8 Dead in S.D. Fire

PIERRE, S.D. (AP) — A mother, six of her children and a neighbor child died early today in a fire that swept their home.

Firemen said Mrs. Wallace M. Quenzer, 34, wife of an airline ticket agent, and most of the children apparently died from smoke inhalation.

Quenzer and one of his children escaped.

The mother had been sleeping downstairs in the two-story home and appeared to have rushed to upstairs bedrooms to try to rescue the children.

The victims, besides Mrs. Quenzer, were her children Mark 11; Karen, 9; Dean, 7; twins Kim and Kevin, 6, and Carla, 3, and Kathy Burts, about 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burts.

Brady quoted Quenzer as saying he had gone out of the house to sound an alarm and that flames prevented him from entering again. He reportedly carried the youngest survivor out of the house when he went for help.

Church Which Survived Quake Beats Off Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The aged bricks of Old St. Mary's Church, which stood through the 1906 earthquake and fire, beat off flames again Tuesday night.

The century-old Roman Catholic landmark was slightly charred and dampened in a $300,000 blaze. But damage was far less than during San Francisco's greatest disaster when the inside of the church and its roof were ruined by fire.

Flames broke out this time in a new wing of the Chinatown church but were confined to the upper parts of the building and controlled in an hour.

Son Lights Funeral Pyre For Shastri

NEW DELHI, India, (AP) — Leaders of India's ruling Congress party began discussing the political future today as the body of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was consigned to funeral flames by the holy Jumna River.

More than a million mourning Indians looked on as Shastri's eldest son, Hari Kishan, touched a blazing torch to the funeral pyre of sandalwood in accordance with Hindu rites.

A few moments before this final act, Shastri's successor, Prime Minister Gulzarilal Nanda, climbed the steps to the top of the pyre and stood silently, his face agonized with grief.

Standing nearby were Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, U.S. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and many other foreign representatives.

Despite their grief, Nanda and Umaswami Kamaraj, president of the Congress party, met early today to discuss election of a new parliamentary leader who traditionally is asked to form a new government.

Nanda served for five days as interim prime minister after Nehru's death 19 months ago but was pushed aside in favor of Shastri.

Shastri died early Tuesday in the Soviet city of Tashkent, apparently of a heart attack, after an exhausting week of peace negotiations with President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan. The cremation climaxed a mass outpouring of grief for the unassuming little leader who in 19 stormy months had won the admiration and affection of India's troubled millions.

Higher FHA Interest Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher interest rates on Federal Housing Administration home loans were clearly foreshadowed today as heads of the government agencies involved testified before the House subcommittee on housing.

FHA Commissioner Philip N. Brownstein stopped just short of saying flatly that the present rate—5 1/2 per cent plus 1/2 per cent insurance premium—will be raised. But he said this will have to be done unless the present upward trend of interest rates generally is reversed "and at the present time there is no indication of a reversal."

Biggest Push of Viet War Continues

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. troops killed 23 Viet Cong and uncovered and destroyed a network of tunnels more than a mile square today as they continued their biggest push of the war to drive the guerrillas from the edge of the Iron Triangle.

Communist toll in five days of Operation Crimp to 107 insurgents killed and 80 captured. Weapons and supplies seized included 122 personal guns, 20 automatic weapons, a mortar, a recoilless rifle, 25,000 rounds of ammunition and 71 tons of rice.

The day's report raised the As the Americans kept up their destructive blows on the edge of the Saigon River 25 miles northwest of the capital, U.S. and Vietnamese spokesmen reported 236 American and Vietnamese soldiers killed or missing last week compared with 714 Viet Cong killed or captured.

A U.S. military spokesman said American casualties for the week were 43 killed, 202 wounded and two missing or captured. The week before American casualties were 34 dead, 116 wounded and five missing or captured.

The South Vietnamese reported 28 of their men killed and 73 missing last week but refused to give the number of wounded.

With the steady rise of Communist casualties and material losses in Operation Crimp, initial disappointment among U.S. officers gradually yielded to some measure of satisfaction, although the big sweep still had not resulted in a major battle with the guerrillas.

There was no indication of any letup in the operation, which involves more than 8,000 troops of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division, the 173rd Airborne Brigade and the Royal Australian Regiment.

"When you're on to a good thing you stay with it," an Army spokesman said.

The drive began at dawn Saturday when helicopters and armored columns drove to the edge of the Iron Triangle, a Communist stronghold since the French tried to quell the insurgents. Its objective was to cut off a Communist regiment in the area along the Saigon River and to destroy anything useful to the Viet Cong.

Although the main enemy force evaporated before the Allied drive, Communist rear guard elements made their presence felt.

A furious barrage of heavy 120mm mortars from North Vietnamese regulars hit a company of infantrymen Tuesday, but U.S. spokesmen reported only light casualties. A truck was blown off an armored personnel carrier when an unknown number of Communists exchanged fire with infantrymen for two hours at a likely ambush site.

At the leading edge of the drive, 173rd Airborne paratroopers bumped into a Viet Cong platoon Tuesday and the Communists decided to fight it out.

British Woman Millionth Visitor To U.S. in 1965

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Howard
She's Millionth U.S. Visitor in 1965

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States made two new friends today, and much of the credit has to go to a hamburger.

Last Dec. 17, Anthony and Elizabeth Howard of St. Margaret's Bay, Kent, England, were just a young British couple with a love for travel and three weeks to spend vacationing in the United States.

By Dec. 18, the Howards were celebrities.

Computers at the U.S. Travel Service of the Department of Commerce designated Mrs. Howard the one-millionth tourist to enter the United States in 1965.

That distinction brought two expense-paid days in New York and two more in Washington.

They leave for home today with some classic opinions about life in the United States and with gourmet tastes for American hamburgers.

The Howards visited New York, Washington, Los Angeles and Tucson, Ariz., going west for a friend's wedding.

It included the usual sightseeing ("We did the National Gallery in 15 minutes"), horseback riding ("Riding western saddle is like sitting in an arm chair"), attendance at the Rose Bowl game ("We sat in the Michigan State section and shouted for UCLA") and a look at a basement nightclub ("Sort of a subterranean folk singing cellar").

Mediators Will Tell Mayor How To Settle Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Mediators get together with Mayor John V. Lindsay today to outline steps they think should be taken to end New York's lengthening transit crisis.

After another long day and night of negotiations with solution seemingly no closer, Dr. Nathan P. Feinsinger, head of the three-man mediation group, said:

"We plan to indicate to (Lindsay) the procedures which the panel believes should be followed to resolve this dispute and bring about a resumption of work at the earliest possible moment."

If rumors had been bargaining table agreements Tuesday the strike would have been ended.

Throughout the day the city was abuzz with rumors that the strike would be over within hours.

In Washington, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said, "If the figures that have been given me prove correct, they are not so far apart and they ought to get a settlement in a day or so."

But when the negotiations finally broke up at 2:05 a.m. today a solution was not in sight, dashing the hopes of the 7.5 million persons left stranded by the strike.

The mediators gave no hint of what recommendations they would make to Lindsay.

New Landslides Threaten Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — New landslides threatened Rio de Janeiro today as torrential rains mounted in intensity after bringing death to more than 120 hillside slum dwellers.

An estimated 40 more deaths from floods were reported in nearby Niteroi, and other casualties were reported in the mountain resorts of Petropolis, Teresopolis and Cachoeira de Macacu. Communication breakdowns prevented details reaching Rio.

The Rio morgue was crowded with the bodies of 122 victims, and police believed more than 200 have perished in floods and slides set off by the worst downpour in the history of this 400-year-old city.

Nearly one foot of rain has fallen in the past day and the Weather Bureau forecast no letup.

Authorities were unable to give an accurate estimate of the number of injured who jammed the city's hospitals or flocked to improvised dispensaries for first aid.

Many persons were feared still buried beneath 30 major landslides which began Monday as driving rains weakened the mountainsides. In an effort to avert epidemics, police and firemen worked feverishly to uncover the victims.

Thousands of homeless and hungry jammed schools and other public buildings. Thousands more huddled in the rain, waiting for emergency shelter and transport.

State Colleges Delay Tighter Entrance Code

ST. PAUL (AP) — The State College Board has decided tentatively to meet with two other state agencies before voting on whether to tighten admissions standards at all five state colleges.

The board has been told that present facilities would be overwhelmed with an estimated 9,000 additional students seeking entrance in 1972.

Board members agreed tentatively Tuesday to meet with the State Junior College Board and University of Minnesota regents before deciding the admissions question.

Spokesmen for the junior college system argued against use of a tight admissions policy for fear junior college would become a "dumping ground" for poor students.

Charles Mourin of Aurora, a member of the college board, criticized the University of Minnesota for installing a limited admission policy last year without consulting with other segments of the higher education system.

"Anything we do is going to have an effect on the junior colleges and anything the university does has an effect on our schools," Mourin said.

He urged discussions among the three boards before a new admissions policy is set.

At present, the five state colleges have some approval to limit enrollments. Moorhead State does not admit the lower 37 per cent of high school classes to most courses.

St. Cloud and Mankato State Colleges have a deferred admissions policy, holding low-ranking high schoolers out of the regular fall enrollment crush.

Bumble Fund Has Enough

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The founder-director of the Beadle Bumble Fund — the modest trust which gives a helping hand to victims of official stupidities and the back of its hand to officialdom — issued a cease and desist plan today.

Stop sending money. The fund doesn't need it, thank you. "It happens every time," said founder James Jackson Kilpatrick, editor of the Richmond News Leader. "We seek to alleviate some sordid situation and reduce the fund and what happens? More comes back than we send out."

Last week, Kilpatrick felt action by the fund was necessary when the school board in nearby Hanover County ordered Harper Lee's novel "To Kill a Mockingbird" banned from high school libraries. Immoral literature, said the board.

Kilpatrick called the school board action "an asinine performance."

The fund immediately offered to send to the first 50 Hanover High School pupils who requested it a free paperback copy of "Mockingbird." Thus far, the fund has sent 63 copies to requesting pupils.

"We spent $45 for books and about $15 in postage," Kilpatrick said.

Congress Will Get Annual Message Today

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson goes before Congress tonight with a war and peace report expected to provide for continuing his "Great Society" domestic program.

In a State of the Union address to be carried by radio and television networks at 8 p.m. (Winona Time), Johnson planned to bring members up to date on his Viet Nam peace offensive aimed at starting negotiations with the Communists to end the Southeast Asia fighting.

There was no advance indication that he would be able to announce any response from a memorandum covering U.S. peace objectives passed directly to North Vietnamese representatives.

But while Radio Hanoi continued to berate the President's call for unconditional discussions, the absence of any formal public rejection of the memorandum stirred some hopes in Congress that there may be grounds for believing they might yet materialize.

A presidential pledge to continue the search for peace was expected to soften the grim possibility that the war may have to be accelerated if the Communists persist in refusing to talk.

Aides indicated Johnson may come up with some over-all total, ranging between $110 billion and $115 billion, for a new budget. Any such total, for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, would not include the $12 billion to $13 billion in additional funds administration officials have been talking about to finance the war.

Johnson said in a letter from which AFL-CIO President George Meany quoted Tuesday that he is "determined to press ahead in building the Great Society." Meany had expressed

No Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield predicted today that the United States will be able to finance both the administration's domestic programs and Viet Nam war without a tax increase. The Montanan also voiced hope that, "with some belt tightening," the federal budget deficit may even be reduced.

He said in a letter to the President that mounting war costs might force a cutback in domestic programs, such as the war on poverty.

The union leader said that through efficient management eliminating outmoded functions, and reductions in some other areas, Johnson said substantial savings had been found to finance the social programs the first session of Congress voted.

Even though he holds expenditures in the latter field to about this year's level, Johnson seems likely to face demands for reductions from a Congress that appears bent on making the Viet Nam war its overriding order of business.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, told about the Meany letter, made it clear that if the war is escalated, he thinks domestic spending will have to be cut.

First Meeting Told of Gains In Economy

Strong advances in the general economy of the Winona area were cited for First National Bank of Winona Shareholders by President Arnold E. Stoa at Tuesday's annual bank meeting.

In his annual statement Stoa commented on the bank's move to its new building at West 4th and Main streets last May which resulted in its ability to perform improved customer services in more pleasant surroundings.

THE PRESIDENT noted a 36 percent increase in capital accounts over 1964, from $1,779,580 to $2,420,336, explaining that a major factor in the increase was a $500,000 capital note early in November.

Stockholders were told that deposits at the end of 1965 were 12 1/2 percent higher than the previous year, increasing from $20,837,534 to $23,445,089 and that there was an 18.7 percent increase in loans, from $13,044,534 to $15,463,837.

"In all, we have had a very, very good year and we're well satisfied with the advance of the economy of the area," Stoa said.

He said that the coming year could be more difficult because of the higher interest rates but expressed hope that continued advances in employment, retail sales and other indices of the general economy would be recorded.

In practically all areas of the economy improvements in 1965, he said, ranged from good to excellent and he pointed particularly to a strong agricultural economy despite the severe drought of 1964.

AT THE ANNUAL meeting all officers and directors were re-elected. They are:

Stoa, president; Kermit R. Berglund, vice president; Loyel Hoesek, vice president and agricultural representative; Ralph E. Petz, assistant vice president; Clarence J. Fiedler, cashier; Beverly Bellman, Mrs. Marion J. Deeren and Richard O'Bryan, assistant cashiers. Mrs. Jane Balcer, auditor. Trust and estate department — Neil K. Sawyer, vice president and trust officer, and Kenneth E. Seebold, assistant trust officer. Installment department — Kenneth P. Nelson, assistant cashier, and Charles M. Doffing, assistant cashier.

Directors — Fred E. Boughton, Donald W. Gray, J. L. Jeremiassen, Albert J. Kertzman, Dr. George L. Loomis, R. W. Miller, Paul B. Miner, Daniel F. Przybylski, Harvard K. Robinson, Stoa, Royal G. Thern and Thomas H. Underdahl.

Three Slightly Hurt at Dodge

DODGE, Wis. (Special) — Three persons involved in a near head-on collision on Trempealeau County Trunk J Sunday afternoon apparently received only slight injuries.

Roger Klein, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Klein, Trempealeau Rt. 1, was traveling north and Alfred Wolfe, Galesville, south when they lost control on a slippery stretch on a curve in front of the Lambert Lilla residence about a half-mile south of Dodge. Both cars slid approximately 75 feet before colliding, according to Deputy Sheriff Eugene Galewski, Dodge, and Traffic Officer Milo Johnson, who investigated.

Joan Jaszwski, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jaszwski, Arcadia Rt. 2, passenger in the Klein car, received arm bruises, cuts on her knees and a cut on the temple which required three stitches. She was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital, Arcadia, and released.

Klein received bruises and Wolfe, a severely cut lip. Wolfe was taken to a Galesville clinic for treatment.

Both cars, 1960 models, were extensively damaged. No citations were given.

Youth Fined on Hit-Run Charge

Guilty pleas to hit-run and license plate charges were heard today in municipal court. Both defendants paid the fines assessed them.

John A. Mihm, 19, Hendricks, Minn., pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to identify himself at the scene of an accident at Gilmore Avenue and Garfield Street Monday at 11:15 p.m. He paid a $50 fine levied by Judge John D. McGill as the alternative to 17 days in jail.

Timothy J. Anderson, 20, Bangor Rt. 2, Wis., pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to display current vehicle registration at West 4th and Johnson streets Tuesday at 10:30 p.m. He paid a $10 fine as the alternative to three days in jail.

Bank Deposits Rise, Annual Reports Show

A growth trend in all categories of activity continued at the city's three banks during the past year, statements of condition at the close of 1965 reveal.

Total resources of the three banks showed an increase of more than $8 million and there were increases, also, in deposits and capital accounts.

RESOURCES for the three on the final day of 1965 totaled $81,379,735, compared with $73,272,493 at the end of 1964.

	1965	1964
Deposits	$73,272,493	$68,958,064
Resources	$81,379,735	$73,272,493
Capital	$8,107,242	$7,322,431

Earnings Better, Winona National Meeting Advised

Volume of activity in all departments was up and earnings were better than in most recent years at Winona National & Savings Bank, President S. J. Kryzsko told members of the board of directors at their annual meeting Tuesday.

Changes and improvements are continuing in modernizing operating procedures to keep up with growth and with the need for operating efficiency, Kryzsko said, noting that customer parking facilities are being expanded and improved in the adjacent building formerly occupied by Kelly Furniture Co.

IN HIS statement at the annual meeting the president said, "Final approval of our application made in September to sell an issue of $500,000 subordinated capital debentures was received from the comptroller of currency several weeks ago and negotiations will be concluded this week with the insurance company which purchased the entire issue."

"Strong loan demand continues to outpace the growth in deposits, which is the situation generally prevailing for some time in most banking areas," he continued. "We start the year with substantially higher interest expense. To offset the effect of the rate increase on earnings we have undertaken a program which includes upward revision of interest rates on loans and service charges, as well as operating expense adjustments. Based on calculated projections, these various changes will gradually improve the earnings situation created by the new interest rates and 1966 should turn out to be a good year."

ALL OFFICERS and directors were re-elected at the annual meeting.

These include E. L. King Jr., chairman of the board; Kryzsko, president; W. M. Lambert, senior vice president; J. E. Krier, vice president; David Fleming, vice president; William P. Theurer, vice president and senior trust officer; Herbert A. Hassinger, vice president and cashier; J. D. Scott, assistant vice president and trust officer; E. O. Sonnemman, assistant cashier; Romuald Ritter, assistant trust officer; Gerald G. Kiekbusch, assistant cashier; Edward A. Gott, assistant cashier and auditor; Miss Ruth Flanagan, assistant cashier and assistant trust officer; and Miss Rita Rompa, assistant cashier.

Directors are Mrs. Grace W. King, E. L. King Jr., Mrs. Mary E. King, Kryzsko, E. J. Sievers, Lambert and Theurer.

up some $2.6 million from the previous year.

The past year was marked by physical expansion and improvements at all three banks.

First National moved into its new building at West 4th and Main streets, Merchants completed a remodeling project that included construction of a new drive-in banking facility and Winona National & Savings was making plans for an expansion of its enclosed parking area in a portion of an adjacent building formerly occupied by Kelly Furniture Co.

Deposits	$73,272,493	$68,958,064
Resources	$81,379,735	$73,272,493
Capital	$8,107,242	$7,322,431

ON A DOLLAR volume basis Merchants counted the largest totals in deposits and resources, showing also an increase of more than $4 million in deposits and nearly $2.5 million in resources over the previous year.

First National had a $2.6 million increase in deposits, its resources increased slightly more than $3 million and it stood the highest among the three banks in the capital accounts listing.

Winona National's deposit total dropped slightly from 1964 but gains were recorded both in total resources and capital accounts.

Couple Ordered Out of Home

An order for restitution of premises was issued by Judge John D. McGill following an unlawful detainer action in municipal court.

Woodrow T. Nagle, 1164 W. 5th St., won the order against Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kutchara, 406 Mankato Ave., after he testified that he had given the Kutcharas their one-month notice Nov. 30. The defendants, however, continued to occupy the premises at 406 Mankato Ave. beyond the termination of their last rent period Jan. 2.

Nagle told Judge McGill that he had rented the Mankato Avenue premises to the Kutcharas on a month-to-month basis beginning Feb. 3, 1965. Written notice of termination of the rental agreement was given in advance of the Kutcharas' last rent period, which began Dec. 3, Nagle said.

Nagle was represented at the Friday hearing by Attorney William A. Lindquist. Mrs. Kutchara appeared to represent herself and her husband.

Burglary Case Hearing Waived

A young Winona man charged with burglary waived preliminary hearing today in municipal court and was bound over to District Court for arraignment.

Dennis L. Nelsetuen, 19, 18-87 W. 4th St., appeared with court-appointed attorney Roger P. Brosnahan to waive his right to a preliminary hearing. Nelsetuen continues to be held in county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond set by Judge John D. McGill.

The youth is charged with burglary with intent to commit a misdemeanor in connection with a break-in Jan. 3 at Don's Standard Service Station, 1777 Service Dr. The charge carries a maximum penalty, on conviction, of one year in prison or a $1,000 fine, or both.

Police detective Capt. Marlowe L. Brown charges that Nelsetuen entered the service station on the night of Jan. 3 and stole $1.33.

Assistant County Attorney Richard H. Darby represented the state today in municipal court.

Radio Code Class Begins Thursday

Instruction for amateur radio enthusiasts interested in learning code will be given at a series of weekly meetings beginning Thursday.

Meetings of the class will be held each Thursday at 7 p.m. at the home of George Bolter, 1312 Randall St. Those wishing to join the group may enroll by attending the first class meeting Thursday.

The class is open to both men and women, youth and adults.

Bolter, however, said that experience has indicated that those younger than 13 frequently do not maintain an interest in the class.

Guidance Meeting Set at Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — A planning day, arranged by Sidney Otterson, guidance counselor, will be held at Whitehall High School Thursday.

Representatives from 13 different schools and organizations, ranging from the U.S. Army to the University of Wisconsin, will talk to seniors and juniors during the sixth and seventh hours.

These students from Independence High School have been invited to attend.

No Posting Of Street Till Thursday

Snow that is expected to reach a depth of four inches has brought out street department equipment and personnel in a combined and so far successful effort to keep streets open to traffic.

Department crews will continue plowing today and tonight but downtown streets will not be posted for cleaning until Thursday night, according to Arthur Brom, street commissioner.

Brom said plowing will go on around the clock to keep arterials open and that parking lots at Levee Park and 2nd Street will be cleared tonight. This will give motorists places to park when streets are cleared Thursday for removal operations.

Warm Weather To Continue After Snowfall

A mid-winter snowstorm whipping across the area brought warnings of hazardous driving conditions on Minnesota and Wisconsin highways today.

Up to noon three inches of snow had fallen in Winona, adding to the five inches already on the ground from previous snowfalls. The snow was expected to end by tonight.

Temperatures in the area remained mild with the noon reading here 21.

A Milder weekend for Winona's Winter Carnival is in prospect with the extended forecast. Predicted through Monday are temperatures averaging 2 to 8 degrees above normal daytime highs of 19-25 and nighttime lows of 2 below to 8 above.

During the five-day period precipitation is forecast at less than one-quarter of an inch (melted) occurring as light snow over the weekend.

Decreasing cloudiness and colder is the forecast for tonight when the thermometer is slated to range between 2 and 8 above. Colder Thursday is expected with a high of 15-20. A little warmer with that chance of light snow is the outlook for Friday.

FROM A LOW of -10 Tuesday morning and only 6 above at noon Tuesday, the temperature rose steadily to a high of 19 at 7 a.m. today.

The fine powdery snow contained 24 of an inch of moisture.

At Augusta, Wis., where four inches of snow fell, school was canceled for the day. Two buses were a little late at St. Charles, Minn., where slippery roads developed but classes were held as usual.

Preston, Minn., reported about 4 inches of snow by mid-morning.

A year ago today the Winona high was 23 and the low zero with half an inch of snow on the ground. All-time high for Jan. 12 was 50 in 1928 and the low -34 in 1912. Mean for the past 24 hours was 14 in contrast with a normal for this day of 16.

International Falls which had a -40 Tuesday morning had -3 today. It was -2 at Hibbing and 5 above at Duluth.

Rochester posted a morning low of 13 and La Crosse had 16. It was snowing at every Minnesota weather reporting point this morning with as much as five inches at Redwood Falls.

The storm, apparently aiming its biggest guns at the southeastern section of WISCONSIN, swept into the state today accompanied in some areas by freezing drizzle.

The snowfall began before dawn in the western areas. Two inches of snow fell within two hours at Cassville in the extreme southwestern section. At mid-morning nearly every community in the state was reporting snow.

Accumulations above four inches were expected in the southeast. Hazardous driving warnings were issued for the entire state.

Warrants Issued To Rollingstone Telephone Hoax

Warrants were served today on two rural Rollingstone youths who allegedly telephoned a false emergency call to Sheriff George L. Fort Monday night.

The warrants were issued by Goodview justice court under a statute which prohibits "obstructing legal process or arrest."

Sheriff Fort said that Carl Anderson and John Hoffman, 21 and 22 years old, were being served with the warrants this morning. They live in the Rollingstone area, he said.

Deputy Vernon L. Spitzer reported getting a telephone call from Rollingstone Monday at 11:18 p.m. The voice on the other end of the line said, "There is some trouble out here at Rollingstone, send an officer out right away," according to Spitzer.

This message was followed by a groan — and the line went dead. Spitzer reported to the sheriff. Although he recognized the message might be a hoax, Deputy Spitzer called Rollingstone Constable Roy Wise and asked him to check out the story while the night patrol car came down from near Utica.

Wise called in at 11:30 p.m. to say that he had tried to stop a 1959 or 1960 sedan which sped off up Kalmes Hill. The car's occupants, whom he had wanted to question, were identified by Wise as Anderson and Hoffman.

Temperatures Moderate in Cold Regions
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Temperatures moderated in the cold regions of the Midwest today but icy air spread eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

Below-zero cold in the Midwest was confined to areas in Western Lower Michigan, with the mercury dropping to -19 at Pellston. As the cold air spread eastward subzero readings were reported in sections of New England and upstate New York. Cold wave warnings were in effect for New England and northeastern New York.

The Midwest got some measure of relief as fairly warm air from the Southwest sent temperatures above zero in some cities for the first time in several days. At International Falls, Minn., where the mercury dropped to 40 below Tuesday, the early morning reading was 6 above.

Stiff northerly winds fanned the cold air eastward. Some of the chill extended into sections of the Southeast. Snow flurries fell along the southern shores of Lakes Ontario and Erie and in the upper Great Lakes region. Nearly a foot of snow piled up in the Lake Ontario area Tuesday, forcing some schools to close.

Rain and snow spread from Colorado into the central and northern Plains and rain and freezing drizzle pelted some north central sections. The Weather Bureau issued hazardous driving warnings for central Iowa, central and eastern North Dakota and north central and northeastern South Dakota. Rain or snow was indicated through the middle and lower Mississippi Valley.

The award was against Plam Linoleum Co. An employee of the company was driving a car that struck the boy as Richard crossed a street near his home in 1963.

Quad Cities Employ Women In Labor Pinch

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — The Quad Cities area, a highly industrialized section with an unemployment rate about one-third that of the national average, has started hiring women for factory jobs again.

This center of farm equipment manufacturing firms began open placement of women in light factory jobs this week for the first time since World War II.

The Associated Industries of the Quad Cities, an organization of employers in Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill., and nearby Davenport, Iowa, reported employment at an all-time high today. The organization said in a year-end survey there were nearly 52,000 jobs in Quad Cities plants, representing a gain of 1,662 over the previous year. The four cities have a total population of about 205,000.

Associated Industries reported between 500 and 1,000, mostly skilled, are unfilled in the larger plants.

The battle of the sexes is an age-old conflict sometimes carried on in fun, sometimes in dead earnest. Which is the case today, it still exists.

Participants in the battle of the sexes are often termed members of the stronger or weaker sex. Men take pride in being members of the stronger side and delight it would seem, in keeping their helpmates identified with that human element known as the weaker sex. But there is some room for doubt as to which is really the stronger.

When it comes to muscle and individual strength, it's undoubtedly true that the male exceeds the strength of an average woman, but most certainly when it comes to endurance and every-day activity, the gal in the home, known as the "little woman," begins to demand attention as a rugged individualist.

ONE GENTLEMAN I read about recently, assumed the household chores ordinarily the work of his wife, to prove a point — mainly that housekeeping is a snap. After the first, day, it was said, he understood why Mother Nature saved woman from beards. It was simply a case of time. No housewife would find time to shave. At the end of seven days, according to the article, this game fellow concluded "housekeeping is the toughest job I've ever tackled." I understand he used muscles that week he probably had forgotten he had.

I'm quick to admit that I wouldn't care to assume a woman's duties. Matter of fact, that bit about being "tired of those four walls" is a proper complaint. Not only must the housewife fulfill duties most men would shun, but they are performed within the same area day in and day out. When the job is done, the lady of the house gets to sit down and relax, except it's in the same place where she has worked all day. And that's not the half of it. About the time Mom finishes the household tasks, gets the supper on, and finally sits down to read the paper, Dad comes in muttering what a tough day he has had at the office or in the plant. Coming home to him is a change. Staying home, to her, could easily be the same old thing. Seems it's time we call a truce in the battle of the sexes and admit each plays a big part in home building.

ABOUT THIS time someone chimes in with that old saying, "Man works from sun to sun, a woman's work is never done." And the battle goes on with new vigor. For what it's worth, it seems to me the man of the house has to take the initiative and insist that the "little woman" get out a bit.

I've noticed that it's a fact that when the wife buys a new hat, she gains a new perspective. Maybe because a hat is a symbol of going somewhere and doing something. Whatever the case, a fellow can afford to admit the strength of the so-called weaker sex. Compliment her on her achievements and see that she gets out now and then. In this way, you can do much to help keep the "little woman" content. She'll continue to work hard and Dad can sit back, after eight hours on the job and meditate on, and enjoy the fact that he is a member of the stronger sex.

And here's a reminder to you fellows — never tell the girl you are unworthy of her. Let that come later as a complete surprise.

ber's expanded program.

Christian Brothers Raise $825,676

The Christian Brothers of the Winona Province have received $825,676.20 in cash and pledges in their scholastic campaign.

The goal is $1,350,000 of which $750,000 was the target of the active phases now completed.

The campaign was conducted through the fall months in the schools and installations of the province which extends from Escanaba, Mich. to Fargo, N.D. and south to Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The $1,350,000 five-year plan of development includes $700,000 new scholastic, substantial funds for a scholarship and endowment fund for the brothers and rehabilitation of the present scholastic together with new provincial facilities and a home for aged brothers.

Brother H. Paul, provincial director of development, said: "The brothers of the district were wonderfully encouraged by the fine support given to us. We are honestly heartened by the generosity of our many friends."

Brother Paul reported that 1,283 gifts averaging $477 were received in addition to many others of lesser amounts. Of the larger gifts, 40 were received that averaged well over $5,300 each.

The campaign got under way the latter part of September with some 1,400 men taking part in addition to the brothers. The program was directed by the Community Counseling Service, Inc., New York and Chicago. Pledges to the program are payable over a period of 2½ years with payment periods for the larger ones being extended to five.

Greatest concentration of Christian Brothers activity is in the Twin Cities area where they currently staff five high schools and will be opening another this fall. The bulk of the funds raised came from there. De La Salle High School, Minneapolis, raised $124,817; Benilde High School, St. Louis Park, $125,276; Cretin High School, St. Paul, $108,724; Hill High School, North St. Paul, $110,625; and Brady, South St. Paul, $17,331, and Holy Name in Escanaba, Mich., $27,045. A total of $185,000 was raised by the Christian Brothers schools in Wisconsin and Iowa through commitments from the parishes which the schools serve. Other installations of the brothers, including St. Mary's College, raised $108,713.

The board gave Alfred Lindorff, assistant county engineer, an indefinite leave of absence because of ill health.

The salary of the clerk of district court was fixed at $4,500 per annum.

CLERK HIRE allowances were voted as follows for this year as provided by statute: County auditor, $8,400; treasurer, $8,100; judge of probate, $5,800, and register of deeds, $4,400. The board also voted a salary of $1,200 for clerk hire for the county attorney; $3,600, secretary in the county nurse's office; $3,000, county assessor's office; and $2,700, secretary to the service officer.

Wyman Yaste was rehired as janitor and maintenance engineer at the courthouse for $600 per month.

By resolution the board adopted the state minimum of $7,000 annual reimbursement for auditor, treasurer, register of deeds

Voluntary Censorship Followed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon believes most of the nation's newspapers, radio and television stations are going along with its recent request to withhold news about troop unit deployments until official announcements are made.

This form of voluntary censorship was proposed in a memorandum issued Oct. 30 by Arthur Sylvester, public information chief.

His memorandum said press corps members covering Viet Nam had agreed voluntarily to delay news stories or publication of photographs on movements of troops, ships or aircraft until officially announced by U.S. headquarters in Saigon. He requested media in the United States to do the same.

Advance disclosure that particular units or ships have been ordered to Southeast Asia or were en route, Sylvester said, "can assist the Viet Cong."

New Police Chief For Fergus Falls

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Richard O. Zaayer, 41, a Battle Lake area resort operator and former Sioux Falls, S.D., policeman, has been named city police chief to succeed Clarence Anderson, who resigned.

and sheriff, all elected officials. This was adopted for the year 1967 and is in accordance with the state minimum set by 1965, which the board may increase if it wishes.

REIMBURSEMENT for personal auto use on county business was fixed at 10 cents per mile.

The annual report of Reuben Elton, Harmony, weed and seed inspector, was placed on file. The board renewed its fleet comprehensive general auto liability policy for 1966 with Gerhard Olan, Rushford.

The $55,000 in U.S. Treasury Bills presented by Lanesboro State Bank as additional collateral for depository of county funds was approved.

The application of Melvin L. Fuller Sr. and Jerry D. Fuller, Canton, for an off-sale beer sales was granted.

N.Y. Transit Strike Repercussions Seen

THERE WILL be two important casualties of the New York transit strike in addition to the public, whose suffering is already well advertised. They are:

1. Organized labor, which will have an increasingly difficult time ending the right-to-work laws in the current session of Congress and is certain to face demands for the compulsory arbitration of utilities disputes.
2. The political chances of Mayor John Lindsay, hitherto talked about as a dark horse GOP candidate for President.

Those who have watched the past gyrations of peripatetic Mike Quill point to the fact that never before since he organized the transit workers in 1935 has Mike called a strike. He has customarily played the game of brinkmanship. He has walked right up within minutes of a strike but never called it.

This time, however, he wasn't dealing with his old friend, Ex-Mayor Bob Wagner, but with a new Republican mayor, who in the first place didn't understand Mike's gallic gyrations; second, it is strongly suspected that Mike, a Democrat, wanted to wipe the political sheen off the man some Republicans were grooming for the White House in 1968.

AT ANY RATE, there is no question that Mike Quill was determined to go to jail from the very start, and to take his colleagues with him.

There is also no question that nobody could get him and his transit leaders out of jail. They liked it there and wanted to stay.

Quill came in with demands which were astronomical and which the City of New York couldn't possibly meet. It is true that Mike faced some dissatisfaction among his workers. His motormen felt that they were underpaid compared with motormen on the Hudson and Manhattan. His bus drivers felt they were paid less than the drivers of refuse trucks in Manhattan. And electrical workers who worked at the city power house got a much higher wage when they moved over to Consolidated Edison and other private firms who operated under a higher wage contract negotiated by Harry Van Arsdale of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. Van Arsdale, incidentally, held up the electrical industry of New York for the highest wages in history, whereby some of his men get around $600 a week.

MAYOR LINDSAY played the game straight. He made a perfectly fair offer, which was rejected out of hand. It was obvious at the very start that the transit workers had no real idea of bona fide negotiations and that Mike Quill was determined to go to jail.

In the past, Mayor Wagner, the late Mayor Bill O'Dwyer, and Mayor Vincent Impellitteri always allowed room for a neutral negotiator to come in and reach a settlement. Either Anna Rosenberg or Arthur Goldberg or, in a couple of cases, John L. Lewis, then czar of the United Mine Workers, or the late Phil Murray, organizer of the CIO, came in to negotiate a settlement.

This time, Mayor Lindsay got some sane advice from his friend Alex Rose, president of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union, and from Dave Dubinsky, head of the International Ladies Garment Workers, to stay aloof from the negotiations while Mike Quill blew off steam. But this time it didn't work. This time Mike didn't play his old game of brinkmanship. He went over the brink.

All this has not only created a sour taste with the people of New York as far as labor unions are concerned but has had its repercussions in Washington.

IT IS ALMOST certain, therefore, that legislation will be introduced at this session of Congress setting up some form of compulsory arbitration for unions operating power plants, telephones, subways, bus companies and other forms of public transportation. Congressmen point out that the New York transit controversy affects not merely eight million people out the rest of the nation. Had Mayor Lindsay yielded to an inflationary wage increase it would have been reflected in other wage demands all over the country.

The amount of electricity produced has doubled every ten years for the past 50 years.

For the mind of the flesh is death; but the mind of the Spirit is life and peace.—Romans 8:6.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Black Eye for Union Labor

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Organized labor throughout the country has just received the worst black eye it has experienced in a half century. This comes as a consequence of the colossal damage inflicted by union leaders in New York City's transit strike.

Nobody has ever dreamed that, short of a rebellion to overthrow the established government, any organized group of citizens in the United States would be able by acts of their leaders to defy a city and state government and do it all under the theoretical "right to strike."

Criticism is coming from far and wide. As the New York Herald Tribune put it on Sunday, there is "no absolute right to strike." The editorial says in part:

"A STRIKE MAY be barred by specific statute, as strikes of government employees are barred in New York state. A strike may jeopardize the community, the nation itself. A strike may be called to effect a political purpose — to usurp, as the transit union has done, the right to make political decisions which is vested in elected officials and legislatures. Such strikes go out of the sphere of legitimate pressures to effect legitimate economic ends and become assertions of the right to revolution. And against such assertions the community has the right and duty to protect itself."

Congress is to convene this week, and no issue is more in need of prompt legislative enactments than the protection of private property against wanton attack by the extremists who abuse the "right to strike." Unfortunately, most of the labor leaders of the country have remained silent. Instead of speaking out against an improper use of union power, they exhibited a strange indifference that is being interpreted generally as acquiescence in what has happened in New York City in the last ten days.

THE AFL-CIO, which is a kind of trade association of labor unions, has no authority over the operations of its member unions and is largely a lobbying organization which at the moment is still demanding that Congress repeal what is known as the "right to work" law. This enables the states at present to decide for themselves whether they wish to allow contracts to be made between employees and unions compelling workers to join a union or lose their jobs. Opposition to the repeal is widespread, but labor leaders have felt confident that a majority in Congress would go along with the concept of compulsory unionization.

The time has come, however, to let the measure be thoroughly debated and comprehensively amended. If, for instance, compulsory unionization is to be permitted, here are some of the safeguards that should be stipulated by law:

1. No man shall be fired from his job if, after joining a union, he is dissatisfied with its operations and wishes to resign.

2. No union leader shall be permitted to negotiate in a collective-bargaining conference unless a detailed outline of the demands has been approved beforehand by secret vote of the members.

3. Every counter-proposal of management, together with a statement of its position, should be made immediately available to all union members so that they can, by secret ballot, vote to accept or reject it.

4. ANY UNION WHOSE members are employed by federal or state or city governments should be forbidden to strike and, if a strike is authorized by vote of the members, the latter as well as the leaders must be made subject to fines and other penalties in the event that existing law is disobeyed. Lawsuits on this point should be permitted to be filed by dissenting union members or by citizens whose property is damaged or by governmental agencies.

There are many well-organized and efficient operated unions, and these have the least trouble with management. But the big unions lately have become as influential as if they themselves constituted a political party. These unions are subject to dictatorship. The average union members, including the transit workers in New York City, for example, probably do not approve of much what the leaders do, but they are helpless to exert their will. Often they are not too well informed as to what is being done in their name.

Unions are necessary in large industries particularly, but the union members as well as the public are entitled to protection by law against misbehavior, arrogance and extremism by union leaders.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Foreigners Appreciate LBJ Peace Offensive

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Foreign reaction to President Johnson's Christmas peace offensive, as viewed from where I sat abroad, was excellent.

The fact that the highest emissaries of the United States — Vice President Humphrey, Ambassador Arthur Goldberg, Ambassador Averell Harriman, and Assistant Secretary of State Mennen Williams — called personally on heads of state, bolstered confidence in the sincerity of the United States. It also cleared up the extent to which the United States is willing to go to obtain peace.

It was not lost on world leaders that these special envoys had been governors of important states and candidates for president, as Harriman of New York and Williams of Michigan; also members of the Cabinet and the Supreme Court, as Arthur Goldberg; and that they could speak not only for President Johnson but with national prestige and popular support.

Returning to the United States, I have found the President's peace offensive under more criticism here than abroad; chiefly on the ground that it's showmanship. What the critics fail to realize, however, are the following:

1. Many nations did not understand how far President Johnson is willing to go in negotiating peace. They had heard him repeat that he was willing to go anywhere at any time to talk peace, but they did not understand, for instance, that he was willing to talk peace on the basis of the 1954 Geneva treaty.

THE GENEVA treaty calls for elections in North and South Viet Nam to see whether the two countries want to unite — elections which John Foster Dulles blocked because he feared the south would vote to unite with the north.

2. Many governments also did not fully realize that the United States was ready to pull its troops out of Viet Nam after peace had been negotiated. The President had said this; Ambassador Goldberg had repeated it at the U.N. But their speeches did not have the same impact as when top-ranking envoys made special calls on heads of state to give this pledge in writing.

3. Dealing with the Communist world requires not secret but highly publicized diplomacy. It's the only way to penetrate a controlled Communist press. The newspapers of Russia and North Viet Nam, for instance, have not yet published the fact that the United States has refrained from bombing North Viet Nam.

Critics who accuse the President of Madison Avenue diplomacy don't appreciate this. But if he didn't make his peace overtures with a blare of trumpets he would get nowhere.

CAREER ambassadors, who believe in the secret techniques of 19th century diplomacy, were a bit cynical of LBJ's jet age talks. But Pope Paul, and such chiefs of state as President De Gaulle, Prime Minister Wilson of England and President Tito of Yugoslavia were not.

Note — In addition to the public peace drive, the President is working on several backstage maneuvers. He is not too optimistic. But there is one thing you should never discount about Johnson — his perseverance.

Just outside the President's room is a book which sometimes raises the eyebrows of visiting generals and admirals. It is written by one of LBJ's old newspaper friends, Tris Coffin, and is called "The Passion of the Hawks."

It's a revealing book, highly applicable to the trigger-happiness that got us into trouble in Southeast Asia, just a little under Eisenhower, more under Kennedy, and still more under Johnson, in Viet Nam.

HERE IS some of the military history it reviews: The War of 1812 — How war resulted from the political ambitions of Henry Clay, strutting cock of Kentucky, and his war hawks. Clay cried: "On to Canada! Is the rod of British power to be forever suspended over our heads?" British power was a dirty phrase then just as Communism is today.

President Madison was forced into war by the slogans of the War Hawks. Washington was burned. Indians captured Chicago. Detroit was surrendered without a fight. British seamen virtually took over the Atlantic coast.

The war was finally settled around the conference table, with both sides sick of it. The United States won nothing. The British were glad to get out of a war being waged further away, in those days of sailing ships, than Viet Nam is from Washington today.

THE CIVIL War — How when the military is curbed it hits the political trail. Lincoln's generals went behind his back to lobby brazenly with Congress — just as some generals go behind Johnson's back to lobby with Rep. Mendel Rivers, D-S.D., today. The weary Lincoln had to fire his top general, George B. McClellan, who then ran against him, much as Harry Truman fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who had bucked him and later ran against him.

World War I — Civil liberties fall by the wayside. Patriotism is used as an excuse to round up dissenters and mistreat aliens. In World War I, the music of Fritz Kreisler was barred because he was drafted to fight in the Austrian army. Col. Lindbergh's father, a member of Congress, who opposed the war, had his house painted with yellow stripes. The German language was banned in many schools. Eugene Debs was jailed, dachshunds were stoned off the streets, and the New York Times printed a rumor that German spies were placing poison in bandages rolled in Philadelphia.

Guerrilla wars — The motive for guerrilla fighting was described in 451 by Emperor Valentinian II: "For there is nothing to which despair of his own life does not drive a man. A hungry person considers nothing shameful, nothing forbidden. His only concern is to live any way he can."

This is the motive which drove thousands of Vietnamese, with no interest in Communism, into the hands of the Viet Cong. Such is some of the history of war in the book on the shelf in Lyndon Johnson's office.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Reds Seek to Make Race War

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

(Substituting for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON — A worldwide propaganda push to present the conflict in Viet Nam as a "race war" in which bad white men are shooting good colored North Vietnamese has been opened under the direction of the Chinese Communists.

This is a statement of simple and brutal fact for which there is massive proof in totally objective, professional and unflappable intelligence offices all over the Western World. It is well known, moreover, to those Asian governments which are giving us some assistance against Communist aggression in Viet Nam and to those which are remaining aloof.

In a word, it is anything but the enfevered dream product of hysterical Communist baiters or of those "little old ladies in tennis shoes" who are supposed to typify right-wing movements in this country. It is a terrible reality — an instance of international well-poisoning so evil as to alarm even the Russians, even though they are cooperating with the Chinese to some extent in the attempt to force us to abandon South Viet Nam to Communist invasion.

THE CAMPAIGN is, of course, both monstrously and demonstrably false. Most of all the dying in Viet Nam is being done by anti-Communist South Vietnamese — not only by troops but by civilians, including women and children, who are of precisely the same color as the invading Communists.

It is based, moreover — as indeed some other aspects of current Chinese and North Vietnamese propaganda are based — upon Adolf Hitler's Fascist technique of creating the biggest and most irrational lie in the notion that its arrogance might help it to succeed.

It is intellectual germ warfare, comparable to the deliberate spreading around the world of a virus like plague or cholera.

THE ONE healthy possibility in this grisly scene is that the poison may recoil upon the Chinese for its very savagery. Indeed, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey — whose recent mission to Asia was in fact a good deal more important than it looked superficially — brought back word of at least some hopeful developments.

He learned that the colored leaders of both South Viet Nam and Thailand are dispatching agents of sanitation and truth deep into Asia and Africa to give the lie to this Chinese attempt at mass mental infection. These missionaries of public decency are themselves colored men who are telling other colored men that China and North Viet Nam are exploiting their race while murdering people of the very same race.

Given the plain truth of what is occurring, the fact that any American civil rights organization — even an extremist one — can enlist in this ghastly thing must leave any decent American appalled. But this is precisely what the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee has just done, in a bitter manifesto denouncing this, its own land as harshly as its Communist enemies have ever done.

AND IF this is not sickening enough, there is yet more. The 25-year-old head of SNCC, John Lewis, has been pleased to announce that he has sought, and gained, a change in his own draft status from 1-A to that of "conscientious objector."

There is something to make the heart heavy in the terrible turncoatism of this organization that abuses a nation which, whatever its past sins toward minorities, is making an agonizing, a successful and indeed a heroic attempt to right old wrongs.

But there is something more in it, too. Responsible Negro leaders have a responsibility of almost measureless gravity to speak

What Term 'Rule Out' Can Mean

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: The other day, discussing low blood sugar, you wrote that "a convulsive disorder should be ruled out." Maybe I am not very intelligent, but I am not sure what this expression means. How do you "rule out" convulsive disorders or other conditions? — J. P.

This phrase "ruling out" is frequently used by physicians, rarely by anyone else. Without doubt I will use it some more, and an explanation (which is quite simple) obviously is in order.

There are a good many ailments which are entirely different yet can have similar symptoms. In the instance you cite, low blood sugar can have certain symptoms — but so can convulsive disorders, with epilepsy the most frequent one.

Obviously there is no point in treating the patient for low blood sugar if the real trouble is some form of epilepsy. Therefore it makes sense to conduct tests which will "rule out" a convulsive disorder or prove that one is not responsible.

THIS COMES up again and again in health care. The patient may seem to have severe attacks of indigestion, but it is vital to "rule out" heart disease before instituting treatment for the "indigestion." Or one may suspect heart disease yet have to "rule out" gall bladder disease before knowing how best to treat.

When some possibility can be "ruled out," it narrows things down so you can be sure what IS the trouble.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would the use of tampons by an unmarried woman increase the risk of cervical cancer? — A.W.V.

out here, not only in behalf of elementary honor but in behalf of the civil rights movement itself. Let SNCC's action stand uncondemned and the whole movement is itself discredited.

Congress Given High Rating in Public's Opinion

By LOUIS HARRIS

When Congress reconvenes this week, it will be riding the crest of the highest public approval registered in modern times. Fully 71 percent of the American electorate gives a favorable rating to the job done by Congress in 1965. This compares with only 35 percent who felt this way two years ago, shortly after the death of President John F. Kennedy.

The reason for the increase is the widespread and almost uniform praise that now abounds in the country for the legislative program adopted after President Johnson took office. Medical care for the aged, considered by the public the most important to them personally, now is backed by 82 percent. Federal aid to education, judged the second most important piece of new legislation, is supported by 90 percent. Cutting excise taxes, third in the list of popular priorities, is looked on favorably by 92 percent. And the voting-rights bill, ranked number four by the public, is now supported by 95 percent.

IT IS EVIDENT that many of last year's most controversial measures have been accepted and even become popular. This is the case for revision of the immigration regulations, support prices and payments to farmers and the anti-poverty program — all of which were the subject of vigorous disagreement and debate.

In fact, Congress has impressed the people so much that it is more popular than the President — four points higher than the Chief Executive's last recorded positive rating of 67 percent.

A carefully drawn cross section of the public was asked: "How would you rate the job Congress did this past year in 1965 — excellent, pretty good, only fair or poor?"

Rating of Congress	Excellent	Pretty Good	Fair	Poor
December, 1965	71	29
December, 1964	64	36
December, 1963	35	65

The most dramatic gain in popularity for Congress was recorded in the South, while its top over-all rating continues to be in the East.

Regional Ratings of Congress	Dec. 65	Dec. 64
Dec. 65	71	64
Dec. 64	64	36

Rate Congress Positively:	%	%
Nation wide	71	64
East	79	69
Midwest	66	65
South	66	49
West	66	62

In 1964, the South was still smarting over the civil rights legislation which had been a major issue in the presidential election. A year later, the South is still not happy about civil rights bills, but the pulling power of other legislation apparently has rehabilitated Congress' reputation.

The public was also asked: "Now I want to hand you a list of bills passed by this last Congress. For each, tell me if you approve or disapprove of that bill from what you know or have heard of it."

Opinion About Specific Legislation	Approve %	Disapprove %
Voting rights for Negroes	95	5
Cutting excise taxes	92	8
Federal aid to education	90	10
College scholarships	89	11
Medical care for the aged	82	18
Highway beauty	79	21
Anti-poverty program	73	27
Immigration, based on individual skill rather than country quota	70	30
New Cabinet post, secretary of urban affairs	67	33
Supports and payments for farmers	62	38
Not only is there solid en-personally. The cross section was asked: "If you had to choose one bill, which one would you say is most important to you personally?"

Most Important Bill	Percent
Medical care for the aged	28
Federal aid to education	21
Cutting excise taxes	18
Voting rights for Negroes	14
The anti-poverty program	8
Immigration revision	3
College scholarships	3
Farm program	2
Dept of Urban Affairs	2
Highway beauty	1

The widespread public approval of the 1965 congressional record could have important implications for the 1966 off-year elections. Despite new-found levels of confidence, however, the Democrats cannot count on any automatic repeat of 1964's smashing victories in the House and Senate. Congressional political prospects for 1966 will be explored in tomorrow's column.

Anti-Poverty Grant To Koochiching Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity has approved a $25,250 grant to the Koochiching-Itasca, Minn., Council to develop an anti-poverty program, hiring four persons from the two-county area, congressional sources said Monday.

Scouting Program Discussed at Dakota Meeting

DAKOTA, Minn. (Special) — The Monday evening program of the Dakota Parent Teachers Club was presented by the Cub Scout pack and Boy Scout troop, sponsored by the PTC.

Tom Manko, Winona, district Scout executive, presented the pack and troop charters to Harry Foust, institutional representative for the PTC. A report on 1965 activities was given by Mrs. Joe Brown, den mother, and Ralph Grant, Cubmaster and Scoutmaster.

Scout James Knutz gave a history of the troop, which was organized in 1963 with two members. It now has eight members. A talk on second class requirements was given by Curt Papenfuss; first class requirements, Bruce Grant; tenderfoot knots, Larry Gile and Mark Papenfuss, and first aid for fainting and a sprained ankle, Bruce Brown.

Troop 19 was presented awards for outstanding work in camping, recruiting new members and correct uniforming, and being the only troop in the Sugar Loaf District earning all three awards. A film on Scouting, "Footsteps of the Pioneers," was shown.

Mrs. Joseph Brown and Mrs. James Knutz, den mothers, and Harry Foust, Carlton Papenfuss, James Knutz and David Romine are the pack and troop committee members.

Discussions were held on programs for parents and children, including dances and swim and roller skating parties.

The possibility of getting a public address system for the school's all-purpose room was discussed. The purchasing of a flag for Boy Scout Troop 19 was authorized.

Area High School Students Invited To Saint Teresa

Plans for the second annual open house at the College of Saint Teresa are complete, announces Miss Margaret Weigel, director of admissions. It will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Invited to the open house are all Winona and area high school seniors or juniors. It is not necessary that students who attend the open house actually plan to attend the College of Saint Teresa.

Program plans will include a question and answer period at 10 a.m. in the Roger Bacon Lecture hall.

At 10:30 a.m. the college will conduct an open house competition for awards ranging from $50 to $500.

Guests will tour the campus from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and luncheon will be served to the guests in a special section of the college dining hall.

Interested students have been asked to call or write Miss Weigel. All students from all schools are invited to participate.

Arcadia Fish Contest Sunday

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — Committees are ready for the annual Arcadia Sportsman's Club ice fishing contest on Third Lake, Trempealeau, Sunday from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Prizes for the biggest fish caught will be $35, $20 and $15 in four categories — bass; crappies and bullheads; bluegills, perch and sunfish, and northern and walleyes.

The oldest man and woman fishing will receive prizes, as will the person catching the first fish. Savings bonds also will be awarded.

Wisconsin fishing licenses will be on sale at the grounds. Minnesota fishermen don't need a nonresident license because these are boundary waters. Minnows and worms will be available. Donald Glanzer, Jack Haines and Russell Severson will be in charge of lunch and refreshments.

Alois Kulig will have the holes drilled in the ice. Nathan Wolfe will have charge of the public address system. Cleon Fernholz and Ray Walters will weigh the fish. Jack Bauteh, Maynard Smelja, David Schreiber, George Glanzer and Ernest Korpala will be in charge of ticket sales.

EXCHANGE INSTALLS . . . John Wildenborg, left, is installed as new president of the Winona Exchange Club by Roy Backus, a past president and installing officer. Looking on is David Fleming, immediate past president. The club met Tuesday evening for dinner at Linahan's Inn with 50 members and guests present. Other officers are: Richard Morris, vice president; Walter Dopke, secretary, a re-election, and Walter Thompson, treasurer. New board of control members are Bernhard Brenner, the Rev. Paul Nelson and Dr. L. L. Korda. (Daily News photo)

LIBRARY AT TAYLOR

U.S. Envoy Ousted by Little Burundi

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic channels stood idle when the little kingdom of Burundi decided to give the boot to the American ambassador.

It sent a letter — an airmail letter — to notify Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The letter arrived at the State Department in one of the big fat mailbags that are delivered daily.

"We got tons of mail," a State Department official said today.

"It's hard to tell on the face of it whether an ordinary letter in open mail demands priority attention."

"That's not the way to transmit diplomatic notes."

Donald A. Dumont, ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to the kingdom of Burundi, was ousted Monday from Bujumbura.

partment denied as "wholly without foundation" a Bujumbura charge that the American diplomats had maintained contacts with "conspirators" in Burundi.

Osseo Telephone Rates to Rise

OSSEO, Wis. — Effective at the first billing rate after Monday, General Telephone Co. of Wisconsin is authorized to raise its Osseo exchange rates from those established in 1960 for manual magneto service to dial rates.

The dial rates will produce $10,445 more revenues and yield 5.13 percent on the net investment rate base. Present rates produce 3.71 percent on investment.

For urban rates will rise as follows: Business, one - party, from $10 to $11.50, and two-party, from $8 to $9.50. Residence, one-party, from $5.80 to $6.50; two-party, $4.80 to 5.70, and four-party, from $4 to $4.90.

For rural service, business phones will increase from $5.80 to $6.80 and residence, from $4.25 to $5.30.

General Telephone converted to dial in Osseo in July 1962. Net operating income for 1963 was $6,410, while Beef River Valley Telephone Co., also operating in Osseo at that time, incurred a deficit of $11,381 for the same year.

On October 1964 General purchased Beef River, increasing its stations from 1,201 to 2,467 main stations in the calling area.

Houston Co. Treasurer Collections Exceed $4 Million First Time

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — F. W. Deters, Houston County treasurer, reports total receipts in 1965 at $4,230,614.65 and disbursements at $4,147,979.48. This is the first time in the history of Houston County that either figure has gone over the $4 million mark.

Lower Rates for Long Distance Calls

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. on Tuesday announced additional periods of lower rates for long-distance calls made within Minnesota, saying the change would save customers a total of $365,000 a year.

The change brings intrastate rates in line with interstate rates. Daytime rates will be in effect from 4:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays; somewhat lower evening rates 6-8 p.m. weekdays and all day Saturdays; and lowest night rates from 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. week nights and all day Sundays.

Tax May Mean Higher Prices at Twin Games

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The proposal by suburban Bloomington to levy a 10 per cent tax on admissions, which would include tickets to Metropolitan Stadium, appears to be headed for approval.

the Minnesota Twins said Tuesday the tax could mean higher prices for baseball tickets in 1966.

Little opposition was heard at a public hearing held by the Bloomington City Council on the plan proposed by Mayor Donald posed the proposal, calling it unfair since Minneapolis and Richfield, another suburb, also share in the ownership of the stadium but would collect no revenue from the new tax.

Hasselberg said that he did not feel the tax would mean higher ticket prices for sports fans. He said he regarded the tax as a substitute for the 10 per cent federal excise tax which was part of the admission price up to Dec. 31.

"The question is, do we try to relieve our taxpayers, or do we allow the Twins management to pick up this windfall," Hasselberg said.

A Twins spokesman said "in excess of $200,000" was paid in federal excise taxes last year. A Minnesota Vikings spokesman said the National Football League team paid $115,000 in federal excise taxes in 1965.

Griffith, meanwhile, said that implementation of the local admissions tax and a new league policy on sharing gate receipts with visiting teams may make it necessary to increase baseball ticket prices.

Griffith said that under the new policy visiting major league teams will receive 20 per cent of the gross gate revenue after federal and local taxes. The previous payoff to visitors was 30 cents on each full paid admission and 20 cents on each specially priced admission.

"We estimate it will cost us between $150,000 and $200,000 more than last year in payments to visiting clubs," Griffith said.

Insurance Dept. Overhaul Sought

ST. PAUL (AP)—An overhaul of the Minnesota insurance department is necessary because of inadequate law enforcement, inadequate state laws and inadequate cooperation with other states, Minneapolis Attorney Douglas Head said Monday.

Head, seeking the Republican nomination for state attorney general, spoke at a Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting and at a press conference.

He proposed 12 more examiners; fulltime services of an actuary, an attorney, a certified public accountant and a field examiner in the department; better salaries; more frequent examinations of new companies; and random examinations without notice.

Minneapolis Gas Firm Cuts Rates

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The average home heating customer will save $7 a year under a $1.85 million reduction in natural gas announced Monday by Minneapolis Gas Co. for the city and suburbs.

The company said earnings were above the amount allowed under its franchise last year—the coldest since 1951—and the excess must be returned to customers. The new rates are effective Feb. 1.

Protest Held No Reason for Draft Callup

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Justice Department official said in a letter made public Thursday that the draft laws cannot be used to muffle any "constitutionally protected" expression of views — such as student protests against U.S. actions in Vietnam.

The letter, from Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr., was made public by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who had protested Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey's action to reclassify as 1A a number of University of Michigan youths involved in a draft board sit-in.

Hershey had told Hart in a letter that he was authorized by a presidential executive order to reclassify men "found to be delinquent under the Selective Service Act."

Hart had asked the Justice Department to comment on that.

Vinson said in his letter that "we know of no executive order of any pronouncement by this

Man Dead in Duluth Fire

Duluth, Minn. (AP) — Harold G. Butters, 75, who worked part-time at a nearby steam plant, died Monday night after trying to help fight a fire that destroyed the Riverside Auto Parts and Salvage Co. building.

Ten late - model cars, four trucks and a house trailer were among machinery lost in the blaze in the one-story building, about 70 by 200 feet.

department indicating either concurrence or disagreement with the views expressed in General Hershey's letter or in the action taken by the (Selective Service) System."

Vinson added that "I am satisfied, as a matter of both law and policy, that sanctions of the Universal Military Training and Service Act cannot be used to stifle constitutionally protected expressions of views."

The sit-in students were convicted of trespass under an Ann Arbor, Mich., ordinance. But Hart said in his statement, "No court ever ruled that the selective Service Act was violated — only Gen. Hershey. And he cites as his authority and executive order that the Justice Department says is non-existent."

DEAR ABBY:

Wed 6 Years, Seems Like 60

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for six years and it seems like 60. We have three beautiful children, five, three and 13 months old. My husband is a steady worker and makes a good salary, which he turns over to me as I am a thrifty shopper and a good saver. He doesn't drink or run around. Those are his good qualities, BUT — when he comes home he always greets our children with a slap in the mouth. He always finds some excuse to hit one of them. He uses me as a punching bag if he feels like it, too. He tells the kids, "Don't put any dirt on the driveway. MY car has to run over it!" And, "Don't touch the car. It's MINE!" (Everything is HIS). He doesn't talk, he yells. The kids are scared to death of him and so am I. He hasn't taken me anywhere in two years. I begged him to go to the priest with me and he refused. He says if the priest comes here he'll throw him out. He won't take me to church so I pray at home, but I have to hide when I pray or he'll say I'm cracking up. Maybe

DEAR WORRIED: Your doctor can tell you if you're "cracking up." I suggest you see him immediately. Tell him your troubles and ask him to see your husband, too. You don't need your husband's permission to see the priest. And if you continue to live with this man, who is cruel (or sick), then you are sicker than he is.

DEAR ABBY: Getting one of those duplicates of a long Christmas letter is like being stuck with someone who does all the talking. No doubt they have a handful of friends and relatives who are interested in what every member of the family did last year, but why bore everybody else? Receiving a Christmas card with a short personal note is sheer delight, but spare me from those form Christmas newsletters.

AGAINST XMAS LETTERS

DEAR AGAINST: Some Christmas newsletters are newsy and interesting. Others are boring. But all are sent in the spirit of generosity and sharing. And it costs something in time and money to compose, print and mail them. When one receives a book as a gift, he should appreciate the thought, but he doesn't have to read it unless he wants to.

DEAR ABBY: The problem of "adoptive parents" in your column recently was one we faced many years ago. When we brought home a beautiful little baby girl, many of our friends and neighbors were inquisitive and wanted to know the details. On the advice of our pediatrician, we stood our ground and told them nothing. When they asked, "Where did you get her?", we looked them in the eye and replied, "She's OURS. And we have the papers to prove it." Or when they asked, "Do you know anything about her parents?", he replied, "WE are her parents, and we know each other very well."

They may have been momentarily offended, but they understood that to question us further was useless.

Annexation Approved To Waite Park Area

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Municipal Commission has approved the annexation of Oakdale addition and two blocks of Waite Park Acres to the Village of Waite Park. The action Monday is final unless appealed within 30 days.

Proceedings started in September with a 118-name petition for annexation. A counter-petition was signed by 63 residents.

Kidney Transplant Delayed Indefinitely

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — A proposed kidney transplant for Paul Oltman, 23, of Franklin, S.D., this week has been postponed indefinitely because the patient has a duodenal ulcer which must be treated first, the Mayo Clinic reported Monday. The clinic said the presence of the ulcer, in the small intestine, does not cancel the operation, in which Oltman is to receive a kidney from his mother, Mrs. Art Oltman.

The roast beef dinner will be served family style. The Jaycees invited everyone in the community to attend.

Nason on Education

Grades Not Only Measure of Success

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
University of So. California

Are school grades really important?

Do "C" students eventually make more money than "A" students.

It is true that a small percentage of "C" students do eventually make more money than many "A" students. But this does not mean that grades should be abandoned. It is not even a valid criticism of the grading system.

A grade is not supposed to be a predictor of adult success. It is only the measurement of a student's success in the immediate course. It is determined by the quality of the student's homework and scores on examinations designed to measure his knowledge of the subject matter.

A student's grade point average in one level of education is a good predictor of his success or failure in the next higher level. To a large extent, a pupil's grade in elementary school guide the school counsel or in whether to encourage him to take college preparatory subjects in high school.

A STUDENT'S grade point average in high school subjects is the best single indication of his probable success in college. Consequently, his high school record determines the quality of college he may attend as well as the type of study he will be allowed to pursue.

His grades in undergraduate college work determine to a large extent his opportunities to do graduate work or to enter professional schools such as engineering, law or medicine.

In all of these decisions, grades are good predictors of future success. However, those who attempt to use college grades to predict the degree of success in adult life are quite often disappointed.

Dr. Donald P. Hoyt, coordinator of research activities for the American College Testing Program, has just completed a review of many studies of the relationship between college grades and adult achievement. He concludes "that college grades have no more than a very modest correlation with adult success."

DR. HOYT did find, however, that eminent success came more often to eminently successful students. He also found that those students graduating cum laude turned out to be more creative in later life than the average students, and those graduating magna cum laude outstripped all other college graduates in this regard.

Engineering graduates with high grade point averages excel according to the criteria of success used. However, after the first five years their superiority over the average students seems to disappear.

Dr. Hoyt does not suggest that grades be abandoned, even though they cannot be used as predictors of ultimate success. They do measure, as best teachers know how, a student's progress up the educational ladder. They also give the student assurance that his efforts are successful or a warning that he must improve.

Rhodesia Looks Good Despite British Blockade

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—Prime Minister Ian Smith is still running one of the most prosperous-looking countries in Africa, two months after declaring Rhodesia's independence from Britain.

Few countries have had so many economic obstacles dropped in their paths. Rhodesia's oil imports have been embargoed, its foreign assets seized, its trade outlets blocked and its currency spurned abroad.

Its best customers, Britain and Zambia, have turned against Rhodesia and the whole world has withheld diplomatic recognition.

With Zambia trying to join the general boycott and still use Rhodesia's coal for its rich copper mines and operate a joint rail system, airline and power station at Kariba, the situation along the Zambezi River is an economist's nightmare.

The oil embargo brought gasoline rationing for Rhodesia and cut off Zambia's supply through the breakaway colony. But Salisbury's streets are still jammed with autos. Despite rationing cars stream in and out of the city at rush hours.

Exclusion from the sterling bloc has caused annoying currency regulations, but business is still brisk, retailers report.

Stores were stocked to the ceilings with Christmas goods and although one woman complained she could not find the right tint of mascara, all the French perfumes are available along with expensive English soaps and foreign cosmetics.

Food is plentiful and cheap.

Rhodesia can hardly be touched in this department except for some exotic dishes. There are still imported cheeses, smoked Scotch salmon, caviar and plenty of seafood from Mozambique and South Africa.

The better restaurants are serving French, Portuguese, German and South African wines. There is beer from Germany, Holland and Denmark as well as local brews on sale.

They will not last forever, but nobody is hurting in Rhodesia at the moment. It likely will be several months before import restrictions begin to be bothersome.

By that time Rhodesia may have reached some kind of modus vivendi with Mozambique and South Africa, where luxuries are still abundant for those who can afford them.

This is high summer in Rhodesia and Salisbury's many swimming pools, tennis courts,

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — Seventeen Lanesboro Junior Girl Scouts, Troop 148, who gave up their annual Christmas party to send a gift box to children in Viet Nam, not only received a letter of thanks from the Marine sergeant to whom they directed their gift, but also one from a

THE ENGAGEMENT of Miss Cheryl Sue Stevens to Thomas Borreson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Borreson, Blair, Wis., is announced by her mother, Mrs. Emma Stevens, Taylor, Wis. school girl in Le Bao Tinh High School in Da Nang. She enclosed an interesting drawing. Her letter, printed in block style, reads as follows:

"DEAR FRIEND: My name is Vui. This year I am 12 years old. I am in the seventh grade of our school. I have the black hair and round black eyes. I am 3.1 feet tall. I want to write many and talk about my country to you but I can't because I begin to learn English recently but I will try on now. We are in winter but we don't have the snow as you. We only have the rain and the coldness. If I want to go wherever I always must bring my raincoat. It's very happy to me Christmas comes nearly. I have nothing to send to you. A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year this time. I am very happy to receive your gifts you send to us. I thank your goodness very much. May God Bless You very much. Your Vietnamese Friend, VUI"

The letter, dated Dec. 20, from Sgt. Paul A. Marquis voiced appreciation and suggested the troop might like to answer the girl's letter.

"These children are just beginning to learn English. By your writing they could learn more," said the sergeant, who is the son of Mrs. Ford Marquis, Lake City, Minn.

MRS. MARQUIS made the appeal to this paper and others for needed items such as pencils, tablets, tooth brushes and tooth paste, articles which cannot be purchased there. Continuing the correspondence will contribute to the troop's project for "Promise in Action" by "helping other people at all times."

The troop, its leader and five adults have sent registrations for the Cadette-Junior Arts Day at Rochester Jan. 22. The program committee of River Trails Council is presenting this encore event, limited to 500 Girl Scouts, who did not attend the program last fall.

From 2 to 5:30 p.m., the program will include "Exploring the World of the Puppeteer" and "Exploring the Physics of Sound Through Music" at North Hall Auditorium; "Cinderella," at the theater, directed by Mrs. Ted Firmschild, Rochester, a Roscoe winner for excellence in directing Children's theater productions, and a tour at the Art Center, featuring a special exhibit, "Poetry in Crystal."

REV. BAINES . . . The executive director of the Minnesota United Church committee on Indian work, the Rev. Raymond G. Baines will be guest speaker at 7 p.m. Thursday at a joint dinner meeting of Central Methodist Church Wesleyan Service Guild and Woman's Society of Christian Service, in the Guildhall. Rev. Baines' work is supported by all the Protestant churches. Those from other congregations who would like to hear him are welcome to attend, a member said. There will be no charge.

Arcadia Is Tipped by Onalaska

COULEE CONFERENCE

Bangor	W 1	Arcadia	W 2
Onalaska	7 1	West Salem	2 1
Holmen	5 2	Melrose-Mindoro	1 1
Trempealeau	4 3	Gale-Ettrick	1 1

Onalaska	51	Arcadia	53
Holmen	70	Gale-Ettrick	42
West Salem	94	Melrose-Mindoro	49
Bangor	80	Trempealeau	72

The challengers came close on all but one occasion in the Coulee Conference Tuesday night, but did little to thin things at the top.

For instance, Gale-Ettrick came within 70-62 of Holmen, but the Vikings rode past Trempealeau into third place with a 5-2 record.

Arcadia scared Onalaska 57-53, but the Hilltoppers still stayed within a game of league-leading Bangor at 6-1.

Of course, Bangor continued its unbeaten flight toward the championship by downing Trempealeau, which fell to fourth place, 80-72.

In the only rout of the evening, West Salem turned the tables on Melrose-Mindoro by the score of 94-49.

WEST SALEM 94 MELROSE-MINDORO 49

West Salem was hot and Melrose-Mindoro was cold, and that made for a long night for the Mustangs as West Salem slammed to a 94-49 decision Friday night.

West Salem coach Bill Smilie cleared his bench in the first half as he watched his charges forge to a 58-28 halftime advantage.

Dave Hundt led five Panthers in double figures with 24 points. Ken Horstman added 19, Harry Griswold 13, Tim Krueger 12 and Dan Bina 12.

For Melrose-Mindoro, Dave Pfaff was the only cager in double figures with 17.

HOLMEN 70 GALE-ETTRICK 42

Holmen broke open a tight contest with a 25-point fourth quarter to dump Gale-Ettrick 70-42 Friday night and grab sole possession of third place in the loop.

With Bob Anderson and Dave Evenson each getting 21 points, Holmen led at the quarter turns by 17-15, 32-31 and 45-43.

Owen Unks added 16 to the Vikings cause.

Bob Guertler kept up his torrid pace for the Redmen with 24 points. Ken Johnson had 19 and Steve Daffinson 12.

ONALASKA 57 ARCADIA 53

Arcadia hit only one of its first 14 shots and then couldn't catch up as the Raiders lost another close one 57-53 to Onalaska Tuesday night.

Onalaska roared to a 32-10 lead midway through the second period and held a 35-19 halftime margin.

But behind Bud Benusa's 25 points, Arcadia came back within four points, fell behind again when guard Rollie Thomas fouled out, and then came roaring back to within four before the final buzzer sounded.

Four cagers hit twin digits for Onalaska, led by Ron Smith with 13. Bob Berg had 12, John Netwal 11 and Jim Shoults 10.

Papa Bear Is Growing Now

CHICAGO (AP) — That growl reverberating through the National Football League is from George (Papa Bear) Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

The 70-year-old professional football pioneer is doing a fast burn over the fact that assistant coach George Allen resigned to become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams. So much so that the Bears are going to court today in an attempt to keep Allen from departing.

Halas filed a breach of contract suit Tuesday in an attempt to keep Allen, whose three-year contract at $18,000 a year doesn't expire until 1968, from going to Los Angeles.

EXAMINATIONS SET

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The president and board chairman of the Milwaukee — Atlanta Braves will be examined by Wisconsin lawyers in three days of antitrust hearings starting here today.

Cardinals captured a crucial 80-72 decision.

The game, as was expected, turned into a wild affair with both teams trying to fast break on every occasion, but the telling story was Bangor's zone press.

FINDING ITSELF unable to maneuver against the press on its own small court, Trempealeau repeatedly gave away the ball without getting a shot, racking up 32 mechanical errors for the night, 22 of them bad passes.

"We've never had that trouble before," said Trempealeau coach Dean Mewhorter. "They must have gotten 15 or 20 points on that press."

Bangor might have been able to break open the game early in the second half if not for its own errors. Trying to keep up with the break-neck pace set by the Bears, Bangor turned over the ball 21 times minus a shot.

ALONG WITH the press, it was the fantastic outside shoot-

Bill Vogel, firing at a torrid pace of late, rolled into a tenth-place tie in individual series in the Westgate American League.

He shot 218, 194 and closed with a 250 to record 662. That tied Mike Cyert for the last spot.

ROSSINI GETS HAT TRICK

Redmen Wilt Augsburg 5-4

All the things coach Tim McNeill of the St. Mary's hockey team had said prior to the clash with Augsburg at Terrace Heights Tuesday night came true.

St. Mary's, as predicted, had to scrap to emerge a 5-4 winner.

Tonight, it might well be out of the frying pan and into the fire for the Redmen, who must travel to St. Peter, Minn., to battle Gustavus, which copped a 5-0 win over the Auggies earlier this season.

Tuesday night, St. Mary's got an early taste of what it would be forced to cope with as Augsburg built up a 3-1 lead.

It was a case of the Redmen getting pushed around as they sat and waited for the Auggies to come to them.

Only a goal by Jean Cardin, on an assist from Brian Desbiers, prevented the score from mounting out of reach as the visitors tallied on shots by Harden, Mills and Peterson.

But the second period was a different story. The Redmen came out angry and began to give what they had been taking.

Both goals in the period were tallied by St. Mary's freshman Bill Rossini, who did the hat trick, and who were set up on perfect plays. Rossini got his first on assists from Iyon Thibodeau and Larry Shomion and his second on another assist from Thibodeau.

Then in the third period, the Auggies began to sit back and wait for the Redmen. St. Mary's went ahead 4-3 on a goal by Rossini.

Assists to Thibodeau and Shomion — at 6:03 and tallied the winning goal on a breakaway backhand by Cardin at 9:57.

Augsburg then came back within a goal on a dash by Lee at 14:56 and had a shot skitter wide as time ran out in the period.
