Admiral Nimitz, Hero of Pacific War, Dead at 80

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The late James V. Forrestal, while secretary of the Navy, once asked his chief of naval operations whether an officer convicted by a court-martial ever had risen to flag rank.

"You're looking at one" replied Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, who commanded the most powerful fleet in history during World War II.

As a young officer, the soft-spoken Texan had indeed been found guilty and reprimanded by a Navy court — for running a destroyer aground in Manila Bay.

The admiral, who died Sunday at 80, commanded a thousand ships and two million men during the battles leading to the surrender of Japan. He was the last of the five-star admirals.

Nimitz, whose career at sea spanned two world wars and the birth of the atomic age, died of what a Navy spokesman called "complications following a stroke" suffered Jan. 3.

With him at his home on Yerba Buena Island Naval Base in San Francisco Bay were his wife, Catherine, one of his daughters and a grandson.

Burial will be Thursday in Golden Gate National Cemetery just south of San Francisco.

In Washington, President Johnson paid tribute to Nimitz as a man of "quiet courage and resolute leadership." The President said Nimitz had earned "the undying gratitude of his countrymen and an enduring chapter in the annals of naval history." Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said: "Admiral Nimitz was one of the most distinguished officers of World War II. The entire nation will always owe him a debt of gratitude for his brilliant service in World War II. He was a good friend whom I admired and respected deeply."

Nimitz was jumped over 24 senior admirals to become commander in chief of the Pacific fleet after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

His high command spanned the Navy's greatest days — at Coral Sea, Midway, Guadalcanal, Leyte Gulf and finally the Japanese surrender in Tokyo Bay, where he signed the agreement as U.S. representative.

The battle off Midway June 6, 1942, in which the Japanese lost four carriers and a heavy cruiser, was the turning point of the Pacific war, in the admiral's opinion. The Japanese offensive power sank with those carriers.

His decorations included 30 medals, ribbons and badges, 13 of them from foreign countries.

A native of Fredericksburg, Tex. — 20 miles from President Johnson's ranch — Nimitz said of his ocean-going profession, "It was a career by chance."

He failed in a bid to get an appointment to West Point. His naval career began, as it ended, on San Francisco Bay. He shipped out in January 1905 aboard the battleship Ohio, which became flagship of the Asiatic fleet.

Magnusson Is Entering Race For Governor

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota had a new gubernatorial candidate today: former State Insurance Commissioner Cyrus Magnusson, who has been indicted on charges of fraud and conspiracy.

Magnusson, one of 17 defendants in the American Allied Insurance Co. case, announced his intentions to run for the Democratic — Farmer — Labor party nomination at a news conference Sunday.

Another defendant in the case, David Kroman, also said he would seek high public office — the DFL nomination for attorney general.

Magnusson and Kroman coupled their announcements with an attack on U.S. Attorney Miles W. Lord, who was nominated Feb. 11 by President Johnson to be a federal district judge.

The pair contended Lord is unfit for the position and disclosed they had written the Senate Judiciary Committee asking to testify against the nomination when it comes up for hearing in Washington.

Man Dies in Trailer Fire

BIRNAMWOOD, Wis. (AP) — A 63-year-old man died Sunday of burns suffered in a fire in his trailer home on a farm near Birnamwood.

The victim, Albert Krause, was dead on arrival at a Milwaukee hospital to which he was being rushed from an Antigo hospital.

De Gaulle Orders Foreign Troops Under French Command

BULLETIN WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials said today President Charles de Gaulle's insistence on French command of U.S. troops in France should be negotiable — provided that is De Gaulle's real objective. Many think, however, he actually aims at dismantling NATO.

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle said today any foreign troop elements in France after April 4, 1969 will have to be under French command only. That is the date when members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization can choose to leave NATO.

In the first news conference of his second term in office, the French president declared NATO no longer is adapted to present-day needs. He said France intends to "progressively" modify dispositions now in force.

"This was taken to mean that he would continue to withdraw French elements from NATO but in such a manner as to permit the 14 other NATO allies to adjust to it."

The United States now has about 20,000 troops in France, running supply and other bases. In addition, the French president's statement that foreign troops would have to come under French command threw into question the status of such big Allied installations as NATO headquarters near the Bois de Boulogne in Paris, and the rambling Versailles headquarters of supreme headquarters of Allied powers in Europe.

De Gaulle told nearly 1,000 newsmen and officials in Elysee Palace: "It is the will of France to dispose of her own fate."

He said this in connection with the announcement on French command on foreign troops on

Shopping Center Burns

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Fire swept four stores in a suburban shopping center Sunday with damage estimated at more than $200,000.

Six firemen were treated at a hospital, three after falls on ice and two for possible frostbite suffered in the near-zero weather.

The flames destroyed the National Food Store, Podell Marks Shoe Store, and a building being remodeled for a doughnut business in the Westwood Shopping Center in suburban West Allis. The Badger Paint Store in the same complex was badly damaged.

Final Draft This Week on Redistricting

ST. PAUL (AP) — The long-awaited proposal for drawing up new legislative districts in Minnesota is getting its final draft this week.

The Governor's Reapportionment Commission, a bi-partisan group headed by Franklin Rogers of Mankato, reached the home stretch Saturday with unanimous agreement on the plan. Last to be threshed out was the ticklish Twin Cities Metropolitan area, which would acquire six Senate seats and 11 House under the subcommittee's proposal.

Heading the drafting committee is Prof. Carl Auerbach of the University of Minnesota law school.

Rogers said the report should be ready for the governor's desk in about 10 days.

The Mankato editor said the commission's report should "very definitely" provide Gov. Karl Rolvaag with a basis for calling a special session of the legislature. There's some speculation that could come between March 15 and April 1.

Rogers added that lawmakers, especially Conservatives, have become sold on the integrity of the commission. Many of them had regarded the group earlier as oriented toward the Democratic — Farmer — Laborites and were "suspicious of anything we did," said Rogers, who describes himself as a political independent.

The commission drew up a plan last year which was sidetracked for a measure passed by the Conservative-dominated legislature. That was vetoed by Rolvaag, a DFLer, on grounds it was a "blatant gerrymander."

Frank Farrell, St. Paul attorney, headed the subcommittee which drew up the plan for the Twin Cities metropolitan area.

It calls for seven more House seats and three Senate seats for Hennepin County, with one of the House seats and one Senate seat extending into Anoka County.

The populous area north of St. Paul in Ramsey County would gain one Senate and two House seats.

These are some other provisions of the final report, as discussed generally by Rogers and Farrell at a news conference Saturday:

The present makeup of the two legislative bodies is intact: 67 in the Senate and 135 in the House of Representatives.

Each Senate district would embrace two House seats, except that the plan suggests the 135th House member could be fit into a senatorial district centering on St. Cloud — giving that one three House members.

Rochester and St. Cloud would get additional representation. The southern counties and the northwestern part of the state, as well as the less populated area northwest of the Twin Cities, would lose some of their representation.

The plan deviates an average of 6 or 7 per cent from the ideal of 50,953 for a Senate district and 25,230 for the House, based on the 1960 census.

Rogers said alternative plans for the Duluth area would permit at - large or single-member districts for purposes of a new election.

FILIPINOS PROTEST HUMPHREY VISIT... Filipino police line up to contain some 1,000 noisy, banner-carrying demonstrators parading in front of the U.S. Embassy in Manila today, awaiting the arrival of Vice President Hubert Humphrey from New Zealand.

'Humphrey Go Home'

Demonstrators Protest His Visit to Philippines

MANILA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived tonight to discuss American Viet Nam policies in the Philippine capital where left-wing demonstrators shouting "Humphrey go home" besieged the U.S. Embassy only a few hours before.

The airport was cordoned off by an unusually large number of security forces.

Humphrey in an airport statement said he would talk to president Ferdinand E. Marcos Tuesday on the Viet Nam situation.

Humphrey arrived from New Zealand as the Philippine Congress began debates on Marcos' proposal to send a 2,000-man combat engineer unit to Viet Nam.

This was the proposal which drove demonstrators into the streets. About 1,000 of them marched from the presidential palace to Congress and then to the U.S. Embassy.

The demonstrators, opposing not only Humphrey's visit but U.S. policies in Viet Nam, dispersed about an hour and a half before the vice president's arrival. But they said there would be another demonstration Tuesday.

The demonstrations by students, civil servants and farmers were called to oppose a $4-million bill in the Philippine Congress that would finance the sending of 2,000 combat engineers to Viet Nam.

Earlier today Humphrey conferred with Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake of New Zealand at Parliament House in Wellington. A handful of demonstrators stood silently outside with signs denouncing the Viet Nam war.

During his arrival in Wellington Sunday from Canberra, Australia, Humphrey's car was rushed by a sign-swinging demonstrator who was hurled back by police. In Canberra the previous day about 150 demonstrators called Humphrey a "warmonger."

State Rests in Mossler Case

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The state rested its first-degree murder case today against blonde Candace Mossler and her strapping nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, in the 1964 slaying of her aging multimillionaire husband, Jacques Mossler.

The defense was ready with the presentation that is hand-tailored to fit the courtroom talents of Powers' chief attorney, Percy Foreman, a colorful Texas lawyer. His will be the final plea in the case.

With direct prosecution testimony at an end, Dade County Circuit Judge George Schulz confronted routine judicial defense motions — for a directed verdict of acquittal, or dismissal of charges for lack of evidence.

However, he is expected to continue the trial, now in its sixth week, with the all-male jury rendering the final judgment. The maximum penalty facing Mrs. Mossler and Powers, if convicted as charged, is death in the electric chair. The state has described them as illicit lovers, driven by lust and greed into a premeditated design to kill Mossler, 69.

2 Men Caught After Chase, Loot Recovered

RED WING, Minn. (AP) — A lumber yard was destroyed by fire, a safe was carted away from a Red Wing tavern and two men were captured after a car and foot chase lasting about five hours in 15 below zero weather early today.

Police said the fire and tavern break-in apparently were related. Fire Chief Walter Engeldinger said the lumber yard loss probably would run about $250,000.

Police said a pickup truck had been crashed through a door to gain entrance to the lumber yard office. Because of the fire, it was not determined whether anything was taken.

One of the captured men who apparently traveled more than 10 miles on foot in the severe cold was hospitalized with bleeding and frost-bitten feet. The other was lodged in jail at Red Wing.

Police Chief Warren Lenway said one man gave his name as Gary Lee Langseth, 28, Roseville. The other man, placed in a Red Wing hospital under police guard, was identified as John C. Rinisch, 31, St. Paul Park. Lenway said. No charges have been filed.

Lenway said Langseth maintained he had been hitchhiking near Hayfield, Minn., and was picked up by a motorist, and fled when the car went into the ditch.

The hectic night for firemen, police and deputies started at 12:55 a.m. when a general alarm was turned in to fight fire at the Siller-Perrott Lumber Co. yard.

As firemen were still speeding to the scene on the south edge of the city at 1:19 a.m., Albert Bartz, who lives in a second floor apartment across the street from the Bar and Wheel Tavern in downtown Red Wing, heard the sound of breaking glass.

He saw two men smashing glass in the tavern front door before entering. He called Police Chief Warren Lenway who had taken over headquarters radio and telephone chores while patrolmen went to the fire.

Bartz watched as the two men loaded the safe into the trunk of a car and drove away. Lenway finally contacted a deputy and one of his own patrol cars and radioed nearby towns for help.

The burglar car sped out of town on Goodhue County Road 1. About 11 miles from Red Wing it plunged into a ditch and the two occupants fled on foot.

Police followed on foot into a wooded area. At 3:40 a.m. about four miles from the ditched car, authorities found one man collapsed from exhaustion in a corn stubble field.

The second man was captured at 5 a.m. near the edge of Red Wing and about 10 miles from the abandoned car. His ears and feet were frozen. Police said he was dressed in only a sweater and trousers, wore only loafers on his feet and had no hat. He was taken to the hospital for frostbite treatment.

Police found the bar safe in the car, unopened. It contained $160. An acetylene torch and other burglar tools were in the car.

Authorities said it appeared the lumber yard was first broken into and then set afire to draw police away from the tavern area. Firemen were still pouring water on the lumber yard ruins at 8 a.m.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., called today for a showdown in Congress to determine if it supports the President's conduct of the Viet Nam war. Jackson said the Senate ought to accept the suggestion made Friday by Rusk that "if there is any doubt" whether it backs the President's course, it should vote on the issue.

USDA Funds Available for Buying Land

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Perry Overlien, Black River Falls, farmer fieldman with the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, explained Title 6 of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 to 50 representatives of local government and state agencies in Trempealeau County at the courthouse here Thursday night.

He said grants may be made to federal, state or local government agencies for purchase of land for development of open spaces, natural beauty, wildlife or recreational facilities, or for prevention of air and water pollution.

Up to 50 percent of the cost of the land will be supplied by federal funds, he said. The land must have been purchased after Jan. 28 this year. Eligibility of the land for the grant will be determined in accordance with regulations and instructions applicable to individual farmer participants in the Crop Adjustment program.

Former Winonan In Library Study

A former Winonan is one of five representatives of the Scottsdale, Ariz., public schools who recently went to Austin, Tex., to observe the program and services of a model elementary school library in action.

She is Miss Harriet Smocke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Smocke, 216 High Forest St., and librarian at Mohave School, Scottsdale.

The trip to Texas was financed by a grant awarded by the Knapp School Libraries Project, a five-year study with over $1 million in resources. Selection of the Scottsdale team came as a result of nationwide competition and recognizes the school system's efforts to establish and develop outstanding library services for its school system.

Bomb Thrown Into Viet Nam Restaurant

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A homemade bomb was thrown Saturday into a restaurant in Hoc Mon, about 10 miles north of Saigon, and police reported 10 Vietnamese servicemen and four civilians were wounded.

It was the second terrorist attack last week in the Saigon area in which Vietnamese military personnel were believed to be the main target. Two mines exploded Thursday near the Vietnamese joint general staff headquarters on the outskirts of the capital, killing 12 persons and wounding 60.

partment, and the federal agency in the U. S. Department of Agriculture before the grant is made.

I took a school bus ride recently that set my thought process into action as the industry of farming and the peacefulness of the countryside lent themselves to the fact that life can be beautiful.

Chances are that when Mr. Average does have a good thing, he'll never recognize it until, for some reason he stands to lose hold of what he has, and then for the first time takes note that much of what he has taken for granted was really the Utopia he had always thought he wanted.

It was a balmy day when a friend invited me to ride with him as he drove some fifty school children home in the school bus. In spite of the chatter and antics of energetic youngsters letting off steam after a day of study, I was soon captured by the farms and the beauty of the countryside they were set in. I found that my mind was reflecting the farmers themselves as they scampered here and there on their tractors, busily winding up the fall work before winter set in.

IT'S ALL so beautiful and tranquil, I thought to myself. True, these people must and are working for a living, but they evidence accomplishment. Their farms are neat, their equipment appears to be most adequate, and they go at their tasks with determination.

How, I found myself thinking, can men justify war destruction and turmoil when life can be so beautiful? I answered that question by assuring myself that not all people on this sphere had it so good, but you know, many who do have it as good, often destroy their own peace and accomplish little because they neither appreciate nor make the best of their present situation, even though it is as glorious as that which surrounded me as I bumped along in the school bus.

Some days later, I was over 300 miles from that place when I heard a garage foreman make a statement in passing that inferred that some little thing had added a bit of a burden to his day. But he took it in stride, pointing out that 23 years ago that very day, he had been pinned down by enemy fire on an African war front and that he guessed that most any of the ordinary problems of his present state in life were relatively unimportant compared to that memorable day of blitz 23 years prior. And, by simple comparison, he found life in the ordinary vein could be, and was, certainly beautiful.

ABOUT THE time you begin to wonder if you have received a poor deal by fate, or you tend to bemoan the fact that you don't have all the things you desire, just remember that happiness is a relative thing, and for most of us, as compared to much of the world, we have it good and better than most.

If you have forgotten your blessings, just try this little exercise. Imagine you were to lose everything you now have — absolutely everything — personal belongings, everything except what's on your back, and then suddenly get them all back. Given a little thought, and chances are you'll have cause even now to smile and agree that life can be beautiful.

Big Ben Fails To Strike Hour

LONDON (AP)—Big Ben, London's famed clock over the houses of Parliament, failed to strike twice Friday night. The bell rang the chimes at 10 p.m. but failed to strike the hour. The same thing happened at 11 p.m.

But it returned to normal at midnight.

A spokesman for the Ministry of Public Buildings and Works said: "There was a bit of trouble with the bell. It was a shackle pin loose in the mechanism."

The fault was put right by engineers from the firm which made and maintains Big Ben.

Great Lakes Jack Firm To Sell Stock

An offering of stock to provide operating capital for a new Winona manufacturing firm, Great Lakes Distributing Corp., was announced today by its president, R. E. Lange.

Manufacturing automotive jacks and accessories and a line of sporting goods, the firm is operating in quarters at 400 W. 1st St., formerly occupied by the now defunct Vulcan Mfg. Co.

AT A MEETING with Don Stone, manager of the Winona Chamber of Commerce, today, Great Lakes officers said that approximately $15,000 in stock in the new firm will be offered for sale. To be sold in $10 shares in amounts of $1,000, the common stock will be dividend-paying and is voting stock.

R. E. Lange formerly was president of Vulcan, at one time considered perhaps the nation's largest exclusive manufacturers of automotive jacks.

Vulcan was established in St. Paul in 1936 and moved its operation to Winona in 1943. During peak production periods as many as 65 were employed in the two-story building on the block-long building on West 3rd Street, between Wilson and Grand Streets, and jack production averaged around 25,000 a month.

TWO YEARS ago the Langes sold controlling interest in the firm to J. C. Verplank, Owatonna, Minn., and last June the firm went into bankruptcy.

After operations had been suspended in the Vulcan building, Great Lakes Distributing Corp. was organized last summer and began manufacturing jacks, automotive accessories and sporting equipment. The latter now includes ice fishing augers and fishing gaff hooks.

Officers of Great Lakes are: R. E. Lange, president; D. M. Lange, treasurer; Francis Lipinski, secretary, and John Phinney, vice president.

They and H. J. Lange, Minneapolis, chairman of the board of directors of Marquette Mfg. Co., are members of the board of directors of the new firm.

About a dozen persons are now employed in the production force and addition of at least three more plant workers is contemplated, officers said today.

GREAT LAKES has manufacturer's representatives throughout the United States and its operations already are on an international sales basis supplying major distributors in Canada and Mexico as well as the United States.

The Langes said today that operations will be continued in rented quarters at the former Vulcan building at least until certain issues of ownership of the building have been resolved. The sale of stock now being offered would provide operating capital to finance additional equipment purchases and purchases of new materials.

AFTER THE FIRE . . . This is a view of the Caledonia village hall from the east, across Pine Street. Most heavily damaged in the fire Saturday night was the fourth story (on the right). This was the stage and dressing room area of the third floor auditorium, scene of plays and basketball games in years past. The front door of the handsome, brown, brick structure is to the left facing Main Street. Note the icicles on the wire across the street, the ice-covered shrubs, ice coating part of the building, and the tall "Caledonia" tower which furnished plenty of water for the fire fighters. (Burr Griswold photo)

Damage High in Village Hall Fire at Caledonia

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—Fire extensively damaged the two top floors of the four-story Caledonia village hall Saturday night. The first two floors have heavy smoke and water damage.

The alarm was sounded at 9:45 p.m. by Mrs. Orville Rask, who was on her way to work at Bissen Recreational Parlors across Main Street from the brick building.

THE FIRE, confined mainly to the north side of the structure, appears to have started in a faulty refrigerator in the firemen's clubroom below the top level stage. Flames destroyed everything in the clubroom, climbed up through the ceiling, through the stage and to the flat built-up roof, consuming a portion of it.

The roof fell in over the stage area, and flames, smoke and water heavily damaged artifacts belonging to the Houston County Historical Society in this top floor room. Prior to the building of the municipal auditorium just west of the city hall in 1938, the top floor was used for basketball, stock company plays and other programs. Walls on the top floor burned area are buckling.

EXCITEMENT ran high as village officials rushed up the steps to the second floor to remove business machines and furniture from the village offices and books from Caledonia Library. Village records in a vault were not endangered.

Some 200 teenagers in Caledonia for the District 1 wrestling tournament helped carry out a greater portion of the some 8,000 volumes in the library, some of which were water-soaked. When the lights went out the rescue work stopped. Part of the children's library and the library furniture were left inside and were damaged by smoke and water. The policemen's room, also on this floor, was damaged.

Least damage was done on the basement floor, where there is a community room and kitchen.

INSURANCE adjusters were to arrive in Caledonia today to estimate damages, Mayor Joseph B. Lee said.

The library books and business machines and furniture in the clerk's offices, where the council meets, were moved to the one-story auditorium 30 feet to the west, where temporary offices and the library will be operated, Lee said.

The belfry was part of the area that burned and the old bell that once called the firemen to fires fell, but it was not shattered.

The building, with about 60 feet of frontage on Main Street and 160 feet on Pine Street, was built in 1911. Most of the structure is three stories high but the area to the west, housing the stage and dressing room, was about 20 feet higher than the remainder of the building. The firemen's clubroom was directly under this portion.

AT THE HEIGHT of the fire in 14-below-zero temperature, Fire Chief George Albert was seen silhouetted by a spotlight walking on the walls of the tall building, directing firemen where to direct water. It turned into ice almost at once as it sprayed over the top floors, the high front steps, the sidewalks, streets and the yard in the area.

Spring Grove and Eltzen fire departments were summoned and stayed on the scene until 2 a.m. Sunday. Caledonia firemen watched the building until noon Sunday.

The weekly bingo game was in progress at the auditorium when the alarm sounded. Everyone was evacuated.

The village council had an emergency meeting Sunday, Ald. Harry Beth said, to survey the ice-covered hall and to make temporary plans for carrying on the village business.

THE ATTACHED one-story building to the north of the hall, which housed the fire engines, was not damaged and firemen kept the blaze from spreading to the auditorium to the west and across the streets to business and residential areas. Throngs of people gathered to watch despite the cold, with cars parked everywhere and hundreds of feet of hose crossing the streets.

The black billowing clouds of smoke from the fire could be seen in the starlight night for miles from Caledonia. The village hall stands on one of the highest points of the village. Absence of wind aided the fire fighters.

Settlement Made in Rail, Truck Collision

Settlement of a $75,000 lawsuit was reached today shortly before it was to go to trial in District Court.

The case was that of Thomas Smith, St. Charles, against the Chicago & Great Western Railway Co. Smith sought the amount for personal injuries and vehicular damages resulting from a grade crossing accident Dec. 14, 1933, about two miles east of Lewiston on a township road.

Smith was driving a milk truck which collided with a C & GW train at what is known as Dutchman's Crossing. No settlement terms were announced.

Smith was represented by Duane Peterson, Winona. The railroad was represented by Harry S. Stearns Jr., St. Paul.

Also disclosed today was settlement of the case of Michael Overing, son of John Overing, 573 E. Front St., against Wilfred A. Henning, 519 Wall St.

Probably Didn't Slow Him Up

Termites, woodpeckers and buzzsaws combined would have trouble matching the havoc created by the passage of an unidentified truck at the Paul Busch cottage in Pleasant Valley.

According to a report made to Sheriff George Fort, the vehicle left CSAH 17 sometime Saturday night and detoured through the Busch premises.

Starting with a skid sideways for 200 feet along the west shoulder, the truck (judged by tire tracks) then crossed the road and plunged down a bank toward the Busch cottage.

Missing the cottage the truck chewed its way through a stand of two small birch trees, two elms, one tamarack and a clump of mountain ash. After several tries the truck got back on the road and drove away.

Although the cottage was unoccupied events on this eve of destruction were clearly shown by the tracks and debris, sheriff's officers said.

Most governmental offices in the city will be closed Tuesday for the Washington's Birthday holiday.

Only major exceptions are the Social Security Administration Office, 356 E. Sarnia St., and the Minnesota Employment Service, 163 Walnut St.

Social security facilities will remain open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to assist persons over 65 now streaming in to apply for Medicare benefits. The sign-up deadline for non-covered persons is March 31.

The state employment office will remain open only until 9:30 a.m., according to R. H. Brown, manager. Unemployment checks will be issued during this time, after which the office will close for the day.

City Hall, county courthouse and other federal offices will be closed.

All delivery and window service at the post office will be suspended for the holiday. Mail collections will be on a holiday schedule, according to postal personnel.

KELLOGG, Minn. (Special)—Elmo Timm, was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, Thursday and underwent heart surgery Friday morning. His condition is reported as satisfactory.

Pepin Hill District Files Plat to Join School at Wabasha

WABASHA, Minn. — Residents of Pepin Hill School District 2375 filed a plat with Wabasha County Auditor Wilbur Koelme last week requesting consolidation with Wabasha district.

It has been sent to the state commissioner of education for action.

Willard Holton previously had filed an application to have his farm annexed to Lake City district. The consolidation request legally stopped the county board from taking action on his request.

Residents of Hoester Ridge School, Watopa Township, voted 8-5 last week to dissolve and consolidate with Plainview. Consolidation will take effect June 30.

BREAKFAST BLAZE . . . Firemen check the Florian Wicka residence, 416 Hamilton St., to be sure a basement fire that started this morning from an overheated hand-fired furnace is under control. Firemen had to break nearly all basement windows to reach the flames and the burning first floor directly above the furnace. (Daily News photo)

Youth Waives Court Hearing

Ordered bound over to District Court today was Roger E. Hokenstad, 19, 1720 W. Wabasha St., who appeared in municipal court and waived preliminary hearing.

Appearing with him was his court-appointed attorney, Harold Libera. Hokenstad is accused of buying a sewing machine Jan. 22 for no down payment and selling it to a secondhand dealer without paying for it.

Judge John McGill kept a $500 bond in force. Hokenstad is being held since he had not been able to furnish the bond to date.

The charge of depriving the original seller of his property is a felony carrying a maximum of two years in prison and a $2,000 fine for a conviction.

A not guilty plea to a drunk driving charge was entered by James Brandes, 558 E. King St. He was arrested today at 1:25 a.m. at Mankato Avenue and East Sanborn Street. Judge McGill set bond at $150 and scheduled the trial for March 4 at 10:45 a.m.

John T. Nordstrom, Preston, Minn., pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $25. He was arrested at 2:10 a.m. today for driving 40 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone on Broadway between Wilson and Johnson streets.

Two nonsupport cases, first heard Jan. 19, were continued for one week each. Cyril Smith, 121½ W. 4th St., and Ray Orlikowski, 838 E. 5th St., had pleaded guilty to the charges. Judge McGill deferred sentencing until today. When both reported they were making good their back payments to dependents the judge stayed sentences and ordered them to report next Monday.

It's Supposed To Get Warmer

Winona and area today could look forward to slowly moderating temperatures after a weekend of far-below zero readings.

The temperature dropped to 17 below Sunday morning and was —12 today. But the forecast for southeastern Minnesota and western Wisconsin is for mostly fair weather through Tuesday with slowly moderating temperatures. A low 5 to 12 below is predicted for tonight and a high of 20 for Tuesday.

WEDNESDAY, SAYS the weatherman, will see partly cloudy weather with the chance of a few scattered snow flurries and continued slow temperature moderation.

The high in Winona Saturday afternoon was 9 while on Sunday the thermometer got up to 10. It was 6 above at noon today.

The extended forecast for the area indicates average temperatures will be a little below normal through Saturday. Normal daytime highs are 24 to 31 and nighttime lows 11-18.

Less than one-quarter of an inch of precipitation is expected as snow, most likely late in the week.

A year ago today the Winona high was 47 and the low 3. Three inches of snow lay on the ground at that time. All-time high for Feb. 21 was 64 in 1930 and the low for the day —25 in 1873. Mean for the past 24 hours was 1. Normal for this time of the year is 21.

THE MAIN channel of the Mississippi was falling rapidly all along the section from Red Wing to La Crosse with stages getting back down to more normal winter readings.

The Winona reading today was 7.9, down .5 of a foot from Sunday and expected to drop to 7.7 Tuesday, 7.3 Wednesday and 6.9 Thursday.

He Thought It, But Didn't Really Mean It

When he had finished making out his income tax forms, Sunday night, Florian Wicka, 416 Hamilton St., thought everything might as well go up in smoke.

This morning the fire department received a call at 8:54 a.m. to put out a basement fire that was burning out the first floor. Address — 416 Hamilton. Name — Florian Wicka.

"Those completed forms laying on my bedroom dresser were the first things I thought of when the smoke woke me up," he said. He had dozed on a first floor couch after breakfast.

Started from an overheated hand-fired furnace, the flames had burned out most of the floor joists and had eaten holes around nearly all the first floor air duct registers when the fire department arrived, according to Fire Chief Ervin Laufenberger. Flames at that time were shooting out all basement windows.

Firemen needed two 1½-inch hoses plus a booster to bring flames under control. They fought the blaze until nearly 10:30 a.m.

Damage to the remainder of the house and its contents was mainly from smoke. Wicka lost a boat stored in the basement, plus some clothes hanging on a drying line. He had not yet estimated other damages.

THE FIRE chief has granted Wicka permission to start a small fire in the furnace, close most of the air ducts and heat just enough of the house to live in until repairs can be made.

Wires were burned bare, so the electricity has been shut off.

Wicka, his daughter Sandra, and three grandchildren, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wicka, were the only persons in the house when the fire broke out. Mrs. Wicka had left about 8:45 to go downtown.

Wicka speculated the fire broke out soon after his wife left; she had not noticed any smoke. He was abruptly awakened by smoke burning his eyes, he said.

Sandra Wicka and two grandchildren were upstairs. She was asleep, but the grandchildren smelled smoke and awakened her. They were coming downstairs when Wicka awakened and shouted a warning to them. One grandchild was with him.

"I STARTED pouring water wherever I could see fire, and Sandra called the fire department," she then sent two grandchildren to the garage, safely away from the house, and ran barefooted to the neighbors with the third youngster.

Wicka said his first cleanup job would be to shovel about two feet of water out of the basement because the drain opening is too high.

Debaters Post 3 and 6 Record

Winona Senior High School's debate team closed out its 1965-66 season by posting a 3-6 record in the Minnesota state high school debate tournament at the University of Minnesota Friday and Saturday.

Coach Robert Neujahr said that he believed the Winona team was the only all-sophomore entry to participate in this year's state meet.

Representing Winona were Susan Elliot and James Henry, affirmative, and Nancy Willis and Scott Turner, negative.

The tournament was won by Hopkins High School with St. Paul Alexander Ramsey runner-up.

Winona earned a place in the state tournament after placing second in Region I competition.

Hit-Run Driver Forfeits $50

A hit-run mystery was cleared up Sunday when Dennis P. Maloney, 18, 1059 W. 5th St., appeared at police headquarters and admitted responsibility for a Friday evening collision.

A small foreign car owned by Alfred M. Berndt, Latsch Island, was struck by a passing vehicle, pushed over a curb and into a tree as it was parked on Sanborn Street near Washington Street. Damage was $200, police estimated. The incident occurred about 9:55 p.m.

Maloney forfeited $50 in municipal court today on a charge of failing to identify himself at the scene of the accident. In addition, he forfeited $15 on a charge of driving across a fire hose Saturday at 1:18 p.m. at East 3rd and Market streets.

Although nearly all of the state had sub-zero readings early today, the lows were slightly higher than those of Sunday.

Lone Rock recorded 20 below zero early today. Eau Claire had 19 below, Superior 12 below, Burlington and Park Falls 10 below, Madison 7 below, Racine 6 below, Wausau and Milwaukee 4 below, Green Bay 1 below and Beloit-Rockford 2 above.

Green Bay reached the high of 19 Sunday, with other top marks ranging down to 7 above zero at Superior.

No precipitation was reported anywhere in Wisconsin in the 24-hour period ending at daybreak today.

PRESIDIO, Tex., set the national high of 81 Sunday.

It Happened Last Night

He's 'Hooked' On Telephones

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I'm a phone freak," announced Godfrey Cambridge, the comedian-lecturer-taxi driver.

"Some guys get hooked on booze . . . but I'll bet I'm the only guy in New York who knows that the long lines switchboard on the island of Aruba is closed from 8 p.m. to 8 a.m. Did you know it?"

"No, and I'm shocked," I admitted.

"When I get on a phone binge, I'm worse than the Texans when they're drinking that 'telephone whisky,'" he continued.

"They usually want to call you in New York about 5 a.m., and then wake up some friend in Texas and make it a conference call. It's a sickness, like alcoholism."

"I was at the Hotel Diplomat in Miami. It was about 7:30 at night when I got this particular attack of telephonitis, which I get almost every day."

"I started callin' around the country. Couldn't find anybody in so I finally started callin' other countries."

"I GOT FRIENDS in Vancouver. Couldn't find anybody in Vancouver. Now where do people go in Vancouver, man?"

"I have a girl friend in Aruba. I called her. But they already closed down the switchboard for the night. They just don't want to be bothered with long distance calls at night."

"I sure did feel frustrated. So I pulled a switch. I phoned three friends in Texas, one in Dallas, one in Houston and one in Austin."

"That's why I'm so sure that A.T.&T. stock is so solid. That dollar rate after 8 o'clock is heaven to us telephonics."

CAMBRIDGE, WHO'S in the midst of making 60 college appearances throughout the country, was a cab driver till he got discovered in the play "The Blacks." He still has a hack license.

"One of these nights I'm going to drive up to Sardi's in a cab like I used to and pick you up," he promised. "You'll express surprise, I hope, and I'll say, 'Well, you know, Show Business ain't steady.'"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A Midwest finance company uses this line in its ads: "For the man who has everything — but hasn't paid for it."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Many of today's apartments have walk-in closets. Of course, in the old days they were called living rooms.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: Retired basketball coach Dr. Phog Allen, 79, said it: "You're not old until it takes you longer to rest up than it did to get tired."

EARL'S PEARLS: If you don't think the modern kid knows the value of money ask one how many record albums $10 will buy.

Thanks to the tremendous speed of today's jets, it's possible to have breakfast in N.Y. and arrive in Los Angeles in time to find nobody up yet . . . That's earl, brother.

DEAR ABBY:

No Sweat for This Soldier

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I felt so sorry for that poor man who couldn't keep his trousers on in the house because the heat bothered him. My son had the same problem. He is allergic to heat and high humidity. That man should see an allergist or the trousers worn in his house will be worn by his wife-to-work, because her husband won't be able to wear anything on his lower extremities. And there are very few jobs to which a man can wear a sarong.

My son took his military in the National Guard. The six months in winter and fall were fine, but the two weeks in summer were intolerable. He couldn't keep his pants on. The Army doctor gave him a C.O. a written statement saying he was not to assign my son to any duties that would make him perspire. Now he works in an air-conditioned office and goes home to an air-conditioned house.

DEAR MOTHER: I would like to know what kind of duty a guy can draw in the service that would guarantee him no sweat.

DEAR ABBY: This friend of mine has been going around with a married man for the past two years, off and on. The only time it was really "off" was when his wife and her parents found out about it. Now that things have cooled off, she has started to see him again. My problem is that she tells her parents that she is with ME when she is really with HIM. I have asked her not to involve me in this because I do not approve of this sort of thing, but it doesn't do any good. Should I tell her parents or the man's wife?

DEAR JUNIPER: Skip the parents and the wife, but DO tell your friend that you won't cover for her any more. So she'd better either straighten up and fly right or find herself another patsy.

DEAR ABBY: "NERVOUS AND AFRAID's" letter brought back memories of those terrible days when I, too, was nervous and afraid. Nervous about every new situation, and afraid to face people. I had doubts about my sanity, but wouldn't admit that I needed psychiatric help because I thought I might bring "shame" on my family. Finally I had to be committed to a psychiatric hospital. It was only for a short time, but during my stay there every shameful act, every reason for guilt feelings that haunted me was brought out into the open and I was cleansed and reborn again. This I did with the help of a psychiatrist. Later I received help from my clergyman (a rabbi) and a social worker.

Let no one try to tell one who suffers from deep depressions that "it is all in her head." It is very real. There is nothing imaginary about a mental illness. Denying it only prolongs the agony and delays the cure which comes from psychiatric treatment. So tell "NERVOUS AND AFRAID" that she must get help. She owes it to herself, her husband and her children.

Sincerely, "BEEN THERE"

DEAR ABBY: If I had read that letter signed "NERVOUS AND AFRAID" four years ago, I might be well today. I was exactly like the person who wrote that letter. I was so afraid to face people I couldn't even go into a store. I felt so alone. I wouldn't admit to myself that I was having a nervous breakdown because I was afraid I would be "sent away." It's nothing like that. I am seeing a psychiatrist and am living at home with my family. My doctor said if I had come to him earlier it wouldn't take so long to cure me. Too bad I didn't have the luck to see a letter like that four years ago, Abby. Just knowing there was one more person in the world with a problem like mine would have helped a lot.

St. Cloud Files Storm Sewer Suit

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — The city filed a $237,103 suit in Stearns County District Court Thursday against Barbarossa and Sons, Osseo construction firm, charging failure to execute a 1965 storm sewer contract.

The company did not accept the contract, claiming a $104,000 error in submitting its $963,474 bid. As an alternate in the suit, the city asks about $45,000, or about five per cent of a bid bond that was withdrawn.

Saturn Apollo Rocket to Be Fired Wednesday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

The 22-story Saturn 1B rocket, the most powerful built by the United States makes its launching debut Wednesday as Project Apollo's first step on the long trip to the moon.

The rocket is to drill an unmanned Apollo ship 300 miles into space and drive it back through the atmosphere at a speed up to 18,000 miles an hour.

The ballistic flight, which will last only 39 minutes, is the first of a long series of Apollo launches which must precede the landing of American astronauts on the moon by 1970.

Recovery will be attempted when the cabin section, to hold future astronauts, drops by parachute into the South Atlantic 5,300 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

The launch is the first of three unmanned tests for the spacecraft and the rocket before three astronauts step inside the Apollo for an 8- to 14-day earth orbital journey late this year or early 1967.

The Words Of Washington

ONE OF THE MOST revered rites of Congress is the annual ceremony which takes place Tuesday. A member chosen for the honor will rise in his place and read George Washington's Farewell Address as a tribute to the nation's founder on his birthday.

It remains after 170 years a remarkable document. Like many great utterances it is timeless and the lawmakers, if they listen to the old words, will find many applicable to the problems of the day.

It can also be used, as other great documents, to mean different things to different ears. But some of its principles are fundamental.

Take this passage, not exactly at random:

"As a very important source of strength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible; avoiding occasions of expense by cultivating peace, but remembering also that timely disbursements to prepare for danger frequently prevent much greater disbursements to repel it; avoiding likewise the accumulation of debt, not only shunning occasions of expense but by vigorous exertions in time of peace to discharge the debts which unavoidable wars may have occasioned, not ungenerously throwing on posterity the burden which ourselves ought to bear."

THE TEMPTATION today is to look on George Washington as stern and humorless, aristocratic, courageous but not really a very good general, conservative, and rather dull. To do so is to dishonor not only the man, whose 234th birthday anniversary we observe on Tuesday, but also history.

George Washington was a prosperous gentleman farmer, fox hunter, racer of horses, — and a betting man — and a reader and theater-goer. He was embarrassed when called upon to speak in public, but we have the word of Thomas Jefferson that in the circle of his friends he "took a free share in conversation."

Jefferson wrote that the first President's "temper was naturally irritable and high toned," but he noted also that Washington had learned to control it. If it ever broke its bonds, Jefferson added, "He was most tremendous in his wrath."

"ON THE WHOLE," wrote Jefferson, "Washington's character was in its mass, perfect, in nothing bad, in few points indifferent, and it may truly be said that never did nature and fortune combine more perfectly to make a man great, and to place him . . . in an everlasting remembrance."

If George Washington was a Conservative he was so in a British sense. Certainly he would not claim kinship with the moderate Conservatives of the far right, who would do away with the income tax, his precious government's principal source of revenue, or would destroy the Supreme Court. He would want to preserve the sacred institutions of both state and church.

WASHINGTON WAS lightly educated. Jefferson says his learning was "merely reading, writing, and common arithmetic, to which he added surveying at a later date." Yet, a mere amateur at the military arts, he defeated perhaps the finest professional soldiers of the era. As Lord John Russell put it, "The success of America was owing, next to the errors of her adversaries, to the conduct and character of General Washington."

Washington reluctantly left a life of comfort, ease, and profit to soldier wisely for a cause that promised little. In the eyes of Europe, Washington personified the awakening concept of liberty. Wrote Chateaubriand: "He aimed at that which it was his duty to aim at . . . blended his existence with that of his country . . . The name of Washington will spread with liberty from age to age."

THE ELOQUENCE of his Farewell Address is annually remembered as we mentioned above. It was delivered on Sept. 17, 1796. He counseled a firm union and a strong central government and prayed that his advice might "recur to moderate the fury of party spirit, to warn against the mischiefs of foreign intrigue, to guard against the impostures of pretended patriotism."

In his first annual message to Congress, Washington enunciated the principle that perhaps has the most meaning for today: "To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace."

Washington's passion for freedom, loyalty to his country and dedication to public service were invincible. He set a pattern for other great American leaders who were to follow. Without him and them, where would this country be?

AS THE first commander of the American Army and the first President of the United States, George Washington earned the title of Father of his Country.

Dispute Over TV Hearings

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — A controversy of more than passing interest to the American people has developed as a result of the resignation of his post by the head of the news division of the Columbia Broadcasting System. He quit because the management of the network decided not to televise the hearings of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week while a competitor, the National Broadcasting Company, did so simultaneously with the appearance of the witnesses.

On its face, it is made to appear by the departing official that CBS declined to perform a "public service" and that its "news judgment" was faulty. Unfortunately, the reasons for skipping the event were not set forth by CBS itself in its own news broadcasts.

THE PRINCIPLE involved, however, is important. Congressional hearings are frequently characterized by partisanship. The networks do not have the opportunity to present the rebuttals promptly so that the listeners can get both sides. This is one of the disadvantages of television broadcasting, not only with regard to hearings before congressional committees but also presidential speeches. It so happens that the hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee gave the public a one-sided view of the whole Viet Nam war. The witnesses were, of course, properly permitted to give their viewpoints, but the American people were entitled to hear the other side as well later that day or the next day.

Millions of persons are disabled or confined to their homes for one reason or another during the daytime hours. Most of them like to get entertainment rather than highbrow dialogues. A broadcasting company must determine what is preferred by the vast majority of its listeners. Otherwise it fails in its purpose of supplying a service to the people as a whole and to those companies which pay for the largest possible audiences so that their commercials can be heard.

TELEVISION ISN'T like a newspaper, which can print even a partisan statement by an official or a prominent person in private life and enable its readers to get the other side, either that day or the next. None of the major networks, for instance, in their news reports or commentaries has as yet presented a comprehensive and point-by-point criticism of last week's testimony on the Viet Nam war before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Even when government spokesmen subsequently are given a chance to be heard, they do not always take up in detail what their predecessors have said. So no direct answer is made when the original criticism is presented. This breeds prejudices. It can also result in the spread of a vast amount of misinformation. In the case of the Viet Nam war, it has led to a misunderstanding by the people at the very time when it is important that the American war effort should be fully supported.

THE ENEMY is quick not only to take advantage of every sign of official dissent or weakness in government, but often misconstrues American policy. Many members of Congress believe today that the war in Viet Nam is being prolonged largely because the dissent, which has been widely publicized, gives the impression of a floundering policy and a lack of determination by our government to carry the war to a satisfactory conclusion.

'NOW ALL TOGETHER MEN, I SAID ROW NOT ROW!'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Dodd Gets Around Without Paying Bill

By DREW PEARSON
and JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — This column has underestimated the enterprise of Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., in solving his transportation problem.

He not only drives an Oldsmobile owned by a Connecticut contractor, as previously documented in this space, but he also flies in style around the country in assorted company planes.

He commutes regularly between Connecticut and the capital, for instance, in a plane belonging to the United Aircraft Corporation. He also sends his family back and forth via this free transportation, and once he arranged to fly even his pet poodle to Connecticut in a United Aircraft plane.

The plane waited for 30 minutes while Dodd's staff struggled to box Beau, the poodle, in a crate suitable for air travel. Then company officials, who had boarded the plane and were eager to take off, refused to waste any more time waiting for a dog. The senator was obliged to find other transportation for Beau.

BUT DODD, if not his dog, is always welcome on board a United Aircraft plane. For he happens to be a member of the Senate Space Committee, and the company is deeply involved in the space business.

For his part, the senator always seems happy to help any company that flies him around. In a typical intra-office memo, a former assistant, Gerry Zeller, reported to Dodd on May 12, 1965:

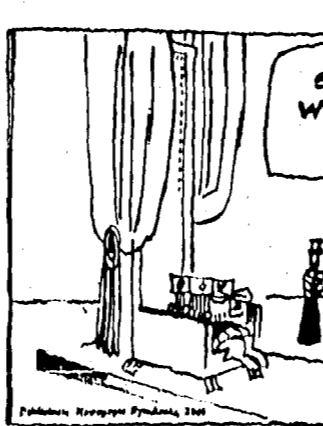

"Joe Barr of United Aircraft visited the office yesterday and had with him Bill Dell of United Technology, a subsidiary of United Aircraft."

"You will recall that we arranged for a demonstration of their Snap-on, 120-inch solid booster rockets some months ago with Jim Gehrig and the Space Committee staff."

"Barr and his associates would now like to see some general language incorporated in the space Committee report such as I have attached with this memo."

KAMAN Aircraft Corporation has also made a plane available to Dodd whenever he needed transportation. For example, his daily schedule for May 18, 1963, contains this note:

THE WIZARD OF ID

"Kaman Aircraft will fly you to Willimantic. The plane will leave from Butler. Arthur Crosbie will meet you at the Windham airport in Willimantic. The plane will wait for you in Willimantic and fly you to Hartford."

Two days earlier, by an interesting coincidence, Dodd called upon Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert to urge him to award an Air Force contract to Kaman. Last year the senator also brought pressure upon Lockheed Aircraft, one of the nation's biggest defense contractors, to grant a subcontract to Kaman.

"I have been personally acquainted with Charles Kaman president of the company, for a number of years, and I know him to be a businessman of the highest integrity," wrote Dodd to Lockheed on May 20, 1965. "I believe that, if his company is awarded the contracts, the performance of the contracts will be at the usual high standards demanded on any work being done by Kaman Aircraft."

When the Senate Antitrust Subcommittee was investigating the drug industry, Dodd suddenly started flying all over the country in a plane owned by McKesson & Robbins, a large drug manufacturer. Dodd was a member of the subcommittee, in a position to influence the investigation.

The senator was so spoiled by this particular plush plane that he began complaining that another private plane, occasionally provided for him by Connecticut contractor Frank D'Addario, had "no class."

Stung by Dodd's contempt for his humble aircraft, D'Addario recently offered to buy a new one. One day he announced to the senator's staff that Dodd "can use it any time he wants. It is always at his disposal 24 hours a day."

"One of the reasons he likes your plane," commented a staff member, "is that it doesn't have a company label on it."

"The new one won't have a company label on it either," promised D'Addario. "We are not interested in having people know who owns the plane as long as Dodd knows who owns it."

LATELY the senator has been making frequent use of a private aerjet owned by Thomas O'Neil, board chairman of R.K.O. General.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thinks Project Would Not Benefit Majority
To the Editor:

In response to a Letter to the Editor in the Feb. 14, 1966 paper I wish to make a few comments.

First of all I want to thank Jack D. Drew, Mayor, City of Buffalo City, Wis. for bringing up a subject which has come into the news several times. I'm glad to hear a more personal statement made instead of general news given out after a meeting.

I for one, along with many can't see where they will ever benefit from bringing up this subject of the proposed Buffalo Valley recreation project. It has become a sickening subject to me. How about a few more facts and less ideas and changes? Why is it taking so long and where is all the money, collected from the people?

About three years ago, Feb. 22, 1963 to be exact, this plan was introduced and after getting many contributions the surveying began without any regard to private property. Our land was under option until Oct. 31, 1964. From the beginning I had objected to this and having to move, but along with many changes I had to go along with the idea our land would become a "need" golf course. So we began many trips to look but wait in uncertainty about purchasing another place. Prices were even raised on prospective farms when they knew us.

I agree with Mr. Drew that their plans for a recreation development wouldn't benefit the majority. We have talked with a few people including some business men and they feel the same way. Why not send out someone to talk to the people and find out their opinions?

The people I mean are the every day area residents who bought the $25 shares and are asked to buy $75 ones. These shares would entitle them to use the facilities but with limitations!

The B.V.I. Corp. has meetings but what is said isn't published. Maybe I'm prejudiced but I for one can't see this project amounting to any advantage to the general public.

Further we have withdrawn our land for reasons too long to explain here. I believe the interest just isn't in it and the money either. Where would it come from to pay past due bills and then build but from the outside! I know I'm stepping on a few toes but many feel we're hurt and friends lost because of this.

Tax Reform Should Be First Order of Business
To the Editor:

This being an election year, and the precinct caucuses in full swing, we should ponder a few tax facts. The personal property and real estate taxes are carried over from colonial days. Most everything people owned was real estate or personal property.

Until 1791 there were no banks. Few or no stocks and bonds. There probably was little cash in circulation. So this was a pretty fair tax.

Since then these tax laws have been amended and revised until they are a hopeless mess. About half of the property is exempt. A dollar invested in machinery or livestock is taxed heavily. A dollar in the bank is not taxed at all. Furniture and jewelry in a merchant's hands are taxed. When it's in a home it is not. Seed corn in the sack is. When it's in the ground it's not. While all the necessities of production are taxed, such luxuries as boats, televisions and stereos are not.

All the taxable property in Winona County is taxed at about the rate of two per cent of its market value, while the $75 million stashed in the three Winona banks is not taxed at all. No doubt, there is another $75 million invested in stocks, bonds, mutual funds, building and loan associations and other investments, that are entirely tax free.

The political parties should make tax reform the first order of business, from the local, to the state level.

The Farmers Union recommends HF1318, SF1313, known as the Farmers and Merchants tax relief bill. Through this bill, tax reduction would be provided to general stores, food stores, implement dealers, hardware stores, etc., while for the farmer the exemptions would apply to livestock, poultry, agricultural tools, implements and machinery used in connection with farm production.

The replacement would come from:

1. A one per cent levy on adjusted gross income of individuals, estates and trusts. The first $4,000 of such income would be exempt from such tax.

2. A 1 per cent levy on the taxable income of all corporations.

The usual objection to this is that income is already taxed to the hilt. If this were true, how could we deposit another $5 million in the local banks in 1967? How could we buy nine million new cars, and (referring to an editorial Jan. 16th) how could we spend $7.8 billion for cigarettes and other tobacco products? $7 billion for cosmetics, etc.; $2.6 billion for jewelry and $1.8 billion for pets and hobbies?

So let's pin down our candidates for governor and the legislature, to see whether they favor tax reform via the income way or tax reform by a 3 per cent tax on food, clothing and shelter.

Arthur Aldinger
Rt. 3, Winona.

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Molner: I would like to get rid of some weight on my hips and stomach and wonder if I can use the electric sander we have that is a vibrating type. I put a soft cloth around it and it really massages and makes the skin red. Do you think such massage could injure me in any way? — MRS. C. K.

I doubt if it will hurt you, unless the cloth slips and you scratch yourself. But neither do I think you can pat off or rub off weight, whether with your ingenious sander or any other sort of massage, with or without mechanical devices, salons or anything else.

If massage could do it, movie stars wouldn't go on diets or struggle through exercises. Massage won't do it for them and it won't for you. Better do it the hard way: Get rid of some pounds by dieting, and firm up the muscles with exercise.

NOTE TO MRS. E. J.: Nobody "outgrows" diabetes. When a child develops it, the important thing is to control the condition. Such a child may live as long as anyone else if the disease is controlled.

ously is still high on the fashion scene, one noticed a new line — the easy-fitting, slightly flared skirt, achieved in suits and dresses by means of wide panels over deep pleats in the skirt fronts.

TWO ODD, but effective, color combinations seen in many of the costumes were lime with jade and blue with green.

Perhaps the most spectacular outfit in the show was the poncho dress and huge sombrero straw hat modeled by Miss Gretchen Mayan, who is currently attending the Patricia Stevens Modeling School in Minneapolis.

Stepping out with professional dignity and grace, Miss Mayan showed off to advantage the striking two-piece costume, made of modified rayon burlap in a print pattern of turquoise and gold. Her sombrero, of a shiny blue straw, was untrimmed, with the wide brim turned back off the face.

THE HIGHLY fashionable tattersall plaid was seen in many of the smart suits and coats, mainly with white or beige backgrounds with thin lines of color in the widely spaced plaid pattern.

A charming dress was a navy voile shift, designed with long full sleeves, gathered in at the wrists with a white edging, matching the edging at the high neckline above a demure deep pleated yoke of the navy voile.

Striking was a beige and bronze three-piece ensemble, comprised of an overblouse of beige with long cuffed sleeves under a sleeveless, cut-away bronze vest with gold chains and buttons closing the front. The bronze skirt was softly gathered.

ANOTHER eye-opener was a three-piece knit ensemble in bright American Beauty red. It had a trim narrow skirt, a porous knit overblouse with long sleeves and turtleneck collar topped by a doublet jacket.

Among the many handsome coats in the show were several in spring-time light colors, such as daffodil yellow and off-white. A pretty raincoat was of pale blue, cut in a loose-fitting flared style and worn with a bright red scarf and red umbrella.

The teen-agers in the show performed their parts with aplomb, modeling some of the delightful high-waisted fashions in vogue with their set. Outstanding among these was a brick-red dacron and voile with a crisp white pique collar, edged with lace.

ANOTHER charming "young" dress was a blue "scrub" denim skirt and short jacket, worn

Down Melody Lane '66 Being Readied for April Showing

Winona Senior High School's Down Melody Lane '66 will be presented April 15, 16 and 18 by the students of the school. Because of overflow crowds at previous annual performances of two nights only, the students plan a three-night presentation this spring.

"What's in a Name" is the theme of the show, which will include some of the wonderful music of Broadway, the sprightly tunes of folk songs, and all-time favorites of various countries of the world.

Melody Lane is the annual song and dance entertainment produced by the students. They dedicate the profits to many welfare and benefit programs in the school. Among these are the American Field Service, help for the students needing clothing to attend school and financial aid to students unable to attend worthwhile educational programs and others of similar nature. A portion is being set aside for a memorial to be placed in the new high school building upon its completion.

Said a member of the planning group, "This year's show, like the previous ones, will be an evening of pure enjoyment with all your favorite melodies. These and the sparkle and gaiety of a group of young people producing entertainment for the sheer pleasure of performance will make the 1966 the best of all entertainment."

Members of the co-ordinating committee now shaping up plans for Melody Lane '66 are Nick, Patricia, Nancy and Christine Edstrom, Penny Weimer, Greg Mills, William Kane, Bonnie Wos, Carol Brant and Christine Johnson. Charles Stephens is their adviser.

100th Anniversary

Winona Editor First President Of Association

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — One hundred years ago today 33 editors and publishers met in a St. Paul fire hall to organize an association of newspapers.

Next weekend, the Minnesota Newspaper Association, outgrowth of that meeting in 1866, will hold its annual meeting in Minneapolis and pay special tribute to "100 years of independent journalism" in Minnesota.

The association's centennial convention program will include Clark Mollenhoff, Pulitzer prize-winning reporter for the Minnesota Star and Tribune, and Arthur "Red" Motley, publisher of Parade Magazine, as speakers.

The three-day convention, opening Thursday, will wind up Saturday night with a centennial carnival.

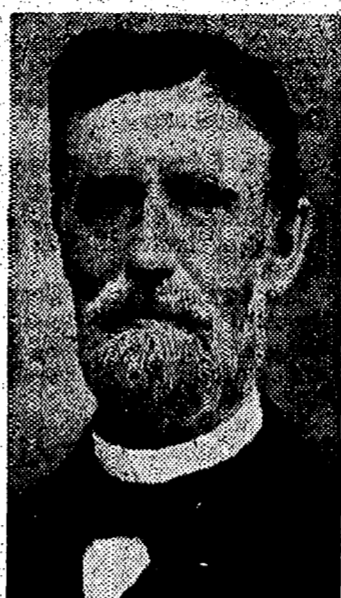

The association was formerly known as the Minnesota Editorial Association, a group formed in 1867 as a result of the St. Paul fire hall meeting. The first president and one of the founders was Daniel Sinclair, editor of the Winona Republican, forerunner of today's Winona Daily News.

Charles B. Seipp of the Tyler Journal is current president of the MNA.

Mollenhoff and Motley will speak Friday. Mollenhoff's topic is "The Despoilers of Democracy," and Motley will discuss "What Does a Free Press Contribute to Freedom?"

A panel discussion the same day on "Checks, Balances and State Government" will feature State Sen. Donald Wright, Reps. Lloyd Duxbury of Caledonia and Paul Overgaard, Atty. Gen. Robert Mattson, Agriculture Commissioner Russel Schwandt and Liquor Commissioner William Joyce.

Representing the Winona Daily & Sunday News at the convention will be Executive Editor Gordon R. Cloway, a past state president of the association.

5-Gallon Donor Tells Why He Donates Blood

"In case of an emergency, blood has got to be available," said William Bray, 128 W. Sanborn St., a 5-gallon donor for the Red Cross bloodmobile. "Needy persons can't wait around for it."

"It is important to participate in the bloodmobile program, which will be here next week. Getting first-time donors is the answer. Persons may be turned down for medical reasons or for age. Anyone over 60 cannot give blood."

"I recall the first time I gave blood. Back in 1948 a bunch of buddies and I took time off from our college studies to be first-time donors. It is not hard to give blood. Everyone is given a physical checkup. Donors can enjoy themselves—they can even load up on a free lunch."

"People can and should take time out from their daily activities to give their fair share. Remember, the life you save may be your own," said Bray. He is manager of Dempsey Tegeler & Co., Inc.

The unit will be at St. Mary's College campus Monday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. During the remainder of the week it will be at the Red Cross Chapter House, West 5th and Huff streets. Hours Tuesday through Thursday will be noon to 6 p.m. and Friday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The week's quota is 750 pints; 150 pints per day. Blood program chairman is Mrs. Carl Breitlow.

Modern Road Planned Across African Desert

ALGIERS (AP) — The camel, historic desert cruiser, may soon give way to the automobile on the ancient caravan route across the Sahara, if plans go through for a superhighway across the world's greatest wasteland.

Eight African governments hope to construct an asphalt span from the Mediterranean coast to the Niger River that would enable a motorist to make the 2,000-mile trip in a few days.

Trucks with special tires and survival equipment have been venturing across the Sahara for some time. The trip is hazardous and uneconomical for large-scale freight movement.

An asphalt highway exists from Algiers to the oilfields around Hassi Messaoud, a distance of 500 miles. Beyond that, an ill-defined track winds for 1,500 miles across the virtually uninhabited, sandblown wasteland.

At many points, there is no track at all, but only a trace of parallel tire marks in the sand. In some sections, progress is less than 40 miles a day.

The new highway would make a substantial contribution to the development of the Sahara region and change the habits of nomadic tribes hitherto barely touched by civilization.

Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Mali, Mauritania, Chad, Niger and the United Arab Republic hope to raise $127 million to build the road and to supply about $4.25 million a year to maintain it.

Trade With Viet Reds Small, Say European Nations

LONDON (AP) — Leading maritime nations of Western Europe intimated Saturday that trade with North Vietnam had oversteered the amount of Free World trade with North Vietnam.

In announcing a boycott Friday of the ships of foreign nations trading with the Communist-controlled area, spokesmen for the AEL-CIO maritime unions claimed hundreds of vessels would be affected.

Here are views from some of the countries named by the unions as chief offenders:

Italy: Virtually no trade with North Vietnam, said a foreign ministry spokesman. The government had "no application to Italy."

Norway: No Norwegian ships trade with North Vietnam, said the unions "have the wrong address when they mention us,"

FPC Approves Gas Line Job In Wisconsin

DURAND, Wis. — A Federal Power Commission examiner filed a decision recently authorizing construction of pipeline facilities by Wisconsin Gas Co. to Durand, Arkansaw, Plum City, Spring Valley, Star Prairie, Turtle Lake, Almena, Balsam Lake, Centuria, Clayton, Ellsworth, Elmwood, Frederic, Luck and Milltown.

The decision will become the Federal Power Commission's order in 40 days if no exceptions are filed and no review is initiated by the FPC.

The pipelines in the area will be built by Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, Neb., an interstate pipeline supplier. Wisconsin Gas Co. will install underground main systems in each community, serving customers with natural gas it purchases from the pipeline company.

FPC approval is the last regulatory step necessary before construction can start. Wisconsin Gas Co. previously received approval from the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin.

Increase in Milk Support Prices Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., predicted today that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman will announce an increase in milk price supports to $3.50 a hundred pounds for milk with 3.7 pounds of butterfat.

However, Laird told a reporter, the proposed increase in the support level for milk for manufactured products is not high enough and will not insure an adequate supply of milk for Wisconsin dairy plants in the new marketing year starting April 1.

The current price support for milk with 3.7 pounds of butterfat is $3.24 a hundred pounds, or 75 percent of parity, the minimum under the law. Changes in the parity equivalent for the new year, he said, would require a minimum of $3.31 a hundred pounds.

Laird said sources in the Agriculture Department informed him that Freeman intends to set the new support price at $3.50 for milk with 3.7 pounds of butterfat.

Mabel, Burr Oak Phones All Single-Party Service

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — Open house for the new $750,000 Mabel and Burr Oak dial telephone system was held at the new headquarters building here Sunday.

Manager Ernest Corson conducted tours of the dial equipment room, explaining its operation. Mrs. Mildred Budde, employed as clerk, was receptionist. Mrs. Corson poured at the coffee table, assisted by Mrs. Palmer Tollefson and daughter Phyllis.

Baskets of flowers received from Mabel, Spring Grove, Harmony and Decorah businessmen decorated the lobby.

There are 1,025 single-party subscribers to Mabel Cooperative Telephone Co., whose unattended dial system at Burr Oak was cut over at midnight Friday.

The plants were built with REA loans — $370,000 to Mabel and $210,000 to Burr Oak. Contractors were Sturberg-Carlson Division of General Dynamics, Rochester, N.Y., Midwest Utility Co., Prior Lake, and Irvin Rinehart Co., South Dakota.

Directing the building of the cooperative plant were Dr. Vernon A. Karli, president of the board; Alton Spande, vice president; Belmont Humphrey, secretary; George Ellestad, treasurer, and Norman Casterton, Harold Selness, Nansen Spande, Clarence Knoke and Truman Kirkeby, directors. Jerry Winter is local maintenance man.

This system is the second single-party telephone service in the state. A small co-op of some 200 subscribers at Dunnell, Minn., was the first in the state and in the nation, Corson says.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Combating Rabbits In The Garden

IN addition to the basic principles of soil preparation, planting, cultivating and the other necessary activities involved in gardening along with the vagaries of the weather, the gardener must contend with plant diseases, destructive insects and other pests.

Animals that are destructive in the garden are not always a constant factor, but they do appear from time to time, both during the growing season and in the winter months when the plants are dormant. Gophers and moles work in the ground primarily from early spring until the soil freezes, while rabbits and mice do most of their damage during the winter months, although rabbits may be destructive throughout the entire year.

Today, we will center our thoughts on the rabbit which is commonly known as the "cottontail." During the growing season we always receive a number of complaints about rabbits eating crocuses and tulips in the spring, as well as carrots, lettuce and other vegetables throughout the summer. One summer they did considerable damage to the young plants in our glad patch.

DURING THE winter when food is rather scarce, rabbits will do considerable damage by gnawing the bark of young trees, eating the stems of shrubs and the crowns of perennials that were not sufficiently protected by mulch.

They seem to be rather sporadic at times in their feeding habits during the winter. They have eaten the yucca plants in our garden, cut off spirea stems, and one winter ate the tops off of a number of small evergreens that we were growing as transplants. This winter they have practically riddled one of our forsythia bushes, while leaving another one untouched, although it was growing nearby. One winter they cut off a number of stems of one of our Clematis vines. This was not of much concern, since these vines will send up new shoots from the base as soon as new growth starts in the spring, but it shows how they work. SOMETIMES rabbits seem to do more damage to gardens in cities and villages than they do in the country. They are very plentiful in many well-populated areas where they apparently find ample cover and protection for rearing their young regardless of fences, dogs and cats.

Some of the damage to the canes of roses and berry bushes that is often attributed to rabbits is actually done by mice. We have known this to be the case in a number of instances. Mice may girdle small fruit trees at ground level that may appear to have been done by rabbits.

And, now, what can be done to guard plants and vegetables against rabbits? The best way, of course, is to protect small trees by enclosing the trunk of each one in a cylinder of wire mesh up to the first limbs. Also, flowers and vegetables can be surrounded with wire netting. A height of two feet is generally sufficient. The fencing can be set up temporarily with light stakes as necessary and then taken down and rolled up for storage when the need for it has passed.

WE HAVE protected vegetables such as lettuce, beans and others, as well as sprouting crocuses and tulips by the use of an all-purpose garden dust and, also, by dusting sulphur on the ground around the plants. Red pepper was dusted on our crocuses and tulips one spring and no rabbit damage was experienced. Some gardeners have reported that moth balls, or naphthalene flakes, scattered among the plants will repel them.

There are several commercial products on the market under various trade names to repel rabbits, either by odor or taste, but we have not tried any of them. Needless to say, poisons should not be used as they are too dangerous for children, dogs and cats. Neither should steel traps be used.

Buffalo Co. '65 Welfare Cost $549,908

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — Total cost of the Buffalo County Department of Public Welfare last year was $549,908, according to the annual report of Jerome Benson, administrator, to the county board last week. Net cost to the county was $105,251.

Old-age assistance cost $236,452 or 53.7 percent of the total; aid to dependent children, $95,253; aid to the disabled, $81,918; administration, $63,469; general relief, $10,419; distribution of surplus commodities from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, $2,756; child welfare, $408; and blind aid, $230.

"The number of persons receiving financial assistance decreased during the year," Benson said. "Our department continued to expand its efforts in providing services, other than those of a financial nature, to families and individuals. Our objectives are to reduce dependency, encourage self-care, and maintain and restore family life.

"WE CANNOT afford waste of human resources and lost productivity. The accomplishments of each individual are of concern to us all, and we all lose something when any person fails to perform to the limit of his capacity.

"We believe that the range of welfare services we provide helps prevent human failure promote self-sufficiency and personal dignity for many who have failed for one reason or another.

"We now are working with approximately 30 families not receiving assistance but who require counseling, guidance and other services to maintain their independence."

The department has five caseworkers and three clerks. A casework supervisor has been authorized but with a statewide shortage of qualified personnel, the position hasn't been filled. The report said the county's share of total expenditures has decreased from 26 percent in 1960 to about 17 percent in the 1964 fiscal year.

STATE AND FEDERAL reimbursement last year total $407,106. Other receipts of the department were $24,973 in refunds; $12,499 in equalization aid, and $86 as the county's share of lien collections.

With Pat Molley as part-time corporation counsel, 16 claims were disposed of with total collections of $17,950, some of them pending for years.

Average monthly payments for old age recipients was $111, of which $81 was for medical care; average to persons on ADC, $39.90, of which $11 was for medical, and average to disabled, $97, of which $66 was for medical.

Of the $431,343 total expended for these three programs, $268,212 was for medical and the remainder for maintenance.

Under the Kerr-Mills health assistance program, set up to meet the needs of low income aged persons not on old age assistance but unable to cope with health care costs, total payments were $38,456. In November, 92 individuals were certified for the program. No county funds are involved.

IN THE SURPLUS commodities program, 576 persons benefited each month, receiving about 103,810 pounds or 53 tons of food retailing at $33,058. Cost to the county was 2.6 cents for each pound of food distributed.

Child welfare services were provided to 105 families during the year. At the end of the year, 189 children were receiving services. Since 1963, the number of children receiving some type of child welfare service increased 58 percent.

The welfare agency has legal care, custody and control of 50 children. There were 16 children in the 19 foster homes licensed in Buffalo County at the end of the year.

The number of referrals to juvenile court declined sharply, accounted for primarily by a decrease in referrals for juvenile drinking.

Casework services were provided to six unmarried mothers.

PERSONS on welfare rolls in December were 216 old age recipients; 13 children in foster homes and 181 on ADC in 44 cases; 66 on disabled, and 55 on general relief.

Benson said Gov. Knowles has appointed an 18-member task force to study 1965 amendments to the Social Security Act to determine how they might be implemented in Wisconsin.

Items up for consideration are removal of maximum grants; removal of 90-day waiting period in ADC; establishment of work and training projects; adding children of unemployed parents to the ADC program; and a single category of medical assistance, similar to the present Kerr-Mills program, but for all medically needy persons.

Redmen Shooting for Six Straight! After No. 5 Tonight

By JOHN VOTAVA

History seems to repeat itself on alternating years for Redmen of Terrace Heights, who are now on a four-game victory string with all circumstances favorable for extending that streak to numbers five and six. Two years ago Ken Wilgen's troop dropped three of their first seven conference tilts before bouncing back to take six of the final nine to mark 9-7 overall.

With sickening similarity to that season past, St. Mary's dropped six out of its first eight this winter, only to come on with close out victories over Augsburg, Hamline, St. John's and Duluth. The latter opponent falling for the first time since 1956.

Anticipating continued success against lowly Augsburg tonight in the final home game and likewise against lowly Macalester a week from that date in St. Paul, Coach Wilgen feels a 9-7 final would be a good one. "After losing a couple of men at the semester, having Roger (Pytlewski) and Buff (Jim Buffo) operating at half speed from time to time with sprained ankles, and coming back from a 2-6, 9-7 looks real good."

"We didn't practice Sunday," continued the coach, "I think the rest did the boys more good. With the way the squad has played defensively the last couple of games, I didn't feel we had to work on anything special for Augsburg."

That past performance Wilgen was referring to was the 50-34 rebound score against the Bulldogs Saturday. Coupled to a similar feat against the Johnnies, whose game centers on the second-shot chance, the Redmen have shelved the lapses that cost them victories in earlier games.

As for the Auggies, their front line runs 6-5, 6-4, 6-4 and St. Mary's should have little trouble in continuing their dominance underneath.

When queried about his lineup Wilgen replied, "Naturally we will go with the same five. They've won four in a row and are the best five I've got." That means George Hoder at center, Pytlewski and Tom Keenan at the forward posts, and Jerry Sauter and Buffo in the back court.

"The only variation," added Wilgen, "might be to exchange Keenan and Buffo. Jim reinjured his ankle against Duluth and it will be easier on him to work at forward. It really doesn't make much difference. We have used both of them at either position all year."

For the Auggies the major threat to the Redmen will come from sophomore Bob Kelly. Kelly poured in 15 points in the earlier season's losing effort against St. Mary's and is the only experienced man on the Auggie five. He was the sixth man on last season's championship squad.

Wilgen summed it up, "They graduated all five men last year and consequently have a lot of inexperienced freshmen. They will run and shoot a lot and toss the ball at the bucket every chance they get. If the defense plays like it did against the Johnnies and Duluth we should be able to handle them."

The difference between a pre-season contender, a dismal start and now a strong finish?

"All I know is that now we are blocking out underneath, shooting, working as a team and running," said Wilgen. "In other words, we're putting the basic fundamentals into practice."

Gametime tonight will be 8 p.m.

Confidence — It's Lourdes' Basis for Championship!

By GARY EVANS

Daily News Sports Editor
Confidence.

In those ten letters are written Rochester Lourdes' case for a Region Six Catholic tournament championship.

Orrie Jirele, first-year Lourdes coach, has heard all the arguments about how tough it is to beat a team three times in one season. He won't label the adage as hogwash, but he is not in complete agreement with it.

"In many respects, I'm sure it is hard to beat a team three times," says Jirele. "However, we went into the first two games with, Coter knowing we had to take them one at a time. I decided long ago that if we beat them twice during the regular season, I'd worry about facing the third game when it came up."

Well, that third game is just around the corner.

Lourdes and perennial champion Coter christen tournament events Wednesday at 7:15 p.m. at St. Mary's fieldhouse. The winner earns the prize of advancing directly into Sunday's 3:15 p.m. championship game.

Rounding out Wednesday's two-game program will be a clash between Wabasha St. Felix and Caledonia Loretto at 8:45 p.m. Rollingstone Holy Trinity drew the first-night bye.

Friday at 7:15 Wednesday's losers play for a spot in Sunday's 1:30 consolation game and Rollingstone meets the winner of Wednesday's St. Felix-Loretto scrap.

Since Lourdes twice has disposed of Coter this year, the Eagles will be favored to make their first trip to the state tournament since 1959. They went out of Region Five that year.

Coter has represented Region Six every year since 1955 when St. Felix made the trip.

Does Lourdes deserve the "favorite" tag?

"I'm sure we do," says Jirele. "But an overwhelming favorite? No. We have too much respect for John's (Nett) record and string of regional championships to consider ourselves that good. We know of John's ability to get his team up for the occasion. The record speaks for itself. But we are going in with two wins. We can handle Coter."

If Lourdes does win Wednesday's game it probably will be because of the confidence the team has built up in the two regular season wins.

"I can't say how we've been in past years," muses Jirele. "But I do know we have more confidence today than we had early in the season. Sometimes you can go overboard on the confidence bit. But I feel we've been down so long we needed the lift. I prefer to have them this way."

Lourdes will not change its starting cast for the tournament game.

Dick and Pete Galuska, 6-1 sophomore brothers, will be the forwards and 6-2 senior Bob Schmidt the center. Joe Tierney and Bill De Witt, a pair of mighty miles at 5-8 and 5-11, make up the guard tandem.

Reserve strength comes from 5-9 captain Steve Osborn, 5-6 Jim Peterson and 6-1 Gary Schemmel.

Lourdes comes into the game with 12 victories in its last 13 games.

"I'd like to think we're at our peak," says Jirele. "But we have played better than we did in our last three games (Bethlehem Academy, St. Agnes and Sacred Heart). I guess the kids have been thinking about Coter too much."

Duff Thinks New York Is Nice Visit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's time once again for Duke and Davidson, two of the better college basketball teams in the country, to find out if they once again will be the two best non-champions in the country.

Davidson has held that status for the past two years while Duke strayed into that area last year.

In the case of these two teams, a nonchampion is one that finishes on top of its league in regular-season play but which loses in the league's post-season tournament, thereby missing out on the championship and a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Davidson, loser of only one of 12 Southern Conference contests this season, opens its bid Thursday for the championship that has eluded it the past two years.

Conference tournament with an 11-1 record. The Blue Devils complete their regular schedule this week with league games against Wake Forest and North Carolina.

In the opening Southern Conference game, the Wildcats take on the Citadel, a team they've already beaten twice this season. But based on recent history, that should be no indication of the outcome this time.

Two years ago Davidson lost in the semifinals to Virginia Military 82-81 after stopping VMI twice earlier in the season. Then last year West Virginia, a two-time loser, edged the Wildcats 74-72 in overtime in a semifinal game.

Duke fared only slightly better in the ACC last season, winning two tournament games before losing to North Carolina State 91-85 in the final.

Unbeaten Kentucky, the Nation's No. 1 team, won its 21st, edging Mississippi State 73-69, while unbeaten Texas Western, No. 3, nipped Pan American 65-61 for its 20th victory and fifth straight squeaker.

All of the other teams in the Top Ten won with No. 10 Michigan bombing Purdue 128-94 despite Dave Schellhase's 57 points.

Chicago Loyola, No. 4, avenged an earlier defeat by Wichita, downing the Shockers 94-77. Fifth-ranked Vanderbilt remained two games behind Kentucky in the Southeastern Conference with an 89-86 triumph over Florida.

No. 6 Providence knocked off Seton Hall 77-57, seventh-ranked Kansas overwhelmed Oklahoma State 80-47, St. Joseph's, No. 8, outlasted Creighton 90-90 and ninth-ranked Nebraska whipped Missouri 71-53.

Card Defense Is Successful

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Harmony advanced seven wrestlers to the regional tournament, including four class champions, as the Cardinals successfully defended their District One wrestling title Saturday.

Harmony piled up 89 points to 64 for runnerup Caledonia and 62 for Chatfield. Preston was fourth with 44, followed by La Crescent with 42, Houston with 36, Rushford with 35 and Spring Valley with 38.

At Gault, Gerri Matson, John Engle and Ken Valtis all won titles for Harmony.

Defending 127-pound champion Dale Richter of Chatfield, a fourth-place finisher in the state tournament last year, successfully defended his title by pinning Brian Moen of Harmony in 1:28.

Chatfield advanced only three wrestlers to the Region One tournament at Rochester next weekend, but all three were class champions.

Caledonia, on the other hand, had only one individual champion in 95-pound Bob Lange, but had fine runnersup to build its second place point total.

Stout, Oshkosh Eye Tough Jobs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stout and Oshkosh have their title and runnerup prizes already under lock and key in the Wisconsin State University Conference basketball standings, but the third place race is as crowded and unruly as a bargain basement sale.

Oshkosh nailed La Crosse, now occupant of the third slot, 93-79 Saturday night to clinch a second-place finish. It was the Indians' sixth setback and Platteville, Eau Claire and last-finishing Stevens Point are all stalking them just a step behind in the loss column.

La Crosse has two games left, including a windup affair this Saturday night against Stout, which wrapped up championship honors last Friday night with a 71-61 decision over Platteville.

Platteville beat Eau Claire 82-73 and Stevens Point, winning for the fifth time in its last six games, racked River Falls 84-74 in Saturday night games. Superior stretched Whitewater's losing streak in the WSUC this season to 15 straight 103-92.

Stout, which rested Saturday night, has a 14-1 record with just one game to go while Oshkosh boosted its slate to 12-3 with its victory over La Crosse, currently 8-6 in the WSUC standings.

La Crosse led the Titans the first 12 minutes before Tom Witasek thrust Oshkosh ahead 32-30 and the winners quickly pulled out of danger. Sub Ron Hayek paced Oshkosh with 20 points.

Platteville and Stevens Point moved into a fourth-place tie at 7-7. The Pointers trailed River Falls 42-35 early in the second half, but Wes Zuege took charge and shot Stevens Point ahead permanently at 53-51 with 11 minutes to go.

Zuege scored 26 points, 17 of them in the second half. Bill Van Dyke had 22 for River Falls.

Gary Olson sank 21 points in the second half and finished with 25 to spearhead Platteville's conquest of Eau Claire with 28 points.

Five-foot-five Jim Sevals canned 22 points in the second half and wound up with 36 for Superior in its hard-fought victory over Whitewater. The Warhawks led early in the second half until Sevals' three-point play put the Yellowjackets in front to stay at 67-64.

Give Campbell Extra Cigar—He's Rugged

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It took an extra cigar or two, but chunky Joe Campbell has his first pro golf tournament victory in three years.

Campbell, who usually smokes about six cigars a round of golf, puffed his way "through seven or eight" stogies Sunday as he shot a steady 70 and whipped Gene Littler in a sudden-death playoff for the $9,000 first prize in the Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

Campbell finished with steady rounds of 69-70-69-70 for a 10-under-par total of 278 over the giant Tucson National golf course, a wide open desert layout with some of the biggest greens in the country.

Littler, who shot 71-71-68-68—278, won $5,000 for second. R. H. Sikes and brothers Jay and Lionel Hebert each picked up $3,400 for their 280 finishes.

Tommy Aaron, Doug Sanders and George Archer each won $2,316 for their 281 scores.

Campbell's pay check gives him $14,945 in total 1966 money and ranks him fourth behind Arnold Palmer, Sanders and Billy Casper.

Michigan's Wolverines, holding a two-game lead in the stretch run of the Big Ten basketball race, face their toughest assignment of the season tonight at Iowa City.

The Iowa Hawkeyes, who have not lost a game at home this season, could tighten the race with a victory against the Iowa has won its last two games and did a turnaround by defeating Ohio State 86-80 Saturday for its first Big Ten triumph on the road this year.

Michigan warmed up for the Iowa battle in record breaking fashion Saturday with a 128-94 triumph over Purdue. The 128 points eclipsed the Big Ten record of 122 set by Indiana seven years ago.

While Michigan was setting a record, the Wolverines also were victimized by an individual scoring mark as Dave Schellhase poured in 57 points to erase the record of 56 held by Indiana's Jimmy Rayl.

Should Michigan lose at Iowa City, Illinois or Michigan State will climb within one game of the two-time champions Tuesday night when the two teams meet at East Lansing.

Illinois climbed into a second-place tie with a 100-89 triumph over Minnesota while Michigan State was suffering a 78-77 defeat at Wisconsin.

Other games tonight find Indiana at Purdue, Ohio State at Minnesota and Wisconsin at Northwestern.

Zumbrota Tips Wanamingo Five

ZUMBROTA, Minn. — Zumbrota put up a last-half stand that toppled Wanamingo 61-57 Saturday night in a high school basketball game.

Wanamingo had taken a 26-23 halftime lead, but Zumbrota came back to move in front 42-40 going into the last period. The two-point edge was enough as the Tigers hung onto a slim lead throughout the last eight minutes for the victory.

Dave Sandberg led the attack with 17 points, while Jeff Evert had 17 points and 11 rebounds.

Mike Peterson chipped in 12 markers.

Grant Hoven had 18 and Don Tange 14 for Wanamingo.

ERNIE'S RACER QUALIFIES SATURDAY

Inflation: Short Stop Costs $2,100

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Talk about inflation — Ramo Stott stopped off to get a couple of gallons of gas at Dayton's International Speedway Sunday, and it cost him $2,100.

Stott, from Keokuk, Iowa, had to settle for second place and $3,350 in the Automobile Racing Club of America 250-mile championship when his pit crew sent him onto the track with less than a full tank of gas in his 1965 Plymouth after his second pit stop.

Bowsher beat Stott across the finish line by only 100 feet, and it was that third pit stop that made the difference. The stop lasted only five seconds, just enough to splash a couple of gallons in the tank, but the slowing down time let Bowsher get that 100 foot margin.

Bowsher's speed was 164.653 miles an hour, the fastest 250 ever negotiated over the high-banked track. It beat the old ARCA record of 164.103 m.p.h. set by Nelson Stacy in a 1964 Ford two years ago, and also topped the NASCAR 250-mile race record of 164.294, set by David Pearson July 4, 1961.

NASCAR late models run five-mile qualifying trials from today through Thursday. Modified and sportsman class stocks also will be timed for their 300-mile on Saturday.

The late models will compete in a pair of 100-mile races Friday and the Daytona 500 Sunday.

Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., in a 1966 Plymouth, and Dick Hutcherson of Keokuk, in a 1966 Ford, already have the front row for the 500 as well as pole positions in the 100-milers. Petty set a qualifying record of 175.165 m.p.h. last week.

Drivers given a chance to raise the record include Cale Yarborough of Charlotte, N.C., driving a car owned by Ernie Tuff of Rushford, Minn.
