Romney Ready to Meet With Reagan Gives LeVander 72,650 Margin

DORADO BEACH, P.R. (AP) — In an overture toward Republican unity, Gov. George Romney of Michigan has offered to meet with Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan of California to "develop understanding" between the party's liberal and conservative wings.

Romney, a leader of the liberal camp and possible candidate for the 1968 GOP nomination for president, suggested at a news conference Monday that Reagan eventually may be forced to join the liberals as he gains practical experience in coping with California's problems.

Asked about Romney's comments, Reagan said in San Francisco that he has been consistent in his views. He quipped that he isn't planning on becoming governor of Michigan.

Reagan said earlier that Romney had failed to support the 1964 Republican ticket headed by conservative Barry Goldwater. Romney rejected the charge, saying he had carried Michigan for the GOP by "emphasizing the Republican record of progress in Michigan."

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who held the news conference with Romney, nodded in agreement as the Michigan governor offered "to sit down with Reagan and talk things through and develop understanding."

The two vacationing liberal Republican governors met with newsmen after a 2½-hour luncheon. Rockefeller was to return to New York today. Romney and his wife will stay until Dec. 4.

3 More Deer Hunters Dead In Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three more hunters died of heart attacks Monday, raising the toll of victims in the 1966 Wisconsin deer season to 13. Ten hunters lost their lives as a result of heart seizures, one was asphyxiated and a young girl was struck and killed by a stray bullet since the season opened Saturday morning.

The Rev. Paul B. Schmidt, 49, Catholic chaplain of Sacred Heart Hospital in Eau Claire and a chaplain at the Northern Colony and Training School, Chippewa Falls, suffered a fatal heart attack in the woods 15 miles north of Hayward.

Father Schmidt, a graduate of St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee, had been sharing a cabin with several other priests who annually hunt together.

William S. Thompson, 66, Amery, was hunting with his wife when he suffered a fatal heart attack Monday afternoon in the town of Barnes.

Arthur Buelow, 68, Menasha, had been hunting in southern Bayfield County when he suffered a fatal heart attack Monday.

ST. PAUL (AP) — The State Canvassing Board approved the final tally of votes from Minnesota's general election today, showing Republican Harold LeVander winning the governorship by 72,650 votes over Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag of the Democratic - Farmer - Labor party.

LeVander compiled 53 percent of the vote as he collected about 60,000 more votes than did Republican Elmer L. Andersen in 1962. Rolvaag, by contrast, slipped about 12,000 from his 1962 count when he won the office by 91 votes.

The Canvassing Board reported a total voter turnout of 1,312,288, a record for an off-year election.

There were no changes in the results reported earlier on the basis of unofficial returns. However, the official count showed a much lower total vote in the race for U.S. senator than did the unofficial figures. The canvassing board reported about 22,000 more persons voted for governor than they did for senator.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale incumbent DFLer, defeated Republican Robert A. Forsythe in the Senate race by 110,972 votes. Mondale collected 54 per cent of the vote.

Secretary of State Joseph L. Donovan was the leading vote-getter on the DFL ticket with 695,256, or almost 10,000 more than Mondale.

Leading Republican was P. Kenneth Peterson, elected to the Railroad and Warehouse Commission with 724,691 votes over fringe DFLer William R. Youngdahl. Veteran GOP officeholders Stafford King and Val Bjornson pulled more votes than did LeVander.

The best vote - getter in all races was Associate Justice Martin A. Nelson of the Supreme Court, who got 747,543. In the closest race on the state ticket, Republican James B. Goetz was elected lieutenant governor by 27,027 votes over DFLer Robert E. Short.

Oddly, Short led Goetz out-state but was trounced in his home county of Hennepin. Goetz carried Hennepin by more than 32,000 votes as he got 51 per cent of the statewide total.

The lone constitutional amendment on the ballot received more "yes" votes than "no" votes but fell about 80,000 votes. (Continued on Page 9, Col. 5)

Swing From Trees

Someone discussed a cancelled, rude character: "It's true that men like him don't grow on trees — they swing from them" . . . Definition of newlyweds: A couple who still go shopping together . . . A local man didn't know what to give his wife for her birthday — so he sent her a gift certificate to a supermarket . . . WASHINGTON (AP) — Controversy over the shots fired during the assassination of President John F. Kennedy reached new heights on this third anniversary of the Dallas tragedy.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., and former Kennedy adviser Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. called for further investigation.

But Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., a member of the Warren Commission, and former Kennedy press aide Malcolm M. Kilguff, while disputing commission findings about the shots, took no issue with the over-all

Wife Nagged Him, So He Killed Her

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Police are holding Lauren S. Thompson, 65, Minneapolis, in the death of his wife, Ernestine, 61, who was shot five times Monday in the face and head. Thompson told officers he killed her because he couldn't stand her nagging.

Officers said Thompson told this story: His restlessness awoke his wife Monday morning, and she said: "Why don't you go to sleep; you are keeping me awake."

He told her to be quiet, but when she continued talking he got up, took a 32-caliber revolver from a dresser drawer and shot her.

LeVander Cool to City Sales Tax

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Elect Harold LeVander has thrown cold water on a reported proposal for a sales or income tax for the Twin Cities area, saying a new set of such municipal taxes would merely create new problems.

"I wouldn't say I oppose it," LeVander said Monday when told of the report, "but my preference is for some other form of financial aid to municipalities."

He said that, in general, he would prefer to use funds from existing state taxes to relieve the "plight" of municipalities, which he agreed would be among major problems facing his administration.

It was reported Monday that a research team working for the Metropolitan Mayors Tax Study Committee would recommend a 2 per cent general sales tax or a 1 per cent tax on gross incomes of individuals and corporations in the Twin Cities area. Either would raise about $36.5 million a year.

However, Thomas Anding, a member of the committee, said no such plans were adopted as a final position, although possible sales or income taxes had been mentioned previously.

Reports also said the team would seek a $15 million package of excise taxes — on such items as lodgings, admissions and consumers' utilities — as a companion to the sales or income tax plan asked for the Legislature.

The Republican governor-elect spoke with newsmen at the Capitol after viewing his temporary office there and trying to pay a courtesy call on Democratic - Farmer - Labor Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag, the man he defeated two weeks ago.

However, Rolvaag wasn't expected back from a Mexican vacation until Monday night, so LeVander shook hands with several members of the governor's staff.

LeVander asked that he be notified when Rolvaag returns so the two can talk over the transfer of authority in the governor's office.

LeVander said he expects to spend several hours a day in his temporary quarters, a narrow space north of the Capitol rotunda normally used as a Senate office during legislative sessions.

LeVander said he expects to name several members of his personal staff Wednesday, but he was noncommittal about major appointments, including the commissioner of administration.

He met with the present commissioner, Ray Lappegaard, a Rolvaag appointee who is one of the most highly regarded men in state government. There has been speculation LeVander might asked Lappegaard to stay on the job, rather than replacing him with a Republican appointee.

LeVander declined comment when asked whether he would name his own commissioner of administration.

Lappegaard was commissioner of corrections before being named to the administration post by Rolvaag last year. The commissioner of administration functions as the governor's right hand man in preparation of budgets and in the day-to-day operation of state government.

Among those expected to be named to jobs on LeVander's personal staff are David Burenberger, a member of LeVander's law firm; Robert Swanson, former Rochester newspaper man; and Jerry Olson, former Republican field worker. All were active on the LeVander campaign staff.

Plans are under way for an inaugural ball shortly after he takes office, LeVander said. There have been reports this might be held on Thursday night, Jan. 5, following a public reception in the state Capitol the previous night.

LeVander will deliver his inaugural message to the legislature at noon on Jan. 4.

Millions of visitors come in military cadence, or with the quick and happy step of school children, or in the contemplative way of the thoughtful citizen.

They still throng to the grave of John F. Kennedy, assassinated in Dallas, Tex., three years ago today.

By count and estimate more than 16 million persons have climbed the grassy slopes of Arlington National Cemetery to the graves of Kennedy and two of his children.

In the first few weeks there were more than 50,000 a day. Now there are about 15,000 daily, but a pleasant Indian summer or spring day, or a holiday will draw many more thousands. Visitors often wait an hour or two in line. Not long ago, wreath-laying ceremonies were averaging 15 a day.

A new granite and marble memorial authorized by Congress is nearing completion. The simple grave outlined by a low white picket fence stands today in sharp contrast to the gleaming marble of the new memorial a few feet away.

The new site, to which the bodies of Kennedy and his two children, who died in infancy, will be moved next spring, in

FRANCO ASKS CHANGES IN SPAIN

MADRID (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco asked all adult Spaniards today to approve changes in the national organic laws which could help end the 27-year-old dictatorship of Spain.

The aging Franco — he will be 74 Dec. 4 — drove through double lines of troops in gala uniforms to present to an extraordinary session of the Spanish Cortes — Parliament — a long-awaited program oriented toward liberalization of future Spanish regimes.

The "strictly routine day" report came from press secretary Bill D. Moyers, who offered the same evaluation of Monday's activities by the recuperating President. Johnson moved up from vice president to President when John F. Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22, 1963.

A routine day for Johnson means no official visitors, but does not rule out a variety of other work such as reading a packet of reports which arrives daily from Washington, and telephoning key officials.

Moyers said Johnson was "feeling good," but with some soreness in both his throat and abdomen as a result of the removal last Wednesday of a throat polyp and the repair of an incisional hernia.

Johnson arrived at the ranch Saturday, the day he was discharged from the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Starting point for the new questioning is the commission finding that one bullet wounded both Kennedy and Connally. Some—but not all—of the critics move from here to the question of whether a second person fired at the Kennedy motorcade on that early Dallas afternoon.

Long said in New Orleans Monday he has always thought that a second person was involved.

The assistant Senate Democratic leader, in answer to a newsman's questions, said that although there is no doubt that Oswald played a part in the assassination, "whoever fired that second shot was a much better shot than Oswald."

The commission said three shots were fired. It concluded that one hit Kennedy and Connally, a later shot inflicted the major damage on Kennedy and one shot missed. The commission was unable to conclude

ROUTINE DAY FOR JOHNSON AT TEXAS RANCH

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is scheduled for another "strictly routine day" at his Texas ranch on this third anniversary of his succession to the presidency.

Man of Many Names Booked At Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Police stopped a man for speeding Monday and asked to see his driver's license.

"He pulled out one," said Patrolman Don Henderson, "and started to hand it to me. Then he said, 'Oh, that ain't me,' and he pulled out another one."

The name on the first driver's license was Eddie Junior Flowe, said the officer, and the name on the second was Isiah Foster. When Henderson asked for other identification, the man produced light and water bills with the name of John Jeter.

"I just use his name to pay those bills," the motorist told Henderson. "He's been dead several years."

Then the officers took the man to his place of employment and asked the supervisor who he was.

"Oh, that's Clyde Thompson," the officers quoted the supervisor.

So that's the way he's booked: Clyde House Thompson, 55, charged with driving after license revocation and using another person's license to drive.

In Jackson County They Even Shoot Tame Deer in Park

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. (Special) — Sig Peterson, caretaker at City Deer Park, Black River Falls, discovered Sunday at 6 a.m. that Bucky, one of the four deer, had been killed and his carcass stolen.

The fact that he was missing and there was a large puddle of blood at the fence was proof. Later Conservation Warden Werner Radke found the legs of a deer, which he believes may have been Bucky's. The city has had the deer park a bit over a year.

Another casualty of the opening of the deer season was the illness of Marvin Olson, Wilton, Rt. 1. He was hunting in the Bear Bluff area Sunday when an incision from recent surgery burst open. Authorities from Tomah made an emergency run with him to Lutheran Hospital, La Crosse.

Man Killed in Explosion of Paint Thinner

ST. PAUL (AP) — Leroy Nerlien, 42, died in a hospital Sunday, two days after being injured in an explosion of paint thinner in his home. Authorities said Nerlien spilled paint thinner on himself and when some trickled across the room, it was ignited by a space heater.

Fire Destroys Three Buildings At Buhl, Minn.

BUHL, Minn. (AP) — Fire overnight leveled three business buildings in this northern Minnesota town 15 miles north of Hibbing. No casualties were reported. Loss was unofficially estimated at around $75,000.

Of the three frame structures destroyed, one housed a tavern operated by John and Mary Billy and another the Iron Range Cafe, operated by Janet Swenby. The third building's ground floor was unoccupied although there were apartments on its second story.

Fire departments from Kinney, Mountain Iron, Virginia, Chisholm and Hibbing joined Buhl firemen in fighting the fire and preventing its spread to an entire block of buildings. The fire had virtually burnt out by 4 o'clock this morning.

Firemen, although not immediately sure of the cause, said it could have started in electrical wiring between the tavern and the restaurant. The alarm was sounded a few minutes before midnight.

Firefighters said it was fortunate that there was no wind, or the blaze likely would have spread. Heat from the fire was so intense that it cracked windows of buildings across the street.

There was one narrow escape from injury. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Molik, occupants of an apartment above the tavern, were about to jump from a window. Bystanders, however, brought a scaffold that had been in use in the remodeling of a nearby building, and they climbed down on it.

Florida Girl, 14, Missing 8 Days

BARTOW, Fla. (AP) — The search for missing 14-year-old Connie Weaks went into the eighth day today, and the Polk County Sheriff's office said it had no solid clues.

The girl disappeared a week ago as she waited in her father's station wagon for him in front of an employment office in Bartow.

Russ-Peking Feud Reflected In U.N. Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The feud between Moscow and Peking is reflected in the lukewarm support the Soviet Union is giving to the current attempt to seat Red China in the United Nations.

Following loud demands by Albania and African radicals to throw the Chinese Nationalists out and give their seat to the Communist mainland regime, the Soviet appeal Monday seemed almost perfunctory.

In a 10-minute speech to the General Assembly, Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko rejected a proposed committee study of the question for the next year and turned down the idea of settling the 16-year-old question by seating both Chinas.

Fedorenko gave token support to the argument that the Peking regime alone has the right to represent China in the United Nations but omitted the usual praise of the mainland government.

The Soviets have never been reticent before about repeating the same arguments in detail year after year. Their apathetic attitude during the current China debate and their failure to cosponsor the resolution to seat Peking was seen as a clear reflection of the increasing bitterness in Soviet-Chinese relations.

Delegates also noted the brevity of U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's speech and the fact that it focussed on keeping Nationalist China in the United Nations rather than barring Red China.

Ever hear anyone say, "Hey, I've got a great idea." Sure you have, but can you remember any of the ideas that followed? Possibly not. What happens to our good ideas?

"Good ideas are a precious commodity and ought not to be taken for granted. And that's what happens to a lot of good ideas — they're taken for granted. I have read that an idea given to or shared with 100 people will lose its identity with at least 98 of these people. After 24 hours, 25 will have forgotten it. After 48 hours, 50 will have forgotten it. After 4 days, 85, and after 16 days, 98 will have forgotten the great idea."

Now we're inclined to say, "So what," unless of course it's our own idea. What's worse, we will often surrender a good idea only because of the adverse reaction of some disinterested person.

PERHAPS you have said, or heard another say, "I don't know why none of my ideas ever work out." And then he tends to lay the death of a thought to a case of tough luck, or of not knowing the right people. But chances are, this one killed the idea himself.

There are some basic rules in bringing a thought from fantasy to reality. Follow them, and you may well see your idea blossom into a joyful experience. First, think it out yourself. Ask yourself, why is it a good idea? Second, think how it will feel to see the idea successfully into action. Try to capture the purpose and its fulfillment to such a degree that in your own mind, the idea is a functioning success. In other words, confirm its worth to yourself.

Now you believe in what it is you want to share, but once again, be careful. Don't share it carelessly with just anyone who will listen. If a good idea isn't lost by not being thought through, then it's very apt to be lost by sharing it without discerning with whom and why.

ONLY GIVE your idea over to a sympathetic listener who wishes to see both you and your ideas succeed. The danger isn't so much in losing the idea to someone else who will take it and run, as it is of someone else talking you out of your idea. Well-meaning friends and relatives who haven't the same goals and interests as you do, will often take, what to them, is the safe position suggesting it will cost too much, or that you're not ready for such an undertaking, or that it just isn't practical.

NOW DON'T misunderstand me. Often an idea needs airing, and sharing it with someone who has a basic appreciation for what you are trying to accomplish is a good move. Even criticism of an idea is good if it's constructive, and in essence, stimulates the proper move to make, not stagnate the thought itself.

Think back to some of your good ideas and see if properly treated, they might yet be worthy of pursuit. But first, think them out. Second, imagine them in their final and completed form. Third, share them with sympathetic listeners, and fourth, do something about it.

Meter Trial Extended; Bids Asked on 130 More

Extension of the free trial period for 30 parking meters now in use, plus addition of 15 similar meters for tryout, won the guarded approval of the City Council Monday night.

The meters will be installed in pairs in the new downtown parking lot at 166 Center St. They are self-winding meters manufactured by the Duncan Parking Meter Co. All others hitherto purchased by the city are Park-O-Meter models which must be wound twice a week by service personnel.

WHEN THE Duncan Co. letter was read, Ald. James Stoltman renewed his protests against accepting the free trial offer. He warned against possible entrapments lurking in the fine print of free offers and proposed that the council listen to a representative of the Park-O-Meter firm who was present. Nobody, including the city of Winona, gets anything for nothing, he said.

Ald. David Johnston asked what purpose would be served by listening to the representative, Donald Harstad. Ald. Stoltman replied that the council might be able to learn something further about the matter or that a matching offer might be made.

Given the floor by unanimous consent to rules suspension, Harstad said he was caught unaware and hadn't expected to speak. He noted, however, that his firm's products had been used by the city exclusively for 15 years and proved adequate. He voiced doubts that a fair test could be made in six months since any meter should operate that long without any attention.

HARSTAD advised the council to have meters in the new lot that will accept pennies as well as nickels and dimes. These should be consistent with meters elsewhere, he said. City Recorder John Carter noted that the order had specified nickels and dimes only for this location, since rates will be 5 cents for a half-hour, 10 cents for an hour.

Some of the city's original meters are still in use, Harstad said, despite the somewhat inconsistent quality of service over the years. He added that meter-winding could be done at the same time as collections are made. This was a reply to previous criticisms by aldermen of the need for a meter man to spend two days each week winding the clockwork mechanisms. Duncan meters are wound each time they are used by means of levers which turn when coins are inserted.

Observing that the matter was a bit outside his field, Harstad told Ald. Henry Parks the maintenance man might well be under other jurisdiction than the street department. Whatever department he is assigned to, advised Harstad, his first responsibility should be meters and not other functions.

IN SEPARATE but related action the council voted to advertise for bids for 130 new meters, more or less. These are to be placed on currently unmeted fringes of the downtown meter zone. Moving for the bid opening Ald. David Johnston.

Normally the motion would come from the parking and safety committee but Ald. Stoltman, its chairman, has steadfastly opposed purchases of additional meters despite a series of studies and recommendations by planning commission and chamber of commerce committees.

Aldermen also wrestled with the problem of potential alley congestion at the north edge of the new lot. Ald. Parks suggested that all trucks taking rubbish in the area be required to finish before 9 a.m. daily. The alley has been narrowed from 20 feet to help make room for the lot. If clogged by trucks, it would not permit full use of north side spaces in the parking lot.

FREIGHT deliveries and pickups may have to be limited to times prior to 9 a.m., suggested Ald. Harold Thieves. Noting that this might be difficult to regulate, Ald. Johnston suggested a conference with business operators in the vicinity.

Ald. Stoltman indicated his committee would meet with retailers to work out solutions if problems arise.

Charter Amendments Set for Council Action

A series of proposed charter amendments was read Monday night to the City Council and will be drafted as formal resolutions for approval next month. Such amendments must be made by action of the state Legislature under provisions of the city's special legislative charter. An amendment normally is initiated by formal request of the council to the city's representative and senator.

Four principal items were listed by Ald. David Johnston, chairman of the legislative committee, as having general council support. Other proposals will be made, he said, with the prospect that most will be added to the priority list.

HEADING THE list, said Ald. Johnston are amendments which would make the city treasurer an appointive officer, raise council salaries, give the city authority to issue two additional on-sale liquor licenses and reduce mandatory storage of unclaimed bicycles from six months to a lesser period.

Already in the city budget are amounts covering higher salaries for aldermen and mayor. Legislative amendment of the charter is needed, however, for higher scales to become effective. The change would boost salaries of individual aldermen from $500 a year to $1,000, council president from $750 to $1,500 and mayor from $1,200 to $1,800.

Additional liquor licenses were sought in the 1965 session for the city by Rep. Frank Theis and Sen. Roger Laufenburger. They were for use by motel-restaurant units with capacities of 70 rooms or more.

Pepin County Budget Raised

DURAND, Wis. — A 1967 budget of $630,366 and tax levy of $375.909 were adopted by the Pepin County Board last week. The budget is $106,546 higher than last year and the tax levy is up $45.103.

Highway appropriations are up from $196,489 last year to $233,802 this year. Other county appropriations rose from $327,330 to $346,564.

APPROPRIATIONS for general government total $68,705, an increase of about $5,000 from last year. Among the appropriations under this heading is $2,600 for court-appointed attorneys, for which there was no appropriation last year. The fund for the county court was raised $1,200, to $6,200, and the appropriation for circuit court was raised from $6,500 to $7,750.

The board raised $1,000 more for the district attorney's office, to $6,000, and made smaller increases in the budgets for county board, clerk, treasurer and other departments. The biggest increase was for protection of persons and property, for which the appropriations totaled $47,279, about $10,000 more than last year. Increases included $6,000 more for the sheriff's department, bringing it to $16,000, and $8,900 for the register of deeds office, for which $8,350 was raised last year. The board raised $700 for bounties, a little less than half of last year's appropriation.

CHARITIES and corrections with cost an estimated $130,633, a drop of about $1,000 from last year.

Welfare administration is budgeted at $56,840, an increase of $7,755 over last year. For the medical assistance program $16,750 was raised. There was no appropriation for this last year.

Appropriations for three welfare department aids all dropped. For old age assistance, the drop was from $18,400 last year to $3,700 this year; for aid to the disabled, from $15,725 in 1966 to $1,000 for next year, and aid to dependent children, from $9,000 to $6,000 raised this year. Aid to the blind is the same, $100.

Among fixed charges, Pepin County was billed $20,542 for insane and outside institutions, and $3,610 for state general hospital, both increases. The appropriation for jail and sheriff's residence is $1,200, an increase of $300 from last year.

THE BOARD raised $11,950 for indebtedness, a slight decrease; $900 for conservation; $28,240 for unclassified including social security, retirement, and $240 rent for outside offices; $270,700 for highways and bridges, including $47,000 for operation of a gravel pit, for which there was no appropriation last year, and $76,102 for bridges and highway construction.

Anticipated revenues other than the county tax levy are $113,657 for general government and $139,300 by the highway department.

Planning Unit Gets Land Purchase Bid

A proposal to buy city land on bluffs west of Wilcrest and above the Westgate Shopping Center was turned over to the City Planning Commission by the City Council Monday night. Representing A. M. Kramer, the potential purchaser, Dennis Challeen, attorney, showed maps and aerial photos of the area to aldermen.

In referring the proposal to the commission Council President Harold Briesath recommended that a concrete statement of proposed use and development plans be submitted along with the request.

OTHER COUNCIL business: Renewal of an off-sale liquor license for the Belmont Liquor Store, 1671 W. 5th St., was voted. The license this was renewed after a 30-day suspension following court findings that sales had been made to minors. President Briesath counseled a 2-week delay and cast the lone vote against reinstatement.

Transfer of the Arlington Club on-sale liquor license from 57 E. 4th St., to the new location, 176 W. 3rd St., was approved. Club facilities were moved to the new location in August.

A letter from Joe Helgeson, 1511 W. Howard St., asking permission to sell Christmas trees at a Mankato and Wabasha Street vacant lot, was placed on file.

Permission was given to the downtown merchants Santa Claus committee to place a portable building at the northwest corner of the 2nd Street parking lot. It will occupy an 18 by 25-foot area.

PEERLESS CHAIN Co. was given permission to build an overhanging canopy above its loading dock at 51 Walnut St. The canopy will clear the dock by 12 feet and will not block pedestrian traffic, the council was told.

A City Planning Commission request for fulltime secretarial help for the planning coordinator's office was granted. New office space is being provided for the coordinator and the city housing administrator in City Hall.

Aldermen were advised of a tour of adjacent watersheds scheduled for local government officials Nov. 29 by the Soil Conservation Service. President Briesath asked attendance by as many council members as possible.

A resolution was adopted which commits the city to participation in a joint county-city Civil Defense survival plan agreement. The steering committee, made up of representatives of both governmental bodies, will administer activities on a countywide basis.

A SERVICE contract for pumps at the Olmstead Street lift station was approved. The contract with Northern States Power Co. reduced the old minimum charge of $360 a year to a possible minimum of $116 for any year in which the pumps were not used. They are housed in a newly built station designed to dispose of impounded runoff waters that may collect during flood stages.

Permission to make public solicitations for charitable contributions from Nov. 20 to Dec. 31 was granted the Winona 7th Day Adventist Church.

Welfare Unit Names Two New Officers

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—The Trempealeau County Welfare Department has two new officers.

New department director is Lowell Trewartha, who was appointed to succeed Chester Peterson, Strum, who retired. Trewartha was case worker supervisor from June, 1963, until the new appointment.

Donald C. Schroeder, 25, La Crosse, has been hired to succeed Joe Emerton, caseworker who retired Nov. 1.

Trewartha says there is a case worker vacancy in the department. The minimum qualifications for the position are a bachelor degree from an accredited college and a passing mark in the state merit system examination.

SCHROEDER'S first responsibility here is to develop foster home services. He is interested in applicants from couples who would become foster parents to children from birth to 18 years, of both sexes and all religions.

18 years, of both sexes and all religions. Trewartha received his bachelor degree in business administration from the University of Wisconsin in 1957 and his master's degree in social work in 1963. He and his father, Harold Trewartha of the Clark County Public Welfare Department at Neillsville, are the only father and son welfare directors in the state.

Married, he, his wife and daughter live on Christine Boulevard here. Trewartha has memberships in the Lions Club, Blue Lodge, Wisconsin Public Welfare Association and Alpha Delta Sigma fraternity. He is advisor to the Explorer Scouts here and past president of the West Central chapter of the state welfare association.

Schroeder received his bachelor degree from La Crosse State University in 1963 and since that time was a case worker with the Sawyer County Welfare Department at Hayward, working primarily with foster homes and child welfare.

He had not regained consciousness since the accident. HE HAD suffered severe head injuries, with extensive brain damage. His wife died at the scene of a scalp wound to her head, fractures of the skull and a broken neck.

Both received other injuries when their small 1960 car slammed under the rear of the Orvel Bjagsvedt feed truck, pushing it ahead about 10 feet. The truck box was pushed into the front seat, pinning Mr. Lageson; his wife slumped dead on the floor of the front seat.

Officers believed Mr. Lageson had suffered a heart attack, causing the accident. They were on their way to Mabel Lutheran Church to attend the 10:30 a.m. worship.

Mr. Lageson was born Feb. 13, 1893, near Newhouse, Houston County, to Hans and Ingeborg Larson Lageson. He was one of 13 children. He attended the Newhouse School and Valders College, Decorah, Iowa. He worked three years in the Newhouse Store and managed a grocery in Winona three years.

Party-Splitting Primary Feared In Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin Republicans are reportedly casting about for ways to avert a party-splitting presidential primary in 1968.

One solution advanced was enactment of a new state law permitting a "popularity contest" among presidential aspirants, but delegates to a national convention would be chosen at the state party convention, rather than in the presidential primary.

Another proposal is for Gov. Warren P. Knowles to run as a favorite son candidate.

Both Knowles and State GOP chairman Ody Fish said Friday they would seek early action on changing the presidential primary law.

Both also said they oppose a favorite son candidacy. However, Fish indicated the favorite son device might be used if the legislature failed to change the law.

"The present law is set up so that each party tends to use the favorite son device of necessity," Fish said.

The favorite son candidacy has been brought up in discussions concerning possible presidential candidacies of former vice president Richard M. Nixon and Michigan Gov. George Romney.

Supporters of the Knowles favorite son idea deny it has overtones favoring either possible candidate, that they are merely seeking to prevent a divisive and expensive Wisconsin primary battle.

Bullet Shatters Liuzzo's Window

DETROIT (AP) — A bullet shattered a front window Sunday night at the Detroit home of Anthony Liuzzo, 53, whose wife, Viola, was murdered last year in a civil rights demonstration near Selma, Ala.

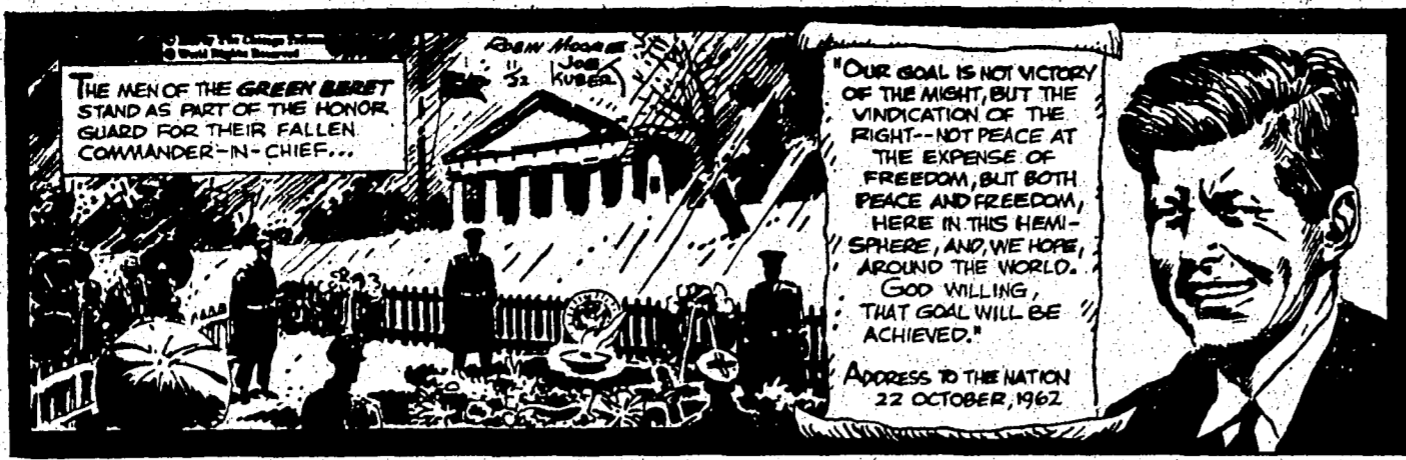

Liuzzo, a Teamsters Union business agent, would not comment on the incident.

Police and the FBI were notified, but said Liuzzo had not complained about threats and there was no apparent connection with Mrs. Liuzzo's slaying.

The bullet smashed through the front picture window, hit a wall opposite the window and fell under a chair.

Mrs. Liuzzo was killed by gunfire on March 25, 1965, as she was driving down an Alabama highway after a civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery.

No Thought of Quitting, Despite $12 Million Loss

DETROIT (AP)—Board chairman Robert B. Evans of American Motors said today that despite a $12.6-million loss in fiscal 1966, his company was in the auto business to stay.

"There is absolutely no possibility that AMC might not survive," said the 57-year-old Detroit industrialist-sportsman.

"There is no cause for gloom," AMC's directors reported the loss Monday for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30 and at the same time voted to skip a quarterly dividend for the fifth straight quarter. It was the second largest annual deficit for AMC in its 12-year history.

Evans expressed some disappointment at the way AMC car sales have been going, particularly since the 1967 models were introduced a few weeks ago. But he pointed out "we are not alone" and other auto companies have the same problem in sales slumps and production cutbacks.

"We are victims of the Big Three auto companies. They are not intentionally trying to hurt us but they are competing vigorously and we are caught in the middle of a squeeze as they have tremendous amounts to spend on advertising and promotion."

AMC's gross sales of $870 million and a net loss of $12.6 million for fiscal 1966 were equal to a deficit of 66 cents a share. A year ago, sales hit $990.6 million with profits of $5.2 million equal to 27 cents a share.

It Happened Last Night

Briton Hears Cool New Yorker

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — New Yorkers are the coolest. They have all the retorts. Young English actor David Hemmings swears to this after hearing a conversation at the Sybil Christopher-Roddy McDowell club, Arthur.

"There was this really magnificent blonde girl at the bar," said Hemmings. "She was obviously with somebody who'd stepped away."

"A man stepped up to her at the bar and said, 'Pardon me, would you have dinner with me tomorrow night?'"

"The girl said, 'I can't, I'm flying to California.'"

"The man said, 'I didn't say "Where?"' I said, "Would you?"'"

Hemmings, sort of a Michael Caine, 25, given to checked wool trousers, wide ties and long jackets, is here exploiting the picture "The Blow-Up," in which he, Vanessa Redgrave, and about 40 girls, go more or less naked. Hemmings says some well-educated London actors have now started speaking Cockney since Michael Caine did "Alfie."

"Are you from London?" I asked Hemmings.

"Sorry, Surrey," he replied.

TESSIE O'SHEA'S going to play Shakespeare. She'll portray the nurse ("a very bawdy part") in "Romeo & Juliet" in New Orleans starting in December through Mardi Gras. The Old Vic had been trying to lure Tessie into Shakespeare for years. She finally succumbed when the New Arts Council, which Jacqueline Kennedy's interested in, implored her.

Maureen Stapleton of "The Rose Tattoo" boasted to her friend Norma Crane that she'd lost 75 pounds. "Seventy-five pounds!" exclaimed her friend. "You've lost Julie Harris."

An out-of-towner, who has been sampling New York's all-night restaurants and drug-stores, told me that he got the idea about 11 o'clock at night that he'd like to go to church and say a prayer. "I didn't know New York is so stringent against praying at night," he told me. He tried three mid-town churches, which were closed. But at 53d and 5th Av. he came to St. Thomas' Episcopal and saw a welcome sign. "Open till midnight." He went into the brightly lit church and said his prayer at 11:30. He

Recount Sought In Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — State Sen. Richard J. Parish, Golden Valley Liberal, said Monday he would seek a recount of his apparent nine-vote election loss to Eugene F. Welter, a Crystal Conservative.

The Hennepin County Canvassing Board on Monday certified a 9,258-1,249 victory by Welter.

The Senate district, No. 31, was changed by reapportionment last year.

The board also declared an "obvious error" in some ballots cast in the District 27 A House race. The board figures were 4,795 for Thomas E. Tice, Bloomington Liberal, and 4,666 for Harold J. Nelson, Bloomington Conservative.

IBM Votomatic machines were used, and some voters failed to mark the ballots properly. Nelson's attorney said he would seek court action to count some disputed ballots.

3 Children Die In Trailer Fire

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Three children died Monday in a fire which destroyed their trailer home in Rockford.

The mother, Mrs. Katherine Jones, 23, was severely burned. She was admitted to a Rockford hospital.

Police listed the dead youngsters as Dennis, 3, Terry, 2, and Calvin, 1.

Firemen said the blaze apparently spread from a space heater in the trailer at 3511 Crowley Ave.

Conservation Costs Money
Robert L. Herbst, Minnesota's acting commissioner of conservation, said the Conservation Department has sent its biennial budget request to the Department of Administration for review. The request totals $33,384,000, an increase of 53 percent over the last biennium.

A new salary plan and requests for additional personnel account for most of the increase being requested to finance the Department's program for the next two years. Herbst said a critical shortage of professional personnel has resulted from the persistently low salaries being paid natural resource specialists in Minnesota in comparison with other states, private industry and the federal government.

"As a result," he said, "the Department's forestry division has lost 20 of its 40 college-trained foresters and the game and fish division has seen more than a dozen of its most highly trained and educated wildlife specialists leave for better paying jobs elsewhere."

MOOSE TRANSPORTATION . . . The Schamer family, four brothers and several of their sons, again, this year, went deep into Canada for moose. They got two bulls near Ear Falls, north of Kenora. Bringing the carcass out is always a major job. In the picture of how it's done are four of the brothers, Henry, 422 W. Lake St., Ralph, 571 W. Mill St. (front) and Cliff and Elmer, Buffalo Lake, Minn., the rear team. The big bull was shot by Dan, Red Top trailer court. It was quartered where it dropped. Part of the rack and head shows in the picture.

Broken down by divisions and bureaus, the Department's budget request for the next two-year period includes:

Game and Fish Division: $14,380,000. Includes a request for 82 new positions and improvement of present salaries. Additional sums also are being requested for acquisition and development of fish and wildlife habitat such as spawning areas and wetlands.

Forestry Division: $9,295,000. Includes a request for 80 new positions and salary adjustments. The increased request is necessary to bring the Division's personnel complement up to a level as indicated by a work load analysis. Forestry officials said the additional personnel will be adequate to perform the services required to effectively carry out forest protection from fire, insects and disease, tree planting, recreation, watershed, timber and nursery stock sales, assistance to private woodland owners, and other programs.

Division of State Parks: $4,392,166. The addition of 14 new parks during the 1963 legislative session requires additional personnel and salary adjustments to properly staff the new parks as they are developed for public use. Increased demands for outdoor recreation means additional facilities and more intensive development during the next two-year period. Receipts from fee service operation will produce $834,000 under present laws to be returned to general revenue funds to offset the appropriation request. The request includes 28 full time positions over the present full time employee complement and 5 additional seasonal employees.

Wisconsin Deer

Only about 15 percent as many deer had been harvested the first three days of the Wisconsin season in the river counties as were taken in 1965, according to James Everson, Buffalo County warden. Up to noon Monday a total of approximately 100 deer had been registered at the four checking stations in the county. Last year the total kill for the county was 1,950 deer. The total at Fountain City up to noon Monday was 41 animals, against more than 300 a year ago.

The change in regulations explains the variation. Last year it was any deer—bucks, does, fawns. This year only spiked bucks may be legally taken in the river counties, the same rule as in the rifle zone.

Anyway it was costly not to be sure that your deer had at least a spiked horn three inches long. In county court at Alma, Monday, five deer hunters, who did not check their deer before they shot, paid $75 in fines — $150 each, plus costs and loss of their license rights for a year.

A lot of fine and large bucks were harvested. The top one hooked at Alma was a ten-point, 220-pounder taken by Fred Glander, Alma's chief of police.

Here and There

Wisconsin trappers will have an opportunity to buy Wildlife Refuge trap tags Friday at north Buffalo County points. A refuge representative will be at the deer checking stations at Alma from 10 to 12 a.m. Friday, and at Nelson from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday. The Wisconsin refuge muskrat trapping season opens Saturday, Dec. 3. The Minnesota Wildlife Refuge area, now open, closes Dec. 31.

Alfred Blum, La Crescent, bagged a 23-point, 260-pound buck between Hokah and Houston the opening day. This is the second big buck to be reported from Houston County. A Caledonia youth got a 26-pointer near Brownsville.

The Wildlife Refuge count on swans was 821 Whistlers near Weaver and 50 near Trempealeau last weekend. There are still several flocks of Canada honkers lingering on the upper end of the refuge.

Station Wagon Bid Rejected

New bids will be sought by the city on a station wagon for the electrical inspector, the City Council decided Monday night.

Aldermen acted after receiving only one bid, that of Quality Chevrolet Co. for $2,125 net, at the scheduled opening Monday.

The bid was for a wagon with 8-cylinder engine. Aldermen noted that specifications called for either six or eight cylinders and indicated they would prefer the former for economy reasons.

Other specifications probably will be redrawn to allow bids on a wider range of sizes, wheelbases and weights.

Private Gets Few More Days at Home

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Because the missus dashed off a note to the commander in chief, the war in Viet Nam can get along a few more days without Pfc. George Schmidt's help and he will be able to be with her on their fourth wedding anniversary Wednesday and on Thanksgiving Day.

Schmidt had been scheduled to leave home today for Viet Nam.

His wife, Riva, didn't know what commanding officer to contact to make a plea for extension of his leave. So she wrote to Commander in Chief Lyndon B. Johnson.

The result: Schmidt received two telegrams, granting and confirming an extension. He was ordered to leave Sunday for Oakland, Calif., from where he will be flown to Viet Nam.

Coed Loses Test Appeal

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A University of Colorado coed who sought to boost her failing English literature grade through court action has flunked again — this time legally.

University officials said Jaclyn Dieffenderfer was given an "F" for disciplinary reasons. She was accused of letting another student copy parts of her examination paper. The junior coed said she deserved "at least a B."

Dist. Judge William E. Buck dismissed the girl's suit Monday, ruling that the school has discretion in matters of scholarship.

Father of Five Dead in Cave-in PEWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — James E. Neitzel, 40, of Milwaukee, a father of five, was killed Monday when the walls of an eight-foot trench collapsed on him as he was removing shoring for a sewer project. Sheriff's deputies, a Pewaukee rescue squad and fellow workers labored about 40 minutes to uncover the body. He was an employee of a Milwaukee plumbing and heating contracting firm.

What Anti-Inflation Measures Are Needed?

W H A T ANTI-INFLATION measures will really do the job of checking the price rise?

Answer: The ones that are the most unpleasant to the most people.

So says a report by the family economics bureau of a national life insurance company, which goes on to explain:

The real driving force behind our inflation is excessive spending, by federal, state and local governments, by business, and by an increasingly prosperous citizenry.

Any genuine attack on our inflation actually means cutting down the nation's supply of spending money, which has increased faster than the supply of things to buy. Such a reducing program is likely to be a painful and widely unpopular procedure.

With elections finally out of the way, however, the public may see stronger anti-inflation "medicine" tried out, in spite of its bitter taste.

VARIOUS PRESENT and possible future anti-inflation measures are rated by the bureau as to effectiveness, and unpopularity, as follows:

- Suspension of business investment tax credit: Mixed effects, little net benefit likely against inflation. Pains only business men, mainly those planning expansion of their facilities. Can check over-expansion in some instances, and discourage cost-reducing improvements in others.

- Increased taxation of incomes, business and personal: Painful both to business and the general public; highly effective inflation remedy, BUT ONLY if it reduces or wipes out government deficits. If it merely finances added government spending, will be of no help against inflation.

- Reduced government spending — federal, state and local: A basic inflation remedy, but painful to millions of hopeful recipients of government expenditures — individuals, businesses, whole cities.

- High interest rates: Provide only a moderate brake on borrowed spending money; painful to businesses, home owners and other property owners, and to the millions of credit-using consumers. Needs help of other sound anti-inflation measures to ease its uneven impact.

- Price controls: Superficially appealing to many, farcical unless combined with effective wage controls.

- Wage controls: The more effectively they are applied, the more heartily they are detested. Can check wage-price spiral when voluntary restraints fail. Wage-and-price controls provide temporary last-ditch emergency brake on inflation, but historically are effective only as long as widespread patriotic support for them lasts. Eventual effect is inflationary, due to discouragement of production, deepening shortages. Usually result in rationing.

- Rationing: A public nuisance, not in itself an inflation remedy, but generally needed to make wage-and-price controls tolerable.

PART OF THE EXCESSIVE spending which powers our inflation comes from incomes which have increased faster than output of goods and services; another important segment comes from a record amount of borrowing against future income — by governments, businesses and individuals.

Thus any effective anti-inflation measure must in some way trim down the nation's supply of spending money, either earned or borrowed, and hold it down until the output of civilian goods and services can catch up.

Soaring military expenditures greatly aggravate the problem, since their products are "burned up" in war, while the wages and profits created by their production pour into our markets and compete for the limited supply of civilian goods. At the same time the heavy government expenditures tend to enlarge inflationary deficits.

Income of individuals and businesses in the United States has risen more than $50 billion in the past 12 months, to produce a total national income now running at an annual rate of over $600 billion.

"Compensation of employees" — wages, salaries and fringe benefits — amounts to two-thirds of the total national income and with a rise of $40 billion in its annual rate in the past 12 months, accounts for four-fifths of the total increase, the family economics bureau report points out.

THE REMAINING one-fifth of the increase in national income is made up of gains in business profits, in professional income, farm income, rental income, and interest income, each of which has registered an increase, over its figures of 12 months ago.

When people make more money, they spend more money. Personal consumption expenditures in 1966 are running nearly $35 billion more than a year ago.

Even the money people save, or invest, is loaned out to eager borrowers who in turn spend it for everything from hi-fi sets to new homes, factories and office buildings.

The more money borrowed from savings and the more money borrowed against future incomes that is poured into our booming economy, the more our prosperity becomes a structure of interdependent promises-to-pay. One man's promissory note is another man's asset. That man depends on its timely payment for money

LBJ Could Not Delay Surgery

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Some people see political motives or implications in almost everything that President Johnson does. But it is perhaps unfair to do this, because a careful analysis of all the circumstances will prove that political benefits or disadvantages are often a matter of coincidence with public events.

Thus, for instance, President Johnson abandoned the idea of stumping the country in the last week of the election campaign when he got back from his trip to Asia, and announced that he would be undergoing a surgical operation after the election.

Actually, Mr. Johnson could not postpone the surgery. His doctors told him it had to be done right away and that, in particular, he should not aggravate his throat ailment by extensive speech-making.

IT HAPPENS that by giving up the speaking campaign Mr. Johnson was in a better political position, because if the Democrats should suffer a defeat, it could be argued in his behalf that, had he campaigned vigorously, "things might have been different."

There are also those who have been saying that the trip to Asia by President Johnson was a grandstand play. They tend to minimize the importance of his mission.

Perhaps the most significant thing that has happened to emphasize not only the nonpolitical nature of Mr. Johnson's journey across the Pacific but the importance of a continuing effort to gain worldwide support for the American position in Viet Nam was the announcement on Thursday that former President Eisenhower had visited President Johnson at the hospital and talked with him for nearly an hour about Asian problems. After the interview, Mr. Eisenhower merely said that he and the President had covered a wide variety of subjects and had talked primarily about Gen. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Viet Nam. Mr. Johnson stated later that he had also asked the former president "for his judgment on some of our friends in the Pacific and Asia."

The snow which fell was barely enough to excuse the efforts of those who were in a hurry for a sleigh ride.

To meet his own obligations to others, Herein lies the chief danger of boom-and-bust.

A really vigorous campaign against inflation will unavoidably put a financial pinch on millions of citizens, that ranges from mild discomfort to definite pain. Yet the results of unchecked inflation eventually become far more painful, under the looming spectre of a crack-up whose threat increases the longer effective remedies are delayed.

CLEAR-CUT PUBLIC understanding of the basic realities of our economic situation is bound to improve public acceptance of realistic anti-inflation measures.

The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: Repent ye and believe the gospel.—Mark 1:15.

'SPEAK UP, JOHN! WHO SENT YOU?'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

LBJ Chose Warren Probers Impartially

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Today, when a favorite national sport seems to be that of casting doubt on the findings of the Warren Commission, it might be well to investigate what that commission came into being.

I discussed the matter with the new President of the United States 10 days after President Kennedy's tragic death. Suddenly, from having been a background figure in the Kennedy administration, Lyndon Johnson had been thrust into the White House, with all its heavy long-range responsibilities plus its immediate problems of President Kennedy's funeral and the fixing of guilt for his death. The latter had been complicated by Ruby's shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald, which unleashed a flood of rumors that Lee Oswald had been in conspiracy with the Dallas police, the underworld, or the pro-Fascist right wing in Dallas.

The new President was fully aware of this. He also recalled from history the rumors that followed Lincoln's assassination, the vicious report that members of Lincoln's cabinet had conspired to kill him.

So Johnson decided to pick the most unimpeachable, bipartisan board possible to investigate the tragedy of Dallas.

He picked two Republicans — Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan. He balanced them against two Democrats — Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia and Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana. He chose a distinguished elder statesman of the Republican party, John J. McCloy, who had served as assistant secretary of war, high commissioner to Germany, head of the Chase Manhattan Bank and head of the World Bank; plus Allen Dulles, ex-chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

BUT THESE men were willing to serve only if led by a respected, nonpartisan chairman, and to this end the new President approached the chief justice.

Earl Warren had been three times Republican governor of California, had run for vice president on the Dewey ticket in 1948. His credentials were of the highest.

But the chief justice was most reluctant. He told President Johnson the Supreme Court had made it a rule that its members must not serve outside the court; that they must concentrate on judicial problems. He recalled criticism of the late Justice Robert Jackson when Jackson took leave of the court to be U.S. prosecutor at the Nuremberg war trials. Justice Frank Murphy had also taken time off from the court for brief World War II military training.

The chief justice was adamant in his opposition.

But Lyndon Johnson is a persuasive President. The other members of the commission would serve only if the chief justice was its chairman.

"In 1917," Johnson told the chief justice, "you put on a uniform and went out to fight for your country when your country needed you. Your country needs you today."

With tears in his eyes, the chief justice accepted.

ONE development in the investigation of the tragedy which occurred in Dallas three years ago today was the testimony of Mrs. Lee Oswald that her husband had tried to kill Richard Nixon.

She told the Warren Commission how he had read in the newspaper that Vice President Nixon was in town, had strapped his holster and revolver underneath his coat and announced he was going downtown to kill "the vice president."

Mrs. Oswald, then recently arrived from Russia, didn't know what to do. But when her husband went into the bathroom she locked the door and kept him there for a couple of hours, until his ardor for killing had cooled off.

The incident puzzled the Warren Commission. Checking on the movements of Richard Nixon, they found that he not only was not vice president at that time, but he was not in Dallas.

On the other hand, Vice President Lyndon Johnson was in Dallas. Commission members concluded, therefore, that it was Lyndon Johnson who had escaped assassination, and that Mrs. Oswald, recalling then Vice President Nixon's visit to Moscow, had confused the two men.

TOMORROW (Nov. 23) marks the 90th birthday of one of the nation's grand old men of journalism and an elder statesman of California — Thomas M. Storke, editor emeritus of the Santa Barbara News-Press. Storke is not only a Pulitzer Prize winner for his expose of the John Birch Society, but one of the oldest living Californians and a seventh generation descendant of Don Jose Ortega, the first Spanish governor of California.

Storke has seen California grow from a tiny frontier state to most populous in the nation. He has seen it threaded with giant thruways; watched its universities become the largest and most numerous in the United States; seen its streets, sewers and schools building at a speed to take care of 10,000 new people each Monday. And he has known the great and near great who have handled California's record growth.

OF THESE, he numbers the late Hiram Johnson, Earl Warren, now chief justice, and retired Gov. Pat Brown among his dear friends. When I dined with him recently he also told me of his admiration for George Christopher and the latter's record as progressive mayor of San Francisco, and differed with me about columns I had written regarding Christopher's career.

"You were wrong about Christopher," said Tom Storke.

And since Tom has a long record of being wise in his judgments — including his being the first editor in California to buy this column — I defer to his judgment regarding Christopher.

Besides, I have learned that Christopher is doing an admirable job in his new post at the United Nations.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Rusk Secretary For Six Years

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Six years and 652,478 miles after that first meeting in Palm Beach with young President-elect John F. Kennedy Dean Rusk is still secretary of state. The enduring qualities he has shown are loyalty, stamina, caution, modesty and a stubborn hold on what he believes to be the fundamentals of America's position of power in the world.

Rusk has been the victim — or the beneficiary, depending on the viewpoint — of peripatetic diplomacy in the pattern set by the late John Foster Dulles. He has long since passed the Dulles' record of 559,988 miles. And President Johnson is about to send him on still another tour of a large segment of the globe.

Early next month Rusk will swing around Asia. While the itinerary has not been finally determined he will go not only to several of the countries that participated in the Manila conference but others as well, including at the start Japan. This will add perhaps another 30,000 miles to his total of 482,060 in foreign travel. The balance of the grand total is within the United States. Although the mileage exceeds that racked up by Dulles, Rusk points out that he has been out of his office fewer days, thanks to the speed of jet travel. President Johnson seems eager to send as many missionaries to Asia as he can, including former President Eisenhower, who almost certainly will not make the trip.

MOVEMENT, to some critics it appears to be movement for the sake of movement, is becoming a dominant objective with the President himself. Shortly after his return from his Asian tour he called United Nations Ambassador Arthur Goldberg to the ranch in Texas for consultation. He urged Goldberg to start off within a day or two for several Western European capitals to present at the highest level the American stand in opposition to a new bombing pause that would leave the Communists free to prosecute their war without hindrance.

Only after considerable persuasion, pointing out that the General Assembly was in session, did Goldberg convince the President that the trip should be postponed. The Assembly is expected to conclude a day or two before Christmas and then presumably Goldberg will start on his rounds with a call on Pope Paul VI high on the priority list.

IT IS ON Rusk that the burden of incessant travel falls most heavily. He shouldn't go running around the world that way, his critics say; he should stay home and direct and formulate the foreign policy of the nation. But if his chief asks him to go on these far-flung missions, then his loyalty and devotion dictate that he go without question.

This gets down to the basic concept of the office. For Rusk it is the agent to carry out policy determined by the Chief Executive as provided in the constitution of the United States. That was his concept with Kennedy as with Kennedy's successor.

Although dulled by repetition, it is nevertheless true that the office tends to be a thankless one. The Secretary of State is the target for attacks that critics hesitate to aim at the President. He is, in short, a kind of buffer zone where the forces contending over the direction of American policy feel free to operate without restraint.

THE SIX years have meant for Rusk a drain on his health. In the demands of the office he has spent virtually all the savings he had accumulated during eight years out of government as president of the Rockefeller foundation. Every Saturday and almost every Sunday see Rusk at his imposing office in the State Department keeping appointments and trying to stay abreast of the flood of paper work. The same was true of George W. Ball, who recently resigned as the Under Secretary, frankly admitting that he was exhausted and without the resiliency the office requires.

Even sympathetic critics have said this must mean somewhere along the line a failure to reorganize the sprawling State Department and delegate authority. Again it is in the tradition of the Dulles era when foreign policy was contained in the Secretary's hat.

IN HIS FIRST press conference after returning from Manila the President said with marked acerbity that his travels had not tired him because on his plane he could sleep in a full-size bed, and enjoy other advantages denied to his fellow travelers. In part this may be true. But swift changes of time, changes of climate, the constant de-

Relaxant Drugs Put To Use

By J. G. MOLNER, M.D.

Yesterday we discussed Parkinson's disease, what it is like, and what causes it, and warned that early treatment is important. Today let's talk about this treatment.

Since the ailment is a matter of rigidity of the muscles, and tremors (such as the typical "pill-rolling movement"), treatment is aimed at alleviating this rigidity and the involuntary movements which are so annoying.

Several relaxant drugs are in use, and for the most part are effective in bringing relief, particularly if they are begun before the disease has been present too long.

THE DIFFICULTY is that all of them are rather likely to have certain side effects, such as dryness of the mouth, drowsiness, or restlessness.

Hence — obviously — a physician many times changes from one medication to another, to find the one which is least annoying in its side effects. Some degree of this may have to be tolerated, but at least the patient can settle on the one which suits him best.

In more recent years surgical treatment has been employed. It involves severing a certain area of the brain, or injecting alcohol into the critical area.

Candidates for surgical treatment are carefully selected, and among such patients, from 50 to 80 percent favorable results have been reported. Favorable candidates are those with only one side affected, in the early stage of the disease, and younger in age — by "younger" we mean early middle age. Parkinsonism rarely occurs before age 40, and when it does, it usually is the result of encephalitis (inflammation of the brain).

HOWEVER, treatment with medication should be thoroughly explored before resorting to surgery. In addition physiotherapy is extremely helpful to maintain certain skills or movements.

Speech exercises, and training in control of posture and gait are among the important aspects of physiotherapy.

I think it important to add this: A patient with Parkinsonism should be told what he has, the nature of the disease, and what he can expect if he cooperates in his treatment.

The patient must not be allowed to think that his mind is affected, because it isn't, and he must recognize that such exercises as I have mentioned can do much to keep him active, along with his medication.

"Safe Eyes Save Lives"

DEAR ABBY:

Monkey Business May Be Her Line

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband sells on the road. Lately he seems to be spending a lot of time in a small town he used to pass through. I've wondered why because in the past he's never gotten enough business out of that town to justify spending the night there.

Yesterday someone told me that my husband was seen in this little town having dinner with a rather attractive young woman. They appeared to be very much interested in each other.

When I asked my husband about it he admitted being with a woman there, but he said it was for strictly business reasons. Do you think he is seeing her for "business reasons"?

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: I don't know. What's her business?

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a hard working electrician. Occasionally he'll do little jobs after hours as a favor to a friend or relative. But so many people think it is his "hobby" and that he enjoys doing these jobs after his regular work day! And here's another question: WHO should he charge, and WHO shouldn't he charge?

How can he charge his sister-in-law's father when he has never charged his sister? Also, he wired a lamp for his neighbor for free, then her daughter, who my husband didn't even know, sent her waffle iron over to be repaired. Should he send her a bill? I'd appreciate an answer to this question. And so would lots of other electricians' wives.

Abby

ONE WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I doubt if this will come as a shock to any electrician, but here's the only solution: Figure the labor by the hour and add cost of material. If the electrician WANTS to do the friend or relative that big favor, he sends no bill. Otherwise, he presents the bill with the repaired item.

DEAR ABBY: Recently a family was transferred from the east coast to the west coast. The 18-year-old boy (not in service) in this family had been dating a girl on the east coast. The girl had been invited by this boy to fly out and spend the Christmas holidays with this boy and his family. The girl and her mother are all excited about it and are preparing her for the trip.

I think under the circumstances, the boy is the one who should do the flying. What do you think? Call me a Dad who is —

Garner, Former Vice President, Is 98 Years Old

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Former Vice President John Nance Garner is 98 years old today. He says it's just "another birthday" and confides that the one he really is looking forward to is No. 100.

"Yessir," said Cactus Jack in a brief interview Monday, "I'm going to be 98 on November 22." He was vice president in Franklin D. Roosevelt's first two terms in the presidency, from 1932 through 1940.

Wearing a blue flannel robe, blue pajamas and boot-type house shoes, Garner chatted with friends and his son, Tully, 70, on the eve of his birthday.

Tully Garner said a quiet 98th was planned in this southwest Texas town. Tully asked that no pictures be made, as picture-taking sessions tend to upset the older man.

Question Pupils In Cloquet Killing

CLOQUET, Minn. (AP) — Police continued to question pupils and instructors at Cloquet High School on Monday in an effort to solve the brutal stabbing of 14-year-old Kathleen Bodie at the school.

A second bloodstained jacket was sent to the State Crime Bureau for analysis, but officers doubted that it figured in the death of the ninth grader, who was stabbed 20 times on the band room stage Thursday.

A St. Louis County sheriff's investigator, Charles Pavlish, said the second jacket, beige in color, was picked up Friday in a routine check of dry-cleaning businesses.

Sent to the crime bureau earlier for tests was a bloodied jacket found at the dump at Moose Lake. A bloodstained towel, found in a high school locker room, also was being tested.

Officers had said they expected results of the tests Monday, but revised that to Thursday.

For 25¢ . . . we'll show you how to turn the "Skinny Blanket" into a Skinny Robe

CHATHAM BLANKET

The Skinny Blanket is Chatham's new Fiberwoven® blanket. It's about half as thick as an old-style fat blanket. Every bit as warm. And a lot stronger.

It doesn't shed, pill or shrink, so you can wash it over and over and it never loses its original handsome textured look. All of which make it a great robe.

Simply cut the blanket to fit the pattern we send you (one 72x90 size blanket will cover the robe . . . plus a pair of Skinny Boots!). Then sew it!

That's all there is to it. There's no raveling. And you won't even have to hem it. (It's Fiberwoven, so it cuts like felt).

Of course, you'll probably want to add some trim of your own. . . . and you'll probably want to buy two . . . one for your bed also.

You can get Chatham's "Forecast" (that's another name for Skinny Blanket) at Choate's.

Now Even Men Are Getting Themselves 'Into the Act'

By MARIE WILK
Women's Editor

At one time, it may have seemed that we women had all the breaks when it came to gaining a little limelight for our cooking ventures — what with the Mrs. America sports event and all the other national submit-your-recipe-and-see-who-wins type of contests.

But now our husbands can get into the act. Isn't that almost too much to take?

SUNBEAM OES

LEWISTON, Minn. (Special) — Sunbeam Chapter 207, Order of the Eastern Star will meet tonight, Miss Dorothy Pollema and Mrs. David Pollema are in charge of the special Thanksgiving program. Doctor and Mrs. H. W. Satterlee and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Laufenberg will serve.

It seems that one of the unexpected side effects of soaring inflation has been the creation of hundreds of thousands of male-type amateur cooks who never before clanged a pot or carefully measured a quarter teaspoon of spice. Evidence of this trend comes from the officials of the Men's National Cooking Championship whose headquarters in New York have been deluged by recipes entered in its 1967 competition.

It seems that married men are invading the kitchen to see if their business efficiency can beat the aggravation of high food costs (or women's ability, I don't know which.) And the bachelors of the nation are rebelling against soaring restaurant prices. (Here too, there could be other reasons for their cunningness—er, new found ability.)

Of course, this changed pattern of male behavior is being encouraged by wives and brides-to-be. The contest officials believe that it is because the new cooking hobby not only "gives the couples more time together but it also offers an intriguing competition with pleasant rewards," and why should we women tell them anything different?

Besides if we let husbands run wild — let them prepare many meals; after all practice makes perfect — they might even win a free week's vacation for two to the Sheraton-Boston Hotel in Boston, Mass., not to mention a top award prize of $1,000.

Children Learn Through Rich, Full Play Lives

PRINCETON, N. J. — A child's first step is thrilling to his parents and his first steps in learning can be equally so. Wise parents will do well to prepare for the latter as eagerly as they anticipate the former.

Whether a family is well-to-do or not makes no difference. Mother and Dad can still provide a rich play life for their youngsters.

THIS IS where learning begins.

Psychologists are discovering that children with full play lives are more educationally advanced than children living in play — less settings whether poor or wealthy.

Preschool building blocks, painting easels, puppets, child-size homemaking equipment and other imagination building playthings give a child self confidence and stimulate his will to learn. With these he can accomplish things quickly, he can experiment over and over again until he succeeds.

"Carefully selected toys may prove to be education's best 'teaching machine,'" according to Roland M. Glenn, child research director, Princeton, N.J.

IN EXPLAINING why children have taken so readily to teaching machines, Mr. Glenn pointed out that children do not feel threatened by them.

Teaching machines are really playthings; they are not accompanied by adults who make critical comments or have "emotional good or bad days." When a child sets up a dialogue with a teaching machine, he does so without fear of failing.

This same lack of fear is evident when he is at play. He can make toys do his bidding rather than being told what to do with them. Continued trials and successes in laying out a block building city, operating a doll house or puppet theatre or imitating his elders with housekeeping toys, help a child achieve mastery and security in his play world and give him confidence in his own learning and doing powers.

Mr. Glenn, a former teacher in early childhood education, predicts, "In years to come all adults, both parents and educators, will discover that the most powerful first step to learning is full participation in imaginative play life in home and school."

Festival of Marches

Band Strides Impressively Through March Music

By PAUL PARTHUN

Those who like band marches really missed it if they were anywhere but at the WSC auditorium last night! And those who think they don't like marches should have been there too. Programmed as a Festival of Marches, the WSC Concert Band strode impressively through 400 years of music for marching and foot-tapping.

Opening with four program pieces labeled "The Battle!" (a war characterization) from mid-16th century England composed by William Byrd, the band continued chronologically to two marches by our living septuagenarian composer Darius Milhaud. It was his "In Memoriam" that came off best. The college musicians seemed to identify with the complex sound and meaning far better than in Barlow's "Rakoczy March," where national drama and intensity yielded to defiance.

"A Military Symphony" by the 18th century iconoclast, Francois Gossec, closed the first half of the concert. It is better described as a Sinfonia and has the distinction (for that time) of being composed for band.

Audience enthusiasm was evident during these pieces by attention and applause, but it steadily climbed higher during the second half of the program which was dedicated to more popular tunes by Sousa and well-liked marches — "Colonel Bogey," "Athletic Festival," and others. The collegians failed to play louder than the applause, increasing crescendo after the rousing "Stars and Stripes Forever." It seemed to me that quite a few listeners left the auditorium with a distinct quick-step.

Marches have a heritage reaching into the 15th century when drum beats were nationalized, i.e., each country had its own drum beat pattern that served as a military insignia. It was the addition of melody that broke this tradition. Later, other forms of marches appeared for coronations, funerals, weddings, puppet shows, and ballets.

From this, it is evident that a program of marches need not be an ordeal in 2 1/4 time. And it wasn't. It's good to have a bandman like Mr. William Schmid provide his audience with a better awareness of march characteristics. Mr. Schmid is a young man who knows what he wants and gets it. His tempos were always just right and he led with a concise beat — not always followed but frequently anticipated by eagerness. For my taste, the brass was a little overwhelming but I doubt that many share this opinion. More certainly, everyone who was there, left glad that they had come and looking forward to the next band program in March.

Heller Urges Surtax on Income Levy

NEW YORK (AP) — Former White House economist Walter Heller advocates a temporary surtax on income taxes, the kind of increase that House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford says could be a "tragic mistake."

"Both men put forward their positions Monday in speeches before the annual convention of the U.S. Savings and Loan Association."

"The conclusion is that it's time to loosen the excessively tight monetary screws and tighten the fiscal screws," said Heller, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and now a member of the University of Minnesota faculty.

In suggesting a 5 per cent surtax, or tax on a tax, Heller estimated it would produce about $4 1/2 billion in new revenues.

Ford replied: "From the business point of view, a tax increase could have its greatest impact precisely when business does not need a pep pill. From the point of view of the worker, it would take an additional slice out of the pay checks of wage earners already hurt by sharp price increases."

Fair Oaks, 015 for an improper turn. He was arrested Saturday at 7:33 p.m. at Broadway and Main.

Gaulke Case Goes to Jury At Wabasha

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — The state's case against Leonard Gaulke, 44, Rochester, formerly of Winona, charged with indecent assault on an 8-year-old girl on Shive Road, Winona, July 17, 1966, went to the jury here at 12:26 p.m. today.

Judge Arnold Hatfield presided. A change of venue was requested.

The jury was drawn Monday afternoon. State's witnesses were Captain Marlowe L. Brown of the Winona police, LeRoy Laiky, bartender at Ambe's Tavern, Winona; Dr. Warren Haesly, Winona health officer, and Dr. A. G. Bigwood, Winona psychiatrist.

DEFENSE witnesses were Larry Olson and Mrs. Heber McNish, Winona.

Witnesses for the prosecution, called by County Attorney S. A. Sawyer, said Gaulke invited this child and also a 9-year-old girl who was with her to go for a ride in his car and stopped in Shive Road, where the act was committed.

Olson, called by Roger Brosnahan, representing defendant, said he and Gaulke had been drinking in the tavern. Mrs. McNish is a sister of Gaulke, who was at home for the weekend from his work with Cream Construction Co., Rochester.

IN HIS CHARGE to the jury Brosnahan said defendant knew right from wrong but suffered from an uncontrollable impulse, with alcohol acting on his reduced intelligence.

Judge Hatfield, in his instructions to the jurors, said no act is less criminal because of intoxication, and proof of insanity was up to the defense and did not enter into this case.

Drawn on the jury were Mrs. Joe Cavanaugh and Mrs. Melvin Ebner, Plainview; William Donahoe, Thomas Gilcrest and William Graner, Kellogg; Robert Hurtig, Mrs. George O'Brien, and Leo Schmit, Wabasha; Murray Jones, Mazepa; Mrs. Joyce Springer, Zumbro Falls; Mrs. Roy Stevenson, Millville, and Mrs. Joe Thome, Theilman.

Negotiations Break Down in Teacher Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Negotiations have been suspended in Youngstown and have broken down in Hubbard as teachers strikes affecting more than 40,000 students entered the second day today.

The Youngstown Federation of Teachers and the Board of Education recessed negotiations at 3 a.m. today with no progress reported. Pickets were out this morning, a spokesman said.

Negotiations in Hubbard apparently broke down between the Hubbard Board of Education and the Hubbard Federation of Teachers. The board said schools would be open today but told youngsters not to attend.

The main issue in Youngstown is collective bargaining. At nearby Hubbard, the issues are collective bargaining and wages.

The Youngstown board agreed Monday to a collective bargaining election on or before Dec. 16, but said that supervisory personnel should be allowed to vote.

The federation disagreed and said the board's resolution should exclude supervisory personnel. Until that demand is met, a spokesman said the strike would continue.

Present bargaining agents are the Youngstown Education Association and the Hubbard Education Association. Both bargaining agents were designated by their respective school boards.

City Sees Way To Get Rail Tracks Improved

A potent weapon may be available to the city in its efforts to get Wall Street railroad tracks improved, the City Council was told Monday night.

Ald. Jerry Borzyskowski, exploring the street's present condition, said he believes the 100-year franchise of the Milwaukee Railroad has expired. According to his investigation, said the 4th Ward alderman, the franchise was awarded in 1865 and thus has run out.

HIS 4TH WARD colleague, Ald. James Stoltman, charged the problem has existed for years, that railroad officials have been asked to fix deteriorated ties and crossings but to no avail.

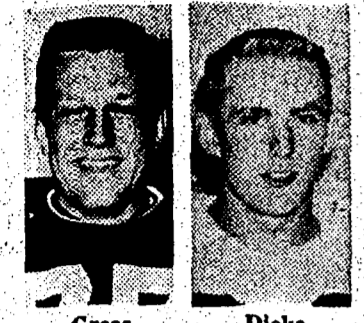

The street department should do the job, with billing to be sent to the railroad company, said Ald. Stoltman. Instant objection burst from Ald. Henry Parks, street committee chairman, who said the department is neither staffed nor equipped for such a task. Ald. Stoltman suggested that extra help might be hired.

Mayor R. K. Ellings said the franchise situation might provide a unique opportunity for the city to order the tracks out of the street altogether.

Alma Places Six on All-Conference Squad

Alma, who romped through the Centennial Conference for its second consecutive football title, placed six men on the 22-man All-Conference football team as chosen by league coaches.

The Rivermen dominated the

offensive unit with five selections. They were 160-pound center Dean Reidt who was the key to Alma's shotgun offense, 220-pound guard Carlos Kreibich who made it for the second straight year, 225-pound tackle Bob Gross, another two-time for 470 yards. The lone defensive performer for the Rivermen was Tom Schmidtkecht, a 170-pound guard who was fourth on the team in tackles on a defense that allowed only 13 points in conference play. Mazepa was close behind Alma in total players on the team with five, paced by outstanding fullback Clayton Copple.

Copple, a 175-pounder, scored 15 touchdowns, kicked 14 extra points and two field goals to compile an amazing 110 points for the season.

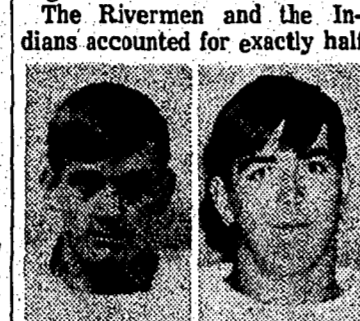

Other Mazepa players on the team are 170-pound tackle Burt Goranson who spearheaded a defense that allowed less than 100 yards per game on the average, 150-pound end Bruce Kinlund who caught five touchdown passes during the season, Brad Tri, a 155-pound defensive end who paced the Indians pass rush, and 150-pound linebacker Duane Holschulte who recovered five fumbles during the season, including one he returned for 36 yards and a touchdown to win a game.

FREDRICKSON A QUESTION MARK

Winhawks Host Tall Hayfield Cage Squad

Mark Fredrickson's broken wrist will be the key to Hayfield's chances against Winona's Winhawks here tonight. Fredrickson, 6-5 letterman, carries much of the Vikings' hopes for the season, as they defend their Wasioja Conference championship.

Fredrickson was expected to miss a couple of games, but an early return to the lineup is entirely possible.

Junior Gary Fritz, 6-4 is back after an outstanding sophomore year and Steve Arendts, 5-9 and Garth Wells, 5-10, are expected to start in the backcourt.

Coming up from the "B" squad to help coach Allan Andreotti's chances are 6-5 center Bill Gross, 6-2 forward Mark Lenz and 5-10 guard Randy Johnson.

The game is the first for the Vikings, who challenge Winona's Winhawks, fresh from topping highly-regarded Minneapolis Roosevelt in an inter-sectional clash.

With one game under their belts, and the excellent performance Saturday, the Hawks have to be considered odds-on favorite to dump the Vikings.

Big Paul Plachecki dumped in a whopping 27 points from his center spot to lead the Hawks. Another bright light in the Winona lineup is sophomore Mark Patterson, who scored 14 points, including the crucial bucket that gave his squad command of the game late in the fourth quarter.

Pat Hopf, Loren Benz and Steve Holubar proved they are rugged competitors, too, with Holubar providing the needed spark in the final minutes by taking command of the boards for Winona.

Hayfield will have to come up with an excellent defense to stop Plachecki-Patterson and company.

Plachecki uses his height to good advantage and seemingly never tired during Saturday's game. He knocked down repeated attempts of opponents to get off long shots and passes, then recovered enough to snatch the ball away from them.

A hot, 45-percent shooting average from the floor added immensely to the Hawk success, too, with another 50 percent on the shots from the charity line.

One game is on tap for the Winhawks over the long Thanksgiving vacation. They travel to Rochester to tangle with John Marshall in a Big Nine conference encounter.

Bruhn to Help Search For New Badger Coach

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's search for a successor to Milt Bruhn as head football coach begins today with the help of Milt Bruhn.

Bruhn, who bowed out under fire last week, will meet with the university's athletic board to map plans to choose a new coach. Law Prof. Frank Remington said Bruhn's aid and advice would be sought at the session.

"My opinion is that his views will be asked," said Remington, who is the board's chairman.

Remington said he hoped the board would be able to name a new coach by the end of the year.

High on the list as likely heir apparent to Bruhn is the 54-year-old coach's top assistant, John Coatta. Another assistant, Mike McGee, also figures in speculation.

The present Wisconsin system that considers a coaching post an assignment within the university faculty and offers no firm contract for a newcomer would seem to favor Coatta or McGee. But Remington gave no assurance the system would be kept.

"One of the things we're going to talk about is possibly switching to a contract system in the future," Remington said.

Bruhn will appear at the meeting to deliver his annual report on the football season. The session was likely to be considerably less tense than it might have been a week ago when it was foreseen as a showdown over Bruhn's 17-year coaching career at Wisconsin.

Bruhn quit last Thursday, five days in advance of the meeting. The resignation came after an extended talk in private with Remington that morning.

The afternoon session today had been placed on the normal schedule in connection with Wisconsin's annual football banquet confirmed last week the board had planned to discuss what he termed in general then as "the coaching situation."

Bruhn, who was a line coach at Wisconsin for six years and head coach for 11, stepped down with a winning record of 52-45-6 despite losing seasons the last three years.

His sophomore-sparked team brought him one final triumph in a farewell Saturday with a 7-6 upset of Minnesota to wind up with a 3-6-1 record this year.

McGee, only 27, was one of four new assistants named to the rebuilt coaching staff this year. Coatta, 37, joined the staff last season.

Coatta was a standout quarterback for three years for Wisconsin in the 1950s and still holds the Big Ten season record for passing accuracy. He was an assistant coach at Florida State for six years before returning to Wisconsin to handle the backfield in 1965 and the defense this year.

Coatta, as Bruhn's top lieutenant, has been regarded as the front-runner if the selection is made from inside the present staff. But McGee, formerly a pro guard from the St. Louis Cardinals and an assistant coach at Duke, impressed Athletic Director Ivan Williamson with his ability this year.

The football coaching change is only the third to be made in 30 years. Bruhn was tapped from the staff to succeed Williamson in 1956. Williamson, along with Bruhn, came to Wisconsin from Little Lafayette College in 1947.

DAUGHERTY DISAGREES

Irish Retain No. 1 Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ara Parseghian took it all in stride but Duffy Daugherty is beginning to feel persecuted.

Parseghian's Notre Dame football team edged out Daugh-erty's Michigan State club by a scant three points in this week's Associated Press college poll after they fought to a 10-10 tie last Saturday. It was one of the closest counts in the history of the poll.

"We were ranked No. 1 last week," Parseghian said on hearing the news, "and Michigan State didn't beat us, and I think we deserve to be on top again."

Daugherty, however, was not convinced.

"I would hope that as the writers take time to reflect," he said, "they would reward this great gang of Spartans for their great effort in the last two seasons."

"No one could be more worthy than this group that played like champions and fought right down to the wire."

This was the second year in a row that Michigan State has had its troubles with the poll. Last season, the Spartans were ranked first at the end of the regular season but were replaced by Alabama when they lost to UCLA, 14-12, in the Rose Bowl.

Notre Dame received 556 points in the poll to Michigan State's 553. The Irish had 23 first place votes to 13 for the Spartans with 14 ballots naming both teams in a tie for first place. Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

But Michigan State made the count close with 27 second-place votes against 15 for the Irish. Alabama was third with 467 points and eight first-place votes and Nebraska was fourth with 401 points and a lone first-place ballot.

The rest of the Top Ten were Georgia Tech fifth, UCLA sixth, Georgia seventh, Purdue eighth, Florida ninth and Southern California 10th.

Michigan State is through for the season but Notre Dame's hopes for continuing in first place depend on its meeting with Southern California Saturday in Los Angeles.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parenthesis, and total points:

1. Notre Dame (37)	556
2. Michigan State (27)	553
3. Alabama (8)	467
4. Nebraska (1)	401
5. Georgia Tech	336
6. UCLA	278
7. Georgia	201
8. Purdue	136
9. Florida	89
10. Southern California	62

Southern Cal In Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Troy Has Fallen—Bring on Purdue!" proclaimed the banner at a University of California at Los Angeles rally.

Then down it tumbled. For on Jan. 2, 1967, it will be Southern California—not UCLA—in the Rose Bowl against Purdue.

The Pacific 8, meeting in San Francisco, selected USC Monday to make its 14th trip to nearby Pasadena. Its credentials? A 4-1 championship record in the Pacific 8, a 7-2 mark overall and 10th place on the AP poll.

But the UCLA fans, pointing to their Bruins' 14-7 defeat of USC just last Saturday and their 9-1 overall record and sixth place AP rating, expressed outrage.

Even at USC some partisans were surprised, even though their Trojans bested UCLA's 3-1 conference mark. Said one USC student: "I think everybody here was surprised." Celebrations erupted.

At UCLA, meanwhile, different rallies erupted. Students protested with obscene signs, bonfires and pranks that ended with more than 40 arrests.

But UCLA Coach Tommy Pro-

thro said: "I have no kick coming. There was no way the conference could vote that would please everybody."

Following its usual policy, the conference did not announce the margin in favor of USC.

Trojan Coach John McKay said, "I felt we'd get the vote. I'll admit I was in the minority of the people around us."

McKay explained that the conference usually sends its champion to the Bowl, though its regulations call only for it to send its "most representative team."

Hornung Fan Unhappy With Nose Breaking

GREEN BAY (AP) — Green Bay Packer linebacker Lee Roy Caffey, who broke halfback Paul Hornung's nose in practice last week, has been hearing about it from the Golden Boy's public.

"I was a bit perturbed with you," a young lady from Two Rivers, Wis., wrote Caffey, and after a few glowing remarks about Hornung's familiar profile added: "Why did you ruin it?"

The 230-pound veteran from Texas A & M said hastily that he didn't think the damage to the nose had had any lasting effect on Hornung's good looks, and added that it was a good thing.

If it had, he said, "it would be dangerous for me to go out there on Sundays, really."

The damage came when Hornung, who wanted to work on a blocking maneuver against a blitz, asked Caffey to "come in on me." Caffey did, and the nose was the loser.

Gals Night to Howl In Local Bowling

It was the gals night to howl in local bowling circles and when they had a chance, they did a good job of it.

The distaff side blasted a pair of top ten counts as Arlene Kessler led the way in the Alley Gator's circuit at Westgate.

Arlene ripped 222-589 for Fenske's. The series ranks her third this season. Behind her effort Fenske's connected for 921-2,621. Jan Wiczorek had a 512, and Elaine Wilde converted the 3-7-10.

The other top ten count also came out of Westgate where Winona Paint & Glass shattered 973-2,659 in the Pin Topplers League. The team game, built around Vivian H. Brown's 209, was the second highest of the season. Vivian finished with a 546 series, but she had to give away high individual series honors to Helen Englerth of Main Tavern.

Helen had games of 202 and 206 to help make her 562 series. Other honor counts went to substitute Irene Pozanc with 557, Marge Moravec with 543, Betty Englerth with 537, Isabelle Rozek with 531, Betty Schoonover with 516, Eleanor Stahl with 515, Irene Gostomski with 512 and Irene Trimmer with 509.

The men also had a reasonably successful evening, paced by Al Nedoba of Hotel Winona in the City League at Hal-Rod Lanes.

Nedoba socked 253-610 for the league topping Hotel Men. Golden Brand Foods clipped 1,023, and Linahan's Inn totaled 2,558.

Pat Hopf smashed 195-541 to spark league leading Good Players to 732-2,129 in the High School Boys loop.

Eight Area Teams At Winona State

Something new has been added to the area high school basketball season and it should be just what the doctor ordered for the fans.

Winona State College is sponsoring the first annual High School Basketball-O-Rama at Memorial Hall Wednesday night. The special night of basketball will bring eight teams to the spaces of Memorial Hall, giving fans an idea of how some of the area's teams shape up.

The teams have been paired off each to play one eight-minute quarter. There will be a five-minute break between each eight-minute "game" to let the next two teams warm up.

The jamboree will bring together seven teams from District One, a good bellwether on just who does hold the power in that district this year, and one from District Three.

The District Three ball club is St. Charles. The Saints are paired off against Rushford in the final 15-minute quarter of the evening's action.

In the first section of the Basketball-O-Rama, Spring Grove will battle defending Maple Leaf Conference and District One champion Preston beginning at 8:05 p.m. At 8:25 p.m. Houston, defending Root River Conference champion, takes on Harmony. This clash will be followed at 8:45 p.m. with Lanesboro going against Caledonia. The nightcap then sends St. Charles and Rushford together at 9:05 p.m.

Here is a quick rundown of what to watch for:

- Spring Grove is led by 6-0 Larry Overhaug. The Lions are coming off an 8-12 season.

- Preston lost much through graduation, but its hopes are tied to 6-6½ Bob Specht. Steve Trande, 5-9 guard, is another outstanding performer.

- Houston was 16-4 last year and has 6-3 Steve Botcher and 6-1 Chuck Poppe back to lead the attack.

- Harmony is picked by many to win the Maple Leaf Conference title this year. The Cardinals are paced by 5-11 Bill Barrett, a 20-point-plus scorer, and 6-4½ Les Berning.

- Lanesboro is trying to improve on a 10-9 record. The Burros big scorer is 6-0 Dick Peterson who poured in 28 points in his first outing this year.

- Caledonia is a young team in a rebuilding season. Paul Wagner, a 5-11 junior, is the team's key man.

- St. Charles has Gary Connaughty, 5-8, Jim Gettler, 5-11, and Dave Morrill, 6-0, all of whom can put the ball in the bucket.

- Rushford was picked by many to be the power of the Root River Conference, but the Trojans have taken it on the nose in two straight nonconference games. Brothers Mike, 6-3, and Jim, 6-5, Woll are the Trojan horses.

Tickets are on sale at all the participating schools as well as Winona State's Memorial Hall. The Memorial Hall doors will open at 6:30 p.m. with the proceedings officially getting underway at 8 p.m. with the introduction of the teams.

South Grabs Lions Share Of Bowl Bids

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The South, a reluctant bystander at last Saturday's Poll Bowl, has recouped, as expected, by grabbing the lion's share of college football's post-season prizes.

Five teams from the rugged Southeastern Conference and two powerful Dixie independents accepted bowl bids Monday as all but five berths in the eight major holiday attractions were filled.

This weekend, two Southwest Conference schools are expected to join the field, giving the southland at least nine of the 16 bowl spots.

Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, and Tennessee — all of the SEC — and independent Georgia Tech and Miami napped bowl assignments Monday while the Pacific Conference pulled a mild surprise by selecting Southern California as the host team in the Rose Bowl. Purdue and Syracuse had been named to the Rose and Gator Bowls, respectively, over the weekend.

The top game should be the Sugar Bowl confrontation between third-ranked Alabama and fourth-ranked Nebraska.

If Alabama sidesteps an upset in its remaining two regular-season games and the Cornhuskers don't stumble against Oklahoma in their Thanksgiving Day windup, the New Orleans classic will offer the only pairings of perfect-record teams.

The game is a rematch of Alabama's 39-28 Orange Bowl triumph over Nebraska last New Year's night.

Georgia Tech, only other unbeaten and untied major team, meets Florida in the Orange Bowl at Miami the night of Jan. 2 after Southern California, the Pacific 8 king, and Purdue, the Big Ten runner-up, tangle in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

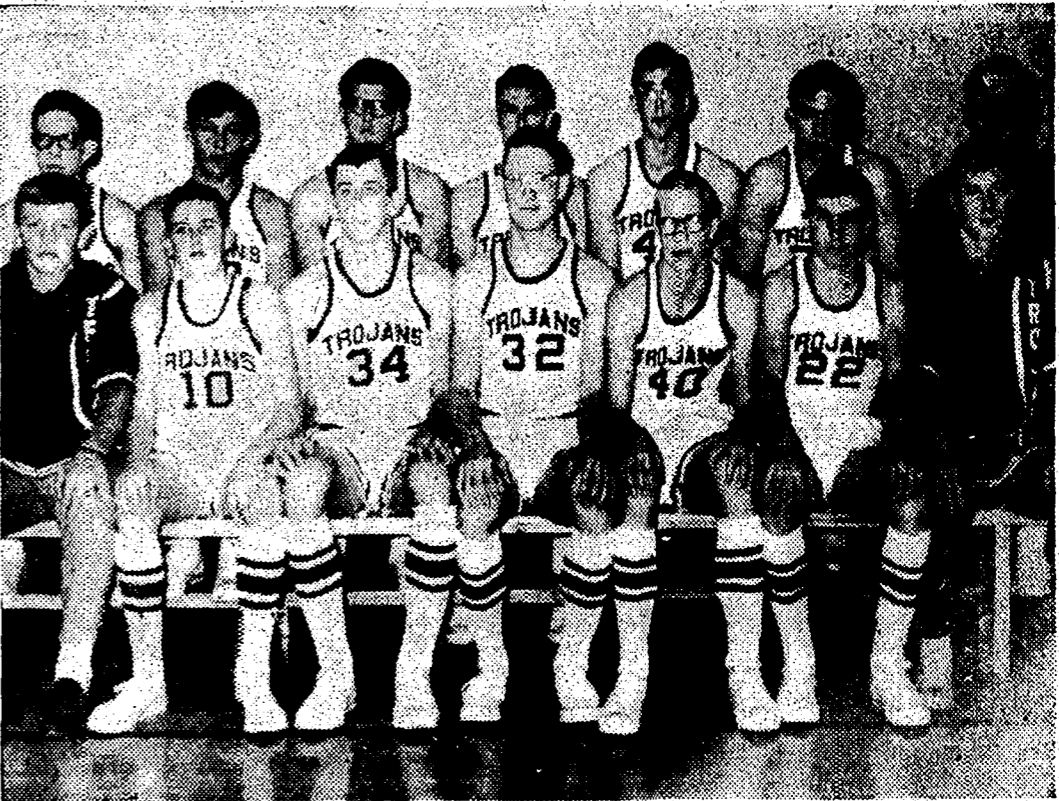

If Southern Methodist takes the Southwest Conference title by beating Texas Christian Saturday, the Mustangs will entertain Georgia in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas on Dec. 31. Tennessee takes on Syracuse in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., the same day.

Mississippi goes to the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston on Dec. 17, where it probably will run into Arkansas of the SWC. Miami has filled half the bill at the Dec. 10 Liberty Bowl at Memphis. Berths in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 24, are still wide open, with 12 schools in the running.

Southern California's nomination as the West Coast's Rose Bowl representative raised a few eyebrows. UCLA, which beat the Trojans' last Saturday but finished one-half game behind them in Pacific 8 play, had been expected to get the call.

ST. PAUL (AP)—Six players from champion Moorhead were named today to the Northern Intercollegiate Conference all-star football team chosen by league coaches.

The only holdovers from the 1965 all-conference squad are Willie Griffin, linebacker, and Tom Csmarich, offensive back, both of Michigan Tech. Csmarich was winner of the Glenn Galligan Memorial most-valuable award.

Duane Hobert of Moorhead was chosen coach of the year in the NIC.

St. Cloud and Mankato placed five each on the team, Bemidji and Michigan Tech three each, and Winona, two.

Thirteen were named to the offensive team as a result of tie votes. The star team is comprised of nine seniors, eight juniors and seven sophomores.

Offensive team:

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Boston Celtics and Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association will play at Convention Hall in the Minneapolis Auditorium Dec. 20.

It's the fifth consecutive year a regular season NBA game has been played here. Formerly, the Los Angeles Lakers, a transplant from Minneapolis, were the host club.

Warriors Open At Stevens Point

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

The time of reckoning has come for the Winona State basketball team. Are Warrior cage fortunes on the upswing? Can some of the newcomers carry the load expected of them?

Winona State opens its basketball season tonight with an 8 p.m. game at Stevens Point with the hope of tucking away victory No. 1 and finding out just what the situation is, primarily, on an individual basis.

"I don't think this game will indicate how our season will go, win or lose," said WSC coach Ron Ekker. "The next five or six games may, but we're still looking toward the conference. It may determine just how some of the individuals are going to do, though."

Ekker says there are eight or nine players he would like to get a look at in tonight's game, but he won't do that if it jeopardizes a triumph.

"We are going over there to win," he continued. "I expect the game to be ragged and this, in itself, will probably give us a chance to play more personnel than usual."

Winona State also opened last season against Stevens Point and played what many believed to be the Warriors' best game of the year in running roughshod over the Pointers 91-75.

"I know they lost quite a bit from last year," said Ekker. "They have only four guys back and none of them did anything against us. They have a lot of sophomores we don't know anything about."

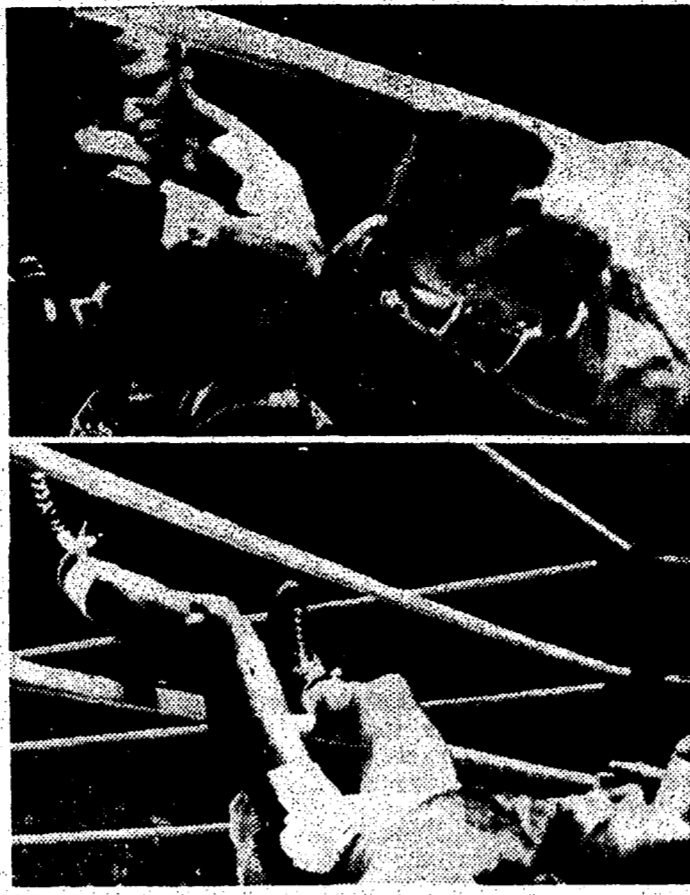

"I know they'll be tough, though. Playing them at their place, we'll have all we want."

The Warriors will open with a starting five composed of 5-8 Dave Meisner and 5-11 Mike DeWyre at guards, Mike Jeresek, 6-6, will anchor the front line. He will be flanked by 6-4 Tim Anderson and 6-5 Mark Wilke.

Other cagers expected to see action are Chip Schwarz, Brian Espe, Jack Gibbs, Rick Starzecki, Al Decker and Bruce Carrier.

Ekker summed up his outlook for the game by saying, "We're at the point where we need to play someone besides ourselves. I feel we're going over there to win but I don't think I'm unduly optimistic. I feel we're a good team and should have a little more experience than Stevens Point."

The 8 p.m. tilt will be preceded by a Winona State-Stevens Point freshman game at 6 p.m.

IN UNDERDOG ROLE

Cotter Cagers in Rebuilding Year

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

For the first time in the memories of many basketball fans, Cotter High School will not be the favorite in Region Six from the opening jump ball of the season.

The Ramblers, who practically held permanent residence at the site of the Minnesota State Catholic High School basketball tournament in years past, gave up that spot last year to Rochester Lourdes, and to everyone's surprise, Lourdes went on to win the state title.

So this year Cotter finds itself looking up as an underdog, and coach John Nett, in his 18th year at the Ramblers' helm, has a big rebuilding job to do if he hopes to get his foot in the state tournament door again.

Five lettermen return for Cotter but none of them showed any proclivity for high scoring last season. The team's leading scorer of a year ago, 6-3 junior Tim Browne, averaged only 11.5 points-per-game.

Tom Wenzel, a 5-10 senior guard, hit at an 8-point clip, while 6-6 senior center Mike Twomey averaged 7.2. The other veterans are 6-3 Steve Erdmanzyk, who held a 4.4 average last year, and 6-0 Tom Leaf, with a 3.7 mark.

Although this appears to be a solid nucleus around which to build, Nett will be counting heavily on bench strength on last year's B squad, a crew which compiled a 16-1 record.

Chief prospects off that unit are 6-3 Bob Greden, 6-2 Hans Meier, 6-1 Ed Saehler, 6-0 Pat Willgen and 5-10 Bob Pomeroy. All are juniors.

Cotter could also get help from seniors Jim Heinlen, Greg Schoener and Marty Wernz, all of whom were squad members last year but did not letter.

Besides finding consistently good scorers among the group (Nett professes the Ramblers have no proven outside shooters), Cotter must bolster a porous defense.

"We have a lot of work to do in all phases," said Nett, "but we've been concentrating primarily on defense. We haven't given them much offense yet."

"Compared to last year, we're about in the same stage as we were then at this time, but our shooting isn't what it should be."

After this coming weekend Nett should have a better idea of just how his team rates. The Ramblers open their season Friday by hosting arch-rival Wabasha St. Felix. Then on Saturday night Minneapolis De La Salle invades St. Stanislaus.

"If we can hit the boards we have a potentially good ball club," said Nett. "Some of these things haven't shown themselves yet, though. We lack consistency."

Although the team is made up entirely of juniors and seniors, the Ramblers lack experience in varsity play. Twomey and Wenzel are probably the most veteran of the lettermen.

The tentative starting lineup for Cotter for Friday night's contest will have Wenzel and Leaf at guards with Twomey flanked by Greden and Browne in the front line. Greden was a member of last year's tournament team.

"I hope we can improve on last year's record (10-11)," summed up Nett. "We have better overall size, but it all depends upon whether we hit the boards and whether we can improve our defense."

Gopher Frosh, Varsity Tangle

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Coach John Kundla puts his green Minnesota Gopher basketball team on display tonight when the varsity takes on a promising freshman squad.

"This will be the most inexperienced team I've coached since I started at Minnesota," Kundla said. "We have only three lettermen and we lost two great stars in Lou Hudson and Archie Clark."

The toughest problem for Kundla is at guard, where he doesn't have any returning lettermen.

Besides Hudson and Clark, the Gophers lost Dennis Dvoracek and Wes Martins from the first team.

Returning lettermen are Tom Kondla, 6-7, Capt. Paul Presthus

6-5, who was a starter last season, and Bill Moore, 6-6.

Nonlettering reserves are Nick Priadka, 6-5, Gale Kotke, 6-7, Fred Kusch, 6-9 and Wayne Barry, 6-1.

The best sophomore prospect at this early date is Leroy Gardner, formerly of St. Paul Central.

Other sophs include Chip Little, an end on the football team and former star at Central High in Fargo, N.D.; Paul Knight, former Minnetonka High star; Jim Johnson; and Tom Ashley.

"We've been practicing for five weeks and are badly in need of some real competition before a crowd," said Kundla. "This freshman squad is tough and should provide a good test."

NBA to Expand To 18 Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be 12 teams in the National Basketball Association next season and 18 in 1970-71.

The expansion move was dictated by a heightened interest from cities desiring an NBA franchise and a professional market survey that revealed growing potential in many new cities for major league basketball. Commissioner Walter Kennedy said Monday at the league's fall meeting.

The NBA, which expanded to 10 teams this season with the addition of Chicago, will add two more clubs in 1967-68 and two more for each of three seasons after that.

Kennedy listed, in alphabetical order, the cities under consideration for franchises:

Atlanta; Cleveland; Dallas-Fort Worth, Tex.; Houston, Texas; Kansas City; Minneapolis, Minn.; New Orleans, La.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Pittsburgh; San Diego, Calif.; Seattle, Wash., and Washington.

"Under primary consideration for the first two franchises are Seattle, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and San Diego," Kennedy said. In other action Monday, the playoff system was revised.

The first four teams in each of the five-club divisions will be eligible for the playoffs, with the first place team playing the third place team and the second meeting the fourth in best-of-5 series. The survivors will then meet in best-of-7 sets, and the division winners will play a best-of-7 for the league championship.

Before the addition of a 10th team, the first three finishers in each division made the playoffs.

Bobby Baun Out For 10 Days

TORONTO (AP) — Defenseman Bobby Baun of the Toronto Maple Leafs, injured in Sunday's 2-2 tie with Chicago Black Hawks, will be out of the National Hockey League club's line-up for at least 10 days.

X-ray Monday revealed Baun's toe was broken when he was hit in the foot by a slapshot from Bobby Hull.

Barry Leads In Charity Percent

NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry of San Francisco, who continues as top scorer, has taken over as free throw percentage leader in the National Basketball Association.

Barry has scored 663 points for a 37.2 average to 472 points and a 31.5 average for Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson in games through last Sunday, according to league statistics released today. The Warriors' star leads in free throw percentage with .881 and is eighth in field goal percentage with a .504 mark.

NAIA Playoff At Albuquerque

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — Undeclared Waynesburg College, Pa., battles New Mexico Highlands in a semifinal game of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics football playoffs Saturday at Albuquerque, N.M.

Waynesburg, 9-0, accepted the playoff bid Monday. In the other NAIA semifinal game, Whitewater, Wis., meets Central Iowa at Whitewater next Tuesday. The winners play Dec. 10 for the NAIA championship at Tulsa, Okla.

and acting around Cobo Arena Monday night that's the way Chualo and Terrell think it might be next year.

Terrell will fight Cassius Clay for the title next year.

"The date that they have been talking about is Feb. 6," Terrell said, "but that isn't official until they decide on a site and the contracts are drawn."

He said an offer had been made to hold the fight in Detroit and he was impressed, "because they were talking with money and that speaks loud and clear."

Chualo ran his record to 33-11-2 Monday night by pounding out a third-round technical knockout over Boston Jacobs of New York. The Canadian champion outweighed his opponent 210 to 186 and completely outclassed him.

Chualo's handlers contend the Canadian is much improved since he dropped a 15-round decision to Clay. They claim the winner of the Terrell-Clay fight should give Chualo another chance at the title.

According to Terrell, he's going to be the winner. "I see an incomplete fighter in Clay," he said. "He's fought a lot of washed up fighters, but he can't handle a good, young man. Chualo, with two weeks' training, fought him a tough fight. I plan to beat him."

Terrell, who holds the World Boxing Association version of the title, is 26. He has a 39-4 record.

Lindgren Wins NCAA Cross Country Title

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Little Gerry Lindgren, Washington State's 20-year-old Olympian, won the 28th NCAA Cross Country Championships in course record time Monday, then scoffed at the idea he might burn himself out at an early age.

"Your mental attitude is everything," Lindgren said. "If you still enjoy the challenge, you can go on. I don't see how you can set a certain age for a physical peak."

Lindgren's time of 29:01.4 on the hilly, six-mile Kansas course smashed the course record set by John Lawson of Kansas last year by a whopping 22.6 seconds. Tracy Smith of Oregon State was 125 yards back in 29:11.

Villanova won its first team championship with 79 points. Villanova, coached by Jumbo Jim Elliott, won the ICAA crown at Kansas a week earlier.

Kansas State was second with 155 points. Lindgren, just 120 pounds and 5-foot-6, missed two weeks of training with two ankle sprains and was beaten by Smith just a week earlier in the league meet. But he worked hard last week and had no ankle trouble.

He sprinted to the front quickly and led all the way.

Mikita Leads NHL Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Mikita, the master playmaker in Chicago's National Hockey League-leading attack, has opened a five-point lead in the individual scoring race.

Mikita picked up a goal and four assists in three games last week for a total of 21 points. Norm Ullman of Detroit, who shared the lead with Mikita at 16 points a week ago, was blanked in two starts but still holds a two-point edge over third-place Rod Gilbert of New York, according to official NHL statistics released today.

Mrs. Granahan Resigns as U.S. Treasurer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kathryn O'Hay Granahan, whose signature appears on the lower left hand corner of the nation's paper money, has resigned as treasurer of the United States.

There was no immediate White House comment on Mrs. Granahan's action, disclosed Monday when the Treasury Department released in response to an inquiry a letter of resignation she had written Oct. 13 and a reply dated last Wednesday by Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler.

cludes a circular walkway, more than 200 feet across and an inscription wall of granite upon which are engraved quotations from the Kennedy inaugural speech of Jan. 20, 1961.

The eternal flame lit during the burial service will be moved to the new site and remain a central symbol. The light has gone out on occasion since the burial but the new one to be installed in the memorial has been tested in hurricane-force wind and simulated rain storms.

John Carl Warnecke, the architect who designed the memorial, attempted to keep it as simple as the expenditure of more than $2 million permitted.

A gray slate marker set flush with the ground will identify the president's grave and those of the children — Patrick Bouvier Kennedy and baby girl Kennedy.

The president's marker will be engraved with the words: John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 1917-1963.

The eternal flame may be seen on a clear night from the Lincoln Memorial, perhaps a mile or more across the Potomac River.

In its new location, the grave and the flickering flame will be in a straight line from the Lincoln Memorial to the Custer Lee Mansion at the crest of the hill overlooking the cemetery. The mansion was built in 1802 by George Washington Parke Custis, adopted grandson of President George Washington.

Thousands of mementos have been tossed upon Kennedy's grave in the three years since the assassination. They give some hint of the moods of the people who visit the grave and the emotions that stir them.

A baby's shoe, a religious medal, a scarlet flower, the berets and caps of military men, a torn page from a Bible with a marked passage were part of one day's offerings.

The mementos are gathered daily, packed and sent to the White House.

The great and the famous, kings and emperors, the ordinary and the obscure citizens of the world have been drawn to the grave.

What brings them?

Many motives. A busload of children arrives on its Washington sightseeing tour. They pile out laughing and chattering with cameras dangling on their arms.

A group of nuns makes the walk around the grave, solemn and silent.

A cluster of businessmen, taking time out from a convention, arrives. They talk casually among themselves but stop for a moment in silence.

A woman came to the grave in a heavy downpour of rain. She told a cemetery worker: "I came all the way from Canada to see this grave and no rain is going to stop me now, or anything else."

Another visitor, asked what had drawn him to the grave, said of Kennedy: "He was a man of grace. He died too young, too needlessly. That has haunted me ever since he was killed. I wanted to come and see the place where he is buried."

Most of those coming alone appear thoughtful or sad as they reach the grave. Many shed a tear.

nia, assumed the $25,360-a-year post in January 1963 after her appointment by President John F. Kennedy, but had been ill since May 1965.

In her letter of resignation to President Johnson, Mrs. Granahan said she had been injured in a fall "while performing my duties as treasurer" but said she had hoped to return to the job.

"Since I have not been permitted to return to my office, I submit my resignation rather than hold this important position without performing its duties," she wrote.

Students Build Fort Replica

A study in pioneering projects has been completed by the seventh grade class at St. Mary's School.

Miss Mary Anne Ryan, social studies teacher for grades 7 and 8, said that the students learn pioneer skills along with their early American history.

They spent many hours making a fort named Jamestown, the first colony founded in America by the English in 1607. The structure is 60 by 30 inches and barricades are 10 inches high. The stockade has inset gates and is topped by a lookout tower. Inside the fort there are replicas of log cabins and a small tobacco curing house. In the town square, which is in the center of the fort, there is a well.

Miss Ryan pointed out that the flag of Britain now flies over the fort but that will be changed after the class studies the Revolutionary War. The structure was completed entirely by the students as an outside project.

She added that the fort will be on exhibition at the Winona Public Library.

Controversy

which of the three shots missed.

Life quoted Connally as saying after a recent review of amateur films of the events: "There is my absolute knowledge. That one bullet caused the president's first wound, and that an entirely separate shot struck me. It's a certainty. I'll never change my mind."

Kilduff, who was the only White House press aide in Dallas and rode in the motorcade, said he agrees with Connally.

But Kilduff added in a taped television-radio interview with Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. "I have absolutely no doubt that Lee Harvey Oswald committed the act on his own and that there was no conspiracy involved, as has been insinuated in many books, and is a belief which is actually widespread in Europe."

Russell said in an interview with the Atlanta (Ga.) Journal that he agreed with Connally in rejecting the one-bullet theory.

The commission, in reaching its one-bullet conclusion, studied films of Connally's and Kennedy's relative positions and reactions in the presidential car and meshed these with timing data concerning the possible rapidity of the shots.

Proponents of the theory that someone in addition to Oswald fired shots contend the films and timing data show that Connally reacted too long after Kennedy to have been struck by the same bullet, but too soon thereafter for a second bullet to have been fired from the same rifle.

Schlesinger, a Pulitzer-prize winning historian, said at Oxford, Miss., that it "appears to me substantial facts and doubts do exist which would warrant a very intensive inquiry." He, like Life, suggested Congress initiate the new investigation.

Schlesinger said he had not read the Warren Commission report or any other books on the assassination.

Russell said questions could be raised. "The test is, can you answer them," he added.

The senator said he had not wanted to serve on the commission, but did not say why. He said his objections had led to rewriting of some key findings of the commission report.

"I'm the only man that bucked the report," he said. "I told them, I'm not going to sign it as long as it's this way."

He said he objected to original wording that stated categorically there had been no conspiracy involved in the assassination. He insisted the report should go no further than saying that Oswald fired the shots that killed

2 New Fights In Central Viet Highlands

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. infantrymen tangled with North Vietnamese regulars in two small new fights today in the central highlands north of the battlefield on which U.S. air cavalrymen took heavy casualties Monday.

Units of the 25th Division skirmished with the North Vietnamese 12 miles southwest of the U.S. Special Forces camp at Plei Djerin and 13 miles northwest of the Green Beret camp. Three North Vietnamese were reported killed in the first clash. There was no word of casualties in the other.

A U.S. military spokesman said the North Vietnamese inflicted heavy casualties on a three-platoon force of about 105 men of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division in Monday's fighting 22 miles southwest of Plei Djerin.

The spokesman said one platoon — about 35 men — was overrun and took the brunt of the casualties. He would not comment on reports that there were only three survivors in the platoon. U.S. military officials consistently refuse to give specific casualty figures in any action on grounds of security.

The North Vietnamese killed several wounded Americans as they swept across the battlefield, the spokesman reported.

The cavalrymen reported killing 102 North Vietnamese with the aid of air strikes and artillery. The North Vietnamese force was estimated at a battalion of about 500 men in all, and the force that overran the cavalry platoon was reported to be 150 to 200 men.

U.S. B-52 bombers roared over the Plei Djerin area today in support of the 25th and 1st Cavalry divisions and dropped their bombs on a North Vietnamese staging area 17 miles west of the Special Forces camp.

Only small, scattered ground action was reported elsewhere in Viet Nam.

Over North Viet Nam, the bad flying weather of the past two weeks persisted and U.S. pilots flew only 41 missions Monday. They hit at storage areas, roads and truck parks, mostly in the southern panhandle.

U.S. pilots flew 473 single-plane sorties Monday against Viet Cong camps, storage areas and fortified positions in South Viet Nam. South Vietnamese pilots flew 147.

The U.S. Navy announced that one sailor was killed and five were injured aboard the destroyer Philip Sunday when a highline rig collapsed during refueling in the Gulf of Tonkin off North Viet Nam.

The highline was rigged between the Philip and the tanker Navasota and was being used to transfer mail and supplies. The Navy said a coupling on the line parted.

Man Who Shot Meredith Pleads Guilty, Sentenced

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — Aubrey James Norvell is scheduled to surrender to authorities here Dec. 2 to begin serving a penitentiary term for the ambush shooting of civil rights leader James H. Meredith last June.

The former hardware salesman from Memphis was sentenced to five years, with three years suspended, after entering a surprise plea of guilty Monday to a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. He is free under $25,000 bond.

Norvell pleaded innocent at his arraignment last Friday and trial was scheduled for today. His new plea came after his attorneys lost several motions to have indictments quashed.

Norvell, 40, was arrested June 6, minutes after Meredith, the man who integrated the University of Mississippi amid bloodshed in 1962, was peppered with birdshot on the second day of his "march against fear" in Mississippi.

Meredith was not seriously injured. Later he joined a massive civil rights march touched off by the shooting.

Kennedy and wounded Connally. Russell said Chief Justice Earl Warren, the commission chairman, "was determined he was going to have a unanimous report. I said it wouldn't be any trouble just to put a little asterisk up here (in the text) and then down at the bottom of the page saying, 'Sen. Russell dissents to this finding as follows.'"

"But Warren wouldn't hear of it. He finally took that part and rewrote it himself."

The final report said the commission found no evidence that Oswald "was part of any conspiracy, domestic or foreign."

Fountain City Lions Honor 7

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. — The seven members of Fountain City Lions Club who were charter members of the group were presented with 15-year pins at Wally's Supper Club Monday night.

Presentations were made by Leonard Letner, president, to Virgil Schaffner, Warren Roettiger, Lloyd Bond, Wally Valentine, James Kirchner, Joe Greshik and Alfred Abts.

Membership now is about 30. William Pehler is secretary and Norris Abts, treasurer.

The largest project of the club is the swimming pool, which it built about six years ago. The Lions maintain it, also furnishing the lifeguards. It brought a seeing eye dog to Fountain City and kept it here as long as needed. It contributes to the Lions project for the blind.

Money is raised by the annual auctions the club conducts each fall, making a city-wide celebration of the event. It serves Jack Harmon dinners served at Wally's and sponsors other money-making projects.

Good Patient, Doctors Say Of President

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — President Johnson didn't violate his doctors' orders by driving home to his ranch from church services Sunday, according to one of the doctors.

"President Johnson is a very good patient and he follows our instructions when he is given specific reasons for their necessity," Dr. James C. Cain of the Mayo Clinic said Monday.

Cain, a friend of the Johnsons as well as one of the family physicians, had said in Washington last Wednesday that Johnson "shouldn't drive a car for maybe three weeks."

The statement, on the day the President underwent surgery for removal of a throat polyp and for repair of an incisional hernia was clarified by the doctor Monday.

"Perhaps I didn't specifically spell out what was intended," he said. "I meant President Johnson should not drive a car over rough ranch roads where a sudden stop might be necessary."

Cain said the road between the ranch and Johnson City, Tex., where Johnson and his wife attended church, is graveled and smooth.

Johnson is a good patient and thus far has violated none of the doctors' specific instructions, Cain said.

"A certain amount of moderate exercise is recommended following the type of surgery the President underwent," Cain said. "Among them are walking, swimming and similar mild exercises."

Heavy lifting or such strenuous Texas pastimes as horseback riding are absolutely on the forbidden list, Cain said.

He denied reports that some of the presidential doctors are concerned about Johnson's weight.

"The President, a big framed man of six-three, has a weight range of between 200 and 216 pounds," Cain said. "Most of the weight, as in the average person, is largely around his abdomen."

"However, for his frame, President Johnson is not markedly overweight and if he can keep his weight at around 200 pounds it would suit us just fine. His normal weight is 199 pounds."

TROJANS BUSY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California assistant coach Joe Margucci believes the Trojans will be a mighty busy football team Saturday.

He scouted Notre Dame, USC's opponent, last weekend when the Irish played Michigan State to a 10-10 tie.

"I tell you their size scares you," he said. "The Irish are so big they outclass the normal college team in size alone."

Stage I Dike Work Nearly Done

Flood dikes are virtually completed for Stage I of the Army Engineers permanent flood control project, the City Council was told Monday night.

About the only unfinished work is that of seeding, said City Attorney George S. Robertson Jr. Since the city will soon be handed the responsibility of maintaining dikes, the council should make preparations now, he advised. Robertson suggested that the street department be assigned to such maintenance.

A number of stones from the riverward side of the dike have been tossed into a gateway at the Prairie Island flood gate, Robertson said. He told aldermen the corps of engineers is thinking of cementing such stones in place to stop this sort of vandalism.

Prisoner Who Tied Up Guards Back in Custody

ST. PAUL (AP) — Arthur T. Kost is back where he was Monday — in custody — but only after a six-hour taste of freedom, to the embarrassment of two lawmen from Virginia.

Kost, about 22, a former Marine whose parents live at Hugo, was to be transported from St. Paul to the Virginia State Prison at Richmond, the site of another escape 1½ years ago.

Virginia officers Leslie Murray and Winston Wade were driving Kost east along U.S. 12 through Wisconsin Monday when he pulled a 32-caliber pistol believed hidden in the car by a confederate.

Leg irons and handcuffs didn't slow Kost down.

"This is it," he warned the officers. "Don't move or I'll kill you."

Kost took their keys, the officers said, and forced them into a wooded area about two miles south of Menomonee, Wis., where he attached Wade to a tree with the leg irons and attached Murray to Wade with the handcuffs.

The escapee also took $600 from the lawmen, along with their overcoats.

But he didn't take an extra set of keys that allowed them to free themselves.

Kost was spotted later approaching the mail box of a St. Paul house. He was captured a few minutes later in a taxi when Detectives Fran Whitney and Robert Morehead approached it from both sides with sawed off shotguns.

Kost had been serving a 16-year term in Virginia for armed robbery.

Laid Off Auto Workers Get Jobless Pay

DETROIT (AP) — Auto workers laid off in current industry cutbacks can count on receiving at least 62 per cent of their wages for up to six months.

Even after that, a man with two years' seniority could draw $50 weekly, plus $1.50 a week for each dependent up to four, for six more months.

These were among layoff safeguards written into current contracts in 1964 bargaining between the four top automakers and the United Auto Workers Union. Some within the UAW equate them with a guaranteed annual wage.

None of the manufacturers has indicated how many would
