East Shudders in Icy Blast, Two Feet of Snow Reported

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lashed by a storm piling up deep snow whipped by violent winds, the East Coast shuddered today in the icy grip of a record-breaking cold wave extending from Florida to Maine. The blizzard, and extreme cold in other areas, contributed to at least 72 deaths from highway accidents, fires and heart attacks in 16 states. The severe storm swept up the coast over the weekend, leaving cold behind and virtually paralyzing travel in major cities of the populous Northeast, including the nation's capital. Two states struck the hardest,

Delaware and Virginia, declared a state of emergency. Two feet of snow fell in some parts of Virginia and National Guard units were ordered to help clear clogged highways in Delaware. In northern and central Florida, the gigantic citrus crop was threatened by freezing temperatures. Thousands of travelers were inconvenienced as airports in Washington, New York, Baltimore, Boston, Philadelphia and Montreal were "socked in" by conditions that made take-offs and landings almost impossible on ice-caked runways.

Washington struggled under 16 inches of snow -- the worst accumulation in the city in 44 years. The storm dumped 12 inches of snow with four inches still on the ground from a storm a week ago.

Federal government and city employees in the capital were told to stay away from work in the morning except for emergencies. However, Congress was scheduled to meet.

State legislative sessions were canceled in Albany, N.Y., and Annapolis, Md.

With driving conditions extremely hazardous, schools were closed in many of the states. At Ithaca, N.Y., about 2,000 Cornell University students were given an extra day to prepare for mid-term examinations.

Icy roads and drifting snow were the main hazards, with visibility cut to zero in many areas. Portions of key state highways were shut down and hundreds of motorists were stranded.

In one of the worst traffic accidents, 40 persons were injured Sunday night in a series of chain-reaction collisions on New York's Thruway between Rochester and Buffalo.

Frigid temperatures and gale-force winds, rather than the snow, created the most misery in many states.

Fifteen- to 20-foot waves were reported in Narragansett Bay in Rhode Island, flooding low-lying coastal areas. Winds up to 60 miles an hour buffeted some parts of the New Jersey shore.

In Pittsburgh, officials at one church had to pour gasoline on the ground and light it to melt ice and snow so a handful of earth could be chipped away for a ground-breaking ceremony.

The cold blast dipped into the Deep South, as temperatures skidded to subzero levels in parts of Georgia. In Atlanta, a reading of three below zero was recorded, a low for the date.

The community of Russellville in north Alabama reported an all-time low of 24 degrees below zero.

Florida officials described the cold wave as their worst in 30 years and expressed fears that the state's citrus crop might be damaged. Growers on the northern fringe of the citrus belt set out smudge pots. Other crops, such as potatoes and cabbage, were damaged by below-freezing readings in many parts of the state.

The states, and their conditions, hardest hit by the storm included:

District of Columbia: Traffic paralyzed in 16 inches of snow the worst accumulation in 44 years. All public and parochial schools closed. Federal and city employees excused from work for at least part of today. Air, rail and road travel disrupted.

Maryland: Legislative session at Annapolis canceled. Snowfall drifting from 12 to 18 inches with gusts to seven feet.

Gale warnings on Chesapeake Bay. Friendship International Airport closed.

LBJ Puts New Peace Appeal Before Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson made a new Vietnamese peace bid to the United Nations today a few hours after American bombers resumed air strikes against North Viet Nam.

The renewal of bombing "does not mean the end of our pursuit of peace," Johnson told the nation and the world in a special broadcast.

The President announced that he had directed Ambassador Arthur Goldberg to seek an immediate meeting of the U.N. Security Council in order to make a full report on the Vietnamese situation and to present a resolution for new action toward peace.

The resolution, the President said, "can open the way to the conference table."

"This report and this resolution," Johnson declared, "will be responsive to the spirit of the renewed appeal of Pope Paul; that appeal has our full sympathy."

Johnson said he had ordered renewal of the bombing to save the lives of American, South Vietnamese and allied soldiers fighting Communist guerrilla forces in South Viet Nam. Those forces are supplied and reinforced by infiltration from the north.

He said he had carefully considered the counsel of his advisers.

"These advisers," the President said, "tell me that if continued immunity is given to all that supports North Vietnamese aggression, the cost in lives — Vietnamese, American and allied — will only be greatly increased."

"In the light of the words and actions of the government in Hanoi, it is our clear duty to do what we can to limit these costs."

The President asserted that bombing of North Viet Nam was renewed after it was determined that there was no readiness for peace on the part of Hanoi.

Nor has there been any support or understanding from Peking for U.S. efforts to open the road to peace, Johnson asserted.

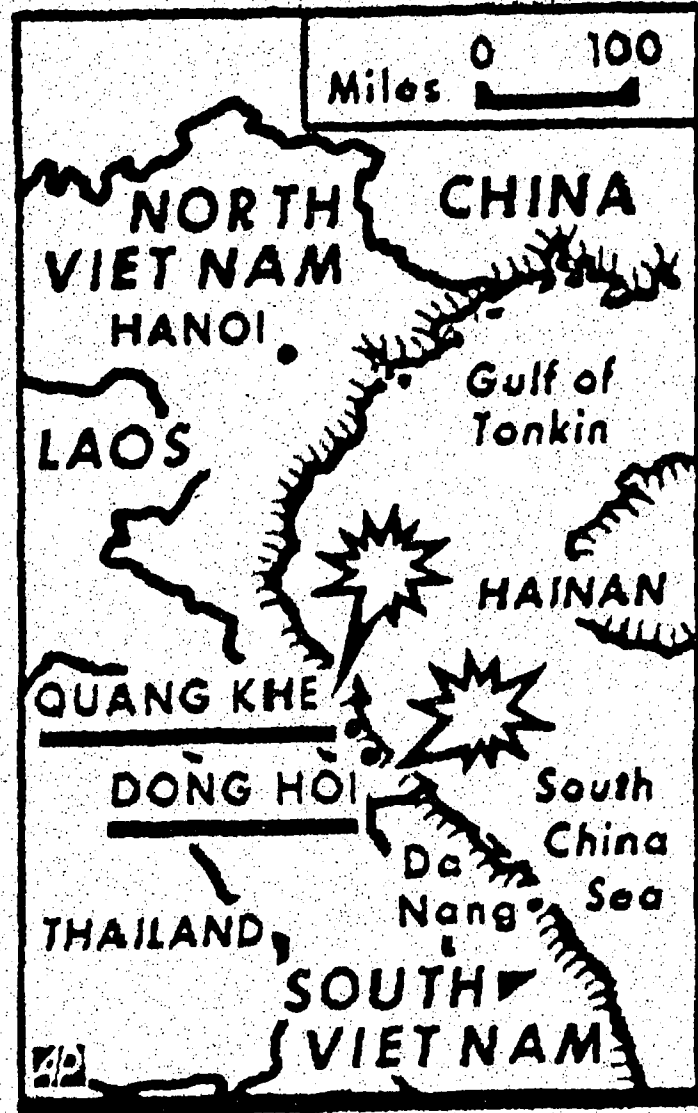

He said the United States does not regret its 37-day pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam — a pause that ended today. And, he declared:

"The end of the pause does not mean the end of our own pursuit of peace. That pursuit will be as determined and unrelenting as the pressure of our military strength on the field of battle."

"In our continuing pursuit of peace, I have instructed Ambassador (Arthur) Goldberg to ask for immediate meeting of the United Nations Security Council."

"He will present a full report on the situation in Viet Nam and a resolution which can open the way to the conference table. This report and this resolution will be responsive to the spirit of the renewed appeal of Pope Paul; that appeal has our full sympathy."

Johnson spoke on live radio and television from a theater in the White House less than 10 hours after the first word came through that the United States has begun bombing North Vietnamese targets.

Some Win War Quickly Feeling

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's decision to resume air attacks on North Vietnamese targets brought approval from congressional leaders today.

Some expressed hope the President could continue peace efforts. Others called for intensified military efforts to win the war quickly.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who had advised Johnson to hold off bombing resumption, said in a statement that the President "has my sympathy and understanding and I will do my best to support him to the best of my ability."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and another foe of the bombing resumption, said now that Johnson has made his decision "we must support our fighting men in the field."

"I hope, however, that the President will allow as much room as possible to continue the search for a means of negotiating the end of the war."

House Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan, saying "the President had no other choice" but to resume the bombing, supported Johnson's new move to bring the conflict before the United Nations.

And Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said "the President had the choice of maintaining the position that we held and of going in there and doing business." He has decided to do business.

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Russell B. Long of Louisiana said Johnson "had no choice" but to resume bombing, adding that "the people of this country would much prefer a policy of fighting to win than a policy of surrender."

Discoverer Of Krebiozen Is Acquitted

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Slevan Durovic, discoverer of the controversial substance Krebiozen, and the Krebiozen Research Foundation, were acquitted on all counts today of fraud and conspiracy charges in promotion of the drug.

Thus all five defendants in the trial—longest criminal trial in the U.S. District Court in Chicago—were acquitted of federal charges involving mail fraud, conspiracy and other charges in connection with their work with Krebiozen. The substance is taken by some cancer patients.

The jury Saturday had freed Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, the chief medical backer of the drug; Marko Durovic, a lawyer and brother of the doctor acquitted today; and Dr. William F. P. Phillips, a general practitioner who had prescribed Krebiozen for some patients.

Russ Launch Luna Nine

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has launched Luna 9 toward the moon, Tass reported today. It apparently was another attempt to make a soft landing on the moon with an instrument package.

The space probes numbered through Luna 8 were attempts at soft landings. All failed. Getting instruments down in working order so they can report back from the moon's surface is an essential task before men can try to land there. The United States plans to try its first unmanned soft landing on the moon later this year.

Area South of Hanoi Complex Is Plastered

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The United States unleashed its bombers against North Viet Nam today after holding off air attacks for 37 days while vainly trying to bring the Communists to the peace table.

The first waves of U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hit bridges, ferries, barges, warehouse areas and storage facilities well south of the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial area. Later, flights pummeled highway No. 1, a main artery along the coast, wrecking a truck convoy and destroying a bridge, a U.S. spokesman reported.

The later attacks were centered around Vinh, on North Viet Nam's central coast.

On the ground, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces stepped up their offensives against the Viet Cong, but the Communists inflicted heavy losses on a militia unit and Red guns hammered Allied positions.

A U.S. spokesman said Navy pilots claimed destruction of a bridge about 10 miles southeast of Dong Hoi and damage to the approach to the Quang Khe ferry landing about 20 miles northwest of Dong Hoi.

Bad weather prevented estimates of the damage in other raids. Spokesmen declined to say how many sorties were flown or what types of bombs were dropped.

One Navy plane was shot down as the raiders encountered heavy ground fire. But a U.S. Air Force helicopter rescued the pilot unharmed under machine-gun fire. He was Lt. Cmdr. Sylvester Chumley of Lemore, Calif.

Chumley's A4 Skyhawk jet went down about a mile off Dong Hoi. The Communists peppered the water around him for 35 minutes as he waited to be rescued.

"I'm glad to see you guys. Now, can you turn off that machine-gun fire?" Chumley told his rescuers. The rescue plane was piloted by Lt. Col. Robert E. Freshwater of Canton, Ohio.

Radio Hanoi claimed the North Vietnamese shot down five American planes and damaged 10.

Resumption of the bombing had been expected for several days because of repeated statements from Washington that the halt in the strikes had failed to bring a favorable response from North Viet Nam.

Allied intelligence reports said the North Vietnamese made use of the bombing lull to rebuild roads, railways and bridges destroyed by U.S. planes in the past year. Aerial photographs revealed pontoon bridges strung across rivers, and heavy traffic has been spotted moving toward South Viet Nam over the past two weeks.

On the ground, the Viet Cong backed by regulars of the North Vietnamese forces were goaded into action by Allied troops who have penetrated Communist hideouts in the central coastal plains which had not been disturbed for 15 years.

Operation Masher, the U.S. 1st Cavalry's hedge-hopping push around Bong Son, about 300 miles northeast of Saigon, was heavily engaged for the fifth straight day in a firefight the Viet Cong used as a withdrawal action.

A storm of automatic fire and mortar shelling struck a battalion of troops at 6 a.m. and lasted for an hour. A spokesman said the Viet Cong used the barrage as cover to slip out of what could have been a death trap.

Most of them got away but the cavalry troops counted 292 Communist dead after four days of heavy fighting with main force Viet Cong and the 18th Regiment of the North Vietnamese 325th division. A spokesman said another 200 Reds may have been killed in air and artillery attacks.

Masher was joined by Vietnamese government airborne troops who in two days have killed 59 Viet Cong.

D-Day Near For Rolvaag on Redistricting

ST. PAUL (AP) — U.S. "D-Day" soon for the Governor's Reapportionment Commission, which has promised to deliver its new plan for legislative redistricting to Gov. Karl Rolvaag by Friday.

The commission conceded after Saturday's sessions that it has given up an "idealistic" approach. Instead, it hopes to sell legislators on a plan which will avoid contests between incumbents.

Franklin Rogers, Mankato, chairman of the commission, said the subcommittee handling the metropolitan Twin Cities lineup hopes to get unanimous approval of its plan soon.

Rogers said the commission had agreed on "as few open districts as possible"—one of the demands of Conservatives in the legislature. An "open" district would be one drawn so that it contained no incumbent of either party.

Rogers said he hoped for a final plan in which no district would deviate by more than 10 per cent from ideal size, with an average deviation of six per cent.

Court to Review Hoffa Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to a limited review of James R. Hoffa's conviction in 1964 on jury-tampering charges.

In a brief order, the court said it would hear the teamsters' Union president's appeal on one question alone. That is:

"Whether evidence obtained by the government by means of deceptively placing a secret informer in the quarters and councils of a defendant during one criminal trial so violates the defendant's fourth, fifth and Sixth Amendment rights that suppression of such evidence is required in a subsequent trial of the same defendant on a different charge."

Hoffa asked reversal by the court of his conviction. He was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000.

Three co-defendants, each sentenced to three years in prison, filed separate appeals. Their petitions to be heard also were granted, limited to one question. The three are Thomas Ewing Parks, Larry Campbell and Ewing King.

Hoffa and the three others were tried in federal court in Chattanooga, Tenn., on charges of tampering with the jury in Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville. The Nashville trial ended in a mistrial when jurors could not agree.

The Justice Department opposed hearings for the four men. "Today's ruling means the court will hear arguments on the cases."

Their action caught base guards by surprise and law enforcement officers couldn't decide whether federal, county or city police had jurisdiction.

"We are here because we are hungry and cold and we have no jobs or land," the Negroes said in a statement. "We don't want charity. We are willing to work for ourselves if given a chance."

Greenville police, sheriff's deputies and FBI agents rushed to the base, which ended operations last March.

Officers said about 35 persons were inside a one-story building near the main gate. A spokesman for the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, a civil rights group, said there were 54 in the group.

Not Enough Time

Young Dairy Farmer Cited

LEWISTON, Minn. (Special) — Despite subzero temperatures, more than 100 attended the annual Jaycees banquet at St. Rose of Lima parish hall here Saturday night to honor Russell Wirt, who was named Outstanding Young Farmer of the Year.

Wirt was presented the award by John Halvorson, assistant Winona County agent. Roger Baer, who was in charge of arrangements, presided. The guest speaker, Bert Hanson, Vernon Center, discussed opportunities in agriculture.

VERN YETZER, Plainview, regional Jaycees vice president, spoke on Jaycee Week and how the organization functions. Susan Ties, Rochester, formerly of Lewiston entertained with songs from "The Sound of Music."

Wirt, 34, his wife, Donna, and their four children, Duane, Dennis, Douglas and Kimberly, live on their 240-acre Maple Leaf Farm southeast of Lewiston. He maintains a 50-cow prize Guernsey herd and raises over 300 hogs each year. He has exhibited the grand champion Guernsey cow at the Minnesota State Fair the last two years and was selected to display at the Dairy Congress at Waterloo, Iowa, last year.

The Wirt herd won the county DHIA trophy for the highest butterfat production three years straight and received the Gold Star Breeders Award from the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

In 1964 the Wirts were named the Minnesota June Dairy Month family.

RUSSELL operates the farm with the help of his father, Elmer. Maple Leaf Farm was established by his great-grandfather three years before Minnesota achieved statehood in 1858. The Wirt children are the fifth generation of Wirts to live here.

Russell is secretary of the DHIA board and past president of the Minnesota Guernsey Breeders Association.

Wisconsin to Survey All Dams in State

MADISON, Wis. — The legislative council conservation committee has requested the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin for a complete inventory of existing dams, their age, condition and ownership. The commission says there are about 1,000 such structures.

The problem was brought up by Assemblyman Donald Iverson of Hudson, who asked that all river dams in the state be checked for soundness because of the possibility of more damaging spring floods.

Iverson, a former Durand high school teacher, says two dams on St. Croix river tributaries were heavily damaged by 1965 flooding. The legislative committee has asked the attorney general for an opinion on what steps the state could take legally.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Extra Activities Can Hurt Grades

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
University of Southern California

While we have held consistently that learning is the responsibility of the pupil, this by no means covers the whole problem.

The scheduling of extra-curricular activities—whether they be athletics, school plays, student councils or glee clubs—is an administrative responsibility. These activities frequently are allowed to interfere with classroom attendance.

Sometimes a combination of circumstances, all of which should be under administrative control, affect a student's grades adversely. For example, consider the plight of Julia, a ninth-grade student in a junior high school.

JULIA is a popular girl. She is active in student affairs and also sings in the Glee club. Just prior to the Christmas holidays, meetings of the Student Council and Glee club on two successive days forced Julia's absence from algebra and Spanish classes. In these two subjects, Julia was barely maintaining a passing grade.

She made an appointment with her algebra teacher for an after-school conference. He limited the conference to five minutes since he had been assigned to the preparation of a holiday program which was consuming all of his out-of-class time.

An algebra examination was scheduled which, it was announced, would count for one-third of the final grade in the course. Thus, Julia was to be tested without the benefit of classwork on some materials. This series of events was the responsibility of the administrators of the school.

WHILE THIS actual example is an unusual combination of circumstances, it points up the fact that extra-curricular activities can affect scholarship. A student's success in school is measured by his success in the classroom and the grades he receives.

It is the responsibility of the principal to schedule and coordinate out-of-class activities so that they will in no way interfere with classroom work. He is the only person in a position to accomplish this. Neither the student nor the teacher has any control over such schedules.

The student could, of course, avoid participating in out-of-class activities and thus solve that portion of the problem for himself. However, if these activities can be justified and are valuable to the pupils involved, they should be scheduled in such a way that every student so inclined could avail himself of the opportunity without being penalized.

The fact that the majority of students participating in extra-curricular activities make above-average grades does not relieve school principals of their responsibility to protect those who cannot afford the loss of classtime.

1,521 Cases In Fillmore County Court

PRESTON, Minn. — A total of 1,521 new cases was brought before Fillmore County Judge George O. Murray in probate, juvenile and municipal court in 1965.

Number of estates closed in probate court was 142, with an appraised value of $2,678,840. During the fiscal year from June 1, 1964, to June 1, 1965, inheritance taxes collected totaled $66,591, of which 20 percent or $13,318.24 was returned to the county.

NEW ESTATES coming before the court in 1965 included 47 wills; 66 administration; 10, special administration; 2, summary distribution; 2, descent of lands; 4, reopened for omitted property, and 30 guardianships, for a total of 181.

Fees from the court going to the county included $336, law library, and $1,137 for certified copies, for a total of $1,473.

Twelve mental illness and senility hearings were conducted and 12 inebriety cases. Juvenile cases included 13 adoptions; 11, dependency and neglect; one, parental consent; 47, delinquency, 8 of which were transferred to other counties; and 117 traffic, for a total of 189.

Hearings conducted during the year, not including municipal court, totaled 702.

IN MUNICIPAL court, Judge Murray heard 92 criminal cases; 8, civil; 1,017, traffic; 7, village ordinance, and 3, game and fish, for a total of 1,127.

Criminal fines imposed totaled $1,130; traffic fines, $15,169.60; village ordinance fines, $220, and game and fish fines, $300. Civil filing fees brought in $65 and law library fees, $20 in this department.

Of the traffic fines, $9481 went to the state and $5,688.60 to the county.

Bill Merrill's
Something to Live By

You may be well off and don't know it, while worrying whether you will get all you have coming to you. Be my guest as we weigh some values on the scale of life in today's "Something to Live By."

Many a family has had serious wedges, so to speak, driven into it by jealousy, selfishness, and some old-fashioned caniving. Often battle lines are drawn over the holdings of an elderly member that promises, by the virtue of his wealth, to leave a fortune to someone. Speculation, insincere attentions, and emotion-filled actions cause a cloud of despair to arise, making in general a sickening situation. Perhaps I'm an idealist, but while I'm sure any of us might enjoy something for nothing, I question that an inheritance can be as rewarding as making one's own plans for a happy life, and then pursuing those plans.

OCCASIONALLY I encounter, in my comings and going, people who, having gained a family legacy of some worth, often try to make of themselves something they are not. I have asked myself, "What would be the lot of this one if he hadn't inherited his stake in life?"

Now don't misunderstand me. Having the lot in life of being the child of a wealthy person isn't necessarily bad. But whether you are born into it, or you earn your way in, you can only experience the true honor of the state or office by the merit of your own achievements. As the proverb of Solomon so aptly states, "As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, so honor is not seemly for a fool."

Again the book of Old points out, "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." So often the pleasures of gain achieved through selfish, contriving methods are short-lived, and when gained, it is so resented. Pleasure is lost to hate, deceit, and discord, while a planned and purposeful life grants satisfaction rich in purpose and fulfillment.

THE QUESTION is, are we really getting what's coming to us in exchange for what we put into this thing called life? Perhaps in some cases, folks are failing to realize that they're not really deserving of what they have in blessings. In this sense, many are well off. To receive just what they deserve, might fall far short of what they have.

Houston County NFO Re-elects

CALEDONIA, Minn. — John Peterson, Hokah, was re-elected president of the Houston County NFO at the organization's annual meeting.

Other officers elected: LaVern Massmann, Caledonia, vice president; Arnold Ideker, Brownsville, secretary, and Julius Lehmann, La Crescent, treasurer. Arnold Goetzinger, Caledonia, was elected district delegate and Charles Horihan, Hokah, alternate delegate.

Heading the meat bargaining board is Robert Welsch, New Albin, Iowa. Other board members are Ray Jennings, Leo McCormick and Clarence Goetzinger, Caledonia, and John Schulte, Houston.

Vernon Mickel, zone meat board chairman, discussed locating a livestock collection point in the Caledonia area to better serve the county membership.

Members scheduled regular meetings for the second Monday of each month. Next meeting will be Feb. 14 at Caledonia City Hall.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 110. At all drug counters.

WHS Players Win First In Regional

The Winona Senior High School one-act play cast will compete in Saturday's Minnesota State High School Drama Festival after winning top honors in last weekend's regional contest at Northfield, Minn.

The Winona entry, "The American Dream," with a cast of Patricia Vickery, Robert Gaskin, Pamela Hafner, Judi Hanson and James Doyle—directed by Warren Magnuson of the high school—was judged the winner in regional competition in which four district winners participated.

MISS Vickery was selected for the "Best Actress" award of the regional tournament.

Winona won its place in the regional by finishing first among 11 district entries in a contest two weeks ago.

Northfield was designated as the alternate entry in the state festival. Other regional entries Saturday were Harmony and Grand Meadow.

There will be eight schools, representing each of the state high school regions, competing in the state festival to which Richfield High School will be host.

EACH OF the eight entries will be judged on a rating basis with A, B or C ratings given on the basis of performance. No winner, as such, will be named.

Winona in 1964 was an alternate state festival entry.

Saturday's state festival will be a day-long event with Winona in the lead of the eight schools to stage its production. A banquet for all participants will follow the competition.

Charge Reduced In Robbery at Merchants Hotel

A 23-year-old Winona man pleaded guilty today in District Court to a charge of simple robbery in connection with the Sept. 30 holdup of the Merchants Hotel, 4th and Walnut streets.

Donald T. Nelson, 23, 1893 W. 4th St., will undergo a presentence examination ordered by Judge Arnold Hatfield before his case is disposed of.

NELSON had been charged with armed robbery, but County Attorney S. A. Sawyer explained to Judge Hatfield that the charge had been reduced when investigation showed that, if Nelson indeed had a gun, he had not used it in the robbery.

The simple robbery charge includes Nelson's threat of the use of force to take $41 in cash from the night clerk at the hotel. The charge to which Nelson pleaded guilty carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison. Armed robbery carries a 20-year maximum.

Nelson told the judge, "I really don't know why I did it." He was not broke and was working at the time of the holdup, Nelson said. His only previous criminal record consisted of two speeding charges, Nelson said.

NELSON is presently free on $2,500 bond. Judge Hatfield ordered bond continued at the same amount until Nelson's sentencing.

Attorney Dennis A. Challen is privately retained by Nelson. Challen reserved a statement on his client's case until the day of sentencing.

State Encourages Early Application For Boat License

The state boat and water safety director called today on Minnesota boat owners to renew their licenses well in advance of the boating season.

Milton W. Johnson noted that his department had received 50,000 applications in the two days following the fishing opener last year and had been unable to finish processing them before the season was well advanced.

Boat owners who operated their boats without renewed licenses were in violation of the law, Johnson noted. This year, he said, the licensing law would be "strictly enforced."

For this reason, he urged boaters to get their applications in now if their licenses expired Dec. 31 — as most do.

Shortages Found At First National

Information concerning irregularities in three customers' bank accounts at First National Bank is under investigation today by the U.S. district attorney, A. E. Stoa, bank president, announced.

Stoa reported that the shortages in these three accounts may run as much as $20,000. However, he emphasized that the entire amount is insured and that the customers involved will not suffer any loss.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is investigating the irregularities in cooperation with District Attorney Miles Lord and bank officials, Stoa said. Lord and the FBI men work from a Minneapolis base.

In view of that investigation, said Stoa, he could not reveal the name of anyone which might be connected with the shortages.

THE BANK issued a statement on the matter today, excerpts from which follow: "The First National Bank of Winona regretfully reports that during the past week irregularities were discovered concerning three customers' accounts at the bank. These irregularities were presumably created by actions of a bank employee.

"At the present time, a full scale audit of the entire bank is being conducted to clarify the entire picture. The audit is in addition to the daily auditing which the bank conducts on a continuing basis.

"The bank regrets the incident and the inconvenience caused to some of its customers, but does want to re-emphasize that there will be no loss to any depositor, and that these irregularities in no manner affect the soundness of the bank."

STOA NOTED that a regular auditing procedure of the bank had been expanded temporarily in order to give officials a clearer picture of what has taken place.

The procedure is that of sending letters to customers asking for direct verification of their balances with the figure arrived at by the bank. This is done on a small basis regularly, Stoa said; but up to 20 percent of customers in some loan departments of the bank will receive such letters shortly.

Receipt of a letter does not indicate that the account in question is involved with the irregularities, Stoa said. Similar procedure is followed by banks throughout the country, he added.

Stoa added that among the precautions taken by the First National Bank over the years to prevent or deter tampering with accounts are audits from three independent sources: The banks own full-time auditing staff, the national banking examiners and the Northwest Bancorporation examiners and auditors.

THE BANK also carries a full range of insurance as protection for its customers and itself, Stoa said. For example, he noted, each employee is covered by a $3 million fidelity bond.

Two County Deputies Added

Sheriff George L. Fort announced today the hiring, effective Feb. 1, of two new deputies.

They are: Fritz Wilson, St. Charles, formerly of the St. Charles police force, and Bruce W. Stanton, 63 W. Howard St., a former member of the Winona police force and now a truck driver for a local construction firm.

The sheriff said that Wilson came to him with very good recommendations and that, in addition, he has known Wilson personally for some time.

Stanton, the sheriff said, had a good record as a city patrolman.

The sheriff said that he is still looking for a third additional deputy. District Judge Arnold Hatfield recently authorized the additions to the sheriff's present staff of seven deputies.

$3,500 Suit Settled in District Court

Attorneys settled a $3,500 suit over a promissory note and allegedly unpaid-for goods that had been scheduled for trial today in District Court.

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed. Texaco, Inc., brought suit last spring against William T. Peehler, 376 E. 2nd St., and Michael G. Peehler, same address, seeking to collect $1,212 allegedly due on a $2,100 promissory note.

The suit also alleged that the Peheers owed the corporation $2,287 for goods, wares and merchandise supplied between Aug. 16, 1963 and Aug. 31, 1964. William Peehler allegedly had guaranteed his son's debt for these items.

The law firm of Wagner & Johnston represented Texaco, and the Winona firm of Hull & Hull represented the Peheers.

Explosion in Rock Island County Jail

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — An explosion heard in nearby Davison, Iowa ripped through the Rock Island County Jail just before midnight Sunday, scattering a destructive shower of bricks.

But officials said nobody was injured and the 47 prisoners in the jail, just west of the Rock Island business district, were quickly transferred. The prisoners — including three juveniles and two women — were taken to city jails in Rock Island, Moline and East Moline.

Fire Chief Glen Ayres said the blast was apparently caused by an accumulation of gas in a boiler which also serves the county courthouse across the street.

State Traffic Toll Up to 42

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Minnesota traffic fatalities for the year stood at 42 today as a result of Saturday accidents in which four persons died. The toll through this date in 1965 was 60.

A head-on crash four miles east of Perham, Minn., took the life of John W. Thiede, 34, Shakopee. Seven other persons including Thiede's wife and three children and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thiede of Motley, Minn., were injured.

Albert Kayeska, 70, Excelsior, Minn., was killed in a collision on Highway 6 near Excelsior. Other victims of Saturday accidents were Gene L. Sierant, 23, Minneapolis, and Thomas L. Murlowski, 23, New Brighton, killed in an accident near Elk River.

Karrell Kirchenwitz, 23, Maple Plain, Minn., was one of three persons killed in a head-on collision Saturday near Columbia, Mo.

IN DEATH OF MAN

Fire Started in Chair, Investigators Conclude

By TERRY BORMANN
Daily News Staff Writer

Fire Chief Ervin R. Laufenburger said today at 1 p.m. that investigation appears to show that the fire which killed Chester J. Cierzan, 58, started in the chair in which he probably was sitting Sunday evening.

The chair had burned down through the floor of Cierzan's sitting room, and flames apparently went into a cold-air duct nearby. This allowed the fire to spread underneath the floor, burning out joists and flooring in the center of the room, including the area above the heating plant.

LAUFENBURGER investigated the fire's cause this morning with Assistant State Fire Marshal Gunnar Thang and Winona Fire Marshal Cleo Keiper.

Flames had spread through the walls to the attic area of the Cierzan home when neighbors reported the blaze.

Cierzan died of smoke inhalation and lack of oxygen, according to Dr. R. B. Tweedy, coroner. Fire Marshal Cleo Keiper said today that the fire had burned "at least three hours" in the Cierzan home at 324 Mankato Ave. before being discovered.

KEIPER compared Sunday's fatal fire to the one which killed Louis Glena Jan. 9. Both fires had burned for long periods in tightly sealed areas, lowering the oxygen content of the air and producing large quantities of dense smoke.

Both men had attempted to escape their smoke-filled quarters but were apparently unable to find the exits.

Cierzan lived in a one-story frame home. He was found dead in a front bedroom of the house, about 30 feet from where the fire had eaten a 10-foot hole through the floor of a sort of sitting room.

Cierzan had been dead for hours when the fire was reported about 10 p.m. as a chimney blaze by a neighbor, according to the fire department.

THE NEIGHBOR had spotted dense smoke coming from around the chimney, but the first hose company on the scene saw that this was only the "tip of the iceberg." — an intensely hot fire had been burning inside the Cierzan home for some time.

Learning that someone was in the home, a fireman attempted to enter but was unable to locate the dead man.

The first companies on the scene had seen smoke rolling out from under the eaves and through the roof itself. When the front door was opened, the firemen could see flames on the floor of the house, according to the fire marshal.

Because of the intense heat in the house and the dense smoke, firemen had to "knock down" the fire before they could hope to search the home for Cierzan, Keiper said. (Knock down of a fire includes lowering the air temperature around a fire by spraying water into the air and reducing the flames themselves to a sort of smoldering state.)

THE "KNOCK down" took a few minutes, according to Keiper; and it was another few minutes before Cierzan was found lying on the floor of the home's front bedroom. He had been dead for some time. Firemen were at the scene until about 12:45 a.m.

Keiper said that the bulk of

WHERE FIRE GOT ITS START . . . Firemen work around the hole in a sitting room of the Chester Cierzan home where a fire got started Sunday evening. Cierzan apparently tried to get away from the source of intense heat and dense smoke in this room, but firemen found him dead in a front bedroom about 30 feet away. The hole in the floor is directly above Cierzan's basement heating unit. (Daily News photo)

U.S. Forces In Viet Nam at Korean Total

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. military forces in Viet Nam are approaching the peak strength of Americans who fought in the Korean War and may top that total by the end of this year.

Ashore in Viet Nam, according to the most recently announced official figures, are about 197,300 Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard men.

But when other forces assigned to fight or support the Viet Nam war from other neighboring locations are added, the over-all total runs up to about 313,000.

At peak strength, in mid-1953 as hostilities tapered to an end, the United States had about 472,000 men deployed in Korea or conducting action from bases and waters in adjacent areas.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Defense Preparedness subcommittee, predicted in a Jackson, Miss., speech Thursday that by the end of this year U.S. manpower in the Viet Nam war very well may be 350,000 to 400,000. He said that he would not be surprised if ultimately 600,000 men were required.

Although President Johnson did not make specific predictions of manpower increases in his State of the Union and budget messages to Congress, he indicated that the American effort in Viet Nam may mount. He has said the United States will provide "whatever forces and equipment are needed."

Pentagon statisticians date U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war from Jan. 1, 1961. At that time there were about 770 American military men in South Viet Nam serving only as advisers. Not until five years had elapsed did the total of U.S. forces "in-country" reach the approximate 197,300 total.

The 197,300 lines up this way: Army 126,000; Navy (ashore) 9,000; Marines 39,000; Air Force 23,000; Coast Guard 300.

To this in-country force should be added: about 70,000 aboard ships of the 7th Fleet which launches air strikes and provides shore bombardment; another 8,000 on the island of Guam from where B-52 heavy bombers take off on tactical bombing strikes against Viet Cong targets in South Viet Nam; about 30,000 in Okinawa where troops move in and out in support of the Viet Nam war; perhaps up to 15,000 U.S. personnel in Thailand who have a role in the Viet Nam war as well as helping strengthen the security of Thailand.

Fire Destroys Plainview Elevator

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special) — Fire which started in the Dill Elevator at Plainview Saturday about 4:45 p.m. was still burning this morning and will continue smoldering for several days, Manager David Andreen said this morning.

The huge building, some two-thirds of a block long, 75 feet high and with a capacity of 30,000 bushels, is a complete loss.

JOHN DILL, Jr., Minneapolis, owner of the elevator here and the Dill elevators at Eyota, Wabasha, Janesville, Cannon Falls and Elgin, wasn't available this morning to give an estimate of loss. Insurance was carried.

Destroyed with the building were approximately 13,000 bushels of soybeans and 15,000 bushels of corn; they are still smoldering.

Employees had worked until 3:30 p.m. Saturday. Everett Kabbage, one of them, made a special trip to the building about 4:45 p.m. to get some ground feed for a customer, and when he opened the door, flames were shooting down the stairway.

Kabbage put in the alarm, and managed to save books and papers from the office.

Andreen said there is no way of knowing now the cause of the fire. An oil barrel stored in the building exploded with tremendous force about 8 p.m., shooting new flames into the air.

THREE trucks from Plainview fire department were joined within minutes by two trucks and a panel from the Elgin volunteers. However, flames had reached such proportions that all firemen could do was watch and protect adjoining property.

At the peak of the fire, the wind fortunately was from the north. Trees to the south caught fire from driven sparks but the flames were quenched. Firemen periodically checked the roofs of the homes back of the trees in this area of 1st Avenue.

Tons of beans and corn spilled into the alley north of the building. As firemen sprayed the building and grain, the sub-zero weather froze the water into glaze ice.

Had the wind been from the south, light and telephone service in the area would have been destroyed. Current was disconnected at the transformer bank on a pole easterly across the street from the elevator. It supplied Dill Elevator and Plainview Produce only.

MARVIN Richardson, manager of Interstate Power, Plainview, praised firemen for hanging down the poles and lines so the heavy power load remained intact. After the danger to the lines was over, power was restored to Plainview Produce.

Firemen also preserved the telephone cable.

Smoke from Plainview's biggest fire in recent years hung like a heavy fog over the southern and eastern part of town Saturday evening. Firemen worked all Saturday night and Sunday in five-hour shifts to keep flames from spreading.

They were warmed with hamburgers, prepared at the Amer-

Burton Sold Up River, Gal Says

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The affable Mervyn LeRoy's previewing his latest film, "Moment to Moment," around N.Y. with the help of ex-British "Goldfinger" gal Honor Blackman... who insisted during an interview with me that no press agent be present... she wanted "free speech."

"Richard Burton," she said, for example, picking on one of my favorite actors, and also hers, "has sold his soul up the river for money. He hasn't practiced his craft in a long time. We were in a picture about '52. He had such high aims. Then, plunk, he turned so commercial."

Lewiston to Open Bids on Street Project Feb. 9

LEWISTON, Minn. — Lewiston Village Board will open bids Feb. 9 at 8 p.m. on this year's work on its long-range street program.

The work will consist of 5,475 cubic yards of excavation and 1,781 cubic yards of fill, 35,828 square feet of 4-inch and 10,320 square feet of 6-inch sidewalk, 9,080 lineal feet of curb and gutter, 5,040 cubic yards of crushed rock base, furnished and placed, and 2,360 tons of bituminous surfacing.

Plans are in the hands of James J. Kleinschmidt, Winona engineer.

JERTSON PROMOTED

RUSHFORD, Minn. — Allen Jertson, former Rushford resident and graduate of the high school here, was promoted to assistant cashier at the annual meeting of Northwestern National Bank of Rochester. From 1956-60 he was employed at Merchants National Bank, Winona; he joined the Rochester bank in 1961.

They'll Do It Every Time

DEAR ABBY:

Won't Follow Own Advice

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My father is the most stubborn man in the world. Nobody can tell him anything. He had seat belts put in our car as soon as they came out, and he gave us kids a big long lecture on how we should always use them, but HE never uses them himself. When I tell him he forgot to fasten his seat belt, he says he is going only a short distance and it doesn't pay to bother. I have tried to tell him that it takes only a few seconds to fasten a seat belt and it might save his life, but he gets mad at me for speaking up to him. He has a very ugly temper, and I have to be careful what I say to him or I'll end up with a fat lip. How can a 14-year-old boy tell his father to practice what he preaches?

FOURTEEN

DEAR FOURTEEN: Tell him that the National Safety Council estimates that most automobile accidents occur within 25 miles of the victims' homes. But don't tell him to practice what he preaches or you're apt to get a "belt" in the chops.

DEAR ABBY: My in-laws' religion is against smoking, drinking and playing cards. Ours is not. In the evening we will have a cigarette, and perhaps a drink. And if we have company, we will play cards. His parents never call, they just drop in unexpectedly, which puts us in an embarrassing spot. My husband expects me and our guests to hide the drinks and cards. I think this is wrong. Do you think I should do as my husband asks and live this falsehood? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Your in-laws surely must know that YOUR religion does not prohibit smoking, drinking and card-playing. And if they don't, it's time they did. "Hiding" the evidence, as your husband asks, is degrading and deceitful. And he's probably not getting away with it anyway. Tell him to grow up and act like a big boy.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married since last August and we are still living with my mother-in-law. I have painted two apartments and my wife wouldn't move into either one of them. She just won't leave her mother. We are expecting in a couple of months. I love her, Abby, and she says she loves me. I want to live alone with my own new family. What do you advise?

DEAR TROUBLED: Unless your wife leaves her mother voluntarily to make a home for you, it won't be much of a home. She is still her mother's little girl, and may need some professional counseling to fit her for the role of wife and mother. The Family Service Association provides this kind of counseling. See them.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE PATIENT'S RELATIVE": If you want to help him, let him know that you are confident that he is capable of recovering. Offer no suggestions. To tell a person who is undergoing psychiatric treatment that all he needs to get well is "common sense," and that permitting his doctor to probe into his early, unhappy childhood is causing his depression, could do the patient more harm than good. Do not undermine the patients' confidence in his doctor. Simply let him know that you "believe in him," love him, and admire him for his courageous fight to get well.

Judge Refuses to Lift La Crosse Restraining Edict

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — Circuit Judge Lowell Schoengarth rejected a motion by La Crosse City Atty. John Flanagan Friday to lift a temporary restraining order which forbids the City Council to bar newsmen from caucus sessions.

The order was obtained by the La Crosse Tribune, radio stations WKBH and WLTX and television station WKBH. Judge Schoengarth, who was assigned to the case after city officials filed a writ of prejudice against Circuit Judge Lincoln Neprud, ordered both sides to file briefs before April 1 on whether the injunction should be made permanent.

Snowmobiles Can't Use Highway Land In Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. — In Wisconsin snowmobiles may not be registered as motor vehicles and they may not be used on public highways, the Motor Vehicle Department reminded.

One reason is that a vehicle having metal cleats striking the road surface generally may not be used on Wisconsin highways, Dan F. Schutz, state motor vehicle safety director, said.

Also, Schutz pointed out that the standard snowmobile does not meet the requirement of a motor vehicle, so it cannot be registered or considered as such, and an unregistered vehicle cannot be operated on the highways.

The term "highway" covers the entire area between the boundary lines of a road, which includes highway shoulders and ditches — usually right up to the fences, the safety director said.

Twin Cities Tax Experts Begin Study

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A meeting of tax experts in mid-February will examine ways of getting more revenue for the financially hard-pressed municipalities in the greater Twin Cities area.

A donation of $50,000, announced by Dayton's Department store Saturday, will go in part to sponsor the gathering of local and national tax experts.

A seven-man committee was named recently by Bloomington Mayor Donald Hasselberg to look into the possibilities of such a study.

Donald C. Dayton, chairman of the board of Dayton's, said the firm made the grant at the request of Hasselberg's committee. And Dayton explained the donation in a statement, which said in part:

"We make this offer in behalf of our company because we are impressed with the need for such a study. We recognize that our entire industrial development future, and our ability to attract jobs and payrolls to this area depend upon how we solve our problems, not any longer on an individual local basis, but on an area-wide basis."

Dr. Walter Heller, economics professor and the University of Minnesota, is assisting in lining up the tax experts for the meeting.

Communist Rebuffs Only Answer to U.S. Peace Offensive

Raids Stopped For 37 Days to Permit Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Months of pondering how to bring peace to Viet Nam. Secret sessions with top U.S. strategists. Day-to-day decisions on withholding bombing. A flood of U.S. presidential envoys abroad. A Communist rebuff. A BIG DEBATE at home.

These are major ingredients of the 37-day peace offensive which came to a shattering end today with President Johnson's order resuming the air strikes on North Viet Nam.

Here is a detailed look at what went on — backstage, sometimes in tight secrecy, as well as out in the open:

For the background, hark back to last spring. On April 7, 1965, Johnson set forth, in a speech at Johns Hopkins University, his offer of "unconditional discussions" for a peaceful settlement. His April 7 terms remain basically the U.S. position today: the United States wants nothing except independence and security for South Viet Nam, and "will do everything necessary to reach that objective." The Reds denounced his proposal as a cover-up for more U.S. "aggression."

In May he ordered a five-day halt in air strikes on North Viet Nam to test further the Communist response. Hanoi refused even to receive a U.S. diplomatic note conveyed through the British.

Through the summer and into the fall critics of Johnson's Viet Nam policy, including Red regimes outside of Hanoi and Peking, contended the May pause had not been long enough to give Hanoi a reasonable chance to respond. Washington asked what Hanoi would do if the bombing stopped, and got no answer. But administration strategists kept the possibility in mind.

On Nov. 11 the issue was raised in secrecy at a conference at the LBJ Ranch in Texas. Gathered with the President were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and presidential assistants. McGeorge Bundy and Jack Valenti.

The arguments for and against suspending the air attacks on the Communist North at that time kept recurring in following weeks and into the period of the peace offensive itself.

Against a bombing lull: North Viet Nam could more freely infiltrate and supply the Reds in the South, Washington would be losing an ace card in any negotiations, Hanoi would misread the pause as a sign of U.S. weakness, resuming the bombing would cause serious diplomatic and public opinion problems for the United States.

For the pause: The bombing so far had not stopped the North's aggression against the South or produced Communist interest in negotiating, the air strikes could be resumed in time to avoid serious military loss, Washington would score great diplomatic and propaganda gains around the world—and Hanoi might be persuaded to start talking peace, as the Soviets and some others had suggested.

Johnson reached no decision at the time. He sent his top advisers back to Washington with instructions to weigh the pros and cons. The chief executive continued to think about the matter during his weeks of convalescence at his ranch home following his gall bladder-kidney stone operation.

On Dec. 7 Johnson went into the question intensively during another conference with key aides. At this ranch session were McNamara, just back from Saigon; Rusk, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball; Bundy and his deputy, Robert Komer; and presidential assistants Bill D. Moyers and Joseph A. Califano Jr.

One of the alternatives debated at the Dec. 7 session was a bombing pause early in 1966, perhaps coinciding with the customary lunar New Year ceasefire due around Jan. 21. The Communist Viet Cong had already proposed a Christmas truce.

Johnson made no decision at the time but outlined his general purpose in a speech he delivered by telephone two days later to the AFL-CIO convention in San Francisco. Voicing U.S. determination "to turn back that aggression" in Viet Nam, he added: "At the same time, we are equally determined that every prospect for peace be exhausted before other hard steps are taken."

with important foreign visitors — the leaders of Pakistan, Britain and West Germany — Johnson held more secret sessions with his Viet Nam strategists. Out of these came a decision to propose a Christmas-time ceasefire.

The ceasefire order issued Dec. 22 included instructions not to resume on-the-ground fighting in South Viet Nam after Christmas unless the Communists fired first. This was quickly settled by Viet Cong attacks even before the 30-hour ceasefire period was over.

The Dec. 22 order also halted bombing of North Viet Nam targets with the start of the ceasefire Dec. 24. But it did not specify when to resume the air strikes. On that, Johnson reserved judgment from day to day even after the ground combat flared up again.

In pondering his future course Johnson, back in Texas for the holidays, was influenced by domestic reaction to the lull and by appeals from world figures. He was impressed by a peace appeal from Pope Paul VI. At home Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana was also calling for a lull well beyond Christmas.

Christmas fell on Saturday. With the ground fighting flaring up again, Johnson held off a resumption of the bombing on Sunday Dec. 26 and again on Monday Dec. 27.

Monday night he held long-distance strategy talks by telephone with his top advisers and made up his mind to make the most of this opportunity: He would prolong the bombing pause for a while and put into motion a full-fledged diplomatic offensive.

On Tuesday Dec. 28 the telephone was ringing again, and Johnson was on it to start a spectacular run of special presidential envoys to 40 capitals over the ensuing three weeks.

A call to roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman put him on a special plane to Warsaw that night instead of the bridge game he had scheduled at home. Harriman finally got back to Washington Jan. 19 after seeing leaders in 11 countries around the world.

U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg got his call while relaxing on a beach in the Bahamas. A presidential jet whisked him to New York to talk to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant that night, then on to Rome to meet with the Pope and Italian leaders.

Bundy flew to Ottawa, Undersecretary of State Thomas C. Mann to Mexico, Assistant Secretary G. Mennen Williams around Africa. The scope of a previously scheduled trip by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to Asia was expanded.

At the United Nations Goldberg appealed to all members of the world organization to use their influence to bring North Viet Nam to the negotiating table, and at other points around the world regularly accredited U.S. diplomats were presenting the U.S. position to their opposite number.

At one capital — Rangoon — the American met directly with a Hanoi representative for a few minutes and handed him the U.S. message. The North Vietnamese accepted it without commenting on its substance.

The substance of Johnson's diplomatic communications was a 14-point sum-up of the American position as it had been put forward over the preceding months. This included the offer of unconditional discussions, affirmation of the Geneva agreements on Southeast Asia and a willingness to withdraw U.S. forces from South Viet Nam once that country is freed from "external interference."

At the beginning, Johnson kept his peace campaign plans under one of the tightest secrecy wraps ever imposed in Washington. There was no pre-announcement of the prolonged bombing halt, or of the travels by presidential emissaries.

Most State Department officials were kept in the dark about the peace drive until after it was under way. Then after New Year's they were told not to comment to newsmen on Communist statements about Johnson's actions. The administration wanted to keep a policy control on what it would rate as a responsive — favorable or otherwise — from the Reds.

The Communists meantime were gearing up their propaganda for assaults on the Johnson campaign. At first their output continued the previous barrage of general denunciations of U.S. "imperialist aggression" in Viet Nam. Later it became more specific.

"U.S. ruling circles speak of peace but actually step up war," North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh declared in a Dec. 31 New Year's message.

"Monsters and freaks of all descriptions are scurrying hither and thither and raising a lot of dust with their sinister activities," according to a Jan. 2 dispatch quoting the official Chinese Communist party organ, Peking People's Daily.

Moscow's Pravda, the same day accused the United States of planning to expand the war.

In the face of the Communist crescendo, the Johnson administration for a while took the position that no meaningful response had yet been received from the other side.

On Jan. 12 the President reported on his peace drive in his State of the Union message: "So far we have received no response to prove either success or failure."

He also injected another ingredient into the U.S. proposal by saying, "We will respond if others reduce their use of force."

During the following week the State Department began sending to interested foreign governments messages recapitulating the peace efforts, surveying for any hopeful response from Hanoi and implying that the bombing would be resumed if none was forthcoming.

It was during this week that the ground fire operations in South Viet Nam halted for their second ceasefire, this for the Jan. 20-23 New Year holiday.

On Jan. 21 a negative report came from Rusk, who had just returned from a quick Asian trip, including a talk with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin at Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's funeral in India. Rusk said there had been no "encouraging" response, only "bitter invective" from Hanoi.

Rusk said the Communists appeared to be preparing for a bitter military effort after the New Year lull. During the supposed ceasefire, he reported two days later, the Reds continued their infiltration from the North and made many attacks. While some foreign governments indicated they hoped for a lengthy bombing halt, conflicting views at home were pressing on the President.

On Jan. 22 senators made public testimony by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, that "if you stop bombing North Viet Nam, in effect you throw one of your blue chips for negotiation over your shoulder."

On the same day Johnson replied to 76 Democratic House members who had asked him to persevere in his peace offensive. The President said that while the peace effort will continue "the heavy weight of evidence which has accumulated in the last month" indicates continued "aggressiveness" by North Viet Nam.

"It is increasingly clear that we have had only a hostile response to the present pause in bombing," he said.

Johnson summoned congressional leaders to the White House late in the afternoon of Jan. 25. At this secret mission, attended by the government's diplomatic, military and intelligence chiefs, the key legislators were given intelligence reports of a North Vietnamese buildup and infiltration during the bombing lull.

Johnson spoke to the legislators of the agony and loneliness of presidential decision making. He read passages from Bruce Catton's book, "Never Call Retreat," on how President Abraham Lincoln faced divided counsel. He said he would listen to everyone but decide what he felt best. He asked one administration official to make a case for resuming the bombing, another to make the case against.

Of the 20 senior senators and House members present only two, Mansfield and Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., were on the record for continuing the pause. An Associated Press poll of the Senate's 100 members found that of 50 willing to say, 25 senators favored renewing the bombings at this point and 25 were against.

Johnson continued to meet frequently with his top strategists. He sought counsel from friends and prominent citizens outside of government. The debate rolled on.

On Jan. 27, 16 Democratic senators sent the President a letter supporting earlier calls by Mansfield, Fulbright and Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., for a continuation of the bombing pause.

The senators pleaded for further consultation on the decision whether to resume air strikes.

One of the signers, Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said he did not consider the Aug. 10, 1964, congressional resolution that gave Johnson broad powers to repel armed aggression on U.S. soldiers in Viet Nam "as a general endorsement of our Viet Nam policy."

Johnson dismissed the senators' appeal the next day. He cited the 1964 resolution and said, "I continue to be guided in these matters (Viet Nam policy) by the resolution of Congress."

He also told Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., principal author of the letter, that "it is increasingly clear that we have had only a hostile response to the present pause in bombing North Viet Nam."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., one of the signers of the letter, announced Sunday he would offer a Senate resolution today to try to force a test vote on what he called President Johnson's claimed authority to conduct war in Viet Nam.

Pope Paul VI again entered a plea for peace, when he suggested Saturday that United Nations arbitration through neutral nations could bring an end to the war.

Morse promptly took up the call. In a radio-television interview Sunday the senator, the leading critic of the administration's Viet Nam policies, said: "We haven't any unilateral right to determine what a Viet Nam settlement would be. I want a United Nations' takeover for peacemaking purposes."

Two Hurt in Oktoberfest Train Stop

LA CROSSE, Wis. — Two persons suffered minor injuries Saturday night when an excursion train carrying more than 1,000 local residents home from the St. Paul Winter Carnival had to make a quick stop to avoid a car on the track.

The 21-car Burlington passenger train had just entered the city limits when the mishap occurred. Nearly all the persons on the train were standing and making preparations to depart when the stop occurred. One of the two injured was John Coleman, 74, festmaster of the city's annual Oktoberfest, who was reported in fair condition at a local hospital today.

The excursion is an annual affair planned by the La Crosse Oktoberfest officials to the St. Paul Carnival. St. Paul also sends a group to the La Crosse Oktoberfest each fall.

Fire and Death In Wisconsin Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An infant died and damage mounted past a third of a million dollars as fires swept Wisconsin in subzero weather Sunday.

The small boy was killed as flames swept his family's residence in Milwaukee. A teen-ager passerby led five other children to safety.

A $250,000 fire destroyed an ornament factory in Port Washington in the city's worst blaze in four years.

A $75,000 fire swept an implement store in Abbotsford in temperatures 20 degrees below zero.

A railroad depot at Adams and a rural grocery and tavern in Dane County were destroyed by other fires.

Nine-month-old Patrick Jenrette died as flames charred the interior of his parents' two-story frame home on Milwaukee's near west side Sunday afternoon.

John Pearson, 15, a passerby, saw smoke streaming from the burning home and rushed in to lead five other children, ranging in age from 2 to 8, to safety.

The youth tried to reach the infant in an upstairs bedroom but was driven back by heat and flames. He tried to climb a drainpipe outside to reach the second floor, but it collapsed as he inched up it.

Firemen said the blaze erupted in a first-floor bedroom.

The mother, Mrs. Wanda Jenrette, 32, who had been visiting the home of a relative nearby, and a police detective were hospitalized for treatment of smoke inhalation suffered when they tried to enter the back door. The father, who was also away, was treated for shock.

A fire Saturday took the life of Robert Marquardt, 71, of rural Hubertus in Washington County Northwest of Milwaukee.

Firemen said Marquardt apparently suffocated when a blaze erupted in a shed below his living quarters at Friess Lake.

The Heller Industries, Inc., plant in Port Washington was ravaged by fire early Sunday in temperatures 16 degrees below zero.

Thick, black smoke billowed above the 10-g. one-story stone plant on a finger of land in the Port Washington harbor.

Exploding cans of resin hampered firemen's efforts.

Only the walls and twisted machinery were left after the fire was brought under control seven hours later.

The plant manufactured plastic Christmas ornaments. Fire Chief Leo Pruecher estimated damage at $110,000 to the building and $140,000 to its contents.

The Kalepp Implement Co., a farm machinery dealer, was engulfed by flames Sunday at Abbotsford, 20 miles north of Marshfield, with firemen estimating damage at $75,000.

Little more than the walls of the one-story brick and sheet metal building remained standing. All contents, including tractors and other equipment, were destroyed.

The cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

AT Adams, Fire Chief Ray Voboril blamed a furnace that backfired for the blaze Sunday which "all-but" leveled the Chicago & North-Western Railway depot.

Flames knifed 40 feet into the air above the burning building, which had been used in recent years for storage of railroad equipment.

A furnace explosion was listed as the cause of the fire Sunday which destroyed a combination grocery and tavern in the Dane County community of Paoli. An Oregon fireman suffered a broken leg when he apparently slipped on ice.

rest of the year, said medical schools are throwing too many organized laboratory sessions and too many lectures at their medical students.

He said, "Most of the time the lectures are giving information that can be found in books, and found much quicker."

Ebert agreed to excuse the 25 from the lectures and laboratories. He said if anyone "is really going to excel at anything he must continue with his own education and a university must have the ability to stimulate a person to study in a particular field that he could only survey superficially in school."

He said students should have a chance to digest the many facts and mountains of material presented to them, that they should have a chance to catch hold of something that interests them particularly and go into it in depth. This, he said, would help develop curiosity.

The 25 students are part of a 106-member class studying pathophysiology, a combined approach to diseases and their effects on the body.

They will be divided into groups of five to devise their own learning techniques with the help of volunteer faculty advisers.

They will take the same examinations as their 81 classmates and will attend the lectures that interest them.

Ebert said Harvard has no intention of abandoning the lecture system altogether.

Two-State Deaths

Adolph J. Doffing

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — Adolph J. Doffing, 64, president of the First State Bank of Wabasha, died suddenly of a heart attack early Sunday morning while vacationing in Mexico City, Mexico. His entire business career had been spent in banking.

He was born Jan. 15, 1902, in Hastings, Minn. His father, the late Charles Doffing, headed the Hastings National Bank. He worked with his father in the Hastings State Bank and also the First State Bank, Cannon Falls prior to joining the Union Investment Co., which was subsequently joined with the North-West Bancorporation.

He was vice president and contact officer for Banco at the time he left to be associated with the Wabasha bank in 1940. He had been president of the Wabasha bank since 1945. He attended St. Thomas College, St. Paul. His wife is the former Cynthia Evans. He was a member of St. Felix Catholic Church and its board.

He had been secretary and past president of St. Elizabeth Hospital's lay advisory board and was a member of the Knights of Columbus, Wabasha Chamber of Commerce and the Izaak Walton League.

He also served as director of Lanesboro State Bank, and through his banking affiliation, had been associated with the Minnesota Bankers Association, American Bankers Association and Independent Bankers Association. For many years he had been chairman of the U.S. Savings Bond committee for Wabasha County.

Survivors are: His wife, two sons, John, Mandan, N.D., and Lawrence, San Pedro, Calif.; three daughters, Miss Mary Doffing, Minneapolis; Mrs. David (Suzanne) Kass, Mancey, N.Y.; and Mrs. Herbert (Jeanne) Coats, Danville, Ill., four grandchildren, and one brother, Raymond, Fort Washington, N.Y. His parents and two brothers, Carl and George, have died.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by Abbott-Wise Funeral Home.

House of the Week

Walk-out Deck Features Split Level

By ANDY LANG

A trim split level that can be built on a modest lot has been turned out by architect Herbert C. Struppmann for House of the Week. Although economy is the watchword of his three-bedroom house, the plan has been given an interesting and attractive exterior.

Both horizontal and vertical siding combine with stone and brick to give the outside of the house a pleasant appearance. But it is the balcony-deck on the upper level that sets it apart.

THIS feature, allowing access from the master bedroom and the adjacent one, has a touch of the chalet about it, providing an informality which is getting increasing attention these days.

Good housekeeping is easy to achieve in this type of layout. The kitchen has all the appliances and counters in the step-saving L-shape. Half a level down, there is a mud hall, with a laundry to one side, a lavatory to the other, and a straight ahead, the family room.

This is a convenient location for this important room, since it saves tracking through any main area of the house. The youngsters in the family can really have this room to themselves (if mom and pop want it that way). Even the adjacent garage is kept free of the gear that often clutters the family car area, as the rear section is given over to a storage room and a work alcove.

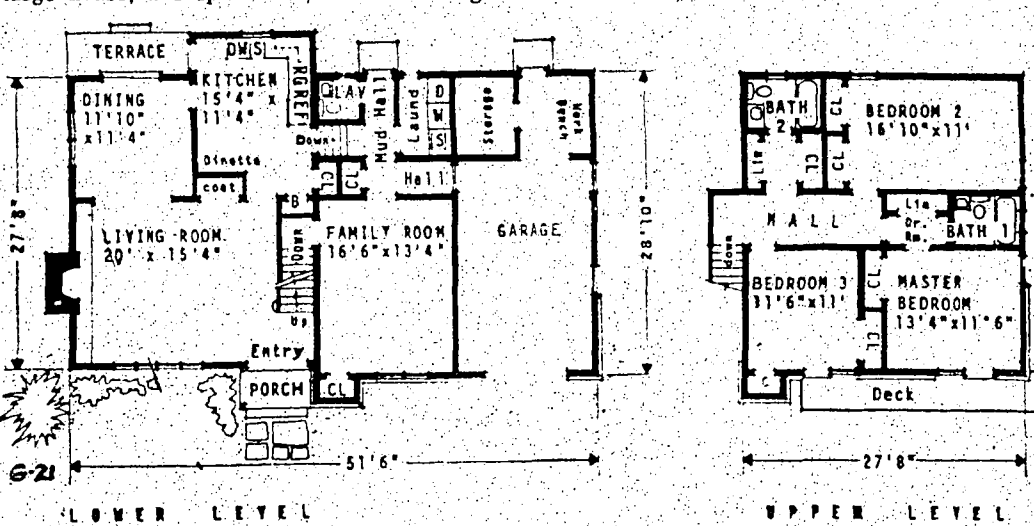

A door out to the backyard is a convenience for gardening and an entrance hall enables movement from the car to the house without going outside.

FOR FORMAL dining, the fireplace - living room, next to both the dining room and the kitchen, is ideal. The big front windows look out on the lawn or garden. At the rear, sliding glass doors lead from the dining room to a back terrace.

There are three bedrooms and two baths on the upper level. In addition to the balcony-deck previously mentioned, there is a no other interesting arrangement. Bedroom number two, at COMPACT SPLIT LEVEL . . . For the family that needs three bedrooms, yet doesn't have a plot sizable enough for a large house, this split level, with a frontage less than 52 ft., has plenty of living area on the inside, as well as a back terrace and front balcony.

FLOOR PLANS . . . The architect has packed lots of livability into Design G-21 and its modest dimensions. Note unusual arrangement of rear bedroom on upper level so that two youngsters can occupy it and have equal wall, closet and window space.

the rear of the house, is even larger than the master bedroom and is intended for use by two youngsters.

Each child can have a window of his own and plenty of wall space. Also there are two closets of equal size.

One of the bedrooms at the front has two closets. The other has a closet inside the room, as well as a dressing area and linen closet at the entrance to the bath. These are the two bedrooms which have access to the balcony deck.

THE ECONOMY scale of this house is shown by the overall dimensions of 51 feet 6 inches by 28 feet 10 inches, which include the garage. Yet there are 1514 square feet of living area on the living room-dining room-kitchen level and the bedroom level, not including the family room on the same level as the garage.

Typical of most split level houses, Design G-21 would blend well in almost any neighborhood.

G-21 Statistics

Design G-21 has a living room, dining room and a kitchen on one level, with a habitable area of 707 square feet. There are three bedrooms and two baths on the upper level, with 807 square feet of livability.

On the below-ground level are a garage, storage area, work alcove, laundry, mud hall, lavatory and a family room 16 ft. 6 inches by 13 ft. 4 inches. There is a balcony-deck at the front of the house, a terrace at the rear. Overall dimensions are 51 ft. 6 inches by 28 ft. 10 inches.

More than three times as many gas lamps—over one million—are in use now as during the Gas Light Era of turn-of-the-century America, reports the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

Tire Traction Tests Postponed

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Jan. 20 — The National Safety Council ran into problems today in its attempts to start its annual skidding and tire traction tests on ice.

It was just too cold. Test director Gus Whitehurst explained temperatures, ranging from a high of zero to a low of 19 below Sunday, made it impossible to prepare the necessary nine acres of smooth, slick ice and threatened to delay the tests at the municipal airport.

"The water freezes before it can spread out," he complained.

2 Triple-Fatality Crashes Reported In Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pair of triple-fatality crashes have driven Wisconsin's weekend traffic toll to nine dead.

Three persons were killed in a head-on collision near Chippewa Falls Sunday. Three other victims died in another head-on crash at the start of the weekend.

The year's toll rose to 68, compared with 73 through the last day in January in 1965.

A Chippewa Falls couple and a Michigan driver died as a result of a two-car collision Sunday on Highway 29 eight miles west of Chippewa Falls.

Killed outright were Francis Hurt, 41, Chippewa Falls, and Raymond Webber, 25, Buchanan, Mich. Hurt's wife, Iris, 41, died later in a Chippewa Falls hospital.

Authorities said they could give no explanation for the head-on accident.

Another two-car collision Sunday on Highway 36 north of Lake Geneva Sunday took the life of June Subrod, 18, Burlington.

Verdine Hammerly Jr., 17, Wisconsin Dells, was killed Saturday night when his father's tractor and a car collided on Highway 23 four miles east of Wisconsin Dells. The teen-ager was riding on the tractor, which was pulling a wagonload of wood.

Mrs. Blanche Richards, 65, Prairie du Chien, was injured fatally Saturday in a two-car collision on Highway 18 in Prairie du Chien.

A two-car head-on crash on four-lane, divided Highway 41 northwest of the Milwaukee suburb of Menomonee Falls took three lives Friday night.

The victims were Roger Crane, 18, and Judith L. Gaudynski, 18, both of Milwaukee, and A. Arnold Runion, 42, Belvidere, Ill. Four other teenagers riding in the car driven by Crane, a policeman's son, were critically injured.

Arno Donath, 87, Milwaukee, died in a hospital Sunday night of injuries suffered Jan. 16 when struck by a car at a Milwaukee intersection. His death was not counted in the weekend toll.

Riches In The Seed Packet

THE packets of seeds that you select from the colorful seed racks in the garden stores, or from the beautifully colored nursery catalogs, contain great riches, not of the monetary kind, but a wealth of the anticipated joys to come.

The colored pictures on the front of the packets are enticing and intriguing, and they tempt the purchaser with visions of lovely flowers and delicious vegetables. Even though the seeds are in plain packets with only the variety name and cultural directions, there is an inner urge to buy at the very thought of what they will bring forth. And, the bulk seeds purchased in a seed store without the glamour of the packet are just as impelling for their inherent possibilities are just as great, as the thrifty gardener will testify.

When we consider flower seeds, our thoughts turn naturally to the annuals, although many biennials and perennials are grown from seeds in the home garden. However, the annuals and the vegetables are the rulers of the seed packet realm and we will so consider them here. The packets contain seeds that will produce an abundance of flowers in an array of beautiful colors, and delicious vegetables that a gourmet might well savor. Perhaps, it would be just as well to let our desires run riot to some extent in selecting flower seeds, remembering that there is magic in the seed packets that will fulfill our expectations for a beautiful and diversified garden. And just as with many other events in our daily lives, "anticipation may be almost as great as realization."

THE TIME seems to be past when 10 cents will buy a packet of seeds, except at the bulk counter in a garden, or seed store. Fortunately for many, there are bulk seed stores in Winona. In the catalogs, very few kinds of flowers, or vegetables are listed at less than 25 cents per packet.

The highest priced seeds are those of the hybrid varieties. For example, a hybrid zinnia may be listed as 30 seeds for 25 cents, or 40 seeds for 50 cents. Other hybrid varieties may be listed as high as $1.00 per packet. The same is true of the vegetables. A hybrid variety of tomato may be listed as 30 seeds for 50 cents and a hybrid muskmelon at 40 seeds for 75 cents.

While the higher prices of the ordinary varieties are due to the general increased costs of production, the high prices of the hybrid varieties are due to the labor and time involved in crossing and in selecting the desirable ones for further propagation and study. Each seed of a hybrid variety is a result of a carefully controlled cross made by hand of two definite and distinct parent lines which had been carefully selected previously.

THIS, OF course, necessitates heavy expense that results in higher costs. However, this hybrid seed justifies the higher cost, since it will produce a product of greater vigor, more uniformity, larger yields and better quality. The experienced gardener knows that it is advantageous to plant hybrid varieties instead of the open pollinated kinds.

One thing about hybrid plants that the gardener should remember is that, if seeds are saved from them and planted in another year, they will not come true to the original ones. Therefore, new seeds must be purchased, if it is desired to continue with a particular variety of flower, or vegetable.

A group of 200 American Negroes emigrated to Liberia from Savannah, Ga., on March 18, 1895.

Township Fire Wardens to Meet

Winona County township fire warden's annual meeting will be Thursday at the Isaak Walton League cabin on Latsch Prairie Island Park.

Registration begins at 11 a.m. A noon dinner will be served. Awards will be presented to several persons who originated the fire warden program in Winona County under the Soil Conservation Service. In addition, more fire fighting equipment will be issued and time books and other forms will be explained.

Robert Herbst, executive secretary of Keep Minnesota Green, and Wes Simons, fire control chief of the Minnesota Division of Forestry will speak after the dinner.

About 80 persons are expected.

Morse Asks U.N. to Take Up Viet Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse has urged the United States to bring the Viet Nam struggle before the United Nations Security Council, a move strongly opposed by Sen. John C. Stennis.

"We haven't any unilateral right to determine what a Viet Nam settlement should be," the Oregon Democrat said Sunday, 12 hours before it was announced that American planes had begun bombing North Viet Nam targets again, ending a 37-day lull.

"I want a United Nations resolution calling for arbitration," said Morse, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and outspoken critic of the administration's Viet Nam policies. "I want a United Nations takeover for peacemaking purposes."

Stennis, a Mississippi Democrat who heads the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, said that to refer peacemaking to the U.N. Security Council members "would be giving them a problem they could not solve. We'd better go on and do it under our command," argued Stennis. "I don't want to turn it over to anyone."

The discussion of possible U.N. arbitration apparently stemmed from a suggestion Pope Paul VI made Saturday.

Asked about arbitration, the Pope said: "Who knows whether finally an arbitration by the United Nations, entrusted to

St. Stanislaus Offering Course

St. Stanislaus Catholic Church is offering a course to parents entitled "Family First Holy Communion Plan," which teaches the parents how to develop Christian attitudes and values in the home.

Purpose is to make it possible for parents to assist the school in preparing children for Holy Communion.

ANOTHER series of meetings will start Wednesday. Lessons begin with a lecture and conclude with a discussion period in which parents can express their views and share their experiences.

"Since the home is the first and most important school of life," says the Rev. Douglas P. Flota, instructor, "communication between parent and child is best developed at an early age. Because knowledge forms attitudes and basic habits of life, it is thought that it (knowledge) should not be separated from the home."

"Perhaps religion, as a way of life, can be taught more effectively if informal teaching in the natural and individual setting of the home is coupled with the formalized religion that is taught to a class at school. Worship is a family thing. This is the primary attitude which this program wishes to instill. A worthy and meaningful reception of the sacraments, signs of God's love, is a family responsibility," says Father Flota.

THE LAST meeting of the first session on Jan. 24 included a simple family demonstration on how to make the Bible come alive. The demonstration was prepared and presented by the Ralph Czaplewski, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Suchmel told the group of their experiences in preparing their child, a second grader, for Holy Communion.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. James Hagberg showed, by an interview with Judy, when a child is ready.

Classes are held each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the study hall of St. Stanislaus Catholic School.

Improvements Planned for Park at Alma

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — Clem Breen, president of the Alma Rod & Gun Club, explained to members last week what benefits the organization could receive under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act. (Lawcan).

He said $6,666.80 has been allotted Buffalo County for this year. Acting through the city of Alma, the club could secure funds for purchase of land, improvements of existing areas such as parks, playgrounds, boating and camping areas, and development of outdoor recreation facilities.

The club voted improvements totaling $3,700 for the park this year. Under the federal program it will use $1,500 of its own funds to match federal funds. Improvements will include 30 campsites, a tennis court, 1,000 feet of relocated roadway, and a guard rail along the south entrance.

Over the next five years the club plans 12 new fireplaces for campers at Rieck's Park, which the club developed; new picnic tables, playground equipment, bridging, footpaths, etc.

The sum of $100 has been made available for geese for the park area, already populated with ducks.

Plans were made for the annual celebration at the park the third weekend in June. Stype's Shows will be on the midway and there will be fireworks.

Some chairmen for events have been appointed, including Christian Schultz, Wilfred Hetrick, Ed Godel, Albert Frankenstein, Ed Gleiter, William Patterson, Ted Buehler and Earl Carter.

Trial Asked on Speeding Charge

Two speeding arrests Saturday night on West 5th Street produced a not guilty plea and a guilty plea today in municipal court. A Wisconsin man forfeited bond today on a traffic charge.

Norbert A. Thrune, 18, 184 N. Baker St., pleaded not guilty to a charge of speeding 45 m.p.h. in a 30 zone on West 5th Street from John to Grand Streets Saturday at 11:25 p.m. Judge John D. McCall set trial for Thursday at 9:30 a.m. and ordered Thrune to post $50 bond, which the youth did.

Allan F. Stoltz, 10, 265 Vila St., pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 45 m.p.h. in a 30 zone at the same time and place as the Thrune boy. He was making arrangements this morning to pay a $25 fine imposed as the alternative to eight days in jail.

Anthony B. Dorava, Arcadia, Wis., forfeited $15 bond on a charge of driving over the center line at West Broadway and Washington Street Saturday at 9:40 p.m.

St. Mary's Cloud Is Darker

By BOB JUNGHANS

Daily News Sports Writer

That black cloud that has settled over the Terrace Heights gymnasium keeps getting darker as the season progresses and it may have hit its darkest pigment of the season over the past weekend.

Not only did the Redmen lose their fifth MIAC conference game of the season, but they also may have lost captain Roger Pytlewski, for tonight's game with Gustavus. Pytlewski, a 6-5 rebounding ace, sat out nearly half of the 71-62 loss to Concordia Saturday night with foul trouble. But when he went back into action late in the game he suffered an ankle sprain.

"It didn't bother him enough to take him out during the game," said Coach Ken Willgen, "but it swelled up after the game and now I'd have to class him as a doubtful starter."

And with Pytlewski out of the lineup, the Redmen have no one who can stay on the boards with the Gusties' 6-5 jumping jack Al White.

"That was our problem the first time we met them," said Willgen of the rebounding problem. "We're a small team with Roger in there, but a heck of a lot smaller without him."

The Gusties, who started the Redmen on their downhill slide before Christmas with a 66-61 victory at St. Peter, have bolstered their attack with the addition of 6-2 Steve Kagol. Kagol replaces a 6-5 cager, but he's been tossing in 15 points-a-game as a starter to make up for the height disadvantage.

Due to the possible inactivity of Pytlewski and Jim Buffo's still bothersome foot, Willgen is still undecided on his starting lineup.

Dennis Ludden, Tom Keenan and George Hoder and Buffo will definitely be encircling the referee at the opening toss, but the fifth spot is wide open.

Home Court Enough to Snip Skeins?

The home court in college basketball usually is worth something, which could be just enough to wipe out this week the only two perfect records among major teams.

Second-ranked Kentucky, 14-0, travels to Vanderbilt Wednesday night to play the fourth-ranked Commodores, and sixth-ranked Texas Western, also 14-0, heads for Fort Collins, Colo., and a game with Colorado State U. Friday night.

Each team won its 14th at home Saturday night, Kentucky crushing Auburn 115-78 and Texas Western whipping West Texas 69-50.

Kentucky defeated Vanderbilt on the Wildcats' court 96-83 a couple of weeks ago, but the return contest could be a lot different.

The Commodores, 15-2, haven't lost in 10 games at home this season, and another victory could put them on top of the Southeastern Conference race. The Wildcats, on the other hand, have won all five games they've played on the other team's court.

Both teams have warm-up games tonight. Kentucky hosting Alabama and Vanderbilt at home in Nashville, Tenn., against Auburn.

Of Texas Western's 14 games, only one has been played on the other team's court. In that one, the Miners defeated Arizona State 84-67.

In last Saturday's action the first eight of the Top Ten teams played while Kansas and UCLA rested. Two of the teams lost, Dayton trimming fifth-ranked St. Joseph's 79-76 and St. Louis defeating Cincinnati, No. 8, 73-64.

Glider Torain's tap in with 35 seconds to play was the winning basket for Dayton while Bobby Coles sank three straight baskets and passed off for two Detroit's home ice record is enough to discourage most National Hockey League visitors, but the Red Wings are only the second hottest club in the Motor City.

The Chicago Black Hawks, who whipped the Wings 5-1 behind reserve goalie Dave Dryden Sunday night and gained a share of first place in the NHL race, have made five trips to Detroit this season and won four times. The Wings are 14-0-4 at home against the rest of the league.

Meanwhile, Montreal completed a weekend sweep with a 3-1 victory over Boston and climbed within one point of the leaders. The New York Rangers, paced by Reg Fleming and Bob Nevin, blasted Toronto 6-4 in Sunday night's other game.

Detroit tied the Black Hawks 4-4 at Chicago Saturday night on Alex Delvecchio's goal with two seconds to play while Montreal trimmed New York 6-2 and Toronto overpowered Boston 6-3.

Bobby Hull, who scored twice night for a season total of 42 against the Red Wings Saturday goals, was limited to one assist in the rematch at Detroit.

St. Cloud Needs Just a Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It took just one weekend for St. Cloud State to take command in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference basketball race, as two would-be challengers fell by the wayside.

Mankato State went into the weekend leading the NIC with a 4-0 record, while St. Cloud was 1-0.

Mankato lost twice, however, including 90-89 Saturday night at Moorhead to take the wind out of the Indians' sails.

Then Bemidji State, which had a chance to stay close to St. Cloud, also lost—79-77 to Winona Saturday night.

The result of this turn of events left St. Cloud—which beat Michigan Tech Friday night, 88-55—the only unbeaten NIC team with a 2-0 record.

Mankato and Winona are tied for second at 4-2, while Bemidji is fourth at 3-2.

St. Cloud plays on the road twice this week, at Bemidji and at Moorhead, and could get pulled back with the pack.

In the Minnesota Intercollegiate, St. Thomas continued to run away with things, walloping Hamline 85-61 for the Toms' seventh straight MIAC triumph.

Macalester dumped Augsburg

69-55 and Concordia tripped St. Mary's 71-62, while Duluth went outside the MIAC and got shelacked 105-66 by powerful Northern Michigan.

Carleton rolled on toward the Midwest Conference title by nipping Knox 75-74 in overtime, while St. Olaf lost to Monmouth, 84-78. Carleton tops the Midwest with a 10-1 record, and has won nine straight.

North Dakota State ripped Minnesota - Morris, 101-83, and Lakeland outgunned Bethel, 102-93, in non-league action.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Roy Emerson of Australia, the world's top-ranking amateur tennis player, captured the men's singles title of the Australian National Championships for a record fifth time today with a 6-4, 6-8, 6-2, 6-3 victory over Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va.

Wurster Is Repeat King In Skating

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Rich Wurster, a swift-bladed skater and newspaper man who makes his own news, has repeated as the senior mens division champion in the National Speed Skating Championships.

The 27-year-old Ballston Spa, N.Y., athlete defied cold weather and the hot pursuit of several talented rivals to win three of the seven events and capture two second places Saturday and Sunday.

The National Championships were held on Como Lake as part of the St. Paul Winter Carnival. After Saturday's temperatures of 10 to 20 below zero against a brisk wind, skaters had an easier time of it Sunday as readings rose to around the zero mark.

In the wind-up, Wurster pumped his piston-like 6-foot-3 frame to victory in the 880-yard race and the mile and finished second in the five-mile endurance.

He piled up 21 points, beating runner-up Mike Passarella, Chicago, by 11 points.

His consecutive championships marked the first time it's been done since Ken Bartholomew of Minneapolis claimed the crown in 1959 and 1960.

The senior women's division crown went to Diane White, 22, St. Paul secretary who also was the 1964 titleholder. She scored a pair of wins in each day's competition.

Other division winners: Pete Cefalu West Allis, Wis., intermediate boys; Holly Blatchford, Northbrook, Ill., intermediate girls; Don Cernan, Cleveland, junior boys; Dianne Holm, Northbrook, Ill., junior girls; Gary Jonland, Park Ridge, Ill., juvenile boys; Debbie Fish, Strongsville, Ohio, juvenile girls; Ray Wood, St. Paul, midjet boys, and Mary Sadton, Northbrook, Ill., midjet girls.

Beard Aims For Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Top golfers drew a bead on the sharpshooter today as the $57,000 Lucky International Open Tournament finally reached its final round with Kentuckian Frank Beard aiming for a wire-to-wire victory.

The 26-year-old from Louisville, Ky., has led for four days, normally enough to bring a first-prize check except that play on the third round was nullified Saturday when rain flooded the greens at Harding Park.

So after a 66-67, the bespectacled Southerner came back after the weather drenched day to card a 70 and go into the finals with a one-stroke lead at 203 over Mike Souchak and two ahead of Ray Floyd.

Nobody shot 206 for 54 holes, but five, including the incomparable Arnold Palmer, were deadlocked at 207. Thirty-three pros were under par for the tournament and nine more were even with the regulation figure at 213 for three rounds over the 6,692-yard Harding Park layout.

Three golfers last year achieved the start-to-finish victory to which Beard aspires. Billy Casper did it the last time in October's Sahara Invitational. Palmer topped the field in each round at the Tournament of Champions and New Zealand's Bob Charles in the Tucson Open.

"I wasn't unhappy with my third round because it left me still in the lead," commented Beard, who recovered from a case of sleeping sickness in 1964 and won $40,377 in 1965, but he obviously would have liked to have done even better.

If any of those leading three falter, the five including former National Open champions Palmer and Ken Venturi were poised to strike from the 207 spot. Dave Ragan, Joe Campbell and Tom Weiskopf also started at 207, six strokes under par.

Cowboys came from behind in the last quarter to whip Falcons, 79-74 Saturday and break the first-place tie in the YMCA Adult Basketball League.

Falcons had led from the outset and went into the final period with a 59-57 edge. Fred Beck led the Cowboys with 36 points. Roger Doly hit 17 and Terry Beck 16.

For Falcons, Davis Usgaard had 22 and Dave Milne 18.

Injury, Off-Court Woes Don't Bother Stout '5'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stout's Blue Devils, raging unbeaten through the ranks of the Wisconsin State University Conference, have made injury and off-court quarrels their latest victim.

The rest of the WSUC, unable to stop Stout on the court, had no reason for surprise Saturday night as the Blue Devils shrugged away their off-court problems, too, and whined Eau Claire 77-64 for their ninth conference victory without defeat.

Oshkosh, beaten only by Stout, stayed one game back, but it needed a last-gasp tip-in by Al Schmidt to subdue stubborn Stevens Point 80-78.

In other games, Little Jim Sevels poured in a blazing 40 points to lead Superior to a 96-82 upset victory over River Falls, and Platteville roared from behind late in the game to stretch Whitewater's losing streak to 11.

Stout's Willie White missed the Eau Claire game under a suspension that school officials are reluctant to discuss. Starter Jim Conley sprained a neck muscle in the pregame warmup and was slowed throughout the encounter.

The Blue Devils led all the way, anyway.

Bill Ozga hit 30 points for Stout. Blazing away from the 30-foot range, he sank 12 of 16 floor shots. Teammate Mike Thompson added 21 points as Stout raised its over-all record to 13-2.

Oshkosh, 8-1 in the conference, barely escaped unscathed by Stevens Point as Schmidt battled in a missed shot by Dick Bourbonnais with just four seconds left. A desperation heave by the Pointers' at the buzzer sailed astray.

Gene England netted 29 points for the Titans. Mike Fortune topped Stevens Point with 21.

Sevels, a 5-foot-5 all-WSUC junior, broke Superior's school scoring record as he tossed in 13 of 24 shots from the floor and 14 of 18 free throws for his 40 points. He scored three baskets on layups after stealing the ball from River Falls.

The victory was only Superior's second in eight WSUC
