6 Moon Pilots Begin Training Next Month

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Six young scientists picked to land on the moon in the Apollo program begin their preparations next month.

But first they will appear at a news conference at Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center Tuesday.

Two of the six, who are trained pilots, will start astronaut training here at the space center. The other four go to Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., for a year of flight training.

For the most part the six were tight-lipped about their selection awaiting the news conference. Their names became known Saturday through a copy-right story in the Houston Chronicle. Their selection later was confirmed officially. However, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announcement will be made at the news conference.

One of the two trained pilots, Dr. Frank C. Michel of Rice University, commented on the physical examinations they underwent.

"It was a different experience, all right," he said Sunday. "It took over a week and they just tested everything five different ways."

Approximately 25 candidates reportedly took the rigid tests at Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials would not confirm the number of finalists. Previously they said they had received 1,500 applications or expressions of interest by the end of last year.

One of the six selected, Dr. Duane E. Graveline, who is scheduled to resign today his post in the Aerospace Medical Division at Brooks Air Force Base, said in San Antonio Sunday the moon is like an "unclimbed mountain."

"It's there," he said. "Somebody's going to climb it."

Graveline has done research on weightlessness.

Michel, 31, said he also had looked forward to getting into the program. He has always been interested in space, and read such science fiction as Buck Rogers and Flash Gordon. "Just like all the other kids."

Current plans do not call for a scientist on the first flight of the three-man Apollo, which is at least four years away.

A physicist, Michel is known for his research on solar winds. He was born in La Crosse, Wis., and lives in Houston with his wife and son.

Graveline, 34, is a native of Newport, Vt. He is married and has four children.

The other four are: Dr. Owen K. Garriott, 34, an electronics engineer and associate professor at Stanford University. Born in Enid, Okla., married and the father of three sons.

Dr. Edward G. Gibson, 28, a physicist with a Ford Motor Co. subsidiary in Newport Beach, Calif. born in Buffalo, N.Y., married and has four children.

Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin, 33, a Navy flight surgeon stationed at Jacksonville Fla. He is the other one with jet experience. Born in Oak Park, Ill. married and has a daughter.

Dr. Harrison Schmitt, 29, a geologist with the U.S. Geological Survey in Flagstaff, Ariz. Born in Santa Rita, N.M. bachelor.

Red Guns Get U.S. Plane Near Saigon

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Guerrilla fire downed a twin-engine C123 transport 13 miles east of Saigon's airport Sunday night and military officials and civilians reported today 16 bodies were taken from the wreckage.

U.S. military spokesmen announced a U.S. Air Force officer and an enlisted man were killed. They declined to give other details, including the total number of casualties. Their reticence indicated the plane was on a secret mission.

American and Vietnamese visitors to the crash area, however, said the plane slammed into a farmhouse. One military source said he understood it carried 20 men — all Americans — and that all had been killed.

The two officially announced deaths brought the list of Americans killed in Viet Nam by enemy action to 429.

Psychological warfare mingled with bombings in continued air raids on Communist North Viet Nam.

A U.S. spokesman announced U.S. Air Force planes dumped 2.5 million cartoon leaflets over five North Vietnamese cities, urging residents to oppose the Hanoi government.

Body of Mother Of Five Found In Mississippi

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A woman's body was recovered from the Mississippi River Sunday, about 12 hours after she plunged in—according to her male companion—and police held the man for questioning.

Authorities identified her as Mrs. Barbara Ann Ward, 28, mother of five children. Police said the body was partially disrobed and there were bruises on her forehead and skull.

Held by police was Richard C. Nelson, 28, who told police he and Mrs. Ward had been drinking at several North Minneapolis bars late Saturday. He said that as they walked along the Broadway bridge, he was 50 feet behind her, the respondent woman climbed over the railing.

He said he plunged in after her but was unable to rescue her. He climbed out and about three hours later notified police. The body was recovered at the Ford Dam, St. Paul.

Seven Persons Lose Lives In Wisconsin

DRYDEN, Ont. (AP) — Twelve persons including eight children were drowned Sunday night when a houseboat capsized in high winds on nearby Wagagoon Lake, Ontario provincial police reported. All were from the Dryden area.

Police said two other persons on the boat reached shore safely.

The houseboat was reported to have gone under as it sought shelter in Bonny Bay, about eight miles east of Dryden. Dryden is in northwest Ontario, 200 miles east of Winnipeg.

Police said the windstorm cut

Boy Drowns in Zumbro Lake

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A boy and a man drowned in Minnesota water accidents during the weekend.

Dale Storch, 9, drowned Sunday in Zumbro Lake north of Rochester when he apparently was fishing from a pontoon bridge and slipped into the lake. Dale was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Storch of Spring Valley.

Wendell Swanson, about 42 of Anoka, drowned in Pelican Lake, some 15 miles north of Brainerd, on Saturday. Crow Wing County authorities said Swanson was in a fishing party of six men and that he decided to go swimming while the pontoon boat was returning to shore.

When the others later tried to start the engine it failed and the anchor dragged or didn't reach bottom, so Swanson could not reach the craft in the rough water. Dragging for his body continued.

7 Drown in Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seven persons, including a father trying to rescue his daughter, drowned in Wisconsin during the weekend.

Six victims died Sunday, including two in Jefferson County. Not counted in the toll was the death of a Milwaukee baby who died after toppling over in a bathtub while strapped in a chair.

Authorities were still searching Lake Winnebago today for the body of Bernard Ziemer, 49, Milwaukee, who sank Sunday near Fond du Lac when he jumped fully clothed into the water to try to reach his daughter.

Mary Ziemer, 23, said she was drifting away from the boat as she swam. Her father disappeared almost immediately. A companion, also fully clothed, leaped into the lake and the two struggled back to the boat.

Louis Kopesky, 16, South Kenosha, drowned Sunday in an estimated 30 feet of water as he and three fellow workers at a drive-in restaurant were swimming in a gravel pit 1 1/2 miles west of Kenosha.

Another youth, Richard Phelps, 18, Fort Atkinson, drowned while swimming Sunday in Rock Lake near Lake Mills in Jefferson County.

Henry Koller, 34, Cudahy, drowned in Spring Lake, also in Jefferson County, while swimming with his wife and three children Sunday. Asst. Police Chief William Schroeder of Pulmyra said a young girl ran up to him and said, "I can't find my daddy." An amateur skin diver recovered the body.

Donald R. Amorman, 24, of rural Viola, drowned in a flood control reservoir near Viola in Richland County while swimming Sunday with half a dozen companions.

Dirksen Warns Against Reds in Viet Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said today anyone who talks about U.S. concessions in the Vietnamese war should be specific. He warned against establishing a South Vietnamese coalition government which would include Communists.

Speaking on the Republican National Committee radio program "Comment," the GOP Senate leader said:

"Any who talk of concessions by the United States have an obligation to specify the kinds of concessions which they are prepared to advocate."

"Senator Fulbright suggests the Geneva agreements of 1954 'in all their specifications' as a basis for settling the conflict in Viet Nam. But this agreement, as Secretary Rusk acknowledged in 1962 contained a fatal flaw in providing veto power to the Communist member of the international commission established to supervise the execution of the terms of the Geneva settlement. "This mistake must be avoided in any future peace settlement. So must the mistake of establishing a coalition government with Communist participation for South Viet Nam. Bitter experience should have taught us that such a coalition merely defers a Communist takeover."

Dirksen's personal references were to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In a June 15 speech to the Senate, Fulbright said U.S. policy "has been — and should remain — one of determination to end the war at the earliest possible time by a negotiated settlement involving major concessions by both sides."

He did not specify what these concessions were, but said one possible term of settlement might be acceptance of the 1954 Geneva accords "in all their specifications."

Fulbright's Senate speech came one day after he had conferred with President Johnson. The senator later said that Johnson asked him only to detail administration efforts to achieve negotiations.

Speaking on the program with Dirksen, House Republican Leader Gerald Ford said:

"The United States could not agree today — any more than in 1956 — to legitimizing Communist control of all of Viet Nam by the device of a Communist-style election."

"The Eisenhower administration labored to build out of the chaos in South Viet Nam a durable economy, a progressive social order and military strength. That it achieved a considerable measure of success was attested to by several of Senator Fulbright's colleagues."

In weekend developments revolving around the Viet Nam war:

— Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said if a vote were taken in the United Nations now it would conclude that U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam "was a mistake."

— Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri suggested that the United States pause again in its bombing of North Viet Nam. The bombings of the Communist North were halted from May 12 to 18 after Shastri had proposed such action as a way to encourage negotiations.

— The United States declared that Red terrorist acts and threats in South Viet Nam will only strengthen American determination to help prevent a Communist takeover.

"These Communist threats to intimidate our course will not succeed," the State Department said in a statement.

— U.S. sources said the Communists apparently have stepped up efforts to destroy the economy of South Viet Nam.

NSP Wins in Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Tom C. Clark refused today to block construction of a steam power plant on the St. Croix River at Oak Park Heights, Minn.

A preliminary injunction had been asked by Wisconsin on the ground the state would suffer irreparable injury. Clark rejected the state's request.

Northern States Power Co., a Minnesota corporation, in reply to Wisconsin's request, said halting of construction plans would seriously jeopardize the welfare of more than 2.5 million people served by the firm.

Wisconsin sought the preliminary injunction to halt construction pending action by the full

Supreme Court on an appeal to be filed later.

The power company said water from the river would be used in cooling condensers in the coal-fueled plant. Under plans approved by Minnesota, the water would be returned to the river. The company disputed a Wisconsin contention that Federal Power Commission approval of the plant was required.

"The granting of an injunction," the firm said, "would amount to a holding that a generating plant designed to the latest technology and containing most efficient safeguards against possible harm is a nuisance per se."

Wisconsin's request to Clark said that unless the project was enjoined it would be "commenced without the basic policies as declared by Congress being enforced or considered by any federal agency or by the Supreme Court," and "without any consideration of the comprehensive plan for developing the waterway for the use and benefit of interstate commerce and for other beneficiary uses including recreational purposes."

Rent Subsidy Plan Offered

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rent subsidy provision and an amendment dealing with patients stemming from government-financed medical research may touch off some pre-July Fourth fireworks on Capitol Hill.

The Senate votes today on a bill which would establish regional medical centers to combat heart disease, cancer and strokes. It would provide $650 million in federal grants over the next four years for medical complexes composed of medical schools, research institutions and hospitals.

No opposition was voiced Friday when the measure, a major part of President Johnson's health program, came up in the Senate.

But an amendment by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., stirred controversy. It would give the government exclusive rights to any inventions developed through research financed under the program.

Long contends that private patents should not be issued on products developed through research for which the taxpayers pick up the tab. Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., floor manager of the bill, says the Welfare Department's general policy is that results of federally financed research should be made promptly available by publication, and royalty-free licensing.

In the House, the Johnson administration may get its toughest test of the session when a housing bill containing a controversial rent subsidy provision is voted on.

It is one of three major measures the House hopes to dispose of before its members take an extended weekend recess for Independence Day oratory in home districts.

The housing bill is on Tuesday's House docket. Republicans hope for substantial Democratic help in attempting to eliminate the subsidy provision. The Senate has not yet acted on the measure, but its Banking Committee has approved a modified subsidy plan.

The other controversial bills the House hopes to act on are the administration's Economic Opportunity Act — known as the anti-poverty bill — and a measure to reduce or eliminate the silver content in coins. The Senate passed its version of the coinage bill last week.

Pittsburgh Penitentiary Riot Crushed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three prisoners armed with home-made pistols and a bomb seized two guards and briefly took over the second floor of the hospital at Western State Penitentiary Sunday night.

A squad of guards crushed the rebellion with tear gas. The hostages were freed unharmed. The bomb, fashioned from crushed crutch heads jammed into a piece of pipe, blew up in the rush on the prisoners' stronghold.

It shattered the hand of inmate Richard Mayberry, 27, a convicted robber doing extra time for leading a sensational attempted prison break and riot in Philadelphia two years ago.

It was the only person hurt in the rebellion which involved only three of the prison's 950 inmates. Other prisoners banged on their bars and yelled but authorities said it was unrelated "hooch-poly."

State Asks Bids for Highway 61 Surfacing

A contract for surfacing and some regrading on Trunk Highway 61 in Winona and Wabasha counties will be among those to be let by the Minnesota Department of Highways July 16.

The project involves 31½ miles of the highway between Minnesota City and a point 1½ miles northwest of Minneapolis. The work will be done on two lanes of what will eventually be a four-lane highway.

The regrading will be done to repair some washouts and to make a few minor changes in the highway, according to Henry C. Kraus, highway department resident engineer here.

Cutter Fern To Miss '65 Steamboat Days

The Coast Guard Cutter Fern, an annual participant in Steamboat Days celebrations in recent years, will not be here this year, Francis Whalen, general chairman of this year's festival, said today.

The reason for the cancellation of the Fern's appearance, Whalen said, is that continued high water since this spring's flood have kept it busy in other parts of the river.

Youth Receives Suspended Term For Check Forgery

Gene W. Gile, 19, Stockton, received a stay of execution of sentence on a check forgery charge today in municipal court and was put on probation with the Department of Corrections.

Noting that Gile had compiled a good record while working on a county farm and awaiting sentencing, Judge Hatfield sentenced Gile to five years with the Youth Conservation Commission, but stayed execution of the sentence.

Judge Hatfield told Gile that his arrest on a lesser charge while awaiting sentencing on the forgery count — which occurred — would ordinarily have resulted in his being sent straight to an institution. However, the judge noted Gile's poor home environment which, apparently, caused Gile to ignorantly break laws.

The youth is now living and working on a farm. His court-appointed attorney Martin A. Beatty told Judge Hatfield that Gile had made a "good adjustment" and only today turned $20 over to him for payment of part of the bad checks he has formerly cashed.

County Attorney S. A. Sawyer agreed that Gile appeared to be making good progress.

The youth pleaded guilty early in the April term of District Court to a charge of forging the payer's name to a check for $100 which he cashed at a local supermarket.

Judge Hatfield laid down as conditions of Gile's probation that he abstain from liquor and write no bad or forged checks. "I hope I never see you before this bench again," the judge said, dismissing Gile.

Saturday, in the face of increasing violations by bicycle riders and increasing complaints from motorists, Chief James W. McCabe had pleaded with Winona parents to educate their children in safe driving rules.

Police said the Rekowski boy was riding east on the south shoulder of Gilmore Avenue when he drove down onto the cement of the street, 75 feet east of Gould Street.

Ambuhl, also moving east on Gilmore Avenue, braked, but not in time to avoid the collision.

The car slammed into the rear of Rekowski's bicycle, the impact throwing him onto the hood of Ambuhl's vehicle where the boy's head hit against the windshield.

Patrolmen Roy J. Nelson and Robert A. Theis investigated. Herbert P. Albrecht, 414 Mankato Ave., who received neck injuries in a collision Saturday afternoon at Broadway and Winona Street, was released Sunday from the hospital after being held overnight for observation.

Wind Interrupts Durand Service

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — High winds caused some electrical failure in the Durand area Sunday at 7:45 p.m.

Twenty-five customers called the Northern States Power Co. to report they had no service. Branches were blown over main power lines, causing the outage. The wind followed a hot day with high humidity, interrupted briefly by a heavy 20-minute rainfall at 5:30 p.m.

BEACH CLUB MEETING — ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Beach Community club will meet at Beach School Wednesday evening.

Rain Falls North of Here; Mercury at Summer High

Under searing southern winds and thunderstorm warnings the first hot weather of the season came to Winona Sunday, sending the thermometer to a high of 92 in mid-afternoon.

Although the storms hit near as Houston and Plainview in Minnesota and Alma in Wisconsin the immediate Winona area got through the weekend with only .03 of an inch of precipitation which fell in a shower Saturday night.

The North Central Airlines station at Max Conrad Field reported the wind Sunday at 25 miles per hour from the south with gusts much higher.

SUNDAY'S BRISK wind brought sailboat enthusiasts to Lake Winona and at one time during the afternoon six were on the lake.

Despite good weather, the spring flood still was having its effect on Mississippi River boating. Lockage of small craft through the Winona Dam was only 75 Sunday. This is about 25-50 less than on a similar Sunday last year.

Rainfall along the Mississippi was extremely spotty with 1.02 inches at Wabasha in a thunderstorm Sunday afternoon. At Red Wing .08 of an inch was measured and Lake City reported .53. Other amounts included Alma .24 of an inch; Thief River .13.

In Southern Minnesota, Houston had a shower that produced .50 of an inch and at Durand, a heavy rain with some hail accounted for 1.62 inches, the heaviest precipitation in the area.

Stages on the MISSISSIPPI were mixed with the Winona reading today 7.5, unchanged from Sunday and slated to go to 7.4 Tuesday, 7.2 Wednesday and 7.0 Thursday.

The Jaycees sponsored a hayride the night of June 19 in promoting a membership drive; 34 participated.

Crosby Buys a Winning Horse

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Bing Crosby crooned a few bars of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" as he led Meadow Court into the Irish Derby winner's circle at the Curragh Race Track.

He had reason to sing. Within hours after Crosby bought a one-third share in the horse, Meadow Court earned him $52,940 as his share of the $155,820 first prize money in Saturday's race.

Crosby bought the share from Canadian millionaire Max Bell. He wouldn't say what it cost him, but commented after the race, "I've got my money back now and more."

Sentencing of Youth Deferred For One Year

Sentencing was deferred one year today in District Court in the case of Robert E. Johnson, Lansing, Ill., (a former resident of St. Mary's Hall here) who pleaded guilty a month ago to a burglary charge.

Johnson had admitted co-operating with another youth (a juvenile) who threw a brick through the window of B & B Electric Co., 155 E. 3rd St., May 21 and took a television set.

THEY HAD both been drinking and did it more or less as a prank, Johnson had told Judge Hatfield at his arraignment in District Court late in May.

Judge Hatfield noted that Johnson's pre-sentence investigation showed two arrests in Illinois on assault charges. Johnson told the judge that both cases involved youthful fracas in which charges were not pressed.

The Illinois youth will be put on probation pending his return to Winona for sentencing July 11, 1966, Judge Hatfield indicated. If he makes good on probation, the judge added, the charge probably will be dismissed so that Johnson will have no felony conviction on his record.

Johnson had indicated a desire, at his arraignment, to pursue teaching as a career.

Attorney Roger P. Brosnahan noted at that time that Johnson would have little chance of finding a teaching job with a felony conviction on his record. The youth intends to go to college in Illinois next fall and will not return to St. Mary's College.

BROSNAHAN also indicated today that Johnson, with his companion in the burglary, has made full restitution to B & B Electric for its damages. Johnson has been working at home since his release on $1,000 bond following his arrest.

County Attorney S. A. Sawyer represented the state in the case.

Judge Hatfield laid down as conditions for probation that Johnson be a total abstainer from liquor and that he not engage in fights.

Steve Cochran Dies on Boat

GUATEMALA — The death of film actor Steve Cochran aboard his schooner at sea off Guatemala was attributed today to an acute lung infection.

The body of Cochran, 48, was identified by Dr. Abel Glron, a medical examiner who performed an autopsy on it. Dr. Glron said he knew the actor.

He said he could not pinpoint the exact nature of Cochran's illness until he receives a laboratory report, but the lung infection caused paralysis.

Cochran's body was aboard his 40-foot schooner Rogue which was towed into the Guatemalan port of Champieros Saturday. Also aboard were three Mexican women who said the actor died June 16 after he became paralyzed and could move only his head.

The women were identified as Eva Montero Castellanos, 25, a seamstress; Gueguina Bautista Zucurris, 19, a laundress, and Lorenza Infante De La Rosa, 14.

Man Admits Investigation Bicycle Theft Ordered in Check Writing

A petty larceny and three break-ins were reported to police over the weekend, Chief James W. McCabe said today.

Mrs. Wendell P. Moore, 252 W. Broadway, told police Saturday at about 12:45 p.m. that a man had just stolen her daughter's bicycle from the front yard of their home. The man had been seen riding away on the bicycle, Mrs. Moore reported.

OSCAR ROSE, 64, Houston Rd. 3, was arrested 25 minutes later at Ray's Trading Post, 216 E. 3rd St., where he had attempted to sell the bicycle. The clerk called police, after Rose made his offer, to determine whether the bicycle might have been stolen.

Today in municipal court, Rose pleaded guilty to a petty larceny charge in connection with the theft. Judge John D. McGill sentenced Rose to serve 12 days in jail or pay a $35 fine. Rose will serve the jail term.

Someone entered the YMCA building, 4th and Winona streets, Saturday night, according to a report by a janitor, Alvin Brom. Brom told police that a cash drawer had been broken open and a soft drink machine unsuccessfully jimmied.

Chief McCabe said that the burglar broke in through a basement door. Police did not believe the intruder got much money from the cash drawer.

PATROLMEN Joseph F. Brink and William J. Gordon found the bandshell concession in Lake Park broken into today at 6:04 a.m. Its owner, Leo Clibor, Prairie Island, told police that about $10 was missing.

Dr. James V. Wadden, 1269 W. Broadway, found the north well window of the School, Huff and Samia streets, broken open Sunday at 7:49 p.m. So far, according to Chief McCabe, a small football is all that is known to be missing. The break-in occurred sometime over the weekend.

Damage $350 in Lewiston Crash

An accident on U.S. 14 at Fremont Street in Lewiston Saturday at 2:45 p.m. resulted in $350 damage to one of the vehicles involved, the Minnesota Highway Patrol reported today.

Roger Northam, 16, 618 Center St., was driving a car owned by Mohan Sliding & Window Co., 160 Franklin St., north on Fremont Street when he stopped at the highway. Northam began to make a "U" turn.

In doing so, said the patrol, he forced a car moving east on the highway to drive off the roadway to the left in order to avoid a collision. The Rev. Alvin Mattox, Moose Lake, Minn., drove partially into the ditch in avoiding the collision.

Damage was to the left side of his station wagon. Highway Patrolman Oscar H. Krenzke investigated.

It Happened Last Night Best Actor in Film an Elephant

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Darryl F. Zanuck is hoping to make a lot of money distributing the motion picture, "The Bible" (through 20th Century-Fox), but he insists the acting masterpiece is not by any human being, but by an elephant. No, not Ava Gardner, not John Huston, the director, who also plays Noah. Zanuck claims the best scene is when Huston, as Noah, has been scratching an elephant's back, and the elephant enjoys it immensely. Huston tires of back scratching and walks away. "Suddenly the elephant," says Zanuck, "shoots out his trunk, wraps it around Huston's middle, and yanks him back, for some more scratching." When an elephant wants its back scratched some more, who's going to say no? Not Huston!

Though Nancy Sinatra's New York apartment with her daughters, it doesn't mean there's any change in their domestic relationship — they're all just good friends nowadays. The miracle is that Frank, approaching 50, and in Show Business full-time for 25 years, is such a fascinating celebrity to press people. At a big party at Toots Shor's for "Von Ryan's Express," he was hemmed in, by inches, by reporters with tape recorders and mikes. "He's as big an attraction as Marilyn Monroe used to be," I mention to Toots Shor, who shot back:

"And he's even a bigger attraction than he used to be!" Hans Holzer's book about ghosts claims there are more haunted houses — and more ghosts — in Ohio than in any state in the union. (Anybody I know, Hans?) That reminds me of the great statement by Will Rogers, "Ohio has more colleges and less bathtubs than any state in the country."

Boughton Named Manager

William Boughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boughton, Homer Road, was recently appointed managing director of the Hartford Stage Company, a professional repertory theater in Hartford, Conn.

Built and opened last year, the theater presents a repertory of eight classical and modern plays over an eight-month season, plus offering various dramatic and musical events during the summer. The fully professional theater is staffed by more than 50 actors and technical, publicity and administrative workers.

Boughton received his bachelor and master of arts degrees from the University of Minnesota, where he majored in theater with a concentration on management. He received a McKnight Foundation graduate fellowship in theater management to work at the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre, Minneapolis, in the fall of 1962, as the theater was being organized.

He later became the Guthrie Theatre's box office manager rector there until last fall.

His previous experience in theater includes acting and management with the University of Minnesota theater, the Minnesota, the Minnesota Showboat and summer stock. Prior to that, he was active in speech and theater work at Winona Senior High School, under the direction of Thomas Stoltman.

Before beginning work in Hartford, Boughton and his wife, the former Barbara Parke, spent six months touring theaters and opera houses in England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy and Spain. They are expecting their first child in October, and now live in Bloomfield, a suburb of Hartford.

Badger Solons Near Deadline On New Budget

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Faced with a midnight Wednesday deadline for decision, Wisconsin legislators may be greeting the fiscal New Year with silence rather than celebration.

The partisan warfare over how to finance a record budget stumbled to another standoff last week as the Democratic majority on the Joint Finance Committee refused to sponsor a compromise proposal worked out by a team of negotiators.

REPUBLICAN Gov. Warren P. Knowles asked the Finance Committee co-chairmen to meet with him today to resume talks. He received no immediate answer.

The 1965 - 67 biennium, for which the proposed $812.1 million budget is drawn, begins Thursday. The appropriations by the 1963 Legislature expire Wednesday at midnight. That session took until July 29 to pass a budget and the taxes to finance it.

THE 17-member bipartisan compromise group voted in favor of a $105.2 million package in new taxes to bankroll the budget increases this session. An income tax hike would bring an $83.6 million, with the rest stemming from a new bank franchise tax and a boost in the cigarette tax to 10 cents a package, matching New York as the highest in the nation.

BILL MERRILL'S
Something to Live By
I expect I will be hitting the nail on the head if I were to suggest that I noticed that most of us use the word "I" too often. And if you want to throw a real boomerang at your ability to converse, try cutting down on the use of the word "I."

Recently, after one in a series of talks before a group of salesmen, one critical chap pointed out the number of times reference was made to himself. It's my thought that he found himself coming short as he began to see himself in the light of the presentations on how to do a better job. To save his only feelings he resorted to finding fault with me, his instructor. Nevertheless, he had a point, and he did me a favor. I became conscious of these references to self, and at first, it wasn't easy to eliminate them from my presentations.

THIS VERY day I sat in the restaurant of a rather plush motel. Chatter was coming from all sides, but one word stood out. You guessed it — the word "I." There is a real secret in dealing with people involved in this observation. Mainly, that people are primarily interested in themselves. Thus, the constant use of the word "I." Therefore, if we eliminate talk about the person, I, and direct the conversation to the second person, you, our fellowmen will take more interest in us, as individuals. It's a basic rule in winning friends and influencing people.

Granted, our interest in others must be genuine, and that's the beauty of this whole thing. When we deliberately refrain from talking about self, we do become genuinely interested in others, making it fun to meet people, to learn of their interests, and to share in their lives. Who isn't happy to be friends to one who really cares?

MOST PEOPLE are not apt to change, that's why when one does a reverse and intentionally refrains from trying to sell himself as a personality, and inquires of your purposes and

DEAR ABBY:

Casper People Have Seen Horse

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have created quite a stir in the town of Casper, Wyoming, where I live. In protest to the ridiculous styles we women are being forced to wear, I have volunteered to ride a horse down the main street of Casper, wearing only a ribbon in my hair. My friends say I should. What do you say, Abby?

MODERN-DAY LADY GODIVA

DEAR GODIVA: If it's attention you want to attract, I advise against it. Everybody in Casper, Wyoming has SEEN a horse.

DEAR ABBY: The man who has asked me to marry him displays an almost unnatural interest in other women. I have never been the jealous type, and I can certainly understand his finding other women attractive, but he is so obvious it's embarrassing. When we are in a public place, such as a restaurant, he looks around and finds the best-looking woman in the room, and he then concentrates on her. I would notice his eyes going in her direction constantly. When we are in his car, and must stop for a red light, he leans forward so he can see who is in the car to the right. If it's a woman, he just stares at her. He's sweet and wonderful and gives me all his attention when we are alone or in a dark room. This might seem like a petty complaint, but I don't think I could overlook it after we are married. I'd like your opinion.

DEAR NO NAME: Life cannot be lived in a "dark room." Go with him longer and get to know him better. And if he can't lose this objectionable characteristic, lose HIM. It would be just a matter of time before you'd be telling it to the judge.

DEAR ABBY: I am to be married soon. My future husband is in the Air Force, which means we can expect to be traveling a lot. We want to get a furnished apartment at first. Our problem is that we are afraid we are going to get a lot of presents that we will not be able to use for a long time. I was wondering if there is any way to tell our friends and relatives that we would rather have money than presents. It would be inconvenient to pile them all in the car when we leave, as we have so much baggage as it is. We probably won't be able to use half the presents and won't have any place to put them in a furnished apartment anyway. Have you a solution for our problem?

MONEY TROUBLE

DEAR TROUBLE: If you are asked if you prefer cash to a gift, then it is entirely proper to state your preference. But it's extremely poor taste to volunteer the suggestion. Do what all other brides in your boat do. Store your presents at your mother's, or his.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JACK: Forget it. Behind every successful man are ten people who say they went to school with him.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

District Breaks Ground for New High School

LEWISTON, Minn. (Special) — An estimated 5,000 watched Lewiston's Bowery Days parade here Sunday afternoon. The skies were sunny; it was a perfect day for a parade.

Highlighting the long line of more than 100 units was the Lewiston float carrying the new queen, Sandra Luehmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Luehmann, who was crowned at ceremonies Saturday night. Her attendants were Carolyn Laufenburger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Laufenburger, and Carolyn Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Taylor.

JUDGES Phil Soderberg, Eyota; Arthur Miller, Rushford, and Miss Barbara Ahearn, Winona, awarded first place among bands to Lanesboro High School contingent; first among amateur floats to Altura which had designed a huge turkey, run by motor; best professional float to Security State Bank of Lewiston, and best novelty to the Whisker Club of Rushford, which is preparing for Rushford Homecoming in July.

Ole Olmstead described the parade as it proceeded. Darrell Benson was parade chairman.

The parade was preceded by ground-breaking for the new Lewiston High School at the site on the east end of town. Laufenburger was master of ceremonies at the program and members of the board took their turn at turning a shovel of dirt. Excavation for the new school is under way.

BERNARD KENNEDY, board president, gave the address. "Our district now extends from the vicinity of Whitewater State Park to the hills above Minnetonka, to Rollingstone, south to Clyde area and east to Wyatville." Districts joining Lewiston recently have been Enterprise, Silo, Bethany, Oak Ridge and Wyatville, he said.

He reviewed the history of Lewiston School, which was the first west of the Mississippi River to become a consolidated district.

"Lewiston was the first high school in the state to add home economics, manual training (industrial arts) and agriculture to its curriculum," he said.

The new building will accommodate at least 500 junior and senior high school students. For most efficient operation of a full and varied program of study, the district will need more students in junior and senior high than at present, he said.

HE EXPRESSED appreciation to the rural districts not yet consolidated for sending their students here, and invited them to use the new school for the mutual benefit of all.

"Challenge is nothing new to this area," Kennedy said. "The people now have met a new challenge by voting $1 1/4 million to build this school.

"The future depends on our young citizens, but the young citizens also depend on us."

Five years ago Altura district built a new elementary school and joined Lewiston.

THE PARADE was followed by dedication of the new swimming pool, built last year with public donations. Sunday afternoon it was turned over to the village council by the pool committee consisting of Webster

FISCHER, Roger Neitzke and Mayor Eldon Gremelsbach. Gremelsbach donated land for the pool.

Laufenburger said the water in the completely modern pool is filtered and chlorinated every 24 hours. The water is maintained just below 80 degrees. It holds 55,000 gallons of water and is equipped with skimmers which keep debris from the water.

"It was built by a group of dedicated individuals who saw the need for providing the pool for the youngsters," he said. It cost $40,000. Swimming classes are conducted for children from pre-school to advanced and Red Cross life saving. Two lifeguards are hired.

Rushford swimmers use the pool twice weekly. Swimmers and divers from Winona staged a swimming and diving exhibition for the crowd.

IN THE BALL game under lights Sunday night, Galesville, Wis., defeated Lewiston 11-1. The fireworks display closing the three-day celebration was reported as the best yet here.

Sandra was crowned queen at the Bowery dance Saturday night by Betty Huebner, last year's queen. Olmstead was master of ceremonies, the new Miss Lewiston receiving a bouquet of red long-stemmed roses. The judges, Jack Frost and the Gopher and Badger princes, Winona, were the judges and on stage.

Downtown Location For Tech School

OFFICIALS WHO must pick a site for the new area vocational-technical school should, in our opinion, give highest priority to a downtown location.

Admittedly, this is not the easiest way to solve the location problem. It would be far less troublesome for all concerned to find a fringe location.

In this instance, as in so many others, the easy way is not necessarily the right way.

To put it simply: This sort of facility belongs downtown, not in the suburbs or on the city's outskirts. The more one examines the idea, the more nearly inescapable this conclusion becomes. Whatever the difficulties, they should not be allowed to persuade authorities to turn elsewhere.

City planners have pointed out that the facility is almost commercial in character. Its students are largely adults and its activities are comparable to those of a busy commercial or light manufacturing institution. Clearly, this sort of operation has a definite relationship to characteristics and functions of downtown districts.

BY ALL THIS, we don't mean that the school is any sort of objectionable operation. Certainly it will be in an attractive building that will do credit to almost any locale. But, as has been said before, its functions are more in keeping with those normally associated with commerce.

One big advantage of the downtown site would be its effect on our rundown business district. With such a large-scale development alongside, the district very likely would be moved to speed up its own upgrading.

Another practical effect, say the planners, would be that of compacting the long, narrow downtown retail area into a more regular, more efficient shape. The district, which now tends to peter out at east and west extremes, would be forced in on itself with beneficial effects. Customer traffic would intensify in a less-extended area to the benefit of all concerned.

All of this, of course, goes along with the frequently mentioned need to keep the downtown core area a live, viable part of the city. When this core is prosperous and well-kept, it carries a heavy share of the city's tax load — something it can afford if these conditions are prevalent.

ONE HARDLY NEEDS to mention the obvious effect on downtown retail traffic that would be produced by an influx of 1,000 to 2,000 persons each day.

Such a development would dovetail neatly with plans now being drawn for downtown upgrading. Whether the city elects to take the federally-assisted road to renewal or to follow its own program, the vocational-technical school would have many beneficial effects. Of the approximately four blocks required, half would be devoted to parking space, a sorely-needed item in the fight for downtown survival. Much of this parking space undoubtedly could serve dual purposes at various times. It might even be possible to use parts of the area as income-producing off-street parking lots when not needed by the school.

Inevitably the objections will center chiefly around the idea that four blocks would be removed from tax rolls. This is true. Given a fringe-area location, however, the school would be almost certain to consume even more space since it is more readily available. Such space might well be potentially high-return residential land on which taxes would be forfeited. The tax void will occur regardless of where the site finally is designated.

THE COURSE we urge will be neither easy nor popular. But we believe it has merit. We think it is best for the city and this is the consideration that should guide officials in all their decisions.

Try and Stop Me

A pompous and conceited opera tenor once hired a claque to stand at the rear of the theater and applaud madly every time he polished off an aria. Everything went splendidly until the singer got a bit careless about paying his claque their promised handouts. After a solid week of nonpayment, the claque got its revenge. They applauded the tenor so ecstatically he had to give ten encores — and lost his voice for a month.

And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks: Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.—Isaiah 2:4.

Indifference to Credit Excesses

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Amid the glowing statements now being broadcast by administration spokesmen predicting a continuing expansion of business, there is a conspicuous indifference to the trouble that can come from excesses in the field of credit.

The average person isn't aware of the sensational rise in debts, private as well as public. In the last 20 years the total debt in America has gone from $434 billion to $1.3 trillion. That word "trillion" is soon going to describe private debt, too, which is already $882 billion — up 530 percent since 1945.

It is unquestionably the rapid increase in borrowing by individuals and by business that has stimulated a postwar boom, which is now being described exultantly as an unending prosperity.

Ten years ago, personal debts were 41 percent of the total income of individuals after taxes. But today these debts are 61 percent of all individual incomes after taxes.

WALTER F. HOADLEY, a well-known economist and vice president of Armstrong Cork Co., said in a recent speech that consumer credit has been "advancing at approximately twice the rate of income gains — a situation which cannot really be expected to persist too much longer without some temporary slowdown." He added:

"In fact, in bank loans and consumer credit are now to be found some definite signs of excessive, and hence unsustainable, activity which portends some periods of correction and adjustment ahead."

Some unpalatable facts need to be stressed in order that corrective measures can be put into effect. Frankness is more than ever essential, and there was a good example of it in an editorial in "the Wall Street Journal" on Wednesday, which said:

"TO PUT IT bluntly, we are witnessing at home and abroad mounting evidence of the dangers of credit excess. When a big New York real-estate firm heads for bankruptcy; when the largest credit union in Minnesota is being placed in receivership; when a number of banks around the country fail and a great many others put out shaky loans; when the pressures build for higher wages and prices — when all that is visible, we think it reasonable to conclude that there is quite a credit spillover in the domestic economy."

"Even officialdom is beginning to sense it. The government is trying to stick rocks in the stream in the form of lecturing bankers on sound credit practices and talking sternly to employers and unions about the desirability of wage-price stability."

"What the Washington money managers so far refuse to do is halt the swift creation of credit. The Federal Reserve system, it will be recalled, adds to the credit supply by enlarging member bank accounts in the reserve banks, and it does that chiefly by purchasing federal securities — with perennial federal budget deficits, there's always a growing supply of them around. Member commercial banks then can make loans in amounts six or more times as large as the sums added to their reserve bank accounts."

"IN FACT, businessmen who expand their operations mainly because money is cheap and plentiful are building the foundation for anything but a sound and lasting prosperity, as some of the recent collapses ought to suggest."

It would be a mistake to assume that either a recession or a depression is inevitable. But it is by no means impracticable to heed the advice given by Chairman Martin of the Federal Reserve Board and other economists who feel that restraints must be applied. The first restraint, of course, is not to exaggerate the nature of the current prosperity but to emphasize the simple fact that the whole credit system has been permitted to get somewhat out of hand through the granting of credits in many instances without applying sound guidelines. This is why the excess of optimism from official sources can only lead many people to take more chances by expanding loans far beyond the ability of the borrowers to pay.

THE OLDEST rule of economics still applies — that continually to borrow money and run deficits in any business or in government is bound sooner or later to cause a series of events that can make it difficult to put into effect the corrective measures that are necessary. As the Federal Reserve Board chairman said recently about current thinking:

"While the spirit is willing, the flesh, in the form of concrete policies, has remained weak. With the best intentions, some experts seem resolved to ignore the lessons of the past."

Military Wants to Destroy Russ Planes Sent to Viets

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The controversy is still raging inside the White House over whether to bomb the Soviet anti-aircraft missiles around Hanoi before they can be used against U.S. planes over North Viet Nam.

But the Air Force and Navy are far more worried about the air-to-air missiles that are carried by Soviet-made planes now in North Viet Nam.

The Russians have flown in more than a dozen supersonic MIG-21 fighters and RL-28 light jet bombers — a story that has already leaked to the press. What hasn't leaked is the arrival of another 50 MIG-19 fighters in crates sent by sea from the Soviet Union.

Once uncrated and armed with deadly air-to-air missiles, these MIGs will be far more dangerous than the more publicized ground-to-ground air missiles now being installed around Hanoi.

For this reason, the generals and admirals have asked the President's permission to destroy the planes on the ground at their North Vietnamese base.

Note: President Johnson is deliberately striking North Vietnamese targets, ever closer to the Chinese border. He has on his desk a plan for cutting all the railway and highway routes connecting Red China and North Viet Nam. So far, he hasn't given the go-ahead, except for hitting isolated targets in the far north.

A VERY firm though informal warning has been conveyed to the United States by Soviet officials that the two countries appear headed for war.

The warning was not in the nature of an ultimatum. It was couched in rather friendly language, yet it was most firm.

Russian officials pointed out that the Soviet people had looked forward to a long period of better understanding with the United States and at first felt that President Johnson was headed in this direction.

But with the bombing of North Viet Nam, especially at a time when Premier Kosygin was in North Viet Nam on an official visit, the Russian people had been rudely and abruptly disillusioned. And as the bombing has continued and intensified, there is more and more determination not to submit.

IT was explained that the Soviet has its commitments to socialist countries, just as the United States has commitments to NATO allies. And Russia cannot sit by and see one of its allies attacked aggressively. Fortunately, North Viet Nam has been winning, it was indicated, or the Soviet might have moved before this.

"The United States has asked us to participate in joint aid for North Viet Nam," the Russians said in brief. "We have been giving foreign aid to North Viet Nam for some time in the form of the bridges which you have been bombing. Now you ask us to join you in rebuilding the bridges which you have destroyed. You can imagine how we feel about this!"

The Russian people do not want a war, Soviet officials have explained. They suffered 20 million casualties in the last war. There is hardly a family that has not suffered the loss of a man.

Nevertheless, it was stated, the Russian people are ready, if necessary to fight.

THEY HAVE been trying to be courteous to Americans, despite their present feelings, as witness the recent reception to the Cleveland orchestra when it played in Moscow.

But courtesy should not be confused with appeasement. Reluctantly, it was stated, the Soviet government and its people are getting prepared to go to war with the United States.

The confidential cables from Saigon give a different picture of our air warfare than that appearing in the newspapers. The controversial B-52 strike against a one-by-two mile patch of jungle was no Air Force failure.

The huge bombers flew 2,600 miles from their Guam base and dropped 270 tons of bombs right on the bull's eye.

It was no fault of the pilots that the Viet Cong, tipped off either by their spies or air raid warning system, got out in time.

AMERICAN-SOUTH Viet Nam rangers, who slipped into the area after the bombs had dropped, found only three dead and three wounded. But the tea kettles were still warm in the underground shelters where the Viet Cong had been.

City Hall AMA Couldn't Whip

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Medical Association ran up against City Hall and then occurred one of the strange coincidences of history.

For 15 years the AMA and its presidents successfully fought passage of a federal medicare program which would provide health care for the aged through a Social Security tax.

The AMA spent a bale of money doing it, this year almost $1 million in the first three months.

Among other things the organization, with a membership of about 206,000 doctors, argued medicare would introduce a third party, the government, into the doctor-patient relationship.

But the tide was running against the AMA at last. Under President Johnson's prodding, and with his own Democrats in overwhelming control of Congress, approval of his medicare plan seemed certain this year.

Last February, still butting its head against medicare, the AMA endorsed another plan called "elder-care."

Then last April 8 the House by a 313-115 vote approved medicare. Senate approval and final passage seemed certain after the Senate Finance Committee gave its okay and sent it up for a vote.

The AMA, facing this prospect, met this week in New York and some doctors promptly submitted 10 strong resolutions urging physicians to boycott the health plan if it became law.

THIS WAS too much for the new president, Dr. James Z. Appel, 58, a surgeon of Lancaster, Pa., who sternly warned his fellow-doctors such a boycott would be unethical as well as "impractical and not good citizenship."

But out on the sidewalks old folks marched and shouted support of medicare, chanting as they picked: "T w o - f o u r - e i g h t, A-M-A c o o p e r a t e."

Then Thursday came the coincidence:

The Senate Finance Committee approved the medicare bill and will send it up to the full Senate which is expected to pass it after the July 4 recess.

And the AMA turned aside the boycott proposals although it warned it would not cooperate in any health program that interferes with a doctor's judgment and skill.

AND IT decided to look over the situation again when, and if, the medicare plan becomes law.

As a medical organization, the AMA is not unique in its opposition to a government medicare program. In countries around the world with government health care, doctors have protested against such systems, or certain conditions within the systems.

But most of the fighting was lost motion, which is what the AMA may be thinking now.

Bills to add hospitalization benefits to Social Security were introduced in Congress as early as 1942, only six years after the retirement system itself began.

They were reintroduced again and again but made no headway.

PRESIDENTS Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and John F. Kennedy in one way or another moved in the direction of a health care program.

A chief reason for the mounting support of medicare is that almost no family has been free of the rising cost of illness, with mounting doctor and hospital fees.

Canton Plans To Discontinue High School

CANTON, Minn. — As the result of an advisory ballot in which electors of Canton school district favored discontinuing the secondary school at the close of the 1966-67 term, the board last week passed a resolution to make plans for sending three classes of high school students elsewhere.

The resolution, moved by Hubert Hegtvist with second by Otto Schultz, read:

"Whereas, the enrollment of the Canton High School has decreased to the point where we are to be reclassified, be it resolved: That we meet with boards of education of the neighboring schools and make plans to discontinue the secondary school at Canton at the end of the 1966-67 school year." The motion was carried.

A special meeting was called by Veri Ramlo, board chairman, to review the results of an advisory ballot.

The vote was 64 in favor of sending a resolution to the commissioner of education assuring that the secondary school here will be discontinued at the end of the 1966-67 term.

Thirteen voted that the board shouldn't send the resolution but should go along with being reclassified as an 8-4 school this August.

Another 28 favored making arrangements to send grades 10, 11 and 12 to the neighboring schools this September on a tuition basis. All members of the board were present except Cleus Hosting. Kenneth Turner is clerk.

NASON ON EDUCATION Give Shy Child A Better Start

By L. J. NASON, Ed. D., U. of Southern California

The shy child has a miserable life, especially in school. For one thing, he is so afraid he is going to sound stupid when the teacher calls on him that he refuses to recite even when he knows the answer.

He probably stares at the teacher, hoping she will think he knows the answer and, therefore, will call on someone else; or stares at his feet, hoping the teacher won't even see him.

To him the whole process of going to school is a frightening one. Regardless of how smart he is, being too shy to recite will bring him lower school marks than he deserves.

THE ABILITY to say his say is a skill that will help him both in and out of school. Help him develop it and it will be an advantage to him as long as he lives.

Shyness is not limited to small children. Some junior and senior high school students are still plagued with it.

Summer, in the security of the home, is a chance to start overcoming this feeling. A good activity for younger children is play-school, with plenty of chance for them to recite.

For older students, home practice in reciting actual school lessons is recommended. Pick out some school subject such as history in which there is a considerable amount of class recitation. Have the pupil read two or three pages and then each of you formulate one or two question regarding it.

THE PUPIL should decide on an answer to each of the questions and, probably in his own room, repeat his answers aloud several times. He can try them out on a chair, a picture on the wall or a mirror. Then he is ready to try them out on you.

You ask the question and he states the answer. After such practice he will be better able to recite in class.

For a few days, he should over prepare. Not only ready the assignment and understand the material but practice the question and answer routine.

In class, he should try to think what question the teacher will ask next. When questions are asked for which he has the answers he should raise his hand promptly. If he is not called on the first time he should keep trying for an opening.

WHEN THE teacher does call on him he should remember that it is just what he wanted to do. He should also remember that the teacher and the class are with him and not against him.

An unsuccessful student is no credit to a teacher. Only successful ones count. And classmates would rather see one of their members succeed than fail.

Have your shy child talk directly to the teacher and it will minimize his embarrassment. He should think about the teacher and not himself. He should remember that mistakes happen in almost every class.

Remind him that even the best students sometimes come up with fuzzy answers. One mistake won't ruin a grade as much as an "I don't think I can answer."

Encourage him to keep trying. It may take a few days but it will come, as it has for most of those who TRY.

The Rev. Edward Sobczyk officiated. Mrs. James Leavitt was soloist and the church choir also sang. Marjorie Eichman was organist.

The bride is the former Miss Mary Kirkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hare, Trempealeau. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Waldera, Galesville.

GIVEN IN marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore a gown of lace with a fitted bodice, sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her bouffant skirt of tiered lace and tulle was designed with a wide overskirt which fell into a chapel train. A crown of seed pearls and sequins held her nylon tulle veil and she carried a cross of red roses.

Mrs. James Jessesky, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Nancy Waldera, Galesville, Wis., Mrs. William Grokowsky, Altoona, Wis., and Miss Mary Ann James, Trempealeau, bridesmaids.

Doris Waldera, Galesville, and Vicki Dutton, Zion, Ill., were junior bridesmaids. Rita Waldera was flower girl and Timmi Dutton, ring bearer.

Richard Schlessor was best man; James Jessesky, Pat Kirkey and Arthur Duell, groomsmen, and James Stanislawski, Winona, and William Grokowsky, Altoona, ushers.

Stockton Valley School 2567 Plans Farewell

STOCKTON, Minn. — Stockton Valley School District 2567 will hold a farewell picnic supper Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Farmers Community Park. The district will be dissolved after July 1 and the land will be divided between District 2558, Stockton, and District 2565, Minnesota City.

Members of the district 2567 school board for the last three years were: Ray Johnson, chairman; Mrs. Russell Church, clerk; and Harvey Wislow, treasurer.

District 2567 was formed June 1, 1857. Samuel Bates, great-grandfather of Russell Church, Minnesota City, presided at the first meeting. An acre of land was sold to the district by Lawrence Dillworth for the sum of five cents. The group then voted to raise $94 to build the first school house, 16 feet by 16 feet by 8 feet. In 1870 when the school was found to be too small and in need of repairs, the district voted to build a new school. The building, which was last used in 1956, was constructed of brick and cost about $1,000.

U.N. Closes Birthday Party

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

The United Nations, now 20 years old, ended a birthday party in the city of its birth with leaders of seven religious faiths, embracing more than two billion people, joining in support of the U.N. quest for peace.

The three-day commemorative session, mainly a gala 114-nation celebration of pomp and ceremony, began Friday with moments of silent meditation, as it had in 1945. It ended Sunday in a huge religious convocation.

In between a crackling exchange over Viet Nam by the Soviet Union and United States ambassadors underscored a warning by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant that the cold war seems to be intensifying and threatening to spread to untouched areas of the world.

In a sharp break from the

commemorative session's polite and restrained tone, the Soviet Union's Nikolai T. Fedorenko Saturday caustically termed as an "odd sermon" President Johnson's call Friday for the U.N. delegates to concern themselves with the war in Viet Nam.

"Is it not known by all that the dirty aggressive war in Viet Nam was unleashed by the United States?" asked the tall, bespectacled Soviet ambassador.

He had left the Opera House scene before U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson fired back: "I must say that the Soviet Union might do more by encouraging the peaceful purposes of the United Nations than by attacking my country for protecting a small country from aggression and, indeed, assisting the aggressor."

McNamer said today that he had driven the tractor and a spreader over to the farm from his home place Sunday morning to begin getting the barn ready for the haying.

Drunk Driving, Bottle Charges Bring $135 Fine

Two guilty pleas and two not guilty pleas to various traffic charges were heard today in municipal court by Judge John D. McGill.

Arnold G. Rivers, Rollingstone, pleaded guilty to drunk driving and open bottle charges and paid $135 in fines levied by Judge John D. McGill as the alternative to 42 days in jail.

Rivers was arrested by city police at Sarnia and Sioux streets Saturday at 7:41 p.m.

Nathan W. Hale, 678 1/2 E. Broadway, paid a $75 fine as the alternative to 25 days in jail after pleading guilty to a charge of driving after suspension of his driver's license Sunday at 1:24 a.m. at 3rd and Market streets.

Judge McGill also ordered Hale to surrender his license plates and vehicle registration to city police.

Nicholas J. Steffen, 20, 375 W. 5th St., pleaded not guilty to a charge of careless driving on U.S. 61 Wednesday at 11:05 p.m. Minnesota Highway Patrol made the arrest.

Judge McGill set trial for July 13 at 11 a.m. on the charge and released young Steffen on his own recognizance. Attorney Loren W. Torgerson represented Steffen today in court.

William R. Storlie, 156 High Forest St., pleaded not guilty to a charge of speeding 45 m.p.h. in a 30 zone on Broadway from Hamilton to Zumbro streets Sunday at 12:23 a.m. His trial was set for July 6 at 9:30 a.m., and Judge McGill set bail at $25. Storlie was attempting this morning to raise bail.

New Test for Moon Vehicle

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) —

The space agency will hold another in its series of tests of the safety system for moonbound astronauts Tuesday.

If all goes well, a 155,000-pound thrust escape rocket will pull a dummy moonship, similar to the one in which three Apollo astronauts would be riding, to an altitude of about one mile above the desert floor.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesmen said the test will determine how safe the astronauts would be should their giant Saturn V rocket malfunction just before or during its launch.

Suspended 30-Day Term Given Dakota Man for Bad Check

A suspended 30-day jail sentence was given Robert Phillips, 29, Dakota, Minn., today in municipal court after he pleaded guilty to a bad check charge.

Phillips admitted writing a $37 no-account check which he gave to Winona Bicycle Service in return for services. He said that they had given him two weeks to pay the check and that he needed an extension of that period.

Judge McGill suspended Phillips' 30-day sentence on condition he pay the check within 48 hours and that he not commit any similar offense within six months. Phillips' $50 cash bail was refunded.

Barn Burns At Ridgeway

RIDGEWAY, Minn. (Special) —

Fire destroyed a barn, granary and tractor Sunday morning on a farm owned by Herbert McNamer, Ridgeway farmer.

McNamer said today that he had driven the tractor and a spreader over to the farm from his home place Sunday morning to begin getting the barn ready for the haying.

HE USES the barn for hay storage and for his beef cattle in the winter, McNamer said. There were no animals in the barn Sunday, however.

As the Ridgeway farmer loaded the spreader, an apparent short in an electrical line ignited some leaking oil on the tractor engine. The fire was blazing up before McNamer noticed it.

He made a futile attempt to extinguish the flames by throwing a bucket of water on the engine, then set out for his home farm half a mile away to call firemen.

Meanwhile, the tractor which was parked right next to the barn continued to blaze up. The barn and a nearby granary were ignited and were burning fiercely before firefighters arrived.

Both buildings burned to the ground, and the tractor is almost a total loss, McNamer said today. He is covered by some insurance but is not sure yet how much, McNamer said. He managed to

Floyd: 'Playing With Palmer and Littler Inspired Game'

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

ST. PAUL, Minn. — For the benefit of the women, Ray Floyd was avacado slacks, a black golf shirt, black alligator golf shoes and a droopy white hat.

For the benefit of the male golf fans, the 22-year-old St. Andrew's, Illinois, blaster was a menace to Keller's par-71 layout, slandering the course to the tune of 69 on the final day to wrap up the $20,000 St. Paul Open first prize going away. His four-day card showed a 14-under 170.

The victory nearly doubled the previous 1965 winnings of the three-year tour veteran, who stood 61st on the list with $11,136 coming into the meet.

Floyd's final day card, which showed birdies on holes three, four, six and seven and bogeys on five and ten, was good enough to completely dominate play even though slugging in a three-some that contained the dynamic Arnold Palmer.

Floyd, in fact, credited the presence of Palmer, who finished in a four-way tie for seventh place with a seven-under par 277, and Gene Littler, who tied for second, with improving his game.

"I think playing with those two inspired me," said Floyd, who walked off the course displaying a smile bigger than that of Miss St. Paul, who limped the links until disposing of high heels midway through the first round.

It was on the seventh hole that "Arnie's Army" turned to "Floyd's Flock," for that was the turning point of the tournament.

While Palmer was troubled by an erratic putting game, still the fans watched and waited for the potentially dangerous star to mark the "charge" signal.

Then on the 550-yard par five seventh Palmer ran his second shot to the right edge of the green and "Ironed" it in for an "eagle."

Floyd, undaunted, whacked home a short putt for a birdie, losing only one stroke in the process.

From there it was easy. Although severe wind gusts turned the Keller blast furnace into an unpleasant inferno, Floyd consistently out-drove Palmer, rapped home a shot par putt on the 18th, caught the first ball pitched in the direction of the gallery himself, flung it again and walked into the blissful atmosphere of a $20,000 winner.

His 270 total was four strokes better than the 274 cracked by Littler, who birdied the 18th to salvage the tie, and Tommy Aaron, who had trailed by one stroke heading into the final round.

DEAN REFRAM was fourth at 275 to take $5,000. Aaron and Littler picked up $9,750 each. Deadlocked for fifth at 276 were "Golden Bear" Jack Nicklaus and Bruce Devlin. Bunched with Palmer were Joe Campbell, Dick Sikes and Gardner Dickinson.

Randy Glover needed only 18 putts in turning a 63 Sunday. The number of putts tied a PGA tour record. He did, however, finish far down the list with a 284.

Palmer and Doug Sanders, who hit 280 for the 72-hole $100,000 affair, had high praise for Floyd.

SAID Arnie, as he relaxed after making the clubhouse ahead of a legion of admirers: "He's a real good golfer now and he'll get better. He's one who doesn't let things bother him."

"Floyd is going to be great," complimented Sanders. "He is a fine putter, hits the long ball and has a good temperament for golf."

Throughout the final round, Floyd seemed cocksure of his ability to win. Later, in the cool

Twins' Half-Game Lead Gets Stern Test Today

ST. PAUL, Minn. — The Minnesota Twins, getting by on nerve, clutch hits and a prayer here and there, swept a doubleheader from Detroit Sunday to hang onto their threadbare lead in the American League.

Tonight that precarious half-game lead the Twins have tenaciously clung to for a week gets yet another stern test when Chicago's White Sox, tied with Cleveland for the runner-up spot, invades Metropolitan Stadium.

Minnesota's four-week reign at the top of the league has been a shaky affair with the Chisox and Indians threatening to stage a coup virtually every day.

But the Twins have won when they had to, just like Sunday when they edged the Tigers by 6-4 and 6-5 scores, the latter victory in 10 innings. They lost Saturday, but so did Chicago and Cleveland.

Don Mincher tried to bunt, then stroked a two-run homer that hit the right field foul pole to win the opener.

Rookie Joe Nassek slashed a run-scoring single with two out in the 10th to win the nightcap.

That's how it has gone for the Twins of late.

They've held the top rung despite the fact that ace pitchers Camilo Pascual and Jim Kaat have been hurt and both have missed starting assignments.

Even Sam Mele can't imagine how much longer it can go on.

"We'll just have to cripple along," he said. "You'd have to say we're a little stoved up. Pascual and Kaat are the guys we've got to have if we're going to stay up there."

Mele started relievers Billy Pleis and Mel Nelson, along with Jim Grant Saturday and Sunday. None went the route but their relief managed to get the job done.

"I'm probably going to have to go a little longer than I'd like to with some of these boys before relieving them," Mele said. "Nobody likes to give up a game."

but you have to consider tomorrow."

Dave Boswell (4-3) will pitch tonight's opener of the two-game White Sox series against Chicago's John Buzhardt (7-1). Mele hopes Kaat, who has had ten don'ts in his left elbow, can pitch Tuesday night, and also hopes Pascual will be ready later in the week.

Eight-inning Detroit rallies forced the Twins to struggle to both triumphs Sunday.

The Tigers tied in their half of the eighth in the opener when Jack Moore's wind-blown fly fell in front of Tony Oliva for a single and Oliva threw wildly to let a run score.

But Harmon Killebrew singled to open the bottom of the eighth and was on base when Mincher socked his fourth homer of the season.

Clark Drives To Victory in 51 Grand Prix

CLERMONT-FERRAND, France (AP) — Scotsman Jim Clark won the 51st Grand Prix of France Sunday with a driving style so relaxed he didn't even know he was knocking down lap records.

"After a few laps I felt right at home on the circuit," said Clark of the serpentine five-mile Auvergne course, carved out of the sides of ancient volcano cones. The Scot ace drove a Lotus.

Most of the 17 drivers never had raced through the circuit's 51 turns and long steep grades, being used the first time for Formula One cars. So tough was the going that Clark's winning time was a modest 2 hours, 14 minutes, 38.4 seconds for an average speed of 89 miles per hour.

Clark set seven lap records on his 40 times around.

"I didn't even know I was doing it until a reporter told me after the race," he told newsmen. "I just drove the way I felt."

The lap time that stuck was 1 minute, 18.9 seconds for an average of 90.5 m.p.h.

Lindgren, Mills, Ryun Head U.S. Track Delegation

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — There was a mass exodus of the track and field contingent today, most of them European-bound and led by Billy Mills, Gerry Lindgren and mile sensation, Jim Ryun.

The books closed on the 77th annual U.S. AAU Championships after a stirring Sunday evening in which:

Seasoned Billy Mills of the U.S. Marines barely edged out 19-year-old Lindgren in world record time in the six-mile run.

And 18-year-old Ryun, a Wichita, Kan., high school lad, defeated two of the world's greatest, Peter Snell and Jim Grelle, in American citizen's record time.

The electronic timer separated Mills and Lindgren by 1.20th of a second, as both were clocked in 27:11.6.

AAU officials said both will be certified for a record, which smashed the 27:17.8 set by Ron Clarke of Australia in 1963.

Ryun's time of 3:55.3 bettered the pending citizens mark of 3:55.4 by Grelle in Vancouver, B.C., June 5.

The outstanding performance, Saturday night was Bob Schul's 13:10.4 in the three-mile race. It bettered his own American record of 13:15.6.

ROCHESTER, Minn. — Winona's Southern Minnesota Baseball League title hopes suffered a temporary setback here Sunday as the Athletics were defeated by Rochester 5-4.

That will send Winona into Tuesday's game at Gabrych Park trailing league-leading Austin by three full games. The opponent will be the Packers.

MAX MOLOCK, unhappy that his team will not carry a 3-1 record into the fray with Emil and Larry Sheid's Austin team, has named Roger Roepke as a tentative starter for the game that promises to out-draw the opening night crowd that saw the Athletics defeat Rochester 7-0.

Sunday night the Athletics jumped on Rochester starter John Stephens early, scoring four runs in the first. But that was as far as it went and Rochester whittled at the lead, finally pushing over the winning run on Winona's lone error in the last of the ninth.

The error gave Jon Kosidowski his second loss against the opening night win.

WINONA started out in much the same fashion as the Athletics displayed against Larry Tupper's Travelers in the first game.

Rog Leonhardt was safe on an error and Al Connor singled. Gary Grob walked to load the bases. Davis Usgard then was hit to force in a run and all hands were safe and another run crossed as Kosidowski was left on a fielder's choice. Bob Leit-zau's single sent over two more runs.

Now it was Rochester's turn and the Travelers capitalized in the fourth on a walk to Brown, a double by Wickman and a wild pitch. Another crossed in the fifth on a single by "Tink" Larson and two fielder's choices and still another in the sixth on a double by Brown and a sacrifice fly by Dwyer.

THAT SET the stage for the ninth. With two out, Mulligan doubled and the next batter Evans sent a hopper at Connor. He fumbled the ball, let it roll past him and Mulligan scored the winning run.

"We just didn't play heads-up ball," bemoaned Molock. "There were three or four instances when we made mental errors that hurt us."

Usgard, hit twice by Rochester winner Stephens, was hurt, but Molock expected him to be ready for third-base action for Austin.

"Right now, we have to have this one," said Max. "Austin has a fine team. All we can do now is go out and play the best ball we are capable of."

While Winona was losing and falling into a second-place tie with Rochester, Austin was hammering rival Albert Lea 10-2 to take the big lead.

LeJetz (Weekend: 2-1) At La Crescent Tonight

After suffering its first loss of the season during a three-game weekend, Winona's American Legion baseball team heads for La Crescent and a tough Tri-State League battle tonight that will decide who the leader will be.

Both La Crescent and Winona stand atop the circuit with 3-0 records. Coach Bill Allaire has named Dave Knopick, back from a two-week stint with the National Guard, for starting duty tonight.

While the LeJetz did suffer their first loss of the season it is worthy of note that they took two of three from "big city" competition.

A 6-5 victory over La Crosse, that featured Rob Allaire's two-run eighth inning homer as a key blow, capped the weekend at Gabrych Park Sunday.

Saturday the LeJetz split with Austin, winning the second game 5-1 behind John Ahrens after losing the first 4-3.

Sunday it was a case of Winona catching up. The LeJetz spotted La Crosse a run in the second and scored in the same inning.

WINONA took a 2-1 lead and then fell behind 4-2 in the top of the seventh before rallying to push it into extra innings. With one out, Kulas singled and Ahrens doubled him home. Gary Curran was robbed of an extra base blow, but Ahrens did get home to tie it. That set the stage for Allaire's left field smash with the singling Dave Knopick aboard. The win went to Knopick, who worked an inning and one-third in relief of starter Steve Styha.

Kulas poked three hits in the game, Allaire, Todd Spencer and Ahrens two each.

IN THE FIRST game against Austin, Winona carried a 3-0 lead into the bottom of the third and then let the host team tie it on a double by Von Feldt and five consecutive walks by Spencer.

Tony Kreuzer clipped the rally, but later took the loss when Austin scored in the last of the seventh. The lead off man walked before Von Feldt fanned Quodnow singled and Styha came in to relieve Kreuzer.

He got Kuller to fly to right and the runners moved up. The winning run scored on a wild pitch.

Loren Benz' triple, Allaire's double and Addington's single were Winona's three hits. Austin got only two.

The two teams fought to a 1-1 first-inning tie in the finale before Winona scored two each in the third and fourth innings for the win.

Allaire, Benz and Ahrens collected Winona's hits in that game Austin also got three Benz tripled.

Winona now stands 7-1 for the season.

Little LeJetz Split, Now 5-1

Tom Angst of the Little LeJetz Small Post team lost a 2-1 pitching duel with Austin Small-Post hurler Mike Lobb Saturday at Austin.

Then the LeJetz came back Sunday to take a 16-4 decision over Alma at Gabrych Park to complete their weekend action for a 5-1 overall record.

The LeJetz "B" team could manage only two hits off Austin's Lobb, singles by Steve Peplinski and Mike Hoepfner. Austin was led by House's triple.

AUSTIN DREW first scoring blood in the third inning. Angst allowed two singles a walk and a wild pitch for one run.

The Small Post team came right back in the fourth inning, as Steve Loshok, Peplinski and Don Kukowski walked and Loshok scored on a ground out by Hoepfner.

The score was knotted until the ninth when Austin tallied on a single, the game's only error, committed by Loshok, and a single by C. Keller.

THE CONTEST against Alma Sunday turned into a rout despite four first-inning runs by the visitors.

The Small-Post team scored five runs in the second, one in the third, six in the fourth and four more in the fifth to build a 16-4 margin. Play was halted after another half-inning under the 10-run rule.

Peplinski, winning pitcher for the LeJetz, hurled for innings before being relieved by Ron Fugelstad. Alma's Larry Klueger was the loser.

LEADING HITTERS for the Small Post were Steve Gerlach, who tripled, Loshok, who doubled, and Jim Yahnke, who singled twice in three appearances.

Small Post coach Roger Leonard said either Fugelstad or Angst will start at Alma Tuesday night in the team's next game.

of the Keller clubhouse, he confessed he was worried "when I bogeyed the fifth. That scared me a little. But then I came back with a birdie on six. If there was a turning point, that was it."

WHEN DID he feel he had it wrapped up? "After nine holes. Tomp Aaron was four shots back, and I only had to play par golf to win. So then I bogeyed ten. But if you let one shot bother you, you shouldn't play!"

SHORT CHIPS: Tony Lema turned the large gathering on the first hole into convulsions when his 100-yard iron shot appeared to be soaring far over the green and out of bounds.

Is Willard Destined as Next Star Pro Footballer

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Ken Willard, a powerful 230-pound running back from North Carolina, may turn out to be the rookie phenom of the pro football season with the San Francisco 49ers.

"He runs so low they can't get at him," said teammate Dick Butkus of Illinois Saturday night after Willard gained 133 yards in 18 carries for the East in a 34-14 victory over the West in the fifth All-American game.

Willard's yardage total was a record for this pre-season affair and earned him the game's most valuable player award.

John Huarte, the New York Jets' $200,000 prize package from Notre Dame, provided the big scoring punch for Coach Ara Parseghian's East team. The quarterback hit Notre Dame's Jack Snow and Syracuse's Jim Nance with touchdown passes, scored once himself on a three-yard keeper and kicked four conversions. Tom Nowatzke of Indiana and Rollie Stichweh of Army scored the other East touchdowns.

Gale Savers of Kansas, a flashy rookie prospect for the Chicago Bears, was outstanding in the first half and wound up with 52 yards on 18 carries for the night. Savers scored one West touchdown and the other came on a 15-yard run by Rick Redman of Washington after intercepting a Huarte pass.

Butkus, an East linebacker who will join Savers with the Bears, made 16 tackles and played an outstanding defensive game.

Jeff Jordan of Tulsa doubled up. As a safety he broke up an East scoring threat by knocking down a pass in the end zone and also caught four passes for the West. Snow and Larry Elkins of Baylor each caught five passes, and Bob Hayes, the Olympic sprint champ from Florida A&M, caught four and was a constant threat as a punt return man. Hayes' best was a 41-yard gainer on a pass from Navy's Roger Staubach.

Huarte played most of the game and completed 10 of 23 passes for 82 yards. The West divided the work among three quarterbacks. Craig Morton of California hit with four of 12, Jerry Rhome of Tulsa connected with six of 10 and Bob Perry of Oregon completed two of three.

RBM Miss Hill Named AQHA Champion

Kathy Carlblom's horse, RBM Miss Hill, acquired enough points in Minnesota shows at Faribault and Elk River over the weekend to be named an American Quarter Horse Association champion.

The title is based on the total number of points a horse acquires at shows during its lifetime.

At Elk River, Kathy was first in aged mares at halter, senior AQHA pleasure and youth pleasure and second in youth showmanship. At Faribault, she was third in aged mares at halter, fifth in women's pleasure and sixth in junior AQHA pleasure.

Jim Richtman, on Foxy He Wolf, was first in two-year-old studs at halter and grand champion stallion. At Faribault, he was second in two-year-old studs at halter, third in men's pleasure and sixth in junior AQHA pleasure.

Sue Boland, riding Yeller Hi Life, took second in aged geldings at halter and reserve champion gelding, sixth in youth showmanship and sixth in senior AQHA pleasure at Elk River, and sixth in aged geldings at halter and third in Palomino pleasure at Faribault.

Jo Anne Johnson and Jim Bob Giant was third in egg and spoon race at Faribault. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Przybylski's Okey Polky was third in two-year-old Appaloosas at halter at Elk River and Jerry Stejskal on Carson's King was fifth in junior AQHA reining.

REDS MORE POWERFUL

Sisler: 'Two Big Victories'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Who says the Cincinnati Reds are mightiest at home in Crosley field? The Reds pack enough power to batter down fences anywhere they go.

The Cincinnati sluggers exploded for 29 hits, including six homers, and moved to within one game of the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers by overpowering the Milwaukee Braves 10-9 and 10-2 Sunday.

Relaxed and comfortable in 95-degree weather, the Reds were as hot as the boiling sun as they teed off while keeping eyes on the scoreboard, which finally showed the Dodgers' 10-2 defeat by Pittsburgh.

Frank Robinson collected a pair of homers, Vada Pinson belted the fifth grand slam of his career, Deron Johnson hoisted a three-run blast, and Tony Perez and Tommy Harper each contributed two-run clouts.

"Those are two big games for us," Manager Dick Sisler said. "We weren't too good on defense in the first game, but we got a lot of hitting. Our hitting, though, didn't surprise me. We've got a lot more power this year. By shifting Johnson to third base, we can alternate Perez and Gordy Coleman at first. And Harper is a much improved player. I wouldn't trade our power for any other in the league."

The Reds, who boast 88 homers in 71 games, needed the long ball in the opener as the Braves tied the count 9-9 in a wild eight-run sixth. The uprising was featured by three soft hits, a walk, a couple of errors and homers by Frank Bolling and Joe Torre.

The three-run tying blast by Torre was a drive down the left field line, which the Reds believed foul. When the arguments were completed, Sisler, pitcher John Tsitouris and catcher Don Pavletich were ejected by umpire Shag Crawford.

"I just told Crawford that I agreed with what Pavletich told him and I got the thumb," Sisler said after his first ejection as a major league manager.

Relief pitcher Al Worthington of the Minnesota Twins had been with the New York Giants, San Francisco Giants, Boston Red Sox, Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds.
