Bargaining Rights Denied To Teachers

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Supreme Court ruled today that Minneapolis public school teachers are not entitled to collective bargaining rights or selection of an exclusive collective bargaining agent.

The 6-1 decision, which reversed an earlier ruling by Hennepin County District Judge Eugene Minenko, applies to public school teachers throughout the state.

Minenko's decision had been considered a victory for the Minneapolis Federation of Teachers' AFL-CIO, which sought an election to determine a collective bargaining agent for the city's teachers. The decision was appealed by the rival City of Minneapolis Education Association.

Supreme Court Judge William P. Murphy, writing for the majority, rejected the lower court's finding that a 1965 law was unconstitutional because it excluded teachers in allowing public employees to name exclusive bargaining agents and engage in collective bargaining.

A second bill passed by the 1965 Legislature would have set up a weaker mediation system for teachers, but it was vetoed by Gov. Karl Rolvaag.

"This court has repeatedly recognized the right of the legislature to treat classes of employees separately and differently for the purposes of legislation in granting privileges or imposing burdens on members of the same general class," Murphy said. "The legislature has historically treated teachers as a distinct classification."

"In my judgment this exclusion constitutes a discrimination against public elementary and high school teachers and is therefore unconstitutional," wrote Judge Thomas Gallagher in a dissent.

He noted that the 1965 law already covers 1,613 employees of the Minneapolis School District, including clerks, nurses, building tradesmen and part-time teaching aides. He said the purposes listed by the law show no reason for excluding teachers.

In addition to failing to find the law unconstitutional, the court said that "to construe a statute so as to extend its provisions to cover that which is specifically excluded by the legislature seems to us to be an exercise of lawmaking power which the courts do not possess."

The court anticipated that a new law covering teachers will be passed by the 1967 legislature. "In the meantime," it said, "there is nothing to prevent the Minneapolis School Board from meeting with representatives of both teacher groups."

The opinion also said that "a review of the attempts of public school teachers to attain some satisfactory basis for meaningful communication with school boards by which their demands might be made known, considered, and resolved in a manner consistent with individual dignity and ethics of their calling is a study in frustration."

However, Murphy's decision said, "public employees do not have collective bargaining rights in the same sense that private or industrial employees enjoy them. There must be some statutory provision authorizing collective bargaining."

The court said the 1965 law repealed several previous provisions, including one that "provided for an election to select representatives to meet with the school board."

ROMNEY FRONT RUNNER

GOP Governors Urged To Unite on Candidate

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Republican governors, demanding a party role to match their bolstered numbers, went to work today to build an organization that could propel one of them into the GOP presidential nomination.

Their potential leaders were not saying which one — although Michigan's Gov. George Romney clearly is the front runner among them, as he is in the public opinion polls. Colorado Gov. John A. Love and Rhode Island's John H. Chafee, both seeking the chairmanship of the Republican Governors' Association, agreed that the 25 GOP state executives should seek to line up behind a single candidate for the White House.

With broad, if not unanimous agreement, Chafee told a joint news conference Thursday night, the governors can control the selection of the party's 1968 candidate.

He said the governors also should work to make sure that the next Republican platform embraces imaginative proposals for "new solutions to the many old problems."

Chafee said the governors should take an active role in the selection of their state delegations to the next national convention. And he said they should decide "early in the game" who they want nominated.

"I have no first choice now," he said.

Love said he believes the next nominee will be a governor.

"We have an outstanding state of governors," he said. He added that Republicans in Congress are trapped in a position of minority opposition to administration proposals, which does not beset the governors.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said there would be no dissension between Republicans on Capitol Hill and in the statehouses.

"I am tired of reading how we are going to fly into all kinds of collision courses," Ford said in a speech prepared for the association's first formal session.

At an afternoon meeting the governors are expected to elect a chairman to succeed retiring Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho. Ford said Republicans in Congress are not going to use their increased numbers for obstruction. He promised a positive, meaningful minority program — and offered the governors a chance to help shape it.

He said GOP congressional leaders will propose next year a system of state and federal tax sharing, and Social Security increases tied to cost-of-living factors.

The House minority leader said he would like to see the governors accorded a bigger role in the Republican Policy Coordinating Committee, the party's top policy-making council.

Church Group Urges U.N. Be Given Viet Plea

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The nation's largest body of Protestant and Orthodox churches today appealed to the President to put the Viet Nam conflict before the United Nations. "It is in the U.S. interest and in the interest of peace, that such collective judgment, responsibility and action be secured," church representatives declared.

In a lengthy document adopted by the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches, delegates also urged "serious consideration" of a halt in the bombing of North Viet Nam.

The assembly said the Viet Nam war has become a major and fateful conflict, and "cannot be left to the unilateral judgment of any one nation, however powerful or generous."

Tough British Stand Sought On Rhodesia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African members of the U.N. worked today on amendments to toughen a British resolution calling on the Security Council to invoke mandatory sanctions against most exports from rebellious Rhodesia.

Despite British Foreign Secretary George Brown's offer to include a limited ban on exports on oil to Rhodesia, it was believed the Africans would demand a total oil embargo. The British were certain to reject this because it would bring them into direct confrontation with South Africa, Rhodesia's chief source of oil and one of Britain's major economic partners.

The British resolution which Brown introduced in the 15-nation Security Council Thursday night called for an arms embargo against Prime Minister Ian Smith's Rhodesian government as well as sanctions against 12 Rhodesian exports.

Responding to the rising African clamor for an oil embargo, Brown said: "We have been consulting very widely, both before and since I came here, and I appreciate the strong measure of support that exists for inclusion of oil in the mandatory sanctions."

Many Unlisted Passengers

Death Toll May Go Above 235 Known Dead, Missing

ATHENS, Greece. (AP) — Shipping officials revised the toll in the sinking of the ferry Heraklion to 235 dead or missing today and expressed fear that a number of unlisted, last-minute passengers may have been aboard.

Hope was fading that there would be more survivors than the 46 brought in by darkness Thursday. Thursday night 49 survivors were reported, but the ministry of merchant marine said three of those were later found to be bodies.

Rescue ships kept up their search through the night and today found 23 more bodies, bringing the total recovered to more than 40.

Officials directing recovery operations at Piraeus, the port of Athens, said many persons may have boarded at the last minute and paid their fare after the ferry got under way from Crete. They said naval students from Canea, on the island of Crete often ride without being recorded on passenger lists.

The 8,900-ton Heraklion sank swiftly in a raging storm at 2 a.m. Thursday, midway on an overnight crossing from Crete to Piraeus with 206 passengers officially listed and 75 in the crew. By Thursday night, rescue ships picked up 49 survivors and 17 bodies.

Twelve more bodies were recovered today.

Crewmen told rescuers trucks and cars, torn from their lashings as the 17-year-old ship tossed in the storm, smashed loading doors that had been weakened by waves. They said a 16-ton refrigerator trailer battered open a bow door and the Aegean Sea, whipped up by 75- to 100-mile winds, poured in.

Antonis Kambouris, 21, reported: "The blow that finally broke open the loading door was from a refrigerator trailer up front. I was asleep when the alarm sounded. I awoke and took a lifebelt and jumped into the sea. In 15 minutes the ship was gone."

The Heraklion's captain, Emmanuel Vernikos was last seen rushing about the decks to direct the abandon ship.

"God knows what happened to the captain," one officer said.

After the Heraklion radioed its final message, "We are sinking. Help us," the Greek government mobilized rescue forces and ordered an investigation. The Greek radio switched to a somber music. National mourning for three days was proclaimed.

Ships from the U.S. 6th Fleet, British warships and Greek destroyers cruised the area of the sinking off the island of Milos Thursday night, turning searchlights on the dark water and lighting flares as they looked for survivors and bodies.

Explosion Shakes Downtown Saigon

Church Group Urges U.N. Be Given Viet Plea

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A sharp explosion rocked Saigon tonight and authorities reported it erupted after Vietnamese militiamen guarding a main bridge fired at a suspicious object floating on the Saigon River.

There was no report of casualties or of damage to the bridge, the Highway 1 rail-and-road bridge leading from Saigon north to Bien Hoa. Officials said bridge guards spotted a large object camouflaged with weeds floating on the river 400 yards north of the bridge on the northern edge of Saigon.

They fired at the object and it exploded with a blast that rattled windows in the center of the capital two miles away. Officials said later the object was a floating mine. Shortly after the explosion, small-arms fire was heard in the vicinity but this was reported to be harassing fire by Vietnamese troops in the area to suppress a possible Viet Cong attack.

An hour after the blast, U.S. officials said there were no casualties and no damage was caused.

Big Guam Bombers Blast 3 Red Bases

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Waves of B52 bombers struck Communist positions in South Viet Nam today in three raids that ranged from near Saigon to the northern edge of the country.

As the bombers flew in from their Guam base, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived in Saigon and discounted chances of a prolonged pause in American bombing raids over North Viet Nam.

"We can't just stop half the war," Rusk told newsmen. "They've got to stop their half of it."

In one raid on the North Thursday, U.S. fighter-bombers were attacked by Communist MIG interceptors only six miles northeast of the center of Hanoi. The MIGs fired heat-seeking air-to-air missiles but failed to score hits, a U.S. spokesman said.

He reported, however, that one U.S. plane was shot down by Communist ground fire over North Viet Nam and two more were shot down in South Viet Nam.

Ground action in South Viet Nam continued light with both the U.S. and Vietnamese military commands reporting only minor engagements.

Two of the contacts were close to Saigon where allied forces are embarked on a new campaign to clear the Viet Cong from jungle bases from which they mount terror attacks on the capital.

The B52s in their first raid struck before dawn in Viet Cong-infested Tay Ninh Province, hitting enemy trenches, bunkers, foxholes and suspected troop areas 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

A second wave, each plane carrying up to 27 tons of explosives, hammered at Communist infiltration route 85 miles northeast of the South Vietnamese capital.

In the third raid, other B52s pounded a suspected Communist headquarters and supply area 20 miles west of Hue, in the northern part of the country.

Rusk Begins Round of Viet Talks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk began a round of conferences on the Viet Nam war today after again ruling out a prolonged suspension of the bombing of North Viet Nam unless Hanoi indicates it will reciprocate.

"We have told them many times that if they tell us what they've stopped doing, we can consider stopping the bombing," Rusk told newsmen on his arrival from Formosa for a three-day stay.

"We can't stop just half the way. They've got to stop their half of it."

The secretary predicted the Communists will have to talk peace because "they will not be able to succeed" on the battlefield. He said he was "greatly encouraged" by improvements in the situation in Viet Nam. But he added: "I have no indication from the other side that they're interested in moving this problem to the conference table."

Rusk landed at Tan Son Nhut airport amid unusually stiff security precautions after a Viet Cong attack on the airport last weekend.

He then drove to the residence of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and plunged into a series of briefings.

Russia, France Call Viet War Threat to Peace

PARIS (AP) — France and the Soviet Union declared today the war in Viet Nam endangers that country's neighbors and is "the principal obstacle to the relaxation of international tensions."

Although the source of the intervention was not identified, previous statements left no doubt the United States was meant, Kosygin said repeatedly during his visit that America is guilty of aggression in Viet Nam.

"Once again," the communique said, "the two governments note that the operations of war in Viet Nam continue to intensify without letup and that the human and material losses continue to grow."

The war occupied a large part of the conversations between Kosygin and French President Charles de Gaulle, and the joint declaration noted the two governments would continue "to exchange their views on this question."

It said both nations are firm in their attachment to the principles of the U.N. Charter and "were fully resolved" to use all of the U.N.'s possibilities to spare present and future generations "from the calamities of atomic war."

A spokesman said about 600 nurses voted Thursday to return to the hospitals' final offer to their negotiating committee. The vote followed a three-hour meeting.

A spokesman for the Hospital Association said, following the nurses' meeting, "The hospitals do not anticipate the need for more meetings because they have put their final offer on the table."

The only objection the nurses expressed to the hospital proposal was that about 85 nurses with two years of nursing education would be paid less than nurses with three years of education. The difference in pay is $25 a month, and it applies for the first year of employment. After the first year, both groups of nurses would be paid the same amount.

Capt. Joe Stilwell II at Post in Viet Nam

Grandson of Famous General at the Front

By JOHN NANCE
DAU TIENG, South Viet Nam (AP) — His grandfather was "Vinegar Joe," his father was a famous general, too, and for Capt. Joe Stilwell III it's like being "in a goldfish bowl."

Fame of his forefathers has put the 27-year-old officer on the spot. He's the third Stilwell to go to war in Southeast Asia.

"Pressure?" he said. "Yeah. 'Do something right and everybody says, 'Of course, look at his family.' But do something wrong and listen to them howl: 'Hey, lookit what Stilwell did now!'"

He is the air operations officer with the 1st Battalion, 18th Infantry, 1st Infantry Division. It's a job with responsibility, but Stilwell wants command of a rifle company.

"I'm hoping to get a company in the next couple of months," he said during an operation in the jungles near the Cambodian border.

His helmet was cocked to one side as a bulbous earphone pressed against one ear. His eyeglasses slipped down his nose.

The battalion was establishing an encampment in a clearing deep in War Zone C, about 80 miles northwest of Saigon. Helicopters swirled in with ammunition, equipment and supplies.

Stilwell, with a slight beard on his jutting chin, barked into a field phone. There might have been a resemblance there to "Vinegar Joe," the caustic Gen. Stilwell of World War II who won fame in Burma against the Japanese and with airlifts into China.

The 1st Infantry troops were in pursuit of a Viet Cong force that made War Zone C its home, headquarters and long-time sanctuary. Jets frequently swooped across the tree tops unleashing napalm and bombs. GIs were moving through the jungles and the air strikes had to be closely controlled. Stilwell spent hours on the phones, coordinating with air observers, brigade headquarters and troops in the field.

During quiet moments, Stilwell with earphones still clamped over his head, sat on a sandbag and worked on a crossword puzzle.

"It's interesting here," he said. "But I'd rather be on the line somewhere. That's the place to be."

He arrived in Viet Nam last summer but was soon called back to the United States when his father, Brig. Gen. Joseph Stilwell II, was lost in a DC3 that crashed in the Pacific between San Francisco and Honolulu. The father was commander of the Special Forces Training Center at Ft. Bragg, N.C., at the time.

Joe III spent two months at home with his mother and sister, then returned to Viet Nam in late September to pick up his assignment.

DEAR ABBY:

Some Things Can't Wait

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I are both seniors at the University of Colorado. We were planning to get married right after graduation in June, but we eloped in October. When we went home for a week-end we told our parents.

They said we should keep it a secret, announce our engagement at Christmas, and have a big church wedding like we planned in June.

Well, I think I'm pregnant, so I doubt if we can wait that long. I hate to disappoint our folks, but what can I do? Mother so wanted me to have a June wedding. How can I tell her? SECRET BRIDE

DEAR SECRET: Tell her that a June wedding is for the birds because you have a date with a stork around that time. She'll understand.

DEAR ABBY: Is it ever advisable or forgivable to tell your sister that her husband is cheating on her?

She loves him dearly, and they have a lovely home, a beautiful family and status in the community. He was a woman-chaser before their marriage, and apparently he hasn't completely settled down yet. If my sister knew how her husband was chasing around she would leave him and break up her home, causing much heartbreak for herself, her husband, and the children.

And yet, knowing what I do, it is so hard for me to remain silent. The kind of women he runs with could cause untold misery at home. (Disease, I mean.) I haven't discussed this with my husband or anyone—except you. What would you do in my place? PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: I would confide what I believe to be true to my husband, and let HIM speak to my sister's husband. Under no circumstances would I tell my sister.

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I broke up a month ago, and he told me to keep the engagement ring.

I received a letter from his mother asking me to please send the ring to HER.

If he didn't want the ring back enough to come and get it, do you think I should give it to his mother? CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: It all depends on where the ring came from. If he bought it with his own money and told you to keep it, keep it. If the ring belongs to his mother, or if she gave her son the money with which to buy it, I would send it to her.

DEAR ABBY: I am surprised that I have not been accused of shop lifting. More than once I have had my money in one hand and the item I wanted to buy in the other, and I spent anywhere from 10 to 15 minutes trying to find a salesperson who would take my money. So help me, it would sometimes be a lot easier to just walk out without paying. I'll bet a lot of people do that when they had every intention of paying. NO FOOLING

Planners Delay Stating Views On Levee Dike

City Planning Commission members agreed Thursday night to devote further study to a Corps of Engineers proposal for a dike in Levee Park before making its own recommendations.

G. O. Harvey, water department superintendent, told the commission the proposal for a dike evolved from consultations with the state Department of Health and the Corps. The primary purpose is protection of the city's extensive system of wells, storage and pumping facilities in and near the park.

IF NO provision for diking the area is made, said Harvey, the health department will not allow further facilities to be built in the Levee Park-Johnson Street complex. Strong public demands for removal of rust from city water have prompted the Board of Municipal Works to consider a new iron removal plant, preferably at Johnson Street because of cost factors.

Lacking flood protection, the water department would be forced to erect the plant elsewhere, at a cost of up to $3 million, said Harvey. Estimated cost of the facility at the Johnson Street station is in the half-million-dollar range.

Harvey said the Corps has suggested an earth dike through Levee Park, suitably silted and sloped. Its crest would be seven or eight feet above the present park level.

ASKED BY H. E. Hippe, planning coordinator, when the new facility will be built, Harvey replied he could not speak for the municipal works board but supposed it would be within two or three years.

Hippe noted a Corps letter which said a feasibility study of the proposed dike would be finished in June 1968. Such studies are commonly made by the Corps to prove economic justification for projects listed in appropriations requests to Congress. The Corps letter indicated that such justification seems likely and that construction might get under way by 1969 or 1970.

Cigarette License Applications Due

City cigarette licenses expire Dec. 31. City Recorder John Carter said today in reminding dealers that permits must be applied for before the City Council meetings next Monday or Dec. 19.

The next council meeting after Dec. 19 will be Jan. 3. Carter said, which means that permits not acted upon by the 19th will expire before the next council session.

The council's meeting Monday has a relatively brief agenda. One of the topics is the matter of parking meter purchases, laid over from last Monday while bidding specifications and bids on 130 new meters are being examined.

Dr. James Kahl, the department of health milk sanitarian, will report on new state regulations and suggest changes in city ordinances that will be necessary.

Pedestrian Hit On 3rd Street

Walter T. Stock, 57, 220 W. 2nd St., was struck by a car driven by Chester J. Szwed, 58, 854 E. 3rd St., Thursday at 5:04 p.m., as he was walking across 3rd Street at Chestnut Street.

The impact threw Stock into the air and into a parked auto belonging to Edward Lilla, 861 E. 4th St. Stock was taken to the hospital where he was reported resting comfortably this morning.

He is reported to have suffered pelvic injuries in the accident.

$14,110 Set For County Shelter Survey

A $14,110 allotment to pay for a Winona County Civil Defense shelter plan has been awarded to the combined city-county agency, Winona officials said today.

Mayor R. K. Ellings, as contracting officer, will sign the agreement with the Corps of Engineers. It was issued by the Corps district office in St. Paul.

Surveys and planning will be subcontracted by the local agency to Nason, Wehrman, Knight and Chapman, Minneapolis planning consultants. Officials here said the agreement had been previously negotiated by the Corps because the planning firm is currently retained by the county to draw a county development plan under the federal 701 program.

Since the Corps cannot negotiate directly with planners in this instance, its contract had to be let to the local agency which in turn sublets the work.

The plan will result in a complete map of the county showing locations of all shelters as well as areas where shelter capacity is deficient. Copies of the plan and map will be made widely available for general public use.

Also contained in the final plan will be systems of emergency information transmission, identification of shelter deficits, procedures for further shelter development and directives for updating local Civil Defense emergency plans.

Completion date for the plan is to be Dec. 1, 1967. No local funds are involved in its preparation.

Hit-Run Driver Damages Garage

A hit-and-run accident was reported to police this morning at 7:50 a.m. by Mrs. Dolores Range, 568 Mankato Ave.

She reported that someone had run into her garage, causing an estimated $300 in damage. Traces of blue paint were found on the brick garage.

Highway 61 Limit Reduced in City

The Minnesota Department of Highways apparently has decided that the solution to traffic accidents on Highway 61-14 within the city limits is lower speed limits.

Highway 43 and Clark's Lane intersections with Highway 61-14, particularly Clark's Lane, have been the scene of a number of fatalities.

The speed limit at the Clark's Lane intersection remains the same — 40 miles an hour — but it has been moved to east of the Miracle Mall entrance. The 40-mile zone now extends from that point to the intersection with King Street, which is just west of Orrin Street.

In addition the department has lowered the limit on Highway 61-14 from the intersection with 43 in Sugar Loaf all the way to the Mall entrance to 55. Most of the distance has been 65; at Huff, 50.

The department also has lowered the limit on Highway 43 itself — from Franklin Street to the junction with 61-14 in Sugar Loaf from 40 to 35.

Department action followed a request by the City Council for some action to reduce the traffic toll.

SITE OF DROWNING . . . The X marks the approximate spot where Edward Pinger drowned late Thursday in the Mississippi River. He had been trapping muskrats on the north side of Star White Island and to the west of the island. The area of water is about midway between the Minnesota City Boat Club and the spillway on Prairie Island. The location of the drowning was about one-half mile out from the Minnesota City dike road. (Daily News photo)

Hospital Rehab 1st in State for Medicare OK

Community Memorial Hospital's convalescent and rehabilitation annex is the first extended care institution in Minnesota to have a signed Medicare certification agreement with the federal government, according to E. W. Hagberg, administrator.

The convalescent unit serves long-term patients not requiring the highest levels of nursing care or medical treatment. Its present census averages from 40 to 45 patients who stay an average of 40 days each, Hagberg said.

Community Memorial Hospital facilities have been certified for Medicare since July 1. Certification for the convalescent unit is effective Jan. 1, 1967. The Winona institution was one of about 200 such units surveyed by a special unit of the state Department of Health. Of that number, only 17 institutions have been recommended to date for certification. Surveys were made here in October.

Medicare certification is granted by the Social Security Administration, a division of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, to institutions which meet its standards of facilities and services.

Medicare provides coverage up to 100 days for elderly persons in certified institutions.

Waterville Group Voted to Form Sanitary District

ARKANSAW, Wis. — Town of Waterville voted at a public hearing at the Arkansas High School Thursday night to create a sanitary district within the unincorporated village of Arkansas.

Creation of the district was petitioned by about 80 residents. Vernon Herbst, Arnold Meixner and Norman Sievwright were appointed district commissioners.

There is a 20-day waiting period in which aggrieved persons may file an injunction against the board in Circuit Court, according to Francis Sam, Waterville Town chairman, who presided.

A representative of the state Board of Health explained requirements of the law in establishing a sanitary district. He also represented the new state Water Resources Department established Aug. 1.

The immediate goal of the petitioners is to arrange for proper sewage disposal. Currently individuals provide their own sewage disposal and water supplies.

Vehicles Bought At La Crescent

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — La Crescent Village Board let contracts Friday night to Ray Hutson Chevrolet, La Crosse, for two trucks on which bids were opened Monday.

Both with trade-ins, the dump truck contract is for $3,604 and pickup truck for $1,730.

The council increased the medical insurance for village maintenance employees and took under consideration requests for salary increases by maintenance men.

A special meeting will be held Monday at 7 p.m. to consider increased police protection.

The village received $4,610.20 from the federal government for flood damage in the spring of 1965.

Trapper's Body Found in River

The body of Edward Pinger, 63, 48 Fairfax St., was pulled out of the icy Mississippi River today at 10:15 a.m.

He was found in six feet of water one-half mile out from the Minnesota City Dike Road, near Star White Island, by Deputy Helmer Weinmann, and Warren Seeling and his son, Robert Seeling. The Seelings live at 878 W. Wabasha St.

His boat was found tied up about a hundred yards away. Apparently he used it in open water, then stepped out on the ice to reach his muskrat traps.

PINGER, who had left home Thursday at 12:30 p.m. to trap muskrats, was wearing a heavy sheepskin coat, overalls, hip boots and a fur hunting cap. He had been using a small boat with a 3-horsepower motor.

The site of the drowning was discovered at 9:55 a.m. today by Sheriff George Fort and Thomas Hron, who were patrolling the area from the sky in a plane owned by the Winona Aviation Service.

Sheriff Fort, with the aid of field glasses, spotted a round area where it appeared the ice had been broken. He sent word by radio to the patrol car stationed at the dike and also to Deputy Weinmann who had a portable radio in the rescue boat. Sheriff Fort directed the search from the air.

WHILE dragging for Pinger's body this morning, Weinmann and the Seelings hooked a bag of traps. The body of Pinger then was found since the bag of traps, weighing about 35 pounds, was around Pinger's shoulders.

Pinger was pronounced dead at the scene by Coroner Robert Tweedy.

When Pinger did not return home at his usual time Thursday, his sister, Miss Gertrude Pinger, with whom he resided, asked George Eggers Jr., 1706 Monroe St., a neighbor, to look for him.

Eggers went out on the Minnesota City Dike Road in search of him, since he was familiar with Pinger's fishing and trapping habits. He found Pinger's car parked on the road at 6:15 p.m. It was unlocked and the keys were in it.

EGGERS then notified Sheriff Fort, who in turn dispatched a deputy to the scene. The sheriff's officers were on duty near the scene until 4 a.m. today. Eggers left at 1:30 a.m.

Sheriff Fort and Hron also searched for Pinger from the air Thursday evening but had to call off the search because of darkness.

Roy Evett, director of civil defense for Winona County and the city of Winona, was on hand Thursday and this morning to offer his assistance. At 11:30 p.m. Thursday he came to Winona to pick up a civil defense light plant and generator system. But it was decided to call off the search so as not to endanger any lives.

THE WINONA fire department offered a boat Thursday evening but it was not used since it wasn't feasible to carry out the search after dark. Officer James Bronk, of the Winona police department, hauled a car and trailer to the scene this morning to assist in the search. Deputy Vernon Spitzer patrolled the area until 4 a.m. today.

Pinger had been trapping and fishing as a livelihood about 13 years. Eggers explained that this was only the second day Pinger had trapped in this particular area, therefore he was not too familiar there. While looking for Pinger, Eggers said that they found places where

Last Two Utica Gassing Victims Return to Home

UTICA, Minn. — The last two of four persons affected by carbon monoxide gas Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning arrived home from the hospital this morning.

Mrs. Walter H. Seifert and son, Rodney, were released from St. Marys Hospital, Rochester. Mrs. Seifert said they were feeling weak from the experience.

Mrs. Alvin Schwieder, rural Lewiston, who was with them today, said the car in the garage attached to her parents' home had been running from about 5 p.m. Tuesday until investigators heard the motor running Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Seifert had forgotten to turn off the ignition.

Mrs. Schwieder, the former Beverly Seifert, said the poisonous gas entered the house through the basement as there is a wall between the house and garage—no door.

Mr. Seifert was dismissed from the emergency room at St. Marys Wednesday following examination. Their granddaughter, Debbie Tottingham, who was the only one of the four sleeping on the second floor, was affected only slightly. The others were unconscious when found.

The gassing was discovered about 7:30 a.m. Wednesday by Kenneth Babcock, rural carrier, who found the post office locked at 7 a.m. and went to the Seifert home. Rodney is the postmaster and ordinarily would have been at work by 7.

HARMONY RECREATION
HARMONY, Minn. (Special) — A Harmony Recreation Club has been organized. Membership includes the former Quarterback Club. The new organization plans to help the village council build an ice skating rink on the north side of the high school. The group also plans sleigh riding and tobogganing parties for adults and children.

Pinger had pulled traps out.

PINGER had been employed at the Vulcan Manufacturing Co. until retiring about eight years ago. He also had been a machinist at Hossfeld Manufacturing Co.

He was born Feb. 21, 1903 in Grand Forks, N.D., to Anthony and Catherine Palzer Pinger. He had lived in Winona 41 years. He was an Army veteran of World War II. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and its Holy Name Society and of the American Legion.

He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. John (Anna) Steichen, Mazepa; Miss Gertrude Pinger and Mrs. Henry (Lena) Holz, Winona, and Mrs. Ada Laska, St. Paul. His parents and one sister have died.

Burke's Funeral Home is completing funeral arrangements.

Youth Sentenced For Pizza Theft

Wayne L. Pearson, 18, 216 St. Charles St., pleaded guilty in municipal court today to a charge of petty larceny.

He was arrested at West King and Huff streets at 12:20 a.m. today after officers had stopped him for failing to make the proper turn signals.

Police said they found 10 small pizzas in his car which had been reported stolen from a Rocco's Pizza delivery truck. He was given a choice of a $35 fine or 12 days in jail.

Safe Cracked At Alma School

ALMA, Wis. — Burglars wrecked a safe in the secretary's office at Alma School sometime Thursday night, pried open three drawers of a filing cabinet, pried open the locked drawer in the desk of Supt. Vernon Martzke and jimmied the soft drink dispenser, but got less than $200 for their pains.

Tracks in snow, which had fallen Thursday, indicated that entry had been made through a door leading to the trapdoor on the roof. Burglars climbed to the roof over an entry on the elementary part of the building.

Two doors were forced in the building to get to the secretary's office. There the safe—30 inches wide and 30 inches deep—was moved to the middle of the room, tipped on its back, and the door peeled off. They worked through six inches of concrete and steel. It was dusty in the room when Martzke got there after being called at 7 a.m. today by Elroy Reidt and Elmer Kreibich, custodians.

Books and records in the safe and file cabinet were scattered. Of three class rings in the safe, one was missing on early search.

Buffalo County Sheriff Myron Hock and Fred Glander, Alma policeman, investigated. Martzke said the district carries burglary insurance.

'B.W.' Covers 'I Do' Opening

By ROSEMARY ("The B.W.") WILSON

NEW YORK — Earl got fogbound in Wichita and Kansas City. That's what he claimed, anyway.

He planned orders that I take a notebook along in my evening bag and cover the "I Do! I Do!" opening and David Merrick's big splashy, dressy party afterward at the Rainbow Room.

"Spell very carefully and drink the same way," he said. I tripped around in my long gown smiling and saying "Give me some items."

They were so nice! Everybody was working for me. Bert Bacharach said, "Did you see Gina Lollobrigida with Preston Long?" Pat Lawford had on a short dress and very long striking earrings. It was the same pretty combination she wore at Anita Louise's party two nights before though I don't know whether I'm supposed to mention that.

Perle Mesta, a full-length sequin coat, said she's showing her 8-year-old niece New York City — you know, the 21 Club, El Morocco, Yellowfrown — the seamy side of town.

Mary Martin was bouncing around in a long dark sari with everybody kissing her and congratulating her.

"Did you know Mary hasn't been here since she played the Rainbow Room 27 years ago?"

Bud Kalish said, "That's right, 27 years ago, kid!" Mary nodded.

"THEY WOULDN'T let me do 'My Heart Belongs To Daddy' here," Mary said. "They said, 'What! Strip-tease in the Rainbow Room! No, indeed.' So I had to sing some high-falutin' stuff."

"Never heard so much applause as you and Bob Peterson got tonight," John Houser told Mary.

"Did we? I never hear anything. My blood goes to my ears," Mary said.

It was sentimental when Mary and Bob Peterson and the whole stage crew sang a song to Gower Champion, the director, and because it was a little ragged, and you couldn't understand it, he looked at them and said, "I think that needs rehearsing."

AT THE END of the evening everybody was happy about the reviews and Mary was talking about her granddaughter who thinks "Grandma" invented burlesque. I looked for nice Mr. Merrick to thank him for the party but couldn't find him.

"Somebody told me he was scowling," I said. "He's got nothing to scowl about! He's got a hit," one of his guys said to me. "But anyway, how could you tell?"

That's all I could get out of the party. That's Rosemary, brother.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A fellow noted that his piano has brought him lots of enjoyment: "I hide my whiskey bottles there."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "This is the season," said a local man, "when the elevator operators in my house stop to say 'Good morning' — and I live on the ground floor."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Marriage, like many other things, is based on supply and demand. Wives demand, husbands supply."

EARL'S PEARLS: The way things are going, pretty soon our pay checks won't even cover the deductions.

Sherman Alpert passed a theater and saw Smokey the Bear picketing "Is Paris Burning?" That's earl, brother.

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — The annual stockholders meeting of Arcadia Projects, Inc., will be held at the Trempealeau Electric building Monday at 8 p.m.

Virtually all the real estate owned by Arcadia Projects, consisting of the factory building, warehouse and property, is leased for 15 years to Arcadia Manufacturing with option to buy at the end of the period.

Fishing Prospects

The weather picture for the weekend for this area is rather favorable for ice fishermen. The Saturday and Sunday forecasts call for a little colder with possibility of light snow. The water accumulated on the surface of the ice will freeze, eliminating the sloppy conditions that have prevailed on some of the sloughs.

Midweek fishing continued slow with the number of fishermen dropping off sharply from the opening weekend. It was wet going most of the time. A few fishing shacks have appeared on some of the backwaters but fishermen are still fearful of a breakup of the ice.

Lake Pepin is completely covered with ice with a big ridge where the towboats plowed their path, Willis Kruger, Wabasha warden, tells us. Most of the ice fishing has been centered just off shore in bay areas near the foot of the lake. It has been slow and sloppy.

Locally fishermen have been purchasing bait and are going on the sloughs where they contend there is plenty of ice — up to six inches in places. However, the catch has been nothing to brag about, some sunfish in the keeper class but most of them small. Crappies have been running fair.

The water level in the pools, after the sharp drop due to the ice jam at the mouth of the Chippewa, is being restored. It was up to 13,000 cubic feet per second at the Winona dam Thursday. During the jam that nearly cut off the flow of the Chippewa River, when the gates were ordered almost closed, it dropped to near the 7,000 mark, one of the lowest readings in recent years. The water was held in Pool 4, 5, 5A, and 6 to permit the last towboat to clear the area. They are all beyond the St. Paul District now.

The drop pulled the water out of the headwater sloughs and made a lot of muskrat trappers unhappy. Their traps in runways were high and dry.

Open water fishing below the dams has been fair but not too many fishermen have been out in boats. Victor Johnson, the Winona fishermen who try it nearly every day below the Winona dam, came in with the limit of nice walleyes Wednesday.

The river Thursday morning was almost open from the dam to Winona, with a lot of open water showing almost to La Crosse. There was some current in the sloughs.

The water slipping through the ice apparently made the big sunnies hit Wednesday and Thursday say reports from Spring Lake at Buffalo City and Stoddard. The lucky fishermen were there at the right time.

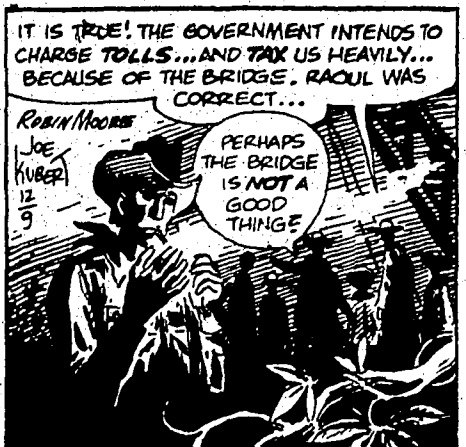

Warden Powwow

Minnesota game wardens are back from their annual four-day meeting in St. Paul. It is always held before the Christmas holidays. Changes in the laws to be offered at the coming session of the legislature were the top subject.

One warden told us that there were all kinds of rumors on who would be the new conservation commissioner and of possible changes in the director of game and fish. None of it is official.

BLAIR MAN HONORED

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—Glen Hamilton, Blair, was among area veterans stationed at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, who was honored at a parade and dinner by the La Crosse County War Veterans Allied Council Wednesday. The dinner was served at the Cerise Club.

Blair Firemen Name Officers

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — All officers of the Blair-Preston volunteer fire department have been re-elected.

Agnus Olson is chief; James Pederson, assistant chief; James Frederickson, president; Stanley Marthaler, first vice president; Otis Berg, second vice president; Duane Johnson, secretary and Jerome Mattison, treasurer.

Firemen voted to donate to the children's Christmas party and to purchase three new two-way radios and additional helmets and raincoats. Sixteen firemen received diplomas for attending a state vocational fire training school. The department has made 21 runs so far this year. They include seven chimney fires, five car fires, two exploding oil stoves, three grass fires, two for blazes caused by faulty wiring, and two building fires. The largest loss was the garage at the Hensel Johnson farm Jan. 27 where a comparatively new pickup, riding power lawn mower and farm tools were destroyed. Olson estimated the loss at $6,000 to $7,000.

The earth travels about 1.100 miles a minute.

32 Winona State Students Elected to 'Who's Who'

Thirty-two Winona State College seniors have been elected to "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

To receive this honor, students must have a 2.0 grade point average, be a senior, and be active in organizations and activities at Winona State. Thirteen men and 19 women have been selected for this nationwide honor, on recommendation of students and faculty.

Cutbacks Belated But Most Welcome

BELATED but welcome are the cutbacks in federal spending ordered by President Lyndon B. Johnson. Even louder applause is due his pledge to "make further reductions where possible."

His plan is to reduce federal programs by $5.3 billion and actual outlays by $3 billion. He will rely on some contract cancellations, stretch-outs in other cases and simply not asking Congress to appropriate money for certain programs already authorized.

Still, that $3 billion is only 2.4 percent of the $125 billion in federal spending forecast by next June 30 after an expected addition of $10 billion for the costly war in Vietnam.

The most optimistic forecast of federal income to date is $118 billion, so a whopping deficit remains in prospect.

Mr. Johnson correctly notes that the lion's share of the federal budget goes for defense and items beyond his control such as interest on the national debt, farm price supports, aid to veterans and payments on contracts already signed. He figures that $29 billion of the current budget, plus the highway construction program, are subject to some measure of presidential control.

BY THIS RECKONING, the $3-billion reduction is only a fraction more than ten percent of the total within Mr. Johnson's reach. And $1.1 billion of his $3 billion will come from road-building funds drawn mainly from direct levies on motorists and other highway users.

The largest single item in his list of economies is $1.5 billion for military construction and procurement. His cutting knife has been wielded more lightly on his Great Society's homefront.

The President's stated aim is the sound one of combating inflation. Red ink in Washington fuels the rising cost of living. Uncle Sam's pleas for "restraint" in wages and prices will carry more weight now that he himself has taken a hitch in his belt.

THERE'S ROOM for more federal belt-tightening, and more will be needed to avert another increase in the national debt. Interest on this item alone now exceeds $10 billion a year — a fixed expense which has been growing steadily for too long.

Mondale Picks Up the Pieces

(Mankato Free Press)

THE REPORT THAT Sen. Walter Mondale has been charged with the task of rebuilding the Democratic Party in Minnesota falls somewhere near the "so-what-else-is-new?" category.

Mondale, whose many capabilities include winning great numbers of friends and not making many enemies, was the only major figure in his party to emerge victorious in the November election.

He kept himself close enough to the Rolvaag Administration for the sake of party harmony, but sufficiently distant that even the Allied American Insurance incident could not have a severe effect on his future.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey refers to Mondale as "not combative . . . essentially a peacemaker . . . and a highly successful vote-getter."

We agree.

SEN. EUGENE J. McCarthy also is not without such credentials. But McCarthy pretty much remained aloof from the last campaign. Mondale, a very active participant and, what's more, a survivor, is the more logical one to be ordained to pick up the pieces.

It is true, undoubtedly, that Mondale's usefulness to his party is enhanced by a noncombative psyche, to which Mr. Humphrey has called attention.

But it is also true, beyond doubt, that Mondale's value to his constituents would be immeasurably increased if he became more combative in a legislative sense.

Leadership admittedly is hard to come by in a rubber stamp Congress. It is tempting to swallow White House directives as a sort of life preserver in a sea of power legislation.

But this is not the metal from which authentic leaders are forged.

NONCOMBATIVENESS may have a role in preserving and restoring party amity, but is out of place in the halls of Congress.

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

What About the Captive People?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The biggest paradox of our times appears to be unnoticed by the peoples of the free world. Plenty of indignation is being voiced because a white minority in Rhodesia will not allow the right of self-determination to be exercised by the black majority in that country. But, ironically, nobody seems to care about the fate of the white minority not only in the Soviet Union but in the six Communist countries of eastern Europe and the three former Baltic states, which are frequently referred to as "captive nations" because their present regimes were imposed by Moscow.

A small minority known as the Communist party rules the Soviet Union and insists that there shall be no opposition. Nobody can vote against the party in power. The same thing is true in Poland, East Germany, Hungary and the other countries in the Communist bloc.

IT IS SURPRISING that even the United Nations is being urged by some of the African nations to enforce "sanctions" on Rhodesia in order to punish the white minority. But no such measures are being suggested to deal with the exercise of a dominant authority by the white minorities in each of the Communist-bloc countries.

Would the same thing be true if the Communist party consisted only of whites, and the vast majority of the peoples in the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany and Hungary were black? Would there be talk of "sanctions" to punish the minority for its refusal to grant liberty to the majority of the population in each country?

The answer is not hard to find. For only the small, white minorities who rule colored majorities are assailed today, while white majorities are suffering an agony of enslavement. Is this because the members of the United Nations are afraid to band together and take collective action to establish freedom for the majority of the population in each of the "captive" countries?

IT IS EASY enough to punish the white minority in Rhodesia and to cut off the trade of that country and inflict hardships on the entire population — and all in the name of human freedom. But commendable as is the objective of those who want to see the majority rule in Rhodesia, there is an obvious inconsistency in the unwillingness of the principal nations of the world today to do anything about the subjugation of vast numbers of people — indeed, the majority — in each of the Communist countries.

Although ethnic Russians constitute only about half of the population of the Soviet Union, Russians dominate the Communist party and its leadership. Thus a small minority of one particular nationality rules the whole country through the system of Communist party discipline.

IN RECENT YEARS, Rumania and Czechoslovakia have achieved some small measure of independence of Moscow, but they are still dominated by the single-party Communist system. It is generally believed that the self-determination achieved in these two countries is not complete but is a form of neutrality as between the Communist parties of Red China and the Soviet Union, respectively. Although Soviet troops have been withdrawn from those countries, and from Bulgaria as well, they still constitute a considerable occupation force in East Germany, Poland, Hungary and the Baltic states. Backed by the power of military coercion, the white minority rules the roost in several countries.

It's a good thing, of course, for the United Nations to implore free peoples everywhere to take an interest in the fate of the minorities in those countries which are under the yoke of minorities of any kind. But there would be more enthusiasm for a glorification of the idea of self-determination if it were applied consistently throughout the world.

Until public opinion throughout the world insists that the principle be applied everywhere, not just where black people are concerned, there will be little progress made toward the establishment of equal rights for all majorities.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

England's Economy Now in Dire Straits

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — For more than 50 years most Americans have come to think of England as their No. 1 ally. We have fought two world wars together, got British support in two highly unpopular minor wars — Korea and South Vietnam — and have stuck together on most major policy.

But, though most Americans don't realize it, we will soon have no ally. For the British economy is fast going down the drain.

British production is down, its factory equipment outmoded. British labor is not too efficient. The British maritime strike earlier this year dealt the country a cruel blow. The pound sterling is propped up only by the American dollar. Australia, Canada and New Zealand are probably closer to the United States economically than to London, while India, once a vast market for England, is now completely dependent on American farmers for food.

Last month, the British, in a desperate attempt to save their economy, appealed to France to admit them to the common market. General De Gaulle's reply was that Britain was too close to the U.S.A. that Britain must sacrifice if it wanted to get into the common market.

THIS IMPERIOUS advice was delivered to a nation which held out against Hitler's bombers and rockets at a time when France had surrendered to the Nazi army. If it were not for Britain's sacrifice at that time, France might still be under the Nazis! De Gaulle might still be enjoying his exile in England.

What the sinking of England means is that English law, which we inherited, English culture from which we have borrowed liberally, English government which is the foundation of our government — all lose their onetime eminence in the world.

Some will say that the British, with their current show-down over Rhodesia, are hurting their economy even more. This is true. But the principle for which they are making the Rhodesian sacrifice is the one over which the revolutionary war was fought — self-government. This is a principle for which they deserve our support.

THEREFORE, with President De Gaulle using Europe to spurn the United States, I suggest that Americans use their powerful patronage of Europe to help their friends, not their critics.

I suggest that we fly BOAC to Europe, not Air France; that we visit England's beautiful tourist spots, not the French Riviera or crowded Paris. On my last two visits to Paris, the Hotel Meurice and Hotel George V refused to honor reservations made months in advance.

British hotels are more hospitable. The British countryside is delightful; the theaters the best in the world. So use your dollars to help an old friend and ally.

The Liberty Lobby, whose founder, Willis Carto, wants to deport all Negroes to Africa and who believes it was a mistake to wage war against Hitler, is promoting "friends for Rhodesia."

They have founded clubs around the country, chiefly in Southern California and Alabama, aimed at supporting Rhodesia in its economic showdown with the United Nations.

One Liberty Lobby bulletin reported that Orange County, California, Friends of Rhodesia held a meeting at Knott's berry farm, a gathering place for the ultra right, and added 14 new members and sold $500 worth of Rhodesian bonds. Not a great triumph.

CHARLES McWilliams of the Alabama Friends of Rhodesia wrote the Liberty Lobby, proposing that each friend of Rhodesia buy a quart of oil and mail it to Prime Minister Ian Smith, to combat the current oil embargo.

In the Los Angeles area some months ago, Actor Wendell Corey ran for Congress in the Republican primary against Rep. Alphonzo Bell partly on the ground that Bell had failed to support Rhodesian independence. Despite the popularity of actors in Southern California, Corey failed to make it.

George Brown, Britain's ebullient foreign minister, who has been teaming up with U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg in the United Nations to promote sanctions against Rhodesia, actually began teaming up with Goldberg 25 years ago. They worked together as underground agents against the Nazis.

President Not Talking as Much

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There has been a strange development in President Johnson which may have gone unnoticed because, while he may seem to be talking as much as ever, he really isn't.

He has been talking in news conferences for months here in Washington or in Texas or elsewhere but that is scattered talk on a variety of subjects, not detailed and not in any sense full explanations on serious subjects.

To Your Good Health

Drinker's Logic Is False

By J. G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband is a heavy drinker. He claims that as long as he eats nourishing food and maintains a good diet, alcohol will not harm his health.

I find this hard to believe. Is he right?

How can some men drink all of their lives and live as long as others? I know of some! Must they have strong constitutions, or does it apply to all? Just what effect does drinking have on health? — MRS. C.W.A.

Your husband is taking a little bit of fact and stretching it too much. So far as his liver is concerned, faulty diet certainly has a great deal to do with cirrhosis. While some folks get cirrhosis without ever having tasted alcohol, the majority of patients with severe cirrhosis are heavy drinkers who, in addition, did not eat properly. Some hard drinkers, of course, get to the point of going on extended benders and not eating at all.

A healthy liver can withstand a good deal of alcohol as a rule. But a damaged liver becomes highly sensitive to alcohol which in a very real sense is then a poison.

SO YOUR HUSBAND'S argument has a fleck of substance to it — especially if luck is with him, and his liver doesn't become diseased in some other way.

Trying to justify heavy drinking with just that argument is pretty specious. Excessive alcohol irritates the internal tissues. Whiskey tends to develop gastritis (inflammation of the stomach) is common. The "rum-dumb" sot can't be laughed off. There are distinct and provable changes in blood circulation.

Mentally and emotionally alcohol has manifold consequences. It is a depressant. It deranges judgment and retards reflexes. Changes in hormones and vitamin balance of the body have been noted, although whether this is a cause or result is moot.

MANY PEOPLE gradually drink more and more, and reach the not-eating point. Or they drive while drinking, or they stumble and fall, and the consequences are not to be avoided by your husband's touted good diet.

Liver disease and brain damage are the most destructive penalties of heavy drinking, but there are many more kinds, too.

I've consistently refused to preach total abstinence, because I think alcohol, when not abused, does some good in

He has not been making sustained speeches or explanations as he did in his early White House days. As a result he has become much as remote from the people.

And as a result of that his popularity and the public's confidence in him have sagged. For example, it has been a long time since he took the airways to talk to the nation about Viet Nam.

All that's been coming out of Texas about the economy so far is a jumble. He will, of course, have plenty of time and opportunity to be clear and specific about this in January in his budget and economic and State of the Union messages.

Meanwhile, a rather puzzled public waits. But that he is losing ground with the public was illustrated in two public opinion polls published this week by George Gallup and Louis Harris.

The latest Gallup poll, which at the beginning of 1966 showed 63 per cent approving the way Johnson did his job, showed only 48 per cent did, although this was a 4 point increase from October.

Gallup attributed the downward trend to disenchantment with the "Great Society" and the course of the war in Viet Nam. In the latest survey 43 per cent said they approved Johnson's handling of the war, 40 per cent didn't.

But the Harris poll was even gloomier. Harris found only 42 per cent approved Johnson's handling of the war, a 7 point drop since his trip to the Manila conference in October.

Harris also found only 35 per cent approved his handling of the economy, a 34 per cent drop in a year. And — an earlier Harris survey had Johnson trailing Republican George Romney, recently elected to a third term as Michigan's governor, in pairings for the presidency.

That the people have reason to be puzzled by the war, wondering when it will end, and seeing no end in sight, was justified in an interview given recently by Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Lodge said "I think you could say they (the enemy) we cannot be pushed out. I think you could say we have not won yet. I think you could say they (the enemy) cannot win."

He said the war "just might fade away but nobody knows." That's not throwing much light on it. And Johnson has never thrown much light on it.

For months he let the critics of the war, like two Democratic senators, J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas and Wayne Morse of Oregon, fill the vacuum of public information without saying much himself except scattered statements.

It is known that one reason he didn't answer the critics by making full dress explanations is that he felt the critics represented only a small part of public thinking. Now, apparently, the polls tell him otherwise.

Still, there's no indication he will change his course. But this is only part of the changed picture of this man who used to do so much public talking and explaining but then, in the midst of the last political campaign, did a minimum of campaigning for his party and, instead, went off to Manila to discuss Viet Nam.

If he wants to be re-elected he will have to make big changes.

the world, but I most vociferously disagree with your husband's notion that a good diet prevents all its dangers.

Houston Co. Gravel Pit Case Heard

CALEDONIA, Minn.—District Judge Arnold Hatfield Wednesday took a divorce under advisement and started hearing a dispute over a gravel pit in Crooked Creek near Reno.

Testimony in the gravel pit case was completed in Winona County District Court Thursday morning because all the attorneys in the case were from Winona.

BERNARD Ramsey, Jr., 42, contested the divorce action brought against him by Mrs. Patricia M. Ramsey, 37. Residents of La Crescent, they have no children by their marriage.

Mrs. Ramsey, represented by Robert A. Lee of Roerholl, Rippe & Lee, Caledonia, seeking the divorce on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, testified that the defendant had struck her. She said she is employed at La Crosse Garment Co. and is union steward. Her substantiating witness was her sister, Mrs. George Martin, La Crescent. The plaintiff said she had been married twice before.

Rumsey, represented by Thomas A. Flynn, Houston, testified he doesn't object to his wife working but objects to her union activities and her bowling. He said his four children by a previous marriage live with them.

According to their testimony, they sold their farm at Dakota to the state for the new highway for $11,000, purchased a home in La Crosse as rental property, and are paying for a home in La Crescent.

The couple was married March 4, 1961, at New Albin, Iowa.

ARNOLD Kruckow, represented by Duane M. Peterson, was plaintiff in the gravel case, suing Botcher Construction Co., defendants, represented by C. Stanley McMahon, with Leo Breese as third party defendant. Breese was represented by Roger Brosnahan of Streat, Murphy & Brosnahan.

According to the testimony, Breese, owner of the gravel pit, entered into a contract with Botcher Construction in 1963, granting it the right to remove gravel at 25 cents a yard. Two years later Breese sold the pit to Kruckow, who was to pay $300 per year over the next 20 years, plus 10 cents a yard over 3,000 yards taken per year.

Arnold Kruckow, partner in the business with his brother, Lowell, and father, Fred, testified that Botcher didn't remove his equipment so his company could get in to take gravel, so they brought a damage suit against Botcher.

BOTCHER sued Breese because, Botcher testified, he had spent $2,000 to get into and develop the pit, and then Breese sold it.

On averse examination, Breese said he had received $25 for gravel in 1963.

Fremont and Marvin Diersen of Crooked Creek testified to buying nine or 10 loads of gravel

New Street Lights Tested

Testing of new residential lighting is under way in the city.

City Council Harold Briesath and Ald. James Stoltman told the Winona Civic Association Thursday that the experimental mercury vapor installations have been made at the Wilson and Olmstead intersections with Broadway.

At Broadway and Market Street the city and Northern States Power Co. are testing a fluorescent lamp. This model will be recommended by the City Council lighting committee for installation in the new downtown parking lot at 166 Center St.

Should the mercury vapor be substituted citywide for the present incandescent lighting annual operation savings would be about $5,400, according to Briesath. The installation is by Northern States Power Co.

The council's lighting committee is expected to recommend new mercury vapor fixtures for Broadway, from Mankato Avenue to Sioux Street. Four new mercury vapor lamps have been placed at the newly reconstructed intersection of 5th and Orrin streets for traffic safety purposes.

Principal speaker at the meeting was Gordon Fay, Winona County highway engineer, who outlined the county road building program, discussed use of turnback funds for such projects as West Sarnia, Gilmore Avenue and Junction Street, and outlined the county's role in improving roads adjacent to the interstate system.

He also suggested another referendum on building a new courthouse.

300 Attend Fillmore Co. Town Banquet

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — Some 300 attended the Fillmore County Township Officers banquet at the Lanesboro Community Hall Tuesday night. The meal was served by the women of Pilot Mound Lutheran Church.

Lester Gatzke, Wykoff, association president, was master of ceremonies, introducing Paul Winkel, state president, and David Gilderhus, state secretary, both of Adams, and Wendell Lenton, manager of the Stewartville Elevator, who showed slides and spoke on life inside Russia. He visited there in the summer of 1965.

"GOOD government starts in the township," said Winkel. "This is a grass roots government. It is better when we do a lot for ourselves instead of having it done at a higher level."

He said the association is strong, each county now paying dues to the state organization. Gilderhus enumerated the resolutions passed at the state township officers convention Nov. 28. He said it will attempt to get the following passed at the coming legislative session:

1. Boat and motor taxes, with licenses or taxes according to size and value the same as other mobile units, now that there is no longer a household tax including boats.

2. Return of cigarette and liquor taxes to the townships from the county on a per capita basis.

3. Assessment of real and personal property at the same time instead of six months apart as at present.

4. Exemption of assessors from paying toward the public employees retirement association if they so desire.

HENRY Fjellstad, charter member of the association and treasurer since organization was given special recognition. He served until last spring when he moved into a village.

Musical numbers were provided by Orvey Peterson and his Pea Pickers of Lanesboro and a girls' trio from Pilot Mound and Lanesboro.

Wives of the six officer members from each of Fillmore County's 24 townships, county officials and wives, county commissioners and the Extension services were guests. A delegation from neighboring Mower, Winona and Houston counties also attended.

PERSONS long out of training or "soft" (who have not practiced strenuous exercise regularly) will need an extended period of conditioning to facilitate gradual return to full activity. In the late twenties or early thirties, most individuals experience the onset of a gradual decline of strength. The heart and circulatory system also exhibit loss of functional capacity and resilience in recovery after exercise. Persons who continue to exercise regularly retain their capacities longer than others.

Blair Music and Needlecraft Club probably takes top prize in originality this year in the category of choosing names for the exchange of gifts at their Christmas party.

Each member was asked to pick a blown-up balloon from a decorated bag. Since the identities were hidden inside, members then were required to sit on the balloons in order to find out for whom they were to buy a present.

To their further surprise, the names were written backward. All that in the name of Santa Claus.

Sewing committee members of the Women's Auxiliary, Osseo Area Hospital and Nursing Home, have been busy, busy during the past year. They have made 157 new pieces, and mended 1385 others, an increase of 234 over last year.

Rev. deGrood Speaks to Teresan Group

The discoveries and insights of the scientific, mathematical and man-oriented sciences have given man a new and deeper understanding of his faith, the Rev. Richard deGrood told Teresan Chapter members meeting at the home of Mrs. Hubert Weir Thursday evening.

In defining the Church in terms of Vatican Council documents, he pointed out the statement, "the Church is the people of God." Authority in the Church is the center of a conciliar society, serving as a source of union and direction. This generation is becoming aware of being one of all mankind rather than one of a group among many groups.

Father deGrood emphasized that technological influences have had tremendous impact on our modes of thought and we must continue to work for a world where all will relate to others as brothers in charity.

At the business meeting, Mrs. Manning Harlick, alumnae director, invited Winona alumnae to attend functions at the College of Saint Teresa, and extended an invitation to hear the Rev. Godfrey Diekmann's lecture on the liturgy at 7:30 p.m. Thursday which will be open to the public.

660 ft.

Deep-sea divers and skin divers say there is just one perfect watch for them: The Rolex Submariner.

The Submariner resists pressure down to 660 ft. underwater. Tests proved that innumerable deep-sea dives did not affect it. This is because its precision movement is enclosed in a special Oyster case. Extra-luminous minute, hour and second hands make it easy to read in the twilight of deep waters, and a special revolving bezel makes it possible for a diver to check his decompression time clearly. The Submariner is self-winding . . . the ideal watch for everyone who dives, sails or swims.

Two Trainmen Hurt in Crash At Crossing

CLONTARF, Minn. (AP) — A truck driver jumped clear but two railroad men sustained minor injuries Thursday night in a train and truck collision. Eight head of cattle and two hogs, being transported in the truck trailer, were killed.

The accident delayed the Great Northern's No. 14 "Red River" passenger train, east-bound from Fargo to the Twin Cities, for about two hours.

Melvin Joseph Eystad, 41, of rural Morris, was hauling 10 head of cattle and three hogs when the accident happened in this Swift County village, in west central Minnesota.

Authorities said Eystad saw the train as he approached the crossing but safety gates dropped as the truck got on the tracks. He pulled to the left, in an effort to get off the tracks, but the truck hit a signal light box. The cab was clear of the tracks, but the 16-foot trailer rested on the tracks as Eystad leaped clear.

A GN spokesman in St. Paul said warning lights at the crossing were flashing prior to the collision.

Fragments of the truck box shattered the locomotive windows. Engineer Glenn R. Bangson, Minneapolis, and fireman R. J. Emerson, St. Paul, saw the stranded truck and dropped to the cab floor but suffered facial cuts from the shattering glass.

The rear dual wheels of the truck were carried 225 feet from the point of impact.

Commission Defers Subdivision Action

City Planning Commission members and Orval Hilke agreed Thursday night to meet again Dec. 29 in a further attempt to unravel knotty problems in connection with a subdivision plan proposed by Hilke.

The commission and Hilke reviewed a list of seven points raised by the city engineer in connection with a preliminary plat approval application. The land in question is a large shelf on the hillside just south of Westgate Shopping Center. As proposed for development the tract would contain 28 residential lots.

HILKE SAID he will bring his surveyor to the next meeting to discuss grades and contours that must be written into the final plat plan. He repeated his contention that a blanket variance from the 25-foot setback regulation should be granted.

Because a 50-foot street right of way must be granted, the houses could probably not comply with the setback and be footed on the basic hillside soil, he said. Even though the filled portions of the shelf have been stabilized by several years of settling, he would not build houses resting solely on the deposited material, Hilke said.

Included in the dedicated right of way is space for a service street and an asphalt lined gutter to carry runoff water to catch basins at Terry and Clark's Lanes. Hilke also told the commission he would willingly donate some land for playground use as required in subdivision regulations.

THE COMMISSION indicated it does not have power to grant the requested setback variance, since this is the Zoning Board of Appeals province. However, if the commission recommended acceptance of the plat and approved the setback principle, this would probably have considerable influence with the zoning board, noted H. E. Hippe, planning coordinator.

Cincinnati Woman Found Strangled

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The body of an 81-year-old woman was found in an apartment building elevator here today. Detective Russell Jackson said the woman had been strangled with a stocking.

He declined to say if the woman had been raped.

Jackson identified the woman as Lula Kerrick who lived in the building.

Police said the body was found by another tenant. Jackson made no comment as to whether the case could be linked with five rape strangulations of women 50 years old or more which have occurred here in slightly more than a year.

Two Named For Theft Of Pigs

LUVERNE, Minn. (AP) — Two young western Rock County farmers have been named in warrants growing out of a hog rustling episode and subsequent wild chase during which live pigs were tossed from a fleeing truck in an attempt to halt a pursuing car.

Roger Pieper, 20, was released on $8,000 bond after appearing before Municipal Judge Albert Christiansen in Luverne Tuesday on a charge of bringing stolen property into Minnesota and South Dakota charges of burglary and grand larceny.

Sheriff Neil Roberts of Rock County said he had received another warrant today from Minnehaha County, S.D., charging Pieper's brother, Darrell, 24, with burglary and grand larceny.

Ordell Rogan and his wife returned to their farm near Jasper, Minn., about midnight Monday to find a small truck leaving their place with a load of hogs. Unsuccessful in an attempt to block the driveway with his car, Ordell gave chase.

Unable to force the truck into the ditch, Rogan continued in pursuit. As the chase wore on, one man climbed out of the cab to the back of the truck and started tossing pigs into Rogan's path.

When a pig struck the car, breaking off the aerial, Rogan dropped back but kept the truck in sight. Mrs. Rogan took down a description of the truck and counted 30 pigs tossed onto the road during the two hour chase.

Finally running low on fuel, Rogan drove to Luverne and notified Sheriff Roberts. The truck description led him to the Pieper farm.

When Roberts discovered that the Rogan hog house was about 20 feet across the Minnesota line in South Dakota, he contacted authorities at Sioux Falls.

Farmers along the chase route have found about 10 live pigs and several dead ones, Roberts said. The pigs weighed from 30 to 60 pounds.

Hennepin Poverty Funds Cut Sharply

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — About $400,000 in federal anti-poverty funds have been trimmed from Hennepin County's allotment, according to Larry Harris, director of the county's Economic Opportunity Committee.

He called the cutback "hellish," adding that "it's been a frustrating week." He was told at a meeting in Chicago this week with federal officials that grants for $224,447 for Operation Youth and $175,000 for the Twin City American Indian Project would not be approved.

La Crosse Plans Harborview Plaza, Cost $17 Million

LA CROSSE, Wis. — A Harborview Plaza plan, with commercial buildings, two high-rise apartments and a high-rise office building, all with an estimated potential for some $17 million in private investment, has been unveiled here.

Property values in the area, between State and Mount Vernon Streets west of 2nd, now total roughly $1.8 million, planners say.

At a presentation to the La Crosse Redevelopment Authority, Peter Martin and William Schmidt, of the city's planning firm, Candeb, Fleissig and Associates, Newark, N.J., and economist Ronald Bussey, Chicago, said the plan offers the city the opportunity to join downtown La Crosse with the Mississippi River.

THE NET cost of the urban renewal project would be $4.2 million, of which the city's share would be $1.05 million, said Schmidt. In addition, the city would pay for street improvements, relocating Front Street, another parking lot on 2nd Street and an observation deck.

Its total costs would run about $1.26 million, he added.

Tax returns could be 10 times as great as they are now, he said, depending on the development. The present yield is about $38,000 annually.

The project, after clearing all federal and local government channels, could be started in 1968, said Charles Parrott, executive director for the Redevelopment Authority.

The plan provides for river-fronting retail stores and possibly a department store and a restaurant. There would be a high-rise office building on 2nd between Main and Pearl, and high-rise 150-unit apartment buildings at what now roughly are Front and State Streets and Front and Mount Vernon Streets.

ENCLOSED pedestrian malls, heated in winter and air-conditioned in summer, would go through the plaza and lead to an observation deck over the water, some 35 feet above the river, said Schmidt, a renewal consultant. The malls could be extended east on Main Street into the rest of downtown La Crosse, he said.

Developers would be required to provide ramp parking on the west side of their development in the basement and on the first floor level, all below commercial development, said Schmidt. The basement parking would be where the ground starts sloping toward the river.

Motorists would drive west on Main and Pearl into the ramps. Front Street would be moved about 40 feet to the west and the area between it and the river would be an expanded Riverside Park.

Only one building, Roellig's, Inc., an appliance store, would remain of the 68 buildings. Roellig's would work into the design plan, said Schmidt.

St. Stanislaus to Hold Open House

St. Stanislaus Church, 625 E. 4th St., the oldest Catholic parish in Winona, is opening its doors Sunday to all city and area residents.

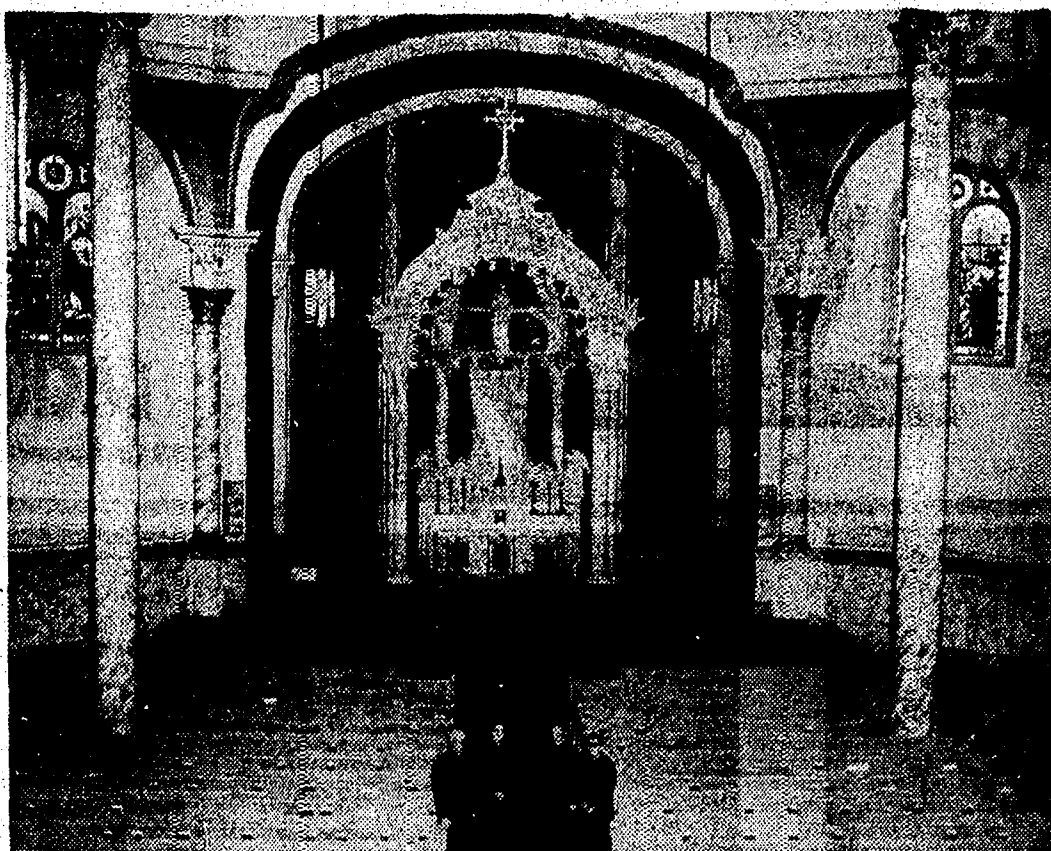

An open house will be held in the 70-year-old building as an ecumenical gesture to persons of all faiths. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. N. F. Grukowski, pastor, explained that he desires individuals to become more familiar with St. Stan's and also hopes to solidify the common brotherhood in Christ.

The special day also is a celebration of the completion of the repair work in the church, following the June 5 fire.

Tours will be offered from 1 to 4 p.m. with members of the Holy Name and Forester societies as guides. Lucian Grupa, president, of the Holy Name Society, is chairman, with Romuald Galewski, chief ranger of the Foresters, as co-chairman.

Refreshments will be served in Pacholski Hall by the Parish Council of Catholic Women. Mrs. Sig J. Jersek is chairman and Mrs. Romelle Wineski, co-chairman.

In conjunction with the open house there will be a commemoration of the millennium of Christianity's advent in Poland. The Polish language will be used as the vernacular for the 7:15 a.m. Mass, and Polish hymns will be sung. The Most Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, bishop of Winona, will be celebrant of the 11:15 Liturgy of the Word and Eucharist.

THE 'NEW' . . . A new look is evident at St. Stanislaus since it was remodeled in 1959 and since the June 5 fire. The liturgical altar of sacrifice made of Vermont Verde antique marble is centered in front of the high altar. A pulpit, or ambo, of the same material is to the left of the high altar. There is a recessed niche in the upper part of the pulpit wherein the Holy Bible always will rest. Six-foot carved wood statues will be placed on the side walls below the windows. The sanctuary, which is completely carpeted, has been enlarged over much of the space formerly occupied by the Communion rail and side altars. Four priests in the foreground are, from left, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. N. F. Grukowski, pastor, and the Revs. Dennis Schimek, Leonard McNab and Douglas Fiola, associates. (Daily News photo)

Cornerstone Laying Set For Preston

PRESTON, Minn. (Special) — Cornerstone laying ceremonies will be conducted Sunday at 3 p.m. for the new United Methodist Church of Preston.

Clergy who will assist are Dr. Edward Foote, Rochester, district superintendent of Southeastern District of the Methodist Church; Dr. A. Butzman, St. Paul, district superintendent of the Evangelical United Brethren Church; Dr. Allen Flohr, Mankato, district superintendent of the Southwestern District of the Methodist Church; Dr. Paul Hayes, Minneapolis, former district superintendent of Southeastern District; the Rev. Carlton Bauer, Spring Valley, pastor of Evangelical United Brethren Church, and the Rev. John H. Payne, Preston, pastor of the new church under construction.

MEL SORENSON, Rochester, construction foreman of Coats-Jones Construction Co., will assist in placing the document box and laying the cornerstone. Among items to be placed in the box are a 1875 quarter and an old Bible. The two items were removed from the cornerstone box of the old Methodist Church, built in 1894, which still stands on Main St.

The Evangelical United Brethren and First Methodist churches of Preston entered into a yoking fellowship on July 7, 1963, for a period of one year. However, in March 1964 the two congregations voted to merge as of June 1, 1964. The new church congregation selected the name of United Methodist Church of Preston.

On Nov. 15, 1964, the congregation gave authority to the building committee to proceed with plans to build a new church, since neither of the former buildings was adequate to meet the congregation's needs. The architectural firm of Eckert & Carlson, Winona, was engaged to draw plans for the building, which is now under construction. The first plans drawn were let out for bids in Sept. 1965. However, the total bids were so much over the estimate that the bids were not accepted.

NEW PLANS were drawn and the bids let out in the spring. In June the following firms were successful bidders for construction:

Thoughts of a Clergyman

The Changing Ministry

By THE REV. RUDOLPH P. KORN
Assistant pastor at St. Martin's Lutheran Church
"I AM THE LORD, I CHANGE NOT," MAL. 3:6.

Many changes in industry, commerce, sciences, communication, transportation, and social upheavals have been seen in the past 10 decades. These have affected every walk of life.

At the turn of the century, to have suggested that men would be traveling generally by "horseless buggy" or through the air, and that both sound and pictures might be transmitted by radio and television, or that there would be walking in space and voices to be heard from space, would have been to invite a sanity test. I recall an elderly person saying, when she listened to a radio for the first time, that the devil was in that machine.

AMID THESE changes in an everchanging world many also have taken place in our church circles, some to good advantage, others contrariwise. The trend of our time and age is to conform to present day conditions also in the ministry of the church. An old slogan: "When in Rome do as the Romans do," cannot be made applicable to doctrine and church activities.

It is true that there are more activities in our church and congregational life than about six decades ago when I entered the Holy ministry. Take a look, for instance, at the weekly church announcements in the Winona Daily News. Where the pastors' work was confined principally to the preparation of preaching for services, the calling on sick and shut-ins, teaching information classes, they today have hardly an evening to spend with their families, especially in a large parish. Not that these meetings are not necessary, although sometimes overdone. But it shows what a great change has taken place in the requirements of a present day pastor if he would be faithful to his trust.

ANOTHER CHANGE through the years is in transportation. In grandpa's time members and pastors walked, or used horse and buggy, lumber wagons or buckboards, others even came on horseback to attend divine services. My father, an itinerant missionary in upper Michigan, who served about 18 mission stations, had to walk. He even rode with the section boss when no train connections were available to meet his appointments. And yet, people were more regular in church attendance in these "horse and buggy" days than today where transportation is no object.

We might note another change, and that is in the spreading of the Gospel—the radio, television, tape-recording of services, to reach the sick and housebound, and to bring Christ to the nations in a sin-sick and troubled world. Only eternity will reveal how many souls have been won for Christ through these media.

As useful and necessary as many of the above named and other changes have been in the church's ministry, we must at all times be alert not to use this, our Christian liberty, in making changes to accommodate present day conditions for a "cloak of maliciousness, but as servants of God." (1 Pet. 2:16).

"All things are lawful for me," said Saint Paul, "but all things are not expedient; all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not." (1 Cor. 10:23).

Christ's commission to His Church and to all faithful ministers of the Gospel and stewards of the mysteries of God is: "Preach the Word, be instant in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine." (2 Tim. 4:2-5).

SAINT PAUL said: "Be ye not conformed to this world." (Rom. 12:2). This does not only apply to our moral life, but also to the proclaiming of the Gospel. Jesus prays in His high priestly prayer: "I pray not that Thou shouldst take them (the believers) out of the world, but that Thou shouldst keep them from evil."

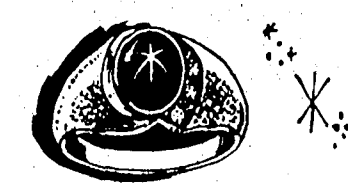

Christians are in this world, but not of this world. The Church is not to meet the world halfway, not to compromise with the world to gain favor and popularity in this world.

There are movements today advocating changes in church practices, to erase all differences of doctrine and Christian practice, to do away with "outmoded doctrines and practices," and to substitute a social Gospel for the everlasting, unchangeable Gospel of Jesus Christ and Him crucified.

The Bible tells us: "Whatsoever ye do in word and deed, do it all to the glory of God," and, "Let all things be done decently and in order."

May our motto at all times be: "An unchanged Gospel in an everchanging world!"

NFO Delegates Approve Milk Holding Action

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The National Farmers Organization ended its convention Thursday night, some hours after delegates had ordered their board of directors to "immediately initiate steps to prepare for a milk holding action" as a means of increasing farm prices.

Organization officials said preparation would take at least a month in the 25 states where it is organized and has a substantial membership.

Some 8,000 delegates cheered when a standing vote was taken on a resolution urging "all members to hold their production on the farm, and nonmembers to join NFO and hold to achieve these goals" of higher prices for producers.

The NFO goal is $5.05 a hundred pounds for milk for bottling, about 11 and a half cents a quart. Farmers now get less than 10 cents a quart.

Mrs. Paul West of Denver, Wis., leader of a consumer revolt, told the convention her group did not blame the farmers for higher food prices. "If you hold your milk, make sure babies and hospitals are supplied," she said.

During discussion preceding the vote, Mrs. Andrew Beetz of rural Batesville, Ind., said, "If babies cry long enough and loud enough, the dairy farmer would soon get his $5.05."

Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., was re-elected by acclamation to a 12th term as NFO president.

Sens. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., and Walter Mondale, D-Minn., and Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., addressed the convention and agreed the farmer is not getting enough return for his efforts.

Mondale said the "jury is still out" on whether the farmer "is going to be denied a decent share in the American prosperity."

States where the NFO claims a substantial membership are: Arkansas, Idaho, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Kentucky, Florida, New York, New Jersey, Georgia, Nebraska, Wyoming, Oklahoma and West Virginia.

France Faces Test on Giving Aid to NATO

PARIS (AP) — France's intentions toward political cooperation with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will be put to a sharp test next week.

President Charles de Gaulle, in cutting most of his ties with the military side of NATO, continued to keep a full-fledged representative in the political council.

Just how much cooperation on political matters the NATO allies can expect should become reasonably clear during the annual ministerial meeting of the alliance starting Wednesday.

The meeting is expected to produce a major report on what the alliance plans to do about East-West relations. Members of the NATO Permanent Council were instructed at a June ministerial meeting in Brussels, Belgium, to prepare the report for this meeting.

France has shown hesitancy in spades on the report, expressing doubt whether NATO should play any role in the matter.

If Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville fails to endorse the report, or bows out of discussion of it, it would indicate that France's attitude toward NATO as even a purely political body has grown extremely negative.

NATO has devised a mechanism to permit France to participate in political activities while remaining out of military discussions. Her 14 partners have set up a defense planning committee that handles about four-fifths of NATO's vital business as a defensive machine. This committee meets the first day of the ministerial session. The two following days will be devoted to political discussions.

LBj Flying Back to Capital Today

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson flies back to Washington today for a round of budget conferences and such official engagements as the lighting of the national Christmas tree.

Johnson scheduled a morning departure from Bergstrom Air Force Base here. He flies to Bergstrom, to board his big jet transport, from the LBJ Ranch 65 miles to the west.

The President flew to Texas Nov. 19 and spent the intervening 19 days mixing official business with rest and relaxation following his Nov. 16 throat and abdominal operation.

George Christian, a presidential aide, said Johnson wanted preliminary work completed on the new budgets of five departments and agencies in time for White House conferences Saturday. The five are the State and Treasury Departments, the United States Information Agency, the General Services Administration and the Veterans Administration.

The White House has said Johnson will remain in Washington several days. Then he'll return to the ranch for the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

Singing Carols in Schools May Violate the Law

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union of Greater Cleveland says singing Christmas carols in public schools may be a violation of the principle of separation of church and state.

In a letter sent to school principals last week, the ACLU said:

"It would appear logically inevitable to conclude that all forms of Christmas celebration in the public schools are in some degree a violation."

"Many of the most important Christmas carols are highly regarded precisely because of their profound religious message. Displays and pageants of the nativity scene are similarly definite expressions of faith."

The letter, signed by Chairman Bernard A. Berkman, also said symbols of the Jewish Hanukkah as well as Christian symbols are "not materially different from other forms of prayer in the schools" and therefore "constitutionally forbidden."

The ACLU conceded, however, that Christmas music can have "musical importance or secular cultural significance" that justifies its inclusion in music recitals.

State Wins In Overtime

ONE FOR THE WARRIORS... Loras held a 49-39 edge in the rebound department Thursday night in its game with Winona State, but this was one that Winona collared as Jacques Gibbs (40) out-duels Loras' Tom Gindorff (43) for the ball. Despite the deficit in rebounding, Winona State won 79-77 in overtime. (Daily News Sports photo)

In baseball there is a saying: The good teams win the one-run ball games.

Winona State is becoming a wizard at winning "one-run" games on the basketball court.

THE WARRIORS put their ability on display Thursday night at Memorial Hall and nipped rugged Loras College of Dubuque, Iowa, 79-77 in an overtime hair-raiser.

The Statesmen suffered through a miserable shooting night, hitting only 35 percent from the field, but pressure defense and a never-say-die attitude enabled Winona to tuck away its fifth consecutive victory after a season-opening loss.

"Five in a row. I don't believe," chortled Winona State coach Ron Ekker, obviously wilted from the excitement of the final minutes. What strategy did he use down the stretch? "I just hung onto my seat," he chuckled.

"Actually we looked good in everything except putting the ball in the hoop," the first-year coach continued. "We gave them a few easy buckets, but that's the nature of our defense. We try to force them into mistakes and once in awhile we get beat."

THE DEFENSE paid off. Loras was forced into 25 mechanical turnovers compared to only 12 for the Warriors.

"The whole team felt pressure," said senior forward Tim Anderson. "We were trying to look good in front of the home crowd after that good road trip. And their defense was tough, too."

Anderson suffered through one of his poorer shooting nights, finishing with only 10 points, but he was one of the keys in the Winona defense, holding husky Loras center Terry Conlon to only eight points.

And though the entire team was under pressure, it came directly to bear on the shoulders of: First Rick Starzecki, then Dave Meisner and finally Mark Wilke.

LORAS, displaying a powerful bench, had fought back from an eight-point halftime deficit to go in front 69-68 with 1:43 to play on reserve guard Jeff Gaden's short jumper.

Mike Jerecek missed a free throw that would have tied the game at the 1:10 mark, but a rash of miscues and missed shots gave both teams several opportunities to tuck it away.

With 48 seconds to play Winona gained possession of the ball and worked for one shot. Meisner had an attempt blocked, but Starzecki snared the loose ball, checked the clock and then drove for the baseline. His shot dropped through with five seconds left, but the referee ruled he had been fouled before the shot. Starzecki stepped to the foul line and quickly dropped in the tying shot. His second was missed and Jerecek narrowly missed tipping it in and the two teams went into overtime.

"All I wanted it to do was go in," grinned Starzecki after the game. "I didn't take much time up there because then I would have started to think about it and I would have been dead."

Meisner was next in line under the pressure lid. Held to 19 points in the regulation by a fine Loras defensive effort, the 5-8 guard canned a long jumper and two free throws to offset a Loras bucket and put Winona ahead 73-71 with 3:45 to play.

ANOTHER DuHawk bucket by Gaden tied it, but Meisner hit from the corner to make it 75-73. Then a driving layup by Rex Hester and two charity shots by Gaden gave Loras the lead again at 77-75 with 1:26 to play.

Then Meisner, the master of the impossible, drove into the jammed middle, tossed up an off balance jump shot and was backed by Tom Gindorff. The ball bounced tantalizingly around the rim and finally dropped through in unison with the roar of the crowd. His charity shot, giving him nine points in the overtime, returned the lead to the Warriors at 78-77.

Loras missed its chance to retaliate from the free throw line when Chuck Von Feldt missed, and Winona retained possession until only eight seconds showed on the clock. Then it was Wilke's turn.

The freshman forward was fouled, arched his free throw shot high in the air and watched it drop through to give Winona a two-point lead, assuring at least a tie. His second missed and Conlon drove the length of the court in an effort to make the tying bucket. His layup and a subsequent tip by Chuck Riney both went astray and Jerecek collared the ball as the horn sounded.

IF THE mark of a good team is winning the close ones, Winona State is rapidly becoming one of the best.

Meisner finished with 28 on a "poor" night to lead all scorers. Jerecek had 20 and Wilke and Anderson 10 apiece.

Hajec fired in 18 to top Loras before fouling out with 3:17 to play in the regulation. Fourteen of his points came in the DuHawks' second half comeback. Gaden finished with 12, and another reserve, Doug Shinkunas, had 10.

Saturday night the Warriors travel to Wayne, Neb., for a game with Wayne State.

State Grapplers Face Bloomsburg, Purdue Saturday

Last year Bloomsburg (Pa.) College was ranked second in NAIA wrestling circles. Indiana State was ranked third. Purdue, of course, is a member of the Big Ten.

These three teams will provide the foes Saturday for Winona State as the Warriors open their regular season with a triple-dual meet at Terry Haute, Ind.

What would Winona State coach Bob Gunner be satisfied with? "Three wins," says the coach who has led Winona State to its greatest wrestling heights.

Three victories will be a big job, but not by any means out of the question for the Warriors. Last year WSC was ranked sixth in the NAIA and eight of the 11 wrestlers which will compete Saturday were regulars on that team.

"It should be a toss-up all the way around," said Gunner. "I know Indiana State and Bloomsburg will be strong, and Purdue has a different style of wrestling than we are used to."

Winona State will open against Bloomsburg at 1 p.m., followed by Indiana State at 2:30 p.m. Then at 7 p.m. Purdue will be the opponent.

Although Winona has a veteran lineup, it includes only two seniors and two juniors.

All but Bagniewski, Pomeroy and Moen were regulars last year.

Although three victories is a big task in a meet where Gunner says the Warriors will meet "by far our toughest competition of the year," Winona State needs those three triumphs if it is to improve on last year's 19-1 dual meet record.

Also on dual Saturday is a swimming meet which sends Winona High School to Eau Claire north.

REDMEN SEEK SECOND WIN

Hamline, St. Mary's Face Off At Aldrich

Does warm weather in December, rain instead of snow and ice bother you? It does if you are a hockey player and have to depend heavily on Mother Nature to provide an ice sheet for practice sessions.

Rain and 40-degree readings aren't conducive to producing ice, so the Redmen hockey team will again have to overcome the disadvantage of fewer practice sessions than their Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference foes.

Tonight it's Hamline, at Aldrich Arena, St. Paul, at 9 o'clock.

Coach Tim McNeill's icemen will carry a 1-0 record onto the ice at Aldrich after handling Augsburg in fine fashion Wednesday in the season opener, 2-1.

Lack of ice time made some difference. There is little doubt that the Redmen were better skaters and puck handlers than the Auggies, but Augsburg had much more ice time and several games under their belt.

Had St. Mary's been able to play two or three non-conference games, they would undoubtedly have scored at least three more goals.

This is not to say that McNeill's charges didn't skate well. They did. They controlled the puck through much of the game, connecting with crisp passing and getting off more shots than the Auggies.

However, lack of ice time did hamper them. Several sure goals were missed by overskating the puck, or losing of balance at the critical moment.

McNeill had high hopes of a session at Terrace Heights Thursday, but rain and warmer temperatures threatened chances of this.

Hamline will be the Redmen's second MIAC foe in as many games. Then there is a long layoff for finals and the Christmas holidays. After the holidays, the Redmen travel to Madison for a two-game series with the Badgers of Wisconsin.

First home game is set for January 11, against Gustavus Adolphus.

In other sports action tonight, the Winhawks tangle with Mankato on three fronts. Coach John Kerney and his Hawk cagers take their 4-0 record to Kato, and the wrestlers and swimmers entertain Mankato at Winona High School.

Hope Walk-ons Here To Stay

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed says he hopes the day of the walk-on athlete is here to stay.

He disclosed Thursday, as the conference prepared finishing touches on a calm, routine winter business meeting, that there were 41 walk-ons in football and 16 of them made the squads.

A walk-on is a boy who reports on his own initiative for the squad.

"They are fellows who just want to play but are overlooked in recruiting — they think they have something to offer," said Reed.

back, Bill Melzer, also was a walk-on.

Others prominent in this category were halfback Barry Crees, Iowa's kickoff runback expert, and Ohio State end Billy Anders.

"The number of walk-ons is exceptional," said Reed. "You have to go back 20 years, before the time of intensive recruiting, to find a like number. Coaches, of course, are always crying for players and more than every they like to give everyone a chance to make the squad."

Expanded conference baseball competition from 15 to 18 games. Threw out ties in the standings instead of counting them 1/2 game won and 1/2 game lost. Required a minimum of nine games to qualify for the title. Made the possibility of playing Sunday games in case of rainouts on the usual Friday-Saturday playing dates.

Endorsed freshman intercollegiate competition in all sports at a non-varsity level for a two-year period. This includes football, which was installed this season with two games granted for each university in November. The new program, effective around Feb. 1, will include three games in basketball; three playing dates for baseball; three meetings for hockey, soccer, lacrosse and crew; and two meets each for cross country, fencing, gymnastics, golf, swimming, wrestling and track.

Dave Osborn Back in Vike Starter List

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Dave Osborn will return to starting duty at halfback for the Minnesota Vikings Sunday at Detroit.

The former University of North Dakota star will replace rookie Jim Lindsey, Osborn and Lindsey have alternated at the position since Tommy Mason was sidelined with an injury seven weeks ago.

Coach Norm Van Brocklin also disclosed Thursday that Larry Bowie will start at right guard in place of rookie Jim Vellone, who has an injured shoulder, and Archie Sutton will replace rookie Doug Davis, who has a bad back, at right tackle.

Defensively, Don Hansen will move into Lonnie Warwick's position at middle linebacker, and recently reactivated John Kirby will replace Hansen at outside linebacker. Warwick, who has a muscle spasm in his back, has been placed on the injured reserve list.

Because of heavy snow, the Vikings worked out in the Hippodrome at the state fairgrounds Thursday.

English Tennis Players Told to Control Tempers

LONDON (AP) — English tennis players stood warned today to keep their tempers on the court or take up another sport.

Judge Carl Aarvold, president of the English Lawn Tennis Association, told the association's annual meeting Thursday:

"Players must realize that ugly scenes are neither effective nor amusing. If they want to get their teeth into other players or officials they had better take up another game."

Final Game for Grid Referee Cain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Thirty years of football officiating for James Cain ends Dec. 31 when the Seattle insurance man referees the Shrine East-West game.

This will be the ninth East-West contest for Cain, who has announced his retirement. He has twice officiated in the Rose Bowl and played there for Washington in 1937.

Cain's announcement was made Thursday.

Bossons Quits As Minnesota Defensive Coach

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota football Coach Murray Warmath began the task of finding a new defensive coach today after Bob Bossons, Warmath's top aide the past eight years, resigned Thursday to take a similar post at Rice Institute in Houston, Tex.

It is the fourth time in the past 18 months that Warmath has had to go in search of a new assistant. "Joe Salem quit last year to become head coach at the University of South Dakota, and Dick Larson and Bob Delaney resigned before that to go into private business."

Warmath said he would have to start from scratch in looking for a new assistant because Bossons' resignation caught him by surprise.

Bossons said his departure was prompted almost exclusively by a desire to be reunited with a long-time friend, Harold (Bo) Hagan, the new Rice head coach.

"Bo has been my best friend ever since we played against each other in college," said Bossons, 40. "I was honored at being offered the job by my best friend after he made the big time as a head coach."

Bossons also said he left with mixed emotions because, "I respect Murray Warmath more than any man I know. I want to emphasize how wonderful all the people in Minnesota have been to me."

Warmath said he regretted Bossons' leaving.

Favorite Yankee Trade Mart—National League

NEW YORK (AP) — Lee MacPhail, working feverishly over the shattered New York Yankees, continues to operate at his favorite market place — the National League.

The new Yankee general manager shipped Roger Maris and his $75,000 salary tag to St. Louis for third baseman Charley Smith Thursday.

It was MacPhail's second deal since being hired to help rebuild the Yankees, who finished the 1966 season mired in the American League cellar for the first time in 42 years. Ten days ago he swapped third baseman Cleo Boyer to Atlanta for outfielder Bill Robinson.

It was MacPhail, then working for Baltimore, who engineered the biggest inter-league trade of 1965 when he dealt three players to Cincinnati for Frank Robinson.

MacPhail can hardly expect the same kind of instant success for the Maris swap that Robinson brought to Baltimore. Smith is a journeyman third baseman who carries a lifetime batting average of .243.

It was an open secret that the Yankees were ready to unload Maris, who only five years ago broke Babe Ruth's record for home runs when he hit 61 in a 162-game season.

"I wasn't at all surprised," the slugging outfielder said after being told of the deal. "I rather expected it. In fact, I expected to be traded ever since 1962."

Smith, who has played for the Los Angeles Dodgers, Philadelphia Phillies, Chicago White Sox and New York Mets as well as St. Louis, wasn't nearly as composed.

"I'll be damned," he exclaimed.

Maris, twice chosen the American League's Most Valuable Player, dominated baseball in 1961 with his blistering home run pace.

After his record-shattering season, he rocketed into baseball's higher salary class but his production slipped noticeably. He hit 33 homers in 1962, 23 in 1963 and 26 in 1964.

He was crippled by injuries through most of 1965, appearing in just 46 games and hitting only eight homers. He underwent surgery for the removal of bone chips at the base of his right hand after the season and played in 119 games last season, managing only 13 homers.

Badger Talent Hunt to End In Madison?

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The University of Wisconsin chooses a new head football coach today amid speculation that its nationwide talent hunt will end where it began — on the Madison campus.

Badger defensive coach John Coatta, 36, a former star Wisconsin quarterback, was considered a prime candidate for the vacant post after a list of nine announced finalists to succeed Milt Bruhn had been reduced to seven.

Two of the finalists asked Thursday that their names be withdrawn from consideration. The decision by John Ray,

Odell said Thursday he had not been contacted about the job. Coatta declined comment, except to say he had heard "nothing officially." When told of one report that the job was his, he said, "I hope you are right."

The athletic board voted on a successor to Bruhn Tuesday night. Its choice, or choices, was kept secret until it could be ratified by the university's board of regents this afternoon in Milwaukee.

The vacancy was created when Bruhn resigned near the end of a third straight losing season.

Wisconsin interviewed all members of Bruhn's staff about the job but also considered scores of candidates from around the country.

The candidates were finally narrowed to nine at the time of the athletic board's vote.

Besides Coatta, Odell, Ray and Schembechler, other finalists were head coaches Mike Lude of Colorado State and Frank Navarro of Williams College and assistants Buck McPhail of Illinois, Don White of Washington and Mike McGee of Wisconsin.

Coatta, who set Big Ten passing records in the early 1950s, was an assistant at Florida State for six years before joining Bruhn's staff as offensive coach in January of 1965. He switched to defensive work last fall.

Dick Niemeyer's 654 Tops Thursday Bowling

A rash of 600 counts topped by Dick Niemeyer's 654, highlighted bowling action on the city scene Thursday night.

Niemeyer, firing away for Ruth's Restaurant in the Classic League at Westgate Bowl, opened with a 252 game and then came back with games of 188 and 214 for his big, errorless series.

Fred Huff also had a 600 for Ruth's stringing games of 224-194-108 for a 616. Jerry Dureske blasted 212-221-202-635 for Hot Fish Shop, and Ray Pozanc tagged 224-188-192 for 604 for Pozanc Trucking.

Although it lacked an honor count, Clark & Clark Insurance grabbed team honors with 1,021-2,692.

Willard Critchfield had a 548 errorless.

Another 600 came from the Eagles League at Hal-Rod Lanes where John Sherman slammed a 621 on games of 229-213-178. Bud Schaefer, a 137 average bowler, socked 247 for Mankato Bar to earn an ABC century patch.

Eagles Club tagged 1,042, and Betsinger Tailor's slammed 2,880. Art Moore narrowly missed another honor count, setting for a 599 with games of 209-179-211.

The only top ten count of the night came in the women's team series division, the fourth shakeup in that division in four days.

Winona Insurance of the Powder Puff League at Hal-Rod was the culprit this time, smashing a 2,724 for fourth place on the season's listings. The big series was built around a 951 game.

Mary Emmons had 210-554 for Linahan's Inn. Helen Nelson slapped 542, Evelyn Frie 521 and Marge Moravec 513.

Helen Solke powered 221-535 to lead the way in the Ladies League at the Winona Athletic Club. Helen was blazing away for Hot Fish Shop, but Winona Knitters took team honors of 886-2,531 behind Marie Kiedrowski's 510.

Goldie Mueller converted the 4-7-8-10 split, Elaine Rinn the 2-7-10 and Jean Kauphusman the 3-7.

ATHLETIC CLUB: Polly Meadows creamed 974-2,624 to take group laurels in the Knights of Columbus circuit. Don Pellowski had 574 for Weaver & Sons, while Bob Heer had 212 for Culligans.

WESTGATE: In the Action League Steve Finch hit 581 and Harry Putnam 230, both for Putnam's, but Lang's totaled 1,029-2,958.

Karrol Wenzel's 500 sparked Williams Annex to 2,603 in the Pin Drops loop. Sportsman's Tap had 942 and Dort Palubicki hit 212 for Culligan.

Winona Truck Leasing recorded 2,527 behind Elaine Thode's 465 in the Keglerette League. Judy Fetting had 181 for Shakey's Pizza, and Hardt's Music lined 890.

HAL-ROD: Nobody managed to corner more than one of the top counts in the WSC Greek League. Laura Shottmuller had 150 for Alpha Xi Delta, and Kathy Kenney dumped 366 for Delta Zeta to top the girls.

Chuck Skladar tipped 200 for Nads, and Jay Benson rapped 513 for Sig Tau Gamma on the boys' side. Alpha Xi Pledges rocked 911, and Sig Tau Pledges No. 2 had 2,638.

REDMEN: Grace Burley had 189-473 for Leicht Press, but Merchant's Bank took team honors in the Ladies League with 631-2,395.

Hansard and Company Wallop Redmen 80-54

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Dan Hansard and his four Lilliputians from the College of St. Thomas coasted to an 80-54 basketball victory against St. Mary's College Thursday night.

It was the MIAC opener for both teams. The Toms remain undefeated in four starts this season and have won their last 17 conference starts. The Redmen will take a 1-3 slide into the St. Ambrose (Davenport, Iowa) Christmas Tournament Dec. 29-30, their next engagement.

THE 6-9 HANSARD counted nearly 40 percent of his team's points Thursday night. He bucketed 15 field goals for 30 markers and dominated the defensive backboards for the Toms.

Hansard hit five consecutive shots in the first few minutes of the second half which opened up the game for the home team. Behind his quick buckets, St. Thomas transformed a nine-point first half lead into a 49-35 spread with 6:50 gone in the second half.

The Toms connected on 54 percent of their field goals as a team. St. Mary's had 22-59 for 36 percent.

After Hansard, the St. Thomas scoring attack was well balanced. Mark Miller and Fred Korba connected for 14 and 12 points, respectively, and Nick Lapentti and Jack Anderson each made eight.

JIM BUFFO was high for the Redmen with 14. His co-captain backcourt mate Jerry Sausser contributed 13, and the team's leading scorer, Tom Keenan, was limited to 10 points through a tight defensive effort by Miller.

"I can't really tell how good their team actually is," Redmen coach Ken Wiltgen remarked of St. Thomas, "because we, ourselves, played so poorly."

"The boys just didn't have confidence in their potential, and didn't work for the good shot all night. We had plenty of chances to make a game of it."

Both teams traded points for the first six minutes. With St. Mary's leading 5-4, the Tommies shot ahead with eight field goals — Miller getting three and Hansard and Anderson each two — to only one for the Redmen.

IN THE SECOND portion of the first half Wiltgen's charges shaved this commanding 20-7 lead to a less secure 32-24 Tommie advancetage. During a four-minute span the Redmen outscored their hosts 11-2, Sausser getting four points in the spree and Keenan three.

For the first two minutes of the second half the Redmen threw a brief scare into St. Thomas with three quick baskets to narrow the score to 38-33. But the next barrage, via Hansard, put the Redmen out of the running.

With six minutes left the score read 68-48 as both coaches began substituting freely.

BALTIMORE SMARTING FROM LAST YEAR

Packers Seek Western Title Clincher Saturday

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Unitas and the Baltimore Colts, ranked by four straight defeats by Green Bay, are primed for one big shoot-the-works effort Saturday against the favored Packers, who can clinch the Western Conference title of the National Football League with a win or tie.

Green Bay, which has been working out all week in seclusion in Galtersburg, Md., is in the driver's seat with a two-game lead and two games to play.

Bart Starr has been having a fantastic year with his pinpoint passing and low interception percentage. Unitas, the old master, has been having trouble with a sore shoulder and is off his usual super pace. But John usually rises to the occasion.

The long-awaited rematch will be beamed across the nation on network (CBS) television, starting at 3:15 p.m., EST.

The Colts squirmed all winter after losing that sudden death playoff game at Green Bay, complaining that Don Chandler's controversial field goal that tied the score was not good. A recent television film was cited as evidence in their favor.

Green Bay has been sitting back quietly, having cashed their 1965 winning checks long ago, but there is evidence that the Colts' complaints have not gone unnoticed in Packerland. The leather will be popping Saturday.

Baltimore psyched up so high for the first game with the Packers, Sept. 10 that it was almost a crusade. The bottom fell out for the Colts when Leroy Caffey and Bob Jeter intercepted passes by Unitas and ran them back for touchdowns on the way to a decisive 24-3 victory.

Elijah Pitts took over from Paul Hornung when the Golden Boy suffered a pinched nerve in his neck and has become a regular. Hornung, who scored five touchdowns against the Colts at this same time last year, has been used sparingly.

Many think Lombardi will take the covers off Paul on Saturday. Dependable Jim Taylor still is the bread-and-butter runner.

Green Bay is favored because the Packers, despite the long ball punch of Baltimore's Unitas, have outscored the Colts 294-274 and, more important, have allowed only 130 points to 188 against the Colts. Both teams have a good pass rush and the ability of their respective offensive lines to nullify that rush, probably will decide the battle.

Unusually mild weather has settled over Baltimore with the temperatures in the 60s or even higher. It is supposed to cool off by Saturday with a chance of showers.

The Green Bay - Baltimore game is Saturday's only pro football action. The rest of the National League and the American League swing into action Sunday.

St. Louis, trailing first-place Dallas by one game in the Eastern race with two remaining, plays at Atlanta while the Cowboys entertain Washington. Both the Cardinals and Dallas are heavy favorites. Elsewhere, Pittsburgh visits New York, Minnesota is at Detroit, Cleveland plays at Philadelphia and San Francisco hosts Chicago.

Langs, Mankato Bar Win Indoor Softball Games

Langs and Mankato Bar both posted their second consecutive victories in the Park Rec Indoor Softball League Thursday night.

Lang's thumped Peerless Chain 5-1, while Mankato Bar bested Hof Brau 2-1. Oasis evened its record by nipping Main Tavern 1-0.

Pete Jerowski fired a one-hitter in Mankato Bar's triumph. Kiki Williamson got the lone Hof Brau hit, while Tom Kosidowski, Ed Jerowski and Roger Munson got the three hits off loser Dave Lundak.

Tom Kulas fanned nine, walked five and gave up four hits in Lang's win. Jim Yahnke had two of the Peerless Chain hits. Loser Jim Holmay gave up eight hits, two each to Jim Gunn, Bill Meyer and Henry Gerth.

A three-hit, 13-strikeout performance by Tom May gave Oasis its first triumph. Gene Gorny's single, second of two hits for him, a fielder's choice and May's single in the sixth gave Oasis the only run of the game. Jim Winstorfer had two hits for Main Tavern.

Fuzzy Thurston Out for Game With Baltimore

GAITHERSBURG, Md. (AP) — Offensive guard Fuzzy Thurston will not play Saturday against the Baltimore Colts because of an ankle injury, Coach Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers said Thursday.

Thurston re-injured his ankle Sunday in a 20-7 victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

He will be replaced by Gale Gillingham, a rookie bonus player from Minnesota.

The Packers are working out here prior to the critical National Football League game.

Liberty Bowl Tops Saturday College Action

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Virginia Tech has faced one bad weather condition after another in preparing for Saturday's eighth annual Liberty Bowl football game here.

First, there were cold temperatures in Blacksburg, Va.; then rain here Thursday forced the team to practice inside. Saturday, it will be the Hurricanes of Miami.

Both teams plan brief workouts today.

Miami, carries a 7-2-1 record into the game, but is especially proud of having beaten three other bowl bound teams — Georgia (Cotton), 7-4; Southern California (Rose) 10-7, and Florida (Orange), 21-16.

Tech has an explosive offense and Miami's defense was ranked fifth among the nation's major colleges.

Miami quarterbacks Bill Miller and David Olivo passed for 1,506 yards this season, and 225-pound end Jim Cox caught 41 passes.

The Liberty Bowl is being staged for the second straight year in the oval shaped Memphis Memorial Stadium, and officials expect a crowd of more than 40,000.

Six smaller bowl games also are scheduled Saturday, topped by the clash between San Diego State and Montana State in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif. at 4:15 p.m., EST.

San Diego State, ranked No. 1 in the final Associated Press small college poll, enters the game with a 10-0 mark. Montana State, ranked third, is 8-2.

The game is one of four NCAA college division quarter-final round playoff games to be televised regionally by ABC.

The others match Tennessee State, No. 2, against Muskegon, No. 7, in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Murfreesboro, Tenn. Parsons, No. 5, against

Profit-Taking Cuts Into Week's Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market backed away from recent gains in mild pre-weekend profit-taking early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Prices held on about an even keel in early morning then began to weaken as some large blocks changed hands, most of them at lower prices.

Airlines, other glamor stocks, some of the chemicals and oils were among the losers. Drugs, building materials, some aerospace issues and a selection of rails and autos bucked the trend.

A big feature of the day was delayed opening in Norton Co. which rose 4 1/2 to 46 1/2 on a block of 45,000 shares. It climbed to 47 in later dealings. The Worcester, Mass. firm soared 13 1/2 to 42 1/2 Thursday on news that it had developed an inexpensive method of putting sound tracks on home movies.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down .7 to 285.9 with industrials off 1.6, rails unchanged and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.39 at 810.41.

Evidence that the Federal Reserve Board is loosening the tight credit reins was a bullish factor but many of the basic economic uncertainties still remained in the background.

IBM lost 3, Du Pont 2, Eastman Kodak and Polaroid about 1 1/2 each.

Losses exceeding a point were taken by American Airlines and Horstake. United Aircraft, Union Carbide and Xerox dropped about a point each.

Douglas Aircraft spurted 3 points, Pfizer and Merck were up a point each.

Prices were irregularly higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Christiansen Leading in WCHA Scores

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Dakota may be leading the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, but Minnesota-Duluth and Minnesota have most of the league's top scorers after two weeks of play.

Duluth's Keith Christiansen leads the WCHA in scoring with 11 points on two goals and nine assists, while Bob Lundberg of Colorado College is second with 10 points on five goals and five assists.

Then come Mike Crupt of Minnesota—with eight points and Jack Dale of the Gophers, Pat Francisco of UMD and Tom Dunn of North Dakota, all tied with seven. Rob Shattuck of Minnesota and Tom Morzik of Duluth are tied for seventh, each with six points.

North Dakota leads the WCHA with a 4-0 record, and one of the big reasons is goalie Mike Curran, currently the league's top net tender. Curran has allowed only 10 goals in five games and has made 112 saves.
