Rusk Tells Senators of Commitment

Unions to Boycott Ships Trading With Viet Reds

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL-CIO maritime unions told President Johnson today they will boycott ships of all foreign nations trading with the North Vietnamese Communists.

In a telegram to Johnson, union officials said "trade with North Viet Nam puts blood money in the pocket of ship-owners and other profiteers and so-called Allied nations."

The telegram added that "we believe the time for pussyfooting is long past. We must inform you therefore, very soon our members will begin to demonstrate their protests on all waterfronts in this country directed against any and all ships of those nations which permit trade with North Viet Nam."

The boycott, said spokesmen for the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department, will affect hundreds of foreign vessels from nations including Great Britain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, Italy and Egypt.

The boycott will be imposed by refusing to load any such vessel entering U.S. ports. The telegram to Johnson was signed by Paul Hall, president of the Maritime Trades Department; Thomas W. Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association; and Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union.

Two years ago the same unions imposed a boycott on U.S. wheat shipments to Russia until the White House persuaded them to lift it.

"Our boys are fighting in an dying along with loyal South Vietnamese forces and those of our other allies," the unions' telegram to Johnson said.

Man Wins Own Case in State Supreme Court

ST. PAUL (AP)—A Minneapolis man, who prepared his own appeal, won his case in the Minnesota Supreme Court today in a dispute with the City of Minneapolis over a "No left turn" sign.

The high court held that the city can't punish a driver for disobeying a sign which is not in conformity with the state manual on uniform traffic control devices.

The appeal was brought by Elliot L. Adams, who was tagged by police Aug. 13, 1964, for making a left turn onto West River Road at the west end of the Lake Street Bridge.

A green and white overhead sign at the intersection prohibits left turns between 4 and 6 p.m.

The state manual, prepared by the Highway Department, requires that such signs be black and white, that the signs be rectangular and that "no left turn" signs be located at both the far right and far left corners of an intersection.

Adams was convicted in Hennepin County Municipal Court and drew up his own appeal to the Supreme Court. The city claimed the Lake Street sign not only met the minimum requirements of the state but exceeded them.

In its unanimous opinion, the Supreme Court said, "The sign in question did not substantially comply with the manual and is therefore not an official traffic-control device...hence, defendant may not be convicted for failing to obey it."

were officially described as "light to moderate."

In the air war against North Viet Nam, a U.S. spokesman said U.S. Air Force planes for the past three days had lashed the air base at Dien Bien Phu, west of Hanoi, where the French lost their Indochina War in 1954.

The spokesman said 50 more buildings had been destroyed, bringing the total destruction to 255 buildings. The nearly four-square-mile area once consisted of 419 military barracks, storage structures, and multistoried administrative quarters.

Navy carrier planes raided in North Viet Nam along routes from Vinh south and west to the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos, the spokesman said. Pilots reported destroying five bridges, cratering approaches to five more and cutting roads.

SOLDIER DIES A HERO

Hurled Self on Live Viet Cong Grenade

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two helicopter crashes in South Viet Nam within the past 24 hours have taken the lives of seven Americans. An eighth American died a hero's death when he threw himself on a Viet Cong grenade.

A Marine helicopter crashed and burned while taking off at Phu Hai Thursday. One Marine was killed and four injured, two seriously. No explanation for the crash was given.

An Army helicopter crashed 10 miles northeast of Saigon today, and six soldiers were killed. Circumstances of the crash were not immediately reported.

The soldier hero died when a Viet Cong company attacked a small unit of the 25th Division in ambush positions 25 miles west of Saigon near Cu Chi, scene of repeated furious battles since the 25th established a base there three weeks ago.

The Viet Cong fire was so heavy that nearly two platoons of reinforcements and jet napalm attacks were needed to get the beleaguered unit out. Six to 10 Viet Cong were reported killed; American casualties

How Best to Fight Flu

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Aspirin, plenty of liquid, and rest was the mass prescription today for more than 300,000 bed-ridden Californians waylaid by a devastating Asian flu epidemic that raged throughout the state.

In Los Angeles, hardest hit by the three-day attack, eight parochial schools were closed because of a teacher shortage, and absenteeism ranged as high as 37 per cent. Public schools remained open.

City school officials estimated that more than 140,000 students were absent from classes Thursday, with a similar number reported stricken in county and parochial schools, as well as colleges and universities.

Although the bug—officially identified as type A, Asian—apparently concentrated on children, health officials said at least 30,000 adults were similarly disabled in the metropolitan area.

As Los Angeles health officers were saying the epidemic would end soon, state officials in San Francisco predicted the outbreak would continue for seven to 10 days.

Austin Woman Gets $19,400 in Parents' Death

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP)—A woman whose parents were shot to death by her former husband, a jail trustee, settled today three civil suits against Mower County and Sheriff Doyle Lindahl for $19,400.

Mrs. Camelia Kaus, Austin, filed the suits in October 1965, asking a total of $77,987. She charged the sheriff's office with negligence, misfeasance and nonfeasance.

The settlement was announced by Mrs. Kaus' attorney. The woman's former husband, Conrad Kaus, was a Mower County jail prisoner in 1964. Mrs. Kaus said, in her complaint, that Kaus was a trusty and Sheriff Lindahl permitted the man to leave jail.

On Aug. 29, 1964, Kaus beat up Mrs. Kaus at the Austin home of her parents and fatally shot the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo R. Talley. Kaus subsequently pleaded guilty in the shooting deaths and is now serving two consecutive 40-year terms at Stillwater Prison.

In her complaint, Mrs. Kaus contended the sheriff failed to warn her and the Talleys that Kaus was not in jail.

The sheriff, the woman further alleged, "failed to take steps necessary to confine him (Kaus) to custody and failed to notify other proper and appropriate authorities to assist in capturing said prisoner."

Mrs. Kaus also said the Talleys were shot to death with a pistol owned by the sheriff or one of his deputies. Sheriff Lindahl did not immediately comment on the settlement.

Sloan Dead, Put General Motors on Map

NEW YORK (AP)—In his 90 years Alfred P. Sloan Jr. saw the automobile develop from a novelty to the industrial backbone of the nation. He was among the men who made it happen.

He took the moderately successful General Motors Corp., in 1920, made it function smoother than the ball bearings he once sold, and wrought the mightiest manufacturing enterprise the world has known.

When Sloan stepped down as chairman in 1955, General Motors' share of the automobile market was 52 per cent.

His formula for success was simple. "Get the facts. Recognize the equities of all concerned. Realize the necessity of doing a better job every day. Keep an open mind and work hard. The last is most important of all. There is no short cut."

Sloan, who remained as honorary chairman, had been in excellent health until Tuesday, when he complained of indigestion. He was taken the next day to Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, a hospital his philanthropy had established,

Ice Piles Up In Mississippi At Davenport

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—At nearby Davenport, Iowa, ice was piled up for about five miles on the Mississippi River today and forced more than 150 residents of Iowa and Illinois from their homes.

The ice had floated downstream during a spell of mild weather and then became trapped in a narrow channel by a sudden drop in temperatures. It backed up water over lowlands and islands in the Davenport area and also across the river around Rock Island, Ill.

The river held at 18.7 feet this morning, or more than a foot and a half over flood stage. Authorities said if it were not for the ice, the stream would only run about 11 feet deep.

Army Corps of Engineers experts discussed means of breaking the ice jam but rejected, temporarily at least, the idea of using dynamite.

Sitting Sport

Skiing must be such a relaxing sport. You see so many more skiers sitting than standing. . . . The cynic suggests an idea for divorce reform: "Make the grounds for marriage tougher." . . . Sign in the window of a gift shop: "Meek, timid salesperson on duty. Come in and browse." . . . Usually a women's club meeting is a room full of loose tongues and tight girdles. . . . No matter what science says, a small town is the once place where sound may travel faster than light. . . . If some politicians said what they thought, they'd be speechless.

Love Letter From Powers To Aunt Cited

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The state, piling one lurid sensation on top another, now claims to have a revealing love letter from Melvin Lane Powers to his blonde aunt, Candace Mossler.

Circuit Judge George Schulz said at the pair's first-degree murder trial that he needs convincing before he will let any testimony about the letter reach the ears of the all-male jury.

The prosecution let it be known it considers the nine-page letter a potential bombshell.

Arguing for its admittance, the state said the letter was intercepted when Powers attempted to smuggle it out of the Houston jail after his arrest in the slaying of Mrs. Mossler's aging husband, multimillionaire Jacques Mossler.

The state presses ahead today—Mrs. Mossler's birthday—with more surprise testimony. It concerns a purported trust last Thanksgiving weekend in a Mexican border town between the small, shapely Mrs. Mossler and her strapping, 6-foot-3 nephew—a continuation of what the prosecution claims was a love affair.

"This particular love affair went on not only up to demise of the victim but even up to a year and a half afterward," declared Asst. State Atty. Gerald Kogan in a successful argument for admittance of the testimony from a Matamoros, Mexico, hotel employee.

At the time of the rendezvous, the defendants were under indictment in the 1964 bludgeoning and knife slaying of Mrs. Mossler's 69-year-old husband. They were only seven weeks away from this trial for their lives.

Building Burns At East Troy

EAST TROY, Wis. (AP)—A fire early today destroyed a storage building at the Leo Williams Salvage Co. about five miles west of this Walworth County village.

Gerald Ritchey, chief of the Troy Center fire department, said the blaze was triggered by the explosion of the furnace in the building, around 3 a.m.

MacGregor Urged Not To Run for U.S. Senate

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota's 3rd District congressman, Clark MacGregor, said Thursday night he has been receiving advice not to run for the U.S. Senate, now that 1st District Congressman Albert H. Quie has pulled out of the Republican race for governor.

MacGregor said that, after Quie announced his decision Wednesday, he received five telegrams from persons who had urged him to run for the Senate. The five, whom he did not name, all reversed their advice, he said.

MacGregor has been reluctant to run against Democratic-Farmer-Labor Sen. Walter F.

Mondale, a big vote getter, in preference to seeking re-election in his GOP-dominated suburban Minneapolis district.

However, he has said he would run for the Senate if he got near-unanimous support from Republican caucuses throughout the state.

The congressman said Thursday night that precinct caucuses have shown a "scattered pattern" rather than unanimity so far. He said he may be ready to announce his plans by the middle of next week.

In an interview on his arrival from Washington, MacGregor also said:

—If he runs for the Senate, he would be pleased to have South

St. Paul attorney Harold LeVander or Ramsey County Atty. William B. Randall running as the GOP candidate for governor. Either could beat any DFL candidate, he said.

—He is pleased with his appointment, announced Thursday, to the antitrust subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee to succeed former Rep. John Lindsay, R-N.Y., now New York City mayor.

LeVander, meanwhile, has ruled up some early strength among Republican State Central Committee members in a poll about gubernatorial candidates taken by the Augsburg College Republican Association.

The association conducted a mail ballot among about 200 of the 275 committee members, including all county chairmen and chairwomen, plus additional members in the Twin Cities area.

Of the 112 replies, 61 members picked LeVander, 19 endorsed Randall and 8 voted for insurance executive John Pillsbury Jr.

The poll was taken before the unsuccessful effort to draft Quie, but the results were announced only Thursday.

5 Sentenced To Tennessee Electric Chair

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Death row at Tennessee State Prison at Nashville has been empty since last year when Gov. Frank G. Clement commuted to life imprisonment the sentences against five condemned men.

But Thursday, Shelby County's longest trial in history saw five Negro men sentenced to die in the electric chair on conviction of raping a young white girl. Three other men were given 99-year terms and two were acquitted.

Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle pronounced the death sentence for Charles Hunter, 26; Franklin Wright, 18; Uloos Harris, 21; Earl Foster, 18; and Garfield Houston, 27.

Although the state had demanded the death penalty for only Wright and Hunter, the jury—made up of 10 white men and two Negro men—deliberated 20 hours and recommended no mercy for the other three. Court officials said the five death sentences were the most ever handed down in Shelby County, the state's largest.

Gov. Clement, who repeatedly has spoken out against the death penalty, cleared death row last year after the House of Representatives had failed to repeal capital punishment. The measure had passed easily in the Senate.

Follows Taylor In Probe of Viet Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today the committee itself had voted lopsidedly for a basic commitment—the 1954 Southeast Asia Treaty—which he said obliges American to defend South Viet Nam.

"The far-reaching implications of this commitment were well understood by this committee when it recommended, with only the late Sen. William Langer, R-N.D., dissenting, that the Senate consent to the ratification of the Treaty," Rusk said.

"All members of this distinguished committee who were then senators voted for that treaty," Rusk added.

Among those committee members who have been critical of President Johnson's current Viet Nam policy and who were senators a decade ago are chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark.; Wayne Morse, D-Ore.; Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.; and Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

Rusk's nationally televised testimony brought toward a climax the crackling Senate probe of administration Viet Nam policy begun a month ago before Johnson ordered resumption of the bombing of North Viet Nam and went to Honolulu to meet South Vietnamese leaders.

The secretary of state was appearing for the second time since the hearings got underway. Thursday presidential adviser Maxwell D. Taylor held the spotlight in a stormy session. With France's 1954 loss of Indochina in mind, the general suggested that with military success South Viet Nam could be lost by dissonance in Washington.

The basis for the U.S. commitment under which Johnson has sent more than 200,000 servicemen to fight in Viet Nam has been one of the chief targets in the questioning.

Presenting a full-scale defense of what he portrayed as a vital U.S. policy of stemming Communist aggression in Viet Nam, as well as elsewhere, Rusk underlined the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), commitment entered into with Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan in 1954.

"It is this fundamental SEATO obligation that has from the outset guided our actions in South Viet Nam," he said.

Rusk said that "in joining SEATO the United States took a solemn treaty engagement of far-reaching effect" and the treaty was ratified by the U.S. Senate by a 84-1 vote, only Langer dissenting.

And this was after the Foreign Relations Committee itself had stated in its report approving the treaty that the commitment was far-reaching, he said. Rusk went on to cite other U.S. commitments since France gave up her Indochina colonies in 1954. Among these were letters from President Dwight D. Eisenhower to South Vietnamese President Diem in 1954 and from President John F. Kennedy to him in 1961.

The secretary of state summoned up his 50 pages of broad-ranging testimony with this five-point summary which he described as "the heart of the problem and the heart of U.S. policy in South Viet Nam."

"1. The elementary fact is that there is an aggression in the form of an armed attack by North Viet Nam against South Viet Nam."

"2. The United States has commitments to assist South Viet Nam to repel this aggression."

"3. Our commitments to South Viet Nam were not taken in isolation but are a part of systematic effort in the postwar period to assure a stable peace."

"4. The issue in Southeast Asia becomes worldwide because we must make clear that the United States keeps its word wherever it is pledged."

"5. No nation is more interested in peace in Southeast Asia or elsewhere than is the United States. If the armed attack against South Viet Nam is brought to an end, peace can come very quickly."

Taylor told the committee members that the Communists clearly are not convinced that the United States is irrevocably committed to the support of South Viet Nam.

Gerald H. Long, Winona Rt. 1, speeding 55 m.p.h. in a 30 zone on U.S. 14 in Winona, Jan. 16, $29 ($10 suspended).

Albert J. Kertzman, Lamolite, 65-50 on U.S. 61, Jan. 7, $19.

Francis K. Pahl, St. Mary's College, 70-55 on U.S. 61-14, Feb. 4, $14.

Donald H. Bilse, Winona Rt. 3, failure to yield the right of way in Homer Township, Jan. 2, $14.

Dean T. Suffrins, Lamolite, improper passing on U.S. 14 east of Utica, Dec. 31, $14.

Statewide Traffic Survey Planned

ST. PAUL (AP) — When driving this summer, allow a few extra minutes to tell the state of Minnesota where you're going.

Five state survey crews will be working in 14-hour shifts in 44 urban areas to provide what the Highway Department calls the first statewide check on traffic flow.

It's to last all summer long, but not include weekends.

Spot checks have been made before — but nothing like the $150,000 study that will include questions on where you started and what route you're taking, as well as where you're going.

The federal government, more than incidentally, is to pay three-fourths of the $150,000 cost.

The study will help not only highway planners, says Johan Nygaard, planning research engineer, but also the Departments of Conservation and Business Development.

Another angle involves Minnesota's dispute with neighboring states over truck fuel taxes.

In addition to the summer checkpoints furnishing information on truck traffic, South Dakota and Minnesota will join in a special border study of trucking this spring.

Tax Commissioner Roland Hatfield has said Iowa and the Dakotas have refused a reciprocal agreement covering the purchase of truck fuel to be used in states other than where purchased.

11 Charged In Income Tax Cases

ST. PAUL (AP) — State Tax Commissioner Roland Hatfield said today complaints have been filed against 11 persons for failure to file state income tax returns.

Those named in the complaints included John G. Dorsey, identified as a Minneapolis attorney and charged with failing to file state tax returns for 1962, 1963 and 1964.

Dorsey's income was listed at $85,352 for 1964, $70,810 for 1963 and $58,607 for 1962.

Robert L. Kelly, identified as a marketing manager in Minneapolis, was charged with failing to file for 1960 through 1964. The Tax Department complaint listed Kelly's income at between $18,522 and $43,010 for the five years.

The Tax Department listed these other defendants. All listed in complaints filed through the city attorney's office in St. Paul:

Andrew L. Burnham, St. Paul, salesman, $11,162 for 1963; $7,432 for 1964.

Gideon M. Cook, Minneapolis, advertising manager, $9,810 for 1961.

George F. Curtis, Minneapolis, truck driver, $7,715 for 1961.

Gerald Duncan, Red Wing, truck driver, $6,875 for 1960.

John L. Elliot Sr., Minneapolis, corporation officer, $12,000 each for 1959 and 1960.

Charles W. Hudson, Rochester, recreation supervisor, $10,880 for 1959; $11,360 for 1960; $12,000 for 1961; $13,012 for 1962; $11,840 for 1963.

Joseph C. Frause, Minneapolis, construction worker, $6,046 for 1960; $6,682 for 1961.

Gordon L. Thompson, Minneapolis, butcher, $7,330 for 1961.

Harvey Zachman, Minneapolis, data programmer, $7,868 for 1961.

Evidence Heard In Divorce Case

Judge Arnold Hatfield heard evidence from both sides Thursday in a divorce suit contested by the husband.

Mrs. Marian L. Braatz, 31, 473 E. 5th St., is suing her husband, Robert L. Braatz, 42, address not given, for a divorce on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Braatz filed an answer denying his wife's charges and asking that she be denied the divorce.

Judge Hatfield took the case under advisement after hearing all the evidence.

Mrs. Braatz and her mother and sister testified in support of the divorce claim. Mrs. Charlotte Von Ruden, 473 E. 4th St., is the mother; and Mrs. Audrey Stutzka, Winona, is the sister.

However, Mrs. Braatz' brother and sister-in-law testified in behalf of Braatz, as did Braatz' own brother and sister and he himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Von Ruden, 1057 E. Broadway, are Mrs. Braatz' brother and sister-in-law. Clarence E. Braatz, 653 Wilson St., is Braatz' brother; and Mrs. Arthur W. Klage, 619 E. 3rd St., is his sister.

The Braatzes were married June 26, 1954, at Decorah, Iowa; and they have three children, aged 4 to 10. Mrs. Braatz asks custody of the children in her complaint.

Attorney William A. Lindquist represented Mrs. Braatz, and Attorney Dennis A. Challen represented Braatz.

Trainable Class To Be Studied In Fillmore Co.

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — A committee to study the possibility of establishing trainable classes for Fillmore County retarded children was appointed by Charles Every, Preston, chairman of the association for the retarded, at a meeting in Rushford.

The committee includes Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Rushford; Mrs. Arnold Erickson, Harmony; and the Rev. Arden Backman, Wykoff.

Mrs. Henry Bartel, St. Charles, instructor of a trainable class in Winona, spoke on her work at the meeting recently. She said its goal is "to socialize." Instruction includes communication, therapy, speech and coordinating activity.

Jerome Gunderson and the Rev. Bruce Royce, Mahol, discussed the anti-poverty bill and its relationship to establishing trainable classes and sheltered workshops.

Carl Kohlmeier, Wykoff, and Alton Morken and Edgar Johnson, Rushford, were appointed a nominating committee.

Snow Removal Set Downtown

Downtown streets will be posted tonight for snow removal operations, the street department said today.

All streets from Huff to Franklin, between Front and 5th, will be cleaned. Cross streets will be cleaned from 5th Street to the river.

The 2nd Street parking lot will be available for parking tonight but all streets will be posted. Cars illegally parked will be removed at owners' expense.

Parking lots at the courthouse and Levee Park will be posted, the department said.

Chief Clarifies Pedestrian Rule On Four Lanes

State law forbids motorists to cross a crosswalk while a pedestrian is on their half of the street, even though the pedestrian is not in the car's lane of travel, Police Chief James W. McCabe noted today.

McCabe said that his department has received several calls recently from motorists who use Broadway frequently, asking whether they can proceed when, for instance, they are driving in the lane nearest the center line and a pedestrian is in the crosswalk in the right-hand traffic lane.

The answer is a firm "no," Chief McCabe said. State law protects the pedestrian so long as he is in the crosswalk in the same half of the street the oncoming car is using.

(The statute, however, also provides that pedestrians shall not leave the curb suddenly and walk or run into the path of a vehicle which is so close that it cannot stop safely.)

The inquiries were presumably prompted by recent arrests on Broadway of motorists who failed to yield the right of way to a pedestrian in a crosswalk. Two such arrests were made Thursday, Chief McCabe said.

Car Hits Pole; Youth Puts Head Through Glass

A Minnesota City youth was injured early today when his head went through the windshield of the car in which he was riding as the car struck a pole on old Highway 61 in Goodview.

Joseph W. Bush, Minnesota City, was driving north on old 61 west of the old gravel pits when, he told Sheriff George L. Fort, he was forced to swerve to avoid striking an oncoming car in his lane.

The Bush car skidded to the left and struck the pole head-on, according to the sheriff. Bush's son, Stanley, 17, complained of head pain after the accident. His head had gone through the Bush car's windshield. He was not hospitalized immediately.

Bush complained of neck pain after the accident. There was about $300 damage to the front of the car. The mishap occurred today at 12:10 a.m., the sheriff said.

Laser Beam In Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — Surgeons have successfully used a laser beam to remove a tumor from a man's leg bloodlessly, the New York Times reported Wednesday. The beam cauterized blood vessels so that no blood flowed.

The laser is a sharply focused beam of light, up to one billion times brighter than ordinary light.

"I'm absolutely jubilant," said Dr. Thomas E. Brown, one of three doctors who performed the surgery at Children's Hospital in Cincinnati, according to the Times.

"There's no apparent reason," Brown said, "why we cannot use the same laser to cut into the liver, the spleen or even the brain without fear of hemorrhage."

Arcadia Credit Union To Hear Trane Man

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — Guest speaker at the annual meeting of Arcadia Credit Union Tuesday at 8 p.m. will be Fred Sontag of Trane Co. Credit Union, La Crosse.

Reports by president and treasurer will be given at the meeting in the Willie Wierdand room of Trempealeau Electric Cooperative. The auditing committee asked members to bring their passbooks for posting of dividends and verification of account. The public is invited.

Big Nine Speech Festival Slated Here Saturday

Between 300 and 350 students from eight Big Nine Conference high schools are expected to participate in the 1966 Big Nine Speech Festival at Winona Senior High School Saturday.

There will be 10 areas of speech activity on the program to which the public is invited. The festival begins at 9:30 a.m. and will end at 3:30 p.m. with a banquet for all participants at the high school cafeteria at noon.

THOMAS Stoltman, speech instructor at Senior High, is festival manager and expects entries from Oatonna, Northfield, Red Wing, Markato, Albert Lea, Austin and Fairbault, together with students from Winona's host school. Only Rochester among the conference schools will not be represented.

This will not be a contest and there will be no winners, as such, selected although a panel of judges will evaluate all entries and at the conclusion of the festival submit critiques

Poverty Unit Selects Group For Committee

A steering committee of citizens interested in bringing the War on Poverty to Winona County met Thursday and approved a list of 47 persons from which it hopes to select a 30-man Community Action Council (CAC).

Acting Chairman Lewis H. Schoening said that his six-man committee approved 32 city residents and 15 rural Winona County residents for possible membership on the CAC. Each member of his steering committee is contacting seven or eight of the listed persons to see whether they are willing to serve.

SCHOENING SAID that his group's next meeting is set for Thursday at 10 a.m. in his office at Winona Senior High School. At that time, the committee hopes to announce names of those on the 30-man CAC, Schoening said.

If the 30 are recruited, he said, they will then organize themselves according to guidelines set down by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO). The CAC can then apply for federal anti-poverty funds and begin operating in Winona County.

The steering committee is operating under a March 1 deadline set for it by the citizen's meeting from which it was formed Feb. 8.

ABOUT 45 city and county residents met at College of Saint Teresa the night of Feb. 8. The majority of them decided to try to organize a CAC along lines outlined for them by the OEO field representative for southern Minnesota, Gene Flaten, Mankato.

Only a duly organized CAC may qualify for federal anti-poverty funds, Flaten told the group that night. From $140,000 to $145,000 is available to Winona County from the federal government to fight poverty, he noted.

The group appointed Winona School Superintendent A. L. Nelson as its acting chairman, and it authorized him to appoint the steering committee to recruit members for a CAC.

Nelson appointed himself; Schoening, a guidance counselor; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Richard Feiten, director of Catholic Charities here; Ray Brown, Minnesota Employment Service director in Winona; Mary A. O'Reilly, faculty member at College of Saint Teresa, and Barry Nelson, Winona alderman-at-large.

HOWEVER, Nelson was out of town early this week attending the convention of the Association of American School Administrators in Atlantic City, N.J., leaving Schoening as acting chairman.

Alderman Nelson has apparently been unable to serve on the committee. Schoening said that to round out his committee membership at the desired six he has appointed Mrs. G. M. Grabow, 1336 Parkview Ave., and Ben C. Hayenga, executive of Family Service of Margaret Simpson Home.

Schoening said that four of the six committee members have volunteered to serve on the CAC. However, he said, the committee might not approve CAC membership for its own members when it meets Thursday.

For this reason, he declined to name the four volunteers.

NFO HAM DINNER

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — The Wabasha County National Farmers Organization will sponsor a ham dinner on Feb. 26 at the Lake City High School. Serving will be from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Speaker will be Arnold Paulson, Granite Falls businessman. He was named Minnesota's outstanding young man in 1950, served as state president of the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1952-53 and as president of the Granite Falls Chamber of Commerce.

West 5th Project Possible in 1966

Improvement of West 5th Street, from Goodview to Junction Street, appears likely this year if financing can be arranged between city and county governments.

County highway resources, hit hard by flood repair costs in 1965, are utterly depleted, Winona county commissioners told City Council members Thursday night. The two boards met informally at the county highway department garage to discuss joint planning of county highway improvements in the city.

PRESENT in addition to all five commissioners were Ald. Harold Briesath, Barry Nelson and David Johnston, James Baird, city engineer, and Gordon Fay, county engineer. The county is willing to go ahead on the joint 5th Street project this year, said Commissioner Leo Borkowski, but it would have to borrow money for its share. He suggested the city might advance the $37,000 estimated as necessary.

An alternative would be to bond against future state aids, he said. If this were done, the practical course would be to include the segment of Gilmore Avenue from Junction to Sioux Street, he added. Such addition would be impractical this year, however, because of a quirk in the new state turnback law, he said.

WEST 5th Street, originally scheduled for completion last year, was not in the county's 5-year plan of road improvements, adopted in 1962. It came up after the plan was already in operation, Borkowski explained. Nevertheless the county share could have been furnished because there were some surpluses available.

These surpluses vanished when extensive repairs had to be made after last year's floods, said Borkowski. Fay said Office of Emergency Planning funds were promised by federal officials but when work was done, the applications were denied in most instances.

One project, $170,000 of road grading in the Beaver area, was approved, Fay said. OEP agreed to furnish half — $85,000 — if the work is done in 1966. Otherwise the grant is rescinded. By drastically trimming several projects listed for the 5-year plan, the county has saved enough to supply the matching $85,000, he said.

BECAUSE OF such scrimping, no money is available for 5th Street or for several other projects, Fay said. It was a difficult choice, he said, but preferable to saddling county taxpayers with the whole amount. A bridge over the Whitewater River near Beaver must be rebuilt, Fay said, at an estimated $120,000 cost. None of this expense is to be reimbursed to the county, even though the bridge is highly necessary, he said.

Repayment of the $37,000, if advanced by the city, would be in 1968, Borkowski said. Queried by Ald. Briesath about earlier repayment, he said the 5-year plan, plus unforeseen flood expenses, will pre-empt all monies for 1966 and 1967.

The money is available from the city's state aid account, Baird told Briesath. (This year state aids for construction will total $111,000.) No plans have been made for its use yet, Baird said, because results of a highway department origins and destinations survey still are awaited.

Of the county's total anticipated contribution (to be financed by state aids) of $74,000, half would be reimbursed upon completion of the contract by state turnback funds. These were set up by the last legislature to reimburse costs of restoring former state highway sections turned back to local government units.

The other half, said Fay, could be advanced by the city. It is barely possible that part of the amount could be repaid in 1967 but it could unquestionably be repaid in 1968, he said.

BORKOWSKI said he personally opposes bonding of state aid funds because of the costs. These include interest rates of 3 percent or more and consultant fees of about 6 percent, he said.

It would be better to wait amendment of the turnback law before planning joint action on Gilmore Avenue, Fay said. The law now allots turnback funds equal to 50 percent of state aids for restoration of old highway sections to minimum state aid standards.

On Gilmore Avenue, near Miracle Mall, traffic now justifies nothing less than 4-lane construction, meaning 64 feet between curbs, Fay said. "Minimum state aid standard," however, means 44-foot width according to present definition, he explained. Thus, if county and city remodeled the street as it should be, it would exceed this standard and be ineligible for turnback funds.

THE LAW was hastily written, he said, and probably will be amended in the upcoming legislative session. This means it would be good economics to wait until 1967 or 1968. He pointed out that all turnback projects must be started within five years, meaning that the deadline will fall in 1971.

Other preliminary planning indicates that CSAH 17, formerly Highway 61 east of Sugar Loaf, should also be designed for four-lane traffic, Fay said. This project should logically accompany the Gilmore Avenue improvement, he said.

Growing traffic, both on Homer Road and in Pleasant Valley will force extensive improvements there, including a new intersection just east of St. Mary's Cemetery, plus a service road for the cemetery, he predicted.

SINCE THE county's 5-year plan will end next year, both city and county should begin planning a new one, said Commissioner Len Merchlewitz. Meanwhile, since the city has no definite plans for this year, it should advance the county enough money to get West 5th Street work going, he said. He indicated the board is willing to adopt solid resolutions covering the collaboration and loan arrangements. Repayment will be certain in 1968, he said, but will be made in 1967 if at all possible.

Ald. Briesath said his group would report to the entire council so that further action could be formulated.

Bank Debits Here Show 14% Gain

Winona bank debits for January showed a 14 percent gain over the same month in 1965, according to the monthly report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

Volume here last month was $33,542,000, compared to $29,480,000 for the same month a year ago.

WINONA'S GAIN was comparable from the percentage standpoint with those of Rochester and La Crosse, both of which showed 13 percent rises.

Bank debits for Minnesota as a whole showed an increase of 20 percent. In the 9th Federal Reserve District portion of Wisconsin—approximately the west half—a gain of 6 percent was shown.

For the entire 8th District the gain was 18 percent, according to the report.

Among area communities St. Charles led the group with a 60 percent rise for the month. Lake City reported a 53 percent gain, Caledonia had a 33 percent rise and Wabasha showed a 16 percent drop.

FOR THE MOST part, bank debits are checks against depositors' accounts. They represent payments for goods, services and debts, as well as including transfers of funds which have no business significance in themselves.

Bank debits mainly include checks against checking accounts of individuals, partnerships, corporations, states and political subdivisions. Excluded are debits to accounts of other banks, the U.S. government and savings accounts.

Following is a detailed report for several area communities (000 omitted):

Rail Worker Falls From Bridge to Ice

A Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad section worker was rescued from the ice covered Mississippi River near East Winona this morning after he fell from a bridge and broke his hip.

Earl J. Kaufmann, 46, La Crosse, fell 22 feet from a flatcar on the Burlington bridge while working with a bridge repair crew at the Wisconsin side. The mishap occurred about 10 a.m.

FIRE and police department rescue crews worked nearly half an hour to get Kaufmann on to a "basket" stretcher which was then winched up to the bridge level. The La Crosse man was pulled across the bridge on a flatcar to a waiting ambulance in Winona's East End.

According to Burlington Agent E. B. Malay, Kaufmann received a broken hip in the fall and a severe bump on the head. He was admitted to Community Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Kaufmann was standing on top of a flatcar on the bridge winching repair materials down to a crew working on the ice. The crew was repairing bridge pilings and other timber structures on the bridge, according to Malay.

WHEN KAUFMANN fell, his foreman ran to a nearby railroad telephone and called the Burlington office in downtown Winona. Malay called police and fire department rescue squads around 10:15 a.m.

While the squads rushed to the scene, his co-workers had thrown a rope to Kaufmann who tied it around himself. The other end of the rope was made fast to the bridge.

Although the workmen were only a few feet away they decided not to approach Kaufmann closely for fear of weakening the ice around him. Open water nearby led him to believe the ice under Kaufmann might not bear the weight of several men.

Fire department captain Theodore A. Jereczek led firemen Charles Anderson, Clem Huff and Bruce Johnstone out onto the bridge with rescue equipment that included a boat — not used in the end.

THE FIRE department's ladder truck and the chief's car with first aid equipment and the wire mesh "basket" stretcher were taken out to the accident scene, along with the firemen, by handcar.

The firemen put a ladder down to the ice; and, with the assistance of Patrolmen Paul Kapalik and Herbert R. Kanthack, Kaufmann was eased into the stretcher.

The injured man was conscious, though in pain from his hip. The stretcher was winched up to bridge level with the flatcar which Kaufmann himself had been using earlier to lower timbers.

KAUFMANN was placed on the flatcar, and a handcar towed him to the Winona end of the bridge where an ambulance brought him to the hospital about 11 a.m.

A doctor told Malay, he said today at noon, that Kaufmann would doubtless be disabled while his injuries heal but that he is apparently not in danger.

More Expected on Top Of Five-Inch Snowfall

Five inches of fresh snow fell in Winona today and the weatherman predicted more tonight and Saturday.

Occasional cloudiness with the chance of light snow late tonight or Saturday, he said. Colder weather is predicted for tonight, probably a low of 5 to 18 below, and continued cold Saturday with a high of 4 to 12 above. Little change is seen in the outlook for Sunday.

THE OVERNIGHT snowfall brought the winter's total to 19.5 inches. This contrasts with 36.9 to the same date a year ago.

The temperature rose to 14 Thursday afternoon, dropped to 2 above overnight and was 8 at noon today.

Temperatures for the next five days are expected to remain 8 to 14 degrees below normal average highs of 25 to 30 and nighttime lows of 5 to 10. It'll be cold throughout the period, the extended forecast said, with no occasional day-to-day change. Occasional periods of light snow are expected, the most significant probably being toward the midweek period.

A year ago today Winona had a high of 40 and a low of 8. Seven inches of snow lay on the ground at that time. All-time high for Feb. 18 was 57 in 1913 and the low for the day — 18 in 1903. Mean for the past 24 hours was 6. Normal for this time of the year is 20.

THE STAGE of the Mississippi River, 9.1 at Winona today, was 4 down from Thursday and expected to drop to 8.8 Saturday, 8.5 Sunday and 8.2 Monday.

All river reporting stations from Red Wing to La Crosse reported a declining stage, from 1 of a foot at La Crosse to 3 at Winona Dam 5A.

Tributary streams, too, were down. The Chippewa River at Durand was 5.8 today, down 4 of a foot since Thursday. The Black at Galesville was 7.4, down .8.

HIGHWAY departments in both Minnesota and Wisconsin issued warnings of hazardous driving conditions with some drifting.

Maintenance crews plowed roads in the snow area of Minnesota and no roads were closed by the snow although some slippery places were reported today, mainly through towns, at intersections and in sheltered areas.

Poor driving conditions developed in WISCONSIN in an area south of a line from St. Croix Falls to Green Bay and forecasts called for a worsening outlook.

Slippery conditions were reported in the area, particularly in regions of slow moving traffic.

Halverson Heads Bank at Wabasha; Director Named

WABASHA, Minn. — Joseph L. Halverson, 46, was elected president of First State Bank of Wabasha by the board of directors succeeding the late A. J. Doffing.

John D. Doffing was elected to the board and made a vice president. He will begin working at the bank early in April.

HALVERSON, native of Amery, Wis., attended Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter. Following service in World War II, he was employed by the Union State Bank of Amery until July 1947, when he moved on to Farmers State Bank of Welch. He joined First State Bank of Wabasha Aug. 1, 1949, as assistant cashier and manager of the insurance agency. In January 1952 he was elected to the board and made a vice president.

He is past president and secretary of Wabasha Chamber of Commerce, past president of Hiawatha Valley Association, and currently is treasurer and director of Wabasha Industries, Inc., president of Wabasha County Bankers Association, and a member of the U.S. Savings Bonds committee, Minnesota Bankers Association.

DOFFING, 27, born at Minneapolis, attended the University of Minnesota one year and graduated from St. Thomas College, where he majored in economics. He is a graduate of St. Felix High School here.

He worked 3½ years as a bank examiner for Northwest Bancorporation. He joined First National Bank at Mandan, N.D., in 1964 as assistant cashier and installment loan manager. He is director and manager of Mandan Country Club and Junior Achievement of Bismarck-Mandan, and treasurer of Mandan Toastmasters Club.

Doffing is a son of Adolph J. Doffing.

Chatfield Scout Given Award For Church Work

CHATFIELD, Minn. — Explorer Scout James Sommerfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sommerfeld, Chatfield, has received the God and Country award from First Methodist Church.

The award, highest a Scout can receive from his church, was presented by the Rev. Glenn Quam, who praised the scout's work on a special self-study of the church for an upcoming quarterly conference and other projects.

Sommerfeld is a member of Explorer Post 43, led by Robert Jeffers and Kenneth McRae.

CUBS AT GALESVILLE. GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — The annual blue and gold potluck supper will be held at the Presbyterian Church Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. Cub Scouts will give the program. Awards will be presented.

Social Security Office Open Saturday, Tuesday

The social security district office will be open to the public from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Washington's birthday Tuesday, Victor E. Bertel, district manager, announced.

"We are staying open on the holiday so people who are 65 or older and are unable to come in during our regular business hours will have an opportunity to come in to file for Medicare," Bertel said.

Bertel urged anyone who was 65 before Jan. 1, 1966, even though still working, to contact the office before March 31, 1966.

The office also is open from 8 a.m. to noon each Saturday through March 26, with regular office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The office is at 356 E. Sarina St.

Federal Offices Closed on Tuesday

All Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices and Soil Conservation Service offices will be closed on Washington's Birthday, Tuesday, according to Anthony Heim, chairman of the Winona County ASC Committee.

Washington's Birthday is a national holiday for all federal offices, although the Social Security Administration office will be open this year.

Generally the snowfall tapered off the west, although La Crosse had 4 inches in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today. Madison had 1 inch.

Winds of 20 to 30 miles per hour caused considerable drifting and blowing of snow.

As the snow swept into the southern part of the state the north still struggled with below-zero temperatures. The Hurley-Ironwood region reported a low of 28 below early today. Superior had -24. Park Falls -13. Eau Claire and Wausau -9.

Highest temperature in Wisconsin Thursday was 22 at Beloit.

HIGHEST temperature in the country Thursday was 82 degrees at Orlando, Fla.

IN WISCONSIN, the storm saved its biggest punch for the area along Lake Michigan.

The Sheboygan area reported 7 to 8 inches at mid-morning and it was still snowing hard. In the Milwaukee area the snow ranged from 2 to 6 inches, with a total of about 8 predicted.

Numerous traffic jams developed in the heavily populated southeastern corner of Wisconsin as the storm reached a peak during the morning rush hour today.

Generally the snowfall tapered off the west, although La Crosse had 4 inches in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today. Madison had 1 inch.

Crosby Tries Slimming Down

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The rediscovery of Bing Crosby, the movie actor... who might get Oscar-nominated for playing a whisky salesman who drinks his own merchandise in "Stagecoach"... has launched Der Bingle on a youthfulizing, slimming program so he can world-travel with his epic.

He checked into La Costa spa at Carlsbad, Cal., to peel off pounds before doing a TV spec with Bob Hope and Danny Thomas, "The Road to Lebanon."

"Do you think I'm good enough actor to play this part?" Bing asked director Gordon Douglas before starting it.

"For 25 years, I've hated your singing but loved your acting," replied Douglas — So Bing took the part.

At the Denver world premiere in May, with cowgal Sharon Gillpatrick around, you'll notice that Bing accepted "alphabetical billing."

So it'll be Ann-Margret, Red Buttons, Michael Connors, and Alex Cord... all ahead of Bing "Couldn't you get Steve Allen, Count Basie, and Carol Channing, and place me last?" demanded Bing. He was surely relieved when Bob Cummings came on.

EDIE ADAMS' husband Marty Mills gasped when the m.c. at the NY Hilton premiere of "Made in Paris," said, "Miss Adams will show her perseverance." Marty barked out, "She'll show nothing of the kind." Nothing so frightening has happened on TV since a Texan told showgirl, Vera Milton, "You have marvelous potentialities," and she drooled.

"Ssssh, the cab driver will hear you."

Millionaire Harry Loeb and his divorced wife Maxine "celebrated her first alimony check," they said at El Morocco. They like each other, "but marriage makes love so difficult," one of them said.

Nancy Sinatra got a virus here and canceled appointments to discuss her big hit record now No. 1 in England... With Jackie Gleason back, Miami Beach figures Arthur Godfrey, Ed Sullivan and four other shows will do a lot of color TV casting from there next season...

Phyllis Diller got some miss, from her woman gag writer in Janesville, Wis., while here and opened it in front of me. Sample: "You ever see the top of our stairs? We sell insurance to people when they start up at the bottom of the stairs."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A TV actor's wife said, "My husband's a perfectionist. At a party he tries to make a perfect fool of himself."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Television, claims the cynic, is merely a comic book that turns its own pages.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "To say the right thing at the right time, keep still most of the time." — John W. Raper.

EARL'S PEARLS: Nowadays it's true that there's no business like show business — especially if you want to enter politics.

The owner of a big company (Relates Catholic Digest) offered $25 for employees' money-saving ideas. First prize went to a man who suggested the award be cut to $10. That's earl, brother.

Lake City Farm Operators Cited For Soil Work

Damon Freibelt, Lake City, and his son Darrell, were honored Tuesday night at Rochester at a Production Credit Association dinner as the top individual cooperators in soil and water conservation practices in a 12-county area in Southeastern Minnesota during 1965. They received a $25 check.

The Goodhue County Soil and Water Conservation District was cited for the second year in a row as the outstanding district.

Area district award winners were David Clark, Rollingstone, Winona District, Winona County; Donald Allen, Witoka, Burns-Homer-Pleasant District, Winona County; Verdayne Heinz, Caledonia, Houston County, and Lyle Drinkall, Whalan, Fillmore County.

The awards program, sponsored annually by the PCA of Rochester, Bloomington, Hastings and Faribault, was attended by some 40 persons.

Guests at the program were the winners and their wives from each of the 13 districts in 12 Southeastern Minnesota counties served by the PCA.

In a brief talk to the group, W. Marion Roberts, area conservationist, cited the soil saving work farmers are accomplishing.

He noted that 1965 work in Southeastern Minnesota included 444,000 acres of contour strip cropping, 2,000 miles of terracing, 9,000 acres of grassed waterways, 1,700 ponds built, 20,000 acres of tree plantings, and 255,000 acres of tile drainage.

Randall Urges MacGregor to Remain in Race

ST. PAUL (AP) — William Randall, candidate for Republican endorsement for governor, urged Congressman Clark MacGregor to remain available for the party's U.S. Senate race.

"I am confident that a statement to that effect from Clark himself will receive tremendous response by endorsements at county conventions," Randall said.

Randall is seeking the governor endorsement in a delegate race with Harold LeVander, who earlier called MacGregor the party's best choice for the Senate.

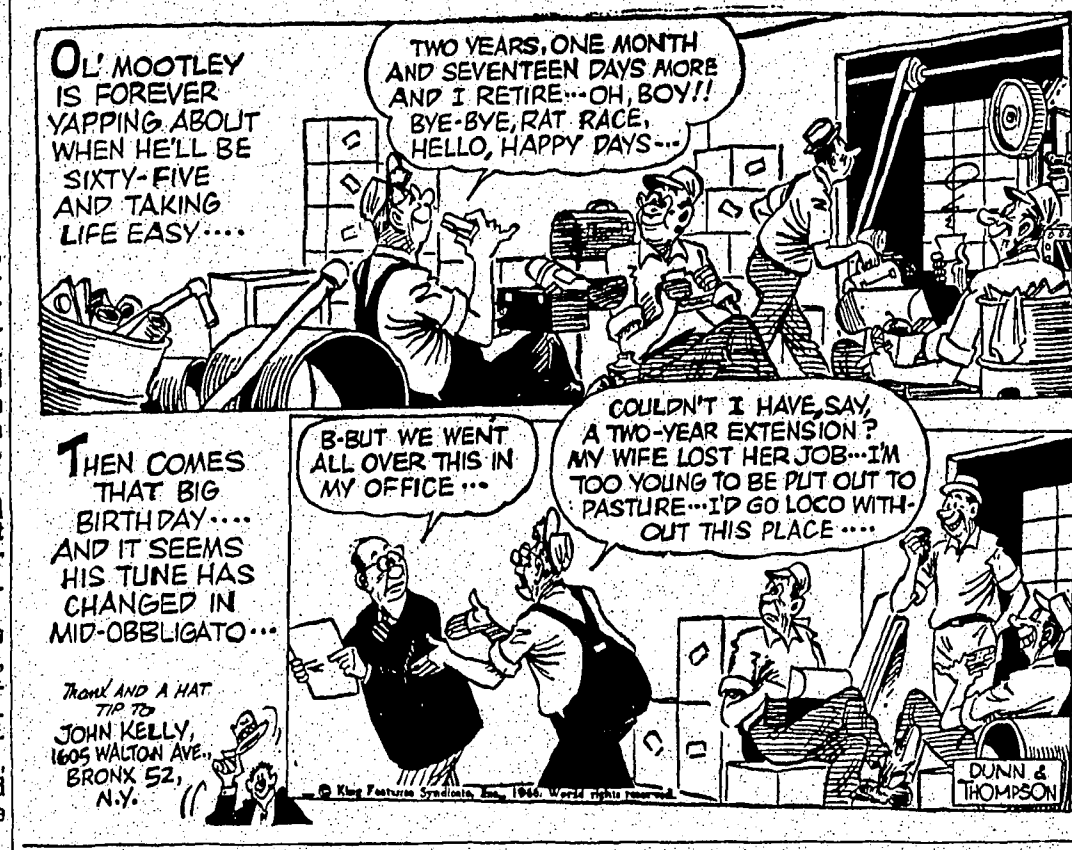

MacGregor has indicated he will assess the results of GOP precinct caucuses which would be held Wednesday night, before making a more definite statement of his intentions.

Firing Upheld at Faribault School

ST. PAUL (AP) — The State Civil Service Board on Wednesday upheld the firing of Robert Endres, 40, Faribault, an employee of the Faribault State School and Hospital accused of slapping a patient "without provocation."

The board said enough evidence was produced at a hearing last month to substantiate the charge. However, the board said there was insufficient evidence to support another charge that Endres had intimidated other employees into joining a union.

75 Attend DFL Meeting to Plan For Caucuses

About 75 people attended the Winona County DFL pre-caucus meeting held Wednesday night at the Winona Teamsters Club.

County Chairman Richard O'Bryan addressed the gathering, which also served as the initial meeting of the recently named county central committee.

COMMENTING on the DFL organization, O'Bryan said, "I hope that it would be possible to broaden the scope of the organization by having people from every township, village and precinct play an active role in the party."

First District DFL Chairman Duane M. Peterson discussed the March 1 caucuses and outlined the duties of the caucus chairman.

Peterson emphasized the precinct organization, stating, "From the caucuses there should come a working precinct organization." He then covered the duties of these organizations.

JEROME Gunderson, Fillmore County DFL Chairman, discussed problems that rural areas face and made suggestions on ways to combat the problems. Gunderson also related a short history of the DFL party in Minnesota, pointing to the number of national and world leaders that have evolved from the party, which is only 20 years old.

Discussion on the county plan for the 1968 election was spearheaded by O'Bryan who outlined the budget and some of the problems that the DFL will face in both the city and rural areas.

The next DFL meeting was set for May 4 at 8 p.m., with the place to be specified at a later date.

O'Bryan also reported today that, after the caucuses on March 1, a room will be set up at the Teamsters Club to which precinct chairmen should bring all information on business conducted at the caucuses.

O'Bryan also said that the starting time for the county convention, March 27, has been changed from 5 to 6 p.m. to accommodate rural people.

Voice of the Outdoors

Conservation Reorganization The long expected and much discussed reorganization of the Minnesota game warden force was announced by the Minnesota Conservation Department Thursday.

It covered only the warden end, however, the plan as originally mapped called for a similar five region setup for refuges, fisheries, forestry, and water, with decentralized headquarters for each situated in one building out in the field.

Here is the Associated Press article on the regional warden program. The others will likely follow. Wisconsin has had a similar program for years, which seems to work satisfactorily. After all, different regions of that state differ greatly in conservation problems.

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Conservation Department announced appointment of five regional game warden supervisors Thursday as part of a reorganization plan.

Under the new system, there will be five uniform regions for the warden service, the section of game and the section of fisheries.

There will be two area supervisors within each of the five regions, with civil service examinations to be held for choosing these men.

The five new regional warden chiefs are: Earl Lhotka, Duluth, who becomes supervisor of the northeast region at Grand Rapids, Richard Tarte, Bemidji, northwest region.

Jerry Liemandt, Excelsior, central region at Brainerd. Joe Alexander, Big Fork, southwest region at Waterville. Math Blaeser, St. Paul, southeast region at St. Paul.

Blaeser now is assistant chief warden in the St. Paul headquarters but asked for transfer to the field service section of the warden service. His post will be filled also by civil service examination.

The Conservation Department has been working out its own reorganization plan after considerable legislative criticism earlier this year. A reorganization bill passed by the 1965 legislature was vetoed by Gov. Karl Rolvaag.

Gordon Wollan, assistant head of the Game and Fish Division, said most of the regional supervisors would

Former La Crosse Man Admits Guilt In Check Thefts

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — James F. Miller of Dubuque, Iowa, pleaded guilty Thursday in U.S. District Court to two counts of theft from the mails.

Miller, formerly of La Crosse, was released on $500 bond after U.S. District Judge James E. Doyle ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

The two counts involved the theft of two unemployment compensation checks from the mails after they were delivered at an address in La Crosse. The offenses took place Sept. 4 and 18, 1965.

Shed Project Long, Ettrick Meeting Told

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — W. W. Russell, Madison, state conservationist, was the speaker Wednesday evening at the annual meeting of the French-Beaver Creek Watershed Association at Ettrick Community Hall.

More than 150 rural and urban persons from Trempealeau and Jackson Counties were present.

HE MADE IT clear that the watershed project is a people's project, and people must be involved, both with labor and funds. Fifty percent land treatment will be required, he said, and 75 percent cooperation of the people. If federal funds are used for recreational areas, then those areas must be free to the public with no discrimination shown.

The first hurdles have been overcome, the speaker said, with the approval of the French-Beaver Creek project by the Wisconsin State Soil Conservation committee. But, he warned, the way will be long and difficult, though worthwhile in the end.

He explained Public Law 566, is primarily not a flood control act but a soil conservation act having flood control benefits. Building structures will be only a part of the long-time project, Russell said. Continuation of soil and water conservation practices is most important. Silt must be kept out of permanent pools.

Russell explained the steps. Field surveys probably will start in the spring of 1967, with a tentative work plan to begin in the spring of 1968.

PRELIMINARY investigations probably will be started late this summer. The final work plan will go before Congress for final approval in 1968. The higher degree of protection desired by the Watershed Association, the more costly it will be, he told.

The final result will be better farm lands; the soil will be kept where it belongs, on the land, and not in the streams. Most trouble, Russell said, is on the uplands with waters built up in volume and velocity before it reaches the low areas. The uplands will be the first to be treated he told.

Russell was introduced by Robert E. Lee, La Crosse, area conservationist.

A FILM, "Conservation in Vernon County," was shown by Ed Ausderau, Trempealeau County conservationist. Joseph Bott, German Coulee, a director in French-Beaver Creek Association, urged each of those present to work a little harder on the project. He read the winning speech in the college level

OVERSEAS DELIVERY AVAILABLE

They said it couldn't be done. It couldn't.

We tried. Lord knows we tried. But no amount of pivoting or faking could squeeze the Philadelphia 76ers' Wilt Chamberlain into the front seat of a Volkswagen.

So if you're 7'1" tall like Wilt, our car is not for you. But maybe you're a mere 6'7". In which case, you're small enough to appreciate what a big thing we've made of the VW.

There's more headroom than you'd expect. (Over 37 1/2" from seat to roof.) And more legroom in front than you'd get in a limousine. Because the engine's tucked over the rear wheels where it's out of the way (and where it can give the most traction).

You can put 2 medium-sized suitcases up front (where the engine isn't), and 3 fair-sized kids in the back seat. And you can sleep an enormous infant in back of the back seat.

Actually, there's only one part of a VW that you can't put much into: The gas tank.

But you can get about 29 miles per gallon out of it.

DEAR ABBY:

Time to Break Up This Harem

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have positive proof that my husband is running around with five women in this neighborhood. Three live on my block and all have good and faithful husbands. Then there is a divorcee down the street, and a young widow in the next block. Each thinks she is the only one. I hate to walk down the street because I know who they are. What should I do?

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If you want to break up the harem, invite them all for coffee and conversation and tell them what they have in common. That should cut down the membership considerably. And don't worry about punishing your husband. The others will take care of that!

DEAR ABBY: A real nice guy who works with me has been looking awfully tired lately, so I asked him if he had not been feeling well. He replied, "Our six-year-old boy has always slept with the wife and me because he's afraid to sleep alone. Now we bought him a dog that's part-German shepherd and part-Labrador, and the boy won't go to sleep unless he has the dog next to him, so I don't get much sleep in such crowded conditions." He was absolutely serious.

Abby, how idiotic can people be?

AMAZED

DEAR AMAZED: A father who lets his six-year-old son sleep with him and his wife, and then can't say no when the boy demands to include the dog, is in for many more sleepless nights. This "real nice" guy needs a "real good friend" to tell him what's what.

DEAR ABBY: Years ago I entered into a "shotgun" marriage. The agreement was that we marry to legalize the child's birth, the mother would raise the child, and we would go our separate ways. We never lived together.

Several years later my "wife" called me from another town to tell me that she had gotten a divorce and had remarried. I then remarried a lovely girl.

The other day my first wife MAILED me some divorce papers to sign! She admitted she had lied to me about having obtained the divorce years ago, and she is just now getting it. Abby, I have a wife and family. How do I get out of this mess without a lot of publicity? Can we secretly marry quickly in another state? For obvious reasons I can't divulge my name, and don't want to discuss this with a lawyer.

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: When people have a medical problem, they can't get a doctor fast enough. Why, then, when they have a legal problem, are they reluctant to get a lawyer? Laws are made to HELP people as well as to punish them, you know. And a lawyer can protect you by telling you what your rights are.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GARY IN ST. PAUL: Don't let it bother you. It's always the girl who can't dance who says the orchestra is terrible.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

of the state soil conservation service speech contest, "How Good is Our Credit?" written by Joseph Stodola, Door-Kewaunee Teachers College. The address of welcome was by Aldred Seze. Lunch was served by the Franklin 4-H Club.

All officers and directors were re-elected. They are: Aldred Seze, North Beaver Creek, president; Carlyle Nordstrom, Melrose, vice president; Bernard Wood, Frenchville, secretary, and Joseph Bott, LaVerne Lien, Melrose; Basil Finch, Franklin; Orrin Anderson, Galesville; Robert Olsdahl, Ettrick, and Orville Mahlum, Frenchville.

THE WATERSHED association was organized in 1963. French Creek residents previously had attempted to organize such an association in 1955 following a long series of floods. However assistance was not obtained because of an unfavorable ratio of benefits to costs. French Creek joined with the Beaver Creek group, the combined area including parts of both Trempealeau and Jackson Counties.

Nordstrom said that the directors will discuss the project with any service club or other group interested.

3 Escape Injury In B58 Landing

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Three men escaped injury Thursday when a B58 Hustler bomber made an emergency landing at the Little Rock Air Force Base. The crew was unable to get the plane's landing gear fully retracted. It skidded to a stop on a foam-covered section of runway.

Aboard were Maj. Donald S. Johnson, 37, of Huron, S.D., the pilot; Capt. Robert S. Zierwicks, 31, of Washington, the navigator, and Capt. Donald Barnes, 34, of Shreveport, La., the defense systems operator. All are stationed at Little Rock AFB.

Lake City Firm Bonus Checks Total $80,000

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special)

— More than $80,000 in bonus checks was distributed to employees of Gould Engine Parts Division, Gould-National Batteries, Inc., Lake City, at the 21st annual bonus banquet at the Terrace Supper Club. About 555 attended the smorgasbord.

F. H. Jacobs, operations manager, extended the welcome and gave the progress report. Bonney C. Pool gave the response and summed up 1965 activities.

A minute of silence paid respect to W. C. Cheney, long-time president of the plant, whose wife had died Saturday morning.

SERVICE awards were presented four employees for 35 years of service, three each for 30, 25 and 20 years, 12 for 15 years, six for 10 years, and 25 for five years of employment.

The fifth and sixth phases of the multi-phase expansion program at the plant was authorized last year and groundbreaking ceremonies will be held in the near future, Jacobs said.

Last year an addition to the iron foundry was completed; new equipment was added in the machine shop; a gas-fired furnace for remelting was installed in the aluminum foundry; advancement was made in the production of aluminum alloy castings; substantial savings were achieved through the introduction of a new method of alloy addition for gray iron, and improvements in the inspection department resulted in a drop in customer rejects.

Thirty men from the plant completed an accredited course in mathematics given by Prof. Milton Underkoffler of Winona State College.

This year calls for a semi-automatic core room; when the addition to the building is completed and new equipment installed, Jacobs said the Lake City plant will have one of the most modern core rooms in the U.S.

THE INSPECTION department will have an air-conditioned room for accurate calibration of gauges. At present a Magna-glo unit is being installed to improve quality control of finished goods. Equipment for freeing bushings into position will be in production soon. The management hopes to install a modern method of cupola charging to improve on the present method.

All plating methods will be revamped. Faster methods of permanent molding are being investigated. The management hopes to make improvement in present methods of pouring iron. Diversification is in process in the machine shop, and employees will continue efforts to reduce scrap.

Big Job for 'Life Squad'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Life Squad thought it had completed its job. Members were sent on an emergency Wednesday to the home of Alice Patterson, 35. They assisted in the birth of a girl.

But as they accompanied her to a hospital, Mrs. Patterson began complaining of pains. They speeded up the trip and after reaching the hospital, Mrs. Patterson gave birth to another child, a boy.

Three Miles of Dikes Planned at Rushford

RUSHFORD, Minn. — The approved system of 15,884 feet of dikes, channel improvement on Rush Creek and Root River, and necessary changes of the sanitary and storm sewer systems will bring an estimated $2.5 million in federal funds to Rushford within the next two years.

The U.S. Army Engineers flood control plan is designed to relieve this city of some 1,500 population from Rush Creek and Root River flooding which has plagued both business and residential sections each spring for years.

CONTRIBUTIONS by the state Department of Highways in raising bridges and highways are estimated to run $247,000. This massive program, running to near $3 million, will cost local tax payers only an estimated $150,000, perhaps less, according to Mayor D. T. Rollefson.

The completed plans, on which bids will be taken in August, were explained at an informational meeting at the high school here Thursday night by Roger Fast, acting assistant chief of the engineering division, U.S. Army Engineers, St. Paul.

A total of 10,781 feet of dikes is designed for both sides of Rush Creek, from the point where it enters the city at the northwest to where it flows into the Root in the southeast part of town below the Highway 16-43 bridge.

DIKES ON the city side of Rush Creek will total 6,123 feet and will follow the stream as it meanders southerly through the heart of the city.

The dikes will run 4,658 feet on the east side of the creek, part of the diking extending around the area locally known as Brooklyn and Jerusalem.

Diking on the north side of the Root will run 5,103 feet from the point where the wall connects with the Rush Creek dike. The height of the floodwalls or dikes will average 12 feet but run to a maximum of 16 feet where necessary. They will be built of layers of compacted earth. They will run from 82 to 100 feet in width at the surface, tapering to a width of 10 feet at the top.

A CONCRETE flood wall extending 489 feet will be built near the north end of the city along Rush Creek because there isn't room in the area for an earth wall.

Some diking will be placed at intervals along a dry run entering from the northeast into the Brooklyn area.

Two major channel improvements will be made on the Root in an area extending 6,570 feet east and west of Highway 16-43 bridge. Deep curves will be bypassed and river widened from the present 80-100 feet to 120 feet.

About 5,440 feet of Rush Creek will be widened from 60 to 140 or 160 feet in width along the north and east through town.

HIGHWAY 16-43 bridge will be raised six feet, Charles Burill, Rochester, district highway engineer, said, requiring rails ing of the approaches for about 1,000 feet north and south.

Burill said the bridge on Highway 43 at the north end of town will be raised 3.4 feet on the south end and 1.2 feet on the north end.

He said the department is considering raising Highway 16 for a distance west of Rushford in an area where the engineer plans propose sandbagging both highway and railroad track should extreme floods make it necessary.

The city will furnish right of way for the project, four pumps to be used in areas where water would run behind the dikes during times of high water will take care of any water line changes that may be necessary, and telephone and power line changes.

The project when completed will be turned over to the city for operation and maintenance, which will be negligible, Fast said. The U. S. Army Engineers will send a man here once a year to inspect the project and give instruction in operation and maintenance when necessary.

STANLEY Holland, presiding at the meeting, commented that the conservancy board was organized 13 years ago this March. He said that flooding apparently has only occurred in recent times, for there are homes in the now flooded areas that were built 50 and 75 years ago that wouldn't have been constructed where they are if the city had been plagued by the rivers then.

He said a conservation project upstream on Rush Creek prevents sand from coming in from the north. What sifting there is in Rush Creek is the accumulation since the conservation project became effective.

LT. Col. Leslie B. Harding, chief of the engineer district, presided during the informational session and conducted a question and answer period.

FAST SAID the project likely will be handled by a large construction company. He said excavation from channel improvement will be used in the levees or dikes when the material is satisfactory. The dikes after construction will be seeded to grass. Along the stream side, the slopes will be riprapped to protect them from water scouring.

Raising of the railroad tracks and establishing three ponding areas will be part of the project. There will be five pumping stations to pump water over walls into the streams during

Labor Talks of Withdrawing Financial Aid

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Organized labor showed signs today of withdrawing financial support critical to the Democrats in this year's congressional and state elections.

At least one labor union is planning to curtail drastically its usual money contributions to the Democratic party and is trying to drum up similar action among other unions.

The extent of the growing disaffection of labor from the Democrats is not yet clear.

The AFL-CIO unions at their annual midwinter meetings here are expressing open resentment against the Johnson administration on a number of issues.

One major indication was Thursday's rejection by 18 construction unions of an administration plan to submit wage disputes to a national labor-management council.

The unhappiness of the construction unions over what they consider an attempt to limit wage demands reportedly prompted a White House inquiry.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, originally not scheduled here until Feb. 28, reportedly was on his way here today — officially to soak up some sun but, some sources said, to try to mend fences with the politically powerful labor leaders.

Teen-agers Agree Names Should Be Printed

FOR SOME TIME we have discussed in this column the question of whether names of juveniles charged with serious traffic offenses should be printed in the newspapers to deter recklessness on the road.

A Milwaukee newspaper conducted a survey on the question the other day and here are some of the replies from 18-year-olds:

"I THINK THEY shouldn't be excluded just because they're teen-agers, because we learn in driver education that once you're behind the wheel and have your license, you take the responsibility of yourself, other drivers, passengers and pedestrians.

"Once you put the key in the car, you're old enough to take on the responsibility of the movement of the car. If you're old enough to drive you should be old enough to take any punishment deserved if you have an accident or are careless.

"I heard they took juveniles arrested for traffic violations through the county morgue. I think that's a fabulous idea, because they not only get to see what might happen to them but what they might do to others. If I saw a body in the morgue, I wouldn't get over it for a long time."

"I THINK IT WOULD help. They put the adults' names in. If people see the names of teen-agers, they might think the kid was sort of a hot rodder, maybe give the parents a bad name. It would probably mostly be the parents' fault for their lack of jurisdiction over them.

"The police department takes care of punishment, takes their licenses away. That's the best thing to do. That goes back to father saying, 'If you don't eat your spinach, daddy's going to take your roller skates away.'

"I think the visit to the morgue is a good idea, sort of scares a person into driving carefully. From there a person can decide if he wants to look like some of the bodies in the morgue. It makes them think. I've talked to guys who've gone down. They say it's a big refrigerator, there's nothing to see. They sort of brag about it. Probably they were just bragging to hide their real feelings."

"I THINK IF WE revealed the names and ages of teen-agers involved in accidents and other important details, this might make some teen-agers from respectable families more cautious. But the embarrassment that would be suffered would not last forever.

"The idea of kids involved in violations going to the morgue is a good idea. I personally believe we could maybe prevent the first accident by having all drivers taken to the morgue before they receive their permanent license. I don't think teen-agers should be the only ones taken to the morgue. It should be for everyone.

"Adults seem to be a little more care-free with their driving habits. I think the driver education course is trying to teach teen-agers safe habits, and a lot of adults missed out on this when they learned to drive. I'd encourage every teen-ager to take the course."

"I THINK IT would help to publicize more. It would be kind of embarrassing. Young people wouldn't want their names in the paper. I think my parents would be ashamed if I were to be blamed for an accident. My punishment probably would be not to drive any more.

"Taking violators to the morgue is a good idea. They can see what can happen. The way they've been driving can lead to a fatal accident.

"I think most teen-agers should take driver education. If you learn from someone else, you learn their bad habits. If parents are doing something dangerous, you should tell them about it."

"I THINK IT'S a pretty good idea. I was talking it over with my dad. He said it's fine if it's serious, but there are exceptions. If it's the first offense, the offender probably feels bad enough without reading it in the paper.

"Like that accident in Estabrook park when a boy hit a tree and two passengers were killed. He felt bad enough without reading those big headlines in the paper. He was sorry for what he had done.

"I think it's a fine idea for speeders to visit the morgue. It shows what could happen to them. But it just shouldn't be limited to teen-agers. It should be for all age groups."

"I THINK IT would be a good idea to print their names if they were involved in more serious accidents. If the names are printed, it would bring some embarrassment to them. They wouldn't want to face this embarrassment of having their names printed again, so they would think twice while driving. The parents also would have to face embarrassing questions and to avoid it would probably be more strict.

"I don't think hot rodders are ones who have taken this course and actually put some thought into it. I think some students take this course just for the lower insurance rate and don't put much into it. Those who do take it seriously I believe will turn out to be safer drivers.

"The best single thing they teach in the course is defensive driving. That's watching out for the other fellow, because he may not be observing the safety rules."

War Can Be Won, Belief

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson reportedly believes another 12 to 18 months of unrelenting pressure against the Communists in Viet Nam will be necessary to make them realize the crushing weight of the power brought against them. After that they may begin to move toward negotiations.

Neither the President nor any other high official presently talks of a target date for concluding the war. The operational timetable is open ended, and individual views vary on how it will work out in the end.

SOME OFFICIALS see the possibility of a prolonged and spreading conflict in Southeast Asia, continuing for years. Others speculate that the Communists are beginning to be so badly hurt they may decide for peace talks in early 1967.

Johnson's own informal estimate of future possibilities is said to be that maximum military, economic, political, and diplomatic pressure will probably have to be sustained for 12 to 18 months before it makes itself felt decisively and the Communist leaders decide they have no hope of victory.

JOHNSON'S THINKING is geared to a four-front strategy.

This calls for continuing buildup of U.S. power in Viet Nam step by step as he deems necessary, with continuous ground and air offensives to batter the Viet Cong, deprive them of secure bases in the jungles, and break their morale.

The strategy also calls for restoration of the Saigon government's political authority and police power in cleared areas as rapidly as they can be made secure from Communist attack. A third element provides for a broad social and economic reform and rehabilitation of war-stricken villages in an effort to win popular support for the Saigon government.

THE FOURTH front is the diplomatic one, of which Johnson has said the United States must keep pressing for peace talks or a scaling down of the war — however remote concrete results may appear to be at the moment. The President evidently feels that if he can pursue his strategy on present lines, and keep the fighting within present limits, the day will come when the Communists decide they can't win and are being hurt too much to go on fighting.

IN THAT EVENT he is reported to see four possibilities: The Viet Cong may fade away into the population and head back to North Viet Nam. North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong may decide to negotiate. The Viet Cong may split with Hanoi and seek a settlement in the South on their own. Hanoi may cut its ties with the Viet Cong and leave it to fight or make peace as best it can.

Among these possibilities Johnson is said to believe that a Communist decision to negotiate is by far the most likely.

'THERE'S MANY A SLIP 'TWIXT THE CUP AND THE LIP'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Gen. Klein Served as Ghost Writer for Dodd

DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., who flew to West Germany in 1964 to rescue some fat fees for the Julius Klein public relations firm, is now telling friends he never carried out the written instructions he received from Klein.

Evidence to the contrary was supposed to have been destroyed. However, this column has seen the evidence, which is still available in case the Senate Ethics Committee should wish to inspect it.

Klein drew up a list of German leaders who might influence the renewals of his contracts, plus detailed instructions on how to approach each one. Dodd took these instructions with him to Germany and visited nearly everyone on the list. Afterward, to make sure the German leaders were properly impressed, Klein prepared follow-up letters for the senator to sign.

On Aug. 15, 1964, for example, Klein wrote a remarkable letter to his friend in the Senate. Across the bottom is scrawled in longhand: "Please destroy this letter. I made no copy."

Klein asked Dodd to congratulate Dr. Ludwig Westrick on his promotion to the West German cabinet and to add a couple of paragraphs of praise for Klein.

"TO SAVE you time," wrote Klein helpfully, "I am enclosing herewith a rough draft. Maybe you want to paraphrase it and add a little bit about the president's stand on Viet Nam, especially since Westrick is a 100 percent believer in your strong policy."

Both Westrick and Speaker McCormack have the same decoration from the Vatican. They are good friends. The speaker too went out of his way with Westrick to give me a big boost.

"You remember you met Westrick at Ambassador McGhee's party in Bonn and also again in Washington when he was there with Chancellor Erhard. If I am not mistaken, Mrs. Dodd sat next to Westrick at the White House affair. Maybe you want to include her good wishes in your letter to Westrick."

"Please get the letter out on Monday. You can say that you were so burdened with various foreign relations problems and are only now trying to catch up with your correspondence."

WITHOUT changing a word, Dodd transcribed on his Senate stationery the draft prepared by Klein.

"It was indeed a pleasure to see you in Bonn and also recently in Washington," Dodd wrote to Westrick on Sept. 11, 1964, as Klein had dictated. "I saw Gen. Klein recently who, as you know, works hand in hand with all of us. He has the confidence of my Democratic and Republican colleagues and is especially close to our leaders."

"It is for this reason that we all regretted the distortions in the German press and the slander which originated in the press behind the Iron Curtain as Gen. Klein has been rendering a great service not only to our nation but also to your country. His advice has always been most valuable to us Democrats as it was and is to his Republican friends."

Back from Westrick came a reply in German, dated Oct. 17, 1964. Dodd forwarded it to Klein, who returned it with an English translation.

"I AM sincerely happy and pleased to receive your congratulations," acknowledged Westrick. "I was extremely interested in hearing your opinion on Gen. Julius Klein. . . . Mr. Klein visited me recently, but we have not yet reached a result that is to his satisfaction."

The result Klein wanted, presumably, was to get Westrick's support for renewal of his $150,000-a-year contract. To speed up the result, Klein asked the senator from Connecticut to write still another letter.

"My Dear Tom," wrote Klein on Nov. 21, 1964, "I am grateful to you because apparently your discussion and letter got the ball rolling again even though the matter has not been settled as yet. At least I hope it will not be filed and forgotten."

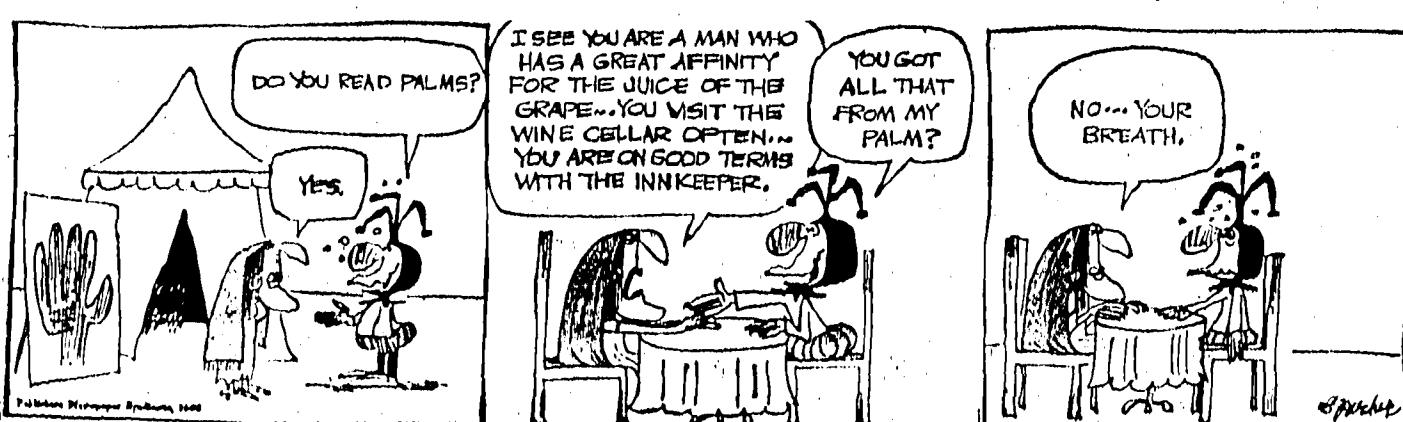

Therefore, I am taking the liberty of preparing for your consideration a draft of a letter I wish you would send in reply. It will be very helpful in getting this matter straightened out once and for all."

WASHINGTON CALLING

Parley Puts Ky Near Top

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

HONOLULU — This conference called by President Johnson is a large blue chip put on the survival value of the wiry, exuberant Air Vice Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky, and the generals who rule with him. It is expected that Ky will not only survive but that with massive economic help from the United States the National Leadership Committee will eventually win the support of the peasants in the countryside.

By Asian standards "eventually" is a very long time. In view of many previous failures which ended if not in violence then in disastrous disillusion, this is a bold bet. But the fact that it has been placed with the flourish of Mr. Johnson's presence and an annual flow of at least a half-billion dollars a year for economic aid is powerful evidence of a determination to reverse the drift of recent years.

Any sensible bookmaker would quote long odds against the bet paying off. But after so many false tries this appears to be the right direction — a determined drive to raise the level of living in the countryside and close the gap of indifference and hostility between the peasant and the sophisticated city dweller.

NOR IS Ky to be discounted as just another in the succession of opportunistic, Western-oriented military men willing to spend Uncle Sam's dollars so long as he is not interfered with. He has shown that he can and will work with the Americans in terms that do not altogether compromise his independence.

This, at any rate, is the official optimism behind the conference. So much official cheer has in the past proved bogus that this must be taken with great skepticism. Recent rumblings out of Viet Nam have had the government threatened by still another coup.

In this new beginning the role of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is interesting. When he returned from his first tour of duty in June of 1964, Lodge could hardly be rated an optimist. In private he talked of the diversity of peoples and sects among the Vietnamese and their almost total lack of any national coherence. He seemed almost to be saying that trying to pull them together was a hopeless task.

YET AT Johnson's request he went back for a second try, and he is largely responsible for bringing retired Maj. Gen. Edward G. Lansdale back to the team. Lansdale emphasized the need to win over the countryside if there is ever to be peace and stability in Viet Nam short of a Communist takeover. If there is hope today, it rests in the combination of Ky, Lodge and Lansdale.

Aside from its promotional, publicity aspects, this meeting is a magnificent illustration of the American position in Southeast Asia. Here are the President of the United States, Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, two other Cabinet members, advisers, generals, and admirals galore — in short, the top apparatus of the most powerful nation in the world. They came here to discuss a war that has been going badly in a primitive, ragged, partly broken country of probably fewer than 30,000,000 people.

TO ENHANCE the paradox these men command a power with the controls centered here such as has seldom been assembled. As the generals like to boast, the firepower brought against the Communist enemy is greater by far than any concentration in the past. The sorties flown by American planes vastly exceed any effort in World War II.

What emerged from the peace offensive was a baffling mystery — why, after this incessant impounding, did the regime in Hanoi give not the smallest indication of willingness to consider any diplomatic initiative? Even the slightest hint of interest in diplomatic exploration would have confused public opinion at home and abroad, however false may have been its intention. But all that came out of Hanoi was a stern, resounding no.

IN A SENSE the purpose of the conference, insofar as it has a serious purpose beyond the propaganda show, is to examine this paradox. Over and over we have been told that only by winning the hearts and minds of the Vietnamese people will we achieve a victory that has meaning beyond the grim choice of pulverization of American occupation into the indefinite future to keep a puppet government in office. The hour is late and the wreckage of past failures, in terms of human suffering and alienation, is a great obstacle. But the optimists are saying here that it is not too late.

This is the reason teams of American specialists in agriculture, health, and education are going to Viet Nam. They are going presumably with the assurance from Ky that his government will cooperate with them in carrying out long delayed reforms. And that may be the supreme paradox, that this jaunty, sophisticated, 35-year-old flyer and his co-operating generals are looked to as the last best hope in doing what so many have failed to do.

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Molner: Assuming that a male knows for a fact that a bad case of mumps as a young adult made him sterile, is it possible that this could be cured or that he could become a father? — M.T.D.

Assuming that he "knows for a fact," we have to assume that he has had a medical examination to determine whether he is sterile. Sorry to say, I see no prospect of changing this, once it has occurred from this cause — but I do think that in some supposed cases, it can be worthwhile to have expert medical investigation to find out whether sterility really exists.

Dear Dr. Molner: How could we investigate radio treatments? Also how could we get in touch with the medical association? — S.M.E.

Radio-frequency (diathermy) machines have been used for quite a few years now for special purposes, and I'm not sure what kind of "investigating" you want to do. There's no return address on your letter, but if you live in a city, look in the phone book for the address of your county medical society. In a smaller community, ask any M.D.

In all the world no monument is more famous than Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty. Standing on an isle in New York harbor, it is the symbol of a nation that enjoys the ultimate in political and religious freedom. It is our Americanism landmark.

Since 1886, the towering statue has been the first welcoming beacon for countless thousands coming to these shores to find a better life... The life of Liberty, of Freedom, the American way. The inscription on its base carries a potent message of promise as significant as the monument itself:

"Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free.

The wretched refuse of your teeming shore
Send these, the homeless, the tempest-tost, to me:
I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

Then, if we have in the past, may we never again take Liberty for granted... it wears a price tag.

Army Chaplain Priest Works With Vietnamese Civilians

Maj. Harold J. Paul, who served as assistant pastor at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church and also as instructor at Cotter High School from 1953 to 1954, has been stationed in Soc Trang, South Viet Nam, since July 1965.

His parish, as he call it, consists of the Delta towns of Vinh Long, Soc Trang, Bac Lieu and Ca Mau. Father Paul has expressed an eagerness to go out to the people in the outlying areas, but Army safety restrictions and the inevitable alert curfew work. Perhaps in future months this will be possible, the father hopes.

FATHER PAUL has supervised the building of a new chapel in Soc Trang. This was accomplished through the labor of the Vietnamese men and financially through the help of the American troops and friends in the United States. The Mass was celebrated for the first time in the church on Christmas Eve.

Last week, Father Paul wrote to his sister, Sister M. Katel, a teacher at St. Mary's Grade School, that he and seven enlisted men are teaching English to high school seniors and adults. Five hundred persons registered on the first night.

Father Paul wrote to his sister last November asking for toys for 80 orphans in Soc Trang. Three cartons of toys were shipped to Viet Nam — toys collected by the students of St. Mary's Grade School.

IN A LETTER thanking the students father wrote:

"The Sisters here at the orphanage apologize for the seeming disinterest shown by the children in the pictures taken at the distribution of the toys on Dec. 21. Remember, these are the first dolls and toys that these children have had."

The Christmas Day and Vietnamese New Year truces were mentioned in his letters to his family.

"... but since we never quite know what is going to happen next, we are back on alert. The war is back once again and it could go on for a long time," he wrote.

FATHER PAUL was born in Easton, Minn., April 18, 1921. He attended St. John's University, Collegeville, Minn., and the St. Paul (Minn.) Seminary. He was ordained a priest for the Diocese of Winona on May 29, 1948.

He served as assistant pastor at Sacred Heart Church, Owatonna, and also at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Caledonia. On July 15, 1954, he entered the service as a chaplain with the U.S. Army.

Big Russian Plane Crashes

MOSCOW (AP) — Witnesses say the huge Soviet airliner which crashed Thursday got about 100 feet off the ground, dropped back and hit a snowbank with one wing.

Unofficial Soviet sources said 48 of the 70 persons aboard the TU14 — the world's largest airliner — were killed in the crash at Moscow's Sheremetyevo Airport. Western airline sources said 38 were killed.

Witnesses gave this account of the crash: The four-engine turboprop plane left the runway and rose about 100 feet, then began swaying violently. One side dipped and the plane started to drop back to earth.

The pilot, apparently realizing that the plane was too far down the runway to land safely, tried to get maximum power. The engines roared but he could not get the giant craft to climb. A wing dug into a snowbank and the TU14 fell.

It snapped in two from the force of the impact. The rear section burst into flame, causing the heaviest casualties.

The dead included a Soviet cultural official and an official of the government airline Aeroflot, official spokesman said today. They were Alexander A. Petrov, a deputy chairman of the state committee for cultural relations with foreign countries, and Vladimir I. Smirnov, Aeroflot's commercial director.

The plane was on a 7,440-mile flight to Guinea, Ghana and Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo, to inaugurate a new service. An official spokesman said Petrov was making the trip to negotiate a cultural agreement with the Brazzaville government.

BILL MERRILL'S Something to Liveby

I wonder if going places and doing things doesn't have its greatest value at the end of the trip, or at the completion of an activity.

It was a gray day in the fall of the year. Trees had shed their leaves and at first, one might feel the atmosphere lacked a bit in inspiration. Anyway, I'm sure more is usually said for a warmish spring day with the budding of new life and promise of a fresh start. Yet, I found inspiration on that gray, misty November day in the North Country.

WINTER HUNG heavy in the air, but was detained a bit by temperatures just too warm for its grand entry. I drove to a city park where a few weeks before there had been lots of activity. Children played, older folks relaxed and families picnicked. It was here that I captured somewhat the feeling of the empty banquet hall right after everyone had left, or that of a football stadium or fairground where the action had been but now has faded into history, but not oblivion. One of the advantages in going places and doing things is in the memory of those places and activities. Perhaps one of the finest blessings bestowed on mankind is his ability to recall happy thoughts so when needed, we can stimulate what might well be a dull attitude by recalling the banquet, game, or day at the park.

Going places and doing things does more than fill one's life with momentary pleasure. It has a way of building itself into one's being, giving a person a charge, so to speak, brightens the outlook, expands one's horizons, and then stores happy thoughts in the memory for future reference. Oh, lest I forget — going places doesn't have to infer far-away places and doing things doesn't have to mean out of the ordinary things. Strangely enough, one's memory finds some of its best material for future reference in the old hometown, at the city park, or the swimming hole.

WHILE I was musing on these things, three other cars came through the now all but deserted park. Each stopped for a short time. One man even got out and walked over by the bear cage, as these furry ones number among the few who are still abiding in the outdoor zoo. I suspect that whether they could put it in words or not, they each came here to reflect in his own way the happy activities he knew here in a season gone by, and I suspect each left lifted a bit, in spite of the fact it was a gray November day.

So here's Something to Live By. When you find you're in a band and tension is all but tearing you apart, take a break and dip into a happy past. Stop for a while in the city park, next to a stream, or walk through a deserted fairground and you'll be surprised how refreshing it can be.

Panfish Derby Set At Merrick Park

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. (Special) — Final plans for a panfish derby at Merrick State Park March 6 will be discussed by the Fountain City Rod & Gun Club Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. at the American Legion Club.

Roger Adank, Melvin Schlesselman, Calvin Mueller, John Kamp, David Duellman and Robert Sieker are on the contest committee. The movie, "Womanza at Great Bear," showing some of the finest fishing in the world within the Arctic Circle, will be shown.

Seat Belts Hit, Harness Called Best

LEE, N.H. (AP) — A retired millionaire who has devoted years to studying auto safety says the regular seat belt installed in cars "has no protective value."

Andrew J. White, 60, says that in many instances a regular seat belt "reduces the chances for survival in a traffic accident."

"The seat belt leaves the head, the most vulnerable part of the anatomy, to act as a sledgehammer against the windshield and dashboard," said White in an interview.

Wearing one, he drove a car at 50 miles per hour into a two-foot-thick brick wall and he was uninjured.

White said it can be fastened in three seconds. "First you put on the lap strap, release two clips that hold the harness near the sun visors and attach the clips onto the strap."

White, who is president of the Motor Vehicle Research of New Hampshire Inc., designed the harness to include a seat belt, a shoulder strap, and a head sling. He said more than 10 years of study of actual accidents and numerous tests performed by his nonprofit firm proved the harness is the best safety device available.

"More than 80 per cent of all fatal accidents involve head injuries. The harness is the only way to protect the head," said White.

Blair Chamber, Council Discuss Use of New Land

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Plans were made to send two delegates to a state workshop at Eau Claire Feb. 24 when members of the Blair Chamber of Commerce met jointly with members of the city planning commission.

They also agreed to hear suggestions on use of newly acquired property. The land is east of Riverside Memorial Park and encompasses area on both sides of the railroad tracks.

One suggestion has been a golf practice area. Committee chairman is Ray Nereng and vice chairman, Don Huibregtse.

Blair Board Asks Detailed Plans of School Expansion

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — More detailed sketches of plans for Blair school expansion were requested by the board of education this week when it gave tentative approval to preliminary plans.

After approval of the more complete plans, it is expected the board will activate a citizens advisory board approved late last year.

Administrator Donald Jacobson was offered a new contract. After hearing Gary Olson and Mrs. Alan Peters of the Blair Education Association on salaries, the board moved to vote at its next meeting on a motion to add $200 to the base salary structure across the board.

Everyone interested in hunting and fishing is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

WINONA COUNTY

Contests Develop In 3 Townships

Six more Winona County townships have reported filings for the March 8 elections. Two have contests scheduled.

Seventeen townships have now reported, with contests in only three townships.

The first group of township filings was reported Sunday.

ADDITIONS: SARATOGA — Locksley Campbell, incumbent supervisor, has filed to succeed himself. Marvin Wisckow also has filed for this office.

For the unexpired term of supervisor Glenn Babcock, which has two years remaining, there are three filings. William Roth, Carl Mundt and Vance Knauf have filed. Babcock is moving from the township.

Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The township meeting begins at 2 p.m.

DRESBACH — Peter Freeman has filed a challenge to incumbent Allen Moore's supervisor-ship. Moore has filed. John Schneider, clerk, and Hugh Donaldson, treasurer, have both filed for re-election.

Polls will be open from noon until 7 p.m. at the town hall.

ELBA — Louis Helm, clerk, and Frank Brosig, supervisor, both incumbents, have filed to succeed themselves. A constable and justice of the peace also must be elected. No one has filed for these offices.

Voting will be at the Sportsman Hall, Elba, from 1 to 5 p.m. Township meeting begins at 1:30 p.m.

ROLLINGSTONE — Arnold Miller, clerk, and Edward Ya, rolinck, supervisor, both incumbents, have filed to succeed themselves. No one has filed for constable and justice of the peace.

Polls will be open at the town hall from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. The town meeting begins at 11 a.m.

PLEASANT HILL — No one has filed for office. Incumbents Roy Schossow, clerk, and Roger Hackbarth, supervisor, have not filed for re-election.

Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the town hall.

WHITEWATER — Incumbent clerk Clarence Ellinghuysen and supervisor Cyril Kronebusch both have filed for re-election. No one has filed for other offices.

Polls will be open 12 noon until 4 p.m. at the town hall.

In the town of Mount Vernon, a justice of the peace and constable must be elected, in addition to clerk and supervisor. This was incorrectly reported Sunday.

Various States Considering Tax Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — State tax increases totaling more than $1.1 billion are reported under consideration by state legislatures meeting this year.

The increases would be in addition to a near record $1.3 billion of new or increased state income, sales and other taxes approved last year. A number of those took effect Jan. 1.

Total state tax collections for the year which ended June 30, 1964 — the latest for which records are available — were $24 billion.

The new compilation was made by the Tax Foundation, Inc., New York, and was supplemented by reports brought to the annual Washington meeting this week of the National Taxpayers Conference by its members representing 38 state taxpayer groups.

Several of the largest states, in population and annual budget, are among those in which new or higher taxes have been proposed. They include California, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey and Virginia.

New Jersey is one of three states — the others are Nebraska and New Hampshire — without either a general income or sales tax. Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes is pressing — and has predicted success for — a state income tax. Many opponents of the income tax proposal favor a sales tax.

Although some of the proposed new taxes almost surely will be voted down, many are considered likely to become law — enough to provide some perceptible further anti-inflationary drain on consumer buying power.

Their dampening effect would be added to that of the $4.8 billion of federal income, excise and corporation tax increases and speedups now pending in Congress, the $5-billion increase in Social Security taxes that took effect on Jan. 1 and a possible boost in the unemployment compensation payroll tax which President Johnson has indicated he will ask of Congress.

Mrs. Paskiewicz Honored by Club, Named to KOPS

Mrs. Edwin Paskiewicz of the Figure Trimmers TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Club has earned a distinction in her group.

At the Figure Trimmers' weekly meeting Thursday she was graduated into KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly), for having attained her desired weight. She lost 11 pounds since Aug. 4. The club awarded her a plaque, a charm and a diploma.

Total amount lost by members of the Figure Trimmers now stands at 1,245 pounds; this is called the "Big Pig."

Mrs. Paskiewicz is the third member of the club to achieve KOPS rating. Others are Mrs. Donald Ellefson and Mrs. Thomas Dunning.

Girl Scout Spring, Summer Activities Planned at Meeting

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — Spring and summer activities were outlined when Root River Neighborhood of the River Trails Girl Scout Council met Wednesday at Chatfield with representatives from Lanesboro, Preston and Chatfield attending. Mrs. O. E. Christenson, Chatfield, chairman, presided.

Materials were distributed and plans completed for the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale March 21-28. Various ways for observing Thinking Day, Feb. 22, were presented, as well as activities for Girl Scout Week, March 6-12, and summer camping.

Feb. 22 is the birthday of both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, who established the first Boy Scouts and Girl Guides in England. This date is set aside each year when Girl Guides and Girl Scouts everywhere join their thoughts and send them round the world as a powerful prayer that all men shall be friends.

Part of the Juliet Low World Friendship Fund, supported by Girl Scouts in the United States, is used for the Thinking Day Fund and part is used to send Girl Scouts to other countries and to bring Girl Guides from other countries to the United States.

Miss Helen Berg, Rochester, council director, presented a film, "Follow Me Girls," which featured a silent movie, the historical account of early Girl Scouting in 1914-15.

Newly-Formed Ridgeway PTA Holds Election

RIDGEWAY, Minn. — Mrs. Arden Hackbarth was elected president at the organizational PTA meeting of the new Ridgeway School District Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Gordon Gerdes was elected vice president; Mrs. Alfred Fabian, secretary, and Harold Pflughoft, treasurer. Plans were completed for a public card party to be held at the school March 12 at 8 p.m.

PACZKI SOCIAL. The Rosary and Sacred Heart Societies of St. Stanislaus Catholic Church will hold their annual Paczki Social Sunday in the church hall. Serving will take place from 2 to 7 p.m. Games will be played.

Richard Darby To Address AAUW Branch

Richard Darby, assistant county attorney, will be guest speaker at the meeting of Winona Branch, American Association of University Women, at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Pasteur Hall auditorium, Winona State College.

Mr. Darby, who is substituting for S. A. Sawyer, will speak on "The Court Structure of Minnesota." Afterwards the meeting will be open for discussion on the subject, "Laws as they Affect the Average Citizen."

Coffee will be served from 7:30 to 8 p.m., followed by a brief business meeting to vote upon emerging issues. AAUW members are encouraged to bring guests.

Mystery Surrounds St. Teresa Prom Preparations

Mystery as usual surrounds the theme of the Junior Class Prom at the College of Saint Teresa this evening. Officers of the class who are planning the party refuse to divulge the plans for decorations and the evening's events, other than to say that Rich's Band will play for dancing.

Between 400 and 450 students and their dates are expected to attend the prom, which opens at 8 p.m. in Lourdes Hall on campus. Faculty members will be chaperons.

Junior class officers are Miss Margery Clancy, Milwaukee, president; Miss Nancy Cooley, Elk River, Minn., vice president; Miss Patricia Reichert, Chicago, secretary, and Miss Mary Henning, Park Forest, Ill., treasurer.

Recent Bride Feted By Co-Soroptimists

Mrs. Philip Karsina was guest of honor at the dinner meeting of the Soroptimist Club, held at the home of Mrs. Marie Fjeldstad Wednesday evening. She was presented with gifts by members of the club, as she is the most recent bride in the membership.

Mrs. Florence Baab presided at the brief business session which followed the dinner. A workshop meeting was held on the map project after the business session.

Reports were given by various members on pending projects and their progress, with Miss Rose Schettler reporting on the Hiawatha Valley Mental Health project. Miss Harriet Kelley reported that two more Soroptimists had been given to children at Community Memorial Hospital. Miss Emma Streich brought in the balance of the UNICEF cards which had been delayed in shipment.

Richard A. Jahnke Weds Miss Anderson At Pepin Church

PEPIN, Wis. — Miss Diana Beverly Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson, and Richard A. Jahnke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard N. Jahnke, were married Feb. 8 at Pepin Immanuel Lutheran Church.

THE REV. Robert Bipes officiated. Mrs. Wayne Raethke was organist and Miss Mary Kay Jahnke, soloist.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of delustered satin, fashioned with long sleeves and a scoop neckline overlaid with embroidered lace. The controlled skirt had a removable chapel-length train. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and ivy.

Miss Connie Berg was maid of honor and Miss Louella Anderson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

They wore sleeveless gowns of forest-green velvet, styled on empire lines, with bands of matching satin at the waistlines. Both carried yellow sweetheart roses.

BEST MAN was Ronald Jahnke and groomsmen were Larry Marcks. Ushers were Steven Jahnke and LaVere Anderson. A reception was held in the church parish hall.

The couple is living with the groom's parents for the time being. The groom is employed in Lake City.

Far-Out, Familiar Combined in Musical Fable, 'The Fantasticks'

By JOHN R. BREITLOW

An often enjoyable combination of the far-out and the familiar is the St. Mary's College presentation of "The Fantasticks," a modern musical fable by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, which opened Thursday evening in the College Auditorium. Performances are scheduled Friday through Sunday of this and next weekend.

The spelling of the title aptly suggests the off-beat character of the play, which has a deceptively simple and classic plot.

MISS MARLENE AVIS OLSON'S engagement to A.I.C. Charles Lord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lord, Lamoni, Iowa, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore F. Olson, Weaver, Minn. The wedding will be May 14 in Weaver Methodist Church. Miss Olson is a graduate of Winona Senior High School and Harding Approved School of Beauty Culture. She has operated Marlene's Beauty Nook at Kellogg, Minn., for the last five years. Her fiancé is serving with the Strategic Air Command of the Air Force, stationed at Grand Forks, N.D.

A boy and girl who live next door fall in love despite the apparent enmity between their fathers. But it is soon revealed that the fatherly feud was only a ruse to bring them together. The fathers are only too aware that the way to be sure young people do a given thing is to forbid it.

The fathers even stage an abduction to end their "feud," but the boy-girl relationship is founded on youthful fantasy and needs some reality to strengthen and temper it. Each tries the world, apart from the other, and both end up where they belong: Together.

The playgoer will scarcely recognize "The Fantasticks" from this description. The set is an almost bare stage with the merest clever suggestions of scenery. The dialogue is mainly delightfully contrived parody. The machinations of the plot are purposefully artificial. The characters are not even people, but rather puppets with certain human characteristics hilariously overdeveloped.

THAT MEANINGFUL theater, let alone entertainment, is produced from these puzzling components, is a credit to Norman Delue's direction. His lively cast moves with that well-timed ease which demands strenuous work to achieve. The story line proceeds and the fantasy is sustained through countless bits of precise business.

As Luisa, the play's only girl, Miss Elizabeth Caron from the College of St. Teresa, dominates the scene both visually and vocally. Her appearance is that of bright, wide-eyed doll, her character has a sparkly quality that is half child and half woman, augmented by a powerful soprano voice not always controlled.

To the character of Matt, the boy next door, David Nigon brings a pleasant youthful charm and a husky baritone voice which he valiantly made serve in the finest, most demanding tradition of the theater. His role was also the most nearly human, providing good balance for the more stylized characters.

THE TWO fathers provided contrasting comedy with the versatile James Caron as the bulky Bellomy, a retired sailor who hates water and gardens, against lanky David Gaskill who is forever watering his vegetables. Together they have three very funny song and dance numbers, done with intentionally awkward choreography and great expression.

If the play has a make-believe villain, it is the manipulating narrator El Gallo, played with heavy-eyed urbanity by Louis Colofa, a versatile actor and singer whose best musical moment is the song, "It Depends on What You Pay," whereby he sells the fathers on an arranged abduction, which he bills as "one rape, first class, with trimmings." Assisting El Gallo are an aging old-time Shakespearean ham, skillfully played by Rick Kauphusman, and his sidekick Mortimer, a stage Indian whom Gregory Gaut makes master of every pretfall in the book. Within each scene there is also the silent presence of Mark Smith

MISS SUSAN ANN REDIG'S engagement to Randall J. Senecal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Senecal, Niagara, Wis., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid J. Redig, St. Charles, Minn. No date has been set for the wedding. Miss Redig, a graduate of St. Charles High School and Patricia Stevens School, Milwaukee, is employed by Bond Finance Corp., Rochester. Her fiancé, a graduate of Niagara High School, attended Oshkosh (Wis.) State College and is in the Air Force, stationed at Randolph AFB, San Antonio, Tex.

Strum Auxiliary Meets Monday

STRUM, Wis. (Special) — The Women's Auxiliary will meet Monday at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harold Brian. Mrs. Donald Brian will be co-hostess.

The auxiliary gave its annual Valentine party for the aged at Rustad Nursing Home Monday afternoon. Each person received a valentine, and ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. William Call and Mrs. Hannah Peterson were in charge.

Chautauqua Club will meet at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. G. W. Engstrom, 924 Gilmore Ave.

who gives an often-exquisite performance of pure pantomime reminiscent of the great Marcel Marceau.

THE DIFFICULT musical score is done by a hard-working trio upstage behind a scrim, using the classic combination of piano, bass and drums, which Richard Smith's strong piano deservedly dominates.

Mrs. Barbara Sullivan's musical direction was appropriate, although the rhythm of the play's familiar theme song, "Try To Remember," seemed rather "square" for the tone of the production.

The stark, modern colors of Bernard Tusaus's imaginative settings, the clever design of Mary Ann Okray's costumes, and occasionally dazzling, elemental lighting of Brother Damien all supported the off-beat atmosphere of the production.

The play is a good evening's modern entertainment, with many laughs, much spoofing of theatrical tradition and few uneven spots which normally occur when the onstage distinction is made between singers who act and actors who sing. Director Norman Delue chose actors with the happy result that dialogue outdistanced lyrics and movement was more important than melody.

Remodeled Legion Club Opening

A major remodeling at the American Legion Memorial Club will be culminated in a grand opening at the club, 265 E. 3rd St., Saturday evening.

The Ken Bye quartet will play for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The remodeling, the first major project at the club since 1947, involved enlarging and changing the lounge area.

The quartet will play in the ballroom; other musical entertainment will be provided in the lounge. Numerous out-of-town Legion delegations are expected.

THE RESULT is a modern, spacious cocktail lounge. Seating is available for nearly 100.

Dominant colors are orange, green, white and black. The cocktail terrace is carpeted in green, draperies on the north and east walls are in pastels of yellow, gold, orange and green; walnut wood paneling, highlighted with pecan strips, covers the west wall and a portion of the north; upholstery materials are orange, green, white and black; table tops are black, gold and white; the portion of floor not carpeted is covered with varied-colored vinyl asbestos tile and, in the case of a small dancing area, with wood parquet.

The ceiling treatment emphasizes drop panels of plywood with decorative acoustical tile placed at random. These 10 painted drop panels vary from 4 by 8 to 4 by 20 feet. Suspended from them are cylindrical gold lighting units formed of glass marbles cemented together with epoxy and whose lighting intensity is controlled by rheostats.

The rectangular bar in the center of the room is of laminated plastic teak wood. It has vinyl covered padded arm rests and is surrounded by 18 stools and 8 chairs. All equipment is new.

Other seating in the lounge includes upholstered benches, chairs and booths.

HIGHLIGHTING the east wall is a large lighted American Legion emblem of stained glass. Other Legion paraphernalia still is to be installed in the room, final details of the remodeling having not yet been completed.

The room size now is 29 by 61 feet, 20 feet having been added to the length by removal of a restroom and cloakroom area which separated the previous lounge from a meeting area.

The new restrooms, cloak room and office are on the west wall. Restrooms have ceramic tile floor and wainscoting and above that vinyl wall covering.

Off the lounge is a soundproofed card room, 12 by 23 feet. It has a separate exit to the outside.

The former main entrance to the club has been closed, although the opening remains as a fire exit. The entrance now is in the southwest corner of the club's parking lot. A redwood canopy covers the entrance area and a decorative wall will be erected in the spring.

FROM THIS entrance area visitors may either enter the lounge, the meeting area or the lower level dining area. Admission to the lounge will be only with a magnetized card, now being delivered to members of the post and its auxiliary.

MEMBERS OF the governing board are: Dr. D. T. Burr, president; Lyle Haney, vice president; Robert Mora ve, treasurer; A. J. Kiekbusch, secretary; Fred Nuszloch, Merlin Von Borgen, James Donahue, R. Burr Mann, Max Bunn, Walter Schmidt, Donald Gray, Donald Winder, Ronald Hammond and Ray Dorn.

The nonprofit club corporation was formed in 1944 with the acquisition of the old Lincoln Hotel as the first permanent home for Leon J. Wetzel Post 9, which had been chartered in 1919.

Minor changes were made immediately and in late 1947 a major remodeling and expansion program was undertaken, which involved a 40-by-90-foot, two-story addition at the rear. Smaller improvement projects have been initiated since then.

Principal contractors for this second major program were: Bruce McNally, general; Best Electric, Sanitary Plumbing & Heating Co. and W-Smith Architectural & Engineering Service.

Side Clearance Variance OKed

A variance from side clearance regulations was granted Thursday night to John O. Reinhard, 356 E. 5th St., by the Board of Zoning Appeals.

Reinhard plans to build two additions on his house. A 7-by-6-foot addition at the front would be even with present front and side lines of the house. A 12-by-12-foot addition at the rear also would be even with the present side of the house, which is 4 feet from the lot line.

Since regulations call for 5 feet of clearance, the variation was needed so a building permit could be issued.

There was no opposition to Reinhard's request.

Calverley, Rhodies Are Back in News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ernie Calverley and Rhode Island are back in the headlines in college basketball today.

Back in 1946 Calverley scored a historic 55-foot field goal in the last two seconds to save Rhode Island from defeat against Bowling Green in the NIT quarter-finals. Calverley went on to win the tournament's Most Valuable Player award although Rhode Island lost to Kentucky by one point in the final.

Now coach at his alma mater, Calverley saw his Rhodies score a decisive 84-61 upset road victory over the nationally ranked Providence Friars Thursday night. It shattered Providence's 39-game home winning streak.

Art Stephenson, a 6-foot-5 sophomore from New York City, led the assault with 29 points for the Yankee Conference leaders against the Friars, No. 6 in The Associated Press poll this week. Jimmy Walker, Providence star, fouled out as the Friars lost only their third game in 20 starts. Rhode Island now is 16-5 over-all.

The Denver Pioneers, playing at home, came upset with the night's other upset. They snapped Oklahoma City's 10-game winning streak 84-83 aided by Rick Callahan's free throw on a technical foul called on Abe Lemons, the Oklahoma City coach, in the last 27 seconds. It was the Chiefs' fourth defeat against 20 victories.

Houston's Cougars extended their winning streak to 13 with a 111-96 home court triumph over Miami of Florida behind the combined 64 points of Joe Hamood and Elvin Hayes. Hamood, 5-11, got 33 and Hayes, 6-8, got 31.

Gophers Hoping To Keep Hockey Pressure on Tech

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota's Gophers, riding the crest of a five-game winning streak and victorious in 11 of their last 12 games, hope to maintain their momentum and keep the pressure on first-place Michigan Tech in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association weekend.

The Gophers entertain North Dakota at Minneapolis tonight and Saturday with second place in the WCHA at stake. Minnesota has won three in a row from the Sioux this season and are shooting for a five-game sweep.

Tech, leading the WCHA with an 11-4-1 record, is host to Michigan State for a pair of games this weekend. Minnesota is 12-6, while third-place North Dakota is 11-7.

Big Nine Question for Hawks: To Be, Or Not To Be?

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

To be or not to be?

They will put that question to the Hawks of Winona High School at Rochester tonight in basketball. A Winona victory means at least a share of the Big Nine Conference title is salted away. A loss means Winona stands the chance of leading the race from opening day only to finish empty-handed.

You can bet your bottom dollar that the Rockets would like nothing better than to see that their arch-rival did not inherit the crown they wore last year.

The two teams go before the public for inspection at 8 p.m. at the John Marshall gymnasium.

The game has been christened a tournament prelude for Rochester and a crucial battle for Winona.

In fact, Rocket boss Kerwin Engelhart did his best to put the Hawks' minds on the game when he said Thursday he felt all the pressure would be on Winona.

John Kenney agrees that Winona must withstand more pressure than Rochester but points to the fact that it is nothing new.

"We knew from the beginning that we weren't going to get any help from anyone (in the form of a victory over Austin)," mused Kenney. "The pressure has been there from the beginning. What about the Austin game? There was plenty of pressure connected with that one."

"We've got the streak going now. We know everyone is pointing for us. But remember something else: when we met Rochester before, we hadn't turned the corner. It was only our third conference game and it was at home.

"We know we have to win... we've had to win all year. But these kids are pretty good about helping themselves."

The last statement was punctuated with a chuckle and the coach settled the question of pressure by saying: "The pressure we're going to have tonight is not insurmountable. The kids are confident."

The statement about "helping themselves" is borne out with a check of the scorebook.

The Hawks three times this year have had all five starters in double figures, including the past two games with Northfield and La Crosse

Central. On six occasions (once with Loren Benz in place of John Walski at a forward) four starters have been in double figures.

Of the five that has started 13 consecutive games (with the exception of Benz replacing Walski, a pinched nerve victim, for the Mankato game), all have on two or more occasions led the team in scoring. Every starter is, of course, averaging more than 11 points per game.

"That five plays well together," said Kenney in a repeat of a statement he has made on more than one occasion this year. "They will go as long as they can tonight."

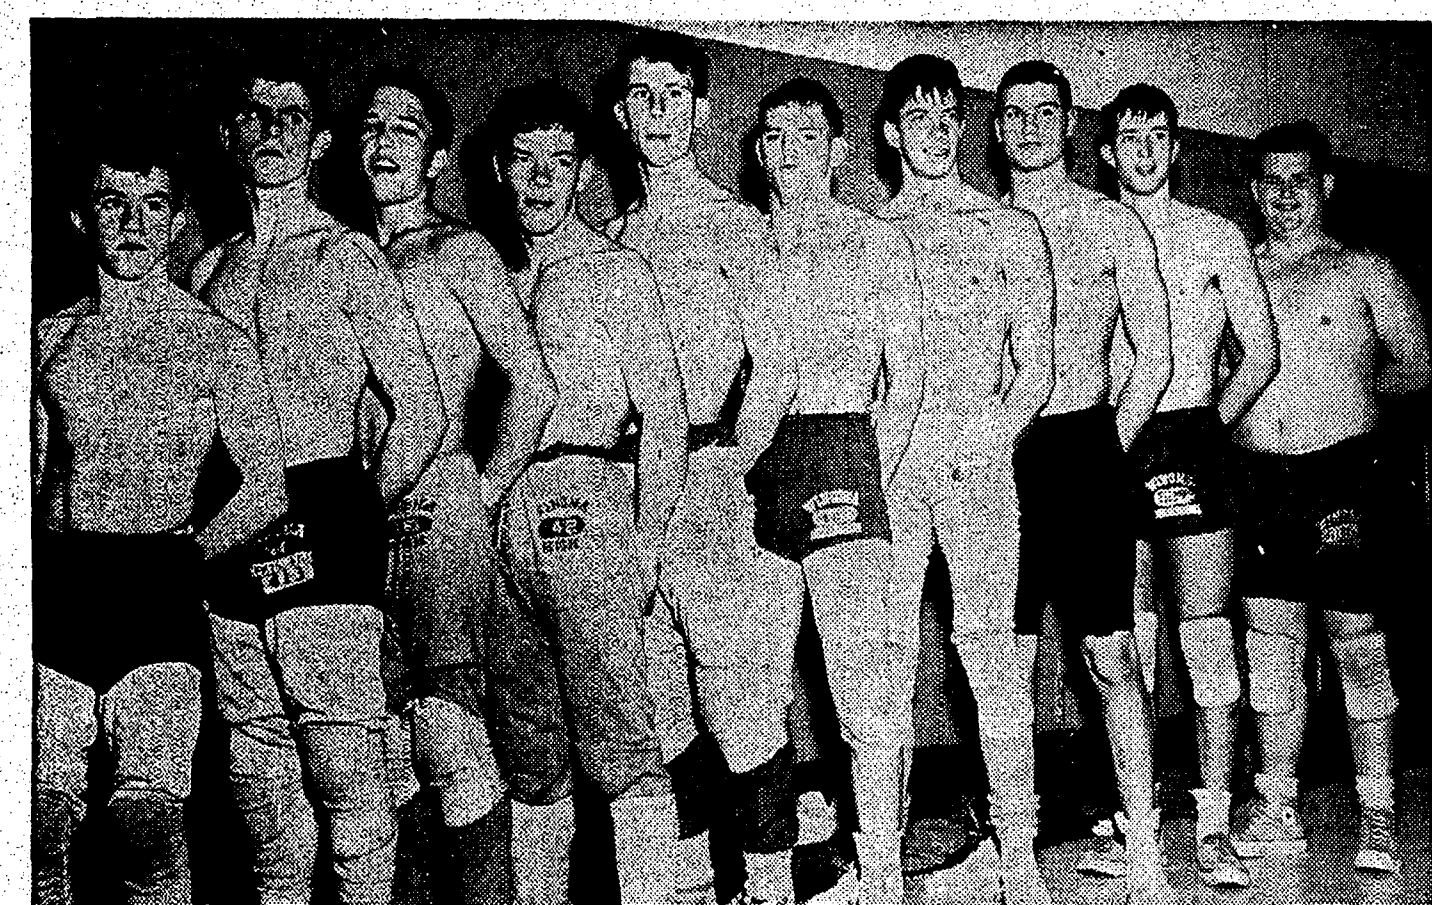

"That five" is made up of 6-6½ Paul Plachecki, 6-5 Larry Larson and 5-11 John Walski in the front line and 6-2 Gary Addington and 5-8 Don Hazelton at guards.

The backstopping unit also can lend capable assistance. It includes Pat Hopf at center, Benz and Steve Holubar at forwards and Rick Curran and Steve Gerlach at guards.

"We realize that we are going to have to play good ball to beat Rochester," assessed Kenney of the team that has won five straight in the conference. "But the mark of a good team is to keep its poise on the road. The good club won't crack under the extra pressure that a trip brings."

But, of course, Rochester would like to play "spoiler" and the Hawks would like to lock up a share of the title with their ninth straight in the league. It could add up to an exciting contest.

Keenan (25 Points) Paces Upset

Duluth Plays Here Saturday

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

They hadn't said much about the "little guy" in pre-game conversation, but today they are singing the praises of Tom Keenan on Terrace Heights.

You see, St. Mary's College Thursday night pulled one of the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference's most stunning basketball upsets.

The Redmen cost St. John's University second place, and by no freak event. In fact, after the ten-minute mark of the first half, all the Johnnies could do was raise several futile gestures at a game of catch up.

St. Mary's is hoping the 85-69 victory will set the stage for a run at a six-game season-ending string. The fourth in that span comes Saturday night on Terrace Heights when Duluth visits Winona.

Then Monday night, Augsburg is here and the team travels to Macalester for a rematch Feb. 28.

But Thursday was a great night for coach Ken Wiltgen and his battling corps of cagers. And when the ballots had been counted, it was a 56-rebound effort that had earned the victory.

"That's the pleasing thing," said Wiltgen. "We beat them at their own game — rebounding. When we played up there (the Redmen lost 74-65) they had 30 buckets and I'll bet you 15 came on rebounds. They didn't get them tonight."

And it is in the rebounding department where Keenan, a 6-3 sophomore, earned his tag as the key to victory.

In the first half — when a St. Mary's spurt carried the Redmen from 15-13 behind to 30-15 ahead — he got no less than five offensive rebounds. He put all five in the basket. He did it twice more in the second half when the Redmen were toying it out of reach and finished with 25 points to play a supporting scoring role to George Hoder.

Hoder, who also worked a bit of backboard magic, counted on a variety of drive, rebound and jump shots to finish with 27.

But since the overall difference was written in the rebounding department, it might be well to glance at the figures.

Roger Pytlewski, with but five points, did not make a heavy offensive contribution. But he will get an A+ rating for his carom grabbing. He took 15 off the defensive board and got two off the offensive board. Hoder plucked a total of 14 — eight of them defensive. And Keenan pulled in nine offensive rebounds and five defensive as the team finished its 56.

"That's a darn good figure for any night," said Wiltgen. "But it's almost unbelievable against St. John's."

The Johnnies, who measure 6-5 to a man in the front line, can throw bigger boys into battle should they wish. But all their wishes went in vain Saturday.

The contest opened as each team used potent shooting attacks to forge eight ties in the first nine minutes, the last at 15-15 when Keenan gunned in a rebound.

Hoder came back with a reverse layup and a hook and the Redmen charge was on.

It was time for Keenan again and he binged two rebounds. Jim Buffo responded with a free throw and Keenan answered on a drive. It was time to hear from Hoder. The Johnnies did as two long jumpers rang the scoreboard up to 30.

It was with 5:18 remaining that Joe Mucha finally broke the St. John's drought with a short one-hander and they played it out to intermission. St. Mary's then led 45-27.

"It was kind of nice to get a streak like that going... especially when we've had a few of those kind hit against us," smiled Wiltgen.

And the best part of the whole thing was that the Redmen had no lapse as they pushed their overall mark to an even 11-11.

Was Wiltgen worried of such a lapse at halftime? "Not really," he answered. "It was just a matter of keeping the pressure on."

And the Redmen kept it on. Oh, Tom Melancon hit three straight goals between the 15-minute and 13:55 mark, but Keenan was right there to break it up.

And when St. John's did pare it to 64-49 midway in the second half, St. Mary's got 11 of the next 13 to ring the knock-out punch.

That flurry began when Johnnie coach Jim Smith strolled on to the floor to protest the officials' decision that charged Arnold Foster with an offensive foul. He promptly drew a technical and, after a brief mixup, Jerry Sausser scored a free throw. Then Buffo hit one as did Hoder and Pytlewski. They were followed by two drives by Hoder and one by Buffo. There might have been 7:21 to play, but you couldn't

MORACCO PLEASED WITH OVERALL PAIRINGS

2nd Spot—That's for Hawks

With only one returning Region One tournament entrant and an otherwise inexperienced crew, Dave Moracco and the Winona High wrestling team head into the District Three wrestling tournament tonight at Kasson-Mantorville hoping for a second-place finish.

Rochester, ranked third in the state, is the tournament favorite and only a miracle will keep the Rockets from piling up an overwhelming team victory margin.

BUT THE WINHAWKS, who finished fourth in the district last year, have upset the odds-makers all season long. Expected to struggle to win even one or two dual meets this season, the Hawks finished 6-5. And Moracco is hoping more of the same inspired type of wrestling will lead his squad to the runner-up spot behind Rochester.

Earlier in the week Moracco had said, "A lot will depend upon the seedings, especially to see who advances to the regional." The two finalists plus the consolation winner will advance to the Region One tournament in Rochester next weekend.

And following the makeup of the pairings Wednesday night, Moracco felt his team, as a whole, came out in pretty good shape.

Only at 112, 165 and heavyweight did the Hawks appear to be on the short end of the stick.

AT 112, WHERE veteran Steve Miller will wrestle, he must meet No. 1-seeded Duane Hodge of Stewartville in the first match. And if he gets by Hodge, will face Rochester's Greg Campbell in the semifinals. Campbell beat Miller 8-5 in a dual meet early in the year.

Chuck Lueck will carry Winona's hopes at 165, but he must face the second-seeded wrestler, Dover-Eyota's Dave Neiler, in the first match. If he gets by Neiler, however, the way appears clear for a trip to the finals for the fast-rising Hawk matman.

Tom Becker, Winona's heavyweight, also has his hands full in his first match. Becker must face Rochester's No. 1-seeded Ken Schroeder in his first match. Schroeder wrestles Bob Peitso of Stewartville in his first match, but chances for an upset there appear slim.

"But I'm pleased with the overall pairings," said Moracco. "We know Kasson-Mantorville has three strong boys back, so we'll have our work cut out for us to try and take second."

KASSON-Mantorville was the district champion last year. The Ko-Mets have last year's 120-pound champion Mark Hoehn returning, along with 1965 runner-up Joe Aarsvold at 103 and Dewey Olson at 112.

Rochester also has three grapplers back who finished either first or second a year ago. Leading the Rockets will be 127-pound champ Marv Nord who will be wrestling at 133. Bill Moeller will be at 138 and last year's 95-pound champion will be at 103.

Lake City, Stewartville and St. Charles are also expected to give the Hawks a run for the runnerup spot.

Winona's only regional entrant returning from last year is 120-pound Jim Dotzler. Dotzler is seeded second to Hoehn this year and Moracco expects him to make it to the finals.

TOM HADFIELD, the Hawks' 138-pounder, is Winona's only top seed. His chief opposition is Moeller, whom he won't meet until the finals. Hadfield has beaten Moeller once this year. The remainder of the Hawk lineup will have Rick Pomeroy

Van Brocklin Will Speak to Elks Members

Minnesota Vikings' football coach Norm Van Brocklin will speak to Winona Elks Club members March 10.

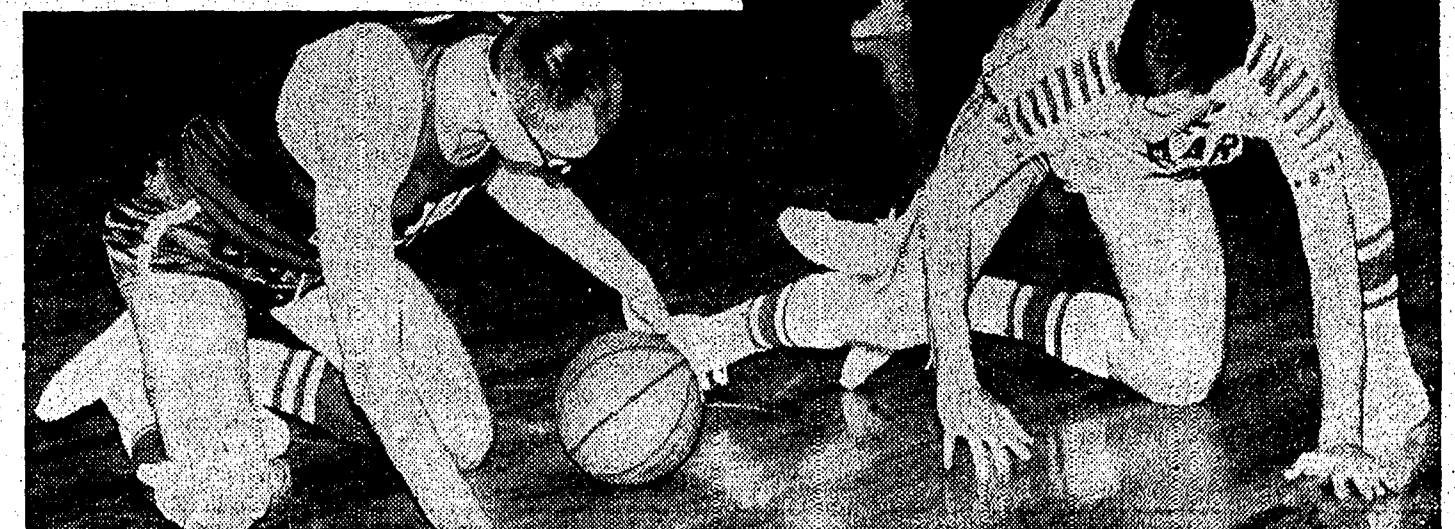

That was the announcement today from Jerry Fakler, Exalted Ruler of Winona Elks Lodge.

Van Brocklin will arrive in Winona at 5:30 p.m. March 10. Following a press conference at the Elks Club, he will attend a social hour and dinner open only to Elks members. In addition to addressing the gathering, Van Brocklin will show the highlights film of the Vikings' 1965 season.

Van Brocklin Fakler stated that the dinner would be open only to 200 members and advised that tickets be purchased early to assure reservations.

NO DISCUSSION—MILWAUKEE (AP)—Gabe Paul refused to even discuss the possible transfer of the Cleveland Indians to Milwaukee, a Milwaukee County official said today.

MARBLES?... Joe Mucha (left) of St. John's and St. Mary's Tom Keenan (on floor at right) seem to be engaged in a game of giant marbles as George Hoder leans over to give some advice to his teammate. The action came in the Johnnie-Redmen basketball game on Terrace Heights Thursday. Hoder scored 27 points and Keenan 25 as St. Mary's pulled a stunning 85-69 upset over the high-ranking Johnnies. ## WARRIORS MEET HUSKIES NEXT

State Basketball Story: Little Fellows Help Each Other

By BOB JUNGHANS

Daily News Sports Writer
It appears that one little fellow has helped out another in a quest for a personal goal.

The two "little" guys are 5-8 Dave Meisner and 5-9 Rick Starzecki of the Winona State College basketball team.

Meisner, who came to Winona fresh from leading Cloquet High School to the state basketball finals in 1963, was acclaimed as a fine college prospect, but a little on the short side to reach the "super-star" category.

But he befuddled the experts by taking a starting berth as a freshman and playing a starring role in the Warriors' 1963-64 season. And he hasn't let up a bit since then.

Although he has never played on a winning team at Winona State, Meisner has always brought fans to watch his scintillating play, highlighted by spinning lay-ups and 30-foot, rafter-scraping jumpers.

And now Meisner has a chance to become the highest scorer in Winona State's history although ranking as one of the Warriors' smallest cagers.

The scoring record is yet a year away, but "Mouse" could become the only Winona State cager in history to score 1,000 points as a junior if his last two games of the 1965-66 season are like those of the past few weeks.

And this is where Starzecki steps in.

Scoring at a 19.9-per-game clip before Christmas, Meisner went into a slump following the vacation break and averaged only 13.8 points-per-game.

But three weeks ago Starzecki, a freshman who graduated from Cotter High School in 1964, stepped into the starting rotation for coach Bob Campbell's crew.

With Starzecki on the point as the playmaker, a spot he excelled in as a three-year Cotter star, Meisner was released to work closer to the basket and the shift has worked wonders.

In the six games that Starzecki has started, Meisner has averaged 25.2 points-per-game, getting a season high of 30 against Moorhead despite sitting out 10 minutes with an eye injury.

The current point spurge has moved his average back to 19.9 and his season point-total to 379.

Combined with 297 points as a freshman and 277 last year, that brings his career total to 953 points, just 47 short of that coveted 1,000 mark. At his pace of the last six games Meisner should hit his 1,000th point in the Warriors' season finale against Bemidji a week from Saturday, Feb. 23.

Al Svenningsson, now a coach at Wayne State University, holds the current Winona State scoring record of 1,607 points. Svenningsson, however, had only 977 points at the end of his junior year. He capped off his sterling career with 630 points as a senior.

Meisner has a chance to add to his total Saturday night when Winona State travels to St. Cloud for a battle with the St. Cloud State Huskies.

Against St. Cloud last Saturday, Meisner fired in 28 points, sparking the Warriors to a near upset of the NIC leaders.

Game time this Saturday is 8 p.m.

'TOUGHER', ESTIMATES COTTER'S NETT

What Will Pacelli Be Like Now?

It wasn't so very long ago — Jan. 28, to be exact — that Austin Pacelli met, and defeated, Winona Cotter.

The score in that skirmish was 75-62. The two teams renew rivalries at St. Stan's gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock following a "B" squad preliminary scheduled for 6:15.

The difference between Pacelli then and now is that three practice weeks have passed.

"Pacelli wasn't a good team when we met them before," assessed Cotter coach John Nett. "But right now the difference between Pacelli being an average team and Pacelli being a good team is a very fine line. I suppose they could cross it anytime."

Needless to say, the Ramblers hope the Shamrocks don't suddenly find the missing links in tonight's game.

Shamrock coach Don Carlson has said many times that the difference now is defense. Offensively he has been pleased.

But regardless of the situation, the best the game can do is to serve as a salve to the winner's conscience.

Neither Cotter or Pacelli have compiled standout records. It is doubtful that a win could improve either's statewide rating.

However, a win for the Ramblers could do much to restore lost confidence before Region Six tournament competition against Rochester Lourdes Wednesday at St. Mary's fieldhouse.

"I imagine that what happens tonight will determine who will play Wednesday," mused Nett. "And the game should give us an indication of what we must work on Monday and Tuesday."

The key for the Ramblers is shooting.

"Actually, if we can shoot the way most of the boys are able, we should do all right," said Nett. "But that has been the story all year. We've consistently shot poorly."

Once again the Ramblers' starting lineup is in state of flux. You can look for Mike Twomey, Chuck Kulas and Tim Browne to be around the circle for the opening tip. The guards are still in question.

Jim Holm and John Leaf, the tandem who started in a loss to St. Louis Park last Saturday, are still in the running, but back in the picture are Bob Allaire and Tom Wenzel, who have done most of the duty at those spots.

"The boys we start tonight probably will start in the tournament," said Nett. "But I'm just not certain who they will be."

Cotter comes into the contest with an 8-9 record and a chance to finish at the breakeven point. There is no chance of that for the Shamrocks, who are 7-10.

BUT TOUGHIES AHEAD

State Matmen Cop 17th Win

There is no rest for a winner.

Bob Gunner and his Winona State College wrestling cast know that very well and today set out to do something about it.

The Warriors, before 1,500 boisterous fans, chalked up their 17th consecutive victory without defeat at Memorial Hall Thursday night. It came in the form of a 33-6 romp past St. Thomas.

"BUT WE can't spend much time thinking about that one," mused coach Bob Gunner. "We've got the toughest part of our schedule yet to come."

Gunner isn't kidding. Such foes of national prominence as State College of Iowa, South Dakota State and Moorhead will help the Warriors finalize their dual-meet season with an array of key home meets.

First up will be State College of Iowa, which wrestles at Memorial Hall at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday night. South Dakota State will be here Thursday at 7:30 p.m. and Moorhead at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 28.

"I THINK we're getting back to the edge we had before going up to St. Cloud (the Warriors' most lackluster showing)," said Gunner. "The boys know what's ahead and they are working hard to get ready to face the competition."

Gunner Thursday had praise for Merle Sovereign, Tim Tannehill, Dan Scrabeck and Ray Wicks.

That quartet scored pins at 152, 160, 167 and 177.

"John Zwolinski (who was forced to settle for a 5-2 decision over Steve Grabowski in the heavyweight match) also did a fine job," stated Gunner. "Grabowski picked up a point on an escape when John was throwing him over for a pin."

THE COACH also credited Perry King with a fine job in a losing effort at 137, pointing to two takedowns that came just after the buzzer sounded as the difference.

With the win many Warriors upped their individual records. Zwolinski now is 17-0, Wicks 16-0-1, Tannehill 14-0-2, Leo Simon 15-1-1, King 13-3-1 and Rog Jehlicka 9-4-1.

WINONA STATE ST. ST. THOMAS 33-6. (W) dec. Glen Tannehill (W) 4-3; (W) dec. Rog Jehlicka (W) won by forfeit; 137-Bill Slinger (ST) dec. Perry King (W) 3-0; 145-Lee Simon (W) won by forfeit; 152-Merle Sovereign (W) pinned John Steward (ST) 5:37; 160-Jim Tannehill (W) pinned Paul Saito (ST) 5:00; 167-Ray Wicks (W) pinned Joe Sokolowsky (ST) 2:40; 177-Dan Scrabeck (W) pinned Joe LeBlanc (ST) 1:37; 187-John Zwolinski (W) dec. Steve Grabowski (ST) 5-2.

Hamernik's Is Team Champ

Winona Abstract Co. of the Westgate Men's League made a determined run at the "top of the mark" in the Winona Bowling Association city tournament team event Thursday night, but saw its rush fall short by some 49 points.

That meant Hamernik's Bar, which has held the lead since Feb. 9, has the title locked up with 3,047. The group competes in the Athletic Club Ace League.

While Hamernik's total was not surpassed Thursday, neither was the scratch lead of 2,752 posted by Emil's Menswear of the Athletic Club Classic League.

BUT ABSTRACT Co. took over second place in the handicap division with a 2,998 fashioned behind 183-187-179-559 from Ron Dreas, 245-195-136-576 from Len Strange, 138-210-173-521 from Jack Richier Jr., 198-191-169-488 from Noel Holst and 180-130-164-474 from Tony Winczewski and 370 pins of handicap. The team's scratch total was 2,628.

Moving into eighth place was H. Choate & Co. of the Westgate American League with 2,878. The team got 533 from Bob Bundy, 515 from Chuck Wegman, 514 from Joe Drakowski, 507 from Bob Sula and 481 from Don Wood. The group carried 348 handicap pins.

In individual happenings, Dick Hennessy belted 231-540 and John Erickson 550. In the team game department, Emil's Menswear had the scratch topper with 960 and Abstract the handicap topper with 1,007. Low payoff is 2,768.

MEANWHILE, doubles and singles division opened competition with the 9 p.m. shift.

Ev Ledebuhr heads the singles division with 613 behind games of 143-156-236 and 58 pins of handicap. That total is exactly 100 pins shy of the winning score posted by Dewey Grossell last year. In second is Bernie Stiever with 610 and third is John Borzyskowski with 580.

In doubles, Will Jochimsen and Gene O'Brien lead with 1,190. O'Brien posted 146-163-149-458 and Jochimsen 201-207-178-586. The duo carried 146 pins of handicap.

Jim Stenzel (407) and Ollie Davies (208-588) are second with 1,133 and Harold Cada (472) and Jim Cisewski (504) third with 1,120. Bruce McNally ripped a 232 game in another happening. Ledebuhr's 256 ranks as the tournament's best game.

THE DOUBLES title last year went to Bob Thurlay and Paul Mracek with 1,313.

Tonight during the 6:30 p.m. shift, the duos of Phil Karsina-Norm Banicki, Jerry Meier-Irv Praxel, John Groski-Leon Edel, Warren Weigel-Jim Yankke, Marty Wnuk-Brad Johnson, Harold Skroch-Dave Wnuk, Elmer Stubb-Bob Ozmun, Ron Moline-Tom Grupa and Wally Wenzel-Rudy Schneider will compete.

The 9 o'clock shift includes: Rudy Ellings-Dan Knapik, Ber-

Ruppert's in Sixth Place With 1,088

Ruppert's Grocery Thursday night broke the top ten silence with a 1,088 game in the Westgate Classic bowling league.

That was the big news on the local scene, overshadowing Jerry Dureske's 207-189-206-602 for Fish Shop and Dick Niemeyer's 249 that led Ruth's Restaurant to 2,996 in the circuit.

Ruppert's got a pair of 223s from Jerry Turner and Allyn Ruppert, 211 from Warren Bonow, 189 from Stan Nelson and 182 from Bill Haack. The team carried 60 pins handicap.

The quintet was competing against Ruth's Restaurant. That team came up with 1,050 and lost! Pete Marr clipped 180-165-190-535 errorless for Clark & Clark.

Tops on the distaff side was a 223-541 by Helen Nelson for Winona Insurance in the Hal-Rod Lanes Powder Puff League. Watkins Products came up with 897-2,575. Mary Jean Ives ripped 510 and Eleanore Stahl 503.

WESTGATE BOWL: Working Girls — Bernadine Revoir socked 186-536 and KJT came up with 577-1,652.

Keglerette — Hardt's Music picked up 892-2,569 behind a 515 from Marie McDonald, who converted the 4-7-10 split. Leona Lubinski tipped 192.

Pin Drops — Edith Tschumper waxed 200-510 for Lake Center Switch and Sportsman's Tap and KAGE divided team laurels with 858 and 2,511, respectively.

Bay State — Tom Bescup leveled 211-573 for Bosses and Fran Hengel of Old Docs tied the single-game high. Block Busters slipped to 1,027 and Bouncers to 2,839.

Wenonah — Nancy Alampi's 179 carried Blue Tuesday to 820 and Pearl Peplinski shoved Flintstones to 2,371 with her 472.

HAL-ROD LANES: Eagles — West End Greenhouses alarmed 2,774 behind 203-191-195-589 errorless from John Sherman. Joe Monahan tipped 299 for Schlitz and Winona Insurance 1,027.

KED MEN'S CLUB: Ladies — Paffrath Pair sprinted to 2,437 behind 465 from Evelyn Wolfe. Shirley Theis ripped 171 for Leicht Press and Schmidt's Beer 870. Luella Dulek converted the 3-7.

RIP ENGLE OUT UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Charles A. (Rip) Engle announced his retirement today as head football coach at Penn State, signaling the end of an era at old Mount Nittany.

DROPS TO 11TH PLACE

Houston Major Cage Casualty

By BOB JUNGHANS

Daily News Sports Writer
Peterson's stunning upset of Houston Tuesday night produced the only change in the Winona Daily News Top Ten area high school basketball ratings over the past week.

Houston, leader of the Root River Conference now with a 12-3 season record, dropped from ninth to 11th on the week's listings. Bangor jumped from 10th to ninth and Lake City moved into the elite group for the first time this season. The Tigers are second to Kenyon in the Hiawatha Valley Conference and hold a 10-3 season record. They have won eight of their last nine with the only blemish a loss to Kenyon.

The second 10 teams didn't fare as well over the past week, however.

Seven of the second 10 all suffered at least one loss and three of them — Chatfield, Wanamingo and Mondovi — fell from the ratings.

Alma continued to hold a wide edge over the field with only two weeks of the final season remaining.

Preston holds down the No. 2 spot by a thin margin over Kenyon, which added considerably to its prestige with an 85-67 conquest of Northfield. Kenyon has Onalaska Luther remains fourth and Wabasha fifth. Fairchild, although dropping a 10-point decision to Alma last Friday, retained the seventh spot behind Eleva — Strum, Hayfield is eighth.

Caledonia, which took a three-point decision over Rushford in a Root River Conference game, moved into the 12th spot behind RR leader Houston. Rushford also advanced, moving from 18th to 15th.

The biggest move of the week was made by Wykoff. The Wykats fell out of the Top 10 for the first time in six weeks last week, but bounced back with a resounding victory over a

Heavyweight Bout Planned As Scheduled

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Chances are the heavyweight title fight between Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell will be staged on March 29 as scheduled, despite Clay's 1-A draft classification.

"I don't think he would be included in the March call if he appealed," said Miss Winifred K. Phillips, chief clerk for Jefferson County's 10 draft boards.

Clay, in Miami training for the fight, said he will appeal the classification assigned him Thursday by Local Board 47. "I don't know just how I'll appeal. I don't know anything about the law. I just know I will."

GOPHERS AT ILLINOIS

Cazzie Will Collide With Schellhase

CHICAGO (AP) — Cazzie Russell of Michigan's leading Wolverines and Dave Schellhase of Purdue meet head-on Saturday in their chase for the Big Nine basketball scoring crown.

All conference teams see action in afternoon games Saturday. In addition to Purdue (2-6) at Michigan (7-1), Michigan State (6-2) is at Wisconsin (2-6), Northwestern (3-5) at Indiana (3-5), Minnesota (5-3) at Illinois (5-3) and Iowa (4-4) at Ohio State (3-5) for a televised attraction.

Russell tops Big Ten scoring with a 32.5 average while Schellhase is 28.8. The Purdue star, however, leads the nation's major collegians in over-all sharpshooting with a 31.1 mark in 18 games. Russell is fourth on this list with 30.1 in 18.

Other leading conference scorers according to official statistics released Thursday are

Don Freeman, Illinois, 25.8; Archie Clark, Minnesota, 24.9; Rich Jones, Illinois, 21.8; Jim Burns, Northwestern 21.3; Max Walker, Indiana, 18.9; Bill Hosket, Ohio State, 18.8; Stan Washington, MSU, 18.3; and Bill Curtis, MSU, 17.8.

Keenan Leads Upset

have convinced the strong Redmen delegation that the game wasn't over. They were right.

The only excitement left was a brief skirmish that resulted in the expulsion of Buffo and Bob Ryan of St. John's. But it did nothing to detract from the win.

And just in case you think Keenan wasn't blessed for his appearance, consider the fact that he was involved in a head-on crash with all-American griddler Mucha and came out best. Mr. Mucha left the game with a wrenched knee. Keenan barely went to the floor.

But Tom had a simple explanation for it. "I'm tough," he quipped.

No one was arguing that Thursday.

For St. John's, which saw its record drop to 9-4 in the MIAC and 10-11 overall, Mucha scored 17 points, Paul Bernabei 16 and Melancon 11.

St. Mary's got 18 from Jerry Sauter in shooting 31 of 63 for a 49.2 percentage.

Moderate Loss As Key Stocks Continue Drop

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took a moderate loss early this afternoon in active trading.

Key stocks continued their decline of Thursday, settling downward irregularly. As in the previous session, specially situated issues were strong.

Wall Street was concerned about rising interest rates, tighter credit and a possible boom in margins — the "down payment" required in buying stocks on credit. Feared action in that respect by the Federal Reserve Board did not take place, as some had expected.

Aerospace issues, helped by strength in Boeing, were on the upbeat. Motors were mixed and steels mostly unchanged except for U.S. Steel which took a fractional loss.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.67 at 972.60.

Boeing continued its strong comeback, rising more than 5 points, following word from the Federal Aviation Agency that the Boeing 727, which has been involved in four fatal air crashes, is "completely airworthy."

A place among the volume leaders seemed assured to G.C. Murphy on the basis of a single block of 68,100 shares, with the stock unchanged at 22. Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.
