Duxbury to Run for House If Quie Quits

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — State Rep. Lloyd Duxbury of Caledonia said today he would seek the Republican endorsement for Congress in the First District if Congressman Albert H. Quie becomes a candidate for governor.

Duxbury told an airport news conference he has not talked with Quie about the possibility and would support Quie for re-election if he decides against a race for governor.

Duxbury said he expects a firm indication on Quie's decision to come from a meeting tonight in Rochester.

"I don't see how there can be any wavering after this meeting," Duxbury said.

Duxbury also said he would not be a candidate for endorsement for governor "under any circumstances."

Quie is scheduled to meet tonight with three dozen Republican leaders from the 12-county district in Southeastern Minnesota.

Duxbury, 44, has been speaker of the House for the last two legislative sessions.

Duxbury said he would not actively campaign for any of the gubernatorial candidates prior to the state endorsing convention—and would not make a statement supporting Quie against Harold LeVander, William Randall or other possibilities.

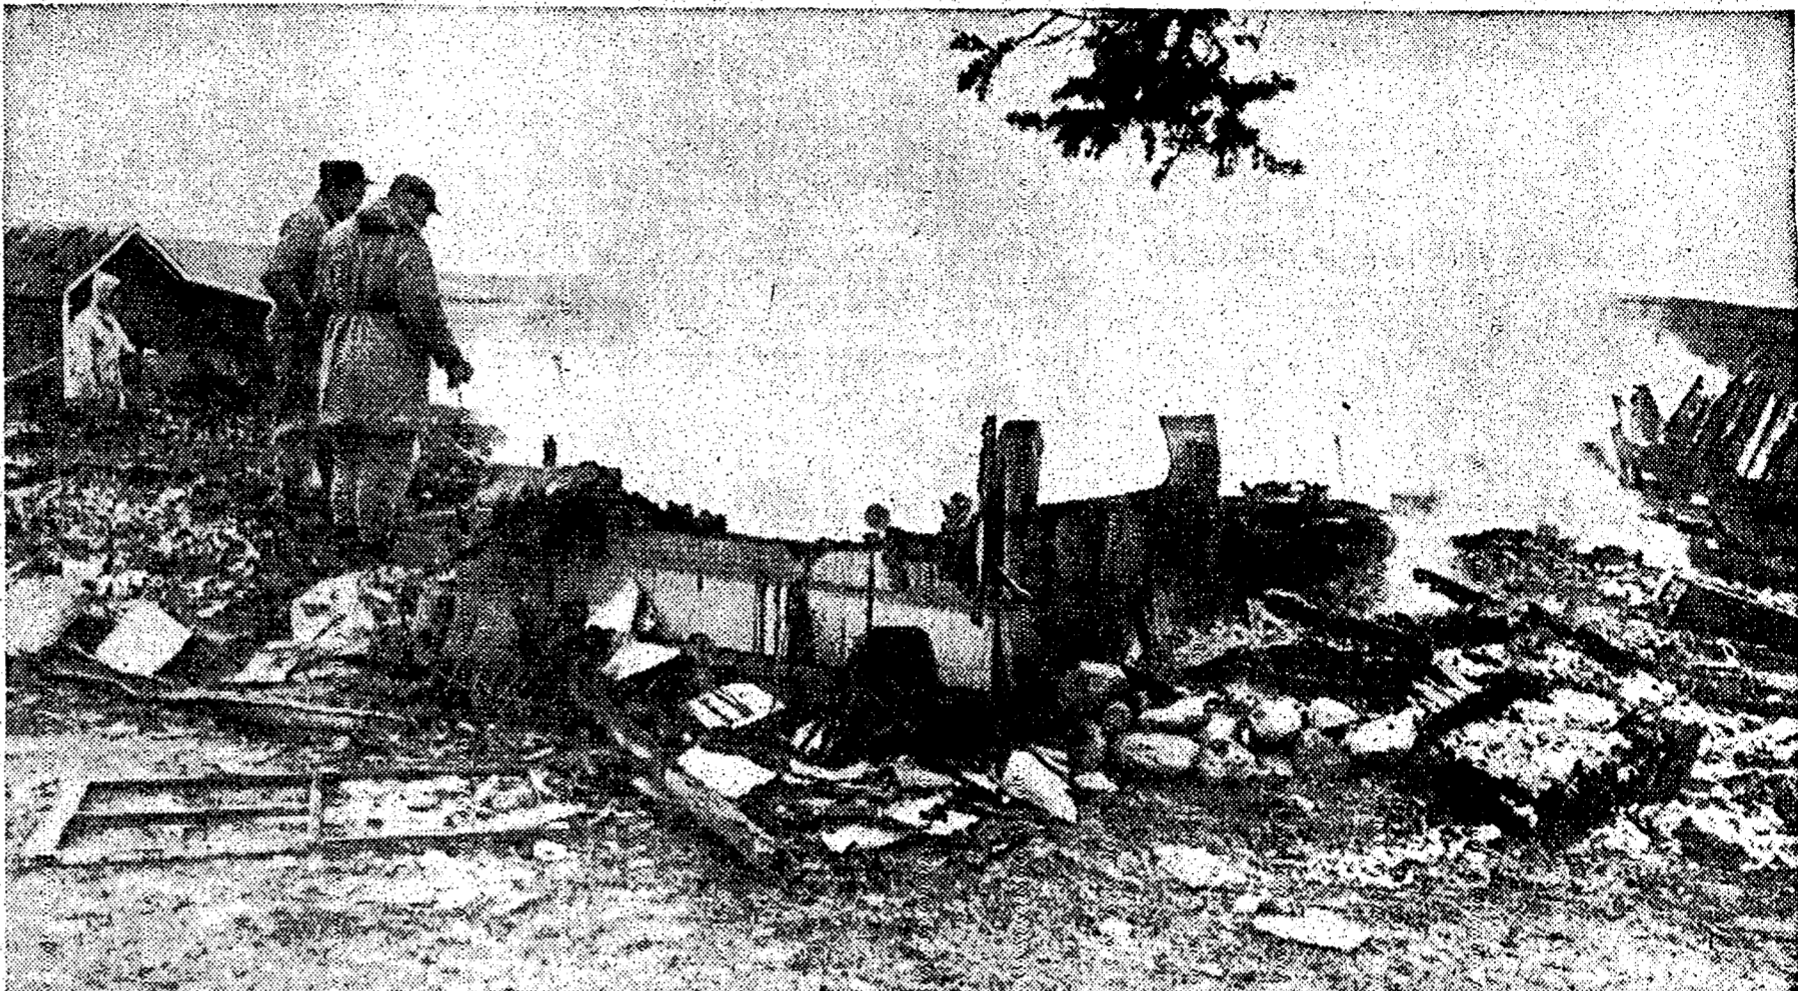

"I think Quie would make a wonderful candidate for governor. By the same token, so would LeVander and Randall," Duxbury said.

If Quie decides to run for governor, Duxbury said, he would actively campaign for the GOP endorsement.

Duxbury also said he is confident Gov. Karl Rolvaag will call a special legislative session soon after he receives a reapportionment plan being drawn up by a governor's commission.

Duxbury complimented the commission for its work thus far and said the commission plan could be used as a "starting point" in a special session.

Duxbury was en route to Duluth to make a Lincoln Day speech.

FIVE CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE . . . Two neighbor men look into the smoking ruins of the Gene Stoering farm home near Elysian, Minn., where the five Stoering children died in an overnight fire. The victims were James, 14; Larry, 12; Constance, 10; Michael, 7, and the baby, Susan, 22 months. Mrs. Stoering was at work when the fire broke out and her husband, 37, was unable to get through dense smoke to rescue the youngsters. (AP Photofax)

U.S. Asks Reds To Modify Stand

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is seeking to put diplomatic pressure on North Viet Nam to modify its demand that the Communist National Liberation Front — NLF — must represent South Viet Nam in any peace negotiations.

President Johnson has sent word to interested foreign governments that the demand made by North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh is wholly unacceptable and has created an obstacle to efforts to arrange a peace conference.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, envoy to the United Nations, said after a two-hour meeting with Johnson Thursday that U.S. policy is flexible on the issue of an NLF role in negotiations. The NLF is the political arm of the Communist guerrilla forces.

"We will bargain on that at the conference table," Goldberg told reporters. But he emphasized that the demand which Ho made public Jan. 28 is unacceptable to the United States, and he made clear it would have to be modified if the issue is to be resolved.

Johnson briefed Goldberg on his meeting in Hawaii earlier this week with the leaders of South Viet Nam, then sent him back to U.N. headquarters in New York to renew his efforts with Secretary-General U. Thant and members of the Security Council as well as representatives of other countries to find some way to bring the Vietnamese war to a close.

While Goldberg was meeting with Johnson, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee heard from George F. Kennan, former State Department Soviet affairs expert, in its inquiry into U.S. policy in Southeast Asia.

Both Kennan and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, expressed fears this week's U.S.-South Vietnamese declaration in Honolulu may have raised an added obstacle to a negotiated peace.

Red China Raps Russia

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China accused the Soviet Union today of joining the United States, India and Japan in forging a "ring of encirclement" around Red China.

"The policy of the new leaders of the Communist party of the Soviet Union is to unite with U.S. imperialism and the reactionaries of various countries against China," said a 6,500-word article in Red Flag, the theoretical organ of the Chinese Communist party.

Candace III, Trial Recesses For Weekend

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Blonde Candace Mossler's trial in the slaying of her husband was recessed for the weekend today after she became ill during the night and was unable to appear in court.

Dr. Edward W. St. Mary, under questioning on the witness stand by Circuit Judge George Schulz, testified he treated Mrs. Mossler for migraine headaches and nausea, a combination that has affected her twice before during her trial with Melvin Lane Powers on charges of murdering multimillionaire Jacques Mossler.

Dr. St. Mary also testified that Mrs. Mossler complained of severe chest pains, "which she also has had before."

"I did not think there was any heart disturbance," the physician continued. "I thought it was engendered by tension."

"Do you have an opinion?" Judge Schulz asked, "as to whether Mrs. Mossler is malingering?"

"I don't believe so," the doctor said.

Rampaging Wisconsin Rivers in Slow Retreat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin's rampaging rivers and streams beat a slow retreat back to their banks today under prodding from clearing skies and colder temperatures.

Scattered cities and towns remained harassed by flood waters but the worst appeared over in Western and southwestern Wisconsin and help was on the way for Green Bay, hit Thursday by what officials described as the worst flood in its history.

A U.S. Coast Guard cutter was dispatched to fight the cause of the flood, a massive build up of ice at the mouth of the East River.

Meanwhile, in southwestern Wisconsin the waters began to recede.

"All we can do now is sit out and wait for the water to go down," said Dr. J. H. Kittner, Crawford County Civil Defense director assigned to Gays Mills.

Gays Mills and nearby Soldiers Grove are in the flood line of the Kickapoo River which finally crested Thursday at 4.15 feet over flood level.

Heavy rain which teamed with the premature thaw to produce the flooding ended Thursday and colder air advanced in to the state.

While the Kickapoo and the Pecotanica rivers, both in southwestern Wisconsin, posed less of a menace, huge chunks of ice, liberated by the premature thaw, were causing dangers in other waterways.

Massive ice slabs choked the mouth of the East River in Green Bay, forcing the water to slip over the banks and inundate a section of the city.

The cutter Mesquite, was expected in Green Bay sometime today from Sturgeon Bay.

The river waters flooded the basements of scores of Green Bay homes, knocking out some heating systems and forcing families to seek other shelter.

The ice damaged a dock at the American Can Co. paper mill and a company crane was put to work in an effort to break up the floes.

Police said the water reached depths of four to five feet in some streets.

At River Falls, scaffolding being used in the rebuilding of a dam washed away in an earlier flood was itself swept away by the flood waters of the Kinnikinnick River.

The Milwaukee River overflowed in Mequon, forcing at least one family to evacuate its home.

Father Gets Out, Mother On Night Job

ELYSIAN, Minn. (AP) — A southern Minnesota farmer, thwarted by dense smoke which stymied any rescue attempt, fled his burning home late last night and watched helplessly as flames leveled the house and killed his five children.

Gene Stoering, 37, and his wife, Virginia, 35, sought comfort at the home of relatives this morning after the tragedy which left them childless.

The sky was overcast today in this farm area of gently rolling land. The gloom of dawn was heavy at the Stoering place as about 45 firemen and neighboring farmers quietly and sadly searched the blackened ruins for the victims' bodies.

Neighbors gave of their helpfulness, as they have a way of doing in rural areas. Some 10 farmers milked the Stoering cows. Several farm wives moved into a shed where they made sandwiches and coffee for the men who did the chores and searched the embers.

The dead children were James, 14; Larry, 12; Constance, 10; Michael, 7, and the baby, Susan, 22 months.

By 10:30 a.m., three bodies had been recovered. The county coroner identified them tentatively as those of James, Larry and Susan.

Stoering had taken the children to an Elysian meeting last night of the We Wanto 4-H Club, where Mrs. Stoering was a leader. Mrs. Stoering had gone to her night shift job in a plastics plant at St. Peter, 20 miles away.

After the meeting, Stoering and the children returned to their farm three miles northwest of town. The father put the youngsters to bed upstairs and then, Sheriff Pat Smith said, he lay on a downstairs floor and watched television.

Stoering dozed. He woke later and found the house afire. Heat was intense. Smoke was so heavy Stoering couldn't get upstairs. Neither could he locate the telephone.

Stoering, unharmed, fled the house and ran to a neighboring home a quarter mile away to telephone the Elysian Fire Department. The call was made at 11:45 p.m. Then Stoering returned to his farm and watched as volunteer firemen, frustrated by inadequate water at the scene, fought a losing battle to halt the flames.

The house was ablaze when firemen arrived, and flames leaped from all the windows. Heat was so great firemen could not get close to the house. They tried wetting down one of their men who held a hose nozzle but that effort was frustrated, too, by the fierce flames. Firemen from nearby Waterville and LeCenter came to help but the fire had made too great headway.

Robert Simons, 21, one of the first firemen at the scene, said a ladder was put up to second-story windows "but it was so hot the firemen had to come back down."

Humphrey Sees Saigon Region, Views Projects

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey made a four-hour tour of improvement projects in the Saigon area today and pronounced the work "very fine."

The exuberant vice president talked with village elders and local chiefs, inspected a variety of improvements, shook hands, voiced a greeting in Vietnamese and joined in group singing.

One little girl hung back bashfully from the songfest. Humphrey knelt beside her, took her tiny hands in his and brought her into the circle of 20 Vietnamese toddlers.

"One, two, three...one, two, three," he chanted, slapping his hands and bobbing his head.

For a few minutes Humphrey's visit to this war-scarred land had the happy look of an American-style political campaign. The vice president, though flushed by the tropical heat, enjoyed himself enormously in his visit with the kindergarten class in a village five miles south of Saigon.

The visit to the newly pacified village of New Prosperity was Humphrey's first stop on a four-hour tour of economic and social projects of the type with which the Saigon government hopes to recapture the hearts of the people.

From the village a helicopter carried Humphrey to Saigon slum districts, where he inspected a new community for refugees being built by a U.S.-Vietnamese student group, and a low-rent housing development.

"Here we see the principle of self-help really at work," said Humphrey, who arrived Thursday to dramatize President Johnson's hopes for economic, social and political progress in this battleground with the Communists.

Enlarged Civic Center in New Plan

PUBLIC FACILITIES . . . As first conceived, in the city master plan, a civic center would occupy four blocks, with interior streets closed. The new concept proposes enlargement of the area to six blocks, with east-west streets remaining open. Open space would help meet growing parking problems at school and county governmental building areas.

Keith Ready To Announce For Governor

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith all but announced his candidacy for the Democratic - Farmer - Labor Party nomination for governor Thursday, and a new effort was formed today to boost 1st District Congressman Albert Quie for the Republican nomination.

Minneapolis Alderman Dan Cohen called a press conference this morning to announce formation of a MacGregor - Quie Draft Committee to seek the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate for 3rd District Congressman Clark MacGregor and the governorship for Quie.

Quie, who has said he prefers to seek re-election to Congress, is to meet with 1st District leaders in Rochester tonight.

Keith told a Minneapolis press conference Thursday that he has high hopes of winning the DFL nomination, that he has support "everywhere in the state" and that things are "coming fine."

Asked if he expects to win state DFL convention endorsement, requiring a two-thirds majority, the lieutenant governor said: "I hope so."

Keith previously would say only that he was available for the nomination if the party wanted him. Some party leaders have expressed a preference for Keith instead of DFL Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag, who has not yet announced whether he will seek re-election.

Keith also said he has no interest in running for Quie's seat in the House of Representatives.

Trainee Dies Of Meningitis

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A trainee at Lackland Air Force Base died of spinal meningitis Thursday night and three others were reported ill of the disease. The base began taking precautions to avoid spread of the illness.

The victim was Jerry L. Slagle, 19, Akron, Ohio.

The base withheld the names of the three ill trainees.

A spokesman said the 16,000 basic trainees were restricted to the base.

Bond to Appeal Decision Denying Him House Seat

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Representative Julian Bond will appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court a decision upholding the Georgia House of Representatives' refusal to seat him because of statements held to be "at war with the national policy."

In a 2-1 decision, a federal court ruled Thursday that the House action was legal and rational on the basis of Bond's voicing sympathy with men unwilling to respond to a military draft.

Bond, 26, a Negro and a Democrat, was barred from the House last Jan. 10 because of his statements labeling U.S. participation in Viet Nam as aggression and urging men to seek alternatives to military service.

Development of a civic center, advocated by the 1959 city master plan, has emerged in enlarged form in the new downtown renewal plan.

According to the planning report, a six-block district should be devoted to a combination of county and city governmental uses, educational and recreational facilities.

The proposed area includes present sites of the Winona County courthouse and jail, Central Junior High School and Winona Senior High School buildings. Eventually, the schools will be a single city junior high school complex.

Boundaries of the proposed civic center are Broadway, 3rd, Johnson and Winona streets. An additional half-block of land could be added west of present school buildings by building a diagonal crossover from Winona to Huff Street between 5th and Broadway.

MORE PARKING is urgently needed for the schools, the report observes, and other open spaces can be used for recreation. New courthouse facilities can be developed, along with adequate parking, in the northern two blocks of the segment.

Should a city auditorium be built, here is the logical site, the report asserts. Part of such a building could be devoted to meeting rooms, Historical Society exhibits, interior recreational space and new public library facilities, when and if needed.

No street closings are advocated for the area. But the report suggests a pedestrian bridge connecting an upper level of the present junior high school building with the proposed auditorium. In this way, the auditorium could be used for some school-connected activities, according to the recommendation.

Continued use of the Winona Hotel and Chamber of Commerce buildings would be appropriate for the area, says the report. A few new commercial recreation activities also could logically be developed within the six blocks, the document adds.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Some Fundamentals Of Pruning

THIS is the season of the year when the gardener can give vent to some of the spring urge by getting out into the yard and doing some necessary and effective pruning. It can be done now or very early in the spring while the plants are dormant.

Before going into the subject the question might well be asked, "What is pruning?" This would perhaps be answered in various ways by gardeners who have different ends in mind.

Generally speaking, pruning may be defined as the practice of trimming, or cutting out, the unwanted growth on trees, shrubs and other woody plants to make them conform to the shape desired, to keep them within bounds, to remove dead, diseased, or broken wood and to promote better flower and fruit production.

In order to get the best results in the proper and useful growth of plants, the gardener should be somewhat familiar with some of the basic principles of pruning. No two plants, even of the same variety, grow alike in every case as they are influenced greatly by soil conditions, exposure to sun and wind, and the nature of the location in relation to the surroundings. Therefore, pruning should be done with judgment and common sense from the standpoint of the performance of the plant in the past and what is expected of it in the future.

IT IS NOT enough to go out and cut with little purpose, or without regard to the variety of tree, or shrub, that is being worked on. Nor, is it sufficient to go about timidly with pruning shears and hesitatingly snip a little here and there, fearful of cutting too much and, therefore doing but little. The best pruning is done by the gardener who is familiar with some of the essentials and who goes about his work with some knowledge of what he is doing and why. The average gardener never does prune heavily enough.

One of the fundamentals in pruning is to assist the plant to attain the desired form and shape typical of the variety. As an example, a hard maple tree should be developed its form of a straight trunk and rounded top. This can be done while the tree is young. A tree out in the open will generally assume its typical form and shape without having been subjected to any pruning whatever. However, a young tree planted in the home yard and often under crowded conditions must be guided and assisted by some judicious pruning in the early years of growth with special consideration being given to its surroundings.

ORNAMENTAL TREES and shrubs are pruned primarily to keep them shapely, within bounds, and in the case of flowering varieties, to produce more and better blooms. The lower branches of shade trees in the yard should be cut off as the trees grow in order to provide ample head room underneath.

Specialized pruning of fruit trees such as apples and pears is often done in order to increase the fruiting capabilities and, also, to improve the quality of the fruit. If a tree seems to be producing too much stem growth at the expense of blossoms and fruit, the limbs can be cut back in order to encourage more lateral branching.

In pruning, all cuts should be made close to the main stem without leaving a stub. Each cut which is one inch or more in diameter can be given a coat of paint containing linseed oil, or shellac can be used.

In the way of tools, the gardener should have pruning shears, long-handled hedge shears, a long pole pruner for tall branches, saw and knife.

THE PRUNING of various varieties of trees and shrubs will be taken in later articles.

Safety Council Reports 49,000 Killed in 1965

CHICAGO (AP)—A record toll of 49,000 traffic deaths in the United States last year was reported today by the National Safety Council.

The council said 1.8 million persons suffered disabling injuries in 1965 motor vehicle accidents. The economic loss was calculated at $8.5 billion, $5.5 billion of this in wage losses, medical expenses and overhead insurance costs.

The one bright thread in the dark pattern was the council's assertion that the rate of deaths per 100 million travel miles declined for the first time since 1961—from 5.7 in 1964 to 5.6 last year. This compared with a 1945 rate of 11.3.

Council statisticians computed a 5 per cent rise in the total number of vehicle-miles last year, 880 billion.

Second Kitzer Insurance Firm Under Receiver

ST. PAUL (AP) — U.S. Mutual Insurance Co. on Thursday became the second Kitzer-owned firm to go into receivership in Minnesota.

The related American Allied Insurance Co. was declared insolvent and a receiver appointed last Aug. 4.

Thursday's action by Ramsey County District Judge Robert Rensch was taken at the request of Joe Haveson, acting state insurance commissioner and it was not opposed by the company's caretaker management.

Haveson reported that U.S. Mutual had a deficit of $150,840—with assets of $660,215 and liabilities of $811,055.

American Allied and U.S. Mutual both had headquarters in St. Paul and were owned by Phillip Kitzer of Chicago and his sons Phillip Jr. and Joseph.

The three Kitzers, Minnesota Insurance Commissioner Cyrus Magnusson and 13 other men have been indicted by a federal grand jury on fraud charges in the operation of American Allied.

The defendants also include David R. Kroman of Edina, who served as president of U.S. Mutual.

The company has been under the direction of Homer Bonhiver, the receiver for American Allied.

Famed Donkey Dead At Redwood Falls

REDWOOD FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Joey, the Mexican burro who made a donkey of himself in a Christmas concert a couple of years ago, is dead.

Joey died of an undetermined ailment last weekend at the Ralph Parker farm near Redwood Falls. He was 9 or 10 years old.

Joey gained national and international prominence when he voiced a few unscheduled he-haws while on stage as a non-singing member of a Nativity tableaux during the 1963 Redwood Falls high school Christmas program. The incident ended his stage career.

deaths last year was 3 per cent greater than the former record of 47,700 in 1964.

Another deadly record was reflected in the December toll last year when 4,940 persons were killed—10 per cent more than the 4,490 of December 1964.

In terms of deaths per 10,000 registered motor vehicles, the 1965 total of accident deaths was up—from 2.7 in 1964 to 2.9.

'New Left' Plans Attack on Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Militant young foes of U.S. policy in Viet Nam—people who call themselves the new left—are working to shape a national political organization out of their protest and peace forces.

"This is what I call political guerrilla warfare," said California Rep. Jeffrey Cohelan, a Democrat and self-described liberal who has seen his Oakland home office besieged by demonstrators. "They've picked me as a target," he said.

Cohelan's aim, in the eyes of his challengers, is general support of President Johnson's policy on South Viet Nam.

Cohelan said in an interview he is "more dove than hawk," that escalation of the war would be "absolutely mad," but that the United States should not now withdraw.

Immediate withdrawal from Viet Nam is the new left rallying cry, but Paul Booth, a 22-year-old leader in the new political movement, said its goals go far beyond the war issue.

Booth, of Chicago, is national secretary of Students for a

Dairy Day Promotion Effect Cited

Winona County's American Dairy Association farmer members acknowledged the beginnings of success in local promotion of dairy products Thursday at Kiwanis Club noon luncheon at the Hotel Winona.

Clarence Muntt, Winona County ADA chairman, said the $600-700 allotment the county ADA chapter received from state ADA headquarters for local promotion efforts has been put to excellent use. "This two-day dairy event typifies what the national ADA is trying to accomplish," he said.

The county allotment is returned on a percentage basis of the total state collection.

MUNT added that ADA works more each year to develop dairy promotion on more effective local programs. "The grass roots level is where production comes from," he said, "and it's also the best place to reach the most consumers."

According to John Halvorson, associate county agent, the dairy industry in Winona County produces 50 percent of total county agriculture income. "We're proud of it," he said. When you can single out one segment of a diverse industry and name its accomplishments, you know many farmers are doing outstanding jobs, he said.

Princess Kay, and Jody Waldo, 1965 Winona County Dairy Princess, spoke briefly. They commented about the need for more dairy promotion and commended the city of Winona and Winona County on its program. Jerry Papenfuss, Kiwanis chairman, said the problems farming incurred as a business are, and can be, met in two ways — by increased efforts in selling their products, and by better efficiency.

About 100 businessmen, farmers and guests attended.

Phy Ed Teacher To Be Employed At La Crescent

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special)—The La Crescent Board of Education Tuesday night voted to hire a fulltime physical education instructor for the elementary school.

Beginning his work next fall, he will give instruction in competitive sports in grades 3-6 and assist teachers in kindergarten-grade 2 in their physical education programs.

Summer courses were discussed. Supt. William Stetler recommended an 8-week program in biology if at least 20-25 students show interest. It would be limited to 30 but open to all resident and non-resident students now attending high school here who have completed Biology I.

Also in the planning stages are remedial reading courses for elementary children who need special help, and a remedial math program. These courses would run from six to eight weeks.

The state Department of Education has given oral approval for a fulltime guidance counselor for the elementary school, and tentative approval for a fulltime developmental reading program for junior high students. Both would be paid for by federal Title I funds.

The board reviewed the programs instituted in the elementary school this year, including a special education class, specialized music instruction, physical education, a school nursing program, and fulltime corrective and remedial reading and library programs. Additional staff has reduced the class sizes.

Salaries will be discussed at a special meeting Feb. 22.

10.2-Foot River Stage Expected by Next Week

The Mississippi River, on one of the earliest rises in years, rose to 8.8 feet today and was predicted by the Weather Bureau to rise to the following marks in the next four days:

Saturday	9.4
Sunday	9.8
Monday	10.1
Tuesday	10.2

With the advent of colder weather and a slackening of stream flow into the river's main channel and leveling off can be expected near the end of next week, river observers said.

RISES ALL ALONG the river today from Red Wing to La

Crosse approximated a foot or more. Some tributary streams were down but the Chippewa and Trempealeau still were rising.

The Chippewa at Durand, Wis., was 10.5 today, up 1.7 feet from Thursday and the Trempealeau at Dodge was 7.7, up 1.3 from the day before.

Other area readings included: Red Wing 6.5, up 1.2; Lake City 8.3, up 1.1; Wabasha 6.8, up .7; Alma 7.7, up 1.3; Trempealeau 9.6, up 1.3; La Crosse 9.7, up .7.

Fair to partly cloudy weather is predicted for Winona and vicinity through Saturday with a low tonight of 14-20 and a high Saturday of 32-40.

Below normal temperatures are seen for Sunday with some snow flurries, ending in the late afternoon.

The Winona temperature rose to 40 Thursday afternoon, dropped to 25 overnight and was 28 at noon today. This contrasts with a high a year ago today of 33 and a low of 9. On Feb. 11, 1965 a 12-inch snowfall was ending. The all-time high for the day was 60 in 1882 and the low — 24 in 1899. Mean temperature for the past 24 hours was 32. Normal for this day is 18.

IN MINNEAPOLIS, Weather Bureau hydrologist Joseph Strub Jr. said it was too early to tell if the spring would bring major flooding as in 1965. Snowfall during March will be the key to the situation, he said.

Below zero temperatures returned to the state again overnight with Bemidji reporting a low of -2, Minot, N.D., had a low of -1 and Regina, Canada, -8.

At Rochester the overnight low was 24 after a Thursday high of 34. La Crosse posted figures of 23 and 43 for the same times. Snow was falling at Duluth today where the morning temperature was 17.

Wisconsin, too, had its first below-freezing weather since Monday morning when the mercury dropped into the 20s early today.

The cold came as welcome relief to areas hard hit by melting snow and resultant flooding. Lower temperatures also brought an end to the precipitation that had added to the water levels.

Superior dropped all the way to 17 degrees early this morning, but other low marks ranged from 21 at Eau Claire and Park Falls to 28 at Racine, Burlington and Beloit.

The high marks recorded Thursday occurred mostly before daybreak, with Milwaukee reaching 50. Others ranged down to 35 at Superior.

The nation's high of 80 Thursday was set by Fort Myers, Naples and Bartow, Fla. Ely, Nev., had the low of 12 below early today.

Trial Scheduled In Traffic Case

The judge heard a not guilty plea to a charge of causing a collision and dismissed a disorderly conduct charge against a former Winona State College student today in municipal court.

John J. Nogosek, Rochester, pleaded not guilty to a charge of failure to yield the right of way to another vehicle at 4th and Olmstead streets Feb. 3 (causing a collision). He is scheduled to stand trial Feb. 23 at 9:30 a.m. Judge John D. McGill ordered Nogosek to post $30 bail, which he did.

The disorderly conduct charge against Carl Carbone, 18, a former WSC student from Chicago, was dropped today on a motion by City Prosecutor James W. Soderberg. Soderberg explained to Judge McGill that the complaining witness no longer wishes to testify.

TEACHER AT BLAIR — Blair, Wis. (Special) — Richard Galbraith, Chetek, has been hired to teach science and social studies the second semester at Blair High School. Engaged as part of the Title I of the federally-paid project, he will relieve some of the current instructors. He is a mid-year graduate of Superior State University.

Schlesinger Talk Tickets Available

Winona State College announces that a limited number of tickets will be available to the general public for the Arthur Schlesinger Jr. lecture at Somsen Auditorium Saturday at 8 p.m.

Tickets may be reserved Saturday afternoon by calling the college between 1 and 5 p.m.

The topic of Schlesinger's address will be "The World We Want and How to Get It."

Anti-Poverty Action Group Sets Meeting

The six members of a steering committee to recruit a 30-man anti-poverty action council in Winona County will meet Monday afternoon to begin work, the committee's chairman announced today.

School Superintendent A. L. Nelson, appointed temporary chairman of the steering committee at a citizen's meeting Tuesday night, announced his appointees to the committee and the time and place of its first meeting today.

Nelson said that, in addition to himself, the steering committee membership will include Winona Senior High School counselor Lewis Schoening, Winona Diocese director of Catholic Charities Msgr. Richard Felten, Winona Alderman - at large Barry Nelson, Minnesota Employment Service director (for Winona) Ray Brown and College of Saint Teresa faculty member Mary A. O'Reilly.

Schoening will act as chairman of the committee's meeting Monday in the absence of Nelson, who will be out of town. The committee is scheduled to meet Monday at 3:30 p.m. at College of Saint Teresa.

About 45 Winona County citizens meeting at the college Tuesday night voted to set up the committee. The citizens' hope is that enough community support exists to form a Community Action Council. The Council could qualify for federal anti-poverty funds to be used in Winona County.

The steering committee's job is to recruit 30 representative citizens of the county to serve on the Council. The committee has a March 1 deadline for formation of such a group.

Mall Area People Air Complaints

A scheduled public hearing was called off Thursday night by the Planning Commission after petitioners withdrew a petition to rezone land near the Miracle Mall shopping center.

A delegation of about 30 neighboring residents was on hand to contest the application. The request had been filed by Randall Ehmke, 1269 Randall St., present owner of the land parcel just southwest of the center's parking lot.

Ehmke has asked a change from R-1 (one-family residential) to B-2 (central business) zoning. The change would permit development of the area as additional parking space, according to Western Land Corp., owner of the center.

Company representatives told Planning Commission Chairman James Schain late Thursday afternoon they would abandon the idea because of so much opposition.

THE STRONGEST complaint brought by neighbors was that an alleged runoff nuisance had been created at the center. Drainage had been impeded, they charged, with the result that nearby basements were sometimes flooded by surface water that had no place to go.

George Bolter, 1312 Randall St., said inadequate drainage around the center on one occasion created a pool of standing water that took a day and a half to disperse. Mrs. A. S. Dernek, 1079 Gilmore Ave., complained of high water levels and said she was annoyed by "loud tinny music" emanating from loudspeakers at the center.

Commission Member Leo Murphy Jr. reviewed actions leading to rezoning of the original center site in 1963. Developers promised to provide suitable screening on the west boundary, to regulate lighting so it would not glare into nearby property and to grade property so it would not create runoff nuisances, he said.

THESE conditions were embodied in planning commission approval but the zoning ordinance amendment subsequently adopted by the City Council apparently did not carry the stipulations, he said.

Lighting restrictions apparently meet standards set out in appropriate ordinances, observed Murphy. Screening shrubbery has been promised, he said, but planting was delayed by unfavorable weather and soil conditions last year.

Murphy said the conditions may not be actually enforceable by the city but that the center owner should be asked to keep the agreements.

Commissioner Norman Indall moved that the firm be asked to submit plans for drainage of the area and for kinds of screening to be used. His motion was adopted unanimously.

Earlier, City Engineer James Baird told the commission storm sewers are needed to carry away surface water in sufficient volume so it will not accumulate and flow onto neighboring property. The installation should be at the owner's expense, he said.

Some Area Roads Still Under Water

Portions of main roads in nearby Wisconsin counties remained closed today as the result of high water.

Ice jams took the pilings under Plummer bridge a half-mile north of Durand on Highway 85 Wednesday. The road is closed, necessitating detours of 10 miles. Repairs to the 70-foot span will be made by the state Highway Department. The section of road between No. 85 and Pepin County Trunk V will be closed about two weeks.

A section of Highway 35 at Maiden Rock in Pierce County is closed.

MINNESOTA Highways 74 between Elba and Weaver still are closed, and 26 south of the junction with 16 below La Crosse also.

The Trempealeau River at Blair is down again, but Wednesday it overflowed Riverside Memorial Park. Water got into the basements of the residences where Douglas Holte, Roger Iverson and Carl Stenberg live within the park, and surrounded the trailer house of Mrs. Agnes Lee who was gone and couldn't get back until Thursday.

Water flowed across Gilbert Street, where signs were posted warning motorists. It reached the Farmers Union mill and Central Yard Co., where piles of lumber were surrounded. The Trempealeau River flows into Blair's Lake Henry, which was covered with ice, so it bypassed the lake.

Thompson Reports on Asian Tour

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — A report on Asia, with pictures, was given by Congressman Vernon Thompson, (R. 3rd Dist.) to Buffalo County Republicans at their annual Lincoln Day dinner at the American Legion clubrooms Wednesday night.

Congressman Thompson, who toured the periphery of Communist China last fall, called it a "sobering experience."

He saw tremendous amounts of American assistance, economically and militarily, with best results apparent in Korea. Although 10 percent of the population lives within range of Communist guns, confidence and enthusiasm there are contagious, he said.

HE FOUND that Nationalist China, now with more exports than imports, sending teams of agricultural experts to less developed nations to teach and demonstrate the methods responsible for Taiwan's tremendous productivity.

Thailand is courageously standing for the principles of freedom while surrounded by Chinese Communists, using American aid wisely in developing its resources.

The Philippines have been a bitter disappointment to America, he said, because of their failure to utilize, assimilate and develop materials sent to them. The equipment sent by the U.S. stands idle.

Tragedy is on every doorstep in South Viet Nam, he said, with terrorists lurking everywhere. The Vietnamese insist war plans are made in Red China and carried out by Hanoi. "Our policy there," the congressman said, "seems to be one of resisting aggression without offending the Russians." Viet Nam could not exist without U.S. help, which pays for 80 percent of its imports.

Thompson saw some of the millions of starving people in India. "Shocking," he called it. "Both India and Pakistan do battle with U.S. military equipment," he said, "and we feed the hungry on both sides of the conflict."

"IN THESE troubled areas where American dollars have been spent, we heard 'Get out Yankee' and 'Go Home.' " "We don't want to be misled in Viet Nam," Thompson said. "At the time of President Kennedy's assassination there were 16,000 of our boys there. Today there are more than 200,000."

"The cost is stupendous, fatalities are high, pressures are causing interest rates to go up here at home and the cost of living is rising, so it's time to put our house in order. It is high time we vote for the taxpayer. If the dollar continues to be inflated, what assurance do we have that we can continue the social security program?"

"There are many complaints against mismanagement of the poverty program. Why reduce the school lunch program appropriation as a means of economizing?"

The congressman was accompanied to the dinner by Ellis Lee, Richland Center, his home district secretary. Roger L. Hartman, district attorney and secretary of the party, and Robert Johnson, Mondovi, former assemblyman, were masters of ceremonies.

Members of the party, city mayors, Buffalo County officers, and Bill Ender, Durand, past president of the Pepin County Republican party, were among the some 150 attending. The American Legion Auxiliary assisted in serving.

Primary at Mabel

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — The 12-week spring primary at Mabel School will open Feb. 23 and close May 29. Mrs. Olga Munson, Mabel, will be the teacher. To date 49 children have registered for the morning or afternoon sessions. Children who will be 6 prior to Sept. 1 are eligible.

Industrial Credit Has New Manager

James G. Miller has been appointed new manager of Industrial Credit Company's Winona branch office at 70 1/2 E. 4th St.

Miller was transferred here from Mankato where he served as loan officer at that branch. His wife, Marie, and son, Paul, Miller will be moving to Winona soon to join him here.

Civic Group Approves Renewal Plan

Members of the Winona Civic Association gave nearly unanimous endorsement Thursday night to the housing authority plan for downtown renewal.

About 65 members and guests attended the meeting at the Athletic Club. The resolution endorsing central business district upgrading will be forwarded to the City Council. Members heard an explanation of the plan by housing authority officials.

A series of reports was given by city officials. Rep. Frank Thels noted that Steamboat Days will be sponsored by Winona Jaycees. He also discussed his recent trip to northern Minnesota as a member of the House committee for forestry and public domain. Taconite development has started to boom the economy there, he said.

DUTIES of his office were summarized by Rollie Tust, registrar of deeds. Preparation for possible spring floods were reviewed by Arthur Brom, street commissioner. Rudy Edell, member of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, reported on selection of an assistant fire chief, still in progress.

Contracts for two storm sewer gateways have been let with a completion date of April 1, according to Ald. Jerry Borzyskowski. Construction will start next week, he said.

Bids for the new senior high school will be opened in April, reported Daniel Sadowski, Board of Education member. Shortly thereafter, bids will be taken for the new vocational-technical school, he said. Also

Truck Tips; 8 Head of Cattle Killed

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — A semi-trailer load of cattle went out of control on a corner of Highway 35 just outside the southwest city limits here Thursday about 2:45 p.m., killing 8 of the 25 cattle in the load and completely demolishing the trailer.

The truck, belonging to Kiehne Trucking Service, Stewartville, went off the south side of the road. The trailer tipped free from the tractor and smashed broadside into a large elm tree.

Driver of the truck, Dallas G. Herrell, Rochester, was not injured. The tractor did not tip, remaining on the edge of the highway.

The cattle were being hauled to the Whitehall Packing Co., Whitehall, Wis. Morris Scow, Trempealeau County patrolman, investigated the accident.

Green Selected As Color for New Reservoir

A look at the new Sugar Loaf water reservoir will be a soothing experience, an action Thursday by the Board of Municipal Works seems to guarantee.

Commissioners voted to have the tank painted "Eye-Rest Green."

Faced by an unusually light meeting agenda, the board still lost little time selecting the color from a wide range of samples. The board also operated without the services of its long-time chairman, C. J. Borzyskowski, away on vacation.

It was just about the only business transacted. Members took note of the proposed installation of 260 feet of new water main in Hilke Addition by the developer, Orville Hilke. The developer will be notified that such installations must be under supervision and control of the water department and must have state Department of Health approval. Installation will be at the property owner's expense.

on the board agenda soon will be salary discussions.

Ray Thorn was appointed chairman of the women's banquet to be held this spring.

It Happened Last Night King Gets New $35,000 Chariot

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Comedian Alan King was in Toots Shor's sweating out Boston reviews of a show he helped produce, "The Lion In Winter," starring Robert Preston and Rosemary Harris — and when the first were raves, he got expensive and discussed the new $35,000 Rolly-Royce he gets next month.

"I've got $175,000 in this show, and I have 175,000 partners — at $1 each," he said.

King said the suspense of waiting for the reviews "is worse than having a baby — and I'll never produce a play again without being there."

Robert Merrill came to Shor's with his wife and Sally Ann Howes (recently divorced from Richard Adler) who'd gone to hear him in "Masked Ball" at the Met. Toots told Merrill, "I went to the opera once to hear Wagner — Honus Wagner."

Julie London opened quite spectacularly at the Americana Royal Box — and when she took sips of scotch from Lisa Kirk's glass, my B.W. said, "Joe E. Lewis Rides Again."

Probably Julie was upset by a misunderstanding about a sound. I know that no orchestra ever wants to drown out a soft-voiced singer whom it's being paid to make look good and sound good, but why does it happen so often? Can't we have a campaign to educate orchestras to "Let us hear the singer — not your brass section drowning her out?" Julie's so wonderful everybody wanted to hear all of her, and of clever Tom Williams. Julie brought two of her children with her, and up on the 42d floor of the Americana, one of them could be heard, at midnight, squalling a protest about all the noise in Mommy's room next door.

How's this for a Step-mother? Liza Minnelli's step-mother, Denise Gigante, former European high-fashion model, tried to buy out the whole ringside for Liza's opening at the Plaza Persian Room.

Miles Lord Nominated for Federal Judge

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Miles W. Lord, U.S. district attorney and former state attorney general of Minnesota, is slated to become a federal district judge.

Lord, 46, was nominated for the $30,000-a-year position Thursday by President Johnson, and the appointment goes to the Senate for confirmation. Since Lord has the backing of Sens. Eugene McCarthy and Walter Mondale, as well as Vice President Humphrey, confirmation is expected to be routine.

He replaces Judge Dennis F. Donovan, who retired two months ago.

Lord became an assistant U.S. attorney at the age of 31. Among successful prosecutions was the Tommy Banks case. Banks, a Minneapolis gambler, was charged with tax fraud.

Lord was elected attorney general in 1954 and reelected in 1956 and 1958, resigning in 1959. He was named U.S. attorney in 1961. As attorney general and U.S. attorney he took part in the investigation and prosecution of defendants in the Sister Kenny mail fraud case, in which millions of dollars of funds were wrongfully diverted.

No announcement was made regarding Lord's replacement in the U.S. attorney's post. Two men in the office regarded as leading candidates are Hartley Nordin and Patrick J. Foley. Nordin has been first assistant U.S. attorney.

Nordin has been unofficially the first assistant in the office and formerly worked for Lord as an assistant attorney general.

Foley, from Wabasha, Minn., was previously in law practice with his brother, John, a former congressman from Maryland. Foley has two other brothers, Dan, who was national commander of the American Legion in 1964, and Eugene, who is assistant secretary of Commerce for Economic Development.

Texas Poll Tax Illegal

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The 1966 election outlook in Texas has been thrown into a state of confusion by a federal court's ruling that the state's poll tax was unconstitutional.

Surprised Texas officials pondered their next move in the wake of the 45-page opinion handed down Wednesday by the three-judge federal court.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Gov. John Connally declined comment until they had studied the opinion and consulted with each other.

The state has 14 days to ask the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals or the U. S. Supreme Court to stay the order.

Unless the order is stayed, Connally may have to call a special legislative session to enact a voter registration system.

Connally said at a recent news conference that a federal court ruling wiping out the $1.75 poll tax was one thing that could bring on a special session this year.

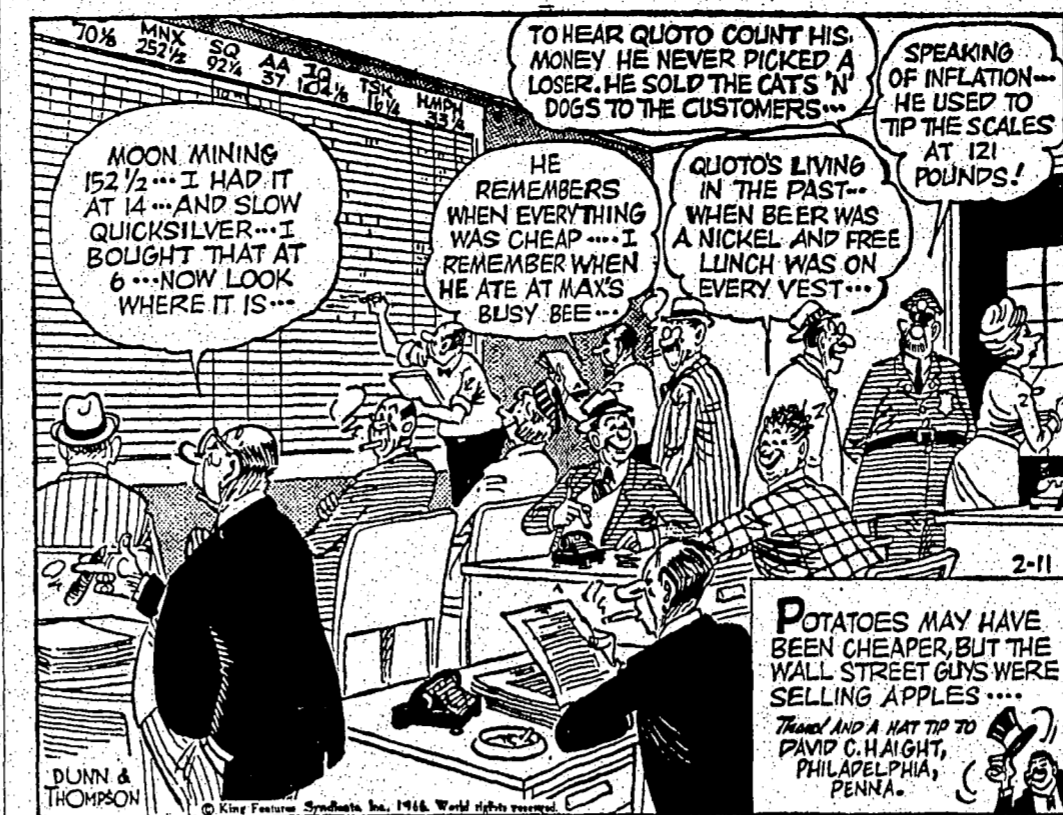

The court's decision — to take effect immediately — prohibits the state from requiring "the payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite to voting in general, special and primary elections, federal, state or local, in the state of Texas."

Deadline for poll tax payment was Jan. 31. Party primaries are May 7 for Congress, state-wide and local offices and the state legislature. Filing deadline for candidates was Monday.

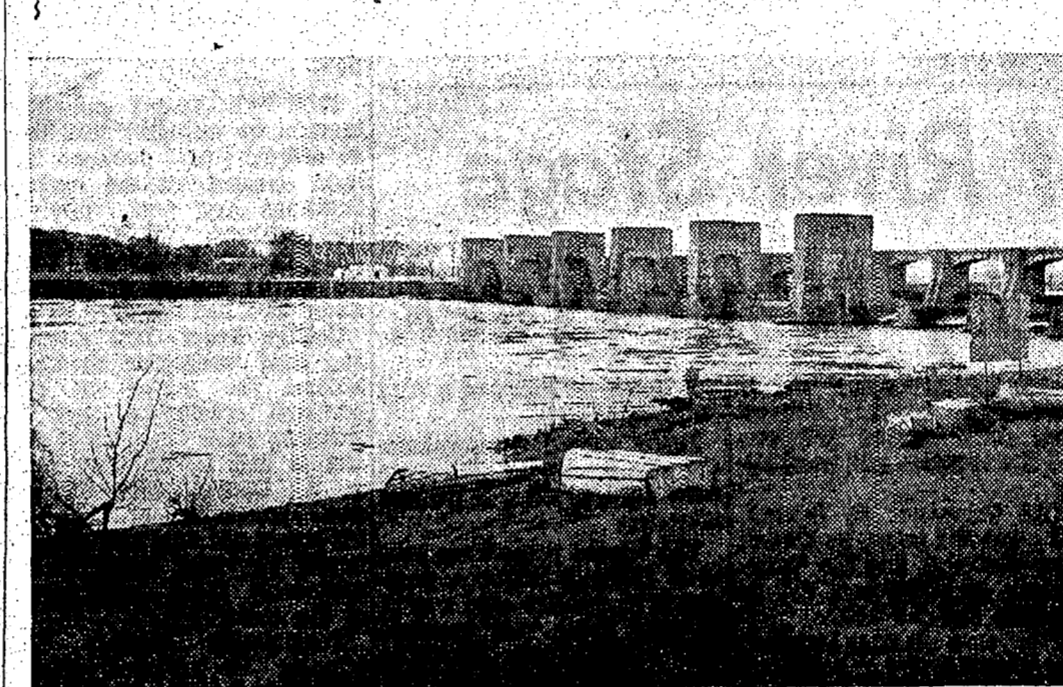

U. S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach filed suits last August under congressional instructions in the 1965 Voting Rights Act, challenging the Texas, Mississippi and Arkansas poll taxes. A suit filed earlier, testing the Virginia poll tax, is now before the U. S. Supreme Court. The federal suits allege the poll tax discriminates against Negroes.

The Texas opinion was written by Circuit Judge Homer Thornberry and was signed also by Circuit Judge John R. Brown and federal U. S. Dist. Judge Adrian Spears.

They'll Do It Every Time

Voice of the Outdoors

With most of the ice gone, the river below the Winona Dam is almost as clear as in summer. Fishermen can cast for walleye from shore.

Early Spring Break-up
Every flood takes a toll of wildlife. How extensive it has been this week along the tributary rivers in Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin is impossible to even guess. In fact, there is no serious check of conditions in the flooded bottomlands made. It was impossible to get around in such areas with the unsafe and floating ice and high water.

"Any wildlife in the bottomlands was flooded out," George Meyer, superintendent of the Whitewater Refuge, said. "Muskrat, beaver and mink houses were completely submerged by the water or ripped by the ice cakes. The temperature has not been cold enough to kill animals that took refuge in trees or on high land."

Deer, fox and rabbits got out of the bottomlands in advance of the flood or as the water came up. Most of the flood plains of the river were covered with flood waters and huge piles of ice are on the shores at the bends in the rivers. The usual barking of trees has taken place. This timber normally survives such a beating.

The Mississippi's main channel has not been seriously changed. Willis Kruger, Wabasha County warden, reported up to six inches of water on top of the surface ice of Lake Pepin and water running over the ice in many other spots along the river in that area. Ice was breaking off the lower end of the ice field on the lake and floating down past Reads Landing. In fact, the river was open from the lower end of the lake to well beyond Wabasha.

At the Winona Dam, the flow of the river had reached 40,000 cubic feet per second Thursday morning, and was rising quite rapidly as tributary rivers emptied their flood load into the main channel. Plans call for raising the tainter gates to permit a free-flowing river. The ice in the pool above the dam apparently was firm with areas of water showing on top of the ice—mainly surface water. Below the dam, the river, outside of shore ice, was clear to beyond Breezy Point.

Ice jams has characterized the early break-up on the tributary rivers and has held back the water, causing a slower run-off which has also held down the height of the flood, reducing damages. Areas above the jam, of course, were temporarily raised.

"With the ice gone out so early," Superintendent Meyer added, "the danger of destructive floods later has been materially reduced. The rivers and creeks will have pretty much of a free flow when the next high water comes."

Here is the way the Associated Press summarized the situation:

The Minnesota Conservation Department warns that ice on ponds, streams and some lakes has become dangerously thin because of the unseasonably warm weather and rain.

The department warned parents to keep youngsters away from water areas.

Meanwhile, thawing could pose problems for ice fishermen who must remove fish houses no later than Feb. 28 from inland waters.

The season on game fish such as walleye and bass ends next Tuesday, Feb. 15. Fish houses may be used for year-round species until Feb. 28. River Zone open to March 1.

The removal deadline on Minnesota - Canadian boundary waters is March 31, on South Dakota border waters March 5 and on Wisconsin border waters March 1.

Food for Freedom Plan Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proposed to Congress Thursday a food for freedom program to "lead the world in a war against hunger."

Abandoning the idea of supplying only surplus foods, he ordered increased production of some U.S. crops, chiefly rice and soybeans, to help meet overseas needs.

He called for a major international effort including increased assistance from the United States and keyed to self-help from the developing countries, where hunger is one of the major problems.

To help meet world needs, Johnson ordered a 10 per cent increase in the nation's 1966 acreage allotment for rice to meet what he called unprecedented demands brought on by drought and war in Asia.

He authorized the secretary of agriculture to buy limited amounts of dairy products to meet demands at home and abroad, where milk from U. S. farms is made available to millions of poor children.

And he announced that he will take action to increase soybean production in 1966.

There's a Law About That

By PROF. W. F. LLOYD
University of Tampa

Parents are sometimes amazed when they hear their grade school and junior high offspring spouting such terms as Commutative Law, Associative Law, Distributive Law, and other laws. It sounds as if we were raising a bunch of Perry Masons.

In the first grade of Modern Math, children are introduced to the Commutative Law. They may not learn this long-winded name in the first grade but they learn the facts and get the name as soon as they can handle it.

The Commutative Law simply states that in addition and multiplication the order in which the numbers are written does not affect the answer. For example $7 + 4 = 11$ and $4 + 7 = 11$. Similarly, $7 \times 4 = 28$ as does $4 \times 7 = 28$. This is not earthshaking to an adult, but most welcome to the kids, since it cuts in half the memorizing of tables of addition and multiplication. The law is generalized by writing it as $a + b = b + a$ and $a \times b = b \times a$, where a and b are any given numbers.

THE CHILD also learns that the operations of subtraction and division are NOT commutative. In other words $7 - 4$ is not equal to $4 - 7$, and $8 \div 4$ is not equal to $2 \div 8$. This knowledge helps relieve the frustration of being able to work the first problem in each case but not the second (when he knows only positive whole numbers.)

The Associative Law extends the realm of addition and multiplication beyond the limitations of the tables. The tables give only the answers to combinations of two numbers. But life often demands that we work with more than two numbers. No table covers a problem like $5 + 4 + 3$. The Associative Law puts it this way: $(5 + 4) + 3 = 5 + (4 + 3)$. In other words, we perform the operation in the parentheses first and then use that answer to operate on the third number. The $(5 + 4) + 3$ becomes $9 + 3$ (using the tables to add $5 + 4$) which adds up to 12. The $5 + (4 + 3)$ becomes $5 + 7$ (using the table to add $4 + 3$) which also adds up to 12.

Just For Practice

This law, which applies to addition and multiplication only, is generalized in the form $(a + b) + c = a + (b + c)$ or in the case of multiplication $a \times (b \times c) = (a \times b) \times c$.

This law also takes us beyond the limitations of the tables in another way. The tables do not cover situations like $48 \div 6$. Our number structure tells us that $48 \div 6 = 8$; therefore, the problem becomes $(40 \div 6) + 8$ which equals $6 + 8$ which simplifies to 14 which our number structure tells us is 49.

Of course the children are not required to go through all of this rigmarole all the time. They are required to work this way only until they understand the process and then they are shown the regular form. The regular form becomes meaningful and not simply a matter of ritual.

THE DISTRIBUTIVE Law utilizes the operation of addition and the operation of multiplication. Here is an example: $4 \times (5 + 6) = (4 \times 5) + (4 \times 6)$. This latter becomes $20 + 24$ which adds up to 44. This law is also useful in extending the number tables as in the case of 4×72 . Our number structure tells us that $72 \div 10 = 7$, so the problem becomes $4 \times (70 + 2)$ which the Distributive Law equates to $(4 \times 70) + (4 \times 2)$. This becomes $280 + 8$ or 288.

Here again the child is required to use this lengthy form only until he has mastered the concept. Then he is shown the shorter method.

Because these laws describe the properties and behavior of sets of numbers when used in performing certain operations, the operation and the set of numbers should be included in the title. Thus the correct titles for these laws would be: the Commutative Law for Addition of Integers, the Commutative Law for Multiplication of Integers, the Associative Law for Addition of Integers, etc. But where the operation is obvious and the set of numbers is clear, abbreviation may be permitted. As the child progresses in school and learns more sophisticated sets of numbers the titles contain the words "real numbers" instead of "integers". Note that these laws do not apply to the operations of subtraction and division.

Another law that is introduced early is the Closure Law. This law states that when the operation of addition or multiplication is performed on two numbers of a given set, that there is one and only one, answer and furthermore the answer must be a member of the same set. This mouthful of words means that if we add two integers, there is only one integer that is the correct sum.

BECAUSE THE Closure Law does not apply to the operations of subtraction and division the child, who knows only positive integers, now has a valid reason for his inability to find an answer for problems like $2 - 7$ or $7 \div 2$. There are, of course, answers but they are not positive integers, the only thing the child knows.

These laws now introduced to the child so early in life must stay with him all of his mathematical career. The laws plus some axioms developed from them, plus some definitions, form the framework on which all of mathematics is built.

In algebra the student knows that $xy = yx$ because of his early acquaintance with the Commutative Law. His early experience with the Distributive Law may prevent him from making a very common error: $4(x + 3) = 4x + 3$. He will use these laws in algebra, in trigonometry, in calculus, in fact in any future mathematics that he encounters.

Educators feel that by introducing these laws early they will remove some of the mystery from mathematics and cut down on the quantity of material that must be learned in advanced courses. I feel sure that we can all concur with this opinion.

World Church Council Elects An American

GENEVA (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of the U.S.A. was elected head of the World Council of Churches today.

The council's 100-member central committee elected the 59-year-old American its secretary-general to succeed Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft of the Netherlands.

Dr. Visser't Hooft has led the organization, one of the most influential in Christendom, since its creation 18 years ago. He is retiring.

The World Council of Churches is a group of 214 Protestant, Anglican, Orthodox and Old Catholic churches in more than 80 countries.

A graduate of Princeton University, Dr. Blake taught at Christian College in Lahore, Pakistan, before becoming pastor of the Pasadena, Calif., Presbyterian Church. He became the chief executive officer of the United Presbyterian Church in 1951.

Lake City Knights Plan Recognition Banquet Program

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — Lake City Council, Knights of Columbus 1865, will hold a grand knights' recognition banquet at St. Mary's Church hall Sunday at 6:30 p.m. Wives of members will be guests.

Judge F. J. Connolly, Shakopee, supreme director and past state deputy, will speak. Emery Zillgitt will be master of ceremonies.

Local members to be honored will be George Reitter, 49-year member, and Herbert Wagner, 48-year, both honorary life members; Sylvester Wagner, Benjamin Eickholt, John McKenzie Sr., M.F. Campion, John Steine, Ralph Adolph, Carl Palmer, Eugene McCahill and Richard Shea, all over 65 with 25 years of continuous membership, and Vincent P. Ryan, Fred Roth, Joe Reding, Victor Bouquet, Paul and William Kemp, George Wise, Robert and Leonard Simons, Vernon Budewitz, Harold Schreck, Engelbert Berkold, Roman Furner and Donald Majerus, 25-year members under 65.

Leon Rutz, LeRoy Sprick and William Kemp are past grand knights. Eugene Solheid, financial secretary, also will be recognized. Solheid and Rutz will present the awards, and Swen Swenson, Harold Schreck and LeRoy Sprick will welcome the guests, including pastors and state officials from various parts of the state.

William Kieffer is in charge of tickets for the banquet, which will be served by the women of St. Mary's Guild.

The City Charter Commission will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall.

Reports on city manager and commission forms of government will be presented by Duane Peterson, chairman of a committee assigned to the topic.

rud, Steven Oian, David Dolalie, Robert Brand, Philip Dammen, Clair Berge and Kenneth Jacobson; parish board of education, Elvin Paulson; Clifford Rustad, cemetery and grounds caretaker, Mrs. Herbert Westby and Mrs. Gynther Westby, church caretakers, and Mrs. I. R. Gronlid, organist.

Elected to attend the district convention at Augsburg College, Minneapolis, June 24-25 were: Marvel Sandness, delegate, and Adolph Dahl, alternate.

Delegates to the Good Shepherd Home Corporation, who were re-elected, are Norman Kopperud, Myron Larson and Evann Engbrethson.

The Dorcas Circle served lunch. A meeting of the Cemetery Association followed.

DEAR ABBY:

Romance Into House Plans

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a young widow with two children. Recently I had a home built and became very intimate with my builder while my home was under construction. He has what he claims is a "sick" wife, and says if I wait awhile he will leave her for me. After eight months of waiting, she still looks as healthy as I am. Do you think he is just leading me on? How much longer should I wait? WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Your builder worked a bit of romance into your house plan, but it wasn't meant to endure. The house is finished and so is the affair. You shouldn't need a set of blueprints to know that the builder didn't go with the house. Forget him.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 23 and an only child. She was raised to appreciate the finer things in life and never had to suffer any hardships. Last June, after graduating from a university, she married a young art professor. They moved to Tampa, where he took a position as a commercial artist. Last month they moved to Miami, where he is doing free lance work. Our daughter has written that now she is pregnant and they are living in a MOBILE HOME!

I am so worried about her. Do you think, in her condition, they should be living in a TRAILER like a couple of gypsies? I want to write and tell her she should come home until her husband can provide a proper home for her, but my husband says it would be meddling. I would like your opinion.

DEAR MOTHER: I think you have a smart husband. Don't assume that living in a "mobile home" is necessarily a hardship. Some modern mobile homes make a Park Avenue penthouse look like Tobacco Road. Leave your daughter alone, Mother, and keep yourself busy.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I ran into a friend of mine and I told her how beautiful I thought her daughter's wedding had been. She said, "Thank you, but we sure didn't come out very well on it."

Not knowing what she meant by that remark, I asked her. She then replied, "We put a lot more into her wedding than she got back in gifts."

What do you think of a person like that? SPEECHLESS

DEAR SPEECHLESS: Not much.

DEAR ABBY: What's the matter with women? They go to the trouble of putting their hair up in those big curlers, then they snarl it all up and spray it with glue. They take an hour painting their faces, and all for what? When their husbands pull them close for a little kiss or squeeze, they say, "Please, Harry, you'll muss my hair!" or, "Don't — you'll smear my lipstick or smudge my make-up." Isn't the idea behind looking pretty to make a woman more desirable, kissable and lovable? So why do they put out the bait if they don't want to catch the mouse? LOVE-STARVED

DEAR LOVE-STARVED: Those women aren't interested in the "catch" — they just want to see if the bait still works.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

New Secretary Assuming Duties At St. Martin's

Miss Jean Meier, 21, Fulda, Minn., will assume duties Monday as the new secretary at St. Martin's Lutheran Church.

Miss Meier, who is a graduate of St. John's College, Winfield, Kan., attended St. Paul's Lutheran School, Fulda Public High School, Concordia College, St. Paul; Valparaiso (Ind.) University, and St. John's College.

She completed religious courses in Biblical interpretation, Miss Meier's education, Biblical theology, history and literature of the Old and New Testaments, teaching religion, church at work, life and letters of St. Paul, Christian ethics, Christian sources and Christian traditions.

Her extra-curricular activities included: Choral Club, Chapel

Choir, religious activities committee, social and cultural activities committee and member of the yearbook staff.

Miss Meier, a former Sunday school teacher, has a musical background.

NEW MEETING PLACE

The Unitarian Universalist Fellowship has changed its meeting place from the Winona Art Center, 5th and Franklin streets, to Lucas Lodge, (Red Cross Building), corner of Huff and 5th streets.

Dr. M. H. Doner, chairman, stated that the move was made because a more central location was desired.

HOOTENANNY AT CHURCH

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — Young persons from the Church of the Crucifixion parish and the Methodist Youth Fellowship were guests to the Prince of Peace Lutheran Sunday for a hootenanny. Guests performers were "Just Us Three," a singing group from Logan High School, La Crosse; the "Folkways," a girls trio from Central, La Crosse, and "Mike and Lynn," La Crescent.

Northern Minnesota Enjoying a Boom

WINONANS WHO have traveled recently through Northern Minnesota have been impressed by the expressions of unbounded optimism expressed throughout the Duluth region over the impact of the revitalized taconite industry on the economy of that area.

The expansion now in progress in the taconite industry underscores the importance of sound, realistic planning and co-operation by industry, business, financial interests and government in stimulating economic growth to full potential. The transformation of Northern Minnesota's mining regions from doldrums to boom since the passage of the Taconite Amendment by the voters of Minnesota in 1964 has been of such magnitude that even the more hopeful forecasts of less than two years ago have turned out to be overly conservative.

MOST RECENT estimates indicate a taconite pellet production in Minnesota of between 50 and 58 million tons by 1975. In the Range country, which was despairing of its economic future so recently, this tonnage — together with some six to eight millions of natural ores — should provide annual full-time employment to some 15,000 persons by mining companies, another 700 in related railroad and power producing activities and 1,000 in plant construction. Total capital investment in new plants should reach $1.5 billion by 1975 and $2 billion by 1980. All appraisals indicate that the conservative goals as set in 1964 for the year 1980 should actually be achieved by 1975 or 1980.

IT ALL ADDS up to the probability that expanding production should be an almost continuous process in that region if the nation's economy continues to grow and if United States ore producers can keep ahead of their foreign competitors. An important factor in the new prosperity and bright future prospects for the mining area was noted by an official of the Ford Motor Co. who addressed a recent meeting of mining, metallurgical and petroleum engineers in Duluth. He cited government-business cooperation in solving economic problems that had beset the Range and observed that "passage of the constitutional amendment by a large majority of Minnesota voters reflects a growing awareness that the general welfare is advanced by a favorable climate for business enterprise."

Lincoln Liked to Tell Stories

THROUGHOUT HIS political career, Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday anniversary is Saturday, had the reputation for telling funny stories.

Ironically, his last joke was made on the last day of his life and unintentionally contained a prediction.

The President did not want to go to Ford's theater because he had already seen the comedy playing there, "Our American Cousin." He tried to avoid going but Mrs. Lincoln insisted.

"All right," the President said. "All right, Mary, I'll go. But if I don't go down in history as the martyr President, I miss my guess."

LINCOLN IS one of the most quoted and one of the most misquoted men of history.

There are many widely circulated but spurious quotations attributed to Lincoln and they persist even though students of Lincoln have exposed them.

Lincoln never did say: "You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift."

But he did say on March 21, 1864: "Prosperity is the fruit of labor — is desirable — is a positive good in the world. That some may be rich, shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise."

Lincoln didn't say: "You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong."

But in 1854 he did say: "We proposed to give all a chance; and we expected the weak to grow stronger; the ignorant wiser; and all better, and happier together." And in 1861 Lincoln said: "Capital has its rights which are as worthy of protection as any other rights."

ANOTHER quotation erroneously attributed to Lincoln: "You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

But Lincoln really said in 1854: "The legitimate object of government is to do for the people what needs to be done, but which they cannot, by individual effort, do at all, or do so well for themselves."

After he became President and the Civil War began, Lincoln was constantly criticized for telling funny stories. Only the day after the horrors of Fredericksburg, he insisted on reading Artemus Ward to Congressman Isaac N. Arnold.

ARNOLD EXPRESSED shock that the President could laugh when the whole land was bowed in sorrow. Arnold said later that at this point Lincoln cried out, with tears streaming down his face and his body quivering: "Mr. Arnold, if I could not get momentary respite from the crushing burden I am constantly carrying, my heart would break."

The whole country was aware of his sense of humor and Lincoln knew it.

What's Happened To Liberalism?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — What's happened to "liberalism" in America? The principle that an individual must be permitted freedom of speech, freedom of belief and freedom of association has been affirmed again and again by the Supreme Court of the United States and has been the basis for many a demonstration in public places. "Liberalism" has been a staunch champion of such individual rights.

But today, when a majority in both houses of Congress seeks to compel a person to join a union as the price of a job in America, there is hardly a voice of protest from the "liberal" side.

Nineteen states now forbid any compulsory unionization. The purpose of the bill before Congress is to nullify such laws and prohibit all the states of the union hereafter from passing any laws forbidding compulsory unionization.

PASSAGE OF THE proposed legislation by Congress has been temporarily blocked. This was done not by a majority but by a minority which has managed by means of filibustering tactics in the Senate to prolong the debate and prevent an actual vote that could enact the proposal into law. There were on Tuesday 51 senators in favor of forcing an end to the debate and 48 against. But since a two-thirds vote is required to cut off debate, there were 15 less votes than such a majority. Nearly all the "liberals" voted to impose "gag" rule.

Why have not the "liberals" spoken out on the other side of this issue? There have been a few "liberal" newspapers which have taken up the cudgels in behalf of freedom of association and the right of an individual to work where he pleases without compulsion from any organization, but scarcely any of the "liberal" group in Congress is to be found upholding this freedom to work. Expediency may be the reason why many of the "liberals" are going along with the labor-union strategy, for on various occasions "liberal" causes have been supported by labor unions.

President Johnson himself was vehemently opposed to compulsory unionization when he was a senator, but he has changed. Today he feels the pressure of labor-unions whose political support he has been receiving and apparently does not now wish to lose. But the consensus in Washington is that his heart isn't in the fight and that he knows compulsory unionization is wrong.

THE CONTROVERSY waged in Congress has had some interesting side effects. Many people throughout the country have learned for the first time that compulsory unionization is being seriously considered. They are beginning to realize that if the law passes, workers must join a union or lose their jobs whenever a majority of the employees in a factory and the employer privately agree to make such an arrangement. The labor unions, of course, insist upon an all-union shop because they believe it will increase financial support through membership dues.

Navy Footing Costs For Family Reunions

By JACK ANDERSON

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson's column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — Though the Navy and Air Force are bitter rivals in the air, Navy Capt. Harold Lang and Air Force Col. B. E. Glawe demonstrated a remarkable spirit of interservice cooperation last month in flying their sons home for a holiday.

The two boys, Bill Lang and Mike Glawe, are roommates at the New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, N. M. They arranged to travel together as far as Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., where Mike's father is chief of staff of the air university. Then Bill would continue down to Mayport, Fla., where the aircraft carrier Saratoga is docked. His father is the skipper.

Col. Glawe arranged for the two boys to be picked up by an Air Force plane at Walker Air Force Base outside Roswell. But the weather was so bad that the plane couldn't land. The boys caught a bus as far as Dallas, Tex., then Bill got on the phone to his father. Capt. Lang obligingly flew to Dallas in a six-passenger Navy plane to pick them up. On the way back, he dropped off Mike at Maxwell.

FOR THE return trip, Capt. Lang flew Bill to Maxwell, where Col. Glawe was supposed to slip both boys aboard an Air Force plane for the rest of the journey. But unhappily, Glawe's superiors got wind of the arrangements and warned him that regulations prohibited free military transportation for the boys.

Again, Capt. Lang came to the rescue and volunteered to fly the boys all the way to Roswell in his Navy plane. The captain explained to this column that he took advantage of the trip for an instrument check. Col. Glawe said he had thought the boys, being cadets, were entitled to military transportation. When he learned otherwise, he canceled the arrangements.

THE WHITE House has disclosed that President Johnson's older daughter Lynda earned straight A's and his younger daughter

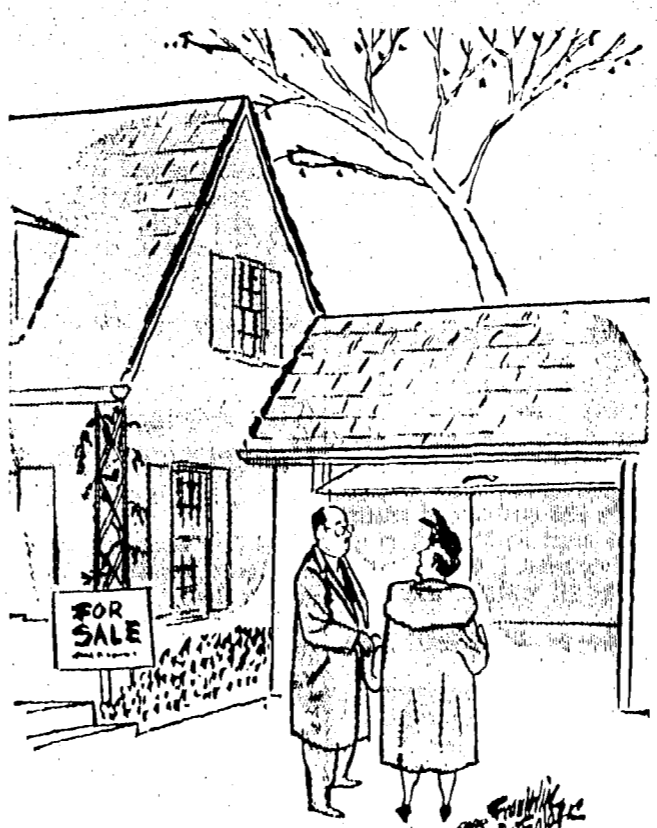

Luci got all B's during their first semester at the University of Texas and Georgetown University, respectively. What the White House didn't mention was that Luci quietly dropped a chemistry course after drawing two D's and an F. . . . President Johnson has consulted closely with Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the cautious Senate Democratic leader, on the Viet Nam war. Just as he had persuaded Mansfield of his earnestness, however, word got back to the senator that Johnson had grumped to visitors: "Mike is a cross between Jeanette Rankin (A Montana pacifist) and Burton Wheeler (a Montana isolationist), and I don't need advice from either one of them."

The President's habit of making uncomplimentary cracks behind the backs of senators and Cabinet officers has undermined his effectiveness. While the Soviet moonship was making the first soft landing on the moon's surface, an American spacecraft achieved a three-legged simulated moon landing at Holloman Air Force Base, N. M. It was the second successful test of American moonlanding techniques. . . .

Lincoln Rockwell, commander of the American Nazi party, has sent a secret memo to his disciples, boasting that the Internal Revenue raid on his headquarters won't put him out of business. His propaganda is "now being reprinted in a secret location," he wrote. "Please treat this information with the utmost confidence, but you can be sure that we will soon hit again with full force." . . . House GOP Leader Gerald Ford has quietly urged fellow Republican to stay out of the Viet Nam debate. He has pleaded that it will make better politics to let the Democrats argue among themselves. This will leave the Republicans free to criticize whatever course is taken and to capitalize on Democratic dissension.

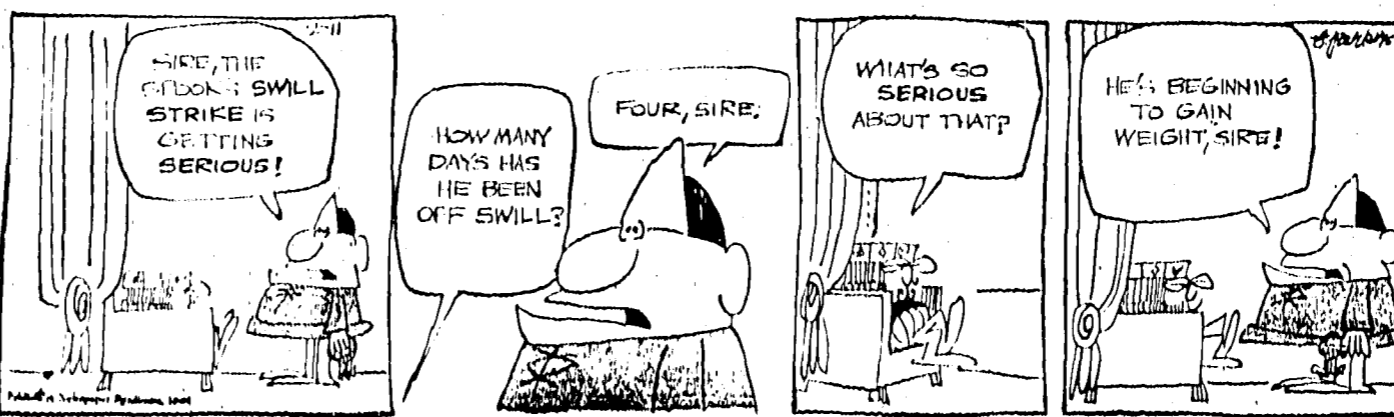

INTELLIGENCE reports warn that the Viet Cong are massing forces for a full-scale attack on the Marine base at Da Nang, 100 miles south of the North Viet Nam border. The guerrillas reportedly are assembling heavy artillery, which they lugged through the jungle in pieces. The attack may be launched within the next 60 days. . . .

Keep Heart Pains From Intensifying

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 62 and have had chest pains since last summer. In the hospital they were diagnosed as angina pectoris.

Is there a chance they won't clear up? My doctor keeps saying to take it easy, but after this long, I wonder. When I sit in a rocking chair, everything is fine, but with the least exertion I have the pains. I. J. H.

Generally speaking — although there are exceptions — angina pectoris is something a person has to "learn to live with."

While there are different degrees, ordinarily angina — the pain, that is — indicates that the heart is being called upon to work harder than it is able to do without strain. The cramping pain is Nature's way of saying, "Ease up!"

IN SHORT, you have to realize that your heart will accept only so much demand upon it before it rebels. That's why you don't have pain while sitting quietly. Your heart doesn't have to do much work.

Gradually increasing the amount of exercise — as walking — improves the problem so that the need for medication decreases and the tolerance of the heart muscle increases. This can be accomplished by taking a nitroglycerin tablet before you embark on the walk. When and if pain occurs — stop and rest.

Hence the solution boils down to learning exactly how much you can do without causing the pain, and being careful to stop before that happens. In addition, certain drugs, of which nitroglycerin is the best known, relieve attacks of pain temporarily, and I have no doubt that your doctor has explained this to you. (These drugs are not habit-forming, and can be taken whenever needed.)

PEOPLE WITH ailing hearts and angina pectoris often get along quite well for years, provided they understand the problem and take the trouble to avoid overtaxing their hearts.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read that a woman can undergo an operation after her tubes have been tied, so she can have a baby. Plastic tubing is inserted where the tubes were tied. If this is true, where can I get all the necessary information about it? — MRS. M. R.

It's true that such an operation can be performed. Sometimes it succeeds; sometimes it doesn't.

The uncertainty of success explains why I so repeatedly advise women not to have the tubes tied (or in the case of men, not to have the sperm duct tied) unless they are sure beyond any doubt that they should not have any more children. Many people are "sure," but later change their minds. You did, didn't you, Mrs. M. R.?

As for "information about it," if you want to have the restorative operation, and hope that it will succeed, go to your regular physician and have him refer you to a gynecologist.

In some communities there may not be surgeons with the skill and training to perform this operation, but you can always go to a medical center or to one of the cities to have it done. Just don't expect a guarantee that it will succeed. Often it does, but sometimes it doesn't.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it all right for diabetics to drink wine, and if so, what is the best kind? — MRS. S. J.

No, it's not all right for diabetics to drink wine, and the only "best kind" is none at all.

Dear Dr. Molner: I

She Likes New Jones Column

To the Editor:

Congratulations to the Winona Daily News on having added the new editorial feature by Jenkins Lloyd Jones!

Mr. Jones is, in my opinion, one of the most outstanding writers of the day. For years I have read and enjoyed his editorials but I had to buy another newspaper to do this!

I'm sure many of your readers will do as I have done — clip and save some of these fine editorials for future reference, background material for speeches, etc.

Again, thank you for giving us this excellent feature.

Views Differ From Editorial

To the Editor:

Publisher White, in his editorial "It's Time To Call A Spade a Spade," is confusing us.

He writes: "We are in Viet Nam — to see it that the Far East will not Ever go Communist." (his emphasis) That's a club.

He writes: "We have given a thorough examination to whether Any Sort of negotiation with North Viet Nam was possible. . . ." (my emphasis) That's a heart.

I would suggest to Mr. White that the first is impossible, the second is untrue and the two are not compatible although Washington continues trying to play them at the same time. Senators Fulbright and Morse have shown, in their attempt to force a spade bid, that at least they can distinguish us.

Dale W. Papenfuss
Rt. 3, Winona, Minn.

have fibroid tumors of the uterus which have caused no trouble. However in the back of my mind I seem to recall reading that birth control pills would cause such fibroids to enlarge? — MRS. L.K.

I think your memory is playing tricks on you, I have seen no report of this being a complication of the pills.

NOTE TO MRS. E.S.: What you forget is this: Not all cases of shingles are equal intensity, any more so than are all colds, cases of pneumonia, heart attacks, or sprained ankles. Shingles is always painful, but in varying degrees.

Dear Dr. Molner: My three-year-old son has a mild nose bleed on occasion, not much more than a trickle, but I wonder if you think it indicates serious trouble. It has occurred about three or four times in a year and a half, when he is asleep. — MRS. M.

Tell your pediatrician the next time the youngster has a checkup. It could be a fragile capillary (small blood vessel) or a small ulcer in the nose. But don't worry about it and don't do anything else unless the nosebleeds increase or some other sign appears. He may hump or pick his nose when he sleeps.

Rule Suicide
In Witoka
Man's Death

WITOKA, Minn. — The shooting death sometime Thursday night of Adelbert (Dell) O'Brien, 72, rural Witoka, was ruled a suicide today by Dr. R. B. Tweedy, coroner, according to Sheriff George L. Fort.

Mr. O'Brien's body was discovered today about 8 a.m. by a man who lives in a trailer home on the O'Brien farm about a mile north of Witoka.

John Sloan told the sheriff that he noticed Mr. O'Brien, ordinarily an early riser, had not been out of the house today by about 8 a.m.

Sloan said that he rapped at the door of Mr. O'Brien's home, then pounded on it and called out when he got no response. Finally entering the small three-room cottage, Sloan found Mr. O'Brien's dead body in a bedroom. He had put a shotgun to his temple and pulled the trigger.

Mr. O'Brien was born Aug. 20, 1893, the son of Thomas and Elizabeth (Caine) O'Brien, in Wilson Township. He was a veteran of the armed forces in World War I, and he lived all his life in the area where he farmed and hired out his labor. Mr. O'Brien had not worked his own farm for many years. He never married. He was a member of the Money Creek, Minn., Masonic Lodge.

Survivors: One brother, William, Winona; and five sisters, Mrs. Ada Smith, Mrs. Walter (Helen) Hoppe and Mrs. Raymond (Esther) Lingenfelter, all of Winona, and Mrs. Mary Holmes, Minneapolis, and Mrs. Arthur (Hazel) Lafka, Witoka.

Two brothers, Alfred and Lester, have died.

Funeral arrangements are being made by Breitlow Funeral Home.

THE OLD RECIPE went like this: Melbo claimed that he had, in effect, loaned money to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rinn, Lewiston Rt. 1, and Ralph Shank, St. Charles Rt. 2, to cover the sale to them of water softeners supplied by his company but sold by a supposedly independent dealer.

The Rinn and Shank alleged that the salesman had made fraudulent representations concerning the softeners; that Melbo claimed that he, as lender, not salesman, could not be held liable for any such alleged misrepresentations.

However, as a lender, Melbo had charged 8 percent interest, an illegal rate in Minnesota. Judge Hatfield directed a verdict in favor of the farmers because the notes were usurious by Melbo's own testimony and, therefore, uncollectable.

IN HIS RULING filed today, Judge Hatfield notes that Melbo attempted to claim immediately after the directed verdict that he had in fact been the salesman through his agent, the "independent" dealer. (There is no limit on the interest which can be charged for a time sale.)

This would not do, the judge found.

"It is apparent that at the KELLOGG, Minn. (Special) — A 49-year-old Kellogg service station operator is in critical condition at Veterans Hospital, Minneapolis, with first, second and third degree burns from the waist down received in a fire this morning.

Ray Hepokoski was at the station filling his pumps from the supply tank that stood right beside the station when the fire started. Men eating in the Sherwood Cafe at corner from the station saw the flames and spread the alarm.

His clothes were burned off before firemen could reach him. Flesh hung from his burned hands. Firemen believe they were burned while he quickly closed the supply tank to cut off the flow of gasoline.

SOME GAS burned, but there was no explosion. Kellogg volunteer firemen kept the supply tank, standing above ground, hosed down so it wouldn't explode.

Black smoke billowed across Highway 61 and traffic was rerouted a block east of the flames, which reduced the stucco building, 30 by 20 feet, to a blackened empty shell.

Firemen said they couldn't pinpoint the cause of the flames, which started shortly before the alarm was sounded at 6:45 a.m. Hepokoski was standing by the gas pumps when the men in the cafe saw he was aflame.

NOTHING WAS saved from the building, which included a service stall and confectionery in addition to his records, cash register, a tractor for clearing snow, and other items.

Firemen, who stayed on the scene 1 1/2 hours, also saved two nearby residences from igniting — one at the rear of the station and the other on one side.

Hepokoski was rushed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Wabasha, and moved from there to Minneapolis following first aid, his wife accompanying him in the ambulance.

Gerald Soback, fire chief, said it was fortunate there was no wind at the time. Flames rose high in the air. Wabasha volunteers were called to assist.

Fire Damages Barn
In Lewiston Area

LEWISTON, Minn. (Special) — Fire damaged the barn on the Howard Every farm four miles south of Lewiston this morning.

Every saw smoke coming from the structure about 7:30 a.m., ran to the barn and found it so full of smoke he couldn't get inside.

Every has beef cattle, who were in pasture. Calves kept in the barn were saved. Lewiston fire department, arriving at 7:45, put a hole in the roof to play water on the hay. The flames were confined to the contents of the barn. Extra water was brought to the scene.

Cause of the fire is not known, but Mrs. Every said it may have started from heat tapes wrapped around pipes to keep them from freezing.

COURT CAN'T FREE HIM

Trapper Stumbles
Into Own Snare

A trapper stumbled into his own snare, and it is no business of the court to free him, Judge Arnold Hatfield ruled today.

The judge denied a motion for new trial in a suit to force collection of notes on two water softeners sold to a pair of Winona County farmers. The case was tried late last fall, and Judge Hatfield directed a verdict in favor of the farmers at that time.

"The plaintiff (Robert N. Melbo, La Crosse, doing business as Lindsay Perfectomatic Soft Water Service) has been caught in a web of duplicity of his own making," Judge Hatfield tartly noted in a memorandum accompanying the denial.

Judge Hatfield found no reason in the motion for new trial to alter his judgment, expressed at the time of the trial, that Melbo had cooked his own goose by his testimony at the trial and could not now ask the court to provide a new goose—the trial—to be cooked according to a new recipe.

THE OLD RECIPE went like this: Melbo claimed that he had, in effect, loaned money to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rinn, Lewiston Rt. 1, and Ralph Shank, St. Charles Rt. 2, to cover the sale to them of water softeners supplied by his company but sold by a supposedly independent dealer.

The Rinn and Shank alleged that the salesman had made fraudulent representations concerning the softeners; that Melbo claimed that he, as lender, not salesman, could not be held liable for any such alleged misrepresentations.

However, as a lender, Melbo had charged 8 percent interest, an illegal rate in Minnesota. Judge Hatfield directed a verdict in favor of the farmers because the notes were usurious by Melbo's own testimony and, therefore, uncollectable.

IN HIS RULING filed today, Judge Hatfield notes that Melbo attempted to claim immediately after the directed verdict that he had in fact been the salesman through his agent, the "independent" dealer. (There is no limit on the interest which can be charged for a time sale.)

This would not do, the judge found.

Unit Plans
Analysis of
City Program

Neighborhood analyses in relation to the city's workable program recertification will be investigated by a committee of three, the City Planning Commission decided Thursday night.

The commission got the job of finding a way to complete the analyses by way of a letter from the City Council. The survey must be started and show progress before the workable program can be recertified, according to the letter of transmittal by City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. The city can receive no further federal assistance for urban renewal or public housing without such recertification.

James Schain, commission chairman, appointed Howard Keller, Leo Murphy Jr. and himself to the committee.

There are two alternatives, Schain said. One is to hire a full-time city planner; the other is to have the analyses completed by a consulting firm specializing in such work.

Robertson had recommended the commission consider hiring Nason, Law, Wehrman & Knight, planning consultant firm, for the project.

The committee will try to secure an estimate of cost from the planning firm and report at an upcoming meeting.

A previous attempt by the commission to hire a city planning coordinator failed when the candidate took a similar position in Iowa.

BLAIR VISITOR

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Mrs. T. O. Thostenson, Minneapolis, is at the home of her son-in-law, F. T. McAllister and family for a visit. She left here last fall following the death of her daughter, Mrs. McAllister, and fractured a hip and arm in a fall while visiting another daughter in Minneapolis at Thanksgiving. She gets about in a wheelchair and on crutches. She will return to Minneapolis by March 10 to see her doctor.

HEART FUND

DURAND, Wis. (Special) —

Mrs. Charles Gavin is in charge of the Heart Fund campaign. Mrs. Karl Goethel, Mrs. Robert Heike, Mrs. Ed Fisher and Mrs. Roderick Stenzel are her assistants. Solicitors will call at residences. Attorney James Kaemer will conduct the drive in the business area.

NO MALICE

No American who ever lived had a greater grasp of the true meaning of Freedom than Abe Lincoln, the kindly and rugged-featured man who described this nation as having been "conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

But Abraham Lincoln knew that Liberty could not be won and maintained by men alone.
He acknowledged Divine power. The Great Emancipator made that clear in all his classic utterances. The closing lines of the Gettysburg Address is our best example:
"... that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom... and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."
... that is Americanism.

Cold Doesn't Bother Him

Central Lutheran Welcomes Assistant

By VI BENICKE
Daily News Church Editor

A minister must get a deep feeling of inner satisfaction when he does his best to teach God's word to members of a church congregation.

But how about a minister who serves four rural congregations at the same time. Yes, I said four.

The Rev. Richard T. Day, 28, did just that for 2½ years in Torquay, Saskatchewan, Canada.

"Warmest I've been since November," said Rev. Day soon after he arrived here.

HE WILL BE installed Sunday as assistant pastor at the 10:15 a.m. worship service at Central Lutheran Church. The Rev. G. H. Huggenvik, pastor, who is chairman of the Root River Conference, of which the church is a member, will conduct the installation service.

A reception will follow in Fellowship Hall to welcome Rev. Day and his wife, Peggy.

When Rev. Day and his wife arrived in Torquay in July 1963, two of the congregations were in the process of merging. Rev. Day completed the merger by December of that year. The other three congregations were about 10 miles apart. On a Sunday morning, total driving was about 30 miles.

The roads were all gravel, and with the exception of the mud in the spring and blizzards in the winter, they were quite passable, said Rev. Day. One event during Lent, Rev. Day drove 20 miles round trip in a blizzard to preach a sermon at one of the churches. Eight people attended the service out of a total of 35.

ANOTHER of his congregations had 250 parishioners. The other two had about 80 each. The larger congregation recently completed a $50,000 educational addition.

One winter afternoon he was driving to an annual meeting when his automobile got stuck in the snow drifts. It took him about 1½ hours to shovel his

Church Council Pledges Increase

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—At the annual meeting of the American Lutheran Church Council, it was reported that pledges for 1966 indicate an increase of $3,239 over 1965.

Albert Berg, treasurer, reported that $27,337 had been received in 1965 for current congregational operation. The building committee reported that an additional $17,892.02 had been received for the building program.

Paul Halvorsen and John Wiemer were elected to the council. Rollin Posselt was re-elected secretary. La Verne Doenier, John Forry, Ervin Hohnmann Sr. and Wilmer Putz were elected to the office of financial secretary.

George Glanzer, council president, presided.

way out in the 20-below temperature.

"But really, this was warm and I didn't mind it too much because the sun was out and there was no wind," said Rev. Day.

Winters are cold, Rev. Day said, but it is a drier cold so people hardly notice it. One winter the temperature did not rise above zero for two solid months.

One day, according to the wind chill factor, (the wind chill is the temperature and wind velocity combined), the temperature read 95 below. When it is that cold, people do not do anything. They just hope that the power lasts, the pastor said.

SUMMERS are cool and beautiful. The country is flat and on a clear night, one can see a town 30 miles away. The people there basically have Norwegian backgrounds, many of them having immigrated from Minnesota in the early 1900s, he said.

When the Days loaded the moving van to return to the United States on Jan. 28, the temperature was 33 below. The coldest temperature they remember there was 45 below.

Rev. Day was born in Washington, D.C., on July 8, 1937; was graduated from Central High School, Madison, Wis.; entered St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., in 1955, graduated in 1959; enrolled in Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul in 1959, graduated in 1963 and was ordained at Bethel Lutheran Church, Madison, June 1963. He then was called to serve the congregations in southern Saskatchewan.

In 1961, he married the former Margaret Ann Johnson of Northfield. His original plans had been to enter conservation work, until his second year of college when he felt inclined to consider the call to the holy ministry. His decision was not final until his last year of college.

Rev. Day's call here was specifically to work with the youth of Central Lutheran Church. He also will help with the Christian education of his congregation and with the Lutheran Student Association at Winona State College.

A blessed event will occur in May at the Day residence, 257 W. Broadway.

'Thou Shalt Not Covet'

(Editor's Note: The following is an excerpt from a sermon delivered Sunday at Central Methodist Church by Dr. E. Clayton Burgess, senior pastor.)

"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maid-servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbor's."

The last of the Ten Commandments, in some ways, ought to have been the first, because it probes so deep that it goes to the heart of all our living and all our experiences.

One of the members of the church this last week or two said to me:

"You know, when you started this series on the Ten Commandments, I wondered why in the world you were preaching on the Ten Commandments, because these things never happen in Winona."

Oh ya! This week a 17-year-old boy takes his life after he had given an engagement ring to his sweetheart; one of the fine young women of our church is charged with embezzlement.

We say these things don't happen in Winona. Let's not fool ourselves. God spoke these truths many, many years ago. They weren't only Commandments; they were basic truths. He put truth in chemistry. He put truth in physics. He put truth in astronomy, and truth in biology. He put truth in all areas of His creation. He also built truth into human relationships.

And we do not repeal the laws of chemistry or physics. All we do is unlearn them, discover them, become aware of them and use them. We do the same in the realm of human relationship. We become aware of these truths that are not up for adoption or rejection or referendum. They are basic truths of human living. They know no geography, they know no type, no sex, no age, they are not dependent upon one's literacy or illiteracy, and they are not dependent upon wealth or poverty. These are all incidental or truths that are basic.

SO THESE truths that we have been talking about these recent weeks are basic truths that God placed in life. He expects us to know these truths and know how to operate with in these truths that we might find the kind of life that He expects us to have and wants us to have within these truths.

So now we come to the last one. The Ten Commandments remind us that the inner life of man is where our destiny is determined. Evil has its beginning, but not in an act. Evil has its beginning in the hearts and minds. The measure of a man is not found in the place to which he rises among his fellow man, or the amount of things he accumulates, or the numbers of degrees that he has behind him.

The measure of a man, God has said, is found in his inner attitudes. These other things follow. They are not the causative forces.

In the 7th Chapter of Mark, beginning with the 21st verse Jesus said:

"For from within, out of the heart of man, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murder, thefts, covetousness; all these evil things come from within and defile the man."

THIS IS WHY, then, the 10th Commandment is one of the hardest to observe. It is so completely inward. Covetousness knows no barriers of age or sex or class, nation or race. It is a human quality.

Covetousness means to long for, to desire, to lust after, to crave something that belongs to someone else that is not yours. It does not mean that we are not to have any ambitions, this is something different. We are to keep selfish greed from dominating our lives. We are not to seek more and more of this world's goods at the expense of someone else.

To desire, possess and enjoy what is another's is the same evil desire, whether it is his wife, his money, his position, or his reputation. Covetousness is not limited to money. It may be directed toward beauty, popularity, success or position in life. It may include social and political prestige. It even gets into church in the form of pride and jealousies and envy.

IT IS covetousness that creates Billie Sol Estes and Bobby Baker. It is covetousness that leads business executives of large corporations into price fixing. That didn't escape Winona either. Covetousness leads to status becoming a god. It is the kind of a thing that makes the seeking of higher and higher salaries in the same category as trying to get better and better pay raises.

The Bible is full of illustrations of evil that are caused by covetousness. The great king of Israel, who had servants and wealth and palace, about everything that a man could have, wife and concubines and what have you, anything that David wanted he could have, but another man's wife.

And he looked out of his palace one day, on a neighboring house, and he saw a married woman, a beautiful woman, bathing and he lusted after her. In order to possess her, he arranged to have her husband killed and her husband was the head of his army.

IN ORDER to get a position in the new kingdom, Judas sold his master for 30 pieces of silver. Behind Judas was that inner attitude of covetousness. You read in the 5th Chapter of Acts that the early Christians tried to have everything in common. It was the first type of Christian Communism, not Marxism Communism. Everybody was to bring everything they had and put it into a common living. Then everyone was to have all they needed. But there were two that didn't bring anything. They gave just a little bit because they wanted to selfishly keep something for themselves. But they didn't hide it from the apostle. And they died because covetousness led to untruthfulness.

What happens to a person who covets? First, covetousness blinds us to the finer things of life. What are the finer things? They are the things that can't be purchased with money.

Peace of mind, inner joy and happiness, personality and sound, wholesome character. These are the things that you cannot get by buying. They are the things that are lost by covetousness that makes it impossible to secure them. Let me illustrate:

IN 1923 THERE was a meeting in Chicago of a group of seven powerful business, industrial and economic giants of the United States.

What happened to them? Charles Schwab and Arthur Cattan died penniless. Richard Whitney spent years of his life in the penitentiary. Albert Fall spent years of his life in prison and was released, only so that he could die at home. Jesse Livermore, Leon Fraser and Ivan Krueger committed suicide.

A newspaper writer, in writing about this meeting and what happened to these men, put it this way:

"All of these men learned how to make money, but not one of them had learned how to live."

Secondly, covetousness brings discontentment with life. Years ago, Joshua Leppman wrote a popular book that was a best seller for a long time called "Peace of Mind." I imagine many of you have read it. In this, he pointed out that nothing destroys peace of mind as quickly as covetousness. This commandment is to remind us that we should be contented. Not the kind of contentment that means the loss of ambition, because there is an ambition of the right kind. Not the kind of contentment that leads to laziness, but the kind of contentment that keeps us from being consumed by a grasping, greedy spirit. So much of the spirit of our age fosters this greedy, grasping, selfish attitude that it steals the sense of peace of mind and joy from our hearts.

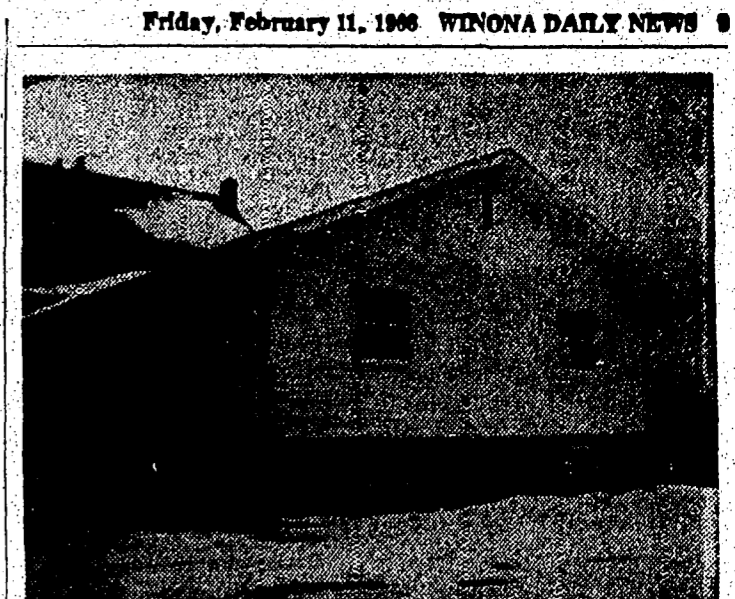

WE NEVER heard of psychiatrists 35 years ago, and yet there are people today by the literal thousands and tens of thousands that will not make a decision until they talk to a psychiatrist.

The whole emergence of this field of psychiatry and psychoanalysis and psychological care is grown out of the present cultural pattern that stimulates covetousness on the parts of the average person, the kind of covetousness that makes us unhappy with what we have and want something that somebody else has.

Somebody put it this way — the trouble with the average American today is not keeping up with the Jones', but keeping up where the Jones' think the neighbors think he ought to be.

In the third place, this leads to all kinds of wrong doing. Theft and robbery, rape and adultery and gossip are acts stemmed within a person. They are from a dissatisfaction that has been caused by coveting something or someone that belongs to someone else. The motivation behind John Wilkes Booth's murder of President Lincoln was a great jealousy of his brother. The brother of John Wilkes Booth, Edwin Booth, was the greatest actor of the 19th Century. John Wilkes Booth was dissatisfied because he could not have praise and glory like his brother. In an effort to try and get honor and prestige for himself, he murdered President Lincoln. This is history, covetousness.

In the 4th place, covetousness pushes God out of our lives. How? By putting another, that is, putting a false God in the place of the true God, the God of grasp and desire of

Methodist Men

"Witness to What?" was the theme of the 11th annual state conference for Minnesota Methodist Men at Richfield High School, Minneapolis. Representatives of Central Methodist and McKinley Methodist churches, who joined the more than 600 delegates in attendance, included: Arthur Hill, Robert Winters Jr., Grant Burleigh, Dr. E. Clayton Burgess, Donald Dornas, Thomas Raine, Vernon Smelser, Tom Manko, Dick Alf, John Hughes, Verdi Elles, David De Lano, Leon Minard, Tom Mason, Archie Lackore Darryl and David Smelser and Wilbur Polachek, all of Central Methodist, and Ervin Laufenburger, Earl Laufenberger and Louis Schoening, all of McKinley Methodist.

what someone has. But what a man wants he puts first and he can't have two Gods ruling his life. This Jesus said.

YOU CAN'T serve God and mammon — two Gods.

"Whatever thy heart clings to and relies on, that is properly thy God," said Martin Luther.

Said a church member to an every-member-canvas visitor: "We can't give. We don't have enough for ourselves."

This is part of the problem of stewardship. The grasping heart is never thankful. Greed robs us of love of neighbor and destroys the last vestiges of kindness.

How do we overcome it? Especially when so much of our culture encourages us to be greedy and get things other people have that we don't. The power of greed and lust can be overcome only by a greater power — the power of God. We need to be converted from greed to love. We can't do this. This comes only by yielding our life to God.

"Love Thy Neighbor with all thy heart."

Final judgment will be not on what we have, but what we are. We need to see ourselves in the role of a servant. We are not here to be served, but to do the will of God. Everything we have we have received from the hands of a loving God. We are desperately dependent people.

Our role in life is to do all the good we can, in all the ways we can, to all the people we can, at all the times we can.

And do it with the power of Christ within us.

Burr Oak Church To Dedicate Educational Unit

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — On Sunday, the Burr Oak Lutheran Church will dedicate a new eight-room educational building.

The dedication sermon will be given during the morning worship service by Dr. Hermann W. Siefkes, president of the Iowa District of the American Lutheran church, Mason City. The Rev. Allen Hermeier is pastor.

A potluck dinner will be served at noon. An open house will follow from 2 to 5 p.m. The frame building, a 34-by-32-foot, two-story structure, was built by the Foltz Construction of Hesper, Iowa.

Rev. Hermeier Iowa. It has seven rooms, to be used for Sunday school, and a pastor's study. There are wood panel walls, a tile floor and fluorescent lighting. Masonry work was done by the Gjere Construction, Mabel.

Interior decorating was by Melvin Mathison, Mabel, and the electrical work, including electric heating, was by Bob's Electric, Cresco, Iowa. Plans were drawn by the Prosper Lumber Co., which also furnished materials.

Total cost was under $15,000. The unit is the culmination of many years effort on the part of the congregation, which is one of the youngest Lutheran congregations in the area, having been organized in 1928. It is a preponderantly rural congregation of 332 baptized members. During the past 12 years, the congregation has doubled in size its church building, completely remodeled and improved its basement fellowship hall, and now the new educational unit. During this same period, membership has doubled.

In January 1965 the congregation voted to study its educational needs. The following July it decided to build and elected a five-man building committee composed of Albert Lovstuen, chairman, Maynard Newhouse, Dean Smith, Norman Koester and Hubert Hegvedt. They moved ahead and completed the building in six months.

Herbert Hundorf, Karen Schroeder Exchange Vows

DAKOTA, Minn. (Special) — A wedding was solemnized Sunday afternoon in Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, Lansing, Iowa, uniting Miss Karen Rae Schroeder and Herbert Hundorf Jr. The Rev. R. W. Mathias officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schroeder, Dakota, and the groom, the son of Herbert E. Hundorf, St. Charles, and the late Mrs. Hundorf.

Attendants were the groom's sister, Mrs. Margaret Spittstoesser, St. Charles, as matron of honor, and the bride's sister, Miss Kay Schroeder, bridesmaid. Arlo Spittstoesser, St. Charles, was best man and Harlan Larson, Lamolite, groomsmen.

The bride wore a light-gold formal gown, styled with a bell-shaped skirt, rounded neckline, empire waist and short cap sleeves. A pearl-trimmed head-dress of nylon held her veil. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

Her attendants wore gowns of turquoise designed similar to the bride's. Their short matching veils were held by nylon head-dresses. Their pink carnation corsages had matching ribbons.

A dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents for members of the wedding party.

The newlyweds will live in Dakota.

Mrs. Hundorf is a graduate of Winona Senior High School. Her husband attended St. Charles High School and later served with the Navy for four years. He is employed at the Fibertec Corporation, Winona.

Mrs. Stanley J. Pettersen Tells Auxiliary About Trip

The highlight of the semi-annual meeting of the Catharine Allison Hospital Library Auxiliary Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Stanley J. Pettersen, was a talk by Mrs. Pettersen on her recent trip to Japan and other interesting places in the Orient.

MRS. PETTERSEN displayed some of the exquisite art pieces acquired on the journey, including a lovely screen, done in the Oriental manner.

Thirty-five auxiliary members attended the pleasant morning coffee and heard reports of the last six months' activities.

New members were welcomed and the women signed up to serve as volunteers to bring the library cart to patients' rooms at Community Memorial Hospital for the next six months. It was pointed out that new members are welcome to join the group and aid in the library work.

The free library service is extended three times a week throughout the year. Donations of suitable books, both used and new, for adults and children, are always welcome. Also needed are magazines in good condition.

Announcement was made of a new service to patients. The use of a record player is offered to any patient wishing to listen to his own records or the library's collection of light music or spoken words.

"We hope that patients will avail themselves of this new service by the auxiliary. We hope to add to the patients' comfort and happiness during a stay in the hospital," a member of the auxiliary said.

The Catharine Allison Library is believed to be the only independent hospital library in Minnesota. Other hospitals have libraries which are supplied through the public libraries in their cities. Catharine Allison Hospital Library is maintained only from gifts of books, magazines and money.

Officers of the volunteer group are Mrs. William Laurie, president; Mrs. Jack Andersen, vice president; Mrs. M. E. Fish, secretary; Mrs. Charlotte Harkenrider, treasurer.

Mrs. Donald W. Gray is librarian.

Flower Arranging Program Featured at Alumnae Meeting

"A most enjoyable and fun" program was presented by Mrs. C. A. Rohrer, said a member of the Winona Teresian Chapter about the program feature of the chapter's Thursday evening meeting. The group met at the home of Miss Margaret Stevenson.

MRS. Rohrer, a member of the Winona Rose Society and the Winona Flower and Garden Club, talked on the art of flower arranging and gave a demonstration.

She told her listeners to have courage and imagination in arranging flowers and to use fundamental rules of art, adapted to the individual's taste and pleasure.

"One must consider the place where the arrangement is going to be seen," Mrs. Rohrer said. "Beauty, harmony and simplicity of expression, the factors which are important in any art form, also apply to flower arranging."

Mrs. Rohrer demonstrated the various mechanical devices used in arranging and added tips she has gained from experience with the art.

MRS. PHILIP Feiten presided during the business meeting when announcements were made.

The annual College of Saint Teresa and St. Mary's College alumni dinner and play evening will be March 7 in Lourdes dining hall at CST, preceding the presentation of the play, "The King and I." All alumni are expected to attend; reservations can be made through the alumni office.

The last meeting of the year will be a Communion breakfast April 16 at CST. Mass will be offered at 8 a.m., with the breakfast to follow in the Tea House on campus.

Mrs. Karl Conrad Jr., chairman of the St. Anna Hospice party announced its date as April 23.

Mrs. Basil Leggin and Mrs. Maurice Schuh won special prizes. Assisting hostesses were Miss Margaret Driscoll and the Mmes. Everett Kohner, Gerald and Charles Meier.

Public Schools Will Present 4-Band Concert

The music department of Winona Public Schools will present four bands in the annual Band Festival Concert Monday evening in Winona Senior High School Auditorium. The program starts at 7:30 p.m.

The highlight of the musical festival will be the concluding number when the four bands will combine to form a mass band of 314 members.

They will play John Phillip Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever" featuring 64 cornets, 29 trombones and the flute section of the concert band.

The fourth band, third band, second band and the senior concert band will each present a short concert during this annual concert.

For some of the youngsters in the fourth band, this will be their first band concert, said Robert Andrus, director, and some of these children have only taken lessons for three weeks. The progression of development in the skill of playing a band instrument is interesting to watch, he said, as the bands perform from the fourth band through the senior band.

All members of the senior concert band have played at some time in each of these four bands, progressing from the fourth band up to the senior concert band, the director said. There is no admission charge.

Baseball Benefit Card Parties Set at Dakota

A coffee social, sponsored by the Sacred Heart and Rosary societies, will be held at St. Casimir's Parish Hall Sunday from 3 to 7 p.m.

Sandwiches, doughnuts and cookies will be served. Mrs. Martha Strolinski and Mrs. Alex Larkowski are in charge. Tickets may be purchased at the door. The public has been invited.

District President Speaks

Attributes for Success in Auxiliary Work Outlined

Unity, knowledge and "drive" were stressed as three most important auxiliary attributes by Mrs. Robert Beckman, Lake City, Minn., First District American Legion Auxiliary president, in her informal address to the local auxiliary at a dinner meeting Tuesday night at the Legion Clubrooms.

"LET YOUR auxiliary efforts on behalf of your post be a united effort; be knowledgeable about your auxiliary programs so that you can explain them to others to enlist their support; and don't do only as much as is expected but expend that little extra measure of energy that pushes a project, such as membership, not just to quota, but beyond," said Mrs. Beckman.

She also exhorted the group to give wholehearted support to auxiliary Americanism and Foreign Relations programs, and, on behalf of child welfare, to remember the stamp certificates for the Cambridge School bus, which is sorely needed by the children.

Mrs. Beckman asked for support of her personal project as First District president to secure a 35 millimeter slide projector for the Rochester State Hospital, and suggested "Operation Show Your Colors" pins as a unit fund-raising project.

AT THE business meeting reports were heard from committee chairmen. Mrs. Donald V. Gray gave a progress report on plans for Girls State and also reported that the current membership drive is now at 247, just 24 from "top." Mrs. Robert Sexton proposed auxiliary participation in a Civil Defense project.

Mrs. Adolph Bremer, on behalf of Mrs. Earle Tove, submitted the annual Hospital Auxiliary report and asked for increased Legion Auxiliary participation in hospital auxiliary work. Members willing to donate a few hours of their time were asked to contact her or the hospital auxiliary services chairman, Mrs. L. A. Siaggle.

Several announcements were made by auxiliary president, Mrs. Robert Thaldorf. Mrs. A. H. Maze Sr. and Mrs. Carl Hengel will be the new co-chairmen of the building committee, succeeding Mrs. Bremer, who will remain on the committee with Mrs. A. M. Bard and Mrs. Harold Thiewes.

THE MEETING date for March has been changed from the second Tuesday to the third Tuesday to coincide with the post meeting so that a joint birthday party may be observed at that time.

A grand opening of the recently remodeled and redecorated Legion cocktail lounge is scheduled for Feb. 19 for all members. There will be a dance band and attendance prizes. A general open house for the public is tentatively planned for later in the month. This would feature a tour of the clubrooms and displays of work projects conducted by the 40 & 8, post and auxiliary during the year.

A short film on Viet Nam furnished by the Winona Daily News and produced by the Associated Press was shown as part of the program, with Mr. and Mrs. Gray in charge.

THE DINNER preceding the meeting and program was prepared by the post with David Morse and Roy Petersen serving as chefs. Helpers were Gray, John Waterbach, Leo Olson, Leo Prochowicz and Ronald Hammond. The valentine shaped and decorated cakes served as dessert were made by Mrs. Peterson.

from Cincinnati Conservatory where he was a pupil of the late Dr. Karol Liszlewski.

For ten years he has headed the piano department of the Shenandoah Conservatory of Music, Winchester, Va., and has made frequent appearances as piano soloist, accompanist and ensemble artist. He has been heard as soloist with the Symphony of the Valley under the baton of Ronald Ondrejka, and appeared as accompanist in New York's Town Hall.

Characters Will Present Winning Drama

Proceeds from the performance of "The American Dream," winner of state drama honors, to be presented Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Winona Senior High School, will go to the Characters' Scholarship Fund. Warren C. Magnuson is the director.

Each year this fund provides scholarships for two students who show interest and talent in the field of drama.

"Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad," a runner-up play directed by V. A. LaValley, of Pine Island, Minn., also will be presented.

Tickets are available from any member of the Characters or at the door.

Eagles Auxiliary Sets Games Party

A games party was scheduled when the Eagles Auxiliary met Monday evening at Eagles Hall. It will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the hall with Mrs. Theresa Hohmeister as chairman.

The 50 members and seven guests played games. A potluck dinner was served. A short business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Edson Hazelton.

The Past Presidents Club of the Eagles Auxiliary will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. LaVerne Heckley, 947 W. King St. There will be an exchange of valentines with handkerchiefs.

Hostesses, the Mmes. LeRoy Anderson, Richard Olson and Bernard Smith, assisted with the decorations and dinner.

Legion Auxiliary Meets at Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — The Mmes. Raymond Galstad and Anna Wevilstad were hostesses at the Monday evening meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Hutchins-Stendahl Unit 191.

The program consisted of musical numbers by Sue Rasmussen and Linda Patterson and a reading on Americanism by Mrs. Philip Peterson.

Members voted to send a girl to Badger Girls State in June, and discussed having a card party as a money-making project. They made trays for the Corner, Golden Age and Tri-County Hospital nursing home for Valentine's Day.

The organization is invited to attend the Trempealeau County Council meeting at Blair, Feb. 16, at First Lutheran Church. Anyone wishing a ride is asked to call Mrs. Everett Guse and Miss Mayne Hallingstad.

"The Back Porch Majority" the young understudies to the New Christy Minstrels, will appear in concert Tuesday in Memorial Hall, Winona State College.

This will be the first time that WSC has hosted a nationally known singing group on campus. Their appearance had not been anticipated until recently, when they became available between bookings.

THE SEVEN young men and women in the group began their career at Randy Sparks' Niter in West Los Angeles. Though they were trained in a style imitative of the Minstrels, they have achieved an individuality of their own, different from other folk groups.

"The Back Porch Majority" has traveled nearly 200,000 miles in less than two years, making public appearances. Members are Karen Brian, Denny Brooks, Linda Carey, Mike Clough, Mike Crowley, Kim Vassey and Ellen Whalen.

Admission will be by ID cards for students and others may purchase tickets at the door.

Contemporary Poets Works Read at Chautauqua Club

Chautauqua Club members, meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. A. J. Anderson, heard a program on contemporary poetry.

MRS. LLOYD Osborn gave the paper on the works of Phyllis McGinley and Carl Sandburg. She stated first that the two writers are the most popular poets of this period. Of Phyllis McGinley she said that she has been widely acclaimed and has received such literary honors as the Pulitzer Prize and the Notre Dame Laetere Medal. The "Love Letters of Phyllis McGinley," first published in 1954, has sold 80,000 copies. Mrs. Osborn read poems from the book, including "A Tale of Sorrow," "Reflections on Dawn" and "To the Daughter Growing Up."

Mrs. Osborn said Carl Sandburg is the author of more than 40 books and has twice won the Pulitzer Prize for history, with his four-volume "Abraham Lincoln, the War Years" and for poetry, with "Complete Poems."

THE SPEAKER read poems from Sandburg's latest book, "Honey and Salt" published when he was 85 years of age. These included "The Harvest," "The Lesson" and "Shadows Fall Blue on the Mountain."

Mrs. Osborn said that in the world of literature and art, one of the least enjoyed by Americans is poetry. Possibly this is because it requires reading and thought and a conscious mental effort, as opposed to the passive exposure to sound and sight in some of the other arts, she said.

4-H'er of Week

Sherry Dabelstein

LEWISTON, Minn. — Perseverance has paid off for Sherry Dabelstein, a 17-year-old 4-H'er from St. Charles.

After several years participation and placing second in the 4-H radio speaking contest last year, Sherry was awarded first place in the 1966 Winona County contest. She will represent the county in district competition here Saturday.

Sherry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dabelstein, St. Charles, has been a member of the Clyde Livewires for eight years. She has been president and secretary of her local club and an active junior leader. She was awarded the 4-H Key Award in 1965 for her work in the junior leadership project.

Some of Sherry's most popular projects have been clothing, dairy, foods and junior leadership. At the 1965 county fair she exhibited the champion dress. She has exhibited dairy for eight years and has had the grand champion dairy animal at the county fair. She has also exhibited at the State Fair several times.

Sherry, presently a senior at St. Charles, plans to attend college.

County Agent on Sabbatical Leave

LEWISTON, Minn. — Oliver Strand, Winona County agricultural agent, is on sabbatical leave until March 18.

He is studying at the University of Minnesota, Institute of Agriculture, St. Paul Campus, for a master's degree in agronomy and soils. His research project concerns weed control in corn.

John Halvorson, associate county agent, is handling all agricultural extension work until Strand returns.

Feeder Pig Co-op Plans Annual Meeting

MONDOVI, Wis. — Members of the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing Cooperative from Buffalo, Trempealeau and Pepin counties have a full slate of business for their annual district meeting here Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the City Building.

Business includes nomination of candidates to the seven-man district board of directors, election of an advisory board member, election of delegates to the co-op's annual meeting March 5 at Stevens Point and discussion of the 1965 financial report.

The feeder pig division showed a gain of $390,000 in 1965, from $5,860,000 to $6,250,000. Total sales of all divisions rose from $8,750,000 in 1964 to $17,300,000 in 1965.

Myles Auer, Cochrane, a member of the advisory board, will preside. Co-op members and any other persons who sold livestock through the co-op are invited.

Princess Kay To Help Serve At Eyota Co-op

EYOTA, Minn. — Princess Kay will appear as "working royalty" Saturday at the annual meeting of the Farmer's Cooperative Creamery Association.

She will help serve the noon lunch, and will speak at the business meeting.

The business session begins at 1:15 p.m. at Dover-Eyota High School. A noon lunch will be served beginning at 11:30 a.m.

Co-op directors will be elected at the meeting. Present directors are Leonard Hammel, Eyota; Kirk Murray, St. Charles, and Francis Brennan, Rochester.

The association had a successful 1965, with the balance sheet showing current assets of $161,186 outweighing current liabilities by a ratio of nearly 2 to 1.

The organization cleared $19,805 for patron distribution on a gross total income of $1,129,086. This amount was netted after all expenses which included payment of $1,049,322 to dairy farmer patrons in Olmsted and Winona counties for milk and cream, and plant operating expenses of some $60,000.

Nearly 1,500,000 pounds of butter were processed during the operating year.

Officers are: Richard Brennan, president; Clarence Bierbaum, vice president; Raymond Schnell, secretary, and Arthur Allen, treasurer, all of Eyota.

Daily News Farm Editor

The Dairy Foods Festival here Thursday and today gives an excellent opportunity to show what can and is being done by our state's farmers and dairy leaders to improve the market for milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products.

Most of the promotional work is carried out through the American Dairy Association (ADA). With Princess Kay of the Milky Way enjoying a busy year's reign selling dairy products both in and out of the state, the spotlight is kept on the dairy industry day in and day out — as it should be to develop a good strong market.

June is Dairy Month, with a flood of advertising and promotional material put out by the ADA highlighted dairy products. The Minnesota Twins spent a couple warm-up sessions that month tossing simulated butterballs (baseballs painted yellow).

THE STATE Fair promotion, featured by a life-size sculpture in butter of the head of Princess Kay, drew heavy state news coverage. Carved right at the fair, the trimmed away butter was served to bystanders on soda crackers to interested bystanders. And they were interested. More than 25,000 people were served butter, and total traffic past the exhibit was nearly 100,000.

We would have to call that successful promotion, by any standard of news coverage, advertising or public relations.

These energetic efforts, plus the many appearances Princess Kay and other ADA representatives make at meetings throughout the state during the winter months, should rate a hand of applause from everyone interested in the dairy industry.

And in spite of the present sales problems over milk and butter pricing, surpluses or non-surpluses, government buying programs, the fact remains that dairy products are as healthy a food as can be purchased. Consumers too often don't believe the healthfulness of milk, and of butter, and are scared off by threats of heart attacks and high-fat-content talk.

Problems of this nature can thrust an ogre's head in front of a lot of promotional work.

WINONA COUNTY has about 28,500 milk cows producing 250,000,000 pounds of milk. This milk sold, in 1965, for about $8,125,000.

From this total, the county contributed $19,788.50 to ADA in 1965. Part of this was returned to the county ADA for county promotion activities. The remainder is state and national funds. The funds are put to four tasks — advertising, merchandising, research and public relations.

Each individual dairyman has the opportunity to participate in the promotion of his product. However, not everyone has chosen to get in his 2 cents worth — and that's what it costs — 2 cents for each hundred weight of milk produced is retained by the creamery and sent to state ADA headquarters. State ADA personnel then sends a percentage on to national headquarters for national promotion.

The remaining funds are anted out to counties, according to the percentage of the total each supplied, and a certain amount is used for state-wide promotion.

ADA must count on the producer's willingness to invest in promotion of his products and the plant manager's co-operation in forwarding the money earmarked for ADA dairy promotion.

BUT WITH all this promotion work, there are still some laggards. Most often the reason given is, "We can't afford it."

The answering question, naturally is "How can you afford not to invest your 2 cents worth?" Take a look at the turkey industry in Minnesota. Turkey growers voted to voluntarily hold back a cent or two from each bird marketed. This money would be used to increase the turkey marketing area, and increase per capita turkey consumption.

ADA has been in Minnesota for 25 years. They have been progressive years. Let's hope they remain so. The dairy industry is strong, can be stronger. But it's going to be a long haul. Promotion will help. So will full cooperation from every dairyman, help.

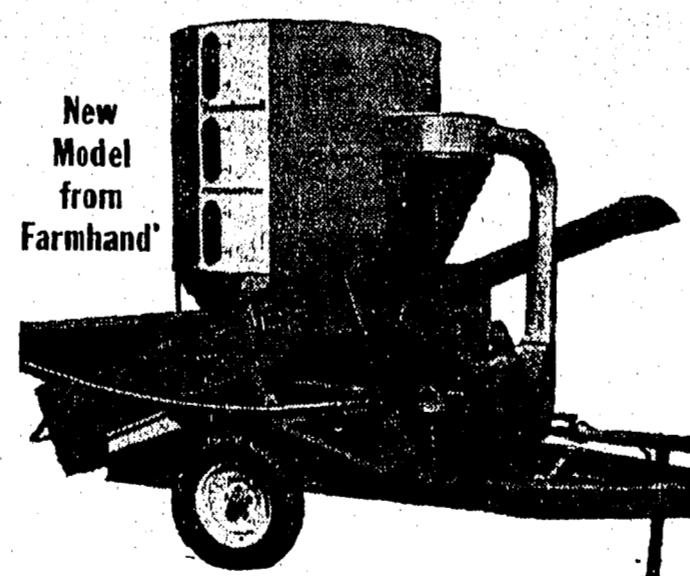

Arctic Springs Meeting Feb. 17

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — Three directors will be elected at the Arctic Springs Cooperative Creamery annual meeting Feb. 17 at 1:30 p.m. in the Isaac Clark room, Bank of Galesville. Lunch will be served. Wives of the stockholders have been invited.

District Speech Contest Saturday

LEWISTON, Minn. — Winona County will host the 1966 district 4-H radio speaking contest. John Halvorson, associate county agent, said the contest will be over Station KAGE Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Fillmore, Houston, Olmsted, Wabasha and Winona counties will be represented by one contestant each. Each contestant will give an original 5-7 minute speech on the topic "Are the rights guaranteed by our federal constitution consistent with the needs of today's society?" Sherry Dabelstein, St. Charles, will represent Winona County. A member of the Clyde Livewires, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dabelstein.

Representing Houston County will be John Ernster, Caladonia Champion racers. Olmsted County representative will be Larry Behnken, Eyota, a member of the Haverhill Boosters 4-H. David Luehr, Preston Hilltoppers, will be Fillmore County's representative. Wabasha County's representative will be chosen tonight.

Tobacco Support Price Goes Up

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — The price support rate for tobacco produced in 1966 will be increased, according to Lester Indrebo, chairman of the Trempealeau County ASCS committee.

The average support level for cigar filler and binder tobacco grown in Wisconsin is 30.3 cents a pound. This compares to an average of 29.7 cents for the 1965 crop.

Indrebo explains that the support rate for each type varies somewhat from the coverage, but increases in the support rate for each type are expected.

Preston Co-op Distributes $22,000

PRESTON, Minn. (Special) — The Preston Cooperative Creamery Association distributed $22,022 in dividend checks to individual patrons and creameries at its annual meeting Saturday.

Total 1965 receipts of $3,739,979 and net profit of $6,400 were announced.

Norman Storhoff, Lanesboro, co-op president, and Chester Severson, Fountain, director, were re-elected. Terms of others did not expire. They are Charles Winters, Wykoff, vice president; Marvin Rindels, Preston, secretary — treasurer; Lowell Johnson, Canton; Eugene Schevel, Preston, and Elton Redalen, Fountain, directors.

The annual report showed 8,892,762 pounds of powdered milk and 2,641,286 pounds of butter produced.

Virgil Grover, co-op general manager, said a new receiving station for bulk and can milk was built.

About 800 were served at the noon dinner and 250 attended the business meeting.

Wilson Creamery To Elect Directors

Two directors will be elected for three-year terms at the Wilson Cooperative Creamery annual meeting Feb. 17 at 1 p.m. in Wilson Catholic Church basement.

Bulk Tanks on 40% Of Wisconsin Farms

MADISON, Wis. — Almost 40 percent of Wisconsin's approximately 80,000 dairy farms have installed and are using milk tanks for cooling and storing milk while awaiting pickup for delivery to dairy plants, a report issued by the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture noted this week.

As of Jan. 1, 1965, 31,024 farms were so equipped, or 38.9 percent.

The Jan. 1 figures indicate an increase of 1931 since the same day in 1965.

The latest tabulation also shows that 478 Wisconsin dairy plants or 53.1 percent of the 900 receiving milk directly from producers are using the bulk milk method of handling milk. Thirty out-of-state plants are also receiving milk from Wisconsin bulk milk tank patrons.

The first installation of tanks in the state came in 1952 when 30 farmers reported installing the new equipment. They were delivering milk to a single plant. The next year the total jumped to 400 with 12 plants using the method.

Since that time there has been a steady growth in the number of bulk milk patrons and dairy plants using the method.

Young Farmers Meet Saturday

Carroll Kjos, rural Rushford, will be among 45 candidates competing for the title of Minnesota's Outstanding Young Farmer at the annual OYF meeting Saturday in Thief River Falls.

He is sponsored by the Winona Jaycee chapter.

Activities for the day will include morning registration, tours to a fertilizer blending plant and the Arctic Enterprises, Inc., (snowmobile manufacturing firm), noon luncheon, tours to Forsberg's, Inc., (seed cleaning equipment manufacturer), agricultural forum, banquet and awards program.

Three outstanding young farmers in the state will receive award plaques.

Watershed Unit To Elect Board

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Directors of the French-Beaver Creek Watershed Association will be elected Feb. 18 at the association's annual meeting. Meeting begins at 8 p.m. at the Ettrick Community Hall.

William J. Russell, state soil conservationist from Madison, will discuss future conservation developments and suggest methods of fastest progress for a complete national soil conservation plan.

Joseph Bott, German Coulee, will give the winning soil conservation speech from the Wisconsin college division. The speech, "How Good is Our Credit?" was written by Joseph Stodola, a Door-Kewaunee Teachers College student.

A film about the Coon Valley Watershed, first in the nation, will also be shown. The meeting will be informal, with a question and answer period conducted by Russell. Lunch will be served by the Franklin 4-H Club. The public is invited.

Not Much Change In Feed Grain Program for '66

LEWISTON, Minn. — Winona County farmers who plan to take part in the 1966 feed grain program will find that sign-up procedure and general program requirements this year are similar to those followed for last year's feed grain program, according to Anthony Heim, chairman of the Winona County ASCS committee.

For example, the first step in taking part in the program is to fill out an intention-to-participate form and leave it with the ASCS county office. This can be done at any time during the sign-up period, which runs from Jan. 31 through April 15 in all counties.

After a producer has signed up, he is responsible for (1) diverting acreage from corn, grain sorghum, and/or barley to the extent he has agreed upon; (2) designating the acreage of land to be diverted and establishing approved conservation use on that land; (3) maintaining the conserving base acreage on his farm, and (4) not exceeding the feed grain base on any other farm in which he has an interest, Heim explained.

Farmers who request it will be eligible to receive 50 percent of any diversion payment they may expect to earn under the 1966 program at the time they sign up. Farmers who request it may receive this payment at the time they sign up for the program.

Wisconsin Hog Show to Feature Loin Measuring

MADISON, Wis. — The 16th annual Wisconsin Spring Market Hog Show and Quality Pork Contest to be held Tuesday and Wednesday at the Dane County Fairgrounds in Madison is expected to draw a record number of exhibitors as well as spectators.

Houston Co. Hog Show Set Feb. 23

CALEDONIA, Minn. — The Houston County Market Hog Show will be Feb. 23 at the fairgrounds here, according to Harlan Twesten, secretary, Houston County Swine Association.

Swine producers interested in production testing were urged to exhibit a pen of three butchers. Twesten said, "It's a good way to check litter mates of gilts a farmer may be planning to hold back for breeding."

An exhibit will consist of three market hogs. Butchers must average 190-210 pounds to enter the lightweight division and 211-250 pounds for the heavyweight class. All hogs will be paid for on a grade and yield basis starting at 50 cents per hundred weight above the Feb. 23 market base price at Austin, Minn.

Cash prizes in the grade and yield contest will total $100. There will be a total of $75 cash awards offered in the on-the-hoof contest.

Officers of the Houston County Swine Association are: Dean Myhre, president; Glenn Meinert, vice president; Twesten, secretary; Arlo Myhre, treasurer.

The show is not restricted to association members. Any Houston County swine producer may enter, show officials stated.

Ridgeway Co-op Volume Down; Directors Named

RIDGEWAY, Minn. (Special) — Russell Bubblitz, Cedar Valley, was elected a director of the Ridgeway Cooperative Creamery and Mrs. Alice Hackbart was re-elected a director at the co-op's annual meeting Saturday. Bubblitz replaced Ivan Sperbeck, Dakota.

The annual report showed 26,593,333 pounds of milk received in 1965, down more than 1,500,000 from 1964. Butter sold totaled 1,164,031 pounds and 24,222,920 pounds of skimmilk were sold.

Total receipts, minus the cost of skimmilk trucking, totaled $970,280. Contributions to ADA were $2,597.

Holdover directors are Arthur Erdmann, Dakota; J. Ray McNally, Lamolite; Milo Runnigen, Houston, Walter Pflughoft, Houston, and Robert Hass, Ridgeway. Mrs. Lucille Von Moos is secretary and Clarence Cummings is creamery operator.

Millard Chab, a dairy inspector, and Byron Rossi, assistant manager of the Rochester Dairy, spoke. Chab pointed out the need for higher quality milk. Rossi talked about milk price trends and related milk quality.

About 40 voters attended.

Fruit Production Discussion Set

ALMA, Wis. — A series of slides on pruning apple trees and growing raspberries and strawberries will be shown and explained at the old courthouse Wednesday at 8:15 p.m.

In addition, weed control, insect control, plant disease control practices and other fruit production problems will be discussed.

Hawks Facing Crucial Test

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor
Winona High School tonight marches its basketball legion into Northfield, apprehensive of a Big Nine booby trap.

The game — unless Austin loses at Faribault, of course — cannot clinch the Big Nine championship for Winona, but it can do a lot to set John Kenney's forces up for the two-game finale with Rochester and Red Wing.

But tonight's is a game that has worried Kenney for longer than he cares to remember.

"We felt even before the season began that we'd be in contention," said Kenney. "Now we know it's a big game... a game that can make playing at Rochester much easier for us."

The Hawks and the Raiders battle at the Northfield High School gymnasium at 8 p.m. Prevalent is that thought that Winona, in years past, has had its troubles there.

"Yes, you think of that," said Kenney. "And you think about them being rarely so highly before the season began."

Kenney points out that a Winona win would send the Hawks into their final two games with a one-game edge on Austin, which it is presumed will beat Faribault. A loss means going into the final two even-up.

"We want that lead," said Kenney. "Psychologically, this is one we need. But we haven't had a real bad game for a long time and we don't look forward to having one now. I know the kids are concerned about winning this one."

Chief Raider villain is Eric Bundgaard, a 6-5 transfer from South Dakota who ranks as the conference's leading scorer.

"Bundgaard has to be the biggest individual threat we'll face," said Kenney. "It is not just a question of him scoring 25 or 30 points, but he could cost us two or three players."

What that means is that Mr. Bundgaard personally took care of benching several Red Wing players, who tried in vain to stop his driving shot and wound up whistled from the contest. Northfield won that one 69-53.

"You look at the conference and most of the good scorers are forwards," said

Kenney. "Now we're going to run into a good scoring center."

And defending Bundgaard is causing its share of concern. Any one of three Winonans — Gary Addington, Larry Larson or Paul Plachecki — could wind up matching him in the Hawk man-to-man, depending upon where he sets up in the Raiders' "double - post attack."

"We're not certain how we're going to go yet," said Kenney just before practice

Redmen Gifters Are Difference

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

Nothing has come easy for the St. Mary's basketball team this season.

Typical of the way things have been going for the Redmen was a 73-71 overtime victory over Concordia before a sparse crowd at Terrace Heights Thursday night.

"One of these times one of those last shots is going to go in and we won't have to play those extra five minutes," said somewhat distraught St. Mary's coach Ken Wiltgen.

It was another case of missing by the skin of its teeth in regulation time for St. Mary's. But Thursday night the Redmen got a reprieve and a chance to make up for missed opportunities in overtime.

THE REDMEN lived — and nearly died — by the free throw against the Cobbers. The Terrace Heights quint managed to hit only 13 of 29 free throw attempts during the game, but it was that paltry charity line average that made the difference.

St. Mary's had 10 free throw attempts in the overtime and made only three, but it was good enough to provide the margin of victory, the Redmen's ninth in 20 games this year and fourth in 11 MIAC starts. Concordia falls to 8-12 for the season and 6-5 in the conference.

Both teams spurred at the outset with the Cobbers rimming the first six points and St. Mary's getting the next eight, taking the lead on Jim Buffo's tipin.

HOLMAY, JOHN LEAF AT GUARDS

Rambler Starting Lineup To Get New Look Saturday

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Cotter High School has a new starting lineup, or more specifically, a new set of guards.

Cotter High School also has a chance to be the first team to notch a basketball victory over No. 1 Catholic school St. Louis Park Benilde.

Now a victory over the Knights might be asking quite a bit, but coach John Nett feels certain the backcourt switch is going to make his team a better scoring unit.

Moving in to man the guard positions are Jim Holmay and John Leaf.

They will start at St. Louis Park against Benilde Saturday night.

"We might be giving up a little speed and some defense for better shooting," said Nett. "But we need more shooting consistency."

In Holmay the Ramblers have a shooter who, when on, can riddle the nets with authority.

"Jim has had a rough season," said Nett. "And I suppose it is partly my fault. But he's back in there now, and he seems to be taking charge."

Nett also will tell you that this is the first time this season a starting Rambler unit has handled his second team with ease.

But then you ask the question whether improved shooting will be enough?

"No," says Nett frankly. "The whole key is going to be whether we can do something on the boards. Benilde likes to grab that rebound, get down the floor and score in a hurry. If we can bother them on the boards, it's going to help."

There are other things that must be done — things like a sparkling defensive effort and a consistent shooting game from all five starters.

And even then, Benilde must rank as an overwhelming favorite to score its 16th victory without defeat.

Perhaps for the Ramblers it is more a question of regaining some lost confidence before an all-out run at the Region Six prize.

"This is what we need more than anything," said Nett. "We have to have a good game to regain some confidence. Part of our problem now is to get the kids to think tough."

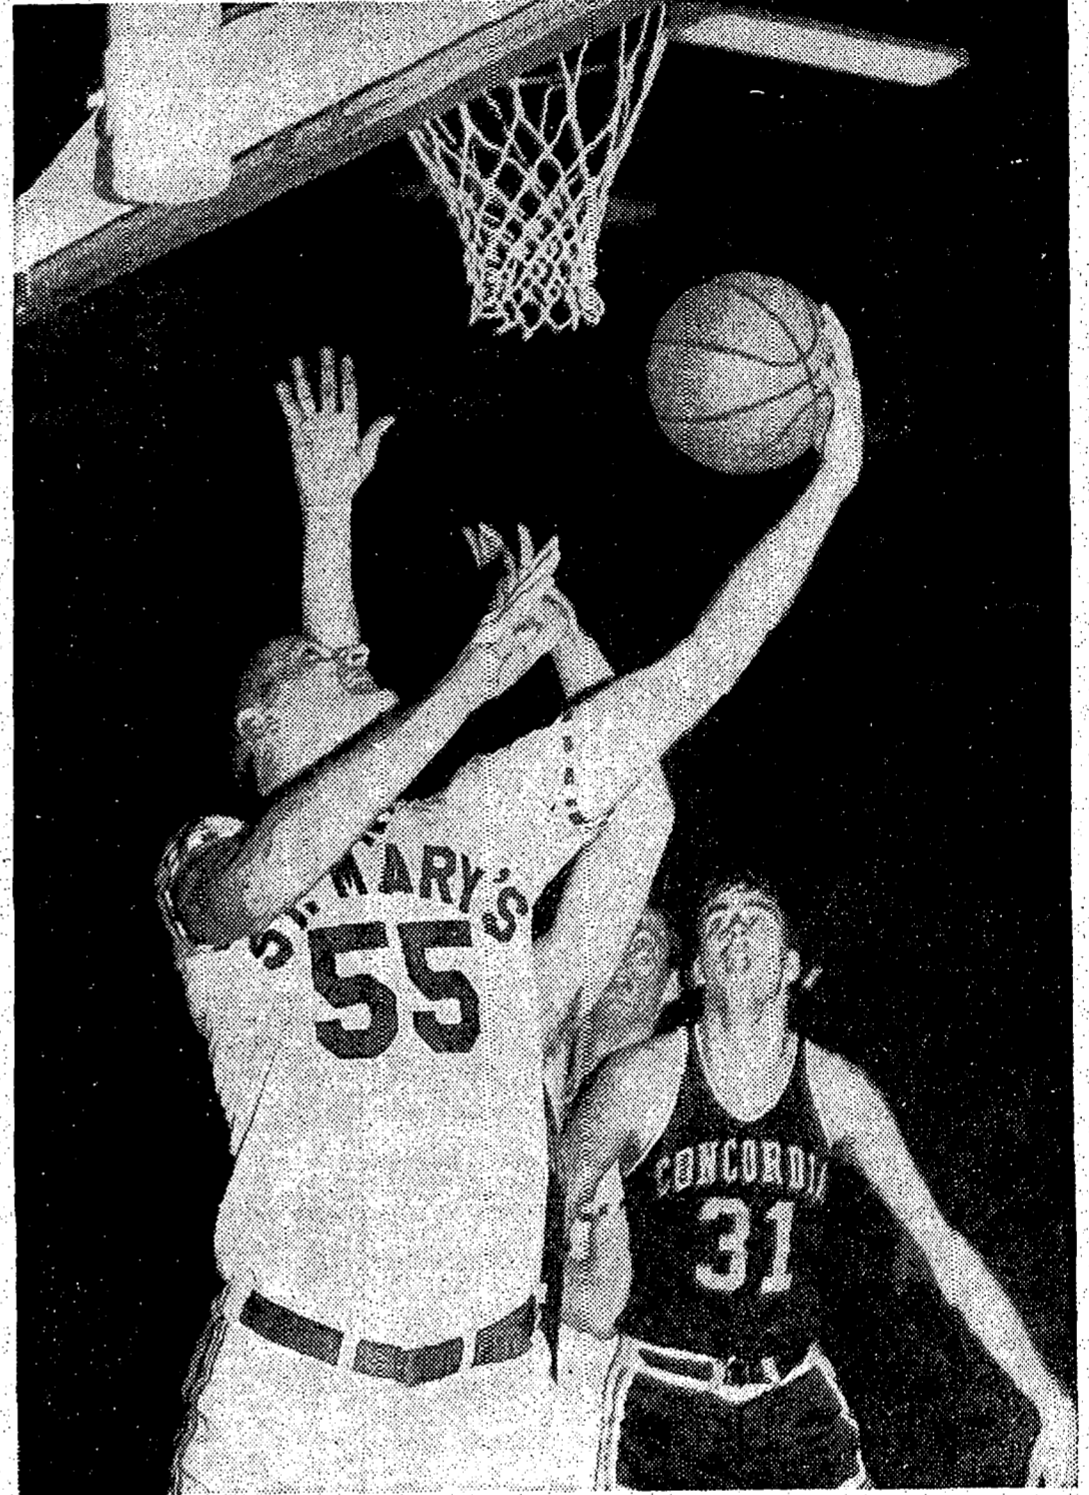

Teaming with Holmay and John Leaf will be forwards Chuck Kulas and Tim Browne and center Mike Twomey.

Twomey, a 6-7 junior, will get the job of defending Benilde's 6-6 center Larry Mikan, son of the former Laker great.

"But it isn't just a question of stopping Mikan," cautioned Nett. "Benilde has some great ballplayers. You have to do a job on all of them. The minute you concentrate on one, another will come along."

But more than anything, the Ramblers need a good game to break out of their doldrums.

"That is what we're shooting for," says Nett.

THE DRIVE... St. Mary's captain Roger Pylewski loses a reverse layup on Concordia during action in the game at Terrace Heights Thursday night. In background is the Cobbers' Bob Moe. St. Mary's scrambled to a 73-71 overtime victory. (Daily News Sports Photo)

BUT FROM then on it was nip-and-tuck to the buzzer. The lead changed hands 18 times in the final 15 minutes of the half. Working hard underneath, 6-4 sophomore center Bob Laney kept the Cobbers in the game with 14 points in the first half, mostly on sweeping hooks and ease layups as he broke free from the grasp of Roger Pylewski.

But the Redmen still managed to hold a 34-33 advantage at halftime on Buffo's 20-footer that banged off the boards with just nine seconds left.

"What a defense," wailed Wiltgen, throwing up his hands in despair. "It seemed like we scored every time we got the ball during one stretch there, but we didn't do anything to stop them."

The Redmen defense looked even worse during one four-minute stretch early in the second half. Concordia broke away from a 39-38 lead to run in 13 points while the Redmen could reply with only four to make it 52-42 with just over 12 minutes to play.

LANEY AND senior guard Dale Carlson did the damage during the stretch, Carlson getting six points and Laney three.

But George Hoder's 20-footer from the top of the key got the Redmen back on the right track.

St. Mary's cut the gap to 58-53 with 8:19 left to play on three straight points by Hoder. Then Concordia coach Sonny Gulsig discarded his man-to-man defense in favor of a zone.

Pylewski took care of that, however, connecting from the corner to make it 62-58 and then pouring through two more of identical nature to keep St. Mary's within two points as time began to run out.

AFTER JIM Lindberg hit a free throw to give the Cobbers a 67-64 lead, Hoder slashed in another from long range. Lindberg came back with another charity shot, but Jerry Sausser came through with one of St. Mary's infrequent spurts of free throw accuracy to tie it at 68-68 with 1:14 to play.

St. Mary's regained control of the ball with 44 seconds left and the score still tied, but Pylewski missed from the corner with three seconds left and Tom Keenan's tip also went astray as the buzzer signaled the overtime session.

Pylewski hit a charity toss to break the ice in the extra period, but Bob Moe pushed through a tip-in to give Concordia a 70-69 advantage with four minutes to play.

But suddenly the Cobbers went cold from the field.

KEENAN rammed down a spinning layup to return the

Bad Wrist Can't Stop Hansard

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cracked wristbone hasn't kept big Dan Hansard from doing his share to keep St. Thomas rolling along toward the Minnesota Intercollegiate Conference basketball championship.

Like Thursday night, when Hansard — a 6-foot-9 center who earlier suffered an injury similar to that of Minnesota Gopher star Lou Hudson — tossed in 16 points to help the Toms beat St. John's, 71-67.

Hansard only got three points in the first half when St. Thomas trailed 30-29. But he fired in five straight field goals to shove the Toms into a 10-point lead in the second half, and the MIAC leaders owned a 71-58 margin with two minutes to go. A late St. John's flurry was too late.

Wayne Pier got 22 points for St. Thomas, while Paul Bernabei notched 15, Joe Mucha 14 and Bob Ryan 13 for St. John's.

The victory was St. Thomas' 11th without defeat in the MIAC, and the defeat dropped St. John's out of a tie with Gustavus Adolphus for second place. St. John's now is 8-3 to Gustavus 8-2.

Games tonight have Bemidji at Morris in a non-conference affair, while Carleton is at Grinnell and St. Olaf at Cornell in the Midwest Conference.

State Looks For Supreme Cage Effort

Marlowe (Red) Severson is pretty cock-sure this his St. Cloud team isn't going to lose to Winona State Saturday afternoon. In fact Severson doesn't think his team is going to lose another basketball game all season.

"After watching them play Mankato, I can see why he might have reason to believe that," mused Bob Campbell, coach of the Winona State Warriors. "They looked good against Mankato, but I don't think Mankato had nearly the game they had against us."

The 4 p.m. basketball game at Memorial Hall, first afternoon home game in Winona State history, will do one of two things. It will either give St. Cloud an almost insurmountable lead in the NIC race — a race they have won six of the last seven years — or it will hand the leaders their second loss and give any of four teams shots at the crown — including Winona.

Severson is positive the former will happen. Campbell isn't so sure.

Winona State, with a 7-12 season record, has played its most consistent basketball over the last four games. The Warriors appear to be regaining the effectiveness they had at one time this season right before fall quarter ended.

Despite a 68-67 loss to Mankato in the last game, Campbell said, "I was pleased with our play all the way. A few breaks here or there and it would have gone the other way. I know some of the players would like to replay some of the moves."

"If we can eliminate some of those mechanical errors and keep playing the same constant basketball, we'll be all right."

It was that type of game that the Warriors threw at St. Cloud last year when the Huskies invaded Memorial Hall. Winona had the invaders on the ropes before bowing 52-56 in that contest.

Campbell feels that if St. Cloud has a singular key, it's 6-8 Izzy Schmiesing.

"He's the big man for them as far as the boards and inside shooting go," said Campbell. "And John Daggett does a real good job around the boards likewise. He's 6-5."

It was Schmiesing's bucket with 55 seconds left last year that beat the Warriors.

"We're just not sure what we'll do to try and stop him," continued the Winona coach. "Mankato played a zone and they rattled it because they hit fairly well from outside."

"I just hope we can come up with something to force them out of their patterns and keep them from getting the ball inside. We'll need the same kind of effort this weekend that we got last year. I'm sure the kids know they can do the job. If they can just rise a little more above the way they have been playing recently, you never know. This basketball is a funny game."

BUT STATESMEN AREN'T SHARP

Warriors Topple St. Cloud

ST. CLOUD, Minn. — Winona State College's wrestling team, turning in its most lackluster performance of the season, won its 15th straight dual meet of the season Thursday night by whipping St. Cloud 23-14.

Besides the victory, the biggest news of the night came in the heavyweight match where John Zwolinski of Winona had his fabulous string broken. In 13 previous matches wrestled, Zwolinski had recorded 13 pins, but against St. Cloud's Les Wolff, the Warrior ace had to settle for a 3-1 decision before both wrestlers appeared happy to wait for the other to make the first move.

Zwolinski's record now is 15-0 with his other victory coming by forfeit.

The match started out badly for Winona as St. Cloud, touted as being strongest in the lighter weights, proved its point by rolling up an 11-0 lead in the first three matches. Twin brothers Ron and Bob Ruedy both recorded decisions, and Dave Hazewinkel pinned Darrell Andrist for the margin.

But Perry King, who was a doubtful starter for the meet because of blood poisoning, got Winona on the right track with a 5-4 decision at 177 to wrap it up for Winona.

Undeclared Jim Tannehill finally put the Warriors on top 12-11 with a 7-2 decision at 160. Ray Wicks, the third of Winona's unbeaten trio, flattened his foe in five minutes of the next match, and then Dan Scrabbeck pounded out an 8-4 decision at 177 to wrap it up for Winona.

Merle Sovereign, wrestling his first match in over a month, showed that he has fully recovered from the neck injury which sidelined him by taking a 6-0 decision at 152.

This afternoon at 3 p.m. Winona State battled Bemidji in a dual meet, seeking its 16th straight triumph.

Hawk Matmen Meet Raiders

Winona High School's wrestling team wraps up its Big Nine Conference season tonight by hosting Northfield at the Senior High auditorium. The "P" squad match gets under way at 6:30 p.m. with the varsity event slated for 8 p.m.

In other sports action this weekend, the Hawk swimmers were to meet Rochester at 5:30 p.m. at Rochester today and Winona State wrestled against Bemidji at Bemidji. In swimming, Winona State will be at Bemidji Saturday and St. Mary's hockey team will meet Macalester in St. Paul at 11:30 p.m. (that's right, 11:30 p.m.)!

St. Mary's is still battling for a share of the MIAC title. Gustavus wrapped up a piece of the title Thursday with a 4-1 win over Hamline.

Aaron Doesn't Quite Agree

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Tommy Aaron and the weatherman aren't on the best of terms today.

Aaron, getting his usual jump on the rest of the field, was the clubhouse leader with a three-under-par 68 Thursday before rain washed out the first round of the $60,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

All scores were erased, and the field was scheduled to make another try today, weather permitting.

The college basketball season is providing a good backlog for movie or TV scripts. There have been more closing-second heroics than in many seasons.

Last Saturday, for instance, Dennis Kloko of Washington State, sank two free throws in the last five seconds to beat UCLA, Rick Whelan of Oregon State got a last-second basket to beat Stanford, Corky Bell of Chicago Loyola did the same thing to defeat Marquette, John Howard's jump shot with three seconds to go enabled Cincinnati to down Louisville and Dick Nemeika of Brigham Young scored in the last 11 seconds to down Utah.

The pattern continued Thursday night. Duke's Jack Marin tossed in two free throws in the closing seconds to seal a 78-74 victory for the second-ranked Blue Devils over North Carolina State. Unbeaten Texas Western, No. 4 in this week's Associated Press poll, had to go overtime before beating Arizona 81-72 for its 17th straight. Harvey Fox of Arizona forced the extra period with a jump shot in the last minute that tied the score at 67-67.

St. Louis whipped Tulsa 69-63 knocking the Hurricanes out of first place in the wide-open Missouri Valley Conference race. Cincinnati and Bradley moved into a tie for first place by defeating Wichita 93-76 and North Texas 102-90, respectively.

Cincinnati and Bradley each are 6-3 in MVC competition now. Tulsa 4-3 followed by Drake and St. Louis tied at 5-4. Louisville, 4-5, downed Drake 57-53.

A capacity turnout of 12,400 at Raleigh saw Duke, upset by West Virginia Tuesday, rebound for its road victory over the Wolfpack. Eddie Bledsoe got 22 points for State, but missed a shot in the closing seconds that would have tied the score at 70-70. Marin's two free throws then put the Blue Devils, No. 1 in the country until this week, out of danger.

Texas Western went on a 10-1 spree with the score tied at 71-71 in the overtime, for its home-court victory over Arizona. Bobby Joe Hill, whose final-second basket beat Colorado State U. last Friday, led the Miners with 38 points. Ted Pickett topped the Wildcats with 19.

Bob Cole, a 6-foot-7 soph, led St. Louis over Tulsa on the Hurricane's home court. He sat out part of the first half, but led the Billikens in the second 20 minutes with 17 points and nine rebounds. Tulsa's Julian Flamm scored 24 points.

GOPHERS TO TEST SPARTANS

Title Plot Could Thicken in Big Ten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Big Ten basketball title plot would thicken Saturday, especially where it concerns surprising Michigan State.

The Spartans and defending champion Michigan take 6-1 conference leads into action, but MSU's tough test at Minnesota (4-2) is the only game involving two teams in the upper division.

The Wolverines, ranked 10th nationally, are host to Wisconsin (2-5) while Purdue (2-5) is at Ohio State (2-4) and Indiana (1-5) at Illinois (5-2) in afternoon encounters. Iowa (3-3) is at Northwestern (2-5) and MSU at Minnesota at night.

The Gophers will be in a revengeful mood after being knocked off earlier by the Spartans, 85-65. But at that time, Gopher star Lou Hudson was absent with a broken wrist. He's back in action again and the Gophers still have sights on the championship.

"Michigan State caught us just after Hudson was hurt," says Minnesota Coach John Kundla. "We were shaken up a little by his loss, but we've come back. We'll be ready this time."

Iowa's chances were jolted Thursday with announcement that its No. 3 scorer, Chicago junior Jerry Jones, with a 15.8 average, was ruled academically ineligible for the second semester. Coach Ralph Miller said Ben McGilmer, 6-6 1/2 sophomore from Detroit, probably will start against Northwestern Saturday.

Northwestern's 80-77 victory at Illinois Monday after the Illinois 99-93 conquest at Michigan are among reversals that have kept the Big Ten title pot boiling.

Another race is for the individual scoring crown with Michigan's Cazzie Russell holding a 32.0 to 29.0 edge over defending champion Dave Schellhase of Purdue. For the season, however, Schellhase still leads the nation's major collegiate scorers with 31.4.

Hectic Weekend Ahead for WCHA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Things could get hectic in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association race this weekend, and North Dakota looks like the best bet to gain the most ground.

Michigan Tech, leading the WCHA with an 11-5 record, plays a pair of games at Denver (7-6-1) tonight and Saturday night, and the Huskies could encounter trouble away from home.

North Dakota, tied with Minnesota for second place with a 10-6 WCHA record, entertains last-place Minnesota (0-12-1) at Grand Forks. The Sioux — favored to sweep a pair — could move up on Tech if the latter falters at Denver.

Minnesota also has a tough road assignment — a series at fourth — place Michigan (7-5), which beat the Gophers twice earlier at Minneapolis.

Warriors Gain Ground in Bid For 2nd Place

BOSTON (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors have gained valuable ground in their struggle to move ahead of Baltimore in the battle for second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

Thanks to strong finishes by rookie Rick Barry and Paul Neumann, the Warriors were able to move one full game ahead of the Bullets Thursday night. And they did it by beating the defending champion Boston Celtics 128-117 in the only NBA game played.

Boston gets a chance to gain revenge tonight when it plays host to the Warriors in the second game of an NBA double-header at Boston Garden. Detroit plays New York in the opener.

The Celtics, who have been ailing badly of late, stayed in contention most of the way, leading 61-59 at the half and trailing only 91-90 at the end of three quarters.

But then Barry and Neumann started their hot streaks and the Warriors scored seven points in the first minute of the fourth quarter and outscored Boston 27-13 in the first four minutes to put the game out of reach.

Barry, who had 14 points in the final quarter, finished as the game's top scorer with 36 points. Neumann had only 16 for the night but he got 11 of them in the closing spur.

Defense Wants More Time in Antitrust Suit

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Defense attorneys have moved once again for postponement of the trial of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League.

The lawyers petitioned Circuit Judge Elmer W. Rorer Thursday to delay the trial until July 1.

Rorer has already denied a motion to set the trial date back to June, setting March 7, then Feb. 28 as the opening day.

The defense lawyers have argued that they need more time to prepare an adequate defense.

TRIAL RUN . . . Ron Musson pilots the new Miss Bardahl, a 7,000 pound, 31-foot-six-inch rear engine design hydroplane on Lake Washington at Seattle Thursday. The design is different from most conventional unlimited hydroplanes in that the pilot's cockpit sits in front of the engine. The craft is the third unlimited hydro to carry the name Miss Bardahl. She is powered by a V-12 Royce-Merlin aircraft engine, the same type that powered her predecessor. (AP Photofax)

RIVERMEN REMAIN FIRST

Preston Leaps To 2nd Place

By BOB JUNGHAUS
Daily News Sports Writer

Preston, rebounding with ferocity from its only loss of the season, has moved back into the No. 2 spot behind front-running Alma in the Winona Daily News area basketball ratings this week.

The Bluetjays, now 14-1 for the year, have come back to take three games by whopping margins since a 58-54 loss to Wykoff blotted their record three weeks ago.

THE LAST two Preston victories have come over touted foes. The Bluetjays smashed Chatfield 74-55 last Friday to wrap up the Maple Leaf Conference title, and then walloped one-beaten Le Roy 77-56 Tuesday night.

Only one other change was recorded in the top 10. Onalaska, suffering consecutive losses to Bangor and cross-town foe Onalaska Luther, dropped from eighth to 16th on the list, while Houston moved up one notch to ninth and Bangor regained its foothold in the elite group in the No. 10 spot.

Alma, with a 79-60 victory over Austin Pacelli, continued to hold the No. 1 spot it has had in a stranglehold since the first poll.

KENYON, squeezing out two close victories over unheralded foes last week, dropped to third behind Preston, while Onalaska

Luther, the only other undefeated team in the area, remained fourth. Wabasha fills out the top five.

The second 10 underwent considerable shuffling, however. Lake City has moved to the 11th spot, while Wamamingo has dropped all the way to 18th after two losses. Pine Island ranks 12th, Caledonia 13th.

Junior High Catholics to Play Finals

The finals of the city Catholic junior high school basketball league playoffs will be held Sunday at the Cotter Physical Education Building beginning at 1 p.m.

In the heavyweight division, the Cathedral Knights will meet the St. Mary's Royals at 4 p.m. for the championship. The consolation game will feature the St. Stan's Saints against the Rollingstone Rockets at 2 p.m.

The lightweight division championship will match the Cathedral Mustangs and the St. Casimir's Falcons at 3 p.m. The St. Stan's Huskies and the St. John's Johnnies will fight for third place at 1 p.m.

A trophy presentation will take place after the 4 p.m. game.

Thursday, "We want to give it some more thought," Kenney christened this week's drills as "good."

"We had some short workouts," he said, "and the kids are enthusiastic. They know how much this one means. We can't afford to stub our toes now."

Matching Northfield at the opening tip will be 6-6 1/2 Planchetti, 6-5 Larson, 6-2 Addington, 5-11 John Walski and 5-8 Don Hazelton.

They oppose Bundgaard, 6-1 Dave Follansbee, 5-11 Mike Hager, 6-4 Dave Finholt and 5-11 Barry Holden.

"Northfield is big and tough," said Kenney.

That statement served only as punctuation to the fact that the game has not already been recorded as a victory for Winona. That is the case even though the Raiders are mired at 3-7 in the conference and Winona is 7-0.

ROLLINS SIGNS
ST. PAUL — Rich Rollins became the 20th Minnesota Twins player to sign his 1966 baseball contract Thursday.

.302 Average, 24 HRs, 88 RBI=$52,000 Pact

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What is the worth of a baseball player who batted .302, hit 24 home runs and drove in 88 runs last year?

About $52,000, say the Pirates, Braves, Reds, Indians and Red Sox.

That's the average estimated 1966 salary of five star outfielders who signed contracts Thursday — Roberto Clemente, Hank Aaron, Vada Pinson, Rocky Colavito and Tony Conigliaro.

The .302 average, 24 homers and 88 RBI represent their average performance in 1965, but individually they stood out even more.

Clemente, Pirates, won the National League batting championship for the third time, with .329. He also rapped 10 homers and drove in 68 runs.

Aaron, Braves, led the NL in doubles with 40 while batting .318, hitting 32 homers and knocking in 89 runs.

Pinson, Reds, finished the season with a 27-game batting streak, longest in the NL in 1965. During the streak he batted .372 and wound up at .305. He homered 22 times and drove across 94 runs.

Colavito, Indians, topped the American League with 108 RBI while hitting .287 and 26 homers. Conigliaro, Red Sox, was the AL's home run leader, youngest ever in either league, with 32. He batted .289 and drove in 82 runs.

Conigliaro, at 21 the youngest of the five, accordingly will be the lowest paid of the five. He is expected to receive about $25,000 while Colavito's salary is put at $50,000, Aaron $65,000, Clemente $60,000 and Pinson $40,000.

Another slugger, Chicago Cubs outfielder Billy Williams, also signed his contract. Terms were not disclosed. Williams, 27, batted .315 and hit 34 homers last year. He had 18 RBI.

Several other notables signed for the 1966 season. Included were Baltimore's Wally Bunker and Sam Bowens, rookie stars of 1964 who slumped badly last season.

Bunker dropped from a 19-8 record and AL Rookie Pitcher of the Year to 10-8 while outfielder Bowens skidded from 22 homers and 71 RBI to seven homers and 20 RBI.

Dick Radatz, Boston's huge relief pitcher who also signed, also slumped last year. He won nine games and lost 11 for a 3.92 earned run average after compiling a 16-9 and 2.20 record the year before.

lead to St. Mary's. Pytlewski followed with a single free throw and though St. Mary's missed five straight free throw attempts in the next 2 1/2 minutes, Concordia could do nothing to counter. Jerry Sausser's free throw finally wrapped it up with 11 seconds to go.

Laney finished as the game's leading scorer with 25 points and his muscle under the boards enabled the Cobbers to fight an even battle in the rebounding department. Carlson had 16 and Moe 10.

Hoder led the Redmen with 20, while Pytlewski and Keenan hit 16 apiece. Keenan also hauled down 19 rebounds, 14 of them on defense. Jim Buffo had 12 for the Redmen.

Jerowski in No-Hitter; Oasis Romps

Winona Indoor Softball League regular season champion Oasis took a step ahead as playoffs opened at the Winona High School auditorium Thursday night.

Oasis, with Tom May cranking a two-hitter, piled up a 6-2 victory over Old Style. In other games, Sunshine slapped down Hof-Brau 11-3 behind Roger Buege's home run and Lang's upset Peerless Chain 1-0 behind a sterling no-hitter from Pete Jerowski.

The Peerless team had finished second to Oasis during regular season competition. Next Thursday, Lang's will meet Sunshine. P. Jerowski while Oasis draws a bye. For all but the champion, the tournament is a single elimination event. Oasis must be beaten twice to be ousted.

Jerowski came up with his third no-hitter of the season, striking out 13 and walking none. Loser Tom Kulas fanned nine and walked four.

The game was won in the bottom of the sixth inning when Ed Jerowski, scored from first on a pair of Peerless errors. Kulas gave up but three hits, those to Dave Strong, E. Jerowski and Jack Keen.

Oasis got two hits, including a home run, from Wayne Gunderson in taking its victory. The winners built up a 6-0 lead before allowing Old Style, which got its two hits from Mike Kluge and Gene Prenot, two fifth-frame tallies.

Cassius May Get Military Career Now

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — It looks like heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay, the nation's most famous draft reject, may serve in the armed forces after all.

Clay, who was floored twice before by the mental test, said Thursday night that he had gotten the reclassification papers. "Under new standards given us by the Army," said the chairman of his Louisville draft board, "I don't see any reason why Clay won't be acceptable for the draft."

The 24-year-old heavyweight champion, now training for a title bout March 29 against Ernie Terrell in Chicago, said:

"I don't know what all this stuff means. I just saw they said I was considered okay for the draft. I don't know what happens now."

"Just roll with the punches," Clay could be called as early as next month. But J. Allen Sherman, chairman of Clay's draft board, said in Louisville:

"There's no way of knowing if Clay would be in our March quota. It would be pure speculation at this time."

Cretin Takes Step Toward Puck Title

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Favored St. Paul Cretin romped past Minneapolis De La Salle 6-1 to pace the four first-round winners Thursday in the Minnesota Catholic High School Hockey Tournament.

Cretin now meets St. Paul St. Bernard's, a 4-0 victor over Crookston Cathedral, in a semifinal game at 8:30 tonight.

The other semifinal at 7 p.m. matches St. Louis Park Benilde against Duluth Cathedral. Benilde whipped St. Paul Hill 4-0, while Duluth downed St. Paul St. Agnes 5-1 in other first-round games.

Helen Nelson Tips 236 to Tie for Fifth

Helen Nelson went on another pin smashing rampage Thursday night, this time patronizing the individual game department.

Mrs. Nelson shot a 236 game that ranks in a three-way tie for fifth place on the current listings with Marge Moravec and Yvonne Carpenter.

That game helped her to a 582 series and led her Hal-Rod Lanes Powder Puff League Winona Insurance team to 932-2,605. Sheila Rislove smashed 557 and Jo Biltgen 515.

In the Classic League at Westgate Bowl, Allyn Ruppert bashed 214-243-181—638 for Ruppert's Grocery. Fish Shop turned in 978 as members Gordie Pakler ripped 192-196-214—602 errorless and Jerry Dureske 181-182-201—564 errorless. Clark and Clark topped 2,884.

HAL-ROD LANES: Eagles—Winona Insurance Agency took the second round title. Bittner Gas and Oil, which ripped 1-005, got 588 from Dave Wnuk. Schlitz Beer dropped 2,901 and Dave Stark of Warner and Swasey Office 244. John Standstedte clouted 201-193-154—548 errorless.

WESTGATE BOWL: Kegler-ette—Palma Stanislawski smashed 195-307 to lead her Lawrence Furniture team to 866. Winona Truck Leasing tied that total and Groves Eye Glass Cleaner zipped 2,511.

Pin Drops—Sportsman's Tap laced 2,561 behind 503 from La Vonne Ozmun. Shirley Lockwood tipped 192 for Papp's and Lake Center Switch 926. Picking up splits were Dianne Huff (2-4-10), Shirley Lockwood (6-7-10) and Fran Pederson (6-7-10).

Bay State—Dewey Grossell paced Bouncers to 978 with his 236-564. Top Scores totaled 2-815.

"I don't know what all this stuff means. I just saw they said I was considered okay for the draft. I don't know what happens now."

"Just roll with the punches," Clay could be called as early as next month. But J. Allen Sherman, chairman of Clay's draft board, said in Louisville:

"There's no way of knowing if Clay would be in our March quota. It would be pure speculation at this time."

Bruins Give Up Key to Cellar, Tumble Montreal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Their nostrils filling deeply with the heady air of fifth place, the Boston Bruins have turned over the key to the National Hockey League cellar, permanently they hope, to the New York Rangers.

The Bruins, who have finished in the NHL basement for the last five seasons, climbed out of sixth place with a 2-0 victory over Montreal Thursday night while the Rangers were dropping their fifth straight, 6-2 to Detroit.

Ed Johnston's first shutout of the year stymied the Canadiens, who find themselves in third place, two points back of front-running Chicago and Detroit.

Johnny Bucyk and Bob Dillabough got the Bruins' goals as Boston won its 13th game of the season, two more than the Rangers have managed. Boston has 31 points to 30 for New York.

Meanwhile, Detroit moved into a first-place tie with Chicago and dumped New York into the basement. Six different Red Wings beat New York goalie Cesare Maniago as Detroit scored twice in each period.

Griffith Gets First Shot at Tiger's Title
NEW YORK (AP)—Nino Benvenuti, Joey Archer, Jose Gonzalez and Don Fullmer can take their place in line. Emile Griffith, the lightweight champ, gets first crack at Dick Tiger's middleweight crown.

The Tiger-Griffith match of champions, set for Monday, April 25, at Madison Square Garden, is an attractive pairing of two men who like to walk in and punch. However, it does leave the top challengers in the 160-pound class on the outside looking in.
