Candidates in Governor Race Vote

Hot Campaign Brings Big Vote in Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A hot campaign marked by frequent charges and countercharges was expected to help bring out a record number of Minnesota voters in today's off year general election.

Although officials have forecast a turnout of 1.3 million voters, cold weather today could hold down the total.

Freezing temperatures were forecast for most of Minnesota, with high temperatures ranging from 12 to 20 in the north and from 22 to 34 in the south. In addition, snow was predicted to spread over the state late in the day.

Biggest previous turnout for a nonpresidential election was in 1962, when 1,267,502 persons voted. The alltime record is 1,586,173, set in the 1964 presidential election year.

The state's 3,804 precincts opened at 7 a.m., with most closing at 8 p.m. However, municipalities of less than 1,000 population have the option of staying open one hour later.

The long and fiercely-contested quest for votes ended Monday night, with both political parties purchasing 30 minutes of prime television time on Twin Cities stations to put their final appeals into the homes of thousands of Minnesotans.

Most interest in the long campaign centered on the two top races on the ballot—those for governor and senator.

A close race was expected for governor between DFL incumbent Karl F. Roalvaag and Harold LeVander, South St. Paul lawyer making his debut in politics.

Roalvaag, 53, seeking a second four year term, survived a rebellion in his own party when he was denied endorsement at its convention. But he overturned the convention endorsement by winning handily over Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith in the September primary.

LeVander, 55, has been campaigning since announcing his candidacy last Dec. 13. He was once a law partner of former GOP Gov. Harold Stassen.

In the Senate race, pre-election polls showed incumbent Walter F. Mondale holding a substantial lead over Republican Robert A. Forsythe, 44, former State GOP chairman.

Mondale, 38, was appointed to the Senate in December 1964, to succeed Vice President - elect Hubert Humphrey. He piled up big margins in 1960 and 1962 when elected attorney general.

The 44-year-old Forsythe, former assistant secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, is executive vice president of Consumers Financial Corp., Minneapolis.

State offices to be filled were those of lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general and railroad and warehouse commissioner.

Also up for election were 8 congressmen, 202 state legislators, two Supreme Court judges, 20 district judges and many county officials.

Minnesota's congressional delegation is currently split 4-4. All incumbents are seeking reelection. Only one—Democratic John Blatnik of the 8th District—had no opposition in his bid for an 11th term.

Closest race was expected in the 6th District, where State Sen. John M. Zwach, a DFLer, was paired against Rep. Alec Olson — a hairline winner in his previous two terms.

In the 1st District, Rep. Albert H. Quie, a Republican, was opposed in his try for a fifth full term by George Daley.

The 2nd District also had a GOP incumbent, Ancher Nelson, seeking a fifth term against Charles M. Christensen.

Rep. Clark MacGregor — who earlier in the year was boomed for governor or the Senate on the GOP ticket — had opposition from Mrs. Elva D. Walker in his attempt to win a fourth term in the 3rd District.

The DFL had Rep. Joseph E. Karth trying for a fifth term in the 4th District against Stephen Maxwell, the first Negro to seek a major political office in Minnesota.

However, the midcourse maneuver can be made at any time during the craft's next 123,000 miles to an orbit around the moon, the spokesman said.

Viet Cong Hit Hard in New Tay Ninh Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American infantrymen battled an estimated 1,000 charging Viet Cong for four hours in Tay Ninh Province today and reported 302 enemy bodies counted after the fighting ended.

The battle resumed at 6 a.m. for troops of the U.S. 1st Division who lost contact almost completely Monday with the tough Viet Cong force that had battled American troops for four days.

U.S. officers at operational headquarters told Associated Press photographer John Nance tonight that 302 enemy bodies had been counted after the fighting ended, that large numbers of weapons, grenades and ammunition had been taken and that an 80-bed Viet Cong hospital had been found.

Associated Press correspondent John Lengel reported from the battlefield that some American officers estimated 500 of the enemy were killed today.

He reported one battalion of the 1st Division's 28th Regiment bore the brunt of the new fighting. American casualties were officially reported light.

In other scattered actions: An American spokesman said a Viet Cong force of unknown size moved into a village 75 miles southwest of Saigon at 2:30 a.m. Monday and kidnapped the entire population of 90 to 110 persons. There was no immediate explanation for the raid.

Units of the U.S. 101st Airborne and 4th Infantry divisions moved in on a major Communist stronghold in Phu Yen Province, about 230 miles northeast of Saigon. The American troops reported uncovering three enemy base camps, some of them equipped with fortified bunkers, and a first aid station with facilities for about 100 men. The Viet Cong had fled.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A planned midcourse maneuver for Lunar Orbiter 2, on its way to photograph the moon, was postponed early today when the craft lost its lock on the guiding star Canopus, a spokesman at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said.

The spokesman said the windmill-shaped, 850-pound spacecraft lost contact with Canopus about 7:20 a.m. He said scientists were attempting to re-establish Lunar Orbiter's contact with Canopus but didn't know what caused the difficulty.

However, the midcourse maneuver can be made at any time during the craft's next 123,000 miles to an orbit around the moon, the spokesman said.

JOHNSTON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson disclosed today that he will replace James J. Saxon, the controversial comptroller of the currency, with a Treasury Department career official.

Johnson, emerging from his polling place here, said Saxon's term will expire Nov. 15. He said William B. Camp, the first deputy comptroller, will be nominated to take over Saxon's job.

Saxon, a Chicago bank attorney before becoming comptroller of the currency early in the Kennedy administration, announced some time ago that he was not a candidate for a new term.

As the regulator of national banks, Saxon has pursued an independent course that has brought him into frequent conflict with the Federal Reserve Board and, on bank antitrust matters, the Justice Department.

Balloting Heavy In Crucial Areas

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Balloting was reported heavy in a number of crucial areas around the nation today as the sovereign American voted turned out to elect 435 House members, 35 senators and 35 governors. The trend of the early-bird balloting indicated the total vote might be around 59 million, a record for a nonpresidential year. Mistaking the poll opening time, President Johnson turned up 39 minutes too soon to register his choices in the kitchen of the Federales Electric Cooperative at Johnson City, Tex. Considering his position, poll officials let him and the First Lady vote right away, even though there had been brave talk about treating the chief executive as "just one of the boys."

To the surprise of no one, Johnson announced: "I voted the Democratic ticket."

In New York, where the weather was mild, a tight gubernatorial struggle between Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller and Democrat Frank D. O'Connor drew a heavy vote, at least in some places.

The early-morning turnout was massive in New York City, where an issue with racial overtones was on the ballot. This is a referendum challenging a civilian-dominated police review board. On the other hand the voting was extremely light in Buffalo.

Early returns in Michigan, where Gov. George Romney's political future is being weighed, also indicated a heavy turnout.

In the suburbs of voteless Washington, balloting was reported extremely heavy in near-by Maryland counties and moderate to heavy in northern Virginia.

Soon after the polls opened in these suburbs, officials noted heaviest voting in predominately Negro areas.

The Justice Department announced it had sent federal election observers to 27 counties in four Southern states, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Ramsey Clark, acting attorney general, said this was done under the 1965 Voting Rights Act "to help ensure that local election officials are able to conform their practices fully with state and federal laws."

The nonpresidential-year elections are almost as variable as the weather. Frustrations of the Viet Nam war, white reaction to racial disturbances, high cost of living irritation and the impact of President Johnson's "Great Society" programs provide an uncertain background for the balloting.

Nowhere in advance of tonight's countdown of votes was there any evidence of a national trend on these or any other issues.

Although a record off-year turnout seemed to be in the making, this was more a matter of the mathematics of population growth than of interest in a campaign that generally found voters apathetic to candidates' appeals.

There was tacit agreement among political strategists that Republicans will make some gains, as the party lacking a temporary lease on the White House customarily does in such elections.

Perhaps the GOP's greatest advances would come in gubernatorial contests, and in state legislative races where they were clobbered in the Barry Goldwater disaster of 1964.

The guessing was that Republicans might wind up with a net gain of five or six state executives, thus broadening their base for a 1968 attack on Johnson.

Surveys indicated Republicans might pick up in the neighborhood of 30 House seats to amend the massive 295-140 margin the Democrats held in the 89th Congress. Any turnover of this nature might fall most heavily on the 44 freshmen Democrats elected in 1964. At least 28 of them are reported in trouble.

Democrats and Republicans may trade some sea in senatorial contests. But the politicians' thinking was that there will be little change in the 67-33 bluge Johnson's party now holds.

A shift of 25 or more votes in the House might strand some of Johnson's legislative proposals in the new Congress. He would not be likely, for example, to get through bills to outlaw state union shop bans or to fix federal standards for unemployment compensation.

Southern Democrats might join with the Republicans to knock out the Teachers' Corps and to end rent subsidies. The

HOW'S ELECTION GOING?

Experts Will Watch For Trends Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Political analysts studying election returns tonight will be looking for trends, the rise and fall of potential presidential nominees and the effect of such widely discussed subjects as the "white backlash" and the Viet Nam war.

Here are some areas to watch: Trends — Six bellwether House districts have reflected changes in congressional party lines over the past decade. The six are the Connecticut 4th, Pennsylvania 19th, Iowa 4th, Indiana 9th, Wisconsin 1st and Ohio 10th. They are among 44 House districts, currently represented by first-term Democrats, which were held by Republicans before 1964. Practically all of the 44 Democrats are solid supporters of the Johnson administration.

Congressional control — Democrats are assured of retaining Senate control and are expected to keep House control, but with a smaller majority than their current ratio of 295 to 140. A switch of just 25 House seats from pro-Johnson Democrats to anti-Johnson Republicans would have meant the defeat of such key Johnson domestic measures as medicare, open housing, rent supplements and demonstration cities. Thus, even fewer GOP gains than the off-year average of 40 could mean Johnson might have to settle for a less ambitious domestic program over the next two years and might threaten funding for such approved programs as rent supplements and demonstration cities.

Effect on parties — Results might give a big boost to several Republicans prominently mentioned as presidential possibilities for 1968, including Govs. George Romney of Michigan and James A. Rhodes of Ohio, gubernatorial nominee Ronald Reagan in California and senatorial candidate Charles H. Percy in Illinois. Big GOP congressional gains might help Richard M. Nixon, the party's chief campaigner.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's national prestige may be affected by whether Democrat Karl S. Roalvaag is re-elected governor of Minnesota. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy could receive a boost if fellow Democrat Frank D. O'Connor defeats Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in New York.

A big victory for Mrs. George C. Wallace as Alabama governor would increase the prospect that her husband will make a third-party presidential bid in 1968, as would victories by such anti-Johnson Democratic gubernatorial candidates as Jim Johnson in Arkansas and Lester C. Maddox in Georgia.

White backlash — The white backlash, a term used to denote adverse white reaction to racial violence, could influence several races. In Maryland, Democrat George P. Mahoney's gubernatorial primary victory was attributed to his anti-open housing stand. His views have been attacked as racist and extremist by his Republican opponent, Spiro T. Agnew. Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California has accused his Republican opponent, Reagan, of appealing to backlash sentiment. In Massachusetts, the effort by Republican Edward R. Brooke to become the first Negro senator since Reconstruction may be determined by whether a significant backlash exists.

McNamara Raps Harvard Boys

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara criticized the behavior of antiwar demonstrators Monday when they jeered him at Harvard University.

McNamara, leaving a Harvard residence hall after speaking to 50 students of the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Institute of Politics, was greeted by a crowd of 400 assembled on the steps of the Quincy House. Most of them carried placards and shouted slogans in support of the Johnson administration's policies in Viet Nam.

Others in the crowd were from a local student organization opposed to the war. They booed and jeered.

McNamara told the crowd he had spent some of the "happiest years" of his life at Harvard when he attended the Harvard Business School during World War II as an Army officer. He was drowned out by screams and boos.

Visibly angry, he said, "I might add that I was a lot tougher and a lot more courteous than you."

JOHNSTON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson turned out to vote 39 minutes before the polls opened—and local election officials let him cast his ballot anyway.

Johnson thought his polling place, 15 miles east of the LBJ Ranch, opened at 7 a.m. so with Mrs. Johnson, he drove up at 7:21.

Most Texas precincts did open at that hour, but because Johnson City is a community of only

Cut in Draft Calls to Solve Army Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's decision to reduce draft calls over the next four months eventually may solve two pressing Army problems: the huge backlog of untrained reservists and the failure to reach full combat readiness among U.S.-based divisions.

Pentagon sources said Monday the Army should be able to slash the reservist backlog — 133,100 as of last June 30 — to 60,000 by next summer. The Army training bases, officials said, should be training as many as 20,000 reservists a month by early next year. Right now the Army is scheduled to train only 7,000 reservists monthly.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced the cutback at a news conference Saturday. He said draft calls — barring unforeseen contingencies — should average less than 25,000 through March, about half the current levels.

In past months the Army has been training more than 55,000 recruits a month but has been unable to reduce substantially the number of untrained reservists and National Guardsmen.

The large pools of untrained men have been a sharp target of congressional critics who contend the reserve program amounts to a haven for those men who otherwise would be drafted to fight in Viet Nam.

Medal of Honor Urged for Hero Of Viet Battle

WAR ZONE C. South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. company commander who was "all over the battlefield," who picked up a jammed machine gun, cleared it and knocked out two bunkers, and who was wounded in the back and didn't notice it until after the battle, will be recommended for the Medal of Honor by his 25th Infantry Division company.

He is Capt. Robert F. Foley, 31, from Belmont, Mass., a tall, angular officer who received an

Boy, 11, Falls To Death When Parachute Fails

MANASSAS, Va. (AP) — Dana Rutledge, 11, spent half his young life around skydivers. He knew what it was all about.

So skilled and trustworthy he was that for the last 300 of 1,000 jumps his father has made, he was allowed to pack the chute.

The father, Carl A. Rutledge, is a classifier at the U.S. Patent Office in nearby Washington and lives in Vienna, Va. He has been jumping for five years and is president of "The Targeters," a skydiving club.

None of the 160 or so members of the club loves skydiving more than Dana did. He was, said Rutledge, "very athletic and smart as a whip and quick in his response to things."

Yet, when Dana begged to be allowed to jump, Rutledge thought a long time. Finally, because of Dana's "over-all general knowledge" of skydiving, Rutledge gave in.

Dana made his first jump last summer.

Sunday, he made his ninth and last. His chute failed to open properly and he fell to his death in a field on the family's farm near here.

On the ground, Rutledge saw it happen. He was in charge of the jump.

The chances of a fatality in skydiving "are one in a million — just astronomical," Rutledge said. But it can happen and Rutledge knew it. He plans to keep on jumping.

Exactly what happened to Dana's chute, he does not know.

The boy — a 5th grader in school — jumped from a light plane at 3,200 feet. He was to pull the ripcord as soon as he cleared the plane. The main chute did not open.

The emergency chute opened but it did not blossom. It might have opened too late.

Dana packed the chute, his father said, but it was the chute that was at fault.

Expert Warns of Chinese Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Chu-yuan Cheng, an authority on China, says the Chinese Communists will have a long-range missile able to reach the United States within five years.

"China is not really a first-rate power now, but she is approaching this level," he said, noting Communist China's Oct. 27 test of a nuclear-tipped missile.

"With these missiles," Cheng said in a copyright interview in U.S. News & World Report, "Communist China can really threaten neighboring countries and may someday threaten the United States."

interim award of the Silver Star today.

His company, Alpha, from the 2nd Battalion, 27th Regiment Wolfhounds — intends to recommend him for the highest American gallantry award "as soon as the paperwork is completed."

The paperwork includes the interviewing of many soldiers wounded with Foley as the company attempted to link up Saturday with a company trapped by murderous Viet Cong machine-gun fire in Tay Ninh Province, northwest of Saigon.

Foley's company didn't make the linkup, but did manage to gather up all their wounded and pull back without being overrun, a major feat.

The bravery of Foley, who coolly analyzed his company's predicament under fire, directed assaults to get the wounded back, and moved with his forward units oblivious to concentrated fire from a reinforced enemy regiment, was outstanding in three days of bitter fighting that saw many acts of bravery.

In addition to Foley, four other men from the 27th Wolfhounds were awarded medals Monday. They were Pfc. William H. Wallace, Williston Park, L.I., the Silver Star; Pfc. Charles D. Deane, Redwood City, Calif., the Bronze Medal with V for Valor; and two other Bronze Star winners, Staff Sgt. James Powe, Pearl City, Hawaii; and Platoon Sgt. Floro Rivera, Wahiawa, Hawaii.

Foley's company was the worst hit of the 11 American companies involved in hard fighting Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Just 50 yards out of the forward base perimeter, the company came under a murderous rain of fire from bunkers.

The Viet Cong had cut lanes in the deep jungle, and these were visible to the Americans only when they moved into one. By then, it was always too late.

"Every man among us was fired on at least 10 times," said 2nd Lt. Harold K. Grave, Mill Valley, Calif., who remembered seeing snipers tied in trees.

"It was bad in there," Foley recalled. "When we moved quickly, we would stumble into the lanes of machine-gun fire. If we moved slowly, the snipers would go after us, picking us off one by one."

Foley decided that the wounded up front had to be brought back. He directed a series of fire and maneuver actions, sending a few of the men on an assault, then moving up men behind them.

The company kept taking casualties, but more and more wounded were being dragged in. Foley "was a tower of strength, a superman," said one of his platoon leaders.

Foley said the battle got heavier, with increasing numbers of enemy weapons opening fire. He had to cancel the original mission of going to the rescue of C Company, 10 yards away, and concentrate on getting his own wounded back.

Every wounded man made it.

1965 Miss America Lists Engagement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The engagement of Miss Sue Ann Downey, the 1965 Miss U.S.A., was announced Sunday in Columbus, Ohio, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Downey.

They said their daughter will be married in April to Richard A. Olsen, former Miami, Fla., municipal judge who now practices law in Miami.

Cooking for Kennedys Great, Student Says

DETROIT (AP) — She was only a cook, recalls pretty Sharon Connors, but that didn't matter: She was cooking for the Kennedys at Hyannis Port.

"It was the most wonderful, most exciting summer ever," she tells her classmates and instructors at Marygrove College.

The home economics major from Buffalo, N.Y., was hired as assistant cook at the Cape Cod home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, parents and grandparents of the Kennedy clan.

"When I met Jackie, my hands were in dishwater," Miss Connors, 21, said in an interview. "Everything you ever read about her is true."

The widow of President John F. Kennedy spends much time with the children, Miss Connors said.

"Caroline and John are unspoiled and unaffected," she said. "The children's days are planned for them, every minute is filled. They have lessons in swimming, riding, tennis, surfing, boating and water skiing."

"Promptly at six every evening they go to see their grand father. This is a regular ritual."

The auburn-haired gray-eyed Miss Connors said she helped prepare two dinner parties, one to celebrate the 78th birthday of Joseph Kennedy — "I call him papa" — and one to celebrate the 76th birthday of his wife, Rose.

"They're a meat, potatoes, vegetable and dessert family," she said. "Favorites are roast beef, chicken, custards, snow puddings, fresh fruit and berries and, on Fridays, lobster."

Flood Control Bill Signed

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill authorizing construction of 38 flood control, navigation and beach erosion projects in 25 states at an estimated $670,235,000 federal cost.

The measure, signed Sunday night, also authorizes the Army engineers to survey water resource development problems on streams throughout the United States and its possessions with a view to designing recommendations for additional projects.

The measure provides no money for the authorized work. Actual start of planning and construction activity on the various projects must await appropriations by Congress.

The bill authorizes surveys by the Army engineers (no cost estimate given), including:

Great Lakes — Particularly Lake Ontario and Lake Erie, navigation, flood control, water supply, pollution abatement, hydropower.

Minnesota-Souris River and Red River of the North and tributaries, including streams draining into Canada, water resource development.

The bill also authorizes up to $700,000 reimbursement of local interests for permanent reconstruction and repair of Stone Arch Bridge at Minneapolis, damaged by floods in spring 1965.

Gina Says Her Conscience Is Clear

ROME, Italy (AP) — Gina Lollobrigida, the first actress in Italy ever to be convicted of movie obscenity, said Sunday in Rome she had a clear conscience about her part in the film that landed her in court — The Dolls.

Miss Lollobrigida, French actor Jean Sorel, director Mauro Bolognini, and producer Gianni Hecht Lucari were convicted of obscenity charges Saturday night for their parts in the movie.

Each was given a suspended sentence of two months in jail and $64 fine.

Major Changes Urged On Sarnia and Gilmore

The City Council voted Monday night to direct the engineering department to submit completion schedules for next year's upgrading of Gilmore Avenue, Sarnia and Junction streets.

Aldermen also voted to restrict parking at the Huff-Sarnia Street intersection as a traffic safety measure. Parking will be prohibited within 50 feet of the crossing in all directions.

COUNCIL ACTION followed a report on the 1967 project by Carl T. Heglund, representing Agneberg, Sankstone & Associates Inc., Rochester, consulting engineers. The firm was retained earlier this year by the council.

City Council

to make studies of the project extending from the Main - Sarnia Street junction to the Broadway-Junction Street intersection.

Major proposals outlined in the report are: Widen Junction, Gilmore and Sarnia to four lanes (48 feet) and prohibit parking on both sides at all times, determine permanent routing for Highway 43 (on Huff Street) and join Kraemer Drive directly to Highway 61, install conduit (for traffic signals) at major intersections during construction (including new school and Miracle Mall entrances), and provide three entrances to the high school.

The suggested design contemplates four lanes for moving traffic but does provide extra width up to 64 feet at major intersections, such as Main, Huff, Baker and Junction streets, for left-turn lanes.

PRESENT WIDTH of Sarnia Street, from Main to Wilsie Street, is 40 feet.

While Vila Street should be extended to create a school entrance, said Heglund, traffic does not justify its extension across Gilmore Creek to Highway 61-14. This extension had been requested by merchants at the shopping center, along with a 1,200-foot eastward extension of the service road north of the highway. The service road now extends from Clark's Lane to the shopping center highway entrance.

TRAFFIC FLOW projections are based on assumptions that Highway 43 will be routed on Huff Street, that Kraemer Drive will open directly into Highway 61 and that Orrin Street will be closed off from direct access to Highway 61.

A flow of from 550 to 600 automobile trips per day is expected at the new school, concentrated in two peak periods, states the report.

Only one entrance to the school is now planned, Heglund noted. Since this is at the tri-cornered intersection of Gilmore Avenue, Sarnia and Baker streets, a high hazard potential appears with the possible addition of increased traffic and an extra street. Heglund's report advocates extending Vila Street southward to the school property and another entrance off Sarnia Street, somewhat east of the present junction with Wilsie Street.

KRAEMER DRIVE is "an obvious extension of Broadway" that would accommodate about 1,200 vehicles a day and take traffic away from congested residential areas, said Heglund. About 2,000 vehicles a day use Orrin Street to move from Gilmore Avenue to Broadway and Kraemer Drive, the report shows. This flow involves crossing 4-lane Highway 61 and a narrow bridge at Orrin and Kraemer Drive. There have been 11 accidents at Orrin and Highway 61 in less than three years, the report notes.

Other streets that should be closed at Highway 61 are King and Macemon, said Heglund.

STUDIES OF the Clark's Lane highway crossing are now being made by the state highway department, said Heglund. Closing the entrance would merely move the accident problem east to the Miracle Mall entrance, he added. Highway department officials are believed to be considering reduced speed limits as one approach to the problem.

Heglund conceded that prohibiting parking for the entire length of the project would be "a ticklish problem." But such regulations have reduced accident rates drastically in other cities, he added, and seem to be worthwhile for this reason. He said parking on the streets does not appear to be heavy at present so that few inconveniences would result from its elimination.

BECAUSE IT is important to proper design of intersections with Sarnia Street at Main, Huff and Harriet streets, determination should be made now on routing Highway 43, Heglund cautioned.

Referring to highway department recommendations, he suggested that Huff Street be designated. For this reason Huff Street should be upgraded to carry the entire load or it should be made a one-way northbound street from Lake to 5th Street. The corresponding southbound street would be Harriet, which could be joined to Huff south of Lake Street.

The northwest corner of Winona and 5th streets and the southeast corner of Harriet and 5th could be redesigned to afford better turning movements, according to the report.

While the report does not recommend traffic signals at Huff and Sarnia streets now, it proposes that conduit for future wiring be installed.

CITY ENGINEER James Baird, commenting on the report, asked the council to direct his department to furnish a project schedule. Ald. James Stoltman objected that he had not had time to study the report. Baird suggested that scheduling be ordered and that necessary or desirable changes could be worked in later. Ald. Donald Klage's motion to this effect won unanimous passage.

Baird also urged the council to act immediately on parking restrictions at the Huff-Sarnia intersection. Such action has been urged by at least two professional consultants, he recalled, and further delay could not be justified.

Ald. Barry Nelson proposed the council go even farther, moving that all parking on Huff Street be prohibited. Ald. David Johnston and Harold Thiewes and Mayor R. K. Ellings protested that more study is needed on the matter. Ald. Nelson's motion lost, supported by his and Ald. Jerry Borzyskowski's vote.

ALD. JOHNSTON'S move for immediate restriction of parking within 50 feet of the intersection was passed without dissent.

Upgrading of Gilmore Avenue, Junction and Sarnia streets will be a joint city-county project, financed in part by state turn-back funds. Estimated costs are about $450,000.

Jury Hearing Evidence on Trailer Damage

The trial of a dispute over damages to a mobile home moved into its second day in District Court here this morning.

The action is brought by Robert Althoff, Minnesota City, against H. C. Kleyla, West Service Dr., and Jule Whetstone, 257 Jefferson St., over condition of a mobile home Althoff purchased in Dodge Center, Minn., last May and which was damaged while it was being transported to Minnesota City.

ALTHOFF had contracted with Kleyla to move the home to Minnesota City and Whetstone was driving the tractor which was transporting the trailer when an accident occurred near The Arches en route to Minnesota City.

The jury trial, at which Judge Arnold Hatfield is presiding, began Monday morning with the amount of damages to be awarded Althoff the only matter at issue. Althoff is represented by William A. Lindquist and the defendants by Roger Brosnahan.

Althoff was the first witness called by Lindquist Monday morning and remained on the witness stand through a greater part of the afternoon session.

He told how last May 4 he had purchased the used mobile home at Dodge Center and had contracted with Kleyla to have the home moved to Minnesota City.

ALTHOFF said that he was following the tractor driven by Whetstone on Highway 14 when, near the Arches, the mobile home began to fishtail. It's believed that the unit apparently slipped over the lip of the highway and went out of control.

Althoff said that after the mobile home fishtailed it and the tractor jackknifed and both came to rest on the edge of the highway, the tractor against the side of the mobile home.

After a wrecker had been used to straighten out the two units Whetstone continued on to Minnesota City with the mobile home.

Much of Althoff's testimony was concerned with damages he said he found had resulted to the exterior and interior of the mobile home. He identified photographs taken inside and outside the home to show damaged areas.

He said that, in his opinion, the market value of the mobile home before the accident was about $2,500 and after the accident between $500 and $700.

IN CROSS-examination by Brosnahan, Althoff was asked if he and his wife had been able to live in the home. He said they were able to sleep in it and watch television but were unable to cook meals because the gas range and the sink were damaged.

Brosnahan asked whether the reason there wasn't water service was because a coupling to the sink was damaged and that this could be repaired. The witness agreed.

Brosnahan asked whether, after the accident Kleyla had offered to send someone out to make repairs and Althoff replied, "He said he'd fix the cheaper ones."

The witness was asked whether it was true that when he purchased the mobile home he had been told that it had been taken previously to Canada, was about seven years old and had been blown over in a tornado. Althoff said that was correct.

THE NEXT witness called by Lindquist was Leonard Munson, Rochester, who is in the mobile home business.

He said that he had inspected the Althoff home and felt that the value prior to the accident was between $2,000 and $2,500 and after, about $750.

Five witnesses were heard during this morning's session.

THE FIRST was Mrs. Lena Sanson, Dodge Center, from whom Althoff purchased the home last May. Under direct examination by Lindquist she testified that she had purchased the mobile home in 1960 and that the cash price at that time was $6,300.

Voting by Noon Less Than 4 Years Ago

Voting was heavy this morning at city precinct polling places, according to election judges' appraisals at noon. City-wide about 22 percent of the registered voters had voted.

However, this is a smaller percentage than had voted by noon in the 1964 general election. That day 3,893 of the 13,325 registered voters had voted by noon, a fraction less than 30 percent. It's also less than in 1962 when the comparable figure was 28 percent.

COMMENTS from the judges: The machine slows down the voting. Quite a few voters need instructions. People just don't know how to vote with them.

Voting is a little slower with a few of the older people. But we don't seem to be having too much trouble.

Have had a long line most of the morning. Some voters had to wait three quarters of an hour. Just a few complaints on the machine. They were having a little difficulty with the write-ins.

I have had a few complaints but after I explain the machine to the voters they are all right. During the primary we had trouble, but the voters have become accustomed to the machines — the reaction seems quite favorable.

No, no trouble — not in comparison with the primary. We were just commenting on how nicely the voting is going.

In comparison with the primary there is much less trouble. I think they are catching on to the machines. We haven't done quite as much explaining this time.

Have had a few complaints. You know how it is when you have to wait in line.

It has been going very well. Following is a breakdown of vote totals up to noon. An adjoining column shows registration for each ward and precinct and still another for the number who had voted at this time in the 1964 general election.

Urban Renewal Vote Asked Again

The perennial question of whether and how to hold an urban renewal referendum was turned over by the City Council to its legislative committee Monday night.

Introduced by Ald. Jerry Borzyskowski, the topic bounced about several times before coming to rest.

City Council

He brushed aside objections that attorney general's opinions ruled out city expenditures for such a vote. The vote should be conducted at city general elections next April, he urged.

ALD. Harold Thiewes observed that, in his short time on the council, he had been involved in three lawsuits. In view of the opinions, he said, the City Council might well be the target of still another if it followed Ald. Borzyskowski's suggestion.

Public hearings are required before projects are started, said

Ald. Thiewes, who added that he doubts voters have enough facts on which to base judgments at this time.

Under its charter the city has no power to conduct such an advisory, said George M. Robertson Jr., city attorney. Legislative action would be required, as was the case in the 1965 school bond matter. At that time the legislature passed a special law authorizing bonding by the school district and requiring majority consent in a referendum.

COUNCIL President Harold Briesath likened the council's power to act in this matter to that of Congress, where elected representatives vote daily on expenditures of millions of dollars.

Ald. Borzyskowski maintained that a public vote would keep the council from being sued. Robertson replied that the opposite would be true since someone would almost certainly go to court to stop the city from such action.

In general, the referendum idea is favored by opponents of federally assisted renewal while it is opposed by many (but not all) advocates of renewal.

Ald. Borzyskowski then moved that the council request legislative authorization for such a referendum. Ald. James Stoltman seconded and Ald. Donald Klage moved that it be referred to the legislative committee. This motion took precedence and only Ald. Borzyskowski voted against it.

ALD. David Johnston, noting that the committee has not met for two years, asked for a list of committee members. He was named chairman when the committee was set up. Robertson pointed out that several other matters also must be considered by the committee for possible enactment by the legislature. Among these is a request for extra on-sale liquor licenses, he said, something the city sought unsuccessfully in the 1965 session.

The council plans to make 8-hour parking limits on 75 percent of the meters. Cost will be 20 cents for 8 hours and 10 cents for 4 hours of parking. About 33 meters will be changed.

The present limits are one hour for five cents or 12 minutes for a penny.

Harold Briesath, council president, and Donald Stone, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the board.

Stone said the meters produce only $1,500 a year now, and are used only about one-fifth as much as they could be used. He said there is a potential for $4,500 income under the suggested parking meter system.

The city will pay costs of changing outside plates on the meters and resetting pins in each meter head, Briesath said. This cost is not known.

Commissioner Adolph Spitzer warned against making parking fees too cheap, "or else you won't be able to find parking space there after 8 a.m." Briesath said he didn't think this would pose a problem.

The city receives 60 percent of the income from the meters and maintains the lot. The county gets 40 percent.

Stone added that the city is considering adding 150 more meters on the perimeter of the downtown area, some to be placed on Johnson Street between 4th and 5th streets, and others on 5th Street.

TWO projects by Dunn Black Top Co., were billed as single estimates and paid by the council. Paid were bills of $5,503.33 for sealcoating 3rd Street, Liberty to Huff Street, and $2,836 for sealing Broadway from Sloux to Vila Street. Both projects were eligible for payment from state maintenance aid funds.

AMOUNTS to be paid are: Winona Industries, $4,308.48; Winona Boiler & Steel Co., $1,789.04; Whitaker Marine & Manufacturing Inc., $23,389.20; Hiawatha Printing Inc., $4,133.60; Lake Center Switch Co., $7,076.99; Armour Agricultural Co., $8,263.10; and Miller Waste Mills Inc., $30,742.13.

County OKs Meter Change At Courthouse

The Winona City Council received authorization from the County Board this morning to change parking time limits and fees in the metered parking stalls in the courthouse parking lot because they aren't bringing in enough revenue.

The council plans to make 8-hour parking limits on 75 percent of the meters. Cost will be 20 cents for 8 hours and 10 cents for 4 hours of parking. About 33 meters will be changed.

Utica Accident Victims Still In Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reszka, 1185 W. 4th St., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fatchett, Davenport, Iowa, still are patients at Community Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries they received in an accident on Highway 14 near Utica late Friday afternoon.

When Reszka pulled in sharply after passing a car, it went into the north ditch, flipping end over end, officers said.

Mr. Reszka, 58, apparently went through the windshield; he has more than 200 stitches in the top of his head, his son said this morning. He still is in intensive care.

His wife, Alfrida, received a cut requiring seven stitches in the knee area of the right leg and received bruises to the other leg. Mrs. Fatchett, 24, received a bump on her head. She and her parents complain of back injuries. Mr. Fatchett, 26, also bumped on the head, received a temporary dislocation of the shoulder. It is possible the Fatchetts will be released Wednesday.

Vocational School Ready September '67

Construction of both the new Senior High School and Winona Area Vocational - Technical School buildings is "progressing well," members of the Board of Education were told Monday night and it now appears that the vocational-technical school will be completed in plenty of time to allow for occupancy at the beginning of the 1967-68 school year.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told board members that arrangements for securing equipment for the vocational-technical school are being made and progress here has been good so far. Much of the equipment will have to be ordered soon, he said, because of delivery problems.

THE HIGH SCHOOL building also is progressing on schedule, he said, and the administration is beginning to make plans for equipment purchase.

He said that it appears now that little, if any, classroom furniture will have to be purchased.

Major expenditures will be in areas such as: Library, cafeteria, foreign language laboratories, gymnasium and industrial arts areas. Furniture also will have to be purchased for the administration area.

A formal agreement now is being drafted, the superintendent said, by the board's attorneys to cover specified occupancy dates for the high school.

DIRECTORS previously had agreed to participate with the general contractor in financing costs of additional materials and labor required to permit work during the winter season on the condition that the school be completed in time for occupancy next fall.

The formal agreement will spell out what "substantial completion" means and dates by which substantial completion of designated areas must be accomplished to satisfy provisions of the agreement on cost-sharing.

5th Crash Victim Dead of Injuries

The Lewiston collision claimed its fifth victim today: William H. Roessler, 65, 377 W. King St., died at 7:40 a.m. today at Community Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Roessler, 63, had been killed in the collision at an intersection with Highway 14 Sunday afternoon.

THE TWO survivors remain in critical condition and in intensive care: Miss Maria LeDuke, 84, 550 W. King St., and Mrs. Alice L. Fuchs, 36, Johnson Creek, Wis.

Miss LeDuke was a passenger in the car driven by William H. Haack, 83, 357 Dakota, who was killed, and Mrs. Fuchs was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Elmer V. Reen, 42, Orange, Conn., who died at the hospital Monday.

Winona County has now recorded 17 traffic fatalities in 1966. Eight have been killed in the city of Winona and nine in remaining parts of the county.

Only two fatalities had been recorded through July 24, while 15 have come in slightly more than three months since then.

THE STATE traffic toll now has risen to 801, 91 above a year ago.

Dirk Persson, 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Persson of Angora, died Monday in a Duluth hospital of injuries received when the car driven by his mother crashed near Angora. Mrs. Persson escaped serious injury.

Mr. Roessler had lived in Winona about seven years. He had operated a general store in Cochrane, Wis., prior to that, and had been employed by Mrs. George Little since moving here.

He was born in the Town of Belvidere in Buffalo County, Wis., to John and Kathryn Brenner Roessler. He was a member of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church.

Survivors are: A son, Martin, Minneapolis; two granddaughters; two brothers, John, Alma, Wis., and Albert, Los Angeles, Calif., and a sister Mrs. Elmer (Bertha) Steiner, Alma, Wis. A brother has died.

FUNERAL services will be held jointly with those for Mrs. Roessler. They will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at St. Matthew's, the Rev. A. L. Menzies officiating. Burial will be in Buffalo City, Wis., Public Cemetery.

Friends may call at Fawcett Funeral Home today from 7 to 9 p.m. and Wednesday at the church from 11:30 to 1:30 p.m.

A memorial is being arranged.

Hay Fire Ends Vacation for Eleva Firemen

ELEVA, Wis. (Special) — A period of six months without fire calls to the Eleva volunteer fire department ended Sunday about 10 p.m. when it was called to the Minor Goss farm three miles southwest of Eleva on County Trunk Y to extinguish a blaze in a pile of baled hay in a field.

Firemen worked about an hour to extinguish the blaze. The hay was destroyed. Origin of the fire was unknown, but it was reported there were a number of hunters in the field that afternoon.

Sanders Recalls Close Flying Calls

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Carl E. Sanders, a World War II flier who often pilots his own plane on official trips, says he narrowly avoided airplane crashes twice during his four years in office, once when his plane just missed a head-on collision with an airliner.

Waterfowl Gone

"This fall has produced better hunting and more ducks, but mallards are still a question mark and we won't find out whether they have made a good recovery until they show up in this winter. They are scattered here. Reports indicate they were on the increase in Alberta and Saskatchewan, but the recovery was not so good in Manitoba. They are still a long ways from the high reached in the '50s.

“There are some build-ups of mallards and bluebills (lesser scaup) in the southern parts of the three western Canadian provinces, but 80 percent of the ducks have left. A big flight of both ducks and geese went through without stopping during the week.

"There was some crop damage by mallards and blackbirds this fall. Bill Flynn, a farmer at High Bluff, Manitoba, told me that blackbirds destroyed 50 percent of his oat crop. 'They are worse than ducks,' he said.

"Prospects for next year: Western Canada has had a long, dry fall, but with average snowfall, prospects are good for next year. We go home to Minneapolis today."

Minnesota Pheasants
Local hunters who ventured into Southwestern Minnesota over the weekend reported they averaged about one bird per hunter for the two days, or better than on the opening weekend. Here is the state game department's report for the opening weekend:

"Minnesota pheasant hunters enjoyed about a 20 percent improvement in hunting success on the opening day of the season as compared with last year. State game managers and game wardens checked a total of 1,368 pheasant hunters who had hunted both days of the opening weekend. The survey showed that hunters bagged an average of 1.5 birds per man in the main pheasant range for the opening weekend.

"In the main range, hunters averaged about one bird per hunter Saturday and 0.6 birds on Sunday. This compares with 0.76 birds on Saturday and 0.6 on Sunday last year. Game and Fish Division field men also reported that there were about 35 to 40 percent more hunters in the field

Nebraska Replies
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska game director Mel Steen today replied to a Minnesotan's complaint of long Nebraska hunting seasons was an invitation to go hunting.

Charles Horn of Minneapolis, chairman of the Minnesota Emergency Conservation Council, had written Steen, complaining that Nebraska's pheasant season is the longest in the nation. Horn wrote, "We cannot ever recall a more sordid example of mistreatment of wildlife."

Steen replied, "Someone has been pulling your leg, Charlie. There is plenty of game in Nebraska," and invited Horn to go hunting to prove it.

State Serviceman Dead in Viet Nam

LBJ Asks Every American to Vote

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson made the selection eve appeal to Americans Monday night:

"Tomorrow we vote. The issues are important and complex. The choice of good men is critical. I urge you, my fellow Americans, to use the right that men have died for—and that you own voice in the future of your country. Tomorrow vote."

Angola Rebel Activity Gains

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Rebel activity has sharply increased in Angola, Portugal's richest African territory, with a three-pronged attack on its borders. The calm, which set in after Portugal quashed the rebellion of 1961, has been broken by the sound of mortars on the Zambian frontier, the chatter of machine guns in the northern enclave of Cabinda and by more frequent ambushes in the unruly north.

Portugal, which exerts control over chunks of Africa 23 times the size of the mother country, has named a tough 46-year-old lieutenant colonel to take charge. Camilo R. Vaz, who, in 1961, commanded an infantry regiment of Portugal's 40,000 Angola troops, takes office as governor this month. He served five years in Vige, the kernel- province of rebel resistance.

Vaz will be directly responsible to Premier Antonio Salazar for the fortunes of Angola, an area that yields oil, diamonds, coffee, sugar, tobacco and cotton.

Vaz's toughest military problem lies in the eastern part of Angola, a wedge of rolling hills and small brush jutting into Zambia. Defense Minister Gomes de Araujo announced last month that Portuguese troops and artillery were being sent to the border after the opening of "a third front."

Rebels have made incursions deep into Angola. A recent army communique said that two persons were murdered along the Benguela railway in Vila Luso, 25 miles from the Zambian border.

The terrorists are apparently agitating along the British-owned Benguela railway which runs from the port of Lobito to the heart of the Congo-Katanga district through Zambia. It is the shortest outlet for copper, aluminum, manganese, cobalt, zinc and iron ores of the region. Portuguese officials say the rebels will fall short of cutting the railway since such action would handicap their base country, Zambia.

Board to Sell $200,000 in School Bonds

A recommendation that the $200,000 in bonds remaining unissued from the $5.98 million school bond issue authorized in 1965 be sold this fall was heard Monday night by the Winona Board of Education.

After the $5.98 issue had been approved at a referendum election in the spring of 1965 the board decided to sell only $5.78 of the authorized amount to finance construction of a new Senior High School and a building to house the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School.

IT WAS FELT at that time that if additional funds were needed to complete the two projects the remaining $200,000 could be sold. With work now in progress on both projects, the board finds that the $200,000 will be needed and a meeting was called Monday with a representative of the schools' bonding consultant, Springsted, Inc., St. Paul, to discuss possible arrangements for the sale.

The $5.78 issue had been sold at an interest rate of 3.2652 percent and is being retired over a period of 25 years.

Osmon R. Springsted told school directors Monday night that the bond market index has retreated from a high of 4.24 percent and last Thursday was at 3.73 percent.

EXPRESSING THE thought that this is a temporary situation and noting that there are those who feel that the index may rise again, Springsted suggested that now might be an opportune time to dispose of the remaining $200,000 in bonds.

He recommended that an advertisement for bids be made to allow for an opening Nov. 22. Until the bids actually come in it won't be known what the interest rate will be but Springsted said that he felt "a conservative estimate" might be around 4 percent.

It was the recommendation of the consultant that the $200,000 be retired over a 20-year period.

Since Monday's was a board committee meeting directors were not authorized to take formal action on the matter.

THERE WAS agreement,

however, that the consultant's recommendation be followed and Springsted was asked to prepare the necessary documents that will allow the board to take formal action in setting the Nov. 22 sale date at next Monday night's regular meeting.

There was tentative agreement that the bonds be retired at the rate of $10,000 a year over the term of the issue.

Power Engineers Honor Members

Six members of Winona Chapter 4, National Association of Power Engineers, were honored Saturday evening at Williams Annex for being active in the local chapter for periods of 25 years and longer.

George Eastwood, Bayport, NAPE state president, presented awards to George Heckman, 569 Dakota St.; Herman Dockweiler, Gilmore Valley Road; Randall Ehmkke, 1269 Randall St.; Cy A. Hedlund, Gilmore Valley; Glenn Alfeman, Minnesota City; and George Richman, 370 Winona St. Richman has been a member more than 40 years.

Sister Ruth Marie, administrator of St. Elizabeth's Hospital and Nursing Home, Wabasha, spoke on the topic "What to Expect of an Engineer." She is a graduate of Marian College, Fond du Lac, Wis., and did post-graduate work at Rosary College, River Forest, Ill.

Mrs. Henry E. Hull entertained on the piano during the dinner program, which was preceded by a cocktail hour. Eastwood talked briefly on the 1967 state convention to be held here in June.

Orville Keller and Joseph Votruba were chairmen for the annual event.

Husband Receives Suspended Sentence

LaVerne Pruksa, 500½ W. 5th St., pleaded guilty to a charge of assault before Judge John McGill in municipal court this morning and was given a suspended 40-day jail sentence.

The complaint had been signed by Mrs. Pruksa who said she had been beaten on Nov. 5. The judge, in suspending the sentence, warned Pruksa that there could be no more complaints of that nature and that if he were brought in again it would mean an automatic 60-day sentence.

Don't Elect Me, Candidate Says

BERLIN, N.H. (AP) — Robert Dumont, unlike thousands of political candidates awaiting the results of today's voting, hopes nobody will vote for him.

Dumont is Republican candidate for supervisor of checklists, a minor city office responsible for keeping records. He recently accepted a teaching job with New Hampshire Vocational Institute. As a state employee he can't run for public office, but he couldn't get his name off the ballot.

So on election eve, Dumont issued the plea "don't elect me."

County Adds St. Charles Street to Road System

Winona County Board of Commissioners agreed Monday to add a four-block section of St. Charles Street in the city of St. Charles to the county road system and pay for part of its construction.

The section is between the railroad tracks and Highway 14. The board said it would grant approval if sidewalks would be constructed by the city and engineering costs dropped. W. E. Agneberg, St. Charles city engineer, agreed to these terms.

COST TO the county will be about $32,000, or 40 percent of the $80,000 cost. County money will be for base and surfacing work and storm sewer construction. The city will absorb all costs for curbs and gutter work. Sidewalks will be paid for by property assessment and the city of St. Charles, Agneberg said.

The board decided to set up a 20-year or-less payment schedule.

The engineer appealed to the county board because "we've just plain run out of money."

He had applied earlier to the county highway screening committee to have this section classified as commercial so it could be added to the state aid system. His application was denied because the section passes through a residential area before reaching the commercial area of St. Charles Street which is already on the state aid system. St. Charles Street goes south from Highway 14, crosses the railroad tracks and turns east past much of the city's industry, ending on Highway 74.

The four-block section the county agreed to help with is about 10 percent of the total street improvement costs undertaken by the city this year.

AGNEBERG said about "95 percent of the city was re-done this year."

He added that, although the city bit off a big chunk of work and money, and may appear to be asking for a special favor from the board, "we won't be in your hair for a long time after this is completed."

Commissioner Adolph Spitzer, rural St. Charles, said he thought the county ought to help finance the project. The city doesn't get any gas tax money directly from the state, while townships do, he said. It's the second largest community in the county and has only five blocks of state aid mileage, Agneberg noted.

Spitzer said that although the section is residential, commercial activities are near each end and it is directly accessible to Highway 14 which is a main commercial transportation artery.

THIS explanation negated the question of having a commercial street running parallel to Highway 74 only one block away. The section will connect with state aid highway on the south end and county road system on the other end.

The city of St. Charles will do all maintenance work, Agneberg said.

Four Catholic Churches Join In Adult Classes

Four Catholic parishes in Winona are cooperating to develop a program of adult religious education, according to the Revs. Robert H. Brom and James W. Lennon, participants from the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart.

Representatives of the Cathedral and St. Mary's, St. Casimir's and St. John's parishes are involved in the effort. Father Lennon explained that the primary task of more than 50 persons, lay, religious and priests, who meet each Thursday from 7 to 8 p.m. at Cotter High School, is to provide religious education for Catholic high school students enrolled in public schools.

THEY ALSO are concerned in providing adults in the community with the opportunity to mature in their faith and in Christian living, added Father Lennon.

The family enrichment program will be offered again. Father Lennon explained that this program was developed to help married people of all faiths achieve the satisfying and positive aspects of their marriages. Its concern with problems is to consider them as snags which stand in the way of personal fulfillment within marriage, added Father Lennon.

The program, which consists of six sessions of taped lectures by Urban Steinmetz, will be offered on six consecutive Tuesdays starting today from 8:30 to 10 p.m. at the Cathedral's Holy Family Hall. Topics will include "Communications in the Home," "The Role of Sex in Marriage" and "The Education of Children."

A series of six talks on the sacraments will be the second phase of the adult religious education program. Topics to be explained at Cotter High School Thursday evenings from 8:30 to 10 starting this week will be "The Notion of What a Sacrament Is," "The Eucharist," "The Sacrament of Penance" and "The Sacrament of Matrimony."

Each of the two phases in the program of adult religious education has a small registration fee.

TOPICS of current interest will be discussed at various times. "The Contemporary Experience of God" will be the subject Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at Cotter High School with Brother K. Basil, St. Mary's College, as moderator. Panelists will include the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William Magee, the Rev. Gerald Conway and Brother Frederick, all of St. Mary's College, and Ulic Scott, College of St. Catherine, St. Paul.

Father Lennon explained that the speakers will attempt to dispel contemporary doubts as to the existence of God by first explaining modern atheism and then pointing out its deficiencies. There is no charge for this phase of the program.

ACCIDENT CORRECTION Ownership of two cars involved in a Saturday accident at Clark's Lane and Highway 61 was transposed by mistake in Monday's story. The car driven by Vernon A. Mahaffey, 360 Vine St., was moving across the highway, headed north, and that of Joseph L. Brown, Rochester, was moving west on the highway at the time of impact.

Dog Alerts Child to Fire

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — The family dog on the Rudy Rombalski farm near Pigeon Falls barked so loud one night recently that Barbara, 14, who was home alone, went outside to investigate.

She found that fire had started in the basement of the house.

She called the Pigeon Falls fire department. When firemen arrived, flames had burned out the interior of the basement. The two upper stories were damaged from smoke and heat. It became so hot that window panes cracked all over the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Rombalski usually take all six of their foster children with them when they go to La Crosse for Mr. Rombalski's appointment with a doctor. This time Barbara decided to remain at home to study for the next day's history test. The dog saw the flames about 7:30 p.m.

The Rombalskis are living temporarily on the Lawrence Tomter farm. They are sleeping in beds borrowed from St. Joseph's Hospital, Arcadia, but still are in need of quilts and pillows.

Fire isn't new to them. Three years ago the barn on their place two miles southeast of Pigeon Falls was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

Education Adds Up To Self-Reliance

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of guest editorials by Winona civic leaders in connection with American Education Week, Nov. 6-12.)

By DR. M. L. DeBOLT
Board Chairman, Hiawatha Valley
Mental Health Center

A PERSON RISES to full stature only as the demands upon him challenge him to rise. Without responsibility, growth can never be complete.

Unquestioningly, the single, most important prerequisite to achieving self-reliance in modern times is education. Through education, one acquires a sense of values that encourages him to undertake the essential responsibilities. Through education, one develops the power of rational thinking that enables him to understand the world as it is today and the changes technology will bring tomorrow. Education can provide a basis for free choice and free action by instilling awareness of both one's capabilities and one's limitations.

Self-reliance means that each person must carve out a meaningful, self-fulfilling and consciously directed life.

I would like to share with you what I think is one of the most important challenges that society must meet. This challenge is the necessity for accepting change and devising ways to meet it. Changes can not be effectively met by conservatism, nor by professionalism, nor by adopting revolutionary tactics and methods. The wisdom that helps us to adapt to change comes slowly through a balanced development of the individual. This balanced development can come to us only through a liberal education.

WE, IN WINONA and its surrounding area, are particularly blessed with educational facilities that offer a liberal education. Our very progressive parochial and public schools, with their excellent faculties, provide the latest in educational methods. The local administrators are obviously aware of the changes and have been instrumental in seeking their introduction into our local schools. This is also considered a compliment to the local School Board, who will judiciously review the proposals and give its loyal support if it be of community value and if in their good judgment it warrants consideration.

The parents should assume some responsibility in developing self-reliance among our children and grandchildren. I would admonish you not to leave all of the education to the schools, but there is a definite area of responsibility that only you and I, as a parent, can properly and adequately discharge.

IN SPITE OF all of the education that a person might secure, he is not a master of the whole culture. Each man lives a fragment of it. Education is more than the sum of its parts. Education compounds itself into ever more rich implications when education adds up to self-reliance. The development of self-reliance through education will contribute depth, richness, and direction to your life. A liberal education in a rapidly changing world is to help us "neither to conform nor to destroy, but to want to, and to know how to, transform and fulfill."

Scenic Areas Need Modern Highways

(St. Paul Pioneer Press)

ISSUANCE OF A special 5-cent stamp publicizing the Great River Road that runs from New Orleans to Lake of the Woods is another national recognition of the potentials of this ambitious highway project. Following the general course of the Mississippi from the Gulf to the Minnesota headwaters and on into Canada, the parkway holds great promise for tourist use and enjoyment.

However, it will take many years of effort by the Midcontinent states to bring all the route up to desired standards of beauty and utility. Minnesota and Wisconsin have developed some of the finest portions. In Minnesota, U.S. 61 from Red Wing to La Crescent and La Crosse keeps close to the river and provides outstanding scenery. Wisconsin likewise has developed its Trunk Highway 35 to attractive standards along the east bank from Hager City down to Prairie du Chien. Possibly only Minnesota's famous North Shore Drive along Lake Superior from Duluth to the Canadian border offers as much spectacular scenery for motorists in this region.

The popularity of these three stretches of highway suggests that both Minnesota and Wisconsin are neglecting other comparable opportunities for scenic river routes which would have great attraction for visitors from throughout the Midwest as well as for local residents.

The St. Croix River, for example, is one of America's most beautiful, yet neither state has developed routes taking advantage of the spectacular scenic opportunities except at a few points such as Stillwater and Taylors Falls. Minnesota's Trunk Highway 95 parallels the St. Croix all the way from Point Douglas near Hastings to Taylors Falls, but it is located so far back from the river that motorists rarely get a view of the stream and its picturesque wooded valley. At least some way should be found to provide public access to lookout sites along the edge of the bluffs.

ON THE WISCONSIN side the story is the same. From Hager City north all the

Hassle Between Nixon and LBJ

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are some nice ironies in the hassle between President Johnson and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. And now it's a question of who got under whose skin.

Johnson looked irritated. But so did Nixon. Although Johnson isn't saying so, two actions he took can be interpreted as undercutting a Nixon suggestion and refuting a Nixon prediction.

Last Aug. 7 Nixon said he saw no possibility of a negotiated settlement of the Vietnamese war and called for a "substantial increase" in American ground forces in Viet Nam and stepped up bombing in the North.

ON SEPT. 11 he was saying there was a grave danger the administration would go overboard in increasing American forces in Viet Nam. And, although he had said he saw no possibility of a negotiated settlement, he switched.

On Aug. 23 Nixon joined other Republicans in urging an all-Asia peace conference, although Peking, Hanoi and the Viet Cong had rejected the idea.

Then Johnson announced he was going to a Manila conference with the leaders of six Asian and Pacific nations: Australia, New Zealand, South Viet Nam, Thailand, South Korea and the Philippines.

THIS WAS NOT exactly the Asian conference Nixon might have had in mind, but it was a conference between the United States and its Pacific allies in Viet Nam.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford frankly said Johnson's decision to go to Manila with Asian nations had undercut the Republicans' proposals for an all-Asian conference.

way to Taylors Falls there is no highway providing a consistent opportunity to view the St. Croix except at a few towns on the banks.

Tourist interest studies usually show scenic highways among the top attractions. Pleasure motoring is often called the nation's No. 1 form of recreation. This being the case, Minnesota and Wisconsin are wasting some of their most valuable scenic assets by keeping them hidden from the driving public.

ADMITTEDLY, highway engineers have their hands full trying to build enough roads to get people and trucks from one point to another in the shortest possible time. And they have some fine scenic routes to their credit. But as an overall objective, it would seem that both Minnesota and Wisconsin could do more in the way of long-range planning to open up parkways and scenic overlooks where there are special opportunities.

'I Didn't Really Mean All Those Nasty Things I Said About You!'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

J. Edgar Hoover Chief Issue in Nevada Election

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The man running for governor of Nevada today, in effect, is J. Edgar Hoover. He has become the No. 1 issue in the race between Gov. Grant Sawyer, Democrat, who has criminally prosecuted the FBI for illegally using electronic listening devices, and Paul Laxalt, Republican, who is running against him.

Laxalt defends Hoover as untouchable, contends that he can do no wrong, and has demanded that Gov. Sawyer publicly apologize for his criticism of Hoover.

Instead of apologizing, Gov. Sawyer has intensified his criticism and written Hoover a letter asking for detailed proof that the FBI chief had caught any members of the underworld "skimming" — illegally pocketing part of the Las Vegas gambling take — for the purpose of financing underworld crime.

Sawyer's criticism of Hoover puts him in a unique position. So far, no other public official except Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall has had the guts to take on the 72-year-old FBI chief who keeps the secret files of all government officials and has the power to investigate them.

THE SOLICITOR general stood up in the Supreme Court on June 13 to report the fact that Hoover had been using listening devices indiscriminately and without authority from the attorney general for an undisclosed number of years. As a result scores of excellent government prosecutions will have to be dropped.

Among these, the income tax conviction of Fred Black was reversed because the FBI had placed a bug in his Carlton Hotel suite in Washington; and the indictments of Bobby Baker are certain to be quashed because, again, the FBI used listening devices to collect evidence.

None of the senators who had castigated Bobby Baker rose to criticize the police state snooping methods of J. Edgar Hoover which nullified the case against him. And Sen. Ed Long of Missouri, chairman of a Senate Committee on Snooping, was strangely silent.

Long had harassed and bullied Commissioner Sheldon Cohen when some of his Internal Revenue agents were found to be indulging in a much more modified type of eavesdropping. But when it came to criticizing J. Edgar Hoover, the senator from Missouri put his tail between his legs and shut up.

Goff Trial Recessed For 2 Days

ST. PAUL (AP) — The politically-spiced trial of Sydney W. Goff, St. Paul lawyer charged with accepting an illegal political contribution, has been recessed for two days.

Testimony was concluded Monday but final arguments and a decision by Judge Arthur A. Stewart were delayed until after today's election. The case resumes at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

The 56-year-old Goff is charged with violating the Minnesota Corrupt Practices Act which prohibits corporations from making political donations.

Republicans made the case a campaign issue because of Goff's longtime connection with the Democratic - Farmer - Labor Party. The $200 check drawn upon corporate funds was made nearly two years ago. It went into the campaign coffers of Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag and Sen. Walter F. Mondale, but was later returned.

After calling five witnesses, the defense rested Monday afternoon. Defense Attorney John Daubney then asked for the delay to prepare legal arguments and to obtain a transcript of portions of the testimony.

Stewart, who is hearing the case without a jury, granted the request and added:

"I said at the close of the state's case that the court was satisfied this was corporation money. I suppose at that stage of the proceedings there was no question about it. That does not foreclose you from arguing something shown since. I rather doubt it, but you are not foreclosed from arguing this point."

$500,000 in Gems Taken From Store

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A downtown jewelry store was still adding up its losses today after a crew of expert burglars made off with diamonds valued at more than $500,000.

Police said the burglars gained access to Coleman E. Adler & Sons, Inc., by cutting a hole in the roof — then opened the big vault inside with acetylene torches. The store burglary alarms were bypassed.

For Students Who Work Too Hard

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
University of S. Calif.

Some students are under-achievers even though their grades are satisfactory. I am referring to those who work too hard.

These students sometimes spend so much time studying that they neglect the recreations necessary for good mental and physical health.

Some express no interest in college, and understandably so. If college means more years of the same struggle they are putting in to make satisfactory grades in high school they lack the courage to attempt it. With I.Q.'s sufficiently high and financing available, they could — and should — be aiming at professional careers.

I have discussed study procedures with many such stu-

North Viet Nam Invasion Forecast By Ramparts Editor

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — "Escalation of the Administration's peace offensive is always followed by an escalation of the war," the editor of Ramparts, a liberal Catholic magazine, said Monday night, in predicting American soldiers will soon invade North Viet Nam.

"The President's Asian tour stepped up the peace offensive about as much as possible. Now it's the war's turn," Edward Keating told a news conference prior to a teach-in at the University of Minnesota.

The session featuring five speakers was sponsored by the Minnesota Committee to End the War in Viet Nam.

Keating said the invasion may come in a few weeks or a few months.

Comedian Joe Lewis Suffers Stroke

A spokesman for Sunrise Hospital, where Lewis was taken, described the stroke as "very mild" and said Lewis, 64, was in good condition.

Hamilton Has Pre-Draft Examination

MUNICH, Germany (AP) —

Actor George Hamilton worked on a movie until 4:30 a.m. today, then 3½ hours later went to the U.S. Army area command headquarters for predraft medical examinations.

Hamilton, a frequent escort of Lynda Bird Johnson, left patients at the local Army hospital agog as he walked into a private examination room wearing a sandy yellow suit.

"Wish me luck," he told newsmen but made no other comment.

Military police drove him to the hospital in a staff car after he took a mental examination at the command headquarters.

The 27-year-old movie star has been in Munich since Oct. 10 filming "Jack of Diamonds," a German-American production.

Hamilton's romance with the President's older daughter has caused much criticism of his deferment from active service on the ground that his mother is dependent on him.

Last month, his New York draft board ordered him to take a physical "to get all the information possible into his record." A spokesman said at the time that even if Hamilton were found physically fit, he would not necessarily be drafted.

Heart Pump Patient Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Artificial heart pump patient Charles Victorien Maboge, 38, died early today at Methodist Hospital 11 days after undergoing surgery.

A statement issued by the hospital said the warehouse worker from Rochefort, Belgium, died of liver and kidney failure. The statement said the malfunctioning of the kidneys and liver was the result of a prolonged serious heart condition he had suffered before undergoing the operation.

The Belgian has been in critical condition since Sunday.

Maboge received the pump Oct. 28, plus three plastic heart valves as replacements for his own diseased valves. He had been conscious and listed in satisfactory condition until a crisis developed early Saturday.

Minnesotan Heads Viet Air Strikes

OVER TAY NINH PROVINCE, South Viet Nam (AP) — The camouflaged jet fighter-bomber leveled off near treetop, spewing a shower of round, brown objects.

In the howling wake of the F100 Super Sabre jet, the close-packed green jungle exploded.

From the cockpit of this "bird dog," an Air Force forward air controller and this reporter watched the deadly cluster bombs hit home with a spray of killer pellets.

"That was just great," exclaimed a voice on the spotter plane's sputtering radio. It was the commander of a U.S. infantry battalion deployed around the edges of the expanse of jungle.

The controller, Air Force Capt. David Halvorsen of Montevideo, Minn., said a battalion of perhaps 500 Viet Cong hardcore regulars was hiding under the heavy tree canopy.

His mission, and that of the fighter-bombers whose fire he directed was to soften up that battalion with high explosive, antipersonnel and napalm ordnance.

This was one corner of the battle of Tay Ninh Province which began last Thursday in a region long a Communist stronghold.

Nothing could be seen of the Communist soldiers shielded by layers of tropical growth 1,500 feet below the circling "bird dog."

But the U.S. operation commander — "Atlas 6" — was sure the Reds were there. U.S. infantrymen of the 196th Brigade had made contact.

Within three hours, U.S. and South Vietnamese fighter bombers loosed four air strikes on this mile-square patch of jungle.

With purple, yellow and red smoke markers to guide them, the F100s screamed in one at a time, crisscrossed the tree cover with their bombs, then climbed into the lowering afternoon sun.

"A little bit to the right," Halvorsen coached into his microphone. "A little bit to the right of the smoke."

That's just where the next plane dumped its load, leaving behind a tall pillar of white smoke.

Next came the planes with napalm, the jellied gasoline that incinerates all it touches.

"Do you want this in any particular place?" a Super Sabre pilot asked.

"Generally on that trail we've been shooting over," Halvorsen replied.

In a moment, an F100 in mottled green and tan battle dress streaked low over the trail. Behind it, great sheets of red-orange flames engulfed trees, bushes and grass.

Halvorsen's job was done for the day.

Tomorrow, it would be up to the infantry.

Lowering the age break between cadet and senior Scouting was one of the discussions held at the National Girl Scout Council meeting in Detroit, Mich., attended by Mrs. Ruth Reynolds Lucas, Winona.

The issue of changing the age level is to be taken under advisement and will be studied in the next three-year period, she said.

Chautauqua Club Hears Discussion Of Federal Program

Chautauqua Club welcomed two new members, Mrs. R. C. Houts and Mrs. P. A. Mattison, when the group met at the home of Mrs. T. W. Smeed Monday afternoon. Mrs. S. J. Potters, who presided at the meeting, introduced the new members. Mr. Keith Larson, coordinator of the federally-financed Reading Improvement Program, explained the program to the group. The key to the program is understanding while reading, he said. Students with good potential but handicapped by reading difficulties are selected to participate in the special training. This, of course, requires sociological adjustment, psychological considerations, visual and hearing examinations, he said. Mr. Larson indicated that all the schools of Winona are participating with about 15 teachers involved. There are many objectives besides improvement in reading, he said. These include the creation of interest levels and hopefully the prevention of school dropouts. Mrs. Richard Smith poured tea as dessert was served.

"Peace With Honor" is the theme of this year's Veterans day celebration Friday.

Mayor Rudy K. Ellings has called on all Winona citizens, business enterprises, veterans organizations, city officials and schools to observe Veterans Day.

ARRANGEMENTS for Winona's participation were completed at a meeting at the American Legion Memorial Club. The annual parade will form at the Legion Club at 10:30 a.m. march up 3rd to Lafayette, south on Lafayette to 4th, west on 4th to Main, north on Main to 3rd and east on 3rd to Center where the traditional observance will be held at 11 a.m.

Units participating in the parade will include Leon J. Wetzel Post 9, American Legion; Neville-Lien Post 1287, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Winona Barracks, World War I Veterans; 419th Civil Affairs Company, USAR; Company B, 135th Infantry Reg.; Company B, National Guard; Marine Corps League, Naval Reserve personnel and the Winona Gold Star Mothers who will be present at the downtown observance.

Mass colors from the participating units and a combined firing squad and color guards from the VFW, American Legion, Marine Corps and Naval Reserve will lead the parade.

FOLLOWING the ceremony the units will march back to the Legion Club and will proceed from there to the Winona Daily News for a flag dedication ceremony.

The Gold Star Mothers will then be transported to the Winona Senior High School for the program there featuring Adm. H. A. Yeager, Commandant of the Ninth Naval District, Great Lakes, Ill.

An invitation has been extended to servicemen home on leave to take part in the march. Families of servicemen in Viet Nam will be entertained at the Legion Club at noon.

William King, representing the 419th; Lt. Richard Kluzik, representing the National Guard, and Gerald Van Pelt, representing the VFW Mad Bombers.

London Hears Beatles May Be Breaking Up

LONDON (AP) — Amid reports that the Beatles may be breaking up, a spokesman for the mop-topped singing group said today they have no plans to appear together in the near future.

Brian Epstein, the quartet's manager, last week turned down an invitation for them to appear in a special television program for the benefit of residents of the Welsh village of Aberlan, where more than 140 persons were killed last month by an avalanche of coal mine waste.

In the past year they have struck out more and more on their own. John Lennon, 26, has been making a movie in Spain and

Council to Buy 130 More Meters

The City Council voted Monday night to implement a few of the downtown parking recommendations submitted over the past three years by Chamber of Commerce committees, consulting engineers and the City Planning Commission.

The council's action was preceded by more than an hour of oratorical bloodletting and invective — spangled debate.

ALDERMEN voted to seek bids for 130 new self-winding meters. Rates will go to 10 cents an hour on 3rd Street meters, between Main and Center, and on those in the new Center Street lot.

Only one 12-minute meter, instead of two, will be left at the end of each block and the new rate will be two cents for 12 minutes, or six minutes for one penny. Duncan meters now on free trial at the 2nd Street lot will be moved to the new lot.

Another 15 will be obtained and the whole group will be tried out through the winter. According to agreements, the city is not obligated to buy the meters when trial periods end.

County commissioners will be asked to approve changeover of three-fourths of the courthouse lot meters to 10-hour limits at 2½ cents per hour rates. Parking meters will be taken off the east side of Lafayette Street, between 4th and 5th, with spaces reserved for city vehicles. Ordinances covering installation of new meters at several points will be prepared for action at the next meeting.

OPPOSITION to most of the recommendations was raised by Ald. James Stoltman, chairman of the parking and safety committee. Although his committee held a long conference Oct. 20 with backers of the new plan, and voted to approve its points, he had declined to enter a committee report on Monday night's council agenda.

Presiding at a committee meeting prior to the regular council session Monday, Ald. Stoltman reopened the topic and uncorked a series of objections he had raised unsuccessfully at other sessions.

He began by saying downtown businessmen do not want higher meter rates. Many of them think this would be injurious and that employers themselves can solve the problem of meter feeding at choice downtown parking lots, according to Ald. Stoltman.

Musical Units On Veterans Day Program Friday

Veterans Day observance will begin at 1:30 p.m. at Winona Senior High School Auditorium this Friday with Rear Admiral Howard A. Yeager, the featured speaker.

Admiral Yeager is commandant of the Ninth Naval District with headquarters at the Great Lakes Naval Base, Ill. He will fly to Winona and land at Max Conrad Field at 1 p.m. Friday.

The program will include march music by the Senior High School band, an American Legion color guard, a pledge to the flag led by Miss Cindi Buswell and singing of the national anthem by the audience.

Following the invocation by Rev. Glen Quam of the McKinley Methodist Church, the band will play "Nearer My God to Thee" and the choir, directed by Meryl Nichols, will sing "Battle Hymn of Republic."

The introduction of the guests will be made by R. H. Smith, principal of the Winona Public High School, and the introduction of the speaker will be made by A. L. Nelson, superintendent.

After Admiral Yeager's address, the program will be concluded with the singing of "America" by the entire audience.

cent, added Wayne Himrich-chamber president, but general feeling is that the plan is good and should pay off debts created by improvements.

Ald. George Garber and Barry Nelson concurred that the "whole idea is to create parking. A higher rate on choice spots means that people will pay more for extra conveniences."

"Some people won't like a 10-cent rate in the new lot but these same people pay 20 cents an hour and $5 fines in other communities," Stone said. Better parking is needed for downtown economic health, he added, and this is the only way to get the money. Stone told aldermen that studies show Winona well below many other cities in the state in revenue from fines, even though most of them charge 50 cents compared with the $1 fee here.

RAISING the fine if unpaid within 48 hours should be considered, suggested Council President Harold Briesath. Furthermore, he added, small pay boxes should be attached to meters at several locations so a driver could pay his fine without going to police headquarters.

The boxes would not work in Winona, predicted Ald. Stoltman, because it has a large population of young people. In these boisterous ranks are many who might be tempted to break open the boxes for the money, he said.

Stone replied that these fears seem groundless in view of statements by the chief of police that Winona has a relatively low crime rate.

Lease Renewed For Used Car Lot at Jail

Winona County Board of Commissioners settled several property matters at its opening session Monday afternoon.

The board accepted a letter giving notice of renewal of a five-year lease on part of the Western Motor Sales used car parking lot on West 3rd Street to the west of the jail.

THE LEASE on the 25-foot strip will be renewed effective March 6, 1967, upon terms agreed to in the original contract. Rent is $300 a year. The original contract granted option to renew for three five-year terms at the same rate if the county board would be notified four months in advance of the renewal date.

The county can cancel at the end of each five-year period. An application for homestead classification and reduction of taxable value was granted to Woodrow T. and Amelia Nagle, 1164 W. 5th St., from $1,840 to $1,240.

An application for reduction of taxable value from $5,735 to $4,665 was granted John Flanigan, Houston, Minn. His property is in New Hartford Township.

A letter from the Winona County Historical Society thanking the board for the $3,000 annual grant was filed.

A LETTER from Roger Poole, Lewiston village attorney, confirmed assessment for curb and gutter work in the village. The county share of payments will be $900 for 180 feet of work.

A petition for annexation of the 38 acres on which the new Lewiston High School stands has been prepared. The property now is in Utica Township and will be annexed to the village. The board approved the petition, so a hearing may not be needed.

Advertisement for a new Winona County agricultural inspector was authorized. A new salary schedule also was approved: He will receive $200 monthly plus $50 monthly for mileage.

George Hoss, the present inspector, resigned in October. He was paid $1.50 an hour plus mileage and meals.

THE BOARD discussed making the job full-time, hourly versus monthly wages, desired age of an inspector and qualifications. Commissioners first considered making the job full time and paying at least $300 a month base pay. After deciding that no able-bodied young man would work for that wage, they left it at a part-time job in hopes that a semi-retired or retired man would accept.

They did not set a maximum age limit, doubting that anyone would apply if such a restriction were added. The job was not made full time because the work is extremely seasonal.

ed taking meters off Lafayette Street near City Hall. Since official city cars usually park there, and since they are not subject to parking fines, the meters produce little revenue, he noted. The spaces should be reserved for city vehicles and the meters moved to other locations, he said. The proposal was later accepted.

Previously it had been suggested that the city lease space in the Red Owl parking lot for exclusive use of city vehicles. Removing street meters would be more economical, said Ald. Nelson, since the food store management's rental price would be $5 per month per space.

Vigorous protests against the plan to equip the new lot fully with trial meters came from Ald. Stoltman. There are 55 usable meters in the maintenance shop now, he said. Ald. Briesath said the new lot will have 44 spaces and that some of the existing meters will go back to the 2nd Street lot. Ald. Stoltman argued that in any free trial plan the city eventually finds itself stuck with the merchandise, like it or not. Trial street light installations on 3rd Street are an example, he cried.

PRESSING for passage in the regular session later, President Briesath reminded the council it had spent $1,800 on a study which includes these recommendations. His admonitions were punctuated by still another exchange between Ald. Stoltman and Garber on the merits of free trial agreements.

Voting in favor were Ald. Briesath, Nelson, David Johnston, Garber, Henry Parks, Harold Thiewes, and Donald Klage. Opposed were Ald. Stoltman and Jerry Borzyskowski.

Have you ever thought that you may not expect enough, and as a result you're falling short on your fair share of the better things in life?

A fellow by the name of Bruce Barton once said, "The days are rich. Life is rich, and most of us fail not so much from lack of ability, as from lack of imagination and faith. We are afraid to think in large enough terms, afraid to ask for enough."

Here now is a key to success, but only a proportionate few will even now take hold of it for themselves. Like the man said, it isn't that our times are bad, life poor, and we personally lack the proper make-up to succeed. It's that a person tends to limit himself by holding in his mind a concept of not only being a common person, but he seems to feel he is most common of the common.

NOW THINK about this. You may have a great deal going for you. With a good mind, a functional body, some imagination, and faith, you can soon be on the road to something great. It's getting old by now, for so many have said it in one way or another, but it is so true. "What the mind can believe, the mind can also achieve."

A young married man saw a picture of a house he would like to own. Now he lacked the money to buy it, and in the realm of reality, as most of us know it at the best, the idea of owning that house should have only caused him despair because he didn't have the where-withall. But not so. He read the ads, imagined he and his wife owning it, and at a late hour of night was so motivated, he called two other men just to tell them about the ad and how he thought he would like to own that place somewhere, somehow. He clipped the coupon and mailed it in. Any day now a representative of the firm that pre-cuts these houses will be calling on him.

STRANGE AS it may seem, owning that house can be a reality for this young dreamer if he really believes he can achieve this feat. He wouldn't have gotten so excited, nor would he have shared it with two other fellows if he didn't believe he would somehow find a way to fulfill his ambition. I'm not suggesting he be foolhardy, I'm equally sure that before he gets that home, he'll earn the right to have it. Yet, it is possible.

I like seeing people who are not afraid to go after their dreams with real purpose and intent. Perhaps the power of the idea that "what the mind can conceive, the mind can achieve," is more quickly comprehended by seeing it from the negative point of view, simply this.

SEEING THE ad about the house the young man could have conceived the idea he could never be fortunate enough to own a place like that. Now if he feels he could never own it, what's to motivate him to try, and without making an effort, it's certain he never would achieve such ownership.

If you believe you have the capabilities to do a thing, the chances are very good you do have. So don't be afraid to think in large enough terms, or to ask for enough. And have faith you will realize your goals as long as you're willing to pay the price of working to those ends. The question is, are you asking enough of yourself and life?

Miserable Weather in Many Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A variety of miserable weather covered more than half the nation this Election Day — sub-zero cold, snow, rain, thunderstorms and fog.

Snow was falling today in at least 10 states from eastern Nevada to the north shore of Lake Superior, and North Dakota got bitter cold along with it. The temperature was 5 below at Devils Lake this morning. Bismarck's one below was a record for the date.

Heavy-snow warnings were posted for southeastern Montana.

Accumulations by dawn measured as much as three inches in western South Dakota and four inches in parts of Nevada.

The rain area lay to the east and south of the snow, and ran from Southern California and the southern plateau region to New England. The Ohio Valley had thundershowers.

The cold front that brought in the snows and rains dropped in to Kansas during the early morning, when temperatures were in the 60s in the southern part of the state but in the 20s in the northwest.

Except for some morning fog along the Gulf Coast, the southeastern quarter of the nation had continued warm and mostly sunny weather. Temperatures Monday reached the 80s on the southern Plains and a record for the date of 73 at St. Joseph, Mo.

burg's Jesse Boyd Elementary School wrote short themes on "If I Were Governor" on the eve of today's elections.

Many of the children said they would work to help Negroes. Almost all said teen-agers should not drive. One positively would pass a law to "higher children's allowances."

Disaster Teams Keep Watch Along the Po

ROME (AP) — Disaster teams manned the dikes around the clock today in the Po River delta, fighting to keep Italy's mightiest river from unleashing new floods.

Earth-moving machinery, bucket cranes, sandbags, picks, shovels and floodlights were thrown into the feverish operation south of Venice. The Po rose about an inch an hour during the night.

Only about 4,000 of the delta's 10,000 inhabitants had left their homes Monday night, but increased concern over the resistance of the dikes caused the number of evacuees to mount.

Rescue and relief work continued full scale throughout five regions of northern and central Italy stricken in last weekend's unprecedented floods. The economy of one-third of the nation was wrecked, and a Cabinet meeting was called today to form an emergency aid plan.

Military helicopters flew 800 missions Monday with food and medicine to persons stranded in precarious locations.

Columns of trucks carried huge plastic bags of fresh water to communities whose pipelines were broken or contaminated.

Interior Minister Paolo Emilio Taviani told Parliament there were 72 identified dead and 35 missing but casualty reports were far from complete. Estimates of the dead ran as high as 300.

In Florence, storehouse of many of Italy's Renaissance art treasures, the Arno River took a heavy toll of paintings, antique manuscripts, rare books and records. Scholars and curators dug through the slime and mud left in the city's museums and art galleries to compile a list of the damaged art treasures and to salvage what they could. Re-

Hoffa Settles 5 Tax Claims

DETROIT (AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamster Union, settled five civil income tax claims totaling more than $100,000 for $24,371.62 in U.S. Tax Court here today.

A sixth claim was continued. Hoffa's wife, Josephine, was a party to all six.

The government alleged deficiencies in the years 1952-56-57-58-59 and 1960.

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service in Detroit said the settlement for 1952 was $4,036.70 on a claim of $6,000; $7,733.16 for a 1956 claim of $9,000; $3,529.91 on $14,000 for 1957; $2,879.99 on $20,000 for 1958; $3,197.29 on $20,000 for 1959, and $2,994.57 on $32,000 for 1960.

Area Projects Included In Wisconsin Road Plan

MADISON, Wis.—The Wisconsin Highway Commission has announced proposed expenditures of $143,882,900 for highways during 1967.

The total includes proposed expenditures of $79,056,100 on the state trunk system and federal aid urban "off system" projects; $34,826,000 on the interstate system, and $10,000-

By comparison the 1966 program will add $114,000,000 in improvements to the highways by the end of this year.

DEAR ABBY:

Friend's Hobby Going Too Far

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a best friend I'll call "Agatha," who has come in for a lot of criticism behind her back because she takes her knitting everywhere she goes. People say Agatha is very rude because she sits in company, knitting away without even picking her head up or saying a word.

What they don't know is that Agatha knits all the time so she won't have to look people in the eye or say anything. You see, she is terribly shy, Abby, and self-conscious.

Please print this so Agatha's friends will understand why she knits all the time, and maybe they will be more understanding and quit criticizing her.

AGATHA'S FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If you really want to help Agatha, tell her to leave her knitting home and to make an effort to contribute something to the conversation. She needs desperately to build her self-confidence. If Agatha continues to use her knitting needles for "crutches," she'll become even more socially handicapped.

DEAR ABBY: Someone gave me what is supposed to be a thoroughbred German police dog. I have the papers on him, but the older this dog gets the more he looks like a mutt. How about this?

Abby

DEAR WONDERING: Don't be deceived by his looks. Maybe he's in the secret service.

DEAR ABBY: I am a recent divorcee with an unusual problem. My husband's parents are the most wonderful people I have ever known. I couldn't love my own parents more than I love "moms" and "pops," which is what I've always called my in-laws.

Pops paid for my lawyers when I divorced their no-good son, who must have been a throw-back to the apes, but I won't go into that. I am welcome to visit their ranch any time I wish. As an ex-daughter-in-law, what should I call them? And how do I introduce these grand, generous people who were once my in-laws?

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Continue to call them "moms" and "pops" if you wish. And introduce them by their names. And if, and when, further identification seems necessary, they are your "former in-laws."

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALL WHO HAVE SOMEONE IN VIET NAM: Place a five-cent stamp on a plain envelope and your letter will get there fast as AIR MAIL. DO NOT write AIR MAIL on the envelope, and DO NOT use a red, white and blue edged air mail envelope, or your letter will be returned to you for additional postage. P.S. And be sure to use the APO zip number.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

300,000 Crows At Kuala Lumpur

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Residents of the picturesque town of Klang have a problem — crows — some 300,000 of them, by estimate.

A visitor can see them perched ready to swoop, on trees, walls and even on the gold-domed palace of the sultan. Hardest hit are the open air markets. "They dart down in swarms and steal anything before you can say shoo," one stallkeeper complained.

Housewives have had items snatched out of their hands.

A municipal law says shooting below eye level is unlawful and it seems somebody told the crows. The sight of a gun brings them quickly to the ground. The game warden has offered a reward of 30 cents per dead crow. So far this year only 56 has been paid.

Man Will Fly to Boston to Vote

BOSTON (AP) — John W. McGarry will have a long trip to vote today.

McGarry, chief counsel to the Congressional Election Commission in Washington, expected to be in California this week, and so applied for an absentee ballot.

He never received the absentee ballot and because the law allows only one to a voter, he couldn't get another.

Secretary of State Kevin H. White said Monday he had word that McGarry would fly to Boston, his legal residence, to vote — then fly back to California.

500,000 in federal aid interstate funds; a $26,500,000 interstate bonding program, and approximately $15 million per year for the accelerated improvement of the arterial system and designated freeways.

Among 1967 projects on the interstate system are the letting of the final contracts to open I-94 between Black River Falls and Tomah in 1968, and additional work in I-90 between La Crosse and Tomah will begin.

The section of I-94 between Eau Claire and Black River Falls will be completed late next year.

Projects planned for the La Crosse District 5 area and their estimated costs are as follows by counties:

Alma Park Gets Federal Grant

ALMA, Wis. — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall has announced a $1,716 federal grant for Rieck's Lake Park at Alma, made available from the Land and Water Conservation Fund which is administered by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

The project, which is under the direction of Mayor Alan Kirchner of Alma, will consist of several developments to meet the needs of the public.

New camping, picnicking and playground facilities will be added to the park, which already offers camping and access to Rieck's Lake and the Mississippi River. It is popular because of its location on the Great River Road. It is about 80 miles from the Twin Cities and 60 miles north of La Crosse. It has been overcrowded with campers on some occasions.

Better roads to the park, a new softball diamond, additional playground equipment and 15 new campsites will help meet the growing demand.

The Land and Water Conservation Fund is supported by revenues from the sale of $7 Golden Passport and other federal recreation entrance and user fees, sale of surplus federal real property, and federal motorboat fuels taxes.

India Police Forces Due For Changes

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi was today reported preparing to name Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan, who reorganized the Indian army after its defeat by Red China in 1962, to do a similar job on India's beleaguered police forces.

A source close to Mrs. Gandhi said Home Minister Gulzari Lal Nanda, whose ministry controls the police and investigative agencies, had offered his resignation in the wake of New Delhi's rioting Monday, worst in nearly two decades.

Nanda, India's acting prime minister after the deaths of both Jawaharlal Nehru and Lal Bahadur Shastri, was blamed for failing to prevent the bloody rampage in the capital Monday. Seven persons were killed and 500 were injured as thousands of Hindus demanding a national ban on the slaughtering of cows roamed the streets in an orgy of arson, destruction and looting.

City officials estimated the damage at more than $1 million, including the burning of 250 cars, 100 motor scooters and six municipal buses.

With mob violence growing increasingly more frequent over the country, the executive committee of the ruling Congress party's parliamentary body took the government to task and censured Nanda. One of the party's most influential politicians, Atulya Ghosh, urged a major Cabinet reshuffle.

Nixon Predicts Strongest GOP Tide in 20 Years

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, winding up a 35-state campaign swing for Republican candidates in today's elections, said the "strongest tide in 20 years" will bring GOP victories for governor in California, Georgia and Arkansas and for U. S. senator in Illinois and Tennessee.

Nixon, ending a two-month campaign that reached into 65 congressional districts, told a rally of 2,500 persons Monday that Republican Charles H. Percy would win over Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in the Illinois senatorial race by a margin of 750,000 votes.

He said there would be the "biggest Brown-out in history" in California, a reference to the race for governor between Democratic incumbent Edmund G. Brown and Republican Ronald Reagan.

Republicans will elect governors for the first time in 100 years in Georgia and Arkansas and the first GOP U. S. senator in history will be elected in Tennessee, Nixon predicted.

The Georgia gubernatorial race pits Republican Howard H. (Bo) Callaway against segregationist Democrat Lester G. Maddox. In Arkansas, Republican Winthrop Rockefeller faces segregationist Democrat Jim Johnson. Rockefeller is the brother of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is seeking a third term in New York.

In the Tennessee senatorial race, Republican Howard H. Baker Jr., son-in-law of Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, is up against Democratic Gov. Frank G. Clement.

Nixon continued his sharp criticism of the Johnson administration, saying the President erred in referring to the 89th Congress as "my Congress," because "Congress does not belong to any president, Democrat or Republican — it belongs to the people."

He said Americans should turn from Johnson to Congress for leadership, filling it with "men who will stand up for the people when the President is wrong."

After the rally, Nixon flew home to New York. He said he already had voted by absentee ballot, a straight Republican ticket, and would not be available to newsmen until Wednesday afternoon when he would comment on the election at his office.

Court Upholds Conviction in Draft Card Case

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The conviction of Stephen Lynn Smith, 21, in U.S. District Court at Des Moines, Iowa, for burning his draft card was upheld Monday in St. Louis by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Smith was convicted by Judge Roy Stephenson and was placed on probation for three years under provisions of the Youth Corrections Act.

The appeals court rejected his argument that his right of free speech, as set forth in the First Amendment, had been violated. Smith argued that the card burning was "symbolic speech" because he was trying to encourage in a dialogue facts on the Viet Nam war.

The liberal arts student at the University of Iowa was accused of burning his draft card at a public gathering in Iowa City on Oct. 30, 1965.

10 Building
Permits OKed
In Goodview

Goodview village council approved 10 building permits and approved one gas installer license and ordered highway safety signs be placed at three intersections in action taken at its regular meeting Monday night.

Yield signs will be placed at the intersection of 44th Avenue with 7th, 8th and 9th streets in the village. The council felt increased traffic on 44th Avenue made such signs necessary, said Clarence Russell, village clerk.

Cost will be about $63.60 for six signs and posts. Signs are $6.10 each and the posts cost $4.50 each. They will be erected as soon as they are bought, Russell said.

WINONA Plumbing Co., 1176 E. Broadway, received a gas installer license for the village effective until June 30, 1967. Fee is $5.

Elmer Obitz, village maintenance man, received authorization to attend a meeting Wednesday at Albert Lea to study operation and maintenance of sewage disposal plants.

Building permits were issued to: Lewis Albert, alter and repair of frame and block manufacturing building at 4020 6th St., estimated $400 cost; June Rothering, permit to move a 12-by-55-foot mobile home onto Pam's Root Beer Stand location, 5220 6th St.; Richard Deeren, 860 41st Ave., attach metal carport 14-by-24-feet to garage, no cost given;

Brom Machine & Foundry Co., 3565 6th St., build pole cooling shed, 12-by-12-feet, $1,500; Brom Machine & Foundry Co., build 42-foot by 56-foot 4-inch block and steel addition to existing building, $8,000; Floyd Kuhlman, 4310 5th St., build cement block warehouse 60-by-100 feet, $25,600;

Arne Odegaard, frame house with attached garage, 28-by-60 feet at 815 39th Ave., $10,000; Earl Boller Jr., frame house with attached one-car garage, 28-by-48 feet at 4450 7th St., $12,000, and Earl Boller Jr., frame house with attached two-car garage, 28-by-40 feet at 650 45th Ave., $12,000.

THE COUNCIL approved an application from Gordon Matthees, 930 37th Ave., separately, because the proposed house, 28-by-48 feet with an attached 22-foot garage, must be built closer to the street than the zoning ordinance allows if it is to correspond with existing houses in the block, Russell said.

Zoning specifies that houses must be 25 feet from the street. Matthees' house will be 20 feet. He owns the entire block in which the house will be constructed, as well as the other house on the block.

BOYLE'S COLUMN

Life Begins,

Ends With

A Question

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Life is a sentence that begins and ends with a question mark.

True education is impossible to anyone who lacks a questioning spirit.

But the smart fellow learns early that sometimes it isn't merely wisdom that you acquire by asking questions — you can also get a punch in the nose.

When in doubt, let the other fellow ask the question; then learn by the answer he gets.

But there are some questions that are bound to lead to nothing but trouble — and it is wiser never to bother asking them.

Camaraderie Key To Vike Victory

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Camaraderie put the Minnesota Vikings on the victory trail and stopped them from floundering in the National Football League, says their "uncanny" quarterback, Fran Tarkenton.

"We're as strong as we've ever been," Tarkenton said Monday. "No Viking team has had so much camaraderie. And, as a result, we're playing our best football."

Players and coaches were jubilant over the Vikings' 20-17 upset of the Green Bay Packers Sunday.

Coach Norm Van Brocklin said he felt the most important by-product of the triumph at Green Bay was that "our team arrived."

The game, he said, taught the Vikings that they can beat any team, any time, any place. Tarkenton, master of the scramble, was never greater than he was Sunday. His prowess lingered like a bad dream in Green Bay.

"He's simply uncanny," said Phil Bengtson, architect of the Green Bay defense — the most effective in the NFL this season.

"It's a good thing we have a wide-lens camera or we could never follow that guy and his receivers."

"He must be the greatest," lamented tackle Ron Kostelnik, a member of the Packers' front four that met almost total frustration at Tarkenton's hands. Tarkenton completed 16 of 26 passes for 172 yards while rushing for another 22 yards. He was at his best on third down plays.

For Vikings' partisans, the sad part of the situation was that the team's emergence as a power came too late in the season. A championship this year would be nothing less than a long shot.

Minnesota started poorly. After four weeks the Vikings had a 0-4 record and were seventh in the seven-team Western Conference. Then came a weekend with a bye. The rest was opportunity.

Instead of falling apart during the break, the team rallied and decided to try harder.

"As a team we grew closer together," explained Gary Larsen, "instead of drifting apart."

Van Brocklin added, "They rallied as a group, and that's the important thing. The strongest feeling you can have as a team is when spirit comes from the players — from within. A coach can only motivate a team so far. If the players don't have the desire, the self-motivation, a coach can't do much about it."

Tarkenton said the Vikings' first four games this season helped the club mature.

"Sometimes," he observed, "it takes a near catastrophe to force you to look in the mirror."

As they prepare for Sunday's game at Metropolitan Stadium against Detroit, now the possessor of seventh place in the Western Division, the Vikings had several injured players following the action at Green Bay.

Repair Job Coming Up in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis Coach Charley Winner is doing a quick repair job on his National Football League Eastern Division leaders because, he says, injuries have knocked out "the hub of our offense."

Quarterback Charley Johnson, who holds four career team passing records, is lost for the season with a torn right knee ligament. He undergoes knee surgery today.

Center Bob DeMarco, who played in the NFL's 1965 Pro Bowl, will be sidelined for at least four weeks with a partially torn right knee ligament.

"It can't help but hurt when you lose the two men who put the ball in play for you," said Winner. "But we will be working this week to remedy the situation before the game next Sunday with the Steelers at Pittsburgh."

Johnson and DeMarco were hurt in the 20-17 St. Louis victory Sunday over the Giants in New York.

Minnesota Mixes Fight, Character Against Purdue

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Gophers mix fight and "character," the sad memories of humiliation, and the sweet aroma of roses as they prepare to do battle here Saturday with highly respected Purdue.

"Purdue has to be one of the outstanding football teams in the nation," Gopher Coach Murray Warmath said Monday. "The Boilermakers have strength at every department."

But the Gophers, Warmath let it be known, have something too.

"It's character," the coach said. "The Minnesota team has learned what it means to fight back."

It was character and fight, he said, that helped carry Minnesota from a 49-0 humiliation at the hands of Michigan three weeks ago to a 17-7 triumph over the Ohio State and then, last Saturday, to a 28-13 victory at Northwestern.

Will the Gophers be motivated at Memorial Stadium Saturday by the recollection of last year's 35-0 drubbing administered by Purdue?

"We all recall that game very well," Warmath said. "I haven't forgotten it for a minute."

Minnesota plays Wisconsin a week from Saturday in the season finale, but the sophomore-studded Gopher team has good reason to know that Purdue is the big obstacle to a Rose Bowl trip.

The Boilermakers are 5-2 for the season and 4-1 in the Big Ten. Their defeats were to the country's top-rated teams, 26-14 to Notre Dame and 41-20 to Michigan State. Purdue's victims include that same Michigan team which blitzed the Gophers. The Boilermakers edged Michigan 22-21.

Injuries sustained by the Gophers at Evanston last Saturday were few and, apparently, not serious.

John Williams, first team defensive right end, hurt a foot but recovery appeared rapid. He sat out Monday's practice but expected to be back in action soon, possibly today.

Hubie Bryant, second team right halfback, was bothered by a charley horse. Bob Stein, defensive end out of action for several weeks with a knee injury, worked out with the fourth team and it appeared he might be in shape by Saturday.

Warmath made a couple of lineup changes.

Bob Bedney replaced Ron Klick at first team offensive right tackle. Dick Peterson worked at left halfback ahead of John Wintermute, but only to give Peterson a bit of seasoning because he had been out for some time with assorted injuries. Wintermute, a sophomore, has emerged as a first-rate ball carrier and in all probability will be in the tailback slot against Purdue here Saturday.

The Gophers started their workout Monday outside but darkness sent them indoors for the second hour. The session concentrated on defensive alignments against Purdue's attack and in polishing Minnesota's offense against expected Boilermaker defensive formations.

Gopher quarterback Curt Wilson has now rushed and passed for 712 yards to pace the Minnesota offense. He has carried the ball 119 times for 500 yards, a 4.2 average, and completed 21 of 52 passes for 212 yards. He's scored four touchdowns and passed for three more.

Wintermute is the Gophers' No. 2 ground gainer with 264 yards for 77 carries for a 3.4 average, while flanker Bryant is third with 160 yards on 27 carries, a 5.9 average. Injured halfback Peterson has 103 yards on 20 carries, a 5.2 average.

Larry Carlson, although he hasn't played for three weeks, still tops Wilson in passing with 42 completions in 80 attempts for 461 yards and four touchdowns.

Ken Last has caught 24 passes for 271 yards and four scores, while Chet Anderson has shared 13 aerials for 130 yards and one touchdown.

Wilson and Last are tied for the Gopher scoring lead with 24 points each.

As a team, the Gophers have gained 1,272 yards on 359 rushing plays (3.3 average), while completing 65 of 141 passes for 693 yards—a total offense of 1,965 yards.

Conley will miss this Saturday's game against Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Coach Jack Mollenkopf worked sophomores Dick Marvel, Mishawaka, and Clanton King, Chicago, and junior Gary Kennedy, Indianapolis, at the linebacking spot.

The Boilermakers will practice through Friday at Lafayette before flying to Minnesota in the afternoon.

Nicklaus Fires 3 — Under 68

TOKYO (AP) — Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, fired a three-under-par 68—including a sensational five-under-par 30 on the par-35 front nine—at the Sagami Country Club today playing in an exhibition warmup for the Canada Cup International Golf Tournament.

His performance against South African Gary Player and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., was something of a warning to other Canada Cup competitors who were practicing at the nearby Yomiuri Country Club while the threesome was being played at Sagami.

The Canada Cup, the 14th edition of this major world tournament, will be played at Yomiuri—Nov. 10-13.

Player had a 35-35-70, and Palmer a 36-39-75. Both will have only one day of practice at the 6,962-yard, par-72 Yomiuri layout before competition begins.

Seventy-two golfers from 26 countries are entered. Nicklaus and Palmer will represent the United States in the team competition.

Nicklaus, Palmer and Player said they would use the small ball (1.62 inches in diameter) for the Canada Cup "because it's easier to use."

"We'd prefer to use the large ball (1.68 inches in diameter) but since most everyone will be using the small ball, we'd be giving away too much by using the large," Nicklaus explained.

Tournament officials say the Tokyo Yomiuri course is the hilliest on which the Canada Cup has been played, with the advantage in favor of straight power hitters.

Sagami is a flat, wooded course.

Irv Goode, a regular offensive guard who usually centers on extra points and field goal attempts, came in for DeMarco.

Second string quarterback Terry Nofsinger entered the game after Johnson's injury and quickly threw a scoring strike to Prentice Gault.

"I think Terry will be able to do the job for us and Goode always plays well no matter where he is," said Winner.

Nofsinger is the only quarterback on the roster now. But Jim Bakken, the field goal and extra point specialist, played there while in college.

Palmer Flays Long Golf Holes As Ridiculous

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer, one of the game's longest hitters, says extremely long courses are ridiculous.

"A golf course should have versatility," the millionaire professional from Latrobe, Pa., added in a critique on golf course architecture.

Writing in Golf Magazine, Palmer said that architects are making courses increasingly difficult, worrying more about a pro or a good club player learning them up than considering the average golfer.

"I notice we have slipped away from the interesting short par three holes on which you have to play precision iron shots to get the ball on the green and close to the in," he said. "Many of today's architects have gone to the long, drab par threes that force the average player to use his woods every time."

The all-time leading money winner in golf said another private peeve was water hazards that are so tough that they lack character.

"In certain instances, you are not rewarded for a good shot there because the ball does not stay on the green," he said.

Injuries Plague Badgers

MADISON (AP) — The University of Wisconsin's roster of invalids, another vexatious statistic in a 2-5-1 football season, contains four defensive regulars who probably will not play Saturday against Illinois.

Safetyman Bob Grossman appears to be sidelined for the rest of the season. End Warren Dyer, middle guard Don Bliss and tackle Ed Hoffman may be out for at least a week.

Coach Milt Bruhn said the Badgers had dreaded what they assumed Purdue would do last Saturday when the Boilermakers found Bliss missing and Hoffman unable to replace him. Matters got worse when Dyer left the Purdue-Wisconsin game in the first quarter.

Bruhn said Monday seven more players were nursing wounds picked up in the Saturday game. They include rushing leader Wayne Todd who received a shoulder injury.

Grossman was injured in the 23-0 Boilermaker victory. Bliss got a knee injury in practice last week. Dyer injured an ankle and Hoffman a knee against Michigan two weeks ago.

Also injured but with recovery anticipated were cornerback Dave Berg, halfback Tom Domes, halfback Lynn Buss, linebacker Bob Richter and guard John Brockett.

John Tietz, working in Dyer's position against Purdue, was expected to stay at the defensive spot for the Illinois encounter.

Gary Pinnow and Bob Fenske were being considered for Grossman's position, and sophomore John Sandner was being measured for Hoffman's tackle position.

Another sophomore, Ken Criter, was considered for the Bliss post with Dan Schaffner taking over Criter's tasks as line-backer.

Coaches gave Gary Reineck the week's Savage Award for defensive play against Purdue. The cornerback is Wisconsin's third-ranking tackler. He pulled down Purdue ball carriers seven times and assisted on eight other tackles.

Twins Will Open 1967 Season Apr. 14

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Twins open their 1967 home baseball season against Detroit — the team that hired Twins coaches John Sain and Hal Naragon following Minnesota's coaching feud this fall.

The Twins host the Tigers April 14-15, then Cleveland April 16-17 and World Champion Baltimore April 19-20 before going on the road.

In all, Minnesota will play 81 home games, 38 of them at night, and only one doubleheader — Sunday, July 16 against the California Angels.

The first night game will be May 1 against the New York Yankees.

The 1967 Twins home schedule ends Sept. 27 against California.

Bobcats Open Season With Two Victories

GREEN BAY (AP) — The Green Bay Bobcats opened their U.S. Hockey League season during the weekend with a pair of victories over the U.S. Nationals, the former St. Paul Steers.

The Bobcats won 9-7 Friday, and sealed the two-game series with a 3-1 victory Saturday in a game ending with 10 penalties in the final period.

The National, preparing for world competition next year in Vienna, Austria, will not appear in league standings because of their interlocking league schedule.

The favored Bret was sold recently to Kentucky horseman Fred Van Lennep for $2 million.

Kaat Signs For Reported $50,000

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Jim Kaat became the highest-paid pitcher in Minnesota Twins history today when he agreed to a 1967 baseball contract for a figure reported to be about $50,000.

Kaat, who also celebrated his 28th birthday today, compiled a 25-13 1966 record for the most victories in the American League and in Twins history. He also had the most innings and most games completed in the league.

The highest-paid Minnesota pitcher previously was Camilo Pascual, who received about $46,000 two years ago. Only slugger Harmon Killebrew, at about $60,000, has been paid more by the club.

Kaat said that he was extremely pleased at the terms and that he thought President Calvin Griffith was very fair.

Light Vote Expected in Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A mixture of light rain, some snow and falling temperatures confronted Wisconsin voters trekking to the polls today.

The campaign, during which many candidates said voters seemed apathetic, was expected to draw only about half the state's 2.4 million eligible voters.

Warren P. Knowles and Patrick J. Lucey, competing for governor, ended their campaigns late Monday in voter-rich Milwaukee touching on some of the issues that had marked the campaign.

Water pollution, the degree of special-interest influence in government, crime, federal aid, industrial development and whether the state should continue to bar sales of colored oleomargarine.

The contest between Republican Gov. Knowles and Democratic Lt. Gov. Lucey topped the voters' need to select 10 congressmen, 17 state senators, 100 assemblymen, a lieutenant governor, a state treasurer, an attorney general, a secretary of state and courthouse officers in 72 counties.

Lucey, 48, who led reconstruction of the state's Democratic Party in the 1940s, is an associate of the Kennedy organization. He has campaigned on auto insurance rate issues and has urged repeal of the colored oleo ban.

Knowles, 10 years older, upset the incumbent in 1964 to become governor. The New Richmond attorney was elected to the Legislature in 1940 and was lieutenant governor for three terms.

Republicans were counting on Knowles to lead a GOP sweep. His running mate was Jack Olson of Wisconsin Dells, a former lieutenant governor opposed for the job by State Sen. Martin J. Schreiber, 27, a Milwaukee Democrat.

Democrat Eugene Lamb challenged State Treasurer Dena Smith, 67, for the fifth time. Mrs. Smith lost to Lamb once, eight years ago.

Robert C. Zimmerman, 56, Republican secretary of state, was considered likely to retain his post against Democrat Cletus Johnson of Green Bay.

While some observers had said the contests for sheriff and other county-level jobs might inspire more voter interest than the state-level campaigning did, there were congressional races high on the interest ratings.

Rep. Lynn E. Staibbaum, a Rancine Democrat, was in a showdown with the Republican he ousted from Congress two years ago, Henry C. Schadeberg.

The Staibbaum-Schadeberg duel in the First Congressional District and the Sixth District race were considered keys to the question of whether the GOP could regain its domination of the state's congressional delegation.

In the Sixth, incumbent Democrat John A. Race of Fond du Lac faced Assemblyman William A. Steiger, R-Oshkosh.

ELECTION

financing of the demonstration cities program would be tougher to obtain.

Johnson, who talked Monday about billions for education at Cotulla, Tex., where he once taught school, expected to cast his vote in Johnson City, Tex., along with Mrs. Johnson.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, winding up campaigning in Indiana, expressed the opinion that his recent verbal fracas with Johnson might help bring out a protest vote against Democratic candidates.

Early poll closings in Connecticut, Illinois, Maryland, Mississippi, New Hampshire, Vermont and Virginia seemed likely to provide early evening trends on local answers to vexing issues that have cropped up in some areas.

Connecticut is being watched for a sign of possible GOP resurgence in House contests. Republicans were blanked out of the six-member state delegation in 1964.

In Illinois, Republican Charles H. Percy, rated as a GOP presidential possibility if he wins, is contesting veteran Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas. If Percy does well in the Chicago area, part of his vote strength will be credited to resentment against the Democrats for Negro housing demands.

Maryland offers a relatively clear-cut test of the open housing issue with the Democratic candidate for governor, George P. Mahoney, opposing it and Republican Spiro T. Agnew urging moderation. Hyman A. Pressman is on the ballot as an independent.

In New Hampshire, Republican Harrison R. Thyng, a retired Air Force brigadier general, is plugging for acceleration of the Viet Nam war in his contest with Democratic Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre. McIntyre generally has supported Johnson's policies. Gov. John W. King also has faced a stiff contest for re-election from Republican Hugh Gregg.

As befitting balloting in which there are so many uncertainties, several other top contests in the country were chalked up as hair-line affairs that could go either way.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown was slightly trailing Republican Ronald Reagan in the California polls. But indications were that 10 per cent of the voters were still undecided. Each side said predicted rain would help its cause.

Winthrop Rockefeller, trying to establish a brother act among the governors with Nelson A. Rockefeller, was reported running strongly against segregationist Democrat Jim Johnson in Arkansas.

Republican Govs. James A. Rhodes of Ohio and George Romney of Michigan were expected to romp home with victories. In Rhodes' case this might mean additional GOP House seats, including one for Robert Taft Jr., grandson of a president and son of a senator.

In Romney's case, it was a matter of whether he could pull in GOP Sen. Robert P. Griffin over Democratic former gubernatorial Gov. G. Mennen Williams and thus establish the governor as the kind of winner the Republicans might want at the head of their 1968 ticket.

There was last-minute uncertainty about the Massachusetts senatorial contest pitting GOP Atty. Gen. Edward R. Brooke, a Negro, against former Democratic Gov. Endicott Peabody.

Mrs. George C. Wallace, husband of the segregationist governor of Alabama, was favored to succeed him and become the nation's only woman governor.

But in Georgia, a write-in campaign on behalf of Democratic moderate former Gov. Ellis G. Arnall threatened to throw an apparently close race between segregationist Democrat Lester G. Maddox and Republican Howard (Bo) Callaway into the state legislature. To win, one man must receive a majority of all votes cast.

State Voting Gets Off to Heavy Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters lined up in heavy numbers at several precincts today for the climax of a spirited election campaign in Minnesota.

Snow fell in northern state areas where temperatures were as low as 8 below at Roseau. International Falls had 7 above. Other northern temperatures were generally in the teens with readings in the 20s elsewhere.

Voting got off to a heavy start at St. Cloud, Brainerd and Worthington with several other communities reporting good early morning turnouts.

In Minneapolis' 13th Ward, voting machines at a half dozen precincts failed to work. Many voters turned in their registration slips and left, some in anger.

Election judges in the 9th and 10th precincts said levers for Republican candidates could not be moved. Long lines of voters had formed at several of the precincts and many left without voting, but some remained to wait for repairs. Most of the machines were reported back in service shortly after 8 a.m.

St. Paul voting was considered heavy on the basis of a check of 18 test precincts in which 2,241 had voted by 9 a.m. compared to 1,914 in 1962. Donald Nystrom, city elections supervisor, expected a record 120,000 ballots would be cast before polls close at 8 p.m. The previous record was set two years ago when 114,015 voters cast ballots.

St. Cloud reported a steady stream of voters up to 9 a.m., reflecting the city's record registration of 18,806, about 3,000 more than four years ago and up 500 from the September primary. Many precincts reported as many voters the first two hours as up to noon in previous elections.

Election judges in predominantly GOP and DFL precincts in Brainerd said voting was running heavier than in most off year elections.

Eight spirited contests for county offices were seen as a factor in very heavy voting during early hours at Worthington. Contests included a last-minute write-in campaign for sheriff.

At Albert Lea 1,190 cast ballots up to 9 a.m., compared with 420 during the first two hours in the primary.

Lines formed at most Rochester precincts with one election judge calling the vote one of the heaviest he had seen. Registration is about five per cent under 1964.
