Won't Abandon Viet Nam, LBJ Tells Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today the aim of Communist China "is to erode and discredit America's ability to help to prevent the spread of communism in Asia," but "in this they shall never succeed."

Johnson threw down the gauntlet to the Red Chinese in a television-radio address on American efforts in Viet Nam. The President prepared his talk for a meeting with editorial cartoonists in the East Room of the White House.

Repeating his offer to engage in unconditional discussions designed to end the Viet Nam war, Johnson said this would "clearly be in the interest of North Viet Nam."

But he said "Communist China apparently desires the war to continue, whatever the cost to their allies."

"Their target is not merely South Viet Nam. It is Asia. Their objective is not the fulfillment of Vietnamese nationalism. It is to erode and discredit America's ability to prevent Chinese domination over all of Asia," Johnson said.

"In this they shall never succeed."

Johnson began by saying "the war in Viet Nam has many faces"—the first being the face of armed conflict, terror and gunfire. In this connection, he said:

"The Communists in Viet Nam are slowly beginning to realize what they once scorned to believe: That we combine unlimited patience with unlimited resources in pursuit of an unwavering purpose."

The President summed up his determination by saying, "We will not abandon our commitment to South Viet Nam."

The second face of the war, he said, is the quest for a political solution.

"We know, as our adversaries should also know, there is no purely military solution in sight for either side," he said. "We are ready for unconditional discussions."

Johnson said "the third face of war in Viet Nam, is, at once, the most tragic and the most hopeful." He said it represents human need and the effort to develop the Vietnamese economy.

"People must fight for something," he said. "The people of South Viet Nam must know that after the long, brutal journey through the dark tunnel of conflict there breaks the light of a happier life. Only if this is so can they be expected to sustain the enduring will for continued strife."

Settlement in Dominicans May Be Near

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A spokesman for the Dominican rebels indicated Wednesday that a settlement with the rival military-civilian junta may be near. But he held out for dismissal of some leading military men backing the junta.

"There's every reason to hope we are near a settlement," said the rebel foreign minister, Jotin Cury. He spoke after a conference between Col. Francisco Caamaño Deno, the rebel leader, and two members of the peace commission of the Organization of American States, Ricardo C. Colombo of Argentina and Carlos Garcia Bauer of Guatemala.

Cury added that a peaceful solution depends on the dismissal of some key officers backing the junta. The rebels' chief target is Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, who led the resistance to the revolt.

Six of eight high-ranking officers removed by the junta in a peace move arrived in Puerto Rico aboard a Dominican navy frigate. But Caamaño said previously their dismissal was not enough to satisfy him.

Latin-American diplomatic circles in Washington reported a broadly-based interim government embracing both government and rebel leaders may be in sight. But Cury, speaking to newsmen, ruled out a coalition government.

He said, "Our objective is the restoration of the constitution," and that acceptance of a coalition "with elements from the other side would be a repudiation of constitutional objectives for which we have fought."

Cury said the junta has no legitimacy or popular support "except that extended by the U.S. military."

Caamaño told a news conference he would ask OAS permission to establish a corridor through the rebel stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo.

U.S. Marines and paratroopers encircled the downtown area last week, and many armed rebels were cut off in northern sections of the city.

NSP Gets State Approval for St. Croix Plant

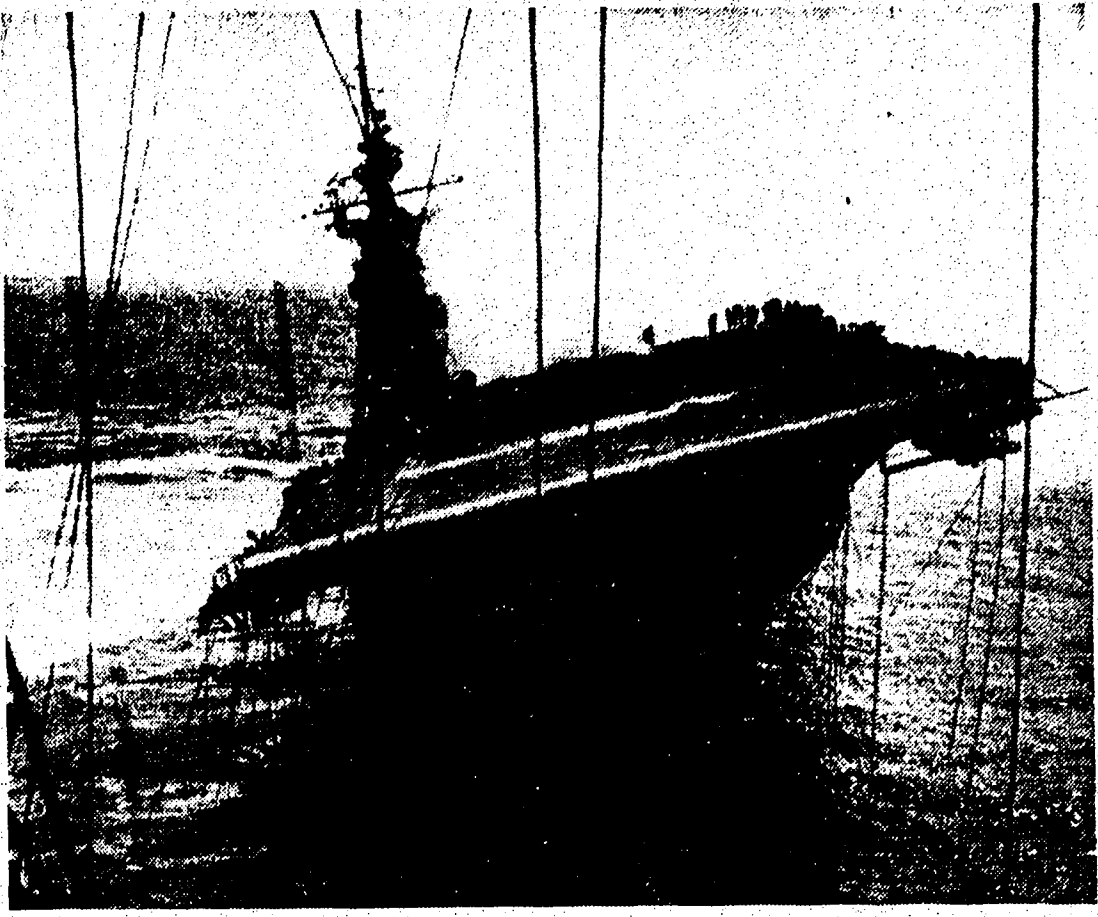

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Northern States Power Co. has been given permission by the state to begin construction of a $63 million power plant on the St. Croix River at Oak Park Heights, near Stillwater.

The decision by the Minnesota Water Pollution Control Commission Wednesday apparently ended a controversy between conservationists, who opposed the plant, and area civic leaders who argued that the locale needed more power.

Wayne Olson, Minnesota Conservation Commission director, said after the approval was announced he will issue permits for NSP to use the river water within a few days.

The Water Pollution Control Commission's approval was conditional, in that the company must provide facilities that discharge of water from the steam-generating plant does not raise the river water temperature too much. Another condition was that no wastes may be discharged into the river that may impair the quality of the water for fish, other wildlife and for public use.

NSP sources estimated the conditions might raise its original construction estimate by $1 to $3 million. The company said work on the 550,000-kilowatt generating plant will begin immediately. Completion is set for May 1, 1968.

DISASTER REVEALED . . . With the arrival in New York harbor on May 17, 1945, of the battered and burned aircraft carrier, USS Franklin, the nation learned of one of its most grievous losses of World War II. The ship had been hit by Japanese bombs 60 miles off Japan in March with loss of 724 men and wounding of 265 more. The craft is shown here still afire as another ship came to its aid. (U. S. Navy photo via AP Photofax)

Soviet Moon Ship Lands With a Crash

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet spacecraft Lunik 5 hit the moon Wednesday night but apparently failed to make the expected soft landing that would have put the Soviet Union at least four months ahead of the United States in the lunar race.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, announced that the 3,250-pound spaceship landed in the area of the Sea of Clouds at 10:10 p.m. (2:10 p.m. Eastern Standard time), ending its three-day flight five minutes ahead of schedule.

"During the flight and the approach of the station to the moon a great deal of information was obtained which is necessary for the further elaboration of a system for soft landing on the moon's surface," Tass concluded.

Tass earlier had said that Lunik 5 would test for the first time elements of a soft-landing system. This was taken to indicate that the Soviets planned to land the spacecraft intact and that it would then radio back information from the moon's surface.

The landing report seemed the closest thing to an official admission to failure in the Soviet space program since the first sputnik made its trail-blazing flight eight years ago.

Negroes Lose Jobs in Selma

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights leaders say scores of Negroes have lost their jobs in Selma because they took part in right-to-vote demonstrations.

But employment records don't show it. In fact, says the State Employment Service, jobs are going begging in almost every classification.

"Suppose 200 Negroes have been fired as they claim," says Monroe Quinney, manager of the employment service office. "There are enough other jobs available to take care of a substantial number of them."

But, he added, "the number of applicants is decreasing and we can't fill the jobs."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has charged that white employers have laid off some 200 Negro workers because of their civil rights activity. He also said that many of them are without food

Crippled Carrier Cruise Recalled

By VERN HAUGLAND
WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty years ago this month, the nation learned of one of its most grievous losses of World War II.

A terribly battered and burned aircraft carrier, the Franklin, arrived in New York harbor, under her own power, after a roundabout cruise from the Pacific, on May 17, 1945.

With the return to home port, the Navy disclosed that the Franklin, a huge Essex-class carrier, had been hit by Japanese bombs 60 miles off Japan the preceding March 19, and had been turned into an exploding ammunition dump.

In eight hours of hell, 724 men were lost. An additional 265 were wounded.

One of the Marine pilots aboard the "Big Ben" when the enemy bombs hit was Lt. Carroll P. Faught, who was listed on the official records as lost in action but actually survived and is now a government official.

But Faught was the only pilot in his ready room to live. He showed up at Mare Island, Calif., less one leg, some three months after the disaster.

Faught now is special assistant to the undersecretary of commerce and director of the office of emergency transportation.

Faught recalls that on the morning of March 19, 1945, the Franklin's aircraft and crews were preparing to launch a fighter sweep over Japan when an observation plane reported sighting the enemy battleship Yamato steaming out of the Bay of Japan.

Orders were changed. Big Ben's pilots were to get the Yamato. This meant a delay in takeoff to permit briefing of crews on new navigation information, and changing of the aircraft armament.

It was this delay in launching that led to the disaster.

As it happened, most of the Franklin's planes were still on the flight deck, loaded with bombs, rockets, torpedoes and machine-gun ammunition, when a lone Japanese dive bomber — its approach unnoticed — streaked down through the early morning haze.

The Japanese plane dropped two armor-piercing 500-pound bombs. One hit near the forward elevator and the other on the aft part of the ship. Both sank deep into her before they exploded.

Faught recalls that the pilots of his squadron were in Ready Room 5, being briefed on the new mission, when the first bomb exploded on the deck directly below.

He said the floor of the room rose like a giant mushroom, and crushed every other pilot there against the ceiling.

Faught was fortunate enough to be standing close to a wall, looking at a map. But both legs and his right arm were broken in the first blast.

Commanders of other ships braved the explosions and fire to move in close, pick up survivors and help fight the flames.

Confusion Over Spending, Taxes

Legislators Trying for Agreement

ST. PAUL (AP)—The money-tax situation in the Minnesota Legislature is in a state of flux and confusion as the session nears its end.

About the only certainty is that somebody will have to pay a substantial amount in new taxes. No one is quite sure at this point what the exact amount will be.

Major appropriations bills call for spending around $797 million dollars.

That is between $50 and $60 million more than present taxes will produce in the next two years. And that means that the legislature must devise a way of raising at least that much.

If the legislature moves into new areas costing money, the tax need will be increased.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag has recommended, for example, that personal property tax relief totaling $25 million be provided, that senior citizens be given $8 million in real estate tax relief, and that a state employee insurance program costing $4.8 million be installed.

The House Tax Committee came up with a proposal to raise around $50 million through an increase in the individual income tax rates and a corporate income tax speedup.

Confirming a suspicion that this would not be the whole tax story, Rep. Roy Dunn, chairman of the House Tax Committee, announced before its passage that he planned to hold hearings on another tax bill—a sales tax bill to raise money to replace some existing taxes.

Whatever tax program the House finally adopts goes next before the Senate Tax Committee, headed by Sen. Donald Wright of Minneapolis, an outspoken advocate of a sales tax.

The bill he backs calls for a 3½ per cent sales tax. It would raise an estimated $217 million a year. This would be used to provide credit against income tax, real estate tax relief, personal property tax relief, with shares for the cities, counties and villages as well as the state general revenue fund.

And finally, in the tax picture, is the governor. An avowed sales tax foe, he has never said he would veto such a bill and legislators are hopeful that he can be persuaded to accept one as part of a package which will provide some of the kind of tax relief he himself has advocated.

9 Days of Session Left

Four Sales Tax Bills Combined in House

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Minnesota House Tax Committee took up for consideration today a new sales tax bill which is the result of a filtration from four bills introduced earlier in the session.

Committee Chairman Roy Dunn said the group's aim will be to raise $139 million a year, all of which will go to replace existing taxes.

With nine work days remaining in the session, however, it appeared that the House Conservative majority was planning a double-barrelled revenue plan which combined income taxes and a 3 per cent sales tax.

The belief was that the Conservatives were planning the two-part package for Gov. Karl Rolvaag, in effect, daring him to trade a sales tax for tax relief.

In a session Wednesday night, the Conservatives got their income tax bill passed. But Liberal leader Fred Cina warned that there "will be no relief" unless it is in the income tax bill. Thus came a warning that the governor might veto a sales tax and Conservatives have not the power to override the veto.

The income tax bill passed 80-50 Wednesday night would raise $52 million in the next two years, enough to balance a budget which will be around $775 million when added to existing levies.

But there is no money in the income tax proposal to finance relief on real estate and personal property taxes for the elderly, for farmers, for merchants, for manufacturers.

Should a combination of the two bills make it though both the House and Senate, the governor would have the choice of swallowing the sales tax publicly, or vetoing the bill and getting no tax relief.

The House adopted five amendments and rejected four in sending the tax bill to the Senate. Here are major features of the bill:

1. Individual income tax rate increases, starting at one-half of one per cent for gross income of $2,000 and below, and 1.5 per cent increases for amounts over $2,000.

2. A corporation tax speedup, amended to include banks, which will result in businesses being on a pay-as-you-go basis similar to personal withholding.

3. Changes in tax credits, increasing them for individuals, dependents and those over 65.

The new rate structure would result in higher taxes for all brackets, with the dollar amount of increase going up proportionately as income increases.

The bill does away with the present 15 per cent surtax—an amount figured on tax returns after the basic tax is calculated.

Girl Drowns At La Crosse

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—An 11-year-old girl was swept away in the La Crosse River Wednesday when she stopped to wade on her way home from school.

Authorities said the girl, Marguerite Shiffrin, apparently stepped into a 15-foot deep hole. One of two playmates, Sarah Lindsay, 12, attempted to rescue the child, but said the swift waters carried her out of reach. Drowning operations were resumed today.

Eight Cars In Derailment At Waldo, Wis.

WALDO, Wis. (AP)—Eight cars of a southbound Milwaukee Road passenger and mail train were derailed, and one of them, a Pullman, overturned near the station here early today. No one of the 30 passengers was believed injured.

The derailed cars ripped up 200 to 300 feet of track and smashed a wooden storage building owned by the Sheboygan County Farm Cooperative. The 60x30 foot structure contained fertilizer and fencing. No estimate was available as to the damage.

Ride Outside Famed Trolley

Coeds Break Tradition

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tradition dies hard in this windy city, and none has been laid to rest with more wordage than the custom of the "outside step" of the dear old dinky cable cars.

Since 1873, when they first clattered up the hills of San Francisco, it has been traditional that the weaker sex — that is to say, women — should not ride the outside step.

The outside step — a 10-foot-long running board along the outside seat — was a male stronghold. The woman who tried to ride this hallowed plank was soon told off by the conductor, or by the gripman who drives the cars with long steel grips that clutch the moving cable.

But in recent weeks the outside step has been integrated — for women.

"Get 'em off!" bellowed Tom McGrath, spokesman for the Cable Car Gripmen's Union, when a college coed, Mona Hutchins, 19, dared break the ice. She insisted she could ride the outside — lawfully.

And so she could. In fact, so could all females. Turned out there is no law against women riding the step.

"It doesn't make any difference to me whether they ride outside," said husky John Hepburn, gripman of the Hyde Street Line.

Conductor Frank Brown agreed: "No difference to me at all," he said. "If they fall off, they fall off. Just wait, they'll start falling off."

No women were on the step at the time. The main objections to their riding there are that they're weaker than men, wear skirts that can blow revealingly aloft in high breezes, and—bodies—they're women! The objection about the skirts was based on the theory that the girls, in trying to get their wind-blown skirts down, would forget about hanging on to the railing and topple off.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Better Marks For the Finals

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
University of S. Calif.

Want to pass those end-of-term tests that are just around the corner? Of course you do! And since we are becoming a nation of test-takers, you might as well learn how to give yourself the best chance of passing them.

You must take tests not only to graduate or advance in school, but to enter and remain in college. Later, you will take tests to get jobs and win promotions.

Everywhere you turn someone will be measuring your brain power, your potential or your knowledge. The scores you make will stick with you for better or worse.

FOLLOW THESE hints and you will get higher grades and better scores:
True-False questions usually are complex. You can't afford to answer one while still worrying about previous questions. Attack one at a time. Give it your full attention, answer it as best you can, then forget it. Turn your full attention to the next question.

Your mind can be tricked in Multiple Choice tests where you must choose the best or the correct answer from four or five possible answers. The author has chosen them so that a slight misreading will make a wrong answer appear to be right. Unless you use extreme care, your mind will be led into a trap.

The correct approach is to read the question carefully before looking at the list of possible answers. Know what the answer should be like. Keep the question firmly in mind while seeking the correct answer.

USE OF scratch paper can be a big help in organizing answers to essay-type questions.

Not only will each statement be more precise, but your answer will show good organization. Jot down a list of points you might make just as they come to your mind, be they good, bad or indifferent. Then evaluate them, perhaps discarding some. Give the rest numbers in the order in which you plan to discuss them. With the scratch paper list acting as your "memory," your mind will be free to concentrate on each point in turn.

CARELESS ERRORS in arithmetic, spelling or punctuation sometimes creep in because your thoughts are centered on how a problem is to be solved or a question answered. Go over your test a second time, thinking only of arithmetic, spelling or punctuation as the case may be. You will then locate your errors before your paper is turned in.

Entering an examination with definite plans of how you are going to take the test will drive fears and pressures into the background. Reviewing these plans from time to time during the examination will help you avoid test-taking jitters. Practice will make you test-wise.

Lindsay to Run For N.Y. Mayor

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. John V. Lindsay, supported by top Republican leaders, was expected to announce today his candidacy for mayor against three-time Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner in next November's election.

Lindsay, 43, a native New Yorker, has rolled up a liberal record as representative of the 17th Congressional District in Manhattan.

Lindsay, who refused to support Barry Goldwater for president, was re-elected last year by more than 90,000 votes. President Johnson carried the same district by more than 70,000 votes.

DEAR ABBY:

This Marriage Strictly Business

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is 26, attractive and extremely well-educated. She confided that she's agreed to marry a 39-year-old foreign-born man who wants to stay in this country longer than he otherwise could, for business reasons. In return for this favor, the man has promised to give my friend a trip to Paris. After this foreigner finishes his business in this country, they plan to get a quick Mexican divorce. Neither this man nor my girl friend has ever been married. I have tried to talk her out of it, but she insists on going through with it. How can I bring her to her senses? Sign me.

"MITZI"

DEAR "MITZI": You probably can't, but try, anyway. This isn't a marriage, it's a business deal. And I'm not so sure it's legal. Encourage your friend to "confide" in a lawyer. She might discover (with his help) the cheapest way to get a trip to Paris is to buy her own ticket.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of a schoolteacher who keeps the whole class after school 30 minutes because one of the children did something wrong and she didn't know which one it was. Several mothers (including myself) had to sit outside in their cars and wait for their children to come out. My daughter had an appointment with an eye doctor, and because she was late she was put on the bottom of the list and had to wait an hour and a half to see him. I think this teacher ought to be fired. Don't use my name if you use this letter. She would take it out on my daughter.

UP IN ARMS

DEAR UP: I don't subscribe to punishing the innocent in order to make sure the guilty gets what's coming to him. Talk to the teacher first and get her side of it.

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to go on living, but taking one's life is a sin against God, so what can I do? My husband was very sick and thought he was going to die. He called me to his bedside and said he didn't want to die with anything on his conscience, so he made a full confession of his sins to me. I told him he didn't have to, but he did, anyway. He confessed that over three years ago, he had been unfaithful to me with my youngest sister, and before that with my dearest friend. There were others, too, but these hurt me the most. Well, he didn't die, and now I cannot look my dear sister in the face. And I don't care to see my best friend again. They know something is wrong but I can't bring myself to tell them. How can I get over this terrible hurt, Abby?

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: Don't permit yourself to dwell on those morbid thoughts. Try to think constructively and positively, and pray for strength, compassion and the grace to forgive. You can bury the past under interests of the present and hopes for the future — if you really try.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WORRIED TO DEATH" IN LINCOLN: If you don't want to go to the health service, see a private physician. But DO NOT DELAY, in justice to yourself and to the people with whom you are living. You could have an infectious disease.

summer recreational program. Falls, spoke to the 33 club members. Louis Gardipee, international bers. Vaughn Hoffman, president, Black River ident, extended the welcome.

BILL MERRILL'S
Something to Live by

Today I would like to share some thoughts with you on how to get along, one with the other, believing this is always a timely subject.

If it isn't wars and rumors of war, it's uprisings on the racial fronts, or just a spat between neighbors. Charity toward our fellowmen is a subject worthy of consideration. I fear often we interpret charity only as a hand-out and miss its true values and how they work. For the most part, the ideas that I am fostering today will prove effective in small circles, but I suspect if practiced in small circles, they will expand to the masses.

CHARITY IS really a simple ability to ascertain what to do and when. For example a charitable person will keep silent when he knows that his words would hurt. In other words, there are times when the nicest thing one can do is keep still. Another charitable act is patience when your neighbor's on his high horse, so to speak. You know how it is. You're amind to give him what for. As a rule, to do so is only to stimulate more discord, but we just can't stand to let something of a nasty sort go by without getting our two cent's worth. Patience will do wonders, if practiced. To blow off to a patient man is about as satisfying as yelling in a rain barrel. Charity is also nourished through a type of deafness. That's right. When scandal flows about a fellow worker, or a party in the community, a tin ear will do marvels. But it takes a type of courage not to listen to the gossips, so on this count, many fall short.

NOW THINK about it. Who do you know that most people enjoy being around? Chances are it's someone who doesn't boast, "I just say what I think — they can like it or lump it." (Whatever that means.) The person in your mind's eye who is for the most part an accepted person in your circle, probably is patient and hesitant to repeat the latest word from the grapevine. Charity starts with you and radiates to everyone home.

(that shares with you in a passing "hello" or a trying experience.

To wear one's feelings on his coat sleeves is a form of selfishness that dares anyone to cross your path emotionally, and you know, whether it's within the community or narrowed to the family, where selfishness persists, there's little or no charity, and warfare is only an explosion away. The good Book sums it all up by saying, "Love your neighbor as yourself."

Railroad Damage in Millions

DOWN THE LINE . . . Looking southward from a point about a mile below Winona Junction, one sees crews preparing a new right of way for the Burlington track. The area is between the line's two largest washouts.

TWISTED TRACKS . . . This is what is left of the Burlington track just south of Winona Junction. Crews are working 20 hours a day to fill in major washouts and to provide a firm base for a new track. (Daily News photos)

Repair work, on a gigantic scale, is going on 20 hours a day across the river from Winona.

Crews from two railroads and private construction firms are moving the earth—or, at least, a good part of it—to undo the damage done to tracks and dikes during last month's flood.

NO FINAL estimates are available, but the Burlington may spend between $2 million and $3 million on reconstruction in this area alone, Eugene Malay, the road's agent here, said.

Major washouts on the Burlington line are near Winona Junction and East Winona. There is another large washout near East Winona on the Green Bay right of way.

Principal contractor for Burlington's repair work is Foley Brothers Construction Co., Minneapolis, with N. A. Roverud of Winona as a subcontractor.

Green Bay and Burlington are running their trains on Chicago & Northwestern tracks to bypass the badly-damaged areas on their own lines. Burlington switches to North Western tracks at Lytle near Trempealeau and continues on them until Winona Junction, while Green Bay uses the North Western bridge to get its trains into Winona.

CREWS ARE working on the washouts from two ends. Fill is being dug from the hillside at the Wisconsin end of the interstate bridge, then hauled over a dike road to the Burlington right of way. A dirt road there—where the tracks used to be—takes the trucks to a large washout a little more than a mile south of Winona Junction.

At least two boxcars have been dumped into the hole to provide a firm bottom, Malay said.

From the other end, Roverud is leading fill from his firm's quarry onto gondolas at the end of the bridge to East Winona. Three boxcars have been dumped into the washout there.

GREEN BAY is bringin fill from the Wisconsin side, and Burlington will do some of the repair work on the Green Bay right of way from the bridge side, Malay explained.

Another washout occurred near Trempealeau, where the Burlington's bridge over Trempealeau Bay is out. Fill for the right of way there is being taken from the Minnesota side of Trempealeau Mountain, causing some complaints from Minnesota residents living across from the scenic bluff.

WITH TRAINS from three railroads running on the North Western's tracks, the area just across the river is recapturing some of its former glory as a rail center.

Long-time residents of the Marshland area, seeing around 25 trains pass during each 24-hour period, must recall the days when what is now the Hillside Fish House was a hotel catering to the multitude of railroad men that passed through.

It will probably be June before rail service gets back to normal here, officials of the Green Bay and Burlington lines have estimated.

MAJOR WASHOUT . . . This large hole was caused by the flood waters surging through the low area just south of Winona Junction. The dark spot in the water is the end of a boxcar—one of two dumped into the hole to hold the fill in place.

4 Congressmen To Visit City

A four-man congressional team is scheduled to inspect Winona's emergency flood defense system next week after briefings by the Corps of Engineers.

Led by Cong. John Blatnik, the team will arrive Thursday in St. Paul. The group will tour damaged areas in St. Paul, Mankato and Winona. The congressmen all are members of the House Public Works Committee. They also will confer with Gov. Karl Rolvaag and officials of government agencies concerned with disaster-area relief.

Others in the team are Cong. John R. Schmidhauser (D-Iowa), Ray Roberts (D-Texas) and William C. Cramer (R-Fla.).

40 at St. Charles Meeting on School; Referendum Tuesday

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special)—About 40 attended the public meeting at St. Charles High School Wednesday night when the bond issue for the proposed $1,285,000 high school was explained.

The referendum will be Tuesday. In listing the eight candidates for three members of the school board, the occupation of James Morcomb inadvertently was given incorrectly. Morcomb, filing for a position on the board, has lived in St. Charles eight years and in the area all his life. He is an engineer with IBM, Rochester.

Melford S. Knutson, St. Paul, president of the Southeastern Minnesota District, will be present.

3 Candidates for Rushford Board

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special)—One candidate, Herbert Highum, filed for Rushford school board, and two were filed by petition, Kermit Holger, incumbent, and Dr. John R. Peterson. Theodore S. Robertson isn't seeking re-election.

Polls will be open in the high school auditorium Tuesday from 6 to 9 p.m. DST. LEADHOLM APPOINTED OSSEO, Wis. (Special)—The Osseo High School principal, John A. Leadholm, has been appointed by the dean of the School of Education, Eau Claire State University, to serve on the advisory council on professional education.

Schirmer Gets Safety Award

Schirmer Transportation Co., which operates a terminal here, today received the second place award for an outstanding safety record in the 5-10 million mile class competition from the American Trucking Association for 1964.

The award was presented in Cincinnati, Ohio. Schirmer Transportation is a carrier of all commodities in bulk with eight terminals in Minnesota and Wisconsin, serving Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, North Dakota and South Dakota. Headquarters are in St. Paul.

Car-Truck Crash Causes Damage, Minor Injury

A car-truck collision at Highway 74 and County 39 Wednesday at 6:18 p.m. caused a minor injury to the driver of the car and $400 damage to his vehicle, Sheriff George L. Fort reported today.

Howard W. Nienow, Utica, driving a two-ton truck, and Dennis L. Hoskins, 19, Brainerd, Minn., driving a car, were both moving south on Highway 74, 3 miles north of St. Charles, when Nienow signalled a left turn with his arm just as Hoskins attempted to pass.

Hoskins' car left 38 feet of skid marks in the northbound lane of the highway before reaching the point of impact with the left rear wheels of the truck in the roadway of County 39. Damage was to the right front and right side of the car. There was no damage to the truck.

The sheriff's investigation showed that the turn signals on Nienow's 1957 model truck were not working. However, he told the sheriff that he had signalled the turn with his arm.

Building at Eyota

EYOTA, Minn. (Special)—Excavation has begun on a $20,000 combination village hall and fire station. The new building is being constructed on the site of the old village meeting place, razed recently.

First National Begins Moving

Preliminary removals to new quarters are now under way at the First National Bank, with the major transfer set for May 22 and 23.

Arnold Stoa, president, said the bank will operate at its present site, Center and 4th Streets, until close of banking hours May 21. It will open for business Monday morning, May 24, in its new building at 4th and Main streets.

Equipment, records and supplies not essential for immediate purposes are now being transferred, Stoa said.

All safety deposit boxes now have been moved, he said. The boxes are transferred while locked in their units, or "nests." Each nest weighs about two tons, Stoa estimated. Special police protection was provided for this removal which was finished Wednesday night.

An eight-ton vault was moved last month, Stoa said.

Showers Due; Cooler Saturday

Winona's pleasant weather may be coming to an end.

Partly cloudy tonight and Friday is the forecast for the area with scattered showers likely Friday. A low in the 50s is predicted for tonight and a high of 75-82 for Friday. Partly cloudy and cooler is the outlook for Saturday.

$15,000 Damage Suit Settled

A $15,000 damage suit scheduled for trial this morning in District Court was settled out of court, Clerk of Court Joseph C. Page announced.

Miss Carol J. Halverson, 21, Fountain City, Wis., had claimed compensation for injuries she allegedly received while riding in a car driven by Martin Lubben, Kenosha, Wis., near La Crescent, Minn., July 29, 1963.

Miss Halverson, represented by Attorney Roger P. Brosnahan, alleged negligence on Lubben's part in connection with the accident which occurred. Lubben, through Attorney Robert G. Hull, denied negligence and claimed that if Miss Halverson had been injured it was through her own negligence or that of persons over whom Lubben had no control.

A 12-man jury was drawn Tuesday morning to hear the case but was dismissed Wednesday with the rest of the jury panel until Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. CST. The Halverson case is the third settled out of court this week.

to 79 Wednesday afternoon, dropped to 46 overnight and was 70 at noon today.

A year ago the high was 65 and the low 45.

Last week's rains along the tributaries was beginning to be felt in the main channel of the Mississippi here today with the stage up .2 of a foot in 24 hours to 11.3 and slated to go to 11.5 Friday, 11.4 Saturday and 11.2 Sunday.

All Sandbagger Checks Ready

Checks for all sandbaggers now are completed and ready for issuance at the city recorder's office in City Hall.

Workers must call in person for the checks since no addresses are listed for individuals.

All pay records have been cross-checked to eliminate possible duplication of hours. About 3,500 checks have been written, office personnel estimated.

RUSHFORD, Minn. — Arthur Miller, former Rushford mayor, now a member of the Fillmore County Board of Commissioners, told subcommittees of the House and Senate appropriation committees in Washington, D. C., Monday and Tuesday that Rushford has had major floods from Root River and Rush Creek 12 times since 1933.

Miller and his delegation, through Minnesota representatives in Congress, asked the committee to include $400,000 for dike design and start of construction on the $1.5 million flood control and prevention program planned here by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

RUSHFORD IS asking inclusion of the sum in the 1966 public works appropriation, becoming available July 1.

The House hearing Monday was arranged by Cong. Albert Quile and the Senate hearing Tuesday by Sens. Eugene McCarthy and Walter Mondale.

The Corps of Engineers, Miller told the committees, reports

420 acres flooded in Rushford this year. Of those 300 are residential. Sixty blocks of residential land and 15 blocks of commercial land were flooded.

Miller was accompanied by the present mayor, D. T. Rollefson, Attorney Daniel Prinzing and Vincent Miller, representing the Rushford Conservancy District.

The Root River watershed lies in Southeastern Minnesota, and Rushford is at the confluence of Rush Creek and the Root. The creek, running southeasterly through the center of town, drains 132 square miles. The river flows east through the south end of Rushford and drains 1,670 square miles.

THERE IS A drop in elevation of 500 feet from the upper Rush Creek watershed area down to Rushford, Miller said. "It is a raging torrent when it flows through Rushford during the frequent flash floods."

The major floods have been in 1933, '36, '42, '45, '46, '50, '51, '52, '53, '61, '62 and this year, when Rushford sustained damages of half a million dollars. Damages in 1961 and 1962 were estimated at $100,000 or more.

The Rushford Area Drainage and Conservancy District was established in 1953 by two district judges, the first of its kind in Minnesota. The Rush-Pine Creek watershed draining 80,050 acres was organized in 1956.

The Rushford flood project was authorized in 1958 under the Flood Control Act. The benefit-cost ratio has increased from 1.61 to 1 in 1956 to 2.4 to 1 this year.

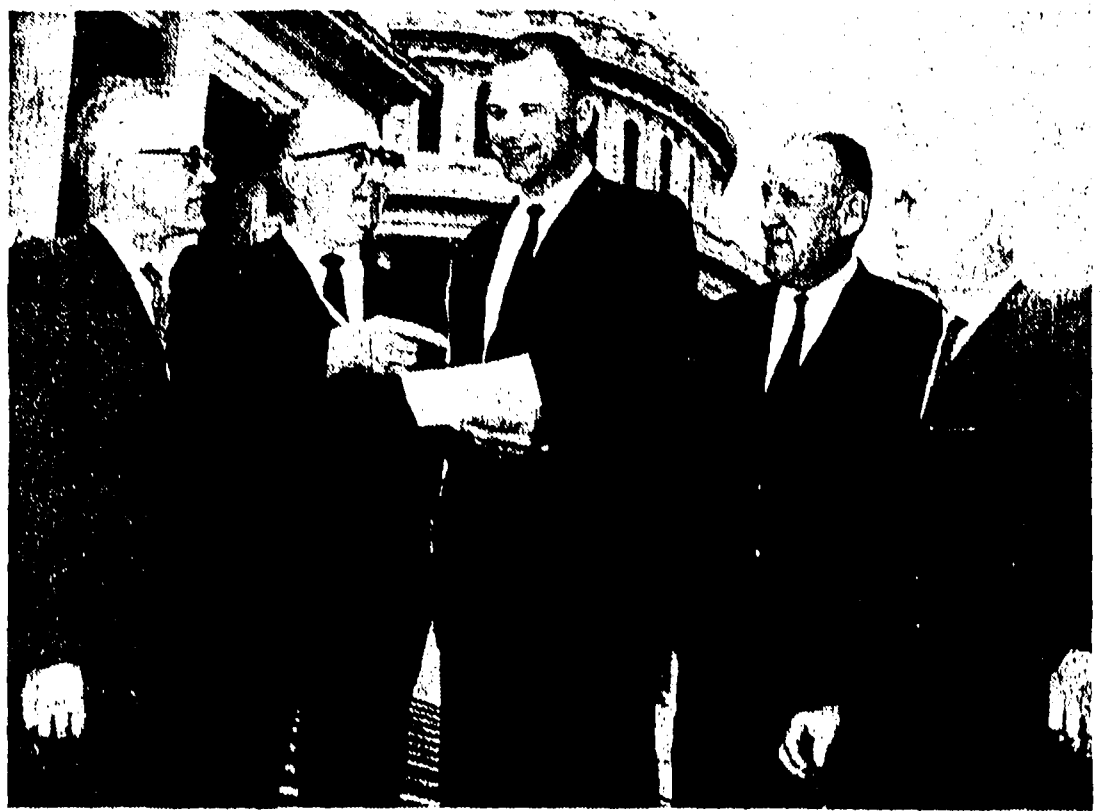

"RUSHFORD stands ready to provide full local participation, which is a minimum of $265,000 to over $300,000," Miller said.

Rushford has spent $20,000 locally in engineering and other fees, and a total of $172,000 has been spent for planning. Minnesota Highway Department, conservation departments and local groups have cooperated.

"A new county bridge across Rush Creek to the Brooklyn residential and rural areas will be built with federal-state aid funds when this project is implemented," Miller told the committees. He said the present antiquated, unsafe bridge now served 25 percent of Rushford's trade area and one-third of the city's residents.

T. Rollefson, Fillmore County Commissioner Arthur Miller, Cong. Albert H. Quile, who secured a hearing for them, Attorney Daniel Prinzing and Vincent Miller.

Wayne's Health Report Is Good

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS — John Wayne was one of the happiest people at the big SHARE party held at Santa Monica Auditorium — and that's saying a lot, for there were many, many, very, very happy people there — especially toward the end of the evening, along toward morning.

"Duke," who's gained weight since giving up cigarettes, after winning his battle with cancer, told me in a booming voice, "I went to the clinic today, and they said everything is just fine up here." He slapped his chest, which had been operated on last year.

Tears came into Lucille Ball's eyes at the party — motherly emotion expressed itself as she saw her son, little Desi, 12, appear onstage playing the drums with Dean Martin's son's trio — "Dino, Desi and Billy."

When the youngster was pounding the drums he was ignoring two gal Watutsi dancers in short fringe skirts and concentrating on his drumming — not even looking up. "Now if that was his daddy, Desi Sr., somebody commented, 'he'd be looking at the girls and not at the drums.'"

THE JOINT appearance of Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Joe E. Lewis — and a specially prepared sketch with Polly Bergen playing a nun and Phil Silvers portraying a rabbi, with the nun giving Phil some advice on show business — stood out in that wonderful evening. Then there were Julie New-mar, Liz Ashley, Mrs. Steve McQueen and some other lovelies in bikinis.

Dean Martin's little comic touches tickled me. At one point, with all that bevy of Hollywood femininity giggling around, he said to the audience, "Lady and gentlemen . . ."

ANOTHER TIME, crouched in the audience while Sinatra was singing, Dean said, "One of the worst singers I ever heard! Besides that, he steals anything I do!"

When Columbia Pictures booked a premiere of "Cat Ballou" in Denver for May, it didn't anticipate a spring snowstorm. Nevertheless, Lee Marvin, Jane Fonda, Mickey Callan and others woke up the morning after to see snow swirling outside their windows at the Brown Palace. My Beautiful Wife woke me, shouting, "Look, look — snow!" They have snow in Denver as late as June 1 and as early in the fall as Labor Day, one of the natives told me.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jack Albertson tells wearily of a sleepless night he had: "I was too tired even to toss and turn."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A visitor back from London says some British fans call The Beatles "the most exciting sound since the all-clear signal."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The best preparation for tomorrow is to make good use of today." — Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: Strange thing about mink, notes Jackie Kannon. Some women are allergic to wearing it. Most men are allergic to buying it.

TV comic Chuck McCann was asked to name his favorite movie star, and answered, "I pick Joseph Cotten, if you want my Cotten-picking opinion." . . . That's earl, brother.

Bass Hitting

These two Winona State College students found that bass were hitting below the Winona dam from the Wisconsin shore. The string they are holding has two big largemouth, one weighing six pounds, another four pounds. Other fish on the string are five other bass, one large white bass, five walleyes and several big crappies. The fishermen are Gene "Red" Miller, (wearing glasses) 1537 Gilmore Ave., and John Lyons, 558 W. Howard St.

Minnesota Opening The opening of the general fishing season in Minnesota produces little fishing excitement in communities adjoining the Mississippi where all fishing seasons have been open since May 1. The only close-in inland waters here are Lake Winona, and most of the fish in this lake were winter killed.

However, over most of the state, May 15 is an important fishing day. It is the big Northern Minnesota opening. Cars by the thousands will head Friday for the northern lakes, carrying thousands of fishing people out for the first fishing holiday of the year. The season opens for walleyes, northerns and muskies. The bass season on inland waters of Minnesota does not open until June 5. It opens north of Highway 53 May 29. Everything opened in the Mississippi River zone May 1.

Reports from northern lakes indicate that most of these lakes are now free of ice. The water levels are high. Lake trout are still deep in the deep lakes. The lake trout season opened Jan. 2.

Plenty of Water The first report of Ducks Unlimited on conditions for the production of the 1965 waterfowl crop in the Canadian provinces reached us this week. It was dated Monday May 10. Later, as the surveys are enlarged, we will receive at intervals during the summer and fall reports from this organization's fieldmen.

A long cold winter, a late spring and a quick break-up have resulted in the best run-off in western Canada since 1960. Water conditions are not as good as they were in the middle 1950's . . . it takes more than one year of good run-off to replenish the larger marshes and shallow lakes, but over much of the west the smaller prairie ponds are brimful. The central Saskatchewan prairies will need at least normal precipitation but, barring an abnormally hot dry summer, there will be sufficient water over most of the prairie and parklands to see the duck crop safely on the wing.

This highly pleasing situation came about in the following way. Winter snowfall was only normal or slightly above, but high winds and frequent blizzard conditions piled the snow into sloughs and coulees. The winter was long and cold and the early thaws which in recent years have dissipated the run-off were lacking. It was the coldest March on the prairies since 1951 and this condition persisted into mid-April. A short period of day thawing and nighttime freezing then gave apprehension that the run-off would again be lost. Suddenly warm weather broke through and . . . with day and night temperatures well above freezing . . . the maximum run-off from the snowpack was realized.

Migration was delayed by the late spring and the nesting season has been set back. First broods are not expected until early June whereas the usual date is the third week in May. Surveys will be run in mid-May to evaluate the breeding population returning to the prairies.

HARRIS SURVEY

Support for Voting Law

By LOUIS HARRIS

By better than 3 to 2, Americans favor passage of a proposed civil rights voting law like the one now before Congress. The division in the country would be much closer to 50-50 if the matter rested exclusively on whether the states or the federal government should have primary responsibility over requirements for voting.

Tipping the balance toward more federal initiative now is the decisive belief — over 2 to 1 — that most Negroes are not allowed to register and vote in states like Alabama.

As was the case with the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the South is solidly opposed to the new voting legislation — by about 3 to 1. But an almost identical majority in the East favors the bill. The balance is held by the Midwest and the West, and people in both areas want to see the legislation passed. (See Table I — Voting Rights Bill.)

A BREAKDOWN of the reasons people feel the way they do reveals that slightly more than half the people (52%) believe that requirements for voting should be regulated by the states rather than the federal government. But one person in every seven is willing to forego his preference for states' rights in this area because they feel deeply that inequities and injustices have been wrought to Negroes in voting.

Nationwide, Democrats heavily favor a voting bill. But a slim majority of Republicans is opposed to it. The right of states to determine voter qualifications is a deeply held conviction among the GOP rank-and-file. The decisive group in swinging public sentiment behind the voting rights bill are political independents who favor new legislation 5 to 3.

Those Republicans who broke party lines to vote for President Johnson in 1964 support a bill by almost 3 to 1. The survey thus uncovers the same split in GOP ranks that existed last year when Barry Goldwater made real inroads in the once Democratic South, but lost ground heavily over the civil rights issue in traditionally Republican states such as Vermont and New Hampshire.

THE NEW voting rights bill might have been hard-pressed to obtain solid majority support, the survey shows, had it not been for the recent dramatic demonstrations in Alabama. These added materially to the strong conviction outside the South that Negroes do not have full voting rights in that state. The counter claim of Gov. George Wallace that Negroes are not denied voting rights in Alabama fell short of convincing even a majority of Southerners. (See Table II — Can Negroes Register and Vote in Alabama?)

Feeling on both sides of the voting bill issue are running high. Typical of Negro sentiment are the words of the 29-year-old wife of a construction worker in Boston. "The time has come when we're tired of being slaves. This is my country. I want my children to grow up with mental freedom."

A skilled white laborer in Fairmount, Ind., said "If a state can't live up to the constitution, it's time for the federal government to step in and do something."

ON THE other side of the question, a state patrolman in Gary, Ind., said, "We are headed toward dictatorship and the government is taking too much authority and power away from the state." Nor was all the opposition confined to the region below the Mason-Dixon line. A maintenance man in Milwaukee said, "Under that law, Communists could infiltrate and make people vote for them. The Southern Negro is not intelligent enough. Wallace is trying to prevent Communists from taking over."

TABLE I
VOTING RIGHTS BILL

Q. President Johnson has proposed that Congress pass special laws that would allow the federal government to go into a state and register people to vote. He believes this is the only way to make sure that Negroes in the South would be able to actually vote. Opponents of the bill feel this is an invasion of the right of states to control their own elections. Do you tend to favor or oppose the new law on voting rights that President Johnson has proposed?

Clinic Bodies Rap Failure to Rename Mayo

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—House University Committee failure to endorse Dr. Charles W. Mayo for re-election to the University of Minnesota Board of Regents, brought a rare statement on a non-medical matter Wednesday from governing bodies of the Mayo Clinic.

"A multiplicity of problems face education in Minnesota and knowledgeable men are needed to solve these problems. Dr. Mayo is such a man and we strongly urge his election," said a formal statement issued by the Mayo Clinic Board of Governors, the Board of Trustees of the Mayo Foundation, and the Mayo Graduate School of Medicine.

Mayo was not included in a slate of five candidates chosen during a stormy committee session Tuesday. The committee chose Robert G. Johnson, William attorney, to take Mayo's seat.

Mayo's name is expected to be on the list to be prepared by the Senate Education Committee, however.

The clinic statement, mentioning Dr. Mayo's extensive service with many organizations including the United Nations, world health organizations, and various presidential commissions, said "It would seem unfortunate if Dr. Mayo's talents, experience and dedication were not available to citizens of Minnesota."

Mabel Firm Low

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — Engen Construction Co., Mabel, has been awarded the general construction contract for the education unit at Zion Reformed United Church of Christ, Waukon, Iowa. Engen's bid was $71,500. Bulman Electric got the electrical contract at $5,015 and Stone Plumbing the plumbing contract at $10,798. Both Waukon firms, they were low bidders. The two-story unit will consist of 16 classrooms, office, storage and rest rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hubley, Weaver, bought the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Fletcher, who moved to Orlando, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Mauritz Lindmark purchased the 20-cent Wash Laundry from Bernard Bell at Wabasha but will continue to live here.

Souvenir Flood Edition Offered

Orders are coming in by the thousands for the special Winona Daily News souvenir edition of the 1965 flood which will be published soon.

The Daily and Sunday News staff now is completing the edition; it is almost ready for the printer. Copies should be in the mail the week of May 16.

In the tabloid-size edition 32 pages of photographs and stories will tell of the flood fight in Winona and nearby cities in Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin.

There will be separate sections on weather conditions that were responsible for the flood and the story of the river's rise; the measures taken to combat the record river levels; the impact on industries, business, transportation and residential areas; the role of Civil Defense, Red Cross, Salvation Army and other agencies in the flood fight and a section on the flood period in the Winona area.

The special edition will not be distributed as a part of this newspaper. It will not contain advertising.

To make sure that you will obtain your copy (and those you wish to send to friends and relatives who reside elsewhere) fill out the following order, blank and send it to The Daily News today. Send 50 cents (which includes postage) for each copy you want and your copies will be mailed to the destinations you indicate. This special publication will be entitled "The City That Saved Itself."

County Shows Slight Population Increase

Minnesota's estimated population as of July 1, 1964 was 3,521,000 according to population estimates by counties prepared by the section of vital statistics, Minnesota Department of Health. Estimates for 1964 represent an increase of 107,136 (3.1 percent) over 1960 census data. The new figure is the same as that of the U.S. Bureau of the Census for the same date.

Altogether, 35 Minnesota counties have lost population since 1960. 23 counties have gained population at a rate lower than the state average of 3.1 percent, and 29 counties have gained population at a rate higher than the state average.

Counties with the highest growth rates are found in a belt around the metropolitan area, plus Olmsted County and four counties in northwest central Minnesota (Becker, Norman, Red Lake, and Wadena). These four northwestern counties lost heavily during the 1950s. The fact that this entire area currently has higher growth rates than during the 1950s indicates a leveling off of out-migration, and in some counties there is a slight in-migration. The five-county metropolitan area gained nearly 100,000 persons since 1960, which is 6.7 percent or more than twice the rate of increase for the state as a whole.

Areas which have lost population since 1960 include the counties in the far northwestern part of the state, the iron range, southwestern Minnesota and the southern tier of counties all across the state.

THE COUNTIES IN the southwest and in the far northwest show essentially the same pattern of out-migration that was true for the 1950s. The iron range counties, which gained population during the 1950s, have lost substantially since 1960.

Counties in the south bordering on Iowa gained in population during the 1950s but at the same time each suffered from some out-migration. All of these southern counties, like adjacent counties in Iowa, have lost population since 1960.

Although the national population increase, 1960-1964, was 6.7 percent compared to the Minnesota increase of 3.1 percent, the Minnesota growth pattern is quite similar to that of the 12 north central states. The average annual growth rate for the north central region (0.8 percent) is only half as much as the average annual growth rate (1.61 percent) in the region during the 1950s. This drop occurred in every state in the north central region except North Dakota, South Dakota, and Nebraska.

These three states now have higher growth rates than during the 1950s. Population-wise, they are also the smallest states in the region, with a combined 1964 estimated population of 2,830,000.

GROWTH PATTERNS in this 12-state area, based on U. S. Bureau of the Census data for Aug. 31, 1964, are similar to those of the 1940s and 1950s. States that have been growing faster than Minnesota continue to grow faster. States which have not grown as fast as Minnesota continue at a slower pace, with the exception of South Dakota and Nebraska. These two states are growing at a faster rate. Kansas, which had been growing at approximately the same rate as Minnesota, now is not growing as fast.

Percentage-wise, Minnesota ranks eighth in terms of population growth, 1960-1964, in the 12-state area. In rank order, the percent increase in these states is: South Dakota (5.0), Nebraska (4.9), Ohio (4.1), Illinois (4.0), Wisconsin (3.9), Michigan (3.5), Indiana (3.5), Minnesota (3.1), Missouri (2.1), Kansas (2.1), and North Dakota (2.0). Iowa shows an estimated population loss of 1,000 persons.

Since 1960, U.S. Bureau of Census estimates indicate that the western states have grown much more rapidly than the nation as a whole and the southern states slightly more rapidly than the nation. The northern states are growing at a lesser rate.

In particular, the north central area (which includes Minnesota), has the lowest growth rate and the highest rate of out-migration. This pattern of growth among the states is in line with that of the last half of the 1950 decade, except that the growth rate of the North Central region is even lower than it was in the 1950s.

MINNESOTA HAD an estimated net out-migration for the period April 1, 1960 -- July 1, 1964 of 114,267 persons. People came to Minnesota from other states but more people left Minnesota to go to the other states.

Minnesota's net out-migration was largely to the Mountain and Pacific states, (52,975). The net out-migration to California alone was 32,969. Washington attracted 5,889 Minnesotans, Arizona 5,875, Colorado 2,448, Oregon 2,196, and Montana 1,603.

There was a net out-migration of 8,143 to the Southern states, most of which was to Florida (5,708) and Texas (1,443). Alaska claimed 312 Minnesotans and 531 went to Hawaii.

By age, the greatest net out-migration (77.2 percent) was in the age groups 15-24 years and persons 60 years of age and over. The only age group showing a net in-migration was the age group 25-29 years.

HERE ARE THE figures for Southeastern Minnesota counties:

County	April 1, 1960	July 1, 1964	Net Change	%
Fillmore	23,708	23,213	-555	-2.3
Goodhue	33,035	33,575	540	1.6
Houston	16,588	16,032	-556	-3.4
Mower	48,498	45,298	-3,200	-6.6
Olmsted	65,532	70,221	4,689	7.2

Winona	40,937	41,223	286	0.7

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Minimum Wage Change Aired

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There is a significant debate going on inside the President's Cabinet over the question of whether the President should recommend to Congress an increase in the federal minimum wage. The discussion relates to the possibility that such an action would have a severe impact on the national economy by increasing unemployment and perhaps raising the cost of living.

The Johnson administration has been urged to go along with the request of the union leaders that the federal minimum wage of $1.25 per hour be increased, but the big question is how much the total increase should be and whether it should be applied gradually over a period of years. The amount of the increase itself might not be costly in a given year, but it is the indirect effect of a revolutionary change in the whole employment structure which could be the basis for a shakeup in wage scales. This, in turn, would have an effect upon the price of food and goods sold to the consumers.

THERE ARE many millions of persons today who are earning below the federal minimum wage, but most of them are doing odd jobs or their classifications of work are exempted by law. Once a minimum wage is raised, however, other persons occupying a little higher level of employment feel that their wages should be moved up correspondingly. This could bring an escalation of wage scales all along the line, for as one class of employees is given an increase, the class just above it feels it is entitled to something of the same kind. This is often referred to as "bumping" the wage scales.

Any change in the minimum-wage rate, therefore, is bound to affect not only the number employed but also the wage costs of many employers throughout the country. It can also mean that those persons without skills who are not considered today to be worth more than $1.25 an hour would find it more difficult to get jobs because it might prove necessary for employers to hire better qualified persons at higher wages rather than to take chances with employees who are not really competent to do the work.

EVEN MORE severe may be the effect of the administration's plan to impose a penalty of "double time" — instead of the usual payment at the rate of time-and-a-half — for overtime beyond the normal work shift. Theoretically, the object is to cause employers to cut down on overtime work and hire more individuals on a regular 40-hour-week basis.

But not every business can economically make such a change. A company which requires only a few hours' work over and above a regular 8-hour shift will feel that it is being penalized. To add more personnel in another shift would be a bigger expense than to handle the same work with some overtime.

These various phases of the employment situation have always been a factor in American economic life. The federal minimum wage has usually operated to intensify the difficulties, particularly since adjustments in many wage scales become necessary. It could take three to five years for employers to absorb these changes.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Private Oil Companies After Underground Oil

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Fifteen hundred dollars is riding on a Senate committee hearing this week for every bus driver, bootblack, broker and banker in the U.S.A. On the outcome of these Senate hearings will partly depend the disposition of the U. S. government property worth $300 billion — enough to pay off the national debt. Or, if divided among 200 million Americans, it would mean a bonus of $1,500 apiece.

The property in question is the vast five-million acres of government-owned oil shale land in Colorado, Wyoming, and eastern Utah. It's estimated that it contains two trillion barrels of oil, and this bonanza is now the subject of intense backstage wire-pulling on the part of the big oil companies and the protectors of the public.

Lyndon Johnson probably doesn't know it, being busy with the Dominican Republic, Viet Nam, and other problems, but he is being quoted backstage as favoring his old friends the oil companies in the disposition of this hidden treasure.

IN A PREVIOUS Republican administration — Hoover's — Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur withdrew the shale oil lands from private leasing. At that time the market was glutted with domestic oil and not much was known about how to develop shale oil.

But with the end of other oil resources in the U.S.A. now foreseeable, shale oil has become the most important undeveloped resource in the United States.

Furthermore, it now appears possible to develop it by leaving the surface of the land undisturbed, and through the "in situ" process, burn the shale underground, perhaps through nuclear energy, thereby distilling oil from shale.

So far, private oil companies have acquired 168,000 acres in the Wyoming, Colorado, Utah area as against the government's 5,000,000 acres. But they are now trying to horn in on government land by means of an archaic mining law passed in 1872 which permits private companies to obtain mining patents on government land for only $2.50 an acre. Oil shale land today is actually selling for $2,000 an acre. Yet private companies are now trying to get patent rights for $2.50 an acre.

INSIDE THE Interior Department, Assistant Secretary John Kelly, a Texas oilman appointed by President Kennedy, is plugging for the oil companies. Lined up with him privately is Under Secretary John A. Carver.

Kelly and Carver argue that the oil companies can develop the lands more rapidly than the government, that industry can work out the new process of distilling oil underground.

On the other side is Frank Barry, Interior Department solicitor, a staunch battler for the public interest.

President Johnson has delegated oil policy matters to Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, but eventually Johnson is going to have to step in and decide between his old oil friends and the public. As an ex-school-teacher and a great booster for education, he has a chance to do as much for education with these oil lands as Abraham Lincoln did for the land grant colleges when he gave every other section of public land in the West for the development of state colleges.

The military medical board which has discovered that Gen. Curtis Lemay, cigar-chomping former chief of the Air Force, has been suffering from 60 percent disability, raises interesting questions regarding Lemay's conduct while commanding the Air Force.

ONLY A FEW weeks after he retired, the board of medical examiners found that the general was suffering from a variety of ailments incurred while in military service — and therefore was entitled to non-payment of income taxes on $10,000 of his retirement pay.

Many officers who have watched and frequently differed with Lemay would like to know whether his disability affected his conduct as chief of staff of the Air Force.

As such, he was frequently battling with Secretary of Defense McNamara. He was the only member of the joint chiefs of staff to question the test ban treaty. He also differed with both the Kennedy and Johnson administration regarding the policy of putting more emphasis on missiles and less emphasis on bombers.

Was the general influenced by his disabilities when he took those strong stands? Or is the military medical board merely trying to give an old military pal a chance of escaping income taxes? It might bear congressional investigation.

WASHINGTON CALLING

McGeorge Bundy Ready Report

By MARQUIS CHILDS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — On June 15 one of Harvard's own, one who embodies both the academic and the Brahmin tradition, will come back to deliver the annual Phi Beta Kappa lecture. For McGeorge Bundy and for Harvard this will be an event of signal importance quite apart from the academic distinction attaching to the lectureship.

Beginning with the era of the late Justice Felix Frankfurter in 1933, Harvard has been sending her faculty to work in high government office. But it is safe to say that none has held a post so critical as Bundy. Special assistant to the President on national security affairs, he serves the President in the White House 12 to 14 hours a day as adviser on foreign and military policy.

Although he might prefer to be wholly a background assistant, Bundy has increasingly become a public figure and a controversial one. Students and faculty hostile to or skeptical of the President's policy on Viet Nam consider him the hardest of the hard liners. You can hear student murmurs of a possible picket line for his appearance on the eve of graduation or a boycott of the occasion.

ON THE OTHER hand, his loyal and devoted followers speak with unstinting praise of his integrity, his capability and his remarkable self-discipline. At the age of 34, after serving as associate professor of government, he became in 1953 dean of the faculty of arts and sciences. In that powerful position for eight years, until President Kennedy called him to Washington, he left a deep imprint on the university.

As the academic community has become more and more dubious about the direction of Viet Nam policy, Bundy is emerging as the principal exponent of that policy. His rise to power is in itself a fascinating story. He bears at least a family resemblance to the heroes of the novels of C.P. Snow, who writes of the complex interrelationship in England between the academic world and the government.

THE LATEST Snow novel is called "Corridors of Power." It is jestingly said here that the air corridor between Boston and Washington was until recently at least the principal route of power between the groves of 'Academy and the seat of authority. Kennedy brought into government a number of Harvard men whom he had known in his undergraduate days and later in his political campaigns.

Bundy has recently shown impatience with academic critics of Viet Nam policy. In declining an invitation to debate from 150 faculty members of Washington University in St. Louis, he referred to distortions of fact in the letter of invitation adding:

"THERE ARE other distortions in your letter and other assumptions in its questions which are contrary to fact, but I may have written enough to suggest that if your letter came to me for grading as a professor of government I would not be able to give it high marks."

In a correspondence with Prof. Anatol Rapoport of the University of Michigan Bundy showed considerable acerbity, concluding in his final letter since Rapoport did not understand the situation he could not communicate with him. Rapoport and other professors at Michigan initiated the teach-in movement that has swept campuses across the country.

Bundy has consented to lead a pro-government team in a national teach-in in Washington on Saturday. With him will be Arthur Schlesinger Jr., former professor of history at Harvard, whom Kennedy brought to Washington as one of his advisers. Other top policy officials, including Averell Harriman and Walt Rostow, head of the planning council of the State Department, will participate. Leading the opposition team will be Hans Morgenthau, political scientist at the University of Chicago, and Prof. George Kahin of Cornell University. A telephone hookup will link campus in

Letters to The Editor

Labor Leader Doesn't Want Right to Work Law To the Editor:

How Right is the right to work law? I don't want a "right to work" law, but if there is instituted such a law in this state, there are a few other things I would like to have included in it.

1. If I were a businessman, I would want to use all facilities of the Chamber of Commerce and the Retailers Association without belonging to them or paying any dues or fees to them.

2. If I were a manufacturer, I would want to use the facilities of the National Manufacturers Association without costs.

3. If I were a doctor, I would want to be free to practice medicine anywhere I wish without belonging to the American Medical Association.

4. If I were a dentist, I would want to be able to practice dentistry without belonging to any dentist association.

5. If I were a lawyer, I would want to practice my profession without hindrance from a state law requiring me to belong to the bar association.

6. If I were an engineer, I would not want my employment to be contingent upon my belonging to an engineers association.

7. However I am just a working man but if the state can pass a law which will protect my "right" to ride the coattails of my labor association without paying my share of the associations expenses, I think the same law should entitle me to live in a community and enjoy all the benefits of city facilities without paying taxes to the city. It seems to me the same principle exactly.

As a matter of fact, if I can be a freerider of a labor union, I should also be protected by state law in my "right" to be a freerider of any collective enterprise, be it city, county, state or national government, club or whatever it may be. I don't know who will get together and provide these facilities for my free use, but I imagine it will be the same forward-looking people who are providing them at the present time.

Robert H. Lindner
Recording Secretary
Winona Central Labor Union

many states.

AS A COOL and self-disciplined defender of Administration policy Bundy appeared recently on Meet the Press. In such appearances he seldom adds to the sum total of knowledge but his crisp, incisive academic style is impressive. His critics, both in the academic and political world, find him overbearing.

Those who know him best say that he gives his complete loyalty to President Johnson, as he gave it to Kennedy, out of a dedicated sense of duty. They resent the suggestion — dean of the world, one analyst called him — that he is a professor enraptured with power.

Youth, 18, Fined For Dumping; Boat Missing

A conviction on a rubbish-dumping charge, an investigation into a break-in and the report of a boat missing occupied Sheriff George L. Fort Wednesday and today, he reported.

The sheriff arrested Allen Larson, 18, 3845 5th St., Goodview, Wednesday on a charge of dumping rubbish along the old U. S. 61 in Rollingstone Township. The youth pleaded guilty to the charge on his arraignment the same day in Goodview Justice Court.

Justice Lewis E. Albert imposed a $25 fine and $5 costs, and young Larson spent several hours in the county jail before the fine was paid by his father Wednesday evening, according to the sheriff. Fort said that the rubbish dumped by Larson included beer cans and papers.

Sheriff Fort said he is investigating numerous other complaints of similar offenses in the county. His department intends to press charges whenever possible in order to stop the illegal dumping, the sheriff said.

THE SHERIFF was also investigating the break-in and theft of tools from a tool shed which was carried several miles downstream by the flooding Mississippi River.

N. L. Pederson, 424 Lafayette St., reported his tool shed swept away May 7. It had been located near his summer cottage on Winnebago Island. Pederson told the sheriff.

Pederson located the tool shed Tuesday. It was washed up on Pig Island, just north of Trempealeau Mountain. However, the shed had been broken into and a large number of tools stolen. Pederson complained.

The sheriff has been interviewing suspects since Pederson's second complaint.

Fort said today that the tools missing included: Ward cement mixer (without motor), four steel chairs, cement base, shovel, shears, hacksaw, rubber-wheeled barrow, one kerosene warning light and some lumber including two by four planks.

HERBIE C. WISTE, Lanesboro, Minn., reported Wednesday at 5:30 p.m., that his boat was missing from its mooring at Breezy Point, below the Winona Dam. The aluminum boat is 14 feet long and painted red, white and blue.

WISTE said he was on the boat when it was swept away by the flood. He was on the boat when it was swept away by the flood. He was on the boat when it was swept away by the flood.

Graduation is creeping up on us fast! We now have our Graduation Cards on display, and they are very pretty — there should be one to fit any occasion — for High School Graduates, College, Nurse, Son, Daughter, all by Gibson — We have the card so many of you have been asking for — If for boys — If for girls — While you are at Brown's choosing your card, why not look around in the Cosmetic Dept. and find a little remembrance for the all-important day — We can suggest for any price range.

Just another reminder — TEN-O-SIX LOTION — the regular $5.00 size for the month of May, only $3.95 — Don't miss this wonderful buy — if ever one needed to use this cleanser, it is in the Summer months — is so refreshing and cleanses so well — Call 4932 and we will either hold for you or if possible deliver — We also have the gallons — this year with a little pump so there is no trouble in pouring from the large to a smaller bottle.

NEW from OLD SPICE — LIME After Shave Lotion — this is really different for this company to have a completely different fragrance for Men — A twist of fresh lime has been added to the fine spices — which gives a brisk, astringent action — and contains an antiseptic to heal razor nicks — Packaged very attractively in a cool green look — How about something for Father's Day? Only $1.25.

New from Shulton for ladies — a Desert Flower perfumed BATH POWDER — a very nice summer fragrance that has a refreshing, soothing body sachet and contains a mild body deodorant — wonderful to use before putting on your clothing after bath — absorbs all moisture left on the body.

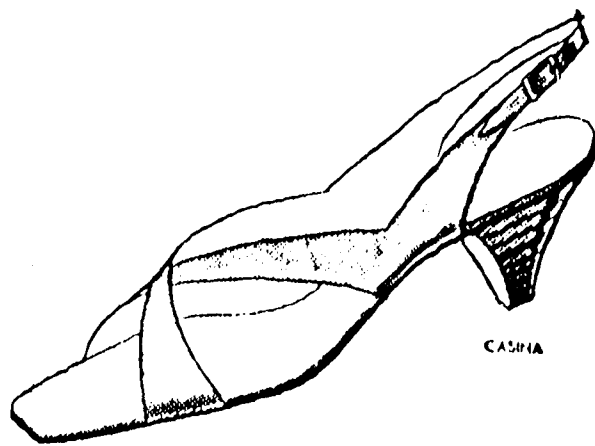

Each day the days will become warmer — why not be prepared with Cosmetics items to help make yourself be more comfortable? Along with comfort think of saving your skin from too much sun — add plenty of moisture — and use a preventive sun screening preparation — If you have not tried Antoine's BAIN de SOLEIL — gives a beautiful tan without robbing the skin of the all-important moisture — We have also just received a shipment of the new Bonne Bell Suntan Cream — two types — one for dry skin and one for oily — testers to check the difference.

Critical Need for More Technical Training Outlined by W. E. Macemon

"Providing for the Educational Need of Our Young Adults" was the topic presented by Warren Macemon, assistant director of Winona Area Vocational and Technical School, at the Altrusa Club dinner meeting, Tuesday night at Hotel Winona.

THE PROGRAM was arranged by Mrs. A. L. Nelson, a member of Altrusa's vocational services committee, who also introduced the speaker.

Mr. Macemon gave a summary of the technical training program as it is today, and then with interesting statistics and sound estimates, explained the critical need for technical training and the challenging decade that lies ahead. He said technical schools are offering more and varied fields of training in which young adults will be happy and can earn a living.

Vocational classes are now being held in various locations throughout Winona, but Mr. Macemon said that the goal has been set for the fall of 1967 for the completion of a new and adequate Vocational and Technical School for this area. A question and answer period followed.

MRS. E. S. Kjos, president, presided at the regular business meeting. A check for $100, covering the pledge made by the Altrusa Club to the Winona County Day Activity Center, Inc., was given to Miss Susan Steiner, treasurer of this organization, and a member of Altrusa Club.

The club also voted to respond to the request for used clothing from the Foster Parents Organization.

Miss Rose Schettler Named President of Business Club

Miss Rose Schettler was re-elected president of Winona Business and Professional Women's Club at the dinner meeting Tuesday evening at Hotel Winona.

OTHER OFFICERS elected were Miss Doris Pennell for a second term as first vice president; Miss Sadie Marsh, second vice president; Mrs. John Schmidt, secretary; Mrs. Louise Hamlin, treasurer; and Miss Mabel Baumann, auditor. Officers were installed in a flower ceremony by Miss Janet Newcomb, past chairman of District Four, assisted by Miss Sara Potter. Roses of different hues were used to symbolize the offices.

Devotions were given by Miss Ann McCleery. Miss Corinne Johnson, teacher at the Jefferson School, sang, accompanied by Mrs. James Werra.

Miss Mildred Bartsch expressed the gratitude of the club for the work done by the citizens of Winona in the flood emergency and a gratitude offering of $78 was given voluntarily by the members present. Mrs. R. H. Watkins will present the money to the Winona Daily News Flood Fund.

MISS SCHETTLE conducted the business meeting and called for annual reports. Miss Mabel Dudley, a member of the club for 40 years, was absent from the meeting and a card was sent to her in appreciation of her faithful attendance at all meetings. In the 40 years, she has only missed 10 meetings. Budget for the club year 1965-

66 was approved by the club. Miss Martha Steele, chairman of finance, and her committee comprised of Miss Florence Caswell, Mrs. S. F. Reid and Mrs. Grace Faulds, were in charge of the meeting and had prepared the budget with the aid of Miss Newcomb.

Miss Edna Nelson, chairman of the scholarship committee, reported on the All-Around Girl Award.

Attendance prize for the evening was won by Miss Kemp. MRS. D. B. McLaughlin and Mrs. R. H. Watkins will serve as club delegates and Miss Schettler as club representative at the state convention of the Minnesota Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at Rochester May 21-23.

A social hour of cards followed the business meeting.

Country Club Women Hold 1st Ladies Day

The first Ladies Day at Winona Country Club was held Tuesday, with the women golfers playing a low net tournament.

Winners were Mrs. Harold Libera, Class A; Mrs. William Linahan, Class B; and Mrs. James Carroll, Class C.

Announcement was made that the spring luncheon, postponed because of the flood, will be held June 3, with Mrs. William Schuler as chairman of the committee making arrangements.

MISS BARBARA BUTMAN'S engagement to Glenn Jorgenson, son of Mrs. Milda Jorgenson and the late Selmer Jorgenson, Ettrick, Minn., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Butman, Ettrick. The wedding will be Aug. 28 at French Creek Lutheran Church. Miss Butman is employed at the Bank at Galesville, Wis., and her fiancé is engaged in farming in rural Ettrick. (King's Studio)

Country Club's First Dance Is Saturday Night

William Haack Takes Bride To Black Hills

Mr. and Mrs. William Haack will be at home at the Red Top Trailer Court after a honeymoon to the Black Hills, S.D.

They were married May 1 at St. Mary's Catholic Church. The Rev. Donald J. Winkels officiated. Sister Marie Cecil was organist and Mrs. Edward Holz, soloist.

The bride is the former Miss Sharon Heaser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Heaser, 1610 W. 5th St. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Elfrida Haack, 3661 E. 5th St., and Arnold Haack, Kasson, Minn.

MISS ELAINE Heaser, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. David Prondzinski, Dover, Minn., sister of the bride, and Mrs. Peter Jerowski, sister of the groom, bridesmaids.

James Heaser, brother of the bride, Plano, Ill., was best man and Dan Wroblewski and Ralph Fenske, groomsmen. Ushers were Eugene Plein and Albert Fenske.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of brocade peau de soie with a detachable train, three-quarter length sleeves and a scoop neckline trimmed with pearls and crystals. Her veil was held by a satin pillbox and she carried a cascade bouquet of white and burned-orange roses.

HER ATTENDANTS wore floor-length gowns of coral peau de soie with bell-shaped skirts, heart-shaped bodices, notched scoop necklines and elbow-length sleeves. Their headpieces were clover-leaf crowns of pearls worn with bluish veils to match the dresses. They carried white baskets of orange-tipped carnations.

A dinner and wedding reception were held.

Both attended Cotter High School. The bride is a graduate of the Rochester School of Practical Nursing and is a licensed practical nurse at the Winona Clinic. Her husband is employed as a mechanic at the Winona Knitting Mills Inc.

Prenuptial showers were hosted by Miss Elaine Heaser, Mrs. David Prondzinski, Miss Judith Pampuch and also aunts of the bride.

Gene Sarazen believes that today's low scoring in golf is the result of poorly designed contours in the greens and the weakness in the par 5 holes.

There Is Old-Fashioned Rose for Every Garden, Expert Tells WRS

"There is an old rose for every garden, small or large," Mrs. Walter P. Merhoff, New Berlin, Wis., told her listeners Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Winona Rose Society in Pasteur Hall, Winona State College.

"GROWING the old and new roses together is comparable to the enjoyment of good paintings, old and new, or listening to the blending of good music," she said.

Mrs. Merhoff, known to her many rose-loving friends as "Marge," is a past president of the Milwaukee Rose Society; past member of the American Rose Society's old rose committee; organizer and first leader of the Milwaukee Rose Society's Old Rose Study Group.

A member of the American Rose Society since 1952, Mrs. Merhoff was elected national director-at-large in 1963. During 1964 she was appointed chairman of the national membership committee.

She has contributed articles to the American Rose Magazine, the 1963 and 1965 American Rose Annuals and has appeared on many television and radio programs, furthering the interest in growing roses — old and modern.

MRS. MERHOFF speaks at Rose societies, as well as garden clubs. In June of 1962 she represented the old rose committee on the panel symposium at the American Rose Society convention in Minneapolis. She has for many years been a member of the Canadian Rose Society and the Royal National Rose Society of Great Britain.

The illustrated lecture presented at the meeting, "Old Roses - Living Antiques of the Rose World," was prepared for, and presented at the American Rose Society convention held in Phoenix, Ariz., last October, by Mr. and Mrs. Merhoff.

Mrs. Merhoff explained the title, "Old Garden Roses": "An old rose is a rose of old race, but only as old potentially, as the year in which it was first produced by nature or by the hand of man. Old garden roses are the roses of pre-hybrid tea era, about 1867.

"THE GARDEN roses of antiquity were found — not bred," the speaker said. "A beautiful rose, found growing wild, was shifted into a garden. Patiently the generations of the wilding of beautiful bloom, collecting its seeds — tending — observing and by selection, inducing this kind of rose to become more perfect. Many of the old roses (the species, the hybrids) have survived until the present day and are to be found not only in botanical gardens, but in our own gardens."

Mrs. Merhoff told the fascinating story of how Empress Josephine of France became interested in the gardening of roses and developed the "most glorious rose garden then known" which included in its collection some 250 varieties and species.

"There are a few main roses from which sprang the ancient garden roses and the roses of the Middle Ages," Mrs. Merhoff continued, "the Red Rose — R. rubra or R. gallica; the Musk Rose; R. phoenicia; 'Dog Rose' — R. canina. From the chance crossing and re-crossing in the wild, and in gardens, of these foundation roses, evolved this main group of roses grown in the gardens of antiquity."

THE EVENING was highlighted with the showing by Mrs. Merhoff and narrated by Mrs. Merhoff of many beautiful colored slides of the some 200 old garden roses that Mrs. Merhoff grows in her garden. They were taken by Mr. Merhoff over the past few years, when his hobby of amateur photography became important to the preservation of the summer beauty in their rose garden, and when they began to give programs for garden and rose clubs.

Last night's meeting was open to all rose enthusiasts. Twenty guests from Winona, Houston, Rushford, Ridgeway, Witoka, Larnelle and Minneapolis, representing several garden clubs and rose societies, were among the 100 persons attending.

Arranging the program and presenting the Merhoffs was Mrs. R. M. Thomson. Hostesses at the door were Mrs. James Werra, membership chairman, Mrs. George Modjeski, treasurer, and Mrs. C. A. Rohrer.

THE SOCIAL hour, following the meeting, was held in the Skylight Hall and planned by Mrs. A. H. Maze, Sr., chairman, with Mrs. Henry Langenberg and Mrs. Oscar Tillman. Presiding at the refreshment table, which was centered with a lovely arrangement of early spring flowers, were Mrs. Robert Callahan, president, and Mrs. Karl Lipscomb, vice president.

Included in the attendance prizes were three bushes of the Cinnamon Rose of the species that grew in Josephine's garden at Malmaison, and Frau Karl Druschki, which has sometimes been classified as a hybrid perpetual and sometimes as a hybrid tea rose.

Mrs. Callahan welcomed the guests and new members and presided at a brief business meeting preceding the program. Schedules for the coming Rose Show, June 12, were distributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad L. Palubicki

Ann L. Jaszewski Becomes Bride of Conrad Palubicki

Miss Ann Louise Jaszewski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jaszewski, 519 Chatfield St., and Conrad Lee Palubicki, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Palubicki, 478 E. Howard St., were married May 1 at St. Stanislaus Church.

The Rev. Leonard McNab officiated. Sister Mary Edward was organist and the children's choir sang.

Mrs. Joseph Lodico, Lanark, Ill., was maid of honor; Miss Judy Cada, maid of honor; Mrs. Wesley Whetstone, bridesmaid, and Miss Jane Jaszewski, junior bridesmaid.

GEORGE Palubicki was best man and James Meike, South St. Paul, and David Fratzke, groomsmen. Ushers were Wesley Whetstone and Robert Taras.

Sheila Kleinschmidt and Julie Jaszewski were flower girls. Paul Jaszewski, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

The bride's gown was fashioned of peau de soie with long sleeves, princess-style bodice and scoop neckline. Sequin and pearl-trimmed appliques of re-embroidered lace accented the neckline and princess lines of the skirt. The back skirt swept into a flowing chapel-length train. A small crown of pearls held her silk veil and she carried a ball-shaped bouquet of pink and white pompon chrysanthemums.

HER attendants wore floor-length sheath gowns of peau de soie with scoop necklines and elbow-length sleeves. Their detachable overskirts were fastened by bows at the waists. Each of the gowns was a different shade. Their headpieces were matching bows with veils.

The bride's mother wore a powder-blue lace dress and the groom's mother, a green lace dress. Both had corsages of pink and white rosebuds.

A dinner and reception were held for 300 at the Red Men's hall. The Mmes. Stan Orzechowski, George Palubicki and James Meike and the Misses Dorothy and Jean Laska assisted.

The couple left for a one-week wedding trip to Northern Minnesota.

BOTH ATTENDED Winona Senior High School. The bride was formerly employed as a telephone operator at the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. Her husband is employed at the Western Oil and Fuel Co.

The groom's parents were hosts at the bridal dinner held at the Golden Frog Supper Club, Fountain City.

The bride was honored at four pre-nuptial showers: Fellow employees, at the Golden Frog Supper Club; coin shower, at the Athletic Club with the Mmes. Louis Hurlburt, Stanley Orzechowski, Ray Kauphusman and Ray Jaszewski as hostesses; miscellaneous shower at the Teamsters Club, with the Mmes. George Palubicki, Arvel Allred and John Fratzke as hostesses, and a pantry shower, at the home of Miss Pat Reisdorf.

Mr. and Mrs. Palubicki will live at 477 1/2 E. Sanborn St.

Sauer Home Auxiliary Meets Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne W. Erdmann

W. W. Erdmanns Return From Nuptial Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne W. Erdmann are at home at 202 E. Mark St., following a brief wedding trip. They were married May 1 at St. John's Lutheran Church, Nodine, Minn.

The Rev. William Godfrey performed the ceremony. Mrs. Loris Schwarz was organist and Miss Eleanor Steinfeldt and Mrs. Roger Schroeder sang.

Mrs. Erdmann is the former Miss Judith A. Schroeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schroeder, La Crescent Rt. 2, Minn. Mr. Erdmann is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Erdmann, Houston Rt. 1, Minn.

Miss Sharon Papenfuss, Lamotte, Minn., was maid of honor and Miss Kathy Boldt, Houston, bridesmaid.

CLAUDE CORDES, Houston, was best man and Alan Schroeder, brother of the bride, groomsmen. Ushers were Dennis Cordes, Houston, and Lyle Erdmann, Winona.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length rose-point lace gown over satin, fashioned with a sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The tiered skirt, detailed with sequins, formed a peacock train. Her headdress, a pearl encrusted half crown, held her silk veil and she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of red roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Her attendants wore street-length blue-brocaded taffeta sheaths with full overskirts and elbow-length sleeves. Matching flower-shaped headpieces held their circular veils. They carried colonial bouquets of blue and white carnations.

The mother of the bride wore a beige dress and the groom's mother, a beige lace suit. Both had corsages of red roses.

A RECEPTION was held at the Commodore, La Crescent. Assisting were the Mmes. Leonard Erdmann, Raymond Schroeder, Leo Bahler and Glen Gerdes.

The bride was formerly employed at Watkins Products, Inc., and the groom is employed at the Auto Electric Service here.

The groom's parents entertained at their home following the rehearsal. A shower honoring the couple was given by Miss Kathy Boldt and Mrs. Ken Boldt at the church.

Legion Auxiliary Re-Elects Mrs. Thaldorf as President

The Auxiliary to Leon J. Wetzel Post 9 American Legion Tuesday night re-elected Mrs. Robert Thaldorf president.

NAMED first vice president for the coming year was Mrs. Adolph Bremer and Mrs. Robert Sexton will serve as second vice president. Elected to the executive board were Mrs. Frank Rost and Mrs. E. W. Toye. Mrs. R. C. Lang was re-named as auxiliary treasurer.

The sergeants-at-arms will be Mrs. John Prosser and Mrs. Roy Peterson.

Serving on the nominating committee were the Mmes. Lyle Haney, Rost, Toye, Sexton and Frank Nottelman. Installation will take place at the June meeting.

Delegates chosen to represent the auxiliary at the district convention in Glenview, Minn., June 4-6 were Mmes. Thaldorf, Bremer, Peterson, Haney, Nottelman, Donald V. Gray and James Hermes. Alternates are the Mmes. Prosser, Toye, Lang, Leonard Roselle, Duncan Green, and Alvin Beeman.

IN OTHER business the auxiliary accepted recommendations of the executive board, which included the making of poppy corsages for the Gold Star Mothers for the Memorial Day parade. Mrs. Rod Watkins, poppy chairman, reported that all poppy cards are now on display for sale this week and asked for volunteers for street sales Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Haney, in her report on the Memorial Day Association meeting, noted that the auxiliary will again place flowers in the vases before the crosses in Lake Park.

It was voted to contribute $25 to the Daily News Flood Fund and Mrs. Thaldorf thanked members for their cooperation in manning the telephone at Civil Defense during the flood emergency and for all other work and contributions to flood relief.

She also reminded members that tickets are now available for the dinner dance this Saturday. They may be purchased from the steward and reservations should be made immediately.

Lincoln HS Prom Attended by 200

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — The junior-senior prom and banquet was attended by 200 Friday at the Terrace Supper Club, sponsored by the junior class of Lincoln High School.

Galesville to Honor Longtime Veterinarian

Dr. S. D. Cronk

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — "Doc" Cronk Day will be celebrated Tuesday in honor of the veterinarian who has given 50 years of service to Galesville and area.

A dinner in honor of Dr. S. D. Cronk will be served at Zion Lutheran Church at 7:45 p.m. J. O. Beadle, Gale-Ettrick agriculture instructor, will be master of ceremonies. Clarence Brown, president of the Trempealeau County Fair Association, will reminisce on Dr. Cronk's life. Lee Sacia and sons will furnish vocal selections.

Among guests from the state veterinarian's association will be Dr. Robert Hauser, Menomonie, president. Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from business places in town and William Thomas, Vilas Suttie, Cyril Nelson, Joe Lakey, Ralph Young, Solly Daniels, Alfred Anderson, Leslie Larson and Norman Oines in the area.

A 50-year award from the state association will be presented.

Wisconsin Milk Income Hits New Record

MADISON, Wis. — Cash receipts from milk sold by Wisconsin farmers in 1964 were 4 percent above 1963 and the highest on record, according to the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

Last year the state's dairy herds produced a record quantity of milk and farm marketings also were at a new time high.

Wisconsin farmers sold 18,138 million pounds of milk in 1964. This was all but 4 percent of the 18,887 million pounds produced. The milk not marketed was used in farm households and fed to calves.

Cash receipts by Wisconsin farmers for milk sold last year are estimated at $629 million—$25 million more than in 1963. This increase results from 3 percent more milk marketed and a gain of 1 percent in the average price received for milk compared with 1963. Prices received for milk sold by farmers last year averaged $3.47 a hundredweight or 5 cents more than in 1963.

The farm value of all milk produced by Wisconsin dairy herds in 1964 is estimated at $655 million. This value includes cash receipts from farm marketings plus the value of the milk used on farms.

Cash receipts from farm marketings of milk in the nation last year are estimated at over $5 billion. This is 3 percent more than in 1963.

Twenty-two of the 32 4-H clubs in Houston County participated. The two programs involved 255 members as well as many club leaders and parents.

Eitzen Be Square and Hokah Chiefs 4-H Clubs were selected as runner-ups. Honorable mention went to the Union Clover Blossoms, Newhouse Norsemen, Wilmington Gophers, Houston Vikings, Yucatan Willing Workers and Northwest Prospectors 4-H clubs.

Field Work Behind Because Of Wet Spring

ST. PAUL (AP) —Field work in Minnesota is well behind normal because wet fields have prevented seeding in many areas, the State Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday.

Topsoil moisture is adequate to surplus in all areas and subsoil moisture is generally adequate except in the southeast, the weekly report said.

About half the spring wheat has been planted, 45 per cent of the oats, 35 per cent of the barley and 20 per cent of the flax.

Normally by this time in the season 65 per cent of the spring wheat has been seeded, 40 per cent of the oats, 40 per cent of the barley and 37 per cent of the flax.

Corn planting is just getting under way in west-central and southwest districts.

Winter wheat and alfalfa loss has been reported heavier than normal, especially in the southern part of the state.

Pastures and hay fields are making good growth, but some stands have been thinned by winter kill.

How to Tell Narrower Bean A Drink From Juice

MADISON, Wis. — Orange juice or orange drink?

There is a distinct difference between the two, the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture points out.

There are many beverages on the market which are made from oranges or orange juice and, unless the consumer carefully reads the label, there is a chance for deception.

IN THIS DAY of convenience foods, the housewife is receptive to the idea of fresh orange juice already removed from the orange and available in her favorite supermarket or delivered to her door. But, the department suggests, she ought to make sure it is real orange juice and not an orange drink — if juice is what she wants.

A true, genuine, single strength orange juice does not contain added water or citric acid nor is it artificially colored. It has no ingredient other than the juice of an orange, and it is labeled as "orange juice."

In the case of reconstituted orange juice, the right amount of water is added to concentrated orange juice to restore the original, normal composition.

THERE ARE many other beverages, however, according to the food inspection section of the department, which look like orange juice but are labeled "orange drink."

These beverages should not be confused with orange juice, since they are compounded from water and orange juice, with the color restored artificially and with the acidity and sweetness adjusted by the addition of citric acid and sugar. Many of these "drink" beverages contain as much as 70 percent of added water. The percentage of true orange juice in such a diluted product obviously is fairly low even though the product has the appearance of orange juice.

Wisconsin law requires a soda water beverage license for the manufacture and distribution of these "drink" beverages. Restaurant and grocery operators must designate them as "drinks."

Wheat Crop May Be Under 1965 Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) —The wheat crop this year may be 100 million bushels or so below expected domestic and export requirements.

This prospect was indicated by the Agriculture Department's May crop report which told of winter wheat losses in drought-plagued area of the great plains.

But this does not mean that there would be a shortage of wheat. The department predicts that on July 1, the beginning of the 1965 crop statistical year, there will be a reserve and surplus of 905 million bushels, accumulated from past crops.

The indicated production would permit a reduction in the excess supply, but grower incomes could be adversely affected.

The winter wheat crop was indicated at 978 million bushels, down 6 per cent from the official April forecast and 5 per cent from last year. With a possible spring wheat crop of 262 million bushels, the total production would be about 1.24 billion bushels compared with 1.29 billion last year.

Demand for the 965 wheat crop supply has been forecast at 1.35 billion bushels.

The crop report said general field work lagged one to two weeks across the northern half of the nation as wet soils and cool temperatures prevailed in April.

The acreage for harvest, the yield per harvested acre and the production, respectively, of winter wheat by major producing states included:

South Dakota 476,000; 19 and 9,044,000.

Production of early spring potatoes was estimated at 4,833,000 hundredweight compared with 4,183,000 last year and 3,967,000 for the five-year average.

The late spring potato crop was put at 26,207,000 hundredweight compared with 20,248,000 last year and 24,477,000 for the five-year average.

Milk production in April was reported at 11,416,000,000 pounds compared with 11,155,000,000 in March, 11,383,000,000 in April last year and 11,125,000,000 for the five-year April average.

Egg production in April was put at 5,584,000,000 compared with 5,687,000,000 in March, 5,653,000,000 in April last year and 5,643,000,000 for the five-year April average.

ECONOMISTS CONTEND:

Creameries May Need To Adjust Still More

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Although creameries are becoming fewer and larger, they may need to make still further adjustments for economic success, a study in two southern Minnesota counties has indicated.

Analysis suggests that creameries in these counties have not, as a whole, reached optimum size for greatest efficiency and lowest per unit costs, according to the University of Minnesota economists making the study.

AGRICULTURAL economists J. W. Gruebele and E. F. Koller studied creameries in Freeborn and Steele counties, whose respective county seats are Albert Lea and Owatonna.

These counties have 21 cooperative creameries, slightly more than half as many as 13 years ago. Average size has more than doubled, with the greatest growth rate being among larger creameries.

The three largest creameries process more than 40 percent of the total dairy products manufactured in the two counties.

Despite the overall growth in size, the economists found, the creameries as a whole were in a questionable state of financial health. Whereas a worth-to-debt ratio of 2 to 1 is considered desirable, these creameries averaged .80 to 1 for 1963 and .76 to 1 currently.

ONE REASON for this low financial standing, Gruebele and Koller suggest, may be the more severe price competition among these plants, compared with other areas of Minnesota.

Manufacturing costs averaged 7.66 cents per pound of butterfat for creameries in Steele and Freeborn counties compared with 7.21 cents in a group of representative creameries in west-central Minnesota. In general, larger plants had manufacturing costs considerably lower per pound of butterfat than smaller creameries.

Procurement areas in Freeborn and Steele counties overlapped substantially. As many as five creameries in Freeborn County obtained milk in one supply area, and in Steele County as many as seven bought in a single area.

Hauling rates ranged from 15 to 25 cents per hundred pounds, and averaged 19 cents.

The economists studied both price and nonprice competition.

MEDIUM-SIZE and large-size creameries paid higher prices than small creameries which the economists say is because, in general, larger creameries can attain greater economies of size.

Nonprice services included a variety of things. They include advancing money on the next milk check, withholding assignments from patrons' checks, supplying dairy farm supplies, selling group insurance and others.

Which kind of competition is more common? The economists indicate that managers seemed to prefer competing through services rather than prices, for fear of retaliatory action by competing managers. Furthermore, nonprice services cannot be quoted in exact terms and it takes competitors some time to evaluate them.

Farmers frequently drag their fields several days after plowing. But Peterson feels that a drag attached directly to the plow would be more effective in the moist furrows just turned by the plow. Dry clods often form if the plowed field sits a day or two.

More power will be needed to pull a plow with a drag hitched behind, but Peterson feels other savings will more than offset this. The drag-plow operation also eliminates one trip over the field for discing which uses fuel and packs down soil.

will be Sen. Walter F. Mondale, members of the various farm organizations such as the Farmers Union, the Grange, the NFO, the state ASC committee, a representative of the office of Secretary of Agriculture, Russell Schwantz, state commissioner of agriculture, and representatives of the county ASC committees.

In the evening the DFL senators will sponsor a dinner at which Gov. Harold Hughes of Iowa will be principal speaker.

Wisconsin Pollution Hearings Scheduled

WHITEHALL, Wis. — The state Board of Health will conduct hearings at the Trempealeau County courthouse Thursday at 9:30 a.m. on pollution in the Trempealeau and Buffalo (commonly known as Beef) river basins.

A hearing at Balsam Lake Wednesday will involve Pepin as part of the St. Croix and Mississippi River basins. At PEPIN village, the board states, a primary sewage treatment plant is in operation. Equipment for disinfecting is included in the plant but disinfection hasn't been practiced, and monthly operating reports aren't submitted to Madison.

At Whitehall, the Buffalo River hearing will be held first. The river starts near Price and Levis in northwestern Jackson County and flows through Osseo, Strum, Eleva and Mondovi, entering the Mississippi River near Alma.

A survey committee last year found localized problems but surface waters not materially impaired by pollution.

Buffalo River drains 432 square miles, dropping 650 feet en route to the Mississippi as it cuts across the upper quarter of Trempealeau, lower edge of Eau Claire, northeast corner of Pepin County, and cuts a swath northeast to southwest through 40 percent of Buffalo County.

The cities and villages through which it runs grew about 16 percent from 1940 to 1960, but the over-all population of the counties decreased 7 percent in that period. There are seven milk processing plants, vegetable cannery, poultry processor and by-products factory in the basin.

A new trickling filter type sewage treatment plant was placed in operation in OSSEO in 1962, replacing an inadequate primary plant. A check on handling milk processing wastes from United Milk Products Co., Osseo, was recommended.

At STRUM the trickling filter was removed from service during the winter and actually out of operation 39 percent of the time in 1964, the survey team found.

Overloading of the primary sewage treatment plant was alleviated at ELEVA when the village constructed a ridge and furrow irrigation system for disposal of waste from the poultry plant.

The survey team recommended adequate waste disposal facilities at Netex Mink Foods, Inc., at Eleva, where discharge of waste waters into the pond has a detrimental effect on the water.

Some wastes from MONDOVI Canning Co. spray irrigation system were found overflowing into the stream.

Some combined sewers resulted in overloading the trickling filter sewage plant during periods of storm runoff at Mondovi.

The committee recommended that GILMANTON Cooperative Creamery consider an irrigation system to dispose of wastes from milk and locker plants. Effluent from the locker plant was being discharged directly into Elk Creek. Some improvements have been made here since the 1952 report.

The Trempealeau River Falls 660 feet from its origin northwest of Black River Falls to the Mississippi River near Marshland.

ARCADIA, with a population of 2,004, is the largest city. The committee said wastes from A-G Cooperative Brailer plant are discharged into the river and recommends suitable treatment facilities. The committee found that present municipal facilities can't handle the waste. It said a separate disposal system should be provided or city facilities enlarged.

Clear water sometimes overloads the Arcadia primary plant, bypassing raw sewage to the river.

Upstream at TAYLOR, periodic rechecks were recommended for the Cooperative Creamery septic tank overflow. Although chlorination equipment has been provided by the village, disinfection of effluent hasn't been practiced.

At BLAIR a trickling filter type sewage plant was placed in operation in 1961. Increased production and lack of adequate waste control at Preston Cooperative Creamery has resulted in grossly overloading the treatment plant.

An engineer is preparing plans for a separate waste disposal to be constructed by the city to handle industrial wastes from the milk plant.

The report notes an overflow of wastes from WHITEHALL Packing Co. into the river above the dam and said city and plant are cooperating to provide treatment facilities. The committee noted that the Whitehall sewage treatment plant is grossly overloaded due to the excessive industrial waste loading from the packing plant and Land O'Lakes milk plant.

An engineer is working on expansion plans for the plant. Minimal treatment of INDEPENDENCE Creamery wastes appear to be satisfactory. Ridge and furrow irrigation plans have been approved for PIGEON FALLS Creamery, which is discharging untreated wastes to Pigeon Creek.

Plans for a sewer system and primary type sewage treatment plant for Pigeon Falls have been approved.

Indications are that the treatment system employed by CENTERVILLE Creamery sometimes is bypassed, although it appears to operate satisfactorily most of the time.

Trempealeau River drains about 1,140 square miles, most of it in Trempealeau County plus small portions of Jackson and Buffalo counties. Although the villages and cities grew slightly between 1940-1960, the overall population drop was 7.6 percent.

Also included in the hearing will be three Buffalo County communities and Garden Valley Creamery draining into the Mississippi.

The survey recommends remedial measures to prevent discharge of wastes from ALMA Dairy Products Cooperative into the river.

Dairyland Power Cooperative disposal facilities for settling out ash wastes have been satisfactory in recent years, the report said.

COCHRANE Creamery treatment facilities appear to be adequate, the committee said. Although chlorination facilities have been provided, the high coliform count of the effluent on the two occasions sampled indicate chlorination hasn't been effectively practiced.

GARDEN VALLEY Creamery disposal facilities are doing an excellent job, with no wastes found in streams in recent years.

At FOUNTAIN CITY, the report said, effluent has not been disinfected and a chlorinator hasn't been provided.

2 Area Firms Get Small SBA Loans

Two area milk trucking companies were among firms receiving Small Business Administration loans during March, SBA Administrator Eugene P. Foley said today.

A $3,000 loan was granted to David J. Kurk, Eltzen, who operates a dairy product trucking firm with three employees, and a $14,500 loan was given to Clayton Eugene Nelson, a Mondovi, Wis., milk trucker who employs four persons.

CLASS AT DOVER-ELYOTA, Minn. (Special) — Seventy-seven children in kindergarten will complete six weeks of classes Friday, Mrs. Duane Flury, Dover, taught 50 at Elyota in two classes, morning and afternoon. There were 27 at Dover.

Improvement Projects Aired At La Crescent

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — La Crescent Village Council Monday night accepted five proposed improvement projects and heard Houston County Sheriff Byron Whitehouse on recommendations for police protection.

The council requested Caswell Engineering Co. to prepare specifications for assessable improvements on which it will act May 27, and if approved, bids will be opened June 14 at 7 p.m.

COST OF sanitary sewer main to property owned by Church of the Crucifixion is estimated at $7,510. The church will construct a religious education building. Grading and base construction of access streets to the new high school are estimated at $12,300. Myron Waldow, engineer, said blacktop would not be applied the first year.

A sidewalk is planned at 536 S. 2nd St. estimated at $110. Concrete curb and gutter, grading, base and bituminous surfacing estimated at $8,500 are planned for Hill Street from 2nd to 3rd Street North. Curb and gutter on portions of 7th Street South westerly from existing curb are estimated at $4,800.

Waldow reported he couldn't get an audience with the Houston County Board at its regular meeting this month because of a full agenda but may be able to consult members at another meeting. The council requested him to consult the commissioners about runoff from North Ridge Road and long-range plans for its improvement.

E. L. SHEEHAN presented a petition from him, his wife and daughter for full-time police protection. The village now employs two constables without regular hours but subject to call. Both work daytimes outside the village, and no rules keep them here during free time.

Sheriff Byron Whitehouse said having a regular officer on duty may not cut down on crime but would help detection. Leads are often gone when he is called and reaches La Crescent, he said.

A prospective officer could be trained at the state training school, he said, for cost of board and room. A radio system could be acquired on a five-year rental basis.

A man could be hired and paid 7 cents per mile. Houston village operates with one man working full time and one part time, hired by the hour. With his suggested system, radio contact with Caledonia would bring help in emergencies from his office and other villages with similar equipment.

Mayor William Mishler appointed the council as a whole to study costs of equipment, training and personnel and a work schedule.

The council will discuss the proposal after reading applications for meter reader Monday at 7 p.m. DST. Persons interested in full-time police protection are asked to attend.

Iron Mining Operation Moved to Cherry Grove

SPRING VALLEY, Minn. — The Cherry Grove area will become an iron mining center this summer.

Hanna Mining Co., Hibbing, which has been taking the low-grade iron ore from potholes and sinks in the Spring Valley area since 1947, has moved to the 160-acre Ronald E. Bessingpas farm two miles south of Cherry Grove. Of the acreage, 120 will be used for settling ponds and the rest for plant site, the Chicago Great Western spur under construction and other facilities.

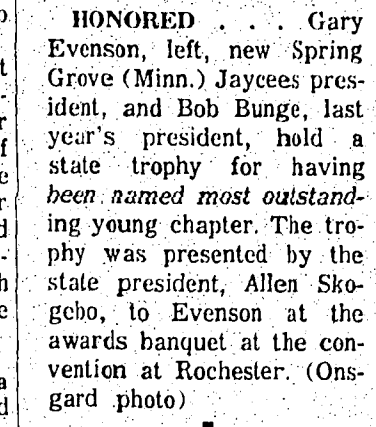

Twenty-three farms in the Cherry Grove and York areas are under lease to Hanna. Life expectancy of the mines is about 10 years. The iron ore is found 20 feet below the ground. The pockets average 7 to 8 feet deep.

The new area to be mined is stripped of the overlying 20 feet of earth by construction companies. The ore is washed, processed and shipped by rail to feed blast furnaces at Granite City, Ill.

After an ore pocket is exhausted the pits are filled and leveled, topsoil replaced and the land restored for agricultural purposes.

The company has orders for 350,000 tons of ore this season so far. Orders have varied from 110,000 to 490,000 tons per year. A total of 118 men is employed. They will work probably to the end of October.

Ore is found in an area from near Chatfield to the Iowa border.

Whitehall Council Reorganized; Vacancy Remains

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Whitehall City Council had its reorganization meeting Monday night.

No one has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Selmer Galstad, 1st Ward alderman, who has died. All city officers are the same as no election was held this year.

MAYOR Lester Brennom reappointed the following standing committees, the first man as chairman: Eyvind Peterson, Norman Fiske and Donald Rice, finance; Rice, Charles Johnson and Peterson, water and sewer; Charles Johnson and Willie Johnson, public welfare; Charles Johnson and Peterson, property; Willie and Charles Johnson and Fiske, parks; Rice, Fiske and Peterson, streets, and Fiske and both Johnsons, law enforcement.

Other reappointments: Peterson, council president; A. E. Berg, clerk-treasurer; B. E. Mahle, chief of police and weed commissioner; Louis Boehm, civil defense director, and Hegge & Johnson, attorneys.

John O. Melby & Co. Bank was designated depository and Whitehall Times, official newspaper.

FOLLOWING adjournment, the council met as the board of health and named Mayor Brennom, chairman; Berg, clerk, and Dr. L. L. Hanley, health officer.

Thomas Brennom and Ronald Bieri were hired as lifeguards.

At the June 3 meeting bids for construction of improvements to the sewage disposal plant will be opened at 8 p.m. and the street committee will report on work necessary.

Richard Durand of Durand Construction Co. reported revisions to the disposal plant digester were started Monday. Steel stairs replacing wooden stairs at the digester will cost approximately $400.

Charles Rosenberg, appearing with problems from Whitehall Packing Co., was informed access road plans have been given to the city engineer and Brennom and Berg will meet with the Public Service Commission Thursday regarding the water system at the plant.

Dominican Businessmen Frightened

PUERTO PLATA, Dominican businessmen usually devote their undivided attention to profits and regard politics only as a means to that end. But they have been rudely jolted by the revolution that threw Santo Domingo into turmoil.

The capital had been far away from the breadbasket provinces. The businessmen were accustomed to violent changes of government, swiftly executed and accomplished in hours.

This time it is different. The coup d'etat of April 24 burrowed into a situation that threatened to tear this little Caribbean nation apart. It has cost many lives. It has brought a massive intervention of U.S. troops. It has thrust the Dominican Republic into the midst of the global cold war. It has raised the specter of a revolution that might be seized by Castroists and Communists. It has brought Dominican soldiers face to face with the prospect of civil war and of firing on their brethren. It has generated havoc in an already ailing economy.

The businessmen are doing some soul-searching now. Over and over in the northern part of this little country one hears leaders of the middle class saying it is time they took an active part in politics.

But there are those who acknowledge this will not be easy. Dozens of businessmen here and in other cities of the north seem frightened.

The stalemate in Santo Domingo between the forces who call themselves constitutionalists and those who call themselves loyalists is threatening slow economic paralysis.

The businessmen as a rule are thankful that U.S. troops landed in enormous force, since that seems insurance against a Castro-like revolution.

But money is running short in the banks because of the paralysis in the capital. The tobacco industry in the agrarian north has been hit hard, and 15,000 workers face idleness because of lack of credit.

Seniority System In Congress Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., said today if corporatists operated like Congress "the oldest janitors would be running the show."

Udall made the remark in testimony prepared for a Senate-House committee studying congressional reorganization. The object of his scorn was the seniority system of selecting committee chairmen.

Flood Fighting Bills Reported by City

Costs of building dikes and keeping the city's interior drained during the recent flood crisis have continued to mount as new invoices come in.

Figures at the city engineer's office now place the gross cost of construction, pumping, rental, materials and damages at $1,444,260.91. Last week the total was $1,407,434.

Estimated cost of cleanup, including removal of temporary portions of dikes, is $425,000, according to the engineer's estimates. These totals will be included in the city's application to the federal Office of Emergency Planning for disaster relief funds.

An independent survey has been made by Corps of Engineers officials. Their appraisals of costs will be used by the OEP to justify figures submitted by the city. Corps officials employ a system of standard quantities and standard costs to help arrive at their conclusions. Consideration is given to emergency factors, the need for speed, and the inability to operate on the basis of contracts or to seek competitive pricing.

Following is an abstract of statements received by the city up to noon Wednesday.

Village Brochure Published at Spring Grove

SPRING GROVE, Minn. — Spring Grove Area Jaycees have completed the brochure on which they have been working nearly a year. The title is "Planning a Trip? Why Not Make It Spring Grove, Minn."

One of two maps says it's 150 miles from the Twin Cities to Spring Grove and 350 miles from Chicago. The modern Houston County village is northeast of Des Moines, Iowa.

The village of 1,300 has a new swimming pool, nine-hole golf course nearby with grass greens, new hospital, and is surrounded by good hunting, fishing, picnicking and camping facilities.

Each July 3-4 there's a rodeo at nearby Black Hammer as part of Spring Grove Western Days.

The brochure, containing six colored pictures, has a map of three suggested tours: To East Beaver State Park, historic area, surrounding the colorful ridge on which Spring Grove is situated, and to North Bear State Park in Iowa just south from town.

A village and area largely populated by people of Norwegian descent, the brochure says "Velkommen til (welcome to) Spring Grove."

Beer Shortage In Denmark Due to Strike

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — You can still get a beer in Denmark, but it isn't easy.

The Scandinavian nation to day entered the 11th day of a strike by its 6,000 brewery workers with no end in sight. Which makes the foamy brew the chief topic of conversation in a nation of 4.5 million people who normally drink 3.5 million bottles a day.

You can get a beer in just a few places. One outside Copenhagen will serve you two but no more. In another, you can drink as much as you want if you can find a seat at the bar.

The owners of these places were clever enough to hoard thousands of bottles in the week before the strike started May 2. One of them has enough beer for three weeks.

Wisconsin Bar Begins Youth Education Plan

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — Buffalo County District Attorney Roger L. Hartman explained the courts and procedures to the Alma High School senior social studies class recently as part of the Wisconsin State Bar Association's program inaugurated in 1964 and approved by the state Department of Public Instruction.

Purpose is to educate young people, soon to be adults, in some of the legal problems they may encounter.

FIRST cousins cannot marry in Wisconsin unless the woman is over 55, he said. He explained annulment of marriage. He said divorces in this state can be secured on grounds of adultery, imprisonment for three or more years; willful desertion for one year; and cruel and inhuman treatment.

Persons divorced in this state or elsewhere cannot remarry in Wisconsin until a year after the decree. In a divorce action, the court's chief consideration is welfare of any children born to the marriage. A divorced father can be forced by the court to support his children.

A 60-day cooling-off period is required before a divorce complaint is served on either party. Family court commissioners investigate and try to make reconciliations.

IN ADOPTION petitions, the state Department of Public Welfare or licensed child welfare agency conducts an investigation. A adopting parents go through a probationary period of six months or more. If the adoption is authorized by the court, the child's name is changed to that of his new parents. All adoption records are sealed.

Hartman outlined the anatomy of a lawsuit, explaining the difference between civil and criminal proceedings and between jury trials and matters coming before the judge alone. He explained the right to trial by jury, conduct of the attorney and others during a trial, motions after verdict, and appeals to higher courts, generally ending in the state Supreme Court.

"Law assures freedom by imposing restraint," Hartman said. Attorneys represent clients in the "adversary system" of solving disputes.

HE SAID many young people

Mrs. Leo Bauer Receives License In Durand Town

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — Town of Durand issued a beer license to Mrs. Leo Bauer for Bauer's Beer Garden Monday night. It's on Highway 85 three miles east of Durand.

Her husband pleaded guilty in Pepin County Court Tuesday to selling beer to minors, paid a $250 fine plus costs, and lost his license for a year.

Hixton, Northfield PSC Hearings Slated

Two hearings for this area have been scheduled by the Public Service Commission.

It will hear a petition by the Highway Commission for establishing a highway overpass crossing of Green Bay & Western Railroad tracks at Hixton. This will be held in Madison at 2:30 p.m. Monday.

At the courthouse in Whitehall at 9 a.m. May 20 it will hear the application of Tri-County Telephone Co-op, Inc. for authority to convert the Northfield exchange to dial operation with one-party service.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 1,000 extra policemen and policemen will patrol the city's parks and recreational areas during the summer in New York's war on crime.

Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy said Wednesday any person using the recreational facilities could do so "free from the anxiety that he will be molested."

get distorted images of lawyers from certain television programs and folklore surrounding the profession. He explained why attorneys are called on to defend even persons accused of heinous crimes because under the constitution they are innocent until proven guilty. He discussed the rules protecting juvenile lawbreakers.

Basic legal information will save young people many hours of anguish and perhaps hundreds of dollars as they begin their first jobs, buy their first automobile, rent an apartment, or purchase a home.

High school teachers are being notified of the availability of such instruction by members of the bar, he said.

TIME OUT FOR FUN!

It's time for Dr Pepper's annual kooky contest. And this time it's all about time! You could Win the Time of Your Life!

Read 'n heed! We've buried a time capsule in our main office grounds and set the time we'll dig it up. All you have to do is (1) correctly determine the "dig up" time to the month, day, hour, minute and second and (2) supply the last line to a Dr Pepper limerick.

We'll give you lots of clue help to figure out the exact time. The five easy clues will be printed under Dr Pepper bottle caps, published in national magazines and local newspapers and appearing on "clue sheets" in local stores.

Mullen, McCown Singing Pitching Blues, Eye Important Games

Coaches Jim Mullen of Cotter and Dr. L. A. McCown are singing the blues this week.

Their walls center around pitching. Mullen must send his team in defense of its district title at Rollingsstone Friday at 4:30 p.m. Winona State, deadlocked for first place in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference with a 4-2 record, faces three games at rough Mankato Friday and Saturday.

Says McCown: "Problems? It seems we've got them all the time. Right now the only definite starting pitcher we have is Jack Benedict. His record isn't good, but he looks good. He's the only pitcher who has gone the route." At Cotter, Mullen flatly forecasts a rough time during the tournaments: "We don't have the pitching. There is an outside chance of our making it to state again (the Ramblers finished second last year) if the hitting starts coming around."

Winona State will choose its Saturday pitchers (Benedict will go in Friday's single game) from Roger Roepke, J. D. Barnette, Jerry Kohn, Dick Peters and Larry Anderson, who has been playing in the outfield. "Larry threw Tuesday against Stevens Point and looked pretty fair," explained McCown. "He has a tendency to give up the long ball, but Mankato has a big park." Catching also is one of McCown's worries. Mark Houghton, who appeared the answer to a big problem, is on a choir trip and won't be here for the Mankato series. To shore up the spot, the Warriors examined Tom Schnalfeidt, a transfer student who recently became eligible.

"He did some catching in high school," said the coach. "He didn't look too bad, but it takes a while to get used to the bat swinging in front of your face. He probably will see action."

The remainder of the lineup remains the same. Mankato was 1-11 last year and has veteran pitchers Tony Corcoran and Larry Duncan ready for duty. Mullen will start Styba against Rollingsstone. The chucker, who is 1-1, has shown flashes of brilliance and, in the coach's estimation, could be the key Cotter needs.

"Pitching appears our biggest weakness," says Mullen. "We're young (only two seniors) and we still make the basic mistakes."

With Styba pitching, Bob Allaire will catch. Chuck Kulas will be at first, Mike Lee at second, Ron Quamen at short and John Nett Jr. at third. From left in the outfield will be Dave Christensen, Don Kukowski and Bill Nogosek.

"We should scrape through," summed up the coach. "But you never know..."

IN FACT, THE GOPHERS WERE PLEASED

Cinders Don't Bother Plainview Team

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

At home, Plainview runs on a sod track — not the most ideal place to get a track education.

The Gophers had little trouble adapting to the Jefferson Field cinders, however. And before the sun had floated its way into the horizon on a lazy, hazy spring afternoon Wednesday, Plainview served notice that it would have to be reckoned with come District Three time at Rochester.

The Gophers, not deep but ambitious, took honors in a quadrangular meet, scoring 68 points. To add insult, Bernie Benson's Peterson Tigers pushed Winona into third place by scoring 60. Winona got 46 and Spring Grove 26.

In due respect, it must be said that Winona, most likely could have finished higher had broad jumpers Doug Emanuel and John Rodgers not been out of action with pulled muscles and Brian Trainor disqualified after finishing first in the 40-yard dash.

The highlight of the meet had to be the high jump. It began in bizarre fashion, a Plainview performer making 22 (some sort of record, we're sure) practice runs before missing and finally being given the thumb by his coach.

Bill Squires, Hawk jack-in-the-box, then got down to serious business and wound up tying his school record set in the Falcon relays at Faribault by scoring 6-2. Winona's Sam Bailey made it a one-two finish for Winona by pulling his best height at 5-9.

Peterson's Jim Hatlevig thrilled the gallery. Standing no taller than 5-7 with a ten-gallon straw hat on, Hatlevig went 5-9 1/2 and finished third.

He also was second in the high hurdles, third in the low hurdles and first in the 880-yard run.

Ron Majerus was one of the big winners for Plainview with a pair of firsts in the high and low hurdles. Spring Grove's all-star, Mel Homuth, also gobbled up a pair of firsts. He swept through the 100-yard dash field in a 10.6 clocking and then got a tainted first in the 440 when Trainor was disqualified for cutting in too soon.

Winona took both relays, Bill Kane, Ken Armstrong, Ron Maul and Trainor sweeping through in the mile relay and Armstrong, Steve Ford, Jim Rodgers and Kane winning the 880.

Robert Wennes won the mile for the only other Spring Grove first. Plainview compiled points when Dan Standinger won the 220, Dennis Lee the shot put, Lyle Wood the discus and Dave Welch the broad jump.

Winona got a first from John Durley in the pole vault. Coach Gordy Addington's Winhawk team will seek better results against area teams Wabasha and Lewiston at Jefferson next Tuesday.

HOMERS TWICE, BEATS ANGELS

Killer's Heavy Ammo Blasts Help Twins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That was no pop-gun Harmon Killebrew used on the Angels the second time around.

The Minnesota slugger beat Los Angeles 4-3 Wednesday night with his second home run of the game, a 450-foot, two-run shot in the eighth inning. The night before he had given the Twins a 3-2 victory over the Angels by caroming a drive off pitcher Dean Chance's leg in the ninth to send home the winning run.

The victory, fifth straight for the Twins and 16th in 23 starts this year, kept them in first place in the young American League race, one-half game ahead of the Chicago White Sox, who swept a two-night double-header from Kansas City 7-4 and 6-4. Boston blanked the New York Yankees 2-0. Detroit topped Washington 5-2 and Baltimore beat Cleveland 4-2 in other night action.

Killebrew's decisive homer off Angel reliever Bob Lee cleared the center-field fence, scored Frank Kustro, who had walked, and pulled the Twins from behind. Killebrew had ripped a left-field circuit clout off rookie southpaw Rudy May, the Angels' starter, in the sixth.

The homers were the fourth and fifth for Harmon in his last 11 games after an anemic start.

Killebrew led the majors with 49 homers last year and has led the league three straight seasons.

Los Angeles built a 3-2 edge, going into the eighth on Albie Pearson's first-inning homer. Jose Cardenal's third-inning sacrifice fly and a run-scoring single by Joe Adcock — the 1-700th major league hit for the veteran first baseman — in the sixth. Jerry Kindall singled home the first Minnesota run in the third.

Pete Ward's two-run homer in the seventh inning of the Chicago-Kansas City opener put the White Sox ahead to stay 5-4. Dick Green had put the A's on top with a grand-slam homer in the fifth.

Don Buford, who also homered for the Sox in the first game, singled in one run and Floyd Robinson's pop-fly single delivered another in a sixth-inning rally that decided the nightcap. The Kansas City runs came on a three-run homer by Jim Gentile and Bill Bryan's solo shot.

Bill Monbouquette stopped New York on six hits and shortstop Eddie Bressoud hit a short-inning home run as the Red Sox beat Yankee ace Jim Bouton. Frank Malzone collected three of the five Boston hits and Lee Thomas singled in the other run in the sixth.

Elston Figures He Could Surprise Few

NEW YORK (AP) — Elston Howard, the New York Yankees All-Star catcher, was in a chipper mood today following his release from the hospital after surgery for the removal of bone chips from his right elbow.

"I might surprise a few people," Howard said from his Teaneck, N.J., home. "I feel so good now, I think I'll be able to come back before the time predicted."

Winona Net Team Bows

MANKATO, Minn. — Winona High School's tennis team lost its sixth match here Wednesday afternoon, but coach Lloyd Luke was far from dismayed at the 5-2 setback.

"The kids are starting to play well now," he said. "One of these days, things will be going our way."

Winona, which stands 1-6, had its most success in doubles where Dennis McVey and Steve Miller and Dick Heise and Mark Johnson took victories.

The next Winona match will be at home Monday against Onalaska.

SINGLES
Bob Bigelow (M) def. Dennis McVey (W) 4-6, 4-2; Larry Kurlle (M) def. Steve Miller (W) 6-1, 6-3; Stan Vae (M) def. Dick Heise (W) 4-2, 6-2; Bruce Johnson (M) def. Mark Johnson (W) 4-1, 6-3; Steve Vae (M) def. Jim Henry (W) 4-4, 7-5, 6-8.

Mabel, Preston Win in Track

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — In District One dual track meets Wednesday, Mabel defeated Caledonia 63-55 and Preston topped Harmony 68-50.

Caledonia got two wins from: John Ask in the 120 high hurdles and the 180 low hurdles; Jim Wiegrefe in the 100 and 440, and Burl Haar in the discus and shot. Randy Snell won the mile and 220 for Mabel.

Preston's Kent Pfister took the 100 and 220 and Harmony's Carroll Armstrong won the broad jump and low hurdles and Robert Severson the shot and discus.

Doctor Rules Final Punch As Death Blow

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Detroit heavyweight boxer Lucien (Sonny) Banks died today from a head injury. He was knocked out Monday night in the ninth round of a fight with Leotis Martin of Philadelphia.

Banks, 24, regained consciousness after the fight, but then lapsed into unconsciousness again and was rushed to Presbyterian Hospital.

Brain surgery was performed Tuesday morning to remove a blood clot and the 207-pound fighter had been in a coma ever since.

Banks' younger brother, Jimmy, had come to Philadelphia from Detroit. Two other brothers and his parents, who live in Tupelo, Miss., survive.

Dr. Robert S. Andre, a Philadelphia neurosurgeon who performed the operation, ruled out the finishing punch as a direct cause of the subdural hematoma, or clot, in Banks' brain. He said the injury looked as though the boxer had been in an auto crash.

Banks had no record of previous head injury through boxing, although he had suffered four knockouts in 27 fights. He had won 16 of his fights with knockouts and six others with decisions.

Banks worked at a Ford Motor Co. plant in Detroit.

Badgers Land Cumberland Star

MADISON (AP) — The University of Wisconsin netted its third member of the all-state high school basketball team Wednesday and is still in the running for a fourth.

John Schell, 6-foot-4 Cumberland forward who hit 67 per cent of his shots last season, became the latest prep star to announce plans to enroll at Wisconsin.

Schell joins 7-foot Eino Hendrickson of Holmen and 6-foot-2½ Keith Burlington of Monroe, who paced the unbeaten Cheese makers to the state crown.

Manitowoc marksman Bob Sullivan, a two-time all-star selection, will not disclose his choice until after graduation next month, but is believed to be leaning toward UCLA with Wisconsin still in contention. Sullivan's father, Bob Sr., is a former Badger athlete.

Plane, Blue Chip Stocks Pace Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Leadership by airlines and several of the biggest blue chips accompanied a further stock market advance early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Gains of fractions to a point or so outnumbered losers.

An advance of more than 5 points for DuPont gave market indicators a powerful upthrust. DuPont's opening was slightly delayed as buying was generated by prominent publication of an article in a financial newspaper about the chemical giant's rapid growth.

All Big Three motors were higher. Aerospace issues, drugs, electrical equipments, utilities and chemicals were among the gainers.

Rails were mixed, continuing to bother theorists who have been looking for a confirmation of the rise of the industrials by a similar advance in rails. Tobaccos also were irregular.

Large blocks were traded in some lower-priced issues. Lehigh Valley Industries was down 1 at 4¼ in heavy turnover. Atlas Corp. was unchanged to up slightly after sale of some big transactions.

Prices rose in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds showed slight damage. U.S. government bonds were unchanged to lower.
