Snow, Sleet, Freezing Rain Lash Southeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A growing storm lashed the East and Southeast with snow, sleet, freezing rain and gale-force winds today.

Two inches of snow fell in the early morning at Bluefield, W. Va., and Roanoke, Va. The Weather Bureau's hazardous-driving warnings said this mountainous area may get several inches by tonight.

The warnings prompted by snow or freezing rain also covered Delaware, Maryland and parts of North Carolina, Tennessee and Pennsylvania.

Gale warnings were in effect along the Atlantic Coast from Charleston, S.C., to the Virginia Capes, where winds already were 32 to 45 knots.

A similar storm battered the northern Pacific Coast and carried snow flurries into the northern Rockies. Gale warnings there covered the coast northward from Cape Mendocino, Calif. More than two inches of rain had fallen at Seattle since Monday morning.

Down the nation's middle, persisting cold dropped the temperatures into the teens this morning, with an 18 at Fort Worth, Tex. Part of the Rio Grande Valley had a morning freeze.

Below-zero readings included -3 at Roosevelt and Vernal in Utah and -4 at Craig, Colo.

Aitkin Mother, 3 Children Die Crossing Tracks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A freight train smashed into a car at a rural crossing late Monday, fatally injuring three rural Aitkin, Minn., children, and their mother, who was taking them home from school.

In another accident, a Minneapolis youth watched as his brother was killed by a hit-run car Monday night.

Victims of the car-train crash were Mrs. Arnold Hansen; two sons, Timothy and Anthony, and a daughter, Mary Susan.

The mother and two sons died when the Northern Pacific freight, bound for Duluth, smashed into the car about 5 p.m. Their ages were not known immediately, but the boys were reported to be in elementary school.

Mary Susan, 10, died about six hours later in an Aitkin hospital.

The accident happened just west of Aitkin.

Douglas Hallbeck, 16, of 918 E. 28th St., Minneapolis, was killed by a hit-run car, police said, as his brother Ted, 21, watched from the apartment they shared.

Officers said blood-spattered glass from the car's windshield was found at the scene. The boy was crossing the street when hit.

A 19-year-old witness told police he chased the death car in his own and recorded its license number. Police were investigating.

The deaths raised Minnesota's 1966 highway toll to 903, compared with the record of 877 for all of last year.

Ike Snapping Back Fast From Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, reported snapping back fast from his gallbladder operation, has his sights set on swinging his golf clubs by early spring.

"Quite satisfactory" was the latest word from Walter Reed Army Hospital on the 76-year-old five-star general's condition after his one and three-quarter hour operation Monday morning.

"Multiple large and small gallstones were in the gallbladder which was removed," said the bulletin issued shortly after 5 p.m. Monday. These were the stones which Eisenhower jokingly had referred to as "rocks."

The former first lady, Mamie, was staying near her husband in the executive suite at the hospital. The luxurious accommodations, otherwise known as the presidential suite, include bedrooms, a sitting room and a solarium.

An operation 10 years ago in the same hospital for ileitis, a constriction of the intestine, plus two major heart attacks and a minor cerebral stroke in the patient's history, made the doctors particularly watchful.

When the general was wheeled back to his suite Mrs. Eisenhower, son John and brother Milton were waiting. The general smiled at his wife, said Brig. Gen. Philip W. Maloney, commanding general of the hospital.

The late afternoon bulletin outlined Eisenhower's plans after his hospital stay, which could last 10 days or two weeks.

Holiday Season

Taffy Tuttle suspects the holiday season is approaching. Her janitor came up to fix the faucet—and it wasn't even leaking. . . . A local housewife complained about her plush new glass-walled home: "No matter where I sit, I can see things that have to be done." . . . When you're thinking that the grass looks greener on the other side of the fence (says the cynic) remember that the water bill is bigger, too.

Planes Busy Over North Viet Targets

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—U.S. B52 Stratofortresses unloaded a cascade of bombs on an enemy base close to Saigon today, and the Viet Cong retaliated with an outbreak of grenade throwing in the capital and near it.

Although more than 1,000 South Vietnamese troops pushed a search-and-destroy mission in the Mekong Delta 105 miles south of Saigon, ground fighting across the country dwindled and only light skirmishes were reported.

U.S. planes Monday had their busiest day over North Vietnam in weeks, flying 99 bombing missions or 300 to 350 individual strikes. This was still well below the average of 150 missions flown daily before the monsoon storms moved north.

In one of the missions two all-weather Navy Intruders from the carrier Kitty Hawk struck only five miles from Haiphong, North Vietnam's main port. The jet bombers made radar precision runs on a missile assembly installation, and one of the pilots said the explosions "looked like flashbulbs in the night."

Reds Say Four U.S. Jets Felled

TOKYO (AP)—Radio Hanoi said U.S. jet planes attacked suburbs and residential areas of Hanoi today and that North Vietnamese forces, in the capital area shot down four of them. It said pilots of the planes were taken prisoner.

There was no confirmation of this from U.S. officials in Saigon.

The broadcast monitored in Tokyo said the raids amounted to "a new act of escalation."

ror attacks against the capital. The closest B52 raid to Saigon was staged last March 28, when the eight-engine bombers hit 18 miles southeast of the city.

Three terrorist attacks in and around Saigon were reported. All the terrorists escaped.

In the air strikes against North Vietnam Monday, U.S. Air Force pilots reported knocking out five trucks in a camouflaged convoy spotted 42 miles north-northwest of Dong Hoi.

American pilots struck eight times in the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam and reported wrecking a series of North Vietnamese trenches and bunkers.

A delayed report from U.S. military headquarters told of two 7th Fleet destroyers silencing a radar site Saturday on the coast of North Vietnam 12 miles north-northwest of Dong Hoi. The destroyers Ingersoll and Keppeler bombarded the radar installation with five-inch guns and reported afterward the radar stopped transmitting.

Pickit Plane Wreckage Found

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—Wreckage of an Air Force radar picket plane which went down at sea Nov. 11 killing 19 crewmen, apparently has been found.

Films of wreckage 300 feet below the surface and 125 miles east of Nantucket, Air Force spokesmen said Monday, definitely are that of an aircraft.

A Navy salvage vessel is at the scene with divers who will attempt to make positive identification of the debris.

La Crosse Link in Danger

U.S. May Block Bonds For Badger Highways

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A federal roadblock to state bonding may set back completion of interstate highway links in the La Crosse-Tomah-Black River Falls area until the 1970s, Wisconsin officials said today.

G. H. Bakke, chairman of the State Highway Commission, said the anticipated ban on bonding would block the $26.5 million accelerated highway construction program approved by the Legislature during its spring session.

Bakke said his aides were told in advance of the bonding ban a week ago by a top-ranking federal highway official. He said the step evidently was being taken as part of a federal program to curb inflation.

An earlier cutback in federal highway aid for the current fiscal year will delay construction of superhighway segments in Milwaukee, Madison, Wausau and Superior for at least another year, Bakke announced.

Bakke said a shuffling of funds would enable the state to open the 50-mile Black River Falls to Eau Claire link in Interstate 94 by the end of 1967 as scheduled.

BUT HE said the Black River Falls to Tomah section of Interstate 94 and the Tomah to La Crosse segment of Interstate 90 might not be finished until "up to four years later."

The speedup in highway construction engineered by lawmakers earlier this year had been designed to open the Tomah-Black River Falls section by the end of 1968 and the Tomah-La Crosse link by the end of 1969.

Bakke said the two projects might not be finished until 1972 or later if the state is not allowed to borrow money through bonds to bankroll the highways ahead of the federal schedule.

About $6.7 million in projects planned for financing with federal funds, including $4.1 million for the downtown extension of the north-south freeway in Milwaukee County, were being switched to state financing to free money for interstate projects.

This shuffle will provide $5.8 million to complete on schedule the Interstate 94 section from Eau Claire to Black River Falls and the U.S. 16 approach to the Interstate 90 bridge over the Mississippi River at La Crosse.

Without bonding, Bakke said there was no prospect of meeting the accelerated schedule for the rest of the interstate links in Western Wisconsin.

Ruby Too Ill For Operation

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The physician in charge of Jack Ruby's treatment said today Ruby's cancer has developed too far to be cured by surgery.

Dr. Jack Barnett said the only hope for a cure will lie in chemotherapy, which is treatment by drugs. He ruled out radiological treatment because of the widespread aspect of the cancer.

Barnett is associate professor of internal medicine at Southwestern Medical School, a few steps from Parkland Hospital where Ruby was taken Friday from his jail cell.

The physician also disclosed at a morning news conference that another tumor was found Monday in the pleura—the lining of the chest. He said it was the same sort of cancer found in a lymph node in Ruby's neck Saturday.

Ruby, 35, is the non-drinking, non-smoking onetime night club operator who killed Lee Harvey Oswald, later identified by the Warren Commission as President Kennedy's assassin.

"It is incurable by surgery," the doctor said. "Surgery might be used for benefit, but not for a cure."

Barnett said surgery could not cure Ruby because the cancer has spread from the still unknown primary source into the lymph system, which is somewhat like the blood vessel system and goes to all parts of the body.

Medical specialists speculate the main cancerous growth lies in a lung, the pancreas or the gastro-intestinal tract.

They said the type of cancer involved is an adenocarcinoma, which denotes relationship to glands.

Dr. Jay Sanford, professor of internal medicine at Southwestern Medical School and head of a medical team attending Ruby, said Monday Ruby may survive "two weeks or five years. He is not necessarily a hopeless case."

The Dallas News and the Dallas Times Herald, quoting unnamed sources, said the malignancy had spread to other parts of Ruby's body and the outlook was not favorable.

Sanford said it was too early to tell. "Chances of recovery depend on the location of the primary site" of a malignant tumor found Saturday in a lymph node in Ruby's neck, he said.

10 Men Lost In Crash Of Helicopter

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—One body was recovered and nine Navy men were missing today after the crash of a helicopter 34 miles offshore, the Navy said.

Navy spokesmen said the jet-powered, twin-rotor Sea Knight crashed without warning Monday four miles from its destination, the assault ship Tripoli.

An extensive air-sea search was launched and the body of Lt. (j.g.) Lawrence P. Beam, 25, of Imperial Beach, Calif., was found during the night. The search was continued today.

Among the missing were Capt. John R. McKee of Coronado, Calif., commanding officer of Amphibious Squadron 9 based at Coronado. The Navy said the missing men were all from California.

Legislators Favor Maddox in Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A check of Georgia legislators, who will elect the state's next governor, gives Democrat Lester G. Maddox almost a 4-to-1 edge over Republican candidate Howard Callaway. But many lawmakers still were undecided.

The General Assembly, consisting of 259 lawmakers, has 229 Democrats—46 out of 54 in the Senate and 183 out of 25 in the House. The legislature is expected to select the next governor Jan. 10, the day after the next legislative session begins.

The Associated Press sampling shows: Maddox 33, Callaway 9, undecided 33.

Among the undecided were 11 Negroes, and one commented he would not vote for either of the candidates. The legislators were asked what their decisions would be at an annual legislative institute at the University of Georgia in Athens, and by telephone.

Both Callaway and Maddox were at the meeting Monday seeking to convince legislators that each was the best man for the job.

But the two rivals gave different viewpoints on the outcome of the U.S. Supreme Court's 5-4 ruling allowing the legislature to choose the man they want to fill the governor's chair.

"I think it would be very tough on a man to be named governor if he did not win a majority of the votes by the people," Callaway said.

But Maddox, hailing the decision, said he was sure he would be Georgia's next governor because of legislative support.

Some legislators, dissatisfied with both candidates, reportedly have started a movement to block either one from claiming the governorship.

Their strategy is to refrain from voting when the legislature meets in joint session. The Georgia constitution requires the votes of a majority of members present at the session.

Atty. Gen. Arthur Bolton, asked what would be the result if the lawmakers fail to make a decision, said that Gov. Carl Sanders possibly could remain in office.

Economy Past Inflation Peak, Heller States

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Dr. Walter W. Heller, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, says he thinks the economy has passed a peak of inflationary pressure, but he favors a tax increase nevertheless.

The University of Minnesota Economics Department chairman told a meeting of Minneapolis-St. Paul business leaders Monday that he foresees an inflation rate of 2.5 to 3 per cent next year.

He said a tax increase would help the economy move along with less inflationary pressure.

Heller said President Johnson has withheld a decision on a tax increase until "the economic returns give him a strong base on which to make a decision."

Hoffa Now in A Tough Spot

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa is in the toughest spot of his troubled nine-year reign over the giant Teamsters Union after the Supreme Court rejected appeal of his jury-tampering conviction.

But "he took it philosophically" and immediately started laying plans to continue his battle to stay out of prison, a close associate said of Hoffa's reaction to Monday's court decision.

The Teamsters president was sentenced to eight years after his 1964 conviction in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Hoffa, re-elected last July to a five-year term as chief of the 1.7-million-member union, has no intention of giving up without a fight to the last, informed sources within the union said.

Hoffa's lawyers could slave off execution of the sentence for months, these sources said. "He has three shots at it," said one source — "a rehearing (before the Supreme Court), a stay of execution and a writ of habeas corpus to show why he should not be detained."

Hoffa's attorneys hope to come up with new evidence that could upset the conviction, it was indicated.

However, neither Hoffa nor other union officials would comment officially.

Murphy May Head GOP's Senate Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — California Sen. George Murphy appears headed for the GOP job that helped make Barry Goldwater famous — hunting votes and money for Republican Senate campaigners.

Goldwater, who served four years as chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, said he thinks Murphy, 64, should get the post.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, who holds it now, said the Californian apparently has the votes to take over when GOP senators fill the position in January.

Morton is leaving the post to prepare his own re-election campaign. Goldwater plans a Senate race for the Arizona seat now held by Sen. Carl Hayden, a Democrat.

Murphy leans toward conservatism; Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, who also wants the job, is among the Senate's more liberal Republicans.

But Goldwater said in an interview that ideology has nothing to do with his view. "I think somebody like Murphy will be more universally accepted, particularly in the West," he said.

"This is no ideological clash in the party at all," said Morton, "just a question of who can raise some hard cash."

He said Murphy ranks right behind Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen as the most sought-after speaker among GOP senators.

Dirksen was not tipping his hand on a choice for the chairmanship. He said Sens. Jack R. Miller of Iowa and Gordon L. Allott of Colorado want it, too.

White House Silent on Luci Rumors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House had nothing to say today about rumors that Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Nugent are expecting a baby.

"If and when that happy event should occur, we would make no announcement," a spokesman told a reporter who asked about the rumors.

Presumably, this would leave it up to the Nugents. Luci, 19-year-old daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson, was married last Aug. 6 to Nugent, and they now live in Austin, Tex.

Senators May Hear Kennedy And Hoover

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wiretap flap between Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover will move into the arena of a Senate hearing next year.

Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., announced the scheduling Monday night.

Long, who has been investigating invasions of privacy by wiretappers and electronic snoopers since February 1965, is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures.

At issue is who—Hoover or Kennedy — is telling the truth about who authorized the wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping which has jeopardized a host of federal prosecutions.

One of those cases on the endangered list involves Bobby Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats and a friend of President Johnson.

Baker's case is concerned with nine charges of income tax evasion, larceny and conspiracy, and is now being heard in U.S. District Court here.

As for the two principals in the dispute, both Kennedy, a New York Democrat, and Hoover were practicing the silence-is-golden routine Monday night.

The Kennedy-Hoover quarrel opened last Saturday with the release of a letter from Hoover to Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa.

In this letter Hoover asserted Kennedy knew about the wiretapping and electronic surveillance activities of the FBI and attached a memorandum signed by Kennedy purporting to show this.

Further, Hoover said that during Kennedy's 1961-64 tenure as attorney general, these activities had increased with Kennedy's approval.

Kennedy said maybe he was supposed to know about these activities, but he didn't and certainly he had never authorized them.

"We're in very good shape in all of the region's post offices," said Winkel, whose district covers Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Dakotas.

Between 6,000 and 7,000 temporary employees were hired to help with the Christmas rush, he added.

Parking Issue In Gilmore Avenue Project

Approval of a plan to improve parts of Gilmore Avenue, Sarnia and Junction streets was voted Monday night by the City Council.

Aldermen also gave standby authority to the city attorney to acquire three parcels of land by condemnation if need be. The parcels are owned by Daniel Przybylski, Miracle Mall Shopping Center and College of Saint Teresa.

APPRAISERS will be hired to set prices and the city will negotiate for outright purchase on the basis of their recommendations.

Acquisition must be initiated soon, advised George M. Robertson Jr., city attorney, because engineers hope for fall or early spring contract letting.

While the Winona County Board of Commissioners already has approved the detailed plan drawn by consulting engineers, the council has withheld full approval. The major issue awaiting settlement is that of parking restrictions to be placed on the 2-mile segment.

The project is a joint city-county affair, with 50 percent financing from special state highway turnback funds created by the 1965 legislature.

IN GENERAL, the design calls for a 4-lane, 48-foot roadway with parking eliminated. Some aldermen have suggested that parking be permitted at designated times and places for convenience of some neighborhood businesses and area residents.

Council President Harold Briesath proposed that the parking restriction be lifted on Sundays, holidays and evenings. He said this should be done since the limits apparently are to promote safety at the new high school entrances. City Engineer James Baird conceded that hardships might result for businesses but added that Sunday traffic is especially heavy.

Density of traffic eventually will force abandonment of parking, Baird observed, since the only other major westerly arteries are Broadway and 5th Street. He told Ald. David Johnston that the narrowest boulevard contemplated would be 8 feet wide. The alderman had proposed that sidewalks be adjacent to curbs so as not to split up grass plots. Baird said adjacent walks can create formidable snow removal problems and thus should be avoided.

SETTLEMENT of such issues perhaps can wait, suggested Ald. Don Klage. Ald. Briesath answered that as many aspects as possible should be settled before the plan is submitted for state Highway Department approval.

If the council doesn't go along with the full plan, noted Ald. Barry Nelson, perhaps there is no point in the project since it would only result in 2-lane traffic as at present.

Burglar Gets Cigarettes at Service Station

A break-in at the Harvey's Pure Oil service station in Sugar Loaf Monday night resulted in the theft of 20 cartons of cigarettes.

Harvey Sifferath, owner, reported that someone had gained entrance to the station some time after 9 p.m. by breaking in the rear door. The cash register and other merchandise were not touched. Police are investigating the incident.

Council Takes Higher Bid on Parking Meters

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

To the outspoken astonishment of several of its members, the City Council voted Monday night to take the higher of two qualified bids for 132 new parking meters.

In a 5-4 split vote the council decided to buy the Park-O-Meter product that has been on city streets for the last 17 years. The Park-O-Meter bid, $7,085, is $755.63 higher than that of the Duncan Parking Meter Co., whose net bid was $6,329.37. The Duncan bid was presented at $6,662.50 with a 5 percent discount for cash payment in 60 days.

MEMBERS of the majority defended the action as a long-

City Council

Meter Placement Plan Approved

Meeting as a committee of the whole, the City Council voted Monday night to adopt a previously recommended plan of placement for 132 new parking meters.

The council also held open the possibility of further expansion of the metered zone and once more reviewed the question of annual fees for commercial loading zone privileges.

SOME SORT of charge is expected to be included in an amended ordinance the council will consider at a forthcoming meeting.

Most of the new meters will have 10-hour limits. The new plan calls for elimination of many apparently contradictory situations wherein some streets are metered on one side and open on the other. The low rate is designed to attract long-term parking which now frequently occupies downtown meters that merchants would rather have available to shoppers.

Another purpose of the expansion is to raise more revenue by charging for street spaces now heavily used but unproductive of parking receipts. According to long range planning and recommendations by the City Planning Commission and Chamber of Commerce, the added revenue will help furnish more downtown off-street parking space.

ALONG WITH the new plan, as presented by City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. and H. E. Hippe, planning coordinator, the council agreed to changes on Johnson Street between 4th and 5th streets.

These include designation of three spaces on the east side as a jointly used loading zone for Nelson Tire Service and the National Food Store. Also provided, at the request of the tire firm, were 2-hour rather than 10-hour meters.

Shorter time limits are needed in the area, aldermen acknowledged.

Goodview Rezoning Hearing to Involve Airport Regulations

A public hearing Dec. 19 on a rezoning petition in Goodview will involve the City of Winona. City Council members were told Monday night.

Owners of land just east of Process & Products Development Associates, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Loos, 5040 6th St., have petitioned for a change of classification. They want the zoning changed from commercial to light manufacturing category.

Winona is involved because of the proximity of the land to Max Conrad Field, noted George M. Robertson Jr., city attorney. He recommended that Goodview officials be advised of the city-county airport zoning regulations that might become involved in the petition.

range saving. By staying with the present meters, said Ald. George Garber and James Stoltman, the city can hold down maintenance and replacement costs in future years.

According to the Park-O-Meter representative, Don Harstad, these savings can be as much as $10,000 to $15,000 over the life of the meters. This would be possible, he said, through trade-in allowances on replacements.

The action was accomplished in two votes. The first came after a lengthy discussion of placements and time limits for new meters now being added to the present meter zone. Ald. Henry Parks moved the Duncan bid, held over from last week for review of specifications, be accepted.

VOTING in favor were Ald. David Johnston, Barry Nelson, Donald Klage and Parks. Nay votes were cast by President Harold Briesath, Stoltman, Jerry Borzykowski, Harold Thiewes and Garber.

Ald. Johnston and Barry Nelson immediately demanded explanations from the majority. Elliott Toomey, Duncan representative, told the council his meters are guaranteed for two years and that cost of changing time limit mechanisms would be $5.52 per meter, if this became necessary. In a rebuttal speech later, Harstad said his firm would charge $4.20 for the same operation on its meters.

Members of the majority cited what they said were the difficulties that would arise from having two types of meters. Double inventories of tools and parts would have to be maintained, argued Ald. Stoltman. Moreover, he continued, urban renewal is in the offing and no one knows what needs will be then. Up to now Stoltman has vigorously opposed urban renewal and he did not elaborate further on this portion of his argument.

HARSTAD disputed Toomey's contention that trends are moving toward manually operated meters. The Duncan meter, which has been tested on several city locations for the past eight months, is activated by the turn of a handle when coins are deposited. The Park-O-Meter has a main spring that must be wound about twice a week by a maintenance man. It is termed an automatic meter.

Ald. Henry Parks shot a question at Harstad about trade-in replacement costs. The net cost would be $34.50 each, Harstad replied.

When Ald. Stoltman moved that the council accept the higher bid, the voting lineup remained the same. In favor were Ald. Briesath, Stoltman, Borzykowski, Thiewes and Garber. Opposed were Ald. Johnston, Nelson, Klage and Parks.

Harstad said the new meters can accommodate pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters. Most of them will be set for 10-hour limits at a rate of 2 1/2 cents per hour. They are to be placed in heavily-parked fringe areas near the downtown retail core.

Collision Causes $350 in Damage

A collision this morning at Laird and East King streets resulted in approximately $350 damage to the two cars involved.

The accident, which occurred at 7:46 a.m., involved a car driven by Sanford A. Bettcher, 21, 53 1/2 E. King St., and the other driven by James E. Stout, 23, 1670 Kraemer Dr.

According to the report, Stout was traveling north on Laird and Bettcher was going west on King. Both drivers claimed that they did not see each other until it was too late.

Loan Granted To Plan for Housing Units

Approval of an $18,750 loan to the Winona Housing and Redevelopment Authority was announced today by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The loan is to finance planning for construction of 125 low-rent housing units for elderly persons in the city.

No other information in connection with the advance had been made available this morning to the authority. The authority board will hold its December meeting tonight at 7 at the Arthur C. Thurlay Homes community room.

The amount granted is about half of what was requested. In its application the authority had sought up to $35,000 to plan for 200 additional elderly housing units.

Youth Sought In Check Passing At St. Charles

The sheriff's office is investigating complaints of bad checks at St. Charles.

Lloyd Duncanson, St. Charles, reported at 4 p.m. Monday that he had cashed a check for $10 for a youth about 18 years of age last week and that it had been returned by the bank when it was found he did not have an account there.

The youth, who signed his name "Dennis Nelson," cashed at least five other checks in St. Charles on the same day. All on an account at the First National Bank of St. Charles.

Sheriff George Fort, who described the youth as about 6 feet tall, slender, with dark hair, said the youth apparently had tried to cash other checks in the town but was turned down when he failed to produce the necessary identification.

Young Driver Found Guilty

John A. Brandes, 18, 958 E. King St., was found guilty in municipal court this morning of driving while his license was suspended and was fined $35.

Brandes, who defended himself at the trial, was arrested while lying on the front floor of a parked car on Sarnia Street at Olmstead Street Nov. 10 at 1:10 a.m.

Brandes claimed that some other person from the Minneapolis area, whom he did not know, had been driving the car and that he was only a passenger. He had ducked down on the floor when the police approached him because, as he said, he was afraid police were after them for some other reason.

Officer James Hill testified that he had met the vehicle on the street, recognized the driver as Brandes and knew his license had been suspended. He followed the car some distance and then stopped it and found Brandes on the front floor.

Brandes' driving record, which contained several violations, was presented as an exhibit. The trial began at 9:30 a.m. and was concluded at 10 a.m.

City Prosecutor Frank Wohletz represented the state.

Extension Granted On WIDA Option

A 24-month extension of a purchase option on Area 1 in the airport industrial park was granted Monday night by the City Council to Winona Industrial Development Association.

WIDA requested the extension in a letter which noted that negotiations for the sale of Area 4 are being completed.

Area 4 is located between the new Thera Machine Co. plant and the Watkins Products, Inc. hangar. Area 1 is just south of Area 4.

The option to be extended will expire Dec. 20.

SALARY TALKS BEGIN

Teachers Cite Living Cost Rise

By C. GORDON HOLTE
Daily News Staff Writer

Representatives of Winona's public school teachers and the Board of Education Monday night began talking about a new teachers salary schedule for the 1967-68 contract year with a discussion concerned more with the philosophy of schedule structuring and cost of living trends than with any specific proposal for schedule changes.

The delegation representing the Winona Education Association and the Winona Federation of Teachers first reviewed briefly developments in scheduling proceedings for the 1966-67 contract year, then cited statistics to show that base salaries of Winona's public school teachers in a four-year period had not kept pace with the average buying income of Winona families during the same period.

School Board

AFTER hearing the presentation, Board President Lawrence Santelman said that school directors would study the matter and arrange another meeting on salary issues with the joint teachers committee.

He noted that with the Christmas holiday season approaching it probably would be impossible to schedule a second meeting in the immediate future but felt that another meeting could be called sometime early next year. This, the teachers group said, would be satisfactory with them.

James R. Miller, an English instructor at Central Junior High School and chairman of the teachers' joint salary committee, prefaced his remarks on salary matters by referring to a headline of a Daily News account of plans for the initial meeting of board and teachers on salary matters and expressing the hope that in subsequent stories presentations by the teachers "will not be represented as demands. Teachers cannot make demands and I think this should be made clear."

HE SAID that the "first point for discussion should be that of the continuation of the implementation of the second year of the three-year index guide" for salary scheduling.

At last winter's salary meetings teachers had asked that the board adopt the philosophy of the index guide in future structuring of the salary schedule.

This, in brief, provides that a specified percentage differential be used to arrive at maximum salaries at each level of training and experience, based on the beginning salary for teachers with four-year degrees and no previous teaching experience.

The starting salary for new teachers with bachelor's degrees was set by the board last winter at $5,150 for the current contract year. Salaries for four-year degree teachers range upward to $7,800 after 13 years experience to make the maximum 1.52 times the starting salary. This year's index guide at this level, then, is 1.52.

THE OVERALL schedule is based on four levels of training — each ranging in steps up to 13 years of experience — in separate categories for teachers with bachelor's degrees, bachelor's and 30 credit hours of advanced study, master's degrees and master's degrees and 30 additional hours of study.

The maximum salary for a 39-week work year at the highest training level this year is $9,373, or 1.82 times the base starting salary.

In last winter's salary discussions the teacher delegation had expressed hope that a 1.9 index guide might be realized over a three-year period in computing the salary to be paid on the top step of the schedule.

Miller told directors Monday night that "This index guide is in keeping with the apparent philosophy of the board in rewarding the teacher for professional advancement. We have based our proposal on the board's statement last year that the index guide philosophy would be used in future salary action. We are assuming that you will follow through with this three-year plan."

HE SAID that he felt that "The index guide should not be manipulated from year to year."

If the board feels that the teacher should be rewarded for professional advancement and experience, the index guide is a good instrument for adjusting salaries.

"We feel," Miller continued, "that the board made an historic step last year in adopting the index plan. Most teachers are happy with it as a salary tool and the guide certainly helps in salary negotiations, or planning, or whatever word you want to use — as long as it is not demanding."

Explaining that the teachers, rather than stating any specific base salary with which an index figure might be implemented, would like to "present some ideas as to what salaries can look like for the coming year," Miller turned to comparisons of increases in base salaries for teachers for the period from the 1961-62 contract year to contract this year 1965-66 with increases in this same period in average buying income for Winona families.

HE SAID that one study had indicated that the average family income, after taxes, in Winona during the teacher contract year of 1961-62 was $6,383. By the 1965-66 contract year, Miller said, this average after-tax family buying income had swelled to $7,681, or an increase of 20.3 percent.

The base salary for beginning teachers for the 1961-62 contract year, he noted, was $4,400, and went up to $5,000 in 1965-66, for an increase of 12 percent.

"The increase in the buying income of Winona families was 8 percent higher than the raise in the base salary," Miller said, "and this comparison can be made at any step along the way."

with nearly the same result.

IF THE $4,400 starting salary of 1961-62 had kept pace with the average family buying income during this period, Miller continued, the base salary for the 1965-66 contract year would have been $5,300, rather than $5,000. If a 4 percent cost of living increase were then to have been taken into consideration in arriving at a starting salary for the current contract year, he said, the figure would have been $5,512, instead of the $5,150 set by the board.

Using a 4 percent cost of living increase for the next year in projecting a 1967-68 starting salary — and Miller said that he felt this might be conservative in view of the fact that 5 and 6 percent increases are suggested by many — the starting salary would come to $5,732.

"THESE are figures," Miller stated, "which are comparing Winona salaries with the Winona base. We have used no 'pie in the sky' national figures to compare the base salary to. The 39-week work year has no bearing on these figures; they are strictly percentage figures. We see no reason why the teachers of Winona should not advance with the average Winonan."

"We can figure that the cost of living rises in this time period wiped out about two-thirds of this increase. We are not keeping up with the cost of living."

Miller said that local college placement bureaus are advising teachers who will be graduated from college this academic year that most will sign beginning contracts for near $5,500, a few will sign for around $4,400 and many will receive contracts providing a beginning salary as high as $6,000.

BASED ON a starting salary of $5,150, the index guide figures for the current contract year figure out to 1.52 for computing the maximum at the bachelor's degree level, 1.64 for bachelor's plus 30 quarter hours of study, 1.77 for those with master's degrees and 1.82 for the maximum for teachers with master's degrees and 30 quarter hours of study and 13 or more years of teaching experience.

Without stating a specific proposal for a new base starting salary, the teachers' committee suggested that as a second-year continuation of the index guide philosophy the index figures for 1967-68 might be 1.00 to 1.58 at the bachelor's level, 1.05 to 1.65 for bachelor's plus 30 hours, 1.10 to 1.80 for master's degree teachers and 1.15 to 1.86 for those with master's degrees and 30 quarter hours.

Miller said that teachers felt that the index guide on each level should be "split into equal steps. Manipulation of the index at the different levels does not agree with the philosophy of the index."

AFTER hearing the presentation by the delegation, 3rd Ward Director Frank J. Allen commented, "Without trying to start an argument, I was just wondering whether your committee had any other suggestions."

ALMA, Wis. — Fourteen Buffalo County municipalities expressed interest at a meeting here Monday night in participating in jobs that may be open between January and June for beautifying town roads and buildings.

James Ray, director of the Western Dairyland Economic Opportunity Council, Whitehall, explained the program. He said about $600,000 is available over the state under the Sen. Nelson amendment to the federal beautification act. Allotments will be made through the Conservation Department.

It is a program for adults. Federal funds would pay 90 percent of the cost, with 10 percent to be paid by municipalities participating.

The program is not set up as yet, according to Archie Brovold, Buffalo County agent. When it is, applications will be taken for the jobs by the Wisconsin Employment Service.

Buffalo County municipalities indicating interest were City of Alma, Fountain City, and the towns of Alma, Buffalo, Dover, Gilman, Mondovi, Montana, Milton, Lincoln, Nelson, Waukegan, Modena and Maxville.

The Western Dairyland Economic Opportunity Council comprises Buffalo, Eau Claire, Jackson and Trempealeau counties.

White House Ready for Yule Parties

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christmas at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue: The whiff of cedar, glow of tiny white bulbs, reflections of popcorn garlands in a mirror, a chandelier laced with holly, banquet tables crested with pine.

It's the White House ready for Christmas entertaining. Reporters were given a special preview Monday.

Decorations center around a fat 20-foot high balsam fir which towers to the ceiling of the Blue Room. Gingerbread cookies—some plastic, some real—candied fruit, toy soldiers and straw snowflakes hang from its boughs.

On every mantle, there is pine and holly, and gold, silver or blue or red bulbs. Doors sprout chains of cedar. Red and white roses and carnations fill spare tabletops.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson added at least three new touches to the traditional White House decorations: A 13-foot-high, gold-colored paper mache crèche in the East Room, a mirror decorated with felt symbols of the 12-days of Christmas and a wreath made of flowers from 50 states.

This is the first floor of the executive mansion.

Upstairs, in the first family's living quarters, there are also decorations. The Johnsons plan to have a Scotch pine decorated with popcorn and cranberry strings.

Panfish Period

Early each winter, after the ice becomes solid and fairly clear of snow, there is a time when crappies, sunfish, and perch, fish commonly caught through the ice seem to hit almost at any time in backwater and sloughs.

Reports on weekend fishing we have received indicate that time of the winter fishing period has now arrived. At least ice fishermen almost everywhere are catching plenty of panfish. At Spring Lake, near Buffalo City, one of the popular areas for local fishermen, the sunfish ran exceptionally large during the morning hours Sunday. They also got some nice-sized perch.

Probably typical of other areas is the mess of crappies that Mike Smith got along the Trempealeau dike on the Minnesota side of the river. It would be easier to list places where panfish were not taken over the weekend, because our reports indicate they were catching them in nearly every backwater. More fishhouses have been put into place for the winter season.

The weather forecast is favorable for the coming week so this should be an excellent time to get out and get a mess of panfish. The ice is safe in most winter fishing areas.

Refuge Rat Season
Despite the fact that the muskrat season in the southern half of Minnesota closes Dec. 18 at 6 p.m., the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish refuge, or the Mississippi zone season, remains open to 6 p.m. Dec. 31. The Wisconsin Mississippi River zone is open to rat trapping until Jan. 15, 1967.

There has been some misunderstanding about the closing date of the Minnesota area, officials of the Wildlife Refuge inform us. The correct closing date on the refuge is Dec. 31, they wish to convey to permit trappers.

Smokey Bear Costumes
A Black River Falls woman has been hired by the state Conservation Department to make ten Smokey the Bear costumes in January. Mrs. Emerson Hyde made one for the department out of real bear hide five years ago and another one last year. They will be distributed over the 12 forest fire protection areas in the state.

Next year's costumes will be lighter weight. They will consist of a pullover shirt, shoe covering that looks like bear feet and black gloves covered with fur. The remainder of the costume of lighter weight material will be more comfortable for warm weather appearances.

The attending physician said the Rev. Schardein, 40, was in critical condition at a Geneva hospital. The panel truck was southbound at the time of the accident.

Man Jailed in Fight Against Power Firm

ST. PAUL (AP) — A Washington County farmer is being held in jail while Northern States Power Co. is building part of a Minneapolis-St. Louis power hookup over his land—and over his objections.

Arnie Carlson, 44, of Woodbury Township, was jailed for 90 days for contempt of court after refusing to accept an $850 easement settlement ordered by a Washington County district judge at Stillwater.

"I'm not sure what he'll do when he gets out, but he doesn't want the poles on our property," said Carlson's son Greg.

Northern States condemned two acres of Carlson's farm for an easement. The company is building a tower in an area about 10 feet square. The lines pass over a strip totaling about two acres.

"NSP didn't want to buy the land, but simply put a two-pole wooden tower up," said a company spokesman. "We had no choice but to enter condemnation proceedings."

In Minnesota, it is legal for a utility to condemn private land. "We had to have the land," the spokesman said. "It is just about last link in a high-voltage direct hookup with St. Louis scheduled to go into service this May."

The 340,000-volt system is intended to permit interchange of power between the two cities at times of heavy demand.

NSP said Carlson was offered $1,200 for the easement. After the court directed a settlement of $850, Carlson demanded $2,000.

"There are no indications his demands will be met," said the NSP spokesman. "The amount is not as important as the precedent it would set."

Man Quizzed In Cincinnati Stranglings

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The investigation of six strangulation slayings picked up momentum today as police probed further into the fatal stabbing of another woman.

Police held Postel Laskey, 29, a laborer and a former cabdriver, but have not charged him with any of the murders. He has denied knowing anything about them.

Laskey was charged earlier with several minor offenses and was being questioned about the series of slayings.

Police, giving no further comment, called a news conference today.

The murders are the stabbing of Barbara Bowman, 31, and the strangling of six elderly women. The stranglings started Dec. 2, 1965, and have made Cincinnati a city of fear.

All the strangling victims were more than 50 years old. Five had been raped.

Laskey was arrested Friday shortly after Lula Kerrick, 81, was found strangled in the elevator of her apartment house two blocks from police headquarters.

The arrest was not directly concerned with the slaying. Police picked up Laskey on the complaint of a woman who lived near Miss Kerrick and said a man had chased her into her home. A neighbor noted the license number of the man's car. Late Monday, police obtained a search warrant and took three bags full of undisclosed items from the homes of Laskey's mother and from an apartment he rented four weeks ago.

Miss Bowman, a secretary, was found dying early Aug. 14 near a wrecked taxicab that turned out to have been stolen.

New Bulletin For Part-time Farmers Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has issued a new bulletin on raising livestock. It is for distribution among families engaged in small scale or part-time farming operations.

The bulletin covers the raising of chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, squabs, dairy cows, dairy goats, sheep, rabbits and hogs.

"If family members will do the chores, little or no hired help may be necessary," the bulletin states. "Remember, though, that livestock must be fed, watered and cared for every day of the year. This restricts family activities to some extent and should be understood at the start."

Copies of the bulletin, no. 1753, may be obtained from the department's Office of Information, Washington, D.C. 20250.

DEAR ABBY:

Idle Gossip Not Worth the Bother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I guess we are never too old to need advice. I am a 68-year-old widow who for the last two years have been keeping company with a 73-year-old widower. He has invited me to attend a Shriners' convention with him in Hawaii in January.

He has a good friend about his age who has a lady friend about my age. The two boys said they could room together and we two girls could room together. Does this sound all right to you, Abby? Or do you think people will talk? UNDECIDED

Abby

I hate to go to gym because if the other girls see my T-shirt they will make fun of me, so I say I have a headache or a stomachache and I skip as many gym classes as I can. I have missed so much gym I might not get a credit. Please help me, Miss Abby, I can't talk to my mother. NEEDS A BRA

DEAR NEEDS: Go to your gym teacher, dear, and tell her the truth. If it's difficult to "find the words" — show her this column. She'll understand. I'll bet your problem will be solved within two weeks. If it isn't, write again, and I will write a letter to your mother.

DEAR ABBY: Some women complain that they don't get to go to the Christmas parties given by their husbands' companies. My problem is just the opposite.

Our company puts on a big Christmas party for the employees. There are always about 200 people there, husbands and wives. It is a very respectable party with a fine dinner at the best hotel, and they even have an orchestra and entertainment. Everyone looks forward to it.

My wife refuses to go. She says she doesn't know the people, she is not thirsty, and she'd only be bored. I am afraid if I don't show up my boss and co-workers will be insulted. Should I go alone? What should I tell the others? Last year I went alone and said my wife was sick. EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: If you feel that your boss and co-workers would be "insulted" by your absence — go alone. And if anyone asks where your wife is, say she's "sick." (She is, in a way.)

DEAR ABBY: This is for "OUT OF IT," who was disgusted with the two teen-age girls who returned to school the day after their mother died. "OUT OF IT" obviously has had no experience with that sort of thing, and she is fortunate.

When my husband died I went back to work the day after his funeral. I am sure I must have been criticized behind my back, but it didn't matter. Had I sat home, grieving over my loss I would have lost my mind. My only salvation was in keeping busy, busy, busy. Sign me . . . OVER IT

No Division On Voyageurs Park, Report

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The president of the Voyageurs National Park Association said today that "we must make it clear that in fact there is no real controversy" over location of the proposed park on Kabetogama Peninsula.

"Unofficial proposals for alternate park sites have made the state appear divided," Hennepin County Municipal Court Judge Edwin P. Chapman said. He said, in remarks prepared for a Citizens League breakfast, that Minnesotans must be more aggressive in efforts to obtain the park and must make it clear "that the vast majority of Minnesotans back the (National) Park Service recommendation" of the peninsula as the only site meeting all requirements.

The proposal has aroused controversy among some northern Minnesotans. "Our citizens must demand action on the Voyageurs National Park proposal at this session of Congress," Chapman said. He added that competition is keen among states seeking parks and "federal budget restrictions may limit funds available for their development."

The judge said the Canadian border glaciated lake and forest country would provide a type of landscape missing from the nation's present 32 national parks. "Values increase wherever national parks are created," Chapman said. "Cash registers ring as never before. Visitors flock in, leaving vacation dollars in their wake."

Charter Commission Performing Top Job

MEMBERS OF THE Winona City Charter Commission are to be congratulated for the quality of their studies that led to last week's decision to fashion a new home rule charter.

Nor do we exclude those who voted against the majority, for all members labored long and untiringly. None, we are convinced, formed his own opinion as a spur of the moment conclusion. It was wisely noted by the chairman that the thinking of all commissioners will be needed and useful as the new charter is put together and made ready for the consideration of voters.

Much of the credit for the commission's high-caliber performance can rightfully be given to judges of the 3rd Judicial District and, in particular, to Judge Arnold Hatfield. Because of his careful scrutiny, the city was assured that the commission membership was not loaded with the partisans of any single viewpoint.

FROM THE TIME of its organizational meeting the commission has been singularly fortunate in having a painstakingly impartial and conscientious chairman at its head. Others might have done equally well but the plain fact is that Chairman Norman Indali has done—and is doing—a superb job.

A valuable, much needed task is being performed for the city by this commission.

Since 1889 Winona has operated under a charter that has served well in some ways and poorly in others. Today ours is the only Minnesota city of the second class that retains a special legislative charter. Commission studies have pretty well justified the misgivings of those who have felt the old charter is inadequate and should be changed to allow city government to work more efficiently.

It has been correctly said that government is no better than the personnel who make it operate. What is happening, however, is not quite so simply dismissed. The phrase falls well short of meeting the problem of what's needed.

WHAT IS HAPPENING is that the volume and scope of city governmental work has outgrown the capacity of existing machinery to handle it. There are plenty of capable persons in city government now but neither they nor anyone else can make the machine do more than it was designed to do. The world's best driver couldn't begin to compete in the Indianapolis Speedway race with nothing more than a Stanley Steamer.

Each year the city must go to the state legislature for this or that bit of patchwork change in the charter. Sometimes it is for trifles such as authority to decrease the time police must hold unclaimed bicycles. Another time it might be for a major emergency need—a sobering prospect when you recall the legislature meets for 120 days in odd years, not at all in even years.

Winona city government has become a sprawling, uncoordinated tangle of separate (sometimes competing) jurisdictions. The one who suffers most from this efficiency-defying confusion is the individual taxpayer who gets far less mileage from his tax dollars than he should.

WE COMMEND the commission's further studies and its eventual product to the careful attention of Winonans. The city at last will have a solid chance to order its affairs and give its elected and appointed officials the opportunity to do their unhampered best.

Judging by an old, dog-eared copy of "Hill's Manual of Social Forms," published in 1870, fond fathers of that day must have been called upon from time to time to give the exit cue to unwanted suitors for their daughters' hands. Here's the note suggested by Mr. Hill for painful occasions of this kind: "I am compelled to inform you that, though my daughter has treated you with much friendliness, she will be unable to continue with you a love acquaintance, owing to a prior engagement with a gentleman of worth and respectability, which contract she has no occasion to regret."

Oswald, show the gentleman his hat and gloves!

WORLD TODAY

Smylie Thinks LBJ Won't Run

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is one of those strange moments in American political history, a kind of bewildered searching, and maybe wishing.

Events of the past few days illustrate it. One was out in Colorado where Idaho's Gov. Robert E. Smylie milled around at the Republican governors' conference, making a prediction about President Johnson.

Smylie could hardly have been smiling, since he was defeated in Idaho's Aug. 2 primary election, but he predicted Johnson would not be a candidate for re-election in 1968.

He thinks Johnson's health and what he called the "mood of discontent" in the country may persuade the President not to try for a second term.

Smylie could be right. For a man who has been soaked, bathed and massaged in politics, Johnson for many months has seen his popularity in the public opinion polls going steadily down without doing much to offset it.

BUT THE Republicans are in no enviable position themselves and Smylie's prediction about Johnson may be no more than a wistful wish that Johnson, the most adroit, nimble, and powerful obstacle on the Republican road to the presidency, would please step aside by the time of the next election.

The Colorado conference of the Republican Governors Association which Smylie attended was hardly more than a lot of polite palaver, a kind of board of inspection, where the Republicans looked one another over to see who might be a good presidential prospect.

New stories out of the conference told how Michigan's Gov. George Romney "thundered." While Romney still insists he hasn't decided about running in 1968, he certainly acts like a man trying to line up support.

BUT THIS thundering—which some may interpret later as dogmatic—manner may turn into one of his severest handicaps, particularly if he does not produce more ideas than he has so far.

On the other hand, California's conservative Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan, according to the news stories from Colorado, was a far easier figure to listen to, not any more original than Romney, but relaxed, and so far without any presidential pretensions.

In short, at this moment in their history there is not a Republican in sight who Republicans could say is their boy for two years from now.

But, while all this was going on in Colorado, something else was happening in Wisconsin where Ray C. Bliss, the chairman of the Republican National Committee, didn't sound too cheerful.

THERE HE WAS telling the GOP that while there is little room among Democrats for new ideas, with the party faithful standing in line for room at the top, the Republican party has been eroding at the bottom for years, finding it ever more difficult to discover people willing to run for office.

Among Republicans, he said, there is a shortage of "qualified candidates," campaign managers, political researchers, public relations experts and professional fund raisers.

When the facts are all known Bliss may prove to have been one of the main reasons the Republicans did as well as they did in 1966—not because of any issues, but because he worked hard in getting out votes.

The Democrats had nothing to match him. Both parties look rocky now.

'I KEEP THINKING ABOUT WHAT I WANT IN 1968'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Convicted Profiteers Free in Navy Case

By DREW PEARSON
and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The wheels of justice turn slowly, but they do turn if sufficiently prodded by the press.

Almost two years ago — Jan. 16, 1965 to be exact — this column revealed that the Navy had sold 48 landing gear struts for only $11,700 but bought back the same struts three months later for $230,000.

"The middlemen who bought the struts from the Navy, and sold them back to the Navy, made a profit of 1,900 percent in only three months time," the column reported.

The column gave details as to how the struts were purchased from the Navy by the Variety Cushion Company of Los Angeles, sold to the H and H Aircraft Company of Concord, Calif., for $60,000, then sold to California Iron and Metal of Oakland for $198,000, which sold them back to the Navy for $230,000.

IN OCTOBER, three of the individuals who parlayed this tremendous 1,900 percent profit were convicted. They were David Henderson of the H and H Aircraft Sales Company, Alameda; Martin Hewus of the Variety Cushion Company, El Monte, and Merle C. Larson of Concord, all in California. Each was convicted on one count of conspiring to make false claims to the government. In addition, Larson was found guilty of making a false statement to the government. Each count carries a possible penalty of five years imprisonment.

At the time of sentencing, however, Judge William Swigert of the U.S. District Court for Northern California made an amazing reversal. He ruled that the verdict reached by the jury was "not sustainable" on the basis of the evidence presented, and he acquitted the three men.

THE NAVY was slow to act on our report that it sold the struts at the precise time the naval supply center in Oakland got a request from the Japanese government for the same struts to be used on American-supplied P-2Y patrol bombers.

For some strange reason, the Japanese requisition was held at the Oakland supply center for nearly three months. Meanwhile, the Navy in Seattle had the struts which the Japanese wanted, but sold them for only $11,700 to a private middleman.

The accused dealers have been convicted, then freed. But no action has been taken against the Navy gold-braid who mishandled the deal in the first place.

The Selective Service system today operates not unlike Russian roulette. As a young man stands on the threshold of his future, Uncle Sam hands him a revolver. Five chambers are marked "deferred," the sixth is loaded with a draft call. He spins the cylinder and takes his chances.

THE uncertainties and inequities in our conscription methods are creating a generation of draft dodgers. A refugee community is grouping up in Canada of young Americans who have jumped the border to escape the draft. The threat of military service has scared thousands of others into premature marriages, unscheduled schooling and unwanted jobs.

A troubled President Johnson last year appointed a presidential commission on Selective Service, which has spent many hours studying proposals to change or replace the present draft system.

Universal military training has been discussed; a lottery system has been debated. Favorable attention has been given to the idea of a national service corps, which would conscript all young men either for military service or welfare work.

Commission members are privately skeptical, however, over the usefulness of 18- and 19-year-old social workers. They also fear that a universal draft would give the federal government too much power over individuals.

THE MAJORITY also seem to feel that universal military training would be too costly and chaotic, that a lottery would be less fair than the present deferment system.

It looks as if the presidential commission, when it files its recommendations early next year, simply will advocate reforming the present draft law.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Rivers Holds Key to Spending

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Of all the characters in the cast that will determine whether the United States is to spend $30 billion to $40 billion on an anti-ballistic missile system none is more flamboyant — or unpredictable — than Rep. L. Mendel Rivers. The South Carolinian with the dramatic mane of silver hair and a manner to go with it is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

He might have come out of one of William Faulkner's novels of the Snopeses, the poor boy rising to power and position in the remnants of the aristocratic South. Seniority gave him his chairmanship and he exercises his power with the imperial touch. As for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, when he comes to Capitol Hill to testify the chairman looks on him frowningly as an emissary from a hostile power.

Rivers is planning the kind of mission to Puerto Rico that he led last January. He orders an Air Force plane — using Air Force planes to commute to Charleston and wherever the whim directs him he considers his prerogative — that will take a number of committee members to Ramey Air Force base near San Juan. There in early January they will plot the strategy to give McNamara his coup d'etat.

THE REPUBLICANS with their victory of 47 seats in the House will carry far more weight in the committee than they did in the 89th Congress. If they decide to make the "anti-ballistic missile gap" a political issue it would be surprising not to find Chairman Rivers giving them tacit and perhaps open support. He fed the committee last year in adding nearly $1 billion to the defense appropriation that McNamara insisted the Defense Department did not need or want.

Committee members, most of them on the conservative side, are singularly susceptible to the pressures of big contractors who are part of what President Eisenhower called in his farewell address the military-industrial complex. In his zeal to keep the shipyards of his native state in operation Rivers has had a running battle with McNamara for approval of two nuclear-powered frigates. The frigates are still an angry gleam in Rivers' eye. Understandably in view of the enormous complexity of the decision on the anti-ballistic missile, members of the committee with the best will in the world are likely to be swayed by emotions. The whole matter is shrouded in secrecy. The National Intelligence Estimate, revealing what the Soviets have done to place anti-ballistic missiles, is a top-secret document for the eyes of a half-dozen policymakers.

THE STORY, so far as it is known, is as follows: About five and a half years ago the Russians began to build the sites for anti-ballistic missiles around their principal cities. After somewhat more than a year the operation was suspended. The reason for the suspension is conjecture — the possibility that they were devising more sophisticated devices for destroying incoming missiles at a much greater height and at a distance of several hundred miles from the target. Then a year ago they began to build a more extensive system.

McNamara will say only that despite rumors that the Soviet system is potentially more effective than any official is ready to acknowledge he considers the National Intelligence Estimate valid. On this basis he reaffirms his 1964 statement that there is no break in the stalemate foreseeable into the '70s. If either of the two scorpions should try a first-strike knockout the result would be death for both.

AT BUDGET time in recent years the pressure in the Pentagon has built up for a go-ahead on the anti-ballistic missile — first it was the Nike Zeus, later the Nike X. McNamara has agreed to about a half-billion dollars a year for advanced research on a system its proponents believe to be more sophisticated than that of the Soviets. This adds up to an investment of several billions, stopping short of actual production. One of the extras the

Lowering Speed Limit
Not The Solution

To the Editor:

In my humble opinion, lowering the speed on our federal highway through town is not the solution to our problem. Our local people continue to cross Clark's Lane without waiting. Of course, this could happen to me tomorrow if I got absent minded.

I know for a fact that at least six of those accidents were caused by people over 65. Because the problem has touched my life at least twice with relatives, I am all for people over 65 taking a drivers test every two years. Are you aware of the fact some drivers can't even see or hear? I tried so hard to get a resolution through in my own political party but I was turned down.

My friends say, "Well, you are going to be 69 some day." So what? If I can't pass a drivers test I have no business taking my life and all the other drivers' lives in my middle-aged hands! I am sorry to tell you my sympathy is with the people passing through town. What a shock to their people hundreds of miles away.

Mrs. G. M. Grabow

Rivers committee threw into the last budget was $167,900,000 for Nike above and beyond McNamara's request.

It has been said on apparently good authority that the United States has undertaken at the highest level to assure the Soviet on the score of the anti-ballistic missile. If you don't build it, we won't. That has been the tenor of these assurances.

BUT IN THE opinion of the most seasoned Kremlinologists this has not prevailed against a deep and growing undercurrent of fear. Marshall D. Shulman of Harvard's Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy and an associate of the Russian Research Center there, wrote recently in the Washington Post after a stay in the Soviet Union that almost everyone he talked to believed the Johnson Administration was on a course of conquest. They simply did not credit the President with sincerity in his expressed desire to improve relations with the Communist world.

McNamara has always been confident that the United States with its fabulous productive system could afford whatever the nation's defense needs might be. He cannot escape seeing now, however, that the cost of the Vietnam War is cutting deeply into programs for domestic reform. And if on top of this $5 billion or so a year is added for a Nike X system of questionable value the cuts will be even deeper.

Law Sanctions Limited Use Of Informers

WASHINGTON (AP) — In careful language the Supreme Court has sanctioned limited government use of informers and undercover agents to combat crime.

That, in sum, is the essence of the court's actions Monday in upholding the convictions of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, former union lawyer Z.T. Osborn Jr., and Duke Lee Lewis, a small-time narcotics peddler.

But the justices moved cautiously as they endorsed, in special circumstances, government gambits that some of them found displeasing.

Hoffa, Osborn and Lewis of Boston all claimed they had been tricked by the government: Hoffa by a paid Justice Department informer recruited from union ranks, Osborn through a tape recorder strapped to the back of a man he thought was working for him and Lewis by a federal agent posing as a marijuana customer.

But their claims did not cause the court to reverse their convictions. Hoffa's eight-year prison sentence for jury tampering was affirmed 6 to 1, Osborn's bribery conviction was upheld 8

The right of privacy, even against government intrusion, is protected by the prohibition the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution puts on "unreasonable searches and seizures."

However, the high court has taken varying views on whether it is an insurmountable bar against government action.

Monday the court found in the circumstances of the three cases before it sufficient reason to tip the scales in favor of what Chief Justice Earl Warren called "official deception in order to gather evidence for criminal prosecutions."

Justice Potter Stewart, in the controlling opinion in the Hoffa case, took pains to point out that government informer Edward Grady Partin, a fellow Teamsters official, did not enter Hoffa's hotel suite "by force or by stealth."

Partin reported back to the government that Hoffa was trying to bribe members of a federal jury trying him in Nashville, Tenn., on a conspiracy charge.

Hoffa, said Stewart, "was not relying on the security of the hotel room; he was relying upon his misplaced confidence that Partin would not reveal his wrongdoing."

Vietnam Plans Changes in Armed Forces

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Under American prodding, South Vietnam finally is undertaking a program to improve leadership in its armed forces.

The action comes nearly six years after the United States embarked on a major advisory effort here.

For the first time, the Vietnamese command has installed a promotion system based on merit rather than political preference.

Some facets of the program are meeting resistance, sources said. Controversy swirls chiefly around measures designed to eliminate deadwood from the Vietnamese officer corps.

Many U.S. military men long have complained privately of inadequate leadership in the South Vietnamese army.

These Americans have charged that substandard field leadership has been responsible for lack of aggressiveness and initiative, and ineffectiveness of many Vietnamese units.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the top U.S. commander in Vietnam, became alarmed last spring at what sources said was a deterioration in already questionable Vietnamese leadership, particularly in the Third Corps encompassing 11 provinces and Saigon.

He drew up a formal note to the Vietnamese command expressing his concern. The Westmoreland memo started machinery that now is producing reforms.

N.Y. Schools Ask Funds for Young Mothers

NEW YORK (AP) — The city school system, proposing a record billion-dollar budget, has requested $300,000 to provide pregnant teen-age pupils with instruction in child care while continuing their education.

The program, which calls for two new special teaching facilities, was included in a $1.09-billion school budget for 1967 submitted Sunday night by Superintendent of Schools Bernard E. Donovan. The centers would take in about 400 mothers-to-be each year.

School officials said there were 1,876 known pregnancies among the 200,000 adolescent girls attending the city's public schools last year. The figure, they said, represented an increase of 20 per cent over the previous year.

Under current procedures, pregnant pupils are suspended from classes, but permitted to return to a different school after the child's birth. Each could enter approved shelters during her pregnancy.

WAYNE, Pa. (AP) — Not every alumnus returning to Valley Forge Military Academy gets a parade in his honor — but then not every alumnus is a member of royalty.

New Book Irks Kennedy Family, Chicagoans Told

CHICAGO (AP) — A book commissioned by the family of John F. Kennedy to describe the aftermath of his assassination has aroused their anger, the Chicago Daily News says.

The family "is engaged in a strange and bitter struggle to delete" Mrs. Kennedy's recollections from "The Death of a President" written by William Manchester, according to Peter Lisagor, Daily News Washington bureau chief.

Lisagor quoted one person who had read the manuscript as saying, "Jackie now regrets having poured out her soul to Manchester as if he were a psychiatrist." Manchester was selected by the Kennedys to write the book.

The Daily News story said: "The manuscript is understood to contain hitherto unpublished material involving President Johnson and the Kennedys. These details are likely to increase existing tension between Mr. Johnson and the Kennedy clan."

The book is to be published by Harper & Row and serialized in four installments in Look magazine starting Jan. 10.

Donner Sees Good Year for Auto Industry

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto industry may be heading for one of its best years in history in 1967, Frederic G. Donner, chairman of General Motors Corp., said Monday.

In a year-end statement on the U.S. economic outlook, Donner predicted that total retail sales of motor vehicles "could well exceed our long-term" estimate of 10 1/2 million cars and trucks in 1967.

But the chairman of the nation's biggest auto firm added: "Economic developments in 1967 will be importantly influenced by the magnitude of the resources required for Vietnam and the nature and extent of government actions in the areas of monetary and fiscal policy."

If Donner's prediction holds true, 1967 would rank third in total vehicles sold.

The GM chief said motor vehicle — cars, trucks, buses, etc. — sales this year will total about 10.6 million units, second only to the record volume of more than 10.8 million in 1965. The 1967 model cars went on sale late in September, and Donner said that for October and November "the annual rate of sales is above the normal trend estimate for 1967 and is strong evidence that the industry's 1967 line of cars and trucks have been well received."

Highway Beauty Plaque Stolen

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — A bronze plaque Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson dedicated to scenic highway beauty last September is missing from its chiseled bed in a granite rock at the edge of state Highway 1 about 18 miles south of Monterey, near Big Sur.

Monterey County sheriff's deputies noticed the disappearance Sunday on a routine patrol. The plaque, 18 by 24 inches, designates Highway 1 as a national scenic highway. It had been bolted to the rock along the highway.

Second Medical School Sought In Minnesota

ST. PAUL (AP) — A governor's commission says it's essential that Minnesota start a second medical school, but has declined to suggest a location or sponsor.

Instead, the 33-member Commission on Health and Rehabilitation asked Monday that the 1967 Legislature appropriate $500,000 to finance a study.

There have been two major proposals for a new medical school — by the Northern Association for Medical Education in St. Paul and by the Mayo Clinic in Rochester.

The University of Minnesota has been generally opposed to the St. Paul proposal and has voiced concern that any new school be connected in some way with the university.

The university now has the only medical school in the state. It has proposed an eventual expansion from its present 100-member graduating class to 200, and this was approved by the governor's group.

The commission's resolution asks that the $500,000 study include decisions on a site for a new school, its financial support and its relationships with existing institutions of higher learning.

The governor's commission did not recommend any specific group to make the study. It was suggested that an interim commission of legislators, a combination of legislators and others, or some outside group make the study.

A House subcommittee headed by Rep. Richard Fitzsimons of Argyle has been studying the medical school proposal and is expected to report soon after the 1967 session opens.

The commission's resolution said the projected need for physicians in Minnesota and nationally "far exceeds the anticipated

Hole in Boy's Heart Closed

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Philippe Pichon, 8, Saint-Chamond, France, was released Monday from St. Mary's Hospital where he underwent heart surgery two weeks ago.

A Mayo Clinic spokesman said Philippe probably could return to France on Friday, after seeing Mayo doctors as an outpatient the next few days.

In open heart surgery Nov. 30 doctors closed a hole between the pumping chambers of his heart and also repaired a defective heart valve.

Philippe and his mother were able to make the trip to this world medical center through a $10,000 fund raised by LeDauphine-Libere, a daily newspaper at Grenoble, France.

Fewer Hunters Out at Ripley

CAMP RIPLEY, Minn. (AP) — Below zero weather held down the number of bow and arrow deer hunters visiting Camp Ripley over the weekend and the bag was small.

Six deer were taken by 512 hunters Saturday and Sunday. Walt Petraborg, Brainerd, area game biologist, said bowmen reported seeing more deer, however.

Reservation hunting zones one and two will be open next weekend, last of the December archery deer season.

ed capacity of existing educational facilities."

A second school, the group concluded, "is essential to the future health and welfare of the people of Minnesota."

The commission was appointed by Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag.

Dean Robert Howard of the university medical school said he has heard some discussion of proposals for installing pre-medical training at the university's Duluth campus.

Court Test Over Driver Training Seen

ST. PAUL (AP) — A court challenge may be in store for a State Board of Education requirement that commercial driver training schools hire only licensed school teachers to train teen-age drivers.

The board voted 3-2 Monday to approve the regulation, effective next year. The vote followed several hours of discussion.

The plan drew considerable criticism from representatives of commercial driving schools at a hearing last week.

An attorney for a dozen Twin Cities area driving schools, Roger Sax, said his group may challenge the regulation in court.

The regulation has a "grandfather clause" which will cover all persons now employed in commercial schools. These instructors will be allowed to teach teen-agers through 1968 but then must obtain 12 quarter-credits of college training in driver education.

New driving instructors hired after Jan. 1 next year must be certified teachers with the same requirements as those for public school driver programs.

The regulation applies only to teachers who provide driver training for youngsters in the 15- to 18-year age group. Persons who instruct adults need no special license from the state.

Under a 1965 law, the minimum age for licensed drivers goes from 16 to 18 on Jan. 1, unless an applicant has completed an approved driver education course.

This change is expected to produce a rush of applicants for driver training, both in public and commercial schools.

Under the new regulation, commercial schools must have their course offerings approved by the state Department of Education.

D.C. Gearhart of St. Paul, a member of the state board, predicted that public school teachers looking for a second job will wind up doing double duty for the commercial schools.

"This will open the way for a moonlighting program for our teachers like we've never seen," Gearhart said.

Gearhart and J. T. McDermott, Minneapolis, voted against

Galesville Area Home Damaged

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — The Clarence Lebakken home in Abrahams Coulee between Galesville and Ettrick was badly damaged by fire Saturday night.

Galesville firemen answered the alarm about 8 p.m. It was not determined whether the fire was caused by an overheated chimney or by wiring. The attic above the kitchen was burned. The front wall of the house was chopped out so firemen could reach the blaze. Much damage was done by water. The Lebakkens have insurance.

the regulation. Gearhart argued there was no need for a commercial instructor to have the same training as a public school teacher.

In other action, the board approved a request to the 1967 legislature to raise state school aids to a point where they will pay for 50 per cent of local school costs in an average district.

The same figure had been recommended earlier by the Department of Education. The department estimates the 50 per cent aid program will cost $535 million in the next two years, an increase of $127 million over the present program.

School aids are the largest single item in the state budget. The board also approved proposals to require all territory in the state to become part of a high school district by mid-1969, and for a new law governing private trade schools.

Carlton Boy To Stand Trial As an Adult

CARLTON, Minn. (AP) — Unless he's found to be insane, a 15-year-old boy accused in the stabbing death of a girl schoolmate will stand trial as an adult.

The youth is accused in the death of Kathleen Marie Bodie, 15, of Cloquet. The girl was found dead Nov. 17 on the stage of the Cloquet High School band room.

At a hearing Monday in juvenile court here, Judge Ladean Overlie certified the youth to the county attorney's office for prosecution as an adult. However, Assistant County Atty.

Leonard A. Wilson declined to accept the certification pending results of a psychiatric examination.

Wilson requested, and Judge Overlie granted, a 90-day stay. It was ordered that the youth undergo psychiatric examination at University of Minnesota Hospitals, Minneapolis.

The order of Judge Overlie meant that juvenile court jurisdiction of the case continues for 90 days. The judge emphasized that the boy's name will not be released while the case is under juvenile court control.

If the boy is found to be sane, he will go on trial in District Court and a grand jury will be summoned to determine what charges should be brought against him. If found mentally ill, the boy will be brought before the Carlton County Probate

Court, of which Overlie also is the judge.

The motion for study of the boy was made after written reports were presented by Alfred J. Welberg, Duluth attorney who is the youth's legal counsel. It was reported that the youth was taken into custody Nov. 23, and has been undergoing psychiatric examination the past two weeks. The examinations were conducted by Dr. L. R. Gowan Sr., while the boy has been in custody at the juvenile wing in

Cancer Unit Serves Through Volunteer Help

(Editor's Note: This is the last in the series of articles on cancer by the Winona Unit of the American Cancer Society.)

Knowledge is power. It can be the power to save lives, including one's own. With a hopeful but realistically aware attitude towards cancer, individuals form the habit of annual complete "physical" checkups, learn the warning signals and seek medical advice if a signal appears.

It is through the combined efforts of volunteers that the unit serves the community.

The education chairman, Mrs. Chester Breitenfeldt, makes available more than 30 films to any group interested in viewing them. A vast amount of literature is also available.

Service to cancer patients is a deep concern of the Society. Economists Expect Increase in 1967 Food Prices

Economists at the U.S. Department of Agriculture report that the cost of food, like the cost of most other things, will continue to edge upward in 1967. The increase is not expected to match the price increases of 1966.

Reduced beef supplies will more than likely mean higher beef prices, particularly after midyear. Dairy prices probably will increase further and consumers can expect another rise in the price of cereal and bakery products. Fat and oils, too, may cost more; potato prices should remain about the same.

On the bright side for consumers, the forecast is for generous supplies of pork, poultry, and eggs — meaning lower prices for these items. Citrus fruits, too, should be less expensive in 1967.

Mr. Robert P. Olson is heading the speakers bureau and is available to speak to any group interested in learning more about the program.

William Truaxes Celebrate Golden Wedding

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. William Truax were honored Sunday on their 50th wedding anniversary by 200 relatives and friends who met in Fellowship Hall of Living Hope Lutheran Church.

Hosts for the occasion were the couple's five sons, Kenneth, Wayne, Robert and Ronald, all of Ettrick, and Richard, Kenosha, Wis.

Flowers and decorations used on the anniversary table were gifts of the couple's children and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Runestrand and Mrs. E. O. Runestrand. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Truax, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served as attendants. Fred Truax, a grandson, welcomed the guests. Solos were sung by Howard Tjoflat. A niece, Mrs. Victor Folkedahl, arranged the program.

The Rev. Harold Asland addressed the group. Songs and instrumental numbers were given by grandchildren of the couple accompanied by Mrs. Vilken Pederson with Mrs. Folkedahl mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Rose Hegge made the anniversary cake which was served by Mrs. Donald Truax and Vicki Lynne Folkedahl, nieces of the couple. Mmes. Folkedahl, Marlin Wehrenberg, West Salem, Wis.; Misses Cheryl and Margaret Truax, granddaughters; and members of Naomi Circle, Lutheran Church Women, assisted at the reception.

William Truax and Clara Runestrand were married Dec. 27, 1916 at the First Lutheran Church parsonage, Blair, Wis., with the Rev. S. S. Urberg officiating. Their attendants were the late Cora Truax, sister of the groom, and Alfred Runestrand, brother of the bride.

Man Freed After Serving 5-Year Term

ST. PAUL (AP) — Wesley Tucker, 36, has been freed after serving more than five years in prison for the death of another man. He was improperly charged, a judge ruled.

Tucker pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the death of Stephen Plumley, 27, of St. Paul, whose body was found May 17, 1961, in northern Ramsey County near Sucker Lake. He said the two had been trying out a 30-caliber pistol.

Tucker, who served more than five years in Stillwater State Prison, was ordered released by Washington County District Judge William Johnson.

Tucker had been charged with causing the death while committing a misdemeanor — discharging a gun in a game preserve. Johnson said such a charge would have been proper only if the misdemeanor were committed against the victim.

Ramsey County District Judge Robert V. Rensch freed Tucker Monday after Assistant County Atty. Paul Lindholm told the judge that the facts in the case are unchanged and the statute of limitations prevents any new charge.

Ideas Save Millions For U.S. Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission said today a record $123 million was saved by cost-cutting suggestions offered by federal employees in the year ended last June 30.

In a report to President Johnson, Commission Chairman John W. Macy Jr. said 140,779 employee suggestions were adopted during the period. He said employees received $4.2 million in awards for their adopted suggestions.

Three Resign From Public Schools Staff

Resignations of three members of the Winona public schools staff were accepted Monday night by the Board of Education which then acted to appoint replacements to fill each of the vacancies on the staff.

The resignations were received from Mrs. Linda Byerly, first grade teacher at Washington-Kosciusko School, to be effective Dec. 21; Gordon Ferguson, area coordinator for the farm management program administered through the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School, effective Jan. 15, and Mrs. Claire Fleishman, part-time English instructor, effective Jan. 16.

Mrs. Fred Von Fischer, 567 Sunset Dr., was appointed to the first grade position at Washington-Kosciusko and will be paid on the basis of an annual salary of $8,180.

Lowell Hyatt, who has been an agriculture instructor at Long Prairie, Minn., was hired to replace Ferguson at a salary of $225 a week, and Mary Alice Kerrigan, a graduate student at La Crosse State University, will teach the two English classes at Winona Senior High School for the remainder of the school year at a salary of $1,441.

In another action Monday night the board formally approved the color schedule for the new Winona Area Vocational-Technical School.

The color scheme for the interior of the new school now under construction on Homer Road had been submitted to directors for their consideration a week ago by W-Smith Architectural & Engineering Services, architects for the project.

The first badminton club was formed at Bath, England, in 1873.

TEACHERS CITE

parisons on teacher's starting salaries and average family income is really fair. After all, during this period the starting teacher of 1961 has received annual increments. Wouldn't it be more fair to compare the teacher's starting salary in 1961 with the average income in that year and his salary on the fifth step in 1965 with the income of that year?"

Director - at - Large David Wynne wanted to know if the average Winona family income figures mentioned by the teachers represented income after taxes and Miller said they did.

He said other studies had indicated income increased somewhat greater than the 20.3 percent figure that had been used.

MILLER SAID that the principal item to be considered in scheduling for the next contract year would be the base starting salary and that "after agreement of an index philosophy we don't have to haggle over individual steps."

Board President Lawrence Santelman observed, "When we adopted, or used, an index guide last year there was no commitment at that time to the use of the index guide or to a future change from last year's to a second or third year plan. Is that how you recall the board action, too?"

Miller referred to a Daily News account of a salary meeting last winter in which Wynne was quoted as asking the teachers whether they would be satisfied if the board took an initial step toward adoption of the index without the thought that such a philosophy would be used in future wage action, without a specific commitment for the three years mentioned by the teachers.

THE ACCOUNT of that meeting stated that the teachers had said they thought the acceptance of the philosophy of index scheduling was the most important matter at that time.

Miller said, however, that he, personally, would stand on the philosophy of continuing with a second year of the plan.

45 Minutes - Secretary Problem Still Unsolved

In what appeared to be an unequal contest, the City Council, Mayor R. K. Ellings and six members of city health and planning departments struggled for 45 minutes Monday night with a problem of an upcoming secretarial vacancy.

The problem won. No decision was reached and further action will await more study, all participants agreed after a three-quarter-hour verbal wrangle.

PURPOSE of the advance meeting, which began at 6:30 p.m., was to reshuffle secretarial assignments in connection with the transfer of City Housing Administrator Roy Vose and City Planning Coordinator H. E. Hippe to a separately staffed office. The two administrators had requested services of a full-time secretary, to be transferred from her present post in the health department.

How to apportion the work of the vacated position among present personnel without additional hiring was the question that played iceberg to the council's Titanic.

A proposal by Sanitary Inspector Ted Schima that a half-day receptionist be hired for the vacant spot was almost summarily dismissed. A. J. James Stoltman, chairman of the council health and welfare committee, proposed that some of the work be assigned to the public health nursing department secretary.

SUPPORT for this idea came from Dr. W. W. Haesly, health department head. He suggested work be divided among the two secretaries, with the department's laboratory technician filling in on telephone and stenographic duty in available hours.

This plan became clouded after conferees listened to a long recitation of present duties of the nursing department's secretary.

Pooled telephone arrangements, central switchboards and centralized City Hall secretarial services cropped up in discussions.

ALD. George Garber finally proposed that written descriptions of the jobs involved be prepared for council review. It would be easier, he argued, to come to an agreement on the basis of written rather than oral statements of need, availability of individuals and respective work loads.

As Ald. Stoltman adjourned the meeting, it appeared this suggestion would be followed. Meanwhile, the expected secretarial transfer, scheduled for Friday, is still in effect, as far as could be determined.

Bond Issue for School Loses At Crookston

CROOKSTON, Minn. (AP) — A school bond proposal lost out in an election here Monday, for the second time in two months. Proposed issue of $2,650,000 in bonds to build a new senior high school received 1,273 opposition votes to only 583 in favor.

Voters also were asked whether $325,000 in bonds should be issued for construction of a swimming pool in conjunction with the school. The vote was 1,388 to 421 against the pool proposal.

The two issues would have totaled $2,975,000. In October voters rejected three - to - one a proposed $3,720,000 bond issue for the school and pool. In Monday's election, the school and pool proposals were separate and the total had been reduced.

$60,000 Fire At Mink Ranch

NISSWA, Minn. (AP) — Fire caused an estimated $60,000 smoke damage Monday night to a large quantity of mink hides and equipment at the Vernon Carkhuff mink ranch near Nisswa.

Carkhuff, who made the estimate, said he had been working in a ranch building cleaning hides and had gone to his home about 200 feet away when the fire broke out.

Carkhuff said that when he returned to the building and opened the door, he was blown back by smoke and flame. Cause of the blaze was not known. Carkhuff valued the skins at about $50,000.

Station Wagon Bids Asked Second Time

New advertisements for bids on a city electrical inspector's station wagon were authorized Monday night by the City Council.

The council rejected the single bid it received Nov. 21 in response to a prior advertisement. The price quoted was $2,225. Some aldermen laid the lack of competitive bids to what they called unduly restrictive specifications. The requirements did not allow bidding on smaller compact models, they argued, because of a 118-inch minimum wheelbase provision.

The new specifications set minimum wheelbase at 115 inches. According to Ald. Jerry Borzyskowski, this will permit bids to be submitted on four or five additional standard models in various makes.

Bids will be opened Jan. 3. The council was notified that one of the city public health nurses, Mrs. Neil Sawyer, will resign effective Dec. 31. No replacement has been named.

A letter from Dr. James Kahl, milk sanitarian, advised the council of impending changes in the U.S. Public Health Service and State Department of Health regulations relating to milk products. When such changes go into effect, wrote Dr. Kahl, the city should amend its own ordinance to conform. He did not spell out the changes which will become effective at state and national levels July 1, 1967.

Terms of each of the ward directors is four years and that of the director-at-large, two years.

Filings for school board seats for the primary elections in February and general election in April will open Dec. 27 and close at 5 p.m. Jan. 9.

The board Monday night formally authorized arrangements to be made for the clearing of brush and scrub trees from an area of privately owned property adjacent to the site of the new Senior High School near the west end of Lake Winona.

Vocational School Curriculum OKed

Approval of a list of some 18 course offerings considered for the curriculum of the Winona Area Vocational - Technical School when it occupies its new building on Homer Road next fall was voted Monday night by the Board of Education.

Thomas W. Raine, director of the vocational-technical school, explained that board approval of the course offerings was required at this time because a prospectus is being prepared for distribution throughout the area to advise prospective students of what training they may receive at the Winona area school.

IN ANSWER to several questions by board members, Raine emphasized that the fact that a course might be listed in the brochure did not necessarily mean that it would be included in the curriculum next fall.

He said that only those courses for which need was established and a sufficient number of students enrolled would be organized. Explaining that he probably wouldn't know until June what enrollments might be expected, Raine said he wanted approval of the course offerings now "only so we can print our brochure. Then we'll see what results and the enrollment demands will determine which courses will be offered."

FOURTH Ward Director Daniel Sadowski said that he was primarily interested in development of a strong vocational school here "and not in just putting up a building and then trying to fill it with students."

Raine replied that his only interest, too, was in the development of a strong school and added that this was exactly to what he was devoting himself now.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson said he felt that "a vocational school should introduce new courses, phase them out as situations change and as the needs of society dictate."

Dr. C. W. Rogers, 3rd Ward, commented, "I know that in the past there have been a lot of courses we've offered with some fear. Most of them filled up and turned out to be quite successful."

NELSON ALSO noted that no course can be offered in the school without the approval of the state Department of Education.

In a general discussion of the proposed curriculum of the school when it occupies its new quarters, Raine said that three courses will be offered as a core curriculum for students in most of the program specialties in the school.

"These will be courses in American institutions and human relations; communications, touching on oral, written and graphic areas, and basic mathematics."

At this time, he said, these areas, for the most part, are treated only incidentally, if at all, but it's felt that they are important to an overall vocational-technical school program.

COURSES To be offered initially in the new school building, and those which may be added later, Raine said, can be grouped into five of what he describes as "occupational trade clusters."

These groupings include "Service" embracing courses in clerical, waitress, food preparation, nurse's aide instruction, among others; "Technical," such as drafting, electronics, agriculture, automotive work and others; "Business," covering secretarial, general office, accounting, sales management and data processing, for example; "Mechanical," which includes welding, auto mechanics and others; and "Licensed Occupations," like cosmetology and practical nursing.

State Highway Patrolmen stopped 390 cars and tagged 101 motorists in Winona County over the weekend as part of the patrol's statewide traffic saturation crackdown.

Violations included speeding, invalid licenses, faulty equipment and similar traffic infractions, the Highway Patrol said.

A total of 1,290 auto checks and 155 arrests were made throughout the state over the weekend by the patrol.

The weekend saturation patrols will continue through New Year's weekend in various parts of the state.

Equipment Bids Authorized for New High School

Authorization for an advertisement for bids for equipment in six areas of the new Winona Senior High School now under construction near the west end of Lake Winona was voted Monday night by the Board of Education.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told directors that there are some 22 areas in which purchases must be made for equipment and furnishing — including certain seeding, sodding, landscaping and blacktopping of the school grounds — and that in some cases delivery time is a critical factor.

HE SAID that it has been established quite definitely what equipment will be needed for the library, language laboratory, speech laboratory, art department furnishings and gymnasium scoreboard installations.

Since these needs are known and to insure that delivery will be made in time for the scheduled occupancy of the new school next fall, Nelson asked for and was granted permission to advertise for bids on these items.

In discussing the equipment needs, the superintendent said that it had been determined that library shelving purchased from a commercial supplier would probably cost about $6,600.

HE SAID that he'd learned that the Iowa State Prison at Fort Madison manufactures this shelving, distributes it in a wide area and that the cost, if purchased from the prison, might be only about half of what it would be from a commercial supplier.

Nelson asked whether any board member would object to purchasing the shelving from the prison if a substantial saving could be realized.

TEXAS WESTERN SECOND

UCLA Unanimous Choice in Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There is no threat this week to UCLA's standing as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll because the powerful Bruins are not scheduled. Second-ranked Texas Western and fourth-ranked Kentucky, though, seem to have difficult tasks ahead.

Texas Western meets fifth-ranked New Mexico Friday while Kentucky faces sixth-ranked North Carolina Tuesday.

UCLA was a unanimous choice in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday. The Bruins were placed in the top position by all 36 selectors on the national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Bruins, 3-0, defeated Duke twice last week, 88-54 Friday and 107-87 Saturday. The No. 1 team does not play again until Dec. 22 when it takes on Colorado State.

Texas Western, 5-0, held second place after defeating East Texas, Pan American and Southern Methodist.

Louisville switched places with Kentucky, the Cardinals moving to third and the Wildcats slipping to fourth. Louisville beat Southwestern Louisiana and Southern Illinois while Kentucky lost to Illinois in overtime and came back to down Northwestern.

New Mexico, winner over Loyola of Los Angeles and Texas Tech, advanced one place to fifth.

North Carolina, Brigham Young, Michigan State, Houston and Cincinnati complete the first ten in that order.

Michigan State, 4-0 including

Victories last week over South Dakota and Wichita State, is the only new team in the rankings. The Spartans replaced Duke, which has lost three of four games.

Houston, only member of the Top Ten to play Monday night, shrugged off four technical fouls and buried visiting St. Mary's, Calif., 90-74 for its fifth victory in six starts.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points on a 10-9-8 scale, are:

1. UCLA (36) 360
2. Texas Western 316
3. Louisville 207
4. Kentucky 149
5. New Mexico 137
6. North Carolina 134
7. Brigham Young 125
8. Michigan St. 108
9. Houston 63
10. Cincinnati 57

Polachek Electric Reshuffles Top Ten

The Polachek Electric team of the Pin Topplers League at Westgate Bowl had another big night Monday night, and as a result, the city top ten list for this year has undergone another shakeup.

Polachek slammed 981-2, 739 Monday night. Back on Dec. 5, the same team had cracked 967-2,752. That 2,752 is still the highest women's team series of the season. The 2,739 ranks third. The 981 game fired Monday night is second only to a 1,023 of Fenske's.

Isabelle Rozek also got into the top ten, smashing a 234 game that led to a 528 series for Main Tavern. The 234 is fifth high this season.

Helen Nelson had 568 for Watkins Mary King. Other 500s were collected by Marge Moravec with 220-563, Betty Englerth 549, Helen Englerth 539, Yvonne Carpenter 519, Irene Trimmer 513, Les Krage 512, Ruth Hopf 225-510 and Gladys Roetzler 500.

The men failed to stir up much of anything. Gordy Addington's 596 was the highest series in the city, rolled for Oasis Bar-Cafe in the City League at Hal-Rod Lanes. Herb Lea had 227 for Country Kitchen, while Speed Wash smashed 1,057-2,855. George Kratz had a 515 errorless.

Another near - 600 came from the Monday League at the Winona Athletic Club where Paul Maliszewski slammed 225-591 for First National Bank, leading his team to 2,802. Super Saver had 888.

WESTGATE: Teman Benson spurred Benson Feed Mill to 1,005-2,966 with his 556 in the Community League. Clarence Loer had a 566 for Sugar Loaf Inn, and Wally Marquardt laced 226 for Happy Chef.

In the Alley Cater's circuit, Fenske Body Shop blasted 2-567 behind Arlene Kessler's 527. Janice Drakowski sparked Mohan Window & Siding to 897 with her 199-200. Pat Grossell had a 521 for Fenske.

Mary Emmons' 176 paced Haddad's to 890-2,437 in the Ladies League. Arlene Soback had 475 for Saffranek's.

Gene Chuchna rapped 172 and Louise Berg 455 in the Nite-Owl League as the pair led Dick's Marine to 2,486. Curley's Floor Shop registered 892.

RED MEN: Ron Vondrashek hammered 187-495 to lead Doerer's to 971-2,806 in the Monday Nite league.

1,000-POINT MEN CLASH

Blair, Eleva-Strum Headline Dairyland

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer
STRUM, Wis. — Two of the most outstanding area basketball performers will meet head-on tonight when Eleva-Strum entertains Blair in a Dairyland Conference encounter.

The ringleader for the visiting Blair quintet is 5-9 senior guard Dean Dale who currently leads the Dairyland in scoring with a 23-point average. Dale has been a regular since his freshman year when he started for Trempealeau High School. As a sophomore, junior and now a senior, he has been a vital cog in the Blair attack with a total of over 1,000 points in his high school career.

Eleva-Strum, which has won the Dairyland Conference for the past two years but has an uphill battle this season after dropping two loop encounters, also has a 1,000-point producer in 6-2 guard Roger Tollefson.

Tollefson stands second in this year's conference scoring with a 22.3 average. He bagged his 1,000th point last week in a victory over Cochrane-Pountain City and now has 1,007 to his credit.

Game time is 8 p.m. The two teams display opposites in basketball strategy.

Blair, 3-1 this season and 2-1 in conference play, is small and likes to fastbreak and press. The Cardinals' tallest man is 6-0 Nick Misch, while the leading rebounder is 5-10 Al Grass.

Eleva-Strum, on the other hand, has 6-4 Vince Brian at center, 6-2 Tom Olson and 6-0 Gary Barenson at forwards along with Tollefson and 5-10 Mark Nymo at guards.

"If we can handle their press and play our style of ball instead of trying to run with them, I think we can hurt them," said Eleva-Strum coach Dick Salava who has seen his team lose three of four this year. "We haven't done as well as I had anticipated. We don't work the ball well, mostly because these boys haven't played together much before."

Salava plans nothing special in an attempt to stop Dale.

Tollefson will get the defensive assignment.

As for Blair coach Jim Bade, nothing special will be attempted to stop Tollefson either.

"He's their biggest threat, but we won't overplay him," Bade said. "This Brian and Olson can both score, too."

Blair will go with its full court man-to-man press in an effort to keep Eleva-Strum from getting the ball to its big man.

"We'll have a tough time on rebounds," said Bade. "If they get by our press, we'll have to shoot a very good percentage to beat them."

Besides Dale, Grass and Misch, Lee Traberg and Rod Anderson will be in the starting lineup for Blair.

The Dairyland Conference is the only league with a round of play tonight. All other games are nonconference.

Eaton Signs New Contract At Wyoming

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming's Pokes have compiled an over-all 32-16-2 record.

The University of Wyoming has agreed to a new contract to remain at the Cowboy gridiron helm through January 1970, with automatic renewal upon mutual consent into 1973.

The university's trustees announced Monday the contract signing but the amount of Eaton's contract was not made public.

During his five years at Wyoming, the Pokes have compiled an over-all 32-16-2 record.

Patriots Feel Like Champions

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Patriots have a championship feeling, as well as playoff money fever, in riding atop the American Football League's Eastern Division with just one game left in the title race.

"We now feel like champions," high-scoring Gino Cappelletti said in the wake of the Patriots' 30-14 victory at Houston Sunday. "We didn't freeze after falling behind 7-0. We had the composure of a champion — and it's a feeling that goes a long way."

The Patriots strengthened their hold on the Eastern lead, but need a victory or a tie against the Jets at New York Saturday to be sure of the title. A victory by runner-up Buffalo over Denver and a Boston loss would give the Bills the crown.

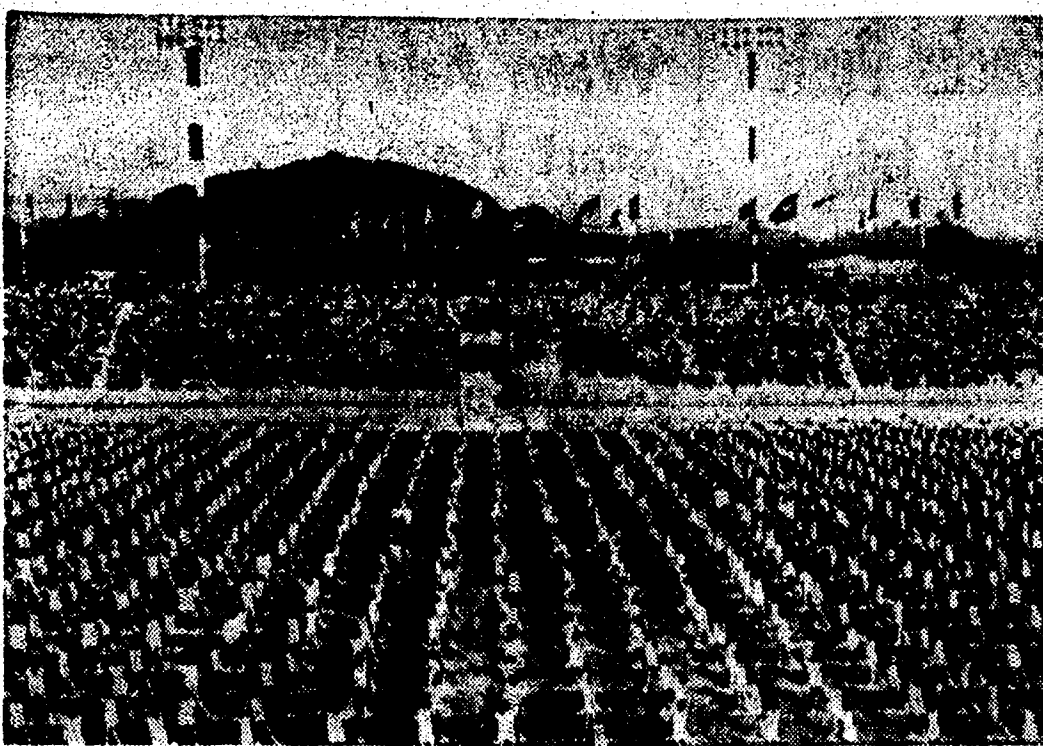

Despite a 24-24 tie with the Jets earlier in the season at Boston, the Patriots are confident of finishing with a victory and earning a shot at home against Kansas City, the Western champion, for the AFL crown.

Jets, Giants Hold Key to Title Races

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York's pro football buffs, who counted themselves out of the American and National league title races weeks ago, can count themselves back in this weekend.

Although the Jets are going nowhere and the Giants have been there for sometime, each club may hold the key to its league's Eastern Division championship maze.

The Jets, whose hopes for an unprecedented winning season evaporated at San Diego last Sunday, take on the Boston Patriots, pace-setters in the AFL's Eastern race, at Shea Stadium Saturday. The Pats need either a victory or tie to lock up the division crown.

The Giants, most scored-upon club in NFL history, wind up their losing season over Sunday when they entertain the explosive Dallas Cowboys at Yankee Stadium. The Cowboys can wrap up the Eastern Conference title before they take the field if Cleveland beats second-place St. Louis Saturday.

But a Cardinal victory would give the fallen Giants a shot at sidetracking Dallas' title express. The Cowboys then would have to either beat or tie New York to clinch their first division championship since they entered the NFL six years ago.

The Cowboys, with the highest scoring offense in the league, rate three-touchdown favorites over New York, which has yielded a record 484 points in sliding to a 1-11-1 season mark.

The Jets, 5-6-2, are six-point underdogs against the Patriots, 8-3-2, who have dropped only one of their last 10 starts.

The Patriots, who lead Buffalo's defending AFL champs by one-half game in the Eastern stretch race, expect Gino Cappelletti, the league's scoring leader, to be ready for full-time duty. Cappelletti nursed a bruised thigh through last Sunday's 38-14 victory at Houston.

Dallas, the NFL's Eastern crown within its grasp last Sunday, bowed to Washington 34-31. Quarterback Don Meredith, injured in the second period against the Redskins, should be ready to call signals against the Giants, who were drubbed by Pittsburgh 47-28 last Sunday.

Elsewhere Sunday, Green Bay's Western Division kings visit Los Angeles, Baltimore is at San Francisco, Minnesota at Chicago, Philadelphia at Washington and Pittsburgh at Atlanta in NFL play; Denver at Buffalo, Houston at Miami and Kansas City, the Western Division champion, at San Diego in the AFL.

STRUGGLE TO WINDUP OF SEASON

Vikes Won't Have Full Squad

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings, struggling to the wind up of their 1966 National Football League season, won't have a full squad available for duty Sunday at Chicago.

Flanker Jim Phillips will miss the season finale against the Bears, leaving the club with only 39 players — one under the NFL limit.

Coach Norm Van Brocklin said Thursday the club has no one to activate and fill Phillips' spot on the active roster.

Phillips suffered a shoulder separation in a fall during Sunday's 28-16 victory over Detroit. Defensive tackle Gary Larsen had a sore big toe Monday after dislocating it at Detroit Sunday — but is expected to be able to play at Chicago.

Phillips is the 19th Viking player to miss at least one game this season due to injury.

Second-year halfback Dave Osborn may have won himself a starting berth against the Bears with his finest day as a Viking last Sunday at Detroit.

Osborn admitted Monday that he nearly blew his chance to impress Van Brocklin under game conditions. Luckily, Osborn said, he learned to relax in time.

Van Brocklin has admired Osborn's toughness and dedication to football ever since the Vikings signed the 205-pounder out of the University of North Dakota two years ago.

Osborn has always been impressive in training camp, but until Sunday had seldom done the things expected of him in a game.

The result was Van Brocklin kept alternating Osborn and rookie Jim Lindsey at halfback after Tommy Mason got hurt early this year.

"The toughest thing for me," Osborn said Sunday after leading the Minnesota running game against the Lions — one of the National Football League's toughest teams to run against — "has been to learn to relax. I was more relaxed for this game than I've been before."

Then he added: "I was up for this one. In fact, I think the entire team was up."

Osborn rammed 16 times for 62 yards, while Viking fullback

Bill Brown could manage only 32 yards on 18 carries against the rugged Lions defense.

Osborn's best previously was 48 yards in nine carries against Los Angeles last year. He also gained 41 yards on 10 carries against the Rams once this season.

"We've always felt Osborn had the potential," Van Brocklin said, "and he's done well for us on occasion. If he can relax like he did Sunday he can be a big help to us."

For the season, Osborn now has gained 226 yards on 68 carries, a 3.3 average. He's also caught 12 passes for 101 yards, and has scored two touchdowns. Brown still leads the Vikings in rushing with 755 yards on 231 attempts, also a 3.3 average. He needs 112 yards against the Chicago Bears next Sunday in the Vikings' season finale to break his own club record of 886 yards in a season.

Fran Tarkenton now has completed 175 of 322 passes (54.3 per cent) for 2,301 yards and 14 touchdowns. He's had 14 passes intercepted.

Paul Flatley has virtually clinched the Viking pass receiving leadership with 44 catches for 706 yards and three touchdowns. He's within seven catches of matching his season club record of 51. Brown is second with 34 receptions for 300 yards, while Jim Phillips has caught 32 passes for 556 yards.

Johnnies Whip Auggies 78-63

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. John's University's basketball team appears bent on making up for the football team.

The Johnnies whipped Augsburg 78-63 Monday night for a 2-0 Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference record, tying them with St. Thomas for the league lead.

St. John's football team, after dominating the MIAC two of the three previous seasons, dropped to fourth this year.

Other basketball results Monday night saw Mankato State clip State College of Iowa 64-62, while Macalester downed Dakota Wesleyan 72-65.

The only game scheduled to-night has Concordia at North Dakota State, while only the MIAC battle matching Macalester and St. Thomas is on tap for Wednesday.

St. John's hit eight of its first 13 shots for a 19-7 lead and never let up in crushing Augsburg. The Johnnies, who led 41-24 at the half, got 23 points from Tom Melancon, while Ron Nelson netted 17 for Augsburg.

Rich Wanzek's basket in the closing minute gave Mankato its narrow victory. The Indians led 38-27 at the half, but SCI rallied for a 50-50 tie. Wanzek and Jim Low each got 16 points for Mankato.

Macalester broke a 52-52 tie with six straight points and went on to win over Dakota Wesleyan. Bob Caine led the Scots with 22 points and Gordy Cochran added 21.

Golf Pros Differ On Tour Length

NEW YORK (AP) — Like the fictional Jack Spratt and his contrary spouse, the country's two pro golf champions have different tastes about the tour.

U.S. Open king Bill Casper wants more fat. Al Gelberger, the PGA titleholder, wants more lean.

"I could play 15 months of the year if there were that many," said Casper, the Mormon who the buffalo meat diet he beat Arnie Palmer in a playoff for the Open at San Francisco.

Gelberger, the beanpole who nibbles on peanut butter sandwiches for nourishment around the course, said he thinks the tour is too long. He'd like two months, or more, of enforced rest.

"We started in January and we have just finished our last major tournament — the PGA team matches in Florida," he said. "That means in about three more weeks we'll be hitting the road again."

Palmer, who teamed with Jack Nicklaus to win the $50,000 first prize last weekend at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., has argued for years for a streamlined tournament schedule of about 25 events. Now the $4-million program runs to around 40.

Nobody is making the golfers play in all the tournaments, or most of them, but it's necessary to keep pace in money winnings and Ryder Cup points, two important measures of success.

All the golfers are happy that prize money is continuing to escalate, with $200,000-plus tournaments moving the $100,000 classics into second class category.

"I don't know when the banana will end," Casper said. "As long as people want to see the golfers and promoters put up the money, the men will take their cuts."

BROOKS GAME TO THE END

Terrell Slugs It Out With Unknown

MILWAUKEE (AP) — If tall Ernie Terrell lost his temper, he didn't show it.

But the belting round three sounded and there was the 6-foot-6 Terrell, who is reognized by the World Boxing Association as the heavyweight champion of the world, slugging it out with unknown Eddie Brooks of Milwaukee.

Brooks, who lost in the finals of the 1965 national Golden Gloves, had only one professional fight before Monday night's exhibition with Terrell — who will fight Cassius Clay for the undisputed world heavyweight championship Feb. 6.

Brooks lost that bout in one round on one right hand thrown by another unknown Orville Qualls of Omaha, Neb.

But Brooks was after Terrell as if the championship were at stake in the four-round show for no decision.

The referee pulled the fighters apart. Terrell looked at Brooks and smiled.

In the next — and last — round Terrell knocked out Brooks' mouthpiece and graciously waited until the Milwaukee fighter could pick it up.

Brooks again lost his mouthpiece. This time he kept waving in on Terrell, flailing away with every punch he possessed.

Terrell sent a left to the face but otherwise avoided inflicting undue punishment on Brooks.

The crowd loved the exhibition. Brooks, who scored with some hard rights to Terrell's helmeted head in the third round was a local boy in against one of the best and he didn't disgrace himself.

And Terrell, despite some borderline body blows in the early going, was the clean playing contender.

The fans cheered for Brooks: They cheered a decible or two louder for Terrell.

The contender stepped toward the center of the ring and pointed toward Brooks who was bathed in perspiration and happiness in the opposite corner. Terrell began slapping his gloved hands together, urging more applause for Brooks.

Brooks got it. "If only he had a sparring partner in his weight class," said Brooks' handler, Eddie Metrie. "What a wonderful kid."

He'd be any manager's dream.

Promoter Harry Simos was delighted by Terrell. Someone noted that Brooks might have embarrassed the challenger with his right hands in the third round.

"He's willing to be embarrassed," said Simos.

The exhibition was the highlight of a card that also had two 10-round fights.

In the main event, Art Hernandez, 164, Omaha, won a unanimous decision over aggressive but ungainly Kelly Burden, 168, Kansas City, Mo. It was Burden's first defeat in 13 professional fights.

For Hernandez a slick but light-hitting club fighter, the win avenged a technical knockout by Burden last May and a subsequent seven-month layoff to heal a gaping eye wound.

In the other scheduled 16-round fight Ron Marsh, 188, Minneapolis, bludgeoned Ray Vega, 184, Memphis, Tenn., for two and one-half rounds before the mismatch was stopped with Vega's handler leading the chorus to end the slaughter.

Vidal Flores, of Milwaukee won a decision over Al Mills of Milwaukee in a four-round light heavyweight bout.

In another preliminary, Bobby Chauvin of Kansas City scored a technical knockout over Milwaukee's Tom Heisen in the third round of a scheduled five-round welterweight match.

EXTRA INNINGS FOR SUIT?

Wisconsin May Ask Court to Reconsider

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin's court-battered protests against professional baseball may go into extra innings despite the U.S. Supreme Court's refusal Monday to review the state's Braves case.

Atty. Gen. Bronson C. LaFollette said the state was "considering the possibility of filing a petition for rehearing" although the Supreme Court rarely reviews a case a second time.

Justice William O. Douglas, Hugo Black and William J.R. Brennan Jr. said Monday they would have heard the state's appeal, but it requires approval from four of the nine justices to get a case before the court.

The court's rejection leaves the major leagues free to move their franchises as they please. The court, in effect, refused to review baseball's immunity from antitrust law.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., who introduced a bill in 1965 designed to remove baseball from antitrust exemption, said he will re-introduce the measure in Congress. The original bill died in committee.

"Got your crying towel there? LaFollette remarked in Madison to newsmen seeking his reaction to the court's rejection. Then he added: "Naturally we are deeply disappointed."

Millwaukee, which the Braves abandoned last year for Atlanta, developed an official attitude that the Braves should be forgotten.

"Now that the smoke is cleared," said Milwaukee County Executive John Doyle, "we can go out and compete for a franchise."

"Soccer, baseball, football; that would be a pretty good stadium package" for the stadium the Braves left behind, Doyle said.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said the Supreme Court's refusal to act is an invitation to Congress to take steps.

"It is shocking," Proxmire said, "that a business this big — that makes a million of dollars a year — has no regulation whatever, state or federal."

Mayor Henry Maier agreed that "it appears the only regress for those who have carried this fight to bring major league baseball back to Milwaukee is to the Congress."

Steven E. Keane, special counsel to Milwaukee County, said he plans to confer with LaFollette.

The county's federal court action against baseball may be re-activated, Keane said.

The county's action was similar to the state's. It was set aside while the county and the state pursued antitrust prosecution under state law.

The Wisconsin Supreme Court had ruled in July that, although organized baseball was a monopoly, it is immune from the state's antitrust laws.

LaFollette appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court arguing that the state court's ruling makes baseball "the only non-regulated industry in the United States completely free to disregard both federal and state antitrust laws."

"This would seem to be the end of the line insofar as the state of Wisconsin's action is concerned," said Warren Giles, National League president, after learning in Cincinnati of the court refusal.

"The action," he said, "is, of course, very gratifying to the National League."

William Bartholomay, chairman of the board for the Braves said his group felt "from the beginning that our legal position was sound, and I hope that this finally brings to an end the whole question of the Braves' move to Atlanta."

What was so great about Alexander?

In the 4th century B.C. in the northern Egyptian city bearing his name, Alexander of Macedon founded a storehouse for wisdom, art and skills from the past. It attracted scholars from the whole western world and while called a library, it was actually one of the world's first universities.

This contribution alone earns Alexander his title, "the Great."

Today, few of us can found a college, but most of us, through our gifts, can keep one going. This, too, is a great thing.

Give to the college of your choice.
