Magnusson Assailed By Attorney General

ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota Insurance Commissioner Cyrus Magnusson, already under indictment on fraud charges was blamed Tuesday for allowing the public to be damaged through a tangled financial skein woven around American Allied Insurance Co. A report by Atty. Gen. Robert Mattson to Gov. Karl Rolvaag said that at one time American Allied was being allowed to operate so it had to pay out $1.24 to its owners for every $1 it took in from insurance premiums.

Mattson's report blamed Magnusson for failing to investigate the firm and for failing to heed later warnings that American Allied's operations were profiting no one but its owners.

Magnusson, 61, and 16 other persons were indicted for fraud last Friday by a federal grand jury. They are due in court to answer the charges next Wednesday.

Magnusson has maintained his innocence and said he was "astounded" at the federal charges.

He had no comment after Mattson echoed much of the federal indictment. Mattson charged that Phillip Kitzer Sr., and his sons Phillip Jr. and Joseph, of Chicago, had contrived a scheme to drain funds of an insurance network without regard to the damage this might cause policyholders. The three Kitzers were among those indicted.

American Allied dealt mainly in high-risk auto insurance.

Mattson said American Allied went into business with $150,000 borrowed from the books of two other firms, but that Magnusson accepted this as "an injection of new assets."

Said Mattson:

"A proper investigation of this transaction at this time would have shown that American Allied Insurance Co. was insolvent on the day it commenced business."

The firm was licensed by Magnusson July 12, 1963, and was declared insolvent by a district court last Aug. 6.

Mattson also charged Magnusson with tipping off American Allied officials to an investigation by the state and said Magnusson had misinformed the public on the company's condition.

Mattson's report added: "The insurance commissioner must take the responsibility for this matter, inasmuch as through proper administration under the existing laws, this insolvency would never have occurred."

Mattson said the string of Kitzer companies was not run according to normal business methods, but that "American Allied Insurance Company was established primarily as a vehicle by which the Kitzers could obtain the premium money paid in by the public and divert such money to their personal accounts."

The grand jury indictments, alleged the defendants drained the companies of some $4 million.

Magnusson has refused Rolvaag's demand that he resign. The governor got a copy of the report late Tuesday afternoon, just before flying to Washington for the White House conference on health.

Rolvaag and Mattson said Monday they plan to file charges against Magnusson and hold a hearing that could lead to his dismissal.

White House Conference on Health Opens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first White House conference on health opens today with a call by two doctors for new steps to make better use of American medical manpower at all levels — from specialists to nurses' aides.

But they said the education of more doctors is not necessarily a key solution to the nation's health needs.

The two — Dr. John M. Weir, director of the Rockefeller Foundation's Medical and Natural Sciences Division, and Dr. William N. Hubbard Jr., dean of the University of Michigan Medical School — gave their views in remarks prepared for the opening session.

The conference, called by President Johnson, is being held at a midtown hotel.

Dr. Weir said the United States has a much higher ratio of doctors to population than either Great Britain or Sweden, yet continues to have higher infant mortality rates than those two countries.

He told the conference: Since the quality of training of physicians is high in the United States, Great Britain and Sweden, and since the same knowledge of disease is available to the physicians in each country, the inevitable conclusion is that we are not using the available medical manpower as efficiently as they are."

Prairie du Chien and Tomah Study OK'ed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Renewal Administration granted the Wisconsin Department of Resource Development $12,200 Tuesday to help finance preparation of plans for the growth of Prairie du Chien and Tomah, Wis.

Texas Rejects 4-Year Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texans, in an apparent slap at Gov. John B. Connally, have rejected a proposal to extend the governor's term from two to four years, while voters in Florida, New York and Ohio turned down a variety of money-raising measures.

In Kentucky, North Carolina, Maine and Texas, however, large bond issues were approved. And the biggest money measure on the ballot in the eight states holding referenda Tuesday, a $1-billion New York bond issue to fight water pollution, received overwhelming endorsement.

Connally, who has already announced he will seek a third term next year, campaigned for a four-year term, while the state AFL-CIO fought it. When vote counting was stopped for the night at midnight (CST), the tally stood 264,375 against, 217,032 for.

Besides the four-year term for state officers, Texans rejected a proposal to give state representatives four-year terms instead of two.

Another Southern governor, Florida's Haydon Burns, also took a licking in the defeat of a Bomb, Blockade North Viet Nam Goldwater Urges

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Barry Goldwater says the fighting in Viet Nam is "the last chance of freedom in the world." He calls for a sea blockade, in addition to bombing.

Goldwater did not elaborate on the idea of a sea blockade, but he told an Arizona State University audience of 3,000 Tuesday night that the North Vietnamese should be informed that industrial areas no longer would be excluded from bombing.

Although he disagrees with those who demonstrate against U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, the former Arizona senator and Republican presidential candidate said he would defend their right to do so "so long as it is done in honesty and not in phoniness."

Postmaster General Takes Oath in Texas

HYE, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has chosen this hill country hamlet — population 135 — as the site for the swearing in today of Lawrence F. O'Brien, political professional from the big city, as postmaster general.

O'Brien, the last of John F. Kennedy's top aides to leave the White House staff for other pursuits, took the Cabinet oath at the 18th century post office-general store where Johnson remembers getting his first mail at the age of 4.

Hye is less than five miles from the LBJ Ranch and the President's neighboring birthplace.

O'Brien, a master political organizer from Springfield, Mass. — population 173,736 — served both Kennedy and Johnson as special assistant in charge of congressional liaison.

The outgoing postmaster general is John A. Gronouski, ambassador-designate to Poland.

Johnson's chosen site for the O'Brien oath-taking was a sprightly, if aging, structure with a gingerbread facade painted in bright red, green and white.

CARRIER LOADED FOR WAR

Bombs Kept In Mess Hall

ABOARD THE CARRIER MIDWAY (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. Jerry Lemmon is essentially a neat, methodical man. It bothers him that there are bombs in his mess hall.

Lemmon, a supply officer of the carrier Midway, must maintain an adequate supply of goods ranging from bath towels to 2,000-pound bombs.

The ship's four squadrons of planes drop about 50 tons of bombs each day on targets in Viet Nam, so Lemmon has every inch of available space crammed with ordnance.

To keep up with the insatiable hunger for bombs and rockets, he rearranged the mess halls and made room in them for the hardware. Ordnance is also stored on deck, along gangways and anywhere else that Jerry Lemmon can find space.

He and a visitor on the Midway strolled past a space on deck that shortly before had been stocked high with 250-pound bombs.

"Look there," said the one-time resident of Ponca City, Okla. "We've got that cleared out now."

Hours later it was stacked high again.

Two or three times a day, the Midway's planes begin warming up their engines. Soon after they are catapulted out over the South China Sea toward their targets.

After they leave, the flight deck falls silent. But down below the racket never ends. Sailors endlessly repair planes and wrestle heavy ordnance from steamy holds to topside where it is readily available. Don't these kids ever rest?

Lemmon pointed to a sailor sprawled asleep on a pile of bombs, and said: "He's resting now. Presently someone will shake him awake and he'll go back to work."

Democrats Win In New Jersey And Virginia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican John V. Lindsay vaulted today to the front rank of the party whose campaign banner he shunned in winning election as mayor of New York City.

But while the liberal Lindsay was winning by a 135,000-vote margin in heavily Democratic New York City, Democrats were crushing Republican hopes with gubernatorial victories in New Jersey and Virginia.

After seven years as a Manhattan congressman and seven

Victory for N.Y., Nixon Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard Nixon today called Republican John Lindsay's election as mayor "a great victory for New York City and a personal triumph for John Lindsay."

"The imagination, determination and courage which won the election for him should serve him and the City of New York well as he assumes his new responsibilities," Nixon said.

months as a mayoral campaigner, Lindsay triumphed over Democrat Abraham D. Beame — and became one of the Republican party's top officeholders.

Even before the New York election, there was talk that victory or narrow defeat would make Lindsay a man with presidential credentials in the GOP.

Beame charged that was Lindsay's aim, and said the Republican would not serve a full four-year term. Lindsay said he would — and seek re-election, too.

In general Tuesday's scattered, off-year elections offered comeback-minded Republicans little help in their hunt for answers to the dilemma that was the legacy of 1964 presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Lindsay, who had refused to back Goldwater, seldom men-

Princess Packs Secret Wardrobe For U.S. Journey

LONDON (AP) — The maids at Kensington Palace excitedly packed a secret wardrobe today for Princess Margaret's first visit to the United States.

The princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon, arrive early Thursday night in San Francisco for a three-week tour, a trip Margaret has wanted to make for at least 17 years.

Tonight the royal couple is giving a farewell party — for toddlers. The Snowdons picked Nov. 4 for their departure so they wouldn't miss the fourth birthday of their son, Lord Linley. Also on hand will be their 18-month-old daughter, Lady Sarah Armstrong-Jones.

British correspondents in the United States reported that the West Coast seems gripped by "Meg mania," with socialites vying for invitations to meet the princess.

What she will wear at parties and such events as the World Adoption Fund Ball in Los Angeles Nov. 8 will be a top secret until the last minute.

Even the designers' names have not been revealed. But it is certain that Margaret's many bags include some dazzling creations. The British fashion industry is looking to the princess to give its exports a big boost.

Now 35, Margaret was 18 when she first asked her father, King George VI, for permission to visit the United States.

The king said wait. Then, in 1952 her father died. Later came her sister's coronation, followed almost immediately by the crisis over Margaret's romance with divorced group Capt. Peter Townsend. The princess arrives Thursday afternoon in New York and after a 90-minute airport stop will fly on to San Francisco.

Reds Attack Viet Outpost

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Hundreds of Viet Cong swarmed down from the mountains above coastal Quang Ngai today and made an unsuccessful attempt to overrun a government outpost.

U.S. sources said an estimated 500 to 600 Communist troops attacked the outpost three miles northeast of Quang Ngai, in central Viet Nam. U.S. jets bombed and strafed the Communist troops as they retreated at daylight, but there was no estimate of enemy casualties.

Moderate casualties were reported among the defenders of the outpost.

Only one other ground action was reported. In the Mekong delta a government river assault group riddled a sampan with machine-gun fire. A spokesman said the group killed three Viet Cong and captured several hundred rounds of ammunition.

A U.S. military spokesman reported 23 Americans killed in action last week, 114 wounded and 2 missing or captured. U.S. casualties the week before were 11 killed, 70 wounded and 13 missing or captured.

South Vietnamese casualties for the past week were 363 killed, 775 wounded and 63 missing or captured, the spokesman said. The Viet Cong toll was 1,264 dead and 133 captured.

The spokesman said the Viet Cong in the past two weeks had struck in larger force than at any other period this year.

The Communists launched three battalion-size attacks and one assault of regimental strength last week, the spokesman reported. The Red losses were the third highest on record for a single week.

Just south of Quang Ngai, at the port of Qui Nhon, South Korea's Tiger Division took over the defense of a large region from a U.S. Marine unit. The Koreans have been hammering at Viet Cong positions with artillery for several days in the Qui Nhon region.

A total of 12,000 Korean troops will defend the region 260 miles north of Saigon, a spokesman said. Viet Cong guerrillas abound in the hills above Qui Nhon, and the Marine unit that was relieved has been in constant action for several months.

Qui Nhon is the main supply point for the U.S. Army's 1st Air Cavalry Division, which is based in the An Khe valley west of Qui Nhon.

Air activity continued heavy over both North and South Viet Nam.

B52 bombers from Guam struck the Boi Loi forest 30 miles northwest of Saigon for the second consecutive day. Their target was a suspected storage area.

In North Viet Nam, the raiders concentrated primarily on transportation targets. Pilots reported eight 3,000-pound bombs did heavy damage to a 120-foot section of a concrete highway bridge 115 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Friends Make Up Amount Stolen

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Thieves entered a Boulder restaurant Oct. 10 and took $914 in cash.

Owner Fred Shelton said Monday that he had received a check for $914, left on the counter. The money was raised by 10 of his friends, each of whom contacted 10 other persons. Each person contributed $9.14.

"It gives me a real lump in my throat to think the people would do this for me," said Shelton.

Man Dies as Human Torch At Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pacifist sacrificed himself in flames in front of the Pentagon. His widow said he gave his life "protesting our government's deep military involvement" in Viet Nam.

Norman R. Morrison, a Baltimore Quaker, clutched his year-old daughter Emily in one arm late Tuesday as he began to burn. Screams of "Drop the bomb" from onlookers who have saved her life, for she fell uninjured to the ground.

Morrison, 31, drenched himself in kerosene and kindled himself as a human torch in full view of hundreds of Defense Department workers and military men.

Military officers who have witnessed the violence of battle shook their heads in disbelief after seeing Morrison turn himself into a pillar of fire.

The Pentagon has seen many protests against American policy in Viet Nam — silent vigils, placard-carrying marchers — but never anything like Morrison's action, so like the immolations of Buddhist monks.

Morrison, a Quaker official chose dusk to stage his sacrificial burning. The Pentagon's thousands were streaming for home.

He picked a spot within eyeshot of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's office window.

However, a visitor who was with McNamara at the time said the Pentagon chief was "absolutely unaware" of the incident. McNamara customarily sits with his back to his windows and hubbub is common during the hours when people are homeward bound.

BABY ESCAPED . . . Eighteen-month-old Emily Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Morrison, who live in Baltimore, Md., plays in Ft. Myer, Va., Army Dispensary unaware of her escape from possible death. Her father, with Emily in his arms, set himself afire and was burned to death in a protest against U.S. military action in Viet Nam outside the Pentagon. Responding to shouts from onlookers, he dropped the child to the ground before he was engulfed in flames. He was dead on arrival at the dispensary, but the child was uninjured. (AP Photofax)

Russians Not Ready in '62, Magazine Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Newsweek magazine reports that a Russian spy assured President John F. Kennedy during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis that Soviet nuclear forces were not in a state of war readiness.

In its issue out Monday the Newsweek story cites the activities of Soviet Col. Oleg Penkovsky, executed by the Russians in 1963.

Penkovsky's memoirs, now being edited for publication, are said to reveal that he passed to Britain and the United States some 5,000 bits of military, political and economic intelligence.

"Penkovsky knew full well that eventually the Soviet security apparatus would find him," the magazine article says. "But if the story that has been accepted in intelligence circles over the past few years is correct, he may at least have had the satisfaction of knowing that it was his greatest contribution to the West that led to his final downfall."

"Three days before John F. Kennedy delivered his dramatic ultimatum to Khrushchev at the height of the Cuban missile crisis, the story goes, the late president asked his advisers how he could be sure he was not touching off a nuclear war."

"He was told that the only way to find out was to check with 'our most secret source in Moscow.'"

"Do it," said the President — and 32 hours later the answer came back: 'Soviet nuclear forces not in a state of war readiness.'"

"The 'secret source,' of course was Penkovsky, and the message he sent probably cost him his life."

"Since there had been no time to follow the usual security procedures, he had irretrievably betrayed himself to the secret police. He was arrested immediately and in May, 1963, Penkovsky was cut down by a Soviet firing squad."

Your Social Security

Q. The Social Security Administration is now sending to more than 15 million social security beneficiaries, 65 or over, enrollment cards for the voluntary medical insurance program. Just what is involved in filling out the enrollment card?

A. The procedure is not at all difficult. The card is small and very easy to fill out. Just check the appropriate box on the card: YES, if you'd like to get medical insurance coverage, or NO, if you do not want this medical insurance. Then sign your name in the designated space and mail the card back in the postage-free envelope which came with it.

You should fill out and mail the card even if you don't want medical insurance. The Social Security Administration will then know that you have had the opportunity to sign up.

Q. Some of our older people who have already signed up for the medicare program are wondering about whether to continue paying premiums on any other health insurance policies they may already have.

A. They shouldn't drop their present health insurance coverage because of the new law. As you know, medicare coverage does not begin until July 1, 1966. So, even if you intend to sign up for health insurance protection under medicare, you will want the protection of your present health insurance policy in the months before medicare begins.

Marines Try Rifles With Sniperscope

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Taking a page from the Viet Cong's book, the U.S. Marines are training some of their Leathernecks in Viet Nam to be snipers. The aim is to keep enemy snipers outside effective range of Marine infantrymen.

"Combat experience has indicated a requirement for the employment of sniper teams to deny the enemy movement through the area of operation," said Capt. Robert A. Russell of Vista, Calif., in charge of the 3rd Marine Division's sniper project.

"The Viet Cong have been effective against us," Russell said, "and now we are going to deny them the capability of getting so close to us."

The Marines plan a total of 82 snipers — 20 attached to each of the division's four regiments and 12 with the division's reconnaissance unit.

They are being equipped with the Model 70 30-caliber Winchester rifle, which has a range of 700-1,000 yards. Each rifle is fitted with a sniperscope.

The basic weapon used by Marine infantrymen, the 7.62mm M14 rifle has a range of up to 500 yards.

In action, each sniper will be deployed about 300 yards in front of the infantry unit's defense perimeter. This in theory will make the area 1,300 yards in front of the infantry no-man's land for the Viet Cong.

The sniper training lasts three days. Men chosen for it are well grounded in camouflage, map reading, range estimation and observation — "all subjects peculiar to making a sniper more effective," Russell said.

Confession of Hibbing Youth Is Challenged

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — The confession of Ronald J. Keiser, 18, Hibbing, accused in the stabbing death of a young Hibbing beautician, is being challenged in the Minnesota Supreme Court.

The challenge was filed by Keiser's attorney, Alfred J. Weinberg Jr., Duluth.

Weinberg's appeal is based on the argument that Keiser's confession was not voluntary; that it was given after he had been held 11 hours without benefit of food or legal counsel.

Keiser is charged with first degree murder in the death of Joanne Anderson, 20, who was stabbed 31 times as she walked home from work April 23. Keiser has pleaded innocent.

Cannon Falls Man Drowns

CANNON FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Evald Erickson, 69, Cannon Falls, drowned in the Little Cannon River Monday when he apparently slipped down a steep bank while fishing.

Erickson's body was discovered by relatives who started a search late Monday when he failed to return. Erickson had gone fishing at a spot about eight miles south of here.

Dr. Robert Molenaar, deputy Goodhue County coroner, ruled the death due to accidental drowning.

Federal Urban Renewal Debated

The welfare of small business and the advisability of using federal funds were the chief areas of concern voiced by those attending an open forum meeting on urban renewal in Winona Tuesday evening.

Questions were directed to a panel of five members, four of whom explained the problems Winona faces, the urban renewal plan and the advisability of recourse to federal assistance. One panelist argued against the urban renewal plan backed by federal government finances, offering suggestions that might lead to other solutions.

ABOUT 200 attended the meeting, sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Winona, which was held in the auditorium of Pasteur Hall at Winona State College. Members of the panel were: J. D. Scott, Steve Morgan, Jerry Papenfuss, James Kleinschmidt and James Mullen. Dr. W. C. Finkelnburg and James Goetz, also scheduled to appear, were unable to be present. Edward Jacobsen was moderator.

Scott is chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee for Downtown Renewal. Morgan is on the board of the Housing and Redevelopment Authority. Kleinschmidt is the authority's urban renewal director and Papenfuss is a member of the City Planning Commission. Mullen is on the Coter High School faculty. Dr. Finkelnburg is chairman of the authority board and Goetz is president of Gem Radio Stations.

INTRODUCING the topic, Mullen explained that urban renewal was originally intended as slum clearance. He said most cities are facing problems resulting from the deterioration of core areas. He pointed out that there is usually no dispute over the desirability of urban renewal. "Arguments are generally over the proper approach to urban renewal," he said.

Scott elaborated on the causes of deterioration of a downtown area. He listed as factors: The age of a city, removal of industry, increase in automobile population, increase in marginal operating businesses, absentee ownership of buildings, and increase in vacant buildings causing a shift in the city's tax base.

Anticipating questions as to why private enterprise alone could not be relied upon to rehabilitate blighted areas, Scott explained the prohibitive cost facing the private investor. This includes the cost of land and the buildings on it, plus the costs of demolition and new construction, he pointed out. The federal government's role in urban renewal, said Scott, includes the purchase of land from private owners, clearance of the land, and resale of cleared land to private investors.

MORGAN described urban renewal in Winona as a local plan with outside financing. He stressed his view that there could be no urban redevelopment without outside financial assistance. However, he said, this does not mean that local control will be relinquished.

"The General Neighborhood Redevelopment Plan, as proposed to Winona, has three built-in safeguards for local control," Morgan said. "Before a project can be started, the Housing Authority must have an open hearing, and the council then has to approve."

Papenfuss saw the General Neighborhood Redevelopment Plan as the city's salvation and the only real hope for the future of Winona. "If we go into the plan," he said, "the success of the first project is of great importance and by taking on the first project you demonstrate a faith in your community."

The vocational school is a vital part of the first project, Papenfuss explained, and should be located in the downtown area which is zoned for such a building. "We cannot separate the decision of urban renewal and the decision of the vocational school," he said.

Kleinschmidt explained how the proposed plans, financed by a government grant, were prepared. He pointed out the implications of the plans and the practical program for carrying them out if adopted. "We think we have a good plan and we think the only way to do it is with federal assistance," he concluded.

THE LAST speaker, Mullen, presented opposing arguments. He did not dismiss the problem of blight and urban redevelopment. He questioned the proposed solution and the means of financing and executing it.

"Urban renewal does not guarantee solution of the problem," he said. "Urban renewal does not have to be financed by federal government with resulting control."

He suggested as possible financing methods a city income tax and low-cost loans from the federal government to private enterprise.

The vocational school must be separated from urban renewal, he insisted. "Urban renewal must stand on its own feet and be considered on its own merits," Mullen said. He suggested the use of land not now producing taxes, like lake property, for school expansion.

In conclusion Mullen asked: "Are we bucking the trend of the future?" He wondered what was wrong with having shopping areas on the outskirts of the city. After all, he pointed out, "the city of the future may have all of its shopping facilities in outlying areas with the core of the city completely residential. In our concern for the redevelopment of the inner city business district, we may be actually acting as retarders of progress."

Warm Weather Ending Tonight; 50 Thursday

Winona's pleasant fall weather may be ending.

The weatherman today predicted occasional cloudiness and much colder tonight and Thursday with the thermometer dropping to between 24 to 30 tonight and not rising much above 50 Thursday.

Strong northwesterly winds were expected to diminish tonight. Warmer with a chance of a few showers is the outlook for Friday.

The wind was blowing at a 20 to 25-mile-an-hour clip during the forenoon, the North Central Airlines weather station at Max Conrad Field reported.

THE EXTENDED forecast for the next five days indicates temperatures for Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin will average about 5 degrees below normal daytime highs of 39-50 and nighttime lows of 24-31.

Cooler weather is indicated for Thursday and Friday, warmer Saturday and Sunday and then cooler again Monday. Precipitation in the five days is expected to total near one-tenth of an inch in showers about Saturday and Sunday.

The Winona temperature rose to a comfortable 70 Tuesday afternoon, dropped to 57 overnight and was 64 at noon. A year ago today the city's high was 72 and the low 43. All-time high for Nov. 3 was 68 in 1904 and 1914 and the low for the day 13 in 1879 and 1951. Mean for the past 24 hours was 57. Mean for this time of the year is normally 42.

All-time high for Nov. 2 was 75 in 1933. Hibbing again was below the freezing mark today with a morning low of 29. Low at Duluth was 44. Rochester posted a minimum of 51 after a high of 68 Tuesday. La Crosse had extremes of 52 and 66.

Southern WISCONSIN enjoyed another day of warm-for-November weather today but wintry temperatures were beginning to take over in the north. Much colder weather was predicted for the entire state tonight.

Temperatures during the night ranged from 40 at Eau Claire to 52 at La Crosse, Beloit and Racine. Green Bay had 41, Wausau 43, Superior and Lone Rock 44, Park Falls 45, Madison 49, and Milwaukee 51. Readings were as much as 20 degrees above normal Tuesday, with the Beloit region hitting a high of 68. All others at official recording stations were in the 60s.

GREENVILLE, Maine, set the national low of 12 early today compared with the high of 90 at Gila Bend, Ariz., Tuesday.

A 74-degree reading in Bismarck, N.D., Tuesday equalled the highest temperature for November, set in 1931.

Another record was matched in Valentine, Neb., with an 82 and in Sheridan, Wyo., the mercury hit 77.

Records were equalled in Lincoln, Neb., with 78, 77 in North Platte, Neb., and 76 in Sioux City, Iowa.

The mercury climbed into the low 80s in central South Dakota and to the high 70s in southwestern North Dakota.

In the Northeast, the mercury failed to reach the freezing level in some areas.

Limestone, Maine, reported its high Tuesday was 26.

Ash Removal Door of Store's Incinerator

A picture printed in Tuesday's Daily News of the incinerator from which sparks came Sunday to start a fire that destroyed Randall's Super Valu at the Westgate Shopping Center did not show the incinerator door from which the sparks came.

The picture showed an ash door in the incinerator just five feet from the door to the store from the supermarket where the fire got its start.

The sparks flow out of a "feeder" door in the incinerator. This feeder door is positioned on the opposite side of the burner from the ash door. The feeder door is not at ground level as the ash door is.

HUSBAND DIED SEPT. 26

Rushford Widow Dies in Crash

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — A 44-year-old Rushford woman whose husband died Sept. 26 of a heart attack, leaving her with a family of three high school age children, became Houston County's third traffic fatality of the year Tuesday at 4:30 p.m.

Her car went out of control and turned turtle in a ditch off County Road 13.

MRS. HENRY HOILAND died of a broken neck, according to Dr. L. K. Omsgard, Houston, acting county coroner. She also had a broken jaw and severe lacerations of the right eye and on the right scalp.

The accident happened on Oak Ridge two miles east of Bratsburg, 10 miles west of Houston and nine miles south-east of Rushford.

Mrs. Hoiland was traveling west. No one knows where she was going. She had just come around a slight left curve, the sheriff's office said, down a steep dip in the highway, and crossed a culvert with guardrail posts on either side.

JOE McManimon Sr., whose farm is adjacent to the accident scene, said her car hit one of the posts on the right side and apparently threw it out of control. The car swerved in the crushed rock surfacing, veered left, crossed the roadside ditch and smashed into a vertical embankment.

After the impact the car went back and into the air. When it came to rest it was on its top in the ditch, facing generally south-east. Mrs. Hoiland, dressed in jeans, was still in the car but had been thrown to the rider's side of the front seat.

McManimon, who now lives in Rushford, was at the home farm now operated by his son, Edward McManimon, whose buildings are less than a city block from the accident scene. He heard two thuds, he said, but thought little of it until he heard an automobile horn sounding.

HE INVESTIGATED, saw the car and the victim, and called Edward and his other son, Joe McManimon Jr., who were in a corn field about one-fourth mile away. Joe Jr. lives two miles east of the home farm but was there helping with the corn harvest.

Marvin Lokken, who lives seven miles east of the scene, was driving west and arrived at the car about the same time as the McManimons. Other neighbors began to gather.

The sheriff's office received the call from the McManimon farm at 4:40 p.m. Deputy L. W. King investigated. The McManimons also called the Rushford ambulance.

Dr. Omsgard pronounced her dead at the scene. The front of the car was smashed in but other damage was minor. It was out of control about 100 feet.

THE FORMER Marjorie Vivian Himlie, she was born July 17, 1921, at Peterson to Lars and Mina Himlie. She spent all her life in this area except for several years in St. Paul.

She was married to Henry Hoiland March 21, 1946, at Springfield, Mo., where he was serving in the U.S. Army. After the war they settled on a farm one mile east of Rushford, where her husband died and where she and her family were living.

Survivors are: Two sons, Jeffrey, 18, a graduate last spring of Rushford High School, and Joseph, 14, freshman; one daughter, Jennifer, 16, junior in high school; her father, south Rushford; eight brothers, Orrin, Lawrence and Earl, St. Paul; George, Roger, Wallace and Minar, Rushford; and Vincent, Sheldon, Wash., and two sisters, Mrs. John (Martha) Twedt, St. Paul, and Mrs. Orvis (Lillian) Bergeson, Minneapolis.

Funeral services will be Friday at 2 p.m. at Rushford Lutheran Church, the Rev. Owen Gaasdelan officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery. Friends may call at the church from noon Friday. Jensen Funeral Home is in charge.

TWO OTHER Minnesota traffic deaths were recorded. Mrs. Johanna Boogard, 71, Osakis, died in an Alexandria hospital Monday of injuries suffered in a collision near Alexandria Oct. 24.

Laurie Sustacek, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sustacek, Hutchinson, died Saturday when she fell from a car driven by an aunt.

Use of Cartway Disputed in Houston Court

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Arguments in a civil case over cartway rights began in District Court here Monday afternoon before Judge Arnold Hatfield and concluded Tuesday as the judge took the case under advisement.

Plaintiffs William Miller Sr. and others are suing Cyril Mighall for the right to undisturbed use of a cartway on Mississippi River bottom land south of La Crescent, east of the junction of Highways 26 and 16.

ACCORDING to testimony Mighall now owns land that formerly belonged to the late Louis Miller, brother of William Miller. The two brothers and a third, Aloys Miller, had used a cartway since just before the turn of the century. It was routed on what then was a property line. The one-time line now is in the middle of a tract owned by Mighall, who has diked the land and proposes to plant crops thereon.

The land is low and marshy. Mighall has proposed a substitute route to give plaintiffs access to their adjacent lands. After opening arguments, charges against two co-defendants, Ralph Timm and B. L. Erwin, La Crosse contractors, were dismissed. They had built dikes for Mighall around the tract.

Seven witnesses testified for plaintiffs as to origins of the cartway and to its continued use by owners and others for more than 60 years. Plaintiffs contend that they have an established right to keep using the original cartway which Mighall feels will interfere with cultivation of his newly improved tract.

FOUR WITNESSES, including Mighall, testified for the defendant Tuesday.

William Von Arx, Caledonia, represented the plaintiff. Counsel for the defendant was Milton A. Kludt, La Crescent, assisted by Ernest Hanson, La Crosse.

$400 Damage To Two Cars

There was $200 damage to each car involved in a two-car collision at Mankato Avenue and East Broadway Tuesday at 3:40 p.m., and two service station advertisement signs were bowled over according to police. James L. Kobus, 18, Glen Mary, was driving north on Mankato Avenue; and Mrs. Vincent F. Kukowski, 1068 E. Broadway, was driving east on Broadway.

After initial impact, the rears of the two vehicles struck each other as they both traveled from near the center of the intersection to the northeast corner. The Kukowski car leaped the curb and damaged two advertising standards at a gasoline station on the northeast corner.

Damage was to the left side of the Kobus car and to the right front and side of the Kukowski vehicle. No estimate was made of damage to the two signs owned by Jack's Standard Service, 272 Mankato Ave. Patrolman George M. Liebsch investigated.

Organizations Set Fuller Observance Of Veterans Day

Preliminary plans for a fuller observance of Veterans Day Nov. 11 were discussed at a meeting at the American Legion Memorial Club Tuesday evening.

Representatives of the city's two veterans organizations — Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion; U.S. Army Reserve; the Winona National Guard unit, and news media were present.

THE USUAL observance of Veterans Day will be held at 3rd and Center streets at 11 o'clock in the morning. Firing of three volleys by the firing squad and the sounding of "Taps" will constitute the ceremony.

Massed colors from the marching units; a combined firing squad of the veterans organizations and Marine Corps veterans; personnel from the U.S. Army Reserve and National Guard units in Winona, and members of the VFW and American Legion, will comprise the marching unit.

Commanders Ronald V. Hammond of the American Legion and Milton Knutson of the VFW said in a joint statement, "We want to make this year's observance of Veterans Day bigger and more meaningful than ever before."

The two commanders are making a special appeal to Winona employers to allow their armed forces veterans time off to participate in the observance by marching with their respective veterans organization or attending the downtown ceremony.

THE COMMANDERS asked that members of their organizations join the marching unit even though they did not appear in uniform.

The traditional Veterans Day noon feeds will be served at the VFW and American Legion halls. A ham luncheon at the VFW and sauerkraut, wieners and beans at the American Legion.

A ceremony at the Winona Senior High School auditorium will be held at 9:30 a.m. for students and visitors.

Fredriksen said he already has traveled more than a quarter million miles contacting prospective state and county leaders.

He said the reception for the clubs in support of Sen. Kennedy has been "strong and spontaneous."

Announcement of the organization was made when a national coin collectors journal published an advertisement about the club's matched set of "Kennedy Coins." One coin shows the likeness of John F. Kennedy and on the reverse side the quotation, "Ask not what your country can do for you — ask what you can do for your country." The second coin features a likeness of Sen. Kennedy with wording on the reverse side, "Destined to become president."

Said Fredriksen, "Our planning for the Robert F. Kennedy for President Clubs and issuance of these coins was started and a timetable established in July 1964. Organization work is well under way for appointment of a state chairman and chairwoman in each of the 50 states and similar county club leaders in all of the 4,370 U.S. counties."

"Destined to Become President," a copyrighted phrase, is also the title of a book being written by Fredriksen.

Testing and interviewing of prospective census enumerators will continue through today and Thursday according to representatives of the St. Paul regional office of the Bureau of Census.

The tests are used to select the 39 individuals who will conduct a special city census which hopefully will begin Friday. Conducting the tests are Sigurd

Community Role In Mental Health Center Outlined

Roles various segments of the community can play in the development of a successful mental health program were cited by Miller Friesen, program director for the Hiawatha Valley Mental Health Center, at a meeting of the Winona County Mental Health Association Tuesday night at Community Memorial Hospital.

About 60 attended the meeting at which Friesen reviewed the history of the mental health program in this area and commented on the part the association can perform in its future development.

HE EMPHASIZED that the purpose of the mental health center is to develop simple, direct methods of serving people and its goal is the strengthening of community resources for mental health.

The center is not confined to its paid staff, Friesen stated, but is dependent in large measure on key people who can help or hinder its success. Such key people, he said, included teachers, clergymen and doctors.

He cautioned against any over-optimistic approach which envisions a quick solution to the problems of mental health, observing that such problems will probably continue to be with the community for years to come.

The community should be aware, he said, of the services afforded by the center and how to use them and to be alert to ways of strengthening financial resources for the center's work.

URGING ATTITUDES that look beyond the needs of today, Friesen told association members that they should serve as the eyes and ears of the center in the community.

The Rev. Phil Williams, association president, presided at the meeting.

30 Homes Lose Telephone Service For Five Hours

Telephone service for an estimated 30 homes in an eight-block area was interrupted for five hours Tuesday evening when a cable was cut at 1212 W. Wabasha St.

Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. said the interruption occurred at 5 p.m. The cut was made as Northern States Power Co. workmen were installing a residential gas main connection.

Service was restored at 10 p.m., according to Robert C. Olson, Northwestern Bell manager. The cable is a feeder line which serves homes near the College of Saint Teresa.

Census Enumerators Interviewed

Dahlen and John Rundle, of the St. Paul office.

Applications are being taken in the third-floor council chamber of City Hall. Dahlen said tests may be taken this evening, if applicants wish. Up to noon today 36 persons had been interviewed. More applicants are needed, Dahlen said.

The local census force will consist of three crew leaders, one clerk and 35 enumerators. Armed with forms and identification badges, enumerators will make a house-to-house canvass of the entire city. Dahlen and Rundle will supervise the entire operation.

Callbacks will be made by telephone, where possible, and forms will be published in the Daily News so persons who are missed by enumerators can be recorded.

The census is conducted by the bureau at the city's request. If tabulations show an increase of 5 percent or more from the 1960 level, the city will be entitled to higher apportionments of state liquor and cigarette tax receipts.

There will be an intensification of the general army and field training program, physical conditioning and specialized training programs. It's also expected that there will be an influx of some new equipment for company use.

CAPT. LUECK said that it is hoped that employers and families of personnel involved will assist in the transition to be made to the more intensive training program.

"We realize that this is going to work some hardships on the men themselves and others who are involved. The hardship, it should be remembered, is substantially less than would be the case if the company were to be called up for a year or two of active duty, something we hope will not be necessary."

Big Profit In Cleaned Up Coffee Beans

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — To clean up the coffee market, you first clean up.

In Brazil, coffee beans destined for domestic sale are colored red, to differentiate them from coffee for export.

The Brazilian Coffee Institute sells roasters a 132-pound sack of colored beans for $1.10.

Smart operators have been cleaning the beans, repackaging them with a mixture of other grades, and selling bags on the export market for $22.

The institute says this racket, diverting coffee from the national market onto the export market, has been reaping fabulous profits. The world price is supported by agreements under the International Coffee Organization.

There have been shortages of coffee lately in Brazil, the world's leading producer, and the institute explained that the contraband operation is at least partly responsible. It has been limiting internal deliveries to try to beat the bean cleaners. It added that one smuggler has been caught red-handed.

Billy Tells Why He Has Reformed

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The "reformed" Billy Daniels, who seldom drinks, never gets in fights and doesn't look at girls, is currently seen at the Copacabana in what the people who remember Billy from the old days would consider a novelty act.

"The reason I reformed," Billy says, "is that if I kept going on these buns, it would hurt me. I'm 51 and I can't take it like I used to. Anyway, I wasn't as wild as they said I was. When you're a celebrity and just go out to have coffee, it becomes an orgy. I wish I'd made some of those scenes they said I did."

Billy, slimmed down, clear-eyed, reconciled with his wife Pierette and exemplary in all respects, had a great opening at the Copacabana where Joe E. Lewis, ringsiding, evidently hadn't reformed. "Thank you for coming," Joe E. seemed to be under the impression that he had opened there. He had, too, two months ago.

Bibi Osterwald, Ginger Rogers' standby, who finally did "Hello, Dolly!" when Ginger got laryngitis and wouldn't treat it, being a Christian Scientist, found that only $7.70 was refunded at the box office when she went on. "I'm going to write David Merrick a check for that amount so he won't lose any money," Bibi said.

CAIRO (AP) — A second attempted coup in Iraq in two months has been crushed and 30 army officers arrested, reliable Iraqi sources here say.

The informants said the rebellious officers tried to seize key posts in Baghdad last Friday but were overpowered by forces loyal to President Abdel Salam Aref.

The sources said there was no serious fighting or casualties.

IBM Worker Gets $29,200

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — An employee here of International Business Machines is richer by $29,200 today because he had an idea for what IBM regarded as a unique system to control cutting tools and passed it on as a suggestion to the company.

IBM said the award to John W. Justice, 28, a senior tool designer was the largest it ever made here under its suggestion program for employees and was the largest such award made anywhere by IBM thus far this year.

Justice, married and the father of two children, joined IBM here in 1956 as an apprentice toolmaker. He is a graduate of Mankato High School and attended Mankato State College.

Plans for Closing Ecumenical Council Planned by Church

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Plans for closing the Vatican Ecumenical Council with dual public ceremonies Dec. 7 and 8 are now under serious consideration, sources said Tuesday.

The ceremony of Dec. 7 would be a public session in St. Peter's Basilica. The sources said Pope

Paul VI and the 2,300 prelates would promulgate the last council documents as decrees—possibly those on missionary activity, on the priesthood and on modern world problems.

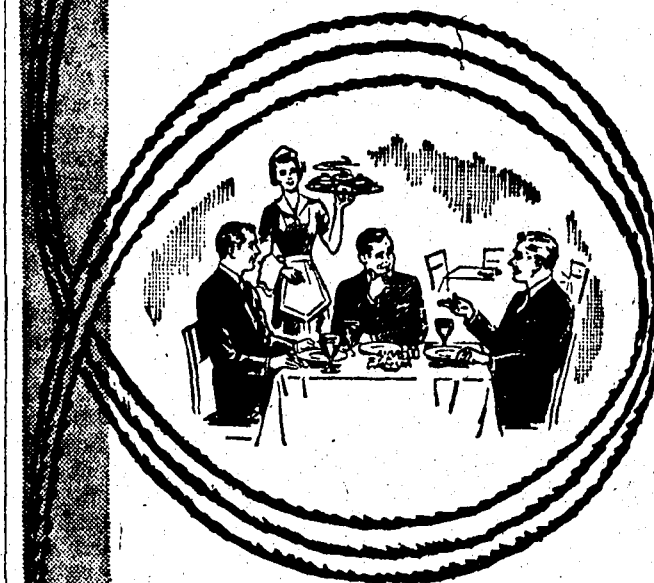

The Dec. 8 ceremony in the basilica would be for the formal closing of the 3-year-old assembly, with some chiefs of state to be invited, the informants added.

So far no final date for ending the council has been announced officially but experts, including many bishops, have said the council would end in early December.

The council is in recess this week. It next meets Nov. 9.

Robert Hillman New Mayor of Spring Grove

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special) — Spring Grove will have a new mayor Jan. 1 as a result of the election Tuesday.

Robert Hillman, who was filed for the office by petition, received 226 of the 343 votes cast to be elected. Hillman has a turkey farm and an interest in the local hatchery where turkey chicks are hatched.

Burnell Osgard, who hadn't filed for re-election as mayor, received 113 sticker votes. Osgard is publisher of the Spring Grove weekly newspaper.

Ralph Kijome was re-elected trustee with 225 votes to defeat Peter Madsen, who received 112. Both had filed.

No one filed for treasurer, but Knute Gulbranson was re-elected with 153 write-in votes.

No one filed for constable. However, 54 write-ins were cast for Carolyn Doely, incumbent.

Woman Named New Justice At Caledonia

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — Caledonia has a new justice of the peace as a result of the election Tuesday.

Mrs. Alvin (Grace) Grob received 239 votes to defeat Alfred Meyer, who polled 94. Both had filed to fill a vacancy.

Of the 367 votes cast in the two precincts, one section of the village voting in the city hall and the other in the auditorium, Mayor Joe Lee was re-elected with 323 votes.

Fred Melrodt was re-elected trustee with 225 votes. Dennis Miller received 113 write-ins against him.

I. C. Gengler was re-elected treasurer with 328 votes. All candidates had filed except Miller.

Two Write-in Candidates Lose At Rollingstone

ROLLINGSTONE, Minn. (Special) — Despite lively write-in campaigns conducted at Rollingstone Tuesday, all incumbents were re-elected to office with comfortable margins.

Herbert Speltz, a farmer who lives in the village, was re-elected mayor with 85 votes. Gerald Speltz Jr. received 65 write-in votes for the office.

Treasurer Raymond Arnoldy polled 90 votes to be returned to office, defeating write-in candidate Lambert Bronk who polled 52.

Receiving the largest publicity for re-election was Trustee Reinhardt Kohner. He polled 104 votes to defeat Virgil Sauve, a filed candidate, who received 47.

The incumbent constable and justice of the peace didn't file but were re-elected over write-in opposition.

LeRoy Wise received 65 votes for constable and Mrs. Helen Speltz, 13. For justice of the peace Joseph Ries was returned with 68 votes, to 6 write-ins for Reuben Clinkscales.

Three Re-elected At Minneiska

MINNEISKA, Minn. — All incumbents were re-elected to Minneiska village office Tuesday.

Lester Brueske, retired garage mechanic and service station operator, polled 21 votes for mayor. Marvin Schultz received 2 votes. Neither had filed. A total of 25 votes was cast.

Treasurer, Ed Heaser, was the only candidate who had filed; he received 23 votes. Norman Stephens, incumbent trustee, was returned with 20 write-ins. Neither treasurer nor trustee had opposing write-ins.

Justices of the peace and constables are elected each year but the persons don't always accept the jobs. For justice, Lester Stephens received 3 votes and Leo Daniel, 2. Lester Stephens received 3 for constable, matched by Alvin Konkel, written in for constable by 3 voters.

Harmony Ends Constable Office

HARMONY, Minn. — The office of constable has been abolished by village council ordinance at Harmony, therefore there will be no more elections for this office.

2 Tie for Mayor Of Minnesota City

MINNESOTA CITY, Minn. — The Minnesota City village council will have to settle the mayoralship by lot when it meets tonight in regular session and to canvass the ballots.

Seventy-one votes were cast for mayor Tuesday. Glenn Altemann, steam plant superintendent for Northern States Power Co., Winona, who hadn't filed for re-election as mayor, received 35 write-ins, and so did John Reinke Jr., who was announced Monday as a write-in candidate.

Officials Pay Doubled by Mabel Voters

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — A referendum asking to double the pay of mayor and trustees passed in the election at Mabel Tuesday, and all incumbents were re-elected, including a trustee who hadn't filed. A total of 129 votes was cast.

The referendum passed 91-35. It raises the mayor's annual salary from $180 to $360 and the trustee salaries from $120 to $240, effective Jan. 1. The present salaries are fixed by state law. Raises from the state minimum must be passed by local referendum. The council now meets twice monthly, on the second and fourth Tuesday, instead of once a month as previously, thereby doubling the work.

Filed candidates received the following votes for re-election: Donald W. Johnson, Mayor, 121; and Palmer Peacock, justice of the peace, and Edwin Peterson, constable, 114 each.

No one filed to succeed Arland Peterson, trustee. Peterson received 90 write-in votes for re-election. Other write-ins were scattered.

Dakota Voters Support Mayor

DAKOTA, Minn. (Special) — Filed candidates were re-elected without opposition except for scattered write-ins here Tuesday.

Of 58 votes cast, Mayor LeRoy Witt received 51 votes. Ray Iverson, Ralph Grant and Howard Bearwald were written in for mayor on three ballots.

Roy Swett polled 45 for re-election as trustee. Three votes each were received by Clifford Beach, Glen Linander and David Romine, and one each by Marvin Gile and Arlyn Albrecht for trustee.

James Knutz was re-elected constable with 52 votes. Daryl Witt and Ben Vanderzee received one each.

There was no candidate for justice of the peace, but votes were cast by write-in. Incumbent Mrs. Otto Dobrunz, whose term doesn't expire until next year, received 10 votes. Three each were cast for Wesley Grant, now a holdover trustee, and James Hesselgrave. Howard Bearwald received two write-ins, and there were six other names with one vote each.

The Dakota school Parent-Teacher organization took advantage of the election and held a bake sale. Voting was at school.

Three Renamed At Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE, Minn. — Three incumbent Brownsville village officers who hadn't filed for office were re-elected Tuesday.

In addition, a new justice of the peace and new constable were named by write-ins.

Mayor Giles Quillin, an automobile salesman, received 53 of the 62 votes cast. Five votes were written in for Robert Blair.

Apparently there was some confusion among voters as to who the incumbent trustee and incumbent treasurer were.

Richard Becker was re-elected trustee with 31 votes. Among the write-ins, Donald Blasen, the treasurer, received the most—5. Blasen as incumbent treasurer received 47 write-ins. Among others Richard Becker, trustee, received the largest number of write-ins for the treasurer's job: 8.

Father and son were confused in the write-in votes for justice of the peace. Joseph J. Serres polled 3 write-ins for justice, but many wrote in the name of his son, Ronald, current justice whose term doesn't expire until next year.

Largest vote-getter among the write-ins for constable was Ronald Rohrer, with 5. However, many wrote in the name of Oren Scott, present constable, whose term doesn't expire. The village has two constables and two justices of the peace elected in alternate years. All do not accept the office.

Zander New Mayor of Lewiston

LEWISTON, Minn. (Special) — Vernon Zander, who has been a councilman, will be the new mayor here after defeating incumbent Eldon Gremelsbach in Tuesday's village election.

Mrs. Roy Schultz, incumbent treasurer, was re-elected with 269 votes. She was unopposed.

Incumbent justice of the peace Oscar Steurnagel, who was serving by appointment, was re-elected with 262 votes. Ed Tews received 5 write-ins.

993 Cast Votes At La Crescent

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — An intense write-in campaign for village officers resulted in a heavy turnout of 993 voters Tuesday.

Elected mayor was Robert Young, a Trane Co. engineer, who polled 662 votes. Opposing Young, who had filed, were two write-in candidates, Paul Lehrke, who had 106, and Michael Riley, with 212. Former mayor William Mishler retired after two terms in office.

Martin Miller, incumbent trustee who had filed, won another three-year term on the council with 715 votes. His opponent, Laurel DeJarlais, a write-in choice, got 215.

The other incumbent trustee, Hugh Fay, who filed for re-election, won a two-year term with 725 votes from Richard Gasper who had 213 write-in votes.

Wayne Lottes, incumbent justice of the peace who had filed

In a three-cornered race for two posts on the council, incumbents were re-elected. They were Hans Dietrich and Dean Swedbergh, both of whose names were on the ballot. Dietrich had 101 votes, Swedbergh had 71 and a write-in candidate, William Fischer, had 42.

Election officials ruled that Dietrich had won the three-year term and Swedbergh the two-year term, on the basis of the vote.

Mrs. Florence Brobst, incumbent treasurer who filed for another term, received 112 votes. Dewey Turner, incumbent justice of the peace, was re-elected with 21 write-in votes. Edwin Thiede won another term as constable with 11 write-in votes.

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special) — Incumbent Glenn Hasse was re-elected mayor here Tuesday; he polled 109 votes.

James Mulligan, incumbent trustee, received 114 votes for a two-year term and Walter Kulawske, incumbent treasurer, received 115 votes. All were unopposed.

Franz Peters, justice of the peace who hadn't filed, received 25 write-in votes. There were 12 other write-ins for the post. A total of 116 votes were cast during the election.

Hasse is manager of Plainview Milk Products.

Eitzen Incumbents Returned to Office

EITZEN, Minn. (Special) — All incumbents were re-elected with write-in votes at Eitzen Tuesday. No one had filed.

Of 29 votes cast, Mayor, Herbert Fruechte polled 27; Trustee Hamlin Weber, 28; Treasurer, F. H. Fruechte 8; Justice Garnett Delers, 28, and Constable Leroy Meiners 12. There were scattered votes.

Farm Income in N.W. Rises Moderately

FARM INCOME, both gross and net, in four states of the Ninth Federal Reserve District over a 10-year period rose modestly and at a fairly constant pace, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis reports in its monthly economic review.

Viewed in terms of realized gross income, the rise during the period 1955-64 was at an annual average rate of about 2.9 percent, a rate of increase well above the 1 percent gain recorded during the last year of record, 1963-64. The gross income figure included receipts from farm marketings, direct government payments, and noncash farm income.

In a review of farm income trends over a 10-year period, the bank said that income from farm marketings contributed about 2 percent per year to the rise, the remainder being picked up by a significant increase in direct payments to farmers under various government programs. Starting at $21.2 million in 1955, government payments grew to a record total of $344 million in 1964.

VIEWED IN TERMS of net farm income the modest rise in the district reflected consistently increasing farm production expenses. A 1964 production expenses total of $2.6 billion was 33 percent higher than in 1955 as compared to the 29 percent increase in realized gross farm income.

For the district, the 1964 net income figure of $1.1 billion was 21 percent higher than that of 1955.

Some of the slow growth of district agriculture was offset insofar as the average individual farmer was concerned by the spread of totals among fewer recipients. Estimated district farm unit numbers declined 15 percent between 1955 and 1964. Thus, for all district states per-farm gross income in 1964 amounted to $13,380, up 52 percent from the 1955 average.

IN NET TERMS, however, the decline in farm numbers registered less favorably. Average net income on district farms amounted to $3,995 in 1964, only 41 percent higher than in 1955. In Montana the 1964 net of $4,483 was 3 percent over that of 1955; North Dakota, $5,790, 102 percent; South Dakota, $4,308, 53 percent, and Minnesota, $3,326, 28 percent.

Detailed Plans For U.S. 61 Revealed

(Wabasha Herald)

A DETAILED FILL-IN on plans for Highway 61 was given to a group of men at a meeting in Red Wing recently. Don Larson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, represented Wabasha at the meeting. Dean Wenger, planning chief of the Highway Department, discussed the plans.

Wenger discussed two plans of action for the highway between Wabasha and Lake City. The first step would be to fix up the trouble curves and knock off the concrete lips on this road. It would take about $600,000 to widen it to 24 feet (like between Wabasha and Kellogg) and straighten some of the curves, particularly the one at Maple Springs. Then with this highway in use for a period of up to 10 years, the department would try to reach a decision as to whether to build a four-lane along the lake by adding another below the present highway and between it and the railroad or to change it entirely and go up on top of the hill.

The hilltop road, with a 24-foot roadway with 10-foot paved shoulder and a 70 m.p.h. design speed, is estimated to cost $4,125,000 plus right of way.

A FOUR-LANE divided highway having a 70 m.p.h. design speed on the lower level abutting the lake is estimated at $5,950,000, plus right of way.

Right there is the joker in their plans: "Plus right of way." The highway department already owns most of the land where the road is presently located. Their right of way costs would be negligible. But if the road were laid out across Pepin Hill, taking out a strip 400 feet wide or more across some of the best farm land in Wabasha County, it would bring the cost way up in addition to badly cutting up some of the farms. The cost of right of way would bring the estimate up near the river route.

We're against the upper route. We believe that the road should stay down at the foot of the hill, along the lake. Even if it costs more.

THIS IS ONE of the great scenic drives in the nation. Why spoil it? The road along Lake Pepin is breath-taking. People come from miles just to drive it. It's been recognized as the Great River Road, the Hiawatha Pioneer Trail, the Mississippi Parkway and its esthetic value certainly ought to have some consideration besides just dollars and cents. Other states recognize the scenic value of a road and we've seen a lot of Northern Minnesota roads that curve around lakes and hills. We've got to insist that our road stays on the lower level.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

What About the Public Interest?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — "Politics comes first, the public interest second." President Johnson didn't forget this slogan when the announcement was made in his behalf that he "strongly and enthusiastically" supported Abraham D. Beame, the Democratic candidate, in this week's election for mayor of New York City.

The people of the metropolis, however, after having witnessed in recent years one of the most flagrant examples of "boss rule" by any political party, should be permitted to have their own mayor chosen without dictation from the national administration in Washington.

Mr. Johnson's declaration, issued through his press secretary, disavowed, of course, any intent to "dictate to others how to vote," but went on nevertheless to warn the people of New York City by implication that they couldn't expect special favors in the disbursement of federal funds unless they elect the Democratic nominee for mayor. The President broadcast a pledge that, if Mr. Beame became the winner, the "people of New York would have the utmost cooperation and attention on the challenges they face as residents of the nation's largest city."

BUT COULDN'T this be construed to mean that, if the Republican nominee, John Lindsay, were elected, the people of New York would be given scant attention and much less than the "utmost cooperation" to which they are entitled? Presumably their tax money, as well as the funds contributed by other citizens throughout the country, is supposed to be used on a fair and equitable basis in the public interest.

The apologists for the President's action are saying that he couldn't have done otherwise than to endorse the Democratic nominee for mayor. If he had not done so, it is contended, he would have created a rift between himself and the biggest political organization in a state with the largest electoral vote in the country — something apparently essential to the president, who wants to be re-elected in 1968. It is argued also that candidates for mayor or in other large cities dominated by Democratic bosses and by closely controlled organizations might have been alienated.

A PRESIDENT, therefore, may find hereafter that for selfish reasons the techniques of political chicanery will become more and more important inasmuch as the "one man, one vote" reapportionment decision of the Supreme Court of the United States now gives the big-city machines unprecedented powers in affecting the outcome of elections on the city, county and state level, as well as in national contests. This will be a factor of increasing influence in the future because citizens no longer need to be able to read and write English or any other language as a qualification for voting.

'CLEAN? THEY'RE NOT EVEN TATTLE-TALE GRAY!'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Warring Factions Keep Dominicans Separated

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A dramatic reconciliation took place in the Dominican Republic the other day.

Gen. Despradel Brache, chief of police, lined up 40 well-uniformed police on one side of the public square in Santo Domingo. On the other side he lined up 40 bedraggled policemen dressed in rags.

One group represented the government police, the other the rebels. But under the terms of peace and surrender there was to be reconciliation.

"Attention!" commanded Gen. Despradel. "When I call 'At ease,' you are to break ranks, come over here and embrace. You are then to be one police force again."

He gave the command "At ease," the two groups of police broke ranks, embraced, patted one another on the back.

"Attention," commanded Gen. Despradel, "go and get new uniforms. You are now one police force."

IN TRAGIC contrast, fiery officers of the Dominican army have been doing just the opposite. And this is the chief reason for unrest and the left-wing demonstrations against the United States. It's become more and more apparent that U.S. officials will have to make up their minds as to whether they are going to support Hector Garcia Godoy, the civilian president they put in office, or a military dictatorship which is maneuvering to oust him.

According to neutral diplomats, it is this high-handed attitude of the Dominican military, more than Communism, that is churning up the Dominican Republic today. Here is what has been happening:

1. Provincial governor Mao was dragged out of his car, shot and killed by the Dominican army and his body thrown over a cliff — the same technique used in the bloody days of Dictator Trujillo.

2. Minister of Public Works Sturla was dragged out of his office at the point of a machine gun by right-wing civilians searching for alleged Communists. Next day they surrounded the public works building and kept civilian employees out. The army supported them.

3. LAST WEEK four young officers handed a letter to inter-American negotiators containing an ultimatum that they would fight to "the last drop of blood" rather than serve under former rebel officers. It was specified under the peace agreement that the two armies would be reconciled and the officers serve together.

4. Last week Radio San Isidro, reportedly from an air force base, came on the air with a public charge that the "government was infiltrated with Communists" and called upon the people to rise up against the government.

Significantly, when the rebels operated radio Santo Domingo, the United States immediately bombed it, then captured it. When the Dominican air force operated radio San Isidro against the government, however, the United States did nothing.

This gave the Dominican people the impression that the United States secretly favors the army, is not supporting the civilian government in which it created.

In the case of the San Isidro radio station, President Garcia Godoy demanded that Defense Minister Francisco Rivera Caminera shut it up. The minister of defense replied, "The radio station isn't on an air force base."

"OK," replied Godoy, "find it and shut it up anyway."

THE MINISTER of defense seemed to have no trouble acting once he put his mind on it. A few minutes later the radio station was silent.

Gen. Rivera Caminera has not always been this cooperative. Last week the Pentagon received an intelligence report that the general was regrouping his forces around Santo Domingo as if planning a military takeover.

Rivera Caminera was in command all during the recent military rule; and it was under him that political prisoners were taken out at night, shot, and then dumped into the river.

It's become increasingly obvious, therefore, that the United States will have to "persuade" the right-wing generals to step down in the same way it persuaded Gen. Wessin Y Wessin, the right-wing junta leader, to go to Miami.

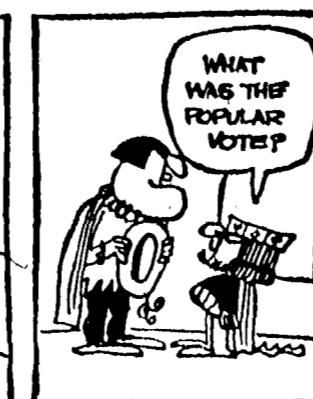

Col. Francisco Camino, the left-wing rebel leader, has complied with the terms of reconciliation by taking his 1,300 troops into voluntary isolation at nearby military camps. They are waiting to be merged into the regular army in the same way both loyal and rebel police were merged.

BUT BEFORE this happens, the American military attaché will have to "persuade" Gen. De Los Sanchez of the air force, Gen. Rivera Caminera, plus two or three other recalcitrant generals to take a special course at the U.S. Army War College far from the Caribbean.

So I said to myself 'I don't care if I am busy, I'm going to take the time to call Martha!'

Neighborhood Youth Corps Program Evaluated

To the Editor:

On Oct. 1, you published a letter from a Wisconsin resident. This individual, for his own reasons saw fit to express dissatisfaction with the recent Neighborhood Youth Corps, major disaster program, which terminated recently in Buffalo, Trempealeau and Pepin counties.

A fine article was written by Ruth Rogers of the Winona Daily News staff commenting on the Neighborhood Youth Corps project as it was in operation on June 13. The program in Wisconsin has now been completed and we are in a position to evaluate the record.

I do not desire to try to understand the motivation of this letter or comment on it. But there are some striking inaccuracies which in all respect to the youth of your area that participated, must be clarified.

Lance Lamphere, was totally in error when he assumed that the Neighborhood Youth Corps program for major disaster was in any way restricted or limited to the "poverty stricken."

This program was born out of the recent spring floods and established for one purpose only, that is, to "assist the citizens of the community in flood, reclamation and recovery." Any youngster between the ages of 16 and 22 who desired to work was eligible. Also, any individual over 21 who was fit, was eligible to apply for crew supervisor positions. The crew supervisors were required to be on a general ratio of one for every ten youngsters.

In regard to the 29 administrators who drew high salaries, Mr. Lamphere is again in error. For the three counties, Buffalo, Trempealeau and Pepin, we had one director and two high school girls who handled payrolls and related administrative work for over 300 youth. The salaries of these individuals and related administrative expenses amounted to approximately .0364 percent of the gross payroll.

Charles Zepp, director for this three-county project, at sacrifice to his own time and efforts, kept administrative staff at a minimum to assure that the majority of funds would go to the youth. I know of no other program that can boast such a ratio as this.

The efforts to keep administrative costs at a minimum by Mr. Zepp and other area and county directors is a key factor in permitting the project to return to the federal government approximately $700,000 of the original grant.

Mr. Lamphere states a large percentage of the money, if not all of it, should have gone to help the real need of the counties. I do not know how he defines the "real need," but the "real need" were given preference for employment under the program. County welfare and relief departments were contacted by Mr. Zepp and informed that individuals receiving aid were eligible and needed. If these individuals responded they were employed. Accordingly the so called "real need" were covered.

In conclusion I would like to state that all projects in these communities were requested by the local governmental officials, acting in the interest of their citizens. I feel very pleased to state that the citizens and the youth of Buffalo, Trempealeau and Pepin counties were fortunate to have such a conscientious man as Mr. Zepp directing this program. It was through Mr. Zepp's interest in youth and hard work, along with the support of his crew supervisors and local officials that made this program a success. Thank you for allowing me to answer.

Infection Of Bone Explained

By J. G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about osteomyelitis? I know a young man who had it, but was operated, and the bone was scraped. He has not had trouble since, except some pain when he gets tired. My questions are:

Is it a communicable or hereditary disease?

Is it crippling or incurable?

Will it affect his life span or earning power? — MRS. L. M.

Osteomyelitis is an infection of the bone, due to a variety of germs. It is not communicable; not hereditary.

It is not crippling. Before we had antibiotics, the disease quite often became chronic, and would flare up frequently. Today, however, the combination of antibiotics and good surgery results in most cases being cured. We cannot say that a case never can become chronic, but with proper attention it doesn't happen often.

The answer to the third question is that it will not affect this young man's life span or his earning power.

Dear Dr. Molner: About seven years ago I had a severe attack of diverticulitis. Since then I have had attacks off and on, although I watch my diet.

The doctor advised me never to take laxatives or enemas. However, several acquaintances who have the same trouble tell me they have periodic colon flushes and are never bothered by attacks. What is your opinion? — MRS. E. R.

Diverticulitis is an inflamed case of the "loos" condition.

Your friends, I strongly suspect, didn't have as severe an attack as you did, and they would have gotten along just as well without their colon flushes. Such treatment is not necessary, and can do more harm than good. If your bowel regularly isn't as good as it should be, more bulk in the diet, ample liquid (meaning an extra glass of water now and then), and just a little attention to developing regular habits will help you, without irritating the "diverticuli" problem. An occasional mild laxative, if needed, is all right. But by all means, don't assume that enemas (or colon flushes) will assure you of no further trouble. Your doctor knew what he was talking about.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a girl of 18 years. The moles I have had all my life are growing a little bigger every day. One on my side is causing me concern because it has changed from brown to black, partially. Is this a danger sign? Let me add that I am a coward when it comes to having a mole removed. — N. C.

If these moles really are growing, and if one is changing color, that can be serious, and you should consult your doctor.

Your mention of the changing color may be significant. If the mole is irritated by your bra or girdle — more reason for urgent removal.

Don't be a coward about having a mole removed. You've been vaccinated repeatedly, I'm sure. Well, for removal of a mole, you will need a prick of a needle no more bothersome than a vaccination, and that's all you'll feel. As for after effects, there may be a slight soreness, but I've known of vaccinations that were sorer than the aftermath of a mole removal.

'Ah, Wilderness', O'Neill Comedy, At College of St. Teresa Nov. 11

The fond boyhood recollections of one of America's greatest writers are chronicled in the College of Saint Teresa's next presentation. This is four-time Pulitzer Prize winner Eugene O'Neill's comedy, "Ah, Wilderness!" which details the author's humorous memories of a teen-age love affair. The play will run for five performances, from Nov. 11 to Nov. 15 in the College Theater.

"AH WILDERNESS:" is the only comedy in the list of O'Neill's numerous grim plays, and it was one of his greatest successes when it was first produced in 1933, with the beloved George M. Cohan scoring the biggest hit of his long career in the role of the kindly, affectionate father of the adolescent hero. Steven Andersen, 471 Wayne Street, Nat Miller, will have this role at the Teresian Theater, that of a genial editor of a newspaper in a leafy, sunlit small town in Connecticut. The action of the play takes place on the fourth of July in 1906. The story is a tender comedy of family life that takes advantage of the costumes and idioms of a small town and tells a tale of rebellious adolescence and tremulous young love.

Thomas Smith, St. Mary's College freshman from Chicago, Richard Miller, will portray the earnest fledgling who, infatuated with Swinburne, Omar Khayyam and other "advanced," poets and dramatists, gets into trouble by quoting some of their lush phrases in love letters to a neighbor's daughter.

ROY ACHTER, 225 1/2 E. 3rd St., Sid, will be seen as a tippling uncle; Joan Petzka, Forest Lake, Minn., Teresian sophomore, will be cast as Lily, his spinster aunt; Jacqueline Szopinski, Oak Park, Ill., a junior will carry the role of Mrs. Smith (Essie), his anxious, fussy mother.

Others in the cast will be Mary Lethert, St. Paul freshman as Mildred, his sister; Leo Smith, Winona, as Arthur and Paul Schollmeier, 1166 W. 4th St., as Tommy, his brothers and Carrie Benoit, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., a sophomore, the neighbor girl and Richard Kauphusman, 1002 W. 3rd, St. as David McComber, the indignant father.

ALSO IN the cast are Michelann Flynn, Fargo, N.D., a freshman as Nora; Frances Bowler, Framingham, Mass., a junior, as Belle; Robert Larka, faculty, as bartender; Charles Sieracki, Winona, as salesman; and Ronald Kleinschmidt, as Wint, a college boy.

Richard J. Welland of the College drama department is directing this "comedy of recollection," which Brooks Atkinson described in the New York Times, on the occasion of its being revived in New York in 1953 as "an enchanting play." Eileen Whalen is designing the colorful, old-fashioned costumes.

Tickets are available in the drama box office. All seats are reserved.

Worthington Man Accused of Loan Fraud

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A Worthington, Minn. real estate man has been named in a federal grand jury indictment charging five counts of filing false sale prices on property to obtain higher loan values.

Named in the indictment is Ralph Brunner, 48, of Worthington Realty Co. Brunner has not been taken into custody and no arraignment date has been set.

Patrick Foley, assistant U.S. district attorney, said today one count of the indictment alleges Brunner on Nov. 28, 1961, represented to the Federal Housing Administration that a home was being sold for $13,500 when it actually sold for $12,500.

Foley said the four remaining counts involve figures supplied to the Veterans Administration on four separate pieces of property. They include accusations, Foley said, that on Dec. 6, 1960, the purchase price on a parcel of property was raised from $10,500 to $11,000; Feb. 27, 1961, $8,800 to $10,500; May 10, 1961, from $13,750 to $14,800 and April 30, 1964, from $10,000 to $11,500.

The indictments followed an investigation conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Worthington and the surrounding area.

Penalty upon conviction in the FHA case would call for confinement up to two years or a $5,000 fine or both. Penalties upon conviction in the Veterans Administration cases would call for confinement up to five years or $10,000 fine or both on each count.

U.S. Undecided On Sale of Aluminum Stocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government apparently hasn't decided whether to sell its surplus stockpiled aluminum. Such action was indicated Monday following a meeting involving three Cabinet members. The session was arranged on orders from President Johnson.

The Johnson interest came after three companies — Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Reynolds Metals Co. and Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. — had announced proposed price increases.

Officials said the President has authority to release $250 million in aluminum ingots from the stockpile, and an additional $450 million worth could be sold after approval by Congress.

Joseph S. Califano Jr., a presidential assistant, said discussions at Monday's White House meeting centered around "various programs for achieving the disposal of aluminum ingot from the national stockpile in the years immediately ahead."

Califano declined to discuss the price situation, and said the high-level talks revolved primarily around aluminum imports and the U.S. balance of payments deficit.

The sale of government surplus aluminum would be expected to depress domestic prices and diminish demands for foreign aluminum.

Library Gets Cole Porter Collection

NEW YORK (AP) — A collection of gold and jeweled cigarette cases that once belonged to composer Cole Porter has been given to the New York Public Library's theater collection.

The 52 cases will be kept at the Lincoln Center Library Museum of the Performing Arts. They were donated by his estate in accordance with his wishes. Porter died in 1964.

Indian Voters May Lose Rights

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Apache County Atty. Richard Greer says he will refuse to register prospective Indian voters who can't speak English despite a ruling that language tests used in the county violate the new federal Voting Rights Act.

"We'll invite the federal registrars in and let them live in the (Indian) hogans," he said Friday. "We're not going to assume responsibility for registering them."

There are 39,000 persons in Apache County. Only 4,500 of them are registered voters. Navajos, who live on federal reservations, outnumber whites more than three to one in the county, the only one in Arizona in which the U.S. Justice Department presumes possible discrimination under the new law.

Greer says most members of the tribe are illiterate and can't speak English.

Nasser May Turn to U.S. For Supplies

CAIRO (AP) — Facing a food shortage, U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser seems to have found nowhere to turn but to the United States.

Both the Soviet Union and Red China are themselves importing wheat. West Germany and Britain might help, but Egypt no longer has diplomatic relations with Bonn and has antagonized Britain by supporting rebels in South Arabia. Some French wheat apparently is available but only on commercial terms.

Nasser has liberally criticized the United States in the past, but U.S. officials here say that Egypt recently has been trying to improve relations. These officials are urging Washington to act favorably on an approach for help.

The Egyptian approach did not request any specific amount of aid but made known total requirements and sought to learn the prospects for some kind of assistance. It was more a feeler than an outright request. The final decision will be up to President Johnson.

Americans in Egypt have been encouraged by Nasser's decision to halt direct aid to the Congolese rebels. Restrictions on U.S. firms operating in Egypt also have been eased and the new Cabinet appears to be trying energetically to put Egypt's economic house in order.

Last month Nasser contributed 1,000 volumes from his personal library to a new John F. Kennedy Memorial Library housed in quarters donated by the government for a nominal dollar-a-year rental.

The old Kennedy library was destroyed last November by rioting African students protesting the U.S. role in the rescue of refugees from the Congolese rebels.

Hotel Burns at Twin Lakes, Wis.

TWIN LAKES, Wis. — Fire destroyed the vacant Ackerman Hotel, a century-old resort in this community near the Wisconsin-Illinois border, Tuesday night, but no one was injured.

Police Chief James Schneider said that the blaze, of undetermined origin, started about 8:30 p.m. and was brought under control two hours later by fire departments from six communities.

Firm Ordered To Reinstate Fired Worker

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ordered Melrose Processing Co., Melrose, Minn., to reinstate with back pay a worker it refused to rehire after a union organizing drive.

The decision upheld a National Labor Relations Board order which directed the firm to reimburse Celeste Thielen, New Munich, Minn., with interest for any wage loss she suffered after the company refused to give her a job in June 1963.

Miss Thielen headed a pro-union workers committee during a 1963 organizing drive by United Packinghouse Workers among turkey processing plant employees.

Under the decision the company must pay Miss Thielen $1,961 in back wages from June 16, 1963 to May 31, 1964, plus 6 per cent interest. Wages lost after June 1964 will have to be computed separately.

Wooden Nickels Worth Up to $5

MONROE, Wis. (AP) — Take all the wooden nickels you can get.

They are worth up to $5 each here. The market for hardwood cash has been booming ever since the U.S. Treasury Department decided that wooden nickels issued by a Monroe bank to ease a local coin shortage were illegal.

Private coin collectors pursue the wooden nickels even more eagerly than do Treasury agents. A bank official says the nickels are believed to be the only coins ever issued by a federally chartered bank.

Car Stolen Night He's Elected Constable

MOOSE LAKE, Minn. (AP) — Michael Erwin, 21, elected assistant village constable Tuesday, already has a case to work on. His white convertible was stolen Tuesday night.

Tuesday for the United States for treatment of a back ailment, a spokesman said.

Throckmorton, 52, will be treated at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D.C. He is not expected to return here but no replacement has yet been named.

erally chartered bank.

The Treasury Department recovered 450 a week after the First National Bank of Monroe issued the nickels in May 1964. That left 19,550 missing.

"We are still redeeming them for a nickel apiece but we have had none brought in," said John W. Macinnis, 37, assistant bank cashier.

A Monroe antique dealer recently sold 180 wooden nickels for $360. Macinnis said, "I know personally of many that have been sold for up to $5."

Dale Alexander, 30, operator of a bar, used the wooden nickels as an opening promotion last year and wound up with a rich cache because, he said, "some people wouldn't take them as change at first."

As soon as the coins were declared illegal tender, Alexander found the price at 50 cents, $1 and still climbing. Now he asks and gets $5 each for his dwindling supply.

Federal law prohibits a person from passing any object in lieu of a U.S. minted coin.

Macinnis estimated 5,000 nickels remain in the hands of residents of this southern Wisconsin city of 7,000 persons after purchases by outside collectors.

Terrorism Spreads to West Java

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Communist terrorism spread to west Java Tuesday as the army strove to put down Red violence in the central and eastern areas of the island, Antara news agency reported.

The agency reported the Communists were attacking the homes of non-Communist organization leaders in the west Java area of Tasikmalaja and had desecrated local mosques.

This was the first reported terror activity in west Java, where several Communist party branches earlier dissolved themselves.

Antara also reported a clash in east Java between 500 members of the youth wing of the party and security forces at Dukuh Karanganyar. The agency said one soldier and four rebels were killed and 16 Communist youths were captured.

The situation was still reported serious in central Java. The newspaper API said that at least 450 persons have been killed by terrorists in the Bojolar and Klanten areas of central Java. President Sukarno, in the face of mounting Communist acts of terrorism, belatedly sanctioned Monday martial law that was proclaimed by the army in greater Jakarta and central Java areas.

Police Chief Tells of Klan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another Georgia police chief is expected to be called today in the congressional probe of the Ku Klux Klan.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities got prompt answers Tuesday from Police Chief Leo Blackwell of Griffin, Ga., about the arrest of five heavily armed Klansmen for burning a cross.

Committee members remarked this was refreshing after days of monotonous refusals by Klan leaders to answer any questions, and praised Blackwell for his devotion to duty.

The committee got no cooperation from Wesley G. Bailey II, a Jonesboro, Ga., attorney identified as an official of the local Klan klavern who attended numerous Klan schools on judo, karate, and bomb-making.

Represented by the same lawyer who has accompanied previous Klan witnesses, Bailey as they did, declined to answer any questions. He read the same legal statement invoking the Fifth Amendment and other constitutional grounds.

Committee investigator Philip Mantel stated as a fact that Bailey was at a Klan meeting on June 29, 1964, at Lake City, Ga., on ways of preserving segregation and stopping integration.

7 Convicted In Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A Thai military court convicted seven men Tuesday of spying for France and sentenced them to prison terms ranging from 6 to 10 years.

Two of the men were French nationals who had been employed as a translator and an interpreter for the French Embassy. The other five were minor Thai government officials.

Two Boys Escape From Brainerd Jail

BRainerd, Minn. (AP) — Two boys, 14 and 16, are hunted by Crow Wing County authorities following their escape from the county jail here Saturday night.

Authorities said the boys loosened wire mesh over a window and squeezed through an eight-inch opening under a bar, sliding 20 feet to the ground on their bed sheets, knotted together.

DEAR ABBY:

Wants a Return Address on Notes

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Every year I receive several Christmas cards from friends of long-standing with little notes written on the bottom saying, "Why don't you ever write to us and let us know something about you?" This is frustrating to say the least because, much as I'd like to, I can't! These people have moved from their last addresses, have left no forwarding addresses, and nowhere on their envelopes are their NEW addresses so, consequently, the cards and letters I find them are returned to me.

ABBY

It takes only a moment to jot down one's address on the corner of the envelope. Please, Abby, won't you remind people to write their return addresses on their Christmas cards this year? JUST MARY

DEAR JUST: Yes — but why only on Christmas cards? If you could see the mountain of mail (not to mention packages) that are "all addressed up" and no place to go because of insufficient or careless addressing, and NO return address, you'd weep.

DEAR ABBY: Siegfried and I have been married for 16 years and all of a sudden he has become a problem. He gets fresh with me, even in the presence of our children. Siegfried is 44 and I am 36. I have never refused his advances at the proper time and place, but he is getting ridiculous! When he is home he doesn't leave me alone a minute. He is always following me around, whispering intimate suggestions in my ear, putting his arms around me, and so on. I am not a cold woman, Abby, but when Siegfried acts this way in front of other people, I get very nervous and upset. What could be wrong with him? He never carried on this way before. I have heard that men go through a "change" at a certain age just like women do. Could that be it?

SIEGFRIED'S FRAU

DEAR FRAU: There IS a possibility that there is something physically wrong with Siegfried, and he should have a thorough check-up by a competent physician. If your husband is found to be physically fit, and only his judgment is out of focus, lecture him privately, and practice your footwork in public.

DEAR ABBY: I read your column every day, but that letter signed "SNIFFY" hits an alltime high.

The very idea of that woman saying she can tell the minute she walks into a room if there are any dog owners present! I have owned dogs all my life, and they are as clean as I am! If anyone ever told me he could tell I was a dog owner by the way I smelled, that would be the end of our friendship.

I have worked for, with, and supervised people who have needed a deodorant far worse than any dog I've been near. In fact, I used to give a girl a ride to work, and had to drive with all the windows down in the middle of winter. I have never found it necessary to do this because I've had a DOG in the car. BURNED-UP IN ILLINOIS

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SISSIE" IN BOULDER: Yes, college girls are wearing their skirts shorter this winter. And if they get much shorter, the boys will be looking longer.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

School Urged To Drop Rioters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Max Rafferty, California's superintendent of public instruction, says young rioters should be removed from the University of California to make room for "thousands of students who would like to enter to get an education."

Rafferty told a meeting of the Los Angeles County Young Republicans Tuesday night that the ringleaders of riots the past year at Berkeley were "odd, hairy people, exuding a visible aura of unwashed disinhibition."

He said "the purpose of higher education is pursuit of truth, not to bring about a new social order."

Store Sales Down For September, Up 9% for Year

Department store sales in Winona were 12 percent lower in September than they were for September 1964, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

Total sales in Winona are 9 percent higher for the first nine months, however, than for the January - September period of 1964.

In Region II of the 9th Federal Reserve District — where Winona is situated — department store sales were 10 percent higher in September 1965 than for the same month a year ago. The nine-month cumulative total shows a 5 percent gain this year over last year's level.

Throughout the 9th District department and general store sales for September increased 10 percent from a year ago. Dollar sales for the first nine months of 1965 showed a 4 percent rise from the same period in 1964 for the entire district.

In Rochester, sales were up 17 percent for September 1965 over September 1964. The nine-month gain was 5 percent. La Crosse showed a September gain of 5 percent and a nine-month gain of 4 percent. In Mankato September sales were 11 percent above those of September 1964 but the nine-month total rose only one percent.

ELECTIONS

tioned his GOP mayoral nomination. He had the Liberal party's endorsement, too. His running mates — both beaten by men on the Beame slate — were a Liberal and a Democrat.

Beame got a campaign hand from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and a last-minute endorsement from President Johnson.

Lindsay served notice at the outset that he wanted no help from national Republican figures — including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Beaten Republican nominees in Virginia and New Jersey got endorsements — and an active campaign hand — from national party leaders.

New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes, a Democrat, built the most massive gubernatorial landslide in state history, crushing Republican State Sen. Wayne Dumont by more than 352,000 votes.

In Virginia, Lt. Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr. easily won election as the state's 21st consecutive Democratic governor. He topped Republican A. Linwood Holton Jr. A third party Conservative, William J. Story Jr. — who is a member of the John Birch Society — rolled up a healthy vote, too.

There was a Conservative in the New York picture, as well. William F. Buckley Jr., who called Lindsay a Republican masquerader, sliced heavily into the mayoral vote. There

St. Charles Graduate Milling Firm Officer

ST. CHARLES, Minn. — A former St. Charles man, Roger D. Harrison, is new vice president and technical director of Gilster Milling Co., Chester, Ill.

Gilster is the prepared mix division of Martha White Mills, Nashville, Tenn., a cake mix company, and also is the research center of the corporation and makes Southern Family flour.

Harrison, son of Mrs. Agnis I. Harrison, graduated from St. Charles High School in 1960. His recent application for patents covering an improved method of cake mix manufacture is believed by the company to be one of the significant improvements in cake mix processing.

was no ready answer to the question of which top contender he hurt most.

Republican spirits, high in New York, hit bottom in New Jersey.

"A hell of a victory," Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said of the Lindsay triumph.

New Jersey GOP Chairman Webster B. Todd said his party was like businessmen in depression days. "On its back, looking up."

"Republicans across the nation should be heartened," said Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss, "by the fact that in key cities such as New York, Philadelphia, Louisville, Akron and many others, we did make gains."

Bliss said that will provide "impetus to our efforts to strengthen the Republican position in metropolitan areas of the nation."

Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey looked to the gubernatorial victories, saying they were "a solid endorsement of President Johnson and the program of the Democratic party."

What about Republican gains in some cities in Connecticut, where Bailey also is Democratic chairman? "Purely local," he said.

There were Republican victories elsewhere, too. The GOP held its control of City Hall in Louisville, Ky. Republicans ousted Democratic mayors in Waterbury and New Britain, Conn. A Republican became mayor of Akron, Ohio, for the first time in a dozen years.

Former GOP Sen. Kenneth B. Keating won election to the New York State Court of Appeals in the only statewide contest there.

Republicans claimed they had won control of the New York State Senate. Democrats dominated both branches there after President Johnson's landslide a year ago.

But Hughes' flood of votes put the Democrats in charge of the New Jersey Legislature. Not since the days when Woodrow Wilson was governor, a half century ago, has New Jersey had a Democratic governor and legislature.

Democrats, already in charge, appeared to have gained slightly in a partial legislative election in Kentucky. They maintained overwhelming legislative control in Virginia.

A Republican Clarence Brown Jr. won the only congressional seat at stake — in an Ohio district which has gone Democratic only twice in this century. It had been represented for 27 years by Brown's father, who died Aug. 23.

In Philadelphia, Arlen Specter, a registered Democrat running on the Republican ticket, ousted Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish Jr. Specter broke a 12-year Democratic grip on that city's major offices.

But in Scranton, Allentown, Lancaster and Erie, Pa., Democrats wrested City Hall from Republicans.

President Johnson wired words of praise to Hughes, whose second-term margin eclipsed the record gubernatorial plurality of 230,000 votes, which dated back to 1931.

"The people of New Jersey have spoken and their good judgment means continued good government and progress for our state," Johnson said. "I am very proud of you."

Johnson voted himself, on one of the referendum ballots that were out on varying proposals in eight states. He and Mrs. Johnson cast their ballots in Johnson City Tex.

A key Texas question, proposed by Gov. John B. Connally, would have doubled the term of governors and other state officials. Connally has announced he will seek re-election next year. The proposal was defeated.

So was an Ohio measure to boost the state sales tax from three to four cents on the dollar.

When Lindsay moves into City Hall, he will be the first Republican to reign there since Fiorello La Guardia left office, 20 years ago. Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner did not seek re-election.

But Lindsay will go alone. His allies on a fusion ticket were defeated by members of the Beame slate. Queens Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor, rated a likely Democratic candidate for governor next year, was chosen City Council president.

He topped Lindsay ally Timothy W. Costello, the Liberal party chairman.

Mario Procaccino, Beame's choice to succeed him as city comptroller, defeated Milton Mollen, a Democrat who ran with Lindsay.

Beame, 59, was out to become New York's first Jewish mayor.

Lindsay and Beame juggled the lead throughout election night, but as the vote counting wore on, the GOP congressman pulled ahead. Finally, two hours after midnight, Beame conceded defeat.

Voice of the Outdoors

Happy Hunter

"A flock of seven honkers just about treetop high swung over my blind and I fired twice. One of them came tumbling down in the water. I had hit the tip of a wing. Another pellet was buried in the body. I was using No. 6 shot."

That is the way Clayton G. Fosburgh, 257 Market St., described the harvesting of the 11-pound goose he is holding in the above picture. He was hunting Monday afternoon in the Weaver bottomlands. Fosburgh, a regular among duck hunters, has found duck hunting fair. This, however, was the first goose he has killed in three years. His partner in an adjoining blind had two shots at the flock geese but failed to bag one.

The Wild Life Refuge report shows about 200 geese at present on the Whitman pool, mainly in the Weaver area. Some of these may be Rochester geese that come to the Big River to feed. There were seven swans there the other morning.

More mallards and scaup are beginning to drift into the area, rangers report. However, the "bluebird" weather has slowed the migration.

Bow Season Ends
Sunday was the last day of the early Minnesota bow hunting season for deer. It is open again during the firearms season under the zone setup, and there will be a late season opening Dec. 4 in all the state except the northern rifle zone.

Wisconsin's bow season continues through Nov. 16, the opening weekend of the firearms season, when it closes. The firearms season in that state opens Nov. 20. The late bow season in that state opens Dec. 4 and runs to the end of the year.

Winona bowhunters have enjoyed an exceptionally good early season. To date, according to a record kept by the Gilchrist Archer Shop, bowhunters have harvested 23 deer. Most were taken in the Black River Falls area, really discovered by Winona hunters this season. Jackson County, in which Black River Falls is located, is one of the top deer counties of Wisconsin, leading in the annual kill of deer.

Last week eight Winona bowhunters bagged their deer in the Black River area, three on Saturday and five on Sunday. These reporting deer included Gordon Polus, 352 E. Howard St.; Roy Vose, 712 E. Howard St.; Dick Carr, 817 1/2 W. Wabasha St.; Larry Miner, 263 W. 5th St.; Peter Jerowski, 473 Wilson St.; Clayton Burg, Austin, formerly of Winona, and Dick Niemeyer, rural Winona.

Fire Warning
Minnesota area foresters have requested a close check on outdoor fires. It is getting dry and leaves on the ground will burn in timber. Squirrel and raccoon hunters are urged to use extra caution.

Permits should be secured from township wardens for field burning, they stated.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Parents Can Help Students

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
University of S. Calif.

For most youngsters in the first grade, school is especially exciting. They are making new friends, seeing new things, taking part in new activities.

But the time these children reach the sixth grade the chances are that some of the fun has gone out of the school-work.

Many are no longer trying to learn. They are just trying to get by. Somewhere along the path, these children have tripped over some hurdle in the path of learning and are now running with a handicap.

Hazardous changes take place at about the third grade. The child is expected to switch from manuscript lettering to cursive writing. This requires effort and practice. Those who fail to make the change are less able to succeed in school than those who do switch. Cursive writing once learned takes less attention and is faster than manuscript lettering. Themes, class notes and examinations demand this speed.

HAD THEIR teachers or their parents insisted upon sufficient handwriting practice at the proper time, the transition would have been made completely. Although the change can be made later, the longer it is put off, the more difficult it will be and the more practice it will take. However, the improved grades which result even at the college level make it evident that the complete change should have been made back in the third grade.

The third-grader must also adjust to textbooks with smaller print, fewer pictures and more words to a page. Suddenly, many children have difficulty in reading. They no longer can get by just associating stories with pictures instead of actually reading the words.

BOTH TEACHERS and parents need to be especially alert during this period and spot reading difficulties as they appear. Someone with sufficient patience should immediately take time to see that such a child is given extra attention. This is the crucial time for action.

Proficiency in the three R's assumes greater importance at this time, since there is a change of emphasis from learning just for personal satisfaction to competition among individuals. Grades become important.

I have no objection to competition. It is a necessary part of our culture, but during this critical period when so many basic learning skills are developing, more encouragement should be given to the idea of children helping each other than to excelling in competition.

The third grade for many is a make-or-break period. It may take the combined efforts of parents, teachers and other pupils to help every child to clear the hurdles.

Cooking Lesson Number One

One of the first steps in interesting a son or daughter in cooking is to find an interesting subject for them to practice on. The making, baking, and eating of cookies appeals to every youth.

The cereal base cookies are easy for the small hands to prepare. It's also a good way to use up some of those extra boxes of cereal that find their way into our house not because what is in the box but because of what is on the box. The nutritive value of these cereals are not altered by the baking. Many dry cereals are enriched with B vitamins and minerals that make them valuable to the diets of these young cooks.

Cereal Marshmallow Cookies
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ pound marshmallows
¼ cups rice Krispies or cornflakes
2 square chocolate
¼ cup peanut butter

Melt butter, add marshmallows, chocolate, and peanut butter. Remove from heat. Add cereal and stir until well blended. Press into lightly buttered pan 12 x 9 inches. Cut into squares when cool.

Man Freed After Serving 7 Years For $19 Holdup

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Little more than a month ago, Jasper McGowan was No. 5815 at the Maryland Penitentiary, serving 15 years for the $19 holdup of a cleaning establishment.

Today, McGowan, 40, a singer, is a free man and vice president of Hope Enterprises, Inc.

"I walked out into something I don't understand. I've been trying to orient myself after seven years — seven whole years in the penitentiary.

"I came out and found I had no links between past and present. Everybody I knew is gone. The girls I knew are married, have kids.

"Places where I used to hang out are torn down. Landmarks are gone. Today I was walking in a neighborhood I knew well and I was lost," the slender Negro said as he stood beside a tape recorder in the apartment of Betty Feldman, the realtor who was instrumental in getting his release. She also is president of Hope Enterprises, a small, independent record firm recently established.

McGowan's friendship with Mrs. Feldman began in 1942 when he sent her a hand-painted Christmas card after reading in a newspaper that she had been seriously injured in an automobile accident.

The card sparked a correspondence that grew to more than 1,000 letters and frequent visits.

McGowan was freed Sept. 21 after his attorney filed a habeas corpus proceeding citing a recent Supreme Court decision. Judge John E. Raine Jr. ordered a new trial, then released McGowan when the state attorney's office decided to drop further prosecution.

"When the judge cut me free, I was a little stunned," McGowan recalled. "He did it so casually I didn't realize I was free."

A school dropout in the seventh grade, McGowan completed his high school education while in the penitentiary, became interested in woodworking and, at the time of his release, was foreman of the prison's woodworking shop.

He also was lead tenor of the Wayward Sons, a prison singing group.

"I could function as a single," McGowan said of his singing career, "and I could do it well. But I'd like to work with the Sons."

The Sons, however, are still in prison.

Russell Navarro Quarles, McGowan's former cellmate and lyricist on 450 songs to which McGowan wrote the music, has served seven years of a 20-year sentence for armed robbery.

John (Jelly) Madison has served 13 years of a 20-year sentence for robbery, assault and attempted murder, and Archie (Artie) Shaw has served seven years of a 20-year sentence for burglary and larceny.

The songs they wrote include ballads, populars, rhythm and blues, spirituals and some rock 'n roll numbers — all considered very acceptable commercially, says Mrs. Feldman. She is on the board of directors of the Robert Lindner Foundation, which makes awards in art, literature, and music to creative prison inmates.

The first disc to be published under the Hope label will feature vocals by the Wayward Sons, including McGowan.

McGowan still visits the prison so he can practice with the group, which already has cut one record professionally. He's also trying to secure their release on parole.

Passerby Saves Youngsters In Flaming Float

PLATTEVILLE, Wis. (AP) — A Platteville youngster trapped by flames in a gaily decorated parade float probably owes his life to the prompt action of a passerby, police said.

The youth, Scott Travis, son of former State Senator and Mrs. Robert Travis, suffered second degree burns Saturday afternoon. He was listed in satisfactory condition Sunday night at University Hospital in Madison.

Police credited another Platteville resident, Tom Faherty with the rescue.

The parade float had been used in the Platteville State University homecoming parade earlier. Faherty was passing it when he saw smoke and flames and heard cries coming from the float. He chased several children away, ripped off the top of the float and pulled out young Travis.

The youngster's clothing was aflame. Faherty rolled him on the ground to put out the fire.

Police said witnesses told them a firecracker may have been tossed into the float, igniting gasoline near the engine.

School System Has an Oil Well

IRVINE, Ky. (AP) — There are no classes at the Grammy Richardson School — but there is an oil well. Classes ended at the one-room school early in 1964. But the property has continued to pump money into the Estill County school system because of an oil well on the property.

Supt. Douglas Miller said the well, dug in the 1920s, provides more money than would be derived from selling the property.

Rushford Man Falls on Sickle

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special)

A 49-year-old rural Rushford man lost his left thumb and received cuts on two fingers on his left hand and on his left elbow Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. when he fell from a tractor onto the operating mower. He was cutting soybeans.

It was too early to tell this morning if the two badly cut fingers on the hand of Daniel Mensink could be saved, his wife said. Nine stitches were taken in his elbow. Mrs. Mensink said his condition was good at Community Memorial Hospital, Winona.

Just as Mensink reached for the lever on the mower, the right tractor wheel fell into a hole in the ground. Mensink was thrown onto the sickle bar to the right and rear of the tractor.

He was dragged on the sickle several hundred feet, his wife said. Finally he was able to pull himself free and jumped back onto the tractor, stopping it. His brother, Bernard, who works for him, was in the field but didn't know what had happened until Daniel called his attention. He took him to the doctor.

The Mensink farm is about six miles southeast of Rushford.

Chief Commends CD Volunteers

Police Chief James W. McCabe today commended the Civil Defense (CD) auxiliary police who did crowd and traffic control work at the scene of the Randall's supermarket fire Sunday.

A dozen of the "CD's" freed city policemen for their ordinary work in other parts of the city after it became clear that fighting the fire at Randall's would take many hours.

The CD auxiliaries were called on after City Council President Harold Briesath requested additional police help at the fire scene. Briesath asked for CD help at the request of Assistant Fire Chief Edward M. Lewicka.

Chief McCabe also noted that several patrolmen whose shift went off duty at 3 p.m. stayed on at the fire scene to help in keeping the curious from blocking movement of fire-fighting equipment.

CD Director George K. McGuire (also a police sergeant) helped coordinate efforts of the policemen and auxiliaries through the afternoon and into the night. Assistant Police Chief Marvin A. Meier also came on the scene Sunday night with a generator to light the area.

Chief McCabe said that both the auxiliaries and his own men deserved thanks for their work at the fire.

p.m., min. temp. 56 today at 8 a.m., 65 today at noon, clear sky, visibility 15 miles, west wind at 18 m.p.h., barometer 29.94 and rising, humidity 53 percent.

France Joins Russia in Viet Peace Proposal

MOSCOW (AP) — France and the Soviet Union called Tuesday for a Viet Nam peace settlement based on an end to outside interference in the internal affairs of the divided country.

The proposal—restating a position which both the French and the Soviet governments have taken previously—was made in a joint communique at the end of five days of talks between French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and top Soviet leaders.

The communique contained no joint peace formula, however, and made no specific mention of U.S. troops in Viet Nam.

It said the two governments expressed "growing concern" over the "new dangers" for peace stemming from the Viet Nam war.

It said the Viet Nam problem should be solved by strict application of the Geneva agreements of 1954.

The statement said the French-Soviet talks helped to build understanding between Eastern and Western Europe in a dialogue both sides said they hoped would continue.

The only specific agreement mentioned was a pact to be concluded later covering Soviet-French cooperation in space research. It is believed this will apply to joint work on a communications satellite system.

Fire Destroys Rushford Barn, Heifer and Hay

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special)

The 50- by 50-foot barn and contents on the Bertram Rasmussen farm 2 1/2 miles southeast of Rushford burned to the ground Tuesday afternoon.

What was left of the 1,218 bales of hay stored in the loft still were smoldering this morning.

Rasmussen doesn't know if the silage in the filled silo would be fit for use. The doors had been blown open, he said.

HALF THE roof of the granary, standing east of the barn and between the barn and the house, was burned off and the west wall was so damaged it crumbled to the touch.

A plastic pillow in the back seat of a 1961 car standing beside the granary melted. A worker with heavy gloves got the car door open to move the vehicle away from the blaze.

An Angus heifer weighing about 1,000 pounds, which was to be butchered Saturday, was lost in the blaze. The two cows that Rasmussen kept in the barn on the home farm were out in pasture and didn't get milked Tuesday night. He has seven cows on the ridge which he milks in another barn. Lost with the barn were Rasmussen's milking machine, all his milking tools, including some 10-gallon cans and a small milk cooler, plus a 1950 tractor.

MR. AND MRS. Rasmussen had gone to Rushford at 12:45 p.m. so there was no one at home. First to see the fire was Maurice Holger, a neighbor who was driving by on his way to Rushford. He said he first saw smoke. Suddenly the doors of the barn blew open and everything seemed to be on fire.

He tried stopping at several places en route to town but found the telephone lines busy. Not until he reached Humble Oil Co. in South Rushford could he place a call, which reached firemen at 1:10 p.m.

Ernest Garness and Norman Kinneberg, other neighbors, also noticed the fire early.

Mrs. Rasmussen had gone to the home of her husband's sister, Mrs. Edgar Johnson in Rushford. Someone called her there. She knew where her husband was on business so contacted him. When they reached home at 1:30, 45 minutes after they went to town, the barn was down.

Firemen stayed on the scene until 6:30 p.m. and were called back at midnight when flames flared again.

THE RASMUSSENS have had a streak of bad luck. In 1960 a 19-year-old son died from injuries received in a truck accident. On Aug. 19, 1962, Mr. Rasmussen received a fracture of one leg below the knee when he got caught in the power takeoff of a tractor. On July 6 this year, he fractured the same leg when the horse he was riding to get the cattle stepped in a hole and threw him.

Rasmussen said he carried some insurance on his property but had no immediate estimate of loss. Part of the barn, 20 by 50 feet, had been built two years ago. Cause of the fire hasn't been determined although the Rasmussens think it might have started from wiring.

TREVIGLIO, Italy (AP) — Army-experts removed a World War II aerial bomb Monday night from alongside a railroad bridge piling on the busy Milan-Venice line.

Ordinance experts said the 17-600-pound bomb was in perfect condition and could have been set off at any time by sudden heavy pressure. They disarmed it.

A fisherman spotted it because of unusually low water in the River Serio.

'Messiah' Chorus Rehearsals Set At 3 Colleges

Chorus rehearsals for the Dec. 12 performance of Handel's "Messiah" are under way this week at all three colleges in the city.

All singers in the community are invited to attend rehearsals and participate in the chorus, said sponsors. The Christmas oratorio will be presented by an ensemble of soloists, chorus and orchestra composed entirely of residents of the community.

Harold Cooke, formerly director of the Rochester Symphony, will conduct the performance.

According to sponsors, the auditorium still has not been picked. It is likely, however, that the performance will be either at Winona Senior High School or at Somsen Hall, Winona State College.

In charge of rehearsals are: R. H. McCluer, Winona State College; Paul Parthum, College of Saint Teresa; and Mrs. Gerald Sullivan, St. Mary's College. Rehearsal times are staggered so that persons who cannot attend some sessions may still participate by attending others.

Schedules for chorus rehearsals: Mondays and Wednesdays, 4:15 p.m., St. Cecilia Hall, College of Saint Teresa; Tuesdays, 6:30 p.m., lower lobby of the gymnasium, St. Mary's College; and Wednesdays, 6:30 p.m., Room 118, Somsen Hall, Winona State College.

Orchestra rehearsals times have not yet been announced.

Boy, 12, Fights For South Viet Nam at Plei Me

PLEI ME, South Viet Nam (AP) — He weighs 60 pounds and stands 4 feet 5. In the manner of his Montagnard tribesmen, two of his front teeth are permanently stained, one yellow, one green.

At 12 years old, he is one of the youngest regular soldiers in South Viet Nam's army.

Rmah Del joined the elite "Red Cap" platoon of tough mountain fighters at this camp seven months ago. He has been on jungle patrols and he has fought in several battles against the Viet Cong.

He killed his first enemy last week. Rmah Del is an excellent marksman and he brought his man down with the carbine that seldom leaves his hand.

When there is a lull in the fighting, Rmah Del files a kite. Or maybe he'll pause and puff a cigarette while he lounges in a bunker and stretches out in whatever shade he can find in the sweltering heat.

Once the Viet Cong mortar and machine-gun fire starts, Rmah Del is all soldier. He takes his turn on patrol, at guard duty and in the hard, bitter fighting against Viet Cong troops.

Like his father in the same heavy weapons platoon, Rmah Del is a private who earns 1,500 piastres a month — about $20.

In the flaming battle at Plei Me, the youngster fought shoulder to shoulder with the most rugged of the mountain fighters renowned for their boldness and skill in battle.

"I like being a soldier very much," Rmah Del said through an interpreter.

"But I don't want to be a sergeant or an officer. I want to be just a soldier."

Rmah Del was asked why he joined the army.

"The Viet Cong kept coming to my village," he said. "They killed many of my people for no reason at all. They also kept me from going to school and from working. I didn't like that. So I decided to become a soldier."

Rmah Del can use a machine gun and a Browning automatic rifle as expertly as he uses a carbine, his favorite weapon. The knife he carries is razor sharp.

During the battle of Plei Me he went days with only a few hours' sleep. Rmah Del, a member of the Jara subtribe of the Montagnards, was born in Plei Atang village. His mother and younger brother lived just outside the camp at Plei Me. Their fate is unknown.

'Messiah' Chorus Rehearsals Set At 3 Colleges

Chorus rehearsals for the Dec. 12 performance of Handel's "Messiah" are under way this week at all three colleges in the city.

All singers in the community are invited to attend rehearsals and participate in the chorus, said sponsors. The Christmas oratorio will be presented by an ensemble of soloists, chorus and orchestra composed entirely of residents of the community.

Harold Cooke, formerly director of the Rochester Symphony, will conduct the performance.

According to sponsors, the auditorium still has not been picked. It is likely, however, that the performance will be either at Winona Senior High School or at Somsen Hall, Winona State College.

In charge of rehearsals are: R. H. McCluer, Winona State College; Paul Parthum, College of Saint Teresa; and Mrs. Gerald Sullivan, St. Mary's College. Rehearsal times are staggered so that persons who cannot attend some sessions may still participate by attending others.

Schedules for chorus rehearsals: Mondays and Wednesdays, 4:15 p.m., St. Cecilia Hall, College of Saint Teresa; Tuesdays, 6:30 p.m., lower lobby of the gymnasium, St. Mary's College; and Wednesdays, 6:30 p.m., Room 118, Somsen Hall, Winona State College.

Orchestra rehearsals times have not yet been announced.

Suddenly Pack Has Woes

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Austin, as most of you know, lost a 6-0 football decision to mighty Rochester last Friday.

Losing to the Rockets by a margin as small as that is no cause for shame. And Packer Coach Art Hass, while not entirely pleased with the outcome, was not too disgruntled.

He was, however, pleased that Austin came out of the contest with nothing more serious than the assortment of expected bumps and bruises.

But that was before practice this week.

"This week has been rough on us," said Hass today. "Suddenly we just can't keep anyone healthy."

A junior guard-linebacker, Steve Krob, fractured an ankle. Dan Ruzek has been out with a lung infection and still another player has been taken from the squad by a family death.

"Since we came out of the Rochester game so well physically, we certainly didn't expect this to happen," said Hass.

Aside from the injuries and other irregular happenings, the veteran coach has been satisfied with the progress of his team. The Packers got off to a rocky start, losing and tying in their first league games, before coming on to stand 4-2-1 in the league and 4-3-1 overall.

In fact, from an offense that started with no returning starters, Hass was able to field a unit that last Thursday ranked second in loop scoring production with a 21.5 per game average.

"We just came along real well," said Hass. "That first game (at Red Wing) we only got six, and, of course, we didn't score at Rochester. But outside of that, things have gone pretty good."

So well have things gone for Austin that the Packers — with a victory over Winona — could do no less than a tie for second place. And, of course, nearly everyone had conceded Rochester the title before the season began. Nearly everyone, that is, but Hass.

"I really felt we had a chance," he said. "But we got off to the slow start. Then, against Rochester, we had one good drive going

HE LEARNED AND TODAY IS BACK OF WEEK

Finesse? Just Not Billy's Game

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Bill Brown discovered after the first two National Football League games this season that finesse made him an ordinary fullback or less.

Today the Minnesota Vikings' fullback found himself voted the NFL Offensive Player of the Week by The Associated Press. It was a big turnaround from early in the season, when Brown gained only 18 yards in 11 carries as the Vikings lost their first two games.

"I was finessing too much instead of running straight. I was picking holes. The hole isn't going to come to the outside. I know better," Brown explained. The 220-pound former University of Illinois player learned his lesson well.

Brown rammed the Cleveland defense for 138 yards in 26 carries in the Vikings' 27-17 victory Sunday.

"It was definitely my best game of the year," Brown said.

"But I played a couple of better ones last year — against the Chicago Bears and Baltimore Colts."

That boosted Brown's season rushing total to 390 yards on 81 carries, a 4.8 average.

Brown has also caught 23 passes for 333 yards this season. He grabbed five aeriels for 46 yards against the Browns.

His performance far overshadowed that of Cleveland's great fullback Jim Brown, who was checked with 39 yards on 18 carries.

Brown asserted himself early, carrying the ball on nine of 12 offensive as the Vikings drove 79 yards to erase an early 3-0 deficit.

But his best effort came on a third and 20 situation when quarterback Fran Tarkenton lateraled the ball to Brown as the scrambling Tarkenton was tackled. Brown ran through several tackles and rumbled 28 yards down the sidelines to the Cleveland 37. He later scored on a two-yard pass to give Minnesota a 21-10 edge.

Part of the reason for Brown's slow start this season may have been a slight shoulder separation he suffered in pre-season practice. But he refused to accept that as an alibi. "I just wasn't running right," he said.

The Vikings have won four of their last five games since Brown returned to running rig at the defense.

POINTER FROM BACK OF WEEK . . . Minnesota Vikings fullback Bill Brown gives his son Scott, 3½, a lesson in how to hang onto the football in the back yard of their Minneapolis home. Scott fumbled the ball after a playful tackle by his 220-pound father.

Brown was voted The Associated Press Back of the Week in the National Football League for his performance against Cleveland last Sunday. He gained 138 yards in the Vikings' 27-17 victory and scored two touchdowns. (AP Photofax)

GOPHERS CALL ON SEITZ

Rookie Fills Key Spot

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Coach Murray Warmath is calling on a player with no previous game experience this season to fill a vital spot in the Minnesota Gophers' defensive secondary Saturday against Northwestern.

The Gophers, hard-hit by injuries much of the season, received another blow Tuesday when it was discovered that sophomore Tom Skal had two broken fingers on his right hand. Warmath moved junior Rick Seitz into Skal's post. Skal led the secondary with three interceptions for 80 yards.

Reserve quarterback Curt Wilson is also expected to miss the Wildcat game because of a leg injury. Meanwhile, injuries have forced three Northwestern players to play both offense and defense against the Gophers.

The two-way players will be tackles Jim Burns and Ken Ramsey and end Cas Banaszek.

And Northwestern's second team tight end Mike Flora was lost for the season when he suffered a shoulder separation in practice this week.

Warmath again stressed ball control Tuesday as the Gopher offensive unit worked to polish its running game. The defense held its first long session against Northwestern plays.

Three Associated Press Sports Writers — Jerry Liska, Charles Chamberlain and Harold Claassen — have picked Minnesota to defeat the Wildcats by one touchdown or less.

Should Be Big Battle Of Defenses

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the 52 points they rang up in their first meeting, Green Bay and Detroit will bring two of the most sluggish offensive attacks in the National Football League into their second collision Sunday.

Again, despite these 52 points, they will be fielding two of the NFL's best defensive units as they clash at Green Bay.

The latest NFL team statistics today showed Green Bay, whose six victories in seven tries so far have been described in a range from miracle to mirage, listed as 10th in total offense. Detroit is 13th among the 14 teams.

But the Lions' defensive unit is fourth and Packers' fifth. Little of this accounts for the high - scoring duel in which Green Bay roared from behind in the second half to whip the Lions 31-21 Oct. 17 at Detroit.

Green Bay, now sharing first place in the Western Conference with Baltimore, yielded 1,947 yards to other teams while gaining 1,832. Detroit had managed only 1,720 yards while surrendering 1,931.

Wietelmann Is New Reds Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — William (Whitey) Wietelmann, former major league shortstop with the old Boston Braves and the Pittsburgh Pirates, was appointed today as a third coach for the Cincinnati Reds.

Ray Shore has been retained from the 1965 team and Mel Harder was named earlier this week as pitching coach.

Wietelmann, 46, and a native of Zanesville, Ohio, has been a coach with San Diego of the Pacific Coast League since 1960.

NO CHANGE JIM THORPE, Pa. (AP) — Citizens of Jim Thorpe voted Tuesday for the second time against a proposal to change the name of their community back to Maunch Chunk.

Bruhn Takes Badgers Behind Closed Doors

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin is holding its practice sessions behind closed doors this week in an effort to generate something worth hiding.

Purdue's coach, Jack Mollenkopf, used similar tactics Tuesday when he talked about virtually everything except the Boilermakers' next opponent.

Wisconsin and Purdue meet Saturday at Lafayette in a Big Ten game between teams that are smarting from two straight conference defeats.

Mollenkopf talked with Madison sportswriters and sportscasters over a long distance telephone connection and devoted most of his words to past opponents.

He had Illinois and Michigan State on his mind, two teams that torpedoes Purdue hopes for the Boilermakers' first undisputed Big Ten football title in modern times. But Bruhn's talk about Saturday's game was scarce.

"Sure we would like to win," he said. "But the game is important to both of us." To Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn the game means enough to prepare his charges in secret.

During Tuesday's workout Bruhn had working as a backfield unit:

Schumitsch, a sophomore, gained the starting position with an impressive effort against Michigan, including an 83-yard runback for one of the Badgers' two touchdowns in the 50-14 defeat.

It marked the first scoring kickoff return for a Wisconsin player since 1946 when Wally Dreyer scooted 92 yards in a game against Milwaukee. Dreyer now is head football coach at Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Wisconsin and Purdue will be meeting for the 45th time. Last season the teams played at Lafayette, too, and Purdue won 28-7. Wisconsin holds a 24-14 edge in the series that includes six ties.

HAGEN NAMED BACK OF WEEK SECOND TIME

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Phil Hagen, Eau Claire Memorial quarterback who passed and ran the Old Abe to a 33-7 victory over Chippewa Falls last Friday, was named Associated Press Wisconsin high school "Back of the Week" today.

Hagen, who ran for two touchdowns and passed for three more in the game for a share of the Big Rivers Conference crown, became the first player to win the award a second time.

The state's sports writers selected Hagen for the honor in the early part of the season after he passed and ran Memorial to a victory over La Crosse Central. "I wish you could have seen him play against Chippewa Falls," said Coach Jim Bollinger of Memorial. "He was just amazing."

Hagen, who finished the season with 1,748 yards in total offense, scored on runs of 1 and 21 yards and passed for touchdowns of 45, 9 and 67 yards. He completed 15 of 18 passes without having one intercepted besides picking up 37 yards in 11 carries.

LYNCH AVENGED

Face Turns Toward Wall

NEW YORK (AP) — When Dick Lynch had a bad day against Sonny Randle a few years back, Andy Robustelli bought a picture of Randle and posted it in Dick's kitchen as a reminder of Sonny's 16 catches.

If Sonny's picture still is hanging there, Lynch is entitled to turn the face to the wall this week. Lynch's job in holding Randle to three catches while blocking a field goal in New York's 14-10 upset of the Cardinals earned him recognition by The Associated Press as Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

"It was one of the greatest games I ever saw a defensive back play," said Randle the next morning. "After what happened with Walt Roberts, Dick was ready to play football. He had me all the way."

Lynch's play was particularly rewarding because the former Notre Dame halfback had been beaten twice on TD passes to Roberts in the Cleveland game a week earlier. Allie Sherman had benched Dick in the second half of the game with the Browns.

"I had to get rid of that image," said Lynch. "I worked real hard all week, looking at the films of our game with Cleveland. It was a tough week and now that I have had the good game I want to keep on going. You learn in this business, you are only as good as your last game."

Lynch blocked a field goal attempt by Jim Bakken in the fourth period, giving the Giants control at a vital stage. The Giants then scored with Tucker Fredericksen lugging it over from the four after a 40 yard run.

In the final minutes, Lynch batted down a long pass from Charley Johnson to Randle.

Statistics No Guide to Title

NEW YORK (AP) — San Francisco is the total offense leader in the National Football League at the midseason mark and St. Louis leads in total defense.

For some strange reason, the league standings do not reflect these statistics. Cleveland leads the Eastern Conference but rates sixth in total offense and ninth in defense. Baltimore and Green Bay are tied at the top of the Western Conference but the Packers are No. 10 in offense and No. 5 in defense. The Colts are No. 5 in offense and No. 3 in defense.

A compilation by the NFL shows the average total scoring in a game has increased to 46.1 points this year compared to 43 per game at this stage last year.

Figures for ball control plays that include rushes, pass attempts and plays on which the passer was thrown, show St. Louis controlled the ball most on offense with 484 plays to 451 by Minnesota, the No. 2 team.

It isn't often a lineman steals the ball out of the hands of an opponent and breaks loose for a 55-yard run. Bo Batchelder, Illinois end, did it last Saturday in helping the Fighting Illini upset Purdue. The feat earned him the Lineman of the Week award today by The Associated Press.

Batchelder, a 213-pound junior, led the rush on Purdue's quarterback Bob Griese that led to the Illini 21-0 victory. And Batchelder's steal of the ball from Griese set up the last touchdown in the final period.

MILWAUKEE — Students signed a petition asking Marquette University to revive football at the rate of more than 250 names an hour Tuesday.

Sponsors of the petition movement said they hoped to have signatures from more than half of the student body of 11,000 by Friday evening when a rally is planned in the university's stadium.

MINOT, N.D. — Kay Vandiver was returning from a bowling tournament at Anadarko, Okla., on Nov. 26, 1959.

The car in which she was riding was involved in an accident. The mishap resulted in the amputation of her right arm — the arm which only a few hours earlier had bowled a 300 game.

Last weekend Miss Vandiver, now a left-handed bowler, won the handicap qualifying title in the North Dakota Queens Tournament at Jamestown. Her handicap total for eight games was 1,665.

NEW YORK — Two of the nation's top passers will face each other Saturday as Wisconsin invades Purdue.

Purdue's Bob Griese is third in passing in the latest major college football statistics while Wisconsin's Chuck Burt is eighth.

Randolph Tops Poll in Wisconsin, Alma Wins Seventh Place

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "We were kind of waiting and watching," said Coach John L. Kuenn today after learning that his Randolph High School football team had been named No. 1 in Wisconsin in the final Associated Press "Little Ten" poll of the season.

Randolph, which finished its season Oct. 23, had to wait it out while second-ranked Lorima played its finale Saturday, whipping Rosendale 34-13.

Lorima made it close, losing by two points in the final poll, 112-110.

Randolph shot to the top of the poll for the state's smaller schools two weeks ago after Greenwood, which had led from the start, was upset by Thorp.

"Defense was probably our strongest point," said Kuenn, a cousin of Harvey

Kuenn, veteran major league baseball player. "We also had a good quarterback and two fine ends."

The quarterback was senior Ken Machell, a 5-foot-7, 130-pounder described by Kuenn as "a dandy." Machell passed for 988 yards, throwing to Marv Siegert, who had 40 receptions, to Greg Schreiber, and to Bill Kelp, a halfback voted most valuable player on the Blue Rockets.

The coach also singled out Greg Kelson, an all-Dual County Conference selection at tackle; center Bill Jung, whose brother, Louis, is a regular end at Wisconsin, and safety Vern Gove.

It was Gove who made what the coach considered the big play of the season.

Randolph and Rio were both unbeaten and on the fringe of the top 10 when they met Oct. 8. With the score tied 13-13, Gove picked off a Rio pass and returned it 30 yards for a touchdown that won the game and boosted Randolph into the elite.

All 10 teams ranked in the smaller schools' poll have completed their season, including three newcomers who took advantage of closing week upsets or near upsets to join the elite.

The newcomers were Alma (9-0), Milton Union (8-0) and Royal (8-0). The casualties were Holcombe (7-1), Chilton (6-1-1) and Wilmet (8-0).

Alma beat Wabasha, Minn., (19-0) and won seventh place, Milton Union dropped previously unbeaten Waukegan 14-0 for eighth spot, and Royal shocked Hillsboro 27-6 for 10th. Holcombe, previously sixth, was ambushed 39-0 by Greenwood, the team that led the "Little Ten" for most of the season before bowing to Thorp.

In the "Big Ten," fifth-ranked Green Bay East is the only obstacle between Oshkosh and the title. The teams, both with 8-0 records, clash Friday night at Green Bay.

Anderson Busiest QB Grid Scene Has Seen

NEW YORK (AP) — If Tulsa's Bill Anderson showed up for practice this week with his throwing arm in a sling, nobody would be greatly surprised.

The former defensive halfback, who stepped into the shoes of record-setting Jerry Rhone, threw 63 passes against Southern Illinois last week and established himself as the busiest quarterback of all time.

The exhibition increased the number of passes the Hurricane sharpshooter has thrown to 348, the most anybody has ever tossed during a season, and he has three games remaining.

The old record for most passes thrown in a season was held by George Mira, of Miami, Fla., 335.

The latest statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show that Anderson leads the country in almost every passing category.

He has had 255 completions, 20 touchdown passes, 148 points scored through the air and 2,396 passing yards. Although he has lost 84 yards rushing, usually in being trapped while trying to get off a pass, he also is the total offense leader with 2,312 yards.

Anderson completed 42 passes, a record, for 477 yards and five touchdowns in the 55-12 victory over Illinois.

The 6-foot-2 quarterback from Ferris, Tex., needs only 20 completions to beat the major college record of 224 for a season, set last year by Rhone.

Anderson's passing has sent Tulsa to the top of both the total team and passing offense categories among major teams.

His only passing rival is Billy Stevens of Texas Western, who has completed 119 of 258 for 2,000 yards. Purdue's Bob Griese is third with 117 of 194 for 1,415.

Mike Garrett of Southern California, although idle last week, held the individual rushing lead with 895 yards, followed by Roy Shivers of Utah State, 821, and Jim Grabowski of Illinois, 780.

Clarence Bell Smashes 655 to Pace Bowlers

Clarence Bell Tuesday night smashed a 655 series to pace city bowlers.

Competing for Emil's Menswear in the Winona Athletic Club Classic

League, Bell built his total around a 242 game but surrendered other honors to Warren Weigel (258-606) and his Hot Fish Shop team (1-056-2,903).

Vic Pellowski and Ken Poblowski smashed 234s.

TOPS FOR THE women was Betty Schoonover in the Ladies City League at Hal-Rod. She dumped 553 for Golden Frog while Eleanor Hansen was clouting 223-520 for Mankato Bar, Linahan's Inn 835 and Foot's 2-638.

Irlene Trimmer triggered 547, Hope Dennis 208-542, Larry Donahue 541, Yvonne Carpenter 534, Lillian Thurely 525, Cornelia Podjaski 514, Lois Schacht 214-513 and Helen Nelson 510. Pat Ellinghuysen twice converted the 6-7-10.

In the Hal-Rod Four-City League Gene Regan's 200-195-

224-619 paced Williams Glass House to 2,826. Mike Cyert dumped 233 for Bell's and Mike's Fine Foods 990.

RICH HOUSE smashed 234-618 for Boland Manufacturing in the Westgate American League. Kramer & Toye picked up 180 and Earl's Tree Service 2,842. Tom Riska of Country Kitchen laced 530 errorless.

HAL - ROD LANES: Lucky Ladies — Dorothy Braun breezed 210-507 as Clark & Clark totaled 2,463. Hamm's tapped 840 and Alfreida Fuglie 503.

Twil-Lite — Kay Zahradnik punched 203-343 two-game set for Diana Shop No. 2, Fountain Citizens tripped 514-1,020.

WESTGATE: National — Bill Klinger's 223-580 led Klingers to 2,715. Cozy Corner poked 1-014.

Hiawatha — Joel Hatleli's 558 paced Norm's Electric to 2,830. Jack Laak of KAGE slammed 218 and Tri-County Electric 987.

Wenonah — Flintstones pitched 853-2,403 behind 162 from Pearl Peplinski. Marion Miller tapped 162 for Gay Forties and Vivian Albert 453 for Studio Girl.

Working Girls — Rosanna Kubiczek tripped 423 for Miss Fits and Marilyn Toppe 175 for Go-Go Girls. KJT scored 590-1,675.

Breedlove Eyes 600 M.P.H. Mark After Record Run

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Craig Breedlove drove his jet-powered car 566 miles per hour today and set a world land speed record of 555.127 m.p.h.

The record is the average of two runs, back and forth, over a measured mile. In his first run the speed was 544.382 m.p.h. and on the return he was timed at 566.394 m.p.h.

The old record set by Art Arfons of Akron, Ohio, was 536.71 m.p.h.

Arfons probably will try to regain the record next week. He has been waiting to see what Breedlove does.

Both men have jet-powered cars. Their speed record falls into the recently-recognized unlimited class. The record for a piston engine car is 403.1 m.p.h. set by Donald Campbell of England.

Breedlove's car veered off the course earlier this month when he got it up towards the 600 m.p.h. mark and the front end came off the ground. He is expected to try for the 600 mile later this week.

For this run special wings were put on the front end to keep it down.

Breedlove, a 28-year-old former hot rodder from the Los Angeles area, was clocked by the U.S. Auto Club.

Market Fairly Steady Despite Dip in Motors

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite weakness in General Motors the stock market held on a fairly even keel early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Wall Street showed no apparent reaction to the election results. The economic news continued good, highlighted by record auto sales in October, a September gain in factory orders and the rise in steel production after eight weeks of decline.

Although losses of GM and some other key stocks pulled down the industrial average to a slight loss, the over-all market held its ground.

Oils, rails and utilities were a little higher. Aluminums showed plus signs despite the scare in the industry about a possible sale of surplus aluminum stocks from the U.S. strategic stockpile.

American Telephone was a fractional loser in continued reaction to the government plan to investigate its rates.

Profit taking continued in some of the fast-stepping glamour issues. Fairchild Camera pared an early 5-point loss to 3. Zenith and Boeing were off about 1 1/2 each. Polaroid was a fractional loser despite a boosted dividend.

International Nickel advanced more than a point, United Aircraft more than 2, IBM nearly 2, Pan American World Airways about a point.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange in active trading. Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

White Hunter Keeps Busy in Kenya, Africa

By JOSEPH MACSWEEN
Canadian Press Writer

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — "Put out the leopard bait. Come back in evening. Leopard in tree. George took a shot after about 10 minutes. Leopard fell off tree heavily, ran into bush grunting."

"Went out at 5:30 a.m. to spot where George shot at leopard. Found no blood. Inspected all bushes where he must be hiding. Had a medical box in the Land Rover and thought that if I have to be done up by a leopard at all, I hope it's now with two doctors along. Disappointed at not finding leopard."

That's an excerpt from the personal record of one of Nairobi's white hunters. His name, appropriately, is Chris Lyon. He combines a lively business sense with a thirst for adventure.

The white hunters of Kenya still are a romantic breed — as in the novels of Hemingway and Ruark — and they still roar up to the new Stanley Hotel in their Land Rovers, often in the company of lovely long-legged ladies in big dark glasses and short skirts.

But Lyon, who is 32 and good-looking, says Hollywood has been a bit overimaginative in portraying white hunters as Lotharios of the savannah — men who seek tender game in safari tents as well as tough game in the wilds.

"Generally speaking, that story has been grossly exaggerated," said Lyon, picking his words carefully.

It may be significant, however, that when the easy-going bachelor rifled through snapshots of "trophies," they included not only rhino, elephants, greater kudu, buffalo and war hogs but also long-legged ladies in big dark glasses and short skirts.

Even so, the story that emerges from Lyon's records is one of extremely hard living and hunting in the bush, with an occasional thrill of pride and excitement at a good kill.

"Quite satisfied with the elephant," is one comment on a Tuesday's work. "We saw three fair bulls, decided on the best which I think will weigh 70 pounds each" — that is, the tusks would weigh 70 pounds.

"Nicely curved and good trophy ivory. Four and one-half feet sticking out but very thin toward the end."

"The first easy gift we've had on the whole safari. Back to camp at 5 where we had a drink and a much-needed shower. Saw the tracks of a lion near camp."

Then came Wednesday: "Call in for 5, looked for wart hog, eland, lesser kudu. Saw none — went to elephant and turned it over with help of truck and Land Rover. Tusks weighed 72 and 69, nice trophy ivory. Shot an oryx in the afternoon and put him up for lion bait, also prepared another lion bait near camp."

Lyon roams as far as 2,500 miles at a time, through Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania or even to Bechuanaland, bordering South Africa. Safaris cost a client $3,350 for one white hunter for 30 days, including the services of skilled African staff, cooks, drivers, gun bearers, camp equipment, food, medicine chest and snakebite outfits. Drinks, tobacco and game licenses come extra.

Lyon wanted to be a white hunter. He came to Kenya to join the police during the Mau Mau rebellion 11 years ago. "I became a stooge, or apprentice, in the hunting business, greasing the trucks, doing things like that. I was helped by a game warden to get my first elephant."

There are no African — black — professional hunters in the same sense as Lyon. Educated Africans do not turn to this type of work. Uneducated trackers who are perfectly capable of hunting the animals may not be adept at drinking with, "chatting up" the clients.

In neighboring Tanzania, white hunters have been "nationalized" and a government agency oversees their operations. Some say the old-time personal relationship between the hunters and the clients has been harmed.

Other critics have maintained that the white hunters are not what they used to be. One Tanzanian source said they once were a breed who accepted clients only because it enabled them to indulge their love of the wilds. Now they are businessmen. Lyon, for his part, says he is eager to hunt anywhere at any time, "regardless of rainy season or anything else."

Camera safaris are growing in popularity and these are welcomed by Lyon and his colleagues. The white hunters, who number nearly 100 in Kenya, have an association and boast that not one client has been injured by an animal while in their care in more than 30 years.

Elephants are among Lyon's favorite prey but "I enjoy going

BILL MERRILL'S
Something to Live By

You know, it has occurred to me the best way to deal with a problem is to face it. The real problem is to make up your mind to do just that — face it.

Most all of us in one way or another, have problems that concern us. It may be our inability to please the boss, certain tensions at home, or indebtedness, but whatever the problem, it's real and needs to be recognized and dealt with. I expect most problems are made worse simply by trying to ignore them or by talking about these problems to people who can do nothing about them but to save our feelings as to why they exist.

What is the solution? Here it is — face that problem directly. Financial problems are a good example of how this solution works. Take time to figure your income against out-go. As a rule, you can readily see the problem as soon as you do this. It's simple — a case of too much out-go and too little income. The problem is an old as the ages, and be sure of this, others have faced it. So, why not you?

NOW FIRST things first. Eliminate unnecessary expenses. This can usually be done in a number of ways, short of not eating. Determine how many dollars can be put toward those bills. Now comes the hard part. Go to your creditor and admit your plight and ask if he will agree to take a given amount each week or month. This amount will probably be less than was originally agreed upon, but it will be certain. Chances are you will find he will cooperate. Now stick to your bargain. One by one the bills will be paid and a silver lining will adorn that black cloud of despair.

More difficult is facing those problems that deal with personalities. For some reason you feel the boss doesn't find pleasure in your efforts, or there has been a coolness between you and a friend or family member. What to do?

The answer is simple. Face it. Go to that friend, family member, or boss, and ask for a hearing. Explain carefully your concern and express a true desire for an understanding. You may be surprised to learn the other party will prove happy you approached him, and with some frank talk, the trouble will be overcome, making for a much nicer situation for everyone concerned.

SO OFTEN People let their imagination run away while they avoid the real issues, and life becomes more and more complicated. A young married woman had been unhappy with certain aspects of her married life in that her husband didn't seem to understand her feelings and attitudes. For some time the tension grew, and I suspect going home to mother was one solution she had entertained. Fortunately she confided in a counselor who told her simply to face the issue — talk to him about her feelings. She did, and the last the counselor knew, her husband was understanding — once he knew her feelings, and they were getting along fine. The solution to their problem was simply facing it. And you know, odds have it, it will prove a solution to your problems too.

India Facing Food Rationing

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Food rationing must be imposed in India even if the United States continues massive shipments of surplus wheat, Food Minister Chidambaram Subramaniam said Tuesday.

Subramaniam made it plain at a news conference that India will have a food program even more austere than what it has had to put up with through recent years.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri issued a proclamation recently that India must be independent and self sufficient. living on what it can produce itself. Families throughout India fasted Monday night after Shastri asked them to give up the Monday night meal each week to conserve wheat and rice.

Washington has delayed a new, long-term commitment on food shipments, releasing aid wheat on a virtual month at a time basis. This has stirred resentment and anti-American feeling along the lines that America is attempting to use food surpluses to steer India into a settlement with Pakistan on the Kashmir issue.

after anything at all that fights back." He's happy when a sophisticated hunter wants to seek out the more elusive and hard-to-find game, such as the bongo, antelopes which live deep in the bush.

Is he often frightened? "Some of the book writers seem to face far more charges from rhino and the like than I do."

Second-Chance School Praised

By JOE RIGERT

SHELTON, Wash. (AP)—You walk along the grassy mall, past the snapdragons and petunias, up the stairs of the modern, two-story building and hear Miss Burright's typing class clacking away to the rhythm of music.

This is newly opened Garrett Heyns High School, much like any other school in many other small towns across the country. But the guard towers and double wire fence around the campus remind you that the locale for this one is a prison — a new and upbeat prison, but still a prison.

There is no longer anything unusual about high school classes in prisons to help young convicts learn their way back to society as useful, law-abiding, employable citizens.

But there is plenty about Heyns High to make it stand out — its striking location in the heart of the year-old, $13-million Washington Corrections Center, the four women on its faculty, its inclusion in the Shelton public school system, the philosophy and dedication of teachers and officials.

"Our job is to change attitudes," says Prison Supt. Ernest Timpani, 46, "and school is the way to do it. If they had stayed in school, many of these boys wouldn't be here."

In the bright, airy second-floor classrooms of Heyns High, students can look through an attractive grillwork — no bars — to thick forests and the rugged Olympic Mountains.

But there is little time for window-gazing, what with the prodding and encouragement of an enthusiastic corps of 16 teachers in a program geared to student needs rather than school schedules.

"I tell my teachers they can't go in there with a defeatist attitude, because it will show up in their students," says George Hermes, the balding, bespectacled headmaster. "They have to be enthusiastic and positive."

Hermes is like the others; he came to the prison school after 21 years as principal of the high school in Shelton. At 60, he says he feels like 39, and his attitude is infectious.

Nearly all of the 80 students at Heyns High are dropouts, and they learn at their own speed with individual attention from each teacher, without the pressure of being forced to compete beyond their abilities.

Nearly all Heyns High students are first offenders or probation violators, with records of auto theft, burglaries and minor robberies. Ages range from 17 to 27, and a fourth of them are married.

The students have been carefully screened and tested for aptitude and attitude to make certain they will benefit from the schooling. Then they are sent into programs of their liking, either straight academic, vocational, part-time work or all three.

Informality pervades the school area, even to the lack of bells to signal class periods. Students live in low-slung dormitories and can earn their way with good behavior from the locked rooms of Spruce Hall to the honor system at Cedar Hall where they carry the keys to their own cells.

Pepin Rural Carrier Retires

PEPIN, Wis. — A Pepin rural letter carrier who, retired Oct. 22, was presented with a certificate of recognition for services by Postmaster Ronald Marks in a ceremony at the post office.

Receiving the honor was H. W. Westerberg, who had been a carrier 37 years. He started at Stockholm and came to Pepin in 1953. He used horses in winter for 12 years until roads were improved sufficiently for car travel.

Westerberg received a 30-year safe driving award from the postal department in September. George Fayerweather, who has been substitute carrier nine years, will handle the route until a full-time carrier is named.

Pepin has one mail route, 70 miles long.

3,230 Sign-Viet Petition at Mankato

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — A petition supporting U. S. policy in Viet Nam drew 3,230 signatures. Five Mankato State students handled the petition, and most of the signers were from Mankato State. Sponsors of the petition said it was circulated as a means of countering draft card types of demonstrations.

Alexander Kerensky Who Sought Freedom For Russia Now 85

NEW YORK (AP) — Alexander F. Kerensky, former premier of Russia, stepped from a dimly lighted room in a friend's apartment off Fifth Avenue. He walked haltingly, the gingerly pace of the old.

His aged eyes peered at the newcomer, straining to make out the blurred image. The deeply furrowed face smiled.

The greeting was curtly.

It was a voice from the past.

Kerensky spoke of the men he has outlived — Lenin and Trotsky — the men who destroyed his democratic experiment in the October revolution of 1917.

He spoke of his life's meaning.

"A man who lives through a fateful turning point in the history of the world is blessed because he is given a chance to plumb the very depths of human history. He sees that the main course of human affairs is determined, not so much by economic laws, as by a clash of human wills, of people pitting themselves against each other in the attempt to create a new way of life out of the wreck of the old one."

Kerensky, 85, helped overthrow the czarist regime in February 1917, and served as premier of the Russian provisional government for the 3½ months just before the Bolshevik Revolution.

The lawyer, then 36, was a moderate in a Russia besieged by extremists of the right and left.

Hiding from probable imprisonment and possible death for eight months after the Revolution, Kerensky finally escaped in June of 1918. Disguised as a Serbian soldier, he sailed to England in an English boat across the Arctic Sea.

Kerensky's life has been spent in the emigre capitals of the world, finally settling in the United States in 1964. For many years, he worked among the Russian exiles and dreamed of the violent overthrow of the Communist regime.

The dream faded with the years.

"The possibility of an armed revolution is past," he said. "Now there will be gradual transformation as the younger generation is brought into the Communist minority."

"They must move to the organization of social and political life in accordance with human freedom which was the essence of the revolution."

"The fight then was between the more and more absolute and irresponsible monarchy and the desire of the people to introduce a system of responsible government. Now Russia is ready to go back to those ideas. Some new system will be created and developed."

Kerensky sees Russia aligning with the West in what he believes will be a worldwide racial confrontation.

"All the future of Russia is much more bound with the future of the European people of Christian culture," he said.

"We are now beginning a new era," he said. "One of the most important results of the change is the race fight. It is more important than the division of the world between capitalist and Socialist camps."

"Now history is no longer just the history of Europe. The resurrection of the colored world will play more and more important a role."

"There is a new force — an independent force that participates in the international game. It is China."

"The liberation of the underdeveloped countries from the influence of Europe and the United States is a historical miracle. Even the Africans do not understand how it could happen so quickly.

"It is absolutely clear that all European people must understand that not only by numbers — but also by capacity — in the fight in the future they are in the minority and some kind of a new system of international relations must be devised in which the former lord and master must be based on some other means."

Kerensky envisions a world government, one more powerful than the United Nations, forcibly establishing world order.

Kerensky declined to talk about his private life, waving aside inquiries with, "No, no, nothing personal."

He lives alone now while teaching at Stanford University. His first wife divorced him after he left Russia. His second wife died in 1946. His two sons are engineers in England. He was in New York on a visit.

Kerensky has just completed his memoirs. The book, "Russia and History's Turning Point," is an accounting of the critical period in his life and Russia's history.

Historians have blamed Kerensky for a lack of decisive action during the turbulent months before the Revolution. He answers the criticism and offers his explanation.

"The book is the story as I understand it," he said, obviously hoping to set the record straight.

Durand to Host Scout Dinner

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — Joe Breitung, Menomonie, state probation and parole officer, will be speaker at the annual meeting of the Silver Waters Boy Scout district committee Nov. 11 at 7 p.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Durand.

A Jack Harmon dinner will be served. There will be awards to adult leaders. The district nominating committee and other committee and officer reports will be given.

Breitung, Pepin native, started working out of Menomonie in June 1964. He has been in probation and parole work since 1961 and for a time was stationed at the boys school at Wales. He received his bachelor degree from Eau Claire State University and master of science degree in social work from the University of Wisconsin.

William L. Terrill, Menomonie, district committee chairman, will be toastmaster. Wilburn Myers, activities chairman of the committee, is in charge of arrangements.

Man, 81, Matches Age on Golf Links

KENYON, Minn. (AP) — When George Benson was 54 years old, his doctor told him to play golf every chance he got in a fight against rheumatism.

Now, Benson is matching his age in strokes on the golf course. He's shot an 81, which is his age now. He's done nine holes in 39.

A wiry, retired accountant, Benson plays about 100 rounds of golf each summer. He wanted to play in October, but the Kenyon Country Club was locked up for the winter.

Highway Dept. Receives Bids

ST. PAUL (AP) — Bids estimated at around $1.9 million will be received by the Minnesota Highway Department Nov. 19 on nine projects. Largest project on the list is 6.2 miles of grading and paving on Highway 10 in Todd County near Staples.

Other projects removal of buildings from interstate highway routes in South St. Paul, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, with the work to be done this winter.

Youngsters Moved Often Low on Tests

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Youngsters from low income areas may score low on intelligence and reading tests because they have been moved from school to school, according to a new study of Minneapolis youngsters.

The report is the first of three by a grant from the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime.

The study used two samples of school pupils — one group of 373 from low income areas characterized by high de-

The comparison group was composed of 425 students from sections of Minneapolis with low delinquency rates.

The report showed that the typical youth from a low income area has moved to at least his third home by the time he reaches the sixth grade, is attending his third school and has missed 100 days of school.

"It seems certain that this unstable background plays some role in lowered scores on standardized tests of reading and intelligence," the report said.

The study showed that only three of ten students from the poverty areas staying in the same school from kindergarten through sixth grade, compared with six of ten in the low delinquency areas.

Youths from the poverty "large" areas are more likely to have been born outside the city and to have entered Minneapolis schools at a later grade.

"At the very outset of their educational pursuits they are competing on an unequal footing," the report said.

Billy Graham Ready to Resume Work

MONTREAL, N.C. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says he is ready to resume his activities after seven weeks of recuperation from prostate surgery and a subsequent infection.

Dr. Graham's physician examined the evangelist Monday and said "Dr. Graham is rapidly regaining his strength and can now resume limited activities. I have no doubt that Mr. Graham will definitely be able to conduct his Houston, Texas, crusade beginning Nov. 19, if his course continues as I found him today."

Graham was operated on Sept. 19 at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn. Later, he developed an infection while he recuperated at his Montreal home.

Canadian Voters To Decide Election On Personalities

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian election campaign has boiled down to a personality battle between two old political rivals — the quiet Liberal Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and the seldom-quiet Conservative ex-Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

Issues have taken a secondary role as the party leaders fight it out for the fourth time in seven years. The Nov. 8 election could be the last for the loser, possibly for both. Diefenbaker is 70, Pearson 68.

Diefenbaker, as always, is making a hard-hitting campaign, traveling through the country, speaking day and night and exuding confidence.

Pearson has kept his campaign mostly in low key, remaining in Ottawa most of the time. It has been the Liberal strategy to concentrate Pearson's efforts on a last-minute drive.

Both Pearson and Diefenbaker have been criticized for the way they conduct their campaigns. Some call Pearson's effort a "no-campaign" and suggest it is partly responsible for a lack of public enthusiasm.

Diefenbaker is accused of distortion and innuendo. The Toronto Star said he had "abandoned a controlled attack for a wild whirling dance down the low road."

Although public opinion polls give the Liberals a big edge in the election, both parties have had their eyes on the great mass of undecided voters. As the campaign opened, one poll showed 36 per cent in the undecided category.

Pearson's campaign manner is a gamble. Surveys in the past showed that his popularity decreased when he campaigned actively.

The Pearson camp is hoping that his campaign will peak on election eve and that perhaps Diefenbaker has miscalculated the pace of the campaign and fired most of his ammunition prematurely.

Talk of Diefenbaker inevitably "it is understood, however, that Diefenbaker has told some associates in confidence that he will give up the leadership if the party is defeated. And there are a half dozen Conservatives moving quietly to seek that leadership."

These include Davie Fulton, former justice minister; George Hees, former trade minister; Duff Roblin, premier of Manitoba; John Roberts, premier of Ontario; and Dalton Camp, president of the Conservative Association.

Diefenbaker, one-time criminal lawyer from Saskatchewan, first became Conservative leader in 1956. He led the party to victory over Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent in 1957. He came back to defeat Pearson in 1958 and 1962, but lost to Pearson in 1963.

Pearson, former career diplomat and Nobel Peace Prize winner, succeeded St. Laurent as Liberal leader in 1958. If he wins the Nov. 8 election by a clear majority he can head the government for as long as five years. He has not indicated what he will do if defeated.

Pensioners Visit East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Officials say 1,667,567 East German pensioners visited West Germany and West Berlin between Nov. 1, 1964, and Sept. 30 this year. They said only a fraction of a per cent of the visitors failed to return to their Communist homeland. The East German regime permitted the pensioners' visits.

Princess Looks Forward to U.S. Visit Next Week

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret will see one of her dreams come true next week — a visit to the United States, that onetime colony of her bullheaded ancestor, King George III.

"It's something I've always very much wanted to do," she told a friend not long ago. "At last we're going to do it."

By "we" the pretty, stylish, 35-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II meant herself and her husband, Lord Snowdon.

His lordship, the former Anthony Armstrong-Jones — a photographer by profession — is ½ months older than his royal wife.

The princess has never been to the United States. Her husband visited New York in 1958 in connection with the promotion of his photographic book about London.

More informal and relaxed than many think, they both like active, amusing, imaginative and creative people, and number among their friends, actors, writers, painters, designers, dancers, publishers and comedians.

For their American tour, the Snowdons will leave their two young children, Lord Linley and Lady Sarah Armstrong-Jones, to be looked after by the Queen Mother and a battery of nurses.

By design the Snowdons scheduled their autumn visit to the United States to begin Thursday, for that's the day after their son's fourth birthday. They will give him a party Wednesday. Lady Sarah will be 2 next May 1.

From London the Snowdons will fly to New York, spend an hour and a half there, and then wing on to San Francisco, where they are due at 6:05 p.m.

They will meet the press — something they never do in London — at the San Francisco Press Club later that evening.

After parties and functions in and around the Bay area, they will go to Los Angeles Saturday. There they will have a short news conference.

On Monday, Nov. 8 they will attend a ball of the World Adoption Fund, and on Tuesday visit the California Institute of Technology and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

On Wednesday, Nov. 10, the Snowdons depart for Tucson, Ariz., where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Douglas. He is a former American ambassador in Britain.

Throughout the American tour, the Snowdons will be accompanied by Sharman Douglas, a girlhood friend. When Sharman was in London with her parents, she was one of Margaret's closest friends.

From Arizona they fly to Washington, arriving at Andrews Air Force Base at 5 p.m. Monday, Nov. 15. That evening they will be guests of the National Press Club and the Women's National Press Club.

On the following day they will lay a wreath on John F. Kennedy's grave, visit Mount Vernon, and attend various British parties.

Princess Margaret will have tea with Mrs. Edward Kennedy Nov. 17 and meet the wives of American senators. That evening they will dine at the White House.

From Washington they go to New York where they are to be the guests of another former American ambassador to Britain, John Hay Whitney, publisher of the Herald Tribune.

After visiting the United Nations, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts and other places, they will fly to Bermuda Nov. 24.

What do you call the visiting couple?

For Princess Margaret it should be: Your Royal Highness the first time, and then — Ma'am.

For Lord Snowdon — Sir.

Bread-Grain Production Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — World production of bread grains for the current crop year is expected to rival the record volume of 1964.

This preliminary Agriculture Department estimate placed the combined wheat and rye crops at 280 million metric tons.

The prospective global wheat crop is only two per cent below that of the record year. World rye production this year is estimated to have exceeded that of 1964 by three per cent to total the largest in four years, with larger yields more than offsetting reduced acreage.

Canadian acreage and yields both are up. U.S. acreage declined 16 per cent, but higher yields are resulting in a crop nearly as large as in 1964. Western Europe's rye crop is down about 16 per cent from 1964, but rye output in eastern Europe is nearly up to that good year level.

WORLD TODAY

LBJ Attends to Smallest Details

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the keys to Lyndon B. Johnson's presidency, besides his energy, is his attention to details about government and people.

While a president's concern and help for an individual may not influence him, it certainly won't antagonize him, and this, by itself, is no mean political benefit.

Johnson has so much energy, probably more than any president except perhaps Theodore Roosevelt, that he recently disclosed he has been taking relaxing tranquilizers ever since his heart attack in 1955.

He recently said something else which fits in handily with his job: "In 56 of my 57 years, I probably haven't gone to sleep before 1 a.m. any morning. I seldom sleep past daylight."

For his nighttime reading when he goes to his bedroom the President always has four or five big envelopes with memoranda and cables from the State and Defense departments and the Central Intelligence Agency, plus information from his economic advisers on government spending and the national economy.

In addition, there are recommendations from his staff for action on problems that need decisions, with summaries and background, and down in the right-hand corner the words "yes" and "no" for him to mark.

If he is not satisfied he scribbles, "See me," or writes specific suggestions. One aide figures this kind of reading comes to 100,000 to 150,000 words a week. What he doesn't finish at night, Johnson can finish in the morning before he gets up. He goes to his office about 10 a.m.

Before then he has been telephoning from his bedroom or conferring with members of his staff or government officials. Every morning his aides present him with daily schedules and discuss them with him.

About 10 feet from his White House desk, enclosed in wooden boxes to deaden the sound, are the endlessly clacking machines of the news services. In this way Johnson keeps on top of the news, either by walking over to read the stories on the machines or having his aides tear them off for him.

A tornado in Kansas? He can call the Office of Emergency Planning perhaps before that agency heard of the tornado. A labor dispute shaping up? He can call the Labor Department for more information or action.

All this, of course, is in addition to the continuous conferences with his Cabinet, his experts, other people inside and outside government, White House dinners and receptions, swearing-in ceremonies, bill signings, and meetings with the press, and visitors.

His relations with Congress already are a legend: his telephone calls to members of both houses, his Tuesday morning breakfasts with the Democratic leaders while Congress is in session, the work done by the staff headed by Lawrence O'Brien whom Johnson has rewarded by making him postmaster general — he still hasn't taken over his new post.

Johnson has been accused of arm-twisting members of Congress to get support on his legislation, but no one has suggested anything sinister about it, and arm twisting can take many forms.

Just a simple telephone call from a president, asking help on a bill, may be enough to persuade a senator or representative. But a phone call from a president to one who has received special consideration or help from him in the past in one form or another is a potent instrument.

Over his many years in Washington Johnson has done favors for many members of Congress. For example, seeing to it while he was Democratic Senate leader that a senator got appointed to a committee he particularly cherished.

When New Orleans this year suffered its worst hurricane disaster, two members of Congress from Louisiana appealed to the President for help. Within four hours, Johnson had the entire Louisiana delegation flying back home, and went along with them, together with government disaster officials.

Johnson was in Congress 27 years. He remembered well the once-a-year mob scenes when the president, whoever it happened to be, had a White House reception for all members of Congress and their wives. They saw little of the White House.

When he became President he invited members of Congress, 50 at a time, with their wives, and while he talked downstairs with the men, Mrs. Johnson took the wives on a tour of the executive mansion, including the living quarters.

When he hears of a member of Congress laid up in a hospital, he sends flowers and a note. Johnson and his wife do the same with many others who are ill.

Johnson and his wife work in tandem. She drops notes to the wives of members of Congress, invites them to tea, and spends a lot of time going around the country to focus attention on the President's programs.

Sen. Neuberger Won't Run for Seat in State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Maurice Neuberger, D-Ore., has dropped out of contention for reelection with a blast against the way she said senatorial campaigns are financed.

Mrs. Neuberger, who is really Mrs. Philip Solomon, made it clear in a statement Monday that one other principal reason for quitting was that she didn't want "to be beholden to some group for campaign money and to go begging from friends and relatives."

The Senate seat she occupies will be at stake in next year's election. Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, a Republican, is expected to bid strongly for it. Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., might seek the Democratic nomination.

The decision of the 58-year-old Oregon member not to run again probably will not be duplicated by her only woman colleague, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine. Mrs. Smith, who is 67, has not disclosed her plans but friends expect her to bid for a fourth six-year term next year.

Mrs. Neuberger said that since she had an operation for cancer four years ago she has known she probably would not run again. She said she made "a wonderful recovery," that her health is excellent and that she has been able to carry on the heavy workload of a senator.

She said she wants to travel and to have time to work on her husband's papers. She was married to Dr. Philip Solomon, a Boston psychiatrist, in 1964.

State School Districts Urged To Move Up

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota State Board of Education intends to keep prodding school districts to merge into larger units as a means of providing higher-quality schooling.

Meeting here Monday, the board adopted a resolution asking the Department of Education to study a possible regulation requiring a minimum number of students in grades 7 through 12.

Should the plan be adopted, schools not meeting the minimum might be forced to join neighboring districts and thus form a larger high school.

Duan Mathews, Commissioner of education, said funds will be applied for under Title V of the Federal Education Act to make a study of school district reorganization. No board action is expected until that study is completed next year.

Mathews said North and South Dakota and Nebraska likely would benefit from the study. They, along with Minnesota, have large numbers of relatively small schools.

Don Swenson of Mankato, head of an advisory committee on school reorganization, said a long-term study in Iowa shows that students in larger schools make consistently better scores on standardized tests.

The study shows, Swenson said, that ninth graders score higher than their small-school cousins but that the gap widens by the time each reaches the 12th grade.

Some experts recommend a minimum of 600 students in the top six grades. Many Minnesota schools have fewer than 200.

Minnesota now has 1,438 school districts compared with 7,606 in 1947. Three hundred and four districts have merged with others under a law which took effect last July 1, requiring so-called "closed school" districts to join others.

$654 Million in Pet Food Sold

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Chicken croquettes, mixed grill, a meat ball dinner for Rover? Yes, they're making gourmet dog food now for particular pets.

Pet food was a $654-million market in the United States last year. It nearly has doubled since 1958. Predictions are that it will run more than a billion dollars by 1975.

Sales of pet food are growing despite a drop in the number of dogs and cats.

The dog population has declined from 24.1 million in 1961 to 22.9 million in 1965, according to a market research report. The cat population went down from 22.1 to 16.7 million during the same time.

But manufacturers are selling more dog and cat food. Sales the first six months of 1965 were up 10 per cent from 1964.

Trade sources say that is because more of the pets are owned by city and suburban families, which traditionally have been heavier buyers of commercially prepared pet foods.

Eye appeal and convenience pet foods are the order of the day. Pet foods are being made to look like human ones. Advertisements show juicy red steaks or meatloaf touched with parsley.

There is what is billed as a gourmet cat food, compounded of liver, kidney, chicken, meat and fish to appeal to the most fastidious Siamese.

It is far removed from the day when great-grandmother filled the farm dog's dish with table scraps.

The big pet food companies are going all out to keep pets from feeding on the family's leftovers or sharing its meals.

In the past decade, the big swing has been to packaged dry foods, pellets expanded by air or steam. Manufacturers say they are cheaper than canned food, neater and offer a more uniform product.

Then one manufacturer came up with a gravy made by adding water. Others followed with their own chunks with sauces.

Now there also are soft moist pet foods which come in various forms — hamburger patties or meatballs. Some are individually wrapped in meal-sized packages that don't need to be stored in the refrigerator.

The pet food manufacturers say the new dog and cat owners want small packages that don't require refrigeration or anything to be added before serving.

One brand even comes packaged with individual plastic trays, eliminating the need of a dish.

The Minnesota DFL Party, which sponsored the conference, said a number of speakers had scheduled conflicts and would be unable to appear.

Jane Russell Back in Full Movie Feature

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There are occasions when time seems to stand still on movie sets.

Like when Jane Russell was taking a bath in "Johnny Reno," her first full-length movie role in eight years.

I can flash back 14 years to another Western being filmed at Paramount, "Son of Paleface." Cecil B. DeMille, master of the bathtub scene, was there to offer technical advice, and costar Bob Hope made some pithy comments, too.

Returning to 1965, I found Miss Russell in splendid shape. She displayed some black-and-blue marks she acquired in the rigorous Western, but she seemed to enjoy being back at work again.

"I was never wild about working," she admitted, "but I did enjoy the studio life. When you're working at a studio, it's like being part of a big family. Paramount was always my favorite studio, and I find that a great many of the people I knew before are still here."

Jane has always brought a studied casualness to her work, and not without reason. "Almost everything about my career has been accidental," she explains, "even back to its beginnings."

In the beginning, of course, was "The Outlaw" and the biggest publicity buildup that Howard Hughes could buy. His investment paid off, and Jane Russell became an international figure. She became the principal asset at RKO when the enigmatic multimillionaire attempt-

STILL IN GOOD SHAPE . . . ed a big studio operation. Jane remained loyal when other studios beckoned.

"My agent, Lew Wasserman (now head of the MCA Universal-Decca combine), said I was crazy to sign with Howard again," she recalled. "But why should I have gone off to MGM and work with people I didn't even know? Howard had been very good to me, and I felt that I owed him something."

Her loyalty paid off in what is one of the dream contracts of Hollywood history. Right now she is smack in the middle of a 20-year contract that brings her $1,000 a week.

"That's why mother doesn't have to work," Jane purred.

But she has worked in recent years, touring the world with her own night club act or with Beryl Davis and Connie Haines.

"But the last tour I made with the girls was seven months, and that's too long," said Jane, who has been wed to Bob Waterfield for 22 years. "My kids are 16, 15 and 11 now, and I don't like to be gone too long. Pretty soon they'll be gone, and then where will I be?"

Coin Magazine Editor Accused Of Taking $13,800

WAUPACA, Wis. — The associate editor of a magazine for coin collectors was charged Monday with taking $13,800 in silver dollars and rare coins from the publishing firm.

Jack W. Nannery, 39, Iola, was held in lieu of $15,000 bond after being bound over for trial on charges of burglary and theft.

A cache of coins was recovered from beneath a stack of wooden ties along an abandoned railroad through a cow pasture near Iola. Waupaca County Sheriff Loran Frazier said authorities were still checking the coins at the State Crime Laboratory in Madison Monday night to determine if any were missing.

Nannery, formerly of New York City, joined the Numismatic News as associated editor in April. The money was taken from the office safe of Krause Publications, Inc., Oct. 14 and the coins found by a farmer Oct. 20.

Authorities kept the pasture under surveillance more than a week without sighting anyone. They arrested Nannery at the publishing firm in Iola Friday.

Sheriff Frazier said Nannery admitted orally that he took the money.

The money included $4,500 in U.S. silver dollars and $1,000 in Canadian silver dollars which the magazine was using in a subscription drive. Also taken were approximately $8,300 in rare coins belonging to the publisher.

Michelangelo Statue Starts Back to Italy

NEW YORK (AP) — The 16-ton, Michelangelo's masterpiece in marble viewed by 27 million persons at the New York World's Fair, begins its 4,000-mile trip back to the Vatican Tuesday.

The priceless statue was moved Monday by truck and barge under heavy police guard to a Hudson River pier from the fairgrounds.

The statue, almost six feet high, will be lashed to a deck of the Italian liner Cristoforo Colombo.

Little Progress Made in Corn Harvest in State

ST. PAUL (AP) — Little progress has been made in the Minnesota corn harvest in the past week, the State Crop Reporting Service said today.

As of last Saturday, only 9 per cent of the corn had been harvested compared with 52 per cent in a normal year. The average moisture content of corn brought in from fields was 31 per cent, too wet for cribbing.

Such corn must be fed immediately or artificially dried. Some farmers reported immature corn molding in the fields.

The mild, sunny weather did, however, permit better progress in the soybean fields. As of the start of the week, 81 per cent of the bean crop was combined compared with 96 per cent in a normal year. Quality of soybeans is running better than expected, but the size of beans is smaller than normal.

The much-delayed grain harvest in the Red River Valley is pretty well completed except for flax.

The reporting service said fall seedings of winter wheat and rye are doing very well, and potato and sugar beet harvesting is moving along in the Red River Valley. Last week, the report said, was the driest week of the crop season.

Unrest Moving Across South Arabian Areas

BEIHAN, South Arabia (AP) — The sultans and emirs who rule the sprawling deserts of South Arabia are propping up their thrones. Tremors of political unrest have begun shaking the Biblical land of spices and incense.

British armored cars plowing through the sands of Beihan startle the camels. The crash of bazooka shells interrupts the mosques' call of prayers. Turbaned tribesmen, whose only acquaintance with the modern world is their Lee-Enfield rifles and the transistor radio, have begun to mutter political slogans.

Lying on the edge of the vast ocean of sand known as "the empty quarter," one of the most forbidding wastelands in the world, Beihan is one of 16 poverty-stricken sultanates and emirates making up the British-protected South Arabian Federation.

Massive stone ruins at the Oasis of Timna, with Hymenaeal inscriptions 20 centuries old, show that Beihan and the states around it were once four great kingdoms that controlled the world's frankincense and spice trade.

Since Biblical days, the sheiks and sultans have run South Arabia with only tribal warfare to threaten their feudal rule. Since the 19th century, when they signed protection treaties, they have been able to call on Britain to blast dissident tribes into submission.

Now, with independence scheduled in 1968 for South Arabia and the neighboring British colony of Aden, Egyptian intelligence agents have become active in the area. The revolutionary voice of President Gamal Abdel Nasser is heard across the mountains, and the emirs' power is challenged.

"Do not be deceived," says Emir Saleh, ruler of Beihan. "The present troubles in Aden and the incidents in the federation are caused by outsiders, instigated by President Nasser. There are no supporters of

VOTES IN STATE ELECTION . . . President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson are shown today in Johnson City, Texas as they cast their ballots in an election on amendments to the constitution of Texas. One of the amendments would increase the term of the governor to four years if passed. (AP Photofax)

President Nasser among our people."

Outside the emir's mud-walled palace, however, dagger-toting tribesmen whisper "Nasser is good."

To contradict the emir's claim that his 40,000 tribesmen welcome the presence of British troops in Beihan, leering villagers approach Westerners and gesture as if cutting throats.

Infiltrators from Yemen, 10 miles across the unmarked frontier from the emir's capital, have laid land mines in Beihan. About 300 have been dug up, but others have taken a death toll. Before the war in Yemen was suspended, Egyptian planes bombed Beihan villages.

To guard the frontier with Yemen and maintain order in the state, Britain has stationed 250 troops in Beihan, with armored cars, artillery batteries and anti-aircraft guns. Beihan's small airstrip is being lengthened to take Hawk hunter jet fighters.

Oldest Pawnshop In New World At Mexican City

MEXICO CITY (AP) — After every holiday thousands of people line up in front of a grimy, four-story building facing the Zocalo or main square. Every day you'll see tourists seeking bargains.

The Nacional Monte de Piedad, Latin America's oldest pawnshop, has its main headquarters in the old building. It operates 25 branches — 12 in Mexico City, and the others scattered over the country.

It was founded Feb. 25, 1775, under authority of Spanish King Charles III, and has been active ever since.

Those long lines after holidays are of Mexicans who have spent their last cent celebrating and want to pawn their valuables until their finances straighten out.

But loans are made all the time, and the pawnshop averages about $50,000 daily. The main office and its branches have 1,250 employees.

Founder Romero de Terreros, with a fortune from gold and silver mining in Mexico, had the money to organize the much-needed pawnshop.

Its favorite legend is about Pancho Villa. When the bandit came in triumph to Mexico City during the revolution, he asked for a list of banks and rich persons to whom he could turn for money. When he came to the name of the pawnshop, he marked it out, saying he would not get funds from the bank of the poor.

Today it is operated as a foundation by Dr. Gustavo A. Uruchurtu, brother of the mayor of Mexico City; Antonio E. Canale, a lawyer; and Manuel Romero de Terreros, a descendant of the founder. A descendant must always be on the board, according to the founder's decision.

The Monte de Piedad also is a charitable organization providing free breakfasts to hundreds, and operating a primary school for about 1,500 orphan girls.

Like most pawnshops, it loans money and gives the borrower a certain time limit to repay and pick up the item. When this deadline arrives, the borrower can repay, and pay a small interest rate — lower than in most banks. If he defaults, the pawnshop can sell the item, hence the tourists and others who drop in to find bargains.

It also makes small loans. No interest is charged on amounts up to $1.60.

Actress Rita Johnson Dead

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Rita Johnson, 52, died in County General Hospital when her heart failed following a brain hemorrhage, a hospital source disclosed Tuesday.

An autopsy was performed, but cause of death has not been officially determined pending the results of laboratory tests, the coroner said.

Miss Johnson appeared in 22 films, starting in 1937.

Castro Under Pressure at Home, Abroad

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Fidel Castro, badgered by internal political and economic problems, has issued a message of defiance to Moscow: Help us but don't try to dominate us; don't try to prevent us from taking risks to foment revolution in Latin America.

Castro wants more Soviet arms and wants to be the sole judge of what to do with those arms, his words indicate. His tone suggests he is running into an argument in Moscow.

A copy of the new paper Granma, "organ of the Central Committee of the Communist party of Cuba," has reached this country with the text of a Castro speech to the committee. This was the speech in which he paid tribute to Ernesto Guevara, his long-time guerrilla war expert.

Generally overlooked was Castro's florid peroration, obviously directed to Moscow, where at this moment Maj. Raul Castro, Fidel's brother, supposedly is seeking more arms from Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

The passage suggests that Moscow has twisted Castro's arm. It indicates Moscow wants no more risks of nuclear showdown occasioned by Castro adventuring — that Moscow wants to call the shots in Latin America on Communist-inspired revolution.

Castro, though begging help, still objects strenuously. He wants to run the Latin-American revolution — and his own Cuban revolution — in his own way.

He wants Red revolution without Moscow dictation, but with Moscow support.

Here's how Castro put it: "We know quite well where the enemy is. In order to defeat the aggressive policy of that enemy, to continue to oppose it, we need the resources and weapons, because here, thousands of miles away from any other Socialist country, thousands of miles away without being able to depend on anything other than our own forces and our own weapons, we are aware of the risks we are running today and will continue to run. We must be armed to the teeth and totally prepared."

That is the challenge to the Soviet Union. Castro wants more arms if he is to carry the revolutionary banner in Latin America. But he wants arms without strings. Let the rest of the Communist world quarrel, but let him go his own way.

"We can disagree with any party on any point," said Castro. He added that he refused to view communism as a church "with its Rome and its Ecumenical Council." Castro announced he will develop his own revolutionary program. And he will continue to be friendly to both sides in the Soviet-Chinese dispute.

"What we will never do," he said, "is to insult with one hand and ask with another, and we will know how to maintain any disagreement within the norms of decency, with any party. We will know how to be friends with those who know how to be friends. We will know how to respect those who respect us. We will never ask anyone's permission to do anything. We will never ask anyone for permission to go anywhere. We will never ask permission of anyone to be the friends of any party or any country."

"We aspire to a Communist society, but also to a Communist world in which all nations will have equal rights. We aspire to a Communist world in which no nation will have the right to veto."

Castro obviously has been annoyed by the Russians, who took away his missile bases in the terrifying showdown between Nikita S. Khrushchev and the late President John F. Kennedy. Moscow apparently has drawn the reins on his schemes, fearful of new showdowns. Perhaps the Russians even had a hand in stifling Castro ambitions in the Dominican Republic.

It is clear, at any rate, that the Russians, who spend almost half a billion dollars annually to sustain Castro's defense and economy, have pressed him to bring some order out of his revolution. One result has been turning over the direction of the country to a 100-man party directorate in Cuba.

Castro was highly emotional in his address. He read an alleged letter from Guevara resigning citizenship and all posts in Cuba. It read almost like a self-written obituary. There is a strong suspicion that, prodded by the Russians, Castro had to clash with Guevara on theoretical problems of revolution in Latin America. At any rate, Guevara is gone, and Castro, still needing help, has nowhere to look but Moscow.

That seems to be what annoys him most.

Negro May Remain in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Negro youth whom a judge refused to extradite to Alabama will be allowed to remain here, his attorney said Monday.

The attorney, Milton Bordow, confirmed a telephoned statement by Montgomery County (Ala.) Circuit Solicitor David Crosland that the youth would plead guilty to a misdemeanor embezzlement charge and return $120 taken from a Montgomery druggist.

Albert Robinson, 20, told Milwaukee County Judge Christ T. Seraphim last week he took the money because the druggist owed him three weeks pay. Seraphim appointed Bordow to represent the youth and said, "I don't know what would happen to a Negro boy if he were returned to Gov. George Wallace's Alabama."

Maine River Project OK'ed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army engineers will get $800,000 to start surveys and plans for a $227-million hydroelectric and flood control project on the upper St. John River in Maine.

The project would be the first federal hydroelectric project in New England.

Finland Has New Deal With Reds

By CARL BUCHALLA

NUIJAMA, Finland (AP) — A unique real estate deal with the Communists slowly is bringing back to life a once-flourishing waterway in this Finnish-Soviet border region.

Now on both sides of the border here Finnish workmen are busy clearing and widening the channel and rebuilding locks that fell into disrepair during 20 years of idleness. The job is scheduled to be finished by 1968.

The pact, in which the Kremlin cedes for the first time Soviet territory for use by others in exchange for money, was signed in September, 1962. It has been claimed as one of the proudest successes of Finland's policy of strict neutrality.

Before the war, the Saimaa Canal, which links the Karelian Lake district with the Baltic port of Vyborg, was on Finnish territory. But under the 1947 Treaty of Paris, defeated Finland had to yield part of Karelia, including the port of Vyborg and half of the canal, to the Soviet Union.

The 1962 agreement will enable Finland and other non-Soviet vessels to use the canal in return for annual payment of at least $280,000. The sum will be upped if traffic exceeds one million tons annually.

In 1939, the last year of peace, 84 per cent of the freight that moved through the Saimaa Canal was timber destined for export.

When postwar border adjustments cut off the canal, roads were built and timber has been moved by more costly truck transport.

Adopted Son of Roy Rogers Dead

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Western entertainers Roy Rogers and Dale Evans have been notified that their adopted son, Pfc. John David (Sandy) Rogers, died Sunday in a U.S. Army dispensary at Frankfurt, Germany.

A spokesman for the couple said John, 18, became ill after dining with friends Saturday evening and later choked to death during a vomiting spasm.

He was the third Rogers' child to die. Roy and Dale in 1952 lost a 2-year-old daughter, born to them, Robin Elizabeth, of complications following mumps. Last year another daughter, Debbie, 12, a Korean orphan they adopted in 1955, died in a bus crash.

The couple now live in Apple Valley, Calif., where they operate an inn. They have six other children, ranging in age from 13 to 22.

HARRIS SURVEY

People Almost Evenly Split on Space Program

By LOUIS HARRIS

By only a slim margin of 45 to 42 do the American people think the space program is worth the billions of dollars it will cost to put a man on the moon. And by 50 to 38, the public would oppose continuing the program at the present rate of expenditure if it were not for Russian exploits in space.

The opposition to the space program comes primarily from people with little education and incomes under $5,000 and from the South and Midwest. Conversely, the four out of 10 Americans who firmly support the space program are drawn heavily from the college educated, those with incomes over $10,000 and those who live in the East and the West.

For example, only 24 percent of those with a grade school education think the space program is worth $4 billion a year for the next 10 years. And by a margin of more than three to one those with only grade school education would oppose continuing the program at its present rate if the Russians were not in space.

ON THE OTHER hand, 59 percent of the college-educated people think the space program is worth $4 billion a year for the next 10 years and 53 percent would support it at its present rate if the Russians were not in space.

The reasoning behind much of the dissent is that the money could be better spent for things vitally needed here on earth—military defense, aid to education, slum clearance, etc.

The reasoning of those who support the program wholeheartedly lies largely in the desire to learn more about the universe.

While 40 percent of the public thinks the country is rich enough to afford the space program as well as many domestic programs, 37 percent believe we cannot afford both. Again, it is the people with incomes under $5,000 who, by a margin of five to four, think we cannot afford both.

A carefully drawn cross section of the nation was asked:

"It could cost the United States $4 billion a year for the next 10 years to finally put a man on the moon and to explore outer space and the other planets. All in all, do you feel the space program is worth spending that amount of money on, or do you feel it isn't worth it?"

Typical of the opposition to the space program was the comment of a maintenance worker in Denver, Colo., who said, "I figure the millions of dollars they are spending in space could be better spent for kids and families at home."

A 52-year-old independent trucker in Baltimore said, "It doesn't make any difference to me what's going on at the moon. But right here's another story. Save the money."

The wife of a steelworker in Youngstown, Ohio, said, "God put us on earth to stay here, not on the moon. It looks to me like a lot of wasted money."

A farmer in Hubbard, Iowa, disagreed when he said, "Whoever controls the moon controls the earth. It is important militarily. Also we need the scientific knowledge." In Roanoke, Va., a 37-year-old professional man said, "It's a new frontier to go to." In East Chicago, Ind., a foreman said, "We must keep learning about what we don't know about, and space is the unknown."

In fact, one in every three Americans sees the gaining of knowledge about the universe as the biggest single benefit of the space program. But almost as many people think the biggest benefit is in the military field—helping us gain military superiority over the Russians or photographing Russian and Chinese military activity.

Without this military reason, the space program would fall short of winning the support of a majority of the public. Scientific advances are considered important, but not important enough alone to justify the expenditures of huge sums of money. A majority of Americans have a rather long list of higher priority projects.

The cross section was asked: "If you had to choose, do you think it more important to spend $4 billion a year on the space program than to send it on?"

Right to See Public Papers Not Absolute

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that the right to inspect public documents and records is not absolute.

The decision reversed a ruling by Circuit Judge Clair H. Voss of Waukesha County, who last January ordered the Waukesha city attorney to open for public inspection an investigation report of alleged police brutality.

The Waukesha Freeman brought the court action and in the city's appeal to the Milwaukee Journal company.

The Freeman argued that the report should be made public because the investigation was financed with public funds.

In a unanimous decision written by Chief Justice George Currie, the Supreme Court said that a "proper determination as to whether inspection should be granted" had not been made.

"There may be situations where the harm done to the public interest may outweigh right of a member of the public to have access to particular public records or documents," the court said.

"Thus, the one must be balanced against the other."

The Supreme Court said it was the duty of the public officer in charge of public reports to make the determination.

"If he determines," the court said, "that permitting inspection would result in harm to the public interest which outweighs any benefit that would result from granting inspection, it is incumbent upon him to refuse the demand and state specifically the reason for his refusal."

The high court referred the case to the Circuit Court for what it called a "proper determination as to whether inspection should be granted under the guidelines here laid down."

3 Bear Cubs In Garbage Can

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP) — Taxi drivers coming off shift in Yosemite Village heard a loud growling near their office.

They found a mother bear standing menacingly near a large, open garbage container. The men drove her back into nearby timber and looked into the container. Two eyes stared back.

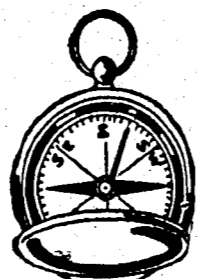

The men placed a chair inside the garbage holder and backed away.

A brown bear cub crawled out, followed by another cub and then a third. The cubs ran into the timber, rejoined their lurking mother and disappeared into the forest Sunday night.
