17 Workmen Suffocate In Swiss Power Plant

LOCARNO, Switzerland (AP) — Seventeen workmen were suffocated Tuesday night by a cloud of poisonous gas at a remote Swiss mountain power station.

An official at the power plant said the gas was of carbonic origin.

Fifteen of the workmen were Italian. An Italian investigation commission arrived today, and details of the inquiry were withheld until its completion.

Police said the dense cloud of yellow gas swept through a tunnel north of Locarno, where a power station has been under construction for several years, shortly before 15 Italian workers were to end the evening shift.

The foreman sounded the alarm and slowly withdrew into the tunnel ahead of the gas. He was killed. Two Swiss fire guards who rushed in after him also were overcome and died.

The other 14 workers suffocated when an air current drove the gas through the tunnel from south to north.

Allied Troops, Air Power Hit Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Allied troops and air power gave the Viet Cong no rest today, but except for disengagement skirmishes the insurgents showed little inclination to defend any territory.

U.S. forces reported 66 more Viet Cong killed in two actions. American losses, if any, were not reported.

But U.S. and Vietnamese military spokesmen announced that enemy fire killed 340 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops last week, while the Allied forces killed 684 Viet Cong and captured 64. The enemy losses were less than half those the Communists suffered the week before, when 1,541 Viet Cong were reported killed and 245 captured.

With good weather over North Viet Nam for a change, U.S. Air Force and Navy planes stepped up the attack there and went for roads, railways, storage areas and warehouses in the Vinh area and around Dien Bien Phu.

The Air Force reported 19 targets hit, including a road complex 85 miles west of Hanoi. Navy pilots said they dropped bombs on the Dong Ngam shipyard 12 miles north of Vinh and the Loc Diem highway bridge 25 miles northwest of Dong Hoi, and cratered approaches to six other bridges.

The Strategic Air Force's big B-52s from Guam bombed jungled Viet Cong hideouts in western Tay Ninh Province for the second straight day. A spokesman said the three target areas included a major Communist command center which had also been hit on Tuesday, but damage had not been assessed.

U.S. 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) units in Operation White Wing 300 miles north of Saigon recorded another 61 dead Viet Cong in a fight Tuesday following an airborne assault 12 miles southwest of Bong Son.

Helicopters roared in with troops of the division's 2nd Brigade to squeeze off an enemy unit trying to escape pressure from the adjacent 3rd Brigade. When the Viet Cong finally broke off, they left behind 61 bodies and 11 weapons.

1st Cavalry patrols found a major headquarters complex which apparently had been used as a communications center. They captured 14 radios, some of U.S. manufacture and some Chinese, 7 field telephones and several hundred spare parts.

Youth Who Shot Rabbi Dies Of Wounds

DETROIT (AP) — Richard Wisnietzky, 23, who shot the rabbi of his congregation before turning a pistol on himself, died of his wound today.

Wisnietzky, brilliant honors student and one-time mental patient, shot himself in the head Saturday after twice shooting Rabbi Morris Adler, 59, internationally known Jewish leader, as the rabbi conducted Sabbath services Saturday.

Rabbi Adler, in the intensive care unit of Sinai Hospital, remained in grave condition. Doctors who performed brain surgery on the rabbi for the second time Monday, said Tuesday they noted "a few small gains which suggest an improving trend."

June 1 Trial Set on Badger Full Crew Law

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A June 1 trial date was set Tuesday for a suit challenging the constitutionality of Wisconsin's full crew law governing the operation of railroads in the state.

The suit was filed by the Wisconsin Railroads Association shortly after the U.S. Supreme Court refused in 1964 to review a labor dispute decision which permitted the elimination of firemen from train crews.

Wisconsin and 11 other states have full crew laws requiring a fireman on diesel locomotive crews. Railroads contend the fireman is not necessary to safe operation and that union insistence on the position amounts to "featherbedding."

Savings Bond Interest Rate Being Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today an increase of slightly more than one-fourth of 1 per cent in the interest rate on Series E and H U.S. savings bonds.

Johnson said the new rate, which will apply both to bonds already outstanding and new issues, will be 4.15 per cent. The present rate is 3.75 per cent.

The President could have raised the rate as high as 4.25 per cent without additional congressional action.

The increase is intended not only to make savings bonds a more attractive investment but by stimulating bond sales — as the administration hopes it will — to help avert inflation.

The last increase was in 1959 when the rate was boosted to its present level from 3.52 per cent.

Johnson said a month ago that the rates should be increased because alternative investments made savings bonds less attractive to the public. Most banks pay at least 4 per cent on savings accounts and some savings and loan associations pay close to 5 per cent.

Freeman Back From Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman returned today from a five-day inspection trip in South Viet Nam and said "fertilizer is just as important as bullets" in the battle there.

"Both fronts are important," Freeman said on arrival.

COMING OUT OF "MOTHBALLS" . . . Tugs nudge the old gray victory ship Tucson Victory out of the "mothball fleet" at Jones Point, N.Y., to guide her 43.5 miles down the ice-filled Hudson River to the Bethlehem Steel shipyard at Hoboken, N.J., for survey and tests. Then, after bids, she'll be overhauled at Hoboken or some other yard and head for her third war since she was built in Los Angeles in 1945. Behind the Tucson Victory are other ships of the "mothball fleet." (AP Photofax)

Senate Returns to Viet Nam Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plunges into fresh argument today over Viet Nam with days of crackling debate in prospect before its expected overwhelming passage of a military supply bill.

Nearly 30 senators have notified the leadership they want an opportunity to discuss President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies before they vote on a $4.8-billion authorization measure. It covers part of the $12.3-billion emergency money request for Viet Nam outlays.

Acting Democratic Leader Russell B. Long of Louisiana declined a request by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, to delay consideration of the bill until next week.

"Frankly," he said, "the funds to support our men who are fighting in Viet Nam are a critical matter and I very much doubt the wisdom of further delay."

Morse, in a telegram Tuesday to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, recuperating in Florida from a respiratory illness, said that debate should be delayed until after the appearance of administration witnesses before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former ambassador to Saigon and a presidential adviser, is scheduled to appear Thursday. Secretary of State Dean Rusk will be Friday's witness.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, asked for speedy action. He said it is "vital that this bill clear the Congress by the latter part of this month."

Russell said in an interview he will oppose any effort to attach to the measure any policy rider. Critics of Johnson's policies have been talking about offering language which would admonish the President against expanding the Viet Nam war.

Russell predicted overwhelming approval of the bill when a vote is reached.

No Color Line At Viet Front

CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong bullets recognize no race, and U.S. soldiers under fire tend to ignore the color line altogether.

In a brutal firefight 25 miles west of Saigon near the 25th Division's 2nd Brigade headquarters this week Spec. 4 George Newman, a Baltimore Negro, rested his wounded hip in a trench, leaning his back against a white comrade.

Fifty yards to the front of the trench lay three wounded or dead Americans, no one knew which. All were white.

Newman's platoon from A Company of the 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry Regiment, was assigned to get the men back from the no-man's land repeatedly lashed by sniper fire.

An artillery barrage was laid down 100 yards ahead of the fallen Americans. Men of the platoon leaped out of the trench and raced across the open ground.

Despite his wound, Newman was among the half-dozen racing men. Because of his injury, Newman was a little slower. Perhaps that's why he was hit by a bullet which ripped open his side.

Two men quickly crawled to Newman, grabbed him under the arms and hauled the stricken man back. One was Negro, one was white.

Back in the trench, a white buddy whipped out bandages and began binding up Newman's wound.

The white soldier stayed with Newman until he could be taken to the rear.

Wisconsin Woman Dead In Fire

WATERTOWN, Wis. (AP) — A bedroom fire took the life Tuesday of a 45-year-old widow.

Firemen said the blaze evidently erupted as the victim, Mrs. Ruby Eisfeldt, 45, was sleeping.

Mrs. Eisfeldt, who lived alone, was the mother of three sons, one of them currently a serviceman in South Viet Nam.

Plans to Seek 5th Full Term In Congress

WASHINGTON — Cong. Albert Quie today announced he will definitely not be a Republican candidate for governor.

Taking himself out of the race for good, Quie issued the following statement at an 11 a.m. news conference today:

"In response to appeals from many citizens and party leaders throughout Minnesota I have said I would run for governor if I received the endorsement of all 87 Republican county conventions.

"My purpose in requiring such endorsement was the desire to achieve a unified Republican party which will give to Minnesota the strong leadership and capable administration which has been so sorely lacking during the present administration.

"It is now evident from results of the precinct caucuses that there is strong support in the party for several very capable Republican candidates for governor. I have no compelling personal reason to make the race for governor and can see no good purpose for the Republican party in Minnesota to involve a national officeholder in a contest for the nomination.

"On the contrary, I have a strong desire to remain in Congress where I have important congressional responsibilities to perform.

"I therefore intend to stay in that capacity where I feel I can best serve my country, state, district and party and look forward to election to a sixth term in Congress.

"I urge all my supporters to work for party unity and the nomination of whichever Republican candidate they believe can best serve Minnesota in the challenging years ahead."

The first word of Quie's decision came Tuesday night from Minneapolis Alderman Dan Cohen, chairman of a committee to draft Quie for governor and Rep. Clark MacGregor for Minnesota's GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Cong. Albert H. Quie

Cohen said in Minneapolis that Quie had been under "strong pressure by the House GOP leadership" to run for a fifth full term in Congress, where he is counted among the leading young Republican legislators.

Cohen said the word from Quie's Washington office was that House Minority Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan was among those urging Quie to stay in Congress.

Quie had said previously that he would prefer to run for reelection and would accept a draft for governor only if he was backed by the Republican organizations in all 87 Minnesota counties.

With Ramsey County Atty. William B. Randall and South St. Paul lawyer Harold LeVander actively seeking the nomination, this was viewed as highly improbable.

Cohen indicated his organization would continue to seek a third candidate. Asked if MacGregor would run for the Senate on a ticket with a gubernatorial candidate other than Quie, Cohen said MacGregor would have to answer that question himself.

Quie is a member of the House Education and Labor Committee and of the House Agriculture Committee. He has taken a particular interest in the operations of anti-poverty, farm and postal programs.

WEARING NECK BRACE . . . Candace Mossler arrived at her first degree murder trial in Miami wearing a neck brace. She explained she is wearing the brace because of an injury suffered in a fall a little over a week ago. Monday she became ill, forcing a recess in the trial where she is accused with her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, in the death of her husband. (AP Photofax)

Powers Near Mossler Home Night of Killing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — State testimony has placed Melvin Lane Powers near the home of his uncle less than six hours before the multimillionaire was slain.

The state currently is directing its efforts toward a complicated but fascinating phase of the first-degree murder trial. It is attempting to prove the element of opportunity — which involves the painstaking retracing of the defendant's footsteps in an effort to show that he was in the vicinity of the crime and therefore could have committed it.

Powers is on trial for his life with his attractive blonde aunt, Candace Mossler, in the June 30, 1964, slaying of her husband, Jacques, 69, head of a $33-million banking and loan empire.

Aunt and nephew have been depicted by the state as participants in a blazing, abnormal love affair although he is 29 and she is 10 or more years older. Today, the state was expected to continue tracing Powers' movements surrounding the 1:45 a.m. period when Mossler was bludgeoned and stabbed 39 times.

State witnesses said Tuesday that Powers placed a telephone call to Miami from Houston, Tex., the day before the slaying, impatiently left his business firm, rushed aboard a flight to the Florida city and ended up near Mossler's Key Biscayne apartment with an empty soda bottle — a possible death weapon.

Complicating the case against Mrs. Mossler and her nephew was an unsummoned witness, potentially reluctant to serve the state. He is William Messamer, of Sanford, N.C., who said he became Mrs. Mossler's lover after her nephew was jailed on a murder charge.

In an affidavit submitted in Judge George Schulz' courtroom Tuesday in the absence of the jury, Messamer was quoted as saying that during a sexual interlude in September 1964, Mrs. Mossler remarked that "it wasn't fair for Mel and she hated to think of him being in jail."

New Veep Killed Viet Hearing for Lucy and McCoys

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred W. Friendly has quit his post as president of the Columbia Broadcasting System's news division in a disagreement over coverage of a Senate hearing on Viet Nam.
Friendly, 50, who rose to fame in broadcast journalism as a close associate of the late Edward R. Murrow, resigned Tuesday over the CBS decision not to provide live television coverage of hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

In a sharply worded letter, he charged that a decision made by John A. Schneider, newly appointed group vice president, broadcasting, not to televise the hearing last Thursday "was a business, not a news judgment."

Friendly said he became angered because CBS' chief rival, the National Broadcasting Co., was televising the hearing that day while CBS was showing its audience reruns of "I Love Lucy" and "The Real McCoys."

Friendly charged that Schneider lacked the experience in national and international affairs to exercise a veto judgment over the news department.

Rolvaag Off For Governors' Conference

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag left Tuesday night for a governors' conference in Lexington, Ky., after holding office hours for the day at Duluth.

The governor took up the case of a Duluth man who had his driver's license suspended after his car was erroneously identified as being in an accident at Oliver, Wis. Rolvaag called Gov. Warren Knowles of Wisconsin concerning the case.

The state of Wisconsin canceled Earl Glass' driving privileges when he refused to fill out an accident report. It was later determined that Glass was not at the scene of the accident, but Glass' driver's license had been suspended by Minnesota under a reciprocal agreement with Wisconsin. The license since has been returned.

Rolvaag was promised Knowles' aid in getting Wisconsin to delete the accident report from Glass' driving record in Wisconsin.

The governor also toured the Noming Tuberculosis Sanatorium, operated by St. Louis County, to see if the facility might be considered as a center for treatment of the mentally retarded to be operated by the state.

He also addressed a student assembly at Cathedral High School.

In an interview, Rolvaag disagreed with a statement by Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith that the Democratic - Farmer - Labor candidate for governor should be determined at the party's convention and not in the primary.

Rolvaag said he considers primary elections an important part of election reform and "to suggest that we not have a primary would be a step backward."

Girls' Job Center Plan Is Rejected

ANOKA, Minn. (AP) — The U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity has rejected a Federal Electric Corp. plan to operate a girls' job corps center on the grounds of the Glen Lake Sanatorium, Anoka County. Atty. Robert Johnson said Monday.

Johnson said the rejection of the center for about 450 girls does not involve the site and Federal Electric may rewrite the plan to meet objections.

He said these include OEO charges that Federal Electric "hadn't properly integrated academic work with vocational training"; did not take advantage of vocational training opportunities at the sanatorium and other facilities; and did not propose an adequate counseling and social development program.

No Warming Trend In Sight for 5 Days

Another inch of snow and moderately cold weather slicked highways in Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin overnight and emphasized the fact that winter is still around.

The snow, which fell early today, amounted to one inch and was followed by a drop in temperature to 5 above at 7 a.m. The high here Tuesday afternoon had been 33. At noon today the reading was 14. Moisture content of today's snow was .09.

FIGHTING a falling tendency, the Mississippi at Winona today was at the 9.7 stage but the cold weather was expected to start a decline in the next 24 hours.

Today's reading was .1 of a foot higher than Tuesday. Predictions for the next three days follow: Thursday 9.6, Friday 9.5, Saturday 9.4.

The river was down a foot at Lake City but rises were recorded from the Whitman Dam to Dakota. All tributary streams were falling. The Chippewa River at Durand was 6.6 today, down .9 of a foot from Tuesday. The Black River at Galesville also was down .9 to 8.0.

The Root River at Houston was near normal at 6.8, down .1 from Tuesday.

OCCASIONAL cloudiness tonight and Thursday is the forecast for the immediate future with a chance of occasional snow flurries and colder tonight. A low of 5 to 12 below is seen for tonight. It'll be a little warmer Thursday, said the forecast, with a probable high of 20.

Variable cloudiness and no important temperature change is the outlook for Friday.

A rather cold week seems in store for Winona and vicinity according to the extended forecast which predicts average temperatures 5 to 12 degrees below normal for the area. Normal average daytime temperatures this time of the year are 25-30 and nighttime lows 2 to 10 above.

State Rests Case In Girl's Death

The state rested its criminal negligence case against a Plainview, Minn., youth this morning in District Court with testimony that he had been driving 90 to 100 m.p.h. on a city street.

The speed estimate was given by a truck driver who was the other driver involved in a fatal collision at 3rd and Carimona streets the night of Sept. 3. He said that he believes Richard H. Brehmer, 21, Plainview, Minn., was moving 90 to 100 m.p.h. seconds prior to the collision which killed Karen Lee Thilmann, 17, a passenger in Brehmer's auto.

JUDGE Arnold Hatfield recessed the trial at 11:30 a.m. when Defense Attorney Daniel F. Foley, Wabasha, Minn., advised him that a defense witness would not be in court until today at 1:30 p.m.

County Attorney S. A. Sawyer called Raymond J. Umberger, Stoddard, Wis., as his principal witness today. Umberger testified that he has worked as a truck driver for Winona Dry Lines, East 2nd and Carimona streets, for the past six years. The night of Sept. 3, Umberger testified, he drove the tractor of a 170-horsepower, tandem diesel truck south on Carimona Street to 3rd Street.

The condition of the vehicle was "perfect," Umberger told Sawyer. His headlights were on, he added.

UMBERGER testified that he stopped for 3rd Street with his front bumper about even with the north curb of the street. He looked to the west, nothing was coming. Looking to the east (his left), Umberger told the court, he could see the headlights of a car about a block and a quarter away.

He engaged his clutch and began to move into the intersection, Umberger related. "The next thing I knew, well I heard the tires squealing on the pavement," the truck driver said.

Umberger told the court that he looked to his left, where he heard the squealing, and saw a car 120 to 150 feet away. The collision followed within three or four seconds he said.

The next thing he knew, Umberger said, his truck was backed against a tree at the northwest corner, 41 feet from the point of impact. The clutch was in neutral, and the engine was racing, he said. Umberger said he didn't know how the clutch lever had been shoved into neutral.

ON CROSS-examination by Foley, Umberger said that he knows 3rd Street is a "through" street. He added that he saw a motorcycle turn east onto 3rd Street from Carimona Street across from him. He followed the motorcycle a second later, Umberger said.

Umberger acknowledged that at a preliminary hearing on the case in September he had testified that the collision took place almost immediately after he entered the intersection. He agreed that his estimate of Brehmer's speed was based at least partly on the few seconds before the collision.

DR. R. B. TWEDDY, coroner, testified that the Thilmann girl died of fractures of the skull, jaw, neck, chest, arms and legs, sustained in the collision. The primary cause of death, he said, was a massive brain damage she suffered.

Dr. Tweddy told Foley that there had been no inquest or autopsy in connection with the death. An autopsy is held only when there is doubt as to the cause of death, the doctor said.

Morgan Glenn M. Morgan, 788 Markato Ave., testified that he paced off 53 "long" paces of dark skid marks left by Brehmer's car up to the point of impact. This did not include the light marks left before the car's brakes took hold, Morgan told the court.

Morgan agreed with Foley that the skid marks had been entirely in Brehmer's lane of traffic and had been in a straight line. Morgan said that he had smelled beer in Brehmer's car, but he admitted that he had said at the preliminary hearing that the smell of spilled diesel fuel overcame everything else.

PATROLMAN James L. Bronk, 524 E. King St., completed testimony begun Tuesday afternoon. He said that the front end, especially the left front, of the Brehmer car had been heavily damaged. The side fuel tank on the diesel tractor had been partially ripped off, he added.

The pavement was dry and the weather clear on the night of the accident, Bronk testified.

Bronk told Foley on cross-examination that the collision had occurred entirely in Brehmer's lane of travel on 3rd Street.

Judge Hatfield is hearing the case without a jury.

TWO STATE'S witnesses directly contradicted statements given at a preliminary hearing last September, three weeks after the accident, as they testified Tuesday afternoon at the trial.

Arthur D. Huebner, 18, 479 W. Mark St., admitted to Foley that he had just remembered that Brehmer drank some vodka on the morning of Sept. 3 in addition to the beer he drank at the Thilmann home.

He was reminded of the vodka Tuesday noon while discussing the case with one of the Thilmann daughters, Huebner said. He admitted six instances at the September preliminary hearing in which he testified that Brehmer was "drinking beer" with no reference to vodka.

At Dodge, Huebner told the court, he and Huebner switched to mixed drinks. Each had two rounds. Then they drove to the "Midway Bar" near Fountain City, Wis., Huebner said; and Brehmer's driving became somewhat erratic.

ALTHOUGH Huebner estimated the defendant's top speed at 65 m.p.h., he said that Brehmer swung onto the wrong side of the road on curves several times.

At the Midway, Brehmer and Huebner each drank another beer, and they both had one or two mixed drinks, Huebner testified. They then drove back to Winona at 60 to 70 m.p.h., Huebner testified. When Brehmer dropped him off with Karen's mother and the girl they had met at Dorothy's, the defendant was "high... the same as I was," Huebner told the court.

Huebner admitted to Foley that his testimony at the preliminary hearing contradicted his claim Tuesday that Brehmer had drunk beer on the way to Dodge. Huebner maintained that his testimony Tuesday is correct, although he admitted his recollection would probably have been fresher in September.

Huebner's testimony Tuesday that Mrs. Thilmann had asked Brehmer to slow down was again contradicted by Huebner's statement at the preliminary hearing that Mrs. Thilmann had made "no protest" about Brehmer's driving, Foley pointed out.

Similar contradictions occurred in Huebner's story concerning Karen's protest about speed on the way to Dodge. He had denied any protest on the way to Dodge at the preliminary hearing, Foley noted.

ROMELLE Kamrowski, 19, 527 E. 4th St., testified that she is the girl who joined the Brehmer-Huebner-Thilmann group at Dorothy's.

She testified that Brehmer went over the center line several times on the way from Dodge to the Midway and that he forced several oncoming cars to slow down to avoid a collision. His speed was 65 to 70 m.p.h., she said.

Miss Kamrowski, however, testified that Brehmer had had only beer to drink at the bar in Dodge, not mixed drinks as Huebner had said.

She said that Brehmer drove 75 to 80 m.p.h. from the Midway back to the interstate bridge. She had been frightened, Miss Kamrowski testified, but was afraid to say anything for fear Brehmer would drive even faster.

Brehmer, by this time, was weaving across the center line and onto the shoulder of the highway, she added.

Miss Kamrowski told Foley that neither she nor anyone else had decided not to ride with Brehmer because of his driving; and no one had offered any objection to Brehmer's being the driver either, she said.

"I SAW THE impact, but I didn't know what it was because there was this one big cloud of steam," Arthur Klage, an eye-witness to the fatal accident, testified.

Klage, 619 E. 3rd St., said he had just come out onto his front porch when he saw the Brehmer car go by at an estimated 70 to 80 m.p.h. He followed the car with his eyes, but he did not see the semi-tractor with which Brehmer collided prior to the accident, Klage said.

Klage told Foley that he remembers his testimony at the preliminary hearing to the effect that his attention was attracted by the noise of the collision. But he denied Tuesday that this was correct. He saw the collision, Klage repeated.

PATROLMAN Bronk began his testimony Tuesday afternoon by saying that he was called to the accident scene at 10:05 p.m. He arrived at East 3rd and Carimona streets within two minutes, Bronk said.

The patrolman said that he found the girl dead, but he found Brehmer's pulse, indicating that the defendant was alive although unconscious.

While examining Brehmer for signs of life, Patrolman Bronk discovered a beer bottle upright on the floor of the vehicle between Brehmer's feet. The bottle was uncapped and partially empty, Bronk said.

200 Attend 1st Survival Class Meeting

Survival preparedness training through Civil Defense (CD) got a start in Winona Tuesday night with a mass meeting at Winona State College's Somsen Auditorium.

About 200 students and adults attended the "orientation" meeting which was intended to precede four weekly classes to be held at seven separate locations in the city.

A HIGHLIGHT of the meeting for Winonans was the presentation of a plaque to Mayor R. K. Ellings in honor of the city's courageous and successful fight against last spring's flood. The plaque was presented by Edward Hakala of the Office of Emergency Planning, Battle Creek, Mich.

Those at the meeting saw a film on preparedness for nuclear attack narrated by television star Garry Moore, but the greater part of the instructional time was devoted to flood preparedness.

With increasing mentions of the possibility of a flood again this spring, it is thought that flood preparedness may be most vital to Winonans immediately.

MASTER of ceremonies Lewis H. Schoening reminded those at the meeting last night that they can be certified as having completed the survival preparedness course if they attend four of the five classes.

That means that persons who did not attend the Tuesday night meeting may still complete the course by attending the next four classes, he said.

Schoening said that citizens may register for the course at any of the seven class centers. They are: St. Mary's College, College of Saint Teresa, Winona State College, Winona Senior High School and Area Vocational-Technical School, Cotter High School, Washington-Kosciusko School and the Winona Secretarial School.

The next class will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the three colleges and at the Senior High School. Schoening said. Cotter and Washington-Kosciusko will hold their next classes next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

A SHOW of hands at the Tuesday night meeting revealed 69 who intend to sign up for the full course next week at their nearest class centers.

Among local, state and regional CD officials in attendance Tuesday night were George K. McGuire, Winona CD director; Ray Johns, Winona County CD director; and Roy Aune, Minnesota CD director.

Post Office Bids Asked in 2 Towns

Bids for larger postal facilities will be opened at St. Charles March 18. Plans and specifications for a new post office at Eyota will be made available in the near future.

Postmaster William Flint said a new post office hasn't been approved at St. Charles, but larger quarters are sought. The U.S. Post Office Department said persons desiring to bid on new construction will be given consideration in competition with other bids.

Specifications are 2,256 square feet of interior; 2,500 square feet for driveway, parking and maneuvering, and 120 square feet of platform. The present post office is in the Coleman-Smith building.

A site has been selected at Franklin and Front streets in Eyota for the new post office. Preliminary plans call for 1,355 square feet of floor space and 3,500 square feet for parking and movement of vehicles. The site option will be assigned to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, construct and lease the building to the department.

It was announced last week that bids would be opened March 22 for leasing a larger building for the Elgin post office.

City May Finance Planning For Small Renewal Project

Winona Housing and Redevelopment Authority commissioners said Tuesday night they may ask the city to pay out-right the cost of planning a small renewal project at Winona State College.

Purpose of such action would be to save some $670,000 of renewal credits from slipping away under an approaching deadline.

OUTLINES of the problem were developed in a discussion held by authority commissioners, William Chapman, city planning consultant, Elmer Binford, regional representative of the Urban Renewal Administration, representatives of City Council and Planning Commission.

Winona Haircut Price Going Up

The price of a haircut in Winona will go up 25 cents Monday, it has been announced by the Winona Barbers Union.

Men's haircuts then will cost $2, children's haircuts $1.75, shaves $1.50 and shampoos $2.

State Official Recommends City Get Flood Pay

Payment of federal disaster funds for damage to railroad yards in connection with emergency dike work last spring was recommended Tuesday by an officer of the state adjutant general's department.

Maj. R. D. Thorson and representatives of the state public examiner's office were here for a preliminary audit of city claims for reimbursement by the Office of Emergency Planning.

City claims totaling about $1.8 million have been turned in to the OEP for reimbursement. Disputes have developed over some items with the OEP disallowing some private claims on grounds that they did not contribute to the general defense of the city.

Maj. Thorson said he believes the city is entitled to reimbursement of a $56,700 claim paid to the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. The amount was to cover damages to trackage and property caused by emergency dike construction in the Crooked Slough area. The OEP previously had disallowed this claim.

The city is appealing the ruling to higher OEP echelons and apparently will be supported by state officials. City officials said today they will prepare further documentation of the claim that damage to rail yards was necessary because it represented the fastest, most economical means of building dikes in the area. In the process, a large borrow pit was opened in the rail yards and great lengths of tracks hastily shoved aside. Yards later were restored to normal condition.

Youth Caught In Stolen Car

A 17-year-old youth was turned over to juvenile authorities by city police today after he was apprehended driving a car without permission of the owner Tuesday night.

The youth was apprehended by Patrolmen Richard D. Bralhwite and John A. Erickson who observed him driving erratically on West 5th Street. They stopped him for a driver's license check and discovered that the car is owned by Arthur G. Steffes Jr., 1093 Marian St.

Steffes was located at a Winona Senior High School basketball game; and he told police that he had not given the youth permission to drive his car, which he had parked near the school.

The incident occurred Tuesday at 8:20 p.m.

500 St. Charles Children Tested For Cystic Fibrosis

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — More than 500 youngsters were tested for cystic fibrosis at a screening session in St. Charles Tuesday.

Students from the kindergarten through the first four grades in both public and parochial schools were tested plus more than 75 pre-school children brought in at the parents' request.

The newly developed silver electrode sweat test, which involves no needles, was administered by a team from the Minnesota Chapter, National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, and the Mrs. Jaycees, St. Charles.

Much depends on an early start for the half-block project near Winona State College, Binford said. Although no application for planning or project grant has yet been made for it, this is the means for capturing a large pool of surplus non-cash credits which the authority can later apply to downtown projects. As now conceived, it would employ renewal procedures to acquire and clear land for an off-street parking lot next to the campus.

Eligible as non-cash credits toward the city's share of the project would be college land acquisition and clearance expenditures retroactive for seven years. In 1959 these expenditures were about $168,700, according to figures supplied by the state department of administration.

UNDER THE standard three-fourths-one-fourth sharing ratio for federal and local governments, this means total federal and local credits of more than $670,000 for 1959 alone. Such credits are applicable to the college project — when planned and executed — with surpluses eligible for transfer to downtown projects.

If the authority followed usual procedures, it would apply for a planning grant for the parking lot project. Approval by federal agencies and planning would consume about four months, Binford estimated.

LISA HOBBS AND CHINESE

Report on Red China To Be Made on Friday

Lisa Hobbs, foreign correspondent for the San Francisco Examiner, will report on life inside Red China, in Somsen Auditorium, Winona State College, at 8 p.m. Friday.

The public has been invited; there is no admission charge. She was the first staff reporter of a U.S. newspaper to enter Communist China in nearly 10 years. The 21-day, 4,000-mile trip was made in the summer of 1965.

She will report on food, clothing, housing, employment, religion, crime, communications, travel, education and propaganda, literature and the arts.

The lecturer, a native of Australia, has been in the United States five years as a reporter. She lives in San Francisco with her husband and two children. While a foreign correspondent for other newspapers she was in London two years. Special assignments in Southeast Asia supplied information for her recently published book, "I Saw Red China."

January Payrolls Here Set Record

Winona employment for January dropped slightly below the December level but still set a record for the month, according to the Minnesota State Employment Service.

The number of persons on jobs at mid-January was 10,534, higher by nearly 200 than the level of January 1965, according to Ray H. Brown, manager for the local office.

PAYROLL declines were seasonal in character, Brown reported, with manufacturing, retail and construction accounting for most of the drop.

The labor supply loosened somewhat from the tight conditions of fall and early winter, said Brown. Most unemployed persons were listed as temporarily laid off pending the arrival of spring. Employer forecasts indicate present levels will continue for the next 30 to 45 days, Brown said.

Following the normal pattern, manufacturing showed a work or loss in December. Seasonal slowdowns were felt in textiles, paper and allied, chemicals and wood products. There were crew reductions in the flax industry and production cutbacks in knit goods, Brown said.

Metalworking alone moved higher.

RETAIL trade settled back to pre-holiday levels and showed the greatest reduction in employment workers. Layoff of extra help was the prime source of this reduction, Brown said. General merchandise, apparel stores, eating and drinking places and variety outlets led the downward trend.

Retailers expect current levels to be maintained until Easter when trends are expected to rise again.

Smaller jobs in the construction industry were hard hit by extreme cold last month. Major building projects continued with

Then the authority would make the actual project application, involving perhaps another six months, he said.

Retroactive credits are figured from the date of a project grant, he said. Thus, the 10-month lapse would put this date in late 1966. Retroactive credits would go back to the same date in 1959. If the college had acquired deeds to clearance areas before the cut-off, those expenses would no longer be eligible as renewal credits, he explained.

THE AUTHORITY, with the City Council's approval, should therefore try to get the project application in as soon as possible. Because of the large amount of credits involved, he said, the city might well spend money for its own survey and plan. This would save the time necessary for federal approval and financing of the plan.

With a completed plan, said Binford, the authority could make immediate application for a project grant, thus cutting out some delays that might be highly costly in terms of lost credits.

Asked what such a plan would cost the city, Chapman said a rough estimate would be $8,000 to $16,000. This would not be covered by federal grants or loans.

IF A PROJECT plan and application were ready now, Binford said, approval might be secured any time from 60 days to six months hence. Availability of federal funds would have considerable bearing, he said. He also said he would try to gain top priority for such a request because of the vital time factor.

Chapman told the authority that while 1959 credits totaled $168,700, those for 1960 totaled only $60,000.

Non-cash credits in connection with college work are a major factor in financing plans for downtown renewal projects. Present estimates put the total at $1 million, which translates into $4 million of renewal credits at the three-to-one sharing ratio.

These credits have been budgeted to the first three projects in the comprehensive downtown renewal plan. If fully available they would hold outright city cash contributions to an estimated $89,424 for projects costing a total of $8,443,136, according to project budgets.

COST of planning a half-block project seems high, objected James Schain, planning commission chairman. Chapman replied that many factors are involved, including complete surveys of property and buildings, interviews with each occupant about relocation and the requirement that each be offered comparable sanitary, safe and decent housing at prices each can afford.

Cost of planning Project No. 1 in the downtown neighborhood, he said, would be about $80,000. Area of the project is three blocks.

Recertification of the city's workable plan must be granted before a project application can be accepted, Binford said. The barrier at present to recertification is lack of a citywide neighborhood analyses program, he said. Council and planning commission moves have been made to overcome this obstacle.

Answering another question, Binford said the proposed downtown parking lot on H. Choate & Co. property could be donated by the city or sold to the authority when renewal reaches that area. It is up to the city to decide which course would be better from the financial standpoint, he said.

FOR RENEWAL purposes, the lot would be considered an interim use by which land is held for eventual use in a project, he said. By whatever means it is transferred, it could become part of the city's one-fourth share of a project cost.

Chapman and James Klein-schmidt, urban renewal director, told authority chairman Dr. W. O. Finkelnburg they will study the college project area and report at a forthcoming meeting. They will estimate cost of planning and surveying, determine the area and investigate times of the 1959 land acquisitions which make up the $168,700 total of non-cash credits.

Dr. Finkelnburg said the information will be given to the planning commission and council as soon as available.

Trucker Leaps From Vehicle Ahead of Train

A Winona truck driver escaped injury when he leaped from the cab of his gravel truck seconds before it was struck by a Chicago & North Western Railway train at the Airport Road crossing Tuesday afternoon.

Sheriff George L. Fort's office investigated the accident, although the site is actually within the Winona city limits. City police assisted in the investigation.

Donald Dingfelder, 468 Liberty St., told Deputy Helmer Weinmann that he was driving a truck loaded with gravel north on the Airport Road when he saw a three-car train approaching from the west.

He stopped the truck, but its front end was on the rails, Dingfelder said.

The driver for Kujak Brothers, Inc., jumped from the truck when he saw that the train's "panic" brake would not stop it in time to avoid the collision.

Impact spun the truck tractor off the road to the south of the tracks. Damage to the truck and trailer was about $2,000. There was also some damage to the front of the train, which consisted of an engine, a boxcar and a caboose.

Train No. 32 of the Chicago & North Western was engineered by R. J. Beranek, 529 Lafayette St. Its conductor was L. H. Drews, Waseca, Minn. The accident occurred Tuesday at 2:50 p.m.

Mixed Emotions Over New U.S. College Loans

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A survey of more than 100 college placement officials shows mixed emotions on the government's rapidly expanding student loan programs.

Many placement officials foresee further crowding of already crowded campuses and a resulting decline in the quality of higher education, Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. said it found through a survey.

The officials did give guarded approval to bringing a college education within the reach of every American high school graduate who wants it.

But many said the colleges must maintain strict admission standards — and stiffen them if necessary as applications grow. In its survey the Insurance company said Lehigh University's comment was a frequent reaction:

"A college education should be provided for those who could benefit from it — not all people can. A certain minimum ability is required."

North Warren Votes 27-26 for Lewiston

One vote made the difference Tuesday night as members of USD 2573 (North Warren) voted on a plan for consolidation of their district into the Lewiston school system. Fifty-three votes were cast.

The tally showed 27 persons in favor of consolidation and 26 against it, according to Jesse B. Jestus, superintendent of schools. A simple majority was needed for approval.

North Warren Votes 27-26 for Lewiston

Jestus will now issue an order of consolidation, effective March 1. The school will continue to operate until the end of this term, but will be under Lewiston's jurisdiction after March 1, Jestus explained.

Nine students in six elementary grades now attend the school. Valuation of the district is $77,400.

Actress Gives Up Stage for Home

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — It doesn't often happen that a brilliant actress like Elizabeth Ashley (of "Barefoot in the Park") flings aside her chances for fame and Big Money, by deciding to stay with her guy. But Liz, who got a considerable start in the movies in "Carpetbaggers" and "Ship of Fools," is determined to stay close to George Peppard, her guy, and skip the career. Her agents found they couldn't even get her on the phone to talk about movie roles — she didn't want them. She was just interested in marrying George around April sometime. A lot of Show Biz people are going to say she's crazy, but a lot of people who know Show Biz people, are going to wonder, "How could she get so smart?"

Liz Carpenter, Lady Bird's press sec'y., got off some goodies at the Radio & TV Correspondents' dinner. She said, "Behind every successful radio and TV correspondent stands a woman, and behind her stands his wife." ... said Ronald Reagan owes a lot to the Late, Late Show: "and he has the Late, Late Philosophy." ... "Mae Craig since retiring from the Press Corps has become custodian of the Jim Aubrey Friendship Center."

Better Times Than Expected for 1966

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The Prudential Insurance Co. has revised upwards its economic forecast for 1966.
A spokesman said the company estimated the 1966 gross national product at $726 billion, instead of $714 billion predicted last November.
The revision was based on the possibility of a buildup in armed forces strength, the company said.

Early Teal Reports
A rather complete report on the early teal season held last September has been compiled by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, and the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife Refuge, and released this week. These reports class the experimental season a success but pinpoint a few defects.

Refuge biologists and field men, according to data collected by Dr. W. E. Green of the refuge, checked 358 hunters with 532 ducks during the season, or an average of 1.49 ducks per hunter. They spent an average of 2.97 hours hunting for each duck bagged. In the local refuge kill there were 512 blue wing and 20 green-wing.

Projected under the formula used in such programs, the hunters spent 2,525 days hunting, got 3,762 teal, and lost, or did not retrieve 1,263 for a total of 5,025 birds. Twenty percent of the hunters, one out of five, violated the teal regulations, according to Bart Foster, who headed the enforcement crew. Woodcock, mallard, and widgeon were here in numbers during the open season. Wing checks carried on during the season showed bluewing kill was 9 to 1 over green wing.

On the two flyways, Mississippi and Central open, the average season take was four teal per hunter.

The wing survey determined the ratio of green-winged to blue-winged teal in the bag. It also showed that a much larger number of young blue-winged teal was taken than older birds. The ratio was two young birds to each adult in the bag, indicating good production of blue-winged teal in 1965.

Male blue wings predominated in the bag, particularly for adults. This was especially true in Texas, where nine adult males were bagged for each adult female. During the regular hunting season, females predominate because males migrate earlier. The experimental season harvested some of the male blue wings that normally escape the regular hunting season. A greater proportionate harvest of males is desirable because they are not as vital for heavy summer production.

A third study was conducted during the experimental season. This particular study was made only to gather information. Bureau and state personnel spent 2,181 hours observing teal hunters. This hunter-performance study indicated an illegal kill of 13,000 wood ducks, 7,000 mallards, and 14,000 ducks of miscellaneous species. Approximately one-half million wood ducks are normally killed each year during the regular season.

The 20 states that participated in the experimental early teal season were: Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, and those portions of Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming that lie east of the Continental Divide.

Traffic Safety Must Become Family Project

IT'S A BAD exchange, a life given or taken for a moment of neglect or carelessness on the highway, but Minnesotans are making the exchange at a record rate.

Minnesotans are killing themselves and each other at a rate of more than two persons every day of the year, and it is conceivable that within a year or two they will be doing it at a rate of three per day, and then four, and then five per day.

Traffic safety needs to become a family project in order to make it an everyday fact in family life. It is only reasonable that the family, as a group, should take the full responsibility for protecting itself in traffic, since it is the entire family that suffers when one of its members dies or is severely injured in traffic.

Parents, first of all, must realize that the continuing rise in traffic accidents is an increasing and immediate threat to the family. The next person either killed or severely injured out there on the road could be the son or daughter or father or mother of your family. When one member is taken prematurely from the family or crippled for life, the effects are long-lived and far-reaching.

PERHAPS WHAT is needed is a high-powered campaign to start every family thinking in these terms, and emphasizing that the family through its own efforts can keep itself in one piece, or at least can reduce the chance of any member being involved in a serious accident.

The family working together should be able to enforce the practice of established rules for safe driving, such as always using seat belts; it should be able to inoculate in its children the desirability of driving sensibly, not carelessly or rebelliously; it should be able to stop the father, or any other member, from driving after drinking alcoholic beverages.

To get such a statewide project moving, what is needed is a genuine desire on the part of all Minnesotans to do something about reducing the incredible carnage taking place before their very eyes on the streets and highways of this state—a desire to make traffic safety a continuing part of everyday life.

IT IS BOTH ironic and curious that a man will apparently, although not literally, place greater value on his job than on his life. The same man who will devote every conscious moment to his work in order to keep his job, will not put the same effort into driving in order to keep his life. Perhaps it is because he is not yet convinced that travel by car constitutes a real threat to his life. A life is a big price to pay for ignoring the facts.

Sales Tax Most Logical Revenue Source

(St. Cloud Times)

MANY PROPERTY owners know by now what will be the amount of the real estate taxes they will pay during 1966. The increases are little short of frightening. They serve to emphasize again our antiquated state taxing system that imposes far too heavy a burden on property, much of it falling upon the homes.

For persons of fixed incomes, and for those of moderate means, the home tax is near the point of diminishing returns, and some families face real hardship in making the tax payments which are higher for 1966 than ever before. Home ownership is becoming a luxury that fewer and fewer families can afford, and that is alarming because in any state or county or community, the solid base of good citizenship is measured by the number of home owners.

There are only two chief sources of government revenues at present. The state income tax produces a good share, but it already is one of the five highest in the nation, and further increases in rates would be near-prohibitive. The revenues derived from real property taxes provide the most solid tax base, but, as we have noted, these levies are also at a peak and relief from them is urgent.

IT HAS BEEN obvious to all but a few diehards that the state's tax structure is in dire need of new revenue sources, and the most logical is a state sales tax, already bringing relief to 39 other states. In Minnesota the sales tax issue has been a political football, and no party or faction or candidate has so far publicly declared for it. On the other hand a sales tax would accomplish at least several important things.

It would lighten the burden on home owners. It would ease the personal property tax paid by business and farmers, it would bring into the state treasury (to be shared by the counties and municipalities) a new source of revenue, much of it paid by persons who presently are either mostly untaxed, or who are carrying less than their share of the tax load.

Minnesota is a state to which each year come several millions of visitors, to enjoy our lakes and recreation facilities, to attend major league baseball and football games, to come to conventions of all sorts. Most of these visitors are from sales tax states and their contributions to a Minnesota sales tax would produce important money, from sources not now tapped by our present tax system.

WE HOPE THAT the next legislature, in regular session in 1967, will have the courage to enact a sales tax measure, and we hope we have a governor who will have the understanding and vision to approve it. Unless that step is taken, we may be heading into serious trouble.

Reds Will Quit If Hurt, Belief

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Nobody can predict just when the Viet Nam war will end, but it could happen suddenly. An unexpected break has often come in the past. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, one of the advisers on Viet Nam who accompanied President Johnson to Honolulu, makes this very point in a copyrighted interview published this week by "U.S. News & World Report." He said:

"I can remember how quickly situations have changed in the past. Take the Berlin airlift — how quickly it stopped once the other side made its decision. And we had no intimation that it was going to end, or very little. The opening of negotiations in Korea came very quickly, although the negotiations thereafter dragged interminably.

"So we're never quite sure. When you're in action against an enemy and you're hitting each other day by day, the only thing you know is that, if you keep hitting him long enough, some day he'll give way. And I hope we're approaching that day."

GEN. TAYLOR was commander of our forces in Berlin during the latter part of the blockade crisis there. He later was U.N. commander in Korea and then became chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff in 1962. He served last year as American ambassador to Viet Nam. He is very knowledgeable on the whole Viet Nam problem, and believes that steady, unrelenting pressure is more significant in its effect than some single action or dramatic maneuver.

But even a policy intended to be resolute can fail to convince the enemy that it's time to quit. If, for instance, the high-brow debates by professorial witnesses before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee continue to belittle our strategy and to give an impression of irresoluteness or weakness, the enemy will be encouraged to stick it out. Only when the North Viet Nam government makes up its mind that the punishment being inflicted on it daily is not to be relaxed — and, instead, that the price is going to be higher in lives and damage to property — will there come a sudden decision to be realistic and arrange a cease-fire.

DURING THE course of his interview, Gen. Taylor picked up a little book and read from it the words of Clausewitz, the famous German authority on military tactics, who wrote:

"If the enemy is to fulfill our will, we must put him in a situation which is more disadvantageous than the sacrifices which we demand of him. These disadvantages must not appear to be transitory. Otherwise the enemy will wait a better time and not give up."

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Contractor in Connecticut Supplies Dodd With Car

By JACK ANDERSON

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Drew Pearson's column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — Only Senate leaders are furnished government limousines; all other senators, including committee chairmen, are obliged to provide their own transportation.

There is, however, one curious exception. Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., drives a sleek, black jet 88 Oldsmobile thoughtfully provided by a Connecticut contractor.

The car carries the Connecticut license tag, "U.S. Sen. 1," but the registration is made out to Dunbar Associates, Inc., of 54 Pane Road, Newington, Conn.

The senator has been driving the Dunbar company car ever since July, 1964. He wrote a thank-you letter, carefully marked "personal," to David Dunbar, the company president, on July 23, 1964.

"I want you to know how deeply grateful I am to you for the wonderful assistance which you have given me," wrote Dodd. "The car is just great, and it sure gets me around."

SOON AFTER the car arrived, Dodd began scouting around for government contracts for Dunbar Associates. He made inquiries at the Atomic Energy Commission and Government Printing Office.

Thanks in part to his intervention, Dunbar was awarded the contract to close down the Connecticut Advanced Nuclear Engineering Laboratory.

The senator was less successful, however, with the public printer. He turned this project over to Gerry Zeiller, a former assistant, who investigated whether Dunbar could get the contract to move the government printing office to a new building.

Last June, Zeiller received a note from the senator's private secretary, Doreen Moloney.

"DAVE DUNBAR called and wanted me to check with the senator about setting up a luncheon next week with Jim Harrison of government printing," wrote Miss Moloney. "The senator said to check with you, and I suppose if you give the go-ahead, the luncheon can be set up."

Zeiller learned that the printing office wouldn't be moving into its new office for several years, and that all contracts would be handled by the joint congressional committee on printing.

"In view of this," replied Zeiller in a memo, "I am sure there will be very heavy political implications in the whole deal and will take an awful lot of spade work to get any piece of this action for Dunbar or anybody else."

Beneath the gruff exterior of Cosa Nostra killer Joe Valachi, it can now be told, beats the heart of a poet.

THE FEDERAL agents who arrested him were nonplussed to discover several tender verses among his pistols and brass knuckles. Addressed to his blonde girl friend, Carol Jacobs, they made up in passion what they lacked in rhyme.

"Do you love your Joey boy?" entreated one Valachi poem. "If you don't love your Joey boy, he is going to die."

Being such a sentimental fellow, Joey boy had enough love left over for his wife, whom he used to address affectionately as "Mommy." But whatever feeling "Mommy" (formerly Mildred Reina) had for Valachi apparently has faded.

Alone in his cell, Joe recently wrote in his unpublished memoirs: "My wife was a saint, even if she is mad at me. I must tell the truth there isn't a woman on earth that is better than her. They could equal her but not better — a lot of class — God bless her."

THE FBI is investigating the practice of certain foreign governments to hire American private detectives to spy on political refugees who have been granted asylum in this country.

Some private eyes function virtually as secret police for these governments.

One of the worst offenders is the island dictatorship of Haiti which, over the years, has hired the following detective firms: Associated Detectives, Inc., Miami; Borger Associates, New York City; and National Detective Agencies, Inc., Washington.

National detective's chief, Chauncey James, stated frankly on his registration form that one of his functions was "to ascertain the activities of certain Haitian citizens, government officials and former government officials who are presently in the U.S.A."

Note: In 1959, Richard Chamber registered as a Haitian agent to furnish information on people "conspiring against the Haitian regime."

WASHINGTON CALLING

U.S. Seeking Pacific Treaty

By MARQUIS CHILDS

HONOLULU — From the long row of windows in Admiral Sharp's office the view is out over Pearl Harbor and the sunlit sweep of the Pacific. As commander-in-chief, Admiral Sharp presides over an empire of 85,000,000 miles, with American forces in the three services approaching the 600,000 mark.

So massive is the commitment to this empire that the Viet Nam War is seen as only one phase, if at the moment the most critical phase, of the thrust of American power. For better or worse, the die has been cast. To reverse the drive for an American future in the vast area of the Pacific seems impossible short of a nuclear encounter.

Parallels are always dubious, but the central effort today is to do in the Pacific what the United States did in the Atlantic. That is to shape a new alliance and, to use a piece of government shorthand, build an infrastructure that will sustain it.

This is the chief objective of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's current tour of Asia. It is first to wrestle up another 20,000 to 25,000 troops from American Asian "allies" for the war in Viet Nam. But for the long pull it is to lay the groundwork for an alliance of broader scope and sterner purpose than the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

SOUTH KOREA is expected to provide a second division of upwards of 20,000 men. Australia will continue a second battalion and New Zealand may add a second small contingent. If present expectations are fulfilled, the Philippines will come through for the first time with 2,000 engineer-service troops. The Philippine military receives substantial American aid in fuel and other essentials.

There are times when both military and diplomatic officials talk as though Viet Nam were a lesson to be learned in the unending task of holding and consolidating the "free world" in the Pacific. They foresee that the next battleground may be Northeast Thailand and not so distant, either.

FOLLOWING a meeting of commanders from all over the Pacific, which coincided with the Honolulu conference, a new kind of cautious hope colors the outlook for Viet Nam. For perhaps the first time, military men speaking privately believe they have all the elements in readiness to do the job. By 1967 the Viet Cong will begin to fade away, not by seeking negotiation at a peace table, which no one expects, but by acknowledging they cannot win.

At that point the guerrillas may spill over into Thailand through the Laos corridor, the route today of up to 80 percent of the infiltration into South Viet Nam.

This is one reason Humphrey is not expected to ask Thailand for troops. They are likely to need all they have, plus a sizable American unit to stop a Viet Cong type of aggression.

BUT IT IS in the thrust of the far-flung construction effort that the permanence of the Pacific empire is evident. Hundreds of millions of dollars are going into contracts with the great American engineering firms to build whole new harbors, docks, large military installations. And this is not in Viet Nam alone.

A new supplementary port is being built in Saigon harbor. Camranh Bay is a construction rivaling anything in America. New jet airstrips cover thousands of acres. Unceasingly across the 8,000 miles of the Pacific ships and jet cargo planes — there is never enough space — carry the infinite variety of American productive know-how.

HERE THE commitment grows by the arithmetic of contract and profit. As more and more elements are involved with a direct self-interest the lasting nature of this Pacific endeavor becomes clear. Even in the improbable event that peace should break out tomorrow, the building of the infrastructure would go forward. In type, Admiral Sharp is

To Your Good Health

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband had cirrhosis of the liver from drinking, but the problem has been arrested. He gave up liquor for a year and a half, but now he thinks he can have a social drink and it won't hurt him. The doctor said no alcohol at all. Will drinks other than whiskey harm him? — H.S.

When the doctor said "no alcohol at all," that's what he meant. Your husband is lucky to have come along so well, but every ounce of alcohol, in whatever form, will harm him from now on. The liver doesn't know whether it's a "social drink," or whether it is beer, vodka, gin, wine, brandy, Jersey Lightning, corn squeezin's or what. All the liver knows is that it is alcohol, and that it increases the damage. Tell your husband to quit hunting for excuses, and to avoid alcohol entirely.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been drinking two quarts of carrot juice a day for two months and intend to continue. Health food people say that this will be of great benefit as I have recently had surgery for a malignancy, and the cancer cells cannot grow if I continue the carrot juice. I have not told my doctor that I am consuming this amount. Do you think I can harm myself? — V.M.

If carrot juice (or anything else known) could prevent cancer cells from growing, we'd use it.

Chances are that this huge amount of the juice will start adding a yellowish cast to your skin before the oversupply of carotin can be eliminated. It's also a waste of carrots. (And inform your doctor, so he won't be puzzled when this yellow cast appears.)

no imperial pro-consul. He has a quiet, reasonable approach to the diplomatic aspects, including the bombing pause, as well as the military responsibilities of his command. But there is no doubt as he takes off from time to time to inspect his remote outposts who is boss of this extraordinary undertaking.

Relief for night-backache lets you sleep again

Sometimes backache comes like a thief in the night, "steals" away your sleep, then robs you of energy all the next day. When the cause is overwork or just the daily strain of exertion or tension, that's the time to try Doan's Pills for speedy relief. Millions have found Doan's pain-relieving action often brings welcome relief from this nagging night-backache, headache or muscular pain in the night.

Then, too, unwise eating or drinking may be the cause of minor yet annoying bladder irritation. Doan's Pills often help to bring prompt relief in two ways: first, their soothing effect on bladder irritation. And, second, their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Keep Doan's Pills handy. Millions have relied on Doan's for over sixty years. And for your convenience, get the large size.

Charm of Hawaiian Islands Outlined by Mrs. Stevens

Ruskin Study Club members heard a vivid, informative description of the Hawaiian Islands Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rudolph W. Miller.

MRS. LESTER Stevens, the speaker, talked on Hawaii's temperate climate, the lush vegetation, the wide variety of flora and fauna and the people, whom she described as a "hand-some race," which has evolved from a mingling of Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Filipino, Spanish and English, with the native Polynesian.

Mrs. Stevens, who recently made a trip to Hawaii, commented on the sugar, coffee and pineapple business in the Islands and told about native foods, such as taro, a starchy substance which is one of the staples.

She described the lovely flowers of Hawaii, including the pink and white plumeria, used for making leis, and also orchids, of which she said there are 22,000 varieties.

Mrs. Stevens displayed some of the articles she brought back from Hawaii, including dishes carved from wood of the monkey-pod tree and necklaces made of epil-epil seeds.

THE SPEAKER was enthusiastic about the beauty of the Islands, particularly of the frequent rainbows, which "seem to move close to the ground, as if at one's feet," she said.

After her talk, Mrs. Stevens answered questions about the Hawaiian volcanoes. The last volcanic eruption in March, 1965, added 500 acres to the earth's surface, Mrs. Stevens said.

During a business session presided over by the first vice president, Mrs. J. Milton Dahm, it was decided to hold the April meeting on the 4th instead of the 11th.

COMMITTEE appointments were announced. On the program committee are Mrs. Robert Selover, chairman, assisted by the Mmes. Herbert Bierce, N. J. Fischer and William F. White. Mrs. Bernard Kelly was named chairman of the nominations committee, to be assisted by Mrs. George Kelley and Mrs. Richard Callender.

Mrs. Bierce poured at the beautifully appointed tea table, which featured a large fresh pineapple, snowy coconut bon-bon cakes and macadamia nuts, all Hawaiian specialties described by the day's speaker.

STATELY APPROVAL . . . Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag is holding a proclamation designating this week as the 1966 National Beauty Salon Week. Mrs. Carl Thompson, Winona, right, is state chairman for National Beauty

Salon Week. Mrs. Jeanette Reiter Pirk, Owatonna, Minn., left, is state president of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

National Beauty Salon Week Theme, 'Wing Into Spring'

This week, the 16th annual National Beauty Salon Week, is dedicated to more beautiful women with the theme, "Wing into Spring with the New Hair Styles."

Members of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association are re-emphasizing their year-round program of public service within their communities, in addition to their professional beauty care work.

Headed by Mrs. Mark Kratch, the Winona group, with a membership of about 25, each year sponsors a charitable project during Beauty Week. Operators will take time off from their shops and donate their time, material and services to women residents of the Manchester and Starzacki rest homes. Every woman in the homes desiring attention will receive it — from shampooing, styling, coloring, cutting, permanent waving and combing.

WINONA hairdressers participating will be the Mmes. Joan Brokaw, James Englerth, Willard Hoeft, Carl Thompson, Kenneth Overberg, Peter Jerowski, Evelyn Baab, Roman Gierok, Kratch and Floyd Silbaugh and Miss Diane Engrav. Miss Dee Mehaffey is president of the local affiliate.

New spring hair styles also are presented throughout America during this week.

This year millady's head will have a petite, elegant look, accented with softly-waved hair that flips up into a crest on one side. . . . sometimes looking like a cockatoo crown and sometimes flowing like plumes. Waves will flow smoothly and end in gentle half curls, according to Mrs. Kratch.

THE CHIC length is short. Exact length depends upon individual needs.

Color will be a combination of natural shadings, sometimes using as many as three colors. The new styles have wide adaptations, Mrs. Kratch pointed out.

DEAR ABBY:

Take Child to Psychotherapist

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our son is our problem. He has always been a good boy and a bright boy, but he is an introvert. He has no friends and claims he doesn't want any. He is sarcastic and arrogant, shows no affection and asks for none. He could be handsome, but over the years he has gained so much weight it pains me to look at him. Yet he pretends he doesn't care, and he continues to eat everything and anything while he grows fatter. We have begged him and bribed him, but nothing has worked. Where do we go from here?

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: An obese child is an unhappy child, screaming for help. He has built a wall of fat around himself to keep others from getting close enough to him to discover his human imperfections. (We all have them.) Only a psychotherapist can unearth his problems. Why wait?

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, have been married six years and have two children. I really love my husband Abby, but my problem is that I'm terribly attracted to a married policeman in town. Every time our eyes meet it's like a magnet is drawing us together. It's never gone any further than that, but I'm afraid it might. I keep promising myself I will avoid him, but I just have to see him again. This has been going on for a year and it hasn't helped my marriage any. Should I ask him please to ignore me because I haven't the will power to ignore him?

DEAR WEAK: NO! If you are ever going to demagnetize yourself, you'll have to do it with no help from him. Go out of your way to stay out of his sight. Continue this treatment for about 20 years and I'll guarantee you a complete cure.

DEAR ABBY: I do a lot of babysitting in the neighborhood. Sometimes, when there is nothing good on television, I get bored so I look for something to do. Twice I have found family albums on the shelves, so I have looked through them. It's fun to see pictures of the families taken many years ago right up to the present time. My mother thinks I shouldn't look at these albums unless I ask permission, or unless they are lying on the table for guests to look at. I don't see any harm in it. What is your opinion?

LIKES TO SNOOP

DEAR LIKES: I agree with your mother.

DEAR ABBY: While his wife was suffering from an incurable disease, he became my lover. We spoke of having a life together after the inevitable happened. But when it finally did, he told me with a straight face that he was going to marry a co-worker in whom he had been interested for some years because she made a large salary, and they could look forward to TWO company pensions. I thought my life was over.

For months I walked around in a daze and cried myself to sleep every night. I am slowly coming out of it, but I feel 100 years old and look every day of it. Thanks for letting me get this off my chest, Abby. I had to tell somebody.

BITTER LESSON

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

is the showcase of the Marines' civic action program. Almost all government officials and dignitaries who visit Da Nang are given a tour of Le My.

The fund goal is $500. Mrs. C. A. Brye, chairman said. Campaign headquarters will be at Harvey's Country Store. Harvey Olson will be teller. The county goal is $6,000. Mrs. Brye said the county must make its quota to finance the blood program.

Heavy Rains Help N.Y. Water Supply

Some Incumbents Don't File in Houston County

CALEDONIA, Minn. — A new clerk and new supervisor are indicated in three Houston County townships as a result of filings for the election March 8.

Arthur Lampert has filed for clerk to succeed H. P. Noel in CROOKED CREEK Township. Noel isn't seeking the office again. Only supervisor candidate is Arnold Gillen, incumbent.

Polls will be open at St. Nicholas Parish Hall from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

In SHELDON TOWNSHIP, Donald Runnigen has filed for supervisor to succeed John Vetsch, who didn't file. Warren Swenson is seeking re-election as clerk and is not opposed.

Voting will be at the town hall, the former Harrington School, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Vetsch, Roy H. Ask, Earl H. Rud and Swenson will comprise the election board.

At the town meeting at 1 p.m., electors plan on a change of town hall or meeting place. The two incumbents have filed for re-election in HOUSTON TOWNSHIP. Homer Stelplugh, clerk, and Nels J. Nelson, supervisor, are not opposed. Polls will be open at the town hall from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The township meeting will be at 1 p.m.

Walkins Names Two Officials

A new director of counter branch operations and a new rural recruiting manager have been named at Watkins Products, Inc.

Fred Nuszloch, 459 Collegeview, has been named director of counter branch operations, according to C. C. Currier, vice president of city sales.

Nuszloch joined Watkins in 1945 as an assistant counter branch manager at St. Louis. In 1954, he was transferred to Winona and was in charge of mail sales for District B. He was named Midwest district manager in August 1957 and held that title until his recent promotion.

C. S. Case, Red Top Trailer Court, with Watkins since 1948, was named rural recruiting manager, according to H. M. Meyers, vice president of rural sales. Case started with the firm as a fieldman in Nebraska, and in 1959 became district manager of southern Minnesota. A year later he was transferred to Denver as a branch manager. In 1963, Case was appointed rural recruiting and training director.

Flu-Like Disease in California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A widespread attack of a disease resembling the flu is sweeping Southern California.

Schools report that absenteeism is averaging 30 per cent. Businesses were equally hard hit.

Similar outbreaks of the ailment were reported in areas ranging as far north as the San Francisco area.

In Los Angeles alone, school officials said absenteeism had hit 15 per cent — with about 115,000 of the city's 780,000 school children sick at home and about 2,000 teachers out of 30,000 absent.

Wisconsin Unit Of Legion Plans Member Roundup

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — A 10th District American Legion membership roundup will be held at Post 32, Menomonie, Sunday.

The district now is in sixth place among the districts in Wisconsin, with a percentage of 88.53 based on a 4-year average. The district needs 886 members.

Of the 63 posts in the district, 26 are over the top. Lou Chiquette, Hager City, is district commander; Philip Berg, Rice

Lake, district membership chairman, and Arnold Thorpe, Blair, first vice commander.

An official meeting of the executive officers will be held in connection with the roundup.

Of Wisconsin's 456,000 veterans, 75,000 or 18 percent are members of the American Legion, Thorpe said. There are 56,000 World War I veterans and 400,000 from World War II and the Korean conflict.

PRE-LENTEN PARTY

DODGE, Wis. (Special) — Sacred Heart Parish is sponsoring its annual pre-Lenten party Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the church hall. An evening of games and cards is planned. The party is open to the public.

Lake Township To Nominate At Its Caucus

LAKE CITY, Minn. — Lake Township doesn't have nominations for the March 8 election by filings, according to Russell Breuer, clerk.

Candidates are nominated at a caucus held in connection with the annual meeting at the town hall, which is scheduled to open at 1 p.m.

Polls will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Terms of Breuer and William Lichtblau, supervisor, expire. The board will be judges of the election. Rural fire protection will be discussed at the township meeting.

50 Evacuated in 11 Milwaukee Fires

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Fifty persons were evacuated Tuesday night after 11 separate fires were discovered in three adjacent apartment buildings.

"It's definitely arson, and arson of the worst kind, when they do it in an apartment building where people are involved," said Deputy Fire Chief Herbert J. Gurn.

None of the occupants was hurt. Two firemen, Lt. Steve Kryscio, 55, and Gerald Skora, 32, were hospitalized for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Derailment in South Dakota

HURON, S.D. (AP) — Eighteen cars off an eastbound Chicago and North Western Railroad freight train from Rapid City to Huron derailed Tuesday morning about four miles west of Blunt, S.D.

Officials at the Dakota Division headquarters here said a broken rail caused the derailment. No one was injured.

Crews and a wrecker were dispatched from Huron to remove the wreckage and to restore service on the main line.

They Catch Paper Fish

DODGE, Wis. (Special) — About 1,500 people Sunday afternoon attended one of the strangest ice fishing contests ever held.

No lake, no ice, no fishing poles were in sight. The winter thaw last week and flood conditions on Lake Dodge prompted the sponsoring Sportsmen's Club to cancel the fishing contest, but decided to hold a contest anyway.

There were prizes — 300 of them. Fishermen fished out of a box and caught tickets marked with different species of fish and different weights. The largest "fish" won the prize, which included rifles, rods and reels, insulated boots, sportsmen's lanterns, etc.

Vincent Przytarski, 86, Trempealeau, received a special prize because he was the oldest fisherman present. Mrs. August Thomas, 84, Arcadia, was the oldest woman at the contest. There also were other miscellaneous gifts to the youngest boy, 7-month-old Thomas George, Arcadia, Jackie Dittich, Alma, the youngest girl, and others.

19 Wisconsin Counties Off Depressed List

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Nineteen counties, most of them in Northern Wisconsin, are being taken off the federal government's list of depressed areas.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles made the announcement Tuesday and called the action an indication that "we now have virtually full employment."

He said only two counties in Wisconsin are still defined as depressed areas and remain eligible for federal grants or loans under the Public Works and Economic Development Act.

The two counties are Iron and Menominee.

To be taken off the list and be no longer eligible for federal development aid are:

Adams, Ashland, Bayfield, Burnette, Douglas, Florence, Forest, Juneau, La Crosse, Langlade, Lincoln, Marinette, Oneida, Price, Rusk, Sawyer, Taylor, Vilas and Washburn.

DFL Caucuses Slated March 1

Richard O'Bryan, Winona County DFL chairman, announced today that DFL precinct caucuses will be held in Winona County March 1.

Caucuses will be held in each of the voting districts at the normal polling place in the city of Winona and the townships, unless notice is otherwise given at the polling place.

O'Bryan said to be eligible to attend the DFL precinct caucuses, participants must be an eligible voter or eligible to vote by the time of the next election, and be in agreement with principles of the party as stated in the DFL constitution.

The county chairman also reminded county DFLers of the precinct meeting tonight at 8 p.m. at the Teamsters Club. Campaign material will be distributed, and discussion of precinct organization and campaign plans for 1966 will take place. Duane Peterson, 1st District DFL chairman, and O'Bryan will speak at tonight's meeting. The Winona County DFL convention will be March 27 at the Teamsters Club, O'Bryan added.

Fox Lake, was to undergo eye surgery today at Lutheran Hospital, La Crosse. Her husband taught agriculture at Blair High School 16 years.

Railroad Sues Truck for Crash

SPARTA, Wis. (AP) — The Chicago and North Western Railroad has filed a $425,000 damage suit against a firm whose truck collided with a train at a grade crossing last year, resulting in a spectacular derailment in which the wreckage caught fire and burned for several days.

Driver of the truck, Raymond Dickerhoff Jr., of Washburn, was killed and several train crew members were injured when the vehicle, operated by the Bay Land Auto Implement Co., of Ashland, was involved in the collision at Valley Junction.

The railroad's suit, filed in Circuit Court at Sparta, contends that the truck driver failed to keep a proper lookout, did not have his vehicle under control, was driving at an excessive rate of speed, failed to yield right-of-way and failed to slow his speed for the crossing.

The truck was loaded with farm machinery at the time of the crash.

Winonan to Help Dedicate Border War Monument

A Stockton Hill resident who served with the Minnesota National Guard during the Mexican Border action against Pancho Villa in 1916 will be one of 30 Minnesota veterans of the border action who will participate this weekend in dedication of a monument at Weslaco, Tex., commemorating their service in the Mexican border campaign.

Edward T. Curtis, Winona Rt. 1, has been selected to represent this community in a delegation headed by Maj. Gen. Chester J. Moeglein, state adjutant general, that will fly to Texas aboard an Air National Guard C-97 aircraft Friday for Saturday's dedication ceremonies.

Curtis

CURTIS was among about 150 officers and men from the Winona area who were members of National Guard Company C of the 2nd Minnesota Infantry that was called to duty in the Mexican border incident in June 1916. The company was commanded by Capt. Alfred O. Stubstad, 509 W. Broadway, and Curtis was a sergeant in the unit.

Curtis recalls that the company was stationed at Llano Grande, a short distance from the Mexican border, and during its tour of duty that lasted until the following winter was engaged in patrol and guard activity and training exercises.

Curtis assumes that Weslaco is at or near the site of Llano Grande. He said that he had returned to that area for a visit in 1961 "but wasn't able to locate anything that I recognized from before because there weren't any landmarks there that seemed familiar."

THE monument being dedicated is carved from Minnesota granite and is being erected on the 50th anniversary of the border action. Funds for the monument were allocated by the Minnesota Legislature at its last session. State Sen. Harold S. Nelson, Owatonna, a veteran of the campaign and a retired brevet brigadier general, will present the dedicatory address.

National Guard units from 25 Minnesota communities were called into service in 1916 by President Woodrow Wilson with the development of the Mexican border crisis and were part of a 150,000-Guard force activated to serve as border patrol and to augment the United States Army as needed.

The Winona company returned home in January 1917, only three weeks before the Minnesota Guard was reactivated for service in World War II. Curtis left Company C later to attend officer training school and was commissioned an officer in the Army.

AFTER THE war he served with the Illinois National Guard for about 15 years and in 1940 was called to organize the Winona home guard unit for World War II before leaving for active duty. He was separated in 1946 and retired in 1956 with the rank of major in the Engineers.

Curtis and other members of the Minnesota delegation will meet at Wold Chamberlain Field, Minneapolis, to fly to Texas for the ceremonies.

'Brain Drain' To East Denied

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The so-called "brain drain" of top students from all parts of the nation to the East is a fallacy according to a leading educator.

D. R. Hans Rosenhaupt, director of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, said a study based on 2,500 Woodrow Wilson fellows showed most of them returned home after completing graduate study.

Baraboo Plant Gets Contract For Gunpowder

BARABOO, Wis. (AP)—A Defense Department contract of $7,316,900—three times as large as originally expected—was granted Tuesday for production of gunpowder at the Badger Ordnance works.

John Tryor, federal superintendent of the plant near Baraboo, said the contract is about $5,500,000 more than first expected.

He said the contract would result in a boost of employment to about 950 persons by the end of the year instead of 340 as announced earlier.

Strub Awarded Silver Medal for Prediction

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A silver medal for his forecast work during the 1965 floods was presented Tuesday to Joseph H. Strub Jr., Twin Cities airport weather bureau hydrologist.

The presentation was made in Washington by the Department of Commerce. Strub was cited for his "extremely accurate forecasting of the disastrous floods — a job which was credited with saving many lives and avoiding much property damage."

Strub made daily predictions of water levels in several streams including the Minnesota and Mississippi, allowing business firms and householders to prepare for floods.

Strub, a native of Lansing, Iowa and a former college football player, has been with the Weather Bureau since 1947 and in the Twin Cities since 1954.

Bob Friend, ex-Pirate who will pitch for the Yankees this year, broke in with Waco, Tex., in the Big State League in 1950.

Legion Asking Membership Link to Draft

Leon J. Wetzel Post 9 went on record Tuesday evening to tie national American Legion membership to the military draft.

The Legionnaires voted to send a resolution through channels to make every honorably discharged veteran, who has served since Dec. 7, 1941, eligible to become a member of the American Legion.

AS NOW chartered by the Congress, the Legion is a "war-time" veterans organization, that is its membership eligibility dates are linked to time periods when it has been judged the Legion was at "war": April 6, 1917, to Nov. 11, 1918; Dec. 7, 1941, to Sept. 2, 1945, and June 25, 1950, to July 27, 1953.

But concepts have changed. The resolution points out, and veterans of the "Cold War" and now certainly in the undeclared conflict in Viet Nam are exposed to as much danger as many World War I and II veterans.

of the Legion authorized formation of a committee to study broadening of Legion membership. It will recommend that Congress be asked to change the charter to make those eligible who have served since the Gulf of Tonkin attack Sept. 2, 1964.

The Winona resolution asks that eligibility be continued as long as the draft continues.

SPEAKER at the post meeting was Cy Carroll, Glenville, 1st District commander, and an avowed booster of the Legion's Americanism program. He said he has often wondered how his generation (he is a father) had failed the young generation. He said, "We didn't attend PTA meetings; we didn't attend school functions; we didn't find out what was being taught."

He said that he believes "students should be taught about communism but should be taught difference between it and democracy." College students, generally, he commented, are not ready to challenge alone the dedicated Communist.

"In grade school," he continued, "we need to teach honor of old glory — love, God, country; if we don't we are lost. They won't have anything to grasp onto."

The country, he said, has become more united in the last six months.

AT THE meeting Commander Ronald Hammond announced formation of a committee to obtain the 1967 district convention: Lyle Haney, John Prosser, David Morse, James Donahue and Hammond.

Donald T. Winder, reported on Americanism activities.

The 1966 membership now is 876. A dinner preceded the meeting.

Insurance Co. Receiver Named

ST. PAUL (AP) — R. Paul Sharood, a lawyer from West St. Paul, was named receiver of U.S. Mutual Insurance Co. by Ramsey County District Judge Robert Rensch on Tuesday.

Rensch had declared the company insolvent Thursday and ordered it liquidated.

Sharood was recommended by Minnesota Atty. Gen. Robert Mattson. U.S. Mutual stopped writing insurance policies Sept. 2, after the financial collapse of the related American Allied Insurance Co. of S. Paul. Acting Insurance Commissioner Joe Haveson reported that U.S. Mutual has a deficit of $150,840.

Whitehall Council Discusses Radio

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — The Whitehall City Council indicated interest Monday night in a civil defense radio communications system.

A base station could be placed in the county clerk's office for a cost to the city of $150.

Federal funds would pay 50 percent of the costs, county and city funds sharing the remainder. The station also could be maintained with federal matching funds.

Fire Chief Louis Boehm was authorized to investigate a new fire alarm system. Boehm, also civil defense director, was authorized to attend the extension course at the National Guard Armory at Black River Falls.

Appointed to the election board for two-year terms: Mrs. Clara Peterson, John Hegge, Mrs. Hiram Hegge, Ralph Rasmussen, Mrs. Paul Lovlien, Mrs. Clarence Briggs and Oscar Lovlien.

In addition to his four no-hit, no-run games, the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax has also pitched a pair of one-hitters and eight two-hitters.

Modern Math — No. 8

Operating Off Base

By PROF. W. F. LLOYD
University of Tampa

Off base arithmetic probably has caused more clamor by parents than any other facet of New Math. The complete bewilderment of uninitiated parents and their chagrin at being unable to assist youngsters with their homework has led some of them to condemn the method before they learned its benefits.

Modern Math was not developed to torture parents but to help youngsters. While parents may suffer, the kids take to it like ducks to water. Children have a real feeling of achievement when they master this new concept, which is just a small part of the total program.

Now let's tackle the mystery of off base numerals. Will the methods that we have always used still work? Must we learn a new method for each base? Can all four operations be performed in any base? Read this thrilling installment and find out.

Ideally we should memorize our number combinations for each base. For example here is the table of addition and multiplication facts for base 5.

TABLES FOR BASE 5

+	0	1	2	3	4
0	0	1	2	3	4
1	1	2	3	4	10
2	2	3	4	10	11
3	3	4	10	11	12
4	4	10	11	12	13

×	0	1	2	3	4
0	0	0	0	0	0
1	0	1	2	3	4
2	0	2	4	11	13
3	0	3	11	14	22
4	0	4	13	22	31

It would of course be cruel and unusual punishment to require students to memorize these tables and similar ones for other bases so we resort to another device. We think of our digit combinations in base 10 and then translate the result to the desired base. For example, in ordinary experience, $4 + 3$ is always equal to 7. But if we were working a problem in base 5 we would translate the 7 to 12. That 12 is read "one, two, base 5". So $4 + 3 = 12$ (base 5).

More examples

Let us stick to base 5 for the next examples.

$4 \times 3 = 22$ (base 5) instead of 12 in (base ten)

$11 - 4 = 2$ (here we translate the 11 to 6 and think, $6 - 4 = 2$)

If we change the base we keep using the same general idea. Thus $4 + 3 = 11$ (base 6) instead of 7 in (base ten)

Thus $4 \times 3 = 20$ (base 6) instead of 12 in (base ten)

So, when the students come home with some weird answers to arithmetic problems, they are simply writing the answers a new way.

If the problems are longer, the same general method is used.

Let us examine an addition problem using base 5 numerals.

First add the ones

214 column $4 + 2 + 3 = 9$

302 which translates to 14 (base 5). Write the 4 and carry the 1 to the 1114 fives column.

Add the fives column $1 + 1 + 6 + 4 = 12$, which translates to 11 (base 5). Write the 1 and carry the other 1.

Add the remaining column $1 + 2 + 3 = 6$, which translates to 11.

Here is a subtraction problem using base 5 numerals:

To subtract the ones column we must borrow from the fives column, making the top number 12 which translates to $7 - 4 = 3$.

Write 3 in the answer. To subtract the fives column it is necessary to borrow again. Making the top number 11 or $6 - 2 = 4$. Write the 4 in the answer.

Now examine a multiplication example using base 5 numerals.

Multiply $3 \times 2 = 6$ which becomes 11.

$\times 43$ Write the 1 and carry 1. Multiply 3×1

1441 — 3 plus 1 carried = 2303

30021 Write the 4. Multiply $3 \times 3 = 9$ which becomes 14. Carry out the same procedure with the 4 as multiplier. Because the 4 is in the "fives" column the first product must be written in the fives column as shown.

Finally add the products. (Be careful to write the sum in base 5 numerals.)

In working a problem in long division we use exactly the same procedure that we use in ordinary arithmetic. The example below will look a little odd, but every step is an exact duplicate of the steps using everyday numbers.

$$\begin{array}{r} 24 \\ 32 \overline{) 1434} \\ \underline{114} \\ 244 \\ \underline{233} \\ 11 \text{ remainder} \end{array}$$

Long division is the most troublesome operation in arithmetic because it is a trial and error process. It is also most troublesome when off base numbers are used.

It Makes Things Plain

Operations with fractions and the off base equivalent of the decimal point are investigated in some schools. Here the child is shown that in base 5 notations, .1 means $1/5$. .01 means $1/25$. .001 means $1/125$, etc. This is in line with the interpretation of the decimal point in regular arithmetic. Many schools ignore this complication.

These operations are included in Modern Math for the purpose of clarifying and reinforcing the student's understanding of these arithmetic operations. The child will appreciate the versatility and simplicity of our methods after working with these different numerals.

Carrying, as used in addition, will be better appreciated by the student when he understands that he is not carrying 1 or 2 but rather 10 or 20. The zero is not necessary because of the place value of the column to which it is carried. Borrowing in subtraction is similarly illuminated when the student is aware of the fact that he is not borrowing 1 but is borrowing the base.

The examples above may not make this too clear, but in the classroom, when more time is available, poorer emphasis is placed on this important concept. In teacher training, off base numbers have been used to impress prospective teachers with the difficulties facing youngsters learning arithmetic for the first time.

In all operations there are three basic difficulties. First is the number combinations themselves. The student must have memorized his number combinations. The second is to determine which numbers to combine and the third is to know what to do with the results of the combination.

Analysis of a simple multiplication problem like 234×5 (base ten) may serve to untangle this statement. The student must know his multiplication tables before attempting the problem. He must then realize that he starts out by multiplying 5×4 and getting 20. Then comes the final step of writing the 0 of the product under the 5 of the multiplier, and carrying the 2.

Before Modern Math, these steps frequently were a matter of rote learning. The child did it because he was told to by recognized authority, not because he understood what was involved.

Next: Numbers Go Round And Round.

Coeds Protest Student Beards

COOKEVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — About 200 coeds at Tennessee Tech spent their Valentine's Day staging a protest against cultivation of beards by male students on the campus.

Wearing long gowns and night caps and carrying banners and huge reproductions of safety razors, electric shavers and razor blades, the coeds made it clear that they are tired of it all.

Triplets Born on Valentine's Day

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The James O'Toole family evened things up Valentine's Day. Mrs. O'Toole gave birth to boy triplets.

Hawk Balance Measures Central by 77-63

Winona Record Now 12-3

CHASE IS ON . . . La Crosse Central's Ron Abraham (foreground) and Winona High School captain Gary Addington stage an all-out chase for possession of the basketball during action in their game Tuesday. Abraham finished with 20 points to lead Central, but the Hawks pushed five men into double figures and won 77-63. (Daily News Sports Photo)

BY GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

It was just a few hours after John Kenney had called this his finest team.

In the locker room at Winona High School, the Hawks were quietly going about the tasks of dressing and Kenney was studiously involved in examining the shot chart.

"Look at that," he said, stabbing at the first-half sheet. "Twenty for 28 and only one missed shot in that funnel around the basket."

It was that 71-percent shooting display — and another streak in the fourth quarter — that propelled Winona to a 77-63 victory over La Crosse Central Tuesday.

The rematch between the two teams pushed Winona's record to 12-3 for the season and avenged an earlier setback in La Crosse. Central now stands 12-5.

What Kenney had said earlier again was proven as Winona parlayed a five-man double-figure attack into the win. It was much the same as it has been all season. Don Hazelton finished with 17 points. Paul Plachecki got 15, John Walski 14, Larry Larson 13 and Gary Addington 12.

"That first five functions real well," smiled Kenney. "Together and hitting on all five cylinders in the first eight minutes, the Hawks shocked Central with a 10-for-13 shooting attack to lead 22-12."

They built that to 42-26 at the half. But, as in the first meeting, Winona had its trouble with personal fouls and wound up battling it out of reach in the final eight minutes.

Central steadily closed the gap in the third frame, scoring a 48-32 deficit to a much closer 48-40 as Randy Hilleheim swished a jumper. Terry Hass converted three free throws, Ron Abraham one and Steve Flaten a drive before the Hawks could break the monotony on a Walski free throw.

Then Flaten put in another two-pointer and Hass one to clip it to 49-44. And it was snipped to 53-51 at the quarter on four points by Abraham.

But the Hawks got back together as a unit in the fourth period and calmly ran it out of reach.

The score stood 59-55 when Plachecki ran down a jumper and a free throw and Gary Addington a one-hander to make it 64-55.

Central then counted on a goal by Gary Meir from deep on the left side, but Winona got the next 11 and had it won.

In that span, Walski hit two free throws and a field goal, Gary Addington four free throws, Rick Curran an outside jump shot and Hazelton a free throw.

And it was on Addington's fourth straight free throw with just under two minutes to play that Kenney went to his reserve unit.

For Central, Ron Abraham wound up with 20 points and Hass got 11.

The Hawks now go to work for Friday's Big Nine Conference game at Rochester.

A victory in that one will assure Winona, 8-0 in the Big Nine, of at least a share for the conference title. A Hawk championship would be the first in the history of the school.

"We still slow a little when we don't have that first five in there," mused Kenney. "They'd better be ready for Rochester."

Statistically, Winona finished with 33 of 60 in the field goal department for 55 percent. Central struggled to 30 percent on 24 of 79.

In rebounding, Winona held a 41-33 advantage. "We only missed eight shots in the first half," recalled Kenney. "And we got three offensive rebounds. That's not too bad."

And the Hawks proved again they aren't too bad as a unit.

ALL SIGNS POINT TO YES RIGHT NOW

CCC Spot for Ramblers?

By BOB JUNGHANS

Daily News Sports Writer

It's unofficial, but almost certain, that Cotter High School, along with three other high schools, will be accepted as members of the Central Catholic Conference.

The Athletic Directors of the five schools now in the conference (St. Louis Park

Benilde, Minneapolis DeLa-

Salle, St. Paul Cretin, St.

Paul Hill and St. Paul St.

Thomas) have already approved the bids by Cotter, Rochester

Lourdes, Austin Pacelli and West St. Paul

Brady to gain entrance.

What remains now is for the heads of the schools to voice their approval; usually a mere formality.

"They had a meeting (the school heads) but one of them was called away on an emergency," said John Nett,

Cotter athletic director and basketball coach. "So they weren't able to take a full vote."

"But I talked to Bill Habenen (athletic director and basketball coach of Benilde) and he said it looked real favorable."

The conference membership,

if it is given the final ok, will involve football, basketball and track.

"It will actually involve football and basketball more than track," said Nett. "It will mean only one track meet a year, the conference meet."

Whether Cotter is accepted into the CCC or not, the Ramblers will still play an independent football schedule next year because of contract commitments

with their first conference competition coming in the 1967 season. But whether the Ramblers will compete in the CCC in basketball during the 1966-67 search is still up in the air.

"We discussed it, but nothing has been resolved," said Nett about the basketball situation. "I know we and Lourdes haven't done anything about scheduling any basketball games for next year, but Pacelli already has 15 scheduled.

There might be a problem

there. And if we do play in the basketball conference

next year, it might not be a full round-robin."

If the four schools are accepted, it will bring the non-conference membership to 11, but St. Bernard's of St. Paul and St. Paul St.

Agnes compete only in hockey and baseball in the CCC.

Regardless of whether Cotter would play in the conference in any sports next season, Nett feels that acceptance to the CCC would be a terrific boon to Ramblers athletics.

"We'd be facing tougher competition week in and week out. It will improve our brand of ball," said the veteran basketball coach.

"In the long run it will be much better for us, and I think our attendance will improve, even if we don't

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) —

Iowa's home court magic worked for the ninth time without defeat this season as the Hawkeys scratched Minnesota's Big Ten basketball title hopes 96-87

Tuesday night.

The Hawks brewed up a stingy defense, scrambling offense, and the unsettling effect of 12,900

rabid home fans. The result knocked the Gophers into a third place tie with Illinois, both

5-3 in the Big Ten. Iowa is now

4-4.

Minnesota hurt its own cause with fouls, turnovers, defensive lapses and poor shots at critical moments. But the Gophers never gave up.

Minnesota pushed off to a quick 12-5 lead, before the hawkeye spell began to work. Paced by Chris Pervall who poured in 28 points, George Peoples who got 25, and Ben McGillmer with 22, Iowa stormed to a 47-44 halftime edge.

The Gophers trimmed it to six points and kept hammering away, led by Lou Hudson's 28 points, Archie Clark's 23 despite fouling out with over five minutes to play, and Wes Martins who counted 20 points. But four other Gophers contributed only 18 points among them.

The Hawks sank half of their field efforts to 49 per cent for Minnesota, outbounced the Gophers 44-31, and led in charity tosses with 22 of 31 compared with 21 of 27 for Minnesota.

Saturday, the Gophers try to break their third-place tie with

Illinois at Champagne-Urbana.

After Iowa's work, Michigan's

7-1 record and Michigan State's

6-2 mark seem almost impossibly distant.

Wilt? Just Say He Has Continued

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Robertson, who missed last Sunday's game because of a groin injury, played all but two minutes and led the Cincinnati Royals past the Boston Celtics 136-123 Tuesday night in a game in which Russell played less than two minutes.

Chamberlain continued to lead Philadelphia in its drive to unseat the Celtics as the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division champions by scoring 34 points and grabbing 20 rebounds in the 79ers' 121-109 victory over St. Louis at Pittsburgh.

Philadelphia now is only 1½ games behind the Celtics while the Royals are 2½ back.

In the other games Tuesday night, the Baltimore Bullets unleashed a fourth-quarter spurt and whipped the Detroit Pistons 114-105 and the Los Angeles Lakers overcame an early 14-point deficit and turned back the New York Knicks 132-124.

Robertson, with 31 points, was one of four Royals who hit for 20 points as Cincinnati built a 70-58 halftime lead on its home court and coasted to the victory.

Russell started for Boston but had to leave because of a leg injury. His replacement, Mel Counts, quickly picked up five fouls and played only 17 minutes.

WABASHA, HOLY TRINITY WIN

Kenyon Bombs Northfield '5'

Kenyon took another stride toward an undefeated season, while Rollingstone Holy Trinity prepped for the upcoming Region Six Catholic tournament by popping La Crosse Holy Cross 73-59 in Minnesota High School non-conference basketball action.

Kenyon vaulted what appeared to be its last major hurdle en route to an unbeaten campaign when it knocked off Northfield of the Big Nine 85-67.

Wabasha trounced Lewiston 95-57 to stretch its season record to 14-1.

In another game, Randolph trimmed Simley 57-54 on the strength of a fourth quarter rally.

KENYON 85 NORTHFIELD 67

Kenyon exploded in the fourth quarter, outscoring Big Nine foe Northfield 28-13 in that period to notch its 16th straight triumph of the season, 85-67, Tuesday night.

The game had been nip-and-tuck through the first three quarters with Kenyon leading 21-19 at the end of the first period and Northfield taking a 42-36 halftime margin.

Kenyon came back to take a 57-54 third-period lead and then Northfield lost

Mike Hager and Dave Follansbee on fouls and it was practically over.

Jim Kindseth poured through 30 points and held his adversary, Eric Bundgaard, to 21 to spark the Kenyon victory. Steve Strandemo hit 23 and Rick Gates 17 for the Vikings.

Barry Holden hit 20 and Ken Sellers 14 for Northfield.

WABASHA 95 LEWISTON 57

Behind the one-two-three punch of Dennis Iverson, Pete Ekstrand and Jack Kane, Wabasha blitzed Lewiston 95-57 Tuesday night for its 14th victory in 15 outings.

The Indians had little trouble, jumping to a 19-10 first quarter lead and pushing it to 41-29 at the half as Wabasha shot 56 percent compared to Lewiston's 31 percent.

Iverson had 29 points and 16 rebounds, Ekstrand had 25 points and Kane had 20 points and 19 rebounds.

Dean Wilde and Ron Kessler had 17 and 16, respectively, for Lewiston.

HOLY TRINITY 73 ROLLINGSTONE 59

Rollingstone Holy Trinity pushed its record above the 500 mark this season with a 73-59 explosion past La Crosse Holy Cross Tuesday night.

The victory, fashioned on a balanced scoring attack and a good first half, gives Rollingstone a 6-5 season mark. The Rockets jumped to a 20-12 first-quarter lead and held a 38-24 halftime margin.

Dave Arnoldy paced the attack with a 22-point effort. Ron Ruhoff pitched in 15 and Chuck Rinn added 11 to the Rocket offense.

Dale Zimmerman had 18 and Mark Servalis 12 for La Crosse.

RANDOLPH 57 SIMLEY 54

Down by nine points going into the last quarter, Randolph bombed the nets for 20 points while holding Simley to eight and took a 57-54 victory Tuesday night.

Dave Gergen paced the Rocket barrage with 18 points and Don Pressnall added 17. Bob Sethe had 10.

Randolph actually trailed in the game from the beginning, down 19-8 at the first quarter and 32-25 at the half.

Al Kreech hit 12 and Jeff O'Donnell 11 for Simley, which won the B game 50-30.

Nationals To Skate Top Unit

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The U.S. National Hockey team, which will compete in the 1966 world hockey tournament March 3-12 in Yugoslavia, is rated by Manager Wayne Dornack "on paper as good as the 1960 U.S. team which won the Olympic championship."

"We could be a darkhorse in the world tournament," Dornack said Tuesday, "but that's barring any injuries. On paper, we look real good. We've got a lot of experience; we've had the past few years."

Dornack is not going out on any limb to predict big things for the U.S. Nationals in the 1966 meet, however. Asked to rate the top teams to compete in Yugoslavia, Dornack said:

"That's pretty easy to predict. I'd rate them in this order going into the tournament: Russia, Canada or the U.S. after that."

The 16 players the U.S. team will take to Europe are Len Liljeholm, Tom Yurkovich, Brad Teal, Ken Johansson, Craig Falkman, Dick Haigh and Larry Stordahl from the Rochester, Minn., Rockets; Rod Blackburn, Bob Currie, Marsh Tschida and Jerry Melychuk from the St. Paul, Minn., Steers; Mayasich, and Hank Therrien from the Green Bay, Wis., Bobcats; Roger Massonneuve from the Toledo, Ohio, Comets; Dick Roberge from Johnston, Pa.; and Emery Ruelle from the Waterloo, Iowa, Black Hawks.

TWINS TALK . . . Minnesota Twins Manager Sam Mele strikes a relaxed pose as he chats recently in his office at Metropolitan Stadium with club traveling secretary Howard Fox. Houston	11	1	Spring Grove	8	7

Rushford	9	3	Mabel	3	9
Canton	8	7	Peterson	2	10

Peterson, which dented the victory column for the first time in the Root River Conference less than two weeks ago climbed to astronomical heights Tuesday night, shocking league leading Houston 49-47 and shaking up the loop standings.

Caledonia moved with the top spot by nudging Rushford 72-49 and breaking a second-place tie. Spring Grove moved into a tie for fourth by nipping Canton 73-71 and Mabel further scrambled the standings by topping La Crescent 90-71.

PETERSON 49 HOUSTON 47

Houston, loser of only two games in 14 starts this season and previously undefeated in the conference, was stunned by last place Peterson 49-47 Tuesday night.

Gerald Agrimson tossed in a hook shot with three seconds to play that gave Peterson the upset triumph, only its third victory of the season. It was Agrimson's only two points of the night, but he did haul down 15 rebounds.

Houston had come back from an 11-7 first quarter deficit to take a 23-17 halftime lead and stretch it to 41-34 by the final quarter. But Peterson came back and won it on Agrimson's bucket.

Wayne Hasleiet led Peterson with 15 and Jerry Hatlevig had 12. For Houston, Rick Schnauer popped in 12.

Peterson made a clean sweep of it with a 41-30 victory in the 'B' game.

CALEDONIA 72 RUSHFORD 69

Caledonia avenged an early season loss to Rushford and jumped into undisputed second place — and very much into the contention — with a 72-69 triumph Tuesday night.

The Warriors got off to a slow start and trailed 22-18 at the end of the first period, but they came back to lead 41-38 at the half and 56-47 by the end of three periods.

Jon Ask and Jack Hauser led the assault with 25 and 24 points, respectively. Paul Wagner tossed in 10.

Dick Hungerholt and Mike Wolf each scored 16 points. Jim Wolf had 14, Glen Kopperud added 13 and Scott Johnson 10.

SPRING GROVE 73 CANTON 71

Canton lost a two-point lead in the fourth quarter and then Tony Elton dropped in a pair of free throws with 1:30 to go to give Spring Grove a 73-71 triumph Tuesday night.

Both teams later had shots at the bucket, but neither could connect.

Gaylord Anderson meshed 26 points and Don Rosasen hit 21. Don Solberg was held to six.

The two-pronged attack offset a 36-point performance by Canton's Don Fay. Fay also had 15 rebounds. Darwin Halverson added 17.

Canton won the 'B' game 65-50.

MABEL 90 LA CRESCENT 71

Mabel came up with its best offensive show of the season to trounce La Crescent 90-71 Tuesday night.

The Wildcats led only 43-31 at the half, but exploded for 47 points in the second half to wrap it up.

Kim Loftsgaarden paced four Wildcats into double figures with 27 points. Rick Reuhmann had 18, John Tengsdahl 16 and Derrick Dahlen hit 14.

For La Crescent, Don Thesing popped in 16 and Bill Harlos hit 13. Duane Fancher and Roger Curran had nine each.

ARKANSAW, GILMANTON BOW

Fairchild Is Back on Track

Fairchild got back on the winning track while four other area teams continued to have their troubles in nonconference basketball action Tuesday night.

The Purple Dragons topped the century mark for the third time this season in downing Lima Sacred Heart 101-57.

Alma Center Lincoln and Arkansaw, a pair of teams who showed early season promise, continued late-season slumps. Lincoln fell to Neillsville 70-68 while Elk Mound topped Arkansaw 73-63.

Gilmanton continued in the woes of a shooting drought in tumbling to Plum City 62-27 while Augusta lost to Fall Creek 77-75 in double overtime.

FALL CREEK 77 AUGUSTA 75

Augusta blew two chances at victory and finally succumbed to the shooting of Chuck Kramer as the Beavers fell to Fall Creek 77-75 in double overtime.

Augusta built a 43-42 halftime lead but saw that dissipated in the second half as Ron Stanek, Tom Clark and John Volbrecht all were whistled out of the game with fouls. But the Beavers did come back to tie it 63-63 at the end of regulation.

The Beavers again gained the lead in the first overtime, but a bad pass with 10 seconds to go resulted in a Fall Creek basket and a 71-71 tie. Then Kramer, who hit 24 points for the night, put in a pair of quick buckets in the second extra session and Augusta couldn't recover.

Dick Osborn led Augusta with 23 points. Tom Anderson had 16, Clark 14 and Volbrecht 13. Butch Summerfeldt hit 23 for Fall Creek.

ELK MOUND 73 ARKANSAW 63

Arkansaw suffered its third loss in its last four games Tuesday night, tumbling to Elk Mound 73-63, and once again personal fouls played a big part. The Travelers, now 1-14 for the season, lost leading scorer Dave Dreier in the first half on fouls but still struggled back to take a third period lead. But then Dennis Hutter also went to the bench and Elk Mound pulled away.

Dreier had 15 points, Jeff Hoffman meshed 19 and Hutter 12 for the Travelers. Craig Price hit 21 and Jerry Werener 16 for Elk Mound.

PLUM CITY 62 GILMANTON 27

Gilmanton, which shot only 10 percent against Arkansaw last Friday, managed only 17 percent from the field Tuesday night and fell to Plum City 62-27.

"It's almost unbelievable," said coach Warren Rosin of his team's shooting slump. "We had three starters without a field goal."

And as if that wasn't enough of a problem, the Panthers have

West Salem Strikes Blow For Coulee

Coulee Conference teams split in four non-league games while Whitehall continued to impress on the high school basketball front Tuesday night.

West Salem chalked up the biggest victory for the Coulee, stinging Hillsboro, a team given special mention in state polls, 64-61.

Trempealeau bounced Taylor 67-51 while Durand was taking the measure of Gale-Etrick 60-50 and Onalaska Luther was running its unbeaten string to 16 with a 96-74 conquest of Melrose-Mindoro.

Whitehall won its 10th in the last 13 games with a 90-72 rout of Mondovi.

TREMPEALEAU 67 TAYLOR 51

Trempealeau, appearing to come alive after a mid-season slump, won its third in a row and ran its season record to 11-5 Tuesday night by belting Taylor 67-51.

The Bears honed out a 12-10 first period lead and lengthened the margin to 30-21 at the half and 54-38 going into the last quarter.

Tom Johnson led the attack with 19 points while Gary Herbert and Irv Nehring split 24.

Maynard Kral fired in 20 to take game honors for Taylor. Larry Mitchell hit 13.

Trempealeau also won the B game 63-41.

WHITEHALL 90 MONDOVI 72

Whitehall, blitzing the nets for 48 points in the second half, stormed past Mondovi 90-72 to run its season record to 10-6.

The Norsemen, led by 26 points from Bruce Ausierau and 22 from Bary Johnson led only 37-35 at the half after trailing 25-19 at the end of the first period. But they turned it on, outscoring Mondovi 53-37 to sew up the victory.

Keith Johnson added 19 to the attack, while Gene Bump led Mondovi, now 7-8 for the year, with 17 points. Bill Hehl had 15 and Rick Meier 13.

Whitehall won the B game 53-49.

DURAND 60 GALE-ETTRICK 50

Durand held Gale-Etrick's offense in check and romped to a 60-50 victory Thursday night, upping its record to 9-8.

The Panthers jumped to an 18-12 first-quarter lead and slowly added to it the rest of the way.

Dale Harschlip's 22 points paced the Panthers. Steve Brack helped out with 12 and Jerry Buchholtz hit 10.

Bob Guertler hit 19 for Gale-Etrick.

Durand won the B game 54-29.

ONALASKA LUTHER 96 MELROSE-MINDORO 74

Using the balanced attack that has been its trademark, Onalaska Luther moved within two games of an unbeaten season Tuesday night by ripping Melrose-Mindoro 96-74.

Six Knights hit double digits as they raced to a 52-33 halftime lead and then trashed Mel.

WON'T PICK REPEAT

Mele Becomes Conservative

Editors Note: The Minnesota Twins open spring training next Monday at Orlando, Fla., as defending American League champions. What is the outlook for successful defense of that crown? For its annual Twins' prospectus, The Associated Press went to Manager Sam Mele and President Calvin Griffith.

By LEW FERGUSON

ST. PAUL (AP) — Sam Mele, by nature an optimist, has turned as conservative as a New England Yankee.

Winning one American League baseball pennant did it.

Don't misunderstand. It's not that Mele is pessimistic about the Minnesota Twins' chances of repeating as champions in 1966. It's just that he more fully appreciates all the intangibles that go into winning a pennant — several key players having good years together, overcoming injuries that are bound to strike, and a generous dose of luck.

"I'm optimistic about our chances of repeating," Mele says as the Twins open spring training camp at Orlando, Fla., next Monday. "These fellows liked playing in the World Series and getting that extra money. Only this time we want to go all the way — win the Series."

Then, as if such a rash statement might come back to haunt him, Mele backs off.

"I don't want anybody to pick us first," he says, as if warding off a hex. He adds:

"It's like playing the king of the hill when we were kids: All the teams are going to be trying to knock us off, like they used to try to do the New York Yankees. It's going to be a lot tougher, and it's up to us to meet the challenge."

Mele lists no fewer than five challengers he feels the Twins must beat off to retain their title — headed by Baltimore and including Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and the Yankees, "if they're healthy."

Baltimore, Mele is convinced, helped itself more than any of the other AL rivals by trading pitcher Milt Pappas to Cincinnati for outfielder Frank Robinson, a long-time National League batting star.

"Robinson could be the hitter the Orioles have been lacking," Mele said. "They have some young pitchers who I think can take up the slack left by Pappas' leaving. With Robinson available, Baltimore can play Boog Powell at one position and that will help him.

"I'd definitely rate Baltimore our No. 1 challenger."

Going into spring training, Mele and President Calvin Griffith are resolved to play a pat hand in '66 — unless some opportunity to trade turns up between now and when the season opens here April 12 against Kansas City.

Mele and Griffith want (1) a proven regular at second base and/or a good-hitting utility infielder; (2) a left-handed hitting third string catcher who would be a reliable pinch hitter; and (3) more pitching, because "you never seem to have quite enough."

Chances of landing any of this additional help appear dim, except for the availability of one-time Yankee star Johnny Blanchard from Atlanta to provide the No. 3 catcher.

"Nobody wants to trade with a winner," Griffith said before his departure for Florida.

And Mele sees no rookies who are likely to break in with a splash.

"We're going to play a pat hand," Mele frankly admitted.

Who's to say there's anything wrong with that? The Twins finished in a tie for 6th in 1964, made no trades and won a pennant in 1965.

Next: Right-handers are the key.

Tigers Capture Share of Title

LAKE CITY, Minn. — Lake City, battling from behind all the way, won the last four matches to capture a 23-15 dual wrestling meet and a share of the Hiawatha Valley Conference wrestling crown with Kasson-Mantorville Tuesday night.

Three times the Tigers, 9-3 for the year, came from behind to tie and when Stewartville jumped to its last and biggest lead of 15-9, Lake City's heavyweights took over to capture the last four. Bob Freese clinched the victory with a pin in the heavyweight match. Freese and 175-pounder Ralph Klindworth both finished the regular season unbeaten.

Ashe Is 'Just Sitting Tight'

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — What does Arthur Ashe see through his new, horn-rimmed spectacles — the Davis Cup or Viet Nam?

"I'm just sitting tight . . . whatever they decide is all right with me," the 22-year-old tennis whiz from Richmond, Va., said today while others contemplated his future.

Ashe currently is 1-D in the draft. He is returning to UCLA to complete studies for graduation in June. Then he becomes, like other young men of his age, the pawn of Uncle Sam.

Ashe's case is a bit different. As an ROTC student, he is entitled to an automatic lieutenant's commission in the Army upon graduation and is committed to two years' immediate service.

As the nation's second best tennis player he also is one of the main hopes of recapturing the Davis Cup from Australia in December.

For morale and prestige purposes, Uncle Sam may figure Ashe is more valuable on the tennis court for the last six months of 1966. In this case, the State Department could take a hand.

Right now, Ashe is busy trying to win the National Indoor Championship here against perhaps the strongest field ever assembled for the event.

Second seeded behind Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., Ashe beat Jaideep Mukerjee of India Tuesday night 6-4, 6-4 and qualified to meet 19-year-old Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., in today's second round.

He donned glasses to improve his vision but found he was working on the wrong end. "I had trouble with my footing," he said. "The surface seemed fast and the canvas slipped under my feet."

Ralston survived along with the other two top American seeds — Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico, No. 3, and Ron Holmberg of Dallas, No. 4, plus the four foreign seeds. Ralston plays Tomaz Koch of Brazil in the second round, Pasarell meets bearded Torben Ulrich of Denmark and Holmberg plays John Pickens of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Manuel Santana of Spain, topping the foreign list, won over Dick Doll of Bethesda, Md., 7-6, 6-0 and next will play Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y.
