Viet Cong Caught in Coastal Vise

488 Reported Killed, New Raids on North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. warplanes hammered at targets in North Viet Nam again today, while on the ground American and Allied forces caught the Viet Cong in a giant vise along South Viet Nam's coastal plains and sent them sprawling into retreat after 488 were reported killed.

An Air Force spokesman said three American planes — one Air Force and two Navy jets — were lost in the first day of air attacks on the Communist North after the 37-day bombing pause. There were no details yet on the second day of the raids.

The pilots of the two Navy planes were rescued, but the pilot of an Air Force F105 Thunderchief was missing about 20 miles south of Vinh. He pulled into cloud cover and disappeared. Rescue efforts were called off after a search, the spokesman said.

Radio Hanoi claimed Monday that North Vietnamese gunners had downed five American planes and damaged 10 others.

As U.S. Air Force and Navy carrier planes roared over the north again, the combined allied Operation Masher in the rice fields and jungles 290 miles northeast of Saigon smashed at a large Viet Cong force from three sides. Some of the guerrillas were reported ripping off their green jungle fighting suits and donning the black pajamas of the Vietnamese peasantry in a desperate effort to escape.

In addition to the 488 dead reported, six days of heavy fighting with the hard-core Viet Cong backed up by North Vietnamese regulars yielded 12 enemy prisoners and 408 suspects. A U.S. Army spokesman said intelligence had established that 75 per cent of the suspects are Viet Cong.

The battle raged over an area 13 miles wide and 10 miles deep. Units of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airborne Division were pressing the Communists from the south and west, while South Vietnamese and South Korean marines were hitting from other directions.

An American spokesman said the battering by ground forces, artillery and air strikes appeared to have convinced the Communists their only escape from an area they have held for 15 years lies to the hills in the west.

Of the Communist toll of dead, 100 were credited to the Vietnamese force of several regiments and 75 to the South Korean marines on the flank. U.S. and Korean casualties remain light, military spokesmen said, but the South Vietnamese suffered moderate losses. In their use of the term moderate, they mean anywhere from one-tenth to one-third of the total force involved.

A government spokesman said the Vietnamese troops have been in a half dozen fierce fire fights and while the number of dead is low, "the number of wounded is quite high."

Two new punishing actions against the insurgents opened up south of Saigon.

The Vietnamese 9th Division kicked off a regimental size search and destroy attack in Vinh Binh Province 62 miles southwest of Saigon Monday and reported 78 Viet Cong killed and eight captured.

A spokesman estimated that another 50 bodies were carried away by the retreating Viet Cong who left behind 31 weapons, including two East German machine guns and four Czech light automatic weapons.

U.S. 1st Infantry Division troops, 10 miles east of Saigon sent back word they had uncovered a big bunker complex and called in air, artillery and tank fire to destroy it. Dug-in Viet Cong continued small-arms fire. The air strikes could be seen from downtown Saigon.

U.S. Marines based at Da Nang and the units which landed from the sea south of Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, last Friday reported little contact with the enemy.

Snowfall Eases in East, Cold Weather Moving In

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snowfall eased today in the big Eastern storm, but cold, gusty winds continued to pile drifts, bedeviling efforts to clear roads in snowed-out communities and a new storm spread 4 to 8 inches of snow northeastward out of the southern Plains. Syracuse, N.Y., still was in the grip of a blizzardy snow squalls blowing off Lake Ontario.

io. Four feet of snow covered some parts of the city.

The Weather Bureau said that the record January snowfall included 43 inches at Worcester, Mass., 41 inches at both Burlington, Vt., and Roanoke, Va., and 32 inches at Lynchburg, Va. Florida recovered from its frost and freeze and mild weather pressed in from the Gulf of Mexico along the coast to Texas.

Statewide emergencies were declared for Pennsylvania and Delaware where hundreds of travelers and rural dwellers were still isolated by road blockages caused by drifts of 10 feet or more. In Virginia, the snow dunes were reported 15 feet high.

With communications hampered, there was no way of assessing the cost in lives or dollars of the January storm series. Death counts bogged as human attrition took many forms including fire fatalities, freezing, and heart attacks from snow removal exertion.

In Pennsylvania the highway department said that with 11,000 men engaged in snow clearance, the cost could run to $5 million. The clean-up cost in Philadelphia, where 9 inches fell, was put at $500,000. In some localities, all except vital road clearing operations were put off until the snow-shifting winds should die down.

Hundreds of schools were closed Monday or Tuesday, not only in the hard-hit Eastern sector, but also in the path of a new storm from New Mexico to Missouri. In Maryland where all schools were shut, two colleges and the University of Maryland delayed registrations for the second semester until Wednesday or Thursday.

U.S. 40 was closed in some sections through Maryland, and hundreds of secondary roads were choked in Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Fire flared at Belle, Mo., today when two gas pipelines exploded.

SNOW IS DEEP . . . An automobile is all but buried along a highway near Pottstown, Pa., as wind-whipped snows drifted highways all over the east. What happened to this motorist could not be determined but it was presumed he walked to safety. Hundreds of cars were abandoned on highways as the storm raged. (AP Photofax)

Wisconsin Tax Relief For Older People Valid

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The constitutionality of a new law granting additional property tax relief to persons over 65 was upheld today by the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

A Racine attorney had argued that the program violated a provision in the state constitution requiring uniformity of taxation.

Former Gov. John W. Reynolds introduced the property tax relief program and the Legislature passed it in 1964. The program benefits those with annual incomes of less than $3,000 and tax credits are limited to a maximum of $225.

Richard G. Harvey Jr. of Racine challenged the constitutionality of the act. In addition to violating the state's uniform taxation rule, he said, the program had proved "impractical, inefficient and unworkable."

To support his contention, Harvey noted that $10.3 million a year had been appropriated to the program and that only about $1 million was paid out in the first year of its operation.

In the Supreme Court's unanimous decision upholding the validity of the act, Justice Nathan Heffernan said the program constituted a relief measure rather than a tax measure.

"... If the claimant does not in fact pay taxes, but instead pays rent, he is still entitled to relief," Heffernan wrote.

The justice added: "It would appear that the classification requiring special legislative treatment in the granting of relief to persons over 65 is reasonable. The age of 65 is commonly accepted and recognized as that at which a large number of persons retire and no longer in full measure are able to support themselves from current earnings."

"While it is undoubtedly true that some persons under the age of 65 are equally deserving of relief, there are undoubtedly other devices by which the legislature has or could, if it so desired, grant other forms of relief or assistance. The mere fact that the legislature in the exercise of a proper police power function has not seen fit to cure or attempt to alleviate all the evils of poverty in a single piece of legislation does not render the classification used unreasonable."

New GI Bill Before House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A comprehensive GI Bill setting up a permanent program of educational and other aid for all post-Korean War servicemen comes before the House Veterans Affairs Committee today.

Committee Chairman Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., predicted quick approval of the measure, which he introduced Monday.

Since the committee already has held extensive hearings on the subject matter, Teague said, no additional hearings are necessary.

His bill would cost less than a similar measure passed last year by the Senate and differs from proposals reportedly supported by the administration.

He estimated the first-year cost of his measure at $275 million, about $100 million less than the cost of the Senate bill.

Late Bulletins

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court said today that its November decision stripping district attorneys of authority to issue warrants could not be applied to cases already "finalized."

The court ordered two Milwaukee judges involved to proceed with suits in their courts — one criminal and one civil — under writs of mandamus issued by the high court.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — The two-hour final exam was only 15 minutes old when an Indiana University student turned in his paper and departed. He had written only: "Goodbye I.U., Saigon here I come."

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Production of Phantom jet fighters used in Viet Nam will be doubled at McDonnell Aircraft Corp., James S. McDonnell, president of the firm, announced Monday.

MAC GREGOR OUT TOO

Quie Cool to Governor Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., said today he has no intention of seeking the Republican nomination for the governorship of Minnesota in this year's elections.

And his GOP colleague, Rep. Clark MacGregor of Minnesota, gave every indication that he likewise has no plan to get into the governorship race.

Both have been discussed as possibilities to try to unseat Gov. Karl F. Roivaag, who won the governor's seat in 1962 by only 91 votes after a months-long recount over his Republican opponent.

Quie said so many people have asked him to make the governorship race, "that I thought about it again, but I have not changed my mind about not running."

The only thing that could make him change his mind, Quie said, "would be if 100 per cent of the party people wanted me to be their standard bearer."

And, Quie added, such a situation "would be like a miracle" and he does not think there is a possibility of such a happening.

"I like my work here," Quie said. "It is challenging and I have a lot of plans for work which I want to do."

Quie said he has no suggestions as to whom the GOP party leaders in the state should turn to as the gubernatorial candidate.

"We have a grand opportunity for a victory this year," Quie said. "I believe the people of Minnesota want a change. There is a lot of talent in the party."

MacGregor said in a separate interview that he fully anticipated that there would be people in the party who would try to have himself or Quie make the race for the governor's post.

MacGregor said that he has taken no step to seek any support for himself for either governor or senator this year.

U.S. Proposes Preparatory Talks on Peace

BULLETIN

MOSCOW (AP) — North Viet Nam declared today it will consider any resolutions of the U.N. Security Council of Viet Nam as invalid, Tass reported.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States proposed today that both North Viet Nam and South Viet Nam be invited to take part in U.N. discussions on a conference to seek peace in Viet Nam.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg told the Security Council that he believed it would be useful to have representatives of Saigon and Hanoi appear during current council debate.

The U.S. delegate took the floor as the 15-nation council met to consider a U.S. proposal for preliminary talks on arranging a Viet Nam peace conference.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko declined to tell newsmen in advance of the session whether he would oppose council debate.

Goldberg explained in detail U.S. reasons for bringing the Viet Nam problem to the United Nations. He said President Johnson had acted after every other effort had failed to bring about peace negotiations.

"Our resort to the Security Council, despite what anyone may say or speculate about it," he said, "is briefly and simply further evidence of our resolve to settle this conflict peaceably, a resolve that stems from a deep and abiding belief that a negotiated settlement rather than a military solution is obviously to the best interest of the Vietnamese people as a whole."

Both the U.S. request for the council meeting and the U.S. resolution caught U.N. diplomats by surprise. The corridors buzzed with speculation on possible Soviet moves. One unanswered question was whether the Russians would seek to have the government of North Viet Nam invited to take part in the council debate. Another was whether the Russians would veto the U.S. resolution.

The U.S. delegation was not expected to object if the council favored inviting North Viet Nam, but there was no word on the U.S. attitude toward a bid to the Viet Cong. The British government disclosed Monday night that North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh, in a message to Queen Elizabeth II last week, set as a new condition for peace talks U.S. recognition of the Viet Cong as "the sole genuine representative of the people of South Viet Nam."

Red China again rejected U.N. intervention in the Viet Nam war. Repeating Peking's often-stated position, the official New China News Agency said the United Nations "has no right to meddle with the Viet Nam question."

The first private reaction of U.N. diplomats to the U.S. proposal was one of doubt that the council debate would be useful. Some feared it would force the Soviet Union into taking a hard line and destroy any possibility of private Soviet pressure on Hanoi for peace.

U.S. officials, however, were aware of this risk and apparently believed the gamble was worth taking. They also were prepared to face strong criticism for resuming the bombing of North Viet Nam.

Young Actor Kills Mickey Rooney's 5th Wife and Self

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The planned reconciliation of Mickey Rooney and his fifth wife has resulted in her murder and the suicide of the young Yugoslav actor accused by Rooney of being her lover.

The bodies of Barbara Thomson Rooney, 29, and Milos Milosevic, 25, an actor known professionally as Milos Milos, were found Monday in the bathroom of the $150,000 Brentwood home Rooney once shared with his wife and four young children.

Police theorized that Milosevic shot Mrs. Rooney, then turned the 38-caliber pistol on himself because she was planning to resume her marriage with the diminutive actor.

Rooney himself was under sedation at St. John's Hospital in nearby Santa Monica, being treated for an intestinal infection acquired during filming in the Philippines.

Said Rooney's manager, Red Doff: "Mickey told me they'd (he and Barbara) had a very good talk and they were very close to reconciliation. I think Milos may have resented it."

This apparently triggered the acts of violence by Milosevic whose divorced wife had asked police protection from his fits of temper.

West Los Angeles police, fitting together the sequence of events that led to the double tragedy, said this picture emerged:

Rooney returned from the Philippine location in December to discover he had been replaced in his wife's affections by the handsome Milosevic who had been a friend of the family for a year.

Milosevic had appeared in three films — "The Russians Are Coming," yet to be released; "Religious Legends of Old Monterey," and an art film, "Incubus," in Esperanto. His marriage to Cynthia Krensky Bourdon on July 2, 1964, ended in divorce after she charged him with assault last July and was to have become final this July.

A week ago, Rooney filed suit for divorce, charging that his wife "was allowing, permitting, encouraging or harboring" the Yugoslav actor at the Rooney home.

Rooney listed his income at $30,000 a year, and suggested monthly alimony of $400 and child support payments of $600 per month.

Milos Milosevic

Mrs. Rooney countered with a suit for separate maintenance.

Last Sunday night, Rooney and his wife met in his hospital room. Unknown to him, she had hired a private detective to tape record their conversation.

The 45-year-old actor-comedian, once famed as Andy Hardy, was persuasive in his arguments for a reconciliation. His wife shut off the recorder when she began to succumb to his reasoning.

She and the detective, Herm Schleske, returned to her home. There she met Milosevic, two of her women friends and her attorney, Harold Ables.

The attorney said later: "She agreed not to see him (Milosevic) anymore if it bothered Mr. Rooney."

Milosevic appeared to agree without rancor to break off his friendship with Mrs. Rooney. He then invited her into the master bedroom. They disappeared inside at 8:30 p.m. and the door was locked.

It was the last time they were seen alive.

A house guest, Wilma Catania, 35, decided to depart for dinner an hour later. She knocked on the bedroom door. Hearing no answer, she took Mrs. Rooney's car.

She returned at 2:30 a.m. and found the house lights ablaze. Police believe that Milosevic may have fired the pistol shortly after entering the bedroom. No gunshots were heard even though a maid was in the house and three of the Rooney children — Kelly, 5; Kerry, 4; and Kyle, 3 — were in a bedroom 30 feet away.

No Hanoi Raids For Time Being

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told administration officials he intends to keep a tight rein on any expansion of the Vietnamese war. He is understood to have ruled out any bombing of Hanoi or Haiphong for the immediate future.

Officials said today the President is determined at this time, having resumed the bombing in the North, to stick to a middle-course policy. They said he intends to avoid any show of a lack of determination, on the one hand, and any unnecessary escalation on the other.

The pattern of attacks in the new phase of the war following the peace offensive is expected to be consistent with a pattern followed before the pause began.

Bombing was suspended before Christmas and resumed Monday after a 37-day lull.

Army Hearing Asked on NSP St. Croix Plant

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers has been asked to conduct public hearings on whether to permit Northern States Power Co. to build coal handling, mooring and water intake and discharge facilities at its new St. Croix River plant.

The St. Paul district office of the corps said Monday that construction permits were opposed by Save the St. Croix, Inc., and the Wisconsin attorney general—both also opponents of the plant's construction last year.

A corps spokesman said hearing requests would be forwarded to higher headquarters with a recommendation on whether a hearing would be justified.

The corps said Jan. 14 that it would consider data on "aspects of the proposed construction other than navigation."

"The majority of letters simply indicated desire to go on record as favoring public hearings, without otherwise taking a position," the corps spokesman said.

CULLEN R. PIERCE, SECRETARY

Johnson in a public statement said "it is our clear duty to do what we can" to limit the cost in lives of Allied soldiers fighting Red forces in the South. The major stated aim of the bombing is to curtail the movement of arms and soldiers from North to South in Viet Nam.

At the same time Johnson said his "pursuit of peace" would go on primarily through the United Nations. U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg called for an immediate session of the U.N. Security Council to hear a report on the peace effort and receive resolutions designed to continue efforts to get North Viet Nam to negotiate.

Johnson, it was learned, made the basic decision last Saturday to resume the bombing. He had been discussing it with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other advisers throughout the week.

Late Saturday afternoon the President went over targets which had been submitted for the first strikes after the pause ended. He had followed that procedure during the bombings last year, exercising close control over the operations against the North, and will continue to do so, officials said.

Johnson reportedly re-examined on Saturday the fundamental premises underlying last year's bombing strategy and decided that he must do everything possible to reduce the volume of supplies flowing into the South. He also decided, in a final review of his peace offensive, that a resumption of bombing would not affect the outlook for negotiations because the possibilities of getting North Viet Nam into a conference had been exhausted during the month-long peace drive.

After he reached his decision to renew the bombings, he allowed 24 hours for notifying several governments.

Rusk, whose role in the original bombing pause decision had been questioned some weeks ago, told a news conference Monday that he had supported the Christmas-time suspension of bombing and the long pause which continued for a month afterward. He also said that he and other senior advisers to the President had agreed in recommending that when the peace offensive failed the bombing be resumed.

Officials did not mention it specifically, but one of the underlying reasons for resuming the bombing strategy is that it is negotiable. It gives the United States a card to play in some further peace drive.

Diplomats were skeptical that the United Nations would make progress where so many other countries which enlisted in the peace drive had failed during the past month.

Thermite Sought To Blast Slush Ice on Mississippi

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — Engineers are seeking a special type of explosive—thermite—to melt Mississippi River slush ice that threatens flooding.

Thermite is a low-yield explosive that releases high temperatures. Engineers believe it could melt slush ice without breaking up surface ice—but they have not located an area supply of thermite nor an expert to use it.

The slush is under surface ice along three miles of river from a St. Cloud dam to Sauk Rapids. City and Army engineers and Civil Defense workers have found that the slush extends from surface ice to the river bottom at spots, and has raised surface ice up to four feet above normal, although still within the riverbanks.

The slush is believed to have formed when water—super-cooled through rapids—slowed downstream. Only a few basements have been flooded thus far.

University of Florida biologists hope to mount radio transmitters on green turtles and track them by satellite.

Archers Make Gains; Top Members Cited

The Winona Archers shot forward in 1965, according to Richard Carr, outgoing president, as he summarized the past year's club activities Saturday night at its annual awards banquet.

"We worked and had fun, and more than doubled our membership from below 70 to 165," he said.

Carr mentioned archery range improvements, acquisition of a registration booth at the range, construction of a large parking lot, part of which had been earlier washed away in the flood, and a deer kill of 27—22 whitetails from Wisconsin and Minnesota and 5 mule deer from Montana and Colorado.

CLUB "firsts" included the winning team Aug. 8 at the West Central Field Archery League shoot at La Crosse and the best amateur float in 1965 Steamboat Days parade, Carr noted.

Individual awards went to Robert Fratzke for shooting the largest rough fish, a 31½-pound carp; Ron Quamen, largest mule deer killed, a 109-pound field-dressed doe shot in Montana, and to Pat Duffy, largest white-tailed deer, a 130-pound field-dressed buck shot near Black River Falls.

Club outdoor and indoor shoot champions are Gary Fratzke and Ron Quamen.

Men's class champions are Robert Fratzke, champion class; James Cummings, expert; Terry Wobig, bowman; Roy Vorse, archer, and Ed Brown, hunter. In the women's division, winners are Elaine Rieman, expert; Dallas Polus, bowman, and Julie Schumacher, archer.

Sen. Nelson Fears Massive Land War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gaylord Nelson called for "a searching inquiry" by Congress into the Viet Nam conflict Monday as Wisconsin Democrats divided in their reaction to the President's orders for resumed bombing.

Nelson said he thought that "continued escalation of the Viet Nam war" through bombing of targets in North Viet Nam could result in a massive land war.

DEAR ABBY:

This Woman Turns to Pipe

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My bride of five weeks is trying to quit the cigarette habit, so now she smokes one of those ladies' pipes. It is dainty and fancy, but it's a pipe all the same and she smokes a real he-man tobacco in it. She likes to smoke in bed at night while reading the newspapers, and she knocks that darned pipe against the headboard, the night-stand or the wall to loosen the tobacco. Our bed is always full of ashes, and the bedroom smells like a tobacco warehouse on fire. Should I tell her that either that pipe has got to go, or she does?

DEAR SMOKE: Don't threaten her or she'll need even more nicotine to calm her nerves. Substituting one bad habit for another is useless. Believe it or not, some smokers are so badly hooked they need medical help to effect a cure. Your bride sounds like a victim. Don't wait for smoke signals.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 16 years and I now find myself in the most ridiculous situation imaginable. He is involved with another woman and he can't make up his mind which one of us he wants. About a month ago he started telling me all the things that were wrong with me. I was a lousy housekeeper, I nagged, I was extravagant, etc. Then suddenly he got sweet again and told me he'd had his fling and was ready to settle down. Now he's in an indecisive mood again. I have been patient with him as we have three children. I've tried extra affection, acting like I didn't care, telling him to pack and leave. Now I'm at a loss because he says he loves us BOTH so much he can't make up his mind between us. Can this be? Am I old-fashioned to want my husband all to myself, or is this something new with men these days?

DEAR ONLY: You're not old-fashioned — and it's nothing new. It's known as having one's cake and eating it, too. Don't let him get away with this game. Tell him you are not about to go "halfies" with anyone, so he'd better start behaving like a husband — yours!

DEAR ABBY: The principal of the school our children attend calls my sister and me by our FIRST names at all the PTA meetings. She taught us 18 years ago. I asked her please to call us "MRS." and she said she didn't know the "MRS." meant so much to us. I think she should have a little more respect for us in front of other parents. We are respectable people in our neighborhood and church. It's no fun hiring a sitter and going to PTA meetings just to end up feeling like the end of a janitor's mop.

DEGRADED MOTHERS

DEAR "DEGRADED": Hold on! I am sure the principal intended only to be "friendly" — not degrading. Don't forget, she did know you by your first names when you were pupils. However, since you did make an issue of it, she might have accepted your criticism a bit more graciously. But I think you are a wee bit touchy.

Missing Man Found Hanging in Garage

WINDOM, Minn. (AP) — William Newell, 50, who had been missing since Nov. 11, was found hanging in a garage loft Sunday, authorities reported.

Newell, from Bingham Lake, Minn., was father of five children. Larry Johnson, 13, found the body while rearranging storage in the loft. Bingham Lake is about five miles northeast of Windom.

Authorities had no further details of the case.

Rolvaag Not Decided on Announcement

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag said today he has no target date for announcing his political intentions, even though only one month remains before Democratic - Farmer - Labor Party precinct caucuses.

The caucuses, first step in choosing of delegates to the conventions that will endorse the party candidates, will be held in all precincts March 1.

Asked whether he intended an announcement within the month remaining, Rolvaag said: "I honestly can't tell you; I might wake up tomorrow morning and decide 'this is the day' or I might not."

But Rolvaag's silence has not halted the choosing up sides within the DFL, as Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith continues to press his challenge in stronger terms.

Two labor leaders are among the latest to join the Rolvaag side.

In St. Paul, Rep. Joseph Prifrel, a veterans of the Teamsters Union movement, said sentiment in his district is "very strong" for Rolvaag.

Asked whether this reflected his own views, Prifrel said: "My district is supporting Rolvaag, there's your answer."

In Duluth, a kingpin of the United Steelworkers Union — Earl Bester — said he has swung around to the Rolvaag camp as a result of the governor's performance since last summer's "dumpr" Rolvaag" move at Sugar Hills.

Jay Rockefeller Enters Politics in West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Another Rockefeller has entered politics — but in West Virginia of all places, and as a Democrat, of all things.

He is John D. (Jay) Rockefeller IV, great grandson of the empire builder and member of one of the nation's best-known Republican families. Jay, whose Uncle Nelson is Republican governor of New York and whose Uncle Winthrop is a GOP gubernatorial candidate in Arkansas, filed Monday for a seat in the West Virginia House of Delegates.

Now 28, he was a registered Republican for five years. "The decision in itself was not difficult," he said. "But you just don't walk out on that much tradition without a lot of thought."

Jay said he went to Arkansas to talk with Winthrop and recently met with Nelson in New York. "I received their support," he said, "because it's important to them that I do what makes sense for me as a person."

He arrived in West Virginia in July 1964, and has been a neighborhood social worker in the Action for Appalachian Youth Program. Most of the past 18 months he has spent at nearby Emmons working with people he says never had a chance.

"If anything," he said, "my candidacy grows out of my work here. Political decisions affect people so immediately and so forcefully that the legislative level seemed a natural followup to anyone trying to solve problems common to an area like Emmons."

He explained his political switch this way:

The tall, handsome Ivy League bachelor is the son of John D. Rockefeller II of New York, chairman of the board of trustees of the Rockefeller Foundation. He recently moved into his own house in Charleston and says he plans to stay in West Virginia permanently. "This is my home now," he said.

Arcadia Firemen Out; Aid to Trempealeau

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — Arcadia firemen responded to a call Saturday at 9:30 p.m. to the Koldstad apartments East River Street. Fire Chief Donald Glanzner reported an oil burner had backfired and blown out soot. No damage resulted.

Firemen were called to the Julius Jensen farm 10 miles south of Arcadia in the Town of Trempealeau Saturday at 3 p.m. to assist the Trempealeau firemen which had run short of water while trying to extinguish burning shingles on the roof of the Jensen home. Sparks from a chimney fire had ignited the shingles. Damage was reported slight.

Minneapolis Host to Norwegian Orchestra

By GEORGE MOSES
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — With some of its instruments stalled in a Pennsylvania snowdrift, the Norwegian Festival Orchestra of Bergen prepared to open a tour of the United States here tonight, buoyed by the warmest and heaviest Norwegian - accented welcome it is likely to get in the 29 cities on its itinerary.

White-haired Oivin Fjelstad, who will share the baton on the tour with Karsten Andersen, calls Minneapolis "The most Norwegian city we'll visit."

Fjelstad, director of the Oslo Philharmonic, has been guest conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony. Andersen is regular conductor of the Bergen group. "We feel at home here, cold weather and all," Fjelstad said. "Someone will be introduced to me, in English, then break into the most perfect Norwegian, the way the language was spoken 20 years ago."

"And I will be asked if I know Mr. Hansen from Trondheim. Of course I do."

The orchestra, celebrating its 200th birthday with its U.S. tour, will borrow storm - bound heavy instruments like the harp and the base drum in Minneapolis. Officials hope the Pennsylvania Turnpike will disgorge their own drum and the like in time for other Minnesota concerts, Wednesday in Moorhead and Thursday in Bemidji.

The orchestra plays in New York March 7 and winds up March 13 in Washington.

The 73 musicians need not have left far from home at a Sons of Norway reception in Minneapolis Monday night.

Nelly Lygre, a blonde in a black dress who is president of the Bergenslaget, an organization of people from the Bergen area, greeted the musicians entirely in Norwegian.

Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag of Minnesota, himself a Norwegian, began in English, but wound up offering a quote "thousand thanks" in their native tongue.

The Hon. Hans Engen, Norwegian ambassador to the United States, observed that "ski" and "skol" had once been considered the leading Norwegian contributions to the English language.

And a struggling master of ceremonies, seeking to get the program started over the cocktail hubbub, got nowhere with a polite, "May I have your attention please?"

He was rescued by a Son of Norway, who roared what was obviously the Norwegian equivalent. The room quieted in two seconds.

Before the reception, Engen laid a wreath at the snow-shrouded statue of Ole Bull in a Minneapolis' Loring Park. The legendary Norwegian violinist received the floral tribute with the mercury at zero.

The Norwegian ambassador also presented Rolvaag with the Commander Cross of the Order of St. Olav—one of Norway's highest awards—on behalf of King Olav V.

The award, dating to 1847, is an "expression of appreciation for distinguished service to the country or to humanity," according to the Norwegian consul-general's office.

Fatality Case Trial Changed To Rochester

A motion for transfer of the criminal negligence trial of Richard H. Brehmer, 21, Plainview, Minn., from Winona County was granted today in District Court.

Venue was changed to Olmsted County District Court in Rochester.

BREHMER is charged with criminal negligence for his alleged grossly careless driving on the night of Sept. 3 when his car collided with the tractor of a semi at East 3rd and Carmona streets. A passenger in the Brehmer car, 17-year-old Karen Lee Thilmany, was killed instantly.

Defense Attorney Daniel F. Foley, Wabasha, Minn., argued that stories in the Winona Daily News had made it inconceivable that Brehmer could receive a fair trial in this county.

Assistant County Attorney Richard H. Darby, though denying that Brehmer could not receive a fair trial here, did not oppose the motion. He told Judge Arnold Hatfield that the state is interested in obtaining a speedy trial of the matter and that opposition to the motion could lead to undesirable delays.

FOLEY CITED a 1963 decision of the state Supreme Court in the matter of change of venue from St. Paul of the Thompson murder trial.

In that case, Foley said, the Supreme Court had ruled that the press has a constitutionally guaranteed right to print factual accounts of alleged crimes. But the court had drawn the line at publication of the opinions of those who are supposed to know something about the case.

Foley cited material in the Sept. 5 Winona Sunday News which, he said, tended to pin the guilt on Brehmer for a fatal accident before police had even made an arrest.

Foley read a picture caption which referred to Brehmer's car as "sloped up," in the words of a patrolman. He read from the accompanying story that Brehmer's car had moved "swiftly" according to one witness, and how it had looked like "a white toboggan" according to another cited in the story.

THE DEFENSE attorney referred Judge Hatfield to other copies of the Daily News which had given accounts of Brehmer's preliminary hearing in municipal court late in September.

Foley claimed that Brehmer would come into Winona County District Court under a cloud of guilt, in effect forcing him to prove his innocence, contrary to the guarantees of the U.S. Constitution.

Darby admitted that there may have been some statements of opinion included in the Daily News articles, but he argued that such stories do not stay long in people's memories.

The state's concern for a speedy trial, in fact, is based on just this concern, Darby said. The state's witnesses will be able to testify more accurately if the trial is held relatively soon.

SINCE FOLEY had already expressed his intention to appeal to the state Supreme Court if Judge Hatfield denied the change of venue, Darby said that he would not oppose the motion. He would only ask, Darby said, that venue be

Council Committee Recommending No Urban Renewal Vote

An urban renewal referendum apparently has been ruled out for Winona by a three-part opinion of the state attorney general.

This will be the substance of a special committee report to the City Council next Monday. The committee of five aldermen met informally Monday night to discuss the attorney general's opinion it had directed the city

Another Speeding Trial Scheduled

Two guilty pleas and a not guilty plea to traffic charges were entered by two defendants today in municipal court. Another man forfeited bond.

Dennis Ehmke, 24, 479 1/2 W. 5th St., pleaded guilty to charges of speeding 40 m.p.h. in a 30 zone on Gilmore Avenue from Clark's Lane to South Baker Street and driving with no valid driver's license at Mark and Olmstead streets Jan. 24 at 11:55 p.m.

He paid a $25 fine as the alternative to eight days on the first charge and $15 as the alternative to five days on the second charge.

Judge John D. McGill set trial for Feb. 8 at 9:30 a.m. after hearing Dominic J. Jaszewski, Fountain City, Wis., plead not guilty to a charge of speeding 40 m.p.h. in a 30 zone on West 2nd Street from Huff to Wilson streets Saturday at 1:30 a.m.

Jaszewski posted the $35 bail set by Judge McGill.

Timothy J. Anderson, 20, Bangor, Wis., forfeited $30 bond on a charge of careless driving at 4th and Market streets Sunday at 11:10 p.m.

No Parking Rule In Goodview Starts Wednesday

The snow removal ordinance will go into effect Wednesday on all village streets in Goodview, Clarence Russell, clerk, said today.

The ordinance prohibits parking on all village streets from 1 a.m. to 7 a.m. all days from Nov. 1 to April 30. During the other months, residents may park on the streets during those hours.

However, the ordinance prohibits more than 24-hour parking in one location any time of the year, Russell said.

Violators will be ticketed or they may be ticketed and have their vehicle impounded, hauling costs to be paid by the owner, he explained.

changed to a county where a speedy trial could be had.

Both attorneys estimated it would take three days to try the case. Trial may take place this month.

duced a recommendation of the committee that in the future service on the board be limited to two consecutive two-year terms. The proposal was taken under advisement.

DURING the general meeting the membership elected 13 board members nominated by Stone's committee. They are: Dr. M. L. DeBolt, a Winona optometrist; James Foster, president of Central Labor Union; Robert C. Olson, Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.; Msgr. Dittman, rector of the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart; Norman Schellhas, Merchants National Bank; Jerry Kenney, Northern States Power Co.; the Rev. William King, pastor of Grace Presbyterian Church; David Sauer, county supervisor of assessments; Roy Burmeister, United Building Center; Robert Lemkey, Lake Center Switch Co.; Mrs. Fred Burmeister; Herbert Schlindiske, Watkins Products, Inc.; and Larry Connell, Winona State College.

During the business meeting reports were heard from Nelson, as retiring president; Neil Booth, who presented the treasurer's report in the absence of treasurer Gordon Espy; Stoa, general chairman of the 1965 fund appeal; Stone, chairman of the nominations committee; and Gerald Timm, who read resolutions of appreciation.

NEILSON expressed his appreciation for the interest and sup-attorney to secure.

THREE QUESTIONS were asked by City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. They were:

• May the council conduct a special election asking the electorate to vote "yes" or "no" on the following question: "Do you want federal aid for urban renewal?"

• May the council put the foregoing question on a ballot at a general election?

• May the city allow a local non-municipal organization to use city voting machines to record a vote of the electorate?

Attorney General Robert W. Mattson's office answered "no" to all three. Grounds for the answer, said the attorney general's opinion, are that there is no special legislative authority or charter provision for such delegation to the electorate of such responsibility by the council.

"THE POWER of initiative or referendum usually is restricted to legislative ordinances, resolutions or measures and is not extended to executive or administrative action," said the opinion.

"The test of whether the proposition is legislative or administrative is: 'The power to be exercised is legislative in its nature if it prescribes a new policy or plan; whereas, it is administrative in its nature if it merely pursues a plan already adopted by the legislative body itself, or some power superior to it,' concluded the attorney general's answer.

Aldermen have been studying the referendum question ever since last year. A referendum was approved by a close vote in connection with spring elections. Two weeks later, the council reversed itself and resolved to hold the advisory vote this year, after plans were finished and the public had been given the opportunity to study them.

AN INFORMAL opinion by the attorney general early last year advised the council it could not legally spend city funds for the purpose.

Aldermen then considered possibilities of an informal poll conducted by the League of Women Voters, using city voting machines. When the League asked about council plans late in 1965, the special committee was appointed to handle details. Its chairman is Ald. David Johnston.

In the course of ensuing discussions, Johnston said, Robertson was asked to secure opinions on all phases of the election proposal.

Recognizing that referendums have been held before in connection with city elections, Johnston said he nevertheless feels he cannot recommend the urban renewal vote as currently envisioned.

IN THE LIGHT of the recent opinion, he said, similar advisory votes would appear to have been illegal, except for those specifically required by the legislature or by the city charter.

Robertson will read the attorney general's opinion in next Monday's regular council meeting, Johnston said.

Freeburg Man Dies in Fire; Home Burns

FREEBURG, Minn. (Special) — A 53-year-old Freeburg bachelor, Cletus Mack, who lived alone in the two-story home of his late parents, perished in a fire which burned the house with all its contents early this morning.

Carmen, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hayes, close neighbors, was awakened by light from the flames, which were leaping from the windows. She awakened her father, who went outside to see if he could do anything. Mrs. Hayes called Sheriff Byron Whitehouse at 3:40 a.m. When the sheriff reached the scene shortly after the arrival of the Caledonia fire department at 4:10 a.m., the frame house was in ruins.

THE REMAINS of the victim were found about 8:30 a.m. They were under debris in the downstairs bedroom, where neighbors said he was in the habit of sleeping. He was burned beyond recognition except that his familiar wristwatch was still on his arm and remnants of the clothing which he had worn earlier at the Little Miami Tavern in Freeburg during a card game were still intact.

One foot and part of his leg had been burned off, according to officials.

Earlier, before discovery of the body, firemen had removed an iron bedstead from his bedroom but had not seen the body. The search was delayed by the debris and by the heat.

Sheriff Whitehouse said the cause of the fire is not known. He said Mack may have been sitting reading in the bedroom after he arrived home about 1 a.m., as he had been in the habit of doing, neighbors said.

OFFICIALS conclude that he had dropped to sleep and died of smoke inhalation before he could make an effort to get out of the house.

The home was heated by an oil-burning space heater. It probably was not the cause of the blaze, however, officers said. They believe he may have dropped asleep while smoking.

Flames were so intense they cracked windows in the Hayes home and caused a fire on the roof; a hole was burned. The two houses were side by side on the east end of Freeburg, an unincorporated village 10 miles west of Caledonia near Brownsville.

MACK was born Feb. 11, 1912, in the New Albin, Iowa, area, Allamakee County, to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Mack. He moved here with his parents.

He was employed by Nelson Construction Co., Caledonia, and was a veteran of World War II. Survivors are: Four brothers, Clarence, Caledonia; Maurice, Rochester; Earl, New Albin; and Norbert, Waukegan, Ill.; and one sister, Mrs. Merle Kelleher, Lansing, Iowa.

FUNERAL services will be Thursday at 9:30 a.m. at Steffen Funeral Home, Caledonia, and 10 a.m. at St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Freeburg, the Rev. Thaddeus Derezinski officiating. Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p.m. Wednesday. The Rosary will be said Wednesday at 8 p.m. by Father Derezinski.

Aldermen Take Another Look at Renewal Plan

Renewal planning up to its present stage was outlined for the City Council Monday night by officials of the Housing and Redevelopment Authority of Winona at a special joint meeting.

Purpose of the meeting, said Council President Harold Briesath, was to allow aldermen to ask questions.

Dr. W. O. Finkelnburg, authority board chairman, then took the floor to read a list of questions and answers that anticipated most of the council members' queries.

IT WAS an evening for analogies. Dr. Finkelnburg likened non-cash credits (against a city's share of renewal costs) to trading stamps. C. Stanley McMahon, authority legal counsel, called the city analogous to a human body; the core area is the heart, stricken with coronary disease and needing treatment, he said.

Drawing another parallel, McMahon said the city is like a machine with a part worn out by lack of proper care. Lack of maintenance, not age, destroys a vehicle, he said. Thirty-year-old airplanes perform routinely because of superior maintenance but 10-year-old automobiles are seldom seen because upkeep is neglected, he observed.

Urban decay is not peculiar to Winona, McMahon said, but is found in many cities. Downtown areas usually are the oldest parts and often are the most rundown, therefore. The situation is similar to disease in a body, he said. Some persons who fall ill hope the disease will go away, some try self-treatment, most seek expert medical advice, he commented.

WINONA has had expert advice in its 1959 master plan — some of which was ignored — and in its new downtown plan, said McMahon. Conclusions of the new study are that the time is late, but not too late, he asserted.

After studying evidence that advanced decay exists and will continue to erode values, the council should ask itself the same question that was put to him, said McMahon: "Can't the city that saved itself from the flood save itself from this?"

Comparing non-cash credits with trading stamps, Dr. Finkelnburg said that in either case they are paid for by the consumer. The city plan is the "wishbook" he said, and when enough "stamps" have been accumulated the desired premium can be had. A "whole bundle" of such credits is available to the city in the form of potential renewal credits linked with improvements at Winona State College, Dr. Finkelnburg said.

THE DOWNTOWN plan, formally approved by the housing authority, now is being reviewed by the Housing and Home Finance Agency, he explained. No action can be taken by the council until it is approved and returned by the HHFA, said the chairman.

Planning procedures were outlined by James Kleinschmidt, assistant director for urban renewal for the authority.

As presented last November, he said, the plan called for a downtown vocational-technical school site. This was vetoed by the council and the plan was reshaped and completed a month later, he recalled.

"Now we have a plan to build up downtown, not tear it down," said Kleinschmidt. "This is the only downtown plan there is."

Project lines as drawn are flexible, Kleinschmidt said, and so are time schedules. A 4-block core is the hub, he continued, and it includes proposals for two major retail facilities. Smaller facilities will surround the nucleus.

PLANS propose blocking 3rd Street from Main to Walnut street and Center from 2nd to 4th Street. The block bounded by 3rd, 4th, Main and Center streets would be improved chiefly by rehabilitation, said Kleinschmidt. A parking lot is planned for the old 1st National Bank site and rear facade of all adjacent buildings would be refinished, along with general refurbishing. These improvements would be at the expense of owners, he pointed out.

Winona has many natural advantages, said Kleinschmidt, but it also has many things wrong. If such drawbacks were removed, he contended, "industry and commerce would be knocking at our doors." The pulse of the community is its downtown, he said, because there is where the city has its greatest public investment. The city is deeply committed in such investments as public buildings, streets, parking lots and utilities, he said.

ALD. Barry Nelson asked what happens to land or buildings already owned by the city that are within project limits. Kleinschmidt replied that such property could become part of the city's non-cash credits toward its cost share.

If the city decided not to donate property — such as the Latsch building — said Nelson, would the authority buy it along with other real estate?

Under Minnesota law, said McMahon, the city and the housing authority are separate municipal corporations. The authority would follow normal acquisition procedures for city property, even to the extent of condemnation if necessary, he said, even though this might amount to trading dollars.

The authority assumes the city will install meters on renewal area parking lots, Kleinschmidt told Nelson, but this is a decision up to the council.

AT LEAST two nationally known concerns are interested in locating here if renewal is undertaken, said J. E. Krier, an authority board member. Krier also is acting executive director for the WIIRA until a replacement for the late Arthur A. Gallien is found.

Krier said he has been in close touch with developers who are ready to invest in renewal area facilities. He declined to identify them, however.

Tax loss on land cleared and prior to rebuilding will be added to the city's non-cash credit

Bank Employee Slated for Arraignment

BULLETIN MINNEAPOLIS — Beverly J. Bellman requested a preliminary hearing today when she appeared before a U.S. commissioner here. Commissioner Bernard Zimpher set next Tuesday as the hearing date. Miss Bellman was released on a $1,000 personal recognizance bond.

Federal officials in Minneapolis said late this morning that the appearance of Miss Beverly J. Bellman, 38, Lake Boulevard, before a federal commissioner on an embezzlement charge would take place "later today."

Miss Bellman, assistant cashier and teller supervisor at First National Bank of Winona, is charged with taking $33,000 from three customers' accounts and making false entries in bank records to cover up the shortage, according to the FBI.

(Bank presi- Miss Bellman dent A. E. Stoa, in a statement issued Monday, estimated the total involved at $20,000.)

The federal commissioner before whom Miss Bellman is scheduled to appear today cannot accept a plea to the charge. He can only verify that Miss Bellman is the person named in the complaint and set bail.

Miss Bellman was promoted to assistant cashier of the bank last August. She began working for the bank Sept. 1, 1945, as a part-time messenger while attending Winona Senior High School.

After her graduation from high school in 1946, Miss Bellman worked in the proof, bookkeeping and savings departments of the First National Bank. She became a commercial teller and was appointed head teller Jan. 1, 1961. A year later, she was appointed teller supervisor.

Miss Bellman has been an officer and board member of the Winona chapter of the American Institute of Banking, and she completed several AIB courses.

Air Force to Secure Base Negroes Seized

BULLETIN GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Air Force troops today forcibly evicted a band of 60 Negro squatters from the deactivated Greenville Air Force Base. The Negroes put up a struggle and were carried out bodily by air police.

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — The Air Force flew 100 officers and airmen into its deactivated Greenville base early today to counter an invasion by a band of Negro squatters.

"We will secure the base from further demonstrators," said Maj. George Hennrikus, an Air Force information officer. "Under no circumstances will our men be equipped with weapons."

The Negroes, along with a few white civil rights workers, camped around two pot-bellied stoves through the night in a determined bid to make their capture of an abandoned building force special anti-poverty help from the federal government.

The Negroes said they were hungry and had no jobs or land. The Air Force contingent, down in from five bases, bolstered Lt. Col. George Andrews, the only Air Force officer on the base, and his 27 civilians.

list, said Dr. Finkelnburg. These credits cannot be carried forward to other projects, he told City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr.

A LITTLE more than $1 million in non-cash credits is available in connection with improvement and land acquisition at Winona State College, said Dr. Finkelnburg. By setting up a city off-street parking lot there under the renewal process, these credits could be captured. Unused surplus credits could then be transferred to other projects in downtown areas, he said. The authority would acquire the land under renewal procedures and sell it to the city, he said.

Dr. Finkelnburg said he did not know at present what such a project — probably a half-block in area — would cost.

If the Choate & Co. lot now being purchased by the city does not fit in with general renewal plans, the authority would acquire it from the city just as it would other property, Dr. Finkelnburg told President Briesath. The purchase price would be subject to appraisal and negotiation at that time, he told Ald. James Stoltman.

DRIVE FALLS SHORT

Stoa Elected Chest President

The past year's achievements of the Winona Community Chest, Inc., were reviewed and suggestions for further strengthening the Chest role in the future were considered at Monday night's 23rd annual dinner meeting of the Chest at the YMCA.

At a meeting of the board of directors called at the completion of the regular business session, A. E. Stoa, 305 Winona St., president of the First National Bank of Winona, as president, headed a Stoa state of officers named by the board on recommendation of its nominating committee. He succeeds A. L. Nelson.

OTHER officers elected for 1966 are David Sauer, vice president; Francis Lipinski, treasurer, and Mrs. E. P. Jacobson, secretary. Elected to the executive committee were John Woodworth and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Harold J. Dittman. As immediate past president, Nelson also becomes a member of the executive committee.

Everett Edstrom, 735 Johnson St., will serve as general chairman for the 1966 fund campaign.

port of the Chest shown in the past year. He emphasized the importance of work of the budget committee and its chairman, Herbert Lassinger, and the admissions committee, headed by Dr. DeBolt.

"The most difficult and time-consuming work done in this organization is by the drive chairman," he said. "This year has been no exception to the fine effort of the drive chairmen we have had in past years. We were able to pay the agencies the entire amount allocated them by the budget committee. All committees of the chest have functioned extremely well and hundreds of people in Winona involved on these committees in the drive itself did well."

"This past year the drive changed its format; considerable emphasis was placed on completing the drive in one day. This procedure has merit, though in the first year of operation some confusion resulted and some felt their task was completed after the first day even though they had not contacted all of their prospects. With this experience we should improve this situation."

"There is one problem that disturbs me," he continued, "and that is the pattern of giving in Winona. The number of people working in Winona continues to increase, the economy of Winona has advanced but contributions to the Chest have not kept pace with the growth in this economy even though contributions, generally, to the Chest have increased slightly each year. I'm sorry to say there are many people and firms who have been giving the same amount for many years. I think some device should be discovered to break this pattern."

THE treasurer's report revealed that receipts in the last campaign were $128,580, compared with $131,660 the previous year. It indicated that remaining unpaid is $3,900, of the amount pledged in 1964, with good prospects of this being reduced by about $1,000 in late-year payments.

A new record for unpaid pledges in 1965 was established with $58,850 at the end of January. This was the lowest figure recorded at this date.

In his review of the 1965 campaign Stoa noted the comparison of funds raised for 1966, involving 6,750 subscribers, of $128,580, while 6,904 subscribers contributed or pledged $131,660 for 1965.

"The campaign," he said, "yielded $2,000 less with 150 fewer subscribers. Much of this resulted from a misinterpretation of the one-day campaign."

In our desire to have the campaign as nearly as possible consummated in one day, we failed to get across to the public that after the one day was over we still wanted to complete the solicitation.

"SOME OF the larger firms," he continued, "were not prepared to handle all their employees in this short period. The bright spot in the campaign was the residential solicitation under the direction of Mrs. Robert W. Johnson and Mrs. Fred Burmeister."

In reflecting upon this year's campaign it appeared to him that "more education and better understanding of a one-day campaign should be promoted. It is my feeling a one-day campaign can be effective and we can peak our efforts to this end. I further feel a concerted effort should be put on to more nearly acquaint the public with their responsibilities to the Chest and that this effort to awaken responsibility be both in the area of employees and employers."

Stoa said that recently letters were sent to firms and individuals who have been giving the same amount in recent years encouraging them to strengthen their support of the Chest and making them aware of increased needs of the Chest. The fund chairman expressed his appreciation for the efforts of the solicitors who participated in last year's campaign.

DURING the dinner program folk dance numbers were presented by a group of Central Junior High School students, under the direction of Jerry Gilbert, who are enrolled in a YMCA program.

The floral centerpiece was presented to Mrs. M. L. Spencer Sr., in appreciation of her many years of service to the Chest.

Dinah Lures Pub-Crawlers

NEW YORK — I'll long remember Dinah Shore's great return to New York, and the Plaza Persian Room, because I sat on the ringside looking at the classic back of Anita Louise and the classic front of Jane Morgan.

"What'll I sing?" Dinah asked after quite a lot had already been sung. Milton Berle arose and with a twist and a lisp, said, "Dinah, you thwing what you want to thwing."

"I wish I'd thought of that!" Dinah said.

"You will," Milton said. "You will!"

St. Louis Candy May Help Win Viet Nam War

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Volunteer workers have made almost a million packages of candy to help win the war of the children in Viet Nam.

About 175 employees of Sunline, Inc., a St. Louis candy manufacturer, worked 12 hours without pay Saturday because of a request from the United States Information Agency and U.S. Army Maj. Donald W. Cameron, an adviser at Thuduc, South Viet Nam.

"I worked because I felt that if one little child was helped I was well paid," said volunteer Mrs. Earl Wood of suburban Webster Groves.

Spokesmen said the company shipped about three million packages of its candy to South Viet Nam several months ago for distribution. Doctors ground it up with aspirin to make the medicine more palatable for the Vietnamese children.

The candies are penny-sized, fruit-flavored tablets packaged in foil.

Cameron wrote: "This small act of kindness brought happiness to many, many children, some of whom had never before received a gift. If you decide to send another shipment, the children of Thuduc would be most grateful if you would consider them."

HARRIS SURVEY

U.S. Majority Favors Stepping Up Viet War

By LOUIS HARRIS

LOS ANGELES — If the efforts of President Johnson and his emissaries to get the Communists to the negotiation table in Viet Nam fail, the vast majority of Americans would support an immediate escalation of the war — including all-out bombings of North Viet Nam and increasing U.S. troop commitments to 500,000 men. The temper of American public opinion might be described as hesitantly but determinedly militant if an acceptable peace cannot be negotiated in Southeast Asia.

Before the recent pause, 39% of the public said it thought air raids on North Viet Nam ought to be intensified. But when asked their reaction if the Communists fail to respond to recent peace overtures, the number who would support all-out bombings rose to 61%.

A carefully drawn cross section of the public was asked: "Despite the pause in bombings of North Viet Nam and the cease-fire, suppose the Communists refuse to sit down and talk peace. Would you then favor or oppose all-out U.S. bombings of every part of North Viet Nam?"

The feeling that intensified air warfare is a necessary instrument of U.S. success if the fighting is to continue in Viet Nam is shared by Democrats and Republicans alike. Women and college graduates register the least approval.

The question on increased U.S. troops was put this way:

"We now have 250,000 U.S. troops in Viet Nam, and about more opposed to increased troops than they are to more bombings. The opposite is the case among such groups as college graduates, generally, suburbanites and westerners. The reason seems to be that the higher the education level and the more oriented toward the Pacific the more dubious is public opinion about the effectiveness of bombings and the stronger the feeling that only manpower will count in the end in Viet Nam.

Yet the fact remains that a clear majority of American public opinion is prepared to accept either all-out bombings of North Viet Nam or a doubling of U.S. troops in Viet Nam or both if there appears to be no other alternative to a Communist takeover. As previously reported, the U.S. public is deeply committed to the search for peace in Viet Nam — but not for peace at any price.

Queen Starts 5-Week Tour of Commonwealth

LONDON (AP) — After a 29-minute delay due to a false bomb alarm, Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip took off today for a five-week tour of Commonwealth territories in the sunny Caribbean.

Philip will go on to the United States to seek a million dollars for charity and more trade for Britain.

Just before the queen and her husband were to board their jetliner, an anonymous caller telephoned London Airport that a bomb was aboard the plane.

The couple waited in the royal lounge while security men searched the plane, but no bomb was found.

The caller was a woman who said "Bomb on board the queen's VC10," then hung up.

After weeks of bleak cold, the weatherman gave the queen a springlike sendoff. A bright sun bathed the airport and the temperature was 52 degrees.

The tour will take the royal couple to Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago and 12 British territories in the area, including rest- less British Guiana.

For the first leg of their journey, the queen and Philip were flying by super VC10, the rear-engine jet British Overseas Airways Corp. uses for intercontinental flights.

484 State Draft Quota For March

ST. PAUL (AP)—Col. Robert Knight, state selective service director, said Monday the March Minnesota draft call will be 484 men, an increase of more than 50 over the February call.

However, he said the February and March calls both will be lower than the 916 of December and 719 of January because of large numbers of enlistments in recent months.

Knight also said he is hopeful that deferment tests can be given in April or May to about 35,000 Minnesota youths in colleges and high schools.

Students of draft age throughout the country are to take achievement tests similar to those given during the Korean War to determine deferment status.

Durand Debaters Win District

DURAND, Wis. — The Durand varsity debate team took the first big step toward the state tournament by capturing first place in the district tournament at Eau Claire Regis with a 5-1 record.

On the 17 schools participating there Saturday, seven advanced to the sectional tournament at Chippewa Falls McDonnell Feb. 12.

The affirmative team of Barbara Morey and Gary Wekkin won two of their three debates by defeating Flambeau and Eau Claire Memorial and losing to Chetek. The negative pair of Mary Shafer and John Hess won all three, over Prentice, Rice Lake and Park Falls.

The team was led by John Hess with 136 speaker points, followed by Mary Shafer, 131, Gary Wekkin, 123, and Barbara Morey, 117.

This weekend the team will participate in the St. Olaf College invitational at Northfield.

General Manager Daniel F. Przybylski said today.

Its bucket is a yard and a half, twice the size of the next largest size produced by Badger, and the entire unit weighs 75,000 pounds.

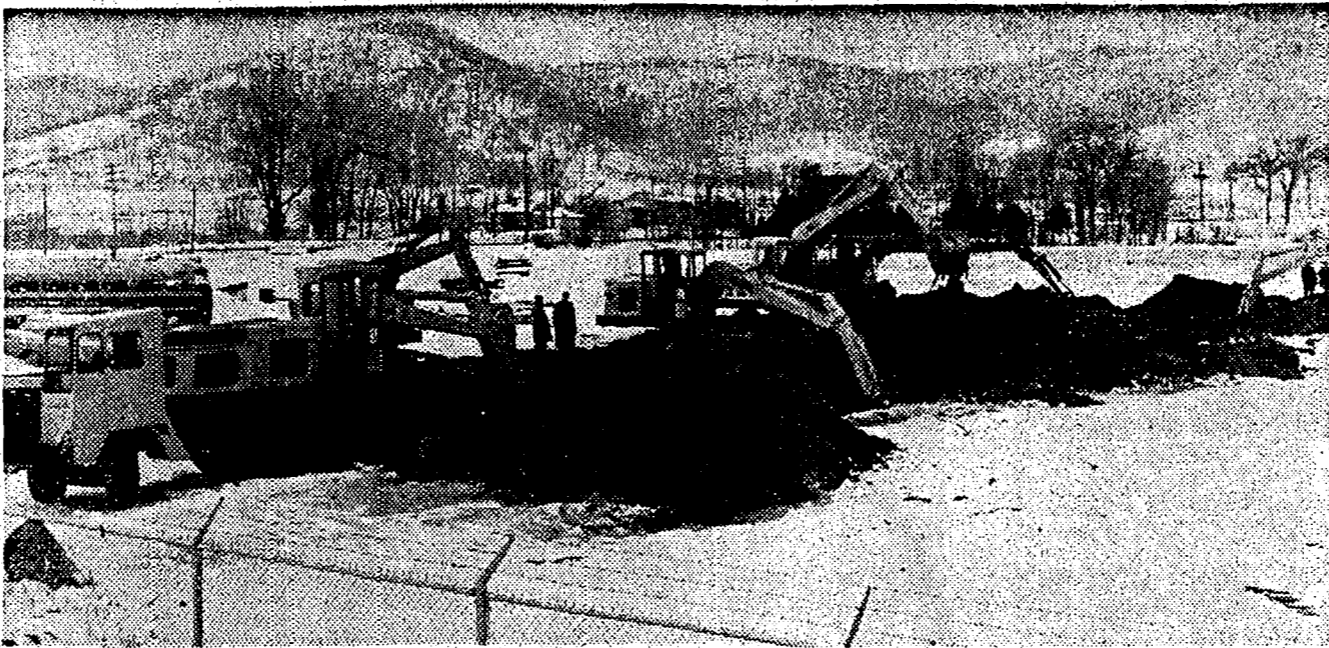

"It's certainly the most powerful in the world," said Przybylski. These comparisons are with hydraulically-operated machines; mechanical or cable-operated machines can be larger.

Jigging is under way now and production on a limited basis may begin shortly.

This new model — 900 — and adaptations of older models were shown at a two-day conference for about 55 sales and service representatives which ended Monday.

Meetings were held at Linahan's Inn.

Among those present were: W. C. Worthington, Cleveland, Ohio, Warner & Swasey sales manager for construction equipment; Lester Cole, vice president, sales; Howard Walker, Lansing, Mich., vice president and general manager, Duplex division which makes the carriers for the Hopto machines; Clayton Hatch, assistant vice president for Duplex; Myron Findlay, assistant manager of Badger, and Vern Nelson, sales supervisor for Badger division.

Buster Keaton Dead at 70 of Lung Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Buster Keaton, the great stone face of comedy, died today at the age of 70 of lung cancer.

He had been ill about three months, although it had not been disclosed.

The end for the little man with the baggy pants and straw hat, who was one of the giants of the silent screen, came this morning at his home in suburban Woodland Hills.

KEATON at left in 1964 and at right in 1957 in his familiar straw hat when he appeared on the Hollywood set of "The Buster Keaton Story."

With him was his wife of 25 years, Eleanor. Keaton's two sons by a former wife, actress Natalie Talmadge, were quickly informed. They are James, of Santa Monica, and Robert, of nearby Marina del Rey.

Keaton, christened Joseph at his birth in Piqua, Kan., began in show business at the age of 4 with his family's circus and vaudeville acrobatic team. Almost as soon as he could walk he began acrobatics, and the training well-prepared him for the pratfalls of silent film comedy.

Keaton came to Hollywood in 1917, appearing first in two-reelers with comic Fatty Arbuckle, later starring on his own. He became one of the highest paid of early stars.

During his career he went through several bankruptcies. In 1934, filing for bankruptcy, he listed assets of $12,000 and liabilities of $303,832.

What Stepped-up Bombing Could Mean

RENEWED U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam and stepped-up fighting in South Viet Nam could mean:

1. Increased U.S. military spending in the period ahead.
2. More pressure for tax increases later on.
3. More fire under what as of now is only a simmering threat of further inflation.

President Johnson stresses that the quest for a peaceful solution continues.

But resumption of full-scale operations in Southeast Asia removes for the present one of the uncertainties that have been plaguing businessmen and congressmen alike.

With peace possibilities apparently still remote, government, business and the stock market all will make their plans on the supposition that the United States will proceed for an indefinite period on a small war basis.

FOR THE economy this foreshadows:

- Appropriations for the Viet Nam war — slated at $10 billion — are more likely to be increased later on than be trimmed.
- Defense industries can look for still more orders, more production, more jobs.
- Increased demand for some metals in short supply, such as copper, needed for military hardware will generate still more pressure for higher prices.
- Demand for many other basic materials, even if now in ample supply, will grow instead of slacken. This will support their price levels and promise increased production schedules.

The U.S. economic growth has been so rapid over the last five years that it can easily take the present scale of the Viet Nam war in stride without cramping production of civilian goods or putting the U.S. Treasury under any great strain.

BUT ALTHOUGH spending for the Great Society programs is scheduled to be stepped up by $3 billion in the next fiscal year, the appropriation request would have been more than that without the present cost of the Viet Nam war.

Any further escalation of military efforts might cause Congress to reconsider the amounts to be spared for the domestic programs. Many communities, business firms, and citizens have a stake in these.

Or if both the Great Society and an increased war effort were to be sustained together and financed, Congress might turn to increasing taxes to keep the Treasury deficit from mounting too fast.

Also likely is increased effort by the administration to hold down basic prices by insistence on the government guidelines on wages and prices.

THE THREAT OF inflation will be watched closer than ever now.

Soon Hamburgers With 100 Percent Meat?

THE GOVERNMENT is hoping that 1966 will be the year when every hamburger sold in restaurants and supermarkets will be all hamburger — and not 50 percent cereal as is the case in some instances.

The Department of Agriculture has filed a regulation to amend the meat inspection act that would require the hidden "extenders" used in ground meat from federally-inspected plants to be identified on a label or even on a restaurant menu.

Under the proposed regulation, a patty that contained 30 percent fat could still be called a hamburger, but patties containing cereals would have a distinguishing name. The government has suggested "imitation meat patties." Patties extended with substances like cardboard would still be illegal.

The regulation says that if the label is removed from the meat in order to deceive a customer about its contents, the states can prosecute the offender for false advertising.

HOWEVER, it is at the state level that enforcement of meat inspection and labeling laws usually breaks down. When the government does get the hamburger regulation on the books, it will merely have handed the states a new weapon for dealing with consumer deception. The effectiveness of the measure will depend upon how vigorously a state enforces it.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Two summer school students got into a heated argument over the name of the character in the Bible who had a coat of many colors. A said the name was Joseph; B insisted that it was Jacob. B finally fetched a Bible to prove his point — and was dully crest-fallen to find that A was correct, and the name indeed was Joseph. B was game to the end, however. He tossed the Bible aside and grumbled, "I bet this is the wrong edition!"

Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. — Isaiah 1:18.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS 'Something Darker, Please. The Light Gets More Painful Every Day'

Look at Labor Laws Suggested

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — In the middle of the New York transit strike, this correspondent wrote on Jan. 10:

"Organized labor throughout the country has just received the worst black eye it has experienced in half a century. This comes as a consequence of the colossal damage inflicted by union leaders in New York City's transit strike."

Now, on Wednesday of last week, the United Press International carried an interesting dispatch, which reads as follows:

"Secretary of Labor Wirtz said today the New York transit strike has damaged chances for passage of legislation repealing section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley act."

"The walkout 'left a very bad taste in most people's mouths about organized labor,' Wirtz told a news conference. He said this might be an unfair view but it does exist and has reduced the prospects for Senate passage of the repeal legislation."

THIS, OF COURSE, is not the whole story of what is going on in Washington today in connection with the effort of organized labor to put across a proposal in Congress that the states be deprived of the right to forbid compulsory unionization.

It may come as a shock to the people as a whole to realize that a majority in Congress is apparently entrapped by the AFL-CIO and that, because of heavy campaign contributions or threats of opposition to the re-election of different members who do not follow organized labor's wishes, there is a stalemate in Congress.

Only the power of a filibuster, whereby endless debate is permitted in the Senate, keeps Congress from enacting a compulsory-unionization law that would strengthen the authority of organized labor over all kinds of businesses. Thus, at this very time when legislation is needed to prevent strikes against city or state governments, Congress hesitates and is reluctant to take up these needed reforms.

SEN. A. WILLIS Robertson of Virginia, Democrat, told the Senate on Thursday that Congress is being made to look ridiculous "for wasting its time" on the proposed measure that would permit compulsory unionization. He said that, meanwhile, "labor-management problems of far greater importance to the country as a whole go unnoticed." Mr. Robertson added:

"Recently the life of New York City was disrupted for 12 days by an illegal strike of subway and bus workers, called in defiance of a court order. Today we are threatened with a railroad strike in March, which could affect the health and welfare of the entire nation."

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

LBJ Ponders Lincoln's Problems; Like His Own

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The Lincoln memorial is calm and stately in the snow these nights; silent in the moonlight. Almost no one comes there to disturb the monument of the lonely man who sits thinking in his chair. There are only one or two tracks in the snow leading up the steps.

So he sits there, looking out at the cold and beautiful world, the trees along the reflection pool ghost-like under the new moon; the shaft of stone, built in honor of another great president, standing against the horizon, very much alone. Lincoln's image looks as if he were thinking about the problems he faced in those difficult days when brother was fighting brother over union and slavery, and when he had to make decisions to continue, intensify or abandon that war.

Looking up beyond the trees heavy with snow and the tidal basin covered with ice sits another president, also thinking, also faced with decisions — whether to continue or intensify or abandon another war — a war much farther away than Vicksburg or Appomattox but also involving union.

THAT OTHER president seldom sleeps out a whole night any more — and the decisions he faces must be made today and tomorrow and the day after tomorrow. Part of those long, lonely nights he sits up in the big bed Lincoln slept in. The telephone — which Lincoln never had — is along-side the bed and about three every morning this president calls the Situation Room to find out what has happened in the war for which he has to make decisions — especially how many boys were killed that day. Part of the night he also sits up reading the history of Lincoln's decisions, how he reversed his cabinet, removed his generals, ignored his senators.

Then he ponders how far he should go in doing likewise. Should he listen to his generals who, like Gen. Henry W. Halleck at the battle of Fredericksburg, want more and more men? Or should he listen to the old soldiers, Gen. Jim Gavin, Gen. Omar Bradley, Gen. Matt Ridgway, all of whom replaced MacArthur in Korea, all of whom advise against sending more American boys to wade through the elephant grass, recommend keeping them in easily guarded encampments along the Viet Nam coast instead?

SHOULD HE replace Gen. Westmoreland, who may be getting tired, with Gen. Creighton Abrams, as Lincoln replaced Halleck with Grant?

Sometimes late at night he reads Bruce Catton's great book "Never Call Retreat" on the decisions Lincoln faced. There was one important difference between Lincoln's drive for union and the policy against union the President inherited on the other side of the world.

Lincoln was driving to keep a dismembered nation together. With the dead piling up on both sides in a way that makes the Viet Nam war seem like pop battles, his Senate friends, many of his cabinet, begged him to end the fighting. He ignored his critics, overrode his cabinet, vetoed the senators of his own party to keep the country together. Today on the other side of the world, the President who now sleeps in Lincoln's bed has been eched into fighting a war against union, a war to keep two peoples, many of them related, and of the same race separate.

HE INHERITED a war which started when John Foster Dulles maneuvered to get around the Geneva treaty providing elections to let these two peoples vote on union. The United States had been urging elections in Latin America, all over the world — except in these two little countries now torn by war.

That is the big difference between the decisions faced by the man in the White House 100 years ago and the man who sleeps in his bed today. The decisions are still there. How much weight should be given to those air photos of supplies snaking through the jungle . . . Heavy 120-millimeter mortars and 75-millimeter howitzers broken in six pieces, each weighing 200 pounds, slung in a cradle on the backs of two men and packed by them over the mountains, through the steaming jungles, to the battlefield to face American troops?

Should this supply line be bombed at its source — Hanoi and Haiphong?

And how important are the photos of bridges repaired, new antiaircraft defenses built, new ack-ack guns installed — all increasing the risk to American lives on the next attack. Now should we bomb them even if our bombs hit Russians ships, Russian personnel; or should we wait?

THAT OTHER President looking out over the snow-dusted trees and the tidal basin had called upon the Russian fleet 100 years ago to help protect New York and San Francisco and thus had helped turn the tide of Union victory.

It was the British, still smarting from the independence of the American colonies, who broke the union blockade, landed supplies in the South, fanned the fires of rebellion, almost went to war against the North. If the British had gone as far in the South in 1860-64 as the United States has gone in Viet Nam in 1960-66, we would be a balkanized nation, split up into tiny, helpless enclaves. Thanks to Lincoln's courage a United America is the most powerful nation in the world.

The lonely man in the White House looks up from his desk and the cables from Saigon, looks out at the snow and the bowed trees and the bright new moon over the Potomac, looks down toward the Lincoln memorial at the monument to a man who made difficult, heart-rending decisions to keep the union together. And like the man who made them 100 years ago, this president knows that he alone can make them today.

WASHINGTON CALLING

McNamara Outlines Need for Bombing

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — In the somber drama of the three-hour meeting of congressional leaders at the White House on the bombing issue, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara made the most dramatic presentation. Many present felt that they were reliving moments as grave as the Cuban missile crisis when nuclear war hung in the balance.

McNamara took the key document in the case for resuming bombing of North Viet Nam and with his whiz kids in the Pentagon translated it into charts and graphs. That document was the urgent, top-secret message from Adm. Ulysses S. Grant Sharp Jr. With facts and photographs based on aerial reconnaissance Sharp, commander-in-chief in the Pacific, declared that infiltration of men and military materiel in the bombing pause threatened the security of the defenders of South Viet Nam.

It was a masterful presentation showing how not just jungle infiltration trails but truck routes from north to south had been re-established. The McNamara graphs put estimates on the volume of men, guns, food and other supplies that had moved north since the bombing was suspended. THE presentation was comparable to McNamara's performance on television in the Cuban crisis. That came as the Kennedy Administration wanted to convince the nation and the world of the reality of the menace to the United States in the presence of intercontinental range missiles with nuclear warheads in Cuba. With charts and blown-up photographs, McNamara put on the television screen the full harvest of intelligence. Several who saw his performance the other evening felt it was a rehearsal for a later television appearance. Even those favoring a continuation of the pause, who are extremely doubtful that bombing of the north over nearly a year caused any real reduction in the rate of infiltration, were impressed by the performance as a performance.

IF ANY SINGLE act could have underscored the increasingly vital role McNamara has assumed, this was it. Harried, pushed almost beyond endurance, he occasionally shows the impatience of a man who, having a mind of extraordinary capacity, does not suffer fools gladly. Yet he is faced on Capitol Hill with a revolt that has an ever-broader base. An episode in the small war within a war early in January shows how the tension between the master of the Pentagon and the committee chairmen bent on holding the purse strings flared up. From the McNamara view on the Pentagon side of the Potomac, the generalissimo of the opposing forces is Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, the silver-haired South Carolinian who is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. Opposition to closing military bases, to phasing out the manned bomber, every aspect of the attack is believed concentrated in the committee and its hard-working chairman.

MENAMARA GOT word, which he passed on to the White House, that Rivers was taking top-ranking members of his committee to Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico. Rivers had asked the Defense Department for a plane to fly eight or nine committee members to Ramey early in January ostensibly for a study of installations in Puerto Rico, one of which is to be closed. But McNamara's staff suspected the objective was to plan strategy for a campaign against the secretary of defense. By what no one considers a mere coincidence, the meeting would take place while top Air Force commanders from around the world were holding their annual conference at Ramey. When Gen. John P. McConnell, Chief of Staff of the Air Force, got word of the congressional rally, he postponed the commanders' conference until February. The most articulate opponents of phasing out the manned bomber are Gen. Curtis LeMay, former chief for air, and Gen. Thomas Power, who was strategic

To Your Good Health

Some Diets Customized Tailored

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has a trace of diabetes. The hospital gave him a diet to follow, but our doctor changed it to a no-flour, no-sugar regimen. Where can I get information on such a diet? Almost everything one buys today contains sugar or flour. — MRS. D. L.

Diet for a diabetic is such an individualized matter that printed diets lists usually require at least a little custom-tailoring to fit a case.

I wonder if there could be some misunderstanding as to what your doctor meant. Flour (of various kinds) and sugar (also of various kinds) furnish a good share of our carbohydrate, and we all need some for energy purposes.

MOST FOODS contain sugar to some extent — about 5 per cent in leafy vegetables, twice that in round vegetables, such as beets or carrots; 15 per cent in apples; potatoes, corn, rice, bananas approach 20 per cent. Meat, while high in protein, is broken down in digestion and a considerable proportion of glucose, which is a common form of sugar.

A "no-sugar" diet is virtually impossible. But if your doctor said, "Avoid anything requiring flour or sugar in the cooking," that means something else. He might well have been trying to have you avoid desserts containing sugar, cake-frosting, gravies and cream sauces, and so on, which contain flour.

TAKEN AT face value, "no flour" would eliminate even bread or toast, and I doubt that he meant that, although he might very well mean to keep bread within limits.

air commander at his retirement. McConnell is loyal, but LeMay left behind two-star and three-star generals distinctly unhappy over the passing of the B-52s.

WITH RIVERS went the ranking Democrats on his committee, Philip J. Philbin, Massachusetts, and F. Edward Hebert, Louisiana, and four top Republicans, William H. Bates, Massachusetts, Alvin O'Konski, Wisconsin, William G. Bray, Indiana, and Bob Wilson, California. McNamara appeared before Hebert's subcommittee to read a complicated statement on America's posture with the passing of the B-52. To his dismay, not a question came from the committee.

But if the Secretary is dismayed, Rivers, who has a quick-burning temper, is indignant. This is not the last skirmish in the small war on Capitol Hill.

Got An Old Quilt?

Old-Fashioned Tea Party, Calico Corner, Part of Quilt 'N' Tea

The Quilt 'N' Tea, scheduled for Feb. 17 at the Winona County Historical Society Museum, 125 W. 5th St., is a benefit to raise funds for the society's Bunnell House at Homer, Minn. Interesting quilts are being sought for exhibition. Tea hours will be 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m.

The Historical Society hopes to be able to open the Bunnell House to the public in the spring. Additional funds are necessary of the historic old building, which already is full of valuable antiques and heirlooms of pioneer families of the county.

THE QUILT 'N' TEA, patterned after parties of the early days in America, will feature mainly a display of interesting quilts, many of them over 100 years old. A small admission charge is being made to view the exhibition.

Additional money will be realized at the Quilt 'N' Tea in a quaint Calico Corner, where homemade cookies and other baked goods can be purchased. Also on sale will be handiwork to carry out the Americana theme, such as pin cushions, rag dolls, needle-holders and fresh herbs in calico bags. The society is asking donations of articles for the Calico Corner.

A request is also made for old or unusual quilts to be loaned for the occasion. Quilts brought in will be covered by insurance.

VISITORS to the Quilt 'N' Tea will be served refreshments at an Early American tea table. Old-fashioned cookies and other goodies will be graciously served by members of the social committee. Mrs. Pearl Engstrom and Mrs. G. L. Lacher are co-chairmen and will be assisted by the Mmes. F. F. Martin, Irwin Leonhart, Alvin Lafky and Myles Petersen.

Another attraction at the party will be the awarding of a special prize of a beautiful quilt, in addition to other prizes.

Tickets may be obtained at the Museum, at the Arches Branch Museum, Lewiston, Minn., at the Younger Building, 64 W. 5th St., or by writing Box 644, Winona.

Scenes From Labor History Presented To Winona State

United Auto Workers Union, through Local 633, at Warner and Swasey Company plant, has presented to Winona State College a set of reproductions of 25 oil paintings depicting events important in labor union history.

The paintings were presented to Dr. J. H. Foegen of the college's department of business administration Jan. 15 by Frank C. Vondrasek, president of Local 633, and Stanley A. Sharkey, treasurer of the local.

Called "This Union Cause," the scenes were created for the UAW by John Gelsavage to portray the history of the American labor movement from the time when indentured servants were coming ashore from England in colonial days through the merger of the AFL and CIO in 1955 and up to the present day.

The full-colored, 22 by 18 1/2 inch posters will be displayed in the Watkins Hall gallery on the campus at a later date.

District President To Address Legion Auxiliary Feb. 8

Mrs. Robert Beckman, First District American Legion Auxiliary president, Lake City, Minn., will be the dinner guest and principal speaker at the Feb. 8 dinner meeting of the Auxiliary to Leon J. Wetzel Post 9 of the American Legion.

The dinner, to be cooked by post members, will be served at 6:30 p.m., with the meeting at 8 p.m. in the Legion Clubrooms. All dinner tickets are to be reserved with the club steward or picked up at the club by Monday.

Mrs. Donald V. Gray, Americanism chairman, has announced that a short film about Viet Nam will also be shown. The film, provided through the courtesy of the Winona Daily News and produced by the Associated Press, deals with the cultural background of Viet Nam.

All auxiliary women are urged to call and bring another auxiliary member to the dinner and meeting.

Self-Improvement Main Requirement Of Toastmistress

"A sincere desire for self-improvement is the main requirement for membership in the Winona Toastmistress Club," according to Mrs. William Miller, membership chairman.

Guests may attend two meetings, then apply for membership.

CLUB MEMBERS decide whether or not each applicant is willing to devote the necessary time and take responsibility required to be a good member, the chairman explained.

Because Toastmistress Club is an educational organization which aims to serve all economic groups, costs are kept at a minimum, the chairman said.

"This is why, Mrs. Miller stated, "we do not as a club join any other organizations, neither do we contribute to charity. Guests who attend our meetings ordinarily pay for their own dinners. Thus we can keep all expenses at a minimum and offer club membership at a surprisingly low cost. This is true even though we have professional assistance with our programs from faculty members of Winona's three colleges and the high schools."

THE MAJORITY of women who join Toastmistress are not interested in public speaking on a formal basis although the club offers excellent training for this purpose. Much emphasis is also placed upon analytical listening and reading with understanding, Mrs. Miller pointed out.

Mrs. Miller emphasized that every meeting includes training for all members in impromptu speaking, besides the varied educational program.

Interested women from the Winona area may call Mrs. Miller or any Toastmistress club member for reservations. The club meets the first and third Tuesday evenings at Hotel Winona.

Suicide Ruled
In Death of Youth, 17

The shooting death Monday night of 17-year-old David A. McNamer, 147 Fairfax St., was ruled a suicide this morning by Dr. R. B. Tweedy, coroner.

McNamer's body was discovered shortly before 7 a.m. today by an employee of Biesanz Ready - Mix. Ignatius Klug, Lewiston, Minn., reported his discovery to Sheriff George L. Fort at 6:50 a.m.

THE McNAMER boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. McNamer, left a note; but it did not explain why he had chosen to take his own life. The McNamers were unable to tell Sheriff Fort why their son might have committed suicide.

Dr. Tweedy and Deputy Helmer Weinmann found the McNamer boy lying on the ground beside his 1956-model automobile in a stone quarry in Goodview. He had been shot in the forehead.

The boy's .22-caliber, automatic rifle lay across his body and left arm. McNamer's glasses were just off his face.

McNamer's parents told Sheriff Fort this morning that their son had not been having any trouble at home or with his girl friend.

HE HAD given the girl a diamond ring recently and asked her to keep it always to remember him by, the sheriff said; but the two had not had any disagreement.

The ring was given to McNamer by his mother, and the youth had had it redesigned before giving it to his girl.

McNamer had money in the bank and had paid a small bill recently, the sheriff said. The youth worked part time at the National Tea Co. while attending Winona Senior High School, where he was a senior. He had had no trouble with police.

Monday, according to the sheriff, McNamer picked up his girl friend after work and drove her home. He left his home about 8:30 p.m., saying he was going out for a while. He hugged his father before leaving, which was an unusual gesture for him, the sheriff said.

LET'S TALK SPORTS

YOU CAN'T FAULT the Kaehler family when it comes to bowling.

It is nearly old news now, but sisters Jeanne O'Reilly and Dorothy Walsh made up 40 percent of the Pappy's team that won the WWBA Class "A" championship during the recently completed city tournament.

Now comes news from La Crosse that a third sister, Polly Jung — who competed in Winona until two years ago — made headlines Friday.

Polly hung up a 653 series. That's not bad for one family!

Joanne KOSIDOWSKI, who does such a fine job with the Cotter "B" squad basketball team, probably is jabbing varsity coach John Nett with some "defensive" jibes this week.

It all surrounds one 5-8 sophomore by the name of Jim McDonough who plays for both varsity and "B" squads at Wabasha St. Felix.

Young Jim went three quarters in the Saturday preliminary that saw Cotter cop a 53-22 victory — the Little Rams 11th in 12 starts. He scored four points.

Then Mr. McDonough played but one quarter in the varsity game — and hit 11 points!

"I told John if he had asked," joked Kosidowski, "that I'd have told him how to defense the kid."

WHILE EVERYONE in this area — and we plead guilty also — was conceding Austin a berth in the Region One tournament, another team in District Two was winning its spurs.

The Albert Lea Tigers' underclassmen combination was just getting going behind 6-3 junior Dan Doty.

The Tigers have won their last four Big Nine games, have a four-game victory string (the conference streak was broken by a non-league loss to Mason City, Iowa) and now ranks 8-4 on the season with triumphs in six of their last seven games.

Taking into consideration the Austin-Kosidowski Albert Lea rivalry and the fact that the Tigers usually come up with one — and sometimes two — top efforts against the Packers, it wouldn't have been hard to think upset.

But those thoughts were dashed for Albert Lea Saturday when Doty — their scoring and rebounding leader — fractured a bone in his foot. He will be lost for four weeks. Conceivably he could be back for the tournaments. But it is not likely he will be in shape.

And that is a tough break (no pun intended) for Dick Nielsen and his team.

HO, HO! We've got a couple of new 300 Club members this week.

We proudly present black patches to Norm Girtler and Bob Heer.

Girtler made it out of the Hal-Rod Four-City League with a 398 series. He has a 160 average. Heer entered from the AC K of C circuit with a 393. He has a 161 average.

Our congratulations.

HERE'S A CLIPPING that has been in our basket for a couple of weeks — but it is good news.

Wally Brunsvold, assistant Rochester John Marshall basketball coach for the last four years, will pilot the cagers from Rochester Mayo next season.

Our congratulations to Wally. We know he has done an excellent job as an assistant to Kerwin Engelhart, who will remain in basketball at JM, and we expect the same at new Mayo High.

It certainly adds another gentleman to the Big Nine coaching list.

THE SWAMI HAD a good weekend overall with 36 of 46 correct. That extended his total to 371 of 486 for a .763 percentage.

Brunsvold For tonight:

Wabasha over Cotter 57-51. "Wabasha is big, big, big!"

WINONA STATE over ST. MARY'S 79-68. "The Warriors are in orbit — Warburg won't get off the launching pad."

Waseca over Owatonna 76-57, Caledonia over Harmony 66-63, LeRoy over Spring Valley 72-64, Randolph over Lakeville 71-63, Lima Sacred Heart over Gilman 67-60, Arkansas over Plum City 59-51, Holmen over Westby 76-65, Onalaska Luther over Trempealeau 74-68.

Packers Hire Burns to Staff

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Jerry Burns, dismissed as head football coach at Iowa after five dismal seasons, has stepped up instead of down.

Burns was added Monday to the coaching staff of the Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football League three of the last five seasons.

It was a prestigious appointment to a staff that has produced two new head football coaches in the NFL within the last month.

Vince Lombardi, head coach, general manager and tactician taskmaster of the Packers, didn't specify what Burns would do, although it was expected he would take over defensive backfield duties.

Burns replaces Norb Hecker, who welded the stingiest pass defense unit in the NFL last season and was named last

WHILE THE team shooting closes at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 17, the singles and doubles competition opens at 9 p.m. the same day and continues until March 1.

This year there are 281 doubles set entered and 562 singles competitors in addition to 486 bowlers entered in the optional all-events category.

WBA secretary Clarence Bell lists 1,206 sanctioned bowlers for the city. They are competing on 234 five-men teams in 31 leagues. In addition there are 40 mixed teams that include two or more WBA members operating in the city.

Bowlers will be shooting for a prize pot of $2,640.00. The team champion will win $105, the doubles combination $55, the singles king and the all-events titlist $27.50.

Champions will return in all categories including the handicapped teams division where Dan and Marks Tavern of Fountain City, which grabbed the lead during first-day activity at Westgate a year ago, and held it with 3,009, will compete during the 3 p.m. shift Feb. 12.

THE SCRATCH team king, Hotel Winona will compete Feb. 13 at 3 p.m. The quint registered 2,800 a year ago.

Both scratch and handicap doubles winners again have teamed. Bob Thurley and Paul Mracek, who won in handicap with 1,313, will compete Feb. 19 at 3 p.m. and Paul Platt Jr. and Hal Joswick (scratch titlist with 1,242) are scheduled Feb. 22 at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. John Alampi, the handicap all-events winner with 1,952, will bowl Feb. 18 at 9 p.m.

The complete schedule for the team division appears in today's Daily News. Since the team division occupies 12 days, the singles and doubles schedule will not appear until a later date.

Silliman Undergoes Knee Operation

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Mike Silliman, the greatest scorer in Army basketball history, underwent surgery on his left knee Monday and will be lost to the Cadets for the rest of the season.

The Commodores made nine of 10 foul shots in the last two minutes Monday night and topped stubborn Auburn 68-63 at Nashville. The victory was Vandy's 16th in 18 starts and set up Wednesday's SEC confrontation with second-ranked Kentucky.

The unbeaten Wildcats won their 15th straight, beating an Alabama slowdown, 82-62. Coach Adolph Rupp needed his stratified transitional pyroclastic paraboloid defense at Lexington and it was sticky for awhile until Kentucky went on a 17-0 rampage in less than five minutes midway through the second half.

Clyde Lee hit seven of the Vanderbilt free throws that ended Auburn's upset ambitions. Lee, the Commodores' 6-foot-9 center, hit only two field goals but finished with 15 points.

Rupp's special defense that most folks describe as a Kentucky-style zone, was in operation for 10-12 minutes while Alabama had the pressure on. Kentucky leading 47-40, the Wildcats went on their tear. Pat Riley got nine of his 25 points during the spurt.

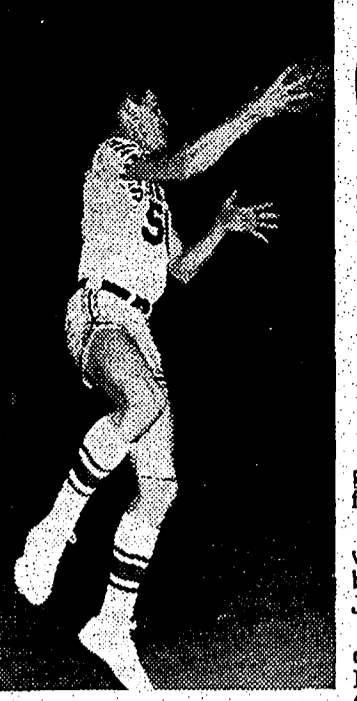

Bill Ryezyak came off the bench and rallied West Virginia to a 73-72 victory over visiting St. John's of New York. Ryezyak, a 6-6 senior, dropped a free throw with four seconds to play for the winning points after sinking a 20-foot jumper that knocked the game at 72-66 with 2:24 left.

Ryezyak led the Mountaineers with 18 points while St. John's Bobby McIntyre led all scorers with 26.

Drake grabbed a share of the Missouri Conference lead with a 60-55 victory over Tulsa at Des Moines. Harold Jeter hit 22 points, most of them from the outside as the Bulldogs won their fourth straight in the MVC.

The setback tumbled Tulsa from the league lead into a third-place tie with defending champion Wichita. The Shockers, playing at home, stormed past North Texas 111-70 with Jamie Thompson and Warren Armstrong doing most of the heavy work. Thompson scored 27 points on 12 for 18 from the field while Armstrong hit 10 for

YOU SEE it was Rogosheske who did much of the damage as St. Mary's progressed deeper into the second division of the MIAC with a 72-61 loss to Gustavus.

Phil Rogosheske is a 5-11 guard who scored five points for Gustavus Monday night.

That is certainly a minor fact when you look at the 24 scored by Al White and 15 by Gary Johnson.

But it was Rogosheske who did much of the damage as St. Mary's progressed deeper into the second division of the MIAC with a 72-61 loss to Gustavus.

Gustavus Greases Redmen Skids Again to officially proclaim its seventh win against two losses in the conference. Overall, the Gusties are 11-5.

"I'm satisfied that we played them as well as we could," said Wiltgen. "When you go to the zone, you're going to give away something. We knew White and Johnson would score, but we didn't expect those two from Rogosheske."

WILTGEN did have praise for Keenan, who pushed down 13 first-half points behind a variety of driving shots and long-range jumpers.

Redmen Face Elimination

St. Mary's hockey coach Tim McNeill puts it this way: "St. Thomas is in the same position we are: Lose a game and you are through."

What it amounts to is this: A good old-fashioned dog-fight for survival in the game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Terrace Heights tonight.

Both teams come into the contest with identical 6-3 records. Both have — at best — very outside chances of winning or tying for the title.

The magic number stands at one for leading Gustavus. But the Gusties, with two games remaining against St. Thomas, still are not home free and easy.

Says McNeill of tonight's foe: "The Tommies look like they are ready to fly. They've got two or three fine young players now who became eligible at the semester. They have fine forwards, capable defensemen and a good goaltender if he is on."

Is there a key?

"I would have to say that if there is a single aspect that will make the difference between winning and losing, it will be forechecking," said the coach. "We have similar hockey styles. We're going to need consistent forechecking . . . the same type of game we played against Gustavus or the Augsburg game we won."

While St. Mary's will send lines of Brian Desbiers, Dennis Cooney and Jean Cardin and Yvon Thibodeau, Larry Shomion and Bill Rossini to the firing line, St. Thomas will use a unit made up of Tom Goswitz, Tom Karner and Phil Reichenbach, Reichenbach skating with St. Mary's as a freshman.

Tommie defensemen are Gary Pates and Rick Tibesar and the goalie is Bill St. Marie. Tibesar and St. Marie are freshmen from St. Paul St. Agnes who rated as two of the finest prep hockey players in the state last year.

St. Mary's defensemen are Bob Paradise, Mike Bishop and Bryan Palmer. The goalie is Jerry Archambeau.

"We've both got to win every game from here on in," said McNeill. "It should be a good one."

$762,000 Income Reported by Twins

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Twins reported Monday net income of $762,000 for 1965, up $169,000 from the previous year.

The American League champions declared a dividend of $3.75, the highest ever. The dividend a year ago was $5, but that was before a 2-for-1 stock split. Gross income was $5.3 million, compared with $3.9 million in 1964.

Ramblers Begin New Rivalry

Cotter High School tonight christens a new rivalry. The Ramblers host Wabasha Public High School at St. Stan's at 8 p.m. And it is a known fact that the result will bring a comparison with a game played last Thursday.

Cotter and Rochester Lourdes this year appear destined to fight it out for Region Six Catholic honors.

LOURDES LAST Thursday handed Wabasha its only loss of the season by the score of 64-49.

"I suppose some comparing will be done," agreed Nett. But you have to remember that Lourdes is improving and a tough rebounding team."

Because the Eagles are a strong rebounding club, Nett was not totally surprised by the victory over a Wabasha team that then ranked 8-0 and now is 9-1 after a win over Centennial Conference rival Randolph Friday.

IN NETT'S estimation, the game will be won or lost in the rebounding department.

And with 6-8 Jack Kane at center and 6-3 Rich Schutt and 6-2 Dennis Iverson at forwards, the advantage there swings — at least on paper — to the side of Wabasha.

With 6-1 Pete Ekstrand playing one of the guard spots, Wabasha will field a unit that probably will rank as the tallest Cotter will face all year.

"And we haven't been too tough in the rebounding department yet this year," said Nett. "For that reason, I imagine it's going to be a good test . . . a real battle."

AT COTTER, the starting situation still is undecided. Judging on the basis of a 76-69 victory over Wabasha St. Felix Saturday, Nett will use Tim Browne, the standout sophomore, and Chuck Kulas at forwards. Steve Erdmanzyk will play center — and give away nearly six inches in a matchup with Kane — with Tom Wenzel and Bob Allaire at guards.

Mike Twomey, the Ramblers' 6-7 junior center, has been unable to show consistent form after injuring an ankle and will be held out of the opening alignment.

WHO WILL defense high-scoring Iverson and Ekstrand in Cotter's man-to-man alignment?

"I really don't know," said Nett, who confirmed that the Ramblers would not switch defenses. "I've been mulling that over but really haven't come up with any answers. I won't change defenses. At least in a man-to-man you can make assignments and it becomes somewhat a challenge."

To the best of Nett's knowledge, this is the first time the two schools have met in basketball. And it was by last-minute arrangements that the rivalry was begun.

WABASHA originally had 16 games scheduled and filled the date with Cotter around Christmas.

While Wabasha carries its fine 9-1 record into the battle, Cotter is 8-6.

Following tonight's game, the Ramblers have only tilts with Rochester Lourdes (at St. Stan's Friday), Benilde (at St. Louis Park Feb. 12) and Pacesetter (at St. Stan's Feb. 18) remaining.

Oldtimers Win Singles Meet

A pair of oldtimers showed the youngsters how it's done in the Fifth Annual Sunbeam singles bowling tournament held at Hal-Rod Lanes Saturday.

The grand-daddy of Sunbeam bowlers, Frank Pomeroy, won first place with a 604 actual series on games of 210-214-183. With 40 pins handicap it gave him a 644 count.

Lorn Kreher was runnerup with 182-191-180—553—48 — 601. Thirty-one bowlers competed.

Behind Kreher came Vic Schewe 598, Jim Konkel, 595, Ron Czaplowski 595, Bob Pollock 591, Walt Woegle 591, Al Schroeder 587, Lee Besek 583 and Byrle Tschumper 581.

Poor Get Poorer In Wisconsin Cage

Stevens Point and St. Norbert took advantage of victory-starved opponents Monday night to fatten their own slender diets of success.

Stevens Point (5-9) punished Whitewater (1-13) with a 65-56 Wisconsin State University Conference verdict.

St. Norbert (9-10) hurled Michigan Tech (1-11) for the second time this season 79-68. La Crosse is at Northern Illinois in the only Wisconsin college game tonight.

Venturi Captures Lucky Open Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ken Venturi, the golfer who refuses to say quit, won the $8,500 Lucky International Open Golf Tournament with his heart across a lake.

His 66 over the Harding Park municipal course on Monday brought him the $8,500 first prize, his first victory since a circulatory ailment threatened his career late in 1964 after he had won the U.S. Open title.

This was the course where Venturi had grown up, where his friends cheered him on and where his dad operates the pro shop.

Yet across Lake Merced is the Olympic club where the 1968 United States Open will be played in June, and Ken said, "I'm going to play a lot of rounds there, and I'm shooting for it. If I win it, I might just retire. That's my aim."

Carrying hand warmers to give him feeling when he swung the clubs, Venturi started four strokes off the pace and even with his 33 on the first nine was still far back of leader Frank Beard.

Then Beard faltered with three bogeys on the first four holes while Venturi shot even par to move within a stroke of the leader. Beard parred the 14th, but Venturi made the putting secret of the day to sink a 25-footer, and they were even.

When Kenney sank a 10-foot birdie putt on the 16th he had the winning stroke.

Beard came in at 274. Arnold Palmer, 1965 champion George Archer, Tom Weiskopf and Ray Floyd all finished at 275 to collect $3,037.50 each.

Kratz Cracks 268 in City

Winona keglars, midway between city tournaments, showed consistency Monday night, but the old record juggling total came from the City League at Hal-Rod Lanes.

George Kratz unlimbered a 268 single game en route to powering an errorless 608 series that led Bunke's Apco to totals of 1,046—2,988.

Al Nedoba had the high series of the evening for Hotel Winona, clipping an errorless 639, while Bob Klage came up with 635 and Hugh Orphan with 615.

Also at Hal-Rod in the VFW loop, Chuck Hagedorn cracked 223-602 for Bub's. Gene Frank had 232 for Hamm's, but team honors went elsewhere as Vet's Cab smacked 1,028 and Winona Milk came up with 2,852.

The other men's honor count came from the Monday League at the Athletic Club. Al Feltz paced Schlitz Beer to 1,036—2,925 with his 147—604.

Watkins Mary King wound up the third round in the Pin Topplers circuit at Westgate Bowl with a 944 game that clinched their first place, Irene Trimmer led the effort with a 205.

Vivian H. Brown laced 545 for Winona Paint & Glass, and Bonnie Webster had 265 for Wally's. Hamernick's Bar counted 2,560.

Other 500s went to Marge Moravec with 538, Helen Nelson with a 526 errorless, Betty Englerth with 524, Elsie Dorsch with 521, Betty Schoonover with 512, Audrey Gorecki with 512 and Olga Steve with 501.

It was also split making night in the league. Both Nancy Gensmer and Pat Rozek topped the 3-7-10, Arlene Kittle converted the 4-7-10 and Tess Young downed the 2-7.

ATHLETIC CLUB: Go Getters — Ruth Todd led Circle G Ranch to 859 with her 174. Orville Cisewski downed 452 for E.B.'s Corner and Graham McGuire topped 2,504.

Knights Seek Coulee 'Title'

Seldom has a team dominated a conference scoring race in the manner in which Onalaska Luther is doing to the Bi-State race this season.

The powerful Knights, winners of 11 straight games, have all five starters in the top 10 scorers of the conference. Don Larson leads the way with a 14.7 average good for fourth place on the list, while Dave Wilder and Ron Drecktrah are each averaging 12.8. Dennis Lemke is hitting 11.8 and Ken Stratman 11.7.

And that balance is a very good reason why Luther is undefeated.

With the Bi-State crown practically clinched, Luther will take a step toward another unofficial title tonight. The Knights play seven games with Coulee Conference teams this year.

At present they rank 4-0 against Coulee foes with a pair of victories over league leading Bangor, one over second place

Onalaska and another over third place Holmen. Tonight they travel to Holmen for a scrap with the fourth place Bears. A victory in tonight's contest could make them the unofficial conference champ.

Two area cagers have hit the 300-point mark for the season after last week's action. Canton's Don Jay leads all scores with a total of 305 points, followed closely by Preston's Mike Knies with 302.

General Motors Strong, AT&T Stock Is Weak

NEW YORK (AP)—Strength in General Motors and further weakness in American Telephone were features in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

GM responded to overnight news of its record-breaking profits, spurring more than 2 points.

American Telephone was off about half a point as it continued to touch new lows for 1965-66.

Activity in some of the lower-priced issues and weakness in aerospace defense stocks and airlines were other features of the market which was drifting a shade lower based on the Associated Press average.

The AP average at noon was down 4 at 365.9 with industrials off .4, rails off .5 and utilities off .1.

The opening of a peace drive in the United Nations, even though balanced by the renewal of bombing in North Vietnam, was apparently disconcerting to holders of the aerospace stocks.

Alcoa lost 1 at 83 on a block of 47,900 shares.

American Motors, the most active stock of the past two sessions, slipped a fraction in heavy trading.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.95 at 980.36.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was active.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

An estimated 98 per cent of the homes in Bermuda have electricity.

BUSHEL OF KICKS . . . Congressman Albert H. Quie of the 1st District displays a "bushel of protests" from constituents who object to proposed Federal Communications Commission regulation of Community Antenna Television (CATV), which serves several 1st District communities. CATV transmits television over cables, allowing broadcast of programs over longer distances and generally a wider selection of channels. The FCC has scheduled proceedings to discuss the need for regulations on Feb. 10. Cong. Quie has written FCC Chairman E. William Henry, urging him to delay the FCC proceedings until a bill before Congress can be debated. That bill would clarify the jurisdiction of the FCC in regard to CATV.

Birders to Hold 'Amateur Night'

An "amateur night" program will be presented by the Hiawatha Valley Bird Club of Winona at its monthly meeting Wednesday evening at Lake Park Lodge.

The program will consist of the showing of transparencies of photos taken by club members at back-yard feeders and elsewhere during the winter months. To be seen will be evening grosbeaks, purple finches, juncos, tree sparrows and redpolls. The latter, ordinarily rarely seen in this area, are here this year in great numbers. A flock of between 300 and 400 was spotted by club members during the annual bird count early in January.

At 6:15 p.m. a potluck supper will be served prior to the showing of slides. The supper will be prepared by the women of the club's executive board, Mrs. Harvey Gordon, Miss Frances Dickerson, Miss Dorothy Johnstone and Miss Pauline Wershofen.

Net earnings equaled $7.41 a share last year, compared with a previous high mark of $6.05 in 1964.

Sales were estimated at $20.7 billion, an increase of 22 per cent over the previous record of $17.0 billion the previous year.
