CELEBRATES 70th BIRTHDAY . . . Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, the Soviet Union's most famous World War II soldier, poses for sculptor Victor Dumanian in this picture released by Tass, the Soviet agency. Zhukov Russ Hero Again on 70th Birthday

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, the Soviet Union's most famous World War II soldier, celebrated his 70th birthday today a national hero once more.

The government awarded him the Order of Lenin, its highest decoration, in honor of his birthday and in recognition of "his services to the armed forces of the Soviet Union."

Nikita Khrushchev dismissed Zhukov as defense minister in 1957 and confined him in oblivion.

But the new Kremlin leaders have allowed him to make public appearances, publish his memoirs and appear as himself in a film about the war.

The new recognition has not been accompanied by high public office but age and health could figure in this. The marshal suffered a reportedly serious heart attack a year ago.

After World War II, the Soviet Union gave Zhukov credit for some of its biggest victories, including the German retreat from Moscow in 1941, the defeat and capture of the German army at Stalingrad, the lifting of the 900-day siege of Leningrad and the capture of Berlin.

Zhukov helped Khrushchev oust Georgi Malenkov's "anti-party group" and establish himself as top man in the country. But Khrushchev apparently decided that the marshal's record made him too formidable.

Returning from Yugoslavia in October 1957, Zhukov was arrested at the airport. He spent the next eight years living quietly outside Moscow.

He reappeared in public May 8, 1965, at a huge meeting in the Kremlin to celebrate the 25th anniversary of V-E Day. The audience's burst of spontaneous applause marked the beginning of Zhukov's gradual rehabilitation.

Children Will Get Clothing

The first group of children from the schools to be guests of The Goodfellows and receive gifts will be taken to the stores for fittings Monday, Mrs. Thomas Lightfoot, who is in charge of the work again this year, announced today.

Operations will be conducted the same as during the past years. Teachers, who have had the children in their classes since school opening, will make recommendations. Their lists will be checked by welfare workers and Goodfellows personnel. The lucky children will be taken in groups for gift selections. As in the past, the gifts will be warm clothing and shoes suitable for tough Minnesota winters.

The success of the program, of course, depends on contributions to the fund. The workers must have the money before they can buy the gifts.

Contributions should be mailed or brought to The Winona Daily and Sunday News office. A downtown office will be opened shortly.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon called today for a February draft of 10,900 men, the lowest monthly manpower request since March 1965. Only a few days ago the Pentagon cut the January draft from an originally set 27,600 to 16,600.

Navy and Air Force To Get More Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, moving to ease a shortage of combat pilots, has given the Navy and Air Force the go-ahead to sharply boost their pilot training next year.

This was revealed Thursday night by well-qualified sources who also said the secretary will sign an order within the next few days granting the Army additional funds to nearly double its pilot training output.

McNamara's decision to increase pilot training comes amid repeated reports that the armed services are facing severe shortages of young fliers due to the increasing demands of the Viet Nam war. The defense chief, however, has consistently denied that such shortages exist.

Security Council Will Keep Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Security Council voted unanimously today to recommend election of U Thant for another full term as secretary-general. He accepted with full authority to bring before the United Nations "disturbing developments in many parts of the world."

The recommendation by the 15-nation council was sent to the U.N. General Assembly, where ratification late in the day is a certainty.

A communique, issued after a closed meeting of the council, contained these words of acceptance from the 57-year-old Burmese diplomat:

"The secretary-general takes note of the observations made by the Security Council and recognizes the validity of the reasons in requesting him to continue to serve the organization for another full term."

"He notes with particular appreciation that for its part the Security Council respects his position and his actions in bringing to the notice of the organization basic issues confronting it, and disturbing developments in many parts of the world."

Police said Harris had visited Kimball's former wife, Sandra, before the shooting.

Floor Buckles In New Orleans Motor Motel

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Interior floors and supports of a $3-million luxury motor hotel in downtown New Orleans buckled with a dull roar today, sending 258 guests scurrying onto Canal Street.

The partial interior collapse of the Governor House Motor Hotel was the result of "an apparent fatigue of material," said the building's chief engineer, William K. Williams. It was built two years ago.

"There was a boom, a sudden thing, but it was muffled like," said Midge Salles, manager of the first floor restaurant in the hotel. His restaurant is directly beneath an I-beam support which gave way.

City Building Inspector Frank Robin estimated the damage to the structure at $500,000. He said the building at the corner of Canal and Claiborne streets, may have to be condemned.

Barricades were erected for two blocks around the scene as firemen kept guests and crowds back for fear of a possible explosion.

The roof and some floors dropped as much as 14 inches when the supports gave way.

Twins Get Dean Chance

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The California Angels traded pitcher Dean Chance, 1964 Cy Young Award winner, to the Minnesota Twins today for first baseman Don Mincher, outfielder Jimmie Hall and pitcher Pete Cimino.

The Angels also will send the Twins a minor league player.

Chance, a 25-year-old right-hander, hit the top of the baseball world three seasons ago when he posted a 20-9 record with a brilliant 1.65 earned run average and won the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in the majors.

Chance never has approached that peak again. He fell off to 15 victories a year later and last season had only a 12-17 record with a 3.08 ERA.

Both Hall and Mincher are distinct long-ball threats. Hall hit 20 homers last season while batting only .239. Mincher, who has been platooned with the Twins, hit 14 home runs in 1966 and batted .251.

Cimino, a 24-year-old right-hander, won two games and lost five in his first real shot at a major league job last season. He appeared in 35 games and compiled a 2.91 earned run average.

Speech Should Be Free

Why shouldn't speech be free? asks the cynic. It's seldom worth anything, anyway. . . . Today's teen-agers (claims Dave Barry) look like Tarzan, sound like Jane and act like Cheech. . . . Most of us will believe any gossip, provided it sounds unreasonable enough. . . . When a man says he needs more time to think something over, it usually means he hasn't yet consulted his wife. . . . According to a recent survey of cab drivers, the most dangerous motorist is a woman driving her husband's car with MD plates.

U.S. Bombers Blast Red Post 5 Miles From Hanoi

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Dozens of U.S. fighter-bombers hammered at an oil depot and truck park near Hanoi today in the closest raids to the North Vietnamese capital in five months.

South of the border, a Viet Cong attempt to ambush a detachment of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry backfired. A spokesman said 88 of the enemy were killed. He said some Americans were wounded, but none died in the action, on Route 1 about 50 miles from Saigon.

Preliminary reports were sketchy and the size of the armored unit was not reported.

A Hanoi dispatch broadcast from Moscow declared MIG jets, rockets and conventional anti-aircraft guns responded to the American raids on the Hanoi sector and one U.S. plane was shot down. There was no confirmation of this in Saigon.

Taking advantage of clearing weather, about 20 carrier-based Navy planes attacked the Van Dien vehicle depot five miles south of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman announced.

Simultaneously, 50 to 70 Air Force Phantom jets and Thunderchiefs raided the Ha Gia oil depot 14 miles north of Hanoi, the spokesman said.

U.S. headquarters said a damage assessment of the raids had not been compiled from the pilots' reports.

The raids were the closest to Hanoi since June 29, when American planes struck an oil depot three miles from the center of the city as well as an oil depot in the outskirts of Hanoi, North Viet Nam's chief port. They were the first American attacks in the immediate vicinity of North Viet Nam's two most important cities.

An earlier report from a U.S. spokesman placed the raids today at four miles from Hanoi but a later announcement corrected this.

In the ground war in South Viet Nam, U.S. air cavalrymen battled Red troops for nine hours Thursday in the Central Lowlands 280 miles northeast of Saigon and killed 69 of them, U.S. military spokesmen reported. The troops of the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

A unit of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division ambushed a group of North Vietnamese regulars 20 miles northwest of the coastal city of Tuy Hoa today and killed nine of them. U.S. forces reported only small patrol skirmishes elsewhere.

Vietnamese military headquarters reported that government militiamen moved into a hamlet on the outskirts of Saigon and seized two cases of Chinese Communist TNT which local residents said the Viet Cong planned to use against ships at Saigon's new $50-million Newport docking area.

The headquarters said the cases, left by four Viet Cong men fleeing the area, each contained 1,032 blocks of TNT and had been wired with fuses.

The villagers said the Viet Cong were preparing to float the explosives downstream to the docking area and detonate them around ships tied up there.

Air Force B52 bombers staged one raid today, hitting enemy positions 48 miles southeast of Da Nang, the big Marine and air base in the northern part of the country. The target area was described as an enemy base camp and staging, supply and bivouac area.

20 Bodies Recovered In Lake Huron Disaster

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — With 20 bodies found, the Coast Guard today pressed its search for eight missing but almost certainly dead crewmen of the Daniel J. Morrell as a board of inquiry planned an investigation of some puzzling aspects of the tragedy.

In the worst Great Lakes disaster in eight years, the 603-foot ore carrier split apart and went to the bottom of Lake Huron early Tuesday during a gale that concealed her fate for 34 hours.

There was one survivor, Dennis Hale, 26, a deck watchman from Ashtabula, Ohio. Hale was asleep in his bunk when awakened by the battering that ripped the 12,500-ton Morrell in two.

Hale will be the only eyewitness before the board of inquiry appointed Thursday by Adm. Willard J. Smith, the Coast Guard commandant in Washington.

Rear Adm. Charles Tighe, commander of the Coast Guard 9th District with headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio, recommended the inquiry and was appointed to head the five-man board.

Such an investigation is reserved for major marine disasters. The board is expected to convene in Cleveland Monday.

Among the puzzling aspects of the tragedy were these:

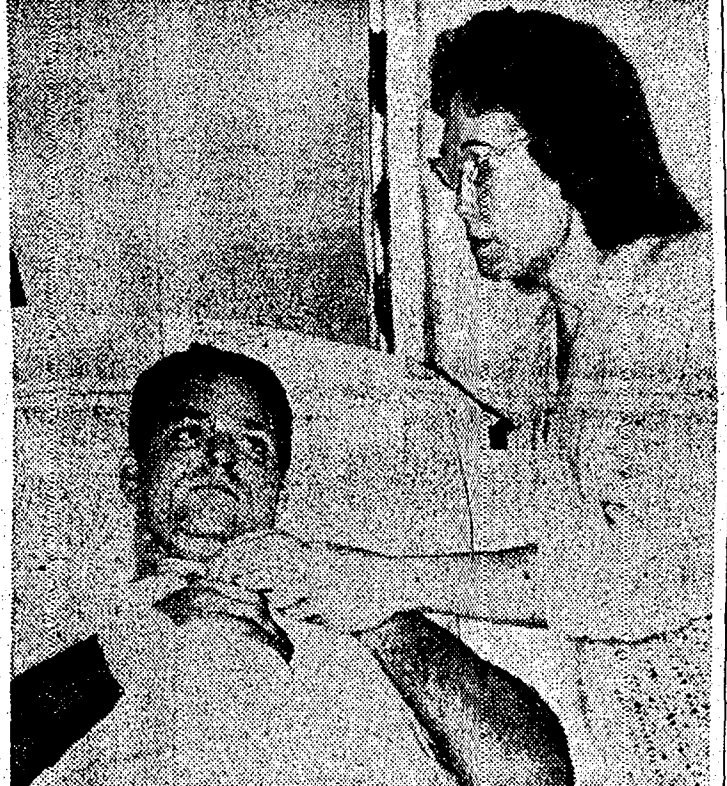

—The Coast Guard reported receiving no distress signal from the Morrell, which sank about two hours after it sent a routine message stating its position in the storm-lashed waters.

—Why did the 60-year-old Morrell go down when its sister ship, the E.Z. Townsend, also 60 years old, rode out the same storm in the same general area?

Near-freezing temperatures continued over the lake as hope dwindled that any of the missing would be found alive.

Unaccounted for were two of the Morrell's lifeboats.

"If the men had gotten into one of those boats, they could still be alive, floating around out there someplace," said Lt. Kenneth Cutler, Coast Guard rescue coordination officer at Cleveland. "We admit it's only a strand of hope and very improbable."

SHIPWRECK SURVIVOR'S STORY:

Didn't Expect To Be Rescued

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — The lone survivor of the ill-fated ore carrier Daniel J. Morrell said today he had given up hope of being rescued from the icy waters of Lake Huron, which claimed the lives of his 23 shipmates.

The sailor, Dennis Hale, 26, of Ashtabula, Ohio, recalled for newsmen in a hospital interview how he watched three others die on a storm-tossed raft bobbing amid towering waves.

"I was hoping to die," Hale said. "I was in terrible pain."

Hale survived 36 hours clinging on a pontoon raft after the 603-foot Morrell cracked in two and sank in the howling gale Tuesday morning about 20 miles north of Harbor Beach.

Hale was asleep in his bunk when tragedy struck.

Showing few effects of the ordeal, Hale spoke to newsmen from a bed wheeled into a hallway of the Harbor Beach Community Hospital. He was flanked by his wife, Bertha, 29; his 23-year-old brother, Louis; and his mother, Cecilia Hale.

Glancing at his tearful wife, Hale said he did not think he would go back to sea.

As Hale told his story, the search for eight bodies still missing continued in the frigid waters of Lake Huron, along the snow-covered shoreline near Harbor Beach and across the international border on the Canadian shore.

Hale, a 220-pounder, said he did not know how he managed to survive when his shipmates perished. Doctors had indicated he may have been protected by fat on his body.

Hale said when he got on deck he saw at least 10 men aboard a raft and he climbed on with them.

Shortly after, he said, the aft section of the Morrell broke away from the forward section and the enveloping water swept the raft and the men on board into the water.

Hale and three others were swept off but managed to swim back.

"Along about daylight the first two fellows died," Hale said.

"The other man died about 4 or 5 o'clock that afternoon. They had a glazed expression in their eyes."

Hale said he had given up hope of being rescued.

"I figured maybe through the next night that I would freeze—it was really cold. It iced all over the boat."

"I was hoping to die. I was in terrible pain."

When rescued, Hale was wearing only a sailor's jacket, a life jacket and shorts. He had no trousers. The Morrell sank about 2 a.m. or 2:30 a.m.

The 60-year-old Morrell went down without sending a distress signal.

Hale said he had no idea why a distress signal was not sent but he said that the ship did not have a full-time radio man.

In view of the rough weather, however, Hale said he believed the skipper probably was on the bridge at the time.

Ousted Teacher Wins $18,600 Jury Verdict

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A former Middleton school teacher, fired for comments allegedly made after the assassination of President Kennedy, won a $18,600 victory Thursday night in her suit against the school board and its president.

A circuit court jury awarded Mrs. Dorothy Ranous $18,000 in damages from the suburban Middleton school board and another $600 for its president, Robert L. Hughes, after deciding they libeled her.

The jury also ruled the dismissal of Mrs. Ranous was a breach of contract. Special Judge Clair Voss is to calculate additional money due Mrs. Ranous as a result of the finding.

The attorney for Hughes and the board said the verdict would be appealed to the Wisconsin Supreme Court. The case already has been to the state's highest court once, resulting in the ruling that Hughes was not immune to the libel suit.

Mrs. Ranous was fired 10 days after the 1963 slaying of the President. The dismissal stemmed from a dispute over remarks allegedly made in the classroom the afternoon of the assassination.

A pupil testified Wednesday that Mrs. Ranous had said, "Well, I didn't vote for him. I never did like him. We have to go on living. So, he's dead."

Mrs. Ranous testified her remarks had been misquoted.

The physical education teacher charged she was fired without a proper hearing and was libeled when the board approved a letter drafted by Hughes accusing her of "intemperate behavior . . . incompatible with the principles of patriotism."

The jury deliberated four hours before upholding Mrs. Ranous.

The verdict was less than 10 percent of the amount Mrs. Ranous had sought. Her suit asked $189,745.

Helen Douglas To Lecture At St. Teresa

Helen Gahagan Douglas, former congresswoman from California, author and lecturer, will be at the College of Saint Teresa Tuesday.

She will lecture on "Is Our Rich Society Poor?" at 7:30 p.m. in the college's Lee and Rose Warner lecture room.

MRS. Douglas recently made a tour of Russia, where she was one of several representatives sent by the Jane Addams League for Peace in cooperation with the U.S. State Department. In 1964 Mrs. Douglas toured West Africa, where she served as President Johnson's personal representative at the inauguration ceremonies for President Tubman in Monrovia, Liberia.

The lecturer has also spent Mrs. Douglas time in South America as an observer. In the summer of 1962 she spent 11 weeks in Central and South America, visiting the Alliance for Progress countries.

Mrs. Douglas began her career as an actress on Broadway and starred in many plays and toured Europe several seasons in concert and opera. It was the impact of seeing firsthand in Austria, while on a concert tour, the implications of the Nazi threat to free people, that took her from the stage to practical politics in California.

Elected to Congress, Mrs. Douglas was assigned to the Foreign Affairs Committee. Author of the "Douglas Amendment," she fought for U.S. rehabilitation aid. In 1946, President Truman appointed her alternate delegate to the United Nations First Assembly.

CURRENTLY Mrs. Douglas is a member of the National Advisory Committee on Farm Labor and of the Advisory Board of the School of Social Work, Columbia University.

During the past summer she published a biography of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Murray was traveling east on King Street and struck the left rear of the Haussinger's 1958 automobile, which was parked at the curb near the corner, police said.

Damage was confined to the front right of the Murray vehicle and the left rear of the Haussinger car.

At 92 He Decides To Become an Elk

Charles Biesanz, 92, E. Sarina St., who will be 93 Dec. 22, was one of 14 new members initiated into Winona Elks lodge 327 Thursday evening.

Exalted Ruler Jerry Papenfuss said he believes Biesanz is the oldest man ever to have been initiated into the Elks.

L. E. Moening, Owatonna Lodge, 1936, who paid his official visit as district deputy, spoke briefly to the new candidates as did Joseph C. Page in behalf of the past exalted rulers and Frank Biesanz.

Among those present were John Gage, 94, S. S. Sadowski, state third vice president of the Minnesota State Elks Association, and Jerry Fakler, state district secretary, all of Winona.

Cecil Brown, exalted ruler of Rochester lodge 1091, L. R. (Benny) Benson, Rochester, grand lodge appointee on Americanism committee, past state president and past district deputy, Robert Brown, leading knight of the Rochester lodge, and Wayne Searle, Rochester, past exalted ruler, state chairman of the Elks National Foundation and current chaplain of the Rochester Elks Lodge.

Officers participating in the ceremony were: Papenfuss; Rocco Haddad, leading knight; Bernard Gerson, loyal knight; Clarence Bell, lecturing knight; William Hajicek, esquire; Richard Gillen, chaplain, and Robert Doerer, inner guard.

About 125 attended a dinner which preceded the ceremony.

Bank Debits Here Increase by 8%
Winona bank debits for October were 8 percent higher than the level for October 1965, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

The figure for October was $36,133,000, compared with $33,580,000 for October 1965.

DEBITS for the first 10 months of 1966 were $350,357,000, 10 percent higher than the cumulative figure for the January-October period last year.

In general, bank debits are checks against accounts of individuals, partnerships, corporations, states and political subdivisions. Thus they represent payments for goods, services and other debts, although they also include some fund transfers without business significance.

Part of Library Closed Monday
The reading and reference room of the adult department of the Winona Public Library will be closed Monday for installation of new lighting in that area of the library.

Because this area will be closed there will not be room for adults and students to sit at tables to do reference work. Telephone reference service will be limited during that day as many of the reference books will be inaccessible. However, the adult circulation desk and the regular stacks will be open to the public so that books may be returned and checked out.

Burglars Hit 5 Plainview Businesses

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—Substantial hauls in cash and merchandise were made by burglars who entered five business places here Thursday night.

Officers from the state crime bureau and Wabasha County Sheriff Ed Lager's offices said the work appeared to be that of professionals. Safes in the municipal liquor store, Schultz Implement Co. and Red Owl store were "peeled" and robbed of cash contents.

Loss estimates indicated that $905 was taken from the Red Owl, $1,775 cash and merchandise from Christgau & Douglas drug store, $29,900 from the municipal liquor store, $55 from the Steffen Ford Garage and $1,200 from Schultz Implement.

Entry was gained in most places by jimmying doors. At the Ford garage burglars broke a window to enter.

Merchandise taken from the drug store included expensive watches, phonograph records, luxury perfumes and men's toiletries but no narcotics.

At the liquor store, thieves took only cash and left checks undisturbed. A music machine was broken open and an undetermined amount of money taken therefrom.

A policeman is on duty each night until 4 a.m. in the village. Burglaries were discovered when businesses opened this morning.

Board Approves Electrical Shop

Permission to operate an electrical contracting business in the former M. Libera Sons store building, 684 W. 5th St., was granted by the Board of Zoning Appeals Thursday night.

The petition was presented by Robert Follmann, 628 Main St., who owns and operates the Best Electric Co.

One objection was lodged by a neighbor who feared that television reception in the neighborhood would be impaired. Follmann told the board that none of the business operations is of the kind that produces such interference.

A section of the zoning code gives the board discretionary authority to grant certain uses in a B-1 (neighborhood business) district, provided the services bear some relation to the neighborhood and do not constitute a nuisance.

Chest Drive At $132,300

Contributions and pledges toward the 1967 budget of the Community Chest have reached $132,300, according to Everett L. Edstrom, drive chairman.

Prospects for increasing the total substantially are good, said Edstrom; a number of firms have not yet completed solicitation. In addition, pledge cards in other sections of the drive remain outstanding.

Edstrom noted that the pledges and contributions by employees of Watkins Products, Inc., its executives and the corporation itself total $18,000, a record for a firm.

That $18,000 is nearly 14 percent of the $132,300 so far received toward the goal of $147,500.

Last year $129,000 was given toward a goal of $135,000.

BETTER NEXT WEEK

Slightly Warmer Weather Predicted

A slight moderation in temperatures and a chance of scattered light snow is predicted for Winona and vicinity over the weekend.

Considerable cloudiness is expected tonight and Saturday with the snow starting early Saturday.

A low of 2 below to 8 above is seen for tonight and a high of 15 for Saturday.

The temperature dipped to 2 above overnight for the second night in a row after reaching only 12 above Thursday afternoon.

Ice Threatens To Trap Boats

The mad race of towboats to avoid becoming icebound on the Upper Mississippi will hold the river limelight over the weekend.

Ice has covered the river in many areas and big fields of floating ice have jammed above the channel dams. It was six inches deep above the Dresbach dam and upstream-bound boats are being turned back there. An Industrial Construction Co. dredge, bound for Hastings, was told to go back to La Crosse this morning.

A TOWBOAT, the C. Arthur Clements, arrived in Winona this morning to round up barges for a quick downriver trip, which was to begin later in the day. It had difficulty from Genoa north; it broke up to 5 inches of ice in the channel.

Four towboats with barges were upstream from Winona today, going or planning to go downstream. The Dan Luckett was battling 4 inches of ice above Alma at noon today. The K. A. was in the Red Wing area. It required eight hours Thursday for the icy trip from St. Paul to Hastings. A new boat, the Hiawatha, was expected to try coming down from Hastings Saturday as will the L. Wade Childress. The Cayuga will remain in the Twin Cities.

THE POOL above the Winona dam was covered this morning with ice 4 to 5 inches thick. The area below the dam, however, was still open for more than a mile or to the first bend where a minor jam was developing. Fishing boats were out below the dam.

By keeping the water moving with lock action, the locks at the Winona dam and others on the upper river are being kept in operation.

Driver Injured At Independence

INDEPENDENCE, Wis. (Special)—Four Independence residents were involved in a collision four miles north of the city on Highway 93 Tuesday at 1:30 a.m. One of the drivers was taken to Tri-County Memorial Hospital, Whitehall.

Lawrence Dubiel, 46, accompanied by his wife, 42, and Steve Loga, 17, were proceeding northerly on a straight stretch of highway when Gene J. Marsolek, 26, Independence, Rt. 2, struck the rear of their vehicle. Marsolek was taken to the hospital and released at noon.

Damage to the 1965 DuPont car and the front of Marsolek's 1966 two-door hardtop was reported as extensive. A charge of failure to have vehicle under control is pending against Marsolek, according to the Trempealeau County sheriff's office.

Suit Over Garage, Car Damage Starts In Municipal Court

A civil suit in municipal court which opened today at 9:30 was recessed over the noon hour and scheduled to resume this afternoon.

Owl Motor Co., Winona, seeks to recover $350 for damages to a garage door from Harold W. Clausen, Lynxville, Wis., whose car is alleged to have damaged it while being brought in for repairs Jan. 22, 1966. Clausen has a counter-claim for damages to his car amounting to $1,000.

A 6-member jury is hearing the case. Owl Motor Co. is represented by William A. Lindquist and Clausen by Duane M. Peterson.

noon. At noon today the reading was 9 with the cold west-northwest wind moderating to 5-10 miles per hour.

The extended forecast for the area, predictions for the Saturday through Wednesday period, indicated average temperatures would be near normal daytime highs of 20-33 and nighttime lows of 10-17. The main warm-up was expected early next week.

A year ago today the Winona temperature was up to 48 and down to 25. All-time high for Dec. 2 was 59 in 1962 and the low for the day was -10 in 1886 and 1940. Mean for the past 24 hours was 7 above. Normal for this time of the year is 26.

Minnesota's overnight low was -12 at International Falls. Hibbing and Duluth had readings of -8 with -6 at Bemidji and above zero in the central and southern areas of the state.

Rochester had a morning low of 1 after a Thursday high of 8 and La Crosse posted figures of 6 and 16 for the same times.

WISCONSIN'S first big cold wave of the season is due to start alleviating Saturday.

But another night of stinging cold was predicted for tonight, with temperatures slated to drop below the zero mark in many areas again.

The Superior region was the coldest early today with a low of 8 below zero. Park Falls had 5 below, Beloit 3 below, Wausau 2 below and Green Bay and Eau Claire zero.

Superior managed a high of only zero Thursday. La Crosse was the warmest community.

Wausau, Madison and the Superior region reported traces of snow during the 24-hour period ending at daybreak today.

GLASGOW, Mont., set the national low temperature of 15 below zero early today and Yuma, Ariz., had the high of 83 Thursday.

Council to Open Bids on Meters

Bids for 130 parking meters, more or less, will be opened Monday night by the City Council. The meters are to be installed in fringe areas bordering the present metered zone.

Also on the agenda are several matters related to mid-city flood control. The Winona County Historical Society has written a letter to Board of Municipal Works consulting engineers relative to proposals for levee park flood walls. The Army Corps of Engineers has written that there appears to be economic justification for such mid-city protection but that detailed studies will not be finished until June 1968.

The council will hear a recommendation by the city engineer that the city officially accept Stage I of the permanent flood control system. This involves dikes extending from Dam 5A to the foot of Huff Street and structures including gateways and the Olmstead Street pumping station.

Ald. Donald Kluge, chairman of the harbor committee, will report on dredging and ripraping at the city's small boat harbor.

Miss Alberta Seiz, city librarian, will speak to the council about a proposed county library system.

Settlement At Bay State; Union Vote Set
Settlement of the 2½-month strike against Bay State Milling Co. by the American Federation of Grain Millers was informally reached Thursday afternoon, according to federal mediators.

Agreement is subject to ratification by union members at four plants: Winona, Leavenworth, Kan., Camp Hill, Pa., and Clifton, N.J. Members of Local 133, Winona, are expected to vote on the proposals Monday night, according to local officers. About 85 men were on strike here.

Reopening of plants will be made as quickly as possible following ratification elections, provided union members endorse the agreement.

The settlement came as the climax to a 4-day series of concentrated negotiations. Prior to this week, progress had appeared at a standstill. Workers began picketing plants at Winona, Leavenworth and Camp Hill Sept. 15.

Mills at Winona and Camp Hill were kept in partial operation by the company through use of supervisory and non-union employees.

Although details of the settlement were not spelled out, the union apparently won out in its demand for a master contract covering working conditions at all plants. Company representatives declined for some time to bargain on this issue, holding out for negotiations at individual plant level only.

Divorce Case Heard in Houston Court
CALEDONIA, Minn.—District Judge Arnold Hatfield Thursday took under advisement the divorce sought by Mrs. Leone Shaw, 59, from Arthur Shaw, 57. They have no minor children.

Mrs. Shaw, represented by John McDonald, La Crescent, testified, Mrs. Edith Standard, La Crosse, was her supporting witness. A stipulation had been entered into before the case came to court. Shaw is not contesting the divorce. The charge is cruel and inhuman treatment. The couple is from La Crescent.

On motion of McDonald, the divorce suit brought by Mrs. Lucinda Meindl against Clyde Meindl was dismissed because Meindl had died.

The court appointed Thomas A. Flynn, Houston, as attorney for Norman L. Freitag, 22, La Crosse, who gave himself up at the office of Sheriff Byron Whitehouse Friday in connection with the alleged robbery at gunpoint of Mrs. Clarence Troke at the Commodore Supper Club, La Crescent, Nov. 14, Robert E. Lee, assistant county attorney, represented the state.

The collection case brought by Sherman Nursery Co. against G. R. Spande doing business as La Crescent Nursery was stricken from settlement on motion of Sinykin of Levin, Sinykin & Efron representing the plaintiff. Attorneys for Spande were Sheridan & Sheridan and Roerkohl, Rippe & Lee, Caledonia.

On motion of Roerkohl, Rippe & Lee, the case of Northern Credit Co. against Clarence C. Troke, a $726.30 collection case, was continued to give plaintiffs time to study an amendment filed by L. L. Duxbury Jr., attorney for Troke.

Court was dismissed until Tuesday.

Winter Fishing Projects
If the drop in temperatures forecast comes there will be safe ice fishing on the river backwaters or sloughs for the weekend in the opinion of wardens and trappers. In fact, Minnesota trappers found it impossible to use a boat in the sloughs Wednesday and most of them were unable to run their trawls Thursday because of uncertain ice.

Spring Lake at Buffalo
City was ice-covered Thursday morning and unless conditions change there will be ice fishing there for the weekend, in the opinion of James Everson, Buffalo City warden. In fact, the whole area of the slough in front of his home was ice-covered as early as Wednesday evening.

The muskrat trapping season in the river zone of Wisconsin opens Saturday morning with probably more licensed trappers in the bottomlands than in recent years. The Wild Life Refuge office here ran out of trap tags and had to dispatch a hurry-up call to downriver districts for an additional supply. There is an abundance of rat houses — big tall ones. These are the kind that the Indians said indicate a heavy winter snow. However, it was hard trapping Saturday.

Minnesota river zone trappers, where the season opened a month ago, have enjoyed fine conditions. Good trappers who know their business have been running as many as 500 skins. At present prices for pelts that's "muskrat gold." The river zone season has a month yet to go in Minnesota. The state otherwise closes Dec. 19.

Waterfowl Lingers
The near-zero weather has driven most of the lingering waterfowl out of this area. A small flock of swans were still in the open water of the Weaver spring area where a few geese and ducks were still present. Warden Everson found about 500 big green head mallards in the running water of the Cochrane drainage ditch Thursday morning. There still were ducks in the open water below the dams. Most of the gulls have moved out.

Incidentally, Everson cracked down on what looked like market hunters this week. One of them had the heads and skins of five deer, another was caught red-handed skinning deer. Heavy fines were imposed in both cases. Details will be in court reports.

Bowhunting Deer
The late bow and arrow season for deer opens in both Minnesota and Wisconsin Saturday. The Minnesota season covers the southern half of the state and lasts 15 days. The Wisconsin season stays open through Dec. 31. It is one deer of any sex for hunters who have not already harvested a deer.

A heavy hunting pressure again is expected in the Necedah National Refuge. A group of Winona bowhunters will be there. Some will camp out. However, most local hunters will head for the Black River area where most of the local successes were registered during the early season.

LAKE CLOSES OVERNIGHT . . . Lake Winona quickly took on a blanket of rough ice Wednesday in spite of the high north wind which appeared to have frozen white

Hatfield to Be Administration Commissioner

ST. PAUL (AP) — State Tax Commissioner Rolland F. Hatfield, a Republican who has been in the thick of controversies with Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag, will serve as commissioner of administration under Gov.-elect Harold LeVander, it was reported today.

Hatfield, 56, would succeed Jay Lappegaard. The commissioner generally is considered the governor's right-hand man in the state administration.

William J. O'Brien, 36, of St. Paul as commissioner of business development.

Jarle Leirfallom, 52, former Welfare Department head was reported under consideration for commissioner of conservation. The job pays $14,500.

LeVander planned to announce his selection of Hatfield Saturday at a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee, it was reported.

If named administration commissioner, Hatfield would switch from collecting most of the state's tax money to supervising its spending. His salary would remain at $17,500 a year. O'Brien would succeed William B. Farrell, a Rolvaag appointee whose four-year term ends Jan. 3. The job pays $12,500.

Soldiers Will Shoot From Hip

FT. MONROE, Va. (AP) — The Army is teaching soldiers to shoot from the hip here, to perfect a new "quick-kill" technique.

An Army spokesman said the object is to eliminate aiming through a weapon sight — a time-consuming maneuver during close-in fighting. Instead, soldiers using BB guns — as training aids only — learn to shoot from the waist, aiming over their arm.

The Army said it is using the BB guns since both the weapon and the ammunition are cheaper than standard issue rifles.

High-Speed Rail Cars Being Tested

BOSTON (AP) — Railroad cars that will be used in high-speed runs between Boston and Washington have already been tested at speeds of 152 miles an hour, says an official of the Budd Co., which is building the cars.

Speeds up to 160 miles an hour are expected when the line goes into service early next year.

U.S. Park Expert Loaned to Australia

ROANOKE Va. (AP) — The National Park Service will loan the superintendent of the Blue Ridge Parkway to the State of New South Wales, Australia, to assist in organizing a national park system there.

Supt. Sam P. Weems, will stay in Australia for more than a year.

HARPERS FERRY, W.Va. (AP) — The Harpers Ferry National Monument attracted 814,782 visitors during the first 10 months of this year.

The Department of the Interior said this was 15 per cent more than the number of visitors to the Civil War monument during the same period last year.

Rolvaags Hunting For House

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag says he is house-hunting as well as job-hunting. Rolvaag will be out of a job about a month from now when Governor-elect Harold LeVander takes over the governor's office.

But Rolvaag says he's also in need of a new place to live because his own home in Arden Hills is leased out until early next summer. The Rolvaags will have to move out of the state-owned governor's mansion on Summit Ave. in St. Paul to make way for the LeVanders.

Rolvaag said he expects to find an apartment in St. Paul for himself, his wife and their daughter.

Rolvaag said he has no definite plans for a new job at present.

He was asked whether a federal job opening might turn up.

"I haven't been offered one and I haven't sought one," Rolvaag said.

Preston Honor Roll

PRESTON, Minn. (Special) — Three Preston High School students received straight A's during the first quarter of the term: Gail Wubbels, senior, and James Grabau and Brenda Mesink, grade 8. Also named the A honor roll were: Stephen Morse, Diana Ostern and Jill Plum, seniors; Pamela Morse and Patricia Serfling, juniors; Janelle Gatzke, Roxie Hellickson, Linda Lindorff, Ruth Ellen Luehr, Nicholas Pehler, Anthony Reilly, Phyllis Shaw and Richard Rydberg, sophomores; Michael Lange and Recc Bly, freshmen; Samuel Jaszekski, grade 8, and Jeffrey Collet, Pamela Jensen, Jane Glaser, Rae Lu Ann Hellickson, Brenda Reilly and Allan Mathison, grade 7.

tered during the early season.

Winona bowhunters, so far this season, have had a high percentage of success and with the trees bare and the possibility of snow revealing fresh tracks the late season should be better.

Thoughts at Random — From Editor's Notebook

COUNTY HIGHWAY Engineer Gordon Fay is a pretty lucky fella, in our opinion. In addition to all his other highway construction funds, he has just been voted a three-quarters of a million dollar bond issue for additional county highway work. We don't know enough about the situation to discuss it intelligently — but that's a lotta money. And we recall just a short time ago the county board built the highway department a beautiful new office building, garage and headquarters on U.S. Highway 61 west of the city. This, we agree, was badly needed. Almost as badly as a new courthouse. Wonder when the commissioners are going to get around to doing something about the present firetrap which houses so many irreplaceable records?

AFTER A 3,000-MILE trip to the West Coast which included stops at Las Vegas, Los Angeles, San Diego, San Bernardino and San Francisco, we have come to the conclusion that Winona is one of the cleanest cities in the United States.

One reason is our excellent street department. When those big machines move around in your neighborhood early in the morning and disturb your sleep, don't be annoyed. They are keeping our streets as clean as any to be found in the entire United States — just one more reason to be proud of our wonderful community.

WINONA NEEDS another mobile home park. We have a couple now but they usually have a long waiting list and one of our correspondents writes as follows:

"Something which I think you would find interesting to investigate is just how desirable a new modern mobile home park would be in the immediate Winona area.

"Young marrieds and retireds are among the many who find a mobile home has numerous advantages for them.

"A fine new park here might create incentive for many more people to stay here in Winona, especially now with the growing need here for more employable people. This could also include young people who have finished their schooling here and have their roots here and would find it more desirable to stay rather than leaving the area and taking along with them trained abilities which have cost the area taxpayers quite a few thousand for each such person lost in this way.

"You might find it of interest to look at new parks at Lewiston and in Wisconsin, between Holmen and Onalaska (Neitzel's), and then write an editorial or two which may awaken an interest here in acquiring such a park. I believe the need will continue to grow.

"You may be a little amazed to find that should you desire to rent a lot in local parks it would likely be necessary for you to buy a used trailer sitting on the lot, which is for sale, in order to acquire a rental lot. This is hardly a good situation. Private initiative might be sparked to interest."

WHEN WISCONSIN motorists order their license plates next year, they'll discover several changes that will affect their highway safety as well as their "prestige."

Motor Vehicle Commissioner James L. Karns said the changes, ordered by the 1965 Legislature, would go into effect with the issuance of January plates.

Karns cited these new procedures:

1. Applicants for license renewal will no longer be required to send in auto titles with their applications — and should not do so.

2. An additional 15 cents will be charged all applicants to cover the cost of license plate reflectorization.

3. A $3 assessment will be required from those motorists who request a special license number.

Adoption of reflective plates was designed primarily as a safety measure. Special numbers are restricted to auto license plate numbers from 1 to 10,000. The special number requested must be for the month in which the applicant is already registered. The request must be received by mail (no counter service) by the 15th of the month. The words "special number" must be printed on the envelope.

If these requirements are met, according to the Motor Vehicle Department, a special number presently held by the applicant will be given priority.

Johnson Signs Campaign Bill

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson signed into law the other day a bill that establishes a strange precedent. For the measure gives the citizen the right to say whether or not the federal government shall spend his tax money to pay some of the expenses of a political campaign for the presidency. Nothing like this has ever been authorized before, and it opens the way now to further stipulations by the taxpayer who may not wish his funds used to finance various federal projects if he deems them wasteful or unwise.

Mr. Johnson knew, of course, that the bill hadn't been carefully studied and was passed hurriedly in the last few days of the recent session of Congress. But evidently he didn't want to antagonize some of his friends on Capitol Hill who seemed eager to see the measure enacted. As soon as Congress reconvenes, however, something will have to be done to clarify the anomalous situation in which it apparently now is to be lawful to spend taxpayers' money for political campaigning.

THEORETICALLY, the new law attempts to provide about 30 million dollars to each of the two major political parties for expenses incurred not by candidates for Congress or by aspirants to public office in the states or cities but by presidential and vice presidential nominees.

Nothing in the bill limits private contributions to political campaigns. Not a cent is provided by Congress for presidential-primary or convention expenses or other outlays made before the party nominees are selected.

If the new law had been designed to cover all the expenses of a campaign by presidential and vice presidential candidates, with private contributions prohibited altogether, this might be commended as at least removing some of the improprieties from contests for the presidency. Many people have been wondering, for instance, whether it is proper for the chief executive to attend dinners or luncheons of businessmen at which the price of admission is a political contribution of at least one thousand dollars to "The President's Club."

THE NEW STATUTE doesn't mention corrupt practices at all. While these are covered to some extent in previous statutes, unfortunately such laws have not been enforced by the party in power, irrespective of its label. Plenty of circumventions have been tolerated. Maybe the time has come to put law enforcement on such questions in the hands of a separate agency to be established in the office of the comptroller general, who serves a term of 15 years and is responsible only to both houses of Congress.

There is nothing wrong with an appropriation from the treasury to finance the campaigns for all federal offices once the nominations are made if there is also a prohibition against any private contributions. To take a big sum of money out of the federal treasury, however, while allowing candidates still to derive funds from individuals or organizations with a vested interest in current legislation, isn't a satisfactory formula.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

FBI Tapped Embassy Wires in Washington

By DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The Federal Bureau of Investigation, it has now been revealed, has been tapping the wires of the Dominican embassy.

A foreign embassy in the United States is extrajurisdictional ground with privileges reserved to that country only. The United States may not intrude on embassy territory, even if murder is committed inside. This is international law which the United States has insisted upon abroad and which we adhere to in this country.

The State Department therefore is very red-faced to find that the FBI placed taps on the wires of the Dominican embassy in 1961 shortly after the assassination of Dictator Trujillo.

This was disclosed as a result of the Justice Department's prosecution of Bobby Baker, the former Senate secretary, some of whose conversations were bugged and wire tapped. As a result of this FBI eavesdropping it may be that the Baker indictments will be thrown out of court. The matter is now being heard before U.S. Judge Oliver Gasch in pre-trial motions.

The Justice Department, in admitting that some of Baker's conversations had been wire tapped and bugged, submitted conversations he had had with the Dominican embassy. He had placed several phone calls to the embassy around May 1961, usually speaking to the financial counselor Oscar Ginebra, about the prospects of Joaquin Balaguer, then provisional president, becoming permanent president.

BALAGUER resumed the presidency this year after defeating leftwing candidate Juan Bosch in the post-revolution election. It won't help Dominican-American relations for Balaguer now to discover that his embassy phones were tapped the last time he headed the Dominican government.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was so alarmed over the eavesdropping that he sent an anguished appeal to the courts to suppress the evidence. Accordingly, Judge Gasch sealed the evidence and directed Baker and his attorneys not to mention the embassy wire taps.

Oscar Ginebra, reached by this column at the Inter-American Development Bank where he is now a section chief, recalls receiving a number of phone calls from Baker in the late spring of 1961. However, he claimed he couldn't remember what was discussed.

It isn't known how long the FBI continued to monitor the embassy's phones. However, FBI agents were listening in on the conversations of prominent Dominicans as late as this year.

The FBI tapped the phones of another Bobby Baker intimate, Jose Benitez, in Puerto Rico, while Juan Bosch lived in Benitez' apartment. The FBI wanted to know what Bosch was saying during the civil strife in the Dominican Republic. On one occasion he received a phone call from Santo Domingo reporting that one of the rebel leaders had been shot.

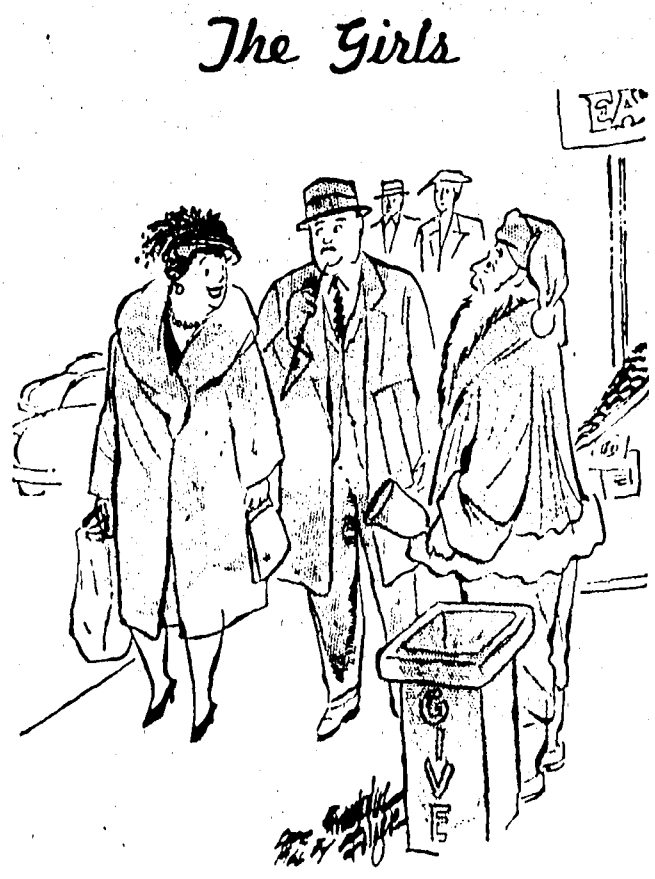

"SEE THAT he is shot in the back and then announce to the press that the Americans shot him," Bosch ordered over the phone.

Meanwhile, the story of FBI wire tapping continues to deepen.

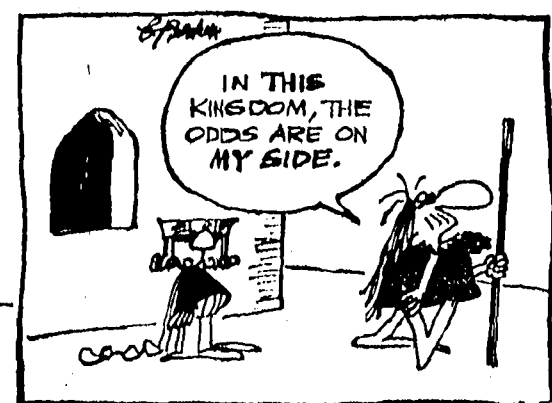

Congratulations to the Madera Tribune for exposing the law fees received by California State Senator James M. Cobey from two irrigation districts at the same time Cobey was chairman of the California Senate's water resources committee. It was this conflict of interest which chiefly contributed to Cobey's defeat. Congratulations to Sherwood Ross of radio station WOL for taking on Washington, D.C., landlords in the "War on Slums" in the nation's capital. Despite tenants' fear of eviction, they reported housing violations to Ross, who working with D.C. inspectors had reported 3,000 violations. An estimated 900 dwelling units have been cleaned up in Washington. . . Congratulations to Marvin Sosna, editor of the Thousand Oaks News-Chronicle in California, for exposing shoddy building practices in the San Francisco bay area. County inspectors have been wobbly and real estate interests have tried to boycott the News-Chronicle, but Editor Sosna is putting up a courageous battle against them.

WASHINGTON CALLING

U.S. Spending Always Rising

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — With the federal government spending ever more incredible billions of dollars each year the power to influence that spending grows by a geometric ratio. Not only the executive but the legislative and even the judicial branches are enmeshed in the golden web of who gets what and why.

Conflict of interest covers a multitude of relations — members of Congress who benefit from law firms operating in the sphere of government, lobbyists with their lines into Congressional offices. The Senate made a pass at urging Senators to disclose their holdings and sources of income and perhaps a dozen came through. Among them were not those who, by rumor, profit most from the law firms in which they retain an interest.

Recognizing concern among conscientious public officials and increasing public cynicism, the Federal Bar Association, made up of lawyers in government service and those formerly in government, is holding next week a two-day seminar on conflict of interest. One panel is on the problem from the standpoint of the judge with the question: Is Caesar's wife lost in the Temple of Justice?

DISCLOSURE of all assets may be one answer, whether made to the public or in private to a commission. Many judges would welcome that requirement as would many members of Congress. The dilemma is shown in a sharp light by a recent incident that is the subject of much private speculation here. And it ties in with another deeply disturbing phenomenon, which is electronic bugging revealed in two sensational lawsuits.

On Oct. 16 the Los Angeles Times disclosed that Justice William O. Douglas received $12,000 a year from the Parvin Foundation of which he is a trustee. The other trustees, among them President Robert F. Goheen of Princeton and Robert M. Hutchins of the Fund for the Republic, receive no compensation. The payment to Douglas covers presumably his expenses in work for the foundation which gives scholarships to students from underdeveloped countries and promotes intellectual ties between the United States and other nations.

When this was revealed the Supreme Court was considering the appeal of Fred B. Black Jr., Washington lobbyist, from his income tax conviction on the ground that bugging by the FBI of private conversations in his suite in the Carlton Hotel here violated his constitutional rights. Bobby Baker's conversations were also bugged both in the Carlton and in a hotel-gambling casino in Las Vegas, the Fremont. Baker's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, argues that the case against Baker for conspiracy, theft, income-tax evasion and other charges has been invalidated by illegal bugging.

IT HAPPENS that the principal assets of the Parvin Foundation are a mortgage on the Flamingo and an interest in the Fremont contributed by Albert B. Parvin, who has holdings in three other Las Vegas gambling casinos. He is head of Parvin-Dohrmann, specializing in furnishing restaurants and hotels, with principal clients on the Las Vegas strip.

In mid-October the report is said to have circulated at the highest level in the Department of Justice that the justices in their conference room in the marble temple the Supreme Court occupies were divided four to three in favor of a new trial for Black. This would be a distinct embarrassment to the Justice Department, particularly since it might be a precedent in the Baker case.

The revelation of his income from the Parvin Foundation could conceivably lead Justice Douglas to disqualify himself. Justice Abe Fortas had already disqualified himself because he had been Baker's lawyer and Justice Byron White had also ruled himself out because he had been Deputy Attorney General when the Black case was initiated. With Douglas out this would have left the court tied, three to three, and Black's conviction would have stood. BUT DOUGLAS saw no rea-

To Your Good Health

Will Drugs Affect Her Baby?

By J. G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am an epileptic and take four capsules of Dilantin a day plus four quarter-grain tablets of phenobarbital. I have not had a seizure in over a year.

The doctor feels that my epilepsy is the result of a birth injury. If I become pregnant, what effect would these drugs have on the baby? — MRS. W.F.

In a rather long list of drugs which may cause harm to a baby, Dilantin is not mentioned.

Phenobarbital in excessive doses can provoke bleeding in newborn babies. But the amount you mention is not excessive.

Discuss the subject with your doctor. He may want to try some reduction in dosage, particularly in the first three months of pregnancy, since that is when the danger from drugs occurs in most instances.

It is also possible that he may want to try such a reduction before pregnancy, to see whether the smaller amount will still prevent seizures.

After all, the fewer drugs of any type and the smallest dosage which will do what needs to be done are obviously desirable. But it is also necessary that you have enough to prevent seizures.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the name of the drug that makes a person quit drinking? Is it dangerous? — MRS. R.W.M.

Antabuse (disulfiram) is probably the drug you mean, but you need a prescription for it plus a physician's supervision. Yes, it can be dangerous if not used properly. It is also necessary that the patient not have alcohol for some hours before taking the first dose; therefore, it cannot be given without his prior knowledge. In any event, it is only part of the "cure"; it's a help for some individuals who want to stop drinking.

son to disqualify himself. The final vote to give Black a new trial, with presumably one of the doubtful justices joining the majority, was five to two. Within the court there is understandable concern if the division within the conference room was in fact known to outsiders. Could this knowledge have come through an electronic bugging device? In the atmosphere of palace intrigue fed by these devices it is regarded as not impossible. Inquiry disclosed that the chambers in the marble temple had not been "sweetened" — checked for listening devices — since 1953.

Aside from the sinister aspect of this possible invasion of privacy at the highest level, Douglas' friends believe he was the victim of a deliberate attempt to impair his judicial standing. He has said he saw nothing wrong in accepting the $12,000, nearly one-third his salary of $39,500. But his friends are also asking whether he would not have been in a stronger position if he had, under a uniform statute, disclosed this salary. These are questions Congress will be called on to answer.

DFL May Look To Mondale to Rebuild Party

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sen. Walter F. Mondale, who won re-election handily despite a near sweep by Republicans in Minnesota this fall, appeared today to be the leader who will have the most responsibility in rebuilding the Democratic - Farmer - Labor Party.

It was reported today that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the DFL's dominant voice for the past 20 years, has asked Mondale to exert leadership toward party unity.

Mondale was publicly vague about talks with Humphrey. "We've talked very briefly about 'what now,'" he said. "We both have the feeling that the party needs revitalizing — some new faces. We've got to refresh ourselves in terms of issues and in many respects in terms of new candidates."

"I think Fritz' temperament is right," Humphrey said of Mondale. "He's not combative, he is essentially a peacemaker and he is a highly successful vote-getter."

Humphrey was quoted by the Minneapolis Tribune in a telephone interview from the Virgin Islands, where he was vacationing.

The Vice President said he would be too busy to try to take charge of the DFL again. But he said he would work "very closely" with Mondale.

Passenger in Accident May Collect Twice

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Supreme Court ruled that a passenger injured in an auto accident may, in some cases, collect twice from an insurance company.

The case involved a relatively new provision in car insurance policies, providing medical payments for bodily injuries.

The case stemmed from a 1962 accident in Blue Earth County in which William R. Beschmett Jr., was injured while riding in a car driven by Dean Attenberger.

Beschmett obtained a $14,000 settlement, half of it paid by one of the drivers in the accident and the other half paid by Farmers Equitable Insurance Co., the insurer of the Attenberger car.

Beschmett then brought suit to collect an additional $500 under a bodily injury provision of Attenberger's insurance. The insurance firm claimed it should be absolved of further liability because the injured person had signed a release following the $14,000 settlement.

The Supreme Court held that the release applied only to the owner and driver of the Attenberger car and did not name the insurance company.

The court then held that two separate claims were involved — one in which the insurance company promises to pay for any liability incurred by the driver and a second promise to pay up to $500 for bodily injury to passengers in the car.

The court noted that this conclusion was reached in a Wisconsin case in 1953, but that insurance companies have made no effort to clarify their policies in connection with such double payments.

The Supreme Court reversed a decision by District Judge Milton D. Mason of Mankato in reaching its unanimous decision allowing a double payment.

In a second case, the Supreme Court denied a new trial sought by Wayne LeClair, 21, of Spring Lake Park, who was struck by a car and injured as he walked along a roadway Dec. 5, 1963. LeClair had asked $150,000 from Wallace Sickler, also of Spring Lake Park, driver of the car. An Anoka County jury ruled in favor of Sickler.

The main issue in the case was whether the lower court should have permitted Sickler to testify about whether he had received a speeding ticket at the accident scene. Sickler testified during the trial that he was traveling 25 to 30 miles per hour, but a police officer said the driver had been vague about his speed. No ticket was issued.

The Supreme Court held that such testimony was not prejudicial and that it was for the jury to decide whether the injured youth might have contributed to the accident by walking on the roadway.

Dear Abby:

Give the Plain Jane a Chance

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: With the school social season just commencing, you would be doing a real service to remind girls not to pass up a boy just because he's short. Through high school and college a truly wonderful fellow tried many times to date me. He was bright, well-liked, kind, and had a great sense of humor, but he had one "fault." He was shorter than I. So I never went out with him. Well, I married one of the big, brawny athletic stars. He's concealed, lazy, and dumb. We live from hand to mouth.

The short fellow is now a very successful professional man, admired and respected by all. He married a beautiful girl who positively adores him. She's half-a-head taller than he is, but nobody seems to notice. She lives in luxury and has status and security. Every time I see her I think, "There but for my asinine childishness go I." Print this. Many girls can learn from it.

Abby

I refer to fellows who scorned a girl because she was a little too short, or tall, or skinny, or plump. She may have been intelligent, kind, lots of fun and eager to please, but because she had less-than-lovely limbs, or an unfortunate complexion, she was bypassed. These men married the beautiful-but-dumb girls. And when the beauty faded there was nothing left.

So now that the school social season is commencing boys, look around. Give the plain girls a chance. You may do yourselves a favor that will last about 50 years.

DEAR ABBY: My husband refuses to tie his shoe laces. He steps into his shoes and lets the laces drag. We have a son in the 1st grade who lets his laces drag on purpose. When I tell him to tie them he says, "Daddy don't."

Now I don't know what to say or do. At school the children are graded on neatness, and Junior always gets a black mark because his shoe laces are never tied. I've tried to tell my husband he is setting a bad example for our son, but it doesn't help.

So how do you train a child to tie his laces when his father doesn't? And when he gives me this "Daddy don't" talk, what do I say?

DEAR BEAT: When the boy says, "Daddy don't," say, "I know — but daddy SHOULD. And Daddy is too big for me to spank. But YOU'RE not!"

DEAR ABBY: My husband does the kind of work that takes him into homes everyday. He's very friendly and a good talker. He is always coming home with the name of some medicine written down by the lady he's work for that day.

I didn't mind too much when he brought home the names of some remedies for gall stones, indigestion, and ulcers. But yesterday he brought me the name of something a woman recommended for — of all things — my constipation!

Abby, I don't like for my husband to discuss my ailments with other women. Please print this. Maybe he will see it and realize how disgusting it is. My constipation, indeed! Don't print my name. I am ashamed enough. SAN ANTONIO

Conservatives Plan Move to Draft Reagan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of a conservative Republican organization predicted today that a nationwide move will be launched soon to draft Ronald Reagan for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

D. Bruce Evans, chairman of United Republicans of America, said, "I think an effort will be launched by several of the conservative organizations in the near future to draft him."

In an interview, Evans compared it with the draft-Goldwater campaign launched months before former Sen. Barry Goldwater announced his candidacy for the 1964 Republican nomination.

Reagan, elected governor of California last month, has said he expects to serve out his four-year term but might be a "favorite son" candidate at the 1968 GOP convention.

Evans, who told a news conference Thursday his group would work to keep Michigan Gov. George Romney from getting the 1968 GOP nomination, said it would take no part in the draft-Reagan effort until a convention scheduled for February 1968 in Dallas.

Topless Go-Go Girls Dance at St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — "The female breast will be exposed here," the sign says. The scene is not Las Vegas, San Francisco or New York. It is staid old St. Petersburg.

In bold, black letters, the sign forewarns that no pasties, nets or fringes hamper the torso movements of entertainers at the Cock and Bull Club, where topless go-go girls are denting the city's reputation as a strait-laced haven for the elderly.

Seven nights a week the club is packed with patrons, male and female, who must assert beforehand that toplessness will not corrupt their morals or outrage their sense of public decency.

It was on the issues of morals and decency that John Taylor, 38, owner of the club, broke Florida's main statutory ban on topless entertainment and, in effect, made it legal statewide.

Last May, Taylor, an ex-disc jockey, decided to make his club topless and found four volunteers among his eight go-go girls.

Taylor invited sheriff's deputies to the first performances and, as he expected, officers arrested him and the dancers for disorderly conduct.

With a request for a jury trial, the case went to criminal court but was never prosecuted. The state spent weeks questioning patrons in an effort to build a case on the morals and decency statute, then gave up.

Prosecutor Alan R. Williams said: "After three months we came up with a list of six witnesses. Two said they were embarrassed but not shocked. All admitted there had been an announcement that such a performance was coming. Two said they went back the next night."

Williams said the Florida law, as it is worded, is not sufficient to make it a crime to expose the female breast. "The U.S. Supreme Court has said many times that nudity itself is not obscene."

Taylor pays his dancers $150 a week — about half again what a secretary could expect to earn. And the money is the big draw for the girls.

Jeanine Beverly, 19, was working in St. Petersburg as a receptionist when she saw the Cock and Bull's newspaper ad. A dancing addict without professional experience, she took the job because she couldn't support her child on the $43.10 she was taking home weekly.

"If you just don't think about being topless it doesn't bother you," she says. "Besides, I can't see a thing without my glasses on."

DURAND, Wis. — Miss Judith Ellen Voland, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Voland, Mequon, Wis., and the late Emory Voland, became the bride of Glenn B. Helgeland, Winona, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Helgeland, Barron, Wis., Nov. 26 at the First Methodist Church.

The Rev. Arvid Morey officiated. Organist was Mrs. Joyce Beebe, Arkansaw, Wis.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Maurice E. Voland, wore a gown of satin peau de soie with a scoop neckline, fitted bodice and a floor-length, fitted skirt, tucked in back and falling into a chapel train. The bride made her own dress. Her illusion veil was held in place by a single white chrysanthemum accented with foliage. Her bouquet was a cascade of white chrysanthemums, yellow roses and bittersweet.

MAID OF honor was Miss Carol Stanley, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Gerner, Alma, Wis., and Mrs. Jack Weber, Eau Claire, Wis. Their scoop-neck dresses with fitted bodices and bell-shaped skirts were of royal blue-green satin peau de soie. They carried cascades of yellow chrysanthemums accented with bittersweet and wore headpieces of yellow chrysanthemums with foliage. The bride's mother was attired in a green lace and crepe shift dress and the groom's mother wore a royal blue suit dress.

Best man was Jon W. Hegeland, the groom's brother, Barron. Groomsmen were Lee A. Helgeland, the groom's brother, Barron, and Russell Degerman, Janesville, Wis.

Duluth Lawyer Takes Oath as Circuit Judge

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Duluth lawyer Gerald W. Heaney, citing "a great need to build the rule of law," was sworn Thursday as a U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals judge.

Heaney, 48, a former University of Minnesota regent and former Democratic national committeeman, was named by President Johnson to become the first northern Minnesota on the circuit court, which sits in St. Louis, Mo.

Judge Harry A. Blackmun, Rochester, Minn., a federal circuit judge, presided at the ceremony at Duluth's federal building.

Heaney said, "Today the rule of law is being thoroughly tested by the war in Viet Nam, civil rights, the draft and poverty."

"People are demonstrating their feelings in drastic ways. To many in our nation and throughout the world, the rule of law is an enemy and not a friend — and freedom is a stranger."

"There is a great need to build the rule of law throughout the world... each of us must do every thing possible to provide freedom, and justice by the rule of law."

U.S. District Judge Denis F. Donovan, Duluth, administered the oath of office.

Heaney's wife, son and daughter witnessed the ceremony along with state and federal dignitaries.

Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., Gov. and Mrs. Karl Roelvaag, and Sheldon S. Larson, Winthrop, Minn., the Minnesota Bar Association president, were among those attending.

Pair Convicted At Hurley in Prostitution Case

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A bartender and his female partner were convicted in Federal Court Thursday night of promoting prostitution in the state line town of Hurley.

A jury convicted Anton Tony Lyzyk, 44, and Mrs. Marcia Lyzyk, 49, also known as Kay Martin, on two counts of conspiring to use and using interstate communication and transportation to promote prostitution.

D.U. District Judge James Doyle released each on a $3,500 bond, pending a presentencing investigation. The maximum term on each count is five years in prison.

Mrs. Lyon testified during the trial that she received one-half of the earnings of prostitutes working at Kay's Rooms at No. 7 Silver Street on Hurley's notorious strip of honkytonks and bars, but she denied any interstate involvement.

The two counts involved a trip that admitted prostitute Alice Payne of Poplar Bluff, Mo., testified she made from Hurley to Wausau via Ironwood, Mich., to spend the night with a man.

Ironwood and Hurley are sister cities on the sawnwy Montrial River dividing Wisconsin and Upper Michigan in the iron ore ranges near Lake Superior. Hurley long has had a sin-shrouded reputation stemming from Silver Street, its five-block long main thoroughfare of neon and notoriety.

The conviction came at the end of a four-day trial. The jury deliberated two hours.

and Mrs. Ivan (Dorothy) Koth and Mrs. Wayne Dikman, Milwaukee. One sister has died.

Funeral services will be Monday at 10:30 a.m. at St. Michael's Catholic Church, North Creek, the Rev. Francis Disher officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at Killian Funeral Home after 7 p.m. Saturday. Rosaries will be said Saturday at 8 and 8:30 p.m., the latter by St. Michael's Rosary Society and Sunday at 8 and 8:30 p.m., the former by Father Disher.

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) —

Testimony in the appeal of Charles H. Lorenz, 78, from his first degree murder conviction was completed in Wabasha County District Court Thursday.

Attorneys for Lorenz have asked for a complete transcript of the trial here 16 years ago; for a prescription of the glasses Lorenz borrowed from John Jacobs to read his confession and sign it; and the copy of the True Detective Magazine in which the story of Lorenz' deeds, his trial and conviction were written in story form.

Briefs will be filed with the court and the decision on the appeal, based on the "voluntariness or involuntariness" of his confession, will follow.

Witnesses were Winona County Sheriff George Fort, who obtained the confession in his office; John Jacobs, Wabasha County sheriff at the time who said he was present when the statement was made and did some of the questioning; Miss Gertrude Miller, deputy Winona County clerk of court who took the confession; Gordon Holte, Winona Daily News Sunday editor who witnessed the signing of the confession; Hale Stow, notary public who administered the oath when Lorenz signed it; Donald Blake, court reporter at the trial, and Angus A. Perkins, who was then with the state Crime Bureau.

Judge Donald Franke presided. John Cochrane of Cochrane, Thomson & Bresnahan, St. Paul, represented Lorenz.

Lorenz, 78, appeared pale; he was accompanied here by a guard from the state prison where he has been confined 18 years.

Prosecuting with John McHardy, Wabasha County attorney, was Linus Hammond from the attorney general's office. District Judge Arnold Hatfield, who as county attorney prosecuted Lorenz at the first degree murder trial, had disqualified himself.

Witnesses waited in the courtroom until called so none heard the others' testimony.

Sheriff Fort testified he arrested Lorenz May 20, 1950, in Winona County on a charge of shooting at John Pelowski with a shotgun at his farm home in an attempt to rob him of some $2,000 or $3,000 he kept there. Lorenz was tried and found guilty of aggravated assault for this act and sentenced in June, 1950 to 10 years in prison.

Fort testified he talked with Lorenz Saturday and Sunday after the arrest about the Pelowski shooting and Monday and Tuesday about the death of his wife.

On cross-examination Fort said he told Lorenz he had a right to counsel, and also that if he didn't want to answer questions, he didn't have to.

The sheriff said he called H. M. Lambertson, attorney, for Lorenz, but Lambertson didn't want to take him as a client.

BOTH FORT and Jacobs, next on the stand, said no force was used to make Lorenz answer the questions when he confessed to his wife's murder. The statement was taken May 23, 1950, and signed in the presence of Stow and Holte.

Fort said Hugo Witt, a sheriff's deputy now dead, also signed as a witness.

Fort said he testified before the grand jury which indicted Lorenz and also at the trial in Wabasha, at which the late John R. Foley and his son, Daniel, were defense attorneys. The late Judge John Finkelnburg presided.

JACOBS testified that when Lorenz was questioned about the two crimes he was informed but didn't ask for an attorney.

As Lorenz didn't have his glasses in jail, Jacobs said he loaned him his glasses to read the transcript and sign the confession.

Jacobs and Lorenz at first denied killing his wife and then confessed that he did.

Fort, Jacobs, and Miss Miller all said they saw no visible bruises on Lorenz.

Cochrane said that according to Fort's testimony at the trial, Fort had said he told Lorenz he could have a lawyer after signing the confession.

MISS Miller testified the remembered hearing Sheriff Fort ask Lorenz if he was willing to give a statement, and he said yes. She described him as appearing neat, calm, and very cool. She described John Foley, defense attorney, as competent. She didn't remember if Lorenz wore glasses.

Stow said Lorenz answered clearly when he as notary questioned him at the time he signed the confession.

Blake had with him an abstract of the trial he had written in narrative form following the trial and his trial shorthand notes.

Holte testified to signing as a witness and on cross-examination said he doubted if he as a newspaper reporter had a copy of the confession before it was signed. The witness said the confession was initiated by Lorenz, Fort and Jacobs.

PERKINS said he was sent to Winona County in connection with the Pelowski case. He recalled that he had entered the Lorenz house without a warrant, found shotgun shells in a sewing machine drawer on the third floor, and as a "long bluff" had showed one to Lorenz, telling him it matched the one he fired at Pelowski.

Perkins denied writing a story of the case for True Detective magazine, of which Fort has a copy.

William Bennyhoff of the state Crime Bureau was not present to testify.

LORENZ was convicted of having shot his wife as she left their tavern to go home to make supper. He used a 22 rifle, according to the testimony. At the time of the shooting he said the gun went off accidentally. He was reported to have done so to collect insurance so he could start a restaurant.

He was sentenced for life. He made his first appeal from the conviction in 1951.

Court Permits U to Intervene In Estate Case

ST. PAUL (AP) — The University of Minnesota has been allowed to intervene in a contest of the will of Mrs. Olive Whitely Stone, St. Paul, widow of Minnesota Supreme Court Justice Royal A. Stone.

The university is the main beneficiary of the will, which is being contested by Mrs. Stone's niece, Mrs. Shirley L. Anderson of Ottumwa, Iowa.

Stone's estate was valued at $148,000 when he died at age 67 in 1942, but that of his wife is valued at more than $6 million. Most of the estate is in stock of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.

Mrs. Anderson was willed $12,000 and personal effects. Other specific bequests total $65,000. The rest of the estate was to be divided three ways to university corporations — for law scholarships, for medical research on heart disease and for cancer research.

In a complaint filed in U.S. District Court, Mrs. Anderson says Mrs. Stone developed a great personal attachment for her before Mrs. Stone's death. District Judge Miles Lord has allowed the university to enter the case.

Stocks Meet Resistance in Rally Attempt

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was trying to start a rally but was not getting very far with it early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The pace was far slower than in Thursday's 8.5 million share session. Analysts looked for some kind of strength on the basis of a relaxation of credit restraint by the Federal Reserve Board, but the stock market community was very slow in rising to this bait.

Very slight gains on average mirrored an irregularly higher stock list. Big three autos were barely in plus territory. Scattered strength among electrical equipments, rails, utilities, oils and aerospace issues accounted for the slightly higher trend.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 290.6 with industrials unchanged, rails up .6 and utilities up .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .33 at 770.08.

Institutional investors were shifting portfolios as shown by a 98,400-share block of Japan Fund, unchanged at 10; and 38,400 shares of Studebaker, up 1 1/2 at 39 1/2.

Gains approaching a point were registered for Douglas Aircraft, reportedly the object of a merger move by McDonnell Co.; Eastern Air Lines and Homestake.

Prices were mostly higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Say "I'm Sorry"

...then bridle your tongue and have a reconciliation. How foolish, how petty, are attitudes which wreck affection and devotion. Hasty words, misunderstanding, false pride, do great harm. Have you been at odds with a friend, one you love, with anybody? That is a delicate and difficult situation. The wedding ceremony is not enough. Even love is inadequate. There must be mutual effort and determined purpose. By their very nature men and women are different. They never see eye-to-eye. But God gave us the institution of marriage and He will help break barriers which separate us when we seek His will. Then, marriage will succeed and each will be proud of the other just because you are so different. A forgiving spirit and a love gift will symbolize your penitence...go to church together. It will help you to say, "I'm Sorry."

You in the Church
The Church in You

PASTOR EXPLAINS:

Advent Wreath Part of Christmas

The Advent wreath is as much a part of Christmas as the Christmas tree or the singing of Christmas carols, according to the Rev. R. T. Day, assistant pastor at Central Lutheran Church.

He explained that persons celebrate Advent today as the period of four Sundays before Christmas. It is a time of getting everything ready.

REV. DAY pointed out that individuals look forward to getting the presents and the tree, singing carols to the sick and shut-ins, and the general excitement of the season.

But, Rev. Day added, Advent also must be a time of getting ready for the birth of Jesus Christ. Over the centuries the Advent wreath has become a part of this celebration as a reminder to individuals of these weeks preceding Christmas.

Its meaning belongs to the various lines of tradition that have been handed down to the present day. It all begins with the season of Advent, the first season of the Christian year. Advent begins with the Sunday falling upon or nearest St. Andrew's Day, Nov. 30. The color for this period is violet, signifying a time of penitence before the King comes, said Rev. Day.

HE EXPLAINED that the custom began in Britain as different families made Advent wreaths of fir, holly or laurel and hung them from the ceiling. There were four candles on each wreath, one for each of the four Sundays before Christmas. The family would stand under the wreaths and sing traditional Christmas music during their time of family devotion. One candle would be lit for each Sunday as the weeks went by. The wreath became a constant reminder of the great event which was soon to come.

Advent seems to have grown out of the early Christian practice of preparing candidates seeking admission into the Christian community on Epiphany, Jan. 6, said Rev. Day. As time passed, Christmas began to take precedence in the lives of the Christian people and this period of preparation was prefixed to Christmas. Through the years it has developed into a general period of preparation for everyone.

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — A new $20,600 Methodist parsonage will be built on the site occupied by the old building which has been moved to the Hagen addition.

Built in 1906-07 by Burrill Haines, Mabel, the old building served as a parsonage for 60 years, north of the Mabel Methodist Church.

Worldwide Bible Reading Plan Begins

The 23rd Worldwide Bible Reading program of the American Bible Society, in which people who are worlds apart daily read the Bible, is under way, said the Rev. Russell M. Dacken, pastor of First Baptist Church.

Rev. Dacken explained that at least one Book of the Bible is available today in 1,250 languages and dialects to help meet the spiritual hunger of millions, including new literates in the world's emerging nations.

He added that by reading the same preselected Scripture portion each day, a spiritual bond is forged between Christians in many lands of the earth.

This year the program is expected to take on special significance with thousands of servicemen in Viet Nam participating as did their counterparts during World War II and the Korean conflict.

WBR booklets, containing a calendar and daily Bible selections, are offered free by the ABS to people who want to take part in the program. They are available at First Baptist Church, 366 W. Broadway.

This year's reading began with Psalm 145 on Thanksgiving Day and will conclude with Luke 2:1-20 on Christmas.

Pastor Installed At Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE, Minn. (Special) — Members of the United Church of Christ, Brownsville, and the United Church of Christ, Hokah, participated in a service of installation for their new pastor, the Rev. Donald M. Babbitt, Sunday evening in the Brownsville church.

After the processional hymn, the Rev. Melvin H. Graupmann, pastor of St. Luke's United Church of Christ, Eitzen, gave the call to worship and prayer of invocation. The Rev. Herbert H. Schowe, West Concord, brought greetings from the southeast association. The Rev. Clyde Lee, New Albin, read the Old Testament Scripture and the Rev. Graupmann, the New Testament. The Brownsville choir sang an anthem.

The address was by Dr. Carl Hansen, Minnesota Conference, United Church of Christ, entitled "Servant People in Today's World." Dr. Wesley Ewert, pastor of the Congregational Church, Rochester, conducted the installation and Rev. Schowe offered the installation prayer. The charge to the minister was given by the Rev. Edmond M. DeBuhr, New Albin, and the charge to the congregation, by Rev. Graupmann.

The ecclesiastical council of the association heard a paper read by Rev. Babbitt. A luncheon was served by the women of the churches.

Thoughts of a Clergyman Keeping the Sabbath

By THE REV. F. ALLEN SACKETT
Pastor of Seventh Day Adventist Church

To keep a Sabbath as old as the world itself when all the world worships on another day is not done lightly. It is done from a sense of urgency; a conviction that God requires man to keep the Sabbath.

Instituted at creation by the Lord Himself, He described the Sabbath as "very good." Made after the creation of man, to meet his necessities, and made known to man by God in the Garden of Eden, God rested on the first Saturday, and called it the Sabbath.

HE THEN established the Sabbath as an institution. Placed in the heart of the ten commandments, the only message of God to man so important that He wrote it with His finger in tables of stone, God emphasized its importance.

In the command itself He tells the reason, "For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth . . ." His foreknowledge enabled Him to know that many would accept the theories of evolution in our day, theories that reject God as Creator.

He established an institution that would come at the close of every week, a time for worship, meditation, and contemplation of the creative power of God. By His divine wisdom He knew that no other day would suffice to keep men believing in God as Creator.

We see religious people in increasing numbers accepting the theory of evolution or a more subtle substitute, in which God is declared to have created this world by the process of evolution.

THE RESULT is to give God a less important place in relation to man — and some of the youth of today act as if He is incapable of sitting in judgment. They conclude: If there is no One to whom one must give account, then there is no fixed standard of right and wrong. The wave of lawlessness that is now in our world is the result of reducing God to a little above the level of man.

A condition similar to this existed in the days of Ezekiel. He quotes God as saying about the religious leaders of his day, "they have made no distinction between the holy and the common," and concludes, "they have disregarded my sabbaths, and I am profaned (made common) among them." He makes clear that those who fail to recognize the difference that comes when God placed a blessing on a particular day are failing to reverence God and recognize His holiness.

The prophet makes no effort to question the purposes or the motives of those involved. They might have had the best of intentions. He deals only with the effect and consequence of their act. The effect is lack of reverence; the consequence is failure to worship.

Sin is more than breaking rules. Sin insults God. Sin offends God. Sin displeases Him. It caused the death of the Son of God. Conversely, righteousness is more than obeying rules; it is pleasing God, living up to His holy will, bringing the life into conformity with His wishes.

THESE BASIC concepts, found in the Old Testament, are reinforced in the New Testament. It was the manner of Jesus to go to the synagogue, or church, on the Sabbath. It was the custom of Paul, the apostle to the Gentiles, to preach on the Sabbath. Jesus, at the risk of alienation, clarified what was lawful on the Sabbath. Paul, for a year and a half, worked as a tentmaker on Sunday, and worshipped on the Sabbath.

No change was decreed by divine command, and the original purpose of the Sabbath still stands. There is no period of history when it could do more to stem the tide of evil, if revered and kept by the whole of Christianity, than it could do today.

Catholics Get Fishless Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Catholics throughout the country began a meat-on-Friday era today and the prevailing mood among fish dealers ranged between apprehension and gloom.

Along the Fulton Street Fish Market most dealers preferred to play wait-and-see rather than try to prognosticate.

The Market research Corp. predicted the end of meat abstention might cause a drop of 8 to 10 percent in fish sales and said, "Retailers should plan merchandising programs which would promote fish as a week-around dish."

In Chicago, Booth Fisheries announced it had increased its advertising budget 50 per cent — to $1,250,000 a year.

However, at the State Fish Co. of San Pedro, one of California's biggest fish dealers, a spokesman insisted that "after all those years, people will still eat fish on Friday."

And Warren Enos, sales coordinator for a large Boston waterfront wholesaler, declared: "We haven't seen any effect yet. We don't expect any slump."

"After all," he reasoned, "many Catholics like fish so much they eat it twice a week."

Recently it occurred to me that the more one has of a thing, the least he seems to appreciate it. Yet, let someone or something threaten to take it away, and a person will fight for it. But what a pity when one is so glibly, complacent and self-centered that he doesn't notice he's losing what he once had. Freedom is the subject for today's thought on "Something to Live By," including the fact that we could be taking freedom for granted.

I picked up a magazine to while away some time and my attention was drawn to an article regarding people who attempt to escape Red China for the privilege of being free. The account opened with a story of a young married girl sixteen years of age, who, with her husband and two or three others, attempted to swim cold waters to freedom. All failed but the girl. Ingenious methods and means have been employed to get through barbed wire, span water, dodge bullets, and to avoid the deadly sting of the electric fences.

THE interesting thing is, once these people are free of oppression, they arrive at their destinations with nothing but hope. No money, tattered and torn clothing, no home or loved ones — only themselves, and yet that hope is so rich, the air they breathe so plentiful, and the right to set their own course so precious, that they gain in a sense, a new birth.

It's us that I worry about. Most people reading my column share with me a life of abundance. Most of us have a comfortable home. With a flick of the finger we can set the heat to our liking in the wintertime. Appliances and more appliances are at our disposal and an automobile is usually a few steps away waiting to transport us about town or across country. Things we have . . . lots of things. While on the one hand we take these things for granted too, we seem never to tire of trading in old things on new things, and adding more things to our ever-growing hoard of things.

I'M NOT bucking the idea of having the comfort and joy of these many items, a great number of which we now deem essential. It's just that we seem to be so obsessed by all of this luxury of life that we are neglecting the source from which it came. I'm speaking of freedom of choice, free enterprise, expression and movement. These are the things we need to cherish, and lest we forget, these are those that would strip this freedom from us, and especially if we're not looking.

We need to take a look — a long look at what makes our governments tick, and then through a sense of gratitude, protection, and self-preservation, make it our business to keep it well oiled, for if we don't, freedom would come to a grinding halt. Staying free is for a fact, "Something to Live By."

VACATION BENEVOLENCE

GREEN LAKE, Wis. (M) — A group of 40 American Baptist women, who visited Haiti in 1962, held a "tourist reunion" here, at which they announced the gift of a new chapel organ to Haiti's College Pratique du Nord. They learned of the need for the organ on a trip there, and started raising funds.

A southeast wind whipped the northern Adriatic high tide into the waterfront and main square in Venice during the morning. The floods last month had breached breakwaters guarding the city and left it exposed to storms and high tides.

The waters rose a foot in the picturesque square in front of St. Mark's Cathedral. That was far short of the six-foot depth in the November flood.

New Weather Satellite Set For Blastoff

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (M) — Looking like a monster spider, a busy spacecraft named ATS aims toward a lousy Pacific outpost next Tuesday to keep a weather eye on one-third of the earth and pioneer advancements in satellite communications.

Space agency scientists plan to follow up eight days later, on Dec. 14, by orbiting a "biosatellite" capsule packed with fruit flies, wasps, flour beetles and other living specimens on a three-day "bring-'em-back-alive" trip around the world.

The biosatellite launching — first in an intensive program conceived to determine the effect of space radiation and weightlessness on genetics, growth and development of living things — would pave the way for future long-duration flights by monkeys and rats.

ATS — for applications technology satellite — is due to blast off at 8:42 p.m. EST Tuesday as the payload of a powerful Atlas-Agena rocket. Scientists hope the spacecraft settles in a stationary orbit 22,300 miles over the equator in the central Pacific Ocean.

Goals of the 1,550-pound ATS, with eight antenna legs, include snapping the first high-quality photos of earth from that altitude — capturing more than one-third of the earth in each picture.

Also, stations in Japan, Australia and the United States will try to communicate simultaneously through the satellite during its three-year lifetime. Aircraft out of range of earth-based stations will attempt to contact airports by radio through ATS.

The camera is expected to turn out clear photographs of earth and clouds as often as once every 20 minutes — including all of the United States, Central America and Japan; most of the Pacific Ocean and Australia, and portions of South America and Asia in each picture.

New Flood In Venice

ROME (M) — A new flood tide poured over St. Mark's Square in Venice today and rising waters of the muddy Arno frightened residents of flood-devastated Florence. They moved their salvaged goods out of ground-floor shops and homes.

The new threats to the major Italian cities stricken by the great Nov. 4 flood came as rains spattered Italy from the Alps to Sicily. Officials at Venice and Florence said, however, that the rising waters were not an immediate danger and were expected to subside without serious damage.

State Matmen, Swimmers Open Season Saturday

Winona State College's swimming and wrestling teams, the two city teams with the brightest outlook for the 1966-67 season, open their seasons Saturday in tournament-type competition.

The Warrior tankers travel to Oshkosh, Wis., for the annual Titan Relays, while the matmen of coach Bob Gunner will be in Cedar Falls, Iowa, for the State College of Iowa Invitational Open AAU meet. Both are all-day affairs.

Thirteen Winona State wrestlers plus one former WSC grappler will participate in the Cedar Falls meet, while swimming coach John Martin will take 18 to Oshkosh.

THE Warriors finished fourth in the Titan Relays last year, but this year's aim is the top three according to Martin. Macalester, which has won the meet the last two years, is favored to take its third straight crown. Loyola of Chicago is another powerful team in the meet. In all, 13 teams will take part.

Making the trip for Winona will be Ron Amdahl, Larry Anderson, Larry Calvert, Jim Dubsky, Mike Finnegan, Jerry Grade, George Kazika, Bill Keenan, Bill Kohler, Pete Kopersinski, Bob Martens, John Schoonmaker, Tom Stover, Don Switzer, Terry Vogt, Tom Sage.

Keglers Chalk Up Two More Top Ten Counts

Winona bowlers continued their siege of the top ten positions Thursday night, chalking up two during a heavy evening of bowling.

In the Pin Drop League at Westgate Bowl Williams Annex, smacked 978-2,651 for team honors. The 978 game is the second highest of the season by local girls.

Edith Tschumper laced 520 for Lake Center Switch, while Evelyn Tripp led Annex with a 213. Sharon Fiedler had a 502.

The highest women's series of the evening came from the Keglerette at Westgate where Leon Lubinski smashed 205-543 for Lawrence Furniture, sparking the team to 2,543. Winona Truck Leasing had 904, and Evelyn Alfred spanked 503.

A 1,072 by Hot Fish Shop in the Classic circuit at Westgate chopped another notch in the top ten for the men. Led by Jerry Dureske's 256-606, the Hot Fish Shop total put them in a tie for eighth place this season.

Jerry Turner ripped 616 for Ruppert's, while Clark & Clark smacked 2,816 behind Jon Kosidowski's 604. Fred Huff had a 255-610 for Ruth's Restaurant.

Two more 600s came from the Action League at Westgate. Bob Kratz smashed 257-610 for Duellman's, and Don Beck tapped 609.

Lang's Bar took team honors with 1,025-2,636.

Sunday Is Showdown Day In NFL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sunday is showdown day in the National Football League's Eastern Division and Dallas has a little more to show than St. Louis.

The Cowboys and Cardinals, tied for first place in the East with 8-2-1 records, clash in Dallas with the top rung at stake. And the Cowboys are better prepared physically for this big one.

The last time they played, Dallas and St. Louis battled to a 10-10 tie but the Cardinals had Charley Johnson at quarterback then. Johnson was sidelined for the season by a knee injury Nov. 6 and Terry Nolsinger will be at the controls Sunday.

St. Louis has split two games since Johnson was injured, scoring nine points — all of them on the accurate toe of Jim Bakken's right foot. The Cards squeezed past Pittsburgh 6-3 on two Bakken field goals last Sunday.

Dallas, meanwhile, has put together the most potent attack in the NFL. The Cowboys, with Don Meredith calling the plays, have scored 366 points — 71 more than any other team in the league.

And while the Cardinals and Cowboys battle for the lead, the Cleveland Browns will try to keep their title hopes alive against the New York Giants at Municipal Stadium. The Browns are third in the Eastern race.

In other NFL games Sunday, San Francisco is at Green Bay, Chicago visits Baltimore, Detroit is in Los Angeles, Pittsburgh takes on Philadelphia and Minnesota hosts Atlanta.

The Browns trail the co-leaders by 1 1/2 games and must count on each of them losing twice. LeRoy Kelly will be out to regain his rushing lead from Chicago's Gale Sayers. The Giants are still licking their wounds from last week's record-shattering 72-41 rout in Washington.

Baltimore, trailing Green Bay by two games in the West, must stop Sayers, who is only 43 yards shy of 1,000 yards rushing. The Colts face elimination should they lose and the Packers beat San Francisco.

Green Bay will be out to avenge a 21-20 early season setback suffered against the 49ers.

FIVE MORE INVITED TO TALKS

Badger Coach Derby May Be Near Finis

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin has invited up to five more men for interviews Sunday night for the vacant post of head football coach.

Law Prof. Frank Remington, chairman of the university's athletic board, said the field of candidates had been narrowed from about 35 applicants to nine men, four of whom were interviewed earlier.

Asked when the decision would be made, Remington said Thursday night, "It's a good possibility we'll do it Sunday."

The job was left vacant last month when Milt Bruhn, head coach for 11 years, resigned under fire at the end of his third straight losing season.

One board member disclosed Wisconsin had extended feelers to former Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson, but Remington said he was not among those invited Sunday.

Remington also scratched the name of UCLA assistant John Jardine, a known applicant.

He said one of the four or five candidates sought for the Sunday session had not applied and was being recruited for the interview by Wisconsin. Remington said he was an assistant coach, but did not identify the school.

The law professor said "two or three" of the five were head coaches. Only one of the candidates comes from inside the Big Ten, and he is now an assistant, Remington said.

The athletic board chairman stressed that none of the four leading contenders questioned earlier had been eliminated.

Odell, 44, is head coach at his alma mater of Penn where he was an all-America back in 1943. He was a Wisconsin backfield coach for nine years in the era of Alan (The Horse) Ameche and served seven of the seasons under Coach Ivan Williamson, now Wisconsin athletic director.

Navarro, 36, who won three letters as an 180-pound lineman at Maryland, is an aggressive coach with a 19-5 record for his last three seasons at Maryland.

Coatta, 37, quarterback at Wisconsin for three years under Odell and Williamson, is Bruhn's top assistant and has been regarded as groomed for the No. 1 job the past two years. McGee, 28, is a former pro guard from Duke who became Wisconsin line coach this fall.

Five other assistants were interviewed Monday, but Remington said, "the others have really not expressed an interest, so in that sense we've eliminated them."

BIG NINE TILT HERE TONIGHT

Albert Lea After Hawk Win Streak

By SAM SWARTZ
Daily News Sports Editor

Albert Lea will bring height and experience to town tonight to battle the Winhawks in a Big Nine Conference game at Winona High School gym.

Coach John Kenney and his cagers are shooting for win number four, after downing Minneapolis Roosevelt, Hayfield and Rochester John Marshall, in that order.

"THEY HAVE pretty good size and four were starters at the end of the season last year, so they have experience," Kenney reports. "They may play a zone defense against us, for part of the time anyway. They zoned against Faribault."

Albert Lea had Faribault down 10 to 15 points all night, but the Falcons are not reported to be strong this year. The Winhawks will face a good ball club and must be ready both times they meet this season.

Probable starters for the Tigers are John Vollum 5-10 senior and Byron Nelson, 6-0 senior at the guards; 6-5 Dan Doty at center and at the forward spots 6-3 Larry Louters and 6-3 Darrel Gavle.

Scouts report that Coach Dick Nielson runs about eight players in and out during the course of a game.

KENNEY will go with the same combination that has salted down three straight wins. This will be Loren Benz and Pat Hopf at forward, Paul Plachecki in the center spot and Mark Patterson and Rick Curran in the back-court.

Steve Holubar and Joe Ives will undoubtedly see extensive action, too, Kenney says. He expects to use some of the other reserves, to give them experience, if game conditions permit.

Sophomore guard Mark Patterson is leading the individual scoring statistics for the Winhawks in early-season play, swishing a total of 47 points in the three games, for an average of just under 16 points per contest.

CAPTAIN LOREN BENZ is next with 41 and center Paul Plachecki third with 37. Plachecki poured through 27 in the Roosevelt contest, but Mark Fredrickson from Hayfield battled him to just two points in the second game of the season.

Pat Hopf, starting forward for the Hawks, has zipped through 20 and Steve Holubar 14 while Rick Curran has 12, Joe Helgeson three and Jim Beeman and Steve Gerlach had two apiece.

Opponents have been keying on Plachecki, only to find that Patterson and Benz can do the scoring duties in fine fashion. The Plachecki-Fredrickson duel of the big men during the Hayfield game was easily the highlight of the tilt, but Benz and Patterson made the difference with 18 and 17 points respectively.

Red Wings End Long Losing Skein in NHL

DETROIT (AP) — "Everybody played well. We needed to win and got it," said Detroit Red Wing goalie Hank Bassen.

Bassen, substituting for Roger Crozier in the nets, had just helped the Wings to a 4-1 blasting of the Boston Bruins in the only National Hockey League game Thursday night. The victory snapped a six-game Red Wing losing streak.

Detroit Manager-Coach Sid Abel said of Bassen, "Now that we've won one I don't want to take him out. He'll start Saturday, I expect, against Toronto."

The victory left the Wings still in last place, three points behind Boston and Montreal.

DROP KANSAS STATE 60-59

Kondla Leads Gophers To Triumph In Opener

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Tom Kondla, a gangling 6-foot-7 junior from Brookfield, Ill., may be blossoming just in the nick of time for the Minnesota Gophers basketball team.

Kondla poured in 33 points and grabbed 23 rebounds Thursday night as the Gophers surprised Kansas State 60-59 in their 1966-67 cage season opener before 11,000 fans here.

"It was a little surprising," Minnesota Coach John Kundla admitted in understating his feeling.

Kondla averaged 10.9 points and nine rebounds a game as a sophomore last year, but never quite got himself fired up enough to do the job expected of him when Minnesota won a spirited recruiting battle to get him three years ago.

This season he's counted upon to shoulder a heavy load if the Gophers are to fare well despite the departure of Lou Hudson and Archie Clark, both now playing pro basketball.

"This was my best full game by a long way," Kondla said. "I made 19 points in the first half once last year, but I didn't do much in the second half that night."

Kansas State tried 6-10 Roy Smith and 7-1 Nick Pino for their size in guarding Kondla, and then went to 6-7 Earl Seyfert for his speed. None of the three could stop him.

Kondla drove off the post, hooked, battled underneath and popped in shots from the outside for his 12 field goals in 26 shots. He also added nine of 14 free throws.

His 23 rebounds came within one of breaking the Gopher school record of 24 set by Dennis Dvoracek last year. His 33 points were far shy of the school record 42 scored by Eric Magdanz in 1962.

Kundla may have been surprised to see Kondla explode all at once, but he feels his center is capable of such play all the time.

"He has every shot in the book," he's capable of rebounding tremendously and he can play good defense," Kundla said.

Irish, Spartan Stars On Shrine All-Star Teams

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four stars from Michigan State and three from Notre Dame will play with the East on Dec. 31 in the 42nd Shrine East-West football game at Kezar Stadium.

Coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, whose Spartans tied the Irish 10-10 in the battle of undefeated and top ranked powers, will coach the East along with Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Paul Dietzel of South Carolina.

Michigan State players named to the 26-man squad are half-back Clint Jones, end Gene Washington, linebacker George Webster and Hawaiian kicker, Dick Kenney.

From Notre Dame come half-back Nick Eddy, linebacker Jim Lynch and defensive end Alan Page.

Minnesota led 37-27 early in the second half before K-State started pecking away and finally overtook the Gophers at 57-56 when Bob George sank two free throws.

Kondla hit a driving hook shot for a 58-57 Minnesota lead, but George put the Wildcats right back in front with a jumper at 1:45 from the end.

Kondla was fouled with 51 seconds to go and sank one of his two free throws to tie it at 59-59.

Minnesota got the ball back as the Cats couldn't get the ball in bounds in time, and stalled until 10 seconds remained. Then sophomore LeRoy Gardner was fouled underneath.

He sank his first free throw to give Minnesota its winning margin, but missed his second attempt.

Kondla was there to grab the rebound, however, and Kansas State didn't have a chance to retaliate.

Gardner got 12 points in his collegiate debut, while senior Paul Presthus had eight. Seyfert lopped K-State with 13 and George added 12.

Minnesota entertains Houston in Minneapolis Saturday afternoon in its next outing.

Upper Iowa Is State Cage Foe

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

Three-game statistics don't mean much, but they do raise an interesting question. Winona State College, in winning two of its first three basketball games, has allowed its opponents to score 80, 82 and 83 points. This has come in a season when coach Ron Ekker said opponents wouldn't average 80 points against the Warriors.

But Ekker has an explanation. "La Crosse got their points legitimately because our defense broke down in the second half," said the first-year coach of his team's most recent victory, an 88-82 contest of La Crosse. "But the other two teams shot over 80 percent against us although we held them to not very many shots.

"I think we've looked good defensively for this time of the season. That average will come down if we keep holding these teams to as few shots as we have.

"It doesn't, we're going to get beat an awful lot because we won't average as many points as we have been (the Warriors have averaged 82 points-per-game offensively). We're going to have some bad nights when we'll have to rely on our defense."

Saturday night the Warriors will try to do something about that defensive average when they travel to Fayette, Iowa, for a battle with Upper Iowa College. But reducing the average against the Iowans may not be easy.

Last year Upper Iowa went to the NIAA national tournament, and of this foe Ekker says, "I'll get a chance to scout them tonight. They have had real good teams in the past, and I expect to see a real tough team this year."

"I don't think they're real big, but they're about 6-6, 6-5, and 6-5 across the front and they are real good ball-players for that size."

Winona State will go with the same lineup it has had in its last two victories. Mike Jerecek will be at center, flanked by Tim Anderson and Mark Wilke. Rick Starzecki and Dave Meisner will be in the backcourt. Mike DeWyre, Jack Gibbs, Brian Espe and Rich Decker are the front-line reserves.

Redmen Drop Opener to Stevens Point, 80-77

By SAM SWARTZ
Daily News Sports Editor

St. Mary's Redmen cagers opened the season in rousing fashion Thursday night, but dropped an 80-77 nip and tuck battle with Stevens Point, Wis., by a scant three-point margin. The lead changed hands countless times during the tilt and it was just a question of who was ahead when the final buzzer sounded on Terrace Heights.

Big Tom Keenan was dead-eye for the Redmen, coming up with nine field goals and 15 of 18 free throw attempts for a whopping 33 points. Vic Koppang was hot shot for the winners, pouring through 11 field goals and two of four shots from the charity line for 24 counters.

KEENAN fouled out of the contest late in the second half, but his scoring spree while on the floor held up. The Pointers jumped off to an early lead, but with less than three minutes gone, Keenan hit a free throw and a bucket to knot the score, then Koppang, also wearing No. 50, put the visitors in front by two.

That was just about the story of the game with a duel between the two hot shots. Keenan again knotted it at 15-all with 13:16 showing on the clock.

Stevens Point held a two-point margin at halftime, 37-35 and held the lead until the 12:50 point when it was Keenan with a bucket and a free throw and Jim Buffo added a free shot to bring the score to 50-52. Mike Halloran's field goal knotted the game and the teams battled for control.

WHEN THE halfway mark passed in the second half, the Redmen held a 60-58 margin, but they were unable to keep it.

Another Buffo swisher put the home town boys out in front by four, but Koppang and Bill Wesenberg hit two in a row to tie it up again.

A Wesenberg charity shot gave the Pointers an 80-75 margin with just ten seconds remaining, but George Hoder drew a foul and calmly dropped two free shots for the final score.

Both teams had hot and cold shooting streaks, but St. Mary's came up with a bit better percentage from the floor, hitting about 41%. The Pointers had more trouble hitting, but got off more shots and were hot from the charity line. The winners' percentage was about 39, but their 20 of 30 from the free throw stripe made the big difference.

THE Redmen hit only 27 of 41 charity tries. Keenan led in that department, too, hitting 15 of 18.

George Hoder was second high for the local boys, netting six and six for 18 points. Right behind Hoder was Jim Buffo, who garnered 14 for the night.

Wesenberg hit 16 for second high for the Pointers and next was Jim Fitzgerald with 10.

Next game for St. Mary's is Saturday night when they entertain Loras College of Dubuque, Ia., at Terrace Heights.

FIRST OF TWO WEEKEND GAMES

Ramblers Host Austin Pacelli

"You look at last year's B squads and sort of anticipate, but sometimes that's not a very good barometer."

Cotter High School basketball coach John Nett was telling how coaches are forced to size up early season opponents.

THE Ramblers, which split even in last weekend's encounters, have another Friday-Saturday combination on tap starting tonight when Austin Pacelli comes to town for an 8 p.m. scrap at St. Stan's. Saturday Cotter travels to St. Paul to meet Hill High School in another 8 p.m. tilt. And Nett, as is the case with most coaches early in the season, knows little about either team.

Against Pacelli the Ramblers

will go with the same starting lineup as in the first two games. Mike Twomey will be at center, with Tim Browne and Bob Greden at forwards. Tom Leaf and Mike Wenzel are the guards.

The second unit will be made up of Bob Pomeroy and Greg Schoener at guards, with Steve Erdmaneczyk, Pat Wiltgen, Hans Meier and Ed Saeher alternating in the frontcourt.

"THIS second outfit hasn't really had a good opportunity to show what it can do," said Nett.

As for his first team, Nett is mostly concerned with a lack of rebounding that showed up in a loss to Minneapolis De La Salle last Saturday.

"Our offense is adequate. It's coming along. And our defense is progressing," said Nett, "but I think the biggest need for improvement is rebounding. I'm really concerned with that department."

ANOTHER weakness that became apparent against De La Salle was the lack of offensive punch in the center position when the Rambler pivoted away up against players of approximately the same size.

"I hope the center problem works itself out," said the veteran coach. "I don't care whether we get a lot of points from our center, but we should get a few to keep the defense honest."

Against De La Salle Twomey and Erdmaneczyk combined for only three points.

Pacelli, state Catholic champions two years ago, will be led by 6-4 Mike Lobb who has led the team in scoring so far this year.

Van Brocklin To Coach All-Star Gridders

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Coaches Norm Van Brocklin of the Minnesota Vikings and Otto Graham of the Washington Redskins were named Thursday as head coaches for the 18th annual Senior Bowl all-star football game Jan. 7.

Van Brocklin will tutor the North squad, Graham the South team. They and their staffs will report the weekend of Dec. 31, with practice to begin Jan. 2.

The two were among the top star pro quarterbacks. Van Brocklin completed 1,553 passes for 23,611 yards and 173 touchdowns in 12 seasons with Los Angeles and Philadelphia. He was leading National Football League passer in 1950, 1952 and 1954.

Van Brocklin is in his sixth year as head coach of the Vikings. Graham was quarterback for the Cleveland Browns for 10 seasons, during which he completed 1,224 of 2,201 passes for 19,771 yards and 148 touchdowns.

He became head coach at the Coast Guard Academy in 1959 and left last January to take over the Redskins.

Senior Bowl officials said the two squads will be named within a week or two.

Lanesboro Hall Open for Cagers

St. Mary's swept three from St. John's, while St. Martin's posted its first victory the easy way, for forfeit, in the Park Rec Church Volleyball League. St. Mary's topped St. John's 15-8, 15-9 and 15-11 to post its victory, while St. Martin's claimed the forfeit over St. Stan's.

Weather Is Good News For Packers

GREEN BAY (AP) — The weatherman has good news for the Green Bay Packers, who worked out Thursday with the temperature a cool six above zero. Sunday when the Packers meet the San Francisco 49ers at Milwaukee, the mercury is expected to be at an almost warm 28.

"That's great," said guard

Jerry Kramer, a man who said he didn't mind the weather conditions Thursday. "This weather is nothing compared to some of the days we had prior to our championship games in Green Bay."

"We've worked out when it was 15 below. Most of the veterans are used to it."

Will the frigid weather cool off the torrid San Francisco offense — a unit that has gained 1,313 yards rushing and passing in the past three 49er games.

Coach Jack Christiansen of San Francisco doesn't think so. "When the game gets under way," he said, "everyone forgets about the weather."

John Brodie, who has been sparking the San Francisco blitzkrieg, threw five touchdown passes in 10 degree weather against Minnesota last season. "We're not all Californians," said George McFadden, the 49ers' publicity man. "Guys like Morty Suckles, Howard Mudd and Kent Kramer are used to this kind of weather, having played college football in the Midwest."

Besides, McFadden added, "We also bring different types of shoes, thermal underwear and mittens."

San Francisco could generate its own heat if the team hits the Packers with the attack it used in tying Chicago 30-30, losing to Philadelphia 35-34 and stomping the Lions 41-14.

"Brodie has been sharp and Ken Willard has been running again," McFadden said as he explained how the 49ers have picked up 492 yards rushing and 821 passing in their last three outings.

"Willard has two straight 100 yard games going now," McFadden said. "He made 124 yards against the Eagles and 114 against the Lions."

San Francisco is one of two National Football League teams to defeat Green Bay this season. The 49ers did it 21-20 in San Francisco early in October.

George Mira's scrambling was the key to that upset, but Brodie will be at the helm Sunday.

INDOOR SOFTBALL

Main Tavern	0	Peerless Chain	0

Pitchers' duels were the word of the day in the first night of action in the Park Rec Indoor Softball League at Winona High Thursday night.

Tom Kulas fired a no-hitter, out-dueling Max Kulas, as Lang's defeated Oasis 1-0, while Pete Jerowski fired a one-hitter to lead Mankato Bar to a 2-1 victory over Peerless Chain.

No result was received on the Hof Brau-Main Tavern game. Tom Kulas struck out four in his no-hitter, while Max gave up only three hits. But two of those hits were bunched as Bill Meyer doubled and Don Ehmann singled to tally the only run of the game.

Jerowski fanned 10 and walked four, allowing the only hit to Guenther Sagen. Tom Kosidowski had three hits and Ed Jerowski two in Mankato Bar's seven-hit attack off loser Jim Holmay.

Baby Badgers Open Against Cincy Bearcats

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's Baby Badgers will receive their baptism under fire Saturday when they clash in their basketball opener with the 10th-ranked Bearcats of Cincinnati.

Cosch John Erickson, starting his eighth season at the helm, will be leaning heavily on several promising sophomores as he starts rebuilding on last year's 11-13 record.

Getting the starting nod at pivot will be the 7-foot-1 sophomore giant from Holmen, Eino Hendrickson, the tallest man ever to don a Badger basketball shirt.

Erickson decided Thursday to go with Hendrickson at the post in an effort to put additional punch in the rebounding game against Cincinnati, which has a starting lineup averaging 6-foot-4. Hendrickson led the freshmen last year with 18 rebounds a game.

Flanking him will be junior jumping jack Joe Franklin, who was the second leading scorer and the top varsity rebounder last year, and either Rob Johnson or Chuck Nagle, each 6-foot-5.

A pair of juniors from Indiana will handle backcourt duties. Letterman Mike Carlin popped in 10 points a game last season. Rangy 6-foot-3 Jim McCallum saw limited action, but has been impressive in practice.

Bearcat Coach Tay Baker also plans to field a young team, but will have seven lettermen returning from last season's squad which clawed its way to the championship of the perennially powerful Missouri Valley Conference.

"We're placing great reliance on newcomers," Baker said. "And no matter how good they may be, rookies make mistakes."

The sophomore starters for Cincinnati will be 6-foot-9 Rick Roberson, described by Baker as "bristling with potential," and ball-hawking Gordon Smith in the backcourt.

Returning letter winners will fill the other three starting slots. On either side of Roberson will be 6-foot-5 junior John Howard and 6-foot-6 senior Mike Rolf. The other backcourt starter will be 5-foot-11 playmaker Dean Foster.

The Badgers will be seeking their first win in their series with Cincinnati after having lost four straight.

Erickson said he wanted his charges to mature quickly, and the Bearcats have the potential of making almost any team age.

Williams Says He's Quitting After Kayo

HOUSTON (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Cleveland (Big Cat) Williams, who suffered a third-round technical knockout at the hands of champion Cassius Clay last month, says he is hanging up his gloves.

He officially announced his retirement from the ring Thursday at a news conference. Williams said he will receive about $42,000 clear money from the title fight Nov. 14 in the Astro-dome.

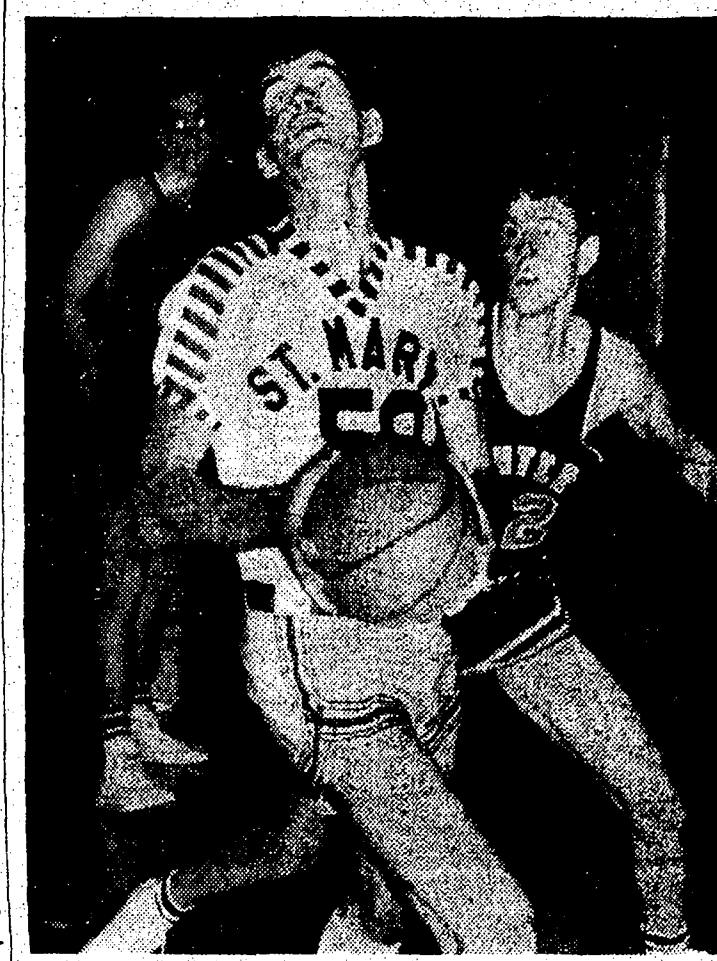

Williams, 33, almost died two years ago when he was shot in the abdomen in a scuffle with a highway patrolman. However, he recovered and staged a comeback that climaxed in his title shot against Clay.

The loss to Clay was Williams' 72nd professional fight. He won 65, lost six and fought one draw.

GOSSETT'S TOE MAKES THE DIFFERENCE . . . Bruce Gossett, of the Los Angeles Rams demonstrates the kicking which has yielded 22 field goals this season. He leads the NFL, just four field goals short of the league record. And he's tied for the scoring lead at 91 points. Eddie Mendor, who usually holds, was otherwise occupied at picture-taking time, so Jon Kilgore did the honors. (AP Photofax)

HIGH SCORER . . . Tom Keenan, high scorer for the Redmen in their opener with Stevens Point Thursday night, gets set to dump in another one. Trying to stop him, without much success, is Jim Fitzgerald, Pointer guard. Keenan swished the buckets for a whopping 33 points to lead St. Mary's in its season-opening loss to Point, 80-77.
