Officials Probe Fire

Some Unanswered Questions in Sinking of Yarmouth Castle

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The fiery sinking of the Yarmouth Castle has posed a number of mysterious questions the Coast Guard hopes to have answered.

The toll from the sinking was revised downward Sunday to one known dead and 80 presumed lost as some passengers originally reported missing by Yarmouth Cruises Inc. were found safe in hotels and homes.

The cruise ship plunged 1,700 feet to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean in the Bahamas Saturday morning after fire swept her so suddenly no distress call was heard.

"We looked back," said Margaret Farrell of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who was in a lifeboat. "There was a mass of red flames, then gray smoke, then nothing."

The U.S. Coast Guard sent two officers to Nassau, Bahamas, to see if they could learn what caused the holocaust aboard the vessel that left Miami Friday night for Nassau with 376 passengers and a crew of 174.

The Coast Guard investigators also are interested in learning what steps were taken to fight the fire and preserve life. Only four of her lifeboats were launched and some passengers complained of inadequate safety measures.

The Bahamas government also was considering probing the fate of the white-hulled steamer that had brought thousands of vacationers to the picturesque island capital.

It was to Nassau that rescue vessels brought survivors, some blanket-wrapped and bandaged, Saturday after breaking off a vigil 60 miles at sea for other survivors. Daylight showed only empty boats and debris.

"Negative sightings," a Coast Guard cutter reported finally on Sunday.

"All the missing persons are presumed lost — drowned, burned or trapped on the ship when she went down," said Lt. William Wilson, Coast Guard search and rescue coordinator in Miami.

The steamer Yarmouth, sister ship to the Yarmouth Castle, made ready to leave Miami at 4:45 p.m. today on its regular four-day cruise to the Bahamas.

"A lot of people got sore Saturday when we canceled the cruise," said Leo Rosen, a spokesman for Yarmouth Cruises Inc. He said advance bookings made for Yarmouth Castle cruises would be honored.

Along with the Yarmouth Castle and her victims went money, valuables, and in most cases clothing of the passengers who awoke in their staterooms, groped in nightclothes through smoky corridors and tumbled into lifeboats or slid down ropes into the sea.

Agents of the steamer's owners set up an office at a Miami hotel to note claims, arrange transportation and cash checks for survivors.

In another operation, locksmiths picked the door locks of automobiles some cruise passengers parked at the Miami dock and made keys to replace those lost on the Yarmouth Castle.

Resignation Is Effective Immediately

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin, citing his frustration of not being able to get his team "over the hump," resigned today as coach of the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League.

The former great pro quarterback for the Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles said he would not reconsider his decision, which stunned Viking officials, his assistant coaches and players.

Van Brocklin's sudden resignation came on the heels of Sunday's disappointing 41-21 loss to Baltimore, which knocked the Vikings out of title contention.

"I want to get out of football now and I have no intention of reconsidering," Van Brocklin said.

His resignation led to immediate speculation that he might be considering a move to Atlanta, which has been awarded an NFL franchise for next season but has hired a coach.

Van Brocklin spiked this, however, saying, "I'm not doing this to angle for any other coaching job. I know my name has been mentioned for the Atlanta job, but this is it, the end, in coaching for me."

The volatile coach summoned three Twin Cities sports writers to his office at 10 a.m. and broke the news to them, apparently without telling anyone in the Viking organization. The writers cover Viking games.

General Manager Jim Finks was not immediately available for comment. But one of the club's directors, B.H. Ridder Jr. of St. Paul said:

"There has to be a way for him to reconsider. I know how depressed he must feel over losing the Colt game. But Norm Van Brocklin is a great coach. He's done everything we've ever asked him to."

Club directors, reluctant to take his decision as final, went into immediate secret session presumably in an effort to get him to reconsider.

Van Brocklin told the writers: "I don't know what I'm going to do for a living. But it won't be in football. In football, I don't want any executive job. I'm not a desk man."

"I haven't talked to anybody about it except my wife. I have nothing but the highest regard for the owners and fans and players. I was permitted to coach as I wanted to."

"I talked it over with Gloria (his wife) all Sunday night. I decided I just couldn't go on as Viking coach. I thought this team could win the championship. It's pretty plain that it's not going to do it with me as coach."

"I've taken the team as far as I can. I can't get the team over the hump. It's been going this way for five years. We come to a big game and we blow it. I've gone as far as I can go. Maybe another guy can do it."

Viking President Max Winter, who talked to Van Brocklin about the upcoming NFL draft in the Minnesota dressing room following Sunday's 41-21 loss to Baltimore, was shocked.

"It knocked me off my chair," Winter said. "Is he serious about it? It means we're losing the best coach in football."

"I appreciate the owners' feelings," Van Brocklin said, "but now that I've done this I'm not going to change. Of course I regret leaving, but I don't want to go year-in and year-out waiting to get three or four new guys in the draft. We're just floundering around."

Asked about a successor, Van Brocklin said he would like to see his offensive line coach, Walt Yowarsky, get the job.

Yowarsky has been with Van Brocklin and the Vikings since the club was admitted to the NFL for the 1961 season.

Van Brocklin came to the Vikings in 1961, the Vikings, first year in the NFL. He had retired as a player after quarterbacking the Philadelphia Eagles to the NFL title in 1960.

The Vikings compiled a 23-33-3 won-lost record in the NFL in the four and one-half seasons under Van Brocklin.

He piloted the Vikings to a 3-11 mark in their first year in the loop. The Vikings were 2-11-1 in 1962, and 5-8-1 the following year.

A strong finish last year enabled Minnesota to tie Green Bay for runnerup honors in the west behind Baltimore with an 8-5-1 mark.

1st Cavalry Battles Reds Near Cambodia

IA DRANG VALLEY, South Viet Nam (AP) — B-52 bombers pounded rear positions of a North Vietnamese regiment today as two American infantry battalions continued to slug it out with the Communist enemy in heavy fighting near the Cambodian border.

Two battalions of 1st Air Cavalry Division's 7th Regiment — an outfit that followed Gen. George Custer into the Battle of the Little Big Horn — held their own through 32 hours of at-times savage fighting.

At least 129 enemy bodies were counted and as many as 150 more were believed to litter the battlefield in front of the American lines.

U.S. casualties were termed moderate, but it required more than a dozen helicopters to take out the American wounded. Most of the dead still were in the battle zone. It was too dangerous for helicopters to fly except on urgent missions.

The American troops captured from 60 to 70 automatic weapons of every kind during three major assaults by members of the North Vietnamese 304th Division which infiltrated into South Viet Nam earlier this year.

The B-52s hammered at an area of the more than two square miles where a main element of the North Vietnamese force was believed located. The U.S. cavalry men pulled back before the air attack.

In earlier air action, North Vietnamese gunners blasted a U.S. A-1E Skyraider out of the sky, a U.S. military spokesman reported. The pilot was killed when the plane exploded near the battleground 200 miles north of Saigon in the central highlands.

Most of the U.S. force was inside a narrow, heavily wooded valley while North Vietnamese units held the high ground.

Sniper fire was intense during the lulls between North Vietnamese attacks. American casualties mounted by the hour.

Three North Vietnamese battalions — about 2,000 men — were engaging the U.S. troops and it was possible that others were waiting farther back.

The fighting broke out Sunday afternoon after one battalion of the 1st Cavalry's 7th Regiment was lifted in for an assault. Another battalion was thrown into the battle today.

Lifeboats Wouldn't Work

Young Minnesota Woman Survives Cruise Ship Fire

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A secretary from the Twin Cities suburb of White Bear Lake was recovering today from what started as a two-week vacation and ended abruptly when fire swept her cruise ship, the Yarmouth Castle.

"The crew couldn't get the lifeboats down. One got stuck part way and I think another one sank," said 22-year-old Terrell K. Elliseuson, telling of the disaster in which perhaps 90 of the 549 passengers were feared dead.

"One crew member said we might as well give up hope and die because this was it," Miss Elliseuson told the Minneapolis Tribune in a telephone interview.

She and a friend, Sandy Munzert, 21, St. Louis, Mo., were traveling together from Miami, Fla., to Nassau, Bahamas, on the ship.

A young man took off his life jacket and gave it to Miss Munzert who could not swim.

The girls, on a two-week vacation together, slid down a line into the water, where they remained about 45 minutes before being picked up by a lifeboat from the Bahama Star.

"We were wearing our nightgowns. Some people jumped in without clothes," Miss Elliseuson said. "One man went back to their cabin for his wife, but she had burned to death. It was awful—you just can't imagine."

Miss Elliseuson said her first inkling of disaster came after "my girl friend heard a crash, but we thought some member of the crew had dropped something. Then I smelled smoke."

"I opened the door of our cabin, but the hall was full of smoke. You couldn't see a thing—you just couldn't see. I smashed the porthole with my fist. It was the only way to get out. It was either that or stay and die."

Also rescued from the ship were Mr. and Mrs. John H. Houshens of suburban Mendota Heights. Houshens is an attorney and claims superintendent for St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co.

Young Ice Skater Drowns

MOUND, Minn. (AP) — Michael R. Cheney Jr., 12, of rural Mound, drowned in four feet of water Sunday when he fell through thin ice while skating on Lake Minnetonka near this Hennepin County community.

Residents heard his cries and saw him fall through. But officers were delayed in reaching the boy by the thin ice, one-half to three-fourths inch thick.

Abolishing Reserves Draws Congress Ire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers says the Defense Department's immediate elimination of 751 Army Reserve units "probably is legal, but it isn't the intent of Congress."

Rivers, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, was reached Sunday night at his home in Charleston, S.C., following Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's announcement of the cutback.

The McNamara action affects 65,000 men in more than a dozen states, including Rivers' own South Carolina.

The Senate Armed Services Committee that the secretary delay any such action until next March.

Most members of that committee couldn't be reached, but one, Republican Margaret Chase Smith, said at her home in Skowhegan, Maine, that the decision was "very disturbing."

She said, however, that she had been traveling over the weekend, and hadn't had time to analyze the full McNamara statement issued Saturday night.

Rivers, who feuded with McNamara earlier this year over Defense Department plans to merge the Reserve into the National Guard, said his committee will examine the elimination and all laws regarding the reserves when Congress reconvenes in January.

Rivers said he believes some realignment of units is in order, but that he opposes widespread elimination of units or McNamara's earlier proposals for abolition of the Reserves.

The Saturday announcement referred to the merger controversy by saying: "The inactivation does not involve any merger or consolidation of the Army Reserve into the National Guard."

A FAREWELL ACT . . . Harry Flood Byrd who resigned from the Senate last week, Sunday closed out his career with a characteristic gesture — he returned $549.99 to the government. At his home in Berryville, Virginia, the senior Byrd signed a paper waiving a claim to the money which represented the unused remainder of his senatorial stationery account. Standing is Harry F. McNAMARA CONCERNED

Communications Checkup Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has ordered a meticulous checkup of all the military communications and power systems to make certain they cannot be knocked out by the kind of power breakdown which darkened much of the U.S. Northeast last week.

The military communications and power setup operated smoothly during that unprecedented blackout.

However, sources said McNamara and other defense officials had felt it advisable to check the systems worldwide to be sure they are as invulnerable to interruption as they are supposed to be.

In the affected Northeast area, all U.S. Air, Navy and Army installations switched automatically to backup power last Tuesday night when the civilian community went dark and their commercial sources were broken off.

The Strategic Air Command and the North American Air Defense Command both found that their auxiliary systems worked effectively. In fact, military installations were in position to offer help to the civilian community.

Since the McNamara administration took over in the Pentagon nearly five years ago, there has been great emphasis on assuring uninterrupted communications which are essential in the atomic-nuclear age to effective defense and quick command reaction.

A system of redundancy has been built in everywhere. This means that there is never reliance on a single source of power or a single communications network. Everything has at least one and often several alternate arrangements.

This year alone the Defense Department is spending about $700 million on improving the intricate communications network.

Officials are reluctant to go on record as saying with complete assurance that the hot line between Washington and Moscow can never be knocked out. They have claimed such invulnerability to interruptions, but the Northeast blackout has made them more cautious, although they say they have no reason to believe there are any weak links in the line.

Winter Spreads Across Europe

LONDON (AP) — Winter weather spread across Europe today, blocking roads and snarling traffic from the Atlantic to Siberia and from the North Cape to the Riviera. In many places snow, ice and freezing temperatures came earlier in the year than ever before recorded.

Snow, ice or freezing fog covered most of Britain. Snowplows were out in Devon, southwestern England, clearing a six-inch weekend snowfall on Dartmoor.

McNamara Killed Peace Proposal, Severeid Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The late United Nations Ambassador Adlai Stevenson was quoted today as having said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara twice opposed proposals by United Nations Secretary-General U Thant for negotiating a cease-fire in Viet Nam.

This account was written by Eric Severeid, radio and TV news commentator, for Look magazine.

Severeid reports a talk he had with Stevenson shortly before ambassador died suddenly in London.

Severeid writes that during his talk with Stevenson, the ambassador told him:

"In the early autumn of 1964, 'he' (Stevenson) went on, U Thant, the UN secretary-general, had privately obtained agreement from authorities in North Viet Nam that they would send an emissary to talk with an American emissary, in Rangoon, Burma."

"Someone in Washington insisted that this attempt be postponed until after the presidential election. When the election was over, U Thant again pursued the matter; Hanoi was still willing to send its man. But Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, Adlai went on, flatly opposed the attempt. He said the South Vietnamese government would have to be informed and that this would have a demoralizing effect on them; that government was shaky enough, as it was."

"Stevenson told me that U Thant was furious over this failure of his patient efforts, but said nothing publicly."

McNamara issued a statement saying it was "totally false" that he on two occasions in the fall and winter of 1964 opposed peace talks with North Viet Nam.

Levy Decreases

Trempealeau Board Increases Budget

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — The Trempealeau County Board of Supervisors Friday adopted a 1966 budget of $846,280, an increase of $43,443 over last year, and a tax levy of $748.757, an increase of $194 from the levy voted in November 1964.

Badger Region Planning Group To Name Firm

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — A planning consultant firm has been recommended tentatively by the Mississippi River Regional Planning Commission.

It would make a study of the seven-county area and provide a plan for orderly development of the region, which consists of Buffalo, Pierce, Pepin, Trempealeau, La Crosse, Vernon and Crawford counties.

A report on the commission's progress was made to the Buffalo County Board of Supervisors last week.

COUNTY representatives are Arthur Hitt, Alma; Mayor Gaylord Schultz, Mondovi; and Arthur Wolfe, Fountain City, newly appointed to succeed Earl Blank, Cochrane, resigned.

The annual budget of the commission is $10,000, toward which Buffalo County provides $660 per year.

One-third the funds for the study would be provided by the local commission, and two-thirds by 701 federal planning funds. Approximately 10 percent of state funds could be made available through the Department of Resource Development to supplement the county and federal money.

A TENTATIVE schedule of a two-year study, being planned at the present time, would include mapping; population, economic and land use analyses; general transportation and regional facilities plans; land use controls, model zoning and model subdivision regulation, and special studies.

The regional commission will not supersede or take the place of any county, town, village or city government or any planning commission. Its functions are of a research, planning and advisory nature.

It will prepare general, comprehensive plans of the river basin area and tributaries for the counties included in the region.

THE COMMISSION will conduct all types of research studies; collect and analyze data; prepare maps, charts and tables, and conduct all necessary studies for the accomplishment of its duties. It may make plans for the physical, recreational and economical development of the region; employ research and technical counsel; contract with agencies of government for river basin area surveys on planning problems within the region, and cooperate with public and private agencies in matters relative to its functions and objectives.

Educator Tells Why He Likes His Profession

Sources of pride in the teaching profession, which he has been serving for 37 years, were cited by Rochester school administrator Laurel Pennock in an American Education Week banquet address here Saturday night.

A Winona State College graduate now principal of Thomas Jefferson Elementary School in Rochester, Pennock spoke at a banquet sponsored by the Winona Education Association as the final event of Winona's observance of Education Week.

ABOUT 170 local educators and guests attended the banquet at Krysko Commons on the Winona State College campus where John Duell, president of the Winona Education Association, served as master of ceremonies for the evening program.

A past director of the National Education Association who is now executive secretary of the Elementary Principals Association, Pennock told the banquet audience that in the teaching profession "many of us have had a share in improving our image."

He asked educators to recall the many remarks once said about teachers but which aren't heard much any more, among them, "She looks like a teacher."

THE THEME of Pennock's address was "I Am Proud of the Teaching Profession! — Are You?" and he asserted, "I am proud to be a member of a profession in which the American people approve of the quality of education they are receiving in the nation's public schools."

In his case, Pennock said, "Teaching has offered so many opportunities to welcome young teachers into the profession — regular teachers just entering the field, student teachers doing their practice work — and this helps you to keep thinking young."

It's a pleasure, he continued, to be working in a profession which today offers so many challenges and one in which opportunities are afforded to do something different, to develop creativity and adaptability.

"TEACHING has taught me to be continuously a seeker of knowledge," he said in citing the need for intellectual curiosity in a good teacher.

He referred to a nationwide survey in which parents were asked to list in order of importance the five qualities they believed were most important in a good teacher.

"I'm proud to be a member of a profession in which 'patience' is listed as the No. 1 quality parents desire in a good teacher."

A sense of humor, he noted, was listed as the second most important attribute and Pennock commented, "I sincerely believe that there is no other profession where it is so easy to have a sense of humor than in teaching where you're working daily with children."

HE SAID he was proud to be a member of a profession which, as time moves along, "receives so many 'fringe benefits' from students you have taught . . . and I'm proud of a profession which has given me the privileges of learning to much from truly great teachers."

During the banquet program vocal numbers were presented by H. O. Christen, accompanied by Jonelle Millam.

Disappointing Deer Season Ending Today

Many hunters in Southeastern Minnesota will put away their shotguns this evening without having any venison hanging in the garage to cure.

The three-day, any-deer season, closing at sunset today, is going down on deer hunting records as a very disappointing one. The percentage of success, although not established yet, will run about 10 to 15 percent, or one deer for every 10 hunters, wardens estimate.

UNFAVORABLE weather and a low deer population are the most common reasons advanced. Whatever the cause, the shotgun hunters did not bring home the venison.

The sudden cold snap kept the deer bedded down, that was an excuse in the Whitewater region for the three days. Down in Houston County they claimed the deer were resting and feeding in the large number of unharvested corn fields.

"The deer are simply not here," was the seasoned explanation of Willis Kruger, Wabasha County warden. Only one fifth as many deer as a year ago were hanging in locker plants there.

In Winona one locker plant had 50 deer, or 15 more than a year ago, while the Rollingstone plant was about the same as 1964. Rushford and Houston plants reported fewer deer.

VIOLATIONS were plentiful. Wardens in Wabasha County made 26 arrests Saturday and Sunday, mostly for uncased guns in cars. Two rifle hunters were caught.

Two 15-year-old Rochester youths reported to Warden Kruger that their 10-point buck had been stolen from near their tent camp. It was the first deer either boy had killed. It fell in the Zumbro River near Mazzeppa. The boys pulled it out of the river, to their campsite, dressed it and hung it from a tree branch to cool overnight. Sunday morning they found the deer was gone.

Hunting pressure was way down today. The season was over for most hunters, but a few packed up, took their rifles down and headed for the north woods where the season runs through next Sunday.

Parked Vehicles Involved in City Collisions

Three Saturday accidents, all involving parked vehicles, caused $950 damage but no injuries, police reported today.

David M. Chouinard, 23, 4145 8th St., Goodview, was driving west on West 2nd Street, 150 feet west of Washington Street when he collided with a car parked at the north curb facing west.

DAMAGE was $400 to the front of the Chouinard car and

Deer Shiners Hit Youth at Stockton

A 19-year-old Winona County youth was treated for an apparently minor gunshot wound early today at Community Memorial Hospital after he was mistaken for a deer by "deer shiners" south of Stockton late Sunday night.

Sheriff George L. Fort is investigating the incident reported to him early today by Gene W. Gile, rural Minneska.

GILE TOLD the sheriff that he had driven to his father's abandoned farm in Goggin's Valley south of Stockton Sunday night and parked his car on the farm driveway near a waste out.

Seeing a light in a nearby field about 11:55 p.m., Gile walked into the field to investigate. He was about 40 feet from his car when a flashlight was shined at him, Gile told the sheriff from a car on the road.

A shot was fired, ripping through the outside of Gile's upper right arm; and the youth threw himself to the ground to avoid any further gunfire. The car, he said, drove away without its occupants trying to find out what they had hit.

GILE WAS DRIVEN to the sheriff's office by a companion, Barbara Horihan, 20, 255 E. Broadway.

Sheriff Fort alerted his patrol car, which was near Lewiston at 12:25 a.m., to try to apprehend the alleged "deer shiners," but no trace of the vehicle was found. There are at least four different ways the shiners could have left the valley, however, Sheriff Fort pointed out.

Deputy Sheriff John Jensen applied a bandage to Gile's wound as first aid—although not much bleeding had occurred.

The sheriff took Gile to the hospital where a doctor cleaned and sewed up the wound.

"THE BULLET made a hole about the size of a pencil, the sheriff said, in the front part of Gile's right arm, about four inches below the shoulder. The slug came out about an inch behind the point of entry making a hole roughly three times larger, according to the sheriff.

Aside from the fact that it was probably larger than .22-caliber, Sheriff Fort said he could not say what kind of firearm fired the bullet.

He said that he will investigate the scene of the shooting today and talk further with the doctor who treated Gile.

Contractor Sues For $1,600 Bill

Plaintiff Donald D. Walchak took the stand today in District Court with the task, as his lawyer had just told the jury, of proving he was not paid in full for work he did on a concrete block building last fall.

Walchak, 1741 W. Wabasha St., is suing Jerome J. and Jerome D. Borzyskowski, both of 827 E. 4th St., to recover $1,600 allegedly not paid him for work on a 40-foot by 40-foot building.

THE PLAINTIFF said that he contracted with the Borzyskowskis in September, 1964 for the building, which was to be 14 feet high, have 3-foot footings, a cement floor 4 inches thick, have three overhead doors and three walk-in doors.

Attorney William A. Lindquist, representing Walchak, introduced a copy of the contract in evidence. It is undated and signed by Walchak and Jerome D. Borzyskowski. The elder Borzyskowski was present for the signing, Walchak testified. Walchak was to do the entire job for a price of $4,315.

The plaintiff testified that he subcontracted the digging of a trench for the footings. This was completed Oct. 2, 1964, Walchak said, and he immediately began work to pour the footings and foundation wall.

THIS WORK took about two weeks. It was as he began to lay cement blocks for the walls that he consulted with both Borzyskowskis to determine where they wanted the specified openings.

The contract included provision for 200 glass blocks to be used as windows, Walchak said. He testified that this would be enough for four windows.

At this point, the Borzyskowskis asked for changes in the original contract, according to Walchak.

They asked for a partition wall inside the building, one big overhead door instead of three small ones, three additional walk-in doors and 200 additional glass blocks (which meant four more windows), Walchak told the jury.

THESE REQUESTS, made over the space of a week, Walchak agreed to accommodate. He was not working from a blueprint or any written plan anyway, he said.

No mention of money was made when these changes were agreed to, Walchak maintained.

Lindquist had been diagramming the plan of the building, according to the original contract, on a display easel. When he asked Walchak whether the latter could sketch in the changes on this diagram, Attorney Roger P. Brosnahan, representing the Borzyskowskis, objected.

JUDGE ARNOLD Hatfield recessed the court for lunch without ruling on Brosnahan's objection. The defendants' attorney argued that there was no foundation for Walchak to attempt to show that changes had been made in the contract specifications.

Jurors in the case are: LeRoy Greenwood, Mrs. Clayton G. Fosburgh, Henry Fabian, Mrs. Lillian Woods, Mrs. Muriel M. Oikand, Mrs. Richard D. Braithwaite, George Bliskemper, Seymour R. Wedde, Gene F. Dondlinger, Mrs. Maurice A. Godsey, Gerald W. Nelson and Raymond A. Knopf.

Two Sentenced For Assault; Two Hospitalized

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — Two men pleaded guilty to simple assault before Judge Kenneth Kalbrenner here Friday. Each paid a $50 fine.

Dahl Edelman, 22, Waterville, and Will Severson, 30, Zumbro Falls, were arrested by Wabasha County Sheriff Ed Lager and Deputy Everett Lorenz after they were called to the Neptune Bar, Zumbro Falls, Wednesday at 9 p.m. The men were charged with assaulting Elmer Luhnmann, rural Lake City, and Sylvester Kuhl, Zumbro Falls, who were taken to Lake City Municipal Hospital.

Luhnmann received a cut eyebrow and injury to the eye and Kuhl received severe lacerations and a possible skull fracture.

Mrs. Fredrick Lueder of Madison was honored as the "Buffalo County Friend of 4-H." Mrs. Lueder is the former Pauline Poehler who was home economics agent for Buffalo County for 15 years.

During those years she was interested in 4-H and other youth programs. She promoted 4-H knitting and crafts projects, she worked on and improved the 4-H camping program, provided training needed by the adult 4-H Leaders to make a strong 4-H program in Buffalo County.

Council to Get Recommendation For Inspector

The City Council, at its regular meeting tonight, faces a full agenda.

Among items to be taken up by aldermen are a proposal by Ald. Neil Sawyer to hire a full-time housing inspector and a further letter on junkyard control by the city attorney.

City Engineer James Baird will propose a program for enclosing sections of Gilmore Creek in concrete pipe, permitting greater development of adjacent areas at Gilmore Avenue and west of Junction Street. The plan, it is suggested, would extend over several years.

Street Commissioner Arthur Brom will provide an ordinance relating to removal of vehicles for street cleaning.

The council also meets with the Board of Education for further discussion of sites for the proposed vocational-technical school.

CD Volunteers Asked to Meeting

A meeting for all Winonans interested in serving with the local civil defense (CD) organization or in learning more about it will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m., CD Director George K. McGuire announced today.

McGuire said that the feature of the meeting would be a film showing how CD functioned during the Cuban missile crisis of 1962. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of Central Junior High School, Broadway and Washington Street.

The film, "That Week in October," will be followed by a general discussion of CD with several of the city organization's chiefs of staff on hand to answer questions, according to McGuire.

The local organization is divided into sections with specific tasks, such as shelter management, transportation, communication and the like. Each section has a chief of staff, McGuire explained.

Although the meeting is open to the public at large, McGuire said, he extended a special invitation to interested college students and high school seniors.

Part of St. Stanislaus School to Be Occupied

Classes for six of the eight grades at St. Stanislaus School will get back to normal at 8 a.m. Wednesday when 240 students will occupy a newly completed section of the school.

The Zumbro Street section, one of two phases of the $450,000 school building program at the church, will house eight classrooms for the first through the fourth grades.

THE CARLONNA Street section of the school is slated for completion in early 1966. This section, with a basement, will include eight classrooms and meeting rooms for the band.

and grades three and four in two classrooms in the 1952 building.

Grades seven and eight have been meeting in half-day, four-hour sessions in the 1952 building. Grades seven and eight will now be able to meet for full-day sessions in the 1962 building.

Grades five will continue to attend Madison School and grade six will continue to meet at Cotter High School.

17 to Leave Tuesday for Army Induction

The largest number of Winona County men to be sent for induction through selective service since the beginning of the current international emergency will leave Winona Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Gladys Duxbury, clerk in the selective service office here, said today that 17 registrants will go to Minneapolis for induction. Another 37 will be aboard the same bus leaving at 5:45 a.m. for pre-induction examinations.

The number of inductees is 10 below the selective service call for November, Mrs. Duxbury noted. She explained that 27 had been available for filling the quota but that the number of eligibles was reduced by enlistment and college deferment.

The county also failed to fill its quota in October when the call was for 11. Eight were sent for induction and two were rejected.

The contingent will go to Minneapolis for induction and pre-induction examinations.

Mrs. Duxbury said that most of those inducted in Minneapolis recently have been sent to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., for basic training.

Registered Herd Lost in Farm Fire at Taylor

TAYLOR, Wis. (Special) — A fire of undetermined origin Saturday night completely destroyed the large modern barn and prize-winning herd of 50 registered Guernsey cows on the Douglas Curran farm halfway between Taylor and Hixton on Highway 95.

Curran's daughter, Marilyn, student at the University of Wisconsin, was home for the weekend from Madison. Shortly after her parents left for Black River Falls at 10 p.m., she discovered the fire and called Hixton firemen. The Black River Falls department also was called.

The 40- by 100-foot barn was full of hay. Also destroyed were eight calves, a bull, all modern milking equipment, bulk tank, machine shed, some machinery, garage, feed and grain. The direction of the wind saved the house.

Gilman Bergh, who was with the Currans at Black River Falls when they learned of the fire, said a conservative estimate of the loss was in the neighborhood of $50,000. Curran said he had some insurance. Because of the rapid destruction, he said it was impossible to tell where the blaze started. No one was injured.

Curran, former director of Farmers Home Administration for Trempealeau and Jackson counties, is president of the Jackson County Fair Association.

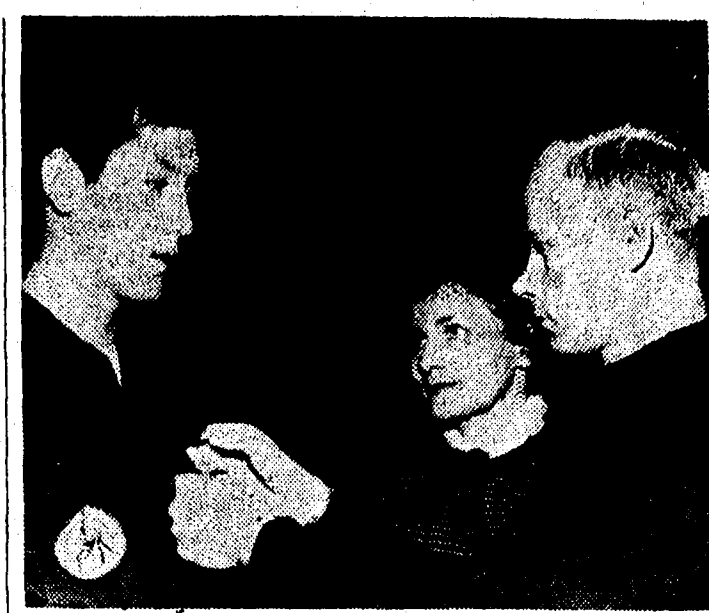

Father Pleads Not Guilty to Support Charge

Daniel A. Borkowski, 42, 850 W. 5th St., pleaded not guilty today in municipal court to a charge of not supporting his 8-year-old daughter since Oct. 1.

Judge John D. McGill continued the case to Nov. 29 to allow Borkowski time to consult an attorney. He should be prepared to stand trial shortly after the 29th, the judge warned Borkowski.

Borkowski told Judge McGill that he had given his former wife, Helen Borkowski Brewer, enough money in July to support their daughter until the end of this month.

The judge released Borkowski on his own recognizance pending his next appearance in court.

Spring Grove Man Killed in Crash

SPRING GROVE, Minn. — A 44-year-old Spring Grove area bachelor was killed in a one-car accident on Houston County Road 8 about 1 1/4 miles west of Spring Grove Sunday night.

Alvin G. Storlie apparently died instantly of a broken neck about an hour before he was found, according to Dr. L. A. Knutson, Spring Grove, acting coroner. He also had facial injuries.

HE BECAME the fourth fatality of the year in Houston County, according to Sheriff Byron Whitehouse.

Storlie was proceeding alone northerly in his 1957 car on a straight gravel road. It traveled about 93 feet out of control, went into a skid for 29 feet, and hit a bank, which rolled the vehicle over onto its top in the ditch. He was not thrown.

The sheriff's office received a call at midnight from Jon Halverson, who lives nearby and was on his way home. Deputy L. W. Klug investigated.

Relatives said they didn't know where Storlie had been, but apparently he was on his way home about three miles northwest of Spring Grove, where he lived with his mother. A farmer, he wasn't married.

LITCHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — The three-day search for a retarded boy, reportedly unable to speak, ended Sunday as those who conducted it feared it would — with the finding of a body.

Edward Hendrickson, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hendrickson, who farm at nearby Kingston, was found dead in a swampy area of the August Wisanen farm about one mile northwest of the Hendrickson property.

David Helmi, 15, whose father is a member of the Bloomington Rescue Squad and a friend of the Hendrickson family, found the body frozen into about two feet of water. Temperatures had fallen into the low teens Saturday night.

Near Normal Temperatures Seen This Week

A weekend that brought the coldest weather of the fall season (16 Sunday morning) evaporated rapidly Sunday night with heavy cloudy cover and higher temperatures moving into the area and sending the thermometer to a warm 40 this morning. It still was only 41 at noon.

Mostly cloudy tonight and Tuesday is the prediction for Winona and vicinity with the chance of a few scattered showers. A low of 38-44 is predicted for tonight and a high of near 50 Tuesday.

COLDER with little or no precipitation is the outlook for Wednesday.

A week of near normal temperatures is predicted for Winona and vicinity. Daily highs will average 35 to 41 and nighttime lows 18-25, said the extended forecast, predictions for the next five days.

It'll be a little colder Tuesday and Wednesday, warmer Thursday and Friday and then colder again next weekend, said the forecast. Little or no precipitation is forecast for the area in the next five days, although up to one-quarter of an inch in occasional rain and snow is expected in the north and central regions of the state.

The low temperature previous to Sunday morning was 18 on Nov. 10.

THE TEMPERATURES rose to a high of 39 Saturday afternoon and just about the freezing mark on Sunday. First ice appeared in the quiet backwaters of the river sloughs and small lake and ponds in the area.

The temperature rose to 69 on this day last year and dropped to 38. Rain amounting to .11 of an inch fell. The alltime high for Nov. 15 was 64 in 1930 and 1953 and the low for the day was 3 in 1883 and 1940. Mean for the past 24 hours was 36. Normal for this day is 34.

Most of the state experienced cloudy weather today with the 24-hour low at Rochester 31 and the high 35. At La Crosse temperature extremes were 30 and 36. Lowest state reading was 23 at Bemidji.

Wintry weather gripped Wisconsin during the weekend and showed little improvement today.

Fair and cold weather, with a state high of 40 at Beloit, prevailed Sunday. Clouds spread over all of the state Sunday night and precipitation moved across northern sections, generally in the form of freezing rain, at times mixed with sleet and snow.

Park Falls had .23 inch of precipitation, Wausau .16, Eau Claire .04, Green Bay .03 and Superior .01.

TEMPERATURES were well below the seasonal normals Sunday. Beloit was the only spot to reach the 40 mark. Racine had a high of 37, Madison 35, Milwaukee and Eau Claire 34, Green Bay 31, Wausau 31, Superior 29 and Park Falls 28.

The overnight low was at Park Falls. Other minimum temperatures included Green Bay 24, Milwaukee, Madison, Lone Rock and Park Falls 23, Superior 26, Wausau 28, Beloit 29 and Eau Claire and Racine 30.

It was most cloudy throughout the state at 8 a.m. today with a freezing drizzle at Superior and light rain at Green Bay.

THE NATIONAL extremes were 87 at Presidio, Tex., and 14 at Phillipsburg Pa.

Encouraged by bright fall weather, an estimated 5,000 people trooped through the new Linahan's Inn Sunday in a day-long open house exposition.

Some parts of the new 80-unit motor hotel, still days away from completion, were cordoned off. Several completed rental units were open, as were the dining room, cocktail lounge, coffee shop and kitchen.

Tuesday will be the motel's first business day, according to William Linahan, president of Linahan's Inn, Inc., and general manager. Dining room facilities will open at 5 p.m. Approximately 50 guest rooms will be ready for use, Linahan said, with the balance becoming available later. Still to be completed are four double suites and some other interior finishing.

The coffee shop will open Wednesday at 6:30 a.m. It will be open seven days a week, Linahan said. The dining room will be open every day except Sunday, according to present plans.

The full force of 50 employees will begin work Tuesday, Linahan said. R. F. Potratz, formerly with Hotel Winona, is assistant manager.

Your Social Security

Q. I receive social security disability benefits. My wife and daughter were entitled until February when my daughter became age 18. I understand that my daughter can get benefits again as a student under age 22. Does this mean that my wife can get benefits again, also?

A. No. A wife is eligible only if she is age 62 or has a child under age 18 (or a disabled child) in her care who is receiving benefits. Benefits cannot be paid a mother whose only child receives benefits after 18 because he attends school.

Q. How will I know I am covered by the Medicare program?

A. If you are age 65 or over and getting social security or railroad retirement benefits, you qualify automatically for hospital insurance. An application for the medical insurance has been mailed to you. If you are 65 or over and have not filed for social security or railroad retirement, you should get in touch with your social security office.

Thoughts at Random — From Editor's Notebook

THE FEDERAL government, being referred to more and more as "Big Daddy," will do and is doing lots of things for lots of individuals and organizations but some of the policies of the Small Business Administration, for example, are just plain stupid.

SBA makes or participates in loans up to $350,000 for all sorts of things — ski slopes, bowling alleys, restaurants, and the like — and provides working capital for plant construction, conversion or expansion, for machinery and other equipment. All well and good. But it refuses to loan small breweries a penny because its product is an alcoholic beverage.

The Fountain Brewery at Fountain City, Wis., recently declared bankrupt, undoubtedly could have been saved by a $75,000 small business loan. This would have been good business because when the brewery was in full operation, it paid $100,000 a year to Uncle Sam in revenue taxes. Think of it — a million dollars in ten years! Certainly seems to us that a loan of $75,000 to $100,000 would have been worth it.

Another example: Recently Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman ordered timber cutting in the Canadian boundary waters canoe area reduced by almost 50 percent. This at the same time the Small Business Administration was making loans to sawmills in the same area.

Did you know that it is perfectly possible now for a rural landowner to get federal cost-sharing funds for building a pond or lake on his property and have that body of water stocked, free of charge, with fingerlings from federal fish hatcheries, that you can get government loans for buying boats, clearing camping grounds and building lodges for fishermen?

But nary a cent for a small brewery which would return $100,000 a year in revenue taxes!

THE CHAMBER OF Commerce has thrown in the sponge on Steamboat Days, our highly successful summer promotion which draws thousands of visitors and has given our beautiful city much favorable publicity.

Now, the question is, who is going to carry on? Should it be one organization such as the Winona Activity Group or a combination of all civic organizations—the Chamber of Commerce has excluded itself—such as the Jaycees, Lions, Rotary, Exchange and Kiwanis clubs, some of the more active women's groups and perhaps even younger groups such as the Boy Scouts or other Community Chest supported organizations.

Perhaps a non-profit corporation should be formed to sponsor this event which has come to be known as one of the state's outstanding summer festivals and which promotes Winona as a scenic area and home of our now-famous Steamboat Museum.

It would be a shame to see this event go by the boards.

How about some Letters to the Editor with constructive suggestions as to how we can keep our great summer celebration going — and make it even better?

THE BEST ARGUMENT we can make against closing of more Milwaukee Railroad crossings is the situation which has developed with the temporary closing of Franklin Street for repairs — now in its fifth week.

To reach the Daily News plant, for example, if you live north of the tracks, you must drive six blocks out of your way east to cross at Hamilton street or five blocks out of your way west to cross at Main.

The delays in repairing the Franklin Street crossing, one of the city's most important thoroughfares, are intolerable.

Fortunately, the City Council has shelved the controversy over more crossing closings for the time being.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS in Viet Nam have developed a strange tongue compounded of American slang, military jargon, garbled Japanese, French and even Vietnamese, reports the New York Times.

The soldiers call the Viet Cong "Charles," a contraction of Victor Charlie, which is V.C. in the U.S. military alphabet.

Occidental women are "round-eyed chicks" or "Babes." Orientals are "slopes" or "slants."

But the most popular phrase, successor to "that's the way the ball bounces" of Korean vintage is "sorry about that." It is the popular rejoinder to all tales of confusion, frustration and woe.

From the Japanese, the GI's have picked up "number one" as an expression of approval, and "number ten" as one of disapproval. These two phrases seem to have been learned by every Vietnamese in Saigon. "You Number One," says the cab driver if given a good tip. "You Number Ten" says the street vendor if his books are not bought.

"Hootch" means tent or hut or apartment, apparently derived from the Japanese hutsu, or house.

HOW A NEWSPAPER is damned if it does, and damned if it doesn't, was neatly demonstrated the other day by Charles Withers, Rochester Post-Bulletin editor.

When it was revealed that a number of employees of the Rochester Public Utility Board had allegedly misappropriated some of the city's public property, the newspaper published the names of the employees — since the names were publicly given by the Public Examiner.

The newspaper received a number of telephone calls from people berating the newspaper for publishing the names. The callers said publication of the names had "humiliated and ruined" the families of the employees, that it wasn't a very serious offense, and the accused "good guys."

After the utility board punished the employees with a three-week suspension without pay, the newspaper received many calls from people who said the "gutless" utility board merely "slapped the wrist" of the "thieves"; that much harsher punishment was warranted, and why didn't the newspaper do something about the whitewash?

The moral: You can't win.

THOUSANDS OF older persons, it is reported, are passing up a real bargain on Medicare. Thus far, about 12 percent of those replying have refused the doctor coverage which begins next July at a cost of only $3 a month. The reasons given show some confusion. They already have private coverage (but it costs more), or they don't want to change doctors (there's no need to). Others give no reason, and officials suspect they may be getting bad advice from somebody.

If an older person elected "no," he can switch before March 31, 1966, by writing to Social Security Administration, P.O. Box 1363, Baltimore, Md. But be sure to state your social security number in the letter.

Try and Stop Me

Worshippers of Joe Di Maggio, Mickey Mantle, Stan Musial, and Sandy Koufax will have to admit that the most glittering baseball star of them all — in a class by himself — was George Herman Ruth—"The Babe." The Babe could generate more excitement by merely striking out than another player could by making a grand slam home run.

First Baseman Lou Gehrig—a baseball immortal himself—followed Babe Ruth in the lineup for years, and was frank enough to admit, "So long as I was the next hitter after the Babe, I could have stood on my head at the plate and nobody would have known the difference. When the Babe walked back to the bench on those matchstick legs of his — whether he had slammed out a homer or fanned—the fans were so busy buzzing about what the Babe had done that they paid absolutely no attention to the next batter."

Dominican Defense Chief Transfers Funds in U.S.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The secretary of defense of the Dominican Republic, Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, has transferred $53,410 from Miami to New York with notice of the transfer being sent to his former home at 4518 Gretna Street in Bethesda, Md.

This column has obtained a photostatic copy of the notice of transfer sent by the First National City Bank of New York to "Francisco J. Rivera" in Bethesda. The date of the transfer was June 14, 1965. It notes that "a check from the First National Bank of Miami credited to your account. Amount $53,410.00." The account number of the Dominican secretary of defense is 07615841.

From Dominican authorities it was learned that Commodore Rivera Caminero has been in the military services of the republic on a modest salary all his life. His salary as secretary of defense is about $600 a month.

THE FIRST National City Bank of New York has been the official banker for the Dominican Government for many years. Many Latin Americans have used Miami banks for depositing funds when they leave their country or when making transfers from their country.

Francisco J. Rivera Caminero was formerly naval attaché attached to the Dominican embassy in Washington, at which time he lived first at 4631 River Road, and later at 4518 Gretna Street, both in suburban Maryland. While there, a daughter was born to the Rivera family, and she was named "Gretna" for the street on which they lived.

Chief problem of the present interim Dominican government has been that President Hector Garcia Godoy, a moderate, has not been able to control his secretary of defense. This column reported Nov. 3 that the Pentagon had received "an intelligence report that Secretary of Defense Rivera Caminero was regrouping his forces around Santo Domingo as if planning a military takeover."

THE COLUMN also reported that "Rivera Caminero was in command all during the recent military rule and it was under him that political prisoners were taken out at night, shot, and then dumped into the river. It's become increasingly obvious that the United States will have to persuade the right-wing generals to step down in the same way it persuaded General Wessin Y Wessin, the right-wing junta commander, to go to Miami. Only then will peace, quiet and civilian government be restored to the beleaguered Dominican Republic.

Neutral observers emphasize that President Hector Garcia Godoy, who was picked by the United States to take over during the Dominican political imbroglio, is doing a statesmanlike job but that his chief problem remains the remnants of the old Dominican military junta under Rivera Caminero.

THE MOST famous fine ever assessed on a congressman for illegal hunting has not only been not pressed but finally cleared up.

It involves Rep. Bob Sikes of western Florida, a man who loves to hunt and who has taken a vigorous stand in Congress against any regulation of firearms under the Dodd bill. Sikes is a part-time major general in the reserves, and an expert with a shotgun. Hunting on the vast Alabama estate of Ex-Congressman Frank Boykin of Mobile in April 1964, Cong. Sikes, together with Gen. Nathan Twining, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Ed Ball of Jacksonville, Fla., and R. A. Learnard, vice president of Alcoa, was arrested for shooting turkey over a baited field.

Host of the hunt, Ex-Cong. Boykin, like a proper southern gentleman, didn't want to trouble his guests over the hunting violation so sent Dick Boykin to the county courthouse in Chatham to pay the fines. It was all supposed to be handled very discreetly, but a reporter recognized the big names on the court record and wrote a story that went out on the Associated Press wire all over the country.

Sikes was all upset over the publicity and thereafter began a series of legal manipulations to change the court record. No less than the head of Alabama's game and fish department, Charles Kelley, came all the way from Montgomery to Chatham to be ready to testify in person that he was satisfied Sikes was innocent.

WASHINGTON CALLING

London to Glow For Christmas

By MARQUIS CHILDS

LONDON — They are preparing to give the affluent surface of this ancient capital a special glow for Christmas. The decorations in the West End shopping center are to be in a modern motif of brilliantly lighted stars, with Santa Claus and his reindeer relegated to the past.

But there is one prospect of the coming holiday season that inspires nothing less than dread. The worst traffic jams in London's history are fairly predictable. And given a pea-soup fog, rain and drizzle, which are surely predictable, the vital center will be frozen into immobility.

Cries of alarm, plans, proposals — these are heard on every hand. What to do about it with approximately one passenger car for every six persons and the greatest concentration in the London area is something else again. For what is happening here is a worldwide phenomenon — the strangulation of the cities by the mass-produced auto.

In the past year this reporter has observed the phenomenon with its resulting frustration, mounting cost and, certainly not least, the growing cloud of noxious fumes poisoning the air in cities around the globe. Rio de Janeiro suffers from wild traffic jams and, given certain atmospheric conditions, smog like that in Los Angeles. Rome rates near the top in traffic strangulation, with not two jams a day in narrow, historic streets but four. In Rome business people go home for lunch and shops and offices are shut for a three- or four-hour interval. Paris is high on the strangulation scale, and New York struggles in vain as streets are clogged with cars parked double and even triple.

The word crisis is much abused in our time, but it would seem to apply to the tyranny of the motorcar as it threatens the life of cities constantly expanding. The latest reports on air pollution and lung cancer indicate a heavy toll of cancer and emphysema in the not-too-distant future with the increasing concentration of poisons. The future of our urban civilization turns on whether an answer can be found.

OPENING UP the cities for more traffic with free ways and underpasses is almost inevitable self-defeating, since the number of cars constantly outstrips the very costly means taken to accommodate them. Three years ago London completed the Hyde Park Corner underpass at a cost of close to $15,000,000. This was the answer to one of the city's worst bottlenecks. Today, however, the jams that froze traffic at Hyde Park Corner are simply transferred to Piccadilly and Knightsbridge as the car population grows each month.

The remedy is freeways, underpasses and elevated highways is not only costly and self-defeating but all too often it destroys the character and the beauty of a city with every aspect of life subordinated to the juggernaut of the motorcar. Screams of rage arise as the engineers sweep away dwellings and ancient landmarks to carve out new unobstructed thoroughfares. Settled neighborhoods are abruptly transformed with the citizen having little or no recourse.

FOR THAT matter, snarled traffic has itself transformed urban life, and few would say for the better. The toll is not alone in the obvious score in lives in traffic deaths and in money lost through wasted time and motor fuel. One reason the tourist trade has dropped in Paris and Rome is believed to be the crush of traffic which visitors find intolerable. And tourism is an important factor in the economy of both France and Italy.

In desperation, other remedies are being sought. One proposal here is: No garage or off-street parking place — no auto license. This would presumably help to clear the streets. As one of the officials of the Ministry of Transport put it: "Why should you expect to keep your car in the public street any more than you

Says Conditions at Dog Pound "Terrible"

To the Editor: An acquaintance recently came into my store and during her stay began to talk about her experience in trying to get a dog for her child. She had read that there were some nice dogs at the dog pound at your City and wished to look at them but when she went there the conditions were so terrible not only dirty but unsanitary.

The dogs were eating rats, the grounds and houses were so filthy that she just turned around and left. Now the Humane Society should be notified about this and also the city officials. Some one is very negligent about his job and should be reprimanded severely.

Reader Disgusted With TV Reruns

To the Editor: It has been a long dreary day and all I had to do was to write letters and watch television. I wrote letters but the television programs were terrible. Some weeks ago we were promised something new.

All I can get is mostly old reruns and for a good part of the time the reruns are run two days in succession. Sometimes I could almost beat the speakers to the words. Then the stage is full of drippy nosed kids. They speak for most part like sixth grade kids in a country school.

The advertisers are right there to get their on the reruns and all. It is little more than a legalized racket. Whoever is responsible for this condition should be made to sit and watch the program for a full week. A day like this they have a captive audience.

I could count on the fingers of one hand every kid that does a real job of acting. We all know who they are so I will not mention any names.

Even some of the supposed leading characters talk like a country boy at a school lyceum.

Peter F. Loughrey

would expect to keep your grand piano or your mother-in-law parked in the street?"

ANOTHER remedy put forward in London as in other cities is to require that all commercial loading and unloading in the central city be done after peak traffic hours in the evening. That would keep out trucks and it is being considered as a temporary expedient against the threatening holiday breakdown.

This Advice She Just Didn't Give

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I recently read some advice in your column which just didn't sound like you, and it's bothered me ever since. A mother who signed "OUT-MANEUVORED" asked what to do about her two little boys, ages four and five, who'd sneak out of their beds in search of "goodies" after the family had retired. They'd get into the cupboards and refrigerator and help themselves to whatever was available. YOU told that mother to take the door off the boys' room and install a METAL GATE, which could be opened only from outside! Abby, I'm surprised at you. You should have told her it was time she started to discipline her boys. A mother can't lock up her kids until they leave for college.

DISAPPOINTED IN YOU

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: That advice didn't "sound like me," because I didn't write it. (It must have appeared in another column.) I wouldn't have told a mother to LOCK UP her kids because, if a fire should break out, it could be disastrous. There are some crimes for which people are sentenced to "burn" — but raiding the refrigerator is not one of them.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would say something to those merchants who start in with Christmas the day after Halloween. They should be ashamed of themselves for using the natal day of our Lord to boost their sales! Why, I haven't even started to plan my Thanksgiving when I have Christmas things shoved in front of me. With a two-month running start, Christmas is all worn out before it even gets here.

DISGUSTED IN NEWARK

DEAR ABBY: I have heard so many people complain that the merchants are starting so early to cash in on the Christmas season that Christmas has become just one big commercial sales promotion. Abby, I for one am so thankful that Christmas gifts, wrappings and ribbons are available in October because that's when I have to do my Christmas shopping. I have a son and daughter-in-law in Japan, and if they're to get their Christmas gifts in time, I must mail them no later than November 1. I couldn't enjoy my Christmas at home knowing my children were alone in a foreign country without their gifts. Please tell your readers not to think the merchants are trying to make all they can out of Christmas. They are making it possible for parents to give their children in faraway lands a merry Christmas.

AIR FORCE MOM IN RICHMOND, CAL.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PERPLEXED": No, it's not some newfangled custom: Neither is it proper to send a gift with the price tag and sales slip enclosed. Had this occurred only once, I would assume it was a case of careless clerkship. But since you've received THREE such gifts from the same party on three separate occasions, you may assume that it was intentional. (Could the giver be trying to tell you something?)

The bishop, with Mrs. Middleton, was en route to Seattle, Wash., for the opening Tuesday of a Council of Bishops meeting. They arrived by plane and were taking a cab to a railroad depot, where the couple was to board a train to continue the trip.

Better Break For Russian Farmers Asked

MOSCOW (AP)—The new Soviet leaders more than a year ago ordered a change designed to give farmers a break and to put more food on the tables of Russian homes.

That decision is still being sabotaged by old-line local officials, the magazine Kommunist reports.

Nikita Khrushchev's successors ordered that farmers once more be allowed to work their own small private plots of land after finishing their chores on the state's large collective farms.

The idea was to encourage the farmer to produce more food on his own to add to that raised on the state's farms. The more the farmer could raise and sell from his private plot, the more he would profit.

The Kommunist article showed how difficult it has been to put this little bit of private enterprise across. It also showed how long it can take for an order from top Soviet leaders to filter down to everyday practice.

The magazine cited these examples of "gross violations" of party and government orders:

Farmers who legally sell produce from their private plots have been denounced in local papers as economic speculators.

Local officials have illegally restricted farmers from obtaining the fodder they need for livestock raised on their private plots.

Local officials have illegally forced farmers to sell products from their private plots according to a plan of fixed sales targets.

Plane Lands on Manual System

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Western Air Lines spokesman said a 720 B jet, Flight 701 from Minneapolis, made a normal landing here Friday after losing its hydraulic system 10 minutes prior to arrival. The system was switched to manual operation and the landing was made without incident.

Higher Tax on Diesel Fuel Asked

ST. PAUL (AP)—A higher tax on diesel fuel has been urged by the Minnesota State Automobile Association. Meeting here Friday, association directors said a higher state tax would provide that diesel-powered vehicles carry a fairer burden of their "cost responsibility." Another resolution urged stronger penalties for motorists who drive after revocation of their licenses.

Britain Won't Buy Tobacco From Rhodesia

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Labor government planned to push its emergency Rhodesian legislation through Parliament today. Meanwhile, the British governor of the rebellious central African colony rejected Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith's demand that he get out of Government House.

The legislation to pave the way for stronger economic sanctions against Rhodesia's white minority government was expected to be rushed through Parliament without a formal vote.

Such Conservative diehards as the Marquess of Salisbury in the House of Lords and Patrick Wall and Robert Turton in the House of Commons were opposed to sanctions. But party leader Edward Heath, Reginald Maudling and other members of the opposition party's dominant moderate faction approved the government's action so far.

The chief actions taken against the Rhodesian regime are a ban on import of Rhodesian tobacco, which usually amounts to about $70 million a year, and various financial restrictions.

The Rhodesian government after its declaration of independence Thursday relieved Gov. Sir Humphrey Gibbs of his office and told him to vacate Government House, his official residence and office.

In a statement addressed to the Rhodesian people Sunday, Gibbs replied that Smith's government was illegal and that the governor was the only "lawfully constituted authority in Rhodesia."

"I hold my office at the pleasure of Her Majesty the Queen and I will only resign if asked by Her Majesty to do so," Gibbs said. "Her Majesty has asked me to continue in office and I therefore remain your loyal governor and the lawfully constituted authority in Rhodesia."

Smith made no immediate move to eject Gibbs from Government House but in a statement said the governor "is representing not the queen but the British prime minister, thus aiding and abetting him in his obvious endeavor to create a division among the people of Rhodesia."

An early automobile manufacturer of little faith equipped each horseless carriage with a whip socket on the grounds that a horse would be needed sooner or later to pull the vehicle home.

House of the Week

Separate Staircases Feature Home

By ANDY LANG

In the days of our gracious past, many two-story homes featured separate entrances and stairs for the servants.

This enabled families to entertain and otherwise enjoy their daily lives while all of the necessary chores and tasks of cooking, cleaning, etc., were carried out with no interference.

AS THE YEARS have passed, and our society has become largely servantless and child-centered, these entrances have changed function, while the second stairs have virtually disappeared, often to the dismay of many a big family. There are probably many times when the adults of such a family, with teen-age children, wish they had two separate houses, not just separate baths.

Our newest House of the Week may come as close to that goal as practical in a traditionally-styled home. It's a two-story designed by architect Samuel Paul expressly for a family of three or more children, with a distinct separation of the private, adult areas and the everyday family areas. It's a house for two generations, but under one attractive roof.

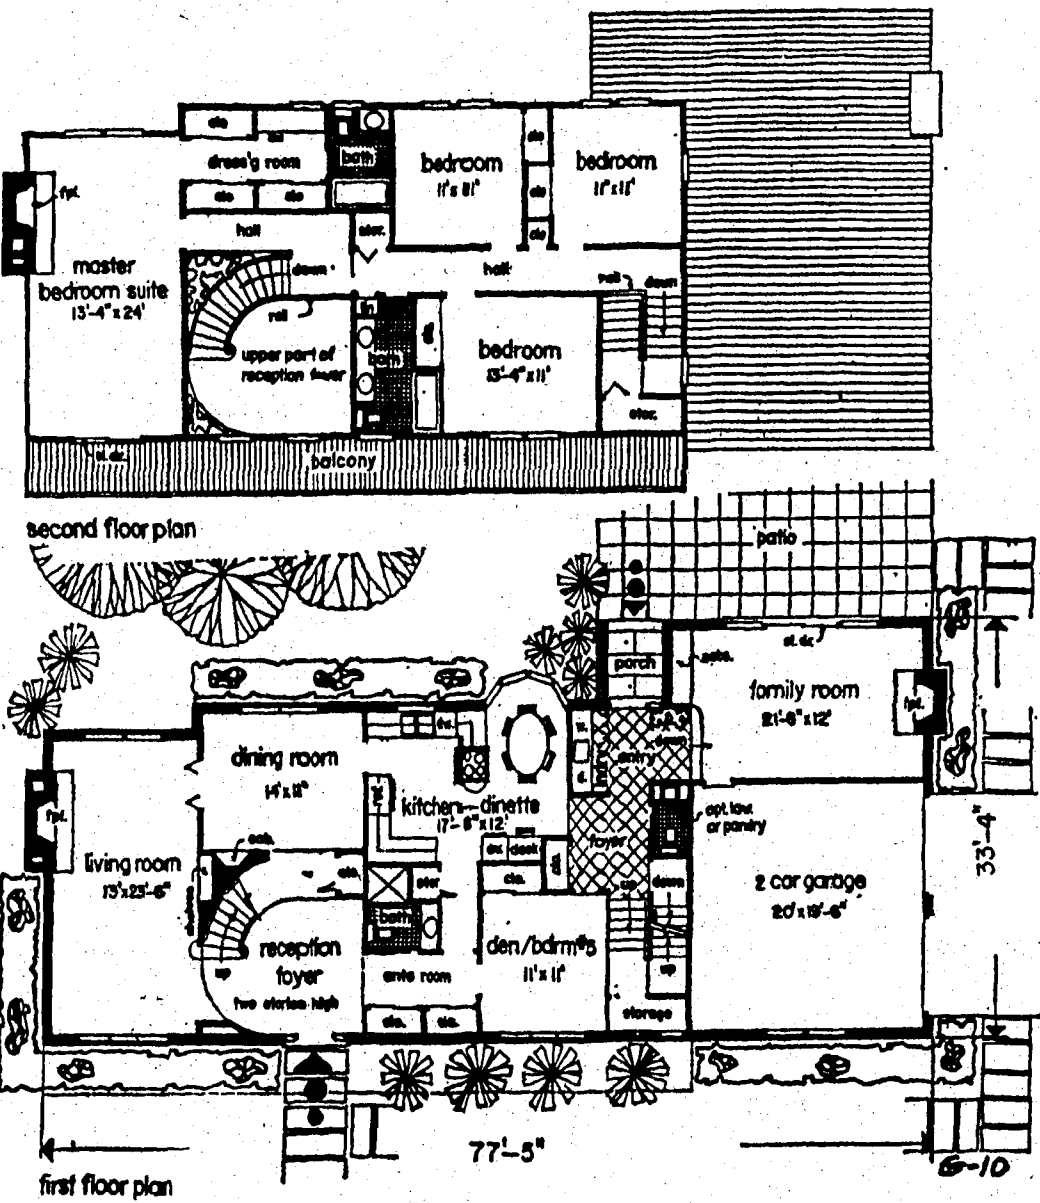

ALTHOUGH a fairly sizable home, the styling is not pretentious; rather, it is a subdued and tasteful adaptation of the New Orleans area with its overhanging second-floor balcony and ornamental iron railings.

The planning of the home far exceeds the conventional zoning concepts prevalent in many two-story designs. The ground floor is a "split-down-the-middle" between the formal and informal zones. The children could be having a party in the family room without ever disturbing the bridge club meeting in the dining room.

The formal (or adult) entertaining section is composed of a large living room and a separate dining room, plus a striking reception foyer that is two stories high. The foyer is the only opulence to be found in this home; it is highlighted by a circular staircase sweeping up to the second floor and backed

NEW ORLEANS TWO-STORY . . . The charm of the type of house seen so often in the New Orleans area has been captured here by the tasteful design of the overhanging second-floor balcony.

FLOOR PLANS . . . Split zoning is high-light of traffic pattern on both floors. On lower level, living and dining rooms have separate foyer and staircase; so does activity area at right side. Upstairs, master suite is completely separated from three bedrooms.

G-10 STATISTICS

Design G-10, a two-story traditional, has a living room, dining room, kitchen, dinette, family room, spare room, full bath, optional lavatory, main reception foyer, secondary foyer, laundry and two-car garage on the first floor, with a habitable area of 1,768 square feet.

On the second floor are a master bedroom suite, three children's bedrooms, two full baths, a dressing room and a balcony, with a livable area of 1,330 square feet. Overall dimensions, including the garage, are 77 feet 5 inches by 33 feet 4 inches.

up with wood paneling and artificial planters.

A POWDER room and two large closets adjoin the foyer via an ante-room. This setup is much too formal for everyday use by the children. Thus, located on the other side of the house, is another full entrance ensemble, complete with its own foyer and closets. This entrance gives access to the everyday rooms; in other words, the kitchen, the bay dinette and the family room with its cathedral ceiling. A lavatory can be located here also, if desired, or the space used for a walk-in pantry if the lavishness of 3¼ baths is felt to be excessive.

A second staircase in this area gives access to the second floor and the basement. It provides a means of going from the daily activity areas to the children's bedrooms without moving over into the formal part of the house. Upstairs, this arrangement eases movement, since the master suite can be reached directly via the circular stair from the main foyer.

THE MASTER suite features a large room with its own fireplace, sliding doors to the front balcony, a spacious dressing room and a full bath. On the other side are the children's three bedrooms with a full bath and dual-basin vanity.

Back on the main floor are several features that should not go unnoticed. Note the spare room which bridges the formal and informal foyers. It can be used as a sewing room, TV room or extra bedroom, with the rear foyer serving as its main entrance. Or it can serve as a den or library, with the main foyer then serving as its principal entry. In either event, it has access to a bath or lavatory.

OTHER features include fireplaces in both the living room and family room, and space for built-in shelves in the living room, a china cabinet in the dining room and Hi-Fi cabinets in the family room. In the kitchen are a wall oven, dishwasher, peninsula range and hood, and a planning desk.

This is a truly interesting and workable design for a family of five or more persons.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Action of Phosphorus in Soils

CONTINUING our discussion of plant nutrients, let us take up the element phosphorus which is one of the minerals most necessary for plant growth. It is one of the "Big Three" — Nitrogen, Phosphorus and Potash.

Although phosphorus does not move about in the soil like nitrogen and is not so easily washed out, it is sometimes quite difficult to keep it in the soil in such form as to make it available for plants. This is due to the fact that it readily reacts with other chemicals and as a result may become locked up in the soil by them in such a state that the plants cannot use it. This is especially the case, if the soil is strongly acid, or alkaline.

taken by Abrams Furnace Co., for Lydia Mathees, 213 Kansas St., and Cletus Bubach, 80 Otis St.

Permits for GAS-FIRED installations:

Abrams, for James Dean, 1109 W. Howard St.; Winifred Steinko, 563 Macemon St.; Grace Presbyterian Church parsonage, 272 Market St., and George Holt, 375 Sioux St. Jerry's Plumbing Service, for Andy Blasko, 470 W. Broadway.

Associated Services, for Daniel O'Brien House of Beauty, Westgate Shopping Center, and Randall's Super Valu, Westgate (two installations); Quality Sheet Metal Works, for Halver Engraving, 186 E. Howard St., and Wilber Polachek, 875 W. Howard St.

Kraning's Sales & Service, for Lackore Electric, 120 W. 2nd St.; Walter Skeels, 1274 W. 3rd St.; Mrs. Florence Howard, 469 E. King St.; Arnold Larson, 480 Minnesota St.; H. O. Christen, 418 Wilson St.; Floyd Silbaugh, 220 W. 5th St.; James Boynton, 1109 W. 5th St.; A. M. Oskamp Jr., 465 W. 5th St.; Donald Kruse, 53 W. King St., and City Hall, 4th and Lafayette streets.

When the beneficial bacteria and other organisms that are instrumental in decomposing the organic matter die, the phosphorus that they contain is released in the soil for use by the plants. Sometimes under conditions that are very favorable for them these beneficial soil organisms may become so numerous that there is a deficiency of nutrients in the soil until they die.

Some plant physiologists state that phosphorus is so important in the early stages of growth that, if the supply is not sufficient for the needs of the entire plant, it may be drawn from the older foliage and transferred to the younger parts of the plant that are in most active growth. From this, the importance of phosphorus can be readily understood. Yet, plants take only a small amount of it from the soil as compared to the quantities that may have been applied in order to supply it. As an example of this, it has been stated that a good crop of corn may take up only about 25 pounds of phosphorus from an acre of land, even though much more than that had been applied.

As previously stated, phosphorus is very prone to be locked up in the soil due to its readiness to react with other chemicals, especially in strongly acid, or alkaline, soils. However, it may become available later to the plants through the activities of the beneficial bacteria in the soil. Therefore, it might be stated that phosphorus is always present in the soil in sufficient quantities for plants, if conditions become such as to make it available for their use.

IN THE vegetable garden phosphorus is especially important for root crops such as potatoes, beets and carrots. Also, tomatoes, beans and melons do best, if there is a good supply of it in available form. One of the most important functions of phosphorus is to stimulate root growth. It also, hastens the maturity of plants and encourages flower, seed and fruit production. Of course, nitrogen and potash must be present in sufficient supply for a balanced growth.

Since phosphorus does not move about readily in the soil, it should be dug in when applied just like any other fertilizer. For general use, a fertilizer with a formula of 5-10-5 will supply the necessary phosphorus requirements for the average soil.

Johnson Back At White House Looking Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, looking well after a recuperative stay of more than three weeks at his Texas ranch, is back at the White House today and plans to stay there at least until Thursday.

But despite a favorable medical report over the weekend, Johnson has told friends he still doesn't feel as well as he did before his Oct. 8 gall bladder-kidney stone operation and has some pain from the operation.

In the final days of his Texas stay Sunday, Johnson was visited at the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City by two Army enlisted men, both veterans of Viet Nam. They accepted Johnson's invitation to accompany the First Family to church services in St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Fredericksburg.

"Come on, we've got a lot to pray for — particularly for our men in Viet Nam," Johnson told Sgt. I.C. Robert S. Vandiver of New Orleans and Spec. 5 Robert G. Sullivan of San Antonio, Tex.

Vandiver and Sullivan showed up at the ranch at 8 a.m. and made their wish to see the President's home place.

Johnson made no advance commitment to see them, but had coffee ready when they arrived. Vandiver and Sullivan told the President about their experiences in Viet Nam.

Next he drove them 15 miles to Communion services at St. Barnabas.

The car was jam-packed. In addition to Johnson there was his wife and daughter Lynda Bird, Vandiver and Sullivan, Sullivan's wife Maryellen, Vandiver's wife Patricia and the two Vandiver daughters, Cynthia Ann, 7, and Kathleen, 5.

They heard a prayer by the rector, the Rev. Jack Langford, for all veterans and particularly those in Viet Nam.

After the services Johnson again piled all kinkfolk and guests into a white station wagon on for the trip back to the

Survivors Tell Of Escape From Burning Liner

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Survivors of the Yarmouth Castle are coping with problems of replacing money, keys, personal papers and other belongings that went down with the cruise ship. They also tell vivid stories of their escape.

"I was lucky. I never got wet," said Terry Wise of Markham, Ont. As flames swept the white-hulled vessel, Wise, pursuer aboard the ship, said he was picked up by a lifeboat from the Bahama Star.

An East Cleveland, Ohio, couple, who lost their eyeglasses as the ship sank, said finding a lifeboat wasn't that easy.

"We asked several passing crewmen, who wore lifejackets, 'where is a lifeboat?'" said Dale Herman. "Some didn't pay any attention to us, but one pointed to a companionway leading up to the deck." He said they tumbled into a boat along with 50 others.

Three Iowa vacationers recall seeing "some pretty bad sights." They said they had to pick their way through milling fellow passengers — some injured — and scramble aboard a lifeboat to escape the inferno.

Mrs. Leo Simons, 56, Cedar Rapids, said, "We had to step over a badly burned man who apparently had been brought from elsewhere on the ship and placed on the main deck."

Former Chatfield Mayor Seeking To Regain Office

CHATFIELD, Minn. — Two contests have developed for the Dec. 3 election.

Frank Pavlish, former mayor, opposes Lloyd Kivell, incumbent. Kivell, a native of LeRoy, has been in the retail hardware business at Chatfield 27 years. There are two candidates for the councilman post held by Kenneth Herrick who didn't file. Seeking the position are Cecil Rhodes and Kenneth McCrae. Richard Theel, the other councilman whose term expires, filed for re-election and isn't opposed.

Ira Lambert is unopposed for re-election as justice of the peace. He is completing his third term. Resident of the Chatfield area since 1924, he is a retired farmer.

Bad Time Ahead for Someone

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor
BLOOMINGTON, Minn. — You sat at Metropolitan Stadium here Sunday and felt next weekend someone is going to be embarrassed.

Not that the Vikings weren't embarrassed Sunday, you understand, but rival Green Bay is next up.

Now when the punchless Packers and the hospitable Vikings get together, something has to give.

It was impossible to keep from staring at the Met scoreboard Sunday. It seemed more impossible that the Packers and Los Angeles Rams were tied 3-3 for the better part of four quarters.

Then — with the Vikings controlling their game — the figures fluttered and the Packers had won theirs.

But later on the Vikings got extremely generous, cornerback Earnest Mackbee got somewhat smarter and the Baltimore Colts got a 41-21 victory.

If you examine the statistics for the past three games, you find the Packers have scored but two touchdowns. Except for Sunday's defensive breakdown, the Vikings have been stingy.

But still Sunday, something will have to give.

If you listen to Minnesota's Norm Van Brocklin, there is no reason to expect good things for the Vikings: "To bid for the title, you've got to learn how to beat the top clubs. Apparently we haven't been willing to pay the price for greatness."

Not only that, but the Vikings will go into Sunday's game out of the race . . . out of the race for the championship, and probably for second place, since Baltimore now is 8-1, Green Bay 7-2 and Minnesota 5-4.

Sunday it was simply a case of too much Gary Cuozzo and too little defense.

Cuozzo, the little-known replacement for Mr. Quarterback, John Unitas, drilled down the Vikings with five touchdown passes, a Baltimore team record.

Yes, that's right, a record for the team that has for ten years operated behind one of the quarterback greats.

In fact, it took Unitas' first day off since Nov. 18, 1968, to get Cuozzo a start. Now there are those people — including Unitas himself — who wonder if John will get back in.

CUOZZO, A 24-year-old dentistry student at Tennessee in the off-season, has no doubt of his status: "Johnny is No. 1 and everybody knows he is. I don't like to sit on the bench, nobody does. But if I've got to, this is the place."

At any rate, Don Shula hoped for a complete day off for his prize . . . and he got it.

It took Mr. Cuozzo time to warm up. But he did. The Vikings let their chances to star slip away early, two potential scoring drives being blunted on a fumble and a series of plays that saw Tarkenton thrown for losses.

BUT THE Vikings finally did get on the board as Tarkenton hit Bedsole for six yards and a TD with 5:54 of the second period elapsed. Fred Cox kicked the point.

Cuozzo then got his team into position for a 17-yard field goal by Lou Michaels and began to break the Vikings apart by flinging a 43-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Orr with but 19 seconds to play in the half. Michaels added the point.

Shortly, it was over. Cuozzo hit eight of nine third-period passes (seven in a row at the start of the string) for three touchdowns.

The first went 22 yards to Orr, who beat Mackbee for the second time, and came with 4:58 elapsed. The second was good for 28 yards to Lenny Moore with 10:02 elapsed.

Cuozzo Worry? Don't Be Silly

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Scholarly, articulate Gary Cuozzo passed up a career as a medical doctor to play professional football.

Sunday, he operated on the Minnesota Vikings for five touchdown passes as the Baltimore Colts swept to their seventh straight National Football League victory, 41-21, and held their Western Conference lead over Green Bay.

Cuozzo's passing was as incisive as a surgeon's scalpel, but instead of the decorum of the operating room, he performed with 47,428 Metropolitan Stadium fans yelling and massive linemen chasing him.

If anyone had a reason to be nervous, it was the former Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Virginia.

He stepped into the shoes of Johnny Unitas, the Colts' great quarterback who was waiting on the sidelines with a sore back tightly trussed — in case Cuozzo met disaster.

To add to the drama, the Vikings held the Colts to a minus four yards in six offensive plays the first two times Baltimore had the ball. At the same time, Minnesota was controlling the ball for 30 plays and accumulated 145 yards. For all of that, however, the

Defense Keeps Packers Alive

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Green Bay Packers are still alive in the National Football League title chase thanks to a fumble-forcing defense that's made the Packers most dangerous when the other team has the ball.

The second-place Packers were their futile selves on offense again Sunday as they beat the Los Angeles Rams 6-3 to remain one game behind the Baltimore Colts in the Western Conference race.

But the defense made the Rams' attack just as impotent, forcing three fumbles and an interception while seldom giving the Rams good field position.

The final fumble was the only one the Packers capitalized on. Ron Kostelnik forced the break by smacking Ram quarterback Bill Munson as he faded to pass from his own 35 with less than three minutes to play.

Lionel Aldridge, a bear on defense all day, captured the ball at the 20. Jim Taylor, who netted 68 yards to take game honors, teamed with Paul Hornung, a late entry in the game, to bring the ball to the shadow of the goal line in five plays.

With a fourth down, and less than six inches for a touchdown, Don Chandler came on to boot a seven yard field goal with 37 seconds left.

The score was the first for Green Bay since the opening period when Chandler was true with a 22-yard effort to tie the score.

In between, the former New York Giant had missed on tries of 46 and 45 yards.

The only Ram score came in the first few minutes when Bruce Gossett hit on a 35-yard field goal.

A Tom Moore fumble on the third play from scrimmage set up the kick. Chuck Lamson recovered for the Rams on the Packers' 23.

Gossett, like Chandler, later to miss on two field goal attempts.

Bart Starr was at the helm for the Packers through most of the game and although dumped three times for a total loss of 30 yards, Starr had generally good protection up front the few times he tried to pass.

But the Packers stayed for the most part on the ground as the game quickly settled down to a punting duel between Chandler and Billy Lothridge of the Rams.

Aldridge Becomes Complete Footballer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — If recovering a fumble that led to a last minute victory is all that's needed to give Green Bay's Lionel Aldridge confidence, then he is now a complete football player.

"He has great potential," said teammate Willie Davis, "the only thing he lacks is confidence and after today I doubt if he lacks that."

The 245-pound defensive end spearheaded the Packer defense in another of its outstanding performances for a 6-3 National Football League victory over Los Angeles Sunday.

Packer tackle Ron Kostelnik crashed into the Rams' backfield to smash quarterback Bill Munson and force a fumble pounced on by Aldridge. The recovery at the Rams' 20 set up the decisive field goal by Don Chandler with 37 seconds left.

The fumble recovery topped a great day for Aldridge.

He also blocked a Munson pass, dropped Munson twice by himself for losses and was in on several gang tackles that thwarted the Rams' ground game.

The fumble that led to the winning field goal did not come about by pure accident. Two missed blocks by the Los Angeles line led to the victory.

Kostelnik said the Rams' backfield had rolled to the left and the guard in front of him pulled with the play.

"The center was supposed to hook back and block me," said Kostelnik. "But I was by him before he could recover. Munson didn't see me coming and he was a dead duck."

"Joe Carroll (Rams' tackle) was supposed to hook me on that play," said Aldridge. "He missed me and I beat him on the inside to get in there. That was the biggest fumble recovery I ever made."

"I didn't know what time it was. After I recovered the ball I looked up and saw the clock and only then did I know how big a play it really was."

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Branch Rickey, 84-year-old baseball great who collapsed at the speaker's rostrum Saturday night, remained in a coma today in the intensive care section of the Boone County Hospital.

Toronto Can't Fool Parent, Bruins Triumph

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New York stalled Bobby Hull and Montreal stymied Gordie Howe. But Toronto couldn't put anything over on Bernie Parent.

Parent, rapidly aging beyond his 20 years in the goal pads of Boston's lowly Bruins, blanked Toronto 2-0 Sunday night for his first National Hockey League shutout.

While the last-place Bruins rallied around their rookie goaltender, New York checked Hull's scoring spree and whipped Chicago 4-2 and Montreal stopped Howe short of his mark in a 2-2 tie with Detroit.

Hull, who had scored 12 goals in Chicago's first eight games, failed to connect against the Rangers, who built a 3-1 first-period edge and held on to protect their third-place standing.

Howe, one goal short of the 600 mark in his 20th NHL season, was blanked at Detroit.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. — North Dakota University will play Northern Illinois Nov. 27 in the 17th annual Mineral Water Bowl football game, the team selection committee announced over the weekend.

North Dakota closed its season Nov. 8 with an 8-1 record, losing only to North Dakota, 6-3.

Top-ranked Michigan State, Arkansas, Nebraska, Princeton and Dartmouth were among 21 college football teams which remained unbeaten, untied after games of Nov. 13.

Of the teams on the list, 11 have completed their seasons.

North Dakota State, top-ranked in The Associated Press' small college football poll, is the only unbeaten, untied team with 10 games. The Bison have rolled up 383 points to their opponents' 80.

Wisconsin Lets Down, Collapses

MADISON (U) — "A total collapse," said Coach Milt Bruhn after Wisconsin's worst football defeat at home in history.

His beleaguered Badgers beaten and buried 51-0 by Illinois Saturday, Bruhn bemoaned, "The fumbles hit us and there was a letdown and then a total collapse."

For 20 minutes of the second half Wisconsin neither made a first down nor encountered a fourth down. Each time the Badgers fumbled or flung the football away as Illinois struck for 30 points in that short span alone.

Only twice before in 76 years of football have Wisconsin teams lost by greater margins, 54-0 in 1916 and 63-0 in 1890. Both were road defeats at Minnesota.

The Badgers ended the 1965 season this Saturday by traveling to Minnesota.

Wisconsin lost four fumbles and had three passes intercepted in the rout by Illinois. The Illini gained 358 yards on the ground, the Badgers finished with a rushing net of minus four.

The Badgers had possession three times in the third period and never completed a single series of downs. Two pass interceptions and a lost fumble led to an Illini touchdown each time.

The Badgers started the fourth quarter with another quick fumble for another Illinois touchdown.

"Everything just went our way and that's all there was to it," said Illinois Coach Pete Elliott.

The fumbles and pass interceptions that led to Illinois' 23-point outburst in the third period triggered the rout, said Elliott.

"Our boys got to thinking then that they could do no wrong," he said, "and the way it looked most of the time in the second half they couldn't."

CUOZZO

Vikings had scored only once.

Cuzzo never flinched, and neither did Colt Coach Don Shula.

"I didn't get nervous," Cuzzo said, "and I don't know why — I should have."

"I wasn't tempted to use Unitas," Shula said. "Even if I had used him, it would only have been for one series on a certain situation."

When Cuzzo finally found the range, he fired a 43-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Orr, giving the Colts a 10-7 halftime lead.

But that was just a warm-up toss.

In the third quarter, Cuzzo completed eight of nine passes for 101 yards and three more touchdowns — 22 yards to Orr, 29 to Lennie Moore and six to Raymond Berry.

He capped his performance with a 14-yard scoring shot to Willie Richardson in the final quarter.

Cuzzo's 16 completions in 26 attempts for 208 yards and the five touchdowns, needless to say, were his biggest thrill — "even bigger than when we (Virginia) beat Maryland in 1962 and knocked them out of the Gator Bowl." He had three touchdowns passes that day.

Unitas has thrown four touchdown passes 12 times in his career, but he never got as many as Cuzzo did Sunday.

"It didn't look like they missed me," Unitas said. "But I'll be back next week — if he'll let me get in there."

BROWN CRACKS 1,000 ... Jim Brown's five-yard run in the third quarter of Sunday's game against the New York Giants put the Cleveland Browns fullback over 1,000 yards for the seventh time in his nine-year career. Brown is dogged by Bill Swain (52) of the Giants. He rushed for 156 yards and scored three touchdowns in the Browns' 34-21 victory before 82,426. PARENTS' NIGHT SET BY HAWKS

The annual Winona High School basketball parents' night will be held tonight at the auditorium.

Coach John Kenney will put his team through its drills beginning at 7 p.m. This is a prelude to Winona's opening game against Harmony at the auditorium Friday.

Clark Miller raced 75 yards with Milt Plum's fumble, highlighting San Francisco's triumph over Detroit. Earlier, Dave Wilcox scooted eight yards for a touchdown with a fumble by Tom Watkins.

Dallas defenders intercepted five of Pittsburgh's last nine passes, the next-to-last by Dave Edwards setting up the winning touchdown. That came on Don Meredith's 29-yard pass to Bob Hayes.

Earl Gros dove less than one yard for Philadelphia's winning touchdown against Washington after a 78-yard pass from Norm Snead to Pete Retzlaff carried the ball to the Redskins' seven.

In other NFL games, Green Bay edged Los Angeles 6-3, Cleveland thumped New York 34-21, Chicago trounced St. Louis 34-13, San Francisco defeated Detroit 27-21, Dallas beat Pittsburgh 24-17 and Philadelphia topped Washington 21-14.

Don Chandler's second field goal of the game, a seven-yarder with 37 seconds to play, carried Green Bay past Los Angeles. Lionel Aldridge set up the score by recovering a Bill Munson fumble forced by Ron Kostelnik.

Jimmy Brown ran for 156 yards and scored three touchdowns while Ernie Green caught seven passes for 160 yards and one touchdown as Cleveland opened a two-game lead in the Eastern Conference. Earl Morrall passed for all three New York touchdowns.

Gayle Sayers committed a costly fumble against St. Louis but came back with an 88-yard kickoff return that set up an 11-yard touchdown run by Jon Arnett. The flashy Chicago rookie also ran seven yards for another touchdown.

Kansas City's Johnny Robinson, who started his pro football career by signing with two teams, has developed one theory that would shock most players.

Robinson thinks playing offense is a waste of time.

An offensive player turned corner back, Robinson wasted no time Sunday by intercepting two passes in crucial first-half situations as the defense-minded Chiefs rolled to a 31-7 American Football League victory over Western Division - leading San Diego.

It was another typical performance for the 26-year-old former Louisiana State star who started his career on the wrong foot and then had to learn how to run backward instead of forward.

A running mate of Billy Cannon at LSU, Robinson became a double signer by winding up with two contracts — one with the Detroit Lions of the National League. He eventually was awarded to the AFL but found his path to a first-string job blocked by Abner Haynes and Jack Spikes.

Facing that situation, Robinson was made into a defensive back but he admits he did not like the idea. However, he since has changed his mind and now pointedly says:

"Ball players waste their time playing offense. There's more satisfaction — more of a feeling of accomplishment — playing defense."

Robinson certainly got that feeling against the Chargers. His first interception, at the two-yard line, halted a 96-yard San Diego drive and protected Kansas City's 10-0 lead. Then, after the Chargers closed to 10-7, he stole another John Hadl pass at midfield and set up a Kansas City touchdown by returning 14 yards.

Buffalo, meanwhile, moved to within one victory of clinching the Eastern Division title by edging Oakland 17-14 on Billy Joe's one-yard smash with seven seconds to go. Denver whipped Houston 31-21 and New York defeated Boston 30-20.

Clem Daniels scored on a 41-yard run and a 25-yard pass from Dick Wood as the Raiders, tied with Kansas City, built a 14-7 lead in the fourth quarter.

But Pete Gogolak's 38-yard field goal and a 62-yard closing drive engineered by Jack Kemp and climaxed by Joe pulled it out for the Bills, now 8-2.

Abner Haynes pulled Denver into a 14-14 tie with Houston in the third period by racing three yards for a touchdown, then put the Broncos ahead to stay in the fourth quarter by returning a punt 57 yards for another touchdown.

Joe Namath hit Don Maynard with 22 and 36-yard touchdown passes and Jim Turner kicked three field goals in the Jets' victory over the Patriots.

Then, after the Chargers closed to 10-7, he stole another John Hadl pass at midfield and set up a Kansas City touchdown by returning 14 yards.

Buffalo, meanwhile, moved to within one victory of clinching the Eastern Division title by edging Oakland 17-14 on Billy Joe's one-yard smash with seven seconds to go. Denver whipped Houston 31-21 and New York defeated Boston 30-20.

Clem Daniels scored on a 41-yard run and a 25-yard pass from Dick Wood as the Raiders, tied with Kansas City, built a 14-7 lead in the fourth quarter.

But Pete Gogolak's 38-yard field goal and a 62-yard closing drive engineered by Jack Kemp and climaxed by Joe pulled it out for the Bills, now 8-2.

Abner Haynes pulled Denver into a 14-14 tie with Houston in the third period by racing three yards for a touchdown, then put the Broncos ahead to stay in the fourth quarter by returning a punt 57 yards for another touchdown.

Joe Namath hit Don Maynard with 22 and 36-yard touchdown passes and Jim Turner kicked three field goals in the Jets' victory over the Patriots.

Robinson certainly got that feeling against the Chargers. His first interception, at the two-yard line, halted a 96-yard San Diego drive and protected Kansas City's 10-0 lead. Lakers Take Lead in West, Trip Bullets

Minnesota deer hunters took to the woods in perhaps record numbers as the season opened Saturday — but were counting up this toll after only two days of hunting:

Seven men shot to death, three hunters asphyxiated and more than half a dozen others died of apparent heart attacks.

The dead included an Owatonna father and son who died of asphyxiation when a portable propane gas heater consumed the oxygen in their station wagon, where they were sleeping overnight.

The Itasca County sheriff's office said Max Herschberger, 35, Owatonna, and his son Steve, 13, were found dead in their station wagon Sunday morning at the Lyle Andrews farm 18 miles northeast of Grand Rapids.

Officers said the two had spent Friday night using the same heater that killed them Saturday night.

Mrs. Herschberger, staying at the Andrews home, was treated for shock. A daughter was with her.

Dale Harstad, 28, Wayzata, died in a similar accident. He was found dead in his station wagon Sunday outside the home of a deer hunting companion, Earl Burham of Lake Alice, about 20 miles north of Park Rapids.

Authorities gave this list of hunters shot to death:

Warren Lee Sievers, 23, St. Paul, shot in the neck Sunday while examining the scope on his gun north of Isabella, Lake County.

Arthur Hayes, 44, Montrose, shot by a member of his party Sunday while driving deer south of Hill City, according to the Aitkin County sheriff's office.

Darold Paulsen, 26, St. Paul, wounded in the chest by a member of his party east of Northhome Saturday. He died at Bemidji early Sunday.

Barry Miller, 33, rural Grand Rapids, shot under the right arm near there when a companion stumbled Saturday.

David I. Wilson, 26, St. Paul, shot by a member of his party near Nickerson, Pine County, Saturday. His wife is expecting their third child.

Darrell Olson, 18, Columbia Heights, shot by a hunting partner north of Big Fork Saturday.

Robert Shekta, 26, Montgomery, fatally wounded near Rice Lake.

Authorities said these men died of natural causes, apparently heart attacks:

Theofil George Stulec, 57, Blaine, stricken Sunday north of Fumley, near Blackduck.

Melvin J. Lind, 37, Proctor, who died about 20 miles west of Duluth Sunday. His body was found by a brother, Conrad.

Anthony N. Kossa, 28, Minneapolis, who stumbled out of the woods along Minn. 34 Sunday near Hill City. Authorities said he flagged down a passing car, but collapsed and was dead on arrival at a Hill City doctor's office.

Wendell L. Ledin, 69, Bethel, stricken Sunday along the Ash River Trail southeast of International Falls.

Alva T. Grey, 62, Minneapolis, who died Sunday east of Beroun in Pine County.

William Jones, in his 60s, Minneapolis, stricken Saturday after trying to start a boat motor south of Grand Rapids.

Eino Henry Manninen, 57, of Minneapolis, formerly of Hibbing, who died Saturday in the Big Bear Lake Country north of Nashvauk.

Authorities said at least one shooting was not accidental.

Donald Rossback, 40, of Red Lake was reported in poor condition at a Duluth hospital today after he was shot in the chest following an argument outside a tavern at Island Lake Saturday night.

Beltrami County Sheriff John Cahill said Rossback argued with four hunters in a station wagon before the driver pulled a small-caliber pistol, shot him at close range and drove away. Authorities are seeking the man.

Last year's record 278,000 hunter turnout appeared certain to be exceeded. A general snowfall across northern Minnesota, and cold that would keep snow on the ground, indicated that the 122,225 deer taken last year also could be exceeded.

Hospitalized in critical condition were Charles Thorson, 18, Alexandria, who drove the car in which Brown was riding, and Ann Marie, child of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Larsen. Mrs. Larsen, the other driver, and three others of her children also were hurt.

Mrs. Myrtle Warrington, about 50, of Richfield was killed Sunday night when a car hit a utility pole on the south side of the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport. Hospitalized were her husband, J. L. Warrington, about 50; their son David and David's wife of one day, Carol.

Northwestern College swamped the University of Illinois-Chicago 47-6 Saturday to wrap up the Wisconsin Conference crown as Wisconsin's smaller schools concluded their 1965 college football campaigns.

With all facing Illinois opponents on the final weekend, the Wisconsin teams emerged with a 3-2-1 mark.

Whitewater, runnerup in the Wisconsin State University Conference, romped over winless Illinois State 48-7. Carthage, bridesmaid of the College Conference of Illinois, smashed Elmhurst 42-12. But the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee bowed to Bradley 25-13.

Northwestern's Dave Toepel scored four touchdowns and gained 243 yards to lead the Trojans as they completed an unbeaten march over their four Gateway opponents. Northwestern finished with a 6-1 over-all record.

Lakeland, third in the Gateway behind Milton, wound up at 5-3 after a 20-14 non-conference loss to Concordia of River Forest, Ill. Trailing 20-0, Lakeland scored twice in the last period on touchdown runs by Gary Richert but the third Muskies drive faltered at the Concordia 26.
