the time the present bonded debt is paid.

Based on present markets, estimated interest cost would be 3.65 percent, amounting to 39 mills, based on the valuation of the present district.

Olson said the mill rate could be reduced somewhat should other districts join or by enrollment of nonresident, tuition students.

A brochure of the proposed school has been mailed to residents of the district.

Wisconsin Sheriffs Want Longer Terms

A RESOLUTION WHICH would permit sheriffs to hold office for more than two terms in succession has been introduced in the Wisconsin Legislature and presumably the people of Wisconsin will be called upon to vote on this question again. Similar resolutions to amend the constitution in this respect have been before the Wisconsin people on numerous occasions in the past and they have always been voted down.

Sheriffs, however, are important political figures and they appear to be able to get the legislature to consider this matter repeatedly in spite of their many defeats at the polls. The other day a witness told the Assembly Judiciary Committee that the section of the Wisconsin constitution limiting sheriffs to two terms "got in there by accident."

Section 4 of Article VI of the constitution provides for two year terms for county officers including sheriffs and then the section says:

"SHERIFFS SHALL HOLD no other office, and shall not serve more than two terms or parts thereof in succession; they may be required by law to renew their security from time to time, and in default of giving such new security their office shall be deemed vacant, but the county shall never be made responsible for the acts of the sheriff."

That doesn't sound like a provision that got into the constitution by mistake. Furthermore, the determination repeatedly expressed by Wisconsin voters to continue this limit on the terms of the sheriff indicates that they want the provision no matter how it got into the constitution.

THE FACT OF THE matter seems to be that the founding fathers recognized the sheriff's office as a strong political post which could provide an ambitious man with the political means to remain in office indefinitely if he chose to do so. Furthermore, they were well aware that most sheriffs would choose to do so and the voters of Wisconsin have indicated that they were of the same opinion on numerous occasions since.

At the Madison hearing Assemblyman Frank Nikolay, asked a witness if Wisconsin "wouldn't be better off by replacing its 'archaic law enforcement system' with civil service employees."

The witness for the Sheriffs Association declared the idea was neither feasible nor practical but many people disagree with that answer. The practice of electing sheriffs to serve as the chief law enforcement officers of counties is out of date and should be changed.

The legislature would be well advised to give its attention to the establishment of county police forces under civil service. This is a change that is bound to come in the future as counties develop into more important units of government. Quite obviously the legislature is not interested in undertaking any such program at this time. However, until it is ready to do something about the election of sheriffs it should discontinue the waste of people's time and money in voting on a proposal which if it ever should pass would only make the needed changes in the sheriff's office more difficult.

The Tribune Presents 'Man of the Year'

A "MAN OF THE YEAR" was presented by the Chicago Tribune the other day. He was not picked by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, or by the Senior Chamber, or by the labor unions or by the politicians. You won't find his picture in the newspapers, it was pointed out, and you may not recognize him as you pass him on the street. But we hope you do.

The Tribune's Man of the Year is in the middle income brackets. He gets up every morning at 6:30 so that he can get to his job in an office or factory at 8 or 8:30. He works hard, not only because he wants advancement, but because he thinks his employer deserves a fair deal. He is honest and dependable.

He manages to get along with one wife. They have three or four children whom they love so much they teach them to be respectful, law-abiding, and self-reliant. They have done their best to earn and save enough money to send their children to college, but the rising cost of higher education make this goal more difficult each year.

THE RISING COST of everything also makes it harder to put aside money for retirement. Recent federal income tax reductions have helped the people in high income brackets and low income brackets, but the man in the middle has gotten little benefit. There are no loopholes in the income tax for him, and he can't put any money into tax-exempt securities.

Social security taxes, which started at $30 a year, are now up to $174. Soon the medicare program will make them much higher. Local property taxes have doubled, and so have the various state taxes. Worst of all, the purchasing power of the dollar is only 42 percent of what it was when the Man of the Year bought his first insurance policy in 1937. The little money which he has set aside for a rainy day is worth about half of what it was when he earned it.

World Today It's Difficult To Cut Taxes

By EDMOND L. BRETON

WASHINGTON (U)—Congress is about to give another demonstration of how hard it is to do something that is supposed to be popular: Cut taxes.

The House Ways and Means Committee goes to work next Monday on legislation for a $1.75-billion annual reduction in those selective sales taxes known as federal excises.

President Johnson's advisers, who want the cut to keep the record peacetime economic boom rolling, are understood to be a bit easier in their minds about two worrisome aspects of the excise tax reduction proposal.

ONE WAS the fear that Congress would not stop with a $1.75-billion reduction — or anything close to it — when the pressures built up from makers of the varied assortment of things, automobiles to ball point pens, that are subject to federal excise tax.

But the hold-the-line forces got help from an unexpected quarter: Viet Nam. The $700-million increase in military funds, voted almost unanimously by Congress, inspired demands by Congress members for a redoubled watch on government income and outgo. They have not forgotten that the $11.6-billion income tax cut, voted only last year, was speeded along by predictions that the budget would be balanced during the year beginning July 1, 1966. So at least some legislative leaders now feel the brakes have been lightened and $1.75 billion is a realistic figure for an excise tax cut.

THE FISCAL planners' other worry is a bit more complicated. Basically, it is a fear that once the exact reductions Congress is working on become known, buyers of the goods affected may go on a temporary strike.

Automobiles provide a good example. The average excise tax on a car is about $235. Not many people expect the administration to recommend, or Congress to approve, outright repeal of the tax, although the automobile industry would welcome it. This repeal alone would cost the Treasury more than the total excise tax reduction it is seeking.

But suppose Congress starts talking about cutting the rate in half, from 10 or 5 percent? Wouldn't a prospective buyer, seeing a chance of saving more than $100 if he waits until Congress has acted, be inclined to drive the old clunker a little longer?

LBJ Took Bad Advice In Dominican Flareup

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Those who have worked with and watched President Johnson close-up during the Vietnamese and Dominican crises predict that his No. 1 problem will continue to be foreign affairs.

This is because, while he knows legislative problems as no other president in history, has an intimate feel for education, agriculture, poverty, taxes, economics and the entire field of domestic problems, he does not have a feel for foreign affairs. It's also because every president to some extent is a prisoner of those who feed him information, who advise him on problems he doesn't know firsthand.

In view of the fact that the Dominican crisis has set back our pan American relations 30 years, it's important to call the roll of advisers who gave the President bump sleers and what they did:

1. Ambassador Tapley Bennett in Santo Domingo flew to Washington two days before the crisis, told the State Department the political situation was deteriorating, but predicted no revolution.

2. Three days after the revolt started and one day before Johnson landed the Marines, Col. Francisco Caamano Dena, now rebel provisional president, came to see Bennett, offered to negotiate a cease-fire. The ambassador laughed in his face. This infuriated Caamano. He went back to fight harder than ever. This fighting contributed to the decision to land Marines.

3. AFTER THE Marines landed, Ambassador Bennett sent them into the front lines to fight alongside and relieve the troops of Gen. Wessin Y Wessin, who last year had helped kick out President Bosch, first duly-elected president in 32 years. The sight of U.S. Marines fighting to support Gen. Wessin Y Wessin infuriated the pro-Bosch forces, created a lot of anti-American bitterness.

4. In Washington, Assistant Secretary of State Jack Vaughn and Ellsworth Bunker, cool-headed ambassador to the OAS, both favored full consultation with OAS ambassadors. They had little chance to make their point. The person LBJ leaned on was his old Texas friend, Tom Mann, rapidly promoted by Johnson to be No. 3 man in the State Dept.

partment. Last year, Mann called in U.S. envoys, made it clear the United States would support military regimes on this continent.

5. The President has no conception of the long, tough battle Latin Americans have waged to ban intervention by the "colossus of the north." He has no conception of Latin-American hatred for Marines. They have become a symbol of "Yankee imperialism." Even if he had sent the U.S. Army instead of Marines, reaction would have been better.

6. The President has no realization of the fact that the standard excuse for landing Marines in Latin America has been the danger of communism.

RECALL that when President Coolidge landed Marines in Nicaragua in 1927, the first excuse was the protection of American property. Then Under Secretary of State Robert E. Olds called in Kirk Simpson of the AP, Ludwell Denny of the UP, and Mauritz Hallgren of the INS, gave them a "no attribution" story that communism was penetrating Nicaragua, the Panama Canal was in danger. Denny and Hallgren refused to carry the planted piece unless the State Department could be quoted. There was no threat of communism in Central America in 1927.

This month, 38 years later, the Johnson administration first used the excuse of protecting American lives for landing Marines; then brought out the old excuse of communism.

Of course there are Communists in the Dominican Republic. But James Goodsell, crack Latin America correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, visited rebel headquarters with a list of the 58 alleged Red leaders, could find none of them in evidence as the American embassy said they would be.

REAL FACT is that one third of the Dominicans are unemployed, which breeds unrest, communism, and a bitterness in which rebels don't particularly care if they die sniping at American Marines.

7. Finally, Johnson hasn't sweated through the international conferences in which Latin diplomats slowly built up the doctrine of non-intervention in Pan-American affairs. Their first real progress came at the 1928 Pan American conference in Havana, which I covered for the Christian Science Monitor. Calvin Coolidge, then President, opened the conference. Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg was a delegate; also Charles Evans Hughes, elder statesman of the Republican party.

THE WIZARD OF ID

WASHINGTON CALLING

Can't Believe U.S. Is Serious

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — In scoring critics of their Viet Nam policy officials of the Johnson administration come down hard on one point — any evidence of dissension will be taken within the Communist world as a sign that the United States does not intend to stand by its commitment to South Viet Nam.

Intelligence reports are said to show that North Viet Nam is making extensive use of the big student demonstration in Washington.

In radio broadcasts and with the use of filmed excerpts wherever it is possible the rally on the Washington Monument grounds and in front of the White House is billed as showing the deep divisions in American opinion. Propagandists encourage the conclusion that America will not see it through and that continued support for the Communist Viet Cong must mean a victorious end to the war.

Any critical commentary is seized upon and widely broadcast. Even letters to the editor are picked up and turned to propaganda ends.

Nothing could put in sharper focus the peril of the present moment. On both sides of the bamboo curtain ignorance of intentions and capacities is appalling. The two wrestlers grapple in the dark, not knowing where the struggle will end or how it can be brought to a conclusion short of catastrophe.

WHETHER ANY criticism or attack — sober discussion of alternatives, shouting student rallies, all-night teach-ins — influences policy is doubtful. How large a body of opinion all of this represents is also doubtful. The President has given no indication that he will be swayed from a determination to prosecute the war unless and until North Viet Nam signals a willingness to stop furnishing men and supplies for the "war of liberation" in the South. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has just said that support is increasing rather than decreasing in spite of the bombings.

So far has the direct American involvement gone that military men are inevitably more and more making the decisions. If you take two steps then you must take four in order to protect the position you have just reached with two steps. This is a process as old as military history and it is going forward at an increasingly rapid pace.

AT THE MILITARY conference in Honolulu last week the dimensions of a very large step were defined. Printed reports have thus far underestimated its scale. Within a few months, certainly by the end of the year, the number of American ground troops in South Viet Nam will be doubled. The total will be well over 60,000.

No one at this writing is prepared to say that any such enlargement of the American force is to be put in the works. One reason is that it counteracts the optimism that Ambassador Maxwell Taylor expressed when he was in Washington little more than a month ago. Taylor's hopefulness was the rationale for planning that contemplated a very large increase in the South Vietnamese armed forces and only a small jump in the number of American trainers and advisers.

But, as so often before, that optimism has been blasted by subsequent reports of the growing strength of the Communist guerrillas and also by the persistent difficulty in recruiting Vietnamese manpower. The months just ahead with the beginning of the rainy season promise to be the grimmest thus far. It will be a holding operation in which rapidly augmented American forces will play a critical part.

A TOTALITARIAN state is peculiarly susceptible to auto-intoxication with its own propaganda. The Nazis were convinced in 1939 and 1940 that the United States would never come into the war. They listened to the isolationists who were filling Madison Square Garden and a hundred other meetings places night after night to hear speakers who pledged that America would never become involved in Europe's war.

Something like this same auto-intoxication may be going on in Hanoi and even in Peking. Surely Moscow, having lived in the real world for several decades, must know that the sound and the fury of demonstrations signify little. Shaky governments holding on with marginal power in impoverished countries may be overthrown by student riots but not in the West.

If every effort at sober criticism of policy, even a letter to the editor, is useful to the propaganda mill, then silence or merely an echo of the official line must be the rule. That was what Secretary of State Dean Rusk seemed to be saying in his angry speech to the American Institute of International Law. If you don't agree with us, you must be wrong, that is the line. And the corollary to this is: If you disagree with us in public you give aid and comfort to the enemy.

THIS IS THE iron rule of the press and every media of communication in a totalitarian society. Until the recent relaxation in Eastern Europe a shade of criticism, even of the arts, was equated with disloyalty. But that has not been the rule in a society that claims freedom as its hallmark.

To Your Good Health

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Molner: Could you tell me (yes or no) if a belt-type reducing machine is harmful for legs with varicose veins? — MRS. W. N.

Yes. Harmful.

Dear Dr. Molner: X-ray shows a cluster of stones in my pancreas. Is there any diet or treatment to remedy this? The trouble began in 1957. Sometimes I have intense pain, which subsides and then recurs. — B. A. C.

There isn't any diet for this, but remember that stones can occur in virtually any of the secreting glands: the pancreas, salivary glands, prostate, and others, and not just in the gall bladder or kidneys.

For stones in the pancreas, alcohol should be avoided completely. Meals should be small in volume. Gall bladder trouble often is associated with stones in the pancreas. Therefore the gall bladder should be examined, too.

Dedication of New Shrine Part of Day With Guests

The guests and staff of St. Anne Hospice were entertained by the Hospice Auxiliary Saturday at A Day With the Guests at St. Anne Hospice.

About 150 guests and members attended the 8 a.m. Mass which was celebrated by the Most Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, Bishop of Winona, and the breakfast following. Mrs. Hubert Weir, president of the Auxiliary, was mistress of ceremonies at the breakfast.

MRS. WEIR welcomed those attending the breakfast and introduced the clergy and special guests. She announced the Day of Recollection, which will be held for the Auxiliaries July 24 at the Hospice. The Rev. James McCauley, headmaster at Cotter High School, will conduct the one day retreat.

In his talk to the group, Bishop Fitzgerald pointed out that no matter what one's position is in life, all are God's people. He stressed the importance of an individual contributing some part of her talents to the community in which she lives.

"To love means to sacrifice," Bishop Fitzgerald stated. "In the work of an auxiliary, sacrifices are made that their commitments are carried out to the benefit of others." He wished the Auxiliary success in the future and commended them for the work that they had accomplished at the Hospice and in their respective parishes.

SISTER MARY Aquinette, first administrator at the Hospice, spoke briefly to the group, stressing the value of the auxiliary's assuming the responsibility to carry out her work in a Christ-like manner. Sister stated that the necessity of communicating successfully with others gives an individual the opportunity to give so much of a part of oneself to so much of a part of others.

"In so doing, you become more human and more Christian," and then, more Christ-like. Using the letters of the word Christ—C for Charity, H for Humility, R for Responsibility, I for Interest, S for Sincerity, T for Thoughtfulness—she explained, one cannot help being Christlike. "This is what Christianity means," Sister Aquinette related.

Mrs. Weir announced that Mrs. Milton L. Spencer was chosen by the St. Anne Hospice Auxiliary to receive special honor as an outstanding "Golden Ager." A verse written by Mrs. Weir was read summing up all of the qualities of this outstanding nominee for State honors.

MRS. SPENCER responded by saying, "It has been an honor and a pleasure to work with this group of women. Their outstanding success in all of their undertakings can be contributed to the three qualities of mentality, morality, and vitality."

Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Weir were presented with corsages as tokens of appreciation for their dedicated service to the St. Anne Hospice Auxiliary. Following the presentation, Mrs. Margaret Deters and Hilary Friedeck, guest living at the Hospice, were introduced by Sister M. Jude, hospice administrator. They spoke to the group for all the guests in thanking the Auxiliary for the efforts made in behalf of the guests.

DURING the afternoon, the guests attended the dedication of the newly constructed shrine on the south grounds of the Hospice. The dedication was followed by the May Crowning ceremony.

Mrs. William Snec was in charge of the arrangements for the breakfast which was served by members of the staff and students from Cotter High School. Mrs. Al Smith Sr. entertained with organ music during the breakfast hour. Mrs. Snec was assisted by the Mmes. Charles Kochla, Lydia Bayer, Carl Suchomel, John Chapman, Wayne Smith, Ralph Donahue, Edward Valentine, Ray Kulawiec.

Spring-Time Party for Oldsters Attended by Five Senior Groups

Delightful music, a spring-time dessert of fresh strawberries and angel food cake, and good companionship were shared by about 200 Winona Senior Citizens Tuesday afternoon at Holy Family Hall at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart.

It was a special party, hosted by the Silver Belles and Beaux of the Cathedral, and sponsored by women of the church.

Guests were from five different organizations: The Golden Years, the King and Queens, Friendship Four, St. Anne Hospice and Paul Watkins Memorial Methodist Home.

A combo group of young men from the Christian Brothers Novitiate who played basses and guitars and sang included Brothers David Lambert, Michael Landrick, Paul Erick, Guy Oliver, Kevin Theodore, John LaSalle and Jonathan Roberts.

The Bishop's Boys' Choir of about 50 students at the Cathedral School, charmed the listeners with their sweet young voices as they sang several numbers, directed by the Rev. Robert Brom.

Mrs. William Krage Sr., president of the Silver Belles and Beaux, and Mrs. Charles Fischer, secretary and treasurer, welcomed the guests. The Rev. Donald Connelly also greeted the guests on behalf of the parish and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Harold J. Dittman spoke briefly.

Mrs. Hubert Weir, who was in charge of the program, recited two poems. Mrs. Sherman A. Mitchell spoke for the guest groups in thanking the hosts.

Prizes of potted pink geraniums were given to the two eldest men and two eldest women present. They were John Gage and Anton Guenther, Mrs. Helen Brannon and Mrs. E. B. Hicks, a native of Winona. Also receiving prize geraniums was Mrs. Krage, for having the most grandchildren — 46.

Mrs. James Schain, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Robert Horton, Mrs. C. W. Rogers and Miss Margaret Voelker. Heading the dining room committee were Mrs. H. K. Robinson and Mrs. Paul Koprowski assisted by the Misses Alma Kemp and Mary Lingl and the Mmes. Helen Enright, John Heer, Hugh Shaw, Bernard Snyder and Richard Vickery.

Mrs. Severt Tindal, chairman of the kitchen committee, had as her helpers the Mmes. Lester Harris, Louis Feiten, Arthur Fair, Ross Nixon and Roman Wiczek.

Sheri Harkenrider made pretty daffodil name tags for all the guests, which were pinned on by Mrs. Hannibal Choate and Miss Jeanette Goergen.

DEAR ABBY:

Better Depend On Mother Nature

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been a woman-chaser all 44 years I have been married to him. We are now both in our early 70's. I never divorced him because we had four lovely children and, besides, I can honestly say he never mistreated me. He always provided well for the children and me, and our only arguments were over his weakness for women. When he was 69 years old he got a young girl in trouble. There was a lot of expense connected with that but no publicity, thank heavens. My lawyer says I could get a divorce and a very substantial settlement, but do you think it's advisable to break up after all these years? We have nine grandchildren who think "Gump" is tops.

"GUMPA'S" MATE

DEAR MATE: "Gump" appears to be YOUR weakness. My guess is you'd be lost without him, so stick with him. If Father Time doesn't take care of his "weakness" — Mother Nature will.

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: As a man who has to contend with the telephone in his office, I anticipate retreating to my nice quiet home at the end of the day. But, alas, this seems to be the prime time for the ladies to call each other to arrange their bridge parties, church socials, car pools, etc. What do these women do all day that they can't get these things arranged beforehand?

SICK OF PHONES

DEAR SICK: They're attending bridge parties, church socials and they're driving the kids around.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy with a big problem — my parents. They are the most wonderful parents a boy could want, but between the two of them they smoke three cartons of cigarettes a week. My mother is very nervous and the doctor told her to cut down. She promised she would, but she hasn't. My father smokes unconsciously. He'll set a cigarette down in an ash tray, let it burn and light another one. Both Dad and Mom cough all the time. What can a 17-year-old boy do to get his parents to quit smoking? I know nobody can live forever, but why can't people take better care of their health?

CONCERNED SON

DEAR CONCERNED: Obviously your parents are not strong enough to set a good example for you. So YOU set one for them, and my hat's off to you!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 24-year-old divorcee and I've never had any trouble getting dates. My problem is that every man I date thinks that just because I've been married anything goes. It is very discouraging to have to fight off men all the time. The first thing they suggest is going up to their apartments, or a motel or something like that. I love to dance and I enjoy good clean fun. What happened to all the decent men?

SUZANNE

DEAR SUZANNE: They're still around. You seem to be attracting the wrong kind. Change bait.

Elementary Grade Guidance Plan May Be Attempted

Winona may become one of several school systems in the state which will be a participant in an experimental program in elementary school guidance to be undertaken by the state Department of Education.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told school directors Monday that the state is considering a pilot project which would involve perhaps five or six school systems in which a guidance counselor would be provided to work with children at the elementary grade level. He said that Winona has been contacted as a possible participant and board members Monday authorized participation if a formal proposal should be made.

The experimental program would be organized under the National Defense Education Act and Winona would be obligated for 25 percent of the counselor's salary. It was estimated this would come to around $1,500 a year.

Although there is a program of guidance and counseling at the secondary school level here there has not been a specific program geared to the elementary grades.

District GOP Post Contested; Larson Named

When James Goetz, 557 W. 5th St., was elected 1st District GOP chairman at the district convention at Austin Saturday, he defeated former Olmsted County GOP chairman, Clifford Johnson 98-44. Goetz is a former Winona County Republican chairman.

Among the officers elected at the convention was state senator Lew Larson, Mabel, as an alternate delegate at large.

Thomas Houser, an aide to Charles Percy, whose unsuccessful 1964 run for the Illinois governorship drew national attention, was guest speaker.
