Army Blocks President in Dominicans

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican armed forces moved Thursday night to block President Hector Garcia-Godoy's attempt to send controversial figures of the April revolution out of the country.

It was not clear whether the military planned to overthrow the provisional government installed with such difficulty through the efforts of the Organization of American States or was just trying to force the president to back down.

Preoccupied but calm, Garcia-Godoy told a newsman he was not stepping down. He didn't even ask help from the 8,000-man Inter-American Peace Force. He emphasized that his decision Thursday to replace the leadership of the armed forces and to transfer abroad the key figures on both sides of the Dominican conflict was "irrevocable."

By 2 a.m. the central figures in the crisis were in bed, and Santo Domingo slept the disturbed sleep of the past eight months—occasional shots punctuating usual night noises.

This was the known picture early today:

Troops had occupied the National Palace and the government radio station and had sealed off the major highways into the capital.

Authorized armed forces sources reported military uprisings in some unspecified cities by regiments "disagreeing" with the president's decision.

The heart of the city, which the rebels seized during the April revolution and occupied for months afterward, was quiet. A few fires burned in some streets, but there was no obstruction to traffic.

The 11,000-man peace force, which includes 9,000 Americans, remained in their quarters or at their normal posts. They have been on an alert for four days.

The armed forces radio at the San Isidro air base outside the capital broadcast a communique saying the military chiefs would not accept changes in the military high command or transfers abroad.

There was no public reaction from the rebel faction which staged the April revolution in an attempt to return ex-President Juan Bosch to office and restore the constitution.

Union Leaders May Be Released

U.S. Joins Efforts To Settle N.Y. Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz made a joint effort today to solve New York's worsening transit crisis.

One immediate result of the conference — coupled with an appeal from New York's labor leaders — could be the release from jail of Michael J. Quill and other officials of the striking transit unions.

Lindsay hinted that such a move is under consideration by the Transit Authority. The authority had them jailed Tuesday when they refused to end the strike by the bus and subway workers.

Wirtz planned to return today to Washington, where he is expected to brief President Johnson on the transit strike.

The conference between the two officials followed a daylong, rain-soaked traffic tangle Thursday described as the worst in the city's history. The economic losses and the turmoil created by the strike mounted.

The extent of Wirtz' contribution to a solution was not announced, but the secretary made it plain that he brought no pledge of federal funds from Johnson.

"I want to settle that question with respect to federal money," he said. "As far as I know there is none."

Lindsay and Wirtz came out of the meeting at 1:15 a.m. today. The mayor reported "some movement" in negotiations to end the walkout of bus and subway workers, now in its seventh day.

Afterwards, the city's three mediators, who had also met with Lindsay and Wirtz, returned to the Americana Hotel to continue negotiations.

At 3:30 a.m., the negotiations broke off and Theodore Kheel, one of the mediators and a veteran labor troubleshooter, said:

"The sessions were very intense. What we are trying to do now is put the pieces together and get a contract from this."

Harry Van Arsdale Jr., head of the million-member AFL-CIO City Labor Council, met briefly Thursday night with Lindsay and Wirtz. He then talked to officials of the Transit Authority and officers of the striking Transport Workers Union and Amalgamated Transit Union, both AFL-CIO.

Japan Joins Peace Drive

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government today joined the drive to bring the North Vietnamese to the peace table.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato told roving U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman that Japan will do its best to persuade the Communists to agree to talks to end the war in Viet Nam, officials said.

Sources close to Sato said he was "greatly encouraged" by his discussion with Harriman of the many-pronged American peace offensive and its chances of success.

The sources said the prime minister believes that in the light of the suspension of American bombing of North Viet Nam, the time is ripe for concrete Japanese overtures for peace.

Meanwhile, the Soviet delegation to North Viet Nam headed by top party official Alexander N. Sholepin arrived in Hanoi after a one-hour lunch stop in Peking. The Soviet group lunched with Deputy Premier Li Hsien-nien, a member of the Chinese Communist party Politburo, but sources in Moscow said there was no suggestion of policy talks during the brief stop in the Chinese capital.

The Russians may try to convince President Ho Chi Minh's regime to agree to peace negotiations. But the presence of experts on military production and rockets in the delegation indicates that Sholepin will try to outbid the Red Chinese influence in Hanoi with a boost in military and economic aid which the Chinese can't supply.

It was not clear following Harriman's meeting of one hour and 40 minutes with Sato what specific steps Japan might take to get the Communists to negotiate for peace in Viet Nam.

But the visit to Moscow on Jan. 16 of Foreign Minister Eisenshuro Shilina is almost certain to be the occasion for a first step. Shilina is going to sign an air agreement, but he presumably will have Viet Nam high on the agenda for his talks.

Japanese overtures to Hanoi are also likely to be made through Japan's embassies in Laos, Cambodia and other countries where the North Vietnamese also have diplomatic establishments.

The Japanese government has stepped up its interest in the U.S. diplomatic maneuvers over the Viet Nam war since Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey visited Tokyo nine days ago. Humphrey urged Japan — or any other country — to take a lead in trying to end the war.

North Viet Nam has publicly condemned the U.S. diplomatic efforts, and so have Red China and the Soviet Union. The Viet Cong added their own criticism today, calling the U.S. campaign "cunning and extremely repugnant."

New Draft Decisions in The Making

FT. STEWART, Ga. (AP) — Which way the nation's military induction system will proceed — dipping into the pool of draft-deferred college students or lowering other requirements — will be discussed here at the first of three regional conferences.

The meetings were called by Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the Selective Service director, to meet the growing manpower need in Viet Nam.

State Selective Service directors from Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands will attend the session Sunday.

A Washington spokesman said, when Hershey called the meetings a week ago, that restoration of Korean wartime deferment rules was under consideration. Calling up high school graduates who have flunked mental tests will be discussed, along with tightening deferments of college students.

There were about 2.2 million college students holding deferments last November.

State of Union Message Set for Wednesday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will deliver his State of the Union message to a joint session of Congress at 9 p.m. (EST) next Wednesday.

The timing of the message was fixed today when Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Massachusetts breakfasted with Johnson at the White House.

Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers later told newsmen of the decision.

Congress convenes Monday for its new session.

1,000 Driven From Homes Along Pacific

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (AP) — Residents of the rugged coastal region where Oregon meets California hoped the worst was over today after storms had driven more than 1,000 persons from their homes, blocked highways and stopped trains.

Most people who had evacuated returned to their homes. Railroads cleared their tracks. Roads opened.

A high pressure system from Nevada was expected to keep most of Northern California dry through the weekend. Rain was forecast for Saturday south of Crescent City to Eureka, about 250 miles up the coast from San Francisco.

No deaths were directly attributed to the floods. Damage was estimated at about $1 million.

Rain was predicted for today in the California-Oregon boundary area. This posed a new danger to coastal towns should the showers combine with high tides and peak river runoffs.

A crest was expected before noon at Reedsport, Ore., at the mouth of the Umpqua River. Should the crest be delayed until 1 p.m., it would combine with a tide of 9.8 feet, one of the highest since last summer.

The 200 families who had evacuated their homes north of Crescent City had returned, the Del Norte County sheriff's office reported. They had fled before the overflowing Smith River.

High tides backed up the Winchuck River Thursday near Brookings, Ore., eight miles north of the California line, and residents said it looked higher than in the disastrous Christmas week of 1964.

But the Winchuck, Rogue and Chetco rivers in Oregon and the Smith, Eel, Mad and Russian rivers in California all backed down quickly from crests that reached or exceeded flood stages.

Year-end floods in 1964 killed 23 and caused $1 billion damage.

Southern Pacific resumed its Cascade passenger train run from San Francisco to Portland for the first time in three days.

The lights came on again in Dunsmuir, Calif., after two days of darkness because of downed power lines.

State Supreme Court Decision Is Unanimous

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Supreme Court today unanimously affirmed the 1963 murder conviction and life prison term of St. Paul lawyer T. Eugene Thompson for plotting the death of his heavily-insured wife, Carol.

The 47-page opinion denying Thompson's appeal was written by Chief Justice Oscar Knutson, who said the conviction rested heavily on the hearsay testimony of four men who rejected the murder "contract" and one man who accepted it.

The court rejected Thompson's claim that heavy publicity resulted in an unfair trial, but the court blamed news media for lack of self-restraint in its coverage of the sensational case. Said the court:

"The evidence in this case contained in a voluminous record has been thoroughly examined and found to be sufficient to sustain the conviction of the defendant."

Barring an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, the decision apparently settles one of Minnesota's most celebrated murder cases.

The prosecutor, Ramsey County Atty. William Randall, is seeking the Republican nomination for governor. The man who prepared the appeal, C. Paul Jones, recently was appointed Minnesota's first public defender.

Carol Thompson, 34, was brutally beaten and stabbed in the Thompson home March 6, 1963, in what came to be known as a murder-for-hire slaying.

Testimony against Thompson, 37, included more than $1 million in life insurance on his wife, details of a love affair with his onetime secretary and a plot to make his wife's death look like an accidental bathtub drowning.

Thompson and a onetime Macalester College classmate, Norman Mastrian, were convicted of first degree murder. The most damaging testimony came from Dick W.C. Anderson, a heavy-drinking ex-Marine who admitted the slaying and said he was hired by Mastrian to do the job for Thompson.

Anderson pleaded guilty to first degree murder and was sent to Stillwater Prison. He recanted his court testimony, in a letter, but later said in court his original story was true and that his life had been threatened if he didn't back down on it.

He is now in a federal prison, where the state pays for his keep.

The Supreme Court rejected eight major claims made by Thompson, who is now in his third year in prison. Thompson, described as a lawyer of "some prominence," is the father of four children.

One of Thompson's claims was that he did not receive a fair trial, even though it was shifted from St. Paul to Minneapolis.

"It is doubtful in this case that a more fair trial could have been obtained elsewhere in this state," the court said. "The same news coverage extended throughout the state as in Ramsey and Hennepin counties. The case was one of public interest everywhere."

The court added: "Apparently defendant (Thompson) was satisfied with the place of trial until the jury decided adversely to him. On the record before us we cannot say he was denied a fair trial."

The court also made these legal points: That Thompson could not object to evidence gleaned during a police search of his house the day of the murder, since he was not a suspect at the time and did not object then to the search.

That the hearsay testimony of co-conspirators becomes admissible as evidence because later examination of the record establishes that a conspiracy did exist.

That the defense may examine pre-trial statements of prosecution witnesses, once they have testified for the prosecution, and that in the one case where this was denied, Thompson's case was not prejudiced.

That a second-hand report of a juror reading newspaper stories about the case is not sufficient to show the juror actually was influenced by the stories.

Ten Still Hospitalized After St. Paul Hotel Fire

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A tenth person died this morning from burns suffered in the fire that swept through the Carleton Hotel in downtown St. Paul.

Meanwhile, authorities continued their investigation of the cause of the blaze at the old four-story structure early yesterday.

Latest victim was Benjamin Gilstrap, 47, who had face, shoulder and arm burns. He died shortly before 6 a.m.

Ten persons remained hospitalized today, six in critical condition. Several others were treated and released from St. Paul Ramsey County General Hospital.

Among those in critical condition was William Pyburn, whose injuries tell the story of the plight faced by many of the terror-stricken hotel residents.

Pyburn, 33, suffered burns in the flaming structure. He then fractured bones in both feet when he jumped from a third floor window. Pyburn also suffered a broken nose when he rolled over after hitting the ground.

Fire officials said the blaze, the city's worst in loss of life, appeared to have started in a second floor bathroom. A man was found dead in the bathtub.

"The open court from the second to the fourth floor acted like a flue to spread the fire," said District Fire Chief Clarence Freiermuth.

Fire Capt. Frederick H. Silvis told of arriving on the scene in predawn darkness to find two men "hanging out front windows screaming for help."

Silvis said he heard the thud of two persons landing on the ground after leaping from upper story windows. The smoke was so thick by then, he said, that he couldn't see them.

Two bodies were recovered quickly. But firemen were unable to recover the remaining seven bodies until after the flames had been quelled. Some bodies were found in beds, others in their rooms or in hallways.

The Ramsey County Morgue identified seven of the victims as:

Louis Dunn, 64; Philip H. Devo, 62; George Schwarz, 65; Gertrude Miller, 55; Della O'Meara, 82; Julian Banda, about 35; and Virgil Benson, about 43.

Listed in critical condition at St. Paul - Ramsey County General Hospital today in addition to Pyburn were:

Benjamin Gilstrap, 47; Mrs. Benjamin Gilstrap, 41; Mrs. Alice Ruutti, 59; George Partlow, 34; Virgil Townsen, 67; and Walter Weideman, 33.

There were slightly more than 50 persons in the 76-year-old building when the flames broke out. The structure had a brick shell but much of the interior was wood.

The hotel was first licensed in 1923, and occupied the second, third and fourth floors. A tavern on the first floor was also destroyed.

Fourteen fire rigs answered the four alarms which sounded within 22 minutes.

Near-zero weather and 15 mile per hour winds hampered the firefighters.

Gallons of water poured upon the structure soon froze and left a sheath of ice over the building.

Three women, one of them pregnant, ran screaming from the building, their clothing afire, as firemen arrived. Firemen doused the women with water from a fire hose to extinguish their flaming clothes. None was seriously hurt.

Soviets Seek Base in Asia

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia, (AP) — The Soviet Union may be seeking a base in Malaysia and Singapore for its campaign to increase its influence in Asia at the expense of Communist China.

More than a year ago, a correspondent for the official Soviet news agency, Tass, visited the country. He was the first member of the Soviet Communist party allowed to travel in the rich Southeast Asian peninsula. He is due back to open an office in Singapore this month.

A Soviet trade expert has applied for permission to visit. Approval of his trip is expected. "Why not" some officials say privately. "Russia is one of our biggest rubber buyers. Why not sell them directly?"

While Red China has been frightening Western-oriented Asian nations with its militant propaganda, the Soviets have been quietly building trade.

They already have embassies in two key Asian countries where the Chinese are excluded — Japan and Thailand. These provide a solid foundation for Soviet programs in the area and, among other things, have led to a Soviet-Japanese air pact and Soviet observers at the Asian Development Bank.

Increased Soviet presence in Malaysia would put Moscow in an excellent position to build up its Asian image and would give it a tremendous economic lever against the Chinese.

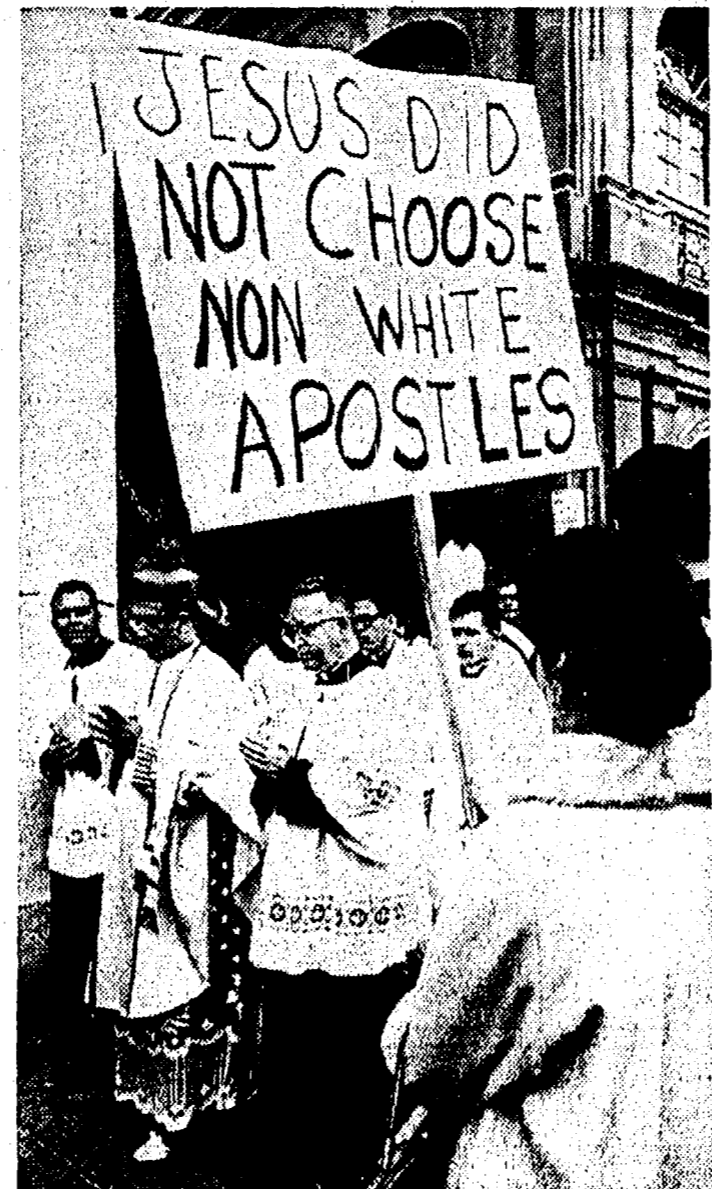

Malaysia has taken on new stature since neighboring Indonesia's war against it virtually collapsed following the abortive Peking-backed coup in October.

Since the pressure from Indonesia has eased, the Malaysian government has been working to resume diplomatic ties with the Philippines, has tightened ties with Burma and is a close ally of India and Thailand.

Unemployment At 9-Year Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment fell last month to 4.1 per cent, the lowest in nearly nine years, while employment hit a record December level of 72.7 million, federal officials reported today. They warned of budding labor shortages in some critical areas.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics attributed the bright employment picture and tightening labor market to the nation's record economic boom, the Viet Nam war buildup and federal job training programs.

Computer Tends Stock

AP Business News Analyst Interviews Son of Winonan

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The customer may always be right but in about one out of every four trips to the department store she leaves empty-handed because it was out of what she wanted to buy.

Coming to her rescue is that all-around handyman of the Soaring Sixties — the machine. Computer makers say this modern helper of industry is all set and eager to help the customer. And if this streamlining of the retailing business works as planned, the shopper eventually should be able to dictate, through her purchases, the merchandise her favorite store will carry — and be sure to have in stock.

The new program is based on a study of more than 30,000 shoppers in typical department stores. This showed that what the retail trade calls "never outs" — such staples as men's socks and women's lingerie — were actually out of stock in specific styles, sizes or colors some 22 per cent of the time. In some stores the "never outs" were actually out as much as 35 per cent of the time.

"Most often this out-of-stock problem is not the retailer's fault," A. J. McGill Jr., manager of distribution industry marketing for International Business Machines, said in an interview.

"The average department store carries about one million stock-keeping units — that is, individual sizes, colors and styles of every item. The time lag in manually keeping track of this enormous stock means that many items will not be reordered in time."

So the computer makers saw a big opening. And now IBM will offer a set of 40 computer programs to help the retailer manage his inventory. It will also let computers balance stocks to the projected needs of customers, and also react quickly to the unexpected twists in consumer buying trends.

The new approach is called inventory management program and control technique, and McGill says it is as complicated as its name. But the machine handles the complications. "An extremely complex set of mathematical techniques," says McGill, "will let retailers predict future trends of merchandise in stock, based on past sales history. They can tell more accurately and quickly which fashion items, such as women's dresses, are selling and which are not. Then they can reorder the one and reduce the other for early clearance."

For the customer this would mean being able to keep in step fast with the latest craze in her set, or to get her hands on a bargain faster. And also she would be sure that the trek to the store wouldn't be in vain.

Printer Admits Making Currency

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Ronald L. Peterson, 24, a printer from Bloomington, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court Thursday to printing $50,000 worth of $20 bills.

David Arholm, 28, Bloomington, faces the same charge. Secret Service agents say they have recovered about $48,000 worth of the bills, including $25,000 hidden in an Egan Township farm field near the Minnesota River.

Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye ordered a pre-sentence investigation of Peterson.

Ice Jams River At Monticello

MONTICELLO, Minn. (AP) — Ice jams backed up water on the Mississippi River here Thursday, with the level at times reaching a foot above last spring's flood stage.

The back-up prompted some sandbagging around the Harold Peterson home by Civil Defense volunteers and students dismissed from school with parental approval to help.

The level of the river rises and falls as the ice jams break, then build again.

A. J. McGill Jr.

The accompanying Associated Press news release on retail merchants using International Business Machine computers to help manage their inventories contains quotes made by Archibald Joseph McGill Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald J. McGill Sr., 166 E. Sarnia St., who is the manager of distribution industry marketing for IBM, White Plains, N.Y. He has been associated with the data processing division of IBM since 1956.

He and his wife, the former Mary Hemmelman, daughter of Mrs. Wayne Hemmelman, 962 E. 5th St., and their seven children are living in White Plains.

McGill, 34, is a graduate of Winona Senior High School and a 1956 graduate of St. Mary's College. He attained a degree in the Russian languages at the University of Syracuse, N.Y. He served four years with the security branch of the U.S. Air Force, spending about 1½ years in Japan.

In 1956, he started as a salesman in the data processing division of IBM, St. Paul. He then went to Minneapolis where he was an IBM salesman, after which he was a branch manager in Sioux Falls, S.D. McGill returned to Minneapolis where he was assistant district manager. He then went to Chicago where he was manager of the IBM branch office there, after which he located in White Plains, where he has lived for one year and 10 months.

McGill is in charge of a new type of IBM equipment. He sets up sales and trains men for various positions. In his present capacity, he has traveled to Europe, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and all over the United States.

Girl Saves Family of 5

EL SOBRANTE, Calif. (AP) — A family of five, unconscious in fumes from a defective home gas heater, credited a thoughtful little girl with saving their lives Thursday.

Debra Crouse, 7, became concerned when her friend, Mary Johnson, also 7, didn't meet her for their morning walk to school. She hurried to the Johnson home and when nobody answered the doorbell alerted two women neighbors.

The women opened an unlocked door, smelled gas and raced through the home to pull the unconscious Johnson children, Mary, Andy, 6, and Eric, 4, from their beds to safety.

Firemen arrived moments later and rescued Johnson, 31, and his wife, Kay, 31, both also unconscious. The family was revived with oxygen inhalators and taken to Brookside Hospital, where they are recovering.

Investigators searched vainly for the little heroine. She had hurried off to school. She didn't want to be late.

216 Educational Centers to Share In $15 Million Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — A total of 216 educational centers and services — including several in Minnesota and North Dakota — will share in a $15 million bonanza announced by the U.S. Office of Education Thursday.

Under the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and funds will go to both public and private schools — elementary, secondary and adult — and to help pre-schoolers, handicapped children and dropouts.

The amount to be allocated for the individual projects was not given. This will be determined after further negotiations with local authorities.

Some approvals for planning. Others are for immediate execution.

Air Strikes Against Reds Held Political

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — United States air strikes against North Viet Nam have political, rather than military motives, a radio-TV foreign correspondent told a special University of Minnesota convocation Thursday night.

Garrick Utley, head of National Broadcasting Company's Saigon bureau, was one of 10 NBC correspondents who shared their views on international affairs with a near-capacity audience.

Many of their views on events and trends across the oceans were less than rosy.

Utley, a 1961 Carleton College graduate, called the Viet Nam war "an escalating stalemate," solvable only in the political field, and he added, "there's unfortunately a stalemate there, too."

The convocation was jointly sponsored by KSTP-TV, Twin Cities NBC outlet and the University Department of Concerts and Lectures.

The Minneapolis stop was one of 10 the NBC team are making in a brief domestic tour.

"Most Europeans do not feel involved in Viet Nam," said Elie Abel of London. "In Viet Nam we stand more or less alone."

John Rich of Tokyo said the closer one gets to the Viet Nam battle zone, the less criticism one hears of what the U.S. is doing — with the notable exception of Japan.

Kenneth Bernstein of Moscow predicted the ideological dispute between Russia and Red China would grow in 1966, perhaps beyond repair.

Tom Streithorst of Rio de Janeiro commenting acridly on U.S. intervention in Latin American affairs, observed, "there are many more Communists in the Dominican Republic today than when the U.S. Marines landed."

Baltimore Plans Bagpipe Band

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The skirl of bagpipes soon will be heard in Baltimore public schools.

Behind the move for a bagpipe band is Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin (Clan Campbell).

Dr. Laurence G. Pagnin, school superintendent, has told music instructors to look for bagpipe teachers. "While I cannot claim Scotch ancestry," he told the mayor, "I have enough Celt in me to appreciate bagpipe music."

"I hope we will have the pleasure of seeing you in your kilts in their first public appearance."

Carroll Baker Back From Tour Minus Wardrobe

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Carroll Baker came back from an entertainment tour of South Viet Nam with Gen. William C. Westmoreland's four stars, an ashtray from the captain's cabin on the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga and a combat suit marked "Property of U.S. Marines."

Miss Baker said she took along $25,000 worth of Paris-designed gowns on the Christmas tour with Bob Hope and brought none back.

"I lost a couple," says the blonde star. "One $14,000 gown just disintegrated in the heat, mud and rain. Another from Balmain was mostly feathers. The boys just picked them off — and I couldn't care less."

She figures she kissed 5,000 G.I.'s, sometimes a platoon at a time.

Statue Gives Way to Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — A statue honoring those who went down on the Titanic is being dislodged by preparations for construction of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

The $40,000 stone figure, its arms outstretched, will be dismantled next week and trucked from its home beside the Potomac River for storage at nearby Fort Washington, Md.

The Park Service says the monument will be returned to Washington as soon as a new site is obtained.

Health Award Made

ST. PAUL (AP) — The U.S. Public Health Service awarded a $37,777 grant to the Department of Public Welfare for a state mental retardation planning project, congressional sources reported Thursday.

Authority Asks Applications For Director

An acting executive director was named by the Housing and Redevelopment Authority Thursday night to serve until a replacement for the late Arthur A. Gallien is hired.

Named to the post was J. E. Krier, a member of the authority board. Under bylaws of the authority a board member can serve temporarily but not permanently. Krier will be unsalaried.

The appointment was made at a special meeting called following Gallien's death Sunday from a heart attack. The meeting was begun with a moment of silence in memory of the late director.

BOARD members also voted to raise the salary of Mrs. Christine Pampuch, executive director's assistant, for the interim between Jan. 1 and the time a new director is hired. Dr. W. O. Finkelnburg, chairman, said the present salary of $310 a month would be raised temporarily to $400. Mrs. Pampuch will be assigned much of the routine work of the office which includes administration of the 191 housing units under authority control.

Advertisements will be placed in professional journals and in local newspapers for applications, the board agreed. Several members already have had calls and letters from individuals seeking the position. Board members urged candidates not to call since all applications must be in writing.

Job qualifications will be outlined in the public notices, board members said. These will state preferences for college graduates under 60, having experience in public housing and redevelopment as well as administrative experience.

Salary for the position is limited to $700 a month by the authority bylaws. Board members indicated they would leave the salary question open for negotiation with the appointee but that it likely will be beneath the limit.

AN EARLY choice probably will not be made. Board members said they would base their decision partly on whether urban renewal will be adopted by the city. If renewal gets the green light the director will be heavily involved in various aspects, including land acquisition and resale and relocation of individuals and businesses displaced in the process.

Board members also voted to allow payment for three weeks of vacation due to the late director but unused by him. Gallien's salary was $700 per month plus an additional $160 for extra work in connection with urban renewal planning. The vacation allowance would be approximately three-fourths of these amounts, or $645.

St. Charles Asks Help on Street Job

The St. Charles city engineer Thursday asked the county board of commissioners to help finance $55,000 for repair and construction of 6 1/2 blocks of streets in St. Charles in 1966. The work will be done on a section of St. Charles Street from 14th Street to Highway 14. Designation of about four blocks of this street as a county road would legalize financing.

This proposal was rejected last year by the state screening committee.

The four-block job will cost only about $15,000 of the total project cost of $55,000, because much of the storm sewer system already is in place there. W. E. Agnaberg, representing St. Charles, said the city proposes to float bonds over a 10- or 20-year period to finance 6 1/2 miles of street construction throughout the city. County funds would be involved in only the $55,000.

Gordon Fay, county highway engineer, said a cooperative agreement between the city of St. Charles and Winona County would be acceptable if first county payments would not need to be made before 1968. Until that date funds are tied up in the five-year county highway plan, which expires in 1967.

He also made it clear that it now is a county policy on all new city roadway construction, sidewalks must be installed or the county will not help in financing.

Both engineers agreed that this construction is warranted, because St. Charles Street is heavily traveled and serves several businesses.

No decision was made. Commissioners will inspect the area.

County Wants to Delay West 5th St. Program

By GLENN HELGELAND
Daily News Staff Writer

A two-way combination problem — last spring's floods that wiped out surplus county highway funds and a year's delay in reconstruction of West 5th Street from the west city limits to Broadway in anticipation of receiving more state aid funds — came back to haunt the County Board of Commissioners Thursday.

Part of the problem may cause yet another year's delay in construction.

APPEARING before the County Board of Commissioners, James Baird, city engineer, asked whether the county would be able to provide its share of construction expenses for West 5th Street.

He was told that surplus county funds at the end of 1964 had been earmarked for this work, in line with scheduled plans decided upon in 1963 and approved in 1964. However, the flood played havoc with county roads and bridges and boosted emergency construction and maintenance costs far above normal, wiping out all surplus funds.

This and continued emergency construction costs, may cripple the construction program for Winona's west end for another year or two, commissioners said.

Subsequent discussion became quite heated as the county's five-year plan, city planning for highway construction, bonding and highway usage all were reviewed.

ESTIMATE for reconstruction of the West 5th Street section is $127,000. Of this, $37,000 would be assessable to property owners along the construction area for curb, gutter and sidewalk installation.

The remaining $90,000 would be split — $45,000 could be received in state aid from the "turnback" fund.

(The "turnback" bill was passed by the 1965 state legislature. It takes 5 percent off the top of gasoline tax users funds and gives this money to municipalities or counties which are planning construction on highways which were formerly state highways but have been turned back to county highways. For example, old Highway 61 is a "turnback" highway.)

The remaining $45,000 should be a county expenditure, because the road is now a county highway, it was noted.

Construction of the West 5th Street section was originally scheduled for 1965, but was delayed until 1966 in anticipation of receiving the turnback funds.

BAIRD SUGGESTED county bonding to obtain necessary funds to begin construction in 1966.

Bonding for this project is not possible, said Gordon Fay, county highway engineer, because other emergency and repair needs preclude it. The county must provide $85,000 if it is to receive a like amount in emergency funds provided by the federal government for CSAH 30 near Beaver. A new bridge on the Whitewater River near Elba will cost $120,000.

The county may have to use bonds to finance these emergency projects, he said.

Commissioners emphasized that the only way $45,000 could be provided this year would be to have the city advance the amount, make a drastic cutback in the county five-year plan, or eliminate emergency county work.

IN LINE with this view, George M. Robertson Jr., city attorney, said that both groups would need assurance of state aid money for local construction, because local budgets are not adequate for extended work on county roads in and around the city.

He referred to plans for work on all of old Highway 61 to Main Street. In addition, County Road 43 will need repairs to handle traffic to the new technical school, he said.

Construction on West 5th Street could begin this year with a city advance on Municipal State Aid Street (MSAS) funds, it was suggested. The county could then reimburse the city in 1968 for county share of expenses.

Baird argued that all parties concerned would get more work done over a given length of time if bonds were sold. He said this allows larger projects to be constructed, the work would be more economical if done in large segments and costs will not be cheaper in the future. Future highway budgets could then be planned with a set ratio for the yearly construction program and bond payment.

"WE'VE GOT to do something, whether we have money right now or not," Baird added. "It is simply a basis of need, the same as the county five-year plan."

The county problem is not a question of what the people or commissioners want, but what has been proposed and planned, and that there are limits to what can be financed or constructed, said Commissioner James Papenfuss, Dakota.

The county five-year plan has already suffered two large cutbacks, said Fay, county highway engineer.

"In 1966 we have a problem because years ago the city didn't program ahead with the county." Joint programming probably would have enabled the county to include certain county highway sections within city limits on their construction program, he added.

CITY attorney Robertson asked if it was possible to plan for and complete one project each year. He suggested the county and city engineers be directed to determine availability and amount of state aid, draw up a time schedule of improvements to be made down to Main Street, determine a method of financing and decide on individual projects to be done.

Following this, the City Council and county board could probably reach a decision, he said. No decision was made.

Plane Forced Down At Night at Altura

Wrecked in a forced landing near Altura Tuesday night, a St. Paul pilot's plane awaits repairs at Max Conrad Field, according to airport personnel.

As told by the pilot, James Hawkins, to Roger Anderson, Winona Aviation Service maintenance mechanic, the story was harrowing but ended happily.

HAWKINS was flying to St. Paul, accompanied by his wife, small son and small dog. They were returning in Hawkins' four-place, Mooney airplane from a visit with relatives in Kentucky, according to Anderson.

About 8 p.m. an engine seal apparently gave way, splattering the windshield with escaping oil. Hawkins noted the plane down for a landing in an open field, formerly planted with corn and later plowed. The rough frozen ground demolished the plane's tricycle landing gear, wrecked the propeller and inflicted other damage. The plane came to a stop in a hollow.

Hawkins was unable to see any lights, so the family spent the night in the plane. Using his lighter, Hawkins burned maps and bits of paper to keep the small cabin warm. The trio donned extra clothes they were carrying and took turns using the small dog as an additional foot warmer.

Temperatures that night varied from 18 to 27 degrees, according to Weather Bureau records here.

IN THE MORNING Hawkins made his way to the Meisch Bros. farmstead, near where the plane came down.

Anderson loaded the damaged plane onto a trailer Wednesday and brought it to the Winona airport, escorted along Highway 248 and 61 by Winona County sheriff's officers.

Federal Aviation Agency inspectors examined the plane Thursday, Anderson said, but did not say what their findings were. Said Anderson, referring to the emergency landing: "He did a real good job."

Minimum Pay Approved for County Offices

A special law setting minimum salaries of $8,000 per year for four county officers and $9,500 for a fifth officer was approved Thursday by the County Board of Commissioners. The new law becomes effective Jan. 1, 1967.

Receiving an $8,000 minimum will be the county auditor, treasurer, register of deeds and clerk of court. The county sheriff's minimum salary will be $9,500.

The new law was passed in May 1965 by the state legislature. It will replace the fee system now used in these offices.

The board also authorized Gordon Fay, county highway engineer to advertise for bids for bridge construction on CSAH 39 over the Whitewater River, 1.5 miles south of Elba; grading on County Road 107 from 2.2 miles north of its junction with CSAH 21 to 1.9 miles north, and base and bituminous surfacing on CSAH 15.

In addition to these advertisements, the board also authorized construction on federal-aid-secondary projects eligible for federal funds and eligible for construction and letting of contracts.

These projects are: CSAH 25 from Highway 14 in Lewiston to 3.65 miles northeast; CSAH 8 from its junction with CSAH 11 to 1.57 miles east, and CSAH 6 from 0.4 miles northeast of Highway 74 in Troy to CSAH 35 at Clyde. Project length on CSAH 6 is 4.3 miles.

Payment of all bills was authorized.

FU Told Sales Tax Backers Blocked Relief

LEWISTON, Minn. — Personal property tax relief for farmers and main street retail businessmen could have been provided in the 1965 legislative session, but was blocked by some legislators who wanted a sales tax, county and local farmers Union leaders from Fillmore, Olmsted, Houston, Wabasha and Winona counties were told here Tuesday by Cy Carpenter, Farmers Union legislative representative.

Carpenter was one of the state Farmers Union leaders speaking at the 16th annual mid-winter conference, one of 20 such meetings being held throughout the state.

He said the Farmers Union-backed Farmers and Merchants Tax Relief Bill of 1965 would have eliminated about $28 million in taxes now being paid on business inventories of retailers and the personal property used in farming operations.

Replacement revenue under the bill would have come from a one percent levy on the adjusted gross income of individuals, estates and trusts — the first $4,000 of such income would be exempt from the tax — and a one percent levy on the taxable income of all corporations.

"The bill provided a beginning on tax relief without depleting the local tax base, without depressing the business economy and without making a tax collector of the retail businessman," he said.

Edwin Christianson, president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, also spoke at the meeting. He stressed the importance for farmers to be effectively represented when decisions are being made on such things as farm prices and income, interest rates, taxes and economic concentration and monopoly.

Preston to Get Radio Station

PRESTON, Minn. (Special) —Obed S. Borgen, Rochester, Minn., former owner of the Harmony News, has learned that his application to operate a 500-watt radio station in Preston has been granted by the Federal Communications Commission.

Borgen said construction of the transmitting station on property on Highway 16 west of Preston will begin early in the spring.

It will be 228 feet high on top of a hill. Estimated range of the station is 40 miles; frequency will be 1060.

Witnesses Differ On City Incident

The words and actions of a city planning commissioner charged with breach of the peace at a Dec. 23 meeting of the commissioners were related in differing versions this morning in municipal court.

Disagreement existed between commission members themselves as to whether Jerry V. Papenfuss had risen from his chair to deliver a verbal attack on Martin A. Beatty and whether a profanity had accompanied the phrase "little s.o.b." directed at Beatty.

CITY PROSECUTOR James W. Soderberg rested the state's case shortly before noon today, and Special Municipal Judge Loren W. Torgerson denied a defense motion for a directed verdict of not guilty.

Defense Attorney Roger P. Brosnahan made an opening statement to jurors just before the noon recess. He said that his client, after "systematic heckling" from Beatty over a long period of time, became so angry Dec. 23 that he "could have said anything" but didn't recall Papenfuss' exact words, but he didn't remember Papenfuss using any profanity.

Beatty had spoken at one previous Planning Commission meeting, Schain said, and had taken about five minutes of the commission's time. Schain said of the verbal attack by Papenfuss, "I asked Jerry to sit down, I mean calm down." He said that Papenfuss had not actually risen from his chair.

SCHAIN said that he believes Beatty was out of order in addressing a question to an individual commission member, as he had addressed Papenfuss; but the chairman said he didn't believe Beatty's question had been needling.

The Dec. 23 meeting had ended in a normal manner with a motion to adjourn and a vote, Schain said. Examining the minutes of the meeting, Schain said that he had "no reason to doubt" that their account of a motion, a second and a vote is correct.

Commissioner Donald W. Gray, 785 Clark's Lane, however, had a different recollection of the incident.

Gray told Brosnahan that he recalls "positively, he (Papenfuss) was on his feet and I asked him to sit down." Gray said that he might have felt upset at the time by Papenfuss' remarks.

Papenfuss said, "Martin Beatty, you little s.o.b., I'm sick and tired of having you do everything you can to disrupt these meetings and downgrade the city of Winona," according to Gray. He added that Papenfuss had begun talking, in a loud tone, before he rose from his chair.

DARREL R. Johnson, 1608 W. King St., secretary of the Planning Commission, testified that Papenfuss said to Beatty, "You dirty little s.o.b.," but merely turned in his chair as he did so.

Mrs. Fayette O. Ehle, 220 Franklin St., testified that she attended the Dec. 23 meeting because a matter under discussion at it affected their store and home.

Papenfuss turned in his chair and said, "You little s.o.b." to Beatty, Mrs. Ehle said, towards the end of the meeting. Then he added, "(Profanity) you. I ought to throw you out the window," according to Mrs. Ehle. Papenfuss was angry, she continued. "I would say he shouted," she noted of his tone of voice. "Yes, I was disturbed," she told Soderberg. "I didn't expect anyone of that status, on a commission of this type to have such a flare-up of temper," Mrs. Ehle explained.

MRS. EHLE testified that Schain had declared the meeting adjourned, but she didn't recall a motion or a vote on the matter. Schain was excited, according to Mrs. Ehle.

On cross-examination, she told Brosnahan that Beatty did not represent her in any matter. She did not attend meetings of city government bodies with him and did not attend the Dec. 23 meeting with him, Mrs. Ehle maintained.

Although she had heard the expression "s.o.b." before, Mrs. Ehle said, "I felt that it was disrespectful" in use at a public meeting. Beatty interviewed her prior to the trial concerning her recollection of the Dec. 23 incident, Mrs. Ehle said, and he drew up a statement containing her account.

Beatty did not tell her anything about the case, Mrs. Ehle told Brosnahan.

MRS. GEORGE J. Smith, 206 Center St., was the final state's witness. She is Beatty's sister-in-law. She testified that Papenfuss had said, "Martin" in a normal tone of voice.

Then he had turned in his chair and shouted, "You (profanity) s.o.b. You little s.o.b. I should throw you out the window. What are you trying to do? Why are you always criticizing? You s.o.b., I'd like to throw you out the window," according to Mrs. Smith.

The outburst surprised her, she said; but she had kept on taking notes.

On cross-examination, Mrs. Smith told Brosnahan that she attends city government meetings as frequently as her brother-in-law. However, she said, she attends alone and rarely sees Beatty other than at such meetings.

SHE TAKES notes, she maintained, because many things are left out of the newspaper accounts of government meetings.

Mrs. Smith said that she conferred with Beatty prior to the trial. But she said that he didn't tell her what to say, and she didn't tell him what she was going to say.

Brosnahan's motion for a directed verdict was based on the ground that Papenfuss' remarks to Beatty had been of a man-to-man nature. Consequently, he argued, these remarks were not in the nature of a public disorder. For one man to swear at another is not a crime, he said.

Brosnahan noted that the statute under which Papenfuss is charged requires that the language used be such as to arouse "alarm, anger or resentment in others." However, "others" must be construed to mean bystanders; and Mrs. Ehle and Mrs. Smith, being closely associated with Beatty, according to Brosnahan, could not be considered true bystanders.

SODERBERG replied that there is complete agreement on the use of the phrase "little s.o.b." — words which, he argued, are clearly obscene and abusive and which would arouse anger and alarm in any reasonable person.

Brosnahan told the jury, after Judge Torgerson had denied the motion, that his side of the case would be brief, including the testimony of Papenfuss and further testimony from Beatty.

He said that Papenfuss will relate how Beatty's campaign to downgrade the city government had built up so much resentment in the commissioner that his feelings finally burst out.

DISAGREEMENT over the words used and the moves made by Papenfuss emerged from late afternoon testimony of two reporters who covered the Dec. 23 Planning Commission meeting.

Beatty had testified earlier that Papenfuss used a profanity in addition to the phrase "SOB," and that the commissioner had risen from his chair, taken a step or two toward Beatty and shaken his fists at him.

Both Frank Uhlig, 364 E. Broadway, and Wayne Valentine, 616 W. 5th St., testified that Papenfuss had never risen from his chair although he had turned in to face Beatty. Both maintained that Papenfuss had used no profanity, but they confirmed that the defendant had called Beatty a "little s.o.b." Uhlig is a reporter for the Daily News, and Valentine is news director of KAGE radio.

DEFENSE Attorney Brosnahan concentrated mainly on Beatty's activities as a critic of city government and its officials during his cross-examination of the complainant.

Beatty identified a copy of a letter he wrote Nov. 14, 1964, which he had distributed to all members of the Winona Housing and Redevelopment Authority, all members of the City Council and most members of the Winona Chamber of Commerce — some 300 men and women.

Beatty admitted that, in the letter, he criticized city officials with regard to the performance of their duties. But he denied that his criticisms could be termed offensive because, he said, they were all true.

To repeated questions from Brosnahan, Beatty replied that his criticisms could only be of offensive or erate resentment if they were untrue.

BEATTY acknowledged that he was once escorted from the City Council chamber by police and that another time he had torn up a copy of the city housing code while making a statement to the City Council.

In the first instance, he testified that the Council had created the disturbance by ordering him ejected from the room.

Beatty also identified as his summons and complaint served on 48 or so city officials — including Papenfuss — last fall. The complaint had made 130 allegations and asked a District Court order declaring certain alleged city government practices unconstitutional.

Beatty testified that this complaint had been dismissed without a hearing on its merits by Judge Arnold Hatfield.

BEATTY also admitted charging a breach of ethics by City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. He had brought his charges to the sheriff, county attorney, state crime bureau, state attorney general and to the governor, Beatty testified.

Finally, Beatty testified that, in his opinion, a luncheon meeting attended by Papenfuss and other members of the City Planning Commission with members of the Board of Education had been clandestine, secret and illegal.

It was because he believed Papenfuss had attended that he asked the commissioner which members of the commission had been at the meeting, Beatty said. And it was this question which was followed by Papenfuss' outburst against him, Beatty said.

Beatty was positive that Papenfuss had risen and taken at least one step towards him, he told Brosnahan.

AFTER THE meeting, Beatty testified, Commission Chairman James Schain had told him, "Martin, I apologize for what happened. I can't speak for the board. But, for myself, I don't approve of such actions."

Beatty said that he had accepted the apology. To Brosnahan's question, he admitted having shrugged and laughed, saying, "That's all right, I'm not hard-nosed."

Beatty told Brosnahan that he didn't recall the names of the commissioners who had been at the luncheon meeting being read in the minutes of the Dec. 23 meeting, and he added that he didn't believe the names had been in the minutes. (It was these names Beatty had asked Papenfuss to supply at the close of the Dec. 23 meeting.)

BROSNAHAN won permission to briefly suspend Beatty's cross-examination while he called Commission Secretary Darrel Johnson. Johnson identified a book containing the commission's minutes and read a paragraph from the minutes which had been read by him Dec. 23.

The paragraph he read in court included the names of those commissioners who had attended the meeting with School Board members.

With Beatty back on the stand, Brosnahan again asked whether the minutes read Dec. 23 had included the names. Beatty said he couldn't answer from his own recollection.

On redirect examination by City Prosecutor Soderberg, Beatty testified that his law office, in a building owned by him, is in the so-called "core area" covered by a proposed downtown renewal plan to be partially financed from federal funds.

Passage of the renewal plan would deprive him of his livelihood, he said; and federal urban renewal, in any event, deprives people of their right to own property.

UHLIG testified that Beatty had spoken in a level tone of voice when addressing Papenfuss. Papenfuss himself had been agitated as he delivered his criticism of Beatty, Uhlig said. Other commission members had urged Papenfuss to stop, the reporter recalled.

On cross-examination, Uhlig told Brosnahan that Beatty hadn't criticized the Planning Commission at the Dec. 23 meeting. Although his remarks are more often critical than not, Beatty does not engage in personal attacks, Uhlig said. Papenfuss could be characterized as a mild-mannered man, Uhlig told Brosnahan.

VALENTINE testified that Beatty's conduct at the Dec. 23 meeting had been polite and that his question to Papenfuss had not been belligerent.

On cross-examination, he told Brosnahan that Beatty had said after the meeting that the news media were free, as far as he was concerned, to use any of Papenfuss' remarks that they wished in reporting the meeting. Papenfuss' movements, while he criticized Beatty at the meeting, had not indicated that he would physically attack Beatty, Valentine testified.

DEAR ABBY:

Tracking Snow
Tracking snow now prevailing over Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin opens up a whole new world of winter sport for the hunter and more hunters probably than usual are going forth after winter game. Rabbit hunting for cottontails and fox hunting for red fox are the two holding the limelight.

Cottontails, not as common locally, are still the main hunting sport of youthful sportsmen who last weekend, following the snow, were able to discover fresh tracks in the ravines and along the creeks. Saturday will find this group with their .22 rifles along creek beds and along hillsides where a branch or two may have dropped, leaving a brush pile. This type of terrain is favorite habitat for the cottontail.

The open season in Minnesota for cottontail and jacks runs through March 1 with hunting from sunrise to sunset. The daily limit is ten a day. In Wisconsin, where a conservation program for cottontail is being applied, the limit is three a day with season closing Jan. 31.

Red fox hunting is the other sport available this season. Fox, of course, is an unprotected animal which has been trapped extensively in the past for bounty, but this year, with foxskins again marketable, it has become more of a gun sport.

Sporting goods stores tell us that there has been a good demand for fox calls and that some of the hunters, using an injured rabbit appeal, are able to bring fox within range of a small bore rifle, thus killing them without badly damaging their skins. One State College youth bagged three fox last weekend using this call. The skins run over $5 each.

The art of properly preparing a foxskin for market is pretty much a forgotten skill among the younger generation of hunters. For the last ten years the skins had little or no value. The trapper or hunter simply took the dead fox in for bounty, where its feet or nose was cut off to show that the bounty had been paid, and the animal was taken to the dump. Today foxskins are bringing up to $7.

Woman Perplexed Over Introductions

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am moving to another city soon. Several friends here have said, "You MUST look up So and So. Here is his name and number. Just call and say you are a friend of mine."

Abby, is it proper for a newcomer in town to call a resident there and put him on the spot that way? I can't just call a stranger and say, "Hello, I'm Millie McGillicuddy. I am 34 years old, divorced have two children and am self-supporting. My measurements are 36-25-37, and Sam Strangelove told me to call you."

I'm afraid if I don't call I might miss meeting some interesting people, and if I do call, I'll appear presumptuous. How should this be handled? PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: Ask all your big-hearted friends to write So and So a note and suggest that he call YOU. That way, the go-between can clue his friend in on all the vital statistics, and leave it to him to call you if he chooses.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to be married in February. My first choice for matron of honor is my sister, but she's in a family way and says if she's able to stand up she'll do it. My next choice is my husband's sister. But she's in a family way, too, and although she says she isn't due until March, she looks like she's going to deliver before my sister. In case neither one can do it, would it be proper to ask my grandmother to be my matron of honor?

JEN IN SEASIDE
DEAR JEN: Your grandmother sounds like the safest bet to me. Ask her.

DEAR ABBY: I am considering marrying a man who has been married before. (I have not.) We are both in our middle thirties and have gone together for four years. We love each other very much. My question: How much should I know about his former marriage? When we first met he told me that he was a divorced man, and he has never made reference to that subject again. I've held off asking him any questions, hoping he would bring it up again. I don't want to know anything that is none of my business, but I want to know as much as I should. Can you give me an honest answer? CURIOUS IN MEMPHIS

DEAR CURIOUS: Inquire only about that which may concern your lives together should you marry. Has he children? Is his former wife still his financial responsibility? What were the grounds for divorce? Are they on friendly terms? This information is indeed your business and you have a right to know.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WONDERING WHY" IN PAULS VALLEY: Quit wondering and enjoy your success. "Behind every successful man stands an astonished mother-in-law." (Walter W. Heller)

The thermometer was on a toboggan ride in Winona today and before it stops sliding the temperature may register 12 to 20 below.

Starting from an overnight low of -5, the mercury dipped to -8 at mid-morning and was only -6 at noon despite the bright sunshine.

THE PIERCING northerly and northwesterly winds which buffeted the area today are slated to diminish from 20 miles an hour during the morning to 10 miles an hour tonight, giving a little relief but the thermometer probably will offset that by dropping to near 20 below, the forecast indicated.

The high Saturday is not expected to be much above zero. Not quite so cold and no important precipitation is the outlook for Sunday.

A half-inch snowfall dusted the area overnight, bringing the total on the ground to around five inches.

Goetz Boomed For 2nd Post On GOP Ticket

A Winona man, James Goetz, is being boomed this weekend in St. Paul as a Republican candidate for the post of lieutenant governor.

Goetz is the present 1st District GOP chairman and is a former Winona County chairman. Along with 250 delegates from all over the state, he is attending a meeting of the GOP state central committee today and Saturday in Minneapolis.

He was alternate delegate for the district to the 1964 national Republican convention. According to the St. Paul Pioneer Press, Goetz has said he is being encouraged in several quarters to run and is "listening."

Winona County Republicans are trying to promote the boom. A hospital room for central committee delegates has been set up at the Park Nicollet Hotel in Minneapolis. Spearheading the effort are Robert C. Olson, county chairman, and Mrs. George Garber, chairwoman. Both are from Winona.

Goetz, 29, is president of Gem Radio Stations, the firm which owns KAGE in Winona and a station in Lincoln, Neb. Gem is planning a third station at Pontiac, Ill.

For the present, his candidacy appears to be largely unopposed. Most of the interest in Republican circles has been concentrated on the question of which of several individuals would be the strongest candidate for governor.

Fatal Accident Driver Charged

Austin F. Shira, 77, Homer Road, was charged today in municipal court with failure to yield the right of way in connection with a fatal accident Dec. 17 on U.S. 61-14.

Attorney William A. Lindquist, representing Shira, entered a guilty plea to the charge and paid the $25 fine levied by Judge John D. McGill as the alternative to eight days in jail.

Minnesota Highway Patrolman Nathaniel H. Miller charged Shira, driving east on an access road to the highway, with failure to yield the right of way to a southbound car containing five St. Mary's College students on their way home for Christmas.

Access to the highway from the road on which Shira drove, Miller noted, is controlled by a stop sign. Miller swore out the complaint Thursday. The state was represented in court today by Assistant County Attorney Richard H. Darby.

Killed in the Dec. 17 collision was Richard Kelleher, 20, Elmhurst, Ill. Kelleher was a junior at St. Mary's.

Winonans Buy Lake City 'Block'

LAKE CITY, Minn. — Dr. M. L. DeBolt and Dr. C. R. Kolofski, Winona optometrists, have purchased the Lake City Office Block from the Lake City State Bank.

The optometrists have offices in Winona, Rushford and St. Charles but do not plan offices in Lake City.

The "Block" is a former bank, the defunct Citizens State Bank. After its dissolution the building was remodeled for office space, then converted to a supermarket. Several years ago it left. Since then there has been no permanent tenants.

Plans are for remodeling of the second floor into modern apartments and for making the lower floor available for commercial or professional purposes. Land occupied by an adjacent popcorn stand is included.

GALESVILLE BUILDING
GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Galesville Building and Realty Co. will be Jan. 17 at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Doline Uhl, secretary.

Rock, Green Bay, Wausau, Eau Claire and Superior all had 2 inches. One inch was reported at Madison, Beloit, Racine and Burlington.

Temperatures Thursday ranged from 37 at Burlington to 7 above at Superior. Most readings were in the low 30s and 20s.

Superior had its coldest weather of the season early today with a low of 23 below zero. Eau Claire reported 9 below and Park Falls 2 below.

SNOW FELL in the upper Mississippi Valley and the western Great Lake region and headed into the eastern Great Lakes. Amounts ranged from one to three inches in parts of Wisconsin and northern Illinois.

'Passing Time' Has Valuable Tips

HOW TO GET AHEAD in traffic is the topic of the newest folder published by the safety division of the Wisconsin Motor Vehicle Department.

Entitled "Passing Time," the folder lists main points of law on vehicles passing one another and dispels six common beliefs that cause trouble for some motorists.

Points of law are listed as follows:

- Outside of business and residence districts, a "warning" ("not a blast") on the horn should be given.

- After passing, don't return to the right lane until safely clear of the overtaken vehicle.

- It's unlawful to pass if the opposite lane isn't clear for a safe distance, or on any part of a vision-obstructed hill or curve, or where passing is forbidden by a yellow line on your side of the centerline or by a "Do Not Pass" sign.

- It's against the law to increase your speed while being passed.

- Passing on the right is permitted only if it can be done in safety and without driving off the pavement, and then only (1) when the overtaken vehicle is about to turn left, (2) if there are two or more lanes in your direction, or (3) on a one-way street with two or more lanes.

- Passing at highway-rail crossings and intersections is prohibited unless there are two or more lanes in your direction.

- The center lane on highways with an odd number of lanes may be used for passing if clear of traffic for a safe distance; but on roads divided into four or more clearly marked lanes, crossing over into lanes allocated to oncoming traffic in order to pass other vehicles is prohibited.

"Ideally, from an accident prevention standpoint, all traffic would move at about the same lawful speed," says Dan F. Schutz, safety director for the motor vehicle department.

"HOWEVER," he adds, "highways are filled with many kinds of drivers, with differing habits, ideas, destinations and schedules. Some drive at moderate speeds, some are slowpokes, and some like high speeds. Drivers are changeable in their moods and attitudes."

Schutz calls attention to these six false notions about passing, with commentary on each:

ERROR ONE — A cautious and safe driver seldom if ever finds it necessary to pass other vehicles.

This isn't quite true. Sometimes the driver who refuses to pass a slow-moving vehicle is really the one most responsible for the buildup of a long line of impatient drivers.

ERROR TWO — It's a good idea to get up close before passing.

Wrong — for two reasons: Closing up to the vehicle ahead blocks your vision; and when you pass from this position you have to do your accelerating in the exposure of the opposite lane.

ERROR THREE — When pulling out to pass, take a second look to see if there's room.

No harm in a second look, perhaps; but it may be the tip-off that you were guessing in the first place. Make sure before you START to pass.

ERROR FOUR — Deft passing requires a powerful car, with plenty of pick-up to get past in a hurry.

Not necessarily. Horsepower is a poor substitute for precaution. Power should be held in reserve for an emergency when needed. Tight spots should not be rushed into with overconfidence.

ERROR FIVE — Using turn signals before passing warns drivers coming up from behind that you are pulling out.

A lane change may not be made unless and until it can be done in safety. While use of turn signals is part of good passing procedure, the act of signaling doesn't give you the right of way automatically.

ERROR SIX — Passing other vehicles would be no problem — except for those horrendous oversized trucks.

In spite of their size, trucks can be passed safely by those who know how. Because of their length they do permit fewer passing opportunities (for every added ten feet of length, passing time increases by about two-thirds of a second). But don't panic or act impulsively. Stay back far enough to give yourself seeing space and starting space.

Two concluding thoughts are presented in the folder. One is that a driver must make frequent use of his rearview mirror, and before passing he should give a quick glance over his left shoulder as well. A companion practice for safe driving is to keep to the right on divided highways, for the benefit of faster traffic coming up from the rear.

THE OTHER THOUGHT is to exercise patience. If the man ahead is doing the speed limit, why pass him? You'd have to exceed the speed limit to do so, which puts you in violation. Fall back and follow at a comfortable distance.

Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: And not that he should return from his ways, and live?—Ezekiel 18:23.

Union Autocracy At Work in N.Y.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The whole country has been given a dramatic example of how an autocracy in control of 33,000 workers can paralyze the transportation system of the second-largest city in the world. The issue is not personal — it isn't just an eccentric or demagogic personality like that of Michael Quill which deserves criticism but the subservient attitude of the members of his labor union who are ordered to go on strike and fail to take into account the possible consequences of their action. This is the problem that the United States is plagued with today as strike after strike is called which arbitrarily causes the loss of many millions of dollars a day to innocent bystanders.

Congress has been negligent in dealing with union autocracies as well as union monopolies. Many an industry has its costs fixed by extremists like Mr. Quill. There is no mechanism which insures fairness or a conciliatory process which takes into account all the equities in a dispute.

WHAT IS CALLED "collective bargaining" is a farce. It is "collective" only in the sense that the united power of the workers is utilized to blackjack employers into submission. The "bargaining" often fails to recognize that there are limits to the payments which can be made by management. Again and again an ultimatum is issued by a labor-union leader, and the employer finds himself comparing the huge cost of a strike with the expense of granting the wage demands. Many a manager has taken the risk of agreeing to high wage scales that he really can't afford, only to find himself later forced out of business.

The annual cost of strikes reaches fantastic figures, especially when public facilities are involved that cause damage to citizens in every walk of life. But the costs of the wage increases themselves which are applied to large and small companies alike in many industries are even greater. They lead to the abolition of the marginal competitors. Mergers are frequently the result of the ill effects of excessive demands made by labor unions. Individual companies grow larger as the free-enterprise system is eroded.

CONGRESS in recent years has ignored the destructive influence of the extremists in labor-union leadership. The labor unions themselves have gone deeply into politics and have collected millions of dollars to help elect members of Congress — primarily the candidates of the Democratic party. This is a form of bribery that has gone unrehearsed in America, though sooner or later the corrupt influence of campaign contributions must inevitably be recognized as against the public interest.

Congress has the power to regulate labor-management relations. During the last 18 years virtually no important amendments to existing laws have been enacted to cut down the abuses in the conduct of labor relations. Indeed, the National Labor Relations Board, which is supposed to be a quasi-judicial body, has become an instrument of politics. Its one-sided rulings have begun to astonish lawyers who have watched the week-by-week decisions that have tolerated the unions' misuse of the collective-bargaining power.

'Now Tell Them How You Plan to Upset the Yankee Imperialists!'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Israel May Initiate New Showdown With Arabs

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's Note: With the increasing Arab arms build-up in the Near East, Drew Pearson is writing a series of articles on the crisis facing Israel.)

JERUSALEM — With Israel completely surrounded by Arab states and with a huge quantity of Soviet arms piling up in nearby Egypt, the big question is whether the Israeli army, figuring an Arab attack is inevitable, will repeat the Suez adventure of 1956 and attack first.

If this is planned by Israeli leaders, no one is admitting it.

However, I discussed Israeli defenses with several authorities, including the army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Isaac Rabin, who said that modern weapons had made Israel's defense even more difficult than nine years ago. Showing me a map of the Near East, he pointed to Israel's 610 miles of border, its population of 2,500,000 against 50,000,000 Arabs, and the fact that in one spot Israel's eastern border is only seven miles from the sea. Bombers from nearby Jordan, therefore could reach Tel Aviv in four and a half minutes.

Cairo has been brought so close to Tel Aviv by supersonic jets that it would take only nine minutes for a bomber to fly from Cairo to the No. 1 city of Israel, and only four minutes from the border of Egypt to Tel Aviv.

THUS THERE is an enormous advantage to the nation which takes the initiative in war. There is also a tremendous strain on the nation which may be the object of an attack. It must keep constantly on the alert.

Gen. Rabin said that Israel, with a restricted budget, could not keep a huge standing army, so depended on a well-trained, well-armed reserve ready to be called up within 48 hours. Every young man and woman in Israel must serve for two years, then spend one month each year in military training.

"Women make very good soldiers," he said, "and in only two cases are they exempt from duty — marriage and motherhood."

Later I watched some of these girl soldiers training in the dust of the desert south of the Dead Sea. If they faced an army of American GIs, I suspect that the latter would be more inclined to surrender to their charms than their belligerency. Not being an expert, however, I will not argue with Gen. Rabin.

I ALSO watched tank maneuvers in the desert near Beersheba where reservists were taking their four-week annual refresher course. One soldier, a 35-year-old mechanical engineer, had trained every year as a tank gunner for 14 years in addition to his regular two years in the army. He had none of the advantages of Air Force reserve unit 9999 on Capitol Hill which takes reserve officer congressmen on cushy junkets around the world in lieu of annual training.

Israeli reserve units, in contrast, are tough, well-trained, and ready for instant combat.

No matter how well-trained, however, they may not be able to stand up against much larger Arab forces, equipped with the most modern weapons.

Despite this, Ex-Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, now out of office, remained optimistic. "In the Sinai campaign," he remarked, "the Egyptian officers were not good. They ran away. Only two commanders stayed and fought, and they were Sudanese."

IN THE long run, however, Israel's chief defense against modern Arab armament may be scientific research and nuclear weapons. Israel is far ahead of its neighbors in science. The Weizman Institute has already developed a computer faster than IBM's. The rooftops of new houses are dotted with hot water tanks, hooked up with the most modern device for harnessing the rays of the sun to supply hot water for both kitchen and central heating.

Israel's scientific progress is the reason it ranks next to the United States as a target for Communist espionage, with two Israeli scientists caught in the espionage net.

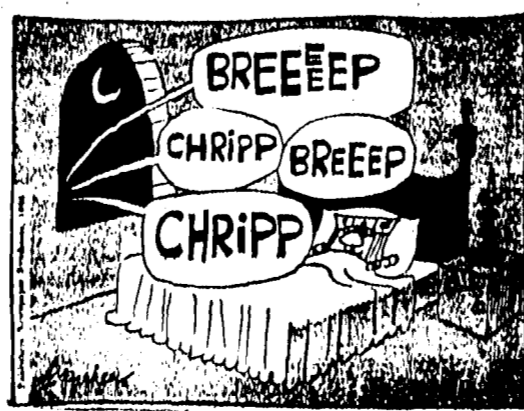

One was Ben-Gurion's military adviser, Israel Beer, who was sentenced to ten years for giving secrets to the Russians after he had acquired a mistress. The other was Prof. Kurt Sitte of Haifa Technical Institute, who while working on cosmic rays, not only for Israel but for the U.S. Air Force, gave information to the Communists.

Burning Permit The Easy Way

To the Editor:

One of the annual holiday projects of the Winona Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is the Christmas Tree Pick Up.

The last few years, with the cooperation of Frank Breza, a prominent area conservationist, and the Izaak Walton League, these trees have been hauled to a predetermined area and piled into piles for game cover. Last year the trees were placed in the area back of the Madison Silo Co. A very substantial population of rabbits were using the brush piles as habitat and boys from town were getting some good cotton-tail hunting in this area until the flood floated the brush piles out last spring.

This year the Jaycee steering committee for the project has decided to take the easy way so they have secured a burning permit. Consequently, there will again be a little less cover this year to protect our diminishing wildlife population. There is a close correlation between the amount of protective cover for wildlife and the game population in a given area. It is the duty of everyone to show concern for the welfare of our wildlife. Our wildlife population is one great heritage that this generation still has time to leave for the younger generations that will follow us. This generation can help to perpetuate this heritage by obeying our fish and game laws, and by maintaining and protecting good wildlife habitat.

Can you blame the Jaycee steering committee for doing it the easy way? Perhaps you could say that they just did not think. One might also say that they did not care. You could also say that they did not know any better. It is very probable that they did not know any better. This being the case, then who's at fault?

Those conservation organizations such as the Izaak Walton League and the Rod and Gun Club could perhaps take some of the blame for not helping to educate the public more about conservation. Our state and local school officials could share some of the blame for not having injected into our schools a long time ago more on conservation education. Lastly each individual who knows better can be blamed for turning his head the other way when the welfare of our remaining wildlife is concerned.

As far as organizations and individuals are concerned in this day and age, all have too much of a tendency to put a monetary value on all they see and do. Although our wildlife is hard to evaluate. Then we should do all we can as organizations and individuals to be good stewards of those things which have been given to us.

World Blockade North Viet Nam Ports

To the Editor:

"The imponderables and the unforeseen cannot be ignored in formulating foreign policy. That is why a preventive war should always be regarded as an act of criminal folly." — Sumner Welles.

Now that the disarray and distraction of the holiday season is left in the wake, the nation finds itself faced with the Great Eyesore. No longer are we given to frivolity, for our revelry is past and we set forth with deadly earnest to relieve the situation.

Our Fearless Leader, whose primary virtue is mediocrity, has undertaken to defend democracy half a world away and finds himself in the same precarious predicament as the kitten who has found that classic ball of yarn. He fears further entanglement in the form of escalation yet wants to remain aggressive enough to keep alive some hope of an eventual successful outcome. Like the kitten, who wrestles with the yarn using excessive amounts of energy without discretion as to the manner in which this energy is being applied, he pours needless hoards of men into the marshes and neglects to realize the full potential in the air at his command.

Fearing further escalation and the possibility of a declaration of war, he has permitted allied trade to go on with North Viet Nam. In neglecting to cut off the port of Haiphong, he permitted our "allies" to send 401 ships of supplies to North Viet Nam in 1964 alone. An even greater number entered during 1965. This is more than double the number of ships in that port of Communist origin. This atrocity is still going on this week while the GI is permitted to become painfully ensnared in torture traps made from Free World materials.

While Viet Nam is swallowing up our armed forces, the greatest effect felt at home is the pinch on Great Society finances. The United States space effort is being decelerated and is playing second fiddle to a bothersome civil war that could be ended in two years' time with proper strategy. Our Mariner program is being drastically decelerated and entire programs are being scrubbed because of lack of financial support. This same lack of funds is being felt in all phases of government. The result is increased pressure on the administration to take positive aggressive action. Example: In a recent interview with 24 members of the Congress who had just returned from Viet Nam, the overwhelming majority expressed the feeling that Haiphong would be blockaded and the air attacks should be drastically stepped up.

Eventually, the Johnson Administration will see its way clear to do this, but when one sees the pressure necessary to evoke this response, it becomes apparent that someone is dragging his feet. As the pressure is increased, one can sense the movement from the battlefield to the conference table. Thus, war does serve one purpose, it is often a prelude to a verbal war that incurs much less of a drain on the national economy and is more likely to be resolved.

"We cannot make a more lively representation and emblem to ourselves of hell, than by the view of a kingdom in war." — Clarendon.

FEW BOATS

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Some of the world's richest fishing banks lie off Brazil's southern coast, according to a study made under United Nations guidance recently.

But Brazilians may have to depend on Argentine and Uruguayan fishing boats to reap the fishy harvest. Brazil's fishing industry is suffering from a shortage of boats.

The government is considering opening Brazil's territorial waters to neighboring countries boats in return for a portion of their catch.

W-K PTA Revises Year's Program, Starting Monday

Washington-Kosciusko Parent-Teacher Association aims to please everyone this year, reports Mrs. James T. Robb, president.

TEACHERS at the school have put in a request for fewer meetings, Mrs. Robb said, so three meetings of this year's schedule were eliminated — those in September, December and May.

The desires of the parents and the PTA board happily have been combined and one solution serves them all. Parents wanted more "vital" meetings; the board wished for more "vital" audiences (a higher number of really interested parents).

To achieve this aim, Mrs. Robb said, the number of meetings featuring the most popular activity, the open house, was raised from one to two. Considered the favorite and perhaps the most valuable of PTA programs, open house, held at the school last October, will be held again in February.

The subject matter of each of the remaining four meetings has been aimed at being significant to the attending parents, rather than entertaining.

MONDAY when the PTA meets at 7:45 p.m. seven special-help teachers will be featured. At the next meeting in March, the topic will be "Does Everyone Know Dr. Hoff?" featuring the elementary school co-ordinator as speaker. "Physical Health" will be the subject at the April meeting, when Mrs. Neil Sawyer, school nurse, will talk.

"The PTA board of W-K invites anyone, parents or non-parents, who may be interested in any of these subjects to feel free to attend any meeting," Mrs. Robb said. Meetings are held on the second Monday of the month, beginning at 7:45 p.m.

What's The Weather?

This is a New Year and only God knows how much of good or bad will blow our way. The weather vane knows no difference between the points of the compass. Her job is to look straight ahead into whatever winds that blow... and the more severe the wind pressure the greater her accuracy. That's our lesson. God also tries us by pushing strong winds into our face, by laying blocks in our path and by shoving temptations before us. Then let us face up to His test. This way He finds out those who love Him; those who seek Heaven; and those who support His Church. Like the weather bird... resign your will to God.

You in The Church
The Church in You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

'God Is Dead' Claim Disrupts School Campus

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A leader in the "God is dead" movement says he takes the phrase literally, holding that God died in Christ on the cross.

"Christianity resurrected the body of Christ," said Dr. Thomas J. J. Altizer, 38, "but that which the Church knew as the resurrected body of Christ is rather the dead body of God."

Dr. Altizer, dark-haired and boyish-looking, is an instructor in liberal arts at Emory, a Methodist university. He describes himself as "an inactive Episcopalian."

His views have stirred a storm of protest in Emory circles, but Dr. Altizer is unrepentant.

He said he and other leaders of the "God is dead" movement, including William Hamilton of Colgate University and Paul Van Buren of Temple University, are simply trying "to work out a new form of Christian theology."

For non-theologians, Dr. Altizer's pronouncements may be somewhat difficult to follow.

He was asked whether he felt that the concept of God is dead. "Absolutely not," he replied. "The crucial theological significance is that God is dead, literally."

"He died in Christ, but His death has only become manifest with the collapse of Christendom. The dead God was resurrected in an alien form by Christianity. When this form of Christianity collapsed, then the reality of the death of God became manifest."

"We believe there is a whole new reality of Christian redemption now present — a new reality of Christ in the world today. This reality has to be understood in a wholly new way and by a wholly new language. Up to the time of the Reformation, Dr. Altizer said, "God was alive and real as our transcendent father and acted redemptively and judgmentally in history."

One Emory graduate was so upset by the disclosure of Dr. Altizer's religious radicalism that he put an advertisement in an Atlanta newspaper saying:

"If this disturbs you (God is dead) as it does me and a few other Emory alumni, write the office of the president of Emory and tell them why you, like me, are not donating to the $25-million building fund."

A university trustee, William R. Bowdoin, called Dr. Altizer "an irresponsible individual who used powerfully bad judgment" and declared "I wish he'd leave promptly."

Dr. Sanford Atwood, Emory's president, commented: "Dr. Altizer is a professor who feels he had an idea worth discussing and he has a right to do it."

Dr. William R. Cannon, dean of the Theological School, assured students, alumni and trustees that "God is not dead at Emory. He is very much alive."

But, Dr. Cannon said, "We exercise the privilege of discussion and dialogue and debate."

Dr. Altizer, who attended St. John's College in Maryland and holds three degrees from the University of Chicago, is married and has a 6-month-old son. He came to Emory in 1956 after two years of teaching at Washburn College in Indiana.

He says he has been profoundly influenced in his thinking by Buddhism and other Oriental concepts.

Two La Crescent Zonings OKed, Another Denied

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — The La Crescent Village Council denied one rezoning application and granted the other at two public hearings Monday night.

The application of George H. Buisse to change from R-1 (one family residential district) to POC (public, open development and conservation district) was denied. Buisse's 11 lots are in Shore Acres.

The planning commission had unanimously recommended the change because it would have allowed the owner to make use of land now occupied by brush.

THE council based its decision on the number of persons signing a petition asking the council to deny rezoning. John McDonald was attorney for the 72 petitioners objecting to Buisse's plan to develop the area into a camping park. They stated that it is continuing to develop as a residential area; many property owners have invested in single residences because of present zoning, and they object to the transients who would make use of the trailer park.

McDonald asked the council to weigh the present use of Shore Acres, all designated as residential, from the position of taxes. One residence would bring in the same tax income as would the entire 11 lots if a summer campsite were permitted, he said. He cited the inadequate roadway plus fire hazard and sanitation problems.

BUISE said his site would be for tent campers as well as trailers. He said he would install a septic system, which is acceptable in areas without sanitary sewer. His land is not within a residential area, he said; there are only four cottages on the west side of Shore Acres road where his property lies. There is no house within a half-mile of his westerly, and his nearest neighbor's land is about 200 feet from his project, and he has no objections to his plans.

Social Security Office Open on Saturday to Noon

The Winona district social security office will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to noon each Saturday during January, February and March 1966, Victor E. Bertel, district manager, announced today.

Although the main reason to be open on Saturday mornings will be to assist people in enrolling for hospital and medical insurance benefits, Bertel said that anyone with any social security business may contact the office Saturday mornings. Anyone who was 65 on or before Jan. 1, 1966, must enroll for medical insurance before March 31, 1966, if they want this protection.

July 1966 is the first month for which a person must pay the $3 a month premium for medical insurance no matter when they enroll.

The office is at 356 E. Sarnia St.

Social security representatives James Casey and Frank Johnson will be on Station KWNO Saturday from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. to answer questions that may be telephoned.

Dakota Service Station Closes

DAKOTA, Minn. (Special) — Partners in the operation of the Shell Service station in Dakota 20 years, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bernadot now have hung up the last hose.

During the last year the job of serving motorists fell mostly to Mrs. Bernadot; her husband had gone to work with construction crews that frequently went out of town for months. They closed the business because Interstate 90 has taken the traffic from the business section of the village. I-90 literally cuts the village in half.

However, another service station and a repair shop continue in business. With the loss of 600 gallons of gasoline the first day the new highway was opened to traffic, the reduction grew more noticeable when both lanes were opened.

Bernadot, laid off for the winter months from his construction work, and his wife are remodeling their residence.

In the future a new service station will be part of the Oasis complex to be built at the cloverleaf interchange on I-90 about 4 1/2 miles west of Dakota. It may be several years before this becomes a reality.

467 React in Rushford, Peterson Tests

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — Of 3,057 persons given Mantoux tests in a Christmas seal sponsored pilot project in the Rushford and Peterson school districts last year, 467 tests were positive and 2,590, negative, according to Mrs. Theodore Robertson, R.N., Rushford, secretary of the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health Association.

As a follow-up, the Christmas Seal service gave X-rays with its mobile unit to persons wanting to take advantage of them. Of the 981 who were X-rayed, 57 required further study, with large X-rays recommended, and 80 X-rays contained other chest pathology.

Among the 80, 31 X-rays showed healed primary tuberculosis; 31, cardiac enlargement; nine, emphysema or a state of swelling produced by gas or air, and nine with thick pleura—chest membrane—or scoliosis—lateral curvature of the spine.

To date, the report said, three lung tumors have been removed—two malignant and one benign. These were revealed on X-rays taken during the survey.

No active tuberculosis has been found, although one child is on chemotherapy, and follow-up work still is being done.

A total of 79.2 percent of persons in the two school districts took the tests—pre-schoolers, public school children and adults. Of 781 persons not tested, 93 were known reactors; 283 stated willingness to participate but didn't come for the test; 135 refused the test and X-rays; 20 didn't return for the reading; 18 had arrested cases of tuberculosis; 88 had been tested recently; 19 took X-rays only, and others were away from home.

Moppy Anderson, Preston, is second vice president of the association.

HAWKS PLAY RED WING TONIGHT

Larson, Plachecki Facing Challenges

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Larry Larson and Paul Plachecki, collectively, face their biggest challenge of the 1965-66 basketball season tonight. For they are the answer to Red Wing's combination of Mark Aldridge and George Wilson.

And Winona High tonight gets its chief challenge of the young season, traveling to always unfriendly Red Wing for a battle of Big Nine unbeaten.

Now in case you aren't close to the Red Wing cage picture, Aldridge and Wilson form a pair of 6-7 pivots for Pete Petrich's corps.

Plachecki and Larson, 6-6½ and 6-5, respectively, will be responsible for defending the Winger duo. Needless to say, it is a challenge.

"That's the whole thing in a nutshell," said coach John Kenney. "Larson and Paul have to play their best games of the year. There is no alternative."

While we're speaking of efforts, it might be well to note that the Hawks, as a unit, will need their best to win.

"They're a tough team, a heckuva tough team," said Kenney, who saw Red Wing in the Medford Holiday tournament. "They came back against Waseca (after losing to host Medford the first night) and really chopped them up."

Coming off what Kenney termed a "good" week of practice, Winona High stakes its 3-0 league record against the 2-0 Big Nine mark held by Red Wing.

Winona High has met, and more soundly defeated, the two clubs Red Wing has played in the league. The Hawks ripped Albert Lea 63-40 and Rochester 83-60. Red Wing dropped Albert Lea 48-39 and Rochester 59-54.

But comparative scores are small consolation for Kenney after watching the Wingers in holiday action.

"This Red Wing team is good, real good," he said again.

Which means directly that after tonight the Hawks should have an even clearer picture of where they stand in the Big Nine and in District Three. The Wingers, you know, were pushed into this district as result of patchwork juggling done in several districts a year ago.

In addition to Plachecki and Larson, Gary Addington and Don Hazelton will be the guards and John Walski the forward opposite Larson.

While the Hawks will start in a man-to-man defense, don't be surprised to see a zone should either Plachecki or Larson get into foul trouble.

"We've got to have both of them in there," said Kenney. "It's pretty hard to defense two guys that big without two big guys of your own in there."

The game tonight probably will represent one of the toughest tests the Hawks will get on the road. Red Wing is notorious for being tough at home.

"They always give us fits up there," Kenney has said in the past.

So there it stands, as yet unsolved, but if the Hawks can come through this one, things should fall into line for future games.

Bearcats Start on Road Back

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of Cincinnati Bearcats, who dominated college basketball in 1961 and 1962, are on the way back.

The national champions of those years who missed an unprecedented third straight national title by a mere three points in 1963, made it five in a row and 9-1 for the current season by defeating North Texas 62-75 at Denton, Tex., Thursday night.

A year ago the Bearcats posted a dismal season record for them of 14-12 which included a defeat at Denton by North Texas.

Don Rolfe, with 30 points, led the Bearcats, who staved off an Eagle rally that cut Cincinnati's lead to four points in the closing minutes.

Like Cincinnati, Tulsa opened its Missouri Valley Conference schedule with a victory Thursday. Playing at home, the Hurricane came from behind in the last three minutes to defeat Louisville 84-79. Eldridge Webb, a 6-foot sophomore, led the Hurricane rally with 28 points after Louisville had taken a 77-74 lead.

Texas Western, ninth-ranked in The Associated Press poll and one of the two major unbeaten teams in the country, made it 12 straight by defeating Seattle 76-64 at Seattle. Willie Cager, a 6-5 soph, came off the bench in the second half and led the Miners with 16 points.

Bradley, No. 5 in The AP poll, overpowered Wichita State at Peoria 91-86 and the sixth-ranked Providence Friars whipped Massachusetts 87-73 at Amherst, Mass. Alex McNutt, with 25 points, and Eddie Jackson, with 22, led the Braves over Wichita. Mike Riordan, with 26 points, and Jim Walker, with 25, paced the Friars. Bradley's record now is 12-1, Providence's 10-1.

Top Ten Undergoes Big Shakeup, Preston to 2nd

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Editor

A considerable shakeup in the Winona Daily News Area top 10 basketball poll took place over the past week, with Preston of the Maple Leaf Conference making the big move.

And more shakeups are expected after this weekend's action.

All 20 ranked schools are in action and several of them face their stiffest tests of the campaign.

THE HEADLINER is at Kasson Friday night when the 10th ranked Kasson-Mantorville Komets entertain fifth ranked Kenyon in a scrap for the Illwaco Valley Conference lead. Kenyon brings a 7-0 record into the fray, while Kasson-Mantorville has also won seven in a row after dropping its opener to Dodge Center.

These are the only two top 10 teams to face each other, but several special mention squads meet head-on.

Fairchild and Arkansas, two strong West Central Conference entrants, battle at Fairchild, while Osseo and Alma Center of the Dairyland square off on the latter's court. Caledonia, the only new member to the special mention list this week, takes on Rushford in the Root River feature, and Trempealeau meets towering Holmen in a Coulee Conference scrap.

BUT THE story over the past week, was Preston, Onalaska Luther and Bangor.

Preston, by tucking away its eighth consecutive victory in stunning fashion with a 77-30 breeze past Spring Grove, jumped from fourth to second place, unseating Hayfield from that spot for the first time since the poll began four weeks ago.

The Bluejays are making strong overtures at taking over Alma's No. 1 spot, first with a thundering offensive show against Mabel 105-59 and then the sterling defensive performance against Spring Grove.

Alma still leads the ratings with a 9-0 mark, while Wabasha hung on to third. Hayfield tumbled to fourth and Kenyon remained fifth.

But the second five underwent an even more thorough juggling.

MOVING INTO the sixth spot was Houston, seventh last week, while Onalaska Luther knocked off previously sixth ranked Bangor 68-67 Tuesday night and jumped from ninth to seventh. Bangor fell to ninth.

Wykoff, which gained the rankings for the first time last week in the 10th spot, jumped to eighth this week thanks to another convincing triumph, its fifth in a row and seventh in eight games. Kasson-Mantorville, idle over the past week, dropped two notches to 10th.

TOP TEN

	W.	L.
1. Alma	9	0
2. Preston	8	0
3. Wabasha	5	0
4. Hayfield	4	0
5. Kenyon	7	0
6. Houston	4	1
7. Onalaska Luther	4	0
8. Wykoff	7	1
9. Bangor	4	1
10. Kasson-Mantorville	7	1

SPECIAL MENTION. Fairchild, Stow,erville, Elroy-Strom, Arkansas, Osseo, Trempealeau, Wauwatunga, Onalaska, Alma Center, Caledonia.

Gophers to Make Start In League

CHICAGO (AP) — What appears to be a wide-open chase for the Big Ten basketball title starts in full force Saturday with Iowa, defending champion Michigan and Minnesota given the inside track for the honors.

With Cazzie Russell averaging 28.2 points a game, Michigan cannot be discounted, although its record in the warm-up campaign is 6-4.

Iowa emerged as the only ranked team in the AP poll, holding the No. 7 spot with an 8-1 mark. The Hawkeyes' only loss was to Texas Western in the Sun Bowl tourney, and they have three players averaging better than 16 points.

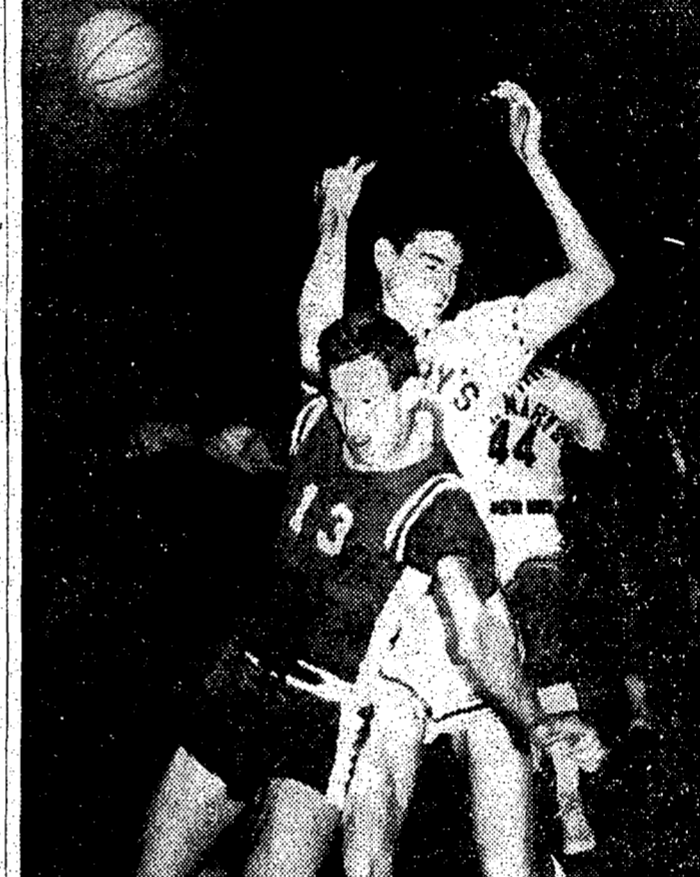

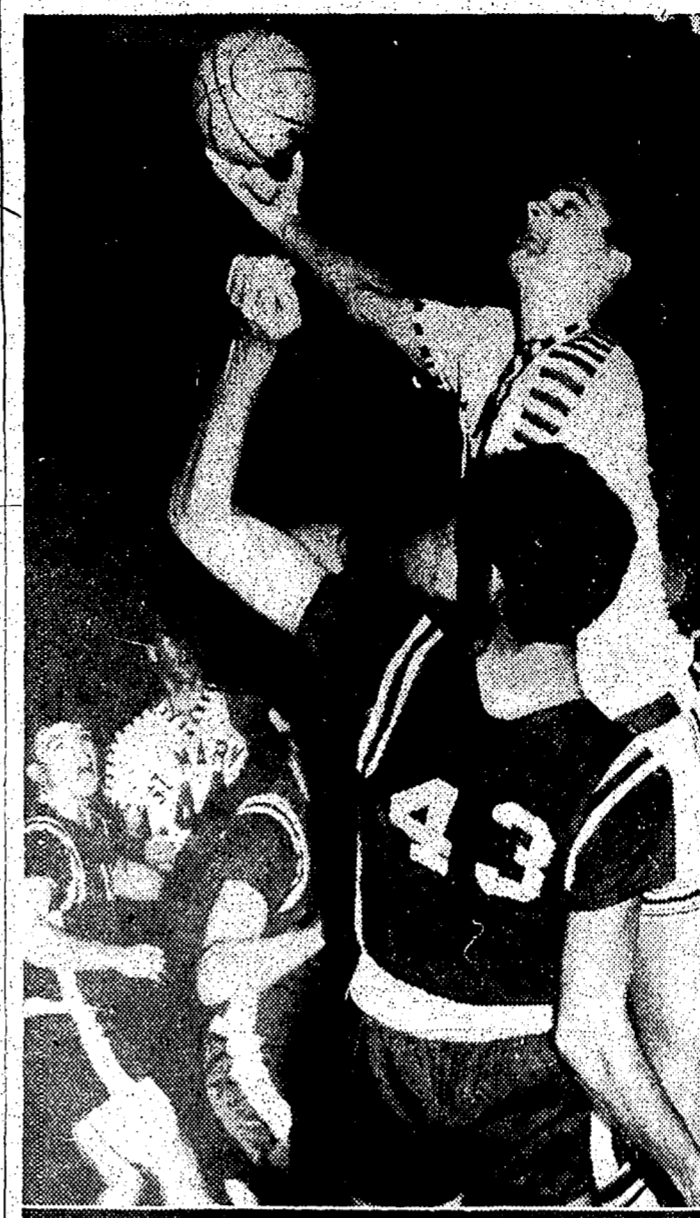

Minnesota, with Archie Clark averaging 24.1, still is a big threat, although Lou Hudson is out with a broken wrist that may sideline him in the early stages of the championship drive.

Top scorer in the early campaigning was Purdue's Dave Schellhase with a 33.0 average as the Boilermakers posted a 4-6 showing. Russell was next, followed by Don Freeman of Illinois with 27.7.

In all, the Big Ten wound up non-conference firing with a mediocre 53-42 record against outside opposition.

Saturday's full drive will start with afternoon games sending Illinois (4-6) to Indiana (4-5), Purdue (4-6) to Northwestern (5-5) for a television attraction, Michigan (6-4) to Ohio State (5-4) and Iowa (8-1) to Wisconsin (4-6).

Minnesota (7-3) is at Michigan State (7-3) in the only night engagement.

Hansard: Junkman, 6-9, A+ Junkman

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

Dan Hansard is a junkman. A 6-9, straight-A junkman, but never-the-less a junkman.

That was the nickname Winona High basketball coach John Kenney tagged on the strapping St. Thomas pivotman, and that was the story of St. Mary's 65-59 loss to the Tommies Thursday night at Terrace Heights.

"He's just 6-9," said Kenney during halftime after he and nearly a full house of Redmen rooters had watched the banjo-string tight St. Mary's squad fall behind 37-22. "He doesn't do much, but he picks up all the garbage around the basket."

Hansard, the man the Tommies hope will carry them to the MIAC championship, dropped in 14 points in that first half. None of the points came from over five feet away. He finished with 25 points for the night with two driving layups in the final 1:30 of the game sewing it up.

"I don't care if he got 45 points," thundered a distraught St. Mary's coach Ken Wiltgen when informed of the scoring feats of Hansard. "Half of what else they got was because of him, too. When you have to drop another man off to stop him you leave somebody else open underneath and it's another two points."

Wiltgen had seen his squad battle back from 17 points down with 18 minutes to play to gain a 52-52 tie only to lose to Hansard's plodding drives and strong rebounding. "You have to hand it to the kids," he said of his own team, silently donning their street clothes a few feet away. "They came a long way back. Most teams would have folded after falling that far behind."

"We just couldn't get that one to put us ahead." Both Jim Buffo, who was brilliant in the second-half rally with 16 points, and George Hoder had shots at the go-ahead basket, but both went astray.

"We didn't run a thing in the first half," Wiltgen continued, reverting to the disastrous initial 20 minutes. "We were tight as a drum offensively."

And while there was leaden silence in the Redmen's dressing room, there was no jubilation on the other side of the hall where the Tommies were showering either.

"That was stupid, wasn't it?" asked the smiling, sawed-off Tom Feely, St. Thomas coach. "I thought the zone would take them out of their patterns. I only planned to use it until they adjusted to it, but they sure adjusted quicker than I thought they would. They really kicked it around."

When St. Mary's first started its rally in the second half, Feely had called a time out and inserted a zone defense. But before he could call another time out and shuck the strategy, the deadly St. Mary's shooting had pared the margin to 48-45.

"I thought, we played a perfect first half," the balding mentor continued.

Buffo Stars as Redmen Roar to Second-Half Life

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

St. Mary's matched St. Thomas' 6-9 hero with one of its own Thursday night, but couldn't quite come close enough to throw the MIAC race into a merry-go-round.

Behind the second-half marksmanship of 6-1 Jim Buffo, the Redmen battled back from the brink of destruction, lifting the smug look off the Tommie faces with a rally that whittled 15 points off the St. Thomas lead and resulted in a 52-52 tie with 6:46 remaining.

But in the end it was the 6-9 Dan Hansard—on two driving shots inside the final two minutes—that decided the outcome. And it was not to the liking of Redmen fans.

St. Thomas copped a 65-49 verdict and left Redmen coach Ken Wiltgen with a momentous task.

It was not so much the loss as the way it happened that left the Redmen cold. After battling back so valiantly, they were denied.

"The problem now is how to get them back up," said Wiltgen softly before heading back to the locker room to tend to several nuisance hurts that cropped up along the way Thursday.

The cold fact is that at 0-2 in the league race, St. Mary's has no room for more early-season losses. And while thoughts of the Tommie fiasco are still prevalent, St. Mary's Saturday must pack for a trip to Collegeville and a battle with St. John's.

And a battle it is likely to be as the Johnnies, led by football star Joe Mucha, exhibit many of the talents of the NAIA grid champions.

St. John's, however, will not rank in St. Thomas' class. After the 6-5 Mucha, the Johnnies' height trails considerably although Redmen assistant Tom Stallings, who saw them play, rates them a good rebounding team.

And even following the battle with St. John's, St. Mary's will have no time to rest. Hamline, which stunned UMD Wednesday, will be at Terrace Heights Monday night.

But back to Thursday's story when the Redmen actually put themselves out of it with a tight first half that resulted first in a 37-22 halftime lead for St. Thomas and beyond that to a 17-point bulge early in the second 20-minute segment.

But nothing overshadowed the Redmen rally.

With the crowd — raucous now on a snow-swept night on Terrace Heights — behind the team, St. Mary's saw a short jumper by Mark Miller step St. Thomas ahead 43-26.

But Buffo — suddenly unstoppable — matched that with a lefthanded ditty from moderate range.

With 16:11 left, he did it again — this time driving the ball home. George Hoder hit the second of two free throws — one department in which St. Mary's was inconsistent — and Buffo sailed out of the left corner, casting a southpaw shot that never hesitated while ducking through the rim to pare it to 43-33.

Then there was a slight interruption. Fred Korba made a free throw for the visitors.

On a missed shot, Hoder wrestled past Hansard, nearly got his elbow entangled in the rim and stuffed it down to make it 46-37 before Mr. Hansard put back a rebound for the Tommies.

With St. Thomas in a zone now, St. Mary's made sure it was properly greeted. Rog Pylewski, a defensive demon on Hansard after a second-half switch, gunned home a long, long jumper from the left corner and Tom Keenan matched that out of the right corner to trim it to 46-39. That shrunk further with Jerry Sausser's short jumper at 12:41.

Then Korba and Hansard ran down free throws for the Tommies. St. Mary's Hoder matched those with two of his own and Buffo came up with another patented jumper to cut it to 48-45.

Hansard — just big, but effective — hit on a hook and Sausser and Buffo immediately applied the pressure with one-handers that trimmed it to 50-49. Hansard then scored on a drive and Buffo came right back with a long jump at the seven-minute mark.

With Redmen fans — nearly a full house — screaming

Redmen Frosh Score Victory Over Staters

St. Mary's Freshmen basketball team Thursday night earned a 54-53 victory over Winona State's Freshmen in the preliminary to the Redmen-Tommie game at Terrace Heights.

The Little Redmen fell behind 15-10 at the quarter turn, but pared that to 26-24 at halftime before leaping ahead 39-38 with one quarter to play.

For St. Mary's, Jerry Westmeyer and Bill Browne each scored 14 points and Dan Pelowski 12. The latter two are 1965 Cotter graduates.

State got 21 from Murt Boyum and 10 each from Mel Homuth and Rick Starzecki, also a Cotter grad.

Indication of Cotter Surge In Mid-season

Has the Cotter basketball team improved? The answer has to be a definite yes, but chances are Rambler fans are going to have to wait until about 9:30 p.m. Saturday night to find out just how much.

Cotter Saturday night tangles with Minneapolis De La Salle in Minneapolis. The last time around—the first game of the season for the Ramblers—the Islanders copped a 66-40 verdict.

"I imagine this game will be an indication of how much we've improved," stated Cotter coach John Nett. "But remember that they probably have improved, too. And De La Salle is hard to beat on its own court."

IN THE FIRST game, Cotter had the disadvantage of playing on an unfamiliar court (Winona High) and catching the Islanders after two games of experience.

But it took more than the original bout with De La Salle to get the Ramblers rolling. The club suffered through a slow start, finally coming to life with a victory over Owatonna Marian and a Cotter invitation tournament championship in its last three games to extend its record to 5-4.

But early-week practice sessions haven't convinced Nett that his team has settled into a consistent pattern.

"We had a layoff between the tournament and Monday," he explained, "and we were ragged Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday we worked against a zone — you'll remember Aquinas used it in the tournament and made us look pretty sick—and we didn't look particularly well. We don't anticipate that De La Salle will use a zone, but we seem to be moving pretty well against a man-to-man. And De La Salle did use a zone against us last year."

THE WAY it stands now, Nett is still uncertain of his starting lineup. After starting Steve Erdmanczyk at right forward in the first tournament game against Eau Claire Regis, the coach reinserted Steve Holmay in that spot for the finale against La Crosse Aquinas.

While the job has been restricted between that pair, the situation will dictate who plays. Erdmanczyk is bigger and offers more punch on the backboards. Holmay is quicker and a better shot.

In that case, it is likely Erdmanczyk will start against the Islanders since the rebounding battle was one reason Cotter was soundly whipped in the first game.

If Holmay doesn't start, he will alternate with Chuck Kulas on the left side, with Tom Leaf spelling Erdmanczyk. Mike Twomey will be the center and Bob Allaire and Tom Wenzel the guards. John Leaf also has been running at Wenzel's guard spot.

"THE BOARDS are where we have to go to work," said Nett. "We can't give them the easy ones they got the first time."

Part of the key to the Ramblers' success, Nett feels, will be containing Islander guard Tom Innot, a real hotshot. "He had a bad scoring night against us the first time," said Nett. "When he has a good night, it's almost impossible to stop him. He can fire them from all over, and he's not afraid to let go."

De La Salle ranks 7-1 on the season, its only loss coming at the hands of No. 1-ranked St. Louis Park Benilde.

IN HOCKEY: WSC, WHS SQUADS BUSY

Redmen Face '2nd Season'

St. Mary's College starts its "second" hockey season Saturday and thanks to a shakeup in the schedule, the Redmen may be able to scrape the rust off their blades with comparative ease.

But coach Tim McNeill is a trifle cautious about Saturday's contest against Hamline at Terrace Heights.

"After two weeks off, anybody can be tough," says the first-year coach.

Hamline is a perennial doormat in the MIAC hockey circuit and after a first-hand look at the Pipers, McNeill agrees.

"They have a fair hockey team, but it isn't a real good club in this league," commented the St. Mary's coach. "They looked like they were just starting to jell when I saw them. Now it depends upon whether they were hurt or helped by the semester break."

Originally, St. Mary's was supposed to have met Macalester, the team that usually poses St. Mary's stiffest competition, tonight at Aldrich Arena in St. Paul, but the game was rescheduled for Jan. 29 at Macalester.

So Hamline is the first step in the "second season" for the Redmen. In pre-holiday play, St. Mary's won two lopsided decisions in getting off on the right foot in defense of its league title.

With poor ice conditions in recent days, St. Mary's has had little chance to get in any serious practice but McNeill indicated that most of his skaters came back in good condition.

There was a bright note over the holidays as the Redmen gained two more skaters. Freshman wing Bill Rossini is fully recovered from a shoulder injury, and sophomore center Gordy Tiedeman became scholastically eligible.

This gives St. Mary's a possibility of three lines. Dennis Cooney, Brian Desbines and John Cardin make up one line, with Yvon Thibedeau, Larry Shomlin and Rossini forming another. The third line would consist of Tiedeman, Al Versino and Larry Fronczak. "I don't know if I'll actually make three full lines," said McNeill. "But I'd like to try and use the third line as a good checking line, possibly as penalty killers."

Filling out the St. Mary's roster are defensemen Bob Paradise, Mike Bishop, Brian Palmer and Joe Bremner along with goalies Jerry Archambeau and Terry Caldwell.

The game, scheduled for 2 p.m. at the Terrace Heights rink, will be the first appearance of the season for the Redmen on their home ice.

Another Winona athletic aggregation makes its first home appearance of the season Saturday also. Winona State College's unbeaten wrestling team plays host to a quadrangular meet at Memorial Hall. Invading squads are from Michigan Tech, Wartburg and Western Illinois. The meet will begin at 1 p.m. with the evening session starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Winona High School wrestling team, 1-3 for the year, has two home meets this weekend. The first is tonight at 8 p.m. against Red Wing as the Winhawks vie for their first Big Nine conference victory. Then Saturday night Kasson-Mantorville, a strong District Three contingent, invades the Winona High gym. Both varsity meets will be preceded by B squad meets at 6:30 p.m.

Both Winona swimming teams will be on the road Saturday. The Winona State Warriors of coach John Martin will be in Decorah, Iowa, for a 2 p.m. dual meet with Luther College, while Winona High does battle with tough Lake Conference representative Robbinssdale Cooper at Robbinssdale.

Winona High will be swimming without four and possibly eight of its swimmers. Coach Lloyd Luke suspended four swimmers from the squad and has four on the sick list. "If we get back the four swimmers who are sick, we should beat Cooper," he added. "If we don't, it will be a rough go."

On the sick list are Tim Heise, Bob Rydman, Bill Sievers and Doug David.

TOMS HALT REDMEN

now, Sausser was fouled by Korba at 6:46 and calmly dropped the single toss to tie the game at 52-52.

St. Thomas promptly went ahead by five, but the Redmen came back again, surging within two on Rog Pytlewski's over-the-head rebound shot at 1:42.

Hansard then charged the lane twice for what could have been three-point plays. He missed both free throws — but what was worse, the Tommies each time regained possession.

But the first half had made the difference. St. Mary's made a battle of it until the midway mark. Then what appeared a mild case of stage fright caught up.

Hansard and Pat Feely scored to push it to 17-11. Four minutes later, Korba and Hansard did the honors and it was 27-15. Four minutes later, Hansard hit a rebound to make it 35-20 — the margin at which it stayed for intermission.

With the loss, St. Mary's overall mark shifts to 5-4. Their league record, of course, is 0-2.

St. Thomas, happy to escape being victimized by the second-half drive, now is 10-3 overall and 3-0 in the league.

Thursday, Buffo led the Redmen with 20 points — 16 in the second half — Hoder scored 13 and Sausser 12. Hansard got 23 for St. Thomas and Mark Miller 16.

Preston Malmén Fall to Chatfield

PRESTON — Chatfield used its dominance in the lighter weights to defeat Preston 26-14 in a District One high school wrestling meet Thursday night. Seven shutout decisions were posted in the match, six of them by Chatfield grapplers, but the lone pin went to Preston heavyweight Bill Mangan who flattened his foe in 1:51.

Volkman Upset; Trojans Lose

HOUSTON — It was evident it wasn't Rushford's night when previously unbeaten Dale Volkman lost a 4-0 decision to Houston's Brian Mullen in the 133-pound class. With the impetus from that upset, Houston went on to post a 20-12 victory.

Rushford won four of the last five weights, but Houston had compiled a 24-0 lead over the first seven matches. Jerry Peterson and Frank Johnson registered pins for the Hurricanes.

PLAY AT TECH SATURDAY

For Warriors, No. 3 Could Be Just Like Championship

Vacation is over and so are the preliminaries. Now the run for all the marbles begins and if Winona State's basketball team has been saving anything through its first 10 ball games, now is the time to break it loose.

The Warriors of coach Bob Campbell have posted a somewhat disappointing 3-7 nonconference record to date, but Saturday afternoon it won't mean a thing as Winona State takes on Michigan Tech in the opening Northern Intercollegiate Conference encounter for the Warriors.

"We seem to be as healthy as we have been all season," said Campbell. "We hope we've left all our illness behind us last month. Every body seems to be pushing pretty hard."

Campbell doesn't feel that the layoff hurt his squad after four days of practice leading up to Saturday's game. But he's neither quite sure of what to expect from his own team or from the Huskies.

The Warrior starting lineup will have Mike Jerecek at center, with Tim Anderson and J. D. Barnette at forwards. This gives Winona state a 6-4 average in the front line with Jerecek going 6-5, Anderson 6-4 and Barnette 6-3. In the back court will be Gary Petersen, 6-1, and Dennis Morgan, 5-8.

As for Tech, Campbell says, "I don't know anything about them. They've only played two games and split even."

Winona State left for Houghton, Mich., this morning at 9 a.m. in order to get a preview of the Huskies against Mankato State tonight. Then the Warriors face the Upper Peninsula school in a 2 p.m. (1 p.m. Winona time) game Saturday.

Campbell has inserted some new offensive plays into the WSC repertoire in an attempt to get more scoring from all positions, "but I still think the key is how tough we want to play defense and how bad we want to do some good rebounding," the Warrior coach said.

It was either poor defense or hot shooting from opposing teams (probably a combination of both according to Campbell) that cost Winona State a pair of losses in the Carroll Holiday tournament at Waukesha, Wis., last week.

"We were scrambling around, trying to find a starting lineup again," explained Campbell, "but now I think we're pretty set with the one we'll go through the conference with except maybe at one spot."

That spot is the guard position which Morgan won at Waukesha. He took the spot away from Dave Meisner, the team's leading scorer, who, along with Anderson, were benched for the final game of the tournament by Campbell.

"If he (Meisner) starts to play the ball he is capable of, he has the tools to win back his starting spot," said Campbell. "And we hope that the reserves will come in and do a consistent job for us."

Filling out the traveling squad for the Warriors will be Al Connor, Jim Kasten, Mel Homuth, Bill Werner, Chip Schwartz and Murt Boyum, bringing the squad to 12.

As for the conference, which will make up 10 of Winona State's remaining 12 games, Campbell feels that Bemidji and St. Cloud are well above the rest of the league, with Tech, Moorhead, Mankato and Winona battling for the third spot in the upper division.

"And any one of the teams can win that spot depending upon how badly they want it," he said.

Included in this prediction, of course, is Winona State which can take a long step toward that No. 3 spot with a victory Saturday afternoon.

H. Nelson Hits 578 For Topper

Helen Nelson was at it again Thursday night, but her pinbusting talents fell a little short of gaining the top 10.

Helen, firing away in the Powder Puff circuit at Hal-Rod Lanes, slapped 164-191-223-578 to pace league-leading Winona Insurance to 921-2,645.

The 578 series left her just three pins short of gaining the lowest rung in the top 10. She already has four counts in the elite group.

A quartet of over 500s were also posted. Marge Moravec laced 507, Orville Cisewski 504, Eleanor Stahl 501 and Jo Bilgen 500. Joan Schacht converted the 6-7-10 split and Kathy Morken picked up the unlikely conglomeration of the 4-7-9-10. Orville Cisewski got the 2-10.

Norm Weaver's 608 was the best men could come up with Thursday night. Norm's series and Don Pellowski's 231 single helped Weaver & Sons to 979-2,749 and a one-game lead in the Knights of Columbus loop bowled at the Athletic Club.

WESTGATE: Classic — Mike Deep ripped 585 and Bob Schossow socked 223 to spark Muriel Cigars to 2,850. Pozanc Trucking copped 997. Willard Critchfield had a 521 errorless.

Pin Drops — Sportsman's Tap came up with 888-2,548 to start the second round with three victories, but individual honors went to Shirley Lockwood of Pappy's with 200-501. Keglerette — Behind Betty Schneider's 183, Sam's D.S. hit 900. Shirley Holst rocked 473 for Hamm's, and Sammy's Pizza came up with 2,514.

REDMEN: Ladies — Evelyn Wolfe led Paffrath Paint to 853-2,435 with her 168-443.

ATHLETIC CLUB Ladies — Vera Bell's 490 helped Hot Fish Shop to 943-2,639. Sue Platt ripped 208 for Wally's Sweethearts. Marge McGuire picked up the 5-8-10.

HAL-ROD: Eagles — Marty Wnuk socked 235-590 to pace Bltner Gas & Oil to 963, but Eagles Club totaled 2,792 as Bob Cada also came up with a 590. Vic Vaughan hit a 102-306 triplicate.

Kulig, Lee Are Stars as Falcons Topple Bethel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only one Wisconsin college basketball team played Thursday night but the action will pick up considerably this weekend.

The single game saw River Falls win a 81-78 non-conference game over Bethel College at St. Paul, Minn.

Jim Bloomquist and Tom Snyder each hit two baskets in overtime to give River Falls the victory. Paul Kulig got 26 points and Ken Lee 19 for the winners. Ron Pederson led Bethel with 24.

MORE HONORS HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Pitcher Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers will be honored at the Baseball Writers Association dinner at the Astro-dome Jan. 25.

Gale-Etrick on Way Back to Top of Heap?

GALESVILLE — It seems very strange to look at the top 10 area basketball teams in the Winona Daily News area and not see Gale-Etrick High School ranked well up among them.

But according to Bob Wittig, coach of the Redmen, "Be patient. It will come."

And it may come sooner than most people think.

Gale-Etrick always a challenger for the Coulee Conference championship, lost four of its first six games this season and virtually eliminated itself from title contention with four losses in five conference games.

But Tuesday night the Redmen exploded for an 81-71 victory over a good Durand squad in an effort which Wittig calls, "Our best of the year." And suddenly the Redmen have to be considered a definite threat in every game they play this year.

Now one upset doesn't make a contender of a ball club, but for those who study Redmen basketball fortunes more closely, the handwriting may have been on the gymnasium wall earlier.

With the return of 6-1 Bob Guertler to active duty and the insertion of 6-0 sophomore Tom Twesme into the starting lineup, Gale-Etrick began to click.

"Losing Guertler hurt us a lot," said Wittig. "He tore a cartilage in his knee the first day of practice."

But since his return, the junior forward has averaged nearly 24 points-per-game. He'll be back next year, along with Twesme, Steve Daffinson, a 5-10 fireplug who's hit at a 17-point clip, 5-3 Ken Johnson and a raft of other players, including three sophomores who all stand over 6-2.

Maris 1st Yankee To Sign Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris, hoping to bounce back from a nightmarish 1965 season, is the first New York Yankee player to come to terms for 1966.

Maris, who played only 46 games because of injuries and batted a mere .239 last season, got a vote of confidence from Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk with no cut in his estimated $70,000 salary.
