Viet Reds to Step Up War, Rusk Says

Beatle Wed in London

LONDON (AP)—George Harrison, one of the Beatles, today married Pattie Boyd, an actress who appeared with the quartet in their first film, "A Hard Day's Night."

Harrison's marriage leaves Paul McCartney the only unwed Beatle.

Harrison, 22, and Miss Boyd, 21, were married in a brief civil ceremony at the Epsom register office just outside London.

Brian Epstein, the Beatles' manager, was best man. Also present were Mrs. D. Gayer-Jones, the bride's mother; Mr. and Mrs. George Harrison, the groom's parents; McCartney and relatives of the bride.

The other two Beatles, Ringo Starr and John Lennon, are on vacation with their wives in the Caribbean.

Harrison and Miss Boyd met in March 1964 during the filming of "A Hard Day's Night."

Russia Rejects Japanese Plea

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Eltsusaburo Shina of Japan said today he had been unable to reach any agreement with the Soviet Union on efforts to bring peace to Viet Nam.

He told a news conference he had asked the Russians to "exercise their influence to convince North Viet Nam to start negotiations with the United States."

Reds Break Truce to Hit Marines

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong jolted the lunar New Year cease-fire today by attacking a U.S. Marine patrol near Da Nang and engaging South Korean Marines in a two-hour close-quarter battle near the central coast. Two Americans and 46 Communists were reported killed.

Two U.S. Marine sergeants were killed when the guerrillas caught a Leatherneck platoon on security patrol in a crossfire of automatic weapons and rifles as it struggled through the mud of a flooded rice paddy 7 miles south of Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Americans poured artillery fire into the enemy positions. One wounded Viet Cong was captured and six suspects were detained.

By nightfall of the second day of the holiday truce, the U.S. military command reported a total of 49 violations by the Communists, but most were regarded as minor brushes. In Saigon, some over anxious Koreans began shooting when they heard the sound of firecrackers as the Vietnamese greeted the Year of the Horse on the lunar calendar.

Thirty-four of the Communist attacks were reported against U.S., Korean, Australian and New Zealand troops. This raised questions among military observers whether the Communists really intended to include South Viet Nam's allies in the four-day Viet Cong cease-fire.

When the underground Liberation Front radio broadcast the truce terms three weeks ago, it did not specifically include Allied soldiers but said it hoped they would respect the Vietnamese New Year celebration.

The other 15 attacks, all characterized as minor, were against government forces.

The Koreans reported 400 Viet Cong attacked a platoon of their marines shortly after midnight 10 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa, a coastal town 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

A Korean military spokesman said the marines beat off the attack and killed 46 of the Communists.

A guerrilla band also attacked a reconnaissance patrol of the U.S. 101st Airborne Brigade Thursday night 3 miles northwest of Tuy Hoa, a spokesman said. Armed helicopters came to the aid of the paratroopers, who claimed they killed three Viet Cong. No U.S. casualties were reported.

The clash involving the Koreans was by far the most severe since the start of the holiday truce Thursday.

The marines, who were in the area to protect the rice harvest, at first held their fire but opened up when the Viet Cong came within 30 yards, a Korean spokesman said.

Both sides lobbed hand grenades and exchanged small-arms fire. Reinforcements were called in by the Koreans. They said their casualties were moderate.

American patrols came under a variety of small-arms fire, grenade attacks and other harassment in the first day of the truce, U.S. spokesmen reported. None apparently was serious.

Congress Slated to OK New Viet Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell predicted today that Congress will approve "practically all" of the $12.76 billion in supplemental funds requested by President Johnson to help pay for the Viet Nam war.

The Georgia Democrat commented as Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara prepared to resume testimony on the request to combined sessions of the Senate's Armed Services Committee and Defense Appropriations subcommittee. Russell is chairman of both.

In testimony Thursday, McNamara disclosed plans for "massive application of firepower in Viet Nam and said, 'We must be prepared to deploy even more forces' if the Reds expand their operations."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk plans a news conference today as the administration weighs which way to turn next in its drive for settlement of the war. President Johnson was reported assessing the results of his month-old peace campaign to decide, among other things, whether to resume the bombing of targets in Communist North Viet Nam.

The President is expected to continue U.S. diplomatic efforts. But he spoke somberly Thursday after hearing from Rusk and Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, just returned from extensive foreign travels in behalf of Johnson's offer of unconditional discussions to end the war.

No Plans to Call Reservists or National Guards

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration's blueprint for strengthening the armed forces contains two strong indications that it intends to avoid calling Reservists or National Guardsmen to active duty.

One is Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement to Congress that more support-type units must be provided for the regular Army, "inasmuch as it appears desirable to be in a position to deploy additional forces without calling up Reservists."

The other indication lies in the decision to create a new 18,000-man division for the regular Marine Corps.

Last summer, when the administration decided to commit large-scale U.S. ground forces to the Viet Nam war, it was determined that there was time to build up over — all American armed strength over the long haul, relying on higher draft quotas and voluntary enlistments.

Since then the continuing escalation of the U.S. troop commitment in Viet Nam — and prospects that that commitment may reach Korean War proportions — have caused speculation that the Pentagon will have to turn to the National Guard and Reserves.

But the shape of plans for the newest boost in armed manpower by another 113,000 men suggests that the no-call policy still holds.

Sources said this could be changed, if there was a sudden deterioration in the situation in Viet Nam requiring a swift infusion of major reinforcements.

The 45,599 men to be added to the Army under the new request mainly would be assigned to types of units which the regular forces have lacked and which the Army Reserve forces had been designed to provide in emergencies.

These units, about 140 different kinds, include such outfits as dump truck companies, postal units, well-drilling organizations, military police platoons, maintenance, bridge construction and petroleum elements.

As for the Marines, the decision to organize a new regular division evidently means that the 48,000-man Marine Reserve division and air wing will be retained in civilian life.

With two of its three regular divisions committed in Viet Nam and the Pacific, the corps has been left with a single regular division in the United States, reducing the flexibility of the Marines and the availability of major fighting elements for crises elsewhere.

1,750 Americans Killed in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in combat in Viet Nam has reached 1,750, surpassing the totals for the Spanish-American and Mexican wars.

A total of 1,733 Americans were killed in combat in the Mexican War and 385 in the Spanish-American War. The Korean War took the lives of 33,629 American servicemen.

The Pentagon's weekly summary Thursday showed 68 U.S. servicemen died in Viet Nam combat last week.

No Response To American Peace Efforts

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today "there is every indication" that the Communist side in Viet Nam will intensify its activity after the current lunar new year holiday period ends Sunday.

Rusk told a news conference that President Johnson's peace offensive had failed to get "any positive and encouraging response" from the Vietnamese Communists.

Otherwise he said it had drawn an "overwhelmingly favorable response" throughout the world.

His words indicated that the peace drive and the pause in bombing North Viet Nam have come to the end of a phase, but he avoided saying so directly. He refused to say whether or when the United States will resume bombing the North.

Asked about the war outlook, however, he said: "There is every sign that the other side is going to intensify its activity after the Tet (lunar new year) period."

Asked whether the war might spread into other areas, Rusk said "there is always a danger when an aggressor sets out to impose his will by force and the other side is determined to keep its commitments."

On the question of resuming bombing of North Viet Nam — the pause is now in its 29th day — Rusk said he would not disclose future military developments.

"Our commitment is deep," he said, "we will do what is necessary to achieve our elementary objective."

This was the first news conference by Rusk since the peace offensive started three days after Christmas. He returned two days ago from a trip to Asia and reported Thursday to President Johnson, along with roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

The tone of Rusk's report suggested that the peace drive has come to an end in failure, yet he refrained from any such description. He spoke of continuing a quest of peaceful settlement in Viet Nam "with patience and persistence."

He left up in the air the whole question of resuming the bombing of North Viet Nam.

The United States, Rusk said, had gone into the bombing pause and peace offensive because a number of governments, including Communist governments, indicated that "the prospects for peace could be improved if the bombing were suspended."

"The question posed to the other side," Rusk said, "Are you interested in peace? We've been waiting for some word from Hanoi that goes beyond bitter invective."

"I regret that I cannot report to you any positive and encouraging response to the hopes of the overwhelming majority of mankind."

$100,000 Fire At Shakopee

SHAKOPEE, Minn. (AP) — Firemen estimated damage at $100,000 today in a blaze which burned out the block manufacturing shop and boiler room of the Valley, Inc., Sand and Gravel Co.

Cause of the fire Thursday night was not determined. Firemen said, however, the flames apparently broke out in the block shop.

Two ready-mix trucks and two fork lift trucks were destroyed.

Youths Held In Shooting

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minneapolis police Thursday picked up a 17-year-old Bloomington youth, the second suspect in Sunday night's shooting of St. Paul cab driver Erving Andren, 29.

St. Paul police say a 17-year-old St. Paul boy has admitted wounding Andren in the back in a holdup attempt.

Snow, Subzero Cold Felt in Ten States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter's hefty one-two punch, snow and cold, again pounded wide areas in the north central region, the Rockies and southern Plains today.

The snow and subzero cold hit sections in at least 10 states. North Dakota and Montana had the lowest temperatures. But snow and below-zero readings also were reported in parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Kansas.

The mercury dropped to 30 below zero early today at Dickinson, N.D. Temperatures were below zero Thursday in most of the Dakotas, including high readings of —11 at Devils Lake, N.D., and —8 at Lemmon, S.D.

Snow fell throughout most of the cold belt and heavy snow covered many areas. Snow extended into the plains of New Mexico and Texas and the Weather Bureau said four to six inches appeared likely from eastern New Mexico to western Oklahoma and northwestern Texas.

Stiff northerly winds fanned the cold air across the north central region southward and there was drifting of snow in some areas.

In Wisconsin, with heavy snow across many sections, temperatures were below zero for the eighth straight night in some cities as the fresh surge of Arctic air moved into the northwestern part of the state.

Snow measured six inches at Goodland, in northwestern Kansas, and it was one below zero. Four inches of snow covered Dodge City, in the southwest part of the state.

Snow amounts in Oklahoma ranged from 3 to 6 inches, with heavy amounts indicated today and tonight. Agriculture experts described the moisture as a "million-dollar snow" to many areas because of the lack of rain and snow in recent months.

K. T. Keller, Former Head of Chrysler, Dead

LONDON (AP)—K. T. Keller, former president and chairman of the board of the Chrysler Motor Corp., died in a London hotel today of a heart attack. He was 80.

Keller, who started in the auto business at 20 cents an hour, arrived here last Sunday with a group of governors and trustees of Detroit's Institute of Arts Museum.

A spokesman for the hotel where the group was staying said Keller felt ill on awakening this morning and the hotel doctor was called. The doctor was to return to see him again at noon but a maid found him dead before that. The spokesman said the doctor gave coronary thrombosis as the cause of death.

Keller was president of the Chrysler Corporation from July 1935, to November 1950, when he became chairman of the board. He held this position until May 1956, when he retired.

War Secrets Satchel Heavy for McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara walked down the long corridor of the Senate Office Building.

With him were the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, and a couple of aides.

But it was McNamara who carried the bulging satchel heavy with the secrets and statistics of war.

It was almost 4 p.m. McNamara was on his way back to the Pentagon after spending most of the day sitting at a long oval table explaining to senators why $12.76 billion more was needed to fight the war in Viet Nam.

His report — the version released to the public — read almost like it had been compiled by certified public accountants. But the facts of escalation were there, the picture of a brush fire that got much bigger.

The senators had a lot of questions in that closed room. They remember the problems of other wars.

McNamara was one of the last to walk out the door with its warning sign "executive session."

The reporters and the cameramen were waiting. McNamara started to move away. "Just one question?" said a reporter.

"O.K." said McNamara and he stepped in front of the lights for the second time that day.

McNamara, Wheeler and the aides started off down the corridor.

He was far from finished. He was due back to face more questions from the senators today. Then he would have to go through the same business over on the House side of Capitol Hill.

He strode down the corridor, an aide telling him how the schedule could be worked out. But it wasn't working out. The aide apparently had McNamara at two places at once.

"Is the 27th a Thursday?" asked McNamara. "That's the day . . ."

As he walked, the war satchel seemed very heavy and the man some call a human computer needed a haircut.

Cold Cripples British Industry

LONDON (AP) — Europe's cold wave crippled British industry today, packed the hospitals and threatened major embarrassment for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government.

Cuts in gas supplies disrupted the English Midlands, the hub of British industry. Thousands of workers were laid off for the rest of the week, and assembly lines halted in automobile and engineering plants.

Hospitals reported hundreds of fracture cases brought in from the icy streets. Some set up special wards for old people with hypothermia, a dangerous drop in body temperature. One London hospital reported 212 casualties from falls Thursday night, most of them broken wrists. Brighton, on the south coast, had 160.

In Norway, the intense cold seemed to be lifting slightly and the temperature reached 14 degrees Fahrenheit. The Weather Bureau said the last three months have been the coldest Oslo has known since official records started 132 years ago.

Sweden, enduring its coldest winter since 1881, reported 43 ships icebound in the northern Baltic. Inland temperatures ranged from 4 to 38 Fahrenheit. By these standards Britain, with temperatures only a few degrees below freezing, was enjoying a heat wave but the consequences were considerable.

Cuts by the government gas and electrical industries gave the Conservative opposition a springboard for attack on Wilson's Labor government, which has a majority of only two votes in the House of Commons.

Conservatives said the attack will start as soon as Parliament returns Tuesday from the Christmas recess. It will culminate Thursday in an attempt to force the government down by forcing a vote of censure.

One issue the opposition will raise is what happened to the winter emergency committee set up by the government after similar power cuts last November.

The government's answer is that it is concerned only with long-term solutions. The main cause of the current trouble is failures in two major gas plants in the Midlands.

Rochester Banker Gets Five Years For $75,000 Theft

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A former Rochester, Minn., bank vice president who pleaded guilty to misappropriating $75,000 was sentenced today to five years in a federal prison.

Judge Edward Devitt of U.S. District Court sentenced Joseph S. Colter, 53. The charge carried a possible maximum penalty of $5,000 fine, five years in prison or both.

It was specified that Colter would be eligible for parole anytime the Board of Parole determines he should be released.

Judy and Jill Coming Back to Help Indians

RED CLIFF, Wis. (AP) — Judy and Jill are coming back this weekend to the snow-besieged Indian reservation where their first antipoverty efforts triggered a tribal feud still echoing today.

Officials of the Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) said Thursday night they were reassigning the two coeds to the Red Cliff reservation at the invitation of tribal elders.

"We're very happy to go back," said 20-year-old Judy Rothman of University City, Mo. "We feel there is a job to be done and we want to try and do it."

Henry Daley, the factory worker who is tribal chairman, said he welcomed the return of Miss Rothman and her co-worker, Jill Hunt, 22, Kewanee, Ill. He predicted no further problems.

But Mrs. Alex Gokee, who had charged Judy and Jill shunned tribal programs last fall, said the Indians remained split on the issue of VISTA.

"How these two girls are going to solve anything, I just don't know," she said.

Judy and Jill were barred by the tribal council on a 5-2 vote Dec. 6, two months after the two sociology students arrived at the reservation on the snowy shores of Lake Superior.

A VISTA spokesman said the two volunteers "will pick up where they left off."

Judge Revokes Probation of Area Woman

CALEDONIA, Minn. — The probation of Mrs. Joseph (Ione) Wagner, 40, Caledonia nursing home proprietor, has been revoked by Judge Arnold Hatfield in Houston County District Court.

She was transported to the state women's reformatory at Shakopee by Sheriff Byron Whitehouse Wednesday.

On Dec. 19, 1960, Mrs. Wagner was found guilty by a jury on a charge of forging a doctor's prescription for narcotics and placed on probation. In September 1965 she was tried on charges of breaking her parole by leaving Caledonia on trips unauthorized by her parole agent and borrowing extensively from finance companies.

Her term at the reformatory is for an indefinite period. She was represented in court by A. E. Sheridan, Waukon, Iowa, and William V. Von Arx, Caledonia. The state was represented by L. L. Roerkohl, county attorney.

DEAR ABBY:

Leaves Wife to Sleep With Dad

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law died over a year ago, and since then my husband insists on staying nights with his father — even on weekends. I know the old man isn't afraid to stay alone because I've heard him tell my husband he didn't need to stay. But my husband says we shouldn't leave the old man alone because his loneliness might lead to a second marriage, which might complicate legal settlements later. Abby, is this fair to me and the children? I have tried to be a good sport, but I find myself harboring resentments. Should I not complain, and at the same time look forward to the time when his father dies (he is 67 and in good health) so we can be a family again?

WIDOW WITH A HUSBAND

ABBY

DEAR WIDOW: Of all the grasping, scheming, materialistic characters that have been brought to my attention, your husband takes the prize. Not only is he cheating you and the children, but he is cheating his father as well. If the gentleman (and he is NOT old at 67) has any interest in female companionship, he should be encouraged in it. Tell your husband to get on home where he belongs and to quit playing self-appointed guardian of his father's estate.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy, 14, and my parents and I don't see eye to eye on my clothes. I have a long waist, and when they buy my pants, they can get my waist size, but they can't get my leg size in the same pair of pants.

When I get a new pair of pants I look like a midshipman from the War of 1812. I ask my mother to peg them for me, but my father says, "No. Boys look like girls in pegged pants. Can you help me?"

DISTRESSED

DEAR DISTRESSED: You are helpless, but I have a few words for your mother: "Peg the kid's pants! Most boys look like girls today anyway."

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I'm making a mountain out of a molehill, but after being married to Jerry for only six months, one of his habits is really driving me out of my mind. When he sits down to eat (whether we are at home, dining out, or are guests in someone's home) the first thing Jerry does is to salt everything that requires seasoning, and I mean he salts it up, but good. Abby, he doesn't even TRY it first, he just pours the salt on. People look at him in disbelief. At the home of friends, I'm sure they think there's something wrong with their food. Shouldn't he take a little taste first? And if he likes things saltier, add a bit more salt instead of doing it in these great broad gestures? Or am I wrong to criticize him.

JERRY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If your husband likes salt, he should be a little more subtle in applying it, especially when he's a dinner guest. And he should take a token taste first, even though he knows he's going to add more salt. His craving for salt may be embarrassing for you, but it could have more serious implications. Tell him to mention this to his physician.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Perennials In The Border

SINCE several of the past articles were devoted to some of the annual garden flowers, suppose we take a look at the perennials and their function in the gardening scheme, as they are the basic flowers in the eyes of most gardeners, especially for borders.

Now, what is a perennial? It may be defined as a name generally applied to hardy herbaceous plants that live and blossom year after year, but the tops of which die down in the fall. Each spring new growth starts from the fleshy, or fibrous, root system, from a bulb or crown, or from an underground fleshy stem known as a rhizome. Strictly speaking, the spring flowering bulbs such as tulips and others are true herbaceous perennials, as are the true lilies.

Hardy trees, shrubs and vines are classed as woody perennials, since they have trunks, or stems, that persist from year to year. However, we are concerned here with the herbaceous perennials.

Perennials serve their greatest purpose in giving a feeling of stability and permanence to the border, or they can be grouped in other locations about the yard, in corners, or in front of shrubs. Some varieties such as peonies and irises produce their brilliant color effects in the spring and early summer. However, some of the other varieties such as the day-lilies, phlox, asters and mums bloom throughout the summer and fall until the advent of a killing frost.

IT IS POSSIBLE, of course, if you are especially partial toward perennials, to have a border composed entirely of them that will be in more or less continuous bloom from early spring throughout the summer and fall. Such a border would necessarily include some of the spring flowering bulbs which, as mentioned above, are classed as herbaceous perennials. To obtain a colorful, all-season, all-perennial border will require considerable planning and careful thought in the selection and use of suitable varieties.

Many gardeners do not strive to have a border composed wholly of perennials, since areas arise that are bare at times, or places with only foliage. Therefore, they resort to suitable annual varieties to supplement the perennials and to give more diversified colors throughout the season.

IN PLANTING a border of perennials, or in renovating an old one, it is desirable to place the taller plants in the background. If a border is to be viewed from both sides, the tall varieties should be planted in the center and the lower ones along the sides. However, some of the taller kinds can be extended toward the front, especially in the wider parts of the border, in order to provide greater variety and interest. The time of blooming, color, manner of growth and the type of foliage should be considered in grouping the plants. The perennial border large, or small, should become a permanent fixture in every garden.

A PERENNIAL border can be as wide as desired, consistent with the size of the yard. However, it can be more easily cared for, if its width is limited to not more than five feet. Instead of laying out the side of the border in a straight line, irregular curves here and there will add to its attractiveness. Among the many herbaceous perennials that are available some of the following might be selected. The basic ones are the peonies, irises, day-lilies, true lilies, mums, Oriental poppies and phlox. Then there are the delphinium, columbine, coral-bells, baby's-breath, aster and monarda. Looking further, one might make selections from the Shasta daisy, holly-hock, bleeding heart, lupine, lythrum and others.

Light Snow, Then More Cold Expected

Snow, moving into the Winona area today, was slated to bring only temporary relief from the cold spell before another blast of cold air sends area thermometers below zero.

Very light snow most of tonight but clearing beginning late tonight is the forecast for the immediate area with temperature plunging to between -5 and -15 by morning.

Fair to partly cloudy is the Saturday prediction with an afternoon high of 15 expected. Sunday, said the weatherman, will be fair and a little warmer.

FROM A LOW of 9 Thursday morning, the Winona temperature rose to a mild 24 Thursday afternoon before dropping overnight to 3 above. At noon today, under a heavily overcast sky, the reading was 12.

This contrasts with a high of 25 on this day last year and a low of 7. An inch and a half of snow lay on the ground then in comparison with today's six inches.

All-time high for Jan. 21 was 50 in 1908, 1921 and 1954. Low for the day was -42 in 1888. Mean for the past 24 hours was 13. Normal for this time of the year is 16.

It was snowing at most Minnesota weather reporting points by mid-morning, including Rochester and St. Cloud. International Falls was back in its accustomed place as the state's coldest spot with a morning reading of -15. It was -12 at Bemidji, -6 at Brainerd and -4 at Duluth.

The Rochester low was zero after a Thursday high of 13. La Crosse posted figures of -4 and 21 for the same times.

NORTH DAKOTA was the nation's icebox today and the Weather Bureau said the frigid temperatures would move eastward into Minnesota later today and Saturday.

Bismarck and Williston, N.D., recorded overnight lows of 32 below zero, coldest in 43 states. The mercury skidded to 26 below at Lemmon, S.D., and 25 below at Mobridge, S.D., and Devils Lake, N.D. Even Rapid City, S.D., frequently an area oasis from winter cold, had a minus 18.

Some moderation was foreseen for the Dakotas but the Weather Bureau said lows down to 20 below could be expected tonight in North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota. Temperatures throughout Minnesota will be colder Saturday.

Light, dry snow fell over much of Minnesota overnight and was to continue today and tonight. Light snow or flurries were predicted for the east and south Saturday.

Some slipperiness developed on roads throughout Minnesota, the Highway Department said. Maintenance crews were removing the new snow and the slippery spots were mainly in towns and at intersections.

The WISCONSIN Traffic Patrol said light snow was reported in the southern one-third of Wisconsin in addition to Barron and Bayfield counties and at Grantsburg.

The Patrol said the only slippery highways reported were in Racine County. It said all other main highways were in good winter driving condition.

Light snow, freezing rain and drizzle returned to Wisconsin today.

The rain and drizzle were confined to the southeastern corner of the state but light snow was widespread.

Temperatures again varied widely because of a cloud cover—or lack of it. In the southeastern part of Wisconsin where clouds continued through the night, minimum temperatures well above normal for the season. In most of the north and west, the mercury hit sub-zero levels.

Eau Claire reported 13 below, Wausau -10, Park Falls -6, Lone Rock -5, Superior -4, Madison 17 above, Green Bay 18, Burlington 21, Racine 24 and Beloit and Milwaukee 25.

Traffic Safety Meeting Delayed

The traffic safety workshop scheduled for Feb. 1 in Winona—sponsored by the Winona Safety Council and the Minnesota Highway Department—has been rescheduled for April, it was learned.

Because of a shortage of manpower at the state level, the Winona workshop, one of nine scheduled throughout the state in February, had to be postponed.

'65 Bank Debits Here Gain 7%

December bank debits for Winona were 5 percent greater than the total for December 1964, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis report issued today.

The figure for the last month was $37,930,000, compared with $36,124,000 for December, 1964. The sum of debits here for the full year, ended Dec. 31, 1965, was $392,803,000, an increase of 7 percent from the previous year.

Increases in yearly volume were general about the area. At Rochester, the December gain was 9 percent and the cumulative rise was 6 percent for the 12 months. La Crosse registered a gain of 5 percent for December alone and a 7 percent rise for the full year.

Among smaller cities of the area, Galesville, Wis., led in December from the percentage standpoint with a rise of 70 percent for the month. St. Charles, Minn., had a 46 percent rise and Lanesboro, Minn., debits were up 38 percent from the previous December.

At Wabasha debits dropped 18 percent for the month but still showed a healthy 11 percent increase for the full year.

For Minnesota generally the December volume of bank debits for reporting cities increased 17 percent from December, 1964. Debits for 1965 were 12 percent above the 1964 level.

Bank debits for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts. They represent payments for goods, services, debts and other expenses. They also include transfers of funds which of themselves have no business significance. Bank debits mainly include all debits against checking accounts of individuals, partnerships and corporations, of states and political subdivisions. They do not include debits to the accounts of other banks, the federal government or savings accounts.

Soldier Injured At Ft. Benning

A "dud" round in a machine gun exploded and hospitalized a Winona soldier.

He is Officer Candidate Robert G. Stein, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stein, East Burns Valley, who was wounded in a disassembly exercise early this week at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The 762 millimeter machine gun was being disassembled by another student. When the round discharged — to the obvious amazement of everyone — young Stein received a flesh wound in the shoulder.

In assembly and disassembly exercises dud rounds ordinarily are used. Ordnance personnel are investigating how a live one got involved.

Stein was hospitalized after the accident Monday or Tuesday but expected to be discharged late this week.

He is in the sixth week of a 23-week course which leads to a commission.

His address: 61st Co. (OC), 6th Stu. Bn., (OC) TSB, Ft. Benning, Ga.

Woman Claims Diamond Ring

Mrs. Jeanne Beckman, 255 E. Broadway, claimed her diamond ring Thursday afternoon at police headquarters. The "valuable" ring had been missing for about three weeks.

She was able to make a positive identification of the ring which, she told police, was a present from her husband. People from as far away as Caledonia, Minn., had come to Winona to claim the ring after a story appeared in Wednesday's Daily News.

However, only Mrs. Beckman was able to give a satisfactory description of the ring, according to Chief James W. McCabe. A man, who was not identified, found the ring on 3rd Street about three weeks ago, police had reported Wednesday. He held the ring for some time, expecting to see an advertisement in the "lost and found" department of the newspaper, he told police.

The man came to police headquarters Monday with the ring and turned it over to them. He said that he had had the ring appraised and found that it was "valuable."

Mrs. Beckman told police she didn't know the value of the ring since it was a gift from her husband. She was given the name of the ring's finder and did contact him Thursday, Chief McCabe reported.

Pennsylvania Youth Due in Court Today

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A dark-haired, 15-year-old high school pupil was in Pennsylvania today to face murder charges in the slayings of his parents.

Jerry Lee Sanderson, reserved and reluctant to talk with anyone, was returned under police guard from Whitehall, Wis., where he was arrested Tuesday night 850 miles from his home.

He faced arraignment today in the deaths of his father, Henry Sanderson, 54, a farmer, and mother, Dorothy, 44, whose bodies were found in and near the family's burned home near Slippery Rock, Pa., northwest of here, early Tuesday.

The neatly dressed youth arrived in Pittsburgh at 1:30 a.m. today and was driven 40 miles north to Butler, where he was placed in the Butler County jail.

He was to be arraigned today before Alderman Harold Armstrong of Butler, who issued a warrant formally charging him with murder. Dist. Atty. John Brydon was to decide later whether the teen-ager will be tried as an adult or a juvenile.

Trempealeau County, Wis., Sheriff Eugene Bjold of Whitehall quoted the youth as admitting after his arrest Tuesday night that he had shot his parents earlier that day.

Bjold said a single-shot .22 caliber rifle was found in the trunk of the car that the boy was driving after it skidded into a snowbank on a Wisconsin highway northwest of Whitehall.

Authorities here said Sanderson's father had been shot four times, twice in the head. His body was found in a snow-filled ditch outside the charred home.

A body found in the ruins of the house has been identified as that of the youth's mother, Pennsylvania State Police said.

The boy was taken Thursday before Juvenile Judge A. L. Twesme in Whitehall, who approved his return to Pennsylvania. Judge Twesme said after the closed hearing that the youth had signed a statement saying he was going back voluntarily.

Whitehall authorities said the boy indicated he was heading toward California when the car slid off a snowy highway after a 19-hour drive that spanned 850 miles.

Slippery Rock police said he had last been seen at 1:30 a.m. that day and told them he was driving to Cleveland, Ohio, to visit relatives.

Bjold said the youth volunteered that he had slain his parents when he was being questioned about the traffic mishap.

The boy showed little emotion and offered no explanation, the sheriff said, except he mentioned "nagging."

Butler County Sheriff Robert Watson flew to Minneapolis, Minn., Wednesday night and arrived in Whitehall by rented car Thursday. He started back with the youth by commercial aircraft Thursday evening.

Unoccupied Farm House Entered

An unoccupied farmhouse 2½ miles south of Ulca was broken into sometime in the past week, an Altona man told Sheriff George L. Fort Thursday.

Henry Kalmes, Altona, said that a lower panel in the front door of the old Pritchard farm had been kicked in sometime in the past week. Nothing had been taken, however, Kalmes told the sheriff.

The farm is on CSA 33, about 2½ miles south of Ulca.

Investigation showed that none of the tracks in the snow around the farm home led up to the front door of the house. The door panel had been repaired with some cardboard. No one now lives in the house, and it is kept locked up, the sheriff said.

Clue No. 5

Treasure Hunt

Backstep to the victim of Aaron Burr. Left flank then to a chemin de fer. You'll find this hunt a genuine thriller — Win it and you'll be a killer-diller.

The final clue will be broadcast at the beginning of the 6 p.m. news broadcast on radio station KWN0 so that all treasure seekers will have an equal opportunity to win. If there are as many treasure hunters as there have been in previous years, there will be many cars on the streets. We urge you to drive carefully when you solve the final clue that leads you to the treasure.

The winner is asked to bring the treasure certificate, which will be found in a white envelope, directly to the Daily News newsroom. Please enter the building at the lighted entrance on the south side of the building. Other entrances will be locked.

There is no point in looking for the treasure certificate until the final clue is read, since it will not be placed in its hiding place until just before the broadcast.

Good hunting!

Police Patrols at School Crossings to Be Increased

Increased police patrolling at school crossings in rush hours will be instituted until a complete safety plan is worked out, a committee of school administrators was told Thursday.

School officials and the City Council committee on parking and safety met at City Hall at 4 p.m. to discuss the problem. Despite efforts of a school patrol with 290 boy and girl members, school crossings still are endangered by heavy traffic and minimum traffic control, said Sgt. Martin Prigge, of the police department juvenile division. Sgt. Prigge oversees activities of the school patrol.

AN OVERALL plan for increased control should be adopted because of a "critical situation at several places," said Gerald Timm, assistant principal at Winona Senior High School. Staggered arrival and dismissal times bring floods of students to crosswalks several times each day, he said. His concern was seconded by Sister Cormac, principal of St. Mary's Elementary School.

Crossings on 5th Street at Jefferson School, on Broadway at St. Mary's School and at downtown junior and senior high schools were called danger points by the school officials.

A law giving pedestrians in crosswalks right of way is being roundly ignored, said Ald. Neil Sawyer. He suggested an extra police officer or two be assigned to Broadway in rush hours to help enforce the law.

OFFICERS ARE stationed there periodically on a time available basis, said Police Chief James McCabe, sitting in on the meeting. During these times, he said, no violations have been observed.

People remember the law when they see an officer, commented Ald. James Stoltman, but police are not always able to be on hand. Flasher lights are more economical and are always on the job, he said.

The city should be able to afford an extra officer for an hour or two each day, Ald. Sawyer suggested. Ald. David Johnston proposed that meter maids be assigned to crossing duty at peak periods. Chief McCabe said this would be possible.

A flashing light is better, said Stoltman, because it operates even for the benefit of latecomers. These are exceptional cases, observed Ald. Barry Nelson, but the main effort should be directed at the central problem. A uniformed officer can be very effective, he said.

A STUDY should be made by school and police officials, said Ald. Henry Parks. When this is done, recommendations can be given to the committee for council action, he said.

Push-button stop signals might be the answer, said Sister Cormac, since children do not all go home at the same time for a variety of reasons. Timm said a part-time traffic director is now employed at the Senior High School. A light probably would not be needed, he said.

Basic to the problem is that drivers simply do not respect pedestrian rights as they should, repeated Ald. Sawyer. Police should get tough with drivers who do not yield to pedestrians in crosswalks, he said. The system works well in Los Angeles, he asserted, where traffic density is far higher than here. A few drivers will be ticketed, he said, but the word would spread and everyone would soon be much better off.

AN INVITATION to ride in a patrol car was extended to Ald. Sawyer by Chief McCabe who said police have seen few violations. A driver has rights, too, said McCabe, adding:

"Broadway was improved for cars but the pedestrian was forgotten."

McCabe said legal speed limits of 30 miles an hour may not be reduced in school zones without specific state permission.

Some of the danger is created by the fact that pedestrians often are guilty of violating regulations, McCabe stated.

The alternatives seem to be installation of some type of lights or additional police, said Ald. Jerry Borzyskowski. Off-duty officers may be available, he suggested. Even if pay had to be at the rate of time and a half, he said, the benefits are worth the cost to the city.

Ald. Stoltman held out for lights, pointing out that police are not always available. Ald. Harold Thiewes asked McCabe whether the department is understaffed.

SUCH THINGS as vacations, days off and sickness cut into the list of ready personnel, McCabe said. The 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. shift is most lightly manned of all, he said. If additional patrolling at schools were ordered, it would mean adding at least two men to the day shift, said McCabe.

Drivers get used to flashing lights and finally ignore them, contended Ald. Parks. Timm agreed and said a regular stop and go signal is the only device that can be effective in peak periods.

Curbside flashers are easy to bypass, said Ald. Nelson, so it would be well to think of portable lights set out in the streets as needed.

School and police officials will tackle the problem immediately, Timm promised, and will report on conclusions.

Fireman, Heal Thyself

A little forgetfulness last fall filled the Central Fire Station with smoke early today.

A screen cover placed on a chimney during the summer months is supposed to be removed at the start of the heating season. Last fall, someone forgot.

By early this morning, the screen had become clogged with soot, causing a back draft that sent smoke through the fire station at East 3rd and Laird streets. Firemen were working today to scrub the walls and ceilings in the fire station and to air out their quarters.

Internal Revenue Service Offers Taxpayers' Aid

The Internal Revenue Service will advise and assist taxpayers in the preparation of their 1965 tax returns, offering clarification and explanation of the tax laws, and instruction and information on filing requirements.

George O. Lethert, district director of Internal Revenue, has announced that Gerald F. Swanson will be in charge of taxpayer assistance in this area. His territory will include the counties of Winona, Houston and Fillmore.

Swanson will be available for taxpayer assistance on Fridays from 12:45 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. until April 15 at the local office in 110 Exchange Building, Winona.

Taxpayers whose income consists of wages amounting to less than $10,000 may file on card Form 1040A. If deductions are to be claimed, or income includes dividend, interest, rents, or other income, Form 1040 should be used.

Both Lethert and Swanson urged taxpayers to file complete individual returns for 1965, including all income earned, listing of social security numbers, submission of all tax withholding statements, and proper signatures, to insure speedier processing of the return.

Edina to Require 2-Car Garages

EDINA, Minn. (AP) — Edina officials are not promising two cars in every garage. But they are requiring that the garage be big enough to house two cars. That requirement for new houses is in a new village ordinance. Public Works Director George Hite said the purpose is to keep cars off the streets — and anyway, 98 per cent of homes built in the last two years have two-car garages.

Houston Co. FB Hears Former National President

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — Allen B. Kline, past national president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, outlined the Farm Bureau philosophy Tuesday night at the annual Houston County Farm Bureau banquet.

Speaking before about 400 persons at St. Mary's school auditorium, he told the group that "private property, individual management and responsibility, open markets and the profit and loss system are a part of any society which can call itself free."

"AMERICA needs no apology in today's world," said the former Iowa farmer. "To be sure, we have problems. However, we have means to solve them."

"Every farmer who appreciates operating his own farm to the best of his ability, owes a debt to the Farm Bureau, whether he knows it or not," Kline said. For many years we have resisted programs where direction was to restrict individuals who farmed to patterns dictated by government bureaucrats.

"One of our problems is to avoid the destruction of freedom by turning our money and responsibility over to the central government and making the citizen dependent upon the government."

"Wealth comes out of production," Kline said, "just as production makes the wheels go around. We have the right to be useful and productive and not to lose the technique by which we produce, and to listen and make up our own mind, as freedom of choice is meaningful."

Kline said, "The threat to freedom in centralization of responsibility in Washington is real. Along with it goes control of income either by taxes or through inflating the money supply by unbalancing the budget, which involves paying government bills with new money."

The former FB president ex-

Allen B. Kline

pressed Farm Bureau opinions on federal purchase of land for natural preservation when he said, "The only way to control nature is to obey her laws."

P. DILLON Hempstead, Houston, Minnesota Farm Bureau president, announced that FB has 31,200 members in Minnesota. New programs and local leadership help the organization gain new members and meet (farm issue) challenges as they are (doing) today, he said.

Mrs. G. K. Meyer, Caledonia, Houston County FB office secretary, received a corsage from the banquet committee for her loyalty to the office and FB activities.

MAYOR Joseph Lee gave the welcome, and Vincent Poppe, president of the county FB, the response; the Rev. Jesse Thompson, Faith Lutheran Church, Black Hammer, the invocation; Robert Thorson entertained at the piano, and Martin Deters led singing, accompanied by Mrs. Milton Howard. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brevig were banquet chairmen.

Will Lessons of N.Y. Strike Be Remembered?

NEW YORKERS ARE still digging out from under the disaster that had affected their lives for almost two weeks. The cost to New York and the nation may never be properly calculated. "Astronomical" is the only word that will apply. The script that was written more than a month ago by Mike Quill has been acted out. New Yorkers became puppets acting their roles as the strings were manipulated. Not even the law nor the courts could interfere with the illegal maneuvers.

Similar flouting of the law by other unions in other areas may be prevented if President Johnson pursues his intention of asking "the Congress to consider measures which, without improperly invading state and local authority, will enable us effectively to deal with strikes which threaten irreparable damage to the national interest." Theoretically, we already had such measures and safeguards but they were either ineffective, or ignored, or defied. The President's proposal received enthusiastic applause from members of Congress during his state of the union message.

Congress did not appear to be so receptive to his appeal for repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act. Action of this nature which will strengthen union authority and power may not be so easy to obtain in the light of the abuse of union power in the New York transit strike.

THE LESSONS of the New York strike have been obvious. Will they be remembered?

Old Bills To Be Pursued Vigorously?

(Editor & Publisher)

THE 89TH CONGRESS has returned to work. Still alive from the first session are a dozen or more bills that probably will be pursued vigorously. Among them are:

1. Repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act under which 19 states have passed "right to work" laws. Repeal passed the House but was blocked in the Senate. H.R. 77 has been given high priority by the CIO-AFL.

2. A minimum wage increase and expanded coverage. A bill to raise the $1.25 hourly wage rate to $1.75 and greatly enlarge the coverage of the Fair Labor Standards Act has been reported favorably by the House Education and Labor Committee and is ready for floor action.

3. After several years of ground work, it is expected there will be a renewed drive to require doubletime pay for overtime work, replacing the time-and-a-half pay schedule.

4. New federal authority to regulate and standardize packaging and labeling of consumer products. This is contained in S. 985 which has been in existence in one form or another for several sessions.

AT THE RISK of sounding provincial, it seems to us that the New York City transit strike has reduced the chances for repeal of Section 14-B.

Union power of a magnitude that can paralyze and strangle the largest city in the country — that creates disrespect for and defiance of city officials, the courts, and the rule of law — should startle many legislators who had been prepared to broaden union power by the repeal of 14-B.

We believe Mike Quill and his shenanigans have done a great disservice to the cause of union labor and many responsible union executives. Nevertheless, if our labor-management laws are so lopsided that Quill can get away with it then certainly others might try also. It is beside the point to say that he is not "getting away with it," that Quill and some of his henchmen were arrested.

THERE MAY be some justification for expanding the coverage of the wage laws and increasing the minimum. But it seems there is as much justification for opposing the latter as there is in the White House taking such vigorous action against the steel price increase and the recently-attempted price increase in the copper industry.

It also seems that proponents of the doubletime for overtime provision have lost their basic arguments. They have reasoned, and have used this argument in promoting the legislation, that it will increase employment because employers would rather hire an additional man at straight time than pay double for the same work. Opponents have said it will do nothing of the kind because in most instances an employer would prefer to pay for overtime and maintain the same work force rather than increase the number of employees with all the paper work and fringe benefits that automatically accrue.

ALL OF THIS seems rather academic now because unemployment has been reduced to the point where there is actually a shortage of skilled workers in most industries. It really doesn't make any difference how much an employer has to pay for overtime work, it won't increase employment perceptibly because the qualified hands are not available.

Now, as then, overtime work and overtime pay go to those already employed.

Canada has more water reserves than any other country.

If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king—Daniel 3:17.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Bad Break for GOP on TV

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The three television networks didn't give the Republican spokesmen "equal time" for their "State of the Union" message. The President was granted an hour, and the Republicans only a half hour. Mr. Johnson had prime time — 9 o'clock in the evening — on all three networks simultaneously. The Columbia Broadcasting System gave the Republican presentation from 10:30 to 11 p.m., while the National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co., showed it from 11:30 p.m. to midnight. This period is usually called "the late show."

The time for delivery of the President's "State of the Union" message was well publicized in advance, not only in news reports but in announcements on the air and in print. There was, on the other hand, considerable fumbling about giving advance notice to the public as to when the Republican program would be heard.

Many millions of viewers and listeners had, therefore, gone to bed when "the other side" of the argument was broadcast. Also, only a quarter of an hour was made available to the Senate Republican leader, Everett Dirksen, and another quarter of an hour to the House Republican leader, Gerald Ford.

SO THE TWO Republican spokesmen had to condense their remarks. They tried to do too much in too little time, and their comments, therefore, were not as comprehensive as they would have been had there been more broadcast time.

While the two brief speeches had in them some good arguments, the effort as a whole was not as effective as it might have been if a different concept of an opposition party's duty and responsibility had been recognized by the party strategists. It isn't the obligation of a minority party to present alternatives in specific form or to construct a rival program. The chief need is to tell the people what's actually going on so that they may learn what is the true state of the union.

The Republican presentation might well have included, for instance, figures from the speech made in the Senate on Monday by Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, who declared that President Johnson is hiding the true deficit in next year's national budget until after this year's congressional elections, and added that the real deficit would be $9.2 billion instead of the $1.8 billion predicted by Mr. Johnson.

THE OPPOSITION has a duty to reveal the corrupt influences that are prevalent inside government — the waste of public funds and the misuse of governmental power in favor of the blocs and groups which raise the money to win elections. There are also palpable violations of law in the matter of political-campaign contributions. Perhaps an administration that benefits from these can hardly be expected to prosecute those organizations which ignore the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

One of the biggest scandals of all — the manner in which national elections are controlled today — got only a little attention. Mr. Ford said:

"Ways must be found to eliminate vote fraud, curb the cost of political campaigns, and expand the right to vote."

WOMAN'S WORK IS NEVER DONE

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

British Back Plan for New Viet Commission

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Most important and secret peace formula so far proposed in the backstage Viet Nam peace maneuvering is that submitted to Moscow calling for neutralization of the entire Indo-Chinese peninsula under the international control commission.

Net result would be to increase Russian influence in Southeast Asia at the expense of Chinese influence. This the United States much prefers.

Actually, this proposal has been made by the British, but with American willingness to withdraw from Viet Nam, with the International Control Commission then taking over, not only in South Viet Nam but Laos and Cambodia, to keep the entire area neutral. The commission would also take jurisdiction in North Viet Nam.

THE INTERNATIONAL Control Commission was created under the Geneva treaty of 1954 which arranged for French withdrawal. Its members are India, Canada and Poland. The Russians would have indirect representation through Poland, the United States and Britain would have some influence through Canada.

The commission would have to be given more power and some kind of a police force to enforce neutrality.

So far no reply from the Russians. None was really expected until sometime after Shelepin returned from his trip to Hanoi, possibly not until after British Prime Minister Harold Wilson goes to Moscow Feb. 21-24.

Chief reason Secretary of State Rusk went to Saigon was to persuade Premier Ky to take a deep breath and not knock over the peace talks — at least not publicly. Ky, who has brazenly admitted that his hero is Adolf Hitler, has been popping like a Mexican jumping bean ever since the Johnson peace offensive got going.

AS RECENTLY revealed by Clayton Fritchey, Ky has told Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge repeatedly that he would not go along with peace talks, that he is not ready to sit down at the conference table, and that the United States cannot commit the government of South Viet Nam to peace.

Chief reason Ky is so jittery is that his government controls only about 700 villages out of 2,600 in South Viet Nam, in other words about one-third of the territory. He isn't strong enough to go to the conference table, and he wouldn't have the ghost of a chance of survival if American troops pulled out.

Some of Ky's military commanders feel even stronger about this, and there have been rumors that if the United States goes too far with peace, Ky will be either ousted or assassinated.

This is why Rusk stopped off in Saigon. He was successful — publicly. But privately, the batman premier of South Viet Nam is still about as sore as a stepped-on crocodile in the Mekong River.

THE AIR Force, which has a reputation for giving straight answers to newsmen, has been fudging regarding the President's future son-in-law, Pat Nugent, now on active duty with the Air National Guard. Air Force officials claimed Pat had only one weekend off during the Christmas holidays. 'Tweren't so. Pat had more weekends off than any other man at Lackland Air Force Base. . . . Two biographers of my ex-mother-in-law, Cissy Patterson, have been racing to publish books on her glamorous, sulfuric career. Alice Hoge, Cissy's niece, finally beat Paul Healy of the New York News to the punch. Bennett Cerf sneaked Alice's book "Cissy Patterson" in for February publication. Doubleday will bring out "Cissy" in April. . . . Meanwhile, Frank Waldrop, former editor of the Washington Times-Herald, has finished a fascinating book, "McCormick of Chicago," Cissy Patterson's cousin, the late publisher of the Chicago Tribune. . . . Pan American Airways saved a lot of lives in Brazil when it hustled high speed vaccine injectors down to Rio de Janeiro following the catastrophic rains. The entire city was threatened with plague. . . . Ohio Democrats have picked Mike Sweeney, a highly respected Ohio legislator, to run against unpopular Democratic Cong. Mike Feighan. Once a dedicated member of Congress, Feighan has turned sour.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Kennedy Brothers Freewheel Agents

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — The publicity apparatus of the brothers Kennedy is for their colleagues in the Senate a constant source of wonder not to say envy. At a time when other voices are muted or choked with resentment they are heard on all occasions and even when there is no occasion.

Their handsome heads, like the profiles of Roman patri-cians on newly minted coins, are seen on magazine covers and on TV screens. This is a phenomenon that feeds on itself with the promise that it will grow greater with the passage of time. Whenever two or three senators are gathered together someone is sure to say: How do Bobby and Teddy do it?

THE ANSWER is not hard to come by. They are both skilled operators in public relations in the big time. Thanks to a generous and far-seeing father each had a large trust fund that provides substantial amounts of tax-free income through investment in tax-exempt securities. This gives them a backlog of resources so that they can turn up, using their own money, in Brazil or Viet Nam or wherever they are likely to make news.

Another reason is the afterglow that sheds such a brilliant light following the assassination of John F. Kennedy. The two senators are the heirs of the conviction held around the world that the late President was the spokesman for a younger generation bent on throwing off the shackles of the tired past. The more the Kennedy legend grows the greater is the benefit to those who bear his name and speak in a similar accent.

SO WHEN a wistful senator wonders why Tom, Dick or Harry—or Hubert—can't get the same publicity breaks the obvious reason occurs. But there is a deeper cause and effect at work. As senators the Kennedys, even though they are part of the majority, are free-wheeling agents. They can say more or less what they want to when they want to. Sen. Robert Kennedy, the front runner, is certain to draw out of the prickly thicket of administration policy on Viet Nam as he has already begun to do.

This is a luxury denied the vice president by the nature of the office. That fact was conveniently ignored in the nonsensical talk about Hubert Humphrey's "image trouble." While Humphrey may at times get the old nostalgia, going over his own free-wheeling days when he could talk with Khrushchev in the Kremlin and come up with a long article reporting his findings, he understands his own position very well.

THERE IS nothing this capital likes so much as a contest framed in terms of personalities. Part of the Humphrey image talk was centered on Hubert versus Bobby with the presidential nomination in 1972 as the prize. Since so much can happen in six years in the perilous times in which we live, this is straining hard to get a horse race going. The prospect of such a contest recalls the handi-cap Humphrey was under when he ran in the presidential primaries in 1960 against the late President. In Wisconsin and West Virginia he did it the hard way, traveling in rickety buses with a painfully inadequate staff. The vice president may have helped to inspire what was a little noted passage in President Johnson's State of the Union message.

"AS THE process of election becomes more complex and costly," the President said, "we must make it possible for those without personal wealth to enter public life without being obligated to a few large contributors."

The idea being worked up in the White House to be sent to Congress is for a tax credit or a tax deduction that would hopefully encourage small contributors. A deduction from income of up to $500 or $1,000 and a straight tax credit of, say, $100 are being considered as

Suggests Mayor Arrange Public Debate To the Editor:

In commending the mayor on his letter I wish to make one suggestion, i.e., that he arrange a public debate between this Mr. Mullen and himself. In this way he might have a chance to answer all the objections to urban renewal and the interested citizens might have a chance to learn more of urban renewal.

Such a public discussion would, I think, help the mayor who led us through the danger-fraught days of the flood in his efforts now to lead us into the promised land of urban renewal.

To the Editor: Congratulations! On Jan. 7, 1966, I read in the Winona Daily News that finally urban renewal will begin to transform our city. a way to get thousands or hundreds of thousands of small donors and thereby eliminate the big - money contributors.

THE COST of political campaigning today is a national scandal. The big-money contributors have paid more and more of the bill, as each election the bill gets bigger. And inevitably they come to the winning candidate to collect through one favor or another on their largesse. It is significant that the Republicans can show an increasing proportion of their campaign fund coming from small or middle-sized contributors.

The Kennedys will undoubtedly go from strength to strength and their clipping books and their file of television tapes will be fatter with each passing month. But, if 1972 is the goal, six years is a long time to hold such a pace. And now and then unfriendly critics may feel they press too hard, as when the senator from New York turned up on TV at the side of Mayor John Lindsay just as the transit strike was being settled.

Boys Club Has Pictures of 300 Nudes for Sale

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Some women board members of the Boys Club of Minneapolis are unhappy about the nude girls on the third floor.

The nudes — all 300 of them — are to be auctioned off Jan. 29. They are part of a 1,100-unit art collection donated to the club by Louis F. Dow Co., a St. Paul calendar firm. The value of the collection is estimated at $1.5 million.

Women on the club's board say they don't like the nudes, don't want them in the Boys Club and several reportedly threatened to resign if the auction were not moved.

Club officials said it was too late, however — the nudes already had been advertised to potential buyers.

All of the pictures have been on calendars or for sale as prints.

And if the women aren't interested, apparently one magazine is. A representative of Playboy looked at the nudes, which date from the 1920s to 1964, and another spokesman for the magazine said it had been considering a promotion on calendar art.

Deer Hunter Charged in Girl's Death

WAKEFIELD, Mich. (AP) — A West Allis, Wis., deer hunter was bound over Thursday for trial on two charges in the fatal shooting of a 12-year-old girl.

Allan J. Whiteburn, 20, is accused of involuntary manslaughter and careless use of firearms in the death of Janice Edmark of rural Wakefield.

The child died two days after she was shot while sledding near her home Nov. 13 during the Upper Michigan deer season.

GOING TO PAKISTAN

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — Donald Finch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Finch, will leave for Pakistan this month to be engaged in government work. His mother and sister, Mrs. Finch and Mrs. Robert Docken, went to Phoenix, Ariz., to visit Donald and his family before he leaves.

Mabel Farm Home Damaged

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — Smoke and water heavily damaged the home on the Curtis Anderson farm three miles northwest of here Thursday afternoon.

Anderson said he was in the kitchen with his son, Steven, 5, when he smelled smoke and found it coming from a closet off a bedroom. He summoned Mabel firemen at 3 p.m.

The volunteers, staying at the scene until 4:30, saved the building, but smoke damage is heavy. Windows were broken by firemen to get their hoses into the house, and a hole was made in the outside wall of the closet so the volunteers could fight a possible outbreak of flames there. The closet was over the furnace.

Cause of the smoke was not determined. The house had been remodeled recently. The family stayed in the house Thursday night, using the second floor rooms.

Mrs. Anderson was in Spring Grove at the time of the fire. She is employed at Control Data.

NELSON PATIENTS

NELSON, Wis. (Special) — Nels Fuher has returned from St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Wabasha. Bert Zmeltzer, hospitalized a few days, also was discharged this week.

CAST BREAD

"He shall be blessed that giveth his bread to the poor," Prov. 22:9. Have you ever tried this formula? It works! Compassion of American service men for little war orphans is bread that will come back to America some day. A mischievous college boy was given another chance. Years later, the wealthiest man in his state, he paid off his Alma Mater debt. Giving is not losing. To give is to gain. Generosity expands the soul, gives one more capacity to receive. Jesus said, "Give and it shall be given to you; good measure, pressed down and running over." Every moment is the right time to cast on the waters the needed piece of bread. Why not cast yours this very day.

Hollis Onsgard, Spring Grove, was elected league president to succeed Joseph B. Lee, Caledonia, who was named a trustee. Knute Hagen, Mabel, was named vice president. Rex Johnson, Goodview, secretary-treasurer, and Harold Kari, Mabel, held over.

John Schultz, who is connected with the recreation leadership department of the University of Minnesota, talked generally on recreational development in Southeastern Minnesota.

Orville H. Amdahl, Preston, talked specifically on developing the Root River Valley and Fillmore, Houston and Winona counties as recreational areas to attract tourists who will be coming through on Interstate 90 by 1972.

SCHULTZ SAID Highway 16 from Lanesboro to La Crescent is rated as the second most scenic drive in the country and should be advertised as such.

He described the growing need for outdoor recreational areas in this country which now has become largely urban. He said this area of Southeastern Minnesota is almost devoid of campsites.

Amdahl emphasized concentrating on the three counties instead of the entire southeastern area. A brochure for the area should include all the parks, the current campsites and other attractions.

He discussed the proposed redevelopment of the old North Dam north of Lanesboro as a tourist area. U.S. Army Engineers have been surveying it with a possibility of using it for flood control on the Root River, possibly using the extant tunnel through the hill from the dam to the power plant site. The plant, now razed, was used for generating electricity by Dairyland Power Cooperative for a time.

THE SPEAKER, who has been working on developing the area for tourists many years, named Masonic Park north of Spring Valley; Sportsman's Park at Mabel; Sylvan Park at Lanesboro; Forestville State Park, being developed; Preston Municipal Park, and Chatfield Sportsman's Park east of Chatfield on Highway 30 near the old Bucksnorth power dam as Fillmore County attractions that should be advertised.

He named Beaver Valley State Park near Caledonia; Whitewater State Park near St. Charles, and the largely undeveloped Mississippi River area. Accesses to the river are comparatively few along the Houston and Winona county shorelines, he said.

He said the picturesque scenery, virgin forests, hunting and fishing, the game reserves, fish hatcheries at Lanesboro and Peterson, the scenic Niagara and Mystery caves, the Black Hammer rodeo grounds, the many golf courses in the area with grass greens and other attractions that should be advertised.

He urged the development of Crooked Creek and Winnebago Creek parks in Houston County and restoration of Lake Como at Hokah.

He discussed the "balancing rock" between Whalan and Peterson and the "cabbage rocks" north of Mabel, which few said they had seen.

MEMBERS of village boards attending agreed that cooperation of all the people is needed for recreational development in the area. Lanesboro, Goodview, Caledonia, Spring Grove, Minnesota City and Harmony were represented at the meeting as well as Mabel.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Algebra Requires Detailed Attention

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
University of Southern Calif.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our 10th-grade son is at the point of failing algebra. He says that he understands the teacher when the methods are explained in class, but that when it comes to tests he makes too many simple mistakes. His homework papers that I have seen are so messy they are disgraceful.

Why do teachers accept this kind of work and could this be the reason for his careless errors?

Mrs. W. D. Almetos
Peninsula, Calif.

Answer: Algebra depends heavily on the relative placement of numerals and letters as well as the accurate use of signs and symbols. A slight change in a sign or the placement of the numeral can change the entire meaning of an algebraic expression.

Carelessly-written work is not only difficult to read, but leads to errors both in method and simple arithmetic as well. Teachers should insist upon homework that is carefully prepared.

Have your son practice writing numerals until he automatically writes them neatly and accurately. Then even though his teacher does not, you insist that his homework be written neatly and correctly. You should get results within two weeks.

Dear Dr. Nason: Much to our surprise, our daughter is having great difficulty with Spanish this year. She was given A grades in Spanish in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades; now in the 9th she is barely passing. Her major difficulty seems to be in translating from English to Spanish.

We are at a loss to understand the sudden deterioration since, in other subjects, our daughter's work is maintained at the same high standard she has always held. Can you give us a suggestion?

Mrs. N. C., Anaheim, Calif.

Answer: Your daughter's 9th grade Spanish teacher apparently is using the traditional grammar translation approach to the subject. In the 7th and 8th grades, the audio-lingual approach was properly used. Under this method, pupils gained some fluency in speaking and hearing the language. Many high school teachers have not as yet worked out a satisfactory transition. They assume, incorrectly, that since the pupils have some background they are ready to start a very formal study of the language. Consequently, in the first few weeks they attack the most difficult problem of all — the translation from written English to written Spanish.

I suggest you discuss the matter with your local school superintendent. In the meantime, perhaps your daughter, will be more successful if she attempts the translation phrase by phrase rather than word by word.

Dear Dr. Nason: When educators talk about the transfer of learning, do they mean that "mathematics teaches you to think" and then you can use it in all other fields.

N. A., Washington, D.C.

Answer: It is not the subject matter connected with learning that is transferable, but the skills gained in studying the subject. It is not mathematics that teaches them to think, but the training they get in the proper way to approach and analyze problems while studying mathematics.

However, problem-solving cannot be taught in a vacuum. A student should be taught these skills while learning arithmetic or algebra. Only then can he apply the same skills to another subject where they are applicable.

Pressure on Blue Chippers, Trade Active

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks moved lower today amid pressure on blue chips and some recently popular defense and electronics issues. Trading was fairly active.

Buying and selling of low-priced stocks continued heavy. But price changes among the more active of these stocks were narrow.

Rails were weak. New York Central and Pennsylvania both dropped about 2 points. The Interstate Commerce Commission indicated a ruling on their proposed merger is still some weeks away.

Motors were mixed with General Motors off more than a point. Steels were irregularly lower.

Electronics issues lost ground. Zenith was down more than 2 points.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon eased 1.3 to 366.7, with industrials off 2.0, rails down 1.3 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.23 at noon to 984.57.

Boeing was down about 2 points. The Civil Aeronautics Board indicated structural design and some materials in the 727 airliner may have contributed to some deaths in an air crash last November.

United Aircraft and General Dynamics were off fractions. Chemicals also were lower, with Eastman Kodak and Du Pont both down about a point.

Stocks on the American Exchange moved higher in heavy trading. Bond prices were mostly unchanged in light trading.

Johnson Buying Time With Tax Boost Quickies

WASHINGTON (AP) — With his $4.8 billion of quickie tax-boosters, President Johnson is trying to buy some time.

Even if Congress approves them by March 15, as he has asked, the maneuver won't rule out any general tax increase. That still could come, in 1967 or 1968.

It all depends on Viet Nam. What happens there—an escalation to full-fledged war, a negotiated peace, or some condition in between—"must be at the center of our concerns," as Johnson told Congress last week.

Even if the fighting does not escalate but merely continues at its present intensity long enough, Johnson eventually will have to ask for a boost in income and corporate tax rates. His three tax measures are only temporary revenue-raisers.

If the hostilities do escalate seriously, a general tax increase would come sooner. In the happier event that the guns cease firing in Viet Nam, the three revenue measures would simply run their course. They represent no permanent burden on economic growth.

By contrast, higher tax rates—once written into the law books—would be harder to get rid of.

The White House proposals would restore the auto and telephone excise taxes to their pre-New Year's rates until 1968; provide a graduated scale of rates for income tax withholding; and bring large corporations to a pay-as-you-go tax basis in one year instead of five.

If the economy should falter, the excise rates could be cut again, virtually overnight. The corporate tax speed-up could again be stretched out. Any overwithholding of income tax would flow back to consumers as tax refunds at the end of the year.

But more probably, the three devices would serve a useful anti-inflationary purpose in the period when "overheating" is a hazard—the months ahead when federal spending rolls up to a $112.8-billion-a-year rate.

Johnson thus would be enabled to make good his guns and butter pledge—his promise that the "Great Society" programs of education, health, welfare and manpower development will not be sacrificed to pay for arms or to curb inflation.

The restraining effect of the tax devices would begin to play out, presumably, at approximately the right time—the time when the big surge of defense contracts begins to subside.

Premier of Italy Quits Under Fire

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro resigned today after an undercover rebellion in his own Christian Democrat party and shaken confidence of his Socialist allies weakened his 2-year-old center-left government.
Moro's resignation was triggered by an embarrassing defeat in the Chamber of Deputies Thursday on his bill to set up state nursery school. He had described the measure as a key reform that the Socialists demanded when entering the coalition in December 1963.

The premier's decision to step down was taken after a meeting with his Cabinet today.

The resignation plunges the Atlantic Alliance nation into unexpected political crisis. Only a few weeks ago it had appeared that Moro probably would be able to hold his coalition government together until the next national parliamentary elections in 1967.

What made Moro's position untenable was a demand from the partners in his Christian Democrat coalition—the Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans—that he resign because of the legislative defeat.

Woman Sues U.S. For $50,000; Needle Left in Abdomen

ST. PAUL (AP) — Mrs. Elaine E. Lynch, 35, Lakeville, sued the U.S. government for $50,000 in U.S. District Court Thursday, claiming a surgical stitching needle lay undiscovered in her abdomen for 3½ years.

Mrs. Lynch said the needle was left in her abdomen after a Caesarian section at Ft. Laughton Army Hospital, Seattle, Wash., in March 1961.

The woman, a Navy wife, said the needle was discovered by a private physician in August 1964, but had caused her "great mental shock, nervousness, mental pain and suffering."

Martha Raye
'Maggie of the Boondocks'

Martha Raye Just Missed Viet Nam Trap

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Comedienne Martha Raye says she missed being trapped in a bloody Viet Cong battle at a remote South Viet Nam outpost by only 29 minutes.

"Our helicopter took off from Plei Me just 29 minutes before they attacked," said Martha on her return Thursday from 3½ months of entertaining troops. The siege last fall lasted eight days and resulted in many Viet Cong and Allied dead.

Still dressed in combat boots, Special Forces green beret and camouflage "tiger" suit, she arrived home 12 pounds lighter. "They got to calling me Maggie of the Boondocks," said Martha, 49, who put on 400 performances for GIs in the treacherous jungles and rice paddies.

It was the comedienne's second tour in a year in Viet Nam, and her third war. World War II and Korea came before.

"They were all great guys," said Martha.

"But those boys over in Viet Nam—they know what they're fighting about a little more than the others did. If they don't, they learn in the first 24 hours." "What really gets you is what they do besides fighting," said Martha. "They've got a medical program going for the villagers in the tiniest towns."

Martha sang and told jokes at some of the smallest outposts—sometimes manned by only two GIs.

Heavy Snows Hard on Deer

ST. PAUL (AP) — The State Conservation Department says heavy snow averaging over two feet is causing "severe problems" for deer in Cook, Lake, Koochiching and northern St. Louis Counties.

Game and Fish Director James R. Shields said eight snow vehicles have been purchased to reach areas where deer are concentrated. He said Youth Corps and Job Corps crews have begun cutting browse for deer in some areas.

Shields suggested that any local sportsmen's groups contact game wardens before attempting to feed deer. It's important that deer be fed natural browse rather than hay or alfalfa, Shields said.

Assessing Course Set at Rochester

A group of assessors from Winona County will attend a special course Monday at Rochester on real and personal property taxation.

The course is sponsored by the state agricultural extension service. It will be held at the Olmsted County fairgrounds 4-H building. Similar classes will be held Jan. 31 and Feb. 7. Each session begins at 10 a.m. and lasts all day.

David Sauer, Winona County supervisor of assessments, and his deputy, Gay Aldinger, will be accompanied by several township and village assessors. City Assessor Donald O'Dea and Lyle Haney, deputy assessor, also will attend.

Student Found Guilty of Speeding Count

Noting that the defendant's case had not directly contradicted the testimony of a Highway Patrolman, Judge John D. McGill found a Chicago youth guilty today in municipal court of speeding.

Francis J. Amore, 21, Chicago, had pleaded not guilty to the charge of speeding 60 m.p.h. in a 30 zone on Gilmore Avenue from Clarks Lane to Cummings Street Jan. 9 at 1:45 a.m. He was arrested by Oscar H. Krenzke, Lewiston, a Minnesota Highway Patrolman.

CITY Prosecutor James W. Soderberg called Krenzke as his only witness. The patrolman testified that he had followed two cars east on Gilmore Avenue from the intersection of U.S. 61 and 14 early Jan. 9.

At the point where old highway 61 joins Gilmore Avenue, Krenzke testified, he observed Amore's car accelerate rapidly in order to pass the second car. Amore's rear wheels spun on the icy surface, making a sound like a siren, Krenzke told the court.

Krenzke said that Amore continued to accelerate rapidly until he drew even with the Miraculous Mail entrance drive. Here, the Chicago youth braked in order to make a left turn, Krenzke said.

The patrolman said that he also passed the slow-moving car passed by Amore and that he had clocked Amore at up to 65 m.p.h. before the Chicago youth began to slow down. He stopped Amore about half a block north of Gilmore Avenue, Krenzke said.

AMORE testified in his own behalf that his rear wheels had spun as he passed the second car. But they spun because of the icy surface and did not make the squealing sound described by Krenzke, Amore said.

He could not have "floored" his gas pedal, Amore said, without losing control of the car. Krenzke had testified that Amore appeared to "floor board" his accelerator after passing the second car.

Amore also described an experiment he had tried Thursday on the highway in which he accelerated from 20 m.p.h. to 60, then braked to 20 again. The maneuver took two-tenths of a mile to perform, Amore said. Displaying a diagram of the scene of the alleged violation, Amore said the distance from the point he passed the car to the point where he made the turn was a quarter of a mile.

Since there was hard-packed, slippery snow on the roadway where he allegedly had speeded, Amore argued, he could not have acted as Krenzke had testified. In conclusion, he said that he couldn't see how Krenzke had obtained a clock on him.

AMORE CALLED a fellow St. Mary's College student, Kevin Vaughn, to testify. Vaughn corroborated Amore's account on the points of where they had first noticed Krenzke had when the patrol had turned on his flashing red light. They noticed Krenzke when he passed the second car, Vaughn testified, and commented on the risk he was taking in passing at such high speed.

Judge McGill told Amore that his testimony had not shown that he was not speeding but had merely conjectured that Krenzke "could not" have made a clocking of the Amore car's speed. The weight of the evidence showed that Amore had been speeding and should be found guilty, the judge said.

He fined Amore $25 and ordered the fine satisfied from posted bail. Amore represented himself during the trial.

Daily News to Publish Income Tax Series

Once again, the time is approaching for filing reports on federal income taxes. Employees are receiving their W2 withholding slips from their employers, and must now tackle the job of filling out their returns.

To help in this task, The Associated Press has put together a series of special income tax articles and these will be published in the Winona Daily News next week.

The five articles, which will be published Monday through Friday, will be written by James Marlow, Associated Press news analyst. The articles explain main points to be followed in reporting 1965 income. Subjects covered include proper deductions, rules on dependents and much other information.

Tough Winter For GIs in Dominicans

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — He's been spat upon. People have thrown garbage at him. Rocks have bounced off his heavy military helmet.

And this is the first time in his 24 years of life he hasn't seen snow at this time of the year.

It's been a warm winter for Sgt. William Spring of the U.S. 82nd Airborne, a native of Philadelphia, is typical of the American GIs who patrol the sometimes quiet, sometimes turbulent streets of Santo Domingo.

A U.S. Army career man who has a son he's seen only once since beginning duty in the Dominican Republic last May, Spring commands a squad of five other airborne infantrymen and two jeeps, part of the Inter-American Peace Force.

Their duty is to patrol the streets in an area known as Ciudad Nueva but more commonly referred to as the old "rebel area."

Headquarters and billets are almost squarely in the center of this area — on Avenue Mella — one of the hot spots of sniper fire during last year's short revolution.

Each of Spring's two jeeps carries three men each and an M60 machine gun, plus shotguns loaded with birdshot, and a bazooka. Each soldier carries his own personal arms. Spring rides the right-hand seat of the lead jeep with a shotgun across his lap, constantly on the alert for any sign of trouble.

The men average 100 miles a day in patrols. A ride through the area takes almost two hours. Then Spring orders a rest break. Then more patrol.

Throwing of rocks and garbage has grown less frequent but many Dominicans hurl verbal insults at the olive-clad men in jeeps. "We don't feel the day is complete." Spring jokes, "if we don't collect a few 'Yankee go homes'."

State Moves To Shore Up Its Defense

Bob Campbell is only half worried about Saturday night's Northern Intercollegiate Conference basketball game between Winona State and Mankato State at Memorial Hall.

Campbell, coach of Winona State's Warriors, isn't concerned with his team's ability to score points. In their 14 games thus far this season the Warriors have proven that they can, putting the ball in the hoop for a 77-point average.

Seventy-seven points is usually enough to win most games, but Winona State stands only 5-9 over the season. So evidently the defense has left something to be desired, and that's the half that Campbell is worried about.

"We're working with a couple of different combinations," said Campbell as Winona prepared for the game. "Our lineup depends upon what we'll go with defensively." Winona has given up an average of 86 points-per-game with four foes hitting the century mark.

One of the units features a bigger, stronger rebounding attack while the other uses speed to try and break up the opposition's patterns. "We were sadly lacking on the boards against Bethel and Moorhead," continued Campbell, "so we may try and combat that."

That "move" would be to insert 6-5 freshman center Chip Schwartz into the lineup to team with 6-6 Mike Jersek and 6-4 Tim Anderson in the front line. Gary Petersen, a six-footer whose height belies his rebounding ability, and Dave Meisner would make up the back court combination.

This combination would give Winona State a height advantage over Mankato in the 7:30 p.m. game. The invading Indians sport 6-5, 6-3, 6-2 in the front line.

But if Campbell decides that the "big" lineup isn't the answer, he will try to counter with a speedy combo with a fifth starter yet undecided. The Warrior coach brought Cotter graduate Rick Starzecki up to the varsity from the freshman squad in an effort to add speed.

"We're shooting good and getting good shots," said Campbell. "So we're not really concerned with our offensive effort."

And like Winona, Mankato sports a balanced attack with four cagers hitting in double figures. But if there is a key to the Indians' offensive forays, Campbell feels it is senior captain and guard Doug Hart.

"He hits from the outside," said the Winona State coach. "He's probably one of the better shots in the conference."

"They do primarily the same thing we do on offense, trying to split the man off the high post."

So it will be power against power with the team that has the best success defending its own offense probably coming away the winner.

Carleton Eyes Lead In Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Carleton can take over undisputed possession of first place in the Midwest Conference tonight, but could lose it again by Saturday night.

The Carls, 6-1 in the Midwest, play at Coe tonight, then travel to Beloit Saturday night. Carleton beat Beloit last weekend at Northfield, Minn., to pin the first conference loss of the season on Beloit.

St. Olaf is at Beloit in the only other game on tap for Minnesota teams tonight. The Oles then go to Coe Saturday night. St. Olaf is 4-3 in the Midwest.

Other NIC activity Saturday finds Bemidji (1-1) at Michigan Tech (0-4). St. Cloud (1-0) and Moorhead (1-2) are not scheduled.

In the Minnesota Intercollegiate Saturday, Gustavus Adolphus is at Minnesota—Duluth in the key game. The Gusties are 3-2 in the MIAC and can move up a notch on leading St. Thomas (6-0) and second-place St. John's (4-2), both idle because of semester exams.

In other MIAC action, Concordia (1-2) is at Hamline (2-3). Bethel plays at Minnesota-Morris in a nonconference outing.

Hawks Vs. Packers For Big Nine Title?

Marge Moravec, P. Jacobson in Power Showing

Marge Moravec kept her ball from getting "nosey" and Peggy Jacobson did so well she nearly lost her memory.

Those were the key facts behind standout Thursday night bowling action from the women as two first-place efforts were recorded to go with two other top ten realignments.

First, and foremost, Miss Moravec smashed a 634 series to catapult into first place on the select list. That score also ranks eighth on the all-time city record list.

THEN, PEGGY Jacobson rapped a 235 game for Jerry's Auto Sales in the Keglerette League at Westgate Bowl.

That sparked her team to a 987 game that ranks six pins better than anything else city women's teams have been able to register.

Needless to say, both Mrs. Jacobson and Miss Moravec were quite happy.

Actually for Marge, a physical education instructor at Winona State College and a left-handed kegler, the second game pushed her well on the way to th first-place spot.

SHE OPENED with a 201, then shot 236 — good for fourth place — and coasted home with a 197.

When did she know she had it made?

Not until late in the final game — her first two pitches in the tenth, to be exact.

"I knew what I had to have to get the 600," she said. "I had had some trouble with the seven."

But all that was erased as she closed with 197 for Winona Insurance in the Hal-Rod Powder Puff League.

While the 634 ranks as her best series, she eclipsed the 236 by some 16 pins in a city tournament a few years ago.

SHE THROWS "pretty much" a straight ball. It was on target Thursday.

"For once, it wasn't getting too nosey," she quipped.

The 236 opened rather inauspiciously with a blow. But then followed a double and a spare to put her on the road. The next five pitches were strikes.

She competes twice weekly, averaging 168 at Hal-Rod and 166 in the Pin Topplers League at Westgate.

Mrs. Jacobson narrowly missed bowling 100 pins over her average, which is 141 in the Keglerette.

"But it certainly was a good night for me," she said.

WHILE SHE is nearly certain the 235 is her best game, she wasn't sure about the 534 series she finished with.

She also competes twice weekly, bowling also in the Westgate Ladies League.

All Indications Point to 'Yes', Tilt Here Today

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Winona High School's 1965-66 basketball team tonight will build a foundation for its place in history—or begin preparing for tournament action.

Those are the blunt facts on the day the Hawks will face Austin. Game time is 8 p.m. at the high school auditorium. "B" squads of the two schools entertain in a prelude beginning at 6:30 p.m. Doors will open at 6:15. Now to background the opening sentence.

Winona and Austin have raced ahead of the field over the first half of the Big Nine season, the Packers (5-0) outranking the Hawks (4-0) by virtue of their early no-bye schedule. Every other league team has at least two defeats.

Down the stretch, Austin will face Mankato, Faribault, Albert Lea and Rochester. It is doubtful that any member of that quartet will be tough enough to score an upset.

THEREFORE, if Winona High harbors any thoughts — and this most certainly is the case — of winning its first Big Nine title in the 26 years the league has been in existence, the Hawks are faced by a win-or-forever-it's-outlet.

"This is really the first time we've had a chance to win the conference title," said coach John Kenney. "This is the first time we started this well in the conference."

Even the 1961 state tournament team had its troubles. That club lost its first league game to Northfield and third to Rochester. Austin won it that year with a 9-1 record. Winona inflicted the loss, but received no cooperation from the other teams and settled for second at 8-2.

FOR THE above reasons this could be the biggest regular season game Winona High basketball teams have played in.

The Hawk start is not unexpected. Kenney said from the start he believed his team would be in the chase for the roses, and the club has done nothing to refute that.

But to earn a shot at the title, Winona must get past Austin — probably the toughest team it has, or will, face.

"On the basis of what I saw last Friday, I'd agree with that," said Kenney. "Although Red Wing is probably just as capable."

The Wingers went Mark Aldridge conscious in their game with Austin, saw the 6-8 center suffer through a cold shooting night and lost 60-54.

How will the Hawks set up?

IT REALLY is not a question of how they do offensively, since they have demonstrated they will score with anyone. It is more a question of the defensive matchup to shut off the quick

SECRETARY SEES 'BEST' TOURNAMENT

Tension? Yes, But No Signs

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

She sat amidst a staggering load of paper work looking as fresh as a spring violet and as unruffled as a freshly pressed dress.

If the tension of being responsible for mapping plans for the largest Winona Women's Bowling Association city tournament was there it didn't show as Mrs. Joe (Irene) Trimmer worked out last-minute details Thursday.

And last-minute details there were. The tournament opens at Westgate Bowl Saturday at 2 p.m. ("If we could get going a few minutes early it would be fine with me," says Mrs. Trimmer) and the telephone at the comfortable Trimmer residence jangled dizzily as bowlers sought quick shuffles and clarifications.

But through it all the WWBA secretary remained — at least outwardly — calm and collected.

"You have to expect those things," she said with a smile.

In one case a hospitalized bowler was replaced for the team event. This necessitated a records change on team handicap.

"But it certainly isn't her fault," said Irene. "We just hope she is back to bowl singles and doubles."

Then a family death created a switch in the opening shift Saturday.

"Please ask if there is a team from the 3 p.m. shift Sunday or any later shift that would switch with them on the first shift," she said.

Teams interested in helping solve the problem can, naturally, call Irene.

Oh yes, and she asked that anyone interested in helping score the tournament

WWBA Facts And Figures

These are facts and figures for the annual Winona Women's city bowling tournament:

SITE — Westgate Bowl, 16 Brunswick alleys.

OPENING CEREMONY — Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Present will be Mayor R. K. Ellings, city council president Harold Briesath, WBA secretary, Clarence Bell, WWBA President Helen Nelson, WWBA secretary Irene Trimmer.

STARTING TIME — Saturday at 2 p.m. with 16 teams competing.

TEAM SHIFT TIMES — Saturday: 2, 4, 6, 8 and 9 p.m. Sunday: 12:45, 3, 6:30 and 9 p.m. Monday — 6:30 p.m. (16-team windup).

DOUBLES AND SINGLES SHIFT TIMES — Monday: 9 p.m. Tuesday: 6:30 and 9 p.m. Wednesday: 6:30 and 9 p.m. Thursday: 6:30 and 9 p.m.

DEFENDING CHAMPIONS — Class A Team: Bakken Construction. Class B Team: Super Saver. Singles: Mrs. Bob Tropple. Doubles: Mrs. Bob Tropple, Sue Czaplowski. All-events: Romy Maliszewski.

CHAMPIONS ENTERED — Bakken Construction (2 p.m. Saturday), Mrs. Tropple and Sue Czaplowski (9 p.m. Wednesday).

STILL NEEDED — Scorekeepers; one team from 3 p.m. Sunday shift or any later shift to switch with team from 2 p.m. shift Saturday.

call committee chairman Lois Lilla.

"We're still scorers short," she informed.

But though the telephone persisted, things fell into line for the annual event.

And the WWBA secretary was certain the tournament would be "the best ever."

By point of entry, it will out-rank anything women's bowling in Winona has seen.

There are 140 teams entered (an increase of 14), 153 doubles sets (up 36) and, of course, 306 singles (an increase of 72). All-events entries total 76 more with 285 contestants entered.

It did not come about by accident. Winona is bidding for the 1967 state women's tournament and association officers sought a record entry to enhance the bid.

Mrs. Trimmer herself, beginning Dec. 13 when entries opened, visited all of the city's 26 leagues stocked with women except the Monday night circuit at Winona Athletic Club. Before she was finished, she had spoken to nearly all of the 954 sanctioned bowlers.

"And they've really been good," she said. "I know many of the girls entered just to help our bid for the state."

But a big tournament means more problems and much more work. Not all of it was expected when Mrs. Trimmer took the job.

"But I suppose I would have taken it anyway," she smiled. "Helen Nelson (the WWBA president) asked if I would and then appointed me."

It might have been a put

TENSION

Natural Ability Not Enough, Says Ted

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, the 103rd member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, claims that the game requires more practice and concentration than any other sport.

Williams, a noted fisherman and a part-time golfer in recent years, emphasized the rigors on the road to baseball stardom Thursday after his landslide election to the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

"Baseball takes more hours of practice and concentration than any other sport," the former Boston Red Sox slugger said. "No other sport requires as much practice. There are no short cuts in baseball."

Williams believes his natural ability "has been overrated and overstressed."

"Baseball is a lot more than natural ability," he said. "I had baseball sense, but you need guidance to know what to do and how to develop your ability. And you've got to work. Stan Musial understood the meaning of practice and he developed himself into a great hitter."

Williams, who retired in 1960 with a .344 lifetime average and 521 homers in 19 seasons with the Red Sox, polled a record 282 votes, or 93.8 per cent of the total, in balloting by 10-year members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Williams was ignored on only 20 ballots despite his feud with many sports writers. It was a runaway in his first year of eligibility for the Hall of Fame.

Red Ruffing, who won 273 games in 32 years with the Red Sox, the New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox, suffered a second straight disappointment. Runner-up to Luke Appling in a runoff election in 1964, Ruffing received 208 votes, 18 shy of the 75 per cent required for election.

Roy Campanella was third with 197 votes, followed by Joe Medwick 187, Lou Boudreau 115, Al Lopez 109 and Enos Slaughter 100.

Williams said he was sorry that many others, especially Ruffing, had failed to win election.

"I wish some of you writers could have hit against Ruffing," he said.

Williams, in good humor but as outspoken at the age of 47 as he was in his younger days, also pleaded that rules be left alone to give hitters a break.

"Anytime you take away anything from the hitters you are taking away from the game," he said.

Williams, who will be inducted into the Hall of Fame July 25, is looking forward to his position as vice president of the Red Sox. His appointment was announced Thursday.

Redmen's Big Assignment: Cut Down on Turnovers

By BOB JUNGHAUS
Daily News Sports Writer

As in football, the theory that the other team can't score if it doesn't have the ball fits the sport of basketball. And in both sports, the fewer times you give up the ball without scoring, the better your chances are going to be of coming out on the long end of the score.

Saturday night, the St. Mary's Redmen will run into a team that plays under such a theory when Macalester invades Terrace Heights for an MIAC attraction.

Game time has been set ahead to 7:30 to coincide with the special "Winter Sports Weekend" at the college.

"They're a very deliberate type of team," said St. Mary's coach Ken Wiltgen of the Scots. "They wait for the good shots and they shoot high percentage shots. Our scouts feel that they have an excellent team."

"They're not big and powerful enough to roll over many teams, but they're pesky. And Mac has always been tough for us. I think they've beaten us only once out of the last six games, but it's always tight."

So this is the foe against whom the Redmen must try to break out of a prolonged losing slump. St. Mary's has lost four of its last five games and seven of its last 10 en route to a 6-7 season record and disappointing 1-4 MIAC mark.

"We've been good enough to be close in our last two games, but not lucky enough to win them," said Wiltgen of successive losses to University of Minnesota-Duluth and Loras

College. The Redmen lost the two games by a total of five points, with one of the (Loras) going into overtime. In fact, that's been the story of St. Mary's season, losing seven games by a total of 33 points, with only one of the setbacks coming by more than six points.

"It was just a case of the last shot not going in," he said. "If it had in either or both of the last two games, we would have won."

The chief task against Macalester Saturday night will be to cut down on turnovers.

"What it amounts to, is we don't dare make any mechanical errors against them," summed up Wiltgen.

And Ken is still undecided on what combination to use that will serve this purpose and still run the Redmen offense effectively.

"It could be any five of the seven," he said. "Macalester isn't big so it won't necessitate having all three big boys in the lineup like I thought we should have against Loras."

Captain Roger Pytlewski (6-5), George Hoder (6-4), Jim Murphy (6-4), Tom Keenan (6-3), Jerry Sausser (6-1), Jim Buffo (6-1) and Dennis Ludden (6-0) make up the seven players from which Wiltgen must pick his starting unit.

"Murphy and Ludden have done a respectable job for us in recent games, so I'd have no qualms about starting them," commented Wiltgen.

"The kids don't seem to be down, but if we could just pull one out, I think it would help a great deal."

Bullets Have 'Hazzard-ous' NBA Problem

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baltimore Bullets ran into a Hazzard-ous situation, and it cost the Los Angeles Lakers a victory.

The Bullets came out of the situation Thursday night with four points and a 123-121 victory over the Lakers in the National Basketball Association. In the only other game, St. Louis thumped Detroit 103-92.

Trailing 121-117 with 15 seconds to play, the Bullets cut the Lakers' margin to two points on Johnny Green's two free throws.

Then on the throw in, Los Angeles' Walt Hazzard fumbled the ball, and Green came up with a field goal.

After a timeout, Hazzard again had a problem. He couldn't get the ball into a teammate within the allotted five seconds, and the ball was turned over to the Bullets.

Baltimore was successful in putting the ball in play, and with one second remaining, John Kerr tossed in a one-hander for the victory. The victory snapped the Bullets' four-game losing streak.

FOR HAWK MATMEN

Four Down—Four to Go!

Four down and four to go — that's what faces the ever-brightening Winona High School wrestling team.

And the first of that final four will come tonight when the Winhawk grapplers travel to Austin for a Big Nine dual meet. The "B" squad match will begin at 6:30 p.m., followed by the varsity scrap at 8 p.m.

"I think we have the momentum," said Hawk coach Dave Moracco as he looked forward to the meet. Winona, after losing its first three matches of the year, rebounded by winning its next four and now holds a 4-3 season record.

"Now we need another Big Nine win," he continued. "We're still hungry. Four wins hasn't curbed our appetite at all."

If comparative scores mean anything, tonight's match has to be rated dead even. Winona ranks 13 in the conference, while Austin is 1-4. And to make the bout even more of a loss-up, both teams are strongest in the lower weights.

"I think our outlook is real good," said Moracco. "The boys have been working real hard in practice. The know these last four (all against conference foes) are going to be real tough, and they really want to win them."

In an effort to strengthen the lineup, three Hawk wrestlers have moved down a weight. Steve Miller has dropped from 120 to 112, Jim Dotzler from 127 to 120 and Gary Ellis from 133 to 127. Ron Hoover moves into the lineup at 133.

The remainder of the lineup will have Rick Pomeroy at 95, Don Michalowski at 103, Tom Hadfield at 130, Dick Henderson at 145, John DeGallier at 154, Chuck Lueck at 165, Don Bergler at 175 and Tom Becker at heavyweight.

Other than basketball, the sporting fare on the local front is light this weekend with only a swimming meet and hockey game to spice the action.

St. Mary's hockey squad will take on its second nonconference foe in three days when Bemidji invades Terrace Heights for a 2 p.m. meet Saturday. And the Winona High swimming team will be in Austin Saturday for a triangular meet which includes the Hawks, the host squad and Hopkins.

SUPERIOR NEXT

State Trips Luther Team

DECORAH, Iowa — At last, Winona State College's polished wrestling team will get a rest.

The Warriors Thursday night scored their tenth consecutive dual-meet victory with a convincing 22-11 decision over Luther College here.

And today the Warriors' minds probably are on the eight-day break they will get after an ambitious and vigorous flurry of early-season activity.

THE STATESMEN'S next action will come at Memorial

Hall Jan. 29 against Superior.

It is because of that that Coach Bob Gunner is not resting.

"Superior is going to be tough," said Gunner. "We're going to have to juggle our lineup for that one."

Superior perennially is the class of the Wisconsin State University Conference, and Gunner ranks the club as a formidable foe.

But Thursday, the Warriors came through in grand style, giving Luther wins at only 123, 130 and 145.

WHEN THE meet was over, John Zwolinski had scored his tenth straight pin, Ray Wicks had his fifth and Perry King had nearly matched half the team's number of takedowns.

King earned a 15-5 decision over Ralph Schroeder at 137, scoring points on six takedowns in the match.

"We only had 13 as a team," said Gunner. "So you can see Perry did an excellent job. Luther only had two takedowns."

It took Zwolinski, the muscular heavyweight, 4:28 to put down Don Miller. That ranks as his longest appearance on the mat in any match.

WICKS PINNED Greg Brooks of Luther in 7:15.

Gunner also had praise for Leo Simon, who won 5-0 at 152, and Jim Tannichill, who took a 4-2 win at 167.

He also mentioned Dan Scrabeck for a top effort at 177.

Peerless Wins, Oasis Also—Stage Is Set

INDOOR SOFTBALL

	W	L
Oasis	2	2
Peerless Chain	4	2
Sunshine	4	4

Oasis and Peerless Chain continued to race away from the pack in Indoor Softball League action Thursday, while Sunshine slipped further down the ladder.

Oasis moved past Hof-Brau 5-2 behind the three-hit pitching of Tom May and Tom Kulas came up with the outstanding pitching display, tossing a one-hitter in Peerless Chain's 6-0 win over Sunshine.

THE OTHER game found Old Style topping Lang's 5-3.

Peerless Chain tacked up its sixth victory behind a six-run fourth-inning rally and relied on the pitching of Kulas, who registered 13 strikeouts, for the rest of the effort.

Dick Lorbeck and Kulas each had two hits for the winners. Larry Modjeski got Sunshine's single blow. The loser was Dick Pett.

May, backed by sharp fielding, was the difference for Oasis, which got two hits each from Bob Larson and Jack Rader. Roger Czaplewski, Max Singer and Frank Drazkowski got the Hof-Brau bingles.

Jim Stout came up with the big blow for Oasis, a grand slam home run in the second inning. Roger Czaplewski took the loss.

Oasis will meet Peerless Chain next Thursday in a battle that could decide the champion.

Gene Prenot pitched the Old Style win. Hal Williamson drove in four runs with a grand slam homer. The loser was Pete Jerowski. Mike Klagge had two hits for the winners.

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — The Erie Tech High School swimming team ended a 90-meet losing streak Thursday night by beating Erie Academy 50-44. Tech's previous victory was on Feb. 9, 1954.

Another Test Of Advance

Terry Strong of St. Paul Hill feels Cotter has improved 200 percent over the first part of the season.

It was at that time that his Pioneers scored a 71-68 win over Cotter. But Saturday night the two teams meet at St. Stan's at 8 p.m. following a "B" squad preliminary — and Strong is not so confident.

While John Nett will side with Strong, believing the Ramblers have improved, he is not certain how much.

"I'm sure we're better," he says frankly. "But I don't know if we've improved that much."

There is one fact — nearly obscure, but present — that scares Nett.

When Hill met De La Salle recently, the Pioneers were beaten by some 50 points.

"I DON'T believe Hill is that bad," said Nett, who saw his Ramblers improve by 19 points in two losses to De La Salle. "Hill might have a little mental block when it comes to De La Salle. I just hope they (the Pioneers) don't come down here with the impetus to do a good job against us because of that loss."

That might be doubtful, especially in view of the fact that Hill must play at Rochester Lourdes tonight, stay in the Mayo City and then travel here Saturday.

"Yes," they might be a little tired," mused Nett. "You know how it is when you stay over."

THE COACH will keep 6-1 sophomore Tim Browne, who made his first start in a win over Fairbault Bethlehem last Saturday, at a forward spot in his starting lineup.

Playing opposite Browne, if he is healthy will be Chuck Kulas, the team captain. Kulas missed two days of school this week and his status is indefinite.

The center will be Mike Twomey and the guards Tom Wenzel and Bob Allaire.

SHOULD KULAS be unavailable, Jim Holmay will undoubtedly get the call.

If Kulas is healthy, Nett's second unit will include Holmay and Tom Leaf at forwards, Dave Pelowski at center and Greg Schoener, Steve Walzer and John Leaf at guards.

Nett doesn't expect any surprises from Hill.

"I'm sure they will zone us," he said. "They have used it effectively. As far as their offense is (the Auburn shuffle) concerned, we used the same thing part of the time last year. At least we are acquainted with it. Whether we can stop it or not is another thing."

NETT DOESN'T feel there is a real key to success as far as this one is concerned.

"I don't think Hill is a great club," he said. "It's just a matter of doing the little things right. If we do that, there will be no problem."

AWARD FOR TONY MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Twin Cities baseball writers will present a special achievement award to Minnesota Twins' batting star Tony Oliva for his two straight American League batting championships at the writers' annual mid-winter baseball dinner Monday night in the Leamington Hotel.

NEW BADGER MADISON (AP) — "He's the first man I went after," said Wisconsin football coach, Milt Bruhn, after announcing that Mike McGee, 27, had accepted an assistant coaching job with the Badgers.

Hull did get his 37th goal of the season on a power play in the first period but Westfall's close checking prevented Chicago's ace from breaking loose on the kind of splurge that netted him four goals against New York in the Hawks' last start.

A MOMENT'S THOUGHT . . . Mrs. Joe Trimmer, secretary of the Winona Women's Bowling Association, pauses for thought as she begins to put finishing touches on city tournament preparation. The WBA meet opens Saturday at Westgate Bowl. (Daily News Sports Photo) up job, but Mrs. Trimmer didn't seem to mind — even though it has changed her life from housewife back to office worker.

She worked for 15 years at Watkins Products — nine of those spent in the accounting department, something that comes in handy now.

In 1960 she decided it would be fine to become a full-time housewife.

"Now it's just like working again," she joked. What she didn't add is that it is probably worse, since much of the tournament work is done at night well into the night.

In fact, it is a safe bet not many people will have spent as many hours at their job between Dec. 13 and Saturday as has Mrs. Trimmer. And that is just the beginning.

She adds, though, that much effort might have been saved if this wouldn't be a first effort. "They say it's easier the second time around," she smiled, not bothering to add the expected "I hope so."

While the last-minute bustle continued Thursday, it probably won't stop until right up to starting time Saturday.

But you knew as you marveled at the regimentation of forms and files that things would be in good hands.

It undoubtedly will be the best tournament ever.

Cassius Admits He Did Carry Floyd in Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay admits now that he carried Floyd Patterson in their title fight last Nov. 22 at Las Vegas, Nev.

Previously, the heavyweight champion had denied he permitted Patterson to continue in their one-sided, cat-and-mouse affair which the referee finally halted in the 12th round.

Clay, also known as Muhammad Ali, made the admission in answering a question by sportscaster Howard Cosell while they were watching the fight film and recording a tape commentary. The film and commentary will be aired by the American Broadcasting Co. on the Wide World of Sports television program Saturday, Jan. 29.

Whitely Ford of the New York Yankees has the highest career winning percentage in major league pitching annals. With 232 victories and 97 setbacks his percentage is .705.
