Humphrey Optimistic About Viet Situation

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has returned from his Asian-Pacific mission with growing optimism about prospects for winning ultimately in Viet Nam.

But at the same time, he came away from his nine-nation tour with sharpened concern over the threat posed by Red China all across Southeast Asia, South Asia and throughout the Western Pacific region.

Humphrey might be expected to speak confidently in public. But he expresses guarded optimism in private as well.

Asked to cite specific reasons, he acknowledges it is more a feeling than anything that can be documented.

This feeling set in after conversations with U.S. military and civilian officials at various levels in Viet Nam, from admittedly kaleidoscopic on-the-spot observations, and from hard talks with Viet Nam's leaders, chiefly Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky.

The vice president, it is known, set out for Viet Nam not knowing what he would find — even though he had had the benefit of regular U.S. briefings and had been current on intelligence reports and evaluations.

His intensified apprehension about Red China grew out of a series of cards-on-the-table discussions with government chiefs, particularly those of Thailand, Laos, India, Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines.

In a way, the trip was an education for Humphrey, despite his long familiarity with world problems from years as a U.S. senator.

Academy Ulcer Derby

Teen-Agers In Rat Race

WEBSTER GROVES, Mo. — The 16-year-olds in this typical upper middle-class suburb are engaged in an "Academy ulcer derby," poring over their books mainly because they see a dollar sign on every page, a sociologist says.

Dr. Arthur Barron with the University of Chicago conducted a six-month survey of all the 16-year-olds in Webster Groves — 688 of them. He said they are "too good for their own good" and that they have an overriding fear of losing their families' financial security.

Barron says the youngsters in the St. Louis suburb are typical of 16-year-olds in well-to-do areas which have achieved "the American dream of affluence and security." But he says they are paying "a terrible price because of the enormous pressure on them for good grades and success in later life."

"We were staggered to learn how much the pressure of getting into college bears on them," Barron said.

The study showed that 54 per cent said they had cheated on exams, indicating the pressure that was on them to get good grades, he said, noting that 88 per cent of the 16-year-olds had signed an honor code not to cheat and to report any cheating.

Most are high school juniors. The results of Barron's survey, which began last September, will be used by CBS-TV Friday night in a special network program.

Barron presented the results yielded by his questionnaires and interviews to school officials, teachers and students Wednesday.

The president of the student body agreed that the analysis of his schoolmates was accurate.

House Passes $5 Billion Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a $5 billion tax boost bill sought by President Johnson to fight inflation and help finance military operations in Viet Nam.

The vote in Wednesday's action was 246-145.

If the Senate passes the measure, most wage and salary earners will feel its effects in May when the withholding figures in the paychecks change — but they will not be paying any higher income tax.

The bill is intended to match more closely the amount withheld with the final tax bill to be paid. For some, withholding will increase. The Treasury Department says that for many in lower brackets it will go down. On balance, more money would come in earlier. Payment of corporate taxes also would be speeded.

Among provisions of the bill, on which the Senate Finance Committee will open hearings Friday:

—For two years, restore excise tax rates of 7 per cent on automobiles and 10 per cent on telephone service. These rates dropped to 6 and 3 per cent respectively Jan. 1.

—Set up a graduated system of income tax withholding in place of the flat rate now in effect. For a married man with two children, the difference would be in this order: With annual wages of $5,000, 65 cents a week less withheld; annual wages of $7,500, 6 cents less; $10,000, $1.38 more; $15,000, $0.23 more.

When asked what worried them most, the majority listed good grades. But when asked what went into the makeup of a campus leader, scholarship ranked last.

And when asked what is essential to success in adult life, the pupils ranked "getting along with people first and intelligence last, even below compromising your principles."

No Progress in Russ, British Viet Meeting

Hard-Hitting Exchange of Views Reported

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today that he had held "very full, very frank, almost hard-hitting" talks on Viet Nam with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. But he indicated that no progress was made.

"We all recognize the extreme difficulties, and the differences of our positions," Wilson said.

Wilson told an airport news conference just before flying home after a three-day visit that he could not claim any results from a British contact made here with North Viet Nam.

Wilson's disarmament minister, Lord Chalfont, had "a very lengthy and searching discussion" with the North Viet Nam charge d'affaires here, Lee Chang, Wilson told newsmen.

Wilson said Chalfont conveyed British government views on the Viet Nam situation and they "will no doubt be passed on to Hanoi."

Kosygin has accepted an invitation from the British prime minister to visit Britain and the date is being worked out, it was learned.

It was understood that an agreement to continue personal contacts between the two governments at high levels was the major accord to come out of Wilson's three-day stay in Moscow.

A communique to be issued after Wilson's return to London was expected to contain no dramatic signs of agreement on world affairs.

Qualified sources said North Viet Nam's envoy Lee Chang promised to clarify some of Hanoi's conditions for peace talks at the surprise four-hour meeting with Chalfont Wednesday.

British sources said the next step hinges on North Viet Nam's reply.

Some British authorities think Hanoi may relax one of its conditions—that the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, serve as the sole representative of South Viet Nam at any peace parley. The point has been rejected by the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments.

The war, he said, never will be expanded into a direct conflict with Communist China "by any act of ours—and not if there is any reason left behind the wild words from Peking."

Reflecting some of the optimism that has seemed evident among top Washington officials in recent weeks, Johnson said flatly the tide of battle has been turned. While he did not elaborate, he apparently based the statement on reports of mounting Communist casualties and defections.

Johnson's address in accepting the annual national Freedom Award of Freedom House, a nonpartisan organization, represented a reply to critics of his Viet Nam policy.

And even as he began to speak, the voice of dissent was heard.

A young man in the formally attired audience rose at the back of the ballroom and shouted, "Mr. President, peace in Viet Nam."

Secret Service agents and police hustled him out. Identified as James Peck of the War Resisters League, he had paid $25 for a dinner ticket and, before his outburst, had doffed his tie and tux jacket and unbuckled his shirt to expose a tee shirt emblazoned "Peace in Viet Nam."

Peck was charged with resisting arrest and disrupting a lawful meeting. Bond was set at $3,000.

Almost simultaneously, sirens were heard inside the ballroom as a minor fire broke out along New York Central Railroad tracks under the hotel—the Waldorf-Astoria.

And outside, some 3,500 anti-war pickets marched—well beyond Johnson's view at all times—chanting "LBJ, how many children did you kill today?" and "Burn draft cards, not children."

Johnson, in a national television-radio address from a hotel ballroom here, said Wednesday night the United States fights in Viet Nam for a limited objective — "to prevent the success of aggression"—and is using the minimum necessary force "under what I believe is careful control."

2 Firemen Train 560 Volunteers

Five hundred and sixty volunteer firefighters in South-eastern Minnesota were trained in firemanship techniques last year by two Winona firemen working through the Winona Area Technical School.

Of this number, 376 were certified as having attended 75 percent or more of the classes conducted by Winona firemen Cleo L. Kelper and Bruce E. Johnstone, according to the current issue of the Minnesota Fire Chief magazine.

Volunteer fire departments participating in Firemanship I training, with the number certified, are: Chatfield, 19; Dover, 17; Elitzen, 20; Goodview, 29; Harmony, 22; Hokah, 27; Houston, 16; Mabel, 16; Minnesota City, 25; Rollingstone, 17; Rushford, 27, and St. Charles, 21.

Red China's Hate America Drive Pushed

CHICAGO (AP) — A Canadian journalist, who spent three months in Red China last year, says the Chinese government's hate-America campaign is the best means it has to keep control of its 700 million people.

"The Western World can afford the luxury of allowing everyone to make up his own mind about the world," said Charles B. Lynch of the Southern News-papers of Canada. "It is a luxury that China cannot afford."

DEAR ABBY:

Guests Needn't Bring a Gift

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My son was recently married. The bride's people went all out and put on a beautiful wedding and reception. My Uncle Adolph and his family were sent an invitation. Uncle Adolph did not show up, but his wife and six children attended the wedding and reception. Toward the end of the reception, I asked the wife, "Where is Adolph?" She replied, "That is a good question." I was floored.

Abby, this family did not give the bride and groom so much as a wedding card, yet the wife and six children came, ate and drank along with guests who had given the couple expensive gifts and cash. These people are in as good circumstances as any of the others. I think they had a nerve to go to the festivities without sending a gift. What do you think?

BEING FRANK

ABBY

DEAR BEING: A gift should not be an admission ticket to a wedding and reception. And if you think it is, why not be completely frank and send Uncle Adolph's family a bill?

DEAR ABBY: A woman I know who is 62 years old married a boy of 25. Yes, you are seeing correctly. This woman has married children. Her family and friends are so shocked and embarrassed they hardly know what to say or do. This woman was a highly respected widow for 14 years! She takes this child husband of hers all over introducing him so proudly to everyone. Can that boy be all there? Or do you suppose something could be the matter with her?

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Not knowing either the woman or the young man, I couldn't say. But whatever the deal is, if both are happy and contented, it's nobody else's business.

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to seem petty, but when my husband and I invite a widowed lady friend out to dinner, shouldn't my husband help me remove my wrap and get seated at the table before he helps her? SMALL MATTER

DEAR SMALL: It would be both sagacious and gracious if you stalled just long enough to let your husband first help the guest and then you.

DEAR ABBY: Recently a letter writer in your column complained that she had had a death in the family and seven hungry car-loads of relatives arrived for her to feed. Seven hungry car-loads! No bereaved woman exhausted by emotional stress should have to worry about providing meals for company. Or changing beds either. What she needs most is privacy. Out-of-towners who come for funerals should stay in hotels or motels unless they are VERY CLOSE to the bereaved. And since many will consider themselves "very close," let me spell it out. Mother, father, sisters, brothers, sons, daughters and their spouses, but without their young (Friends and relatives who ask, "May I do something?") should be told, "Yes, look after the children." To impose in the name of sympathy is mockery.

Northwest Farm Economy Strong

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The improved farm economy is credited by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis with giving the region a strong 1965 economic push that is carrying over into 1966.

"Perhaps the key factor in the district's economic growth in 1965 was the very substantial improvement in farm product prices and farm income," the bank said Wednesday.

The bank issued its monthly economic review for the 9th Federal Reserve District, which includes Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana, northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

"Cash farm receipts in 1965 are estimated to have increased about six per cent over 1964 levels," the bank said. "Cash incomes from the sale of livestock and livestock products were particularly favorable."

The bank said insured unemployment in the region dropped in December by 28 per cent from the December 1964 figure. The unemployment rate was down to 3.4 per cent, compared with a national average of 4.1 per cent.

Construction employment increased and there was a sharp boost in new building permits and construction contract award during the month, the report said.

Preston Radio Station Slated To Open May 1

PRESTON Minn. — A radio station, KPM, 1060 on the dial will begin broadcasting at Preston May 1. O. B. Borgen, owner, has announced.

The 500-watt station will be beamed in a 50-mile radius and will concentrate on serving Fillmore County.

Construction of the building will be started in March. It and the 220-foot tower with 480 radials will be two miles west of the intersection of Highways 52 and 16 west of Preston. Broadcasting hours will be from 5:30 a.m. to sunset. There will be news and weather every hour interspersed with country western music, sports and network features. Borgen will employ seven people.

Borgen operated a radio station at Rochester and owned the Harmony News for six months selling recently to Irvin Scheel Mabel.

Man, Drugged at Bar, Loses $18,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Oscar Rohr, 59, a Milwaukee, Wis., jewelry salesman, told suburban Whitehall police Wednesday that a woman he met in a bar drugged his drink and then took goods, cash and rare coins valued at $18,000 from his motel room Tuesday night. He said he discovered the theft when he awakened Wednesday morning.

Lincoln and Urne CD Classes Set

COCHRANE, Wis. — Radio-logical monitoring classes for adults will be held at the Town of Lincoln grade school and Urne grade school, Howard Mohrk, Cochrane, Buffalo-Trempealeau County civil defense director, said.

The course will begin Monday at the Lincoln school and Tuesday at Urne, both at 8:30 p.m. They will cover fallout radiation on the farm and what can be done about it. Anyone who wishes may attend.

KKK Will Ask Total Viet Victory

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Royce McPhail, grand dragon of the Texas Ku Klux Klan, says the Klan will rally here this spring for "an even harder line in Viet Nam—total victory."

McPhail told a news conference he hoped President Johnson would "start listening to right-wing military leaders instead of left-wing diplomats."

Rolvaag Plans Announcement Of Plans Friday

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag's announcement that he will hold a press conference on a subject of "major importance" Friday has raised speculation that he will kick off a campaign for re-election then.

Rolvaag refused to elaborate on his plans Wednesday, but he has been talking like a candidate.

The governor also wrote Wednesday to about 2,000 persons who had been delegates or alternates to Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party state conventions in 1964 and 1965 asking "your support and cooperation as I continue to carry out my responsibilities as governor." The letter did not announce his plans, however.

Rolvaag also could announce the calling of a special session of the Legislature to deal with reapportionment, but a redistricting plan drawn by the Governor's Bipartisan Reapportionment Commission probably won't be finished for another week.

The governor and about 25 other persons are touring educational facilities in the Rochester and Austin areas today and Friday.

If Rolvaag announces his availability for a second term, it will come just before the DFL precinct caucuses, scheduled throughout the state next Tuesday night.

Rolvaag, 52, has been urged by close advisers to make his political plans known before the caucuses.

He and Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith generally are regarded as head-on foes in the battle for endorsement at the state DFL convention. Rolvaag said as early as last October he had made up his mind, but he steadfastly refused to say what his decision was.

Keith, 37, recently shucked his evasive language and admitted flatly he is campaigning for the DFL endorsement. He has opened a campaign office in Minneapolis and has been busy touring the state.

Rolvaag was elected by a 91-vote margin over Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen in the 1962 election that stretched into a four-month recount. Rolvaag served eight terms as lieutenant governor before succeeding Andersen on March 25, 1963.

Russ Maritime Powers Growing

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The growing maritime power of the Soviet Union represents a "startling challenge" to the United States, says Capt. Clifton R. Largess of the Naval War College here.

Capt. Largess told a meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution that the Russians intend to out-distance America in total shipping tonnage within the next few years building 225 ships a year. He said the United States was building only 65 ships annually.

CLU Asks For Railroad Signals; Foster Installed

The Central Labor Union is asking the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission to investigate the need for automatic railroad crossing signals at the airport.

A resolution directed to the commission was approved at a meeting at the Labor Temple Wednesday evening.

The crossing involves both the Milwaukee and North Western railways.

According to Robert R. Lindner, recording secretary of the CLU, the organization feels that "the extremely heavy truck and auto traffic to and from the industries located in the industrial park and traffic to and from the airport, plus fishermen, with boat trailers behind their cars, traveling to and from airport lake, make this an extremely dangerous crossing."

"We feel your investigation of this situation will show beyond a doubt that the North Western and Milwaukee railroads should be required to install and maintain safety equipment at this crossing before death or serious injury occurs because of the lack of proper safety warning devices."

Robert A. Olson, state AFL-CIO president, installed officers at the CLU meeting last night. The slate is headed by James M. Foster, who had been re-elected.

City's Coldest Spot In State Overnight

Winona today won a weather record it's not accustomed to.

The thermometer this morning dropped to 3 above for what was the lowest reported temperature in Minnesota. It was 7 above at Rochester while the usual "icebox cities" of northern Minnesota reported temperatures in the high teens.

THE HIGHEST of the overnight lows was 17 above at Bemidji, a city not usually known for its "banana weather." Next mildest were International Falls and Duluth with 15 above.

Farther north and to the west, Calgary, Alta., Canada, had an overnight low of 28. Calgary's high of 52 Wednesday readily topped Minnesota's highest — 29 at Bemidji.

La Crosse, Wis., had an overnight low of 6. The Duluth low was 15.

Fair to partly cloudy weather is predicted for Winona and vicinity tonight and Friday with locally warmer weather tonight and little change Friday. Lows tonight are expected to be in the 12 to 22 range and highs Friday 28-35.

No important precipitation and mild temperatures is the outlook for Saturday.

Winona's high Wednesday was 29. The reading at noon today was 31. A year ago today the Winona high was 11 and the low 2. All-time high for Feb. 24 was 59 in 1931 and the low for the day -19 in 1950. Mean for the past 24 hours was 13. Normal for this day is 21.

WISCONSIN was a state divided today, with clear and colder weather in the western half and cloudy and warmer temperatures in the east.

The clearing began in the west during the night and resulted in a low of 3 above zero at Eau Claire and Lone Rock. Stevens Point reported 6, Wausau 12, Park Falls 13, Superior 15, Green Bay 20, Madison 24 and Milwaukee and Racine 25.

Top readings Wednesday ranged from 31 at Racine and Beloit to 24 at Superior. Light snow fell in Wisconsin Wednesday but the only measurable amount was in the Milwaukee region where two-tenths inch was recorded.

GREENVILLE, Maine, was the coldest spot in the nation early today with a low of 8 below zero. South Miami, Fla., hit the national high of 82 Wednesday.

DFL Candidates Asked To Give Primary View

A call to all DFL gubernatorial candidates to clarify their stands on pre-primary endorsements was made this week by Duane Peterson, Winona, 1st District chairman.

Peterson released the text of a letter dated Tuesday. It was addressed to Gov. Karl Rolvaag, Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith, House Minority Leader Fred Cina, Aurora, Robert Short, Minneapolis industrialist, and George Farr, state DFL chairman.

THE 1ST District chairman said he is speaking for himself and not necessarily for the district organization. Peterson said he opposes the idea that any individual should feel justified in campaigning against an endorsed candidate.

While the letter was prompted by recently expressed differences of opinion among candidates—notably Gov. Rolvaag and Lt. Gov. Keith—Peterson denied that it places him in a particular camp. Keith has said he believes it essential that a candidate have the pre-primary support of party machinery. Gov. Rolvaag has said he would not be adverse to running against an endorsed candidate if he considered such endorsement "a mistake."

PETERSON'S letter noted such comments about the "value of primary elections in the political process."

Primaries can be of value, Peterson wrote, and none of the candidates has criticized DFL pre-primary endorsement practices. Therefore, the letter continued, each candidate should clarify his own intentions for 1966.

He urged that "you will each unequivocally state that it is your intention to abide by and support the endorsed candidates" of the DFL.

FIVE REASONS listed by Peterson for the request:

The state has no party registration; voter crossovers are common in primaries. Republicans will "happily participate in a DFL primary" in order to embarrass the party by voting against its endorsed candidates. Net effect of a primary therefore is to "allow Republicans to nominate our candidates." Persons seeking endorsements should guarantee they would support the eventual choice of the party. Primary fights against endorsed candidates "tend to destroy its effectiveness and leave scars that seldom heal."

Arcadia Gets $35,000 School Aid Project

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — The Arcadia board of education has been authorized by the state Department of Public Instruction to proceed with developmental reading and guidance and counseling programs under Title I of the Elementary and Education Act, Superintendent W. B. Gutsch said.

The $35,000 program, financed in full by federal funds, will terminate at the end of a summer session but is renewable for two more years with the same amount of federal funds.

Open to both public and parochial students, the project is designed for educationally deprived children in grades 4-9. The state department recommended the possibility of including some aspects of a health service, which will be explored as an extension of the program. Since it sometimes happens that educational problems are related to poor health, remedial health measures may be included in the individual student reading improvement program, Gutsch said.

Several additional staff members will be employed for the project, with services of present staff working on a limited basis for the remainder of the year and full-time in the summer program.

The principal objectives of the project are to identify children in grades 4-9 who are having difficulty in advancing in their mastery of reading at the normal rate; giving them special attention individually or in small groups; and providing guidance and counseling of the child and his parents to coordinate efforts of home and school in helping the child to progress at the normal rate.

A third project submitted to the state in the area of science is being postponed at this time.

Police Break Up Fight At Drive-in

Police broke up a fight among juveniles at McDonald's Drive-in on the North Service Drive Wednesday night, and they received complaints of theft and more bb vandalism, according to Chief James W. McCabe.

The police investigative division is still looking into the fight at the drive-in, the chief said. It is not certain who started the fight or why, he added; but at least no one was seriously hurt.

ALL THREE police squad cars answered a call to the drive-in to break up a fight between teen-agers from Rochester and a group from Winona. Police brought in 13 juveniles, but no charges were filed, Chief McCabe said.

The fight broke up and the participants scattered as soon as the first squad car arrived on the scene shortly before 9 p.m.

The nine Rochester youths and four Winona youths taken to police headquarters were released after brief questioning, Chief McCabe said.

Leonard Strange, 559 E. King St., reported to police that someone took the generator from his car while it was parked in front of his home Wednesday between 5:30 and 8:45 p.m. He did not give the value of the missing part.

JOSEPH Orloske of the West End Greenhouses, 802 W. King St., reported Wednesday afternoon that a vandal with a pellet gun had shot holes through several of the greenhouse windows the previous night. The vandal had also put holes in the windshield of his truck and in its headlights, Orloske reported.

Mrs. Harold Ziegenfuss, 256 E. Howard St., reported Wednesday that, sometime in the last few nights, a vandal with a bb gun had shot a hole in a front bay window of her home. She did not estimate damage. Chief McCabe noted that windows damaged in this way do not always have to be replaced.

Fire Chief To Give 38th Pint

Winona Fire Chief Ervin Laufenburger, himself a 37-time donor, can see no reason why a city the size of Winona should fail to realize its 750-pint quota set for next week's visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile here.

Laufenburger, who'll be giving his 38th pint of blood next week, says, "This is one of the most beneficial programs I know of and it doesn't cost you anything to donate a pint of blood that might save someone's life."

HE ALSO cited the importance of achieving the quota to insure that Winona remains as a participating community in the Red Cross blood program.

"Only in this way," he explained, "can we be sure that there will be blood available for Winona a County people anytime they need it."

Laufenburger said that he had no physical reaction whatsoever when he first participated as a blood donor but realized satisfaction in knowing that he was doing something that could be of vital benefit to other people.

MRS. CARL Bretlow, blood program chairman for the Winona County chapter of the Red Cross, is encouraging Winona and area residents to make appointment as donors while the bloodmobile is here next week.

It will be at St. Mary's College Monday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and at the Red Cross Chapter House, West 5th and Huff streets, Tuesday through Thursday from noon to 6 p.m. and Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — Guest speaker at the annual Washington birthday party of Carnelian Lodge 40, AF&AM, Saturday at 8 p.m. will be Dr. Charles E. Stroebel, Rochester. C. D. Hickman will be master of ceremonies.

Thomas Dunwell, winner of the local contest, will give his essay. A girls octet will sing. The colors will be presented by Scott Malles and David Peterson, Boy Scouts, with Nancy Carlson at the piano. The boys will lead in the oath of allegiance.

The Rev. Robert E. Rollin will give the invocation and Melvin Malles, chaplain, the benediction. Douglas O'Hara, master, will extend the welcome, to which Mrs. Hickman, worthy matron of the Eastern Star, will give the response. David Maland will be at the piano.

Dr. H. A. Arneson and Arthur Gray are program co-chairmen; Gerald Nihart and Scott Peterson will be ushers, and decorations and refreshments are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. William Baker.

Richard Blank

LeMar Steber

NEW FIRE DEPARTMENT OFFICERS . . . It's "assistant chief" LeMar Steber and "captain" Richard Blank today at the Central Fire Station. Steber, 42, 1171 W. 5th St., has been a fireman since April 1, 1945. He is married and has three children. Steber has lived in Winona all his life, and he is a graduate of Winona Senior High School. In addition to his fire department duties, Steber is a certified civil defense instructor in radiological monitoring techniques. He has been asked to give a course in monitoring to state highway department employees in Rochester this spring. Steber is a World War II veteran.

Blank, 53, 906 E. Sanborn St., joined the fire department July 15, 1945, and has served as a pumper driver in recent years. He is married, has four children and attended Winona schools as a youth. (Daily News photo)

Two Firemen Get Promotions

Two Winona fire department members were promoted to assistant chief and captain, respectively, at Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

Capt. LeMar W. Steber, 1171 W. 5th St., won a three to two vote of the commissioners for the assistant chief's post. And Fireman Richard J. Blank, 906 E. Sanborn St., was promoted to the captaincy vacated by Steber.

PATROLMAN John R. Holubar, 180 E. Mark St., of the police department, was promoted to detective by the commissioners on the recommendation of Chief James W. McCabe. Holubar replaces Detective Ronald J. Richter who took a job in Chicago last fall.

The board also voted to accept the low bid of Winona Auto Sales, 267 W. 3rd St., to replace the car now used by plainclothes police for $2,170.46. Owl Motor Co., 201 Main St., was the only other bidder at $2,268.55.

Chief McCabe presented to the commissioners the first monthly efficiency ratings of the men in his department by their division heads.

Noting low ratings for some men, and low ratings in specific areas for other men, the commissioners expressed their expectation that these men would be "bucked up" by their department heads in order to improve. McCabe said that this has already been done.

Commissioner Harold S. Streator said that he wanted the chief to let his men know that the board would weigh the efficiency reports along with other factors in making all future promotions.

THE BOARD approved Fire Chief Ervin R. Laufenburger's request to send two men to the state fire school in April, in addition to the two men from his department who will serve as instructors there.

Fire Marshal Cleo L. Keiper and Fireman Bruce E. Johnston will serve as instructors, although Chief Laufenburger noted their expenses at the four-day school would still have to be borne by the city.

The commissioners gave Chief Laufenburger the go-ahead to have an agreement drawn up providing for two pumpers and 10 firemen to answer fire calls to the Northern States Power Co. tank farm in West Burns Valley. Commissioner Streator said, however, that the agreement must have an "absolute release" clause allowing the department to withdraw its men and equipment in case of need in the city.

THE BOARD interviewed two applicants for the assistant fire chief's job: Steber and Captain Theodore A. Jereczek, 118 Carmona St.

Jereczek, 58, told the commissioners that he joined the department Jan. 1, 1941, and was promoted to driver shortly after. He is married, has three children, and he has completed a course in hydraulics and fire-fighting given by the University of Minnesota.

Steber, 42, said that he joined the department April 1, 1945, and was promoted to captain Jan. 1, 1963. He has taken a 36-lesson correspondence course in fire protection and extinguishment and has read on his own books on oil fires and hydraulics, Steber said. He has also gotten an instructor's certificate in regular and advanced first-aid, he noted.

Commissioner William P. Theurer nominated Steber to be appointed assistant chief, and he was seconded by Commissioner Bernard H. Habek. Commissioner Rudy Edel nominated Jereczek for the job, and he was seconded by Commissioner Streator when Board President

Judge Finds Youth Guilty In Fatality

The judge told Richard H. Brehmer this morning in District Court that he is guilty of criminal negligence in connection with the traffic death last September of a 17-year-old girl.

Judge Arnold Hatfield ordered a pre-sentence investigation for Brehmer, 21, Plainview, Minn., after he told the youth his verdict in the case.

BREHMER was tried Feb. 15 and 16 before Judge Hatfield without a jury. The charge was criminal negligence, a felony which carries a possible maximum sentence of five years in prison, a $5,000 fine or both.

Defense Attorney Daniel F. Foley told the judge today that he is sure his client can be rehabilitated outside of prison, and he requested that Hatfield put Brehmer on probation.

There would be no repetition of the tragic accident which killed Karen Lee Thilmany the night of Sept. 3, Foley promised, if Brehmer were given probation.

Telling Foley that he would order a pre-sentence investigation, Judge Hatfield commented, "You did an exceptional piece of defense work in this case . . . But I think you know enough of the facts of life to know, in your heart, that your client was guilty of gross negligence."

BREHMER'S conduct during the hours prior to the fatal accident and in the moments immediately preceding the crash may have been merely an unfortunate error of judgment on the youth's part, the judge said. But the fact remains that Brehmer's error of judgment took a life, Judge Hatfield added.

Assistant County Attorney Richard H. Darby represented the state at the hearing.

There can be no question, the judge said, that a man who had had no sleep for 30 hours would be in no condition to drive, all drinking of beer and liquor aside. The truck driver involved in the collision might have exercised greater caution, but he had a right to assume that other drivers he encountered would be obeying the speed laws, Judge Hatfield concluded.

Brehmer told Judge Hatfield that he volunteered for the draft and spent 18 months in Germany prior to his honorable discharge Aug. 16, 1965. He had known the Thilmany girl for three or four days prior to the fatal collision, Brehmer said.

WHEN JUDGE Hatfield asked him why he had been speeding as he had, Brehmer answered, "I don't know, your honor." "You mean you really don't remember?" "I don't remember anything," Brehmer said.

The youth told Judge Hatfield that his last memory prior to the accident is of driving into Wisconsin. His next memory after that is of waking up in the hospital, Brehmer said. He told the judge that he had suffered a head injury in the accident.

Brehmer did dispute the trial testimony that he had had no sleep for the 30 hours before the accident. He had slept in his car on the way back from Iowa, Brehmer said, and at the Thilmany house during the day of Sept. 3.

He said that his juvenile record included a charge of having beer in possession and a minor traffic charge.

FIRE AT GALESVILLE
GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — The fire department extinguished a chimney fire at the home of Mrs. Verna Smeek, an elderly woman who lives alone, at 11 p.m. Monday. Her place is in the Dodge area about 12 miles northwest of Galesville.

CHIEF MCCABE told the board that Captain John J. Draskowski, who had been seriously ill, is now back on the job and "just like his old self." He has his doctor's permission to resume his police duties, the chief said.

The board approved police department purchase of a new walkie-talkie radio at about $550. They also approved Chief McCabe's request for either Assistant Chief Marvin A. Meier or himself to attend the state police chief's convention at the University of Minnesota March 21 through 23.

Police department bills of $4,421.21, plus $128.75 overtime, and fire department bills of $2,298.80 were approved for payment by the board.

DETECTIVE Holubar, 35, is married and has three children. He has lived in Winona all his life and is a graduate of Winona Senior High School. He joined the police department Feb. 16, 1968, and is a graduate of the two-week police officers' basic training school conducted by the state crime bureau.

Holubar has also completed the one-week criminal investigation course conducted by the crime bureau and is presently taking a two-year correspondence course from the Institute of Applied Sciences, Chicago, in criminal investigation. He served three years with the Navy.

It Happened Last Night Lynda, George May Beat Luci

By EARL WILSON
WASHINGTON — Some of their friends here think Lynda Bird Johnson and movie actor George Hamilton might beat Luci Baines Johnson and Pat Nugent to the altar. They point out that an older sister might think she should marry first. Though they believe that Lynda Bird and George, who recently have been having fun at the New Orleans Mardi Gras, might announce an engagement, these friends also cautiously say, "But how can they ever find out if they're in love when they're always surrounded by Secret Service men? (Take five, you guys!)"

Quote of the Month was Secretary of the Treasury Fowler's after frugging with Carol Channing at the big Washington party following Carol's TV show: "It probably shook the dollar, but I enjoyed the dance." Carol will do a TV series for Gen'l Foods and Young & Rubicam in '67-68, and should wind up SO RICH.

My B.W. and I enjoyed the Louisiana humor at the big Mardi Gras Ball at the Sheraton Park in Washington. Congressman Ed Hebert said: "When I was young I was a wolf, but now that I'm old, I'm a bear, and that's the way I pronounce my name — a bear."

SELF-HYPNOSIS is the talk now in Washin. Glamorous gal publicist Barbara Norton hypnotizes herself in and out of 5-minute naps. Ex-Miss America, Yolanda Bebeze Fox, widow of Matty Fox, is seen with architect Jack Warnke; a handsome couple! But we hear he's got prominent rivals! The guy who stirred up all the feminine flutters (especially the

Attorney Files For Senator in 31st District

EAU CLAIRE, Wis.—Attorney Raymond C. Johnson, 29, Eau Claire, has announced he is a candidate for state senator.

He will seek the Republican nomination for the 31st district which includes Trempealeau, Jackson, Monroe and Eau Claire counties.

Johnson said he had been persuaded to run because "reapportionment created a new senate district with challenging problems which have concerned me ever since I was a youth, and because the people of this district need and deserve a spokesman in Madison who is alert to their problems."

Currently Trempealeau and Jackson counties are in the 32nd District, represented by Raymond C. Bice, La Crosse, Monroe is in the former 31st District, and Eau Claire County in the 28th District.

Johnson, a lawyer, teaches evening law classes at the Eau Claire Vocational, Technical and Adult School. He became a lieutenant in the U.S. Naval Reserve, served at sea three years, and was on the staff of the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington, D.C.

Raised in rural west central Wisconsin, Johnson worked as a farmhand, studied agriculture, and participated in 4-H and the Future Farmers of America. Twelve years ago he won the Wisconsin 4-H safety speaking contest by advocating organized fire protection for farms.

Johnson worked his way through Eau Claire State University. In 1958 he was listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges." He earned his law degree from George Washington University. He and his wife, the former Ellen Nelson of Medford, live in Eau Claire.

Magnusson Hiring New Attorneys

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota Insurance Commissioner Cyrus Magnusson is hiring new lawyers to defend him against a federal fraud indictment in the American Allied Insurance Co. case.

St. Paul attorneys Thomas Moore and Douglas Thomson, who had been representing Magnusson, filed a request. He said the decision to seek other counsel was reached by "mutual agreement" after he announced Sunday that he would run for the Democratic - Farmer - Labor Party nomination for governor.

The commissioner, now on leave, is one of 17 defendants in the case.

Johnson worked his way through Eau Claire State University. In 1958 he was listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges." He earned his law degree from George Washington University. He and his wife, the former Ellen Nelson of Medford, live in Eau Claire.

TRAFFIC FLOW CHART . . . Major changes proposed for downtown streets are shown in this outline of movement patterns. Three blocks at 3rd Street, From Main to Walnut, would become pedestrian walkways, as would the portion of Center Street between 2nd and 4th. Diagonals will divert through traffic and relieve downtown congestion.

An Explanation — No. 8

Some Street Changes Urged

Existing downtown streets are in generally good condition, the overall planning report shows.

Nevertheless some changes must be made to fit altered traffic demands. How vehicles reach the downtown area, and where they park when they reach it, are important factors in improvement planning.

SOME OF the changes would be made because of street closures. Others would be in response to the more indirect pressures imposed by vehicle movements as revealed in traffic surveys. Adding force in this area are standards imposed by Department of Highway engineers who review specifications of street improvements where state aids are involved.

While downtown circulation is a matter of much concern, the routes from the city's outer edges also need attention, the report notes. In general, the older master plan recommendations are adequate guides for such provisions, according to the report.

Trunk Highway 43 should be re-routed from its interstate bridge entrance to extend south along Huff Street to join Highways 61-14, states the report.

Continuation of this highway to Interstate 90 (to be finished about 1970) in a "logical and convenient manner is of utmost importance to the success" of Winona's business area.

Further improvement of Mankato Avenue and 3rd Street entrance routes would ease traffic flow to and from downtown, according to the study.

Another essential is construction of a better connection to the west linking either 5th Street or Broadway and Highway 61, the report states.

Downtown traffic patterns have been developed so as to coordinate with proposed changes in land uses. Three major alterations of street layouts are proposed.

MOST RADICAL-appearing — perhaps because it is the newest idea of its kind — is the suggested joining of 3rd and 2nd streets by a diagonal section. The linking section would be a northwest-southeast segment between Walnut and Market streets.

Its purpose is to carry traffic smoothly around the core area superblock. The big block comprises four squares with the interior streets (parts of 3rd and Center) closed to vehicles.

A similar connection is proposed for Winona and Huff streets between 5th Street and Broadway.

This idea goes back to the 1959 master plan. The objective is to take Highway 43 through the city by a short route rather than leaving it to meander past business district fringes and along half the city's long axis.

A THIRD major recommendation, also dusted off and revived, is for construction of a right-turn lane leading from the interstate bridge to 4th Street. This would provide a convient loop for traffic leaving the bridge to enter 3rd Street.

Additional work might well be done on the east side of the 4th and Winona intersection, says the report. This would aid traffic flowing onto the bridge from 4th Street. Data and conclusions by the Department of Highways also should be sought at this point, the report notes.

Boy Mauled By Coyote

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A 5-year-old Minnetonka boy suffered severe gashes on the head and face Wednesday when mauled by a coyote that had escaped from a nearby kennel.

James Strout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip E. Strout, was taken to a doctor who stitched the wounds.

James was sliding at the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Lillian E. Cloutier when the animal attacked. Mrs. Cloutier said she heard screams, looked outside and saw the coyote on top of the boy slashing at his head and face.

Mrs. Cloutier said she thought it was a dog as she approached. The animal moved to the rear of the Cloutier home and was still there when police arrived. An officer shot the coyote and the body was sent to the University of Minnesota for rabies tests.

Minnetonka police said the animal had escaped from the Tonka Kennels, where it was being boarded for its owner.

Federal Aid Program OKed At Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — A remedial reading program for the remainder of this term and running through summer school has been approved for Whitehall High School by the state Department of Public Instruction.

Costing $18,220, it will be paid for by federal funds allotted under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

MRS. LOWELL Larson, formerly an instructor in junior high school, is the teacher. Materials will be furnished. Mrs. Ray Shanklin, Whitehall, has been hired to replace Mrs. Larson in junior high school.

As part of the program, Mrs. Kenneth Swenson has been hired as part-time nurse to check children in the remedial reading program for sight and hearing defects.

A library grant of $4,741.55 under Title II of the Education Act has been approved tentatively. It would provide an additional librarian for the schools.

The board of education Monday night decided to close the Coral City school after the 1966-67 term. Enrollment there will be about 24 in grades 1-2 next year.

MRS. WILLIE Johnson will teach English and social studies in Junior High next year. Miss Carol Olson, who will graduate from Eau Claire University in June, will replace her as freshman and sophomore English teacher and will have charge of the annual. She was student teacher here from September through January.

Under a federal cut, there will be less milk for the children next year, unless the board provides it at an estimated cost of about $14,000. No action was taken.

It was announced that Cooperative Education Service Agency 11 will hire a consultant to work with districts on federal programs each participating school paying part of his salary.

BOARD members toured the high school building to inspect the washrooms. A total of $10,000 was placed in the budget last year to remodel them. New fixtures and labor are estimated at this amount. The board decided to proceed with this work instead of doing a complete remodeling job, including lowering ceilings, replastering, laying new floors and installing new light fixtures, which would bring the total to an estimated $25,000 or $30,000.

Soldier Found Alive 24 Hours After Being Hit

TAH ACH LONG Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. 1st Air Cavalrymen searching for the bodies of dead comrades found one of their buddies alive today 24 hours after he had been hit in the head by a bullet.

The wounded private first class was with a company that clashed Wednesday with what were said to be regular North Vietnamese troops near the town 280 miles northeast of Saigon. Heavy fighting lasted until dark.

The Americans took serious losses. They got their wounded out but several men were missing.

At daylight the troopers returned. They came across the unconscious private. A medic, Spec. 5 Jasper Tassaloqua of Clarksville, Tenn., noted signs of life and gave the wounded man blood plasma.

He regained consciousness and the medic said he felt the trooper would recover.

The wounded man's name was not released.

Wisconsin Studies Administrative Reform

THE WISCONSIN Legislature recently set up a government reorganization commission to take a critical look at the state's framework of government and suggest some improvements by next October. The commission held its first meeting not long ago.

The commission is currently engaged in weighing possible benefits that might accrue from simplification of a situation that has grown in complexity. A subcommittee is considering the consolidation of 90 state agencies into 12 major departments. A cabinet form of administration modeled after that existing in Washington has been suggested.

In Minnesota the need for streamlining is no less apparent. In this state we have 30 administrative agencies, 35 policy-making and advisory groups, and 21 examining and licensing boards. Many of them operate pretty independently. Some are notoriously almost a law unto themselves.

A FEW OF the administrative agencies have important sub-divisions embracing wide ranges of activities. Conservation has its divisions of forestry, state parks, game and fish, waters, and lands and minerals. Commerce is divided up into banking, insurance, and securities, each with its own appointive commissioner.

With the exception of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission, whose five members are elected by the people, the heads of all agencies and members of boards are appointed by the governor.

Political scientists generally agree that better government results when public officials are held responsible to the popular will. In administering public affairs this is usually effected by making the heads of departments accountable to the chief executive.

On the national level, the President picks his Cabinet and changes its composition at will. In Minnesota, the control that the governor can exert over his appointees is weakened by the fact that the appointees are named for definite terms and once in office are not so easily replaced.

FURTHERMORE, several important posts are filled with men with five and even six year terms. And some of the four year officers' terms do not run concurrently with the governor's four-year term of office. This means that the governor's official family often harbors individuals appointed by a predecessor, sometimes one from the opposing political party. This can result in unnecessary feuding.

Governor Rolvaag, for instance, has been on the outs with former Highway Commissioner James Marshall and Taxation Commissioner Roland Hatfield, both appointed by Gov. Elmer L. Andersen. This has not made for smooth functioning of public policy.

MINNESOTA'S Legislature has accomplished a lot in recent years in improving state services. But nothing has been done to update the machinery of the executive department, although legislators are well aware of the shortcomings of the present setup. Surely some attention should be paid to a reform program when the lawmakers gather in their next session.

Insurance Scandal Called DFL Albatross

(The Minneapolis Tribune)

THE ANNOUNCEMENT by two men under indictment in the American Allied Insurance scandal that they will seek DFL nominations for governor and attorney general is a new, almost unbelievable chapter in this sordid case.

Courts will have to decide whether Insurance Commissioner Cyrus Magnusson (now on leave) and attorney David Kroman were guilty of fraud and conspiracy. But regardless of the outcome in court, all indications to date suggest extremely poor management of the insurance department.

For Magnusson to declare himself a candidate for governor, while under indictment, is a mockery of the political process and a slap at the party he had served for many years. There is little doubt that the investigation (prodded by Republicans but actually conducted by Democrats) that resulted in indictments by a federal grand jury will hurt the re-election chances of Gov. Rolvaag (who re-appointed Magnusson) or the election chances of his challenger, Lt. Gov. Keith (who served as an officer of one of the companies in the American Allied complex).

Gov. Rolvaag is right when he says it is impossible to take the Magnusson-Kroman ticket seriously. But the weekend news also makes it clear that the American Allied case has become an albatross following our state's Democratic-Farmer-Labor party, an albatross that may be difficult to lose.

SOME REPUBLICANS may find grounds to rejoice — but we hope most Minnesotans will regret it, for the American Allied case is a messy business that will contribute nothing toward needed political debate on such vital matters as tax reform, metropolitan development, education, race relations, and other issues before our state.

Gulls that appear white to the observer are adults while those with generous portions of brown are young ones.

Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: For I am called by thy name, O Lord God of Hosts.—Jeremiah 15:16.

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

Reckless Critics Comforting Enemy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Recent hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee — particularly the comprehensive statements by the former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk — produced questions and answers which undoubtedly clarified the thinking of many citizens about the Viet Nam war. The critics, however, appear to have missed the main point, which is that a President has the responsibility for acting on the basis of information available to him at the moment of decision.

The President has at his side Cabinet officers and military men. Always at hand are up-to-the-minute reports from our representatives abroad — ambassadors and intelligence personnel, civilian and military. It is easy enough for a senator to come out, for example, with the advice that bombings shouldn't have been resumed after the recent truce. Such a critic cannot know all the facts, and, moreover, he doesn't have the responsibility for making the decision itself. If the critic is wrong, no serious harm is done. But the President is every minute responsible to the people and a mistake on his part could be fatal.

MR. JOHNSON happens to be a master politician and knows very well that it's popular to call for an ending of the war, as some senators are doing. But he knows also that to give the enemy what it wants would only lead to a larger war. Statesmen have been fooled by appeasement before. Mr. Johnson can't take chances. That's why reckless critics appear unwittingly to be giving comfort to the enemy and causing its resistance to be prolonged.

Criticism of domestic policy is one thing, but criticism of foreign policy is quite different. Almost everybody, for instance, knows the meaning of an internal policy, and the disputes are not likely to prove dangerous to the immediate life of the nation. But foreign policy sometimes involves the risk of losing some lives in order to forestall a larger conflict in which sacrifices would be enormous.

NO PRESIDENT would ever purposely or deliberately lead the American people into a large war. But misguided and careless critics can help to do it. They have a feeling that there's no harm in airing their views, sometimes to satisfy exhibitionist tendencies. They regard as a mere exercise in academic debate the discussion of ways and means of getting out of the war at any price. The enemy, however, construes this as a sign of weakness and irresolution.

The President has been firm, but cautious. In the main, he has upheld the principles for which America fought two world wars and the Korean war. The "peace offensive," for example, which he undertook has been sneered at by some of the critics as mere showmanship. Yet, it has had a good effect. The other nations of the world, large and small, are now slowly but surely veering toward the American viewpoint and are beginning to ask themselves what they can do to help, even though it might in some cases be taken aid.

ON THE WHOLE, the United States is making progress, both in the war and in the mobilization of world opinion.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Congressmen Eye TV Profits, Ad Methods

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Fred Friendly's resignation as head of CBS news over his superior's refusal to broadcast all the Senate testimony on Viet Nam may touch off a congressional probe of TV network profits and network domination of other lines of business.

Friendly resigned when new CBS President Jack Schneider and other dedicated CBS executives decided to show a rerun of "I Love Lucy" featuring Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz instead of the Senate testimony of Ex-Ambassador George Kennan on the vital problem facing the United States in Southeast Asia.

The network saved $170,000. The public missed getting the advice of an expert on one of the most important developments in the world which is already costing American lives and will cost a lot more.

This has aroused some members of the House Interstate Commerce Committee to recall what Madison Avenue seems to have forgotten, namely, that the TV-radio airwaves belong to the people and are only leased to the networks on a temporary basis.

WHEN REP. Owen Harris of Arkansas, himself a TV station stockholder, was chairman of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, he went down the line for the networks. When the late Sam Rayburn put through a probe of the regulatory agencies, Harris fired the counsel, Dr. Bernard Schwartz, when he wanted to probe too deeply. Instead Harris conducted a scratch-the-surface investigation of disc jockey payola and quiz programs which made headlines but reformed little.

New committee Chairman Harley Staggers, D-W.Va., however, is not easily pushed around. He also has some tough congressmen on his committee — Torbert Macdonald, Mass., John Moss, Calif., John Dingell, Mich., Democrats; with William Springer, Ill., Ancher Nielsen, Minn., Republicans; who don't take dictation from Madison Avenue.

Most people don't realize that TV advertising has soared to the point where NBC had billings of around half a billion dollars last year. This gave NBC about 24 percent of the huge business of its parent company, the Radio Corporation of America, one of the bigger defense contractors of the nation.

THIS IS another aspect in which some congressmen are interested. How much is national policy influenced by defense contractor-owned television? TV is a medium which some educators consider almost as important as the public school, yet some of the most important TV stations in the country, plus one entire network — NBC — are in the hands not of school boards or universities but of big defense contractors.

Meanwhile the TV networks are making so much money that they don't know what to do with it. Variety magazine, Bible of the TV-radio trade, recently reported that the networks were going into such diverse fields as airline transportation and termite extermination.

The networks are being pushed into diversification as the only way of plowing their enormous profits back into business," Variety reported. "This is evolving a uniform breed of the TV-radio magnate, the Broadcast-Industrialist."

The Justice Department has forced the motion picture companies to divest themselves of their theaters, so that the Hollywood producers cannot show their product in kept theaters. This divestiture has brought new competition and a vast improvement in motion pictures.

THE TV NETWORKS, however, require most of their filmed productions to be done under their direction, thus cutting themselves in on both the production profit and the profit from selling advertising time. Because of this ban on outside producers, fewer and fewer independents are able to exist today.

WASHINGTON CALLING

What Happened In Indonesia?

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Confounding the prophets and making hash of some of their tidiest theories is the revolution in Asia's third largest country. What has happened in Indonesia casts a long shadow of doubt on the domino theory that is a mainstay of the Rusk doctrine.

Six months ago the professional China watchers had written off Indonesia. The Chinese Reds had all but consolidated their power over this nation of 105,000,000 people. But a coup meant to eliminate the army generals, the last obstacle, brought a violent reaction.

Even in an era marked by one hideous barbarism after another, what followed must be some sort of record. In the space of a few weeks after the Oct. 1 attack on the generals an estimated 100,000 to 150,000 Communists or suspected Communists were hunted down and shot in cold blood. Probably no one will ever know the exact number, particularly since Indonesia is today closed to virtually all outsiders.

Now Radio Jakarta reports the power struggle continuing, with Sukarno firing Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution as Minister of Defense. But whoever wins faces a bankrupt country on the brink of ruin with wild inflation running unchecked. This is the end result of Sukarno's foreign adventurism and the insane arms race that has swamped a desperately poor nation.

WHAT IS not realized is the role the Soviet Union played in this arms race. During the past 10 years Moscow has sold Indonesia on credit an estimated $1 billion in arms. That includes complex modern weapons such as MIG-21 planes.

The Soviets are, certainly in Asia, the foremost arms peddlers. They have saddled struggling nations with a burden of modern armaments far beyond their capacity to carry and in so doing have fed nationalistic rivalries and internal factionalism. The Russians are reported to have sold India four times as much in arms as the United States, and India faces an economic crisis nearly as grave as that in Indonesia.

Indonesia's external debt is $2.5 billion of which $1 billion is owed to Moscow for arms. The annual value of the country's exports is roughly the amount of the interest due on this debt. That is a measure of the bankruptcy that the dubious victor in the current struggle confronts.

OFFICIALLY in Jakarta the rupiah is 45 to the dollar. On export or import transactions the rate is 10,000. The last quotation of the Hong Kong money traders four weeks ago was 37,000 rupiahs to the dollar. There have been no recent quotations, since no one is interested in acquiring rupiahs.

Riots in Jakarta in mid-January reached a crisis point. Students protesting government price rises surrounded Bogor Palace while Sukarno and his Cabinet were meeting and threatened to break through the gates. Troops finally succeeded in dispersing them.

Sukarno is only one of a growing company for whom the harsh facts of life have finally caught up with dreams of glory. The first was Ben Bella in Algeria. He saw himself as the leader of the non-aligned bloc against the "imperialist" powers. Sending arms to the rebels in the Congo, he went on a spending spree at home to provide a luxury setting for a second Bandung meeting of Asian-African powers.

AT THE SAME time American food shipments were keeping about 30 percent of the Algerian people alive. Ben Bella made no real effort to solve the grave economic problems at home, and with inflation, unemployment and unrest he was overthrown. In the United Arab Republic Gamal Abdel Nasser's adventurism, with 50,000 men committed to the Yemen, nearly brought a similar fate last summer.

Sukarno, with his postur-

Would Overhaul Voting Laws of Senate

To the Editor:

James Foster of the C.I.U. is to be commended for his slap at the editorial printed in last Sunday's News concerning repeal of 14(B) of the Taft-Hartley law.

One thing Mr. Foster did not say was that organized labor could have had 14(B) repealed if it was willing to deal with Sen. Dirksen on his reason for the filibuster — to wit — the Supreme Court's one man, one vote decision in which State Legislatures must be reapportioned and which would eliminate the rotten borough system of choosing legislatures.

When a man like Sen. Dirksen can keep senators from other states from voting on an amendment he dislikes, it's about time to overhaul the voting laws of the Senate.

ing and his wild statements, never came to grips with the troubles besetting his country. As has so often been said, it is a rich land but to exploit those riches means disciplined effort directed from the top. That has not been forthcoming.

CHINA'S influence has been weakened or eliminated not only in Asia but in several new African nations where Peking by investing men and money thought to gain control. Nationalism is an overriding force working against the domino theory which assumes that Peking or Moscow must take over in neighboring nations if one nation falls.

So, too, are the economic forces that produce runaway inflation, hunger and unrest. These forces are stronger than ideology, and as we are now seeing can topple the cleverest demagogues.

Conservation Congress
Wisconsin Conservation leaders met at Oshkosh last Sunday to pick the questions county committees at the public hearings will offer to sportsmen to vote on and recommend to the district and state meetings, including the annual Conservation Congress to be held in Madison in May.

It is interesting to go over the list of questions that will be placed on the long questionnaire to be mailed to each of the county chairmen and the county game wardens. Here are a few of the items approved at the Oshkosh meeting. There will be others before the final draft of questions is prepared:

- Lengthen the deer season in the northwest by opening it a week earlier (Nov. 12).
- Shorten the pheasant hunt to 23 days (it was 36 last year).
- Limit grouse hunting to 21 days in the north, but possibly add five weeks—through Jan. 31—south of Highway 64 (the season ran 45 days in the north and 78 in the south last year).
- Hold a September duck hunt for teal.

- Prohibit all hunting within 100 feet of any vehicle.
- Close the sharp-tailed grouse season.
- Close the bow season 30 days prior to the opening of the gun season for deer, and eliminate December bear hunting by archers.

Proposals for changes in fishing regulations include some which have long been controversial, such as:

- Restore — or eliminate — minimum size limits on northern pike and walleyes (12 northwestern counties have such limits now).
- Permit use of firearms as aids in landing big fish (the conservation commission banned the practice this year).

- Open the Chippewa Flowage to ice fishing (winter fishing has been banned on the 17,000 acre Sawyer county flowage for many years).
- Permit skin divers to spear rough fish under the same rules which apply to other spearing (they are restricted to a few lakes at present).

A long list of other proposals — ranging from removing the woodchuck from the protected list to restricting the upper Brule river to fly fishing — will probably also appear on the big ballots at the April meetings.

Associated Clubs Contest
A big handbill arrived from Nick Jensen, Arcadia, Wis., this morning, advertising the Associated Conservation Clubs annual Ice Fishing Jamboree to be held on Third Lake, Trempealeau, Sunday from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. with $1,500 in prizes. It is the third event that we have scheduled for Sunday. The Blair, Wis., Lions Club, and the Lake City contest, both of which were postponed because of the early thaw, are also

The Trempealeau event is a big one normally, backed by the eight sportsmen clubs that make up the association. This is the group that for years has operated the big pheasant rearing project on the Trempealeau Refuge at Marshland, and from which up to 8,000 ten-week-old birds are released in the county each August to provide good pheasant hunting.

However this year, Nick Jensen, proceeds from the contest will go toward the purchase of wetlands for public hunting grounds. This group is directly responsible also for the development that has taken place in the Trempealeau Lakes area. The contest will be carefully supervised, with bait available on the ice, plus the usual refreshments and lunch. Nick, who apparently doesn't believe the winter's backbone has been broken, says "Dress warm and come out and enjoy the fun."

Highway Work Speedup Asked By Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation that would increase payments and speed up construction of the nation's interstate highway system was proposed here by Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn.

"The interstate highway construction program has to be put back on schedule if it is to be completed in 1972," Fraser said. "The states are ready with their projects and construction could go ahead much faster if my bill were adopted to permit the federal highway trust fund to be balanced out at the end of 1972 rather than each fiscal year along the way," Fraser added.

"If we can speed up the interstate highway program, we will save thousands of lives and millions of dollars of expense to the motorist," Fraser said.

"Present highways have a death rate of 9.7 deaths per hundred million miles of travel, but on the interstate limited access system the rate is less than a third of that amount, 2.8 per hundred million miles of travel," he added.

Independent Phone Companies Elect

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Herbert J. Llen, manager of the Blackduck Telephone Co., was elected Wednesday as president of the Minnesota Telephone Association, which represents 159 independent telephone companies. He succeeds John W. Holland, New Ulm.

Robert W. Bunke, general manager of Ace Telephone Association, Houston, was named vice president and Keith W. Vogt, St. Paul, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Directors are L. H. Avig of Melrose, Eldon Eckles of Blue Earth, Harold L. Ericson of Hector, William R. Glaeser of Springfield and Allen E. Lindenkugel of Fairmont.

Shakopee Youth Slain Accidentally

SHAKOPEE, Minn. (AP)—A 15-year-old youth was fatally wounded Tuesday when a hunting rifle held by his older brother discharged in the family kitchen, authorities reported.

The victim was Daniel Sames, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Sames of Shakopee.

Robert G. Thiel, Shakopee

police chief, said Donald Sames, 17, was apparently unloading a 30-30 hunting rifle when it discharged. The bullet struck his brother in the left eye and he died instantly.

The older brother had just returned from hunting rabbits near his home, Dr. P. J. Adams, Scott County deputy coroner, said.

Donald was hospitalized for treatment of shock.

To assist them in this exploration Monday will be Linda Eifealdt, Senior Girl Scout, and a senior at Winona Senior High School. She will relate highlights of her experiences at the 1965 Girl Scout Round-Up at Farragut, Idaho. Linda will show slides as prepared by the 22 River Trails Girl Scouts, who participated in events at the largest encampment of teen-age girls in the western world.

Others on the program will be Mrs. John Woodworth, member of the River Trails camp committee; Mrs. Lawrence Santelman, field vice president of the River Trails Girl Scout Council; and Mrs. Harold Libera, Lakeside Neighborhood chairman.

AN EXPERIENCE for ninth grade Cadettes and Senior Scouts, which was described as one of the high points of last summer's camping program, will be presented in the film, "The Flambeau River Canoe Trip." Mrs. Woodworth, moderator, with her husband, John Woodworth, and Dr. Daniel DeGallier, guided a unit of 15 established campers at W-G-S-Ca on this new adventure of a four-day canoe trip for which the girls had carefully planned, practiced and prepared.

"Up Periscope," a portion of the program so named to invite Cadettes to broaden their horizons by looking up and ahead to the national and international events in which they may participate as Senior Scouts, will be explained by Mrs. Santelman.

An added attraction of "Cadettes Ahoy!" will be the awarding of a $12 campership to a Cadet toward her established camp fee for this summer.

Signed parental permit slips are required from all girls attending. All troop leaders, assistant leaders, troop organizers, troop committee members, troop consultants and neighborhood chairmen are invited to attend. Camp folders for 1966 will be distributed.

'The Inner Depths' Theme

Miss Peggy Kelly Crowned Queen Of St. Mary's Annual Mardi Gras

By BOB WHEELER

The 18th annual St. Mary's College Mardi Gras Tuesday night in the student activities center was attended by 800 students. Built around the theme of "The Inner Depths," decorations were "way-out." The entrance to the dance floor was a simulated cave which led to an underground waterfall surrounded by clinging and climbing stalactites and stalagmites. A small bridge spanned the falls which glowed in the rays of soft, multi-colored spot lights.

Peggy Kelly

The Chaotics, who provided music for the dancing from 9 p.m. to 11:30 p.m., were dressed in colorful period costumes of late 18th century nobility.

Miss Peggy Kelly, a graceful brunette from the College of St. Teresa's, was crowned queen of this exquisite underground realm. The sophomore from Minneapolis was escorted in her royal waltz by St. Mary's sophomore class president Mike Salemi.

Her court included senior Nancy Deeley, junior Kay DeClerk, and freshman Nancy Groschen, each of whom were escorted by the presidents of the respective classes at St. Mary's. Prior to the evening's high point, the coronation, a myriad of games, contests, and other activities in booths, each decorated in gayly colored streamers and crepe, provided amusement for the crowd. The addition of helium balloons to this year's Mardi Gras added a festive flavor. Refreshments, including homemade bakery goods prepared by wives of the faculty, were in constant supply.

Tom Sims, a sophomore from Chicago, was awarded the grand prize of the evening, a Honda motorbike. This event marked the close of the college social season prior to Lent. Proceeds from the evening went to the benefit of mission activity throughout the world.

Honored guests in attendance were Brother J. Gregory, president of the college, Brother J. Robert, vice president, and Brother J. Francis, dean of men.

William Kollasch, a junior at St. Mary's, directed the activity of the colleges' three mission societies which sponsor the event. The efforts this year were rewarded with one of the most colorful and exciting of all Mardi Gras in the history at the school, guests agreed.

Fire departments from seven communities fought the blaze. They are Gardner, Grandin, Hillsboro, southwest Fargo, Hunter and Arthur in North Dakota, and Perley, Minnesota.

Gardner is about 20 miles north of Fargo.

Fillmore Co. DHIA Cites Harmony, Fountain Farms

PRESTON, Minn. (Special) — Harmony and Fountain dairy farmers took top herd and cow production honors Monday at the Fillmore County Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) annual meeting here.

Tillman Fingerson, Fountain, county association president, had high herd average. His 23 Holsteins averaged 17,036 pounds of milk and 633 pounds of butterfat.

Top individual cow is owned by Mrs. Louise Runge & Sons (Millard and Leonard), Harmony. A 6-year-old grade Holstein, the animal produced 890 pounds of butterfat.

Dale Sikkink, Preston, was elected to a three-year directorship replacing Paul C. Abrahamson, Lanesboro. Millard Runge, Harmony, was re-elected to a three-year term. Directors will meet later to elect officers. Holdover directors are Warren Barnes, Canton; Roger Temanson, Spring Valley, and Tillman Fingerson, Fountain.

Treasurer Millard Runge reported a Jan. 25, 1966, balance of $2,288.59.

The annual report showed 144 herds on test in 1965. Fillmore County average was 11,683 pounds of milk, 435 pounds of fat and an income over feed costs of $216. State averages are 11,947 pounds of milk, 448 pounds of fat and $239 income over feed costs.

The county's milk per worker was 711,000 pounds, as compared to a state average of 585,000 pounds.

Following are the 11 herds averaging 500 pounds of butterfat and the top 11 cows in the association:

Clinton 64 To Be Tested

ALMA, Wis. — If you've been growing Clinton, Clinton or Clinton 64 oat varieties, you may be interested in watching what a new variety — Clinton 64 — does in 1966.

Leon Wraage, agronomist at the University of Wisconsin, says that Clinton 64 is similar to older Clinton and Clinton varieties in many respects. But Clinton 64 has a much greater resistance to stem and leaf rust, and this is its strong point.

Wraage feels the new variety will do especially well in areas where the older Clinton and Clinton varieties have thrived.

Buffalo County Holstein Breeders To Meet Tuesday

GILMANTON, Wis. — The Buffalo County Holstein Breeders Association annual banquet will feature John Selz, Fairchild, a director of the state Holstein association, as the main speaker.

He will speak at the banquet Tuesday at the Gilmanton Trinity Lutheran Church. The banquet begins at 8 p.m.

Pleasant Hill FU to Open New Center

PLEASANT HILL, Minn. — The Pleasant Hill Farmers Union local will hold a grand opening of its new center, the former Boynton school, two miles south of Witoka, March 4 at 8 p.m.

The building, located on County Road 12, just off Highway 76, was provided by the Booster Club, operating within the local. It is a two-room building seating about 100 in either room. Cy Carpenter, assistant to the president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, will be speaker. He will discuss tax reform and reorganization, among other subjects.

A petition will be circulated protesting the administration's plan to cut the school milk fund.

There will be a film for the children and musical entertainment for everyone. Lunch will be served.

The public is invited.

Breeding Cycle Drug Offered; Feed Additive

LEWISTON, Minn. — A new synchronization product which can be fed to beef cattle and sheep will provide farmers with mass control of these animal's breeding cycles, John Halvorson, Winona County associate agent reports.

The product, called Medroxy-progesterone acetate, has been cleared by the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

It is the first synchronization product for beef cattle and sheep that can be used as a feed additive. The product is a synthetic derivative of progesterone and the trade name is "Repromix."

Halvorson says that use of Repromix with effective artificial insemination programs will give farmers a tool for producing more uniform animal crops for selection and breeding.

For breeding cattle, the approved feeding to synchronize estrus and ovulation is 180 to 250 milligrams of the product per head per day for 18 to 30 days. To bring ewes into heat at the same time, the recommended feeding is 50 to 100 milligrams per head per day for 14 to 21 days.

Halvorson points out that a combination of artificial insemination and estrus synchronization will enable beef cattle and sheep producers to increase the number of offspring from top performance tested sires and to improve the average merit of their breeding herd.

Farm Welding Course to Begin

A series of farm welding meetings will be held at the Winona High School farm shop beginning Wednesday and will continue six consecutive Wednesdays. All meetings begin at 8:15 p.m.

He is married and the father of five children.

This year the board plans to make added improvements to the area that was brushed out a year ago, improve the ball diamond and backstop, put a new roof on the kitchen and add a few picnic tables.

This may seem a little far ahead, but all you beef growers and potential beef growers mark May 7 on your calendar. That's the date for the seventh annual sale of the Minnesota-Iowa-Wisconsin Hereford Association. It'll be at the fairgrounds at Decorah, Iowa, and will have 60 head for sale, 38 bulls and 22 heifers. The animals are all registered — both horned and polled.

And for the first time, a beef show will be held the morning of the sale.

Here's a good chance for 4-H or FFA youth to find that herd foundation animal.

Officers and directors of the association are: Leo Hamel, Decorah, president; Daniel Meyer, Fort Atkinson, Iowa, vice president; Donald Lind, Mabel, Minn., secretary-treasurer, and directors, Ollie Hovden Decorah; E. R. Christopherson, Mabel; Lyle Monroe, Patch Grove, Wis., and Howard Wendling, Decorah.

This past week has been University of Minnesota Week. County extension offices around the state have expressed their thanks, on behalf of UM, for the public support and cooperation they receive. It's been a good two-way road — for UM and the state public.

This column would like to emphasize here that high school seniors planning to attend the College of Agriculture, Forestry and Home Economics at UM should apply early. The UM admissions department is now accepting students on records from their first three years; so students don't have to wait until after high school graduation to apply.

While we're on the subject, consider this: Every year thousands of jobs that should be filled by people with farm backgrounds go unfilled, simply because there aren't enough properly trained people with this background. Most of these jobs are in ag related industry.

Agriculture colleges train more than teachers, extension personnel and research scientists nowadays. The plant, animal, machine and social-type industries all need agri-business people.

A little looking to see what is available would be well worthwhile.

Tree plantings in Houston County total 807,850 in the 18 years since state forestry nurseries began making seedlings available. The highest year was 1961, with 131,800 seedlings distributed, according to HARLIE LARSON, extension soils agent.

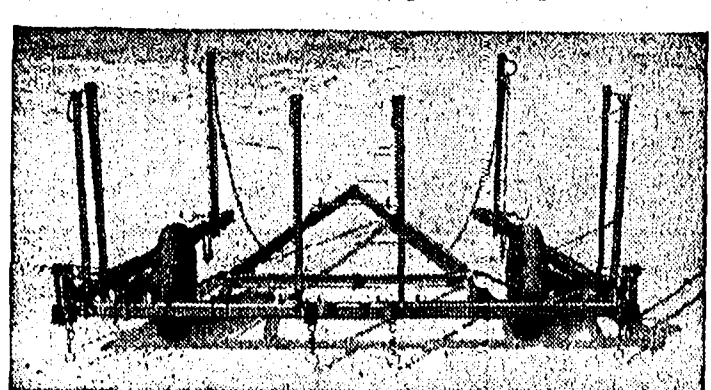

GERALD BAGNIEWSKI, Fountain City; JAMES PAS-SOW, Mondovi; DAVID HERMUNDSON, Alma, and DAVID MIKELSON, Nelson, are attending the Wisconsin Holstein-Friesian convention at Sheboygan. Sponsored by the Buffalo County Holstein Breeders Association, they were chosen for their interest in Holsteins and their outstanding dairy showmanship talents.

City and country folk from the Durand, Wis., area are invited on a free bus trip to the Farmers Union Central Exchange, St. Paul, Wednesday. Durand Cooperative's educational fund will pay for the trip. The bus leaves Rock Falls at 7:10 a.m. and Durand at 7:30. Advance registration should be made with the co-op.

SIDNEY STOLZ, Plainview, Minn., was elected treasurer of Consolidated Breeders Cooperative, Anoka, Minn., at the co-op's annual meeting Saturday. Stolz and DUANE WOLFGRAM, Racine, Minn., were named to the nine-man executive committee.

Wisconsin's 1965 calf crop was second in the nation. Its 2,211,000 was topped only by Texas' 4,667,000 head. Well, Wisconsin — get a President and promote barbecues, and who knows, maybe you'll be first.

How to Cut Feed Waste By Poultry

ELK RIVER, Minn. — An egg producer who owns 5,000 layers can lose 7½ tons of feed a year through wastage, say poultry experts at the Cargill-Nutrena research farm here.

Calculations by the farm's Dr. Norman D. Magruder show this is possible if each hen "bills out" only two teaspoons a day from the trough. "A few such items as this can make the difference between profit and loss," he says.

But Dr. Magruder also offered some suggestions on cutting layer feed wastage:

Troughs should be no more than one-third full. If self-feeders are used, they can be adjusted accordingly.

Allow ample feeder space. At least four inches of linear feeder space per bird is desirable. Therefore, a trough feeder about 17 feet long would accommodate 100 light-breed layers.

Make certain birds do not roost on feeders. Electric shockers above troughs or revolving guards over round feeders discourage this.

Keep all feeding areas well lighted during normal feeding periods. One 60-watt bulb at least every 14 feet suspended seven feet above feeders is sufficient.

Give all birds ready access to water at all times. If gravity flow tank waterers are used, one 8-gallon tank per 100 layers is required. With round automatic or jet flow waterers, one waterer is needed for each 150 birds. With automatic trough waterers, provide a minimum eight linear feet per 100 layers. For flocks on litter or slats, waterers and feeders should be at least five feet apart.

Dr. Magruder also noted that crumbled feed will not be wasted as readily as mash, which is more easily carried on beaks into waterers or onto litter.

Plainview Class

PLAINVIEW, Minn. — An agriculture class to study DHIA testing records will be held here Monday at 8 p.m. in the high school vo-ag room. William Mudge, University of Minnesota extension dairyman, will explain uses of present record keeping systems.

Nominations Made for Electric Co-op

ARCADIA, Wis. — Committee men from each of the 24 districts of Trempealeau Electric Cooperative met here Monday and nominated candidates for the board of directors to be elected at the annual meeting March 19 at Galesville.

In District 6, comprising the townships of Dodge, Trempealeau and Caledonia, Henry Kopp, incumbent director from Galesville, and Richard Brom, Dodge, were nominated.

In District 8, with the town of North Bend in Jackson County, and townships of Holland and Farmington in La Crosse County, LaVerne Kleinsmith, Holmen, incumbent director, and John Ostedahl, Holmen, were nominated.

In District 9, representing the town of Onalaska, Conrad P. Hanson, incumbent director, and Harold Fletcher, were nominated.

Additional nominations for the three posts can be made within a limited time by petition and additional nominations can be made from the floor at the annual meeting.

Edward Kulig, office manager; Charles Wolowier, member service director, and Gordon Meistad, manager, spoke confidently of plans for the future.

The cooperative completed its most successful financial year with sales up 9 percent to a total of 47.5 million kilowatt hours and gross revenues of $975,955. Net operating margins were $149,875 plus an additional margin on wholesale purchases from Dairyland Power Cooperative of $119,564, for total margins of $269,439.

This made a net increase over 1964 of $28,964.

Meistad briefed the committee on actions of the rural electric cooperatives at their recent annual meeting in Las Vegas, Nev., to adopt a supplemental financing program and the creation of a Bank for Electric Cooperatives which would start to bring private market funds into the program.

Where about 4.7 billion dollars have been required in the past 30 years, a total of 9.5 billion dollars will be required in the next 15 years. A new source of funds must be found if the program is to keep pace with the demands in load growth and added service.

Wisconsin Counties Ranked in Livestock

MADISON, Wis. — The rank of Wisconsin counties for all cattle, milk cows, all hogs and stock sheep and lambs on farms on Jan. 1 has just been announced by the Wisconsin Statistical Reporting Service.

According to this report, the top 10 counties for each of the four livestock items in order of their importance are as follows: There are 73 counties in the state.

All cattle: Dane, Marathon, Grant, Dodge, Clark, Fond du Lac, Iowa, Rock, Barron and Lafayette.

Cows and heifers 2 years old and over kept for milk: Marathon, Dane, Clark, Dodge, Grant, Fond du Lac, Outagamie, Shawano and tied for ninth place are Barron and Vernon.

All hogs: Grant, Dane, Lafayette, Green, Dodge, Iowa, Rock, Columbia, Sauk and Fond du Lac.

Stock sheep and lambs: Columbia, Rock, Grant, Dane, Iowa, Pierce, St. Croix, Dunn, Polk and Walworth.

According to the Jan. 1 livestock inventory, Wisconsin ranked ninth in the nation in all cattle and calves but first in milk cows. The hog population ranked eighth while the state was 29th down the list in the number of stock sheep and lambs.

Buffalo County ranked 30th in all cattle, 36th in milk cows, 11th in hogs, and 25th in the number of stock sheep and lambs on farms on Jan. 1, 1965.

Trempealeau County ranked 19th in all cattle, 21st in milk cows, 17th in hogs, and 13th in the number of stock sheep and lambs on farms on Jan. 1, 1965.

Popple County ranked 57th in all cattle and milk cows, 42nd in hogs and 53rd in stock sheep and lambs on farms on Jan. 1.

Jackson County ranked 44th in all cattle, 45th in milk cows, 32nd in hogs and 36th in stock sheep and lambs.

These testing programs give buyers the best possible assurance of the breeding potential of a sire, Feltz says. Tests and eligibility standards are based on the profit making requirements of feed efficiency, gaining ability, litter size and ability to produce a US No. 1 grade carcass.

Records from testing stations show that substantial improvements have been made in feed efficiency since the stations were started six years ago. Feed required to raise a hog to market weight has been reduced by 50 pounds, and at present feed prices would result in a savings of $150 per hog.

This improvement of purebred swine will eventually be reflected in the 3 million commercial hogs raised in Wisconsin each year, Feltz says. The improvement could mean a savings of $4½ million to state producers.

One sale has already been held.

Records from testing stations show that substantial improvements have been made in feed efficiency since the stations were started six years ago. Feed required to raise a hog to market weight has been reduced by 50 pounds, and at present feed prices would result in a savings of $150 per hog.

Wisconsin Pays Honors to Lovell, Slayton

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Astronaut James A. Lovell Jr., a hero who conquered space with a rocket and Milwaukee with a smile, flies on to Madison today for a rendezvous with Astronaut Donald K. (Deke) Slayton and another round of parades, speeches and civic congratulations.

The celebration at the state capital was expected to be a near replica of the Milwaukee greeting with news conferences, motorcades and television appearances on a tightly crammed schedule.

Slayton and the locale will be the main difference.

The Sparta, Wis., native and his wife will join the Lovells in accepting the state's official tributes for their role in the space program.

Slayton, one of the seven original astronauts, is now a ground coordinator for the space program.

Tens of thousands cheered, applauded and just gawked Wednesday as Lovell, accompanied by his wife, the former Marilyn Gerlach of Milwaukee, and their three elder children, were afforded a day-long tribute in Milwaukee.

The festivities came to a close with a $10-a-plate dinner attended by 720 persons at a downtown hotel.

The Lovells were laden with gifts during their Milwaukee visit and showed some of their own, including an American flag Lovell carried in his space suit on his 14-day space flight.

The high tribunal, however, called for a new trial of Johnson, in a case in which he had been accused of using his office on behalf of savings and loan interests.

The Justice Department's conspiracy charge against Johnson involved a floor speech delivered June 30, 1960, for which he was alleged to have been paid $500. The department said the payment was made by savings and loan interests, but Johnson contended the money was a campaign contribution.

Hulshizer Serves As Utica Mayor

UTICA, Minn. — Dale Hulshizer is presiding again as mayor at Utica village board meetings.

Reportedly there were no filings for mayor following the deadline four weeks prior to the election. At the election, Cecil Ellsworth, whose name appeared on the ballot, received 32 votes. Hulshizer received 8 write-ins. Investigation disclosed, however, that Ellsworth had filed following the filing deadline, so his election was declared illegal and Hulshizer was returned to office with his write-in votes.

Conservation practices on his farm have included terracing, contouring, grassed waterways, woodland management, gully control structures, wildlife plantings, crop production records and pasture improvement. Last year pheasants were released in his farm's wildlife area through a 4-H pheasant project.

Ellens' contribution of time and effort for the overall improvement of natural resources adds to better wildlife habitat, in general, according to Harle Larson, extension soils agent. Ellens will be entered in the state farmer-sportsman contest.

Ramblers Not State-Bound, Jackets Move

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Wednesday, Feb. 23: Double-disaster evening.

That was spelled out for the two teams that one year ago advanced to the Region Six Catholic basketball tournament championship game.

Yes, Winona Cotter's stranglehold on the Region Six crown was broken for the first time in ten years by the determined Lourdes Eagles. The score was 58-49.

To make the pattern stand up, Wabasha St. Felix jostled Caledonia Loretto 59-51 behind a spunky reserve by the name of Jim McDonough and a free throwing artist by the name of Bill Hanson.

It left the tournament with a new look — a new look, at least, for those who remember last year when Cotter and Loretto met in the championship game.

This, then, is the situation for Friday night: Cotter and Loretto meet at 7:15 p.m. at St. Mary's field house for a berth in Sunday's 1:30 p.m. consolation game; Rollingstone Holy Trinity (which drew the first-round bye will tangle with St. Felix at 8:15 p.m.

The winner of the second game Friday advances into the final (3:15 p.m. Sunday) with Rochester Lourdes, which was seeded there from the first round.

The tournament, which is being played at St. Mary's plush Terrace Heights gymnasium, drew an estimated 2,800 fans for the first evening.

Lourdes 58
Cotter 49

"Wait 'till next year!"

That has not been a standard slogan of Cotter coach John Nett. But he said it, though jokingly, following Lourdes 58-49 triumph Wednesday.

The Ramblers were forced out of the title picture behind an inept shooting attack that could carve out only 31 percent on 19 for 61.

At the same time, Lourdes was more than holding its own on the backboards, and Nett's pre-game fears were justified.

"If we can just do a decent shooting job and rebound, we can win," he had said earlier Wednesday.

But it never came to pass as Lourdes sprinted immediately to a 6-0 lead. Cotter lost its chance to tie at the 2:33 mark and slowly fell from contention.

It was 7-2 before the Ramblers' established any kind of a threat. But they got back in it on baskets by Chuck Kulas and Bob Allaire.

THERE WAS 2:33 remaining when a Jim Holmay free throw skirted the rim and Lourdes bounded the score up to 10-6 at the period.

The Eagles got the first four points of the second quarter and led 16-10 when the roof fell in on the Ramblers. Bill De Witt potted two free throws and Joe Tierney raked in two long jumpers to push it to 22-10. The Ramblers never recovered.

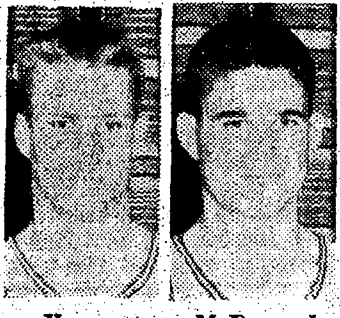

Cotter did come out and shoot with more consistency in the second half, but Lourdes was good enough to repel any advancement.

They were in front 22-16 at the half and pushed that to 41-23 with eight minutes to play.

AND WHEN Steve Osborn caged a jumper in the final period, it had ballooned to 55-39.

Cotter struggled back from a 55-41 deficit with eight straight points, but the clock already has signalled the defeat and the Lourdes rooters were ready to be about the business of celebrating.

The Eagles got over half their points from the guard tandem of DeWitt and Tierney. The two hit the first 14 Lourdes points in the third quarter and finished with 31 between them (16 for De Witt and 15 for Tierney). For Cotter, sophomore reserve Bob Greden was the only player to puncture double figures with 11.

Hanson: McDonough
Star for St. Felix

Coaches Do Not Approve Of Contest

If ever there was a basketball game that neither team should have won, it took place Wednesday night at the St. Mary's gymnasium when Wabasha St. Felix and Caledonia Loretto locked horns in the second game of the Region Six Catholic basketball tournament.

That seemed to be the consensus of opinion of the two coaches — Duke Loretz of St. Felix, whose team won 59-51, and Larry Connor of Caledonia.

"How can you play so lousy and still win?" queried Loretz shortly after the game.

"The kids were tight as a drum," he continued. "I walked into the locker room before the game and there wasn't a sound. I tried to pop some impromptu jokes, but that fell flat on its face."

About the only Yellowjacket who didn't appear awed by the sprawling St. Mary's gym and the big crowd was sophomore Jim McDonough who spent most of his time playing for the St. Felix "B" squad this year.

McDonough, tossing them in with the coolness of a pro, hit five from long range in the second half when Wabasha was building a big lead.

"He's really cool, isn't he?" grinned Loretz of the sophomore. "He was the type we needed out there tonight."

McDonough wore the hero's mantle for the Yellowjackets along with senior forward Bill Hanson. Hanson hit six of seven free throws in the last two minutes to stand off a Loretto rally that had cut a 17-point

St. Felix 59
Loretto 51

St. Felix had the crowd chanting for the knockout punch on the strength of a 17-point lead in the third quarter, but Caledonia Loretto more than slugged it out with the Yellowjackets over the final 10 minutes of the game.

And before St. Felix had hung up a 59-51 victory, the Blue Jays had their opponent on the ropes.

IN THE ANALYSIS, it must be said that chunky Jim McDonough's outside accuracy in the third quarter and Bill Hanson's touch on the free throw line in the fourth quarter meant the difference.

McDonough rifled home four long jumpers in the first five minutes of the third quarter, the first three as the Yellowjackets tattooed nine straight to jump a 28-21 halftime lead to 37-21 and the fourth as the gold-clad unit opened a 40-23 lead.

But if it hadn't been for Hanson in the final quarter, St. Felix might not today be in contention for the championship.

A BEVY OF free throws and a driving one-hander by Bill Danaher of Loretto closed it to 40-28 at the 1:30 mark of the third and it was 44-28 with a quarter to play.

But the Jay press began to take its toll and the margin gradually closed, first to 46-36 behind a field goal from Joe Gaspard and two free throws from Gary Conway and then to 51-45 on a long jumper by Joe Tollefson.

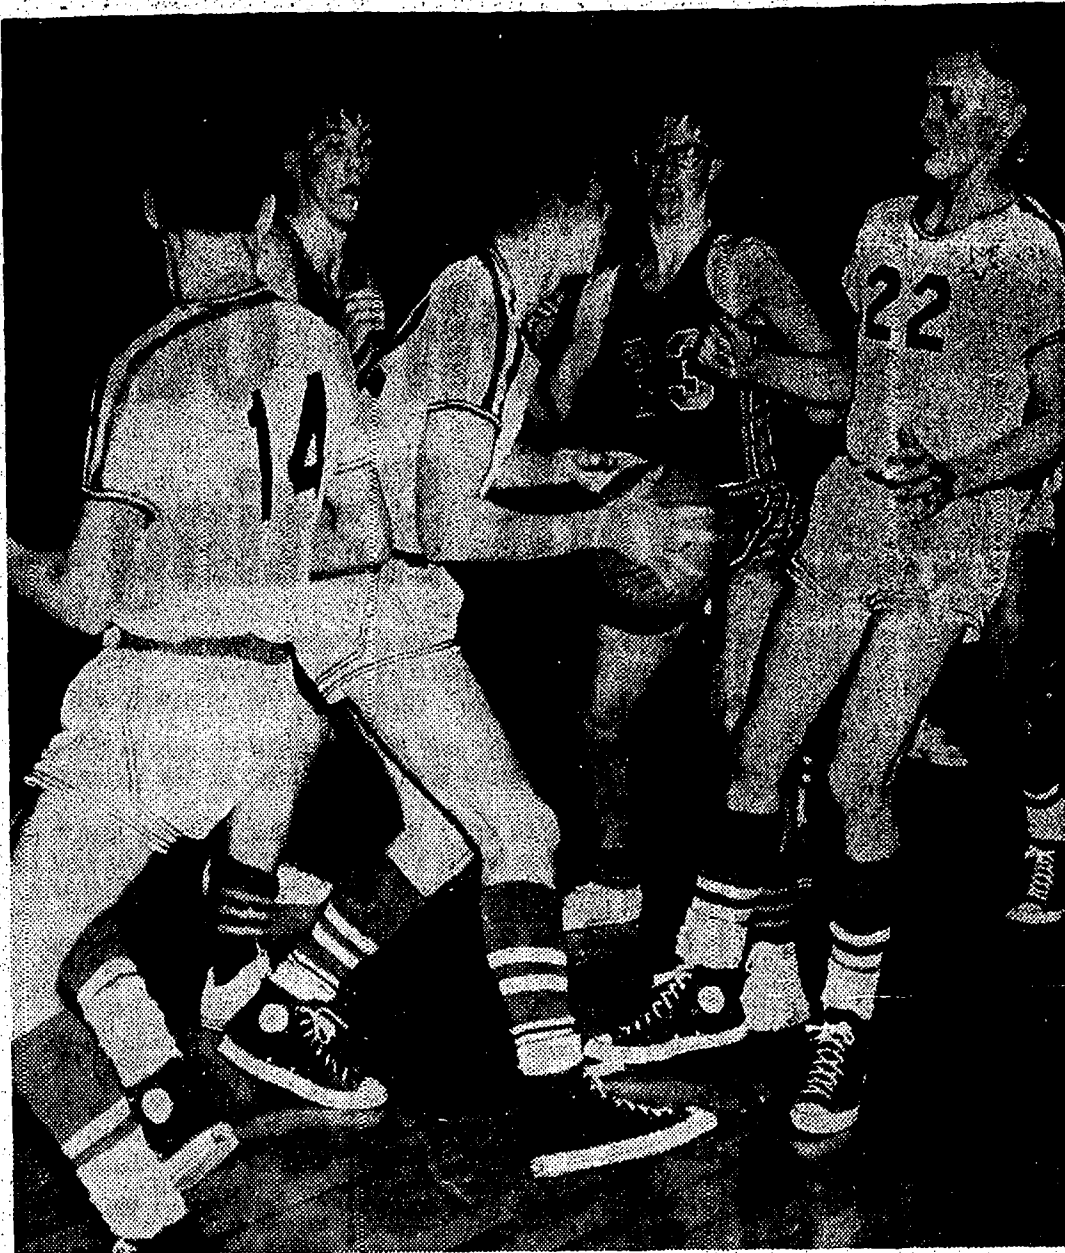

But it got no closer as Hanson smote the Jays with two free throws at 2:30 and two more at 5:59 to smother the charge.

He hit his first six in the quarter and finished with nine of ten for the evening, while tying McDonough for honors with 18. John Bill had 10.

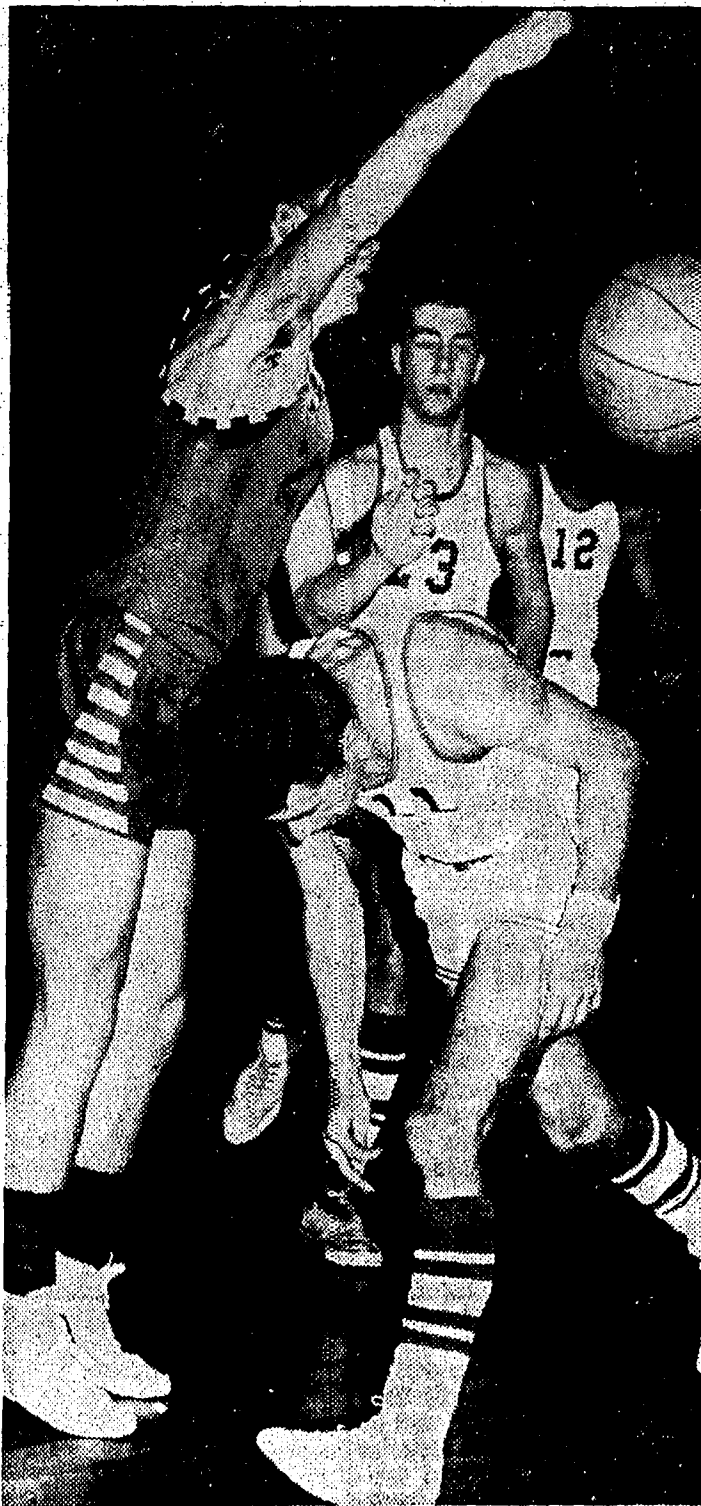

For Loretto, Conway scored 14 and Gary Pellowski 12.

BUT IN SCORING its sixth victory against 15 defeats, St. Felix may have suffered a severe blow. Rebounding leader John Arens sprained an ankle in the final quarter and may not be available for the semifinals.

Loretto now is 9-9.

TOURNEY ACTION . . . These scenes were taken during first-round play in the Region Six Catholic basketball tournament at St. Mary's Fieldhouse Wednesday night. At top, Greg Schoener is ready to pass to Cotter Captain Chuck Kulas (22) while Rochester Lourdes' Pete Galuska tries to break up the play. No. 14 is Rambler Tom Wenzel while Bob Schmidt of Lourdes can be seen in background. At bottom, Terry Stroot of Wabasha St. Felix tries to snare a pass as the ball flies over the head of Caledonia Loretto guard Gary Conway. At back is Bill Danaher of Loretto. Lourdes topped Cotter 58-49 and St. Felix beat Loretto 59-51. (Daily News Sports Photos)

'MY FAULT,' SAYS HE

Nett Won't Pass Buck

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

John Nett wasn't about to pass the buck.

"It was my own fault," said the Cotter basketball coach. "I suppose I should have seen it coming back in January and brought some of these young kids up."

The statement was issued outside the Cotter locker room at St. Mary's auditorium just after the Ramblers had dropped the Region Six Catholic tournament opener to Rochester Lourdes, 58-49, Wednesday night. The defeat marked the first time in 10 years the Ramblers will not represent the region in the Catholic state basketball tournament.

There is a long history behind Nett's statement, but it was brought forth primarily by the lackluster play of the Ramblers veterans who had sparked Cotter to the finals of the state tournament last year.

"The young kids were the only ones that looked good out there," said Nett's assistant Jon Kosidowski. And Nett, the dean of Region Six coaches, had to agree.

WSC Matmen Eye Rabbits After Victory

Bob Gunner was bubbling with enthusiasm and he had a right to be.

"The boys did an excellent job. They really wrestled well," drawled Gunner. "I thought it would be much closer judging by comparative scores."

WINONA State College had just trimmed State College of Iowa 23-6 in a dual wrestling meet at Memorial Hall before a large crowd. The victory, surprising to everyone by the wide final margin, was the Warriors' 18th without a defeat this year.

And tonight comes another stiff test. South Dakota State, a team that is ranked second in the NCAA college division this year and a 19-11 winner over Mankato State Wednesday night, will invade Memorial Hall for a 7:30 p.m. meet.

Leading the Jackrabbits will be undefeated Terry Linander at 152 pounds. Dennis Campbell at 160 and Mike Kain at 167 have lost only once. The latter two will run head-on into a pair of Winona unbeateners, Tim Tannihill at 160 and Ray Wicks at 167.

TANNIEHILL and Wicks remained undefeated Wednesday night, as did heavyweight John Zwolinski. In fact only Glen Tointon, a last-minute replacement for Darrell Andrist at 123, and Dan Scraback at 177 lost in the Winona triumph.

"And they both did a fine job," said Gunner. "Glen made just one mistake and it cost him the match, and Dan was ahead in his match against a real good boy (Don Parker)."

Wicks recorded the only pin of the meet while Tannihill came up with a 4-2 decision and Zwolinski a 4-0 verdict.

But a big share of the credit for the Warrior victory has to go to senior co-captains Perry King and Leo Simon. The pair, the only two seniors on the Winona team, decided two of SCI's top grapplers.

KING TOOK a rousing 7-3 decision from Bob Troutman at 137 and then Simon backed it up with a 2-1 squeaker over Jerry Bond at 145.

"All the boys looked real good," said Gunner. "SCI was tough, but this one sure makes me feel a lot better about tonight."

223—Mike Winger (SCI) dec. Glen Tointon (W) 3-0; 130—Roger Jehlicka (W) dec. Roger Whorton (SCI) 6-2; 127—Perry King (W) dec. Bob Troutman (SCI) 7-3; 145—Leo Simon (W) dec. Jerry Bond (SCI) 2-1; 152—Asterie Severn (W) dec. Larry Messervy (SCI) 5-2; 160—Jim Tannihill (W) dec. Dennis Gotsch (SCI) 4-2; 167—Ray Wicks (W) p. Dave Stankamp (SCI) 7-2; 177—Don Parker (SCI) dec. Dan Scraback (W) 4-4; Hwt.—John Zwolinski (W) dec. Dean Kiger (SCI) 4-0.

"I don't know if it was 'senioritis,' or what it was," Nett said. "I'm quite sure that part of it was backyard basketball, though. (Chuck) Kulas and (Jim) Holmay and a bunch of the other kids played basketball all summer and they lost their edge there."

"I should have seen that in January and brought some of the young kids up. But it wouldn't have done any good just to bring them up for the tournament."

Despite the setback, Nett (Continued on Page 17)

Will Beavers Be Out for Revenge?

It was on a chilly Saturday evening in January that Winona State pulled one of the Northern Intercollegiate Conference's most memorable basketball upsets.

The Warriors on that Jan. 29 evening knocked off Bemidji 79-77 — and therein lies the problem.

That loss was Bemidji's first in the conference, and it probably is not going to make the Beavers easier to beat here Friday night.

The battle between the two colleges is booked for Memorial Hall at 8:15 p.m. following a high school preliminary between Lewiston and Lanesboro at 8:30.

"I imagine it could make them tougher to beat down here," said Bob Campbell. "I'm sure they haven't forgotten that loss."

But on the other hand, perhaps it has been forgotten since the Beavers haven't exactly been the most potent team in the league.

Their league record now stands at 4-4, far and away a disappointing log for a team that was picked to give St. Cloud a run. But — with the exception of Moorhead's upset — the only team that has scared the Iluskie is Winona.

"And it will take the same kind of effort we got in those two games against St. Cloud to beat Bemidji," assesses Campbell, who will be coaching in his final game at Winona. He has accepted a position at California Lutheran College.

What that means is stellar defensive play and a rugged rebounding job.

"We did that the second half at Bemidji," recalled the coach, who brought his team out of a zone defense and into the winner's circle with a halftime switch to the man-to-man. "That has to rank as the finest half of defense and rebounding we've had all year, not to take anything away from our games with St. Cloud."

"But at Bemidji we did an excellent job of blocking out in the man-to-man and it won a game for us. I would say, though, that if we get the same kind of effort we did against St. Cloud, we'll be in pretty good shape."

Although Campbell has not seen Bemidji since the last time the two teams met he feels the Beavers still will use the same lineup.

That means Mark Carlin (5-10) and Steve Miller (6-3) will be the guards and Jerry Wilmot (6-1½) and Dave Odegaard (6-6) playing the double pivot and Norm Mansell (6-4) a lone outpost at forward.

The high school preliminary pits the 9-8 record of Lanesboro against the 4-9 mark of Lewiston.

The Burros are led in scoring by 6-3 Brian Gardner, who has tallied 258 points in 17 games. Paul Holton has scored 215.

NOT FUN POSITION

Finger on Preston in District 1

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Preston. Remember that name. If District One coaches — and, of course, they joshingly refer to themselves as poor sources of authority — are correct you'll be hearing that name a lot within the next couple of weeks.

Preston, the defending champion, is the odds-on choice to repeat as District One titlist.

Of course, many have been the slip in the state's first district over the past few years. In fact, not since 1961 when Caledonia burst into the regional did the popular choice make it to the winner's circle. Preston knows it well, for the Jays last year knocked off favored Harmony in the semifinals.

After Preston? Houston. Jim Harvey's Hurricanes finished second last year and have much the same team back. Their nickname gives you a clue to their secret — a whirlwind of power. After that? Pick them out of a hat — Caledonia, Chatfield, Rushford and Harmony all are mentioned as darkhorse possibilities.

The pairings:
MONDAY — Wykoff vs. Spring Grove at Preston; Rushford vs. Spring Valley at Mabel; Canton vs. Lanesboro at Spring Grove.
TUESDAY — Harmony vs. La Crescent at Chatfield; Chatfield vs. Mabel at Preston; Caledonia vs. Peterson at Mabel.
THURSDAY — Houston vs. Wykoff-Spring Grove winner at Mabel; Preston vs. Canton-Lanesboro winner at Spring Valley.
FRIDAY — Harmony-La Crescent winner vs. Rushford-Spring Valley winner at Preston; Chatfield-Mabel winner vs. Caledonia-Peterson winner at Spring Grove.

MARCH 7 — SEMIFINALS at Mayo Civic Auditorium, Rochester.
7:15 p.m. — Houston-Wykoff-Spring Grove winner vs. Harmony-La Crescent-Rushford-Spring Valley winner.
9 p.m. — Chatfield-Mabel-Caledonia-Peterson winner vs. Canton-Lanesboro-Preston winner.

MARCH 10 — FINALS at Mayo Civic Auditorium, Rochester.
7:15 p.m. — Consolation.
9 p.m. — Finals.

PRESTON
Dick Ofstun has the finest team (16-1) by point of record in District One. This is no surprise. The Blue Jays were picked to do it, just as they are favored to repeat as district champions.

"The kids haven't run away from that 'favorite' tag yet this year," said Ofstun. "We know that being the favorite has been a big problem for some teams, but we hope to make it through."

In 6-3 Mike Knies and 6-0 Jerry Rislove, Preston possesses two outstanding players.

But in Ofstun's way of thinking, 6-2 Bill Hall, 6-1 Jerry Himli and 5-11 Chuck Lammers, 5-10 Steve Hall and 5-9 Steve Trende have been the difference. "Rislove and Knies have gotten the attention," points out

Ofstun, "but Himli has broken open a number of games and Bill Hall has hit many key baskets. We've been alternating the other three at one spot and every one of them has had good nights."

Has winning the district affected Preston?
"Very definitely," answers the coach. "The kids have had a quiet sort of confidence all year. The experience in the regional last year shaped a good attitude."

But that doesn't mean Preston has placed itself back in the regional.

"We'll take them one at a time," says Ofstun. "We play the winner of the Canton-Lanesboro game and both are good clubs. We know if we play the kind of ball we are capable of we can win. But..."

LANESBORO
The Burros are just itching for another shot at Preston, but to get it they must defeat Canton in the first game. And Canton is a mighty big problem of its own.

"I've been staying awake nights just trying to figure out how to stop (District One's) leading scorer, Don Fay," says coach Larry Slaffon. "We hear he has scored over 30 points in each of the last five games. With him in there, we know Canton is going to be tough."

Slaffon also points out the reason for his team's eagerness to get a third match with Preston: "The kids are thinking upset. The two games we've played against them we've shot 27 percent. In the rest, we've averaged 40. We want a night against them when we're hitting the basket."

Lanesboro, 9-8, will start 6-3 Brian Gardner at center, 6-2 Chuck Holthe and 6-1 sophomore Mike Ask at forwards and 5-11 Rick Peterson and 5-9 Paul Holan at guards. Top reserves are 6-0 Kurt Abrahamson and 6-2 Steven Rein.

CANTON
"Don Fay is a great basketball player."
That is what Canton coach Rora Landherr has to say of his 6-2 senior forward, who punctures defenses from both the inside and the outside with a 28.7-point average.

"I had no idea I'd get to coach someone like Fay my first year out," says the Winona State grad, who implies Mr. Fay can do it all.

It is around Fay that the Raiders will build their basis for district publicity.

But you need more than one man, and that's the problem. "I'm certain we'll be ready mentally," says Landherr. "But we've got a couple of boys hurting and right now the question is whether we'll be ready physically."

On the disabled list are 5-10 guard Frank Caldwell and 6-2 center Bob Leistikow. Caldwell probably will be ready, but Leistikow is a question mark for the team that stands 6-11.

Other starters will be 6-1 forward Darwin Halverson, 6-0 center David Donald and 5-11 guard Curt Johannsen, Greg Turner, 5-11, and Curt Nelson, 5-10, are scrapping for the other guard spot.

Landherr feels he also has a big problem in stopping Lanesboro's Gardner.

"He's a pretty fair ballplayer," muses the coach. "We'll have a hard time matching them in speed. We're going to have our hands full."

CHATFIELD
Doug Rowland, a chunky 6-4 center, is the key to Chatfield's hope for a successful tournament campaign.

The Gophers, 10-7, open against Mabel and coach Jerry Bernatz, a district veteran, feels his team is progressing favorably enough to expect a victory.

He will also start 5-8 Tom Judd and 5-9 Tom Meyer at guards and 5-11 Dan Bernard and 5-10 Steve Arundson at forwards. Reserve strength is lent by 6-1 Mike Fratzke and 5-4 Daryle Narveson.

CALEDONIA
"It's tough no matter where you are."
That's the feeling of Caledonia coach Felix Perucoco, whose Warriors seem to have drawn the toughest bracket which includes Chatfield and Preston.

"But we aren't worrying about anything until we get past Peterson," says Perucoco. "Peterson is tough."
But the Peles won't carry one of the most formidable records into play and Caledonia, feels its coach, is playing at its peak. "I feel we're capable right now of giving any team trouble," says Felix. "We must rely on defense and rebounding. But we are capable of playing well."

HAWK MATMEN IN REGIONAL

Luke: 'Must Justify Our 6th Rating'

"We've got to justify our sixth-place ranking," quipped Lloyd Luke, coach of the Winona High swimming team.

"Seriously, though," he added, "Our prospects are much better this year."

Luke was mulling over the Winhawks' chances in this weekend's Minnesota State High School meet at the University of Minnesota.

"The freestyle relay is our best bet to score high," continued Luke. "We feel if we can get anywhere in the first four in the finals we're in pretty good shape. But our first task is to get to the finals."

Last year the Hawks placed 18th in the state meet with 14 points, but illness that struck two Hawk swimmers the day before the meet probably prevented them from gaining a spot in the top 10. But Luke feels that Winona should get that spot in the top 10 this year, possibly a sixth, the spot where the Hawks were ranked in the final state pool.

"BUT I'D have to go along with Edina and Hopkins as the favorites," said Luke. "Rochester has a lot of depth, but that won't do us as much good in a meet like this as it would in a dual meet." Last year Edina nosed out Hopkins for the title by one point.

Luke plans to take 11 swimmers to the meet. Making up the freestyle relay crew will be Larry Anderson, Steve Kowalsky, Tim Heise and Dennis Sievers. The crew has turned the distance in 3:30.2, but they will be in some fast competition. Edina-Morningside has the best time in the state of 3:28, while Robbinsdale and Robbinsdale Cooper have both turned times in the 3:30s.

A 11 four swimmers will take part in other events: Anderson in the 100 freestyle; Kowalsky in the 200 freestyle; Heise in the 50 freestyle and Sievers in the individual medley.

THE MEDLEY relay team of Fritz Saeker, Sam Gaustad, Tom Sanders and Bob Rydman will also compete. Rydman will also compete in the 50-yard freestyle, as will Bill Braun, while Sanders will swim the butterfly.

Gary Spencer will be the alternate for both relay teams, while Braun will also be an alternate for the freestyle relay crew.

"We could get points from Anderson in the 100, Sievers in the 100 and Kowalsky in the 200," said Luke. "And Heise, Braun or Rydman could get into the finals in the 50."

Preliminary events will begin at 1 p.m. Friday with the finals scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday.

And while Winona High is battling it out in the state meet, Winona State's swimming team will have its hands full Friday trying to defend its Northern Intercollegiate Conference title at Mankato.

THE INDIANS edged Bemidji for the title 126-120 last year, but Bemidji turned the tables and won a dual meet between the two teams this season.

Tom Sage of Winona will be out to defend his butterfly title, while Dennis Blanchard will be back to try for repeat victories in the 200- and 400-yard individual medleys and the backstroke.

Besides Winona and Bemidji, Mankato, Michigan Tech and St. Cloud will compete in the meet.

Five Winona High wrestlers will be taking part in the Region One wrestling tournament this weekend at Rochester. The first two rounds of the tournament will be held Friday night with the wrestle backs and finals Saturday.

Tom Hadfield, 138 pounds will be the only District Three champion representing Winona in the meet. Jim Dotzler, 120, Dick Henderson, 145, and Chuck Lueck, 175, were runnerup in the District Three meet, while 103-pound Don Michalowski finished third.

Rochester and Albert Lea are the regional team favorites. Albert Lea qualified 11 for the meet and Rochester nine.

Playmaker-New Role for Chamberlain

BALTIMORE (AP) — Playmaker Wilt Chamberlain?

Maybe that's the new role the 7-foot-1 giant has assigned himself now that he's taken over the all-time scoring lead in the National Basketball Association.

Wilt must be concentrating on other aspects of his game. How else would a player of his physical stature and shooting ability be held to just 11 shots in 48 minutes?

Chamberlain, who has tried an average of 26 field goals a game, attempted only 11 Wednesday night — none in the second period — as he and the Philadelphia 76ers dropped a 119-115 decision to the Baltimore Bullets.

The New York Knickerbockers won the opener of the Civic Center doubleheader 100-98 as substitute Erumette Bryant scored the final six New York points.

In the only other game played, Elgin Baylor scored 14 of his 35 points in the final period and spearheaded the Los Angeles Lakers to a 140-133 victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

For the second consecutive contest, Chamberlain was credited with 10 assists and played his usual great game off the boards with 31 rebounds. But it was his shooting which caused raised eyebrows.

Boards Key to Houston Quint

HOUSTON, Minn. — It's been 39 years since Houston High School won the Root River Conference basketball crown.

Tonight the Hurricanes of coach Jim Harvey can wrap up that title. But, just as it's written in the books, they'll have to do it against the team that's their chief antagonist.

CALEDONIA, a team that is perennially on or near the top of the Root River, will invade Houston for an 8 p.m. clash that could result in a share of the title for the visiting school or an outright championship for Houston.

"They can shoot and they do a good job on the boards because they're big," said Harvey of Caledonia. "And that will be the key to the game, the boards."

Caledonia sports a team that averages well over six feet, while Houston's tallest player barely scrapes the six-foot mark. But it didn't make any difference the first time the two teams met when Houston took an 87-78 decision at Caledonia.

THE GAME will provide some interesting one-on-one matches between standouts from both squads. Houston's Bruce Carrier will be pitted against Jon Ask of the Warriors. Doug Pope of the Hurricanes will get the task of stopping Caledonia's Jack Hauser, and Burl Haar of Caledonia will be face-to-face with Houston's Steve Botcher. "We've got a real good defensive team," said Harvey. "The kids have the determination to play defense. We've got a real good press this year and our small court should help that. But then, on the other hand, they won't have to run as far on our small court. I'm sure we can outrun them if we get the ball."

Houston will go into the contest with a 13-3 season record and a 12-1 mark in the Root River. Caledonia is 13-4 for the season and 11-2 in the loop with the other conference loss coming to Rushford by three points.

ALTHOUGH THE RR title is the only conference crown left up for grabs, several other games around the area Friday night will be good indicators of the coming tournaments.

Cannon Falls will be at Kasson-Mantorville and Lake City will be at Stewartville in the final round of Hiawatha Valley Conference play, while Pine Island will be at Dodge Center and Claremont at Wanamingo in top games as the Wasioja wraps up.

Cyert socked a 627 actual on games of 231-204-192 and then tacked on 50 pins handicap for his tournament lead effort.

WINGERS HERE FOR BIG NINE FINALE FRIDAY

Petrich: Yes Sir, Interesting!

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

Back about two months ago, Winona High squeaked out a 43-41 basketball victory at Red Wing. It was a victory, many figured, that got the Hawks off on the right foot toward their first Big Nine title.

But though the Hawks won the game, and went on to wrap up at least a tie for the conference championship, the Wingers were able to do something no other team has done this year — they disjointed the high-scoring Winona offense.

Friday night at 8 p.m. Red Wing plays a return visit to Winona High, hoping to repeat the feat only this time with a different outcome.

"We've always played fairly well down there and there's no doubt that the kids will get up for the game," said Pete Petrich, outspoken coach of the Wingers. "Even though we can't get at the title any more, we feel we have a chance to play the spoiler."

The team that tries to play the spoiler, however, won't be quite the same unit as the one Winona beat at Red Wing. Gone is one half of the Wingers' 6-7 tandem plus another starter.

Both George Wilson, 6-2 junior, and Rick Landers, 6-2 senior, have found a cozy seat on the bench since their first game. Wilson has played very little and Landers is used only as a sixth man.

But that still leaves John Kenney's Hawks with the prospect of stopping the other 6-7 cager, Mark Aldridge. And according to Petrich, "He's come a long way." "We find that in recent weeks we've been able to set him up to the point where the other team can't defend him real well," said Petrich. "He's still got a long way to go, but he's improved considerably."

The rest of the Winger front line looks a mite on the tiny side compared to Aldridge. Vic Fechter, 6-2, and Jeff Severson, 6-4, flank Aldridge. In the backcourt are 5-10 Bruce Reek and 6-0 Dale Hauschildt.

"We feel this new group has the best over-all balance of any we've had this year," said Petrich. "We're more maneuverable and better offensively at more spots."

Although Aldridge is the team's leading scorer (he got 18 against the Hawks in the last game), at one time or another all of the other four have led the team in scoring and all are averaging in or near double figures.

"It should be real interesting," summed up the Winger coach. "The two teams are very similar. We both have the same strong points and the same type of approach to the game. Yes sir, it should be real interesting."

Besides an outright shot at the title, the 8 p.m. game will have additional significance to the Hawks. The contest, the last conference home game of the season, will be Parents' Night. Parents of the players will be introduced before the game and have a special seating section during the contest. The Winona High Miss-Steps will march in their honor at halftime.

Small Schools To Upset WIAA Plan?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Basketball is normally a big man's sport and big schools are expected to boss the WIAA state basketball tournament again this year.

But more than a few small schools are capable of tripping their share of giants before the championship game March 19.

Alma (17-0), rated No. 1 in the state's "Little Ten," apparently has the best prospects of sticking around until the semifinals as the 51st annual tournament gets under way next week at 102 regional and sub-regional sites. No. 5 Wausaukee (16-1) and No. 7 Manawa (16-1) are also given possibilities of two more weeks of survival, but all roads lead eventually to collisions with bigger powers.

(Look for Winona Sunday News Wisconsin Area Basketball Tournament Roundup Sunday)

St. Croix Falls was the last small school to take the title in 1950. The Saints (11-6) this year bump head-on into Cumberland (13-2), which finished third in 1965, in their sub-regional opener Tuesday night.

Alma, unbeaten over two regular seasons, opens Tuesday night against the host in the Plum City sub-regional. Only Eleva-Strum (16-2), approaching the sub-sectional level from the opposite bracket, appears to be an obstacle in the Rivermen's bid for a repeat appearance in the La Crosse sectional.

Second-ranked Altoona (17-0) starts Tuesday night against Holcombe at Cornell.

Success could route the Railroaders into a sub-sectional collision with Eau Claire North (12-5) or 1965 runner-

NHL Becoming Mad World, Hawks Tumble

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto's fourth-string goalie and New York's 27-year-old rookie have the National Hockey League race jumbled again today.

The Maple Leafs, with regulars Terry Sawchuk and Johnny Bower sidelined by injuries, lost minor league replacement Gary Smith with a leg injury early in the first period of Wednesday night's game against first-place Chicago.

So, the Leafs had to call on 19-year-old Al Smith, a Junior A goalie, to fill in against Bobby Hull and Co., and all he did was make 32 saves and blank Hull as Toronto shaded the Black Hawks 3-2.

That gave third-place Detroit and runner-up Montreal an excellent opportunity to tighten the race but only the Canadians succeeded.

Montreal needed a pair of third-period goals to slip by Boston 3-2 but Detroit ran New York goalie Cesare Manigo's first NHL shutout and bowed to the Rangers 5-0.

up Eau Claire Memorial (14-3), the team that derailed Alma last year.

No. 3 Eagle River (16-0) is expected to struggle struggling Phillips at Phillips Tuesday night. But Rhineland (15-3) or 1960 champ Wausau (10-7) could be astride Eagle River's path at the sub-sectional level.

No. 4 Stockbridge (16-0) opens against Elkhardt Lake in the Kohler sub-regional leading into the Kiel regional playoff where bigger and also unbeaten New Holstein (15-0) will probably be the foe.

Ruppert's 607 Top Pin Series In City Loops

Dave Ruppert scored 168-235-204-607 to take league bowling honors Wednesday night.

With the score, Ruppert led his Ruppert's Grocery team to 2,946 in the Westgate Men's League. Gary Baab's 236 paced Baab's to 1,048. Bill Bonow dropped 235.

Tops on the distaff side was a 527 by Rita Toppie that led De Luxe Beauty Shop to 947 in the Westgate Mixers League. Mary Schossow slapped 198 for Marigold and Skelly Gals 2,587.

In the Class "A" Red Men's Club circuit, Erv Dulek triggered 215-600 errorless for Winona Boxcar and Walt Williams' 519 errorless paced Winona Mik to 1,019-2,816.

HAL-ROD LANES: Retail - Sunbeam Cakes leveled 1,041-2,914 behind 595 from Walt Woeg and 242 from Jerry Schiedegger. Rog Biltgen tipped 546 errorless.

MALONEY STUBBORN
TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Jim Maloney was labeled a "stubborn holdout" as the Cincinnati Reds began spring training today for pitchers and catchers.

NETT

was his usual affable self after the contest, accepting regrets and handshakes with that familiar broad smile.

"I guess the law of averages had to catch up with us pretty soon," he said. "And this year is as good as any to get beat." The Ramblers finished the season with an 8-1 record, their worst in the decade.

"I chewed out the officials all the way to the locker room," chuckled Nett, a coach known for his silent approach from the bench. "But they didn't beat us. If you don't shoot, you don't win. I think if we had hit the first few we would have beaten them."

Cotter shot a miserable 23 percent in the first half, too, and upped it only to 33 in the second 16 minutes. The first few times down the court the Ramblers either forced their shots or lost the ball through mechanical errors, and Lourdes scored the first six points of the game, never to be headed.

"If we had just shot 33 percent in the first half, too, it would have made eight points difference and we would have been two up at the half instead of six down," Nett continued. "Their guards (Joe Tierney and Bill DeWitt) killed us with their outside shooting."

A well-wisher came by at this point, and with a hearty hand shake, commented, "Well, you can watch the state tournament in peace this year John."

"I may just boycott it," said Nett, returning the nip. "But I'm really looking forward to next year. I suppose there is a lot of pressure on the kids to keep this string up year after year. Now the pressure is off and the sophomores are tough."

"Wait until next year!" Nett echoed the old refrain just as Ken Kalbrenner, an ex-coach and now administrator at Wabasha St. Felix High School, happened by.

"That's right," Kalbrenner grinned. "That's what I've been telling our boys for 40 years."

COACHES

St. Felix lead to six points. "That had to be the worst defensive game I've ever seen played," offered Connor, "but it was just our bad shooting that cost us. We shot 24 percent the first half and couldn't have done much better than that the second half."

"Gary Conway usually hits from the outside and Joe Tollefson from the corner. Tollefson's our leading scorer, but it sure didn't look like it tonight. They just weren't going in, and the boys didn't seem to be tight, either."

While Loretto was having trouble putting the ball through the hoop, St. Felix was doing an outstanding job of it. The Yellowjackets took only 41 shots for the game and 21 of them went in for a shooting percentage of 47.

"But there was no doubt that we had stage fright," said Loretz, who also is the tournament manager and had to take care of some financial matters before congratulating his players. "We did the same thing when we beat Luther. We got a big lead and when they started to pressure us, we got tense. We had men open all the time underneath when they started double teaming the guy with the ball. It could have been so easy, but the boys never got it to the open man."

Loretz indicated that he wasn't surprised when the Yellowjackets took the big lead early in the second half. "I felt confident that we were that much better than they were," he said. "But we sure didn't show it in the last quarter."

St. Felix now faces Rollingstone Holy Trinity Friday night, while Loretto meets Cotter on the same night in a consolation bracket game.

"That one under our belt should help," sighed Loretz. And Connor's parting shot was, "Well, we've got Cotter again. But last year it was in the finals. Why did we have to save this kind of game for tonight?"

Card of Thanks

MALESYTCIK—Our sincere and grateful thanks are extended to all our friends, neighbors and relatives for their various acts of kindness and messages of sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement, the loss of our beloved mother and sister. We especially thank Father Brown, Father Lennon, and Father Clark for their services, the pallbearers, those who sent floral offerings and Masses, employees of Lake Center Switch, those who donated the use of their cars and to Dr. Degallier for the nurses.

The Family of Elizabeth Malesytsik

PLUGHDOERT—I wish to thank all my friends, neighbors and relatives for the cards, gifts and visits. I received while I was at Community Memorial. Special thanks to Rev. Koepsell, Dr. Boardman and the nurses on 2nd floor.

WE live in an era that is basically designed to protect the weak. Today we're going to reflect the pro's and con's regarding this rather strange economy of ours.

There seems to be imbedded in the human being, a sympathetic concern for the down and outer. This is good. However, carried to the nth degree, this sympathy it would seem, can be stretched to the ridiculous.

Out social programs to go great length supply the needy with whatever it takes to hold their lives together. And this is good. Along with this, unions have been formed to guarantee fair wages and decent working conditions, and within itself, this is good.

THAT WHICH is bad is the misuse of these niceties. For example, a person carries a chip on his shoulder, feeling that if he doesn't get along on his own, somehow all the safeguards will go into play so as to pick up the tab, as the expression goes. Many have developed the attitude, "I'll put in my time and that's all," and then they reflect, "Why knock myself out, no one else does," indicating a lack of personal pride while surrendering to a strange kind of social automation steeped in complacency that has a tendency to make everyone look and act alike.

In these conditions, the opposite of courage isn't cowardice—it's conformity. And Mr. Average is in the true sense, strictly a conformist. It has been ascertained that only 5% really achieve success, while 95% conform to whatever seems to come their way.

MOST OF US can manage to buy groceries, live in rather comfortable quarters, and drive a half-way decent car, thanks to our era that has put all but the exceptionally poor, or for some reason deprived, on to a social plateau. But, as I have said in such good surroundings, people have a tendency to get soft, complacent, and in time, lack appreciation. If there is a chance to free-load, many so-called good folks are ready and willing to do so.

The other side of the coin is this. Because the great majority conform, there is lots of room at the top for those individuals who are willing to number among the nonconformists. I mean they are willing to approach their daily tasks with vigor and to give of themselves to improving whatever job is theirs. These are the people who have laid at held on some meaningful objective and are obsessed with accomplishing that objective.

YOU CAN be among the 5% that succeed, whatever your place in life, if you believe in yourself and what the Creator has given you, to the degree of rejecting the temptation of mediocrity. And in this sense, here is something to live by.
