Middle East on Brink of Explosion,

Editor's Note—AP Correspondent Roy Essoyan interviewed King Hussein of Jordan today on the current crisis in the Middle East following an Israeli raid on Jordanian border villages and violent demonstrations in Jordan. Here is his report of the exclusive interview.

By ROY ESSOYAN
AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan told The Associated Press today the Middle East is on the brink of an explosion more dangerous to world peace than the Suez crisis of 1956.

His warning was directed at Israel, the Arab world and the West.
He said his armed forces would strike back at Israel — "and strike extremely hard" — if Israel attacks again across the armistice line.
"Our patience is at an end and we won't stand for any further aggression," he said in an interview at the royal palace in Amman.
Hussein said "there was no justification whatsoever" to Israel's claim that it was retaliating against terrorist raids across the border when it raided Samua and two other Jordanian frontier villages Nov. 13. The raid set off violent demonstrations in west Jordan demanding arms against Israel and denouncing the government for the weakness of its border defenses.

The disturbances were brought under control, possibly temporarily, only when troops of Hussein's tough Arab Legion moved into the area. The army so far has remained loyal to its 31-year-old Sandhurst-trained monarch, as it has through other crises of his 14-year reign.

Hussein charged some of his Arab neighbors were serving Communist ends by calling for his overthrow.
Hussein has enjoyed peaks of popularity among his people, especially when he has espoused Arab nationalist causes, but his pro-Western policies are opposed by his neighbors in Syria and the United Arab Republic and do not arouse the enthusiastic support of the Arab masses.

"I hope our friends in the free world will realize what is at stake here today," the king said. "The tensions built up by the events of the last two weeks have created the most explosive situation since the Suez crisis of 1956, and the results could be even more devastating to the free world."
He said Jordan was threatened on three fronts — by Israel, by the threats and propa-

181 Marooned on Car Ferry Riding Out Michigan Storm

U.N. Denies Red China Seat, 57-46

LUDINGTON, Mich. (AP) — Full gale conditions with winds up to 60 miles per hour today prevented tugboats from attempting to move a 405-foot railroad and passenger car ferry aground in Lake Michigan near Ludington Harbor.
The 181 passengers and crewmen aboard were all reported safe, and the ship, the City of Midland 41, was in no apparent danger.
"We sure aren't going to make any attempt to move her in this kind of weather," said Theodore Winkel, superintendent of steamships of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, owner of the vessel.

"The weather here is a lot worse than was forecast," Winkel said. "We have had full gale conditions for the last 24 hours or so, with winds of up to 60 miles per hour and gusting up to 80 miles.
"Our latest weather forecast shows no letup through midnight tonight."

Gale winds drove the 4,000-ton ship onto a sandbar Monday at the channel entrance to Ludington, a resort port in northern Lower Michigan. The ship was inbound from Manitowoc, Wis.
The captain, Henry Gates of Manitowoc, immediately flooded her ballast tanks to stabilize the ship.
The vessel lies about 750 feet from shore. Winkel said she had not moved since late Monday night when a two to three degree list was reported.

Gates said the passengers rode out the storm "playing cards, eating, sleeping and enjoying themselves."
A breakfast "ranging from scrambled eggs to french toast — most anything they want," was prepared for the 128 passengers today, Gates told newsmen by radio-telephone.
"There's no danger whatsoever," said 2nd Mate Charles Carriere, 32, one of the 53 crewmen aboard the vessel.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—By a more decisive vote than last year, the General Assembly refused today to seat Red China in the United Nations. It was the 16th time the Peking government had been barred.
The 121-nation Assembly voted 57-46 to reject a resolution calling for the expulsion of Nationalist China and the seating of the Peking government in all U.N. bodies. Seventeen countries abstained. Laos did not participate.

Upper Michigan Storm Abating

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted some relief today from the heavy snow and gales that stranded more than 1,000 persons, closed roads and schools and disrupted electric service to 10,000 homes in Upper Michigan Monday.
Detroit weather officials said snow in western and northern Michigan would diminish, but warned of heavy drifting and blowing in the northeastern part of the state.
As the storm moved eastward Monday night it deposited one inch of snow on metropolitan Detroit.
Sixteen inches were reported by nightfall around the Marquette area. Drifts ranging to five and six feet high blocked U.S. 2, a main route along the bottom of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. U.S. 41, between Skandia and Ishpeming, was open to one-lane traffic only.
More than 180 persons remained overnight on the car ferry, City of Midland 41, which ran onto a sand bar at Ludington harbor.
The snow stranded some 225 cars and seven buses near Engadine in the southern part of the Upper Peninsula Sunday night and Monday morning. Some 500 persons took refuge in the Engadine Town Hall.
About 400 of the stranded motorists were students returning to Michigan Technological University at Houghton after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Another 200 were sheltered at Escanaba where six inches of snow were reported, and 100 spent the night in a National Guard armory at Manistique.
Main arteries from Marquette eastward and southward were not expected to be cleared before this afternoon, Michigan state police said.
Blustery weather hit areas across the lower Great Lakes region and into the eastern states. Cold air dipped into parts of the Southland.
Up to 3 inches of snow fell in sections of northern Ohio and western New York State in a six-hour period during the night. Five inches of snow earlier had been reported in McKean County in northwestern Pennsylvania and six inches fell in a storm in western New York Monday.
Seven inches of snow covered the Great Smoky Mountains of Tennessee, with 4 inches reported at Newfound Gap on the Tennessee-North Carolina line. The mercury dropped to the 20s.
Early morning temperatures were in the 40s and lower from the Gulf region to central Florida. Southerly winds brought mild conditions to New England, with readings higher in some areas in the far northeast states than in northern Florida.

Man Killed In Accident Near Mankato

MANKATO, Minn. (AP)—Glen R. Hoppe, 46, Rt. 1, Good Thunder, Minn. was injured fatally today when the car in which he was a passenger left Highway 22 and struck a driveway.
Robert F. Carney, 53, also of rural Good Thunder, the driver, was hospitalized here in serious condition. He suffered a back fracture.
Hoppe and Carney were thrown from the car as it turned over. The accident occurred about 4 a.m., about four miles south of Mankato. Hoppe died about two hours later in a Mankato hospital.
The death raised Minnesota traffic toll for the year to 884, compared with 776 through this date a year ago.

Froehlich 1-Vote Winner For Speaker

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Harold Froehlich eked out a one vote first ballot victory over Harold Clemens today in the Republican race for speaker of the Wisconsin Assembly.
Froehlich, an Appleton conservative, garnered 27 of the 53 votes in edging Clemens, an Oconomowoc moderate.
Assemblyman Curtis McKay, a portly Cedarburg attorney allied with Froehlich, was chosen majority floorleader in a 29-23 upset over former Speaker Paul R. Alfonsi of Minocqua.

North Koreans Fire on South Korean Boats

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Four North Korean gunboats fired on a group of South Korean fishing boats on the east coast, south of the military demarcation line today and abducted South Korean fishermen, Seoul's radio Donga reported.
The broadcast said the Communist navy craft surrounded about 30 South Korean fishing boats and fired an unknown number of shells. It said the incident took place about 1 p.m.

B52s Bombed Reds Dou

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, aware the Viet Cong fear sudden bombing attacks most, has almost doubled the force of B52s flying missions to Viet Nam.
Sources said today about 20 of the big bombers have joined the 30-plane fleet of Stratofortresses based on Guam, 2,000 miles from South Viet Nam.
Plans are to step up bombing raids against Communist troop concentrations and supply areas.
Informed sources say interrogation of captured Viet Cong shows the guerrillas dread the unexpected rain of bombs more than any hardship or war tactic, including encounters with U.S. ground troops.
The explanation for this is that the guerrillas are fairly successful in avoiding combat with American units. But they get no warning from the high-flying B52s and, unless they are near reinforced underground tunnels, have no way to evade the 500-pound and 750-pound

It Happened Last Night Eddie'll Play Despite Threats

NEW YORK — Eddie Fisher's on the hate list of people phoning anonymous death threats to Catskill Mountain resort owners who play Jackie Mason.

"If Fisher works there, somebody'll get a bullet in his head," a man's voice warned a phone operator at Grossinger's, much as Grossinger's and the Concord had been warned against playing Mason.

Jackie Mason, hurt in Vegas when a girl ran from a car after hitting a car in which he was a passenger, was told that the driver of the other car was a cocktail waitress whom he didn't know and had never dated.

12 Convicted Of Keeping Children Home

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Twelve parents from a remote section of Rio Arriba County in northern New Mexico have been convicted of keeping their children out of school to protest what they claimed was the dangerous condition of roads over which their children had to travel.

In a nonjury trial, Dist. Judge Samuel Z. Montoya said Saturday he sympathized with the parents' desire for a better road but "if you want your children to get the opportunities they deserve, you should do everything humanly possible to see that they get an education."

Sentencing was set for Wednesday on the misdemeanor charge which carries a fine of $5 to $100 or imprisonment for 5 to 90 days.

Burning Plane Slides to Stop

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Air Force captain told today how he slammed his crippled transport into tree-tops to knock down passengers who panicked when liquid flames poured from the plane's ceiling.

Capt. Richard A. Nagel Jr., 34, of Kenmore, N.Y., managed to crash land the plane despite a smoke-filled cockpit and fire raging out of control in the cabin.

All but one of the 37 persons on board escaped serious injury in the crash at Dau Tieng Saturday. One U.S. soldier-passenger reportedly has serious internal injuries.

Nagel was making his fifth takeoff of the day ferrying soldiers at the end of Operation Attleboro, the biggest U.S. operation of the war. His twin-engine C123 Provider was hit by intense ground fire just after lifting from the airstrip.

"We had been warned of possible ground fire," said Nagel. "We fly with our windows open so we can hear it. This sounded like it was coming from four locations. Then we heard the slugs ripping into the plane about midway along the fuselage. Immediately a fire broke out above the left wheel well."

Nagel was sitting in the cockpit's seat checking out a Thai air force officer as aircraft commander. The American took command of the damaged craft and swung back toward the field.

Panic swept the passengers when liquid fire dripped from ruptured hydraulic lines in the ceiling. They grabbed the few available parachutes and tried to pry open emergency windows, Nagel said.

Airman I.C. Ray A. Houck, 20, of Cement City, Mich., was fighting the flames with a fire extinguisher and pushed passengers away from windows. Nagel and Houck tried to keep all windows closed to slow the spread of flames.

Some, in their panic, burst into the cockpit and tried to climb out a side window. From it they would have dropped into the spinning propeller. Nagel said that five persons were scrambling around the cockpit with the two pilots.

"We had to get the bird down in a hurry and the first thing I saw was a road. We'd just about decided to put it down there when an Army Caribou overhead called and told us to keep turning. We did and then he said the runway was right on our nose. I saw it."

The Dau Tieng airstrip was carved out of a rubber plantation. A Provider should have a 40-foot-wide runway, Nagel said. The Dau Tieng runway is less than 30 feet wide and lined on both sides by mine fields.

Youngstown Teachers Back on Job

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Youngstown teachers return to work today with an agreement for a collective bargaining election in 1968 — the main issue in their week-long strike.

The election, to be conducted by the American Arbitration Association, will determine who represents classroom teachers — the Youngstown Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, or the Youngstown Education Association.

The education association was appointed bargaining agent for the teachers last October. Its contract expires in 1968.

Both the federation and the association ratified Sunday night an agreement reached Saturday with school Supt. J. H. Wannamaker. The federation vote was 75-2.

A key point won by the federation, which struck last Monday, was that administrative personnel are not to vote in the election, only classroom teachers. Administrators will vote separately.

The strike affected 28,000 students in the city's 46 schools who will have to make up three days of classes missed last week. Thanksgiving Day and Friday were regular holidays.

The Youngstown Education Association claims to represent 850 teachers, including supervisory personnel. The federation says it represents the rest of the about 1,400 teachers.

Benefit Party Planned at Strum

STRUM, Wis. — A benefit party will be held at the Strum village hall Saturday at 8 p.m. for Daniel Bergerson, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Bergerson, Strum, who will enter the Slater Kennedy Center in Minneapolis as soon as doctors at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, deem it feasible.

Daniel received a spinal fracture, with paralysis from the waist down, in a car accident near Strum Oct. 30. He was a passenger with two other 16-year-old Strum youths when their pickup went out of control on a town road. He was thrown through the windshield.

Saturday will be Daniel's 17th birthday. Lunch will be served and prizes awarded.

What'd you expect us to put our Overhead Cam Six in?

An ordinary car?

Our revolutionary 165-hp OHC 6 is so revolutionary we had to do something special with it. So we made it standard in all Tempests and Le Mans.

You see, it was inspired by those famous overhead cam engines in expensive European sports cars. With a few Pontiac refinements, of course.

That's why it'll keep running and running until somebody turns it off. And with a power reserve for expressway passing you'd normally expect from a V-8.

We even offer a 215-hp version that makes a lot of big V-8s seem awfully extravagant. Which is why we say, with a 6 like this who needs an 8?

Incidentally, a four-way hazard warning flasher, backup lights, and GM's energy absorbing steering column are some of the safety features also standard in all Tempests and Le Mans. So how can you possibly resist seeing your Pontiac dealer right now?

HARRIS SURVEY

Pollution Big Issue in Some State Elections

By LOUIS HARRIS

LOS ANGELES — A majority of Americans report that most of the rivers, streams and lakes where they live are polluted, and they are boiling about it. The issue of water pollution cropped up in the elections as a major state problem, and it is now a sure bet that this form of conservation will be an important part of the political dialogue of the future.

When asked to rate the jobs local industry and local state and federal government have done in curbing water pollution, the American people uniformly express high dissatisfaction with every level. People also criticize the average citizen for neglect of public interest and duty in allowing pollution to get out of hand.

The worst culprit, people believe, is local industry for continuing to dump waste products into rivers and streams. But the general public, local municipalities and faulty sewage systems also are blamed.

WHEN IT WAS put to them that part of the cost of having jobs from industry was to endure water pollution, the public sharply disagreed by better than 2 to 1. Most Americans are convinced that water pollution can be eliminated. The present favorable reputation of business can be drastically altered unless corrective measures are instituted.

This public outcry marks a return of the conservation of natural resources issue to the center of American politics after a dormant period of several decades — since the era of Theodore Roosevelt, George Norris and Gifford Pinchott.

The depth of feeling can be found in every section of the country, but it is particularly acute along the Eastern seaboard.

"THERE ARE 14 new houses going up around here," says a businessman in Rapid City, S.D., "and their cesspools will all drain right into the creek." Observes a former coal miner now living in Columbus, Ohio: "When I worked in the mines they would wash the coal in the river, and it would be black as tar. On Sunday it would clear up and then Monday, when work began, it would be black again."

A retired fishing enthusiast in Fresno, Calif., complains: "People just don't care where they throw things. I've seen them throw trash into lakes so they won't have to walk back to throw it in a trash can."

"THE GOVERNMENT is to blame," charges a Long Island professional man. "They put in sewers and then dump the whole business into the water."

A cross section of the public was asked:

"As far as the rivers, lakes and streams around here go, do you feel that a lot of them, some but not a lot, only a few or almost none are polluted?"

LOCAL WATER POLLUTION

"The big companies are the culprits," says a resident of Seattle, Wash. "No one is willing to bite down too hard on big companies." Adds a Midwestern farmer: "Industry just dumps anything they have to throw away into the rivers. The water isn't fit to drink, and the fish are all dead."

The public was also asked: "It has been argued that industry has to get rid of its waste and the easiest way is in the water. Therefore, if an area wants to have the jobs that come with industry it has to put up with some water pollution. Do you tend to agree or disagree with that argument?"

Life is made beautiful when people care. When a community cares, there is a beauty in spirit that has a certain magic about it so as to effect an atmosphere that seems to say, "Come on in, the surroundings are fine." In today's "Something to Live By" column I'm going to write about a hole on a corner of Main Street and what some folks that cared, did about it.

When a country is old enough that city after city begins to take on the signs of aging, the people of these communities are faced with the task of urban renewal, or soon eye sore upon eye sore will deface a once proud area. Urban renewal, however, is something that takes planning. A community must be sold on what it needs to do to save its identity with progress and the times. A job that might well take a good long time going into effect.

But what about an unexpected eyecore? A fire that destroys a building, leaving a need to first board up the remains, and in some cases build temporary wood walks around it to keep folks from being injured from falling debris from the now weakened and charred structure. And in time, the building itself must be torn down as it serves no worthwhile purpose.

THEN THERE'S only a hole in the ground where there once had been a thriving business. Often this kind of thing will happen in the heart of the business district, and because it's abrupt, it wasn't a part of a planned urban renewal. A make-shift fence goes up, weeds spring up, in and around that hole, as it collects old bottles and papers. The only apparent hope for better things to come is a sign placed there by the owner, promising to "BUILD TO SUIT" if perchance a new business of great enough magnitude should come along and warrant such expenditure.

Sound familiar? Chances are, many of my readers here in the States and in Canada can think of just such a situation. In La Crosse, Wisconsin, the folks did something about it, and at no cost to the city.

LA CROSSE IS a proud and active community of 52,000 that recently claimed national honors for its ability to spring back after the loss of a great industry. Now with the momentum up, this spirited community just won't quit. That's why that hole on the corner of Fourth and Main, left by a fire that destroyed both building and business, just couldn't be tolerated. Ideally, the city fathers could see a budding business erecting a fine building to further enhance the economy of the city and the beauty of the downtown area. But that takes time.

The Chamber of Commerce, determined to do something about that hole, came up with the design for a beautiful sunken garden. They put out a call, and the people responded. Contractors, labor unions, landscapers, moved in and transformed the hole to a garden with 32-foot trees, a lighted water fountain, decorative fencing, potted plants, and the works. Its estimated value—$30,000, and all donated.

Oh, I mustn't forget. It's topped off with piped-in music. It's been named Man-Lay Garden, symbolic of management and labor, who made it possible. In a world of greed, bickering, and skeptics, I thought the whole thing was quite refreshing.

Should Government Units Be Reduced?

TO COMBAT the rising cost of local government, in Winona County and in other communities, the Committee for Economic Development recommends some drastic changes.

It proposes nine major reforms in the interest of economy and efficiency, including a reduction in the number of local governmental agencies throughout the country from the present total of 80,000 to not more than 16,000.

If such a meat-axe cut were to be made in Winona County, it would mean the elimination or consolidation of 80 percent of these bodies.

The number in the local area, under such a plan, would be reduced by 95.

THE LATEST Census of Governments shows that there are more operating units in Winona County, on the basis of number of people served, than in most communities.

In terms of population, there is the equivalent locally of 29.0 such agencies for every 10,000 people.

Elsewhere in the United States, the average is 4.7 for every 10,000 and, in the State of Minnesota, 14.6.

Locally, as shown in the most recent official tabulation, there are 119 units of government in operation. They comprise the county government itself, municipal governments, 11, township governments, 20, school districts, 83, and special districts, 4.

THE COMMITTEE finds that "revolutionary adjustments" are called for in most local areas to keep costs from skyrocketing higher.

It points out that the direct expenditures of counties, municipalities, towns and districts have jumped from $20 billion a year, in 1952, to $60 billion at the present time.

The tax load, especially for property owners, who bear the bulk of it, is growing proportionately, it notes.

The committee's main proposals are for the elimination of overlapping layers of local government, for a centralization of responsibility and for a replacement of patronage jobholders with trained professionals.

IT SUGGESTS, among other things, that communities enter into contracts with each other, or with private organizations, to carry on their work more efficiently.

What's Happened To Interstate 90?

(The Austin Herald)

HERE IS A study in contrasts — the sharp contrast between the progress of Interstate 90 across our Southern Minnesota, and the progress of Interstate 80 which traverses the central part of Iowa.

A ceremony was held last week dedicating the Interstate 80 bridge over the Mississippi. Except for stretches of only 50 miles, all of Interstate 80 across Iowa has not only been completed but is open to travel. Work on the remaining 50 miles is nearing completion. By the end of the year, all of Interstate 80 across Iowa will be completed and opened to travel.

Then take a look at Interstate 90. Only a few segments are finished. It will probably be six to eight years or more before Interstate 90 is completed. We are that much behind Iowa.

AS A MATTER of fact, as far as Interstate 90 is concerned, we are practically behind everybody. Minnesota is one of the few states which has done virtually nothing in developing this important coast-to-coast superhighway.

This is most important to our area. Many cross-country travelers will obviously take the completed Interstate 80 rather than our long-delayed Interstate 90. Interstate 90 has given promise of being highly important to our region in addition to the matter of tourists. By reduction of driving time from the heavily populated Chicago district, it is expected to give impetus to business and industry in our area.

Why has Interstate 90 lagged so far behind? The reason is that in Minnesota Interstate construction has been centered on solving the traffic problems of the Twin Cities area. Most of the money has gone there. Not only was the original program planned that way, but since the plan's original conception construction in the Twin Cities has been pushed ahead to give additional priority over Interstate construction in other parts of the state.

THE INTERSTATE program was conceived to form a network of highways criss-crossing the nation for defense purposes, and for tourist and commercial traveling. Minnesota is well behind in contributing to that objective.

One of the surprising things is that while Southern Minnesota has been seriously neglected, not much protest has come either from the people or Southern Minnesota's legislators. In any event, Southern Minnesota's voice has scarcely been heard on this important matter.

It is impossible now to obtain delay on Twin Cities area projects which have already been started, and the original scheduling can't be changed much. About the only thing that can be done is to speed up the entire Minnesota Interstate program by the floating of bonds which would be

Congress Puts OK on Action

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The American people have been told in recent months by some critics of the administration that the United States has never declared war in Viet Nam and that the President has had no right to send our military forces into Viet Nam because Congress didn't authorize any such action.

But memories are short, and only this week the Senate has made public a document which clearly establishes congressional approval of the right of the executive branch of the government to use military force in repelling aggression in Viet Nam. It is dated Aug. 6, 1964, and covers the record of a joint hearing held by the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the proposed "Southeast Asia Resolution."

The resolution itself was approved unanimously by the Armed Services Committee, and by a 14-1 vote of the Foreign Relations Committee. The full Senate adopted it by a vote of 85 to 2, and the House approved the joint resolution by a unanimous vote of 410 to 0.

QUESTIONS HAVE since been raised concerning the scope of the power granted to the President by Congress, and the impression has been conveyed that about all Congress did was to authorize the armed forces to take retaliatory action against the North Vietnamese because of two particular attacks on American destroyers.

But the report shows that the entire question of repelling aggression in Viet Nam was thoroughly explored, and the Senate committees were comprehensively informed as to the purpose the American government had in mind in ordering large military forces into the Southeast Asia area.

A statement by Secretary of State Rusk, now made public in the report of the hearing, was explicit in every respect and made clear that the resolution was not confined to the incidents in which the destroyers were attacked. He gave the background of the whole Vietnamese situation and stated the issues as they affected the entire region.

APPARENTLY WHAT is needed is some sort of Southern Minnesota organization that would look after the welfare and progress of our area, not only in Interstate construction but in other matters. Other areas of the state with which we are in competition, particularly the Twin Cities, are well organized.

The fact that the Twin Cities area, through reapportionment, will gain materially in political power in our state, makes necessary some area organization that can make its voice heard in Minnesota government.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

FBI Awaits New Ruling On Wire-Tapping Case

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The FBI is not exactly holding its breath, but some of its agents are worried that U.S. Judge Oliver Gasch will rule that J. Edgar Hoover has to testify in the sensational case of bugging at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel, involving the conversations of Bobby Baker, former secretary of the Senate and right-hand man to Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

Hoover himself is reported not to be losing any sleep. He knows that Judge Gasch, a strait-laced public servant who calls the shots as he sees them, has spent much of his career as a public prosecutor, and prosecutors lean toward the FBI.

But, meanwhile, there are some amazing developments in the eavesdropping on Bobby Baker and his friend Fred Black, the public relations man who has won a new trial because the FBI romped over his constitutional rights. Black had been convicted of tax evasion, until the Justice Department went before the Supreme Court to make the embarrassing confession that J. Edgar Hoover had been eavesdropping and wire tapping for years, apparently without the knowledge of the attorney general.

ONE DEVELOPMENT in the bugging of the Sheraton-Carlton is that the FBI agents also listened in on conversations in the VIP suite, where foreign visitors were entertained.

The Carlton is located only a step across Lafayette Square from the White House and is convenient for the entertainment of VIP's.

These visitors will now be interested in learning that for three months, Feb. 7 to April 25, 1963, every remark they made in suite 434-35 was listened to by American agents 24 hours a day.

This was because Fred Black's suite was next door—438-440—and the eavesdropping equipment which the FBI installed was so strong that it picked up conversation in the neighboring VIP suite.

The United States has long been critical of police-state methods by Communist nations and at one time accused the Soviet government of placing a bug in the American embassy. This was over 20 years ago. Today if a bug were found in the Moscow hotel suite of an American visitor there would be an international uproar.

Note—This year President Tito of Yugoslavia fired the vice president of Yugoslavia, Aleksander Rankovic, because he had engaged in wire tapping. Today the Communist world is having the laugh on the United States—thanks to Hoover.

ANOTHER important development in the Bobby Baker case is the fact that the FBI has now violated his constitutional rights. This has been officially stipulated by William O. Bittman, Justice Department attorney who is contesting the case against Baker.

Reason for the stipulation was that the Justice Department was trying to dodge the fact that J. Edgar Hoover has got himself in a position where the FBI can be prosecuted either for housebreaking or violation of constitutional rights. The latter is a felony with a punishment up to ten years in jail.

At present the FBI is being prosecuted criminally in Nevada, where it placed the equivalent of 125 wire taps, in collaboration with the Central Telephone Company of Nevada, also a defendant.

It should be noted in fairness that FBI men are extremely efficient and carry out orders. They should not be blamed personally. Nevertheless a criminal violation is a criminal violation.

How J. Edgar Hoover and the Justice Department are going to get around this law violation remains to be seen. For the Justice Department, which is in charge of enforcing the law, will be in the position of prosecuting an arm of the Justice Department, the FBI. In Nevada this is not the case because state law is involved. But, in the District of Columbia, federal law is involved and the Justice Department is entrusted with enforcing it.

THE JUSTICE Department is now under Acting Attorney General Ramsey Clark, an able young man who took over when Nicholas Katzenbach was transferred to be under secretary of state. There has been speculation that Katzenbach's demotion was due to the fact that he OK'd the public confession of Hoover's wire-tapping. Such an admission had never been made before, though long suspected.

So far Hoover has led a charmed life. He had a great career back in the crime-busting days. But ever since President Johnson continued him in office two years beyond statutory retirement at the age of 70, troubles have piled up for Hoover. The President will have another decision to make in about 30 days, when Hoover reaches his 72nd birthday, Jan. 1, 1967.

Ironically Hoover has put himself in the position of probably saving the prosecution of the President's one-time friend Bobby Baker by listening in on his conversations.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Flood of Books On Assassination

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — The third anniversary of the assassination of John F. Kennedy has passed and, contrary to the hopes of those closest to the late President, the passage of time has brought an ever-increasing preoccupation with the details of that crime. Important revelations still to come promise no abatement in the almost-morbid concern with the tragedy that occurred on Nov. 22, 1963.

A flood of books raise questions about the validity of the findings of the Warren Commission. At least one and perhaps two have been serious efforts at analysis, while the others exploit the seemingly unlimited appetite, particularly in Europe, for the conspiracy theory. It in relation to the timing of the shots Lee Harvey Oswald was not the sole assassin, then a second assassin is the agent of a conspiracy still concealed.

While it was farthest from the intention of the author or the members of the Kennedy family who furnished much of the information, a book to be published first in four installments in Look magazine in January and then by Harper & Row in March will raise new doubts and uncertainties. "The Death of a President," by William Manchester is said by those eagerly awaiting its publication to contain 200 headlines. Look, after hot competitive bidding, won publication rights by a bid of $550,000.

IT MAY mean a widening—possibly even a sharp break—between the Johnson and the Kennedy factions. One of the President's close associates believes the book has "sinister implications." This refers to details of a quarrel between the then vice president, Lyndon Johnson, and the President over the Texas trip. Politically, therefore, it could mean a further fragmenting of the Democratic party with great significance for 1968.

An ironic commentary is that the concept of the Manchester book arose from the belief of Mrs. Kennedy, the widow, that if all the relevant material provided by members of the family and close associates were contained in one volume other authors might be deterred and the flood of books checked. It would, in short, stop the conjecture, rumor, speculation that seem to have an endless appeal. For the widow and the family this is like the constant probing of an old wound.

AN AGREEMENT was originally entered into with Manchester, the author of a warmly sympathetic biography of the late President, that his book on the assassination would not be released until after 1968. In a letter last July Sen. Robert F. Kennedy released the author from that stipulation. The argument was that the objective had not been achieved, since other books on the assassination were being rushed to completion and it was advisable to come out at the earliest moment with the authentic account.

Originally, too, there was some sort of understanding, although no one will be specific about it, that members of the Kennedy family would have a veto over material supplied for "The Death of a President." However binding this may once have been, it no longer applies and certainly not to magazine publication.

Mrs. Kennedy is understood to be deeply distressed over the import of publication of certain material made available to the author. An example is a letter she wrote her husband before the assassination which is said to concern the relationship between the Johnsons and the Kennedys.

IT TAKES little imagination to see what magazine publication will mean. A spate of headlines will rehearse with new details of the awful events of that day three years ago. This will subject the widow and her children to a new blaze of publicity and public curiosity, with lacerating memories recalled in every newspaper, radio and television broadcast.

Even the most cynical will credit Mrs. Kennedy with a desire to shield Caroline and

Letters to The Editor

How Are Bond Issue Funds To Be Spent?

To the Editor:

From a Winona Daily News report of Nov. 20, the residents of Winona County have finally been briefed on the county commissioners' decision to sell $750,000 in bonds for county road improvement. Unfortunately, however, the attempt to justify this hasty action comes not from the county commissioners, who voted unanimously for the sale after little or no discussion and who are fully responsible for this decision, but rather from the county highway department which should recommend, not decide, such an issue. Consequently a question arises as to whether the commissioners simply rubber-stamped a county highway department demand without really fully understanding it.

From the limited information available, I seriously question the wisdom of this action. The county highway department speaks in broad generalities and of expecting to obtain "$950,000 of work" from the $750,000 while it provides little if anything from which reasonable appraisal of the request can be made. Requests for funds should be supplemented with comprehensive and alternative plans containing sufficient information from which the commissioners can intelligently review the proposals. And it is the responsibility of the commissioners to fully understand the proposals and to know of the various funds available for expenditure before deciding issues of this magnitude.

In 1967, Winona County will receive $487,000 in gasoline and license tax monies plus $587,000 from its 25 mill levy on real and personal properties. Yet from the records available, no comprehensive plans or budgets have been presented or proposed to show where these monies or the additional $750,000 will be spent. For our commissioners to comply with a county highway request without making adequate review or inquiry, violates the principle of check and balance so essential to effective government.

Fortunately, further consideration of the bond issue is still possible when the bids are opened on Dec. 6. I therefore respectfully urge the commissioners to decide precisely the work to be accomplished and to obtain conclusive evidence of real benefit before accepting a bid for purchase of these bonds.

Some Minor Concessions In Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden returned from Rhodesia today and said rebel Prime Minister Ian Smith had made "some minor concessions" toward averting a final split between Britain and the breakaway colony.

Bowden would not say whether his meeting with Smith had brought agreement nearer. He went at once to report to Prime Minister Harold Wilson and the Cabinet.

A Cabinet decision that Smith's new proposals offer hope of settlement would open the way for renewed negotiations with Rhodesia, whose all-white government declared independence a year ago in an attempt to preserve the rule of the white minority. Otherwise, Britain is pledged to ask the U.N. Security Council to vote mandatory sanctions against Smith's regime.

Hungarian Reds Open Conference

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The ninth congress of the Hungarian Communist party opened today with only about 30 foreign delegations attending, a relatively small audience for Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev if he renews the call for a world Communist conference.

It was assumed Brezhnev would speak Tuesday. He and Bulgarian party chief Todor Zhivkov are the highest ranking foreign Communists attending. Zhivkov first sounded the call for a world conference at the Bulgarian congress two weeks ago, and Brezhnev quickly endorsed it.

Asked at a news conference why only 30 foreign delegations have come, a spokesman said all European Communist parties and those from Communist countries elsewhere were invited. All of them except China and Albania accepted, he said.

On the eve of the congress opening Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper, openly called on opposition elements inside the Chinese party to rise against Mao Tse-tung.

Pravda said Mao adopted an "erroneous course," deliberately hostile to the Soviet Union, that split the world Communist movement and hampered aid to North Viet Nam. It charged that Mao ruthlessly replaced Communist ideology with his own thought, raising a threat to the world Communist movement that must be overcome.

Norse Youth Throws Rocks at U.S. Embassy

OSLO, Norway (AP) — A 20-year-old student has been sentenced to a 30-day suspended jail term and ordered to pay $165 in damages for throwing rocks at the American Embassy last August.

The student said he had been drinking beer with a friend before they went to the embassy building. He said he had intended to hit the coat of arms near the entrance with the rocks but broke two windows instead.

The youth said he has been deeply disturbed by the war in Viet Nam.

A small amount of grated cheese makes an excellent addition to a fish souffle.

Parking Lot On Site of Fire Fatal to 493

BOSTON (AP) — The site is now a parking lot. No marker is there to tell the tragic story. But some visitors to Boston still want to see the place where the Cocoanut Grove fire claimed 493 lives.

It was a wartime Saturday night 24 years ago today when the fire blazed up at 17 Piedmont St.

The Cocoanut Grove night club near Boston's theater district was jammed with more than 1,000 persons, in a space for about 600. It was a noisy, fun-seeking crowd.

No one is quite sure how the fire started. Something started a chain of fire streaking across the room through decorations.

It took just 13 minutes more to end the lives of hundreds in a chamber seething with fire and lethal gases.

Lights went out as the crowd panicked, stumbling and groping for exits. People jammed both sides of a revolving door so it could not move either way. Others rushed to an exit on the other side of the building and piled up against the door. It swung inward and couldn't be opened against the crush.

Alarms brought 14 fire engine companies, plus ladder trucks, rescue squads, civilian defense men, Red Cross plus 400 sailors and Coast Guard men from Boston bases.

Some survivors got out through one side of a double door tugged open by an employee. A few got out through small windows in toilet rooms. Several got out through dressing room windows to an adjoining roof. One group found safety in the club refrigerator.

Out of the deadly fire came some useful changes.

Doctors learned much in techniques of treating burns.

Boston's building code came under sharp study and became one of the most stringent in the country.

It brought outward swinging doors with panic bars. It brought more awareness of fire hazards.

It produced rules limiting the number of persons in public places.

The investigation that followed the disaster brought indictment to 10 men. Only the owner — Barnett Welansky, an attorney — ever went to prison.

Welansky was convicted of conspiring to violate the building laws and was sentenced to 12 to 15 years. He was ill with cancer when he was released after serving 4 years, and died Jan. 27, 1947.

2 Policemen Wounded in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Four Milwaukee police officers and a 59-year-old man exchanged a barrage of gunfire at close range early Sunday.

The result: Two officers wounded; the man had a hole in his hat.

Detective Inspector Kenneth Marple said the Negro pulled a gun and began shooting when Officer Craig Hasling, 22, who was in plain clothes, stepped from an unmarked car to question him because he looked suspicious.

The man stood behind a post and fired while Hasling jumped behind his car. Officer Eugene Bandt, who was in another car nearby came to his aid. They exchanged between 15 and 20 shots before two patrolmen on foot in the inner core area came to their aid and also began firing.

When the man's ammunition ran out he was subdued. He was not hurt, but one bullet apparently went through his hat.

Hasling was struck in the right thigh and Bandt in the neck and right arm. Neither was in serious condition. Marple said the shooting occurred in an alley where the officers were assigned to "surveillance."

Orville Gooden, Eldean Robinson Exchange Vows

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Eldean Ramona Robinson became the bride of Orville O. Gooden Saturday at St. Bridget's Catholic Church. The ceremony united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Robinson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gooden, Galesville. Mass was celebrated by the Rev. James Emmis, and altar boys were David and Daniel Wall, nephews of the bride. Miss Suzanne Sheehy was organist and Miss Norma Ekern was vocalist.

The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Loyal Robinson, Beloit, as matron of honor; her sister, Mrs. Robert Wall, and her cousin, Carole Robinson, Trempealeau, were bridesmaids. Leslie Robinson and Debbie Wall, nieces of the bride, were flower girls, and Todd Alens, Mindoro, nephew of the bridegroom, carried the rings.

The bride's floor-length gown of white satin was fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves, a rounded neckline, straight skirt with a flat bow in the front, and a floor-length shoulder train. Her bouffant veil was held by a crown of pearls and crystals and she carried a white orchid with baby yellow roses on a white prayer book. Her bouquet for the Blessed Virgin was of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of silk crepe in gold, apricot and green fashioned with long-sleeved cut-away jackets, high rising in front, and at the back extending into floor-length trains. All the gowns were two-toned, the darker shade forming the jacket and train. Their matching flower headresses held short veils. The flower girls were dressed like the bride, with short veils falling from flower head pieces. All the attendants carried yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Serving the bridegroom were his brother, Ray Gooden, best man, Loyal Robinson, brother of the bride, and Larry Alens, Mindoro, brother-in-law of the groom. Ushers were Robert Wall, the bride's brother-in-law, and Dennis Gonyier, Holmen, cousin of the bridegroom.

Former Winonan, Wife Attend World Conference

Dr. and Mrs. Blaine McLaughlin, Grand Forks, N.D., son and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McLaughlin, Winona, recently visited Europe.

Dr. McLaughlin is head of the psychiatry department at the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks. In a letter to the parents here, Mrs. McLaughlin told of bus rides and bull fights.

"NOW AS to our trip. We left the States on Aug. 31 and landed in Lisbon, Portugal, Sept. 1. We were there from the 1st until the 4th when we took a fourteen-hour bus ride to Madrid. Saw lots of country that way.

"Lisbon is on the river and is certainly a beautiful city. Went to a bull fight in Lisbon which we enjoyed — which is more than I can say for the bull fight we saw in Madrid. In Portugal, they do not kill the bull and the horseback riding is magnificent. In Spain they are barbaric and I just couldn't watch them — it was just a bloody spectacle as far as I was concerned and I would never go to a Spanish bull fight again.

"MADRID WAS the place where the fourth World Psychiatric Congress was held and what a hectic time that was. Six thousand psychiatrists attended and they only had hotel rooms for about 4,000. Fortunately we had a very nice room there — we were one of the lucky ones.

"After leaving Madrid on 12th, we went to Majorca which is absolutely beautiful.

"We left Majorca on the 16th for Zurich where we spent a day and a half. Then we took a train to Rome where we met Michael Grassi (psychiatrist from Philadelphia who resides in Rome), and had a wonderful week with him. He showed us all around Rome and even took us to Naples for a day where we saw the ruins of Pompeii.

"We left Rome after 6 days and then on to Florence which I thought was one of the most beautiful small cities I had ever seen. The scenery reminded both of us so much of Winona."

"Cookie dough designed for a cookie press can be rolled out and cut if a little extra flour is added. The rolled cookies won't be so rich as the pressed ones but you can cut them into attractive shapes and add interesting garnishes — nuts, frosting and chocolate shot, glazed cherries.

Rockefeller Heir 'Seeing a Lot' of Percy's Daughter

John D. Rockefeller IV and Sharon Percy Rockefeller.

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Rockefeller IV was quoted Saturday as saying he has been seeing "a good deal" of Sharon Percy, daughter of Republican Sen.-elect Charles H. Percy, of Illinois.

The Washington Post reported that in a telephone call to Rockefeller's home in Charleston, W. Va., Friday night he said he had "just returned after spending a few days with my family."

Asked whether he and Miss Percy had plans for marriage, Rockefeller said, "I have seen a good deal of her but we have not made any announcement."

Rockefeller, 28, was elected as a Democrat this month to the West Virginia House of Delegates. He is a nephew of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Gov.-elect Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, both Republicans.

The young Rockefeller served in the Peace Corps and with the State Department before going to Charleston to work in the Appalachian youth program of the war on poverty.

Miss Percy has visited Rockefeller in Charleston at least twice, sources there said. She stayed at the home of W. E. Chilton III, publisher of the Charleston Gazette.

Air Canada Planes Back On Job Again

MONTREAL (AP) — With members of the machinists' union back on the job, Air Canada started flying again today. The airline had been grounded since 5,200 machinists went on strike Nov. 14.

The first regularly scheduled flight in Canada left Montreal at 6:30 a.m. with 19 passengers for Quebec City.

The machinists' new contract increases their wages 20 per cent in the next 25 months and adds another seven per cent in fringe benefits. The top pay rate for mechanics will go up 80 cents to $3.97 an hour.

Socialized Medicine Under Fire

By LOUIS NEVIN

LONDON (AP) — Is Britain's socialized medical system nearing the point of collapse?

Many doctors say it is. Health Minister Kenneth Robinson rejects the idea but concedes that much is wrong with the National Health Service after 18 years in operation.

Yet he asserted in a recent interview: "All in all, believe there are few, if any, other countries in the world where the ordinary man in the street gets better hospital care and treatment. And all the time the standards are rising."

The object of impassioned controversy when created by a Labour government in 1948 to provide free medical care for all from cradle to grave, the NHS has remained controversial ever since.

Yet the nation's three main political parties support it and the very idea of going back to pre-NHS medical practice is unthinkable to the overwhelming majority of Britons.

Nevertheless, friend and critic alike agree something drastic is needed. But what is needed most, hurts most — more money and lots of it.

The service costs the nation a staggering $4.2 billion a year. It is estimated that another $1.5 billion is needed to set things right. And that's not peanuts for a country that has been bouncing for years from one economic crisis to another, especially since the money has to come from the pocket of John Q. Citizen.

The health service is financed mainly by taxation, although each employed person must contribute the equivalent of 55 cents a week toward it. All must contribute whether enrolled in the health scheme or not. An estimated 97 per cent of the population is enrolled. Only 3 per cent prefer to pay the full fees of nonstate medicine. Some 23,000 doctors work under NHS; only 600 have elected to stay outside it.

The public grumbles about long waits in their doctor's waiting room under the health system and long waits for a hospital bed. But doctors contend the fault lies mainly with the British people: many of the patients crowding the waiting rooms daily are hypochondriacs, elderly people who just want somebody to talk to, or people using a visit to the doctor as an excuse for a few hours off work.

But the major complaints against NHS come from the medical profession, itself. Overwork and low pay are the main gripes of the general practitioners — GPs. Complaints by hospital staffs are more serious although they too grumble about overwork and underpay.

Hospital doctors say the hospitals are managed by amateurs; that there are far too few hospitals to care for a nation of 54 million and that the 3,079 NHS hospitals are, in the main, ancient institutions, inadequately staffed and lacking modern equipment and facilities.

Interns say they work an average of 100 hours a week for less than $200 a month.

The time has come to call a halt, said the interns in a recent policy statement, issued through the Hospital Doctors' Association to which most belong. They warned Robinson that "unless urgent steps are taken to arrest a rapidly deteriorating situation, the hospital service will collapse."

Rep. Boggs to Ask Increase In Income Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hale Boggs, the third-ranking Democratic leader in the House, predicts President Johnson will ask the new Congress for a $10-billion to $15-billion increase in the income tax.

But the Louisianaan says Johnson "hasn't told me so."

Boggs, back from talks with Johnson in Texas last week, said Sunday on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation" that projected expenditures of $125 billion will bring "a deficit of a considerable magnitude" over revenues pegged at between $115 billion and $118 billion.

Boggs added: "I would think that both parties, having committed themselves to fiscal responsibility, will face up to such an issue. I just don't believe that we would want a deficit of that proportion, particularly where the deficit is called for as a result of national defense commitments."

Dr. Walter W. Heller, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers under John F. Kennedy and Johnson, again urged a 5 per cent across-the-board income tax boost as a device to slow the economy.

On the NBC program "Meet the Press," Heller said Sunday a tax increase should be coupled with an easing of interest rates. He said this would not bring on a recession.

Heller, now a University of Minnesota economics professor, based his tax increase advocacy on a $20-billion increase in government spending, 4 to 5 per cent boost in plant spending and an increase in war costs of $10 billion to $12 billion.

Laird Predicts Improvements in Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Improvements in the Social Security program by the new Congress which gets under way Jan. 10 were predicted today by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis.

Republicans with their increased strength in the House, he said, would attempt to modernize Social Security payments and other government benefit programs, such as veterans pensions.

Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference, is proposing that Social Security advances in the future be based on increases in the cost of living.

Republicans, he said, would support an immediate boost of about 3 percent in benefits to bring pensioners up to the 1953 level of purchasing power.

Laird's plan would provide that if the cost of living in one quarter of the year increases at an annual rate of 3 percent or more, Social Security checks in the following quarter would automatically be increased by a similar amount.

He said that President Johnson is committed to propose an across-the-board 10 percent increase in benefits after his announcement to that effect a few days before the November elections.

The President's announcement, Laird said, was a prime demonstration of the need for taking Social Security out of future politics, "a goal we in the minority party are dedicated to achieving in the next Congress."

"Prospects for early enactment of truly significant improvements in the Social Security program have never been better," he said in a statement.

Since 1953, he said, there has only been one across-the-board increase in benefits for those under Social Security.

"That increase was in 1963 and amounted to a 7 percent across-the-board raise in benefits," he said. "But the cost of living from 1963 to the start of the new Congress next January will have increased about 14 percent."

"Any person who is now retired and is living on Social Security pensions from the federal government doesn't need these statistics to show that his or her monthly check is inadequate."

Laird said that Johnson's proposal, as outlined before the elections, would not take effect until January 1969.

Store bottles of wine on their sides so that the corks are kept moist.

England to See Oberammergau Passion Play

LONDON (AP) — Britain will get a chance to see an English-language version of the famed Oberammergau passion play next year despite a row over the fact that a Jewish impresario is presenting it.

Philip Solomon, of Dunedin Theatrical Productions Ltd., who also is executive director of the pirate radio station, Radio Caroline, obtained rights for presenting a shortened version of the play in Britain, Ireland and the United States, along with Vic Lewis and Brian Epstein of Nem Enterprises. All three are Jews. The firm manages Britain's famed pop singing group, the Beatles.

Immediately upon learning of the deal, the Board of Deputies of British Jews strongly condemned any Jew for taking part in such a promotion. The board thus echoed the condemnation of Jews in Germany who had assailed the passion play on the ground it has an anti-Semitic tone.

Lewis and Epstein promptly withdrew. Epstein said, "I have withdrawn because I will not give offense to Jewish communities here or anywhere else."

Solomon said he would go ahead with plans to bring the play to England but intended to see there was nothing anti-Jewish in it. There is a clause in his contract with the Germans, he pointed out, "completely ruling out anything anti-Semitic."

The producer of the play over here will be Lothar Bock of Munich and the new text of the shortened version, lasting 2½ hours instead of eight, will be compiled in German by Jochem Blume, a German stage and television director. Music will be composed by Herman Thieme.

Missile Study Doubles Size of Italian Village

ROME (AP) — A village in a central Sardinian mountainland so bleak it doesn't even have bandits has become a modern small town — thanks to modern rocketry and missiles.

The village's improbable name of Perdasdefogu may have been an omen. In Sard dialect it means "lost fire."

Ten years after the remote hamlet was chosen as the site for Italy's missile study center, with test launching pads at nearby Alfo di Quirra, its 2,000 oldtime residents can hardly recognize the place. Its population has doubled.

The influx of new residents working at the center has made the old water system inadequate. A new aqueduct is planned and a new road will link the growing village to Cagliari in the south and Nuoro to the north.

The town is fast growing away from one of the main reasons it was selected. The region was so remote that there were almost no dwellings in the barren hills nearby that might be endangered if missiles misfired or went out of control. Now building is booming.

Murder-Suicide Ruled in Deaths

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Coroner M.W. Bennett has ruled murder-suicide in the deaths of a couple who rented a motel bridal suite to celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Caldwell Adams, 46, Harnett County farmer, and his wife, Runnell, 45, were found shot to death Saturday. Bennett said Mrs. Adams shot her sleeping husband with a .25 caliber pistol and then fired two shots into her chest.

The Adams went to the motel Friday night and asked for the bridal suite because they were observing their wedding anniversary.

Gallup Poll Says Romney Tops in Race

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A Gallup poll says Michigan's Gov. George Romney has passed former Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the top choice for Republican presidential candidate in 1968.

The poll, taken the week after Nov. 8 elections and released Sunday, shows Romney the favorite of 30 per cent of Republicans and 34 per cent of independents. Nixon, choice of 24 per cent of Republicans in the poll last year, was selected this month by 31 per cent of the Republicans and 22 per cent of the independents.

Liberals Pick Rep. Fred Cina, Sen. Grittner

ST. PAUL (AP) — Liberals have selected an Aurora lawyer and a St. Paul junior high school principal to head their minorities in the 1967 Minnesota Legislature.

Rep. Fred Cina, 56, Aurora, was re-elected minority leader in the House, a post he has held since the past two sessions. He has served in the legislature since 1947.

Sen. Karl Grittner, 44, St. Paul, was elected minority leader in the Senate to succeed Sen. Paul Thues, South St. Paul, who was defeated in the Nov. 8 election. Grittner had been Thues' assistant in the last few sessions.

Sen. Nicholas Coleman, St. Paul, was elected assistant minority leader for the 22-member Liberal delegation in the Senate.

Rep. B. F. (Pat) DuBois, Sauk Centre, was re-elected assistant minority leader on the House side.

Liberals lost 12 House seats in the past election are on the short end of a $3-42 lineup.

At a news conference following the pre-session caucuses at the Lowry Hotel Saturday, Grittner and Cina said there "may well be a need for new or increased taxes to finance state services in the coming biennium."

If economic inflation has generated increased state tax revenues, Grittner said, then it has generated increased costs also. He said the 1967 Legislature should provide more services for the public and far better pay for state employees.

Talk about large surpluses will soon disappear once such programs are passed, and new sources of revenue will be groups.

sought, he added.

The senator said Liberals would adhere to the long-time position of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party in opposing a state sales tax if Conservatives try to pass such a law.

Rep. Richard O'Dea, Mahanomi, was nominated as the Liberal candidate for Speaker of the House, a token honor since Conservatives will re-elect Rep. Lloyd Duxbury, Caledonia, to the speakership when the legislature convenes Jan. 3.

Sen. Jack Davies, Minneapolis, and Rep. Bill Quirin, Rochester, were named secretaries of their respective Liberal groups.

Minnesota 4-H Youths Receive Scholarships

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Minnesota youths received $500 scholarships today at the 45th National 4-H Club Congress.

David M. Holtegaard, 17, of rural Rochester, was one of six national winners in the 4-H poultry program.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holtegaard, David has raised 600 to 675 pullets each year for the past eight years. The project has produced a profit of about $1,000 per year.

He is a graduate of John Marshall High School of Rochester. The family operates a 240-acre farm in Olmsted County.

Thomas Melkowski, rural Silver Lake, received his award for work in the national 4-H health program.

The McLeod County farm youth has participated in debates on health, demonstrated first aid and has taken part in food-nutrition projects.

Two other Minnesotans received awards at the opening session Sunday.

Gary Garbe, 18, St. Paul Park was selected one of the nation's 12 top enrollees in the 1966 4-H tractor project. The award includes a $500 scholarship.

He is a freshman majoring in agriculture at the University of Minnesota. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Garbe, who operate a 200-acre farm.

Also receiving a $500 scholarship was Martha Nunn, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Nunn, Champlin, one of six winners of the 4-H dog care and training program.

A student at the University of Minnesota, Miss Nunn has given demonstrations on caring for a new puppy, grooming, obedience and first aid for dogs.

If you want to broil club steaks successfully, you'll have to have the meat cut at least 1-inch thick. Club steaks that are about 1/2-inch thick may be successfully pan-broiled.

NATO Powers Begin Talks

BONN, Germany (AP)—U.S., British and West German negotiators began another round of talks today on the requirements of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Taking part in the meeting were John J. McCloy, former U.S. high commissioner in Germany; British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts; and Karl Carstens, the No. 2 man in the West German Foreign Ministry.

They are expected to produce an interim report on how many American and British troops are needed in Western Europe and how the foreign exchange costs of these troops can best be met. The report is due before the NATO foreign ministers' meeting in Paris in mid-December.

HOW TO KEEP EMPLOYEES

Peerless President Discusses Retention

How can a company attract and keep capable employees? A. J. Bambenek, president, Peerless Chain Co., posed this question in his talk, "The Reason for Dedicated Service," Saturday evening at the Oaks at the firm's fifth service awards dinner.

A large display of Peerless products—tire chains, industrial chains, chain assemblies for original equipment manufacturers, and wire forms—was exhibited at the dinner so an employee could explain to his wife which products he makes. The display was recently exhibited at the National Hardware Show in New York.

PRESENT at the dinner were the firm's founders, three brothers who established Peerless in 1917. They are Joseph B. Bambenek, chairman of the board; A. J. Bambenek, president; and D. C. Bambenek, retired vice president and general manager.

Toastmaster was Stephen S. Sadowski, plant superintendent. Grace was said by the Rev. Phil Williams, pastor, Church of the Nazarene.

Two Americans Choose Lawyers For Russ Trial

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Americans facing trial in Leningrad have chosen their lawyers from the Leningrad Bar Association, the U.S. Embassy said today.

Craddock M. Gilmour Jr. of Salt Lake City, Utah, selected Dwyer S. Rozdestvensky to defend him against a charge of violating Soviet currency regulations.

Ray Duell Wortham Jr. of North Little Rock, Ark., chose Semiyon A. Khayfets to defend him against a currency charge and also a charge of stealing an antique statue of a bear from a Leningrad hotel.

The two men, each 25 and former U.S. Army lieutenants, were arrested Oct. 1 as they were trying to drive out of the Soviet Union. A date for their trial has not been made public.

Pact Sought In Twin Cities Nurses Dispute

ST. PAUL (AP)—Hospital and nurses' representatives met today with State Labor Conciliator Peter Obermeyer in an effort to reach an agreement in a salary dispute which has resulted in the resignations of about 1,900 nurses at 21 Twin Cities hospitals.

A spokesman for the Minnesota Nurses Association (MNA) indicated more nurses would hand in their resignations today. However, some of the resignations received late last week are qualified and would not be accepted in that form, hospital administrators said.

The Twin Cities Hospital Association (TWCHA) is representing the hospitals in the salary only three areas offered higher beginning wages than in the Twin Cities.

ing the hospitals in the salary only three areas offered higher beginning wages than in the Twin Cities.

The nurses are seeking monthly salaries of $541 for beginning general duty nurses, $591 for assistant head nurses and $641 for head nurses.

Current wages, which include a $64 raise which hospitals put into effect Nov. 18, are $478 for beginning nurses, $508 for assistant head nurses and $548 for head nurses.

Spokesmen for the MNA, which is seeking the wage boosts more than seven months before the nurses' contracts expire, emphasized the resignations are individual actions and not a group action.

Roger R. Starn, TWCHA president, said Saturday the salary increase proposed by the MNA is a 31.7 per cent increase, as compared with the 3 to 5 per cent increases suggested in presidential guidelines.

Starn said nurses salaries for 13 major metropolitan areas in the United States showed that

Every second counts this Christmas.

A not-so-funny thing happened on the way to Christmas last year. We ran out of Accutron® timepieces. So the customers who came in at the last minute had to settle for a conventional watch. Some didn't. And we know why. All conventional watches—wind, self-wind and electric—keep time by the gyrations of a balance wheel. It splits a second into 5 parts. But Accutron is not a watch. It's a precise timepiece that keeps time through the vibrations of a tiny tuning fork. The tuning fork splits each second into 360 equal parts. And keeps time so accurate, we guarantee monthly accuracy within 60 seconds—which averages out to about 2 seconds a day. Every second counts during December days. Because what happened last year could happen again. So run in before we run out.

L-Shape House Fits Most Lots

By ANDY LANG

Here's still another version of an Early American Colonial home. In line with the trend of recent years, it answers the demand of the prospective home owner for a house that invokes the charm and warmth of the past while still functioning to serve the contemporary requirements of a growing, active family.

Architect Samuel Paul has created this 1 1/2-story dwelling in an interesting L-shape that not only is pleasing to the eye, but permits placement on a site in either of two ways. It can be set so that the short or long dimension of the house faces the street.

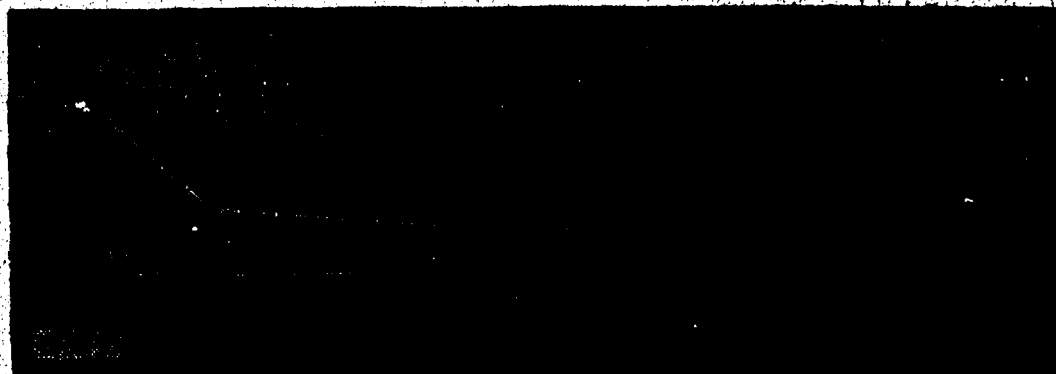

DESIGN G-44 is especially suited to a young family which may someday wish to add two bedrooms on the second floor to the three bedrooms on the first floor. The architect's plans show how the upper story can be utilized — two bedrooms, closets, a small reading nook near the staircase and a full bath that economically lines up with the bathrooms on the first floor.

The functional handling of space is immediately apparent on moving past the front door. A gracious entrance foyer, with two closets to one side, provides easy access to all rooms of the house.

The kitchen, abounding in modern appliances and cabinet space, has enough room for a table for informal family meals and is convenient from the front foyer, rear patio and garage.

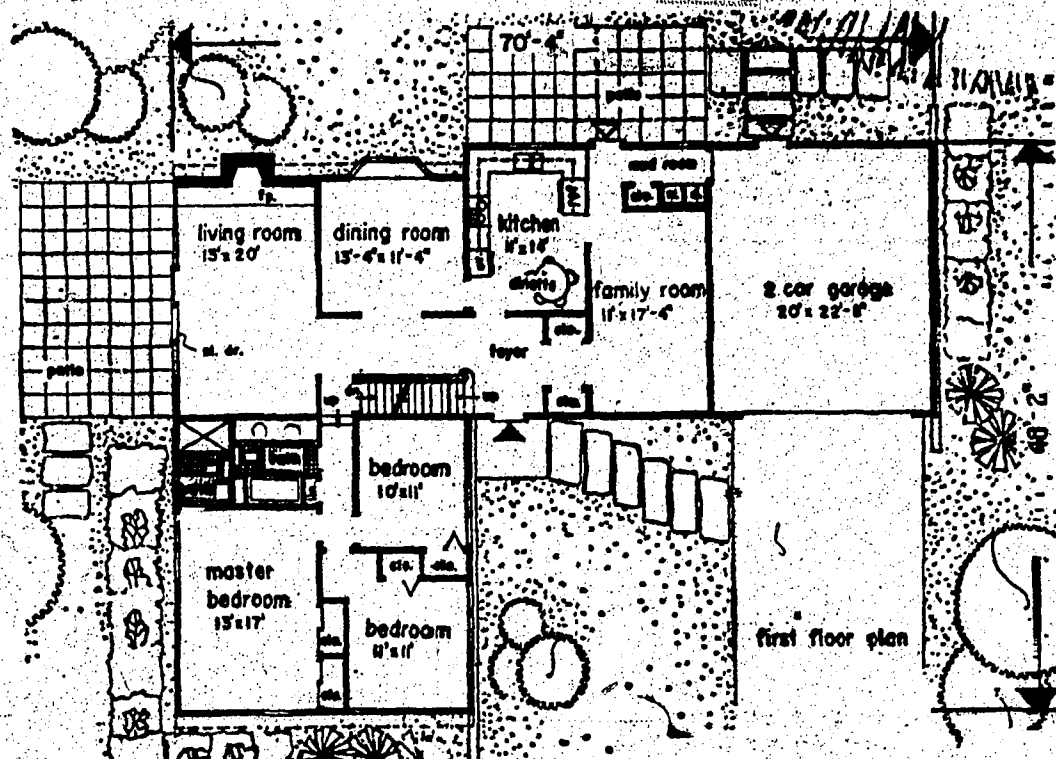

THAT'S THE kind of arrangement the housewife appreciates when she returns laden with grocery packages. The location of the kitchen makes it also accessible to the family room and the dining room, both of which are, in turn, immediately off the foyer.

To one side of the kitchen is the mud-laundering room, which leads to the patio and to the two-car garage. On the other side of the kitchen is the previously-mentioned dining room, which boasts a traditional easement bay window along with a seldom-found ceiling height of

COLONIAL CHARM . . . The pleasing attributes of Early American homes have been retained here, with one portion of the L-shaped design having a second story which permits the addition of two bedrooms and a bath to the three bedrooms and two baths on the lower floor.

FLOOR PLANS . . . To determine the excellent traffic plan of this house, start at the foyer and take an imaginary walk to any single room upstairs and downstairs.

You will note that, no matter which room you select, it is possible to get there without crossing any other room.

hall leading to the sleeping quarters. Besides the three bedrooms, there are two bathrooms, one of which is off the master bedroom and has a tiled stall shower. The other bathroom has a full tub and twin wash basins.

In addition to its regular front auto entrance, the two-car garage has a door leading to the mud-laundering room and another leading to the rear. Its roof is an extension of that which covers the family room and kitchen.

Architect Paul has provided this house with an external look that enables it to grace any neighborhood. Colonial-style shutters, flower boxes, asphalt roofing shingles and shingle-clad walls contrast effectively with low brick parapet walls.

SOME SAFETY HINTS

There's a right way and a wrong way to do everything, as well as a safe way and a careless way. When it comes to ladders, walking under them isn't the only way to insure bad luck. The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association warns that resting ladders too near electric cables overhead can bring shocking results to your outdoor paint job.

COVER HARDWARE

When pre-painting removal of hardware on doors, windows and walls is too bothersome or even too hazardous to do — as with electric sockets, door-knobs and the like — the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association suggests you cover them with masking tape and scraps of paper or cloth.

THEN PAINTS FOR SPRAY

Antiquing with the new short-cut kits is an easy way to make old furniture look like new or give a new piece of furniture the charming appearance of age. If undercoating or color tones are to be applied with a spray-gun, the coating must first be thinned to insure an even flow of paint.

APPLIANCES INCREASE

Americans are using 60 percent more plumbing than they did 10 years ago, according to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. It's predicted that their use will double in the next five years.

G-64 Statistics

Design G-64 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, mud-laundering room, three bedrooms and two bathrooms on the main floor, with a total habitable area of 1,777 square feet.

If the upper floor is utilized for two bedrooms and a bath, 572 additional square feet are added to the living space. There are two patios, one at the rear and one at the side, plus a two-car garage.

Overall dimensions, including the garage, are 70 feet 4 inches by 48 feet 3 inches.

Remodeling For Ballroom Authorized

Two building permits were issued at the city engineer's office last week — a short week with the Thanksgiving holiday and customarily the beginning of a seasonal slowdown in new building activity.

One of the permits was for remodeling at 61 E. 4th St., for its use as a ballroom. The permit was issued to WMC, Inc., owner of the building, and Charles Lane, 456 E. Sarina St., is the contractor.

The area involved in the interior remodeling job is a portion of what was formerly the Arlington Club building. The front portion, facing 4th Street, previously had been remodeled for office purposes. Cost of the job was listed at $1,200.

THE OTHER permit went to Miss Ruth Thode, 408 E. Broadway, for enclosure of a front porch. Work is estimated to cost $350 and the contractor is Thougans Rusco.

The total valuation of permits issued in the city this year now is $10,139,364. At this time a year ago the dollar volume was $7,029,627.

There have been 32 new house permits written, six more than at the same date a year ago.

WHEN PAINTS WERE BOLD

Red oxide of iron was one of the first materials used to add color to paint products — another was copper ore which produced a green colored coating. The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association says, however, that these paints used by the Colonists were vivid and loud — a far cry from the muted pastel tones so popular today. The homeowner of that century had to rely on the weather to soften the colors.

CAMOUFLAGE TROUBLE

Because of the fact that radiators and similar fixtures are unlovely, at best, you can get the best decorative effect by painting these eyesores with the paint color used on the wall against which they stand. This technique, suggested by the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, will make the object appear to merge with its background.

Electric Shocks Help Heart Attack Victim

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A 65-year-old Minneapolis woman has survived a severe heart attack and is recovering after she received 67 strong electrical shocks during a 36-hour span.

The woman, Mrs. Harry Lee, is "doing very well," her physician says. Her husband expects her home within a month.

Mrs. Lee was being treated at St. Barnabas Hospital for a heart ailment, but was ready to go home when she suffered the heart attack earlier this month.

She received closed-chest heart massage until a team of doctors and nurses began the electrical shock treatments.

The electrical shocks were used to induce her heart into proper rhythmic beating, and were credited with saving the woman's life.

Mrs. Lee's doctor, who asked that his name not be used, said each shock was strong enough to be fatal if it had not been released at the proper time.

Two experts said they knew of no other case in the area in which a person's heart had received so many electrical shocks.

Students to Get 'Snack Break'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — West High School begins a 15-minute "snack break" routine today. Students will be allowed to mix in the halls, lunchroom or on school grounds during the mid-morning break. It will not be supervised by teachers.

Ice cream, milk, fruit and cookies will be available in the lunchroom.

"We have students coming at 7:30 a.m. and not eating lunch until 12:30 p.m.," said Ken Kiley, student council adviser.

"That's a long time to sit in class without any break."

The idea came from Principal Frank Jones.

"I believe it's the first program of its kind in this part of the country," said Jones. "I've heard of it out East."

British Police To Stop Using Dobermans

LONDON (AP) — Britain's police have decided to stop using Doberman pinschers, the fierce-looking German guard dogs, for police work.

After using Dobermans experimentally with a number of British police forces, they said today the dogs are too smart.

One dog handler commented: "An Alsatian will go for an armed man if I tell him to but a Doberman is likely to spot the gun and the potential danger and just sit down."

Details on Yule Truce Not Finished

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas White House said today that consultations with the government of South Viet Nam on a Christmas and New Year truce have not been completed.

George Christian, a presidential assistant, made the statement when asked about reports that a truce agreement had been reached.

Government officials said the principal leaders of the Saigon government have been in the field visiting their troops and have just returned to the capital.

This is expected to speed up consultations and result in an agreement one way or the other in the next few days.

Over the weekend, the Viet Cong radio announced Communist troops would observe a cease-fire for 48 hours over Christmas and for the same duration over the New Year holiday.

The White House acknowledged Saturday that discussions were under way with the South Vietnamese government on the possibility of observing such a cease-fire.

Christian also was asked about reports that the U.S. 6th Fleet, based in the Mediterranean, had been put on alert as a result of the crisis in Jordan.

"This report is completely untrue," Christian said.

"The fleet has not been alerted and has not been moved."

Christian said Johnson was being kept informed of the crisis in Jordan and other developments around the world by Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The President and Rusk talked by phone today, Christian said.

Temperatures Below Freezing in Italy

ROME (AP) — Temperatures dropped below freezing today in most of Italy. There were few complaints, however. It was the first day this month that flood-plagued Italy has had no rain.

In devastated Florence, high schools reopened for the first time since the Nov. 4 floods. Elementary schools will reopen Dec. 5. The Florence Stock Exchange also opened today for the first time since the floods.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Communists in Iran are in a jam. Their program for revolution has been stolen by the shah.

Even a bomb-throwing Marxist would have to scratch his head to find a solid argument against the shah's surging development schemes to modernize the country — except that they are being run by a multimillionaire monarch.

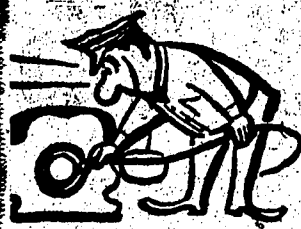

More than 2.8 million peasant families have gotten fields in Iran's royally run land reform campaign, 26,294 young army recruits — their red-tabbed jackets resembling Russian uniforms — have been sent into the villages to teach reading and writing, new roads reached through the vastness of Iran and new factory smoke stacks rise alongside the minarets of the ancient mosques.

Former critics of the program, some of the government employees, who used to question the sincerity of the reforms or argue that they could never work, now support the regime. Leftist student demonstrations have died out and the landlords and religious leaders who challenged the shah from the right have virtually given up.

"Of course there is still some opposition, but their number is so small it is insignificant," said Prime Minister Amir Abbas Hoveida in an interview. "And the Communists have lost the ammunition for their attacks. They are speechless."

"The government is made up of young cabinet ministers and they are killing themselves," said Khodadad Farmanfarmaian, a former critic of Iran's development methods who is now deputy governor of the central bank. "It is still not a streamlined modern administration but the spirit is there and we are moving."

Whacky Sunday Pack Conquers Vikings, 28-16

Afternoon in NFL Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This was the National Football League on a whacky Sunday afternoon:

The Washington Redskins walloped the New York Giants, 72-61, in a record-setting romp.

Then there was St. Louis' 6-3 field goal victory over Pittsburgh—a finesse victory.

Washington Coach Otto Graham pushed his Redskins into the NFL record book with three seconds left when he sent in Charlie Gogolak for a 23-yard field goal that erased Los Angeles' 16-year record of 70 points in a single game.

"In a crazy game like this," shrugged Graham, "what's another three points?"

For the Cardinals, three more points can mean the difference between a victory and a defeat. St. Louis moved into a tie for first place in the Eastern Conference despite the fact that they went without a touchdown for the second straight week.

In other games Sunday, Green Bay opened a two-game lead in the Western Conference with only three games to play by beating Minnesota 28-16 while Los Angeles was stunning Baltimore 23-7. Chicago defeated Atlanta 23-6.

Defensive back Brig Owens scored two touchdowns and set up two others as the Redskins took the Giants apart. Washington's A. D. Whitfield scored three times and Charlie Taylor twice as the two teams combined for a record-smashing 16 touchdowns and 113 points. New York's Gary Wood threw for three TDs and ran for a fourth. Jim Bakken kicked field goals from 26 and 15 yards out for the Cardinals, who have won three of their last four games by a total of 13 points. Mike Clark booted one from 47 yards for the Steelers.

Defensive back Herb Adderley was the hero for the Packers, partially blocking a punt to set up one touchdown and then intercepting a Fran Tarkenton pass to choke off a late Minnesota comeback.

Green Bay was protecting a 21-16 lead with two minutes left when Adderley picked off Tarkenton's pass after the Vikings had moved to midfield. Moments later, rookie Jim Grabowski raced 36 yards with the wrapup touchdown.

Los Angeles gave the Packers a boost by knocking off Baltimore—the Colts' second loss in as many weeks. The Rams limited Gary Cuzco and a sub-par Johnny Unitas to only nine completed passes. Unitas, who injured his right shoulder two weeks ago and suffered five interceptions last Sunday, played only briefly in the second half and lost 20 yards passing.

Dick Bass jolted the Colts for 126 yards in 30 carries while Baltimore's running game managed only 33 yards in 18 attempts against Los Angeles' front wall.

Gale Sayers, running over a mud-soaked field, shredded Atlanta defenses for 173 yards in 19 carries as the Bears defeated the Falcons. Sayers also gained 63 yards on five passes.

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — The Green Bay Packers may be within a skip and a jump of their fifth National Football League Western Division championship in the past seven years, but they're not talking about it until all the fodder is in the silo.

"We've still got three games to play," Coach Vince Lombardi said Sunday after the Packers had conquered the Minnesota Vikings 28-16 for a 9-2 NFL record and a two-game lead over Baltimore in the West.

Lombardi would say no more. But his jovial dressing room mood indicated he has little doubt the Packers are on their way.

Quarterback Bart Starr shared Lombardi's restraint. "To be very truthful," Starr said, "we're not thinking we've got it won. It's just foolish to think that way. We know a lot of things can happen."

The facts show, however, that the defending NFL champion Packers need only to defeat the Colts at Baltimore Dec. 10 to win the Western title. If the Packers lose to the Colts, they must defeat San Francisco next Sunday at Milwaukee and win at Los Angeles Dec. 18 to avoid a possible tie with Baltimore.

Lombardi made no bones Sunday about his relief that the Packers had seen the last of the Vikings for this season. Minnesota upset Green Bay 20-17 three weeks ago at Green Bay, and had another shot at an upset Sunday before Herb Adderley intercepted a Fran Tarkenton pass with two minutes left.

"They're always tough for us, and this game was no different," Lombardi said. "It's just the breaks that Minnesota is not up there with us. They've got a fine football team."

The Packers turned the tables on the Vikings in Sunday's rematch because they contained Tarkenton so much better than in the first meeting, Lombardi said.

"We did a much better job on him this time," Lombardi said. "I think we were a little too conservative in rushing Tarkenton the last time. You've got to contain him or he'll kill you."

Tarkenton completed 15 of 27 passes for 229 yards and one touchdown, and scrambled six times for 18 yards. But the Packers defense kept him from springing any big plays until Minnesota's only touchdown strike in the fourth quarter.

Green Bay caught Tarkenton trying to pass four times for 35 yards in losses.

Adderley and Ray Nitschke came up with three key defensive plays between them that won for the Packers.

Nitschke recovered a fumble by Tarkenton on a scramble to set up Green Bay's second touchdown at the Minnesota 37-yard line late in the first quarter. Starr passed 14 yards to Jim Taylor for the score.

Adderley streaked in to partially block a punt by the Vikings' Bobby Walden two minutes before halftime. The ball hooked out of bounds on the Viking 11-yard line, and the Packers scored in two plays. Starr passed 10 yards to Marv Fleming this time, giving Green Bay a 21-3 halftime lead.

Minnesota took the initiative away from Green Bay in the third quarter and trimmed the Packers lead to 21-9 on Fred Cox's second and third field goals.

Tarkenton threw a 61-yard pass to Jim Phillips and hit Dave Osborn on a 38-yard touchdown toss in swiftly moving the Vikings 56 yards midway through the fourth quarter to trim the Packers margin to only 21-16.

That set the stage for Adderley's game-winning interception. The Packers got close enough for Don Chandler to try a 37-yard field goal, but it sailed wide of the goalposts going into a brisk wind and Minnesota had a final chance.

The Vikings got the ball with 3½ minutes to go, and moved 28 yards to their own 48.

Tarkenton called a play on which he pitched out to Phil King who faked a pass, then lateraled the ball back to Tarkenton. Francis tried to find Preston Carpenter on the right sideline, but Adderley swept in front of Carpenter, picked it off and ran the ball to the Minnesota 45.

A couple of plays later, Rookie Jim Grabowski circled end for 36 yards and Green Bay's clinching touchdown.

The defeat, which left the Vikings with a 3-7 record, was costly for Minnesota. Defensive back Ed Sharrockman has torn cartilage in his rib cage and rookies Don Hansen, a linebacker, Chuck Arrobbio, reserve tackle, lamed knees. All three may be lost for the final three games of the season.

With halfback Tommy Mason, linebacker John Kirby and end Hal Bedsole already out, Coach Norm Van Brocklin admitted: "We're getting awfully thin."

Van Brocklin also said the Viking defense "played better in this one than we did in our victory at Green Bay. We just got off to such a slow start on offense. Even at that, we nearly pulled it out."

Tarkenton pinpointed two of his mistakes, which he said were the difference.

"My fumble to Nitschke in the first half, and that interception were the difference," he said. "It was pretty even otherwise."

UCLA Picked In Cage Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Will the UCLA Bruins overcome the jinx of being selected to win the national collegiate basketball championship in the preseason Associated Press poll?

Not a single pre-season choice has made good in the six years since the pre-season AP poll was started in 1961.

Now the Bruins are the choice to beat out Texas Western for the national crown in the 1967 season that opens Thursday.

The long-awaited varsity debut of Lew Alcindor, fabulous 7-foot-1 sophomore, swung the voting for UCLA in the AP panel of sports writers. Ever since the New York City high school star decided to enter the Los Angeles school, followers of the Bruins have predicted a new era of success for Coach Johnny Wooden's team. Alcindor and UCLA open the season Saturday night against Southern California.

UCLA polled 12 first-place votes to three for Texas Western and beat out the Miners from El Paso with an aggregate 163 points to 143 in the poll announced Sunday. Kentucky, the only other team to receive more than 100 points over-all on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, etc. finished third with one first place vote and a total of 120 points.

Rounding out the pre-season Top Ten, in order, are Duke, Louisville, New Mexico, Houston, Western Kentucky, North Carolina and Cincinnati. Boston College, Kansas and Chicago Loyola failed to make the Top Ten by only a few points.

The pre-season poll compares as follows to the final Associated Press poll for the 1966 season before the championship NCAA tourney: Kentucky, Duke, Texas Western, Kansas, St. Joseph's, Pa., Chicago Loyola, Cincinnati, Vanderbilt, Michigan and Western Kentucky.

Stewartville Wins In Two Overtimes

Stewartville came from behind three times Saturday night to finally clip Spring Valley 72-70 in double overtime.

Bob Fisher brought the Stewies to within two points with just seconds left in regulation playing time, then stole the ball and fired a shot that was in the air when the final gun sounded. The ball dropped in, giving the home town boys a 59-58 tie.

It was Fisher again in the first overtime, dropping in a field goal when it really counted, making the score 67-61 at the end of the first extra period.

Malone put the Stewies ahead in the second overtime, dropping in two free throws. Fisher swished another charity shot to make the final score 72-70.

Fisher was high point man for the winners with 22, and Dave Rathbun dropped in 29 for Spring Valley.

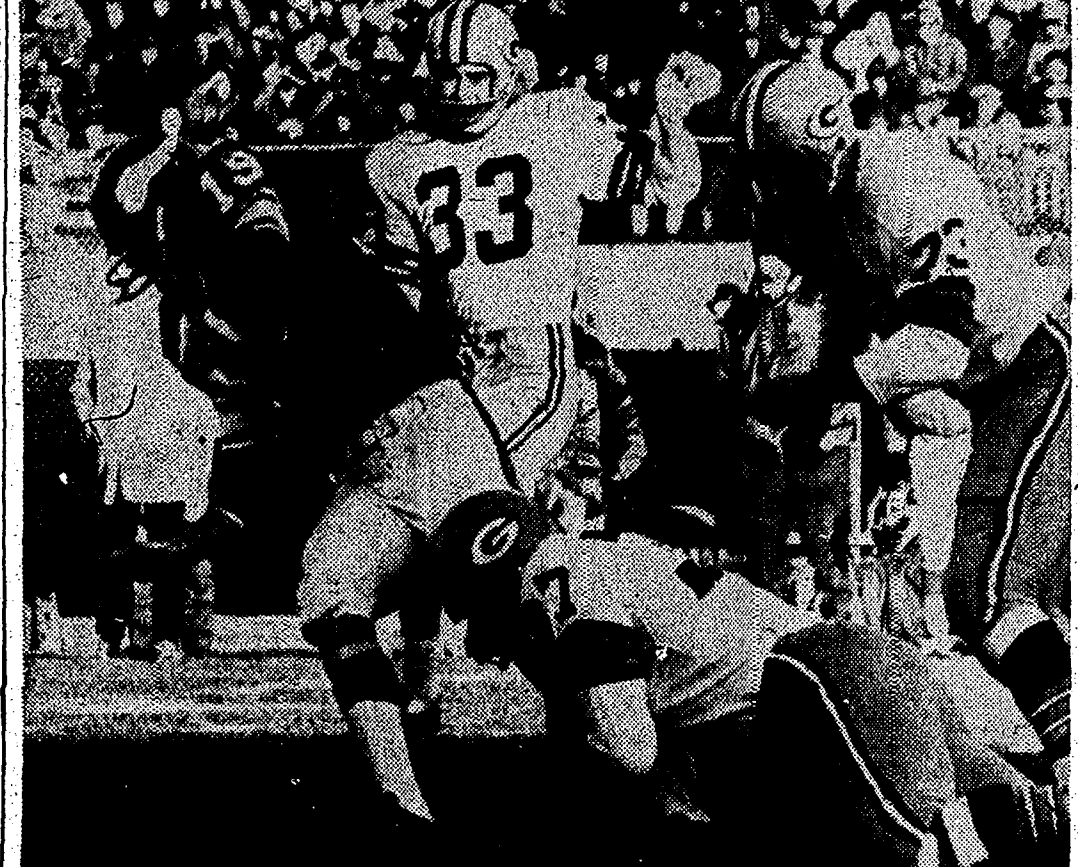

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be plenty of police in Madison Square Garden Monday night when 3-1 favored Carlos Ortiz risks his lightweight boxing title against Junior lightweight king Flash Elorde of Manila in a television 15-rounder.

Both were happy to hear that the special force will be beefed up for their return bout.

Ortiz vividly remembers the last defense of his crown in Mexico City, Oct. 22, against Sugar Ramos. After he stopped the Cuban exile on cuts in the fifth round and then refused a commission order to resume the bout, the 30-year-old Puerto Rican-born New Yorker found himself in the midst of a riot.

With players like Bell, people have been saying for years the Chiefs had the best material in the league.

BELL TOLLS, BULL CHARGES

Chiefs Take Over AFL Western Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Bell tolled, the Bull charged, the Chiefs whooped it up and San Diego sank in the West.

And that, football fans, is how Kansas City became the new Chiefs of the Western Division of the American League.

The story began Sunday when Bobby Bell, Kansas City's premier linebacker, clanged into the New York Jets' backfield in the second quarter and blocked a field goal attempt from the 29 yard line. Bell retrieved the ball and raced to the New York 45.

Mike Mercer then kicked a 47-yard field goal and Kansas City had a 16-10 lead, instead of a 13-13 tie, and the Chiefs went on to a 32-24 victory.

Several chapters and time zones later, another linebacker, John (the Bull) Bramlett of Denver, stamped into the San Diego backfield and blocked a Charger field goal attempt, picked up the ball and stormed 72 yards for a touchdown.

That score put Denver ahead to stay, 13-10, and the Broncos raced on to a 20-17 upset that buried the Chargers and gave Kansas City the decision title.

This conclusion that ended San Diego's three-year hold on the division title provided an extra measure of satisfaction.

With players like Bell, people have been saying for years the Chiefs had the best material in the league.

"I don't worry about what other people say," said Kansas City Coach Hank Stram about his new Chiefs. "We have had a fairly good football team for years but we needed important help. Now we have it in fellows like Otis Taylor and Mike Garrett. These two plus a healthy Len Dawson, Chris Burford and Gil Coan make the difference."

Dawson's passes to Taylor set up two other Mercer field goals, his tosses to Garrett and Taylor led to a 19-yard scoring heave to Burford and Garrett's running and catching set up the former Heisman Trophy winner's plunge for a TD.

Pete Beathard, taking over when Dawson ruptured a blood vessel in his left hand, directed the Chiefs on long drives that produced a TD and Mercer's fourth field goal, enough to overcome two last quarter scoring passes by Joe Namath that tightened the score.

The victory gave Kansas City an uncatchable 9-2-1 record while San Diego fell to 5-5-1. Bramlett's charge came with 7:24 to play and Wendell Hayes late broke for 56 yards and a score.

In the only other AFL game, Boston kept pace with Buffalo in the Eastern Division by holding off Miami 20-14 as Jim Nance broke the league rushing record for a season.

Babe Parilli hit Art Graham on a 22-yard scoring pass and Gino Cappelletti kicked two field goals, but it was Nance's 27-yard TD run that provided the difference. It gave the Pats a 20-4 lead in the third period before Dick Wood carried the Dolphins back with two scoring tosses.

Nance gained 133 yards for the day, bringing his total to 1,125, four more than Paul Lowe last year.

Buffalo beat Oakland Thursday for a 8-3-1 record and Boston stands at 6-3-2, setting up their showdown clash next Sunday. But that's another story.

De La Salle Rallies, Nips Cotter 60-52

Cotter's offense sputtered in the final four minutes while De La Salle's Mark Jakubik found the range and that was the story Saturday night as the Minneapolis quintet handed Cotter its first loss of the season, 60-52, at St. Stan's.

The Ramblers had led throughout most of the nip-and-tuck contest, 24-21 at half-time and 40-38 after three periods, but Jakubik fired in 11 of his 18 points in the last quarter to bring the Islanders from behind.

The loss gave Cotter a weekend split in its two opening games. Friday night the Ramblers play host to Austin Pacelli at St. Stan's.

"We looked much better than we did Friday night," said Ramblers' coach John Nett of Cotter's earlier 68-45 win over Wabasha St. Felix. "There were signs of improvement, but our lack of rebounding showed up."

De La Salle soundly thumped the Ramblers on the boards as Cotter managed only nine rebounds in the entire second half. This, and only three points from its tandem of Mike Twomey and Steve Erdmanzyk, kept Cotter from building a substantial lead early in the game.

"And we missed a lot of 10 and 15-foot shots," said Nett, whose team shot 35 percent for the game.

Behind Jakubik, a husky 6-1 forward, came Jim Bauman in the De La Salle scoring with 17 points. Lyle Heaney added 11.

Tom Leaf indicated he can be counted upon for point production from his guard spot, pacing the Ramblers and all scorers with 19 points. Tim Browne added a dozen and Bob Greden 10.

"Leaf did a fine job offensively, but we just wore out in the fourth quarter," said Nett. "Greden did the best job on the boards for us and that surprised me. He had the most hustle of any of the boys underneath."

Wabasha, trailing through most of the first half, outscored the Pirates 7-2 during one stretch in the second quarter and trailed only 20-17 at the intermission.

But Cochrane-Fountain City found the range in the second half, outscoring Wabasha 12-5 in the third quarter and 16-10 in the final eight minutes.

Steve Auer led the Pirates with 13 points, while Dan Plateter had 11 and John Baures 10. Jim Malone topped Wabasha with 10.

Pirates Defeat Wabasha

Cochrane-Fountain City, with two games under its belt, adjusted to the primarily empty expanses of Memorial Hall, and stopped Wabasha 48-32 Saturday night in a preliminary game prior to the Winona State River Falls contest.

Wabasha, showing the effects of not having played this year, could find the bucket neither from the floor nor the free throw line, and the Pirates pulled away in the second half. Cochrane-Fountain City didn't exactly burn up the court with its shooting. The Pirates' zippy passing game continually punctured holes in the Wabasha defense for 15-footers, but the ball wouldn't drop in. The shorter C-F team made up for some of its inability to hit the hoop with second effort, however, garnering a 41-32 edge in the rebounding department.

Wabasha, trailing through most of the first half, outscored the Pirates 7-2 during one stretch in the second quarter and trailed only 20-17 at the intermission.

But Cochrane-Fountain City found the range in the second half, outscoring Wabasha 12-5 in the third quarter and 16-10 in the final eight minutes.

GEORGE VOSS DUMPS IN 39

State Opens Home Season With Win

Thirty-nine points is 39 points no matter which way you split it, but Winona State got just a wee bit more help to go with its 39 Saturday night, opening its home season with an 83-80 victory over River Falls.

Unbelievable shooting by River Falls' 6-1 sophomore guard George Voss was all that kept the visiting Falcons in the game. But Voss was a one-man gang. Shooting from the far reaches of the backcourt, he connected for 39 points, tying a Memorial Hall record set by Winona State grad, now head coach at Whitehall High School, Ken Stelflug.

As it turned out, however, Winona's 39 points proved to be the tonic the Warriors needed down the stretch drive to record their first victory of the season in two outings.

With Dave Meisner riding the bench with four fouls, Mike DeWyre came in and hammered through 17 points in the second half, spurring Winona from a 49-41 deficit to a 70-66 lead with just over five minutes remaining.

Then Meisner reappeared on the court and the "Mouse" took care of the rest. A long jumper, four straight free throws and a twisting reverse layup by Meisner stunned River Falls as the Warriors strengthened their margin to 81-72. The clock did the rest.

Meisner finished with 22 points and combining those with the 17 by DeWyre from the same position, it matched the 39 by Voss.

"DeWyre did it for us," said a grinning State coach, Ron Ekker.

But the 5-11 transfer student from Alpena, Mich., had other ideas. "It takes five to win a game," he said, still dripping from the shower. "But it sure felt good. I'd rather come off the bench and score 17 than start and do a lousy job."

Though the usual banter was flung about in the winning dressing room, most of the talk centered on Voss.

"Rick (Starzcki) was doing just what we like to have him do," said Ekker. "The shots Voss was taking and the way Rick was guarding him were the way we like to see it done. But I've never seen anyone shoot like that before."

Starzcki, who gets the task of stopping the foe's high scoring backcourt ace and usually does it to a tee, seconded Ekker's statement. "I've never had anyone shoot like that against me. At times I'd have him cold and he'd still score. Toward the end I was cheating a little and tapping him on the elbow when he'd shoot, but they were still going in."

But the Warriors were willing to give Voss the record as long as they won the game. And they did it the hard way, shooting only 37 percent for the contest while River Falls was hitting at a 53 percent clip, primarily thanks to Voss. The rebounding department was a dead heat with each team getting 35, but the story was told in turnover where the Falcons, playing their first game, committed 24 mechanical errors compared to only 12 for Winona State.

River Falls forged an early 13-7 margin and hung onto it until Winona bagged eight straight, four on tip-ins by Mark Wilke and Jack Gibbs, to go in front 28-26. The game stayed nip-and-tuck to the half with the Warriors going down with a narrow 40-39 margin.

The second half started like a nightmare for the Warriors-partisan crowd. Winona couldn't find the bucket and River Falls took a 49-41 advantage. But then the Warriors turned the tables behind DeWyre, outscoring River Falls 12-2 over the next 3 1/2 minutes to go back in front.

Meisner's closing flurry sealed the victory.

Wilke finished with 12 to back up the Meisner-DeWyre combo, while 6-6 Jim Bloomquist and Paul Kulig had a dozen apiece for the Falcons.

Winona State's next game is Tuesday when La Crosse State invades for a 7:30 p.m. game at Memorial Hall.

Gopher Cagers Debut Thursday

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's basketball team makes its debut Thursday night at Kansas State, and that's when the Gophers may start surprising people says Paul Presthus.

Presthus, the former high school coach at Rugby, N.D., is the Gopher cage captain and he's a little irked about all the talk running down Minnesota's basketball prospects for the coming season.

"Let's not write this season off yet," he said. "I know everybody expects us to have a losing year, but I can't buy that. I've seen some things which lead me to believe we may be a lot better than they expect."

Presthus, the only senior on the Gopher squad, thinks Minnesota's front line of himself and sophomore LeRoy Gardner of St. Paul at forwards and junior Tom Kondla at center "may be as good as any in the Big Ten."

And, he thinks junior Wayne Barry can do the job at one guard position and sophomore Chip Litten of Fargo, N.D., may come through at the other guard and provide some outside shooting help. Litten just reported to the basketball team a week ago after lettering as an end on the football team.

Kondla, says Presthus, "could be one of the finest centers in the country...surely as good as we'll face in the Big Ten."

But Presthus admits Kondla must push himself and adds: "It's up to him. If Tom can get himself fired up, he could be the difference between this team winning and losing."

After opening at Kansas State, the Gophers make their home debut Saturday afternoon against Houston in Williams Arena.

Sioux Six Will Be Tough

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS North Dakota's blazing fast Sioux made their Western Collegiate Hockey Association debut for the 1966-67 season over the weekend and served notice that they likely will be a prime challenger to defending champion Michigan Tech.

The Sioux rattled Minnesota-Duluth, 6-3 and 6-2, for a sweep of their opening weekend.

Colorado College also got off to a good start, defeating inexperienced Minnesota 8-6 and 5-3 in a pair of close games.

Those results left North Dakota, Colorado College and Michigan Tech tied for the early WCHA lead, all with two victories. Tech beat Denver 2-1 and 3-2 a week earlier.

North Dakota rammed home two goals in each period to down UMD 6-2 Saturday night. Tom Dunn, Bob Lillo, Bob Tuff, Roger Bamburak, John Gasparini and Dave Kartio scored for UND, while Dick Thompson and Pat Francisco answered for Duluth. UMD's Keith Christiansen ran his league-leading point total to nine in three games with an assist for the Bulldogs.

Colorado College pinned the third straight WCHA loss on Minnesota Saturday night, 5-3. Mike Crupi, Rob Shattuck and Greg Hughes tallied for the Gophers, while Chuck Ranking had two C.C. goals.

Michigan State joins conference play this week, while Michigan waits another week to crank up.

TOP AREA RIVALRY

Houston, Preston Tangle Tuesday

Here we go again. It's that time of the basketball season when the annual donnybrook, otherwise known as the Houston-Preston game, is to be played.

Tuesday night the two schools battle on Houston's home court in what has become one of the top area rivalries in the past two seasons.

FOR THE last two years both schools have had powerful quintets. Houston in the Root River Conference and Preston in the Maple Leaf. A year ago both won their respective conference titles.

Four times in these two years the schools have locked horns on the hardwood, and three times Preston has come away the winner, twice in the finals of the District One tournament. So the Hurricanes from Houston will be out seeking a wee bit of revenge and coach Jim Harvey may just have the horses to turn the trick this season.

As in the past, Houston will be looking up at its taller foes from Preston, but the Hurricanes have more height than in years past. Steve Botcher, 6-3, is the big man, and he will get the task of stopping Preston's 6-6 1/2 junior, Bob Specht.

BUT stopping Specht, except on the boards, will not be Houston's biggest problem according to coach Jim Harvey.

"Our biggest problem will be to stop their fastbreak," said Harvey. "We're bigger this year, but we don't have the speed."

Preston's running attack is led by 5-9 Steve Trende, one of the best guards in the area this year. The rest of the starting lineup for the Bluejays, besides Trende and Specht, will probably be 6-0 Jim Himil, 6-0 Chuck Lammers and 6-2 John Larson.

Filling out the first five for Houston will be Chuck, 6-1, and Craig, 5-11, Poppe, 5-8 Marlin Carrier and either 6-1 1/2 Terry Rosendahl or 6-1 Craig Bedore. Both teams have adequate benches upon which to call.

"The rebounding should be pretty even this year," said Harvey. "Our boys are real aggressive, but our shooting isn't as good."

The 8 p.m. game heads a round of action that includes mostly nonconference contests Tuesday night.

THE one conference game that is being played is in the Hayatha Valley where Zumbrota is at Lake City.

In some of the other nonconference duels, Spring Grove Grove travels to Harmony, Dover-Eyota is at Elgin, Rollingstone Holy Trinity entertains St. Charles, Mondovi is at Chipewa Falls and Durand is at Spring Valley, Wis.

Holzer Wins Berth on All-State Squad

Cotter's line-busting fullback, 195-pound Darrell Holzer, was named to the 1966 All-State Catholic football team Sunday.

Holzer, who accounted for nearly 1,300 yards total offense, over 1,000 of them by rushing, was one of nine backs named to the 17-man team. The 6-1 athlete who is also a track stand-out for the Ramblers, was the biggest running back named to the team.

Cotter also had five players named to the honorable mention list. Linemen named were Greg Schoener, Mike Erdmaneyck and Mike Wiczorek. Tim Browne and Steve Erdmaneyck were named as backs. Several area gridders were listed as honorable mention choices for the All-State public school squad. They were: Mike Woll, Tom Hatfield, Ron Iverson and Paul Erickson of Rushford; Roger Curran, Steve Ahrens and Kurt Fritz of La Crescent; Greg Bury and Fred Horihan of Mabel-Canton; Clare Palmquist of Houston; Tony Elton of Spring Grove; Bill Mangan of Preston; Terry Twite of Caledonia; Jerry Hatfield of Peterson; Steve Roland, Mike Womer, Bill Bower, Mark Kammer and Erv Schmeling of Chatfield; and Dean Harrington of Plainville.

Notably missing from the All-State selections was Winona High School's Ron Fuglestad who rambled for over 1,000 yards on the ground this past season, leading the Hawks to second place in the Big Nine.

Whitewater, Central in Grid Playoff

WHITEWATER, Wis. (AP) — Whitewater State's pass-happy Warhawks take on the ground power of Central College of Pella, Iowa, Tuesday in a National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics football playoff.

The winner will meet Waynesburg, Pa., College Dec. 10 in Tulsa, Okla., for the national NAIA championship. Waynesburg trimmed New Mexico Highlands 30-27 in a playoff Saturday.

Both Whitewater and Central have whipped nine opponents this season.

The Warhawks, while outscoring their regular season foes 312-113, have relied on the passing of sharpshooter Bob Berezowitz.

Berezowitz, among the nation's small college passing leaders all season, completed 127 of 232 passes for 1,896 yards and 21 touchdowns.

Jim Knoblauch, Dennis Williamson and Greg Jones are Berezowitz' favorite targets with Knoblauch snaring 40 passes for 646 yards and seven touchdowns, Williamson 33 passes for 595 yards and five touchdowns and Jones 33 passes for 452 yards and five touchdowns. Knoblauch is Whitewater's leading rusher with a 5.2 yard average. He netted 64 yards in 94 carries and scored four touchdowns.

The Flying Dutchman have scored 247 points while allowing only 69 to their nine opponents.

Every container of liquid — water, beer, pop, cold coffee — became a weapon.

Stram and his assistant coaches moved back through the plane retreating, soaking Holub and everyone else they encountered.

Finally the celebration died down.

General Manager Jack Steadman, surveying the damage to the plane's interior cracked: "I think we've just bought a DC."

At Kansas City, 1,500 fans met the plane at Municipal Airport to greet the squad.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Heavyweight boxing returns to the Twin Cities with World Boxing Association champ Ernie Terrell staging a four-round exhibition against Orville Qualls Wednesday night.

Main event on the card is a 10-round return match between Minneapolis heavyweights Ron Marsh and Ed Hurley.

St. Paul heavy Jim Beattie, 245, meets Barry O'Neill, 216, Providence, R.I., in the main event of a five-bout card Dec. 9 at the St. Paul Armory.

Athletes Train in Altitudes

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Soviet and French athletes may be getting an edge on U.S. competitors in the 1968 Mexico City Olympics by constantly training at high altitudes, says an American physician.

Dr. Roy F. Goddard of Albuquerque, N.M., gave this opinion in an interview at the American Medical Association annual clinical convention Sunday.

"The thin air at Mexico City at 7,300-foot altitudes means performance times will be longer — there probably will be no records set in maximum endurance events such as swimming and running," Goddard said.

"The Olympic Committee has set the limit of four weeks of training in Mexico City prior to the games — but there is no prohibition against training at high altitudes elsewhere between now and then."

"We know that camps have been established in mountainous areas of Russia and France for potential Olympic contestants, and I personally think American athletes would benefit too from a similar program in this country."

Goddard, director of pediatric research at the Lovelace Foundation, Albuquerque, recently made a study showing swimmers in the October 1965 International Sports Week at Mexico City failed to approach their previous records at sea level.

"The body needs time — at least three weeks, and six weeks probably would be better — to adjust to high altitudes, to increase the intake of oxygen and in an atmosphere where less oxygen is available," he said.

"This adjustment period can be reduced with periodic training at high altitude. Athletes who do this will acclimatize more quickly in Mexico City and probably do better in competition."

Celebration Rough on Aircraft

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs were in a chartered plane at 18,000 feet over Elwood City, Pa., Sunday night when they learned that they were the Western Division champions of the American Football League.

A celebration broke loose, and that plane probably will never be the same again.

The Chiefs had been quietly celebrating their 32-24 victory over the New York Jets. Then the news that Denver had beaten San Diego 20-17, clinching the title for the Chiefs, came while the stewardesses were serving dinner.

A mighty cheer filled the plane. Then linebacker E.J. Holub soaked Coach Hank Stram's head with a can of beer.

Every container of liquid — water, beer, pop, cold coffee — became a weapon.

Stram and his assistant coaches moved back through the plane retreating, soaking Holub and everyone else they encountered.

Finally the celebration died down.

General Manager Jack Steadman, surveying the damage to the plane's interior cracked: "I think we've just bought a DC."

At Kansas City, 1,500 fans met the plane at Municipal Airport to greet the squad.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Firemen say flashing white, red and green lights installed recently on the city-owned Edgerson Park Stadium are causing as much trouble for them as for the birds they are designed to scare away. The firemen say they receive almost nightly calls that the stadium is on fire.

Coalition of 2 Big German Parties Seen

BOONN (AP) — West Germany's two largest parties — the Christian Democrats and Social Democrats — are expected to join in a "grand coalition" to govern the country despite opposition within the Socialist rank and file.

Socialist members of the Bundestag approved the coalition after a 10-hour debate Sunday. The Christian Democrats vote today. Once they approve, the trading for Cabinet posts will begin in earnest.

Opposition came from Socialist groups in West Berlin, Munich and the state of Schleswig-Holstein, but a sampling of politicians in Bonn produced the opinion that the party leadership is strong enough to overcome the opposition.

The coalition would have 447 seats in the Bundestag, with the remaining 49 seats belonging to the Free Democrats, former coalition partners of the Christian Democrats. The Social Democrats have 202 seats and the Christian Democrats 245.

The government crisis was set off last month when the Free Democrats quit Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's coalition over a budget dispute.

Christian Democrat Kurt Georg Kiesinger, a former member of the Nazi party, appears certain to replace Erhard as chancellor, with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt as vice chancellor and perhaps foreign minister. Brandt heads the Socialist party.

Stock Market Slips Some in Moderate Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were slightly lower in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Problems of the steel, automobile and construction industries contributed to investors cautious attitude, according to brokers.

Changes of most key issues ranged from fractions to a point or so.

Steels, motors, rubbers, mail order-retails, aircrafts, electronics, chemicals, oils and airlines were mostly lower. Nonferrous metals, tobaccos and drugs advanced.

With the steel industry reporting declining orders from the automakers, Republic was down nearly a point and U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin were off by minor fractions.

General Motors pared an opening loss of 1 1/2 points to about half a point. Chrysler also was off about half a point.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was off .9 at 283.4 with industrials off 1.4, rails off .4 and utilities off .3.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was off 4.74 at 788.60.

The averages were pulled down by a loss of more than a point by Du Pont.

Goodyear and Goodrich lost about a half a point and U.S. Rubber was up by a small fraction.

Boeing fell more than 2 points and United Aircraft dropped more than a point.

RCA dipped half a point and Sperry Rand was off by a lesser fraction.

American Telephone, (ex-dividend) eased a minor fraction. International Telephone and Consolidated Natural Gas rose about half a point.

Polaroid and Xerox fell more than 2 points.

Prices declined in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.
